NO LICENSES GRANTED

To Sell Liquor in Quantico And Tyaskin Districts, Resulting In Wicomico County Being Without A Saloon. Large Petitions Presented.

Quantico and Tyaskin districts are now without liquor saloons. The applicants in those two districts, Messrs. John C. Bailey and Wade H. Bedsworth appeared before the County Commissioners in the Court room, Tuesday and made their applications for a year's license. Many witnesses appeared, and considerable testimony was presented, most of the day being consumed in hearing evidence and argument of counsel. Messrs. Henry B. Freeny, Elmer H. Walton and Wm. Wirt Leonard represented the Anti-Saloon League and were attorneys for the protestants, and Mr. H. L. D. Stanford, of Princess Anne, for the applicants. In the evidence brought against granting the licenses were large petitions signed by many of the influential and substantial citizens of both districts. In view of which and other evidence on the witness stand, a majority of the Commissioners decided it would not be wise to allow these districts to go wet. The fact of Salisbury and Delmar having voted liquor out is thought to have had its influence on their decision as it was argued that conditions which were now presented as very bad would become so much worse as to be intolerable to the people living in the licensed districts. Wicomico County is now without a single liquor saloon.

Pe-ru-na a Prompt and Permanent Cure for Nervousness.

MRS. LULU LARMER.

Mrs. Lulu Larmer, Stoughton, Wis., says:
"For two years I suffered with nervous trouble and stomach disorders until it seemed that there was nothing to me but a bundle of nerves.
"I was very irritable, could not sleep, rest or compose myself, and was continually unfit to take care of a household.
"I took nerve tonics and pills without benefit. When I began taking Peruna I grew steadily better, my nerves grew stronger, my rest was no longer fitful, and to-day I consider myself in perfect health and strength.
"My recovery was slow but sure, but I persevered and was rewarded by perfect health."—Mrs. Lulu Larmer.
Mrs. Anna B. Flaherty, recent Superintendent of the W. O. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University at Lincoln, Neb.
In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, W. Chicago, Ill., she says:
"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—Mrs. Anna B. Flaherty.

There was some little friction before the state finally went through the convention. The many friends of Mr. Wm. M. Day throughout the District were anxious to send him as a delegate to Chicago, but Goldsborough and McCulloch were voted in.

UNCLE SAM'S WONDERS

All Executive Departments Send Treasures To The World's Fair.

The United States Government building at the World's Fair occupies an elevated site just south of the main picture of the Exposition. The great central dome of the Government building is visible from the very center of the Fair, looking across the picturesque sunken garden that lies between the Palace of Mines and Metallurgy and Liberal Arts.
The hill slope in front of the Government building is terraced with broad stairways almost completely covering the slope. The building is 800 feet long by 250 feet wide and is the largest structure ever provided at an exposition by the federal government. It is distinguished from all the other large buildings at the Exposition by the steel truss construction, the entire roof being supported by steel arches, forming a splendid domed ceiling.
In this building are installed the exhibits of all the executive departments of the government. The building is a vast storehouse of an endless variety of treasures dear to the heart of every true American. Precious documents are to be seen here, and the autographs of our great men of the past are on display. Relics of famous statesmen and soldiers, carefully preserved through generations, are exhibited. Each governmental department has installed an exhibit showing its official character and mode of operation.
Entering the Government building from the eastern end, the visitor sees at his left a railroad postoffice car. This is not a mere coach standing idle square feet. This exhibit shows what the new executive department stands for and what it is accomplishing. Mr. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, had charge of the preparation of the exhibit. Charts arranged by him, showing the rapid growth of the nation in agriculture, arts, manufacture, population, etc., are of special interest to sociologists and all students of the labor problem. The Census Bureau exhibit is made in this section. It shows the tabulating machines used in compiling the census reports. The Lighthouse Board, also operating under this department, shows the great revolving lenses in light-houses, with other interesting appliances.

The space in the projecting northwest corner of the building is devoted to the Library of Congress. The edifice which houses this library at Washington is held by many architects to be the most beautiful building in the world. Its interior decorations, by Elmer Ellsworth Garsey, furnish one of the chief delights of a visit to the national capital. A large model of this splendid building is a feature of the exhibit. The decorative features of the interior are reproduced in their original colors.
The next exhibit on the right hand side of the central aisle is that of the Interior Department, occupying 11,702 square feet. In this large space the visitor finds so many things of compelling interest that he is loath to leave. The Patent Office exhibit belongs to this section. There are models of many machines that have borne an important part in the development of the nation's industries. The earliest form of every device of human invention, so far as possible, is shown here. For instance, you may see the actual sewing machine that was the first contrivance of its kind ever constructed; it was patented in 1846 by Elias Howe. The first typewriter, patented by C. Thurber in 1842; the model of the first cast iron plow, patented by Charles Newbold in 1797; the first screw propeller, invented by Robert Hook in 1680; and many other "first" things are to be seen. The model of Abraham Lincoln's celebrated device for lifting steamboats off shoals is shown here. The first harvesting machine, made in the year 150 B. C., is one of the most ancient exhibits at the Exposition. There is also a model of the first steam engine, made in Egypt in the same year.
Every foot of the 200,000 feet of floor space in Uncle Sam's World's Fair building is occupied by exhibits of surpassing interest, and every phase of the people's welfare is shown.
Many Officials Sworn In And Receive Commissions.
The following civil officers of Wicomico County were given their commissions of office Monday, after qualifying before Clerk Toadvine and Deputy Trust.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS

In And Around Attractive Mardela Note It As One Of Wicomico's Foremost Smaller Towns. Man Helping Nature To Beautify.

Mardela has put on a spring-like appearance, and nature is doing more than ever before to add to the beauty and attractiveness of the place. But few places grow so fast as Mardela in town and adjacent country. The farms nearby are in a higher state of cultivation than formerly, the land is made to produce more, and the crops are in greater variety and the yields are much larger. The fields are in fine appearance and the year promises to be one of success. After the long cold winter the spring is about what could be desired, and preparing and planting have gone along with much regularity.
The town is neat and attractive. Beautiful shade trees are to be seen in profusion, and as they begin to unfold their early foliage they begin to attract, by their beauty and one now looking up or down Main Street, sees the pretty shade trees on either side, forming a partial arch-way beneath which one can drive or walk with ease and pleasure. The side walks are separated from the drive-ways of the street and the pedestrian walks with ease and safety.
The pretty front yards, as one drives or walks through the town, shows evidences of the hands of industry and bear the impress of taste and beauty. The large hotel, the mammoth shade trees and pretty grassy yard surrounding the building and the slope of the hill toward the wandering stream that flows near, and perennial spring whose waters have done so much toward the healing of the sick, present a scene of beauty and attractiveness that has but few, if any equals on the Eastern Shore.
Leaving the natural beauties of nature, aided by the tender hand of skill we notice the high moral standing of the place, and the social and fraternal feelings that exist among its people. They have a splendid graded school, with two teachers, and have three churches in town: The Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant Churches. The Baptist and Protestant Episcopal hold regular services. The young people are well cared for in the Sunday Schools.
The industrial activity is to be seen in the stores, and in the various places of employment for its people. The people of Mardela have many things to be grateful for, and that the place is progressing in almost every side of life is apparent to the observant eye. It has a history of the past made of the best material, a present that is built upon true principles and a future that is full of hope, and bright with prospect.—Sharptown Herald.

Mills—Smith Marriage.

Mt. Hermon Methodist Protestant Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Wednesday evening, when Mr. Eugene F. Mills, a popular young man, and Miss Ella F. Smith, daughter of Mrs. Eliza Smith were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. G. A. Morris, pastor of the church.
The bridal party entered the church promptly at 7.30 o'clock to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss Sallie Toadvine, of Salisbury, Md.
The ushers, Messrs. George C. Walston and Murray Walston, cousins of the groom, Messrs. Charles H. Tilghman and Randolph Parker were followed by the bridesmaids, Misses Edith Walston and Alma B. Vincent, cousins of the groom, and Ruth Morris and Annie Phillips, cousins of the bride. The maid of honor, Miss Mamie Smith, cousin of the bride, preceded the bride and groom to the altar.
The bride entered the church, leaning on the arm of the groom. She was becomingly attired in blue silk voile, with hat and gloves to match, and carried white carnations.
The bridesmaids wore blue voile skirts and white jap silk waists and carried pink carnations. The maid of honor was handsomely attired in white mull and carried pink carnations and ferns. The groom wore the conventional black.
After the ceremony a large company of friends drove to the home of the groom where a reception was held. The presents were handsome and numerous.

FARMERS AT SNOW HILL

Continue The Good Work Of The Eastern Shore Produce Exchange, of Maryland. Now The Organization Benefits Its Members.

President, Orlando Harrison, Berlin, Md. Vice-President, Gordon B. Jones, Newark, Md. Secretary and Treasurer, Wm. C. Cullen, Onley, Va. General Manager, Wm. C. Bromley, Girdletree, Md. General Inspector, Wm. Vandergrift, Showell, Md.

The farmers and truckers of Worcester County were out in full force at Snow Hill Tuesday to elect officers, and every one showed an interest in trying to better the conditions of the farmer.

That goods will be sold at 8 per cent commission when it is necessary to consign them but it is expected that but little will be shipped on consignment. It was stated by good authority that there was sufficient quantity of potatoes planted by members of the Exchange to make from one hundred and fifty thousand barrels of potatoes this season and it is hoped through the Exchange this season as well as any other product that comes from the farm.

The white potatoes will come under two brands. The number ones will be branded Crescent or half moon. The second grade or medium will be branded Red Diamond, the stenciling to be done in red letters.

The by-laws are being printed and one will be mailed to each stockholder. With united effort the Exchange can be made a success. We can improve our farms and increase the value of our land thereby. It will aid in helping to decrease the taxes. The officers elected are cultivators of the soil. The president has been a resident of Worcester County for about twenty years, has been a cultivator of the soil from boyhood and has earned every dollar he possesses from the product of the soil.

The Vice-President, G. B. Jones, is one of the largest and most successful white potato growers on the Shore, one who has made a reputation for growers to follow. Make Mr. Jones a visit and see what he is doing, he is one of the early birds and usually gets there. He handles a large acreage successfully. Some of his potato training was learned in Virginia, see him and get the favor as an evening's conversation will convince you he knows a potato properly grown.

The Secretary and Treasurer come to us from Onley, Va., well recommended by W. C. Bromley, the General Manager of the Virginia Exchange, also strongly endorsed by the Secretary of said Exchange. Mr. Cullen has had some four years actual business training in the office of the Virginia Exchange at Onley, Va., and is recommended as being fully competent for the position, a young man that shows good features with bright business prospects.

General Manager, Wm. C. Bromley. We presume every stockholder has met him and from his untiring effort to first go through the County and set forth the object of this Exchange and show the people the possibilities, we have before us put in action and followed by a permanent organization, has won to him many loyal friends whom we feel will stand by him in aiding to make the Exchange a success. Mr. Bromley comes to us with a good name for honesty, integrity, business and a successful manager.

General Inspector, Vandergrift is a resident of Showell, Md., the booming city of the Peninsula. He is the cultivator of a large farm, adept to the growth of vegetables and fruits. A man of good judgment, firm in his actions, has had most of his training from the northern states. When he pronounces a barrel of potatoes good enough for the Crescent brand, we shall expect it to pass in any market.

As all of the local directors have not been elected as permanent members, we will make no mention of same until the meeting is held at Pocomoke City, Md., on Tuesday May 10th., 1904, at 10 a. m., of the officers and directors of the Exchange for the purpose of making arrangements to issue the stock and arrange for business at once. Local inspectors for each section will be named later by the General Board.

Weak lungs should be careful. Coughs and colds are dangerous when. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds and gives strength to the lungs. Mrs. G. E. Fenno, of Marion, Ind., says: "I suffered with a cough until I run down in weight from 140 to 90 lbs. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and re-creed me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by all druggists.

BERLIN.

Miss Hattie Shacklett, after a delightful visit of nearly two weeks at the home of Mrs. Dr. Jno. T. Hammond, left for Washington City and home, Wednesday.

Mr. Geo. E. Hammond, mail clerk on the B. & A., made a business visit and spent several days in Philadelphia this week.

Mrs. Ada Krebs, of Salisbury, is this week a visitor at the home of Mrs. Charles Marshall, on Adams Avenue.

Mrs. Dr. Hammond left Wednesday to spend a month with her son, Dr. Thomas V. Hammond in Washington City.

Miss Florence Cooper and Mrs. Jamison, wife of the Rev. Mr. Jamison, Whaleyville, were guests of Berlin, Wednesday.

Clerk of the Court, Francis Henry Purnell, was in Berlin, Tuesday as usual, the first of May, giving our business community the opportunity of renewing their licenses for the coming year.

Mrs. Calvin Taylor, who left on the noon train Wednesday will spend a night in Philadelphia with friends, and an indefinite visit with relatives in St. Louis. Mr. Taylor will join his wife later in the season, taking in the novelties and attractions of the great fair, provided the extensive grounds should ever become sufficiently dry to accommodate the host of anticipated visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dirickson, residents of New York, arrived on the night train Tuesday and for the present are guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Dirickson on Main Street.

A car load of horses and mules arrived Tuesday and for the present can be seen at Harmonson's stables, back of the Atlantic.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Howard, Tuesday socially entertained the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gantt at tea.

Miss Annie Hanley, sorry to report, is on the sick list this week and under the care of the family physician.

In honor of her cousin, Miss Lizzie Powell, of Pocomoke City, Tuesday evening, Miss Bessie Hanley, at the home of her father, Mr. Thomas Hanley, delightfully entertained a number of her young friends—some nine couples, who made their appearance about eight o'clock, and had a good time generally until near midnight. Gunby's double team, under the supervision of Jake Workman, from some cause balked miserably on their return trip, and no amount of coaxing or gentle persuasion would budge them an inch. About two o'clock the ladies became disgusted and concluded to foot it homeward, leaving Jake, the driver exhausted and sound asleep on the box. The team reaching stable near sunrise next morning. Fortunately the moon gave plenty of light as one of the party remarked afterward.

Miss Alice Parsons, of Parsonsburg is a visitor this week at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Laws, on Broad Street.

Mrs. James Mumford also Mrs. William Bunting, both of Chincoteague Island, paid Mrs. James Bratten a short visit Tuesday and Wednesday.

The election of Mayor and three new City councilmen last Monday was exceedingly quiet and orderly in every respect, though there was not a citizen in the community that did not appreciate the importance of the occasion, and most naturally felt the deepest interest. Having tried Mr. Orlando Harrison for two terms of office previously and knowing his calibre generally, no matter where placed, everyone felt satisfied and looked upon him as the right man for the place and freely conceded the honors. The three new members for City Council chosen were: Messrs. Harry Jarvis, J. D. Quillen and Levin E. Dirickson, the entirely new in harness having yet to prove the quality of mettle made of, the tax payers of the town have full confidence in their ability and willingness to give the trust imposed, a generous share of their attention, using their best judgment in the interest of all parties concerned. If at a later date, before your term of office expires, you should happen to be the recipient of a few gentle and charitable comments, take the HERALD'S advice, don't lose your head—but accept the dose with resignation, and if required turn the other cheek, the cause will justify it and the community applaud.

Miss Nettie Carey who was unfortunately compelled to forego the recent teachers' Institute held in Snow Hill was under treatment for several days at the Baltimore Hospital, receiving the required and necessary treatment for an affliction of the throat, which had proven a source of much trouble. Miss Carey returned to Berlin, Saturday, seemingly, much improved.

Rev. J. Gibson Gantt, Rector of old St. Paul's for the past five years, bade his congregation the final adieu last Sunday and with Mrs. Gantt and the family left Berlin for his new field of duties Thursday morning. We wish our old rector health and happiness in his new home and that the congregation of St. Mary Anne, North East, Cecil County, may have the pleasure of enjoying as many good sermons as we. Mrs. Gantt has our best wishes also.

The entertainment given by the pupils of the Buckingham High School was immensely enjoyed. All join in high praise of the amateurs of our town. Who did not enjoy the antiquated manners of Miss Trader in her remarkable "take off" of Mrs. Oldstyle, especially with her "snuff-box" and "umbrella," the charming costumes of the Misses Massey and Bowen? The sweetness and simplicity of Gertrude Plain, as acted by little Virgie Davis was in marked contrast to the uppish manners of her cousins, the Misses Pride.

JOE, THE WAIF.

A Comedy Drama in Six Acts. Presented By Local Talent At The Opera House.

One of the best, if not the very best play, ever presented by home talent in Delmar, was given last Saturday evening, at the Delmar Opera House for the benefit of the Delmar Cornet Band. As is usual with such things in Delmar, the crowd did not do justice to the occasion, although a neat sum was realized. A play such as this, deserved a much larger crowd. Those who were fortunate enough to attend, enjoyed the show immediately, and displayed much enthusiasm.

The different characters of the drama were well placed, and showed much careful rehearsing and study to portray each part so well. Miss George Langdon, as Joe, the waif, portrayed her part admirably. She was gay when gaiety was called for, and sad when sadness was demanded. It is doubtful if ever the leading role in a play produced by entirely home talent was ever better played in Delmar. Mr. Moran German, as Harry Metcalf, the foreman of a Western mining camp, took the part with an ease and skill of one much older in the acting game. As the hero he was perfection itself, and no better could be asked. Mr. Arthur German took the part of Emanuel Roberts, in a style peculiarly his own, and portrayed the part of an old man in an excellent manner. Miss Jennie Peto, as Mrs. Roberts, a woman scheming to get possession of old man Roberts' money, was very good, and showed this difficult part to have been placed in good hands. Mr. Ray German, as her son, Rudolph, who is also scheming with his mother to obtain possession of the immense wealth supposedly possessed by Mr. Roberts, portrayed the part of an indolent, but rascally son very nicely.

The comedy of the evening was furnished by Miss Lora Blizard as Patsy, and Mr. Harry Ellis as Adonis, negro servants of the Robert's household. They produced rounds of applause and laughter by their comical antics, and were voted by all as being the most comical comers, for the time being, of any in Delmar.

Between acts and intermissions in the play, specialties in the way of singing of popular songs, etc., were introduced. The music for the evening was furnished by the band, every member of which desires to thank the characters of the play for the services so cheerfully rendered in bettering the financial condition of the organization.

Letter To Geo. Hitchner, Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir:—Here's a bully one. Mr. Dooley (not of Chicago), painter, Lancaster, N. H., got the job of painting the Episcopal parsonage. He was used to a pal t, as pure as Devoe, but weak and short measure. Dooley surveyed the job, and said it would take 20 gallons.

Mr. L. F. Moore, our agent, offered to give 10 gallons Devoe. Accepted of course. Eleven gallons did it; the 10 plus one. Mr. Moore isn't painting parsonages on shares this year! Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co. P. S. The L. W. Gunly Co., sells our paint.

CUTICURA

Soap, Ointment and Pills the World's Greatest Skin Cures.

PRICE THE SET $1 Complete Treatment for Every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, letter and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

The grandest testimonial that can be offered the Cuticura remedies is their world-wide sale, due to the personal recommendations of those who have used them. From a small beginning in the simplest form, against prejudice and opposition, against monied hosts, countless rivals, and trade indifference, Cuticura remedies have become the greatest curatives of their time, and, in fact, of all time, for nowhere in the history of medicine is to be found another approaching them in popularity and sale. In every clime and with every people they have met with the same reception. The confines of the earth are the only limits to their growth. They have conquered the world.

SOLD THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per box of 50). Ointment, 25c. Soap, 25c. COWS TRAINED FOR THE TEST

Jerseys at the World's Fair Are Expected to Show That They Are Superior to All Other Breeds.

The herd of Jersey cows assembled at the World's Fair at St. Louis to represent the Jersey breed in the universal fair test has been inspected and has been pronounced in perfect condition and ready to start upon their six months' grind on a day's notice.

W. R. Spann of the Burr Oak Jersey
farm, Dallas, Tex., was the inspector, and he was thorough in his work. He passed a week on the Exposition grounds, and much of the time was spent in and around the Jersey cattle barn, and the condition of each individual of the herd of forty cows was definitely ascertained.

Never was more intelligent and careful treatment lavished on animals. No athlete was ever better trained for a contest requiring the development of speed, skill and endurance than has been this herd of Jerseys. When it is known that this herd is to compete with selected herds of Holsteins, Shorthorns, Brown Swiss and Devons, and the herd making the best score for the production of butter, milk and cheese is to establish the standing of the various breeds, the importance of the cows being in perfect condition may be understood.

For a solid year the Jerseys have been in constant training. Twenty-five cows will participate in the contest. Cows were selected from the best herds in the United States.

Dr. J. J. Richardson, president of the American Jersey Cattle Club, under whose auspices this entry is made, toured Europe and visited the famed Isle of Jersey, where the breed originated. He was seeking the best cows, but returned satisfied that Europe
could show no cows that were better than those bred in America.

Though only twenty-five cows will participate in the test, forty cows were selected. They were assembled at Jerseyville, Ill., a year ago. This is near St. Louis, and the cattle have become acclimated. Last December they were removed to St. Louis. The cows are the property of individual members of the club and are loaned for the term of the test. C. T. Graves, a breeder at Maitland, Mo., was selected as the superintendent to have charge of the cattle, and he has been highly complimented by Dr. Richardson and Inspector Spann for the wonderful fine condition in which he has placed the herd.

A series of model dairy barns have been built for the breeds competing in the test. The barns are octagonal in form, and are so arranged that the cows are in the center and a wide promenade permits visitors to pass around and view the cows as they stand in their stalls.

The milking and feeding are to be done in plain view of the public, and representatives of the various herds will at all times have access to all the barns to see that no sharp practices are indulged in.

The test not only consists in showing the amount of butter, milk and cheese produced, but the cost of production is taken into consideration.
Every ounce of food given each cow is weighed and carefully recorded. When the cows are milked, the milk is conveyed to a model creamery in the Agricultural building, where it is tested and made into butter and cheese and where all records are carefully kept.

The Jersey cattle participated in a similar test at Chicago during the Columbian Exposition and carried off first honors.

Superintendent Graves is sanguine over the result of the present test. He says that the Jerseys have always demonstrated their superiority over all other breeds when placed in competition, and this time they will show to better advantage than ever. Not only is the Jersey milk richer in butter fat
than the milk of any other breed, says Mr. Graves, but it can be produced at a less cost. The Jersey cows are the smallest of the standard breeds, and he asserts that they consume less feed.
They assimilate their food, and it is converted into milk and butter and is not used in building up and sustaining
a large carcass.

"We are going to make all other breeds take to the woods after this test," said Mr. Graves. "A few days ago I was testing some of our Jersey milk, and my hands were all sticky and greasy from the enormous amount of butter fat the milk contained. Mr.
Von Herne, who is in charge of the Holsteins, sent over a quantity of his milk for me to test. Of course, from a commercial standpoint, there was no comparison between the milk, but it was a pleasure to test his milk, for when I got through there was no grease on my hands. After this I will have a bucket of Holstein milk around handy to wash my hands in after testing our own rich Jersey milk."
The test begins May 10 and continues 120 days.

