PLAN TO BEAUTIFY MANILA

Proposition of D. H. Burnham For Philippine Capital

WILL PRESERVE OLD WALL

Government Buildings to Command the Bay—A Great Ecclesiastical Center—The Plaza McKinley—At Present Ten Thousand Americans in Manila.

The application of American ideals of municipal improvements to this picturesque old port of the orient interest and delight, says the Chicago News. To the extent that it was accepted it will prove a guaranty of the development of an oriental capital upon occidental lines, and it will reflect the efforts of temperate-zone peoples to make themselves comfortable in the tropics, with results that would seem to be wonderfully successful. No American landscape artist or municipal improver ever had so pretty a problem.

The first question relates to the old wall, for Manila is one of the most perfect examples of the old walled city to be found in the world. The hustling business men of Manila are impatient of the obstruction which it presents to getting about and they want it demolished straightway. Every visitor to the city feels that it would be a terrible mistake to obliterate such an interesting monument of the past and one that fits so harmoniously with old Manila.

Mr. Burnham has effected a happy compromise. He proposes to convert the insanitary moats into garden, and he has discovered a way, on account of the peculiar construction of the wall, by which it may be pierced without showing it much, or without affecting its general long-distance effects. In this way he would give the additional streets necessary and would save the wall.

The ocean view is Manila's great element of beauty. All its white residents now go at nightfall to the Lunetta, which is a park on the sea, to hear the band play and to witness the tropical sunset across the bay, with the cone-shaped mountain on the other side. Mr. Burnham proposes to construct an ocean boulevard all the way from Lunetta to Cavite, and to push the Lunetta itself out into the sea, on made land, to bring it into line with the reclamation now in progress for the warehouses and other dock facilities which have been provided.

A short distance from the ocean boulevard, another projection into the sea would be made for the government's palaces. That residence is now on the Pasig River, about a mile and a half inland from the ocean front. It is known as the Malacanana palace and has been occupied by the long line of Spanish governors.

It is proposed to group the municipal buildings in that part of the walled city which has long been used for government purposes of all kinds. It has recently been named Plaza McKinley, and if Mr. Burnham's plan prevails these structures will be devoted to municipal purposes, while the government edifices will begin opposite the Lunetta, just outside the wall, and swing across in a graceful curve to the Pasig River, making a distance of perhaps a mile and a half, which can be lined with handsome buildings for the colonial government. The tendency to put Uncle Sam's structures in this part of the city has already set in. The government printing office is there and also the new scientific laboratory.

The esteros, or natural canals with which the city is threaded, that serve so large a transportation purpose for the native population, much like the alley approaches of an American city, Mr. Burnham proposes to leave just as they are, letting them wind in and out regardless of his proposed street system.

Choice locations on the ocean boulevard are assigned to the various American clubs of which there are many, since the club life of European and American residents in the tropics is one of the most pleasant features in the Asiatic cities. Manila has about 10,000 American residents and under the commercial development promised with the new docks and with free access for its products into the United States, it would probably have a native population before many years of 400,000.

Baguio is already developing into a great ecclesiastical center. In fact, the church buildings are in advance of the government buildings. Archbishop Harto, who is an American, proposes to build a great cathedral, a seminary for the education of priests, a school and other ecclesiastical buildings, on one of the hills of Baguio, making his own residence there.

EASTON VS. SALISBURY

High School Debate At Talbot's Town, On Oyster Question.

Easton, Md., Feb. 28.—Music Hall, in Easton was filled to its utmost capacity last night for the interscholastic debate on the Haman Oyster bill. The debaters were Norman Smith, John Morris, Hartwell Adkins and James Bennett, of the Salisbury High School, on the affirmative side of the question, and Leonard Adkins, Carl Drake, Elbert Stafford and James Faulner, of the Easton High School, on the negative side of the question. The judges were Mr. A. M. Jackson, of Salisbury; Dr. E. P. Roberts, of Easton and Mr. E. M. Noble, of Denton.

Each speaker was allowed 15 minutes. Both Mr. Haman and General Beth were torn in shreds by the young debaters, and it is doubtful whether a piece of either of these gentlemen can be found this morning big enough to cover the smallest oyster caught in the Chesapeake bay. The judges held a hurried consultation. Mr. Jackson, of Salisbury, rendered the decision. He said that, while Salisbury did well yet the verdict was unanimous that the debaters of the Easton High School had the better of the argument at every point. When the decision in favor of the negative side was announced the audience applauded it very much.—Baltimore Sun.

—Saturday evening, February 24th., at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Gale, of Quantico, Miss Marie Collier, of Newark, N. J., entertained a few friends in honor of her guests: the Misses Huntington of Allen.

The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being red white and blue.

Progressive games were enjoyed, the prizes won by Mr. Guy Long and Miss Martha Huntington. In addition to this amusement there was a historical bee which added much to the evening's entertainment.

Salad, olives, biscuits, bonbons, loaves and cakes were served. Those present were Mr. Guy Long, the Misses Carrie and Martha Huntington of Allen, Mr. Clifton Bouda, from Hobron, the Misses Florence Bouda, Mabel Wallace, Lala Jones and Messrs. Clifford Taylor, Ira Disharoon and Roland Bailey from Quantico and Mr. Walter Huntington, from Salisbury.

THE LENTEN PERIOD

Began On Wednesday Of This Week. Derivation Of Lent And Interesting Information Of The Season Preceding Glorious Easter.

Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, members of the Roman Catholic, the Episcopal and the Lutheran Churches gave up many worldly amusements, which will be continued during this period of fasting and praying. Society in general will take a much needed rest from the gaieties of the winter season and no important dances or Germans will be held following Tuesday evening.

Special services will be held in all the churches which observe this Lenten season, and many of them, especially the Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches, will have services daily. Tuesday, which is observed as a day of preparation for Lent, is known as Shrove Tuesday from the fact that many members of the Catholic Church confess their sins to the priest on that day and are forgiven. As many homes partake of the chief article of food as the midday meal. This custom dates back to the custom observed by the farmers of Essex and Suffolk many years ago, when, after the return from church, where all had been forgiven, the plowman was blindfolded and led to the barn where a "fat hen" had been placed with instructions to catch it and kill it and give a feast of pancakes to his men.

After a mass at the Roman Catholic churches Wednesday the priest made a cross on the forehead of those attending with ashes made by burning the palms which were blessed and placed on the altar on last Palm Sunday. For those who cannot attend in the morning this ceremony is performed in the evening.

Derivation Of Lent.

The word Lent, which is given this season, comes from the old Saxon word "Lenten," meaning spring, and is really a contraction of the words "Lenten fast" or spring fast, to distinguish it from the other fasts of the church year. After it had been in use for a number of years it came to stand for a season of fasting and penitence, and was applied with equal appropriateness to the "fast of St. Martin's," which is now replaced by the season of Advent, which includes the days between Advent Sunday and Christmas. The custom of observing Lent comes from the earliest days of the Church, and, though the number of days to be observed as fast days varied for years, still it now consists of a season lasting 46 days, including Sundays, which are not counted as fast days, but are looked upon as "small fasts." It commemorates the 40 days' fast and temptation of Christ in the wilderness. The last week, which is known as Holy Week, opens with Palm Sunday, when the triumphant entry of Christ into Jerusalem is celebrated, and the observance is decorated with palms. This day of joy, however, is really followed by the day of sorrow—Maundy Thursday, upon which the Last Supper, of the holy communion was held, and Good Friday, the day on which Christ was tried and crucified. Then comes Easter Day, with all its joy and decoration, on which the resurrection of Christ from the dead is celebrated.

—About fifteen of Mrs. Margaret R. Round's friends gave her a surprise party in honor of her sixty fifth birthday last Wednesday evening at her home on Newton Street. Several games were played during the evening, one of which was a corn husk. Those receiving prizes were Mrs. F. F. Kennerly, Mrs. Ernest Malone, Mrs. Carl Goslee, Mrs. Ella Turner and Mrs. Ella Leonard. Refreshments were served later in the evening, consisting of ice cream cake, fruits and bonbons, after which all adjourned, wishing Mrs. Round's many more happy birthdays.

From Dreadful Pains From Wound on Foot—System All Run Down After Six Months' Agony—Not Able to Work—Completely Cured in Two Weeks

MIRACULOUS CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Words cannot speak highly enough for the Cuticura Remedies. I am now seventy-two years of age. My system had been all run down. My blood was so bad that I had several doctors attending me, so finally I went to the hospital, where I was laid up for two months. My foot and ankle were almost beyond recognition. Dark blood flowed out of wounds in many places, and I was so disheartened that I thought surely my last chance was slowly leaving me. As the foot did not improve, you can readily imagine how I felt. I was simply disgusted and tired of life. I stood this pain, and during this time I was not able to wear a shoe and not able to work. "Some one spoke to me about Cuticura. The consequences were I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies of one of my friends who was a druggist, and the praise that I gave after the second application is beyond description. I seemed a miracle. For the Cuticura Remedies took effect immediately. I washed the foot with the Cuticura Soap before applying the Ointment, and I took the Resolvent at the same time. After two weeks' treatment my foot was healed completely. People who had seen my foot during my illness and who have seen it since the cure, can hardly believe their own eyes."

State Control Of Oysters.

Dr. Oswell Grave, associate professor of zoology in John Hopkins University, in a recent lecture on oyster culture, said that it would only require a few years' experiment to bring about methods and conditions under which the oyster bottom of Chesapeake Bay would easily produce annually at least ten times their natural yield.

We have no doubt on this score. The possibilities are enormous. Yet, according to the report of our staff correspondent, as far as from taking steps to increase the yield of oysters in the Virginia portion of the bay, dredgers are taking the seed oysters by the boatload and hauling them off and selling them in some instances outside of the State.

In further discussing the question, Dr. Grave said:

"Generation after generation of the oystermen and fishermen have exercised a nomadic freedom to fish and oyster wherever and whenever they choose, until they have come to regard the Chesapeake oyster bottom as their own. They would as soon submit tamely to highway robbery as to consent to leasing the oyster producing areas to individuals for their exclusive use. This social difficulty can only be overcome by education and experience."

When any man has enjoyed a privilege for a time, he is apt to consider it as a right, and it is not unnatural that oystermen on Chesapeake Bay, who have had the run of the waters all their lives, and whose fathers before them had it, should resent any effort on the part of the State to interfere with them in their operations. They regard the waters of Chesapeake Bay as "free soil," so to speak, and believe they have the natural and inalienable right to go in and take oysters in any manner they please, and that the State has no moral or legal right to restrain them. But the State has the right; nay, it is the bounden duty of the State to protect the seed oysters, to prevent depredation of every character that tends to deplete the natural stock and retard development. If the Chesapeake Bay were owned by a private corporation, it goes without saying that it would take all necessary precautions to prevent such depredations, that it would develop and not destroy, and finally that it would get an enormous revenue from the culture and sale of oysters.

The State owes it to the tax payers of all sections to pursue a businesslike course in taking care of this great industry and make it yield a handsome revenue, but it is plain from the reports of our correspondents that our so-called oyster navy is well nigh a farce, certainly that it is utterly inadequate to the demands of the situation and that unless proper measures are adopted to protect her interests, not only will the oyster industry fall to grow, but the native stock will be in great part destroyed.—The Times Dispatch, Richmond.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They after one hundred dollars for any one it fails to cure. What Possibilities are there now for the publisher of books? The article in which the answers are recorded is concluded with this summary:

Looking back over these opinions of publishers who represent almost every side of the publishing business and who view the book-purchasing public from almost every possible angle, one is forced to a gratifying and highly optimistic conclusion.

Another gratifying tendency upon which practically all agree is in the increased reading of history, and particularly of biography.

Everyone getting weighed will be furnished with ice cream and cake. Messrs. J. A. Jones & Co., real estate brokers, and A. M. The funeral of Mrs. Josiah T. Johnson, of Philadelphia, who died of consumption in that city will take place here in the Presbyterian Church-yard on arrival of the noon train Saturday. Mrs. Johnson, with her husband were former residents of Salisbury. She was a daughter of George W. Layfield. A second accident to the draw bridge at Vienna has compelled the B. O. & A. trains to track around by Seaford over the Pennsylvania and N. Y. P. & N. lines this week. The accident occurred Friday, when the schooner, Judge Pennwell in passing up the Nantuxet river ran into the draw, breaking it away. The schooner, Wally C. Merrill, was the last vessel to reach the bridge. The draw was closed for several days.

The Elks' Bazaar IS OUT OF BUSINESS!
There was a new concern in Salisbury last week. They opened up, and in three days sold everything they had to sell. They did business in the most systematic manner, to do up every other concern in town. Their stock was a good deal like stocks carried in country stores—a little of everything and not much of anything—but the funniest part of it was that they didn't seem to have any judgment about values. No matter what it's worth, they asked the same price for everything. It put a man in mind of the old dollar store. They sold a pig for ten cents—think of what fun you can have with a pig and think of what fun the pig can have with you! They sold two cows, and some horses and ponies, and typewriters, and beer, and hair-grower, and government bonds, and all those things—all at ten cents. Think of the old bachelor who wou a typewriter! Think of the joy of a popular preacher when the brewery wagon stopped and delivered the beer, and he can say that he "just had to take it!" Just think of the legless man who got a bicycle! Or a society man who got a silk waist! Lacy Thoroughgood gave the bazaar an overcoat. We have been told by a dozen men that it was the best overcoat for $15.00 they ever saw—and they sold it for ten cents. We want to say to you that we consider our prize to be the best one offered, and remember they had almost everything. If you got a cow you've got to take water. If you got a piano, you're got to hear it. If you got the typewriter, you're got to buy ribbon for "her" and not let your wife know about "it." If you got all the beer, you'll have to hire a doctor. And if you got the cigars to burn, you'll have to take 'em to Hades. With the overcoat it is different. You can put it on over your old suit and buy a new 98c hat, and look the best-dressed man in town, besides taking comfort. When you want a new Spring Suit to match the overcoat, we have it.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

THE ORIGINAL MAGNA CHARTA. March 4, '06—(Matt. 5: 1-13.)

The Sermon on the Mount is a magnificent temple of truth the portico to which is an eight-column arcade. Let us examine these stupendous pillars.

The first thing that arrests our attention is their unique and unparalleled construction. They are the direct opposites of the popular conception of what constitutes blessedness. The world says, "Blessed are the rich, blessed are the powerful, blessed are the proud, blessed are the beautiful, blessed are those who have everything their own way."

This is altogether a new voice on the earth, and they sounded just as strangely in Jewish and Roman circles when they were enunciated as they do to-day. What a contrast they present to our modern hero worship and our glorification of "muscular Christianity!"

It must not be overlooked that this portico is interconnected. It is not eight separate and distinct pillars; it is an eight-fold structure, no part of which can be eliminated, all of which is necessary to make up the structure. On the fourth hinge, the three preceding, and the following are logical sequences of all that have gone before.

The same is true of those that mourn, who are not ashamed of tears, and who do not bravenly go through life confessing no fault. If to err is human, it is certainly manly to repent. The tears that fall from eyes of sincere mourners, like summer showers, fertilize the soil of the heart so that it blooms and blossoms in flowers.

There are some who think the element of meekness is only another name for weakness. But the meek are the lords of the earth. Real dominion is only given to the meek. Meekness delivers from superstitiousness. You will not be thin-skinned enough to get hurt at every slight. You will not have to always be running around looking after your reputation. Your dignity will not suffer so much. The Apostle Paul tells us to "put off the old man" but he does not tell us when we have done that, to put on the old woman. Meekness is not weakness.

So also it is with the merciful. The merciful man will be merciful to everybody and everything and will be merciful all the time. Merciful to his employees, merciful to his wife and children, merciful to his dog and his horse and his cat. "The quality of mercy is not strained." "For the dear God who loveth us, He made and loveth all."

Purity of heart is also demanded. Materialism says, "The circumstances are wrong." Christ says the trouble is in the heart. The heart pure, every activity of the life will be pure. If the spiders trouble you kill the spiders. You will not have to spend so much time on their work.

These beatitudes teach us that the animal will not always rule over the ethereal. Guns and swords will be dropped in the good time coming, and men will learn that sunshine is more potent than lightning, though it is not heralded by salvos of thunder. Not Napoleon with his artillery, but Christ with his beatitudes is the real ruler of the world.

The most careless reader must have been struck with the contrast between the delivery of the sermon on the Mount and the delivery of the law on Sinai. That was a fiery law promulgated with thunder and lightning, amid thick darkness with trumpet sound; this was a human voice of divinest music in the calm of the dawn. That startled with devouring fire and wreathing smoke, this moved the heart with gentle words of peace. Surely the Mount of Beatitudes is a great advance upon Sinai, though one supplements the other.

Execution of Spies. The ceremony of disposing of a condemned spy in the English army always follows a definite precedent. The unfortunate man is surrounded by a detachment of infantry, and after he is provided with a pick and shovel, he is marched off to a selected spot and ordered to dig his own grave. This done, the tools are taken from him and his eyes are bandaged. The attending chaplain reads portions selected from the burial service and from the ranks of the escort twelve men are selected at random by the officer in charge. These men, having stocked their own rifles are led to where twelve other rifles are awaiting them, six of which are loaded with blank cartridges. One of these is handed to each man, so that no one knows whether the rifle he holds contains a bullet or not and none can say for certain that the shot fired by him killed the prisoner. The firing party then marches to an appointed position. The commands "Present!" "Fire!" are given and almost before the last word rings out the volley is fired and the spy falls into the grave he has dug. Nearly every man is more or less affected on being selected to form one of the firing party and many men have been known to faint away on being singled out, while others are so overcome as to be scarcely able to pull the triggers of their rifles.

A Vase Worth $15,000. Another family treasure of great value which has since passed into the keeping of the nation is the Portland vase, now exhibited in the British Museum. This vase comes from Italy, and what its age is no man knows, though it has been proved that in 235 A.D. it was deposited in a sepulchre under the Monte del Grasso, three miles from Rome, and is believed to have contained the ashes of the Emperor Severus. But whether or no, Pope Urban VIII. had it dug up, and for more than two centuries it rested in the Barberini Palace at Rome. In 1754 the Duke of Portland purchased it from Sir William Hamilton for 1,050 guineas, and deposited it in the British Museum fifteen years later. The vase is only ten inches high. In 1845 a man named Lloyd, employed at the museum, picked up a stone and hurled it, in a fit of frenzy, at the case which contained the precious relic. The vase was smashed into hundreds of pieces, but with great ingenuity they were all put together again, and as it now stands is said to be worth at the very least $15,000.—Westminster Gazette.

ALLEN.

Some of our young people are preparing to give an entertainment at the Alliance hall next Wednesday night, March 7th. It will consist of an amateur play and music. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Young People's Club.

Our village has been quite lively since a business view point, after first schooner load of oyster shells improvement. The citizens went to work in the spirit and notwithstanding the shells had to be hauled a distance of over two miles, in two days and a half, near thousand bushels had been placed on the road. The boat with Capt. Brewington, of Salisbury, in charge will soon return with a load and we hope to see the good work completed by early spring.

The work of rebuilding the mill dam belonging to Mr. Beverly Hitch, is being pushed with all possible diligence and every one is delighted at the progress as our main road to Somerset county and the depot is across said dam, which was broken by the melting snow and heavy rain several weeks ago, and seriously interfere with travel, and our mail service.

Mrs. Wood Melole gave a surprise birthday dinner in honor of her husband, Wednesday, at which Rev. Jas. M. Baker and wife and Mr. Peter Matson and wife, were the invited guests. After a most sumptuous repast had been served in good old Maryland style the infant daughter of the host was baptized and given the christian name of Emily Gertrude.

There was a surprise marriage at the Parsonage Wednesday at 3 o'clock p. m. The contracting parties were Mr. Joseph Allen Ousey from the nearby neighborhood and Miss Mary Elizabeth Brambley of Fruitland. Captain Ed. Brewington and wife spent several days with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Messick and family.

WEST.

The following services are expected in Frederick County next Sunday: Friendship Sunday School at 9.30 and preaching at 10.30 a. m.; Christian Endeavor led by the pastor at 7 p. m.; Union preaching at 7.30 p. m.

Miss Margaret M. Kuhns visited this week and held two services in Friendship on Thursday of last week. She made a favorable impression upon our people.

Mr. Oscar Oatlin and Miss Carrie Livingston of Union neighborhood were married in Union M. P. Church on Wednesday of last week. Rev. F. J. Phillips, the pastor, officiated, and Mrs. Phillips rendered the wedding speech. Mr. Larry Livingston brother of the bride, and Mr. Norman Carey, her cousin, were the ushers.

The Ladies' Aid Society met at Mr. W. A. Pusey's last Saturday evening and was largely attended. Four new members of promise were received. The collection of the evening was $10.00 and eighty cents. At the close of the meeting, Mr. Jocelyn delivered one of his jolly rations, which was highly appreciated.

Rev. F. J. Phillips reported to his congregation at Union a few Sundays ago that the last cent of their new church was provided for. The building committee was dismissed with a vote of thanks and the congregation sang and sang, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Mr. Ralph Taylor, who has been engaged in Baltimore for some time, returned home a few days ago.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Friendship church last Thursday. Good reports were made from the different departments of work, which indicated progress. The circuit was recalled her previous record during the past two years. The pastor, who has been serving us for three years, closed his report by saying he was expecting to ask for a change and submitted his resignation subject to the approval of the appointing power of the next Annual Conference. Mr. E. H. Hayman, of Salisbury was elected delegate to attend the Conference which meets in West Baltimore Church the first Wednesday in April 1906 and Mr. J. W. Powell, alternate.

When the new schedule of the Delaware Railroad goes into effect next May, for the first time in the history of the road, Sunday passenger trains will be run. There has been much demand for a Sunday train service from all parts of the State and the railroad company has decided to run a number of trains that day. Heretofore it has been impossible to have communication between Wilmington and many of the lower county towns from 7 o'clock Saturday evening until Monday morning.

Clarence J. Lynch of this town died at the Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury on Thursday. During the last few months he had been telegraph operator at Patuxent Station on the Penn. Railroad between Baltimore and Washington. Feeling the necessity of rest and recuperation he came home a few weeks ago, but was not considered in a critical condition till Tuesday evening. A physician was summoned and on Thursday morning he was taken to the Hospital for treatment, but too late as he was too weak to stand an operation. He was about twenty three years of age and had been married nearly two years. His wife and little child survive him. He was a member of the Junior Order American Mechanics, May Del Council. Funeral services will be conducted on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the Missionary Baptist Church.

Mrs. H. M. Waller gave a Martha Washington Tea on the evening of the 22nd., in honor of her Sunday School and music class. The audience was entertained with music, recitations and a drama. After this the guests of honor and all others who remained to participate were entertained at supper. The entertainment was given in the Opera House.

An unknown man was found dead in the railroad yard here, Thursday night. A key with the name Thos. Kelly was found on his person, the only clue to his identity and nothing to indicate where he was from. The body is held here by the railroad authorities awaiting developments.

The Bloomsburg, Pa., Press revives a story first told by Dr. Anspach, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, of Williamsport, at a social function during the meeting of the synod in Bloomsburg some years ago. The scene of the story was laid in Easton, where at the time the Knights Templars were in conclave. A Northampton county Dutchman seeing the Templars marching, their plumes tossed by the breezes, was impressed sufficiently to inquire "Vot vas dot?" "Those are the Templars—a Masonic organization." "Der no good." "Why not?" inquired a bystander. "Der's no use for dese organisations. Der's use for only two organisations—der Lutheran Church and der Democratic party."

GOOD ROADS AND BUSINESS.

Large Sums Expended for Temporary Improvements.

The people of the United States are paying at least $500,000,000 a year to the bad roads fund. In other words, the excessive cost, the loss of time, the wear and tear on horses, vehicles, and equipment in transporting the products of the American farms, forests, mills and mines to the railroad stations, or to the markets, aggregates more than half a billion dollars each year, says James B. Melkle in Good Roads.

It has been estimated by the Department of Agriculture that the cost of transporting the products of the United States, by wagon, to the railroad stations aggregates more than $900,000,000 a year, and that practically two-thirds of that sum might be saved by universal good roads. In this country it costs an average of twenty-five cents per ton per mile to carry our products to market by wagon, while in France the cost does not exceed eight or ten cents per mile.

The greatest fault in the present road system is that the money expended is spent very largely upon temporary work, or in make-shift construction. This is necessarily so, because all of the roads must be kept open and passable, even if they are not good. I believe that this condition exists in most of the states of the Union, and as long as it exists, three-fourths of the money expended on roads will be lost. Temporary repairs made in the summer are frequently washed out in the winter, and the work has to be done over again in the spring.

