ANNUAL ASSOCIATION

O. S. Baptists Hold Their Once-A-Year Reunion at Delmar.

Delmar, our thrifty little neighbor to the north, has this week been playing the part of hostess to the O. S. Baptists who since last Wednesday had persuaded her precincts.

The occasion which brought together the adherents of this sturdy old church was their annual "association."

This year's, which began Wednesday and ended Friday, was one of the most successful of recent years. The "Association" is not only religious in its character, but has a social aspect which comes in for a large share of merited esteem.

While the learned Elders—the big lights of the church—are always present on these occasions to dispense in fervent and holy phrase the true doctrine to a loyal and eager congregation, the material side of life has due attention.

During the session of three days, if the weather be fine a long counter of table is stretched out across the lawn or across adjoining the "meeting house," and this is laden with good country ham, chicken, vegetables, sweets, breads and the many other edibles which the good housewives peculiar to the Baptist faith know better than all the rest of the world how to prepare.

To this convivial affair are cordially invited regardless of faith or previous condition of servitude.

Elder Francis was moderator of the Association just closed, and Mr. John H. Truitt was the clerk. The other Elders present were Rittenhouse, Durant, Huble, Poolson, Chick, Savin, Lively, Jenkin, Beebe, and Gratton.

Among our citizens who attended from Salisbury were Mrs. M. E. Parsons, Miss Brittingham, Mr. J. T. Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Menick, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. T. Laws and Mrs. A. A. Gillis. Among other prominent people of the county there were Messrs. W. L. Laws, A. Q. Hamblin and Chas. E. Williams and their families.

Just after the church bells had rung out the last peal to tardy Sunday morning worship, a week ago, a violent ringing of the bell in the court house tower gave warning of fire. Mr. J. D. Williams' pretty residence on Park street had been discovered in a blaze.

The quick and efficient response of the Salisbury fire department aided by the church people in their best Sunday clothing, soon had the fire under control, but the Sunday morning sermons had to be postponed.

Wicomico's Democracy.

The Campaign in Full Swing. Speeches in All Parts of the County.

Wicomico's Campaign orators are on the business. The democrats held their first district meeting at Quantico last Saturday afternoon.

The speakers were Co. Governor Jackson, Granville M. Catlin, nominee for the Legislature, Senator E. Stanley Toadvin, J. J. Morris, candidate for county commissioner, and Walter O. Humphreys.

A large and appreciative audience was present and the speakers were frequently applauded.

The speech of Governor Jackson was considered by those who heard it to be a very forcible and direct argument.

Last Wednesday a democratic rally was held at Waltersville, and a meeting at White Haven, Wednesday night. The Waltersville meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic democratic gatherings ever witnessed in the third district, which by-the-way, is generally carried by the republicans.

Mr. Jas. K. Covington presided at the meeting and George C. Layfield, an visiting friend and relative in Baltimore and Philadelphia.

A Card of Thanks. Editors Salisbury Advertiser—Kindly allow me space in your paper to extend my sincere thanks to Chief Grier and his noble band of firemen, and the good people of Salisbury for their successful efforts in saving our home from destruction by fire on Sunday morning, Oct. 20.

Better Protection Against Fire. A representative of the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department, writes to the ADVERTISER as follows: Salisbury, Md., Oct. 23d, 1895.

To the Editors of the SALISBURY ADVERTISER, Dear Sir:—The old saw, that "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure" would seem to apply pertinently to the loss by fire which occurred at the residence of Mr. Cannon this noon, which fortunately proved to be small, owing to the excellent work of the town fire company and the fact that it occurred in broad daylight. Had the fire company been less efficient, or had the place been less equipped, or had the affair might have proved much more serious.

As far as could be learned by inquiry and personal investigation, the fire started from either a defective construction of the lower part of the chimney, or from the kitchen range igniting surrounding woodwork. Suppose it was caused by the stove, which seems more probable. The point I desire to call attention to is that the floor and wall (which was wainscoted) back of the stove, were covered with slat sheathing and that the stove was six inches away from the wall.

