Deafness Cannot Be Cured.
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CIBENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

TORTURED BY ITCHING SCALP
 Eczema Broke Out Also on Hands and Limbs—Suffering Intense—Doctors Said Too Old to Be Cured—An Old Soldier of 80 Years Declares:
"CUTICURA TREATMENT IS A BLESSING"

"At all times and to all people I am willing to testify to the merits of Cuticura. It saved me from worse than the tortures of hades, about the year 1900, with itching on my scalp and temples, and afterwards it commenced to break out on my hands. Then it broke out on my limbs. I was advised to use salt and water, which I did, to no effect. I then went to a Surgeon, who commenced treating me with a wash of borax. This treatment did me no good, but rather aggravated the disease, then told him I would go and see a physician in Erie. The reply was that I could go anywhere, but a case of eczema like mine could not be cured; that I was too old (80). I went to an eminent doctor in the city of Erie and treated with him for six months, with like results. I had read of the Cuticura Remedies often. I was strongly tempted to give them a trial, so I sent for the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent and continued taking the Resolvent until I had taken six bottles, stopping it to take the Pills. I was now getting better. I took two baths a day, and at night I let the lather of the Soap dry on. I used the Ointment with great effect after washing in warm water, to stop the itching at once. I am now cured.

"The Cuticura treatment is a blessing and should be used by every one who has itching of the skin. I can say any more, and thank God that He has given the world such a curative. You can use this letter as you please. A very much benefited man, Wm. H. Gray, 2303 Mt. Vernon St., Philadelphia, Pa. August 2, 1905."

 The Youth's Companion announces among the attraction of its 23 issues in 1907

TWO HUNDRED practical papers, serviceable to young people who have their way to make in the world, helpful in their insistence on worthy ideals in every relation of life, useful in the home—particularly the regular series, "Till the Doctor Comes."

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY
 capital stories—humorous stories, character stories, stories of life on the farm, in the great cities, on the sea, in the wilderness. Among them will be Five Serial Stories by five Companion favorites: Hamlin Garland, Adeline Knapp, Ralph Barbour, Grace Richmond and Holman F. Day. There will be a series, also based upon incidents in American history, illustrative of life and times in America from the first colonial planting to the close of the Civil War.

ONE THOUSAND
 short notes giving concisely, clearly and accurately the important news of the times in public affairs, and in the fields of science and industry.

THREE HUNDRED
 contributors giving assurance that every need and every taste among Companion readers will be satisfied. Governor Folk, of Missouri, Edward Everett Hale, Margaret Deland, Col. T. W. Higginson, Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army, Gen. A. W. Greely and Ion Perdicaris are among them.

TWO THOUSAND
 one minute stories, anecdotes, bits of humor—sketches which take not more than a minute to read. They are always new, always well told, and in great quest by preachers and after dinner speakers.

Announcement of the news volume will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address on request. The new subscriber for 1907 who sends $1.75 for the new volume at once will receive free all the remaining issues for 1906, including the Double Holiday Numbers; also The Companion's Four Leaf Hangers Calendar for 1907, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

Subscribers who get new subscriptions will receive $16,200.00 in cash and many other special awards. Send for information.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION,
 144 Berkeley Street, Boston, Mass.

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who uses them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

It has cost Dr. Pierce $25,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for. This book of 1008 pages is sent free on receipt of 21 one cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Chester Curry
 Mrs. Chester Curry, Leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, 43 Stoughton Street, East Boston, Mass. writes:
 Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
 For eight years I was troubled with extreme nervousness and hysteria, brought on by irregularities. I could neither sleep nor sleep nights; I was very irritable, and dependent.
 "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound" was recommended and proved to be the remedy that helped me. I have gained weight, and all nervousness has disappeared. I am now strong and well, and all nervousness has disappeared.
 Mrs. Charles F. Brown, Vice-President of the Mothers' Club, 32 Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:
 Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
 I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and nervousness, until it seemed as though I should die. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I decided to try it. I did not end at the end of three months I was a different woman. My nervousness was all gone, and I was no longer irritable, and my husband and I love with me all over again.
 Women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest number of actual cures of female ills, and take no substitute.
 If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.
 Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women can testify to this fact.

TRAITS OF ZULU WOMEN

With Taunts Inspire the Nervy Men to Fight.

WASHING THE ASSEGAIS.

When a White Man is Attacked He Stands Poor Chance of Escape. Great Methods Practiced in Fight. How the Warrior Saved His Children From Death.

Although the native has a high contempt for his women he is very susceptible to the ridicule of the females among the tribe, particularly if it is excited on account of his unwillingness to fight when the women think he should. If there is ever any trouble among the Kafirs you may be sure that the women are at the bottom of it. It is not so much the married women as the intemperate—the girls of marriageable age without husbands—who inflame the young men's ardor.

When Inspector Hunt was murdered the women turned out of the kraal before the men and taunted the males in the huts by chanting a song with a refrain which means "The coward shall not look upon the comely maiden." Hunt stood there ordering the women back to their huts, for he knew what it meant, but, in the words of one of his troopers, "The men wouldn't stand it and they picked up the assegais and came at us like fun."

The phrase "washing the assegais" is often used by Zulus when they talk of war. In an encounter with a number of the enemy it is not only the man who kills his adversary who "washes" his weapon, but also the natives who follow him in the rush for as he passes each warrior takes the first opportunity of staining his blade with blood by plunging it into the body of the prostrate foe. The native superstition is that it should follow the ordinary course of dissolution intact, he himself will swell and burst, and the Kafirs also believe that if they do not perform the vicarious killing which has been described their right hands and arms will wither away.

This Natal country is extremely broken and mountainous, and the natives, instead of living in kraal-inhabited natural caves in rocky precipices which overlook as wild a landscape as Gustave Dore and S. H. S. could probably imagine between them. In order to reach the vulnerable points of this fastness the colonial soldiers had to toil under cover of the darkness to the base of the cliff in which most of the rebels were secreted, and opened action at daybreak by shelling several large caves known to contain the enemy.

It was evident that the shrines did a good deal of execution, for the natives could be seen running out in scores bearing their wounded in their arms, while those who were still unhurt commenced casting great boulders over the ledges which our men were striving to gain by climbing, and they would have very likely preserved their safety by this means had not a venturesome lieutenant with a handful of volunteers made his way to a narrow platform overlooking the rebels' main retreat and with his men's rifles cleared the ledges of all who showed themselves.

One native alone remained by the pile of stones which formed the rebels' rude armory, but he made no movement and the little knot of volunteers on the platform above thought he was dead. The shower of flying projectiles had ceased, and our men recommended the climb. Suddenly the motionless rebel leaped up and suddenly running to a cavity a little distance further on in the rock face disappeared, emerging a moment later with two small figures clinging about his neck.

He waited not a second, but, holding an assegai between his teeth, commenced to clamber hand over fist up the nearly vertical side of a cliff toward a recess 50 feet overhead that would afford him a safe refuge could he gain it. The man was wounded, and badly, for a stream of blood flowed down his broad back, trickling from his heels as he stepped from one projection to another.

He had won three-quarters of the way to his goal when he showed signs of weakness. He remained clinging to a little tuft of bush with one hand while with the other he released the clutching arms around his neck, and holding one of the infants out at arm's length sustained it in the air until it gained a foothold on a small spur which he was just able to reach. Doing the same with the other, the devoted father painfully made his way to the side of his offspring and there laid himself gasping, his assegai ready for his defense and theirs.

The women's pages in the newspapers are forever describing the sort of woman a man likes best. She is always bright, pretty, has perfect teeth, a perpetual smile, small hands and feet, is never tired, never has a headache, her waist is small and her ways agreeable. Still, all of us know men who are led to the altar and bedded forever after by women who go to bed with headaches or some other kind of aches, women who do not smile unless they feel like it, and who, if they are agreeable, are so careful not to show it that most of us say: "What did he ever see in her?"

The more a man has to do in the more he has to enjoy.

A Jamaica Lady Speaks of her husband's health.

FLOWERS FROM SHAVINGS.

New Material Used in Making Artificial Blossoms.

It is said that the artificial flower trade, in which thousands of persons of both sexes are engaged, is on the point of being revolutionized. Hitherto the petals have been made of muslin, silk, satin, and even of velvet, colored after Nature and most successfully manipulated into most successfully manipulated into

A substance has been discovered for flower-making, that puts the most delicate textile materials ever manufactured completely in the shade and will probably take their place and reign supreme for its particular purpose.

This substance consists of the thinnest of thin shavings from the inner pith of an Oriental palm that grows in Fuzhou, and can be compared to nothing so well as the almost transparent petals of a white poppy or a delicate tea rose. A tiny petal is robust in comparison with this marvellous substance, which has all the sheen and translucence and even the slightly-tinted appearance seen in some white flowers.

It can be tinted far better than silk or muslin and is practically indestructible. In wet weather it gives and falls a little limp, just as real flowers do, but when the sun comes out it crisps, reasserts itself and takes on a new lease of life and beauty.

So admirably adapted are roses and carnations made of this substance for the purpose of interior decoration that when fairly on the market they will very likely make a considerable difference to the florists as the fadeless flowers never really droop, and will do duty over and over again.

English Salad Dressing. Every cook has her own particular way of making salad dressing. Here is one that is easy to make, good to the taste and applicable to almost any salad. It has the additional merit that it may be kept weeks in summer and months in winter.

Blend one level dessertspoonful of cornstarch in one-half cup of sweet milk. Cook slowly, until it thickens, and if you always stir the one way it will not lump. While still on the fire, add butter, the size of an egg, stirring until perfectly smooth—this is the secret of success. If the dressing is allowed to cool before the butter is added, it will be lumpy and melting the butter beforehand does not give so perfect a blend.

Remove from the fire, add prepared mustard, one or two teaspoonfuls according to the family taste. Next add the yolk of an egg, stirring until thoroughly mixed; then very slowly one-quarter cup of vinegar as a dessertspoonful of sugar. After these ingredients are incorporated, add the beaten white of an egg. Set on the fire and bring to the boiling point, then bottle and seal. It will be of the proper consistency for meats, but for vegetables it may require some thinning with milk or cream.

FASHION'S MANDATE. Skirts of indoor gowns sweep the floor and walking dresses are short.

The new skirts must fit well and hang gracefully. The skirts of the new cloth dress are enormously wide and generally becoming.

For evening plain colors are made up of fancy figured foundations. Fancy braids appear on most the new models.

One color scheme for hats, gloves, gowns and purses pursues the even tenor of its way. Black and white combinations continue to appear in wide variety.

Silk drops are fitted like the gown, gaining fullness through circular bounces at the knee. More fullness is shown on the back of the skirts, but the hips must still be plain.

Fish and Nutrition. When you are selecting a fish that will be easily digested and nutritious as well, remember they rank as follows:

Salmon is the most valuable in nutritive qualities. The next in value are fat halibut, and whitefish, mackerel (fresh), bluefish, bass, flounder, trout, cod, haddock and cusk. The white varieties are more readily digested. The red-blooded fish are nutritious for those who can digest them, but are too rich and oily for invalids.

Glasses for old age are adopted on the average at forty-three. The average cat mother blossoms the world with 100 kittens. The yearly sale of newspapers throughout the world averages 750,000 tons.

The world's gold mines yield on an average $500,000, or 28,000 ounces of gold a year.

A Good Washing Fluid. To one gallon of soft soap take four ounces of sal soda, and one-half gallon of rain or softened water, and one and a half pints of turpentine. Place them all in a pot over the fire and allow the mixture to boil a few minutes. It is then ready for use. It can be kept in an earthen stoneware vessel.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail.

Each bottle is accompanied by a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give.

BY F. E. DAVISON, ROCKLAND, VT. THE WORLD WE LIVE IN.

Jan. 6, '04.—(Gen. 1:1-25.)

This is a wonderful world in which to live. For six thousand years its inhabitants have been ransacking it from cellar to roof, and every generation has discovered some new adaptation of it, and stood amazed at its vastness, its variety, and its perfect equipment for the home of man.

Look at its carpets—green grass, interwoven with figures of flowers. Behold its ceiling, frescoed with constellations of stars, its foundations the rainbow colors of the autumn foliage, or the bursting buds and apple blossoms and green leaves of the spring.

Now, how did all this wonderful home of man come about? Who is responsible for its architectural beauty? Who reared the pillars of the universe, and sent this planetary ball spinning down the grooves of time with such well-ordered machinery that it has never jumped the track?

There are theories enough. Plenty of big men and little men, have taken pad and pencil and figured out a speculation, more or less plausible and acceptable to those who deny the supernatural. They talk learnedly about "star dust" and centripetal motion, and "hypotheses," and when they have enveloped "existence" in an Egyptian "darkness of ignorance," they declare that the mystery is inscrutable.

Napoleon Bonaparte, pacing the deck of a ship overboard some of his skeptical officers scouting the idea of a God, and suddenly pausing in his walk pointed to the midnight heavens, all asparkle with light, and said, "Gentlemen, who made all that?"

"A fire mist and a planet; A crystal and a cell, A jelly fish and a surlin, And caves, where cave men dwell, Then a sense of law and beauty, And a face turned from the cloud— Some call it evolution, And others call it God.

"A haze in the far horizon, The infinite tender sky, The ripe, rich tint of the corn fields, And the wild geese sailing high, And all over uplands and lowlands, The charm of the golden rod— Some of us call it autumn, And others call it God.

"Like tides on a crescent sea beach, When the moon is new and thin, Into our hearts high yearning, Comes welling and surging in, Comes from the mystic ocean, Whose rim no foot has trod— Some of us call it longing, And others call it God.

How To Prevent Bilious Attacks. One who is subject to bilious attacks will notice that for a day or more before the attack on in the morning as usual times, and feel an unusual pain.

Enlightenment of Polle.

By Elizabeth L. Weston. "I am very much perplexed," remarked Polle, plaintively. "What do girls do in books when their guardians get married?"

"They get married themselves," answered Richard, ungrammatically. "You could do that. You might marry me. I am the oldest friend you have around here."

"You forget Cesar," corrected Polle, patting the shaggy head of the bear. "Well, he's a dog," protested Richard, thinking what a pretty picture she made.

"Well, you're a goose," retorted Polle, irrelevantly. "Don't be silly, Richard. I don't want to marry you or anyone else. I said I was perplexed. Why do you suppose Luther wants to get married, anyway?"

"I don't want to," protested Richard. "You'll be awfully in the way if you stay," continued Polle impatiently. "you'd better go."

"Richard goes early tonight," remarked Mr. Howard, smiling at Polle. "I'm afraid you haven't been kind to him."

"Luther Howard," she began, "I am going to ask you some questions." "Mercy!" ejaculated the gentleman. "There'll be no mercy for you!" said Polle firmly. "Luther, are you going to be married?"

"I hope so, sometime," he returned seriously. Polle pulled her head out of his and sat up. "I wonder what is going to become of me," she said wistfully. "Why, my dear little girl," he answered paternally, "of course it will make no difference whatever, as far as you are concerned. You will always have a home with me."

"I don't want a home with you," Polle said petulantly and with rising tears. "Don't want a home with me!" gasped the astonished Mr. Howard. "Polle," said Mr. Howard soberly. "I suppose you feel toward me just as you might toward an own father."

"Yes," sobbed Polle. "That is, I did until Richard told me he heard you were going to be married. I won't have you for a father, if you do."

Love is Blind.

Mrs. Newed—And do you really and truly love me, George?

News—Of course I do, my dear Mrs. News—But some people are saying that you married me just because my uncle left me a fortune.

News—Now don't let that worry you, dear, for there isn't a word of truth in it. I'd have married you just the same, even if my some other relative had left you the money—Chicago News.

How It Balanced. Mrs. Ada Dean, the woman jockey of Grafton, Mass., said the other day of snobishness: "The greatest preventive of snobishness is charity, unselfishness, sympathy."

Her Mistake. A young man had been calling now and then on a young lady, and one night, as he sat in the parlor waiting for her to come down, her mother entered the room instead, and asked him to a very brave, stern way what his intentions were.

Do You Want to Know What You Swallow? There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicine of known composition. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of the food he is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicine, Dr. E. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of the ingredients entering into his healing medicine, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator, also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. Do not take the "pill habit," but use occasionally one or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

John B. Taylor, et al versus Elisha S. Taylor, et al.

In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity No. 1638, November Term, to wit November 30, 1906.

Ordered that the sale of the property mentioned in these proceedings, made and reported by Alwood Bennett, Trustee, be Ratified and Confirmed, unless cause to the contrary be shown on or before the 31st day of December, next. Provided, a copy of this Order be inserted in some newspaper printed in Wicomico County, once in each of three consecutive weeks before the 30th day of December, next. The Report states the amount of sales to be $2700.00.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy And Ambition Slipping Away.

Salisbury women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Back-ache, hip pain, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing troubles, all fall of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders.

Mrs. O. F. Powell, proprietor of a boarding house on Main Street, near Hall, Atkinson & Co.'s drug store, Crisfield, Md., says:—"It is about ten years since I first felt symptoms of kidney complaint. I had terrible distressing backache, so bad at times that I could hardly turn over or move in bed. No position I assumed was comfortable and in the morning when I arose my back was lame and sore. Not only did I suffer from kidney trouble but I had terrible dizzy spells and severe headaches which I presume were due to the same cause. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. I never used a remedy that acted so quickly and gave immediate relief. I not only speak from my own experience but from that of other members of my family who have used them with equally good results. It is with pleasure, therefore that I recommend this remedy."

Plenty more proof like this from Salisbury people. Call at White & Leonard's drug store and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doans and take no other.

Life's Rugged Stream.

Down the stream of life we're going, Each within his stormiest bark. Up against the tide we're rowing And the windstorms fierce and dark.