It is a crime for the man to be drunk—a crime against his family and against society.

FAVORS EVEN DIVISION

By 50 Per Cent. From Abutting Property Holders and 50 From the Municipality.

Editor of Advertiser:—

Discussing the question of street paving with Mr. Fendall, city engineer of Baltimore, a few days since, he informed me that they had three plans:

First: Where the property owners petitioned to have the street paved and offered to pay all the expenses.

Second: Where the abutting owners petitioned leaving the amount to be paid, "in whole or in part," by the owners, at the discretion of the city.

Third: Where public necessity or convenience requires it, the city authorities act on their own initiative and assess the costs, "in whole or in part," upon the owners according to equitable principles in each particular case.

All these plans admit the theory that abutting property is benefited specially in some degree above the general benefit and that it is fair for property to pay in proportion to this specific benefit. Hence, we find many cities and towns, imposing the whole of the first cost upon the property and apportioning the repaving, between the city and the property. This is the prevailing rule in the Western cities.

The theory of paying for these benefits seems so just that no one under takes to reply to it. Since it has the support of the cities and towns elsewhere, why then should Salisbury, inexperienced in these matters, make a departure from these long standing precedents. One answer can be made, that we want our property benefited at the expense of the general taxpayer, or, though we know that for every mile that will be paved there will be five miles unpaved and for every abutting property improved, specially, there will be five not so benefited. If the city was able and intend to pave all the streets and thereby benefit all alike there would be more equity in paving by general taxation. Now concede that the abutting property is benefited above that of the public; it then follows that it should be assessed specially, and it farther follows, as of course, that it should pay in proportion to the special benefit whether it be "in whole or in part," and therefore it is illogical as it is unfair to limit a maximum in the charter that will prevent a just or fair assessment. If the benefit is equal to the full cost, why not assess it; if it is only 15 per cent than assess it at that. Let the charter be adjustable to conditions, so that the Mayor and Council can pass ordinances that will be fair in their operation under all conditions.

To illustrate: Take a lot 50 feet front and 200 feet deep worth $100 per front foot and another 75 feet front and 30 feet deep worth $30. Under the proposed charter amendment if the former can't be assessed but 15 or 16 per cent should the latter be assessed more than three per cent. Now when we come to average these assessments, the city will have to bear nearly the whole cost and probably no paved streets, or if there should be, it will be done at the expense of a heavy bonded debt running for years before paid and but few streets paved. Doubtless a fair average will be 25 per cent on either side or 50 per cent for both sides; but to arrive at this average there must be an allowable maximum of more than 60 per cent. The method and amount of the respective assessments is only a matter of detail and not of principle; but it is indefensible to make an iron bound charter that can't be administered with justice and adapted to conditions.

If the charter is amended on the plan proposed with an enabling act to borrow $50,000.00 without submitting it to a vote of the people the question of issuing these bonds will be an issue in the next municipal election, with almost certain defeat for the bond issue, and no pavement. $50,000.00 is no small debt for our town for one purpose only, and the beneficial results from its expenditure limited to a few streets.

A new charter is proposed for Easton with a limitation to borrow only $5,000.00 without submitting it to a vote. We now have an enabling act to borrow $10,000.00 with a petition before the Council to pave Dock, Main and Division to Church Street the owners to pay half. We do not understand the liberality by which this condition should be changed.

We submit in conclusion that the abutting property should be assessed in proportion to the benefit to "in whole or in part," is consonant with reason, with justice, with the decisions of the Courts, and supported by the practice in other cities. What is to be said against it? J. E. E.

AN OYSTER PLANTING LAW NOW ASSURED.

Strong Public Sentiment Over The State For Legislation Resulting In Mutual Conciliation And A Compromise Bill For The Oyster—As Given Advertiser Readers Below.

The long debated and much postponed oyster legislation, seems to have been agreed on at Annapolis in the form of a compromise bill which has been introduced and will probably be passed to replace both the Haman and Seth bills.

Now Board Is Named.

The bill, as agreed upon, provides for the appointment of a board of shellfish commissioners, to consist of three members, one of whom shall be a resident of one of the tidewater counties of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, another a resident of one of the other tide water counties of the Western Shore of the State and the third a resident of the city of Baltimore, and one of whom shall be a member of the minority party at the time of their appointment. The term of each of the members of the board shall be two years from the first Monday in May after his appointment. They shall be appointed by the Board of Public Works of the State of Maryland. No member of the Board of Shellfish Commissioners shall be in any manner interested in any land leased or taken up for bedding, planting or cultivating oysters. The acts and duties to be done and performed by said board under this act may be done and performed by two of said commissioners, and in all cases the decision of a majority of the commissioners shall be binding. One of said commissioners shall be designated by the Board of Public Works as president and his salary shall be $3,000 a year. The salary of each of the other commissioners shall be $1,800 a year. The commissioners shall be allowed to employ a chief clerk upon a salary of $1,150 a year, and such assistants, not exceeding three in number and not more than may be absolutely needed for the performance of the work of the board, at graded salaries, to be paid by the commission, not to exceed $1,000 a year for any of such assistants. The commissioners shall employ a competent surveyor, who shall also be a hydrographic engineer, upon a salary to be named by said commission, not exceeding $2,500 a year. If the commission deems it expedient to employ a hydrographic engineer who is also a biologist capable of investigating oyster propagation, an engineer of such qualifications may, in its discretion, be employed. The sum of $500 per annum shall be appropriated, to be expended under the direction of said engineer, if he be a biologist, who shall in that event establish one or more stations for investigation of oyster propagation.

Provisions For Survey.

The commissioners are each to give bond for $10,000. The provision for surveying the bay and designating the natural bars and barren rocks as follows: "The Board of Shellfish Commissioners shall, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, cause to be made a true and accurate survey of the natural oyster beds, bars and rocks of this State, said survey to be made with reference to fixed and permanent objects on the shore, giving courses and distances, to be fully described and set out in a written report of said surveys hereinafter required. A true and accurate delineation of the same shall be made on copies of published maps and charts of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which said copies shall be filed in the office of the said commissioners in the city of Annapolis; and the said commissioners shall further cause to be delineated upon copies of the published maps and charts of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey of the largest scale, one copy for each of the counties of this State in the waters of which there are natural oyster beds, bars and rocks, all natural beds, bars and rocks lying within the waters of such county, which maps shall be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for the respective counties wherein the grounds so designated may lie. The said survey shall be made by the hydrographic engineer employed by said board, acting under the directions and control of the said commissioners. The said natural beds or bars shall be marked by buoys, which shall be known as State buoys.

Must Be Liberal.

The board in defining the natural beds and bars, shall exercise its judgment liberally in favor of the natural beds and bars, and allow a reasonable margin of the barren bottoms, rather than encroach on a natural bed or bar. The natural lines, beds or bars shall be bounded by straight lines, even though some portions of barren bottoms may thus be necessarily included within such lines. If residents of any county, exceeding 2 in number shall, within four months after the filing of said survey and report in such county, file in the Circuit Court for said county a petition in writing, attested by the oath of some one or more of the petitioners, alleging that five or more adjacent acres of oyster beds, bars or rocks in such county, have been included in such survey, or that five or more acres of barren bottoms have been included in such survey, and designating the location of same by a plat, or as near as such survey, and designating the location of same by will locate and designate with reasonable certainty by such landmarks as will locate and designate the beds alleged to have been omitted or included, a judgment of the Circuit Court for the said county, after due notice given to the Board of Shellfish Commissioners, shall proceed to hear testimony and decide the case, as provided in the succeeding section, but this section shall not apply where the ground claimed by the petitioners has been legally taken up prior to the approval of this act.

The judge shall determine the question whether the ground referred to is a natural bed or barren bottom, and his finding on said question shall be final, and shall be entered upon the records of the Board of Shellfish Commissioners in their office in the city of Annapolis and properly marked on the copies of the plat as hereinbefore required.

Protection To Crabbers.

The Board of Shellfish Commissioners shall cause an accurate delineation upon the maps and charts aforesaid of all bottoms of the tributaries of the Chesapeake bay where grass grows and where it is profitable to scrape for soft shell or abedder crabs, and shall have such bottoms properly designated by permanent objects on the shores as provided hereinbefore for natural oyster beds, bars and rocks, which said crabbing sections shall be exempted from leasing for oyster culture.

Size Of Lots And Rentals.

After the survey provided for herein shall have been completed it shall be the duty of the Board of the Shellfish Commissioners to lease, in the name of the State of Maryland, tracts or parcels of land beneath the waters of this State, whether within the limits of the counties or elsewhere in the area to be opened for oyster culture, according to the provisions of this act; provided that no tract so leased, if situated within the territorial limits of any county in this State shall contain less than one acre of land, and if situated in any other place, no tract so leased shall contain less than five acres. It shall be the duty of said commissioners to require that the tracts so leased shall be as nearly rectangular as is convenient. It shall be the duty of the said commissioners to demand from each lessee payment of the rent each year in advance. No person shall be permitted by lease, assignment or in any other manner, to acquire a greater amount of land than 10 acres situated within the territorial limits of any of the counties or 100 acres in any other place. Leases shall be made, only to residents of Maryland. The terms of such leases shall be 2 years, and the annual rent reserved to the State shall be $1 an acre for each of the first two years of said term; $2 an acre for the third year; $3 an acre for the fourth year; $4 an acre for the fifth year, and $5 an acre during the remainder of the term. If any part of the rent reserved under such leases shall remain unpaid for more than six months after the same become due such leases or leases shall be declared void and the land shall revert to the State and may be leased again in accordance with the provisions of this act. The said commissioners may, at the request of any lessee, if it shall appear equitable so to do, upon cause shown in writing, cancel his lease as to the whole or a part of the lands leased.

To Begin Within Year.

In case the survey provided for by this act shall not have been completed within one year from the passage of this act, then it shall be the duty of the Board of Shellfish Commissioners to begin the leasing of barren bottoms in the manner and upon the terms provided in the preceding section, provided that such leasing shall then commence only in those areas in which the survey provided for in this act shall have been completed. For a period of four months after the said survey shall have been completed, or after any area shall have been opened to leasing under the preceding sections, citizens of Maryland, residing in any part of the State, who at the time of the completion of said survey or at the respective times of the opening for oyster culture of several areas, as the case may be, may be owners of land having a water front upon any part of the said areas to be opened to oyster culture, shall have the exclusive right to rent any land upon the additional period of six months after the expiration of said period of four months all boatmen, residents of this State, who shall be engaged in the business of dredging, scraping or tonging for oysters at the time of the completion of the said survey or at the respective times of the opening for oyster culture of several areas; or if said survey shall be completed or if said areas shall be opened to oyster culture during the closed season for dredging, scraping or tonging, as the case may be, then the persons so engaged at the end of the last dredging, scraping or tonging season shall have the like exclusive right, in order of their respective applications.

No riparian land owner shall be entitled to rent the amount of 10 acres or 100 acres, as the case may be, unless the water front of the land so owned by him, if fronting on water within the territorial limits of a county, be at least 300 yards, or, if fronting on waters in any other place, be at least 700 yards. The owners of land having a less water front than is mentioned above shall be entitled to rent a proportionately less amount of land, dependent upon the length of the front upon water within any limits or elsewhere.

When the period of 10 months will have elapsed after the lands beneath the waters of any areas shall have been opened to leasing under Section 25 of this act, the Board of Shellfish Commissioners shall endeavor to lease the remaining portions of land so open to oyster culture under the provisions of this act to applicants who shall be residents of Maryland in the order of their applications as received and opened by said commissioners.

Corporations Sued Out.

No assignment or transfer of any interest acquired by this act shall be valid for any purpose if made to a nonresident of this State. If any such assignment is attempted to be made, all interest of the grantor or assignor shall revert to the State, as if no lease had ever been made. If any assignment of any interest created by this act is attempted to be made to any person in such a way that the assignee shall become the holder of more than 10 acres or 100 acres, as the case may be, according to the location of land leased under this act, all interest of the grantor or assignor in case of such an assignment shall revert to the State, if no lease had been made. Heavy penalties are provided for interfering with buoys or for stealing oysters from lot holders.

Little Boy Mangled By Train.

Six year old, Alonso Ray Bostons, son of Chas. Boston, an employe of E. S. Atkins Co., was frightfully mangled by being run over by the three o'clock express on the W. Y. & N. Railroad Wednesday afternoon. He received a fractured skull and his right foot and arm were both cut off. He was returning from school with a playmate and the passing of a freight train over the Church Street crossing near the depot, starting across when the rear car of the freight was over. It seems the three o'clock train was on the other side, east of the freight, going north and caught the boy, mangled him fatally, as he died after being taken to the Peninsula Hospital. The remains were buried at two o'clock yesterday.

A coroner's jury is now out to decide the responsibility of the boy's unfortunate death. They are: R. G. Robertson, foreman, E. F. Turner, Irving S. Powell, E. F. Downing, S. H. Carey, Harry Deane, Leonard H. Higgins, G. J. Hays, Frank Johnson, W. F. Callaway, James E. Ball, L. E. Short.

HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN ESCAPED PELVIC CATARRH BY AID OF PE-RU-NA.

Female Weakness Is Usually Pelvic Catarrh. Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Mrs. Lizzie Redding, 314 E. Clifton Place, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I found after trying many different medicines to restore me to health, that Peru-na was the only thing which could be depended upon. I began taking it when I was in a decline, induced by female weakness and overwrought nerves. I began to feel stronger during the first week I took Peru-na and my health improved daily until now I am in perfect health and enjoy life as I never did before."—Lizzie Redding.

Mrs. Mable Bradford, 12 Church street, Burlington, Vt., Secretary Whittier Oratorio Society, writes: "Peru-na is certainly a wonderful medicine for the ills of women. I have heard it spoken of in the highest praise by many, and certainly my experience is well worthy of a good word. I began to have severe pains across my back about a year ago, brought on by a cold, and each subsequent month brought me pain and distress. Your remedy was prescribed, and the way it acted upon my system was almost too good to be true. I certainly have regained my health and strength, and I no longer suffer periodical pains and extreme lassitude."—Mable Bradford.

THE NEW MILLINERY SALON

Nothing in the city to favorably compare with it—and Baltimore has some "smart" millinery establishments.

Mahogany, mirrors and lights—and beautiful hats. Rich—tastefully so; elegant—without ostentation.

Private fitting rooms, so arranged that the effect of a hat from every possible viewpoint may be seen.

Visit the new Salon—be sure to. The store has been marking spoofs all through its history—this is rather its crowning glory.

And the hats—beautiful hats, we said a minute ago. Its likely your verdict will be more enthusiastic.

But not high-priced hats, in the sense that you will pay too much. H. K. & Co. millinery prices have always been sensible, and always will be. There are hats at $5.00 that can't be matched anywhere at the price—there are hats at $40.00 and $50.00, and many prices between—the standard of value is the same.

No Millinery Salon in the city to equal this—no hats in the city to match these at their prices, if, indeed, without regard to price.

THE SALONS OF DRESS ARE AGLOW WITH Women's New Suits for Spring

The business of ready-made suits has assumed the dignity of dictatorship. Designers of rare skill have not been beyond the reach of ambitious manufacturers. And the work bears the stamp of high-class individuality. So, instead of being imitations of dressmaker art, the ready-made suits and frocks are fixing the fashions. The showing of new Suits and Frocks which each day increase in the Hochschild, Kohn & Co. Salons is of widespread interest to women who value effect in dress—to specialists, dressmakers and the like who must study models. Numbers of models have arrived. A few of them repeated in style or even in color beyond one or two, or at the most, three of a kind. Exclusive uses and not the usual accompaniment of high price.

It's pleasant to study the vogue of color from the showing. And Baltimore women will rejoice in the first place being given to gray. Then Alice blue as a logical second, because it is a blue toned with gray. Then heliotrope, reeds and coral color divide honors. Plain cream color over run with hairlines of black are very stylish.

The Widest Exhibit in the Whole City is at this Store

And quite logically—it is safe to say that we sell more Outerwear for Women than any other store, and it is therefore incumbent upon us to have largest stocks and utmost variety.

By way of listing—there are dozens and dozens of other styles—

SKIN ECZEMA IN WORST FORM

Black Splotches All Over Face—Produced Severe Itching—Year's Treatment by Physicians Did No Good and Became Dependent—Affected Parts Now Clear as Ever—Alabama Lady's

CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black splotches all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoyance and suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of my town. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good. Finally I became dependent and decided to discontinue their services. Shortly afterwards, my husband in reading a copy of a weekly New York paper saw an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. He purchased the entire outfit, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent in connection with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking-out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every splotch was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago."

"The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dreadful disease, eczema, but other complicated troubles as well, and I have been the means of others being cured of the same disease by the Cuticura Remedies, and I don't hesitate in saying that the Resolvent is the best blood medicine that the world has ever known."

NEW YORK HARBOR.

Out, down the pathway of gold, From the new world into the old. Out, through the shining bay, Sail the great ships of today, Bearing their cargoes away—
—Sad the galleons of trade With the commerce the new world has made, And Liberty symbol and sentinel Wave to them all majestic fare-well.

Into the harbor they glide On the crest of prosperity's tide, The glories of the world increase, Rich with the world's increase, From Europe they come without cease; From Asia and islands afar, Westward they follow the star, And the wondering immigrants smile as they see The welcoming symbol of Liberty. —Town and Country.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once, don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain opium, Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas common "remedies" made with mercury merely drive them out and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real cure, not a delusion. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

The Empress of Russia has a handkerchief which it took seven years to make. It cost her $5,000.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Only 6.75 per cent. of the competitors in a recent test succeeded in distinguishing the odors of common oils. Those most easily identified were camphor, peppermint, vanilla and cloves; those least recognized, hemlock and lavender.

Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Nch. Ring Worm, Herpes, Barbers' Nch.

All of these diseases are attended by intense itching, which is almost instantly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Salve, and by its continued use a permanent cure may be effected. It has, in fact, cured many cases that had resisted all other treatment. Price 25c per box. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

The North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II, discharged at Plymouth recently 100 tons of silver, made up of 1017 boxes of Mexican dollars and 834 bars of virgin silver. It was a record consignment of silver.

Afflicted With Rheumatism.

"I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. O. Bayne, editor of the Herald, Addington, Indian Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm an able once more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

A British magistrate has made the suggestion that criminals caught committing a crime under an alias should be branded with their real name.

A Favorite Remedy For Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. TWO OPEN LETTERS IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

"It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they emphatically prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters."

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without any pain or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Wash and East Capitol Street, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the result! An Act, Dimmick was—recovered her life.

When The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.
Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs. The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fall to its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

As Christ Sees Us.

There is a taint of the scavenger in our blood, that makes us love to sit in grime and leave the crystal clear brooks unvisited. We are keen eyed as hawks to detect evil, we loathe mouths as crows in chattering about it, but blind and blundering as bats in the discerning of things that are lovely, pure and of good report. We can follow the scent of a scandal like a sleuth hound. We have an eye for flaws and can detect spots in sun splendors without a telescope. We have an ear for discords and can hear gossip without a telephone. The closer we come to one another the keener and more pitiless is our criticism. Friendship we seem to regard as a warrant for fault finding. Our next door neighbor is located at just the right focal distance for bringing his every infirmity into most emphatic relief. We seem to regard one of the dearest perquisites of relationship to be vivisection. And so we go, sowing thistles to sting and nettles to rankle, while we trample under foot the good grain that might nourish many a hunger bitten heart. Christ always has a hopeful thought concerning His friends. He sees in every man all the shortcomings that his neighbor beholds there and sees hope in clearer, sharper and more poignant outcome.—Dr. Howard Duffield, Presbyterian.

The Immortality of the Soul.

The belief in the immortality of the soul is of cardinal importance. Socializing is sorrow and strengthening in prosperity, so essential in all varied conditions of life it is that inside of a century many of our constitutions dared not to be so constituted. Let that promise, which religion makes, be dear and sacred to us. To deny it is to overthrow the whole temple of human excellence, is to declare God unjust and human life a farce or a tragedy. We should seek to encourage and strengthen that belief, we should establish on it the hope that death is not all darkness; is not the sum and outcome of all existence, but that there is a light for the righteous and joy for those who are upright in heart, that we may be influenced to do all we can to be numbered among the righteous and among those who are upright in heart.—Dr. N. McGee Waters, Congregational.

The Lord Calls on You.

Christian service to-day must be insisted in the democratic spirit; its mission is to humanity. Every man is a son of God. Every woman is a daughter of God. Go, and your man, and by the shining truth in your soul, by the sympathy in your stretched hand, make him believe that you seek not his, but him.

This—this alone—is Christian service! Christian service after this fashion becomes at once an interpreter. It makes a Gibraltar out of a disadvantageous position; it transforms an ordinary, commonplace ability into a shining angel of privilege and achievement. Everything counts; all things work together. Because the world is one and the the kingdom one, nothing is lost, nothing is trifling, nothing is inconsequential! It makes a man grow tall and strong and confident to really believe the constant assurance of Christian service.—Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, Congregational.

THE HIGHER LIFE
Selected Cases of Triumph from Faith and Power of All Souls

As Christ Sees Us.

There is a taint of the scavenger in our blood, that makes us love to sit in grime and leave the crystal clear brooks unvisited. We are keen eyed as hawks to detect evil, we loathe mouths as crows in chattering about it, but blind and blundering as bats in the discerning of things that are lovely, pure and of good report. We can follow the scent of a scandal like a sleuth hound. We have an eye for flaws and can detect spots in sun splendors without a telescope. We have an ear for discords and can hear gossip without a telephone. The closer we come to one another the keener and more pitiless is our criticism. Friendship we seem to regard as a warrant for fault finding. Our next door neighbor is located at just the right focal distance for bringing his every infirmity into most emphatic relief. We seem to regard one of the dearest perquisites of relationship to be vivisection. ALLIGATORS IN CAPTIVITY.

Probably as long as alligators have been known the young have been kept as curiosities, and most amusing pets do the little fellows make, says the Scientific American. Unlike the young of other wild animals, which are sometimes domesticated when small, they grow very slowly, especially when out of their natural environment, and are consequently well adapted for this purpose, as a number of years elapse before the alligator is large enough to be troublesome or even dangerous. Alligators do not appear to be very intelligent, the recognition of the person who feeds them in captivity being about the limit of their mental attainment. The older ones are sluggish and lazy, though they sometimes fight viciously with each other and are capable of doing terrible execution when aroused.

If properly taken care of, the young alligators will thrive even in unnatural circumstances. His main requirement is sufficient heat, and if the box or cage be kept at too low a temperature the little reptile becomes languid and almost torpid, and frequently dies at the end of some weeks. If, however, the temperature of the air be warmed by the addition of a little hot water, he soon revives and attests his continued interest in life by renewed activity and the reappearance of his appetite. Unlike the older members of his family, the young alligator in captivity is quite lively; sometimes of an investigating turn of mind, and usually combative, his antics are often diverting. If he can escape from his cage he will travel considerable distances, and unless overcome by cold will wander indefinitely, subsisting as best he can.

Many persons who have attempted to keep young alligators have made the mistake of trying to feed them on a vegetable diet, for the alligator is first and last a carnivore. The diet of the young, who should be fed nearly every day, is simple, and consists of bits of fresh meat, insects and worms. They often show great fondness for the ordinary earth-worms, and will frequently refuse all food but these. The larger specimens in captivity are fed about three times a week on fresh meat or small live animals and they require little attention other than that.

The older ones, particularly the males, will, if possible, eat the small alligators with avidity, and to check these cannibalistic tendencies the reptiles must be properly segregated.

Alligators seldom breed in captivity, and while the females sometimes lay eggs, the latter are usually infertile. However, the eggs that have been found in a natural condition in the curious cone-shaped mud nests are easily hatched by the application of heat, and while the young are at first feeble and helpless, they usually survive if carefully handled. Alligators live to be of great age, and there are a number of authentic records where individuals have been known to exist for nearly a century.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians suffering as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their care-giving and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all one symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of their trouble, prescribes this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and restoring comfort instead of prolonging misery. It has been well said, that "this disease is a half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and the greatest earthly boon being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels. Use to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Are You Walking This Path.

Oh, let us make the start if we have not already done so, along the King's highway! It may be with stumbling feet and fearful hearts, but the promise is: Out of weakness, strength. We shall not have to walk alone. He who trod the dusty ways of Judea will go with us; His grace sufficient for us; His strength made perfect in our weakness. And when at last, footsore and weary, we reach the end, we shall hear His well done, good and faithful servant; then and "able to save unto the uttermost all who come unto him through Jesus Christ." This is the great central fact of revelation, and resting upon it, my soul finds peace and comfort.—Dr. John Wesley Hill, Methodist Episcopal.

