SPRING OPENINGS.

Lovely Display of New Spring Hats At Salisbury's Millinery Establishments.

Mrs. George W. Taylor and Mrs. Samuel Lowenthal gave their Spring Millinery Openings Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The weather has been balmy and spring like and the Openings were largely attended by the ladies of Salisbury, and vicinity, who delighted in inspecting the new Spring styles.

There is something very delightful about these millinery displays in spring, with their rich array of bloom and blossom, dainty colorings and soft light materials. A noticeable feature in the patterns shown is the extremely flat effects, some having, seemingly, no crown at all. Fruit trimmings are also in great favor and are used in great abundance.

Mrs. Taylor's establishment, on the East side of Main Street, was very prettily decorated for the occasion and her assortment of pattern hats was varied and stylish. Much satisfaction was expressed by her many visitors and "Opening Days" were pronounced a success in every way. Pink and green were the colors used in decorating. The windows were very attractive, especially the fruit window, where every variety of this popular trimming was displayed. Among the patterns shown were:

The Calla Lily hat of Colonial shape tuscan straw, trimmed with black rib bon velvet and long jet buckle. The lilies were arranged on upper side of brim.

The Sweet Pea hat was of rainbow braid which blended with the trimmings of sweet pea and knotted ribbon in the rainbow shades. The under brim was faced with folds of white chiffon.

The much admired violet hat had a foliage crown and underbrim with broad edge of violets. At the back was a cluster of violets and purple ribbon.

A large flat hat of red straw with brim draped with red ribbon, knotted, and trimmed with large bunches of red geraniums, was quite pretty.

At Lowenthal's everything was in rich array for Opening days. The decorations in the millinery room were yards of Dresden ribbon draped over the arches and windows with potted plants, daisies and poppies. The millinery window also had the Dresden decoration with baskets of cherries and grapes and beautiful flowers and trimmings.

The hats called forth exclamations of admiration and a number of sales were made.

Among the most noticeable were: A ribbon hat, crown made of straw colored and white ribbon with white and green hops drooping over brim.

The blue Forget me not hat made entirely of forget me-nots and blue straw with facing of elegant lace and tiny rose buds.

A handsome black hat made of maline and rose braid with facing of jet fitter trimming and aigrette.

Messrs. R. E. Powell & Co. who also conduct a large millinery establishment announce their opening for Thursday and Friday of next week. They have secured Prof. Weber's Grand Orchestra, of Baltimore, to furnish music for the occasion.

S. H. Morris announces his Millinery Opening April 9th and 10th.

Sirman—Woolper.

Mr. George E. Sirman, Jr., of this city, and Miss Elvorne R. Woolper, of Baltimore, were married last Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the East Baltimore Station Methodist Episcopal Church, 2106 East Baltimore St., Baltimore. Rev. Robert M. Moore officiated. Miss Kathinka A. Rose was bridesmaid and Mr. George T. Woolper was best man. The bride wore a gown of white mull and the bridesmaid wore Paris mullin, the bride carrying bride roses and the bridesmaid pink carnations. The ceremony was followed by a reception at 3012 Fairmount avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Sirman arrived in Salisbury Thursday night, and will for the present reside with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sirman, on Park avenue.

SOME MORE REFLECTIONS

Upon the Issue of 1902. No Excuse of Democratic Corruption. The Responsibility of Purifying Republican Corruption and Where It Lies.

Messrs. Editors:—Why the organ of the Republican Congressman, should have issued what it calls a "challenge," to me to enter into another combat by announcing myself as a candidate for the Legislature against his nominees, I do not understand, unless it is because it or he thinks I have not the courage to accept the challenge. Why should I court the "defeat" which it says awaits me "if nominated?" However it is my fervent hope that I shall never exhibit the moral cowardice and criminal boldness of the Republican campaign of last fall. It seems to me we ought to teach our young men to have the courage of their conscientious convictions, and not be afraid of the consequences. He was not challenged last year, but was waited upon privately by me and requested to make it an anti bribery campaign. I did this in pursuance of a promise or declaration made by him to a mutual friend two or three days before my nomination, that if nominated I would make such a campaign and that he would "meet me or help me in it." It is enough to say that he did not do so, without putting in print his reply, notwithstanding my appeal to him to do so, for the sake of his reputation, for the sake of a long standing friendship, and for the sake of an honest effort to reform political conditions in this District. This offer of cooperation for the "suppression of bribery," was repeated by the Democratic Campaign Committee, in an open letter, to which he replied in an "open letter," assigning as an apology for republican corruption, that the Democratic party had been a party of bribery and corruption for thirty five years." This was not a new discovery made after his promise to aid me in conducting an honest campaign, for as a member of that party for 30 years prior to 1898, he had opportunity of knowing its wickedness, and did in fact know it at that time. I must be permitted to say that while I did not seek nor actually desire the nomination, yet coming the way it did, and with a full conscience that he would do as he said, it was accepted with much gratification and cheerfulness, as an opportunity to help in a much needed political reform. He knew, that with me, honesty was a necessity, and therefore there was no great degree of credit due, and while he also admitted my honesty of purpose, he affected to believe others would pour out their treasures to elect me, when I was in every speech appealing to them not to do so.

That the party did what it was asked, and what it pledged itself to do, no person will deny. What a rare opportunity he had in that campaign to show his and his party's strength and virtue, and of doing a lasting good to the people. Was he equal to the emergency? Let the general reputation of his conduct and his "open letter" answer. It is true, as he said that I could not "control" my party, but it did control itself which is better. He could have, and still can "control" his party. What a mighty responsibility, as well as opportunity!

This same editorial says "Mr. Ellegood does not represent the ethical views of the Democratic party." What views does he represent? He does represent about 150 colored voters, but in display in the last campaign of "ethical views" in his party organization of political methods must have been microscopic, at least they were not in the light of "virtue."

New doubts I shall be again asked by that organ of claiming that "all the virtue is monopolized by the Democratic party." Unfortunately it is not so, for any democrat who would assert the innocence of his party, would exhibit a conduct that was unbecomingly, but still not equal to that of former Democratic leaders, who after having helped to drag that party from its high estate afterwards carried their crooked practices into Republican ranks and then crooked their fingers at crooked methods and crooked members in the party of old associates. Frankness compels me to admit that prior to 1898, bribery in the Republican party in this county, was usual, but I do not believe that any fair minded republican will declare that there has been an election since, without the buying of votes by them, while in 1896, 1900 and 1902 it was almost, if not quite unknown among Democrats.

It is hard to understand how a Democrat or a Republican can condemn bribery in one breath and condone it in the next; say they are opposed to it and yet promote it. Actions speak louder than words. Honesty knows no party lines; Corruption knows no party principle; Dishonesty knows no party allegiance and no patriotism, and he who engages in these practices disregards every man's rights.

I have tried to be as impartial in all my exhibition of the "shameless crime" of bribery as an honest and open principle; Dishonesty knows no party allegiance and no patriotism, and he who engages in these practices disregards every man's rights.

WICOMICO'S TEACHERS.

Again Assemble At The High School And Are Edified By An Instructive And Sociable Session.

The Teachers' Association was again in session last Saturday. The attendance was very good, their being about seven eights of the teachers present. The meeting was called to order promptly at ten o'clock.

After the preliminary opening exercises, Miss Beatrice Robertson led an interesting and instructive "Round Table on Attention." Prof. Spencer of Baltimore gave a very profitable talk on "Methods of keeping the older pupils at school." Prof. Oswald closed the morning session with a talk on drawing.

The afternoon session opened with a "Round Table" on Reading, conducted by Miss May Beachamp and Miss Cora Gillis ably illustrated with a class of pupils how to conduct a lesson in reading.

The Association very much enjoyed a vocal solo by Miss Wilkie Woodcock, and the reading of a selection by Miss Maria Ellegood. Miss Ada L. Scott led a "Round Table" on Science and Mr. Huffington another on Pedagogy.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Association out of respect to Miss Elizabeth Hearn, who was one of Wicomico's most successful teachers.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas it has pleased Our Heavenly Father to remove from us one of our most highly esteemed members and fellow teachers, Elizabeth Hearn, and believing that an all wise Providence, knowing what is best for His children doeth all things well, we most humbly submit to His will.

Resolved, That our deceased fellow-worker was a dutiful daughter, a kind and loving sister, a faithful friend and an efficient teacher, and by her death this Association has lost an honored and trustworthy member.

Resolved, That the community in which she lived, as well as the cause of education, has sustained an irretrievable loss in the beautiful character of Miss Hearn.

Resolved, That we ever cherish her memory and emulate her example of true Christianity.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Wicomico Teacher's Association and that a copy be sent to the family of our deceased co-laborer, and that the sympathy of Wicomico Teachers Association be extended to her bereaved family.

Fleming Gets 10 Years.

March Court for Wicomico County adjourned Tuesday morning. The petit Jurors were discharged Monday morning.

Henry Fleming, colored, indicted for deadly assault on Thomas Bennett Feb. 22, was tried before the Court Monday and sentenced by Judge Holland to 10 years in the penitentiary. Sufficient evidence was lacking in the cases of Edward Rock and Samuel Morris, both colored, indicted for complicity in the assault, to convict them.

Fred Hudson, colored, was found guilty of carrying concealed weapons and sentenced to jail 4 months. Ware Elsey, colored was found guilty of same offense, and sentenced to jail for 2 months.

Sixty witnesses were examined and 24 true bills found by the Grand Jury for the March term of the Circuit Court. The following were the committees appointed to inspect the public buildings of the county and report on their condition: Court House, Messrs. G. H. Taylor, John W. Messick; Humphrey Dykes. Alms House: Messrs. Willis F. Ward, T. W. Venables. Jail: Messrs. Granville R. Dashiell, W. T. Phillips, W. A. Kennerly.

Attention was called to some urgent and needed repairs and suggestion made for improvements. The Alms House Committee reported its inmates to be 5 male and 2 female white, 4 male and 5 female colored, "all well cared for."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Williams Entertain.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Williams, on Main Street, presented a very pleasing and attractive scene Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Williams entertained a large number of their many friends. The home was very prettily and tastefully decorated with bridal wreath and potted plants. The color scheme of the dining-room was pink, and the artistic arrangement of the smilax and carnations gave the room a most charming effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Williams and Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Morris assisted Mr. and Mrs. Williams in receiving. In the library were Mrs. T. E. Martindale, Mrs. W. J. Downing and Miss Edna Owens; while Misses Bessie Ellegood, Wilkie Woodcock, Sarah Wallis, Mary Cooper Smith, Mamie Gillis and Emma Wood looked after the comfort of the guests in the dining-room. Mrs. L. S. Bell presided at the tea table.

BATES MEMORIAL CHURCH

New House of Worship to be Dedicated in Snow Hill.

The new Methodist Protestant church at Snow Hill will be dedicated with appropriate services next Sunday. As the dedication immediately follows the Methodist Protestant Conference, which begins its sessions at Pocomoke City today, a large attendance of the ministers is expected.
Rev. Avery Donovan, the present pastor, was appointed to this charge three years ago. Since that time the denomination, in addition to the new church, has built a handsome parsonage of pressed brick and stone at a cost of $3,000. It is a modern and convenient building and one of the most desirable residences of its size in the town. The new church, Bates Memorial, was commenced in 1901 and was completed last year. It stands at the corner of Market and Washington streets, the most beautiful site in the town for a church. The Bates Memorial is built of gray brick and Port Deposit granite, with heavy galvanized iron cornice and slate roof. The auditorium is almost round, with the choir loft just back of the pulpit. The ceiling is dome shape. Heavy oak pews are in the auditorium and chairs in the other rooms. It is lighted by electricity and heated throughout by a modern steam boiler. The building is 60 by 85 feet and cost about $17,000.

A Powellville Romance.

Returns of the strawberry laden basket brought content last season, to many people of Powellville township, and happiness to one person, (a girl) at least, in the shape of a man from Boston. It is not to be presumed that this Knight came all the way from Boston in the strawberry basket, as the quart size is the largest used, and that would not hold a man large enough to qualify as a Knight to a Powellville lady; and it is rumored that the lady that made this strawberry basket with her own hands, and penciled her name and address thereon, said,—"It is ridiculous to suppose that a quart basket will hold my Knight, when his heart alone is as large as a bushel basket." The kind used to measure corn in this section.
The man in this story is Christus G. Giannou Xetosos Javou, of Boston, and the woman was Nora Rayne of Powellville, Md. They were married Monday, March 30, 1908, at home, the Rev. H. B. Kelso officiating, and the bridegroom was so overwhelmed with ecstatic joy, it is reported, he forgot to pay the preacher.
"Where there is a will, there is a way." Though Powellville has no river or brook that "goes on forever" to carry the oft mentioned bottle missive, they have a strawberry basket factory, and it is at the service of sweet sixteen as well as old maids.

Lettuce And Smallpox.

Lettuce is an absolute preventive of smallpox. No one is in the least particle of danger of catching smallpox who eats a little lettuce every day. Smallpox belongs to the scorbatic class of diseases. Sailors at sea, deprived of fresh vegetables, get scurvy. Scurvy is a typical scorbatic disease. Smallpox is another. Smallpox always rages during the winter season, when the poor people are deprived of fresh vegetable foods. Celery and onions are good for this purpose, but there is such a long interval between their being gathered and being eaten that they lose most of their antiscorbatic properties. Lettuce is served shortly after it is picked and hence contains the valuable properties which will prevent smallpox. We say without the least hesitation or reserve that lettuce will prevent smallpox. It is a thousand times better than vaccination. It has no liabilities, like vaccination, to produce other diseases. We are willing to stake our professional reputation on the broad statement that anyone who eats lettuce daily will not catch smallpox whether he be vaccinated or not.
[Notwithstanding the above there will be few who will feel small-pox proof without an insertion of the virus of vaccinia properly applied.]

Crumbs From Our Study Table.

Sin is the great mystery of the world. We cannot truthfully say that it is a necessary evil. Neither can we affirm that God could not prevent it. Nor can we declare that God is indifferent towards it. For some inscrutable reason it has the divine permission. Like a great, ugly, black cloud, it has come into being, and spread itself over the sky of human life; but behind it is the outshining of omniscient Love; and in the end God will conquer. Instead of seeking to dissolve the darkness, let us patiently wait for the triumphant light to burst through the gloom. God cannot be defeated.

"The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." Who said that? Not Luke; he only recorded the statement. The words fell from the lips of the Son of man Himself. What fine words they are! No great orator ever pronounced anything more striking or beautiful. They are brighter than sunbeams. They are sweeter than honey. They are more musical than a bar of melody from the score of a Mozart.

If there were more men and women today as anxious to see Jesus as was Zaccheus, there would be more conversions in the Church. In these times it is almost necessary to plant trees around Christianity and place step ladders against them for easy mounting. But with all our modern appliances for getting sinners into the kingdom of God but comparatively few are persuaded to make use of them.

For sincere sorrow over sin God has all the tenderness of a mother towards a hurt child. For those who have broken His laws, and wandered far, far away, but who turn their faces homeward again, and whose lips tremble with confession, there are the outstretched arms of forgiveness, the kiss of welcome, if he seeks his seeking Father.

That conception of God which makes Him all love is only a partial and distorted view of His character. For sin that does not blossom with repentance He has all the severity of a judge towards a hardened and incorrigible criminal. God is also justice. Hell is a logical necessity.

Take the fact of God's absolute sovereignty out of the Bible, and that Book becomes a collection of worthless leaves; it becomes a temple in ashes; its music runs wild into jangling dis cord.

Eternity! There is no human brain that can wrap its thought about that word. There is no earthly imagination that can fly around the immensity of its circle, however strong may be the beat of its wings. The very word paralyzes thought and keeps fancy to the ground. It is a deep well into which the wisest of mankind have dropped the stones of inquiry; but no sound has ever come back to tell that their questionings have struck the bottom. Listening, they have heard naught but silence. Looking down into the depths of it, they have seen nothing but thick and impenetrable darkness. Eternity belongs to the vocabulary of God. Only He is able to comprehend its meaning.

There is no story so thrilling as the simple story of the Cross. It has come breathing its love through nearly nineteen centuries of time, and yet it is as fresh and tender and inspiring today as when it first warmed human hearts. The Alps, the Andes, the Pyrenees, the Sierra Nevada, though they wear upon their crest the everlasting snow of the ages, are all as nothing in comparison with one little hilltop outside the walls of Jerusalem. Calvary is earth's highest point; its surmounting Cross is the one majestic object in the view of generations of mankind.

Gospel! That is a word that vibrates with melody. It is God's spell. It is God's letter of love to a rebel race. It is a telegram of love flashed out of God's breast. It is the song of angels floating through the air; a chime of bells pealing the richest strains; a cluster of brooks winding in silver threads and purring musically over the stones that lie in their course. It is everything that is bright and beautiful. To many minds it is the opposite. A subject with frowns upon its face; a neuralgic twist of the nerves; an asthmatic breath; graveyards; everything that is dark and doleful and distressing. But the Bible picture of it is painted with rainbow hues, and the canvas is charged with gladness.

What was it that brought Christ to our world? It is one of the meanest and most insignificant worlds in the universe—a mere dewdrop among the flaming constellations. What brought Him? Not ambition, but love—a love that was both willing and able to suffer humiliation and scorn and persecution and death. Greater love hath no man than this.

The statement of Christ is a sea upon which we may launch our ships of theologic thought and let them sail away and away and away, only to find no shore. The philosophy of the atonement is a profound mystery to the greatest human mind. God keeps the secret locked within His own brain. But this much we know, and this much the most illiterate can understand, that God loved His heart to the gaze of the nations.

Careless speech in regard to crosses often make a cross seem trifling. We sometimes talk lightly of small annoyances as our little crosses. There is no such thing as a little cross. The very word cross is suggestive of weight, of shame, of lingering agony, and of the grave. To bear a cross is to follow with bloody feet in the footsteps of Christ. That means a going to some Golgotha for crucifixion. But beyond every Golgotha is the silver daybreak of the Easter morning and a shattered tomb. Cross and Crown! What a theme! The union of two opposites! Crucifixion preparatory to coronation! Calvary the door to the throne-room! Suffering first; then joy. A note of pain and privation in the minor key; then a full-chorded hallelujah. Self denial with a burden on the back; then erect manhood in a palace.

