MR. COVINGTON HERE

And Opens The Congressional Campaign in An Impressive Speech Before A Large Crowd At The Court House.

Hon. J. Harry Covington, candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket addressed a large number of voters in the Court House on Thursday night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Camden District Bryan-Korn-Covington League, which had planned to hold the meeting in Camden District and had arranged a stage and platform in South Salisbury for this purpose but owing to the cool weather it was decided to change the place of meeting to the Court House.

Many who were not aware of the change in programme went out to the South Salisbury grounds. The Court House however was well filled, even the standing room being taken up as well as the Judges' room in the rear of the main hall. It was a very noticeable fact about the audience that it was composed of as representative a class of citizens as could well be gotten together and almost entirely of voters. The number present is variously estimated from four to five hundred. The first music of the campaign was heard on the streets when the Salisbury band led the crowd to the Court House at 8 o'clock. Band music has become quite a feature of campaigns in this county and Thursday night's rallying tune gave notice that the fall campaign had opened.

Mr. Covington in his speech dwelt principally on National issues, discussing the tariff question in an able way, while the crowd came in for some hard words. Mr. Covington is an able, forcible talker and held the attention of the audience throughout his 45 minutes talk. The unusual close attention paid to the speaker came in for quite a little comment and it was remarked that almost throughout the meeting, a pin dropped, could have been heard. Mr. Covington showed his ability as a campaigner during his entire stay in Salisbury.

Coming with little notice and unexpected by all he resolved town on Wednesday evening and quietly got to work seeing the people and getting acquainted. As far as it was possible in his brief stay here he moved around among the people and saw a large number. With a remarkable memory of faces and a pleasant way of meeting the people Mr. Covington made good impression wherever seen. It is said that no such a campaign of getting among the voters and seeing those who actually decide the election on election day has been waged by any candidate for Congress since United States Senator John Walter Smith made his campaign. Judging from the work done here one can readily

TO DISCOURAGE TOBACCO

Using Among Boys of Salisbury. Crusade To Be Made Against The Abuse. In response to a call issued by Superintendent of Schools Wm. J. Holloway, a meeting of the clergy of Salisbury, the editors of the local papers, and the City School Principals was held Tuesday afternoon in the office of the School Board to discuss ways and means of stopping the use of tobacco by school boys. It was pointed out that this is a habit that has been formed to an alarmingly extent by children of this town. It is a common sight to see boys of nine and ten years of age broadly puffing away at a cigarette and carrying a pouch of tobacco which they evidently believe makes them appear more like men. Some interested persons have examined this tobacco, and in many instances it was found to consist, apparently, of weeds and bark, colored to represent tobacco, with little of the real article added to give a semblance of the real flavor. Whoever sells this stuff is violating the United States Statutes, as well as the laws of Maryland, in that the sale of adulterated articles is contrary to the Pure Food and Drugs Act passed by Congress, and the sale of tobacco in any form to youths under 18 years of age is in violation of the laws of Maryland, and is punishable by a fine of from ten to one hundred dollars. Not only is the sale prohibited, but it is also illegal to buy the stuff for boys, or even to give it to them. This is entirely aside from the moral and sanitary questions involved. It is a fact affecting experienced educators, that the use of tobacco by youths dwarfs and stunts their minds and the cause of many boys being unable to advance beyond the fifth or sixth grade may in large part be attributed to the habit of smoking and chewing. It is a practice, too, for boys to share the same cigarette with others. It is impossible even to estimate how many diseases are transferred in this way. Committee to formulate plan of permanent organization:— Rev. W. A. Cooper, Rev. K. A. Handy, Mr. Southey King White, Mr. Wm. J. Holloway, Miss Alice Road-vius, Miss Ada Louise Scott.

A CITIZEN'S MEETING

Called For Next Saturday Afternoon To Aid In The Enforcement Of Corrupt Practices Act. To The Voters of Wicomico County. At a public meeting held last fall to organize an Anti Bribery League, the undersigned were appointed an Executive Committee. They think it proper to call a PUBLIC MEETING for the election of officers and to take such action as the people think proper for securing the Parity of the Ballot, and enforcing the New Law known as the Corrupt Practices Act. We make no comment on the past conduct of political parties in this particular. The Practices Act. IT IS ESPECIALLY DESIRABLE THAT THE FIRST ELECTION UNDER THE NEW LAW KNOWN AS THE CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT SHALL BE ABOVE ANY SUSPICION OF VIOLATION, AS HARDLY ANY GREATER CALAMITY COULD COME TO THE PEOPLE OR THE CAMPAIGN OR ELECTION TAINTED WITH THE SUSPICION OF BRIBERY. Two Things Make It Easy To Keep And Enforce The Law. First: Conscientious Public Opinion has been growing steadily, grounded on the facts that it is a crime for the individual to offer bribes, and dangerous to Honest Government and Free Institutions. Second: The Law itself is easily enforced because it is EASY TO CON-VIOL UNDER IT, AS WELL AS EASY TO HAVE THE ELECTION SET ASIDE. To the end; 1st. That the people may be fully advised as to the New Law; 2nd. That Public Opinion may be thoroughly aroused and organized. We earnestly request all citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, to assemble at the Court House in Salisbury, on Saturday, October 10th, 1908, at 2 o'clock P. M. JAS. E. ELLEGOOD, THOS. H. WILLIAMS, URIAH W. DICKEKSON, J. CLEVELAND WHITE, JOHN H. DULANEY, FRED P. ADKINS, Executive Committee.

PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

Mrs. Joseph Laccelle, 124 Bronson St., Ottawa, East, Ontario, Canada, writes: "I suffered with backache and headache for over nine months and nothing relieved me until I took Peruna. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable, half-dazed, half-alive condition. "I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peruna, they would soon know its value and never quit it." Kliner, 2048 E. 36th St., S. E., Ohio, writes: "I was suffering from a very bad headache and backache for several days. I had suffered for several days previous to taking Peruna. Since I can say that I feel much better, I will say that any sufferer in any form of headache or backache."

CITY BONDS SOLD

The Mayor and City Council were notified this week by Baker, Watts and Co., Baltimore Bankers that they would accept the Bonds at the price bid—$100,200. This firm made a conditional offer for these bonds on the night of the 24th. when the bids were to be opened. The conditions mentioned were that the issue should be passed upon by their attorney, W. Cable Bruce of Baltimore. Mr. Bruce gave a favorable opinion and the company notified the city authorities they would take the bonds. These are the same bonds previously advertised and sold by the council to the Peoples National Bank for $104 1-8, which the Bank refused to take, acting on the advice of their attorneys, who advised against them owing to what they claimed were irregularities in the form and method of the issue.

THE FALL OPENINGS

Of Millinery Show Great Variety in Headgear—Some Of The Models.

All of the Millinery stores in town have put on their brightest colors this week, for the doors have been thrown open to the lovers of beautiful "head-gear." The design and effects are unusually attractive this year and our ladies are enjoying one of the treats of their lives in viewing the beauties intended to adorn the heads of our misses and matrons the coming season.

R. E. Powell & Company.

As usual R. E. Powell & Co., had a large and pretty display of all the latest designs in hats and millinery goods. A few of the hats are described below:

Large Shepherdes hat of white moire faced with black velvet. Side crown trimmed with imported cut jet band, two very large wings fastened at base with cabochon at right side.

At Mrs. Taylor's.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor showed the largest and most select line of millinery ever exhibited by her, demonstrating all the new ideas in colors, shapes and materials and the correct way of wearing the "new hat." With the imported models was the "Directoire" hat of black silk velvet, jet cabochons and Ostrich Plumes.

The London smoke hat called "Faupe" of French felt with pas velvet silk with roses of the "Catawba" shadings.

A mulberry hat of silk corded with the large square black trimming.

The Carnard blue, Peacock blue French model, with fancy feathers and Posahentas bands.

A mourning hat, with crepe and silk lining showing the net veil, with collar.

A Pearl grey-hat for a child with 10 yds of ribbon, and Cabochons of souchaie braid, with many other handsome models for children.

At Lowenthal's.

Lowenthal's display of fall and winter millinery was more varied than ever before. Hats seem to be larger than ever, although many small hats are worn.

The new colors were displayed, which are, Onnard, Amethyst, Taupe, Leather.

A beautiful hat of Amethyst was a very large concave brim, with a cut steel buckle and six large plumes.

Another of black satin, with the entire crown dropped in Swans down and large black wings on the side.

Childrens hats are shown in profusion, light blue, white and coral velvet. Bonnets for the little ones are among the novelties of many other Hats and Toques were also shown.

The window display was of green which was the predominating color; large birds, flowers and wings with Amencoe. Buckles seem to lead.

Open at night.

Democratic Campaign Contributions

The undersigned, as Treasurer of the Committee of One Hundred, a political organization throughout the State of Maryland for the purpose of electing Bryan and Kern and the regular Congressional candidates of the Democratic party, having duly given bond to the State of Maryland and filed the same with the Secretary of the State, as provided under chapter 123 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1906 for the purpose of preventing corrupt practices, is now in position to receive and account for, according to law, such contributions as may be made by all citizens; and has also been appointed by the Democratic National Committee, member of the Finance Committee of the National Organization for the State of Maryland.

This new law, which throws much labor on political treasurers, directs the names of all contributors and the amounts given to be made a public record in the Circuit Court Clerk's office of the respective counties of Baltimore City. No subscriptions without the name of the giver can be received. Any person who subscribes in any other name than his own, and every treasurer who knowingly receives such a subscription, is subject to fine and imprisonment and will be ineligible to public office for four years from the date of the offence.

Every Democrat in the State of Maryland, who is financially able, should at once make a contribution for the cause either as a local Treasurer, or to the Treasurer of the State Central Committee, Hon. Murray Vandiver, or to the undersigned, and the name of the contributor will be placed on the Roll of Honor to be recorded in the courts of record as directed by the Statute.

If the people desire to rule and throw off the yoke of the special interests, they should respond to this lawful opportunity and contribute to necessary and proper political expenses.

BLAIR LEE, Treasurer, Silver Spring, Maryland.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlett, of Rural Route 1, Guilford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good. 25c. at Tuolson's Drug Store.

The U. S. Government in its "Pure Food Law" does not "indorse" or "guarantee" any preparation as some manufacturers in their advertisements would make it appear. In the case of medicines the law provides that certain drugs shall be mentioned on the labels if they are ingredients of the preparation. Ely's Cream Ointment, the well-known family remedy for cold in the head, hay fever, and nasal catarrh does not contain a single injurious drug, so the makers have simply to print the fact that it complies fully with the requirements of the law.

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Convention at Baltimore. Many Prominent Speakers—A Great Program Arranged.

A rare treat will be offered the Sunday School workers of Maryland through the 22nd. Biennial State Convention of the Maryland Sunday School Association to be held in Baltimore, October 22nd, and 23rd.

The Brantley Baptist Church has been secured for the sessions of the convention, and although this is one of the largest churches in the city, it is expected that it will be taxed to its utmost capacity.

The Convention speakers will include some of the leaders in Sunday School work throughout the country, and many conferences will be conducted during the sessions by specialists in Grading, Teacher Training, Elementary Work, Adult Organized Class Work, and other live topics in which all progressive Sunday School workers are interested.

A feature of the Friday afternoon session will be a great Children's Mass Meeting at the Lyric Music Hall, with a Children's Choir of four hundred voices.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 20th and 21st, which immediately precede the convention, a preliminary Workers' Institute will be held at Harlem Ave., Christian Church, with three lessons daily. Among the Sunday School specialists who will serve as instructors in this institute are, Miss Florence H. Darnell, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner of Illinois; and Dr. Milton H. Littlefield, of Brooklyn, N. Y., together with Dr. Chas. Roads, Mrs. W. Mason Williams and Mr. Preston Eddis, who are all well known to Maryland Sunday School workers through their previous connection with the State organization work. For this workers' Institute a nominal fee of 25 cents will be charged to cover cost of material used, which fee is to be paid to the enrollment committee when registering.

The Committee of Arrangements are planning to furnish free entertainment to a certain number of delegates from each county. Good board can be secured in Baltimore, at $1.00 per day and upwards. Full information regarding entertainment for the convention can be secured by addressing Rev. John P. Campbell, Chairman of Entertainment Committee, 316 N. Charles St., Baltimore.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Salisbury Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep fop" must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney illa. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. R. L. Redden, living on Tilghman St., Salisbury, Md. says: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I made a statement for publication in 1905, and it gives me pleasure at this time, May 9th, 1907, to reiterate all I said in favor of them in my former statement. I suffered from abnormal kidneys for four years or more. My kidneys failed to perform their functions and the poison which should have passed off with the secretions, passed again into the blood and affected my whole system, causing not only excruciating backache and misery through my loins but my back became so weak at times as to prevent me from attending to my ordinary household duties. I spent sleepless and restless nights, and weary, languid days, and there seemed to be no help for me. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at White and Leonard's Drug Store. It is the only medicine that ever gave me any real, lasting benefit. They cured me and I have not had any return of the complaint since, my blood was purified, and my general condition was wonderfully improved.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Would Mortgage The Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Becklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold, would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c. at Tuolson's Drug Store.

For Chronic Diarrhoea.

"While in the army in 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief until Mr. A. W. Miles of this place persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale at Tuolson's Drug Store.

Annapolis 200 Years Old.

November 22 will be the two hundredth birthday of Annapolis and for several months Mayor Claudio and others have been considering how this event could be observed in the most fitting manner. It has been decided to hold a three day celebration. A tentative program has been mapped out and arrangements are now well under way.

A movement is also on foot to erect a memorial fountain in the circle near Market Space as a permanent reminder of the occasion, and the cornerstone is to be laid during the celebration.

The provisional program calls for special services and sermons in all the churches on the morning of the first day and a general religious and thanksgiving service at 4 p. m. in St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal Church.

On Monday, the 22d, at 10 a. m., a patriotic demonstration is to take place in the State House, at which Governor Prother and Mayor Claudio will deliver addresses. A historic paper will be read, and there will be singing by a special choir of trained voices from the city churches and public schools.

In the afternoon of the same day there will be a big street parade. The Naval Academy and other hands will be in line, also fraternal orders and societies, public school children, State militia, the battalion of St. John's College cadets, United States Marines, city fire department, merchants and floats. After the parade the corner-stone of the memorial fountain will be laid and at night there will be a subscription banquet.

Tuesday will be a banner day in athletic. The program calls for contests at St. John's College, in which all Maryland colleges will be invited to participate. The celebration will be brought to a close in the evening with a dance.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good" and Doctor Pierce's medicine well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a medicine that has come into prominence in an earlier period of our country's history, and it has never been "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottles wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug; therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Trust on your rights to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting to produce a cure. It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago, as an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve. It is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

MONKEYS FIND AN EASY MARK.

Collect Prof. Haggerty's Bananas as He Tests Their Imitative Faculties.

Because it was a very hot day and he was dull the city editor sent a reporter to the New York Bronx Zoo to see how Melvin Haggerty, a Harvard Professor, is getting along in the monkey house, where he is spending the summer in the interest of Cambridge culture. He is getting a line or several lines on the intelligence of the intelligent monkey. The City Editor wanted some too.

"You don't need a guide to point Haggerty as you survey the monkey cages. Haggerty had his clothes on. Stroiling up to the cage the reporter asked pleasantly:

"Does it seem sort of natural in there?"

Although his name does not sound as if he came from Harvard, there can be no doubt that Haggerty knows his back Bay and that he is bearing

"I hope Billy doesn't copy from me himself with her," said Billy's sister to her mother a little later, as she waved her hand at the crowd departing in the machine.

"Why, you were so fond of her and so anxious he should fall in love with her," said her mother with a puzzled expression. "I think she is sweet."

"She is a snippy little cat and she washed-out looking," said Billy's sister. "She is so independent and arrogant in front of some of the boys who are going to get married."

"I don't think Ruth need have upset the whole party the way she did last night," complained Billy's sister to Billy the next day. "She is going home to-morrow and I'll really feel relieved, for she is so hard to entertain."

"Pook little girl!" said Billy meditatively. "When'll she be back from the hair dresser? She's been gone an hour and forty-five minutes."

"She may stay there all day for all I care," remarked Billy's sister, indifferently. "I suppose you won't take her a little ride in the machine when she comes in, for we ought to be nice to her, even though we are so tired of her. We never will have her to visit us again anyhow."

possibilities of just what monkeys think of the rest of mankind.

He's been with the monkeys quite a while now, and already he knows more tricks than Marceline ever dreamed of. It is stated on good authority, however, that Haggerty will not be turned from his serious purpose by any tempting offers he may get from the stage. He is there to study monkey psychology to the end that Newport may not have anything on Harvard in the future. His able

Recently Harrigan, a big muscled monk, was led out of his cage, after he had seen the trick performed a number of times. Plainly showing lack of education, Harrigan grabbed the rope violently and pulled the whole business down. The Harvard monkeys chattered their disgust at Harrigan's rap off with the bananas.

Prof. Haggerty is taking his job very seriously, and does most of his stunts while the public is not around. So don't go up to the Zoo expecting to see a free show.

It gigantic size may be judged by Buried Church Treasure in England. There must be a good deal of treasure in the form of church plate and so forth concealed in different parts of the country, as quantities of it were buried at the time of the dissolution of the monasteries.

There are two legends in Worcestershire regarding some silver bells, for instance, which have been handed down most persistently from one generation to another, since the sixteenth century. One version of the story is that the bells were buried by the last Abbott of Evesham, Abbot Litchfield, in a subterranean passage which formerly existed between the abbey and a house on the opposite bank of the river, while the other story has it that a peal of silver bells was buried at the same period (the Abbots Morton, a village ten miles distant from Evesham.—Wide World Magazine.

A Stone in Which 30 Peopic Live. During the course of the centuries the enormous stone known as Yermolovs Rock has been so tunnelled that it resembles a gigantic rabbit-warren. In its interior, says a Russian paper, live five families, numbering no fewer than 30 people. The stone is in the Caucasus, within half a mile of the Georgian military road.

The Jap's Increase. As a result of its war with Russia the area of Japan's territory was raised from 159,000 square miles to 242,000 square miles, and her population increased by 10,000,000.

MISS BELLM'S ASSISTANT

Miss Bellum, public stenographer for the Hyperbolic building, would have lost her well earned reputation for astuteness if her latest investment had been made known. It was an assistant. That in itself, I grant you, is not extraordinary, but this assistant did not really assist, and that does look queer, you see.

It came about that Miss Bellum's sudden discovery that she had more work than she could attend to, and from the advertisement which she promptly inserted in a morning paper. The result of this ad—one of many results, of course, but the one which concerns us—was little Miss Marjory Holt. Now, Miss Bellum desired a discreet combination of industry and sodateness; she did not approve of flirtation even in a business office. By this you will see that Miss Bellum was no longer young; she was indeed, on the shady side of thirty-three, and plump and majestic-looking besides. But still her heart was tender, and when Marjory appeared, a slender wisp of a girl with a crop of chestnut curls and an air of genteel starvation, she engaged her on the spot and agreed to pay her the magnificent sum of $6 a week.

This performance was the more erratic that Marjory, who had picked up typewriting while copying her father's sermons at home in the parsonage, boasted that she sometimes could do several lines without a mistake, knew nothing whatever of shorthand, and at the ridiculous age of 19 could not be expected to even appear sedate.

Ever on $6 a week it is possible to find enough to eat, and Marjory improved both in looks and ability. It was not until spring, however, that Miss Bellum heard her protegee's story. It was late one afternoon, when the work on hand had been finished, and in Miss Bellum's office, that was an event worthy of celebration. Of course, there was a very nice young man in the story, who was not only very nice, but also quite rich, and he had wanted to marry little Marjory Holt.

"Though I never could understand," said Marjory solemnly, "why he should want to, for I am quite, quite ordinary!"

"What was the matter—didn't you like him?" inquired Miss Bellum briskly.

"Oh, yes, very much. It was only that I was dreadfully tired of being taken care of; I wanted a chance to look out for myself. And to marry means to be taken care of always, you know." Miss Bellum nodded with an odd mixture of wistfulness and defiance; to the outsider marriage often means just that.

"The time will come when you would give the world for that one thing, child," she predicted grimly. "I know—it is lonely in the city sometimes," Marjory admitted. "Just evenings," she explained quietly.

"Of course, only in the evenings," assented Miss Bellum.

"And Sundays, when it rains," added Marjory honestly.

"How about Christmas?" asked Miss Bellum. The girl shivered; the memory was still fresh of that Christmas evening spent in the hall bedroom of a South End lodging house.

Miss Bellum's Assistant

with only the poor cheer of a red tissue paper bell hung in the window; for on $6 a week one does not buy holly if one is wise. Marjory returned to her story quickly.

"Well, Rudolph said he would take good care of me, and I wanted—oh, so much—to take care of myself, for I never had. So I took a year to make up my mind, and he persuaded rather to let me come up to the city."

"Have you seen him lately?" The girl shook her head.

"Not since then. I think he must have forgotten; of perhaps—her breath caught—"he may have stopped caring." Miss Bellum's heart must have been hard after all, for she was actually pleased to observe that the girl's chin quivered slightly; she thought it a very good sign.

"Now I'm sure I will come out all right," she observed cheerfully, and proved a better prophet than she knew, for hard upon her words there came a knock upon the door, and a young man entered—a young man who looked as though he might be very nice indeed, and also quite rich.

"Is Miss Holt—" he began. Marjory turned.

"Rudolph!" she breathed.

"I've got some telephoning to do," said Miss Bellum hurriedly, and stepping into the booth was sure that the double door was latched behind her. With a comprehending glance at Miss Bellum's broad back, just visible between the curtains, the young man was at Marjory's side in an instant. He studied her face for a long time before he inquired very gently:

"How is it, little girl—are you ready to come and—take care of me?" Marjory's face lighted.

"Let's take care of each other," she offered in a shy amendment. The typewriter table which she interposed soon afterward would not have proved an effectual barrier if Miss Bellum had not, after preliminary flicking of the latch emerged from the booth, one surveyed the two with great satisfaction. No explanation was necessary.

"It looks to me," she remarked genially, "as though I should have to advertise for another assistant!" And for the second time that day her prophecy came true.

The Deal Fell Through.

He had been drinking. That was very evident to the woman who came to the door in answer to his ring.

"Shay," he began after looking up and down the street nervously, "you put advertisement (hic) in paper this morning?"

"I did," she replied.

"You shed you (hic) words good home to get?"

"Yes, have you a cat you wish to get rid of?"

"Beshler yer life!" he replied heartily.

"She was about to ask for further particulars when a stockily built, angry looking woman stopped at the gate and motioned to the man with the remark:

"Jaks, you drunken fool, come down here to me this minute!"

"Thash her—thash ole cat I want to get home for," he whispered. "Shay when?"

"The lady who wanted a feline, however, quickly jessed and locked the door, while her caller slunk down the steps and was led away by the car.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician who consent themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, follows every vein in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary system.

It cures the inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. W. C. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Later the poet led his athletic acquaintance into the garden. Suddenly he exclaimed, "How selfish is the gardener who ruthlessly stamps his prejudice in favor of roses and violets and strawberries in a receptive garden bed. The time was when in April I pulled up the young weeds, the parsley and thistles, and planted the garden bed out with vegetables and flowers. Now I have decided to permit the garden to go until September. Then the black cloeds can choose for themselves between cockleburrs and currants and strawberries." That conversation that ended so disastrously for the athlete, states the whole principle. The father who leaves his boy in ignorance of arithmetic until he is twenty, is no more foolish than the one who leaves his child in ignorance of the essentials of Christianity until he is twenty. If the fundamental facts of grammar, arithmetic, spelling, the history of the country, physiology and the simpler forms of knowledge must be made second nature and placed upon the end of the boy's tongue, how much more important is it that the moral principles of Mount Sinai and the Sermon of the Mount, with the example, the method and the spirit of Jesus Christ be made nature for children.