Unique California Map.
A unique exhibit at the World's Fair was prepared by the agricultural department of the University of California. It is a large map, so colored as to show the character of the various soils
of the state, and the extent of the arable
and unutilized sections. In the localities that cannot be cultivated are shown the Sierras, the lava beds and the desert. The map indicates the location of the cultivable portions of the mountains and Mohave plateau and shows the nature of the foothills and valleys of that wonderful state.

Cost of Seeing the World's Fair.
From any point within 300 miles of
St. Louis a person may travel to the World's Fair this year, view the wonders of the Exposition for three days
and expend the same money he would
pay in any other year for train fare
alone. This is an absolute fact.

The Western Passenger Association
has agreed on a ten day excursion rate, 250 miles or more from St. Louis, for one and one-half fare for the round trip.

Like a Fly in Amber.

An Americanized Russian has patented a new process of embalming which consists in casting a solid block of glass around the subject to be preserved, through which the features and outlines of the body will be perfectly visible. As no air can possibly enter, the remains are expected to last indefinitely till some shock destroys the crystal block which incases them like so many flies in amber. The inventor hopes that the relics of great men will be preserved in this way, remaining to aftertime in their habit as they lived, with vast mausoleums in which to place them, entombs to which will be deemed an honor like that of burial in Westminster or Santa Croce.
The mechanical process by which all this is to be made possible and on which the government has issued a patent is quite simple. The remains are first surrounded with a coating of sodium silicate, or water glass, which is allowed to dry. When the water has been sufficiently evaporated the subject is placed in a mold which is to determine the size of the glass block, and molten glass is poured in till it is filled.

The Zebra.

South African native traditions have it that in the long forgotten days the zebra was a domesticated animal and was held in complete subjection by its master, man. In modern times several attempts have been made to train this hardy beast. Experiments at the London zoological gardens indicate that zebras can be readily made serviceable. There are innumerable herds of zebras running wild in South Africa, and if they could be broken to domestic use their subjection would solve a problem which for generations has been a puzzle to the best experts, for the zebras of South Africa are immune from the tsetse fly and the horse sickness which has lately been ravaging Rhodesia and other portions of the continent.

The Schools of Joliet.

Joliet, Ill., with a population of 42-000, is said by the Journal of Education to have eighty acres given up to public school grounds. Six schools stand in grounds of native wood, one with four acres of timber around it, another with five. One school has its peach orchard, where the fruit ripens unmolested. Last year the school sent a basket of its peaches to the state fair and took a premium with it. A school lot of seventeen acres is enough to make the teacher of nature study in a New York public school turn green with envy, but Joliet not only has one,
but another of its schools has a yard
of twenty acres, including a fine grove and a delightful stream. On the public school grounds are 30,000 trees, and every school has its flower garden in the season.

CURIOUS THINGS FROM CHINA

The Most Magnificent Beds Ever Seen
Are Part of the Celestial Empire's World's Fair Exhibit.

The Chinese exhibit at the World's Fair is filled with pleasing surprises.
Some of the most magnificent articles of furniture are a part of this wonderful display. The carving and inlaying of ivory, bone and wood illustrate the marvelous skill of the Chinese.

Models included in this interesting exhibit show the homes and home life of the Chinese, their weddings and funerals, Chinese tea house, restaurant and shop, Chinese weaving and some of the beautiful silks and wearing apparel of the Chinese and their methods of manufacturing them.

One feature of the exhibit is two magnificent Chinese beds, each of which has the appearance of being a small house of great beauty. One is a summer bed, the other for winter. The summer bed is hand carved and inlaid with ivory and bone figures and landscapes exquisitely carved and so skillfully joined as to appear a part of the wood. The bed and furniture are of carved bamboo. The bed consists of an anteroom, with tables, chairs and tea stands, and in an inner room, which is the sleeping apartment, there is a couch with coverings of gauzy silks.

The winter bed is still more elaborate. It consists of three compartments.
The first contains four chairs, a tea tray and a chest of drawers. This is the sitting apartment. The second is the dressing room, and the third is the sleeping apartment, or the couch itself. The furniture is of rosewood inlaid with ivory carving of birds, flowers and trees. The couch is covered with silks of the finest texture and in gaudy colors. The sleeping compartments are lighted with Chinese lanterns of silk hung at the outer entrance, while the light enters through gauze panels, hand painted and in forms of rosewood inlaid with ivory figures.

A table and dish made of highly polished ash, with exquisitely carved bamboo figures inlaid, are shown. The work is so artistically done that each article seems to have been made of one piece of wood.

There is also a large display of Chinese lanterns made of silk, gauze and other light material and some made of beads artistically arranged with glass centers. The silk and gauze are beautifully hand painted.

There are models of some of the great Chinese temples, theaters and arches, showing elaborate carving in wood and ivory and two large elephant tunks exquisitely carved.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY
"ORRINE,"
ABSOLUTELY SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine acts away the stomach lining and stupifies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and raising the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes.
"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. Can be given secretly if desired.

Cure Effect or Money Refunded.

Ask your druggist whom you know what he thinks of ORRINE; he will indorse our statements as truthful in every respect. If ORRINE fails to cure we will refund you every penny paid for it as cheerfully as we look it.

No Sanitarium Treatment or Publicity!
No Absence from home or loss of time!

Mothers, wives and sisters, you cannot cure those who are afflicted with this most terrible of all diseases by your fervent prayers, or eyes red with tears, nor by your hope that they may stop drinking. It can be done only with ORRINE. You have the remedy—will you use it? If you desire to cure without the knowledge of the patient, buy ORRINE No. 1. If the patient desires to be cured of his own free will, buy ORRINE No. 2. Full directions found in each package. Price $1 per box.
We will gladly furnish a treatment free of cost to any physician to demonstrate that ORRINE is a positive specific for drunkenness.

Two severe cases of Ovarian Trouble and two terrible operations avoided. Mrs.
Emmons and Mrs. Coleman each tell how they were saved by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am so pleased with the results obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it.

"I suffered for more than five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks—and saved me from an operation—
all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true, grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—Mrs. LAURA EMMONS, Waiker-ville, Ont.

Another Case of Ovarian Trouble Cured Without an Operation.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For several years I was troubled with ovarian trouble and a painful and inflamed condition, which kept me in bed part of the time. I did so dread a surgical operation.
"I tried different remedies hoping to get better,
but nothing seemed to bring relief until a friend who had been cured of ovarian trouble, through the use of your compound, induced me to try it. I took it faithfully for three months, and at the end of that time was glad to find that I was a well woman. Health is nature's best gift to woman, and if you lose it can have it restored
through Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel that all suffering women should know of this."—Mrs. LAURA BELLE COLE-MAN, Commercial Hotel, Nashville, Tenn.

It is well to remember such letters as above when some druggist tries to get you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; accept no other and you will be glad.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

$5000 REWARD if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above mentioned, which will prove absolute genuineness.

Democratic Primaries.

All Democratic voters residing in Wicomico County are hereby notified that the Democratic Primaries will be held at the several polling places in the several Election Districts of the said county on SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1904...

MONDAY, MAY 23, 1904,

at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of electing four delegates to represent Wicomico County in the Democratic State Convention which meets in Baltimore City on May 28th, 1904...

Democratic State Central Committee for Wicomico County.

PROGRESS ALONG THE LINES.

With the fast following elections, conventions and numerous other things with their attendant agitations, Salisbury has had more or less excitement for the past three or four weeks...

Now, however, there should come a time of rest and tranquillity, except from the large normal business activity.

The liquor question for Wicomico County is settled against license. A new Mayor and new councilmen have been elected to become a part of the governing machinery of the city.

It now behooves all good citizens to see that progress is made the every day watchword in everything that pertains to Salisbury's present and future welfare.

New conditions face the people, new officers are at the helm, and there are strict obligatory duties devolving on each one of us.

The prohibition law for the whole of Wicomico is something new in the history of the county. Such a radical change creates new issues and important conditions.

It is not for our Mayor-elect or Councilmen or the police officers alone to see that the requirements of the new law are lived up to...

but to each citizen there is the duty of rendering all aid possible. That there will be attempts to circumvent the law is quite possible and the first infringement should be made the occasion for a severe punishment.

The temperance people won their fight fairly by a large majority of public sentiment and are entitled to a fair trial.

The building industry (for it has long passed the "boom" stage) in Salisbury was never greater and there are more dollars and hours being spent today in healthy, prosperous buildings than ever before.

Larger questions of political economy are constantly coming up and, as never before, a progressive and broad minded spirit should possess the fast increasing membership of the municipality.

Onward to the greater Salisbury!

RUSSIA UNPREPARED FOR WAR.

It is a mistake to suppose that Russia really wanted war with Japan. The Czar was opposed to it. A strong peace party in St. Petersburg, headed by such prominent far-sighted, patriotic Russians as ex-Minister of Finance Witte and Prince Esper-Ukhtomsky...

projector of the Eastern Chinese Railway, founder of the Russo-Chinese Bank, and author of "Russia's Mission in Asia," has stood out bravely against the jingoism which has forced an unprepared nation into a mighty conflict...

Russia wants an ice-free port on the Pacific; she wants an uninterrupted Pacific coast line; she wants new trade she wants—eventually, perhaps—China. But it is not likely that she really wants these enough to fight for them.

The best, ablest men of Russia know that she is not prepared for war. The Alexieffs and the Pobledonostoffs have tried to convince the Czar that a foreign war would defer a political and social crisis.

The far-seeing counselors, and the rest of the world, can see that war is likely to precipitate such a crisis. With the Flinn smarting under recent and outrages taking no pains to conceal the fact that they are planning a revolution; the Poles only waiting the moment to revenge themselves for centuries of oppression; Siberia crying out for autonomy; a revolt already broken out in the Caucasus, the Jews spreading an insurrectionary propaganda of undying hatred, the finances disordered, every university a center of revolution, millions of ignorant peasants facing almost constant famine...

because of the inadequacy of the empire's economic policy, with the Balkans almost already aflame, and scarcely a friend among the nations of the world, what can Russia hope to gain by a mere war of conquest against a united people with a superior navy, financial stability, three times as many children in the elementary schools, and the sympathy of the civilized world, which believes that the Land of the Rising Sun is fighting to uphold territorial and commercial integrities, not only for itself, but for the whole world?

From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for March.

LATE WAR CABLES FROM THE ORIENT.

An unconfirmed rumor from St. Petersburg through London was that another battle had been fought at Kin Lien Cheng, in which the Japanese were driven back, with the loss of 10,000 men, the Russians losing 7,000. There is nothing to confirm this from other sources.

Another St. Petersburg story is that Russians in Northeastern Korea have fallen upon the Japanese below the Yalu and won a great victory.

Dispatches from several sources indicate that a Japanese fleet encountered the Russian Vladivostok Squadron off Gensan, Korea. Heavy cannonading was heard off the coast there on Monday and Tuesday.

Narrow Streets Will Not Be Named After Him. To the disappointment of hundreds of Salisbury's loyal citizens Mayor Disharoon could not be induced to run again; he acted wisely for himself. Our next Mayor, Mr. C. E. Harper, has got to be a pretty good man if he can induce a good many men in Salisbury at the end of his term that he has acted for the benefit of the city. Mayor Disharoon will leave a record to be proud of; narrow streets will not be named after him, he has never run from duty. Here's success to you, Mayor, in whatever you undertake and if you get a rich bye and bye that you are in need of help to count your money, I've got a few counters right here in my store. DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid, rheumatism and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for anything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Birmingham, N. Y. on every bottle.

THE OCEAN NEWSPAPER.

It gets its entire news service by wireless telegraph.

Each succeeding season sees some addition to the facilities afforded ocean voyagers. Luxurious private suits, grill rooms and children's play rooms have been accepted as common comforts during the past few years, and now comes the most thoroughly up to date of the liner's manifold attractions—the ocean newspaper, which has been made a regular feature of a few of the big transatlantic steamships.

The ocean newspaper has the distinction of being the only publication in the world that receives its entire news service by wireless telegraph. Though it has not yet attained the dignity of a daily, it will just as soon as the development of the wireless system makes it possible to keep up communication with land throughout the voyage. By another season or two at the most copies of the ocean daily will doubtless be delivered at the stateroom door of each passenger every morning, while the big dailies ashore will be printing dispatches dated "On board the Majestic" or "St. Paul or Minneapolis, as the case may be. For the present there are two issues of this novel periodical on each round voyage, published the day before reaching land on either side of the Atlantic.

The first permanent ocean newspaper was brought out on the steamship Philadelphia under the title of the Marconi Bulletin, which has since been changed to the American Line News. The initial number appeared in April last, and though it was not imposing proportions, consisting of only four small pages, it contained a number of terse paragraphs giving the passengers their first news of the British reversion to Somaland, the marriage of W. K. Vanderbilt and other matters of current interest.

The telegraph matter that appears in the columns of the Atlantic newspaper is supplied by the principal news agencies on either side of the ocean and is transmitted to eastbound steamers by the Marconi station at the Lizard and to westbound vessels by the one at Nantucket. It is taken down and written out by the Marconi operator on board and edited by the purser, who adds what might be called the local department, any interesting news items about the ship and her voyage. Then the whole paper is set up and printed by the ship's printer so as to be distributed to the passengers about twenty-four hours before they land.

From the eagerness with which the passengers scan the brief dispatches set forth through the wireless press it is evident that the ocean going newspaper is a decided success and is highly appreciated by its readers, even though its circulation is somewhat limited. Already its field has been extended to the other ships of the Philadelphia line—the New York, St. Louis and the St. Paul—and to the Free land, Kroonland, Zealand and Vanderland of the Red Star line.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's For One Thing Only And Salisbury Is Learning This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They're for sick kidneys.

Their cure backache, every kidney ailment. Here is evidence to prove it.

James H. Bell, inspector of the B. & O. R. R., residing at 105 North Stricker Street, Baltimore, says: "For some months past, I have been suffering from severe pain in the small of my back, and at times could hardly get along; have tried kidney medicines and lotions, but to no effect. Sometime during last month I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and gave them a trial. I paid no attention to them for a few days when the pain in my back became so severe, and I thought of them and commenced to take them according to directions, with the result, both astonishing and gratifying, for before taking the complete box, I was completely freed from the trouble."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had right here in Salisbury. Call at White & Leonard's Drug Store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

An Open Letter.

From the Champion, S. C. News—Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand sent some of us a dose, and we at once felt the effect. I procured a bottle and before long the same contents were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

The correspondent from Delmar, said last week that there was always two sides to a question. I think he or she would better apply the other side to the remark made further down the items, that "Many a man would be independently rich if he did not have a wife to run things." The other side of that would be that "Many a man would be independently rich if they would allow their wives to run things for them or teach them how. If the writer is a gentleman I don't suppose he has a wife and doesn't need any, if it is a woman she has a poor opinion of woman's management, of course we all know there are exceptions to all rules, and I suppose this writer just had reference to the exceptions."

The program for this evening included the delivery of the mantle oration, class history, class prophecy, president's address, treasurer's report, etc., followed by the class song composed by Mr. H. C. Fools.

Thursday evening brought the real school Commencement and again a large audience assembled, and were highly entertained with delightful musical selections and noteworthy literary productions of the class of 1904.

No wonder our esteemed principal looked proud of the graduates. Their essays were of great excellence and the absence of long drawn out papers and late hours, both nights was favorably commented on. President Cain, of Washington College, who delivered the address to the class, won their attention from the start, and created impressions of wholesome thought

AIR: "BONNIE, SWEET BESSIE" Harmonized by Professor W. T. DASHIELL.
Words by Mr. HERBERT C. FOOLS.

An old school building there stands on the hill,
A beacon that beckoned us on at its will,
And called us together within its wide walls,
To teach us its lessons of virtue to all—
May time and eternity this emblem appear,
And its grand flag of freedom still float in the air,
And the dear old teachers, so kind and true,
Will rise to renown by the good works they do.

To this High School with thoughts sweet but sad,
As they rush to the ether and tear on its bank,
With the hush approaching on every flank,
We will bid farewell then tonight, for a while,
And even though distant for many a mile
Will ever remember this building so old,
And ever keep sacred the green and gold.

And whether in valley, on hill or in glade,
Where I rest, wherever I may rest,
By deep moonlight, or a white catarrh's hour,
While the bird lands in its nest,
I do not care,
And cast his eye earthward on friend and foe,
And else clies his talons for regions below,
Let us ever be ready to salt our bread,
Although skies be cloudy and billows be steep.

Let Carpe Diem be our motto through life,
"Twit lead to victory and guide us through strife, Twit change cares to gladness, make pains
ure from pain,
And sing a sweet song from a lily's refrain,
Clouds fade away, gaily by sunshining day,
When we follow correctly our proverbial course,
So let us keep a way wherever we go,
On the walls of our memory this worthy motto.

Let the thought of our school days prove ever to be
As they rush through our minds while in depression,
Like a fountain that waters the woodland so wild,
And brings forth the fruits for the ruddy lipped child,
And as the child gathers the berries each day,
To satisfy hunger when she comes to the tree,
So may we gather from our fruitful past the fruits that will feed our sad memory.

CALL TO FARMERS

And Business Men To Come To The Court House In Salisbury Saturday, May 21 For The Purpose Of Forming A Produce Exchange.

The directors of the Peninsula Exchange of Maryland, recently organized by the farmers of Worcester County will hold a meeting in Salisbury next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

It is very much desired by our Worcester friends that some action be taken by our farmers looking toward the consolidation of the agricultural interests of this county by uniting with them.

A similar effort in Somerset County is being made and with the three counties united a very strong Exchange will result, which in its effect upon the marketing of farm products can not help being beneficial.

No doubt many of our farmers are aware of the enormous benefits the farmers of Accomac and Northampton Counties, Va., have derived from their Exchange, which has been in operation there during the last four years.

We have been requested to call a meeting of farmers and business men to be held Saturday, May 21st, at 3 o'clock in Court House. Similar meetings at the various shipping points in this and Somerset County are being arranged and considerable interest is manifested.

Some of the officials of the Worcester Exchange will be present to explain the methods of the Exchange.

L. P. Ayres Ships Fish To Market By Sea.

Mr. Lambert P. Ayres, one of Berlin's enterprising and progressive fishermen, in connection with Mr. Jno. Hagan, having ponds on the Virginia coast as well as Ocean City, loaded and shipped from their Chincoteague plant last week a schooner load of choice fish to New York, over 20,000 lbs. The vessel halted opposite Ocean City, where she was met by boats containing ice, which Mr. Hagan held in readiness to transfer at sea, packing the fish which enabled the cargo to proceed in safety, reaching the market in prime condition, bringing good prices. The venture was a new wrinkle for this part of the country and a complete success. Mr. Ayres met the vessel in New York on her arrival and had no difficulty in their disposal. The high rates of Railroad charges will naturally cause an extensive shipper to seek other outlets and protect himself whenever the opportunity offers. The run of all kinds of fish for the past few weeks has been exceptionally heavy, more plentiful than for years past, consequently those in the trade are not only delighted but have cause to be thankful.

The Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company will sell round trip tickets from all stations on Railway Division, Ocean City to Calborne, Md., inclusive, daily during the St. Louis Fair, via Baltimore, as follows: Season Excursion tickets, $37.20; 60 Day Excursion tickets, $31.00; 15 Day Excursion tickets, $25.25. Wicomico Wins The Honors.

Mr. Levin I. Insley, of Bivalve won the gold medal prize at McDowell Hall, St. John's College, in the Sixth Annual contest of the oratorical Association of Maryland College held at Annapolis. The subject of Mr. Insley's oration was, "America's Lesson to Mankind." The Annapolis Capital says:—"It was a masterpiece. The subject matter was a gem of the richest cut, which glistened and sparkled in the light of thought and radiance of mental powers, which the speaker had called forth in the development of his theme. Certainly no young man ever handled so weighty a subject, so full of 'lessons to mankind' as did Mr. Insley. As a representative of Western Maryland College he honors and adorns that institution which should be proud of such a student."

ROYAL Baking Powder

Makes the food more wholesome, and more nutritious to both brain and muscle.

I have given the Training Table to the Cornell University for five years very satisfactorily, and am certain that much of the success has depended upon the quality of articles used. In baking powder, I use the Royal, for it is undoubtedly the best. I have occasionally given others a trial, and have demonstrated to my satisfaction that there is but one always reliable, always making perfect, delicious and wholesome food,—The Old Reliable "Royal."

Capt. Wilson and his aid Jim were the responsible agents during the family's absence.

In honor of his brother, Mr. Davis Kenly, Hagerstown, Md., Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Kenly, of Malvern Farm invited for dinner, and pleasantly en- tertained Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Edward Henry, Mr. John Selby Purnell and Gordon A. Marshall, Sunday. Mr. Davis Kenly returned Monday on the one o'clock train going north.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Godfrey, also Miss Jennie, after making their home in Baltimore since last Novem- ber, have returned and are now at Ingleside, near town for the summer. Miss Jennie, their daughter, who un- fortunately struck a large splinter through shoe and foot two months ago and still disabled is improving. Dr. Chambers, of Baltimore, performed two operations before obtaining satisfac- tory results.

Mr. James E. Wise, one of the old patriachs of Berlin, in his 88th year, accompanied his daughter, Mrs. George Decator, last week home, also visiting another daughter, Mrs. John Brittingham, near Kellar, Va., for a week. Among the first greetings, Mr. Wise received, was extended by another of our youthful citizens, Mr. Harry Ayres, who will be 88 next November. Neither of these young gent's are yet on the shelf by any means.

Mr. Wm. G. Smith, buyer, broker, wholesale shipper generally will be for several days a guest of the Atlan- tic. Mr. Smith, who is well known all along the Maryland and Virginia line halls from and is a resident of Cape Charles, Va.

Mr. Salter will open a studio at the Gables, Ocean City, where he will be prepared to give elementary and ad- vanced instructions. Mr. Salter makes a specialty of teaching the works of old masters, as well as the modern classics. His method of imparting technique to his pupils is quite origi- nal. He is opposed to the long, tedious course of Cassatt, Clement and other technicians through which the pupil is ordinarily required to pass; considering the works of such names as Bach, Beethoven, Handel, etc., amply sufficient for technical purposes, and at the same time furnishing the pupil additional numbers for his repertoire. Mr. Salter's classes, both at Ocean City and Berlin, are increas- ing all the time, and his style much admired.

A recital by Miss Cloud, the talent- ed elocutionist, who is spending some time in Berlin, as the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. H. Bancroft, will be given in the Assembly room of the Buckingham High School, on Wednes- day evening, May 18th. Miss Cloud needs no introduction to the people of Berlin, and it is hoped that a large audience will greet her. Tickets of admission will be 25 cents for adults, and children under twelve, fifteen cents. The proceeds, after expenses are paid, will be for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church improvement fund.

The recital will be interspersed with instrumental and vocal music, also exercises by the school children. Doors open at 7.30 p. m.

