Saturday, Feb. 15, 1873.

APPOINTMENT.—The Governor has appointed Wm. H. Bailey, Justice of the Peace for the Third District in Wilcomio county, vice Isaac S. Meziack, resigned.

QUERREY.—Edward Gosley married John Twigg's sister, Ed John Twigg married Edward Gosley's daughter. What relations are they and their children to each other?

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Mr. Wm. Blackhead as Trustee, has sold 600 acres of land belonging to Henry I. B. Smith, to Mr. Lemuel Malone, for the sum of $3,075. The land is situated in Pittsburg District, near Pittsville. J. C. Bush was the auctioneer.

DIRECTORS MEETING.—A meeting of the Board of Directors of the E. S. R. R. Company will be held here to-day for the purpose of changing the name of Fort-town, one of the stations on said road. A number of names have been suggested, to wit: London, Tony Tank, Jackson, Morristown, Leon, Strasburg, Stanford, Christian, Homer, and numerous others. Of all names suggested London seems to be the most popular.

THE RIVER IMPROVEMENT.—The committee on the House of Representatives reported, on Saturday last, in favor of an appropriation of $5,000 for the improvement of the Wilcomio river at this town.

This will have the effect, if passed, of widening the canal to the extent of 50 feet, although such a canal cannot answer all the demands of our commerce, will be a great improvement upon the present condition of the river.

Let us live in the hope that our river will yet be rendered navigable for all classes of vessels.

PUBLIC DISCUSSION.—The Salisbury Lyceum will hold a public discussion in the Court Room on the 22nd inst. instant. The question to be discussed is one which is rather latitudinous and the manner proposed for its discussion is quite novel. The question reads thus:

"What is the greatest Worry in Life?" Each member of the Lyceum will be allowed a short notice, upon the subject, and can give his own views without fear or favor or contradiction. Doubtless this independent style of treating the question will bring out something worth listening to, and we await the result with pleasant anticipations.

BAGGAGE STOLEN.—How it was recovered.—On Thursday last week Dr. H. R. Pitts, President of W. & P. R. R., took the south bound train at Wilmington for Salisbury. While the train was at New Castle the Doctor employed the time in reading a newspaper, and when the train left the station he beheld through a window and umbrella he saw a man in a blue coat and a few seats in front of him, but it had been carried off by the passengers told him by a couple of Irishmen who got off at New Castle. He immediately told the conductor he wanted to get off and the train was stopped about one mile south of the station. The man who had tramped back to the town. Arriving there he procured the services of a constable and went in search of the thieves. They were soon found with the property in charge walking about the streets. The man was taken promptly to the jail and the constable marched off to a magistrate's office. The magistrate ordered to commit them to prison if Dr. Pitts would obligate to appear against them at Court, but this he refused to do, and they were discharged.

THE SNOW HILL BRIDGE CASE.—In the year 1808 an act was passed by the Maryland Legislature authorizing the County Commissioners of Worcester county to place a draw in the bridge which spans the Pocomoke river at Snow Hill. Nothing was ever done until 1871, when sundry citizens petitioned the County Commissioners to place the said draw in the bridge. The Commissioners were notified of said petition before the Board, petitioners were also sent in asking the Commissioners to refuse the request which had been preferred. The Commissioners refused to grant the prayer of the first petition.

On their refusal, there was an order issued by the Board of Worcester county directed to the County Commissioners of said county compelling them to appear and show cause why the prayer of the petitioners should not be granted. The cause is set down for a hearing at Salisbury on the 15th of February.

John W. Crisfield, Henry Page and Alexander General Syster for Petitioners—John H. Handy for Respondents.

This cause is exciting much interest in Worcester county and there seems to be much feeling against it among the people.

PROCEEDINGS OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—On Thursday last the County Commissioners of Wilcomio county met, and presented a bill Board, and the following of interest, was transacted:

The Trustees in the New County Bond suit, Messrs B. B. Gordy and A. J. Crawford, appeared before the Board in relation to the payment of costs in said suit. The petition to the Commissioners from the Board of School Commissioners, appeared before the Board in regard to the vaccination of the children in the several Public Schools in the county. The law provides that every scholar shall be able to show a certificate of vaccination before being admitted into the schools, and on this account and other very good reasons, Col. Leonard urged that a vaccine physician be appointed to attend to the vaccination of the school children. The Commissioners authorized the School Board to employ a physician to vaccinate the children in the schools of the county as much per school.

A BARE BALL ITEM.—On Monday evening last the young men met at the office of Mr. E. Stanley Toadvin, in town, and perfected the organization of the bare ball club mentioned in the ADVERTISER last week. The names selected for the club is WHITE CLOUD, some of the boys we think, and hope they will change it for one not quite so feecy. The following officers were elected:

E. Stanley Toadvin, President and Captain, the same to serve as captain of the club on all occasions; J. C. Bush, Treasurer; Dr. T. G. Dawson, Captain of the 2nd Nine; Jehu T. Parsons, Captain of the 3rd Nine; Josiah Cannon, Umpire; and James E. Cathell, Umpire.