Close beside us is our brother, Tossing struggling for the goal. Let us cheer and aid each other In the struggle of the soul.

Force and lovel the pillow breaketh. Hidden rocks on every side. Hope and love our souls awaketh. As we stern the rolling tide.

All around us men are falling. Yet a word of cheer would give— Courage, by a brother calling:— "Bury your oar! take heart—and live."

Thus a cheering word outspoken— To a weary drooping soul— Bids with cords of love unbroken— Is more precious far than gold.

"Comfort ye" thus said the Master, "Feed my sheep" and lambskins too, Save the striving from disaster, Thus He gave His life for you.

Love, redemption and salvation, Perfect peace, good will to men, These the source of man's elation And his triumph over sin.

Then with zeal let us be doing— His commands, to cheer and save, Never faltering, yet pursuing, As we journey o'er life's wave.

—J. B. Welch, Milton, Del.

A Word To Women.

Any sick woman is invited to consult by letter with Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. In an active practice of more than thirty years, assisted by a staff of nearly a score of associate physicians Dr. Pierce has treated, and cured over half a million women. All diseases peculiar to women are treated with success. This consultation by letter is absolutely free. Every letter is treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Answers are mailed promptly giving the best of medical advice. All answers are sent in plain envelopes bearing on them no printing of any kind. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

—New York—Men who have braved the cold of the farthest North shiver under the biting Christmas winds of New York harbor when the Peary Arctic ship Roosevelt arrived in the bay.

"Latitude 87.6 was never like this," said E. G. Marvin, the chief scientist of the expedition that had plucked the American flag within a few hundred miles of the North Pole, and who was second in command to Robert E. Peary himself.

Mr. Marvin's assurance that New York is colder than the polar regions was confirmed by other members of the party.

Captain Bartlett, of the Roosevelt, shivered and his teeth chattered as he stood on the deck. "It is mighty cold," said he. "Finding the pole is a cinch to this. I live in Newfoundland, and we have some weather up here, but this is the worst I have experienced in two years."

Captain Bartlett explained this while the thermometer registered so low in the Arctic regions that the mercury ran out at the bottom, the moisture was all frozen out of the atmosphere, and a man could freeze to death without feeling much discomfort.

"Here," he said, "the wet gets into your pores and freezes there, so that a chap's skin is full of little icicles. The Arctic for mine."

—The man who makes money in a community has a duty to perform to that community. It may be that he has made his money by his superior business ability, and that he would have done as well anywhere. That does not alter the case. If his gifts are great his responsibility is equally as great. No man was placed on earth for the sole purpose of making money, and the man who has this for his ideal had better never have been born. It is not an act of charity, but the performance of a simple duty for the man who has made money to pass a little of it on for the benefit of the community even though he never expects to see a dollar of his own contribution back.

TO BUILD NURSES' HOME.

Plans Accepted By Committee And Work Will Begin At Once. Will Make Much More Room For Patients.

The board of directors of the Peninsula General Hospital decided today to erect the home for the nurses adjoining the hospital. The building plans have been decided upon. Architect Thomas H. Mitchell has gotten out a set of plans which accord with the views of the directors. The building will be erected on the west side and near the hospital, and will be so arranged for the nursing staff to be always in close touch with the main building. The new building will be of brick and will be a roomy, convenient structure, erected with a view of accommodating a sufficient number of nurses to provide for the demands of many years to come. It is intended to provide accommodations for at least 10 or 12 graduate and pupil nurses, with dining room, library and all the necessary rooms and comforts. The nurses' quarters at present are on the third floor of the hospital and these rooms are badly needed for patients. It is estimated that such a building will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. The committee having the matter in charge are Messrs. W. P. Jackson, W. E. Miller, William E. Sheppard and M. V. Brewington.

BIVALVE.

The following resolutions touching the death of John H. Robertson were passed by Wicomico Lodge No. 81 K. of P. of recent date.

Whereas, our Brother and Fellow Knight John H. Robertson has raised his visors and passed to that home where no traveler can return, but we trust he is happy in that blissful abode.

Resolved that we, his Brother Knights mourn his final departure from our ranks and that we may be ever faithful to our trust, so that we may join him in that happy home where we will never say good bye.

Resolved that in our earthly experience while engaged with him in our Lodge room and in the world at large found him to be brave in battling for the right, and an honest man which is the noblest work of God, and be it further.

Resolved that while we feel with those of his loved ones we weep with them that the Lord has called him to a higher and nobler duty than he could have performed here.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and published in the local papers and a copy read in the Lodge room.

Committee.

F. A. Willing,
L. J. Walter.

A Unique Newspaper.

No American who has visited Continental Europe has failed to see and welcome the European Edition of the New York Herald. It is the first and generally the only newspaper printed in English that greets his vessel when reaching port. At leading hotels from Calais to Cairo, at the great railroad stations, at any point where tourists gather in numbers, the pleasantly familiar face of this paper is sure to be seen and in almost every case it offers the only printed news word in English that can be had.

The New York Herald is the greatest newspaper in the world—greatest in enterprise, greatest in business, the European Edition is equally a leader in its field. No other newspaper anywhere is read by so large a percentage of people of wealth and social and political and business prominence. It is taken in every court in Europe. It is on the table of every diplomat of significance. It gets to the hands of every man or woman who out any considerable figure in the movements that sway empires or affect industries.

No one who has travelled abroad can fully appreciate the thrill of pleasure that comes from a meeting with such a newspaper. The news of the world and particularly the news of America. It is like a visit from a friend. It sits with the tourist at table, a welcome guest. It reaches him when he has money to spend, and when he is glad of a hint as to how to spend it wisely.

The publication office of the European Edition of the New York Herald is in Paris, 49 Avenue de l'Opera. Visiting Americans are invited to register their names there. All names so registered are printed in the columns of the European Edition of The Herald and cabled for simultaneous publication in the New York Herald. Names of tourists registered at the Herald office in Paris are also transmitted to their home paper.

No wonder that Americans abroad look upon the office of The Herald in Paris, as a headquarters and regard the paper itself as highly.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All cases from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Make the acquaintance of this medicine and you will have a sure and safe remedy for the grip.

SALISBURY HARDWARE CO.

Semi-Annual Meeting of This Prosperous Enterprise. Reports Show A Growing Condition of Business.

The semi-annual meeting of the stock-holders of the Salisbury Hardware Company was held last Tuesday at the offices of the company. The reports of the secretary and treasurer show a prosperous condition of the business generally and altogether exceeded the expectations of the directors.

The accounts have been kept in an entirely satisfactory manner and the outlook is encouraging to the shareholders. While no dividend was declared, the books show that this company has made money.

At this meeting no officers were elected, they having been elected at the last meeting which was held last June for a term of one year. They are: President, E. S. Adkins; Vice President, E. Dale Adkins; Secretary, Fred P. Adkins; Treasurer, John W. Humphreys and General Manager, Thomas M. Livingston.

A NEW CORPORATION.

The incorporators are Charles E. Bozman, Edward D. Bozman, Samuel A. Parker, William S. Phillips, and E. Wilmer Truitt, and the gentlemen will constitute the Board of Directors for the first year. This Company is chartered to deal in buying, selling, packing and dealing in tomatoes, beans, corn and all kinds of fruit and canned goods. They may also buy and sell standing timber and manufacture same.

The office of the company will be in Salisbury and the first regular meeting will be held Monday evening, January 14th at the office of Attorney Samuel B. Douglass, at which time the officers will be elected.

FARMERS INVITED

To Attend Annual Institute, Which Will Be Held Shortly in Salisbury.

PROGRAM.

Salisbury, Wicomico County, Monday and Tuesday, January 28 and 29, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. In The Court-house.

FIRST DAY.

Receiving and arranging Boys' Corn Exhibit.

(Corn Exhibit will be made only at the two day Institute.)

The Farm as a Factory.

Question Box.

Soil Improvement and Forage Crops.

Management of Orchards.

Announcement of College Prize to Boys' Corn Exhibit.

Women are welcome at all sessions.

Fifteen minutes of each session of all Institutes will be devoted to The Agricultural College and its Department.

SECOND DAY.

How to Prevent Disease in Country Homes.

Practical Plant Feeding.

Question Box.

Substitutes for Bran.

Market Gardening.

Discussion by Local Men.

One of the special features this season will be the corn judging contest by boys over 15 and under 21, the successful exhibitor to be awarded a prize offered by the trustees of the Maryland Agricultural College, which is a two weeks' course at that institution, board, lodging and tuition free, to one boy from each county, who has exhibited and received the award, as outlined in the bulletin which we will forward you under separate cover, containing rules and explanation of points in corn judging, which you will find on Page 16. Preparations were made for this work at our last meetings when lectures were given by Mr. Llewellyn at the first session of each Institute on judging and selecting corn, to the boys, and followed by a week's course at the Summer School by Prof. Talaferro and others. An assistant will accompany us—Mr. E. I. Oswald, a former student of the Maryland Agricultural College, who will receive, arrange and judge the corn brought to the Institute for exhibition. He has been thoroughly trained for this work in his course at the Institution.

Another feature of the program this season, will be to devote 15 minutes of each session to the instruction given ## on at the Maryland Agricultural College and its departments and it is earnestly requested that questions be asked and a thorough understanding arrived at by all interested in this important work. As best, the Institutes can only meet a partial want, while the College and Station work will go on forever.

Our meeting will be at Salisbury, January 28th and 29th, with Mr. V. S. Gordy, Salisbury, acting as our local correspondent.

Patrons should come prepared with questions and ready to enter into a discussion of subjects presented by the speakers. Every farmer should, by this time, realize that at these meetings he has met some of the best Institute workers the country has, and that to absent himself but for a short time, is at his personal loss.

DOINGS AT THE RINK.

Maskerade Carnival To Be Held Next Monday. Prizes Will Be Awarded.

Manager Showell, of the Auditorium Hall has arranged for a maskerade carnival at the rink on Monday night, January 14th. Four prizes will be given to the maskeraders as follows: best costume for men and handsome female costume; and the most comically dressed man and the most comically costumed lady.

Much interest is being manifested by the skaters and a pleasant evening is assured all who attend.

Those wishing to make are requested to leave their name at the rink not later than Monday noon in order that skates may be reserved for them.

A pig catching contest has been arranged for the evening of January 21st, an event which promises to be decidedly amusing. A greased porker, weighing 100 pounds will be turned loose on the floor and a handsome prize will be awarded by the management to the person who is successful in capturing "his hamlet."

SENATOR TILLMAN OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Speaks in Salisbury. A Large Audience Gives A Warm Welcome To The Distinguished Southerner And Hears Him Discuss Racial Questions.

Salisbury, Md., Jan. 4.—In a characteristic speech Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, made another attack on the negro this evening in the opera house in Salisbury. There was not a negro in the large audience of more than 900 persons, and from the applause which greeted the hot language of the speaker it seemed that the audience was in sympathy with the Senator.

The Senator compared the negro to the baboon. He called him "the missing link" and finally declared he saw serious trouble and bloodshed ahead in the South as a result of the negro question, which, he declared, was the most important thing confronting the American people.

As Senator from South Carolina he declared no negro was as good as a white man in his State and that every white man in South Carolina believed he was just as good as anyone who walked in shoe leather.

The constant outrages upon white women in the South, he declared, would ultimately terminate with an immense amount of bloodshed. He said it was not the desire of the whites to do anything of the kind, but that the whites did not intend to allow the negroes to butcher them.

When he touched upon the point of equality the Senator became most earnest. He declared that if he could look back into the past to study conditions he certainly could not look ahead, and then he pictured what might happen in a case of equality. This he called monroism. He declared the people would become a ringer cake color in the course of years. He concluded by saying that "we want the world to know that South Carolina will not be mongrelized so long as there is such a thing as the State of South Carolina."

The lecture was given for the benefit of the Eastern Shore College which is conducted by Mr. M. T. Skinner. There were several other speakers on the program, but naturally Senator Tillman was the feature of the card. When he reached the Peninsula Hotel he found its corridors filled with people who had come from all over the Eastern Shore to listen to him. All expected to hear him talk about the negro. From the offstart Mr. Tillman found his way into the ears of the audience and he held them spellbound during the hour and a half he spoke.

Mayor Charles E. Harper of Salisbury, introduced the Senator and called him an orator of national repute who was well known for his straightforward method of telling what he thought about things.

The Senator's Three Subjects.

Senator Tillman arose and smiled as he walked down the stage. He declared he had a cold, a headache and was feeling out of it, but that at his best he never laid claim to being an orator. His one ambition, he said, was to tell the people the truth and not to be misunderstood. And then he laughed as he added that no one could possibly misunderstand what he meant. "I usually talk on one of three topics," he began, "and I discussed with Mr. Skinner as to which I should select. First, there is the liquor question and the State control; then there is the general ownership of American politics, but as it is thought that I should not talk on politics, I'll address you on what I think is the most important, most serious and greatest of all questions now confronting the American people. It is the race question."

Immediately there was a howl of approval and after the applause had subsided, Mr. Tillman continued. "This question cannot be ignored and I may be able to give you some facts that will enable you to understand more about the matter than you do now. I realize, however, that I am south of the Mason-Dixon line and that the audience is composed of people who feel about the same as I do about this matter. Why, I read in one of the Washington papers as I was coming down here that the whites in Cuba were discussing the proposed plan of the President for a general election in Cuba. The whites, it was said, feared the blacks would gain control of the Island and that property and other things of even more importance would be in danger. A few weeks ago it was the Japanese question, and now it has gone to the courts to decide whether or not California has the right to manage its own schools or whether the treaty with Japan overruled that right. The race question will soon bloom up and be the most burning in the country, for it cannot go much longer. The people will be compelled to consider and determine what to do, for the conditions will become so outrageous.

Interpreting The Constitution. "Well, when the white man went to the registration office and said he could not read, the white men inside—for there were no negroes there—picked out an easy clause in the Constitution, such as 'Mary had a little lamb,' or something of that sort, and asked him what his interpretation of that clause was. Of course, it was easy for the white man. But when the negro came up he was asked about one of those hard clauses that even lawyers would find questions for debate. Then the negro was told the registration official was sorry but he could not register him and the negro went on his way rejoicing.

"Of course I did not see this or do it myself, for I was not a registration officer, but I have a shrewd suspicion about the matter.

"The negro is learning to read and write rapidly, however, and it will only be a matter of 20 or 30 years when the blacks will once more be in the majority. Then the people of Mississippi and South Carolina will have to take away their estates.

"I have spoken of these things to Northern people and had from the most generous, unprejudiced people possible when they learn conditions. I have mingled with them and recently was in Ohio, in the city of Marion. There are few negroes there, and the race question did not even touch them. I saw a man there who said that if they would take a million dollars and a negro, they would take the

ANNUAL CONVOGATION.

Meeting In The Interest Of The Episcopal Church By The Doctors Of Eastern Diocese.

The annual convocation of Eastern Diocese was held in the office of St. Peter's parish, this city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. An excellent program was arranged by the committee in charge and the members of the church manifested considerable interest in the work. The sermons and addresses by the out of town ministers were greatly appreciated and at each service the "edifice" was well filled by an appreciative congregation.

On Tuesday evening the convocation was opened with a choral service which was followed by addresses by "The Manifestation of Christ" by Reverend Messrs. England, Barlow, Dr. Greene, of Cambridge, Barlow, of Cambridge, Ashworth, of Oriskand and the Dean of the Diocese, Rev. F. B. Adkins.

Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock the annual convocation sermon was preached by Rev. Wallace Green, ex-rector of Christ's Church, Cambridge. Rev. Green is 84 years of age and had to be assisted to the pulpit, on account of his feebleness. He is generally known as the Patriarch of the Diocese. In the afternoon a business meeting was held at the rectory of St. Peter's Church at which was an essay on "The Apostles' doctrine and fellowship," by Rev. David Howard. In the evening Rev. McCreedy, of Eastern preached the subject of the men's missionary work offering. Next October the general convention of the Episcopal Church of America will meet at Richmond, Virginia in commemoration of the first Christian service of the Episcopal Church, which was held at Jamestown three hundred years ago. The men of the Diocese are urged to make a thank offering for the prosperity of the church since that date. Every man and boy is to contribute and at this meeting in Richmond the names and contributions will be presented to the altar, and the money will be used to spread Christianity over the unchristianized world. Following this sermon addresses were made by Reverend England, Green, Barlow and Adkins.

Thursday, Sunday School day, was entirely in charge of Rev. Kirke of Snow Hill, who is Vice President of the Sunday School Institute for the convocation. Communion services were held at 7.30 a. m., and at 10.30, an address on the subject of Sunday School work was made by Rev. McCreedy, of Cambridge, which was followed by a heart to heart talk by the congregation. In the evening addresses were made by Reverend England, Barlow, Green and the closing remarks of the convocation were made by the dean of the diocese, Rev. F. B. Adkins.

While in this city the visiting ministers were entertained as follows: Rev. Dr. McCreedy by Miss Belle Leonard; Rev. Dr. Barlow by Mrs. E. Stanley Tompkins; Rev. Kirke by E. Harry Phillips; Rev. Green by Judge C. F. Holland; Rev. England by Miss Gailie Cannon; Rev. Ashworth by Mrs. Ella Bradley; and Rev. Wallace Green by Mrs. Isaac Adams.

November Election Will Be An Important One.

In November there will be elected: A governor. A comptroller. An attorney general. A clerk of the Court of Appeals for a term of six years. Fourteen members of the Senate, including city and county districts. All the members of the House of Delegates.

The two houses in joint convention will be called upon to elect two United States senators, one to fill the unexpired term of Senator Garrison, whose service will begin at the time of his election and will expire on March 4, 1909 and another to serve for the full term of six years, beginning on March 4, 1909.

The legislature will also elect a state treasurer to serve for two years.

Conducting A Speechless.

