YOKE FELLOWS.

An Address Of The Southern White Man
To His Black Brother. By Clarence Osley, Author Of "Our Brothers
In Black" And "Rings Of Smoke."

Written expressly for DEMOCRACY.

I call from the jungle and fells
To the fields and the fold of the Lord,
From the naked and jabbering ages
To the comfort and cult of the Word.
So far have I brought you, my brother,
Though you suffered the lash and the chain
And methinks there was God in the journey,
Albeit my motive was gain.

I call to the faith of the bondsman,
To the trust of the Lord of the soil,
To the law and the order of rolling,
And the care that was heavy as toil.
Some things I have taught you, my brother,
Though I fear me the lessons ill-learned;
The mold of the Maker is changeless,
And Ephraim's cake not turned.

I call to your record of crimes,
To the waste and debauch of your rule
When the plunderer looted unhindered
While the zealot was joined to the fool.
Your freedom was new then, my brother,
And the sinning not all of your own,
But the zealot's report of his folly
While the fool the more stubborn has grown.

I call from the marvel of honor,
When my women were safe in your care
To the monstrous, unspeakable horror
When the Beast is abroad from his lair.
So long as this terror is on us
So long will disorder hold sway
And the Nation, turned to a rag in vengeance,
Will throttle and slaughter and slay.

I blush for the lust of my fellows
P. o. claimed in the bleach of your skin,
And I take it as penance in patience
To suffer the shame of this sin,
To bear your infirmities with you
In the yoke of a punitive Fate
On the upward and devious highway
Till we come to the Beautiful Gate.

But this you must know and remember:
I lead as I led you of yore.
I help, but I stoop not in lifting,
For ever my strength is the more.
Not I, but our God has decreed it—
This ratio of races and men—
And revolt were but senseless rebellion
With Paradise forfeit again.

And so I beseech you, my brother,
In the love I have shown you of old,
To read in the record of races
The wisdom the ages have told.
This way there is comfort and virtue—
For the I shudder to say,
For the Nation itself may turn savage
And throttle and slaughter and slay.

—Discussing in his comprehensive new book, "The Railroad in Education," the Baltimore and Ohio as the first great railway and the Trans-Siberian as the latest. Prof. Alexander Hogg, of Fort Worth, Texas, states that the Siberian railway already makes it possible for a traveler to circle the globe in 89 days. This is progress, since to go "round the world in 60 days" was not long since considered a remarkable feat. But Professor Hogg declares that the trip will be still shorter on the completion of the projected extension of the Siberian railway.

BUSY DAYS AT COURT

Judges Page, Holland and Lloyd Presiding,
Grand and Petit Jurors. Heath
Arraigned and Pleads Not Guilty. Other Cases.

Many sections of Wicomico County are represented in Salisbury this week attending the fall term of the Circuit Court. Opening Monday morning a full bench has been presiding over its sessions. Chief Judge, Henry Page, Associate Judges, Chas. F. Holland and Henry Lloyd are present.

The Grand Jurors: Charles E. Harper, (foreman), Walt. B. Miller, clerk, Watson Mitchell, J. Massey Roberts,
Jacob Nichols, Jas. R. Collins, Thomas
E. Taylor, William A. Taylor, Charles
H. Cooper, Joseph S. Caroy, James D.
Gordy, Ira B. Catlin, Harry Toadvine,
Benjamin H. Cordry, Jacob C. Phillips,
Isaac S. Williams, William E. Laws,
Granville E. Banks, Wm. Winder
Hearn, Joseph Hastings, Samuel T.
Williams, Charles Holloway and Henry
F. Pollitt.

The following were drawn as Petit Jurors, viz: Benjamin F. English,
Wm. J. Toadvine, Frank C. Todd,
Josiah G. Adkins, Travers L. Ruark,
Joseph M. Holloway, Geo. I. Adkins,
Jas. Cathell, Wm. W. Guthrie, Zadoc
Richardson, Louis W. Gunby, Covington Wilson, Marcellus Weatherly, John W. Darby, Jas. T. Hopkins, Marion Bussels, Lamartine Collins,
F. Heath, Clayton Gordy, John W.
Rounds, Isaac F. Messick, Jno. H. Far-low, Jas. H. Coulbourn, Jas. I. Messick, Hobart J. Willing.

Judge Page delivered the charge to the Grand Jury and spoke at length on what is considered murder in the first degree. He said that to convict one of murder in the first degree there must be premeditation, however, could be formed in any length of time—a year, a month, a day, an hour, a minute or a second.

He told the Jury that it was their duty among other things to inquire diligently into Statutory matters, such as the violation of Liquor laws, the crimes of abortion and larceny, the carrying of concealed weapons, etc.
Cases which have been disposed of:

MONDAY.
No. 1. Criminal Continuances, State vs. Chas. Vickers, indicted for carrying concealed weapons. Tried before Court; guilty, and fine and costs imposed. Bailey for State; Toadvin &
Bell for defendant.

TUESDAY.
No. 1. Appeals, J. E. Birkhead and Mary E. Birkhead vs. John E. Bethards.
Judgment below was reversed with costs above and below to appellee.

A PASTOR'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH.

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Peruna.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. O. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there.
Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.
In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs.
Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:
"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health fell 3 me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.
"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restless sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.
"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."—Mrs. Anna B.
Fleharty.
What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female disease.
Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore found it so admirably adapted to their peculiar needs that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Every where the women are using it and preferring it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.
Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. E. L. Brown, 229 Elliott street, Memphis, Tenn., writes:
"I suffered for several years with headaches brought on by nervous prostration.
I was also afflicted with insomnia. I would get up in the morning more weary than when I retired and I used to dread the approach of night. Peruna came into my home as a welcome guest, and within three short months I was like another woman. I have now enjoyed perfect health for over a year, and those who have suffered as I did will know how happy I am."—Mrs. E. L. Brown.
Mrs. Esther M. Milner, De Graaf, Ohio, writes:
"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continuously. I was not able to do my housework for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as best as possible. You recommended Peruna.
I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."—Mrs. Esther M. Milner.
Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:
"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."—T. M. Mahon.
If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus,

of Somerset County, Democratic Candidate for Comptroller of Maryland.

RETAIL MERCHANTS ORGANIZE.

In The Interest of Trade. Resolution Adopted To Discontinue 10 Per Cent Discount Except To Clergy.

A representative meeting of the Retail Merchants of this City was held on Thursday evening at the City Hall and a permanent organization of "The Retail Merchants Association" was formed.

The object of this Association is to advance the interest of the retail trader, procure better rates and transportation of the railroad and steamboat lines and to further the interests of the trade all along the line.

A resolution was offered and adopted, as follows:—
Resolved, that on account of advanced prices which goods cost and the close prices at which they are sold, we find it necessary to discontinue the giving of a 10% discount to any one with the exception of the Clergy.

Cupid Carries An Election In The State Of Kansas.

The women of Kansas have won a great victory over their husbands, brothers, fathers and sweethearts.
Reports of the contest are reaching the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in the form of returns from the school district elections. These returns indicate that the women have elected a majority of the members of the county school boards in the 2,000 districts of the State.

The platform on which the women conducted this campaign was kept a secret until the day of balloting. It declared for wiping out the objectional provisions of the teachers' to receive attention and calls from their gentlemen admirers during their term of school, and provide for forfeiture of a part of their salaries if the women marry before the end of their terms.

The women did not appear at the polls until election afternoon, and then came in force and carried the day before the men could rally their wattered strength.

DEMOCRACY AROUSING. FOR HONEST ELECTIONS.

White People Of Maryland Are Awake And Working. Crowds Greet Warfield With Enthusiasm. Democratic White Man's Ticket Invincible.

That the clean, manly and intelligent campaign now being made by Mr. Edwin Warfield, The Democratic candidate for Governor, and his colleagues on the Democratic State ticket, is surely and swiftly winning with the voters of the State and in Baltimore is evidenced by the mail of some of the Republican orators and leaders who have already descended to the level of mud slinging and vituperation.

"We will play fair," said Mr. Warfield to Mr. S. A. Williams; the Republican nominee for Governor, when they met at the Harford county fair at Bel-Air in August and Mr. Williams smilingly acknowledged the pledge of his frank and generous opponent. "My sole purpose," says Mr. Warfield in a recent speech, "if elected, Governor, shall be to administer the duties of Governor for the best interests of the whole people, and in such a manner as to deserve their commendation and endorsement. If I can win the approval of the people, and have them say of me when I go out of office that I have made a good and faithful Governor I shall be content."

Mr. Williams in his speech of acceptance of the Republican nomination for Governor in Baltimore last Thursday, said "The Democratic party is controlled by an oligarchy which holds all the offices and forces men to its terms through the use of those offices. They have never broadened this oligarchy, and they never intend to do so. This oligarchy has the power of graft. It accepts money for protection from punishment. The oligarchy claims that the negro's vote has hurt Maryland. I say the negro's vote has been a vote for good."

Will this method of "playing fair" appeal to the voters like the plain straightforward pledge made by Mr.
Warfield?

State Comptroller Joshua W. Hering reports that under the present administration there has been purchased out of the State funds $1,987,000 of State annuities for the State sinking funds, and notwithstanding heavy expenditures for new State buildings and the reduction of the State tax from 17 1/2 cents to 17 cents on the $100, the net
State debt has been reduced since Jan., 1, 1900, $274,000.

There are now convertible assets in State Treasury sufficient to pay off the entire debt of the State. Does not this financial statement appeal most forcibly to the taxpaying voters of the State?

Everywhere that Mr. Warfield goes crowds attend upon him, and all are armed with his courteous bearing and friendly greeting. The enthusiasm that has ever made the Democratic hosts of Maryland invincible he has aroused. Young men are flocking to his standard as to no other man in recent years. For Mr. Warfield, although no longer to be counted young in years is young in energy and in feeling, and the youth of Maryland appeal to him.
He is their friend. A glance at his workshop, a beehive of industry brings this fact home to one with irresistible force. There, young men are employed and Mr. Warfield watches over them with a brotherly eye. Mr. Warfield knows men. It is his business for he bonds their honesty and Mr. Warfield is an optimist. He sees only the good in men. This makes him the great campaigner that he is, and prompted his pledge to Mr. Williams of "fair play." He is living up to that pledge and is gaining victory every day. He will live up to that pledge through his vigorous, thorough campaign, and when the election shall have been held the majority that he will get will effectually answer Republican vituperation.
Mr. Warfield does not have to, and can not stoop so low.

If the present movement can win in Wicomico, it will blaze the way for the redemption of every other county on the Eastern Shore, where vote buying has become an open scandal. It is a movement for the honor of Maryland.—
Baltimore Herald.

It is hoped to have the presence of the fair sex in large numbers and seats will be arranged and reserved.
The event will be a stirring one, on the eve of one of the most critical junctures in the history of our State since the Carpet Bagging days. Every white citizen in the county is wanted on that day to hear true issues of the campaign ably discussed and forcibly presented. Brass band music will enliven the meetings and the air will be full of patriotism, oratory and eloquence.

THE SALISBURY ADVERTISER PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT SALISBURY, WICOMICO CO., MD. OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE...

Democratic Ticket.

- FOR GOVERNOR: EDWIN WARFIELD, of Howard County. FOR COMPTROLLER: DR. GORDON T. ATKINSON, of Somerset County. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL: WILLIAM SHEPPARD BRYAN, of Baltimore City.

FACTS FOR OYSTERMEN; DEMOCRATS THEIR FRIENDS.

The attempt of the republican press to mislead the oystermen of Wicomico into the belief that it is to their interest to elect a republican State ticket, as well as a republican county ticket, especially the members to the General Assembly, will find no lodgement in the brains of thinking men.

The danger of the oyster tongs is not in Democratic success. Their only hope for safety and sure protection is in a Democratic legislature. That party has stood by them in all the past. Against the onslaughts of great corporations, which have been striving to possess these mines of the bay and rivers for years past the Democratic party has stood firm, and through this party alone has been preserved the dearest interests of all the oyster tongs in the tide waters of Maryland.

and he will stand with the other gentlemen in protecting the rights of this class of our citizens against the assaults of a big corporation. These gentlemen will all be elected. They will be in Annapolis next winter, to look after the legislation which will come up on this question, and it behooves the oystermen of Wicomico County to look out for their friends, irrespective of politics.

REGISTER THE VOTE; IT IS HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

The importance of registering the full democratic vote is, perhaps, never underestimated by the leaders of the party in the state of Maryland, but this year it is simply impossible for the leaders, the rank and file, or the party as a whole to overestimate it. This is peculiarly true of Baltimore City and the counties where republican rows are most vigorous.

The two factions in the republican party are as widely apart as they ever were, and the republican state convention did absolutely nothing to heal the breach, some of the performances of that day, and especially of that night, if anything, intensifying the bitterness, but that bitterness will not act against the head of the republican state ticket in but one way and that is in the registration.

As a result of the convention's work very many republicans are so thoroughly disgusted, and this applies to the better element in their party especially, with the whole dirty proceeding, that they will neglect to register until the time has passed, when in all probability they will have forgotten their disgust, and would be glad enough to vote had they not sulked through the time of registration.

This will help the democratic ticket appreciably in Baltimore and in several counties, but it is a rank absurdity for the democrats to bank any further on the republican quarrel, for a democratic victory this fall. Mr. Williams is recognized by the republican party as a non factional candidate, and one not in the least in sympathy with Senator McComas, and for this reason he will pole a heavy vote in spite of republican dissensions.

On the other hand the shrewdest political observers in both parties can see no possibility for the republican legislative, nor more than a very small part of the local ticket, pulling through in Baltimore, and in several, usually strong republican counties, as a result of their family rows.

The great fight will be around the governorship, with a landslide on the rest of the ticket in democratic favor. If the full democratic vote is polled, there is no reason why the state should not go democratic throughout.

The registration will act against the republicans and with the democrats if they grasp the opportunity, and not only register themselves and that early, but do their best to see that all of their friends are registered likewise.

Remember too, democratic voters, that the registration is going on now, but that it will soon be over!

Remember too that the Registration will tell the tale on the 3rd., of November. Next Tuesday, Oct. 6 is the last day. See that you are entitled to a white man's suffrage to vote for a Democratic white man's ticket.

FIRST AND LAST, WIN.

The people have nominated a first class ticket, and the Democrats from the coast to the far mountain limits of the State on the West, must settle in behind to elect it. Nothing less will serve; nothing less will maintain white supremacy, and nothing less will clinch the matter and deal the death blow to Republicanism in this State, which Democratic victory four years ago initiated.

If the Republicans win and control the Legislature, Maryland will be overrun with negroes in such numbers that it will be no longer a white-man State. More of them flocked in under four years of Republican rule than during the thirty years combined which preceded, and another term of this same kind will make their majority overwhelming and chances for their later defeat and expulsion an almost impossibility.

To preserve white supremacy in the State and to give Senator Gorman the proper credentials to enable him to go before the national state makers in quest of the chief nomination next year, the State must go Democratic, and Democratic it will largely go if the Democrats get hard to work.

SENATORIAL ASPIRANTS

A Strong List Of Democratic Candidates For United States Senate, Will Ring Out The White Strength, And Increase Party Majority.

The announcement, Thursday of the candidacy of Ex-Attorney General John P. Poe for the United States Senate in the event of the election of a Democratic Legislature is received with considerable interest and the belief that so many able, healthy aspirants will largely add to the Democratic strength in the state and increase the Democratic majority on November 3rd.

Mr. Poe takes the ground that the field is an open one and that the first and most essential thing for all candidates for the Senate to do is to see that there is a Democratic majority in the General Assembly. Unless this is secured, nobody, he argues, will have a chance on the Democratic side.

With Lowndes, Jackson and McComas on the republican side of the fence, waiting for the senatorial pull to drop to the man who can reach the longest; and with Smith, Jackson, Rayner and Poe on the democratic lot waiting for the same thing, this promises to be one of the warmest campaigns Maryland has ever seen, and with not a few unusual and curious features thrown in.

The Baltimore News for example is of an unknown quantity in city politics these days, although its well known republican tendencies in the past few years would seal that at once were it not for the curious fondness, not to say admiration, for certain men, connected with the Democratic party. Just at present this is manifesting itself in the News' almost frantic support of Rayner and its seeming absolute willingness to support the city legislative ticket at least, in order to help Mr. Rayner along.

In the city the result of Rayner's announcement will be to dull the edge of the News' attacks, attract the Hebrew vote and bring out workers who would not otherwise come out. The leaders, Mr. Rayner has come out and the frank open manner in which he did it, without fear of favor of the leaders, far from arousing their ire, aroused their respect as strokes of this kind always do.

In Prince George's, the indications are that Mudd has either thrown up his hands and intends to hand the county over to the democrats, (a very unusual proceeding for the Honorable Mudd) or that he is playing the greatest game of bluff in his life, (which is far more probable) and very apt to be successful and result in the withdrawal of one of the Ryan committeemen, re-asserting control of the county to him, without which, he intends to make no move.

On the whole the prospects were never brighter than now for a sweeping democratic year. The ticket is a strong one and the prospects very bright. No consolation should be taken from the republican row, however, for beyond a doubt too much of a deposit on a bank like this will be disastrous.

The Negro Of Maryland Under Republican Surveillance.

Mr. Editor:—Some of our Republican friends say that the Negro is not an issue in this campaign. It is quite evident that fully two-fifths of the Republican vote in this State are negroes, and when their State Convention met in Baltimore one-half outside of its officers were negroes, and that element seemed to be on top, as their wishes had to be considered in a majority of cases. Why, now, it is well known without that vote the Republicans cannot carry more than one-fourth of the counties, nor would they be heard of in the city of Baltimore. But this is not all; the Negro element in this State has become so eloquent and dangerous that they are beginning to be a stench in the nostrils of all decent white men. Hon. Charles Bonaparte, it is said, recently told the Republican candidate for mayor of the city of Baltimore that he was a Republican, but he could not vote for Mr. Wachter, the Republican candidate for mayor, as he was opposed to seeing the city hall full of negroes, as it was during the Master administration; and the negroes of Baltimore are much worse than they were then, as the Republicans are now depending upon them to carry their party through. A Republican of that city told the writer last week that he hoped that whoever might be elected this fall would disfranchise the negroes altogether. He said he would not vote for any Republican who would not promise to do it. This gentleman holds an office under the administration. Another Republican said he believed that a majority of the negroes in Baltimore were thieves, robbers and burglars, and not safe to meet in the dark; and their number is constantly increasing by immigration from other States, and the more education they get the more dangerous they become. My experience is the same as his. Strange to say, a large number of white men in Salisbury hesitate to speak their minds upon the Negro question.

—Miss Mary Lee White entertained at progressive euchre Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Hamilton, of Shrovesport, La., and Mrs. Hartzog, of Baltimore. There were three tables in play. Guests: Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Hartzog, Miss Nellie Fish, Miss Lottie Fish, Miss Eliza Fish, Miss Maria Ellegood, Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Jr., Mrs. M. A. Humphreys, Miss Mary Houston, Miss Letitia Houston, Miss Emma Powell, and Mrs. Marvill, of Wilmington. Mrs. Hamilton won the prize.

Death Of Mrs. Martha A. Price.

The funeral services of Mrs. Martha A. Price were held at the home of her son, Mr. Jesse D. Price, Friday morning at eleven o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. R. H. Potts, of Suffolk, Va. The pall bearers were Dr. F. M. Slemmons, Geo. Phillips, John T. Parsons, B. H. Parker, W. B. Tilghman, Levin W. Dorman.

The deceased, who had been sick for about three months died on Wednesday morning about eleven o'clock, at the home of her son, Mr. J. D. Price, with whom she resided.

Mrs. Price was a daughter of the late Henry J. Dashiell, and was 65 years of age. She is survived by one brother, Mr. J. L. Dashiell of New York, who was able to get here in time for the funeral, and one son, Mr. Jesse D. Price, of this city.

Mr. J. W. Disharoon, of Crisfield, a nephew of the deceased, Mrs. Pierson, of Philadelphia, a niece, Mrs. Walter Duach, and Mrs. James Porter of Norfolk, Va., sisters to Mrs. J. D. Price, were present. The remains were interred in Parsons cemetery.

Large Circus Attendance.

Sautelle's Big R. R. Circus last Tuesday drew, and gave an up-to-date performance before a large audience, housed under their canvas in Salisbury. Connected with the show was also a remarkably fine menagerie, containing many curiosities, which were appreciated, but one of the principal features was a mother lioness and her family of three kittens only two months old. Very few people in this section had ever seen such a combination of old and young and they attracted much attention.

Mr. J. C. Banks, financial manager, is a genial entertaining and pleasant gentleman, Mr. Banks has visited our city once before, consequently did not consider himself altogether a stranger. Sautelle has every cause, in surety, to be pleased and satisfied at the attendance and success of his performances given in Salisbury Sept. 29th. The show is on its way south.

—Wilson M. Tyler, editor of the Easton Gazette, has been nominated for Register of Wills on the Republican ticket of Talbot county, to fill the vacancy caused by the refusal of Arthur G. Grace to serve.

Itching Skin Distress by day and night—That's the complaint of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum—and outward applications do not cure. They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood—make that pure and this scaling, burning, itching skin disease will disappear.

I was taken with an itching on my arms which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two days after I began taking it I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have never had any skin disease since." Mrs. Ida E. Wann, Cove Point, Md.

The Anti-Bribery League, GREETING; To Voters Who Want Clean Elections:

No man has a right to buy or influence another's vote unlawfully, and the Constitution disfranchises the voter who buys or influences him in exchange for holding office and declares it to be unlawful.

First—To give any money, present or any reward to influence a voter to vote or not to vote.

Second—To promise him any money, present, bribe or reward.

Third—To offer him any money, present, bribe or reward.

The Statute also punishes the crime: First—By imprisonment in jail or the penitentiary.

Second—By fine of not more than five hundred dollars, one half to the informer.

And these penalties apply to the promise or offer made at any time before or on the day of election.

Now, let thoughtful men compare the penalties of the crime of bribery with stealing and its penalties.

Let earnest men ask themselves if the time has not come to stop bribery.

Let Party men ask themselves if bribery can continue and their party maintain its unity.

Let taxpayers ask if candidates can afford to pay their salaries or more, and not get it back, if elected.

Let candidates ask themselves if they can corrupt others and remain above suspicion and temptation.

Let the poor man, who is educating his children, ask what hope there is for his boy.

Let the bride giver ask if he can afford to take the risk of arrest and exposure, even if acquitted.

To Make a Bride

Many a woman would make a beautiful bride but she is deterred from entering the married state because of ill-health.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"If women would study the laws of health and use a little more common sense there would not be such a large number today suffering with the ill results to our sex," writes Dr. S. J. Martin (President Mutual Social Science Club), of 10 South Halsted Street, Chicago, Ill. "Then when medicine is needed, if they would take the 'Favorite Prescription,' they would have a chance to get well. I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three years ago and it cured me of female weakness of several years' standing. I know what I am talking about when I praise it and always know what the result will be where it is used."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

THE DRAUGHT THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Theodore's Black-Draught has saved doctors' bills for more than sixty years. For the common family ailments, such as constipation, indigestion, hard stools, bowel complaints, chills and fever, biliousness, headaches and other like complaints no other medicine is necessary. It invigorates and regulates the liver, aids digestion, stimulates action of the kidneys, purifies the blood, and purges the bowels of foul accumulations. It cures liver complaint, indigestion, sour stomach, diarrhea, cholera, rheumatic pains, sideache, backache, kidney troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, biliousness, piles, hard stools and headache. Every draught has Theodore's Black-Draught in 25 cent packages and in a month size for $1.00. Never accept a substitute. Insist on having the original made by the Chattanooga Medicine Company.

I believe Theodore's Black-Draught is the best medicine on earth. It is good for any and everything. I have a family of twelve children, and for four years I have kept them on food and health with no doctor but Black-Draught. A. J. GREEN, Illinois, La.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Amid the distractions and temptations of modern life this sermon utters a warning cry, a timely call for a return to the simple ways and upright, honorable, Christian lives. The text is Jeremiah vi, 18, "Ask for the old paths." Most simple is the text's figure. Its simplicity gives it a homely beauty. It has in it the aroma of the woods. It is one of those simple similes of country life that bring back to the weary city dweller, whose feet have been long accustomed to the hard paving stones of the city sidewalks, the memory of the footpaths over turf covered hills and the narrow lanes between the banks bejeweled with sweet wild flowers that he used to walk in his childhood days. The old paths—we can never forget them. It will do us good to think of them this morning and see if there are any moral lessons we can learn from them. Sometimes the commonest incidents of everyday life have a voice for those who will hear. Jean Francois Millet is everywhere ranked among the most famous artists. He taught, however, his greatest lesson by painting two ordinary everyday French peasants bending over their hoes in the center of a country field in an attitude of prayer. The "Angels" immortalized by Millet, was rung from a village church spire. His worshippers were those who once lived in a humble poor man's home.

Robert Burns was the sweetest bard of Scotland ever cradled among the wild flowers of Ayr and lulled to sleep by the murmuring waters of the "Bonnie Doon." Yet, with the hand of a master, he played upon the silver chords of the grand old instrument of human love by singing one of his sweetest songs about a mouse's nest. In the death of a four legged dumb brute Burns loosened the silent tongues of many a songster and songstress who have blended their voices in a chorus of praise at the sacred altars of domestic happiness. Jeremiah, among the greatest of the prophets, lamenting that his countrymen had deserted their God and disobeyed his laws, pleads with them to avert the impending punishment by returning to him, and he employs this simple figure to portray their condition. He describes them as travelers lost upon the mountains of sin, hunting for a path which will lead them out of their moral difficulties. He represents God as telling them to "ask for the old paths, which is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, 'We will not walk therein.'" Jeremiah points the right path leading to the throne of God by using the homely simile of the ordinary country paths across the hills and valleys. At the time, over which the eastern caravans have traveled and the cows have come home for the evening milking and over which have passed tired men and women when, with daily tasks well done, they have sought the home firesides for physical refreshment and for blessed sleep.

The Pathway to the Cross. Like Jeremiah, I would today carry your thoughts back to the reminiscences of the country and from the sweet fresh flowers of the village hedgerows of old blossoms which will remind you of old time associations and resolves. The greatest of horticulturists is not the gardener who fashions his beds in the "many colors" of a Joseph's coat or a grandmother's crazy quilt. It is he who makes his floral designs simple—very simple. One bed looks as though it were a bit of Alpine lake hung among the crowded regiments of flowers. It is planted entirely with violets. It looks as simple and yet as beautiful as the June Arvensis colored in blue. Another bed looks like a great collection of leaping flames. It is planted only in roses. It is very simple. It is as simple in colors as a cardinal's robe. It is as simple in colors as the setting sun. Another bed has the jaundiced look of a Malay's skin. It is only planted in golden gloves. Another with an azalea bed, another a dahlia, another planted in white lilies, another in geraniums. The horticultural genius thrives best in the simplicity of colors. From this sermonic bed I would pluck only the sweet forget-me-nots of tender memories. Like Jeremiah the prophet I would try to lead you over some of the old paths which your feet have trodden in the past, and in the leading I would lead you to the foot of the cross.

The old path which would its way toward the old homestead is the first one I would bid you to seek. That one is the path of which was once built your father's and mother's nursery is today in all probability covered up with underbrush. Here it is blocked by the rotting trunk of a tree which has fallen sideways. There it has been scooped out by a freshet and under covered up with a landslide. It looks a great deal like one of those old deserted log roads which once wound their way through the woods toward the town. After the new highway or plike was opened the farmers and the farmers' wives always went the other way to market. The result is that the small bushes and the weeds have begun to grow over that path which led to your mother's nursery. It has long been untrodden by any human foot. Five, ten, fifteen, twenty, thirty years? What? What? Have your mother and father been dead as long as that? My, my, time does go! No wonder you have forgotten a great deal about your mother and her ways.

Clear Away the Rubbish. But, come, let us take our axes today and clear away some of that rubbish. Let us explore the old path which once led up to the old homestead. When the first settlers entered the Michigan woods they used to "blaze" the trees. That means that with their axes they would chop a notch out of this tree and that the other trees as they went along. Thus, if they could not find the right place to settle in one direction, they would retrac-their steps by these notches and start out in the opposite direction. Well, these old paths which once led up to the homes of our childhood may not have been used for a quarter of a century, but they can be easily followed. Our parents "blazed" them all the way along. As I follow these "blazings" I find they were morally straight paths. They were as straight as a die. Your father may not have had much money. In all probability you, as a farmer's boy, remember him for the most part clothed in overalls and a woolen shirt. But under that rough exterior there beat a heart as true as honesty itself. Looking back over the long years, you remember him traveling that "straight path." You cannot think of one act of your father ever did which was dishonorable. People sometimes said "he was close" in reference to money. He had to be close in order to furnish bread enough for his babies' mouths. You cannot remember your father once losing his temper and uttering malevolences unless perhaps it was on the day when he found that a neighbor, who was left an executor by law, had robbed a poor widow of her all. Ah, that old father of yours may have worn shabby clothes and may have been poor in pocket, but he was rich in character. The path he traveled to and from the old homestead was always a straight path. It was the "blaze" will and testament" which he signed made provision for a few trinkets, a Bible and a gold headed cane, and perhaps a snuffbox, that father left you the grandest legacy a boy ever received. He left to you an untarnished name, the example of a father's life well and honestly lived. Even as I speak now and talk about his past life a blush mantles your face. When you contrast his pure life with yours and you remember some of the mean, sneaking things you are accustomed to in your dealings with your fellow men, you say: "I wish I had always followed in the footsteps of my father. I wish I had always followed in his straight path." Why don't you, my brother? Why don't you now? Are the thickets too strong about you? Are the jungles of sin too dense? God is telling you today to seek the old paths. Ask for the old path, the straight path, the honest path, which your father once trod. Seek it now!

"Blazing" Marks. Then, mark further study the "blazing" marks along the paths which led up to the home of our childhood. I find out that these paths were Christian paths and always led toward the throne of God. How do I know? Simple enough. Let me illustrate: When I was in Europe I always, as far as possible, got away from the beaten tracks of tourists. I never could see what enjoyment there was for a summer tourist to go to Paris and live with Americans in an American hotel, and go to Rome and live with Americans in a hotel run there for Americans, and go to Berlin and live with Americans in Berlin. When I go to Europe as far as possible I live there among the natives, and for the most part among the common people. Now, again and again, when I have turned my back upon European cities and climbed the unfrequented paths which lead over the mountains, I have been startled with finding that the crosses and altars far, far away from any house or church. Then, as I have concealed myself among the trees and waited, I have seen weary peasants come along with great big packs strapped to their shoulders. Then I have seen them stop and look around to see if any one was watching. Then I have seen them unstrap their burdens and lay them at the feet of the image of Christ and then and there kneel in prayer. Well, my friend, in going along the pathway which was "blazed" by your mother's bread knife and knitting needle, I come upon altars everywhere. I find that there was hardly a step that she took in life but she had a place where she could stop and kneel in prayer. And at every altar I find indentations in the rocks where she laid her burdens at the Saviour's feet. And, oh, my friend, what a lot of burdens she carried! The young children would ask, and we would answer, "Not very well, my dear; not very well." I think one of the saddest and yet the most beautiful prayers my mother used to make, in the last year and a half of her earthly existence, was this: "O God, may my children never have to physically suffer as I have suffered." Yet, for the most part, our mothers lost their physical health by living and doing for us.

I go a little farther along our Christian path of your dead mother. I find also the place where she laid at Christ's feet the burden of her anxiety for the salvation of her children. Some people love to think of their mother, first by picturing her sitting and sewing for their advent. It is a beautiful sight to see the young wife by the evening lamp, with her needle in her hand, making the little white garments for the stranger soon to come. Our mothers thought and planned for the cradle and the little wardrobe weeks before we were born. They did it so that when they should lie down upon a bed of suffering all might be well for the little one's welcome. That is a beautiful vision. But, oh, to me it is a far more beautiful sight to see a young wife upon her knees in prayer. To think of her praying to God that her unborn child might grow up to be a good man, a good woman. And you, my friend, sitting before me, from that moment when your mother first prayed for you until her death she never left that altar before which she was continually beseeching God for the salvation of your soul. Along that Christian pathway she first led your tottering feet. In that Christian pathway she first taught you to utter the first prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep." In that Christian path she gave you her dying benediction. You do not seek the old path, the Christian path of your glorified and sainted mother? It is a path covered with wild flowers and fragrant with perfume. Those flowers and that pathway have been watered with your mother's tears. But there is another path to which I would call your attention today. It is that which you once traveled when going to Sunday school and to the church of your childhood. If that church was in the country, then there was poetry in your going. When the call of the village bell rang, those notes would press their way through the atmosphere like bubbles of air working their way up from the bottom of a stream. They would come nearer and nearer to your ear, as the bubbles come nearer and nearer to the surface of the waters. Then with a happy laugh they would seem to burst. You would first hear those notes when you would be riding toward the town. Then your mother, brother and sisters would all be crowded together in the one carriage. My, there was a big load of you who used to travel that road! No wonder the big springs of that family vehicle used to bend and groan and creak under the heaviness of the load.

Walking With Christ. If the path which you first traveled to Sunday school was along the sidewalk of a city, then in all probability you walked. You walked by the side of your father or mother, I suppose, while your turn came. You can see shoes would squeak at every step. Those shoes kept new for a long while, because you were only allowed to wear them on Sunday. But as you rode or walked to that Sunday school and to your first church services a great change came over your family party. One of your sisters or brothers left your side and went up to the church altar. One by one they there gave their hearts to Christ and publicly confessed him at the communion table. After awhile your turn came. You can see yourself now as you came, before the church session. You remember how the old minister wiped his glasses. He put his hand upon your shoulder and said: "My boy, why do you want to join the church? Do you love Jesus? Will you promise to live for him and give your life to his service?" Then you remember the great big lump that stuck in your throat. You remember how between your sobs you said: "The reason I want to be a Christian is because my father and mother and brothers and sisters are all Christians. I want their Saviour to be mine. As we have a united family here I want an unbroken family circle in heaven." Aged, gray haired man, that was a beautiful path over which you went to church for the first time. That was a holy drive you took on the morning you went to take your first communion. You did not speak much that morning, but your thoughts were very deep and very high. They were as deep as your sins, as high and as great as the forgiveness of God. Oh, why have you not always kept walking in that path? Christ walked with you there twenty years ago. Jesus as guide is ready to lead you back to that path and walk with you there now. Will you seek the old path—the path over which you went for the first time to the communion table of the Lord?

Highway of Blossoms. There is still another path which you once trod. This path is fragrant with blossoms. Like the faded trees of old, the heavy silver bells. It is the path which once led up to your marriage altar. It is the path over which the fallen rice is strewn and where the merry laughter of the bridesmaids is trying to drown the joyful salutations of the wedding chimes. The blossoms which line this pathway are orange blossoms. The silver bells are those which once played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Where did that path which ended at the marriage altar first lead you? "Oh," you answer, "it led me first among the brides and over the stony grounds. My courtship days were not all sunshine. For a long time I did not know whether I could win the hand of my heart love. In the first place, I was penniless and had nothing to offer but my two hands and a willing heart. Then my life was not what it ought to have been. But she had faith in me. I promised her to reform. I went to church with her. I gave up drinking, and I promised her I would surrender my heart to Christ. And, you know, the night she gave herself to me she made me kneel with her and we both made a prayer that God would hear and help me keep my vows." Ah, yes, my brother, I know just how you feel when you think of that old path which led up to your marriage altar! When you took the trembling hand of that young girl in yours you truly felt that you were to be good. You promised God, then, and to her, for her sake as well as your own, to live a good, true, pure, noble, Christian life. Have you kept your vow? Are you willing to go to church with her now as you did when you were engaged to her? Are you helping her to set the right example before your children—your children and hers? Remember, man, you made a promise to her and to God on the night of your wedding. Will you seek the old path of consecrated love, which wound through the days of your courtship and ended on the night you took your heart love as a bride from her father's home?

