IN NEWSY MARDELA.

Many Happenings By The Springs Ere The Summer Fades Away. Volunteer Fire Department Wanted.

The three congregations which worship in the old Presbyterian church building in this town, the Episcopal, under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Adkins; the Primitive Baptists, under the leadership of Elder Francis, and the Missionary Baptists, under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Parker, never come into conflict with each other. The services of each are frequently attended by the adherents of the others, and thus may brotherly love continue. We all feel grateful to our much esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. J. B. Armstrong for his kindness in giving us the use of the building. The old building is one of much loved landmarks of this place. It is like Zion of old, "beautiful for situation." The building is kept in repair by our citizens generally irrespective of denominational affiliations. Lately a new lamp has been placed on the grounds leading to the church.

We desire to begin a movement that will result in some kind of a "Fire Department." You remember that "The Advertiser" in the Mardele letters, for many long weeks urged some public spirited person to call a town meeting to secure lamps. But after considerable delay, at last the meeting was called. The lights are only one step in advance and we ought not to stop here. Some way of extinguishing fires is a matter of imperative necessity. This scribble is ready to contribute towards this plant. What do you say my fellow townsmen? Remember the old adage about looking the stable door—Should a fire occur, we have absolutely no way of fighting it. Let us commence by securing ladders and buckets and a place to house them. Who will call a meeting to consider the matter? It doesn't matter who gets the honor of doing this, just so the work is done. This certainly is a matter that should appeal to all of our citizens and to all alike.

Last week a trial took place in our town of a case of disorder at a camp meeting. Bad blood was stirred and angry words spoken, and all over a five cent case. When one is in the right, he can afford to keep his temper but when he is in the wrong he can't afford to give it away.

All our pastors have gotten back from their summer outings and occupied their churches on Sunday. They are now looking forward for a work of grace this fall and winter. Let there be a general rallying of forces and universal good will everywhere. Let each try to outstrip the other in consecration to the Master's cause.

Last week the writer of these letters was kicked on the knee by a real live mule and instead of limping away and saying words that are not in the Sunday School vocabulary, he called to mind what a humorous writer has written. "The mule is half horse and the horse half is the front half and the only real safe way to drive him is hindside first."

We are hearing much said just now about new methods of tracking and this is a very hopeful sign. Truckers are trying some experiments on their own hook. A gentleman who always sees the humorous side of things said, "I don't care how good old methods are, new ones are better, even if they are only just as good. That's not so Irish as it sounds."

Because of superior teaching ability, the Misses Owens of Mardele have each been requested to take their old schools this coming year. This speaks well for the young ladies of our town, and none stand higher in the esteem of the people than these two.

Why is it so hard for some people to take their minds? Is it because they have so much to make up? A gentleman the other day was explaining why he did not get married, until he had passed the meridian of life. He gave as his reason the great difficulty of making up his mind, and not because he did not want to get married. He said when his mind was once made up, the wedding came off right away for he soon found a lady who had her mind made up already upon the same subject. And now for the moral, can you guess it Mr. Bachelor?

We all feel very much disappointed this summer, in not having a Base Ball team. By another year we hope one will be organized.

Many persons are getting ready this week to enter Goldey College, the well known commercial college, of Wilmington, Del. The fall term begins next Monday. The catalogue will give you full information.

THE TERMS OF PEACE

Accepted By Oriental Warriors, Japan And Russia To Cease Bloody Slaughter, Agreement And Its Momentous Consequences.

The whole civilized world is rejoicing over the downfall of Mars in the Orient and the establishment of Peace between Russia and Japan, which was determined at Portsmouth, Mass., by the Plenipotentiaries of the two nations last Tuesday.

Conceded By Russia.

Protectorate over Korea, with all that this implies.
Evacuation of Manchuria, leaving Japan and China a clear field.

Cession to China and Japan of a section of the Eastern Chinese railroad beginning at Quanchoutze Station.

Cession to Japan of Port Arthur and Dalny.

Cession to Japan of rights in Liaotung peninsula.
Fishing rights on the Siberian coast. Commercial and military entrance in the mainland of Asia.

Conceded By Japan.

Its demand for a money indemnity to cover cost of war.

Its demand for the cession of Sakhalin, the compromise dividing the Island.

Its demand for the interned Russian warships.

Its demand that Russia hereafter limit its naval strength on the Pacific seaboard.

What Peace Means To The United States.

By the terms of the agreement it is said at Washington that this country will get an open door in Manchuria and Korea, and everything else contended for by the late Secretary Hay.

The treaty will be known as "The Treaty of Portsmouth," and preliminary steps have been taken to arrange an armistice.

In all European capitals, the opinion was expressed that the successful termination of the negotiations was due to President Roosevelt's persistency and statesmanship.

Limits Of The Terms.

The terms under which peace has been agreed to are limited to the logical accomplishments of the war. Japan wins at every point except that of exacting of Russia tribute such as is exacted of a thoroughly beaten foe.

The reason for this is that Russia still had a large and well equipped army in the field, and could have fought for years to come, and Japan realized that she was in the position before the world of coercing Russia to pay her money not because she had conquered her, but because of Russia's internal troubles.

Under the terms of the treaty to be signed and to be known as "The Treaty of Portsmouth," the preponderance of Japan in Korea is recognized by Russia and Japan will hold undisturbed sway over that country and practically make it a part of her empire. This was the immediate cause of the war. Russia gets a concession by which she will receive the "favored nation" treatment.

Russia evacuates Manchuria and abandons her dreams of extending her empire to the very doors of Japan.

Japan is also to withdraw from Manchuria, and in the treaty will be a pledge to observe the open door and the integrity of China. Manchuria was the main cause of the war, and Japan will have whatever privileges she can obtain from China, and those, it is believed, will not be difficult to obtain.

Japan becomes possessed of the Russian leases on the Liaotung peninsula, including the railroad, Port Arthur and Dalny.

All the concessions under which Russian influence was fastened on that peninsula will be transferred to Japan.

The Railroad Concession.

Japan also becomes possessed of the Eastern Chinese railroad from Port Arthur to a point called Quanchoutze, about 150 miles south of Harbin. This will, of course, necessitate an arrangement between Japan and China whereby the concession under which the Russians built the road will be transferred to Japan.

The agreement under which the road was built and operated was that China should buy the road back from Russia and the stockholders in 36 years from the date of opening traffic, on payment of the value of the stock and all the charges. If China did not buy back, then the road would revert to China in 90 years from the opening of the road. These concessions will now go to Japan. If a plan which has been much discussed for the transfer of the road to an international syndicate should be put into operation by Japan the Mikado's Government probably would reap a very large sum, which could be applied to the expenses of the war.

Japan also obtains fishing rights along the Siberian littoral which have been denied for many years and which will include the sealing privileges. This is a very valuable right.

—FOR SALE—Nice lot country home. E. A. Hearn, Salisbury, Md.

HAS USEFUL FUTURE

Outside Of Politics To Which The Negro Was Introduced And Initiated By Republican Party. The Argument.

In supporting the proposed amendment to the State Constitution and thereby proposing to eliminate the ignorant and illiterate negro vote in this State, the Democratic majority of the people do not mean to declare themselves in favor of the extinction of the negro race, even if such were possible, or to place themselves on record as enemies of the intelligent, useful and self respecting negro. The Democratic party is the real friend of the negro, while the Republican politicians are his enemies. The Democratic people of Maryland understand the character of the negro perfectly from long association. They wish him to remain in this State as a useful factor in our midst, as the better class of negroes have always shown themselves to be. The negroes in Maryland who have become owners of property and have bank accounts, and who have the respect and confidence of their own and the white race today, are those who have realized what they were best fitted for and have been only the "hewers of wood and drawers of water," but intelligent caterers, butlers, coachmen, janitors and porters—classes of workmen who get good wages, always find congenial employment and elevate themselves by faithful service to the highest plane of citizenship which it is possible for them to attain in this State. They can educate their children, provide their families with all necessary comforts and live in peace and happiness with their neighbors undisturbed.

But when the negro becomes imbued with the idea that the law of the land, by the grace of the Republican party, has made him the equal of the white man in every respect; when stirred by the inflammatory arguments of the Republican politicians, which inform him that the "low race prejudice" of the Southern Democrat is attempting to cheat him out of his rights under the Constitution of the United States; when he becomes a Republican politician and preached these doctrines to the people of his race, he is no longer a useful factor, but a menace to the peace and prosperity of the Commonwealth. When he prefers to buy or rent his home, not among the people of his own color and race, but in his misguided assumption of social equality, exerts the most earnest efforts to live "alongside the white people," he becomes a nuisance and a detriment to that he injures the value of property belonging to the white race, and naturally incurs their enmity and ill will.

The only way to remedy this evil is to enact the proposed amendment, and thereby "keep the negro in his place."

The negro in this State who consults his own best interests and wishes to succeed in making a good living for himself and his family and a good name among his fellows as well as the white race, does not meddle with politics. He soon perceives that it will work to his injury and detriment, and the wiser ones take no part in political campaigns, for they know they will only be made tools of by the corrupt Republican politicians, who use them for their own advantage, and that in the end they get no substantial reward for party service. For him the proposed constitutional amendment has no terrors, and his good sense tells him to keep out of politics for his own good.

The vicious, ignorant and illiterate negro who has not the good sense to take this view of the question it is the purpose and intention of the proposed amendment to disfranchise by all fair and legal means. Democrat.

CATARRH THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL CHRONIC DISEASES.

"Pe-ru-na is a Blessing to Those Troubled With Catarrh," Says United States Senator Corbin.

Ex-U.S. Senator

cannot help but add weight and importance to the thousands of testimonials from the humblest walks of life. Catarrh is the cause of at least one-half of the ill to which the human family is subject. Is there no way to escape from it? There is. Peruna never fails to cure a cold. Peruna cures catarrh in the first stage. Peruna cures catarrh in the second stage, nine cases out of ten. Peruna cures catarrh in its last and worst stages in the majority of cases, and never fails to benefit every case, however bad.

A book on the cure of throat and lung diseases, and catarrh in all stages and varieties, sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

"My Life Hung by a Mere Thread, Pe-ru-na Cured Me."
Mrs. Sarah Smart, 256 Hayward St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:
"I can't tell in words how low I was. My life hung by a mere thread. I was waiting for months to die."
"My trouble was consumption or bronchitis. I suffered a pain when I was low, but coughing and breathing kept sapping what little strength I had. I could not eat, sleep or even lean back on a chair. I was a mere skeleton. I said to my husband, 'I can't last much longer.' My neighbors say they do not know how I ever recovered. It was almost a miracle."
"I took your medicine but three months, when I could do my housework and washing, and have been doing it ever since. Now I am able to do anything. You would never think I had been troubled with such a serious illness. I shall always keep your medicine in my house."—Mrs. Sarah Smart.

Despaired of Recovery.
Mrs. R. L. Antlich, Vice President American Genealogical Association, 604 H street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:
"I know whereof I speak when I say that Peruna is a wonderful remedy for colds and catarrhal trouble. Last fall I was very much debilitated from the effect of a cold contracted early in the summer and which I neglected. I know that my system was in need of medicine and rest, but to find the right thing was the problem. Happily I gave Peruna a trial first and have no reason to complain of the results. Within a month I had entirely recovered my strength and good health and really felt better and stronger than before."—Mrs. R. L. Antlich.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Pennsylvania Railroad Maintains Schedule.

New York Tribune, August 1, 1905. During the month of July the Pennsylvania Special arrived in Chicago exactly on the minute of its schedule every day. The eastbound Pennsylvania Special arrived in New York on schedule time twenty three days. The average detention on seven days was less than ten minutes, due entirely to conditions for which the train crew would not be held responsible. The greatest breach in the schedule was on July 14, when the Special was held up behind a freight wreck, which blocked all four tracks on the Middle Division, entailing a loss of two hours and twenty two minutes in the regular arriving time at New York.

It is difficult to find a match for this record. It demonstrates that the schedule has sufficient elasticity to take up any ordinary detentions which may occur between termini, and that even a faster regular schedule may be made should it be deemed wise. The fine condition of the roadbed, the efficient motive power, and skillful operation, all contribute to the ease with which the Special accomplishes its work.

BABY'S AWFUL ITCHING ECZEMA

Sores All Over Face and Body— Could Not Tell What She Looked Like—Unable to Sleep—Grew Worse Under Doctors.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN ONE MONTH

A grateful mother, in the following letter, tells of another of those marvelous cures by Cuticura: "When my baby was four months old her skin broke out with a humor. I took her to a doctor, who said it was eczema. He gave me medicine to give her, but she kept getting worse all the time. Her little face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. Then it itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, first bathing her in warm water with the Soap, and then spreading on the Ointment with soft cloths. I saw a change in a week. The sores began to heal, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body. Any mother having children with eczema or humors will find a friend in Cuticura Soap and Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Mary Sanders, 709 Spring St., Camden, N. J., Aug. 14, 1904."

The foregoing statement justifies the oft-repeated assertion that Cuticura Soap and Ointment afford instant relief, and permit sleep for baby and rest for tired mothers, and points to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure, when all else fails, in the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusty, and pimply skin and scalp humors.

An Invitation For You.

I beg to state that I used Davis 100 per cent Pure Paint on my home four years ago, and it has given elegant satisfaction. At the same time my home was painted there were several other houses painted from several manufacturers' best paint. I can cheerfully recommend this paint and if any one wants to see what Davis Paint has done for me, come around and see the contrast between my house and the others that were painted at the same time.

The late Thomas Goldwell, the inventor of the lawn mower, was a great admirer of witty and alert persons. At a dinner in New York Mr. Goldwell said of a famous millionaire: "This man, through hard luck, once had to work as a butler. He made an excellent butler. Let me give you an instance of the sort of work he did. "His mistress was giving a dinner party of twelve covers on a certain evening. One of the courses consisted of scalloped oysters in silver shells. The set of silver shells was broken—there were only eleven. The mistress therefore, told the butler that she would not eat any oysters, and thus there would be just enough to go around.

"The butler when the oyster course came, placed before the lady one of the shells. To his horror she did not decline it. Calmly she left it rest before her. If she started to eat it, one guest would be short of oysters. What was the matter with her anyway. "The butler watched her nervously. She took up her fork. She was actually about to plunge it into the dainty shell. Then the man, ever alert and ready, flew to her side, and bent over her respectfully.

"Pardon me, madam," he murmured "but you said I was to remind you that the doctor forbade your eating oysters on any account!"

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most fatal, and becoming so deep-seated that it is a life. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

What Does It Mean to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the

On The Seashore.

By Charles McIlvaine.
When one stands on the shore at Atlantic City or anywhere on the eastern shore of the United States and looks east, toward where the sun rises, no land is in sight; nothing can be seen but water and waves, sea birds sailing or steam driven vessels. From this grand body of water things are constantly being thrown upon the shore by the waves, and there are a great many most interesting animals which live in the sands of the beach and nowhere else.

The pebbles of all colors are pieces from rocks under the sea or from those which have fallen into it from the shore. These pieces have been rolled about on the sea bottom, have been dashed against each other and against the shore, until their corners are ground off and they are round and smooth. Many of the pieces are ground into sand. The ocean's mill is a big one.

The shellfish and sea shells live in the ocean in countless numbers. Sometimes they are thrown on the beach alive; often the shell of those which have died are carried ashore by the waves. Frequently these are broken and the pieces are ground smooth. That part of them which looks like pearl, and is pearl, being hardest, is the last to be ground. This is why nearly all beach shells have the pearl luster. Many of them are bored full of little holes. These are made largely by a small which has a long tongue, like a ribbon, set with fine teeth, some times as many as 600 of them. This toothed tongue cuts the shell, and the animal that lives inside of it is eaten.

The sea has its own vegetable growths as well as the land. They are often called seaweeds. Most of them are mosses. One of the most beautiful collections I have ever seen was of the pressed and dried sea mosses found on the seacoast of California. No feathers or laces could be more delicate. These growths are the Algae, meaning seaweeds. They are found in both salt and fresh water. They live by taking, absorbing, their food through their surfaces. Irish moss is a sea delicacy which is made into candy. Fine glue is made from the gelatine found in several of the seaweeds. Iodine is made from others.

The animal life of the seashore is the most interesting to a great number. Quite a common shell is that of the Pear conch. It is a snail. All the conches are snails. When alive they burrow in the sand. Most of the conch shells found are six or seven inches long. I have one nearly two feet in length. The egg cases of the Pear conch are plentiful. They are the queer looking strings of odd shaped parchment like plates found lying on the sand. If one is carefully sliced open, the very small young conches may be found inside. At the small end of the string a pebble or piece of shell is usually fixed. This is the anchor the snail used to fasten its eggs to the sea bottom or some other firm place.

The whelk belongs north of Boston, yet its shells are frequently found farther down the coast, but worn by being washed so far from home. It, too is a snail. Codfish are found of it. So are the people of England. They eat about one hundred thousand dollars worth of whelks each year.

Off from the seashore where the tide pools lay, several shells less than an inch long are found. Some of these are relations of the true whelk and are called dog whelks. They live on living and dead animal matter, boring the shells of other animals to get their food. Nearly every cast away shell of the dog whelk has a tenant. The hermit crab keeps house in it and pays no rent.

The little round mouthed snail—the periwinkle—clings to the post, seaweeds, marsh grasses, just where salt water will wash and give it drink, without taking away its breath by too long a ducking. Periwinkles are good to eat when picked out. When I was an army officer, during the great Civil War, and was stationed on our coast, I had many a good meal of them. Most of the soldiers turned up their noses at the idea of eating "snails," as they called them, which was all the better for me. Over two thousand bushels a week are sold in the English markets during the height of the periwinkle season from March to August. The periwinkle is a vegetable eater.

I skip the common clam and oyster, though they are interesting to know about. The soft shelled clam—the mannosie—has a shell so thin that it breaks unless handled very carefully. It looks a good deal like the common fresh water mussel. Low down on the sand bars at the mouths of creeks and inlets, where the water seldom leaves the sand long enough for it to dry, lives the mannosie—a foot under ground. It has a long extension from the back part of its body, which it raises up to the surface through a tube in the sand. This tube is made by the slime of the clam's extension sticking the grains of sand together. In this long extension are two tubes—siphons they are called. The clam runs up its extension, draws the water, which contains all the food it gets, down one tube and forces it out the other. It has a perpetual restaurant passing through its stomach all the time. As you get near it, or when you strike on the sand, it draws in the tube quickly. This forces the water out of it, which makes the squirt into the air, often seen. I often shoulder a spade and go down on the fine beach in front of where I live, and dig for mannosie, when I see that the tide is low enough. The mannosie is delicious. If you get a mannosie, without breaking its shell, place it in a pan of salt water and you will see it run out its extension.

The oyster, clam, mussel, and mannosie are called bivalves—bi meaning two, because they have a shell on each side, opening on a hinge. The shells are called valves; hence the name bivalve—two valve.

Some of the shell animals are powerful borers. They bore holes in the hardest rocks. Pieces of wood, bored so as to leave the wood looking like a sponge, are common on the beach. This boring is done by the Torpedo or ship worm. It is not a worm but a shell fish. It destroys timber, which it can get at, in a very short time. It has been known to bore through thick wharf supports in less than eight weeks.

The scallop shell is very common. It looks like a little spread fan, without a handle, except in that it is scooped, and is scalloped on the outside. When there are small comb like teeth on the hinges, which lock the two shells when closed, they belong to the Arks. The long, narrow shell, looking a little like a razor blade, belongs to the razor fish. It lives from two to three feet under the sand. Like the mannosie, it has a long siphon to get its food by. Strange to say, it can see with this siphon, which is in the place for a tail.

