Tomorrow's Celebration.
 The Programme Now Completed for the Celebration of the Glorious Fourth
 The committee of arrangements for the big Fourth of July celebration in Salisbury, consisting of Mayor Randolph Humphreys, Messrs. W. B. Miller, O. T. Schneck, L. W. Gandy, S. S. Smyth, C. E. Harper, L. S. Adams, F. A. Grier, J. T. Parsons, J. D. Price, W. F. Jackson and M. V. Brewington, have all arrangements complete for tomorrow. Here's the program:
 9 to 12 a. m. base ball, Salisbury vs. Monumental Club of Baltimore City; 1 to 8 p. m., firemen's parade, headed by the Salisbury cornet band, and laying corner stone of new city hall by Masonic fraternity; 4 to 6 p. m., second game of base ball, Salisbury vs. Monumental Club; 8 to 9 p. m., bicycle tournament in which all the wheelmen on the Shore are invited to participate. Six prizes to be contested for; 8 to 11 p. m., grand display of fireworks on Lake Humphreys.
 Half-rate fares on all railroads have been secured, and special trains to carry some of the visitors in the evening after the fireworks.
 Through the courtesy of Mr. Nicholas, Superintendent of the N. Y. & N. R. R. The fireworks will be exhibited from flat cars stationed on the railroad bridge that spans Lake Humphreys. This will give the spectators a better view of the line the shores of the lake on all sides and enable them to have a beautiful view of the pyrotechnic display. There will not be a better place selected.
 The railroad companies have arranged to run trains from Salisbury at eleven o'clock Saturday morning for the celebration to their homes. Persons north of Salisbury on the line of the N. Y. & N. R. R. will take the midnight train. A special train south for Cape Charles and Crisfield leaves at 11 o'clock.
 The committee having in charge the decorations have issued permits to the citizens asking them to decorate their buildings.
 In the afternoon the firemen's parade will form at the steamboat wharf, march to Masonic Temple, meet the Mayor, Council and Lodge, march up Main to the city hall, then to William street down William to Church street, down Church to City Hall, where the corner stone will be laid. Mr. O. J. Schneck will be Marshall of the parade.
 On the platform will be the Mayor and Council, the clergy of the city, newspaper representatives, the speakers who are Messrs. Thos. Humphreys, T. F. J. Rider, E. S. Treadwell, Robt. P. Graham and Jas. E. Ellegood; also Judge Holland Messrs. A. J. Benjamin, Willard Thompson, R. B. Cooke and R. H. Nicholas.
 The bicycle tournament will be a new and interesting feature. The wheelmen will form in line on the shell road and proceed through the principal streets of the city. They will be reviewed while passing under a beautiful arch to be erected in front of the Peninsula Hotel by Mr. O. J. Schneck. The Judges, Mr. and Mrs. S. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Brewington, will award the prizes to be given to the best dressed, the most comically dressed rider, and the best decorated wheel, etc.

TWO GREAT GAMES.
 The Home Nine Defeated by Cambridge in a Game Last Tuesday.
 But Salisbury was True to Her Reputation at Pocomoke Thursday.
 The first defeat that the Salisbury ball players have met this season was administered to them last Tuesday by the Cambridge team. The score stood 16 to 12 in favor of Cambridge.
 The game was lost, it is generally conceded, by the slight edge of the Salisbury nine. Errors were the feature of the play.
 The indications at the middle of the game were that Salisbury would have an easy victory. But from that point to the close appearances were different. Scott's batting was brilliant, and he was the hero of the game. Here is the score:

	R	H	O	A	E
Salisbury	12	16	27	10	7
Cambridge	16	21	27	8	5

 BASE BALL GOSSIP.
 Ward of Washington College is playing center field for the "Champs" of the Eastern Shore, and holds the position of the same college in playing with the Pocomoke team. McDannell, formerly of the Rockfords, and Kenny of the North Ends, both clubs being Wilmington clubs, have signed with the "Champs" and played their first game with them against Cambridge Tuesday.
 Tomorrow (Saturday) July 4th, the home club will play two games with the Monumental club of Baltimore which is one of the best amateur clubs in that city. During the progress of the game Tuesday night, Salisbury's third baseman, was hit by the E. C. of Cambridge while trying to make second bag.
THURSDAY'S GAME.
 Perhaps the most interesting game of ball ever played on the peninsula was played at Pocomoke City Thursday between the Pocomoke nine and the Salisbury team. Ten innings were played, and from beginning to end it was a hard fight between the opposing nines. At the end of the tenth inning the score stood 13 to 10 in favor of Salisbury. The score was tied twice, and it was only by hard work on the part of the Salisbury team that the game resulted as above stated. Unlike the game with Cambridge Tuesday our boys made no errors, but each individual played a perfect game. It is only just to the Pocomoke team to say that they played a faultless game. Ratcliffe, who pitched for the Pocomoke team, remarked that the Salisbury boys could bat any pitcher in the country. This and the very fine fielding of the Salisbury team was accompanied to Pocomoke by about thirty five of our citizens. When the special train brought our people back to Salisbury Thursday night the Salisbury brass band and about 500 enthusiastic rooters were at the station. As soon as the train was landed the rooters formed into lines and bearing a handsome American flag at the head of the column the victors and their camp followers marched to the Peninsula hotel while the band played Hall Columbia.
 The score by innings is unavoidably omitted.
 The Salisbury team was composed of Murray C. Kenny p., Sidham 2b., Elliott, c., Smith c. s., McDannell 1b., Parre l. f., Truitt r. f., Schuchts 3b.