John S. Parlow, was arrested yesterday morning charged with selling whiskey at his home in Parkersburg, and tried before Justice Truitt. Parlow pleaded guilty and gave as his excuse that he was out of work and had to support his family. Justice Truitt put a fine of $50 on the case and an order on the sheriff to take Parlow to the County Jail. Parlow was taken up at once. This is the first case of its kind in this county since the passage of the law.

Parlow is a native of Maryland and has lived in this county for many years. He is a well known man in the community and has a large family to support. He is now in the County Jail, where he will remain until he can pay the fine or until the sheriff can find a way to take him to the State Penitentiary.

Parlow's case is a typical one of the many cases of men who are forced to sell whiskey in order to support their families. It is a sad state of affairs and one that should be remedied by the State.

The State should provide for the support of these men and their families, so that they do not have to resort to such a desperate measure as selling whiskey.

The State should also provide for the support of these men and their families, so that they do not have to resort to such a desperate measure as selling whiskey.

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE

Untold Suffering and Constant Misery—Awful Sight From that Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Commenced at Top of his Head and Covered Entire Body.

MOTHER PRAISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, Infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we could not have done to have given him relief. The family doctor seemed to be wholly incapable of coping with the case, and after various experiments of his, which resulted in no benefit to the child, we went to Mason, Ill., to a druggist and got a full set of the Cuticura Remedies and applied as per directions, and he began to improve immediately, and in about three or four days began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered, with the exception of a rough skin, which is gradually disappearing, and eventually will be replaced by a healthy one."
 "Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they actually saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Mabel Lyne, 1829 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 18, 1906."

COMPLETE TREATMENT $1

Complete external and internal treatment for every humor, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, may now be had for one dollar. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, itching, burning, and itchy humors, eczema, psoriasis, and irritations, from infancy to age, when all else fails.

Abandonment of The Ocean.

By Raymond Bell.
 A few years ago a boat's crew from a passing ship, heaved a water-logged bulk in the Indian ocean, which was a derelict lumber ship. From unmistakable evidence this terrible manna to mariners safely had been adrift for more than a century, drifting hither and thither with the wind and current. Indistinguishable at night or in a dense fog, the evil thing may easily have wrecked scores of vessels and contributed to scores of deaths.

Yet the ocean is dotted with this kind of deadly fate in ambush, adding considerably to the peril of those who go to sea. Derelicts are frequently observed, but their locations are constantly changing, so they cannot be permanently charted as dangers. The impact of even a great ship would not injure the bulk much in many instances, while it might easily sink the floating home of five hundred people. No provision can be made against it, an equipment of ocean compelling, proof against all the ordinary terrors of storm and wave, defy it.

According to Commander Southland, the United States hydrographer, there are no less than nineteen derelicts floating on the high seas at all times. Some of them continue as a menace to navigation for long periods. How many of the ships that have sailed from port never to be spoken again are the victims of derelicts is a question that no one can answer. It is reasonable to suppose that the number is large. The records of the hydrographic office show that between 1898 and 1903 three vessels were lost, thirty seven were damaged seriously, and twelve were damaged slightly by collision with wreckage floating either on the surface or slightly submerged off the coast of this country. Steamships and sailing vessels of all classes suffer from such accidents in the fairest weather a submerged wreck may be invisible even after it has been struck, and on thick and foggy nights the voyagers have no protection against a derelict that rides high out of the water.

Despite these conditions, the dangers of the sea have been decreased many fold, as a result of the systematic work of the United States hydrographic office. This bureau, which is a branch of the navy department, has not reached its present extent and efficiency in a day; it has been, indeed, the growth of years; and with the natural extension of scientific knowledge and the natural impulse to give such knowledge practical application it is bound to grow still further. Its work has to do with everything that imparts greater accuracy and security to the navigation of the seas. If a wreck occurs along the shore, the head of the navy department is notified, and the first naval vessel passing that way receives orders to destroy it. If a new shoal is discovered, a channel deepened, a new buoy placed in position, a new light established, a new light-ship stationed somewhere—in short, if anything takes place that may in the slightest manner influence the conditions of seafaring, the fact is at once published in bulletins and sent free to all seamen.

Much of the success and efficiency of the bureau depends to a great extent, upon the co-operation of the seamen themselves. Every vessel that starts on a voyage is equipped with two small blank-books, containing forms to be filled in. Each day has a leaf for its own, dated and marked out. One book is a general weather report, the other a general storm log. The daily noon observations are to be recorded in them. The forms are so arranged that all the observer has to do is to set down a symbol beside the questions asked. These symbols are understood by all seamen.

The questions asked concern the time of the observations; the latitude and longitude; the true direction and force of the wind; the state of the barometer; the temperature of the air and of the surface water; the forms of the clouds and the direction of their movement; the state of the waves and the direction in which they are running; the estimated current for twenty-four hours; the weather experience for twenty-four hours; the apparent interval, in seconds, between the crests of the successive waves as they pass; the true direction from which they come, and the ship's true course and speed at the time; the estimated heights of the several waves, from hollow to crest; the depth of the sea where the observations are made; information concerning fog, electric phenomena, icebergs, derelicts, and the use of oil in heavy seas.

In addition to these books, each ship is furnished with a number of bottles containing a form printed in seven languages—English, French, German, Dutch, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese. At intervals these forms are properly filled in with the names of the captain and ship, the time and the place, sealed up in the bottle, and then sent adrift, to be picked up and opened again in some one's day's time, or it may be in years. When they are recovered the form is taken out, new entries made of the time and place and they are once more sent adrift.

Some of these bottles have queer experiences, according to their records in the hydrographic office. Some have floated entirely across the ocean apparently never having deviated from a straight course, others have foundered in a storm or have been forced ashore in some remote spot.

Into a double boiler, pour one pint of milk, while it is heating mix one tablespoonful flour, and one of cornstarch—put together, rub this to a smooth paste with half a pound of butter and add to the milk when boiling. Stir constantly and allow to boil for ten minutes, pour off half a cupful of the oyster liquor and pour the oysters and the remaining liquor in which they were boiled in the milk, add one pint of warm cream; do not allow it to boil a second time. Take from the fire, season with salt and pepper and two dashes of nutmeg. Serve immediately.

 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rambling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine for Woman's Ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female illnesses or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing all forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness. It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development. Irregularities and periodical pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it. Also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system. It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, fatigues, melancholy or the "blues". These are indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine cures as well as Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex. Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

BUTTER MAKING RULES.

Agricultural Department Tells How to Handle and Ripen Cream.

In ripening the cream for churning a starter is used, which is nothing more than nicely soured milk, which contains the bacteria which cause the cream to sour. The amount of starter to use will depend upon different conditions. If one is churning every day, about one to one and a half gallons of starter in ten gallons of cream is the right amount. If it is necessary to hurry the process any, more starter should be used, and vice versa. The temperature at which the cream is set will influence the amount of starter to be used. During the process of ripening the cream should be stirred occasionally to obtain best results. Just what is the result of stirring is not entirely understood, but it is known that cream when frequently stirred ripens with a more uniform and finer flavor than cream which is ripened without stirring.

The only standard that has been applied in measuring the ripening of cream is the determination of the acid present. The acid test, as it is called, gives a fair idea of the quality of and stage of ripeness. There is no step in the process of making butter where the judgment of the maker is so much needed as in ripening cream. He must cultivate his taste for the desirable flavor, and must know when the point is reached where further ripening must be checked.

The butter fat exists in the cream in minute globules, each independent of the others, and any agitation tends to bring them together. The force of the impact causing them to unite is continued through the process of butter growth largely by addition of other particles until a stage is reached where they become visible to the eye, and if the churning is continued long enough all will be united in one lump of butter in the churn.

The time that it takes to churn depends largely on the temperature of the cream at the beginning. If the cream is quite warm the butter will come quickly. If it is too cold the churning may have to be prolonged in some instances for hours, because the butter granules will be so large enough to free themselves from the buttermilk. The temperature at the beginning should be regulated accordingly. It is usually considered that about thirty to thirty-five minutes churning should bring the butter. With different seasons of the year the temperature will have to be varied somewhat in order to have the butter come in the length of time. It is necessary in hot weather to churn at a temperature as low as 50 to 55 degrees F., while in the winter months, when the cows are on dry feed and the weather is cold, it is often necessary to raise the churning temperature to 60 or 65 degrees F.

It is important to know at just what point to stop churning. The best results in freeing the granules from the buttermilk and incorporating the salt it is considered that 5-7-ter granules should be about the size of beads or grains of corn, possibly a little larger. The churn is then stopped and the buttermilk allowed to drain. After the buttermilk is well drained from the butter granules an amount of water about equal in volume and of the same temperature as buttermilk should be added, and the churn given four or five revolutions slowly, so that the water will come in contact with every particle of butter and wash out the remaining buttermilk.

As soon as the wash water has drained well from the butter granules salt should be added. The amount of salt used will depend entirely on the demands of the consumer. Usually about one ounce of salt for each pound of butter will be necessary. If the ordinary barrel churn is used, which is perhaps the best form made, giving the churn a few revolutions the salt will be quite thoroughly incorporated with the butter. It should stand in this condition for a few minutes, until the salt becomes more or less dissolved, before the working of the butter is begun.

If the salt and butter have been mixed in the churn the butter can be placed on the working table and the working begun at once. The working should be continued until it assumes a waxy condition. If the work is continued too long the butter will become salty, having the appearance of lard, and will lose its granular appearance, structure becoming weak bodied. The firmness of the butter must be taken into account in determining how the butter should be worked. Usually the firmer the butter the more working it will stand and the more time it will need to thoroughly incorporate the salt and bring out the waxy condition.

Keep the Cow Well Fed.

It has been found by experience that when allowed to shrink in milk at the first shortage in pasture, by amount of afterfeeding will bring cows up to their former profitable production until they come fresh again.

Pruning is one of the most important parts of grape culture. Do not go at it haphazard, but consult some standard work on grape culture.

A Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly Of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of the Service at Kingston, Jamaica, West India Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough with the most beneficial results. She writes: "I have used it in it and it has cured me of all my coughs and colds." - Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

She Didn't Care.

"I think I like him," said the young woman who was nibbling the hem of her handkerchief, "but—"

"I haven't noticed any," said the very dearest friend.

"Any what?"

"Any but."

"I was going to tell you, but I won't now. Oh, I like him, yes—in a way, but not in that way at all. You're so foolish. If any man comes to see me you always imagine there's something special in it."

"When any one comes to see you seven nights in the week and as many other times as he can make any excuse at all, I think I'm justified."

"That's exactly the reason I don't like him."

"I thought you said you did."

"In a way, but he just tires me."

"Why don't you tell him?"

"I can't be rude. I don't like to hurt anybody's feelings, anyway, but honestly I've tried to discourage him as much as I could. I wonder sometimes that he comes at all. I'm so mean to him."

"Why, you awful girl!"

"Well, I just don't want him. I wish he'd go away somewhere—to China, or Australia, and stay there. I let him go with me to a fitting the other day and—"

"You never did that, Cora!"

"Why, yes; I—oh, of course, I don't mean that I let him go in to Grady's with me. I just met him accidentally in State Street and he begged me to walk a block with me, and sooner than stand on the street and argue about it I let him. When we got to Grady's I said, 'Now, you may go,' and went in and left him. I was mad at him for insisting. He is just the most persistent."

"I didn't think that was so bad."

"Well, you didn't hear all of it. When I got in I found that I had mistaken my time and I had three-quarters of an hour to wait. The girl said half an hour but they keep you waiting a little longer than they say. But I got into a big leather chair and opened a box of bonbons that—that I had and found an interesting story in a magazine and well I believe it must have been an hour that I waited. Then the fitting took a long while. But I got it all settled at last and—what do you think? There was that—Mr. Panksey waiting outside for me and it was beginning to snow, too. He just looked as cheerful. I said, 'What have you been doing all the afternoon?'"

"Oh, just walking up and down with one eye on the door," he said. "Now, wasn't that absurd? And he was nearly frozen, if he was cheerful. His hands were—"

"It doesn't please me to have a man act in that idiotic way. It just exasperates me."

"What are you looking at?" asked the very dearest friend.

"I was just looking out of the window," said the young woman, returning to her chair. "Well, I just told him he could go home, or about his business if he had any to attend to."

"Then how did you find out about his hands?"

"What do you mean? Oh, I saw when he took his gloves off. He teased me to go and have a cup of chocolate. No, really and truly, it disgusts me. What time have you I believe that clock must be fast."

"Just right. Well, I should think you could get rid of him if you wanted to."

"I do want to, and I'm going to get rid of him. You just see if I don't. It's getting worse and worse all the time. He's been calling me up on the telephone lately—about nothing."

"Cora, what is it you're looking at out of the window? You're done nothing but look out all the afternoon—ever since I've been here. Are you expecting anybody? If you are I'm going."

"No, don't go," said the young woman. "There isn't anybody coming—at least, I guess not. Mr. Panksey said he'd call at 4, but it's nearly 5 now and—I wonder what on earth can be keeping him. But I don't care if he doesn't come."

How the Japanese Fooled the Faker.

The street faker who was selling cement near the steps of the court house stood behind a little table on which was conspicuously displayed the sign: "A box of this cement given free to anybody who can break any of these apart."

There were spools, blocks of wood, and other articles that had been cemented together and most of them bore marks of having been struggled with by persons with grimy hands in vain attempts to wrench them apart.

A swarthy little fellow who had stopped in front of the faker's stand pointed to a round peg that appeared to have been slipped in the cement and driven into a good sized chunk of wood, and asked him what would be the reward for pulling it out.

"If you can pull that out," said the pedler, "I'll give you a silver dollar."

The peg projected a little more than a quarter of an inch above the block.

The swarthy little fellow placed his left hand on the block to hold it down, took the peg between the thumb and forefinger of his right hand, and pulled it out with apparent ease, a portion of the wood coming away with it.

"Great Scott!" gasped the man behind the table. "What are you?"

"No Japanese dentist," replied the little fellow, pocketing the silver dollar and walking away with a grin on his face.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this advertisement in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policy-holders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the

OUR GENEALOGICAL TREE.

Jan. 13, '07 (Gen. 1:26-30; 2:7-24.)

The origin of man perplexes a good many people. Where he came from when he landed on this planet, how long he has been here, whether he has improved since he arrived, who was responsible for his coming, these are questions that have puzzled the generations. Darwinism attempts to answer it in one way. According to this theory man is a development. It has taken countless ages to bring him to his present state of improvement. His genealogical tree, according to this theory, is a cocoon tree, all abating with Simian grandfathers and grandmothers. Aye, it goes farther back and sums up man's pedigree after this fashion: The protoplasm begat a Zoophyte, and the Zoophyte begat a germ, and the germ begat a Jelly-cell, and the Jelly-cell begat a tadpole, and the tadpole begat a monkey, and the monkey begat a man. This is called the descent of man. But the theory is misnamed. The descent of man is always the other way. The evolution of a monkey into a man the world has never seen. It is an unbridged chasm, no trace of a missing link has ever been discovered. But the descent of man into a monkey can be seen every day in every quarter of the globe. It can be accomplished without much effort in a few weeks or months.

Now, if any one wants to trace his ancestry to the monkey, squirming on the organ grinder's music box, he is welcome to do so. The majority of people prefer the genealogy of Holy Writ. A patriarch which was the son of Abraham; which was the son of Noah; which was the son of Adam; which was the son of God. Instead of crediting our creation to "fortuitous combination of atoms, the most of us rest satisfied with the declaration in the first chapter of Genesis:—"God created man in his own image; male and female created he them." Instead of starting an infamously germ, crawling up through countless ages to man's estate, man appears upon the scene as the last and crowning work of creation, the masterpiece of God.

The hearthstone of the human family was laid in Eden, and the young lord of creation and his bride were wedded by the High Priest of the Universe. The morning stars sang the wedding march, and the orange blossoms not only crowned the bride but covered nature's altar. When this happy couple were made one, the patent of their nobility was "Let them have dominion." There was no inferiority of one party at that altar. They were equal in creation and in endowment—if there was any advantage the woman had it. For, mark! Man was made from the dust, not diamond dust, nor gold dust, but common dust, dust of the ground, but woman was made out of Adam, an improvement on him. He was the head, but she was the crown. He was dust refined, but she was dust double refined, one remove further from the earth than her husband. As Matthew Henry quaintly puts it:—"The woman was not made out of his head to rule him, nor out of his feet to be trampled upon by him, but out of his side to be equal with him, under his arm to be protected by him, and near his heart to be beloved by him."

This was clearly a case where the match was made in heaven. All weddings should be like the original nuptials, but unfortunately the sparks that fly in many homes disclose their brimstone origin. Motions on the walls "God bless our home" do not make up for discordant tempers.

Never were such nuptials followed by such a home coming as that which awaited the first pair. Their residence was a garden, furnished and adorned beyond the brightest dream of fancy. The heavens were the roof of Adam's house; and never was any roof so curiously ceiled and painted: the grass was the floor, and never was a floor so richly inlaid and carpeted. The shade of the trees were his retirement, and never were dining rooms and sleeping rooms so extensive, so quiet, so fragrant, so refreshing; beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth was this garden. It was beautified and adorned with every tree, for height or breadth, shape or color, leaf, or flower, or fruit, which was pleasant to sight, and charming to the eye. The air was pure, the climate was bright, the soil was kindly; Adam had but to "Tickle it with a spade, and it laughed in flowers." No water rent to pay, for a river ran through the ground, broad and deep.

Surely man had a fair start. He farmed his God-given land, without disease, without disability, without taxation. The Lord of Creation had everything his own way in the beginning. What vast and magnificent preparation for him! What talents skill in his wonderful construction! What solicitude for his comfort and companionship! What a heaven-blessed wedding-day! What a home warming! What a start in life! Truly they have nothing to be ashamed of who trace their genealogical pedigree back to this blushing bride and this sturdy bridegroom, as they stand on the threshold of the paradisaical home looked with steady eyes down through the eternities.