It is apparent that Mr. Cannon endeavored to save his stove safely by placing it in a defective construction, but proved that such protection to wood-work is insufficient, and that in all cases where stoves are so close to adjacent wood work that it needs to be protected it should first be covered with asbestos sheathing and have a metal covering on top of that. The practical side of this suggestion will doubtless be apparent to all, and if you would call public attention to this through your valuable paper it would undoubtedly be the means of saving property and possibly life.

I would say further in this connection that another frequent source of fire is the habit of keeping ashes in wooden receptacles in the cellar. "Defective flues" that is, chimneys built too thin, or of poor materials, or with floor joists running into them even part of the way, are also sources of danger that no careful property owner or tenant should overlook. Hoping that you may see fit to publish an abstract of this, I am, Very truly yours, Frank M. Crittenden, special agent of the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department.

Rev. W. S. Hammond, pastor of Alton Memorial Methodist Protestant church, Lombard and Chester streets, performed the ceremony. Grace Webster, a niece of the bride, was flower girl, and Emory Conghlin, a son of the bride, was flower boy.

The bride wore a white silk gown trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of La France Roses. Mr. and Mrs. Hitch arrived in Salisbury this morning via the Steamer Tivoli. They were driven at once to Mr. Hitch's residence on Hill street where they will reside.

Friday evening a reception was held by Mr. and Mrs. Hitch at which many of the friends of the newly married couple were present.

FIRE DESTROYED A HOMESTEAD.

Senator Toadvin's 'Lemon Hill' Dwelling Burned to the Ground Last Monday.

Fire last Monday laid low the hospitable old homestead of State Senator Toadvin.

About two o'clock in the afternoon the roof was discovered to be in a blaze and an alarm was at once sounded from the confidant house which hastened the fire department and hundreds of the townspeople to the scene of the destruction. The house, like everything else at that time, was thoroughly dry, there having been no rain for several weeks, and a brisk wind from the west helped along the conflagration. About the moment of the discovery it was apparent that the building was doomed. So while the fire department was industriously at work forcing water into the flames, strong men were equally industriously removing the furniture and valuable contents from the burning structure. The fire having started on the second floor, a more favorable opportunity for the removal of the effects from the first and second floors, but many prized relics and heirlooms stored in the attic went up in smoke. From the first floor everything of value was saved, but a quantity of furniture on the second floor, including nearly all the fittings in the room occupied by the master of the house, and some of Mrs. Toadvin's hand the baby's clothing was sacrificed to the flames.

Despite the excitement incident upon the fire those who assisted in recuing the valuable property did their work so well and carefully that comparatively little of it was damaged or mislaid. The fire afforded another opportunity for the demonstration of the skill and courage possessed by our gallant firemen and made noticeable the fact of our superior equipment.

The loss is partially covered by insurance as follows: $3,600 on the dwelling and $2,000 on the furniture, in the agencies of Messrs Rider & Gorly and White. On other property on the premises, partially destroyed, there was an insurance of $1,000.

Mrs. Toadvin, who resided with Mrs. Toadvin, fortunately saved most of her effects, but Mr. Fred Stratton lost a lot of furniture and valuable china, which was stored in the house. He is partially indemnified by an insurance of $500.

Since the fire Mrs. Toadvin and her little daughter have been guests of the family of Mrs. Louisa A. Graham. Senator Toadvin has been at the Peninsula Hotel. They are busily engaged now furnishing the Brewington flat on Main street, adjoining the residence of Mrs. Margaret A. Smith, which they will occupy jointly this winter.

Mrs. Walter B. Miller, all of whom will take their meals at the Peninsula Hotel. In the burning of 'Lemon Hill,' a picturesque landmark is destroyed. A portion of the house burned is supposed to have been more than a hundred years old. Mr. Toadvin, with his sister, inherited the estate from his father, the late Parnell Toadvin, who purchased it from the late Dr. Lemon, from whose family it took the name of 'Lemon Hill.'

'Lemon Hill' has always been an available spot for residence, and since its present proprietor has been its owner, it has enjoyed a certain celebrity for the hospitality dispensed there.

A number of prominent citizens of town suggested that the corporation offer Senator Toadvin the value of the lot with the view of converting the hill into a public square or park.