THE LEVY FOR 1896.
 A Slight Increase in the Tax Rate Necessary.
 Tuesday the County Commissioners made the levy for 1896 and ascertained that the tax rate for county purposes will be 80 cents on the hundred dollars. Add to this the State tax 17 1/2 cents, and the rate for 1896 will be $1.04. This is an increase of six cents on the hundred dollars compared with 1895. The increase is occasioned largely by the assessment, the cost of which had to be provided for this year. The amount necessary for this work is $4,000. Barring this extra expenditure the tax rate is less by several cents on the hundred dollars. The present Board have looked up the various items which they could do without detriment to the public welfare and it is no fault of theirs that the taxpayers will be compelled to pay increased taxes for 1896. The responsibility for the increase rests with the legislature which passed the assessment law, and which the people asked for. If the new assessment results in increasing the taxable basis two or three hundred thousand dollars, the tax rate for 1897 will be materially lessened.
 The commissioners during the year have succeeded in increasing the taxable value $128,357. Seven of the ten districts in the county show an increase in taxable basis over 1895. These are: Quantico, $7,578; Tyaskin, $6,181; Pittsburg, $17,578; Parsons, $17,615; Nutters, $4,734; Salisbury, $104,783; Sharptown, $4,776. The districts showing a decrease are: Barco, $1,817; Tripp, $1,452; decrease, $19,616; net increase, $128,357.
 The commissioners increased the appropriation for public schools $500 over 1895, making the appropriation for 1896 $11,000. The other principal items provided for are: For assessment, $4,000; roads and bridge and supervisors, $4,500; registration and election expenses, $1,000; care of insane, $2,000; ferries, $833; clerk's fees, $1,300; court expenses, $2,500; State's attorney, $938; county commissioners, $1,500; county treasurer, $1,000; sheriff, $850; register, $129.25; pensions, supplies for alone house, salary of keeper, $2,000; county printing, $1,100; collecting taxes, $2,000; surplus fund, $2,500.

"MY SHOE IS UNTIED."
 How often do you hear that expression, and how often are the shoes tied again, in the same old way, without one thought about trying to tie them in a way they will not come untied.
Tie Your Shoes This Way.
 First tie an ordinary bow knot, but do not draw it tight nor make it close to the shoe, now take the loop and end of one side and put it over and through the knot, draw tight like an ordinary bow knot and it is done. To untie, simply pull the ends as in common bow knot. Try it and when your shoes wear out buy another pair of Cannon & Dennis and you will have no trouble.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1896.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

The Advertiser last week contained the platform of the Chicago convention, and the name of the nominee which reached us at the moment of going to press.

The platform declares for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold. The declaration is short, explicit, unequivocal. Practically it is to be made the issue in the approaching campaign.

Several other planks were added—some unimportant, some objectionable. We take issue with the convention in its opposition to national bank currency, and in its effort to condemn the administration for suppressing the Chicago riots.

Much has been said about the part played by Algood and Tillman. Tillman harangued the convention, it is true, and was hissed beyond measure. His actions were disclaimed by the convention.

The republicans had much to say about the populist character of the convention. They seem to think the country has forgotten that their party fought with the populists in the late Senate in order to combine it over the democrats, and that several Senators now hold what they secured by republicans fusing with populists. The criticism comes with bad grace.

We are told that the "sound money" democrats will vote for McKinley. When did McKinley become so very sound? No one would attempt to dispute the fact that McKinley would have accepted the nomination on any other platform about as readily as the one he now stands on, if we are to judge from his past record.

The issue between our present ill and the unlimited coinage of both gold and silver is now drawn, and the country must decide. We are told that we can't maintain our monetary system without sanction of England. If this position is sound, then let us abolish our currency laws and monetary denominations and adopt the English in 1896. If all the governmental wisdom in England, then our republican friends will, of course, accept free trade also—that is English, you know.

As we have frequently said, our monetary system is radically wrong. As Mr. A. W. Lankford, in an interview published elsewhere, says, if a syndicate of bankers is powerful enough to maintain the gold reserve, as it agreed to do in 1895, it is powerful enough to destroy it if its purpose will be better served to do so. We refer to the contract with Messrs. Morgan & Co. entered into by Mr. Cleveland.

We hear a great cry about honest money and repudiation. There was nothing said about the dishonesty of the government when the Sherman Purchasing Act was repealed, although it enriched the creditor at the expense of the debtor fully twenty-five per cent. Values today are twenty-five per cent. lower than they were in 1892, and when there is talk of restoring values, by increasing our money of ultimate redemption, there is a cry "dishonest money." We are told that we have more money per capita than ever before in the history of the country. What is it? All credit money except our gold. Our silver is no longer basic money, but mere credit money, as it can be used to destroy this almighty gold reserve. Silver will today buy as much of any kind of merchandise as it ever would, but will not buy as much gold, because gold has advanced until now, to use a borrowed expression, we have 200-cent gold dollars, and this advance from 100 cent dollars to 200-cent dollars has been at the expense of the creditor and the producer, and to the benefit of the lender, and during all these years of gold appreciation we have not heard one word about this dishonest 200 cent gold dollar.

The republicans, if we are to judge by the platform, and by the acts of their Senators and Representatives in the last Congress, want the situation to remain as it is. They declared for the gold standard; this is what we now have. The country is trying it to its sorrow. If the free coinage of silver is a good thing, we see no reason for rejecting it; simply because Algood and Tillman favor it. Will the country stultify itself by taking such a position as that?

The country will learn with sadness of the untimely death of Ex-Governor Wm. E. Russell of Massachusetts.

He died in his fishing tent at Adalade, Quebec, whence he had gone to angle salmon. His brother and another gentleman were with him, and when the Ex-Governor retired for the night he was as well apparently as usual. Nothing was known of his illness till the next morning, when he was found dead.

Mr. Russell was a sound-money delegate to the Chicago convention and fought hard for his convictions. He had been mentioned for the Presidential nomination. The last vote he ever cast was against the adoption of the Chicago platform.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

The Presidential Nominee

Political Career and Characteristics of William J. Bryan.