Oh, how fierce life's stress! How do temptations come in with the might of the tide. How helpless the little swimmer unless trained and made expert and fully acquainted with all the hidden currents and with self-sustaining power, in spite of the wind and the tide. If the life pilgrimage was through a peaceful garden, rich in fruit and with a cooling spring, the task of a child would be one thing. But the pilgrimage is across a continent and the path is narrow and often steep.

But some one objects that compulsory knowledge may react into antagonism. To which the answer is that a little knowledge and a little compulsion are both dangerous things, but that more cures the evils of little training. The fact is, that so far from habit and rule doing away with freshness of feeling and spontaneity, they create that freshness and change hate to love. Feeble natures and weak intellects are perhaps injured by early compulsion, but not strong ones. In the school and college the child begins with hating the language, the science, the tool, but his dislike is based upon ignorance. The wise teacher knows that if he can compel the boy to learn a few facts about physiology or the history of his country, after a little the mind will take fire, and the flaming interest spread and grow into a mental conflagration. Pitt understood this principle, and used it with his son. He made the boy translate the great orations into good English. He made the child listen to his incidents of great orators. Keeping the boy away from his playmates, he filled his mind with tales of eloquence. For years it was compulsory, but when the boy was scarcely more than ten or twelve, he had the material in memory for interest and thinking. Thenceforth he was an enthusiast on the subject of oratory, and became the great speaker of the House of Commons.

What! Compulsion kill spontaneity! Look at this calla lily! Why, the very freshness, beauty and perfection of this flower stand for a field rule. By strict adherence to a set formula, nature prepares the flavor of the strawberry. By rigorous rule nature plants the apple blossom; nature varying her formula, she sends spice and tang to peach and pear. In the intellectual realm, also, in proportion as men have put themselves under rule and rigid compulsion, they have gone toward spontaneity of genius.

Where Bullets Flew. David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the Civil War, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." Sold at Toulson's Drug Store.

SHORT SERMON

FOR A SUNDAY HALF-HOUR

By Rev. Newell D. Hillis, Religion in the Home.

"I-day I must abide at Thy House."—Luke xix, 5.

A century ago an English deist, calling upon Coleridge, inveighed bitterly against the rigid instruction of Christian homes. "Consider," said he, "the helplessness of a little child. Before it has wisdom or judgment to decide for itself, it is prejudiced in favor of Christianity. How selfish is the parent who stamps his religious ideas into a child's receptive nature, as a moulder stamps the hot iron with his model. I shall prejudice my children neither for Christianity nor for Buddhism, nor for atheism, but allow them to wait for their mature years. Then they can open the question and decide for themselves." With difficulty Coleridge concealed his sneer.

Why Colds Are Dangerous. Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Constipation is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgement. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

Postmasters As Teachers. Postmaster General Meyer has issued an order directing all postmasters to unite with local school authorities in adopting the most effective method of instructing school children as to the organization and operations of the postal service, particularly the proper addressing of letters and the importance of placing return cards on envelopes.

The Watchword of Women. Modesty is woman's watchword. Whatever threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits a disease of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questioning, offensive examinations, and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment repugnant to modesty. Any sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence; all letters being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no advertising or other printing upon them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a "God send to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol. All its ingredients printed on every bottle wrapper.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 33 Years. I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. O. Earle, Oynhanna, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

"VIO CRISIS"

The Way of the Cross.

"Two women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken, the other left."

Together at life's mill we stood, My first born love and I, Worked step by step from babyhood—Up through the mase of womanhood Where sun and shade did lie. The shade for me—but over her The sunlight full and free Tinged opening dawn of wedded bliss With future joys to be.

Together stood we at life's mill, I and my first-born dear, Eyes blinded with joy's every thrill, Then low, it flickered, standing still, Lost in a strife most dear. Dearest for me—but oh, for her The mystic call most sweet, And answering: "Father, I am here." She slept at Jesus' feet.

At life's mill standing now alone, With ornaed and bleeding heart, A mother, crowned with sorrow's moans Pleads for the balm—Christ's very own. Which He can sweet impart. Peace for me, but oh, for her God crowned and sanctified. The joy of "being now like Him," Lord, make me satisfied. Mrs. J. J. Ely, Baltimore, Md.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life.

Read her letter. Mrs. T. C. Willard, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulcers, periodical pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WHY SUFFER

When relief can be obtained at small cost and at little trouble? Ask your grocer for a 10c package of Heintz Health Biscuits. These biscuits are a combination of cereals—oats, wheat, barley and rye—ground into meal, leaving all the nutritive elements for the building of muscle, bone, teeth and nerves, and at the same time possessing laxative qualities.

They regulate the bowels and restore the stomach to its natural condition. They are delicious as well as nourishing. Dr. George LeFevre, of Muskegon, Mich., says: "I have been using your Health Biscuits in my practice and have had remarkable success with them. My patients are delighted at this wonderful food." If you know the merits of these biscuits, you would not be without them. Everybody should eat Heintz Health Biscuits to keep well. They cost but 10c per package, at your grocer's. If he does not keep them, have him order them for you.

LAST CALL

On all this season's Wearing Apparel For Men & Boys.

We have firmly resolved, rather than carry over the residue of this season's stock, which is contrary to our custom and business principle, to offer to the people of Salisbury and surrounding the greatest inducements ever put before them in Clothing and Furnishings for Men and Boys.

No better opportunity to economize in the cost of the necessities of wearing apparel has ever been presented to the public, for it is our sole purpose never to carry any goods over from season to season, and during our final clearance sale prices will not be considered. Included in this sale are many suits that will do service the year around. Our purchases are arriving daily, and we are confronted with the problem of making room, which we will solve by placing the minimum prices on the balance of our stocks and give the public the maximum values to effect quick selling.

We also carry a full line of Shoes for both men and boys.

Buy now and save money, and remember that we make no false representations. Stop in and get our prices and be convinced.

Letter to W. F. Allen Imp. Co. Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sirs: Experience teaches some people sometimes; it teaches a few some things; it's mighty slow school though, that same experience.

Lots of people paint lead and oil paint once in three years, and think themselves wise: they are wasting half their money and fuss. They're so sure they are wise, they die as they live, 'paint foolish. Experience teaches them nothing.

There's another set, who buy paint by the gallon, and go by the price of a gallon. They think one price is high and another is low; and they pay about middling; why don't they say low? They know that milk isn't dear or cheap by the price of a quart; that the milk has something to do with. They don't buy "cheap" milk; but they buy "cheap" paint and pay double. Experience teaches them nothing.

There's another set. They painted years ago lead and oil; exhausted that. Then tried something else; it was better or worse. Then Devco; it cost about half and wore twice as long. That's how experience teaches some of us.

Yours Truly, F. W. DEVOE & CO., P. B.—I. W. Gunby Co., sell our paint.

—LOST—On Main Street, Saturday, Sept. 6th., between Spring House and Dr. Elderdice's, one ladies gold fob, watch pin, with two pic-back. Reward if returned to Mr. Mardela, Md. Old newspapers, 10 cents a copy at this office.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary—Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'Try them if you like, but I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Resolvent, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day. Mrs. Jean-Baptiste Renaud, clairvoyant, 277, Montana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

Both houses are exactly alike and both painted at same time by J. M. Torrance.

Talbot Counties Will Be Here To Contest In Tennis Tourney Thursday.

Representatives of the Brooklets Tennis Club, of Easton, were unable to be in Salisbury Thursday but they will come next Thursday October 15th, and will probably play much faster tennis than when they played Salisbury in September.

The visitors will arrive on the noon train Thursday and remain over until Friday afternoon. The events will be in Men's singles, doubles, mixed doubles, Ladies singles and doubles. There is decided interest in both towns over the outcome and the contests will be open to the public generally. The Prince of Peace.

Famous Lecture Delivered by William Jennings Bryan at Numerous Chautauquas and Y. M. C. A.'s, and at Tokyo, Manila, Bombay, Cairo, Jerusalem.

I offer no apology for speaking upon a religious theme, for it is the most universal of all themes. If I address you upon the subject of law I might interest the lawyers. If I discussed the science of medicine I might interest the physicians. In like manner, merchants might be interested in a talk on commerce and farmers in a discussion of agriculture. But none of these subjects appeals to all. Even the science of government, though broader than any profession or occupation, does not embrace the whole sum of life, and those who think upon it differ so among themselves that I could not speak upon the subject so as to please a part without offending others. What to me the science of government is intensely absorbing, I recognize that the most important things in life lie outside of the realm of government and that more depends upon what the individual does for himself than upon what the government does or can do for him. Men can be miserable under the best government, and they can be happy under the worst government.

Government affects but a part of the life which we live here and does not touch at all the life beyond, while religion touches the infinite circle of existence as well as the small arc of that circle which we spend on earth. No greater theme, therefore, can engage our attention.

Man is a religious being. The heart instinctively seeks for a God. Man is essentially devout. There are honest doubters whose sincerity we recognize and respect, but occasionally I find young men who think it smart to be skeptical. They talk as if it were an evidence of larger intelligence to scoff at creeds and refuse to connect themselves with churches. They call themselves "liberals," as if a Christian who is narrow minded. To these young men I desire to address myself.

Religion the Basis of Morality.

Even some older people profess to regard religion as a superstition, partly due to the ignorance and unworthiness of the educated, a mental state which one can and should outgrow. Those who hold this view look down with mild contempt upon such as give to religion a definite place in their thoughts and lives. They assume an intellectual superiority and often take little pains to conceal the assumption. Religion has been defined as the relation which man fixes between himself and his God and morality as the outward manifestation of this relation. Every one by the time he becomes "mature" has fixed some relation between himself and God, and no material change in this relation can take place without a revolution in the man, for this relation is the most potent influence that acts upon a human life.

Religion is the basis of morality in the individual and in the group of individuals. Materialists have attempted to build up a system of morality upon the basis of enlightened self interest. They would have man figure out by mathematics that it pays him to abstain from wrongdoing; they would even inject an element of selfishness into altruism. But the moral system elaborated by the materialists has several defects. First, its virtues are borrowed from moral systems based upon religion. Second, as it rests upon argument rather than upon authority it does not appeal to the young, and by the time the young are able to follow their reason they have already become set in their ways. Our laws do not permit a young man to dispose of real estate until he is twenty-one. Why this restraint? Because his reason is not mature. And yet a man's life is largely molded by the environment of his youth. Third, one never knows just how much of his decision is due to reason and how much is due to passion or to selfish interest. We recognize the bias of self interest when we exclude from the jury every man, no matter how reasonable or upright he may be, who has a pecuniary interest in the result of the trial. And fourth, one whose morality is based upon a nice calculation of benefits to be secured spends time figuring that he should spend in action.

Morality is the power of endurance in man, and a religion which teaches personal responsibility to God gives strength to morality. There is a powerful restraining influence in the belief that an all seeing eye scrutinizes every thought and word and act of the individual. There are difficulties to be encountered in religion, but there are difficulties to be encountered everywhere. I passed through a period of skepticism when I was in college, and I have been glad ever since that I became a member of the church before I left home for college, for it helped me during those trying days. The college days cover the dangerous period in the young man's life. It is when he is just come into possession of his powers, when he feels stronger than he ever feels afterwards, and he thinks he knows more than he does.

ON ITS WAY HERE.

Salisbury To Have An Attractive Hour in Dixie Next Tuesday Evening.

The appearance at Ulman's Opera House, October 13th, of Mrs. Elizabeth Pattee Wallach, under the auspices of Miss Louise Gunby for the benefit of the building fund of the Wicomico Presbyterian Church offers to the citizens of Salisbury an evening's entertainment which cannot be excelled in originality or quality anywhere in the country.

Mrs. Wallach, who has toured all over the country for the past three seasons with unsurpassed success, has never failed to receive the highest support of the press. Such criticisms as the New York Sun, the Musical Courier of New York, the Philadelphia Record, the Philadelphia Inquirer and the New Century Journal are unanimous in their recognition of her powers and ability as well as the unique qualities of her entertainment.

Schooled as she has been by many years before the public, both as a vocalist and reader, and aided by her charming personality and perfectly trained contralto voice of superior quality, "An Hour in Dixie" in the hands of such an artist should be a recital that will appeal to the South and all her lovers.

As the name implies, the entertainment is a collection of negro folk and characteristic songs, poems and stories sung and told in the dialect of the real old "Suthern Dixie."

Tickets can now be secured at Box office or from Miss Louise Gunby, price 50c.

FRIENDSHIP.
 Dear friends of old!
 I will not say with boasts of great gold,
 But something of far GREATER worth,
 Than anything inherent to the earth;
 But hearts of LOVE—
 A gift from Heaven above.

I've tested you
 Through many years, and ALWAYS found you true;
 In every phase of sickness or of health,
 I've drawn upon this boundless store of wealth
 Of loving deeds
 Sufficient for my needs.

I know not WHY
 Or whence doth come this strange, mysterious tie,
 But somehow feel that every human clod
 Possessing it is very near to God.
 I only know,
 I'm glad that it is so.

What deep despair
 Would come to me if I should lose my share,
 And be estranged from that dear, loving band,
 And nevermore could clasp them by the hand,
 And meet each eye
 Unfathomably.

Each knoweth each:
 It needs no high-flown rhapsodies to teach;
 For those who read this sure will understand
 If they are members of this little band.
 Which year by year
 Grows dearer and more dear.

Yet there are TWO—
 The one hath eyes of brown, the other blue—
 So late embarked upon their devious way,
 They scarce would understand this riddle:

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 33 Years.
 I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. C. Earls, Cynthiana, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

West Africa will become the greatest maize growing country of the world, three crops a year, says Sir Alfred Jones, president of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce.

Nature has just one pigment on her palette with which she produces all the marvelous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the iridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends upon the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, heighten the complexion, brighten the eyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty.

This is not a "patent medicine" because every bottle bears upon its wrapper a full list of the ingredients. Send for free booklet to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

EASY TO MIX THIS.
 Prepare At Home By Shaking Ingredients Well in A Bottle.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, which is said to be a positive remedy for backache or kidney or bladder derangement, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic affliction with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sit and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

Goats are rapidly becoming one of the most important ranches of live stock now raised in the northern part of the Republic of Mexico. Requiring but little care they are especially adapted to the rock grazing lands surrounding this plateau. Many persons here are engaged in the business of buying goats and feeding them for two or three months, when they are marketed at a large profit.

DOCTOR'S ORDER WAS: 'CUTICURA'

For a Bad Case of Eczema on Child—Suffered for Three Months—Disease Reached a Fearful Stage—Pain and Itching were Terrible.

CURED AFTER OTHER PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED

"When I was small I was troubled with eczema for about three months. It was all over my face and covered nearly all of my head. It reached such a state that it was just a large scab all over, and the pain and itching were terrible. I doctored with an able physician for some time and was then advised by him to use the Cuticura Remedies which I did and I was entirely cured. I have not been bothered with it since. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment but do not know exactly how much was used to complete the cure. I can safely say that Cuticura did a lot for me. Miss Anabel Wilcox, North Branch, Mich., Oct. 20, 1907."

ITCHING CURED
 With Cuticura Remedies in Three Days After Six Months of Suffering.

"I suffered fully six months. The trouble began on my arms in little red pimples and it was not long before it was all over my body, limbs, face and hands. It was so bad that I could not rest night or day and during the six months, I did not get a good night's sleep. I doctored for three or four months and spent at least twenty dollars trying to find a cure but none could be found. Then I saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised, and the next day I purchased some for seventy-five cents at the druggist's. I used them and I was relieved of the itching in three days, and I have never had a sign of any skin disease since. The Cuticura Remedies are the only remedies to use for skin diseases, they have cured me and they will cure others in the same way. J. W. Bloom, R. R. Telegrapher, Holloway, Mich., Nov. 20 and Dec. 29, 1906."

The Prince of Peace

It was at this period that I was convinced by the different theories of evolution. But I examined these theories and found that they all assumed something to begin with. The regularity of fossils, for instance, assumes that matter and force existed, matter in particles infinitely fine and each particle separated from every other particle by space infinite, great. Beginning with this assumption, force working on matter, according to this hypothesis, creates a universe. Well, I have a right to assume and I prefer to assume a Designer back of creation, a Creator back of creation, and no matter how long you draw out the process of it, you cannot shake God out of it. It is as certain as my faith in Jehovah, in Genesis it is written that in the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, and I can stand on that proposition until I find some theory of creation that goes further back than "the beginning."

I do not carry the doctrine of evolution as far as some do. I have not yet been able to convince myself that man is a lineal descendant of the lower animals. I do not mean to find fault with you if you want to accept it. All I mean to say is that, while you may trace your ancestry back to the monkey if you find pleasure or pride in doing so, you still cannot connect with your family tree without more evidence than has yet been produced. It is true, that man in some physical qualities resembles the beast, but man has a mind as well as a body and a soul as well as a mind. The mind is greater than the body, and the soul is greater than the mind, and I object to having man's pedigree traced on a third of him only, and that the lowest third.

One does not escape from mystery, however, by accepting this theory, for it does not explain the origin of life. When the followers of Darwin have traced the germ of life back to the lowest form in which it appears, and to follow him one must exercise more faith than religion calls for, he finds that scientists differ. Some believe that the first germ of life came from another planet, and others hold that it was the result of spontaneous generation. If I were compelled to accept one of these theories, I would prefer the first, for if we can chase the germ of life off this planet and get it out into space we can chase the rest of the way and no one can contradict us, but if we accept the doctrine of spontaneous generation we cannot explain why spontaneous generation ceased to act after the first germ was created.

Go back as far as we may, we cannot escape from the creative act, and I am just as easy for to believe that God created man as he is to believe that millions of years ago he created a germ of life and endowed it with power to develop into all that we see today. But I object to the Darwinian theory, because I fear we shall lose the consciousness of God's presence in our daily life if we must assume that through all the ages no spiritual force has touched the life of man or shaped the destiny of nations. But there is another objection. The Darwinian theory represents man as reaching his present perfection by the operation of the law of hate—the merciless law by which the strong crowd out and kill off the weak. If this is the law of our development, then, if there is any logic that can bind the human mind, we shall turn backward toward the beast in proportion as we substitute the law of development when nations have advanced in proportion as they have departed from that law and adopted the law of love.

But, while I do not accept the Darwinian theory I shall not quarrel with you about it. I refer to it only to remind you that it does not solve the mystery of life or explain human progress. I fear that some have accepted it in the hope of escaping from the miracle, but why should the miracle frighten us? It bothered me once, and I am inclined to think that it is one of the test questions with the Christian.

Why Shouldn't Miracles Be Performed? Christ cannot be separated from the miraculous. His birth, his ministrations and his resurrection all involve the miraculous, and the change which his religion works in the human heart is a continuing miracle. Eliminate the miracles and Christ becomes merely a man, and his gospel is stripped of its power.

The miracle raises two questions: "Can God perform a miracle?" and "Would he want to?" The first is easy to answer. A God who can make a world can do anything he wants to do with it. The power to perform miracles is necessarily implied in the power to create. But would God want to perform a miracle? This is the question which has given most of the trouble. The more I have considered it the less inclined I am to answer in the negative. To say that God would not perform a miracle is to assume a more intimate knowledge of God's plans and purposes than I can claim to have. I will not deny that God does perform a miracle or may perform one merely because I do not know how or why he does it. The fact that we are constantly learning of the existence of new forces suggests the possibility that God may operate through forces yet unknown to us, and the mysteries with which we deal every day warn me that faith is as necessary a sight. Who would have credited a century ago the stories that are now told of the wonder working electricity? For ages man had known the lightning, but only to fear it. Now this invisible current is generated by a man made machine, imprisoned in a man made wire and made to do the bidding of man. The miracle is not more mysterious than many of the things with which man now deals. It is simply different.

It is sometimes said that God could not suspend one of his laws without stopping the universe, but do we not suspend or overcome the law of gravitation every day? Every time we move a foot or lift a weight, we temporarily interfere with the operation of the most universal of natural laws, and yet the world is not disturbed.

Science has taught us so many things that we are tempted to conclude that we know everything, but there is really a great unknown which is still unexplored, and that which we have learned ought to increase our reverence, rather than our egotism. Science has disclosed some of the machinery of the universe, but science has not yet revealed to us the great secret—the secret of life. It is to be found in every blade of grass, in every insect, in every bird and in every animal, as well as in man. Six thousand years of recorded history, and yet we know no more about the secret of life than they knew in the beginning. We live, we plan, we have our hopes, our fears, and yet in a moment a change may come over any one of us, and this body will become a mass of lifeless clay. What is it that, having we live, and, having not, we are as the clod? We know not, and yet the progress of the race and the civilization which we now behold are the work of men and women who have not solved the mystery of their own lives.

And our food—must we understand it before we eat it? If I refused to eat anything until we could understand the mystery of its growth, we would die of starvation. But mystery does not bother us in the dining room. Only in the church is it an obstacle. I was eating a piece of watermelon some months ago and was struck with its beauty. I took some of the seed and dried them and weighed them and found that it would require some five thousand seed to weigh a pound. And then I applied mathematics to that forty pound melon. One of these seeds put into the ground when warmed by the sun and moistened by the rain goes to work. It gathers from somewhere two hundred thousand times its own weight and, forcing this raw material through a tiny stem, constructs a watermelon. It covers the outside with a coating of green, inside of the green it puts a layer of white, and within the white a core of red, and all through the red it scatters seeds, each one capable of continuing the work of reproduction. Where did that little seed get its tremendous power? Where did it find its coloring matter? How did it collect its flavoring extract? How did it build a watermelon? Until you can explain a watermelon do not be too sure that you can set limits to the power of the Almighty or say just what he would do or how he would do it. I cannot explain the watermelon, but I eat it and enjoy it.

Power That is Infinite and Divine. Everything that grows tells a story of infinite power. Why shouldn't a divine hand feed a multitude with a few leaves and fishes when I see hundreds of millions fed every year by a hand which converts the seeds scattered over the field into an abundant harvest? We know that food can be multiplied in a few months' time. Shall we deny the power of the Creator to eliminate the element of time when we have gone so far in eliminating the element of space?

But there is something even more wonderful still, the mysterious change that takes place in the human heart when the man begins to hate the things he loved and to love the things he hated, the marvelous transformation that takes place in the man who before the change would have sacrificed the world for his own advancement, but who after the change would give it up for a principle as noble as a sacrifice for his neighbor.

Christ promoted peace by giving us assurance that a line of commandments be established between the Father and the child. And who will measure the satisfaction that has been brought to troubled hearts by the hour of prayer?

Proof of immortality. And immortality! Who will estimate the peace which a belief in a future life has brought to the sorrowing? You may talk to the young about death and all, for life is full, and hope is strong, but preach not this doctrine to the mother who stands by the deathbed of her babe or to one who is within the shadow of a great affliction.

Christ gave us proof of immortality, and yet it would hardly seem necessary that one should rise from the dead to convince us that the grave is not the end. To every created thing God has given a tongue that proclaims a resurrection.

The Father deigns to touch with divine power the cold and pulseless heart of the buried sinner and to make it burst forth from its prison walls, will he leave neglected in the earth the sinner of man, made in the image of his Creator? If he stoops to give to the rose-bush whose withered blossoms float upon the autumn breeze the sweet assurance of another springtime, will he refuse the words of hope to the sons of men who lie in the cold earth?

