The Salisbury Club Keeps On Winning—Seaford, Princess Anne And Mt. Vernon Defeated The Past Week—Notes Of The Diamond.

Those who journeyed to the ball grounds last Friday saw a well played and interesting game between Salisbury and Seaford. Seaford had Sloan, one of the Western Maryland College pitchers in the box and in all except two innings he pitched a good steady game. In the fifth and seventh he weakened a trifle and the home club rolled up three runs in each inning. This was all the run getting by either side. Truitt for Salisbury proved a complete enigma to the Delawareans and pitched one of the most brilliant games seen on the local diamond for many a day. Three little singles in as many innings tells the tale of his splendid performance in the box. At no time in the game did he weaken and the Seaford boys were compelled to return home without either man making a circuit of the bases. Burris had his eye on the ball and lined them out for three doubles.

The visitors made a very favorable impression on the home crowd and their good plays were well applauded. The final score was Salisbury 6, Seaford 0.

The re-organized Princess Anne team with pitcher Stevens in the box came to town on Tuesday accompanied by some forty rooters, determined to make Salisbury for once lower her colors. Before the game many of the local enthusiasts thought that we had at last struck the "real thing" and that Salisbury would lose her first game. But before two innings were complete the fans were over their nervous spell and settled back for an afternoon's enjoyment, knowing full well that the visitors were no match for the local club.

Stevens, the Smyrna Star, was hit for two baggers and singles at will and was finally driven from the box much to the delight of the crowd. White, who was playing third for Princess Anne thought his speedy "straight ones" could stop the onslaught but it was no use, our sluggers had their batting lamps trimmed and nothing could stop them. When the game was over, it was found that seventeen clean hits had been made including five doubles.

Schuler and Truitt, termed by the visitors as "the kids," led the batting with three safe hits a piece. Then came Marine with two two baggers, and on down the line, everybody getting a hit but Price who was playing right field. Hearn pitched for Salisbury and while effective had much difficulty in locating the plate, sending six men to bases on balls, striking one man and making one wild pitch. Schuler at second played a beautiful game accepting nine chances without an error.

The visitors seemed to have an off day and besides playing a ragged game in the field acted as if they knew they were beaten from the start. Salisbury, by the way, was not far behind in the matter of errors, making five to Princess Anne's six. The final score was Princess Anne 4, Salisbury 12.

The Salisbury boys made an excursion down the river Thursday to play the Mt. Vernon team who had gotten Roy White to pitch for them. As was expected Salisbury had an easy time of it and piled up eighteen runs. More could have been gotten if they had been needed. The home club scored seven runs. Truitt pitched six innings and Burris three. The Mt. Vernon boys are fairly good batters but poor fielders.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND.

Truitt and Schuler have improved wonderfully in their batting this season.

The public was glad to see Gunby again wearing Salisbury colors—He is a favorite here—

The last error of record by Truitt in Left field was at Stockton—

Hearn thinks much of his success is due to Marine's coaching.

Princess Anne's last comment was, why won't you put Truitt in against us? Would the management grant the request?

The visiting clubs have had trouble with Dover's umpire for the last three games—

The attendance at the games is getting larger all the time.

White, by his questionable plays at third for Princess Anne, soon brought down upon him the wrath of the Grand Stand—

Burris will make a fine captain for the team—He is ever awake to the fine points of the game—

SEVERAL HOMES BEREAVED.

Mr. Thos. B. Moore Passes Away; Mr. G. Lloyd Truitt A Victim of Typhoid And Mr. Frank Graham Shot.

Mr. Thos. B. Moore, who has been confined to his room for over a year, suffering from a stroke of paralysis, died early last Sunday morning.

Mr. Moore was about seventy-nine years of age and was well known throughout the county. For many years he did a prosperous mercantile business in the village of Quantico, where he was a prominent citizen. In early life he was wedded to Miss Rachel Lowe, who died several years ago, leaving no children. Some years later Mr. Moore married Miss May T. Turpin, daughter of Mr. Thomas J. Turpin of this city, who, with a daughter about eleven years old, survives him.

Funeral services were conducted at the late home Monday afternoon by Rev. Chas. A. Hill, pastor of Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, of which Mr. Moore was a member. The remains were carried to Quantico for interment.

G. LLOYD TRUITT.

Mr. George Lloyd Truitt died about 2 o'clock last Monday afternoon at the home of his father, Mr. E. S. Truitt, near town, of typhoid fever. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the O. S. Baptist Meeting house, East Church street, conducted by Elder Poulson, and the remains were interred in Parsons cemetery.

In the death of Mr. Truitt the community loses a sterling young man. Although but 26 years old he had already established a name and character which should be an inspiration to other young men and a consolation to his bereaved relatives. Very early in life he developed a strong aptitude for business and coupled with his thriftiness was an inherent love of right which won and held the confidence of all. Mr. Truitt was the senior member of the firm of Truitt & Coulbourn which began a grocery business at the N. Y. P. & N. Railroad Station last September, and was successfully conducting it. He had also a large shipping business from the Salisbury Station. It is thought that the long hours of toil and exposure incident to the successful prosecution of his business interests brought on the disease which, in spite of the skill of the physicians and ministrations of the trained nurses, resulted in death.

Mr. E. Wilmer Truitt, of Hebron, is a brother of the deceased, and there are two sisters who are unmarried and reside with the parents at their home on the Parsonsburg road, near town.

FRANK GRAHAM.

A sad accident occurred at Athol, in Baron Creek district, Monday afternoon. Frank Graham, a young insurance man of Philadelphia, with his wife and two young children, had come from the city to spend a short vacation with his brother, Mr. Peter Graham, who is a farmer of the district.

The party, including Mr. Peter Graham's young son, had been shooting with cat rifles, and at the close of the exercise a rifle was given to the boy to take to the house. Another child ran up and in a friendly skirmish for the possession of the weapon a cartridge was discharged which entered the body of Mr. Frank Graham passing through the stomach and lodging under the skin in the back. Mr. Graham fell, mortally wounded. Dr. L. W. Wilson was summoned, and he called Dr. J. McFadden Dick of Salisbury, by phone from Mardela Springs. The fall was located but was not extracted because of the dying condition of the victim. Late Tuesday Mr. Graham expired. His remains were interred Thursday in the family burial ground near Athol.

Instructed For General Seth.

Easton, Md., Aug. 5.—A double delegation of eight was named today by the Democratic County Convention to the Ocean City First District Congressional Convention. They are: Col. Edward Lloyd, J. Frank Turner, George W. Wilson, Joseph B. Harrington, John Selby Martin, J. McKenney Willis, Edward C. Storks and Jas. H. Caulk.

A resolution was passed instructing the delegates to use their best efforts to secure the nomination for Congress of Gen. Joseph Bruff Seth, and another instructing them to observe the unit rule in voting on all questions before the convention.

—The Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company will run excursions to Ocean City every Thursday, during August at Special Low Rates. For other information call on Agents. A. J. Benjamin, D. P. A.

THE RIVER ROAD.

What is Really Asked For By Those Interested In The Movement.

Editors Advertiser:

Your paper of the 2nd. of August contained an article signed by "Reed of Trappe" calling attention to the advisability of continuing the shell road from Tony Tank Mills south about two miles before anything is done with the proposed river road. I wish to state in the first place that the ADVERTISER was laboring under the wrong impression when it stated July 26th that "the committee which met at Shad Point intended going before the County Commissioners to ask that a shell road 40 feet wide be built from Camden to Tony Tank Creek and that a bridge be built to Shad Point thus connecting Salisbury with Shad Point." The decision of the committee above mentioned was not to ask for a shell road but to petition the County Commissioners to make a survey of the proposed route preparatory to building a bridge if in their judgment they found it advisable, across Tony Tank Creek between Shad Point and Parker's Point. The land on both sides of the creek connecting the Ferry road on the south with the old steamboat road on the north of the Creek (thus making the 40 foot road spoken of) will be deeded to the county commissioners free of charge and all work of preparing the road will be free also. Therefore all that is asked from the county commissioners is to build the bridge at the expense of the county and to accept the road already for use absolutely free. As to the need of such an improvement it is only necessary for one to consult any resident of the Western side of Trappe District from below Siloam to Sharp Point and Shad Point also from the creek to Salisbury on the old steamboat road to become thoroughly convinced that the request which these people are making is not an unreasonable one by any means. In fact the interests of these many people as well as the people of Salisbury would have been greatly benefited had this bridge been built many years ago. I for one would like very much to see the proposed road to Shad Point shelled, but if my recollection serves me right there has not been a road in the county shelled absolutely at the expense of the county. The bulk of the expense being met by those people who would be directly benefited by such shelving. Now we have no funds in hand to do any shelving with and therefore cannot make any proposition to the county commissioners along this line. I would be glad indeed to see the shell road from Tony Tank Mills extended further south and in fact all the roads in the county improved, but why should a large thickly populated section of the county be deprived of direct communication with Salisbury and its residents be compelled to travel so far out of their way each time they visit the metropolis of the county when there is so little asked for. Only the building of the bridge. Can there be any more liberal proposition made for any improvement in the county that will be so beneficial?

Salisbury needs all the avenues leading into it that it is possible to obtain, especially when it is putting a large community in closer touch with the county seat. Then if this vast territory is being benefited, and the real estate along the line very much enhanced in value, and the business interests of Salisbury improved, I cannot see why it would not be better for the county, and prove a profitable investment.

Tracy Surrounded Kills Himself.

Harry Tracy, the outlaw, who has been declared one of the boldest and most daring criminals of all time, committed suicide in Washington State at an early hour Wednesday morning. For nearly two months he eluded his pursuers, baffling police after police, and at length weary, exhausted and wounded, he ended his life. He was surrounded by a posse, and there was no chance of escape. Tracy was cool and collected to the end, taking his life only when his luck seemed to have deserted him. Tracy's death ends a career that will be long remembered, as he has carved a name for himself in the criminal annals of the country.

Kenny, Ernest Horsey, L. S. Knowles, J. W. Knowles, D. B. Owens, W. Owens, Andrew Kennerly, Miss Radie Bradley and Miss Wright, I. J. Phillips, J. T. Henry, W. S. Owens, J. D. Ellis, Rev. H. W. D. Johnson, W. W. Cooper, J. S. Cooper, Mrs. A. H. Owens, F. P. Phillips, L. T. Cooper of J., Capt. Geo. Kennerly, W. J. Waller, C. H. Cooper, S. J. Lowe, G. W. Bradley, J. E. Bailey, Robt Horsey, M. V. Cooper, Bailey & Ellis, Sherman Owens, J. D. Phillips, Geo. T. Owens, N. R. Bounds & W. C. Mann, W. F. Bradley, L. E. Collier, C. M. Kenny, Prof. Geo. C. Hugg, B. F. Hitch, R. W. Mills.

Prof. I. L. Twilley, has been engaged as cornetist. Seats with backs on them have been made to seat about seven hundred people and ample accommodations will be made for a large crowd. Hacks will run to and from Sharptown to convey passengers at a reasonable rate. This is the second camp near Sharptown, one having closed on Monday of last week.

The School Board.

The School Board held a meeting on Monday. The Board re-organized and elected Charles E. Williams President and H. Crawford Bounds, secretary, treasurer and examiner. The election was unanimous.

Prof. Chas. L. Oswald of Gorham, N. Y. was appointed manual training instructor.

The Board had received notice that it would be entitled to two scholarships to the new Normal School at Frostburg and Miss Alice H. Carey was given one, and one was left vacant.

Miss Cora Mitchell declined the previous appointment of a scholarship to the Maryland Institute for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts and this was left vacant.

Harry M. Gordy was granted the use of School room on Bell street for special instruction to students, until needed by the Board.

The assistant teachers throughout the county were appointed and the appointments made by trustees were confirmed as far as contracts had been received by the Board.

An appeal case was taken up by the Board, it having been filed according to the provision of an act of the last session of the Legislature, which gives the teacher a right to appeal to the Board when she has been discharged and can demand of the trustees written reasons for her discharge. This was the case of Miss Nettie Holloway, teacher Charity School, Salisbury district. She had been discharged by the trustees and Miss Anderson appointed in her place. The trustees presented their reasons in writing for their action. The Board did not consider the reasons sufficient to justify a discharge and therefore annulled the action of the trustees, giving Miss Holloway possession of the school. This is one of the very few cases in the State since the passage of the act.

W. J. Holloway was appointed principal of the High School and Walter Hurlington one of the assistants. According to the new arrangement the principal and two assistants will have entire charge of the High School proper, in which four grades will be taught, viz., 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th. Misses Wilsie Woodcock and Cora Gillis were given places in the High School as assistants.

The Board will meet on Monday afternoon next to take up the matter of repairs and improvements to school buildings.

DEMOCRATS FIGURE VICTORY,

A Majority of Thirty-five in the Next House is Thought Conservative— Maryland Will Send Four.

What is regarded by many Democrats as an accurate estimate of the Democratic membership of the House of Representatives of the next Congress was given out recently. The Democratic majority is placed at 85. This statement was made up by a close observer at Democratic Congressional headquarters, although it does not bear the official sanction of the managers, who decline to deal in figures at this stage of the campaign.

A few days ago Chairman Joseph W. Babcock gave out a statement in which he estimated that the Republican majority of the House in the next Congress will be 23, as against a majority of 47 at the present time. The total membership of the House in the Fifty-eighth Congress will be 387, instead of 387, under the old apportionment now in operation. There will consequently be 30 members elected from new districts to the next House, and, according to Mr. Babcock's statement, the Republicans will lose 25 of their present majority of 47.

SAY MR. BABCOCK CLAIMS TOO MUCH. The Democrats criticize Mr. Babcock's forecast, and assert that in his alleged "conservative statement" he has claimed districts which will surely go Democratic at the next election. In Maryland Mr. Babcock says that the Democrats cannot possibly elect more than two members. He concedes defeat apparently in the districts now represented by Messrs. A. A. Blakney and Charles R. Schism. The Democrats claim that they will carry four districts in Maryland, and assert that Messrs. Sidney E. Mudd and George A. Pearce are the only two candidates from the State who may hope to return.

In Kentucky Mr. Babcock claims that his party will gain three districts, while the Democrats can see only one in which defeat appears likely. In California Mr. Babcock says the Democrats will not carry a district. The Democrats say that when the ballots are counted two out of the districts there will be found to have elected Democratic candidates.

In North Carolina the Democrats claim nine out of ten districts. In West Virginia they declare they will carry 2; in Pennsylvania, 7; in Ohio, 6; in New York, 18 out of 37; in Michigan, 4 out of 13; in Kansas, 4; or half of the delegation; in Indiana, 6 out of 13; in Iowa, 2; in Minnesota, 2; and in Missouri, all except one of the 17 districts. PASTOR COLLINS WHISTLED HIS TEXT Novel Method of Introducing His Subject for a Splendid Sermon at Asbury Church.

The whistling of a text from a pulpit, is somewhat of an innovation to modern sermonizing, but this is what actually occurred at Asbury M. E. Church last Sunday morning. When the Rev. Vaughan S. Collins arose to give his sermon he whistled four times the notes being an imitation of the song of the common meadow lark. Hearing one of these birds on a recent pastoral visit to Smyrna Landing, the thought suggested the subject a very appropriate sermon. The four notes of the meadow lark were interpreted: "Thou God Seeest Me," as found in the thirteenth chapter of Genesis. On this line of thought he dwelt at length, and showed that no matter where we were, whether in worldly society, in prosperity or adversity, God sees us. Pertinent to the text was the Sunday gambling that was going on along the banks of Lake Como, and Pastor Collins referred to this in forcible terms.—Smyrna Times.

—Say, "Fard," are you going to Ocean City next Thursday on the Company's Excursion? No? Well, stay home and sweeter; I expect to go every Thursday during August, on the low rate Excursion, and keep cool.

The Washington and Frederick County Commissioners met at Blue Ridge Summit last week and settled the disputes about the boundary line. The result of the survey will add over $10,000 worth of taxable property to the tax revenue of Frederick county.

Harvey Longnecker ran into a nest of copperheads in a field near Middle-town on Thursday, and was only saved from death by the heavy boots which he wore. He killed six reptiles, each measuring three feet in length.

THE MARYLAND AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Practical Work Being Accomplished at The College And Station.

There were during the past year 120 students in regular attendance at the Maryland Agricultural College ninety-one of whom were sons of farmers. Only one of the ninety-one farmers' sons is taking a classical course of study. The other ninety are engaged in acquiring a theoretical and practical knowledge of agriculture, chemistry and mechanics. No scholarships are awarded to students taking the classical course.

In the language of a recent visitor to the College "Great progress has been made towards transforming this College into what it should be in fact, a great technical school of the first rank with but few inducements to strictly classical students, who are, and should be better provided for at other institutions in the State.

Only eight students are now taking Latin, while ten years ago over fifty per cent. were taking classical course, and only a very few were really following out the courses in Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, for the equipment for practical teaching in those lines was then so meagre that real technical students preferred to go elsewhere. When the plans are carried out for the completion of the engineering building, the equipment will be fairly complete in all essential particulars for teaching both theoretically and practically all the studies properly grouped together in this kind of a school. This year the students have trimmed the orchards, done the spraying, they examine farm machinery in operation and at rest, and have paid great and enthusiastic attention to the highly interesting and practical subject of judging stock, and have developed excellent capacity in that line. They have been taken to some of the great fairs to see the stock on exhibition, have visited several large farms in various parts of the State to examine cows, beef cattle, hogs and sheep. The interest they take is highly gratifying, and the results of their estimates have been so accurate as to excite general admiration."

Base Ball at Sharptown.

Some few weeks ago base ball became the leading theme here and soon the I. X. L. or Sharptown team was organized with Ned Hastings manager. An outfit of bats, balls, gloves etc was ordered and the work begun in earnest. The playing from the very beginning was skillful and gave evidence of success. Match games were at first played with nearby teams and almost invariably the result was in favor of the Sharptown nine, an entirely home team. One victory followed another until the whole club became filled with enthusiasm and then suits were bought, money put into the treasury and then came an ambition to meet any Peninsula team, having the utmost confidence in their ability to play the best of them.

On Saturday last this club went over to Hebron and played a very successful game, winning the victory in a score of 14 to 7 in favor of Sharptown. The pitcher for Hebron nine was Clarence Hearn of Salisbury who is very widely known on the Peninsula as an expert pitcher. This victory has very much encouraged the boys and especially the manager Mr. Hastings. On Saturday of this week the nine will play the second game with Laurel. They have also challenged Seaford and the challenge has been accepted and the first game will be played some day next week.

In addition to this another club has been organized and known as the Moxies. This is composed of a younger company, but they have shown great playing ability and have scored some splendid victories. We look for an interesting game between home teams before the closing of the season. The younger club is making rapid strides along the line of progress and it is expected to do some fine work.

As we are writing this still a younger crowd comes in and reports a new organization just being formed to be known as the "Little Stars" of Sharptown. We can not at this writing predict their future, but it is composed of active boys who can run, jump and move around with great agility. Sidney Mitchell will be manager of the juvenile team and he will make it hum. He has the push and the pluck to make it go and in the near future we expect to be able to report great victories, age and size to be considered. C.

The residents around Poolesville, Montgomery county, are very anxious for rural free delivery, and a petition to that effect circulated contained the names of all the farmers, except two or three.

Logic of the Sabbath. "As a psychologist, I believe in the Sabbath day," says G. Stanley Hall in Ainslee's. "One day in seven should be kept holy from work and sacred to man's primitive paradise of leisure. I am no Puritan pietist or even Sabatarian in any severe sense, but hold that this is one of the greatest of all human institutions and that the command to keep it as a day of rest is written in our physiological constitutions. If need be, it may be kept in sleep, man's great restorer. Monday our nerves and brain must be refreshed, and we must start a new weekly rhythm on a higher plane than we closed the old one. The mental scenery must be changed. The brooder's overthought must have enlarged our plans and given us both momentum and direction. What form the rest cure should take differs perhaps for each person. I go to church, but my neighbor should perhaps spend the day in the fields, with children, in music, in books, but for all there should be peace, tranquillity, repose, absence of worry and relaxation. In no land should the Sabbath be so hallowed as in this land of haste, tension and Americanitis."

Beyond His Power. Justice Giegerich of the New York supreme court, who has a fine summer home on Staten Island, is very fond of sailing, and a few weeks ago he invited a friend of his, a lawyer, to go down the bay with him. At the start the wind was quite brisk, but soon freshened into a gale and caused the little craft they were in to toss and roll in a manner that soon caused the lawyer's features to twist into expressive contortions.

Justice Giegerich, noticing his friend's plight, laid a soothing hand on the latter's shoulder and said: "My dear fellow, can I do anything for you?" "Yes, your honor," replied the lawyer in plaintive tones, "you will greatly oblige me by overruling this motion."

A Big Bee Exhibit. Mayor Swink of Rocky Ford, Colo., who has perhaps the largest bee plant in America, is going to take his bees to the world's fair at St. Louis, and they will work there from the time the exposition opens until it closes. Mr. Swink is willing to construct of beehives a miniature of the Colorado statehouse at Denver. This will require about 640 hives, and in it about 5,500,000 bees will work. Colorado is a great honey producing state. One Colorado apiarist keeps his bees busy collecting honey all the year around by turning them loose in his alfalfa fields in the summer and in winter shipping them to a plantation in Florida.

Millions USE CUTICURA SOAP

Assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, the Great Skin Cure, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleaning the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itching, and chafings, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of baths for annoying inflammations and irritations, or too free or offensive perspirations, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, especially mothers. No amount of persuasion can induce those who have once used these great skin purifiers and beautifiers to use any others.

Do You Want $1000?

I will furnish you with a savings bank that can be opened only by me or by the company, for which you deposit one dollar as an evidence of good faith, which amount will be credited on your book. You then sign an application for insurance, and are examined by a physician. If you pass the examination a policy will be issued, on delivery of which you pay $3, and if you should die the policy will be paid; if you do not pass the $1 deposited will be returned. I call every three months at your home, open the bank in your presence, and enter the amount in your book. If your savings exceed the amount due by more than $20 you will be allowed 3 per cent on the excess. Amount necessary to secure a 20-year payment life policy at 21 years of age on $1000 is less than 68c per week; at 30 years of age, less than 68c per week. A life policy for $500 at an age under 24, costs less than 20c a day.

ROADS IN GEORGIA.
Convicts Building Splendid Highways in That State.
Muscookee county, Ga., of which Columbus is the county seat, has made some movement in the way of better county highways. The county commissioners are taking much interest in the subject, and one of their number, Colonel W. L. Tillman, has for some time devoted a great deal of attention to roadmaking. The county chain gang is used for road construction, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. A system in vogue until the last year or two has been to put the convicts at work in different sections of the country repairing the bad places in the roads. Necessarily this system did not accomplish much. It has now been changed, and the work is confined to the making of improved roads, the whole body of convicts being placed at work on one road until completed. At present there are stretches aggregating thirty miles of improved county roads in the county. Colonel Tillman recently took a large party of delegates over what is known as the Glade road for a distance of nine miles, showing the work already done on that road and that now under way. A year ago this road was almost impassable. For the greater part of the distance now it is a splendid highway, macadamized with native materials, gravel being used for the foundation and the surface being of clay and gravel. On one portion of the road the surfacing has been done with refuse from fertilizer plants, and this material is giving excellent results. At the end of the Glade Spring road an immense cut has been made through a sand hill and an almost impassable grade leveled down, so that when the work is completed farmers will have a splendid demonstration of the benefits of road construction. Colonel Tillman estimates that with his convict force he can complete from ten to twelve miles of macadamized roadway a year. There are now something like 300 miles of country highway in the county, only one-tenth being completed. Muscookee county has no public debt, and its taxation is the lowest in the state of Georgia, with the exception of one county which depends upon the revenue of the dispensary system.

A ROAD IN GEORGIA.

ROADS IN DELAWARE.
The State Badly in Need of Better Highways.

From one end of Delaware to the other goes up the cry for good roads. The old time patching methods and the dumping of mud on the roads, only to be washed away by the next rain, carry off the hard earned money paid by the farmers for road taxes. The first step for good roads will be taken this season when the convicts will furnish broken stone with which to begin the work of building a solid state road, says the Philadelphia North American. Water and narrow tires are two causes which contribute to the ruin of roads. The rut from a passing wagon forms the trough for rain, and the next wagon simply digs deeper, and the destruction continues. Wide tires roll and harden the surface, and every wide tired wagon and traction engine becomes a road roller. A movement is now on foot to have a wide tire law enacted by the next legislature. Every wagon which cuts up the roads can be changed into a help in making better roads. The recent storm left in its wake wagons and carriages by the hundreds in the state as a monument to bad roads. Turn where you may, broken vehicles are lying by the roadside, telling of the February storm and the bad roads of Delaware.

Railroads Doing a Great Work.
It is gratifying to note that the southern trunk lines have taken up this matter of good roads and are pushing the movement with vigor. There is perhaps a tinge of selfishness to this railroad activity, as better roads mean an increased volume of freight, but the movement is none the less praiseworthy for that. The railroads are expending vast sums in impressing southerners with the benefit of good roads and illustrating their argument with the construction of well drained and well laid out dirt highways, graded and kept according to scientific engineering principles, says the Richmond (Va.) Times. In carrying out this good work these roads are looking a long way ahead—looking, in fact, to a time when the country farmer will be able to market every pound of his produce in wet or dry weather.

What Should Be Done.
Papers everywhere are urging the construction of better roads. They speak of this method and that method, but it all will amount to nothing until another and better system is established. As things now stand, says the Bergen Springs (Mich.) Era, the road tax in rural localities is payable in work unless the taxpayer can find some way to get out of it. It would be just as sensible to pay the school tax or the tax for an official stenographer in work as to pay the road tax in that way. The highways should be made under the supervision of a competent engineer and the work be done by contract. Then we should know just what is done and what it costs, and if it is not well done the bondsmen of the contractor could be held to make it good.

HOW TO TREAT CURCULIO.

The Only Way is to Jar—Why Spraying is Not Liked.
"The only way" to treat curculio, as told by Mr. J. H. Hale before a society of horticulturists, is reported as follows: It is to jar the trees and then burn the curculio. It looks like a somewhat expensive operation to jar a lot of trees for curculio; but, systematically arranged, you can go over the whole orchard in a very short time and do it every day in the week as long as it is necessary. We are not troubled very much with them in our neighborhood. In 1890 and 1898 we were troubled with them in Georgia, and we jarred 50,000 trees one day and then 50,000 the next, and we kept it up for seven weeks and got the orchard practically free from curculio, while neighboring orchards lost 55 to 60 per cent of their crop from them. One man will carry the circular frame and another a club padded with rubber.

It does no good to jar these trees when the sun is too warm, as the curculios become too lively and frisky and will not remain on frames. We jarred from early in the morning until about 10 o'clock, and then we would begin again about 3. They would stay on this tray until we got to the end of the row, where we had a tin box to put them in. We kept account of this expense, what each row cost us. We kept this up until we got them down to seventy-five from the row. The most they got at one time was 400 to the row. There were a good many barrels we gathered up and burned. We mix the curculio with kerosene oil, and it does not require much burning.

I think it is the general experience of those who have sprayed that they have not met with any marked success. I do not dare to use too much on my trees. I have sprayed them to my sorrow. Either bordeaux or arsenic will cause the foliage of peach trees to drop if used of much strength. The foliage of the Japanese plums is subject to being attacked with shot hole fungus, and, while their foliage is not as tender as that of the peach, the use of arsenic or bordeaux weakens the resisting force of foliage as to shot hole fungus. I have taken almost all the foliage off the trees at different times. With excessive proportion of lime in the solution the evil of using it can be partially overcome, but then the solution is too thick to be applied well; so, after all, jarring is the best, cheapest and most effective of any method I know of as against the curculio.

A Promising New Garden Flower.
Gardening pictures one of the latest novelties, the Shasta daisy, created by Luther Burbank, which, Professor Bailey says, promises to at once take rank as one of the very best garden flowers. The plant is very hardy and not particular as to soil or treatment. It blooms for several months, nearly all the year round in California. The flower is large, fully three inches in diameter.

THE SHASTA DAISY AND ITS PARENTS.
ter, and has three or more rows of petals of remarkable whiteness on stiff, wiry stems of great length. The plant is botanically classified as Chrysanthemum leucanthemum hybridum. It was produced by crossing the weedy but free flowering American species with the European and Japanese species, followed by a long period of rigid selection. Some perfectly double daisies are other novelties from the same source.

Strawberries of High Quality.
For large berries of high quality Marshall, William Belt and Sample are valuable, says the Michigan station, but for market berries, where quality is desired, Excelator for early, followed by Warfield, Havepland, Clyde, Sample, William Belt and Bubach, will, with good culture, give desirable results. Some of the newer sorts are promising, but need further trial. Senator Dunlap, Rough Rider, Empress and Parson's Beauty are all berries of much promise, but every grower should carefully select such varieties as are suited to his methods of culture and environments.

A Point in Transplanting.
In transplanting such plants as the strawberry the fibrous roots should be spread out as much as possible, while the root of a taprooted plant, like cabbage, beet, etc., should be placed straight up and down and not bent upon itself.

Have the Pump Right.
It is all very well to discuss formulas for bordeaux mixture and substitutes for paris green, but if the packing is out of the pump cylinder no formula is worth anything, remarks Country Gentleman.

All Were Saved.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free [at all Druggists].

of So. Glen Falls, N. Y., describes a condition which thousands of men and women find identical with theirs. Read what he says, and note the similarity of your own case. Write to him, enclosing stamped addressed envelope for reply, and get a personal corroboration of what is here given. He says regarding

L. D. Palmer.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure:

"I suffered agonizing pain in the left breast and between my shoulders from heart trouble. My heart would palpitate, flutter, then skip beats, until I could no longer lie in bed. Night after night I walked the floor, for to lie down would have meant sudden death. My condition seemed almost hopeless when I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, but it helped me from the first. Later I took Dr. Miles' Nerve and Brain Tonic, and the effect was astonishing. I earnestly implore similar sufferers to give these remedies a trial."

Order of Publication.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Wicomico County and State of Maryland of which Jackson Brown, late of said County, died seized and possessed for the purpose of division amongst the parties entitled thereto. The bill states that Jackson Brown was in his lifetime and at the time of his death seized and possessed of certain real estate, which is particularly described in said bill, that being so seized and possessed, he departed this life intestate about the year 1881, leaving surviving him at present the following heirs, James Elliott, a son of a deceased daughter, Lottie Phillips, Maggie Cox, Bertie Lloyd, Zenobia Howard, Georgia Evans and Katie Bailey, daughters of Sallie Horseman, a deceased daughter; John Bradley, a son of a deceased daughter, Clara Jackson a daughter, Glen Howard, in a great grandson, Rodney A. Horseman, infant son of a deceased daughter, Lorenzo Bradley, infant son of a deceased daughter, Eula Bradley, infant daughter of a deceased daughter, and Myrtle Bradley, infant daughter of a deceased daughter, all of whom reside in said Wicomico County, Isaac Elliott, son of a deceased daughter, residing in Talbot County in said State, Clara Bedworth, daughter of a deceased daughter, residing in Worcester County in said State, Lizzie Corkran, daughter of a deceased daughter, and Estel M. Jackson, an infant great-grand daughter, both residing in Dorchester County in said State, and George Brown, a son who married Annie Brown, Burton Brown, a son who married Sarah Brown, and Perry Brown, a son, who married Mamie Brown, who are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing in the State of Virginia, to whom the said real estate has descended; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interest therein, and that in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their several interests, and prays for a decree for a sale of the said property and a distribution of the proceeds amongst the parties entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests.