Chicago, July 10.—Mr. Bryan was born March 19, 1856, in Salem, Illinois. He was brought up on his father's farm until he was ten years old, when he went to the public school at Salem, which he attended for five years. At the age of fifteen he went to the Whipple Academy, in Jacksonville, Ill., which is the preparatory department of the Illinois College, located at the same place. He spent two years in the academy and four years in the college, taking a classical course. He represented his college in the interstate oratorical contest of 1880, and was class orator and valedictorian in 1881. He then went to the Union College of Law, in Chicago, and while in attendance there was in the office of Lyman Trumbull. He left the law school June 18, 1883, and went to Jacksonville to practice law, remaining at Jacksonville till October, 1887, when he removed to Lincoln, Nebraska, going into partnership with A. R. Talbot, a classmate of the law school. He had taken part in political campaigns since 1880, and made a number of speeches. He took a part in the campaign of 1888 in Nebraska, and was nominated to represent the First District in Congress in 1890. He was elected by the majority of 6,713, although the district had been divided by 3,400 when Secretary Morton had been defeated in 1888, and was thought certainly to be Republican. He supported Springer for speaker in the Fifty-second Congress, from whose district in Illinois he came originally. This led to his being put on the Ways and Means Committee in Congress, of which Springer was chairman, and on March 16, 1892, he made a tariff speech that was the sensation of the day, and was liberally distributed as campaign literature. He was re-elected in 1892, in spite of the fact that the legislature had restricted the state and his district in the previous election had given the republican ticket about 6,000 majority, and was re-elected by 140 votes. In the Fifty-third Congress he helped to frame the Wilson Bill being a member of the Ways and Means Committee, and took an especially active part in the income tax provisions. At the close of the debate on the income tax in Congress, replying to Bourke Cockran, August 16, 1893, at the special session, he delivered a three hours' speech against the repeal of the Sherman law, this speech being more largely circulated than the tariff speech had been. He also spoke in favor of the bill to coin the seigniorage, and spoke against Carlisle's currency policy, as also against Cleveland's gold contract with the Rothschilds.

HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE SENATE.

In 1894 he became a candidate for the United States Senate, and announced that he would not be a candidate for the Lower House of Congress. He was nominated for United States senator in the Democratic convention, and the Populist candidate in his district was endorsed by the Democrats for the House of Representatives. The ensuing state legislature being Republican, John H. Thurston was sent to the Senate, and the Republican candidate in his former congressional district, J. B. Strode, was elected by 5,000 majority. During all three of the campaigns he challenged the opposing candidates to a debate, and several discussions were held.

After his retirement from Congress he took up the practice of law in Lincoln again, but the silver campaign opening, he found that the calls upon him for speeches and campaign work were so frequent that he was forced to give up his law practice. In September, 1894, he became the editor-in-chief of the Omaha World Herald, and had control of its editorial policy on state and national questions.

THE WIFE OF THE NOMINEE.

Mr. Bryan is a man of small means. He was married October 1, 1884, to Mary Baird, of Perry, Ill., who attended the female academy in Jacksonville when he was in the other school at the same place, and who graduated the same week that he did, and was also the valedictorian of her class. She studied law and was admitted to the bar without any idea of practicing, but simply to be more thoroughly companionable to him. She is a year or two younger than he. Their children have been born to them—Ruth, ten years old; Willis J., Jr., about seven, and Grace, five years old.

During the congressional proceedings Mrs. Bryan, a quiet appearing little woman, with a refined, sweet face, black hair just becoming tinged with gray, and black eyes, sat just in the rear of the press seats with a Nebraska friend. She was attired in black cashmere, with trimmings of black and white striped ilk, black gloves and a black chip cap trimmed with purple flowers and black satin ribbon. She was very self-possessed, and when approached just after the announcement of Mr. Bryan's nomination.

"I was thought this morning that Mr. Bryan would be nominated. Our friends had worked very hard all morning, and Mr. Bryan was given many pledges last night from states that had other candidates. I am very proud of my husband's success, but I think he has earned it. I don't want to talk for publication, because I have really nothing to say, except to thank the delegates for their support of my husband." A few minutes after the nomination was made she left the hall with friends.

Mr. Bryan is a Presbyterian, having joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at the age of fourteen. He is now a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Lincoln. His father was Silas L. Bryan, who was a circuit judge at the time of his son's birth, and served in that capacity from 1865 to 1872 on the bench. Judge Bryan moved on a farm a short distance from Salem when his son was six years old, and from that time until he was twenty-three years old Bryan spent his summers on the farm. In 1872 his father ran for Congress on the Greeley ticket, and was defeated by 240 votes. His family comes from Virginia. His father was born in Colerain county, in that state, and died in Salem, Ill., in 1880. His mother, whose name was Maria Elizabeth Jennings, was born in Marion county, Ill., and died in Salem a week ago last Saturday, after a protracted illness. It appears that Mr. Bryan is impressive, his speech indicating intellectual and power as well as good nature. There is a notable absence of the boyish look seen in the pictures and lithographs of him which have been circulated. He is affable and kindly in manner, easily approachable and does not lack dignity in appearance. He is an illustration of the fact that some men are never accorded justice by a picture, which, in his case, does not prepare one for the expression of keenness shown in his face.

MR. BRYAN'S HOME LIFE.

Mr. Bryan lives well in a commodious dwelling in the fashionable part of Lincoln. The study, in which both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan have desks, is a very attractive room. It is filled with books, stamps and mementoes of campaigns. There are busts and portraits of men, and there to butcher knives which Mr. Bryan used in the campaign with Judge Field, to refute the latter's boasts of the effects of high protection. Last year Mr. Bryan was asked if he had any aspirations looking to the White House, and he said: "No I have no wish to be a presidential candidate, neither now nor in the years to come. My whole thought is centered on my family and my profession, so far as my own personal desires go. I was brought up in the country, and I wish my children to have some of the same rearing. They are now at the age when they need a father's care, and I wish to get into practice again, for a very much enjoy the law, which has been necessarily abandoned during my four years in Washington."

Mrs. Bryan has a great liking for politics, and accompanies her husband on many of his Nebraska jaunts. Her tastes are essentially literary, and she has written much for the popular press.