Christ as an Example of Humility. Humility is a rare virtue, if one is rich he is apt to be proud of his riches. If he has distinguished ancestry he is apt to be proud of his lineage. If he is well educated he is apt to be proud of his learning. Some one has suggested that if one becomes humble he soon becomes proud of his humility. Christ, however, possessed of all power, was the very personification of humility.

The most difficult of all the virtues to cultivate is the forgiving spirit. Revenge seems to be natural to the human heart. To want to get even with an enemy is a common sin. It has even been popular to boast of vindictiveness. It was once inscribed on a monument to a hero that he had repaid both friends and enemies more than he had received. This was not the spirit of Christ. He taught forgiveness, and in that incomparable prayer which he left as a model for our petitions he made our willingness to forgive the measure by which we may claim forgiveness. He not only taught forgiveness, but he exemplified his teachings in his life. When those who persecuted him brought him to the most disgraceful of all deaths his spirit of forgiveness rose above his sufferings, and he prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

What conclusion is to be drawn from the life, the teachings and the death of this historic figure? Reared in a carpenter's shop, with no knowledge of literature save Bible literature, with no acquaintance with philosophers living or with the writings of ages dead, this young man gathered disciples about him, promulgated a higher code of morals than the world had ever known before and proclaimed himself the Messiah. He taught and performed miracles for a few brief months, and then was crucified. His disciples were scattered and many of them put to death. His claims were disputed, his resurrection denied and his followers persecuted, and yet from this beginning his religion has spread until millions take his name with reverence upon their lips and thousands have been willing to die rather than surrender the faith which he put into their hearts.

How shall we account for him? "What think ye of Christ?" It is easier to believe him divine than to explain in any other way what he said and did and was. I have selected this theme that I may present some of the reasons which lead me to believe that Christ has fully earned the title the Prince of Peace, and that in the years to come it will be more and more applied to him. Faith in him brings peace to the heart, and his teachings when applied will bring peace between man and man. And if he can bring peace to each heart and if his creed will bring peace throughout the earth who will deny his right to be called the Prince of Peace?

All the world is in search of peace. Every heart that ever has sought for peace, and many have been the methods employed to secure it. Some have thought to purchase it with riches, and they have labored to secure wealth, hoping to find peace when they were able to go where they pleased and buy what they liked. Of those who have endeavored to purchase peace with money the large majority have failed to secure the peace. But what has been the experience of those who have been successful in accumulating money? They all tell the same story—they say that they spent the first half of their lives trying to get money from others and the last half trying to keep others from getting their money and that they found peace in neither half. Some have even reached the point where they find difficulty in getting people to accept their money, and I know of no better indication of the ethical awakening in this country than the increasing attention to accumulating the methods of money making.

A long step in advance will have been taken when religious, educational and charitable institutions refuse to condone immoral methods in business and leave the possessor of ill gotten gains to learn the loneliness of life when one prefers money to morals. Some have sought peace in social distinction; but whether they have been within the charmed circle and fearful lest they might fall out or outside and fearful that they might get in, they have not found peace. Some have thought—vain thought!—to find peace in political prominence; but, whether offices come by birth, as in monarchies, or by election, as in republics, it does not bring peace. An office is conspicuous only when few can occupy it. Only when few in a generation can hope to enjoy an honor do we call it a great honor. I am glad that our Heavenly Father did not make the peace of the human heart depend upon the accumulation of wealth or upon the holding of social or political distinction. For in other cases but few could enjoy it, but when he made the reward of a conscience void toward God and man be just reach of all. The poor are as rich as the rich, the freest as the leader of the ablest citizen, and the wisest of political

And if he can bring peace to each heart and if his creed will bring peace throughout the earth who will deny his right to be called the Prince of Peace?

All the world is in search of peace. Every heart that ever has sought for peace, and many have been the methods employed to secure it. Some have thought to purchase it with riches, and they have labored to secure wealth, hoping to find peace when they were able to go where they pleased and buy what they liked. Of those who have endeavored to purchase peace with money the large majority have failed to secure the peace. But what has been the experience of those who have been successful in accumulating money? They all tell the same story—they say that they spent the first half of their lives trying to get money from others and the last half trying to keep others from getting their money and that they found peace in neither half. Some have even reached the point where they find difficulty in getting people to accept their money, and I know of no better indication of the ethical awakening in this country than the increasing attention to accumulating the methods of money making.

A long step in advance will have been taken when religious, educational and charitable institutions refuse to condone immoral methods in business and leave the possessor of ill gotten gains to learn the loneliness of life when one prefers money to morals. Some have sought peace in social distinction; but whether they have been within the charmed circle and fearful lest they might fall out or outside and fearful that they might get in, they have not found peace. Some have thought—vain thought!—to find peace in political prominence; but, whether offices come by birth, as in monarchies, or by election, as in republics, it does not bring peace. An office is conspicuous only when few can occupy it. Only when few in a generation can hope to enjoy an honor do we call it a great honor. I am glad that our Heavenly Father did not make the peace of the human heart depend upon the accumulation of wealth or upon the holding of social or political distinction. For in other cases but few could enjoy it, but when he made the reward of a conscience void toward God and man be just reach of all. The poor are as rich as the rich, the freest as the leader of the ablest citizen, and the wisest of political

Christ promoted peace by giving us assurance that a line of commandments be established between the Father and the child. And who will measure the satisfaction that has been brought to troubled hearts by the hour of prayer?

Proof of immortality. And immortality! Who will estimate the peace which a belief in a future life has brought to the sorrowing? You may talk to the young about death and all, for life is full, and hope is strong, but preach not this doctrine to the mother who stands by the deathbed of her babe or to one who is within the shadow of a great affliction.

Christ gave us proof of immortality, and yet it would hardly seem necessary that one should rise from the dead to convince us that the grave is not the end. To every created thing God has given a tongue that proclaims a resurrection.

The Father deigns to touch with divine power the cold and pulseless heart of the buried sinner and to make it burst forth from its prison walls, will he leave neglected in the earth the sinner of man, made in the image of his Creator? If he stoops to give to the rose-bush whose withered blossoms float upon the autumn breeze the sweet assurance of another springtime, will he refuse the words of hope to the sons of men who lie in the cold earth?

Christ as an Example of Humility. Humility is a rare virtue, if one is rich he is apt to be proud of his riches. If he has distinguished ancestry he is apt to be proud of his lineage. If he is well educated he is apt to be proud of his learning. Some one has suggested that if one becomes humble he soon becomes proud of his humility. Christ, however, possessed of all power, was the very personification of humility.

The most difficult of all the virtues to cultivate is the forgiving spirit. Revenge seems to be natural to the human heart. To want to get even with an enemy is a common sin. It has even been popular to boast of vindictiveness. It was once inscribed on a monument to a hero that he had repaid both friends and enemies more than he had received. This was not the spirit of Christ. He taught forgiveness, and in that incomparable prayer which he left as a model for our petitions he made our willingness to forgive the measure by which we may claim forgiveness. He not only taught forgiveness, but he exemplified his teachings in his life. When those who persecuted him brought him to the most disgraceful of all deaths his spirit of forgiveness rose above his sufferings, and he prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

What conclusion is to be drawn from the life, the teachings and the death of this historic figure? Reared in a carpenter's shop, with no knowledge of literature save Bible literature, with no acquaintance with philosophers living or with the writings of ages dead, this young man gathered disciples about him, promulgated a higher code of morals than the world had ever known before and proclaimed himself the Messiah. He taught and performed miracles for a few brief months, and then was crucified. His disciples were scattered and many of them put to death. His claims were disputed, his resurrection denied and his followers persecuted, and yet from this beginning his religion has spread until millions take his name with reverence upon their lips and thousands have been willing to die rather than surrender the faith which he put into their hearts.

How shall we account for him? "What think ye of Christ?" It is easier to believe him divine than to explain in any other way what he said and did and was. I have selected this theme that I may present some of the reasons which lead me to believe that Christ has fully earned the title the Prince of Peace, and that in the years to come it will be more and more applied to him. Faith in him brings peace to the heart, and his teachings when applied will bring peace between man and man. And if he can bring peace to each heart and if his creed will bring peace throughout the earth who will deny his right to be called the Prince of Peace?

All the world is in search of peace. Every heart that ever has sought for peace, and many have been the methods employed to secure it. Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

TRUSTS FAVOR TAFT

"Interests" Are Strongly Represented on the Republican Committee.

SHELDON OFFICIAL FAT FRIER List of Those from Whom He Got Contributions.

Republican Treasurer is Director in 21 Corporations—Raised Big Fund in 1906—Recommended by Standard Oil Attorney.

Chicago, October 1.—(Special.)—In connection with the controversy which the President has raised as to whether the trusts and financial concerns are most interested in the election of Mr. Taft or Mr. Bryan, the Democratic National Committee calls attention to a few of the controlling spirits in the Republican Committee who are actively interested in trusts and monopolies.

At the head of the list stands George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee. Mr. Sheldon's selection for this important post of official "fat frier" was made upon recommendation of Wm. Nelson Cromwell, the great corporation lawyer of Wall Street, attorney for the Panama Canal Company, E. H. Harriman, the Standard Oil Company, the Sugar Trust, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers and brokers, and other favored interests.

Almost immediately after his appointment, Mr. Sheldon is reported to have received a contribution from Mr. Cromwell, amounting to $50,000. Mr. Sheldon is a multi-millionaire, the active head of the banking firm of W. C. Sheldon & Co., 3 Wall Street.

According to the "Directory of Directors" for the present year, Mr. Sheldon's name appears as a director in the following 21 corporations: American Locomotive Company, American Locomotive Automobile Company, Bethlehem Steel Corporation, Cincinnati Northern Railroad Company, Detroit Edison Company, Electrical Securities Corporation, Leaside Gaiting Company, Locomotive and Machine Company of Montreal (Limited), Locomotive Security Company, Metropolitan Trust Company, Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co., Milwaukee Light, Heat and Traction Co., National Copper Bank, New Jersey Terminal Dock and Improvement Co., North American Co., Republic Steel & Iron Co., of New Jersey, Rogers Locomotive Works, St. Louis Transit Co., Union Bag & Paper Co. of New Jersey, Union Electric Light & Power Co., Union Electric Light & Power Co., of St. Louis.

Mr. Sheldon's connection with the Locomotive Trust places him in close connection with the railroads of the country, where he is able to procure their campaign contributions. He is also a confidential agent of J. Pierpont Morgan in his Wall Street deals, and assisted in the formation of the Shipbuilding trust. His North American company controls the traction interests of St. Paul and Minneapolis. He is president of the Union League club, of which Rockefeller, Morgan, Carnegie and other powers in Wall Street are also members. He is also said to be a member of 20 other clubs whose membership includes practically all of the operators in Wall Street.

In 1906 Mr. Sheldon was treasurer of the New York State Republican committee, and succeeded so well in bringing the fat from the interests that Mr. Cromwell recommended him for a similar job with the National committee. According to the sworn statement of Mr. Sheldon, published after the campaign, he raised $238,223.69 chiefly from these interests.

The following is a partial list of the contributors as shown in Mr. Sheldon's statement: J. Pierpont Morgan, Wall street banker and promoter $20,000 Levi F. Morgan, banker, Wall street 20,000 John D. Rockefeller, of Standard Oil 5,000 Andrew Carnegie 5,000 Chauncey M. Depew, railroad and Standard Oil senator 5,000 H. E. Hoffman, financier 5,000 Jacob H. Schiff, favored banker 2,500 Harvey Fish & Sons, bankers and brokers 2,500 Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers and fiscal agents 2,500 J. & W. Seligman & Co., bankers and fiscal agents 2,500 Chas. W. Schwab, steel trust and other trust corps 2,000 C. R. Mackay, Postal Telegraph Co. 2,000 John W. Gates, stock gambler and trust operator 2,000 W. E. Corey, Pres. U. S. Steel Corp. 2,000 W. C. Sheldon & Co., bankers and fiscal agents 2,000 John Jacob Astor, house owner 1,000 Wm. Nelson Cromwell, trust lawyer 1,000

Table listing names and amounts of contributions to the Republican National Committee.

This is only a partial list of the trust magnates and financiers who contributed to Mr. Sheldon's fund. An index as to how much more Mr. Sheldon may be able to raise from these interests for the national campaign, the fact may be cited that Mr. Cromwell gave $1,000 to the state fund, and increased the amount to $50,000 for the national campaign.

Fred W. Upham of Chicago is assistant treasurer of the Republican National committee. He is a millionaire several times over, and a member of the County Board of Review of Illinois, which passes upon the amount of taxes which corporations and large estates shall pay in that state. He is a director in several corporations and is in charge of the collection of campaign funds in the west.

On August 21, 1908, after his appointment as Assistant Treasurer of the Republican committee, Mr. Upham sent out thousands of letters to corporation officials, whose taxes he passes upon as a member of the Board of Review, urging them to contribute to the Republican fund as "Individuals," and requesting them "to bring this matter to the attention of your business associates." The suggestion implied is regarded as significant.

Five of the nine members of the Republican committee are: Charles F. Brooker, Connecticut millionaire, member of N. Y. Chamber of Commerce, and vice-president New York, New Haven Railroad Co., against which a government suit is now pending, and one of the leading spirits in the brass trust; Frank O. Lowden, multi-millionaire, vice-president Pullman Palace Car Co., which is a monopoly; E. C. Duncan, director Atlantic & North Carolina railway, and other corporations, receiver Seaboard Air Line, and official dispenser of patronage in North Carolina.

T. Coleman DuPont, controlling factor in Powder Trust, against which the government has a suit now pending for dissolution; Boise Fenross, political boss of Pennsylvania, head of the corrupt Republican organization in Philadelphia, and conspicuous in many corporations; Roy O. West, chairman of the Republican State Committee of Ill., is also chairman of the County Board of Equalization, which passes upon corporation taxes.

Fred A. Sims, acting chairman of the Republican State committee of Indiana, is also chairman of the State Tax board, which passes upon the taxes levied against corporations. Mr. DuPont has been forced to resign from the executive committee because of his trust connections, but Mr. Brooker, against whose company the government has a suit, is still a member of the committee.

PROTECTING DEPOSITS IN BANKS. An Ohio Example of Taft's Position and Oklahoma's Proof of Bryan's Position. One of the planks of the Denver platform favors guaranteed bank deposits. Mr. Bryan addressed the Ohio legislature in February favoring guaranteed deposits. Former Governor Herrick subsequently addressed the legislature in reply to Mr. Bryan, opposing any such protection for banks and bank depositors.

Mr. Taft, in his speech of acceptance, denounced the plank of the Denver platform, which declares for a national law for banks similar to the Oklahoma law for state banks, thereby coinciding in the views of Mr. Herrick and opposing the views of Mr. Bryan. Below are two dispatches showing what Mr. Bryan stands for and what Mr. Taft stands for:

THE OHIO WAY. Cleveland, O., Aug. 17.—The creditors' committee, charged with an investigation of the affairs of the General Farmers & Merchants' bank, the cashier of which, Henry W. Gezell, is under arrest charged with embezzlement, tonight reported that the depositors will be forced to shoulder a loss of $415,000.

The report, made in a meeting of 2,000 depositors, charged the deficit to Gezell, alleging his speculations proved disastrous to the institution. TAFT STANDS FOR THIS.

THE OKLAHOMA WAY. Guthrie, Okla., May 21.—Within one hour from the time H. H. Smock, Oklahoma banking commissioner, had taken charge of the International Bank of Colgate he had authority to pay the depositors in full, though the bank's cash and available funds in other banks fell $23,000 short of the total amount of deposits. The commissioner was able to do this under the operation of the new banking law, and this is the first time it has been called into use. BRYAN STANDS FOR THIS.

The Republican National committee says it gets no money from the Standard Oil company. Does that concern them, give its money direct to Republican candidates?

LIAN TEARS OUT WOMAN'S TONGUE

Tied to Horse By a Mob and Dragged to His Death.

A TERRIBLE REVENGE

Francesco Vergani, Who Just Returned to His Home in Padua From America, Adopted a Fiendish Method to Punish His Pathetic Sweetheart.

Padua, Italy.—Coming from his home in Boston, determined on vengeance Francesco Vergani tore out the tongue of his former sweetheart in a village near here, and in a few minutes mobbed him to the heels of a horse and yelled in frenzied delight as he was dragged to death.

Vergani disguised himself as an itinerant dentist to carry out his plot against the young woman. He went to Boston six years ago with her promise to be his wife. He was to return here to wed her and then go back to America. A year ago, the girl wedded and attracted a large crowd to a man who had been Vergani's rival, and she sent news of the wedding to her old sweetheart. Vergani at once began to plan revenge.

He arrived here three weeks ago, and asserting he had been graduated as a dentist in Boston, he began to practice through the small towns. He rode in a wagon, using it as an operating place. He went to the village Monseville and attracted a large crowd of waiting women. He offered to extract a few teeth free and seeing his former sweetheart in the crowd, induced her to take a seat in the wagon. He addressed the crowd, saying he was about to perform one of the most delicate operations known to dentistry.

He turned and bent over the young woman who had identified him through his disguise. With a pair of forceps he tore out her tongue, turning to the crowd he unmasked himself and shouted he had won the revenge he desired. The crowd pulled him from the wagon, bound him hand and foot, tied him to the horse and whipped up the brute which dragged him through the streets. The horse was urged two miles, the body being battered almost to shapelessness.

FUNGUS IN STOMACH KILLS HER

Grows from Pinhead to Coconut Size, Causing Agony to Girl.

London.—Sprouting from a grain of oats or barley, a fungus caused the death of a girl fifteen years old in Sheffield, and an autopsy revealed that the fungus had grown in the stomach to the size of a coconut. The growth had sent out roots which had invaded all the surrounding organs, and the girl died in agony.

The case is held to be one of the strangest in medical records in this country. About a month ago the girl complained of pains in her stomach, and a dozen physicians differed in their diagnosis. As it turned out, all were wrong. The girl gradually grew worse, each day adding to her suffering, until she died. The autopsy was performed and four doctors testified to what was found.

The doctors said that when a grain of oats or barley was eaten a tiny vegetable parasite known as ray fungus, was growing on it. This parasite was not killed by being eaten, instead, it thrived and grew until the size of a coconut it killed the girl.

Flower Cure for Flies. The confectioner's shop was quite free of flies, though all the cakes and sweetmeats were uncovered. "That mignonette," said he, "is what keeps the flies away. We have it in tins all over the place. The odor is unpleasant to flies and they won't come near us. I got the idea from the South. There the butchers and confectioners always have mignonette growing in their shops, and they can expose their wares without any fear of flies' attacks.

"It's a good idea. One sprig of mignonette in my window keeps it quite fly free."—New York World.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHEA REMEDY

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of colic.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his house. Buy it now. Price, 50c. LANGE BROS., 50c.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Salisbury Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep 'em" must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills.

Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained.

Head of a remedy for kidney ills only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. E. L. Redden, living on Tilghman St., Salisbury, Md., says: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I made a statement for publication in 1906, and it gives me pleasure at this time, May 9th, 1907, to reiterate all I said in favor of them in my former statement. I suffered from abnormal kidneys for four years or more. My kidneys failed to perform their functions and the poison which should have passed off with the secretions, passed again into the blood and affected my whole system, causing not only excruciating backache and misery through my loins but my back became so weak at times as to prevent me from attending to my ordinary household duties. I spent sleepless and restless nights, and weary, languid days, and there seemed to be no help for me. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at White and Leonard's Drug Store. It is the only medicine that ever gave me any real, lasting benefit. They cured me and I have had no return of the complaint since, my blood was purified, and my general condition was wonderfully improved.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Healthy Family.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlett, of Rural Route 1, Gallford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good. 25c. at Toulson's Drug Store.

New York city is growing rapidly in its population of millionaires. There are about 2,000 of them now, while there were only 80 a quarter of a century ago.

World Mortgage The Earn. A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Spicklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold, would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c. at Toulson's Drug Store.

Don't be deceived by imitations of DeWitt's Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve. When you ask for DeWitt's be sure to get it. The name is stamped on every box. There is just one original. It is especially good for piles. We sell and recommend them.

Tutt's Pills

After eating, persons of a bilious habit will derive great benefit by taking one of these pills. If you have been DRINKING TOO MUCH, SICK HEADACHE, they will promptly relieve the nausea, and sweetened which follows, restore the appetite and remove gloomy feelings. Recently sugar coated. Take No Substitutes.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS.

Why Men Drink.

As a rule man drinks to excess with a pretty definite end in view, that he may acquire power to be something more than he naturally is. He is depressed and he wants to be cheerful; he is timid and desires to be brave; he is feeble and wants to be strong; he is below par and aims to be up to the mark in other words he takes alcohol just as a weak monarch hires mercenaries—to defend himself against a strong enemy. But the weak monarch has to pay his hired troops high wages, and sometimes they turn upon him and crush him. While they are willing to help him they seem to make him strong, but it is not with his own strength, but in the end, at the expense of it. Alcohol is the drunkard's mercenary; its aid is treacherous; it lies in wait to betray him. He trusts for a while and glorifies himself on its prowess, which he arrogates at his own; but his self-deception is patent, and is presently exposed. In short, excitement from drink imposes on a man a falsehood which is not his own, but a false and monstrous exaggeration of it; at first it seems to give him a strength or faculty beyond his normal, but anon it hurries him into folly and danger, and ends by sending him ignominiously and helplessly into the gutter. The similarity of drunkenness to insanity or madness has always been remarked; it dilates the man into a monster, who soon becomes a driving imbecile, and who, meanwhile, may be hurried into committing all the crimes in the calendar without being conscious of it. Insanity could do no more; but drunkenness, being an insanity deliberately induced, carries a moral stigma.

Records have been recently published in Savannah showing that cotton was raised and manufactured in the neighborhood of that city as early as the year 1768 in sufficient quantity to be the subject of official notice. But Great Britain at that time would not permit the colonies to manufacture the cotton, compelling them to buy the manufactured article of the "home country."

Why Colds Are Dangerous. Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgement. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

In London more fires occur on Saturday than on any other day of the week, and more in August and December than in any other months.

How He Got the Answer. A little boy ran into a grocery store one day with a memorandum in his hand. "Hello, Mr. Smith," he called out to the grocer. "I want 18 pounds of coffee at 22 cents a pound."

"Anything else, son?" asked the grocer, trying to recall the name of the boy.

"Yes, I want 28 pounds of ham at 18 cents a pound; seven and a half pounds of bacon, at 20 cents a pound; five pounds of butter at 29 1/2 cents a pound; 11 pounds of granulated sugar, at six cents a pound. Now, have you got all that, sir?"

"The grocer ran over the list, the customer meanwhile checking off the articles on his own memorandum. When finished he said: "Yes, that's all. Now, sir, what do they all come to sir?"

"The grocer ran up the figures and gave the boy the answer. "And where am I to send the things?" asked the grocer, preparing to weigh out the articles.

"Oh, nowhere, sir. It's my arithmetic lesson, and I had to get the answer somehow. Thank you for your trouble, sir."

Dangerous Drunken Men. Without reference to his color, a man being full of alcohol is one of whom it may truly be said, "He has no respect for the Ten Commandments." There is not a tenet of the Decalogue that a drunken man will not trample under foot.

Where Ballots Flow. David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the Civil War, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c. at Toulson's Drug Store.

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the main spring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headaches, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Mrs. Will Young, of Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says: "I was troubled for a long time with neuralgic backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, distension, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

Sufferers from constipation and indigestion need not use drugs. Thousands have been relieved of stomach and bowel troubles by eating Heintz Health Biscuits. These biscuits are composed of oats, wheat, barley and rye ground into meal, leaving all nutritive elements for building up of muscle, bone, teeth and nerves, and at same time possessing laxative qualities. They regulate the stomach and bowels in a natural way.