The Guilty Soul.

Queen Mary declared she feared the prayers of John Knox more than all the armies of Europe; and well she might. The brave reformer who won Scotland for God by his faith and established Christianity in that highland country, as securely as Benedi spreads its pyramidal borders in the valleys and lifts its proud peaks into the clouds, had armies to do his bidding which the bloody Queen's abused conscience revealed to her guilty soul.

RAILROADS SHOULD MAKE CROSSINGS LESS DANGEROUS.
The sad death of a little boy, fresh in childhood and youthful joys, run over in the full light of day by a train of the East Church Street crossing of the N. Y. P. & N. Railroad, as recorded elsewhere, puts a startling condition upon the face of Salisbury.

The city should have better protection from the N. Y. P. & N. Railroad for its people than they now have. Some years ago this question was raised and a compromise was reached by the railroad agreeing to put a policeman, a flagman, at East Church Street and South Salisbury crossings.

Something should be done in the matter and this at once before another life is lost or in damaged and a bloody death to serve as an illustration of the danger.

Although the need is probably not so pressing it would also be well to have the U. C. & A. Railroad gate their Division Street crossing, where there is also much passing. These railroad corporations are enjoying in their charter and franchises immense privileges from our State and the City of Salisbury and should give some fair return, or at least the best protection for life and limb that is possible.

Representative Smith, of Maryland, has introduced a bill, which, if passed by Congress, would require the Secretary of War to cause an examination and survey to be made of Sixpenny Bay in the Eastern Shore of Maryland, with the view of obtaining an outlet for the bay.

There are more than 50 vessels engaged in this industry, which are a harbor of refuge and have 500 miles when there is a storm. It is a large proposition and of great importance to the people of this State and the Nation.

No one is authorized to contract bills of any kind, whatsoever, in name or order of M. M. Dick or Frank M. Dick, of "DELICANT" and any bills contracted, except personally, by M. M. Dick or F. M. Dick, will not be paid.

DUSTY OCEAN ROADS.

A Remarkable Condition of Things in a Trip Over The Deep.
A "dusty" ocean highway sounds almost incredible. Yet those who are familiar with sailing ships know that no matter how carefully the decks may be washed down in the morning, and how little work of any kind may be done during the day, nevertheless, if the decks are not swept at nightfall, an enormous quantity of dust will quickly collect.

Of course, on the modern "liner" the burning of hundreds of tons of coal every twenty-four hours and the myriads of footfalls daily would account for a considerable accumulation of dust but on a "wind jammer" manned with a dozen hands or less, no such dust-producing agencies are at work.

To quote an instance in support of this contention, we may mention that no less than twenty-four and one-half barrels of fine dust were swept from the decks of an American sailing ship during a ninety-seven day voyage from New York to San Francisco.

The captain of this vessel, a man of scientific tastes, made careful observations on the mystery of sea dust, but beyond the wear and tear of the sails and rigging, a quite negligible factor, he could assign no absolutely perceptible cause for the formation of dust on board his ship.

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the lungs once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; purer and more direct benefits.

To get the greatest amount of good with the least expense the effort is the cause of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does it.

FOLEY'S HONEY and TAR CURES

Coughs and Colds PREVENTS Pneumonia and Consumption

Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough, but heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold.

There is no danger of Pneumonia, Consumption or other serious lung trouble if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken, as it will cure the most stubborn cough—the dangerous kind that settles on the lungs and may develop into pneumonia over night.

Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse any substitute offered. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation that costs you the same when you can get Foley's Honey and Tar, that costs you no more and is safe and certain in results. Contains no opiates.

Cured After Physicians Said He Had Consumption. E. H. Jones, Pastor M. E. Church, Grove, Md., writes: "About seven or eight years ago I had a very severe cold which physicians said was very near pneumonia, and which they afterwards pronounced consumption. Through a friend I was induced to try a sample of Foley's Honey and Tar, which gave me so much relief that I bought some of the regular size. Two or three bottles cured me of what the physicians called consumption, and I have never had any trouble with my throat or lungs since that time."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00. The 50-cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By F. E. DAVISON, A BASS AMERICAN HABIT.

March 11, '06—(Matt. 5: 23-49.)

Among the most outrageous uses of the tongue is the practice of profanity, one of the commonest vices of the day. Like an internal disease the temper shows itself on the tongue. The merchant discovers that he has been robbed; the lawyer finds himself outwitted by his opponent; the mechanic pounds his finger with his hammer; the farmer gets knocked down by the ploughman; and each one of them swears at the annoyance. Men dispute, quarrel and curse each other in furious passion.

Besides this there is a vast amount of swearing from mere habit—the commonest form of profanity. In the great majority of cases the victim of this vice claims that he means no harm. He does it playfully, scientifically, wittily, with a smile invoking the vengeance of heaven, and gibbly condemning others to despair. The words of cursing and blasphemy grow so familiar that they are used upon all occasions, all unconsciously by the speaker. He swears when he is angry, swears when he is pleased, swears at his friends, swears at others, swears at himself, swears that what he said is true, and then swears that he was only jesting when he swore to it; swears at all times, under all circumstances, at all things animate and inanimate, good and bad and indifferent.

Then there is the profanity of astonishment in which those who are not habitually profane break out into blasphemous exclamations at occurrences which excite their childish minds. As if the English language were too feeble to bear up their mighty ideas without resort to extraordinary expressions. Such is the profanity of little minds. Occasionally we see a person who finds infinite merriment in the punning application of Bible language. His words are dragged into comical narratives, interwoven in a keen retort. Thus the arrows of wit are feathered with Scripture and eternal truth becomes the straw with which men are tickled into idiot laughter.

No one can move among men without recognizing the fact that a wild, terrific wave of blasphemy is sweeping over the land. So extensive has it become that it has submerged our law courts and perjury is constantly committed without a blush. When men in ordinary conversation so commonly use the name of God, it is not strange that in the witness box, and the prisoner's dock, and the alderman's office, and the custom house so many swear falsely. So widespread is the habit that recently in New York a prominent official called public attention to it and declared it to be almost impossible to believe any man under oath. Enough lies are told every day and sworn to, to sink every court house in the land. Smuggling, though it is done against the positive injunction, "Thou shalt not forever thyself," is in some circles considered a great joke. It is only to beat the sharp eyes officers.

Men more easily break their solemn oaths than formerly. What strange verdicts juries sometimes render in total disregard of their oath. What peculiar charges judges sometimes make! What unaccountable slowness sheriffs and their deputies sometimes exhibit in the execution of their writ! What erratic enterprises suddenly pass our State legislatures! What is the explanation? Largely the explanation lies in the deterioration of the public conscience, through the assaults which have been made upon it by this ceaseless and universal dragging of Jehovah's name and attributes in the foul ditch of blasphemy.

This sin is rendered greater by the fact that there is little temptation to commit it. The words of cursing are neither sweet to the mouth nor musical to the ear. The thief can plead his necessities; the drunkard tell of his raging thirst; the sensualist talk of the forces of passion, but the profane swearer appeals to none of these. He serves the devil without wages, he bites at a bare hook. It needs no argument to prove that the common oath-language is to the last degree vulgar and brutal and wrong. It is vulgar in its silliness. The fact that sensible men do not swear in the presence of ladies proves it. It is vulgar, as it is the vice of the lowest classes, of the drunken classes, of those who swear best when they are dirtiest and most brutish. Every true man is really ashamed of it. He knows it is dishonorable, and that it cuts into his self-respect. In the name of all that is lovely and of good report, do not imitate them. Society, the church, the family all demand that we should be reverent in speech.

It might seem a little difficult to understand why the millions in the Sunday schools of the world should need a lesson like this. Surely one would not expect profanity to fall from the lips of the young or old people who are identified with such an institution. And yet it is doubtless true that even there the evil has begun. Let it be ours to nip it in the bud. This is a vice which is contracted in youth. If the boy does not swear before he is twenty, the chances are he will never swear. Let this lesson be a warning to all young people: "Keep thyself pure."

Rheumacide advertisement featuring a bottle illustration and text: 'THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. A SURE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. Also a Specific for all other Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood. DIRECTIONS: Adults, one to two teaspoonfuls in a little water, after meals and at bedtime. BOBBITT CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A. SHAKE THE BOTTLE.'

"THERE'S A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM!"

Not the mere temporary relief that the old "remedies" gave; not the little help that the doctor's prescriptions give; but ABSOLUTE AND COMPLETE CURE. That is what Rheumacide does. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood. It is an internal disease and requires a strong and vigorous internal remedy that will cleanse the blood of all its germs and yet act through such natural methods that it builds up the entire system.

SWEEPS ALL POISONS OUT OF THE BLOOD.

CURES TO STAY CURED.

Different from any other remedy. The result of the latest scientific discoveries. At the same time it cures Rheumatism it sweeps out of the blood the germs of all other blood diseases, and cures Indigestion, Constipation, Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Troubles, La Grippe and Contagious Blood Poisons. CURED AFTER 16 YEARS. For 16 years I have suffered terribly with Rheumatism. I was treated by leading physicians but got no relief. Long since I despaired of ever being well again. But hearing of RHEUMACIDE, I decided to give it a trial. I have taken two bottles, and, thanks to this wonderful medicine, I now feel that I have gotten a "new lease on life." Every vestige of the disease has been driven from my system. MRS. LAURA D. GARDNER, 1301 James St., Baltimore. YOUR DRUGGIST SELLS IT. BOBBITT CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, BALTIMORE, MD.

To Come Under Federal Regulation. The United States has decided that the South Carolina States dispensaries must come under the regular national liquor law and pay the federal tax as do private liquor sellers. The State of South Carolina stated that the dispensary system was part of the State police system, but the higher courts held that it was a commercial enterprise and refused to exempt it from the general law. The declarations of the court summed up are as follows: First, that it is not the taxpayers of South Carolina who pay the federal internal revenue tax on the liquor industry, but the voluntary purchasers of the liquor put out by the State dispensary; second, that, while the court does not question the power of the State to carry on the liquor business, or doubt that the proceeds of the business lessen the burdens of the taxpayers nevertheless the business of the dispensaries is intrinsically a business and not government, and, as business is subject to the same tax borne by other parties engaged in the same business; third, that if a State can evade an internal revenue tax on a traffic in spirituous liquors, it can by the same process evade the duties on imported wines, or go into manufacturing and evade the distillers' tax, and thus not only underead all competitors in dealing with its citizens, but enable its own citizens to carry the same ruinous competition into other States.

Look After the Boy. I had once in my Sunday school a class of boys from ten to twelve years old. They belonged to good families. One day, three or four years later, one of the members came and confessed to me that he had been drinking, and that his parents had found it out, and he begged me to tell his mother, who was almost insane with extreme anxiety, that he would never drink again. But he did, and went from bad to worse till he disappeared. Friends of another came to ask counsel what to do, because he had forged a check. Employers of another told me that he had made false entries in their books, and defrauded them of money. Another became engaged to a charming girl, but she broke the engagement because he drank, and in a few years he died a drunkard. None of these boys at ten years of age seemed likely to be exposed to the temptation to drink.

Alarm in Michigan. Truth the strenuous champion of the Michigan liquor men, says: "The men engaged in the manufacture and sale of liquor in Michigan, who conduct the business along lawful and legitimate lines, are viewing with more or less alarm the growth of public disfavor toward the business, and seeking for means to combat it. 'Never before in the history of the State has there been so much agitation against the business, not only by the ever-present temperance agitator, but by men high in public and professional life, who are known to be men with liberal ideas.'"

Sense of Responsibility. A man has no right to indulge in that which he knows will destroy his sense of responsibility to his family or to society in general, and which will completely unfit him for the duties of a citizen. Whiskey destroys the will, and supplies the lying arguments with which its victims deceive themselves. It arouses the lowest instincts of vice and of dissipation, and chokes the possibility of progress toward better things. Whiskey conquers men by deceiving them to think that their drunkenness is some one else's fault.

MAY 15TH, 1904. JOHN H. PHELPS, Scranton, Pa. Gentlemen: Your Night Caps were almost thrust upon me by a friend who evidently knows a thing or two. Shortly after the middle of last January I was in a state of almost complete nervous exhaustion, arising from excessive business effort, resulting in inability to sleep and mental depression. My physician for two months treated me, at a large expense, for nervous prostration, advised complete rest for an indefinite period. At that time, a vacation was impossible. Fortunately for me, I was then introduced to Night Caps. Shortly after I tried them. One-half a box seemed to brace my nerves within a week I could sleep. With sleep came a return of normal health and I feel like myself again. I have recovered my normal weight. You may be very sure that I now keep Night Caps constantly on hand, particularly as an assistant in case of over-indulgence at table. If, at any time, you should deem it wise, or to your advantage, to refer anyone to me, do so, I will be very glad to write testimonials about it. I would suggest, however, that you instruct them to enclose stamp for reply, for I have reason to believe that I might find several dissatisfied correspondents come from all who need, your remedy. Kindly withhold this letter from publication. Believe me, Very truly yours, (Signed) HARRY W. CROSS.

CABBAGE PLANTS Early Jersey Wakefield Large Charleston Wakefield

GROWN HERE IN VIRGINIA IN OPEN FIELD AND WINTER HARDENED.

Virginia Second Crop POTATO SEED The Best On Earth.

CABBAGE PLANTS.

This is the sixth season I have grown Cabbage Plants for the trade. The stock is the best I ever had. Plants larger and plenty of them to insure a supply for all my trade, which has increased several fold. Great care will be used in packing. Only strong plants will be sent out and full count given.

Plants grown here in Virginia in open field and winter hardened are better for transplanting further north than plants grown in the warm climate of the Carolinas, where spring weather is earlier, which makes the plants very tender.

The expense is not more than one-fourth as much as from the Carolinas. While it takes three or four days to get them from the far South, from here they will reach destination in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania the same day shipped, or the following morning, green and fresh.

Virginia Second Crop Potato Seed.

SAFEST AND CHEAPER EVEN THOUGH THEY COST SEVERAL TIMES THE PRICE OF NORTHERN-GROWN SEED.

Safest for the reason they will stand more cold, damp weather when put in the ground in early spring, and will not rot so quickly as Northern grown seed. Cheaper than Northern-grown seed at several times the price per barrel for planting, for the reason that while they are large enough for seed, they do not run as large as Northern seed, and one barrel of the Virginia Second Crop Seed will plant as much land as two barrels of Northern-grown seed.

Again, they will produce from 25 to 33 per cent. more potatoes to the acre than the Northern grown seed. THE CHOP IS NOT LARGE THIS SEASON. If you delay you will be like some season before last—not get the seed; or if you get it, you will pay a high price.

The seed I will send out this season are selected with great care and packed in full size, well filled barrels.

What Some People Say Of Purchases From Me.

The car of seed you sent me last season was the best I ever saw, and showed splendid results in my crop of potatoes.

Results from second crop seed bought of you last season were highly satisfactory, hence I have ordered more from you.

The seed I sold from you last season gave entire satisfaction.

HOW IT STICKS.

Salisbury has found it hard to shake off. Hard to bear, harder to get rid of. Is any itching skin complaint, Eczema or Itching Piles. Doan's Ointment relieves and cures All itching of the skin. Salisbury people endorse this statement:

H. T. Parsons, tailor, residing at 108 Water Street, says: "I had eczema or skin trouble on my left leg which annoyed me off and on for the past three or four years. It would come on from no apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappear only to reappear again about a week or two later, or sometimes a month or two. In warm weather or if I over-heated myself I was worse, and I happened to see an advertisement about Doan's Ointment which influenced me to go to White and Leonard's drug store for a box. A few applications stopped the itching for I used nothing else and it disappeared. What is of much more importance to me, at the present time, there is not a symptom of a recurrence."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Queen Margherita of Italy recently personally took the King's pardon so the three youths who last autumn attempted to wreck her automobile by piling stones on the highway.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved" writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played and havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound, and well! Every-body ought to know, it's the only cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung diseases. Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by all Druggists.

Pearls.

The systematic culture of fresh water pearls may become an important industry in the United States as the mollusks from which they are taken are very abundant in our lakes and rivers. The Mississippi basin, especially, teems with them, presenting many forms which differ from those of the Atlantic water shed and other parts of the world. The methods of culture are exceedingly simple, as it is necessary only to open slightly the shell and insert a very small, transparent glass bead putting it between the mantle and the shell. Great care must be taken to avoid injury to the little animal; and in opening the shell a thin flat iron tool with a wooden handle and a bent point should be used; a knife might answer for the purpose. After treatment it must be returned to the water for a year or two while the process of incrustation goes on.—World Magazine.

PLAGUE SPOTS IN THE BLOOD.

A Remedy Found To Cleanse The Entire System.

Half of the diseases from which mankind suffers are caused by impure blood. That headache, those pains in the joints and muscles, that tired feeling, are all caused by poisons in the blood. The reason Rheumatism, Sciatica and Gout cannot be cured by rubbing with liniment and oils is that the disease originates by the blood and an internal disease cannot be cured by an external remedy. Rheumatoid is the most powerful blood purifier in the world. Rheumatoid goes right to the seat of the disease, sweeping all the poisons out of the blood toning up the stomach, regulating the liver and kidneys and restoring each organ of the body to its normal functions. That is the reason it cures so many ailments.

Rheumatoid cures Rheumatism and kindred diseases after all other means fail, because it gets at the joints from the inside. "I gladly testify that Rheumatoid completely cured me of a severe case of Rheumatism," writes James Kenally, of 1800 Frederick Avenue, Baltimore. "About four months ago I was taken with the disease in my lower limbs, which spread throughout the body. My back troubled me greatly. I suffered acutely, could go up and down stairs only with the greatest difficulty. I received treatment at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, this city, for nearly three months, but was not benefited. Your medicine was recommended to me, and after taking two bottles, the disease left me, and I have been perfectly well ever since. I also found that Rheumatoid was a great benefit to my digestion. I trust that others will try it and be cured also."

Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Keerne, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Conrad Linfield, of Freiburg, reports that Germany has completed the laying of a new cable extending from Shanghai to Yau, in the Caroline Islands, a distance of over 2,000 miles. What Does It Mean to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the contain special and peculiar advantages which are not combined in the policies of any other company. Examine these advantages before placing your insurance. You owe it to your family to have the best.

SYNEPONENT INLET.

Large Capitalization in Bill introduced to Incorporate a Company to Channel From Ocean To Salt Bay.

A bill to incorporate the Synepent Salt-water Inlet Company, which has for its purpose the cutting of the fresh waters in the Synepent Bay, near Ocean City, Md., so that oysters can be cultivated thereon.

This enterprise has been under consideration for some time, and although a company was formed several years ago to build a canal from the ocean for the purpose nothing came from it.

The plan of the bill is to dig an inlet about a half mile in length to the Synepent Bay, between Fenwick Island and Green Run.

The company is authorized to lease or rent half of the bottoms in the bay made good by the water.

"My physician advised me to try a change of climate, but I was unable to leave my family. Reading of the wonderful cures performed by Peru-na, I bought a bottle.
"It was with the greatest satisfaction that I found it the one remedy among those I had which served me. I was cured within three days and after two weeks I was able to go to my home."

WIGOMIGOANS INVADE

The Middle Peninsula And Receive A Warm Welcome, Dispensing Valuable Information On Special Farming.

A company of Salisburyans made an itinerary over the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railroad from Rehoboth, Del., to Love Point, Md., for the purpose of encouraging increased and more diversified farm and truck crops for the benefit of that territory and augmentation of the Railroad's revenues.

In the party were Messrs. A. J. Benjamin, Division Freight and Passenger Agent, U. W. Folk, Engineer, I. E. Jones, Assistant Div. Pass. Agent, Geo. W. Stratton, Wm. M. Cooper, Wm. F. Allen, Wm. J. Stason and Wm. A. Trader.

The object of the special was to induce the farmers to enter more largely into the growing of strawberries, raspberries, watermelons, cantaloupes, white and sweet potatoes, etc.

Mr. Benjamin and Mr. Jones assured the farmers in behalf of the railway company that they would be accorded the same rates and facilities for handling perishable fruits and all other farm products as are given at other peninsula points.

Heretofore shippers along the line of this road have not been favored as other sections.

Mr. Allen lectured on strawberries, on some new varieties more profitable, and advised the growing of fine fruit rather than large quantities of it.

Mr. W. A. Trader gave some figures on watermelon growing, about which Carolina county farmers are not so familiar as the farmers of Wicomico, who shipped about 300 carloads last year. Mr. Trader says there is money in the business for the farmer living near the railroad and having access to the market.

Meetings were also held at Milton, Hickman, Del., Downs, Chester, Queenstown and Willoughby, in Queen Anne's county.

Much interest was manifested by the farmers along the run and good sized gatherings attended all the stops despite the rain and general storm conditions prevalent on Wednesday and Thursday, the days of the itinerary.

—WANTED.—Two men in each county to represent and advertise Hardware department, put out samples of our goods, etc. Traveling position or office manager. Salary $80.00 per month, cash weekly, with all expenses paid in advance. We furnish everything. The Columbia House, Chicago, Ill. Deps. 610, 824 5th Ave. 4t.

FASHIONS IN NEW YORK.

Ribbons Everywhere: In Sashes: Hat Trimmings: Shirred And Frilled On Gowns And Parasols: Spring Suits: Materials: Lingerie Waists: Pony And Empire Coats.

1906 A Ribbon Season.

Ribbon trimmings are seen on all sides. Hats are wreathed with ribbon loops, dresses of sheer materials have garnitures in fancy braiding patterns of shirred ribbon, and ribbon edges the overlapping soant flounces, or heads the bias folds that are used to fasten on circular skirts. Sashes adorn gowns of all sorts, except tailor-gowns and many of these have scarfs of wide mesh ribbon that cross surplusage fashion to replace the more conventional vest. Parasols are ornamented with plain ribbon shirred and frilled and flowered ribbons used in hat bands.

A Notable Display.

We were privileged to see the display of ribbon that is made by the H. B. Orlan Co. and were impressed by the wonderful colorings and soft rich textures. Sashes of wide taffetas in light or dark grounds were printed in lifelike reproductions of American Beauty roses, or the stately orchids that fashion favors. Wide brocaded satin ribbon were further enriched by design wrought in gold or silver thread. Tinsel ribbons in gauzy texture of gold or silver for beltings and for hat bands, while among the products of American manufacture, there were less expensive but were in very pretty styles in moss roses and buds, poinsettias and violets.

"Tulip" mesmalines, a plain soft satin ribbon that rivals the tulip in the beauty and variety of its colorings and Fallstines just imported in soft ribbed weaves and chiffon texture, both plain and with hemstitched borders are especially designed for hat trimmings.

Business Transacted By County Commissioners.

He Who Hesitates Loses First Choice.

In the Great Semi-annual Half Price Sale of Oehm's Aome Hall—The rush to secure these fine Suits and Overcoats for Men and Boys is truly wonderful. Who wouldn't buy an elegant $20 Suit or Overcoat for $15, or a good sturdy $10 one for an even $5. If you don't wear them until October they will have doubled in value. Oehm's Suits and Overcoats also in Oehm's Clearing Sale, 16 West Lexington St., near Charles, Baltimore, Md.

Thanks are due the McCall Co., makers and designers of Fashion, for handsome illustration accompanying this article.

Spring Suits. Headwear.

Two styles vie with one another for leadership in Spring suits. The Princess with bodice skirt and loose short jacket ending high above the waist and the circular skirt, plain or with pleated front and back and the loose short coat that ends just below the waist, and is known as the "Pony Coat." Either style is fashionable but the Princess requires most skill to make satisfactorily and is atrocious when not perfectly fitted.

Lingerie Waists. Lingerie waists are still first choice, but they must be made of really nice material and put together daintily, or they too are atrocious. Silk waists are worn of course and the more dressy ones are made in lingerie styles with neckings, lace insertions and embroideries. Plain silk waists are nice, especially for school girls, and checks make a desirable waist for utility wear. Silk waists are usually chosen because of the color of the silk or in

POGOMOKE, THE SCENE

Of This Year's Session Of The Wilmington Conference. Hearty Welcome Received. Some Data And Proceedings.

The delegates to the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference, which assembled in Pocomoke, Salem M. E. Church Wednesday morning in its 37th annual session are being given a hearty welcome.

The conference includes 187 active ministers, who, added to the supplies and supernumeraries connected with the body, will form an aggregate of nearly 900 members. The far famed reputation for whole souled hospitality which the Eastern Shore has always enjoyed will have ample opportunity to justify itself again.