It is thereupon this 1st day of August 1902, ordered by the Circuit Court for said Wicomico County in Equity that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be published in said Wicomico County once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of August 1902, give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September 1902, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

—We commend the position the City Council has taken upon the hog-pen question. Each year when the mid-summer mornings and evenings are redolent with the rich odor from secreted hog pens within the corporate limits, decent people are compelled to appeal to the Council for relief from the nuisance.

The Council has passed ordinances regulating the keeping of hogs in the town, but the strictest vigilance seems necessary to prevent violation of them. Each season some citizens who have not the proper regard for the cleanliness and health of the municipality will stealthily invest in a pig or two and, placing them in a back lot or small alley, proceed to fatten them on such refuse stuff as may be gathered from the kitchen and elsewhere. Thus the pigs grow into hogs without attracting public attention till the air in midsummer catches the effluvia generated in the filth of the pen and bears it abroad for the delectation of sensitive olfactories. Then is the time that the whole pig-keeping business is ventilated to the Council by the outraged neighbors of the pigs.

The council will abate the nuisance at once but the same things will re-occur next season and the next unless the Council is very watchful.

—In the last campaign the Republican party started out with this plank in its platform:

"We condemn all conspiracies and combinations intended to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production, or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectively restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers, and all who are engaged in industry and commerce."

That reads well but what is the record of the Republican Congress. Not only no legislation in this line has been enacted, but the party has refused to enforce the laws already on the statute books and the growth of trusts and combinations has been greater than the world has ever known before.—Rushville (Ind.) Jacksonian.

—We offer the following extract from the sworn testimony of Herman B. Butler, a leading steel manufacturer, before the United States Industrial Commission for the edification of those strangely constituted Republicans, who think that our manufacturers will export $48,000,000 worth of steel in a single year at a loss on every ton.

"Question. This very statement that you have made to the effect that American goods are often sold abroad cheaper than they are sold in the United States has been given as an argument in favor of the reduction of the tariff. Do you think it is an argument in favor of the removal of the tariff?"

"Answer. Well if I were a manufacturer I should say that it was not a sufficient argument, but if I was a taxpayer I should say it was."

—It has been freely alleged and generally believed for many years past that the tariff made trusts have two prices for their goods—a high price for the home market, a lower price for the foreign market—and that the price charged to American consumers equals the lower price charged in the foreign market plus the amount of tariff duty and ocean freight. As to some of the commodities, this fact has been at different times well established.—New York World.

—When a Democrat attacked the "howling wilderness of Bamar" and General Jake Smith, they were attacking the army. But when the Republicans assailed General Miles and Admiral Schley it was for the good of the service.

—The New York Press, a leading Republican newspaper, reflecting the views of the majority of the Republicans in the House and Senate, says that "the trusts cannot be reached by tinkering with the tariff. Secretary Root, speaking for the administration, says, "the only direct way to reach the trusts is to adjust the tariff." Does it not look like another reciprocity failure?"

—Sewing will soon be introduced into the colored schools of Talbot. Editor Haddaway will now see more trouble ahead, and probably go with out a shirt button a year longer.—Easton Gazette.

—We have enjoyed all the benefits of a protective tariff for many years, and whatever good it can do in the way of building up infant industries has already been accomplished.—James J. Hill, the great railroad magnate.

Melon Diseases.

Last year many cantaloupe fields were ruined by the blight, which starts as more or less round, brown spots on the leaves, which enlarge until the leaf is killed. Spraying frequently with Bordeaux mixture on both sides of the leaves seems to largely prevent this disease, which is appearing again this year. Another serious melon disease, causing the whole vine to wilt, is becoming destructive this year. It is well to watch for the appearance of this trouble and before it becomes abundant in the field, pull out and burn the wilting vines to prevent infection of others.

J. B. S. Norton, the State Pathologist, College Park, Md., would like to receive information regarding the occurrence of those or any other plant diseases in the State. Specimens of any diseased plants or weeds can be wrapped in paper and mailed. Postage on such will be returned. It is hoped that those interested in the control of weeds and plant diseases will send specimens of those most troublesome, as the Department wishes to know the distribution of those in the State.

Phone to Eastern Shore.

The Sun received last evening from its Centerville correspondent the first telephone message by the new cable from Love Point, Queen Anne's county, to Sandy Point, Anne Arundel county. The line was completed yesterday afternoon.

Heretofore all telephone communication between Baltimore and the Eastern Shore has been around the head of the bay. A cable across the bay was laid last winter, but broke before there was any business over it.

This new cable will give Baltimore communication with the entire Eastern Shore below Cecil county. It will be a great convenience to the people of those counties, and good telephone communication will doubtless promote business between the Shore and the city.

The voice sounds very clear and distinct over the new line, which crosses the bay at its narrowest point.—Baltimore Sun

Republicans At Ocean City.

Ocean City, Md., August 7.—The Republican convention to select a nominee for Congress from the First congressional district will meet on August 28 at noon in Ocean City and will renominate Congressman Wm. H. Jackson for a second term.

Yesterday representative of the various Republican state central committees of the counties comprising the First congressional district met at Ocean City and named the date for their congressional convention. The consensus of opinion of those in attendance was that the present congressman would be the unanimous choice of his party as his own successor.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Phillips Lee Goldsborough, chairman of the Republican State Committee, who expressed a wish that harmony might prevail. Dr. Isaac A. Barber, of Talbot county, former congressman from the First district, was made chairman.

Mr. Adial P. Barnes, of Worcester, was chosen secretary of the meeting.

A resolution offered by Subtreasurer A. Lincoln Dryden was to the effect that each county send as many Republicans to the convention as may be able to attend, and that each one of these shall be a delegate who may take part in the convention. In fact, it is the idea to make the convention a grand mass-meeting which will unanimously declare Jackson their choice.

Mr. Dryden moved that after the adjournment of the convention of the 28th all the state central committees meet and elect a district chairman and secretary, whose duty it shall be to map out plans and to conduct the campaign in the district.

Following the adjournment of the meeting Congressman Jackson was called on for a few remarks. He said: "Gentlemen: I am not seeking the nomination. A term in Congress means a slighting of family and of business interests. But if it is the unanimous desire of your delegates to name me, I will accept and will go into the fight to win."

Representative Republicans from all parts of the district were in attendance.

—Capt. Andrew Woodall, probably the most extensive owner of farming lands on the Eastern Shore, is in the midst of threshing the wheat crop on his 80 farms in Kent and Cecil counties. The present indications are that the yield will reach 90,000 or 100,000 bushels. This estimate is scarcely up to the yield of last year, which was over 100,000. Captain Woodall's farms aggregate about 18,000 acres. The farms are about evenly divided between lower Cecil and upper Kent. The yield of the growing corn crop is estimated at 125,000 bushels.

—A strange disease has attacked the herd of cattle belonging to Jacob Andrews, near Matthews, Talbot county. Their eyes swell up and films form over the ball, finally making them totally blind. Quite a number of them are so affected, and Mr. Andrews fears the disease may extend to the entire herd. The disease started among a lot purchased last fall in Baltimore, they having been shipped from Missouri—Centerville Record.

—Rev. Dr. Reigart, pastor of Wicomico Presbyterian church left this week for a month's vacation, which he will spend with friends in Pennsylvania. The congregation of the Methodist Protestant church will hold their services in the Presbyterian Church during Dr. Reigart's absence, their own church being repaired.

—At a meeting of the City Council last Monday evening, Mayor C. R. Disharoon, Mr. A. A. Gillis and Mr. W. U. Polk were appointed a committee to consider the question of taking care of the water at Division and Isabella Streets. It was also decided to make some change in the sewer at the corner of Division and William Streets.

—12½ and 15c lawns now 8c; 10c lawns now 6c. A great opportunity for buyers at R. E. Powell & Co.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

You may say I am safe from all of them and happy. You may not be as safe as you think for. The heat of summer causes organic matter to decay everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment one hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned and thrown out of order, sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. The proper thing to do is to use Fruit's Cholera Mixture, the only reliable, safe remedy because it cures diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cramp colic, etc.

what do you care?

Suppose that it is discovered that Mars is inhabited and that they have streets cars, eighteen story buildings, bicycles and the new woman. What difference can it make to you until somebody gets up a flying machine and you can take a flyer and go up to Mars for a flying trip? Suppose somebody does invent a typewriter that can spell, what difference does it make to you if you don't need a machine? Suppose the price of firecrackers goes down in China and they stay up here, what do you care if you don't intend to blow yourself on the fourth? Suppose that Mr. Jones or Mr. Anybody does make you a suit of clothes and charge you thirty dollars for it and another man makes just exactly as good a one for twenty, what do you care who makes it? What you want to buy when you buy is Clothes. You don't want to pay for any man's name. What do you care whose name is in your hat? You don't need to wear your hat inside out to show folks that you have a five dollar hat. You'd better buy your $5.00 Hat from Lacy Thoroughgood for $3.50, then you get a Jno. B. Stetson Hat, which are as good as any in the world. This buying certain things, such as Hats and Clothes just to get certain maker's names in them is all "tommy-rot". Lacy Thoroughgood sells just as good Clothes as anybody. Thoroughgood handles the best Hats in the world. Lacy Thoroughgood retails the leading Shirts, such as the Manhattan and the Emery. Some of the best dressed men in Salisbury buy everything they wear from Lacy Thoroughgood and save money by so doing. Everything Lacy Thoroughgood sells is as good as can be, and the price is as low as can be. Come in and see.

The trustees of St. Mary's Seminary, at St. Mary's City, in the county of the same name, have contracted for a new brick building 51x36 feet, to be used as a dormitory and recitation hall. The price is $7875.

Samuel Riggs of Rockville has been made regimental ordinance officer to the First Regiment by Governor Smith. S. M. Talbot of the same town has been made ordinance sergeant. They will accompany the command to the Belair camp.

The first experiment on the Eastern Shore in model road making has been started in Kent, between Chestertown and Centerville on a road over which the heaviest inter county traffic passes. Spawtons Point slag is being used as the material.

There has been some movement on the Eastern Shore to push Judge James Alfred Peares of the Court of Appeals as a possible successor in Congress to Mr. McComas, but the Judge advised a statement that he is too well satisfied with his present berth to care to change it.

Joseph and Samuel Trite, twin brothers, 23 years, were suffocated by gas in an old well on their father's place at McKinstry, Carroll county, while saving the life of another brother, Edward, who had been overcome by the noxious vapors in the hole.

It is said that a party of 16 persons, who were fishing in the Monocacy, near Utica Mills, on Friday, the 11th instant, about half of whom were fined $10 each and costs by Justice Baker, of Lewisville, captured 364 bass, 17 of which weighed over four pounds each.

Workmen at Wilmington, Del are busy getting freight cars in readiness for peach and pear shipments over the Delaware Railroad. About 1,000 cars are being fitted up each week. Estimates received by the railroad company indicate about half a crop this season. The company will have plenty of cars to transport the crop promptly.

Fenwick's Island had an unusually large crowd on Sunday, due to its being the first Sabbath at the recently opened Methodist Protestant camp meeting. Among the visitors were the Delaware capitalists who propose turning the island into a summer resort, who came over in a special from Wilmington to Ocean City, and thence by naphtha launch to the island. They spent the day looking over the grounds. It has been decided to call the new resort Fenwick or Island City, and several options on desirable lots have already been secured by intending purchasers.

Strong evidence sustains the popular verdict that Ely's Cream Balm is worth its weight in gold. Trial size 10 cents. Full size 50 cents. Sold by druggists and mailed by Ely Brothers, New Warren St., New York.

Meers, ELY BROS. - I have been afflicted with catarrh for twenty years. It made me so weak I thought I had consumption. I got one bottle of Ely's Cream Balm and in three days the discharge stopped. It is the best medicine I have used for catarrh.

Very truly, FRANK E. KINDERSPIRE

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Uter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better, in a few days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Negroes from Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Contraville and Chester were brought together by cheap excursions to Kent Island on Sunday. The elements would not mix and before train time came in the evening there were so many broken heads and "clarety" noses that the police could not gather them all in. Charles Scott a notorious Queen Anne's county shot Officer Legg while being escorted to jail but did not inflict a very dangerous wound.

To My Friends. "It is with joy that I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it."—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals.

Clarence, the 8-year-old son of F. H. Abel of Alberton, Howard county, was badly bitten by two dogs on Sunday evening. The dogs were killed and their heads sent to the Pasteur Institute in Baltimore, and the child's wounds were cauterized and dressed by Dr. William B. Garrill, who is positive in saying that the dogs were not rabid.

William H. Radcliffe, one of Dorchester's most prominent men, died at his home near Cambridge, aged 79 years. He was identified with numerous literary and educational institutions in the county and was known as one of its best business men and most wealthy citizens. He left a son, William H. Radcliffe, Jr., who will inherit the entire estate.

Just Look At Her. Whence came that sprightly step, faultless skin, rich, rosy complexion, smiling face. She looks good, feels good. Here's her secret. She uses Dr. King's New Life Pills. Result—All organs active, digestion good, no headaches, no chance for "blues." Try them yourself. Only 25c at all druggists.

Capt. Andrew Woodall, who is credited with being the most extensive owner of farms on the Eastern Shore is harvesting the wheat crop on his 90 farms, aggregating 18,000 acres. His crop will reach 90,000 or 100,000 bushels, which is below last year's yield of over 100,000 bushels.

It Needs A Tonic. There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give paralytics that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave., Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Early Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take. Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress.

The Cambria Slate Company of Harford county has been chartered under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $100,000. One hundred acres of land have been acquired and methods used to utilize a great amount of slate which is generally wasted.

Self Protection. demands that you be on the alert to see that you get Pains Expeller (Perry Davis) when you ask for it; some dealers will try to persuade you to take something else, claimed to be just as good; insist upon getting Pains Expeller, the remedy which has been the world's family doctor for 60 years; it never fails to stop diarrhoea, griping pains in the stomach or bowels, dysentery, etc. Large bottles 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Herbert Lowell Rich of Plymouth, Mass., will succeed C. J. Moore, Ph. D., as professor of chemistry and geology in Western Maryland College. He is a graduate of Tufts' College and a post graduate of Johns Hopkins. He taught chemistry in Lasell Seminary and was formerly with the United States Geological Survey.

CASTORIA. The Kid You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson.

Only A Mask.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well.

What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

George Frebey, of St. James, captured a strange animal, between a wild cat and a raccoon. Its head resembles a fox squirrel or a Norway rat; has three long teeth below and but two above; short hair on the neck like a squirrel, and then a heavy coat of silver gray wool two or three inches in length, and small, thin ears half an inch in length.

Look Pleasant, Please. Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

G. W. Haulenbeck's summer residence at Uplanda, near Deer Park, Garrett county, was struck by lightning on Sunday morning and badly damaged. There were several persons in the house, all of whom escaped injury by a seeming miracle, as the bolt struck very near where they slept.

His Sight Threatened. "While picnicking last month my 11-year old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of St. Louis City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits.

William L. Alverson, the young Virginian who was held in Cumberland for negotiating a bogus check, after taking Constable Wickard all over the town on a search for an elusive friend, knocked the officer down at the jail door and fled across the Potomac into West Virginia. He has not been recaptured.

A Necessary Precaution. Don't neglect a cold. It is worse than unpleasant. It is dangerous. By using One Minute Cough Cure you can cure it at once. Always inflammation, clears the head, soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane. Cures coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Children like it.

Deer park is just now at the zenith of its season. The hotel is full, and social functions given by the cottagers crowd each other. Dancing in the ballroom of the hotel is one of the principal amusements, the Naval Academy Band furnishing the music.

Shatters All Records. Twice in hospital, F. A. Gullidge, Verbena, Ala., paid a vast sum to doctors to cure a severe case of piles, causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica Salve soon cured him. Subdues inflammation, conquers Aches and Pains. Best salve in the world. 25c at all drug stores.

There will be no encampment at Wye Camp, Queen Anne's County, this year. The negro camp had to be stopped because of the lawless element attracted by it, and this year the trustees decided to allow no white camp, either.

A lazy liver may be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. A stick is all right for the back of a lazy man. But it would be a savage as well as a stupid thing to beat a weary man or a starving man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging liver it is a great mistake to lash it with drastic drugs. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred a torpid or sluggish liver is but a symptom of an ill-nourished body, whose organs are weary with overwork. Let your liver alone. Start with the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in proper working order, and see how quickly your liver will become active and energetic. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

The Montgomery county Sunday-schools are in annual convention at Washington Grove. All sections of the county are represented. Rev. Bartlett Jones of Baltimore preached the convention sermon on Sunday.

A. J. Cottingham went to Washington County, Ark., to see his sister and while there was taken with flux (dysentery) and cholera. He decided to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was so much pleased with the prompt cure which it effected, that he wrote the manufacturer a letter in praise of their medicine. Mr. Cottingham resides at Lockland, Ark. This remedy is for sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

Lion Coffee is 16 ounces of pure coffee to the pound. Coated Coffees are only about 14 ounces of coffee and two ounces of eggs, glue, etc., of no value to you, but money in the pocket of the roaster.

Biliousness. I have used your valuable CASCARETS and find them perfect. Couldn't do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to every one. Once tried, you will never be without them in the family. EDW. A. MARZ, Albany, N. Y.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Digests what you eat. This preparation contains all of the digestants and digests all kinds of food. It gives instant relief and never fails to cure. It allows you to eat all the food you want. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. By its use many thousands of dyspeptic have been cured after everything else failed. It prevents formation of gas on the stomach, relieving all distress after eating. Dieting unnecessary. Pleasant to take. It can't help but do you good.

Prickly Heat Disappears Like Magic. DR. BELL'S BALM. A Vegetable Compound for External Use. It instantly cures Prickly Heat, Sunburn, Chafing, Tooth-rash and Skin Diseases generally. Money back if it fails to do the work.

ORDER NISI. Mary E. Walker vs. Katie E. Phillips et al. In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County. In Equity No. 1304. July Term, 1902.

Ordered, that the sale of the property mentioned in these proceedings made and reported by L. Atwood Bennett, Trustee, be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary thereof be shown on or before the 15th day of August, 1902, next, provided a copy of this order be inserted in some newspaper printed in Wicomico County once in each of three successive weeks before the 14th day of August next.

The report states the amount of sales to be $200.00. True copy test: JAS. T. TRUITT, Clerk. JAS. T. TRUITT.

Trespass Notice. Found trespassing on the premises of the subscriber two large brood sows. One is a Berkshire, black with white markings on the other is black and white. Each will weigh upwards of 200 pounds. The owner or owners will be required to prove property, pay charges, and take them away, otherwise they will be disposed of as the law directs. JOSEPH C. TRUITT, Athol, Md. July 14, 1902.

Flashes of Wit and Humor.

It's hard to flatter a sharp girl. The grass widow is sometimes a daisy. The clock never strikes for short hours. No man becomes a jail bird just for a lark. The first kiss only comes once in a lifetime. Love matches don't all set the world on fire. The ice man now has things coming his weigh. The theatrical law suit is one sort of a show case. It isn't always the fast young man who gets there. The smallest minds are often the longest made up. When a belle marries she expects the man to ring her. Long engagements often result in short marriages. Some people run into debt, and others are pushed in. The fellow who depends upon luck never gets there. Many a fellow has gotten a bad fall from the tree of knowledge. The one crop that never fails is the dead beat crop. It's the rapid young man who dies of old age at 40. The baseball twirler should be keyed up to the proper pitch. It's one thing to invent a ship, and another to raise the wind. Some people's idea of a grandstand play is to stand off a creditor. The more children a woman has the fewer fads she has room for. The fellow who attempts to live by his wits discovers that it is no joke. Hard work is the mother of success. Luck is only a distant relative. The average woman's words don't have as much weight as her biscuits. Deep down in her heart a girl is immensely pleased if you call her a flirt. The things we are going to do are generally the things we brag about most. There is nothing so rare as a self-made man who is dissatisfied with his job. When we lay by something for a rainy day there is usually a long dry spell. Some men don't recognize an opportunity unless it is spelled with a big O. The girl with a pug nose may as well give up all hope of ever being intellectual. The deaf mute seems to have a great deal of information right at his fingers' ends. The trouble with the man who loses his temper is that he always finds it again. You can't always judge a man's temper by the way he treats his wife before company. Some people economize by cutting off the necessities and hanging on to the luxuries. Some people never cast their bread upon the water until it is too stale for their own use. "There are five senses," says the chronic borrower, "and the greatest of these is touch." The man who plays the bass drum should have no difficulty in beating his way through life. No Maude dear, we have never heard that Bunyon is the favorite author of the chiropodists. If you want to retain your belief that this is the land of the free, don't get mixed up in politics. Hoax—"My friend Rhimely is a poet." Joax—"Is that so? What does he do for a living?" When a pugilist is knocked out in the first round life to him is surely not one round of pleasure. It doesn't necessarily follow that because the sins of the fathers are visited upon the children the mothers haven't any. Nell—"Mr. Sapphedde doesn't talk much does he?" Belle—"No, but he generally manages to tell all he knows." Wigg—"It is hard to conceal a secret vice." Wag—"That's right. You may eat onions, but they are bound to leak out." A Rittenhouse square little girl asked her mother the other day if she really thought heaven was quite a fashionable place. Wigg—"That pretty girl next door screams to beat the band. I thought you said she sang beautifully." Wag—"No: I said she was a beautiful singer." "I have followed the sea for 30 years," said the man with the weatherbeaten face, "and have you never caught up with it?" asked the silly, pale young man. Mrs. Muggins—"I can't keep track of all the people who are getting married these days." Mrs. Buggins—"I can't even keep track of the people who are getting divorced." "The pen" said the famous warrior to the great editor, "is mightier than the sword." "But there is this to say in favor of the sword," replied the great editor, "it never gets us into libel suits."

If The Baby is Cutting Teeth.

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

SHARPTOWN

George N. Nelson and Miss Martha Bennett were married at the M. E. Church on Wednesday evening at 8.30 by Rev. E. H. Miller. After the ceremony the happy couple went to the home of the groom's mother. There were only a few invited guests but a large number attended the ceremony at the church.

The M. P. Sunday School. W. D. Gravenor, superintendent will go on an excursion to Ocean City on August 27th. They will go by boat to Vienna where they will take the train to the seashore.

The gasoline steamer, Worcester, J. P. Cooper, manager, will run an excursion from here on Saturday afternoon to Westpquin, colored campmeeting, and will return on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Hurit, and family, Mrs. John T. Nelson and mother, Misses Lizzie M. Twiford and Minnie Fowler went to Ocean City on Wednesday via Vienna, going to Vienna on gasoline launch W. H. Whiting. They reported a good time.

The steamer Worcester ran an excursion from Seaford down the river on Tuesday evening having been chartered by Miss Ross of Seaford.

Ned R. Bounds is having a large drug store put up on the hotel property on Main Street, which is to be completed by early in September. W. D. Gravenor & Bro. are doing the work. It will be built and finished in modern style and will add much to the appearance of that part of the town. When completed it will be occupied by Dr. F. J. Townsend and will have two private rooms adjoining the drug store department. The doctor will supply it with a large outfit of drugs and soda fountain up to date. This is another step forward in modern progress that our town is making.

W. H. Knowles started his new cannery on Thursday and canned a few tomatoes. He will run regularly in a few days. He will likely can some peaches, if the prices remain normal.

Prof. L. L. Twilley, wife and child arrived here this week from Baltimore. The Professor and his family will spend two weeks or a month with his mother.

All necessary arrangements have about been completed for the M. P. campmeeting. This is the second of the season and our people will get their share it seems, in camps this year. They afford some pleasure and form interesting gatherings of friends and acquaintance, and give the people a diversity of sermons to think about.

The Misses Caulk gave a reception on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Hattie Saunders of Baltimore.

Cooper & Russel have sold their gasoline launch, the W. H. Whiting to Goodell & Obrien of Allen. The boat was delivered this week.

H. S. Bradley of Riderville, Ala., visited his brother J. S. Bradley and sister Mrs. W. R. Venables a few days ago.

Dr. Mason of Franklin City is visiting his many friends here this week.

At the railway there are now about sixty five on the pay roll and more men needed. The J. B. Conner, Ella Warden are nearing completion. The Twilight is also being repaired. The new vessel is receiving special attention and will be launched in early fall. More vessels are expected next week and a rush will likely continue for some months.

The proficient force of carpenters are doing work that is highly satisfactory to patrons and the trade of work is increasing.

B. P. Gravenor the sail maker, is also busy, besides much work on hand he has recently contracted to make the suit of sails for the new vessel. He runs a force of men almost constantly and turns out much work in his line. He stands high among vessel men and keeps his work up to a high standard.

Capt. W. R. Elzey, shipping clerk for A. W. Robinson & Co., has been confined to his bed for several weeks and has been a great sufferer, but is now some better.

QUANTICO.

Hebron camp is over and our young people are now resting for Sileam and Green Hill, which occur next.

The remains of Mr. Thos. B. Moore, late of Salisbury, but formerly of Quantico, were interred on Monday afternoon in the family burying ground upon the property of W. S. Disharoon. Mr. Moore was for many years a prominent merchant and leading member of the M. E. Church of this town—a man noted for his piety and good citizenship in the community.

Miss Florence Bounds gave a lawn party on Tuesday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Gibson of Centerville, at which all the elite of Quantico, with the fair visitors of the town, were present. The lawn about her beautiful home was nicely lighted with Japanese lanterns. Ices, cakes, etc., were served at 11 o'clock.

Canning factories in and around Quantico are beginning operations. The Misses Willis and Wise of Capeville, Va., are visiting Miss Daisy Boston on Main St.

Mr. George Graham left Monday for Marion, Somerset county, where he will engage in fruit packing during the present season.

Mrs. Puntee and children of Balto., are visiting Mrs. Puntee's mother, Mrs. Twilley of this town.

The Misses Myrtle and Elsie Gordy are spending the week with friends in Salisbury.

Miss Fortisue of North Carolina is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Dashiell.

Messrs. Harold and Ira Boston of Philadelphia are home for a short stay with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Boston.

The Misses Macon Carver of Somerset county, and Cora Inasley of Bivalve, who had been visiting the Misses Tainter, this town, returned to their respective homes on Monday.

Miss Nettie Brady of Philadelphia is spending a few days with relatives in town.

Miss Gibson of Centerville is visiting Miss Florence Bounds, this town. The Misses Gibson and Bounds are graduates of the same class from St. Mary's Seminary.

Mr. Clyde Crawford of Baltimore spent the week with his mother here.

Mrs. E. Collier and daughter, Miss Marie, of Washington, are visiting Mrs. W. H. Gale near town.

Miss Marie Tainter is visiting friends in Baltimore.

The City Council.

At a meeting of the City Council last Monday night an important ordinance regulating the keeping of hogs in the corporate limits, was passed. The purport of the ordinance is that no hog or hogs shall be kept inside the city nearer to any dwelling, store or street than fifty feet. The ordinance shall take effect from the date of passage, and any hog or hogs now in the city in violation of this ordinance shall be removed within ten days after official notice is given. Penalty for resisting order shall be one dollar for the first offense.

At the same meeting some lively bidding was done for a gas franchise. Senator Brewington was present to represent the Salisbury Gas Company. He offered the city 3 per cent of the gross receipts and $500 in spot cash for the privileges asked for.

Mr. Robert P. Graham speaking for the United Gas and Improvement Co. of Philadelphia, said if Salisbury would grant his company a liberal charter the company would pay $2,500 in cash for the privileges and allow the city to subscribe to the capital stock.

A Baltimore man then said that he had a scheme to supply Salisbury with Acetylene gas plant at the small cost of $5000 or $6000. Mr. W. B. Miller championed this scheme.

The Council is holding the matter in abeyance until a committee can be appointed to visit the cities and investigate the whole gas question. This committee has not yet been named and its report will not be heard under sixty days at least.

UNBROKEN STRING OF VICTORIES

Salisbury Keeps On Winning By Defeating Milford And Princess Anne.

Notes Of The Diamond.

Salisbury kept up its good work on Monday by defeating Milford in a close and exciting game although rather loosely played by both clubs. In practice the visitors acted like ball players and the crowd soon realized that Salisbury had a hard fight to win the game.

The home team scored one run in the first inning and this ended the run getting until the fifth. In this inning the visitors who had been going out in one two three order took a brace and with the assistance of Hearn's wildness succeeded in getting two men across the plate. This put the Milford boys in the lead and it looked very blue for the home nine as runs seemed awful hard to get. The sixth was a blank for both sides but in the seventh our boys made a fine rally and amidst the greatest rooting that has been seen on the home grounds this year won the game by scoring two runs. Neither side could do anything in the way of run getting after this, the final score being Salisbury 8, Milford 2. Harmon's batting was the feature of the game, making three singles and a sacrifice hit out of four times at the bat. Truitt followed with a double and a single. The game was played very quickly, consuming but one hour and thirty minutes.

On Thursday afternoon a return game was played with Princess Anne on the latter's grounds. A number from Salisbury accompanied the team as a great game was expected. It had been rumored around that Princess Anne had secured the crack amateur battery of Baltimore and not to be outdone the Salisbury management secured Myers of the Wilmington team to do the pitching. At half after three it was raining so hard that a number of Salisburyans returned home, thinking the game would be called off. But the Princess Anne managers insisted and the game was played in the rain.

Ward, the first man up singled and by bunting and sacrificing was enabled to score, Salisbury thus keeping up her record for scoring in the first inning. After the third inning it was found that the Baltimore "wonder" was an easy mark and the balance of the game came our way without much trouble. Myers for Salisbury proved a complete riddle for the Somerset boys and only one man reached third base and although neither man was out at the time he was unable to reach home. The final score was Salisbury 9, Princess Anne 0. Schuler led the batting with three clean hits. Both sides played a beautiful game in the field, Burris making the only error of the game.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

If Harmon could field his position and run bases as well as he bats, he would be a great player.

Salisbury defeated Seaford last Friday, 6-0. The game was a fine exhibition of the national sport and the players here are high in their praise of the fine treatment they received at Salisbury.—Seaford News.

When Truitt is not in the pitcher's box he can "line em" out with the best of them.

Scott, formerly of Smyrna, and Selvage of Middletown, have signed with Townsend.

Sudlersville defeated Dover Wednesday by a score of 7 to 2.

Ward plays a beautiful first base but is a trifle too small a man for the position.

Go to the game Monday and see Weber play short.

The Dorchester and Salisbury team are now playing a game at the grounds in South Salisbury.

The schedule for next week as now arranged is as follows, Monday, Baltimore in Salisbury, Tuesday, Seaford at Seaford, Wednesday, Sharptown at Sharptown, Thursday, Easton at Easton, Friday, Princess Anne in Salisbury.