She is a charming woman and is as great a favorite in Lincoln as her husband. She was one of the organizers of Sorosis, the leading women's club of Lincoln, and is also a member of the W. C. A. and other societies. Mr. Bryan says she is invaluable to him in suggestions and the preparation of material and advice as to points and methods. The children are very bright, and are pretty and well bred.

It is not only for Mr. Bryan's great gifts as a speaker he is esteemed so highly by the people of his home. No man has ever attracted so much public or private attention. He neither smokes, chews, or uses any drinks, and his language is pure.

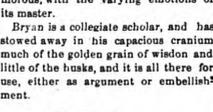

Bryan's friends figure that he should be an influential factor with the Populists, since it was much through his influence that the Nebraska State convention two years ago endorsed Silas A. Holcomb, the Populist nominee, for governor, and by virtue of the fusion, defeated Thomas Majors, the candidate leading the Republican forces. He is the picture of health, mental, moral and physical. He stands about five feet ten inches, weighs about 170, is a prominent brunet, has a massive head, a clean-shaven face, an aquiline nose, large under jaw, square chin, a broad chest, large, lustrous, dark eyes, and a mouth resembling that of a bear. Beneath his eyes is the protuberant flesh which, physiologists say, is indicative of fluency and of language, and one of the most striking features in the face of James G. Blaine. Bryan neglects none of the accessories of oratory. Nature richly endowed him with grace. He is happy in attitude and pose. Mellifluous is one word that most aptly describes his voice. It is strong enough to be heard by thousands. It is so modulated as not to vex the ear with monotony, and can be stern and pathetic, fierce or gentle, serious or humorous, with the varying emotions of its master.

Bryan is a collegiate scholar, and has stowed away in his capacious cranium much of the golden grain of wisdom and little of the husks, and it is all there for use, either as argument or embellishment.

CANDIDATE ARTHUR SEWALL.

Arthur Sewall, candidate for Vice President, was born in Bath, Maine, November 25, 1835, of a stock long prominent and honored in his State, and identified with the Democratic party from its birth. Mr. Sewall is very extensively engaged in shipping in Maine, and today his fleet of vessels comprises many of the largest and finest wooden vessels afloat. Besides his extensive interests in shipping, Mr. Sewall is interested in railroads, the Bath Iron Works, which built the U. S. gunboats Castine and Medusa, and the new Katablin and other enterprises. A few years ago he was the president of the Maine Central Railroad. He is now president of a bank in Bath, and is a millionaire. The Sewall family has always been democratic, although as a family it has seldom or never shown its antagonism in any party action in either municipal or State affairs.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by restoring the hearing.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

All the People

Should keep themselves healthy and special care should be taken to their pure, rich blood, for when the blood is impure and impoverished disease of various kinds are almost certain to result.

The one true blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. By its power to purify and vitalize the blood it has proved itself to be the safeguard of health, and the record of remarkable cures effected proves that it has wonderful power over disease. It is actually and permanently cures when all other preparations fail to do any good whatever.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. C. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. Col. Wilbur F. Jackson.

Col. Wilbur F. Jackson, president of the Continental National Bank of Baltimore, but a voter in Dorchester county, is mentioned by prominent Eastern Shore Republicans, in connection with the nomination for Congress in the First district.

Colonel Jackson is the brother of Ex-Governor Jackson, of this county, and has been a democrat until very recently, when he announced that he had become a republican. He lives in Dorchester county, in Col. Jackson's legal residence, but he still retains his city residence on West Monument street.

Stevenson Archer.

The Baltimore American says: Stevenson Archer is fast falling in health at the City Hospital. He has been at the institution, with the exception of a short interval, ever since he was pardoned, and he has spent nearly all of the time in his room. He has an acute disease of the bladder, which needs constant medical attention. A greater portion of his time is spent in bed, yet he is able to get his room, and keeps himself posted on the current events by reading the papers. His mind is as clear as ever, and oftentimes he has long talks with the physicians of the institution. Archer has lost a great amount of flesh, and it is very thin. No one would recognize him as the Stevenson Archer of old.

First Congressional District.

The Baltimore Sun (of the 9th, says: Comptroller Robert P. Graham was in Baltimore yesterday. Speaking of the political situation on the Eastern Shore, he said:

"The congressional fight is the only live topic in the State. It will get the public nomination seems to be somewhat in doubt. The fight for the nomination will, in my opinion, be between Mr. Dryden, of Somerset, and Dr. Barber, of Talbot county.

"I understand the Doctor counts on the help of Messrs. James A. Taylor, Talbot, Caroline and Worcester counties. The delegates from Wicomico have not yet determined as to their position in the coming contest."

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken ill in the night, and she passed and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and she was cured in a few days. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Salisbury, Md. For sale by R. K. TRUITT & Sons, Salisbury, Md.

Can't Eat

This is the complaint of thousands at this season. They have no appetite for food. They need the tonic upon the stomach and digestive organs, which a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures skin diseases, and restores internal vitality only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It promptly and efficiently relieves dyspeptic symptoms and cures nervous headaches, that it seems to have almost "a magic touch."

SILVER AND THE LABORER.

The bankers are busily engaged through their organs, proving to the laboring man—the wage earner, that it is his interest for the country, to maintain the gold standard.

They are higher today than they were twenty years ago, when a dollar would only purchase half the necessities of life that it now does.

They have no work, and consequently nothing with which to purchase their necessities of life. Profits have become so small on business enterprises that capital has been withdrawn from these channels, and invested at six per cent, which is now equivalent to twelve per cent when silver was demonetized in 1873.

Some of the gold standard journals are even using the pension lists as illustration of those who will be injured by lessening the purchasing power of this two hundred cent dollar. We grant it. Those however who use this argument must accept the pension list with all its iniquity.

What the Advertiser wants to see and what it believes will come to pass under the free and unlimited coinage of the two metals is this: A general appreciation of values, especially agricultural property and products, all kinds of real estate, and a general renewal of business so that the wage earner can once more go to work and have an opportunity to make a decent living.

POLITICAL.