The lumps of clear jelly—the jelly fish—which looks as if they ought to be eaten with a spoon are beautiful when floating about in the water. The jelly fish is a very singular animal. It grows by budding. When in bathing, if one is struck upon the body by the jelly fish, sharp stings are felt, which burn for a long time. In August, when I look down from my high bank into the clear Choptank waters, and see hundreds of jelly fish swinging their long tassels beneath the waves, do not go in bathing. The little jelly fish is my master.—From The Sunday School Times, Cambridge, Md.

Haman's Statement.
In a letter to the Denton Journal, Caroline County, Md., published July 15, Mr. B. Howard Haman writes as follows:
The Journal asks me for a brief statement of the purposes and reasonable expectations of the Haman bill.

The main purpose of the friends of this bill is to arrest the decline of all branches of the oyster industry of Maryland, before the business is destroyed and the oystermen driven out of employment. The impending ruin of this—the greatest industry of our State—can be prevented only if it is possible to increase the supply of oysters. Experience has shown that the natural beds never suffice for the needs of a community. The Haman bill provides for the marking out of the natural beds, and leaves these to the oystermen, as at present, to be used as "common of fishery". The barren bottoms are then to be leased to individuals—not corporations, which are expressly excluded—in small tracts, for a term of twenty years, in the manner provided for in the bill. To insure a just demarcation of the beds I have twice asked for the use of a United States vessel for this purpose, and the Government each time granted the use of such a vessel free of charge, but Maryland, through its representatives, twice refused the valuable gift.

"The reasonable expectations" of the friends of oyster culture, through the United States local inspectors have been examining the numerous power yachts which carry passengers to the fishing banks from New Jersey coast resorts and have found gross violations of the United States inspection regulations. The inspectors propose to secure greater safety of those patronizing this particular class of vessels. A Government officer has begun measuring the entire fleet of gasoline and other power craft. It is claimed that the customs officers in charge of this particular district have been negligent in not looking after the overcrowded condition of vessels which have no right to carry passengers at all.

THE IDEAL WIFE
Shapes the Destiny of Men—The Influence of a Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.
Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes—because she has the qualities which inspire admiration, respect and love. The ideal wife is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even the thrones have been established and destroyed. What a disappointment, then, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a vegetable compound! A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home, and a drag upon her husband. The cost of a wife's constant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doctoring does no good. If a woman finds her energies are flagging, and that everything tires her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sleep is disturbed by horrible dreams, if she has headache, nervousness, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities, or despondency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health. Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley of 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash., writes:

The introduction of a system such as is proposed, are: "1. The arrest of the present process of decay in the oyster business. The Northern States waited until the last oysterman was gone and all the beds depleted before they began to reconstruct the oyster industry. What loss in money, what human misery may be prevented, if we are wise enough to awaken from our sleep even at this late day.

"2. A uniform system of law. Read the provisions of the proposed law and compare them with the Worcester county law, the various chaotic 'five-acre' laws, the Patuxent river law, which, unfortunately, was passed by the last Legislature. Is it not better for the welfare of the State and the prosperity of its citizen that a vast domain, like the bottom of the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries, should be administered by public officials of the State under a general system of law, operating equally upon all the citizen of the State. What is the alternative? A legal crazy quilt, patched together with different laws for the different tidewater counties, all of them crab laws, keeping everything for these counties and giving nothing to the State.

"3. A great revenue to the State. We have now a deficit from the oyster fund. We can get $800,000 a year for our roads within 10 years from the passage of these oyster and road bills. The maximum rental of oyster lands provided in my bill is one-half of the minimum reserved in the Rhode Island leases. My maximum rental is $5 per acre. Suppose there were a uniform rental of $3 per acre against Rhode Island's minimum of 100 per acre for lands under 15 feet of water or less. This uniform rate of $3 per acre is low enough, as an acre of good oyster land will produce from 500 to 2,000 bushels a year. How many acres of oyster land will be probably taken up within 10 years from the enactment of a practical oyster law. The lowest estimate can demonstrate to any audience in Caroline county, in the presence of any opponent, that the oyster and good roads bills which bear my name, if passed and properly administered should produce a net revenue for the roads of this State of more than $500,000 per annum.

"This great cause has received no assistance from Caroline county members of the Legislature. It is too much to hope that the coming Senate and House of Delegates may each contain a man, earnest enough to study the oyster question and able to present to the Legislature the results of his investigation? There is a State reputation waiting for such a man.

Yours very respectfully,
"B. Howard Haman."

WHEREAS, at the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four, two bills were passed, one proposing an amendment to Section 1 of Article I of the Constitution of the State, and the other proposing an amendment to Section 3 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State, which said bills are in the words following, to wit:

AN ACT to amend Section 1 of Article I of the Constitution of this State and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.
SECTION 1. NEEDED—TO BETTER CONDITIONS. Republican opposition to the Suffrage Amendment, eliminating the negro vote in the State of Maryland seems to be discouraged. It certainly has lost much of its strength and vim. Few, if any, Democrats have been found sufficiently renegade to turn their backs on an adopted party measure.

Favors the Amendment. Ex Gov. Brown, who is just returned from Europe says of the Amendment: "As you know," he said, "I was a sort of pioneer on this question here in Maryland, and I am as strong in my belief now that the principle of negro suffrage is wrong as I ever was. I propose to vote for and support the amendment this fall, although I don't know that I will take any part in the campaign."

"They Would Be Too Old." "There is nothing either in the alleged fear that the amendment will result in the permanent control of the politics of the State by a certain ring or clique of persons. If people only stop to consider they will realize that most of the persons they pretend to fear will be too old to take any active interest in politics in a few years. On the other hand, should the amendment be defeated it may mean that the Democratic ticket will also be defeated and that the Legislature will be in the hands of the Republicans. This would mean a demoralized Democratic party and the probable continuance in power of the Republicans for a number of years. There is danger enough in this prospect, I should think, to make some of these Democrats who are opposing the amendment stop and consider."

Fulton and Miss Elizabeth Collier for Salisbury, and the Misses Davis for Cambridge. Sets, 6-0, 7-5. The mixed doubles were played by Miss Nancy Davis and Mr. Sewell Johnson for Cambridge; Mrs. E. C. Wise, Miss Elizabeth Collier, Messrs. E. C. Fulton and J. R. White. They were entertained by the Ladies Tennis Club of Cambridge on a large ball the evening.

Wyand, a member of the faculty of Maryland School for the deaf, Frederick, was at the Peninsula Hotel, Thursday looking for deaf children of school age, but failed to locate more than one in this county, that one being at Bivalve. Mr. Wyand is deaf, is a graduate of the State School, and President of two of the Deaf Organizations of the state. He is traveling mostly because it is the desire of the educated deaf that every deaf child be given all the possible advantages obtaining an education. Mr. Wyand says there are at least ten deaf children of school age in this county and if not the county was not up to the average. It is an extremely difficult matter to locate such children, therefore persons knowing of them should report them to the State School at Frederick, that they may be allowed to enjoy the benefits of the liberal provision made by the State. Mr. Wyand has found several on the Eastern Shore and has enrolled them. —Dr. and Mrs. Loui. N. Wilson and Miss Helen Scott Payne have returned from Atlantic City and are at Mardela Springs, Md., for September.

We have acquired the building and the entire stock of the Chas. Simon's Sons Co., 208 North Howard Street—next door to us.

This is not news to most of you—the papers told of the acquisition at the time it was made—some weeks ago.

The Simon business is the oldest retail dry goods business in Baltimore. It has an honorable past of 90 years—three generations.

It has always been a high-grade business—never an element of the sensational or the shoddy has entered into it.

By reason of the decision of the members of the firm of the Chas. Simon's Sons Co. to retire from business, there are opportunities to buy the fine goods for which the store is famous at much less than former prices.

Every course of action that has earned for The Chas. Simon's Sons Co. the goodwill and respect of the public will be continued for time to come; every tradition that has endeared the store to its patrons will be preserved.

The sale will continue until the entire stock is sold—possibly a month.

BEES AND BEE KEEPING. "GIANT BEES" OF INDIA.

Imported into this country for the first time—Very Ferocious. Various races of the honey-getting bees will be kept by the Government at Washington for experimental purposes, among them one or more colonies of the so-called "giant bees" of India, which specially and for the first time will be imported into this country.

These giant bees, one species of which is found in the Philippines, are much larger than the little honey-getters to which we are accustomed. They are plentiful in India, and though they have never been domesticated, enormous quantities of their combs are collected, chiefly for wax, which is an article of considerable export from that country. One may see tons of it stored in warehouses at Calcutta and other seaports.

The bee-hunter in India wears a clothing except a breech cloth, and lacking a bee-veil or other protection, he uses a stratagem. Having located a comb, he climbs the tree—or perches on a lofty ledge of rock from which the comb hangs—and holds a long stick with a bunch of ignited leaves on the end of it in such a way that the smoke will drive out the bees. The latter rise in a cloud into the air above the comb, while the robber cuts it away and lowers it to the ground gently with the help of a rope.

Notwithstanding the supposed ferocity of these giant bees, there is no doubt that they can be handled easily and safely by persons who understand the business. How far they may be successful in domesticating them is to be ascertained, but in any event if introduced in our semi-tropical regions, they would furnish considerable crops of the finest and most valuable wax. The drones, or males, strange to say, are no larger than ordinary bees, and it is likely that they would mate with the females of species already acclimated here, producing new and useful varieties.

One important reason why it is desired to introduce these bees from India is that they have much longer tongues than our bees, and so could get honey from many kinds of flowers which, like redclover, have corolla tubes so deep that most of their sweets are beyond the reach of the species now domesticated in the United States. If this nectar, which now goes to waste, can be gathered by the imported insects, it is so much extra gain. The subject is one in which all bee-keepers, whose industry is one of great importance in this country, have good reason to be keenly interested.

The station on the Arlington Farm will be a breeding station for various races of bees. Queen bees of Caucasian, Cyprian, Dalmatian, Italian and Carpathian races will be specially imported for propagating purposes, with a view to the improvement of varieties. Within the last few years science has taken up the business of improving the honey bee, particularly in respect to its capacity for honey-gathering, though also in relation to gentleness of temper (an important point to the bee-keeper), and bees of various stocks have been brought from abroad and crossed with those on this side of the water.

It is a curious fact, not widely realized perhaps, that there were no bees in America until the seventeenth century, when they were brought from Germany. These first importations were of the common, black variety, now found all over the United States, which are so fierce as to be difficult to handle and control. At the present time bee-keepers select their bees carefully as farmers do cattle, each stock having its special merits. The Cyprians (from the island of Cyprus) are wonderful honey-getters, but somewhat irritable. The Italian bees are exceedingly docile and prolific.—Sunday Magazine.

Spraying for both insect enemies and fungous diseases is a part of the fruit business. If one does not intend to post himself on how to combat these foes, he would better not attempt fruit growing.—Farmer's Voice.

LIVE STOCK FEEDING OF SHEEP.

Lambs Raised on Cow's Milk Thrive Never fed timothy hay where it can be helped; it is too dry, coarse and woody for sheep, says Farmer's Voice. Besides, the heads of timothy tend to collect in the wool about the neck of the sheep, spoiling the fleece to some extent for sale purposes. The sparing of such grains as corn, barley, rye or oat meal in excess. These grains are too fattening; besides, they tend to cause sheep to lose their wool before shearing time.

"Two or three weeks before lambing time increase the grain ration to about three-quarters of a pound in order to encourage a large milk flow. Feed lightly on grain for two or three days after lambing. Never under any circumstances let a ewe lamb in among the flock. When this is permitted and twins are born, the first born wanders away and becomes mixed with the flock before the mother has had a chance to own it, and the chances are that later she will refuse to have anything to do with it.

"Sheep that have abundance of wool about the udder should be trimmed so that the lamb will have no difficulty in finding the teat. Do not trim so much as to expose the udder unnecessarily and run the chance of having the sheep take cold. Lambs can be raised by hand upon cow's milk. Feed every 2 or 3 hours at first until the lamb is a few days old. The secret of raising lambs by hand lies in feeding often and only a small quantity at a time. Of course, see that the milk is heated to the proper temperature—about 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

Cross-Breeding. The danger in cross-breeding animals is pretty well known, and yet a good many persons venture on such breeding. In a recent discussion on the subject at the American Breeders' association meeting, Prof. Castle, of Harvard University uttered the following warnings: "Cross-breeding is a two-edged sword which must be handled carefully.

"If modification of characters is desirable at the same time as new combinations, then cross-breeding becomes doubly advantageous. "Since cross-breeding is likely to modify characters, and even when these conform to the laws of alternative inheritance, and is certain to modify them when they give blended inheritance, it should be practiced with extreme caution, and only by the breeder who has a definite end in view and a fairly clear idea of how he is going to attain it."

A New Fatal Disease. A new disease has fastened its death grip upon horses around Stockton, California, which has characteristics of its own but is yet to be named. The first cases noticed occurred in Stockton and since then horses all over the adjacent country have fallen victims to the deadly ailment. The immediate effect is paralysis of the throat. When the animal first feels the clutches of the sickness a slight discharge occurs from the head, similar to ordinary distemper. The next condition is that of paralysis of the vocal chords and the glottis. It soon becomes impossible for the horse to breathe and it finally chooses to die. A peculiar thing about the affliction is that there is no swelling in the neck or throat. In fact, the throat is inclined to dry away.

Scours in Calves. One of the greatest difficulties to overcome is scours in the early calf. Some remedy should always be on hand to head off this trouble. It is quite easy to prepare a castor oil emulsion for this purpose, containing a small quantity of pepsin, giving a teaspoonful every day. Should the scour become chronic more powerful astringents are required, which if given judiciously, will aggravate the disease they are given to cure. Prepare chalk, one ounce; powdered calomel, one ounce; powdered ginger, one ounce; pepper mint water, one part. Give two to four teaspoonfuls meat and morning. Fresh burnt and powdered charcoal is also another remedy, and we cannot do better than to recommend to give very young calves a whifflessful of lime water with the milk, when hand feeding.—Field and Farm.

Silage as Feed. A feeding test of the Kansas Experiment Station in feeding steers it was found at the end of the 182 days feeding that the steers fed on silage had made an average gain of 41.5 pounds, while the other steers made an average gain of 117.9 pounds. The gain required to produce a hundred pound gain upon the silage fed steers was 715 pounds, while others required 735 pounds.

Lettuce Growing. Considerable profits may be realized from growing lettuce for a nearby market when one can produce solid heads of a large size. If the location is near a small town it will hardly pay to give much more space to lettuce than is required to produce enough for home use. The Giant Glacier is one of the most promising of the newer sorts I have tested.

Most stockmasters consider that their profit must come from the lambs and that the wool should cover all expenses. It is therefore highly recommended to have everything in readiness for the lambing season.

Pearl Fishing in Ceylon. The use of the X-rays has proved a valuable adjunct to pearl fishing on the coast of Ceylon. By this application it is possible to discriminate between valuable oysters and those containing no pearls. Oysters useless for commercial purposes are thrown back into the sea.

It is easier for a married man to pack his trunk than it is for a bachelor—because he has less to pack. The fool never puts off until tomorrow what he shouldn't do at all.

Striving to Comfort Him. Fr. Ducey is laughingly relating a recent experience of his. He was walking along 4th av., when he saw a little boy crying. As he stopped to enquire the cause of the tears he was forestalled by a small girl, who asked, sympathetically: "What ails you, boy? Why are you crying so hard?" "Because mother's gone to heaven," sobbed the child. "O, don't fret so," replied the priest consolingly: "maybe she hasn't."—New York Times.

His Title There. "My wife and I are going to spend the summer with her people at Strong's Corners," said the meek, little man, "and I want you to mail my paper to me." "Yes," said the clerk, "what's your name?" "Well—er—to make sure, I guess you'd better address it 'Mary Strong's husband, Strong's Corners.'"—Philadelphia Press.

Two Turn-Downs. "I voted for you," said Grapher, "and now I'm looking for a job. What are you going to do for me?" "I told you plainly last week I couldn't do anything," said the successful candidate. "But, see here! One good turn deserves another." "Yes, so does one good turn-down. Here's the other. Good-day."—Catholic Standard and Times.

BLOOD WILL TELL.

It takes lots of vitality, nervous force and strength to win a race. Blood must be pure and good. Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in men and young women, and all those who work indoors, who do not get enough good oxygen in their lungs, consequently have too many white blood corpuscles.

Keep the nervous system, the heart strong, the blood cool, the stomach vigorous, the liver active with a tonic which has stood the test of time and has a wide reputation, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Tonics consisting of large portions of alcohol, iron or cod liver oil, do not bring the desired changes in the blood, because they do not enter the system and are not absorbed into the blood, with the exception of the alcohol, which survives up to the red blood corpuscles when it does come in contact with them. Therefore do not allow the dealer to insult your intelligence by telling you he has something better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

WILL CURE any case of KIDNEY OR BLADDER DISEASE that is not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more.

WAS GIVEN UP TO DIE. B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol Digests What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure. Bottles only $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c. Prepared by E. O. DeWitt & Co., CHICAGO.

Constipation makes biliousness and bad complexion. Keep the system in good condition by taking RAMON'S LIVER PILLS AND TONIC PELLETS which act gently and eliminate the poison from your system. Try One To-night. MONEY BACK if not satisfied. 50c at any Dealer's.

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair

TIME IS MONEY, THESE DAYS. And The Telephone Will Help You In The Saving Of Both.

It is an acknowledged fact, especially among men actually engaged in business, that time is money. Consequently time saved is money earned.

If you are not satisfied that a telephone in your place of business will save you time and money, the next time you are thinking of taking a business trip just stop and consider whether or not a talk in your own office would answer the purpose better, and then count up the railroad fare and hotel bills you would have, incidentally adding in the value of the time saved in the transaction.

It makes no difference whether the distance is 1,000 feet or 1,000 miles, we will bring your party to you in a very few minutes. Our long distance connections extend everywhere and our toll charges are extremely moderate. Let us bring New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, etc., right into your place of business and we will guarantee you a saving of both time and money.

Then again, consider the value of a telephone for local calls. Do you realize that the telephone of today is the main channel through which the business of Salisbury is conducted?

Your lawyer, your doctor, your bank, the railroad stations, the City Hall and Fire Department and your business associates—they are all at your command and you need not leave your business for a moment to talk with any one of them. When they have thus made themselves convenient to your call and you can hardly expect them to lose time by coming to see you when they want something in your line.

Your competitor is of the opinion that this service is worth $25.00 a year and you can have it at the same price. Call Contract Department, Diamond State Telephone Company.

DELMAR.

Letter To F. C. Todd. Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir: A great many people will see your house the course of the next ten years. We want it to show what Devco lead and zinc will do. We should like you to paint it, and then not paint it again for ten years—unless it needs repainting.

We'd like such a sample as that in every town in the country—with a notice about it in the local paper; "Mr.—'s house was painted ten years ago with Devco lead and zinc, and has never been repainted. The color is not so bright as it was; but the paint is as perfect a coat as ever to keep out water."

A good lead and oil job is expected to last three years; it is a good one. Devco lead and zinc last twice as long, if not—

"If you have any fault to find with this paint, either now in putting it on, or hereafter in the wear, tell your dealer about it."

"We authorize him to do right as our expense."

We want your house as a sample and you as a witness. Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co. The L. W. Gandy Co., sells our paint.

BY THE SPRINGS.