An innovation and new feature of the members of Berlin's board of City Council, in honor of our third term Mayor, Orlando Harrison, was a ban- quet given by the board of old and new members at the Harmonson hos- telry, Monday night, at half past ten, amidst the strains of the very latest selections, Bennetts band, violin, bass viol and harp, under the direction of Douglas Ford, Alexandria, Va., Joseph Anderson, Louisville, Ky., and William Reese, Norfolk, Va. The tables laden with beautiful flowers and dressed with candelabras and cut glass, with a menu card of little neck clams on the shell, diamond back terrapin, which needs no com- ment from an Eastern Shoreman, chicken salad, deliciously dressed, accompanied by the never forsaken oyster, was a feast fit for the gods and no connoisseur could take exception. Cake, cream and coffee were an after consideration and the means of caus- ing somewhat of a quietude after the general merriment previously existing all along the lines. "Tis with regret that I am compelled to neglect farther this portion of the evening's luxurious enjoyment, but also feel it my duty to make you better acquainted with our town protectors for the coming term.

Anderson, who is a successful dealer in the carriage, harness, machine business, also fertiliz- ers, Thomas S. Hammond, a most reliable dealer and manufacturer of boots and shoes, David J. THE UNIVERSAL EXPOSITION

The Achievements of Individuals and Nations Faithfully Recorded by This Encyclopedia of Society.

By FREDERICK J. V. SKIFF, Director of Exhibits, World's Fair. "The wisdom of all ages is none too great for the world's work." In this single salient sentence, uttered in his famous address at Buffalo in September, 1901, President McKinley de- scribed the object and the result of expositions.

A modern universal exposition is a collection of the wisdom and achieve- ments of the world, for the inspection of the world, for the study of its ex- perts, by which they may make com- parisons and deductions and develop plans for future improvements and progress. Such a universal exposition might well be called an encyclopedia of society. It constitutes a classified, compact, indexed compendium of the achievements and ideas of society in all phases of its activity, extending to the most material as well as the most refined. It offers illustrations covering the full field of social performance, from the production of the shoes on our feet and the pavement beneath them to a presentation of the rarest and most delicate creations of the brains and hands of men in what are called the fine arts of civilization.

The Universal Exposition in St. Louis in 1904 will be such a social encyclo- pedia in the most comprehensive and accurate sense. It will give to the world in revised and complete details "a living picture of the artistic and in- dustrial development at which man- kind has arrived" and will actually provide "a new starting point from which all men may direct future exer- tions." It will present for the inspec- tion of specialists all lines of indus- trial and social endeavor and for the public an assembly of the best which the world has done and has to show in industry, art and science, and what is very important, it will offer these achievements of society, these trophies of civilization, in a highly selected, ac- curately classified array.

The creators of the St. Louis Ex- position have had the experience of all previous great expositions by which to plan and effect its high organization. The continuous and repeated burden of the message of experience handed down by all expositions has been more perfect, more effective classification and arrangement of exhibits.

The classification of the St. Louis Exposition has been prepared to pre- sent a sequential synopsis of the de- velopments that have marked man's progress. On its bases will be as- sembled the most highly organized ex- position the world has yet seen.

The St. Louis classification is divided into 16 departments, 144 groups and 807 classes. These grand departments in their order will record what man has accomplished at this time with his facilities, industry and skill and the natural resources at his command in the environment in which he has been placed.

At the head of the Exposition clas- sification has been placed Education, through which man enters social life. Second comes Art, showing the condi- tion of his culture and development. Liberal Arts and Applied Sciences are placed third, to indicate the result of his education and culture, illustrate his tastes and demonstrate his inventive genius, scientific attainment and artistic expression. These three depart- ments equip him for the battle and prepare him for the enjoyments of life.

The raw material departments, Agri- culture, Horticulture, Mining and Fore- stry, show how man conserves the forces of nature to his uses. The De- partment of Manufactures will show what he has done with them; the Department of Machinery the tools he has used. The Department of Trans- portation will show how he overcomes distances and secures access to all parts of the world. The Department of Electricity will indicate the great forces he has discovered and utilized to convey power and intelligence. And so through the several departments to Anthropology, in which man studies man; and to Social Economy, which will illustrate the development of the human race, how it has overcome the difficulties of civilization and solved problems in which society is involved.

Last is placed physical culture, in which man, his intelligence having reached the supreme point, is able to treat himself as an animal, realizing that his intellectual and moral consti- tutions require a sound physical body to prompt them to the proper perfor- mance of their function.

Education is the keynote of the Universal Exposition of 1904. Each de- partment of the world's labor and de- velopment will be represented at St. Louis, classified and installed in such manner that all engaged or interested in such branch of activity may come and see, examine, study and go away advised. Each of the separate sections of the Exposition will be an equivalent of—or, rather, will be in actuality a comprehensive and most effective ob- ject lesson in the line of industrial and social achievement and progress which it presents.

Footwork on the Piano. Clifton Bingham, the author of "In Old Madrid," is not himself a musician, but his ear is delicate and sensitive, and nothing annoys him more than to hear bad singing or bad playing. He was "sitting" last month a cousin of his in London, and this cousin has a son, a boy of twelve or thirteen, who practices on the piano every morning. The muscular lad, banging false notes from the instrument with tremendous vigor, tried Mr. Bingham out a little. "What on earth are you playing there, Jimmy?" the song writer called from the next room one morning. "An exercise from 'First Steps in Music,'" the boy answered.

"I knew you were playing with your feet," said Mr. Bingham, "but would you mind stepping a little lighter 'on the keys'?"

Significant Indifference. It has been announced in a Peterbor- ough diocesan magazine that the Bish- op of Jeune memorial prize of £50 for the best essay on "The Maintenance of the Protestant Simplicity of the Public Worship of the Church of England," treated with special reference to "the use of incense in divine service," has been awarded to the Rev. G. W. Jen- kins, curate of Market Harboro. It is added that Mr. Jenkins' essay was the only one sent in.

It need not be a worse essay for that, though the fact somewhat detracts from the kudos of the achievement. But what an edifying spectacle it is to see the sum of £50 offered in the pre- sent day as a prize for an essay on a subject which attracts so little interest that only one cleric complies.—London Times.

Human X Rays. The latest discovery, X rays, sounds less mysterious than X rays, and in- deed they are more human. But as hu- manity is the greatest mystery of crea- tion so X rays are the greatest mys- tery of radiation. They are, in a word, human rays—rays thrown off by the muscular and the nervous activity of our own corruptible bodies. At present we are asked to believe that if a man expose his naked chest to a screen of calcium sulphide something of the same kind of bombardment will be witnessed there as is the case with radium—that that is to say, particles of matter are continually being thrown off by the human frame, and these par- ticles of matter become "visible" on a phosphorescent screen.—London Mail.

Logical Answer. After the Hon. Cave Johnson had served his long and brilliant career in congress and had retired to the quiet of private life, he once stepped into the office of his nephew, Robert John- son, then a young lawyer of much promise, and finding the young man engaged in writing with a gold pen had occasion to remark upon the ex- travagance of the rising generation. "Why is it," he asked, "that every young man now has his gold pen, while those of my day were content to use their goose quills?" "I suppose," replied Robert, in the most innocent manner possible, "it is because there were more geese when you were a young man."—Boston Post.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroy- ing the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by build- ing up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprie- tors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. KICK AND SCREAM Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema. Could Not Hold Her. She Tore Her Face and Arms. Cuticura Saved Her Life, So Mother Says.

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good. In fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuti- cura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humor left. In fact, she would tell me that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise them to give Cuticura a fair trial."—MRS. G. A. CONRAD, Lis- bon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1903.

Five years later, viz., Feb. 23, 1903, Mrs. Conrad writes: "It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been per- manent as it is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since, and I have advised a lot of friends to use the Cuticura Remedies in all diseases of the skin. Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tormented babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure and purer of eczema, is to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, per- manent and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors, eczemas, rashes and irritations.

Put the food into a diseased stomach like putting money in a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied or- gans of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weak and the blood im- poverished.

The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Dis- coverer, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or dis- eased condition of the stomach.

Our Peerless Gretchen Corsets

Some women stop at an expense in the selection of material and trim- mings for a new gown, but hesitate to pay the prices that have to be given for corsets of the very best sort. Yet the success of a new gown depends very largely upon the shape and fit of the corset over which it is fitted. We do not hesitate to say that the corset which most nearly approaches perfection, not only in its line, but in the workmanship, is our own peer- less Gretchen; and it is a fact that many of the best modistes in Baltimore and elsewhere are now unwilling to fit a fine costume over any other cor- set. The remarkable success of the Gretchen—and it has easily won first place among corsets—is based entirely on its merit.

Our Gretchen is the corset that 'feels as though one had no corset on.' Comfort is combined with the utmost grace. Yet the Gretchen brings out the better lines of one's figure most beautifully. No woman who has ever worn a Gretchen is ever quite satisfied with any other make; and our spring stock contains a model for every figure. Gretchen Corsets are priced from $2.50 to $7.50.

A LAW TO PREVENT HOME MADE HAIR CUTS.

Hereafter, when you sit in a barber's chair to get shaved, get your hair cut or get your head reduced in size an inch or so, you'll have no difficulty in telling the standing of the barber who "SCRAPES" your acquaintance. In a few days the Board of Barber Examiners of the State of Maryland will meet to register every barber in the State. This board is composed of men who are supposed to be able to distinguish a barber's itch for a tip, from a close shave, or to tell how to extract hair without pain, the president himself being able to take out whole hunks at a time.

They are supposed to teach the barbers several new languages, so that hereafter you can have your barber converse with you in any old language. They are going to teach the barbers how to work their customers out of a shine, shampoo and a hair dye without startling him and they expect to have a law passed very soon to prevent a man shaving himself and another law to prevent a boy appearing on the street wearing a home-made hair cut. There will hereafter be but one apprentice allowed to every ten barbers, and he will be compelled to put up a sign telling that he only gets in by a close shave. Speaking of barbers, haven't you got some little shavers at home that need some new clothes for this spring and summer? Haven't you got a boy or two that you ought to fix up better so they'd not be ashamed to go to Sunday School? It costs so little to make a boy happy and presentable. Knee pants suits, hundreds and hundreds of them with double breasted coats for boys 8 to 16 years from $2 to $6.50. Blue Serge Suits of fine pure worsteds $2.50. Solid Cassimere Suits and nobby Home Spun Suits for children $3, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $5. Mothers, Mothers, if you want suits for little shavers try

Cooling Off.

The man who would sit on a cake of ice to cool off would be considered crazy. Yet it is a very common thing for a person heated by exercise to stand in a cool draught, just to cool off. This is the beginning of many a cough which ultimately involves the bronchial tract and the lungs.

For coughs in any stage there is no remedy so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures deep-seated, obstinate coughs, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs, and like conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate in consumption.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good."

Try for Health

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie on my back nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore.

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—Kindness and consideration for all of God's creatures is the preacher's theme, and he pleads that man should value the affection of the dumb creature no less than he should respect its rights, since divine wisdom has placed it in his care. The text is Deuteronomy xxv, 4, "Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn."

This is the age of machinery. This is the time when man is not limited in his operations to the work of his two hands, but with his little finger can wield a lever which has the strength of a thousand hands; when, instead of his being content with seeing only such things as his eyes perceive, he calls to his aid the telescope and the microscope that multiply his power of vision a thousandfold.

The old fashioned spinning wheel has been developed into the mighty Belfast linen mills. The old fashioned scythe has evolved into the swift moving machine, which goes singing through the harvest fields. The old fashioned praetor's schooner has long since given place to the tireless vessel of the lightning express, which never stops by day or by night except to take a thrifty moment to take a drink. The old fashioned messenger, who on horseback used to carry back to a king the news of a battle won, has been superseded by the telegraph wires and the electric cables, which in almost an instant can put continents within speaking distance and have put the islands of the seas in communication with the continent.

Such were the thrashing floors of the ancients. Now, as Moses went in and out of the country he saw a great many of these thrashing floors. Furthermore, he saw that among their owners there were a great many mean men in those days, as there are in our own days. He saw that these mean men nearly always first showed their meanness to their beasts. They not only overworked their oxen, but they underfed them. Their meanness was most emphatically demonstrated when thrashing. Fearing lest their hard worked oxen might react down and pick up a mouthful of grain to eat, these mean farmers would muzzle their beasts so that the hungry animals could see the food and yet not eat any. Now, Moses says in a practical way: "These men must be taught to be merciful to their beasts. I have made a law requiring them to obey God and be just in their dealings with their neighbors. Now I will make another law requiring them to be liberal in their provision for the animals which work for them."

Moses was the first great statesman that I know of who recognized the rights of dumb animals. It is a significant fact that in this early code of laws he should have given legal rights to animals as well as to men and women. It was a sound and righteous course, and I am glad to remember that we, too, have not only laws to prevent the ill usage of animals, but also in the humane society an organization to see that those laws are enforced. I want to show you this morning why every Christian should be in touch with that society and that its principles should be applied to all classes and all ages. There is no reason why the admonition should be limited to the farmer. The boy should be taught to be good to his pet dogs and squirrels; the druggist should be compelled to lighten the load, if his horse is too weak to draw it; the blackman should be required to blanket his steed shivering in the chill blasts of winter; the sportsman should be prohibited shooting the mother bird in nesting time. I would try to show that the Christ who was born amid the howling of the cattle and the bleating of the sheep and the neighing of the horses, whooping for their souls in today's friend and protector of the dumb brutes as well as of our fellow men.

Crusading Degrades. The Humane Society of America should be accounted one of the best of societies. Its work has a deeper and a wider significance than some of us may have heretofore supposed. The evil of cruelty to animals does not end with the inflicting of pain and injustice on the dumb brute. But as the small thorns tumor, nestling under the fair skin, if let alone, may reach out its fatal roils toward the heart, so the evils of cruelty against dumb animals may at last reach out for the heart of man itself. Injustice against the dumb brute inevitably paves the way for injustice against the dumb brute's master. If a boy delights to torture a dog or a cat or a mouse, he will surely come a time when that boy, grown into a man, will delight in torturing his fellow beings.

A man's nature is degraded by indulging in cruelty to animals. He loses his manliness and acquires the nature of a brute. He undergoes in his lifetime the metamorphosis that the centaurs believe he suffers after death. In the far east there is a popular belief held by multitudes: It is a belief in the transmigration of souls. This means, in popular interpretation, that after a man dies his soul passes into the body of a dog or a cat or a horse or a lion and so lives on through the coming ages. If he is a mean man then he becomes a mean beast like a jackal or a hyena, if a good man then his soul takes upon itself the form of a noble beast; but though in Christianized America we do not believe in the transmigration of souls we may see around us an analogous phenomenon.

When a man abuses a dumb brute he is not punished by having his soul at death pass into the body of a jackal, but he takes the character of those cruel, bestial four legged scavengers of the desert, and becomes one of them in his nature. Every time the old Mexican skinned a lamb alive, thinking that thereby the meat was made the sweeter, he destroyed that moral sensitiveness which enabled him to distinguish between right and wrong. Every time a boy transfixes a fly with a pin and then laughs to see it wriggle and squirm in its death agony that boy is fitting himself to become a monster, a murderer and a destroyer of men. Nero, the Roman demon, became the inhuman monster he was by first, as a boy, learning to take pleasure in the sufferings of his nursery pets. Every man takes upon himself the heart of a savage animal when he abuses the helpless dumb brutes that God gave to him as dependents.

Case of Moral Degradation. What is today one of the chief causes of the moral and spiritual as well as the temporal degeneracy of Spain? It is without doubt due to the bestial and brutish tendencies of the merciless bullfight. When on the Sunday following Easter and on subsequent Sundays the 11,000 spectators gather about the arena of Seville or the 12,500 watch the arena of Madrid and the 17,000 encircle the arena of Valencia, they are glorifying in the vice which has been the moral and spiritual death of their country. These Spanish bullfights always take place on Sunday because they are held to be the sacred national game. A famous American traveler tells us that at each bullfight between six and eight of the fiercest kind of bulls and from twenty to forty horses are killed. The waving of the red mantle, the shooting of the darts, the arena soaked with blood, the screams of the dying horses dragging themselves around, sometimes with the entrails in full view of the spectators; the mad and furious charge of the enraged bulls, combine to make a scene of horror indescribable and one which it is impossible for the civilized American to fully grasp. When the famous Francisco Romero de Runda taught the Spanish people how to scientifically abuse and madden and torture to death a four legged brute he made it possible for the people themselves, by looking upon such scenes of horror, to become worse than brutes. No human being can be unmerciful to the best without himself first while growing merciful in his dealings with his fellow men.

Justice For the Brute. The Humane Society of America demands justice for the dumb brute because the equine laborer is always worthy of his hire. The horse has just as much right to his oats as the farmer has to his wheat. The ox has just as much right to his hay as the owner of the thrashing floor has to his loaf of bread after it is baked. The robin that sings in our cherry tree has a right to his living as well as the little child that eats at our dining table. In the great economy of nature every creature was created for a purpose, and if that creature fulfills a good purpose then and I should try to make its life happy, as that creature is trying to make ours.

Did you ever stop to think how much you and I are indebted to all those four footed beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the air? Peter saw in vision let down from the heavens in a great sheet when he lodged with Simon the tanner? The horse? How many of our burdens he has carried! How many happy times we have had when being drawn by him over the country roads? In how many scenes of merry-making has he been a witness? He has come to our help. The birds? Yes, they, too, are worthy of their hire. They are our woodland prima donnas, our songsters and songstresses, that make the day, as well as the night, vocal with music. The fowls of the barnyard and the cattle of the fields, they, too, are worthy of their hire. The horse and muscle and brain of man come from their flesh. Even the humblest creatures are sometimes of great value to man.

When the May baby and the June baby have got well acquainted they exchanged confidences. "My milk comes from a certified cow," said the May baby. "So does mine," said the June baby. "It is milked by a man in a white suit, with sterilized hands, through absorbent cotton, and kept at a temperature of 45 degrees." "So is mine." "It is brought to me in a prophylactic wagon drawn by modified horses." "So is mine." "I never saw a thunder do any good except how in thunder do you manage to be so fat and well?" The June baby winked slyly. "I chew old paper and the corners of the rag and anything I can find that is dirty, and in that way I manage to maintain the bacterial balance which is essential to health," he said, chuckling.

The May baby laughed long and loud. "So do I," said he. "I never heard the gookling, but they assigned to it only the usual fantastic significance. It was just as well—Cincinnati Commercial." "CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of." DR. FENNER'S KIDNEY and Backache CURE. All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs, Rheumatism, Backache, Gravel, Dropsy, Female Troubles, etc.

But, lastly we should be kind and gentle and loving toward the dumb brutes because God loves them, and what God loves we should not despise. I used to think that God created this world for man. I used to think that all other worlds were merely empty, burned out worlds in the moon. I used to think that the other world was not worth the decorating and upholstering because man was not there. But now I believe all worlds are created as our own world was created because God loves the beautiful and has declared that everything he created in the universe was good. Yes, God "hath made everything beautiful in his time." In his eyes the trout springling out of the brook and sportively catching it for mere wanton sport to let it rot upon the bank. God tuned the throat of the nightingale and the lark to sing after the twilight; and in God's sight their music is sweet. As our Father loves the birds we should not think it silly to throw a few crumbs into the snow bank for the snowbirds which have been caught in the blizzard, nor to let a few feathers catch it for mere wanton sport to let it rot upon the bank. God tuned the throat of the nightingale and the lark to sing after the twilight; and in God's sight their music is sweet. As our Father loves the birds we should not think it silly to throw a few crumbs into the snow bank for the snowbirds which have been caught in the blizzard, nor to let a few feathers catch it for mere wanton sport to let it rot upon the bank.

God loves the lambs. He made the sheep's gentleness the symbol of a divine gentleness. Christ was led as a sheep dumb before his shears, and as a lamb at the slaughter he opened not his mouth. God made the horse and saw that he was good. On that great day of the triumph of righteousness over sin Jesus, the eternal conqueror, shall come riding down the heavenly heights upon the white charger of victory. Oh, my friends, if God created the beasts of the fields and the birds of the air and the fish of the seas and saw they were good we should be kind and gentle and loving toward them all! From the dumb creatures as well as from the sweet voices of the woods we may learn some of the best lessons of Christian love.

God bless the Humane Society of America! God bless all those men and women who are taking off the cruel collars galling the necks of the horses suffering with sores and unbiting horses that are hobbling along on decayed feet! God bless the Christlike movement which makes men treat their dogs at least as kindly as they would treat their human enemies! God bless all movements that would respect the inalienable rights of the sheep and the horses and cattle which stood about the manger on the night that Jesus was born! God bless all those who would rationally and with Christian feeling translate to the human heart the commandment of my text which says, "Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn." Both Learned Their Lessons. When Mr. George Roberts was president of the Pennsylvania railroad, says the New York Times, he had an experience with a train conductor in which each learned a lesson. The conductor, who knew Mr. Roberts, walked by him with a nod and without calling for his ticket. "Here, conductor!" said the president sharply. "You have not looked at my pass." "But I know who you are," said the conductor. "That has nothing to do with it," replied the president. "I might be traveling without it. I am entitled to ride free only when I have the evidence of my identity." He spoke sharply, thinking he was giving the conductor a fine lesson in duty. "Ticket, please!" said the conductor sharply, nettled at the chiding. "That's right," said the president and began to feel in his pockets for his pass. He went through pocket after pocket in a vain search, while the conductor stood looking grimly on. "Come, come!" said the conductor. "If you haven't a ticket, sir, you must pay your fare." President Roberts made a last hasty examination and then, taking a five dollar bill from his wallet, paid his fare from Philadelphia to New York, and the incident was closed. He had left his pass in his office.

Justice For the Brute. The Humane Society of America demands justice for the dumb brute because the equine laborer is always worthy of his hire. The horse has just as much right to his oats as the farmer has to his wheat. The ox has just as much right to his hay as the owner of the thrashing floor has to his loaf of bread after it is baked. The robin that sings in our cherry tree has a right to his living as well as the little child that eats at our dining table. In the great economy of nature every creature was created for a purpose, and if that creature fulfills a good purpose then and I should try to make its life happy, as that creature is trying to make ours.

Did you ever stop to think how much you and I are indebted to all those four footed beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the air? Peter saw in vision let down from the heavens in a great sheet when he lodged with Simon the tanner? The horse? How many of our burdens he has carried! How many happy times we have had when being drawn by him over the country roads? In how many scenes of merry-making has he been a witness? He has come to our help. The birds? Yes, they, too, are worthy of their hire. They are our woodland prima donnas, our songsters and songstresses, that make the day, as well as the night, vocal with music. The fowls of the barnyard and the cattle of the fields, they, too, are worthy of their hire. The horse and muscle and brain of man come from their flesh. Even the humblest creatures are sometimes of great value to man.

CHURCH SANITATION. Necessity For Flooding the Buildings With Fresh Air.

After every church service church windows and doors should be thrown wide open and the pure, fresh outdoor air allowed to sweep through and through the building, thoroughly cleansing it of the poisonous air and filling it with pure oxygen.

A church may become a very death-trap for a congregation if it is not properly ventilated. The air becomes vitiated and filled with the carbonic acid gas breathed out by the many people. Then the congregation goes home, the church is closed and the impure and polluted air is allowed to remain in the church throughout the week.