Worry is the devil of many a Christian life. Sometimes it is sheltered in the mind. Sometimes the imp is seated in the heart. Oftener it has its abode in the gall-duet of the liver. When it is lodged at this last named point it has the greatest virulence, and poisons the whole being. But wherever it is situated, it is always and everywhere a spirit that works mischief. Those possessed of it sin against God.

Faith looks up to God as the flowers look up to the sun, gathering from Him beauty of bloom and fragrance of heart. Faith has more than an eagle's keenness of vision and more than an eagle's power of wing. It discerns the unseen, and ceases not its flight until it folds its pinions at the throne of God.

Eight out of ten whose eyes are much defective consult five or six oculists before they find a competent experienced eye specialist who is practical and can give their eyes relief. Mr. J. T. Doyle, canal gate keeper, Hancock, Md., called on two oculists in Baltimore who recommended to be the best; they informed him that his left eye was no better than a leather eye.

During Dr. Woodcock's stay in Dr. A. P. Chapman's drug store in Tarentum, Pa., a prominent minister of the Methodist Church had vertigoes; two physicians had treated him without success and recommended him to call on Dr. Woodcock, but he had decided he did not need or care for glasses.

Dr. Woodcock has examined and helped 20,000 eyes, most of them have been given up by other specialists, we can produce the names and address of most of them. Mr. Miller who has one of the finest jewelry stores on Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., claims he will not sell spectacles any more for he thinks he does much harm if he would continue to fit glasses.

Mr. Frank L. Fry, Druggist, Manor, Pa., DEAR SIR:—This is to introduce Dr. Woodcock. I think he is the greatest doctor in the country in writing prescriptions for glasses to be made, will restore the eyesight, cure headaches, nervousness, crossoyes made straight, etc.

Wm. Johnson, Druggist, Millsboro, Del. DEAR SIR:—Will you permit me to introduce Dr. Woodcock to your notice. He has been coming here for quite some time and the people find him proficient and courteous and gives perfect satisfaction, always doing his business in my store. I am very sincerely, I. L. Dirickson, Banker and Druggist, Berlin, Md.

Sole of Our Spectacles.

CHINCOTEAGUE, VA., Jan. 10, 1903.—The Chicago Optical Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. have been victimized in several towns on shore by the clever ruse of two Hebrews named J. Bonin and H. Rothman, traveling opticians of 7313 Fawc St., Philadelphia. Dr. J. L. Woodcock, who represents the Chicago Co. has been traveling the shore for years making trips semi-annually and on arriving in town distributes circulars among the people announcing his arrival with headquarters at the leading drugstore. After the town is billed, the Hebrews struck out with their packs working the town from door to door and asking the lady of the house if they had received their circular and at the same time purporting to represent the Chicago Co. They succeeded in disposing of a quantity of their spectacles which are generally cheap and inferior.

PROTESTANT CONFERENCE

Annual Conference in Session At Pocomoke City.

The Maryland Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church began its seventy fifth session in Bethany Methodist Protestant Church, Pocomoke City, Wednesday.

Rev. F. T. Little was re-elected president and Rev. W. S. Phillips secretary.

Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College preached the conference sermon. Rev. J. M. Holmes will preach the ordination sermon on Sunday morning, at which time Rev. F. J. Phillips, Rev. W. N. Sherwood, Rev. E. P. Perry and Rev. E. H. Jones will likely be ordained elders.

There are nine candidates for admittance into the conference, as follows: D. M. Dibble, P. W. Crosby, F. P. Kraus Claiborne Phillips, R. L. Shipley, E. L. Buror, H. C. Staley, W. J. F. Litsinger and George J. Hooker.

Rev. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College, who preached the conference sermon, gave a historical review of the Methodist Protestant Church. He gave reasons for the smallness of the church numerically, and emphasized the dominance of the Methodist Protestant idea throughout the Christian church. The smallness of the church mattered little, he said, so long as there was faithful performance of duty. The Bible does not condemn denominational differences, but rather expects them; it lays stress upon the unity of spirit, not of organization. The divine idea is one flock in many folds.

The growth of the Methodist Protestant Church has been over 700 per cent. Its present membership was 181,000, but these figures did not represent the actual work of the church, with its church papers, educational institutions, 1,600 ministers and 2,400 churches; God's favor being shown in the progress of the church, the giving of the Kingdom.

Mr. Burbage was 55 years old and leaves a widow and nine children, five by a former marriage, Mrs. Grant Dennis, Mrs. Edward Williams, Miss Myra Burbage, Mr. Ernest E. Burbage of the firm of Burbage, Powell & Co., of Berlin, Mr. Raymond H. Burbage of Philadelphia—four by his last marriage, Misses Ada and Maggie, Master Ralph and Preston. One sister Mrs. Alfred Townsend of New Hope died of Typhoid just a week before his death. Another sister, Mrs. Belle Beathards survives him.

Shouting Christians.

Some Christians, who formerly shouted, no longer do so. Some never shouted. Some do not approve of it; others are never well, never in buoyant, hopeful spirits, so don't feel like it. Rev. Jno. S. Rush, Yellow Creek, Pa., says: "Victor Liver Syrup is still healing the sick. It seems as if God's blessing is upon it. Listen, women that have been sick for years are now at work and singing God's praises, and men are living a new and happier life. Good reports from the Victor Remedies everywhere." Lacy Thoroughgood is Anxious to Sell Clothing and Hats. That's a Fact. THE NUFANGL TROUSERS. It goes without saying that the place to go to buy clothing is that place where people are anxious to sell. It is an axiom that has almost become a proverb in this community, that if you want to buy good goods cheap you should go to Lacy Thoroughgood's. There are more cheats in clothing than in most anything you buy, and most of these cheats, while in plain, are so well done that they are out of sight. Shoddy clothing is frequent, cotton suits are plentiful. Lacy Thoroughgood's clothing is absolutely pure wool, very seldom a strand of cotton. Lacy Thoroughgood buys 'em that way and when he gets them to the maker, Lacy Thoroughgood guarantees every suit he sells to be just as represented. It has taken near seventeen years to establish and build up this clothing business so great, so solid, that it extends into every nook and corner, every section and in every direction of and in Salisbury. Lacy Thoroughgood places on sale this week all new Spring Clothing for Men, Boys and Children. It's about now when you wonder if a pair of trousers will help finish that good coat and vest. Generally they will. Thoroughgood bought heavily in odd trousers and now they come pouring in on him until he is simply swamped with them. A pair of trousers is the one garment of a man's outward attire that is worn a greater part of the day than any other, and its fit and appearance are therefore to be considered the most important. Think of the comfort of being able to let the waist out after dinner or take it in when you want to pull yourself together. Thoroughgood has the exclusive sale of these NUFANGL trousers for Salisbury. They are made in every fabric and size and retailed at popular prices. Once worn for a single day means no other kind to the wearer ever. Think it over when you want a new pair of spring pants. Come and look at them anyway, wont you? Pants are made for men and not women. Lacy Thoroughgood SALISBURY, MD.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

Chicago, March 29.—This sermon administers a severe rebuke to fault finders, gossips, slanders and scandal mongers and shows by contrast how Christlike it is to be generously silent rather than censorious in dealing with the weaknesses of others.

"Silence," once wrote a trenchant and poetic author, "is only music asleep." By the grace of God I would prove that gospel silence may be musical without being always somnolent.

There is great excitement in the Davidean camp. A sentinel sees a courier at full speed running down the valley. Coming nearer, he calls out with panting voice: "Tidings, my lord—tidings for the new king!"

The golden lips of gospel silence are often just as important for our spiritual development as the silver tongue of speech. Joseph Addison, the great English author and critic, once gave a description of his feelings when listening to a masterpiece rendered by a noted orchestra.

Scandals Publish Themselves. The golden lips of gospel silence should remain closed because, as a rule, it is not necessary to emphasize scandals. Scandals are always loud voiced. They publish themselves.

Golden Lips of Silence. The golden lips of gospel silence never banquet upon carrion. We know that a beautiful physical body has to draw its strength from clean provender.

Reaching For Lofty Ideals. A man cannot lift himself up by pulling at his boot straps. He must have a pure ideal to draw him out of himself.

virtues. Let others, if they will, advertise the good. We will only speak about the good. The golden lips of gospel silence never foolishly whisper sinful tales into the ears of wrongdoers by which they shall try to justify their own sins.

What is true in reference to the infection of a good example is also true of the infection of a bad example. Some of the toll keepers in New Zealand have trained sheep, which, for a small consideration, they let out to the sheep drivers to lead their flocks of sheep across the rivers which span the rivers or the ravines.

For liver troubles and constipation There's nothing better in creation Than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They always effect a cure and save doctor bills.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP.

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it not only to be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by all dealers.

It has been announced that Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, Rear Admiral Chas. D. Sigbee, Gen. John M. Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by All Druggists. Danger of Colds and Grip. The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

The Harford Democrat reports a rich vein of malachite, having been located west of Delta, underlying several farms. Good for Children. The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. People Believe in It. It has been cynically said that anything can be sold by advertising now-a-days. This is not so. Many liniments have been advertised but only one—Perry Davis' Painkiller—has stood the test of sixty years' use. To-day its popularity is greater than ever and is based not upon what anybody says but upon what the remedy does. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

Letter To W. S. Gordy.

Dear Sir: Your business is, when a house burns down to give the owner some money to build a new one. It is a good business. I wonder that the world got on so long without it.

We paint the one that burnt down and the new one too. What is better, we paint the house that don't burn down. You insure the house that burn; we insure the house that don't burn. You have the ashes and I have the business.

We paint the house that burn; we insure the house that don't burn. You have the ashes and I have the business.

Lead and lead paint and lead paint. Devils is a ground in with the lead and lined in the lead paint in the world; and the cheap, because it takes fewer pains that mixed paints and it wears twice as long as lead and oil. Nobody wants poor paint; there's lots of it, though, in the world.

A. M. Griffin of Plainfield, N. J. writes: Mr. Aaron Higgins, of Plainfield, always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last Spring he bought 17 gallons of Devco and had 17 gallons left.

Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co., New York. P. S.—L. W. Gunby sells our paint.

By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.

Due Notice is Served. Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. A Wonderful Invention.

It is interesting to note that fortunes are frequently made by the invention of articles of minor importance. Many of the most popular devices are those designed to benefit the people and not the pocket of the inventor.

The Dr. White Electric Comb, patented Jan. 1, 1890. These wonderful combs positively cure dandruff, hair falling out, sick and nervous headaches, and when used in connection with Dr. White's Electric Hair Brush are positively guaranteed to make straight hair curly in 25 days' time.

Thousands of these electric combs have been sold in various cities of the Union, and the demand is constantly increasing. Our combs are rapidly becoming rich selling these combs. They positively sell on sight. Send for sample. Men's size 35c, ladies' 50c—half price while we are introducing them. See want column of this paper. The Dr. White Electric Comb Co., Deconter, Ill.

An interesting fact brought out in the presiding elders' report at the Methodist Episcopal Conference at Easton is that out of the 51 Sundays since last Conference, 28 of them have been stormy. This is an unparalleled proportion.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weak and the blood impoverished.

The stomach can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

A Friend Indeed. We never forget a benefactor or a Doctor who brings us from the pit of the grave. Why should we? Gratitude is one of the noblest of the graces. Do you think Mrs. Whitely, Montpelier, Ind., will ever forget Victor Liver Syrup? She says "After spending One Hundred and Fifty Dollars with Doctors and patent medicines I was cured of a bad case of Liver Complaint and Female Trouble by using only 2 bottles of Victor Liver Syrup." So little, yet so valuable for health. Sold everywhere.

A WORD TO FARM TOILERS. PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND The Home Friend of the Farmer and His Family.

After the labor and toils of the summer time, and harvesting of crops in the early autumn, many of our farmers, their wives, daughters, and sons, find themselves in a condition of health demanding careful attention if suffering is to be avoided later on. Many experience the kidney trouble in some form; with some the liver is torpid; there is biliousness, nausea, and vomiting, with loss of appetite and depression of spirits. Thousands who have been exposed to cold, damp winds and rains while toiling in the harvest fields, now feel the twinges of terrible rheumatism; others run down by worry, overwork, and irregular dieting, are tormented with the pangs of dyspepsia.

To the thousands of run down, sickly, and half dead men and women in farm homes we recommend with all honesty and confidence the worker's friend, Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine that can quickly and fully restore strength to the weak body and vigor to the muscles. Paine's Celery Compound tones the stomach; it removes poisonous acids from the blood which cause rheumatism; it feeds the weak and diseased nerves and banishes neuralgic tortures; it purifies the blood and gives true vitality and life. The use of Paine's Celery Compound in autumn means the establishing of a perfect physical vigor to withstand the rigors of a severe winter.

A Stormy April Forecasted

Hicks, the weather prophet, makes the following predictions for April. From 1st to 3rd change to warmer, rain, followed by cooler weather. From 9th to 11th thunder storms will prevail, with dangerous squalls and tornadoes. At the break up of this period snow and sleet are not improbably in northern extremes and quite cool weather and frosty nights will spread far into the central, if not into the southern states.

Centering on the 13th and 14th will come reactions from the anti-storm conditions which followed the previous period. Change to warmer falling barometer softer sky and cloudy, south winds and April showers will probably result from these reactionary movements. A storm period is central on the 19th, reaching from the 17th to 21st. On the 16th well defined storm areas will be organized in western parts and as they move eastward many April thunder showers will visit most states during 20th and 21st.

A storm period is central on 24th and 25th. The temperature will rise to summer warmth, a high degree of humidity will be indicated by the hydrometer the barometer will fall, and April showers will widen into extreme areas of rain and thunder storms. Moon is on the celestial equator on the 24th, two days ahead of new Moon, the tendency to a electrical storms about the 24th, will not subside, and the low barometer and high temperature will, in all probability continue, up to the 27th, when storm condition will culminate, and high barometer and change much cooler, will come from the northwest. Two or three frosty nights are quite probable at the end of these storms.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their teens are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

RESOLUTIONS AGAINST BRIBERY.
The following resolutions concerning bribery at the polls were adopted:
Whereas, The report has been widely circulated, and by many persons believed, that the practice of buying and selling votes prevails to a large extent in portions of the territory embraced in the Maryland Conference; and
Whereas, Such practice is demoralizing, degrading both the buyer and the seller, and strikes at the very foundation of American principles of liberty and the right of the majority to rule; and
Whereas, It is alleged that this pernicious practice is becoming more common, and even professors of religion are involved in it; therefore, be it Resolved, That this Conference unites with all enlightened and patriotic citizens in condemning a practice so unbecoming and injurious; and it calls upon all voters, especially those embraced in Christian churches, and the Methodist Protestant Church in particular, to abstain from, discourage, and in all righteous ways to oppose the practice thus condemned; and further, while it expresses the hope that no member of the Methodist Protestant Church has justly incurred rebuke in the matter referred to, it admonishes all, that taking or offering bribes, under any circumstances, subjects the offender to arraignment for immorality and such righteous discipline as the church in accordance with its declared principles may see fit to inflict.

These resolutions were first offered by C. M. Collum and J. F. Bryan and submitted to a committee, of which J. J. Murray was chairman, and amended as above.

Regal Shoes Coming to Town.
The manufacturers of the celebrated Regal Shoe have adopted a novel method of supplying Regals to those who live away from the big cities in which their stores are located. The plan is as simple as it is effective. A Regal representative is traveling through the country, stopping for a day in each important town or city. He carries with him a complete line of Regal Shoes and takes orders for what the shoe wearers want, thus giving them the opportunity of selecting from the newest styles the shoes that fit them perfectly. The Regal man will be at the Peninsula Hotel, Salisbury, April 17th and 18th.

Advertiser is Their Choice.
"We attribute a generous portion of the success of the Regal Shoe to liberal, persistent newspaper advertising. From the earliest days of the Regal's history we have kept its merits before the people through the columns of the leading newspapers in the cities where we have stores.
"We do not believe in spasmodic advertising, nor in a space so small that a magnifying glass is needed to find it. Wherever a Regal ad appears you may be sure that we have carefully considered the merits of the publication and have determined that it will pay us to use it."
Statement to Newspapers by E. J. Biles, managing director of the Regal Shoe Company.

EASTER DISPLAYS.
Fine Millinery and Enticing Music Draw Large Crowds to the Store of Messrs. R. E. Powell & Company.
Thursday and Friday of this week were gala days in the history of the above named firm. On both days their large establishment was crowded with the fair sex, drawn hither by their Easter Opening.
Their store was very elaborately decorated in honor of the occasion, the color effect of the millinery parlors was white and green, potted plants being used in great profusion. Blue and pink were used on the first floor and the effect was very pretty.
The west window was quite tastefully trimmed with hats, etc., the color effect being violet and white; while the east window was given up to the latest designs in dress goods and trimmings.
On both days Weber's Orchestra gave four concerts each day, which were greatly enjoyed by the crowds present.
The piano used was a Kimball and was furnished by Prof. W. T. Dashiell.
A hat greatly admired was an old gold, all lace hat trimmed in small clusters of roses. It has a long scarf of lace tied with roses and hangs down in the back.
A hat that was highly spoken of by all was a white maline hat with solid tuck facing of same. Crown of white satin braid and maline with wreath of pink moss rose buds and leaves. Drapery in back of maline and ribbon ball rosettes. A bridal wreath of ribbon rosettes on facing is especially fetching.
A novel hat on display was an all pink hat, the straw being put on very full crown made entirely of roses, trimmed with pink Louise ribbon.

AT BIRCHHEAD & SHOCKLEY'S.
The special Easter display of dress goods, white goods and fancy goods at Birchhead & Shockley's was the most elaborate ever shown by the new firm, their windows being handsomely decorated. The west window was artistically trimmed with foreign and domestic table linens the east one with novelties in silk madras, imported chevils and laces. This firm is now exhibiting a wide range of styles and prices in dress goods and wash goods. Their opening was a success and they attribute their large sales to exceptionally low prices.