Happenings in and Near Mardela, Riverton and Delmar. Building Boom Struck The Town.

Mrs. Dr. Freony and her infant son, John, are visiting Mrs. Elderdice, her mother. Mabel as she is more familiarly called has a whole host of friends in this community and of course they are all interested in the bright little baby. No doubt he will be a Doctor, for his father, grand father and Uncle John are Doctors. Perhaps the first music that ever greeted this infant's ears was the rattle of the pill box. He is surely interesting little baby and the parents can be pardoned for feeling proud of him.

If we mistake not, we have a young boy in our midst who bids fair to be a great base ball player. For a boy, he throws a ball with great swiftness and precision. His name is Wilson Bounds.

It seems a shame for strong men and professing Christians at that, to torment the aged and infirm and weak minded boys, until they are so angered that they give vent to wicked oaths. Now the question is, who is responsible for those oaths and for the blows that were struck in anger; the Christians who would not swear, or the unfortunate ones who perhaps know no better? It reminds me of the colored man down South, who said in the class meeting, "My brothering and sistering, you know, and I know that I ain't been what I oughter been. I've robbed hen rooste, told wee fibs, drunk too much hard cider, and cursed just a little, but I feel thankful that there's just one thing Ies neber done. I ant' done gone and losed my religion." Have these men lost their religion, or did they ever have any to lose?

As we are nearing the sticky season, when fevers may be expected, how essential that all weeds should be cut and raked up before they decay. The razeweed this rainy season is especially abundant. A few dollars spent now in cleaning up our streets, yards and gardens might save us from an endemic of typhoid fever. See to it that the drains leading from the pumps are clean. Use lime freely in all such places. Do not permit any vegetable matter to decay in our dwellings or outbuildings. Too much care cannot be taken in these matters.

Mr. Herman Robertson, our very accommodating liverman seems to be doing a good business. He understands the business. Teams can be had at short notice and at reasonable prices. Mardela is proud of her boys and glad when they settle right here in this home town. Mr. Robertson's family is an old and much respected family in these parts.

The man who uses wise economy and is industrious, there is no reason why he cannot succeed as well in this section of the country as elsewhere. But this question of economy may be overworked. It reminds one of the thin man whose wife always made him buy a suit of clothes entirely too large. Then she would make them over into two suits for him. She thus got two suits for the price of one.

A building boom seems to have struck our town. Mr. Albert Bounds is building a house for Mrs. Lizzie Bounds and Mr. Jack English is doing the mason work. Mr. Samuel Bennett is erecting a house for the Misses Phillips. These two houses are nearing completion. Two more will be erected soon. One for Mr. A. S. Venables and the other for Mr. W. A. Ramey. We have not learned who the builder will be, but think Mr. Andrew Armstrong will erect one of these houses and perhaps both of them. We have learned that Fire Insurance is much higher in our town because we have no cause of extinguishing fires. This surely is a material argument in favor of some kind of apparatus with which to fight fires. Why do our property owners wait so long before moving in this direction? Other towns on the Eastern Shore have suffered great losses by fire and ours may do the same unless we provide against it.

Rev. B. G. Parker will on Sunday preach in the Presbyterian church at 3.30 p. m. His subject will be "The Son that was lame in his feet and some lessons from his life."

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Suggestions For Children's Clothes: School Apparel; Hints For Remodeling; Footwear.

With the opening of the Fall school term the problem of the children's outfitting becomes once more of vital interest to every mother. How to remodel the leftover wardrobe so that it will look presentable and fresh, and what to buy in new materials and garments that will be practical and in good taste. All this must be accomplished without oversteering the limits set for judicious expenditure.

Remodelling.

The various styles of suspender frocks lend themselves especially well to remodelling. Last year's waist though badly worn will easily supply the material for the suspenders, especially as any piecing necessary can be hidden by braid or velvet ribbon trimmings and by fancy buttons that are lavishly employed on some of the newest modes shown at the up to date places in New York. For lengthening the skirt various expenditures are employed, bands of contrasting material overlaid with braid may be used or if some of the original pattern is in hand, tucks may be modishly used as a trimming and the piecing done underneath them.

Contrasting Materials And Colors.

There the suspender frock is of plain material the waist is often of plaid and always in contrasting effect. Plaids are also modishly employed for the dresses and then plaid colored materials are used for the waist. Several different waists are worn with the same skirt, washable cottons, and silk or heavier wools for colder weather.

Fashionable Fabrics.

Serges, Henriettas and cashmeres lend in fashionable fabrics for the children as they do for the grown ups with mohair quite as useful as ever, and in weaves so different from the old time ones that it is not recognizable except to the initiated. Children's apparel of all sorts gets the hardest kind of wear and should be chosen with this fact in mind. Materials should be of good quality and colors selected should be such as will stand washing or exposure to the sun or rain. Among the most satisfactory fabrics for children's use are the Cravannes.

Thanks are due the McCall Co. for illustrations of children's styles.

Footwear.

One of the most important points both for the sake of appearance and of comfort is the dressing of the feet. Shoes must be not only smart looking but should be built on orthopedic

Catarrh and Catarrhal Diseases Make Invalids of More Women Than All Other Ailments Combined.

Suffered Long With Catarrh.

Miss Clara Case, 719 9th street, N. W., Washington, D. O., writes: "I can think of no event in my life that fills me with more gratitude and as the same time a sense of future security, as a cure after long suffering from catarrh, brought about by using Peruna as directed. It has completely cured me."—Clara Case.

Entire System Toned by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Mary Bennett, 1619 Addison Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "A few months ago I contracted a cold by getting my feet wet, and although I used the usual remedies I could not shake it off.

"I finally took Peruna. In a week I was better. After several weeks I succeeded in ridding myself of any trace of a cold, and besides the medicine had toned up my system so that I felt splendid."—Mary Bennett.

Physicians Had Given Up the Case—Now Entirely Well.

Miss Gertrude Linford, Vice President Parkside Whist Club and teacher of Whist, 281 Niagara street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "Peruna has effectually cured me after physicians had practically given up my case.

"For a long time I suffered with catarrh of the kidneys, had a weakness and pain in the back, lost flesh rapidly, my feet were swollen, my face was puffed under the eyes and I had a waxy sallowness of the skin.

"I took Peruna for some time and am entirely well. I cannot endorse Peruna too strongly."—Gertrude Linford.

Miss Nalley's Story—Short, But Interesting to Every Woman.

Miss Addie Nalley, 137 D street, S. E., Washington, D. C., writes: "A cough, the grip, catarrh of the most kind—all sorts of remedies, home, patent and prescribed by doctors, and no relief,—that tells my story, a story of suffering and distress that lasted four years.

"Then—three bottles of Peruna—catarrh gone, appetite and strength returned—a happy woman, and none more grateful for the blessing of health—that is what Peruna has done for me."—Addie Nalley.

Pennsylvania Railroad Maintains Schedule.

New York Tribune, August 1, 1905.

During the month of July the Pennsylvania Special arrived in Chicago exactly on the minute of its schedule every day. The eastbound Pennsylvania Special arrived in New York on schedule time twenty three days. The average detention on seven days was less than ten minutes, due entirely to conditions for which the train crew would not be held responsible. The greatest breach in the schedule was on July 14, when the Special was held up behind a freight wreck, which blocked all four tracks on the Middle Division, entailing a loss of two hours and twenty two minutes in the regular arriving time at New York.

It is difficult to find a match for this record. It demonstrates that the schedule has sufficient elasticity to take up any ordinary detentions which may occur between termini, and that even a faster regular schedule may be made should it be deemed wise. The fine condition of the roadbed, the efficient motive power, and skillful operation, all contribute to the ease with which the Special accomplishes its work.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh the medicine as applied direct to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflamed tissues to a healthy state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tired of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

A Narrow Escape.

Job R. Elzey, chief engineer of the steamer, Julian Taylor, had a very narrow escape on Wednesday night of last week. The Taylor was steaming up the Nanticoke for Sharptown with a load of gum logs for the Marvil Pkg. Co., of this town, with Capt. Way Bell at the wheel. Just below Sandy Hill Elzey took a draw bucket and went aft to get a bucket of water. In drawing the water, his weight against the iron rail that extends aft, broke it off and precipitated him into the river. After disentangling himself from the ropes of the bucket he started for the shore but the waves were rolling so high that he soon found he could not make the shore. He took his penknife out of his pants pocket, opened it and cut his shoelaces and removed his shoes. He also put the knife back in his pocket. He remained in the water for more than an hour drifting with the tide and endeavoring to work in shore. He finally saw a small light presuming it to be on a vessel and he used his best efforts though almost exhausted to reach to the light which he did and found it on a pile driver at Sandy Hill wharf. He climbed upon the scow and got on board where he met kind friends who gave him a change of clothing and took care of him until the steamer Enoch Pratt arrived when he took passage for Sharptown. When he straightened up after reaching the scow to his great surprise he could reach the bottom and was in water only about four feet deep. He fell overboard about ten o'clock and reached the scow some after eleven.

The steamer moved on up the Nanticoke as if nothing had happened until the assistant engineer, H. G. Wheatley, was called for his turn and it was then discovered that Elzey was not on board. A broken rail and a missing draw bucket told the story.

The steamer was turned back and went several miles down the river blowing the whistle and occasionally stopping, but hearing nothing of him gave up the search came up the river and reached Sharptown early Thursday morning. The mistake was in not going down the river far enough. Elzey was miles below where the steamer stopped in the search. He had fallen over much earlier than the crew supposed and consequently was farther down the river.

When the steamer reached town Capt. Bell informed Capt. Major A. Elzey, Job's brother of what had taken place and he took the sad and distressing news to the family and soon the news spread over town and Job's many friends and large circle of relatives had the sad impression that he was drowned. A few people however, who knew Job's indomitable courage and resolution in times of danger believed and so expressed themselves that he was still alive, being an expert swimmer, he would save himself unless badly hurt in the fall.

At seven o'clock when the telephone service was opened all doubt was removed and joy spread over the town when his familiar voice over the wires from Vienna brought the glad news that he was alive and would be home on the steamer.

A few hours later he came home very much exhausted, but was greeted with much rejoicing by his family and friends. He stated that if it had been calm and the river smooth he would likely have soon reached the shore but owing to the strong wind from the shore he could do but little except keep himself upon the surface. He suffered much pain in his arms in his struggle to keep up and move as best he could toward the shore. His experience and narrow escape will long be remembered by himself and family. He was providentially saved.

Is It Peace?

The Japanese soldiers are slow to give up fighting. Their blood seems to be up and they want to continue fighting. The military critics are discussing the Japanese victories with what would appear to be an alarm of the danger of the white race at the hands of the yellow race. It is now stated upon good authority that since the wonderful victories of the Japanese armies that the Chinese government has put Japanese at the head of its military schools dismissing the Germans whom they had been employing.

The Japanese have won great distinction as fighters and they hesitate to give up until victory is now by them through their military powers. It is claimed that Japan can not only fight, but can make as good guns as any of the European governments, and are making them and so are the Chinese. Large expenditures of money are being made for armies and navies in nearly all the European countries. The supremacy of the yellow race, as in the war between Russia and Japan has come as a revelation to many of the European governments.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys,

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health.

It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles.

Home of Swamp-Root. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys.

The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized.

THE GHOST OF CHESTNUTHILL.

(By J. B. Welch.)

On Chestnut Hill near Ellendale.

Along the king's highway.

A man from Scotland bought this land

And settled there, they say.

He built a house of Chestnut wood,

And stopped the crooked with clay.

The windows had but one small pane

To admit the light of day.

The doors were hewed three inches thick

And thrice inches wide,

With treenails thro' the sill and plate,

For hinges on the side.

The roof was pined with hardwood pegs,

And floors with spits and spud.

The chimneys they were made of sticks

And daubed with clay and mud.

A rich man and a sport was he,

For gold he had no lack.

His stalls were filled with racing steeds,

Twelve hounds in his pack.

Thro' the dense swamp he made a track.

(Today it may be seen),

Thirty feet wide and one mile long:

They call it "Battle Green."

He reared the horse, he chased the fox,

Yet no one knew his history;

He spent his gold, he lived with clay,

To all he was a mystery.

His wife, 'tis said, was royal born,

And had one only daughter,

They lived upon this island ridge,

Hegged in by bog and water.

She was of Scotch patrician blood,

He, a rich plebeian.

She sacrificed her high estate

For love and peace serene.

Thus many stories they did tell,

How he sinned this gold.

The only creature that he loved

That Captain Clifton had,

"When as a boy I sailed the sea

In Captain Major's barque,

This man took passage for our town,

From the city of New York.

"And when he landed at our wharf,

His chest was iron bound,

He put it in an old spring bed,

And took it out of town."

He was a banker, very rich,

In Scotland, so they say.

He took his money, but ased the chest

And came to America.

And here they lived upon this ridge

'Till eighteen-twenty-two.

He left one night at 2 o'clock,

His destiny, no one knew.

Two Cavaliers in Scottish garb,

Stopped at old Pleasanton Inn

And dined on hockeys, ham and eggs.

With apple-jack and gin.

They left that night at 12 o'clock,

And thro' this ridge did roam;

They slew the man, but saved the child

And took their sister home.

Next day this little tale was found

At a near neighbor's door,

In a basket, with deeds, and gold

Three hundred pounds or more.

With a request to adopt the child,

And call her Margaret;

Using the gold to educate

This darling little pet.

And see that when at proper age

This ridge should be her's still.

The children's names, they heard with joy,

Fulfilled request and bid it.

And after many years went by

She did possess this land,

And married a man of noble birth

Who won her heart and hand.

Much love and sunshine filled this home,

With many children blest.

The father, he is living still;

The mother, is at rest.

The old log house is gone to rack

The ghost, which held full sway

For eighty years, is heard no more.

They both have passed away.

No weird sounds or chanting tones,

Like humming birds or bees.

No clashing swords nor moans nor groans.

Are heard now in those trees.

Maryland Prospects.

"Exit crab; enter oyster." The prompter has already begun to call the time for that popular and succulent bivalve of the Chesapeake which plays such a feature role in the winter scene on the stage of life.

Six days more and then "All hail the oyster!" The collective prompter in this instance is a half dozen or more captains of oyster boats who have been traversing the bay lately and here and there "trying" the bottoms.

"The prospects were never brighter for a tremendous crop," they say. "Everybody can eat oysters this winter."

One captain who has sailed into every tributary of the Chesapeake and "tried" every natural bottom says there are more oysters in the bay than there has been in years.

"The oysters are big and are getting fat," he said. "By the middle of October they will be as fine as any ever caught."

September 1 hundred of crabbers in newly painted boats will turn tongs, and every day their ranks will grow until October 1, when there will be 15,000 oystermen handling tongs in a manner giving not the slightest hint that a month previous they were catching or picking crabs.

The weather permitting, and excepting Sundays, these 5,000 tongs will be on the bay every day until April 25. If the coming winter is like the last and the one before it, they will spend almost as much time hugging a stove as tonging for oysters. While they work they will make from $5 to $1 a day.

On October 15 dredging boats will begin work in the Potomac river, and on November 1 in the Chesapeake. There were 600 dredgers working in the bay last winter.

As is to be expected, all oyster people are discussing the Haman Oyster Culture bill.

"The bill suits me, almost, but I would like to see 'such and such' provisions contained in it," said one large oysterman.

"Oh, that fellow wants the bill changed to that he will be benefitted personally," said another. "Now I'd like to see 'such and such' change made before the bill become a law."

"Will the bill be passed?" was asked.

"Oh, yes, an oyster bill will be passed," was the unanimous reply.

"It may not be the present Haman bill. Mr. Haman may have to change it."

Individually each oysterman says the bill will be like the Haman bill, but not "precisely incidental," and each has a few ideas of his own that he wants to see incorporated in the bill.

However, they are unanimous in the declaration that the shells should be returned to the natural beds.

"But," they ask, "will there ever be a Legislature that will appropriate money to put the shells back?"

But just now "the oyster's the thing," to paraphrase a famous saying; he's due in six days.—Baltimore Sun.

"The Simple Life."

President Roosevelt says: "I commend this book to the nation."

Beyond question, the most talked of book today, whether in the pulpit or out of it, is "The Simple Life," by Rev. Charles Wagner.

It has caught the nation like wild-fire, and is constantly alluded to everywhere, backed by the endorsement of public men, literary critics and the press.

President Roosevelt preaches it to his countrymen. The well known publishers of popular priced books, Hurst and Co., 395-399 Broadway, New York, have just issued a tasty edition, which they will mail to anyone sending 25c. This firm will also forward a complete catalogue of books upon request.

PAINFUL PERIODS

AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Miss Irene Crosby Is One of Thousands of Cures Made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that menstruation is the balance wheel of a woman's life, and while no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely.

Miss Irene Crosby

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science.

It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and miss menstruation of its terms.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 313 Charlton Street East Savannah, Ga., writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to woman. It has been of great benefit to me, curing me of irregular and painful menstruation when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

This is to give notice that the subscriber hath obtained from the Orphans Court for the personal estate of LARRY B. DAVIS, late of Wicomico county dec'd. All persons having claims against said dec'd, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with vouchers therefor, to the subscriber, on or before January 29, 1906.

Persons who may otherwise be excluded from all benefits of said estate, are hereby notified that under my hand this 23rd day of July, 1905.

GEO. B. PARKER, Clerk in Interest.

A SAFE AND GANE ARMY.

The Panama army, except for some fifteen generals and three private, retained as a guard for the president of the republic, was disbanded last year. There were 800 or 900 men thrown on their own resources. Under equal political conditions an event of this sort in Panama would have led to revolution, the last resort of an unpaid and unemployed army. The army went to work on the canal at $1 per day each. Even the fifteen generals pitched in and helped. When the spread of American control and influence can achieve such things in Panama, is there not hope that the beneficent example will bear fruit in other republics of Latin America? If Venezuela and Colombia would put their armies to work on the canal, in the mines, in the woods, or even on the trolley cars, we could afford to be as appreciative of them as we have been of Panama.

PENALTY FOR BLIND GREED.

While there can be no possible comparison between the conditions in the France of the old regime and those in the United States, the principle which Macaulay emphasizes is of universal application. When men in positions of power lose sympathy with the people, when they fail to discern the signs of the time, when they refuse all concessions, an explosion is bound to come. It may be in the shape of radical and dangerous legislation. But even in such a case it is none the less a disaster invited by the blind pride and narrowness of a privileged class. The penalty of refusing concessions until no concession can avail may not take the form of driving men into exile, but in one shape or another it is certain to come.—Kansas City Star.

COINAGE OF SILVER DOLLARS.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, silver dollars to the number of 10,101,650 were coined from the bullion purchased under the act of 1890, and of the balance, 5,607,938 fine ounces, four-fifths was used in the following six months to Dec. 31 for subsidiary coinage, while but 105 additional dollars were minted. The secretary of the treasury says that no silver dollars bearing the date of 1904 have been struck. This is in accordance with the act of 1900, amended in 1903, authorizing subsidiary coinage to the limit of the stock of bullion. It seems a pity that the last 105 specimens were not marked, for the benefit of coin collectors, to distinguish them from their congeners of the stamp of 1904.—Brooklyn Eagle.

GULF STREAM RUNS FASTER.

The Gulf Stream is said to be running so much more rapidly than formerly that sailing ships cannot make headway against its current. This "river in the ocean" is caused by the waters of the Gulf of Mexico piling up owing to the rotation of the earth until that evil caldron rises two or three feet higher than the waters in mid-Atlantic. Florida Strait, about 90 miles broad, forms the only egress for the water, which flows through this narrow outlet between Key West and Cuba at a speed of eight or ten miles an hour.—London Tattler.