The next time the people assemble they must rebreathe this same old dead air. If it is in the winter time the air has been heated, making it that much worse. The windows are all closed. The people come in from the outdoor air and sit down to breathe this stuffy atmosphere. They become drowsy and fidgety and nervous. Their heads begin to ache. They don't know what is the matter with them. They never think of opening a window and letting in some fresh air.

When they go out into the winter air again they take cold. They have tonsillitis, bronchitis, pneumonia, and they lay the foundation for consumption—all because the church had not been ventilated.

If you go to church or have anything to do with a church let your voice be heard in this matter. Insist upon it that the church be aired thoroughly after every service and that during every service there be some means of ventilation provided. If you are a preacher, preach to your people the gospel of fresh air. Provide them with air, and they will not go to sleep while you are talking. Drive home to them the sin of polluting their lungs with poisonous air. Impress upon them the sacredness of the body and the harmfulness of contaminating it with the unclean air of an unventilated church.

See that your church is swept and cleaned and dusted, that the life giving oxygen is allowed to play through every corner of it, that the health and comfort of the congregation are assured. This will constitute a more lasting benefit than all the prayer and song service that could be uttered in a close, stuffy, unventilated room.—Medical Talk.

THE MATTER OF AGE. Men Are Often as Sensitive as Women on the Subject. The National Academy of Design recently awarded a prize to a woman in a competition limited to artists not over a certain age.

It is a fact that almost all women more than twenty years old and many men over forty are sensitive on the subject of age, says the Washington Times, but few of them could give any explanation of their feeling that would not be puerile.

Why should it be unpleasant to have attention drawn to one's age when one is neither very young nor very old? It is not unpleasant to have attention drawn to the color of one's hair unless the color be artificial or indicative of that same reprehensible lapse of time which constitutes age.

COLUMBIA.

After spring has been for sometime displaying beautiful green fields, trees with their foliage returning, and birds with their cheering voices we again say welcome. This season is ever welcomed because it is the time when nature unfolds its most wonderful mysteries.

Mr. S. K. Beach purchased a fine horse of W. W. Cooper, of Ralphs, Del., last week.

Farmers around here are getting behind with their work. Life insurance agents bother them so much.

The M. P. Sunday School at Mt. Hermon was reorganized some time ago with the following officers: Supt. J. D. Beach; Sec. E. T. Cooper; Lib. Glen Owens; Treas. J. D. Beach; Teachers, Male, L. T. Cooper, J. S. Cooper, G. L. Bennett, S. K. Beach and W. S. Owens; Female, Fannie Hitch, Frona Beach, Annie Owens, Lizzie Cooper and Lillian Owens. All are invited to attend and make the school, this year, a success.

J. S. Cooper & Co. have been delivering crates to the farmers in this community for two or three weeks past.

Victor Beach, who has been indoors for some time with a severe cut on his foot, is improving, and hopes to be out again soon.

Insects of almost any description are at work again, as usual, and many of our enterprising farmers are spraying their orchards with Bordeaux and Arsenites, with hopes to exterminate these pests and raise perfect fruit.

MARDELA.

With the warm weather has come a general activity of the farmers, and anyone traveling by the nearby farms will see the soil being prepared for the crops which the farmer looks forward to as the mainstay of his existence.

Strawberries are in full bloom and before many days they will have started on their journey to the different cities, there to grace the table of our city cousins.

Our factories are running regularly and give employment to many who would otherwise have to look elsewhere for the means of winning their daily bread.

The schools have closed and many of our young people, who are teachers in this and other counties have returned home to spend their summer vacation.

There is always pleasure to be found everywhere and every evening, especially Sunday, the town people may be seen out walking or driving and the "Spring" a resort, free to all, is generally crowded with those who desire to quench their thirst with the waters which flow from this historical spring.

Spring has also brought out the sporting element of our town and have gotten together an aggregation of ball players that is the pride of the whole town. They are a crowd of gentlemanly fellows and desire to have a friendly contest with teams of other places. Many teams have been challenged but only one has accepted thus far. They extend an invitation to other teams to meet them in friendly contests. Try your luck and give our boys a show and we will assure you of a hearty and also an interesting reception.

Our phone lines are in full operation and by this means the farmers are brought in closer contact with the markets to which they ship their produce.

Many improvements are being made in the appearance of the town by the application of the paint brush by some of the owners of residences here.

Quite a little interest is being manifested among the farmers of the neighborhood, in the chicken raising business this Spring. One of these said prosperous farmers has of late taken the contract to kill all chicken eating cats around. When one day last week there was much firing of guns and noise in general in the western end of the district. Some suggested that surely the cats had taken Port Arthur and were diminishing the remainder of the Russian fleet. But indeed such was not the case. It was our old friend commencing on his tedious contract of cat-killing. And believing in the adage that "Charity begins at home," he had commenced on his cat first. At first he was inclined to be rather generous. He only threw all the shoes on the premises at the cat to frighten her into better doings. But after a second offense within a few minutes decided that a more decided measure would have to be taken, so seizing his gun he fired at cat, causing her to walk a little farther away from him so that she could better see her "would be" persecutor. The next twenty or five shots came as rapidly as possible, until to his dismay he found that he had shot the pen from around his legs, still to find the cat unharmed and intently watching him. Finally, the cat, evidently fearing that her persecutor was getting discouraged, and would soon give up his first attempt in despair, moved, this time, a little nearer to him and stood as still as a sentenced soldier ever did, until the fatal shot was fired. How now declares he will fly the contract of cat killing unless he can secure the service of "Long Tom," with which the Boers were so successful.

Services at M. E. Church Sunday morning as follows: Sunday School, 10 a. m.; Preaching at 11 o'clock. The Commencement of the Salisbury High School was attended by quite a few of our young people.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the loaves called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

SUFFERED A THOUSAND DEATHS. The Physicians had done their best to cure James Wilson, of Dillon, S. C., who had one of the most terrible cases of RHEUMATISM on record. They all failed until one doctor prescribed RHEUMACIDE. IT CURED HELPLESS CRIPPLE. Mr. Wilson writes in the course of a long letter, dated August 18, 1902: "My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly 12 months. The muscles of my arms and legs were hard and shrunken up. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in McColl, Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. P. Ewing, of Dillon, told me to try your RHEUMACIDE. I began to take it, and before the first bottle was used up I began to get better. I used 53 bottles and was completely cured." A SPLENDID RECORD

In The Administration Of City Affairs Made By The Retiring Mayor, Chas. R. Disharoon. Salisbury Has Gone Ahead And Improved Very Rapidly.

Hon. Chas. R. Disharoon, the retiring Mayor of Salisbury, who laid down the reins of Government last Monday has made an enviable record as Mayor of this bustling little City and leaves the office enjoying the good will and esteem of his fellow citizens.

Mr. Disharoon has been identified with the administration of the city affairs for seven years, three years as a member of the Council and four years as Mayor, and has brought to these offices the same conscientious zeal as characterizes him in his private business. During the time of his incumbency Salisbury has made wonderful progress and today stands at the head of the procession as to progressiveness in every line. Some of the improvements which have been made under Mayor Disharoon's Administration might be recounted here with profit. Notably the reorganization of the City Fire Department, which is today, perhaps in a higher state of efficiency than ever before and is the pride of all our citizens. The retiring Mayor has never failed in his efforts to encourage the firemen and has from time to time made such recommendations and suggestions as to help bring about this gratifying condition. The reorganization of the police department is another notable improvement during this period. Seven years ago the City had one officer, who was supposed to guard the interests of the City, day and night, besides perform the duties of Street Commissioner; today we have a regular Street Commissioner and an assistant, one Chief of Police and one night officer. Then the office was a "happy-go-lucky" sort of an affair; today discipline is stamped on every movement of our officers, due in a large measure to the recommendation of our Ex-Mayor and his avowed determination to require of these officials faithful and conscientious service. Our citizens may recall the rule laid down by Mayor Disharoon in the beginning that any police officer of the city visiting saloons while on duty would be promptly dismissed.

The number of streets opened, widened and straightened have been many and great, the Mayor having always insisted where streets were to be opened that they should be wide and straight. Conspicuous among these is the new Elizabeth Street, over which there was considerable contention about the width etc., the Mayor insisting that it should be 40 feet wide, which was finally adopted and which is perhaps the only street in the city the same length, without curve or angle. The wisdom of this is seen in the handsome residences that now line this thoroughfare.

During his term as Chief executive the taxable basis of the city has increased about one million dollars and is increasing rapidly year by year.

Taken altogether Mayor Disharoon, although holding this office at a great personal sacrifice can look back with pride at the great advance in the City's interest, under his administration and he retires with the "well done good and faithful servant" from his fellow citizens.

Mr. Wm. F. Bounds was re-elected President of the Council and Mr. Polk temporary clerk. After a few remarks pertinent to the inaugurating occasion and the impending duty of caring for the future of Salisbury with a broad, and progressive policy, Mayor Harper appointed Mr. Henry J. Byrd temporary clerk, collector and treasurer, a new office created by the late Legislature under the amended city charter. His appointment was confirmed by the council and will be in force until July 1st, the date set by law to assume the duties of the position.

These gentlemen who retire have made able and faithful officials, and have well acquitted themselves of the high trust reposed in them by the people.

New Buildings, Alterations And Repairs Make Ocean City Hum With Industry. Progress In The Work Of Re-Construction.

Persons interested in the future of our Seaside resort will be pleased to note a few of the many improvements and changes that will greet them upon arrival the coming summer. Under the able guidance and direction of Major Beverly Dennis, his corps of assistants are driving piling, forming a bulkhead along the beach front. The experience of last fall's storm gave property holders fair warning that what might be expected if neglected from the future September gales. Boardwalks that were demolished and washed away along the front are being replaced and put in proper shape. The Trimmer building is near completion, very much improved and an ornament to the lower end of the city. The new Eastern Shore Hotel, which James Lilliston & Son have rented is already occupied and by the first of June will be open and ready for business. Owing to the scarcity of workmen, Congress Hall is yet to be remodeled but will be in readiness—Under the management of Mr. John Kelley. The B. C. & A. R. R., have cause to feel proud of their latest achievement and the public gratified. The new depot is not only an ornament to the city, but a necessity accomplished, to which the patrons of the road felt entitled. John D. Showell, who was shrewd enough to size up the situation has already commenced the erection of a commodious Hotel opposite. Mr. Showell also has added to his holdings and purchased from Mr. Ennor the Isle of Wight Hotel for ($2000). The old Atlantic always full of attractions, under the management of August Roeder, of Baltimore, will open its doors to the public about the 20th, of June. The cottages are gradually being occupied.

Messrs. Wm. Knabe & Co., the well known Piano Manufacturers of Baltimore have engaged sales-rooms in this city in the Wm. A. Ennis Building, South Division Street, and on next Monday morning will begin a piano sale that will be of great importance to the citizens of Salisbury and the nearby community. The instruments made by this firm are well known all over the world, and they will show a number of their leading styles, as well as a large assortment of instruments of other makes.

The advertisement of this Company appears in another column. The local office will be in charge of Mr. Chas. J. McHenry. In their announcement, Messrs. Knabe & Co., invite our citizens to call, whether they purchase or not, and we have no doubt this invitation will be largely taken advantage of.

HOW A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh -- Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh.

MISS HELEN WHITMAN.

Miss Helen Whitman, 308 1/2 Grand avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "There is nothing like Peruna for that tired feeling, which gives you no ambition for work or play. After a prolonged illness, about a year ago I felt unable to regain my health, but four bottles of Peruna made a wonderful change and restored me to perfect health. As long as you keep your blood in good condition you are all right, and Peruna seems to fill the veins with pure, healthful blood. I thoroughly endorse it."

Have you got nerves? Well, you ought to have nerves. But they ought to be strong nerves, good nerves. Does your hand tremble? You are living too fast. Does your heart flutter at times? You had better call a halt. Americans live too fast. They crowd too much into a single day. The quiet, pastoral scenes of yore are becoming rare. It's time that we quit this sort of business.

How to Get Strong Nerves. First, repair the injury already done to your nerves. The way to do this is to for of Erie county, New York, Hon. John W. Neff, in a recent letter written at Buffalo, New York, stated: "I was persuaded by a friend to try a bottle of your great nerve tonic, Peruna, and the results were so gratifying that I am more than pleased to recommend it."

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This remedy, medicine more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Lulu Larmer, Staughton, Wis., says:

"For two years I suffered with nervous trouble and stomach disorders until it seemed that there was nothing to me but a bundle of nerves. I was very irritable, could not sleep, rest or compose myself, and was certainly unfit to take care of a household. I took nerve tonics and pills without benefit. When I began taking Peruna I grew steadily better, my nerves grew stronger, my rest was no longer fitful, and to-day I consider myself in perfect health and strength. My recovery was slow but sure, but I persevered and was rewarded by perfect health."—Mrs. Lulu Larmer.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will gladly give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Heriman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Mrs. Lulu Larmer.

A PRICELESS GIFT.

This is an age of bargain counters. Some of the bargains offered by advertisement in the newspapers are honest, merchants often buying a quantity of goods at a low rate through the failure of the necessity of manufacturers, and therefore able to sell the goods at a much smaller figure than usual. But many bargains are dishonest, custom-ers duped with inferior goods that merchants are glad to get off their shelves at almost any sum. There are bargains and bargains, the emphasis with which the sentence is read indicating the real and indicating the spurious. We need in this twentieth century some Luther to nail a thesis upon commercial ethics on the door of many a house of business. We need a Paul to thunder righteousness upon the ears of many a Felix in trade. We need a Nathan to expose the sins of many a Davidic firm. To cheat a man is the same as picking his pocket, the only difference being the difference between two pieces of black cloth exactly alike. The scales of God weigh the dishonest proprietor of a store in the same pan with the commonest thief in a state's penitentiary. Sin is six wherever it seeks to hide itself, whether behind a diamond-ed shirt-bosom or behind a broad coat. In God's sight a leper in broadcloth is just as foul as leper in rags. Naaman the Syrian captain was no better a leper than hundreds of others who were not captains. There is no such thing as distinguished leprosy. Neither is there any such thing as distinguished sin.

But the prophet Isaiah speaks of a real bargain. When bargains are offered through the financial embarrassment of those who made the articles exposed for quick sale, those articles are stamped with a tragedy. But this is a bargain that is altogether free from stain, except that there are marks of blood upon it, that blood the outflow of a sacrifice. It is offered through the generosity of Him who owns all the gold mines and silver mines and copper mines of earth; who owns the world itself, with all its incalculable treasures; who owns every star that we see at night with the eye, and every star brought to view by the enlarged vision of the telescope, and every star beyond the gaze of scientific sight, that only the angels of heaven, along with the Owner, look upon—mountain-chains, archipelagos, continents, world-clusters of stellar gems; millions upon millions of suns and planets in the realms of infinite space, stretching out into distance before which human language is dumb, and before which human arithmetic is palsied, there being no thought or no figures with which to comprehend those distances. This bargain of which I write is God's gift to bankrupt mankind; and it is secured by Him at untold expense. That gift is salvation without money and without price.

The wonder is that so many despise this gift and reject it, preferring the world's hard, mouldy crusts to the sweet, nutritious, soul-satisfying bread of heaven and preferring the world's sour, nauseous wine to the delicious, strengthening, thirst-quenching wine from the vintage of celestial grapes; this bread and wine of heaven making a banquet such as no Xerxes or Alexander the Great, or Augustus Caesar ever tasted, though they sat at tables loaded with most luxurious diet gathered out of all kingdoms and empires.

Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his lords with their wives and concubines. But that feast ended in blood, an almighty arm sweeping out of the heavens that night, and the hand upon that arm writing on the plaster of the festal hall the doom of Babylon's proud king and the downfall of his throne, soldiers that Belshazzar thought were safe outside the stupendous masonry of chiseled rock that encircled the city for sixty miles afterwards breaking into the palace, the gleam of swords answering the flash of jewels and chandeliers, and life flowing out over in the floor in crimson streams; and among the corpses that were tumbled about by the feet of the soldiers of Cyrus was the gashed and ghastly carcass of the king; for in that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

But this banquet that God spreads shall end with crowns and sceptres and thrones and palaces everlasting—an immortality of blessedness that shall be young when yonder sun, burdened with age, shall totter in the heavens, and the stars that have beamed for centuries over the earth shall wither and die and be scattered like blasted figs; and when this very world shall have been for ages nothing but an ash-heap. Wonderful salvation! And without money; without price!

What a Gospel! No wonder that the prophets of the Old Testament predicted it with sublime rhetoric; laying all heaven and all earth under contribution for the furnishing of figures of speech with which to describe it. No wonder that one of the choirs of the celestial temple announced it in song, setting Bethlehem's skies on fire with a blaze of splendor that eclipsed the silvery lamps of night. No wonder that Paul's brain and heart were kindled by it into logic and rapturous oratory. No wonder that John's vision flamed by it into an apocalypse on the Isle of Patmos. No wonder that it gave one of its early preachers the name of "golden mouth." No wonder that it has come down all the centuries like a sun to illuminate the consciences, blinding on painters' brush, inspiring sculptors' chisel, firing orators' lips, beaming upon poets' pen, pouring in richest melody from music-ians' fingers, and making innu-mer-able feet to walk boldly along a path of persecution and crossbearing and martyrdom and grief and bereavement as though they were the feet of prophetic kings and queens advancing over flower-strewn roads and under arches of triumph to their coronation. The greatest wonder is that so many can preach it with frozen lips or that so many listen to it with drowsy ears. But at what expense was God put to secure this gift for the world? Let the manger of Bethlehem answer. Let the Nazareth carpenter shop answer. Let the Galilean fishing boat answer. Let Gethsemane answer. Let Calvary answer. The humiliation of Christ, the poverty of Christ, the agony of Christ, the death of Christ, were the figures that entered into the sum of the cost of this gift. The price paid was infinite. No human cipher can estimate it. No human brain can measure it. No human tongue can express it. Mighty beyond all computation. But for you, my readers, free. Without money. Will you accept that gift? Wm. Henry Bancroft.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one drugged disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. BEAUTY OF SKIN PURITY OF BLOOD

Ancient and Modern Ideas on These Interesting Subjects.

UP-TO-DATE METHODS

For Purifying and Beautifying the Skin, Scalp, Hair and Hands.

Socrates called beauty a short-lived tyranny, Plato a privilege of nature, Theophrastus, a delightful prejudice, Theophrastus a silent cheat, Carneades a solitary kingdom, Homer a glorious gift of nature, Ovid a favor of the gods. Aristotle affirmed that beauty was better than all the letters of recommendation in the world, and yet none of these distinguished authorities has left us even a hint of how beauty may be perpetuated, or the ravages of age and disease defied. Time soon blights the lily and the rose into the pallid of age, disease dots the fair face with cutaneous disfigurements and wrinkles the forehead with unyielding lines, moth, if not rust, corrupts the glory of eyes, teeth, and lips yet beautiful by defacing the complexion, and fills the sensitive soul with agony. If such be the unhappy condition of one afflicted with slight skin blemishes, what must be the feelings of those in whom torturing humors have for years run riot, covering the skin with scales and sores, and charging the blood with poisonous elements to become a part of the system until death? It is in the treatment of torturing, disgusting humors and affections of the skin, scalp and blood, and loss of hair, that the Cuticura remedies have achieved their greatest success. Original in composition, scientifically compounded, absolutely pure, unchangeable in any climate, always ready, and agreeable to the most delicate and sensitive, they present to young and old the most successful curatives of modern times.

THE COLD WATER CURE:

In the Oregon State Penitentiary it has Proved Effective.

The cold water cure has recently been adopted at the Oregon state penitentiary, with apparently satisfactory results. For all practical purposes flogging has been abandoned. No rule has been established prohibiting fogging, and if a case should be presented,
in which all other punishment failed
the lash might be resorted to, but this is a contingency not deemed probable.

The cold water cure has been found effective in some very obstinate cases.

The cold water remedy consists of stripping the prisoner to the skin and turning upon him a stream of cold water from an ordinary garden hose. The injection of the punishment is not as brutal as flogging. It leaves no scars or permanent injuries, and the punishment ends the moment the water is turned off. A prisoner who has been subjected to the punishment once wants no more of it, though he may be smiling within a few moments after the ordeal is over. Governor Chamberlain and the prison authorities are highly pleased over the result of the experiments, for they have been desirous of abolishing the whip.

Only one prisoner has been fogged
during this administration. That man was a trusty and had run away and upon being captured was given the penalty always imposed in such cases up to that time. Since then two prisoners have been punished with the cold water remedy. One of them was a big, burly negro. When he came to the prison he was assigned to work in the shops, but refused to obey orders.

He asserted that he didn't have to work and wouldn't work. He was taken to the kitchen, stripped and stood in a corner. The first spurt of water from the hose brought out a shriek that was evidence of the effectiveness of the remedy. After trying for half a minute to dodge the stream of cold water the man gave up and began to beg and make promises. The punishment ended, he went to work
and has given no further trouble.

The other prisoner subjected to the water cure was a white man. For several months he had been giving trouble and seemed to find enjoyment in disobeying rules even when he gained nothing by it. Small penalties did no good, and he was finally warned that another offense would bring severe consequences. A few days later he deliberately violated an important regulation and was sent to the bathroom.

He began to beg before the water struck him, and before a pailful of water had been used he was completely subdued. Before he had dressed again he was laughing over the punishment, but his subsequent conduct has proved that he doesn't intend receiving a second dose of water cure.

There are men in the Oregon penitentiary who bear flogging scars that they will carry to their graves. It is but fair to say that the scars were not received during this administration.

Some of the men thus punished are still unconquered and are perhaps more vicious and more desperate because of the method of inflicting pain.

Many a prisoner has sworn that if he ever gets an opportunity he will take the life of the officer who laid the lash across his back. Flogging was degrading to both the prisoner and the man who imposed the punishment. The prisoner was stripped and bound and dogged until in many instances the blood flowed down his back. Not so with the water cure. The prisoners are not bound nor cut and bruised.

The cold water cure leaves the offending prisoner with a cleaner body and apparently a more peaceful mind.—
Portland Oregonian.

THE USE OF WORDS.

"The small number of words actually necessary for ordinary purposes in our everyday life is surprising, and nothing illustrates this better than the limited vocabulary of a little child," Dr. M. Harris said. "I have a daughter six years old. She is able to make all her wants known, to talk freely and easily."

"If an adult knew just the number of words in a foreign tongue that she knows in her own, he would be able to get along nicely in a conversational way with people who spoke nothing but that language. What the child's vocabulary comprises, how many words and what classes, I recently made it my business to ascertain in a series of investigations extending over a considerable period of time. I found that the total number of words she knew and used was just 352, omitting proper names, and that 51 per cent of these were nouns, 18 per cent verbs and 11 per cent adjectives, the remainder being made up of conjunctions, prepositions and pronouns."—St.
Louis Globe-Democrat.

JAPANESE USE OF WATER.