How to Prevent Bilious Attacks.

One who is subject to bilious attacks will notice that for a day or more before the attack he is not hungry at meal times and feels dull after eating. A dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when these symptoms appear will ward off the attack. They are for sale by C. L. Dickerson and Co., Baltimore.

NATURAL DETECTIVE POLICE.

Why Man Who Commits Crime in Alaska Cannot Escape.

"We have a better detective force in the cold country than there is in the States," says Gov. H. P. Hoggart of Alaska, in the Washington Post. "That detective force is nature. When a man commits a crime in the States he has many places to hide, and he often manages to evade the authorities forever. If one of our people who does something wrong believes the climate of some other country will better suit his health, and he makes for that country he undertakes the impossible. All we have to do is to sit and wait. There is only one way out of Alaska, and that is by coming to the coast, and when the criminal comes to the coast he is sure to be caught."

"So well has the United States Signal Corps done its work in Alaska that we have a telegraph line to every mining camp of importance, and when a man takes leg bail all there is to do is to telegraph to the coast town, and the authorities wait for the man. It would be impossible for the poor fellow to try to get away by any other route than the coast, because he would never live to relate his experience."

"On the other side of the coast range of mountains are vast plains, stretching for many hundreds of miles, wholly uninhabited. On account of the haste with which criminals generally leave there is no time in which to provide an adequate outfit, if such a thing were possible. "But it is seldom that it is necessary to make use of this natural detective force to track wrongdoers. I will venture to say that there is no country in the world where the people are as orderly as they are in Alaska. All the tales of lawlessness of the mining camps of the forty-niners are not repeated in Alaska. From the very first the people have been orderly, and they make it so uncomfortable for the criminal who comes among them that he is glad to leave."

To Avoid Near-sightedness.

Theoretically, the guard for the eyes shown in the illustration presents a very good idea. Whether its use is practical in an open question. It is well known that children as a rule are inclined, while reading, to hold the book too close to the eyes. This habit is still more marked in writing than reading, and, in time, undoubtedly is responsible for near-sightedness. Statisticians claim that the poor eyesight prevalent among children of all countries can be attributed to this cause. A German has designed this guard especially to prevent holding the head too low while reading or writing. It is simply a wire framework which can be readily clamped to the book. The position of the upper bar does not obstruct the view in the least, but a child would experience difficulty in inserting the head in the frame. The idea is at all events a commendable one, and, if not practical in this form, is certainly so in another.

A Fruitarian Diet.

A fruitarian diet consists of the fruits of trees (like apples, oranges, bananas and olives), the fruits of plants (like strawberries and melons, lemons and beans and cucumbers), the fruits of grasses (like wheat and barley and maize and oats), the fruits of nut trees (from almond to coconut), together with some earth fruits (like potatoes), and a modicum of vegetables and salads. To these may be added butter, milk, honey and cheese, although their production is not so free from risk of contamination and animal infection as in the case with the products of the vegetable kingdom and the world of fruits. Grown under healthy conditions, with diseased specimens easy to detect and remove, it is far more possible to live healthily and well upon a fruitarian diet than upon the average of the slaughter house—Westminster dietary.

Average Speed of Clouds.

A member of the staff of the Blue Hill Observatory, near Boston, has reported that observations made there show that the average speed with which clouds, between 8,000 and 9,000 feet high, move is sixty miles an hour in midsummer and one hundred and ten miles an hour in midwinter. The swiftest flight of a cloud yet measured was 230 miles an hour.

China's Mania for Railroads.

Hardly a province of China has escaped the recent mania for railroads, and if all the lines projected are carried out some of the remotest parts of the Empire will be rendered easy of access by the iron road.

Dangers of a Cold and How to Avoid Them.

More fatalities have their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful, as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most positive and efficient medicine in use for this disease. It acts on the mucous membrane, and

For a Morning Wedding.

The bridegroom wears a dark blue or black frock coat.

A high double-breasted plaid vest or one that matches the coat.

Gray trousers.

White linen standing collar, Ascot or four-in-hand white silk or satin tie, with a pearl stud pin.

Gray suede gloves.

Patent leather shoes.

Regulation silk hat.

A full suit of gray, with long cut-away coat, like the English walking coat, is also good form.

A white silk or satin necktie with small colored figure, black or gray stiff hat, gray gloves and dull black leather shoes.

The best man dresses like the bridegroom.

It is considered good form now to wear a wedding veil at a morning ceremony in a church or at home. It is a matter of choice with the bride.

Roman Belts.

If you wish a new and smart shirt-waist belt get Roman striped ribbon and fold it into a two inch band, fastening with a dull gold buckle. These belts are particularly good style for a young girl, and the narrow width preferable to the wide if the waist is at all slender, as all the waists are, just now.

To Clean Chambray Gloves.

Mix a lather with castile soap and warm water, in which you have put one tablespoonful of ammonia to each quart. When the water is tepid put the gloves in it. Let them soak for a quarter of an hour, then press them in your hands; do not wring them. Rinse in fresh, cold water with a little ammonia added. Press the gloves in a towel. Dry in the open air, after previously blowing to puff them out.

To Make Brillantine.

Mix one ounce glycerine, one ounce eau de Cologne, two ounces honey (clarified), four ounces spirits of wine.

To Remove Moles.

A paste of salicylic acid and witch hazel applied to moles will remove them. The paste must not touch the surrounding skin.

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. There are many such people, in fact in every way, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great energy, a rapid comprehension, bones and angularity! No, the novelist must be faithful, even at the expense of beauty.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy And Ambition Slipping Away. Salisbury woman know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing troubles, all fall of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders.

Mrs. O. F. Powell, proprietor of a boarding house on Main Street, near Hall, Atkinson & Co.'s drug store, Orisfield, Md., says:—"It is about ten years since I first felt symptoms of kidney complaint. I had terrible distressing backache, so bad at times that I could hardly turn over or move in bed. No position I assumed was comfortable and in the morning when I arose my back was lame and sore. Not only did I suffer from kidney trouble but I had terrible dizzy spells and severe backaches which I presume were due to the same cause. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. I never used a remedy that acted so quickly and gave immediate relief. I not only speak from my own experience but from that of other members of my family who have used them with equally good results. It is with pleasure, therefore that I recommend this remedy."

Fifty more proof like this from Salisbury people. Call at White & Leonard's drug store and ask what customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doans and take no other.

In every city there are movements which call for the expenditure of money. Some of these are of a distinctly public character, and are paid for through taxation. Others are of a semi-public character, and for them the funds must be raised by voluntary contributions. These must come from the men who are doing the business of the place and who have the money. There is no other way. The man who has the money is the man who must pay the bills if they are to be paid. Most enterprises of a public nature which have for their object the bettering of conditions, business and otherwise, in a city will directly or indirectly, return more than the money expended to those who pay it.

CASTORIA

Part of that advance dividend which the Delaware Railroad Company pays to its stockholders comes out of the pockets of the people of this city and State. The company should be easily enabled to pay more dividends so long as its property is assessed at such low figures and it pays such small taxes for the privileges that it enjoys. And there is no relief or hope in sight. It looks as though the next General Assembly will be very strongly under railroad influences. "NIGHT"

How sweet to gaze upon your placid eyes, In lambent beauty looking from the skies.

Stepping to the window I see a placid and beautiful moon add clusters of twinkling stars. I hasten out on the lawn where the night dews are falling to enjoy the beauty of the scene.

It is with awe and admiration that I gaze heavenward; the moon shining sweetly and casting their mellow light around; the little stars dotted about like jewels.

The air is laden with the scent of honey suckle and I fancy that I can smell fresh mown hay. It seems that all nature harmonizes. All is quiet and serene, not one sound to jar on the ear; but occasionally a nightingale strains its throat to sing sweet notes of praise, peace and love. As we lift our eyes roam over the heavens we forget that ever was a hard word spoken or that our past life has been a time of sorrow and pain.

FATHER AND SON DEAD

Mr. A. J. Phillips and Son, Norman, instantly killed while at work in saw mill in Virginia. Lived in Hebron.

The sad information came to Hebron on Monday night that Mr. A. J. Phillips and his son, Norman had been accidentally killed while at work in a saw mill at Hack Neck, Northumberland county, Va. For some unknown reason a stove jointer bursted in the mill which is the property of Phillips and Elliott of Salisbury, striking both the father and the son, killing them instantly. The elder Phillips received a wound in the chest his ribs being crushed in and the right lung exposed. The son was completely dismembered. About a year ago Mr. Phillips took a policy for $1000 in the Union Central Life Insurance Co.

A widow and seven children survive the elder Phillips. No cause is assigned for the disaster, as the machinery was without the slightest defect in its construction.

Mr. Phillips and son went from Hebron to Virginia about a year ago to saw timber for the firm of Phillips & Elliott, of Salisbury. They were successful and branched out by erecting a stove mill, which was doing a good business. The elder Phillips came home to spend the Christmas holidays and spoke encouragingly of his prospects in Virginia.

The bodies were brought to Salisbury on the boat Friday and were taken from here to Hebron for interment.

NURSES ENTERTAIN.

Their Friends Spend An Evening Of Enjoyment At The Peninsula General Hospital.

The nurses of the Peninsula General Hospital treated their friends to a most enjoyable social gathering on Thursday evening. Miss Wise, the superintendent, allowed the nurses and their guests the freedom of the reception and dining room and the company derived much merriment, the feature of the evening being a jolly pull, after which games were indulged in until nearly midnight. Refreshments including ices, fancy cakes, salads, bon-bons and salted nuts were served by the nurses.

The invited guests were the Misses Katie Rounds, Lulu Patrick, Maud Truitt, Ruth Messick, Stella and Ada Ellingsworth and Messrs. Charlie Ralph and H. O. Patterson.

The nurses are: Mrs. Florence Smith and the Misses Sallie T. Dougherty, Pauline Meredith, Bertha Holloway, Vellie Case, Julia Clark and Rosa Ellingsworth.

MRS. H. B. MORRIS BURIED

Services At The House Largely Attended. Was Sick Only A Short Time. Many Handsome Floral Tributes.

Despite the inclemency of the weather, the funeral of Mrs. Harvey B. Morris, who died suddenly on Tuesday evening, was largely attended Thursday afternoon. The services were conducted at the home of Mr. Morris on Division Street by Rev. Franklin B. Adkins and Rev. David Howard, of St. Peter's Church, a touching coincidence being that Mr. and Mrs. Morris were married by these two ministers less than 16 months ago.

The choir of St. Peter's Church, of which the deceased was a member sang "Tarry with me, O my Savior," and "Lead Kindly Light." After the services at the home, the remains were interred in Parsons Cemetery, where the grave was surrounded with beautiful floral designs.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Travers Ewart, Mark Cooper, Fred Grier, Claude Dorman and Messrs. Robinson and Todd, of Westover.

Mrs. Morris' death came suddenly and unexpectedly and was a shock to her large circle of friends and acquaintances. She had been suffering from a cold for several days, but her condition was not considered serious until Tuesday afternoon when she was taken to the hospital, where she died about 7 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Morris was a daughter of Mr. Wm. T. Sudler of Fairmount, Somerset county and was married to Mr. Morris in November 1906. She was 20 years old and is survived by her husband, her parents and five sisters; Mrs. J. McAdams Dick of this city, and Lizzie, Laura, Dorothy, and May of Fairmount, and one brother Mr. Howard Sudler.

DELAWARE'S SENATOR

Mr. Harry A. Richardson Nominated After A Long Period Of Doubt And Discussion.

It is to be hoped that the long period of discussion and doubt as to who would represent Delaware in the United States Senate, was settled to the entire satisfaction of the constituents, when the Republican caucus elected Mr. Harry A. Richardson of Dover, on Monday night.

Senator Allen was his closest competitor, and Addecks, the one time dictator of republican politics, was completely outclassed, receiving only two votes on the final ballot. At 11.30 o'clock, the nomination of Mr. Richardson was made unanimous and the caucus adjourned.

In choosing Mr. Richardson, the republicans of the Diamond State have chosen a man of sterling qualities and while this is his first venture in politics, the honor having come to him un solicited he has at heart the interests of Delawareans and will undoubtedly make an able Senator.

Mr. Richardson is president of the Diamond State Telephone Company and is largely interested in the mining business in Dover.

Unclaimed Letters.

Matthews, Miss Lola McDaniell, Mr. F. A. Pryor, Mr. E. M. S. Parker, Mr. Ander G. Pollitt, Mr. Wm. Pennell, Mrs. Annie S. Purdie, Mrs. S. E. Purdie, Mrs. Ella Parker, Miss Lottie Peters, Mrs. G. W. Rider, M. J. Smith, Mrs. J. P. Stevens, Mr. John B. Twilley, Mrs. Jennie Tilghman, Mr. Nite Pop Voelbel, Mr. Levin B. Wilson.

Mr. W. F. Allen Elected President.

At the 20th annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society, held in Dover Wednesday and Thursday last week, Mr. W. F. Allen, of Salisbury was elected president for the ensuing year. Mr. Robert Jones of Allen was chosen Vice President for Wisconsin county.

The report of the treasurer, Wesley Webb, showed a balance in hand at the close of last year of $71.65, which, with the appropriation of $200 each from Delaware and Maryland, made a total of $271.65; the expenses during the year amounted to $217.49, leaving a balance of $54.16.

Many topics of interest to fruit growers were discussed among them, "Packaging and Marketing," by W. F. Allen, Salisbury, and "Valuable Fruit Trees," by Mr. J. W. Lucas, Salisbury. The meeting will be held on the 21st inst.

AUDITORIUM HALL

Had One Of The Largest In-door Spectacles Ever Witnessed Here In Monday's Masquerade Pageant. Next Week's Attractions.

Perhaps the largest number of amusement seekers ever gathered together in this city were present at the Auditorium Hall to witness the masquerade skating carnival which was made the feature of entertainment on Monday evening. When the announcement was first made by the management that a masquerade would be given, the younger people immediately awakened to the spirit of the occasion. That considerable thought was given to the selection and preparation of the costumes was every where in evidence when fully one hundred masqueraders, representing almost inconceivable characters made their appearance on the floor of the auditorium. The prizes offered by the management seemed to incite the best efforts of participants.

Prizes were offered for the most beautifully costumed lady and gentleman, and for the lady and gentleman presenting the most comical appearance. As a result there were costumes of all colors and descriptions, some inspiring admiration for their artistic beauty, and others creating an uproar of laughter every time they met the eyes of the spectators. In this manner the tremendous crowd, which witnessed the event were carried alternately from the sublime to the ridiculous throughout the entire evening.

After an evening of rare enjoyment by both the spectators and the skaters the prizes were awarded. The judges were: E. O. Fulton, Mrs. O. L. Brewington, Mrs. Ida Williams and Messrs. Walter J. Brewington and M. A. Humphreys.

The prize for the best dressed gentlemen was awarded Mr. Herman W. Carly and he was presented a pair of gold cuff buttons. Mr. Carly wore an entirely original costume representing half man and half woman. The prize of a gold brooch offered to the most beautifully costumed lady fell to the lot of Miss Irma B. Baker who characterized a dower girl. For the most comically dressed gentlemen Mr. W. A. Kennerly in his Chinaman's costume won the award. His appearance was so much like that of a real Celestial that one imagined the odor of the Chinese laundry could be detected as he whirled around the floor. He was awarded a stick pin made up of an opal and six pearls. Miss Lulu Hudson, in the minds of the judges was the winner of the prize for the most comically dressed lady. She might easily have been taken for a real pookinny as she glided forth to receive the gold hat pin, the prize she had won.

There were many other praiseworthy costumes. Mr. Bernard Ulman, was dressed as a double man and it was impossible to tell whether he was going or coming. Mr. Frank Ulman, as a German immigrant also received much admiration.

The fun continued until after ten o'clock, the usual time for closing the rink. Mr. Cullison, the instructor, deserves considerable credit for the successful manner in which the affair was managed.

Pig For The Catching.

Much more pleasure is in store for the patrons of the rink. On Monday evening a 100 pound porker will be well greased and then turned loose. If he is caught at all he will become the property of the person making the catch, and the successful party may fill up on pig's feet and "souse" to his heart's content. A pig chase on roller skates will be a novel event and much amusement is promised for those who attend. Thursday evening the floor will be given up to the little "coons" and these colored youngsters will evidently create a great deal of mirth in their strenuous endeavor to capture a rooster which will be given its freedom if not caught.

Polo For Peninsula Championship.

Mr. Cullison has organized a polo team with a view of challenging Easton, Baltimore and Wilmington. Easton has won the polo contests with the two latter teams and claims the championship of Maryland and Delaware. The members of the team are Messrs. E. Frank Holloway, R. H. Grier, Ralph Williams, H. D. Bohann, Gordon Brewington, S. P. Todd, J. D. Shoyall and Bernard Ulman. Mr. Cullison will captain the team and act as coach. Mr. Cullison is anxious to meet all speed skaters. He now claims the championship of Maryland, but will meet anyone regardless of residence.

The Emergency Hospital at Easton will be opened for the reception of patients on the 19th inst. The furnishing is being done by private parties as memorials. There will be a public ward for white men with six beds, and one for white women with four beds. There will also be two wards for colored people, one for men and one for women, with three beds each. The building of the hospital is being completed.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

A DISASTROUS FIRE

Residence Of Mr. G. A. M. Wilson On River Road Completely Destroyed Tuesday Night.

A disastrous fire completely destroyed the residence of Mr. G. A. M. Wilson, proprietor of the Palm Garden, on Tuesday evening. All the furniture and household effects were burned and Mr. Wilson who was also in the house, his wife being away on a visit, barely escaped in his night clothes.