Already a plan is on foot on the grounds, and the stand pipe is just on the edge of the property, from which water for any number of fountains could be obtained.

WICOMICO SCHOOL BOARD.

Delegation Representing the Parents of Sharptown was before School Board last Tuesday.

The delegation representing the parents of Sharptown was before school board last Tuesday. The parents of that growing town have not adequate accommodations. The committee asked the Board to give the town an annex to its present building and an additional teacher.

The board replied that it was not in a position to build more houses at present but authorized the committee to ascertain at what cost a suitable room could be secured as a temporary expedient, and report.

The Board having previously appointed Prof. Thos. H. Williams to audit the treasurer's accounts, he submitted the following report:

To the Honorable School Board of Wicomico county, Maryland.
Gentlemen—Having been appointed by your board to audit the books of Mr. John O. Freeny, your treasurer, for fiscal year ending July 30, 1895, and having completed that work, beg leave to submit the following report:

I first examined the receipt and disbursement books, making entirely separate and independent calculations, and found them to be correct in every particular, and found his work to be entirely free from any errors.

I then at his request, examined all the vouchers for disbursements—except teachers' report approved by the board—and compared same with entries of same in disbursement book, and thus proved the correctness of the entries by their agreement with the vouchers themselves, for they did all agree; and as to salaries paid out to teachers, I compared them with check stubs for same, and in them there was no discrepancy.

And finally, I made a comparison of balance in cash due your board as made out from your Treasurer's receipt and disbursement books, in amount $417.52, with his bank book as balanced by John H. White, cashier of Salisbury National Bank, in amount $417.52, and discovered a discrepancy of only 1/1000th of a cent, which difference is really against your Treasurer and not in his favor.

I find total receipts for year $36,304.99 and disbursements $35,887.47.
Cash balance, $ 417.52
This having made a very careful and exhaustive audit, I am happy to report your Treasurer's books entirely correct. Very Respectfully, T. H. Williams.

Fighting Forest Fire.
Princess Anne, Oct. 29.—The people of this town have been much annoyed for some weeks past by the smoke from the numerous forest fires raging in this vicinity, which settles down like a fog every night.

Last night the fire was nearer the town than usual, and Col. Eph. G. Polk, who resides a short distance from town, states that several men were kept busy the greater part of the night fighting fire in order to prevent his residence and those of his neighbors from being destroyed.

This morning the smoke was almost suffocating, until after 10 o'clock. There has been scarcely any rain here for several weeks, and everything is dry, making fires very dangerous.

Large tracks of fine timber and many valuable lots of hay, besides, several negro houses, have already been destroyed, and it is hoped that a heavy rain will soon quench the flames.

Woman's Keenest Position.
Certainly there is no woman for two young people who have sworn to love each other, no matter whether there is poverty or wealth, no matter whether the days are bright or dark, to have a home of their own, my dear, Ashmore discussing "The Mistress of the Small House," in November Ladies' Home Journal. Boarding house life is bad for women and I do not believe that any man has ever really enjoyed it.

God created women to make homes—to make homes for the men they love and for the children whom God will send to them. And a home must be started at the beginning of this new life. Do not wait for a big house and many servants, but make happiness exist in a little house with one maid as a help. It can be done. I know it can. Do not shrug your shoulders and say you do not like housework. Work is only disagreeable when it is badly done, and from washing the silver and glass to dusting the bric-a-brac and beating up a cake everything may be delightfully done and well done if you go about it in the right way and with the right spirit. You will have to be considerate and you will have to be patient. You will certainly make mistakes, but each mistake is one step toward success. Burden yourself with patience, consideration and tenderness; you will need to make calls upon them often and often. Then you will gain so much. You will be the happy homemaker.

And that is a womanly work—a better monument to you, my dear, than the painting of a wonderful picture, the writing of a great book or the composing of a fine piece of music. From out a home all virtues and all great works may come. No man ever made a home. He does not know how. The woman's brain, heart and hand are necessary, and a home is such a beautiful thing, it means rest, it means peace and it means love. Make one for your husband and let him find these three great joys in his four walls.