Keep Your Pledges. But there is still one more path I want you to seek. That is the one which led down by the cradle of your children. When your first child was born, if you had the least spark of manhood in your makeup, you wanted to be a good man for your baby's sake. Even the lowest form of human being feels the uplifting power when a child is born to him. In the graveyard of Heniker, N. H., can be found a tombstone with the name, "Mary, wife of Thomas Wallace," chiseled upon it. The history of that name is this: In June, 1720, a ship was sailing across the ocean when it was attacked and boarded by pirates. The crew was strapped to the masts, preparatory to being thrown overboard and drowned. Just before the wholesale murder was to take place the captain of the pirates found in a stateroom a woman by the name of Mrs. James Wilson, with a newborn baby lying by her side. He instantly asked her, "Is it a boy or a girl?" "A girl," was the answer. "Will you let me have her?" the rough pirate asked. "If you will I will unstrap your husband's crew and let your ship go free." "Yes," was the answer. "Then," said he, "I name her Mary." Mary Wilson grew up to be an old woman and died at the age of ninety-four years as Mrs. Mary Wallace and was buried in the little graveyard at Heniker. As that pirate in all probability saved that crew on account of the memory of his own little daughter, so the birth of every firstborn child makes almost every father pledge himself to God to be a better and purer man and a noble Christian. Have you kept the vow you made when your first baby was born? Besides that, my brother, have you also tried to follow out that pledge you made to God in the night when your baby was very sick? You will remember the grave faces of the physicians. You will remember how you knelt by the crib and said, "O God, if you will make my baby well I pledge to you my future life." You will remember the pledge you made to God on the night your baby died. Nearly every one of us has had a child's death in our family. Have you kept that pledge? Have you kept the pledge you made to God on the old path which once led down to the cradles of your living children and now also leads down to the graves of your dead babies?

The Way to Happiness. But how are you going to find your way back to these old paths? Some of you have been away from those paths for many years. You are lost, completely lost. You will never find your way out from the mountains of sin unless you have a divine guide. The importance of a guide to one lost in the mountains of earth or of sin can never be overestimated. I remember, some years ago, when bicycling through the mountains of West Virginia, we were completely lost. We wandered around and around until the sun sank and the twilight covered up her somber face with a black robe of herself in total darkness. We groped our way along, shuddering at the fenshly yell of a screech owl and the glittering eyes that might be those of a prowling panther. After awhile we saw a dim light in the distance. We struggled on until we could knock at that house and be taken in. Then in the morning we were safe because our host, as a guide, directed us on. Today, ye lost and weary sinners, Christ is ready to be your guide. He will lead you out of the mountains of sin. He will lead you to the old paths which are all converging into the one Christian path that leads to the foot of the heavenly throne. Will you let him lead you? Will you let him pardon you? Will you let Jesus save you? May the old paths of Christian love today become to you the new paths of Christian service. We have read that, in 1802, a party of men were encamped upon the battlefield of Pen Ridge, in northern Arkansas. While they were cooking their supper by the camp fire they exploded a buried twelve pound Parrott cannon shell which had been fired there out of a Federal gun on June 12, 1802, thirty years before. Would that this sermon, like that buried shell, might have an explosive power. May it awaken all the sweet and holy memories of the past—memories twenty, thirty, forty and even fifty years old—and start each one into a new Christian life. "Stand in the way and see and ask for the old paths! The old paths!" [Copyright, 1903, by Louis Kloppsch.]

A Modest Giver. Abram S. Hewitt alone knew who gave $250,000 to New York's Cooper Union last year, and very likely no one else ever will know. The story as he told it was that after Mr. Carnegie's gift of $600,000, he was wondering where the next $300,000 should come from when "a gentleman whom I have long known, who had never manifested any special interest in Cooper Union, called at my house" and after a chat and a cup of tea said, "By the way, I have got something for you, a little gift for Cooper Union" and to my intense astonishment he handed me $250,000. It was a certified check on a trust company. Mr. Hewitt turned it over to the corporation and never told any one who the modest giver was.

Relief

From Headache and Neuralgia

In a Few Minutes After Taking

Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. Chronic Case Cured.

"I cannot speak too highly of your remedies and I will always tell my friends how much they have done for my husband and myself for sudden attacks of headache, neuralgia and rheumatic pains. There is nothing equal to Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are simply splendid and give relief in fifteen or twenty minutes. I used to be subject to attacks of headache, which had become chronic, and I took a course of Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills in connection with the Anti-Pain Pills. The result is I now have very little trouble in that way. My husband has also taken these. They never fail, yet contain no opiates and are non-laxative."

All druggists sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are non-laxative, contain no opiates, never sold in bulk, 25 doses, 25 cents. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Tutt's Pills. A light purse is a heavy curse. Sickness makes a light purse. The LIVER is the seat of nine tenths of all disease.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity.

Robbed The Grave! A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunk, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim."

Head About To Burst From Severe Bilious Attack. "I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia.

Cause Of Lockjaw. Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known.

The Maryland Telephone and Telegraph Company has made a traffic agreement with the United Telephone and Telegraph Company of Pennsylvania, which will largely extend the services of the Baltimore company.

Workmen digging a sewer trench in Frederick unearthed the shell of a mussel, about seven feet below the surface, also a copper coin, dated 1784, a British penny, coined during the reign of George II.

Many Mothers Of A Like Opinion. Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children."

A Thoughtful Man. M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured.

THE DYING SUMMER.

We are writing a long distance from home. Perhaps that accounts for the feeling of sadness that is upon us. But there is another cause for the feeling. Like a messenger with a piece of distressing news comes the thought that the hours of summer are numbered. The glory of summer is beginning to fade. Every passing breeze whistles it, the brooks murmur it, the crickets chirp it, that the summer is in its last sickness, and is nigh to death. The autumn days have come. There is a chill in the air, the north wind having blown its breath upon the thermometer and lowered the mercury in the tube. Prophecies of approaching winter are abroad. We can read those prophecies upon the leaves that flutter to the ground from orchard and woodland trees. Here and there are blood stains, showing that the lancets of the frost have been at work. Soon the summer will be bleeding at every pore, its outflowing life crimsoning all the roadsides and the course of all the streams. The summer is slowly dying, dying, dying. Let the clouds gather and weep tears of rain. Let the mists of the morning weave a shroud. Let the birds, before they spread their wings southward, chant a dirge. Then let October, as a minister of God, prepare the dead summer's funeral services, taking for its text the words, "the fashion of this world passeth away."

Ever since boyhood we have been inclined to melancholy at the beginning of autumn. It has always been hard to say good bye to summer. We have the summer, we have its skies, whether peacefully blue or blackened with cloud-troops hastening to battle, the flash of their lightning bayonets dazzling the vision and the roar of their thunder muskets stunning the ears. We have its trees gracefully draped with green or decorated with fruit. We have its fields smiling with grass and flowers. We have its shining waters. We have its varied music, the chorals of feathered songsters and the symphonies of insect orchestras. To us the summer is a forest of heaven, that glorious place being pictured as a land of perennial summer, everlastingly fresh, everlastingly beautiful.

But change is characteristic of earthly life. As the summer goes, giving way to autumn, so move onward and away the years of our being, making new scenes, and bringing different hopes and aspirations. The old is ever being exchanged for the new. Every summer dies.

The melancholy of which we spoke, however, does not remain. It is an unwelcome guest with whom we soon part. When the autumn is fully come, its grandeur flaming in variegated colors along forest walls and the canyons of sparkling waterways, and its tonic air breathed with every inspiration into the lungs, we draw up another lease of gladness that even the bare hand of winter cannot make null and void. The splendor of autumn is compensation for the dying summer. When that is gone, every tree and all the fields naked, every stream locked with ice, and every harmony hushed, beside a glowing fire we are able to call up memories of the summer, those memories naught can fade. Then comes into the heart a whisper of hope, telling that summer days will again gild the landscape and warm the air.

There is no use in glancing regretfully at the past, as many do, thereby souring life. Better is it to make the best of the present, turning the vision backward only to gather the brightness of bygone days, and then joyfully gazing onward in anticipation of still more lustrous days to come. Retrospection may be either an angel of light or a fiend of darkness. We prefer to entertain it as an angel of light. In that character it shows every cloud as fringed with gold; and then it affords a glimpse of skies that have no clouds, forever blue, and forever glistening with sunshine. Dead summers come to resurrection.

It is God who orders the changes of life. His wisdom and love should never be left in doubt. Take, for instance, the procession of the seasons, who would hopelessly mourn at the couch of the dying summer? Is it not better that October days should follow those of August and September? Each season is but a preparation for another season. The dying summer gives birth to the fiery richness of autumn.

So in the sphere of human existence, who would always be a boy or girl? Who would always be a young man or young woman? Who would stand stock still at middle life? If we are making the best of the passing years, we are ever climbing upward into better things. Old age is winter, it is true, but even winter has its wealth. Beyond the snows of advanced life is the undecaying usefulness of the world that is eternal in the heavens. But let every one be sure that he is bound for such a glorious destiny. The making of the future is in our hands. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

Good-bye, summer! Thou hast been a pleasant friend to us. It is hard to part with thee. But thou wilt come again. Till then, farewell. So passes life. Old scenes, old associations, old delights, all move backward into the past, becoming mere shadows, the ghosts of days that are buried. But each dying summer of the heart and wind extends its trembling finger and points onward. Following that gesture, we look beyond, behoing a future day whose sun shall never set, a day that gathers all days into one day, and rounds itself into a circle of perpetual summer. "That is the garden of the Lord. That is heaven. That is home." WILLIAM HENRY BAUCOBT.

Notes From A Wicomico Voter On The Political Situation.

Editors Advertiser:— Now that the tickets in full of the two great parties have been placed before the people of Wicomico for inspection, I venture a few remarks on the Democracy of our county and all other lovers of "white man's" government irrespective of party. It is not the intention of the writer to throw "spit balls." Far from it. I only desire to deal with the situation from my viewpoint. We all know what Democracy and Republicanism stand for and it were a waste of time and space for me to enumerate their many principles as well as to extol the virtues of the Democratic candidates. We have heard both. My chief aim is to point out if I can a duty that all lovers of good government in Wicomico county owe to themselves.

Some one has asked the question, "Is the negro an issue in this campaign?" For me self I answer yes, most assuredly he is. He can well be made the paramount issue. Observe if you will the insolent manner of a great many of the younger element of the colored race and reflect for a moment. He feels his riability and that he is an "issue" in everything under the sun; (Under the Roosevelt regime he has cause for his feeling.) Mark well, I do not say all, neither do I mean those old fellows who were "constructed under the old constitution." Most all of them will stand aside for a lady or gentleman to pass with uplifted hat, but what I do say and say it without any prevarication or subterfuge—is this: the greater number of the young colored race are becoming more and more contemptuous every day, and why? Because they know that politically, so far as votes count, they are the equal of any white man that breathes and that their friend Roosevelt has, seemingly, all along used his high office in an earnest effort to make him the social equal of the white man.

The young colored man sees the drift. His power of perception is much keener than we might think. His only hope he thinks lies in the Republican party and with that party in power he is safe to do as he chooses. Where does the strength of the Republican party in Maryland lie? In the colored race. Without them it would be useless for the party to nominate a ticket. Where does the strength of the Republican party in Wicomico county lie? In the 1,389 colored votes. They are the power in the party. Should the Republican party in Maryland be successful this fall is it any more than unreasonable that we should have negro officials strewn all over the State? Negro police and police justices in Baltimore and Magistrates in the counties than it is in Pennsylvania, where the negro is a "minority part" of the party? Not at all. And mind you, my friend, they were hoodwinked in 1895 when Lowndes was elected but they don't propose their party doing them so in 1903. If it rides into power it must recognize the negro in the distribution of patronage in order to keep them in line and the Republican party safely entrenched for years to come.

Think of it! The grand old State of Maryland, her head bowed in shame. Wicomico county, once the banner county of the proud old State, helping to bring her down by placing her under negro rule. Gentlemen of Wicomico, if you are prepared for this—you are ready for the yoke any tyrant might seek to impose on you. You have not the instincts of freedom. Do you approve of it? If not then let us administer a stinging rebuke to the Republican party this fall, which shall not soon be forgotten. Do you not now know your duty? WHITE VOTER.

A Good Business Proposition. Several Good Business Propositions to make you, and Here's the Point. We do business on business principles. When we sell you a pair of shoes they are as good as can be manufactured for the money. People spend most of their time in their shoes, and this fact makes the quality of footwear a question of prime importance. Our proposition to you is to sell you good honest shoes at a price as low as is consistent with good values. We make this proposition to all prospective shoe buyers, fully believing that it is to your interest to do business with us. We have many advantages to offer you as a reason why you should do your shoe buying of us, the first of which is, we are exclusive Shoe dealers and also the largest buyers of Shoes on the Peninsula. We can offer you the largest and most complete stock to select from. We do not have to give you one size when your foot needs another. Our large stock enables us to carry all sizes and widths in stock. We take pains to see that every foot is properly fitted and also to select the proper kind of Shoe to meet the requirement for which it is intended. We have the exclusive sale in this city of all the best known and most popular makes of Shoes. A person is often judged by the company they keep, so is a merchant by the merchandise he handles, and while we stand behind every pair of fair priced Shoes we sell, whether made under some pet name or not. To those who want special lines we can offer such well known ones as the following:

FOR MEN: The Walk-Over, W. L. Douglas, Crossett's Long Life. FOR BOYS AND GIRLS: The Rice & Hutchins, Burley Stevens & Co., Excelsior. FOR LADIES: Queen Quality, Zelqier Bros., Cinderella, Allnutt Moody, Drew, Selby & Co.

All of these are good ones in their class and have reputations established on merit, but the burden of our story is simply Shoes, and not the maker—trust us for that and we will always give you full value for your money or cheerfully refund you the same. Think over our proposition, come and see us and let us more fully explain and show you that we mean business and we feel sure that you will find that our interests are mutual. Yours for Shoes, R. LEE WALLER & CO., Boots and Shoes Exclusively, MAIN ST., SALISBURY, MD.

NOTES FROM ALLEN.

Political Situation Humorously Depicted By A Reporter From That Town. Sentiment
For White Man's Party Increasing.

To our old friend and Democratic comrade, Mr. William Samuel Williams, belongs the honor of firing the first local Democratic gun in this campaign. Mr. Williams spoke before the Phi Beta Kappa Club of this town and had intended to enlighten his audience on "Radium," but when he arose and informed his hearers that the issues in this campaign were of more importance than "Radium or any other animal," they knew then that the campaign was about to open in Allen. Mr. Williams' voice was as clear as a silver bell, free from clove and suspicion and had the true Democratic ring. In speaking of radium Mr. Williams said that a pound of the "dawggoned stuff" would "bust up" the earth unless it was bridled and the man who was doing the driving had better use a double wire bit. He longed to purchase three-quarters of a pound for the Republican party in Maryland. Touching upon national affairs the speaker said that the Republican party would have people believe that Roosevelt was responsible for the good crops this year and set the market price for all farm products. "Indeed," said he, "you would think to hear 'em talk 'round here that Roosevelt helped 'em git their crops in. If he did," he continued "he passed by my place."

Coming down to State and local issues the speaker said in part: "Now my friends don't ye think its time we're a bucklin' on the armor an' goin' out to meet the nigger? Don't ye think the nigger is an issue in this here campaign? Shore ye do. What d'ye think of the Republican State Convention held in Baltimore tother week? Half of the crowd was niggers an' tother half Republican an' the first half bossed the job. One big black feller was Secretary. Nice weren't it. One nigger struck a white feller because the white feller wouldn't drink with him an' the only thing I'm sorry fer is that the whole dawggoned lot of niggers didn't pitch in an' kerwallow ever last one of the white delegates. They had no business bein' in convention with 'em. Still they'll tell ye that the nigger aint an issue. It looks to me that the niggers has the bossin' of the Republican party an' air about to make the white man an issue, seshully their white men. They doesn't bother ours. I tell ye my friends, we must git to work. We've got a ticket to be proud of an' we want to pitch in an' elect it. We don't want to lay right flat on our backs just because we've got a good ticket an' let the Republicans come 'long an' walk over us. Good people allus has to fite the devil, if they don't the old boy's bound to make a little headway. The issue, my friends is a white man's government ferjint nigger dominashun. Which will ye take? Talk it, sing it, holler it, do any thing to hold old Maryland as she is fer she's the stuff under white man's rule. Don't go home an' sit down an' pitch in to talkin' about the tariff an' the tax on raw material, an' keep it up until election day. If ye do, the Republican party will walk in an' the seat of your trousers will shine like the dome of the capitol at Washington. Think sense an' talk the Democratic issues in this campaign at the same time. Don't give too much attenshun to fancy accomplishments. We'll git er-head a good deal faster by plain, solid talkin' than we will by turnin' sommersets. A Republican said to me tother day that it would be "Williams an' victory. I told him that didn't rhyme, it would be "Williams an' walloped" an' Mr. Warfield would be the wall-popper. I thank ye friends, fer your kind attenshun an' perdicit a Dimmercat victory in county an' state."

The audience cheered the speaker vociferously and the Democratic campaign at Allen had opened for business. (Putting aside all jokes that is just what it has.) RAYMOND ALLEN.

Tomorrow Will Be Specially Observed In The Churches.

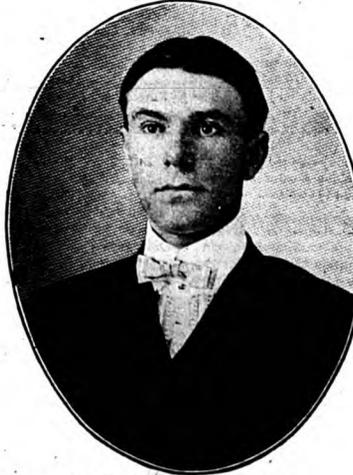

Next Sunday will be Anti-Saloon League Sunday in Salisbury. It is expected that Rev. Henry Branch, Pres. of the Maryland State Anti Saloon League and Rev. S. E. Nicholson Superintendent, will address congregations in four churches. The people of Salisbury and vicinity are urged to hear these able speakers. Following is the program: Methodist Protestant Church, 11 a. m., Rev. Nicholson; Asbury M. E. Church, 7.30 p. m., Rev. Nicholson; Trinity Church, 11 a. m., Rev. Dr. Branch; Presbyterian Church, 7.30 p. m., Rev. Dr. Branch.

There will also be a union temperance meeting in the M. P. Church at 8.30 p. m., when addresses will be delivered. —The condition of the Maryland and Pennsylvania Railroad greatly improved during the last year. The road is doing unusually well and is in excellent condition. The road bed has been straightened in several places and ballasted with stone. The York end is being laid with heavier rails and ballasted with stone, and many permanent improvements are being made. The road has all the business it can handle, and freight is being hauled day and night to accommodate the increasing demands on the rolling stock.

—It will pay you to read our adv. J. T. Taylor.

ON THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET THIS FALL

Sketch Of One Of The Candidates For Election, Now Before The Voters Of Wicomico County. Who The Democratic Party Has Chosen For Public Trust And Duty. A Touch Of Personal History.

MR. L. ATWOOD BENNETT,
Democratic Nominee for the Maryland Legislature.

Mr. L. Atwood Bennett, nominated by the Democratic party as a member of the House of Delegates, is a son of Mr. James L. Bennett, a native of Wicomico county. Mr. Bennett was born in Somerset county, October 25, 1878. His elementary education was received in the public school at Chance, Md. From there he went to Western Maryland College, graduating with honor from that institution in 1894. He then attended the Maryland University School of Law, graduating in May, 1897. He was admitted to practice at the bar in the courts of Baltimore City, and later in Somerset and Wicomico counties, beginning the practice of law in Wicomico county in September, 1897. Mr. Bennett was married, in February, 1902, to Miss Alice C. Catlin, and resides in a handsome home on Elizabeth street, Salisbury.

As a member of the bar in Wicomico, Mr. Bennett has met with marked success and is one of the leading young lawyers of our county. He is attorney for the Mayor and Council of Salisbury. Mr. Bennett for several years has been an earnest worker for the success of his party. An able and eloquent speaker, his voice has been heard in every district of the county in behalf of the principles of the Democratic party. Mr. Bennett's natural abilities, strengthened by his training and exceptional educational advantages, his knowledge of the needs of his county and State, his force as a speaker, his ability as a public debater, and his sterling integrity of character, make him an ideal man for the position to which he aspires and to which he will be elected.

MR. LEMUEL B. BRITTINGHAM, Democratic Nominee for County Commissioner.

Mr. Lemuel B. Brittingham, nominated on the Democratic ticket for County Commissioner, was born May 16, 1855. Mr. Brittingham is one of the leading farmers and truckers of his home district, Dennis. He has always been an active worker in the Democratic ranks, and has rendered valuable service to his party in his own district and throughout the county. He was elected County Commissioner by his party in 1899, serving two years. His record while in the Board was of the highest, and justifies his return to that Board, by the citizens of the county, by a large majority. Mr. Brittingham is by nature a pleasant, kind-hearted gentleman, and has a friend in everyone who knows him well. The other districts of the county will support Dennis in doing him honor.

The Great Question.

Before the people of Wicomico county is the temperance question. The Anti-Saloon League invites the cooperation of all persons in the fight against the saloon. Opposition to the saloon is the only condition of membership. It is not even necessary that your name be recorded. It makes no difference to what political party you belong. This League knows no political party. Our creed is very brief and easy to understand. We are in the work of saloon destruction—but we move according to law. Those that are not in sympathy with us may take notice that our purpose never alters nor falters. We are looking to the day when not a legalized saloon shall open its doors in Wicomico county. Cecil, Kent, Talbot, Queen Anne, Caroline, Dorchester and Somerset have rid themselves of this obstruction to civilization. Wicomico must do the same.—Anti-Saloon League.

—There will be more apple brandy distilled in Delaware this season than for years. The 35 distilleries in the state are being worked to their full capacity manufacturing "applejack," but little peach brandy has been made this season.

High School Has Arranged For Several Theatrical Entertainments.

The teachers of the Salisbury City Schools have secured through the Central Lyceum of Harrisburg, Pa., a course of entertainments which will be given in Uman's Opera House on Oct. 10th., Jan., 6th., Feb., 12th., and March 11th.

These entertainments are of exceptionally fine order, having been well recommended in every city where they have been given.

The first one, "The Floyds," is described as full of merriment, melody and mystification. An entertainment filled with original novelties. The price of the course will be $1.25.

The proceeds will be devoted to the indebtedness on the piano now in use in the High School.

Whaleyville Fire.

About half past ten, Monday night, the Store House, of Dale & Co., Whaleyville, was discovered to be on fire, and before many minutes had expired was one seething mass of flames. It fortunately caught in the upper story which gave them an opportunity to save about one half of the stock on the first floor. Its origin seems to be a mystery as there had been no fire made in the stove that day. Only two hundred dollars insurance.

FALL TERM OF COURT.

Over On Thursday. Jury Renders Verdict Of Murder In Second Degree Against Heath Who Is Sentenced To Eighteen Years. Report Of Grand Jury.

The September Term of the Circuit Court for Wicomico County concluded its session on Thursday afternoon, 8th. inst., except the case which was removed here from Worcester County, which will be taken up on the 28rd. day of November. The last case tried was that of the State of Maryland vs. Elmer Heath for the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Katie Adkins. In consequence of the rarity of such an occurrence, the Court House was crowded to its fullest capacity.

The Jury after being out about four hours, rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree.

Judge Holland delivered the sentence and was visibly affected. He said: "Elmer Heath stand up! Have you anything to say before receiving sentence for killing your sweetheart, the woman who had given her troth to marry you? A jury of your country has found you guilty of murder in the second degree. I do not wish to comment on the gravity of your crime nor the verdict of the jury, but the Court is of the opinion that you received all the mercy from the jury that you are entitled to, and will give the extreme penalty of the law for your crime—confinement eighteen years in the penitentiary."

The state closed its testimony Thursday morning, about thirty witnesses having been examined. The defense rested its case on the cross-examination and placed no witnesses on the stand.

State's Attorney Bailey addressed the jury for fifty minutes, closing his argument at 12:45 o'clock. The attorneys for the defense made no attempt to reply and the case was given to the jury at once, court taking a recess until 4:30. At 4 o'clock notice was sent the judges that the verdict was ready, and court was at once called to receive it.

One of the jury stated that two facts had great weight with them in reaching the verdict. One was the position of Miss Adkins' parents, their evident reluctance in giving the testimony and the introduction of evidence of a picture of himself that Heath had given the girl the afternoon or evening of the tragedy to remember him by. This fell from the bosom of her dress and was found by the undertaker. It was the strongest point in establishing lack of premeditation.

The State was assisted by Mr. Geo. W. Bell and Mr. John H. Handy. The jury was composed of the following gentlemen: Isaac F. Messick (foreman), Covington Wilson, James T. Hopkins, James Cathell, John W. Darby, Benjamin F. English, Zadoc Richardson, Wm W. Guthrie, Marion Bussell, Lamartine Collins and John W. Rourke. Messrs Miles & Stanford represented the defense.

Heath was removed from the county jail and taken to the State Penitentiary Friday morning.

Report Of Grand Jury And Special Committee.

"In response to much complaint, we recommend that the State's Attorney be instructed to notify all owners or custodians of slot machines, used for dispensing chewing gum, candy or other things, that the exposure of such machines for use on Sunday is a violation of law and will be severely dealt with."

"We have received other complaints of the violation of the Sunday law and would suggest that all officers be instructed to exercise the most active diligence in the maintenance of this important statute."

"We have grave reason to believe that the license law is being violated by peddlers and traveling merchants, and would request that all county officers, and in particular Justices of the Peace, and constables, be advised to give the enforcement of the license law their most diligent attention."

Court House And Jail.

"It is our pleasure to report that we found the jail buildings in good condition, and an ample provision made for the comfortable care of prisoners."

"The court house building needs immediate attention. The roof leaks in several places; the approach to the bell tower should be protected from the use and abuse of boys by a strong door and strong lock; the two pumps and fountain on the court house grounds, all of which are now out of use, should at the first available opportunity be put in good repair."

Alms House.

Messrs. H. F. Pollitt, L. S. Williams and W. R. Laws, composed the committee to visit the Alms House, near Quantico. Their report was as follows: "We beg leave to report that we found the farm in good condition, a good crop of corn and fodder, all saved in good condition. The hay crop is good and saved in fine condition. We found about 75 bushels of white potatoes, all dug and housed, and an excellent prospect for a good sweet potato crop. The stock on the farm consists of four horses, four milch cows, six fattening hogs, a brood sow and eleven fine pigs."

The inmates number 14, of whom 4 are white males and 3 white females; 4 colored males and 3 colored females. All seem to be well cared for. The building is in fair condition, and the bedding in good order."

FALL MILLINERY DESIGNS.

Our Enterprising Merchants Make Elaborate Displays Of Fall And Winter Styles. What The World Of Fashion Favors In The Feminine Realm.

The occasion of the Annual Fall Opening at the Millinery establishments this week attracted considerable attention and drew the usual large crowd of inspectors and buyers.

Great preparations had been made for this event and the result was most satisfactory. As to the shapes, in headgear, there seems to be a variety sufficient to meet every demand. While the majority of the crowns are low there are those decidedly square, some rounded on the edge, some of bell shape, and some indented on top, and there are models with medium high and tapering crowns. Indeed, it would seem the variety is sufficient for everyone to find that which is individually becoming.

R. E. Powell & Co.

The millinery window at Messrs. R. E. Powell & Co.'s was a beauty, with its arches and draperies of purple and white, and decorations of hat trimming and trimmed hats. Inside the latest styles in dress goods and all other winter fabrics were on display.

The large millinery room on the second floor, which was decorated with potted plants and palms contained a handsome collection of pattern hats, toques and bonnets. Here, too, the color effect in draperies was purple and white.

Among the most striking models were to be seen the following:

A flat iron shaped hat, made of gun metal velvet, trimmed with black plume, tipped with white, waving toward the back, and clasped in front with a jetted catshoon.

Hat with brim flaring at sides in omelet style, trimmed with bird and an effective finish of brown velvet.

A large flat hat in the prevailing shade of purple trimmed with large bird across the front and parade aigrettes on either side.

The new styles in ladies' and children's coats and a great variety of walking and dress skirts were also shown.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor.

The many friends of Mrs. Taylor were well pleased with her display. The store was profusely decorated with golden rods and cat-tails, while the draperies were yellow, green and white, presenting altogether a very pleasing effect.

Birds are more prominent than ever in this year's trimming, and this idea was very uniquely carried out by Mrs. Taylor in one of her window decorations. A large limb extending almost the entire length of the window was decked with birds of all styles and shades.

The display of hats here was most varied and attractive. Among the models shown were the following:

The feather hat, rolling brim, trimmed with large bird on top.

Hat of light blue plush with insert in brim, trimmed with single plume falling gracefully on under side of brim.

Large hat of black and white fur, crown and upper brim black, lower brim white. The only trimming was a handsome waving plume fastened with jet buckle.

A pretty black picture hat had plush crown and lace brim, trimmed with plumes and buckles.

Lowenthal.

At Lowenthal's everything was arranged in the most attractive style for the Opening occasion; and a varied line of dress goods and trimmings were displayed. The window decorations attracted attention, but the fine collection of pattern hats in the millinery department was the principal feature. The millinery room which is almost surrounded with mirrors looked very pretty with its draperies of deep red and palm decorations.

All the shapes and shades in new and up-to-date head wear were there, and received much admiration. A large hat of white beaver, upper brim applied with handsome cream lace and trimmed at side with a cluster of lavender foliage and ribbon.

An attractive black hat had a brim of lace and sherr-d velvet crown, trimmed with feather pom-pom and aigrettes at side.

—Miss Laura Williams, of Pittsville, is a guest this week of her daughter, Mrs. Edward M. Holland. —Miss Sara Applegart, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mrs. Harry Purnell, at Newport for a week. —Mrs. Harry Mumford, of Salisbury, paid her mother, Mrs. Walter Pruitt, a visit last week.

—Lacy Hardesty and Charley Tingle took the early train Monday morning for a course at Goldey's College. —Mr. William Parkhill who has been holding a position in Aberdeen, Md., is home again for an indefinite stay.

—Mr. E. G. Kerbin was in Berlin Friday en route to Bishopville on a business visit.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson, of Bishopville, spent last Monday with her sister, Mrs. Jerry Campbell.

—Mrs. James Turner and children and Mrs. Jerry Campbell visited friends in Campbell's a part of last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Burbage, and son Henry spent Sunday afternoon with his mother. —Mr. James Turner and children, of Cambridge have returned home after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Tyre of this place.

—Dr. and Miss Maud Baggott, who are still lingering at the sea shore enjoying the lovely October weather, were in Berlin with friends Tuesday.

—Mrs. Robley D. Jones, of Snow Hill, and Miss Addie Henry of Berlin, are spending several days in Philadelphia this week, shopping.

—Mrs. Jno. Dilworth an old resident and Mr. Charles Dilworth, both of New York are at present guests of Mr. L. C. Dilworth.

—Mr. W. Lee Carey spent a few days home with his family this week, greeting friends and taking things easy generally.

—Mrs. Dr. E. J. Dirickson after most delightful visit to her daughter, Miss Anna and friends in Baltimore returned Wednesday.

—One of a pair of valuable horses belonging to Mr. Fletcher Porter died very suddenly Wednesday after a short drive the same afternoon.

—Miss Lizzie Tilghman was in Baltimore this week purchasing her fall stock of novelties, which she will be glad to show her patrons.

—The luscious fat backs are still with us. From eight to ten thousand were sold on the streets of Berlin Saturday.

—Mr. Severn Murray, who has been housed for several weeks with a rheumatic carbuncle back of the neck, is on the street again, but still a sufferer, and far from being in sound condition.

—Mr. Edw. Evans extended an invitation to a few of his friends Monday night and it was a pleasure for them to meet one of Laurel's representatives, Mr. Frank Lynch.

—Mr. Robert Parsons, formerly of Berlin, now making his home in Kansas City, with his wife, Mrs. Parsons, and two children are guests at the Park Hotel.

—Mr. Henry D. Tingle, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, has been confined to his bed and miserable for the past week. Mr. Tingle is over 80 years old.

—Mrs. Rosalie Hitchens and children, who have been spending several weeks with her father, Mr. Thomas N. Tingle, returned to her home at Cape Charles, Monday.

—Oct., 27th, has been fixed for the date of the Democratic meeting in Worcester county at which the Hon. Edwin Warfield and the other state candidates will be present. The meeting at Snow Hill will be held in the afternoon and that at Pocomoke City at night.

—Mr. R. W. Comegys, a native of Millington, Md., a pleasant gentleman, now connected with the Wrightsville Lime Co., is quartered at the Atlantic. He comes highly recommended by our friend, Joe Budding.

—Charles A. McGregor expects to leave for St. Louis next Monday prospecting, and visiting relatives. Charley is a steady, moral, and correct young man, and his friends all wish him success.

—Mr. John Carey who first was on the police force, Baltimore City, now an oyster inspector, is making a short visit at the home of his father, Mr. Joshua Carey, on the bay. His old friends and former associates are glad to see him looking so well cared for.

reports a most charming visit and a general improvement in health.

—Mr. Geo. Givans, Jr., who several weeks since accepted a position at Strawbridge's found that the many attractions of town and home were greater than anything Philadelphia could possibly offer, consequently has returned to his father's fireside, and more than likely will remain.

—Rev. Mr. Gantt will hold service and preach at St. Martin's brick church Sunday at 8 p. m. He would like to meet there all persons interested in a Harvest Home Service that may be held at that church all of Tuesday, October 30th., and at Berlin that night.

—Mr. Calvin B. Taylor has placed the bricks and in a few days will have a new pavement, which has been lacking to give his new bank building the proper finish. It has been the scarcity at our brick yards that has so long caused the delay.

—The races at Franklins track Thursday were well attended as usual and the days' sport highly enjoyed. Most of our sister towns were fully represented and the crowd if possible was larger than last year. Politics were of course not even mentioned during the afternoon but many a voter received a hearty shake and his welfare earnestly inquired for.

—Thomas G. Hanley left Monday morning for the State of New York with the expectation of purchasing two or three car loads of young cattle, principally steers, for feeding and fattening. A portion of the stock are for sale and will be offered to the public by the last of the week. Hanley has on hand at the present time 90 odd head of beef cattle now ready for the butcher as soon as the weather comes cold enough to make a shipment. Most of them are considered too large for home market.

It is with the deepest regret that we are compelled this week to announce the departure of our old life long associate, Sewell Williams for the confederate home, Pikesville, near Baltimore. He is troubled with a cancerous affliction that seemingly is making rapid progress and already causing constant suffering. He was compelled to quit business some weeks ago, and not only his friends, but the whole town will miss the familiar face, both at the store and on the street. He has our deepest sympathy.

FARMERS NATIONAL CONGRESS.

The Twenty Third Session of The Farmers National Congress Held At Niagara Falls, New York Was A Successful Meeting.

The Middle, Southern, and South-western States were best in attendance yet there were some from the far west and east. Maryland had one delegate from Cecil County and one from Worcester County. There are many broad questions of interest to the farmer, principally on Marketing the grain, Corn and Wheat, Cattle, Tomato Growing, Sugar Beet Industry, Growing and Marketing of Cotton, Dairying, Sugar supply of the United States. Agricultural Conditions, Farm Products in the market of the world.

How can we enlarge our foreign markets for farm products? Infestuous and Contagious diseases of farm animals and their effect on American Agriculture. History of Government ownership of public utilities.