Mr. Wilson is of the opinion that the fire started from a half smoked cigar which he had left on the stove in the kitchen when he retired. He had not been in bed long when he was awakened by the barking of a pet dog which was left in the house. The house was entirely filled with smoke, and he was awakened just in time to escape death by suffocation. He at once called a neighbor, Mr. Weatherhead, but the flames made such headway that nothing could be done to save either the furniture or the building.

The only things saved were a drawer of fancy colored minstrel clothes, a dress suit, and the wedding clothes of Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson erected his home less than a year ago, in the old river road, about a mile from Salisbury. He estimates his loss at about 2,500 dollars, partially covered by insurance.

Taylor Lumber Co., Of Salisbury Organized.

Incorporation papers were filed at the Clerk's office Wednesday for the Taylor Lumber Company, of Salisbury. The incorporators named are Orlando W. Taylor, Wm. M. Day, Saml. A. Graham, Charles E. Day, and Joseph L. Bailey. The capital stock is $20,000 with power to increase it from time to time to $10,000.00. The board of directors for the first year are O. W. Taylor, W. M. Day, S. A. Graham, Wade T. Porter, Clifford A. Taylor, E. Byrd Taylor, Clifford R. Cooper and Charles E. Day. The company is now operating in Georgia and has large timber holdings in that state. It is the intention of the company to erect dry kilns and build a railroad in the near future.

Councilmen Meet.

At a meeting of the Council Monday night three new lamps on E. Church street, one on 4th street and one on Camden Avenue were ordered. The Council has figured out all the appointments on the street paving on Dock, Main and Division streets to Five Points, and have set Friday, February 1st, at 7.30 p. m., as the date for the property holders on these streets to file their objections, if any they have to the appointments as made.

A Committee from the Council met on South Division street Tuesday afternoon to look over the matter of making some improvements on the street there. Residents of South Salisbury have had complaints that the water is so bad and some complaints that the street is so bad.

JAMAICA STRUCK HARD

By Terrible Earthquake And Kingston Devastated Like Coastal San Francisco. Over 1000 Dead In London.

According to dispatches received in London from Jamaica, dated Thursday, the total list of dead at Kingston is expected to approach 1000. Many bodies from Monday's casualties, in a state of decomposition or charred beyond recognition, had to be buried. Fortunately, the water supply is holding out.

The American battleships Missouri and Indiana have arrived in the harbor.

Thirty five out of a total of 55 employees in a tourist bureau were killed. The navigation channel has materially changed, and in some places the depth of the harbor has been altered by from 40 to 60 feet.

The police of Kingston estimate the number killed as 1,500, judging from the bodies already found in the "low buildings" which have been examined. The injured are numbered by thousands and 10,000 are reported to be homeless.

Kingston was the only place seriously damaged by the earthquake. Graphic details of the disaster are given in dispatches received in London from Holland Bay, January 15. According to this report the whole city of Kingston seemed to shrivel up, buildings crashed together and fell in a crushed mass like egg shells, under the first shock.

Fire started immediately after the crash at their separate points. The fire department station in Station street was wrecked, rendering resistance to the flames impossible. The conflagration continued unchecked until Tuesday morning, by which time the whole business quarter of Kingston had been stripped out.

The damaged area comprises about a square mile. All the large ware houses in the lower part of the city were consumed, while not a single house anywhere remained undamaged and the majority are unfit for habitation. The shores of the harbor of Kingston are sinking, and there is terror lest the city slip into the sea, according to a private dispatch received by a large mercantile house in New York from Fort-au-Prince, Haiti. Every wharf not destroyed by fire is said to have sunk into the sea or have been rendered worthless.

RED MEN ENTERTAIN

A Pleasant Evening Enjoyed By Members Of Modoc Tribe No. 104.

The members of Modoc Tribe No. 104 of Salisbury were treated to an unusual event last evening (Friday) at their wigwam on Main Street, the occasion being an official visitation by Great Sachem of Maryland, Walter Hubbard and Great Chief of Records, Dr. J. O. Littleton, of Baltimore.

Mr. Hubbard took the stump and made a most impressive "long talk". He has made a visit to most of the tribes of Maryland and has gained a reputation as a speaker among the Red Men. He was followed by Dr. Littleton who made a pleasing "short talk" on the general work of the order.

After a pleasant evening refreshments were served. Mr. Hubbard states that the Baltimore Tribe is second largest in the State, and highly complimented Chief of Records, Mr. E. E. Twilley for the manner in which the official records of the tribe are kept. The state membership now numbers about 7500.

McGrath Family Hold Reunion.

Rev. J. Hooper McGrath and wife entertained at dinner a few days ago twenty seven guests. Among those present were twenty one grand children and three great grand children. On account of the weather two of the children and families were absent for which Mr. McGrath was very sorry as he was very anxious for his entire family to be present. Mr. McGrath is 75 years of age, his wife 69, and they have been married 44 years. They have eight children, 30 grand children—15 boys and 15 girls—and four great grand children. He has been a member of the Methodist Protestant Church for over 50 years and his wife for over 40 years.

Naylor Farm Sold.

The farm property, on the old Spring Hill Road, known as the Naylor's Mill, or the Naylor farm was sold this week by real estate broker Frank Williams to Edwin A. Naylor, the commission being $2000.

It was on this farm, that the Naylor family lived for many years, and made a good will. The Naylor family had a fine collection of books, a number of paintings, and a fine collection of furniture, which was sold at the same time.

Peary And The Pole.

Commander Peary, before an audience in St. John's M. E. Church, told of his recent dash for the North Pole. He went nearer to the coveted position than any previous explorer. Had his dogs and provisions held out, he might have traveled closer to the Pole, but had he done so, he might never have returned to tell the story.

The Arctic explorer, according to Peary, must sail up into the Arctic Ocean during the first summer he is away. Only at that season of the year can he get through the ice. Then, in October, he finds himself frozen in, and must endure the long, tedious winter night. When twilight comes, in February, he must make his dash over the ice for the Pole, and he must get there and back again before the warmth of middle summer has broken up the Arctic ice. If the ice breaks up, he may find himself out of from all possible return to civilization.

One must bear in mind the treacherous nature of the ice. Its crushing force is terrible. It is subject to motion, imparted both by wind above it and ocean current beneath it. In fact, there is a drift to all the ice, even when to all appearance it is one solid mass. All this makes the work of reaching the Pole so difficult. It takes one summer to reach a point from which the following summer a dash may be made, and only the spring of the next summer can be used to make the dash. The return must be made before the middle of the second warm spell, or the ice will break up and the adventures will be lost.

It takes a hardy man to try such ventures. No one can look at Peary, however, without realizing that he is a man born for hardship and endurance. He has the build and appearance for an old Norse J. Viking. He may yet carry the Stars and Stripes to the long-coveted point.—New York Herald.

Many sufferers from Nasal Catarrh say they get splendid results by using an antiseptic. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-alleviating Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75 cents, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Seaford Town Council has contracted with the Laurel and Seaford Electric Light Company to light the town with electricity. The poles are being erected, wires strung and the current of 80 lights will be turned on this week.

Nature As A Feeder Of Fish.

In a forth coming report to the United States Fish Commission an expert will give many interesting facts about the wonderful and invisible supply furnished by nature for feeding the millions of fishes that make up her great oceanic population.

The most careful examination of shallow waters near the shore will not detect the question of what the fish feed on when out in the wide sea, because the conditions differ so widely. The sea, in the heart of its own domain, far from the shallow water fringe along the shore, is devoid of vegetable life. It contains no growth of weeds or plants to harbor swarms of possible food creatures, except in limited spots, as in the floating weeds of the Sargasso Sea.

A bucket of water drawn from the Atlantic is to the eye simply so much transparent brine, uncolored with weed, void of fish and in most cases not visibly infested with any form of floating marine organisms. Yet at any moment shoals of fish, numbering millions, may elude to enter this apparently foodless waste, and do so with impunity. The herring shoals disappear into the deep Atlantic and return in good condition, oily and exuberant.

What have they lived on in the meantime? Not an smaller fish caught in the chase, for even if these were present in sufficient quantities, the herrings travel in a desired shoal a mile square and perhaps thirty feet deep, crowding one another too closely to admit of a free chase after food.

The explanation lies in the universal presence of these microscopic creatures that in some parts of the Atlantic are so thickly massed in the water as to discolor its surface and afford abundant food for the whale. These are now known to pervade every drop of surface water in numbers comparable to the motes in the air.

For the purposes of the herring, the pilchard, and countless other vertebrate fish, shellfish and zoophytes, the upper waters of the sea are in fact a nutritive soup, a food exactly suited to their needs. These microscopic creatures are the basis of all the life of the ocean. Some are water fleas, other occupy shells like miniature bivalves, others again are in the form of the one-eyed microscopic monsters of the pools, the cyclops. They multiply at an amazing rate, increasing from one to more than four hundred thousand a year. Their existence is one of the greatest economic triumphs of nature. They dispose of the refuse of the sea and keep its waters sweet. Dead animals and vegetable matter feed them, and they, without further machinery, are converted into the food fishes of the world.—Phila. Press.

SUFFERED AGONIES FOR FOUR YEARS

Whole Foot Nothing But Proud Flesh—Tried Different Physicians and All Kinds of Ointments—Could Walk Only With Crutches—Ohio Man Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES THE BEST ON EARTH"

"In the year 1899 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. When he found out that wouldn't work, he began trying to heal the wound with all kinds of ointment, until at last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. I suffered untold agonies for four years, and tried different physicians and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. It is sixteen months ago since I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for my limb and foot. The first two months the Cuticura Remedies did not seem to work, but I kept on using them both. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day and kept it up for seven months, when my limb was healed up just the same as if I never had trouble. It is eight months now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, the best on God's earth. I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only 86c, but the doctor's bills were more like $600. You can publish my name and refer any one to write to me about Cuticura Remedies. I will answer all letters if postage is enclosed. John H. Lloyd, 715 E. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1906."

Home-made Catarrh Cure.

Any one can mix right at home the best remedy of its kind known. The name 'Oxycolon' is given to the following prescription, it is supposed, because of its promptness in driving from the blood and system every vestige of catarrhal poison, relieving this foul and dread disease, no matter where located. To prepare the mixture: Get from any good pharmacy one half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Sassafras and three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This is a harmless, inexpensive mixture, which has a peculiar action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, assisting them to filter and strain from the blood every atom of catarrhal poison, which, if not radiated, are absorbed by the mucous membrane and an open sore or ulcer is the result.

Persons afflicted by it as well as the prevention of its return should use this preparation.

Military, Naval And Industrial.

The Plan And Scope Of The Jamestown Exposition Comprehensive, Colossal, Complete.

Norfolk, Va.,—By reason of the historic naval and military features which will form a part of the Jamestown Exposition, an unusually large and extremely high class attendance must be anticipated. Shortly after the Centennial it was said that people were tired of expositions; yet each succeeding world's fair has disproven this fallacy.

The celebration of the three hundred anniversary of Jamestown if it took a purely industrial form, would still draw large crowds. The inquisitive American takes a deep interest in all inventions which make for largeness of ease of output; for the improvement of transportation, or for the saving of labor. Mechanical appliances, machinery, manufactures and liberal arts generally will be fully illustrated at the Jamestown Exposition on Hampton Roads near Norfolk in 1907.

The space devoted to these displays bears a somewhat less proportion to the whole than has been the rule at previous expositions, but the class of exhibits will be high, and each smaller well worth careful study. The other exhibit divisions will attract, not only by reason of novelty, but because of inherent drawing powers, that would hardly state by repetition. Chief of these, naturally, will be the naval and military displays.

There have been great naval rendezvous in the history of the world. England has had several; Germany two in recent years and France a number scattered through the last century. In each of these, however, the nation celebrating furnished almost the entire quota of vessels. The fleets were international in little more than name. At the Jamestown Exposition, the word international will not be a misnomer. Almost if not every state of the civilized world which possesses a navy will be represented. The foreign flags will not fly on single vessels, but on squadrons; and Hampton Roads will be the theatre for a naval spectacle unique in history, and unlikely to be repeated until the dawn of that day when universal disarmament becomes the rule. The military spectacle will be hardly less impressive than the naval demonstration. The world's nations have generally adopted a rule which prevents armed companies of foreign soldiery from encamping on their soil. The United States have been rigid in its enforcement of this custom. Now, for the first time, the barriers are let down, and not only are the soldiers permitted to land, but cordial invitations have been extended to the nations to send their regiments hither. The president's proclamation, announcing the celebration of the three hundredth birthday of the Republic—for a truth, the nation dates from Jamestown rather than from Philadelphia's declaration—set forth that Congress had determined to memorialize this event by an international military and naval congregation. The governments which have accepted will be represented by their crack regiments, some of which will be commanded by general of international fame. England will probably send Lord Roberts; Japan is likely to detail Oyama.

The patriotic associations of the country have taken the deepest interest in the Ter-Centennial, and the Hall of History will be a post-graduate institute for students of Americana. The exhibits in this department, pictorial, documentary and through their varied collections, will bring clearly to the mind of every observer the salient features of our nation's story, the pivotal events of the several eras—the factors which, combining, germinated the seed of Jamestown until it became a colonial grove which has developed into a mighty forest of commonwealths. Not only will events of legislative and military moment be set forth, but the evolutions of arts and trades will be shown, and a series of pictures presented, whose object is to define recognizably each era since 1607.

Naturally, an exposition of this character will draw a very high class of visitors people to whom the average world's fair would appeal in vain. This Ter-Centennial has so many collateral points of interest, aside from the main display itself, that it may justly be said to lie in a region that forms a permanent exposition. And it is safe to say that few who can, will fail to visit the Jamestown Exposition sometime between April 30th and Nov. 30th, 1907. —Cor

THE CHARACTER OF A HAPPY LIFE.

By Sir Henry Wotton.

How happy is he born and taught That sweeth not another's will;
Whose armor is his honest thought,
And simple truth his utmost skill.

Whose passions not in masters are;
Whose soul is still prepared for death
Untied unto the world by care
Of public fame or private breath.

Who craves none that chance doth take,
Nor vice; who never understood
How deepest wounds are given by praise;
Nor rules of state, but rules of good.

Who bath his life from rumors freed;
Whose conscience is his strong resort;
Whose state can neither flatterers feed,
Nor traitors make oppressors great.

Who God doth love and early pray
More of his grace than gifts to land;
And entertains the harmless day
With a religious book or friend.

This man is freed from servile bands
Of hope to rise or fear to fall;
Lord of himself, though not of sandal
And having nothing, yet hath all!

Nothing startling in the railway circles this week beyond the announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad is to spend $300,000,000 in the purchase of entire control of several subsidiary railroads among them, probably the N. Y. P. & N. R. R. In this case there would be great changes in the management of this road. At this time it is hard to forget just what might occur in such an event. There would be lots of people guessing to be sure.

SHAVING THE WORLD OVER

Barbering You Can Feel in Villages of Spain.

LATHER SUBSTITUTES

Ancient Egyptian Beard Cases and Curled Assyrian Locks—Sheils, Minerals and Goggles Used in Shaving—Delicate Singeing in Africa—What is Used Instead of Razors.

Any traveler in Spain who steps off the beaten path may, like Don Quixote, find a Mambrino helmet for himself, for it swings from a staff over the door of every wayside barber, says the New York Sun. An old and worn out basin does for a signboard; one less old is necessary to the shaver's art.

These barber basins of the peninsula are always made of brass. Some of the old ones are very fairly hammered, but in all the shape is the same, a product of public utility answering to varying demand.

A half circle is cut out from one rim large enough to accommodate the patron's gullet and Adam's apple. Seen in profile the effect of a man being shaved is as a St. John, the Baptist, whose head has partly slid off the charger. Thus it is adapted to the tonorial methods in vogue in Spain, and with but slight variations practiced in all of village Europe.

There are no joke weeklies to while away the time of waiting; there are no chairs with complicated gear to raise and lower the patient, to swing him around into the light at his most artistic angle, to tilt him back to a monotonous view of the ceiling. Instead the sufferer is planted bolt upright in a straight backed chair, and throughout the operation he is the sole responsibility of holding a basin of water at his throat, and if he spills the suds down upon the front of his shirt the blame is his alone.

Nor does the difference cease here. The peasant barber of Europe regards lather as merely an ornate incident. He wets his patron's cheeks and smears them with good hard soap, well rubbed on. Then he uses his razor to excavate this cement of stiffening soap, moistening it only when it is found too hard to work.

Their great rivals for the empire of the ancient world, the Assyrians, were abundantly supplied with beards. That they held them in high esteem may be inferred from the fact that they carved them on the engines of their sacred bulls and other gods of a long forgotten theology.

If one may accept the statuary of Mesopotamia as a safe guide to the fashions of those early Oriental times it would appear that the Assyrian beard was worn in long ringlets. That may, however, be no more than an evidence of the limitations of the art of the ancient sculptor, who could not carve hair positively unless he made it look like rope. It seems hardly conceivable that Nabuchadnezzar and Assurbanipal would submit to a fashion that involved putting their heads up in curl papers every night.

No modern race goes conspicuously and completely unshorn except the black fellows of the Australian bush. Among the peoples of the earth who shave wholly or in part the utensils of the barber's high calling widely vary. Soap and shaving brush are a triumph of advancing civilization, the barber's effort to secure his case. Some of the lower races wet the cheeks with water or the juices of fruits or sap of trees, but for the most part the savage shaves dry.

Such of the native tribes along the Amazon as shave at all in preference to plucking out their scanty beards prepare their cheeks by swabbing with the heavy sap of the tree which yields the rubber. In tropical Africa the oil of the oil palm is used for the same purpose.