Bishop C. C. McCabe, president of the conference, is presiding over the sessions. The most difficult program which Bishop McCabe will have to solve will be the selection of pastors for Rev. Dr. Charles S. Baker and Wilbur F. Corkran. These clergymen have now completed their sentences of one year's suspension from the ministry for stork gambling. It is believed they will willingly take any pastorate the Bishop may offer them. It is believed that if they remain in the Wilmington Conference they will be given minor appointments. Both were formerly presiding elders.

Conference Officers.

The Conference elected the following officers: Secretary, Rev. W. A. Wise, of Seaford, Del. Mr. Wise named as his assistants, Rev. L. E. Poole and G. F. Jones. Rev. E. G. Westefeld was elected statistical secretary. He named to assist him Revs. J. H. Geoghegan, H. B. Kelso, Milton McOann, J. L. Johnson, W. E. Greenfield, W. W. Sharp, G. E. Ellis, G. S. Thomas, A. W. Goodhand, F. N. Faulkner, F. L. Mumford, Frederick X. Moore, W. E. Gunby, J. N. Mitchell and D. J. Ford.

Henry G. Budd was elected treasurer, with the following assistants: J. M. Arters, J. W. Freytmann, W. O. Bennett, G. C. Williams, T. E. Vandyske, V. E. Hillis, J. E. Gardner, J. T. Richardson, O. E. Jones and Elmer Jones.

Rev. J. T. Prouse was elected conference postmaster.

Presiding Elder William G. Koons, of Easton district read his report. He said that he had kept every appointment in his district during the year, and also stated that revivals were held in many churches resulting in a total of 1,000 conversions. Foreign missionary collections in the district were reported as having advanced $250 over the previous year, and also an increase in pastor's salary of $300 had been effected.

Wonderful Revival.

Presiding Elder S. M. Morgan, of Dover district, read his report, which includes many Maryland churches, had a wonderful revival during the year, resulting in 2,129 conversions, Williston, in Maryland contributing alone 191 of this number. A substantial increase in all church collections and salaries was also reported, indicating prosperity in the district. Mr. Morgan commented in significant terms on the fact that, notwithstanding there had been such interest in revivals the camp meetings had had no big revival services, and recommended that some action be taken at the present conference session leading to discontinuation of a great number of the camps. He also attacked the Delaware Legislature and the State party leader for repudiating their temperance pledge, and urged the formation of a new reform party in the

Suspended Ministers Returned.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Corkran, suspended one year ago for unbecoming conduct, responded to roll call at the opening of the session. Rev. Charles S. Baker, also under suspension, did not respond, not having arrived when the conference met. He came in late, however, and took his seat in the body. The two ministers attracted special attention. Each received a cordial reception and welcome from their brethren. It is expected that their cases will be disposed of at the Friday morning's session, when they will likely be given minor charges in the conference.

GONNOWAY—PHILLIPS

Wedding Solemnized At The Home Of The Bride's Parents On Division Street.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Phillips, N. Division Street, Salisbury, Md., Wednesday, March 14th at high noon when their daughter, Eunice Lee, became the bride of Dr. H. C. Connoway, a very enterprising physician who is now stationed at Hebron, Md., but formerly of Berlin.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with potted plants and cut flowers. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father who gave her away, to the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss Edna Adkins. She was met in this room by the groom and Rev. Howard, who performed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in a blue traveling suit with hat and gloves to match and carried white carnations. The groom wore the conventional black.

Immediately after the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served after which they left on the two o'clock express amid a shower of rice for northern cities.

The Creoles Of Conakrope, The French West Indies.

While traveling the French West Indies I have often noticed the beautiful glossy hair of the Creole women. I asked the secret of their luxuriant locks. One said little Miss Maudie said: In my country we do not wash the hair with soap and water. But brush it every day and comb it carefully using no hair pins, while resting giving the hair a chance to air once a week, a sun bath on the balcony of about ten minutes, for in the tropics the sun is very strong, after which we oil the scalp with olive oil to give it a lustre.

The Creole women take life as it comes. The little lily of life do not worry them; that is the secret of their beauty.

The Missouri Girl.

The unvarying success of Fred Raymond's comedy, "The Missouri Girl" has become proverbial among members of the theatrical profession, and along the Rialto, or where actors collect, you can hear the usual remark: "hain't he got a gold mine?" The reason is plain; the play is one that creates fun and amusement in large quantities. The companies presenting it are composed of experienced people in the profession and the management insists on their best efforts at all times. Five of the present ones have been successful stars at different times. At Ulman Grand Opera House, Monday, March 19. Prices 25, 50 and 60 cents.

Home Baking with ROYAL Baking Powder

The United States Agricultural Department has issued (and circulates free) a valuable report giving the results of elaborate experiments made by and under the direction of the Department, which show the great saving from baking at home, as compared with cost of buying at the bakery. All bread, cake, biscuit, crackers, etc., are very fresh, clean, cheap and healthful.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable.

Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.

It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.

Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Col. William H. Tibb, of Murray County, Ga., now 90 years old, is the last living congressman of the Confederation states.

Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itch, Ring Worm, Herpes, Barbers' Itch. All of these diseases are attended by intense itching, which is almost instantly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Salve, and by its continued use a permanent cure may be effected.

It has, in fact, cured many cases that had resisted all other treatment. Price 50c per box. For sale by O. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Luther Burbank has been so over-run by visitors—over 4,000 last year—that a public request has been issued asking that visits to him be discontinued.

Afflicted With Rheumatism. "I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Bayne, editor of the Herald, Adgington, Indian Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm an able once more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by O. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Fifty years ago in Switzerland, 180,000 depositors possessed $19,000,000 in 187 savings banks. There are now 1,400,000 depositors possessing $180,000,000 in more than 800 savings banks.

A Favorite Remedy For Babies. Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by O. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

No false pretense has marked the career of Ely's Cream Balm. No idle promises of rewards for cases it will not cure. Being entirely harmless, it is not responsible like the catarrh snuffs and powders, for minds shattered by cocaine. The great positive virtue of Ely's Cream Balm is that it speedily and completely cures nasal catarrh and hay fever. Back of this statement is the testimony of thousands and a reputation of many years' standing. All druggists, 75c per bottle. For sale by O. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Seed Oats
Michigan White Oats, price 75 cents per bushel of 56 pounds.

MARDELA.
Mr. T. E. Venables left Monday night for Philadelphia, where he has accepted a position with W. A. Mason.

The Protestant Church has been greatly improved by the addition of a large Sunday School room and a coat of paint, thus making it rank among the finest on the shore.

The Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mr. Jas. T. Hopkins, refreshments were served at 8.30. Two new members were added.

Mr. H. L. Murphy and family of Salisbury spent Sunday in town.

A meeting of the town citizens was held Friday night 16th, in Grange Hall to discuss incorporating our town.

Mr. N. A. Cankins and family of Pittsburg who has been here for the past two months has returned home.

Mr. Rush Venables and daughter, Hettie, of Sharptown spent Sunday with his brother, James Venables.

Mr. Walter Darby, of Quantico was the guest of friends in town on Monday last.

Miss Bettie Wilson spent a part of the past week in Baltimore, Md.

We are sorry to announce the illness of Mr. Joseph Windsor but trust he will soon recover.

Some of our truckers have their early potatoes and peas planted. The preparation for Spring work is well under way. There will no doubt be a larger acreage of tomatoes this year than last. The prices seem to be advanced. There is this much about it, if prices do not advance the farmers will not raise them another year.

The crop is too uncertain to risk so much unless there is a fair price offered. Both the farmer and the packer need to be protected; the one as much as the other. Heretofore, it was thought by some to be too much one sided. The packer and the grower should work together, for what is to the interest of the one is to the interest of the other. Live and let live is a good marking motto.

The M. F. Church is getting along nicely with the addition to their building. The plasterers and painters have been busy this week.

There is quite a good deal of sickness in our community. Our fellow townsman, Mr. W. A. Ramey has been quite sick for a week or more.

Mr. R. H. Hess Fertilizers. He has sold quite an amount.

Mr. A. S. Venables as usual, is kept busy in his shop. Lack, as he is familiarly called, has no time to play. It is believed he puts conscience in his work and this is perhaps why he gets so much work to do.

The Spring outlook for building operations does not seem bright, and the reason is "Lumber has gone soaring." Somebody is evidently making large money, but it is not the carpenter.

There is renewed talk about having our town incorporated. Until this is done you can never light the streets as they should be, or a good many other things that ought to be done.

There can be no Town Ordinance until the town is incorporated. As it is now we are practically at the mercy of the indifferent. Street lamps can be broken at will, chickens run at large, scratching up lawns, snow lying upon the sidewalks and we with no power to abate these nuisances. Incorporation would carry with it some kind of police protection.

It would give us a head to which these things could be referred and the cost need not be but little. Public spirited men could serve as officers without any salary. This would not impose much of a burden upon them, and in turn we could get our proportionate share of county tax money for internal improvements. As it is now, with our greater population and greater taxation we can share only equally with the rural sections.

Not that we are any better than those living out in the country, by no means, but we ought to have our proportionate share of the money raised by taxation for county improvements.

Rev. B. G. Parker will preach at Branch Hill on Sunday at 8 p. m. The Lord's Supper will be observed. He will preach at Abol Baptist Church at 7.30 p. m. Mr. Parker, last Sunday afternoon preached the funeral sermon of Mrs. Delilah Bailey. The church was crowded to the doors.

KELLY.
Mr. Enoch L. Freemy and daughter, Jamie, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Fooks.

Mrs. Ernest Esham who moved to Philadelphia last fall died in Philadelphia last week with typhoid fever and was brought here for burial in the Mt. Olive church yard last Friday. Her death casts a gloom over the entire neighborhood as she seemed to make a host of friends wherever she went.

Some of the farmers have commenced breaking their land for corn.

Mr. Daniel J. Jenkins purchased two farms of Mr. James E. Dickerson last week. Consideration thirteen hundred dollars.

Mr. Joseph Davis spent Sunday at White Haven with his uncle Mr. Windsor Davis.

Miss Bath Gravenor is visiting her sister, Mrs. Broxie Zimmerman, in Philadelphia.

John Jones, of this town and Miss Mary Fletcher, of Mardeles were married at Riverton on Friday night of last week by Rev. J. Harry Wilson, of this town.

SAVED MY LIFE
That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago.

As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note.

From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food.

No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that the picture in the form of a label on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policyholder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policy of the

POULTRY

MACHINE FED POULTRY.

Packers Prepare Millions of Pounds Annually by This Means.
So important is this branch of the food industry that the big packing firms in the United States have engaged in the business of raising chickens, ducks and other poultry, says a dealer in the Chicago News. The total business done in this line amounts to millions of dollars annually.

The chickens are placed in long coops and packed so tightly that they can find only room to move comfortably about. But they cannot run around. They are fed from four to six times a day, according to conditions. The food consists of a porridge of which corn meal and milk form the basic parts.

The machine that is used to feed them is built on the lines of a sausage stuffer. A rubber tube extends from the receptacle. The feeder takes each chicken from the coop, places the rubber tube in its bill and then pumps it full of food. In twenty-one days the scrawny little chicken comes out fat as a butter ball. As a rule it doubles in weight in that period.

Of course, every feeding station requires constant watching. Men go constantly up and down the line of coops and watch the fowl. Whenever a sleepy chicken that does not appear to thrive is spotted it is immediately taken from the coop. At the stations where we have refrigeration we kill the chickens for market. In most cases we ship to our packing plant.

The only difference between the chickens marketed in this country and those we ship to London is the method of packing. The English people insist that every chicken be "squeaked," that is, its legs must be directly beneath its body, as though the fowl were squatting on the ground. The American housewife cares nothing about that. All she wants is quality and she pays little attention to the way the chicken's legs are arranged.

In this country most of these scientifically fed chickens are bought by the better-class hotels, clubs, and the wealthier people who can afford to pay a higher price for such stock. Milk-fed stock forms only a small percentage of the chickens annually eaten in the United States. Probably four-fifths of the supply still comes from the farm barnyard.

Ducks are also raised on scientific lines. They are kept within an enclosure, limited in space, but food is abundant, amply filled, prevent them from roaming about in search of food and they fatten rapidly.

Saving Waste Vegetables.
On most farms there is enough in the way of small and unsalable vegetables that go to waste each fall to carry a good size flock of poultry through the winter in the matter of that very essential part of their ration, green food. Take the cabbages which are unsalable and the other small root crops; gather them all and store them away in pits out of doors, bringing them in to feed during the early days of winter at the time when the poultry sadly miss the green food. It is not hard to save the cabbages for a long time into the winter. In preparing the vegetables for the table during the winter save the refuse portion for the fowl instead of sending it to the swine; true, hogs thrive on this sort of stuff, but it will pay a larger profit if fed to the poultry. It doesn't make much difference what this is, carrot or potato peelings, cabbage leaves, apple skins, almost anything that is given will do a world of good to the poultry. If there is any considerable quantity of unsalable potatoes don't save them for seed or use them on the table, but divide them among the stock, giving all of them a portion. The increased value of the stock and its return to you in milk, weight or eggs will make the feeding profitable.—Rural Home.

In Favor of the Incubator.
A friend of ours has this season had the best opportunity of his life to compare incubators and sitting hens to see which gave the better accounts of themselves, says Field and Farm. He finds that the incubators and brooders have had a big lead over the hens. The latter broke 12 per cent. of the eggs on which they were set while the incubators broke none. Between 13 and 14 per cent. of the chicks in the eggs were dead and less than 10 per cent. in the incubators. Twelve per cent. of the chicks hatched by the hens were killed by them in the nest or directly after leaving it, less than 1 per cent. of the brooder died. Three different makes of incubators were used.

Egg Production.
For farmers who desire fowls more particularly for egg production, the Mediterranean breeds, particularly the Leghorns, Minorcas, and Spanish, are to be recommended, says Ranch and Range. The birds of these breeds are smaller, more active, and greater foragers than the Rocks or Wyandottes, and as layers they are unsurpassed. Should it be desirable, on the other hand, to raise heavier birds than the Plymouth Rocks, we should naturally turn to the Asiatic breeds, which include the Brahmas, Cochins and Langshans.

CABBAGE PLANTS

Early Jersey Wakefield Large Charleston Wakefield GROWN HERE IN VIRGINIA IN OPEN FIELD AND WINTER HARDENED.

POTATO SEED

The Best On Earth. CABBAGE PLANTS.

This is the sixth season I have grown Cabbage Plants for the trade. The stock is the best I ever had. Plants larger and plenty of them to insure a supply for all my trade, which has increased several fold. Great care will be used in packing. Only strong plants will be sent out and full count given.

Plants grown here in Virginia in open field and winter hardened are better for transplanting farther north than plants grown in the warm climate of the Carolinas, where spring weather is earlier, which makes the plants very tender.

The expense is not more than one-fourth as much as from the Carolinas. While it takes three or four days to get them from the far South, from here they will reach destination in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania the same day shipped, or the following morning, green and fresh.

Virginia Second Crop Potato Seed.

SAFEST AND CHEAPER EVEN THOUGH THEY COST SEVERAL TIMES THE PRICE OF NORTHERN-GROWN SEED.

Safest for the reason they will stand more cold, damp weather when put in the ground in early spring, and will not rot so quickly as Northern grown seed.

Cheaper than Northern-grown seed at several times the price per barrel for planting, for the reason that while they are large enough for seed they do not run as large as Northern seed, and one barrel of the Virginia Second Crop Seed will plant as much land as two barrels of Northern-grown seed.

Again, they will produce from 25 to 35 per cent. more potatoes to the acre than the Northern grown seed.

THE CROP IS NOT LARGE THIS SEASON. If you delay you will be like some season before last—not get the seed; or if you get it, you will pay a high price.

The seed I will send out this season are selected with great care and packed in full six, well filled barrels.

TO BRIGHTEN PEARLS

WHEN SET WITH DIAMONDS MILKY STONES ARE WET.

Must Be Quickly Dipped in Moisture is Not Then Absorbed—Length of Time Allowed for Cleaning Depends on Size of Stone.

According to the gem experts, the only way to clean pearls is to wash them in lukewarm water with a light suds made from white castile soap, and then dry by shaking in a box filled with jewelry sawdust as soon as the dirt is removed, for if left wet the gems may be injured. To free the setting around a pearl from dust, a soft bristled toothbrush should be used, for nothing but fine hairs can get around the small corners and clean the prongs, without danger of loosening the jewels.

In cleaning a pearl ring or stickpin surrounded by a cluster of diamonds the best plan is to put them in a bowl of clear lukewarm water. Then dip the brush in the water, rub it over a pure toilet soap and make a thin suds on the hand, then brush the jewels and settings carefully, until they look clean. Care must be taken that no bits of soap get on the gems. Occasionally they will have to be soaped several times to make them bright.

The moment the dirt is removed rinse them in lukewarm water and blow it off quickly so the pearl will dry more rapidly when put in the sawdust. Drop them in a bowl filled with jeweler's sawdust and shake them gently for several minutes. When taken out if any fine particles of wood cling to the setting, they should be whisked off with a small, soft, dry toothbrush, leaving the pearls and diamonds bright and lustrous.

Some women prefer using alcohol instead of boxed sawdust to dry the stones, but unless a person is exceedingly careful with it the setting may be loosened. Dip the ring just once in alcohol and blow or brush it dry, at once. The whole process of cleaning pearls should not take more than from six to ten minutes, and should be done every two or three weeks when they are constantly worn.

A pearl necklace should be carefully brushed between the beads with soft hair, but never dipped in water for as a rule there is nothing to prevent the inside from getting wet, and perhaps darkening the surface or making spots.

When brushing no longer brightens the pearls the necklace should be taken to a jeweler, who will restring and clean them for a trifling cost.

The Latest in Book Stands. The making of book stands and book racks appears to be almost endless as the making of books, and the newest productions have much to commend them in the way of form, finish and ornamentation. One of the season's stands is here reproduced. It is of dark-toned oak polished to an unusual degree of glossiness and set in relief by panels of beaten copper with the characteristic luster and sheen of this metal. Copper trimmings for desk, den and library furnishings are much in favor, and a book stand is one of the best mediums for the exploitation of their effectiveness.

Valuable brushes, such as those with ivory or tortoise shell backs, may be thoroughly cleaned by using bran instead of soap and water. The brush is dipped into bran, which must be rubbed into the bristles as one would soap, and the particles may afterward be removed by tapping the brush, bristles downward, on the table. The process is somewhat lengthy, but it prevents the bristles from becoming softened, as they inevitably must be if wetted. When every trace of bran has been removed the brush will be found to be perfectly clean, and may then be wiped with a soft silk handkerchief.

To Clean Brushes.

Mortality of the Sexes. Nineteen men die every year to every sixteen women. In cities twenty men die to every seventeen women. The greatest difference in mortality is among babies. For some reason or another the mortality is greater among boys up to 14 years of age than during any other period of life.

To Purify the Cellar.

To purify the air of the cellar and destroy parasitical growths place some roll bromine in a pan, set fire to it, close the doors and windows as tightly as possible for two or three hours; repeat every three months.

ROADS AND ROAD MAKING

THE QUESTION OF GRADES.

The Smoother the Road Surface the Less the Grade Should Be.

The cost of haulage is, necessarily increased in proportion to the roughness of the surface or steepness of the grade. It costs one and one-half times as much to haul over a road having a 5 per cent. grade and three times as much over one having a 10 per cent. grade as on a level road. As a perfectly level road scarcely ever be had, it is well to know the steepest allowable grade. If the hill be one of great length, it is sometimes best to have the lowest part steepest upon which the horse is capable of exerting his full strength, and to make the slope more gentle towards the summit, to correspond with the continually decreasing strength of the fatigued animal.

Subdrains should be carefully graded with a level at the bottom to a depth of about 4 feet, and should have a continuous fall throughout their entire length of at least 6 inches for each 100 feet in length. If the drains can not be had, large flat stones may be carefully placed so as to form a clear, open passage at the bottom for the flow of the water. The ditch should then be half filled with rough field stones, and on these a layer of sod, hay, gravel, cinders, or straw, or, if none of these can be had, of soil. In the illustration is shown a grade level which can be used by any farmer or road builder in establishing grades.

The Importance of Drainage.

The first demand of good drainage is to attend to the shape of road surface. This must be "crowned," or rounded up toward the center, so that there may be a fall from the center to the sides, thus compelling the water to flow rapidly from the surface into the gutters which should be constructed on one or both sides, and from these in turn be discharged into larger and more open channels. Furthermore it is necessary that no water be allowed to flow across a roadway; culverts, tile, stone, or box drains should be provided for that purpose.

Lime and Soil Fertility.

In addition to being well covered and drained, the surface should be kept as smooth as possible; that is, free from ruts, wheel tracks, holes, or hollows. If any of these exist, instead of being thrown to the side the water is held back and is either evaporated by the sun or absorbed by the material of which the road is constructed. In the latter case the material loses its solidity, softens and yields to the impact of the horses' feet and the wheels of vehicles, and, like the water poured upon a road surface which is not properly drained assists the grinding action of the wheels in rutting or completely destroying the surface.

A Useful Indian Tree.

In northern India, close to the foot of the Himalayas, grows the mahwa tree. Sugar is made from its flowers as well as a cordial and the tree proves itself useful in other ways. As a nut-bearing tree it has been known for many ages. It belongs to the sapotaceae (starapple) family. Its blooming period lasts from the end of February till April. Quickly after the pollen is formed the whitish tubular flowers swell to balls about as large as cherries, which contain a large amount of invert sugar (honey). The flower tubes fall, covering the ground in the greatest profusion. They are eagerly gathered by the natives and eaten. A tree yields from 200 to 300 pounds of flowers.

PROTECTING OUR BIRDS

Audubon Society Acquires Twenty-five Islands for Hatcheries.

CAPACITY FIVE MILLION

Largest Bird-Breeding Preserve in the World—Meretefera Millions of Wings Have Been Shipped From These Islands.

Wild grass-covered islands, numbering twenty-five, embracing 4,000 acres, and with a capacity for breeding 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 birds a year, have been acquired by the Audubon Society, of Louisiana, just off the Louisiana Coast, in the Gulf of Mexico.

They comprise the largest bird breeding preserve in the world. Paid wardens patrol the preserves, carefully guard them during the hatching. It is expected that over 1,000,000 terns will be raised in one year alone.

With the limited machinery of the society in operation over 40,000 birds were raised and protected in 1905. One island produced 25,000.

There are three groups of islands now dedicated to one purpose—Bretton Island Reservation, owned by the United States Government, the largest of which is Bretton Island, six miles in length, the seventeen islands obtained from the Lake Bermea Leves Board on a ten-year lease for a rental of $45 per year, and Bastardero Island and its keys, obtained by purchase from the State of Louisiana, embracing about one thousand acres. The society paid 25 cents per acre.

The islands rise only a few feet above the sea. They are covered with sea grass and a species of salt-water reeds. They present a barren waste, desolate and dreary. No human being was ever known to live on one of them, although bird hunters have for years frequented the reservation to kill the birds for their beautiful plumage.

Getting the eggs and killing the terns and laughing gulls for large millinery houses in the East has been a thriving business on this coast until the Audubon Society finally secured possession of the preserves and protected the game. Millions of wings have been shipped from these islands, and as high as 100,000 eggs in a season have gone to St. Louis, Mo., where they are used in the manufacture of the delicate films on photographic plates.

So persistent is the demand for the wing feathers certain New York wholesale millinery establishments offered the natives on this coast the fabulous price of $40 in gold per ounce for the plume of the white heron and 75 cents each for the wings of the tern. The birds bred on these islands are laughing gulls, shearwaters, white herons, Wilson's terns, Foster's terns, royal terns and Caspian terns.

They lay their eggs on the sand and shells—no covering whatever. The female birds set on them there, the sun having as much to do with the hatching as anything else. As soon as the young birds come from the shells they are fed along the beach, and soon catch their own supply of small fish. The millions of birds that infest the place have caused the island to become the great breeding place for raccoons, the animals burrowing in the grass and sand, as there are no trees for their den.

The Audubon Society has just exclusive privileges to a number of trained and professional trappers of the Louisiana swamps to catch the terns on the islands, and assure their protection and exclusive grants. It will be the first time that any human beings have attempted to live on the islands. It is expected that fully 5,000 terns will be trapped on the islands, the process being practiced every winter until the preserves are free from them. The trappers will make big money from the furs.

We tried a great many remedies without relief. She tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured her. She has never been troubled with a cough since."

Consumption Cured. J. Jackson of Danville, Ill., writes: "I had been suffering from Consumption for three years and was almost despondent. Three physicians failed to give me any relief and the last one said he could do me no good. I tried almost every medicine I heard tell of without benefit, until Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended to me. Its effect from the start was magical. I improved steadily from the first dose and am now sound and well, and think Foley's Honey and Tar is a God-send to people with Throat and Lung Trouble. Yours very truly,

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By F. E. DAVIDSON
NOT ATLAS BUT HERCULES.
March 18, '05.