The committee appointed at a previous meeting to select a play ground, reported that they had chosen the field belonging to Mr. G. W. Parsons, situated near the residence of Mr. W. H. Parsons, and had obtained his permission to use it. After appointing a committee to lay off the ground and settle the club, the club adjourned.

The constitution limits the membership to thirty.

The ground has been prepared during the week and is now ready for action. A practice game will be played this morning between the 1st Nine of the High School Boys and nine of the White Cloud club.

MATCH GAME OF BASE BALL.—Last Saturday being a bright and balmy day, numerous spectators collected at an early hour on the Base Ball Field on Pea-bill to witness the first match game of ball between the Bumble-bee nine and High-School nine of this place. Promptly at 9 A. M. the game commenced with the High-Schoolers at the bat. There was much enthusiasm displayed by the Spectators, and the game was played on both sides were highly applauded. The game lasted about three hours and was conducted with spirit from beginning to end. The marked features of the game were the mastery playing of Master Samuel Gordy and Mr. W. H. Warren on the Base. As the game proceeded the merit of the Bumble-bee nine. The agility and swiftness of Mr. Warren in running bases was also noticed. Below we append the score.

The Boy And His Angel.

Oh, mother, I've been with an angel to-day,

I was out all alone in the forest to play,

Chasing the butterflies, watching the bees,

And hearing the woodpecker tapping the trees:

So I played and I played till so weary I grew,

I sat down to rest in the shade of a tree,

While the birds sang so sweetly, high up in the sky.

I held my breath, mother, for fear they would stop,

There a long while I sat looking up to the sky,

And watching the clouds that went hurrying by,

When I heard a voice calling, just over my head,

That sounded so like "Come, Oh brother," it said:

Oh mother, an angel was beckoning to me,

And, "brother, once more, come, Oh brother," he cried.

And now on light plumes close down by my side!

And now, Oh, mother, my father was being so light,

As though he were a feather, or a wing of the breeze,

As though he were a spirit, or a soul of the air,

As though he were a shadow, or a gleam of the sun,

As though he were a dream, or a vision of the night,

As though he were a thought, or a word of the heart,

As though he were a sigh, or a tear of the eye,

As though he were a smile, or a frown of the brow,

As though he were a kiss, or a touch of the hand,

One of Braddock's Mistakes.

A stone situated several hundred yards south of Frostburg, Md., is an object of historic interest. With much reason it is reputed to have been erected in that locality by Braddock's army as marking the first day's march from Fort Cumberland to Fort Duquesne. It is legibly inscribed in letters which clearly evince the style of English typography prevalent in that period.

Upon its northern face it bears a sentiment significant more of patriotic determination than the result tells of the execution of that memorable march:

"Our Country's Rights We Will Defend!"

On the opposite or south side these sentences:

"11 Miles to Fort Cumberland,"

"20 Miles to Capt. Smyth's Inn and Bridge—Big Crossings,"

"The Best Road to Red Stone,"

"Old Fort, 64 Miles."

This stone, it is presumed, stands as it was erected by Braddock's men, marking at its location at least the exact route pursued. No trace, however, of the stone is visible; the ground is thickly studded with undergrowth, and the surface shows no evidence of having been beaten by the march of regiments or the roll of artillery and other army carriages. The stone itself exhibits some marks of the curiosity hunter's hammer, but not enough to deface it materially.

The inscriptions are easily read—the single one upon the northern and the first upon the southern face—if we may presume again—being cut upon the surface of the remaining ones upon the retreat of the army. This circumstance, we may say, writes the history of the campaign. Flashed with pride and assured of success by the splendid martial array presented, some soldier engraved the patriotic sentiment upon this "table of stone," and the remaining ones upon the retreat of the army. This circumstance, we may say, writes the history of the campaign.

This excellent "Story and Family Weekly" is now in its third volume. Its success has been great. It is firmly established as one of the leading weeklies of the Union, with the largest circulation of any paper in the West. Its success may in no slight degree be attributed to the method of distributing premiums which is permanent with this paper, being held annually. Its distribution last year gave general satisfaction. Agricultural.
One Thing at a Time.
 The National Live-Stock Journal notes that the history of stock husbandry in Europe and in this country satisfactorily proves that few men succeed in any marked degree as breeders of more than one of the domestic animals, or of more than one variety of a single race. A farmer well suited to do history attain a certain measure of success in raising and selling horses, cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry—his operations with each may be profitable—but we believe that there are not two instances on record where remarkable eminence as a breeder has been attained by one individual with more than one class of stock. The maxims and arguments in favor of a mixed system of husbandry in this country have little force when applied to live-stock husbandry alone. The practice of mixed husbandry is often advised consistently in growing crops, some grains, some vegetables, some fruits, some grasses and some stock—the proportions and varieties of each to be determined from year to year by the surrounding circumstances and the prospective markets. For the general farmer this is unquestionable the safest and best, but it is not the system which gave celebrity or fortune to the Bakewells, the Collins, the Bateses, the Booths, the Hammonds, and others now living. "One thing at a time" seems to be a good law for the breeder who seeks distinction.