The Japanese themselves attribute their high average of physical strength to a plain and frugal diet and the system of gymnastics called Jiu Jitsu, which includes a knowledge of anatomy and of the external and internal uses of water. Although during the period of their ascendancy the samurai kept the secret that their great physical superiority was due in a great measure to the internal and external use of water, the belief that if used liberally and intelligently water is an infallible weapon against disease is now generally held. By those who go in for Jiu Jitsu an average of a gallon
a day is drunk. It is noteworthy that rheumatism is almost unknown in Japan. It is probable that the absence of meat from the diet, combined with the use of plenty of water, accounts for this immunity.—British Medical Journal.

COST OF SEEING THE WORLD'S FAIR.

From any point within 300 miles of
St. Louis a person may travel to the World's Fair this year, view the won-
ders of the Exposition for three days
and expend the same money he would
pay in any other year for train fare
alone. This is an absolute fact.

The Western Passenger Association
has agreed on a ten day excursion rate, 250 miles or more from St. Louis, for one and one-fifth fare for the round trip.

CARBOLIC ACID ANTIBOTE:

An Englishman Has Tried Turpentine With Success.

A remarkable discovery has apparently been made by a Dublin veterinary surgeon named Allen respecting an antidote for carbolic acid poisoning, says the London News.

Some time ago his attention was drawn to two horses which were evidently suffering from poisoning. On examining one he noticed that the mucous surface of the mouth was blanch-ed and that the animal was staggering. There was a general twitching of the muscles, the eyes were staring, and the animal was rapidly assuming a comatose condition. Mr. Allen asked for some oil, luscated for preference; if not, any kind of oil that was handy.

Some were brought and about two wine-glassesful administered to one of the animals, the effect being, to quote
the words of Mr. Allen, miraculous.

For the first time he then noticed that the horse which had been given the horse was the ordinary turpentine of commerce. So satisfied was he with the result that he gave the second horse a dose, although at that time the animal was unconscious. In about ten minutes it recovered, and both horses were at work the next day as if nothing had happened.

Not long after this, by a peculiar coincidence, Mr. Allen was asked to look at a blacksmith who after drinking a glass of stout had become very ill. In the forge the veterinary found the smith in a condition of coma, a strong smell of carbolic acid pervading the premises. Ultimately he discovered that the man had drunk out of the wrong vessel and had had a solution of the acid instead of the stout. A doctor was at once sent for, but in the meantime Mr. Allen administered a dose of turpentine that happened to be on the premises, and the man not only quickly recovered, but resumed his work within an hour.

Turpentine as an antidote in similar cases had been previously unknown,
and a representative of the Daily News recently sought out an expert with a view of getting a medical opinion upon a matter of so much importance. "The symptoms in the case you mention," he said, "are distinctly those of carbolic acid poisoning, and so successful does the treatment appear to have been that further experiments in the same direction are well worth trying. If subsequent experiment confirms the oil of turpentine treatment, then on every packet or bottle containing carbolic acid should be printed this simple antidote."

Arranged by a Missop.
Hanging in the hall of the home of Attorney General Hampton L. Carson, on Spruce street, is a grouped series of rare and valuable engravings por- traying Napoleon Bonaparte in the many phases of his career. The collec- tion, which comprises nearly two score of portraits picked up in various parts of the world by Mr. Carson, is inclosed in a single large frame. The grouping of this big collection, including, as it does, engravings of Bonaparte small, large and varied in pose, was a task that proved puzzling when undertaken.

One day, after spending a long time vainly arranging and rearranging the portraits with an eye to securing the best effect, Mr. Carson packed up the collection in a portfolio to complete the job at another time. Going downstairs he stumbled, dropping the portfolio, and littered to survey the wreck, he was struck by the grouping
of the portraits, which, by accident, had assumed a far more symmetrical and satisfactory arrangement than the attorney general had been able to produce.

A few changes were all that was necessary to fix the collection to Mr.
Carson's liking, and to a picture framer
was given the order to frame it as it lay. The result is one of the most striking effects in General Carson's famous collection of engravings.—Philadelphia Press.

The Little One Was Anxious to Know

Mrs. Leslie M. Shaw, with her daughters, Miss Emma and Miss Enid, visited San Francisco last month, and many social functions were given there in honor of the secretary of the treasury's family.

At a tea one afternoon Mrs. Shaw, smiling toward her daughters, said:
"When Enid was four or five years old she used to repeat at night the little prayer, 'Now I lay me.'"

"I suppose that millions of children have said it," Mrs. Shaw said. "I lay me down, but I don't know if the simple and charming words of the prayer ever suggested a question so unusual as they did to Enid."

"She one night repeated the prayer reverently and then asked me, with a puzzled frown:
"Mother, if I should die before I wake, how would I know I was dead?"—New Orleans States.

they term the new era, as "sunlight," ("the ignorant regard Japan as commencing civilized life six and thirty years ago.

Many women are denied the happiness of children through derangement of the gener- ative organs. Mrs. Beyer advises women to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my children but five months, then would have a miscarriage. The last time I became pregnant, my husband got me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
After taking the first bottle I was relieved of the sickness of stomach, and began to feel better in every way. I continued its use and was enabled to carry my baby to maturity. I now have a nice baby girl, and can work better than I ever could before. I am like a new woman."
—Mrs. FRANK BEYER, 22 S. Second St., Meriden, Conn.

Another case which proves that no other medicine in the world accomplishes the same results as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. After that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy wife within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born,
who is the pride and joy of my household.
If every woman who is cured feels as grateful and happy as I do, you must have a host of friends, for every day I bless you for the light, health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought to my home. Sincerely yours, Mrs. MARY

PERMANENTLY CURED BY "ORRINE,"

ABSOLUTELY SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the
affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving

Cure Effected or Money Refunded.

Ask your druggist what he thinks of ORRINE; he will endorse
our statements as truthful in every respect. If ORRINE fails to cure we will refund you every penny paid for it as cheerfully as we took it.

No Sanitarium Treatment or Publicity!

No Absence from home or loss of time!

Mothers, wives and sisters, you cannot cure those who are afflicted with this most terrible of all diseases by your fervent prayers, or eyes red with tears, nor by your
hope that they may stop drinking. It can be done only with ORRINE. You have the remedy—will you use it? If you desire to cure without the knowledge of the patient, buy ORRINE No. 1; if the patient desires to be cured of his own free will, buy
ORRINE No. 2. Full directions found in each package. Price $1 per box.

SALISBURY KEEPING THE PACE. The promise of progress that the City of Salisbury gave last spring has been carried out in the past twelve months, and we are today enjoying a greater prosperity than ever before in the history of our city.

One has only to visit our various manufacturing industries, and listen to the busy hum of the factory wheels, to be convinced that Salisbury is a prosperous place. Or if that is not sufficient, let them visit our wholesale and retail houses and see the large amount of goods that these are handling, or better still, let them observe the building that is going on in all sections of the town.

We have at the present time four large and handsome buildings of a public nature in the course of construction. The Southern M. E. Church is putting up, on Division Street, a handsome church at an estimated cost, when completed, of $50,000. The Temple, which the Masonic Fraternity, are putting up on Division Street, opposite the Court House and which will be used for the Postoffice and one of our banking institutions, will cost when completed about $35,000. The Salisbury National Bank, and the Farmers and Merchants are putting up handsome homes on Main Street. Sealed proposals are asked for bonds to be issued to erect a large new High School to fill expanding requirements.

Outside of these buildings of public and semi-public nature, one can see handsome residences going up in all sections of the City. Altogether the exit of former Mayor Disharoon and the advent of present Mayor Harper, marks an era of progress and prosperity, unprecedented in the history of Salisbury.

To our going Mayor—a knowledge of worthy deeds, which rebound for the present and time to come to his admirable executive ability, coupled with the assistance of the Council, and the City's double quick step forward!

To our present Mayor and City Council, all hail! With the confident expectation of the municipality going onward during this administration toward a goal of increasing greatness!

WORLD'S FAIR HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS. St. Louis Hoteliers Prepared to Handle Vast Through—Prices Not to Be Increased—Hotel Inside of the Exposition Grounds With a Capacity For 6,000 Guests.

Ample hotel accommodations have been provided for the World's Fair visitors at St. Louis both within and outside of the Exposition grounds. The Exposition management has organized a free information service. A pamphlet has been issued for gratuitous circulation explaining many of the conveniences that have been provided. A list of all the hotels, with rates, is contained in this pamphlet. The entire city has been canvassed, and many thousands of private householders have arranged to receive visitors. These houses are in every section of the city, and the rates at which guests will be received is a matter of record on the books of the bureau.

The Ipside inn, a hotel on the Exposition grounds, has a capacity for 6,000 guests. The Exposition management has control of the rates, which have been fixed at from $1.50 to $2.50 per day. European plan, including admission to the grounds. On the American plan the rates range from $3 to $5 per day. The hotel is 400 by 800 feet and is three stories high.

There are more than 150 established hotels in St. Louis, and a signed agreement has been made between many of their managers with the Exposition officials that rates shall not be raised during the Exposition period. Many new hotels have been built on sites adjacent to the Exposition grounds, and the published fixed rates warrant the assertion that no one need pay exorbitant rates for accommodations either at hotels or private houses.

Among the new hotels may be mentioned the Hotel Napoleon Bonaparte, which stands at Clayton avenue and Skinker road, overlooking the Exposition grounds. This hostelry will accommodate 6,000 persons. The rates, European plan, are from $1 to $5 per day. The Grand View hotel, south of the Exposition, on Oakland avenue, has a capacity for 5,000 guests, and the rates are $1 to $1.50 per day. European, and $2 to $2.50 per day on the American plan. The Kenilworth, on West Park boulevard and Billon avenue, has a capacity of 1,500 guests, with a rate of $1.50 per day.

The above mentioned are a few of the new hotels that have been erected near the Exposition grounds for the accommodation of World's Fair visitors. All told there are about two score. All are within easy walking distance, and all are situated on high ground, with comprehensive views of the grounds. All of the structures are well built, and in some of them the most luxurious quarters are obtainable. The rates are established and will not be increased during the Exposition.

Maryland Manufacturing Company of Sharptown. S. J. Cooper & Son and Ned R. Bonnds have bought a controlling interest in the McCabe Shirt Co. of this town and have organized the Maryland Manufacturing Company for the purpose of manufacturing shirts, shirt waists, overalls, etc. The factory has about sixty machines and is equipped with modern machinery and does very fine work. It has been running here only a few months, but now will become a permanent enterprise of the town. The company propose to do their own cutting and will manufacture and sell their own goods. It will contribute much to the town's interest and give employment to a great many ladies in the factory and at their homes.

RIVERTON. The Riverton Telephone Co., has its line in operation and is proving a great convenience to the people within its reach. It will be fully equipped with switch boards, etc., in a few days and several more phones installed. Better service will then be obtained. The Shirt Factory of O. N. Bennett, at this place started up last week.

We understand that Mr. Sol. Kenney has sold his steam saw mill near here to Messrs. Bennett, Taylor, and Hurley, who will continue operation for a short while, only, at present location.

Our fishermen report the season about closing, to have been a rather poor one. Prices have been good but the catch of shad and herring unusually short. The demand has been far in excess of the supply.

500 Pound Sturgeon Caught. What is said to be the largest sturgeon ever seen in the Chesapeake bay was caught in the nets of Copeland Bros., at Buckroe Beach. The sturgeon, which is of the buck species, measured 14 feet in length and weighed exactly 500 pounds. It was about three feet thick through the stomach. It is considered a very valuable catch, as it will probably bring to its captors the sum of $50.

Letter to Paul Watson. Salisbury, Md. Dear Sir:—Thomas J. Bappon, druggist, Western, R. I. says: "Westerly painters expect a gallon of paint to cover 19 sets of blinds; Devoc covers 25; there is no such thing as rubbing this out."

A report has been current in Salisbury that Delaware strawberry growers are paying 2 cents a quart for picking strawberries this year. We understand from a reliable source that this is an error and that the price generally paid there is the same as here, 1 1/2 cents a quart. If conditions of last season prevail again the growers may have difficulty in paying this much, and it is yet too early, particularly after last year's experience, to estimate on their receiving sufficient profit on their crop to increase the standard price of 1 1/2 cents.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 15.—A timely gospel for the great multitude who cross the ocean at this season or who journey on any waters, whether for pleasure or business, is today the theme of the preacher.

Have you ever followed the sea? In these days of multiplied facilities for ocean travel, when mammoth liners, equipped like floating palaces, carry tens and hundreds of thousands of passengers to and fro across the seas.

Yes, yes. We all know what the power of a personal examination means in life. We know that when men are brave about us, they make us brave.

What a God yours must be to inspire such confidence! Would that we had your faith and your religion. Men and women of the Christian life, are your actions and words living witness of your faith in the saving grace of Jesus Christ?

Nothing Means About Him. Who are the crew and the passengers of this Alexandrian corn ship today? Because Paul kept holding up before them the mistakes of their past life in order that they might be more easily led to follow in his way.

Superstition, however, is not easily eradicated. This prejudice against ministerial passengers has survived for centuries. Yet in the scene of my text we have an instance of its being overcome.

Paul is the Storm. Superstition, however, is not easily eradicated. This prejudice against ministerial passengers has survived for centuries.

They were the crew and the passengers of this Alexandrian corn ship today? First, because faith always begets faith, and confidence confidence, and good cheer good cheer.

Why were the crew and the passengers of this Alexandrian corn ship today? First, because faith always begets faith, and confidence confidence, and good cheer good cheer.

What Makes Men Heroes. In the storms and trials of life how often have courage and fortitude been inspired by the example of some man strong in faith and undaunted in his confidence in God!

What Makes Men Heroes. In the storms and trials of life how often have courage and fortitude been inspired by the example of some man strong in faith and undaunted in his confidence in God!

play, and play the man; we shall this day light such a candle by God's grace in England as I trust shall never be put out."

PRICELESS GIFTS.

Remarkable Collection in the Harvard Germanic Museum at Harvard. There has recently been presented to the Germanic museum at Harvard by a number of prominent citizens of Germany a very remarkable collection of the gold and silver work of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries.

There are more than fifty pieces, the originals of which adorned great cathedrals, the banquet halls of cities and the palaces of kings. The most ancient is a chalice of the thirteenth century which was the work of some monk silversmith. It is peculiar, being in the shape of a drinking vessel of pagan Rome, carefully ornamented with childlike pictures of scenes from the Old Testament.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's For One Thing Only And Salisbury is Learning This. Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They're for sick kidneys.

They're for sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ailment here is evidence of it. James H. Bell, inspector of the B & O. R. R., residing at 108 North Stricker Street, Baltimore, says: 'For some months past, I have been suffering from severe pain in the small of my back, and at times could hardly get along; have tried kidney medicine and lotions, but do not effect. Sometime during last month I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and gave them a trial. I paid no attention to them for a few days when the pain in my back became so severe, and I thought of them and commenced to take them according to directions, with the result, both astonishing and gratifying, for before taking the complete box, I was completely freed from the trouble.'

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands testify to that. Mrs. C. R. V. McIntire of Shepherdstown, W. Va. says: 'I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely.'

It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free. Price 50c. and $1.00.

A Startling Jest.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa. made a startling jest resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes, 'a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months.' Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at all drug stores.

Cured His Mother Of Rheumatism.

'My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism,' says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. 'At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided that it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with.' For sale by all druggists.

Whooping Cough.

'In the spring of 1901 my children had whooping cough,' says Mrs. D. W. Capps, of Capps, Ala. 'I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with the most satisfactory results. I think this is the best remedy I have ever seen for whooping cough.' This remedy cures the cough loose, lessens the severity and frequency of the coughing spells and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all druggists.

Quick Arrest.

J. A. Gullidge, of Nerbens, Ala. was twice in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 24 tumors. After doctors and all remedies failed, Hucker's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cured him. It cures sores and kills pain. 25c. at all druggists.

Woman is often referred to by man as "doubting his joys and having his sorrows."

That may be complimentary but it would seem to be rather hard on the woman. For in plain terms it means that where things are going well with the man his wife makes them go better. But when things are going ill with him, he expects the wife to share half his burden. And there's more truth than poetry in this presentation of masculine selfishness. Men don't appreciate the fact that the strain of motherhood alone is a burden bigger than all the loads that rest upon male shoulders. They see the wife grow thin, pale, nervous and worn without a thought that she is overburdened. Among the pleasant letters received by Dr. Pierce are those from husbands who have waked up before it was too late to the crushing burdens laid upon the wife, and in the search for help have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a restoration which has given back the health of the maiden and the maiden's happiness. "Favorite Prescription" always helps and almost always cures. It has happily cured ninety-eight out of every hundred women who have used it when afflicted with diseases peculiar to women.

Doing Florence in a Day.

Two members of the Rolling Stone club of London, N. Y., have written a book telling how to "do" Europe on $4 a day. "Florence is a dream," they say. "We came for three days and stayed five and dragged ourselves away unwillingly. Yet it can be done in a day, and we saw it being done that way more than once. The Baptistery is noted for its beautiful bronze doors. We were standing one day before the pair by Ghiberti when a fine equipage whirled up. Two exceedingly prosperous looking Americans, with their wives, occupied the seats. These are the doors," droned the guide on the box seat. "That Michael Angelo said were good enough for heaven. All right," said one of the jovial tourists, looking at his watch. "We'll trust his judgment. Let 'em run!" And as they were whisked away, after just five seconds before one of the most artistic creations in Europe, we saw the man who sat with his back to the driver nearly dislocate his neck as he twisted around to ask, "Who'd you say said that? And, the limited having passed, we resumed our leisurely enjoyment of the masterpiece."

The Largest Stone Arch Bridge.

In spite of mammoth steel arch, girder and cantilever bridges, the stone arch bridge is still employed under certain conditions, and the largest structure of this kind in the world is now in course of erection at Plauen, Saxony. This bridge will have a span of 295 feet, exceeding by twenty feet the famous Luxembourg bridge, opened last year, and by still more the Morbegno bridge in Lombardy and the Cabin John bridge near Washington, which have held in turn the record as the longest stone arch bridges. The Plauen bridge differs from the Luxembourg bridge in being of masonry throughout, instead of consisting of two parallel arches connected by iron and concrete. Its cost is estimated at about $120,000, a sum made possible by the low cost of labor of suitable stone in the vicinity. It is an arch crossing a valley and a good example of modern stonework.—Harper's Weekly.

Ladies And Children

who can not stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups and cathartic pills are especially fond of Little Early Risers. All persons who find it necessary to take a liver medicine should try these easy pills, and compare the agreeably pleasant and strengthening effect with the nauseating and weakening conditions following the use of other remedies. Little Early Risers cure biliousness, constipation, sick headache, jaundice, malaria and liver troubles. Sold by all druggists.

When The Sap Rises

Weak lungs should be careful. Coughs and colds are dangerous then. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds and gives strength to the lungs. Mrs. G. E. Fenner, of Marion, Ind., says, "I suffered with a cough until I run down in weight from 148 to 99 lbs. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. An Open Letter.

From the Chapin, S. C. News: Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt the effect. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, Editor. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A Cure For Piles.

"I had a bad case of piles," says G. F. Carter, of Atlanta, Ga., "and consulted a physician who advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. I purchased a box and was entirely cured. It is a splendid cure for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled for its healing qualities. Eczema and other skin diseases, also sores, cuts, burns and wounds of every kind are quickly cured by it. Sold by all druggists.

Found a Cure for Indigestion.

I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find that they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different remedies. I am nearly 60 years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can not eat almost anything I want to now. Geo. W. Emery, Rock Mills, Ala. For sale by all druggists.

How To Make A Meal Omelet.

Nothing is more simple to make than an omelet, and few things are more delicious when well made, but for some reason the light, delicate dish which is met with everywhere in France seems to baffle our American cooks. Milk and flour must be avoided, and the omelet must not be cooked until it is hard and dry. Lightness and deftness of hand are prerequisites to secure the best results, but the game is essentially worth the candle, and practice will make perfect. An omelet must be cooked quickly and in a large pan. Do not mix flour or milk in it under any circumstances. It may be economical, but it makes it heavy, and thus made has none of the qualities of the omelet in the land of its invention. Use eggs only. Beat the eggs well, yolks and whites together, taking care not to beat them until they are thin and watery. For each six eggs heat two tablespoonfuls of butter in a frying pan. When it is quite hot put in the beaten eggs, with salt and pepper. With a fork bring the cooked part of the eggs from the edge to the center, and when it is thickened take hold of the pan, turn the omelet over on the dish, and serve at once. By turning over the edges while the center is still soft the omelet will be kept juicy and tender.—May Woman's Home Companion.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin a regular dose.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

CITIZENS RESPONSIBLE

As Well As Duty Elected Officials In The Proper Administration Of Law And Order. All Should Co-Operate For Public Weal.

Every patriotic citizen is interested in the enforcement of law, and is responsible for the same. The first statement does not require proof. The man who is not interested in the enforcement of law can not be called a patriotic citizen. He has in him the spirit of anarchy.

But we will suppose that all our fellowmen are good citizens, that they are interested in the enforcement of our laws.

The vital question is—To what extent are we responsible for the enforcement of law, and in what ways may we promote this desirable end? There are persons who do not feel any responsibility on such a matter. They find themselves under a government. They had no hand in bringing it into existence and they have not come to help perpetuate it, and make it effective. But the fact is that every American citizen owes a duty to the state, and among these duties is that of seeing the just and salutary laws that have been enacted, made operative.

We select officers of the law and these officers are bound by a solemn oath to execute the laws, or report the violators of law. These help to safeguard the peace of the community. But there is an obligation tacitly but really assumed by every citizen to help in the enforcement of law. It is neither wise nor right to expect a few officers of the law to be ubiquitous and deal with every infraction of the statutes.

Many persons exhaust themselves in criticism and condemnation of officers, but do not assist in keeping order. Would it not be much better for every citizen to put himself behind the officers of the law and make these officers feel that they are supported heartily and strongly in the performance of their sworn duties. The Anti-Saloon League is patriotic to the core and gives no uncertain endorsement to the enforcement of all our laws. But it naturally and properly takes special interest in laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors. The people of Wicomico know that through direct legislation or by vote, it has come to pass that there is not a legalized saloon in the County. What the people have determined in legal way as law, the people should make effective. The Mayor and City Council of Salisbury are our officers. The police officers and constabulary are our agents. It becomes the duty of every citizen to lift our municipal and county government to the highest possible point of efficiency.

Men may do their duty when in office, but most men will do better service if they know and sensibly realize that they are heartily supported by the people whom they serve.

The Anti-Saloon League appeals to all citizens to render all possible assistance to enforce all laws, and especially the law against the sale of liquor.

The Carnival Along River—Drawing The People.

Large crowds have been in nightly attendance at the exhibition of the Layton Monster Fire and Carnival works along the river this week.

On Thursday night an elaborate and expensive exhibition of fireworks furnished a glorious spectacle to hundreds of people who gathered for the purpose within the tent and near by points of vantage. The eruption of Mt. Pelee and the destruction of St. Pierre were reproduced.

The midway is full of features including the Ferris Wheel, an ever popular and cool resort, the Merry-Go-Round, The Man who grows O'say, Woodford's Dog and Pony Circus, The Mysteries of India and many others.