MODEL ROAD MAKING.

Experiment With Sparrows Point Slag in Kent County.

A. N. Johnson, highway engineer of the Maryland Geological Survey, and Assistant Engineer J. M. Harris are at on a piece of modern road construction on the Eastern Shore. It is that part of the highway between Chestertown and Centerville beginning at Chester river. The heaviest traffic between the two county seats passes over this road. Residents, therefore, of both Kent and Queen Anne will be able to observe the value of better road work and the results to be reached with a specified sum. About 550 tons of slag from Sparrows Point have been brought to be used in the construction of the road. The plan in this construction is to cut out a 15 foot driveway, having a shoulder on both sides to hold the material in place, a covering of coarse and fine slag 10 inches at the center and 7 inches at the sides. This will be covered with a coating of slag ladle scrapings. Then the layers will be packed by means of a heavy roller. This road presents two distinct problems in improved road construction—the treatment of a heavy clay soil on one section and a light sandy soil on the other.

Some local gravel deposits have been examined by Mr. Johnson, but in his opinion none of them is suitable for road making.

Salvation Army Coming.

During the past year the revival Brigade of the Salvation Army has been working in the different churches on the Peninsula with marked success. They are at present located at Ocean City and will come to Salisbury next week. The tent will be pitched on the large lot near the steamboat wharf. The Brigade consists of eight persons who are all musicians, including the Jones sisters, three young ladies of Indian descent who are said to be talented singers and musicians. The party come highly recommended. The Salvation Army has grown to an extensive organization, their work extending into 49 countries and colonies and the gospel being preached in 85 different languages. Over 250,000 persons profess conversions annually.

The object of the army is to reach the unchurched and in doing so they employ different methods from other religious bodies. Aside from the great spiritual work, there is the social side, shops, factories, farms, colonies etc., for the unemployed, homes for the homeless and food depots for the hungry and the poor. And this is all carried on without pauperizing the people helped. Adjutant Kemps the leader will speak on the work Tuesday evening August 19th at 8 o'clock, at Asbury M. E. Church. On Wednesday evening the tent meetings will open and continue each night for ten days or two weeks.

Sunday services will be held at 8 and 8 p. m.

Piano Exhibitions.

Mr. S. N. Widdup, special representative of the W. W. Kimball Co., the Multi-Millionaire Piano and Organ Manufacturers of Chicago, is holding an exhibit of their celebrated instruments in the Parsons Block, head of Main Street. The Kimball piano enjoys a world wide reputation for its standard of excellence, and the music lovers of Salisbury are invited to call and examine these instruments.

This company has recently opened large warehouses in Baltimore and are taking this method of introducing their instruments to the people of the State; visiting each town of importance and giving an opportunity of personal examination. For further particulars read their advertisement in another column of this paper.

License Application Rejected.

The Board of County Commissioners unanimously rejected the liquor license application of Charles E. Springer at a meeting held in their office last Tuesday.

Mr. Springer is the present manager of the White Haven hotel and he sought the privilege of opening and conducting the saloon attached to the hotel. A number of influential citizens from White Haven, headed by their counsel, Mr. James E. Ellegood, appeared before the Commissioners to protest against the granting of the license. Mr. E. Stanley Toadvin appeared as attorney for the applicant. Several persons were examined in the case and after some deliberation the Board rendered an adverse decision signed by each member.

MR. WILLIAMS IN MONTANA.

Some Observations Anent The West, Including Girls.

Writing from Bozeman, Montana, Mr. Jay Williams says Methodism is very strong in the West, and especially so in that immediate vicinity. For example, in Butte there are eight Methodist churches which is more than twice as many as there are of any other one denomination.

Mr. Williams says the valley in which Bozeman is situated is undoubtedly one of the richest in the world. The farmers are just beginning to cut wheat. Wheat, oats, rye, barley and hay are the principal crops. The season is too short to raise corn. It is late in the season before the snows, the cold weather and the spring freshets are over; then the frosts and cold weather begin to appear in the first part of September. But during mid summer vegetables grow luxuriantly and the small cereals are produced in great abundance, owing to the very great fertility of the soil.

Judge Martin of Bozeman, whom Mr. Williams and family visited, grew a reddish this season which was 18 inches long and 12 inches in diameter. From 40 to 50 bushels of wheat to the acre is an average crop, and no fertilizer is used. In exceptional cases the yield is larger.

Mr. Williams was told of a field of 190 acres which averaged 92 bushels to the acre. One hundred bushels of oats to the acre frequently occurs. The dwelling houses are very poor and unpretentious, built mostly of logs, but so constructed as to be warm and comfortable even in so severe a climate. The barns of the farmers are much larger and better than their residences. The people are thrifty and independent.

Mr. Williams says: One of the things I have noticed especially during this tour through the West is the scarcity of pretty girls. It is so seldom that one sees a pretty girl or woman in the far West. They are not fair and pretty like ours are at home.

Another thing I have noticed is that I have seen no place where I had sooner or later than in Salisbury, Md. It seems to me that she is indeed in the garden spot of the world.

To-morrow morning we go to the Yellowstone National Park, in which we will make a tour of 7 or 8 days. Then we will hasten home.

Death of Mrs. L. P. Humphreys.

Mrs. Margaret Anna Humphreys died between one and two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her home, corner Division and Isabella streets. She had been ill of fever several weeks, but until Sunday her physician, Dr. F. M. Slemmons, thought her case hopeful. The trained nurse had left her patient alone for a few minutes Wednesday thinking that she was resting easily, but hearing a slight ringing of the bell which was on a small table by the bed, she hurriedly returned to find Mrs. Humphreys sinking into death.

Rev. F. B. Adkins, rector of Spring Hill and Stepey parishes, conducted funeral services at the home at 3:00 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon. The remains were interred in Parsons cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs F. A. Grier, Chas R. Disharoon, B. H. Parker, A. J. Benjamin, Thos. H. Williams and J. Oscar Freeny.

Mrs. Humphreys was a daughter of the late Captain John T. and Leah Hooper, of this city. She was in her fifty-third year of age. Surviving her are her husband Mr. Lafayette P. Humphreys and one son Mr. Lafayette Gordon Hooper who is an only child. The latter, who is 28 years old and unmarried, is the only direct surviving representative of the Hooper family. Captain John Hooper and Miss Willie Hooper, both of whom have now been dead several years, were brother and sister of Mrs. Humphreys.

Death of Mr. Geo. Malone.

Mr. George Malone died at his home on Smith Street last Tuesday morning from a complication of diseases, having been confined to the house since last February. Deceased was fifty-three years of age and is survived by a widow and three small children.

Funeral services were held in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church Thursday morning at ten o'clock, conducted by Rev. Franklin B. Adkins. The body was interred in Parsons cemetery.

Is Addicks the Favorite.

The Philadelphia Record says: "President Roosevelt will, it is believed, hereafter recognize the Addicks faction, instead of the DuPont faction, whenever he has any Federal plums to distribute in Delaware. This is the news brought to Washington by a recent visitor to Oyster Bay. "The President has come to the conclusion, it is said, that so long as the enemies of the gas magnate will accept nothing in the shape of a compromise they must be ignored, in order that two United States Senators may be elected. The President believes, it is stated, that at the November election a Legislature can be chosen that will send Addicks and an Addicks man to the Senate, and that is what he is now endeavoring to accomplish.

"Much interest naturally attaches to the reasons which have caused the President to swing from DuPont to Addicks. While President McKinley lived he recognized the DuPont people in all of his appointments, but it is understood that even he was tiring of the uncompromising spirit shown by them, and that had the Buffalo tragedy not occurred it would have been a question of only a short time before he would have deserted them and turned to the gas man."

Civil Service Examinations.

The United States Civil Service Commission will hold an examination in Salisbury Md, on September 30, 1902 for the position of skilled laborer (male) with technical knowledge and mechanical skill in numbering geological specimens. This examination is open to all citizens of the United States who comply with the requirements.

Persons who desire to compete should at once apply either to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or H. W. Owens, Secty. Salisbury Maryland.

Patty Cannon's Skeleton.

While excavating in the jail yard at Georgetown on Thursday of last week prisoners unearthed the bones of a skeleton supposed to be that of Patty Cannon, a notorious slave trader, who forms a chief character in George Alfred Townsend's story entitled "The Entailed Hat." Patty Cannon was convicted of murder early in 1880 and sentenced to be hanged, but died of poison a few days before the date set for the execution, and was buried near the jail.—Peninsula News and Advertiser.

MAKING A BASEBALL.

An Operation That Requires Much Skill and Fine Work.

The production of a baseball is an operation almost as unknown to the public as its use is familiar.

Yet nearly 4,000,000 balls a year, or about 12,000 a day, are manufactured by one Pennsylvania factory alone, and for a great many of these $1.50 apiece is paid.

A remarkable amount of skill and fine workmanship is needed to turn out a ball that will stand, even for a short time, the powerful batting of the big players or will come up to the requirements for league work.

The various steps in the manufacture of a first class baseball are briefly as follows:

It is first a solid ball of Para rubber just an inch through. The ball is placed in a machine by a boy tender and is automatically wound with a strong, pure woolen yarn. The winding is done with an evenness that no human fingers could equal, and the thick, blue mixed wool forms a perfectly uniform covering for the core.

This layer is made just an inch thick. When the right amount of yarn has been wound on it, the machine stops automatically. The ball, now two inches thick, is removed and another core set.

The partly finished balls are next dipped—that is, they are dropped into a transparent fluid called "plastic composition," which is really a kind of cement. This fluid is very adhesive, and when it enters the wool covering there is a solidification that prevents the ball from ever being knocked out of shape. So certain is this, in fact, that the company guarantees to replace all balls that are so injured.

The balls are next wound again, this time with a certain definite thickness of three ply white yarn. This is covered with a three ply blue yarn until it has reached the requisite size of nine inches in circumference. All of these winding processes have been automatic, and the balls appear of exactly the same size and weight. But no chances are taken, and each is weighed several times during the final winding so that accuracy may be assured.

After being dipped in the cement again the ball is ready for covering.

The covers are alum tanned horsehide, which is as soft and fine as the best white kid. For the best balls only eighteen covers can be got out of one hide, as only the very choicest parts can be used.

The hide is first knee staked. That is, it is stretched backward and forward over a knee high stake by a strong boy till it will stretch no more. The cutting is done by machinery. The cover is in two pieces, each the shape of the figure 8. A machine cuts out these pieces and perforates them ready for sewing. These machines are wonderfully accurate and very rapid.

The balls are placed for covering in dampers of wood, and the covers are fastened first with brass staples and then with strong cotton thread of the best quality. It takes about fifteen minutes to sew the cover on a ball. This requires considerable muscle, and only men are employed on the work.

The ball is still rough on the seams. It is rolled by hand and a few hours later by machinery, whence it emerges the completed article ready for packing and selling.

The whole process of making a ball takes just thirty minutes, and it often happens that its life on the diamond is no longer. The professional leagues usually put in play during a game from four to six new balls, which are never again used except for practice. Amateurs put in play two, three or four balls, according to their wealth. Where all the old balls go is a question that has never been solved, but several million disappear every season. When the winter comes on, the season's output has gone.—New York World.

CHINESE LAUNDRY CHECKS.

Ingenuous Celestial Method of Identifying Customers.

The ingenuity of the Mongolian mind is well displayed in the system of accounts and checks in the laundry business. If their written language were as scientific and accurate as our own, it would be an excellent creation, but they labor under many disadvantages which are unknown to the civilized world. There are no characters in Chinese for letters of any such simple variations as Roman and Arabic numerals. It is therefore impossible to translate or transliterate into Chinese such common marks as (A. 1) or (IV. 6). In place of this the Chinaman uses the ideographs for the commoner facts of life, such as "house," "moon," "dog," "lion," "bear," "table," "chair," and "street."

In addition to these he employs the numeral characters from 1 up to 100. A customer comes to a laundry unable to speak Chinese and delivers his wash to a man unable to speak English. He receives in return a check containing two characters. One represents the day of the week or month and the second one of the facts mentioned, such as "moon" or "lion." The slip is torn through the middle, upon the principle of the legal indenture. It is impossible to imitate the torn piece so that it will fit the half retained by the laundry. Then upon the daybook of the laundry the proprietor enters under the day of the week or the month the ideograph moon or lion assigned to the customer and beneath this the articles left to be laundered. He then takes down from a hook a lot of mullin tags on which are written in indelible ink "moon" or "lion," 1, 2, 3, 4 and so on. One of these tags is affixed to each article, excepting the cuffs and collars. To these one tag is affixed, which is fastened by a strong thread or cord tied through the button-hole in each article. In addition to this they often put a private mark upon the article to be cleaned, although this is not very common. When the goods are washed and ironed, they are done up in a package and the day and special character written on the outside. In addition to this the half ticket is fastened to it with a pin. When the customer enters, he gives his half ticket up, and if he is known by sight the package is handed over to him. If he is not known or is suspected of being a confidence operator, his half ticket is fitted to the laundry half ticket before the package is handed over.

The daybook is often amusing reading. It is difficult to write western names in Chinese characters and in most cases impossible. The laundryman therefore writes down some salient feature of the customer. In doing this he manifests quick perception and considerable humor. "Two Gold Teeth" appears on the same page with "Redhead Bear Check," "Red Nose Man," follows "Old Woman With White Hair," "Man Who Looks Like Horse," "Man With Much Long Hair," "Very Tall Thin" and "Man Very Fat Jolly" are familiar entries. Often the customer is described by his calling—grocer, butcher, policeman, carriage man or expressman. Doctor and dentist are frequent titles. Upon this system the little laundryman transacts his business with great smoothness and satisfaction. It may be asked if an American would do as well in the Flowery Kingdom.—New York Post.

An Inhabited Moon.

The little daughter of a prominent western senator, relates a Washington correspondent, had been attending school during the last winter, and her proud father, mother and a number of friends went there on the day of the closing of school to listen to the examination. The teacher asked the class if the moon was inhabited. The senator's little daughter, who was sitting in the front row, wriggled about and raised her hand. Thinking to please the fond parent, the teacher called upon her to answer. "Yes; one moon is," said the child. "Well, my dear, which one is inhabited?" asked the teacher. "The honeymoon," answered the child. "It's inhabited by my aunt and my new Uncle John."

The Kaiser as a Musical Critic.

The Kaiser has recently made some very caustic criticisms of Wagnerian music. It is related that he has declared that "there is too much orchestration, which drowns the melodies, the voices of the soloists and the ensembles." This stricture has caused consternation in German musical circles. To uphold Nicolai's "The Merry Wives" and berate Wagner and the other German idols who bear heavy on orchestral effects and sonorous brass music sounds like rank heresy. And yet these words come like a kind of imperial mandate.—Argonaut.

Clergymen's Salaries.

There are not ten preachers today in the United States whose salary is $10,000 a year, while there are men who work with salaries of not $1,000 for ten years. The average salary of the average clergyman of the average denomination in the average community may be stated on the best authority to be about $900.—Exchange.

TREES GOOD COMPASSES.

When You Are Lost In the Woods, They Will Guide You to Safety.

When you discover that you are lost, first stop and pull yourself together. Recall the direction in which you started from camp—whether you went north, south, east or west. You can always do that if you try. The next step is to fix the compass points. When that is done, you will be able to go in the general direction you wish.

Find a mature tree that stands apart from its fellows. Even if it is only slightly separated it will do. The bark on this tree will be harder, drier and lighter in color on the south side. On the north it will be darker, and often at the roots it will have a clump of mold or moss. On the south side of all evergreen trees gum which oozes from wounds or knotholes will be hard and amber colored; on the north this gum is softer, gets covered with dust and is of a dirty gray. In fall or winter trees which show a rough bark will have nests of insects in the crevices on their south sides.

A tree which stands in the open will have its larger limbs and rougher bark on the south side. You have many evergreens in your part of the country, cone bearing or coniferous trees—firs, spruces, cedars, hemlocks, pines. They ought to be good compasses. Hardwood trees—the oak, the ash, elms, hickories, mesquites, etc.—have moss and mold on the north. Leaves are smaller, tougher, lighter in color and with darker veins on the south; on the north they are longer, of darker green and with lighter veins. Spiders build on the south sides. In the south air plants attach themselves to the north sides. Cedars bend their tips to the south.

Any sawed or cut stump will give you the compass points, because the concentric rings are thicker on the south side. The heart of the stump is thus nearer to the north side. All these things are the effects of sun. Stones are bare on the south side, and if they have moss at all it will be on the north. At best, on the sunny side only a thin covering of harsh, half dry moss will be found. On the south side of a hill the ground is more noisy underneath. On the north side ferns, mosses and late flowers grow. If you are on a marsh, small bushes will give you the lesson. Their leaves and limbs show the same differences. Almost all wild flowers turn their faces to the south. There are many other signs, but I reckon you will find these enough.—St. Nicholas.

About Small Things.

There is nothing so small but that we may honor God by asking his guidance of it or insult him by taking it into our own hands, and what is true of the Deity is equally true of his revelation.—Ruskin.

Crack In a Famous Bell.

An ominous crack has just been discovered in one of the most famous bells in the world, the so-called "La Clemence" in the Cathedral of St. Peter at Geneva. It is the bell which was sounded at the "Escalade" of the dark night of St. Thomas' day, Dec. 21, 1602, when the 8,000 Savoyards made their attack upon the "Rome of Protestantism." The assailants had crept close to the fortifications unobserved and had planted their ladders, the Jesuit missionaries exhorting them in whispers, "Climb, climb; every rung of the ladder is a step toward heaven!" when the loud clanging of La Clemence was heard calling the citizens to arms, and Geneva was rescued. The Savoyards were driven back, and the aged Theodore Beza called the people into the cathedral, where they sang the One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Psalm. From 1602 to 1901 on every Dec. 21 the now silenced bell has been rung in memory of the "Escalade."—Westminster Gazette.

Value of Affliction.

I have seen a human life crushed by a disappointment or by a bereavement or by some heart sorrow worse than death. It seemed as though all the light had gone out of it, a black night and gloom, and yet as time wore on the stars came out, and when the soul had become accustomed to the new environment there was a peace, a calm resignation, which yielded no small degree of actual happiness. The narrow circle gave more than the larger circle of other days, and the burdened life had flowers in it which do not blossom in soil which is rich with excitement and pleasure. Many a man has learned what life means through affliction, and I sometimes think that our sorrows are the best part of us. The man who has his own way has a very poor way, and the man who is led by God is on the road to heaven.—George H. Hepworth.

Intellectuous.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal declares that he heard of a young clergyman the other day who started his hearse at a funeral by beginning his address thus: "While there has been something discovered to relieve the pain of having teeth extracted, there has been nothing discovered as yet to allay the pain of parting with friends by death."—Philadelphia Record.

Do You Want $1000 ?

I will furnish you with a savings bank that can be opened only by me or by the company, for which you deposit one dollar as an evidence of good faith, which amount will be credited on your book. You then sign an application for insurance, and are examined by a physician. If you pass the examination a policy will be issued, on delivery of which you pay $3, and if you should die the policy will be paid; if you do not pass the $1 deposited will be returned. I call every three months at your home, open the bank in your presence, and enter the amount in your book. If your savings exceed the amount due by more than $20 you will be allowed 8 per cent on the excess.

Amount necessary to secure a 30-year payment life policy at 21 years of age on $1000 is less than 58c per week; at 30 years of age, less than 68c per week. A life policy for $500 at an age under 24, costs less than 8c a day.

Letter To Geo. T. Houston.

Dear Sir, Is a gallon of paint a gallon of paint, or half a gallon? Sometimes one, sometimes the other. E. P. Lynch, and his predecessor, Delhi, N. Y., sold a well known Mixed Paint for twenty years—it's a good paint, as mixed paints go.

N. Avery owns two houses exactly alike there. He painted one four years ago with this Mixed Paint—took two gallons. Last spring, he painted the other house with Devco; bought 12 gallons and had six gallons left. Same painter; George Gilberts. Same result, so far as looks go.

But the point of this tale is; 1st. That a paint is dear or cheap according to what it is; no matter about the price. 2nd. That gallon of one kind of paint can contain twice as much paint as a gallon of another kind of paint.

Devco goes twice as far as Mixed Paint—two to one—but that isn't all. This story, however, skips the rest—how it wears is the rest.

Another, same town—Ferguson & Thompson's store was painted some years ago with this same Mix-d Paint—53 gallons. Repainted last spring with Devco. Mr. Lynch said 16 gallons would be enough. They have 3 gallons left. Yours truly F. W. DEVCO & Co. P. S.—L. W. Gunby sells our paint.

The final decree in the litigation over the Catoctin Furnace property pending between Ernest Sharp of Baltimore and William T. Rainey of Cleveland, issued yesterday at Frederick, dissolves the property under foreclosure proceedings, orders Mr. Sharp to accept the deed of release for the property in Frederick and directs that Mr. Rainey credit the $5000 paid him on the mortgage indebtedness and pay the cost of the equity proceedings.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Easton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a god-send to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Brother Dickey on Adam.

"I see," said Brother Dickey, "dat one er de preachers is in trouble 'bout de sprin't what tempted Eve. Now, dat's mighty fur back ter go huntin' fer trouble, but I reckon Adam mus' feel lak reachin' over en shakin' han's yid 'im. De preacher I talkin' 'bout don't b'Veve in de snake story, but lay all de blame on de man. Adam can't be p' hisse'f now, en hit looks onfair ter be naggin' at 'im dataway. I feels so sorry fer 'im sometimes dat I almost wish I wuzn't related ter 'im. But I'll bet you on one proposition."

"What's that?" "Ef Adam had ter be made over en wuz livin' in dis day en time, he wou'dn't be so free wid sparin's!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Home Remedy.

"But," we say to the intrepid polar explorer, "do you not fear that you will become depressed for lack of home ties and home customs while in the frozen north?"

"Oh, I don't know," he carelessly responds. "Why, it is very homelike up there. Fresh meat is quoted at $50 a pound."—Baltimore American.

Willing to Help Him.

"You have wounded me," he sadly said as he arose from his knees, "wounded me so deeply that I shall never—"

"Walt," she said, picking a book off the library table, "let me see what 'First Aid to the Injured' says to do in such a case as yours."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Protest.

"Things never seem properly adjusted in this world," said the careless young man.

"For instance?" "I have observed time and again that the people with the most expensive tastes almost invariably have the least money to meet them."—Washington Star.

Whew!

"That new boy's a bad boy, teacher. He smokes."

"No, I don't smoke now, teacher. I used to."

"Jarring" Him.

"Yes, an' I took up de box o' choic-luts dat cost me a hull bone, an', wantin' to do de t'ing proper, I says when I passed 'em to her, says I, 'Sweets to de sweet,' quotin' po'try, yuh know. An', say, wot d' yuh t'ink she says? Say! She didn't say a t'ing but, 'Thanks to de tank.' Say! Wot?"—Puck.

In the Saddle and Out.

"I guess Santos-Dumont has been in the air more than any man."

"I don't know. You should see Charlie Stud."

"Why, he doesn't fly through the air."

"Think not? Well, you should see him when he's taking riding lessons."—Chicago News.

Her Reason.

"Why do you insist on Mr. Bawler singing?" "It's a choice between two evils," answered Miss Cayenne. "If he doesn't sing, he'll talk. And the words of any song are infinitely preferable to his original remarks."—Washington Star.

Well Meant Advice.

"No, my boy, you are wrong," said the old man kindly. "No doubt you are doing the best you can, according to your lights, but you cannot make a genius of yourself by letting your hair go long. That may help, but something more is needed."—Chicago Post.

Forethought.

Sportsman—I notice that you keep hornless cattle entirely, instead of the horned variety.

Native—Yes; hunters from the city hain't so likely to think a hornless cow is a stately buck with beautiful eight pronged antlers.—Puck.

Relationship.

Cholly—Yaas, Lord Brokeleigh is me bwother-in-law. Hicks—Nonsense! You mean Lord Brokeleigh who married Miss Gotrox.

Cholly—Yaas, she promised to be a sistah to me before she evah met him.—Philadelphia Press.

Sabbatarian Question.

The Farmer's Wife—What on earth is all that racket about in the barnyard?

The Farmer—Oh, the poultry are discussing the question, "Is It Wrong to Lay Eggs on Sunday?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Escape One Infection.

Jasper—Now that Scadsby has made a fortune he doesn't know his old friends.

Jumpuppe—Well, that has its advantages. They don't have to listen to the story of his early struggles.—Judge.

CHOICE MISCELLANY

Nicknacktorian.

London shopkeepers' slang is a dialect in itself and one that is always changing. What, then, is a "nicknacktorian?" We know not the word today; but, looking recently through some old law cases dating about a hundred years back, I was puzzled to find it applied in all good faith to describe a plaintiff in the sheriff's court. On further search it turned out to be a piece of forgotten Cockney slang for a dealer in bric-a-brac. The evidence showed that this plaintiff kept a sort of old curiosity shop, in which he dispensed "mummies, poisoned arrows, the head of King Arthur's spear and a genuine manuscript of the first play acted by Thespis and his company in a wagon!"

The defendant, a woman, had actually bought and paid for some of these rarities, but she died after having commissioned the embalming of an orang-outang to add to her collection, and for this her executors refused to pay. Counsel for the defense poured contempt on the mummy of the orang-outang and called it a "stuffed monkey." But the "nicknacktorian" won his case. His profession was more taking than his name.—Manchester Guardian.

Our Highest Priced Mail Carrier.

A contract was recently let by the postoffice department for carrying the mail in Alaska by dog sleds. The successful bidder was Oscar Fish, and his route lies between Eagle and Valdez, a distance of 414 miles. He makes two trips a month and receives nearly $1,500 a trip, or $35,000 a year. Only 300 pounds are carried per trip, and this is usually made up of letters—few newspapers. Postoffice department officials say that the sum paid to Fish is very reasonable when it is considered that he has the most dangerous route of any mail carrier in the world. He has several times been given up for dead by residents of Valdez and Eagle, but so far he has always managed to reach the end of his journey, although sometimes overdue and occasionally very much battered up. He has fallen down precipices, got mixed up in avalanches and has been starved and frost-bitten, but is still happy in risking his lonely life.—Harper's Weekly.

Ice Cream on Ellis Island.

Somebody's heart softened toward the 700 or more immigrants who had to spend their first Easter in the new world on Ellis Island, and ice cream was a part of the bill of fare.

To many of the newcomers—to nearly all of them, in fact—the frozen cream was a novelty. Some were much puzzled at the strange article of food.

"Sure an' there's frost in th' milk," said an Irish girl when the first cold spoonful had surprised her throat.

"Milk, did ye say?" said a north of Ireland lad. "Begorra an' it's more like swatened snow, it is."

"An' how did they kape it from meltin'?" inquired another.

Some Italian immigrants did not take as kindly to the ice cream, and they tried to make the attendant understand that they would like to have it warmed up.

"Shiver me timbers," exclaimed an English fisherman, smacking his lips, "what stuff this would be to cruise with in 'ot weather."

Transplanting Big Trees.

The transplanting of big trees on the world's fair site at St. Louis is an interesting work. A deep trench is cut around the tree four or five feet from its base and the earth dug away beneath.

Then a huge truck is backed up to the tree and securely fastened. The entire tree, forty or fifty feet high, is then tipped over on to the truck and another pair of wheels attached in front. Then, with sufficient teams to pull the heavy load, the tree is drawn to the place where wanted and restored to an upright position. Much care is required in the work, and the trees will receive constant attention until again well rooted.

Water in the Libyan Desert.

There are places in the great Libyan desert that have an abundant supply of water, obtained from an underground bed of sandstone. The water comes to the surface through wells from 450 to 500 feet in depth and irrigates broad areas of cultivated lands, interspersed with palm groves. The oases of Dakota particularly is in a fine state of cultivation as a result of this irrigation. The subject is of special interest here, because there are great regions in our western country where it is known that water lies under arid plains, and various projects are on foot for making it available for irrigation purposes.

How Japanese Measure Distance.

The ri and cho are the Japanese measures of distances. The ri is equal to about two and a half English miles, and it takes thirty-six chos to make one ri. Fifteen chos are a little more than one mile. One ri equals 1,927 kilometers, and it is believed that decimal system will soon be adopted. On country roads Japanese fares are regulated by distance, from 8 to 14 sen a ri being charged, according to the character of the road, but on all the usual routes to and from country stations the exact tariff is known.

The Wooded Hills of Honolulu.

About fifteen years ago the Hawaiian government undertook forest work, and very soon the hills back of Honolulu were clothed with a dense and luxuriant growth of eucalyptus of several varieties, the Australian wattle and other trees of that character. These trees have already exercised a noticeable influence in conserving rainfall and rendering the climate in the vicinity more agreeable.

A Medicine for Old People.

Rev. Geo. Gay, Greenwich, Kas., is past 83 years of age, yet he says: "I am enjoying excellent health for a man of my age, due entirely to the rejuvenating influences of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It brings sleep and rest when nothing else will, and gives strength and vitality even to one of my old age."

"I am an old soldier," writes Mr. Geo. Watson, of Newton, Ia., "and I have been a great sufferer from nervousness, vertigo and spinal trouble. Have spent considerable money for medicine and doctors, but with little benefit. I was so bad my mind showed signs of weakness. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I know it saved my life."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Saved me from the insane asylum. Mrs. A. M. Heipfer, of Jerico Springs, Mo., writes: "I was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself. I could not sleep nor rest, would even forget the names of my own children at times. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nervine and it helped me from the first, and now I am perfectly well."

Order of Publication.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Wicomico County and State of Maryland of which Jackson Brown, late of said County, died seized and possessed, for the purpose of division amongst the parties entitled thereto.

The bill states that Jackson Brown was in his lifetime, and at the time of his death seized and possessed of certain real estate, which is particularly described in said bill, that being so seized and possessed, he departed this life intestate about the year 1881, leaving surviving him at present the following heirs, James Elliott, a son of a deceased daughter, Lottie Phillips, Maggie Cox, Bertie Lloyd, Zenobia Howard, Georgia Evans and Katie Bailey, daughters of Sallie Horseman, a deceased daughter; John Bradley, a son of a deceased daughter, Clara Jackson a daughter, Glen Howard, an infant son of a deceased daughter, Lorenzo Bradley, infant son of a deceased daughter, Eul Bradley, infant daughter of a deceased daughter, and Myrtle Bradley, infant daughter of a deceased daughter, all of whom reside in said Wicomico County, Isaac Elliott, son of a deceased daughter, residing in Talbot County in said State, Clara Bedsworth, daughter of a deceased daughter, residing in Worcester County in said State, Lizzie Corkan, daughter of a deceased daughter, and Estel M. Jackson, an infant great-grand daughter, both residing in Dorchester County in said State, and George Brown, a son who married Annie Brown, Burton Brown, a son who married Sarah Brown, and Perry Brown, a son, who married Mamie Brown, who are non-residents of the State of Virginia, to whom the said real property has descended; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interest therein, and that in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their several interests, and prays for a decree for a sale of the said property and a distribution of the proceeds amongst the parties entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests.