STATUS OF A CITIZEN.

When the exact status of a naturalized citizen and his rights and limitations when abroad have been definitely fixed by law, our government, whatever its political complexion, can be depended on to protect him in those rights whenever or by whomsoever assailed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

VISITORS TO NIAGARA.

The records show that 800,000 people visit Niagara falls every year. These come from all countries of the world. In fact, the whole world is interested in the preservation of Niagara falls, and the people of all nations join those of the United States in protest against the vandals that seem to find favor only in the New York legislature.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE MIDNIGHT OIL.

In the matter of intellectual labor and the proper hours for it, one man's meat may be another's poison. Dr. John M. Scott, professor of Greek in Northwestern University, advises his students to burn the midnight oil rather than the early morning oil, if they wish to do good work—that is, to make their interest application at the end of the waking day rather than at its beginning. His theory is that in the early morning the eyes are not clear, and the brain is still numb from sleep, so that the man is in no condition for mental work.—New York Tribune.

INFLUENCE OF URBAN UNIVERSITIES.

Urban universities wield more influence in modern life than those situated in small towns, said Prof. Canfield, librarian of Columbia university. "This is peculiarly an urban century," he said. "The urban university, therefore, is a manifestation peculiar to the times. The inspiration of education today must be an industrial inspiration, and the urban college is best situated to receive it."

The conspicuous peacefulness of the meetings of the Sons of the American Revolution in Philadelphia suggests the somewhat disquieting thought that most of the fighting spirit of the fathers has in the process of transmission been diverted to the distant side.—Providence Journal.

Many a man feasts his body delicately and feeds his soul on garbage.—Houston Chronicle.

Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best of proof. Read it:

H. W. Mumford, formerly printer of the Salisbury Advertiser, residing at 227 Newton Street, says: "If I was not perfectly satisfied that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon I never could be induced to recommend the remedy. I have the best of reasons for considering them unequalled. On account of kidney complaint and pains in my back I have often been so bad I could hardly move from a chair and ever now and then I was compelled to lay off for a day or two. During this last winter I was unable to do any work for three months. One doctor in Baltimore told me I had an incurable case of kidney complaint. I, of course, became very much alarmed about my condition and kept on trying this, that and the other remedy which induced me to go to White & Leonard's Drug Store for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I took according to directions. My opinion of this remedy and it has been amply proven since it came to my notice that for backache or kidney trouble in any form Doan's Kidney Pills are without a peer. I am better now than I have been at any time during the past three years.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Dear Sirs: It costs two or three times as much to put paint on as to buy it. A gallon of poor paint costs as much as a gallon of good for the work; and a gallon of poor don't go half as far. Poor paint lasts half or a third or a quarter as long as good; and protects wood and iron a half or a third or a quarter as well as good. Do you buy good paint or poor? You don't know any poor? Why, the market is full of it!

LOCAL Correspondence

NEWS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF WICOMICO SENT IN BY THE ADVERTISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

COLUMBIA.

At this season of the year the main topics of interest among our farmers are tomatoes, corn, telephone lines and occasionally holiness meetings and circus shows. However we will endeavor to give the readers of the Advertiser some current news in and around Columbia.

Samuel J. Lowe of this place had a fine hoifer to die this week.

Many of our young folks attended Laurel camp Sunday last.

The Holiness meetings being held in Sharptown have been attended during the week by both old and young.

The corn crop and tomato crop are both short in this locality. Both were injured by heavy rains in August. Our canners, John S. Cooper & Co., have had so far only a short pack and have run only a part of the time. Their acreage this season was much larger than in previous years, but several causes prevent them from having a heavy pack, the chief is the short crop and no doubt the fancy prices realized in the city market has caused some decrease in quantity. The Company expects to pack a large quantity of sweet potatoes this season.

Our public school will be taught by Clara W. Ellis of this place. She has taught for several years at Beaches near Delmar, Del. Beaches will be under the directions of Arthur L. Mills the coming scholastic year. Earl T. Cooper will again teach at Ellis Grove.

Apple cuttings are now in line and our young people are called out often to pare apples and indulge in innocent games after work is completed.

For some time past the Riverton and Delmar Telephone Company have been at work running a line from Sharptown, Md., to Delmar, Del., via Columbia. The line is almost completed together with all branch lines at this place. The Company has its Central office at J. S. Cooper's dwelling. When completed twenty phones will be connected at this central with main line which already touches Delmar, Columbia, Sharptown, Riverton, Mardela and Athol. Our folks that have phones in are well pleased with the service and we feel sure they will feel more so when the Company gets the proposed line in proper shape and all phones installed that are spoken for. One admirable feature of this Company is that anyone paying rent for a phone has the privilege to talk free of charge wherever the line touches and to any place where the Company has phones. We wish the new Company much success in response for its valuable service.

ATHOL.

Mrs. E. Herbert Glenn and daughter, Lella, who have been visiting Capt. T. N. Evans and family will return to Baltimore on Sunday.

Misses Carrie Evan and Myra Adams will return Sunday to continue their course in the Teachers' Manual Training School of Baltimore.

Misses Katie and Carrie Evans entertained quite a number of their friends on last Friday evening. Among those present were: Misses Myra Adams and Anna Kuehn of Baltimore, Ida Phillips, May Phillips, Daisy Hurley, Zena Cox, Mary Elliott, Lora Horseman and Lella Glenn. Messrs. Harry Truitt, William Phillips, Harry Green, Willard Donoho, Hillard Donoho, Stanley Bailey, Norman Hurley, John Elliott, Louis Phillips and Howard Hutton; Mr. and Mrs. William Hurley. Quite an enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. Erastus Austin of Philadelphia, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Austin.

We are sorry to say that Miss Maggie Sewell passed away peacefully and quietly, after a lingering illness, on Saturday, September 2nd, 1905.

POULTRY

SELECTING TURKEY STOCK.

Few Rules Observed to Advantage Will Insure Good Stock.

First.—Always use as breeders turkey hens over one year old. Be sure they are strong, healthy, and vigorous, and of good medium size. In no instance select the smaller ones. Do not strive to have them unnaturally large.

Second.—The male may be a yearling or older. Do not imagine that the large overgrown males are the best. Strength, health, and vigor, with well-proportioned medium size are the main points of excellence.

Third.—Avoid close breeding. New blood is of vital importance to turkeys. Better send a thousand miles for a new male than to risk the chances of inbreeding. Secure one in the fall so as to be assured of his health and vigor prior to the breeding season.

Feeding Small Chickens.

Chickens do not require food for the first twelve to thirty-six hours after hatching. One of the best foods that can be fed for the first few days is stale bread soaked in milk. This should be crumbled fine and placed where the chickens have free access to it, and where they can not step on it.

Granulated oats, (with the hulls removed) make an excellent food for young chickens. There is, perhaps, no better grain food for young chickens than oats prepared in this manner. It may be fed to good advantage after the second or third day in connection with the bread soaked in milk. A good practice is to keep it before them all the time.

How to Care for Ducks.

Ducks are easily raised, and cost but little more than chickens. They grow surprisingly fast, and apparently are not affected by neglect, requiring only a reasonable amount of care with plenty of good substantial food and water.

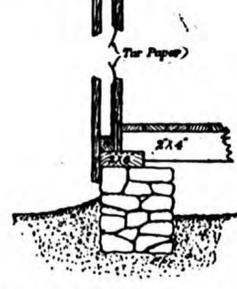

When the ducklings pip the shell they do not emerge at once, as do chickens, but remain quiet for possibly 24 hours. They then burst the shell, but must be left quietly alone, as they are very delicate for the first few days.

After 24 hours remove the hen and ducklings to a warm coop and care for them as you would for chicks.

The best food is one part of cornmeal and four parts of bran, with a generous supply of fine grit added. Moistened slightly and feed three times a day for the first week. After this change to any other kind of food that conditions may suggest.—Tristate Farmer and Gardener.

Design for a Poultry House.

The sill may be 2 by 6 or 2 by 8 scantling, laid flat on the wall or foundation; a 2 by 2 strip is nailed at the outer edge to give the size of the space between the boards which constitute the side walls. A 2 by 2 scantling set edgewise forms the plate, and to this the boards of the side walls are nailed. These boards may be of rough lumber if economy in building is desired. If so, the inner boarding should be nailed on first and covered with tarred building paper on the side that will come within the hollow wall when the building is completed. This building paper is to be held in place with laths or strips of thin boards.

If only small nails or tacks are used, the paper will tear around the nail heads when damp and will not stay in place.

The cracks between the boards of the outside boarding may be covered with inexpensive battens if they are nailed at frequent intervals with small nails. Ordinary building lath will answer this purpose admirably, and will last many years, although they are not so durable as heavier and more expensive strips. The tarred paper on the inside boarding and the battens on the outside make two walls, each impervious to wind, with an air space between them.

Practical Hints.

Plants have life the same as animals, and they require feeding, watering and care, if we expect to derive profit from them.

The object of the orchard is to produce fruit. The amount and kind of tillage will vary according to conditions; soil, plant food, etc. Study the individual needs of each orchard.—Farmer's Voice.

How to Train Trees.

Whether to train the tree high or low depends upon several conditions. To prune a tree properly means to begin when young and prune annually. This done, there is no occasion of cutting off large limbs, which endangers the life of the tree.—Farmer's Voice.

Oregon Road Association.

The Lane county, Oregon, Good Roads Association at a recent meeting passed resolutions in favor of placing the construction and maintenance of public roads in the hands of a competent road engineer.

FELL IN LINE.

And Irish Wit Saved Him from Fine or Imprisonment.

On a recent morning some 30 prisoners were lined up for hearings, and included in the bunch were several Chinamen. As the long line slowly moved toward the magistrate as case after case was disposed of the eccentrics finally came to the front. The ensuing dialogue did not differ materially from those of other cases and was as follows:

"What's your name?" by the magistrate.

"Ah Sin," from the prisoner.

Questions as to the residence and occupation of the prisoner followed, and then this:

"You are charged with being drunk and making a disturbance down on 9th street."

"Yes; me drunk."

"Ten dollars or ten days," was the way in which the case was dismissed.

The next Chinaman gave his name as Ah Lee, the charge being disorderly conduct and making a row in a restaurant. It was disposed of in the same way. The third Chinaman gave his name as Ah Hin.

"Seems to me there's a good many of you Ah's," remarked the magistrate, and you seem to be a pretty disorderly lot. You are charged with striking a man on the street while you were drunk. How is that?"

"Yep; me hit him," was the short reply.

"Ten dollars or ten days."

The next prisoner was a big Irishman who had been paying particular attention to the cases preceding him.

"What's your name?"

"Ah Hell!" retorted the son of Erin, wrathfully. "Phat does it matter? It's tin dollars or tin days anyway."

But he was mistaken; he got off easier.—Philadelphia Telegram.

Breaking the Sad News.

"Mrs. Gottwads," said the gentleman, as he took a seat in the luxurious drawing room. "I—that is—please don't let yourself be unduly alarmed, but I have come to break some sad news to you."

"O, heaven!" she cried, throwing up her hands and casting at him an agonized look. "Is my boy! Something has happened to Reginald! Speak! Tell me that he is not dead!"

"No, he is not dead. Calm yourself, I must insist that you try to control your nerves. You see—"

"But he is hurt! He went away in his automobile an hour ago. Something has happened. Tell me—tell me! I cannot bear this terrible strain. My poor boy! Tell me that he will get well. Have pity! Have pity on me!"

"I, he is hurt at all. He's just as sound in body and limb as I am. The truth is—"

"But I thought you said it was going to be something terrible? Ah, you are deceiving me! I must know all! Don't torture me this way. You are cruel! I will be brave! I will try to bear up. O, my boy! My poor boy! Tell me him. Where is he?"

"You see, he was going faster than the law allowed, and ran over an old lady. They've arrested him for manslaughter and insist on holding him under a heavy bond, so that—"

"O, is that all? I'm so relieved. Really, the way you spoke, I couldn't help thinking it was something serious."—Chicago Record-Herald.

On His Trail.

The lady—"Now if I could only trust you."

Gritty George—"Lady, did yer ever hear dat old proverb, 'Don't trust a man dat a dog won't follow'?"

The lady—"Have."

Gritty George—"Well, yer can trust me, 'cause every dog in the country follows me."

Future History.

Stealthily the stalwart, determined men surrounded the house, undetected, owing to the darkness and the dense fog that covered everything.

Posting one of their number, fully armed, at every possible avenue of escape, the leader, accompanied by a dozen trusty followers upon whose courage and fidelity he knew he could rely in any emergency, approached a rear door.

At a given signal they threw their united weight against it.

The door yielded, and the next moment they were inside.

Rushing through the house, they soon found the man for whom they were searching.

He was sitting in the back parlor, surrounded by his family, unprepared to resist, and evidently taken wholly by surprise.

"Surrender!" cried the leader, pointing his revolver at his head.

"Gentlemen," said the man, pale but outwardly calm, "I see you have me at a disadvantage. But you need not have brought those handcuffs along. I'll go with you quietly."

He had just been nominated by one of the great political parties for the office of Vice-President of the United States.—Chicago Tribune.

Wanted to Know.

Stubbs—"I see Lawson, the Boston millionaire, is going to expose some copper transactions."

Penn—"You don't say! Another police inquiry, eh?"

Thinning Fruit Trees.

It costs to thin fruit, but the resulting fruit is of a superior grade, and the expense of picking inferior fruit is eliminated at harvesting time. Peaches and plums are always thinned for best results.—Farmer's Voice.

Good Roads in Tennessee.

Over $50,000 has been expended for macadam roads, granolithic pavements and curbing in Johnson City, Tenn., during the past year.

WHAT JEAN SAW.

Jean is 20 and pretty, but her ideas about what is and is not proper are just as positive as they could be if she were 40 and plain.

She came home from Mackinac Island and on one of the big steamers last week without a sign of a chaperon or escort of any kind.

The first morning out she buttoned her brown jacket, pinned her brown cap to her brown curls and started for a brisk walk on deck. Twenty times around the boat was her program and her path carried her past crowds of people snuggled in chairs with their feet on the rounds of other chairs, chatting, reading, dreaming. She saw them all in the mass lamenting their general indolence in a strictly impersonal fashion until, the first time round, she came on two persons sitting near the stern of the boat, who caught her attention in a different way.

They were in a retired nook on the sunny side, aloof from every one else but equally aloof from each other as far as companionship went. The girl—an attractive little figure in dark blue, with a roseleaf complexion under a white corduroy cap—had placed her chair so that its back was emphatically turned to the man, who was to all appearances an intruder in her cozy corner. The wretch that he was sat there with his cap pulled over his eyes, a book held upside down in his hands and his impertinent gaze level on the plank and fluff back hair of the girl who was trying to ignore him.

All this Jean saw in one quick glance as she hurried past and it made her blood boil.

She decided not to stop at once, however. The following pictures the couple made for her horrified contemplation as she came upon them that afternoon in her rounds of the deck:

1. Girl intent on studying a passing large. Man intent on studying girl.

2. Man picking up comb that has slipped from the girl's back hair. Girl receiving it coldly, blind to his gaze and lifted cap.

3. Man leaning forward to gaze with laughing appeal into girl's face. Girl flushing indignantly, twisting away and fairly lurching her shoulder, in disdain of his attentions.

4. Man suddenly thrusting his book—right side up now—under girl's eyes, while his finger marks a certain passage. Girl glancing down at it involuntarily and the next instant scornfully looking the other way.

5. Man, with miscellaneous insolence, giving his chair so that it directly faces girl. Girl haughtily clamping the position of her feet so that its back is toward the man once again.

6. Girl gathering up her belongings, as if to go. Man catching her by the hand. Girl limping. "Oh, I ought to stop it!" thought Jean, as she munched on.

7. Girl seated again, though with reluctant manner, not resting.

8. Man with girl's hand in his with eyes downcast. Man murmuring something with st and continuous.

Jean had not been around the boat twenty times, but after she passed that last tableau she felt that in the interests of propriety something must be done. If that young girl didn't know enough to behave by herself some one would have to help her! Jean was tingling with the reformer's courage as she neared the couple on the teuth round. She came up behind them as noiseily as she could. She stopped and tapped the railing with her toe; she coughed. They were deaf and blind. The shameless man had an arm around the unspeakable girl and the next minute—he yes, he actually kissed her!

And she let him!

Jean stood paralyzed. Before she had come to her senses voices sounded behind her. Two young women were approaching, making noise enough for six. Yet that oblivious man's arm never even changed its place. To Jean's amazement, one of liveliest girls stepped up and tapped him on the shoulder.

"Excuse the interruption, Mr. Vandermede," she said, mischievously, "but I want to introduce my friend to your wife. Miss Atkinson, Mrs. Vandermede."

Vandermede jumped up. Mrs. Vandermede, released, straightened her white corduroy cap and bowed serenely. Vandermede placed chairs for the newcomers. Then Jean heard his remark laughingly:

"We're not often so sentimental as you found us, Miss Atkinson, but I've just had an awful time making up with my wife. She got angry with me about two hours ago because I insisted on coming into the stateroom and starting a frolic with the baby just when she had him almost asleep. I thought for awhile she'd never speak to me again."

From Cabinet to Senate.

The U. S. Senate has among its members five former Cabinet officers. They are Senators Teller of Colorado, who was Secretary of the Interior under President Arthur; Alger, Secretary of War under President McKinley; Proctor, Secretary of War under President Harrison, Elkins, who was Secretary of War under President Harrison, and Knox, Attorney General under President Roosevelt.

A Designing Rascal.

An English thief was arrested the other day whose method was to induce little boys to take off their shoes in order to run a race, and leave him in charge of the shoes. When they returned, breathless, he and the shoes were gone.

Down on the Farm.

"Yes, stranger," said the farmer, with hale-seed in his hat. "This is a first-class summer resort."

"Indeed!" exclaimed the city arrival, rather doubtfully. "Have you a string orchestra at meals?"

"Was, no, stranger; but we have string beans."

Fateful Letters.

He popped, and then said he: "Oh, let your answer be. Not letters two, but three."

"Just as you please," said she; "My answer's 'N-4'."—Phila. Press.

ROADS AND ROAD MAKING

ADVANTAGES OF GOOD ROADS.

Journal of Agriculture Gives Good Reasons to Farmer.

(1) Economize time and force in transportation between farm and market;

(2) Enable the farmer to take advantage of market fluctuations in buying and selling;

(3) Permit transportation of farm products and purchased commodities during times of comparative leisure;

(4) Reduce the wear and tear on horses, harness, and vehicles;

(5) Enhance the market value of real estate.

But while it is easy to enumerate the ways in which improved roads will be financially advantageous to farmers, it is very difficult to estimate in dollars and cents, the benefits to accrue therefrom.

Causes For Repairing Roads.

(1) Defective construction of earth bed.

(2) Failure to cut off underground water by drainage.

(3) Rain or storm water which is permitted to lie in pools along the roadides or in side ditches which do not carry the water from the road.

(4) The side slope being insufficient to carry the storm water from the road to the side ditches.

(5) The longitudinal grade of the road being greater than the slope from center to sides.

(6) The formation of ruts.

(7) Raveling, or picking up loose stones.

(8) Surface stone not of proper quality and not uniform.

(9) Roadbed not sufficiently compacted.

(10) Accumulation of trash on the road.