Extension of the facilities of our mail system. All subjects were open for discussion and some were handled quite lively as many farmers claimed it was time for the farmer to take a front seat and show to the world. We are tillers of the soil and with Cooperation the farmers of the United States can save hundred and thousands of dollars yearly. I hope at the next Farmer's Congress, it may be convenient for many to attend.

Uncle Sam's Sweet Tooth.

That Uncle Sam has a "sweet tooth" is demonstrated by the record of sugar importations for the year, which have increased to the largest total ever known. In addition to the sugar raised in this country more than 5,000,000,000 pounds have been imported, which, with the domestic production, would give each man, woman and child in the United States about seventy-two pounds each per annum. As many persons do not eat anything like this amount and much sugar is introduced into the human body in other forms than the refined product, there must be many people who consume more than their own weight of sugar in a year.

Linear Versus War Ship.

Those unfamiliar with the differences in the construction of ships made for war and peace may wonder that the speed of 13.1 knots an hour maintained by the Kearsarge is a cause for jubilation when passenger steamers make more than 20 knots. The passenger ship, being built for speed, is given a length ten times of her beam measurement, while in the floating battery the proportion is but five to one. The liner uses 25,000 to 37,000 horse power, while the Kearsarge uses but 6,500. The Kearsarge made in her official trials 16.84 knots, but she was then greased for the occasion. Every lump of coal used had been sorted out by the builders, and a crew, every man an expert employed regularly in trials, sustained that speed for but four hours and in smooth water.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Busy Disinfection.

Within twenty years five great foes of the human race have been shown of their worst terrors—hydrophobia, diphtheria, lockjaw, snake poison and the bubonic plague, that scourge of former centuries. Against the menace of these five stand the Pasteur institutes, scores of them, served by hundreds of bacteriologists, biologists and physiologists, aided by thousands of aspiring students, the whole admirably organized into departments and subdepartments and sending forth serums and antitoxins by tens of thousands of doses a year.—Cleveland Moffett in McClure's.

Deserves All the Credit.

See a prattling, laughing, healthy baby in a home and you find sunshine there—papa, mamma, grandmother, all are happy. "I take pleasure in recommending Victor Infants Relief, for it helped our baby very much—brought health and then kept her well. When only eleven months old she weighed 25 pounds. Victor Infants Relief alone, I think, has made her so hearty. It is a remedy that deserves much praise and is invaluable to the mother." 25 cents will buy this wonderful Baby Medicine from your Druggist.

Can't Be Presented at Court.

If any one at a social gathering were to say that an actor or actress cannot be presented at the English court the statement would be received with surprise and doubt, and yet it is an absolute fact. When or how the ban was established need not be dealt with here, but the old prejudice that in other countries put the poor player outside the pale of privileged citizenship and the sacraments still lingering survives in the etiquette of an unprejudiced court, says the London Tatler. None of the actors who were honored in the present king's or the late queen's reign can as the law stands be presented at court, although the personal attitude of the king and the royal family toward the stage is of the very friendliest nature. A dramatic author, a composer, a lyric writer and the manager of a theater are, if otherwise qualified, eligible to go to court, but the actor, no matter how high his character, attainments and honors, is still in the eyes of the lord chamberlain an unknown.

No Getting Around It.

George Bruce Cortelyou while secretary to President McKinley one morning sat before an amassment of mail energetically trying to reduce its proportions. Secretary Long, passing through the room at the time, extended the sympathy of a man familiar with the contents of so many letters. "Mr. Cortelyou, are you sitting enraptured before an Egyptian pyramid?" asked the head of the navy. "The Egyptian pyramids have an advantage," answered the forlorn Cortelyou. "You can go around them, but there's no getting around the one on my desk. You have to go through it."

Stomach Trouble.

"I have been troubled with my stomach for the past four years," says D. L. Beach, of Clover Nook Farm, Greenfield, Mass. "A few days ago I was induced to buy a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I have taken part of them and feel a great deal better." If you have any trouble with your stomach try a box of these Tablets. You are certain to be pleased with the result. Price 25 cents. For sale by all Dealers.

The Loop on the Shirt.

"No first class shirt is made nowadays without a loop on the back to hold the tie down," said the superintendent of an uptown laundry, "and yet it is almost impossible to stop the ironer from pressing it flat against the shirt, so that a man has to take a penknife to pry it open. It is not because the laundry does not know what the loop is for, although for a long time most of them thought it was to hang the shirt up by. The fact is that the loop gets in the way of the flatiron and to women working by the hand of the shirt, and it stays there out of the way. The only way we can do is to keep on telling the ironer that our customers know quite well what the loop is there for and that they insist on having it open."—New York Times.

Glass That Will Not Crack.

A new kind of glass that resists great heat as well as sudden changes of temperature is made from Brazilian quartz pebbles. The pebbles are heated red hot and then thrown into distilled water. The purest pieces are next selected and welded with the oxyhydrogen blowpipe into long stems like knitting needles, from which glass vessels of any shape can be made. At present the quartz glass is chiefly employed for making laboratory apparatus. Into a test tube made in this way a white hot coal can be dropped without breaking it. Vessels of other forms can be heated white hot and then plunged into cold water without cracking.

Locomotive Headlights.

A recent improvement in railroad locomotive headlights is to send a beam of light vertically from the locomotive, as well as straight ahead. The column of light rising vertically from the locomotive can be seen from a great distance, even though a hill should intervene to hide the ordinary headlight and dull the sound of the whistle. The searchlight effect used aboard ships is thus to some extent utilized. An approaching locomotive with this device always signals its coming with a "pillar of fire" by night, producing an impressive as well as useful effect.

Democratic Ticket.

- FOR GOVERNOR: EDWIN WARFIELD, of Howard County. FOR COMPTROLLER: DR. GORDON T. ATKINSON, of Somerset County. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL: WILLIAM SHEPPARD BRYAN, of Baltimore City.

The Mudd ticket stays in the field in Prince George's County and the organization ticket has been taken down, after which as usual the organization crowd will turn to and knife the Mudd ticket on election day.

Mr. Leidor Rayner is calling for an expression of opinion which it is little likely that he will get, from the legislative candidates of Baltimore with regard to their attitude toward him.

We are not hostile to the negroes, in fact, better friends than the republicans. As children growing up, we remember, we were kings and the little darkeys our willing subjects.

THE TEMPERATE SOUTH.

Little Liquor Consumed There In Comparison To Northern States. 3000 More Saloons in New York Than The Entire South. Southern Situation.

A revision of opinion is due among the newspaper editors and other citizens of the North who have been nursing the notion that the resident of the South is in his normal mood and condition only when on intimate terms with the seductive mint julep or some other form of intoxicant.

Texas—186 counties have total prohibition; 62 counties have partial prohibition, and 46 counties have unrestricted sale of liquor. Tennessee—Out of 5,500 cities and towns in the state only eight have unrestricted sale of liquors.

Georgia—103 counties out of 137 have prohibition. It is interesting to note in this connection that Kentucky and Tennessee, the homes of the largest distilleries of the country, have adopted exceedingly stringent laws relative to the sale and consumption of intoxicating liquors.

FOR SALE. An exceptional chance will be given to the right man to buy and pay for a nice new house, with little or no money down.

CONTENTMENT.

In his Epistle to the Philippians Paul declares that he had learned always to be content. Happy man in that statement from his pen, the wind is blowing straight from the north west, and the sky is blue.

But what does Paul mean when he says that he was always contented? It is certain that he had no intention of setting forth any satisfaction with his attainments in the Christian life.

Paul satisfied with his Christian lot! Why, listen to his shout, he has been on and away over the mining track of religious experience. He exclaims, "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do; forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark."

There is a style of piety that is far different from the piety of this man Paul. Hundreds there are who imagine that when they have joined a church there is nothing more for them to do.

Once in a religious meeting a man pompously rose to the floor and said, "Brethren and sisters, I am on the ship of the Gospel. It is a fast sailing ship, it is making forty knots an hour."

What then did Paul mean by contentment? Going back to the Greek in which the Apostle wrote the Epistle, the word contentment is compounded of two words that signify self and to suffice.

Where did Paul learn that lesson? He had learned it in the school of affliction, and at the feet of Christ. He was a senator in the same college from which Job had graduated with honor many centuries before.

Second: A farm in Parsons District, Wicomico County, Maryland, and bounded on the North by Robert T. Gresham, on the South by the county road leading from Parsonsburg to Wango, on the West by the land of Joshua Holloway, on the East by the land of E. M. Walston's land and E. Q. Walston's mill pond.

FOR SALE. The label is in the inside breast pocket. It means satisfaction.

language, whether his lips spoke or his pen; and possessing that magnetism of person that always is characteristic of those born to command, Paul might have become illustrious as either a statesman or orator in secular things, or both, winning for himself the brightest earthly laurels that ever blossomed around any human brow.

Mr. Wailes is one of Wicomico's brightest men, and strongest thinkers.

Mr. William Goodell, of Allen, this county, has invented a machine which he anticipates will revolutionize the canning industry to a large extent, especially that of tomatoes. The machine works by hand, though power may be applied if desired, and has a capacity of 1,300 cans per hour, or 500 cases per day. The tomatoes are scalded and peeled and then dumped into a hopper. Empty cans are fed into one end of the machine and they come out at the other end ready for the label. The tomatoes are heated, the cans filled, packed, cleaned off and capped (with solder) without further handling.

Yellow Trading Stamps.

We publish today an advertisement which not only presages but announces the actual inauguration of quite a change in the business life of this city and community. We refer to the Yellow Trading Stamp advertisement in another column of this paper. Although the actual working of this business proposition is new to us, it has been tried for years in the large cities and other sections of the country, and so far as we are informed, with very general satisfaction.

Anyone reading the list of merchants of this city who have taken it up, can readily see it stands in favor here.

From the merchants standpoint the underlying principle is two-fold, to draw new trade, and to encourage cash trading. At the same time they do this, they benefit and reward the purchasing public by placing in their homes beautiful and a useful premiums that cost them nothing.

Entertain in Honor Of Baltimore Guest.

The Misses Ellegood gave a delightful evening on Monday in honor of Miss Blanche Harmon, of Baltimore. Progressive flinch, which is becoming so popular in Salisbury, was a feature of the entertainment.

Guests: Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Grier, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Humphreys, Mr. and Mrs. S. King White, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Adkins, R. P. Graham of Baltimore, Miss Hamilton, of Shreveport, La., Misses Maria Ellegood, Grace Ellegood, Beale Ellegood, Mary Lee White, Nellie Fish, Ruth Newton, Messrs. Henry B. Freeny, Harry Mayer, J. C. White, G. V. White, E. H. White, Edgar Lawr, J. R. White.

Dr. Newton To Return To Japan

After the evening session of the Virginia Conference, Nov. 11th, Dr. Newton and his family will go to Japan and he will resume his work as a missionary. For a good many years he was the Dean of the Biblical Department of the Southern Methodist Mission College located near the city of Kobe.

Dr. Newton's history of Japan has been published in Canada as well as in this country.

Dr. Newton and his family expect to be in Japan before the close of this year and it is his intention to remain there the balance of his working days.

The Woman's Home Missionary of Asbury M. E. Church, were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Lambert Walston last Wednesday evening. Through the kindness of Mrs. U. C. Phillips, the entire party were driven out in wagons. There were thirty present. An interesting program consisting of music (vocal and instrumental), readings and recitations was rendered. An abundance of ice cream and cake was served at ten o'clock. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. C. Gullett on Church Street, in November.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss Ada Dorr, Sidney, Iowa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Don't Turn Up Your Nose At Lacy Thoroughgood's Clothes.

A Salisbury lady said to her husband why don't you go to Lacy Thoroughgood's and see what kind of clothes he has, any way, instead of paying such high prices to have them made? The man came, doubtful at every step. Brought a friend with him. The friend said: Oh no, I have tried ready to wear suits and they can't fit me. But he came along. Lacy Thoroughgood tackled the friend first. Put an overcoat on him and he wouldn't take it off. Handed over $5.00 and had it sent up home. The other man was overcoated the same way. Then Thoroughgood mentioned suits. Oh no, you can never fit me in a suit, they both said in one breath. But I insisted on trying, and in a short while, I was delivering a suit for each of them. This is not a fairy tale. The two men are among the most fashionably dressed people in town. They don't want to be a making advertisement for Thoroughgood's clothing, but if you want to know who they are Thoroughgood can tell you. Many men are having this new experience of finding out that ready-to-wear clothing of the right kind does fit. It didn't used to fit. But the cutting is now done right. A man's figure is studied. There is not only different sizes, but different cuts, for the stout man, the slender man, the tall man, the short man. Lacy Thoroughgood can fit everybody. But how about the tailoring. If you don't think it then come and see. Remember I am the only clothing and hat merchant in Salisbury that gives trading stamps, and they are yellow stamps, which means, as good as gold.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

A scow loaded with a steel shovel weighing 80,000 pounds sank in Big Fog Tuesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, and the loss is estimated at $20,000. The shovel belonged to Contractor Davis, who is building part of the Wash extension. It was shipped from Pittsburgh over the Western Maryland Railroad at Fort Frederick, where it was loaded on a specially constructed canal boat, which began to leak immediately and sank when the Pool was reached.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunk in, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at all drug stores.

The contracts for the masonry of two new bridges over Principio Creek were awarded by the Cecil County Commissioners to Peter and William Abrams, respectively, at $885 and $897 per cubic yard. York Bridge Company will supply the iron work.

A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure. Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c, and $1.00. Guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free."

The report that Fletcher Hollis, the negro who shot Constable Wright, of Clayton, Del., is hiding in Queen Anne county and the increased reward of $250 for his capture has caused Constable Walls and others to put bloodhounds on his track.

Recovered Speech and Hearing.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—I commenced using your Cream Balm about two years ago for catarrh. My voice was somewhat thick and my hearing was dull. My hearing has been fully restored and my speech has become quite clear. I am a teacher in our town.

Letter to John Windsor.

Dear Sir: Let's have a little private talk by ourselves on business; nobody else, please, read.

You want to know how to do a cheap job of painting, and have it look good. Here it is; the cheapest thing there is in the way of a good-looking job—may nothing about its being good—is Devco; the regular thing in Devco.

The reason is: Devco goes further than anything else. Lead-and-kill is good-looking; don't go so far and costs more. The other paints are more or less short in one way or another; don't go so far and costs more than Devco. Devco costs least of all; you don't mind its lasting longer do you? We can't help it; a paint that goes further lasts longer; we can't help it.

Yours truly

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

The National Good Roads Association has named W. Irving Walker as vice-president for Maryland, having in charge legislation by Congress toward securing appropriations for government aid to states constructing modern roads.

Cause Of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

Tour To The Pacific Coast.

On account of the meeting of the National Bankers' Association to be held at San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20 to 28, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company offers a personally conducted tour to the Pacific Coast at remarkably low rates.

This tour will leave New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and other points on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburgh, Wednesday, October 14, by special train of the high est grade Pullman equipment. A quick run westward to San Francisco will be made, via Chicago, Omaha, Ohyenne and Ogden.

Five days will be devoted to San Francisco; allowing ample opportunity to visit the nearby coast resorts. Returning, stops will be made at Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, Denver and St. Louis. The party will reach New York on the evening of October 31.

Round trip rate, covering all expenses for eighteen days, except five days at San Francisco, $190.

Rates from Pittsburgh will be $5. less. For full information apply to Ticket Agents, or Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

Niagara Falls Excursions.

September 4 and 18, October 2 and 16 are the remaining dates for the popular ten day excursions to Niagara Falls from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, via Pennsylvania Rail road.

The excursions from Philadelphia will be run by two routes. The one on September 4 and 18, and Oct. 2 and 16, going via Harrisburg and the picturesque valley of the Susquehanna, special train leaving Philadelphia at 8:10 A. M.; excursion of October 2 running via Trenton, Manunka Chunk, and the Delaware Valley, leaving Philadelphia on special train at 8:06 A. M.

Excursion tickets, good for return passage on any regular train, exclusive of limited express trains, within ten days, will be sold at $10.00 from Philadelphia and all points on the Delaware Division; $11.25 from Atlantic City; $9.00 from Lancaster; and at proportionate rates from other points, including Trenton, Berlestown, Mt. Holly, Cape May, Salem, Wilmington, West Chester, Reading, and principal intermediate stations. A stop-over will be allowed at Buffalo within the limit of ticket returning.

The special trains of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will be run with each excursion running through to Niagara Falls. An extra charge will be made for parlor car seats.

An experienced tourist agent and chaperon will accompany each excursion.

Paine's Celery Compound

GIVES VIGOR AND STRENGTH TO DEBILITATED AND RUN DOWN WOMEN.

It is maintained by many distinguished writers that the greatness of a nation depends much upon the physical condition of its women. The general conditions which contribute to health and long life, are those which do not imply a rapid and unequal exhaustion of those powers by which life is maintained. While we assert that the women of our land stand peerless for beauty and the virtues that make them lovable, we cannot hide the fact that there are thousands in our midst who, owing to overwork, worry, household cares, and an unequal exhaustion of life power, have become weak, nervous, sleepless, and debilitated.

We bring to the attention of all weary, dependent, hopeless, and sickly women, Paine's Celery Compound. Thousands of healthy women around us owe their present vigor, activity, and robustness to Paine's Celery Compound. Mrs. Stephen Smith, St. Paul, Minn., tells how she was snatched from the grave; she says: "I had a bad attack of a grippe this spring and was at death's door, and no one ever expected me to recover. I was so weak that I could not get up, and my head ached so that I was in another world. I could not take any nourishment, and doctors' medicines did me no good. A friend advised my husband to get me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, which he did, but had no faith in it. The second day after taking the Compound I began to get real hungry and took an interest in things. I had everything that money and loving care could supply, and with that and Paine's Celery Compound, I am now doing my own work, while three months ago I was almost in the grave. I know that I owe my health and strength to Paine's Celery Compound, and shall always recommend it."

NEWS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF WICOMICO SENT IN BY THE ADVERTISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

POWELLVILLE.

John V. Dennis of St. Martins station, brother of Marcellus Dennis, of Dennis District, is the father of ten children and has fifty grandchildren. If any one can beat this record, let him be like the man, when the minister in his sermon asked "where is the drunkard?" and a man got up and said "here I am."

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Dennis visited with Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Powell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Duncan of New Hope, Messrs. Norman Dennis, Arthur Lewis, Sidney Dennis, John Dennis and Lawrence Dennis spent Sunday at the home of Mr. John Webb, near Whitton.

Mrs. Martha Bailey of Philadelphia is visiting with friends here at present.

Miss Stella Richardson who is teaching at Melfons spent Sunday at her home here.

Mr. George S. Johnson made a business trip to Baltimore this week.

Mr. I. S. Williams is improving his dwelling by having a front porch and a new coat of paint.

The protracted exercises are in progress at the M. P. church now.

PITTSVILLE.

The protracted meeting is in progress at the M. E. Church. Hope they will have a great revival which is needed in this village.

There will be services at the M. P. Church Sunday as follows: Sunday School, 9.30 o'clock. Preaching 10.30.

Miss Erma Wimbrow, who has been sick with fever, is better.

While Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Truitt were driving their horse became frightened and threw Mrs. Truitt and the baby out fortunately not injuring them seriously, overturned the carriage on Mr. Truitt, bruised him about the face, broke one spoke out of the carriage wheel and two ribs in the carriage top.

Master Lee Davis, who got scalded, is walking around.

Quite a number of houses are going up in this village.

Mrs. Fooks and Mrs. Donovan are visiting friends in Pittsville.

Mr. Minoe Parker is better.

We understand that W. R. Rounds shipped some strawberries last week.

LARGE POULTRY FARM

Being Established Near Salisbury. Enterprise Of Wicomico Men. Full Details Of Plans and Line Of Work. Mr. Claude L. Powell Will Superintend The Business.

Messrs. V. F. Ward, H. J. Clogg, Walter Sheppard and C. S. Powell have formed a company and will establish a large poultry farm near Salisbury known as the Eastern Shore Poultry Farm. The farm contains about 110 acres of land and is situated about 1 1/2 miles north of Salisbury on both sides of N. Y. P. & N. E. R. R.

The land is high and full of gravel, has a running stream for its southern boundary and Johnson's Pond for its western boundary. The farm is more than 1/2 of a mile in length and is protected on the north throughout the whole length by a dense pine thicket. Such a protection affording a decided advantage as it cuts off the north and west winds and thus protecting the chickens from cold to such an extent that it would reasonably be expected to have nearly as large egg production during the winter months as during the spring and summer.

Mr. C. L. Powell has resigned his position as Deputy Keeper in Maryland Penitentiary and will be Superintendent of the enterprise.

He is now having the building erected and will begin to stock the farm in about a week.

The houses, twenty in number, are to be 24x12 ft. 5 ft. high in rear and 7 ft. in front. 12x10 ft. of each building will be enclosed for roosting place and lined with vermin proof paper. The other part of each building, 14x12, will be open on south side and be used as scratch pens. The hens will be confined in these houses during very cold weather and while snow is on the ground. The front of the roosting place of each house will have one window and the scratch pens will be enclosed on south side by wire netting. Each house is built for 50 hens and the 20 houses will contain 1000 laying hens.

This number of hens will produce enough eggs to enable a shipment each day and the eggs laid one day will arrive in New York in time for breakfast the following day. The eggs will probably be used by first class hotels at contract prices, as liberal bids have already been received.

Incubators will be used exclusively for hatching. They are four in number of about 1500 egg capacity and will be set so that there will be a hatch every five days.

Leghorns will be used almost exclusively, both white and brown of the single comb varieties. The reasons for using Leghorns are:

First. They are the best known variety for egg production.

Second. They are non sitters.

Third. They lay a white shelled egg which sells in the New York market at a premium of from two to four cents per doz. above the yellow or brown shell.

Fourth. They are great foragers and being very active hunt for a great part of their food.

Fifth. The cost of raising two leghorns is about equal to the cost of raising one of the larger breeds. They mature quickly and if properly attended to the pullets will begin laying at the age of four months.

In order to accommodate customers several varieties in small quantities will be raised on this farm.

Chickens are regarded by most farmers as a very insignificant part of their live stock and yet so often neglected and forced to shift for themselves. The poultry and egg crop usually pays him better (in proportion to amount invested) than any other product of the farm.

There is a great demand for first class poultry and eggs and the farmer is the man to meet this demand and not allow the business man to get ahead of him.

As a rule it is only the business men of the country who are going into the poultry business on a large scale and the farmer is still moving in the same old ruts. Count the cost of the food consumed by your chickens and compare it with the value of poultry and egg crop and you will be surprised.

There has been a great demand for poultry and eggs the past year and there is sure to be a demand for years to come. There is economy in eating eggs at twenty five cents per dozen when beef sells for fifteen to eighteen cents per pound. It takes only eight to twelve eggs to weigh one pound and there is nothing wasted in eggs except the shell. As long as beef sells as it does, poultry and eggs will command a good price and we see no reason that beef will ever be cheap again. Our country is getting to be more and more densely populated each year and many of the large ranches of the west that afforded pasture for thousands of cattle are now cut up into small farms.

The Eastern Shore of Maryland is an ideal place for poultry raising as it has excellent shipping facilities which bring it in close touch with the best markets. A fine protection from cold winds is afforded by our forests.

The Anti-Bribery League, GREETING;

To Voters Who Want Clean Elections:

No man has a right to buy or influence another's vote unlawfully, and the Constitution disfranchises the voter who buys or influences the vote of another. Let every man compare the penalties of the crime of bribery with stealing and its penalties.

First—To give any money, present or any reward to influence a voter to vote or not to vote;

Second—To promise him any money, present, bribe or reward;

Third—To offer him any money, present, bribe or reward.

The Statute also punishes the crime; First—By imprisonment in jail or the penitentiary;

Second—By fine of not more than five hundred dollars, one half to the informer;

And these penalties apply to the promise or offer made at any time before or on the day of election.

Note, let thoughtful men compare the penalties of the crime of bribery with stealing and its penalties.

Let earnest men ask themselves if the time has not come to stop bribery.

Let Party men ask themselves if bribery can continue and their party maintain its unity.

Let taxpayers ask if candidates can afford to pay half their salaries or more, and not get it back, if elected.

Let candidates ask themselves if they can corrupt others and remain above suspicion and temptation.

Let the poor man, who is educating his children, ask what hope there is for his boy.

A Good Business Proposition is something that everybody who looks out for their own interest will take time to consider. We have Several Good Business Propositions to make you, and

Here's the Point

We do business on business principles. When we sell you a pair of shoes they are as good as can be manufactured for the money. People spend most of their time in their shoes, and this fact makes the quality of footwear a question of prime importance. Our proposition to you is to sell you good honest shoes at a price as low as is consistent with good values. We make this proposition to all prospective shoe buyers, fully believing that it is to your interest to do business with us. We have many advantages to offer you as a reason why you should do your shoe buying of us, the first of which is, we are exclusive Shoe dealers and also the largest buyers of Shoes on the Peninsula. We can offer you the largest and most complete stock to select from. We do not have to give you one size when your foot needs another. Our large stock enables us to carry all sizes and widths in stock. We take pains to see that every foot is properly fitted and also to select the proper kind of Shoe to meet the requirement for which it is intended. We have the exclusive sale in this city of all the best known and most popular makes of Shoes.

A person is often judged by the company they keep, so is a merchant by the merchandise he handles, and while we stand behind every pair of fair priced Shoes we sell, whether made under some pet name or not. To those who want special lines we can offer such well known ones as the following:

FOR MEN: The Walk-Over, W. L. Douglas, Crossett's Long Life.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS: The Rice & Hutchins, Burley Stevens & Co., Excelsior.

FOR LADIES: Queen Quality, Zeigler Bros., Cinderella, Allnut Moody, Drew, Selby & Co.

All of these are good ones in their class and have reputations established on merit, but the burden of our story is simply Shoes, and not the maker—trust us for that and we will always give you full value for your money or cheerfully refund you the same. Think over our proposition, come and see us and let us more fully explain and show you that we mean business and we feel sure that you will find that our interests are mutual. Yours for Shoes,

WHITE MEN, ATTENTION!

Great Interest Shown In The Approaching Election In Maryland. Reported That Roosevelt Will Look For Our State To Vindicate His Negro Policy In The South.

The following Washington correspondence to The Baltimore Sun, of Wednesday gives ground for much mature deliberation to those who may be misled or in apathy as to the momentous reality of the race issue in this campaign, and the strong possibility of its entering the platforms of the next National Conventions;

President Roosevelt wants the State of Maryland to repudiate the idea that there is anything objectionable in his attitude toward the negro question. This is the meaning of his extraordinary interest in the pending Maryland campaign, and the object of the conference with Maryland Republican leaders at the White House is to cure conditions within the party organization which are not satisfactory to him.

He regards the contest over the election of State officers as largely personal to himself. With the negro question brought to the front by acts of his Administration, he accepts the issue and is seeking to thoroughly identify himself with the campaign. What he wants is the election of Mr. S. A. Williams, the Republican candidate for Governor. He cares comparatively little for anything else, and it is known that neither he nor those with whom he has recently consulted have much faith in the ability of the Republicans to carry the Legislature, which will elect a successor to Senator McComas. Mr. Roosevelt feels that a Republican victory in Maryland this fall would be an endorsement of all he has said and done with reference to the negro and a rebuke to the "politicians of the South," who have criticized his utterances, his appointment of negroes to office and his entertainment of Booker Washington as a guest at the White House table.

Cut By Criticism.

This criticism has cut him keenly, but he does not acknowledge a fault in his policy. He justifies himself and is extremely resentful toward all criticism on this point. This is peculiarly marked for the reason that ordinarily he takes criticism well and sometimes even seems to like it, if it gives opportunity for what he would call a fair fight. The negro question, however, he has taken to heart and he is hunting for a vindication which, will he thinks, strengthen him politically, and in his attitude toward the South on account of the feeling toward him that his negro policy has aroused in that section and because there is evidence that the Southern hostility on this point is sympathized with to a great extent in the North and West.

Wants Southern Vindications.

He wants an acknowledgement from the South itself that he is right and will regard a Republican victory in Maryland as such an acknowledgement. Mr. Warfield's appearing as "a white man's candidate" has excited in the President a determination to encompass his defeat, if public expression of sympathy and aid from the national Administration for Mr. Williams can accomplish that result. Mr. Roosevelt is apprehensive that he will lose the electoral vote of New York at the next Presidential election, and is consequently, particularly desirous of securing that of Maryland; but far beyond this is his desire to have it appear to the Northern and Western critics of his negro policy that the respectable State of Maryland, with its Southern ideals and lofty sentiment, approves of his course. The issue sharply drawn by the declarations of the Democratic platform and the utterances of the Democratic candidate, the election of a Republican Governor would be regarded by Mr. Roosevelt as a complete endorsement of his policy.

With such an endorsement he hopes to silence these critics, who are merely sympathetic with the South and contemplate the "white man's burden" in the abstract.

Thinks Other States Would Follow.

If Maryland by the result of the election appears to be satisfied, Mr. Roosevelt will not expect manifestation of resentment from New York, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois or any other State from which the negro question is viewed at a distance. Mr. Roosevelt does not contemplate carrying any Southern State as the result of a Republican victory in Maryland this fall and the nomination of Mr. Lowndes for Vice-President next year, but he does expect to overcome the antagonism aroused outside of the South by his negro policy. Neither he nor Mr. Lowndes would be confident of carrying even Maryland at a Presidential election because of the election of Mr. Williams this fall, although they might be encouraged to hope for such a result, but they believe that a Republican victory in Maryland at this time would relieve the President of the threatened consequences of the Booker Washington and the Indiana incidents and other acts which have made the negro an issue.

Trying To Effect Harmony.

He is endeavoring to bring about complete harmony among the Republicans in the State. He wants nothing left undone which can contribute to the election of Mr. Williams, whose high character he believes, may give him strength beyond that of the ordinary political candidate. It is made manifest by the President's attitude at the conferences with the Maryland leaders that he is far more interested in the Governorship than in the Legislature. He wants the head of the ticket elected, and by inviting Mr. Williams and the other leaders to confer with him at the White House designedly giving publicity to his interest in the campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt is eager in this matter because he regards the campaign issue as aimed at him. He feels himself to be personally involved and is throwing himself into the fight with an impetuosity which is characteristic, if not politically discreet. It may involve for him much more than he holds in contemplation. He is counting on a Republican victory because of his faith in the value of the assistance he can personally render, and he expects great benefit to result to him. But in becoming so thoroughly identified with the contest and for the peculiar reason which influences him he is likely to become so involved that failure would be to him a personal defeat, while the character of the campaign will identify him conspicuously as the champion of the negro above everything else.

His First Political Issue.

He has figured in national politics heretofore with nothing but Roosevelt, the Rough Rider, as an issue. By identifying himself with the Maryland campaign because of the negro question he will appear for the first time as representing a political issue. After such extreme efforts to make the fight his own he can hardly fail to be entirely enveloped in the smoke of the battle and must emerge with an odor of the issue about him.

The name of Roosevelt is to be conjured with to advance the interests of the Republicans in their local fight, and as this is on the ground of the Democratic attitude on the negro question being a direct attack on the national Administration his name must be associated in the campaign with "equal rights" or "social equality" for the negro. He will be thoroughly identified with the issue which takes him into the campaign. As yet he has not come to personally represent any other issue, and with this contest so close on to the time of the Presidential nominating convention he may be in danger of finding himself before that convention representing conspicuously but one idea—that upon which he is now aiming to associate himself in the Maryland campaign.

Danger To Himself.

It seems now as if nothing could defeat him for nomination in 1904, yet his party might be reluctant to nominate a man so involved in that one issue as to render it paramount to all else.

His entrance into Maryland politics is the most important political move of his career since entering the White House. It is full of possibilities, among which is that he may defeat himself for the nomination. One thing as certain as anything not accomplishable is that, by following out the course he has laid out for himself, including his purpose to have a Maryland man on the ticket with him, he will make the national issues of the Maryland campaign an issue before the nation in the Presidential campaign, if he gets the nomination. J. P. M.

DIFFERENT INCLINATIONS.

Could the eagle and the mole get in a dispute, And argue quite long and profound, The eagle would plead for a life in the air, And the mole would plead for a life under ground. But surely such folly could only amuse, And such a dispute should never arise, For the eagle and the mole would differ in their views, As much as they differ in their eyes. LONG STAR.

ON THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET THIS FALL

Sketch of One Of The Candidates For Election, Now Before The Voters Of Wicomico County. Who The Democratic Party Has Chosen For Public Trust And Duty. A Touch Of Personal History.

MR. JOHN W. DASHIELL, Democratic Nominee for Register of Wills.

Mr. John W. Dashiell, nominated on the Democratic ticket for Register of Wills, is the only living son of Mr. Levin M. Dashiell, who is the capable acting deputy in Register of Wills' office. Mr. Dashiell was born at Tony Tank, Trappe district, March 1, 1835. For a good many years he was actively engaged in the mercantile trade at Fruitland, but gave up this business to engage in general farming and trucking. Mr. Dashiell, from early manhood, has been an active worker in the Democratic party. He was postmaster at Fruitland during both terms of Cleveland's administration. In '98 he was nominated and elected Sheriff on the Democratic ticket, serving for the years '98 and '99. In the positions he has held Mr. Dashiell's record as a public servant is of the highest, and is assurance in itself that the Register of Wills' office will be conducted for the best interest of the citizens of our county.

MR. JESSE D. PRICE,
Democratic Nominee for County Treasurer.

Mr. Jesse D. Price, nominated by the Democratic party for County Treasurer, was born in Wicomico County—then Somerset County—near White Haven, 39 years ago. He was educated in the public schools of the county. His parents moved to Salisbury when he was eleven years old, where he finished his education at the High School. Mr. Price began his business career when quite young as a clerk for Jas. Cannon & Son. After the great fire of 1894 he established a business for himself and conducted a boot and shoe store for a number of years. While in this business his firm gained a reputation all over the lower Peninsula for honesty and fair dealing. Later he purchased an interest in the Salisbury Lime and Coal Company of which firm he is the head. He is also one of the owners of The Crystal Ice Co. and general manager of the corporation. Mr. Price was one of the promoters of The Wicomico Building & Loan Association, one of our leading financial institutions, and is also a director in The People's National Bank of this city.

Mr. Price comes from good old democratic stock, his ancestors being democrats of the old school and were large slave owners. He has strong convictions on all public questions. From boyhood Mr. Price has always been an ardent democrat. He was a member of the City Council for six years and served as Clerk during his entire term. He served the City without remuneration and while in the Council was largely instrumental in securing many of the great improvements which have aided in making this City what it now boasts of, The Commercial Epicurem of the Eastern Shore.

The experience gained while in the Council, coupled with his large business experience and executive ability, qualifies him, in an exceptional degree, for the office of County Treasurer, and it is perhaps not too much to say, that there is not a man in the county better equipped for this responsible position than he. Mr. Price has always been ready to further any enterprise for the advancement of his city and county. A friend to the poor and unfortunate, to whom he was never known to turn a deaf ear, Mr. Price has ever been ready to help any charitable cause. He is a member of the Royal Arcanum, Heptasoph, Red Men, Knights of Pythias and Maccabees; is a member of Trinity M. E. Church and has always taken an active part in church work.

Mr. Price has drawn to himself a host of friends, who have repeatedly urged him for positions of trust and honor in his party, but were never able to gain his consent to become a candidate before. He is well known to the rank and file throughout the county, having taken a vigorous part in numerous campaigns; is a speaker of force and ability, and his voice has been heard in many a bustling thoroughfare of our county in praise and defense of the principles of his party.

—Sportmen on the Upper Choptank, on the Patuxent, in Southern Maryland and through the marshes are complaining of the indisposition of rail birds to fill the bags. They are scarce as frog hair, because there is no wild oats in the marshes for them to eat, and they have sought other feeding grounds. German carp are accused of destroying the oats. The carp, like the politician, is an inveterate rooster, and is getting in his isolationist work with a vengeance.