It is thereupon this 1st day of August 1902, ordered by the Circuit Court for said Wicomico County in Equity that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be published in said Wicomico County once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of August 1902, give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September 1902, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL.

In the strange course of the average Republican politician they find themselves falling into many inconsistencies. But no one of them ever fell into a more glaring inconsistency with himself than Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional Committee. Lined up side and side his statements are in direct contradiction, and his last year's statements constitute the best answer that can be given to his campaign interviews:

In the Washington Star of July 29, Mr. Babcock says:

"The effort of the Democrats to make an issue out of the allegation that manufacturers are selling goods cheaper abroad than at home will fall flat. What if it were true that they were doing so? It is a rule of trade that surplus products must not be dumped on to the home market."

In the Washington Post of September 21, 1901, this same gentleman said:

"One of the points that impressed me with the desirability of revising the steel schedule was the information I obtained of the placing of an order for 20,000 tons of American steel. When you stop to think that that means more than one thousand carloads it will not do to say that such an order placed abroad by our manufacturers is only their surplus product."

—What a revolution of sentiment the Republicans have undergone in the past few days—since the Iowa convention! Who is so forgetful as not to remember with what absolute denials the republicans have met the Democratic contention that the tariff fosters trusts? Among them was that straight-out dyed-in-the-wool Republican newspaper, the Chicago Tribune. But now see how it recants:

"It is a notorious fact that some of the tariff schedules do afford shelter to monopoly. That is, they permit certain trusts or combines to exact from domestic consumers unreasonably high prices for their products—prices higher than could be exacted if the tariff afforded no more protection than is necessary to enable the American producers to compete on even terms with their foreign rivals."

Davy Crockett tells us how he caught a bear by the tail once, and how after a few whirls he concluded that he was in very grave danger, as it was extremely unsafe to hold on and awfully risky to let go. The Republicans have awakened to find themselves having a Davy Crockett time with the trusts and the tariff.

—Mr. Arthur P. Gorman, Jr., of Howard county, has announced that he will be a candidate for Congress in the Fifth District against Sydney E. Mudd, Republican. Mr. Gorman, who is a son of Senator elect A. P. Gorman, is a member of the bar with offices in Baltimore.—Anne Arundel Examiner.

—Mr. L. W. Gunby took a small party of gentlemen friends on a fishing trip Wednesday in his gasoline steamer Juno. At the mouth of the Nanticoke river the anchor was thrown overboard and the party proceeded to angle for trout. A nice bunch of this edible fish was taken. In the party were, besides Mr. Gunby, Messrs. John D. Williams, S. A. Graham, Walter B. Miller, Otis S. Lloyd and Rev. Geo. Handy Wallis.

—The Agricultural Department has received the gratifying information that the largest tree in the world stands upon Government property in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. It was measured six feet from the ground and found to be 154 feet, 8 inches in circumference, and, consequently, 51 feet in diameter. It was discovered by a party of hunters recently, and immediate steps will be taken to see that its life is spared.

—Mr. John T. Wimbrow died this Friday, morning at his home in Pittsburg district, at the age of 83 years. He will be buried Sunday morning in the burial ground on the farm where he died. The funeral services will be held at the Wango Methodist Church. Mr. Wimbrow was twice married. His last wife, seven sons and three daughters survive him. Mrs. Ebenezer Carey of Nutter's district is a daughter by the first wife and Mr. Joseph Wimbrow is another child by the first wife.

—Mr. John Hastings has on exhibition at the office of the Farmers & Planters Company an alfalfa plant which has attached a six foot section of the tap root. The whole root could not be gotten as it broke in the effort to remove the plant, but judging from the size of the root at the point of separation of compared with the size at the top six feet at least must have been left in the earth. This would give to the plant a total length of root of 12 feet.

—The race entries of the Talbot County Fair closed Tuesday night with one hundred and nine entries. The largest number for several years, and it includes the fastest and best lot of race horses ever in the county. As the track is in nice condition and being worked every day, the racing will be fine, and every lover of the sport should see it. The entries in the other departments are coming in well, and with good weather, a first class Fair is assured. The above with the numerous side show attractions, making an entertainment that should please every one who attends. As the admission price is low, every one in the county, who can, should attend.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

You may say I am safe from all of them and happy. You may not be as safe as you think for. The heat of summer causes organic matter to decay everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment one hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequences—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned and thrown out of order, sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. The proper thing to do is to use Truitt's Cholera Mixture, the only reliable, safe remedy because it cures diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cramp colic, etc.

what do you care?

Suppose that it is discovered that Mars is inhabited and that they have streets cars, eighteen story buildings, bicycles and the new woman. What difference can it make to you until somebody gets up a flying machine and you can take a flyer and go up to Mars for a flying trip? Suppose somebody does invent a typewriter that can spell, what difference does it make to you if you don't need a machine? Suppose the price of firecrackers goes down in China and they stay up here, what do you care if you don't intend to blow yourself on the fourth? Suppose that Mr. Jones or Mr. Anybody does make you a suit of clothes and charge you thirty dollars for it and another man makes just exactly as good a one for twenty, what do you care who makes it? What you want to buy when you buy is Clothes. You don't want to pay for any man's name. What do you care whose name is in your hat? You don't need to wear your hat inside out to show folks that you have a five dollar hat. You'd better buy your $5.00 Hat from Lacy Thoroughgood for $3.50, then you get a Jno. B. Stetson Hat, which are as good as any in the world. This buying certain things, such as Hats and Clothes just to get certain maker's names in them is all "tommy-rot". Lacy Thoroughgood sells just as good Clothes as anybody. Thoroughgood handles the best Hats in the world. Lacy Thoroughgood retails the leading Shirts, such as the Manhattan and the Emery. Some of the best dressed men in Salisbury buy everything they wear from Lacy Thoroughgood and save money by so doing. Everything Lacy Thoroughgood sells is as good as can be, and the price is as low as can be. Come in and see.

Scheming

There are several things in which it is necessary to do a little scheming, but the most important thing is to be particular where you buy, buying where you can do the best. I am still catering to the public for a share of the public's patronage and I think if you will come in and give me a trial you will be pleased at your coming.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Kidney trouble causes quick or steady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

Bits Of Maryland News.

William Heise of Belair dropped dead of heart disease while at work. The Diamond State Telephone Company has installed a telephone at Tuckahoe Station.

A rock fish weighing 19 pounds and measuring three feet was caught off Chester Bridge, near Chestertown. A singular succession of rural freaks have been found in Cecil county, including monkey faced owls and giant turkeys.

Washington county is practically out of debt, and is probably the only county in the United States that has such a record. The six 18 inch shells shipped from Fort McHenry have arrived in Hagerstown and will be mounted in Spanish Cannon Park.

The Maryland Paper Company, in Allegany county, has been incorporated, with capital stock $75,000, of which $50,000 is preferred. The Frederick County Telephone and Telegraph Company opened connection with Emmitsburg Friday. The line is working satisfactorily.

Twelve bands of music consolidated into one monster band of 200 men; will furnish music for the great band carnival at Frederick on August 13. Chesconessux, Va., has the honor of having the oldest lady in Virginia living there. Mrs. John O'Kelley is her name. She is 114 years old and enjoys the best of health.

Joseph H. White & Sons have the contract to furnish the bricks for the new law and postoffice building in Denton, and also $20,000 for the purpose of paving in Chestertown. The Maryland Liquor Dealer's League will meet in annual session in Firemen's Hall, Westminster, September 8 and 9. W. Frank Stallo of Baltimore is president of the League.

Colonel Little, in discussing the recent camp of the First Regiment at Belair, declared that it was considered simply a school of instruction, and that no attempt at display was made. A total loss of $2500 was caused by a fire which destroyed the grocery of Dr. S. J. Wishard in Hagerstown yesterday morning. Dr. E. S. Mason owned the building. The insurance is only $1000.

Farmer Jacob Young was on Saturday fined $5 and cost at Boyd's for cruelty in tying the legs of calves together when shipping them to market. John Gousendorf was acquitted of the same charge. John G. Rogers, who recently bought the McMullin property in Howard county, lost by lightning a barracade filled with unthreshed wheat. The loss may reach $2000, with no insurance.

John P. Sindle, of Norway, Iowa, has purchased a tract of 3,000 acres of farmland near Princeton, Anne, Somerset county. It is thought to be the beginning of a large movement of Iowa Scandinavians to Maryland. John Smack, known as "Sinner" Smack, is in jail at Snow Hill in default of $20 fine for breaking up a Salvation Army revival at Berlin recently. Smack had accomplices, but they have not been apprehended.

The Lutheran ministers' reunion, at Middletown, adjourned after deciding to add another section to the monument to native ministers of the valley. There were also several addresses on interesting topics. Fenwick's Island Camp had a smaller crowd on Sunday than on the previous one, but the interest in the Methodist Protestant revival in progress continues unabated. The smaller crowd on Sunday was due to the opening of two other camps in the neighborhood.

The striking bricklayers employed at the Naval Academy have not yet been granted their demand for protection against accident, and they threaten to accept places in Washington if an agreement is not soon forthcoming. An unusually severe electric storm terrorized the campers at Woodlawn camp meeting grounds, in Cecil county on Sunday evening, just as service was about to begin. Women became hysterical and even the men were greatly frightened. The lightning was so intense and so near that his heat is claimed to have been felt through the chryso of the tent.

Dr. T. H. Lewis, president of Western Maryland College, in addition to his present charge, will take up the presidency of Adrian College, a Methodist Protestant institution in Adrian, Mich. It is co-educational, has 200 students and, for its size, is wealthy, having several prominent men on its board of trustees. Dr. Lewis will make bi-monthly visits to his new charge. Constable Charles Sigler of Salisbury, Washington county, is under arrest for being drunk and disorderly at a festival in Leitesburg on Saturday night. He is alleged to have removed the handcuffs from two prisoners and then to have drunk with them, after which it is claimed he drove up and down the village in a buggy, flourishing a big revolver.

Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is an old friend in a new form. It is prepared for the particular benefit of sufferers from nasal catarrh who are used to an atomizer in spraying the diseased membranes. All the healing and soothing properties of Cream Balm are retained in the new preparation. It does not dry up the secretions. Price, including spraying tube, 75 cents. At your druggist's or Ely Brothers, 65 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

The Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Railway Company has bought two acres of ground in East Hyattsville, upon which the power house for the projected line will be erected. The building will cost $350,000, and the completed plant will be among the best in the country. It will supply both the line named and the City and Suburban Railway, the site being midway between them. The road, from the Washington terminus at Chesapeake Junction to Baltimore is but 34 miles, and the motors are being wound for a speed of 70 miles an hour. The Annapolis junction will be at Odenton, on the line of the Baltimore and Potomac.

White blackbirds are not so uncommon, but a white sparrow is seldom seen. Chief Justice Day, of the Orphans' Court, has a pair of them on his farm. The other day at Oakland Mills George Haines killed a milk-white crane. Such curiosties are the abinos of their species.

Is Golf Catching on to popular favor? It seems to be. A noticeable increase in sales of Painkiller comes from golf districts. The reason for this is clear, as Perry Davis' Painkiller is the oldest and best remedy extant for sprains, strains, bruises and soreness, all of which are of common occurrence, either in vigorous play or through accident. Everywhere the standard liniment and balm.

Warner Pumphrey, a 7-year-old son of William R. Pumphrey of Rockville, is not expected to live, as the result of a fall from the third to the first floor of his father's house, now in course of construction in Rockville. His injuries are all internal. Shatters All Records. Twice in hospital, F. A. Gulleddge, Verbena, Ala., saved a vast sum to doctors to cure a severe case of piles, causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica Salve soon cured him. Subdues inflammation, conquers Aches kills Pains. Best salve in the world, 50c at all drug stores.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better, inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by R. K. Truitt & Son.

It is said a number of the aged school-teachers of Howard county, who template applying for the $200-a-year pension provided for by the last legislature may have some difficulty in establishing the fact that they taught 25 years, because all of the records in the office of the School Commissioners were destroyed when the Hagerstown Courthouse burned in 1871.

To My Friends. "It is with joy that I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it."—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs.

Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals.

Mr. Harvey Longnecker, near Middle town, stepped on a bunch of three copper snakes, and they attacked him, fastening their fangs upon his lower limbs, but his boots prevented any injury. He killed the snakes, and about 10 feet further dispatched another bunch of three copperheads. They all measured about three feet, the largest being six inches in circumference.

Whence came that sprightly step, faultless skin, rich, rosy complexion, smiling face. She looks good, feels good. Here's her secret. She uses Dr. King's New Life Pills. Result.—all organs active, digestion good, no headache, no chance for "blues." Try them yourself. Only 25c at all druggists.

The steamer Greensborough of the Greensborough Transportation Company, plying between Greensboro, on the Choptank, and Baltimore, was burned to the water's edge at her wharf at Greensboro, Caroline county, Captain Perry and his crew had a narrow escape, not even being able to save their personal effects. The loss amounts to $10,000, partially insured.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave., Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take. Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress.

Surveyors are already at work laying out streets and building sites on Fenwick's Island, famous among sportsmen for its ducks and among Methodist Protestants as an unexcelled camping situation, which is now to be turned into a full fledged summer resort. A fine hotel and a gunners' clubhouse are to be erected there.

At no Time is Man Secure from Attacks of such disorders of the stomach as cholera morbus, cramps and diarrhoea; but these complaints are common during the heated term, when it is dangerous to neglect them. Painkiller is a remedy that has never failed and the severest attacks have been cured by it. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. 25 & 50 cents.

His Sight Threatened. "While picnicking last month my 11 year old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits.

A fire on the farm known as Snug Harbor, in Miles River Neck, Talbot county, owned by a Mr. Speck of Pittsburg and occupied by Alexandria Fountain, destroyed the barn, stables and outbuildings yesterday, causing a loss of about $5000, believed to be fully insured.

Stanley Whitelock has been arraigned and held in $500 bail at Cumberland for procuring money on a bogus check and for assaulting an officer in order to effect his escape. Information from Winchester tells of four more alleged victims of Whitelock's practice.

A grain of sand in the eye can cause excruciating agony. A grain of pepper in place of the sand intensifies the torment. The pain is not confined to the organs affected. The whole body feels the shock of that little irritating particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs. The disorder may seem trivial but the whole body feels it. The nervous system is disordered. There are fretfulness, irritability, silliness and depression of spirits. The general health of woman depends on the local health of the organs peculiarly female. Remove the drains, ulcerations, bearing down pains, and other affections of woman, and the whole body feels the benefit. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a specific for the diseases that undermine the strength of women. It is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics, poisons which enter into many other preparations for woman's use. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

The Children's Tribute.

You've given us welcome in your woods,
And all day long we roam,
A care-free, merry, happy crowd
In our sweet fresh air home.

With the morn and the birds we set-ly rise,
Together we carol our lays,
To the Father above; send thanks with our love
For the charm of these fresh air days.

When the sun sinks in the west we fall
Asleep on our little straw beds,
Where the downy wings of our Saviour fold
Between the straw and our heads.

You have suffered the children to come unto you
As did the dear Saviour of old,
Like Him will you gather us into your arms
And lead us into His fold?

You have made us so happy these golden days,
In God's name we bless you all,
You have taken us into your hearts awhile
And given "the c. umbra that fall."

Soon a-las! we leave you, and bid adieu
To woods and fields, and trees,
When the Master comes thank God you can say
"I did it unto thee."

Minor Crops.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Maryland and Delaware Section, week ending Monday, Aug. 11, 1902.

The rains have continued the story of good yields of garden vegetables, though the quality has failed somewhat on account of too much moisture.

Potatoes have been a fine crop in many localities, but in some places the yields have been below average; for the section as a whole the returns have been very satisfactory; late potatoes are generally promising. Tomato vines look well, but the fruit is not setting as it should, causing fears of indifferent yields, some blighting is also reported.

The tomatoes now coming to market are of exceptionally fine quality, however, and are in plentiful supply. Grapes promise an abundant crop, and are ripening in the south. Turnips are being sown, and are already up in places. Sugar corn has had good weather for two weeks, and will shortly be ready for the canneries. Melons and egg plants are coming in freely from parts of the southern truck districts. Sweet potatoes are not so good this season. Late cabbages are being set out.

Corn Is Growing in West.

The Baltimore Evening News of Tuesday says:

"The prospects for large crops this year have put the grain men in good humor and cause them to have lots of fun with the extreme crop enthusiasts. The following story was received this morning by one of the big export houses of Baltimore from its Chicago representative, and created considerable amusement among the members of the Chamber of Commerce today:

The horrible news comes from Kansas City that a boy climbed a corn-stalk to see how the corn was getting along, and the stalk is growing up faster than the boy can climb down. The boy is plumb out of sight. Three men have undertaken to cut down the stalk with axes and save the boy from starvation, but it grows so fast that they can't hack twice in the same place. The boy is living on nothing but raw corn, and has already thrown down over four bushels of cobs.

Exhibition of Pianos
PARSONS BLOCK HEAD OF MAIN ST.
W. W. Kimball Co.,
The Multi-Millionaire Piano and Organ Manufacturers, Chicago, are now holding an exhibition of their celebrated instruments in the Parsons Block, head of Main Street, Salisbury, Md. Their stock consists of Upright Pianos and Cabinet Reed Organs, finished elaborately in Philippine Mahogany, English Oak, Rosewood and French Burl Walnut, and are pronounced to be the finest selection of instruments ever brought to the Eastern Shore. The Kimball Piano is not of obscure origin or of doubtful quality, but acknowledged to be of "the very highest standard of excellence." Over 90,000 people have bought Kimball Pianos, including President McKinley and the best musicians in the world.
HERE ARE A FEW OF THEIR TESTIMONIALS:
NORDICA—"The more I use my Kimball Piano the better I like it."
DE RESZKE—"I am absolutely satisfied with my Kimball Piano."
EAMES—"I am charmed with the beautiful tone of the Kimball Piano."
PLANCON—"The Kimball ranks with the best instruments."
LEIBLING—"I use the Kimball Piano exclusively because it meets my requirements in every respect."
SEMBRICH—"The Kimball Piano ranks with the best instruments in the world."
PATTI—"The Kimball Piano has a wonderfully sweet and sympathetic tone."
CALVE—"The Kimball is a superb Piano."
SOUSA—"The Kimball Piano is first class in every respect."
DAMROSCH—"The Kimball Piano has a pure, refined and powerful tone."
CAMPANARI—"I recommend the Kimball Piano."
KUNKEL—"The Kimball Piano satisfies the demands of the most fastidious artist."
We have recently opened large warehouses at 210 N. Charles St., Baltimore, and are taking this method of introducing our instruments to the people of the state. It is our intention to visit every town of prominence and give every one an opportunity of personally examining our beautiful instruments.
We will not move any one of these pianos or organs for several days, but before leaving here will offer them for sale at manufacturers' prices, in order to make them a lifelong standing advertisement in good representative homes. We shall not attempt to get retail prices, but will dispose of them where we feel they will be the means of bringing us business in the future. Selections may be made at any time, but no piano or organ can leave our wareroom until the exhibition is over. Investigate the following statements for yourself:
Our production of pianos and organs is more than twice the size and output of any similar institution in the world.
There is no wealthier concern making pianos and organs in this country. No piano ever made has received so many and valuable testimonials as the Kimball.
Our patented inventions are more valuable than those of all other makes combined.
There never was such an opportunity to buy a strictly first class piano at a bargain in price as this will be at our introductory sale. Ask any bank or commercial agency who and what we are.
Come and examine our pianos and organs for yourselves, and if you already possess an instrument we will present you free of charge with a nice selection of music. Music teachers especially invited.

TEAM STILL WINNING.

Shuts Out Seaford And Plays A Tie Game With The Strong Athletics—Dover Next. - Notes Of The Diamond.

One of the best games of the season was that played on Monday between the Athletics of Baltimore and the home club. The visitors have a splendid record so far this season, having defeated nearly every team they have played, and the Salisbury boys knew they must play ball to win. This they did in good style and was for an unfortunate and costly overthrow by Truitt in the fifth inning the game would have been ours. The best of ball players make an error now and then and Salisbury's famous pitcher was soon forgiven the error but it must be said that by his wild throw he lost a game which he had won by beautiful pitching. Salisbury scored one run in the third, fifth and sixth innings and the visitors piled up as many in their half of the sixth. These tied the score remained until the end of the game. The Baltimore boys were compelled to quit, having to catch a late train back to the city. Truitt allowed but four hits to be made off his delivery and fanned out seven more. For the visitors, Weber at short and Kellog at first bag played a wonderful game, much of their fielding bordering on the sensational. The teams will meet again on the diamond before the season closes.

The Salisbury nine played a return game with Seaford Tuesday on the latter's grounds. The Seaford boys had peddled their nine somewhat and seemed confident of winning the game, but Hearn, the wonder, was in the box and let the combination of Maryland and Delaware down with two little singles. Before the game was called one of the imported Chester players seeing Hearn warming up, remarked, "Well, we will just knock him out of the box in about three innings." A Salisbury rooster replied, "That's what they all say before the game but they never say it but once" and the sequel proves it to be true. Salisbury scored two runs in the first, one in the sixth and one in the seventh. This was all the runs made by either team as Seaford only got one man to third base and he was never in any danger of getting home. Baker, Schuler and Hearn led the batting with two hits each. The Seaford boys put up a splendid fielding game but were unable to connect with Hearn's "ins and outs." Dunn, the crack twirler from St. Michaels, pitched the game for Seaford and did well, holding our boys down to nine hits.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

If Hearn would just use his head a little more and stop giving the first man up his base on balls, he would be a winner sure.

In the game between Bridgeville and Dover on Wednesday the four Salisbury boys playing with Bridgeville made six of the eight hits made by that team. The score was Dover 4, Bridgeville 2.

Smyrna is styled the Champions of the Peach League. Their great pitcher Lushan made three home runs in three games this week.

After Truitt made his wild throw in the game on Monday, he turned to the umpire and remarked, "I wonder what they are saying up in the grand stand now."

Salisbury defeated the Dorchester last Friday in a one sided game, the score being 11 to 0.

Weber played the finest game at short seen on the Salisbury grounds this year.

The Princess Anne and Salisbury teams are now having a hard struggle at the ball grounds in South Salisbury.

The catcher on the Atlantic team reminds one very much of the famous "Robby" on the Baltimore club.

What every rooster has longed for, Salisbury to meet Dover, will take place on next Monday and Tuesday. Let everybody take two hours from business on these days and attend the most exciting games of the season.

Greatest Games of The Season.

The greatest baseball game of the season will be played in Salisbury Monday and Tuesday, August 25, 26, between the crack clubs of Salisbury and Dover. This game will be worth coming miles to see. Don't miss them.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

A Brigade At Evangelical Work In Salisbury. Brief Description of Their Methods.

The Provincial Brigade of the Salvation Army arrived in Salisbury on Tuesday. The force is commanded by Adjutant J. Kemp and consists of three ladies and four men. Active operations were begun by service in the M. E. Church on Tuesday evening, which was attended by a large and attentive audience.

Adj. Kemp addressed the assemblage upon the mode, methods, and plan of operation of the army, stating that it was the object of the organization to reach the unchurched masses and that while the methods employed were different and apparently extraordinary yet in reality they were the same; for example, the church calls its congregation together by means of a bell, the army rallies its forces by means of a drum. He declared that 2,500,000 were converted every year at the altars of the army, that the work was carried on in forty nine countries by 15,000 commissioned officers or military evangelists who give their service with no assurance of salary. The gospel is preached in thirty nine languages by its men. The Adjutant stated that the social function of the army is important as last year 4,000,000 meals were given over its counters and 3,000,000 beds supplied, the homeless had been helped but not pauperized. At present, seventeen governments recognize and give an appropriation to the army and it counts among its staunch friends President Roosevelt and wife and King Edward of England. Representatives from its ranks were especially invited to the recent coronation of Edward.

ADJUTANT KEMP, SALVATION ARMY

The tent of the army is 70x100 feet, furnished with comfortable canvas seats and decorated with banners etc. is located in the vicinity of the steamboat wharf which is one of the best situations in town. In this tent service is held every evening and is well attended. The music is excellent and service impressive. The army will hold a special entertainment on Saturday night to which a small admission fee will be charged. On this occasion music will be furnished by the ladies of the company who are of Indian descent. On Sunday the service will be at 8 in the afternoon and at 8 in the evening. The army depends entirely upon the charity of the community in which it is located for support, so on Sunday to avoid taking a collection a free will offering will be taken at the door. During the next week service will be held every evening in the tent at 7.45. There is no doubt of the efficient work done by the army in many quarters and it is to be hoped that the same success will attend their efforts in Salisbury.

Seventy Thousand Dollar Fire In Easton. The Easton Furniture Co's factory, one of Easton's chief industries, was destroyed by fire last Monday. The fire was discovered about 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon in the varnishing and finishing part of the factory, which is separated from the main building by a covered bridge, which is used to transfer work from the factory proper. The fire started in a lot of excelsior stored under the packingroom. Every effort was made to save the buildings. About 80 men are thrown out of employment. The loss to the company is about $70,000. It carried an insurance of $84,000. The officers of the company are Robert B. Dixon, president; W. H. Kemp, secretary, and J. Horahour, manager. It is not known whether the plant will be rebuilt or not. The loss of the factory will be felt by the business people of Easton. The factory had more orders than it was able to fill. Several carloads of furniture were already packed awaiting cars for shipment.

RETURNED FROM THE WEST.

Mr. Jay Williams Speaks of the Grandeur of the Yellowstone Park.

Mr. Jay Williams, wife and son reached home last Tuesday after traveling more than a month in the west. They left Salisbury July 16th, and went direct to Denver, Colorado. From there they visited Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Utah; Portland, Oregon; Tacoma, Washington; Butte and Bozeman, Montana; Yellowstone National Park, and St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn. The trip was very enjoyable to the party.

At Bozeman Mr. Williams transacted some legal business for clients in connection with the James Daughters estate.

Speaking of the Yellowstone National Park, Mr. Williams says it is indeed a wonderland. The reservation is 85 miles wide and 75 miles long. No valley within its limits has an elevation of less than 8000 feet above sea level, and some of the mountain peaks within and adjacent to the park rise from 10000 to 14000 feet.

Yellowstone Lake, 15 by 20 miles in size, is the largest body of water in North America at its altitude of 8000 feet. One of the numerous hot springs within the Park was some time ago sounded to a depth of 2000 feet, but no bottom was found. Mr. Williams says the scenery in the Yellowstone Park is more beautiful and magnificent than the most adept word painter has represented it to be, and the liveliest imagination must fail to picture the grandeur of it all.

A Philadelphian's Appreciation of Maryland.

Burlington, N. J. Aug. 19, 1902. EDITORS SALISBURY ADVERTISER.

Dear Sirs:—This is an expression of a Philadelphian's appreciation of the good things of Maryland.

Having at last found Paradise, rather, Eden Station, and then Allen, Md. Saturday night, Aug. 16, I unexpectedly turned in on my friend Mr. Finley F. Price at one of the stores and hollered "Hello" just as he was finishing what I shall always believe was the peroration of a grand speech he was addressing to his fellow townsmen. And I was immediately introduced to the crowd whom I already count my friends.

Early in the morning I was led in to the orchard. It was a peach, and like the famous apple it was good. And then there was the cordial watermelon. We next took in the town and then went home to dinner, both of which proceedings made me wish that if I should ever marry I might marry in Maryland.

At Siloam camp meeting not far distant we were exhorted by the inspired Mr. Brewington and preached to by the Rev. Bennett in a way to do the souls of the wicked that might listen, good. And then the promenade—the delightful promenade, the climax of it all—it was like a merry-go-round among the angels late of Paradise now going to the devil.

I embarked by the light of the rolling moon on the Wicomico River, whose hyaline was glass, whose reflected stars were jewels, whose air was suddenly mellifluous with singing and hymning sweeter than ever I heard on the gorgeous Lake of Como in Italy.

And now Messrs. Editors, if there are other good things in Maryland kindly let me know so that I shall live forever longing and never wish to die.

I am, Very truly,
JAS. S. HOGE.

State Sunday School Convention.

The Maryland State Sunday School Convention will be held Thursday and Friday, October 23 and 24, in Baltimore city. The indications are favorable to a large representation. An interesting and helpful program is being arranged. Able speakers from Maryland and other States will be present, amongst whom will be Charles D. Meigs, known throughout the country as a bright, witty eloquent speaker. Mayor Hayes will be invited to make the greeting, and Governor Smith is expected to deliver an address. It will be a great occasion. Each school is entitled to one delegate for each 100 enrollment or fraction thereof. Schools are urged to elect their delegates at once and send in their names and addresses to State Supt. Geo. H. Nock, 114 W. Mulberry St., Baltimore City.

—Say, "Pard," are you going to Ocean City next Thursday on the Company's Excursion? No? Well, stay home and sweeter; I expect to go every Thursday during August, on the low rate Excursion, and keep cool.

Baptised in Jail.

Asbury Dixon, who is sentenced to be hanged next Friday for the murder of his wife, was baptised by immersion in a bathtub in Snow Hill jail one evening last week, the tub being placed in the corridor of the jail near Dixon's cell. Rev. E. J. Henry of the colored baptist church of Snow Hill administered the baptism.

Around the prisoner were many members of the pastor's church, Sheriff, Jailor Heathway and his family, and two or three newspaper correspondents, while from the cells the other prisoners were deeply interested listeners. The regular baptismal services, conducted by the Reverend Henry—an explanation of the baptismal rites, a talk to the prisoner, Scripture readings, hymns and prayer.

Steamer Quickly Repaired.

While going from Salisbury to Baltimore last Saturday morning the steamer Tivoli, of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Line, was disabled by an accident to several paddles of her star-board wheel. In some manner the paddles became jammed against the box.

The steamer Ida, of the same line, met the disabled vessel below North Point and towed her to her Light Street pier. The Tivoli was repaired Saturday and sailed at night upon her regular route, reaching her Salisbury wharf Sunday a little behind time.

—Special rates to Parsonsburg Camp. The Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company will sell round trip tickets from all stations to Parsonsburg, account camp, at rate of two cents per mile for number of miles traveled. For any further information see posters.

—Are you troubled with your eyes? If so, call on Dr. J. Kent Morris, who offers his services to the public every Saturday at his office, 230 Camden Avenue, Salisbury, Md. Hours 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Eyes carefully examined free of charge.

—Don't forget the B. C. & A. Ry. Co.'s popular Thursday Excursion to Ocean City. Go and take a dip in the Ocean. Special Low Rates.

BOOKS OF THE BIBLE.

A Rhyme That Tells You How to Repeat Them in Order.

Churchgoing people sooner or later learn the names of the books of the Bible, but even they as well as the literary person looking for historical facts find it difficult to repeat them in order unless some thread of interest holds them together. Here is a set of rhymes which may be used with success:

OLD TESTAMENT.
The great Jehovah speaks to us: In Genesis and Exodus; Leviticus and Numbers see, Followed by Deuteronomy; Joshua and Judges rule the land; Ruth glean the sheaf with trembling hand; Samuel and numerous Kings appear, Whose Chronicles we wonder here; Ezra and Nehemiah now Esther, the beautiful maiden, show; Job speaks in sighs, David in Psalms, And Proverbs teach to scatter alms; Ecclesiastes then comes on, And the sweet Song of Solomon; Isaiah, Jeremiah, then With Lamentations takes his pen; Ezekiel, Daniel, Hoses's lyres, Swell Joel, Amos, Obadiah's; Jonah, Micah, Nahum come, Add lofty Habakkuk finds room; Ezechiah, Haggai calls; Ezra Zechariah builds his walls, And Malachi, with garments rent, Concludes the ancient Testament.