Salisbury people have decided that the Roman Stadium Show and the "Flying Lady" Lunette, are two of the best of the Carnival. "Santell" claims to be the strongest man in the world and in his wonderful skill of heavy weight lifting, to have no equal. His lift of 307 lbs including 16 heavy men made the house cheer.

The "Carlson Bros." Joo and John, up to date novelty European hand to hand balancers and wonderful gymnasts received much applause. Their work and "Santell's" was keenly enjoyed. The wrestling match kept the crowd busy watching for points. The wrestlers were Joe Carlson, champion light weight of Europe and "Chick Tucker" light weight of the South.

"I have made many friends in your city," said "Santell" to a newspaper reporter last night. "Young men of this town should organize an Amateur Athletic Club, select a president and take Physical Culture, it is much needed in your city."

MESSAGE OF MAYOR

Harper To The City Council. Commends The Retiring Mayor And Council, The Police And Fire Department. Various Recommendations For Improvements.

To the Honorable Council of Salisbury, Gentlemen:

As newly elected Mayor of Salisbury, in compliance with its Charter, I beg leave to submit to you for your careful consideration a brief report of the present conditions and the requirements and needs of our progressive city, and most respectfully ask permission to make a few suggestions and recommendations looking toward the improvement and commercial progress of Salisbury.

I would consider myself derelict in my duty at this time did I not extend my congratulations to the retiring Mayor and Council and all the officers acting under their regime. With due deference to all preceding city officials, I feel I voice the sentiments of the citizens of our city in saying that too much commendation and praise cannot be given the retiring officials for the efficient and conservative manner in which they have administered the affairs of our municipality. That harmony and unity, which is so essential to progress, seems to have existed in all branches of the government. I, therefore, gentlemen, accept the duties of Mayor with a keen sense of the responsibilities resting upon me.

A careful survey of our city reveals the fact that our streets are in a fair condition, but there is chance for improvement. As an enabling Act was passed at our last Legislature to the effect of bonding the city for street improvements, I would suggest that a step in the direction of paying our principal business thoroughfares with vitrified brick, or some other suitable, durable substance, would be a tendency toward progress and economy, and that the committee appointed to ascertain the feasibility of such paving be requested to report to your Honorable body the extent of their work at as early date as possible. Some of our newly opened streets are still in course of construction and an early completion and shelling, if possible, is recommended. I find our sidewalks, many of them, only in fair condition and would recommend a strict compliance with the provisions of our ordinance, also to the material used in the construction and repairing of sidewalks should also receive the encouragement of your Honorable body.

A proper drainage is essential to the health and sanitary condition of our city, and I strongly recommend the putting in of wells and drain pipes where needed and seeing to it that they are kept clear, in order that the water may be carried off our streets, and that the use of wooden sewers be discontinued. I need not remind you of the condition of the water coming from the water mains, and most earnestly recommend having the water plugs flushed at least once each month.

The Police department under Chief Disharoon deserves great credit for the efficient manner in which it has enforced the law and ordinances of our city. I would suggest that you see that the ordinance relating to fast driving be strictly enforced, also the law regulating the operating of automobiles in incorporated towns, as passed at the last session of the Legislature. The dog question has been a serious one and you should see that the ordinances on this question are strictly enforced. In order to make the execution of the provisions of our ordinances in this respect, I would suggest that a dog pound be built, and all dogs appearing upon our streets without license numbers be taken up, and the provisions of the ordinance relating thereto be enforced. The attention of our Police Department is called to the fact that our city is now operating under a Local Option Law and that all possible diligence should be used to prevent the existence and exterminate Speak Easies in the city proper and its suburbs.

Our Fire Department, under the efficient management of Chief George E. Sirman, is in excellent condition and too much praise cannot be accorded to those who voluntarily give their services and subject themselves to danger, for the protection of the lives and property of our citizens. Its present efficiency can be truthfully said to equal any volunteer Fire Department in the State, and I trust that it will receive your very kindest consideration.

Under a recent Amendment to our Charter the office of Street Supervisor was created. The duty of this officer is to have general supervision of all the streets and sidewalks of our city and see that same are kept in proper condition, so far as the financial condition of our city will permit. This being a matter of vital importance, the Council should (and I hope will) co-operate with me to the fullest extent, to the end that this officer shall perform his duties with efficiency and punctuality.

One of the most important changes by the recent amendment to our Charter is the creation of the office of Clerk to the Council, Collector of Taxes and Treasurer for the city. The duties of this officer have been performed heretofore by three distinct officers, and his duties are many and his responsibilities great. He is Clerk to the Council at all its sessions, and collector of taxes with power to sell real and personal property in case of default in payment. He receives and disburses the funds of the city on orders properly approved by the Council.

I would advise the Council to be cautious in paying any claims except upon its orders and to see that correct vouchers of all claims paid, are duly filed and kept by the Clerk. There was a tendency under the former Charter to be lax in this respect, and it is my desire, with your co-operation, to continue the good work begun along this line and place the municipal affairs of our city on a strict business basis. The creation of this office and extra duties imposed is a step in the right direction. I hope that each member of your Honorable body will look to the interest of the entire city as well as the different sections each individually represent and that you may co-operate with me with such unity and concerted action that our city will not only maintain the rapid pace it has now taken, but advance and progress in a greater measure, if possible, in order that good government and commercial prosperity may continue and increase.

There are several sections of our city, especially that portion beyond Lake Humphreys and on Camden Avenue, which are being rapidly built up with modern homes and where new streets have recently been opened. I would respectfully recommend that every encouragement possible be extended the citizens of these sections of our city in the way of grading streets and lighting the same.

Another important matter is that of police protection for the residence sections of our city as well as the several depots. The rapid growth of Salisbury makes it necessary to extend this department of our city government beyond the business sections.

A still more important subject is that of extending the water main to the new and growing section of our city. The contract with the Salisbury Water Company should be of such a character as to compel the extension of the mains commensurate with the city's growth, at the expense of the Company. Every section of Salisbury should be amply covered for fire service.

I would respectfully suggest that the attention of the city assessors be called to the fact that there is much property in the city which is not taxed in accordance with the prevailing prices of real estate at the present time and that they be instructed when assessing to be careful to include all property assessable which is not assessed.

And now, gentlemen, after giving the matter of appointments due and careful consideration, sincerely trust this same will meet with your approval and that each of you will join with me in the general supervision of the several branches of our city government, and I respectfully ask the indulgence and co-operation of our citizens to the end that we may have peace and good will toward our fellow citizens.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES E. HARPER,
Mayor of Salisbury.

FARMERS ORGANIZING

Over Wicomico County, Into Branches Of The Peninsula Produce Exchange. Another Meeting In Salisbury This Afternoon. What Is Being Accomplished.

There was a gratifying meeting of Wicomico farmers, truckers and fruit growers at the Court House, last Saturday, interested in formation of a local branch of the recently organized Peninsula Produce Exchange of Maryland.

Mr. Harvey B. Morris was elected chairman of the meeting and Mr. B. H. Parker, secretary. Mr. Morris, who has made a thorough study of the Exchange ways and means, placed the proposition before the house in a comprehensive and impressive way, and referred to the profitable operation of the Virginia Exchange. A committee, as follows, was appointed from various shipping points to solicit subscriptions for stock and report at another meeting to be held in Salisbury this afternoon at 8 o'clock:

Wm. M. Cooper, Hebron and Maryland; M. A. Davis, Pittville; Arthur Parsons, Parsonsburg; Harry Messick and Dr. J. I. T. Long, Eden; Josephus H. Hayman, Fruitland; Thos. A. Melson and Marion Hearn, Rockwalking; John T. Jones, Willards.

Fifteen men in Salisbury took the required stock. In order to have a Local Exchange at each of these points it is necessary to subscribe for stock to the amount of $150.00, the shares being $5.00 each. There must be at least 10 shareholders at each shipping point. There may be many more. When each shipping point has raised the necessary amount of stock, it is entitled to one director on the general board of the Peninsula Exchange, and each director will have a voice in electing the general officers and the location of the general office.

It is to be hoped that Wicomico will form as many and as strong local branches as possible, and then Salisbury, with her superior facilities will be in direct line for the general office and headquarters.

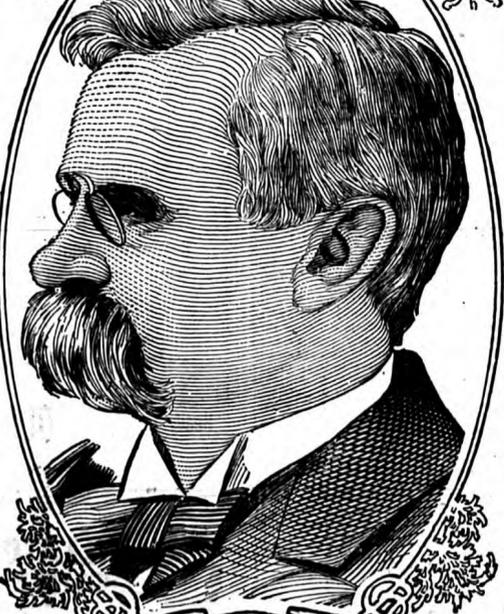

Should Be Largely Remunerative.

The Peninsula Produce Exchange have opened their office in Pocomoke City and are now starting in shipping berries through their local agents at different shipping points where they have organized. There has been much time and attention paid to the organization of this Exchange trying to put it on an economical and paying basis from the start. It is recognized by those in charge that it will be absolutely necessary to have a most thorough man as General Manager to be named at an early date in order to arrange for the shipments of Potatoes and other products.

Mr. Orlando Harrison, President, accepted an invitation to Orlan, Va., this week to meet the officers of the Virginia Exchange, Mr. Wm. C. Harsh, President, and Mr. A. J. Smith, Secretary and Treasurer, who have been very kind spirited in asking Mr. Harrison to go to visit them and co-operate with them in every way to make both Exchanges a success. It is very gratifying indeed to the officers of the new Exchange that the friendly spirit comes from our Virginia neighbors. We propose to keep in close touch with them, to learn whatever there is in the country to sell in the way of farming products and in this way we can control the market very much easier and deliver a much better price for the producers. If every subscriber of the Exchange and every fruit grower or trucker that has not subscribed will take at least one share and make himself acquainted with the Exchange it will no doubt be quite beneficial; this is a chance for the farmer, an opportunity for the merchant and to all others who are in business on the Peninsula to encourage our people to grow more Potatoes, peaches, and vegetables and to find a market for them in a more satisfactory way than has been in the past. It is the full belief of the officers in charge that this Exchange can and will be made a grand success for the entire Eastern Shore if every one will get directly at what is to be done and not delay.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Professor Powell, of Washington, D. C., Recommends Pe-ru-na.

PROF. W. B. POWELL
SUPE PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Prof. W. B. Powell, of Washington, D. C., is one of the best known educators in the country. For fifteen years he has been Superintendent of the Public Schools of Washington, which is considered the best school system in the United States. Professor Powell is the author of a number of school books which are used throughout the United States.

This well known gentleman does not hesitate to recommend Peruna to his country friends and acquaintances all over the United States. In a recent letter from 1410 N. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., to Dr. Hartman, he says: "Persuaded by a friend I have used Peruna as a tonic, and I take pleasure in recommending your remedy. Peruna is indeed a good medicine and should be in every household."—W. B. POWELL.

SUCH straightforward evidence cannot be overlooked. What the common people say carries weight, but when a man of national prominence says "Peruna should be used in every household," it is a significant fact to the increasing prominence and undoubted efficacy of Peruna.

Peruna is of national fame as a catarrh remedy. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession. It makes diseased mucous membranes healthy, whether it is the mucous membrane lining the nose, throat, lungs, stomach, kidneys or pelvic organs. It cures various diseases of all these organs, because two-thirds of the ills of mankind are due to catarrh. With healthy mucous membranes climatic diseases lose their terror, the system is enabled to throw off contagion, and health follows inevitably.

Mr. A. T. Wood, Mt. Sterling, Ky., writes:

"For many years I have been a sufferer from catarrh, and have spent time and money with physicians and used many kinds of remedies which were 'guaranteed cures,' but in every case it was money thrown away. I resorted to no benefit whatever from them. In my seemingly vain search for relief I purchased a bottle of Peruna, having no confidence in it whatever at the time. This was about one year ago, and I began to improve and was able to attend to my business without being constantly hampered by every kind of pain known to a human being. My hearing, which was almost entirely gone in one ear, got very much better. The medicine not only seems to cure, but to prevent disease.

"This winter when every one was suffering from the grippe, I stood like a stone wall, absolutely proof against it. I am not a believer in 'patent medicines,' having found the majority of them false, but I do not hesitate to recommend Peruna as the best medicine for catarrh the world has ever seen. I keep a bottle of it at home constantly and shall continue to do so, because I believe it to be the best medicine on earth. I never leave home that I don't put a bottle of it in my grip.

Mr. Evan D. Bowen, Dodge City, Kan., Conductor on the A. T. & S. F. R. R., writes: "I have had catarrh of the stomach for seven years, and I began to think that I never was going to be cured. At the time I began taking Peruna, I was unable to make more than one or two trips on the road at a time, not being able to keep anything on my stomach. I then weighed 108 pounds. I have been taking Peruna since that time and have never lost a trip, and now weigh 200 pounds."—Evan D. Bowen.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, please at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

BERLIN.

Miss Hennie Mitchell, after a two weeks visit whilst her sister, Miss Carrie was under treatment, returned from Baltimore Thursday.

Quite a week Miss Parsons made her bow at the home of our very popular dentist on Broad Street very early Monday morning. We wish the young lady a very large and prosperous day.

The Atlantic Casino and bath rooms at Ocean City are rented and for the coming summer will again be under the management of John O. Rayne of Berlin. The casino has always been one of the attractions on the front walk and both the added and intended improvements will undoubtedly keep it up to its former reputation.

Mrs. Samuel Quillen, who has been a sufferer for the past year and died last Saturday morning from cancer of the stomach was buried Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Brooks, assisted by the Rev. Geo. C. Williams at the old family burying ground near town. Jas. E. Wise & Co., funeral directors.

The season's graduates of the Darlington Seminary, West Chester, Pa., have issued cards and beautifully prepared program of the exercises for commencement week from the first to the 9th, of June. Miss Margaret Harmonson of our town is a member of the class.

Mrs. Ludlam, wife of Capt. Christopher Ludlam, of Ocean City, left Monday to attend the funeral of her father, Franklin R. Nichols, who died at Clayton, New Jersey, and was buried at Cape May Court House, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Albert Mott, inspector engineer and contractor, of Baltimore City, accompanied by his wife and two children for the past ten days have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Wm. Hearn at Ocean City.

Capt. Ludlam of Ocean City spent a portion of Wednesday in our city on business.

The deepest sympathy has been expressed and still felt for the recent condition of Mrs. David Howard, wife of the Rev. David Howard, Salisbury's rector.

Every painter, white-washer and paper hanger in town of any note is busy. If there are any artists of that description hanging around loose and wish work come to Berlin.

The sale of the late Sidney Adkins' household effects on Bay Street were disposed of at auction Tuesday morning. Mr. Eugene Adkins with J. D. Rayne's assistance disposed of the goods.

William Todd's miniature circus, one of the cleanest and most attractive entertainments ever given here for the money pitched their tent Monday opposite the Pennsylvania depot and for a week have proved themselves a drawing card from start to finish. Two of our citizens have not missed a performance and no doubt will consider themselves lost after Todd takes his departure.

Wheat grown in 1903 was of an inferior quality in a number of our states consequently making a poor and inferior grade of goods. All those wishing a good article do not hesitate to ask their merchant for the Berlin flour. If not in stock—the most of them keep it—insist on them procuring it for you, then you get good flour, made from wheat grown in Lancaster County, Pa., the richest Agricultural District in the United States.

Mr. Harvey Rayne, of Wilmington, is spending this week with his mother, Mrs. Rosie Rayne, Pitts Street.

Mrs. Dr. James C. Dirickson left Monday and with daughter, Mrs. Edward Tyler who joined her from Baltimore, are making Philadelphia a visit.

Mr. Edward Tyler from Baltimore has been a visitor of Berlin for a couple days this week and Jones who accompanied him is a welcome guest of Dr. Jim's.

The first out of town game played by the Junior Ball club was captured and won by the Snow Hill boys Monday afternoon at our county seat, 19 to 14.

Mr. Robert Adkins' new house is nearing completion and when painted will be an ornament to that part of the town. Mr. William T. Collins has not only finished the addition to his place of business but has already commenced to stock it with new goods.

Mr. Frank Baker now located with the fishing squad on Chincoteague Island paid his sister, Mrs. James Nock a visit this week on William Street.

Mr. William Cropper, wife and five children in the family have moved and are now residing in Delmar, Del.

Mr. Geo. Washington Purnell, who has been connected with Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for a number of years, formerly of Berlin, with wife and two bright and interesting girls have been visitors at the home of Mrs. Hannah Taylor on Main Street.

Mr. Harvey Long, a friend of the family from Baltimore who came Saturday night to attend Mrs. Samuel Quillen's funeral Sunday afternoon left Monday.

At noon Wednesday under the supervision of Capt. Harry Adams, Messrs Leo and Edward Carey, of Baltimore, also Mr. Levin Layton of Taylorville, boarded the captain's launch at Haze's landing Wednesday with a full commissary store, cook included and headed for Tingle's Island several miles down the bay. They are fully prepared for game of all kinds, but are expecting birds, crabs, and fish as specialties. Perhaps next week we will be able to have some of the results. Hope the boys will have a good time at any rate and return no worse for the trip.

Dr. Jno. W. Pitts, Mrs. Geo. Powell and Mr. A. F. Powell are the first this spring to observe the town ordinance and have greatly improved the frontage of each property by the laying of brick pavement. There was no side street in town after the thaw last winter decent for a woman to navigate. We hope there are many more of our usually up to date property holders that then realized the necessity and have not yet forgotten the importance and comfort of a modern pavement instead of pure unadorned mud up to your shoe tops.

Among the guests participating and enjoying one of the most pleasant evenings of the season at an entertainment Thursday of last week in honor of Miss Delle Collins' 18th birthday at the home of Mr. Demard Collins near town were: Misses Lena Bowen, Myra Powell, Jennina Massey, Mand Bowen, Hilda Williams, Virgilyn Traylor, Dr. G. Grover Ewell, Messrs James B. Dirickson, Harry Jarvis, Guy Boston, Samuel Mumford, William Hanley, Norman Peters.

The bulk of an old iron ship loaded with iron ore which stranded and sunk many years ago was partially blown to pieces Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock. The stranded vessel has been a menace to navigation which the United States government has seemingly at last realized and decided to remove. Mr. Albert Mott, who has been at the beach for the past ten days with his wife and two children, inspector and contractor of Baltimore City had full charge of all arrangements using some four tons of dynamite for the first explosion. The 12 or more miles at sea and some distance up the beach the explosion was very distinctly heard and the concussion shook houses and windows at Ocean City. Quantities of fish were either killed outright or stunned which the fisherman had expected and made proper preparation for. They returned to their landing with 27 barrel of Porgies, one of the choicest fish that's caught on our shores.

The household furnishings were brought by boat to Manltowoc and there stored until the dwelling could be completed. With unabated energy the late erected a rude cabin of tamarack logs.

It was not until the end of the third year that the dwelling was completed, owing to the difficulty of transporting material. With the driving of the last nail the whole of the land's fortune had taken wings. Fifty acres of the best land had been cleared and sown to wheat and oats, but it produced barely enough to provide the meager necessities of life, and by the time the house was ready for occupancy they were in a dire straits indeed.

Shortly after the mansion had been fitted up with its sumptuous furnishings the land's wife died, succumbing to the change of climate. The sickening emanations from the dank expanse of marsh and swamp, the wet and the cold, all conspired to produce that disease so fatal in its effect and so insidious in its approach. One by one the three children sickened and died of the same malady until only the laird himself remained, broken hearted, shattered in mind and body. Finally he, too, succumbed and was laid to rest in a grave beside the four other members of his family.

Just as Mary, A Baltimorean fond of arguing religious questions and of "pinning down" those with whom he came in contact asked an east Baltimore minister, in the course of a conversation several days ago, if he believed "all of the Bible."

"I do," instantly replied the good man. "Every bit of it?" Insisted the questioner dubiously. "Most certainly do," was the pastor's reply.

"Do you really believe the story about Balaam and the ass?" asked the man with a slight smile. "Most assuredly I do," responded the clergyman unhesitatingly.

"And you firmly believe," insisted the inquisitive friend, "that the ass Balaam rode under the tree spoke like a person?"

"Yes, I do," asserted the minister with just the slightest suspicion of irritation in his voice. "Well," asked the questioner in an I've-got-you-now tone, "can you tell me how it could be possible under any circumstances you can imagine for an ass to talk like a person?"

"Ah, that is easy," asserted the minister, laying his hand on the man's shoulder. "It is just as easy, my friend, for a man to talk like a man as it is for a man to talk like an ass."

The man had nothing more to say.—Baltimore Sun.

A Transvaal Wedding Trip. A Johannesburg paper tells of a marriage at Lydenburg. It says: "The bride wore her traveling gown, and immediately after the ceremony the groom's feet were begun in a cart drawn by eight mules. When about half the distance was made, it was found that the cart was in flood, and passage was impossible. The route was retraced for about ten miles, and temporary accommodation was secured at a farmhouse. Next day, however, the river proved just as impassable, and thus for four days the honeymoon couple were held up by the elements. On the third day a traveler attempted to cross with a cart and two horses, but the attempt proved disastrous, for the horses and cart were swept away and were never seen again. The passenger probably owed his life to the fact that he became entangled in a barbed wire fence. Two days after this, the river having subsided somewhat, the help of some transport drivers was requisitioned, and the cart and team were floated across, with the help of strong ropes at the other side."

Readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. The Supreme Court of the State of Kansas has rendered this opinion: "A public school teacher who, for the purpose of quieting the pupils and preparing them for their regular studies, repeats the Lord's Prayer and the twenty-third Psalm as a morning exercise, in which none of the pupils are required to participate, is not conducting a form of religious worship or teaching a sectarian or religious doctrine."

SCOTCH DREAMER'S PALACE.

All That Remains of Munkittrick's Colonization Scheme. To few passing an old building not many miles from Hayton would it appear as romantic. Fifty years ago nevertheless, it had for its occupants people of high birth, says a Hayton (Wis.) correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel, people of wealth and refinement. Inside it was a veritable palace. Here works of art, costly furniture, everything that a fastidious taste could dictate or wealth procure adorned it.

In 1833 a Scottish land named Munkittrick, owning vast estates in Perthshire, conceived the idea of emigrating to America and founding a colony of his countrymen in the west.

He disposed of his property in Scotland and, through a New York land agency, purchased an immense tract of land in what is now Manitowoc county, about ten miles east of this village. He was assured that, though unimproved, the land was wonderfully fertile, and could be made to yield a competency for 1,000 people.

The laird, possessing the confidence and esteem of his former tenants, easily induced numbers of them to make the voyage across the Atlantic with him. Lured by tales of the wonderful fertility of the land and their faith in what he had induced to wander so far from their homes, Munkittrick further depleted his waning fortune by sending the company home with the exception of a few families who voluntarily cast their lot with his.