One lady says: "Enclosed find $1.20, for which send me, at your earliest convenience, 12 packages of Heintz Health Biscuits. I sent you an order for a dozen packages some time ago and have been much benefited by their use." STOP drugs and use instead a food that is pure, nourishing and palatable. 10c a package, at your grocer's. If he does not keep them, have him order them for you.

LAST CALL

On all this season's Wearing Apparel For Men & Boys.

We have firmly resolved, rather than carry over the residue of this season's stock, which is contrary to our custom and business principle, to offer to the people of Salisbury and surrounding the greatest inducements ever put before them in Clothing and Furnishings for Men and Boys.

No better opportunity to economize in the cost of the necessities of wearing apparel has ever been presented to the public for it is our sole purpose never to carry any goods over from season to season, and during our final clearance sale prices will not be considered. Included in this sale are many suits that will do service the year around. Our purchases are arriving daily, and we are confronted with the problem of making room, which we will solve by placing the minimum prices on the balance of our stocks and give the public the maximum values to effect quick selling.

We also carry a full line of Shoes for both men and boys. Buy now and save money, and remember that we make no false representations. Stop in and get our prices and be convinced.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Decision Rendered in The Street Paving Cases Favorable To City.

Monday. Court convened at nine o'clock. The first case called was the removed case from Worcester county—H. O. Adkins vs. Gordon Bowen, assault and battery. Tried before jury and occupied all Monday and Tuesday. The jury brought in a verdict Tuesday night for the plaintiff for one cent damages and costs. Wm. F. Johnson and Todvin and Bell for defendant; John H. Handy for plaintiff.

Monday afternoon the Court rendered a decision in the case against the Mayor and Council in the matter of street improvement. The opinion was delivered by Judge Jones, and was to the effect that the City Charter is valid, that the Council had given proper notice in the passage of the ordinances providing for street paving; and that the question of the assessment upon property owners for this work was a matter to be considered in the future. The decision does not settle the injunction case on South Division Street, as that has yet to be argued; but there is little doubt that the final outcome will be the same as in the other case.

Tuesday. No. 49 Trials, Annie F. Sterling vs. County Commissioners of Somerset county. Removed from Dorchester county. Suit for damages by reason of injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of defective road. Case was compromised by county paying $800 and costs. No. 50 Trials Robert J. Sterling vs. County Commissioners of Somerset County. Same suit. Compromised by county paying one cent damages and costs. A. L. Miles and J. J. Robbins for plaintiff; Miles and Stanford for defendant.

Wednesday. The case of Wm. T. Hales vs. the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company was taken up Wednesday morning and was on trial. This is a suit against the railroad company for alleged ejection from train. The case was removed from Worcester County.

The Howeth-Brinsfield slander suit removed from Dorchester county, was taken up Thursday morning, and will probably occupy the remainder of the week. There are about 80 witnesses summoned.

Thursday. Mr. John T. Jones, of Willards, and Miss Lenora Adkins, of Fowellville, were married last Thursday in Salisbury at 6.30 o'clock at the M. E. Parsonage by the Rev. Adam Stengel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left Friday morning for Philadelphia where they will remain for a week after which they will return to their new home at Willards where they will reside in the future.

SENTIMENT FOR BRYAN IS GROWING.

The nearer election day grows the more apparent it is that Mr. Taft will not have the walkover prophesied by those opposing the nomination of Mr. Bryan as standard bearer of the Democratic party. From all sections of the country word is coming in of the great popularity of Mr. Bryan and States that have been classed as surely Republican for years are being put in the doubtful column or in the straight out Democratic ranks. That the Democrats are much encouraged, while the Republicans are worried and badly scared, there is no doubt.

Straw votes taken by independent papers are showing an unusually large number of Republicans who this year are going to support Mr. Bryan and also that democrats, who in the past few years have supported the Republican party, are coming back to the Democratic fold.

Here in Maryland the Democrats are certain of victory and if the election was held today Maryland would undoubtedly be found in the Bryan column and as Mr. Bryan's strength seems to be growing all the time there seems to be no reason for doubt but that the Democrats will carry this State.

In Ohio Mr. Taft's own state, reports from independent and unprejudiced sources, Mr. Bryan is said to have the advance and will probably carry the State. The New York Herald, one of the most reliable papers in the country and which is not supporting Mr. Bryan for the Presidency sums up the situation in last Sunday's issue as follows:

The same paper after speaking of the surface indications favoring Mr. Taft speaks of the under currents as favoring Mr. Bryan and sums up:

"Under the surface in the Far West there has been great resentment against the fact that President Roosevelt would not run and that by the use of federal patronage he has dictated the nomination of Judge Taft.

Under the surface in great centres of population, such as New York and Chicago, there has been noted a marked distastefulness of foreign voters who have in recent years been supporting the republican ticket to give their votes to republican nominees. Added to this all over the country are sharp lines of demarcation between support to the republican national ticket and the republican State ticket. Chaotic conditions in consequence exists in New York, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas and a dozen other States that have heretofore gone for the republican ticket.

SENSATION CREATED

Salisbury By Brinsfield Attorneys in Their Plea For New Trial. Statements from Mr. Miller and Mr. Ward.

The Howeth versus Brinsfield scandal case, which has held the interest of the public for some time, and in which case the Jury gave a verdict in favor of Miss Howeth of $4500 this court, added a new chapter when the Attorney for the Defendant, Mr. Brinsfield, in making a motion before the Court for a new trial in their sixth count says:

"Because of misconduct of the jury in the following particulars: That during the trial of the case and while the jury was impaneled, and court was in session one Walter Miller was seen talking to certain jurors. And further that your petitioners are informed that after the jurors had retired to their room and in the discussion of the case certain of the jurors coerced one of the jurors, namely, John W. Jones, to agree to render a verdict against his judgment by threats and intimidation and by other acts of misconduct on the part of the jury which will be produced at the hearing of this motion."

The motion is signed by John B. Patterson, Alonzo L. Miles and Tordvin and Bell, attorneys for the defendant. Mr. Miller's name used in this connection caused considerable excitement and comment in our community. Of course no one believed that Mr. Miller for a moment had been guilty of attempting to influence a Jury on any case. His reputation and standing in our community was too high for that. Believing however that some might be misled by this statement the ADVERTISER asked Mr. Miller to make a statement in regard to the matter. We also asked Mr. D. J. Ward, the foreman of the Jury and the one to whom Mr. Miller talked to give us his statement as to what occurred. The statements of both follow and will need no further comments.

From Mr. Miller.

The Salisbury Advertiser, Salisbury, Md. Mr. Editor:—In reply to your wish to know the grounds for the charge made by the Attorney of Mr. Brinsfield that I was seen talking to the Jury whilst impaneled in the case, thereby implying that I was trying to influence their verdict, I beg to say, that the charge was an unfair one and the influence an unwarrantable attack upon my character and I would, thank you to publish this explanation in your next edition.

My offense was limited to a simple pleasantries addressed to Mr. David Ward, the Foreman of the Jury, during a lull in the proceedings of the case—some time in the forepart of the trial, I entered the Court room by the door leading into the Judge's room and as I passed the Jury box said to Mr. Ward, "Dave you seem to be a very popular Juror. I believe you have been on every case tried this term." My impression is that he simply smiled but he says he replied that he was sorry he was so popular. What I said was said in a conversational tone and could have been heard by every one in the Court room.

I may have been innocently guilty of an impropriety, for which I apologize, but I certainly said nothing that could be construed by the most partisan person into an attempt to influence the Jury or warrant the reflection upon my reputation.

W. B. Miller.

Mr. Ward's letter corroborates Mr. Miller and is as follows:—

From Mr. Ward.

Messrs. White & White, Editors Salisbury Advertiser, Salisbury, Maryland. Gentlemen:—Yours of even date received, asking me to relate the exact words that Mr. W. B. Miller uttered while he was addressing the Jury box on Oct. 10th. As you remember I was one of the Jurors paneled on the noted Brinsfield Case, and had just taken my seat, for the afternoon session (which was chair No. 1 in the Jury Box) as Mr. Miller came out of the Judge's Room and passing me he said: "Dave you seem to be a popular Juror. I believe I have seen you on every panel during this court."

My reply was, "I am sorry that I am so popular," meaning that Jury work was an irksome duty. I was very sorry to learn of the charges made of Mr. Miller as I know his intentions were not of a bad character. Court had just been called and order had not been restored in the Court room. Yours respectfully, D. J. Ward.

SALISBURY'S GROWTH

Has Been Rapid in Late Years. Many Fine Homes Nearly Finished. Other Buildings.

Salisbury is making rapid growth in every direction. Outside of the large enterprise of improving Division Street and Camden Avenue, several large houses have been and are being erected in this city. Among the many houses and improvements being completed are: A fine large home on Isabella Street, being built for Mr. Theodore W. Davis, by Mr. Daniel Parker; another house, on N. Division St., which Mr. E. Dale Adkins is having built, adjoining his home; it is a very spacious and handsome residence, cost of which is estimated at $2500.00. Hot and cold water have been installed and it proves to be complete in every detail. Mr. Wm. Booth is building a handsome brick residence for Mr. Fred P. Adkins on Park Avenue. This is one of the most beautiful sections of town and this house will add much to the attractions of this section. Mr. Elmer Walton is having a very nice home built on Poplar Hill Ave. Some of the others who are building nice homes are Messrs. L. J. Powell, W. J. Phipps, Walter Betts, Cleveland Hearn, Elijah Parker, Winter Fields, Onas, Holloway.

The new Home of the Surprise Store is nearly finished. It certainly will be a handsome building, when complete. It is three stories, and extends from Main Street to Church Street. The Peninsula Hotel has made vast improvements by having twelve new rooms added to the rear of the Hotel which now reaches from Main Street to Church Street. Six rooms of the twelve have baths. One of these large rooms is to be used as private office, and another probably for sales-room.

WEIGEL—WATSON

Quietly Married At The Home Of Rev. Mr. Handy.

Mr. John S. Weigel, formerly of Reading, Pa., and Miss Maude V. Watson, of this city, were quietly married at the home of Rev. K. A. Handy, Monday evening at 9.00 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Weigel took the midnight train for Philadelphia, Pa., where they remained until Wednesday night when they returned to Salisbury where they will reside in the future.

Mr. Weigel is truly representative of a business man as we have, manager of J. G. McCreary's store, this city, deserves great credit for his untiring energy in restoring order and harmony out of the chaotic state in this store into which it had fallen. One of the sixty large stores in this country belonging to Mr. McCreary, Salisbury's store ranks third in the amount of business done.—Thanks to Mr. Weigel.

Mrs. Weigel is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Watson, of 305 Elizabeth Street, this city, and we can truly say of her that a finer young lady in every respect, cannot be found. From her past we know that she will make her husband a good wife.

We wish them all the success and happiness possible.

SECOND TENNIS MEET

Between Easton And Salisbury Thursday Developed Some Very Interesting Tennis.

An ideal day accompanied the Eastonians to Salisbury, and greeted the interested spectators on the occasion of the second meet in the series of tennis tournaments between the two towns, in this city Thursday.

There were five events which starting at ten o'clock were engaged in with but little intermission until five o'clock.

The visiting ladies played probably a better game here than in the Easton meet, although in new surroundings. Rev. Mr. Davies, who was delayed in his arrival was unable to play in singles until late in the afternoon and the fierce glare of the sun, to which he was not accustomed, during half of the play, due to the lay of the Court, seemed to disconcert him very much more than his opponent, who had been there before.

The mixed doubles were unfinished, both sides, of course anticipating victory. The score was one set each, 4 games each, 30 love. Salisbury leading, Miss Collier serving, when the late hour compelled the postponement, Miss Dixon, the Easton lady player in this event, having played up to train time, was compelled to hurry to catch the Easton express home.

The events were witnessed by a large gallery of ladies and gentlemen who came out to see the contests and applauded good points on both sides.

It is very gratifying to tennis lovers to know of the awakened interest in the game which has been manifested over the peninsula this season. Early next spring will see the inauguration of an organized tennis association for the Shore, south of Mason and Dixon's line, and it is proposed to hold several inter-town tournaments during the tennis months and probably two open tournaments, one for the whole state and one without limit, cups and different trophies to be presented to the winners.

Thursdays Events.

Ladies doubles, for Easton, Miss Florence Dixon and Miss Elliott won against Mrs. John Toolson and Miss Louise Gunby, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Ladies singles, for Easton, Miss Julia Dixon won against Mrs. E. C. Fulton, 6-3, 7-5.

Mixed doubles, for Easton, Rev. Henry Davies and Miss Julia Dixon against J. R. White and Miss Elizabeth Collier. Score, Salisbury won first set, 6-3, Easton won second set, 6-4. In the deciding set which was not finished the score was 4 games each.

Men's doubles, for Salisbury, John Toolson and R. K. Traitt won against Mr. Nickerson and Mr. Hardscastle, 6-1, 6-0.

Men's singles, G. Wm. Phillips for Salisbury won against Rev. Henry Davies, 6-0, 6-1.

SALISBURY'S SANITARY

Condition To Be Publicly Discussed By A Trained Nurse At Court House Monday, October 19.

Miss Smith, the trained nurse who was employed by Mrs. Collier acting for the King's Daughters, will deliver an address on the conditions she has found in Salisbury. Miss Smith, in her capacity of trained nurse, has been located in many places and her observation should be of great benefit to all. The care of our sick, and remedying of conditions which are a menace to the Public Health is one of the most important things that a community has to deal with, and it is said that some of the unsanitary conditions existing in Salisbury will amaze the citizens when they are informed on the matter. Miss Smith's address should be heard by all who are interested in the health and welfare of our community. And if, as is rumored, conditions exist in the city which are a constant menace to our health, steps should be taken to remedy the same.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the King's Daughters and will be held in the Court House Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Julia Dashiell entertained at luncheon Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Hamilton of Shreveport, La. Her guests included Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gordy, Jr. Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Powell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Homer White, Misses Mary Lee White, Daisy Bell, Mildred and Nanette Daugherty, Mary Parsons, Carrie Fish; Messrs Charles Brookhead, Samuel Douglas, Dr. William Smith and Judge Holland.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY

Next Saturday, October 24, Will Be A Record Breaker. The Democrats Will Gather In Crowds.

Wicomico County Democrats have arranged for a big Mass Meeting to be held in the Opera House on Saturday, October 24.

Maryland is fast getting into line for Mr. Bryan and the Democratic ticket. Wicomico County does not propose to be behind either in enthusiasm or votes, and it is freely prophesied that Mr. Bryan's majority in this County will be an eye opener to the Republicans, while the Congressional candidate, Hon. J. Harry Covington, will run a close second.

Mr. Covington has been making a hustling campaign and has created a favorable impression all over the District. Prominent speakers in the State and outside will be present at this meeting, which is expected to be one of the largest ever held in Wicomico County. All of the Bryan—Kear—Covington Clubs in the County have been asked to attend in a body, and as much rivalry exists as to the club making the best showing; it is expected they will turn out in full force.

Gov. Anstin R. Crothers, of Maryland, will be present as will State Sen. Arthur P. Gorman of Howard County, and Hon. J. Harry Covington, of Eastern. Gov. Swanson, of Virginia, one of the most talented and eloquent sons of the South will also be present. This will be a great opportunity to hear the issues of this campaign discussed by able men.

TO BUILD 25 HOUSES

In Salisbury For Rent Or Sale. Norfolk Men Here Representing Homestead Development Company.

Messrs. Cunningham and Paul T. Collins, Directors of the Homestead Development Company of Norfolk, Va., were in town this week looking over the field for a suitable location to build homes.

They stated that their intentions were to build 25 houses to cost anywhere from $4,000 to $10,000. These houses are to be constructed of concrete material and equipped with all the modern conveniences. They are to be rented or sold on the installment plan, on the basis of 10 per cent cash and 10 per cent per annum until the principal is paid. They are looking at some property on Camden Avenue for a site to build these homes. There is unquestionably a big demand for homes in Salisbury of the class that these gentlemen propose to build.

THE STATE HIGHWAY
Commission Plans Road From County To County. Has Spent $9,000 To Date.
During the six months which the Maryland Roads Commission has been engaged in the work of giving this state a system of connected highways a vast amount of detail has been disposed of, and many of the preliminary plans have been made preparatory to the period of actual construction.

Another good reason for deliberation is the work of actual construction is advanced by the commission when it reports that it is waiting to learn the conclusions of the International Roads Conference now in session in Paris before finally determining upon the kinds of material best adapted to the resistance of the ravages of automobiles. The commission observes that automobiles are no longer experiments but that as carriers they have come to stay and that in the building of a permanent highway their needs must be considered both for the comfort of the autoist and for the permanency of the road itself.

Found Skeleton in Building.
Dover, Del., Oct. 13.—Workmen in rebuilding the residence of B. F. Simmons, Jr., of Dover, which was formerly the Baptist Parsonage for a number of years, made some startling discoveries. A skeleton—which was demolished by the air—was found under an abandoned set of steps. An old will, written in 1780, and which would doubtless have changed the ownership of property had it been discovered previously, is said to have been found near the same hiding place. Because of the condition of the bones there is little doubt as to whether they are those of a man or not.

EXTRAVAGANCE GALORE

A Change Needed in Order to Get Down to an Economical Administration.

The federal administration last year spent $58,000,000 more than it spent in the 1898 war. At the recent bankers' convention Lawrence B. Clegg, president of the Equitable Trust Company of New York, discussing the administration, said:

"As in our private life so in our national finance, the year 1907 seems to have been one of excessive cost and expenditure. The government statement at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1908, shows a deficit of $59,656,301 and the increased deficit in July and August amounting to $25,728,000...

Another Republican Campaign Manager Allied to the Trusts—The Minnesota National Committeeman Attorney for the Steel Trust—Some Questions That Indicate Why the Republicans Need Not Be Expected to Suppress Trusts.

Chicago, Oct. 17. (Special.)—The assistant treasurer of the Republican committee is a member of the board of review. As such he passes upon tax assessments. A few weeks ago he scandalized the country by sending letters to corporations upon whose assessments for taxation he must pass, asking them to contribute to the Republican campaign fund...

Now, my dear sir, you and I are practical men, and you are on the ground and know the conditions better than I do. If you think there is any danger of your view to the causing trouble or if you think there is nothing special I should be informed about, or no matter in which I could give you aid, why, of course, I give you to confer upon the time being, and then a few weeks hence before I write my message, I shall get you to come down to discuss certain government matters not connected with the campaign.

From Edward H. Harriman's confidential statement to Sidney Webster. About a week before the election in the autumn of 1904, when I looked certain that the state ticket would be Democratic and was doubtful as to Roosevelt himself, he, the president, sent me a request to go to Washington to confer upon the political conditions in New York state. I complied, and he told me he understood the campaign could not be successfully carried on without sufficient money and asked if I could help him in raising the necessary funds...

With full belief that he, the president, would keep his agreement, I came back to New York, only to find that the Treasurer Bliss, who told me that I was their last hope and that they had exhausted every other resource. In his presence I called upon an intimate friend of Senator Dewey, told him that it was necessary in order to carry New York state that $200,000 should be raised at once, and if he would help I would subscribe $50,000. After a few words over the telephone the gentleman said he would try to do it. He did probably in three or four hours, with the result that the whole amount, including my subscription, had been raised.

The checks were given to Treasurer Bliss, who was then in New York, and they were there when they were needed. Charles G. Dawes was controller of the currency under Mr. McKinley. Since 1902 he has been president of the Central Trust company at Chicago. Writing in The Public Louis F. Post calls attention to the fact that several years ago Mr. Dawes wrote a book entitled "The Banking System of the United States." The following is taken from Mr. Post's article in the issue of the book that discusses the present need of our national banking system. Mr. Dawes distinctly argues for the insurance idea that Bryan advocated in congress and upon which his campaign is now advancing in the House. Referring to a proposed law, advocated by Bryan in congress, which would have levied a tax upon national banks for the purpose of erecting a fund for the insurance of deposits, Mr. Dawes wrote:

"National banking statistics show that a fund of the necessary amount would soon be created by a comparatively small tax upon each national bank. It must certainly be admitted that the establishment of such a fund would have a tendency to prevent the mad rushes of small and large depositors during times of panic, for money which they have stored away in safety deposit boxes or other hiding places...

"If the effect of such a law would be to render bank deposits more stable under all conditions, as in our judgment would be the case, no law could be of more use and importance to the debtor, or to the creditor, or to the community at large. Besides the great importance of the law as related to the general prosperity of the country, it is meritorious as preventing the keen suffering in those localities where bank failures occur, and where the hard earned savings of the community, under our present law, are often swept away by such a law, losses are distributed as by insurance, the beneficial effects of which need no argument. To the passage of such a law in proper form, we must the effects of congress will be directed."

They are "all" for Taft, who is the trust man in America. The only trust man in America, the one who knows his own mind and the one who is not a master's slave.

the leader in Christianity.

For it to retrograde, would be a death blow to Christianity throughout the world. The tenets of that religion as held and taught by all orthodox branches of the Christian Church, are built on the birth, life, death, and resurrection of Christ.

As Christ is its foundation, the rock on which it is built, general disbelief in His divinity, would leave the Christian religion, like an egg from which the white and yolk have been sucked, empty, worthless, a mere shell.

It is sad to know, that at this time, there are many educated persons, some of them, raised in Christian communities, brilliant, able men, who occupy high places in the councils of the land, men, who are well thought of, and esteemed by their neighbors and fellow citizens, who by their denial of the Divinity of Christ, are doing more to injure the Christian religion, than all else beside.

Unbelief is growing, and it looks like, as if the struggles, and blood of the martyrs, and the labor and toil of Christians for nineteen hundred years to establish and maintain Christianity, will not avail, if members of the Church, do not their full duty to their God, their Church and their country.

The fight is on, and if you sleep, while the enemy is awake, you may find him entrenched in the high places, and the fight to regain what you have lost, will be hard and long, and full of toil and trouble.

Think over it, and do your duty as God gives you light to see it. A Christian should rule over a Christian nation, to hold it safe.

LIME! LIME!

Farmers, beware of the low grade of lime that is now being sold and that runs as low as 30 per cent. carbonate of lime. The official State analysis gives our (the Le Gore) lime 98.89 per cent. carbonate of lime.

I wish to inform you that I have made several trips to Western Maryland to study the Agricultural Lime situation.

I know that I am in a position to furnish you with the best-acting lime in use. My ten years' experience in the lime business has taught me that there is a vast difference in limes, and in their action on soils and crops. I can furnish you with a complete combination of the salts of lime, and it will mean a great saving to all who use it—it brings results.

P. S.—Remember! I can furnish you the quickest and the best-acting crop-grower and land-improver on the market. I have the prepared sack lime also to offer you. By all means hold your order until I call on you, as it will be a mutual benefit and a special favor to me; or write me, or call me over the telephone.

Meeting of Board of Directors of Peninsula General Hospital

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peninsula General Hospital held last Friday, a committee was appointed to go over the matter of putting in a central heating plant for heating both the new Nurses Home and contract for putting in the system.

The Board also decided to turn the fourth floor into a maternity ward. There will be two wards on this floor, one for white and one for colored.

The one thousand dollars left to the Hospital by the late Mrs. Stephen P. Dennis, with the agreement that directors should use it as they thought best, and to be a memorial to the late Dr. Stephen P. Dennis, will be used to equip and establish the maternity ward and a tablet to the memory of Dr. Dennis will be erected.

The Board decided to erect a fire escape from the fourth floor to the ground and build steel porches on every landing to accommodate patients in summer time.