An Experiment in Feeding Horses.
 The London Omnibus Company use six thousand horses. To economize in feed is an important matter, and has led to several tests, the result of which is recorded as follows:
 To each of three thousand of their horses they gave a daily allowance of ground oats, sixteen pounds, ground hay, seven and one-half pounds, and cut straw one and one-eighth pounds—the hay and straw being cut into pieces, about half an inch long, and well mixed up with oats, in little water, and so making twenty-six pounds of food for each horse. And to each of the other three thousand horses they gave a daily allowance of whole or unbrused oats, nineteen pounds, and uncut or whole hay and straw, thirteen pounds, without any water, in our words, fashion was making twenty-two pounds of food for each horse. And what was the result? Why it was soon discovered that the horse which was fed on twenty-six pounds of ground oats remained in good condition, and could perform as much work, and do just as well, as the horse which did with twenty-two pounds of food for each horse. And what was the result? Why it was soon discovered that the horse which was fed on twenty-six pounds of ground oats remained in good condition, and could perform as much work, and do just as well, as the horse which did with twenty-two pounds of food for each horse. And what was the result? Why it was soon discovered that the horse which was fed on twenty-six pounds of ground oats remained in good condition, and could perform as much work, and do just as well, as the horse which did with twenty-two pounds of food for each horse.

Overgrown Hogs.
 There is not one single advantage to be claimed in favor of big hogs. There never was a monster hog which did not make the man who raised him pay for every pound of meat gratis, but charge full price for every atom of their carcass. When slaughtered, it takes a long time to get one cool to the marrow in the bone, and then when the hams are put in salt, it is troublesome to finish them to the center. For a hundred live weight is as large as hogs should be, in order to make good bacon. Beyond this size there is a loss somewhere. Either the feeder, butcher or consumer is cheated, and as a general thing every one who has anything to do with the big hog, will find, if he observes closely, that they are not so profitable as the smooth, nice hog, of only three hundred and fifty pounds weight. A small head, with little, upright ears, and legs and ears delicate to perfection, are remarks which indicate the greatest amount of food consumed, and it will always draw more readily the attention of every butcher.

Activity of Agriculture.
 The activity of farmers' clubs seems to us the most striking feature of current agricultural history. There is nothing in any other profession. To be sure, no other profession numbers so many members on giving area of the country, but this is not true of them as congregated in our large towns. Where, however, will you find elsewhere the constant activity of the professional mutual improvement principle, whether in town or in country, which one witnesses continually in agriculture? Every locality has its plowing match and club, every market town its monthly meeting for discussion, every county its annual show, every province its great farmers' meeting, and each of the three Kingdoms its national gathering and exhibition. And, as if these were insufficient to satisfy the appetite for social co-operation, there has grown up another great organization within the last two years, and chambers of agriculture have everywhere been constituted for the agricultural body on public as well as professional questions, and of thereafter urging that opinion whenever it may best bear fruit.—Scottish Agricultural Gaz.

Sound Ideas on Farming.
 The following views on farming were thrown out in a lecture at Baltimore, and they so entirely cover the ground of successful culture that we give them a place for the benefit of our readers:
 1. That the area under cultivation should be within the limits of the capital and labor employed; or, in other words, that on impoverished soils no one should cultivate more land than he can enrich with manure and fertilizers, be it one acre or twenty.
 2. That there should be a law compelling every man to prevent his stock from degrading his neighbor's fields.
 3. That the green soil is more economical than a loose pasture.
 4. That deep tillage is essential to good farming.
 5. That the muck heap is the farmer's bank, and that everything should be added to it that will enlarge it, and increase, at the same time, its fertilizing properties.
 6. That no farmer or planter should depend upon the state alone, but he should seek to secure himself against serious loss in bad seasons by diversity of products.—Rural South Land.
 Mr. Hyde married Miss Taylor, and she "kissed him," having been killed in their quarrel. It was an editor's chance to say that it was the first time cattle had been killed by a man.

OF
COMPOUND SYRUP

Wherever Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation as a Blood Purifier, and for the cure of Rheumatism. With all this local reputation, and the praise of distinguished Physicians (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson M. Ault, Griffith, Copland and others), who have tested its medical powers; it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medical use. Dr. Oliver Crook, (a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession,) has fully tested the active medical qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit—for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,—than any other articles named in Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemist has combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public under the above name.