In Church Creek district and in other sections of Dorchester County, extensive forest fires have been raging for several days. The undergrowth in the woods, made exceedingly combustible by the dry weather, has been burning furiously, and the country for miles around is filled with dense clouds of smoke. Fences and cordwood have been consumed, valuable truck has been injured and outbuildings and dwellings only saved by hard work on the part of owners. In some places handlers had difficulty in passing along the county roads owing to the heat and smoke. A shower of rain is eagerly desired.

DRESS STUFFS
Think of the greatest bargain you ever got in Dress goods and then try to realize that better bargains are offered at Wanamaker's today. Well-steered manufacturing concerns strike shoal waters in a while—and we are bound to get the first offer, if the lots are large.
46-inch Fancy Suitings at 37c—all-wool and good wool—that, pretty styles. The dresses that ask 50c are doing the best they can.
36-inch Bouclé at 37c—a real winner. Had we bought a week ago you would have had to pay us 50c.
48-inch all-wool Serge at 45c—French made, but that we save the importer's colorings.
48-inch Fancy Suitings at 45c—thirty styles of them.

Remember these Directions for using Cottolene

For shortening never use more than two-thirds as much Cottolene as you would of lard. When frying with Cottolene always put it in a cold pan, heating it with the pan. Cottolene produces the best results when very hot, but as it reaches the cooking point much sooner than lard, care should be taken not to let it burn when hot enough, it will delicately brown a bit of bread in half a minute. Follow these directions in using Cottolene and lard will never again be permitted in your kitchen or in your food. Genuine Cottolene is sold everywhere in tin with trade-marks—"Cottolene" and "sterilized in cotton-plant wreath" on every tin.

THE FLEE AND THE ACTRESS.
No wonder that Modjeska's Face Was a Set and Star Expression.
Two fair actresses were conversing in a cafe on Powell street with the careless ease of their "fainting" and their comments were distinct and audible to the occupants of an adjoining table.
They were chatting about a sentimental scene in which both had appeared on the previous night.
"They were chatting about a sentimental scene in which both had appeared on the previous night."
"It is so—such a difficult matter to approach," she began in a queer sort of way. "I wish to see you each other a little better, you know."
"Heaven send the opportunity," I spoke with all the gallantry at my command. "Let her name be a row money—father a minister in Montreal, and all that sort of thing." I thought, and then I kicked myself for harboring such a thought.
"Lost her name?" she asked, and I spoke with all the gallantry at my command. "Let her name be a row money—father a minister in Montreal, and all that sort of thing." I thought, and then I kicked myself for harboring such a thought.

the food for all such.

How many pale folk there are! People who have the will, but no power to bring out their vitality, people who swing like a pendulum between strength and weakness—so that one day's sickness causes six days' sickness! People who have no life for resisting disease—thin people, nervous, delicate.

The food for all such men, women, or children is Scott's Emulsion. The hypophosphites combined with the oil of cod liver fish will tone up the system, give the blood the appetite and help digestion. It is a fattening and reddening, which brings comfort and good-nature.

As she came up the mountain side, the valley lay at her feet with its green fields and its blue hills. In every laughing spot they seem to see her smiling face. She sat there with her feet on a rock, and her hands on her knees, and she looked out over the valley. She was so happy, so contented, so at ease. She was so at ease, so at ease, so at ease.

THAT INTERVIEW.
We were in a parlor car on the Canadian Pacific, 40 miles east of Moscow, and westward bound. I met three civil engineers, in the employ of the company, at Winnipeg, and we were chattering it to Vancouver. "Not a bad thing," said Parkin under his breath. "Decided fine looking girl," said Graham, with an admiring glance in the direction of the young passenger. "Clean built and well groomed," muttered Clarke critically. "I wonder how she looks."

EPHRAIM AND THE BEAR.
How He Killed a Yearling in a Fair Fight Without Weapons.
Old Ephraim Hatfield, father of Anse and Elias Hatfield, of McCoy's bridge, had a reputation as a born fighter. He was also a mighty hunter, and had one ambition. It was to kill a yearling bear and bring it home with him. When Ephraim was a boy he had heard of his father's feat, and he was determined to do it himself. One day he was out with his dogs, and he saw a yearling bear. He followed him until he was within range, and then he fired. The bear fell, and Ephraim brought it home with him.