NEW TESTAMENT.
This is the way the gospels run: Matthew, Mark, Luke and John; With the Acts, inviting you The apostolic church to view; The Romans and Corinthians are To cities sent, renowned afar; Galatians and Ephesians then, Written by the same inspired pen; Philippians and Colossians stand With Thessalonians nigh at hand; Timothy leads to Titus on; This brings us down to Philemon; The Hebrews then we gladly find, And that of James comes close behind; To Peter then our thoughts we give; With loving John we wish to live; Pious Jude will pierce the soul, And Revelation close the scroll.

Needed Praying For.

A quaint pingpong story comes from the south of Scotland. A young minister and his spouse purchased a pingpong kit and indulged in the game every lawful evening. Their servant fell ill, and her place was taken for the nonce by her fourteen-year-old sister, a maiden of the serious and outspoken order.

One morning the minister gravely observed to the girl, "Jessie, I hope you say your prayers every night."

"Aye, I do that, sir! Last night I prayed for you an' the mistress."

"Indeed, Jessie, why?" queried the reverend gentleman.

Jessie without hesitation responded, while pointing contemptuously to the pingpong appliances, "Sir, when I see you an' the mistress see far left, tee yourself as tee play at that nonsense, I'm thinkin' that ye baith air need prayin' for!"

The minister paid heed to the rebuke and after communing with his better half quietly removed the pingpong accessories to the garret.—St. James' Gazette.

Successful Co-operation.

The Rochdale co-operative stores in England are doing the largest mercantile business of any concern in the entire world. The membership there reaches nearly 2,000,000 and, with their families, numbers nearly 10,000,000 people.

They are operating about 3,300 retail stores and did a retail business last year of over $250,000,000, returning to the members $40,000,000 in dividends.

They employ over 100,000 people in their various lines of business.

They have scores of thriving factories and several enormous wholesale houses.

They have many ocean steamers that do their business all over the world.

They do an annual banking business of over $175,000,000.

They have built over 25,000 homes for their people and have acquired millions of dollars' worth of property of various kinds for various purposes.

A Good Word For the Mormon.

Bishop Leonard (Episcopal) of Salt Lake City says: "The Mormons are not nearly as bad as they are represented to be. A great many people think that polygamy is still going on and flourishing under the protection of the Mormon church, but that is not so. The church has given its word that it is not fostering polygamy, and I think it should be taken at its word. There is much talk about the Mormons spreading out and preaching their doctrines in other states. Why shouldn't they? I say it is to the credit of the church that it is so, and I am not going to criticize adversely because it is more industrious than other churches. The Mormons are good people. As to polygamy, time and education will right that."

Revealed.

Jerome C. Knowlton, professor of law in the University of Michigan, tells a story of the time when United States Senator Quarles of Wisconsin was a student. One morning Quarles went to his class in chemistry without having studied his lesson. The chemistry professor asked the students to recite in the order in which they were seated, and Quarles hid behind a youth of massive frame. But the professor knew he was there, and when it came to his turn the old gentleman called out in a shrill tone, "Quarles, your ears are too long to hide them!"

Getting Better.

The world is getting better and man is getting better. A hopeless view of things is equal to a surrender. No matter how you may be struggling in a "sea of troubles," never give up. Fight the very elements and go to the end game, overwhelmed, perhaps, submerged, and beaten by circumstances, but to the end have faith in God and man, and make your last thought a prayer. Then you have not surrendered. The inspiration of all great hearts is immortality.—Schaelmaister.

WINNING A FRIEND.

A Story That is Refreshing in These Money Grabbing Days.

Here is a little story which never before has been told in print, but which is surely as well worth the telling as the histories of wars and crimes and sharp tricks in the money market with which our papers and minds are filled nowadays.

A certain shrewd Hebrew merchant, whom we shall call Lejee, built a few years ago a huge department store in one of our large cities. It was planned to occupy a whole block, but the corner lot, forty feet square, was owned by an old German watchmaker named Weber, who refused to sell it.

"No, I will not give up my house," he said. "I bought it when property here was cheap, and I have lived and worked here for fifty-two years. I will not sell it."

"But," Lejee patiently reasoned, "you virtually gave up business years ago. You make or sell no watches now. Your sons have other pursuits. You don't live in the house—only sit in this office all day long, looking out of the window."

The office was a small corner room in the second story, with an open fireplace around which were set some old Dutch tiles. A battered walnut desk was fitted into the wall, and before it stood an old chair and a sheepskin cover.

The old man's face grew red. "You are right," he said. "I don't work here. I have enough to live on without work. But I am an old man and want to live in this room. It is home to me. When my wife and I first came here, we were poor. I worked in the shop below, but we lived here. Greta fried the cakes and wurst over that fire; the cradle stood in that corner. Little Jan was born here; his coffin was carried out of that door. Greta is dead for many a long year. But when I sit here and look out of the window I think she is with me. For thirty years she and I looked out of that window and talked of the changes in the street below."

Lejee was silenced for the time, but began his arguments again the next day, doubling his offer.

"The lot is worth that to me," he said, "as I own the block, but to nobody else. You are throwing away a large sum which would be a great help to your sons that you may indulge a bit of sentiment. Have you the right to do that?"

Weber was hard pushed. His boys were struggling on with small means; this money would set them on their feet, would enable them to marry. What right had he to spoil their lives that he might sit and dream of old times? The next day he gave his consent, and the sale was made.

The old man lived in the suburbs; he never came to that part of the town while the building was in progress. When it was finished and the huge department store was thrown open to the public, Lejee one day asked him to come in. He led him through the great crowded salesrooms, piled one on top of another for nine stories, and then drew him into a narrow passage and swung open a door.

"There is your little office just as you left it," he said. "We have built around it and beside it and over it, but not a brick in it has been touched. There are your fire with the old tiles and your desk, and your chair was brought back today. It is your office, Mr. Weber, and if you will sit here as long as you live and think of them that are gone and watch the changes in the street below I shall feel there is a blessing on the big house, because I have a friend in it."—Congregationalist.

A Coachman's Blunder.

One day at Edinburgh Lord Rosebery realized the disadvantage of owning swift horses. His brougham had met him at Waverly station to take him to Dalmeny. Lord Rosebery opened the door of the carriage to put in some papers and then turned away. The coachman, too well trained to look round, heard the door shut, and, thinking that his master was inside, set off at once. Pursuit was attempted, but what was there in Edinburgh streets could overtake those horses? The coachman drove seven miles until he reached a point in the Dalmeny parks where it was his lordship's custom to alight and open a gate. Here the brougham stood for some minutes awaiting Lord Rosebery's convenience.

At last the coachman became uneasy and dismounted. His brain reeled when he saw an empty brougham. He could have sworn to seeing his lordship enter. There were his papers. What had happened? With quaking hand the horses were turned, and driving back the coachman looked fearfully along the sides of the road. He finally met Lord Rosebery traveling in great good humor by the omnibus.

The Cook Problem.

A system of itinerant cooks comes as a suggestion from England toward solving the great problem of domestic servants. This would give variety to the life of the household drudge, and the palate of the employer would be relieved of the monotony of fare from which it suffers under the ministrations of one and the same mistress of the kitchen. The plan is that a certain number of families of almost the same financial status should form a circuit, around which the cooks should travel, serving for a fixed period in each family and then moving on to the next until the circuit is completed. Why not reverse the arrangement and pay due regard to the importance of the queen of the kitchen? Let the cook be a permanent part of the household and let the families travel about the circuit of homes rented or owned in common? There are great possibilities in this system of itinerancy. A suggestion has been made of itinerant sons and daughters for ill assorted families.

Letter to Harry Deane.

Dear Sir: You know all about shoes. How many customers have you who know anything about 'em? You have bought and sold shoes for years, and have learned what you know by your customers' liking or not, and not liking another. They find out by wearing 'em.

So with paint; but we go deeper. We are 145 years old in the business; and we make, not buy—we make a good deal of paint.

We paint a good share of the railroad and steamer property in the United States, and may as well paint the private property. Yours as well as anybody else's.

Devote lead and zinc is your paint. Costs half as much as lead and oil, because it wears twice as long.

NEW SHORT STORIES.

Just Like Solomon.

Joe Weber tells this story of how the firm of Weber & Fields came very near being dissolved at one time. They were playing at the Bowery museum with indifferent success when they decided that their future lay in acrobatic work. So one day they went to the foot of East Twelfth street, where there were two large ash dumps. There they found James T. Powers and Peter Dalley practicing acrobatic stunts. The latter two did not fancy the inventor of the two German comedians, who were their rivals for popularity along the Bowery, and drove them away with stones, one of which, thrown by Powers, struck Fields in the eye. His partner instead of sympathizing with him began to laugh. Fields got angry "We quit," he said, "right now."

"All right. I'm willing," said Weber. They walked back to the Bowery together without speaking. A few days before the incident they had chipped in a dollar each and bought a trunk.

"Whose going to get that trunk?" sulkily asked Weber.

"You can have it," replied Fields.

"No; I don't want it. You take it," said Weber.

After quarreling for some time over the matter Fields finally hit upon a Solomon-like idea. "We'll saw it in two, and we can each take half," he said.

Weber agreed to the proposition and, procuring a saw, started upon the division of the only valuable asset of the team. He had cut half way through the trunk when he finally turned to Fields and said:

"Say, Fields, I'm getting the worst of this deal. Do you think I'm going to saw your half too?"

Fields' indignation had by this time subsided, and he was roaring with laughter. They there and then patched up their grievance, and Mr. Weber still has the trunk, which he shows to visitors to his home as strongly illustrating the truth of his story.

The Professor Understood.

Professor Henry Morton, president of the Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, recently honored by Mr. Carnegie, once had a church experience with two students. One Sunday a pair of freshmen wandered into the church, not knowing that it was President Morton's place of worship. They kept quiet and seemed properly devout throughout until the time the collection box was to be passed, when they saw to their horror that Professor Morton himself was passing the box.

"Got any money?" said Paulsen to Ingls.

"Quarter. You got any?"

"No."

Nearer and nearer came the collection box.

Finally when it was but one pew away Damon Ingls rose to the needs of Pythias Paulsen.

"I'll stake you, old man. That'll be all right. Watch me," he whispered, and as the box appeared before him he made sure to catch the president's eye. Up went the quarter conspicuously between Damon's thumb and forefinger; then he dropped it, and, with a sweep of the hand toward his companion, he held up two fingers.

"Two," said Damon, and the professor understood.

He Noticed Improvement.

A typical North Carolinian called at the senate lobby one day recently. He wore heavy boots and homespun clothes, his whiskers were of the Horace Greeley fashion, he did not wear a collar, and his hat slouched down upon his tumbled hair. He sent in his name to Senator Pritchard, confiding to the doorkeeper that he had not seen Pritchard since they served together in the legislature twelve years ago.

Presently Senator Pritchard appeared. His North Carolina friend looked him all over.

"My country, senator," he exclaimed in a voice audible all over the lobby, "how you have improved!"—Washington Post.

Yeast Meets Germ Sharp.

A young man more or less intimately acquainted with affairs at the capitol is a believer in the germ theory of disease and in the virtue of disinfectants. A few days ago he heard of a case of scarlet fever in his neighborhood, and he straightaway went to a drugstore and got a mixture of liquids with which to disinfect his clothes. He dosed the clothes liberally.

Shortly afterward he was riding in one of the senate elevators. Senator Vest came in, leaning on the arm of his faithful attendant, Jim Edwards. The senator elevated his Roman nose and sniffed the air. Then he said to Edwards, "Somebody in this car is dead."

"TWO," SAID DAMON.

CLASSES OF MULES.

Classification as Made by the Large Dealers in Tennessee.

In Dr. Knight's new work he gives the following classification of mules as furnished by the largest dealers in Tennessee. Their idea of a mule is not correct for Pennsylvania colliers. They use small mules, fourteen to fifteen hands, the majority below the latter height:

The sugar mules run in age from three to five years old and from fifteen and a half to sixteen and one-fourth hands high; they are fed from the time they are colts until they are shipped to Louisiana.

The mine mules are from fifteen to sixteen hands high, from five to ten years old and must have bone and good foot and good body.

The dray mules are from five to eight years old, fifteen and three-fourths to sixteen and one-half hands high, from 1,200 to 1,400 pounds.

The cotton mules are from three to five years old, thirteen and three-fourths to fifteen and one-fourth hands.

The mules sold to the British government must be from five to twelve years old, but must be sound and free from blemishes.

Mules from fifteen and one-half to sixteen and one-fourth hands high sell better in spring, summer and fall for work in Tennessee.

The dealers begin to buy cotton mules in the fall and fatten them for the southern market, which commences in October and continues until March.

There are several advantages in handling mules over horses. You can sell them readily at any age. They sell at weaning, one year old, or at two, three or four, or at any age you have them in market order you can get their cash value. You do not have to curry and rub and educate to the different saddle gait and break them to harness before they are ready for market. You can often sell them in carload lots instead of selling by retail, and by so doing you get your money in bulk and can invest it to much better advantage.

Costs and Changes of Climate.

There is no doubt about changes of climate affecting animals, especially at certain seasons of the year, and it is true of goats the same as of other animals, says Samuel Dodds in Wool Markets and Sheep. I want to emphasize what I have said before in these columns: If you contemplate buying a large number of goats (100 or more) and bringing them from the south to the north, buy them as early in the summer as you can. Don't wait until fall. You may have to pay a little more for them, but I believe it is cheaper in the end. It will save you money and gray matter and save the life of many goats. There are not enough goats now to supply the demand. Don't sacrifice any needlessly.

An Object Lesson.

If there ever was a time when an object lesson was presented in favor of home production of beef, pork and mutton in these New England states, we think the present time, with its high prices and monopolistic group of great beef kings, is the most forcible. We hope, says American Cultivator, before many years to see our fine pastures dotted again with live stock and our farmers turning off finished beef, pork and mutton in profitable quantities.

BALANCED RATIONS

"I am feeding forty calves which I wish to market early next December. They average 407 pounds now. What kind of feed from now on should they have to secure the best results?" In answer to this correspondent W. A. Henry, in Breeder's Gazette, says:

Try a mixture of one part wheat bran, one part gluten feed and one part cornmeal, all by weight. Start with a pound of this mixture for each hundredweight of animals fed and gradually increase the same to all they will clean up readily without waste. This will range from two pounds to two and one-half pounds per hundredweight daily if the feeding is judiciously managed. At no time cloy the animals by giving more than they will consume with eagerness. A single day's overfeeding may set such animals back a week or two. For roughage feed corn forage and clover hay ad libitum. Next to clover hay use mixed clover and timothy. When summer comes and the young things are sent out to pasture, cut down the bran and gluten feed so that they together constitute but half the ration, cornmeal forming the other half. By fall, if corn is cheap, increase the proportion of corn still more. Oats may take the place of bran in the above ration.

Corn Fodder For Horses.

If the supply of hay intended for winter feed is exhausted, nothing is more satisfactory as a substitute than well cured corn fodder. The animals will eat up every blade and most of the smaller stalks and will thrive. The best plan is to husk the larger ears of corn and leave the nibbles for the horses. Fodder can best be fed in the open lot, as the stalks are a nuisance in a stable, making the manure difficult to handle. If the fodder must be fed in a stable, it is more satisfactory to run it through a feed cutter.

Testing Spelt.

Spelt, or emmer, is a grain that might be tested in the southwest. In the far northwest, planted with oats in the spring, it is ready to cut two weeks earlier than oats, makes a much heavier yield and is almost entirely exempt from rust. It is becoming a popular feed for horses in Canada and in many sections is taking the place of oats.

All Were Saved.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga. "that often I was unable to work. Then when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Great Cure medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all Druggists.

The annual bazar of the Village Improvement Society at Deer Park netted the sum of $600. The money is usually added to the private subscriptions and is used in making necessary repairs, polishing the grounds, removing garbage and continuing the school year beyond the usual time, besides employing capable teachers. Order of Publication.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, of which John W. Brown, late of said County, died seized and possessed, for the purpose of division amongst the parties entitled thereto.

The bill states that Jackson Brown was in his lifetime and at the time of his death seized and possessed of certain real estate, which is particularly described in said bill, that being so seized and possessed, he departed this life in December about the year 1881, leaving surviving him at present the following heirs, James Elliott, a son of a deceased daughter, Lottie Phillips, Maggie Cox, Bertie Lloyd, Zenobia Howard, Georgia Evans and Katie Bailey, daughters of Sallie Horseman, a deceased daughter; John Bradley, a son of a deceased daughter, Clara Jackson a daughter, Glen Howard, in ant great grandson, Rodney A. Horseman, infant son of a deceased daughter, Lorenzo Bradley, infant son of a deceased daughter, Eula Bradley, infant daughter of a deceased daughter, and Myrtle Bradley, infant daughter of a deceased daughter, all of whom reside in said Wicomico County, Isaac Elliott, son of a deceased daughter, residing in Talbot County in said State, Clara Bedworth, daughter of a deceased daughter, residing in Worcester County in said State, Lizzie Corkran, daughter of a deceased daughter, and Estel M. Jackson, an infant great-grand daughter, both residing in Worcester County in said State, and George Brown, a son who married Annie Brown, Albert Brown, and Perry Brown, a son, who married Mamie Brown, who are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing in the State of Virginia, to whom the said property has descended; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interest therein, and that in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their several interests, and prays for a decree for a sale of the said property and a distribution of the proceeds amongst the parties entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests.

It is thereupon this 1st day of August 1902, ordered by the Circuit Court for said Wicomico County in Equity that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be published in said Wicomico County once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of August 1902, give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September 1902, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

GOOD ROADS IN HARFORD.

Maryland farmers and others have an object-lesson of immense value in the two sections of model road which have just been completed in Harford county under the terms of the Woolsey bequest. These sections are now turned over to the authorities, and will be opened promptly to public travel. The road was constructed according to the best modern methods of road engineering. Grades were first made easy, then a solid rock foundation was laid and the top dressed with moist screenings which will prove impervious to water. It is now a permanent road, which will cost little or nothing for repairs, and which will make travel a comfort.

Good roads are the best possible investment in any community. There is not an interest that is not benefited by such improvements. It makes all sorts of farm products more valuable by making markets more accessible. Land located on good roads obviously becomes more valuable as real-estate property, for it may be more easily and pleasantly reached.

Considering the importance of good roads, it is of vital moment that object-lessons in their building should be well taught. For this reason none but the most skillful engineers and the most conscientious contractors should be employed in building model roads. If the improvement proves good and permanent, it will soon convince the taxpayers that more such road is desirable, and development in that line will follow. Should the model road prove defective, it would be a serious setback to the cause.

From information at hand, it would seem as though the new piece of Maryland road is all that could be desired. It may well prove a starting point for extended road improvement.—Baltimore Evening News.

—The Easton Ledger is vigorously urging Gen. Joseph B. Seth for the democratic nomination for Congress in the First district. State Senator John P. Moore, of Worcester, is the favorite of the Berlin Herald. Hon. Joshua W. Miles of Somerset has many supporters in his own and other counties of the district.

There are other good men in the First whose names have been mentioned in connection with the nomination. From present indications Wicomico county will have no candidate, although, in the persons of Ex Governor Jackson, Mr. James E. Ellegood, and others there is no lack of good material.

The prevailing sentiment here is for the selection of a clean strong man who will unite all factions of the party in all the counties thus assuring democratic success at the polls and giving to the First district a representative who can command the respect and attention of the country. Occupying this position a strong probability exists that this county will play an important part in the selection of the candidate.

—The marriage ceremony of Miss Martha E. Hayman to Mr. George M. Brunsley is announced to take place Wednesday evening September 3rd, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hayman, in Princess Anne.

—Mrs. Irving S. Powell gave a straw ride and a lawn party last Tuesday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Penuel, of Leesburg, Va. Refreshments were served on the lawn which was very prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns. Quite a number of young folks were present and enjoyed the pleasures of the evening.

—Mrs. Louis W. Morris gave a charming progressive conversation party at her home on Division street Tuesday evening. The company was given in honor of the Misses Craft and Wright, guests of Mrs. Morris. Mr. James Leonard carried off the prize of the evening. Among those who were present during the evening were the Misses Virginia Craft, Lillian Wright, Ruth Craft, Katie Todd, Cora Lankford, Lizzie Wallis, Margaret Bell, Dora Toadvine, Nellie Fish and Victoria Wallis, Messrs G. Vickers White, Donald Graham, Walter C. Humphreys, James Leonard, Wm. T. Johnson, Leonard Wallis, Augustus Toadvine, Geo. F. Sharpley, H. M. Mayer and J. Cleveland White.

—Judge Holland and the Misses Houston left Salisbury last Monday morning for Baltimore where they were met by Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Houston. That evening the party started to Boston via the Merchants & Miners steamship line. Before returning to Salisbury they expect to visit Quebec and Montreal, Canada, returning by way of the Thousand Islands and other interesting places of the north. The trip will occupy about three weeks.

—A novel sight was witnessed in Walter Hadaway's field near Edesville, this week. He had a traction engine attached to six three-horse plows and a colored man was directing each plow. A forty acre field was being turned under in fine style. Walter is an up-to-date farmer and believes in trying new methods in solving the labor question.—Kent News.

—A granite slab is soon to be erected on Caulk's Field, in Kent county, commemorative of the victory of Gen. Philip Reed over the British forces in 1814. Sir Peter Parker, leader of the British forces, was killed during the engagement. An elaborate program for the unveiling of the monument is being arranged.

—Berlin will soon have an electric light plant. The City Council at its last meeting granted Mr. Felix Dalmas, representing the Salisbury Light, Heat and Power Company, a permit to install an up-to-date plant, to be started within 80 days and completed in four months, as near as possible. Mr. Dalmas says that the work will begin as soon as necessary arrangements can be made.

—The Corner Stone of the M. P. Church will be laid on Monday, Sept. 1st, at 8 p. m. The Masons will perform this impressive ceremony. Rev. Avery Donovan of Snow Hill will make an address. Other ministers will be present. Attractive music will be rendered by the choir and the Band. It is expected that the occasion will be one of intense interest to everybody. The people of the city and vicinity are most cordially invited to be present and make the day a magnificent success. Hymns familiar to all will be used and all singers are hereby requested to be ready to assist. The ministry of the city, with their congregations are very cordially invited. Pastor.

Fire at Parsonsburg.

A fire in Parsonsburg Thursday night destroyed the barn of Mr. John W. Wimbrow, also burning a wagon and cart, and about 100 bushels of corn. A small unoccupied dwelling nearby caught and was consumed. By hard work a bucket brigade prevented the flames from spreading to nearby property which was for a time threatened. Mr. Wimbrow's loss amounts to several hundred dollars. The ADVERTISER was unable to learn anything concerning the insurance.

Out of Plumb.

When the wall is out of plumb the building is more or less unsafe, and the higher the wall is carried out of the perpendicular the greater the danger of collapse. It is about so with the health; it is out of plumb when the digestion is impaired, when there is a dull, sluggish feeling, with nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness. Every day that these symptoms are neglected increases the liability to physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and cures nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness by curing the diseases in which they originate.

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stanstead, Quebec. "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach and such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman today. Dr. Pierce's medicines also cured my mother of liver complaint from which she has been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 1 stamp for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 17.—In this discourse, the decline of churchgoing, its cause and its remedy are discussed by Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage with characteristic vigor and directness. The text is I Corinthians ii, 22, "Despise ye the church of God?"

While rummaging through a bookstore the other day I purchased a volume with this suggestive title: "Why Men Do Not Go to Church." In it the author gives many blunt statements. He asserts that in New York city alone not more than 3 per cent of all the male population are members of the Protestant churches. He makes this charge against New York city, with its millions upon millions of dollars invested in church architecture, with its millions of dollars every year lavishly expended for evangelistic work. He makes this charge against New York city, which is not a heathen town, but which claims to be not only the wealthiest but the most enlightened city in our Christian land. The author of that book further declared that not more than one-half of all the inhabitants of this country ever attend church. By that the author means the vast majority of Americans seldom set foot in any church building, because the most of the half who do attend church do so occasionally only.

With the startling statements of that book still fresh in my mind I would like to ask you the question which Paul asked the nonchurchgoers of Corinth. The world needs precisely the things that the church was organized to supply. It needs strength to resist temptation, it needs rules for the guidance of life, it needs support under affliction, solace in bereavement and a hope of heaven after death. All these blessings come by Christianity. It is therefore worth while inquiring what are the obstacles that keep men from coming into the church and obtaining them. So I not only want to find out why the vast majority of people do not join or regularly attend church, but I also want to try to remove those difficulties so that you, one and all, will come into the fellowship of the divine institution in which are numbered the great hosts of the followers of the Lord Jesus.

An Absurd Reason. "Well," says some one in answer to the words of my text, "the reason I despise the church of God is because there are certain parts of the Bible I do not understand. Therefore I will not profess to believe what I cannot comprehend." Now, my friend, such a statement is simply absurd. From such talk one might suppose that the only inexplicable things in the whole universe are those recorded between the lids of holy writ. Why, there are whole realms and cycles and universes of facts in every direction yet untraversed and unexplained. You cannot focus the whole heavens with one telescope nor span infinity with the finite. You might as well try to build a range of mountains from Long Island to England by pitching pebbles into the Atlantic ocean or try to empty the Pacific by dipping up the waters with a sewing girl's thimble as to attempt to build up a system of science or to develop a belief in the Bible unless you are willing to accept some things which you cannot explain.

But, though statements may be made in the Bible which you and I cannot understand, the salient truths, the Calvary truths, the converting truths, are all simply told truths. I defy any unbiased man to read the simple words of the four gospels and remain blind to their meaning. No man can read the story of the prodigal son and fail to realize that God is represented by the aged father, that his own sinful life is represented by the sins of the younger son, that repentance and peace are represented by the return home and the divine love and forgiveness by the ring and the fattened calf and the father's kiss. Spiritual light and deeper faith will come later. So, my brother, as you believe in God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Ghost; as you believe that Jesus suffered and died upon the cross for our sins, as you believe that Christ has gone to heaven to prepare a dwelling place for those who are cleansed by his blood you believe all that is needed to qualify you to come into the church he established on earth. This was the saving belief of the Philippian jailer, to whom Paul said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved and thy house." A man is not necessarily barred from the church of Jesus Christ because he does not fully understand all the Bible. He is received and welcomed because he believes that "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

One Pastor's Experience. One day a woman came to the most noted minister of the south, the Rev. R. M. Palmer of New Orleans. She said, "Pastor, I cannot accept and believe the doctrines of the Presbyterian church; therefore I am afraid I must have my name dropped from the church roll." "What do you not believe?" asked Dr. Palmer. "Well, there is the Presbyterian doctrine of foreordination. I cannot believe that God knows the end from the beginning. I cannot understand how he can foreordain everything and yet I be a free agent." "I never asked you to believe the doctrine of foreordination," said Dr. Palmer. "Well," said the woman, "I cannot believe the doctrine of election." "I never asked you to believe the doctrine of election," again said Dr. Palmer. "What, then, do you want me to believe?" "As a minister of the Presbyterian church," Dr. Palmer replied, "I have to accept the Confession of Faith, but you as a lay member only have to believe two great doctrines. The first is that man is a sinner. You believe that? The second is, that Jesus is a Saviour and died for your sins. You believe that? As a believer in those two great doctrines, I want you to throw yourself upon the mercy of Christ, and you can be saved. This is all the Presbyterian church or any other Protestant church demands of you for membership." Dr. Palmer was right. You may not understand all of the Bible, but you do understand and believe enough to make you acceptable for membership in Christ's church. You do believe in the atonement. You do believe that Jesus died to save you. Throw away your doubts! Hold to your beliefs! The gospel church lifeboat is too fine a craft to be scuttled merely, because we know not all the planks out of which its hull was built. Come into the church lifeboat today on the simple faith that its keel was made from the straight beam of the Calvary cross.

Another Reason Answered. "Well," remarks another man, "I do not join the church because of the inconsistencies of its members. Some profess one thing and practice another. They say Christians ought to be kind and loving and gentle and helpful to their fellow church members. Then they demonstrate that some of the worst fights on earth are church fights. The elder who prays the loudest in prayer meeting may be the farmer who never comes out second best in a horse trade, and the gossip of the sewing society is just as merciless as the gossip at the club or in a ballroom. As long as the church is filled with hypocrites I do not want to join it."

Stop, my brother! You know that some of the very best men in every community are members of the different Christian churches. You know, as well as I know, that though some of the church members may be hypocrites the vast majority are men and women who have banded themselves together for the purpose of prayer and communion with God and of trying to make their fellowship better and purer and truer and more Christlike. There are thousands and tens of thousands of church members who are no more hypocrites than your Christian father and mother, who were also members of a Christian church, were hypocrites.

To demonstrate how much you really respect the Christian church, though you may not know it, I would like to ask you a question. If you were stranded as a young woman in a distant city, without money or friends, to whom would you go for help? To the saloon keeper? To the rich brewer? No, no! Without doubt you would go straight to some Christian minister's home. You would go to him, just as many young men and women have come to me, and you would say, "My father and mother are members of Dr. So-and-so's church, in such and such a town. I have no money. I want to get home. Will you help me?" To have you realize how much you respect the church of the Lord Jesus Christ I would picture you stranded as a shipwrecked sailor upon a strange coast. What would you most prefer to see—a fortress, a king's palace, an army encampment or the steeple of a Christian church? You know as well as every intelligent man or woman knows that the community which lives under the shadow of the church steeple is a God fearing community. The community which does not protect the Christian church is an unsafe community in which to dwell, and there is no exception to the rule.

What the Church is For. When you criticize the sincerity of certain church members, you should not forget that the church of Christ was instituted for the imperfect as well as the perfect, for the moral cripples as well as for those who are spiritually whole. In the church there are to be found members like a man whom a friend of mine was one evening defending. Howard Crosby came to this gentleman and said: "Doctor, how can you like such a man? You know he is not what he ought to be." My friend turned and said: "Dr. Crosby, if you had a little child who had lost an eye or was deaf or who was born lame would you despise him on account of his infirmity? Well, my friend is a moral cripple. I do not like him because he has lost one eye and one leg and one arm, but I do love him because, by the grace of God, he is trying to struggle against his daily temptations and his spiritual deformities." So you will find in the church of God today moral cripples. They are struggling every day of their lives against sinful temptations; they keep on struggling; keep on praying; keep on reaching up to God; keep on staying in the church because they know that Christ did not come to institute a church for perfect men. He came to heal the sick and not the well. The church of God is the great earthly spiritual hospital, where Christ, as the surgeon, loves to set the crooked limbs; where Christ, as the spiritual ophthalmologist, loves to open the eyes that are blinded of sin.