In the East Indies generally the pulp of the ripe banana is rubbed to a cream on the cheeks and chin with the abundant juice which may be drawn from the leaf stem of the same plant. Elsewhere in the same region of the Eastern seas the green orange is employed.

Many and various are the substitutes for the razor of steel. In the uplands of Africa, where the natives have developed no little skill as workers in metal and produce knives of good temper, they seem not to have hit upon the idea of true shaving by the use of a cutting edge. Their abundant beards are removed and their chaps kept smooth by singeing.

A plate of iron an inch in width, three inches long and a quarter of an inch thick is mounted in a handle of horn. This is brought to a white heat in the charcoal furnace and is passed evenly over the face very close to the skin. The glowing plate produces a close shave effect with a luxury of comfort to the most tender skin that no razor yet forged could bring about.

Especially, Hicks (with paper)—I say, Wicks, here's a slicker of a word, s-u-t-h-a-n-a-s-s-i-e.

THE TRAIL OF THE SERPENT.

Jan. 20, '07.—(Gen. 3:1-6, 13-15.)

The material universe is a magnificent machine, so perfectly adjusted, and so delicately poised, and so wonderfully lubricated, and so infinitely complicated, and so omnisciently timed, that it never slips a cog, or beats a bearing, or is thrown out of gear. Though it has been in operation for centuries, the position of every piece of the mechanism can be calculated 1,000 years ahead, and within the fraction of a second the planet, or sun, or star or satellite will swing into the field of vision. What harmony of movement! What infinite interconnection, without noise or rush, collision or confusion!

But man was not made that way. He was not a machine; he was a machinist. He was not a complicated engine; he was an engineer. And he had the ability and the will, and the power to determine whether he would run the engine of his earthly career on the black valley railroad to destruction, or the heavenly railroad to the capital of the universe.

Without wasting any time discussing the origin of evil, it is very certain that something discordant has come into the world, and human nature is out of joint. Evidently something has disagreed with the world of mankind. Was it the fault of the serpent? Look at it; glittering, lithe, cunning, cold, smooth, poisonous, it looks as if it might have done it. We can't imagine the lion, the elephant, the eagle, or the ox engaged in such business. It was a serpent trick. For observe the temptation was beautiful, inviting, seductive. Everybody has eaten of that tree. It looks nice, it sounds pleasant, it tastes sweet, therefore, we rush upon it headlong.

The old theologians, in their desire to make transgressions horrible, painted Satan in fearful colors. He was a black demon, with horns and hoofs and forked tail. He breathed fire and brimstone from his nostrils, he threw fiery arrows at his victims, wherever his foot rested the ground was blasted and scorched. His look was poison, his touch was death. But there is no such devil, and never was. The path to ruin is beautiful. It is radiant with light, it is sweet, beautiful, instructive. Look, taste, know—and the forms in which the old serpent presents temptation, without change through the ages. And every son and daughter of Adam follows in the footsteps of their dear lamented grandfather, and suffers the consequences.

If the young man, holding the wine cup in his hands, could look down into its depths and see woe, and sorrow, and wounds, and broken hearts, and tears, and anguish, and unavailing regrets, think you he would drink it? Never. That is not what he sees. The vision that he sees is entrancingly lovely. If the young woman, looking into the eyes of her companion could see virtue lost, and honor sacrificed, and home despoiled, and a life of shame begun, and an early and dishonored grave, think you she would believe the tempter's lie? Never. It is because they are deceived, deluded, fascinated with brilliant prospects that the young go astray. No devil, you see, what is in themselves. Nonsense! Multitudes of people are destroyed yearly who never had a thought of evil till some tend in human shape accomplished their ruin.

The trail of the serpent—it is everywhere apparent. He drags his slimy length through every garden, and there is no Eden into which he does not enter. In the most unexpected moment he rears his head and begins to charm. The tree of the knowledge of good and evil is always laden with fruit, and though its approach is guarded, and placarded with warnings, humanity hears nothing, heeds nothing, knows nothing but its wild desires, and on it goes to repeat the folly of Adam. And, as in the first temptation the deceived, becomes at once a deceiver. Eve, having fallen pulls her husband down with her. Evil men and women take a Satanic delight in corrupting others. And so the race, linked together in the bonds of iniquity, tumbles away into exile from its beautiful Eden, cast out by its own folly. And the serpent wriggles away into the thicket, hissing with glee.

GOOD FOR DELAWARE.

The moral ascent in Delaware politics from the low level of Addison—Also methods to the election of Mr. Harry Richardson as United States Senator is full of encouragement and is one of the pregnant signs of the times that cleaner methods in politics must, and shall prevail.

Mr. Richardson is a rich man, reputed to be a millionaire, and the complaint of the practical politicians is that he has not used it for politics, meaning that he has refused to take part in boodle politics or in the corruption of the people.

Neither is he a boss or the head of a machine. It is the severest rebuke that the corrupt Republican wing of Delaware has ever received. Whatever else may be said of his election it appears to the honest people as a tribute to his character, and is a decided setback to bribery.

The more influential the man who encourages these "corrupt practices" the greater should be his condemnation. The more money he gives for bad purposes and self promotion the less confidence the people should have in his honesty.

January 19th marks the one hundredth anniversary of one whose career fills a large place in the annals of the nineteenth century, and whose memory is cherished in every Southern home.

Robert Edward Lee, born in Westmoreland County, Virginia, in 1807, was educated for the profession of arms at West Point and entered the military service of the United States and won rapid promotion by his courage, sagacity and success, attaching the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Upon the secession of his native state in 1861, deeming his allegiance to his state paramount to all other, he surrendered his commission in the Federal army and accepted the leadership of the forces of the Southern Confederacy and with heroism and devotion, ardor and enthusiasm, followed their fortunes and reverses to their termination at Appomattox in 1865.

His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world, "This was a man."

Civil Service Examinations. The following Civil Service examinations are announced to take place at the Millbury Postoffice.

February 1—Marine engineer in the U.S. service Newport News, salary $300 a month.

February 2—Assistant in sugar beet investigations, salary $1,400 per annum; food and drug inspection chemist, salary $2,000 per annum; food and drug inspection, salary $2,000 per annum; food and drug inspection, salary $2,000 per annum.

MID-WINTER STYLES.

Evening Dresses. Ribbon Trimmings. Scarfs For Evening. Ruffs. Furs. Mink Toques. Empire And Lace Fans. Necklaces.

There is positive economy in the prevalent use of sheer materials for evening wear, as they will, if well made, be fashionable next summer, provided no radical changes take place. Then too, many thin fabrics are so reasonable in price, commencing at 20 cents although a really good quality net is $1.00 per yard.

Ribbon Trimmings. Ribbons are used to an unlimited extent made into imitation roses, violets, and other flowers, usually with hanging ends when used on a bertha or over the shoulders of an evening dress.

Gossamer Scarfs. Fancy work was never more productive of artistic results. Embroidery, braiding, chainstitching, or applique work are all represented on scarfs for evening wear either at parties, the theatre or home wear.

The above design is by the McCall Co. of New York, Fashion Publishers and Manufacturers of McCall Patterns.

Woman can make a handsome one at home with comparatively little expense. They should be about three yards long, and eighteen inches wide.

Varied Possibilities. Braiding in silk or chiffon is easily done or chiffon appliques in exquisite colorings may be had by the yard and taken apart, and tastefully grouped at the end of a chiffon scarf is the "top notch" of style.

Furs. Fur is now so generally worn that no woman feels that her dress is complete without a handsome set or at least some fur trimming.

Fans And Jewelry. Fans are of all sizes and textures, the Empire fan keeping pace with the Empire styles in gowns or wrap.

Necklaces. The rage for low necked dresses, naturally brings the necklace into special prominence.

A Man's House is His Castle.

It should be fortified—protected with good Paint. Ten houses are burnt up by slow decay, from not being properly painted, to every one that is destroyed by fire. And it costs but little to keep a house well painted, if the right kind of paint is used. The best painter in the world cannot do a good job with poor paint; but give a good painter pure White Lead and Linseed Oil, and you will surely get a job that will look well and wear well. They are economical paints because they cover so much more surface and wear so much longer than ordinary paints. Let me give you an estimate on the best.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy And Amusement Slipping Away.

Salisbury women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders.

Mrs. C. F. Powell, proprietor of a boarding house on Main Street, near Hall, Atkinson & Co.'s drug store, Orisfield, Md., says: "It is about ten years since I first felt symptoms of kidney complaint. I had terrible distressing backache, so bad at times that I could hardly turn over or move in bed. No position I assumed was comfortable and in the morning when I arose my back was lame and sore. Not only did I suffer from kidney trouble but I had terrible dizzy spells and severe backaches which I presume were due to the same cause. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. I never used a remedy that acted so quickly and gave immediate relief. I not only speak from my own experience but from that of other members of my family who have used them with equally good results. It is with pleasure, therefore that I recommend this remedy."

Plenty more proof like this from Salisbury people. Call at White & Leonard's drug store, and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

In the ancient cathedral of Genoa a vase of immense value has been preserved for years. It is cut from a single emerald. Its principal diameter is 13.2 inches, and its height 5.3-4 inches. It is kept under several locks, the keys of which are in different hands, and it is rarely exhibited in public, then only by an order of the senate. When exhibited it is suspended round the neck of a priest by a cord, and no one is allowed to touch it but him. It is claimed that this vase is one of the gifts which were made to Solomon by the Queen of Sheba.

Catarrh And Catarrhal Headaches.

are quickly relieved by Nosen's. It soothes the congested membrane, plays inflammation and thoroughly heals and cleanses. It keeps moist all the passages whose tendency is to thicken and become dry. Cures colds, throat troubles, hoarseness, hay fever, "stopped up" nose, breathing through mouth while sleeping, offensive breath, etc. It is antiseptic and contains no chemicals or drugs having a narcotic effect, or that can cause the "drug habit."

WE GUARANTEE SATISFACTION.

J. A. Brogdon, of the National Sign Co., Dayton, Ohio, writes under date of Oct. 13, 1906: "Nosen's is the only preparation I have ever used that relieves my affection so speedily and pleasantly I am getting the first real pleasure out of breathing that I have experienced since I contracted catarrh six years ago. Money would not buy my tube of Nosen's if I could not get another."

Buy Nosen's from Dr. Ellegood, Delmar, get your money back if not satisfied. Sample tube and booklet by mail 10 cents.

John Augustine Wall, a young man of twenty nine, who says his father is a retired Standard Oil man, is the prophet of a new church which is to be started in the Berkely Lyceum Theatre today at 3 P. M.

"Of a party different from all others," says Wall's handbill, "that will be known as the National Church, and whose only creed will be the Golden Rule."

The published aim of the National Church is to unite atheists, infidels, moralists, spiritualists, Roman Catholics, Jews, Protestants, ethical cults.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

No one can be happy, light-hearted and healthy with a body full of blood that cannot do its duty to every part because of its impurity; therefore, the first and most important work in health is to purify the blood, so that every organ will get the full benefit of a healthy circulation. There is no remedy we know of so good as that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills. Each pill contains one grain of the solid extract of sarsaparilla blended with two grains of a combination of pure and mild vegetable products, making it a blood purifier unexcelled in character. One or two taken every night for a while will produce surprising results.

Brandreth's Pills have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

Mrs. Pils—"I just heard that Mr. Shad has left the Sandbar hotel."

Miss Pils—"Oh yes. She could not stand the noisy bell boy there."

GREAT AND SMALL.

A sparrow, swooping on a branch. Once caught a passing fly: "Oh let me live!" the insect prayed, With trembling, pitious cry. "No," said the sparrow, "you must fall." For I am great, and you are small.

The bird had scarce begun his feast Before a hawk came by: "Pray let me live!" the sparrow cried, "you must fall." "Was now the sparrow's cry. "No," said the hawk, "you must fall." For I am great and you are small.

An eagle saw the roach, and swooped Upon him from on high, "Pray let me live! Why should you kill?" So small a bird as I?" "Oh," said the eagle, "you must fall. For I am great and you are small."

But while he ate the hunter came: He let his arrows fly. "Tyrant," the eagle shrieked, "you have no right to make me die!" "Ah," said the hunter, "you must fall. For I am great and you are small." —Selected.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

On the pier at Brighton, England, stands a sundial on which is inscribed this most hopeful line: "It's always morning somewhere in the world." The suggestion is well worth remembrance. Days of darkness come to all of us. Especially after severe effort, mental or physical, there are times of depression. The wise man cultivates the habit of turning hopefully toward the sunrise that is somewhere in the world and will soon reach him.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Safe, Sure And Speedy.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Allcock's Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of the muscles, nerves and skin.

Allcock's Plasters are the original and genuine porous plasters and like most meritorious articles have been extensively imitated, therefore always make sure and get the genuine, Allcock's.

HANGED IN EFFIGY.

Grotesque Figure Representing A. Lincoln Dryden Strung In Street In Crisfield.

The first thing that met the gaze of the business men of Crisfield when they came down Tuesday morning was a grotesque figure made to represent a man labeled with the name of Somerset county's Republican leader, Mr.
A. Lincoln Dryden, former Sub-treasurer of Baltimore and the newly appointed collector of customs for Ori-sfield. The figure was dangling by the neck from a telephone wire which ran directly in front of the building used as custom house and postoffice, in which Mr. Dryden has his office.

A sign hanging from the shoulders of the dummy bore the words:
"Fate of the traitor, A. Lincoln Dryden."
This is supposed to be a result of the indignation which has existed among some of the citizens of Ori-sfield since the action taken by Mr.
Dryden in the postoffice fight, which up to a few days ago raged warm for several months.

The sentiment of the patrons of the office and the business people of the town seems to have been with the present assistant postmaster, who was a candidate for the postmastership.
It is generally supposed that Mr. Dryden, as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Somerset county, would recommend him without hesitation, but for some unknown reason Mr. Dryden turned down the man who had the endorsement of the business people, and he failed of even reappointment to the assistant's place.
Mr. George C. Riggin, of the Tangier Packing Company, was named for the postmastership and it is said he will appoint the present postmaster, assistant.

The course of Mr. Dryden has caused a break in the party ranks and may result in the defeat of the Republican ticket in that county next fall.

COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Considerable Business Transacted At The Meeting Tuesday. Mr. Ellegood Receives Settlement.

A meeting of the County Commissioners was held last Tuesday and several important matters were settled.
Mr. J. D. Price was instructed to have Mr. O. S. Lloyd draw up plans and estimate the cost of a stationary bridge over the new river road. These will be submitted to the Secretary of War for permission to construct the bridge.

The report of the road commissioners on new road in Trappe District was filed and the Clerk instructed to give notice that the report will be taken up for ratification on February 19th, 1902.

The road committee from Fritland was instructed to purchase one thousand more bushels of shells for the Fritland road.

Mr. DeWitt G. Bounds was appointed road supervisor for Salisbury District, vice Mr. J. H. Livingston, resigned.

The Board authorized Mr. Larmore to purchase shells from Castila Bros., and repair the White Haven road as one.

Messrs. Wm. M. Cooper, J. D. Price and Judge Holland were appointed a committee to take charge of the work of changing the lavatories in the Court House. These will be put on the second floor and the old lavatories on the first floor torn out.

Mr. Alexander Malone and Jehu T. Fryer, a committee on behalf of the Nutter's District road, were before the Commissioners, and received authority to go ahead and prepare the roadbed, as the shells would be ready for them to have hauled the first of February.

At this meeting the commissioners made a settlement with Mr. James E.
Ellegood for his services as counsel against the B. C. & A. Railway Company, in the tax suits which have been pending for several years. Mr.
Ellegood presented a bill for $2000.00,
and received a check for that amount.
Through his efforts, the County has received nearly $50,000.00 back taxes and the right to tax property yearly valued at $645,607.00.

A partial eclipse of the moon will be visible for a few minutes in this section on the morning of Tuesday the 29th inst, shortly after seven o'clock.

PIG WAS TOO TAME.

Was Captured After A Two Minutes Chase
By Mr. Raymond Ganagy. Another Contest Promised.

It is a most remarkable thing.
Ordinarily a pig would not attract the attention of a school girl, but the announcement that his honor the pig would be well greased and turned loose at the skating rink on Monday evening had the desired effect and the curiosity of Salisburyans was aroused to such an extent that not less than one thousand men, woman and children crowded and jammed into the spacious auditorium in their eagerness to witness what promised to be a novel and exciting event.

People began to arrive shortly after six o'clock and by eight o'clock the room was filled to its capacity, there being possibly one hundred people on the rafters in the loft of the structure.

Owing to the large number of visitors the management had considerable trouble in stretching a wire netting and it was not until about 8.30 that the porker was given his freedom on the floor. The names of five contestants were then called out by Mr.
Cullison and the chase began. The pig was entirely too tame, however, and only two minutes had elapsed before "his hamlets" were in the arms of Raymond Ganagy, who successfully placed him in a barrel in the centre of the floor, thereby winning the contest. The judges were Messrs. W. B.
Miller and George Collier.

As the people were not well satisfied with the evening's entertainment, Mr. Howell promises that in the near future another pig catching contest will be given, with a genuine
"swamp angel" as the prize.

Plan for Better Water Proposed by Dr. John S. Fulton.

Dr. John S. Fulton, Secretary of the State Board of Health has suggested a unique plan to secure a more sanitary condition of the water supply of the cities and towns of Maryland. In a letter to the Mayor and Aldermen of Frederick, Dr. Fulton states that careful sanitary surveys are needed in order to pass reliable judgment upon public water supplies. The Board of Health proposes to furnish trained men to make such surveys, provided the local authorities of the community desiring such service will pay the traveling expenses of the men assigned to do the work.

COUNCIL BUSINESS.

Many Improvements To Be Made On The Streets. Mill Dam To Be Put In Repair.