No action was taken on the resignation of Miss Helen V. Wise when it was brought up before the Board, but the Board requested Miss Wise to reconsider same and retain her place.

It is the hope that the maternity ward will lessen to a great degree the congestion of patients in the Hospital in which condition it has been for several months.

THE FAIR TO COME.

From Present Indications 1909 WM See The Inauguration Of One In Salisbury. Stock Being Rapidly Subscribed.

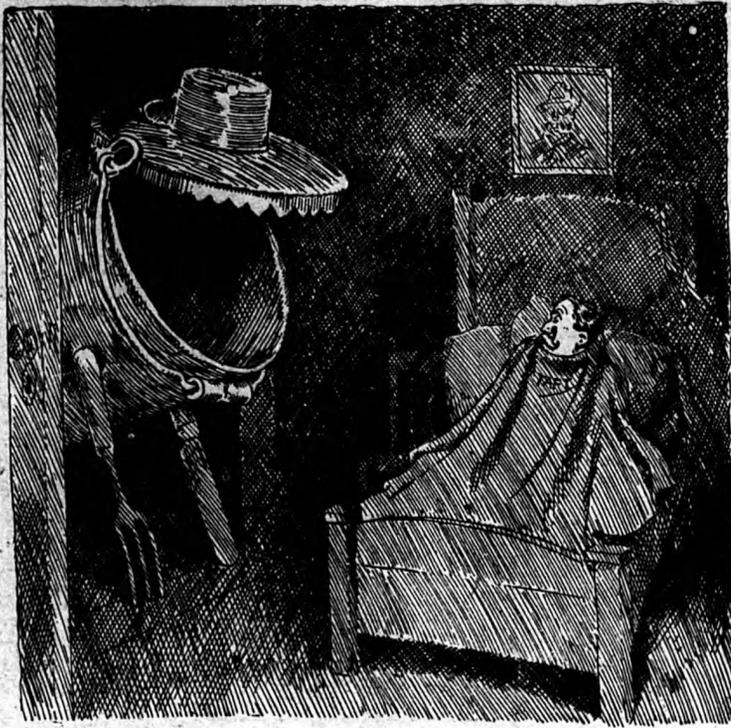

Those who are interested in organizing an Agricultural Fair in Wicomico County held a meeting at the office of Mr. D. J. Ward in the Masonic Temple, Saturday night. This meeting was well attended and the committees submitted estimates on the amount needed to organize a Fair in this County as well as desirable sites. The committee on sites reported that they had inspected three properties—the Alfred Hearn farm, in Parsons District, the Byrd Homestead Farm, in Salisbury District; and the W. C. Mitchell Farm, also in Salisbury District. The Hearn land can be purchased for $175 an acre; the Mitchell land for $300 an acre. The Byrd land cannot be bought, but the owner offers to lease the land for a term of 15 years for $1,000 a year. Mr. Mitchell offers either to sell or lease his land, the leasing price to be $12.50 per acre annually, and he agrees to give the necessary clay to make the half mile track. The committee expressed a decided preference for the Mitchell land, because they believe it better adapted to the use as a race track than the other lands. A committee consisting of B. W. Waller and S. H. Richardson was appointed to ascertain the cost of securing a competent race track man and surveyor to go upon this farm, examine the land, and report upon it. This committee will report at a meeting to be held next Saturday evening.

It was pointed out at the meeting, the advantages Salisbury had for holding a Fair, as its location would give facilities for the entire Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia to reach this point.

It is estimated that to properly organize a movement of this kind would require a capital of close to $25,000. A committee consisting of Messrs. D. J. Ward, I. H. White and E. N. Todd was appointed to solicit stock.

"SEEN" THINGS AT NIGHT.

AN OPEN LETTER

To The Courier From The President Of The People's National Bank.

Salisbury, Md., October 22, 1908. Editor Courier:—

My attention has been directed to your Editorial of October 2nd, wherein you discuss the attitude of the People's National Bank toward the bonds recently issued by the Mayor and Council of Salisbury. Inasmuch as the remarks therein are not based on the facts, we beg to give them as the officials of the bank understand them, so that there need be no further excuse for misrepresentation. We do not mean that the Courier has willfully misrepresented the bank, but we do mean that your informant has not stated the true conditions.

The Finance Committee of the bank considered the purchase of the bonds, and in good faith made a bid for them at 104.1-8, feeling that the bank could pay so much for an absolutely safe investment. It is well known that the bid was accepted and Messrs. L. Atwood Bennett, Attorney for both the Mayor and Council and the People's National Bank, and H. B. Freeny, one of the Directors of the bank were appointed a Committee to pass on the bonds.

In examining the proceedings of the Mayor and Council and the bonds, objections were noted to certain of the proceedings which it was thought rendered the bonds invalid and undesirable. Both Mr. Bennett and Mr. Freeny were agreed upon the objection to the bonds, and at the suggestion of the Mayor and Council, Mr. Bennett went to Baltimore to consult with Mr. R. P. Graham on the subject. From this conference Mr. Bennett returned convinced that the objection was not well grounded but Mr. Freeny was of his original opinion.

In order that the matter might be passed upon by some one entirely disinterested in the bank or in the matter of the street improvement at my suggestion Mr. Bennett, who was then acting for the town alone, called Messrs. Miles and Stanford in consultation, and Mr. Stanford advised the bank that the bonds were not good and assigned as his grounds of objection the same points which Mr. Freeny had raised objections to before. We set forth in full the letter of Mr. Stanford on the subject.

Letter From Miles and Stanford.
V. Perry, Esq.,
President People's National Bank,
Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir:—At your instance we would state that when we were called upon to express an opinion for your Bank in reference to the validity or invalidity of the recent bond issue, issued by the Mayor and Council of Salisbury, it was made clear to us that it was the desire of your bank to acquire said bonds at the bid placed therefor by your Bank. Indeed, your Bank appeared more than ordinarily solicitous to obtain the bonds, and we consequently approached the investigation of the question submitted to us with a desire to uphold the bond issue, if we conscientiously could render an opinion sustaining it, without regard to certain minor irregularities pointed out to us at the time. You will remember that we did, in our opinion, rendered to your Board, waive certain irregularities in the issue, appearing upon the form of bond tendered to your bank, which we regarded as immaterial, but there were other irregularities which impressed us as being serious and all sufficient to render the issue open to attack should its validity be questioned in the Courts. The position of your Board of Directors at the time was unquestionably to take the bonds, provided it could safely feel that they could not be attacked and that the bonds if the Banks money, were placed in them at its high bid, would be regarded as impregnable. We did not then, nor do we now regard these bonds as free from sound and material legal objection, and having such opinion we could not conscientiously render any other opinion to you, but when as rendered there was open expression of regret upon the part of your Board of Directors, then in session, that in view of our opinion it could not risk the bank's money in this investment.

We can, of course, understand how another purchaser might be willing to take chances, relying upon the good faith of the City, whether our opinion be sound or not.

Very truly yours,
Miles & Stanford.

Mr. Freeny, acting as special counsel for the bank, appeared before the Mayor and Council, at their regular meeting on September 7th, and the bonds were formally tendered to the bank through him, and payment demanded, but he declined to accept them, assigning as the reason therefor, that the bank had been advised by counsel that the bonds had not been issued in accordance with the power conferred upon the Mayor and Council by Act of Assembly authorizing the issue of the bonds; but stated at the same time that the bank desired the bonds at the price, and suggested that the bank was willing to be made the defendant in an amicable suit to test the legality of the bonds, in which suit the Mayor and Council should pay all costs, and the Bank would waive all technicalities and submit the case on its merits, and at the Court of Appeals of Maryland determined the bonds to be valid and legal in form, the bank would take them; but inasmuch as the bank had expected the bonds to be good and without question at the price paid, it did not feel called upon to pay an additional price to have the bonds declared good. The Mayor and Council declined to accept this proposition as to the payment of the costs. At this meeting, Mr. Freeny was asked if the bank would renew its bid at the same price, if the bonds were re-advertised; but he replied that inasmuch as the ground of objection to the bonds was such that re-advertisement would not cure the defect, it would be useless to make such a promise for the Bank, and renewed the request that the questions be submitted to the Court in an amicable suit.

Mr. Bennett, who was present at this meeting of the Council, did not recommend to the Council that the Bank's suggestion of the amicable suit be accepted, but in a conversation on the following morning stated that he thought the proposition that the bank pay all the costs was a fair proposition. It was understood that expressing his own personal opinion and not in any way making a recommendation from the Council.

There have been no further negotiations between the Mayor and Council and the bank on the subject since those above stated.

The Bank has acted in the whole matter and was anxious for the bonds at the price offered for them, but it did not feel that it would be warranted in making an outlay of $30,000.00 for bonds about which there was a question as to their validity. If the bonds are not good, it is not a matter of their reputation by the Mayor and Council, but any taxpayer for the next 37 years can prevent the town from paying them.

The bank is in accord with the Courier, that if the bank is liable, it should pay the difference between what the bonds were sold for and the bid of the bank, and it welcomes a test of the matter in Court. The Mayor and Council should not fail to collect this money of the public.

Yours very truly,
Vandalia Perry, Pres.

The motion for a new trial in the Howeth-Brinsfield slander suit in which a Wicomico Jury gave a verdict in favor of the plaintiff of $4500, last term of Court, came up before the Court here Friday morning. Judges Holland and Jones were on the bench. This is the case in which the sixth count in the motion for a new trial alleged that "One Walter Miller was seen talking to certain jurors," also that "certain of the jurors coerced one of the jurors." Mr. Miller, at his own request, was put on the witness stand and made substantially the same statement as published in the ADVERTISER last week.

There was no attempt to connect him with influencing the Jury, but it was made evident that his name was used on technical grounds alone, tending to show improprieties on the part of the Jury during the trial.

The Court refused to go into the secrets of the Jury room and overruled the motion for a new trial.

INTERIOR IMPROVEMENTS

Made By The Kennerly-Shockley Company Give Better Facilities.

By the installation of Lamson's Air Line Cash System, and the moving of their office from the center of their large store to the rear the Kennerly-Shockley Co. have largely enhanced the appearance of their handsome store as well as given them more space for their large line of goods.

The installation of this system will enable them to make change much more quickly, thus meaning a great saving of time for their customers as well as themselves. The space where the office has hitherto been is to be utilized for large display tables, and the rear of the store for their cloak and suit department, which they have recently added to their line.

The office at the rear is to be enclosed with glass and fitted up with every convenience.

DEATH OF MR. GALE.

Levin J. A Gentleman Who Was Highly Honored Throughout The County. Had Many Friends.

The many friends of Levin J. Gale were shocked to learn of his death on Friday morning. Mr. Gale had not been well for some time having been a sufferer from heart trouble which is supposed to have resulted in his death. Mr. Gale died about four o'clock at his home near Quantico.

Mr. Gale was one of the best known men in the county where he had perhaps more friends than any other man, and on every side can be heard expression of sorrow and regret. Mr. Gale was born in November 1837 and would have been 71 years of age had he lived a few weeks longer.

Long known as one of his party's ablest men in this county and regarded as one of the best advisers it had, Mr. Gale's influence was felt in all its councils and his advice eagerly sought on all occasions.

In 1890 Mr. Gale was appointed a member of the Board of County Commissioners to fill the unexpired term of Mr. W. H. Farrington. In 1881 he was elected Register of Wills which office he filled for three consecutive terms.

On August the 7th of this year he was appointed a member of the School Board which office he held at the time of his death. Mr. Gale has long been a member of the Democratic State Central Committee of this County.

Mr. Gale is survived by a widow, Virginia Gale who was a daughter of the late William F. Rider, one son, W. H. Gale, and a daughter, Mrs. Herbert N. Mosick of North Carolina. The funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

A VILLAGE HOME

Where Pe-ru-na Is Used As An All-Round Reliable Family Medicine.

There Are Thousands of Similar Homes In Which Pe-ru-na Is Being Used With The Same Excellent Results.

Fountainville, Pa., Feb. 16, 1902.
Dr. S. B. Hartman, M. D.
Dear Sir: I have been thinking of writing you for some time to let you know how my health is. I first had different ailments, my kidneys, and for two years I was so weak I could not walk but I had to keep my bed. I obtained relief in some way, but I had to take Peru-na, at I can say I had a half bottle and I feel many thanks in my mind. I am taking your Peru-na and I feel it helps to restore my health. I say I am well again. I say I am well again. I say I am well again.

Fountainville, Pa., April 16, 1906.
Dr. S. B. Hartman.
Dear Sir: We have Peru-na in the house all the time and when we think we need it, we take it. We are about sixty years old and have not called a doctor to our place for some years. We go out in all kinds of weather and sometimes when we go on a trip we take Peru-na along. A preventive is better than a cure. That has been our experience.

I had poor health some years ago and when I found your medicine I hit the right thing. We both thank you for your good medicine.

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP KRATZ.

Witness to Signatures.
I, John Donnelly, Mayor of Doylestown, Pa., have been acquainted with Mr. Philip Kratz for 25 years. I know him to be an honorable and useful citizen. He, in my presence, signed the above statement concerning Peru-na, which I have every reason to believe is true in all particulars.

JOHN DONNELLY, Mayor.

LAST CALL

On all this season's Wearing Apparel For Men & Boys.

We have firmly resolved, rather than carry over the residue of this season's stock, which is contrary to our custom and business principle, to offer to the people of Salisbury and surroundings the greatest inducements ever put before them in Clothing and Furnishings for Men and Boys.

No better opportunity to economize in the cost of the necessities of wearing apparel has ever been presented to the public, for it is our sole purpose never to carry any goods over from season to season, and during our final clearance sale prices will not be considered. Included in this sale are many suits that will do service the year around. Our purchases are arriving daily, and we are confronted with the problem of making room, which we will solve by placing the minimum prices on the balance of our stocks and give the public the maximum values to effect quick selling.

We also carry a full line of Shoes for both men and boys.

Buy now and save money, and remember that we make no false representations. Stop in and get our prices and be convinced.

FOR A SQUARE DEAL

A Discussion of A Prominent Man And Issues in An Unbiased Manner.

Editors of the Advertiser:—

There is a well defined attempt on the part of leading newspapers to create the impression that Mr. Bryan is "unsafe"—that his election would "hurt business"—that he is a "theorist"—a "dreamer," using these latter terms of course in their opprobrious sense and that his election notwithstanding his party and platform "would ruin the country." This is a severe indictment and most papers have superior advantages of information and there is no reason why they should not be as patriotic as any individual, and those desirous of a reasonable degree of prosperity consistent with right dealings should give it most serious consideration. It should not be overlooked however that as strong an arraignment has been made in all times and all ages of all Reformers (assuming Mr. Bryan to be one) who stood against "Special" interest. If he is actuated by mere vulgar ambition—no one can say—he can only be judged by his outward acts and words—"Is Mr. Bryan then the representative of the "wild eyed fanatic"—the "irresponsible mob—the visionary?" Is he incapable of reason and oblivious to fact? Is he ignorant, narrow, unprincipled and without stable character? Are his political principles and the principles of his party vicious, sordid, selfish and at war with our institutions, or is he a demagogue stirring up the people and preaching what he does not believe? One or two points of his platform ought in justice to answer some of these questions. Take for instance what many regard as the leading issue—the tariff. There are many sensible people besides Mr. Bryan who regard the Dingley law as a monstrosity, at this late day of enlightenment and progress. They agree with him that there should be a gradual reduction and that it is at present a piece of class legislation, "reaping where it has not sown." They also believe articles of consumption and machinery are improperly enhanced to the American farmer and consumer and all who work with their hands, pay more for necessities of life. A good many believe also that it is wrong in principle for our manufacturers to sell cheaper to foreigners than to our own people. It is also charged by respectable people that this high tariff is the breeding ground of the general desire for special legislation and the special soil in which the combine—the trust—the monopoly—flourishes.

Lots of Republicans believe this, and they have, indisputably grown together. It is also said with some reason that Socialism is encouraged by combines. Mr. Bryan charges also, that the protected interests control legislation and are practically given immunity under the law and that no change can be made except by the enemies of the "System." The tremendous expenditure of the Public money is condemned by some and is it visionary to demand economy in the expenditure of the Public money? Admirable as Mr. Roosevelt's administration in some respects, whoever heard of his criticising a single appropriation?

Many people will ask if a high tariff is bottomed on correct principles why do they not obtain permanency and stability without these constant recurrence of panic, and can an administration correct the trusts who refuse to reduce the Tariff?

All this certainly has a familiar sound and could be found in its spirit in about every Democratic platform from the time of Jefferson. The above should be a sufficient answer to some of the charges against the Nebraska's theories.

Now suppose there are some admittedly crude things in Mr. Bryan's platform as Bank Deposit, Guarantee and the regulation of the output of corporation. Is there any thing so very bad in their spirit and principles? No platform can work out details—and no party should be held to their letter. An abundance of ill digested currency bills have been before Congress. A good many people believe in curbing corporate control and reform of the Banking and Currency laws on the side of greater safety and lower prices. Taking the above as a fair sample of Mr. Bryan's theories how can the charge "Theorist" and "Dreamer" be maintained? Of course if Democratic principles are a failure and the people not fit for self government then any charge that runs counter to people with this idea will find a ready response.

Many Shoes Found.

Seaford, Del., October 19.—Thirty seven pairs of shoes tightly bound in grass sacks, were found in a haystack by William Downes, near Bridgeville, today Upon investigation, Downes found twelve more pairs lying near the haystack. The shoes, which were of fine quality, were evidently hidden there by robbers, who have been looting freight cars along the Delaware railroad for the past several weeks.

ITCHING HUMOR ON LITTLE BOY

His Hands were a Solid Mass, and Disease Spread All Over His Body—In Four Days the Child was Entirely Cured—Mother Strongly RECOMMENDS CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. We first noticed it on his little hands. His hands were not as bad then, and we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores, etc., that I thought I would get them. By this time the disease had spread all over his body, and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of the itching disease. I went to the drug store and purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, and that night I stripped my little boy and took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him with a soft bath towel, and took the Cuticura Ointment and rubbed him thoroughly with it. I did this every evening before I put him to bed and in three or four nights he was entirely cured. You have my permission to publish this because anybody who suffered as my baby did ought to know of the Cuticura Remedies. I will surely and gladly recommend the Cuticura Remedies, for they are a godsend to all suffering with skin diseases." Frank Donahue, 208 Fremont St., Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 10, 1907."

PIMPLES

And Blackheads Prevented and Cured by Cuticura.

Gently smear the face with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, but do not rub. Wash the Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue to bathe the face freely for some minutes. Repeat morning and evening. At other times use hot water and Cuticura Soap for bathing the face as often as necessary.

FOR A SQUARE DEAL

Editors of the Advertiser:—

There is a well defined attempt on the part of leading newspapers to create the impression that Mr. Bryan is "unsafe"—that his election would "hurt business"—that he is a "theorist"—a "dreamer," using these latter terms of course in their opprobrious sense and that his election notwithstanding his party and platform "would ruin the country." This is a severe indictment and most papers have superior advantages of information and there is no reason why they should not be as patriotic as any individual, and those desirous of a reasonable degree of prosperity consistent with right dealings should give it most serious consideration. It should not be overlooked however that as strong an arraignment has been made in all times and all ages of all Reformers (assuming Mr. Bryan to be one) who stood against "Special" interest. If he is actuated by mere vulgar ambition—no one can say—he can only be judged by his outward acts and words—"Is Mr. Bryan then the representative of the "wild eyed fanatic"—the "irresponsible mob—the visionary?" Is he incapable of reason and oblivious to fact? Is he ignorant, narrow, unprincipled and without stable character? Are his political principles and the principles of his party vicious, sordid, selfish and at war with our institutions, or is he a demagogue stirring up the people and preaching what he does not believe? One or two points of his platform ought in justice to answer some of these questions. Take for instance what many regard as the leading issue—the tariff. There are many sensible people besides Mr. Bryan who regard the Dingley law as a monstrosity, at this late day of enlightenment and progress. They agree with him that there should be a gradual reduction and that it is at present a piece of class legislation, "reaping where it has not sown." They also believe articles of consumption and machinery are improperly enhanced to the American farmer and consumer and all who work with their hands, pay more for necessities of life. A good many believe also that it is wrong in principle for our manufacturers to sell cheaper to foreigners than to our own people. It is also charged by respectable people that this high tariff is the breeding ground of the general desire for special legislation and the special soil in which the combine—the trust—the monopoly—flourishes.

Lots of Republicans believe this, and they have, indisputably grown together. It is also said with some reason that Socialism is encouraged by combines. Mr. Bryan charges also, that the protected interests control legislation and are practically given immunity under the law and that no change can be made except by the enemies of the "System." The tremendous expenditure of the Public money is condemned by some and is it visionary to demand economy in the expenditure of the Public money? Admirable as Mr. Roosevelt's administration in some respects, whoever heard of his criticising a single appropriation?

Many people will ask if a high tariff is bottomed on correct principles why do they not obtain permanency and stability without these constant recurrence of panic, and can an administration correct the trusts who refuse to reduce the Tariff?

All this certainly has a familiar sound and could be found in its spirit in about every Democratic platform from the time of Jefferson. The above should be a sufficient answer to some of the charges against the Nebraska's theories.

Now suppose there are some admittedly crude things in Mr. Bryan's platform as Bank Deposit, Guarantee and the regulation of the output of corporation. Is there any thing so very bad in their spirit and principles? No platform can work out details—and no party should be held to their letter. An abundance of ill digested currency bills have been before Congress. A good many people believe in curbing corporate control and reform of the Banking and Currency laws on the side of greater safety and lower prices. Taking the above as a fair sample of Mr. Bryan's theories how can the charge "Theorist" and "Dreamer" be maintained? Of course if Democratic principles are a failure and the people not fit for self government then any charge that runs counter to people with this idea will find a ready response.

 very careful about her churn. She adds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is churning. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the burning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it will foul all which is put into it? The will of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers. And all humors or diseases arising from bad blood. If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distressing stomach pains or irregular bowels, suffer from either risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any combination of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms are contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is absolutely true. You will get the best results if you will send for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing why they are eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Alligator's Tail.
 A great delicacy in Florida is the tip of an alligator's tail. It tastes like frog's legs, though a bit more gamey. Alligator tails are best just after the rice bird season. The big alligator floats in the water with only their eyes showing. When they see a flock of these fat, juicy little birds, they dive to the bottom. Their long wide snouts scoop up some of the loam and they float to the surface again, with just the rich soil showing. The birds think it is an island. They alight upon it. When the whole family is there the big reptile turns suddenly. Just as the birds scramble off he opens his mouth once. They are gone. The birds are neat little feeders and the alligator is an epicure at this time of the year. The rice bird diet makes the tip of his tail, of which he is most vain, tender and sweet.

A Nomadic Piece of Land.
 Cape Cod itself is sand, and like everything of a desert nature is nomadic. Like the Arab, it is always silently stealing away, so that the appearance of the peninsula constantly changes. The prevailing winds in the winter being from the north, the sand is blown south; in summer it is blown 'o'er way, but the winter winds being stronger the land is gradually working south. Monomoy at the lower end used to be an island, its extremity being called Cape Malabar, a name not used now. This island of Monomoy is rapidly growing toward Nantucket, it having advanced some five miles in the last fifty years.

LIME! LIME!

Farmers, beware of the low grade of lime that is now being sold and that runs as low as 30 per cent. carbonate of lime. The official State analysis gives our (the Le Gore) lime 98.39 per cent. carbonate of lime.

I wish to inform you that I have made several trips to Western Maryland to study the Agricultural Lime situation.