"Well," observes another hearer, "the reason I do not join the church is because I believe a man can be just as good a Christian outside the church as inside." Now, I would not assert that all men who are nonchurchgoers are unchristian men. John Newton used to say: "When I get to heaven, I shall have three great surprises. One great surprise will be to find so many people there I did not expect to see. The next surprise will be to find so many people absent whom I expected to see, and the third great surprise will be to find that I got to heaven myself." Like John Newton, when most of us reach heaven—I pray we may all be there—I believe we shall be very much surprised to find there some people who never entered the church door and never publicly professed their faith at the church altar. Mr. Beecher once beautifully and poetically said: "I am glad that some gospel seeds have been blown over the church wall and that fruit trees and flowers most pleasant to the eye are springing up outside the church garden as well as inside, and, though I wish they were within the inclosure, where the bears out of the woods could not waste them and the wild beasts of the field devour them, yet I love them and am glad to see them growing there."

The Spiritual Household. But, though there may be Christian men and women living outside of the church fellowship, I for one do not believe I could be a Christian and not be a professing member of the church of Christ. I do not believe that I could turn my back upon my church and still love my Christ as I love him today, and, my brother and sister, neither do I believe you can turn your back upon the church of God and yet give to Christ your true and fervent love, because I believe that, as Christians, we should look upon the church as a collection of God's children. Therefore we should accept and love its members as our spiritual brothers and sisters, children of God, and we ourselves should long to be of the spiritual household.

An old Boston merchant loved a young man from Kentucky, who was the friend of his dead boy. This old Boston merchant's only son had enlisted for the civil war. Down at the front in 1864 he was shot. Wounded unto death, he was carried into the home of a southern lady and nursed there until he died. But just before his death he looked up into the sweet face of the southern lady and said: "I am the only son of a rich Boston merchant. My father will be heartbroken when he hears of my death. After the war is over, and as your money is all swept away, I want you to go to Boston and see my father. I want him to tell my father that you have nursed me for weeks and months. Then my father will love your son for my sake." And the dying boy with trembling fingers wrote upon a slip of paper: "Dear Father—I am dying. This young man is the son of the dear lady who has taken your place and mother's. Take her son to your heart for my sake." Time passed on, and the awful carnage came to an end. The home of the southern lady was swept away. One day the young man, armed with the dead son's letter, started for Boston. When he was ushered into the office of the old merchant, at first the latter would not even speak to him. The old merchant kept on at his desk writing. But when the young man placed the message of the dead boy upon the merchant's desk the broken hearted father arose and put his arms about the young man's neck and sobbed, "I will love you for my boy's sake—yes, for my dead boy's sake." Now, I do not believe it is possible for us to love Christ unless we also love his church for his sake. I do not believe it is possible for us to love the church unless for Christ's sake we also love Christ's children, who are members of that church, nor do I believe it possible for a Christian man to be as good a Christian outside of the church of Christ as if he were a true, hearty, active, conscientious member of that church.

Mark you well my statement. I did not affirm that there were no Christian men outside of the church of Jesus Christ, but I did affirm that a man cannot be as good a Christian outside of the Christian church as inside. There may be good Christians found outside of the church. There may be good Christians who prefer the society of Sabbath desecrators and worldly pleasure seekers instead of the society of God's children, who love to gather in the house of praise; but I frankly confess I have never found good Christians who prefer to seek the society of worldly pleasure seekers to the society of those who delight in God's house. Jack roses may grow in cesspools, but as a rule the most beautiful roses blush a deeper red and swing a sweeter incense in a flower garden than among the thorns of a wild hedge.

One Honest Reply. "Well," answers another man, "I will tell you frankly why I despise the church of God. The reason I do not join the church is because it is too straitlaced for me, and I am not willing to give up my own way of living." My brother, I believe you have told me the exact truth. I believe ninety-nine hundredths of those who scoff at the church scoff principally because they are not ready to surrender some secret sin. But as you have given me one honest answer I want you to give me another to a question just as important. If you are not ready to surrender your secret sin and join the church, where is that sin going to send you? Some time ago I stood in the depot of our national capital watching a little colored boy about five years old asleep upon one of the benches. This little baby had a card pinned to his coat which read like this: "Conductor, will you please see that this little boy is put in the right train and sent to Atlanta, Ga., where friends will meet him?"

As I stood there watching that little child I said to myself: "Some people seem to be sleeping in the great depot of sin as unconscious of their surroundings as that colored baby. They care not what is going to happen to them. And Satan has pinned a tag upon them to send them through, like baggage, to the great city of eternal despair."

My unrepentant brother, as you are unwilling to join the church because you are reluctant to give up your secret sin, I ask you where will that secret sin ultimately send you? You need to be aroused from your spiritual lethargy and to realize your awful danger. I would especially plead with you to surrender your sins and dedicate your life to Jesus Christ by joining the church because, in your heart, you know well what you ought to do. I have always shrunk from the thought that people who were born in sin and ignorantly reared in sin and who ignorantly died in sin and unrepentant were totally lost. It has always been a question in my mind whether some of those poor, loathsome creatures who were reared in the slums of a great city and who never heard the name of Jesus except in blasphemy might not in God's mercy be made as fit for the celestial city as some who, having been born in Christian homes, have led a very different Christian life. God will never condemn one who is born blind because he cannot see. He will never destroy one who is born deaf and dumb because he cannot speak or hear; but, my brother, though there may be some excuse for those born in the sinful slums of a great city for not renouncing their sins and joining the church, there is no excuse for you. You were born in a Christian home, you were reared amid Christian surroundings, you were started out with Christian prayers, and the mere fact that you made such an excuse as I have proved that the Holy Spirit is mightily striving with you today to confess Christ and join the church the Saviour founded on earth.

You are in exactly the same position as was Dr. Parley when he was a disappointed college student. One morning, when he was trying to sleep off the debauch of the previous night, a classmate came into his room and, sitting upon the bed by his side, said: "Parley, I have been thinking of what you are doing. You are wasting your life for time and eternity. Now, Parley, it does not matter much what happens to me. I am a nobody, but you have the best brain in college. Besides that, you were born of good blood. You have a praying mother and a praying father. Unless you stop your sins I shall cut your acquaintance." So today all the Christian influences which surround your past life, all the Christian influences which surround your present life, all your hopes for eternity, are pleading and begging you in Christ's name to turn from your sins. They are pleading with you to come into the church of Jesus as a repentant sinner because you know and feel—you intensely feel today—that you ought to come. Are you man enough in Christ's name to come to his altar now?

Your Duty to the Church. But there is one answer yet to the question of my text. This answer comes from many a troubled heart. You say to me: "Mr. Talmage, I do not despise the church except by my actions in a public way. The reason I do not join the church is because I have so many home duties that I cannot do my share in church work, if I should join. In a few years I expect to take my place as a member at the church altar." Now, my friend, I want you to realize this great truth: God never ordained that one duty should conflict with other duties. He never wants a mother to leave the bedside of her sick child in order to attend a missionary meeting. He never compels a man to do for the church more than he can conscientiously do. But Christ does demand this: He does demand that you profess and confess his love before men. And you cannot do that in a better way than at the church altar. Then let the most imminent Christian duty decide what you ought to do thereafter.

And I would especially plead with you to confess Christ in the church before men because, as you have other depending upon you, your present actions will probably decide how your loved ones will act and feel toward the church of Christ's establishment. This fact was demonstrated some years ago in Smyrna. Two sailors for some weeks had been attending the mission services. One night, in answer to the invitation to come forward and confess Christ and join the church, one of the sailors turned and said, "Well, I will come if Bill will." But Bill would not come. But the night before the ship was to sail the two sailors came forward and gave their hearts to Christ and joined the church. Then the Christian workers in Smyrna asked Bill how it was that he came to join the church. In rough sailor fashion he said: "Well, I liked to attend your meetings because they made me feel good. I used to think of the old times when on Sunday afternoons in the old home at New Bedford we used to sing the same songs. Mother was there and my sisters and brothers and father were all there, and I really wanted to join your church; but when Tom said he would come if I did it made me mad. What had I to do with Tom's actions? But a couple of nights ago Tom was sick. I sat up with him, and as he was tossing around in his bunk I heard him muttering something, and as I put my ear down to his mouth I heard him say: 'Oh, Bill, won't you come, Bill? It's my last chance for heaven, Bill. Oh, Bill, won't you come? Won't you come?' And then and there I said to myself, 'If my actions are going to keep Tom out of heaven, why, I'll come.' And here we are, sir, Tom and Bill!" So today the loved ones in your home and in the store and those who are dependent upon you are pleading with you to come into the church for their sakes as well as for your own sake and for Christ's. "Despise ye the church?" Nay, nay! In your heart you feel that it is in the church you ought to confess Christ. You know it is into the church you will want to be carried when you are dead, and it is from its hallowed precincts you will want to go forth to meet him when you shall dwell with him in heaven forever and ever and ever.

Do you feel that it is into the church you will want to be carried when you are dead, and it is from its hallowed precincts you will want to go forth to meet him when you shall dwell with him in heaven forever and ever and ever.

TO YOUNG LADIES.

From the Treasurer of the Young People's Christian Temperance Association, Elizabeth Caine, Fond du Lac, Wis.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I want to tell you and all the young ladies of the country, how grateful I am to you for all the benefits I have received from using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for eight months from suppressed menstruation, and it effected my entire system until I became weak and debilitated, and at times felt that I had a hundred aches in as many places. I only used the Compound for a few weeks, but it wrought a change in me which I felt from the very beginning. I have been very regular since, have no pains, and find that my entire body is as if it was renewed. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to everybody. —Miss ELIZABETH CAINE, 69 W. Division St., Fond du Lac, Wis.—$10000 profit by above testimonial is not genuine.

At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance for woman's ills of every nature.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Fred Unrath, President Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.

CORNER-STONE LAYING.

Some Facts Relative to the Methodist Protestant Church of This City and Its Rebuilding.

The work of re-modeling the Methodist Protestant Church, of this city is progressing finely, and next Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock the corner-stone will be laid with Masonic honors. Worshipful Master E. E. Twilley, at the head of about forty members of Blue Ridge Lodge, A. F. & A. M., will lead the ceremonies so far as the laying of the corner stone is concerned.

The full program will be as follows:
Rock of Ages.....Orchestra Singing.....Hymn 136
Prayer.....Rev. L. A. Bennett
Lead, Kindly Light.....Orchestra
Address.....Rev. Louis Randall
Singing.....Hymn 351
Remarks.....Pastor
Offering

Messrs. W. Arthur Kennerly and George E. Sirman, Jr., will be the coronators and Miss Edna Adina, the organist, of the occasion.

The Methodist Protestant Church was organized in Salisbury in 1845. The first church was erected in 1845, under the pastorate of Rev. Geo. D. Hamilton, whose daughter, Mrs. Williams Moore now resides in this city. The first trustees, who bought the land from Nathan Gordy, were Augustus G. Grove, Henry Brewington, Stephen Collier, Samuel Kelly, George Caloway, Spicor Gordy and Benjamin Maddox.

The original church was built upon the ground where the residence of W. H. Rounds now stands. In 1857 the Maryland Annual Conference was held in Salisbury.

About 1870 the land where the present church is located was purchased from Mr. Levin R. Dorman and the church was erected under the pastorate of Rev. J. L. Mills. The corner stone bears the date of 1870 although the corner stone was not laid until 1872. This is proven by the fact that when the stone was removed it contained in addition to other articles, a copy of the ADVERTISER dated February 1872.

Like many other churches this one has had its adverse as well as its prosperous seasons. Until a few years ago it formed part of a circuit. During the pastorate of Rev. L. F. Warner Mr. Hermon was attached to Pittsville. Three years ago the lecture room was enlarged and now serves its purpose very satisfactorily.

The question of enlarging and beautifying the auditorium has been under consideration for a number of years, but not until the present year could a practicable way of enlargement be seen and agreed upon. Both necessity and sound policy demanded the present improvement. Fully 750 square feet of floor space will be added to the auditorium, or in other words the room will be about one third larger than the old.

Contracts for seating the church have been signed with Cincinnati Seating Company; Mr. Arthur Biddle for steam heating apparatus and with John Brown of Wilmington, Del., for pipe organ.

The people of the city may see how far the work has advanced under the architect, Wm. E. Booth.

It is the aim of the Building Committee to carry out the will of the church and in an economical but substantial manner finish the structure as early as possible. They cannot but feel that not only every member of the church will do his utmost to have the building paid for before or on the day of dedication, but that everybody will give sympathy and as much financial assistance as possible. The church when opened will give a hearty welcome to all, even as it has done in the past.

Provision for the comfort of those who attend next Monday afternoon will be made. The auditorium will be seated as far as possible. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be on hand and make the occasion a grand success.

The Coal Situation.

While the probabilities are the trouble between the mine owners and mine workers will soon be amicably settled, yet in all likelihood, the price for that fuel will be higher than formerly during the coming season as a result of the present strike.

In Salisbury just now coal is being retailed at $8.50 per ton by the dealers. The market is practically bare here, there being scarcely any in the various yards.

It is the opinion of the dealers that while the supply will soon be adequate to the demand by the resumption of work by the strikers yet the rush of orders about the first of September will be sufficient to keep the price aloft for some time. When these early orders have been filled it is thought that the price will begin to return to its former figures.

Farm and Timber Land for Sale.

Mr. Jay Williams, as trustee, advertises for sale the Elijah Emory Nichols land, which is in Parsons district, within a few miles of Delmar.

The property consists of improved farming lands and, what will attract mill and factory men, a pretty nice tract of pine timber. The advertisement appears in another column.

—Say, "Pard," are you going to Ocean City next Thursday on the Company's Excursion? No? Well, stay home and sweater; I expect to go every Thursday during August, on the low rate excursion, and keep cool.

CONGRESSMAN JACKSON RENOMINATED.

He Receives the Full Party Vote at the Republican Convention at Ocean City Thursday.

Ocean City, Md., August 28.—The convention of the Republicans of the First congressional district, which met here today in the Atlantic Casino, unanimously chose Hon. William H. Jackson, of Salisbury, the present representative of the district, as a candidate for re-election to the halls of Congress.

The meeting was called to order by Phillips Lee Goldsborough, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. There were no regularly accredited delegates to the meeting, but each county sent large representations, and one man had an equal right with another.

Fully 400 delegates attended the mass meeting convention. All were enthusiastic for their candidate, and more than 1,000 persons were attracted to the seashore on account of the convention. Mr. Goldsborough made a short speech commendatory of the work of the Republicans in the district, in the state and in the country.

Upon the call for temporary chairman Capt. E. S. Turner, of Wicomico, named Dr. Isaac A. Barber, of Talbot county, former congressman from the First district, who was chosen with out a dissenting vote. Mr. Wilbur Elison, of Kent, was chosen temporary secretary. Upon assuming their respective duties each made a short speech and thanked the convention for the honor bestowed.

Owing to the character of the delegations it was decided that a committee on credentials should be dispensed with, and the temporary organization was made permanent. The committee on resolutions was also dispensed with, so as to facilitate the workings of the convention. A set of resolutions were read by Mr. John E. Wilson, of Queen Anne's county, and were unanimously adopted.

The only business before the meeting then was the naming of a candidate for Congress. Mr. Robert P. Graham, of Wicomico, former comptroller of the state treasury, nominated Mr. Jackson for a second term.

Mr. Graham's nomination was seconded by State Senator McCulloch, of Cecil; Sub-treasurer A. Lincoln Dryden, of Somerset, and Mr. W. A. Vane, of Dorchester.

The seconding of the nomination was followed by three hearty cheers for Jackson and Roosevelt from the throats of the 400 delegates and the many hundred spectators in the convention hall. When the vote was called for every man in the hall rose and cried "Aye."

After the nomination Senator McComas addressed the Convention and urged harmony throughout the district.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Meetings Largely Attended. Will Give Excellent Stereopticon Exhibition Tonight.

The Brigade of the Salvation Army, under the leadership of Adjutant Kemp, has drawn large crowds of people to their gospel meetings each evening during the past week. Their tent which seats about 1200 has been taxed to accommodate the attendance, among whom have also been quite a number from the country.

Adjutant Kemp is a very pleasing and interesting talker, while the entire Brigade are good musicians. The excellent singing of the three Jones sisters has been highly praised by those who have heard them.

Saturday night is generally devoted to a pay service which is for the benefit of the Army Work. Last Saturday night a musical entertainment was given and was very much enjoyed by the large audience.

The Saturday evening a beautiful stereopticon drama, "Around the World in a Chariot of Fire" will be presented.

This illustrated lecture has become famous as a life like presentation of the Army's work in various countries and in the slums of our own large cities. There are 250 large life size light picture-panels in the course of the lecture illustrating social and spiritual phases of the Army's work. Wherever given this entertainment has attracted widespread attention and large audiences. The musical features which accompany it are of a high order. The Jones sisters will sing novel and touching army songs back of the large curtain whereon the scenes are displayed.

A Railroad Conductor Dead.

Charles R. Ringer, a freight conductor in the employ of the N. Y. P. & N. railroad, died at his home in Delmar last Saturday after a long and painful illness. It is said that his malady began to grow upon him several years ago, when one arm gradually lost its nerve force. Specialists were consulted and city hospitals visited but no treatment arrested the spreading nature of the disease. The doctors pronounced it creeping paralysis.

From the arm the paralysis spread to all parts of the body until the sufferer was completely helpless both in body and mind.

The dead man who was about 58 years old, leaves a widow and a large family of children who have the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. Ringer had been in the employ of the railroad several years, and was a highly valued man by the company. The Delmar American says the disease first appeared, more than two years ago, in the thumb of the left hand, and slowly spread until all parts of the body were affected.

RAILROAD CONDUCTOR SHOT.

Negroes Failing to get a Free Ride Attack the Trainman.

A great deal of excitement was occasioned by the shooting last Tuesday morning of freight Conductor Albert Waller, on the N. Y. P. & N. railroad between Delmar and Salisbury. Conductor Waller had charge of a long freight train which he was taking to Cape Charles. This side of Delmar he discovered a number of negroes stealing a ride and ordered them from the train. The negroes resisted the interference of the conductor and drawing revolvers fired upon him. Two bullets took effect, one striking Mr. Waller just below the left collar bone and entering the top of the lung, the other struck him under the shoulder-blade. After the shooting the negroes jumped from the train and disappeared into the woods.

After the encounter the train was hurried to Salisbury and the wounded conductor taken to the Peninsula General Hospital, where Dr. Dick examined the wounds. Though the wounds seemed dangerous Mr. Waller requested to be permitted to return to his train. This the surgeon declined to grant. The wounded man rapidly improving. Later three colored men were arrested by the Sheriff and his deputies and lodged in the county jail. They admit that they saw the encounter, but protest that they took no hand in it. It is believed by the authorities that the men who did the shooting are still at large and the hunt for them continues.

Feeling runs very high against the negroes who assaulted the conductor. They are believed to be from the State of Virginia, having been to Delaware either to work in the peach orchards and canning factories or to help pad out the registration lists for Mr. Adkins.

Great excitement was caused in Salisbury Tuesday night by the report that several young colored men in "George-town" who have recently returned from the Philippines, had intercepted Mr. Wm. A. White on the street and attempted to assault him. An alarm was given and a body of men and boys started out to capture the colored men. They could not be found and the excitement subsided.

Opening of Opera House.

Stetson's colossal dramatic and scenic production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" comes to the Ulman Grand Opera House on Wednesday Sept. 3d, the opening date. This production far surpasses that of last season in every particular and will be the best seen here. Special attention has been given to the staging of the pieces, and several scenic effects are magnificent. The thrilling scene on the Ohio River. St. Clair's plantation with house and garden by moonlight and the cotton fields beyond, and the superb transport scene at the end of the last act are among the greatest. One of the largest organizations of white and colored artists ever gathered together in one combination has been engaged by Mr. Leon W. Washburn for this season, everyone of whom was selected for his or her adaptability for the part assigned. A clever lot of colored people add materially to the production by a number of high-class specialists.

Col. Sawyer's prize pack of genuine Siberian bloodhounds, a lot of beautiful Shetland ponies, trick donkeys, etc. are also with this great combination. The street parade has two bands of music, a number of gorgeous chariots, tableaux wagons and little carriages built at a large outlay of money, making it the finest free street parade ever given by any similar organization. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Tickets on sale at box office.

A Vote of Thanks for Peaches.

At a meeting of the Connecticut Pomological Society, held two weeks ago in one of the towns of the New England state, a vote of thanks was taken for Mr. Wm. F. Allen, who had sent to the Society a carrier of the Wicomico peaches with his compliments. The peaches were grown on Mr. Allen's farm, on the Tony Tank road, and were of the Bay variety. From 205 four-year old trees Mr. Allen received $521.00 net profit, less the cost of picking. This was more than $2.00 per tree. More than half of the quantity sold for $2.00 per carrier. Less than one fourth sold at $1.50 per carrier and the remainder at $1.75.

The Bay is not an extensively grown peach on the Peninsula. Mr. Allen got his stock from buds taken from a tree which was sent him some years ago by a customer in Mississippi. It is a red fruit, resembling in size and conformation the Mountain Rose. From his limited experience with it Mr. Allen believes it may be a certain bearer.

"Cupid's Triumph."

"Cupid's Triumph" is the name of a pretty little song just published by George Willig & Co., of Baltimore. The words and music were composed by Mrs. Belle H. Jones, who resides at 808 Division Street, in this city, and she has dedicated the song to Marion Vernon Brewington, Jr., infant son of State Senator M. V. Brewington, of Salisbury. The first lines run as follows:

You cunning little cupid,
How fast your arrows fly!
But I am not your target,
Nor yet for love would die.
Your darts are falling harmless
Upon my heart of stone,
And thus you, oh, Oh, Cupid,
To build thereon a throne.
Oh, leave me Cupid, leave me,
There is danger if you stay;
For by your hearts are broken;
I pray you, go away.

Continuing the last line tell of cupid's triumph, hence the fitting name.

DOVER TWICE DEFEATED.

Old Time "Hoodoo" Broken And The Delaware Boys Easily Taken In Camp—Sudlersville Wins a Game.

A large crowd attended the opening game of the series between Salisbury and Dover played at the Salisbury grounds on Monday afternoon. It is estimated that about 700 persons saw the game. Hafer, who has been doing such phenomenal work for Dover this season, was sent in the box to do the pitching and many a roofer felt a cold chill creep over him as he thought of our old time "hoodoo". But the great uncertainty of Base ball was never more beautifully illustrated than in this game with Dover. Hafer was easy for our sluggers and in the third and fourth innings they scored seven runs and clinched the game. Jordan, who was in the box for the home team had the visitors at his mercy from start to finish. At one time in the game he started to "let down," seeing that he had Dover defeated but the management urged him to play for a shut out and he responded most beautifully to their request, allowing neither man to reach home and only one to get as far as third. The feature of the game was the pitching of Jordan and the batting of Burris. The former allowed the heavy hitting Doversites but four hits and Salisbury's heady short stop distinguished himself by making four hits out of four times at the bat. The final score was Salisbury 7, Dover 0.

On Tuesday the same clubs played the second game of the series. This was witnessed by a large crowd but hardly as large as on Monday. "Dutch" Walker thought that he could twist his club to victory but "all pitchers look alike" to our boys these days and when the game was over the score showed 11 hits and four runs for Salisbury to 8 hits and one run for Dover. Roy White pitched the game for the local nine and while he was batted for eight clean hits yet he showed great headwork and pulled out of numerous tight holes. When the visitors needed a hit, he was at his best and proved himself a good man in the box. Harry Schuler, who was laid off in Monday's game, played center field and won the plaudits of every one present for his beautiful fielding and batting. He accepted four difficult chances in the field and led his team at the bat with a double and two singles. The whole team played a good game and clearly out classed the visitors. For Dover, the play of their short stop and left fields was particularly brilliant. The two clubs will meet at Dover Tuesday and Wednesday for two more games.

"Johnny George's" Sudlersville nine dressed in Princess Anne suits came to town last Friday and knocked farmer Hearn out of the box, and great was the joy of fifty Somerset rooters. This tells the tale of Salisbury's defeat by Princess Anne by a score of 9 to 1. Roy White was substituted for Hearn, but only after all chance of winning the game was lost. He pitched very effectively for five innings, allowing neither run to be scored and but four hits.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND.

The Atlantic of Baltimore wired the management Thursday morning that they could not fulfill the engagement for that day owing to the illness of their pitcher.

For good, clean and conscientious work one has but to watch the work of catcher Marine. He plays ball all the time and is always quiet and gentlemanly in his behavior.

In speaking of Schuler's batting "Dutch" Walker remarked, "I put the ball over his head and below the knee but he would hit it any old way".

The Dover club requested umpire Owens to go to Dover and umpire the games there next week.

The Sudlersville club that defeated Salisbury last Friday by a score of 9 to 1 went to Dover Wednesday and were beaten by the home team 11 to 3.

General Joseph B. Seth and wife witnessed the game in Salisbury on Monday. The General remarked, "I recognize in Jordan the pitcher who shut Euston out in 1900 by a score of 1 to 0".

Salisbury's two "fourth" teams are at present battling for supremacy on the Ball grounds. Mr. W. B. Miller is managing one team with Frank Adams as captain and Dr. S. A. Graham has charge of the other nine with Thomas Perry as captain.

Pianos & Organs

Introductory Sale Closes In a Few Days.

Do Not Delay!

We did not come here to insult public intelligence by offering cheap inferior instruments, but to demonstrate the fact that we make the best pianos that can possibly be made. Now, we propose to leave them here in good representative homes as a life-long advertisement.

There is no limit to either our prices or terms, and in order to dispose of them quickly we will close them out for less than dealers can buy them.

Remember we are the largest manufacturers in the world, and are bound to give our instruments a good introduction in this section, no matter what sacrifice may be necessary in order to do so.

We will take your old piano or organ in part payment, giving liberal terms on the balance. Come and see what you can do before it is too late. You will never have such an opportunity again.

We guarantee to save you from $100 to $200 in the purchase of a good high grade piano.

This Will Be Our Last Announcement.

Come and look these over whether you intend to buy or not. We shall not place our instruments on exhibition here again.

They are all fully guaranteed, backed by unlimited capital.

How Does This Strike You?

A Medium-Sized Cabinet Grand Upright Piano, 4 ft. 6 in. high, fancy French hurl walnut case, 71 octave, 3 pedals, tri-chord grand scale, sold by dealers all over the United States for $325.00.

Minor Crops.

"U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Maryland and Delaware Section, week ending Monday, August 19th says: Garden vegetables of all kinds continue to yield well, and are still of good quality. Tomatoes and canning corn have been made the subjects of special report this week. The early tomatoes have given good yields of fine grade; the late fields show large vines, but these have not, as a rule, fruited well, much of the pollen having been washed away by showers, and later dashing rains knocked off many blossoms, and quite a little blight is now being reported. Despite these adverse conditions, fair to good, but late yields are expected in all except the extreme west and south, to compensate for the present lull in productivity. Canning corn was hurt locally by the dry weather of some weeks ago, and is generally rather late in ripening, but fair to fine yields are looked for in the districts where this crop is raised for the canneries, and the sample applies in nearly all of the districts where grown for home consumption alone. Potatoes are giving good yields in nearly all localities, but some of the late potatoes need rain. Water melons and cantaloupes have become very plentiful during the past week, and are of good flavor. Blackberries and huckleberries are about over in the extreme west. Grapes are blighting to some extent in Cecil County, but are of good quality and plentiful elsewhere. Sweet potatoes are promising in Anne Arundel. Beans, cabbage and onions are yielding well, and late cabbage is still being planted. Turnips are doing fairly well, but need more moisture in places.

Obituary.

Just before the sun rose above the eastern horizon on Saturday morning, August 9, 1902, Melvin O. Moore, a noble, true hearted and good man bid his last farewell to the world. He left behind him a devoted and true wife, and aged father and mother, three brothers, and one sister to mourn his loss, besides a score of friends sadly regretting his departure. He was a devoted husband, an obedient son, a loving brother, and true to all his associates. To appreciate his worth was only to know him and if those he has left behind will imitate his example all will be well with them. He was thirty one years old the 14th day of March last and passed away just as he was entering the prime of life. He was sadly afflicted twenty two long months, and he endured with manly fortitude and christian patience until the end. Never was he ever heard to utter a word of complaint or exhibit the slightest degree of impatience during his protracted sickness. He is no longer with us but his noble traits of character coupled with his great devotion to his wife and relatives stamp upon their memory such a remembrance of his work not to be obliterated. He was born near Quantico, Wicomico County, Md. and resided at the time of his death at 2421 Barclay Street, Baltimore. B. K. J.

CORNER-STONE LAYING.

Some Facts Relative to the Methodist Protestant Church of This City and Its Rebuilding.

The work of re-modeling the Methodist Protestant Church, of this city is progressing finely, and next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the corner-stone will be laid with Masonic honors. Worshipful Master E. E. Twilley, at the head of about forty members of Blue Ridge Lodge, A. F. & A. M., will lead the ceremonies so far as the laying of the corner stone is concerned.

The full program will be as follows:
Rock of Ages.....Orchestra
Singing.....Hymn 186
Prayer.....Rev. L. A. Bennett
Lead, Kindly Light.....Orchestra
Address.....Rev. Louis Randall
Singing.....Hymn 351
Remarks.....Pastor
Offering

Messrs. W. Arthur Kennerly and George E. Sirman, Jr., will be the cornetists and Miss Edna Adkins, the organist, of the occasion.

The Methodist Protestant Church was organized in Salisbury in 1845, under the pastorate of Rev. Geo. D. Hamilton, whose daughter, Mrs. William Moore now resides in this city. The first trustees, who bought the land from Nathan Gordy, were Augustus G. Grove, Henry Brewington, Stephen Collier, Samuel Kelly, George Calloway, Spicer Gordy and Benjamin Maddox.

The original church was built upon the ground where the residence of W. H. Rounds now stands. In 1857 the Maryland Annual Conference was held in Salisbury.

About 1870 the land where the present church is located was purchased from Mr. Levin R. Dorman and the church was erected under the pastorate of Rev. J. L. Mills. The corner stone was laid in 1872 although the corner stone was not laid until 1872. This is proven by the fact that when the stone was removed it contained in addition to other articles, a copy of the ADVERTISER dated February 1872.

Like many other churches this one has had its adverbs as well as its prosperous seasons. Until a few years ago it formed part of a circuit. During the pastorate of Rev. L. F. Warner Mt. Hermon was attached to Pittsville. Three years ago the lecture room was enlarged and now serves its purpose very satisfactorily.

The question of enlarging and beautifying the auditorium has been under consideration for a number of years, but not until the present year could a practicable way of enlargement be seen and agreed upon. Both necessity and sound policy demanded the present improvement. Fully 750 square feet of floor space will be added to the auditorium, or in other words the room will be about one third larger than the old.

Contracts for seating the church have been signed with Cincinnati Seating Company; Mr. Arthur Biddle for steam heating apparatus and with John Brown of Wilmington, Del., for pipe organ.