—Mr. Ready Turner, clerk of the Court, Baltimore City, Mr. Wm. R. Moore and Mr. J. E. Logan, proprietor of the Hotel Logan, on Calvert Street were guests of the Shamrock at Ocean City for a three days fishing trip. Thought themselves more than successful, catching ten rock fish, twelve speckled trout and sea bass in abundance. The gentlemen had a large time and very much regretted to be compelled to make their return.

EVILS OF VOTE BUYING

Discussed On A Non-Partisan Basis At Public Gathering In Court House. A Representative Audience Hears Able And Practical Speakers. List Of District Vice-Presidents.

A good sized audience was present at the Court House Thursday evening to hear the evils of political corruption discussed, and remedies suggested.

In the absence of Mr. L. W. Gunby, President, who was out of town, Mr. John D. Williams nominated the Hon. James E. Ellegood, chairman of the meeting. Mr. Ellegood made a few remarks explaining that the purpose of the League was not to interfere with any one's party ties, but the purpose was to agitate the subject and arouse public conscience regarding the danger of the vice, and to make the League instrumental in bringing all the party organizations into co-operation. The following gentlemen were nominated as vice-presidents:

No. 1. Barron Creek District—J. E. Bacon, John T. Wilson, W. J. Graham.

No. 2. Quantico District—A. L. Jones, W. Scott Diaharon, Stephen A. Bailey.

No. 3. Tyaskin District—J. M. Roberts, Jas. W. T. Robertson.

No. 4. Pittsburg District—H. Jas. Truitt, A. B. Truitt, Benj. Brittingham.

No. 5. Parsons District—Jason P. Tilghman, E. Q. Walston.

No. 6. Dennis District—K. V. White, Clayton Kelley, Zadock Richardson.

No. 7. Nutter's District—Alonso Dykes, E. M. Walston, Alfred Todd-vine.

No. 8. Trappe District—Roscoe Jones, R. J. Chatham, Dr. J. I. T. Long.

No. 9. Salisbury District—Glen Perdue, A. C. Dykes, H. P. Elzey.

No. 10. Sharptown District—A. W. Robinson, S. J. Cooper, B. P. Gravenor.

No. 11. Delmar District—J. G. W. Perdue, B. W. Parker.

No. 12. Nanticoke District—F. B. Culver, Thos. J. Walter, Jesse Travers.

Mr. Alfred S. Niles, member of the Baltimore bar, addressed the meeting and showed the reputation that the Eastern Shore and Delaware were acquiring for themselves in corrupt politics, complimented them on every other virtue except civic virtue of which he knew nothing except from report. After dwelling on the importance of the purity of the ballot to the laboring man and to the industrial interests generally as well as to other rights of citizens, he spoke of the Corrupt Practices Act as a remedy that has been tried in a number of states and favored it in Maryland.

He was followed by Mr. Charles Morris Howard, also a member of the Baltimore bar, and secretary of the Reform League of Baltimore. He dwelt very forcibly on the corrupt conditions which had existed in Baltimore prior to 1895 but on different lines than those of bribery, and the part that the Reform League had taken to help correct this condition and from this drew the inference that the Anti-Bribery League had more reason to expect reform in Wicomico, in suppressing bribery corruption, for the conditions were much more favorable to them.

He also very earnestly presented the duties of citizenship in the exercise of the election franchise and read extracts from a recent speech of Mr. Cleveland denouncing the wide spread civic corruption now existing.

The Coming School Entertainment At Opera House, October 30.

Floyd, the magician, who is to give the first entertainment in the course of Ulman's Opera House, is without doubt the most skillful exponent of Sleight-of-Hand that has ever appeared upon the lyceum platform. He has followed this line of work for over twenty years. Was the pioneer and still maintains the lead. He has originated and presented more brilliant magical experiments than any magician living. Being of an inventive nature he is constantly at work upon some new and wonderful mystery and so startling are some of the effects and so nearly approaching the supernatural as to seem like real miracles, and he has so far perfected his art that he has apparently but to command the most unheard of things to happen and they transpire. For this reason he has arranged a program of tricks and illusions that surpass anything heretofore achieved in the field of magic. Prof. Floyd is ably assisted by his accomplished wife, who not only assists in the various illusions, but personally presents an exhibition of Second Sight and Mind Reading at which scientific minds marvel. With the addition of a musician of rare skill and a carefully trained assistant, the Floyds offer an entertainment that is well worth the price of a ticket to the entire course. Price of course $1.25. Tickets in the hands of pupils.

—The friends of Royal Oak M. P. Church will hold an oyster supper on Saturday night, Oct. 17. If incident on that night the next fair night except Sunday.

STORM AT CHINCOTEAGUE

Houses On Bay Side Of Street Submerged And Swept By Wind And Wave. Town Strown With Variety Of Debris. Heavy Loss To The Islanders.

The storm that broke upon Chincoteague Island Thursday at 4 P. M. and which raged without intermission and with unexampled fury ceased Sunday night.

Chincoteague has been wrecked fore and aft. All the houses or nearly all those built on the bay side of the street, extending for five miles, have been submerged or swept by wind and wave. Singular to relate, no loss of life has been reported, but what is the fate of the unfortunate cabin dwellers in the wake of the torrent that broke in from the sea over Assateague beach no one knows at this writing.

A refugee from the interior low lying lands describes a dramatic incident. When the waters of the canal broke their bounds with an ominous roar some of the negroes in a dwelling near by rushed from their cabin and fled toward a white man's habitation, rending the air with cries and supplications for safety and protection. Lifting his wife and babe in his strong arms, the white man led the van of fugitives, who succeeded in reaching an elevated point as the torrent swept by in its mad course.

The streets of Chincoteague present a sorry spectacle, strewn with the debris of houses and boats, dead fowls and cattle washed from the interior of the island, for the safety of whose inhabitants grave fears are entertained. The schoolhouses and churches have served as refuges for the unfortunates who have been forced to flee from their submerged or wrecked habitations.

It will be recalled that Admiral Sigbee, United States Navy visited Chincoteague on the 80th ultimo with the view of reporting upon the establishment by the Government of a wireless telegraph station. The critical and isolated situation of Chincoteague was sufficiently manifested in the hurricane of September 15. The awful catastrophe of the present moment should inspire the Government to lose no time in establishing the proposed wireless station, plus a life saving station, at Chincoteague for its 3,000 inhabitants. For three days and more they have been in imminent danger of destruction and without hope by reason of their complete isolation, of succor from the mainland or the Life-saving station at Assateague or Accocomoon or Wallops Island.

The present storm recalls the tidal wave which well-nigh destroyed the island September 8, 1891. Chincoteague was then swept by a wave, which rolled over from the sea to the bay. Hundreds of the saved quitted the island in fright and Chincoteague was for a fact abandoned. The commercial and industrial value of Chincoteague in its oyster and clam culture and exploitation—the quality of these bivalves being exceptionally superior—the amount of capital invested in Chincoteague itself and its educational and religious progress are considerations to protect which urgently demand that the Governments (general and State) may exercise promptly their beneficent and fostering care. The first step in that direction is the establishment of the wireless telegraph station.

AT FENWICK ISLAND

Houses And Outbuildings Swept Away By Recent Terrific Storm. Station Remains. Methodist Protestant Campground Wrecked.

Capt. John Long, who is in charge of the Life Saving Station at Fenwick Island, says that the destruction has been great and that the members of the crew themselves have been in a precarious position. The storm started there Friday afternoon and the wind blew the most terrific gale ever known along the coast. The tide swept over the island to a great depth, carrying away every house and outbuilding except the station and smashing two of the lifeboats and one of the boat houses.

All day Saturday and Sunday the storm raged with undiminished fury and it was impossible to communicate in any manner with the mainland. The crew were shut up in the station and could not even venture outside during that time. All their fresh provisions gave out and they only had a small quantity of canned goods. Fortunately all the women had left the island before the storm started. There were four dwellings, belonging to members of the crew, and eight buildings, which were all swept away. Trees, fences and other articles were picked up by the wind and carried across to the mainland. The wind blew with such fury that the houses were ground to pieces, in many cases nothing being left that could be distinguished as part of a house.

The Methodist Protestant campground on the island, Capt. Long says, has been swept of every cottage and tent and is a complete wreck. The meetings were always well attended.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Scott's Emulsion is the means of life and of the enjoyment of life of thousands of men, women and children.

To the men Scott's Emulsion gives the flesh and strength so necessary for the cure of consumption and the repairing of body losses from any wasting disease.

For women Scott's Emulsion does this and more. It is a most sustaining food and tonic for the special trials that women have to bear.

To children Scott's Emulsion gives food and strength for growth of flesh and bone and blood. For pale girls, for thin and sickly boys Scott's Emulsion is a great help.

The Anti-Bribery League, GREETING;

To Voters Who Want Clean Elections:

No man has a right to buy or influence another's vote unlawfully, and the Constitution disfranchises the voter who does so.

First—To give any money, present or any reward to influence a voter to vote or not to vote.

Second—To promise him any money, present, bribe or reward.

Third—To offer him any money, present, bribe or reward.

The Statute also punishes the crime: First—By imprisonment in jail or the penitentiary.

Second—By fine of not more than five hundred dollars, one half to the informer.

And these penalties apply to the promise or offer made at any time before or on the day of election.

Note, let thoughtful men compare the penalties of the crime of bribery with stealing and its penalties.

Let earnest men ask themselves if the time has not come to stop bribery.

Let Party men ask themselves if bribery can continue and their party maintain its unity.

Let taxpayers ask if candidates can afford to pay half their salaries or more, and not get it back, if elected.

Let candidates ask themselves if they can corrupt others and remain above suspicion and temptation.

Let the poor man, who is educating his children, ask what hope there is for his boy.

Let the bridegroom ask if he can afford to take the risk of arrest and exposure, even if acquitted.

—Dr. James C. Dirickson after a week's stay in Philadelphia, returned Thursday.

—Mrs. Fred Rydings left Wednesday for a two weeks' stay visiting her sisters and friends in Wilmington, Del.

—Mrs. Hattie Calhoun, of Georgetown, Del., is a visitor at Mr. George Calhoun's on William Street.

—Miss Daisy Ryan, of Showells, spent last week with her cousin, Miss Ethel Campbell.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Long, of Selbyville, spent last Thursday and Friday with their aunt, Mrs. Joshua Hamblin.

—Mr. Rolfe Moore, of Salisbury, was registered at the Park Hotel, Wednesday.

—Mr. James Robins, of Snow Hill, made our city a business visit Wednesday.

—Mr. Dave Fluharty, of Baltimore, and Mr. J. H. Pennington, of Wilmington, are the guests this week at the Atlantic.

—Dr. E. S. Dashiell, Snow Hill popular dentist is in our town this week renovating and remodeling the teeth of his customers.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell, of Campbell, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Campbell and did their shopping.

—Messrs. Wm. J. Warrington, of Atlantic City, Thomas Perry of Salisbury, also Robert P. Graham of Baltimore were guests in Berlin Monday night.

—Mrs. Timothy Rayne, of Bishopville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Theodore Purnell, corner Broad and Main Street.

—Mr. William Coffin, who passed through a most severe attack of typhoid, glad to report has recovered and is once more on the street.

—The ladies from the Heights, Mrs. Buffington, Mrs. Gibson and Miss Tot Clinton honored our town with a visit Wednesday. Their first appearance since the late storm and flood.

—Mr. Oscar Purnell who has been in Ocean City most of the day took supper and left for home on the evening train.

Purnell's loss at the beach is light and he has cause to congratulate himself.

—Emily, the little daughter of Mrs. Robely D. Jones, who has been visiting the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Franklin, was quite sick Wednesday calling for the attendance of the family physician, Dr. Paul Jones.

—Mrs. Charley Littleton has returned to her home at Powellsville after spending a few days in Snow Hill with her sisters, Mrs. Henry West and Mrs. Gordon Bowen.

—Mrs. Jones an intimate friend of Mrs. Levin Dirickson is a guest at her home. Mrs. Jones is a resident of Quantico, and intends making Mrs. Dirickson quite a visit.

—Mrs. William W. Phelps and master Wallace Phelps, who have been spending the summer with Mrs. Phelps' mother and sister, Mrs. Moses P. Handy and Miss Rozelle Handy, have returned to Chicago.

—Mr. Carson M. Anderson, representing the Equitable Insurance Co., and a guest in town for several weeks, made his first trip to Chincoteague Island, Thursday.

—Mr. Edward J. Hill, his late home being on the Conoway farm, died suddenly Wednesday and was buried Sunday at the old Taylorville M. E. Church, Rev. J. Edward Brooks officiating. Mr. Hill leaves a wife and three sons and has been a consistent member of that church over thirty years.

—Mr. Billie McCue acting as agent for William Tabor at Ocean City has requested us, through the Herald to express his many thanks and also gratitude to his Berlin friends as well as others who rendered aid and assistance in saving what remained of Faber's effects after and during the late storm.

—Cards have been received and it gives us pleasure to announce the marriage of Miss Edith May Melson of Bishopville to Mr. Edward Selby Whaley, Wednesday, October seventh, nine hundred and three, Wilmington, Delaware. Please accept congratulations.

—Cards have been received announcing the coming marriage at the home of Mrs. Charles Lemuel Marshall, Selma Ala., of her daughter Estelle to Mr. W. Steppen Ligon, Oct., 21st at three thirty o'clock. The bride is a cousin of the Herald reporter and they both have our very best wishes for their future happiness.

—Mr. J. C. Lewis, correspondent of the Baltimore Sun and Mr. Starr Matthews of the Baltimore American were guests of the Atlantic Monday night. Both had spent the day at Ocean City viewing the wreck, and taking notes in the interest of their respective news sheets. Our town and the Herald are always delighted to meet and contribute to the entertainment of two such pleasant and agreeable gentlemen. Mr. Matthews is a Baltimorean by birth, and Mr. Lewis originally from Raleigh, N. Carolina. We think that Ocean City will be in shape next summer to give them a more cheery welcome.

Mr. Sidney A. Bowen one of our townsmen, known all over the country as a strictly reliable business salesman at the same time yet largely perceptible to the naked eye in his general physique, mistook his calling last Sunday at Ocean City when offering his services and trying to aid one of his lady friends across a gully lately made by the recent hurricane took her in his arms and attempting to cross with his treasure most unfortunately fell and naturally both received a wetting. As a pontoon Bowen is not a success though his intentions evidently were most chivalrous.

Mrs. Rowland Cox has issued cards announcing the coming marriage of her daughter Fanny Cummings to Mr. Aubrey Herbert Weightman, Sat., Oct. 31st at five o'clock at Grace Church, Plainfield, New Jersey. Mrs. Cox was formerly Miss Fanny Hill, of Smyrna, and at the time of her marriage acted as bride's maid for Mrs. Dr. James C. Dirickson, making a visit to Berlin the same fall. She is well remembered and the receipt of her cards recalls former associations and the most pleasant recollection.

Niagara Falls Excursion.

On October 16 the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run the last popular ten day excursion to Niagara Falls from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington for the present season.

On this date a special train will leave Philadelphia at 8 10 A. M., running via Harrisburg and the picturesque valley of the Susquehanna.

Excursion tickets, good for return passage on any regular train, exclusive of limited express trains, within ten days, will be sold at $10.00 from Philadelphia and all points on the Delaware Division; $11.25 from Atlantic City; $9.60 from Lancaster; and at proportionate rates from other points, including Trenton, Bordentown, Mt. Holly, Cape May, Salem, Wilmington, West Chester, Reading and principal intermediate stations. A stop over will be allowed at Buffalo within the limit of ticket returning.

Special trains of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will run through to Niagara Falls. An extra charge will be made for parlor car seats.

An experienced tourist agent and chaperon will accompany the party.

For descriptive pamphlet, time of connecting trains, and further information apply to nearest ticket agent, or address Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

The Royal Month And The Royal Disease.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably to none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great.

We never think of scrofula's bunches, untimely eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world.

There is probably not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved to merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative,—consumption.

If The Baby Is Cutting Teeth.

Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

DECIDE YOURSELF.

The Opportunity is here backed by Salisbury Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read Salisbury endorsement. Read the statements of Salisbury citizens.

And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it:

Wm M. Gordy, carpenter, residing at the corner of Ann and E Church sts., says: "I have had backache for several years was sore in the morning when I got up and if I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and caused my back to ache severely. I have been so bad that I could scarcely step down from one step to another and when I arose from a chair I could not straighten for some time. I was having considerable pain in my back at the time I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and I got a box at White & Leonard's drug store. They acted directly on my kidneys and soon stopped the attack from which I was suffering. My son also took some of the pills and received good results."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Foster, Millburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

MONEY IN FACT AND FICTION

Our Modern American Fortunes Paid the Romanesque.

These are strange times in the accumulation of fortunes stranger than any fiction could ever have made them.

Again in 1844 Alexander Dumas published a book called "The Count of Monte-Christo," the basis of which is the fabulous wealth of an individual.

So you might run on if it did not tire the brain to conceive more. But, most remarkable of all, this one individual made his unprecedented wealth with his own brains.

"Kissing the Book" is more generally practiced in England than in this country.

OUR NATIONAL GROWTH.

Plenty of Room Left, but it will Probably Slow Up.

The analysis of statistics concerning the increase of population in the United States, just issued by the census bureau at Washington, shows that we are still growing more rapidly than any other country in the world.

The facts relating to the relative growth of the five divisions of the continental United States—the north Atlantic, south Atlantic, north central, south central and western—are significant.

It seems remarkable that the growth and bustling middle west should appear to be approaching a "full" condition much more closely than the already densely populated east.

WHY THE MILK SOURS.

How Bacteria Are Both Hostile and Friendly to Dairymen.

How to keep milk sweet for the longest possible time is a problem that has interested housewives and dairymen ever since mankind discovered that milk is good to drink.

These bacteria, of which there are many that have not yet been more than discovered, are everywhere in the air of the dairy waiting an opportunity to fall head over ears, if one might use the expression, into the first milk pail.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

If It's a Mouth Filler It May Signify a Good Deal.

It has recently been laid down that people who are lucky enough to have their front- or "Christian"-names of what is really a surname will have marked ability in some one direction.

Take literary lions, for example. How nobly mouth filling are the names of Clark Russell, Conan Doyle, Christie Murray, Hall Caine! Nobody would ever think of the knight-novelist as "Arthur Doyle," while to rob the delectable of "black country" ways of his "Christie" would be to confuse him with another of the same name, but a landscape painter.

Collins is not a very distinguished name, but stick "Wilkie" or "Mortimer" in front of it, and it recalls either thrilling mystery stories or dainty love idylls, while preceded by "Churton" it stands for expert literary criticism.

There are a few more instances showing how a well sounding front name can lift the bearer out of the ruck.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS

The Platform Adopted By The Party in State Convention. Favor White Ascendancy, Improved Highways and Larger Oyster Products.

The representatives of the Democratic party of Maryland, in State convention assembled, heartily commend the administration of Gov. John Walter Smith.

The efficient and successful management of the affairs of the State in Democratic hands for the last four years justly entitles us to claim a continuation of the confidence and support of the people.

The good government which we are now enjoying under Democratic administration cannot possibly be made better by the Republican party; but, on the contrary, dependent for its existence as that party in this State is upon its solid negro vote, it is manifest that the defeat of our ticket at the coming election will bring back upon us the evils and dangers from which our triumph in 1899 so fortunately delivered us.

We believe that the political destinies of Maryland should be shaped and controlled by the white people of the State, and while we disclaim any purpose to do any injustice whatever to our colored population we declare without reserve our resolute purpose to preserve in every conservative and constitutional way the political ascendancy of our race.

The continuance in power of the Democratic party in this State means: First—The continued rigid enforcement of the laws which have insured safety to person and protection to property.

Second—Continued economy in the expenditure of the people's money, but without parsimony, and progress without extravagance.

Third—It is a guarantee of the early extinguishment of the State debt and a speedy reduction in taxation.

Fourth—It will result in such amendments to our present excellent election law, which has done so much to lessen the evils of bribery, to assure the secrecy of the ballot and to promote intelligent voting, as experience has shown may be necessary to preserve the purity of our elections, without which good government is impossible.

Fifth—The Democratic party means that the public schools of the State will be further fostered, expanded and improved, so that opportunity shall be given to every child to obtain a fair education.

Sixth—Maryland, among the first of the States in the Union to recognize that the welfare of all the people largely depends upon the improvement of public highways, erected facilities for cheap transportation. That policy resulted in greatly increasing our prosperity and gave to the State an opportunity to share in the commerce of the country. The time has now arrived when we must return, to some extent, to the former policy of improving the highways. The State will cheerfully bear the cost of the transportation of Maryland's products and will aid greatly to the value of property and to the comfort of all the people of the State. Our success will assure legislation to the effect that:

Seventh—The products of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries have furnished remunerative employment for thousands of our citizens. Their right, their opportunity, to pursue their vocations must be guaranteed, and it is alike the duty and the interest of the State to foster and increase the supply of the natural products of our great inland sea.

Eighth—The Democratic party has shown by example that public improvement in the State and in the city of Baltimore can be made with economy and without suspicion or taint of jobbery. We propose to continue that policy, so that Baltimore city shall have the opportunity to construct its system of sewerage and the improvement of its streets under such restrictions as will insure strict economy by business methods absolutely divorced from party advantage.

Ninth—The Primary Election Law, passed by a Democratic Legislature and signed by a Democratic Governor, has produced good results, and we are of opinion that its provisions, with such modifications as local circumstances may demand, should be extended to the whole State.

Tenth—The election of a Democratic majority in both branches of the General Assembly will strengthen the hands of a Democratic Governor and contribute greatly toward the maintenance of good government in the State. It will also make certain the election to the United States of a man who will truly represent the essential principles which the Democratic party has advocated from Jefferson's time to our own and who will do so with energy and attack the white people of the South in their efforts to properly solve the great questions resulting from the enfranchisement of the negroes.

The pebbles are heated red hot and then thrown into distilled water. The purest pieces are next selected and welded with an oxyhydrogen blowpipe into long stems.

Loose-Headed Locomotives. A recent improvement in railroad locomotive headlights is to send a beam of light vertically from the locomotive, as well as straight ahead. The column of light rising vertically from the locomotive can be seen from a great distance, even though a hill should intervene to hide the ordinary headlight and dull the sound of the whistle.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Kidney trouble. Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

ROOSEVELT ANXIOUS ABOUT MARYLAND.

The sensation of the week in the Maryland political campaign is the impetuous injection into it of President Roosevelt. The President appears to have set out in his own strenuous fashion to influence the result in this State, and nobody is more unhappy over it than the Republican State leaders.

Mr. E. Stanley Toadvin was among the belated Tangier passengers during the furious storm of last week. He left Sharptown Thursday for Baltimore but was unable to reach his destination before the following Monday. The steamer remaining at Bivalve most of the time, made several ineffectual attempts to reach the city. Other passengers aboard were Col. Wm. H. Stevens and Mrs. S. S. Settle and daughter. Mr. Toadvin returned home Tuesday.

A band of music will enliven the great mass meeting of Democrats to be held in Salisbury next Saturday afternoon and evening. Messrs. Warfield, Bryan, Atkinson—the State candidates—Hon. Jas. B. Rayner, of Baltimore and Ex-Congressman, L. Irving Handy, of Delaware, will address the big gathering, which will take place in the Utman Opera House. Dates of other county Democratic meetings in the several districts of Wicomico are given elsewhere.

Montgomery Phlatler, of the Cincinnati "Commercial Tribune," says: "One of the best character portrayals seen this season was that of 'Nicholas Nip,' so well interpreted by Mr. Paul Macbette to Mr. Macbette in an act of marked ability and a valuable addition to any company. His work in 'Nip and Tuck' should commend him to managers as well as the public, which most heartily endorsed his efforts. At Utman's Grand Opera House Tuesday Oct. 20th. Tickets on sale at Box Office, 25, 35 and 50 cents."

At considerable personal sacrifice and inconvenience, Mr. Walter B. Miller, of Salisbury, has accepted the position of Deputy Game Warden for Wicomico county. Mr. Miller proposes to wage a vigorous campaign against the violators of the game laws, and is now at work organizing a staff of assistants in every district in Wicomico county. Mr. Miller will issue letters to the people of the county and will have posted large handbills showing the local game laws. He will also offer rewards for information against persons gunning out of season, night hunters and shippers of quail outside the county.

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, deranges the stomach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—alterative and tonic. I was afflicted with catarrh. I took medicines of different kinds, giving each a fair trial; but gradually grew worse until I could hardly hear, taste or smell. I then concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking five bottles I was cured and have not had any return of the disease since." EDWARD BONAS, Lebanon, Ky.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Rescued from Suffering and Death by PAIN'S Celery Compound.

MR. ALFRED BROWN, A Prominent and Popular Citizen, Says: "After the Use of Paine's Celery Compound, I Am Now in the Best of Health."

The greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. D., after years of long practice and close scientific study, gave to suffering and diseased men and women his marvelous, life giving prescription, with the conviction and positive knowledge that it had peculiar virtues and ample powers to cure.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials from the best known and most reliable men and women of our country fully sustain the claims made by Dr. Phelps regarding his incomparable Paine's Celery Compound.

One of the most convincing proofs furnished, comes recently from a gentleman widely known in the capital city of the Dominion of Canada. We refer to Mr. Alfred Brown, of O'Connor St., Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Brown's letter fully demonstrates the fact that the greatest sufferer may cast off his or her burden of disease and become well, strong, and happy.

It proves, too, that the great medicine maintains more fully than ever before its unrivaled place in the estimation of people of wealth and social standing as well as with the masses. Mr. Brown says:—

"I acknowledge with thankfulness and pleasure the fact that I have been cured of a very painful and distressing condition by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. I had, during the years of my illness, tried almost all the advertised medicines without deriving any good results. I was also treated by several of the best doctors of this city, hoping to find that one of them, at least, would understand my case.

"I was getting worse, and was told I was incurable. I was indeed in a critical condition. I could not go from the house alone, as I was liable to sudden collapse. I tried hospital treatment, but no relief or good results came to me. I could not sleep; anything that I ate increased my agonies; I was extremely weak, restless, tired, and despondent; was obliged to walk about with my hands pressed firmly into my side to ease my pains; my feet and hands were cold continually; had inclination to vomit, had profuse, cold sweats, quick breathing, and would be racked with pain for hours at a time.

"After the regular use of Paine's Celery Compound for a time, I am now in the best of health, have good appetite, and can use any kind of food. Thank God I am my old self once more, all through the use of Paine's Celery Compound."

Mr. Will Waller, of New Church, Va. spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Waller.

Mrs. Mary Taylor returned this week after spending a few days with Mrs. Charlie Taylor of Quantico.

The ladies of the M. P. Church will hold an oyster supper next Saturday, Oct. 28th for the benefit of the church.

Miss Maie Porter entertained a few friends Tuesday eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Wimbrow, it being her birthday.

WEST.

Service at Friendship next Sunday as follows: Sunday School at 9 A. M. and preaching at 10 A. M.

Revival service still continues at Union with much interest. The meeting has been largely attended, the members greatly revived and a number presented themselves at the altar, seven of whom professed conversion.

An "All-day's" meeting has been announced for Nazareth on Sunday Oct. 23th, at which time the extra meetings will begin at that place. Rev. Hooper McGrath is expected to preach in the morning. Rev. W. R. McFarlane of the M. E. Church, is expected to preach in the afternoon and the pastor, Rev. F. J. Phillips, at night.

Miss Flora Powell left a few days ago for Philadelphia where she has accepted a position as a stenographer. She is greatly missed by her many friends in social circle as well as in the home and the church.

Mr. George Powell made a brief visit home recently but left Monday to resume his studies at Yale. Mr. Powell, being a graduate at Washington College expects to complete his course at Yale in about two years. After this, he will probably turn his mind to the study of medicine or law.

Mrs. Daniel H. Hastings recently returned from an extended visit to her son in Philadelphia.

PITTSVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and daughter are expecting to return to their home in New York next week.

Miss Maddox, of Melsons, who has been visiting Mr. Leonard Morris has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parker visited friends in Delmar last Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Mitchell, of Salisbury, visited Mrs. R. S. Wimbrow of this place this week.

Miss Mayme Parker, who teaches school at Ocean City, was driven home on account of the storm but went back Tuesday to resume her work again.

We are glad to report that Miss Irma Wimbrow is a rapid convalescent.

Small Pox At Woodland.

A man by the name of Elliott has small pox in a bad form at Woodland a small village on the Nanticoke, three miles below Seaford. The daily mail carrier does not stop there and the place is in a measure isolated so far as traffic is concerned.

OCEAN CITY HARD HIT

By Last Week's Storm Which Was The Worst For Years. Lasted Four Days And Wrecked Congress Hall, Windsor Hotel, Taylor Cottage And Hobbs Excursion Pavilion. General Devastation.

Ocean City for four days passed through one of the worst and most destructive storms she has ever been compelled to encounter. The change took place last Thursday afternoon with a moderate wind from the north east and rain. Friday it had increased in velocity with a steady down pour. During that night the inhabitants at our seaside resort were compelled to recognize the fact that they were up against the fiercest wind and tide at high water they had ever experienced.

Saturday the storm continued and the water on the flats west of the bridge made it impossible for the engine to keep her fire going, and the cars had to be pushed over the bridge and up the track by willing hands across the meadow as far as the pines. There an engine stood waiting to receive them. Few had an idea when that train reached Berlin there would hardly be a vestige of Ocean City left. Capt Ludlam sizing up the situation telegraphed to Salisbury for relief. The B. C. & A. Co. responded at once sending a five car extra which proved to be not one too many to take the inhabitants off the beach. Merely a handful remaining and willing to take the chances. Hotels, boarding houses, and friends in Berlin saw them provided and cared for. Many had already waded off, the water covering the track and surrounding marsh for nearly a mile and waist deep.

Every horse and cart contributed their share, and what few small boats that were left; most of them having been washed out of reach or rendered unfit for service. Such was the state of affairs when the beach was left at five o'clock Saturday. There was hardly a section of boardwalk west of the front that was safe for one to walk upon. Piling washed out, planks ripped off, in fact unsafe every way. Many returned to the beach Sunday morning not knowing at the time what they might expect to greet them or how much destruction had taken place. Fortunately there was much more left than many anticipated. Down the beach first comes The Tabor cottage off the piling, prone upon the sand and badly shattered. Next was old Congress Hall with more than half, including the old structure, entirely swept away. The Hotel was an old land mark and has many associations connected with it. Trimper's Music Hall and dwelling a mass of wreckage, even what there is left. Hobbs Hotel and bath rooms demolished. Croppers and the Rayne brothers will suffer only a slight loss. The Atlantic Casino slight. All the front of the Hotel Shamrock wrecked. The old Atlantic stood her ground nobly and came off well. As you stroll up the beach there is hardly a cottage that is not more or less damaged, but nothing very seriously, and will soon be repaired. The Catholic Home was not so fortunate and suffered considerable damage. The fishing ponds and fishermen received their full share and their loss is heavy. The bay side is strewn with wreckage of almost every description.

An excursion from Salisbury Sunday conveyed nearly a thousand of her people to view the ruins.

From reports all along the Coast Ocean City was not the only place that suffered and the damage was greater in many places.

An Incident That Was Not Tragic.

As is usual on occasions of great disasters, there were numerous comedy elements in the midst of the tragic. Mr. Sidney Bowen, a well-known traveling man of Berlin, figured in one of these when he went down to view the scenes on the island with a party of excursionists. Mr. Bowen had several ladies under charge. When the party reached the island end of the bridge and were confronted with the expanse of water one of them objected strenuously to wading through the flood. With great gallantry Mr. Bowen offered to ferry her over in the fashion commonly called "pig-a-back."

All went well until the human ferry reached about the middle of the flood, when his foot suddenly slipped on a treacherous railroad tie and down he went on his knees. His fair burden sailed through the air, so to speak, and landed several feet away in water about knee deep. 'Tis reported, she doesn't speak to Mr. Bowen now.

Taken From Sick Bed.

Mrs. W. R. Rayne, wife of the proprietor of Rayne's Hotel, on the Board walk, was ill in bed when the storm came up Saturday morning. She was carried on a cot to one of the passenger coaches and taken across the trestle, from which place she was conveyed to Berlin by the train. Three women and six men stayed on the island Saturday night besides the members of the life-saving crew.

General Damage That Resulted.

It is thought that the total loss and depreciation of property will aggregate about $100,000.

The receding tide has disclosed the fact that all the cottages along the boardwalk in the northern section of the town have been damaged to some extent by having foundations washed away, railings broken or porches injured. The damages individually are small and will run from $25 to $100.

The Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railroad Company will lose probably $500. Two sheds near the station were washed away and a great portion of the track is buried in the sand.

The fish pounds suffered much worse than was first anticipated—to such an extent indeed, that they will need to be almost entirely replaced. There are at least 90 men employed in the business, and it boasts an original investment of $75,000. The Ocean City Fishery is reported to be the great school for surfmen on the Atlantic coast.

Mr. D. J. Adkins is the only man who, so far as is known, has actually profited by the storm. Seven years ago he had a pair of truck wheels standing in his yard when a sudden storm sprang up and buried the wheels' from sight. Saturday's storm reversed the act of the one seven years ago and Sunday morning when Mr. Adkins visited his home the wheels stood in the old place apparently not injured in the least.

Repairing And Planning For The Future Of Ocean City.

The refugees from the recent storm have returned to Ocean City, and are busy cleaning away the wreckage and saving what is worth saving from the debris. Some of the non resident property owners have been down looking over their property. Wagons loaded with lumber and piles have been coming in all day, and arrangements are being made to go ahead with rebuilding and repairing the damaged buildings. Orders were given for building material even before the storm was over.

Mr. W. T. Taber, who owned the first cottage to go down by the storm, arrived today. Mr. Taber says he can save his cottage and, with some little expense, make it as good as ever. He will move it further back from the ocean.

Capt. N. B. Rich, superintendent of the life-saving stations of this district, visited all the stations south of Ocean City and says the storm seemed to have been about as bad below as it was at Ocean City; it carried away everything that would float, but did no damage to the life saving stations, except at Indian River. The station there was badly wrecked and will have to be rebuilt and moved further back.

The City Council of Ocean City has decided not to repair the Atlantic avenue boardwalk now, but will wait until spring, when all of it will be rebuilt, making it wider and more substantial than ever. It also intends to put hard earth, cement or brick walks on Baltimore avenue and cross streets.

All railroad trains are running as usual. The railroad carpenters have returned and resumed work on the large new terminal of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company, which is to be the largest and handsomest depot on the Eastern Shore.

The new inlet about 2 1/2 miles below Ocean City has not closed up, but at low tide today two of the life-saving men were able to cross with a horse and buggy.

The party of fishermen for whom fears were felt turned up all right. They were taken care of at Assateague life saving station.

We have Several Good Business Propositions to make you, and Here's the Point We do business on business principles. When we sell you a pair of shoes they are as good as can be manufactured for the money. People spend most of their time in their shoes, and this fact makes the quality of footwear a question of prime importance. Our proposition to you is to sell you good honest shoes at a price as low as is consistent with good values. We make this proposition to all prospective shoe buyers, fully believing that it is to your interest to do business with us. We have many advantages to offer you as a reason why you should do your shoe buying of us, the first of which is, we are exclusive Shoe dealers and also the largest buyers of Shoes on the Peninsula. We can offer you the largest and most complete stock to select from. We do not have to give you one size when your foot needs another. Our large stock enables us to carry all sizes and widths in stock. We take pains to see that every foot is properly fitted and also to select the proper kind of Shoe to meet the requirement for which it is intended. We have the exclusive sale in this city of all the best known and most popular makes of Shoes. A person is often judged by the company they keep, so is a merchant by the merchandise he handles, and while we stand behind every pair of fair priced Shoes we sell, whether made under some pet name or not. To those who want special lines we can offer such well known ones as the following: FOR MEN: The Walk-Over, W. L. Douglas, Crossett's Long Life. FOR BOYS AND GIRLS: The Rice & Hutchins, Burley Stevens & Co., Excelsior. FOR LADIES: Queen Quality, Zeigler Bros., Cinderella, Allnut Moody, Drew, Selby & Co. All of these are good ones in their class and have reputations established on merit, but the burden of our story is simply Shoes, and not the maker—trust us for that and we will always give you full value for your money or cheerfully refund you the same. Think over our proposition, come and see us and let us more fully explain and show you that we mean business and we feel sure that you will find that our interests are mutual. Yours for Shoes, R. ## ON THE EASTERN SHORE.