I know that I am in a position to furnish you with the best-acting lime in use. My ten years' experience in the lime business has taught me that there is a vast difference in limes, and in their action on soils and crops. I can furnish you with a complete combination of the salts of lime, and it will mean a great saving to all who use it—it brings results.

P. S.—Remember! I can furnish you the quickest and the best-acting crop-grower and land-improver on the market. I have the prepared sack lime also to offer you. By all means hold your order until I call on you, as it will be a mutual benefit and a special favor to me; or write me, or call me over the telephone.

Democratic Ticket. FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: JOHN W. KERN, OF INDIANA.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT: J. HARRY COVINGTON, OF TALBOT CO.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN MR. COVINGTON AND MR. JACKSON. If Republicans of the First District had nominated a man for Congress, who, by virtue of his peculiar fitness for the office, was entitled to submit his candidacy to the people, the aspect of the local political situation would be changed, at least in a degree.

Electric. and themselves first, assume that Mr. Jackson, in public life, is an asset instead of a liability. It may be said that the man now credited to this District cannot be attacked upon his record in Congress. Such is the case. You can't attack something that does not exist.

often hear kind remarks, but Mr. Gale did not have to wait until the spark of life had left to reap the rewards of a well spent life. And what is most remarkable in the life of a man who had been in the public eye as long as he had, Mr. Gale had few enemies and many friends.

BROUGHT HOME AGAIN.

How The Trusts Have Entangled American Consumers. The Relief. Many people remember the sign, that need to be displayed in the store, a card, with the figure of a dog lying on his back, with paws, in air, dead, underneath, were the words, "Poor Trust is dead, bad pay killed him."

For twenty pieces of silver, Judas Iscariot betrayed our blessed Saviour, with a kiss, but he had at least the decency to go and hang himself. The Trust magnate, who sets out to crush all oppositions and competition, is a traitor to his Country.

The Trust magnate, who, having stifled opposition and competition, regulates the price for raw materials, and finished products, is a traitor to his Country. The Trust magnate, who sells the manufactured products of his company, cheaper to foreign buyers than he does to his home people, is a traitor to his Country.

And, unless the laws are changed, they will continue to smile and rob the people, and the laws will never be changed, until the people put some other party in power in this country for the Trusts own the managers of the Republican party, who can only do the bidding of their owners.

Relief can only be had from the iniquities of the Trusts, by voting the Democratic ticket. For twelve years the managers of the Republican party have been promising relief to the people, but they haven't given it, nor can they give it, for the Trust Magnates, by contributing enormous sums of their ill gotten wealth, to be used in debauching the electorate in past elections, have bought them: body, soul, root and rind.

HEALTH OF SALISBURY

And The County Discussed At A Public Meeting. Report Of Visiting Nurse. Dr. Trullitt's Reply.

A meeting was held in the Court House under auspices of the King's Daughters, to hear the report of the trained nurse, Miss Smith, on Monday.

After the reading of her report a general discussion of the sanitary conditions of Salisbury took place by those present, and it was determined that steps be taken to get the City and County authorities to improve our sanitary conditions.

Dr. C. R. Trullitt, in an open letter to the citizens, has pointed out the reasons why it is impossible for the Health Officer to attend to the duties as they should be attended to, and frankly admits that the sanitary conditions are not looked after in the County as they should be, and further claims that it is impossible to improve upon them under present system.

Miss Smith's Report. "Visit the sick, feed the hungry, clothe the poor, are commands familiar to us all, and yet I am sorry to say I have found evidence sufficient to believe that these injunctions have long been ignored. I am sure it is through no want of charity on your part, but simply because your business and social obligations have grown out of you finding the needy ones amongst you."

Directions To Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture. A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable though simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Karkon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Another case was that of a baby whose mother had gone to the hospital ill. There was no one to bathe or care for it, and I found it in an awful condition. I bathed it and dressed it, but could not dress it, for it had no clothes, and I had to wrap it in rags until I could get something for it.

Another case was that of a baby that had been ill for several days. The mother was poor and did not feel able to call in a doctor when it was absolutely necessary. When they found it was too late, for the baby died. Had the parents been accustomed to the visiting nurse they would have called her in and she would have seen the little one's serious condition.

Another case was a woman who was as real and strong as it is in years, must needs wait till her little one is nearly gone before she can feel she is able to send for a doctor.

Another case was a woman with typhoid fever. I found her ill and in bed all dressed the same as though she had been about her daily duties. Why? One reason was, she had no gown, and the second, I don't believe the world have known how to put them on if she had. Now this is true. You have people who don't know how to go to bed; they have to be taught, and when they are sick and poor and have not one of the things that their more fortunate friends have, it is up to us to supply them.

Then a change was decided upon. I was called to the County Commissioners room and notified by the President of the Board that they would no longer pay by the visit, but would be given the magnificent salary of $150 per annum, as Health Officer to Wicomico County, including Salisbury, physician to jail and training the necessary medicines to the prisoners, furnish all disinfectants for houses to be fumigated and to fumigate them.

My reply was, if you expect good work for this salary you will have to appoint someone else as this amount will not pay the board for a horse and I could not give my attention to the sanitary conditions of the city alone for that amount, not saying anything about the county, which necessitates a team.

His reply was "this is all we are going to pay, as we consider the appointing a Health Officer very unnecessary but are compelled by the State to appoint one in the County." At this time the City was asked to contribute the Health Officer but the Council refused, I will admit the sanitary conditions of Salisbury are bad and have not been looked after as they should be, but poor pay means poor service.

In the County of Wicomico, Maryland, the Health Officer would not pay for the disinfectants and the salary for the same date.

THE PARTIES' NOMINEES.

First Maryland District Congressional Candidates Answer Anti-Saloon League.

In response to very many inquiries received at the office of the Peninsula Anti-Saloon League in Wilmington with reference to the position of the Congressional candidates on the Eastern Shore of Maryland as to national temperance problems, the Rev. John M. Arters, Superintendent of the League, has given out the following:

Letters of inquiry have been recently addressed by the Superintendent of the Peninsula Anti-Saloon League to the Hon. Wm. H. Jackson, the Republican nominee for Congress from the First District, and to Mr. J. Harry Covington, his Democratic opponent, asking their position on matters affecting national temperance legislation and their replies are received.

A review of their statements indicates that both of them are favorable to Inter State Shipment legislation, prohibiting the importation of liquors for beverage purposes into dry territory from wet territory and will so vote, if elected. They both likewise promise to support the District of Columbia Local Option Bill.

As to the re-election of Joseph G. Cannon as Speaker of the National House of Representatives, Mr. Covington, being a Democrat, naturally says he will not vote for Mr. Cannon, and Mr. Jackson's statement is that while he is not pledged to the re-election of Mr. Cannon as Speaker, he is not inclined to pledge himself against it.

These positions being so nearly similar, the Anti-Saloon League follows the usual policy of making no endorsement in such cases, but leaves to the Christian voter the task of deciding which of these men will most nearly satisfy the demands of the District for the speedy overthrow of the American Saloon.

Letter From Dr. Trullitt. To the citizens of Salisbury, Md., Wicomico County;

At a meeting held in Salisbury, Monday night, October 19th, 1908, by a large number of our citizens to discuss the sanitary conditions of Salisbury. During the discussion, the County Health Officer was severely criticized for not doing his duty, as he should, from the citizens point of view.

The Health Officer was appointed ten years ago and at that time no salary was paid, but he was paid per visit, and if he had not, his message was paid. This was the case for awhile, when the bill was rendered at the close of the year some thought the amount too large. The bill was itemized, with the added details, investigations and fumigating in all parts of the county.

Then a change was decided upon. I was called to the County Commissioners room and notified by the President of the Board that they would no longer pay by the visit, but would be given the magnificent salary of $150 per annum, as Health Officer to Wicomico County, including Salisbury, physician to jail and training the necessary medicines to the prisoners, furnish all disinfectants for houses to be fumigated and to fumigate them.

My reply was, if you expect good work for this salary you will have to appoint someone else as this amount will not pay the board for a horse and I could not give my attention to the sanitary conditions of the city alone for that amount, not saying anything about the county, which necessitates a team.

His reply was "this is all we are going to pay, as we consider the appointing a Health Officer very unnecessary but are compelled by the State to appoint one in the County." At this time the City was asked to contribute the Health Officer but the Council refused, I will admit the sanitary conditions of Salisbury are bad and have not been looked after as they should be, but poor pay means poor service.

In the County of Wicomico, Maryland, the Health Officer would not pay for the disinfectants and the salary for the same date.

HEALTH OF SALISBURY

And The County Discussed At A Public Meeting. Report Of Visiting Nurse. Dr. Trullitt's Reply.

A meeting was held in the Court House under auspices of the King's Daughters, to hear the report of the trained nurse, Miss Smith, on Monday.

After the reading of her report a general discussion of the sanitary conditions of Salisbury took place by those present, and it was determined that steps be taken to get the City and County authorities to improve our sanitary conditions.

Dr. C. R. Trullitt, in an open letter to the citizens, has pointed out the reasons why it is impossible for the Health Officer to attend to the duties as they should be attended to, and frankly admits that the sanitary conditions are not looked after in the County as they should be, and further claims that it is impossible to improve upon them under present system.

Miss Smith's Report. "Visit the sick, feed the hungry, clothe the poor, are commands familiar to us all, and yet I am sorry to say I have found evidence sufficient to believe that these injunctions have long been ignored. I am sure it is through no want of charity on your part, but simply because your business and social obligations have grown out of you finding the needy ones amongst you."

Directions To Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture. A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable though simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Karkon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Another case was that of a baby whose mother had gone to the hospital ill. There was no one to bathe or care for it, and I found it in an awful condition. I bathed it and dressed it, but could not dress it, for it had no clothes, and I had to wrap it in rags until I could get something for it.

Another case was that of a baby that had been ill for several days. The mother was poor and did not feel able to call in a doctor when it was absolutely necessary. When they found it was too late, for the baby died. Had the parents been accustomed to the visiting nurse they would have called her in and she would have seen the little one's serious condition.

Another case was a woman who was as real and strong as it is in years, must needs wait till her little one is nearly gone before she can feel she is able to send for a doctor.

Another case was a woman with typhoid fever. I found her ill and in bed all dressed the same as though she had been about her daily duties. Why? One reason was, she had no gown, and the second, I don't believe the world have known how to put them on if she had. Now this is true. You have people who don't know how to go to bed; they have to be taught, and when they are sick and poor and have not one of the things that their more fortunate friends have, it is up to us to supply them.

Then a change was decided upon. I was called to the County Commissioners room and notified by the President of the Board that they would no longer pay by the visit, but would be given the magnificent salary of $150 per annum, as Health Officer to Wicomico County, including Salisbury, physician to jail and training the necessary medicines to the prisoners, furnish all disinfectants for houses to be fumigated and to fumigate them.

In the County of Wicomico, Maryland, the Health Officer would not pay for the disinfectants and the salary for the same date.

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do it is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

OMAHA BEE "STUNG"

Raps its Own Platform by Severely Criticizing Republican Tariff Plank.

MR. LONGWORTH ON DYNASTY

President's Son-in-Law Declares Eight Years Taft—Then Roosevelt

Republicans are Incensed at the Remarks Made by Longworth in His Rock Island, Ill., Speech on the Succession of Presidency.

The Omaha Bee, published by Victor Rosewater, member of the Republican national committee, and head of the Republican campaign publicity bureau, has made the blunder of criticizing vigorously part of the tariff plank of the Republican platform, the writer being under the impression that he was really pouring hot oil into Mr. Bryan's camp. The Democratic leader, in a recent speech, had quoted that part of the Republican platform which is criticized.

The editorial in Mr. Rosewater's paper goes on the theory that this language was Mr. Bryan's own, the writer failing to notice that the language was really part of the platform on which Mr. Taft is running.

The consequence of this is that Mr. Bryan and his friends have on a broad grid and they think that the smiles at Fairview are likely to spread to all Democrats in the country.

The words complained of in the Bee editorial were these: "In all tariff legislation the true principle is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equalize the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with reasonable profit to American industries."

The Bee went on to puncture this language in the following style: "Nothing prettier in the catch-all line has been offered in this campaign. The most hide-bound standard in the country can accept that as satisfactory and the rankest free trader can find delight in it. The declaration means simply nothing. An attempt to legislate along that line would simply open the way to interminable wrangling as to what constitutes 'reasonable profit' for the manufacturer on wages on one industry, price of raw materials in another, rebates and drawbacks in a third and so on through the list of thousands of articles that are now on the tariff revision. At Bryan's direction, would serve only to halt industrial and commercial progress and keep business unsettled during his term of office."

The Omaha World-Herald shows that the words complained of are not a part of any speech of Mr. Bryan, but a part of the tariff plank of the Republican platform.

Mr. Bryan had this to say when the matter was called to his attention: "I am very much surprised that Mr. Rosewater should have attempted to misrepresent my position. A good many unfair things have been said by Mr. Rosewater. To accuse me of using the language of the tariff plank is an outrage. He ought to apologize for this injustice and explain to his readers that the language which he criticizes was taken from the Republican platform and not from any speech of mine."

"This is a rich find. It shows how absurd the Republican platform looks to a Republican when the Republican has a chance to look at it in a disinterested way. When Mr. Rosewater thought that the language quoted was taken from a speech of mine he could see how ridiculous the language was. I hope that his opinion of the language will not change when he finds that he was shooting at his own platform instead of mine."

"The amusing blunder of the Omaha Bee suggests a new diversion for the campaign. Let the Democrats accuse me of using various sections from the Republican platform and from Mr. Taft's speeches and see how the Republican editors will ridicule the language."

REPUBLICANS INCENSED

Longworth's Speech at Rock Island, Ill., Arouses Wrath.

No utterance of the campaign has attracted more attention than the prediction of Congressman Nicholas Longworth, the president's son-in-law, in a speech at Rock Island, Ill., declared that after eight years of Taft, it would be Roosevelt in the White House again. This utterance has caused Republican campaign managers no little annoyance. The Republican view of the incident is well set forth by the Chicago Inter Ocean, one of the leading Republican papers in the entire west.

"Hon. Nicholas Longworth proposed to 10,000 American citizens in Rock Island on Friday that Mr. Taft should be made president of the United States for the next eight years and Mr. Roosevelt for the eight years following Mr. Taft's second term."

"As Mr. Longworth is President Roosevelt's son-in-law, his words are accepted usually as semi-official for the White House. This is the unfortunate feature of his utterance in the present instance."

"The American people are not looking for a lord protector. Even the most ardent admirers of Mr. Roosevelt would not care to make him another Diaz."

"With some eight years of the presidency behind him next March and with eight years of Mr. Taft before him, Mr. Roosevelt, according to his son-in-law's ideas, would be able to celebrate on March 4, 1925, nearly a quarter of a century of personal rule over this republic."

"Such a program is not one to be announced just now, incredible and impossible as it seems. Especially it is one to be announced from the bosom of Mr. Roosevelt's family. Good politics and good taste are both against such utterances."

Speaking of the Longworth incident, Mr. Josephus Daniels, chairman of the publicity bureau at Democratic headquarters, said:

"The people may take it in their heads in November to knock Mr. Longworth's nice family arrangement in the head by going outside the close corporation and family monopoly of the presidency. That would be a good reason for the son-in-law, but good for the country. The remark of Mr. Longworth shows that long tenure in office does not make them in power if they own the government."

Other reasons that to teach the people that they own the government and that they are not to be ruled by a few others near the throne are the reasons for the public discussion of the incident.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and are eliminated by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

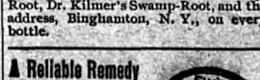

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

RAISING PERSIAN SHEEP

A Large and Profitable Industry which Thrives in Texas.

DESTROY MANY WEEDS

The Importation From Persia Was Once Strictly Prohibited—Can Go For Weeks Without Food—Will Further the Manufacture of Cloaks in this Country.

Col. Charles Goodnight of Goodnight, Texas, owner of the largest herd of Persian sheep in America, says that within a few years it will be possible to excel Persia in the manufacture of the cloaks from the pure-blood lamb skins. He owns nearly 200 head, many of which are full-bloods, and declares, says the San Antonio Sentinel, that among the 114 different varieties of weeds grown in this country the Persian lamb eats 100 of them.

Secretary Rusk, under the first Cleveland administration, is responsible for the introduction of the new sheep, spoken of in the Bible, and so much admired by the patriarchs of Biblical times. Prior to this administration the Persian lamb and cloak industry belonged to a princely class in Persia and their importation to other countries was strictly prohibited by the ruling prince, who had a monopoly of the fine cloaks made from the lambs. Secretary Rusk secured six head and had them shipped to San Jose, Cal. From there a large and profitable industry has become possible.

Cloaks and caps made from the skins of these lambs are not only rare but are very expensive, the cheaper grades ranging from $250 to $500. It is believed that even the more expensive cloaks costing from $1,500 to $2,000 can be produced in this country for less than one-half their present cost. In fact, Col. Goodnight says the mixed breeds are capable of producing a very high grade of fur and can be raised for even less than the ordinary sheep in this country.

In Persia they kill the ewe just before kidding, thereby securing a skin that is superior to anything else of the kind. The fur is jet black and curled and kinked in a most artistic manner. Ladies' capes and muffs made of this quality are exceedingly beautiful and expensive, as many who own the imported articles will vouch for. Discussing the industry and its many possibilities, Col. Goodnight says: "The lamb spoken of in the Scriptures is the same today as it was in olden times, and with proper care and scientific crossing I believe we can produce a much better animal. They are endowed by nature with certain physical conditions which make them an ideal sheep for the southwest. They formerly inhabited the desert, and could go for weeks without food and water when necessary."

"The 'rump' mentioned in the Bible is a long flap which hangs down behind resembling a saddle skirt. The flap is usually ten inches long by three in thickness and is a lump of fat which forms during the grazing season, and they appear to be able to subsist on it during the greater part of the winter months, very much as a bear sucks his paw. This flap is sweet and very nutritious, and I believe the most delicious dish I ever ate. I am not surprised that the patriarchs of old scrambled for the position of the mutton when visiting the butcher shop."

"I am of the opinion that the skins of lambs killed after their advent into the world would be just as good as those taken from the mother before this event. I base this upon observation and careful investigation. The fur may not prove quite as soft and silken, but its color and durability would, I am sure, be equally as good if not better. They are born with jet black fur and as wavy and fine as any I have ever examined from Persia. If my conclusions are correct, it would mean that all wearing apparel could be produced in this country, at nominal cost to the wearer, and of course, the producer would make handsome profits from the industry."

"Our association imports new and better lambs every year, and we get better crosses with common sheep of this country we find the possibilities are much greater."

"Any breed of sheep cross well with the Persian lamb, but our best results are had with the Shropshire ewe. As yearlings the half-breeds weigh 100 pounds and upwards, and as two-year-olds they are immense. I have never lost one by sickness, and I believe by crossing them with American breeds they become harder and better. The color begins to change as they grow older, and when six months of age a three-quarters or seven-eighths breed is almost white. The black begins to fade into a dark brown at three months, and the change takes place more rapidly after that age."

Any farmer or ranchman can raise the pure-blood Persian for less than the common sheep. Our association would be only too glad to aid in the industry, and those desiring a better sheep can commence with a small capital."

One Touch of Nature

"Paper, sir?" It was such a pitiful, weak, frightened little wall that Dwight Maynard did not heed it until he felt a slight tug at his coat, and the words were repeated accompanied by an unmistakable sob. Dwight turned. At his elbow stood a forlorn little piece of humanity, with long, ro' den curls and a pair of deep brown eyes, looking mournfully out from a face which probably was white, but which now bore a very streaked appearance, as if a pair of dirty, chubby fists had been frequently rubbed across it.

"Paper?" repeated Dwight. "A little lad like you selling papers?" He took the unresisting hand in his and led the boy forward where an electric light gave him a clearer view, and a low whistle escaped his lips as he saw the youngster was clad in a suit of rich black velvet, the lace collar and cuffs of which matched the tiny face in colorings. "Say, there's something wrong here! You're only a baby and an aristocratic one at that! Where do you live? Your mamma, and probably half a dozen servants, are very likely near, frantic searching for you. What's your name?"

"I don't want to tell. I'm not a baby, either, now—and no one's looking for me." The quivering lips could hardly frame the words, and in spite of himself Dwight felt a big lump rise in his throat as the pitiful little wall came again. "W—will you please buy a paper?"

"Sure I will," was the ready answer, as Dwight took the proffered paper; then, as his eye rested on the date, "Look here, this is nearly a month old."

"Is it? I couldn't find any newer ones. Does—does that make any difference? Oh, won't you please buy it?" and without waiting for a reply the curly head went forward against Dwight's knee and the flood-gates opened.

"Nov, now, sonny," raising the child until the golden curls rested on his shoulder, "tell me all about it and maybe we'll find a way out of this awful predicament," and he marched along the street to his rooms carrying the heartbroken little news vendor with him.

Not a word was said until the door closed behind them, and seating himself in the big lounging chair he gently rocked the tired boy to and fro until the quivering sighs almost ceased and then he said softly: "Now, laddie, out with it. Why were you selling papers?"

"I—I had to make my living, somehow, and that was the only way I knew."

"Make your living! Where are your father and mother?"

"Home—but there's someone else there, too—a baby sister! She came last night, and she's going to stay always! And there's something the matter with my nose, 'cause nurse said so. Mamma didn't come to hear my prayer, last night, and when I asked papa why, he said, 'My little chap isn't mamma's baby any more—he'll have to shift for himself.' That was just what he said, so I runned away and I'm not go'g back there ever again!"

For a moment Dwight said nothing. He well remembered those miserable first days when he himself had learned he was no longer "baby," and he understood just how great and overpowering was the pain in this tiny lad's heart. Then he told him of his own little sister, of the good times they had had growing up together—he tried, in his bungling way, to show him how much better it is to be the man than the baby of the family. He finally convinced him there was love enough for him and the new sister, too, and he was rewarded by hearing the sighs cease entirely and a resigned little voice say:

"Well, if that's all a baby sister is, I guess perhaps I'd better go back and try it again. Do you s'pose you could show me the way?"

"If you tell me your name I think I can."

"Harold Winfield."

"And is Jack Winfield your papa?"

"Yes, sir—do you know him?"

"Indeed I do. 'Come along little man, and we'll be home, and you'll sound in no time."

"I glad, 'cause mamma and papa are so radiant smile."

"And see, you look at that!"

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS.

Prayer and Praise.

"I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not," said Jesus to Peter yet on that night of betrayal Peter's faith and courage both seemed to forsake him. But the prayer of our Lord for him had not been unheard; neither was it to go unanswered. Said as was this disciple's defection, it was but for a time. The faith for which Christ prayed did not finally fall. Peter dared to believe that there was forgiveness for him and to claim it. In the end he became one of the foremost of the Apostles. Jesus looked at Peter but it was with the eyes sorrowful, not discouraged, and that is where we differ from Him: it was a look that led to repentance and not to despair. There was no prayer for His disciple would be unanswered. The faith which He asked should not fall his followers, was meant to be his own breast. He knew whom He believed.

Yet how we faint and falter because some petition of ours for a loved one is not immediately realized; because the dear one for whom we pray seems to drift ever farther away from rectitude as the days go by. The denial of present good is always followed by the lowering of moral standards. After Peter denied his Lord twice, he began to curse and to swear, to say, "I know not the man." Even so, with his prayer for the man of Galilee, whose faith gave power to break his stubborn heart!

All is not lost because those for whom we pray plunge farther into sin. Prayer is a power which takes hold of the eternal and may spur them. When our faith fails not, we are linked to omnipotence.