The people of the city may see how far the work has advanced under the architect, Wm. E. Booth.

It is the aim of the Building Committee to carry out the will of the church and in an economical but substantial manner finish the structure as early as possible. They cannot but feel that not only every member of the church will do his utmost to have the building paid for before or on the day of dedication, but that everybody will give sympathy and as much financial assistance as possible. The church when opened will give a hearty welcome to all, even as it has done in the past.

Provision for the comfort of those who attend next Monday afternoon will be made. The auditorium will be seated as far as possible. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be on hand and make the occasion a grand success.

The Coal Situation.

While the probabilities are the trouble between the mine owners and mine workers will soon be amicably settled, yet in all likelihood, the price for that fuel will be higher than formerly during the coming season as a result of the present strike.

In Salisbury just now coal is being retailed at $6.50 per ton by the dealers. The market is practically bare here, there being scarcely any in the various yards.

It is the opinion of the dealers that while the supply will soon be adequate to the demand by the resumption of work by the strikers yet the rush of orders about the first of September will be sufficient to keep the price aloft for some time. When these early orders have been filled it is thought that the price will begin to return to its former figures.

Farm and Timber Land for Sale.

Mr. Jay Williams, as trustee, advertises for sale the Elijah Emory Nichols land, which is in Parsons district, within a few miles of Delmar. The property consists of improved farming lands and, what will attract mill and factory men, a pretty tract of pine timber. The advertisement appears in another column.

—Say, "Pard," are you going to Ocean City next Thursday on the Company's Excursion? No? Well, stay home and sweeter; I expect to go every Thursday during August, on the low rate Excursion, and keep cool.

CONGRESSMAN JACKSON RENOMINATED.

He Receives the Full Party Vote at the Republican Convention at Ocean City Thursday.

Ocean City, Md., August 28.—The convention of the Republicans of the First congressional district, which met here today in the Atlantic Casino, unanimously chose Hon. William H. Jackson, of Salisbury, the present representative of the district, as a candidate for re-election to the halls of Congress.

The meeting was called to order by Phillip Lee Goldsborough, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee. There were no regularly accredited delegates to the meeting, but each county sent large representations, and one man had an equal right with another.

Fully 400 delegates attended the mass meeting convention. All were enthusiastic for their candidate, and more than 1,000 persons were attracted to the seashore on account of the convention. Mr. Goldsborough made a short speech commendatory of the work of the Republicans in the district, in the state and in the country.

Upon the call for temporary chairman Capt. E. S. Turner, of Wicomico, named Dr. Isaac A. Barber, of Talbot county, former congressman from the First district, who was chosen without a dissenting vote. Mr. Wilbur Ellison, of Kent, was chosen temporary secretary. Upon assuming their respective duties each made a short speech and thanked the convention for the honor bestowed.

Owing to the character of the delegations it was decided that a committee on credentials should be dispensed with, and the temporary organization was made permanent. The committee on resolutions was also dispensed with, so as to facilitate the workings of the convention. A set of resolutions were read by Mr. John E. Wilson, of Queen Anne's county, and were unanimously adopted.

The only business before the meeting then was the naming of a candidate for Congress. Mr. Robert P. Graham, of Wicomico, former comptroller of the state treasury, nominated Mr. Jackson for a second term.

Mr. Graham's nomination was seconded by State Senator McCullough, of Cecil; Sub-treasurer A. Lincoln Dryden, of Somerset, and Mr. W. A. Vane, of Dorchester.

The seconding of the nomination was followed by three hearty cheers for Jackson and Roosevelt from the throats of the 400 delegates and the many hundred spectators in the convention hall. When the vote was called for every man in the hall rose and cried "yes."

After the nomination Senator McComas addressed the Convention and urged harmony throughout the district.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Meetings Largely Attended. Will Give Excellent Stereoscopic Exhibitions Tonight.

The Brigade of the Salvation Army, under the leadership of Adjutant Kemp, has drawn large crowds of people to their gospel meetings each evening during the past week. Their tent which seats about 1200 has been taxed to accommodate the attendance, among whom have also been quite a number from the country.

Adjutant Kemp is a very pleasing and interesting talker, while the entire Brigade are good musicians. The excellent singing of the three Jones sisters has been highly praised by those who have heard them.

Saturday night is generally devoted to a pay service which is for the benefit of the Army Work. Last Saturday night a musical entertainment was given and was very much enjoyed by the large audience.

This Saturday evening a beautiful stereoscopic drama, "Around the World in a Chariot of Fire" will be presented. This illustrated lecture has become famous as a life like presentation of the Army's work in various countries and in the slums of our own large cities. There are 250 large life size lime light pictures presented in the course of the lecture illustrating social and spiritual phases of the Army's work. Wherever given this entertainment has attracted widespread attention and large audiences. The musical features which accompany it are of a high order. The Jones sisters will sing novel and touching army songs back of the large curtain whereon the scenes are displayed.

A Railroad Conductor Dead.

Charles Ringer, a freight conductor in the employ of the N. Y. P. & N. railroad, died at his home in Delmar last Saturday after a long and painful illness. It is said that his malady began to grow upon him several years ago, when one arm gradually lost its nerve force. Specialists were consulted and city hospitals visited but no treatment arrested the spreading nature of the disease. The doctors pronounced it creeping paralysis.

From the arm the paralysis spread to all parts of the body until the sufferer was completely helpless both in body and mind.

The dead man who was about 55 years old, leaves a widow and a large family of children who have the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. Ringer had been in the employ of the railroad several years, and was a highly valued man by the company. The Delmar American says the disease first appeared, more than two years ago, in the thumb of the left hand, and slowly spread until all parts of the body were affected.

RAILROAD CONDUCTOR SHOT.

Negroes Failing to get a Free Ride Attack the Trainman.

A great deal of excitement was occasioned by the shooting last Tuesday morning of freight Conductor Albert Walker, on the N. Y. P. & N. railroad between Delmar and Salisbury. Conductor Walker had charge of a long freight train which he was taking to Cape Charles. This side of Delmar he discovered a number of tramp negroes stealing a ride and ordered them from the train. The negroes resented the interference of the conductor and drawing revolvers fired upon him. Two bullets took effect, one striking Mr. Walker just below the left collar bone and entering the top of the lung, the other struck him under the shoulder-blade. After the shooting the negroes jumped from the train and disappeared into the woods.

After the encounter the train was hurried to Salisbury and the wounded conductor taken to the Peninsula General Hospital, where Dr. Dick extracted the balls. Though the wounds seemed dangerous Mr. Walker refused to be permitted to return to his train. This the surgeon declined to grant. The wounded man is rapidly improving. Later three colored men were arrested by the Sheriff and his deputies and lodged in the county jail. They admit that they saw the encounter, but protest that they took no hand in it. It is believed by the authorities that the men who did the shooting are still at large and the hunt for them continues.

Feeling runs very high against the negroes who assaulted the conductor. They are believed to be from the State of Virginia, having been to Delaware either to work in the peach orchards and canning factories or to help pad out the registration lists for Mr. Addicks.

Fresh excitement was caused in Salisbury Tuesday night by the report that several young colored men in "Georgetown" who have recently returned from the Philippines, had intercepted Mr. Wm. A. White on the street and attempted to assault him. An alarm was given and a body of men and boys started out to capture the colored men. They could not be found and the excitement subsided.

Opening of Opera House.

Stetson's colossal dramatic and scenic production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" comes to the Ulman Grand Opera House on Wednesday Sept. 3d., the opening date. This production far surpasses that of last season in every particular and will be the best seen here. Special attention has been given to the staging of the piece, and several scenic effects are magnificent. The thrilling floating ice scene on the Ohio River, St. Clair's plantation with house and garden by moonlight and the cotton fields beyond, and the superb transformation scene at the end of the last act are among the greatest. One of the largest organizations of white and colored artists ever gathered together in one combination has been engaged by Mr. Leon W. Washburn for this season, everyone of whom was selected for his or her adaptability for the part assigned. A clever lot of colored people add materially to the production by a number of high-class specialists. Col. Sawyer's prize pack of genuine Siberian bloodhounds, a lot of beautiful Shetland ponies, trick donkeys, etc. are also with this great combination. The street parade has two bands of music, a number of gorgeous chariots, tableaux, wagons and little carriages built at a large outlay of money, making it the finest free street pageant ever given by any similar organization. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Tickets on sale at box office.

A Vote of Thanks for Peaches.

At a meeting of the Connecticut Pomological Society, held two weeks ago in one of the towns of the Nutmeg state, a vote of thanks was taken for Mr. Wm. F. Allen, who had sent to the Society a carrier of fine Wicomico peaches with his compliments. The peaches were grown on Mr. Allen's farm, on the Tony Tank road, and were of the Ray variety. From 265 four-year old trees Mr. Allen received $381.00 net profit, less the cost of picking. This was more than $2.00 per tree. More than half of the quantity sold for $2.00 per carrier. Less than one fourth sold at $1.50 per carrier and the remainder at $1.75.

The Ray is not an extensively grown peach on the Peninsula. Mr. Allen got his stock from buds taken from a tree which was sent him some years ago by a customer in Mississippi. It is a red fruit, resembling in size and conformation the Mountain Rose. From his limited experience with it Mr. Allen believes it may be a certain bearer.

"Cupid's Triumph."

"Cupid's Triumph" is the name of a pretty little song just published by George Willig & Co., of Baltimore. The words and music were composed by Mrs. Belle H. Jones, who resides at 208 Division Street, in this city, and she has dedicated the song to Marion Vernon Brewington, Jr., infant son of State Senator M. V. Brewington, of Salisbury. The first lines run as follows:

You cunning little cupid,
How fast your arrows fly!
But I am not your target,
Nor yet for love would die.
Your darts are falling harmless
Upon my heart of stone,
And think you not, Oh Cupid,
To build thereon a throne.
Oh, leave me Cupid, leave me,
There is danger if you stay;
For by your heinous broken
I pray you, go away.
Continuing the last lines of cupid's triumph, hence the fitting name.

DOVER TWICE DEFEATED.

Old Time "Hoodoo" Broken And The Delaware Boys Easily Taken In Camp—Sudlersville Wins a Game.

A large crowd attended the opening game of the series between Salisbury and Dover played at the Salisbury grounds on Monday afternoon. It is estimated that about 700 persons saw the game. Hafer, who has been doing such phenomenal work for Dover this season, was sent in the box to do the pitching and many a rooter felt a cold chill creep over him as he thought of our old time "hoodoo". But the great uncertainty of Base ball was never more beautifully illustrated than in this game with Dover. Hafer was easy for our sluggers and in the third and fourth innings they scored seven runs and clinched the game. Jordan, who was in the box for the home team had the visitors at his mercy from start to finish. At one time in the game he started to "let down," seeing that he had Dover defeated but the management urged him to play for a shut out and he responded most beautifully to their request, allowing neither man to reach home and only one to get as far as third. The feature of the game was the pitching of Jordan and the batting of Burris. The former allowed the heavy hitting Doversites but four hits and Salisbury's heady short stop distinguished himself by making four hits out of four times at the bat. The final score was Salisbury 7, Dover 0.

On Tuesday the same clubs played the second game of the series. This was witnessed by a large crowd but hardly as large as on Monday. "Dutch" Walker thought that he could twirl his club to victory but "all pitchers look alike" to our boys these days and when the game was over the score showed 11 hits and four runs for Salisbury to 8 hits and one run for Dover. Roy White pitched the game for the local nine and while he was batted for slick and clean hits yet he showed great headwork and pulled out of numerous tight holes. When the visitors needed a hit, he was at his best and proved himself a good man in the box. Harry Schuler, who was laid off in Monday's game, played center field and won the plaudits of every one present for his beautiful fielding and batting. He accepted four difficult chances in the field and led his team at the bat with a double and two singles. The whole team played a good game and clearly out classed the visitors. For Dover, the play of their short stop and left field was particularly brilliant. The two clubs will meet at Dover Tuesday and Wednesday for two more games.

"Johny George's" Sudlersville nine dressed in Princess Anne suits came to town last Friday and knocked farmer Hearn out of the box, and great was the joy of fifty Somerset rooters. This tells the tale of Salisbury's defeat by Princess Anne by a score of 9 to 1. Roy White was substituted for Hearn, but only after all chance of winning the game was lost. He pitched very effectively for five innings, allowing neither run to be scored and but four hits.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND.

The Atlantic of Baltimore wired the management Thursday morning that they could not fulfil the engagement for that day owing to the illness of their pitcher.

For good, clean and conscientious work one has but to watch the work of catcher Marine. He plays ball all the time and is always quiet and gentlemanly in his behavior.

In Speaking of Schuler's batting "Dutch" Walker remarked, "I put the ball over his head and below the knee but he would hit it any old way".

The Dover club requested umpire Owens to go to Dover and umpire the games there next week.

The Sudlersville club that defeated Salisbury last Friday by a score of 9 to 1 went to Dover Wednesday and were beaten by the home team 11 to 5.

General Joseph B. Beth and wife witnessed the game in Salisbury on Monday. The General remarked, "I recognize in Jordan the pitcher who shut Easton out in 1900 by a score of 1 to 0".

Salisbury's two "fourth" teams are at present battling for supremacy on the Ball grounds. Mr. W. B. Miller is managing one team with Frank Adams as captain and Dr. S. A. Graham has charge of the other nine with Thomas Perry as captain.

Gray Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over thirty years. It has kept my scalp free from dandruff and has prevented my hair from turning gray."—Mrs. F. A. Soule, Billings, Mont.

There is this peculiar thing about Ayer's Hair Vigor—it is a hair food, not a dye. Your hair does not suddenly turn black, look dead and lifeless. But gradually the old color comes back,—all the rich, dark color it used to have. The hair stops falling, too.

AFFLICTIONS OF A FAMILY.

Faith Healers Near Sharptown Will Have no Doctor. The Mother Dead and Several Children Sick.

Our Sharptown correspondent writes that on Sunday morning last, at an early hour Mrs. Jane Hutson, wife of George B. Hutson, of near Sharptown died after an illness of four weeks. Mr. Hutson's family has been peculiarly afflicted with what is supposed to be typhoid fever. Two or three others have been in a precarious condition for several weeks, but are some better. As soon as the children begin to get better one peculiar feature noticeable is that all the old skin peels off and new forms. Mrs. Hutson was a member of the Evening Lights or Faith Healers near Federalsburg, and the minister and some of the members have made occasional visits to Hutson's and held service and perhaps have a dozen or more followers in that vicinity. During all the affliction of Hutson's family he and his wife refused to have a physician and not one of them in all their long and tedious suffering had a single dose of medicine, but were allowed to drink all the cold water they wanted. The parents held to their faith, and believed in Divine healing. After Mrs. Hutson's death, undertaker W. D. Gravenor secured the services of Dr. J. A. Wright who made a post mortem examination of Mrs. Hutson and also examined the children, three of whom were in bed, and he pronounced it typhoid fever, and all were similarly affected.

On Monday morning the remains were interred after funeral service including a sermon, and the ceremonies of their church, by Mrs. Maggie Coulbourn of Caroline County, a minister of the Evening Lights or Faith Healers.

Mrs. Thomas Hearn, who is a member of the same society has taken the six-months old child, where it will be well cared for. Mr. Hutson will remain at home with the other six children, which run in age from two to twelve years. While there are three children yet sick, no doctor is called in and the disease seems to have been so contagious in the family that the neighbors have hesitated to visit very much, outside of the Evening Lights, who go without any apparent fear. THE MARYLAND STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Plans For The Fruit Exhibition At The Next Annual Meeting.

One of the most interesting features of the meeting of the Maryland State Horticultural Society last year was the very fine display of fruits and vegetables. These exhibitions are of great value in indicating the great horticultural possibilities of our State, and hereafter should form one of the most prominent features of our annual meetings.

It is desired to make the exhibit at the forthcoming meeting to be held in Baltimore, Thursday and Friday, December 18 and 19, as large as possible, and a splendid showing can be made if the fruit growers of the State will lend their cooperation. All are invited to contribute to this exhibition. Those desiring to aid in this important work, should read carefully the following directions, and be governed thereby:

DIRECTIONS.

Fruit intended for exhibition purposes should be picked as soon as it is well grown, without waiting for evidences of fruit ripeness to appear. Handle with the greatest possible care to avoid bruising. Wrap each specimen with care in tissue or other suitable paper, label each specimen, and pack carefully in ordinary peach basket, crate or barrel. Address each package to the State Horticultural Society, care of the Baltimore City Cold Storage and Warehouse Company, 408 South Eutaw Street, Baltimore, Md., and ship at once by express, charges prepaid. Advise the above company of the shipment, also the Secretary, to whom should be sent a list of the varieties shipped. Exhibitors will be put to no further trouble, as the arrangement of the fruit in the hall will be in charge of a committee of the Society. Hand some Awards of Merit, signed by the President and Secretary, will be awarded to those entitled to them, as determined by the Exhibition Committee. These Certificates will be of three grades, first, second, and third, and will be awarded on individual varieties of fruits in competition with each other or collections of varieties; or new seedlings of merit, and on any other horticultural exhibits, based on the report of the Committee in charge. Five specimens of each variety must be exhibited to compete for a certificate.

Further information relating to the Society may be obtained by addressing the Secretary, A. L. Quaintance, College Park, Md.

If The Baby is Cutting Teeth.

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. WILLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

THE FAMOUS WELSH BROTHERS' SHOW.

An Arenal Entertainment of Merit that is Soon to Appear Here.

Wherever the Welsh Bros.' Shows appear, their tents are crowded by a public whose faith in their exhibition is firm, and is never shaken by poor programmes. For this season a bill of more than usual pleasing qualities has been arranged and lovers of quality in that style of performance have in store a big treat. The programme comprises the newest and best acts of the best known arenic artists of the country, including several feature acts that have lately been head-lined with the leading largest shows of America. The list of attractions is headed with the sensational acrobatic stars, the La Rue troupe, coterie of clever people—in fact it is claimed for them that they are the recognized champion acrobats of the entire world. They accomplish the most difficult, dangerous and original feats with apparent ease and without any of the tiresome display indulged in by the majority of acrobats. These artists have just concluded a successful tour of the world, having appeared in the principal cities and towns of England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany and other foreign countries. Other choice acts are presented by the Welcome and Forepaugh company of star aerialists, the Kitamura Royal Court Japanese Troupe, Miss Millie Zanta, the Great Marinella, Crawford and Finning, Miss Pearl Forepaugh, Sisters Ward, George Colby, Caron Bros., Prof. John White, Madame Collette and Miss Del Kano. Besides these there are equestrian displays of many kinds, notably the Parliarian menage acts, the lightning hurdle riders, the cake-walking and dancing horses, the big sixty-horse act, trained and performed by one man. There is also a large collection of trained ponies, dogs, monkeys, goats and horses in a repertoire of superior acts. The old established policy of this show of presenting nothing but refined features continues throughout the entire performance. The show will positively exhibit at Salisbury, Tuesday September 2.

In Memoriam.

John Tubbs Wimbrow, the subject of this sketch, entered upon eternal life at Wango, Md., on Friday, August 15, 1902, at the ripe old age of more than eighty-two years. Like the Baptist, he "was a man sent from God whose name was John". From early youth until his death his life was spent in communion with Him of whom he could say: "whom I am and whom I serve."

He was the second of a family of seven children, only one of whom is now living. His parents were Peter and Sallie Wimbrow, devout Methodists of the old time, whose dwelling was the "home" of Methodist itinerants three quarters of a century ago. Being thus brought under christian influences while a child, he was converted early in life. Having seen few "wild oats", there was no harvest to reap in after years.

Bro. Wimbrow was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Lizzie Lewis, who lived but a few years. In 1849 he married Miss Nancy Tubbs who survives him. Ten children are living: Joseph H. and Mary G. by his first wife; Rebecca J., Moses F., John M., Samuel H., Priscilla, Greensbury, Willis G., and Charles F., by his last wife, all of whom, so far as is known to the writer, "are traveling home to God in the way their father trod." Preparations were made three years ago to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Bro. and Sister Wimbrow, but severe illness prevented.

The deceased was practically the founder of two Methodist churches. Together with his father, he founded and built old John Wesley Church on Wimbrow's Creek sixty-five years ago. As Paul did, so he "labored with his own hands," hewing the sills, sawing the boards, and making the shingles by hand. In 1890, another church was built near his home at Wango, Md., that the increasing number of residents might more conveniently attend service. Fully half the cost of erection he paid himself. He gave liberally to God, and God prospered him. This church is growing steadily and surely.

After labor comes rest. On Sunday, August seventeenth, after a short illness resulting in his death, he was laid away in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. The greater portion of his thirty-four grandchildren and seven great grand children gathered around the grave. His body lies near the church he loved so well, and in sight of the spot where he had lived for over seventy-two years. With even more truth can it be said of him than of Sir Christopher Wren: "If you seek his monument, look around you."

His helpmate survives him at the advanced age of seventy-seven. She is a woman whose description Solomon gives in Proverbs 31, 11, 12: "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her.... She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life." Even before she dies "her children arise up and call her blessed."

"Only waiting, till the reapers have the last sheaf gathered home. For the summer-time is faded, And the autumn winds have come. Quickly, reapers, gather quickly! These last ripe hours of my heart, For the bloom of life is withered And I hasten to depart."

Died.

On Sunday, August 24th, Mary Melissa, aged 11 months and eighteen days, only daughter of Virgil and Melissa Hearn.

The little crib is empty now. The little clothes laid by; A mother's hope, a father's joy, In death's cold arms doth lie.

Go little pilgrim to thy home, On yonder distant shore, We mourn thee here, but soon will come, Where thou hast gone before. Papa and Mama.

NIAGARA FALLS.

Letter to O. J. Schaeck.

Dear Sir: One coat of Devoo is better than two of mixed paint. The American House, at Tannerville (Catskill Mts.), N. Y., Chas. L. Wilcox, had two coats of Mixed Paint five years ago; last spring had two more coats of the same. Owner was going to use Devoo but got his Mixed Paint a few cents less. Right across the street, Charles Haner painted one coat of Devoo at the same time—last spring. The Haner house is the better job; but wait five years. The point of the story is that Wilcox is sorry already. He has learned something that not one man in a thousand knows—that a gallon of one kind of paint can contain twice as much paint as a gallon of another kind of paint. You can't afford to put on another paint even if you have it given to you. At the same time, you see, that Mixed Paint appears to have worn five years, give the devil his due. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOR & Co. P. S.—L. W. Gunby sells our paint.

PET ANIMALS AND DISEASE.

Serious Throat Affections Disseminated by the Parrot. The newspapers of New York have published the interesting details of a prominent society woman's display of affection for her dying and dead parrot. There was even question, it seems, of an expensive funeral, with many of the accessories usually accorded to those higher in the scale of being. The parrot is said to have died of a severe throat disease. According to one of the New York papers, owing to the swollen and inflamed condition of the bird's throat it was unable to talk and seems also to have been unable to swallow. Notwithstanding this, the family is said to have bestowed many caresses upon the ailing bird. It may be as well to remind foolish individuals whose affections are so perverted that there is a very contagious disease which attacks especially the throats of parrots and which on a number of occasions has been communicated to human beings with serious and even fatal results. This disease, called psittacosis, from the Greek word for parrot, was first studied about five years ago in Paris during an epidemic that developed in that city and was for a long time a mystery to attending physicians. Altogether about sixty human beings were attacked by the disease during one winter, and of these about 40 per cent died. It is very probable that pet animals are vehicles for the distribution of a good many more diseases than has been thought. Disease germs very seldom travel through the air, though this is popularly supposed to be the usual method of conveyance for microbes. Fleas, mosquitoes, birds, pet animals of various kinds, are undoubtedly quite often the medium of contagion.

The more is known of the biology of disease germs and of the intermediate host between man and man the more it is realized that usually living things and not inanimate objects are the carriers of infectious material. Some time we will reach a stage of civilization in which it will be realized that wild extremism in making pets of animals, denaturalizing their lives and making them liable to all the ills of humanity besides their own, is a relic of savagery and is too often a manifestation of that barbaric selfishness of spirit that delights in slaves. When this bit of unthinking primevality is done away with, we shall have less of the morbid spirit that fosters antivivisection and similar movements.—American Medicine.

A Congressman's Story.

Congressman Littlefield of Maine, who is one of the speakers that the house delights to listen to and whose voice is a rare oratorical equipment, tells this story about himself: "It was up in Buffalo in the 1896 campaign. A local lawyer and I had been assigned to a big meeting. The local man was introduced first and proceeded to draw from his inside pocket a manuscript, from which he started to read. At the end of an hour of the worst rot I ever heard my ambitious friend closed in what he thought was a blaze of glory. "Three cheers for the speaker for finishing" some one yelled. "The cheers were given, and then I was introduced. It was a tough proposition, but I jolted along with the crowd for some fifteen minutes and then launched into what I thought was my best line of talk. I finished all right, and the chairman said I had made a hit. In driving to the hotel after the meeting the local speaker said to me: "Mr. Littlefield, if I only had your voice, with what I have to say, I would be a wonder!"—New York Tribune.

She Didn't Go to School.

Recently a Duluth minion of the law had occasion to visit a family living in the west end. He wanted to see the man of the house; but, as he was not in, he sat down and waited in the kitchen. A young girl, apparently about twelve years old, was busy with herself kneading bread. The officer watched the proceeding for some time when he remarked, "Don't you go to school?" "No; I stopped school some time ago." "I should think that a girl of your age would want to get as much education as possible before taking the responsibility attending household duties." "Yes, maybe." "But why don't you go to school, then?" "Well," she stammered, "because my husband thinks I had better stay at home." They the officer looked out of the window, and the conversation came to an end.—Duluth News-Tribune.

A Bold Beggar.

A story of King Christian and an enterprising beggar is going the rounds in Copenhagen. The king takes habitually an early morning walk, accompanied by Prince Waldemar and his favorite dog. Recently during one of these walks a ragged man with all the typical cringing of a beggar approached him. "Well," said the king, "what is it?" "Dare I ask your majesty for your portrait as a memento?" said the beggar humbly. Naturally the king was both surprised and pleased at this declaration of loyalty, but regretted that he did not carry his portraits about with him. "Pardon me, your majesty," retorted the tramp stily; "if you will look in your purse, you will probably find one!" The king, amused at this novel way of asking for ams, gave the man two crowns, but the police, to whom such smartness does not commend itself, have duly "marked" the man.

GUITEAU JURYMEN.

The Assassin's Curse Has Not Worked Against Them.

"It is currently believed," said one of the old inhabitants of this city, "that the members of the Guiteau jury, which was composed of twelve citizens of Washington, have all died since the trial and conviction of the assassin of President Garfield, some twenty years ago, but such is not the case. Only four have passed to the other shore, the last one, a retired butcher (Mr. Prather), having been a member of the Oldest Inhabitants' association of the District. "John P. Hamlin, the foreman of the jury, is living in this city, a hale and hearty old man of more than three-score and ten years. I was talking with him on the subject of the Guiteau trial, in which he played so prominent a part, the other day. "I and my fellow jurymen," says he whenever questioned on the subject, "were convinced that Guiteau was conscious of what he was doing when he fired the shot. "Guiteau denounced the jury with a curse that caused a shudder to pass over the vast throng in the courtroom. When the verdict was announced, he said: 'My blood be on the head of that jury, and don't you forget it! That is my answer, and God will avenge this outrage!' "The average age of the jury was fifty years. Gates, I think, was the youngest and Hobbs the oldest. Hobbs, Thomas Heinlein, Fred Brandenburg and Prather are dead, while Bright, Langley, Wormley, Stewart, Gates, Sheahan, Brauner and John Hamlin are living, enjoying, as the latter has said to me, the consciousness of having performed their duty in convicting the assassin. "Poor Sheahan, I understand, from physical troubles has been in the insane asylum for some years—not because of Guiteau's curse, I am sure. Those of the jurors who have died lived to be old men, you might say, and died, as other men die, regardless of the curse. Those who are living, I understand from my friend Hamlin, are doing first rate. He tells me he often meets his fellow jurymen in this city, but that they scarcely ever refer to that incident in their lives. It is a memory of the past and not a pleasant one. "Hamlin told me his name was one of a hundred that were drawn and that he was the thirteenth man called that would answer. Being the first selected, he was, of course, made foreman. The confinement was long and arduous—over two months in the National hotel, closely guarded by United States marshals."—Washington Times.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Wicomico County and State of Maryland of which John W. Brown, late of said County, died seized and possessed, for the purpose of division amongst the parties entitled thereto.

The bill states that Jackson Brown was in his lifetime and at the time of his death seized and possessed of certain real estate, which is particularly described in said bill, that being so seized and possessed, he departed this life intestate about the year 1881, leaving surviving him at present the following heirs, James Elliott, a son of a deceased daughter, Lottie Phillips, Maggie Cox, Bertie Lloyd, Zenobia Haggard, Georgia Evans and Katie Bailey, daughters of Sallie Horseman, a deceased daughter; John Bradley, a son of a deceased daughter, Clara Jackson a daughter, Glen Howard, in said great grandson, Rodney A. Horseman, a son who married Annie Brown, Albert Brown, a son who married Sarah Brown, and Perry Brown, a son, who married Mamie Brown, who are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing in the State of Virginia, to whom the said property has descended; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interest therein, and that in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary that the said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their several interests, and prays for a decree for a sale of the said property and a distribution of the proceeds amongst the parties entitled thereto according to their respective rights and interests.

It is thereupon this 1st day of August 1902, ordered by the Circuit Court for said Wicomico County in Equity that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be published in said Wicomico County once in each of four successive weeks before the 30th day of August 1902, give notice to the said non-resident defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September 1902, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

From an Author's Journal.

Just finished my great American novel. Hastened to send it to the publisher, as I want to buy a railroad tomorrow morning. There is a suspicion that this is not the great age of American literature, but I'm inclined to think that it is. My latest novel is in its three hundred and fiftieth thousand, and my cigars cost $2 apiece. One of the fool critics says I don't write literature. All that is vastly amusing to me as I order my carriage for a spin in the park and put the last flourish to an autograph for the czar of Russia. I must tell my real estate agent not to bother me with my rents for a week or so. In that time I have contracted to finish another great American novel, as I shall want to buy a couple of colonial mansions as wedding presents to friends of mine.—Atlanta Constitution.

Helen Keller's First Word.

The morning after my teacher came she led me into her room and gave me a beautiful doll. After I had played with it a little while she slowly spelled into my hands the word "d-o-l-l." I was greatly interested in this finger play and tried to imitate it. When I finally succeeded in making the letters correctly, I was flushed with childish pleasure and pride; then, running down stairs to my mother, I held up my hand and made the letters for "doll." In the days that followed I learned to spell a great many words, among them "pin," "hat," "cup" and a few verbs like "sit," "stand" and "walk." But my teacher had been with me several weeks before I understood that everything has a name.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Ministers and Chess.

"A considerable proportion of chess players are clergymen," a minister said the other day. "If you doubt this, consult in the newspapers and the weeklies the column devoted to questions and answers regarding the game and to chess tournaments. It will amaze you the number of 'Rev.'s' and 'D.'s' that you will come upon there. Chess is, you see, a game too weighty and serious for most people, who like in their amusement to unbend. But this very weightiness, this very seriousness, is what makes it so particularly attractive to ministers, for they cannot afford to unbend in their play to the same extent that others can; hence chess for them rather than pingpong."—Philadelphia Press.