A GAME OF NINEPINS.
A Hunchbacked Story of a Debauched German Criminal.
In an imperial city lately a criminal was condemned to be beheaded who had been sentenced to play at ninepins. While his sentence was pronouncing he had the temerity to offer a request to be permitted to play once more at his favorite game. The king was so good as to grant his request, and he played a game of ninepins. He won, and he was executed.

A TEMPTATION.
When Leander Clark married Mabel Thorne, he had no expectation of ever being a rich man, but as his affairs prospered at the present time he is on the broad highway to future wealth. It all arose from the fact that he took time by the forelock, the only way poor mortals are of ever getting even with him of the sly and horrid.

Schneck Caters to the Wives of Heptasophans, Their Wives and Their Daughters.

A program that had been mapped out with great care, was carried out only partially last Thursday night.

The Improved Order of Heptasophans of Salisbury has been adding to its membership recently quite a desirable list of insurable young men. Under the convivial influence of so much prosperity the brothers decided to have a banquet. A letter from the Supreme Archon announcing his purpose, together with other officers, of visiting the order on the above date, afforded the excuse for the banquet that had been waited for, and preparations were accordingly made.

Mine Host Schneck of the Peninsula Hotel was taken in confidence and given orders for provision for seventy five guests.

The night arrived and the feast was ready, but the visiting brethren were returned non est. This, however, in no measure lessened the appetites of the local brethren, and the only visible inconvenience occasioned by the absence of the expected visitors, was that they were not there to respond to certain toasts.

Here are the toasts and the names of those who responded:

"Solon Conclave—It's Grand Mission of 'Fraternity, truth, and Wisdom' in Wicomico County, Md." By Ex-Mayor Thos. Humphreys, of Salisbury, Md., Past Archon.

"Why the membership of Business Men in Wicomico Co. is so Large in 'Solon Conclave.'" By Mr. L. W. Gundy, of Salisbury, Md.

"The best Medical Examinations, as Required by the I. O. H. has Lowered the Rate of Mortality and Consequently Made the I. O. H. One of the Cheapest and Safest of Life Insurance Systems." By Dr. F. M. Slemmons, of Salisbury, Md. Past Archon.

"The Press—Its Recognition of the 'Advocate,' Which Under the able Editorial Management of Supreme Organizer J. W. Cruett, Has Become a Power, for Good in the Enlargement of the Jurisdiction of the Improved Order of Heptasophans." By Thos. Perry, Editor of The Salisbury Advertiser.

"The Coming Woman—A Heptasoph By Thomas F. J. Rider, of Salisbury, Md., Past Supreme Archon.

"Our Host and Hostess," Mr. W. I. Todd. The banquet was held in the large dining room of the Peninsula hotel. The tables were prettily decked with chrysanthemums. It was here that the Heptasophans, after a little preliminary skirmishing at their lodge room, gathered with their wives and daughters.

The menu before them consisted of oysters, bouillon, gelatine, roast turkey, cranberry sauce, cold ham, cold tongue, two kinds of imported sausage, chicken salad, beets, pickles chow chow, foreign and domestic fruits, coffee, Swiss cheese, and Bismarck crackers.

It was 1:30 o'clock Friday morning before the banquet departed. But when they did go they were full of the feast and of gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Schneck.

AT THE COURT HOUSE.

County Commissioners, School Board and Orphans Court in Session.

All the official boards were in session last Tuesday. Routine work occupied the time of the county commissioners.

During the day the board contracted with Morrison, Manager Baltimore division of the Office Specialty Company, to place a handsome file case in the Commissioner's office. The case will contain 24 patent files similar to those used by the State.

Giles Wright of Cambridge, was married Thursday of last week at noon in Christ Church. The marriage was performed by Rev. Mr. Page, the Rector, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. L. Bryan. The Church was darkened and lighted with flowers, palms and autumn leaves. The floral gates in the aisles were made of evergreen and flowers. The bride was attired in white satin, en train, trimmed in chiffon and pearls; tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms and diamonds, and carried bridal roses. Mrs. A. W. Woodcock, Mrs. A. J. Carey and Mrs. T. E. Martindale, who are relatives of the bride, attended the wedding.