Mr. Randolph Barton of Maryland, elected at large on the Democratic electoral ticket, declines to serve, and asserts that the true interests of the country are now represented by McKinley and Sherman. His letter of declination has been sent to Mr. Hatterley W. Talbot, chairman of the State Committee.

A proposition has been made by the gold Democrats of Talbot county to hold a public meeting and repudiate the nomination of Bryan.

Kansas City, Mo., July 21.—All Kansas City banks have ceased issuing gold, either in exchange for bill, payment of checks, or in withdrawal of deposits.

A detachment from Minneapolis says: Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease was in the city today on her way to the St. Louis Convention. "I will forsake politics the moment I see that I have been engaged by the New York Lyceum Bureau to deliver a series of lectures on literary subjects, and it is a part of the contract that all politics shall be tabooed. I expect to keep my contract in that respect."

MaJ. William Eureka Stewart started up on Berlin on Saturday, for the first time since his great free-silver speech at the Democratic State Convention. The Major has a fine opportunity for oratorical display during the campaign.

THE HORSELESS CARRIAGE. The Perfect Vehicle Will Come Into Use Slowly but Surely.

A little reflection will convince any one that the use of motor-cars, or in other words, horseless carriages, will improve the roads. General Morin of France is authority for the statement that the deterioration of common roads, except that which is caused by the wear of horses' feet and one-third due to the wheels of vehicles. This being the case, if the same amount as usual continues to be laid out upon the roads, the continual damage decrease two-thirds, then the amount spent will go to improve and permanent improvement, and the roads will be "as smooth as a barn floor."

There are many questions to be solved, many difficulties to be surmounted, before the horseless carriage appears. It was a long time before the difficulties of making sewing machines, revolvers, repeating rifles, typewriters and typostats were overcome. Yet, examine them! It is all plain and simple, and not at all marvelous now, and we can hardly imagine how many more of the same kind of things will be invented in the future.

ORKING IT BACKWARD.

Impossibilities Made Possible by Means of the Modern Inventions in the Electrical Field.

The most incredible things are developed before the eyes of the spectators in the ordinary series of such pictures reversed. A drinker takes up an empty glass and replaces it full upon the table; a smoker sees the stem of a cigar being lit as it comes from the floor, takes it in his mouth and sees the smoke originate in the room, draws it into his mouth and into his lungs, so to speak, walks long and finally replaced in the pocket. A wrestler, who has probably thrown away his garments, is recovered with them by him, so to speak, walks long and finally replaced in the pocket. My Dear Miss Brown: I hereby announce myself as a candidate for your hand, and I shall use all fair and honorable means to secure the nomination. I know that there are many candidates in the field, and I hesitated long before entering the race, but now that I am in it, I am in it to stay.

My views on love and matrimony have often been expressed in your hearing, and I need not repeat them here. You know I favor the gold standard—a one-hundred cent dollar love, and a maintenance of that standard after death.

JAY GOULD LETTER IN A CURIO SHOP.

In a little old curio shop in Third Avenue is an odd letter written by Jay Gould every week in 1854, before Gould began to dicker in railroads and when he was an obscure and respected surgeon.

The letter was written by Gould to the late A. M. Sherman, and it was an appeal for the loan of a surveyor's level, the young surveyor offering to give the level to Gould in exchange for a case of tools. SHERIFF'S SALE

Farm Land.

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Wisconsin county, Maryland, four at the instance and for the use of William L. Simpson, S. Edwards & Co., and James Bailey & Son against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of John Wesley Bradley, trading as J. W. Bradley & Company and to me directed, I have levied upon, seized and taken to my possession all the right, title, claim, estate and demand at law and in equity of the said John Wesley Bradley in and to the following property, viz:

1. All that tract or parcel of land known as "Wilson's Discovery," sometimes called the "William Darby Land," lying on the east side of the county road leading from Marcell Springs to Spring Grove, containing six and one-half acres of land, more or less, forty days of which was conveyed to the said John Wesley Bradley by Thomas B. Taylor, by deed dated December 21st, 1871, recorded among the land records of Wisconsin county, in Liber T. F. J. R. No. 3, folio 110, and seventeen days of which was conveyed to the said John Wesley Bradley by deed dated May 14th, 1873, recorded among the land records of Wisconsin county, in Liber T. F. J. R. No. 5, folio 248, both of which parcels and compose the farm known as "Wilson's Discovery," situated in Barron Creek District, Wisconsin county, Maryland, formerly belonging to William Darby, upon which John W. Kennedy now resides.

2. All that tract or parcel of land adjoining the Bradley Mill lot in Barron Creek District, Wisconsin county, State of Maryland, which the said John Wesley Bradley purchased of Asa Graham and which the said Asa Graham conveyed to the said John Wesley Bradley by deed dated May 14th, 1873, recorded among the land records of said county, in Liber S. P. T. No. 1, folio 40, known as "Wilson's Discovery," which deed reference is hereby made for further description.

And I hereby give notice that I will offer the same for sale, at public auction, for cash, on Thursday, August 20th, 1898, at ten o'clock a. m. in front of the Hotel at Marcell Springs, to satisfy said writ, interest and costs.

THE MESSIAH

Salisbury Gives the Messiah and Home Talent Carries Off the Honors.

The thanks of the community go out to Mr. W. T. Dabiel for the inspiration of giving the "Messiah" and the energy requisite to such an ambitious attainment. Under his management musical Salisbury had had opportunities of studying under artists, both vocal and instrumental, and of hearing in a well rendered way that most famous of all choruses, Handel's "Messiah."

It was feared that the musicians were undertaking a little more than they could handle at first, but last night's performance has shown that they were not nearly so inexperienced as they were first made out to be. The chorus work was a most delightful surprise and presented the four parts with well sustained accuracy.

Mr. Harry Pearce sang the first tenor solo clearly and sweetly and every one was surprised that they had not heard his voice before. Mr. Isaac, who came from Pittsburg for the occasion, sang the bass solo. His voice was clear and his very low notes were fine; but his middle register was lacking in sweetness and depth.