Decision Against Fire Insurance Co.
Judge Page on Saturday, in Princess Anne, heard the case of Mrs. J. Fenner Lee against the Equitable Fire Insurance Company of Snow Hill, Md. This suit was brought to recover the amount of two policies, each for $1,000, on property destroyed by fire belonging to Mrs. Lee in St. Mary's county, Md. Planning For The '03 Season. Circular Issued by The Secretary Suggesting Desirable Improvements.
Secretary A. F. Benjamin has issued the following circular letter inviting membership to the Salisbury Country Club which expects to open up this year's season as soon as favorable weather conditions prevail.
"The Salisbury Country Club, in re-organizing for golf during the coming summer and fall, has formulated plans as detailed below and respectfully solicits that you become a member. The dues are, for men, $10.00; for ladies, $3.00, for the year.
These dues, in the case of the ladies, are for individual membership. For a man it includes the privileges of the grounds for himself and a member of his immediate family. For illustration a member paying $10 is allowed to invite his wife, sister or one of his children—different persons on different occasions, as he may choose—but can only invite one member of his family at a time.
On a membership card held either by a lady or gentlemen, a friend or friends, residents of Salisbury, may have the privileges of the grounds not often than four times each month, upon the payment of the fee of 15 cents each time. Friends who are non-residents are allowed the privileges of the grounds free.
It has been arranged to put the grounds in as good condition as possible, considering their nature. The greens and fair-grounds approaching them will be kept clean and smooth. The mid-field will be rolled, and kept rolled. The grass will be kept up at all times throughout the entire season. One man and one animal are to be kept constantly at work on the course, to keep it in condition.
A bus line will be run to the grounds daily, as often as is required (to begin as soon as the grounds are in use), at a cost of 5 cents each way for each person. For this service tickets will be sold and either a ticket or the cash must be paid the driver on each trip. This bus will leave White & Leonard's drug store at times to be arranged later.
There will be a house provided, that will be kept locked, in which clubs and other paraphernalia may be kept safely. If sufficient interest is shown, a small club house consisting of two rooms, one for ladies and one for men, with verandas and suitable furniture will be erected during the month of May. This house will be of sufficient size to accommodate a good sized party and will be so arranged that small functions, that are usual at such places, may be given there.
The plans are outlined in such detail in the foregoing in order that they may be thoroughly understood and in the hope that you may become interested. If you will kindly communicate your decision in the matter to the Secretary at an early date it will be appreciated, as the carrying out of these plans depend upon the membership. By order of the Committee. Respectfully,
A. F. BENJAMIN, Secretary.

THE REGAL SHOE

All Styles, $3.50

A representative of this famous shoe, direct from headquarters, will be in SALISBURY AT THE PENINSULA HOTEL APRIL 17 & 18 with a full line of sample Regal Shoes, showing the new spring styles in lace and button shoes and Oxfords.

Regals are fac-similes of the styles being made this spring by the high-priced smart custom bootmakers in New York, London and Paris. When you buy Regals you get style while it is style—not a year later.

Regals are made in all standard leathers—King Calf, King Kid, Patent and Enameled, etc., etc.

A new leather, used exclusively in Regal Shoes, is Regal "VALVIC" Calf—the only leather tanned in accordance with the laws of nature—with the pores open to perform their natural work of letting off perspiration as freely as created, and automatically keeping out the WET on the outside.

"Sweaty" feet are thus relieved, and the general health of the entire system is improved.

"VALVIC" callskin is as POROUS as cloth—TOUGH as wire—SOFT as a glove—WATERPROOF as Cravenette.

The removable seal on the bottom of the shoe—"The Window of the Sole"—proves the presence of genuine, old-fashioned, wire-wear Oak Sole Leather in every pair of Regals. No other shoe offers such a test—none other dares to!

Regal fit consists in 48 shapes—8 widths—and 18 half sizes—and 143 styles. No excuse for misfits!

Regal Shoes come to you direct "from Tannery to Consumer." You pay only one SINGLE profit, viz.—the Manufacturers—and are thus enabled to buy $6.00 shoes at the WHOLESALE price of $3.50 per pair.

REGAL OAK SOLED SHOES

All Styles, $3.50

Regals are sold only in 46 exclusive Regal Stores in the principal cities of the United States and Great Britain—16 stores in New York City alone—and by mail. Over 200,000 men and women buy Regals by mail regularly. You take no chances in ordering by mail—we guarantee satisfaction or money promptly refunded. By mail to any address in the postal union at $3.75 per pair, all charges prepaid.

Call on our representative and examine the shoes. You will not be urged to buy. Write to us today for our new Spring Style book—free on request.

GEORGE W. FOOKS,
Sheriff of Wicomico County

A Booker Washington Story.

Booker Washington tells this characteristic story of one of his countrymen: "I called an old negro farmer into my office and explained to him in detail how he could make $30 an acre on his land if he would plant a portion of it in sweet potatoes, whereas, if he planted cotton, as he had been doing for years, at best he could make only $15 an acre. As I explained the difference, step by step, he agreed with me at every point, and when I came near to the end of my argument I began to congratulate myself that I had converted at least one man from the one crop system to better methods. Finally, with what I fear was the air of one who felt that he had won his case, I asked the farmer what he was going to cultivate on his land the coming year. The old fellow scratched his head and said that as he was getting old and had been growing cotton all his life he reckoned he would grow it to the end of his few remaining years, although he agreed with me that he could double the product of his land by planting sweet potatoes on it."

The Reason.

A man in New York—call him Mr. Brown—is big and of a chubby aspect and is the father of a more numerous family than is commonly found in New York. A visitor to his house said to his wife, "Do you notice how much Mr. Brown looks like Tom Reed?" "I don't see it myself, but it has often been observed. When we lived in Washington, Mr. Brown was often taken for Mr. Reed."

"Yet there is no resemblance in detail. It's all a matter of general effect."

"We noticed long ago in this family that the baby looked like Mr. Brown. So did the next baby and the next and the next, until I realized that it was not so much that the babies looked like Mr. Brown as that Mr. Brown looked like a baby."

"That's it! That's the secret of Mr. Brown's resemblance to Mr. Reed. Mr. Reed looked like a baby too."—Harper's Magazine.

Fremont's Daughter.

The daughter of Fremont the Pathfinder, although past fifty years of age, is now left penniless owing to the death of her mother, who enjoyed a widow's pension. A long resisted claim of the Fremont heirs is now being pushed by the California State Federation of Women's Clubs, so that Miss Fremont may be supplied with means of support and be enabled to keep up the homestead given to Mrs. Fremont by the women of South California.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Mines One Mile West of the City, Directly West of the Le Roi and the Le Roi No. 2.

Two of the Largest Gold-Copper Mines in the World, Both of Which have paid Large Dividends.

Same Identical Ore and Veins Now in Sight on the BIG FOUR.

CAPITAL $62,500, of which 40 per cent. is now in our Treasury.

INCORPORATED DECEMBER 23, 1902.

Rosland Ore Shipments—Shipped for the year 1902 about 350,000 Tons, 85 per cent. came from the Le Rois. Grand total to January, 1903, about 1,241,000 Tons. Value $21,000,000.

To make fortunes out of the future you must put something into the present. Read the following and judge for yourself:

In addressing the public we realize that honest investors do not want fanciful fairy tales or flowery fictions, but solid facts and figures which will stand the test of the most searching criticism. Strong in the knowledge of possessing a really good thing we confidently submit a few considerations to those who are in search of a first class investment.

A Solid Company.—The Rosland Basis, possessing one of the most valuable properties in the far famed Kootenays of British Columbia, Canada.

Our Property.—Our property consists of four valuable claims, all decided to Company.

Large Dividends.—The Le Roi yielded an average monthly profit of nearly $100,000 for the past year, while the Le Roi No. 2 has paid no less than $800,000 in dividends during the past months.

Its Location.—By universal consent our location is unsurpassed in facilities for both mining and shipment. Water, so essential to concentration and smelting, is supplied by four streams which flow through our claims, while the Red Mountain Railway crosses our property no less than three times.

Improvements.—Improvements to the value of $30,000, including 700 feet of tunnelling, have already been made. Large ore bodies have been uncovered carrying sufficiently high values to admit of mining with handsome profits. Modern machinery alone is now required to enable us to handle this ore to our advantage.

No Debts.—There are no debts whatever against the Company and therefore no "dead horses" to be sold for out of stock sales, and the future prospects of the Company are exceedingly bright.

A Rare Chance.—We are now placing 100,000 shares Treasury Stock on the market in order to secure funds for putting in a thoroughly up-to-date plant. No less than 100 shares of this stock will be sold to anybody. Our special cash prices for this stock are: 1000 for $300 or 30 cents per share; 500 shares for $110 or 22 cents per share, and all smaller amounts at 25 cents per share. Or we will sell blocks of 500 shares and upwards on the installment plan as follows: 20 per cent. down and 10 per cent. per month until paid for. Payments will be due on the First of each month. See Order Blank.

Send for Descriptive Booklet.—If this interests you send for descriptive booklet containing prospectus, reports of engineers and assayers, extracts from the press and reports and statements by reliable business and professional men of Rosland. We court investigation and stand ready to cheerfully furnish the fullest information to all interested persons. Now is the time to invest in Big Four Stocks as the prices are going up and will reach a Dollar. There is nothing surer.

References.—As to the Title and Status of the Company we refer, by permission, to the Mayor of Rosland and other leading officials. We hold the record in B. C. for economical mining.

NOTE—$40.00 Cash and $18.00 per month until you have paid $250.00 will give you 1000 shares, which we believe should actually bring you $1000 in return for your investment. The first payment on 500 shares is $25.00 cash and $10.00 per month. All payments to be complete within one year from date of purchase.

NOW IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY. TAKE IT.

Any amount less than $100.00 send by post office or express money order; over this amount, by bank draft, to

THE BALTIMORE PRIMARIES.

Both the Democrats and Republicans held their primaries in Baltimore Tuesday. The Democratic primaries were held under the new primary law...

The Republican primaries were held under the old plan of voting for delegates to a convention. There were two candidates in the field.

It looks as though the Republicans have worked themselves in such a middle in the city that the election of the Democratic ticket is practically assured by a large people's majority.

The Easter Garden.

"In the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man laid. There laid they Jesus'.

In such artless words does the loving disciple, John, tell of the burial of his Lord. Their simplicity is characteristic of his pen.

In a garden and in a new sepulchre was accomplished the great miracle of the Resurrection. Significant fact! Let the fragrance of it perfume our thoughts at Easter tide.

It was in a garden that human sin began, and in a new home that man became homeless. How appropriate, therefore, that among trees and shrubbery and flowers should the crucified Christ come forth into newness of life!

Our first parents were expelled from the garden of their innocence and driven into a world of thorns. Christ went from a coronation of thorns to the triumph crown of His sacrificial work.

Our first parents were expelled from the garden of their innocence and driven into a world of thorns. Christ went from a coronation of thorns to the triumph crown of His sacrificial work.

Glorious Easter tide! Let it be bounded on all sides by the choicest blooms of April. Blossoms on the north; blossoms on the east; blossoms on the south; blossoms on the west—lily and crocus and hyacinth and narcissus intermingled in beauty of color and aroma of breath.

Let all the gardens of the twentieth century wave a signal to the Judean garden of the first century, within which the Saviour rose from the dead. Let there be a profusion of flowers banked against the empty tomb of the triumphant Christ. Flowers are God's angels of earth. They are apt symbols, indeed, of Christ's victory over the grave.

I could never understand that Puritanism that frowns upon flowers in a church at Easter. According to such a mind, Christ ought to have been buried in a potter's field all overgrown and wild and unrightly with weeds.

Yes! I heartily believe in decorating our churches at Easter. When God himself frescoes the ceiling of the earth with the splendence of sunrise and sunset and the shining of stars, mingling with this richness of hue the vapory whiteness of clouds and the awful sublimity of storms; when God paints the solids, the hills, the valleys and the furrows with the variegated tints of spring, summer, autumn and winter, and pours out brooks and rivers in shimmering brightness, and spreads the ocean in crystalline flashes; when God gives gorgeous plumage to birds, to beasts coats of velvet, to insects rainbow dress, and to fishes scales of silver; when God, in short, surrounds himself with that which delights His vision, why should we hesitate to adorn the sanctuaries wherein we worship Him?

No building is too grand for His service if it be unencumbered by debt and reared only for His praise. Because Christ was born in a cave is no reason why churches should be caves. His birth was but preparatory to His resurrection after death. That was accomplished in a garden. If it be incongruous to deck a church with flowers in token of Christ's victory over the grave, then let every window be curtained at Easter, so as to exclude every joyous beam of sunshine.

In the evening shadows light no lamps, for the flames of lamps is an embodiment of sunshine. Let minister and people come together with faces that would frighten away any glad smile that might wish to frolic there, and then go home to lie upon a bed of spikes until the day is done. Meanwhile, the flowers in the gardens outside would lift their banners sunward, and in the evening the star-flowers of God's universe garden would write the heavens with sheen.

I am glad that Christ came into being within a cave; that made Him a Christ for the world's poor. I am also glad that He had His grave among the rich; that was typical of the wealth that should honor Him in spreading abroad His name. I am glad too that Christ rose from the dead within a garden; that gives His triumph a fragrance that shall cling to it forever.

In keeping with this garden event, we make our cemeteries gardens. Mt. Auburn, Greenwood, Woodland, Laurel Hill, these are all paradises of entrancing beauty. Nature and Art having joined hands in partnership, and created loveliness where sleep the bodies of men. Lesser cities of the dead have a similar glory.

Whether all whose dust lies in such graves were Christians or not, the trees that hang their foliaged branches over those graves, the grass that runs above them, the flowers that border them, the monuments that mark them, and the streams that wind their silver ribbons along them proclaim the fact that death is forever under the scarred feet of Jesus Christ.

WILLIAM HENRY BANCROFT.

Fruit Growers Hopeful.

Despite the freeze of Saturday night and the frost of Sunday night with the thermometer registering 26 degrees that morning, the fruit growers on the peninsula generally are sanguine as to the effects of the recent cold snap on the fruit prospects.

Mr. W. F. Allen, of the Peninsula Plant Farms says: "I have examined a good many strawberries since the freeze of last Saturday night and find that some varieties, especially the early blooming ones, are considerably hurt. All buds that were opened, and most of the larger ones that were above ground are killed.

In my peach orchard I find that about three-fourths of the buds are killed; about one-fourth apparently are all right, which will make a fair crop, unless they are so injured as to cause them to drop later."

Robert H. Wilson, one of the most prominent and extensive growers of Kent County, "The injury to peaches is trifling. The crop will be light at best. Keiffer pears look cheerful, yet no one can tell what a pear is going to do."

A meeting of the Maryland Commission for the St. Louis Exposition was held Wednesday afternoon in the offices of Governor John Walter Smith, in the Merchants' Bank Building, Baltimore. The commission will make every endeavor to have Maryland properly represented at the fair, and to that end it is probable that an effort will be made to secure additional funds. After a careful consideration of the question it is understood that the commission feels that the present appropriation of $25,000 should be doubled, and it is likely that the next legislature will be asked to make this provision so that Maryland may have representation worthy of the state.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

A Quirt Baby.

Now and again there is an item in the newspapers concerning the birth of a quirt baby so small that a quirt could hold it comfortably. If the article told all the facts it would probably tell also of a mother who in weakness and misery had looked forward to the baby's advent with shrinking and fear.

To have fine, healthy children the mother must be healthy, and it is the common testimony of mothers that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only promotes the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child.

"Favorite Prescription" accomplishes these results by tranquilizing the nerves, promoting a healthy appetite, and giving refreshment and physical vigor and gives great muscular elasticity, so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best of tonics for nursing mothers.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. Stephens, of Mills, Northumberland County, Va. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child I have had from birth, and I suffered very much less than I did before. I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1000 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 2 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of those ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great woman's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

Chicago, April 5.—In this sermon, appropriate to the day, the preacher presents a vivid picture of the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem amid the acclamations of the common people, whose plaudits were so soon to give way to execration. The text is John xii, 13, "Took branches of palm trees and went forth to meet him and cried hosanna."

This is Palm Sunday. In the ecclesiastical year it is the day on which we commemorate the strange scene on the Jewish road which constituted the one sole pageant of our Lord's life. It is the day that ushers in holy week, the beginning of which saw him riding into Jerusalem in triumph and the ending in Joseph of Arimathea's tomb. This is the time when the same surging crowds which, a few days later, will cry: "Crucify him! Crucify him!" now make the Jewish hills echo and re-echo with their exultant shouts of "Hosanna to the Son of David! Hosanna to the King!"

Appropriate, also, is my subject in reference to the audience to which I speak. I know not of any class of people to whom the significant lessons of Palm Sunday can be better applied than to ourselves. Christ among the waving palms ought to have for us gospel teachings, as well as Christ in Pilate's judgment hall. Christ among the vociferating multitudes should appeal to us suggestively, as well as Jesus carrying his cross, Jesus resurrected from the grave, Jesus appearing unto his disciples after the crucifixion or Jesus ascending from Mount Olivet.

Palm Sunday emphasizes the truth that a false and selfish adoration of Jesus Christ never results in a triumphant and a lasting worship. Why did the great concourse of people, which came forth to welcome Jesus into the Davidic capital, soon turn upon Christ and become his taunting executors? Why did they one day throw under his feet the branches of palm, which have always been the symbol of victory, and within a week be eager to mock his dying agonies upon Calvary? They were not welcoming Christ as their spiritual Saviour. They were merely greeting him as a temporal ruler.

Such popular adoration as this is always short lived. Christ spoke better than he knew. Not only did the tidal wave of public adoration which threatened to lift the "Man on Horseback" into the Tuilleries subside, but within a few months General Boulanger was friendless. In despair he committed suicide by the grave of his mistress, Mme. Bonnemain, while an exile in Brussels. The Duke of Wellington well understood the fickleness of popular applause. Long after the conqueror of Napoleon had returned to his native England and become the most beloved subject of the Victorian empire he always kept the fence around his city home broken down as an object lesson to recall the time when the London mob battered it down to show their disgust at one of his official acts as prime minister. William E. Gladstone was again and again execrated in the streets of the British capital, through which his dead body was afterward carried to sleep its last sleep among the honorees of Westminster. The Prince of Wales, now king, being among the pallbearers of Jean of Arc, who led the French armies to victory, was deserted by her followers, who came to believe her a witch and a devil. The same tongue which once cheered the Roman assemblies was afterward cut out from the mouth of Cicero by the mobs and nailed up in the Roman Forum, with the epithet, "Thou fool, wag no more!" Ah, we do not have to stand among the vociferating multitudes of Palm Sunday to hear and see the fickleness of the human race! We can see everywhere the human idols being shattered, the same voices that are ready to cry to us, "Put him upon a throne," are the voices which tomorrow will call, "Lead him away to execution!"