The present is emphatically the age of the young. Look where you will you find clear eyed, strong-limbed, quick-motived, discerning youth at the front in all the ranks of life. The world is going ahead with rapidly increasing speed, and it is necessary to have at the throttle and the helm strong hands and bright minds.

It is remarkable what youth has done for the world in which we live. Not only in this age but in previous years youth has had its full share in the improvement and adornment of mankind. The Christian religion, the mightiest system that ever gripped the heart of the race was founded by Jesus of Nazareth who instituted it with all its vast ramifications before he was 35 years old, and if we should take from literature, science and history what has been done by young men since his day half of their beauty and brilliancy would be lost.

Attention has recently been attracted to the phenomenal career of President Harper of Chicago University, who died in his fiftieth year. He graduated from college at 14, is believed an original creator of the brew on that occasion. He was made doctor of philosophy by Yale when only 19 and was made principal of a college the same year. At 24 he was professor of Hebrew at Chicago, and at 26 he became identified with the world-famed University which he practically made in the next ten years.

It is a most remarkable object lesson for the youth of the land, yet history is full of similar instances of precocity. Alexander the Great was less than 32 years old when he subdued his enemies in Greece, conquered the whole of Asia Minor, Syria, Egypt, and Persia, and a large part of India. Hannibal, who was the most formidable enemy which Rome ever had was made a General at the age of 22. By the time he was 30 he had driven the Romans from Spain and Gaul, had crossed the Alps with an immense army and was almost knocking at the gates of the imperial city. Napoleon Bonaparte at the age of 27 was made General of the French army and had won an Emperor's crown before he was 35.

Look at the history of our own country. Eight of the men who signed the Declaration of Independence, were under 35 years of age. Lafayette was but 19 when he stood shoulder to shoulder with the officers of the American army. Washington was but a lad when he was entrusted with important offices and some of his most famous battles were fought when but a youth. John Quincy Adams, at the age of 24 was private secretary to the Minister Plenipotentiary of the Court of St. Petersburg, and performed more in his boyhood than most men accomplished in a life time.

Improvement is the order of life, progress is the law of society, and the young men of the world have made servants of iron, and fire, and water and converted them into curious combinations to perform the labor once done by human hands. Those who are pushing enterprises, concocting schemes, building castles, developing original ideas, writing brilliant essays, pushing into un-discovered territory, flying in the air, tunnelling under rivers and mountains, breaking records of speed with automobiles, horses and railroad trains, devising schemes for the amelioration of suffering and shortening the hours of labor, inventing all sorts of labor-saving devices, are the youth of the land and world. They are fighting our battles, and commanding our navies, and bridging our rivers, and painting our pictures, and raising our wheat, and rearing our skyscrapers, and digging our gold, and running our newspapers, and sitting in our seats of legislation, and occupying our pulpits.

The old geographers pictured the world resting upon the shoulders of Atlas, a bent and withered old man. That was an ancient idea long ago exploded. The world rests on the shoulders of youth, and the young man stands erect and holds it up with ease. For it is not necessary to be a prodigy to be successful in this age. Faithfulness and loyalty are the stepping stones on which youth rises to positions of trust. The young man who prefers a cigarette to a workman's tool, who handles a pack of cards more readily than he does a book of instructions, who looks at the clock oftener than he does a his ledger, who prefers to lie in bed rather than be about his duty, who is in the habit of reporting for duty at the office and the first to leave will go down the ladder instead of up.

There are plenty of capable men looking for opportunities and the lazy and incompetent lose their positions first. The man who is promoted is the man who has outgrown his present position. Luck does not win in this world. The people who succeed graduate from the University of Hard Knocks, and their insignia is not a silver spoon but some implement of toil. Christ Himself worked at a carpenter's bench through all His young manhood, and put into His religious system the axiomatic truths of the square and the compass. And to all aspiring young men His message is, "Go thou, and do likewise."

LIQUORS OVER A CENTURY OLD.

Most Ancient in Benedictine Which Dates from Sixth Century. The sweet, perfumed alcoholic beverage called cordials, which are so generally used, are almost entirely of Continental origin. Some of them have a history extending over centuries, and yet the secret of their manufacture has been so well concealed that the monastic communities in which they were first produced still continue in absolute possession of the recipe and enjoy the proceeds of their monopoly.

The most ancient of liquors is Benedictine, which is said to date from 685 A.D. But it was not till 1660 that Don Bernardo Vincelli, a monk resident in the Abbey of Fecamp, who had a profound knowledge of the plants and herbs used in the preparation of medicinal cordials succeeded in making a cordial which preserves the name and fame of the order. It is said that the monks, when weary from their studies, restored their strength by taking the simple cordial. The new distillery at Fecamp is a palatial building, which is a memorial of past success and present progress. In the laboratory there are gigantic tall-shalms vats, containing 120,000 gallons of the liquor, and in underground cellars is stored the produce of the distillation of the plants.

Chartrons is named after the original Carthusian monastery founded in the eleventh century in a wild, romantic valley forming a portion of the French department of Isere. This liquor has a large sale, both the green and yellow being popular. It is distilled from various herbs which are supposed to possess peculiar stimulating and aromatic properties. Its recipe has been maintained by monks despite the enormous difficulties which they have encountered from time to time. The order is supposed to have been considerably enriched by the revenue from this country. The monastery which contains the distillery has long been a famous resort for visitors.

Perhaps the next in popularity is Curacao, which received its name from one of the West Indies (Dutch) where are grown the oranges from the dried rinds of which the liquor is made. Most of the liquor is imported from Holland, the center of its manufacture. The orange peel, after being carefully dried, is macerated with water, and afterward distilled with spirits and water. When taken from the still it is sweetened with sugar, and to make it a little more palatable a little Jamaica rum is added. Those who have experimented say that a very good imitation can be made with the fresh peel of bitter orange and whiskey.

A highly flavored liquor is marschino, made from bruised cherries, both the wild and cultivated varieties being used. Kirchwasser is rapidly becoming popular as a choice liquor. It is distilled from the bruised cherries, and the stones are gathered when they are quite ripe and, having been stemmed, are then pounded in a wooden vessel, but so carefully that the stones are not broken. In this condition they are left to ferment. As soon as fermentation begins they are stirred two or three times a day. Later the stones are broken and the kernels thrown in with the fruit. Kumel, another sweetened spirit imported from Germany and Russia, gets its name from the German word for the herb cummin, with which it is flavored, though caraway seeds are used for the same purpose.

Anise seed cordial, which is often taken as a stomachic, is not a distilled spirit but is made by flavoring a weak spirit with anise seed, coriander and sweet fennel seed. Costander has an agreeable aromatic smell and a sweetish aromatic taste. It is the essential ingredient of the cordial, which is sweetened with clarified syrup or refined sugar. Clove cordial is more useful in the household than an ordinary liquor. Colic or is imparted by the addition of burnt sugar, Peppermint, or cream de menthe, is a popular liquor made of the ordinary sweetened gin, flavored with the essential oil of peppermint, which is previously rubbed up with refined sugar.

Strange Moorish Pastime. "There are few pastimes known to the people of Morocco that are not connected with religion," writes a traveler. "Children play football of a kind and leapfrog and practice wrestling and fencing. They also pursue rabbits with curved sticks and throw these with extraordinary skill. Some few experts claim to be able to kill partridges with the same simple weapon. The great game of the adult Moor is the lab-el barood, or powder-play. This exercise is taken on horseback, and to see a body of Moorish horsemen come down at the charge with guns high above their heads to a given spot, where they fire their weapons and then pull their horses up on their haunches, is a sight that will never be forgotten even by those who have seen cavalry maneuvers in Europe. Moors are very proud of their horsemanship, and with reason."

The Cost of an Error. There is a law in Holland which provides that when benzine is to be sent by railway the receptacle in which it is carried must be labeled with notice of the contents. If this rule is neglected the receiver must pay twelve times the value of the packet. A Berlin professor happened to send his automobile by rail. A railway employee discovered that in the benzine reservoir was a large quantity of that fluid. As the professor had neglected to post any notice on his packet to the effect that it was a packet containing benzine the intelligent official promptly charged the owner according to the legal formula. The bill was 21,500 marks, about $5,000.

CURES AFTER THE DOCTORS HAVE FAILED.

RHEUMACIDE has cured thousands of cases of Rheumatism after all the doctors and all other means had failed. Rheumacide cured John F. Eline and others of Baltimore, after the famous specialists of Johns Hopkins Hospital, the greatest hospital in the world, had failed. Rheumacide cured Austin Percelle, of Salem, Va., and D. H. Oimstead, the Norfolk, Va., contractor, after they had spent large sums on other remedies and the doctors had given up hope. Rheumacide cured Mrs. Mary Welborn, of High Point, N. C., of rheumatism she had endured for 20 years. Rheumacide cured W. R. Hughes, of Atkins, Va., after the most famous New York specialists failed. There is a reason why it cures: Rheumacide is the latest discovery of medical science, and while powerful enough to sweep all germs and poisons out of the blood, it operates by purely natural methods, does not injure the most delicate stomach, and builds up the entire system.

HOME MADE PERFUME

PASTILLES AND STICKS GIVE DELICIOUS RESULTS. Wicks Soaked in Preparation That Give Off Fragrance When Burning in Lamp—Special Powder for Use in Scent Rooms.

Here in America we know little as compared to the French. They have no end of things that are either burned in little brasiers or else so made to appear like wicks and pour forth their odor from fancy lamps, antiquies or reproductions. In making the French mixtures it will be cheaper if two or three girls club together to buy the materials. None is expensive in itself, but a great variety is required, and it is easy to make a large quantity as a small. Gum tragacanth and charcoal are the bases of almost all the mixtures. The gum holds the ingredients together and the charcoal, of course, burns, mixed with charcoal, and charcoal is best and it should be finely powdered. Gum tragacanth should always be treated the same way. It comes in lumps, and only enough water to soften it is put with it. The gum stands in the water for twelve hours, sometimes less, but it is soft enough to force through a sieve when in good condition. Also the same method of mixing applies to all pastilles.

The dry materials are reduced to a powder and mixed with charcoal; then any oils are added. The best way of doing this is on a piece of marble, using the flat side of a knife blade. As a rule the pastilles are shaped like little cones, but this is optional with the maker. Sometimes, too, they are made into beads as when rose petals are used as perfume. For this two ounces are powdered. To them are added ten grains of carmine and one-half dram of tincture of orange flowers. Mix with gum enough to hold, and roll into balls. Just before they are quite dry they may be bored and strung. When quite hard they will take a pretty polish. These are not burned, but are used as a sachet.

Perfumed ribbons are really wicks, and are better round than flat. That used for alcohol is the kind. The round ones may be burned in such little tights as are used for cigar trays, or if one is fortunate enough to own a Roman or Greek lamp, it will be found just the thing. Dissolve three and one-quarter drams of saltpeter in half a pint of warm rose water. In this place the wick for an hour or more. Then dry it carefully. If shut away in a tin box a week before using it will be sweeter. To use it is run into the lamp, lighted, and then blown out so that it smokes. As it reaches the top of the holder it must be raised or it will go out.

A delicious odor to use in a sick room is merely a mixture of powders. A half ounce each of powdered frankincense, cascarilla, benzoin, cloves, cinnamon and thyme are used. They should be worked into a fine, well mixed powder and kept in a tightly closed glass jar. When using heat either a metal dish or a shovel and throw a little of the powder over. It will smoke, but not burn.

Undressing a Statue. A statue of Camille Desmoulins, unveiled recently in Paris, disappeared from its pedestal the next night and the explanation is distinctly amusing. It was found that most of the garments with which the sculptor had provided the revolutionary firebrand were of the wrong date. The coat and cloak are of a pattern which did not come in until several years later, and instead of knee breeches and large-buckled shoes Camille's nether limbs are laced in very modern riding boots. So M. Desmoulins is to be re-dressed.

On Account of the Constant Suffering You Have to Endure From

YOU ARE MISTAKEN. Scientists and physicians are never at rest and are constantly delving into nature to discover remedies for the cure of human ills.

RHEUMATIC

THE ELIXIR is not for every disease that flesh is heir to, but is an honest and positive cure for Rheumatism in all its Forms. Rheumatism is an affected circulation of impure blood; not simply an excess of Uric Acid in the blood.

THE RECORD OF Phelps' Rheumatic Elixir:

- 30 years of positive cures.
- Has never injured a stomach.
- Chronic cases of 30 years standing have been promptly relieved and cured. Many sufferers were old soldiers.
- Skeptics don't have to believe to be cured. Just take the Elixir 3 times a day. No faith cure about it.
- Samples not given. A cure is aimed at; not temporary relief.

ALLEN.

The Second Quarterly Conference of Wicomico Circuit, was held last Sunday and Monday at Eden. Rev. R. F. Gayle, P. E. preached at Eden in the afternoon at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at 8 o'clock and at Asbury at night. Both sermons were highly interesting and enjoyed by all who heard them. The Dr. seemed to be at his best, notwithstanding he preached three times on Sunday, and we cannot say as did a Methodist minister some time ago who announced that, the Lord would be with him and his people, in the morning and the Presiding Elder at night! We had the P. E. with us and the Lord was with us also, and we believe such good will result from such a fortunate combination. The reports showed the charge in advancing condition and the prospects encouraging in most respects.

We are anxiously waiting the return of Capt. Brewington from Baltimore with the second cargo of shells.

The first has revealed the fact that when the work of shelling our streets is complete, that a much needed improvement will have been made.

We were greatly disappointed on Tuesday evening last by the inclement weather as our pastor, the Rev. Jas. W. Baker, was to have delivered a lecture in our church but was compelled to postpone it until next Thursday, March 22nd. His subject will be "What all the world is seeking," and we are very anxious to learn what that is.

The much talked of mill dam and the missing link that caused so much anxiety and inconvenience has at last been welded and the public is again able to travel the usual road to the adjoining county.

Following close on to the catastrophe above mentioned, our citizens were grieved by the burning of Mr. Otto Boudens' house and furnishings on last Thursday night about 11.30 o'clock. The fire broke out suddenly and the family barely escaped in their night clothes, and were unable to save anything except one or two feather beds, not even a suit of clothes apiece. The case is one that appeals to the charity as well as the sympathy of every one and the neighbors have done what they could towards helping the distressed family. There was some insurance on the property but not enough to cover the loss by about $500.00 and that means much to those who lost all.

Miss Carrie Huntington, has just returned from a delightful trip to Cape Charles, Va., where she spent some days and reports having had a charming visit.

Our pastor and his wife have been sick from malaria, for some days, but we are glad to be able to report them convalescent.

Our Amateur Social Entertainment Club are making arrangements to give one of their popular plays at Mt. Vernon, Somerset County, next Wednesday night, March 21st.

Misses Ada and Dora Austin, Miss Letitia Bailey were the guests of Miss Daisy Hurley, Sunday.

A surprise party was given to Miss Lela Hatton at her home on Tuesday evening. Quite a number of interesting games were indulged in and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Sorry to report Mrs. Joseph Majors on the sick list at the Hospital in Salisbury.

A surprise party was given to Miss Mary Elliott at her home last Thursday evening. Various games were played, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott, Misses Mary Elliott, Katie Evans, Daisy Hurley, Mary Oalloway, May Phillips, Letitia Bailey, Messrs. Rowe Elliott, John Elliott, Willard Donoho, Rodney Austin, Stanley Bailey, Olande Wright, Howard Truitt, Lewis Phillips, Noah Lankford and several other friends. All report a good time.

Mrs. Della Ballie, wife of Albert Ballie, died at her home here on Saturday of last week. On Sunday afternoon her remains were taken by undertaker, L. A. Seabreeze to the Athol Baptist Mission Church where the funeral was preached by the pastor, Rev. B. G. Parker. She leaves parents, husband and many other relatives and friends to mourn their loss. She and Mr. Ballie were perfectly devoted to each other. They had been married only a short time over a year and it seems very hard that they should be parted so soon, but let us all hope that it is for the better and strive to meet her in Heaven, where there will be no more parting.

2,500,000 Is Offered State For Its B. And O. Stock.

President Murray, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, has sent to Governor Warfield an offer to purchase the holdins of the State of Maryland in the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at $2,500,000.

The State owns 5,500 shares and the offer is $445.45 a share. The offer gives general satisfaction in Annapolis and Baltimore, it being regarded as a fair price for the State's holding. Many members of the Legislature hold that the stock is worth more than the Baltimore and Ohio offers for it, but to get its full value might require long litigation, and that it is better to get $2,500,000 now than to get $3,000,000, or even more, for the stock a few years hence.

The majority of the Legislative committee which has been investigating the Baltimore and Ohio in its relations with the State as to the Washington Branch stock are in favor of accepting the Baltimore and Ohio's offer, Senator Blair Lee being the only one to oppose it.

Members of the Board of Public Works also favor the sale at the Baltimore and Ohio's figure.

If the sale is made it will reduce the State tax to 15 cents on the $100 of property.

PROTESTANT CHURCH

At The Town Of Famed Mineral Springs. Ready For Re-Dedication Tomorrow. The Arrangements.

This church at one time was a part of what was known as Union Circuit and was later divided and is now known as Mardela Circuit. The church was first started under the pastorate of Rev. W. M. Strayer in 1867 and the work was continued also during the pastorate of his successor Rev. S. B. Hobbsell and was finally completed and dedicated by Rev. Ohas T. Cochell. The following is the list of those who have served the church as pastor since that time, viz:

Rev. A. T. Melvin, S. T. Ferguson, W. C. Holmes, J. L. Straughn, C. M. Thompson, J. M. Elderlior, G. H. McCready, A. A. Haryman, T. E. Davis, B. A. Dumm, H. S. Johnson, E. S. Fooks, A. H. Green, W. R. McNett, A. J. Walster, Elmer Simpson and E. P. Perry. During these successive years this church has done great good for the community as many persons have found many hours of happiness and peace while having the privilege of worshipping in it and many who are looked upon as the fathers of this church have since been called to receive their reward.

The oldest member living of this church is Mr. Olemment M. Wright, who has been associated with it ever since its beginning, being a member of the building committee.

The past year the church has undergone a thorough course of improvements and also a large Sunday School room has been built to it. It is so arranged that these two rooms can be thrown into one, making a very large and also a very handsome room. The people of the church felt the need of having these improvements and also an addition made as the church is improving very rapidly in every way. The congregations have been for the last few years, and are continuing to be, excellent and the Sunday School is rapidly improving and at present and for some time past this work has been in the very finest condition. Its influences are far reaching and is receiving the co-operation and sympathy of a very great per cent of the families of the town and community. The Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church has been invited to meet here at its session of 1907. The present pastor, Rev. E. P. Perry, who is now closing his third year as pastor of this church has been unanimously invited to return for another year.

The dedicatory services of the church will take place on Sunday, March 25 and the following ministers will be present and will preach at the following time: Rev. W. R. Graham, D. D., at 10.30 a. m.; Rev. F. T. Tagg, D. D., Editor of the Methodist Protestant, will preach at 2.00 and at 7.30 p. m. A special session of the Sunday School will be held at 2.00 p. m. Dr. Graham will preach at Riverton M. P. Church, Sunday at 8.00 p. m., and Bro. H. L. Murphy will preach at Hebron at 7.30 p. m. To these services you are all cordially invited to be present.

MARDELA INCORPORATION

Large Representative Meeting Held To Consider It. Rev. Mr. Perry Chairman. Cogent Reasons From Abolitionist Correspondent.

Last Friday night there was a town meeting to consider the question of incorporating our town. Rev. E. P. Perry was made chairman and Dr. Elderlior, clerk. Committees were appointed to draw up articles of Incorporation, and the body adjourned to meet again on Saturday night. On Saturday night there was a truly representative body present. There was some bantering on either side, but general good nature prevailed. The articles presented by the committee were in the main adopted. The sentiment for incorporation was overwhelming. Those opposed were given a fair chance to state their reasons; the chairman insisted upon them telling the meeting their reasons for not desiring the town incorporated. A keen observer, who was not a citizen, said "there wasn't the semblance of a reason given." Some one else said, "their reason was a woman's reason. —Because." Of course there was in this no intentional reflection upon the women for often in their "Because," there is a convincing reason. While men hesitate and deliberate, light their pipes and expectorate, a woman jumps at a conclusion and in her majority of cases she is right. It was asked "Is this movement opposed because of any great increase in taxation?" The ten cents maximum on a hundred dollars met that objection fairly. Is it because they are opposed to Law and Order? Surely this cannot be. Is it because they don't want any improvements in our town. This we cannot believe; Well then, honestly, what is the reason? If it is not right and proper to have it, then of course we should not have it. Vienna, our sister town across the Nantuxet is incorporated and her reason for being incorporated is a sufficient reason why our town should be too. The opposers said "if it carried for incorporation they would work loyally for the measure." It did carry and this should disarm all criticism. It is not a democratic principle to oppose the will of the majority. On Monday night, while the men gathered in the stores and discussed the reason for and against incorporation, Providence, in the great down pour of rain was giving one potent reason for incorporation. Everything was flooded, but in the absence of incorporation we have no direct means of remedying the drainage of our town. It has been suggested "let the water have its natural flow," but this is just the trouble, it won't do us the kindness to flow. It stands still and floods our streets and sidewalks until it finally soaks away. This may do in the swamps, but it ought not to do in town. Now while the town is small is the time to institute some proper system of drainage. And as for the pavements, or sidewalks, to permit Tom, Dick and Harry to make them as they please and at any grade they please, would give us a kind of crazy patch work arrangement. Uniformity cannot be had, unless there is a head governing these matters.

Again, the very fact that our town has been kept in darkness after the system of lighting had been installed, is a positive and unmeasurable argument in favor of incorporation. Under our present system we found it impossible to make people contribute towards the lights, who did not wish to. But if the town was incorporated, all would have to contribute. As it is now, a man can put his pig pen where he pleases, on his own property and keep it in w in at condition he pleases. He can put it in his front yard, close to his neighbor's house, while the odor is wafted into his neighbor's home, he can do this as long as the present law is concerned. But should incorporation be effected, all of this would be remedied. This may be called a little matter, but it is just a big enough matter to have caused other towns that we have known lots of trouble. It may be reasoned that this would destroy the personal liberty of men. Yes it may, but personal liberty does not mean license. A man may think he has the liberty to swing his fist wherever he pleases. But he should remember that his liberty ends right where his neighbor's nose begins. In a community we have a community of interest. Improvements cannot be kept back because some few people do not want them.

Rev. B. G. Parker will preach in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon at 3.30. He is preaching a series of sermons on the quickening of the Spiritual Life.

MR. JAMES LAWS

Passes Over The Border At Over Four Score Years. Lived An Active Life.

The death of Mr. James Laws, brother of Mr. Wm. Levi Laws, of Waukeg, at the home of his son, Clarence, Friday night removed one of the most prominent men in former years of Wicomico county.

Mr. Laws reached the ripe age of four score and two years last month, but had been in feeble health for the last year or so. Until recently he lived at Pittsville, where some years back he was a large landowner. For many years no man in the eastern section of the country was more prominent or better known than he. Of a liberal disposition he was kind to his family and generous to his friends, with the old time hospitality of manner and home.

For four years he was Judge of the Orphans Court and took an active part in the politics of the county and the management of local affairs.

His wife was a daughter of the Ritchie Fooks, deceased, of Worcester county. The surviving children were, William R. Laws, J. R. T. Laws, Mrs. Ida G. Williams, Clarence Laws, John M. Laws, Edgar Laws and Mrs. Matthew Parnell.

The funeral was held Monday from his late home, and a large concourse of relatives and friends attended the burial services. The interment was made in the family burial ground on the farm of Mr. Wm. Levi Laws, his surviving brother.

You'll Find Here the Handsomest Dress Goods—Gray, Black, Colors

There is a wonderful unanimity this season as to the reigning "color" of the new spring dress goods. Gray! Of course a color now and then, but only as the exception that proves the rule. And while ground suitings—but they are of the family of grays.

And to say gray is to comprehend a very wide range of color effects. Dismiss your mind of the idea that gray means a dead level of monotony. On the contrary, designers and colorists have rung in an infinity of changes in tones, half tones, shadows, suggestions, combinations that are all different, distinctive, stylish—and gray!

And the loom has done its share in varying the effects, for never were such lovely sheer textures turned out in woolens.

There are blacks, too—thin diaphanous, fine—in shadow checks, cords and plain weaves.

The colors—dainty colors—are in lovely shadow checks and in one-color beauty.