Mr. Warfield and Other Democratic Candidates On Rousing Campaign Tour. Great Crowd At Easton. Warfield Winning Many Votes. Will Be In This City To-day.

An enthusiastic outpouring of the Talbot county Democracy took place in Easton Tuesday in honor of the three Democratic candidates on the State ticket. Their reception was a tremendous one, and the meeting, which was held in the Town Hall, was one of the largest that has taken place in Easton in recent years. In the audience were many ladies and at times they led in the cheering and applause. Every reference by the speakers to the supremacy of the white man and the danger of negro domination brought forth vociferous cheers, and the assembly was stirred to unbounded enthusiasm by the ringing denunciations of the Republican party, its politics and its platform.

Hon. Edwin Warfield made one of the best speeches he has made during the campaign, and was urged by the crowd to continue when he showed signs of stopping. He vigorously set forth the Democratic position on the negro issue and denounced as hypocrisy the Republican claims concerning fair elections. The audience applauded every point and never failed to show it. He was listened to with great earnestness.

Speech Of Mr. Warfield On The Race Question.

Mr. Warfield, when presented by General Seth, was loudly cheered and for several minutes had to wait until the applause subsided. He alluded to the local condition in Talbot county and urged support of the local ticket, declaring that when elected Governor he wanted a Democratic Legislature to aid him in giving good government to the State of Maryland. "In this county," he said, "you have 3,406 white voters and 1,706 negro voters. Thus, you see, the colored vote here is exactly one-third of your total registration. There are only a few hundred white Republicans in this great county, and yet by combining with these 1,706 negroes these few white men can sometimes gain control of your entire community. I submit to you, to the people of this State, to any fair-minded, reasonable white man, is this right? Is it proper? Is it just? I am not willing that an ignorant, prejudiced, irresponsible, non-taxpaying negro's vote shall outweigh a vote cast by an intelligent, educated white man. The founders of this nation, when laying the cornerstone of our country, never intended any such monstrous perversion of the principle of manhood suffrage and of that principle that declares the right of the majority to rule. You and I do not believe in the social or political equality of the negro with the white man, notwithstanding the pronounced views of President Roosevelt on this subject, and in spite of the fact that he dined at his home with a negro—Booker Washington. Here in this State we are now being treated to the very remarkable exhibition of a President of the United States attempting to interfere in the local affairs of our community, and by exerting the power of influence of the Federal Government and the Federal officeholders to settle the contest now going on in a way to satisfy his own desires and secure an endorsement of his negro policy upon the part of the people of Maryland. I believe that he will be disappointed. I believe that the white people of this grand old State will rise up in their wrath and resent this Roosevelt interference. They will rebuke Roosevelt for his meddling and by their votes on November 3 will plainly tell him that the people of Maryland are capable of handling their own affairs and desire him to keep his hands off.

Wants Election By White People.

"Now, I do not want to be Governor of this State unless I am elected to that high office by a majority of the white voters of Maryland. This election is a contest for the supremacy of the white race in Maryland. It is a contest to retire from the United States Senate one man who was, and would be again, should the opportunity offer, a conspicuous advocate of that iniquitous measure known as the Force bill. When Senator Louis E. McComas who, if by any mischance the Republicans should control the next General Assembly, would be the chief beneficiary, was a member of Congress from the Sixth district he not only voted for but made a violent and bitter speech in the advocacy of this Force bill, which was an insult and outrage upon the Southern people of this country. This man, and men like him of the same party in Maryland, have ridden into power upon the backs of the negroes of this State and hold their power and positions through the colored vote. Were it not for this vote they would be swept out of power instantly.

"The elevation of the negro is a well nigh hopeless task, so long as they exercise like dumb, driven cattle, solidly and without intelligence or reason, their right of suffrage as a weapon of offense against the Democratic party, directed and guided by designing Republican politicians. What does he gain by such a course? The white man, the Democratic white man, is the real and true friend of the negro. When he is in trouble does he go to the Republican 'boss' or to the white man who provides him with employment, with the means of earning his living, to take care of himself and his family?

"The white man is the highest type of the human family; the negro is the lowest. God has made no other race equal to the Caucasian, an neither amendments to the Constitution nor anything else can do what God has failed to do; that is make the negro the equal of the white man."

Mr. Warfield, in referring to the anonymous attacks made upon him from Republican sources, declared that anyone who would anonymously slander even the humblest man in this State is a coward and beyond contempt.

ISSUES OF THIS ELECTION

Set Forth In A Masterful And Thrilling Speech By Hon. Isador Rayner, Before A Crowded Baltimore Audience. Says Providence Created Race Issue. Mr. Rayner Expected To Speak In Salisbury Today.

Hon. Isador Rayner, a candidate for United States Senator made his first speech of the campaign in Baltimore before a throng that taxed the capacity of the big auditorium and for more than an hour held the vast concourse almost breathless with the power of his magnificent eloquence.

For White Supremacy.

Mr. Rayner was particularly eloquent in his plea for white supremacy in the State and declared that the wife of a prominent resident of Kent county had recently told him that if the Republicans gained a victory in that county no lady would be safe from insult on the streets of Chestertown. He said he had no fear that the Democratic party would be ruled by bosses.

Providence Created Race Issue.

"I am about the last person on this earth to raise the race issue. Providence created this issue in almost every part of the habitable globe. It has existed from the geological periods, when man was ushered into creation, and although the President of the United States can reach wonderful accomplishments, it is impossible for him, I apprehend, to unsettle an issue that Providence and the laws of nature have settled since the birth of man. I know the President is a man of miraculous and almost super natural powers, but I will place him against the laws of nature, and then we will see whether he can vanquish them as he did once upon a time, single-handed, the Spanish forces upon the hill of San Juan. (Laughter.)

"This race issue is a historical one, and its existence is illustrated upon every page of ancient and modern history. What does it portend when you analyze it honestly? It means that the history of nature has been a struggle between races for the survival of the fittest, and, with one or two abnormal exceptions, in every instance the inferior race has yielded to the superior race. Intellect has survived and ignorance has retreated. The mind has triumphed and physical force has been unable to cope with it.

Negro Domination Means Disaster.

"Here in Maryland we are met by the fact—which the Republican party admits—that in a large number of the counties of this State the negro vote comprises, by an overwhelming majority, the Republican vote; and in some of the counties where the negro vote is added to the white Republican vote, can be made to control and does control the political affairs of their people. It can be further stated—and the Republican party must admit it, and they dare not deny it—that negro domination in any part of the State of Maryland means ruin and disaster to the personal, commercial and political interests of the people who would suffer thereby.

"Now, aside from politics, is this right? Is it the natural order of things? Is it in accordance with the best and highest interests of this State that any part of the State should be dominated by illiteracy, by ignorance and by a protract every county in the State in concern, if any, in the interests of Maryland? I say emphatically, No! (Applause.) And I proclaim here tonight that it is our bounden duty—not alone as Democrats, but as citizens—to protect every county in the State from its domination of negro rule. It is just as much the duty of the State to protect the interests of every county in the State as it is to protect and guard the money and the vaults of her Treasury, or the health and homes of her citizens.

Pointing An Object Lesson.

"Go into the counties of Southern Maryland—Charles, Calvert, St. Mary's, Prince George's; go in Anne Arundel, and then go upon the Eastern Shore. In almost every county you will immediately apprehend the great significance of this question. In some of these the homes of the best people have been abandoned. Their political destinies are in the hands of a inferior race, who are driven to the polls like cattle to the shambles under the lead of political demagogues. They present a scene of desolation and disaster, and their pride and honor of Maryland, no longer preside at the altars of their faith or in the councils of their party, but, with silent despair, have yielded to the advance of a race which is politically organized and politically led for the purpose of overthrowing and sacrificing a superior race in a struggle for political supremacy. (Applause.)

"This is the whole question, and it deserves the serious consideration of every right thinking man in Maryland! The Republican leaders realize that their cohorts consist of some 60,000 negro voters in this State, and they throw them against the Democratic party at all hazards and under all circumstances; they are perfectly indifferent and unconcerned as to the effect that this produces in one half of the counties of Maryland. But what they desire to obtain is political victory and the use of this force for the purpose of securing it.

"The rising generation of voters is intelligent," he said, "they come from the ranks of educated labor and from the colleges and universities, and, if the Democratic party but remains true to its principals and is not swayed higher and higher by every passing gale she will weather every storm in the future, as she has in the past, and the ship of State will be safe."

Mr. Rayner closed with a fiery appeal for the supremacy of the people. "The future king," he declared, "will bear upon his brow embossed in glowing letters the words, 'The people.'"

AN APPEALING SITUATION

Exists In Maryland Now. White People Grasping The Vast Importance Of Coming Election. Many Republicans Realizing Vital Necessity Of White Ascendancy Through Democratic Party.

A well known Republican from a County that the black cloud of Africanism has darkened for a number of years, was in Baltimore this week and announced his intention of voting the Democratic ticket this month.

"I have been a Republican all my life," he said, "and am still one. On National issues I stand true to my Party's principles, because I believe in them. But they have nothing to do with this fight, which is a State and local contest, pure and simple.

"In my County the negro vote is very large, and most of it is illiterate. These people, who exercise the right of franchise equally with me, have, as a general thing, little idea of what or whom they vote for. They do as they are told. A few designing men in my party, I am sorry to say, use this large negro vote for their own purposes, and with it are usually able to control the County.

"That is the sort of negro domination I fear: not that the negroes are numerically strong enough there to seize the reins of power, they could do it in some counties if they made up their minds to do so, and I fear they will some day. In my judgement a domination that is bad enough is that of a few men who have an absolute mastery of public affairs through the aid of this solid negro vote. The negroes down my way are becoming more exacting all the time. They have been made road supervisors &c, but such positions are not contenting them. They demand more. Now and then an ambitious one wants to go to the Legislature and it is difficult to satisfy him and his friends. Pretty soon they will be demanding county offices.

"I shall lose none of my Republicanism by voting the Democratic ticket this year. I will be simply taking my place with my white neighbors in protecting my neighborhood and my County, and I shall have more respect for myself after I have done it."

The above is the plain matter-of-fact argument of a sensible man, who looks conditions straight in the face as they confront him. He knows that the State will not suffer through the election of Mr. Warfield, who is a progressive, successful business man, and a man of the highest personal character. Mr. Warfield wishes to be Governor for the honor of serving the people of his State as their Chief Executive, as he has frankly stated. He has no other ambition than to make a creditable record and to serve Maryland so well that he can retire at the end of his term with honor freely accorded him. He has the sincere respect and esteem of all who know him, and their name is legion. Will it not be entirely safe to elect such a man Governor?

There are doubtless many Republicans in Maryland who feel strongly inclined to vote as the County gentleman quoted above, but hesitate because of a feeling of party loyalty. "His serves his party best who serves his country best" is a time honored truism, and certainly a man who at this particular time conserves the best interests of his friends and neighbors, his county and his State may feel that he would be of value to any party. None of the great issues upon which the Republican party stands is involved in this contest, which is purely a local affair, to determine what policy of local control shall be adopted.

In Somerset County a more attractive place in which to live because the negro vote has so generally controlled it? Have its affairs been better administered on that account? Has the tariff or the money question anything to do with the desolation and despair of Southern Maryland because the white people are being driven away and property is depreciating on account of the steadily rising black tide? And with the constantly growing negro immigration from the South will not bad conditions grow worse each year? These are a few of the pertinent questions which face the people of Maryland and which sensible, thoughtful men should reason out calmly and dispassionately, just as the gentleman quoted at the beginning did.

—Many buyers are now in Kent and Queen Anne counties hunting for Keiffer pears, and they are paying well for them. Charles W. Kibler, W. H. Lambert, Jr., Stewart & Co., and Marcus Ascher are buying up the fruit by the orchard. One farmer near Chestertown cleared twenty seven cents per basket from the pears he picked from the trees cleared him thirty-five cents. The highest price yet offered for the whole orchard was twenty-five cents per basket, the buyer to take all, little and big. These high prices for pears are owing to the fact that the crop is almost a failure. Heretofore the Keiffer pear crop has netted farmers thousands of dollars, being a close competitor of the peach, and last year far surpassing it as a profit maker.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

The Question Of Political Or Civic Duty, And The Relation Of Bribery To Different Functions Of Public Offices As Now Created And Maintained. Situation As Viewed By The Writer.

Having been asked to take a part in the bribery agitation, kindly allow me, in your valuable paper, to offer the following observations on the subject. It is with some misgiving for fear of misconstruction, as I certainly do not wish to pose as an experienced moralist or as giving advice to wiser heads. By way of excuse we may say it is not so much for individual views as to follow the subject. It is surprising where it leads when one gets to thinking of it, and yet the following does not appear to me an unreasonable if novel application. It is hardly necessary to state that nothing is intended in a partisan sense.

I confess I have not been very enthusiastic in the fight against bribery in the sense in which it is commonly used. It would seem to be an inevitable and necessary consequence of a certain political condition, or, as the moralists say, a low tone of political life generally. They say it is the root of political corruption. May it not be said it is rather the offspring of that other more formidable (because more insidious) evil, PERSONAL POLITICS?

If our understanding of bribery, as borne out in the following, is the correct one, it means vastly more than the mere payment of money for votes. The question of bribery along the lines here indicated would seem to open up the whole field of political conduct. To be explicit, it seems to be a question of motive. If we can get a correct theory, or, as our medical brethren say, correct diagnosis, we can make some headway. In legal phraseology, if personal politics is the material point in the case, the evidence must be directed to that issue.

To ascertain the relationship let us see the definition. Bribery is defined by Worcester as "the crime of taking or of giving bribes, or of offering or of receiving a reward in order to influence conduct in any office, or to bias a voter at an election."

Another definition of equal authority is "the administration of a bribe or reward that it may be a motive in the performance of political functions for which the proper motive ought to be a conscientious sense of duty."

The definition seems to clear the air, and the discussion should not be carried beyond what the definition fairly warrants. If the definition means anything, it must mean that whenever a man influences or is influenced by any other motive than the public good in his political conduct, then he is guilty of bribery. Now, if this sets the question fairly before us, it brings up the question of political or civic duty. It also brings up personal politics, and how it easily and naturally breeds bribery and the whole host of attendant evils. Bearing in mind this foundation principle (which the definition compels): THE PUBLIC GOOD—NO PERSONAL END, it is easily seen where we shall be landed. Suppose it does lead to what may be termed fanciful conclusions, who is to blame for it? Is it not our duty to treat it fairly, cherished feelings to the contrary?

Personal politics, or bribery, in the sense laid down, may be either as to individuals or in relation to party. Take party loyalty, for instance. In order to see how it applies, let us candidly state the arguments on both sides. The strict partisan says, parties have always existed in some shape under free governments; that nothing can be done except by organization; that there must be some visible organization on which responsibility can be placed by the people, not only for legislation but for official integrity; that the collective voice of the party leaders is ex cathedra and must be obeyed; that party discipline is as essential as army discipline; that the good of the party and the good of the State are but different ways of expressing the same thing; that all reforms should come from within the party; that, under our distributed forms of government in the different functions of local, State and national, and their intimate connections, the weakening of the party in one place weakens in all; that, even if a party does wrong in specific instances, its general cause is right—give it time and things will right themselves; that nothing can be accomplished by sporadic movements, and going to the opposite side is to put your life long political enemies in power. They hold party faith as religious faith, inviolable, and a man a traitor and a renegade who departs from it; and so on, with hosts of other good reasons.

Another school of thought, usually termed "independent," say parties, as at present organized, are of very recent origin and not contemplated by our Constitution. They say parties are means to an end and not the end; if they do not attain that end, of no use. They say the party was made for man and not man for the party. They say the doctrine of non-resistance would carry us back into the grip of the

PENINSULA FACTORIES

Combine. Five Large Companies To Be Included.

At Pocomoke City Wednesday there was a conference of the largest manufacturers of crates, baskets and fruit packages on the Peninsula, looking toward the formation of a combination. The supply of wood necessary for this industry is nearly exhausted in this neighborhood. The material is principally gum, green wood and in order to get a sufficient quantity to keep the factories going it would be necessary to obtain the supply from the large swamps of North Carolina. Several of the firms have been considering the advisability of moving their large plants to North Carolina, directly alongside the raw material, and thus save thousands of dollars in freight. But they first tried to get the railroads to make the proper concessions in freights, so they could keep their plants at home, and thus give work to home laborers, and it was decided that the only way to accomplish it would be to consolidate several of the largest of the concerns and establish a line of steam to supply the raw material, if the proper rates could not be obtained from the railroads. The following concerns have about completed the consolidation arrangements:

A. W. Robinson & Co., Sharptown, Wicomico county.
J. D. Marvell & Co., Laurel, Del.
N. Ward & Co., Laurel, Del.
Schoolfield Barnes & Co., Pocomoke City.
Crane, Hynson & Valiant, Chestertown, Maryland.

These five concerns represent a large amount of capital and will make a strong combination.

The 21st Birthday Of Mr. R. Wayne

Written Celebrated.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Wroten gave a birthday party on Monday evening at their home on Main street, in honor of the twenty-first birthday of their son Mr. R. Wayne Wroten of Baltimore.

The house was decorated with potted plants and brilliantly lighted for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Wroten, Mr. and Mrs. Fay of Baltimore and Mr. E. Wayne Wroten received in the hall and parlor.

The affair proved to be a most enjoyable one and Mr. Wroten was wished many happy returns of the occasion. Refreshments, consisting of ices, cakes, fruits, etc. were served at 11.30.

Among the many valuable presents Mr. Wroten was the recipient of a check for a large sum from his father. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. T. Byrd Lankford, Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Elzey, Mr. and Mrs. Woodland Haymay, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Gordy Culver, and Mrs. Covington, of Salisbury; Mr. and Mrs. John Foeller, of Baltimore; Mrs. Turpin, of Fruitland, Miss Lula Trader, of Baltimore; Misses Lottie and Willie Morris, of Greenwood; Misses Edna Adkins, Mamie Phipps, Mary Smith, Mattie and Bessie Simons, Nina Venables, Clara Hayman, Lena Holloway, Jennie Williams, and Edith and Lottie Livingston; Messrs. Willie Taylor, Carl Brewington, Charles Bennett, Bernard Uman, Dale Adkins, Harold Culver, Ray Parker, James White, Charles Waters, J. Walter Huffington, Roy Covington, and Arthur and Ernest Williams.

—The general opinion at Ocean City is that the heavy damage done the beach will be partially, at least, restored by the action of succeeding storms but that it will not be fully replaced. It is said that the waves are gradually taking the sand from the ocean side and depositing it on the bay side shore and that while the ocean beach has been getting narrower, the beach has been broadening on the bay side. There seems to be little doubt that the buildings along the boardwalk will have to be moved back further, and it may have to be done before next season.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it. In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

THE ANTI-BRIBERY LEAGUE.

Editors of Advertiser:—Your readers have seen that by the Constitution and the Statute, the mere offer of anything at any time, to induce a person to vote or not to vote, constitutes the crime of bribery, and how dangerous it is and degrading the penalty. Now let them answer a few questions:

- 1. Is not organized bribery organized crime?
2. Is not the political party engaged in organized bribery guilty of organized lawlessness?
3. Can a political party or its candidates engaged in this crime expect to retain the confidence of the people?

Lawbreakers are first cautious, then careless, then reckless, then follow arrest. Some "hoodlums" in this country are taking all these degrees in rapid succession.

If there are those who think that conviction for bribery in Wicomico County is among the impossibilities, let them remember the "hoodlum" Aldermen of St. Louis and the "hoodlum" members of the Missouri Legislature.

Let them remember the recent convictions for bribery in Philadelphia of the four school trustees for bribing the poor school teachers.

Let them remember the recent indictments at political headquarters in Washington of a little army of twenty hoodlums in the Post Office Department—among them an ex Postmaster General, an ex Judge, and others high in authority, with a "pull" thought to be invincible.

The mills of the people, like "the mills of the Gods, grind slow, but they grind exceeding fine."

The party and the candidate that serves the people first and the politician last, will last longest.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

What The Artists in The Metropolis Are Selecting For The Season. Fall And Winter Materials: Styles in Making: Individual Gowns: Millinery.

The coming winter will be one of contrasts. Nothing will be more elegant or more stylish than broadcloth, its smooth surface commending itself especially and the numerous shades, running close to two hundred, show the great expected demand for it. On the other hand, one sees fleecy zibelines, the more expensive reaching a limit of shagginess, in which aggressive hairs an inch long, will render wearers of the quite animal like in appearance.

LESS OBTUSIVE GOODS

such as will be selected by the large class of persons who, while desirous of being fashionable, made judicious choice of materials on the standard order—such fabrics remaining in vogue season after season and easily changed, if need be, from one member of the family to another.

STYLES IN MAKING.

It seems as last that pouch front, so long a refuge for defective figures, are to be greatly modified and in many cases, discarded in favor of close fitting coques. For street-wear, long, tight fitting coats en suite with the dress, will be worn, but as this style is fatal to short, stout figures, a short over garment reaching only to the waist, will be in order.

ELEGANT GOWNS

seen at Fall exhibitions, are worthy of special mention and a beautiful example in tan broadcloth, is made walking length with strapped seams, the waist confined by a cord and tassels and handsome pendants appearing on the sleeves and waist about the shoulders, where it is met by a lace yoke laid over white satin.

NEW MILLINERY.

Thus while fashionable examples remain on the plateau order with the presence of a crown, recent introductions show high crowns in Gainsborough style and as a special finish of the season, are two or three ostrich plumes nodding on the left side.

ABOUT A HORSE.

A spirited horse; a good buggy, a level road, agreeable companionship, the weather clear, the air balmy, the scenes along the way pleasing, and you have all that is essential for a ride that will linger long in the memory.

But we recall to-day a ride that did not have all of these features. It was behind a horse named Prince. This horse may have had royal blood in his veins, that giving him his name, but at the time of which we write that royal blood had become very thin. Prince, alas! like some persons in the world had degenerated. There are many noble ones of earth that lose their crown. If the life of the soul does not advance, it is bound to go back into inferiority. It is nothing to be born in a palace, if we live afterwards in a stable. The prodigal son had a fair start along the highway of being, but he stopped for awhile at a swine pen.

Prince was an excellent horse with one exception. The trouble was that he was lazy—a falling by no means confined to horse flesh. The fact was that Prince preferred the pasture field that day, from which pasture field he had been unceremoniously withdrawn, in order that he might pull a load of humanity to the home of a relative a few miles distant from the grass land in which he had been luxuriating. He did not like the change.

But what a ride we had! Driving Prince was equal to the exercise of sawing and splitting two cords of wood. We had failed to provide a whip. To make the animal move with any degree of briskness at all, it was necessary to jerk the lines. It seemed that Prince would have no joy left by the time we reached our destination. Even the jerking had to be done vigorously. His mind was so occupied with thoughts of the pasture he had felt that it took several seconds for his brain matter to send a telegram to each of his four legs, that telegram telling those four legs what the jerk signified. It might have been imagined that the driver was practicing a sermon for the coming Sabbath, his vocalization being accompanied with appropriate gestures. "Get up, Prince!" A jerk of the lines. "Get up, Prince!" Another jerk of the lines. "Get up, Prince!" Still another jerk of the lines, each jerk increasing in power, and each command in a louder tone than the one preceding. It was "Get up, Prince!" and a jerk of the lines clear to the end of the journey. In despair we handed over the reins to a fair one sitting beside us, one more accustomed to the ways of Prince than we were, and then Prince moved somewhat more rapidly. Women can often accomplish what men cannot. We afterwards thought that our feminine fellow-passenger of that day would be a good one to occupy the chair of a religious committee. She would be able to make things go. Any one who could stir Prince into activity could almost work wonders.

But it was amusing to see the manner in which Prince started on a trot. First, after a jerk at the lines, would come a lifting of the head, then a bumping of the back at its rear portion, these attitudes preliminary to a faster gait than Prince was traveling, and then finally the shadow of a trot, that shadow at last solidifying into what approached reality. But his accelerated motion did not last a great while. He would soon stop trotting. When he did stop, he stopped all at once, the suddenness of the stopping being a jar to the nerve, and sending us forward in the carriage with such force that we were threatened with dislocation of the neck. The wonder is that we were not spilled over the dashboard under Prince's hind heels.

But how Prince went home! The wind had a hard time to keep up with us. Our carriage wheels started the echoes. Bridges that we crossed had only time to groan as we struck them and rattled on. In a short season Prince was at the gate, the smell of the hay packed in his manger and a vision of a soft bed of straw in his stall coming down the land to meet him.

Our ride that day furnished us with some reflections. Prince proved that he could go if he wished to do so. He needed a little urging. On the outward journey he needed much urging. But he was able to trot. The difficulty in the way was a strong tendency towards laziness. Having jerked that out of him, he went over the ground at a fair rate of speed. On the homeward journey, in addition to a stimulus applied from without, he had the stimulus of prospective food and sleep. He could go. There was no doubt of that.

So are there persons who have native ability, but who lack the will power to put their talents in operation. Many persons are constitutionally lazy. They were born that way. It takes a whip to move them into anything like activity. They are unwilling, as Prince was, to leave the pleasures of pasturing in idleness for what demands either bodily or mental exertion. These are the persons who are never missed after a grave closes over them. Born lazy, they live lazily and die lazily, the whole journey from cradle to tombstone a slow walk. It makes those who have energy tired to see them live. They would not breathe, if they could avoid the exercise. What is needed in their case is a driver to stir them out of their habits of sluggishness. The Apostle Paul had a prescription for such characters, saying, "If any would not work, neither should he eat."

Then, too, it is often required in church affairs to jerk the line to put motion into those who are capable of moving without being urged. We admire modesty. But there is a false modesty among many that has in it nothing admirable. Perhaps Prince thought it was indignant in one of his name to trot. But our companion on the front seat jerked that notion out of head. It is well to be modest. But when modesty keeps persons altogether in the background who ought to be at least somewhat prominent, it ceases to be a virtue. There are many modest persons in all churches, judging from the numbers that sit in the rear pews. So when there are demands for service, these modest persons in all the churches refuse to be enlisted. They are like Prince. They can go, but they will not go. Whatever is asked of them is answered in the negative. They prefer pasture to progression. That is why Christianity does not advance over the earth at a more rapid rate. It has been properly geared, but those who draw its wagon will not do anything more than walk. We saw Prince that day frisking across the field like a colt. If he had put the same energy into his harnessed condition, he would have saved many a breath and two pairs of tired arms. So if the same enthusiasm and vivacity were made characteristic of religious things as are shown in business and pleasure, it would soon be millennial sunrise over the earth. "The children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light."

But we must bring these reflections to a close. Prince reached home in the glory of the moon. There was a comfortable stall awaiting him, a manger at one end filled with hay and fodder, and its floor bedded for his weary frame, and this in spite of his disinclination to trot. But perhaps in his dreams that night he felt a pull at his jaw and heard a voice, saying, "Get up, Prince!" that jerk and that voice inspiring him in the morning to better living. So it may be that these words of ours will be useful. Let every body resolve to do with his might what his hands find to do. There are no rewards for sloth, except for horses. God grant that when in the eventide of life we reach the end of the journey through this world, it may be that we shall halt where the glory of our Father's house flashes through the air. That will be the gates of pearl.

WILLIAM HENRY BANCROFT.

ITS A GOOD SIGN.

We have spoken before of the fact that the situation in political circles offers more of the unusual this year than ordinarily, and in view of the as yet blasted hopes of outside interference which the republicans undoubtedly entertain, this fact bears repetition and emphasis.

It will be remembered that the Baltimore News has bulldozed the republicans into altering their course very perceptibly from what it would otherwise have been, and certainly the republicans must have expected some return for this.

It will be remembered that the News attempted to force the democrats hands with regard to the States Attorney in Baltimore, as well as on one or two other little matters, and that the democratic party while the forcing didn't work is still sailing and showing no ill effects of the defiance.

It will be remembered that various outside influences were darkly hinted at not so long ago, as about to leap into the ring against us in a mass of flame, as it were, vomiting fire and smoke. Many things did these prophets predict and many are the lies that up to this time they stand convicted of having told; and while this volcano of wrath may come at any moment, in fact we have been looking for it with no great fear for quite a little while now we repeat that these untoward influences are not yet at work, not in the open at any rate.

The matter stands pat and resolves itself into this, and simply this. All of these darkly mentioned forces are doubtless there and would doubtless sink their claws into a writhing democracy, WERE THE DEMOCRACY REALLY WRITHING, and did these winning-side whoopers really see the possibility for victory against us, which their yellers protest that they see.

Politics resolves itself very closely into perfectly natural lines after all, and is nothing more nor less than human nature immensely intensified with all of the workings to a certain extent laid bare to the view of the close lookers, which in a measure are we.

The instinct which we see so frequently in dogs where there is no concealment and which prompts the taking of sides, among the onlookers at a fight and INVARIABLY AGAINST THE UNDER DOG, comes out fiercely in politics. And because democracy in this state happens to be a positive sort of a thing which brooks no interference with its affairs and with a strong love for independence and running its own skating rink if it wants to do so: these onlookers, waiting for a chance to dig in their claws, and "aw!" the independence are all waiting and watching like ghoulis for a sign of weakness and, seeing none are still hopelessly, high and dry, away up on the fence, hesitating to strike.

Say what you will, this is one of our surest arguments for success,—that those who wish to see not even the faintest ray of hope, and look as they will and fight as they will for one of these rays, and hope as they will for our defeat, they fail to see a possibility of it and are waiting,—waiting for they know not what,—for some chance, for some break on our part or for some bad move.

It is an excellent sign.

Then the sun of White Man supremacy which rose in Maryland with the first settlement in the State, is now high above, having left the threatening clouds of dire disaster which attended the Republican administration of 1895-1899 and is now shining through the medium of a united, harmonious Democratic party with every glow of radiance, every triumph and success. White Man's ascendancy is gaining sentiment and strength every day.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS

The Platform Adopted By The Party In State Convention. Favor White Ascendancy, Improved Highways and Larger Oyster Products.

The representatives of the Democratic party of Maryland, in State convention assembled, heartily commend the administration of Gov. John Walter Smith.

He has diligently and faithfully discharged the many and varied duties of his office and fully made good his assurances to the people that under his administration as Governor the laws would be vigorously enforced, the public revenues carefully guarded and peace and good order resolutely maintained.

The efficient and successful management of the affairs of the State in Democratic hands for the last four years justly entitles us to claim a continuance of the confidence and support of the people.

The good government which we are now enjoying under Democratic administration cannot possibly be made better by the Republican party; but, on the contrary, dependent for its existence as that party in this State is upon its solid negro vote, it is manifest that the defeat of our ticket at the coming election will bring back upon us the evils and dangers from which our triumph in 1896 fortunately delivered us.

We believe that the political destinies of Maryland should be shaped and controlled by the white people of the State, and while we disclaim any purpose to do any injustice whatever to our colored population we have insured a more serve our resolute purpose to preserve in every conservative and constitutional way the political ascendancy of our race.

The continuance in power of the Democratic party in this State means: First—The continued rigid enforcement of the laws which have insured safety to person and protection to property.

Second—Continued economy in the expenditure of the people's money, but without parsimony, and progress without extravagance.

Third—The guarantee of the early extinguishment of the State debt and a speedy reduction in taxation.

Fourth—It will result in such amendments to our present excellent election law, which has done so much to lessen the evils of bribery, to assure the secrecy of the ballot and to promote intelligent voting, as experience has shown may be necessary to preserve the purity of our elections, without which good government is impossible.

Fifth—The success of our party means that the public schools of the State will be further fostered, expanded and improved, so that opportunity shall be given to every child to obtain a fair education.

Sixth—Maryland, among the first of the States in the Union to recognize that the welfare of all the people largely depends upon the improvement of public highways, created facilities for cheap transportation. That policy resulted in greatly increasing our prosperity and gave to the city of Baltimore an opportunity to share in the commerce of the country. The time has now arrived when we must return, to some extent, to the former policy of improving the highways. Good roads will cheapen the cost of the transportation of Maryland's products and will add greatly to the value of property and to the comfort of all the people of the State. Our success will assure legislation to this end.

Seventh—The products of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries have furnished remunerative employment for thousands of our citizens. Their right, their opportunity, to pursue their vocations must be guaranteed, and it is alike the duty and the interest of the State to foster and increase the supply of the natural products of our great inland sea.

Eighth—The Democratic party has shown by example that public improvements in the State and in the city of Baltimore can be made with economy and without undue or unfair taxation. We propose to continue that policy, so that Baltimore city shall have the opportunity to construct its system of sewerage and the improvement of its streets under such restrictions as will insure strict economy by business methods absolutely divorced from party advantage.

Ninth—The Primary Election Law, passed by a Democratic Legislature and signed by a Democratic Governor, has produced good results, and we are of opinion that its provisions, with such modifications as local circumstances may demand, should be extended to the whole State.

Tenth—The election of a Democratic majority in both branches of the General Assembly will strengthen the hands of a Democratic Governor and contribute greatly toward the maintenance of good government in the State. It will also make certain the election of a Democratic majority in the United States Senate of a man who truly represents the principles which the Democratic party has advocated from Jefferson's time to our own and who would scorn to malign and attack the white people of the South in their efforts to improve the great questions resulting from the enfranchisement of the negroes.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

Where Money Grows

Just in the pocket money is sure to decrease. In the Maryland Savings Bank, Baltimore, Md. It is sure to increase. ## DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmor, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent bottle of Swamp-Root, dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.

- FOR GOVERNOR: EDWIN WARFIELD of Howard County. FOR COMPTROLLER: DR. GORDON T. ATKINSON, of Somerset County.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY, THE HOPE OF GOOD WHITE GOVERNMENT.

The people of Baltimore are looking to the counties for aid. During the Republican State and City administrations white women could scarcely pass along the streets in some sections without being insulted.

The issue that the Republican candidates are continually forcing to the front is the election law. It is the law that has been in operation in Massachusetts for many years, and if it is a good thing there, why not here?

White men of Maryland who understand the situation, it is with you. White men of Wicomico do your duty. Stand by your color and help to place the government of your fair State outside the invasive degrading touch of rampant, ignorant negroism.

SOME PLAIN, TELLING FACTS ABOUT THE RACE ISSUE.

According to the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, President Roosevelt has determined to inject some of his "strenuousness" into the Maryland campaign and make the negro and his voting power the war cry.

The "Race Issue" is not a party bug-aboo, but in every southern state and in every county of every state, where the black man constitutes an important political factor, in governmental affairs of the county and state, it is one of the most important issues in local self government.

Now take the proportion of the negro vote to the total Republican vote and we very soon see how Republican control means negro domination. The Republican candidate for congress last fall received in Somerset 2111 votes; in Dorchester 2702; in Talbot 2142; in Kent 1817, giving him an average of 1997 in these four counties with an average colored registered vote of 3193, only 198 more than this registered vote.

White men of Maryland who understand the situation, it is with you. White men of Wicomico do your duty. Stand by your color and help to place the government of your fair State outside the invasive degrading touch of rampant, ignorant negroism.