In Favor of Narrowing Roads. The sentiment in favor of the reduction of the width of highways from 60 to 40 feet appears to be becoming quite general. Petitions from land owners in the different states, we learn are being made to the highway commissioners to this effect. The claim made is that too much land is allowed to grow up to weeds by having the road so wide, as the extra ten feet could be well utilized if taken into the farm. It is claimed, also, that by narrowing the legal width of highway a better road can be built and more easily kept in condition.—Good Roads Magazine.

Effects of Cold Rain on Cows. Recently the Arizona experiment station recorded the results of a cold rain on the milk flow of the station herd. The cows were exposed three days and during that time they decreased thirty-seven per cent in milk yield and continued until it reached fifty per cent. A month passed before they gave as much milk as that before the storm. Any one can therefore readily see that a shelter would soon pay for itself if the herd is usually well up in production.

Post Protection. Concrete is finding an important new application as a setting for posts, both wood and iron, says Indiana Farmer. When the wooden post is treated with tar and the hole around it is filled with well-tamped concrete, a cheap and practical indestructible foundation is secured; and similar bedding gives to iron posts for telephone lines and other purposes the stability hitherto lacking. The concrete protects the iron from rust, as it does the wood from rot.

Good Roads in Texas. One of the effects of the good roads movement in Texas, says Good Roads Magazine, is the establishment of an automobile mail route between San Antonio and Pleasanton, a distance of about 35 miles. Before improvement the road was an almost impassable stretch of ruts, with stretches of deep sand. It is reported that the distance can be covered with an automobile in about three hours.

False Economy. To let a new stack stand in a field to rot down to be afterwards hauled on the thin places in that field scarcely pays for the labor expended in hauling and the loss of the encumbered ground. A load of straw will not make a load of manure by a whole lot. After evaporation has taken place in a load of strawstack manure there is not much of it but fiber.

Wire Fencing for Hogs. About the best thing that has struck the hog raiser in the past ten years is woven wire fencing. When barb wire and boards were depended upon for fencing the hogs were forever and eternally getting out just when it was most inconvenient. Now when pigs are shut up they stay. For the same money, too, much more ground can be fenced in than when wire and lumber were the cheapest and besides much less time is required to put up the strands.

In Condition. To keep a horse in the best condition constant care needs to be exercised in keeping the skin clean and free from scurf and dust. If the pores of the skin are closed, a large quantity of waste matter is retained which in effect is as unhealthy as if the bowels were closed, and the wastes of the system in this way were retained and absorbed.

A statistician says that France has about 4,000 duels a year and Italy 2,800.

Berlin municipality has refused a legacy of $125,000, left by a professor, wherewith, says a Paris newspaper, to found an orphanage where children should be brought up on an exclusively vegetarian diet.

It is expected that the Canadian Parliament will restore to the minimum tariff of 25 per cent ad valorem certain classes of woolen goods included in the increase to 30 per cent made last season.

HOW SHE BUTT IN

For Mrs. Admington had wanted a telephone in the house, but her husband had not seen his way clear to having one till recently. It was a day of joy and triumph for the little lady when, finally, the instrument was fastened to the wall over the Admington's front stair landing.

It was on a circuit with other phones and when the bell rang in one house it rang in ten others. The Admingtons, like every family on the line had a certain number of rings for their own particular call, but it took them some time to get over being startled when any other number was sounded.

The morning after the 'phone was installed Mrs. Admington started to put it to most practical use, that of ordering things for dinner from the market. She was thinking how pleasant it was just to ring a bell and tell the grocer what to send.

She took down the receiver and put it to her ear, but was somewhat vexed to hear a man's voice and discover that the line was busy.

"I'll have to wait, and I'm in such a hurry," she pouted, but, remembering an errand in another part of the house, she busied herself for a few minutes. Her next try at the 'phone found the line still busy. She fidgeted in a little chair for a minute that seemed ten and then went to the 'phone again, saying to herself:

"Those people must be through talking by this time."

But they were not, and as Mrs. Admington took down the receiver for the third time to call up central she heard the emphatic declaration of a very decided young woman:

"Well, I don't care. I'm going to marry him anyway."

"But how long did you say you have known him?" he was asking the young woman.

"Why, I've known him only two weeks," was the reply, "but I've seen him an awful lot in that time."

"Well, don't you think two weeks a pretty short acquaintance to marry on?" urged the man.

"It would be in most cases," admitted the young woman, "but with us it's different. He's awfully nice, and he likes me, and I like him, and he doesn't want to wait. He doesn't believe in long engagements, and neither do I."

"Why, you're a simpleton," was Mrs. Admington's mental comment as she shifted from one foot to the other and moved a little nearer to the phone just as the man's voice was asking:

"Isn't he willing to give you time to get ready? A woman can't be married conveniently on a day's notice. Won't he give you a month of six weeks for that?"

"No," was the answer. "He's going away within a month, and he wants to be married so I can go with him."

"Well, I don't want you to think me too much of a meddler," came back the voice of the man. "I only want to suggest things that seem to be for your good. Now, you say you've known this man two weeks. Are you sure you will care for him at the end of two months? Wouldn't it be well to wait that long and see?"

"Made for the madhouse," muttered Mrs. Admington to herself, losing all patience.

"And how old did you say he was?" resumed the man.

"Forty."

"And you are twenty?"

"Well, I'll be twenty-one in a couple of months."

"And how old are his children?"

"The boy is fifteen and the girl only ten," spoke up the young lady.

"Well," he began, hopelessly, "all I can say to you is that if you marry that man after having known him only two weeks you will do a very foolish thing, and in looking after those children you will certainly have your work cut out for you."

"I don't care if I do," came the voice of the young woman snappishly. "I've thought it all over and I'm going to marry him anyway."

Mrs. Admington wasn't able to contain herself any longer. She had no sooner heard the young lady's ultimatum than she broke into the conversation with:

"Don't you do it. If you do you're a perfect goose and you ought to know it."

Mrs. Admington heard gasps of surprise from the other two, and then the voice of the man:

"Well, who in thunder are you?"

"I'm not in thunder anybody," snapped Mrs. Admington, "but I'm considerably older than the young lady at the other end of this wire and I've learned a few things she ought to know before she marries a man twice as old as herself and with two children as big as she is."

"Pity you didn't learn not to listen to private conversations," snapped the voice of the young woman.

"And another pity you don't know better than to discuss such matters over a telephone," retorted Mrs. Admington slyly. "But I'm glad you did, for it gives me a chance to tell you you're a little simpleton if you marry that man and you'll regret it before the year is out. He's old enough to be your father and he wants you to marry him before you've prepared enough clothes to get you decently out of town. He ought to be ashamed of himself and you ought to be spanked. Good-by."

And then Mrs. Admington hung up the receiver with a rap that almost broke the hook.

TO DOUBLE CAPACITY

Of Present Plant. The Crystal Ice Company Preparing To Care For The Ice Supply Of This Section By Increased Facilities.

The Crystal Ice Company, of Salisbury, are preparing to double their present ice production in order to be in a position to better handle the present and future demands of the business in this section. The York Manufacturing Co., have the machinery contract, while Mr. John Windsor will have the construction of the building.

The new plant will be a duplicate of their present one, and be located on the vacant lot adjoining, with sufficient tankage for the increased output which will be, together with that of the Salisbury Ice Manufacturing Co., which they operate under lease, about 50 tons of ice daily.

Mr. J. D. Price, the Manager of The Crystal Ice Co., says his plan is to keep in the fore-front of the business and not alone satisfy present, but anticipate that of years to come by being prepared to care for it. With this idea they selected and purchased the site they will build on about a year ago. He says the improvements will start at once and be in readiness for spring operation.

The Crystal Ice Co., though enjoying an almost complete monopoly of the manufactured ice in this section for several years has been one of few in like situation to give satisfactory service and reasonable prices for their product.

Special Excursion To Baltimore.

PROPOSED NEW ICE

Plant Reported Under Way. Site Chosen Near B. C. & A. Junction With N. Y. P. & N.

It is reported that Messrs. John H. Tomlinson and Elmer C. Williams will erect another ice plant in Salisbury, to have a manufacturing capacity of 25 tons daily, before the spring season: with a 5000 ton cold storage plant in connection to have a surplus for the hot weather months.

These gentlemen have secured the consent of the Mayor and City Council to run a switch across Railroad Avenue, from the tracks of the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad to the tracks of the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway, through the property of Mr. Tomlinson, situated at the junction of these two roads, and the ice plant is to be erected as to front on this switch. With this location, cars can be loaded at the plant for both roads and pushed out on the main tracks. Mr. Tomlinson says that the most improved machinery will be installed to make ice, and for the purpose of loading cars, so as to reduce the labor account as much as possible. It will require an outlay in equipment of about $20,000.

FROM MARDELA TOWN

Interesting News Of That Section. Short, Historical And Biographical Sketches To Appear Later In Advertiser.

Your correspondent wishes to acknowledge the many kind expressions of appreciation of these letters in the Advertiser. We had no idea that they would be read and enjoyed by so many people. Our original purpose was to give a little pleasurable entertainment to a limited number of people as we chronicled the events of the day. We had only intended to write an occasional letter, but we have been urged on by the persistency of others. As you have observed, it has been no attempt at finish of style, but only plain letters in the vernacular of the common people of whom I am one. They are not the detonations of a thirteen-inch gun, but one of a lighter caliber, and perhaps only a pop gun.

In my article last week, the type must have been on a spree, for they made me say things that I did not say, or at least did not intend to say them in just that way. Or perhaps it may be more charitable to say that it was the fault of my chirography, for sometimes when it gets cold it is hard for me to read it.

Pastor B. G. Parker preached in the Salisbury Baptist Church last Thursday night, to a full house. His subject was "The preacher for the time." He declared that the preacher should be symmetrically developed clear along the line of his possibilities, beginning at the lowest point of contact, the physical, and reaching its culmination in the spiritual. There were several preachers present.

Anticipating the wants of our people in this section, we have arranged to give a short history of our town; some biographical sketches of the early citizens. There are only a few men, now living in possession of these facts, and we desire to hand down this history to those coming after us. It will necessarily be only brief facts, for anything else would be too long for these letters, as we have no right to presume upon the indulgence of the Editor of the Advertiser.

Rev. Mr. Truitt of the M. E. Church had a large audience on Sunday night. By a preconcerted arrangement, many of his friends in the other churches went to hear him preach. This being the first time that many of them had ever heard him. The pastor of the Baptist church and several of his flock were there. The young man acquitted himself well.

The following named persons have been visiting at the home of Mr. A. S. Venables and wife: Dale Venables, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Nina, his sister, of Salisbury, and the Misses Stella and Lilly Bounds of Quantico. It would be hard to find young people who enjoy more of life than these four. Uncle Sae and Aunt Sallie know how to make it pleasant for the young people. The hospitality of this home has made Mr. and Mrs. Venables favorites everywhere.

Our political friends are beginning to mend their fences, a good deal of quiet work is being done, each side is preparing for a struggle. But brothers, don't you think you had better let politics rest while you are attending church? Let the concerns of your soul have uninterrupted attention there. The State doesn't need saving as badly as does the soul. The probabilities are that you cannot change any one's principles. In my judgment the man who sells his vote is no good, and the man who buys it is no better.

Many of our farmers seem somewhat discouraged over their fodder saving. The long continued rains caught much of it unstaked and it is thought that it is badly injured. It will depreciate the value of it both commercially and as a food for horses and cattle.

Preparations are being made for a grand time at the Christian Endeavor Convention to be held in the Methodist Protestant Church of our town. God has greatly blessed the Endeavor movement, the world over. It is to be hoped that there will be good weather and a large attendance.

Our sympathy is extended to Miss Mary Bounds in her disappointing sickness. It is too bad that her school work should thus be disarranged at the very opening of the school term. Miss Mary is a very competent teacher and we are expecting great things from her this year. But to be great things, the parents must cooperate. They must see to it that their children study at home and observe discipline in school.

—S. P. Woodcock, real estate broker has sold for James L. Powell 10 acres of land near Salisbury, adjoining the farm of Rev. A. H. Holloway to Charles G. Klein, of Baltimore. This property is improved with three dwellings, which, we understand will be occupied by three families who will move here from Baltimore to work in the shirt factory.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

And The Negro—Some Dangerous Aspects Of The Work Of Tuskegee—By Thomas Dixon, Jr.

[Reprinted from the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia. Copyright 1905 by Curtis Publishing Company.]

For Mr. Booker T. Washington as a man and leader of his race I have always had the warmest admiration. His life is a romance which appeals to the heart of universal humanity. The story of a little ragged, barefooted picaninny who lifted his eyes from a cabin in the hills of Virginia, saw a vision and followed it, until at last he presides over the richest and most powerful institution of learning in the south, and sits down with crowned heads and presidents, has no parallel even in the Tales of the Arabian Nights.

The spirit of the man, too, has always impressed me with its breadth, generosity and wisdom. The aim of his work is noble and inspiring. As I understand it from his own words, it is "to make negroes producers, lovers of labor, honest, independent, good." His plan for doing this is to lead the negro to the goal through the development of solid character, intelligent industry and material acquisition.

Only a fool or a knave can find fault with such an ideal. It rests squarely on the eternal verities. And yet it will not solve the negro problem, nor bring us within sight of its solution. Upon the other hand, it will only intensify that problem's dangerous features, complicate and make more difficult its ultimate settlement.

It is to this tragic fate to which I am trying to call the attention of the nation.

I have for the negro race only pity and sympathy, though every large convention of negroes since the appearance of my first historical novel on the race problem has gone out of its way to denounce me and declare my books caricatures and libels on their people. Their mistake is a natural one. My books are hard reading for a negro, and yet the negroes, in denouncing them, are unwittingly denouncing one of their best friends.

I have been intimately associated with negroes since the morning of my birth during the Civil War. My household servants are all negroes. I took them to Boston with me, moved them to New York, and they now have entire charge of my Virginia home. The first time I ever had on the negro problem was when I moved to Boston from the south to take charge of a fashionable church at the Hub. I attempted to import my baby's negro nurse into a Boston hotel. The proprietor informed me that no "coon" could occupy a room in his house in any capacity, either as guest or servant. I gave him a piece of my mind and left within an hour.

As a friend of the negro race I claim that he should have the opportunity for the highest, noblest and freest development of his full, rounded manhood. He has never had this opportunity in America, either north or south, and he never can have it. The forces against him are overwhelming.

My books are simply merciless records of conditions as they exist, conditions that can have but one ending if they are not honestly and fearlessly faced. The Civil War abolished chattel slavery. It did not settle the negro problem. It settled the union question and created the negro problem. Frederick Harrison, the English philosopher, declared that the one great shadow which clouds the future of the American republic is the approaching tragedy of the irreconcilable conflict between the negro and white man in the development of our society. Mr. James Bryce recently made a similar statement.

The Argument of the Gatchman. If allowed to remain here the negro race in the United States will number 60,000,000 at the end of this century by their present rate of increase. Think of what this means for a moment and you face the gravest problem which

MR. THOS. F. J. RIDER

Succumbs To Death And Passes Into The Unknown. Distinguished Public Career Extended Over Many Years.

Hon. Thomas F. J. Rider died at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Peninsula General Hospital, in Salisbury, after an illness of several weeks of kidney and bladder trouble. He was born on February 3, 1836, at Wellington, on the Wicomico river, near Quantico. His father, Charles Rider, was lieutenant-colonel in the Maryland Militia and the owner of a very large landed estate.

Mr. Rider graduated at the Washington Academy at Princess Anne in 1854 and entered the junior class at Jefferson College, Pennsylvania, the same year and graduated with high honor in 1856. On his return from college he was elected principal of the Salisbury Academy.

In 1858 he resigned that position and began reading law in the office of Jones & Irving, at Princess Anne, and was admitted to the bar two years later. From 1861 to 1864 he was school examiner for Somerset county and in 1864 was elected to the Legislature and was a member of the extra session of 1866.

In 1867 Mr. Rider was elected a member of the constitutional convention and was conspicuous for his participation in the legislation of that distinguished body. At the November election of 1867 he was elected clerk of the Circuit Court for the new county of Wicomico for six years, and at the expiration of his term declined re-nomination. He married Miss Josephine A. Toadvine, daughter of Purnell Toadvine and sister of Land Commissioner E. Stanley Toadvine. He removed to Washington, D. C., where he practiced law for five years, but on the death of Purnell Toadvine returned to Salisbury and in 1885 was appointed State's Attorney to fill out the three years of the unexpired term of Joseph A. Graham. He was then elected for three successive terms to the same office.

He was Supreme Archon of the Improved Order of Heptasophs for two years. He was afterward district deputy of the order.

He was an active Democrat and was always on the hustings in the thickest of the fights in Wicomico county. A daughter, Miss Mary Rider, of Baltimore, and a brother, Mr. William P. Rider, survive him.

The funeral services were held in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church Thursday afternoon. The pallbearers were John H. White, Levin W. Dorman, H. Lee Powell, Thomas Seabree, Irving S. Powell and Marion V. Brewington. The Wicomico County Bar Association attended in a body headed by Judges Holland and Page. Many prominent men from the surrounding counties and Wicomico attended.

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS MISERY.

There are hundreds of thousands of women in America suffering from Female Diseases, endangering their lives by doing nothing. If they write to me I will give them the benefit of my extensive experience.—S. B. Hartman, M. D.

IN view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as make application to him during the summer months without charge.

The treatment will be conducted by correspondence.

The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores.

The Doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to complete a cure. Furthermore, all correspondence will be held strictly confidential.

This offer will hold good only during the summer months. Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, history and symptoms of her derangement, and previous treatment.

Pe-ru-na Brought Health and Happiness.

Miss Nellie South, late of Manchester, Eng., writes from 86 Prince Arthur St., Montreal, Can., as follows:

"Pe-ru-na has made a wonderful change in my life. It has brought me health and happiness.

"Since my seventeenth year I have had female complaint and irregularities. My general health suffered, I had pains in my back and lower limbs, my eyes were dim, and I became morose and unreasonable.

"Mother sought the advice of our family physician, who prescribed for me, but I grew no better.

"I then read of Pe-ru-na and procured a bottle. That one bottle was worth more than all the doctor's medicine I had taken previously.

"I cannot express my gratitude. Pe-ru-na has been a great blessing to me."—Nellie South.

Miss Edna Moore, 46 Elm street, Buffalo, N. Y., Secretary East End Literary Association, writes:

"I was a great sufferer from systemic catarrh, was extremely nervous, could not sleep, fainted easily, was very irritable, had a confusion of the senses, and got up in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed.

"I was very wretched, but upon taking Pe-ru-na I began to improve, and after using the medicine four months, I felt like a new woman and was completely cured."—Edna Moore.

The principal remedy which Dr. Hartman relies upon in curing catarrhal diseases of women is Pe-ru-na. Hundreds of women sufferers find Pe-ru-na a household necessity.

MISS Angelina Grotton, 905 St. Urbain street, Montreal, Can., writes: "Having heard Pe-ru-na praised so highly induced me to try it for my cold, and pains in the groins with which I had been suffering for months. It took nearly three bottles to cure me, but I consider that was but a short time, as I have often taken doctors' prescriptions for months before I got relief."—Angelina Grotton.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the President of the Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted to the treatment of female diseases.

He is thus brought to see thousands of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to be treated by correspondence.

JOHN H. PHELPS, Scranton, Pa. MAY 13TH, 1904.