Mrs. S. Myers sang the alto solo parts; her voice was good, but her interpretation was indifferent, and though her notes were perfectly correct it was sad to hear her monotoneous a soprano she gave Handel's beautiful music.

Miss Ellegood and Mrs. M. V. Brewington carried off the honors of the evening. Miss Ellegood's voice in a mezzo solo ran up and down one of the most difficult parts, in smooth, sweet, full tones. Her voice is a delight to everyone who hears it and added honors to Salisbury's previous musical reputation.

First soprano was a first soprano, was clear and distinct in one of the sweetest of all solos—"I know that my Redeemer liveth." The interesting and sympathetic way in which she interpreted that most famous part gave joy to the hearts of all the music lovers present.

First soprano was a first soprano, was clear and distinct in one of the sweetest of all solos—"I know that my Redeemer liveth." The interesting and sympathetic way in which she interpreted that most famous part gave joy to the hearts of all the music lovers present.

Never, in the history of Salisbury has it had such a treat, and Mr. Dabiel may rest content with the result of his efforts.

Mr. S. S. Myers is due the credit of the beautiful work of the chorus, and to say that he deserves "credit" is too mild, his work was phenomenal as the result proved. To him we owe the training, and the spirit, and the accuracy of the entire rendition, so beautifully given last night.

It has been decided by those interested in the Messiah to organize a musical and under the weekly instruction of Mr. Preston Ware Orem continue its musical studies during the winter months.

Resolutions were passed at the final session of the Normal School of Music, thanking the faculty for its untiring effort. A copy of which resolutions is to be given to each member of the faculty.

At the residence of his father at Marleda Springs, on Friday, July 17th, Mr. Joseph Lord, son of Mr. James W. Lord. Funeral services were held in the M. E. Church on Sunday, 19th, of which the deceased was a member, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Given, the pastor, and Rev. Mr. Green of the M. P. Church, both of whom spoke feelingly and touchingly of interviews with him in his long illness and his wish to live that he might be able to do some service in his Master's cause. The services were rendered more impressive by the singing of hymns selected by himself for the occasion. At their conclusion his remains were deposited in the cemetery of Covington's Chapel, where a beautiful chaplet of flowers has been placed by loving hands upon his grave.

Unclaimed Letters. The following is a list of letters remaining in the Salisbury (Md.) Post-office Saturday, July 25th, 1896.

Christiefield, Md., July 21.—A large meeting was held in Odd-Fellows' Temple last night to form a law-and-order league. According to the statements of the permanent chairman, Mr. L. E. P. Dennis, the object of the league was to break up the illegal traffic in alcoholic drinks. It was stated that there are at least twenty places in Christiefield now where strong drinks are covertly sold.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union began a crusade against these places last week by holding a series of outdoor meetings on the back street. These meetings were attended by thousands of people and they were addressed by prominent ministers of Somerset county. Vigilance committees were formed in each place and a "law and order league" has been formed and is preparing to wage an active campaign against the violators of the law. Over seventy-five prominent citizens joined the league last night.

The remains of Rufus M. Parsons, of Williams street, here, were brought to Princess Anne on Thursday last and buried in the cemetery adjacent to St. Andrew's P. E. Church. The Rev. Dr. Leakin, of Baltimore, accompanied the remains to Somerset and conducted the funeral services. Mr. Parsons was 83 years old and was born near Salisbury but resided for several years in Princess Anne, while he was deputy clerk under the late Col. Levin Woolford. Of late years he was connected with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and was private secretary to Robert Garrett. He had many friends and acquaintances in Somerset county.—Marylander.

The Shakers of Mount Lebanon, a community of simple, honest, God-fearing men and women, have prepared the Shaker Digestive Cordial for many years and it is always the same, simple, honest, digestive medicine that has helped to make the Shakers the healthy, long-lived people that they are. This is partly owing to their simple mode of life, partly to the use of their Shaker Digestive Cordial. Indigestion is caused by the stomach glands not supplying enough digestive juices. Shaker Digestive Cordial supplies what's wanting. Shaker Digestive Cordial invigorates the stomach and all its glands so that after while they don't need help. An witness of the honest Shaker Digestive Cordial, the formula is printed on every bottle. Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Prohibition Party Doings

Meeting at Fruitland Last Tuesday. Mr. Levering Present—Nominations Postponed.

The First District Congressional Convention assembled in Prohibition Hall, Fruitland, on Tuesday. The officers of the convention were: D. W. Miles of Somerset, chairman; Rev. C. D. Alder, secretary. After a session of one hour the convention adjourned to meet September 8th at Easton, objection being made to nominating a candidate for Congress so early as July. A candidate for Congress will therefore not be nominated until the Eastern Convention.

At three o'clock the picnic and mass-meeting exercises began. Mr. W. Frank Tucker of Baltimore being the first speaker. He said that his prophecy on the same platform a year ago is already fulfilled, and that was that the issue between the democratic and republican parties this year would be currency. The tariff question having disgusted voters until it fell of its own weight. Hon. Joshua Levering was the next speaker. He was very much handicapped by the rain which came on about that time, but despite the shower the people raised their umbrellas and listened attentively to him. Mr. Levering made a good impression on his audience while he argued that the present currency question was only small compared with the billion-dollar annual waste arising from the sale of alcoholic beverages.

At seven o'clock Rev. Dr. Johnson of Salisbury mounted the platform and was given earnest attention while he held up the liquor traffic to the scorn of Christians and citizens. He claimed that for the largest number of saloon keepers in this country are foreign born, and therefore un-American, and that they are a curse to the community. He urged that the people would gladly hear him again.

Mr. W. T. Bundie of Virginia followed Dr. Johnson in a speech of beautiful diction and made an impression upon his audience as a fluent speaker and showed that he knew the "man," because he had been bitten by the serpent in the past.

The Delmar Quartette rendered music both afternoon and evening, and delighted their audiences with their prohibition songs.

Mr. Lawrence Hastings of Snow Hill was chairman of the afternoon meeting and Dr. Long of Allen of the evening meeting.