BROWN—PARVIS.

Middletown M. E. Church was the scene of a brilliant marriage on Wednesday afternoon of last week—that of Hugh C. Browne of Wilmington and Miss Ethel Parvus of Middletown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Merritt Hulburd, S. T. D., of Wilmington, assisted by Rev. W. L. S. Murray, of Dover, and Rev. I. L. Wood of Middletown. The ushers were Jas. T. Challenger, of New Castle, John T. Rider of Philadelphia; S. S. Pennewell of Greenwood, and Wm. P. Jackson, of Salisbury. The church was brilliantly decorated with chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and autumn leaves and was filled with the many friends of the bride and groom, among whom were represented some of the best known people in the state. The bride wore a handsome traveling gown of dark green material, and carried a bouquet of roses.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The Sunday School Workers Meet at Hebron.

A Sunday School district convention was held at this place last Saturday and Sunday, as formerly announced in your valuable paper. After the usual opening services of singing, reading the scriptures and prayer by state organizer G. H. Nock; J. S. Eaton was elected chairman, and Mr. Roy Wilson secretary of the convention. The topics, "The Work and the Workers," and "How to Improve our Sunday Schools," were discussed by Revs. G. H. Nock, J. S. Eaton and Mr. E. White.

The exercises on Sunday were particularly interesting from the fact that not only in Sunday school experience, but in the children's rally and parting addresses in the evening, so many took an active part. This is very encouraging and worthy of great praise to the people of Hebron. One most particular fact we must mention, is that so many faithful lady workers took such an active part both in speaking and on committees. The singing was excellent and the choir is to be commended for its great assistance along that line in all the exercises. The weather was inclement and cold but we had good audiences.

Too much cannot be said of the kind hospitality of the good people here on this occasion but time will not permit it. The officers elected for the ensuing year are; J. A. Insley, president; T. B. Fletcher, vice president; W. B. Wilson, secretary; S. H. Lurmer treasurer. We hope the interest will not die out, but that we may soon have another convention.

Some Facts About Corn.

The question regarding the advisability, from a standpoint of profit, of carrying crops in storage awaiting a raise of price or for other reasons, has long been a mooted one among farmers. A practical Kent county farmer has finally settled the matter relative to corn by actual experiments, with the following results during each month after husking: When husked and shelled, the corn will keep in a cool, dry place, and will not lose its vitality for several months. The site for the Federal Building at Cumberland will probably be chosen this week. Sites have been offered the Government by W. E. Walsh, M. J. Wilson, F. Mertens' Sons, Henry Laney and others at prices ranging from $19,300 to $4100.

Dr. W. K. Carroll was on trial at Centreville for the killing of Jessie Moulton, colored. Moulton was a servant whom Dr. Carroll put out of his house. The negro tried to re-enter and Dr. Carroll shot through a closed door and killed him. The doctor has been mentally unbalanced since taking the Keeley treatment some years ago. The defense is mental unsoundness from the use of alcohol. The accused was acquitted.

The Georgia Barbecue.

The word "dish" is used in a metaphorical sense. The barbecue gets its name from the method of cooking the meats which form its principal substance. It is a pagan feast. Its home is in the woods, by some clear running brook, and when found upon its native heath such modern conveniences as knives and forks tables and chairs, are not known. One of the exposition spots which the Northerners are sure to seek out is the shed near the Manufactures and Liberal Arts Building, over which this some, sheriff of Wilkes presides, and where, at all hours of the day, the good cheer which is so closely connected with his name is dispensed. The shed is rather a rough place, for the barbeque with the modern conveniences and the delicacies of Delmonico's would lose its flavor. The china-ware is old iron-stone variety, known principally for its thickness. You get knives and forks, it is true, and paper napkins, but the table at which you sit is innocent of linen. You order a dinner. There is brought before you a half-dozen kinds of meats, steaming hot, the aroma of which is almost pleasing to the appetite if you have one to start on; and if you have none, it is sure to create one for you. Then there is a mysterious dish which the sheriff calls stews, and pickles and bread and butter and a cup of not to good coffee is furnished "on the side." The stew is a concoction of many vegetables, and, for some reason not altogether clear even to its maker, bears the mysterious name of Brunswick. It is a necessary adjunct of the dinner, and when it is made sufficiently hot by a sufficient quantity of pungent peppers, it is indeed a rare appetizer. The roasting-pit is filled with live coals at daybreak. By seven o'clock the ground is hot through for several feet; then more coals are put on, and the carcasses are pierced through with clean hickory poles and laid across the pit. Their cooking refutes the old phrase that a watched pot never boils, because the meats are carefully tended during the entire time; for to make them crisp and tender without burning they must be turned every fifteen or twenty minutes. All sorts of game are roasted over the pit—partridges, young wild ducks, squirrels, etc.