JACKSON—LEONARD

Miss Fay Leonard Becomes The Bride Of Mr. Everett E. Jackson On Monday.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Fay Leonard, daughter of the late Col. Wm. J. Leonard, of Salisbury, Md., one time Comptroller of the State and also a member of the Legislature, to Mr. Everett E. Jackson, Jr., son of Ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson, of Maryland, took place Monday at 1.30 o'clock at the home of the bride, in Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left for New York and Atlantic City for a few days. They will include other cities on their honeymoon trip. Last spring Mr. Wm. W. Leonard, of Baltimore, a brother of the bride, married Miss Nellie Jackson, a sister of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are prominently connected and well known in society. Hon. Edwin Warfield, candidate for Governor; Hon. Gordon T. Atkinson, candidate for Comptroller, Hon. William Shepard Bryan, candidate for Attorney-General, Hon. Isidor Rayner, candidate for the United States Senate, and Hon. L. Irving Handy, of Delaware, will be present and deliver addresses.

Arrangements have been made to have a special train run over the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway, from Salisbury to Mardela Springs, and intermediate points after the speaking next Saturday night, thus giving the people of that section of the county an opportunity to stay at the night meeting and hear the Hon. Isidor Rayner.

The political ball is fast rolling. The meetings this week at Upper Ferry, Walston's Switch, Calloway's Store, Athel and Sharptown have been largely attended and enthusiastic.

Don't Want To See Republican Government Again. Messrs. Editors.—Now Roosevelt had better turn to his negro party and let politics alone. We white Democrats are going to take care of Maryland and are going to make Hon. Edwin Warfield Governor.

The lowest tide in 40 years gave the Chester river oystermen a chance to pick up oysters from the bars in large quantities last week. One man, near Quaker Neck Wharf, succeeded in picking up nearly 100 bushels, while others took from 25 to 50 bushels. A buyer tried to buy up the day's work for 75 cents a bushel, but the oyster-men held out for $1.

The Pocomoke Ice Co. has gone into the hands of a receiver and the plant will be sold. This plant was built about three years ago and has done considerable business down the peninsula. The reason given for suspension is too much competition. Ice plants have been multiplying very fast on the lower peninsula for the past two or three years and many of them have been compelled to sell their output at ruinous prices.

The Democratic Mass Meeting at Nutter's next Tuesday afternoon promises a great and jovial occasion. They will also speak at Red Men's Hall, Tyaskin, Wednesday evening, 7.30 Relatives in Wicomico and Somerset received intelligence early in the week of the death of Lee Lankford, of Port Lavaca, Texas. Mr. Lankford was a native of Somerset county. He married Miss Carrie Bounds, of Wicomico county in 1888, and then went to California and engaged in newspaper work. For a number of years he has been editor and proprietor of the Port Lavaca News. He is survived by a widow, one daughter, mother, sister and two brothers. They are Mrs. Nancy Lankford, Miss Cora Lankford, T. Byrd Lankford, of Salisbury, and Wilmer O. Lankford, of Princess Anne.

The king has come into his own again and at Wichita on the banks of the sluggish Arkansas and within the sound of the bark of the prairie dog Creech succeeded in not only lowering his own record of 2.023, but lowered the world's trotting record of two minutes flat, held jointly by Lou Dillon; Billing's great mare, and Major Delmar, Smathers' fast gelding, negotiating the mile in 1.591. Lou Dillon, the speedy daughter of Sidney Dillon, with a mark of two minutes, was sent against the world's trotting record Friday at the Memphis Driving Park track.

A new steam plant, with Mercer boiler, is being installed in St. Peter's Episcopal Church this week by Messrs. Biddle Bros., of Wilmington, Del. Fourteen radiators will furnish heat as follows: three along each aisle, two in rear, two in chancel, one in tower, one in organ room, one in north sacristy and one in south sacristy. The plant will cost $235 and the church has this amount in hand to pay as soon as it is in satisfactory operation which is expected to be by November 1. The regular services will be held by the rector, Rev. Mr. Howard tomorrow.

THE PRICE YOU OUGHT TO PAY FOR CLOTHES. It's a delicate subject to handle in print, but when one is sure he's right he needn't be afraid to put it in type. There are a good many men who don't pay enough for their clothes, and there are some who pay too much. The right price for clothes—what you ought to pay for yours—is the price of getting such clothes as you ought to have. If you make any mistake about price, it will probably be just here—in your estimate of what you ought to have. The man who pays a city custom-tailor $20 for a suit or overcoat doesn't get it. In quality of fabric or fit, clothes so much better than the man who buys Lacy Thoroughgood's clothes at half or a third those figures. Practically he doesn't look any different, but he probably thinks he does, and he pays a good many penalties for his thoughtlessness. At the other extreme are a great many men who think they should pay about $20 or $25 for a suit or overcoat. They expect good clothes at that price; men who feel extravagant if they go as high as $10, $12 or $15, and consider $12.50 for a suit or overcoat downright wastefulness. You may think it a strange statement to make, but there are a lot of just such clothes-buyers; they are in the majority. As a matter of fact, they are the extravagant clothes-buyers, because they not only don't get what they ought to have, but commonly they don't get what they pay for. Lacy Thoroughgood respects the views of both these classes of men. The questions of the clothes you ought to wear, and the price you ought to pay for them, are largely a matter of education, as well as of the wearing of both classes. The more you pay Thoroughgood for suits or overcoats, the more you get. Every dollar you spend has been put into the clothes for you. I also give trading stamps.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It is a natural and safe carriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.

TALMAGE SERMON

Chicago, Oct. 18.—In this sermon the preacher scathingly exposes and denounces the national evil of gambling, which has spread to all classes and conditions of men. He utters a wholesome and timely protest against those forms of the mania which are corrupting our social and business life.

Some years ago I was walking in beautiful Fairmount park, Philadelphia, with my father. He suddenly turned and said to me: "Frank, next week I am going to write a sermon upon the question 'Is life worth living?' I am going to show that the solution of that question is conditional. Whether life is or is not worth living depends upon how you live it. If a man lives in this world with the idea that he is only to receive and not to give, if he is cursed with the enervating conviction that he must be carried around on a litter and if he does not want to be a worker, a laborer, a doer for mankind, then life is not worth living. The sooner that man is dead the better. But if a man goes through this world realizing the glorious opportunities of Christian usefulness and if he is willing to spend and be spent for others, then life is worth living. Then the longer we live on earth the happier we shall be and the more we shall make others happy."

But, though at the Edenic expulsion the divine command was given, "By the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," yet from time immemorial there have been thousands upon thousands of men and women who have tried to shirk the obligations of labor which God has placed at every hearthstone. They have been seeking means whereby through the opened door of the Roman temple erected to Fortuna, the goddess of chance, they could possess a fortune without working for it or without contributing anything to the world in return for it. They would be wreckers pure and simple. They would become vampires upon the social organism, sucking out the life's blood of others, as the Australian bats fasten themselves upon the backs of the horses, cattle and sheep until they have drained their fill, or as the European cuckoo lays her eggs in the nests of other birds, or like a parasitical plant, which absorbs the nourishment of other plants. They would drink, yet never themselves become fountains of water at whose sparkling springs others might quench their parching thirst.

Worshippers of a Blind Goddess. In every age there have been thousands upon thousands of devotees at Fortuna's shrine. They are blind worshippers of a blind goddess. The ancient Romans showed their wisdom in picturing her with eyes shut and large wings on her feet. She sees nothing of the sacrifices of her worshippers, and she cares nothing for the heartbreak of those who have given her their all. She cares not whose fortune she snatches away. When she gathers up the gold in her arms those wings on her feet can make her and her treasured burden disappear as quickly as a roulette wheel can whirl, as quickly as a man's deed for his house can change hands at the turning of a card, as quickly as a race horse can travel about the track of a derby. The goddess of chance can fly away so quickly that in an instant a man can be ruined for time and for eternity.

My theme is defiant gambling. Defiant, yes! The gambler defies God and in utter recklessness stakes his fortune in this world and his hopes of the next. This accused evil is a violation of God's laws as well as man's. It is because when the winnings and losses of a gambler's lifetime are balanced it will inevitably be found that the demon Fortuna has robbed her victim both of his soul and his pocketbook. The smile of this evil genius is more to be dreaded than her frown. The smile allures, but it hides the scowl which might warn the devotee of the ruthlessness with which she intends completely and eternally to destroy him. The hangman's snivels neither did the pope's grip less fatal; neither did the politician's executioner welcome Louis XVI. to the guillotine blunt the keen edge of the descending knife.

Gambling is robbery. It takes wealth and gives nothing in return. It puts not one copper into the world's treasury, but plants no seed. It digs no gold from the sheep's back. It builds no goods, and it returns no finished products. It does nothing for national or social development. It had no more to do with the marvelous development of the twentieth century than the vast riches of the piratical buccaners of old had to do with creating the wealth of the fourteenth and the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Its mission is always ruinous. Ever does it raise a black flag of death and never the white flag which should always be carried by the "heroes of peace."

Gambling cannot even lay claim to the indirect advantages which a legitimate business provides for the community. Every legitimate business is a benefit to mankind. When a man lifts off Commodore Vanderbilt started out not even his most intimate friends could charge him with being an intentional philanthropist. Any one who had any financial dealings with old Commodore always knew that he was looking out first and last for himself, and for himself alone. But when Cornelius Vanderbilt in the legitimate role of railroad developer served himself he was also serving mankind. His railroads gave employment to thousands and tens of thousands of men and supported those men's families. His sea roads developed whole regions in the west which would never have been opened up by any other pioneer than the Cyclopean eye of the locomotive's head.

Why Flipping Cards Are Tabooed. I charge upon this gambling mania a direct robbery of the Christian world in that by besetting legitimate recreations with its foul touch it has made it impossible for decent men to enjoy certain healthful recreations. It is gradually stealing from us the privilege of enjoying outdoor sports and indoor games by identifying them with betting and speculation. Whenever the leprous hand of the gambler is placed upon a game that sport must be forever eschewed by the good and the pure.

On account of the gambler the Christian church has been compelled to send forth its edict of excommunication upon the deck of cards. It is compelled to declare that every one of the kings and queens and jacks of spades and diamonds and clubs and hearts is a knave because cards have become publicly recognized as the gambler's tools, as the trowel is the mason's tool. All consecrated Christian people should look upon a pack of cards as did John Philip Quin, the reformed gambler, when in public meeting he once said, "And now, after all the years of experience and acquaintance with all the professional gamblers in this country, I can truly say the parlor card table is the kindergarten of the gambler's hell." On account of the gambler's baneful touch the angel of wrath and denunciation, who stood with drawn sword at the Edenic paradise, is standing today at the entrance of every public race track saying to all good people, "Thou shalt not enter here." Talk to me about the development of the horse at the race track! Every man of any intelligence knows that the race track today is chiefly run for the benefit of the gamblers. Without the damnable influence of the bookmakers the race horse would not attract enough people today as a money investment to pay for his oats and his blankets. On account of the gambling evil even the bowling alley today, the public billiard table, the yachtman's white sail and college athletics are under condemnation in view of the immense amount of money which changes hands at every football game. It is very grave question whether it would not be better for the different college faculties to cast their influence against every sport which would take students away from the home campus.

In reference to the evil influence of gambling upon outdoor sports and indoor games Isaac Disraeli, the father of the great British premier, once wrote, "Gamster and cheat were synonymous terms in the time of Shakespeare and Johnson, and they have hardly lost much of their double significance in the present day." As soon as the gambler's genius hovers over a game, that moment the sport is inevitably accused.

Now, my friends, I protest against this all pervading gambling infamy. I protest because it is so respectably and so honorably participated in some of these outdoor sports which are essential for mental and physical relaxation. I protest against this gambling infamy degrading the football field and the baseball diamond because there is nothing wrong in such games in themselves, but only as the gambler's evil genius has made them wrong. I protest, as Robert E. Spear, the Princeton athlete, protested in his "Frank Talk About Gambling and Betting." "It is the contention," he wrote, "that betting money is sportsmanlike. The very reverse is true. It is that intrusion of professionalism into college sports. When men stake money they are willing to do dishonorable things to shape the result so that they will win. The introduction of money is fatal. Betting is the deadly foe of true sport."

If you have any doubt about the truth of this sweeping statement you can easily verify it by going to some college town after any great athletic contest. The inebriety you will witness on its streets is disgusting.

But there is another reason why I denounce defiant gambling. This evil mania leads its victims to squander other people's money as well as their own. Now, I am alluding to the poor, half crazed clerk who will steal from his employer in order to bet on the races. I am not alluding to the poor servant girl who opens her mistress' pocketbook in order to take out a fifty cent piece to squander it in a polly shop, or to the bank president who, as trustee of an estate, criminally sinks in wild speculations the money entrusted to his care. They are criminals, and they know it. But I am alluding to those who think they are waging only that money which is theirs by right.

Young man, you say that you own your own money and have the right to do with it as you will. No, you have not. Where did you get that money? "Oh," you say, "father left it to me in his will." For what did he leave it to you? Did he not leave it to you in order that you with it could continue to spread abroad his Christian influence? Money is a representative word. Money translated into the ordinary language of life is a thing of blood and sweat and exhausted energy. Money! Why, that represents the woman scrubbing at the tub and the bookkeeper compiling his figures and the nurse pouring out the medicines and the carpenter building houses and the florist for the sick and the gospel for the ignorant and the depraved. Do you mean to tell me, O man, that at the gambling table you have a right to squander your mother's and father's substance like that? And yet you go into any one of the postgraduate schools and colleges today and you will find young men at the gambling table not more surely destroying themselves than squandering the money that was won by the self denying sacrifices of parental lives.

"But," some one else says, "the money I have is mine. Why? I did not inherit it or have it given to me. I made it. Therefore I have a right to do with it as I please." Oh, no, my brother, you have it not. That money which you made is not yours. It belongs to your children. When your little children came into the world they brought to you certain moral obligations. You had no right to become a father unless you were ready to be the best of your ability to look after your babies. That money which you squander at the gambling table means more than money. It means your children's clothes, your children's schooling, your children's proper start in life. Dr. Nett, I believe it was, who said, "A gambler's heart after awhile will become so dead to all love that if necessary he will be willing to gamble upon his own mother's coffin lid." You say that is a monstrous statement. I say it is not. He may not do that, but the gambler will do worse. He will destroy his children.

When old Cornelius Vanderbilt made millions of dollars for himself he also made millions for his employees and hundreds of millions for his country. But what increase of capital did the world receive when, in 1861, a man of the name of Garcia at the Homburg gambling resort won in one night 1,750,000 francs, or when, about the same time, in Wiesbaden, Germany, a Frenchman lost 8,000,000 francs, or when, a few years ago, Khalil Bey lost at the gaming table $2,000,000 which he had inherited from his father, or when the niece of Cardinal Mazarin won in a single sitting from the Duchess of Portsmouth $40,000 or Lady Castlemaigne of Charles II.'s court lost in one night over $125,000? Did all these transactions increase the world's wealth to the value of the lost or the won? Did they help in one instance to feed the hungry or give employment to the poor?

Wall Street Evils. When, under the evil manipulations of the Wall street gamblers, the railroad stock of a large corporation is "watered" and its price made to jump up and fall as the thermometer's quicksilver drops at the touch of the October silver, and thousands upon thousands of small gamblers who have bought their railroad stock upon "margins" and not as a true investment are frozen out, does such Wall street gambling build one freight car or span one river with a new bridge or crew one new depot or upholster one Pullman sleeper? The Puritans used to call a pack of cards the "devil's prayer book." Did you ever hear of the "devil's prayer book" teaching the gambler how he should be a producer and not a destroyer? No, my friends, no, no. Anything but that. The gambling habit never created one farthing for the welfare of any community.

Thus, my brother, I congratulate you if you have never been a gambler or in league with gamblers. I congratulate you if you are one of those men unwilling to be a parasite, a vampire or absorbent of other men's industries. I congratulate you, even though you may never have annulled the illegitimate fortune of a Baron Blane, whose international gambling crimes have created a Monte Carlo or of a Benazet or a Devaux, who used to run the gambling casinos of a Spa, an Aix-la-Chapelle or a Baden-Baden before the German parliament in 1872 bade them begone, or the illegitimate fortunes of the evil owners of a Louisiana lottery, who, year after year flagrantly bribed a state legislature until at last the outraged Christian people of that Commonwealth, with the aid of the United States postmaster general, rose in their might and destroyed this accursed and debauching infamy. Never have any dealings in any way with defiant gambling.

The gambling passion not only robs men of their fortunes, but demoralizes their minds. It unfits its victims for the common duties of ordinary life. It overstimulates the brain and the imagination until after awhile work—honest, hard, practical work—has for the gambler's diseased mind the same kind of repulsion that a glass of rich dairy milk has for the inflamed throat of a chronic drunkard or the sight of a clear, cool stream of water for the bloodshot eye of a mad dog whose tongue and mouth are covered with the white foam of fatal hydrophobia.

A Voluntary Slave. The healthful desire for work and the gambler's passion do not nest in the same heart. They belong not to the same brood of children. They are never nourished by the same mother. When the young man fresh from a Christian home first hears the rattle of a dice box and is led into the sanctum sanctorum of the lowest gambling resort, his noblest sensibilities are intensely shocked. But as his astonished eyes see great piles of coin and greenbacks being passed across the table after awhile fascination drives away fear. Then the warnings and restraints of a rebuking conscience are shaken off with such questions as these: "What is the use of my working hard every day of the week except Sunday and only receiving $6 or $10 on pay night when I might earn ten times that sum in a quiet game? Why should I be carrying bundles and being ordered about by the heads of the different business departments when by getting sure tips I can live a life of fun and excitement at the races? What is the use of my being a white slave when I can win my financial emancipation by a little intelligent investment in lottery or policy? I might draw there a lucky prize and live on Easy street the rest of my life. Somebody must win every time. Why cannot I be that somebody?" So the gambler's cupidity begins to work. The young man's brain becomes befuddled. He shirks his daily tasks. As a poor, diseased, mental incompetent who is striving to solve the impossible mathematical problem of perpetual motion he tries to work out a system of "how to break the bank." He studies "chance books." He hunts up his guiding star or the star which shone brightest on the night upon which he was born. Then at last with a consuming greed, gone and blinded to all the duties of ordinary life, the crazed enthusiast will haunt the gaming table as he once gladly sought his study desk or the store room counter.

Young men, I solemnly appeal to you. Some of you have already heard the sound of the clicking roulette wheel. Are you going to throw your life away at the altar of chance? Are you going to unfit yourselves for the duties of life by the gambler's craze? I assure you that without bravely and faithfully fulfilling the ordinary daily tasks you will never succeed in anything. The evil demon called Fortuna will beggar you and enslave you. If you frequent her shrine you will sacrifice your liberty as surely as did that free negro upon the Mississippi steamer before the war. He had squandered his money and then he had placed his "papers of freedom" upon the center of the table and gambled his black skin back into the Alabama cotton fields and into the Louisiana rice swamps.

Why Flipping Cards Are Tabooed. I charge upon this gambling mania a direct robbery of the Christian world in that by besetting legitimate recreations with its foul touch it has made it impossible for decent men to enjoy certain healthful recreations. It is gradually stealing from us the privilege of enjoying outdoor sports and indoor games by identifying them with betting and speculation. Whenever the leprous hand of the gambler is placed upon a game that sport must be forever eschewed by the good and the pure.

On account of the gambler the Christian church has been compelled to send forth its edict of excommunication upon the deck of cards. It is compelled to declare that every one of the kings and queens and jacks of spades and diamonds and clubs and hearts is a knave because cards have become publicly recognized as the gambler's tools, as the trowel is the mason's tool. All consecrated Christian people should look upon a pack of cards as did John Philip Quin, the reformed gambler, when in public meeting he once said, "And now, after all the years of experience and acquaintance with all the professional gamblers in this country, I can truly say the parlor card table is the kindergarten of the gambler's hell." On account of the gambler's baneful touch the angel of wrath and denunciation, who stood with drawn sword at the Edenic paradise, is standing today at the entrance of every public race track saying to all good people, "Thou shalt not enter here." Talk to me about the development of the horse at the race track! Every man of any intelligence knows that the race track today is chiefly run for the benefit of the gamblers. Without the damnable influence of the bookmakers the race horse would not attract enough people today as a money investment to pay for his oats and his blankets. On account of the gambling evil even the bowling alley today, the public billiard table, the yachtman's white sail and college athletics are under condemnation in view of the immense amount of money which changes hands at every football game. It is very grave question whether it would not be better for the different college faculties to cast their influence against every sport which would take students away from the home campus.

In reference to the evil influence of gambling upon outdoor sports and indoor games Isaac Disraeli, the father of the great British premier, once wrote, "Gamster and cheat were synonymous terms in the time of Shakespeare and Johnson, and they have hardly lost much of their double significance in the present day." As soon as the gambler's genius hovers over a game, that moment the sport is inevitably accused.

Now, my friends, I protest against this all pervading gambling infamy. I protest because it is so respectably and so honorably participated in some of these outdoor sports which are essential for mental and physical relaxation. I protest against this gambling infamy degrading the football field and the baseball diamond because there is nothing wrong in such games in themselves, but only as the gambler's evil genius has made them wrong. I protest, as Robert E. Spear, the Princeton athlete, protested in his "Frank Talk About Gambling and Betting." "It is the contention," he wrote, "that betting money is sportsmanlike. The very reverse is true. It is that intrusion of professionalism into college sports. When men stake money they are willing to do dishonorable things to shape the result so that they will win. The introduction of money is fatal. Betting is the deadly foe of true sport."

It would be infinitely more humane for me to gamble upon my mother's coffin lid than to gamble away my children's education and opportunities. The cold lips of my dead mother could not rebuke me, while the cracked, blistering tongue of the outraged and dishonored and disgraced child of a heartless gambler might curse my soul into the black pit of eternal woe.

A Rule With No Exceptions.

"But," says some one again, "it is not certain that I should lose. If I win at the gambling table I am guilty of the wrongs against parents and children that you are denouncing." Well, my brother, with a gambling tendency you have no right to suppose any such case. All gamblers—all I say! Yes, practically all—ultimately lose every cent they ever win at Fortuna's altar. There are practically no exceptions to this rule. Fortuna's temple was built for the goddess of chance, but in gambling there is no chance; the devotee practically loses all. If this statement is not true how can you account for the fact that every year the annual expenditures to run Monte Carlo are $5,000,000 and yet each year the shareholders of that evil resort divide nearly $3,000,000 profits? If this statement is not true how can you account for the fact that the Louisiana lottery was able to expend millions upon millions of dollars every year for corruption and bribery and "public improvements" and taxes and yet was able to make its owners millions many times over? If this is not true how can the great gambling establishments of the large cities pay to the police departments thousands upon thousands of dollars as a sop for them to keep their hands off, for no gambling den is ever run in a large city without the connivance of the police, and also to furnish their patrons course dinners, with wine, all free of charge, and yet make hundreds of thousands of dollars besides? Over every gambling den of the world you can write the words, "Only the deluded enter here." Over every gambling table you can read the trembling hands of dying men lifted not to take money, but ultimately to leave their all.

All "systems" which have ever been devised to break the "bank of chance" are failures, and they are always sure to be failures. In a Chinese temple I have seen the poor invalids before a hideous idol of wood make a prayer to their "god of health" and then select at random an arrow out of a wampun, with a certain medicine marked upon it, and expect that that medicine would cure them of their disease. So I have seen poor dupes in Monte Carlo in the month of March trying to work out a "system" by which the god of chance would give to them unlimited wealth. As all such "systems" are failures and will always be failures I would today give you a "system" which, if worked out, will bring a competency and eternal happiness, if not unlimited good. This is my system: Never in your life try to possess a dollar unless you are ready to give an equivalent in labor and sweat and toll. Never spend a dollar unless you have first earned it and have it in your possession. Never run into debt. Never bet or speculate or by progressive euchre party or by "prizes" at church fair or by "raffle" countenance in any way the development of the gambling spirit in others. Draw heavily from one bank only, and that the great bank of divine grace. Circulate in every way its bank notes of kindness and forgiveness and sympathy. Let your one great purpose be not "how can I make others serve me," but "how can I serve others." Let your faith, hope and peace be centered in Christ the Saviour of men and make him the Guide and King of your life. Such a "system" as I have marked out is a sure system. It is Christ's system. It will never bankrupt you this side of the grave except of your sinful meanness. And it is sure to bring you perfect peace beyond the grave and give to you all the limitless wealth of the treasure city of God. "In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat bread."

Severe Nervous Trouble and Dyspepsia.

No Sleep for Weeks Because of Pain.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Gave Back My Health.

Dyspepsia nearly always arises from a derangement of the nerves. When the stomach is not well the entire system suffers. Constipation, bad breath, sour stomach, frequent headaches, biliousness, etc., will lead to terrible consequences if not treated in time. Dr. Miles' Nerve is a specific for nervous dyspepsia and all nervous diseases. "My health was miserable for years, due to severe nervous trouble and dyspepsia. I had not been able to sleep for weeks at a time without being awakened with pains in my chest and stomach. My limbs felt heavy and I was unable to do my house work without feeling completely worn out. The doctors failed to relieve me, and after taking an endless amount of their medicines I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills. I obtained relief from the first bottle of Nerve, was able to sleep better than I had in years. My stomach began to gain strength and I felt better in many ways. I have taken twelve bottles of Nerve and Liver Pills in the past three years but have not taken any of late as I have not felt the need of it. I go about my work an entirely different woman and have recommended them to every one I know. I am a great believer in Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. I have them on hand all the time. I feel very grateful for the Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Liver Pills. All druggists sell and guarantee first both the Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Liver Pills on Nervous and Heart Diseases. PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Roman Catholic hierarchy, with no Martin Luther to blaze the way for us. They believe in the separation of national, State and county politics, and relegate party questions to national concern; that there is no analogy between warfare and politics, because the same end is sought by different means. They hold the individual responsible by voting him out if necessary, so that he can't hide behind the party. They say party loyalty is frequently a name for personal ends. They say, in effect, it's not whether a man is Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian or Episcopalian, but whether he is a Christian, and that you had better be a traitor to the party than a traitor to the State.

Now, we have nothing to do with all this, nor was it necessary to go into the differences of opinion except so far as it illustrates the subject. The question would seem to be entirely one of motive. Does not our definition demand single-hearted devotion to public duty? If a man changes his party affiliations for the sake of office, is he not guilty of bribery? If he refuses to act with his party because it is in the minority, is he not guilty of bribery? If he refuses to act with his party for any personal reasons whatever, is he not guilty of bribery? The definition demands, we see, "Thou shalt have none other gods before me," and that the public good.

On the other hand, according to the principles laid down, if a man allows his party allegiance to conflict with his civic duty, is he not guilty of bribery? If a man believes his party has changed its principles, or adopted tenets contrary to its history and traditions, inimical to the best interests of his country, is he not bribed if he acts with it?

On the other hand, party principles remaining entire, and men in whom the people have no confidence are selected to carry those principles into execution, is he not guilty of bribery if he supports them? What is the good of the cart without the horse? he asks. If he believes the party is not performing what was originally intended for it, and that it ceases to give expression to patriotic views, and becomes a mere vehicle for selfish men to ride into office, does not adherence mean bribery? The true test would seem to be one of motive or sacrifice. May it not be said party loyalty is a shining principle if one makes a sacrifice for it? If a man is not willing to suffer at least some inconvenience for a principle, where is the principle? Party loyalty—a truly grand and noble principle when it means fidelity to a cause through adversity or prosperity! Nobody can say Mr. Bryan has made anything personally by adhering to the Chicago platform. Is there anything said which the definition does not warrant? Are there any individual applications? An office-seeker says: "If you will support me for this office, I will help you to a place." Compare it with the rule laid down, no matter how apparently visionary. Is not the man bribed if he accepts the offer and works for that motive? and the other, too? A common instance of practical politics. No great harm, but is it fair, to put everything on the man who accepts the cash, and the office-seeker go Scott free?

If a politician tries to impose upon the community a candidate to whom he owes some personal favor, does he not sell out the State's interest for his own? Whatever may be our view of the practicability of these things, does it come in the rule laid down? Nothing but the public good is demanded by the rule. If a man in office builds his whole political fortune by patronage and appointments with a selfish object in view, does he not sell out the State's interest? Truly, who shall escape under the compelling influence of the rule? If a man begins his political career by bragging on everybody in office or out of office, no criticisms for anybody or anything,—a very amiable quality if sincere,—but if entirely at variance to what he really believes, is it not a deliberate barter of his sincerity for the purpose of self-advancement? What is it but a sale? It may be said it cannot be surprising if he should develop the qualities he condones in others. Does this infringe the rule?

Again a man deliberately advocates on the stump for the purpose of party and self, and knowingly misleads ignorant auditors in the advocacy of measures of men of which he would be ashamed elsewhere. Suppose he plays upon their prejudices and ignorance, and does not scruple to follow any whim or caprice so long as it is popular without regard to his own convictions. Does he not betray the government he pretends to uphold? If this is so how all pervading the subject is!

Again suppose a man should think himself reasonably patriotic—tries to understand his government, and his relations to it, has an abiding concern for his party, and would defy any man to take a deeper interest. How does his activity compare with those least interested in public questions? Of course party activity based entirely on reward comes in the category laid down. We can't help the Rule. The dividing line of cleavage laid down in the foundation principle compels the two views of civic duty. It inexorably puts on the one hand the single devotion to the State and on the other personal self advancement. If the first of these views is the correct one then it follows that any other motive than the public good which influences a man's political conduct is a sale of principle and the man consequently participates criminally in the act of bribery. If this is rather strong, who is to blame? All we are concerned in is to follow the subject. Now, a very few illustrations will suffice. Perhaps the above is sufficient.

Bribery looks like a confession of weakness. A party like individuals uses bribery of all kinds in proportion as it has nothing else to recommend it. It is not hard to believe that a man, modest, capable and patriotic in whom the people have implicit confidence would be turned down with all the spirits of the world infernal arrayed against him.

What is the reason of the general lack of sentiment against bribery? May it not be traced to this source. Is there not a feeling in the degraded man who sells that his offense differs only in degree from those above him? A common saying among them is, "It's all I get out of it." "You get the office." This may account for the apparent apathy in which the ordinary man views the offense.

He feels the truth of this. There is this much to be said in extenuation of the poor man who sells. He is usually poor. He very often could not be induced to vote but the one way and the money goes for flour and bacon for his wife and children.

A poor man who sells believes he is only imitating the politician, who works for office. Being ignorant he usually is not nice in his discriminations. He has the example before him continually of men changing their principles, or their party even, for office. He continually hears as the party slogan appeals to self interest. "If he votes so and so he will get so and so." Finally he hears of legislators selling out or voting for self interest and dubious fortunes made of corporations rampant and self interest, the predominant note of political life. He naturally thinks that the man or party who is mean enough to buy him would sell himself. Is it any wonder that he should lose confidence and regard the whole as pretence and sham. Is it remarkable he should take what he can get?

Surely nothing here said can be taken as an attempt to minimize the offense of buying and selling votes for more money. If there is any feasible and practicable way in which the same can be stopped, we should all be willing to join in an attempt to suppress it. In the meantime it is wrong to be impartial and direct our batteries against the strongholds! The more vulnerable points will then be seen to give way.

The true test as to whether a man is selling himself or not would seem to be this—would it make any difference in his political conduct or activity if there were no prospect of personal reward?

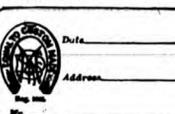

It would seem if the foregoing is correct bribery exist in proportion as self interest, (here used in the sense of special interest, as opposed to the community in general), composes the warp and woof of political life. Being of the same progeny, and brood it inherits the same disease. Whatever may be our temporary expedients, at any rate we may be sure of one thing. Bribery will cease with the exterminations of personal politics and the men bribetakers of money will cease to be when he sees those who he thinks are his superiors working disinterestedly for the public good.

A Good Business Proposition is something that everybody who looks out for their own interest will take time to consider. We have Several Good Business Propositions to make you, and Here's the Point

We do business on business principles. When we sell you a pair of shoes they are as good as can be manufactured for the money. People spend most of their time in their shoes, and this fact makes the quality of footwear a question of prime importance. Our proposition to you is to sell you good honest shoes at a price as low as is consistent with good values. We make this proposition to all prospective shoe buyers, fully believing that it is to your interest to do business with us. We have many advantages to offer you as a reason why you should do your shoe buying of us, the first of which is, we are exclusive Shoe dealers and also the largest buyers of Shoes on the Peninsula. We can offer you the largest and most complete stock to select from. We do not have to give you one size when your foot needs another. Our large stock enables us to carry all sizes and widths in stock. We take pains to see that every foot is properly fitted and also to select the proper kind of Shoe to meet the requirement for which it is intended. We have the exclusive sale in this city of all the best known and most popular makes of Shoes.

A person is often judged by the company they keep, so is a merchant by the merchandise he handles, and while we stand behind every pair of fair priced Shoes we sell, whether made under some pet name or not. To those who want special lines we can offer such well known ones as the following:

- FOR MEN: The Walk-Over, W. L. Douglas, Crossett's Long Life. FOR BOYS AND GIRLS: The Rice & Hutchins, Burley Stevens & Co., Excelsior. FOR LADIES: Queen Quality, Zeigler Bros., Cinderella, Allnut Moody, Drew, Selby & Co.

All of these are good ones in their class and have reputations established on merit, but the burden of our story is simply Shoes, and not the maker—trust us for that and we will always give you full value for your money or cheerfully refund you the same. Think over our proposition, come and see us and let us more fully explain and show you that we mean business and we feel sure that you will find that our interests are mutual. Yours for Shoes,

A NORTHERNER'S VIEWS

On the Race Question and Negro Suffrage.
Every White Man in Maryland Should Read, Think and Vote Pro Bono Publico Next Tuesday.

Mr. Chauncey F. Black, former Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania and lately president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, was at the Hotel Rennett in Baltimore Thursday, and in an interview published in yesterday's Sun talked strongly on the subject of the national election next year.

Can't Throw Roosevelt Over.

"There is no chance about Roosevelt's nomination. The republicans are in for it whether they like it or not. He cannot be overthrown without disruption and ruin to the party itself. He has, among other things, less important, so intimately identified himself with the question of negro equality that his defeat in convention would be taken as a deliberate cutting loose from and cold blooded marooning of the enormous, and in fact, controlling colored vote, and of such a course no man is wise enough to predict the result. Supposing that vote dead, hostile or evenly divided, what becomes of the republican party for national purposes? This vast negro vote is the cornerstone of Republican power. Upon it rests the whole superstructure of centralization, monopoly and class rule. In recognizing the black man for what he has actually been worth in practical Republican politics, not only at the polls, but in the national Republican conventions, the president has interpreted truly the spirit and principles of his party and reproduced its invariable history."

May Be Determining Issue.

"I fear it is coming," he said, "and is unavoidable. I say I fear it is coming, because no one of sound heart can welcome a race question of any kind in any land without dread of the evil consequences which generally attend them. But for those consequences they who force the issue must be responsible. I believe that the undercurrent of thought on this grave subject is far deeper and more intense at present in the popular mind of the North than in that of the South. The natural results of the regular and consistent policy of the Republican party as to the black race—first, enfranchising the blacks for party purposes alone; then literally incorporating them with the body of the party as an indivisible whole; then making them the pretext of all manner of oppressive legislation, threatening the freedom of elections and the liberties of the States, and now, after prostrating and despoiling the South in the reconstruction period, again, by renewed incitements encouraging negro ambition for public office, thereby disturbing the peace and comfort of whole communities, and colonizing them in the North under the patronage of monopolizing corporations

A FAMILY REMEDY.

Congressman H. Henry Powers, of Vermont, writes from Morrisville, Vt.:

HON. H. H. POWERS.

"Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."—H. Henry Powers.

John L. Burnett, Member of Congress, Seventh Alabama District, writes:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Peruna. As the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a good, substantial, tonic, and a very good catarrh remedy."