"With God all things are possible." The only question for our setting is whether we are "with" Him in this thing for which we ask. Highop Warren has told us that the clause in Matt. 19:26, "With God all things are possible," does not mean that "because God is almighty all things are possible to His working great result alone." But that the Greek gives the sense of "an association of operations." Hence, it means that man can do more than God alone wills to do; it means all that both associated can do. It vanishes over the impossibilities of the one into the possibilities of the both.

Are we in that "both"? "With" God in the petition we lift? That is the all-important question. Are we associated with Him, co-operating with Him in this prayer for the salvation of our straying one? If we know that we are then we may dare to claim the promise, "With God all things are possible," and may rest in that assurance.

Not what we see but what we believe measures the possibility of success as far as God sees, but can be prayer. Said a divine, "I cannot see as far as God sees." It cannot say that truthfully, we shall never be dismayed while waiting for the answers to our petitions.

"Not to Reign."

"What are we set on earth for? Say, to toil; Nor seek to leave the tending of the vines For all the heat of the day, till it declines And death's mild curfew shall from work as soil. God did anoint thee with his odoriferous oil. To wrestle, not to reign."

And yet with it all there is a reigning that accompanies the wrestling. It may not be just the kind of sovereignty we should choose for ourselves, but nevertheless less it may be the exact character that the Lord sees fit to give us because he sees that we ought to have it for our highest development. He knows that we need the wrestling, and with His grace we can conquer; we can reign.

If some days the back bends, and the temples ache, we can remember that we are "set on earth to toil," not forgetting all the while that our Heavenly Father never intended that these labors of ours should be heavier than we can bear with His help. And it soothes and rests our nerves to realize also, that God anoints us with His odoriferous oil. Ah, yes! If God anoint, what matter it whether this anointing be or working or for resting; for wrestling or for reigning?—Miss Bartlett Simmons.

A Prophecy.

Col. George W. Bain, the noted Temperance orator makes the following significant prophecy: "In five years there won't be a legalized saloon in all the Southland. Forty years ago you of the North took the shackles of chattel slavery from the South; we will now return the compliment by taking the shackles of rum slavery off you." We say, Amen!!!

Prohibition Pays.

Business men realize that prohibition pays. One thousand men buying 1,000 $10 suits is better than five saloon keepers and ten bartenders buying ten $40 suits and twenty $25 suits.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Salisbury Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up" must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means tortures. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. R. L. Redden, living on Tilghman St., Salisbury, Md., says: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I made a statement for publication in 1903, and it gives me pleasure at this time, May 9th, 1907, to reiterate all I said in favor of them in my former statement. I suffered from abnormal kidneys for four years or more. My kidneys failed to perform their functions and the poison which should have passed off with the secretions, passed again into the blood and affect my whole system, causing not only excruciating backache and misery through my loins but my back became so weak at times as to prevent me from attending to my ordinary household duties. I spent sleepless and restless nights, and weary, languid days, and there seemed to be no help for me. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at White and Leonard's Drug Store. It is the only medicine that ever gave me any real, lasting benefit. They cured me and I have not had any return of the complaint since, my blood was purified, and my general condition was wonderfully improved.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

To Prevent Hog Cholera.

An Illinois farmer who raises 200 hogs a year says he has lost none in ten or twelve years from cholera, while they died all around him. He thinks the disease is started by too many worms in the intestines, particularly in small ones. He fills a barrel with water and white shelled or ear corn. Then adds half a box of Iya and allows it to soak over night. Enough Iya so used to turn the corn as yellow as yellow corn. The hogs are fed all they will eat of it for two or three days. He begins feeding the hogs as soon as any of them begin to cough. Try it.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

A motor steamer for the Wuchow-Nanning trade has just made its trial in the Hongkong harbor.

It is owned by motor engineers of Hongkong, who are conducting the difficult trade between the two West River ports. The vessel is a shallow draft motor steamer, 75 feet long, with a 15 foot beam, and with hollow stern. She will cover 240 miles on her first trip, from Hongkong to Wuchow, and thereafter must cover about 4,000 miles a month.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 33 Years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. O. Earle, Oynthiana, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

Would Mortgage The Earm.

A farmer on Rural Route 5, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Brooklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold, would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only $20. at Toulson's Drug Store.

Don't be deceived by imitations of DeWitt's Carbolic Witch Hazel Salve.

When you ask for DeWitt's be sure to get it. The name is stamped on every box. There is just one original. It is especially good for piles. We sell and recommend them.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the Civil War, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters and they cured me. I now take as a tonic, and they keep me as well." $20. at Toulson's Drug Store.

THE EVILS OF HIGH HEELS.

Cause More Organic Diseases Among Women Than Any Other Thing.

"High-heeled shoes are the cause of more organic diseases among women than the tightly laced corset or any other one thing," said a large manufacturer not long ago. And the yalmest, which means the bravest when the adjective is applied to womankind, must admit that it is true.

They throw the whole diaphragm out of line and place the foot in an unnatural position, thus forcing the knees and head to maintain the equilibrium of the whole body. It does seem a strange desire on the part of women thus to cripple themselves, and yet they will persist in hoping that the curved heels decrease the size of the foot and add an extra touch to the attire.

A physician has said: "I consider the high-heeled shoe is now the greatest contributing cause for the necessity of organic operations upon women. If Dame Fashion does not soon decree that high heels be discarded for the flat foot of the "surfragette" the doctors will not hold themselves responsible for the health of the women of to-day, and especially to-morrow.

Another authority has remarked that "women may imagine that they delude men into thinking that their height is greater and their feet smaller, but I do not believe that any man with sense enough to have opinions is ever deceived at all. And when men realize how destructive to the health such exaggerated heels are and how injurious to the organs, they will shun women who wear them, particularly when they are seeking wives."

Still more discouraging! It seems that a woman must choose between fashionable footwear and a husband. Yet they call them the weaker sex even with such mighty matters resting upon their decision.

Perhaps it is true that high-heeled shoes are not so beautiful as they might be but it seems hardly fair to cast them into such utter oblivion. Women seldom walk on them, and for dancing they are perfectly convenient. But there are many young girls and women who are much injured by the excessive use of the Louis XV. heel, and they would find that a one-inch heel is quite sufficient to support their weight and at the same time be becoming and convenient.

It is a true fact that if Old Dame Fashion decreased high heels out-of-date and unattractive many female martyrs would sigh with relief and the uncomfortable slippers would be consigned to the place.

Six Ideas of Beauty.

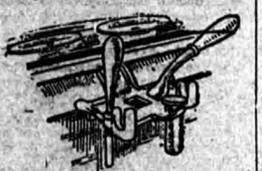

The Tahiti girl, to acquire a flat, broad nose, sleeps with a compress on it. The Arab woman paints her eyebrows so as to make them seem to meet above her nose. Belles of certain American tribes have cone-shaped skulls due to a mal' worn on the head from babyhood until maturity. The Turkish woman imparts a faint bluish tint to nails and teeth. The ladies of Madagascar paint their teeth red and yellow a red tooth then a yellow one, in alternation. The Paraguayan girl eradicates her eyebrows, declaring that she does not wish to resemble a whiskered man.

A Sewing Hint.

When making up flannel garments for a little child it is an excellent plan to first of all wash the piece of flannel before cutting out the garment. Nearly all flannels—even the very best makes—has an unpleasant knack of shrinking, and it is exceedingly annoying where they are cutting up to find that the garment has shrunk and has become too tight, after a very few visits to the wash-tub. In any case it is wise to make a flannel garment loose, to allow for any such contingency.—Home Chat.

Rack on the Range.

A rack on the stove or range will be recognized as a great convenience by the housewife or the cook. It is desirable to have the poker or stove lifter at hand where they can be seized quickly in an emergency, but in the absence of some regular place for them, the implements have an aggravating way of getting out of sight or reach. This rack, which forms the subject of a recent patent, is made of wrought iron, the same as the stove itself, and is secured to the edge of the latter by means of a bolt, being of the nature of an extension to the top of the stove. In this rack there are slots and openings of different sizes and shapes and adapted to receive and hold any of the utensils used generally around the stove. This includes the poker, stove-lid, lifter, shovel and grate shaker.

A Homely Remedy.

A somewhat old-time but successful remedy for swollen feet is to bathe them in water in which wood ashes have been boiled. The water must be cooled and strained before the feet are placed in it.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many testimonials as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition. Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

WHY SUFFER

When relief can be obtained at small cost and at little trouble? Ask your grocer for a 10c package of Heinz Health Biscuits. These biscuits are a combination of cereals—oats, wheat, barley and rye—ground into meal, leaving all the nutritive elements for the building of muscle, bone, teeth and nerves, and at the same time possessing laxative qualities.

They regulate the bowels and restore the stomach to its natural condition. They are delicious as well as nourishing. Dr. George LeFevre, of Muskegon, Mich., says: "I have been using your Health Biscuits in my practice and have had remarkable success with them. My patients are delighted at this wonderful food." If you knew the merits of these biscuits, you would not be without them. Everybody should eat Heinz Health Biscuits to keep well. They cost but 10c per package, at your grocer's. If he does not keep them, have him order them for you.

Birthmarks which mark and mar the outside of the body are a grief to every mother whose child may bear them. But for every child who bears a birth-mark on the skin there are many who bear an indelible birthmark on the mind. Nervous mothers have nervous children and many a man and woman owes an irritable and despondent temperament to those days of dread when the mother waited the hour of her maternity. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the mother for her trial. With strength comes a buoyance of spirits and quietness of mind, which is one of the happiest gifts a mother can bestow on her offspring. By giving vigor and elasticity to the delicate womanly organs "Favorite Prescription" practically does away with the pain of maternity and makes the baby's advent as natural and as simple as the blossoming of a flower. No opium or alcohol in "Favorite Prescription." All ingredients printed on bottle wrapper. Is hot a secret or patent medicine, but is the open prescription of an educated and experienced physician.

Sufferers who say they have tried everything without benefit are the people we are looking for. We want them to know from glad experience that Ely's Cream Balm will conquer Cold in the Head, Hay Fever and obstinate forms of Nasal Catarrh. This remedy acts directly on the inflamed, sensitive membrane. Cleansing, soothing and healing. One trial will convince you of its healing power. Price 50c. Druggists or mailed by Ely's Cream Balm Co., New York.

FARMERS SHOULD RISE

In An Un-Partisan Body And Vote For The Able Champion Of Their Interests.

Messrs. Editors:— In your valuable paper, champion of the Public Interest, I wish to say there is one thing about Mr. Bryan's candidacy that should appeal to the most numerous as well as the most useful class of our people. Mr. Bryan is distinctly the farmer's candidate. I do not recall any candidate for president better qualified in this respect to represent the agricultural interest of the country.

Mr. Bryan is not only a practical farmer now, but worked and lived on the farm in his youth and represented for four years in Congress, a distinctly Agricultural District. In Congress he was the champion of his farmer constituency in his famous speeches on the tariff and money issues. Joseph G. Cannon, the present speaker of the House, told Mr. Bryan as he grasped his hand that his was the "ablest argument he ever heard on the money question."

Our noble Washington was a farmer president and gave to the occupation of tilling the soil that dignity and prestige which it has ever attained in the estimation of the American people. In fact this is not the only resemblance between the two men—Washington was a devoutly religious man. In this also Mr. Bryan follows his example by representing the intelligent christian manhood of modern times. Washington was also too broad and generous a man for a very severe partisanship. In this also Mr. Bryan has shown a breadth of sympathy with all classes of people as comprehensive as it is truly remarkable. A point of view probably obtainable in no other occupation than from the standpoint of the American Agriculturist.

It is probably the last time he will appear before the American people and if defeated the American farmer will have lost its most eloquent and distinguished champion, and christian manhood, exalted courage, and impregnable strength of character, receive a decided discouragement in American political life.

An oyster supper will be held at Royal Oaks on Saturday night November 7th. If weather is unfavorable then, on next Monday night, November 9th.

DETECTIVES ON SPOT

To Look After The Would-Be Vote Buyer Or Seller.

Governor Crothers has followed up his announcement of several days ago, when he said he proposed to send a number of special detectives into the counties this week to look out for violations of the Corrupt Practices Act, by stating that he had secured a number of detectives for the work.

He has sent two detectives to Wicomico county, two to Queen Anne's two to Dorchester, and two to Allegany. He will send out as many more as he can get hold of, and expects to have one or more in every county in the State. They will be paid for their work out of the Governor's contingent fund, and the Governor has instructed them to look out for bribery, for the dispensing of whiskey and intoxicating liquors and for coercion of electors.

Captain Pumpfrey also visited Governor Crothers and later assigned eight of his men to the work. In order that there may be no doubt about the detectives doing their work, Captain Pumpfrey has seen to it that no political feeling shall cause them to hesitate, and he has assigned the detectives so they will travel in pairs—a Democrat with a Republican. The men left Baltimore yesterday afternoon and their destinations are:

Bradley (Democrat) and Miller (Republican) to Cambridge. Armstrong (Republican) and Busc (Democrat) to Salisbury. Brennan (Democrat) and Coughlin (Republican) to Centerville. Barr (Democrat) and Dick (Republican) to Crisfield.

Disbarred—Long.

On Wednesday Oct. 14 1908 Miss Clara J. Disharoon and Mr. Mark L. Long were quietly married at the home of the bride, 4133 Parrish St., Eider B. F. Conlter officiated. There were no attendants. The bride wore white batiste with lace and carried bride's roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

Those present were Mrs. J. Ernest Shockley, Salisbury; Mr. Hillary Long, Allen; Miss Maude McGuinnis, Carlisle; Mrs. W. A. Custer, Mrs. B. F. Conlter, Mrs. L. J. Toll and Miss Estelle Brattan, Philadelphia. After the ceremony dinner was served, then Mr. and Mrs. Long sailed on steamer "Indian" for Boston and places of interest in New England States.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Proceedings Of These Officials At Tuesday's Meeting. Many Shells Ordered.

Board met with all the members present. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Board contracted with Roberts Bros., of Baltimore, and Wade H. Insley, of Salisbury for the delivery of one hundred thousand bushels of shells, each, for the public roads at 3 1/2 cts. per bushel of 100 lbs. Delivery to be made before May 1, 1909 in regular monthly installments of about 16000 bushels each, and contractors to give bond of $500 to guarantee delivery, measurements to be in sealed oyster measure tubs.

Mr. Layfield and Mr. Locates were again before the board to ask that the board have the road in Parsons District surveyed and estimate of cost for constructing same, furnished them. Board agreed to have report ready on November 10th.

Mr. Cooper and Mr. Perry were appointed as a committee to purchase shells for the Fritland Meadow Bridge road. The citizens on the Delmar Road filed a petition for the construction of two miles of road under the Shoemaker Law, beginning where the present shell road ends and extend to Leonard's Mill.

Mr. Cooper was authorized to act with Mr. L. W. Dorman in draining and widening a section of Spring Hill road.

Mr. Messick reported that he had contracted with Chas. Parks to raise the causeway on the road from Bi-valve to Nantuxee twelve inches at a stipulated sum of $150.00. Mr. Johnson reported that a piece of road known as Wicomico Lane, needed grading and widening, was ordered done.

Board agreed to furnish shells to the people of Mardela, to shell Bridge Street from Main Street to the hill, provided they would put the road in condition and put the shells on. It was estimated that it would take 9000 bushels to do the work. Mr. Geist of the J. S. Case Co., and Mr. Wunder of the Killy Springfield Roller Company were before the board to sell road roller, the board having decided to purchase an additional roller.

— Mr. Merrill W. Tondvin, son of Theodor F. Tondvin, is taking a business course at Coldeys' College, Wilmington, Del.

THE NATIONAL ELECTION OF NEXT TUESDAY

Will Mean Probably More To The American People, And Their Institutions Than Any Counting Of The Country's Votes Has Ever Done Before.

EVERY CITIZEN OF WICOMICCO COUNTY IS EXPECTED TO DO HIS DUTY NEXT TUESDAY.

The issues of this, the most momentous and far reaching campaign that has ever come up to the people of this country, have been presented in clear, and forcible ways through the press and print, on the stump and by personal dispensers throughout the length and breadth of this great land. From East-to-West and North to South, so far as hostile newspapers and big corporate influence has permitted, Mr. Bryan, the fearless and able champion of the great American people, has unfolded the important national policies at stake. The Republicans have likewise made probably the hardest fight in the history of their party.

It has not, however, taken a close observer of the last two months events to note, and this should have been, in itself, impressive, that the Democrats have taken the aggressive and forced the issues—while the Republicans are on the defensive and fighting up-hill.

Democracy has stood—and never more than today—for equal rights to all citizens, an equal chance to earn an honest living, honor, fame and fortune. It stands for publicity in campaign contributions, for free trade, against an ever burdening tariff paid by the masses of the people—the consumers of tariff-listed goods. It stands for every individual in the nation against privileged classes and unlawful combinations.

Republicanism in years ago has played a large part in the history of this country, but it has become debauched and arbitrary. It has become the breeder, through its iniquitous tariff rates, of unscrupulous selfish trusts, of predatory wealth in various forms, of huge law defying corporations and of corrupt monopolies. These are feeding on the limited earnings of the great common people nurtured and fostered through favored legislation of the Republican party, and its National administration.

SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?

Every vote cast for Bryan, Kern and Covington on the Democratic ticket will count.

Give it.

MONSTER DEMOCRATIC GATHERING

In Salisbury Last Saturday To Hear Mr. Covington And Other Democratic Speakers. Large Overflow Meeting At Uiman's Opera House Indicates Big Democratic Majority Next Tuesday.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds that ever attended a political meeting gathered in Salisbury to listen to the principles of Democracy expounded by the able speakers present. The meeting was held in the Opera House, which was filled to overflowing both at the afternoon and evening meetings. Every train brought hundreds of the faithful, and the roads were filled with teams bringing voters to the meeting. Not only was Saturday's meeting an unusual one in point of numbers, but an enthusiastic one as well, and if the number attending the meeting and the enthusiastic reception of the speeches mean anything, it means Wicomico will be found on election days with an unusually large Democratic majority.

At every mention of Mr. Bryan's name a wild outburst of applause would follow, nor was the reception given to Mr. Covington, the Democratic Candidate for Congress less cordial. Mr. Covington in his afternoon speech delivered the best speech he ever made here, and one that reached the right spot with the audience and left an impression on those who heard him that Mr. Covington is indeed a man of ability and fully able to take care of the interests of the First Congressional District in case of his election to Congress. Mr. Covington made an earnest speech in which he stated that not merely is the fight in the First Congressional District a battle to defeat Wm. H. Jackson, the Republican Congressional Candidate, but that the most important phase of the contest is through the instrumentality of an awakened, alert and righteous public opinion to achieve the tremendous boon to real popular government that will come by putting the Presidential office in possession of that great champion of the masses, William Jennings Bryan.

He declared that the question at the center of the Democratic platform "Shall the people rule?" in reality constitutes the great issue before the American people, and proceeded to state that the subversion in this country of genuine popular rule has been produced by a corrupt partnership between business and government, or in other words an alliance between the industrial combinations that represent predatory wealth and the men who control the National Republican Party organization.

The attitude of the two parties on the publicity of campaign contributions among other matters he said, furnished complete proof that the great protected interests of the Country have the absolute power to dictate legislative policies for the Republican Party. The disclosure of the names of those who are supplying the funds to finance Mr. Taft's campaign, would reveal the partnership between business and government, and in consequence the Republican party is materially opposed to pre-election publicity. In the evening Gov. Swanson of Virginia and Gov. Crothers made the principal addresses and were given a rousing reception.

Virginia and Virginia citizens were ever popular on the Eastern Shore where the common ties of kindred are recognized with pride, and Gov. Swanson was made to feel at home by the reception he was given when Sen. Jesse D. Price, the chairman of the meeting, introduced him in a few well chosen remarks. Gov. Swanson is an orator of national reputation and made an address which was eloquent and to the point. After paying a tribute to the ladies present, something that a Southerner never forgets and which no race on the globe can do as well or so effectively, Gov. Swanson discussed the various issues of the campaign, driving each point home with clever illustrations and sandwiching his remarks in with amusing anecdotes which pointed a moral or emphasized some telling point, ending with an eloquent plea for Democratic principles and Democratic success.

Gov. Crothers followed him and the reception given him shows how popular Maryland's Governor is in Wicomico County, where his policy of helping our farmers by improving our highways has made him popular with all classes, regardless of political affiliations. Maryland has had few Governors that were so near to the people in our County as is Governor Crothers and this feeling found an outlet in the cheering and applauding which met him at the meeting on Saturday evening. Gov. Crothers discussed the issues of the campaign in a logical and convincing way and was carefully listened to by those present. In the evening there was a large number who were unable to get into the Opera House and an overflow meeting was held on the outside. This meeting was addressed by Mr. Covington, Ex-Senator M. V. Brexington and Jerome T. Hayman.

The Bryan-Kern-Covington Clubs were very much in evidence at the meeting, it being estimated that over eight hundred members of the different Clubs throughout the County were present, each member wearing a badge with his club's name written on it.

The reception committee to meet the distinguished visitors was composed of Hon. C. R. Disharoon, Mayor Chas. E. Harper, Messrs. E. A. Tondvins, W. A. Sheppard and S. King White. The committee used the automobiles of Mr. Disharoon and Mr. R. McKenny Price in taking the visitors around.

Sen. Jesse D. Price entertained the visitors and a large number of democrats at his home after the speaking.

Messrs. A. M. Jackson, Raymond K. Truitt and Percy Trussell acted as ushers to the meeting and handled the large crowd in such a manner that very little of the disorder attending a meeting of this size was in evidence. Mr. L. Atwood Bennett presided at the afternoon meeting and Sen. Jesse D. Price at the evening.

The aims of the assembly and the interest manifested by those caused many to revise their estimate of the majority Wicomico likely give, many hitherto Bryan voters will be with Covington's in place.

REWARD OFFERED

By Wicomico Anti-Bribery League. Close Attention Should Be Given.

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTERS, PARTY WORKERS AND PUBLIC OFFICERS OF WICOMICCO COUNTY.

There are three motives to which we appeal in asking for your co-operation.

First: Your Conscience; Second: The Sense of Duty and Self Protection; Third: The Danger and Disgrace of Bribery.

The strength of resistance to the OLD temptation and OLD habits in Politics, will be in proportion to the combined strength of these three forces.

The average Voter is inclined to keep the law and should not be tempted: white Party Workers and candidates often let their desire to win overcome the power of the other three forces.

But Public Officials must above all else see the law enforced. Under the Corrupt Practices Act, this is made easy, because, First: Independently of criminal prosecution, the Defeated Candidate, or any ten citizens can PETITION THE COURT TO INQUIRE INTO THE ELECTION OF THE successful candidate and the Court may declare the election to be tainted with Fraud and Bribery.

Second: Anyone can be COMPELLED TO TESTIFY EVEN AGAINST HIMSELF and he is given exemption from prosecution.

Third: If he should TESTIFY FALSELY HE MAY BE CONVICTED OF PERJURY.

A few of the things that are criminal under the Corrupt Practices Act.

1. A GIFT OR A PROMISE TO GIVE anything as an inducement to vote or not to vote.

2. A GIFT OR A PROMISE TO GIVE or pay any of the costs or expenses of any campaign or election except to the Treasurer or political agent.

3. A GIFT OR A PROMISE TO GIVE anything except in the name of the person who gives or promises to give it.

4. The Treasurer or Agent who...

WITCHING HALLOWE'EN

Is Tonight, 'Ware Of Efts And Hobgoblins, The Good Humor Prevails.

Just when the fashion of holding special rites and entertainments on All-Hallow's E'en first began there really is no saying, for it is so long ago that its history is lost in dim tradition and mystery.