The grounds and Prohibition Hall were decorated with 20 American flags and made a fine appearance.

Shooting and Cutting. Berlin, Md., July 20.—At a picnic at Mount Pleasant, in Wisconsin county, eight men were shot, three men were hit with knives and one man and a little girl shot. The man is not expected to live, the girl passing through his liver.

The girl was only slightly hurt. James Johnson, sheriff of Wisconsin county, and Henry T. Bell, of Worcester county, who notified him, but Elliott tried to catch Smith on his base, but first base purged the ball and Smith got round to second and stole third in the slightest possible manner. Smith came in on McDaniel's long fly, which was caught. Davis knocked out Steadman, who made a nice little single out between third and short-stop; Kenney came to the bat and swatted a ball out between center and right. Both fielders tried for it, but ambition conquered caution and resulted in a collision. Davis and Trutt came home and Kenney was safe on second. Murray made a hit to short and Kenney was caught out at third. Schutche knocked an easy grounder right into the hands of Brown, putting the side out.

Kenney in the box again. At the beginning of the third inning he tried to catch an easy little fly off the bat, and was so gentle in his grasp that it dropped through, putting a man on first. Dorsey knocked a bee-line to Kenney who lagged it, putting the ball down to Steadman who piled it in to McDaniel; making a beautiful double play. Kenney caught a little fly and put the third man out. When the Starlights came into the field in the second half, Brown was retired to third, and Mathison was put in the box, Dorsey behind the bat.

Steadman struck out, for Mathison was sending in pretty well over the plate. Elliott hit a fly ball and was caught out between 1st and 2d. Smith went to the bat and struck out. The home team began to count its "retire," but showed no signs of fear, for the strangers had not scored.

Kenney went again to the pitchers box, and again struck the first, second and third batters, gaining the respect and wonder of the Starlights.

In the fifth, Mathison pitched as he had pitched before, and poked McDaniel was a martyr and went out on strikes. Davis followed next, but little Pop Trutt redeemed the reputation of the batters by making a safe single; Kenney went to the bat and while Mathison was "piling in" the balls, Trutt stole second and third. Kenney practiced a knocking low ball among the bases, along the fence, but finally knocked an easy little ball into Brown's hands, putting the side out without scoring.

Kenney into the box again and Brown went to the bat and struck out. "Did you ever see that Kenney? Say! he's the best in the state's right."

Pop little Dunn was touched on the shoe by the ball and went limping to first, while Mathison went to the bat. Kenney or the umpire or something got wrong, for Mathison took on balls, Dunn moving on to 2d. McDaniel knocked a hot one to Davis, so hot that it looked as though Davis had been holding the ball; he never moved to catch it, it went right to him.

Elliott and Schutche put the third man out while playing tag with himself between second and third.

Mathison again went into the box, Murray to the bat. He knocked a safe double and Schutche marked a one bagger, and took second a minute later on a passed ball, and Murray went to third. Steadman made a one base hit and Kenney Murray hit a home run, went to the bat and knocked a ball to short stop; Steadman was forced at second. Smith was an easy out at first.

BASE BALL

Another Baltimore Team Shut Out—The Starlights The Victims—Salisbury 14, Starlights 0.

There was something in the air which made the Salisbury team feel easy, and sure of a victory, as long before the game, as early in the morning for some of the Starlights had been here before and their bristling, even at times was not of the first magnitude.

It gave the roots a somewhat dubious feeling however when it was learned that "Stub" Brown, who was on the staff of the Orioles last year, was to pitch; but "Stub" Brown did not appear, a pitcher named Brown, all right enough, but of a different shade than "Stub" might have proved to be, started the game. He was too easy and retired to third base at the end of the third inning, and Mathison was put in the box in his place.

Mathison pitched a double ball which some of the home team did not get on to until late in the game, and some others could not get on to at all.

The game opened with Salisbury in the field, at three o'clock, Winter Owens umpired; Kenney in the box; Murray behind the bat; Schutche on third; Steadman, second; McDaniel, first; Hooper, Elliott, Short; Smith, Left; Pop Trutt, Center; Joe Davis, Right. Kenney was "a three times winner, sure," he struck out fourteen men, and the visitors made only four hits in the State, excepting the entire game. Kenney, Elliott and Murray won the laurels of the day.

At the beginning of the first inning two of the Starlights made hits, putting two men on base; but after playing for a drop that low ball of his over the base for Murray, and it was interesting to note how the batters struck at the ball after it was safe in Murray's hands. They were retired, making no errors, and the home team went to the bat with confidence.

The man who was mistaken for "Stub" Brown, in the box, with Mathison behind the bat.

Steadman knocked a pretty little fly out over second and Elliott made a single save for these two runs our team failed to score.

Kenney went into the box again and pitched just eleven balls, in which time visitors walked out on strikes. There was a whoop, and once more Salisbury went to the bat. Davis knocked a little fly over the diamond to 2d base which was caught. Kenney, with impeccable, went to the bat, and after playing for a making fove for a time or two, Murray out a double safe to right field. Brown knocked a safe one bagger, bringing Kenney home, but the side failed to get in any more runs, Murray dying at third.

In the third inning, Kenney began his terrible work. Kenney, three men were first at the bat, got safe to first. A grounder came romping up to Schutche; but poor Schutche's feet were in his way and Brown made first safe on Schutche's fumble. Brown tried to steal second, McDaniel threw the ball to Steadman, who notified him, but Elliott tried to catch Elliott, reached over his shoulder and pulled the ball out of the air, snapped it back to Mc Daniel, and Brown was a goner, making for Elliott a pretty and much to be remembered play.

Dunn went to the bat and made two strikes. On the third inning, he missed the ball but hit Murray's head, and that sounded like a firecracker; and although Murray's skull is not etiolopion, he caught the ball over the base, putting Dunn out, and retired from the field for repairs. After a little cold water and a few minutes to get the stars of another night out of his eyes, he continued to play catching the following three strikes without any effort, and sending our men again to the bat.