This stock of dress goods is full, fine, and fair-priced. Grays are $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 a yard. Black Fabrics are 80c to $4.50 a yard. Colored weaves are 50c to $1.50 a yard.

APPLICATION OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I am never without Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I tried them last summer. About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that were recommended for skin humor; but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day. A friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out, but I continue to use the Cuticura on my scalp. It keeps all dandruff out and my scalp is always clean. I always use Cuticura Ointment on my face after shaving, and I have found nothing to equal it. I will never be without it." D. E. A WIND Winter.
 To no class of the nation's toilers has the mild weather of the past winter been more welcome than to the life saving stations of the New Jersey coast. From Sandy Hook to Cape May Point, these men, hardy as they are, have all rejoiced in the absence of snows and those attacks of the frost which ordinarily render the winter months, to the life saver a period of hardship and suffering undreamt of by those who do not know of his duties.

The winter has been free to an unusual extent of sea disasters along the coast. The grounding of the steamship Cherokee in the Brantine Shoals was the most notable incident which called into play those arts for which the life saving men drill almost daily for ten months in the year. Had not Captain Oatso and his brave crew of Atlantic City fishermen sailed out in their little skiff to the aid of the passengers the men of the Brantine Life Saving Station, who had boarded the stranded steamer before he reached her, doubtless would have landed safely every one of the imperiled men and women in their staunch little boats.

For such emergencies as this, the life saver keeps himself in readiness, practicing with surf boat, breeches buoy and the signal codes, beside patrolling in fair weather and foul, every foot of the New Jersey coast, on the lookout for seamen in distress. Only in the months of June and July, does the government release him from duty, and this period, though a welcome vacation, has its drawbacks, for his pay ceases with June 1, and until August, is compelled to seek other livelihood.

It is during the nights of December and January, when the thermometer is hovering about the zero point and icy blasts from the northeast laden with snow and sleet sweep along the coast that the life savers existence is most unenviable. With his face turned seaward he must patrol his lonely beat, straining eye and ear for signals which tell of a ship in distress. Those are the times when there is need for the greatest vigil, for it is during the blinding storms that the treacherous shoals secure most of their victims, who lose their bearings while fighting the gales.

The Brigantine Shoals are the most dangerous on the New Jersey coast. Next to them, the mariner dreads most the Barnegat Shoals, thirty miles to the northward. Extending in the form of a crescent about the Barnegat Inlet they present a ten mile stretch of sandy bars barely concealed by the ocean surface.

At no place along the coast are the life savers trained to a greater degree of efficiency and daring than nearby. The stations at Barnegat City and Harvey Cedars have been concerned in some of the 'worst' disasters that have placed in the men of their vocation in the ranks of the world's heroes. The burning of the Hamilton Fish, a big coal barge, six miles southwest of the Barnegat City Life Saving Station, last Tuesday, recalled to the men there a wreck of twelve years ago almost on the same spot, as a result of which four of the station's crew lost their lives. Captain Cornelius Thompson, the present keeper of the station, was one of the survivors. The wrecked board was the Austrian barge Kraljevka. She had a crew of fourteen men and struck on the Barnegat shoals one February night. The crew took to the boats and managed to reach shore, ten miles below, despite a furious gale and a boiling sea. Not knowing of their escape Captain Joel Ridgway who was then keeper of the station, put off to the ship with six of his men. They succeeded in reaching the craft, and finding nobody aboard started to return. When a mile and a half from shore their boat was overturned. Three were drowned outright, but Ridgway, Thompson and two others managed, with the aid of their cork jackets to reach shore. One of the survivors died soon afterward from the effects of his experience.

This and scores of other thrilling experiences are consoling milestones in the career of Captain Thomson. A short distance below him is the Harvey Cedars Life Saving Station, with Captain Alex Falkenburg and his six sturdy men. With Captain Isaac Truax, of the Ship Bottom Station, three miles to the south of him, Falkenburg was concerned in January, 1905, in the heroic rescue of members of the crew of the barkentine Abel Abbot. The ship went ashore midway between the two stations late at night in a howling gale. In the hope of bringing the breeches buoy into use, Falkenburg and Truax made a dozen attempts to fire lines to the stranded craft before they were successful. In spite of the great distance, the steel projectile from the little Lyle gun finally fell on the far side of the vessel. It passed across the bow, however, and the crew huddled at the stern, could not reach the line owing to the seas which broke across the decks. It was not until the boat went to pieces and five of the crew were washed off, clinging to the roof of the cabin, that Truax and Falkenburg were able to effect a rescue by plunging through the boiling surf in their little boats. Four of the Abbot's crew were lost, but the five on the cabin were saved.

For such deeds as this, the life saving men receive astonishingly little credit from the world at large. Yet out of ten of them have at some time in their lives, performed feats of heroism as meritorious as those of the bravest of the sharers in the Carnegie fund. The bravest of few of them, however, are decorated with medals and passing mention is all that they receive from the public, which seems to take for granted their achievements as part of the work for which they are paid.—The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

THE SALISBURY RAILROAD CROSSINGS—DANGER.

The first duty of every civilized state or community is to give the best possible protection to the lives and liberties of its citizens. Every man, woman and child has the right to expect that those to whom they have entrusted the powers of making and enforcing laws will ever have this in view.

Mayor Harper has called the attention of the City's Council to the dangerous crossings of the railroads and has recommended that safety gates be put up at the crossings of the N. Y. P. & N. at East Church Street, also at the crossing of the E. O. & A. at Division Street. As yet the council has not taken any action on the matter. It is reported that the safety gates proposition will meet with some opposition in the council. There is always a menace to one's safety in a railroad crossing. But the lack of protection that is given here makes them a veritable death trap, and the only wonder is that more accidents, which have time and time again been imminently threatened, have not happened. The death of the child whose life was crushed out, as lately recorded, by the neglect of someone, should not be allowed to pass unnoticed by those whose duty it is to see that all precautions are taken to safeguard the lives of our citizens.

Let not the little boy have lived in vain, tho' out off in the happiest period of life, let him render a great service yet to the citizens of Salisbury, and by his untimely fate and cruel death call the attention of our city fathers to the necessity of protecting better the lives of our people. Let the bereaved and afflicted family know that though you cannot return to their bosom the life that has been crushed out, yet you recognize him as a martyr to the welfare of our city—and, though the loss can never be made good, let his death result in better protection to all.

It is a matter solely of lives against dollars. The latter you can regain, but who can replace a cut off limb or restore the lost life to those who hold it dearer than all railroads or dollars in the land.

The early 7.35 passenger service on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad was changed Monday to an earlier hour. The 7.35 train has been withdrawn and in its place a train leaves at 6.35 o'clock, connecting at Delmar with the 7.10 train, putting passengers in Philadelphia at 11.00 o'clock and in Baltimore at 11.35 a. m. This train also makes close connection at Greenwood with the Delaware, Maryland and Virginia Railroad, via Love Point, putting passengers in Baltimore at 11.50 o'clock. For our accommodations are provided on the train leaving here at 6.35 when the summer schedule of the E. O. & A. Railway goes into effect connection will probably be made with 7.35 train at Salisbury.

Called for March term of Court convenes next Monday morning. Appeals, 6; Trials, 46; Appearances, 8; Criminal cases, 10. Wilmor Bodley, who was arrested last week on the charge of burning down the farm of Thomas Bodley, of Pittsburg District, and giving a preliminary trial Saturday, was committed on $500.00 bail Monday, the hearing heard before Judge Holcomb. Mr. Elmer H. Walton appearing with Mr. John H. Handy as counsel for the accused. Mr. G. R. Bodley became Bodley's bondsman.

The firm of Johnson & Radcliffe, who have been extensively engaged in the real estate business at Cambridge, have died a dead of trust for the benefit of their creditors. The value of the business is for $150,000. The appointment of the administrators of the estate of the proprietors of the property is to be held at 10 o'clock. The appointment of the estate is to be held at 10 o'clock.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policyholder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the

BEAUTIFUL ISLE OF PINES

How the United States Lost
This Valuable Possession.

A MECCA FOR INVALIDS.

Mountains Rich in Minerals None
However Have Been Worked
For Commercial Purposes—Wild Fruits and Nuts Abound.

In the negotiations of peace at Paris with Spain the United States paid a price for the Philippines and demanded cession of Porto Rico and the Isle of Pines as indemnity, says the St. Louis Republic. The island of Cuba was covered by a separate condition, which compelled evacuation by Spain and established a protectorate until an independent government could be organized.

There is no doubt as to the policy and purposes of the administration regarding the Isle of Pines in 1898. There can be no question that the officials of this government looked forward to the continuance of American authority over the Isle of Pines, holding that territory on the same basis as Porto Rico.
In pursuance of such policy this government built docks at two ports. An excellent road was constructed from one of these ports, Nueva Gerona, to Santa Fe, the principal community of the island, situated in the interior.

Officials of the United States carried on an investigation of the harbors.
They reported that the Isle of Pines was admirably adapted by nature for a naval station. Nueva Gerona, the port most accessible from Cuba, is in the Casas river, which admits coastwise boats. Near the mouth of the Casas is a harbor where vessels drawing 15 to 20 feet can enter. On the west side of the island are several harbors for vessels of 20 and 25 feet draft. On the southwest is a spacious anchorage formed by the peninsula of Cape Frances which has depths varying from 10 to 33 feet. There are other harbors on the south southeast. In fact, the coast line is a series of indentations and peninsulas affording ideal conditions to the navy for a station, with very deep water off shore on the south.

From time to time this government has considered the expediency of purchasing the Danish West Indies for strategic purposes. Much more effective for influence in the gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea is the Isle of Pines. Yucatan is 230 miles west and Jamaica, the British base, is 370 miles southeast. The mouth of the Panama canal is 650 miles a little east of south. The nearest point of Cuba is 35 miles north. The administration fully intended to hold and develop the Isle of Pines. A change of policy came when it was decided to require Cuba as part of the price for intervention the grant of a naval station upon the island of Cuba. Having secured these, the administration committed itself to the return of the Isle of Pines.

While the policy of retention of the Isle of Pines prevailed, United States government officials, who investigated the natural conditions, became enthusiastic over them. Although south of Cuba, the island is gifted with a climate which an official of the department of state declared "the finest on earth."
The mercury, he said, seldom goes above 90 degrees and never below 58.
The average for the year, and the prevailing temperature, is about 75. A great future as a health resort was predicted—a Riviera for the western hemisphere. The island is not a growth of coral reefs, mangroves swamps and the fetid and malarial of the gulf stream, like the Keys. It was uplifted by the series of convulsions of nature which made the Antilles. The altitude is much greater than that part of Cuba lying nearest. The general elevation is from 50 to 100 feet above the sea. But the interior has ridges, hills, cliffs and mountains considerably higher than the Ozarks.

For generations the Isle of Pines was a health resort of Cuban families.
The Spanish government maintained a sanitarium there for sick soldiers.
Neither yellow fever nor any other of the tropical or semitropical epidemic diseases has ever been known on the island.

During two centuries the mineral waters of the island have had widespread reputation for curative properties; especially in kidney and rheumatic troubles. Near the town of Santa Fe are thermal springs of blood heat; baths are maintained. Nueva Gerona has magnesian springs, celebrated for their efficacy in stomach troubles.

Case is a mountain of beautiful marbles of various colors. Cristales covered with green rock crystals. The marbles of various colors. Cristales is a grain, lying in veins from 5 to 25 feet thick. In various parts of the island is found manganese, the deposits about Santa Fe being of unknown depth.
In the Siguanas hills, near the southwest coast, are veins of pure brown hematite.

BEES AND BEE KEEPING

THE BEGINNER IN BEEKEEPING.

May Meet With Disappointment Unless Gentle Races are Adopted.

The Carniolans appear to possess the most points in their favor. Their great hardiness and excellent wing power enable them to fly freely in much cooler weather than some other races stand, and to regain their hive entrances under adverse conditions. They are prolific, active, and good honey gatherers, producing combs of snowy whiteness. Their prowliness causes them to fill small hives to overflowing with bees, and this naturally results in numerous swarms. It is therefore advisable to use hives containing ten to twelve frames in the brood chamber. The nature of the Carniolans is essentially a quiet one, so that upon the approach of cold weather they settle down in a very compact and extremely quiet cluster, a condition which contributes in no small degree to their excellent wintering qualities.
The drones are the largest of all drones of this species, and are covered with a thick coat of gray fuzz.
The queens vary from a light color to a very dark leather color, the typical queen being, however, dark brown, large, well rounded, strong, and active.

Economizes Material.
In searching for "something new under the sun" a Colorado man has worked out a stepladder that is nothing if not original and economically of material. While it does not have an appearance of great stability, there is no real reason why the three supporting points should not be as effective as four, and probably this suggestion of instability arises from the skeleton design. The economy of

A Stepladder of Novel Design.

material would be much appreciated by those who have to carry steplad-ders about from place to place, to whom any saving in weight is a grateful benediction. The ladder consists of a single stile, to which are secured a series of horizontal steps.
A single prop pivoted near the upper end of the stile takes the place of the usual double stile support. A cross piece at the foot of the stile carries diverging braces and insures stability by increasing the base area. Theoretically nobody can rest on more than three points at any one time, so that the modified tripod stepladder here shown fulfills this fundamental requirement.

Some Orchard Observations.
Low-headed trees are growing in favor not because they are apt to suffer less from the wind, but also because they protect the bodies from sun-scauld. Early prunings should be made to produce these low heads.
Pruning should also be done to prevent bad habits of growth—to prevent undesirable and crowded limbs, and to take off occasional suckers.

In the case of the neglected orchard, care should be used not to remove too much brush all at once.
Cut out the worst one year and remove some more the next year. If necessary, limbs three to four inches in diameter may be removed, but the stubs must be painted at once. White lead paint is the best material for this, all things considered.

Better break up the sod with a disk, if one is available. If a plow has to be used it must be run very shallow or too many roots will be broken. Continued disking when the soil is moist will cut up the sod pretty well. If "the head of the house" cannot see the benefit of cultivation in an orchard or thinks he must use the orchard for a pasture or meadow, see what can be done by pruning the trees for two or three years. Try pruning on the near approach of the growing season.

Unleached wood ashes would certainly do the trees good. Professor French recommends sowing ashes broadcast under the trees, just so they whiten the ground—the nearer they cover all the soil under which there are roots the better.—Rural Home.

CABBAGE PLANTS

Early Jersey Wakefield
Large Charleston Wakefield GROWN HERE IN VIRGINIA IN OPEN FIELD AND WINTER HARDENED.

POTATO SEED

The Best On Earth.
CABBAGE PLANTS.

This is the sixth season I have grown Cabbage Plants for the trade. The stock is the best I ever had. Plants large and plenty of them, to insure a supply for all my trade, which has increased several fold. Great care will be used in packing. Only strong plants will be sent out and full count given.

Plants grown here in Virginia in open field and winter hardened are better for transplanting further north than plants grown in the warm climate of the Carolinas, where spring weather is earlier, which makes the plants very tender.

The expense is not more than one fourth as much as from the Carolinas.
While it takes three or four days to get them from the far South, from here they will reach destination in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania the same day shipped, or the following morning, green and fresh.

SAFEST AND CHEAPER EVEN THOUGH THEY COST SEVERAL TIMES
THE PRICE OF NORTHERN-GROWN SEED.

Safest for the reason they will stand more cold, damp weather when put in the ground in early spring, and will not rot so quickly as Northern-grown seed.

Cheaper than Northern-grown seed at several times the price per barrel for planting, for the reason that while they are large enough for seed, they do not run as large as Northern-grown seed, and one barrel of the Virginia Second Crop Seed will plant as much land as two barrels of Northern-grown seed.

Again, they will produce from 25 to 33 per cent. more potatoes to the acre than the Northern-grown seed.

THE CROP IS NOT LARGE THIS SEASON. If you delay you will be like some season before last—not get the seed; or if you get it, you will pay a high price.

The seed I will send out this season are selected with great care and packed in full size, well filled barrels.

When Burroughs Beat the Record

BY NELLIE SARGENT

"Then that is your final answer?" demanded Bob Burroughs, as he stood with uncovered head at the foot of the Pullman steps.

"It is final—so far as New York is concerned," declared Nellie Prescott with a laugh as she tripped up the steps. "You are at liberty to repeat the question in San Francisco, and perhaps I may give a different answer there."

Bob followed her up the steps and presently he was standing beside the section in which she was to make the journey from New York to Chicago—the first of her transcontinental trip.

Now, as soon as the porter had gone, he faced her eagerly. "Tell me," he pleaded, "why might there be a different answer in San Francisco?"

Nellie's face grew suddenly grave. "There was perhaps no need of such mystery, Mr. Burroughs," she said, "but before I came east I promised my mother that I would not accept any proposal seriously until she had opportunity to pass judgment."

"I will see you," he said, "in San Francisco."

Four days later he presented himself at the Prescott home in Vanness Avenue. Mrs. Prescott, stately but clearly puzzled, presented herself before the agitated young man.

"What is it?" she demanded breathlessly. "Is Nellie ill or dead, and have they sent you to tell me?"

"Then you know me?" she commented jeeringly.

"I know the name from Nellie's letters," she said, "but that does not answer the question."

"Miss Prescott is all right so far as I know," he answered. "I left her in New York in the best of health, and for all I know, nothing has happened, please God! I just wanted to find out if you liked me."

Mrs. Prescott sank into a chair. "I am afraid that I cannot follow your conversation. Why should I like you, and why should you come to San Francisco to find out?"

Burroughs laughed a hearty infectious laugh.

"You are not expected to understand," he explained, "until I tell you that I want to marry your daughter, and she told me that I should have to gain your consent first. I imagine from the way she said it that I may hope, if you approve, and I thought I would get out here first so that I might ask her as soon as she arrived."

"She said you had to pass judgment personally," he exclaimed modestly, "and I was in a hurry."

This time it was Mrs. Prescott who laughed, and Burroughs, interpreting it as a favorable sign, laughed too.

MEXICO'S FEAST OF SOULS

Celebration by Mexicans in Honor of Dead Spirits.

The Feast of the Souls is celebrated by the Mexicans and Indians of Old Mexico each year as regularly as Americans celebrate Christmas and the Fourth of July. They give presents to the children on this day, but presents that would horrify an American child, for most of them are reminders of death.

The Feast of the Souls lasts two days, during which the spirits of the dead are supposed to come back to the world and visit their bodies in the graves, and their friends and relatives. The souls of children come on the first day and the souls of the older folk on the second.

A week before the coming of the dead such cities as Puebla and Oaxaca, where the people are largely Mexicans and Indians, begin to put on a holiday appearance. Everybody cleans house and puts out his best clothes. The public markets, plazas and street corners are thronged with gift sellers.

Standing behind the board on which the hawk calls out his wares. Some of their invitations to buy are: "Here are the finest skeletons in the row." "Our dead people are the sweetest of all." "These are the skulls you want." "A whole funeral procession cheap."

Tae throngs go from place to place buying what they can afford, the wealthier getting the most elaborate muertos, and the poor peons satisfying their children with a candy skeleton or picture. You can buy birds and animals made out of plaster, paper and wood as well as candy, but the ordinary half breed boy or girl would rather have a real muerto, so most of the mesticito gifts are of this kind.

On the morning of the first day of the feast every child expects toys. On getting out of bed he clamors, "Papa, mamma, give me my death!" Children go from house to house, and after a polite exchange of greetings, casually say, "Mi afrenda, senor" (my present, sir), and receive their bread, a cup of chocolate or a toy.

Usually every one visits the cemetery in the forenoon of the first day. Sometimes in the cemetery a case of tables is set against the wall; upon each are placed a human skull, a bowl of holy water and some money to pay for prayers. The priest passes from table to table repeating prayers and sprinkling holy water.

Everywhere in homes candles are burned for the family dead, small candles for the little children, large ones for adults. Tables are spread with bread, cakes, fruit and wine or pulque. These tables are more simple and attractive among the Indians than among the mixed population.

Most curious and crudest of all are the quaint pottery toys made in human and animal forms and encased in a coarse wire of red, yellow and white colors, the colors being due to vegetable substances. These are purely Indian and their use and manufacture have been handed down for generations.

Through all the bustle and movement of this market the Indian purchasers wander, usually in family groups. They buy one or more of the large baskets, some of the small baskets, rattles, bunches of the death flower, candles, copal, pottery, breads and the beautiful flower mats.

These purchases are distributed among the members of the family, who, thus loaded, joyously set out for home to prepare for the coming of the souls. The village streets are cleaned and swept; trails of the yellow flowers of death are strewn from the road to the house to guide the souls.

They suppose that the souls of the children begin to come at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, so the mother lays out a clean flower mat upon the floor on it she arranges the toys, baskets and rattles, breads, foods the little one used to love, a cup of chocolate, etc. The father places the copal in the center, lights it and fills the room with the sweet incense.

The mother calls the little soul's name in turn: "My Juanita, here is your feast; here are your toys." "My little Maria, come, take your things." The doors are left open in order that the little souls may not find themselves shut out.

No one would disturb or touch the gifts until after the feast. The Indians have a legend that one time a little child stood looking longingly at a dish of sweets. Finally he yielded to temptation and touched one to taste it. Immediately the fingers stretched out to rob the dead were destroyed.

386 Year Old Turtle.

About the time the Galapagos Islands were discovered a young turtle was born there. He died the other day in the Zoological Gardens, London. He was at least 350 years old. When he was feeling well he would eat as much grass as an average cow.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN
Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many
From this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but certain fact that every year 75,000
brings a large increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals.
More than three-fourths of the patients lying under the knives of the surgeons are women and girls who seek relief from various ailments made necessary by irregularities. All of these ailments are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and it is not the trouble itself, but the way until the remedy has been found by dangerous operations, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness, at least while in many cases the results are fatal.

Miss Luella Adams, of Seattle, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me finally told me that I had a tumor and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well.
I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so and immediately began to improve in health, and I was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely without an operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the trouble enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability or nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

HOW IT STICKS.

Sellsbury Has Found A Hard To Shake Off.
Hard to bear, harder to get rid of.
In any itching skin complaint,
Eczema or Itching Piles.
Doan's Ointment relieves and cures
All Itchiness of the skin.

Sellsbury people endorse this statement:

H. T. Parsons, tailor, residing at 108 Water Street, says: "I had eczema or skin trouble on my left leg which annoyed me off and on for the past three or four years. It would come on from an apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappear only to reappear again about a week of two later, or sometimes a month or two. In warm weather or if I overheated myself I was worse, and I happened to see an advertisement about Doan's Ointment which influenced me to go to White and Leonard's drug store for a box. A few applications stopped the itching for I used nothing else and it disappeared. What is of much more importance to me, at the present time, there is not a symptom of a recurrence."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

If all of the larva of the common fly came to maturity and nothing happened to cut down the maximum natural rate of increase, one pair of the insects might multiply to 100,000-000, according to eminent scientific authorities, in a single half year of warm weather.

Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Keene, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do.
When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

At Thornham, in Norfolk, England, the schoolmaster has taught the village lads the art of hand-wrought iron work to such purpose that this small place promises to recover a lost industry for England. Skilled London artists now send their designs to Thornham for execution rather than abroad.

Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itch, Worm, Herpes, Barber's Itch.

All of these diseases are attended by intense itching, which is almost instantly relieved by applying Cham-
use a permanent cure may be effected.
It has, in fact, cured many cases that had resisted all other treatment.
Price 50c per box. For sale by C. L.
Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Residents in Edinburgh are much prejudiced by the discovery that their water supply is polluted by the presence of a living organism, white in color, but described from its shape and general appearance as a "water flea."

A Favorite Remedy For Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by C. L.
Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Two street peddlers in Bradford, England bought a horse for $11.25. It was killed by a motor car one day and the owner of the car paid them $115 for the loss. Thereupon a new industry sprang up on the roads of England.

Sleeplessness.

Disorders of the stomach produce a nervous condition and often prevent sleep. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets stimulate the digestive organs, restore the system to a healthy condition and make sleep possible.
For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G.
Hearn.

The manor house at Saltfleet, Lincolnshire, England, has what is said to be the first wallpaper used in England. The paper, which is like blotting paper in texture and has a cream colored ground and chocolate design, is fastened to the wall with small tacks.

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unsurpassable relief to sufferers from catarrh. Some of them describe it as a Godsend and no wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to cure. Sold by all druggists for 50c. Inhalant spraying tube, supplied by Ely Bros., 24 Pearl Street, New York.

If Nerves and Run Down

Chowder.