At the meeting of the City Council Monday night it was decided to have a police census of the city. Under the law all male persons over 21 years of age are compelled to give one day's work on the street or pay the sum of one dollar into the city treasury. After the completion of the census it is the intention of the Mayor and Council that a systemized effort shall be made to have every man in Salisbury, who is not a tax payer, perform his street duty or pay the sum of one dollar each year. It is thought that at least 700 or 800 available men can be found within the city.

The Council decided to purchase 50,000 bushels of shells for use on the streets of the city which need repairing. The first street to be shelled will be South Division Street, from the mill dam to the city limits and the East end of Church street from the railroad tracks to the city limits.

It is the intention of the Council to do something permanent to the street across the Humphreys mill dam. It is thought the cheapest or at least the most economical way to improve this street will be to build a brick wall on both sides, widen the street and fill it in, making a brick sidewalk instead of the board one and probably pave the street with brick. It is also the intention of the Council to pave Main street extended from the pivot bridge to the site of the old Hospital, when the work is being done on Division street and Camden Avenue and also the short piece of Division street from Main to the mill dam.

Mayor Harper was before the Council in reference to the franchise of the Salisbury Gas Company, which it is thought has been forfeited because the Company has not lived up to its contract to have the five miles of pipe laid by the end of January, and with its failure to pay into the City Treasury a certain sum of money on January 1st. It was decided to give the Company notice to appear before the Council in reference to their franchise. The Mayor said he had some parties who would build a gas plant in the city under favorable circumstances, and he thought might take the work which has already been done by the Salisbury Gas Company off their hands.

The Council decided for the present to sweep the streets of the City by hand and or ere the necessary brooms for the work. It is the intention of the Council to have the streets swept as often as is necessary to keep them clean. Later on it is thought they will purchase a horse for the work.

Opinion Relative To Five Acre Oyster Lots.

The Shell Fish Commission has received an opinion from its counsel, Thomas H. Robinson, of Belair, in which it is stated that the plain intention of the law is that the holder of lots taken up under five acre lot act becomes tenant of the State under the new law as soon as he gives notice and pays the fee required with such notice, and the rental begins from the time of the passage of the new act.

Another question which has practically been decided is whether the surveys of lots granted under the five acre law shall be accepted by the Commission as part of its records and forwarded with the application for renewal under the new surveys to determine the bounds and locations of such lots shall be made. The probabilities are that the old surveys will be accepted, but there may arise conditions where the private holdings shall be staked and marked by the Commission.

Kiralfy At Jamestown. Greatest Spec- tacle Ever Shown.

Holony Kiralfy, the world famous producer of spectacular performances, has secured the great colosseum on the grounds of the Norfolk Horse Show and Fair Association for the Jamestown Exposition period, beginning in April, and after transforming them into a theatre modeled largely after the Olympia in London, will present therein during the Exposition spectacular performances, such, he announces, as have never before been given in America and which will rival those put on by him in London and Paris.

Mr. Kiralfy announces that his performances will exceed both "America" put on at Chicago during the World's Fair, or "Louisiana," put on at St.
Louis during the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

DIVISION STREET PAVING.

Salisburyans Visit Baltimore And Inspect
The Streets Paved With Bitulithic
Material.

There has been considerable discussion lately concerning the contemplated paving of North Division street from Church Street to the crossing of the B. C. & A. Railway Co. The discussion arises from the complaint of some of the residents that a brick pavement would be too noisy for a residence street, and from the fact that many property holders are not altogether satisfied with the pavement on Main, Dock and Church streets.

With the view of comparing the different pavine used on the streets in larger cities, several citizens of Salisbury made a visit to Baltimore recently as the guests of Mr. Horn who has been in this city in the interests of a company manufacturing the bitulithic paving which is claimed to equal brick, asphalt, or any other material used for street paving. The gentlemen who made up the party were: Messrs. J. D. Williams, Samuel A. Graham, M. A. Humphreys, Councilmen E. M. Twilley, C. M.
Brewington and Mayor Charles E.
Harper.

While in Baltimore these gentlemen inspected several different paving materials and were favorably impres-sioned with the bitulithic pavement.
Mr. Fendall, city engineer of Baltimore, was interviewed on the matter and spoke very highly of this new material.

Several streets in the city have been paved with this material, and it has given entire satisfaction. It has been thoroughly tested in every way except as to durability, which can only be tested by time, and has proven satisfactory in every respect.

Bitulithic paving material is an invention of within the last seven years and is a combination of bitumen, the principle ingredient in the manufacture of asphalt, and lithic, the hardest light metallic substance known. The cost of this paving is practically the same as that of brick and has the appearance of asphalt, and is a desirable material for use on a resident street, as the noise is not nearly as great.

While nothing has been done designately in regards the paving to be used it is thought that bitulithic will be the material.

Mr. S. King White Retires As Cashier Of The People's National Bank.

At a meeting of the Directors of the People's National Bank, held last Saturday evening Mr. S. King White tendered his resignation as Cashier to take effect at such time as his succesor should be chosen. Mr. White has been cashier of the bank since its organization in May 1901. It has been known among the Directors for some time that he would withdraw about the first of the year in the interests of his personal business affairs, the expansion of the business of the Salisbury Advertiser, necessitating an increased and closer attention to its enlarged operations. He will continue his connection as a member of the Board of Directors.

At the same meeting, Mr. Isaac L.
Price, Assistant Cashier, was chosen cashier to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mr. White.

Mr. Price has been Assistant Cashier since the organization of the bank and has made a very efficient official.
For several months he has been acting Cashier, and has been regarded as the logical successor of Mr. White, when it became known that he would withdraw. Mr. Price has the confidence of the Directors and patrons of the bank, and the same successful policy of the bank will be followed.

The vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Price was filled by the election of Mr. Dallas Hearn, who has for several years been employed in the office of E. S. Adkins and Co., Inc.

Lights For Cambridge. Plant To Cost About $70,000.

The Dorchester Public Service Corporation, incorporated recently in Baltimore, has received a franchise for the installation of an electric light plant in Cambridge from the Board of Town Commissioners. According to the terms of the ordinance granting the franchise the city of Cambridge is to receive free of charge several large lights to be placed where it desires, besides free lights for the engine house and Town Commissioners' office. The company agrees to erect a plant to cost not less than $70,000 and to have it in operation not later than May 1st, 1902. The plant is to be capable of furnishing power for all purposes needed in Cambridge, and also to be sufficient to run the railroad from Cambridge to Poolesville.

At the end of six years the Cambridge Light & Power Co. will own the plant and the Cambridge Public Service Corporation will own the franchise.

Engineer Dies in Cab.

David S. Reeder, of Centerville, Md., formerly of Wilmington, for the past 31 years an engineer in the Delaware railroad was stricken with apoplexy while on his locomotive, at Townsend, at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and ten minutes later died in the railroad station there, to which he was taken immediately after becoming ill.

Mr. Reeder had run his train up from Centerville on time and appeared to be in good health. So far as is known, he had not been ill nor had he been complaining, which made his death a great surprise as well as a shock to his family and many friends.

A physician was summoned immediately after Mr. Reeder had been stricken and saw him at the railroad station, but it was soon evident that life was fast ebbing away. After Mr. Reeder's death arrangements were made to send the body to his late home at Centerville.

Mr. Reeder who was 56 years of age, was one of the oldest employees of the Delaware railroad, and was also one of the best known. He had been in the service of the company for 40 years. For many years he ran trains on the main line of the road and also on the Delaware, Maryland and Virginia divisions during, which time he lived in Wilmington. Three years ago last Friday he was transferred to the Centerville branch, and shortly thereafter he moved to Centerville, where he had made his home ever since.

Mr. Reeder was regarded as one of the best engineers on the road, and he could always be counted upon to make good time. He never had any serious accident.

He is survived by a family, one of his sons, W. J. Reeder, of Wilmington, being an engineer on the Delaware road.

For a long time Mr. Reeder was one of the most enthusiastic members of the Weococo Fire Co. He was also a chief of the Wilmington Fire Department, having been elected in 1884.

Wide Tires Will Pay.

A bill to encourage the use of wide tires on wagons and carts by a rebate of taxes, is to be offered at the present session of the Legislature. The purpose of the bill, which applies to the whole state, is as follows:

That after the approval of the not every person who during the year ending June 30th, 1907, and each succeeding year thereafter until June 30th, 1909, uses or has used on the public highways under the care of the counties or hundreds of this state, wagons or vehicles with wheels, upon which two or more horses are used or two wheeled damped carts, the tires of which shall not be less than four inches in width, may receive a rebate of taxes for road purposes of $1 for each wide tire wheel in any one year, provided that such rebate shall not exceed the total amount of road taxes payable in each year by said person. The right to such rebate shall not be affected by the use upon the public highways of buggies, carriages, or platform spring wagons carrying a weight not exceeding one thousand pounds. Upon making an affidavit showing that he has complied with the provisions of this section during any such year he shall be credited by the county treasurer or the collector of such taxes, with the rebate due him under this section.

Section 2 provides that from June 30th 1906, to June 30th, 1911 a rebate of 50 cents for each wheel which has a tire not less than four inches wide may be allowed; from June 30th, 1911, to June 30, 1913 no rebate shall be allowed and from after June 30th, 1913 an additional charge of 50 cents on each wheel not provided with tires four inches in width in compliance with the first section of the act, shall be assessed and collected by the proper authorities.

Section 3 says: That any incorporated city, town or borough is hereby given authority to pass an ordinance or law in compliance with sections 1 and 2 of this act.

This is a big stride towards keeping the roads in better condition. -Delmar News.

After Many Days.

By Capt. Luke W. Steel, of the "Fakula Maru."

All had been doing wrong on the miston ship, that is, things had not been going our way, and of course they were wrong. Perhaps it is that we had been trying again to "hustle the East" and had found that it would not be hustled, at least not our wee bit of it. We lay off a village, the home of one of our sailor boys, a large village, and had as it was large. We wanted to get away, hopped by vigorous action to take the bitter bite out of a cold January day, but there we were—stuck!

The sailor lad had come to us with a crab-like slide that in our neighborhood is considered a token of respect, but which we forthwith inwardly took as an aggravating indication of the perverseness of all things temporal. "Captain, there is a strange woman in this village. She wants to see you, but I told her you were ill and wanted to rest." "Why do you call her strange?" "Well, she is not like any other woman we have ever had in this place. She's been here now sixteen years and we cannot make her out. She is above our women, somehow, and now today when I asked her why she wanted to see you, she called me aside, showed me a Bible she had hidden in the folds of her dress and confessed that she knew something about Christianity." Was this God's reason for the delay? Was this why things had gone wrong?

We sent the sailor lad to bring her. She came. Two little eyes and a luscious voice from over her shoulder, resenting the sight of the foreigner, explained the bundle on her back. Her story was this: She was born in another part of Japan and was a stranger in the village when her husband, a native of the place, brought her there. She was in sense a stranger still. Her husband had been schoolmaster and had died seven years after she came. She longed to go home, but the conditions of her marriage demanded that she remain with her husband's parents. Her early home had been a good one, the marriage as usual simply an arrangement, and her life in her present home among strangers almost unbearable. There were three ways out of her misery, one, to break her promises and go home; another to do as was the custom of the rough women of the place, break her promises and find another husband for herself in the very face of her mother-in-law; and last, take her own life. Often had she in the five weary years of widowhood thought of the last as the only hope of relief. But she had proved faithful during those years, even after they had given her in marriage to a relative of the family who was at least a kind man. Now, however, he was away at the war and she was left with the bundle on her back and a heart that was often sad and lonely. Those around her did not understand her and she felt herself to be a stranger still.

Hard as it is for a foreigner to enter into such a life and understand its difficulties we felt from what we had heard from our sailor lad that here was no common woman and here no common reason for her standing so firmly by what to her as a Japanese woman would seem just and right. And the reason came out. Here it is:

She had been in her uncle's home in Osaka as a girl. He was a Christian. There she had heard of God's love and of Christ who came to the lonely ones of earth. She had heard at that time, but had not seriously pondered. When her husband died and her sorrows, great enough before, grew apace, she longed to run away and go home to her mother. She wrote expecting encouragement; but to her surprise her mother sent her the good old Book, bidding her trust God and do right, for during her absence her mother, too, had become a Christian. This at first she resented, and, doubting her mother's love, was tempted to take her own life. But no sooner would she think of this than something she had heard in her uncle's home would come back to her. "For" she said "you know this teaching is like a stain of blood, somehow it will not wash out. The villagers think me strange, I know. I have never told anyone of this for they all hate Christianity but this is the secret of my holding out. Your ship has been here before and I have longed to come and hear more, but dared not. At last I could not stand it any longer, so have come today. Though nobody knows it, I have this Bible. Though no one hears it, I pray."

Then with all the tenderness that an old sailor could find, we told her of the ever-running experience of God's children amid the trials and loneliness of life, of how all that God permitted to come of sorrow and darkness was but a token of his love for us.

With an eager responsive face she listened. That had been just her experience and she was so grateful to hear that it was not hers alone, but that others had been led as she had. A promise to send a Bible woman followed, and by that time even the little bundle on the woman's back had got to the point of giving the old sailor a smile and as our lad with the crab-like slide took the woman ashore, she told him how her heart had been filled with hope, comfort and good cheer that day.

Then why do we tell this story? Let us tell you.

Why things go wrong on the mission ship, that is, when things do go our way, that we have learned to expect a special measure of God's goodness and merciful guidance when we sail out to sea.

Always To Be Depended Upon.

When a person gets up in the morning with a dull headache and a tired, stretchy feeling it is an almost certain indication that the liver, or bowels or both are decidedly out of order.

At such times Nature the wisest and best of all doctors, takes this means to give warning that she needs the help and gentle assistance which can best be obtained from that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, which has been in use for over a century.

They are the same fine laxative tonic pills your grandparents used when doctors were few and far between and when people had to have a remedy that could absolutely be depended upon.

Brandreth's Pills can be depended upon and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

—According to the Daily Mail of Birmingham, the centre of England's jewelry manufacture, says that there are now made many imitation pearls which look so like the real thing that they deceive experts. They are made by means of a transparent glass shell, a little glue, and some essence of the Orient, a silvery pearly substance, composed of fine scales rubbed from a small fish called the "bleak" or the "ablete." 70,100 of which require rubbing to get a pound.

ECZEMA ON FACE AND HANDS

Troubled from Childhood With Skin Eruptions—In Winter, Hands Would Crack Open and Swell Twice Their Size—Skin Now in Splendid Condition.

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"From childhood I had always been troubled with skin eruptions, more or less, and in winter my hands would crack open all over the back. You could lay a straw in any of them, but since using the Cuticura Remedies for the eczema about five years ago I have not been troubled in any way. At that time, I think, I got the eczema from handling imported hides at the Custom House stores. I doctored for it for over a month without relief. It was on my hands and face, and my hands were swollen twice their size. After losing time, I was told of a woman whose finger nails had fallen off and was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, so I tried them and I was cured, and my skin is in splendid condition now and does not crack in cold weather. I gladly give you permission to publish any part of my letter relating to the cure and use of the Cuticura Remedies. Henry O'Neill, 4649 Girard Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., July 2, 1905."

Complete Treatment for Every Humor from Pimples to Eczema

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set, costing but one dollar, is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disgusting, itching, burning, and scaly skin, scalp, and face, eruptions with loss of hair, and hair loss, and is the only medicine that cures.

Dangerous for Wheel.

Grain men, in common with other interests, deplore the decisive weather changes to which wheat has been subjected this winter. So far as growing wheat is concerned, it is said, it makes no material difference when the weather is wholly "open" or warm or when it is continuously cold. It is the alternate freezing and thawing which causes the damage. This condition has not yet occurred to such an extent as to cause much injury.

The warm weather forces the wheat to a vigorous growth naturally. Should it be followed by a cold spell and by a snow fall, which would remain on the ground for any considerable period, the crop would be benefited. If a cold spell should follow it and the ground be filled with frost and then a warm spell should again come to dissolve it, the germinating grain might be harmed.

—His Wife—"I'm afraid you don't love me as much now as you did before we were married, dear."

Her Husband—"Of course I don't. You certainly wouldn't expect a man to love a married woman as he would a maid, I hope."

Many of the engines passing here on route for Southern roads are equipped with electric headlights. It seems to be only a question of time when the old fashioned and unsatisfactory oil lamp headlights will be a thing of the past.

It Quiets the Cough

This is one reason why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so valuable in consumption. It stops the wear and tear of useless coughing. But it does more—it controls the inflammation, quiets the fever, soothes, heals. Ask your doctor about this.

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstrual weaknesses, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, a cracked, flabby, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and as her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WOMEN AS JEWELERS

SOME OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL IN BOTH BRANCHES OF THE CALLING Women Are Succeeding Here and In Europe—Much of Their Work Done in the Semi-Precious Stones
Now Popular.

Women goldsmiths and jewelers are having considerable success both in Europe and America. The latest of them are regularly instructed in schools of design and in the shops of working jewelers and goldsmiths.

Much of their work is in the semi-precious stones now popular. These owe their charm to the tasteful fashion in which they are mounted and arranged.

The women jewelers have been especially successful in following the chains, collars, necklaces and the like, which, from the artistic and artistic design. As yet for color, a sure taste in matters of form, and delicate and artistic work are the necessary equipment for this kind of work.

The advantage that the women find in this kind of work is that it may be done at their own homes, wherever they can see a view, a small force and crucibles. Some of the women jewelers work for the trade, and it is a good deal easier for them to obtain from the employing jewelers work in semi-precious stones than in more expensive jewels.

The fashion in jewelry is constantly changing, and there is a growing demand among the wealthy for specially designed jewels. Many wealthy women are easily interested in new materials and methods in jewelry, and it is to such patrons that some of the women jewelers look for employment.