A Tolstol Protest.

Tolstol is completely out of patience with modern literary taste. "The ignorance of our educated circles," he declares, "is such that the truly great thinkers, poets and prose writers, whether of antiquity or of the nineteenth century, are regarded as stale and out of date, incapable of satisfying the high and refined demands of the present generation. We either patronize these masters or frankly dismiss them with a contemptuous smile. "In philosophy the last word is found in the immoral, crude, isolated, incoherent stuff of Nietzsche."

VOTE BUYING.

The Baltimore Evening News of Tuesday has the following editorial on vote buying which we think is a true presentation of existing conditions.

"Mr. James E. Ellegood of Wicomico county is again raising his voice in behalf of a reform of political conditions on the Eastern Shore. Mr. Ellegood thinks that an enforcement of the present statute against vote-buying is practicable and would result in crushing bribery. He urges the Democratic party to stop purchasing votes itself and to see that the Republicans do the same thing. His advice is sound and his denunciation of bribery is not overdrawn.

There seems to be some reason to hope for a better state of things in county politics in the near future, although it is tolerably certain that bribery will be very hard to eradicate in Maryland. The chief hope of those who believe in the purity of the ballot must be placed in the proper moral education of the coming generation of voters, and if men of standing and character like Mr. Ellegood would also, like him, give active, unceasing and hearty support to the cause of pure elections, tangible and desirable results would soon be manifest.

One of the best signs of the times is the open way in which partisan leaders recognize the dangers and futility of vote-buying. The drain has become so heavy in some parts of the State that it would seem to be highly probable that the day is not far distant when the politicians themselves, in self-defense, will be compelled to get together and refuse to use money improperly any longer in the carrying of elections. There is not a county in the State in which bribery is a serious menace, where the evil could not be extirpated, root and branch, on any election day. All that is necessary to be done is for the few real leaders of each party to enter into an agreement not to buy votes, and name a committee of representative citizens to see that the agreement is kept, and to sanction all legitimate expenditures. It is gratifying to anyone familiar with political conditions to note the increasing number of young men who are, by precept and example, combating in a modest and individual but nevertheless effective way, so far as the education of their fellow-voters is concerned, the evil of vote-buying in their own localities, and seeking to have brains and character, and not the possession of command of a pocketful of money, made the recommendation of a candidate.

—Every time a Republican tells about the commercial invasion of Europe he is furnishing the best sort of argument why the tariff should be revised. If we can ship our goods to Europe and undersell her there, how in the name of reason can there be any danger of any destructive competition here? Every article almost that is exported to Europe is sold at a good deal lower figure than the same article is sold for here. The Republicans tell us that they are sold at less than cost. Is it possible that they squeeze their own people so hard that they can go into the charity business after they get to Europe? It is either that or else they do not sell at less than cost there. The Republicans are welcome to either horn of the dilemma. If they do not sell for less than cost, why should they charge us so much more for the same article?—Ex.

—The triumph of the American meat packers in gaining control of the London market is sounded. Whatever the national glory may be American consumers can study their meat bills and find the satisfaction of knowing that they paid for it.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Iowa Republicans have, according to one of their own number, made a distinct concession to the Democrats, when they acknowledged that the tariff shelters monopoly. Perhaps they made that confession on the principle that an honest confession is good for the soul.

Good Advice to Democrats.

The Newark Ledger editorially gives the following excellent advice to those who aspire to the Democratic nominations for the various offices to be filled at the next election:

Personal feeling must be laid aside in the Democratic party. The only way to win is by a united party advocating the best principles, and honoring the strongest men with a place on the ticket. It is impossible for all candidates to secure nomination for the offices desired. It is possible, however, for all defeated candidates to work for the good of the party. If personal feeling is allowed to enter into the contest, the result can easily be foretold. There must be a solid party, working for the best good; advocating the best wishes of the people; allowing small things to go, and working upon the broad lines of unity and strength of a party that has the best interest of the State at heart.

It is hoped that this advice will fall upon willing ears and be productive of good results. That a large element of disappointment and dissatisfaction should attend a contest for a political prize where there are numerous contestants and can be but one victor, is only natural; but the feelings of disappointment and dissatisfaction should not be permitted to extend to the election.

These primary contests are a free fight for all who may choose to participate in them. They are also a fair fight now, as the law throws around primary elections in New Castle county all the protection that is given a general election. The contestants, therefore are assured of a fair vote and an honest announcement of the result.

This being the case, the contentions of the primary should cease at the close of the nomination election, when all interests should unite in supporting the successful nominees—provided, of course, that they are good and worthy men.—Every Evening.

Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by which strengthens the whole digestive system

Rough on Theodore Hook.

The humor of Theodore Hook was the subject the other day of a more or less approving article in The Academy of London. This did not please Mr. G. S. Street, who, in a lively letter to the offender, says:

"I believe the truth to be that merely mechanical and brainless humor like that of Theodore Hook can never outlive the generation it first amused. The great humorists, of course, were men who could think and feel. Rabelais was a philosopher, a man with scorn and ideas; Sterne had the tenderest feeling for what was kindly and simple in men and women. Not to linger among the giants, even second rate but true humor has some meaning and point to it, or, if it be mere high spirits, one can test its author, as a rule, on another side. Theodore Hook has left us this test, unluckily for him. Have you ever read one of his serious novels? I remember—but vaguely, I think Apollo—a novel of his called 'The Parson's Daughter,' and am free to assert that it is almost the silliest tale told by an idiot I ever read."

Aristocrats as Milkmen.

The milk trade attracts aristocrats. Lord Rayleigh is a milkman and owns one of the finest businesses in the home counties. Every morning special trains loaded with cans of milk from his dairy leave the station at Hatfield Perrier for London. He owns a herd of over a thousand cows. The late Lord Vernon had a large dairy farm at Sudbury Hall, near Derby, and carried on an extensive business. The late Lord Hampden started and maintained a large establishment of this sort at Glynde, which was known as The Creameries, and proved highly successful. Not long ago a Mr. Dormer, nephew of Lord Dormer, is said to have joined the milk trade.—London Express.

Estates of Two Old Men.

Mr. Jay Williams, executor, sold last Wednesday the real estate in Delaware of the late Thomas B. Taylor. It consisted of thirty-two acres of land near Columbia, in Sussex county, and was bid in by Mr. Williams at $340.00. The sale took place at Owens' store, at Columbia.

The Maryland property was sold by Mr. Williams last spring. The same day and at the same place Mr. Williams as attorney for the daughters of the late Roger Phillips, effected a compromise settlement of the estate of the deceased between the widow and the daughters.

By the will of Mr. Phillips the widow was left the bulk of the estate. Believing that their father was of un-sound mind and incapable of justly disposing of his property the daughters were preparing to contest the will. To avoid a contest the widow, last Wednesday, in consideration of $1400 in hand paid, signed a quit claim deed conveying to the daughters all the property, both real and personal, and of whatever description. The daughters are Mrs. Margaret Phippin, of Portsville, Delaware, Mrs. Tabitha Bradley, of Hebron and Mrs. Isaac J. Kennerly, of Mardela Springs. As the property is located in both Sussex county and Wicomico county the deed will be recorded in the Georgetown court and also here.

—The annual St. Bartholomew's day celebration was held at Old Green Hill Church last Wednesday, the 27th. Several hundred people from Salisbury and the county were in attendance. Rev. F. B. Adkins, the rector, was assisted by Rev. J. Gibson Gant, of Berlin, Rev. Mr. Hamilton, of Princess Anne, and Rev. H. G. England of Uniontown, Kentucky. There were morning and afternoon services with an intervening luncheon, it being the custom on these occasions for the people to take lunch baskets and enjoy refreshments picnic fashion under the trees on the bank of the river.

—Mr. Robt. P. Graham, trustee of the late Trains Bounds, sold last Saturday at Mardela Springs, the real estate of the late Samuel J. Bounds. The dwelling house was bought by Mrs. Elizabeth Bounds at $500. Mr. J. Windsor Bounds bought the one third interest in 59 acres of land at $290; Dr. L. N. Wilson, seven acres of land at $100 and Mr. L. N. Cooper a small house and lot in Mardela for $105.00

—Mayor Disharoon, Captain R. B. White, Messrs. V. Perry, Harry Dennis, Jesse D. Price, Isaac L. Price, E. Lee Waller, W. E. Dorman and W. A. Crew made a trip down the Wicomico, Thursday, in the gasoline launch Eaglet. Near the light house the party tried for fish, but they were not biting greedily that day.

—Misses Lottie and Eliza Fish are among the 37 retired public school teachers whose continuous service of more than twenty-five years entitles them to the teachers pension of $200 per annum as provided by an act of the last legislature. State Senator Moore of Worcester county introduced the measure.

—The City Council has appointed as a committee to consider the gas question for Salisbury, Messrs. A. J. Benjamin, James E. Ellegood and Thomas H. Mitchell. It is the purpose of this committee to visit several cities and inspect the various methods of lighting and report to the Council within sixty days.

Pure Spices!

The word spice has become synonymous with whatever gives flavor, adds zest, or makes life a pleasure. Spices are not to be classified, it is true, among the necessities of life. We can get along without them just as well as we can get along without music or perfume, etc., but what would life be worth without spice of some kind in stimulating the appetite, improving the flavor of food, and in many cases rendering it more wholesome and digestible. Spices, like many other food products, are adulterated. The adulterated spices are not good for pickling and preserving, and they may cause you to lose lots of your canned goods. If you want the pure and unadulterated spices, strictly high grade, get them at

Try and visit our Remnant Counters every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Come early and get your pick.

Stitch-by-Stitch.

Every Merchant, all of us, are liable to make one serious mistake in business, it's worth thinking about once in a while just so we won't forget to look out for it. It's the mistake of giving so much thought to what comes in to the store, that we get a little careless of what goes out of it. The truth is, the amount of money people leave in your store is not so important to our welfare in business as the quality of the merchandise they take away. The thing to be careful about is not so much that today's sales shall produce large profits as that today's sales shall make tomorrow's, next week's, next season's sales more certain. In selecting clothes for this Fall season Thoroughgood means to put into them the seed of next season's business. We can't be careful of every stitch, but we can watch and use judgment in every step of buying. Lacy Thoroughgood buys the best clothing made, the best hats made, the best shirts made. He sells the best collars and cuffs manufactured. Lacy Thoroughgood is making something besides a little money, he's making a reputation for his fine goods, you see, it does make a big difference what people take away from a store, doesn't it? Now just suppose a perfect stranger should come to Salisbury and by chance inquire who sold the finest grade of goods, don't you think he would be told to go to Lacy Thoroughgood's store? We think he would, what do you think?

The Annual Shirt Sale will be September 6th.

Scheming

There are several things in which it is necessary to do a little scheming, but the most important thing is to be particular where you buy, buying where you can do the best. I am still catering to the public for a share of the public's patronage and I think if you will come in and give me a trial you will be pleased at your coming.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medicinal triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and Home of Swamp-Root dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Bits Of Maryland News.

Crisfield packing houses are now glutted by a remarkable and unexpected run of crabs.

The canning season in Cecil county promises to be brisk and the tomato crop the largest in years.

The City Council of Elkton has granted the use of certain streets to the Cecil and Kent Electric Railway Company.

Mr. Hamilton Geibert, a farmer south of Frederick, exhibited a corn-stalk to the roots of which were attached a number of potatoes.

About 800 men are working on the new reservoir at Hagerstown. Operations are being pushed to complete the work before cold weather.

The Vanville Farmers' Club of Southern Maryland at its last meeting passed resolutions favoring the leasing of water lots for oyster planting.

Joseph McQuirk was accidentally slain in both legs while gunning near Belair with Henry Burns, owing to the latter's gun catching in a twig of a tree, causing it to be discharged.

Partridges are said to be numerous in Montgomery county this year, and sportsmen are looking forward to first-shooting this fall. Rabbits are also said to be unusually plentiful.

Mrs. Thomas Drennen lost her barn and stable, near Elkton, by fire yesterday, with a quantity of grain, two fine horses and farming implements. The loss is $4000, partly insured.

W. T. Curry, of Westminster, killed a beef before several hundred spectators and dressed and quartered it in 9 minutes and 55 seconds. Curry claims the championship of Maryland as a beef dresser.

A pig owned by Tobey Petty, near town, was killed on Sunday by a bolt of lightning. The queer thing about it is that a pig lying beside the one that was killed escaped harm.—Milton Times.

Crops in Garrett county this year will be hard to excel in any part of the state. Some crops have been harvested showing large returns. The oat crop is one of the largest; average yield about 50 bushels to the acre.

Thomas C. B. Howard, of Dorchester county, has been re-elected by the Board of Public Works for a term of three years as commander of the state fishery force, and James A. Turner, of Wicomico county, as deputy commander.

The cable laid between Love and Sandy Points for the Diamond State Telephone Company is being overhauled, before being put into active service, by the tug Ada and a lighter furnished by the Chesapeake Towing and Light-erage Company.

The Kent and Cecil Light, Power and Railway Company was granted franchise by the Cecil County Commissioners to build and operate a trolley line over the Cecil county roads from the Delaware State line near Iron Hill to Chesapeake City and Fredericktown, on the Sassafras River, via Elkton.

Albert Mason, who with his brother Dolem, was sentenced some time ago to the penitentiary for the murder of Taylor Locke at Cambridge in a dispute over an umbrella, has been pardoned by the Governor, and returned to his home on Friday night.

The old building of the National Bank of Eastern, built 100 years ago, is to be given over to a new building, to accommodate the increased business of the bank. General Thomas, the venerable cashier of the institution, has moved his quarters from the dwelling above the old bank to his own home some distance away.

A serious drought in Worcester is causing considerable uneasiness to the farmers of that region. Corn, late potatoes and tomatoes have already suffered injury; the marshes on the bay shore are drying up, and the cattle are suffering for water. Even the tough wire grass is dying.

A walking delegate of the Ironworkers' Union has caused a cessation of work on the new Naval Academy by ordering the boss ironworker, a union man, to quit his job under threat of not being replaced by union men in order not to delay the work on the building.

Bowie F. Waters' chances for receiving the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Sixth district are said to be very promising. Montgomery (his own county), Washington and Frederick counties are conceded to be practically his, and Allegany has no candidate who could be relied upon to gain the plums.

Winfield Smoot, a farmer living near Charlotte Hall, St. Mary's county, committed suicide while alone in his home on Saturday. He had been recently under treatment in a Baltimore sanatorium for mental disorders. He was returned to his home a week or so ago, and while left alone blew his head off with a shot-gun.

Granville Brown (colored) is under arrest at Frederick for entering the home of Miss Mattie Shook on Sunday morning. The negro struck a match in Miss Shook's room, and was recognized by the awakened woman, who screamed and pursued the scared negro from the house. He was arrested while retiring a few moments later.

The fight for the Frostburg Loan-cession right of way between the Consolidation Coal Company and the Electric Railway Company waxes warm. After getting an injunction against the Railway Company, the Coal Company built a fence across the Railway Company's line, which the latter promptly tore down. This has now settled into the usual thing, and when one gets the fence up the other immediately tears it down.

A. J. Cottingham went to Washington County, Ark., to see his sister and while there was taken with dysentery and was very bad off. He decided to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was so much pleased with the prompt cure which it effected, that he wrote the manufacturer a letter in praise of their medicine. Mr. Cottingham resides at Lookland, Ark. This remedy is for sale by R. K. TRUITT & SON.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Uiter, a prominent physician of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better, in a few days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by R. K. TRUITT & SON.

Col. George R. Dennis, a prominent citizen of Frederick county, died at his home, Hampton, six miles south of Frederick City, on Saturday evening of general debility. Col. Dennis was a native of Beverly, Somerset county, this State, and was 78 years old. He was educated at Perth Amboy and Dickinson College, and served in the Union Army during the Civil War, after which he settled in Frederick county, where he held several public positions. He was twice married, two sisters and his second wife survive. He left also eight children, some of which live in Baltimore.

To My Friends.

"It is with joy that I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it."—Geo. W. Fry, Victoria, B. C.

Health and strength of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals.

Hagerstown rowdies on Friday evening pulled down a tent in the West End which Evangelist Yeake of Winchester was using for revival services. Cleveland Williams offered to give the names of the young men who were acting in a disorderly manner about the tent, and was chased by the rowdies and interference of the officers, the tent was torn down and a gothic nearly caused among the worshippers. A number of arrests will be made.

Just Look At Her.

Whence came that sprightly step, faultless skin, rich, rosy complexion, smiling face. She looks good, feels good. Here's her secret. She uses Dr. King's New Life Pills. Result.—all organs active, digestion good, no headache, no chance for "blues." Try them yourself. Only 25c at all druggists.

The Catholic Summer School at Emmitsburg has closed, after a successful season. The school is to be incorporated, with branches in Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk, Pittsburg, Richmond, Wheeling, Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Wilmington, and the lecturers and other entertainers will go around the circuit, giving the same programme in each town successively.

All Were Saved.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best cough medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all Druggists.

Hugh McKane and Frederick Jamison two young men of Cowantown, Cecil county, were injured while gunning by the premature discharge of a shotgun. McKane lost three fingers from his left hand, and the right hand and wrist of Jamison were nearly severed from the arm. The wounds are serious but not necessarily dangerous, barring blood-poisoning.

It Needs A Tonic.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave., Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take. Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress.

Daniel E. Murphy, a recently enlisted teamster in the United States Army, threw himself under the wheels of a locomotive at Woodstock Station, Howard county, and was instantly killed. He was on his way to Fort Howard, Baltimore, to join the company of coast artillery stationed there. The remains will be interred at the National Cemetery, on the Frederick road.

Shatters All Records.

Twice in hospital, F. A. Gullledge, Verbena, Ala., paid a vast sum to doctors to cure a severe case of piles, causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucken's Arnica Salve soon cured him. Subdues inflammation, conquers Aches kills Pain. Best salve in the world, 25c at all drug stores.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

His Sight Threatened.

"While picnicking last month my 11 year old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits.

There is a feud at Aberdeen between the town negroes and those employed on railroad improvements in the vicinity. Clarence Banks was shot and badly wounded from ambush recently, and Henry Henson is under arrest for the shooting. The railroaders threaten to wipe out the town negroes, and the authorities are taking steps to quell any demonstration.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a god-send to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Some rare old deeds are being brought to light at Kingwood by the lawyers in abstracting coal titles. One a few days ago was produced which was signed by Patrick Henry back about the time of the Revolutionary War was being fought, while there are a number of others which are signed by James Monroe, James Madison and the Randolphs of Virginia.

A Necessary Precaution.

Don't neglect a cold. It is worse than unpleasant. It is dangerous. By using One Minute Cough Cure you can cure it at once. Allays inflammation, clears the head, soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane. Cures coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Children like it.

At a public meeting in Rockville on Friday the Mayor and Council were authorized to borrow sufficient money to pay for installing a new pumping machine at the water-works, several prominent citizens agreeing to endorse the notes. The next Legislature will be asked for permission to issue bonds to pay the debt. Probably $4000 will be needed for the improvement.

Impure Drinking Water

is always a source of danger; dysentery and bowel troubles follow its use, every person should have handy a bottle of Painkiller (Perry Davis'), which will quickly cure these distressing ailments. Be careful and see that the storekeeper does not pawn off some worthless substitute upon you as is sometimes done for the sake of a few cents extra profit. Large bottles 25 and 50 cents.

Trustee's Sale OF VALUABLE FARM AND TIMBER LAND

in Parsons District, Wicomico county, Maryland.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, sitting in Equity, passed in the case of Mary F. Nichols, against Elijah E. Nichols and Jayne F. Nichols, being No. 1410 Chancery, I will offer at public auction in front of the Court House door in Salisbury, Maryland on at 2 o'clock P. M. the following real estate of which Elijah Emory Nichols, late of Wicomico County, Md. died, seized and possessed, all of which is situated in Parsons Election District, Wicomico County, Maryland, on the County road known as the Dagsborough road, about five miles Northeast of Salisbury, to wit:

1. The HOME FARM of the late Elijah Emory Nichols on the South side of and binding upon the said Dagsborough road, adjoining the property belonging to the estate of the late Col. Wm. J. Leonard on the East and the property of Philip Hearn on the West and the property of Ernest Brown and James Brown on the South, containing 121 2/3 ACRES, more or less, improved by a large two story dwelling and all necessary outbuildings and by orchards of apples, peaches, pears and other fruits and by timber and wood amply sufficient for the uses of the farm, including probably about 200,000 feet of growing pine timber. The land is in a fair state of cultivation and the property is well located; one of the public school houses of the District being located on said county road opposite this farm. This is the same property which was conveyed to the said Elijah E. Nichols by the administrators of Kitchie Fooks, deceased, by deed dated Aug. 11, 1889 and recorded among the Land Records of Wicomico County.

2. The "KING LOT" situated on the North side of and binding upon said Dagsborough Road, opposite the HOME FARM above described, bounded on the East by the old mill dam of the Parker Mill and on the Northwest by the property of Geo. W. Leonard, containing 4 88-100 ACRES. This is improved by a small dwelling. A part of this land is cleared land and in good state of cultivation, the balance well set in growing timber of pine, oak, gum, etc.

3. All that tract of TIMBER LAND situated on the North side of the said county road and adjoining the property lastly above mentioned on the West, the property of Jacob Nichols on the North (the North fork of the Mill Branch dividing this property from the property of the said Jacob Nichols.) The portion belonging to the estate of Elijah E. Nichols, now offered for sale, containing 54 1-2 ACRES well set in a large quantity of valuable timber, pine, oak, gum, etc.

A plat of each portion of the property above mentioned with the courses and distances in accordance with the survey just made by Peter S. Shockley, the County Surveyor, may be seen at any time at the office of the undersigned, or on the day of sale. The two lastly mentioned portions of property are a portion of the property which was conveyed to the said Elijah E. Nichols from Isaac N. Hearn and Alex. W. Parker by deed dated Feb. 23, 1881, and recorded among said Land Records.

TERMS OF SALE:

Ten per cent cash on day of sale; balance to be paid in two equal installments of one and two years from day of sale, with interest from day of sale, purchaser to give bond with approved security for the deferred payments, or all cash on day of sale at the option of the purchaser. Possession as to the timber land, to be given as soon as terms are complied with. As to the houses and the arable land, possession to be given the first of January, 1903. The crops for the present year are reserved. The taxes up to, and including 1902 are to be paid out of the purchase money.

JAY WILLIAMS,
Trustee.

NEWS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF WICOMICO SENT IN BY THE ADVERTISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

QUANTICO.

Mr. Wm. Gordy of this town and Miss Nettie Toadvine of Capitola were married on Monday by Rev. O. L. Martin. After their marriage which was quiet only immediate friends being present, Mr. and Mrs. Gordy drove to Quantico to the home of the groom's mother, where they will reside for the present. Mr. Gordy is engaged in the lumber business with Mr. Wm. Phillips. The people of this town with your correspondent extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gordy.

There will be preaching service in town next Sunday as follows: In the morning at 10.40 in the M. E. Church, in the evening at 8 o'clock in the M. P. and P. E. Churches.

Quite a number of our town's people attended the annual celebration at Old Green Hill P. E. Church on Wednesday. The occasion is a most enjoyable one and each year finds persons from many sections wending their way to the site of this ancient structure upon the banks of the Wicomico. The church is in Stepney Parish over which Rev. F. B. Adkins is rector. It was built in 1783 of brick purported to be brought from England and is of the old sharp roof style. The floor is also of brick and pews which are rectangular are provided with doors. Within are two pulpits and tradition relates that beneath the side-pulpit lies buried the father of Samuel Chase, one of the four from the colony of Maryland who bravely signed the Declaration of Independence. The father of Samuel was at the time of his death rector of the parish. Without the front wall and hanging between two stays is a small bell that has long since ceased to call people to prayer. The building is in a good state of preservation and is likely to be a Mecca for many years for hosts throughout this section.

The young men of this town are usually noted for being polite and courteous particularly with young ladies but it seems some few of them have recently "jumped the traces" and left the fair ones to shift for themselves. The case referred to occurred during a recent camp when during the grand promenade, which unfortunately seems to be a part of the programme at all camp meetings during these latter days, the young gentlemen feeling the pangs of hunger learned that some one had a few delicious bivalves for sale in the near vicinity, so while they could feast their eyes upon the young ladies and thereby satisfy the heart yet the stomach refused to be thus "bought off" so forgetting everything except that tired hungry feeling it is said they left the tramp around circle without the fair ones and proceeded alone to strengthen their bodies by means of the Nanticoke oyster. Let it be said that they soon returned and "paid up" for their abrupt departure and non excused absence by incessant talk during the balance of the evening.

Mr. E. Collier of Washington is visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Gale near town.

Miss Nina Venables of Salisbury who has been spending several days at the home of the Misses Bounds this town returned to her home Wednesday.

Mr. Earle Dashiell of Salisbury is spending his vacation with his mother in this town.

Miss Susie Gale is visiting Miss Carrie Huffington in Allen.

Rev. O. L. Martin and daughter, Miss Vaughn, are spending the week at Rehoboth Beach.

Mrs. E. telle Collier is ill this week.

COLUMBIA.

Services at Mt. Hermon on Sunday next as follows, Sunday School at 2 p. m. and preaching 8 p. m. by pastor.

Some of our young folks attended Zion colored camp last week. The colored camps generally draw large crowds in this community.

The cannery of J. S. Cooper & Co. started this week and will give employment to quite a number of people.

The dry weather still continues at this writing and the skyiness is forwarding our fodder crop sensibly. Early corn will be ripe next week, and some are taking off fodder this week.

Several of our young people are expecting to attend Laurel camp next Sunday.

Road overseer, Willey has been improving our roads recently but has failed to make any on our sand.

Mr. J. D. Beach has a very painful foot this week, is unable to walk except by aid of crutches.

Farm laborers are scarce this season and larger wages are being offered than ever before, in the history of this section. The many recently built factories take a great number of laborers. Surely this is an age of great prosperity.

The intestate land of John Cooper, deceased, containing 76 acres, fronting on the public road from Sharptown to Salisbury was sold here on Wednesday at public sale. John S. Cooper being the purchaser at $815.00. Jay Williams offered on the same day the lands of Thos. B. Taylor in Delaware, sale withdrawn.

SHARPTOWN

The Epworth League will have a grand rally and roll call on Sunday night in charge of Misses Minnie Bailey and Lizzie Owens. Special invitations have been given to the members and a full attendance is expected. Special music. The Sunday School under the superintendency of H. G. Eisey will be resumed on Sunday afternoon. These services have been dispensed for some time owing to the campmeeting.

One hundred and forty persons went on the M. P. Excursion from here on Wednesday to Ocean City. These were joined by about fifteen from Vienna and thirty from Mardela. They all report a good time and fine train accommodations and features all of which added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Miss Amy Ellis is visiting Rev. A. W. Mather's family at Franklin City, Va.

The base ball team here was defeated at Mardela on Saturday last, by a combination of Salisbury and Mardela teams.

About thirty persons went from here to Atlantic City on Tuesday. Cooper's Gasoline boat took them to Seaford, leaving here about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. Had a good time.

Crawford Wright, an employee of W. A. Knowles, while cleaning a packing machine in the cannery, let his foot slip from the treadle and the machine closed up and cut off the end of his fore finger.

Miss Bertie Eisey of Baltimore, who has been visiting relatives and friends here, left Thursday for Laurel.

Capt. C. E. Bennett and family are visiting his mother and sisters here. The Captain is a jolly fellow and is always accorded a welcome here.

The B., C. & A. Ry. Co. have sent an extra steamboat on the Nanticoke this week to remove the heavy shipments of tomatoes.

W. H. Knowles has all the tomatoes he can use and is running on extra time and will not likely get up this week. He will have to carry some of this week's delivery over to next week.

Accident To Mr. T. B. Hitchens.

Mr. T. Burton Hitchens sustained a very serious and painful injury last Wednesday.

He had chartered his gasoline launch for the day to Messrs. V. Perry, Thos. Perry and Wm. M. Cooper who were taking their families down the river to Old Green Hill Church. The party boarded the launch at the Pivot bridge at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, and Mr. Hitchens, who expected to go as a passenger, attempted to start the machinery. In so doing his right forearm was caught between the engine wheel and a board partition with the result that the bones of the arm were broken between the wrist and elbow, the large bone torn from the wrist-socket and driven through the skin, leaving two inches of it protruding and exposed.

The launch was hastily brought to the wharf and the injured man conveyed to the hospital near by. Dr. Dick reduced the fractures and dressed the wound. Later Mr. Hitchens was able to be taken home. It is hoped the arm and hand may be saved, though Mr. Hitchens will experience many painful weeks before the injured member can be restored to its proper functions.

Mr. Hitchens showed remarkable endurance. Immediately after the painful accident he turned and with the other hand stopped the engine. After the party was assured of the comfort of the injured man the trip was resumed. Mr. James Hastings taking Mr. Hitchens place and Captain Adams acted as pilot.

A BANK AT SHARPTOWN.

The Eastern Shore Trust Company of Cambridge is the Sponsor.

Our correspondent at Sharptown writes that for more than a year capitalists, speculators and promoters have watched the commercial development of Sharptown, with much interest, realizing that the volume of business would soon assure the success of a banking institution. Many prospective trips and inquiries have been made of late, from nearby places, but nothing was actually and practically done until Tuesday of this week, when Thomas Drennen and Joseph Sauerhoff of Cambridge, representing the Eastern Shore Trust Co., went to the town with such an attractive proposition that the people at once accepted it and the following business men of Sharptown took stock: A. W. Robinson, James Robinson, J. W. Covington, S. J. Cooper, B. P. Gravener, W. D. Gravener.

The business of the concern will be managed by a board of local directors, chosen from the above stock holders.

The stockholders at Sharptown will participate in the general profits of the company, and consequently bought the stock at par value plus the surplus which was $115.00 per value being $100, and surplus $15. The commercial value was reported to be $125.00.

The organization will be completed next week and books opened for business and in active operation on or before September 10th.

While the company only got at an impromptu meeting on Tuesday six of the business men of town, it is confidently expected to include many others before an organization is completed.

There are the following business enterprises of the town, all of which appear to be in a prosperous condition: A. W. Robinson & Co., basket factory, Marine Railway, Fender and Planing Mill combined, Canning Factory, Shirt Factory and fifteen mercantile establishments and other minor industries and others in prospect.

George W. Woodford and John G. Mills, two of the prominent business men of Cambridge are president and secretary respectively, of the Eastern Shore Trust Co. The institution has a capital stock of $67,700.00 with a surplus equal to ten per cent of the capital stock. At the close of business Friday, July 25th, there was on deposit $175,185.46. Its loans and discounts were $218,879.07.

Last Moonlight to Ocean City This Season.

The Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company will run their last moonlight from all points on the road to Ocean City this season on Wednesday, September 10th. About 50 per cent reduction in fare. See Posters.