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh.

Half the ills of life are due to catarrh and catarrhal derangements. Peruna is the only internal, systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Insist upon having Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address: Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

where they are already in sufficient numbers, with their solid vote to hold the balance of power in favor of their political masters—the results of all this are now upon the country.

White men divide; black never. Negroes are all laborers. Yet half a century of teaching and reasoning has not sufficed to draw a perceptible percentage of their voters from the party of monopoly to aid the cause of common humanity. They are today, to all intents and purposes, the political slaves of their political masters, as once they were the domestic slaves of industrial masters.

Danger of Negro Equality.

"We are told by R. publican newspapers that we are in no danger of negro equality in States, as in Maryland, the whites outnumbering the blacks. In a sense, this is true, but in another sense it is a mere dodge. In such States this dense black mass, which never reasons, never thinks and knows nothing of important political questions, invariably casts its dead weight on the one side. The frightful horrors thus wrought in some of the Southern States and the manner in which the Republican party profited and sought to profit by that awful ruin is well known to intelligent people all over the Union. And now we begin to realize another and, to the people of the North, a more serious thing. This black vote has kept the Republican party in power continuously. It does so today. Subtract it and the party as a national concern is bankrupt. Instead of the innocent and helpless little groups of persecuted negroes struggling for existence in the States along the line, which the Republican press holds up to excite our compassion, they are enough to hold the whole string of deciding Middle States in a Presidential election and to keep the local Republican machines, allied with their ever faithful monopolies in power. Even in Pennsylvania the 75,000 negro voters, increasing annually by industrial colonization and party coddling, are more than enough to decide the fate of the State on anything like a fair vote.

Pressing the Issue.

"As before said, many Democrats and many thoughtful citizens besides fear that this race issue is about to be pushed on us in final form. They do not desire it; they dread and would evade it, if possible. But what are they to do? They must somewhere and some time make a stand in self-defense. The President and his party drive the issue. They grant us no respite. They press it at every turn. They never, by any accident, omit its most offensive presentation out of decent regard for the feelings of white people. The President's appointments in the South and the harassments of those communities which followed have deeply impressed the whole country; the significant series of criminal outbreaks this summer, whether justly or unjustly are widely charged up to those political and social encouragements, and a popular belief grows that while the blacks hold the balance of political power, making border States practically negro States, and the Federal Government so much a negro government that the Chief Magistrate feels it his duty to exercise, not only all the influence of his own high personal character, but all the power and prestige of his great office, in behalf of negro equality—social and political—we must expect more and worse.

Denounced As A Crime.

"The original wrong of the Republican party—composed of about two parts malice and greed, and one part honest negro fanaticism—putting the ballot into the hands of a servile horde of black men, but a single step removed from barbarism, and bidding them use it invariably against the white people, was, it is now confessed, a gigantic crime perpetrated in utter disregard of the true interests of both races. It was an outrage difficult to characterize in proper language. It has wrought evil to blacks and whites alike, and that continually. The consistent pursuit to this day of that original Republican policy of reliance upon the solid black mass, herding the whole race as a race, behind the party everywhere, North and South, trusting to it to carry deciding States in Presidential elections and to keep Republican local machines beyond the reach of intelligent white opinion, is plain and undeniable.

"But the special emphasis and importance now being given to it by the President and his administration, and the turbulence and crime which have naturally followed throughout the country under incitements thus afforded, raise the negro question into unusual prominence at this time, and the evident purpose of the President and the radical wing of his party, threatening the partisan enforcement of the amendments, to make it paramount in next year's elections, cannot be ignored. The issue so made must be met some time. Why not now as well as again?"

—Mr. and Mrs. Clayton J. Purnell have issued cards announcing the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss May Hubbell to Mr. Thomas Parker Wharton, Thursday morning, November the twelfth, 1903, at eleven o'clock, Makemie Memorial Presbyterian Church, Snow Hill, Md.

ON THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET THIS FALL

Sketch Of One Of The Candidates For Election, Now Before The Voters Of Wicomico County. Who The Democratic Party Has Chosen For Public Trust And Duty. A Touch Of Personal History.

MR. WILLIAM GILLIS,

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SHERIFF OF WICOMICO COUNTY.

is well qualified to be Sheriff, for he has plenty of grit, nerve and discretion, and the people will have reason to expect a high official service from him. He is a good business man and has a splendid public record. Mr. Gillis wanted the Sheriffalty two years ago and is now fully prepared to accept it at the polls next Tuesday. He is making an active canvass and his district may not alone feel the value of his presence on the ticket in added votes to the Democratic majority.

CAMPAIGN NOW CLOSING

Shows That The Democratic Candidates Have Kept Well In The Lead. Democratic Measures Are Popular With Large Majority Of White Voters.

Mr. Williams, the Republican candidate for Governor, has made two "breaks" in speeches that his more politic followers have been trying hard to cover up. One is the announcement in his speech of acceptance that "the negro vote has been a power for good in Maryland," and the other is the assertion that the men who are possessors of the civic spirit in Maryland have at the present time, more influence in the Republican than in the Democratic party.

Now suppose Mr. Williams were required to produce proof of his assertions what would he say? The basis and ground work of the R. publican party in Maryland is the negro vote—50,000 or more strong. How has this vote been a power for good in Maryland?

Unfortunately for Mr. Williams, a great many voters remember the "civic spirit" displayed by the Republicans when they were in control of the House of Delegates in 1896, and the whole Legislature in 1898. The Republican speakers are careful not to refer to the administration of Mayor Malster, when for two years negroes crowded the corridors of the City Hall as if they owned the building, ran a riotous and lawless course all over the City, and generally acted as if they owned the earth. It is a fact that the Baltimore negroes "get gay" as soon as they learn of the success of the Republican ticket, and are only held in check by Democratic success. For that reason alone the decent people of Baltimore are hoping for the success of the Democratic ticket this fall, and are looking to the counts to help them out. The voters of the City are thoroughly aroused to the importance of the campaign. They feel that the splendid campaign that Mr. Warfield and his colleagues are making should not be without avail, and if the many white men of the counties will do their share—a tremendous victory for Warfield, and the white man's rule will be scored next Tuesday.

Public Schools Discussed.

That Mr. Warfield is closely interested in the public schools of Maryland, is clearly evident from what he says on this subject:

"During my canvass for the nomination for Governor I said that I believed that the public school system should be kept free from political influences. Our schools are for the children of the whole people. I know their advantages. I was educated by them, and taught in them. I have always been a warm and earnest advocate of the public schools, and am familiar with the workings of the system, having taught under the first system adopted under the constitution of 1867.

"I have definite ideas on this subject, and it will be a source of pride to me if I can aid in bringing about improvements where they are needed in our public school system. The Democratic party, believing in minority representation in the school boards, passed in 1900 a law guaranteeing such minority representation on all county school boards. Such representation is a safeguard against improper or partisan actions by the boards, because it gives the opportunity for close scrutiny and of wide publicity in the proceedings of the respective county boards. During the last four years the schools have been well conducted, and the school funds have been honestly disbursed.

"If I am elected Governor and I believe I will be, I shall see that the school commissioners are men of the highest character, and whatever appointments I may make will be with a view of bringing about such a result. I will want men of ability, men interested in public education, and their political affiliations and activities shall not be a condition precedent to their appointment.

"Teaching should be recognized as an important and difficult profession like law, medicine, engineering or any other of the honorable professions. It needs special preparation, and teachers should be appointed solely with reference to their professional and moral qualifications.

"In order to encourage competent and intelligent persons to enter and remain in the ranks of the profession adequate salaries should be paid to teachers, not a remuneration—as in many cases—less than that paid to janitors and persons occupying such positions in the public service. The Legislature should fix a minimum salary for the teachers, to be paid as high as all the conditions of the problem will admit.

"Teaching being a profession, it is of the highest importance that the superintendents (now called examiners) should be professionally qualified. A school superintendent should be an experienced teacher and an educational expert. Experience in law, medicine or journalism does not insure the qualifications necessary for work of efficient teaching or supervising.

Favors Civil Service Rules.

"The last Legislature passed an admirable law for the protection of the teachers, which forbids a board of trustees to remove a teacher without specifying charges and permitting an appeal from this decision to the county school board. I believe that it would be well if the civil service rules were made to apply in the counties, as they now do in Baltimore city, so that a teacher could not be removed by any authority without charges laid and trial had. Superintendents (examiners) should have some protection of a similar character, and a change of state administration should have nothing whatever to do with changes among teachers or examiners.

"The present school law was adopted thirty five years ago, and the many amendments that have been made have caused the law to become obscure, misleading, and, in some cases, contradictory. There are many minor points that need attention, which can not be taken up very well by the Legislature. For this reason, the next Legislature should, immediately upon assembling, bring about these necessary reforms by authorizing the appointment of a commission of qualified persons, without regard to political affiliations, to immediately consider the changes necessary in the system and the laws, and report promptly to the Legislature, so that such action as seems proper shall be promptly taken. Such a committee could in less than ninety days, study the law in other States and the needs of this State, and could recommend such improvements as are needed to make our system a first class one and equal to the system of any other State in the Union.

"The pension law for the benefit of superannuated teachers should be continued in force and the necessary appropriations should be granted to make it effective. Every county should have a school term of not less than nine months.

"I give these as my views upon this important question, and believe that they will meet with the approval of all Marylanders who are interested in public education.

THE CITIZEN'S DUTY

As Presented By Rev. Dr. Reigart Last Sunday. Severe Arraignment Of Bribery, And Strong Plea To Work And Vote For The Public Good.

Sermon preached in the Wicomico Presbyterian Church, Sabbath evening, Oct. 25, 1903, at the request of the Anti-Bribery League of Salisbury, Md.

TEXT—Matt. xxii, 21: "Then saith He unto them, 'Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's.'"

This is one of the most notable (if we dare make the comparison) of the sayings of our Lord. Like many other noted utterances of His, we owe it to a verbal controversy with His foes in which, with malvolent intent, they sought to bring Him into conflict with the civil authorities, and thus cause His arrest and condemnation. Our Saviour, with common sense wisdom, frustrated their design and exposed their hypocrisy. He was not to be entrapped into playing the role of a mere political reformer or revolutionist. The kingdom He came to set up was a spiritual kingdom—a kingdom in and over the hearts of men, and the methods by which it is to be advanced are moral and spiritual. Christianity is, indeed, a great reforming agency,—the most powerful in the world,—but it acts not outwardly, through compulsory law, but inwardly, through righteous principles. It does not concern itself with the fact that the government is a monarchy or a republic. It may be oppressive and even unjust; the religion of Jesus Christ does not encourage its subjects to resist the payment of taxes or refuse to perform their civic duties.

The State and Church.

I. The province of the State is distinct from the province of the Church. Yet Church and State are not antagonistic to each other; they are allies. The State protects the Church in the exercise of her functions of teaching and preaching the Gospel, and the Church instructs the citizens and rulers in their mutual duties, and offers prayer to God for His blessing upon the nation and those who bear authority over it. The only influence the Church can bring to bear upon the State is moral and spiritual. No minister of the Gospel can take advantage of his official position to influence political action, but it is his bounden duty to exhort his people to act as good citizens, as it is to exhort them to act as good fathers, sons or neighbors. Surely a minister can enforce the command of Christ, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's," without being accused of preaching politics. Now, Caesar, or the Roman Emperor, embodied in himself the authority of the State. Translating this precept of Christ into modern language, it would read, "Render to the State the things which belong to the State," or, more briefly, "Do your duty to your country." In the Roman world the duties of citizenship were limited to paying the taxes and obeying the laws. The selection of their rulers or the framing of the laws by which they were governed. Caesar was the State. Caesar's will was the law. With us it is different. We are the State. I am Caesar; you are Caesar. The powers that be are not only ordained by God; they are also chosen by the people. The voice of the people is (in a sense) the voice of God. Every man who votes exercises a sovereign act. He is superior to the law-making power—superior to the legislative, the judicial, the executive authority; superior to Congress, to the Governor, the President; for these are all of his making. Tremendous responsibility! Ours is a government of which Caesar never dreamed—a government not by emperors or armies, but a privileged class of men, but a government "of the people, by the people, for the people." Oh, but you say, "That is only theoretically true. Practically we are governed by bosses, by rings, by political machines." Well, if we are thus governed, it is because we are content to be. If corrupt and unscrupulous men arise to power and hold the reins of government, it is either because they form the majority of the community, or because good citizens are apathetic to political matters and are satisfied with the rule of the baser sort. We cannot throw the blame of a tyrannous or corrupt government upon a Nero or a Caligula, as the Roman citizen could do, and wash our hands of responsibility. We raise our Nero or Caligula to power and must bear the blame of an unwise or dishonest administration. When, therefore, I exhort you, in the name of Christ, to render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, I simply exhort you to be true to yourselves—to play the monarch in your capacity as citizens, to act as good law-makers and king-makers should act, realizing your responsibility to God in the government of this nation.

SHYLOCK

Shylock was the man who wanted a pound of human flesh. There are many Shylocks now, the convalescent, the consumptive, the sickly child, the pale young woman, all want human flesh and they can get it—take Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion is flesh and blood, bone and muscle. It feeds the nerves, strengthens the digestive organs and they feed the whole body.

For nearly thirty years Scott's Emulsion has been the great giver of human flesh.

We will send you a couple of ounces free.

THE ANTI-BRIBERY LEAGUE.

Editors of Advertiser.—Your readers have seen that by the Constitution and the Statute, the mere offer of anything at any time, to induce a person to vote or not to vote, constitutes the crime of bribery, and how dangerous it is and degrading the penalty. Now let them answer a few questions:

1. Is not organized bribery organized crime?
2. Is not the political party engaged in organized bribery guilty of organized lawlessness?
3. Can a political party or its candidates engaged in this crime expect to retain the confidence of the people?

Lawbreakers are first cautious, then careless, then reckless, then lawless. Some "hoodlums" in this county are taking all these degrees in rapid succession.

If there are those who think that conviction for bribery in Wicomico County is among the impossibilities, let them remember the "hoodlum" Aldermen of St. Louis and the "hoodlum" members of the Missouri Legislature.

Let them remember the recent convictions for bribery in Philadelphia of the four school trustees for bribing the poor school teachers.

Let them remember the recent indictments at political headquarters in Washington of a little army of twenty hoodlums in the Post Office Department—among them an ex Postmaster General, an ex Judge, and others high in authority, with a "pull" thought to be invincible.

The mills of the people, like "the mills of the Gods, grind slow, but they grind exceeding fine."

The party and the candidate that serves the people first and the politician last, will last longest.

BERLIN.

—James Massey, Jr., is now acting as fireman on the Queen Anne railroad.

—Rev. Mr. Hardesty is this week holding protracted meetings in Synepuxent Church.

—Mr. W. Lee Carey, accompanied by his wife, is in Berlin, where they will remain until after the election.

—Mrs. Frederick Rydings, after a two weeks' stay in Philadelphia and Wilmington, returned Saturday night.

—Mr. Henry Tingle, we are delighted to learn is much improved in health and much more comfortable.

—Mr. E. G. Kenly entertained two of his gentlemen friends last Sunday at Malvern.

—Mr. William Hastings has a very sick horse, with but little hope of its recovery.

—Mr. Jack Baker, of Eagles Nest, on the Bay, we are glad to say is a more frequent and always a welcome visitor.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hastings has been blessed by the arrival of a fine little girl. May she live long and prosper.

—Mr. Zadok P. Henry was called to Princess Anne last week as a witness in the Adial Barnes case. Mr. Henry accompanied him, visiting relations.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dirickson, Jr., attended the Burrell-Fields wedding, on Chincoteague Island, Wednesday morning.

Miss Meta Kenly, Miss Cecil Kenly, and Mr. Edward Henry were entertained at Buckland the home of Mr. John Selby Purnell.

—Miss Edith Gum, of Showells, accompanied by her friend, Miss Sallie McNeal, of Bishopville, honored Berlin and friends with a visit last Saturday.

—Mr. Wm. C. Franklin will make his usual autumnal trip and visit to the family Friday, remaining until after the election.

—Mr. Jones Workman and wife are home for an unlimited stay, the factory at Aberdeen, Md., where he was employed, having for the present closed its doors.

—It gave Mr. Wm. J. Pitts pleasure to entertain his old Berlin friends in Snow Hill during their stay and after the speaking; the lumber trade during that time being an after consideration.

—Mrs. George Workman has built and just completed a new building next her dwelling and has opened up a grocery store. Any patronage will be appreciated.

—Mrs. George Cropper, formerly of Ocean City, has recently come to Berlin and will make her home in the future with her sister, Mrs. James Nock, on William street.

—Mr. Stein Workman, after a most enjoyable trip to Baltimore, Aberdeen and Havre De Grace made a safe return to home and business Saturday night.

—Mr. Grandison Keas was taken to the Salisbury Hospital Tuesday and hopes to have an operation performed that will prove successful. Mr. Keas fears a cancerous affection.

—At the Heights the commodious and lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Buffington, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Godfrey and Miss Jennie Godfrey last Sunday were most hospitably entertained and had a charming visit.

—Miss Minnie Coffin, of Taylorville, and Mr. Thomas Walston, of Campbell's were united in marriage last Wednesday evening at the parsonage, by the Rev. Mr. Brooks. The bride and groom will make their home in Campbell's.

—Mr. Wilmer S. Purnell and Miss Mary Morris spent a lucrative day at Gray's inlet last Friday, crating nearly a hundred "Black Williams" a delicious morsel in the fall of the year. They boarded their yacht at Mitchell's landing.

—Mr. John Farlow, our closely confined druggist dropped his pill boxes Thursday, and with his wife, spent the day in both Parsonsburg and Salisbury. Mr. Farlow made his return the same night greatly refreshed and looking much handsomer.

—Mr. Edward Hughlett, a resident of Baltimore dropped down on us Saturday night late and was a guest of his sister, Mrs. William J. Pitts until Monday. Ned always seems to enjoy and appreciate his trips to our city, and the boys are always glad to see him.

—The Presbyterian congregation had the pleasure of hearing two of the finest sermons that have ever been preached in the church, last Sunday, October 25th. The one in the morning being an annual sermon taken from First Daniel, second chapter and twenty-third verse. The one at night First Corinthians, seventh chapter and thirty-first verse.

—Capt. Christopher Ludlam, the new Mayor of Ocean City, visited our town Monday. He reports the new inlet recently cut two and one half miles below Ocean City no good and virtually closed. It would have been worth untold thousands of money if it could have been kept open.

—Numerous of our enthused sympathizers visited Snow Hill and were much in evidence at the Democratic Rally last Tuesday. The lack of a special train to make a return trip the same day caused many to remain at home, much to their regret.

—Mrs. Sarah Bixbie Martin, widow of former Mayor Thomas E. Martin, of Annapolis, died suddenly Thursday morning, Oct. 29, of heart failure, aged 78 years. She was apparently at the best of health and spirits until the collapse came. She was born at Augusta, Maine, and was an artist and literary woman. She leaves two children, Mr. Robert Martin and Mrs. Edward Robb, of Annapolis.

With the deepest regret that we are compelled to announce this week the departure of our old companion and friend, Mr. William M. Purnell who, at the age of 58, passed peacefully and quietly away last Sunday afternoon and was laid to rest in the old Buckingham Cemetery Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Bancroft officiating. Mr. Purnell had spent most of his life on the old homestead in Queponco, where he successfully cultivated and raised nearly everything that was conducive to our earthly comfort and stood noted both far and near for his generous and lavish hospitality. He leaves a widow and four daughters, married and most comfortably provided for, to mourn his absence. Each and all of them have our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

The Democratic rally last Tuesday in Snow Hill was a complete success. There was an outpouring from each end of the county, and upon the arrival of the 1 o'clock train the town was full to overflowing. The band gathered the multitude together, and when the speakers were introduced the court house was jammed and aisles crowded. Senator Moore opened the meeting and by acclamations gracefully placed Mr. Francis H. Dryden, of Pocomoke, in the chair. Our present Governor made a speech fully worthy of himself, and it was a pleasure for a Democrat to listen to the placing of himself on record as to the truthfulness of his state ments. His old associates and many friends felt that they had cause to be more than proud of their representative. The ladies were there in full force and did not hesitate to show their approbation and appreciation. Mr. Edwin Warfield, our present candidate for Governor, was the next to follow, and it was very soon perceptible that the entire audience were paying the strictest attention and fully appreciating what he was telling them. It was a very grave question with the ladies, which of the two, Smith or Warfield, was the handsomer. Dr. Gordon Atkinson made a few remarks, also Mr. Bryan, who in his humorous address wound up the speaking.

The afternoon's entertainment was interspersed with several very appropriate songs by Mr. McNulty, one of Baltimore's classic musicians, which were enjoyed and applauded to the echo.

Many of us were compelled to spend the night, which gave the citizens an opportunity to do the right thing—and am free to confess there was no lack of true, genuine, old-fashioned hospitality, and most of us made our return on the noon train Wednesday, feeling fully repaid, and promising the ticket a full support and a majority large enough to make white man's supremacy safe and sure.

Colonial Bazaar.

The Ladies of St. Paul's, Berlin, have decided to hold a colonial bazaar early in December, and are planning the work to secure a success. A part of the scheme is to have a remembrance table, upon which will be displayed gifts of those interested in the parish, no matter where residing. Any gift coming in this manner will be thoroughly appreciated, and given its place in the collection of articles for sale.

It is reported that during the recent storm an inlet was cut in the beach about two miles below Ocean City and about 200 yards wide and quite deep. If this opening can be preserved it is said that it would mean thousands of dollars to Worcester county system.

VOTE FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

In many respects the political contest now being finished has been an exceptional one, remarkable in the lack of live issues embodying logical reasons on the Republican side, and stirring in the importance of a vital necessity on the Democratic side. The election law and proposed change which would make it easier for the illiterate man to cast an illiterate vote has constituted the burden of the Republican war cry.

On the other hand the Democratic candidates have been able to go before the people with a public record in the administration of State affairs under Gov. Smith, that probably stands without a superior in the people's interest, brought about by the election of candidates on the intelligence ticket. All departments of Maryland's government have been administered with unusual ability and wisdom and the peace and good order of the state prevailed.

We hear the Republicans futilely endeavoring to scout the negro, question, but unfortunately for all concerned it cannot be. Just so long as black is black and white is white, will there be a difference, and his presence in the political arena be a menace to that advancement in civilization which is the birthright of the white race. We appeal—not from prejudice, for we have the kindest feelings for the colored people in their sphere—to the white men of Wicomico county and throughout the State to vote for their color's candidates and help to maintain the Democratic party in its winning fight for white supremacy.

The bald, inseparable fact, is that nearly every negro voter, and there are about 60,000 in Maryland, vote in a solid phalanx for the Republican party, composing their only hope of success. We freely admit it is unfortunate for Republican success, both at the polls and in State government that this condition exists, but exist it does and until the negro is disfranchised it is likely to exist.

Every man should vote for the public good as he sees it, and we believe the vast majority of the white people in Maryland including men from all parties will vote to elect Democratic candidates who represent the white interests of the State, and are qualified by brain and experience to head the government. The Democrats are aroused in Wicomico county and the party gatherings have been attended with numbers and enthusiasm. The people are awaking to the situation and are going about the election with a grim determination to elect every Democratic candidate by telling majorities. We firmly believe that next Tuesday's election marks one of the most critical periods in Maryland's history, and we hope every Democrat will do his duty and with might and main get votes for the public good, which thoughtful men all over the Union consider would be best advanced at this crucial time by the placing in power of the Democratic party.

For the love of home, of county, of State and country, Democrats bestir yourselves until the polls close Tuesday night for a decisive Democratic victory. Work hard! It is a critical election and the larger the majority the better the deed and day. Put your own loyalty on record for white rule now and always.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY EXPECTS LARGE MAJORITY FOR WHITE ASCENDENCY.

The campaign of 1908 is now about over, and the issues will be passed upon by the voters of Maryland next Tuesday. Prospects are bright for Democratic success throughout the State.

Getting right down to bed rock there is only one issue in the campaign, and that is, as Mr. Bayner aptly put it last week, whether the Democrats or Republicans shall rule Maryland and the various counties for the next four years. Which party is the better entitled to the respect and confidence of the people? Which has in its ranks the preponderance of intelligence and civic spirit?

The Republicans are making their fight on the basis of demands for a new ballot law. The present ballot does not suit them, because it requires intelligence on the part of the voter, together with knowledge of public men and measures. At the gubernatorial election four years ago the total Republican vote was 116,000, in round numbers. The negro registration was something over 55,000, showing that there were 61,000 white Republicans. The Democratic vote at the same election was over 128,000. The question is, where would the Republicans be without the negro vote? Another question is, how do the negroes regard the issues of citizenship and public measures that are involved in the campaign? Here is an extract from the Baltimore Sun telling of a recent Republican meeting in Somerset County, which shows how the spellbinders of that party appeal to the cool, sober reason of the men it most depends upon to win success:

"Republican leaders were very much pleased at the effect at the meeting held in Crisfield on Saturday night, at which Ex-Senator David E. Dick was the star speaker. Senator Dick, it is declared spoke to a large negro audience and excited them to a high state. At one time he seized an American flag from the platform, and in graphic style described the charge of President Roosevelt up San Juan Hill. Mr. Dick, it was said, charged up and down the platform himself, sometimes leaping as high as ten feet in the air. He so worked up the emotions of the negroes, it was stated, that they burst out into shouts of 'Glory!' 'Amen!' 'Hallelujah!' and other expressions of delight. He is said to be the most popular orator who has visited Somerset for years."

Republican orators cannot yet point to a single fault in the democratic administration of state affairs, and have no sound arguments to advance for a change. Instead they appeal to passion and try to work the negro voters to a frenzy by claptrap methods like Mr. Dick employed.

Viewed calmly and dispassionately there is not a single reason why the voters of Maryland should turn the State over to the Republicans. Comptroller Hering shows that under present administration the State has been practically freed from debt, while, at the same time, the tax rate has been reduced. A considerable expenditure has been necessary for public buildings, and the State's property is in the finest kind of shape. So well pleased are the business men of Baltimore that thousands who are known as Independents, and vote first one way and then the other are solidly in line this time for Warfield and the whole Democratic ticket.

Before going to the polls, if any voter in Maryland is undecided he should reflect upon the magnificent personnel of the Democrat ticket. Mr. Warfield is honored and respected by all who know him, and there name is legion. He has fought his way up from a farmer boy, and is now one of the most enterprising, successful and public spirited business men of the State. Mr. Bryan, candidate for Attorney General, is a young man, but a brilliant and able lawyer whose character is above the taint of suspicion. Dr. Atkinson is one of the most highly esteemed citizens of the Eastern Shore, where he is loved by all who know him.

The county ticket stands out prominently as one of the best and most representative ever nominated. These Democrats have been chosen for white people, and it is now up to them to elect them by one of the handsomest majorities ever given a Democratic ticket.

Among many other important considerations, is the fact that Democratic success means the maintenance of authority and control by the self respecting white people of Maryland, and the voter has the whole thing in a nut-shell. And lastly, he should ponder the solemn pledge of Mr. Warfield as given in a recent speech:

"I expect to be the next Governor of Maryland," said Mr. Warfield, "and I am perfectly willing to have the appointments I shall make compared with those made by Mr. Lowndes when he was Governor, and I will say to Mr. Lowndes that I shall never make an appointment with a view of securing a vote for any man for United States Senator or for any other office. I will not send for people and bring them into my office, and say 'if you will vote for this or that man, or this or that measure I will do so and so.' I will not use the great office of Governor of Maryland for my own advancement or the advancement of any other man. I owe allegiance to no man or set of men; all power from the people, and if I am elected, I shall owe allegiance only to the people."

BE CAREFUL DEMOCRATS

To See That You Vote Properly So That Your Ballot Will Be Counted. Instructions Below Should Be Closely Read And Followed.

Election day will be Tuesday, November 3d. The polls open at 8 o'clock A. M. in the counties, and close at 6 o'clock P. M.

In Baltimore city they open at 6 o'clock A. M., and close at 5 o'clock P. M. Let every registered Democrat go to the polls as early as he can and vote. See that the ballot given you contains the initials of the Judge who gave it out.

Vote the ticket by marking a cross (X) mark in the space provided therefor to the right of and opposite the name of every person or persons for whom you intend to vote.

Remember, one mark at the head of the ticket will not vote the entire ballot as it used to do.

You must make a cross (X) mark opposite the name of every person for whom you wish to vote.

Make a cross (X) mark wholly within the square provided for the purpose. Do not let the (X) extend beyond the square. Make it entirely inside the square.

Do not make any other mark whatever on the ballot.

Any mark whatever on the ballot except the cross marks, whether in the square or out of it, will cause the ballot to be thrown out.

Do not make a dot or a circle or any other mark in the square but a cross mark.

If you mark your ballot with an X wholly in the square like this, it will be counted.

If you mark any square on your ballot with any other mark of any kind with your pencil outside of the square, your ballot will not be counted.

Be sure not to deface or tear your ballot in any way.

If your pencil happens to make a hole through the ballot, return the ballot and get a new one.

If you make a mistake in marking it, do not attempt to make a correction; return it to the Judge and get a new one. You are entitled to a third ballot if the first two have been spoiled and returned, but you must not consume more than seven minutes in marking it.

Be sure not to mark more names than there are persons to be elected to an office.

If you do, your entire ballot will not be counted.

For example, if you mark the names of five candidates for the House of Delegates, and there are but four candidates to be elected, your entire ballot, and not merely that part relating to the House of Delegates, will be thrown out.

This is most important to be remembered.

Find out before you vote the exact number of Democratic candidates.

Be sure to vote for all of these candidates. Count the cross marks made by you and be sure that you put no more cross marks than there are Democratic candidates on the ballot.

Mark your ballot with the indelible pencil which you will find in the election booth.

Do not use your own pencil; your ballot will not be counted if you do.

Fold your ballot exactly as it was folded when handed to you and give it to the ballot Judge, without permitting any one to see how you have marked it.

See that the Judge tears off the coupon and deposits the ballot in the ballot box.

MURRAY VANDIVER, Chairman State Central Committee.

Found Democratic Doctrines The Strongest.

Messrs. Editors:—Many years ago a distinguished Whig was elected to Congress from this District of Maryland. When he returned home after the session was over he was congratulated by many of his old friends, who called upon him for a speech. Lo and behold, when he began to speak he had forgotten himself, and began a red hot Democratic speech. One of his constituents cried out: "But Mr. — we thought you were a Whig when we elected you to Congress." "So I thought, too, but I found when I got there that Democratic thunder was the strongest, and I let her go, and I expect to use that kind hereafter at all times." So after this campaign is over it will be found that Democratic thunder will be strongest all over the field. Let the good work go on, and carry the news to Teddy.

Republicans Hold Two Meetings in Salisbury Wednesday.

The Republican State candidates invaded Wicomico, the old Gibraltar of Democracy, on Wednesday and made two attacks on her rocks. Special trains were run over the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway in order that the Republicans living in the remoter sections could be present to hear the issues discussed, and a number of Worcester Republicans came over.

The speaking was heard in Ulman's Opera House, the lower floor being occupied by white people and the galleries by negroes. The speakers were Hon. S. A. Williams, Ex-Congressman Wm. B. Baker and Congressman Frank C. Watcher, the recently-defeated Republican mayoral candidate of Baltimore.

The afternoon meeting was presided over by Mr. A. J. Benjamin, and in the evening Mr. Walter B. Miller presided. The State candidates were entertained by Congressman Jackson. After the afternoon meeting Mr. Williams, escorted by Mr. Marion A. Humphreys, chairman of the county committee, held a reception in the Peninsula Hotel. The candidates left Salisbury for Hagerstown Thursday morning.

Goslee—Lankford.

—Miss Henrietta Birchhead Lankford, daughter of Mr. Arthur W. Lankford, of Somerset County near Pocomoke City, and Mr. J. Costen Goslee of Salisbury were married Wednesday at 12.30 o'clock in the Pitts Creek Presbyterian church, Pocomoke City, Md. The church decorations were very pretty consisting of palms, autumn leaves and ferns.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Roger W. Lankford of Philadelphia. She was preceded by the ushers and her attendants, while the wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Annie Cecilia Dryden, friend of the bride. Mr. Carl Goslee, brother of the groom was best man.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Matherson, pastor of the church. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue-grey cloth trimmed with Persian bands, and carried a white bible.

Misses Carolyn and Louise Lankford, her sisters, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses of cream brilliantine with picture hats, and carried pink chrysanthemums. The ushers were Messrs. Oscar Goslee, Marion Malone, Dr. J. Kent Morris, and Elwood Matthews. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a tour of the northern cities.

Out in Front of the Peninsula Hotel Last Week Was An Unusual Combination. A Scotch terrier was enjoying a romp with a little maitresse kitten, and the way the kitten would maul, tease and cuff the terrier would make a caution. The kitten would stand it awhile, and at once she would get up on her hind legs and cuff that dog until he'd yelp. Quite a few men who came along stopped and watched the fun, and one man said, "Well, you can get a cat and dog to live in peace, no matter what they say." "Oh, yes," said another man. "I've seen a parrot and a monkey dwelling in harmony in the same cage." Just then an individual who had been coming up the street, following a serpentine pathway that would have landed a sober man in the gutter, remarked, as he looked knowingly at the dog and cat: "Zat's nussin' tall; I've seen bears an' tigers, all red, white an' blue, lyn' down wis hip-hip-hipponies; I've seen giraffe climbin' trees, an' I've seen a shark an' a funnies lot o' sharks an' things all together. You kin see such things most any ol' time if you know where to look fur 'em." People used to say that you couldn't get but one class of people to trade our store, but you can. You can see 'em at Thoroughgood's. He isn't running stores for the benefit of rich people or poor people, but for all sorts of people, including himself. Thoroughgood has got Clothing, Hats and Gents' Furnishings to fit all sorts of pocketbooks, and the woman who saves money here on a $2 child's suit for her boy don't seem to be a bit more pleased than the woman who can afford the $5 suit for her boy and saves money on it. Thoroughgood would like to have every mother see the great lines of children's suits for boys, particularly the $2, $3, $4, $5 ones. It takes all kinds of people to help Thoroughgood run two stores. Remember, you get trading stamps, ten stamps with every dollar. Lacy Thoroughgood SALISBURY, MD.

"I have no more nervous headaches and rest very well at night."

When a woman suffers from female weakness and irregularity or other forms of womanly disease, the effect is certain to be marked on her nervous system, the great defect being, as in Mrs. Woodin's case, "nervous headaches, restlessness at night" and a run-down condition. It is simply common sense then which says if you cure the female weakness, irregularity, etc., you will cure the nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., by curing the womanly diseases which cause these ailments.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly disease. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—This sermon is a powerful protest against the abuse of the body through sin and neglect and a plea for its consecration to God's service and to holy and upright living. The text is I Corinthians vi, 19. "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost?"

More than Westminster abbey is to London or Notre Dame to Paris or the Vatican to Rome or the mosque of St. Sophia to Constantinople, more than Diana's temple was to Ephesus or the shrine of Athena to Athens, King Solomon's temple was to the Hebrew race. It was the one spot about which national pride and religious fervor centered; it was the one place above all others which the Israelite wanted to see, as the Mussulman devotee says, "Let me, I pray thee, worship once at Mecca before I die." It was the repository of the covenant ark. It was God's footstool. It was like a fragment of heaven's manifested glories.

Like the Taj Mahal of India, whose walls were once inlaid with gold and precious stones to the value of millions upon millions of dollars, the Solomonic temple was famous not so much for its size as for its intrinsic worth. "The weight of the nails employed in the temple," the book of Chronicles tells us, "was fifty shekels of solid gold."