Is Popular Applause Worth Seeking? Now, my brother, as the adoration of the human race is so short lived, it does not pay to sacrifice everything for popular applause. Cannot and will not we live with the nobler and higher purpose, trying to have God rather than man think well of us? You that we might one and all heed the blessed advice which "Chinese" Gordon a short time before his death wrote to a friend, then living in distant England: "Dear Friend—Why will you keep caring for what the world says? Try, oh, try to be no longer a slave to it. You have little idea of the comfort of freedom from it. It is bliss. All this caring for what people will say is your curse. Hoist your flag and abide by it. Thank God, I am quite well and so happy now that I resigned the government of the province and put all the faults on my 'Friend.' He is able to bear them and will use me as long as he pleases as his mouthpiece, and when he is done with me he will put me one side. 'Cast all your care on him' has just come to mind."

Palm Sunday indicates the city as the greatest of all battlegrounds where the spiritual conquest of a sinful world is to be decided. It is the field of Esdraelon, where the Satanic and divine powers will make their last stand and grip and wrestle in mortal combat. It is the Sedan where the demonic invaders will be annihilated as a chemist with a pestle crushes a substance in a mortar. It is the Waterloo, the Yorktown, the Agincourt, the Solferino, the Chalons, the Thermopylae, where all the powers and principalities of darkness shall be forever overthrown by the principalities and powers of light, and Christ shall be proclaimed King of kings and Lord of all.

Why is the city to be the great field where the sovereignty of Christ shall be universally recognized? In the city there is a commingling of all classes. Among the throngs we come forth on Palm Sunday to greet Jesus, we see the good and the bad, the autocrat and the plebeian, the mighty capitalist and the small shopkeeper, the Pharisee, the disciple, the curiosity seeker, all commingling, all cheering, some cheering and some cursing under their breath. We are not to suppose for a moment that any who came forth to see Jesus were there for any other reason. The high priest's hirings were in that crowd, as well as Jesus' disciples. I am thankful that you and I live in a great city. We live in a city where our influence for good can tell most effectively if we only use that influence as Jesus would have us do. If we capture Paris for Christ we capture France; London for Christ means agony saved; Berlin for Christ means Germany bowing before the cross. If we capture New York and Chicago and other great cities for Christ, we capture America for Christ. Oh, what a blessed opportunity it is for us to be able to fight under the standard of the cross, where the Satanic forces are unnumbering their heaviest artillery and where every blow struck by Jesus can rebound with the best of all results!

The City and the Country. But while I congratulate you because you are able to testify for Jesus in a large city I also cast my eyes over the hills and send forth gospel congratulations to the Christian farmhouses that are helping us in this Christian struggle. A city is a great human reservoir which collects its streams of life from everywhere. Many of those streams trickle down from country hills, where cattle are bleating and horses neighing and sheep bawling and harvests waving. These country streams of human life are the brooks which clarify the muddy waters of a large metropolis. The country farmer and his wife are very apt to fear that their boys and their girls will be swallowed up in a large city and never heard from again. But I want to tell you that the majority of the mightiest workers for Christ in the large cities have been born upon a farm. A short time ago thirty-eight prominent business men of New York city sat at a banquet in the Union League club on Fifth avenue. How many of them do you suppose came from the country? Thirty-six out of the thirty-eight. A history of prominent lawyers, ministers, doctors and merchants in a large city was once compiled. Eighty per cent were found to come from the country. Thus, ye farmers and farmers' wives, do not mourn whenever your stout limbed boys and beloved girls leave you for the great cities. Remember that you are giving them to the service of Jesus Christ. Remember that your prayers and Christian training are now to bring forth their gospel results in the place where they are most needed.

When my father, then a young country minister, was called to a large city church, my grandfather, David Talmage, protested against his going. He said: "Witt, you are doing well now in your little country church. Why do you go into that large city where your influence will be swallowed up and no one ever hear from you again?" But Dr. Witt Talmage answered: "Father, I must go. It is my duty to go. I believe God is calling me to that field. And if I go in his name he will bless me." God did bless him. And so, farmers and farmers' wives, God will also bless and be blessing the Christian work of your children in the same way if he has called them to live in the great cities.

Palm Sunday emphasizes the fact that the easiest way to capture a city for God is to go after the masses. Who are the masses? They are the most of folks. They are the common people who for the most part fill our churches. And yet they are the common people who today, if they are only roused with holy enthusiasm, can conquer this old world for Christ. They can do it as easily as the common people who came out to greet Jesus on Palm Sunday made the Pharisees and the high priest's hirings at that time afraid to lift their threatening fingers or to do Jesus any harm. Today that religious organization which is most spiritually influential for Jesus is the church which appeals to the employee as well as to the employer, to the poor man's but as well as to the rich man's palace, to the artisan and the mechanic and the laborer as well as to the merchant prince, the capitalist or the man dressed in broadcloth.

Power of the Common People. Oh, the infinite influence of the common people! If we could only by the power of the Holy Spirit enlist the common people to fight for Jesus Christ, under the standard of the cross, there would be no doubt as to the ultimate condition of our nation. When Robert G. Ingersoll was a candidate for the gubernatorial chair of Illinois, he was defeated for the nomination. Why? Because if he had been nominated every church pulpit would have become a political rostrum. Every little meeting house and prayer meeting room would have been filled with Christian workers who would have worked and voted against him. Thus, if we could only inspire the great masses of the church members, made up of the common people, with a holy enthusiasm for Christ, it would mean the extinction of the saloon. Then no Christian would vote for a candidate unless he emphatically stated that he would work and voted against him. When Robert G. Ingersoll was a candidate for the gubernatorial chair of Illinois, he was defeated for the nomination. Why? Because if he had been nominated every church pulpit would have become a political rostrum. Every little meeting house and prayer meeting room would have been filled with Christian workers who would have worked and voted against him. Thus, if we could only inspire the great masses of the church members, made up of the common people, with a holy enthusiasm for Christ, it would mean the extinction of the saloon. Then no Christian would vote for a candidate unless he emphatically stated that he would work and voted against him.

Oh, the infinite influence of the common people! If we could only by the power of the Holy Spirit enlist the common people to fight for Jesus Christ, under the standard of the cross, there would be no doubt as to the ultimate condition of our nation. Relief

From Headache and Neuralgia

In a Few Minutes After Taking

Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. Chronic Case Cured.

"I cannot speak too highly of your remedies and I will always tell my friends how much they have done for my husband and myself for sudden attacks of headache, neuralgia and rheumatic pains. There is nothing equal to Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are simply splendid and give relief in fifteen or twenty minutes. I used to be subject to attacks of headache, which had become chronic, and I took a course of Nerve and Liver Pills in connection with the Anti-Pain Pills. The result is I now have very little trouble in that way. My husband has also taken these remedies and praises them very highly. We always have some of both kinds of pills in the house, and do not feel that we could get along without them.—MRS. KATE K. JOHNSON, McClellandville, Delaware.

There are many reasons why you should take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, but the best reason is that they will give you almost instant relief from headache or other pain. In cases of chronic headache, when the sufferer knows an attack is coming on, a Pain Pill will usually prevent it entirely. In cases of extreme nervous exhaustion, when the brain is too tired and the body too nervous to rest, an Anti-Pain Pill will soothe the nerves so that sleep may come. They never fail, yet contain no opiates and are non-toxic.

All druggists sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are non-toxic; contain no opiates, never sold in bulk, 25 doses, 25 cents. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

For liver troubles and constipation There's nothing better in creation Than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They always effect a cure and save doctor bills.

Little Early Risers are different from all other pills. They do not weaken the system, but act as a tonic to the tissues by arousing the secretions and restoring the liver to the full performance of its functions naturally.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP.

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I had times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose," but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy cured it not only to be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by all dealers.

In Memoriam.

Edith, aged 15 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Morris, died at her home in South Salisbury about eight o'clock P. M., April 5th, 1908, after four weeks of intense suffering.

Edith bore her sufferings patiently and at last found rest in the arms of the Saviour. As those who knew her in her sweet innocence and loved her for her winning ways, looked upon her cold form, they might well say:

"Death lies upon her like an untimely frost Upon the sweetest flower of all the field."

As the parents in sorrow bow in submission to God's will, they realize that: God took their rosebud to His home To bloom in beauty bright.

Her remains were laid to rest in Parsons Cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. May the grief stricken parents and relatives as they go through life bereft of her presence, press toward that happy land where Edith is watching and waiting for them.

Father, mother and sisters do not weep, Edith is not dead, she is only asleep in that upper and brighter land, where sickness and sorrow, pain and death are felt and feared no more.

A precious one from us is gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber, Peaceful be thy grave so low, Thou no more wilt join our number, Thou no more our songs shalt know.

Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled, Then in heaven with joys to greet thee, Where no farewell tear is shed.

Far from this world of toll and strife, She is present with the Lord; The labor of her mortal life Ends in a large reward.

A FRIEND, RUTH, Salisbury, Md., April 9, 1908.

Death of George W. Killiam.

Entered into rest April 8, 1908, at his home in Spring Hill. Geo. W. Killiam aged 68 years. He had been a sufferer for many years but for the past few months he suffered untold pain from that terrible disease Asthma then Gastritis.

He was a member of Mills M. E. Chapel for a number of years. By his death the church and community have lost a faithful friend, a kind neighbor one who was ever ready to help in time of need. He was a kind and devoted husband and father ever striving for the welfare of his family. He is survived by his wife, who has been a devoted companion for 41 years, two sons and three daughters viz. Wm. R. John C., Mrs. G. W. Nichols, Mrs. I. J. Nichols and Mrs. C. C. Jones, also one brother and one sister.

Funeral services were held at his late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. F. Atkinson, after which the remains were taken near Delmar and interred on the farm of G. W. Nichols.

Friends may think we'll soon forget him, And our wounded hearts be healed, But they little know the sorrow That's within our hearts concealed.

All his pain and grief is over, Every restless longing passed, He is now at peace forever, Safely home in heaven at last.

Dearest father we have lain thee In the peaceful grave's embrace, But thy memory will be cherished, Till we see thy heavenly face.

MESSENGERS.—In a recent discussion of the bribery issue on the Eastern Shore, with one of the leading Democrats of the First District, I expressed regret for the failure, at last fall's election, of the principle of pure elections as espoused by the Democratic party. He remarked that it was not a failure, but was so far a success that he did not believe the Republican party would again nominate a man, merely, or even chiefly, because of his money, and he felt sure the Democratic party could not afford to do so. There are certainly many encouraging signs of the times. Among them may be noted the universal condemnation, by the press, of the corrupt methods of Addicks in Delaware, which has made him, his State and his party, by-words of reproach; then the message of Gov. Garvin, of Rhode Island, to the Legislature, on this subject, and his recent article on "Bribery: Its Cause and Cure"; then the adoption by the Wilmington Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, at Easton, of resolutions strongly denouncing bribery; and like resolutions by the Maryland Annual Conference of the M. P. Church at Pocomoke City. The Baltimore Sun, in a recent editorial on "Bribery of Voters," takes up the subject and says of the resolutions of the Methodist Conference: "This is the right way to begin the attack. Laws to suppress it will never be effective as long as public sentiment assents to the crime. Bribery is practised openly. Public sentiment! Aye, there's the rub. In that mighty power, lie the 'cause and cure.' What is 'public sentiment' but the accumulated opinions of individuals? But suppose these opinions are quiet because their possessors are indifferent or timid or over-cautious, and are therefore neither put into action or expression. And suppose, on the other hand, that no small number hold an adulterated sentiment, that, while bribery is a 'crime,' it ought not to be punished—a sentiment that both excuses and promotes it, for no higher reason than that the opposite political party has practiced it 'for over thirty years' and can't be trusted. As an enlightened, elevated public opinion is a power for good, so a degraded public opinion is a power for evil, and in the irrepressible conflict between these two forces, there is no neutral territory.

In the last Congressional campaign in this district, there was an explicit offer, presented to the Republican party and its candidate, by the Democratic party and its candidate, for co-operation to suppress bribery, in which the latter at no time undertook to make excuses for past offenses, and yet all overtures for a party or a people's organization were ruthlessly rejected, with an apology—for further Republican corruption. A distinct issue between honest and corrupt elections was presented to the people: an appeal was made, on the Democratic side, directly to that higher "public sentiment," and on the Republican side, to the sordid cupidity of the people, and to that lower public sentiment which excuses "crime" because some others have and will commit like "crime." Well, it did seem that the degraded sentiment, with the auxiliary adjuncts thereto, won in that conflict. It begins to look as if my friend is right, that it was not a failure of the principle, but only a temporary defeat for a candidate. It is true that reforms rarely come except by persistence and insistence. True, there is a "public sentiment" that laments the condition but does not reform it; that deprecates, but does not condemn. And it is this sort of sentiment that abets the "crime" of bribery and emboldens men to uphold and commit it—men whose ambitions are stronger than their conscience and their love of winning than their convictions. A man may be so shameless as to become indifferent to a healthy public opinion and also to his own reputation; such men are hopeless; but if a man has "decent regard" for the opinions of his fellows, and he finds that he is condemned by them, then there is hope for his reform; but he must be informed of these conditions to be affected by them. Opinion unexpressed is private, not "public sentiment." It rein the duty and the power of the pulpit and the press, the two great creators and disseminators of this sentiment. The resolutions of the Methodist conference were undoubtedly the expression of the opinions of the majority of those churches, but how many will ever be informed of them? How few of the papers have published them! Will the congregations hear of them, and will they be offered in the quarterly conference? or will they, like our dead-letter laws against bribery, sleep in the conference minutes? Yes, "public sentiment," when it condemns crime, is stronger than jail; but when it "assents to crime," it is a wall of protection to the criminal. In Accomack county, Va., it sent a briber out of the county; here it sends him to—well, to some high office of profit and trust, if not of honor. These things are painful to think even, but for the truth of them let us appeal to the Baltimore Sun editorial. "It is," says the Sun, "a practice known to all, and yet grand juries will not indict the persons who practice it, and the petit juries would not convict if they did." What an alarming admission and terrible arraignment of our boasted "bulwark," the constitutional right of "trial by jury," that were selected by the judges "with special reference to their intelligence, sobriety and integrity, and without the least reference to their political opinions" (Code, Art. 51, Sec. 7) will not indict nor convict! The petit jury has not yet had a chance. The grand jury of Queen Anne county did, in 1896, indict two persons, but the Republican Governor entered a non prosequi, without so much as consulting the State's Attorney. I have been a great many times reminded, by Republicans and Democrats, of the failure of the grand jury in Wisconsin to indict for Republican bribery in 1896, as evidence of the fact that the law can't be enforced.

Would not an organization for the enforcement of the law prove the fallacy of such pessimistic conclusions? JAS. E. ELLINGWOOD.

COURT OF APPEALS
Reads Decision Against The Temperance Advocates. The Act Declared Unconstitutional.

In the case of the Election Supervisors for Wicomico County vs. George W. Todd et al at the Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Judge Jones, Wednesday, declared invalid the law passed at the last session of the Legislature which provided for local option in certain districts.
This appeal was taken from the order of the lower court issuing the writ of mandamus to the Board of Supervisors of Elections for the purpose of compelling them to advertise the question of the sale of liquor and to place such questions on the ballots at the election held November 4, 1902. This order of the court was issued upon a petition filed by George W. Todd and 440 other voters and residents of the Ninth district of Wicomico county, which petition was based on the provisions of the Act of 1898, Chapter 195.
The supervisors in their answer admitted the facts as alleged, but rested their refusal to advertise the above-mentioned question on the ground that the act was unconstitutional and void. In an opinion by Judge Jones the Court of Appeals upholds this view and declares that the imposition upon the judicial office of such functions as ordering elections, as provided by Chapter 195 of the Act of 1898, is repugnant to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and hence the act cannot stand.
By the provisions of the act whenever such registered voters as constituted one-half of all the votes cast at the last general election in any district, city or town should petition the Circuit Court for leave to submit the question of local option to the voters at the next congressional election, the court was obliged to take cognizance of the same and order such an election held.
The Court of Appeals declares this act of the last Legislature unconstitutional and void for the reason, as Judge Jones says, "that the courts must not have devolved upon them duties so distinct from those pertaining to the exercise of the judicial function and which could be imposed to such an extent as to seriously interfere with the efficient discharge of the duties of the judicial office, and as the elections, by the terms of the act, must depend upon the orders from the Circuit Court, the act must fall."
By such an election a local option law was established in part of Wicomico county at the last election.
The case was argued for the appellants by Alonso L. Miles, of Miles & Gorman, and Joseph N. Uiman, of Harman, Knapp, Uiman & Paper, and for the appellees by Elmer J. Walton and Moses Handy.
The decision of the Court of Appeals in holding the local option law of Wicomico county unconstitutional, and the election last fall, by which the saloons were voted out of Salisbury, illegal, is a disappointment to the temperance people. It is evident, however that the decision is not a discouragement to them.
Rev. S. E. Nicholson, superintendent of the State Anti-Saloon League, said Tuesday night:
"The decision of the court was not altogether unexpected, although we had hoped for a different result. It will be the means undoubtedly of transferring the fight to the next Legislature, and it is not at all improbable that the decision will hasten the day when Wicomico county will become entirely dry territory."
Mr. Nicholson said that it is an interesting question as to whether or not the decision does not invalidate, in part at least, a number of the license laws of the State. The Wicomico law was declared unconstitutional on the ground that it placed extra-judicial authority upon the court. The question is raised as to whether or not it is not just as unconstitutional for the court to decide cases of remonstrance on appeal from the clerk of the court as provided in a number of the county laws, relating to licensing the sale of liquor, inasmuch as this duty is not proscribed in the constitution specifically. If judges cannot direct a sheriff to do certain things, when provided by statute, can they direct clerks of courts to do that which is not provided in the constitution, when those acts are altogether outside the usual procedure of the courts? The Anti-Saloon League will make investigation of this matter at once, and a test case is not altogether unlikely in the near future.
The decision Wednesday invalidates seemingly the local option law of both Wicomico and Garrett counties.