A PHILOSOPHER'S ATTIC.
Quaint Combination of Greenery and B
nery Above the City.
One of the queerest places in New York can be found in what looks, from the street, to be a funny little gable roofed house perched jauntily on one corner of the roof of the Windermere, on Fifty-seventh street. It is a conservatory and observatory in one, a miniature roof garden, the den of an attic philosopher, Henry S. Goodale, whose somewhat celebrated daughters, Elaine and Dora, evidently got from him their poetic strain.

The attic is reached by a steep nautical flight of steps leading up through a small square hatchway straight into a wonderful greenery of bloom, a smug-gery of comfort, likewise a hennery, consisting of one fine brown Leghorn fowl and a single fluffy, yellow chick, and a dovecot, where there are softly whirring wings. It is a charming bit of Arcadia, high above the ceaseless roar and heartbeat of a great city, which under its all seems unreal and strange.

But when at break of day we see
The spider weaving at his loom,
The soaring lark above the sea,
The bee amid the clover bloom,
When frisking baby squirrels wake
And sip the leaves of morning dew,
When baby foxes from the brake
Do prowl the thorny hedges through,
When on the meadow sweet with hay
The white and curly lambskins play,
And, sweet and cool,
O'er plain and pool,
Bloweth the breeze of coming day,
Thou, too, shalt rise
To sunny skies,
And open wide thy baby eyes.
—Bowen Stevens in Youth's Companion.

NO GOOSEBERRY PIE FOR MER.
The Old Lady Had a Dinner That Surprised the Knowing Gamblers.
The old lady entered a restaurant which, rightly or wrongly, is known as the resort of the gay and careless. She was typically countrified in appearance, her spectacles resting on the bridge of her nose, her hat being old fashioned and her gait and general attitude those of one fresh from the little farmhouse.

Without, however, any sign of halting confidence that was to be expected of a stranger to city ways, she sat down at the most conspicuous table in the room. A surly looking short card player, who, although it was 6 o'clock in the afternoon, was just getting his breakfast, stared at her with curiosity. Two dejected turf gamblers, prevented from attending the races on that day by bad luck on the day before, who were solacing themselves with strong waters and who hadn't spoken to each other for half an hour, observed her with slight smiles.

"Well, now," said one, "that's a funny old girl to see in here. I remember seeing her kind in country towns when I was in the show business. I'll gamble on what she'll order. She'll have gooseberry pie and milk, and she'll eat the pie with her knife. They don't have no forks where she comes from."
But the other would not bet. He said merely and not unkindly, "She doesn't seem to fit this place."
They could not hear what she ordered, but they could see that there was nothing flippant in the attitude of the waiter who went to her. She ate with deliberation and then departed. One of the two unsuccessful patrons of the turf called the waiter and asked, "What did that old lady order?"
"Why, let's see," answered the waiter, "I think she had pigeon and a pint of fix. She's very foud of both."
The gamblers looked surprised.
"Who is she?" asked one.
"Why, don't you know her?" queried the waiter. "That's Mlle. Lanconi, the head dancer in this new burlesque at the Jupiter theater."—New York World.