Dear Sir: Your Night Caps were almost thrust upon me by a friend who evidently knows a thing or two. Shortly after the middle of last January I was in a state of almost complete nervous exhaustion, arising from excessive business effort, resulting in inability to sleep and mental depression. My physician for two months treated me, at a large expense, for nervous prostration, advising complete rest for an indefinite period. At that time, a vacation was impossible. Fortunately for me, I was then introduced to Night Caps. Skeptically I tried them. One-half a normal return of normal health and I feel like myself again. I have recovered my normal weight. You may be very sure that I now keep Night Caps constantly on hand, particularly in case of over-indulgence at table. If, at any time, you are very glad to write inquirers about it, I would suggest, however, that you instruct them to enclose stamp for reply, for I have reason to believe that I might be financially embarrassed if inquiries come from all who need your remedy. Kindly withhold this letter from publication. Believe me, Very truly yours, (Signed) HARRY W. CROSS.

Pennsylvania Railroad Maintains Schedule.

New York Tribune, August 1, 1905.

During the month of July the Pennsylvania Special arrived in Chicago exactly on the minute of its schedule every day. The eastbound Pennsylvania Special arrived in New York on schedule time twenty-three days. The average detention on seven days was less than ten minutes, due entirely to conditions for which the train crew would not be held responsible. The greatest breach in the schedule was on July 14, when the Special was held up behind a freight wreck, which blocked all four tracks on the Middle Division, entailing a loss of two hours and twenty-two minutes in the regular arriving time at New York.

It is difficult to find a match for this record. It demonstrates that the schedule has sufficient elasticity to take up any ordinary detentions which may occur between terminals, and that even a faster regular schedule may be made should it be deemed wise. The fine condition of the roadbed, the efficient motive power, and skillful operation, all contribute to the ease with which the Special accomplishes its work.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

Writing under date of Sept. 7, 1904, Mrs. Mattie Shaffer, of Cumberland, Miss., says: "Some time ago I ordered and received your wonderful Cuticura Remedies, which I used on my little afflicted babe with wonderful results. I had tried many other remedies without any benefit whatever, and Cuticura came to the rescue when my doctors and all other remedies had failed. One doctor pronounced it scrofula, the other eczema. The little one was one solid sore, with scales and scabs from head to foot, when I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The result was wonderful, and now my baby's face and body are smooth and clear." (Signed) Mrs. Mattie Shaffer.

THE DUTY OF MOTHERS At the First Sign of Disfiguring Humors Is to Use Cuticura.

Every child born into the world with an inherited tendency to torturing, disfiguring humors of the Skin and Scalp, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz.: the Cuticura Treatment, consisting of warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure. Cures made in childhood are speedy, permanent, and economical.

A WORD WITH YOU, MR. FARMER.

A Telephone Is As Essential As Up-to-Date Farming Implements.

All this applies doubly to you, and a lot more besides. You are not using all the latest improved farming implements until you put in the telephone. How about the Government Weather Report every evening before you plan the next day's work? The telephone will bring it to you. How long were you delayed the last time your engine broke one of her parts? You could have placed an order for a duplicate part in a few minutes, if you had the telephone. Did your horse die before you could bring the Veterinary? The telephone might have brought him in time to save him. How much money would you have saved if you had known the market conditions before making the last shipment? The telephone would have "put you next." We have had your case in mind for some time past and now have a system to offer you that is both cheap and efficient. Get together with your neighbor, and talk the matter over, and then come and see us anyway, and we will meet all the conditions as far as it is possible to do so.

You want the telephone and we want to put it in for you and will consider any and all propositions you have to make to us.

Resolutions Of Respect.

At the Second Quarterly Conference for Quinctic circuit, which met in the M. P. Church, Quinctic, Saturday, Sept. 2nd, 1905 the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas: In the providence of our Heavenly Father Brother Wm. H. Taylor has been by death removed from our midst and he having been an active member of this conference therefore be it

Resolved, First: That while we mourn his loss as a brother and fellow-worker in the Master's vineyard—one upon whom we could rely to be present at our official meetings and to take an active interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the church; yet we rejoice to believe that "our loss is his gain" and that safe from sorrow and pain he is "where the weary are at rest."

Resolved Second: That we extend our heart felt sympathy to his beloved companion and bereaved ones and pray the God of all comfort to sustain them in their bereavement.

Resolved Third: That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of this Conference, a copy to the family of our deceased brother and a copy sent to each of the county papers.

A. J. Dashiell, Sec'y.

Letter To W. A. Enns, Salisbury Md.

Dear Sir: You are so well known that the people have put you in office. They knew what they were about; They didn't do it by accident.

Wouldn't it be a handsome thing to do to paint your house? It is a, nice house, has a good substantial com-mo-dious look, and isn't rusty at all, you know; but a fresh coat of paint would make it so bright it's a pity not to.

Devote is beautiful paint, but the beauty of it is: it lasts so long and does so much more than adorn an already interesting and attractive edifice. House, out buildings and fences. There isn't a man or a woman in town, who wouldn't see them and make some pleasant remark.

Of course, you will paint the town property; nothing would mark your administration more, in the eyes of the people; and, having done the same thing at home, it is the most natural thing in the world to do it for them.

Yours truly, F. W. Devoo & Co. The L. W. Gunby Co., sells our paint.

"It is the little rift within the lute which ever widening, makes the music mute." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often, which gradually takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice. Perhaps the bug bear which has frightened the woman from the timely help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded questions, the unobnoxious examination, the local treatments, of a home physician. There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman, suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. Women are astonished at the results of the use of this medicine. It not only makes weak women "robust and rosy checked," but it gives them back the vigor and vitality of youth.

Free. Dr. Pierce's People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages is sent free on receipt of 21 one cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Holliness Meetings Close.

The holliness people left on Monday and Tuesday, closing their service on Sunday night. Their services on Sunday were largely attended especially on Sunday night when they were unable to seat the people, a large crowd being obliged to stand and many occupied their vehicles near the tent. The number consisted of Rev. Mr. Simonson and wife formerly of Indiana, Misses Cora Downes and Ethel Brown of Henderson, Caroline Conroy, Miss Bessie Jones of Centerville and Miss Dexter of Trappe. They were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Phillips. Their singing was very entertaining and some of their selections rather thrilling. Their preaching was on the line of holliness—cleanliness in purpose and in habits and all thorough consecration of life. They agree with the Methodist in altar service, in testimony service and in the love feasts. They also agree on the doctrine of eternal punishment and in many other particulars, but disagree with them in many other things. They denounce secret orders, condemn in strong terms the use of tobacco in any form. They have caused many to search the Scriptures, since they came by their proofs as quoted from the sacred word. A few of the Methodists of town worshipped with them around the altar as did some of the visitors from near by places, but most of them sat in the congregation without taking any part in the services. Their close cutting in the matter of a true Christian life has set many people to thinking and many claim to be greatly benefited by their coming. They were a high type of holliness people and free from many of the idiosyncrasies that characterize some of them. Their work and conduct here received the commendation of the people and the congregational offering was good and the order maintained throughout the services was most excellent. They will likely return and hold another meeting sometime during the winter. They made some warm friends while here.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours: a sediment or string indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys: if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine, or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. ## Dr. Hale's Rules for Long Life.

With only one day since he was 17 years old spent in bed, and that, he says, the fault of a Philadelphia doctor who didn't know him, at 83 the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, at an age when most men are decrepit, is a striking example of the strenuous life which he not only practices but preaches.

His strenuousness is both mental and physical, and to it he ascribes his long life, says the Boston Post.

Dr. Hale's recipe for old age is both interesting and valuable.

"You must start with a good constitution," he says. "That is the base of everything," he said to the reporter who secured a most entertaining interview the other day.

"Even if you haven't a good constitution at the start you can improve it, and really do wonder by correct living.

"In the first place, it's a much abused notion that seven or eight hours of sleep are enough for a person.

Each person knows how much they require, and some need much more than others. It's very wrong to go with only seven if you need nine.

Personally, I need 10 hours of sleep, and I take it, because if I didn't I should be injuring my health.

"Sleep is one of those things which are absolutely necessary to the retention of one's health, and I fully believe people can go without food easier than they can without sleep.

"A man who is doing congenial work will live longer than a man who is loafing, or a man who has no aim or ambition in life, or whose work is not of a nature in which his heart and soul are interested.

"Some people have been fortunate in their work, and I am one of them.

No Moods For Him. There are many days on which people feel better than they do on others, but the man who has something to think of, something to plan out in his mind or execute with his hand or brain, forgets his moods, and they vanish.

I believe thoroughly that no small portion of my good health is a result of my having lived out of doors as much as possible.

I don't think that the weather should affect people.

They should make a practice of going out of doors in all kinds of weather, being sure that they are properly clothed on stormy days, of course.

Eat simple foods and do not overload your stomach. In other words, know your stomach. Find out what agrees with it and what doesn't. Act accordingly.

Dr. Hale's Rules. GO to bed at 9 and get up at 7 as 1 do.

Take a cup of milk just colored with coffee an hour before breakfast, and again at 11 o'clock.

Breakfast at 8, lunch at 1, and then sleep an hour.

Dine at 7, and spend the evening at reading or playing cards with your family or in attending some good theater.

Tlax, if you had a light dinner, at bed time take a cup of warm soup.

Do not go to bed on an empty stomach.

Never drink tea or coffee after 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Don't engage in any hard brain work after 4 P. M.

If you are a literary man or woman shut yourself up in a room at 9.30 A. M. and do your work. At 12.30 throw open the doors and put aside your work.

For Tired Brain. If your brain is tired, change your work or stop it.

Never work when you feel fagged out, because you cannot do any good work while in that state.

All work is best done when it is relieved from time to time by other work—in a different channel. But first do the task on hand.

And when a thing is done take up the next task and don't waste any time in self congratulation.

And last, but not at all least, don't worry.

The rapid progress of Chincoteague has for some time demanded the building of a Marine Railway for the purpose of building and hauling out a larger class of vessels than our small railroads have been doing heretofore. With this issue we are pleased to announce the organization of a company with this purpose in view. The company will begin work in a very few weeks and expect early next spring to be in a position to haul out with ease the class of boats that usually go elsewhere to overhaul. The railway will have steam-power in connection; in fact the company assure us they will spare no means in order to make it first class in every respect. They will be located on the South side of Conant's wharf. Mr. John Archie, Harry A. Bach and W. N. Conant will own and control the same with Mr. Archie, the well known Ship Carpenter as general manager. We predict a successful future for the Chincoteague Marine Railway Company.

"The Simple Life."

President Roosevelt says: "I commend this book to the nation."

Beyond question, the most talked of book today, whether in the pulpit or out of it, is "The Simple Life," by Rev. Charles Wagner. It has caught the nation like wild-fire, and is constantly alluded to everywhere, backed by the endorsement of public men, literary critics and the press. President Roosevelt preaches it to his countrymen. The well known publishers of popular priced books, Harst and Co., 395-399 Broadway, New York, have just issued a tasty edition, which they will mail to anyone sending 35c. This firm will also forward a complete catalogue of books upon request.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive menstruation accompanied by unusual pain extending from the ovaries over the groin and thighs.

Such a case of "wandering pains" I there are indications of inflammation ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT ARGUMENT.

The Anti-Amendment strength will have to build new fences or admit defeat from now on. The charge of too much power lodged with registrars has considerably abated. The question of appeal being disposed by the registration and election law which provides for appeal from the decisions of registrars as per section, 23 we come to this allegation of excessive power.

The registrars now have the power to determine whether persons applying to be registered possess the necessary Constitutional qualifications. That power has been lodged in the registrars ever since the passage of the first registration act. The registrars swear applicants for registration and then proceed to question them as to age, nativity, length of residence, and all other matters necessary to determine their qualifications to become voters. All persons have had the right of appeal when they felt aggrieved and hundreds have appealed and their cases been determined by the courts. The right of appeal exists and will exist after the amendment is adopted. Since the inauguration of bi-partisan boards of registration appeal have been comparatively few, and we know of no cases where the registrars have been charged with a deliberate attempt to defraud any man of his right to register and vote.

Registrars may commit an error of judgement, but the right of appeal gives opportunity for correction. Now as to the power of registrars should the amendment be adopted. They will have to examine applicants for registration as to age, nativity, length of residence, etc., as at present. They will have power to inquire of white voters if they were entitled to vote in 1869, or prior thereto, or if they are descendants of men who were registered in that year or previously.

They will inquire of colored men if they can read. If they receive an affirmative answer they proceed to ask the applicant to read a section of the Constitution of Maryland and give a reasonable explanation of it. If the applicant is unable to read, a section is read to him and he must give a reasonable explanation of it. In either case the registrars are to determine whether the explanation is sufficiently reasonable to entitle the applicant to be registered.

WOMEN RULE IN SCHOOL

Exceed Number Of Male Teachers Three Times. Average Age Increasing. More Teachers Than Preachers, Doctors And Lawyers.

"School marm" in the United States outnumber male teachers nearly three to one, according to the census statistics of teachers soon to be published by the Government in the form of a special bulletin. Children in cities are taught for the most part by women and there is a gradually increasing proportion of older teachers. Proportionally there were twice as many teachers in 1900 as in 1870 and the larger cities are better supplied with teachers than the smaller cities and the country districts.

The discussion and analysis of the census statistics of teachers in this bulletin was written by Prof. Walter F. Wilcox, of Cornell University, who also prepared the bulletin recently issued showing a tendency toward so-called "race suicide." No distinction has been made in the statistics between teachers in schools and those in colleges and universities. The importance of the occupation is emphasized by the fact that the number of teachers exceeds the total number of clergymen, physicians and lawyers.

One Teacher To 71 Pupils. Few persons require the services of a professional teacher before they are 5 years old or after they have reached 25, and Professor Wilcox accordingly with a view of determining how the supply compares with the demand, has computed the ratio of the number of teachers to the total number of persons between the ages of 5 and 24 years. Thus he finds that in continental United States in 1900 there were 140 teachers for every 10,000 of the age specified, which represents one teacher for 71 potential pupils. According to this method of comparison, the supply of teachers is increasing and has more than doubled within the last 30 years, since in 1870 there were only 71 teachers to every 10,000 persons of teachable age.

In 1900 Nevada had the largest proportional number of teachers reported in any State or Territory. Vermont was the second State in this respect, Maine the third and Iowa the fourth. The proportion of teachers was smallest in some of the Southern States. During the last decade the proportion has increased in every State and Territory, the increase reaching a maximum in the State of Washington. The States of the North and West showed a greater increase than those of the South.

The proportion of teachers in continental United States is smaller than in England and Wales, but greater than in Germany, France, Italy, Canada, Mexico or Cuba, and in the following States the proportion is greater than in England and Wales; Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and California. During recent years the proportion of teachers increased in this country to a greater extent than in England, France, Germany or Canada.

How Teachers Are Distributed. In cities having at least 25,000 inhabitants the proportion is greater than in smaller cities or country districts, but this condition does not prevail in all divisions of the United States. In the North Atlantic and North Central divisions the larger cities are not so well supplied with teachers as are the smaller cities and country districts, a fact which has suggested to Professor Wilcox the inference that where an effective educational system is of recent growth it has developed more rapidly in the cities, but where it has been established for a generation or more it has established a larger ratio of teachers to population in the slowly growing rural districts than in the rapidly growing cities.

The immigrant population contains fewer teachers in proportion to its numbers than the negro population. The children of immigrants, however, have engaged in teaching to such an extent that the proportion of teachers among adults of this class exceeds the proportion among white children of native parents.

In continental United States, as in all countries for which figures were obtainable the greater part of the teaching was done by women. The excess of female teachers over males is greater in this country than in any other.

Women Far Exceed Men. The per cent of female teachers is increasing steadily, having advanced from 67.8 in 1880 to 70.8 in 1890 and to 73.4 in 1900. From 1890 to 1900 there was an increase in every State and Territory except New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York and New Mexico. The per cent of male teachers is higher in the South than in the North. There were relatively more male teachers in West Virginia than in any other State and fewer in Vermont, the respective percentages being 48.2 and 11.8. Somewhat more than one fourth of the white teachers were males, over one third of the negro teachers and nearly one half of the Indian and Mongolian teachers. For white teachers the proportion of males was highest among the foreign born and of females among native whites of foreign parentage. In the larger cities of every geographic division of the country about four fifths, or 80 per cent., of the teachers were women, while in the country the percentage of women teachers varied from 59.5 in the South Central division to 77.2 in the North Atlantic division. In the South the proportion of male teachers in the larger cities was twice as great as in the smaller cities and country districts, while in the North Atlantic States there was comparatively little difference between city and country in this respect.

POSITIVE PROOF.

H. W. Mumford, formerly printer of the Salisbury Advertiser, residing at 227 Newton Street, says: "If I was not perfectly satisfied that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon I never could be induced to recommend the remedy. I have the best of reasons for considering them unequalled."

On account of kidney complaint and pains in my back I have often been so bad I could hardly move from a chair and ever now and then I was compelled to lay off for a day or two.

During this last winter I was unable to do any work for three months. One doctor in Baltimore told me I had an incurable case of kidney complaint. I, of course, became very much alarmed about my condition and kept on trying this, that and the other remedy and was only through reading a very convincing statement in the newspaper that induced me to go to White & Leonard's Drug Store for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I took according to directions. My opinion of this remedy and it has been amply proven since it came to my notice is that for backache or kidney trouble in any form Doan's Kidney Pills are without a peer. I am better now than I have been at any time during the past three years.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.

When this tube is inflamed you have a rattling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever.

Several other cable methods followed, but it was not until 1893 that an actual experiment was attempted to pass coal between two vessels while at sea; this was done with an apparatus designed by Phillip B. Low, who improved upon Bell's idea, one end of the cable being attached to the deck of the receiving vessel, the other passing over a tackle block on the San Francisco where it was fastened to a massive iron weight.

By this arrangement the motion of the vessels was counteracted to a considerable extent. When it was desired to transfer a bag of coal it was hoisted to the masthead, where it was attached to the cable, when it readily traversed the length of the latter by gravity, the rope being somewhat inclined.

But at least a beginning had been made, and in March, 1893, just prior to our war with Spain, Mr. J. J. Woodard, a naval constructor of the United States navy, with a prophetic insight, submitted a plan to Secretary Long, which he recommended, and that had been drawn up for him by Mr. Spencer Miller, engineer of the Lighterwood Manufacturing company of New York, for an installation to be placed on board a collier and by which the vessel could coal any of the warships of our navy in the open sea.

Negotiations between the various parties interested were long continued, and not until Admiral Schley had sent his famous telegram was the work of construction really commenced; but by this time the history of the Spanish-American war had been made and written; the lessons it had taught were vividly impressed upon not only our naval authorities, but those abroad as well, for experiments were immediately begun in France, England and Japan. When the Spanish fleet did emerge from the Bay of Santiago there were only eleven of our ships on blockade duty, while three other vessels, representing an outfit of nearly $10,000,000, were at Guantanamo, fully equipped for service.

The full-sized apparatus was completed a little later, and the government designated the collier Marcellus as the vessel to be equipped for the practical demonstration, but before this was done the equipment was set up on land, where it was inspected by many higher officials of the navy, among them being the late Admiral Sampson, Commander Rodgers and Naval Constructor Bowers.

Down the "Red Lane." A country resident was driving home one dark night last week when, the way seeming long, he became uncertain whether or not he was on the right road. He stopped his cob at a cross-road, clambered out of the cart, crawled up on a fence, and struck a match to read the signboard, which he could dimly see outlined.

At the peril of his neck he deciphered the sign by the glare of the brimstone, and nearly toppled off the fence when he saw these words: "When in doubt use Smith's Good River Oil"—London 7th-Etts.