The laird proposed to erect a palace in the wilderness and furnish it in a style the like of which the country had never seen. The household furnishings were brought by boat to Manitowoc and there stored until the dwelling could be completed. With unabated energy the laird erected a rude cabin of tamarack logs.

It was not until the end of the third year that the dwelling was completed, owing to the difficulty of transporting material. With the driving of the last nail the whole of the land's fortune had taken wings. Fifty acres of the best land had been cleared and sown to wheat and oats, but it produced barely enough to provide the meager necessities of life, and by the time the house was ready for occupancy they were in a dire straits indeed.

The sickening emanations from the dank expanse of marsh and swamp, the wet and the cold, all conspired to produce that disease so fatal in its effect and so insidious in its approach. One by one the three children sickened and died of the same malady until only the laird himself remained, broken hearted, shattered in mind and body. Finally he, too, succumbed and was laid to rest in a grave beside the four other members of his family.

Just as Mary, A Baltimorean fond of arguing religious questions and of "pinning down" those with whom he came in contact asked an east Baltimore minister, in the course of a conversation several days ago, if he believed "all of the Bible."

"I do," instantly replied the good man. "Every bit of it?" Insisted the questioner dubiously. "Most certainly do," was the pastor's reply.

"Do you really believe the story about Balaam and the ass?" asked the man with a slight smile. "Most assuredly I do," responded the clergyman unhesitatingly.

"And you firmly believe," insisted the inquisitive friend, "that the ass Balaam rode under the tree spoke like a person?"

"Yes, I do," asserted the minister with just the slightest suspicion of irritation in his voice. "Well," asked the questioner in an I've-got-you-now tone, "can you tell me how it could be possible under any circumstances you can imagine for an ass to talk like a person?"

"Ah, that is easy," asserted the minister, laying his hand on the man's shoulder. "It is just as easy, my friend, for a man to talk like a man as it is for a man to talk like an ass."

The man had nothing more to say.—Baltimore Sun.

A Transvaal Wedding Trip. A Johannesburg paper tells of a marriage at Lydenburg. It says: "The bride wore her traveling gown, and immediately after the ceremony the groom's feet were begun in a cart drawn by eight mules. When about half the distance was made, it was found that the cart was in flood, and passage was impossible. The route was retraced for about ten miles, and temporary accommodation was secured at a farmhouse. Next day, however, the river proved just as impassable, and thus for four days the honeymoon couple were held up by the elements. On the third day a traveler attempted to cross with a cart and two horses, but the attempt proved disastrous, for the horses and cart were swept away and were never seen again. The passenger probably owed his life to the fact that he became entangled in a barbed wire fence. Two days after this, the river having subsided somewhat, the help of some transport drivers was requisitioned, and the cart and team were floated across, with the help of strong ropes at the other side."

Readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. The Supreme Court of the State of Kansas has rendered this opinion: "A public school teacher who, for the purpose of quieting the pupils and preparing them for their regular studies, repeats the Lord's Prayer and the twenty-third Psalm as a morning exercise, in which none of the pupils are required to participate, is not conducting a form of religious worship or teaching a sectarian or religious doctrine."

Letter To Farmers Planters Co.

Salisbury, Md. Dear Sir: If it took 10 gallons to paint your house and take 8 with Devco, we save you $8 or $10; for painting costs two or three times as much as paint. Mr. Ezra Rathmell, Williamsport, Pa. always used 11 gallons of mixed paint for his house; Devco took 6. But that isn't all; that's only first coat; how long will it last? The paint that goes further in covering, wears best too. All paint, true paint, and full measure, are on one side; part paint, false paint, and short measure are on the other. What can you expect? Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co. The L. W. Guntly Co. sells our paint.

Washington county anti-alcohol people are much chagrined over the new liquor law, which provides for the punishment of a minor who buys liquor just the same as the dealer who makes the sale. Under the law, however, a minor need not testify, as the law does not require a person to give evidence that will incriminate himself.

"Quick lunch," is one of the commonest of city signs. The sign doesn't say "a healthy lunch of good food—the character of the food is not mentioned, it's just a quick lunch—eat and get away. Is it any wonder that the stomach breaks down? Food is not at it, it's indigestible and injurious to the system, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Naturally the stomach should be reformed and a diet of simple food for the stomach. But the average method of life is abnormal and while this continues there will always be a demand for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the only medicine which can be relied upon to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It cures when all else fails.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS. By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced.

EIGHT DOCTORS And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good.

"About five years ago I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would very nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything that I was told to use for fully three years, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none of them seemed to do me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I first began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings when I got up, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, and I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work mornings I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the wraps to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves in bed. In fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, the greatest of all great skin cures. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a 50c box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

MONTE CARLO GAMBLERS.

A Side Light on the Methods of the Casino Managers.

In Sir Hiram Maxim's book on Monte Carlo, just published in London, he tells this story of how the managers of the great gambling establishment "boom" things for the benefit of their money making game. Referring to the methods of the bank in its dealings with Lord Rosslyn of the famous "system" and the late Sam Lewis, he says:

"Upon one occasion these two gentlemen approached a trente-et-quarante table, and each staked a maximum of 12,000 francs upon black. Black came up, and the bank paid them 24,000 francs. Again they staked the maximum on black, and again black came up. They continued staking on black till they had scored seven consecutive wins, when the bank was said to be broken. A bell was rung, and an official of the bank approached with considerable ceremony. A demand was made, also with a considerable amount of ceremony, for more money; again, with considerable ceremony, it was delivered, and the play went on, black coming up every time.

"The bank was again broken; more money was sent for—more ceremony. This time there was great excitement, hundreds of people were crowding about the table, and everybody that could stake a louis staked on black, and black continued to come up for seventeen times.

"Then, on the eighteenth coup, which was red, Lord Rosslyn and Mr. Lewis each lost 12,000 francs.

"This," says Sir Hiram, "was the longest run I ever witnessed at Monte Carlo. However, my suspicions were aroused. I did not believe for a moment that the bank had actually been broken. I knew that there had been a great deal of play that day, and that the winnings at this particular table must have been heavy indeed.

"I therefore remained to see the money taken from the table, when I found that it was exactly as I had expected. There was at least a peck of large bank notes. It had not been necessary for the bank to send for money at all; this had only been done for effect.

"It was telegraphed all over the world that Lord Rosslyn and Mr. Sam Lewis had broken the bank three consecutive times in a single evening. True, the bank had lost money, but they turned it into a valuable advertisement."

Pingpong Ball Fooled the Crews.

During a piazza game of pingpong one of the balls was sent a distance out over the lawn, where a crowd seized it and bore it off in triumph, evidently thinking it was an egg. After much pecking, from all of which the feeble little ball bounced away unbroken, the crowd had an excited consultation with several of his fellows and then deliberately carried the ball to the top of a high tree and let it drop. In the assembly of black feathered experimenters gathered around in amazement. Was there ever such a remarkable egg? It had fallen from a height that played havoc with their eggs and their little ones as well and yet survived intact! Then one after another trumped on it, cawing loudly all the while.

At last, in sheer exhaustion and disgust, they gave it up, flew to the top of their favorite tree and still cawing loudly, watched one of the pingpong players come out from the house and carry off this invincible egg that had baffled their boldest attacks.—Boston Waterman.

The Luxury of Debt.

Since the Indian has laid down his tomahawk and come in off the war-path, the post trader's store on an Indian reservation has become the general gathering place where the white and red men meet on a common level with a feeling of good fellowship. The proneness of the white man to purchase beyond his ability to pay has been speedily imitated by the red man. If a personal appeal for credit does not avail, he usually attempts a written one. The following is a copy of a letter written by Mark Long Pumpkin, who acquired some knowledge of the English language at one of the government boarding schools:

Big Turkey Camp, Wagon, So. Dak. My dear Trader, I shake my hands with you with a good heart, sir. You know I am your honest friend and now I would like to owed you some things. This is what I owed you for: A blue pants for $1.50, just one perfume 25 cents worth, a coffee for 50 cents and one gum to chew for five cents worth. Now for this you can have charge against me always on paper, and I paid you when I sold my cattle. Your truly honest friend, MR. MARK LONG PUMPKIN.

Blackmail in Russia.

In an important town in Siberia there is a solitary member of the Anglo-Saxon race who has established a successful business despite the restrictions imposed upon him. Periodically, however, he is reminded that he is there only of sufferance by the receipt of a letter from the all powerful governor, which reads something like this:

Dear Sir—It is proposed to raise a monument to the beloved memory of the late emperor, and knowing how deeply interested you are in all that affects the people among whom you live, I have ventured to put down your name for a thousand rubles. Please remit the amount as early as possible.

At one time the monument is to an emperor, another time to a national poet or a historian or a general. Needless to say, the proposals never get beyond the committee stage, the government constituting the committee. The demands are simply a polite form of blackmail, of which the merchant is well aware, but they must be met, otherwise he would not be allowed to remain in the place.—Leslie's Weekly.

Cost of Seeing the World's Fair.

From any point within 300 miles of St. Louis a person may travel to the World's Fair this year, view the wonders of the Exposition for three days and expend the same money he would pay in any other year for train fare alone. This is an absolute fact.

The Western Passenger Association has agreed on a ten day excursion rate, 250 miles or more from St. Louis, for one and one-half fare for the round trip.

AN INDIAN LEGEND.

The Shoshone Shining Shield and His Mysterious Brilliance.

When A. H. Craig of Kansas City, general superintendent of the Boland-Darnell Coal company, finished locating a new shaft for the Sheridan Fuel company, he probably had no idea that he had accomplished anything else than a preparation of the way for the development of the largest coal mine west of the Mississippi. But in reality his work has brought to light another valuable mineral and has opened the path to greater wealth for the Kansas City and other owners of the property and has disclosed a pretty Indian tradition.

Through the years which reach to the days of Shoshone power and place, amid the red tribes of western plain and mountain, still gleams the story of the Shining Shield. This bright particular star of Shoshone song and story was as mysterious as it was dazzling. Every Shoshone brave wore a shield as a necessary and tribal incident of his war equipment, and these shields were cared for and polished until they glowed again, but the Shining Shield needed neither care nor polish and yet ever glittered immaculate.

The story of the Shining Shield begins with the captivity among the Shoshones of a white man brought to the Shoshone tepees from the far south, and presumably a Spaniard. This man, known among the Shoshones as the Iron Beater, was a cunning artificer in iron and steel, and the keen lance heads, tomahawks, arrow points and scalping knives of his forge fires often turned the tide of battle in Shoshone favor.

Iron Beater was adopted into the Shoshone tribe and lived contentedly and in high honor among his new people. An especial favorite of the iron forger was a young chieftain called Floating Feather, and to this fortunate warrior Iron Beater one day gave the Shining Shield. None but the maker of the shield knew the secret of its permanent and phenomenal polish, and the secret was buried in Iron Beater's grave.

The prowess of Floating Feather was equal to the luster of the Shining Shield, and he became a mighty warrior. When, in the plenitude of his way and strength, Floating Feather was gathered unto his red fathers, there was buried with him, as an especial mark of tribal esteem and remembrance, the Shining Shield. But whence came the mysterious and magnificent polish which made the Shining Shield a marvel in Shoshone eyes and which is told in Shoshone story and chanted in Shoshone song?

Generations after the shield itself had passed forever from sight in the grave of the great Floating Feather, and when the very Shoshone nation is finally passing, is read the story of the mystic shield in the late discovery in the Sheridan vicinity—a rare and costly molybdenite—a mineral whose mission is the placing of the most desirable and lustrous polish on steel. The iron beater was a metallurgist, as well as a cunning artificer, and with the molybdenite he did the polish the Shining Shield of the Shoshones.—Kansas City Times.

Belt of Calm at Pacific End of Canal.

At the extreme end of the canal the elements which a sailing vessel may expect to encounter will arise from a southerly breeze rather than a lack of it. At the western extremity, on the other hand, these conditions will be completely reversed.

Upon emerging from the canal into the Pacific ocean a vessel will enter an extensive belt of calms and light airs, which render navigation by sail more tedious than in any other frequented portion of the sea. The width of this region varies at some points wide, at others narrow. In that portion of the north Pacific included between the American coast and the meridian of 120 degrees west it reaches a maximum, extending in latitude from a point one or two degrees north of the equator to Cape San Lucas, the southern extremity of Lower California. In both approaching and leaving Panama, irrespective of the port from which or toward which bound, a sailing vessel must of necessity navigate a greater or less width of the belt of calms, and in estimating for a given voyage the saving of time effected by the use of the canal the delay arising from this cause must not be neglected.—National Geographic Magazine.

Visitors to Mecca.

A recent writer on Arabia gives quite a list of adventurous travelers who have visited the holy city of Mecca, which is not open to any but true believers in Mohammed. He says: "We can name Italians, Vartema and Finati; Germans, Wild, Seetzen and Von Maltzan; Englishmen, Pitts, Burton, Keane; a Swiss, Burchardt; a Spaniard, Badia; a Swede, Wallin; a Dutchman, Hurgrojn; a Frenchman, Courtellemont, Niebuhr heard of a French surgeon and two Englishmen; Burton quotes an unnamed pilgrim; Douglas heard of more than one Frank and himself met an Italian, calling himself Ferrari, who was on his way to Mecca with the Persian hajj; Pitts found an Irishman in the town; Maltzan says that Leon Roches, French consul in Tunis, had made the pilgrimage, as had also an English sailor, Vartema, WILL. PITTS, SEETZEN, BURKHARDT, WALLIN, BURTON and KEANE visited Medina also." The Dutch Arabist, Snouck Hurgronje, spent six months in the holy city as late as 1858.

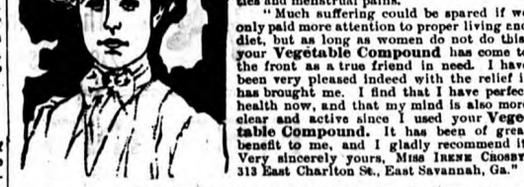

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N. Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered miserably for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restful sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me. "I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put away all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Miss NELLIE HOLMES, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Irene Crosby, prominent in Social Life in East Savannah, Ga., adds her testimonial to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—"It always gives me pleasure to find an article of real value and unquestioned merit. I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound well calculated to relieve and cure the various troubles arising from irregularities and menstrual pains. "Much suffering could be spared if we only paid more attention to proper living and diet, but as long as women do not do this, your Vegetable Compound has come to the front as a true friend in need. I have been very pleased indeed with the relief it has brought me. I find that I have perfect health now, and that my mind is also more clear and active since I used your Vegetable Compound. It has been of great benefit to me, and I gladly recommend it. Very sincerely yours, Miss IRENE CROSBY, 313 East Charlton St., East Savannah, Ga."

Remember that every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her case or symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and is cheerfully given to any ailing woman who asks for it.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY

"ORRINE,"

ABSOLUTELY SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stiffens the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and raising the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membrane.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. Can be given secretly if desired.

Cure Effected or Money Refunded.

Ask your druggist whom you know what he thinks of ORRINE; he will endorse our statements as truthful in every respect. If ORRINE fails to cure we will refund you every penny paid for it as cheerfully as we took it.

No Sanitarium Treatment or Publicity! No Absence from home or loss of time!

Mothers, wives and sisters, you cannot cure those who are afflicted with this most terrible of all diseases by your fervent prayers, or eyes red with tears, nor by your hope that they may stop drinking. It can be done only with ORRINE. You have the remedy—will you use it? If you desire to cure without the knowledge of the patient, buy ORRINE No. 1; if the patient desires to be cured of his own free will, buy ORRINE No. 2. Full directions found in each package. Price $1 per box.

We will gladly furnish a treatment free of cost to any physician to demonstrate that ORRINE is a positive specific for drunkenness.

AMERICA'S GREAT LUMBER INDUSTRY.

Russia leads the world in the planting of forests; the United States in their wholesale destruction. Yet this vast destruction means vast wealth to the nation, and is the result, in part, of that cry going up over the entire civilized world, "More Wood."

Few Americans, in fact, few lumbermen, realize the extent of the lumber industry of this country. We read with wonder the value of the iron, the coal, and the petroleum produced in the United States. Likewise, the production of American gold and silver means tremendous wealth. The vastness of the wheat crop is almost beyond conception. Yet the value of all iron, coal, petroleum, gold, silver, platinum, nickel, aluminum, zinc, lead, copper, and wheat produced in the United States during 1893 was $126,000,000 less than the value of the timber crop five years earlier.

In 1900, lumbering ranked fourth among the great manufacturing industries of America, exceeding even the leader, iron and steel, in the number of men employed and the capital invested. In America, this industry is more highly developed than in any other part of the world.

There are four distinct lumber-producing districts in the United States, namely, the Northeastern, comprising the northern New England States, New York and Pennsylvania; the Lake, comprising the States of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota; the Pacific, comprising the States of Washington, Oregon and California; and the Southern Yellow Pine, included in eleven States, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Missouri.

Of these four lumbering districts, the Southern today stands first. Here are situated 48 per cent. of the saw mills, here is employed 80 per cent. of the labor, here is produced 88 per cent. of all American lumber manufactured from coniferous trees, and here is the region which at present is taking the greatest strides forward in development.

The most important timber of this section is yellow pine. All other varieties, taken together in comparison, form only a small aggregate.—From "The Yellow Pine Lumber Industry in the South," by W. Watson Davis, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for April.

Preparing To Enforce The Jim Crow Statue.

Light street wharf steamboat men have taken up the discussion of the best methods to be adopted in meeting the requirements of the Jim Crow law, passed by the Legislature last winter. The law will go into effect July 1.

Practically all of the steamboat companies have decided upon the same interpretation of the statute. By almost unanimous consent it is considered that no partitions of any kind are necessary in separating the portions of steamers set apart for white and colored passengers. The designation of certain parts of saloons and other portions of their vessels by definite and specific bounds, is considered to be all that is necessary without resorting to railings, curtains or other devices. At all of the offices, it was said Wednesday, no other provision would be made.

Mr. Thomas A. Joyner, superintendent of steamer lines of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company, was equally sanguine of being able to meet the requirements of the new law with comparative ease, and without serious trouble. Baltimore Herald.

Customers appreciate the advertisements of merchants, as it keeps them posted as to what they have to sell and where they can economize in buying.

Death Of Henry M. Stanley.

Sir Henry M. Stanley, the great African explorer, passed away on Tuesday, May 10th, in the city of London, after a short illness. His name was known wherever the sun shone on any part of the habitable globe. The names of Livingstone and Stanley are forever linked together. The discovery of the former by the latter at Ugiigi, Africa, November 10, 1871, sent a thrill of joy throughout the world. He was born in Wales sixty-three years ago. He worked his way as a cabin boy to New Orleans when he was but fifteen years old. He served in the Confederate army, early developed special ability as a newspaper correspondent, and in 1867 he began his connection with the New York Herald. In October, 1869, he started on his exploring expedition to find Livingstone. When this was accomplished he needed nothing more to fix the eyes of the world upon him. A firm believer in God and the Christian religion, a true friend of our immortal Bishop William Taylor, a man of indomitable will power and great physical endurance, he has left behind him an imperishable record. He was naturalized as a British subject in 1892, and at the time of his death was a member of the British Parliament.

Another Wicomico Son Wins The Gold Medal.

At the annual contest of the Belles Literary Society of Dickinson College for excellence in literary and oratorical ability Mr. Dayton E. McClain was awarded the gold medal. Mr. McClain's subject was "Uncrowned Kings of the Twentieth Century." His style was characterized by fierce invectives and scathing satire as he tore the mask from many a pretender, who, apparelled in the robes of righteousness, sits upon the throne of honor and power. As to those flowers born to blush unseen because of the oppression of the mighty, the speaker melted his audience when by the charm of his personality and the matchless rhythm of his diction, he told of the gentle fragrance and simple beauty of their lives. It was a powerful oration and displayed the artist's hand no less in the composition than in the delivery. Dickinson boys are proud of the representative from Wicomico county.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 22.—The present age of covetousness, its general, logical progression and culmination, is today the theme of the preacher. The text is Joshua vii, 25, "And all Israel stoned him with stones."

Few people have any adequate conception of the wealth and the luxury of the ancient peoples of the east. Ever and anon in our own day the newspapers contain accounts of the foolish extravagances of the sons of wealthy families, who show even greater genius in their ability to dissipate and scatter their enormous fortunes than their ancestors did in the accumulation of their wealth. By frequent repetition so prosaic and commonplace have these accounts become that special trains, private yachts and banquets costing ten and even twenty thousand dollars for a few selected friends attract the readers of the many newspapers hardly more than a passing notice. But even the wildest extravagances of modern times cannot equal those of the ancients. Then not only did Striccia and his friends move around their palaces in slippers of gold, but when out riding they bestrode horses shod with silver. If perchance one of these silver shoes should be wrenched from off a horse's hoof the supercilious and arrogant young Roman nobles commanded their servants to leave it lying in the dirt rather than stop the cavalcade to pick it up.

Extravagance were the ancients in the matter of personal apparel. "Pity the elder makes mention of an instance he knew of a bridal dress which was made entirely of the most precious kind of pearls, which were strung together, costing over 40,000,000 sesterter, or about $1,720,000 in American coin. Among the famous collections of personal apparel exhumed from the buried cities of the east by Dr. Heinrich Schliemann, the noted German archaeologist, we find that the ancient peoples of Troy and Mycenae once wore wristbands of gold, necklaces of gold and chains of precious stones, which glittered like the stars of midnight.

Extravagant were the ancient people of the east in their menu, as well as in the adornments of their banquet halls. Cains Suetonius Tranquillus, the Roman historian and biographer, makes mention of one supper given in honor of Vitellius, where there were served up to the guests at one sitting 2,000 most delicate fishes and 7,000 birds, while one immense dish, called the "shield," was composed entirely of the brains of peacocks and parrots. Suetonius also records the fact that fabulous sums were squandered each year in the Roman capital and the nobles might banquet off the tongues of nightingales. Like the count of Monte-Christo, they had all the most delicate tropical productions brought to their tables in midwinter as well as during the summer months.

Opulent but Wicked Jericho. The traveler in the far east as he roams through the ruins of ancient cities realizes how costly those ancient palaces must have been, even as from a broken column of the Alabaster you can infer how beautiful must have once been the palaces of the Spanish Moors. So in imagination you may picture the costly vases of myrrine, the priceless robes of silk, the heaps of Damascus rugs centuries old, the sword hilts jeweled with diamonds and other precious stones, the garments woven out of thread of gold and the emptied treasure vaults, with their countless prizes scattered about the palace halls in ungodly profusion on the day that Jericho fell. Jericho was always noted among the ancients as a city of fabulous wealth. But, though Herod the Great afterward erected his palaces in this "City of the Palm Trees" and though it was for a time the home of Mark Antony and Cleopatra, yet perhaps in all its history Jericho was never more opulent than on the day before its walls tattered before the blasts of the priests' rams' horns.