As humility is necessary to greatness, so is neatness to beauty. Beginning the world, if you don't wish to get chafed at every turn, fold up your pride carefully, put it under lock and key and only bring it out to all on state occasions. Pride is a garment of stiff brocade outside—all grating rascals on the side next the skin. Even kings don't wear the dalmatian aspect of ornamentation.

Work holds man together, braced at all points; it does not suffer him to doze or wander. It keeps him actively conscious of himself, yet raised among superior interests. It gives him the profits of industry with the pleasures of a pastime.—Stevenson.

I call that mind free which sets no bounds to its love, which is not imprisoned in itself or in a sect, which recognizes in all human beings the image of God and the rights of His children, which delights in virtue and sympathizes with sorrow.—Channing.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS.
Before scalding milk raise out the pan with cold water. This will keep the milk from burning.
In blowing out a candle hold it aloft and blow upward. This will prevent the scattering of the grease.
To revive the luster of morocco, or any other leather, apply the white of an egg with a sponge.
Use a little ammonia or soda in the water when washing glass. It will make them sparkle like cut-glass.
For bread flour should be warm enough to favor the growth of the yeast plant.
Hold a piece of white cloth back of the needle and see how quickly the thread will go through.
When cleaning knives mix a tiny bit of carbonate of soda with the bath brick, and they will polish more easily.

Mrs. Craigie's Address.
An amusing story of the late Mrs. Craigie, the noted novelist, was told at the Authors' Club in New York.
"When Mrs. Craigie was in America," said an editor, "she was invited to make an address at a certain meeting. She accepted the invitation, but her name, through some oversight, was put far down on the programme, and, worse than that, the chairman, a rather stupid person introduced before her some speakers who were not on the programme at all. It was close on 11 o'clock when the chairman, with a pleasant smile, bowed and said: 'Mrs. Craigie, the eminent author of 'Some Emotions and a Moral,' will now give us her address.'
"Mrs. Craigie rose and said calmly: 'My address is No. 54 Lancaster Gate, Hyde Park, West London, and I now wish you all good night, for I am far from home.'

The Hinging or singing sound noticeable when the piano is played frequently is due to what is called "sympathetic vibration." This is produced by the ordinary motion in the room vibrates in sympathy with some particular tone in the piano.
To ascertain the cause of this vibration the key which seems to produce the difficulty should be struck by one person and another go about the room listening carefully and then the artist, which vibrates, can be discovered and the cause removed.
Any hard substances, no matter how small, when dropped inside of a piano, will cause a rattle or jarring noise.
Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation, drastic physics, gripes, sloths, weakens the bowels, and don't cure. Doan's Kidney Pills gently and cure constipation. If you are troubled with any disease of the skin there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Salve. It relieves the itching and burning, soothes the skin, and cures a skin. Sold by C. L. SALT FROM THE CLOUDS

Saline Showers Peculiar to Utah and Wyoming.

DEPOSIT LIKE SNOW

Windows Whittened and Clothes Erected With Tons of Solid Matter Which 'Fell From the Heavens' This Phenomenon Occurs in Other Countries.

One of the curious phenomena of Utah and Wyoming is an occasional rainfall of salt water. Recently there was reported to the Weather Bureau an instance of a rainfall of this sort throughout a belt of country extending from Ogden, Utah, to Evanston, Wyoming. This shower of rain was so strongly impregnated with salt that the clothes of persons upon whom it fell were, when dried, thickly crusted with a white powder, which was nothing more than common salt. Umbrellas were quite white with it, and pieces of glass in the windows were rendered for the time opaque, says the Philadelphia Record.

According to the report of the whole town of Evanston looked as if it had been whitewashed. When the sky cleared the roofs glistened in the sun as if with frozen snow. The Weather Bureau man estimated that in the town Evanston an amount of salt equivalent to 23 tons had fallen.

The shower lasted about two hours, and during all this time the rain which fell was saline.

This phenomenon is far from being a new one. The water which falls from the west, and all the rain that has impregnated with salt in that region comes from that quarter. The cause is not hard to find. It is simply the Great Salt Lake of Utah, that vast body of intensely salt water, out of which, under favorable conditions, a considerable quantity of salt may be taken up into the atmosphere, to be precipitated later upon the surrounding country.

Evanston is about 55 miles from the nearest waters of Great Salt Lake, and it is regarded as a somewhat remarkable fact that so great a quantity of salt should have been borne so far.

There is, however, another opportunity than that presented by the Great Salt Lake itself for the impregnation of the air with salt in the Central Basin. There are countless depressions all through the vast region between the Rocky and Sierra Nevada Mountains, which are nothing less than great salt lakes dried up. Great Salt Lake itself is becoming more and more salt from year to year; the same process has taken place in other depressions until the water has literally turned to salt.

Compared with Mono Lake, or Owen's Lake, the waters of Great Salt Lake seemed limpid. Owen's Lake, in a sense, supplies showers of soda water instead of salt water for the waters in addition to being brackish, are the most strongly impregnated with soda of any lacustrine basin in the United States. It is estimated that the quantity of soda deposited in the basin of Owen's Lake is at least 120,000,000 tons.

So common is salt in some form in the closed basins of the West that peaks and hills of salt, like those which line the slopes of Death Valley, are anything but rare. Here and there, in fact, the drifting sands of the desert depressions are impregnated with salt.

The United States is not the only country in which salt showers occur. In Paris itself, when rains descend from the Atlantic have been borne so far inland, perceptible quantities of sodium chloride have been found in the rain water. In England and Ireland coatings of the salt have been found on the trees many miles inland after a heavy rain from the sea, and showers so less saline than that of Evanston have fallen in the neighborhood of the Caspian Sea.

Intelligence of the Dog.
That a policeman on night duty in a great city would be more respected by criminals if accompanied by a powerful and sagacious dog, is a reasonable supposition; yet it remained for little Belgium to carry out this innovation. In Antwerp, Ghent, Mons, Bruges and Ostend—an innovation which has now spread to other parts of Europe.

As time went on, says a writer in the Century, and the number of dogs was increased, it became apparent that night crimes, even in the worst quarters of Ghent, almost disappeared. Cunning ruffians had often contrived to outwit the soldierly patrol, but, these, big, swift, silent-footed and sagacious sheep-dogs inspired terror in the most desperate evildoers.

The night service of the city is now made by about 130 guards, assisted by 50 or 60 perfectly trained dog-police. The city is divided into 120 sections, so arranged that man and dog can always count on their neighbors' support if occasion should arise. Careful check is kept upon the men that they visit every yard of their beat; but even if the men are found to be idle, the dog-police will keep them up to it. If the night guards are used by day they are extra pay, and a corresponding number of hours is taken from their next night watch.

A Japanese Lady Speaks of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of Carg Services at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by C. L. Dickerson, 221 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, Md.

More Entertainment For The Skaters At The Rink.

That Salisbury will not be without plenty of amusement is manifested by the preparations being made by Manager J. D. Showell of the skating rink.

The attractions for the coming week promise excellent entertainment. On Monday evening the feature will be a wheel-barrow race, open to all skaters. Prizes will be awarded to the winner and to the man finishing second.

For Thursday evening a grand march will be given. This march will be led by Prof. and Mrs. Joseph Hull, of Baltimore, and all skaters are requested to take part. Prof. Hull claims that this is the most spectacular performance produced on roller skates.

Monument to a Dog. Our illustration shows a memorial fountain to a dog erected in Battersea, London, which bears the following inscription: "In memory of the devoted dog 'Duke' who died in the laboratories of the University College in February, 1906, after having endured vivisection extending over more than two months and having been handed over from one vivisector to another until death came to his relief. The fountain stands fifteen feet high and was erected by the anti-vivisection society."

How Long Ostriches Live. Nothing is positively known as to how long an ostrich will live. Some writers claim that it will live 100 years. Ostriches which are known to have been in captivity for forty years are still breeding and producing healthy offspring.

A Man's House Is His Castle.

It should be fortified—protected with good paint. Ten houses are burnt up by slow decay, from not being properly painted, to every one that is destroyed by fire. And it costs but little to keep a house well painted. If the right kind of paint is used. The best painter in the world cannot do a good job with poor paint; but give a good painter pure White Lead and Linseed Oil, and you will surely get a job that will look well and wear well. They are economical paints because they cover so much more surface and wear so much longer than ordinary paints. Let me give you an estimate on the best.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy And Ambition Slipping Away.

Salisbury women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the healthly approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders.

Mrs. C. F. Powell, proprietor of a boarding house on Main Street, near Hall, Atkinson & Co.'s drug store, Oristfield, Md., says: "It is about ten years since I first felt symptoms of kidney complaint. I had terrible distressing backache, so bad at times that I could hardly turn over or move in bed. No position I assumed was comfortable and in the morning when I awoke my back was lame and sore.
Not only did I suffer from kidney trouble but I had terrible dizzy spells and severe headaches which I presume were due to the same cause. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. I never used a remedy that acted so quickly and gave immediate relief. I not only speak from my own experience but from that of other members of my family who have used them with equally good results. It is with pleasure, therefore that I recommend this remedy.

Plenty more proof like this from Salisbury people. Call at White & Leonard's drug store and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, States.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be lost forever. Deafness comes out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars

"The Human Body" was the subject set for an essay at a Board school says the London Express. A little girl sent in the following. It is absolutely genuine. It shows a most delightful confusion of ideas, yet with a clearness of thought:

"The human body is divided into three parts, the head, the chest and the stomach."

"The head contains the eyes, ears, nose, mouth and brain, if any."

"The chest contains the heart, lungs and part of the liver."

"The stomach is entirely devoted to the vowels of which there are five, namely, a e i o u and sometimes y and z."

Lathyrus And Catarrhal Headaches.

are quickly relieved by Nosen's. It soothes the congested membranes, allays inflammations and thoroughly heals and cleanses. It keeps moist all the passages whose tendency is to thicken and become dry. Cures colds, throat troubles, hoarseness, hay fever,
"stopped up" nose, breathing through mouth while sleeping, offensive breath, etc. It is antiseptic and contains no chemicals or drugs having a narcotic effect, or that can cause the "drug habit."

WE GUARANTEE SATISFACTION.

J. A. Brogdon, of the National Sign
Co. Dayton, Ohio, writes under date of Oct. 13, 1906: "Nosen's is the only preparation I have ever used that relieves my affection so speedily and pleasantly. I am getting the first real pleasure out of breathing that I have experienced since I contracted catarrh six years ago. Money would not buy my tube of Nosen's if I could not get another."

mar, get your money back if not satisfied. Sample tube and booklet by mail

Dr. Morse a few years ago invented lately, he has so improved it that it can now be used for cooking. The heat can be regulated to within less

THE GRIPSE.

As one who lived far inland day by day,
And knew in legend only in dream
The open Deep, yet 'ere he passed away Went down at last by rill and widening stream,
And tottering to a cliff beheld the Sea,
And woke to life's more luminous lost sweep,
And in his one hour asked regretfully
To slumber there beside that alien Deep—
So I God grant, who sometimes hear above Earth's din the Sea, and thro' this restless Sleep
Have seen in thin momentary echoes Life's better things, and my poor broken dreams,
Of Beauty known, shall some day yet with love
Of wider visions follow Hope's thin stream,
And ere the twilight falls shall humbly creep,
By many paths where many sorrows
wend,
Out to the last one headland, and
By my belated Ocean, in the end!

Washington, D. C.—That the year just brought to a close was a banner one in the history of the United States Industrial activity, far outdistancing any previous record, is the deduction of statistical experts of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The value of manufacturers' raw materials imported in the eleven months of the past year was 402,000, against 370,000 in the corresponding months of 1906; and the value of manufactures for further use in manufacturing was $283,000,000 against $180,000,000. The total value of manufactures exported in the eleven months of the year just closed was, of manufactures for further use in manufacturing, $230,000,000 against $194,000,000, in a like period in the preceding year, and of manufactures ready for consumption, $148,000,000 against $91,000,000, indicating that the total value of manufactures of all kinds exported during the year will exceed $700,000,000.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

QUANTICO

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Taylor have returned from their trip south.

Miss Beattie Scarborough, who has been visiting Miss Kathryn Taylor, left Monday for Baltimore.

Miss Clara Bailey and Marousa Brown spent a few days at Willards last week hunting.

We are glad to have Miss Lillian Adams and Miss Alice Brady in our midst again.

Miss Beattie Taylor and Miss Lulu Brown are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Wright this week.

Miss Beattie Woolford spent last week with relatives in Tyaskin.

There will be service in St. Phillips Church next Sunday morning, January 27.

FRUITLAND.

Our little town is now to fever's heat on the abill road question. The commission kindly granted several thousand bushels of shells and everybody has had a hand in improving the road. Some have worked faithfully putting on the shells. While others have worked fully as hard to crush them by driving over them, as their part of the improvement.

Mr. Wm. Alvord has greatly improved and benefited the town by his new Shurtz Factory that is now in operation.

Our improvements are nearly finished and we are glad for we feel sure that there will not be a great deal more done for the next few days, by some, but trust for "the bear" that one of our wood cutters has recently found the track of.

KELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Marion D. Collins attended services at Wango Sunday evening, Rev. J. W. Gray pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mitchell spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Gertrude Matthews.

The brown bear has disappeared and has not been seen lately. We suppose he starved to death.

The mad dog that passed through town last Friday morning was killed about four miles from Salisbury Friday afternoon.

Mr. Milton Busk has moved from Mr. E. P. Gordy's place to Mrs. Shockley's farm where he now resides.

UNION.

There will be preaching at Union Church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. John Livingston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Pauloy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ennis moved last week to their new home known as William Higgins farm.

Miss Alice Toodyne spent part of the week with Miss Stella Pollitt.

Rev. W. Biggs Elliott and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brown took supper last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William T. Brown.

Happy to report Preacher got lost again we guess, as he did not fill the pulpit Sunday night, wish him better luck next time.

Mr. Mary Shockley and son, Luther spent Sunday last with her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Busale who is very ill.

Happy to say the other day, an accident happened around this way, while a lady was clearing her table away.

A gentleman decided a kiss he would take over once thought he, that dishes would break.

It was great was the fall, down came knives, forks, dishes and all, but thought in vain, alas too late for they had broken almost every china plate.

Reader so he said C. Y. S. K.

If premiums are awarded on good country roads and the champion dough players the people of this vicinity to be sure will win the prize.

MARDELA SPRINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Venables spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elliott.

Miss Anne Waller and Miss Hettie Bonnds spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Willards.

Mrs. Emily Donoho, wife of Capt. W. F. Donoho fell while ascending the stairs a short time ago and was very badly hurt; she is slowly improving.

Mr. Samuel Hitch of Salisbury spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. Ernest Kennerly, of Poomoke spent a few days last week here.

Mr. Ernest Griffith, of Allen spent Sunday in town.

Mr. Kerr Elemons, of Delmar paid our town a visit last week.

Glad to see the Rev. B. O. Parker out again.

Miss Beattie Bounds returned home from Delmar Thursday.

The protracted meeting has closed at the M. P. Church.

Mr. Spencer Walker, a farmer residing about three miles from here has sold his personal property and is going south for the winter.

Mr. James Waller, of Hebron was in town Saturday and while here traded horses to the joy of some one.

THE BABY IS CUTTING TEETH.

Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

POWELLVILLE, E.

St. Zion Methodist Protestant Church, Powellville circuit will be reopened this Sabbath, 27th at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Walter E. Graham, D. D., of Easton, Md., will preach on the occasion and have charge of all services. The whole community are cordially invited to attend and note the great improvement made in the church property. Much credit is due Rev. G. H. Stockdale for his persistent efforts and aggressive spirit in pushing the work to completion. He has served this charge nearly five years and has built a splendid parsonage home, painted and beautified the home church, inside and out, moved and repaired the stables and barn, and from the observance of the writer, has made this a new charge and as he contemplates a change in appointments it is truly hoped by all he will receive an appointment from Dr. Little, he truly merits, such men are always in demand.

The services in the M. E. Church for this Sabbath at Mt. Pleasant 10:30 a. m. Willards 9 p. m. Friendship 7:30. This is the last revival for the M. E. Churches now being held and it is to be hoped it will result in much good. There have been thirty conversions in the other churches and we trust very much good has been accomplished.

Brother Blizard has paid us a short visit this week and as we are tired of warm weather in mid winter, the boys buttoned their coats and said let it blow.

Making strawberry baskets is the chief industry here. Some of our women have made one thousand in a day.

Owing to good weather the big mill and factory here owned by E. V. White and Co., has been running most of the time which affords our town people employment. Money seems fairly plentiful and all wear a smile.

NUTTERS.

Mr. Edward Obatham had an old timey house warming last Tuesday. Those present were Misses Nora Davis, Nettie Davis, Minnie Austin, Corn Fields, Ida Fields, Messrs. Alfred Jones, Elisha Johnson, Stephen Davis, Elmer Trader, Roy Johnson, John Ennis, Carl Givans. The dance lasted until eleven o'clock and then refreshments were served consisting of ice cream, cake and candy and oysters on the half shell. All report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Parsons spent last Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Trader.

Miss Magrie Jones has been quite ill for the past two weeks.

Mr. R. P. Trader spent last week with his father, Mrs. R. A. Trader of near Mt. Herman.

Quite a lot of people had been on the outlook for the stray bear and when they found him it was a black sheep.

Mr. Alfred Jones and S. J. Parsons are engaged in the horse shoeing business near Mt. Herman.

Mr. Isaac Bowen and son have about completed the cutting of a large tract of timber for A. P. Malone.

Mr. Carroll Twilley has built a nice six room house on part of the L. W. Twilley farm where he now resides.

This winter has fooled all the Almanacs and we have had fine weather most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. William Trader spent last Sunday with his uncle Mr. Alfred Jones.