Josephus, the secular historian, records that its walls were composed entirely of white stone; that the walls and ceilings were varnished with cedar, which was covered with the purest gold. So precious were the materials and utensils of this wonderful sanctuary that the fame of them spread to foreign lands and excited the cupidity of Shishak and Jehoahaz, who journeyed to Jerusalem to plunder it. All its glory and grandeur, however, were reduced to ashes when King Nebuchadnezzar, after stripping it of its gold and removing its jeweled vessels, applied the torch, and its spirit, after an earthly existence of 417 years, Elijah-like, ascended toward heaven in a chariot of fire. Can we be mistaken in thinking that a building so beautiful and so exceptionally honored by the Divine Presence had a spirit? Victor Hugo, the author of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," thought that there must be a spirit in that "room in stone." Is there not a spirit, incarnated in St. Paul's, the work of St. Christopher Wren? In the chaste architecture of the Church of the Madeleine in Paris? In the grandeur of the cathedral of Milan and in St. Mark's of Venice. Why not, then, in that magnificent edifice in which God dwelt among men?

A Sacred Temple. Not alone in gold and precious stones was the temple of Solomon unique. It was great in its spiritual associations. Its very site had a sanctity of its own. It was so sacred in the eyes of king and people that when the temple was erected measures were taken to avoid even the ordinary sounds of tools. In the book of Kings we read, "And the house, when it was building, was built of stone made ready before it was brought thither, so that there was neither hammer nor ax nor any tool of iron heard in the house while it was in building." As the steel bridge today is sent from the foundries with each girder and trestle and beam marked beforehand for its position, so the temple's stones and beams were cut and fitted together miles away from their ultimate destination. When the temple's walls were reared they rose amid the impressive sacredness of silence. So sacred was the place that on the day of the temple's dedication, on the day when the ark of the covenant was placed within the holy of holies, "the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord." It filled the house with a bright cloud; it filled the house with the same majestic symbol as that which led the Israelites through the desert, as that which the prophet saw around the throne of God and as that which overshadowed our Lord when he talked with Moses and Elias on the Mount of Transfiguration.

Paul had in mind both the intrinsic value and the surpassing sanctity of the Solomonic temple in the comparison of the text. The physical body of man is a temple in both senses of the word. Paul was not one of those who despised the "flesh," as we term the "flesh." He did not believe that "beauty is only skin deep" and that "ugliness sinks to the bone." He believed that the connection between the body and the soul is so close that you cannot injure one without affecting the other. So Paul, in these words of my text, practically says to all men and women, "Be careful what you do with that hand; be careful how you misuse that foot; be careful that you do not let the tongue become defiled with wicked words." Know ye not that your body is a great cathedral, more momentous in its functions than that called St. John the Divine, which the Episcopalian church is erecting in New York city today? Know ye not that your body is the place where God looks through the window of the eye and speaks through the trumpet of the throat and feels through the appendages of the fingers? Be careful of that frame of bone and muscle and sinew that physical frame of yours, filled with arterial canals through which the blood courses. "Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost?"

The physical body, in the first place, should be a strong temple. Its cliait should be broad and deep. Its limits should be broad and deep. Its sinews should be strong and its nerves steady and its cords of steel, its heart beating with the regularity of a pumping automaton; it should be made as strong as possible because all temporal and spiritual happiness depends to a great extent upon the physical body being in a healthy condition.

When the soul laughs the body laughs; when the body weeps the soul is very apt to weep. Thomas Jefferson, the sage of Monticello, taught this when he wrote this suggestive letter to his young kinsman, T. M. Randolph, Jr.: "Without health there is no happiness. Our attention to health, then, should take precedence of every other object. The time necessary to secure this by active exercise should be devoted to it in preference to every other pursuit. I know the difficulty with which a busy man tears himself away from his work at any given moment of the day, but his happiness and that of his family depend upon it. The most unformed mind, with a healthy body, is happier than the wisest voluptuary." Good advice for Thomas Jefferson to give 100 years ago; just as good advice to give to the young people of the present day.

Value of Health. Not only happiness, but also most of temporal and spiritual usefulness, is dependent upon physical health. We read with amazement what Alexander H. Stephens was able to accomplish when he, as an invalid, confessed to Senator Vest that for over forty years he had never seen a day without suffering physical pain. We study with wonderment the gigantic work of the invalid Robert Hall, of the invalid Frederick W. Robertson, of the invalid Robert Louis Stevenson, of the invalid J. R. Green and of the invalid Henry Kirke White, who continued to work although he was fighting death step by step. Yet for the most part you will find that the great leaders of the world have had strong bodies. God and sit today in the gallery of the United States senate, and you cannot deny this fact. Some of the United States senators are now very aged men, yet even in the decay of their physical organisms, as among the ruins of Melrose abbey, you can still trace the strength and the power of bygone days. But though the necessity of physical health should be an axiom, yet the strange fact remains that most people by countless follies are ignorant of the physical walls of the temple of the Holy Ghost. They are overworking the body, as you sometimes see a tired horse compelled to pull too big a load. They are abusing the body with the idea that God will forgive them because they are trying to do his work. No, no, my brother, this abuse of the body must not be. The temple of the Holy Ghost should be physically a strong temple. The broader a man's shoulders the heavier is the load he can lift for Christ. The louder his voice the farther shall things being equal, he can sound forth the message of a Saviour's sacrifice.

Moral Cleanliness. The temple of the Holy Spirit, in the next place, should be a clean body. There are some men whose bodies are given over to moral filthiness. They are like some of the ancient heathen temples which were avowedly dedicated to the deities of lust, drunkenness and debauchery, the existence of which was a national disgrace. The worship performed in those temples was so vile that you could not describe it in public without bringing a blush of shame to every modest cheek and a demand for silence from every modest lip. The pictures found on the walls of the exhumed city of Pompeii show that those temples were veritable charnel houses, where bats and owls and carrion birds gorged themselves on the decaying corpses of truth, purity and love. Let the temple of your body be clean, as Christ wanted the grime of which he was clean when he drove the traders out of that temple, crying, "Is it not written my house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves?" clean as David wanted his physical altar to be clean when he uttered the agonizing prayer, "Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin," or that other pleading beseechment, "Cleanse thou me from secret faults," or clean as Paul meant us to be when he wrote the epistle to the Corinthians which he wrote these warning words: "If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy, for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are." Oh, the terrible condemnation which is to be visited upon those whose bodies are defiled by the indulgence of degrading vices! Oh, the awful doom awaiting the spiritual destruction of the temple of the Holy Ghost!

A Conserving Fire. Have you ever seen a sanctuary of brick and stone which has been dedicated to God destroyed by earthquake or by fire? Well, I have. On a dark, stormy night I was awakened in my Brooklyn home by the rumbling of the fire engines. I heard a quick rap at my door, as my sister called: "Wake up! The Tabernacle is in flames!" I hurriedly dressed and ascended to the corner of our house, which overlooked the city. There the whole family were gathered. The walls seemed charged and aunched by the lightning. Off in the distance the public buildings of the city looked like the great white masonry of a celestial city, making by contrast the scene more dramatic. The church did not burn as other buildings seemed to burn, but its roof in its entirety was a mass of living coals. It looked like an altar, a huge altar upon which was being sacrificed the whole life's ministry of the noble father who stood by my side. Suddenly it swung and shivered like unto a dove and a dying man. "There it goes!" said mother. Yes, there it went. With one lurch it was gone, while we stood huddled together in the darkness. My father and I put on our greatcoats and started out in the storm. As we pushed through the crowds outside the guarding ropes, I found by the congregation there assembled, not by the church, but by the fire's lurid glare. Some of the people were weeping and sobbing as though their hearts would break. Some of them had been baptized as children in that church. Some of them had found God there. Some of them had mourned beside their dead within those walls. Ah, it is a sad sight to see a cathedral or a city church or a little village meeting house destroyed by fire. But it will be infinitely sadder to see a human being, whose body might be the temple of the Holy Ghost, consumed by the fire of hideous passions and appetites. Beware, O man, that you never deenerate that temple of your body or sacrifice on the altar of your heart, which should be consecrated to God, offerings of the demerit of perdition.

The Temple of Christ. The temple of the Holy Spirit should have a beautiful body—beautiful in reference to the glance of its eye; beautiful in the tone of its voice; being shown through a factory. My guide was a one armed man. After showing me room after room filled with machinery he at last pointed to a revolving wheel as he said, "That is where I lost my arm." "Well," I said to him, "I guess you do not miss it much. You have an easy position now, and your pay is bigger than it was before." "Yes, I know," he answered, "but I would gladly give it up if I could, for then I had my arm. A man does not know how much he loves his arm until it is gone. Ah, yes, this body of mine is no small gift to dedicate to Jesus. The hand—it has carried for us many burdens; the foot—it walked for us many miles; the tongue—it has expressed for us many a want. When are you going to dedicate this body, this old body of yours, to Jesus, Christ? Do you not want to give it to Christ, so that he may give it divine rejuvenation?"

I never wish to hear a man make a slighting remark about his physical body. Never say, as do so many, "Oh, I do not care what becomes of my body after I am dead!" You should care, my brother. You should care, in the first place, because that body has been a good friend to you, and, secondly, because that body, if it be Christ's now, is to be "sown in corruption and raised in incorruption," a glorified, immortal spiritual body, fit for the companionship of the angels and the redeemed.

Speak no ill about your body. Remember also, my brother, you should not compare your loved ones to death with your body what they do not want to do. "I shall be cremated," I heard a man say some time ago. I turned to him and said: "Friend, you have not any right to demand that your loved ones shall cremate your body. If they wish to do it all right. But if they do not wish to do it then let them have the sweet yet sad comfort of going out to your grave to plant a few forget-me-nots where sleeps the mortal part of one whom they have dearly loved!"

The body is more than flesh, though it crumble into dust. At the end of an earthly life it shall be raised, a new and heavenly body, for the life eternal. Trifle not with it! Abuse it not! Despise it not! It is the temple of the Holy Ghost!

The Esoteric Meaning of Slang. The Indianapolis Journal of Biochemistry believes in the esoteric origin and meaning of slang and holds forth upon it as follows: "You are not the only pebble on the beach" is a slang phrase that clearly foretells the coming age of the concept of the unity of being—or co-operation instead of individualism. In fact, the expression is a direct and most potent against selfishness and vanity and frequently has a greater and better effect than a sermon. "Out of sight" or "way up in G" refers to the real spiritual man—a higher note or vibration than the ordinary or material plane of operation. Spiritual intelligences are "out of sight" to most people or to all who are not clairvoyants.

"The whole show," or "he (or she) is the whole show," is clearly seen to be a truth to those who really understand that man is the epitome of the universe—a microcosm of the macrocosm—and that the kingdom of heaven, or harmony, is really within his possibilities. Evidently the Indiana biochemists know what they are talking about better than most of us, but what is a biochemist anyhow?—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The Earl and the Tenant. The Earl of Aberdeen, who owns large estates in Scotland, once desired to see if the humblest of his tenants were satisfied and comfortable. Without making himself known he strolled up to an old woman who was busily weeding her garden and asked her if the land was good about there. "If ye was to hire an allotment," said the old woman "it'd"—She hesitated. "Yes," said the earl. "What should I do then?" "Ye'd see if it was good," said the old woman.

Why, if this be true, what is the next step? Why, that temple should have a day when it is publicly dedicated to the deity for whom it is built. When the Solomonic temple was to be at last dedicated the king under the service of a national import. He assembled in the place of all the officers of the state, and on that occasion he sacrificed 120,000 sheep and 22,000 oxen. The rivers of blood which flowed from that altar signify to us how great an occasion that dedication must have been.

When a few years ago the famous Cologne cathedral was dedicated all Europe sent its representatives to meet the king of Prussia at the spot. This cathedral was begun in 1238. It was begun in the name of the father, Son and Holy Spirit. The work, however, was not completed in the thirteenth century, nor the fourteenth, nor the fifteenth, nor the sixteenth, nor the seventeenth, nor the eighteenth. At last, in the nineteenth century, the work was finished. Then came the dedication. Ah, that must have been a wonderful sight when St. Peter's at Rome was dedicated! If the Catholic world could have been brought up over the coronation of Pope Pius X., surely it must have been more enthusiastic over the dedication of that wonderful structure which was designed by Michael Angelo and brought to a successful completion by a long line of succeeding architects.

The Dedication. Now, my brother, it is right and proper that every temple should be publicly dedicated. When are you going to publicly dedicate your temple, your physical body, to the service of Jesus Christ? This body is a priceless treasure which we should offer him. How precious it is but few can fully appreciate unless they lose part of their physical anatomy. Some years ago I was beautiful as far as possible in reference to its apparel; beautiful as Sarah was beautiful, whose husband gave to her one of the sweetest and yet costliest of compliments when he turned and in the quiet language of the east said, "Thou art fairer woman to look upon." If God Almighty demanded that the children of Israel should give of their gold and silver and precious stones to beautify his Jerusalem sanctuary surely then we ought to try to beautify his temple of the Holy Ghost. Christ has often been worshipped in a mud hut or an open barn, but he deserves the noblest and best of human architecture. We have now some millions upon millions of dollars were spent to make artistic the sanctuaries of the east. The greatest of sculptors have chiseled for them their masterpieces and out of the solid stone have made flower gardens to bloom at the base and the top of the massive columns which support the roofs. In them the greatest of all artists have been called upon to illustrate their grand religious pictures, as Leonardo da Vinci's "Last Supper" in a Milan convent is painted upon the walls of a Santa Maria delle Grazie, within which Napoleon's troops once stabled their horses, or as Michael Angelo's "Last Judgment" was painted upon the wall of the Sistine chapel at Rome, or as the beautiful angels of a Dominican monk, Fra Angelico, are seen marching through the dark corridors of the Florentine convent of San Marco. In them the finest of musicians play upon their instruments and sing in their choirs. The most eloquent of preachers plead from their pulpits. But the temple that Christ most desires to occupy is the temple of your heart, and that may be adorned by the graces that the Holy Spirit supplies.

"But," says some man, "how can I beautify my physical body? I grant that I need not be slovenly or unkempt in apparel, but I do not grant that I can change my looks. I cannot, in the language of Nicodemus, for the second time be born of the flesh." Oh, yes, my brother, you can. You can start today to obtain from God that grace which will make you physically a new being. It is a physiological law that every seven years the body goes through a complete change. Seven years from now there will not be any part of a nose, finger, nail, or atom of flesh in your physical existence which is part of you today. Like the old Constitution, more commonly called Old Tomatoes, once the pride of the American navy, whose hull was made over so many times that there have been many Constitutions instead of one, so your brother, have had many different physical bodies. You are always putting off an old body; you are always putting on a new. Galen was converted from atheism by studying the wonderful construction of a human skeleton. But the movement of a joint in a skeleton is not nearly so wonderful to me as the fact that the skeleton of a man who died when he was seventy years of age represents at least ten distinct skeletons, which at different periods of his existence walked around under the same man's personality.

A Wonderful Structure. The physical body is continually being changed. This fact being then granted, if you will only let the Holy Ghost dwell within the temple which ought to be his, then he will make you physically over in tone, because then it will only speak the language of love. Your face will change in looks, for then your gentler spirit will mold it. Your hand will change its conformation, for then, instead of being the knotted muscles of a human brute or the close fist of a miser, looking in its vindictive eyes like the grinning ergot of the Notre Dame, reared to spring upon the prey below, it will be the open palm of succor and have the warm grasp of a sympathetic touch. Yes, my brother, you can artistically and aesthetically as well as spiritually beautify your physical body. You can surrender it, in the name of Jesus Christ, to be made over entirely anew to his service.

A strong temple! A clean temple! A beautiful temple! We have been describing them all. But after all, what is a temple? It is a building dedicated to the worship of a deity. Its four walls inclose a holy place in which that deity is supposed to dwell. Each temple is supposed to be the personal property of an individual divinity in the same sense as a man's house belongs to him when the title deed is not only put in the family safe, but also recorded among the county records.

DR. FENNER'S KIDNEY and Backache CURE. All diseases of Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs, Rheumatism, Backache, Headache, Dropsy, Female Troubles. Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for every ailment. Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure is a life time curing just as it cures in a day. All consultations free. Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure is the cause of my being alive to-day. I had suffered greatly of kidney disease for years and reduced in weight to 120 pounds. I now weigh 160 pounds. Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure. Druggists, 50c. B. Ask for Cook Book. Free. ST. VITUS' DANCE. Sure Cure. Circular, Try.

Why, if this be true, what is the next step? Why, that temple should have a day when it is publicly dedicated to the deity for whom it is built. When the Solomonic temple was to be at last dedicated the king under the service of a national import. He assembled in the place of all the officers of the state, and on that occasion he sacrificed 120,000 sheep and 22,000 oxen. The rivers of blood which flowed from that altar signify to us how great an occasion that dedication must have been.

When a few years ago the famous Cologne cathedral was dedicated all Europe sent its representatives to meet the king of Prussia at the spot. This cathedral was begun in 1238. It was begun in the name of the father, Son and Holy Spirit. The work, however, was not completed in the thirteenth century, nor the fourteenth, nor the fifteenth, nor the sixteenth, nor the seventeenth, nor the eighteenth. At last, in the nineteenth century, the work was finished. Then came the dedication. Ah, that must have been a wonderful sight when St. Peter's at Rome was dedicated! If the Catholic world could have been brought up over the coronation of Pope Pius X., surely it must have been more enthusiastic over the dedication of that wonderful structure which was designed by Michael Angelo and brought to a successful completion by a long line of succeeding architects.

The Dedication. Now, my brother, it is right and proper that every temple should be publicly dedicated. When are you going to publicly dedicate your temple, your physical body, to the service of Jesus Christ? This body is a priceless treasure which we should offer him. How precious it is but few can fully appreciate unless they lose part of their physical anatomy. Some years ago I was being shown through a factory. My guide was a one armed man. After showing me room after room filled with machinery he at last pointed to a revolving wheel as he said, "That is where I lost my arm." "Well," I said to him, "I guess you do not miss it much. You have an easy position now, and your pay is bigger than it was before." "Yes, I know," he answered, "but I would gladly give it up if I could, for then I had my arm. A man does not know how much he loves his arm until it is gone. Ah, yes, this body of mine is no small gift to dedicate to Jesus. The hand—it has carried for us many burdens; the foot—it walked for us many miles; the tongue—it has expressed for us many a want. When are you going to dedicate this body, this old body of yours, to Jesus, Christ? Do you not want to give it to Christ, so that he may give it divine rejuvenation?"

I never wish to hear a man make a slighting remark about his physical body. Never say, as do so many, "Oh, I do not care what becomes of my body after I am dead!" You should care, my brother. You should care, in the first place, because that body has been a good friend to you, and, secondly, because that body, if it be Christ's now, is to be "sown in corruption and raised in incorruption," a glorified, immortal spiritual body, fit for the companionship of the angels and the redeemed.

Speak no ill about your body. Remember also, my brother, you should not compare your loved ones to death with your body what they do not want to do. "I shall be cremated," I heard a man say some time ago. I turned to him and said: "Friend, you have not any right to demand that your loved ones shall cremate your body. If they wish to do it all right. But if they do not wish to do it then let them have the sweet yet sad comfort of going out to your grave to plant a few forget-me-nots where sleeps the mortal part of one whom they have dearly loved!"

The body is more than flesh, though it crumble into dust. At the end of an earthly life it shall be raised, a new and heavenly body, for the life eternal. Trifle not with it! Abuse it not! Despise it not! It is the temple of the Holy Ghost!

The Esoteric Meaning of Slang. The Indianapolis Journal of Biochemistry believes in the esoteric origin and meaning of slang and holds forth upon it as follows: "You are not the only pebble on the beach" is a slang phrase that clearly foretells the coming age of the concept of the unity of being—or co-operation instead of individualism. In fact, the expression is a direct and most potent against selfishness and vanity and frequently has a greater and better effect than a sermon. "Out of sight" or "way up in G" refers to the real spiritual man—a higher note or vibration than the ordinary or material plane of operation. Spiritual intelligences are "out of sight" to most people or to all who are not clairvoyants.

"The whole show," or "he (or she) is the whole show," is clearly seen to be a truth to those who really understand that man is the epitome of the universe—a microcosm of the macrocosm—and that the kingdom of heaven, or harmony, is really within his possibilities. Evidently the Indiana biochemists know what they are talking about better than most of us, but what is a biochemist anyhow?—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The Earl and the Tenant. The Earl of Aberdeen, who owns large estates in Scotland, once desired to see if the humblest of his tenants were satisfied and comfortable. Without making himself known he strolled up to an old woman who was busily weeding her garden and asked her if the land was good about there. "If ye was to hire an allotment," said the old woman "it'd"—She hesitated. "Yes," said the earl. "What should I do then?" "Ye'd see if it was good," said the old woman.

In itself La Grippe is very dangerous, but in its after effects it is one of the most deadly scourges that renders the patient susceptible to pneumonia, bronchitis and catarrh. The best treatment consists of Restorative Nervine which quiets the nerves, soothes the brain, restores strength and vitality to the entire system; Dr. Miles' Nervine and Liver Pills a nerve tonic acting directly on the nerves of the digestive organs causing them to act in a natural and healthy manner, and Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills which speedily relieve the torture of headache, backache and soreness, the most common symptoms of Grippe.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Diabetes and finally Bright's disease. This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Salisbury citizen.

J. E. Richardson, proprietor of Feed and Sale Stables on East Church Street and residing at 174 Parsons Street says:

"For some time during the winter and along in the spring of this year I was annoyed with slight pains across the small of my back. I paid little attention to it at first thinking it would disappear as mysteriously as it came but this was not the case for instead of getting better it was gradually growing worse.

About this time I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and a box was procured for me at White & Leonard's drug store and I took them as directed. They seemed to reach the root of the trouble immediately, and before I had finished the box the pain in my back had disappeared. It is needless to say that I hold a very high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Mr. C. E. Moskey, of Rockville, has just discovered that he has been the possessor for the past 22 years of two violins of rare value. One is a Stradivarius, made in the year 1730, and the other was made by Andreas Guarnerius in 1708. Both were made a present many years ago to Mr. Moskey's father by Count Wolewode, of Poland, and were brought to this country by Mr. Moskey 20 years ago. One of the instruments has been discovered by an expert to be worth from $15,000 to $20,000.

Cause Of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain-Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain-Balm is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at all drug stores.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

Judge Waters Favors Strong Measures And Rebukes Jury.

A remarkable case is reported in Bel Air, Harford county. Judge Waters administered a rebuke to the jury which failed to convict a disorderly house case and warned the parties accused—a man and a woman—to leave the State. The judge discharged the whole jury and said he would not try any more cases before such a panel. He said Harford county had no use for such criminals and that they must get away as soon as possible. "As soon as it becomes manifest," said the judge, "that the law does not protect, then it is the privilege and the duty of the community to protect itself." To the woman who had been declared not guilty, the Judge said, "Mrs. Neiman, the house that you have been keeping is a putrid ulcer in our midst. Indeed, I want to warn you and I think you will see it yourself, that if the law can not punish criminals it cannot protect criminals or anybody else. If you have succeeded in debauching one jury, you cannot look to another jury to protect you. So far as I am concerned, I am not willing to guarantee safety under the law for three days—my advice to you is to leave the State just as soon as possible."

Conversation Of Actual Occurrence.

Black cook of 200 pounds and mistress in Charlottesville, Va. Cook—"Mrs. McCue, I want to see if you ain't going to let me off to day?" Mrs. McCue—"Way Dilly, of course, you know I have my house full of company today and no one to cook dinner for me but you. You ought to be ashamed to ask it."

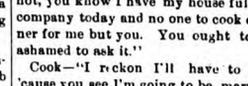

Cook—"I reckon I'll have to go, 'cause you see I'm going to be married today."

Mr. McCue—"Who on earth is going to marry you—you are too old and fat."

Cook—"No I ain't, man, you recollect about a month ago I tended a funeral. Well, I've gone to marry the husband of the corpse. He done not his eyes on me at day and he say I was de likeliest woman there and I was de life of de funeral."

NEWS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF WICOMICO SENT IN BY THE ADVERTISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

SMYTHS.

Mr. and Mrs. Levin Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parsons and little daughter were the welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ennis, Sunday evening last.

Misses Effie and Virgie Holloway were guests of Miss Minerva Ennis last Friday.

Mr. Walter Smith visited Mr. Paul Tilghman Saturday and Sunday.

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Hastings gave a most delightful party at their home near Zion, in honor of Mrs. Hastings twenty first birthday.

The house was thoroughly illuminated and bedecked with flowers from the remotest corner to the most conspicuous place and presented a most elaborate effect to all that were present.

The guests began to arrive about eight o'clock and were received by Mrs. Hastings and Miss Annie Leonard of Parsonsburg.

After the conventional greetings they were passed on down the line and turned to the parlor where music and games were in progress and were made feel at home.

Story telling was another feature and was thoroughly enjoyed. The friends of Mrs. Hastings remembered her quite nicely and presented her with many beautiful and useful presents.

The company was a successful affair and all there were glad with their thanks of the grand good time and pleasant evening, and wished to the debutants that her life be checked with birthdays.

Those present were: Misses Lucy and Emma Parker, Enie and Nora Gordy, Amelia and Minerva Ennis, Minnie and Clara Farlow, Mamie Perdue, Mary Leonard, Annie and May Wells, Katie, Annie and Eva Leonard, Messrs Winfield Perdue, Henry and George Farlow, Woodland, Randolph and Ira Parker, Paul Tilghman, Walter Smith, Fred Wimbrow, Harry and Thomas Morris, Albert and Frank Gordy, Elijah and Arthur Figgis, Minnie Parsons, Thomas Tilghman, Walter White, Edgar Adkins, Ernest Gordy and Walter Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ennis and little son, Willard, and Mr. and Mrs. Goldborough Perdue and little daughter, Bessie, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ennis, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Eva Hastings, who has been home for the past week, has returned to Salisbury to complete his work.

Sorry to report Mr. Thomas White, who has been on the sick list so long, worse.

PITTSVILLE.

The meeting has closed, having thirty one converts. We give thanks to God for His goodness.

Mr. J. E. Freeny's youngest son, who is sick with a fever, is better.

Mr. Michael Hastings was found dead in the field where he had been to work last Friday. Heart trouble was the decision of the coroner.

There will be a harvest home meeting on the eight of November at the M. E. Church.

Mr. James Parker has much improved his house, repairing and painting it.

Mr. L. J. Timmons has repaired his dwelling.

Mrs. Curtis Baker and daughters from Berlin visited Mrs. Eldin Adkins Thursday.

Mr. Thomas Brittingham and Miss Eha Wells was married Thursday evening at the Line M. E. Church.

Miss Maggie Littleton is visiting friends in Pittsville.

Mrs. Ella Sheppard, of Salisbury is visiting relatives at this place.

Mrs. Mayme Laws and daughter, Mary, visited Mr. Thos. Dennis last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Reese Dennis who stays in Philadelphia is home for a few days.

Miss Myra Johnson and sister, Bessie and Miss Annie Dennis visited Mr. Clarence Dennis this week.

Miss Lillie Henman, of Berlin, spent Sunday with Miss Emma Truitt.

Miss Laura Aydelotte, of Chincoteague who has been visiting Mrs. W. W. Brattan for quite a while returned home Tuesday.

Miss Hester Middleton and Miss Ella Davis visited Miss Kate Brattan near Willards last Saturday and Sunday.

WEST.

Preaching services next Sunday on Pocomoke Circuit, M. P. Church, as follows: At Friendship 10:00 a. m., Union 8:00 p. m., and at Nazareth 7:30 p. m.

Revival services began at Nazareth last Sunday, and the indications for a grand revival are very encouraging at present. The Spirit already has wonderfully manifested itself in the convicting of sinners, the conversion of the convicted, and the renewing of the believer. What is needed at present, it seems, is more faithful workers in the Lord's vineyard, for truly "The harvest is great, but the laborers are few."

Mr. Harry W. Brown and Miss Lola May Biggin were united together in the holy bonds of matrimony on Sunday, October 18th, at the parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. Fred J. Phillips.

Mrs. S. E. Hayman and Mrs. J. S. Dennis visited Mr. C. M. Sterling and family, of Crisfield, last week.

We are pleased to note that the condition of Mr. V. S. Hayman, who has been afflicted some time, is reported to be much improved.

Mr. Ponder C. Culver and Miss Ethel Belle Townsend were married Wednesday at 5 p. m. in Friendship M. P. Church, by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Phillips. After the ceremony they drove to Princess Anne, where they will spend a short season with relatives and friends.

MARDELA SPRINGS.

Miss Beale Bounds gave a very enjoyable advertising party Saturday evening in honor of her friend, Miss Annie Waller. Those present were: Misses Bettie Wilson, Edna Beach, Fannie Wilson, Hestie Bounds, James and Claude Bounds, Roland Taylor, Cill Bounds, George and Rodney Austin and Paul Bounds. The prize was awarded to George Austin and the booty to Claude Bounds. All report a very pleasant time.

Miss Lulo Bounds who is teaching at Deep Branch spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Miss Lillie Bacon will spend Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bounds and son, Paul spent Sunday at Bivalve.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bacon and daughter, Edna, spent a part of last week with relatives in Sharptown.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Ward spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. M. Bounds.

Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Perry and son, Robert spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mrs. Perry's sister at Chancellorsville, Talbot county.

Friday was a day of excitement for Marдела, the occasion being a Democratic speaking. Prominent speakers were present including Messrs. L. Atwood Bennett and Jesse D. Price.

BRIBERY.

The time has come for our pen to say something about the sin of bribery. We shall lift up a voice like a trumpet.

There is a great deal of advice given by well meaning persons that is inopportune. A young woman once went through the wards of a hospital distributing religious tracts. She handed a tract on the sin of dancing to a man who had only one leg! That is an illustration of an action that was inopportune.

A little girl was once rewarded by her Sabbath school teacher with a book, the girl having perfectly recited a number of Scripture passages. The title of the book was, "Hints to a Young Married Couple!" Another action inopportune.

Now, in both of these cases the advice offered was right and proper, but it was misdirected. There is no use in trying to kill flies with a shot gun. Neither is it wise to attempt with a blow-pipe and a few pellets of putty the death of a rhinoceros.

But a word just now about the sin of bribery cannot be charged with being a word that is ill timed. This is the season of year when bribery comes up in its most virulent form from some dark corner of perdition and spits its venom into many a hand, those hands supposed to be fair with the principles of righteousness, but on election day seen to be dripping with ichor from open sores. It was a bandaged hand that slew the third martyred president of the United States; but these hands of which we speak boldly keep uncovered their rottenness. Those hands are foul with bribes.

Bribery is a very old sin, gray-headed and gray-bearded, yet still hale and vigorous. In the book of Job, which book is conceded by scholars to be one of the most ancient of books, a patriarch among books, it is said, "Fire shall consume the tabernacles of bribery." There is the sin of bribery in the very dawn of human history, and pilloried for all time. So great a sin was it even at that early day as to be utterly abhorrent, and inviting to itself the lightnings of outraged justice.

We read in another venerable book of the Bible of Samuel the prophet, who had refused to take a bribe from the hand of any man. In an age when such a sin was largely practised this noble citizen among the Jews stood aloof from bribery. Within the kingdom of his soul the coin of hell was not current. Never once did it scorch either palm of his hand or blister any one of his eight fingers and two thumbs.

Samuel would be a valuable man for a national congress or a state's legislature in these twentieth century days. Every politician a Samuel would make this country a suburb of heaven. God speed the day! Out, ye lobbyists, from our legislative halls! Go burn your bank-bills, and melt your gold and silver, and give to the winds your railroad passes. Our lawmakers are above the taking of bribes. But we forgot that we were dreaming.

We read also in the book of Psalms of those whose "right hand is full of bribes." David is there praying that his soul may not be gathered with sinners, nor his life with bloody men. In his estimation bribery is associated with the most abominable wickedness. Was David right or wrong? Right! Let the word have in its pronunciation the emphasis of a twenty-ton rock crashing down a mountain-side.

So do we read in Isaiah of this terrible sin. Throughout the whole Bible

God thunders against it. Those thunder-peals are yet echoing. They break in presidential mansion and gubernatorial residence and legislative hall and council chamber and around the ballot boxes of private citizenship. They threaten the wrath of Judgment against this sin of all centuries.

Esau accepted a bribe from the hand of his brother, Jacob, selling his birth-right for a mess of pottage. That old time transaction is repeated by every American voter who trades his right of citizenship, surrendering his sovereignty of opinion for a sum of money or a promise of a political job. Whatever his complexion, whatever his standing in society, whatever his party affiliation, by so acting he discards himself.

Judas sold his Lord for thirty pieces of silver. Those shining coins afterwards burnt into the betrayer's very soul, and sent him shrieking with remorse before the unveiled face of God.

From that case of bribery nineteen centuries have recoiled in horror, and millions of hands have been lifted against it in indignant protest. But he who barter away his manhood with the price of money or preferment is guilty of a like treason against God.

But if those who receive bribes are guilty of sin, what shall be said of those who offer bribes? Equally guilty. In some instances more guilty, in that they often take advantage of want and stupidity, tempting men to do what they themselves know to be wrong, thus defiling the ballot box of American freedom with the slime of slavery; for the man that sells his vote becomes the buyer's slave, just as much so as if he had stood upon an auction block and been knocked down to the highest bidder. Out, we say, with such damnable practices from our land!

We do not pen this article in the interest of any political party whatsoever, but for the sake of righteousness. In the name of God we denounce bribery, whatever be its kind. In that same holy name we call upon all American citizens and candidates for office and all that already occupy official positions who shall read these lines to keep their hands clean from the stain of bribery. Let no man mortgage his manhood. Let no man demean himself by offering a pair of hand cuffs to his fellow-man. Let no man of any calling in life sell his robes with the smut of this infernal iniquity. Who is willing to keep company with Esau, with Jacob's ten sons, with Abaelom, with Ahithophel, with Judas, with Pilate, with Ananias, with Nero, with Brutus, with Benedict Arnold, with Aaron Burr, and with all the long roll of the world's traitors of every age? If any, let him now speak, either offering a bribe or receiving one. Then let him go and have his picture taken for the rogues' gallery of eternity.

A Good Business Proposition is something that everybody who looks out for their own interest will take time to consider. We have to make you, and

Several Good Business Propositions

Here's the Point

We do business on business principles. When we sell you a pair of shoes they are as good as can be manufactured for the money. People spend most of their time in their shoes, and this fact makes the quality of footwear a question of prime importance. Our proposition to you is to sell you good honest shoes at a price as low as is consistent with good values. We make this proposition to all prospective shoe buyers, fully believing that it is to your interest to do business with us. We have many advantages to offer you as a reason why you should do your shoe buying of us, the first of which is, we are exclusive Shoe dealers and also the largest buyers of Shoes on the Peninsula. We can offer you the largest and most complete stock to select from. We do not have to give you one size when your foot needs another. Our large stock enables us to carry all sizes and widths in stock. We take pains to see that every foot is properly fitted and also to select the proper kind of Shoe to meet the requirement for which it is intended. We have the exclusive sale in this city of all the best known and most popular makes of Shoes.

A person is often judged by the company they keep, so is a merchant by the merchandise he handles, and while we stand behind every pair of fair priced Shoes we sell, whether made under some pet name or not. To those who want special lines we can offer such well known ones as the following:

FOR MEN: The Walk-Over, W. L. Douglas, Crossett's Long Life.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS: The Rice & Hutchins, Burley Stevens & Co., Excelsior.

FOR LADIES: Queen Quality, Zeigler Bros., Cinderella, Allnut Moody, Drew, Selby & Co.

All of these are good ones in their class and have reputations established on merit, but the burden of our story is simply Shoes, and not the maker—trust us for that and we will always give you full value for your money or cheerfully refund you the same. Think over our proposition, come and see us and let us more fully explain and show you that we mean business and we feel sure that you will find that our interests are mutual. Yours for Shoes,