But, though the wealth of this captured eastern capital was prodigious, yet not one atom of gold, not one yard of silk, not one rug, not one diamond, was to be taken by the Hebrew soldiers for their own use. God told Joshua he would give this city into his soldiers' hands, but all the spoils of war of this city were to be God's and God's alone. But the night after the battle one Hebrew soldier, instead of staying in his own company and doing what he ought to have done, allowed his sinful curiosity to get the better of him. He went out among the ruins on his own account and began to explore. Then, as he saw the piled up heap of wealth, his heart began to covet what was not his, but God's. When he thought no one was looking, he stole a beautiful Babylonish garment, 200 shekels of silver and a wedge of gold and went and hid them in his tent. After many days the theft was exposed. Swift condemnation followed, and "all Israel stoned him with stones."

What interest can that ancient crime have to us of the twentieth century? It concerns us as a type of the sins of every age. Trace the progression of evil in Achan's time, and you will find the four stages by which sin still comes to culmination in the lives of the criminals of our day. From its other may be the spring blossoms growing upon that branch when the spring has placed the silver trumpet of the resurrection to nature's lip. The lust of the eye is nearly always accompanied by hesitation and timidity. You can see that fear in the flushed cheek of the young man who stands upon the street corner debating within himself whether or no he will enter the place of evil resort to which his dissipated friends are persuading him. When the mind is aroused, the hideous deformity of sin disappears, and longing seizes it in only what is attractive and anception to its tragic close it is even the same, and, though in this world it sometimes escapes detection and punishment, in the end it incurs the righteous judgment of God.

The Lust of the Eye.

The first stage in Achan's fatal course was what the apostle describes as "the lust of the eye." Achan's curiosity was excited. He wanted to see the wonderful treasures which were to be consecrated to the Lord. His first step in the downward path which ended in his destruction was taken when he rose from among his sleeping comrades, and, slipping past the guards, he wended his way among the shattered walls of the captured city. It was one act for Achan with sword and spear and shield to fight his way into that doomed capital, swarming with enemies, but it was another act, after the battle was won, for this brave soldier to arise at night and crawl past the sentinels and begin to examine the spoils which were not his and by right never could be his. It is one act, and a commendable one, for a young physician at the call of duty to go down to the place of evil resort in a large city to help some sufferer prostrated by physical infirmity. It is another act, and a very dangerous one, for a young man or a young woman, actuated merely by an idle curiosity, to join a strolling party to look upon vice and gloat over it as a spectacle. Sometimes temptations come to man in the ordinary walks of life, but in nearly every case, as with Achan, temptations to sin most successfully assail a man when that man is idling in a place where he has no business to be.

Let me illustrate my thought from an old scene in the Bible. How often has the downfall of David been the subject of the pessimist's diatribe! How he exults over the spectacle of the shepherd boy who conquered Goliath and climbed to the throne of Israel, yielding to his infatuation for a woman! "Yes, yes," he says, "men are all alike; the best of men are vile at heart. Here is the sweet psalmist of Israel, the perfect specimen of noble manhood, the man after God's own heart, so enslaved by his guilty passion for another man's wife that he slays the husband to get possession of her. No man is to be trusted."

Why David Sinned. Is that your idea of men? Then, my brother and sister, you have not read human nature aright. All men are not bad. But all men will be bad if they do not stick scrupulously to the word God has given them to do. The reason David sinned was not because he looked upon Bathsheba, the wife of Uriah, the Hittite. The reason David sinned was because, like Achan among the Jericho spoils, he was looking at Bathsheba who was not in looking at Bathsheba, who was the wife of Uriah, the Hittite, but in being, like Achan, among the Jericho spoils, in a place where he had no right to be.

My brother, when God calls you to do a work, he will always give you strength to resist the sinful temptations incident to that work. But when you go to a place where you have no right to go, you are liable to experience that lust of the eye which may be the beginning of a long succession of other sins.

Young man, beware of the temptation to absent yourself from the post of duty. Beware, when Sabbath day comes around, if your minister does not see you in the house of God. You may say you are tired. You may say you will stay at home and read the Bible and have your devotions in your room, but beware. In coming to a large city, do not let your new made friends entice you into a saloon, just to look at the beautiful pictures upon the walls, and the expensive mosaic on the floors, and the gorgeous rugs and the fine set banquets in the gambling halls. It is doubtful whether the step some cities have taken of ordering the removal of screens from the doors and the lifting of curtains from the windows of saloons on Sunday has not its disadvantages. It enables the policeman to see whether business is being done in the prohibited hours, and is so far an advantage, but it makes conspicuous the decorations and attractions of those places, and so tends to allure passers-by to visit them when they are open. Sin so often begins in the looking on temptation that the safest course for every one is to avoid the spectacle of it as far as possible.

Achan's First Step. Achan's "eye step," in the next place, was followed by his "covetous step." We say that the sin of covetousness is only one step beyond the first sin. But the second step of Achan's sin is even more dangerous than the first stage. "The one may be the bare, repulsive branch, with its sap frozen and congealed by the frosts of winter. The joyable. The second sin, the sin of covetousness, is blind to the scorpion's sting or the adder's hiss or the tiger's claw or the shark's threatening fin lifted like the black flag of the pirate over a threatening sea of green. The "sin of covetousness" is a summer stroll through woods filled with the aroma of wild flowers. It is the fantastic of the diseased brain of the optician, which the sinful imagination can place almost within the grasp of the dreamer. It is the most gorgeous of art castles, the most beautiful of Utopias, the sweetest of songs. It is the soft couch under the shadows of the overhanging tree branches, over which the satanic spiders are spinning a few beautiful silken threads which can be snatched in a day, but which in time may become as strong as links of steel.

Ah! but on that fatal night may not have gone forth with the premeditated idea of stealing that goodly Babylonish garment and the 200 shekels of silver and the wedge of gold, but after his eyes had rested on the gold and the silver and the goodly garment, desire was awakened, and his longing to possess them became irresistible.

"Oh," he said to himself, "I wish I had that garment! How beautiful it would look hanging from my shoulders; I wish I could have that lump of gold. It would protect me against poverty all the days of my life. And why should I not have them? There are so many spoils of war here these few treasures will not be missed."

Is not Achan, going to the place of execution, the history of almost every sinner? "Eye sin," first step; "covetous sin," second step. What we would like to do nearly always precedes what we will ultimately do if we get the chance. Rehazet, the sultan of the Ottoman empire, was defeated by Tamerlane in the famous battle of Angora. After the battle the Tartar conqueror called Rehazet into his tent and asked him how he would have treated Tamerlane if he had won. "Like a dog!" said the captured sultan. "I would have made you my footstool when I mounted my saddle, and when your services were not needed I would have chained you in a cage like a wild beast." Then Tamerlane replied, "Instead of treating you like a dog I shall show you mercy and treat you like a king." But all the kindness of Tamerlane went for naught. As with Rehazet's thoughts, so were his ultimate actions. He betrayed the noble kindness of Tamerlane and plotted his assassination. Then tradition has it that Tamerlane commanded that Rehazet should be treated like a dog and chained in a cage like a wild beast. So, my brother, like Achan of my text you and I can trace the degeneracy of our lives, if they are degenerate, by our evil thoughts, which always precede our evil actions. What we think will ultimately speak; what we desire, we will ultimately do.

Hard to Resist. Oh, the evil sin of covetousness! Beware! Beware! Evil thoughts are only a step from evil actions. Are we not all in danger of the covetous sin? Would you tell a lie for 10 cents? "No," you emphatically answer. "No, of course not—of course not." Would you tell a lie, just one little lie, for $100? "No," you answer again, but not so emphatically. Would you tell a lie for $10,000—a lie which in one sense would not hurt anybody? You look at me in a quizzical way and say, "Please don't ask me." Well, I do ask you. I ask you, not for the purpose of giving you the offer, but of finding out what is the condition of your thoughts. Achan coveted 200 shekels of silver and a wedge of gold, which must have been worth at least $10,000 in our money. He coveted them without the idea of hurting any one else, yet for that sin of covetousness, which was the foundation of all his sin, Achan had to die. Beware, O man, how you allow your evil thoughts to live. Achan's "eye sin" was followed by Achan's "covetous sin." Evil thoughts will ultimately be the parents of evil actions.

But now, in following the four fatal stages of Achan's sin, we find that his third step—the "finger step"—changes him before the world from an honest into a dishonest man. No sooner does Achan hide that Babylonish garment under his soldier's cloak and bug that wedge of gold and silver under his arm than before man, as well as God, he becomes amenable to human law. Once he was a criminal at heart, but not a criminal in act—in his own consciousness and in God's sight a thief, but before his fellow men an honest, upright man. No one knew that under that fair and respectable exterior there lurked the plunderer. Like Dr. Jekyll in Stevenson's famous allegory, he gave no sign of that demonic personality which he harbored within him. But since the boundary is passed, and the evil thoughts and desires have taken shape in acts, he is under the ban of justice, and ultimately, like Edward Everett Hale's well known character, he becomes a man from whom all but men like himself shrink—"a man without a country."

It is an awful catastrophe when a man by a direct sin of commission ruins the long record of what the world has regarded as an exemplary life. In the old Strasburg cathedral there is a famous clock. There not only the time of the day is told by the eclipses of the sun and moon are calculated for all time. There you can see the twelve apostles bowing before the Saviour and hear Peter's cock crowing, after the fisherman apostle had denied Christ three. There are the symbols of childhood and youth and manhood and old age. It is a wonderful clock—wonderful in all its various mechanisms. But history tells us that this clock was in ruins for many years. It was in ruins up to 1812. Why? After that year mechanics had constructed it, a fit of rage he completely destroyed it because the magistrates of Strasburg were going to put out his two eyes so that he could not build another clock like it for any other city. Thus, like the old clock builder of Strasburg, many and many a man, by one sinful act, can destroy the useful work of a lifetime. Achan's first sin was his "eye step." Achan's second sin was his "heart step," or "thought step." Achan's third sin was that which drove him at once out of brotherly fellowship with man. It was his "finger step" or his sin of commission. Cannot you read the stages of progression in the words of the human tragedy, "I saw," "I coveted," "I took?" Perhaps we can translate it in even a better way: "I looked," "I desired," "I did."

Achan's Covardice. But now, after the "finger step" has been committed, comes the fear and the horror. Aye, the "covetous step" may lead through an embowered garden. The buzzards may there be feathered in the gorgeous colors of a yellow center, which the sinful imagination can place almost within the grasp of the dreamer. It is the most gorgeous of art castles, the most beautiful of Utopias, the sweetest of songs. It is the soft couch under the shadows of the overhanging tree branches, over which the satanic spiders are spinning a few beautiful silken threads which can be snatched in a day, but which in time may become as strong as links of steel.

But when God called him forth he did even a meaner act than that. He turned and tried to throw the blame upon the woman by his side as he said, "Yes, I did eat, but the woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me, and I did eat." Oh, my friends, the criminal unconsciously reveals himself. The accusing voice of his conscience saps his manliness and robs him of his open demeanor. If there is not an honest heart in a man, his face and his bearing will not be honest. The lowered eyelid, the trembling hand, the shuffling foot—all reveal the error of his past. A despicable sin always makes a coward out of a man—without an exception, always, always. Sin by its very nature is only another name for cowardice. No sooner did Achan take the gold than he ran away and hid it; no sooner did he sin against God, then, like all other sinners, you try to get as far as possible away from God.

Shall we follow on and see the end of this human tragedy? Shall we stop and watch the twitching limbs of the Hebrew apostate who is being stoned to death by his late comrades in arms? No, I would not for one minute have you look at the death agony and the eternal despair. Death by execution is too terrible for any human eyes to witness, unless it is our duty to witness it. I remember, some years ago, I was invited, as one of the jurors, to be present in Sing Sing prison when a murderer was electrocuted for his crimes. I am always thankful that I missed the train and did not arrive in time for the execution. So, today, I would not lead you forth to where Achan is uttering his moans; but rather would I close this sermon with this thought: Terrible this sin is in its nature and its effects, there is a divine remedy for it. God, in his infinite pity, has had compassion on the sinner and has stretched out his hand to rescue him from his ruin and his despair. Not one does he offer pardon to the sinner, but deliverance from the power of sin. "Sin," he says to all who put their trust in Christ, "shall not have dominion over you." Though, like Achan, you may have fallen under its power, if you come to Christ and put your faith in him, you shall be saved. There is salvation for you, and peace for you, and eternal life for you, through the blood of Jesus Christ, who loves you and who has given his life for you in order that you might live.

His Real Birth-day. May this moment be the supreme moment for your eternal redemption and not eternal damnation. When Bertel Thorwaldsen, the great Danish sculptor, was asked the day of his nativity, he answered: "I was born on the 6th of March, 1797. Before then I did not exist." Just so, not the date of his physical birth. Thorwaldsen was physically born Nov. 10, 1770, and March 8, 1797, was the day that he was artistically born. That was the day when he first saw Rome. May this day be to you the best of all days, not the day when, like Achan, you must die, but as Bertel Thorwaldsen first saw Rome, so may this be the first day on which you can truly see the face of Jesus Christ and live.

Well Paid Literary Men. The "littery fellow" is usually pictured as a man who wears long hair, eyeglasses and an abstracted air. Cartoonists are fond of picturing him in a seedy frock coat in the act of importuning a brutal editor or a stage manager. Of course there are many of this type left, but it is said, there are at least a hundred men in New York who earn incomes ranging from $20,000 to $50,000 by their own unaided typewriters. At least New York is their market, but most of them prefer the suburbs for home. Clyde Fitch, Gus Thomas, John Kendrick Bangs and others of that class of successful writers all have fine homes within an hour's ride of the city, where they live and entertain on a scale that the literary man of a half century ago would not even have dreamed of.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or poisons in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble. Because the heart is over-worked in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It is to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.

FATE OF OLD BANK NOTES.

To Be More Thoroughly Macerated, For Pieces Have Been Redeemed. Through an order promulgated by the treasurer of the United States the old macerating machine in the sub-basement of the treasury at Washington has been put out of commission, and hereafter all paper money, whether issued by the government or by national banks, will be reduced to pulp in the large macerator at the bureau of engraving and printing.

This order was brought about by a protest made by national bankers claiming that the old machine failed to do its work perfectly and that the bank notes dumped into it not infrequently turned up in sections for redemption by the banks of issue, that the pulp sold to various makers and manufacturers of images, to be resold as souvenirs, was filled with large pieces of bills and that these were picked from the pulp images and offered for redemption. Notwithstanding the fact that the treasury macerator has been in service for many years and has reduced to pulp many trillions of dollars in bank notes which had ceased to be current, this complaint was the first one ever made against the nonperformance of duty, but the treasurer got such positive evidence that the bankers were correct in their assertions that he issued the order.

Washington souvenir dealers have long realized that the pulp images found a heavier demand than any other, and those made from the pulp of the notes last destroyed—or partly so—by the treasury macerator have always brought a higher price than the ones manufactured from the pulp of the macerator at the bureau of engraving and printing, this being due entirely to the fact that images from the latter contain not a speck of greenbacks, the notes being reduced to almost a whitish pulp. Naturally visitors prefer an image "made from real money," in which some of the money would be in evidence. The treasury macerator production, or output, was therefore worth a great deal more to the manufacturers and always brought a much larger price. In fact, the bureau's pulp was almost a drug on the market.

But now the images—busts of presidents, the Washington monument, Uncle Sam's hat, the national emblem (the eagle), the capitol, the treasury, cats, dogs, frogs, etc., each representing from $5,000 to $15,000—must be made from the bureau pulp or a first class counterfeit, for every note destroyed must be in this specially constructed macerator, which works every day and night in the year except Sunday, there being from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 macerated every twenty-four hours. This work of maceration and the preparation for it are under the personal direction of representatives of the treasurer, the secretary, the comptroller and the register, and these representatives go with the heavily guarded wagon containing the money to the bureau, where it is taken from the steel boxes, checked off, placed in the macerator, the iron doors closed, locked and sealed, and then the machine begins its work of destruction. The large boiler or vat in which the money is placed is filled with some kind of chemicals, and a network of machinery keeps up a continuous churning and grinding until 12 o'clock the following day, when it is stopped, the pulp taken out and another million or two placed in, to be treated in the same way for the next twenty-four hours.

By this process of maceration it is utterly impossible for any one to find any evidence of money in the pulp, even the small silk threads which run through all genuine notes being entirely destroyed save to form a part of the whitish pulp.—New York Tribune.

The Moral She Drew. The woman reporter was interviewing Senator Arthur P. Gorman about suffrage, according to the Troy Times. The astute politician answered with a story. "Now, young woman, what would happen to me if women entered politics? Why, they are keener than we are, even in their Sunday schools, and we wouldn't stand any chance with them. In one of the few Sunday school classes I ever addressed was composed by a miss of six summers. I was telling the girls the story of the seven wise and seven foolish virgins, and I asked what we might learn from the beautiful story, when a little blossom in blue replied: 'That's easy enough; learn to keep our eyes peeled for a bridegroom!'"

The Walking Parson. The Rev. A. N. Cooper, vicar of Fifeley, near Scarborough, by his feats of pedestrianism, has earned the title of "the walking parson."

In 1887 he walked to Rome, 743 miles, and in the three succeeding years he walked, respectively, across Ireland, from Hamburg to Paris and from London to Budapest. His other long walks have been across Belgium, through Spain, to the north of Scotland, to Venice and to Monte Carlo. Recently he left York for Liverpool for a walk to Andorra, a small republic between France and Spain. Mr. Cooper walks an average of thirty miles per day, and this pace he can keep up for weeks. His tramps form the subject of most interesting lectures.—London News.

Discipline. A Boston man visits the soldiers' home in Togus, Me., recently and was just in season to the veterans file into the dining room to dinner. At the tinkle of the bell that is the signal for the men to file in he flashed his watch. Within three minutes every man was seated at the table and at the lowest possible estimate the number could not have been less than 1,200. Nor was there the slightest commotion or confusion.

Test it this year. Price is 80c per bag.

They cure backache, every kidney ailment, Here is evidence to prove it. James H. Bell, inspector of the B. & O. R. R., residing at 105 North Stricker Street, Baltimore, says: "For some months past, I have been suffering from severe pain in the small of my back, and at times could hardly get along; have tried kidney medicines and lotions, but to no effect. Sometime during last month I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and gave them a trial. I paid no attention to them for some days, when the pain in my back became so severe, and I thought of them and commenced to take them according to directions, with the result, both astonishing and gratifying, for before taking the complete box, I was completely freed from the trouble."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had right here in Salisbury. Call at White & Leonard's Drug Store and ask what their customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50c per box. Write to Doan's Kidney Pills, 2631 Broadway, N. Y. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Albert Bradley died at the home of his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Thos. J. Bradley, near town on Tuesday evening, after a lingering illness of consumption at the age of thirty-five years. Mr. Bradley's early life was spent in this community where he had many friends, but for several years he has been a resident of Camden, N. J. His funeral was held on Thursday afternoon in the M. P. Church, by Rev. H. W. D. Johnson, assisted by Rev. J. F. Anderson, after which the remains were interred in the Taylor Cemetery. During his late illness many of his friends in and near town called to see him, and though feeble and much of the time unable to talk, he extended to them the hand of friendship and showed by look and sign that he appreciated their presence and showed that he still remembered his friends and associates of other years.

On Saturday last as J. J. Walker was quietly walking down town a bull dog belonging to Capt. F. C. Robinson crept up behind him and bit him, leaving a scar and a pain. Mr. Walker went at once to his brother's nearby and procured a double barrel gun and a few extra shells and started in pursuit of the dog. He inquired as to the fine for shooting within the corporation limits of the town, but was informed that it was only one dollar and nothing if shooting to protect life or property. He soon found the dog, which he chased slowly away from where two horses were hitched and getting the dog where the shooting would damage or alarm nothing except the dog he opened fire and thus terminated the life of a ferocious canine. No legal action was taken for the shooting or killing.

Ellwood Laramore, 16 years old, son of George Laramore, of Blades, was bitten by a rabid dog Sunday afternoon. Young Laramore was making a desperate effort to save his own pet dog from the poison of the rabid animal, when he was bitten on the leg above the ankle.

The mad dog was killed and Laramore will enter the Pasteur Institute.

Robert L. Marshall, of Chincoteague was in town Saturday and arranged with S. J. Cooper & Son to operate a branch barrel factory located on Cooper's wharf here, by which the trade in this vicinity will be supplied. This is a good move. In the first place shippers will be enabled to get standard barrels, every one of which is sold on a guarantee. In the second place it enables the shippers to get barrels, in large of small quantities any day they may need them and this is a great convenience in this community and gives the shippers the assurance of a good substantial barrel to ship in, one that is recognized in all markets as a standard in capacity. All shipments will be uniform and the construction and durability of the barrel insures the safe arrival of potatoes at their destination. Robert is thus bringing to his native town a thing of value and for the success of which he will have the support and patronage of the community.

COLUMBIA.

Strawberry shipments began here the 20th. inst. The first shipment one year prior was made the 11th. The crop is late this season and from the outlook will be a short one in many instances, especially on early varieties. Some of the larger varieties also show signs of early decay. There were many rumors among the pickers in this locality that our leading growers were going to pay two cents per quart for picking but they were false. The price is the same as heretofore, and all have gone to work for the standard price of one and one-half cents and seem satisfied.

Never in the history of this community has the caterpillar pest been so aggravating as this year. In some orchards where no arsenites have been used, trees have been stripped of their entire foliage.

Northern grown white seed potatoes have come up very irregularly in this locality. Some patches are almost a total failure, but the larger portion of our seed was home grown and hence we have some fine patches in and around Columbia with bright looking prospects for a good crop.

The scarlet clover crop is short in this section. Many of our farmers lay the failure to the severe winter. It will all be harvested this week.

If apple blossoms were a sign of a large crop of this fruit, we surely would have had it this year. The blossoms have now all fallen and we find that there is little or no fruit set. One of our largest growers says he has no apples and very few pears in his orchards.

A dog supposed by many to have the rabies was circulating in and around Columbia from Friday of last week till Sunday night when it was killed. It is reported that several dogs were bit, all of which we hope have been killed.

FOOD FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

The more natural diet is more palatable, invigorating and strengthening to body and mind—right to the contrary with unnatural, improperly prepared food, which stunts the growth, dwarfs the mind, causes a lack of will power and steadiness of nerve. No doubt that fifty per cent of the failures in life can be traced to improper diet when young.

JOINTS PAIN THIS MORNING?
First sign of RHEUMATISM. Dangerous to let it run. Easy to cure now. A single bottle of Rheumacide
Will probably do the work. Bad cases require more. RHEUMACIDE acts by getting rid of the cause, so that no trace of the disease lingers in the system. It purifies the blood, relieves the inflammation of the kidneys, the chronic constipation and the catarrh that follow such a condition of the system.
Though Mrs. Mary E. Welborn, of High Point, N. C., is 80 years old she had suffered from Rheumatism for 20 years, she was completely cured by RHEUMACIDE, and declares she feels "years younger" and is anxious for "all who are suffering from any of the forms of this dread disease" to try RHEUMACIDE and be cured.
DR. J. R. WHEELER, a noted Methodist minister, of Reisterstown, Md., writes enthusiastically of RHEUMACIDE, which cured him. He is 75 years old and has been in the military 50 years.