On Friday last the Salisbury High School ball team opened the season at Seaford by defeating the Seaford School team in a well played game of ball, the score being nine to eight in favor of Salisbury. In the tenth Salisbury scored two runs while Schuler held Seaford down to one thus ending a hard fought game.
The feature of the game was Phillip's pitching for Salisbury, striking out ten men. A return game will be played on the Salisbury grounds Friday afternoon the 24th. Following is the score:

In Memory Of Emory H. Burbage.
Thou art sleeping where the breezes softly sing their summer lays;
And the sunshine weaves its lustre Through and through the golden days—
Where the crystal snows will glitter Cold and white above thy head;
And the wild winds fret and clamor All around thy lowly bed.
But singing breezes nor sunshine Can lull to deeper sleep;
Nor wail of winter's tempest Can banish thoughts of thee—
Dearer than slumber deep— So we leave thee to thy slumber;
Cold and white above thy head; But our hearts are sad and sore For the husband and the father Who will come back nevermore!
And we'll keep in loving memory All thy tenderness and care 'Till the stealthy years have gathered Love and mementos in their anthers— 'Till the summons for our going Falls upon our startled ears— 'Till then—farewell dear husband— Fare thee well oh! father dear!

Western Maryland Concert.
Friday evening last the Western Maryland College Glee and Mandolin Clubs gave a concert here in Uman's Opera House.
Owing to the Easter openings of several of the prominent stores the concert was not so well attended as it otherwise would have been. It has been about six years since the above clubs have appeared in a program at this place and it is fair to say that the last one was in keeping with the high character of entertainments which have been previously given by the same clubs. The clubs gave one of the best concerts that our music loving people have listened to for some time.
After the concert both clubs were entertained at the home of Miss Sheppard, whose brother, Mr. William Sheppard, is a member of the Mandolin Club. The boys enjoyed themselves thoroughly and were highly pleased with the kindness and hospitality tendered them by the people of Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Waller Receive.
We would be very glad to have the Clubs come again and feel sure that they will be rewarded with a much larger audience.
Mr. W. E. Graham the leading tenor made quite a hit with his solo, "Little Twin Oons" while the specialties by Messrs. Pachon, Keith and Carmen were also well received.

Help For Working Women

The suffering and pain endured by many working women is almost beyond belief.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood, or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching! She is so tired she can hardly drag about, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is quickly traced to some derangement of the female organism.

When the monthly periods are painful or irregular, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when "I can hardly drag about" sensation attacks you, when you are "so nervous-it seems as though you would fly," it is certain that some female derangement is fastening itself upon you. Do not let the disease make headway; write your symptoms to Mrs. Pinkham for her free advice, and begin at once the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Profit by the Experience of the Women Whose Letters Follow:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to write and thank you for all you have done for me. I have been suffering with womb and ovarian trouble for about four years and tried everything, but found no relief. I went to the best specialists in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chicago. I thought at times I would go crazy, I suffered so. The doctors told me the only thing would be to have an operation and my ovaries taken out. I at last decided to quit the doctors and give Mrs. Pinkham's remedies a trial. I used both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash, and now find myself completely cured. I had the doctor to make an examination and he said I was cured. I cannot say enough for what your remedies have done for me, and have advised all my friends to try it."—MRS. CLARA MALL, with N. P. & Nat. Express Co., Ashland, Wis.

Mrs. Frances Stafford, 243 East 114th Street, New York, N.Y., says:

"It affords me great pleasure to tell you of the benefit I have derived from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now enjoying better health than I ever did. It seemed to me that I had no strength at all. I could hardly drag about. I was in pain all over. I began to feel better after taking the first dose, and am now like a new woman. I know that if other suffering women would only try it, it would help them. I thank you with all my heart for what your medicine has done for me."

MRS. FRANCES STAFFORD. only try it, it would help them. "I thank you with all my heart for what your medicine has done for me."

Mrs. Lou Davis, 74 Institute Place, Flat 5, Chicago, Ill., says:

"August 24, 1901. For the good of others I wish to testify to the merits of your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I was certainly in a very bad condition. I suffered terribly with a continual backache and headache. I had pleurisy in my right side, bearing-down pains, and those dizzy, sinking or fainting spells, was nervous, peevish and despondent. I was advised to try your medicine, and was greatly surprised at the benefit I derived from its use. I am now entirely cured of these ailments, and consequently feel and look like an entirely new person.

"I shall always be pleased to influence suffering women to try your Vegetable Compound. It has done wonders for me, and I am very thankful."

Trolley For The Eastern Shore.

The Eastern Shore Improvement Company is considering the advisability of building a trolley line connecting Cambridge Ferry, Easton and Love Point. It has been pointed out that in other parts of the country trolley lines are big dividend payers, and that this line would connect remote sections of Dorchester, Talbot and Queen Anne's counties with Baltimore by quick transportation. Especially would Dorchester be benefited.

PERDULITY OF THE HINDOO

Sample of the Delusions Which He Occasionally Harbors.

Here is a remarkable instance of the credulity of the Hindoo and the wild kind of delusions which he occasionally harbors. The writer is described as a Hindoo gentleman of standing and reputation, and this extract is taken from a letter written to a gentleman in England:

"We are having a awfully serious news circulated in the papers here. Extracts purported to be from the Morning Leader of London and La Bon Quonlin of Spain impress us that the emperor on the coronation day was dangerously ill and was never really crowned, for the ministers caused him to be personated by a beggar of Whitechapel. We are really very concerned to hear it, and we firmly believe the news to be a false creation, but wonder why the government is still inactive in regard to taking any steps to punish the author of so foul a calumny."

The gentleman who sends me the above extract gives some other quaint examples of the amusing fancies which gain currency among the natives of India, says a writer in London Truth. The bigger and the more preposterous the lie, he says, the more readily it is believed. When the jubilee bridge over the Hoogly was being built, the story got about that the government required a thousand heads of natives for the foundations of the bridge and had given orders that all natives walking over the maiden after dark were to be seized and taken to the Shalwan Khana (the native name for the Masonic lodge), where their heads were to be cut off for use in this uncanny engineering operation. The natives, it is said, were afraid to walk in that direction after dark for this reason.

Again, at the time of the last Indian frontier war, a fat Babu clerk disappeared from one of the government offices and could not be found. It was firmly believed, says my correspondent, by his fellow clerks and neighbors that he had been seized by order of the government, to be made into ointment for the benefit of the wounded soldiers. Happily, the fat Babu turned up again safe and sound; so no serious consequences resulted from this delusion. If an idea like this can be seriously accepted, as my informant says it was, by the class of natives who pass examinations and hold public appointments, nothing that may find acceptance with the "lower orders" can be wondered at.

Value of Good Roads.

It is said that a good highway will increase the value of a country place from 10 to 20 per cent or more. This rise is permanent and becomes an asset to be realized upon. Houses thus located are in constant demand.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

Don't make a mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.

Consolidated Gold Mines, (LIMITED.)

CAPITAL $62,500, of which 40 per cent. is now in our Treasury.

INCORPORATED DECEMBER 23, 1902.

Rossland Ore Shipments—Shipped for the year 1902 about 350,000 Tons, 85 per cent. came from the Le Rois. Grand total to January, 1903, about 1,241,000 Tons. Value $21,000,000.

To make fortunes out of the future you must put something into the present. Read the following and judge for yourself:

In addressing the public we realize that honest investors do not want fanciful fairy tales or flowery fictions, but solid facts and figures which will stand the test of the most searching criticism. Strong in the knowledge of possessing a really good thing we confidently submit a few considerations to those who are in search of a first class investment.

A Solid Company on a Sound Basis, possessing one of the most valuable properties in the far famed Kootenays of British Columbia, Canada.

Our Property—Our property consists of four valuable claims, all deeded to Company.

Large Dividends—The Le Roi yielded an average monthly profit of nearly $100,000 for the past year, while the Le Roi No. 2 has paid no less than $200,000 in dividends during the past fifteen months.

Its Location—By universal consent our location is unsurpassed in facilities for both mining and shipment. Water, so essential to concentration and smelting, is supplied by four streams which flow through our claims, while the Red Mountain Railway crosses our property no less than three times.

Improvements—Improvements to the value of $30,000, including 700 feet of tunneling, have already been made. Large ore bodies have been uncovered carrying sufficiently high values to admit of mining with handsome profits. Modern machinery alone is now required to enable us to handle this ore to our advantage.

No Debts—There are no debts whatever against the Company and therefore no "dead horses" to be paid for out of stock sales, and the future prospects of the Company are exceedingly bright.

A Rare Chance—We are now placing 100,000 shares Treasury Stock on the market in order to secure funds for putting in a thoroughly up to date plant. No less than 100 shares of this stock will be sold to anybody. Our special cash prices for this stock are: 1000 for $200 or 20 cents per share; 500 shares for $110 or 22 cents per share, and all smaller amounts at 25 cents per share. Or we will sell blocks of 500 shares and upwards on the installment plan as follows: 20 per cent. down and 10 per cent. per month until paid for. Payments will be due on the first of each month. See Order Blank.

Send for Descriptive Booklet—If this interests you send for descriptive booklet containing prospectus, reports of engineers and assayers, extracts from the press and reports and statements by reliable business and professional men of Rossland. We court investigation and stand ready to cheerfully furnish the fullest information to all interested persons. Now is the time to invest in Big Four Stocks as the prices are going up and will reach a Dollar. There is nothing surer.

References—As to the Title and Status of the Company we refer, by permission, to the Mayor of Rossland and other leading officials. We hold the record in B. C. for economical mining.

NOTE—$40.00 Cash and $18.00 per month until you have paid $280.00 will give you 1000 shares, which we believe would actually bring you $1000 in return for your investment. The first payment on 500 shares is $25.00 cash and $10.00 per month. All payments to be complete within one year from date of purchase.

NOW IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY. TAKE IT.

Any amount less than $100.00 send by post office or express money order; over this amount, by bank draft, to Call for Primary Meeting.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF SALISBURY, MARYLAND. Notice is hereby given that the Democratic primary meeting will be held in the voting house in the rear of the court house on Monday Evening, April 27th, 1908, at seven o'clock, for the purpose of nominating three persons for members of the City Council to be voted for on Tuesday, May 5th, at the annual election.

In case of contest polls will be kept open from 7.30 to 9.00 o'clock. J. CLEVELAND WHITE, E. E. TWILLEY, CHAS. E. HARPER, EMORY L. DISHARON, G. E. MITCHELL, Executive Committee for the Democratic Voters of Salisbury.

BRIBERY OF VOTERS.

That the press of the country is awaking to the vital necessity of action against the vote buying and selling trade is evidenced by exchanges all over the country. The subject is being strongly agitated throughout the Union and is claiming the gravest consideration by thinking men of all parties.

The Governor's plan for preventing bribery is as follows: The reform consists in the abolition of single districts; the placing of the names of all candidates on a general ticket; limitation of each elector to voting for one candidate only; distribution of members to each party, whether large or small, in the ratio of the total number of votes cast by the parties respectively, and the declaring elected by each successful party of the candidates of that party receiving the largest number of votes.

The effects of bribery are deplorable, and when we consider the extent to which it prevails the wonder is that they have not been even more disastrous. This may be due to the fact that the corrupt vote is usually divided between the parties, and in that way is to some extent neutralized.

The Methodist Conference which assembled at Easton, in this State, recently, adopted a preamble and resolutions offered by ex-Congressman Willis, of Milford, Del., reciting that "there seems to be a doubt in the minds of certain persons in our church as to the sinfulness of bribery," and admonishing "all our people that any one guilty of this shameful crime stands discredited before the church, contemptible in the eyes of his brethren and condemned in the sight of God."

While this action will, perhaps, not abolish bribery on the Maryland-Delaware peninsula, it is the right way to begin the attack. Laws to suppress it will never be effective as long as public sentiment assents to the crime. Bribery is practiced openly. Its practice is known to all, and yet grand juries will not indict the persons who practice it and the petit juries would not convict if they did.

NORTHERN SECURITIES DECISION.

From the standpoint of the consumer, the Northern Securities decision is a great victory. It clearly defines the limits to which a corporation engaged in interstate commerce may go and affirms the contention that all combinations which not only do, but which have it in their power to restrict competition are contrary to law.

In the opinion of many able democrats, the Attorney General has succeeded in demonstrating his power not only to secure convictions but to expedite cases and there will be ample opportunity for him to prove within the next year whether even a good anti-trust law can be trusted to a republican administration to enforce.

JUNCO OF STEAMERS.

The new steamship, Minnesota, the largest vessel ever built in the United States, and the greatest cargo carrier in the world, was launched at New London Conn., Thursday.

The Minnesota can carry a cargo that would fill a railroad train seven miles long, 135 trains of 25 cars each. The Minnesota and her sister vessel, the Dakota, will carry 28,000 long tons of coal and 280,000 barrels of flour.

The Minnesota is of the intermediate cargo and passenger type, and was built under Lloyd's survey. She is 630 feet long, 75 feet 6 inches wide, 56 feet high to upper deck, 88 feet high to the captain's bridge, 171 feet high to top of mast, and has five continuous decks all plated with steel.

PURNELL—KENLY NUPTIALS.

Brilliant Wedding at St. Paul's Church. Followed By a Reception at Bride's Home. "Majors."

St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Berlin, was filled Thursday evening with a fashionable assemblage to witness the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Spence Kenly, daughter of Mr. Edward Gasaway Kenly to Doctor Harry Selby Purnell, United States Army. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by the Rev. J. Gibson Gantt, Rector of the church, whose earnestness made the old English service even more impressive than ever.

Amid the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march rendered by Miss Addie Byrd Henry the bride entered the church leaning upon the arm of her father, preceded by her ushers, bridesmaids and maid of honor. The bride was lovely and was beautifully gowned in a white crepe de-chine, trimmed artistically with Arabian lace, over white taffeta and chiffon. Her veil of white tulle was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Bride's Roses.

The bride was met at the chancel steps by the groom, attired in full dress military uniform. He was attended by his brother, Mr. Wilmer Spence Purnell Jr., who acted as best man. The groom is a son of Mr. Wilmer S. Purnell of Berlin and his mother was Miss Sarah Timmons of Worcester county. The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Campbell Kenly, sister of the bride who was becomingly gowned in a white pean de-cyne, and carried white roses. The bridesmaids were the Misses Harriet E. Dirickson, Belle Henry of Berlin, Lyla Henry of Baltimore and Nannie Purnell of Snow Hill, who were gowned in white crepe-de-chine's over white taffeta and carried white carnations tied with green ribbon.

The Time Of Flowers.

Mounting my wheel one day not long ago, I went forth into God's library of nature in search of a sermon. The volumes in that library are all illustrated. Their suggestiveness cannot be surpassed. If mistakes would often consult them, getting God's pictures into their minds, and God's ideas into their hearts, they would be better and more cheerful preachers.

There is nothing that impresses me more than the sight of a great collection of books, unless it be the wonders that meet my vision in the world around me and in the sky above me. I once visited that palace of literature, the new Congressional Library in Washington. The building itself is magnificent. It is a solidified poem, an architectural dream made tangible in marble and stone, the marriage of art and mechanism.

Such a library, however, is also of interest. Stirring is the sight of books by the ton and books by the thousands, the shelves weighted and filled with volumes. That sight is one of awe. But many of those books are dead, and the alcoves in which they rest are their graves. They are the Pharaohs of the past mummified and pyramided. Over these their authors tolled, burning the oil of midnight, the flame of the lamp fed with their own precious vitality.

The flowers always know when to appear. In their wintry dungeon bound, God's eye is upon them: at the proper moment His hand breaks the gates of their prison, shatters their chains, and beckons them forth into the sunshine of liberty.

Right glad am I that God has kept the government of nature under His own sceptre. Man would make a poor fist at controlling the natural world. His attempts at holding matters in the moral sphere prove that. Human justice is often at variance with the divine. Laws are sometimes made for classes, and not for the masses. All wrongs will some day be righted; there will be a final and an impartial adjustment of every crooked thing among mankind; but to have given mortal minds even a temporary control of the seasons and the conditions of the weather would have been to make inextricable confusion. The flowers that appear on the earth are timed by sovereign Wisdom and sovereign Love.

The flowers also speak of beauty. They are blooming arguments for the fact that God is a lover of beauty. Those arguments are unassailable. The logic of them cannot be broken down. If God is not in love with beauty, why has He created so many flowers? What varieties of them there are! Just now God has opened the portfolio of the orchards, and we see His wealth of beauty—the white blossoms of the cherry and pear, the pink blossoms of the peach, the delicately shaded blossoms of the apple. Through the soil of the gardens God has called the hyacinth and jonquil and narcissus and daffodil and cowslip. Over the lawns and over the fields God has spread the gold of the dandelion. Everywhere are the flowers today, and they are of almost numberless names and hues. It is as if God had stood forth, as He once stood over chaos, and said, "Let there be light!" Our part of the world is now illuminated with these beautiful creations of God, the flowers of the springtide.

Some one has said that flowers are God's thoughts in bloom. I have often seen God's thoughts expressed in oceanic sublimity, in mountain grandeur, in sunrise and sunset magnificence, in the awful splendor of storms, and in rainbow gracefulness along retreating clouds; but I like best of all His thoughts in blossom. These are seemingly His footprints across the places where human feet walk and human hands toil. In the flowers God comes close to the heart of mankind.

Again, the flowers are hints of immortality. They appear at the close of winter to repair the scarified earth and remind us of resurrection. There is a life beyond. This present life is often hurt of sorrow and sickness. But there is within that life the germ of a life that is better and richer. Its planting time is death. The blooming is everlasting.