HOW BATTLESHIPS COAL

IDEA OF A LANDSMAN

Progress in the Difficult Naval Problem of Feeding the Bunkers of a Moving Fleet—Spencer Miller's Invention of a Marine Cableway.

In the art of warfare on the high seas in its present highly developed state there are a thousand and one vital factors that go with the imposing battleships, the gigantic guns and the armor-piercing projectiles; but of all these none is more important than the matter of coaling the ships, and the truth of this statement is readily shown, since it has been proved in every naval engagement since the time fighting craft were first fitted out with apparatus for steam propulsion and the dire need of obtaining a supply of coal during a crisis was rendered painfully obvious during the Spanish-American war, when Admiral (then Commodore) Schley sent to Admiral Sampson the following telegram: "Coaling off Cienfuegos is very uncertain. Having ascertained that the Spanish fleet is not here I will move eastward tomorrow, communicating with you at Nicholas Mole. On account of short coal supply in ships cannot blockade them if in Santiago. I shall proceed tomorrow, 25th, for Santiago, being embarrassed by Texas's short coal supply and our inability to coal in the open sea. I shall not be able to remain off that port on account of general short coal supply of squadron, so will proceed to vicinity of Nicholas Mole, where the water is smooth and I can coal the Texas and other ships with what coal may remain in hold."

Many have been the schemes evolved for a safe and practical method for coaling at sea, but the history of these interesting attempts seems to date back only to 1833, when Lieutenant R. S. Lowry, R. N., proposed that a number of coal boxes should be built, each having a capacity of one ton. These boxes were to have airtight compartments so that they could not sink, and were to be passed from a collier to the ships by means of a line, when they were to be hoisted to the deck, emptied and returned. This device was never tried, probably for the reason that it was deemed impracticable, its operation being too slow and complex to meet the requirements of fleets when in active service and it would hardly be needed at any other time.

A marine cableway, however, presents obvious difficulties, for instead of fixed points by which the rope may be kept taut there are the constantly moving boats, the masts of which accentuate the rise and fall and various rolling motions. Lieutenant Bell of the British navy was the first to propose the transmission rope method, which he did in 1838, when he suggested that the stern mast of the warship and foremost of the collier be connected by a suspended cable, just as though they were immovably fixed on land.

Several other cable methods followed, but it was not until 1893 that an actual experiment was attempted to pass coal between two vessels while at sea; this was done with an apparatus designed by Phillip B. Low, who improved upon Bell's idea, one end of the cable being attached to the deck of the receiving vessel, the other passing over a tackle block on the San Francisco where it was fastened to a massive iron weight.

By this arrangement the motion of the vessels was counteracted to a considerable extent. When it was desired to transfer a bag of coal it was hoisted to the masthead, where it was attached to the cable, when it readily traversed the length of the latter by gravity, the rope being somewhat inclined.

But at least a beginning had been made, and in March, 1893, just prior to our war with Spain, Mr. J. J. Woodard, a naval constructor of the United States navy, with a prophetic insight, submitted a plan to Secretary Long, which he recommended, and that had been drawn up for him by Mr. Spencer Miller, engineer of the Lighterwood Manufacturing company of New York, for an installation to be placed on board a collier and by which the vessel could coal any of the warships of our navy in the open sea.

BOOKER T. AND THE NEGRO

ever puzzled the brain of statesman or philosopher. No such problem ever before confronted the white man in his recorded history. It cannot be whitened by opportunists, politicians, weak-minded optimists or female men. It must be squarely met and fought to a finish.

Several classes of people at present obstruct any serious consideration of this question—the pot-house politician, the ostrich man, the pooh-pooh man, and the benevolent old maid. The politician is still busy over the black man's vote in doubtful states. The pooh-pooh man needs no definition—he was a born fool. The benevolent old maid contributes every time the hat is passed and is pretty sure to do as much harm as good in the long run to any cause.

I have a friend of this kind in New York. He got after me the other day somewhat in this fashion: "What do you want to keep agitating this infernal question for? There's no danger in it unless you stir it. Let it alone. I grant you that the negro race is a poor, worthless parasite, whose criminal and animal instincts threaten society. But the negro is here to stay. We must train him. It is the only thing we can do. So what's the use of wasting your breath?"

What about the future when you have educated the negro to such a point that he will be able to take care of himself?"

The ostrich man snorted. "We live in the present. What's the use of worrying about hell? If I can scramble through this world successfully I'll take my chances with the hell problem!"

My friend forgets that this was precisely the line of argument of our fathers over the question of negro slavery. When the constructive statesmen of Virginia (called pessimists and infidels in their day) foresaw the coming baptism of fire and blood (61 to 65) over the negro slave, they attempted to destroy the slave trade and abolish slavery. My friend can find his very own answer in the answer of their opponents.

The future take care of itself. The slaves are here and here they stay. Greater evils await their freedom. We need their labor. Let the question alone. There is no danger in it unless you stir it."

The truth which is gradually forcing itself upon thoughtful students of our national life is that no scheme of education or religion can solve the race problem, and that Mr. Booker T. Washington's plan, however high and noble, can only intensify its difficulties.

This conviction is based on a few fundamental facts, which no pooh-poohing, ostrich-dodging, weak-minded philanthropy or political rant can obscure.

The first one is that no amount of education of any kind, industrial, classical or religious, can make a negro a white man or bridge the chasm of the centuries which separate him from the white man in the evolution of human civilization.

Expressed even in the most brutal terms of Anglo-Saxon superiority there is here an irreducible fact. It is possibly true, as the negro, Professor Kelly Miller, claims, that the Anglo-Saxon is "the most arrogant and rapacious, the most exclusive and intolerant race in history." Even so, what answer can be given to his cold-blooded proposition: "Can you change the color of the negro's skin, the kink of his hair, the bulge of his lip or the beat of his heart with a spelling-book or a machine?"

What Abraham Lincoln said. No man has expressed this idea more clearly than Abraham Lincoln when he said: "There is a physical difference between the white and black races which, I believe, will forever forbid them living together on terms of social and political equality."

Whence this physical difference? Its secret lies in the soul of thousands of years of inherited progress which separates the child of the Aryan from the child of the African.

Buckle in his History of Civilization says: "The actions of bad men produce only temporary evil, the actions of good men only temporary good. The discoveries of genius alone remain: it is to them we owe all that we now have; they are for all ages and for all times; never young and never old, they bear the seeds of their own lives; they are essentially cumulative."

Judged by this supreme test, what contribution to human progress have the millions of Africans who inhabit this planet made during the past four thousand years? Absolutely nothing. And yet, Mr. Booker T. Washington in a recent burst of eloquence over his educational work boldly declares:

"The negro race has developed more rapidly in the thirty years of its freedom than the Latin race has in one thousand years of freedom."

Think for a moment of the pitiful puerility of this statement falling from the lips of the greatest and wisest leader of the negro race has yet produced!

Italy is the mother of genius, the inspiration of the ages, the creator of architecture, agriculture, manufactures, commerce, law, science, philosophy, finance, church organization, sculpture, music, painting and literature, and yet the American negro in thirty years has outstripped her thousands of years of priceless achievement!

Education is the development of that which is. The negro has held the continent of Africa since the dawn of history, crunching acres of diamonds beneath his feet. Yet he never picked one up from the dust until a white man showed to him its light. His land swarmed with powerful and docile animals, yet he never built a harness, cart or sled. A hunter by necessity, he never made an ax, spear or arrowhead worth preserving beyond the moment of its use. In a land of stone and timber, he never carved a block, saved a foot of lumber or built a house save of broken sticks and mud, and for four thousand years he gazed upon the sea yet never dreamed of a sail.

Who is the greatest negro that ever lived according to Mr. Booker T. Washington? Through all his books he speaks this man's name with bated breath and uncovered head—"Frederick Douglass of sainted memory!" And what did Saint Frederick do? Spent a life in bombastic vituperation of the men whose genius created the American republic, wore himself out finally drawing his salary as a federal officeholder, and at last achieved the climax of negro sainthood by marrying a white woman!

What Education Cannot Do. Says the author of Napoleon, Honorable Thomas E. Watson: "Education is a good thing, but it never did and never will alter the essential character of any man or race of men."

I repeat, education is the development of that which is. Behold the man whom the rags of slavery once concealed—nine millions strong! This creature, with a racial record of four thousand years of incapacity, half-child, half-animal, the sport of impulse, whim and conceit, pleased with a rattle, tickled with a straw, a being who, left to his will, roams at night and sleeps in the day, whose native tongue has framed no word of love, whose passions once aroused are as the tiger's—equality is the law of our life!—when he is educated and ceases to fill his useful sphere as servant and peasant, what are you going to do with him?"

The second big fact which confronts the thoughtful, patriotic American is that the greatest calamity which could possibly befall this republic would be the corruption of our national character by the assimilation of the negro race. I have never seen a white man of any brains who disputes this fact. I have never seen a negro of any capacity who did not deny it.

One thought I would burn into the soul of every young American (and who thinks of a negro when he says "American?")—this: Our republic is great not by reason of the amount of dirt we possess, or the size of our census roll, but because of the genius of the race of pioneer white freemen who settled this continent, dared the might of kings, and blazed the way through our wilderness for the trembling feet of liberty.

A distinguished negro college professor recently expressed himself as to the future American in one of our great periodicals as follows:

"All race prejudice will be eradicated. Physically, the new race will be much the stronger. It will be endowed with a higher intelligence and clearer conception of God than the whites of the west have ever had. It will be much less material than the American white of today. It will be especially concerned with the things of the mind, and moral excellence will become the dominant factor in the life of the new nation. The new race is to gain more from the black element than from the white."

We have here an accurate statement of the passionate faith of ninety-nine negroes out of every hundred. Professor Du Bois, author of The Souls of Black Folk, undoubtedly believes this. His book is a remarkable contribution to the literature of our race problem. In it for the first time we see the naked soul of a negro beating itself to death against the bars in which Aryan society has caged him! No white man with a soul can read this book without a tear. Mr. Charles W. Chestnut, the negro novelist, believes in amalgamation, for he told me so. Professor Kelly Miller, the distinguished negro teacher of Washington, believes it. In a recent article he declares:

"It is of course, impossible to conceive of two races speaking the same language, speaking the same language, worshipping according to the same ritual, and endowed with the same political and civil privileges without ultimately fusing. Social equality is not an individual matter, as man contend, but is rigorously under the control of public sentiment."

I commend the solid logic of these sentences from a thoughtful negro to the illustrious Society of Pooh-Poohs.

What is the attitude of Mr. Booker T. Washington on this vital issue? You will search his books and listen to his lectures in vain for any direct answer. Why? Because if he dared to say what he really is in his soul of souls believes, it would end his great career, both north and south. In no other way has he shown his talent as an organizer and leader of his people with such consummate skill as in the dexterity with which he has for 20 years dodged this issue, holding steadily the good-will of the southern white man and the northern philanthropist. He is the greatest diplomat his race has ever produced.

Yet he who reads and spoken words will find the same purpose and the same faith which his more blunt and fearless brethren have honestly and boldly proclaimed. He shows this in his worship of Frederick Douglass. In his book, The Future of the American Negro, we find this careful sentence:

"To state in detail just what place the black man will occupy in the south as a citizen when he has developed in the direction named is beyond the wisdom of any one."

Yet on page 6 he says:

"The surest way for the negro to reach the highest positions is to prepare himself to fill well at the present the basic occupations—Independent Industries, of course—for, mark you, 'Tuskegee Institute is not a servant-training school!'"

Again on pages 83 and 85 we are told: "There is an unmistakable influence that comes over a white man when he sees a black man lying in a two-story house that has been paid for. I need not stop to explain. Just in so far as we can place rich negroes in the south who can loan money to white men, this race question will disappear."

Why? The conclusion is obvious: The negro who holds a mortgage on a white man's house will ultimately demand and receive social recognition from him.

On page 66 of his Future of the American Negro he says: "The Jew, who was once in about the same position as the negro is today, has now recognition because he has entwined himself about America in a business and industrial way."

Again his conclusion is obvious. The absurdity of the comparison, however, is the important point in this sentence, not only for the pathetic ignorance of history it displays, but for the revelation of the writer's secret hopes and dreams.

The Jew has not been assimilated into our evil and social life because of his money—but for a very different reason. The Jew belongs to our race, the same great division of humanity. The Semitic group of the white race is, all in all, the greatest evolved in history. Their children have ever led the vanguard of human progress and achievements. A great historian and philosopher once said: "Show me a man of transcendent genius at any period of the world's history and I'll show you a man with Hebrew blood in his veins." Our prejudice against the Jew is not because of his inferiority, but because of his genius. We are afraid of him, we Gentiles who meet him in the arena of life, get licked and then make faces at him. The truth is the Jew had achieved a noble civilization—had his poets, prophets, priests and kings—when our Germanic ancestors were still in the woods cracking coconuts and hickorynuts with monkey keys. We have assimilated the Jew because his daughter is beautiful and his son strong in mind and body!

The Danger of a Nation Within a Nation.

The trouble with Mr. Booker T. Washington's work is that he is silently preparing us for the future heaven of amalgamation—or he is doing something equally dangerous, namely, he is attempting to build a nation inside a nation of two hostile races. In this event he is storing dynamite beneath the pathway of our children—the end at last can only be in bloodshed.

Mr. Washington is not training negroes to take their place in any industrial system of the south in which the white man can direct or control him. He is not training his students to be servants and come at the beck and call of any man. He is training them all to be masters of men, to be independent, to own and operate their own industries, plant their own fields, buy and sell their own goods, and in every shape and form destroy the last vestige of dependence on the white man for anything.

I do not say this is not laudable—I do not say that it is not noble. I only ask what will be its end for the negro when the work is perfect? Every pupil who passes through Mr. Washington's hand ceases forever to work under a white man. Not only so, but he goes forth trained as an evangelist to preach the doctrine of separation and independence.

The negro remains on this continent for one reason only. The southern white man has needed his labor, and therefore has fought every suggestion of his removal. But when he refuses longer to work for the white man, then what?

Mr. Booker T. Washington says on page 65 of his book: "The negro must live for all time beside the southern white man."

On what sort of terms are they to live together? As banker and borrower? Hardly, if the negro is the banker. Even now, with the white man still hugging the hoary delusion that he can't get along without the negro, he is being forced to look to the Old World for his labor. The simple truth is, the south will lag behind the world industrially in just so far as she depends on negro labor. The idea that a white man cannot work in the fields of the south without the aid of the negro is a delusion of the past. The cotton crop is raised by negro labor. Even now the relations of the races, with the negro an integral part of the white man's industrial scheme, become more and more difficult.

A Gulf That Grows Wide. Professor Kelly Miller says: "It is a matter of common observation that the races are growing further and further apart."

Mr. Washington says on this point: "For the sake of the negro, and the southern white man there are many things in the relations of the two races that must soon be changed" (page 66). "The point I raise is that education necessarily drives the races further and further apart, and Mr. Washington's brand of education makes the gulf between them if anything a little deeper. If there is one thing a southern white man cannot endure it is an educated negro. What's to be the end of it if the two races are to live forever side by side in the south?"

Mr. Washington says: "Give the black man so much skill and brains that he can cut oats like the white man—then he can compete with him."

And then the real tragedy will begin. Does any sane man believe that when the negro ceases to work under the hand of a southern white man, this "arrogant," "rapacious" and "intolerant" race will allow the negro to master his industrial system, take the bread from his mouth, crowd him to the wall and place a mortgage on his house? Competition is war—the most fierce and brutal of all its forms. Could fatuity reach a sublimer height than the idea that the white man will stand idly by and see this performance? What will he do when put to the test? He ## Found Drowned At Snow Hill In The Pocomoke.

Mr. Johnson Lewis, a Republican leader in Snow Hill district, was found drowned in the Pocomoke river, September 19. He had been missing for a number of days, and an organized search was made for him. The jury summoned found that his death was caused by accidental drowning. He was 40 years old and leaves a widow and one child. He was elected a delegate to the Republican convention a few days before his disappearance. Captain Wilson, of the steamer Mabel, found the corpse in the Pocomoke river three miles below Snow Hill.

LeFevre, formerly principal of the Cambridge Seminary, but now an attorney at Dover, Del., has secured a right of way through the streets of Smyrna, Del., for a new trolley line which will run from Clayton, Del., through Smyrna, on to Woodland Beach and thence down the State. Mr. LeFevre also made a proposition, which was accepted by the commissioners of Kent county, allowing the trolley company to have the right of way over the county roads of Kent county.

IN AND AROUND MARDELA.

The Springs Need Pushing Forward And More Advertising Judiciously Done. News Of The Week There.

Our summer boarders have about all gone and now we have gone back to our old ways. There were some delightful people here during the season and we wish for their return another year. The merits of the water are being circulated far and wide. A little common sense advertising would fill out hotel with guests. It is a pity that the property is being let run down. The owners had better rent it for less money rather than to have it closed for a whole season, as it has been this year. For a little care, the pavilion over the spring is falling down. I feel certain that our citizens would repair this. could they get the owners consent.

Who is going to order that our load of coal to supply the few in town who burn coal in the winter? It is time that it had materialized. The owners of the stove mill are having large lots of wood sawed in stove lengths, which they will retail this fall and winter.

Rev. B. G. Parker has been kindly remembered by his friends in his own congregation and in other churches. Last week a wagon well stocked with good things, drove up to the parsonage. Then since that time gifts have come from members of other churches. This was a surprise to the pastor, but greatly appreciated by him.

Mr. W. A. Rainey has moved the house he bought from Miss Lizzie Bounds, to his lot next to the M. P. Church. Mr. Rainey will have a nice front out to the building and then he and his wife will occupy it. Mr. Rainey has bought a tract of about three acres from Mr. Levin Wilson, at the rear of the stove mill property. Mr. Rainey will make a useful citizen in our town and we welcome him in our midst. He and his wife are members of the Branch Hill Baptist church. He is one of the officers of the church.

Mr. Wm. Hearn, well known and much respected by a large number of our citizens is now living quite ill at his home in Vienna.

It seems real quiet on our streets now, since the schools have opened. It is to be hoped that the children will make much of the long evenings, and master their lessons well. "The young ideas must be taught how to shoot." Parents should take an interest in the school. An occasional visit might be appreciated by those who are trying to train the minds of our children. A word of encouragement and appreciation would help the teachers in their arduous duties. Anybody can criticize, it takes neither grace nor brains. Faithful teachers, like preachers are under paid for the services they render.

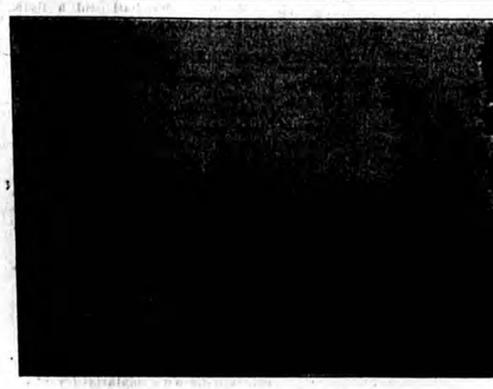

Mr. Wm. Venables, our oldest citizen seems as active and as industrious as many twenty years younger. It is evident that he does not intend to rust out. It is an inspiration to see the old man so full of pluck and determination. May he have many more years upon the earth. His children seem anxious to relieve him from toll and worry.