Fish Chowder—Cut one pound of fish into cubes of an inch. If not for a Lenten dish you may add a quarter pound of bacon cut into small pieces;
pare and cut sufficient potatoes into dice to make a quart; take a half cup of solid tomatoes or four fresh tomatoes; chop sufficient parsley to make two tablespoonfuls, same of onion.
Put a layer of bacon in the bottom of a saucepan; then a layer of potato, then a layer of fish, then a layer of tomatoes; season with onion, parsley, salt and pepper. Repeat these layers and add a half pint of water. Cover the saucepan; cook slowly without stirring for a half hour. Then add a level tablespoonful of butter and a broken pilot biscuit. Serve at once.

Oam Chowder.—Make precisely the same as fish chowder, using in place of the fish fifty clams cut into three or four pieces; then at the end add a half cup of cream or a half cup of milk and a level tablespoonful of butter, omitting the tomatoes. If tomatoes are to be preferred, omit the cream.

Oyster Chowder.—Drain and chop fifty good-sized oysters. Have ready a half pint of finely chopped celery, and a pint of cold boiled rice. Put a layer of celery in the bottom of a saucepan, then a layer of rice, then a layer of oysters; season with salt and pepper. Repeat these layers until the materials are used. Put over a half pint of boiling water. Cook slowly twenty minutes. Beat the yolks of two eggs, add a half pint of milk; add this to the chowder; stir carefully for just a minute and serve.

PLAGUE SPOTS IN THE BLOOD.

A Remedy Found To Cleanse The Entire System.

Half of the diseases from which mankind suffers are caused by impure blood. That headache, those pains in the joints and muscles, that tired feeling, are all caused by poisons in the blood. The reason Rheumatism, Sciatica and Gout cannot be cured by rubbing with liniment and oils is that the disease originates by the blood and an internal disease cannot be cured by an external remedy.

Rheumoid is the most powerful blood purifier in the world. Rheumoid cures Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout, and sweeps all the poisons out of the blood toning up the stomach, regulating the liver and kidneys and restoring each organ of the body to its normal functions. That is the reason it cures so many cases.

Rheumoid cures Rheumatism and kindred diseases after all other means fail, because it gets at the joints from the inside.
"I gladly testify that Rheumoid completely cured me of a severe case of Rheumatism," writes James Kennedy, of 1800 Frederick Avenue, Baltimore. "About four months ago I was taken with the disease in my lower limbs, which spread throughout the body. My back troubled me greatly, I suffered awfully, could go up and down stairs only with the greatest difficulty. I received treatment at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, this city, for nearly three months, but was not benefitted. Your medicine was recommended to me, and after taking two bottles, the disease left me, and I have been perfectly well ever since.
I also found that Rheumoid was a great benefit to my digestion. I trust that others will try it and be cured also."

According to late advice the erection of cold storage establishments in Argentina has received fresh impetus, owing to the fact that a law has been passed permitting free entry of apparatus for such purposes. Refrigerat-ing machinery is manufactured in America, and Argentina announces her need of it.

Afflicted With Rheumatism.

"I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Bayne, editor of the Herald, Addington, Indian Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm am able once more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by C. L. Dickerson and G. Hearn.

Careful Thorough Prescription Work

Sometimes you imagine that you have to wait a long time for the medicine, but if we gave it to you in less time, it would NOT be such good medicine. No matter how busy we are, every prescription is prepared carefully and thoroughly; no part of the work is alighted in any detail. It must be right before we let it go out of our hands. You may think at the time that we are being too particular, but that is due to your anxiety and impatience. In your calmer thought you will admit that we are right, and will thank us for preparing such RELIABLE medicine. Our methods have won the commendation of all local physicians who have had occasion to know about them.

SEED EMPORIUM

New Doing Business On Main Street, Convenient to Wicomico Plant and Seed Buyers.

The seed store which W. F. Allen has opened in Salisbury this year for the first time, is proving a very successful venture. Mr. Allen has been known for a good many years as one of the largest and most successful plant growers in this country. He has been gradually experimenting and perfecting his plans to raise the best vegetable and flower seeds that can be grown. This year for the first time he felt that he was in a position to open up the seed business on a large scale, and to supply such quality of seeds as would give satisfaction to all of his customers. Most of these seeds were grown by Mr. Allen on his 400 acre seed and plant farm, located just outside the corporation limits of Salisbury; other seeds he has had specially grown in sections of the country where they reach their highest degree of perfection. It is worth one's while to take a trip over Mr. Allen's farm and through his various storage and packing rooms, especially so at this season of the year when the seed and plant business is at its height.

Recovery Of County Taxes From The B. C. & A. Railroad.

Mr. Jas. E. Ellegood, counsel for the County Commissioners of Wicomico county in the suits for taxes due the county from the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway Co., received a telegram from the Court of Appeals Tuesday, stating that the Court had affirmed the judgement of the Circuit Court for Wicomico county for taxes for the years 1901-02-03, amounting to about $25,000.00. This is the third time that the Court of Appeals has rendered a decision that all the property of the B. C. & A. Railway Co., is liable to taxation.

Word was also received here Tuesday that the Railroad Company has agreed to settle the suit of the State of Maryland for tax on its gross receipts since 1896, amounting to about $18,000.00, suit for which was recently entered in the Circuit Court for Wicomico county by Mr. A. L. Miles and Mr. Ellegood.

TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY TAKING PE-RU-NA.

Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh—Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh.

MISS ESTELLE CAMPBELL.

Miss Estelle Campbell, 140 N. High street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:
"Peruna helped me when almost everything else failed. I was run down from overwork, as I had not been able to take a vacation for three years and naturally my nerves were all unstrung and I was greatly in need of rest and a tonic."
"I went away for two months, but did not seem to get my strength back, although I was taking a prescription which the doctor gave me before I went away."
"At the request of my relatives, with whom I was visiting, I began to use Peruna, and you cannot realize how glad I was when within a week I found I was feeling so much better. Inside of a month I was feeling splendidly, ready and able to take up my work again."—Estelle Campbell.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to tone the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. This Peruna will do this beyond all question.

We have on file thousands of letters which testify to the curative and preventive value of Peruna in cases of nervous depression and run down condition of the system. We make a typical case:

Peruna is the Finest Tonic For a Weary Woman.

Miss B. Ines Silvers, 129 W. 126th street, New York City, Grand Recorder Daughters of American Independence, writes:

"Nine years of work, without a vacation, wore out my nervous system. I lost my appetite and felt weak and exhausted nearly all the time."
"Peruna restored me to perfect health in five weeks. It is the finest tonic for a weary woman that I know of. I gladly endorse it."—B. Ines Silvers.

Peruna is the most prompt and permanent cure for all cases of nervous prostration caused by systematic excess known to the medical profession.

MISS B. INES SILVERS.

A run down condition which seemed very difficult to overcome.

"I tried several different tonics but did not seem to get much better until I began using Peruna. My recovery was slow, but I was improving and I was glad to continue using it."
"At the end of two months my health was restored and I looked and felt much better than I had for years. Your remedy is well worthy of a recommendation and I am pleased to give it mine."—Frank Williams.

Peruna Contains No Narcotics. One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by restoring the action of the stomach. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used and on for twenty years. It is a "thing" that can be trusted in every case.

"Not Like Other Girls."

There is a mysterious murder and the guilty one accuses the hero of the play as the murderer, and from circumstantial evidence believes him guilty. His sweetheart, however, believes him innocent, and appears at the trial, for his defense and through her power, reads the minds of others, and hypnotic influence brings the real murderer to justice, and acquits the lover.

Historic act is displayed by the actors of this scene which has been acknowledged by the Press of New York City. This solo-drama will be at "Hudson" Grand Opera House, Monday, and Tuesday.

PARIS AND NEW YORK

Fashions. The Question Of Style Outlines Practically Settled—The Latest In Skirts, Sleeves And Coats.

Inside the great shops one could almost be convinced that, by some species of magic, the season had been advanced several weeks.

Certainly the filmy fabrics, with exquisite, artistic floral designs, the delicate laces and dainty embroideries, which elicit constant exclamations of admiration from the throngs of fair visitors, seem more to belong to midsummer than to early spring. There are also spring and summer suits and gowns on exhibition; and though these forced blossoms cannot be expected to represent the last word of Fashion in the matter of details and accessories, they indicate the spring trend in their outlines.

In Paris, the struggle for supremacy between the princess and empire styles has ended in triumph for the princess gown for general wear and street toilettes. But the empire, though subordinated, and relegated to house and evening wear, will still be a distinguished factor in modish attire.

The princess, or corselet, skirt is the prime favorite at present, and in various modifications is employed for all types of toilettes, from the simple morning suit to the daintiest, most cloud-like of linerie frock.

The skirt in which the princess effect is achieved by rows which continue from hips, whence the seams are lost voluminous folds, is the sort chosen for suits of mohair, Panama, fine French cheviot and allied fabrics, as well as for gowns of Henrietta and the heavier varieties of silk or satin.

For volles and other sheer fabrics, or for very soft, light weight silks, such as radiums, and foulards, the princess effect of the skirt is developed with shirring or tucking, while in lingerie frocks the tucks or snirs are employed, and a pointed girle is outlined with inserts of lace and embroidery.

The circular skirt, since its begetting sin—a tendency to sag at the sides—has been overcome by various devices, born of the genius of designers, is more popular than ever, and the plaited skirt with hip yoke is still in the running.

Two coat styles threaten to monopolize the favor of the modish woman, the glorified bolero and the pony coat. Each has, apparently a mission of its own; the bolero is so intimately associated with the princess skirt as to be almost inseparable from it, and the pony coat is most frequently seen in company with the circular skirt.

The street suit or gown will continue to be short; dressy frocks will have a short sweep at the back, while for ornate toilettes a train of medium length is correct.

Sleeves will be of elbow or three quarter length, the newest elbow sleeve ending just above instead of below the point of the elbow. The long sleeve is used only for coats or strictly tailored snits or shirtwaists. Fashion has made a most lavish and varied provision of trimmings this season, and two or three kinds on one garment will frequently be employed. Alice Graun.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

At Annapolis. Worcester Falls In Probation Bill. B. & O. Sale. Relief For Husbands With Extravagant Wives.

Local option for Worcester county agitated the House Thursday, the county delegation being divided on the question. The bill was killed. The Temperance Committee reported it unfavorably, and Mr. Caroy of Worcester urged the House to abide by its decision. Messrs. Harrison and Ewell also of Worcester, strongly objected. The debate on the question was somewhat heated, but 29 members voted with Mr. Caroy.

Temperance for Worcester has been agitating the delegation ever since the session began. It entered into the election in Worcester. Mr. Harrison introduced the bill, but Mr. Caroy believes local option would kill Ocean City, so he preferred to kill the bill. He succeeded in having it sent to the Temperance Committee, and delegations of Worcesterites for and against the bill had frequent hearings.

Senator Moore has a high license bill for Worcester, which was reported favorably with the unfavorable report on the local option measure. It was passed to the third reading file.

Relieves Hempecked Spouses.

Only the concurrence of the House is needed now to give hempecked husbands the relief offered by Senator Seth's bill, which enables married men to report extravagant wives to the court and be relieved of responsibility for their debts. The bill passed the Senate by a unanimous vote last night.

Others Now Judge.

Governor Warfield Wednesday appointed Mr. Austin L. Crothers, of Cecil county, associate judge of the Second Circuit to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Edwin Brown until the next general election.

Mr. Crothers has served as State's Attorney for Cecil county and represented that county in the State Senate for several sessions. As chairman of the Finance Committee he was a faithful guardian of the Treasury.

He is a man of judicial temperament, never hasty in arriving at conclusions, and never until he has looked on both sides of the question. But when he once reaches a conclusion he is firm in maintaining his position.

B. & O. Stock Sold.

The closing chapter in the sale of the State's interest in the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company had the word "Sold" written after it Wednesday, when the Board of Public Works met in the State House and formally disposed of the State's holdings. The holdings were sold to the Maryland Trust Company of Baltimore City, which is understood, represents the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company as the real purchaser. The sum bid for the 5,600 shares is $2,500,000.

Tax On Landowners.

In his speech on the subject Mr. Lee declared that the movement for the exemption of personal property of corporations from taxation is going so fast that we are approaching the single tax plan of putting the whole burden on real estate, and the farmers and landowners are getting restless.

LIVE STOCK CARE OF THE HORSE.

Prolongs His Working Years and Adds to His Comfort. It is best not to water horses while hot. A few sips only will do little or no good.

Good grooming makes the hide healthy and well keeping the hair in good condition. The dirt and sweat which accumulate on the horse during the day should never be allowed to remain overnight.

A steady gait will accomplish more in the course of a day than rushing for a spell and then resting. As the value of a horse is regulated by the cost of his keep this matter is worth considering when contemplating a purchase.

From the time the colt is foaled each day should see some substantial gain made in its development. Hurry, excitement and worry will undo in a little while what it has taken years of patient toil to teach in training horses.

Care should always be taken to have the collar set snug to the shoulders, but not tight, as this is as injurious on the one as too loose fitting on the other.

Besides improving the appearance of the horse, grooming stimulates the skin in action and provokes circulation of the blood. Sore shoulders on working horses may be prevented by using well fitting collars, by washing the shoulders, upon the removal of the harness with salt water, and by scraping the dirt from the collar and the rubbing it clean with a cloth. You cannot afford to let your best four-footed friend suffer.—Indiana Farmer.

Tongue Treatment.

According to a recent pamphlet by an Italian doctor, a sure way of restoring life in cases of syncope is to hold the patient's tongue firmly. After two other doctors had worked for an hour without result over a young man who was apparently drowned, he thrust a spoon into the patient's mouth seized the tongue, and worked it violently until the patient gave signs of life.

A Venomous Bird.

But one specimen of the venomous bird is known to the student of ornithological oddities—the Rpr N'Doob, or "Bird of Death," a feathered paradox of New Guinea. Persons bitten by the creature are seized by maddening pains, which rapidly extend to every part of the body. Loss of sight, convulsions, and lockjaw are symptoms which follow in rapid succession.

THE GOLD PILL

That it is a good deal of a strain on the nerves to discover gold is shown by the story of an Australian official, who wanted to telegraph the news of the finding of the precious metal in his district. A small boy, seeking for a stone to throw at a crow, had picked up what proved to be a lump of gold. In his excitement the child's outburst at the right point

LIVE STOCK TRAPPING WILD BEASTS.

An Exciting and Lucrative Employment—Grievous Difficult to Trap. The capturing of wild beasts for exhibition purposes furnishes an employment at once lucrative and exciting. A giraffe is worth from $5,000 to $10,000, and a full grown gorilla would be worth a fabulous sum.

The giraffe is one of the most difficult animals to bring into captivity, and when one falls into the trappers' hands there is great rejoicing, for there is always a ready market for these animals in the zoological gardens of the world. It is a highly nervous creature, and besides being fleet of foot it has a keen sense of hearing, so that it generally succeeds in eluding its pursuers. The method used in the giraffe's capture is to employ a contrivance of three ropes weighted at the ends. The hunter rises as near as possible to his prey, creeps closer and then throws the ropes in such a way that they wind about the legs of the giraffe. He then rises up and secures him. He often spends days and even weeks in chasing one of these flying animals and is sometimes forced to abandon the hunt.

Every one is familiar with the methods of capturing the elephant, for there is something picturesque in both the keddah and the decoy methods, but the animal is bad tempered and even the skilled hunter must use the utmost caution after the capture is effected. It is said that no gorilla has ever been captured alive after he was full grown. Certainly no sane man would attempt such a feat. They fear nothing, which makes them terrible foes, and even when mortally wounded they show agility, strength and ferocity which are astonishing.

On the other hand all other apes are pathetically easy to capture. The most popular method is for a trapper to wear himself where he is to be observed by these creatures and pretend to drink from a bottle of crude spirits. When he is sure that he has been observed he leaves the bottle and goes away. The moment his back is turned the monkeys swarm to appease their curiosity concerning the contents of the bottle. They like the taste of the spirits and quarrel among themselves for it till the bottle has been emptied. They are soon overcome by the intoxicant and the trapper returns and gazes them up.

Lions and tigers are often caught as cubs, as this is less dangerous and less difficult than the capture of the full grown animals. The trapping is always done at night, a hole being dug in the ground some twenty feet in diameter and two or three feet deep. Over this is stretched a strong net, hidden by bushes and leaves, and having round its edge a strong elastic band. As soon as the animal walks into the net and sinks into the hole the elastic band is liberated and the net closes round the animal.

Though boa constrictors would seem difficult to capture because of their ferocity, it is, nevertheless, comparatively easy. They are made victims of their greed for food. A tempting bait in the form of a young deer or antelope (the natives of India have been known to use their infants for the purpose) is laid in a locality known to be infested with serpents. The trapper returns from time to time till the bait is found to have been eaten. Then he knows his quarry is as good as taken, for somewhere near by the effects of the sleeping-off of the effects of the intoxicant.

Sauerkraut Press.

An Indiana man suggests an improvement in the sauerkraut press which holds the sauerkraut in a submerged condition under the brine in which it should be kept in order to keep it from spoiling by the access of air. By the use of the kraut press shown the kraut mass can be leveled up and the apparatus then used to press the kraut below the brine. This is obtained by means of a lever, and the pressure retained by locking the lever in any position. The press is readily removable for access to the kraut, and those portions which are wet with brine when removed can be placed in position to drain into the barrel, the dotted lines in the illustration showing the position when the press is removed. A circular head is attached to the ends of the plunger, made of two pieces, the head being made to fit into the barrel or other receptacle. The lever is pivoted between the plunger bars, perforations in both the lever and the

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles will soon fall. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food is taken and assimilated. People can do no performance of their duty unless the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach that the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Para, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powder regularly yet I felt no better. It was not until I got Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and stop taking the doctor's medicine, I bought me a bottle and soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer, but get the famous medicine for Dr. Pierce's medicine, recommended to be "just as good."

MIDDLE LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experiences.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason. Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, spasm before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of women's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I had been suffering with displacement of the organs for years and was passing through the change of life. My abdomen was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound succeeded where others failed.

Another Woman's Case:— "During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a nervous condition of the female organs. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared."

I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice. "Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind. What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for other women at this time of life."

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

Mr. Tall—A Prominent Somerset Courtland Dead.

Mr. Samuel L. Tall, of Tall's Corner, Md., died of acute kidney affection at his home Sunday, aged 80 years. He had been in poor health for the last two or three years and suffered a stroke of paralysis a few days ago.

Mr. Tall was one of the early settlers of Somerset county and a business man of great ability. In his early life he was a justice of the peace for 30 consecutive years and until the administration of Governor Lowndes. He was an uncompromising Democrat and was engaged extensively in farming up to a few years ago, having been born and reared on the farm where he died and which has been in the Tall family for more than 100 years.

For several years past he has been associated with the mercantile firm of S. L. Tall & Co., Tall's Corner, and the A. E. Tall Oyster Company, which is one of the largest oyster packing firms in the country. Mr. Tall was a widower and leaves the following children: Mr. A. E. Tall, founder and president of the A. E. Tall Oyster Company; Mr. S. Ashton Tall, of the same firm; Mr. E. W. Tall, a prominent farmer; Mr. Roland Tall, of S. L. Tall & Co.; Mr. Francis M. Tall, of the A. E. Tall Oyster Company; Mr. Clifford Tall, of the same firm; Mr. Gordon Tall, a prominent attorney of Princess Anne and former State's Attorney of Somerset county; Mrs. Stella K. Tall, Mrs. S. S. Dorsey and Mrs. Allen Davis, Jr.,

Mr. Tall was a communicant of the Methodist church.

Mr. Joseph Leonard who lives near Salisbury entered his ninetieth birth day Thursday, March twenty second. He is quite an old man and has lived near Parsonsburg for many years. He has nine children, thirty grand children and fifteen great grand children.

When a boy turns his belgian pocket inside out we marvel at the quantity and variety of articles he has turned away. Odd lengths of string, needles, a horse chestnut, a top, brass nails, hickory nuts, an apple, and many more articles are garnered by this "snapper up of unconsidered trifles." We think the collection must be kept on a boy's pocket. And it is, for we ever think of the variety and miscellany of the substances we take into the pocket of our stomach? The apple and the nuts, and many besides quite as indigestible as these will pass with no more food than a few pebbles. And when we wonder that the stomach "lets out" when the strain of carrying down under the strain of carrying up and irregular meals it can be restored and permanently restored by the use of the famous Golden Medical Diet.

The action of this medicine on the stomach and other organs of the body and nutrition is so marked, that a disease is at once cured and the headaches, liver and kidney disorders, skin and other symptoms of a diseased stomach are quickly cured. It is a most valuable medicine for the cure of indigestion, flatulency, and other ailments of the stomach. It is a most valuable medicine for the cure of indigestion, flatulency, and other ailments of the stomach. ### What Does It Mean to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifty or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurances. The policies of the

contain special and peculiar advantages which are not combined in the policies of any other company. Examine these advantages before placing your insurance. You owe it to your family to have the best.

DAIRY AND CREAMERY

LARGE AND SMALL COWS.

Experiments Prove the Small Ones Often Yield Best Returns.

Professor Haecker of the Minnesota dairy station calls attention to the fact that many persons do not properly estimate the comparative value of small cows giving a moderate flow of milk rich in butter fat, says the Indiana Farmer. In entering the dairy barn of the Minnesota State farm, there are in the first row two cows standing side by side. One weighs 1,800 and the other 875 pounds. Invariably when visitors enter, favorable comments are made on the fine, large cow with the big udder, and on only one occasion has the small cow been pointed out as an ideal dairy animal, and that was by a prominent producer from New England.

The large cow is the deepest milker in the herd while the small cow never gives a large mass even when fresh. The large cow invariably increases rapidly in her flow, while the small one is a persistent milker, generally giving as much in the spring as when she went into winter quarters. The large cow, during the past three years has averaged 295 pounds of butter per year, while the small one gave 341 pounds.

Some Good Dairy Advice.

A bulletin from the agricultural college of Ontario gives some good advice on handling cream. It says that the cream from the separator should test not less than 30 per cent. fat. A rich cream gives the butter maker better control of his part of the process, as well as being beneficial to the patron. The cream should be cooked immediately to at least 45 degrees. This temperature applies to all creams to be sent to a creamery whether they be from the centrifugal or gravity methods. Pasteurization is a very efficient method of preservation. The heating and extra cooling, however, mean more work and expense than would be considered practicable under average conditions. Nature, in her kindness, has in this country supplied us with an abundance of ice for keeping our cream cold, but the average creamery patron simply ignores this fact, supplies a cream out of which a first class butter cannot be made, and then grumbles at every one but himself when he is reaping the reward of his own transgression.

For Straining Milk

A South Dakota man has introduced an attachment for milk cans which is designed for straining the milk as it flows into the pails. This attachment consists of a funnel-shaped device which can be inserted into or removed from the pails at pleasure. The milk can is partially inclosed by a cover, an opening being made in the center for the insertion of the attachment, the latter being held in place by a collar that fits snugly in the neck. The body of the attachment is shaped like a funnel which extends downward into the pail and is closed by a bottom, the central portion being shaped like a hollow cone, intended to serve as a settling chamber. In the sides of the funnel are openings covered by screens or strainers, while another screen extends across the top of the funnel. In use the milk received in the funnel will pass through the upper funnel screen into the interior of the strainer and then into the settling chamber. The heavier particles of foreign matter will gravitate into and remain in the settling chamber, while the lighter particles will be caught by the strainers as the milk falls out of the funnel into the pail. This attachment can also be used as a ventilating cover for a milk can by inverting it and placing it on the can, the screen openings permitting free passage of air.

The Uses of Miltor.

Miltor is the name of a brand of dried skimmed milk now being made in this country by a Swedish process. In a vacuum with the temperature at 165 degrees Fahrenheit, the skimmed milk is reduced to a thick paste. This is scraped in the form of thin bands from a revolving metal drum and delivered into a car, the whole process being automatic and continuous. It is next spread upon wire screens and dried to crispness by currents of warm, dry air. It is then pulverized and packed for the market. One pound of miltor contains all the solid matter originally in about eleven pounds, or five quarts, of skimmed milk and it is claimed that the protein alone in this quantity equals in nutritive value 1.8 pounds of lean beef. It is intended to be used as a substitute for milk, especially in cooking and in places where milk cannot be had, as at sea and in the army.

RAREFIED AIR FROM CAVES.

Replaces Air of High Altitudes in Treatment of Consumption.

Heretofore, victims of pulmonary complaints have been obliged to make inconvenient journeys to the higher altitudes in search of the pure rarefied air which is known to be so beneficial to them, but this is no longer necessary. It has been discovered that the air from limestone caves has all the characteristics of that of the mountains. This discovery has just been made use of in the location of a sanitarium near one of these caves, and the air for the institution is supplied from the underground caverns. This establishment is at Luray, Va., and the system of ventilation is arranged so that each room gets its own supply direct from the cave. The air of these caverns is of a very uniform temperature and remarkably pure and free from all germs and dust particles. In the warmest weather the doors and windows of this institution are kept closed, and a comfortable temperature of seventy-five degrees is maintained in spite of one of ninety or more encountered outside.