We have flowers at weddings. They bank the marriage altar; they are twisted and wreathed around the pulpit; they crown the brow of the bride. But just as appropriate are flowers upon a casket lid at a funeral, if the body laid out for burial belonged to a believer in Christ. For the Christian death is union with the Lord forever. Those nuptials are worthy of the finest and most fragrant flowers that grow anywhere in God's world. To the Christian death is a Waterloo; but it is a Waterloo for a Wellington, not a Napoleon. Let flowers therefore be the banners of the victory won.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bone called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

Salisbury is Building Up So Fast that if you don't drive over it every week You Can't Keep Track of It. There's more building going on in Salisbury than any other town on the Peninsula, and there's a tenant ready to move into every house as soon as finished. It is really wonderful, the amount of building that's going on in every direction, and its getting to be a home town, too. That makes it all the better. When a man gets a home he's a better citizen—takes more pride in his town—helps it more. And then all this money that is being paid out for homes gets into circulation. Mechanics get hold of it, they spend it, and Lacy Thoroughgood gets some of it. Lacy Thoroughgood is going to try to get more of it. Lacy Thoroughgood is going to have a workingmen's department for the sale of everything to wear for workmen; going to fill this department with things that will wear, and sell them at right prices. Other Clothing merchants in Salisbury tell you that Lacy Thoroughgood is selling goods below cost just to draw trade to his new store. Even if Thoroughgood is selling goods below cost to draw new trade, it shouldn't worry you if you're benefited by it. Your own common-sense should tell you that Lacy Thoroughgood has not "STRETCHED THE TRUTH" about the way he's fixed his two new stores; it's too easy for you to come here and see what sort of stores he has got and what he's still doing. If you found out that Lacy Thoroughgood was lying about having two stores, you'd think he was lying about his goods. Lacy Thoroughgood is not lying about either. Lacy Thoroughgood has got two of the finest stores in town, and carries as good goods as any store carries—better than any in Salisbury, and the stores (anywhere) that carry as good goods as Thoroughgood's get more than he does for them. Lacy Thoroughgood buys more clothing and Hats than any store in Salisbury; buys big quantities—that makes prices. Thoroughgood sells on close margin—and quick; don't trust—no wait-until-the-end-of-the-month business. And your own common-sense should tell you that these things mean he's selling right. Your own common-sense should tell you to save some of your common "CENTS" by coming to Lacy Thoroughgood, SALISBURY, MD.

It's So Easy

To take cold. It's so common to neglect the cold. That is one reason why there are so many people with "deep-seated," stubborn coughs, and so many more with "lung trouble."

The short, quick way to cure a cough is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The quicker this remedy is used the quicker the cure. But even when neglect has let disease fasten on the lungs, "Golden Medical Discovery" may be relied on to cure in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred.

The only motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little extra profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I am feeling quite well," writes Miss Dorcas Lewis of No. 1234 S. Washington, D. C. "My cough is very much better, and I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I cannot say too much in praise of the medicine. I had been quite a sufferer for a long time, and after reading Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser I thought I would try his Golden Medical Discovery. I commenced taking it in May, 1922. Had not been sleeping well for a long time. Took one teaspoonful of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and slept nearly all night without coughing. So I continued taking it. I am in great sympathy with everybody who suffers with cough. I had been a sufferer for more than ten years. I tried lots of different medicines and different doctors, but did not feel much better. I coughed until I commenced spitting blood, but now I feel much stronger and am entirely well. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I have ever taken. My husband is in Williamsport, Virginia."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a ladies' laxative. No other medicine equals them for gentleness and thoroughness.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, April 12.—In his Easter sermon the preacher shows how the resurrection is as much of a reality today to all who believe as it was to the apostles and draws some helpful spiritual lessons. The text is John xx, 16. "She turned herself and said unto him, 'Rabboni, which is to say, Master.'"

Poor thing! Poor thing! There goes a broken hearted woman. In the early hours of the morning she is sobbing and wringing her hands. "What is the matter, Mary?" "Ah," she answers, "they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. The Roman body snatchers or the high priest's ghouls have rifled the tomb where we buried Jesus. I am trying to trace his sacred dust and bring it back, if possible, to its former resting place." Are Mary's actions extraordinary? If we thought of the graves of our loved ones had been opened and the bodies carried away for desecrating purposes, would we not at once hurry off to the family plots and try to find some trace of these most despicable of all conscienceless misdoers and make them surrender their stolen treasures?

In our bereavements comforters remind us that it is the mind, the soul, the spirit, of the departed that we loved. They tell us that the physical form that is still in death was not really the beloved one; but only the instrument that loved one temporarily occupied. We know that is true, but how dear that tenement is to us! That hand which once held ours in loving clasp, those eyes which lighted up in joy when we approached, those lips which uttered words of affection—how dear they still are, though death has robbed them of all power of response! It is hard to part with them even now.

I was deeply impressed with this feeling when some years ago I visited the crematory at Pittsburg. I held in my hand the urn containing the ashes of the famous engineer who devised the Ferris wheel for the Chicago World's fair. Only a few months before he had worshipped in my church at Pittsburg. I remembered well another exquisite form which had been similarly consumed. How well I could recall the face and form of Emma Abbott as she sang one of her wonderful songs only six months before her body was carried in on a stretcher and shoved through the opened furnace door. Then I turned and said to the attendant, "Do you believe in cremation?" "I did," he answered, "until last May. I firmly believed in it on sanitary grounds and could argue its beneficence from any standpoint. Then his eyes grew moist as he said: 'But last spring my little girl, my only child, died. I could not bear to think of her beautiful curls and lovely form being shriveled up in that hot furnace. So when her mother came to me and asked, 'Husband, shall we have baby's body cremated?' I answered: 'No, wife. We loved that little body too well to let it be burned. I think we had better start a family plot and let our baby sleep among the spring flowers.'"

Mary's Second Journey.
Ah, yes; Mary's second journey to that rifled tomb was the most natural outcome of her breaking heart. She wanted to find the poor, bruised, lacerated form of one whom she had loved while he was alive and whom she still continued to love after he was dead. But that journey back to the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea ended in the strangest of all surprises. Mary went to seek the dead. She found the living. Mary went to an empty crypt. She found a risen Lord. Let us learn today how Christ first appeared after the crucifixion, to whom he appeared and for what he appeared.

The risen Lord revealed himself according to the fulfillment of prophecy. "For your husband should say to you: 'My dear, business compels me to go to New York. I shall be home just four days. I shall be home next Thursday morning on the Pennsylvania limited express.' You would expect him home at that time. Why? Because in your own twenty years of married life your husband has never broken such an appointment with you. You say: 'He is as particular about keeping an engagement as was George Washington. One day the president stood by his desk with his opened watch in his hand, saying to his tardy secretary: 'Mr. Secretary, you have kept me waiting now ten full minutes. A slow watch is no excuse. Either you must set a new watch or I will get a new secretary.' That is my husband all through. He never, never breaks an appointment unless he first notifies the party that it will be impossible for him to keep it." But, my sister, your husband to keep an appointment with you as the Christian disciples had that Jesus would rise again from the dead. He clearly and distinctly and emphatically told them that he would do so. He told them this so clearly and pointedly that the high priest and his henchmen went to Pilate and had him seal the tomb and place thereabout a Roman guard "until the third day" lest his disciples come by night and steal him away and say unto the people he is risen from the dead." Yet when the resurrection of Easter morn did come they were all dumbfounded. They were at first so nonplussed that they thought the Roman ghouls had stolen Christ's body and the most despicable of all thieves, the body snatchers, had desecrated the tomb.

Christ's First Appearance.
This leads to some suggestive thoughts and suggestions as to be a long succession of surprises. Through the Christian disciples may live as those of his disciples did, yet when Christ's presence was to be fulfilled we shall be amazed with a holy and glorified amazement. We shall be amazed in the way we shall come to die. Many really good people now look upon death as a haunting horror. But what of us will then be surprised to find how easy it is for a Christian to die? "Was not dying William Hunter amazed when he cried: 'All is well! All is well!' Was not dying John Fawcett amazed when he said, 'I know I am dying, but my death is a bed of roses?' Was not dying John Fletcher amazed when he said, 'Oh, how this soul of mine longs to be gone, like a bird out of its cage, to the realms of bliss?' Was not the dying Christian, A. M. French, amazed, when he turned to the watchers around him and said: 'Oh, my wife and dear daughter, how sweet to die! How sweet to die! Oh, that I could tell you how sweet!' Yes, like the disciples at the tomb most Christians will be amazed to find how easy it is to die, though Christ has again and again told us that death is not annihilation, but a sleep.

Then, like the disciples of old, we shall also be amazed at our own resurrection. Though we have read and again a description of heaven, yet when we come to that beautiful city we shall cry, like the queen of Sheba in the presence of Solomon, "The half was not told me." We shall be amazed at the beautiful river of life, in which no redeemed immortal can ever be drowned. We shall be amazed at the arching rainbow which St. John saw round about the white throne, and yet no rainbow ever seen in our world through which its variegated colors can be reflected. We shall be amazed at our ears attuned to heavenly music, and yet not hearing one discord. Everywhere in heaven our eyes and ears and our sensibilities will be started and stimulated, but never stunned, with amazement upon amazement.

Then, above all, like the disciples of old, after our resurrection we shall be amazed at the unity of Christ's sacrifice. A mother was one day talking to her little child and asked her, "Daughter, are you not often grieved at the fact that Jesus died for you?" "Why, no, mother," she answered, "you would be willing to die for me, and why should not my Saviour? It is just like Christ." But neither that little child nor any one else this side of the grave has ever had grace enough to fathom or scale or comprehend the immense love of the Saviour's sacrifice. It shall be only after we ourselves have been joined to the heavenly choristers that we shall fully realize what the Saviour's statement means for us. Our redeemed future, as with the disciples of old, will have amazement upon amazement, amazement upon amazement!

What Mary Believed.
The risen Lord appeared to Mary with the same sympathy that he had before the crucifixion. How do I know? Mary thought he was the gardener. By that I do not believe Christ's garments were bespattered with mud or that his fingers were soiled from contact with the flower stems, but I do believe that the risen Lord stood by the side of Mary as he had often done before the awful crucifixion. I do believe that the risen Christ had the same voice, the same look, the same search of the hand and the same heart sympathy for earthly troubles that he had when he himself was compelled to go hungry and knew not where to lay his head.

It is easy, even on Easter day, to have a distorted idea of the risen Lord. I well remember when a little boy told me I used to study the hideous idols which my uncle, John Talmage, the missionary, sent us from faroff China. I would take a malformed and repulsive image of a man and worship it. Then I would say to myself, "How could any man worship such a thing as that as a god? How could any worshiper suppose that his god could have two stumpy, withered legs, buried tailer fashion under a bloated abdomen; two hateful eyes, squinting with strabismus; and a mouth horrible with the demonic grin of a destroying monster?" But the heathen bowing before such a shrine is perhaps not more in error than some Christians are in reference to the risen Lord. They suppose the resurrected Christ is uncanny in looks and actions. After having suffered for our redemption they believe he is no longer a human being, that he lives billions and billions of miles away from earth and has no part in our everyday life. Ah, no. The Jesus who sympathized with Mary's tears when she came to seek his body at the tomb is the same Christ who sympathized with her troubles before the crucifixion.

Thus the Christ who talked to Mary in the Easter dawn preaches a practical gospel for a practical everyday life. The boy Jesus who was in the carpenter shop is the resurrected Christ who is today ready to bend over the work bench and help the mechanic in his toil. The fatherless Christ who once saw Mary, the mother, struggling for her daily bread—for Joseph is supposed to have died when the divine child was very young—is the sympathizing Saviour who today is ready to help the widow and care for the orphan. We preach not an Easter Jesus in the elegant robes of a king so much as in the plain garb of a workman going forth to help those who are in the awful struggle for a physical existence.

The risen Lord appeared first unto Mary because her great love would not allow her to desert the rifled tomb. Reading carefully St. John's account of the resurrection, you will find that Mary made two visits to the garden where Christ's body was laid. First she went as a woman. Even to this day the women of the east on the first day of the week are accustomed to do just the same. They go to the garden in the women's go to the new made graves to weep there. With my own eyes I have seen them going and heard them with my ears. Just as the sun is peeping over the Judean hills they come forth robed in white, with faces covered with long veils, weeping and sobbing as they go. "But no sooner did Mary reach the tomb and find it desecrated than she ran and told the disciples Peter and John. What then happened? Why, Peter and John came to the tomb and verified the statement with their own eyes. Then they turned and went home, but Mary, the loving Mary, would not leave. She lingered, making every one else not practically the only question, "Where have ye laid him?" She asked it of the two angels; she asked it of the supposed gardener; then, as she still doubted, "Will that gentle testimony be scattered by those who know him not?"

And why should not we, the professing followers of Jesus, be willing to announce to the world the glad tidings of a risen Christ? Supposing that today your wife were sick and had to undergo a very serious operation, would you not notify her mother and father and brothers and sisters of the impending danger? And if that operation was a success would you not make the telegraph wires thrill with the news, "The doctors say the operation was a success and that she will get well?" If you would thus hasten to send the news that your wife had been saved from the jaws of death, how much more should every one who realizes what the resurrection of the Lord means to our dying race join in the effort to send broadcast through a perishing world the glad news that Christ has risen from the dead?

We can imagine the joy that was felt many years ago in an old farmhouse on a certain occasion during the late civil war. One of the sons, who was a soldier boy, was reported to have been shot. His name appeared in the death column. The oldest brother immediately went to the front to find out how the lad was shot and, if possible, to bring the body home for burial. When he found his brother's regiment and captain, he was told the young man was not killed, but only wounded. The older brother did not even wait to see his wounded brother. He rushed to the nearest telegraph office and sent these words to the old folks: "Charley is not dead, but alive. I shall bring him home as soon as he can leave the hospital." Ah, yes, there was joy in the old farmhouse over the seemingly miraculous resurrection of the dead boy. Is there to be no joy scattered abroad by us when we announce everywhere the glad tidings of Easter morn?

The Christ of Easter Day.
But there is one result of Mary's message to the disciples upon which I would like to touch before I close. She carried that news to doubting Thomas. Even with all the testimony that Mary brought, Thomas would not believe that Christ had risen again until he had thrust his finger into his pierced side. Even after Jesus had appeared among his disciples and Thomas saw Christ face to face he would not believe until he had touched Jesus. In that any doubting Thomas here today among us? Is there any one who is trying to believe the Bible and the gospel without believing the divine birth and the divine resurrection of Jesus Christ? Oh, my beloved, among the beautiful flowers of Easter morn do not try to exhume a corpse and call it a living Christ. Dom Pedro I. of Portugal, on the day of his coronation, had the decomposing body of his dead queen carried through the streets of Lisbon with a jeweled crown upon her skull and a scepter in her hand. But after all, she was a dead queen. Look today at a living Jesus. Look today at a resurrected Christ, who is ready to show you his scars, the results of suffering for your sins. Look today at a living Jesus, who demands that you shall not only call him Master, but Rabboni, which is to say "Great Master." Look today at an Easter Christ, who was ascended unto the Father, with whom you may be able, through his blood, to pass an endless Easter.

When Chaplain Russell of the Missouri house prays, he wants the members to give attention. His prayers being sent up especially for them, he thinks it unseemly for them not to listen. Having observed that the members did not attend to what he said, the Rev. Mr. Russell wanted the following petition up to the throne of grace a few mornings ago: "O Lord, I ask that those in this house who rise to their feet for prayer may not continue to read on their papers while the chaplain prays. Grant that they may have some respect for God if they have not for the chaplain."—Kansas City Journal.

Doctor

Tried but Could Not Relieve Me

Of Headache, Dizziness, Twitching. Dr. Miles' Nervine Did Relieve and Cure.

"The doctor tried but couldn't relieve me" is a phrase commonly met with in the letters we receive from grateful patients. The reason is plain. The doctor tries to cure the symptom and neglects the disease. In all cases of chronic headache, nervousness, weakness, general debility, dizzy spells, loss of appetite, inability to sleep, lack of energy, loss of flesh, lack of interest, morbid tendencies, hysteria, the disease is a nervous disorder and some means must be taken to strengthen and restore the nervous system. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is performing wonders every day and will cure you as it has thousands of others. Read how quickly it acted in the following case:

"A few years ago I was greatly troubled with nervousness and indigestion. While at work a dizzy spell would come over me and I would be forced to stop and rest. I suffered terribly from headaches and my nervousness was so marked as to cause almost constant twitching of the muscles. My doctor tried but could not relieve me. I finally began the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and continued until I had used four bottles, although I have not had a dizzy spell since taking the first dose. I am very thankful for what your medicine has done for me and shall take pleasure in recommending it whenever I can."—FRANK P. BENTLEY, Middlebury, Vt.

Good for Children. The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. THE VALUE OF CYPRESS.

It is the Most Desirable Wood Which Can Be Used.

Cypress in all its ages has been considered the indestructible wood, and a such, used to cover and protect other less durable woods. It is peculiar in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, Pocomoke river swamp, lying chiefly in Worcester county, Maryland, being as far North as it seems to grow and this for more than a century, furnished the principal supply of Cypress Shingles for the Eastern Shore Peninsula, trees growing to enormous size and great age, often a thousand years or more. This virgin growth of matured timber has been practically worked up many years ago, and supplies have been drawn from the swamps of Virginia and North Carolina, which are also being much depleted, and now Florida furnishes the principal supply of virgin growth Cypress. A younger growth, not fully matured, is being largely used but is of short life compared with the old yellow heart which now comes from Florida, where it grows to its greatest perfection.

It is a fact in nature that the durability of timber corresponds to its age, or the time it takes to grow and mature. Thus, for illustration, from an old growth fine grain matured tree, is much more durable than from a young tree, and so with Cypress and Cypress Shingles. And no matter how much care you take in the selection of your materials for your building or how experienced or reliable your mechanics, if you use inferior shingles you make a great mistake.

The covering of a building is the most important part of the materials used in its construction. "The weakest link is the strength of the chain," and "The poorest shingles determine the life of the roof." And it is poor economy to run so great a risk of having a leaky roof, to save such a trifling amount of money. Act wisely and buy best Florida Heart Shingles. For sale by dealers generally.

Grand Opera At Music Hall.

The social and musical event of the Baltimore season will occur on the evening of May 1st in that city when Mme. Nordica and M. Edouard De Reszke will sing as soloists in combination with the Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra of New York City, under the leadership of J. S. Dusa. This occasion is of great significance to music lovers through the State, especially since it takes the place of the usual Grand Opera season. Mme. Nordica and M. Edouard De Reszke are fresh from recent success in the metropolis, where they have been enthusiastically received and rendered an elaborate ovation. J. S. Dusa, the prominent conductor originally hailed from near Pittsburgh and is a triple millionaire. He has a record of the longest consecutive run in New York, and his methods have attracted a great deal of attention. It is expected that Music Hall will be crowded on the evening mentioned and that many faces from Salisbury and its vicinity will be seen in the audience. The sale of seats began at Albert's ticket office, Baltimore, April 16th.

Rescued from Suffering and Death by

PAINE'S Celery Compound THE GREAT MEDICINE.

MR. ALFRED BROWN, A Prominent and Popular Citizen, Says: "After the Use of Paine's Celery Compound, I Am Now in the Best of Health."

The greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., after years of long practice and close scientific study, gave to suffering and diseased men and women his marvelous, life giving prescription, with the conviction and positive knowledge that it had peculiar virtues and simple power to cure. Thousands of the strongest testimonials from the best known and most reliable men and women of our country fully sustain the claims made by Dr. Phelps regarding his incomparable Paine's Celery Compound.

One of the most convincing proofs furnished, comes recently from a gentleman widely known in the capital city of the Dominion of Canada. We refer to Mr. Alfred Brown, of O'Connor St., Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Brown's letter fully demonstrates the fact that the greatest sufferer may cast off his or her burden of disease and become well, strong, and happy. It proves, too, that the great medicine maintains more fully than ever before its unrivaled place in the estimation of people of wealth and social standing as well as with the masses. Mr. Brown says: "I acknowledge with thankfulness and pleasure the fact that I have been cured of a very painful illness of eight years' standing by use of Paine's Celery Compound. I had, during the years of my illness, tried almost all the advertised medicines without deriving any good results. I was also treated by several of the best doctors of this city, hoping to find that one of them, at least, would understand my case. "I was getting worse, and was told I was incurable. I was indeed in a critical condition. I could not go from the house alone, as I was liable to sudden collapse. I tried hospital treatment, but no relief or good results came to me. I could not sleep; anything that I ate increased my agonies; I was extremely weak, restless, tired, and despondent; was obliged to walk about with my hands pressed firmly into my left side to ease my pains; my feet and hands were cold continually; had inclination to vomit, had profuse, cold sweats, quick breathing, and would be racked with pain for hours at a time. "After the regular use of Paine's Celery Compound for a time, I am now in the best of health, have good appetite, and can use any kind of food. Thank God I am an old self once more, all through the use of Paine's Celery Compound."

Grand Opera in Baltimore.

The sale of seats for the Nordica-DeReszke Duas concert, which is to take place at Music Hall, Baltimore, May 1st, is continuing with great rapidity, and the prospect promises to be a complete sale before the date of the concert. The boxes were auctioned at Knabe Hall, last Wednesday morning, and were bought by the most prominent society people of the city. It is hoped to have Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt present on the occasion, which will add eclat to the performance, and crowd the house to the doors. Edouard DeReszke is probably the greatest basso of the age, and an international favorite. His appearance this year takes the place of the usual Grand Opera Season. The two great singers have just completed a most successful season in the Metropolis, where they were received with enthusiasm and nightly recalls. Their success will doubtless be duplicated in the Monumental City. Society will turn out en masse, and the audience will be one of the most brilliant of the year. The program arranged is a most interesting one, every selection being a gem of the first water, and one in which the average audience takes the greatest delight. Selections from the popular operas will be rendered, and Duas' Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra will render in its own most imitable style compositions of the master writers. The occasion will be noteworthy in every respect, and those who attend from this city may anticipate a most delightful evening. The affair will be given under the auspices of the Hospital for Consumptives of Maryland, one of the worthiest charities of this State, and it is hoped that the Hospital will realize a large sum to aid in its beneficent work.

SATISFACTORY

That's what people say of the work I do. It's because I use the best white lead I can buy, absolutely pure linseed oil and turpentine, only the most durable and expensive colors and employ some but skilled work men. The kind of painting I do costs a little more than some others charge, but it is always satisfactory.

PENINSULA TELEPHONE CO

Preparing To Come Down the Peninsula.

Expect To Start Construction in About Thirty Days.

Plans for the incorporation of a new Long Distance Telephone Company, which will construct and operate long distance telephone lines extending from Elkton to Crisfield, Maryland have been completed, and a sufficient amount of capital already secured to justify those interested to believe that work of construction can be begun in about thirty days.

The name of the new company will be "The Peninsula Telephone Company," and, as its name implies will be in every sense a local enterprise, and will be connected in no way with any other telephone company other than having traffic agreements for the handling of long distance business.

To more fully carry out the plans of making the new company a local enterprise, all the money required for construction purposes will be local capital. The company will issue $75000 of 5 percent first mortgage bonds, with a capital stock of $75,000.

The territory through which the company will construct its lines embraces the following cities and towns: Elkton, Middletown, Chestertown, Centreville, Queenstown, Denton, Easton, Salisbury, Cambridge, Princess Anne, Pocomoke and Crisfield.

Extensions will be made later to connect with the more important towns in Delaware. At Elkton, connections will be made with the lines of the Maryland Telephone & Telegraph Company, through which connection long distance service will be furnished to Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington and all the principal towns and cities in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey.

The incorporators of the new company will be Joshua Clayton, Elkton; Dr. W. H. Walters, Secretary and Treasurer, Pocomoke Telephone Company, Pocomoke, Md.; H. L. Brittingham, General Manager, Princess Anne Telephone Company, Princess Anne, Md.; David E. Evans; H. W. Webb, Stanley Baker and H. W. Rusk, Baltimore, Md.

FROM THE PEOPLE

About The Recent Decision of The Court of Appeals. Some Recommendations Made.

Messrs. Editors of the Advertiser: The editorial of the News on the decision of the Court of Appeals, declaring the law authorizing a vote, etc., on license to sell liquor, and "their suggestion for a law that will be constitutional to be passed by the next Legislature" is too remote and uncertain to satisfy the temperance element.

The question of license or no license was submitted at the last election to the voters of Salisbury and Nutters Districts, and the verdict of a fair and legitimate majority was against a license in those districts, and if that verdict is not respected by the County Commissioners, then an appeal will be made by the Wisconsin delegation (or they will not receive the support of the temperance voters) for a law prohibiting the sale of liquor in all the districts of Wicomico county, (not now prohibited) and such an appeal will be made by the petition of all the temperance voters in said Districts to the Legislature for immediate action.

It seems impossible to frame a law that will be declared constitutional on this liquor question. The "saloon" has money and influence enough to have inserted in the law "some feature making it unconstitutional" when carried to the Court of Appeals. Besides, the voters of these districts do not desire a repetition of the bitter contest in the county and at the election in the next Congressional election that was witnessed before and at the last election.

No! let this matter of the saloons or no saloons in Wicomico be settled once and forever, either by the County Commissioners or by a prohibition law by the next Legislature.

There is, we believe, a majority of voters in Wicomico against the saloon, and "public policy," as well as public decency demand a recognition by the County Commissioners, or by the Legislature of that sentiment. If a law, framed after a Massachusetts law, of long existence, is declared by our Court of last resort unconstitutional, we fear there is no legal remedy against intemperance, but in this county, prohibition, pure and simple.

THE TRAVELERS CLUB OF SALISBURY, MD., will have a personally conducted EUROPEAN TOUR Thursday, April twenty-third, Nineteen-thirty. Trains will leave "GREEN GABLES," CAMDEN AVENUE, 8 P. M.

There are a number of people in Salisbury who have long been anxious to take a European trip, and to those particularly the above announcement appealed. Visions of the Cathedrals of England, the sunny vine-clad slopes of France, the blue skies of Italy, and the picturesque Spanish streets with their kaleidoscope of gay colors and swarthy faces rose before the mind's eye, an alluring prospect, and at 8 p. m. quite a number had assembled at "Green Gables," the home of the Misses Houston, with every variety of bag and baggage impatiently awaiting the starting of the train en route by way of Baltimore for England, Ireland and the Continent.

The ticket office, decorated in the National Colors in honor of so illustrious a party, was besieged with applicants. The Agent was promptly in attendance, and soon the thump-thump of his ticket drawer could be heard with business like regularity, while with true official rapidity and coolness he handed out tickets from Maryland to England, Ireland, France, Spain, Italy and Germany as requested, in all cases including a return passage to the United States. These tickets each had hand painted flags at the top representing the country to which the purchaser desired particularly to go, and also included a trip to all the other countries to be visited by the party before their return home.

Secure in their possession of the necessary transportation, the passengers then thought themselves ready to begin their journey, but they still had the Customs Officer to deal with, and not one escaped his eagle eye. He performed his duties with vigilance and skill, and confiscated more than one treasured piece of jewelry, (to say nothing of cigars) which the passengers vainly endeavored to smuggle through. One lady stylishly attired in a linen duster and a bonnet of the "vintage of '69" was so indignant that she threatened to impeach the United States Government, but the officer was impervious to either threats or bribes, and continued the even tenor of his way, confiscating the entire luggage of the next passenger because he refused to produce the key.

When his demands had been satisfied and all claims adjusted to his satisfaction, the party at last was collected together and ready to start. Some of the interesting towns in Maryland were first visited, including Parsonsburg, Rising Sun, Easton, Harlock and Baltimore. Ireland was the next country in the itinerary, and the cities in that country included Cork, Dublin, Galway and Waterford, at which latter point most of the passengers seemed inclined to linger. From Ireland to England was but a step, and after seeing London, Bath, Newcastle and Hull, the party crossed the English Channel at Dover. Fortunately they had a very smooth passage and crossed without the slightest difficulty, arriving at Calais with flying colors, from whence after short trips to Paris, Havre, Bordeaux and Marseilles they proceeded into Spain. From Spain they went to Italy, in which country Rome, of course, was the first object of interest to all, and after a short stay in Germany, where the charms of Hamburg, Munich, Cassel and Ems engaged their attention, they sailed for home and soon saw "Old Glory" waving in the distance. After a short tour in this country including visits to Aiken, S. C., Bowling Green, Va., and Racine, Wis., the party arrived in Washington, D. C., and thence returned to Maryland and the European Tour was over.

As on all personally conducted tours, all arrangements for the comfort and convenience of the party were made, and the baggage was checked and attended to without a care on the part of the passengers and the Conductor in his blue coat with brass buttons came through at intervals to punch the tickets, answer all inquiries and direct the party how to proceed in going from country to country. The party in the Observation Car were under his special care, and he attended personally to their comfort and pleasure. The Train Boy in his blue uniform supplied the passengers with packages of Nuts, a price in every package, and with all the recent periodicals and the latest American Newspapers, of which those in greatest demand were the Salisbury "Advertiser," "The Courier" and "The News."

The countries were represented by tables bearing the National Flags and the names of the cities by picture postcards mounted on card board to be gazed by the passengers in going from country to country. TORTURING DISFIGURING

Skin, Scalp and Blood Humours

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills

When the Best Physicians and All Else Fail.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scald head; the facial disfigurements, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worried parents, as in milk crust, better and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost supernatural virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Baths the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take the Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood.

This complete treatment, costing but one dollar, affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest cases of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter, tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time. The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

Call for Primary Meeting.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF SALISBURY, MARYLAND.

Notice is hereby given that the Democratic primary meeting will be held in the voting house in the rear of the court house on

Monday Evening, April 27th,

1908, at seven o'clock, for the purpose of nominating three persons for members of the City Council to be voted for on Tuesday, May 5th, at the annual election.

In case of contest polls will be kept open from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock.

- J. CLEVELAND WHITE, E. E. TWILLEY, CHAS. E. HARRIS, THOMAS FERRY, G. E. MITCHELL, Executive Committee for the Democratic Voters of Salisbury.

LESSONS OF THE CITY ELECTIONS.

The second week in April brought local elections in important cities of the Middle West, including Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo. In the last two places there were decided victories for picturesque leaders, with radical and even socialist tendencies in Cleveland, cheap railway fares seem to have been the winning platform, and in Toledo the re-elected Mayor, an adherent of the communistic doctrine of Tolstoy, seems to owe his strength largely to the proletariat; corruption did not win in either case.

St. Louis, with a great Fair upon her hands, avoided the only clear moral issue before her, as neither party cared to support the District Attorney in his brilliant campaign for municipal purity. The Exposition will increase the public plunder. Let us hope that it may also, by arousing civic pride, hasten the end of the present marvellous corruption, which apparently surpasses Tammany. The government of our great cities is, on the whole, a distinct discredit to our people—a discredit not less than is now being furnished by the States of Delaware and Rhode Island.

COURT OF APPEALS DECISION.

The Decision of the court of appeals declaring our present liquor law unconstitutional and thus nullifying the election held in Salisbury and Nutters district last fall, is a great disappointment to the citizens of these districts who voted for temperance. This decision does not interfere with the part of the law giving the County commissioners the right to reject or grant license to those applying for the same. The fight last fall was a clear cut issue for and against license and resulted in a substantial victory for the anti license people. We do not know how the commissioners will regard this vote, but this is a democratic county and one of the fundamental laws of every democracy is that the very foundation upon which our government stands, is that the majority shall rule. At least the districts that have gone against license in an election, where the issue was clearly defined are entitled to a law being passed by our next legislature carrying into effect the expressed sentiment of the voters, and a law should be passed that will allow any district in the county to vote on this or any issue whenever a majority of the voters so desire.

BALTIMORE CITY CAMPAIGN.

Less than two weeks will see the culmination of probably the hardest fought campaign in the history of Baltimore for the position of Mayor.

The Republican candidate, Wachter, aggressive and ambitious, is working with might and main to secure his election at the head of the city government. Public sentiment however in the Monumental City seems to have no inclination for another trial of Republican administration with its accompanying evils of negro office holding and party protection which they expect from a Republican Mayor and City Council.

There is every evidence that Mr. McLane the Democratic, "or white man's Candidate" will be the winning man. Wherever platform meetings or public gatherings in the interest of the Democratic Candidates are held great enthusiasm prevails, and large crowds assemble to hear the party speakers.

Many thousands of Democrats apparently united and harmonious and brimful of enthusiasm and attention packed Music Hall until the building overflowed and the speakers had to harangue the crowd on the outside. Of this meeting the Baltimore Sun of Thursday says:

"Practically the whole Democratic ticket was on the stage, and the audience was representative of every element of the party, eager to participate in the ratification of the candidates, under the auspices of the Young Men's McLane League. Staunch organization men at shoulder to shoulder with life-long independents. Men prominent in every walk of life sat in the boxes and mingled with the crowd, while in the galleries were hundreds of ladies. The cheers that went up as the candidates appeared, awoke the echoes for blocks around.

IMPORTS, OVER A BILLION.

The imports into the United States exceeded one billion dollars in the 12 months ending with March, 1908. This is the first time in the history of our foreign commerce in which the imports in 12 months have exceeded $1,000,000,000. Prior to 1870 they had never reached as much as a half billion dollars in a single year, and it was not until 1890 that they reached three-quarters of a billion dollars in value, and now for the first time they have passed the billion-dollar line. Meanwhile the exports have grown with like rapidity. In the 12 months ending with March, 1908, the total exports were $1,444,786,954, against $1,001,596,688 of imports, giving an excess of exports during the 12 months of $443,190,271. Exports never reached a half billion dollars' value in a single year until after 1870. In 1880 they passed, for the first time, the three quarters of a billion dollar line; in 1899 they for the first time exceeded $1,000,000,000, and in the 12 months ending with March, 1908, they were $1,414,738,954; and should the exports of April, May and June average as high as those for March, they would bring the total exports for the fiscal year past the $1,500,000,000 line.

The growth in imports has been especially marked during the past five years. In the 12 months ending with March, 1908, they were 660 millions in value; in the twelve months ending with March 1906, 588 millions; in the twelve months ending with March, 1905, 509 millions; and in the twelve months ending with March, 1904, $1,001,596,688. This increase in importation is chiefly in manufacturers' materials.

Senator Daniel, speaking of the 1904 nominee for President says: "It is entirely too soon for the democrats to settle upon one man. A year and a half constitutes a long time in American politics and many things may happen between now and the convention to alter the whole aspect of the attitude of the two parties will then be clearly defined. Tariff reform will inevitably enter into the campaign. The merchants and manufacturers as well as the farmers and the consumers are interested in having the tariff judiciously revised. Such a revision should be made and the democratic party should appreciate that such a revision should be made on lines which will not carry ruin to any industry. It is, however, conceded that American goods are sold cheaper in many foreign countries than at home and it is obvious that we are building up foreign countries at the expense of our own consumers. This must be remedied."

Trifles.

In the material universe there are no trifles. The telescope reveals the fact that the little studs of light that gem the bosom of the evening skies are suns and planets. The bounds of space are sown with worlds. Compared with many of these our own earth is but one small diamond in an immense cluster of brilliants.

Descending to the infinitesimal in nature, the microscope opens to view a mine of wonders. Those wonders continue clear down to the vanishing point of our strengthened vision. Where they end God only knows. If we could have still sharper sight, perhaps it would be seen that the wonders beneath our gaze are incomprehensibly inexhaustible.

We are surrounded by the infinitude of God. Nothing that He has made can be truly called insignificant. The Milky Way is no more a path for His feet than is the crystal road of a snow flake. He no more glances in the flash of lightnings than in the gleam of a fire fly. No more does he hang the horizon with sunsets than He paints the blush upon the velvet cheek of a peach. The clouds are His chariots; so are the notes of dust that swim in the smile of a sun beam. He rides upon the broad pinions of the wind; so rides He upon the wings of a gnat. The mountains are His throne; so are the grains of sand in an ant hillcock.

Neither are there any trifles in God's moral universe. The same providence that upholds an angel also directs the life of a child of earth. Omnipotence rocks a cradle. Omniscience counts hairs of a man's head. A great hand shapes the events of human existence.

These are not extravagant words. Do you ask for proofs? Joseph dreams. His dreams apparently come to naught. They appear to be nothing else but boyish imaginings. His wicked brethren sell him into slavery. The glowing line that floated out before his vision into a glorious future stops at a prison door. Human eyes can there trace it no farther. But divine fingers lift it away from that Egyptian jail, and carry it forward to a throne. Joseph is exalted into the premiership of a kingdom. His dreams come true! Onward floats that line of destiny till it hangs over a commonwealth born of God. Still onward it goes, and twines a part of its length around a cross. Thence it moves onward over the nations of the earth, and upward to the gates of pearl and the streets of gold. It started in eternity, in eternity it ends. It forms a circle. That circle is the circumference of God's plan.

This is only one prominent instance among many that seeming trifles are loaded with importance. The Bible is full of illustrations of the fact. So is secular history. So is the unrecorded life of humanity. Take out of the freedom of mankind the superintending and overruling sovereignty of the freedom of God, and your liberty and mine becomes a ship without a pilot, and nowhere bound. While I am permitted to choose for myself, I am glad to know that a stronger and wiser grasp than mine is on the wheel. My course is neither marked out by fatalism nor left to chance. Fatalism would rob me of self and make me a mere automaton; chance would surely drive me upon the rocks in wreck; but Providence always me the use of my own will and takes me to the harbor.