The French have a pretty idea about this feast and doubtless it is to them that we owe the many rites and superstitions that are practiced by young and old alike on this last day of October. The first day of November being All Saints' Day, the evening or night before is known in the church calendar as the 'Vails or Vigil'. And so, in the olden times, two nights before All Saints' Day was the time when the ghosts of departed folks came back to earth again to visit their former haunts once more.

It was the one night when those who were supposed to be suffering for their sins while in the flesh got a respite from their punishment; they were allowed to be happy, each in his own way.

Ghosts were supposed to walk to talk to those who had enough to address them, a question asked of the spirits of the right answer.

Wishes were supposed to be granted, even, if not on the spot.

It is a curious fact that the custom of giving out treats to children on this night is of very recent origin. It is said to have been introduced by the Quakers in the early part of the last century.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN About Pe-ru-na.

MRS. CLARA L. MILLER.

MRS. S. L. JEWELL.

MRS. MAHALA REID.

The following testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peru-na.

It means a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, bronchitis and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peru-na. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peru-na is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peru-na so justly famous.

A Good Word for Pe-ru-na.
Mrs. S. L. Jewell, R. F. D. 1, Freeport, Pa., writes:
"Having used Peru-na myself for many years with beneficial effects, and observing the good it has done others of my acquaintance, I cannot but say a good word in behalf of Peru-na."
Keeps Pe-ru-na in the House.
Mrs. Maria Goerts, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes: "My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of sarache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140."
"Dr. Hartman's remedies have proven to be reliable and wonderful. Their effect upon the system is remarkable. Peru-na quiet the nerves, and is a great specific for all forms of chronic catarrh. I am very glad to say that I can write you that I am cured in every way of catarrh, with which I had suffered terribly for ten years. I cannot thank you enough for your advice."

In Memoriam.

These lines are dedicated to the memory of Levin J. Gale by his old and life long friend, James Robinson. For years I've known a man of worth, I've known him from a boy, And from the right he would not move, No wrong would he employ.

He did his part, and stood the test, And by the truth he stood, And when there was a place to fill, His chance was always good.

In him they found a trusty man, On whom they could rely, Just what he said he meant to do, A wrong he would defy.

His public life would bear the test, There was no stain on him, When he said yes, you might rely, He was not moved by whim.

I always was so glad to meet, That special friend of mine, It made me think of former days, When he was scarcely nine.

But we have lived to be quite old, Yes, both, that friend and me, He was about three score and ten, And I am eighty three.

While he is gone, I still remain, But know I soon must fall, That friend of mine of whom I write, You'll see is Levin Gale.

In Memoriam.

In sad but loving remembrance of Ebenezer Carey, who departed this life Oct. 21, 1907.

Dearest husband thou has left us, We no more thy face can see, Thy seat is vacant, how sad we feel, How lonely we are without thee here. —By his wife.

Dearest Father, thou has left us, Never more on Earth to stay, But in Heaven we hope to meet thee, When this life shall pass away.

Oh how hard we tried to save him, But our efforts were in vain, For God knew it best to take him, Where he would suffer no more pain.

Farewell, Farewell dear Father, But we hope to meet again, Where there is no parting, In that heavenly land above. —By his children.

Dear Sir: One of the ways to get rich is to make a quarter look like thirty cents.

There's a better; make it thirty cents. It has this advantage; one keeps out of jail.

There are 300 paint manufacturers making quarters look like 30, 40, 50, 60 cents and all the odd cents between. That is, their "paints" profess to be paints; and they are, in about the proportions named; they get 80 to 90 cents for a quarter's worth; some get 75.

There's a better way to paint; Devoe. There are eight honest paints. By "honest," we mean not adulterated and full measure. The honest ones differ; no two are alike. In one, the quarter is worth 27 or 28 cents; in another, 30 cents; there must be a best one in eight; it is the one that takes least gallons to cover a job—Devoe.

To cover; that seems a light way to speak of paint. No, it isn't. That is what paint is for to cover. It means to hide and protect. The paint that goes furthest is best, wears longest. Go far is all; and Devoe is the go far paint.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.

For Chronic Diarrhoea.

"While in the army in 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief until Mr. A. W. Miles of this place persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped the trouble." For sale at Toilet Drug Store.

DISFIGURING

Hemors, Eczemas, and Itchings Cured by Cuticura.

The excruciating itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in seborrhea, all demand a remedy of extraordinary virtues to successfully cope with them. This Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, are such a remedy. They are the only medicine proven by testimonials of thousands of cases when all else has failed. A single use will cure you.

SAVE THIS ANYWAY.

Put it in Some Safe Place. For It May Come in Handy Some Day.

Here is a simple home made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, which makes the statement that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night; painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound-Kargon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known druggist here in town is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily mixed at home by shaking well in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structures, and often overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these actions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription.

The forest fire losses of 1908 directly and indirectly will amount to about $40,000,000.

FEARFUL ITCHING AFFLICTS FAMILY

For Six Months They Suffered Tortures—Patches of Humor Became Raw—Could Hardly Sleep—Medical Treatment Did No Good but

TWO SETS OF CUTICURA CURED THEM IN TEN DAYS

"Last February my sister broke out with a humor which gradually spread to the rest of the family, I being the last to take it. It manifested itself in patches varying from the size of a pea to that of a silver dollar. The joints of our limbs were most affected. The patches where the skin was tender soon became raw and irritated and we were unable to sleep but little because the itching got so bad at night. My sister consulted a physician but he was unable to name the disease and the treatment he prescribed did no good at all. As the warm weather came on we were tortured worse than ever, the irritated parts causing us to scratch until they would bleed. In August, when it was at its worst, my sister was given a cake of Cuticura Soap. This she tried and it afforded so much relief that I bought the complete treatment, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. This we used according to directions and immediately the humor began to disappear. I then bought another set and the whole family were cured by these two, the blotches disappearing in ten days. After this we used the Cuticura Pills for ten days more to be sure that the humor had gone to stay. We have not been troubled since and we all think that if it had not been for the Cuticura Remedies we would have been suffering yet. George W. Brown, 18 Linden St., Rockland, Mass., Jan. 28, 1907."

Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES:
WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:
JOHN W. KERN,
OF INDIANA.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:
J. HARRY COVINGTON,
OF TALBOT CO.

DEMOCRATS, REMEMBER!

In order to make certain the election of Bryan, Kern and Covington, do not fail to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 3d. Remember also, that in order to vote the straight Democratic ticket, you must make one cross mark opposite the names Bryan and Kern and also one cross mark opposite the name James Harry Covington. Two cross marks votes the straight Democratic ticket.

CITIZENS SHOULD VOTE.

Almost everyone has decided by this time how he will cast his vote on Tuesday, and few votes will be changed between now and that date. But there may be a good many Democrats in Wicomico County who will not go to the polls unless they are specially urged. This election is one of the most important ones this County has seen in many a year, and it is the duty of every democrat to cast his vote next Tuesday and see that all his fellow citizens do the same.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

On Tuesday next, the "Battle of the Ballots" will be fought all over this great Country of ours. The privilege which we enjoy of selecting our rulers is the foundation and bulwark of our liberty and one that should be jealously guarded in order that it may be perpetuated in the same free and unpolluted shape in which we received it from those who laid the foundations of our civil and political freedom. For our system of electing our rulers to be effective and successful, the individual freedom of every man to cast his vote as he thinks best must not be interfered with by threats, intimidation, coercion or by the use of a corrupt campaign fund, to tempt out voters to sell their birthright as free American citizens.

The Campaign that is now drawing to a close has been a remarkable one in many respects, and the lines have been closely drawn between the two leading political parties. No issue has been more clearly defined than that pertaining to the right of the people to cast their votes as patriotic citizens, uninfluenced by any motive but the best interests of the country.

The Republican party, refuses to make public the amount and the names of the contributors to its campaign fund. The only inference one can draw from this is that the party is so confident of its success that it does not care to reveal its sources of strength.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, has been open and frank in its campaign. It has published a list of contributors and contributions; thus letting the public know who were backing it by their money and also showing that it was impossible with the amount received to corrupt the voters at the polls.

Not only have the Republicans failed to meet the Democrats on the Publicity of campaign funds, but they, through their heavily interested manufacturers, who are interested on account of the protection afforded them by the protective tariff are trying to influence their employees by threats of reduced wages and shutting down of plants in case of Democratic success.

The people ought to resent the attempts of the Republican party to turn our free electorate into a farce, for if our citizens are to vote under intimidation, threats, coercion or bribery, we are worse off under our system of elections than if we had never possessed the right to choose our own rulers.

A vote for Bryan—Kern and Covington is a vote for a free and pure electorate, uninfluenced by any other motive than that of patriotism.

MARRY—IF ELECTED

Says Democratic Candidate For Governor Of Delaware.

If Dr. Rowland G. Paynter, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate for Delaware is elected and keeps his promise, he will have to marry, and there is much speculation among the unmarried women friends of the Sussex county physician as to whether he has made his choice of a life partner.

Dr. Paynter is acceptable to many young women of Sussex county, and now that he has promised to wed if elected, the unmarried women folk may decide to campaign for him.

Former Congressman L. Irving Handy, during an address at Laurel, said, "I take the liberty to make this offer, which is a prize award and no attempt at bribery. Dr. Paynter is a bachelor, and Andrew G. Gray, our nominee for attorney general, never married. If Dr. Paynter is elected governor of Delaware he will marry a girl from the county giving the largest majority, and from the county giving the second largest majority he will select the girl for Andy Gray."

Dr. Paynter, when asked about Handy's announcement, said: "We propose to carry out all our pledges. As sure as I am elected I will get married, and Mr. Handy will be invited to the wedding."

In view of the fact that county majorities are considerations in the promise, some of his young women friends wonder if the doctor has been paying attention to girls in all these three counties.

Death Of Mrs. Levin R. Twilley At Her Mother's Home On Camden Avenue.

(Reported).

Last Friday at 12 M., Oct. 28, found the home of Mrs. Laura G. Darby, Camden Ave., wrapped in gloom and sadness, when her daughter, Mrs. Levin R. Twilley passed away. How sad the blow. So many hearts are left bleeding. She had been in failing health for several months, but no one thought the end so near. She has led a Christian life from childhood and now Christ has only claimed his own.

When asked if she was prepared to meet her God, her reply was, She didn't believe she would be shut out. She has been an obedient child and a devoted wife and mother, never shirking her duty. Her life was a constant sacrifice for the happiness of those around her.

A devoted husband and three dear little boys are left to mourn their loss, also a loving mother, four sisters, Mrs. Geo. Hitch, of Salisbury, Mrs. S. E. Downing, of Hebron, Misses M. Grace and Kate Darby and a brother, Arthur Darby, of Salisbury. She was the daughter of the late Richard Jas. Darby and the niece of Wm. T. Darby of Riverton.

May the dear Lord watch over those dear little boys and may her Christian influence ever be as a guiding star in their lives.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

MACK SEES VICTORY

Democratic National Chairman Declares That Bryan Will Carry East and West.

REPORTS SHOW RISING TIDE

Ohio, Indiana and New York in the Democratic Column.

Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, is confident of the election of Mr. Bryan as president. In a statement summing up the situation he said:

"Three weeks ago it was apparent that the tide had turned toward Democracy, and that every outward evidence pointed to a Democratic victory in November. The situation is far better now than then, and I am confident in the belief that Mr. Bryan will be elected president. In fact, the campaign from the Democratic viewpoint has steadily improved with each succeeding week. As Mr. Bryan has presented the issues in various sections of the country, the people have become more and more convinced that his election is for the permanent prosperity and best interests of the nation. Of the many reports I have received from the various states there has not been one discouraging to our cause. On the other hand, all of our information has indicated that there will be a remarkable decrease in the Republican vote, and this statement applies alike to the banner Republican state of Pennsylvania as well as to states like New York, Ohio, and Indiana. Mr. Bryan will not only receive the majority of the electoral vote, but one of the greatest popular votes ever given a candidate.

Says Fight is Won.

"The fight is won, but we must keep everlastingly on our feet; in fact, two weeks of the campaign. Our reports have been of an encouraging nature that I have at times had fears lest some of those on duty would, in their enthusiasm, let up in the fight, and my parting word to those who are engaged in the fight is to continue their efforts just as aggressively as if the contest had to be won in the declining days of the campaign. 'The Democratic party has a greater membership than the Republican party. The only question with us in recent years has been to get our folks together in harmonious and united phalanx. I do not believe there is a Democrat in the entire country who is outside of the brotherhood in this campaign, and that is the greatest reason for my mind why Mr. Bryan will be inaugurated president on March 4 next. I will not attempt to give figures, but I will say now that New York, Ohio, and Indiana are Democratic this year, and my prediction does not take into consideration a number of other states that will swing from the Republican to the Democratic column on election day.'

Republicans Pass the Lie.

Republican campaign managers have been endeavoring to create the impression that James Bryan is the president of the American Federation of Labor, is not in sympathy with the labor movement advocated by Mr. Gompers, urging union labor to support its friends and defeat its enemies in the present campaign. Mr. Duncan was advised of this fact and he took to state his attitude in the matter. His reply is explicit and gives the lie to the Republican managers who have been seeking to place him in a false light.

List of Trust Allies.

The Republican national committee is sending out a letter asking for "cash contributions," which the administration is made that the election of Judge Taft and James S. Sherman is essential to the welfare of the country."

The letter is of interest by reason of the character of the men whose names appear on the letterhead, and who make the appeal. Here are the names of the men who sign the letter informing the people of the country that Bryan's election will be dangerous:

Charles F. Brooker, head of the brass trust and vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, against which a government suit is now pending in the Federal courts.

Charles Nagel, one of the general attorneys of the Standard Oil company. This Standard Oil representative is in charge of Republican national campaign headquarters in Chicago.

Frank O. Lowden, multi-millionaire son-in-law of the late George M. Pullman, and now head of the great Pullman Palace Car trust, to which the traveling public pays tribute.

T. Coleman Du Pont, the head of the powder trust, which is fighting a suit against dissolution.

Boise Penrose, the political "boss" of the corrupt political machine in Pennsylvania.

George R. Sheldon, the personal representative of J. Pierpont Morgan, in the capacity of director in all his trust companies, and who collected trust money for the election of Governor Hughes of New York.

William Nelson Cromwell, the legal representative of Edward H. Harriman and probably the greatest trust lawyer in the United States.

Fred W. Upham, the "fat fry" of the Republican party in the west, and the man who wrote letters to corporations whose property he assessed, by virtue of his position as a member of the board of review in Chicago.

Farmers and Business Men Know. This is a fine outfit to advise the farmers and business men in the west how to vote. Two of the signers are heads of corporations which are fighting for their existence in the courts. Of course these men think Mr. Bryan's election dangerous; that is natural when one becomes acquainted with their connections. But there is not a legitimate business man in the nation, small or large, who has any reason to fear a Democratic victory.

One Doctor—Only One

No sense in running from one doctor to another! Select the best one, then stand by him. No sense either in trying this thing, that thing, for your cough. Carefully, deliberately select the best cough medicine, then take it. Stick to it. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for throat and lung troubles. Sold for nearly seventy years. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Why try this thing, that thing, for your constipation? Why not stick to the good old reliable family laxative—Ayer's Pills? Ask your doctor if he approves this advice.

REPUBLICANS HOWL CALAMITY

Seek to Destroy Public Confidence in Bryan.

Facing inevitable defeat and with a full knowledge of the fact that Bryan's election is as certain as anything reasonably can be in politics, the Republicans have been forced to resort to the last refuge of political cowards—to the calamity howl. They are now engaged in telling the country of Mr. Bryan. Instead of being patriotic citizens anxious to restore business confidence—a confidence which has been lost under a Republican administration—to preserve their own political selfish purposes they are vainly endeavoring to prolong the present business depression. The question naturally suggests itself: Why is it necessary to bring back business prosperity? Why has become of confidence, what has become of prosperity? Both, under a Republican administration, have disappeared. Why is another Republican administration necessary to insure a return of confidence and prosperity? The very same men who, today, are going about the country still further destroying confidence by preaching calamity, are the men who, four years ago said that the Republican party must be successful in order that there might be prosperity. The Republican party was successful, but instead of bringing prosperity it brought panic, business depression and commercial stagnation. Whatever may be said of the present panic, it cannot be denied that it is a Republican panic. The Republican party is in full possession of the government and must accept the responsibility. How, then, can a continuation of the Republican party in power cure the evils from which the business community and the laboring man now suffer? Let the Republicans howl about their own panic, and not make false predictions about what will happen under a Democratic administration. They predicted prosperity four years ago, and proven false prophets. Why, then, should any sane man accept their premonitions now when they say that Bryan's election would bring business troubles. Business troubles are already here. What business men want is a cure for them, not a prolongation of the disease by the same sort of treatment which has produced the ailment.

Because business men and laboring men both know that a Republican administration has produced panic, they will not be deceived again by these false cries of Republican calamity howlers. They know that William Jennings Bryan is an honest man; they know that he will give the public an honest administration. They know that the calamity howl is for the sole purpose of deception.

RAILROAD EMPLOYES VS. MR. TAFT.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Journal, in May, 1893, said: "Judge Taft's decision proclaims members of the B. of L. E. a band of conspirators." "Also, 'We can not accept Judge Taft's decision in any other light than that of a repudiation of the principles and the liberties of the people. It is, will be, and ought to be denounced and repudiated by all liberty loving men.'"

Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. Child Burned By Overturned Stove.

Demar, Del., Oct. 19.—An exploding kerosene stove set fire to the clothes of the eight year old daughter of Virgil H. Gordy, and she was badly burned about the lower limbs. The little girl was standing near the stove when in some way it was upset while the evening meal was being cooked on it. As soon as it was overturned it exploded sending the burning oil all over the room and setting fire to the child's clothing. Her parents extinguished the flames.

Many Shoes Found.

Seaford, Del., October 19.—Thirty seven pairs of shoes tightly bound in canvas sacks, were found in a haystack by William Downes, near Brideville, today. Upon investigation, Downes found twelve more pairs lying near the haystack. The shoes, which were of fine quality, were evidently hidden there by robbers, who have been looting freight cars along the Delaware railroad for the past several weeks.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Salisbury Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up" must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizziness, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with aching limbs and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. R. L. Redden, living on Tighman St., Salisbury, Md., says: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I made a statement for publication in 1903, and it gives me pleasure at this time, May 9th, 1907, to reiterate all I said in favor of them in my former statement. I suffered from abnormal kidneys for four years or more. My kidneys failed to perform their functions and the poison which should have passed off with the secretions, passed again into the blood and affected my whole system, causing not only excruciating backache and misery through my limbs but my back became so weak at times as to prevent me from attending to my ordinary household duties. I spent sleepless and restless nights, and weary, languid days, and there seemed to be no help for me. I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at White and Leonard's Drug Store. It is the only medicine that ever gave me any real, lasting benefit. They cured me and I have not had any return of the complaint since, my blood was purified, and my general condition was wonderfully improved.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgement. It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 33 Years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. O. Baris, Oynthiana, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale at Toulson's Drug Store.

Would Mortgage The Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold, would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 50c. at Toulson's Drug Store.

SPECIAL INTERESTS VERSUS EQUAL RIGHTS.

In every utterance and every statement made by Mr. Taft has shown great concern for the welfare of the TRUSTS and SPECIAL INTERESTS.

He is afraid that the guaranty of bank deposits will be a burden on a few big bankers. That thousands of small depositors may lose everything does not worry him.

He is afraid that a reduction of the tariff may hurt protected industries. He does not worry for the consumer, who bears the burden of the heavy tax.

He is afraid to oppress the TRUSTS, for he considers them a benefit. He does not mind his extortion they practice upon the public.

He is opposed to a Jury trial in contempt and injunction cases because the SPECIAL INTERESTS want the inflexible process continued. The "Father of the Injunction" does not worry because the laborer may not get a square deal.

The Republican candidate believes in an income tax only when the present oppressive means of taxation fail to furnish adequate revenue. In other words, he believes that the wealthy should not be taxed until the resources of the masses are exhausted. Not a word from Mr. Taft because the masses bear an unjust share of the burden of taxes.

Mr. Taft stands for the favored FEW and SPECIAL INTERESTS. Mr. Bryan stands for the PEOPLE as opposed to the INTERESTS.

Mr. Taft stands for PLUTOCRACY as opposed to DEMOCRACY. Mr. Bryan stands for EQUAL RIGHTS as opposed to SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

WITH WHICH DO YOU STAND? The Best Guaranty of Merit is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world famous medicine leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities. The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitled them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c. at Toulson's Drug Store.

SECRET SERVICE MEN
 To Be Placed Throughout Counties By Gov. Crothers. To Watch For Vote Buying And Selling.
 Secret service men will be employed by Governor Crothers to keep a close watch for violators of the corrupt practices act. They will be sent out previous to election day to seize up the situation, and they will be especially active on election day.
 The Governor declares furthermore that no ballots in violation of the laws should be used in the Eastern Shore counties if he could prevent it. He said he had received personal assurances that everything there would be fair.
 This program was outlined by the Governor in a conversation covering the whole subject of the election laws. He saw in the papers a letter addressed to him by Robert F. Graham acting for Congressman William H. Jackson, alleging that the Democrats of Somerset had prepared a trick ballot for the voters of that county. He expected to find the letter itself at his office, as the publications in the newspapers were copies but the original had been sent to Annapolis.
 "As the time intervening before the election is brief," said the Governor, "I had Mr. Graham called up over the phone. He said the letter in the papers was a correct copy of the original. I immediately got in communication with the State's Attorney of Somerset, instructing him to get at all the facts and report to me at the earliest possible moment.
 To Enforce Law For All.
 "I am, of course, a party man, but in dealing with these election questions I shall act as the Governor of the whole people. Partisan considerations will not influence me in the slightest degree. The law is for all—Democrats, Republicans and Prohibitionists. All must obey it, and all are entitled to the protection it affords.
 "In my mail today was a copy of a circular distributed by a pulp company of West Virginia, which has a mill in Western Maryland. That letter has been referred to the Attorney General. In the opinion of the man who sent it to me it is a violation of the corrupt practices act because its object seems to be to coerce the men in the employ of the company. As soon as I hear from the Attorney General I will act on that communication by referring it to the State's Attorney of Allegheny county.
 "This corrupt practice act works an epoch in the history of the State. If those who disobey it at this election are allowed to go unpunished it will be little better than a dead letter. Every precaution I can adopt, every effort I can make, to make the law a success.
 To Have Secret Service.
 Arrangements have already been made to have secret service men every where. I am in close touch with the situation. As information comes to me of the possibility or likelihood of a violation of its provisions, the secret service men are being put on guard. Their number will be increased as the circumstances demand it. No stone will be left unturned. I hope no one will violate the law. I do not believe anyone will violate it and escape punishment.
 "Rumors have reached me of plans for the free use of whiskey. That is a violation. It must be stopped. I get reports, too, of arrangements for the employment of runners and the number employed is to be so great that the purpose of it is too plain to admit of doubt. No one can escape the law on such technicalities. It is to be rigidly enforced.
 "I shall know neither individual nor party in the enforcement of the law. Big corporations and private individuals must obey it. It is the law. Neither party can escape from it, and I do not propose they shall."

Empty Dinner Pail Causes Arrest Of A Small Boy.
 During the course of a Republican demonstration a few days ago in a West Virginia town, when a street parade was a part of the program, a small boy was arrested for carrying an empty dinner pail. It appears that the lad had placed the pail upon a long stick which he waved along the line of march. The exhibition so incensed the feelings of the Republicans that they made complaint to the police and had the boy arrested. It appears that the full dinner pail is no longer an issue in the campaign, and that the Republicans object to any reference to the empty dinner pail.