Long Distances.

To properly gauge distance when on the water or plains is difficult to the unaccustomed. The plains forming the western section of the high plateau commencing west of Missouri are especially deceptive, by reason of the dry and rare air as well as from the unvarying uninterrupted stretch of level. From these level mesas acting architecturally as pedestals to the rampart and green mountains so proudly dominated by Pike's Peak it is frequently possible to see ninety five to one hundred miles, and occasionally more.

An Englishman traveling through-out the State of Colorado determined to walk from his hotel to a nearby mess before breakfast. After walking two and a half hours he wheeled about and returned home, disgusted; he had apparently covered no ground. He was surprised to learn from the proprietor of the hotel that the nearby mess was thirty miles distant.

Where Newspapers Are Scarce.

In Paraguay there is a little communistic colony known as the Cosmo Colony, which was founded several years ago by an enthusiastic band of Australian socialists. After many hardships and privations the colony is now in such a flourishing condition as to boast a newspaper of its own, called the Cosmo Monthly. The manner in which news is dispensed to the colonists is interesting. A horn is blown, generally twice, with half an hour's gathering time between. The colonists assemble and the reader for the occasion gives out his news, which consists of interesting items selected from the latest weekly papers and dispatches from the Ausonian daily paper which the colonists receive twice a week.

Anglo-Indian Life.

Every night at dinner the Anglo-Indian holds a kind of a levee. The insects which attend dance gayly round the lamp, and one has to watch one's plate and glass carefully lest some of the insects should dance into them. There is one insect—a little, fat, brown, shining creature—which emits the worst odor in the world. If one of these touches your food the whole is tainted and rendered inedible. You dare not kill these pests, for if one be crushed the whole room becomes filled with its disgusting smell and is uninhabitable for the next half hour. So these abominable insects fly about with impunity while the poor Anglo-Indian must perforce look helplessly on.

A Four Footed Singer.

Why the singing mouse should possess its unique gift no one knows, but undoubtedly it sings. It is a small animal, with very large ears, which are moved about much while singing, as if that were necessary to the success of the vocal performance. The song is not, as you think, a prolonged squeak with variations, but a succession of clear, warbling notes, with trills, not unlike the song of a canary, and quite as beautiful, though some of the notes are much lower. One great peculiarity is a sort of double song, an air with accompaniment quite subdued. Upon first hearing this one believes that he is listening to more than one mouse, so perfect is the illusion.

Mourners' Agency in St. Petersburg

It says to be a mourner in St. Petersburg, and there are agencies which employ great numbers of vagrants and tramps for the purpose. These agencies supply suitable clothing and pocket handkerchiefs—everything, in fact, except boots, which the tramp must show on his feet, or he will not be hired. When there is a more or less important funeral the tramps gather at the Nikolaki Market, and are selected by an employe of the agency. The wage for the occasion, with tips, generally equals about 2s.

Russian Asiatic Possessions

Russian Asiatic possessions are three times the size of Great Britain's, but hold only 22,000,000 inhabitants, as compared with England's 297,000,000.

Between Madagascar and the coast of India there are about sixteen thousand islands, only six hundred of which are inhabited, but most of which are capable of supporting population.

J. B. SAVAGE.

SPRING, 1906.

CABBAGE PLANTS

Early Jersey Wakefield Large Charleston Wakefield

GROWN HERE IN VIRGINIA IN OPEN FIELD AND WINTER HARDENED.

POTATO SEED

The Best On Earth. CABBAGE PLANTS.

This is the sixth season I have grown Cabbage Plants for the trade. The stock is the best I ever had. Plants larger and plenty of them to insure a supply for all my trade, which has increased several fold. Great care will be used in packing. Only strong plants will be sent out and full count given.

Plants grown here in Virginia in open field and winter hardened are better for transplanting further north than plants grown in the warm climate of the Carolinas, where spring weather is earlier, which makes the plants very tender.

The expense is not more than one fourth as much as the far South, from here they will reach destination in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania the same day shipped, or the following morning, green and fresh.

Virginia Second Crop Potato Seed.
SAFEST AND CHEAPER EVEN THOUGH THEY COST SEVERAL TIMES THE PRICE OF NORTHERN-GROWN SEED.

Safest for the reason they will stand more cold, damp weather when put in the ground in early spring, and will not rot so quickly as Northern grown seed.

Cheaper than Northern-grown seed at several times the price per barrel for planting, for the reason that while they are large enough for seed, they do not run as large as Northern seed, and one barrel of the Virginia Second Crop Seed will plant as much land as two barrels of Northern-grown seed.

Again, they will produce from 25 to 35 per cent. more potatoes to the acre than the Northern grown seed.

THE CROP IS NOT LARGE THIS SEASON. If you delay you will be like some season before last—not get the seed; or if you get it, you will pay a high price.

The seed I will send out this season are selected with great care and packed in full six' well filled barrels.

What Some People Say Of Purchases From Me.
The car of seed you sent me last season was the best I ever saw, and showed splendid results in my crop of potatoes.
T. J. KENNERLY, Charleston, S. C.

Results from second crop seed bought of you last season were highly satisfactory, hence we send you order for 30 barrels.

MELTON EMERALDS

It was certainly a remarkable thing that had happened. It caused a stir in the court room, a faint buzz which ceased when the white light shone on the speaker over the speaker's desk. For fully a minute we stared, the surprise and wonder in the face of the counter-jailer in my own as though caught in a mirror, and adding the last touch to our exact similarity of features. His lips moved as though to speak, his eyes still fastened on mine. Perhaps, if his thoughts had reached me, my story need not have been told to him. The speaker turned back to us from the crowded court benches, but as if unwilling to be checked out of the courtroom, the speaker of the court broke in demanding that I answer to the charge of the theft of the Melton emeralds.

My attention, as being held on a charge of which I was entirely innocent, gave way to a wonder as to just what part I had played in the strange series of events which ended in the prisoner's dock. I became aware of a strange, uneasy sensation of being watched. That unaccountable impulse which causes a person to look at the eyes springing upon one made me turn my head toward a group passing directly behind me. A middle-aged man, well dressed, and with a suggestion of suspicion about his well-shaven chin and blue eyes was watching me intently. He turned his head away quickly and walked on. I watched him for a time, and saw him turn squarely about and approach me.

"If you will allow a stranger, the liberty, may I ask whether you are in trouble?" he said. His voice and manner matched his sleek, well-to-do first kind, interested ones I had heard during that long, gloomy week, fell pleasantly on my ears. At another time I might have resented his intrusion, and answered his question by turning on my heel, but one carries himself differently when one finds himself at nightfall with empty pockets in a strange city. So I explained to him my predicament.

"Not an attractive situation, certainly," he said, when I had finished, "but if you will consent to put yourself at my disposal for—say—two hours, this evening, I think you will find it profitable."

He paused for my reply, while I, startled by the strangeness of his offer, sought in vain for the clue to his meaning.

"I put it rather crudely," he resumed, "and you, no doubt, are at a loss to understand whether I am offering you charity or a hand in some unlawful undertaking. Neither is right. What I should ask of you is to be my confidential man, since it has to do with solving a domestic tangle which has led to an entanglement between my son and myself.

His frankness and convincing manner won me completely, and a little while later I was hurrying off to the nearest restaurant, two crisp $5 notes in my pocket, and an appointment for 8 o'clock with my benefactor.

Promptly at the appointed time I found myself standing on the steps of a great gray stone house in a beautiful residential district, with my new-found friend.

On the stairs inside we met a servant in livery who passed my host without notice but bowed to me instead. I wondered at the strange proceeding, but in another moment was led into a large, well-lighted room where a fire burned cheerfully. It was a sort of sitting room filled with heavy comfortable chairs and tables strewn with books. Through a half opened door I caught a glimpse of a bedroom beyond with soft tinted walls and simple elegant appointments. Through this door my host disappeared, closing it behind him after he had drawn a chair before the fire for me and invited me to make myself comfortable during his absence.

From time to time from the bedroom came muffled sounds as if heavy drawers were being opened and their contents displaced. For a long time I waited while the fire burned brightly and a drowsiness crept over me. Still my host continued his search in the bedroom and did not reappear.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

The Old Lady With Aids to Memory. There were several people in the room when the stranger entered, and he addressed them at large. "Any of you drive up here in a trap?" "Yes," said Farmer Crabbe. "An old gray horse in the trap?" "Yes, but—" "And an elderly lady on the seat?" "That's right; but—" "I suppose she can manage that old horse?" "Mother, I should just thank you could. Why, she's drove him since he was a two year old."

Manager—What do you think of the rough house that "The Register" Woman" created last night? The Skelton—I'm surprised. I always thought he was a perfect lady.

Courtesy and the Camera. He was pleased—or, as he expressed it, rapturously delighted—with the beautiful features portrayed on a photograph the lady had just given him. "Some day," said he, "I shall, with your permission, plead for the lovely original."

A Youthful Aggressor. "And what did my little darling do in school to-day?" a Chicago mother asked of her young son—a "second grader." "We had nature study, and it was my turn to bring a specimen," said Evva.

A Remarkable Child. Flatbush was telling me about his young son. Gotham—I shouldn't think you'd have the patience to listen to him. "Oh, yes. I did. Do you know he's a most remarkable child."

Revelation, an Unwed. Fond Mama—Gracious! What's that noise in the nursery? Nurse (enfolding hurriedly)—The children, mum, have been playing automobile, mum. And Master Tommy has just taken a big fire-cracker and exploded it under the baby to make an automobile explosion, mum.—Brooklyn Life.

Suggests from Georgia. Trouble never comes to stay; but if he only stays ten minutes, it's just that much too long! It won't do to wait for the wagon. The wise man needs it half way down the road.

Pointed Paragraphs. You can't always tell—unless you are a woman.

Not Quite. "What a beautiful new public building," exclaimed the visitor, "and it's almost completed, isn't it?" "No," replied the citizen; "it looks like it is completed, but they haven't exceeded the appropriation yet."—Indianapolis Star.

Limitations of News Machinery. The irritable employer turned to his typist with a sudden snarl. "Why don't you write it just as I say it?" he demanded.

A SINGULAR BET

BY F. A. MITCHELL

Two men were conversing in a wing of the winter palace in St. Petersburg, the one the Grand Duke Nicholas, the other Captain Dmitri Warasoff of the Russian army. The Grand Duke was sitting behind an ebony desk, the captain was standing before him.

"Your treachery is an unpardonable sin," said Nicholas. "I have advanced your interests by attaching you to the Czar's staff, thus opening to you a career. You have repaid me by diabolical conspiracy against the master's life."

"I have the proof," said the captain, indignantly. "I have the proof."

"One of them is my friend. If I accused him, it might be wrongfully. I would rather go to Siberia than harm him if he is innocent."

"You will go to Siberia if you do not give me the name of the man?" "I will go to Siberia."

"The door opened, and a young man named Perot entered. "How fortunate," exclaimed the newcomer, "to find you two together. I have heard that Warasoff is in trouble, and I came to say to your imperial highness that my accusations against him are absurd."

"The capital is full of plotters," he said. "I believe an accusation for I am as likely to be accused as any one. Dismiss this matter from your mind, Nicholas. We three are intimate friends. None of us have long soon he may fall a victim to the intrigues. Therefore let us not be troubled over what of his remains to be done. Being out of some of that wine I take when we were last together and let us make merry."

"What's the matter, Dmitri?" cried Perot. "Isn't his highness wine good enough for you?" "I cannot drink under accusation."

"You're squeamish, man. We've ever troubles himself at being suspected or even accused in these days is in danger of nervous collapse. I'll make you a bet of one hundred rubles even if within thirty days I will be accused of some conspiracy. I'll make another bet of one hundred to one thousand rubles that within thirty days I go to Siberia and a third bet of one hundred to ten thousand rubles that I am executed."

If You Want Spring Clothes of Style and Quality, Call at Thoroughgood's.

A traveling salesman for a New York house was in Salisbury last week and by chance dropped in Lacy Thoroughgood's clothing store to buy a new hat. We had at least five thousand dollars worth of new Spring Clothing entered all over the store, we were just getting them in and marking them. The salesman took a look at them and said he never saw in his life such a fine lot of good clothes anywhere. He was utterly surprised to know we sold such fine clothes in Salisbury. He said that one half the stores in New York did not carry such fine clothing. We do handle fine clothing. We handle the very best make. We sell the best clothing manufactured in New York. We sell the best clothing made in Chicago. Rochester is noted all over the world for manufacturing fine clothing, we sell the best made there. The cheapest clothing we sell is made in Philadelphia by the best house in Philadelphia and this grade of goods is first class in every particular. We commenced this clothing business in Salisbury twenty years ago and commenced with good clothing, and if we stay in business twenty years more we will end with good clothing. When a man, especially a young man, wants the best, he never thinks of going to any body but Lacy Thoroughgood for it. We have every suit we sell made to order then sell it as a ready made suit at ready made prices. We are selling today suits worth $20 for $10; we are selling $25 suits for $12.50; we only ask $15 for suits worth $30 and for $12.50 we will give you a suit worth $16.50; our $10 suits are worth $15 anywhere else. We have a few suits for $8.50 but they are sold all over Salisbury for $12.50.

*if you want to avoid shoe trouble this spring, come here. Every man likes a neat, drowsy shoe, but it is difficult many times to combine style with comfort; the average man has neither time nor inclination to try on shoes for half an hour to find which pair hurts the least. To Clean Old Buildings. When an old building is torn down to make room for a modern up-to-date structure the contractors generally use the old brick in some manner on the new building. In order to make the old bricks of use the mortar and other accumulations adhering to the surface of the bricks must first be removed. This is invariably done by hand with hatchets, which very often bring the cost of the old bricks after this treatment up to that of the new bricks. This accounts for the reason why more of the old bricks are not used. To lessen this expense they have devised a plan by which machinery will take the place of hand cleaning. The machine is supported on a platform, the latter having an opening in the center to allow a brick-cleaning wheel to rotate on a shaft. This shaft is mounted upon bearing blocks secured to the sides of the platform and is operated by a belt and pulley. The cleaning wheel is formed of two disks, placed together side by side and connected by screws. A large number of small openings are formed through the disks, the inner ends of the openings where the two disks meet being countersunk. Nails are inserted into the openings, the nail heads fitting into the countersunk ends and the points projecting through the opposite sides of the disks. Guides are attached to the platform in line with the grinding wheel, the old brick can work open either side of the wheel or two operators may work, one upon each side.

Elaborate Modesty. It is the fashionable pose now to speak of your hundreds of dollars' gown, rich with real laces and embroideries, as "a rag of Doucet's," and not "it to be seen." A beautiful country house, abundantly supplied with servants and kept up with all possible luxury, is just "a little box" where "we do everything so simply!" La, la! Affectation and self-consciousness of the new rich are responsible for this amiability.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

GRANITE OR GRAVEL. (April 1, '06—(Matt. 7, 15-26.)

A few weeks ago at Haverstraw, N. Y., an awful disaster occurred. One dark night, while a furious storm was raging, the inhabitants were aroused by the noise of crashing timbers, the shrieks of human beings, the jar and tremble of the earth, and rushed into the streets to discover that a row of houses had disappeared into a gravel pit 100 feet deep. For years the laborers in that pit, like military sappers and miners had been undermining the place and the inevitable had happened. A landslide had occurred and almost without warning a score of human beings were caught in the debris of earth and stone and shattered buildings, and were either instantly crushed to death or slowly tortured out of existence by the fires which swept through the ruins. And it all came to pass because those houses were built upon the sand.

Off the coast of England lies a ledge of rock which every day is submerged by the flood tide of the sea. That rocky peril is right in the path of the commerce of the world, and many a vessel has been wrecked upon their jagged points. Many attempts were made to mark the spot in vain. Winstanley built a wooden lighthouse upon it 100 feet high, but a great storm swept it and its architect away. Rudeyard built another, 90 feet high, but it was consumed by fire. Smeaton constructed the next of stone dovetailed into the solid rock, but he weakened the foundation in its construction and it was thought best to make a new attempt in another location. Sir James Douglass in 1853 completed the famous Eddystone lighthouse which throws its light over those stormy waters for nearly 20 miles, and the startled waves roll against it in vain, for it is founded upon the rock.

In building operations the foundation is everything. The foundation of the government building in Philadelphia was allowed to remain for a whole year after being laid that it might have time to settle or disclose any defects, before a stone was laid for the superstructure. Many an otherwise beautiful edifice has been marred and disfigured because the foundation was poorly laid in the beginning. Castles in the air can be built of clouds, but walls to shelter human beings must be upheld with ponderous granite blocks.

And what is true of buildings is true of those who inhabit them. The world is full of damaged, scarred and twisted men who built their lives upon the sand. There was no granite of principle and character in their foundations. The whole substructure of their being was of the earth, earthy, and when the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew down came their house.

Such people have no capacity of resistance for they were not taught and disciplined in the rugged virtues in early life. Society is sometimes startled with the crashing into ruin of some hitherto respectable character, and is unable to account for it. But if careful investigation made it will be discovered that there was something wrong with the underpinning: Far back in youth there was some scamp work that went into the foundation, and when long years after the strain came on that point, it gave way and the whole structure collapsed in ruin.

The leaning tower of Pisa may be a curiosity, but as a specimen of architecture it is a monstrosity. So there are men who have about them many attractive qualities, whose personality is so conspicuously out of plumb, as to impress the beholder with what they lack more than with what they possess. They so emphatically sag that it is a conspicuous fault.

It may seem to the young men and women of to-day that it is old-fashioned to be so particular about foundation work. Those who insist upon laying deep and strong the substructure of physical, mental, and moral development, are counted as slow, out-of-date, behind the times. They suppose it to be possible to build a human life structure of wood and hay and stubble. Because the sun shines, and the sky is blue, and there are no evidences of a change of weather, optimistic youth sees no need of being so particular. A tropical summer house will do, a tent on the beach will be so romantic.

But the Man of Galilee knew what he was talking about when he said that every foundation will be tested. If it is possible to undermine it, it will be done. If it can be weakened there are plenty of foes to do it. Storms of trouble and fierce winds of temptation, and tempests of passion will hurl themselves against that structure as sure as life exists. It will be too late then to attend to the foundation work. The quicksand will wash out inevitably in that hour.

There can be no greater satisfaction than to feel the storms of life hurling themselves upon the house of the soul, while the individual smiles at the fury of the blast with the calm assurance that the foundation is immovably fixed upon rock. But in order to have that comfort at the last good work must be done at the first.

Consoling. "An' how's yer wife, Pat?" "Rise, she do be awful sick." "Is it dangerous she is?" "No; she's too weak 't be dangerous any more."—Exchange. Appreciative. JOHN H. PHELPS, Pharmacist, 250. per Box. JOHN H. PHELPS, PHARMACIST, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Your Night Caps were almost thrust upon me by a friend who evidently knows a thing or two. Shortly after the middle of last January I was in a state of almost complete nervous exhaustion, arising from excessive business stress, resulting in inability to sleep and mental depression. My physician for two months treated me, at a large expense, for nervous prostration, advised complete rest for an indefinite period. At that time, a vacation was impossible. Fortunately for me, I was then introduced to Night Caps. I immediately tried them. One-half a box seemed to brace my nerves within a week I could sleep. With sleep has come a return of normal health and I feel like myself again. I have recovered my normal weight. You may be very sure that I save keep Night Caps constantly on hand, particularly as an assistant in case of over-indulgence at table. If, at any time, you should deem it wise, or to your advantage, to refer anyone to me, do so. I will be very glad to write inquiries about it. I would advise, however, that you instruct them to enclose stamp for reply, for I have reasons to believe that I might find myself financially embarrassed if inquiries come from all who read your remedy. Kindly withhold this letter from publication. Believe me, Very truly yours, (Signed) HARRY W. CROSS.

H. T. Parsons, tailor, residing at 108 Water Street, says: "I had eczema or skin trouble on my left leg which annoyed me off and on for the past three or four years. It would come on from no apparent cause and just as mysteriously disappear only to reappear again about a week or two later, or sometimes a month or two. In warm weather or if I over-heated myself I was worse, and I happened to see an advertisement about Doan's Ointment which influenced me to go to White and Leonard's drug store for a box. A few applications stopped the itching for I used nothing else and it disappeared. What is of much more importance to me, at the present time, there is not a symptom of a recurrence."

That headache, those pains in the joints and muscles, that tired feeling, are all caused by poisons in the blood. ### MARDELA.

The cyclone has passed. All danger is over. Think with us have set down about like they were before the town, waiting. Incorporation seems to be an assured fact. If it is, we are satisfied, and if it is not, we propose to cry. Now the men are waiting for some new sensation. They are about run out of talk. All the old issues have been thrashed out so often that they fall to interest. Can't somebody start something new? Hurry up, call something new names, or do something! A whole lot of us got mad over the "Who will be the first to break down?" This will stir our blood and give us a live question to talk about. Think of the stillness of the stillness of eloquence. At the same time, we might take up the tax on dogs. I say that dogs ought to be taxed, and my reason for this is because I do not own any dogs; my neighbor does, and therefore his dogs are on his mind. But if they were on his mind, it would not be fair to tax them. Isn't this practically about the kind of reasoning one hears now? One man would tax them because they stole his beefsteak, another would tax them because he has no beefsteak to steal; another wouldn't tax them at all, because he doesn't believe in "Taxation without representation." He has heard this somewhere but he cannot just remember where.

Last Sunday was a bad day for church going, but those who heard the three sermons by the visiting ministers in the M. P. Church got enough food to strengthen their faith many a day.

The workmen are now engaged in extensive improvements to the interior of the Branch Hill Baptist Church. Some artistic work is being done. Pastor Parker reports that their new church at Athol is nearly completed, and best of all, it is nearly paid for. For a poor congregation to build and pay for a house costing over a thousand dollars, and all in less than a year is no easy task. This they have done without any flourishing of trumpets. Mr. P. will not permit the people to say that he has done this, but persists in giving credit to his noble band of workers, without whose help, the work could not have been one so accomplished.

We are now waiting to see and to hear the new preacher sent by the Conference to the M. E. Church, for the coming year. We hope that he will be a man to their liking. They are a good people and they need a good man to lead them into Spiritual things. The old adage "Like priest, like people" is still true. A congregation will catch the spirit of their minister. If he is spiritual, they are apt to be spiritual.

Hark! What are the frogs saying? Is it spring is coming, or has come? One day they seem to say "Spring is here" but the next day it is "Spring is near."

DELMAR.

J. Howard Ellis, who was severely injured on the railroad about seven months ago died Thursday afternoon at his home here. He was about 31 years of age and a popular young man. Funeral services will be held at the M. E. Church on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. O. B. George reopened her millinery store in the Freeny building this week with the spring styles.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Ruth Webster to Mr. Daniel B. White, and Miss Stella May Hitchens to Mr. John M. Elliott, both to be solemnized at the M. E. Church on April 11th at one thirty and eight o'clock respectively. Admission to the latter will be by card.

Mr. Arthur German left on Monday for Mechanicsville, Md., to take charge of a lumber mill. Several others are expected to follow in the near future.

The railroad crossing at Elizabeth Street, is to be opened. The railroad company has been awarded one cent damages.

Dr. E. T. Williams, Dentist, will be at Mrs. S. J. Brown's, in Delmar, every Tuesday. 4t.

Mr. F. A. Robertson who offered his resignation to the railroad company some weeks ago will be retained.

Post Master, Charles O. Tomlinson moved into the building of W. B. Elliott, corner Railroad Avenue and Grove Street on Thursday. The new office is handsomely fitted up. The panel work is of oak. The room is newly papered, additional lock boxes have been put in. It is lighted by electricity. The increasing posted business justifies these improvements and Mr. Tomlinson is to be congratulated on making them. Miss Susie Hastings is his efficient and popular assistant. Three rural routes are served from this office.

Increasing congregations and deepening of interest over last week's work marks the progress of the mission being held in the Baptist Church by Rev. R. C. Penney, Supt. of Baptist Missions. A notable feature of the Mission is the large number of men who attend, and for them a special meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock to which all men and boys are invited. The morning service at 10:30 will be as usual in the Baptist Church, but in the evening the congregations will unite in a Union Service in the M. E. Church at which Mr. Penney will speak to them on "The Illegitimacy of the Liquor Traffic." At this service, Mr. Penney will sing the beautiful solo, "Plains of Pesceo."