Steadman made a single, Elliott knocked out a three bagger, bringing Steadman home. Smith knocked a safe single bringing Elliott home. Brown tried to catch Smith on his base, but first base purged the ball and Smith got round to second and stole third in the slightest possible manner. Smith came in on McDaniel's long fly, which was caught. Davis knocked out Steadman, who made a nice little single out between third and short-stop; Kenney came to the bat and swatted a ball out between center and right. Both fielders tried for it, but ambition conquered caution and resulted in a collision. Davis and Trutt came home and Kenney was safe on second. Murray made a hit to short and Kenney was caught out at third. Schutche knocked an easy grounder right into the hands of Brown, putting the side out.

Kenney in the box again. At the beginning of the third inning he tried to catch an easy little fly off the bat, and was so gentle in his grasp that it dropped through, putting a man on first. Dorsey knocked a bee-line to Kenney who lagged it, putting the ball down to Steadman who piled it in to McDaniel; making a beautiful double play. Kenney caught a little fly and put the third man out. When the Starlights came into the field in the second half, Brown was retired to third, and Mathison was put in the box, Dorsey behind the bat.

Steadman struck out, for Mathison was sending in pretty well over the plate. Elliott hit a fly ball and was caught out between 1st and 2d. Smith went to the bat and struck out. The home team began to count its "retire," but showed no signs of fear, for the strangers had not scored.

Kenney went again to the pitchers box, and again struck the first, second and third batters, gaining the respect and wonder of the Starlights.

In the fifth, Mathison pitched as he had pitched before, and poked McDaniel was a martyr and went out on strikes. Davis followed next, but little Pop Trutt redeemed the reputation of the batters by making a safe single; Kenney went to the bat and while Mathison was "piling in" the balls, Trutt stole second and third. Kenney practiced a knocking low ball among the bases, along the fence, but finally knocked an easy little ball into Brown's hands, putting the side out without scoring.

Kenney into the box again and Brown went to the bat and struck out. "Did you ever see that Kenney? Say! he's the best in the state's right."

Pop little Dunn was touched on the shoe by the ball and went limping to first, while Mathison went to the bat. Kenney or the umpire or something got wrong, for Mathison took on balls, Dunn moving on to 2d. McDaniel knocked a hot one to Davis, so hot that it looked as though Davis had been holding the ball; he never moved to catch it, it went right to him.

Elliott and Schutche put the third man out while playing tag with himself between second and third.

Mathison again went into the box, Murray to the bat. He knocked a safe double and Schutche marked a one bagger, and took second a minute later on a passed ball, and Murray went to third. Steadman made a one base hit and Kenney Murray hit a home run, went to the bat and knocked a ball to short stop; Steadman was forced at second. Smith was an easy out at first.

At the beginning of the seventh, Kenney continued to deliver death to the Starlights. Graham was the first victim, and his two successors; though they hit the ball, thought it scarcely worth while to even start for first, as Kenney nabbed the ball and sent it at once to McDaniel, putting the second man out, and walked over into the line and touched the third man before he got his feet on it.

It was hard lines when after McDaniel made a simple and Davis was on first to have Pop Trutt to knock an easy little ball into the paws of the third baseman, who put McDaniel out. Kenney made a single safe, but Dunn allowed Kenney's ball to pass him, and Trutt and Elliott were safe on base; Murray got his base on balls and stole around to third; Schutche stole second and Murray came home on a pass ball; Schutche went to third and Steadman knocked a safe one bagger; Elliott went to the bat and was preparing to pitch another fly, when Steadman was put out at second, in the act of catching. Elliott hit the ball but, Brown caught it at third. The seventh inning closed, having added numerous runs to the home score. It began to be embarrassing, and Salisbury looked a good deal as did Little Jack Horner, when he read the proverbial riddle to a school boy about him in poetry, some hundred years or so ago.

It was almost monotonous! Kenney proceeded to drop balls over the plate into Murray's hands, and Reilly was offered on the home plate, a sacrifice. Only four hits in the State, excepting the Dunn gip-ek out, which pleased the small boys on the bleachers, for Dunn had gained to kill our Murray with a bat and grieved our ill will thereby. Mathison knocked a ball to Schutche who threw it to McDaniel, making a quick, very pretty double play, putting the gentleman from the twinkling Heaven's, into the field.

At this point, the bleachers became alive, for the small boy was of the impression that the game was over, but they soon discovered their error and crawled back to their places, looking like a lot of ants.

Mathison pitched a neat ball, but Smith was patient, and in time took his base on balls and afterward stole second and third as prettily as can be imagined; McDaniel died before reaching first and seemed to consider it a good joke; Davis did not get on to Mathison's curves, and struck out, and Mathison caught Trutt's little floor, thus putting the side out before Smith returned home. Reilly was the first man at the bat and was an easy out at the beginning of the ninth.

Dorsey stole second. Kenney and Murray made a quick finish by striking the two next men out, and Smith returned home. It was too easy, and while we're proud of de boys, we want a chance to play in our own class—See!

The captain of the Starlights, talked after the game and remarked that Kenney's balls were simply impossible! He seemed to think the Salisbury boys "hot stuff," and remarked the beautiful work of Elliott, and the general thorough understanding of each other's plays by the team. He considered Steadman one of the greatest batters he has ever seen. He said he never saw so many heavy batters together. He's right, we have the best team in the State, excepting the Orioles, and we are not afraid to tackle them. We couldn't expect to defeat them, but we would like to see just how bad they would lick us. The Chester boys, whom we defeated about ten days ago, with a score of 13 to 8, went to Dover and beat their team and then they come back here with a terrible swelled head, (having strengthened their team) and blood in their eye. The game will be an interesting one, and it will be a jolly thing to see them try to snatch the olive branch from Salisbury's hands. It's all right, though, we're not scared, and we don't want to change a single man on the team. Today we will show Chester, all over again, how vain are her hopes. Let's all go to the game and be sure to keep up our reputation of cheering all good plays, whatever made by the home team or the visitors. Let us always be courteous. H. E. B.