Home Thrust.
It is said that the saying, "Much may be done with a Scotchman if he be caught young," which has passed into a historical witticism, was first spoken by Dr. Johnson in reference to Lord Mansfield. An amusing little incident is said to have given rise to the remark.
Lord Mansfield, having received his education entirely in England, always considered himself an Englishman, but the fact that he was born in Scotland was once referred to with great effect.
General Sabine, governor of Gibraltar at the time, having failed in his attempts to extort money from a Jew, sent him back by force to Tetuan, in Morocco, from whence he had come to Gibraltar. The Jew afterward went to England and sued the general for damages.

A Dangerous Remedy.
Bicarbonate of potassa is a remedy in common use in throat troubles. But it is not generally known that it should be used with discretion. A strong 32-year-old man at Brannschweig, instead of merely dissolving a little of the potassa in water for a gargle, poured a large quantity into a glassful of water and then swallowed the dose. He died a few hours later after terrible suffering.—New York World.

The Real Labor.
"Yes," said Mrs. Hunnimune, "I learned to cook without any difficulty at all. There was only one trouble about it."
"What was that?"
"Educating my husband's appetite."

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Funny Stories That Beat the Old Stamp Joke—Tricks Played by As Well as by Clerks and Some St. Louis Samples.

The time honored jokes in the funny papers about people who buy stamps in a drug store and want them wrapped up and delivered may be old to the average reader, but they are new every day to the drug dispensers. Such ridiculous things are everyday occurrences.

A well known druggist tells of an instance when he was night clerk in a west end drug store. About 5 one morning a vigorous ring at the night bell roused him from peaceful slumbers. He came down wearing one shoe, such miscellaneous clothing as he could pick up in a hurry and a decidedly cross appearance. At the door was a nicely dressed lady. Would he kindly sell her a stamp? She had an important letter which she must mail, and as she also desired to catch the 6:30 train she feared she would forget it. The stamp was sold to her, and then very sweetly and innocently she inquired if he would not, since she was in such a hurry, walk to the corner and mail the letter for her. As he had worn only one shoe down he regretfully declined the honor.

The soda dispenser in the drug store usually sees and enjoys more peculiarities than any of the drug clerks from the fact that he is not bothered with any of their responsibilities. His greatest trouble is in deciding whose money he shall take in the case of young ladies who drink soda together. If it were men, each would be anxious to pay for the beverages. In the case of young ladies, however, each is apparently anxious not to pay for the drink. Then they argue with each other on about this line: "No, let me pay." "I will not. I think I should." "Oh, I'll be awful angry if you do." And all the while, says the soda dispenser, they are hanging on to their dimes with a deathlike grip. The soda man finally solves the problem by taking the money of each and returning the change to each, making it a "Cincinnati treat."

The proverbial joke about the man who winks his eye at the apothecary when he wants a "stick" in his soda is not a fiction. Various excuses are made to get liquor, but the standard and most usual is a terrible pain in the stomach or else a threatened chill. The druggist always suggests Jamaica ginger. This suggestion is never satisfactory, as it is whiskey they want. A favorite trick is to ask for a dose of calissaya, which, to be thoroughly effective, must be mixed with whiskey.

The "fiends" who make life miserable to the druggist are legion. They are fiends who are addicted to phenacatin, to bromo seltzer, to quinine, to arsenic, to strychnine and to morphine. There are also people who are addicted to the use of wine of cocoa. The drink contains a quantity of cocaine in solution and has a revivifying effect on the system. There are quinine fiends who take as much as 150 grains a day. Not long since a St. Louis physician prescribed this drug to a patient, ordering it to be put in six powders of -60 grains each. The patient, a lady, took it all in 24 hours, and, strange to say, got well. There are several people in St. Louis who are addicted to the use of aromatic spirits of ammonia and vichy. They drink it with great gusto.

The morphine fiend is a shrewd and discriminating buyer. One of the usual excuses when the fiend is a woman is that the drug is "for mamma." Poor mamma! She has many sins to answer for of which she is guiltless. Some of the fiends can tell the brand of morphine by the taste and will have none but their favorite. One hopeless case has become so expert on the quantity that he usually takes three grains—that with a dash of the bottle he can throw the exact quantity into the palm of his hand. The druggist with whom he usually deals has verified the weight of the dose thus prepared many times and invariably finds it correct to a fraction of a grain.

The drug store is a favorite place for carrying bundles, valises, etc. Many of the