This thought has made heroes and heroines. The world is a gallery of distinguished portraits. It was this that kept Joseph from despair. This it was that sustained Moses and Joshua and David. This nerve Peter and John. This developed Paul into a spiritual giant. Time falls me to call the roll of the worthies of earth—the mighty ones of the past ages. And in that gallery are yet to be hung other portrait faces. They are being painted by the brush of the present. All the past and all the passing days show that out of what appear to be trifles come immensities; that mere springs of circumstances give birth to rivers of result; that from a single ray of light issues the far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.

But there are minds that lift little things into a perverted height of influence. The imagination that, rightly employed, might make a post or an artist labor and brings forth a mosquito, but beholds it as having the form of an eagle.

Two brothers were once walking together at night. Said one of them, "I wish that all the stars were cattle, and that they belonged to me." His brother asked him what he would do with so many cattle. He answered, "I would turn them into your pasture." "No, you wouldn't!" exclaimed the other. "I would not let you feed your cattle in my pasture!" With that they came to blows. One of them fell dead.

Many a disastrous quarrel has started with no better foundation than that. Many an hour of sunshine also has been turned into darkness, many a heart has been made sick, many a life of sweet love has been soured into bitter hate by trifles. The touch of a traveler's foot has sometimes sent an avalanche crashing into an Alpine village. The prick of a pin can poison one's blood to death. A single word may freight a pillow with the thorns of sleeplessness.

Life is too short to be occupied with such trifles. Instead of growing nettles and nightshade in our heart gardens, let us plant roses and honey suckle. There are enough real troubles without creating imaginary ones. Those born of the fancy are naught but nightmares; if we so will, they can be made to vanish with the dawn of sober thought; but those that are tangible can be used by the soul as rings upon which to climb nearer to God. WILLIAM HENRY BAUCROFT.

Efforts are being made to establish a third-rail electric railway in Laurel, Md.

"BET YOU A DOLLAR," SAID THE MAN. "Is that the flat iron building that we read so much about?" asked the man of the policeman. "That's it, sure enough," politely remarked the policeman, and the man who had read so much about this peculiar building, how the wind struck it at such an angle and blew in all the windows in the neighborhood, started to look it over. "How tall is it?" asked the man. "TWENTY STORIES!" "There's more than twenty stories to that building," said the man, beginning to count—One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty one." The cop noticing that the man skipped thirteen, and said "There's six or twenty, sir." "Oh, I know," said the man; "there's twenty-one, I counted 'em and I know." A stranger said "there's only twenty, sir, you've made a mistake." "Bet you a dollar, and leave it with the policeman," said the man. "I'll take you on that," said the stranger, and leave it to the policeman, and the cop to be absolutely certain, walked across the street, and with his club up as a pointer, he began to count—one, two, three, four. He may be counting yet, for the Salisbury man, who had bet the New Yorker that there were more JAYS in New York than in any city in the country, and who had proved it by blocking Broad way, tying up traffic, stopping street cars, and causing several thousand people to stop and look up to see what the policeman was shaking his club at up in the flat-iron building, was quietly enjoying a good cigar out of the sight of the cop, who was looking for them to decide the bet. There are JAYS in New York, there are JAYS in Salisbury, but there is no reason for us in Salisbury to advertise it. We needn't dress like JAYS any more. We can all wear proper Hats, Clothes and Neckties anyway. Lucy Thoroughgood has two stores—one a Clothing Store, the other a Hat and Furnishing Store. Lucy Thoroughgood, SALISBURY, MD.

Call for Primary Meeting.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF SALISBURY, MARYLAND. Notice is hereby given that the Democratic primary meeting will be held in the voting house in the rear of the court house on Monday Evening, April 27th,

1908, at seven o'clock, for the purpose of nominating three persons for members of the City Council to be voted for on Tuesday, May 5th, at the annual election.

In case of contest polls will be kept open from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock. J. CLEVELAND WHITE, E. E. TWILLEY, CHAS. E. HARRIS, THOMAS PERRY, G. E. MITCHELL, Executive Committee for the Democratic Voters of Salisbury.

LESSONS OF THE CITY ELECTIONS.

The second week in April brought local elections in important cities of the Middle West, including Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo. In the last two places there were decided victories for picturesque leaders, with radical and even socialistic tendencies.

St. Louis, with a great Fair upon her hands, avoided the only clear moral issue before her, as neither party cared to support the District Attorney in his brilliant campaign for municipal purity.

COURT OF APPEALS DECISION.

The Decision of the court of appeals declaring our present liquor law unconstitutional and thus nullifying the election held in Salisbury and Nutters district last fall, is a great disappointment to the citizens of these districts who voted for temperance.

BALTIMORE CITY CAMPAIGN.

Less than two weeks will see the culmination of probably the hardest fought campaign in the history of Baltimore for the position of Mayor.

The Republican candidate, Waechter, aggressive and ambitious, is working with might and main to secure his election at the head of the city government. Public sentiment however in the Monumental City seems to have no inclination for another trial of Republican administration with its accompanying evils of negro office holding and party protection which they expect from a Republican Mayor and City Council.

There is every evidence that Mr. McLane the Democratic, "or white man's Candidate" will be the winning man. Wherever platform meetings or public gatherings in the interest of the Democratic Candidates are held great enthusiasm prevails, and large crowds assemble to hear the party speakers.

Many thousands of Democrats apparently united and harmonious and brimful of enthusiasm and attention packed Music Hall until the building overflowed and the speakers had to harangue the crowd on the outside. Of this meeting the Baltimore Sun of Thursday says:

"Practically the whole Democratic ticket was on the stage, and the audience was representative of every element of the party, eager to participate in the ratification of the candidates. Under the auspices of the Young Men's McLane League. Stanch organization men sat shoulder to shoulder with lifelong independents. Men prominent in every walk of life sat in the boxes and mingled with the crowd, while in the galleries were hundreds of ladies. The cheers that went up as the candidates appeared, awoke the echoes for blocks around.

IMPORTS, OVER A BILLION.

The imports into the United States exceeded one billion dollars in the 12 months ending with March, 1908. This is the first time in the history of our foreign commerce in which the imports in 12 months have exceeded $1,000,000,000. Prior to 1870 they had never reached as much as a half billion dollars in a single year, and it was not until 1890 that they reached three-quarters of a billion dollars in value, and now for the first time they have passed the billion-dollar line.

The growth in imports has been especially marked during the past five years. In the 12 months ending with March, 1899, they were 680 millions in value; in the twelve months ending with March 1900, 828 millions; in the twelve months ending with March, 1902, 907 millions; and in the twelve months ending with March, 1908, $1,001,596,688.

Senator Daniel, speaking of the 1904 nominee for President says: "It is entirely too soon for the democrats to settle upon one man. A year and a half constitutes a long time in American politics and many things may happen between now and the convention to alter the whole aspect of the attitude of the two parties will then be clearly defined.

Trifles.

In the material universe there are no trifles. The telescope reveals the fact that the little studs of light that gem the bosom of the evening skies are suns and planets. The bounds of space are sown with worlds. Compared with many of these our own earth is, but one small diamond in an immense cluster of brilliants.

Descending to the infinitesimal in nature, the microscope opens to view a mine of wonders. Those wonders continue clear down to the vanishing point of our strengthened vision. Where they end God only knows. If we could have still sharper sight, perhaps it would be seen that the wonders beneath our gaze are incomprehensibly inexhaustible.

Neither are there any trifles in God's moral universe. The same providence that upholds an angel also directs the life of a child of earth. Omnipotence rocks a cradle. Omniscience counts hairs of a man's head. A great hand shapes the events of human existence.

These are not extravagant words. Do you ask for proofs? Joseph dreams. His dreams apparently come to naught. They appear to be nothing else but boyish imaginings. His wicked brethren sell him into slavery. The glowing line that floated out before his vision into a glorious future stops at a prison door. Human eyes can there trace it no farther. But divine fingers lift it away from that Egyptian jail, and carry it forward to a throne. Joseph is exalted into the premiership of a kingdom. His dreams come true! A word floats that line of destiny till it hangs over a commonwealth born of God. Still onward it goes, and twines a part of its length around a cross. Thence it moves outward over the nations of the earth, and upward to the gates of pearl and the streets of gold. It starts in eternity, in eternity it ends, it forms a circle. That circle is the circumference of God's plan.

This is only one prominent instance among many that seeming trifles are loaded with importance. The Bible is full of illustrations of the fact. So is secular history. So is the unrecorded life of humanity. Take out of the freedom of mankind the superintending and overruling sovereignty of the freedom of God, and your liberty and mine becomes a ship without a pilot, and nowhere bound. While I am permitted to choose for myself, I am glad to know that a stronger and wiser grasp than mine is on the wheel. My course is neither marked out by fatalism nor left to chance. Fatalism would rob me of self and make me a mere automaton; chance would surely drive me upon the rocks in wreck; but Providence allows me the use of my own will and takes me to the harbor.

This thought has made heroes and heroines. The world is a gallery of distinguished portraits. It was this that kept Joseph from despair. This it was that sustained Moses and Joshua and David. This, this, Peter and John. This developed Paul into a spiritual giant.

Time falls me to call the roll of the worthies of earth—the mighty ones of the past ages. And in that gallery are yet to be hung other portrait faces. They are being painted by the brush of the present. All the past and all the passing days show that out of what appear to be trifles come immensities; that mere springs of circumstances give birth to rivers of result; that from a single ray of light issues the far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.

Two brothers were once walking together at night. Said one of them, "I wish that all the stars were cattle, and that they belonged to me." His brother asked him what he would do with so many cattle. He answered, "I would turn them into your pasture." "No, you wouldn't!" exclaimed the other. "I would not let you feed your cattle in my pasture!" With that they came to blows. One of them fell dead.

Life is too short to be occupied with such trifles. Instead of growing nettles and nightshade in our heart gardens, let us plant roses and honey suckles. There are enough real troubles without creating imaginary ones. Those horns of the fancy are naught but nightmares; if we so will, they can be made to vanish with the dawn of sober thought; but those that are tangible can be used by the soul as rings upon which to climb nearer to God. WILLIAM HENRY DAWCROFT.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP.

Cared by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Ferry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pain. As to say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it not only to be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by all dealers.

The Delaware Democrat says: "The Junior Order American Mechanics of Delaware, it is said, is taking steps to ward the building of a home for the aged and indigent members of the order and their wives, and it is likely that Georgetown will be selected for its location."

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet."

A plant will be installed with a capacity of 30 tons per day by the Maryland Slate Co., of Cardiff, who have organized for the purpose of grinding into power the refuse from the state quarries. The incorporators are J. A. Todd, F. R. Scarborough and P. T. Johnson.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well. Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by All Druggists. Trial bottles free.

The Howard county commissioners met those of Carroll county to confer about the character of a bridge to be erected over the stream at Twin Arch, near Mount Airy. Except $200 contributed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., the cost will be borne jointly by the two counties.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

No Reasonable Man

imagines that a neglected cold can be cured in a day. The uncountable air cells in the lungs are inflamed and the throat is as tender as an open sore. But time and Allen's Lung Balm will overcome the cold and stave off consumption. The cough will cease and the lungs will be sound as a new dollar. All druggists sell Allen's Lung Balm.

A Love Letter.

Would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed Salve for Sores, Burns or Piles. Otto Dodd, of Ponder, Mo., writes: "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. It's the best Salve on earth. 50c at all drug stores."

Good for Children.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissues.

Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles that would not yield to any other treatment, and this fact has brought out many worthless counterfeits. Those persons who get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are never disappointed, because it cures.

Letter to Thos. H. Mitchell.

Dear Sir: The cost of labor in painting a house is three times the cost of the paint. You seem to save a little when you buy a lower priced paint, but you certainly add to the cost of labor when you pay for spreading more gallons.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

"Quick lunch" is one of the commonest of city signs. The sign doesn't say "a healthy lunch of good food—the character of the food apparently is not considered. It's just a quick lunch—eat and get away. Is it any wonder that the stomach breaks down? Food is thrown at it, sloppy, indigestible and unnutritious food, very often, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Normally there should be no need for medical assistance for the stomach. But the average method of life is abnormal and while this continues there will always be a demand for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the one medicine which can be relied on to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not a cure all. It is a medicine designed for the stomach, and to cure through the stomach remote diseases which have their cause in the derangement of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It cures when all else fails.

Owing to so much rainy weather our farmers have been unable to make much progress in planting their crops this season.

POWELLVILLE.

Mr. Clyde Burbage of Chester, Pa. is visiting with relatives here. Mr. Burbage was formerly a resident of this place but for the past ten years has been back only twice and his stay was very short both times consequently he is quite a stranger, and his relatives and many friends are very glad to have him with them again, but sorry to see him in such poor health.

Mr. Washington Dennis and sister, Miss Amanda, who sold their farm "Beresland" to Mr. William Dennis some time ago, moved to Berlin Monday.

Jack Frost still continues to visit us once in a while and deprive us of a few more strawberries. Some report that he killed blossoms as late as the last of the week gone.

Some of our farmers have had their cows dehorned this week.

As the excessive wet weather has retarded all spring work, all is now on the alert. Many farmers are just planting their white potatoes and setting their strawberry plants this week. But we notice our friend the potato bug "is not behind time" and is ready for business. We hope our friends who planted early will entertain them and give them so much to eat that they will not take time to look for patches planted later.

The wheat throughout this locality was damaged considerably by the many heavy rains this spring and much in low land is completely drowned and on higher land is hurt to a great extent.

The factory here is delivering large quantities of crates, to be used the fast approaching season.

Our farmers are sowing a great many tomatoes this spring. A much larger acreage is expected to be planted this year than last.

It is now time to spray the fruit trees.

Our public school closed on Thursday of last week and the scholars are free for a good long vacation. Our teacher Mr. J. Frank Fleetwood of Delmar, gave his pupils and patrons a treat consisting of ice, cakes, fruits and many other delicacies of the season which was highly appreciated by all present. Over fifty persons besides pupils partook of the bountiful repast after which all went to their respective homes regretting that the school "which has made much advancement" had closed.

THE VALUE OF CYPRESS.

It is The Most Desirable Wood Which Can Be Used.

Cypress in all its ages has been considered the indestructible wood, and a such, used to cover and protect other less durable woods. It is peculiar in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, Pocomoke river swamp, lying chiefly in Worcester county, Maryland, being as far North as it seems to grow and this for more than a century, furnished the principal supply of Cypress Shingles for the Eastern Shore Peninsula, trees growing to enormous size and greatness, often a thousand years or more. This virgin growth of matured timber has been practically worked up many years ago, and supplies have been drawn from the swamps of Virginia and North Carolina, which are also being much depleted, and now Florida furnishes the principal supply of virgin growth Cypress. A younger growth, not fully matured, is being largely used but is of short life compared with the old yellow heart which now comes from Florida, where it grows to its greatest perfection.

It is a fact in nature that the durability of timber corresponds to its age, for the time it takes to grow and mature. Pine, for illustration, from an old growth fine grain matured tree, is much more durable than a young tree, and so with Cypress and Cypress Shingles. And no matter how much care you take in the selection of your materials for your building or how experienced or reliable your mechanics, if you use inferior shingles you make a great mistake.

The covering of a building is the most important part of the materials used in its construction. "The weakest link is the strength of the chain," and "The poorest shingles determine the life of the roof." And it is poor economy to run so great a risk of having a leaky roof, to save such a trifling amount of money. Act wisely and buy best Florida Heart Shingles. For sale by dealers generally.

THE HOUSE SURGEON.

He is a Moon and a Blessing to Guests in Big Hotels.

All the principal hotels in New York employ a house surgeon. They do not pay him a salary, but merely provide him with a sleeping apartment and office. In return he treats the ills and aches of the staff, from the head men down to the kitchenmaid. This is not a particularly easy task, as there are from 500 to 800 men and women on the payroll of the large hotels. Hardly a day passes that he does not prescribe for a score or more of the employees. Cuts, falls, bruises, scalds and scratches follow each other with a rapidity that would give nervous prostration to any one whose training did not fit him to cope with just such contingencies, says the New York Times.

To the hotel guests the house surgeon is a necessity. Transients from out of town frequently need his services. Some of them who have been dining not wisely, but too well, summon him to straighten them out. Women who overeat and overshoot are good customers. Then there are the hysterical woman, her nervous sister and the woman who insists that she has been poisoned just because too free an indulgence in ice water has made her feel uncomfortable.

To all these the house surgeon is most useful. Accidents of this kind will sometimes occur in the best regulated hotels, and if the attempt is discovered within a reasonable time the heroic efforts that are made to save the man or woman are frequently successful.

The surgeon arrives on the scene with the least possible delay. In the midst of all the fuss, worry and excitement he is calm and capable, and his skillful hands often bring back the patient from the shadow of death. He is discreet itself, and it sometimes happens that the frustrated attempt to die never reaches the public ear.

His position is profitable and pleasant. If he is not naturally courteous, adaptable and of good address, he quickly acquires these qualities. He dresses in the best taste and is seen in the dining rooms and along the corridors of the hotel. In this way he becomes a familiar figure to the guests, and it gives them a feeling of security to know that he is within reach to minister to their physical ailments, real or imaginary, whenever they choose to send for him.

The house surgeon never has to worry about bad debts, as have his less fortunate brethren. The hotel management charges for his services in its regular bill and sees to it that the proper fee is forthcoming. - Detroit Free Press.

Appreciative Listeners.

In America modern languages are not so indispensable an accomplishment as in European countries whose inhabitants, being neighbors, frequently visit lands differing in speech from their own. Even here, however, it is unsafe to presume upon the fancied ignorance of an audience, as did the singer in this story clipped from the Washington Star:

At the recent grand opera engagement in Boston, during a presentation of "Tosca" a number of Italians sitting in a box became convulsed with laughter.

As Terina was in the midst of her impassioned love song to Mario the people about them first wondered what they were laughing at and then became incensed at the foreigners. Finally an usher was sent to find out the reason of so much hilarity. One of them said:

"Do you know what Terina is singing?"

"No," answered the attendant. "Well, instead of a love song she is singing in impassioned accents: 'Don't turn around; your trousers are torn! Don't turn around; your trousers are torn!' -Pittsburg Press.