The town fathers have advertised for some one to light the street lamps on Main Street. Some of the citizens seem to be inclined to poke a little fun at the lamps. What is necessary is a little more patience. At first we did not understand the mechanism of the lamps, but now we are beginning to understand them better. Perhaps the time devise is a failure, for do as we might, they would smoke when going out. If we should go back to the old order of dark streets, we would soon see the benefit of lamps. So be patient; don't criticize, but help. It is evident to all right thinking people, that when the lamps are kept in order and properly lighted, they are a great improvement. The old Latin saying comes in well here, "abusus non tollit usum." Ask the school boys and girls to translate this.

Pastor Parker will preach in the Presbyterian church on Sunday night at 7.30.

GRAFT AND CORRUPTION CLOUD THE REPUBLICAN Administration During Last Three Years. Numerous Irregularities Have Occurred In Handling The People's Trusts. Heart Blows At Decent And Honest Government.

The tentacles of graft and corruption in the executive branch of the Government service have within the last three years touched the department of nearly every Cabinet officer. Within that period official wrong doing has been exposed in seven of the eight executive departments—the Navy Department being the only one where there have been no disclosures, although even there controversies have arisen over the letting of contracts.

The irregularities unearthed by accident or through probing have included embezzlement, forgery, bribery, falsification of vouchers and conspiracy to defraud the Government. The principal plague spots have been the Postoffice Department, the land and Indian divisions of the Interior Department and several branches of the Agricultural Department. Higher officials have been affected as well as lesser employes. In the postoffice irregularities the President employed Charles J. Bonaparte and Holmes Conrad as special counsel to handle the cases. Special counsel represents the Government in the Interior Department frauds. The cotton "leak" and other alleged scandals of the Department of Agriculture have resulted in the selection of ex-United States District Attorney Morgan H. Beach as special counsel to handle these prosecutions.

Frauds In Postal Contracts.

The disclosures in the Postoffice Department startled the country two years ago. It was hoped then that the searching investigation conducted by Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Joseph L. Bristow would have a salutary effect throughout the Government service. When the President received the Bristow report he declared in his memorandum of approval:

"No crime calls for sterner reprobation than the crime of the corrupt politician in public life and of the man who seeks to corrupt him. Both alike sin against the primary law of the State's safety. All questions of difference in party policy sink into insignificance when the people of this country are brought face to face with a question like this, which lies at the root of honest and decent government. On this question, and on all others like it, we can afford to have no division among good citizens. Self government becomes a farce if the representatives of the people corrupt others or are themselves corrupted. Freedom is not a gift which will carry long in the hands of the dishonest or of those so foolish or so incompetent as to tolerate dishonesty in their public servants."

In the face of this declaration from the President at the time of the postoffice scandals, corruption has reared its head in many other branches of the service and defalcations, forgeries and bribes have been exposed.

Conviction Of Barrows.

Three years ago this summer the exposures which have scandalized the service began in the cases of two disbursing officers who went wrong. On May 2, 1902, it became evident to Director Merriam of the Census Office, that there was a shortage in the accounts of H. H. Barrows, who then lived at Berwyn, Md., and was the disbursing officer of that office. His salary was $2,500 a year and he was bonded for $50,000. The services of two treasury experts were called in and on May 8, 1902, Barrows was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Charles H. Holliday, of the American Security Company, of New York, which had bonded Barrows, charging him with embezzlement of $7,495. Barrows was convicted and sent to the penitentiary and was released about two months ago.

Less than a year later, in March, 1903, the President directed Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow to investigate the alleged irregularities in the division of supplies, the division of money orders, free delivery division, the division of salaries and allowances and the office of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Postoffice Department. More than 40 inspectors were employed upon the work for seven months and the records of a thousand postoffices and files of the department for more than six years were examined.

Bristow's Fraud Report.

Mr. Bristow reported to the President that the system of organized corruption in the Postoffice Department that had been disclosed began in 1898 and continued until stopped by the investigation.

Somebody Got Over $300,000.

He reported that the total amount that the perpetrators of the alleged frauds themselves received could not be definitely learned, but would aggregate between $300,000 and $400,000, while the loss to the Government could not be estimated.

Ultimately many indictments were brought, 1 at Cincinnati, 1 at Baltimore, 3 at Brooklyn and 40 in Washington. Fifteen indictments were returned in Washington against Machen and others jointly indicted with him.

Machen Crowd In Prison.

The Government abandoned its indictment, July 31, 1903, against Machen, George E. Lorenz and William G. Crawford charging a violation of Section 540, and on April 31, 1905, new indictment was brought against them, charging conspiracy to defraud the Government in connection with the purchase of satchels and shoulder straps. On May 23 last Machen pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary.

Timber Lands Frauds.

Fraud next broke out in the Department of the Interior in connection with the timber lands of the West and the Indians of the Southwest. Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, has been tried and convicted in connection with the Oregon land frauds.

Cotton "Leak Found.

During the past summer the Agricultural Department in particular has been under fire on account of alleged irregularities. The Southern Cotton Association preferred charges to the effect that there was a leak in the Government cotton crop figures. The matter was turned over to the Secret Service for investigation, and Chief Statistician John Hyde resigned. His associate, Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., was suspended, and by direction of the President District Attorney Beach has inaugurated prosecutions. The grand jury is now investigating irregularities in the Department of Agriculture. He has thus far handed down two indictments against Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., Frederick A. Fekham and Moses Haas. These indictments were filed August 22 last and allege violation of Section 540, relating to bribery. Holmes is out on $10,000 bond pending trial. Haas, who lives in New York is resisting extradition, and his case will come up in New York next Friday.

Dr. George T. Moore, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, was criticized in connection with his nitro process and resigned under fire. Dr. D. E. Salmon was charged with irregularities in the Bureau of Animal Industry, but was exonerated in a report made by Solicitor McCabe, of the Department of Agriculture.

In The War Department There Is An Investigation Into Irregularities Alleged To Have Grown Out Of The Furnishing Of Supplies To The Schuykill Arsenal At Philadelphia.

Smithsonian Lost $46,000.

Nor has the Smithsonian Institution been free from irregularities. On June 5, 1905, Frank M. Barnett, principal clerk of the Bureau of Ethnology

HONEST ELECTIONS

Becoming Expedient As Well As A Necessity. Reform Is Better Than Exposure. Which Will It Be?

In view of the numerous exposures of graft and political corruption generally, and disclosures of names of conspicuous citizens connected therewith, all coming so rapidly and from so many unexpected sources, it begins to look as if a restoration of honest elections has become both a political necessity and expedient.

There are many "prudential" reasons for honest elections in Wicomico county and for the reform to begin at the political headquarters of the Democratic and Republican organizations. During the taking of testimony in the congressional contest, an exposure was threatened and was said to be right at hand but was averted for reasons not disclosed, but said to be "prudential."

The fact is that the organizations have so worked their machines as to compel citizens who would take an active part in party politics, to become either independent of party management, or wholly indifferent to politics. And the latter class is unfortunately increasing in number.

We have 6000 registered voters of whom from 3000 to 3500 are said to take money; and from 200 to 300 in both parties, directly and indirectly engaged in vote buying; leaving over 3000 non-boodlers who permit themselves to be exploited by the few hundred boodle workers who are constantly saying it can't be stopped.

Let the members of the organizations cleanse these headquarters which all admit are the source of our corrupt practices and we will have honest elections right speedily, and an increase of true party spirit and party workers. J. E. E.

Marriage Of Miss Truitt To A Worcester Man.

Mr. J. Herman Perdue and Miss E. May Truitt were quietly married last Monday by Elder Peniston at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Truitt, on East Church Street.

The bride wore a traveling suit of brown panama cloth with hat and gloves to match.

They left on the early train for Baltimore, Washington and Pen Mar. On their return they will reside at Snow Hill, Md.

under the Smithsonian, was indicted for forgery, it being alleged that he obtained several hundred dollars by raising some vouchers. On June 9, 1903, he pleaded not guilty, but when the case was called for trial he forfeited his bond. Several months ago William W. Karr, disbursing clerk of the National Museum, which is directly under the Smithsonian institution, was alleged to have been a defaulter in the sum of about $46,000 passing through his hands in connection with the exchange of international scientific publications. He was arrested on a charge of embezzlement and on June 28 last was released on $15,000 bond pending the action of the grand jury in this case.

WICOMICO IMMIGRATION

Continues From All Points Of The Compass. Western And Northern People In Particular Find It Attractive. 10 Acres At 400 Per Acre.

Still they come, more and more to the attractive Eastern Shore. Investors and farmers, those in search of a beautiful home site, those seeking agricultural advantages or the travelers for health are fast re-settling here where all these favors and many more possessed in the confines of the Shore await their coming. And Wicomico is getting her share, more, may be, than the other counties in this section so generously endowed by Nature, but she deserves to.

Wicomico invites them in every particular through her people, fine farms, commercial and educational advantages, water and railroad facilities, etc.

Then the real estate brokers here do the rest. They are alive and aggressive, ever on the look out and many a western, northern or southern immigrant owes improved health and more prosperous, happier conditions to their efforts in setting forth the inducements of a home and a farm in this county.

Mr. Affra Fooks sold last Saturday to Mr. M. B. Hotchkiss of New Haven, Conn., his farm near South Salisbury containing ten acres. This is a beautiful home and the land is in a splendid state of improvement. The price paid was $4000, this being $400 per acre and probably the highest price ever realized for land in Wicomico county for agricultural purposes. Mr. Hotchkiss contemplates engaging largely in the poultry business (with about 600 hens) also fruit and market gardening. Failing health induced him, like many others, to come to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, which has such a reputation for its health restoring qualities and we predict for him a great improvement in the near future. He is a retired druggist. The sale was made through R. Frank Williams, Real Estate Agency.

Mr. Williams also reports the sale of Mr. Geo. R. Parker's farm in Nutters district, containing ten and one half acres to Mr. Joseph M. Holloway. Price paid was $600. Also the vacant building lot on the west side of Canddn Avenue, belonging to Mr. Arthur R. Leonard to Mr. T. R. Jones, of Quantico, Md. Consideration $650. We understand Mr. Jones contemplates building on this lot soon.

At The Academy—Baltimore Next Week.

Beginning next Monday, September 25th, Henry W. Savage will bring his aviary of rare song birds to the Academy of Music, Baltimore, with very near all the original company that was in much favor last season. The inimitable Bulger will be with the rest of the birds. Ida Malle is also to return in her old part of the gossamer Mrs. Polly Parrot. Walter Lawrence, who is well known in Baltimore, will sing the part of Robin Red breast. Mr. Savage will introduce us to a new and sweeter Nightingale, Miss Magda Dahl, a recruit from his English Grand Opera Company. The chorus, which will be remembered as one of great beauty, both of voice and form, has received greater argumentation by the addition of some of the famous "Flower Maidens" chorus which proved so great an attraction with Mr. Savage's grandly beautiful production of "Parsifal" last year.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment. I continued with the Soap and Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address, Mrs. Altie Elson, Bellevue, Mich."

Mr. W. E. Towns of Worcester, Mass., was in town during the past week representing the Masonic Protective Association of Worcester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, of Wilmington, Del., visited their aunt, Mrs. Joshua W. Wheaton, North Main Street during the week.

All the Oystermen we have spoken to say that the oyster set here is exceptionally good this year and they are expecting to realize good prices when the season opens which is generally later here than the north, owing to warmer weather.

Mr. Wm. M. Walls, of Crumpton, Md., came down last week to spend a few weeks with his niece, Mrs. Edgar Bratten.

Mr. Louis B. Dishrow, of Ridgely Park, Pa., son of our old and venerable townsmen, Mr. N. E. Dishrow, visited the Island during the past week. Mr. Dishrow was accompanied by Mr. E. J. Whitehead, who is president of the North American Mercantile Agency Company of New York City. They were both here in the interest of that Company. This is one of the finest collective agencies in the country and is well patronized by our oyster dealers here and elsewhere.

Mr. D. J. Wheaton is having installed throughout his handsome residence a hot water heating system. The work is being done by Biddle Bros., of Philadelphia. His is one of the finest residences in the south with all modern conveniences. A fine iron fence and cement walk has just been completed by Contractor W. B. Price, Camden, New Jersey, which gives it a fine appearance, being built around the front and side. It would be a good thing if some of our other property owners would build walks in front of their residences, it would improve the appearance of the town considerably, let alone their own property.

Miss Katie Messick after spending the summer with relatives here returned to Wilmington, Del., Saturday, where she has a position at Lippincott's store.

Merchant C. H. Tingle, down the Island, visited relatives in Delaware during the past week.

Mr. J. H. Colborn of Hoztown, Va., paid our Island a visit during the past week and while here he visited us at the office and paid his subscription for the Oysterman and says he finds it a valuable paper for those who are in the oyster business.

Now is the time for all the Oyster Growers on the Island to have their cards inserted in the Oysterman's Directory, the price is only one dollar per year and it will enable you to get better in touch with dealers throughout the country. Give it a trial for one year and you will be convinced of its value to you.

Capt. J. J. Reynolds left Wednesday for Richmond, Va., to have his lower lip examined by Dr. Kellam at the Kellam Hospital, which he recently succeeded in healing up and if it should be necessary he will remain and undergo treatment there until pronounced cured by Dr. Kellam, who is an authority on cancers. We hope Capt. Reynolds fears are groundless and that it will not be necessary to undergo any treatment there.

Mr. John H. Howard, who has been assisting Mr. Geo. W. Munger at his barber shop the past few months left for his home at Seitzland, Pa., during the past week.

Mr. Frank D. Wallace who has been on the Island for several days, representing the Odd Fellows Brotherhood Protective Association of Boston, Mass., left for Parkersley, Va., Monday to engage in same business. While there he met with very good success. Quite a number took out a policy. It is certainly something that every Odd Fellow should look into, and a policy they should not hesitate to take out for that is something that pays you while you live and the cost is a matter of small amount, if you get sick or hurt you get a good big weekly benefit that will as a rule pay expenses while you are sick.

The public schools opened here Monday with a large attendance with Mr. J. P. Snead from Western Virginia, principal for High School, Miss Gladys Matthews; First Assistant, Miss Luella Burton Second Assistant, Miss Meta Davis; Third Assistant, Miss Elodie K. Jones; Fourth Assistant, Miss Vesta

Some naughty boys amused themselves a few days ago at the Nelson camp ground by breaking out window panes in the tents. We are informed that some one has taken the masts out of the wreck of M. P. Howlett that went ashore on the Assateague beach last April. This gentleman loved the masts to Norfolk and sold them. This is bad manners to say the least, for he might have consulted the owner before going to all this trouble. It was bad enough for Mr. Howlett to lose 1164 bushels of plants besides his fine schooner, but it is adding insult to injury to dismantle the boat and dispose of it without asking his permission. We hope that no Chincoteague would do this, for our Island has been noted for its hospitality to storm driven owners and men.

"Humpty Dumpty" At Uiman's Opera House. Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall: Not all the king's horses Nor all the king's men Could put Humpty Dumpty back again."

How familiar are the above lines; what memories they conjure up: what dear dead faces they bring before our eyes. The mother's whispered song to still our childish petulance, or to draw our infant minds from our childish sorrows. "Humpty Dumpty" with all attractiveness including Little Goody Two Shoes, Boy Blue, Old One-Two, and the good fairy, and not forgetting his terrible Satan's Majesty, together with the beautiful Columbine and the agile Harlequin, amid scenic beauty of dazzling magnificence and interspersed with a potpourri of vaudeville, comic opera and pantomime, all rich in visual effects and presented with all the detail of a grand spectacular production, will be at Uiman's Grand Opera House on 25th, of September. The Farmer's Wife. is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are exactly akin to the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach churn is "sour" it sours all which is put into it? The evil of a foul stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of the blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant and no narcotic.

Letter to Geo. Tindle. Dear Sir: The Fair Ground buildings, Cobscook Hill, N. Y., were painted Devco last year. Two other-paint agents said the job would take 160 gallons their price was (15 cents less a gallon). Our agent said not over 125. It took 115. We saved 'em at least $40 on paint and labor. The American House, Tannecoville, N. Y., was painted two coats last year; not Devco. Mr. Charles Haner, across the street, put on one coat Devco. Mr. Witse (American House) is sorry he didn't paint Devco. Haner's one coat was better than Witse's two. Depends on the paint. Yours truly F. W. Devco & Co. P. S. The L. W. And Now The Oyster.

The oyster season opened on 15. A number of oyster captains have been traversing the bay lately and trying the bottoms. "The prospects were never brighter for a tremendous crop; everybody can eat oysters this winter," they say.

September 1 hundreds of crabs in newly painted boats turn tongs, and every day their ranks will grow until October 1, when there will be 5,000 oystermen handling tongs in a manner giving not the slightest hint that a month previous they were taking or picking crabs.

On October 15 dredging boats will begin work in the Potomac river, and in November in the Chesapeake. 600 dredgers were working in the bay last winter. The Sun says: "As is to be expected, all oyster people are discussing the Haman Oyster Culture bill."

"The bill suits me, almost, but I would like to see 'such and such' provisions contained in it," says one large oysterman. "Oh, that fellow wants the bill changed so that he will be benefitted personally," said another.

Strength Of Mussels.

The Maryland Outlook.

Friday, Sept. 1st, the oyster tonging season in this State began. The season for the taking of oysters by means of scrapers, in the deeper waters of the bay will open October 15th, and the Chesapeake bay dredging season will begin November 1st.

September 1st is now over two weeks gone and the prophets say a fine season for oysters is on the way. Yes, even more oysters to make glad the heart of Maryland than have been taken in any year for the past 10 or 15 seasons.

Another sign which is said to indicate a favorable year is that thus far but few mussels have been taken up; last year the presence of the mussel had much to do with the very unsatisfactory season. The hard freeze last winter gave the oysters an excellent chance to increase, as the season closed early and the trade toward the latter part was very poor.

Since 1885 the production of oysters has fallen from 7,405,93 bushels to 62,877,861, in 1901, and it has become very evident to the intelligent people of the State, to the scientists upon the subject, legislators and practical oystermen that the State should take steps to prevent the extermination of the oyster by renting the beds and cultivating the oysters.

TELEPHONE IN THE HOME.

How The People Of Salisbury Appreciate The Service Rendered By The Diamond State.

It seems almost incredible, but it is a fact nevertheless, that of the three hundred and forty six telephones in Salisbury, one hundred forty-seven of them are residence telephones.

The foregoing figures also show that there are 147 house keepers in this city who have learned that a telephone is not an expense, but a saving in the household. They have learned that it allows in all weathers, that the butcher, grocer, baker and doctor are all within their immediate call.

This service costs $1.25 a month, and if you stop and consider the quality of the service rendered and that we serve you twenty-four hours a day, 365 days each year, you cannot but think that we ask small pay for the service rendered. Call or write the contract department, Diamond State Telephone Company, Salisbury, Md., and we will gladly give you any information regarding telephone service.

For The Housewife.

In housekeeping liberality is often the best economy, particularly at the beginning of winter, when the wise expenditure of a considerable sum on the season's food supply may mean the saving of many a dollar.

ONE Our records, extending over a period of 35 years, show that only one person in 200 fails to find relief and cure in NELATON'S REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM-- only one in 200 asks for money back. Here is telling testimony: I have used Nelaton's Rheumatic and Joint Remedy for many years both upon myself for Gout and in my practice for both Gout and Rheumatism; found it to be all they claim it to be. I have never met with a case of Rheumatism or Gout that it did not give speedy relief. Dr. J. C. Drickson, M. D., Berlin, Md. NELATON REMEDY CO., Baltimore, Md.

There Is Money In Growing GINSENG PROF. W. L. HOWARD, of the Missouri State Agricultural College, says: "I advise American farmers to cultivate Ginseng. Big profits may be realized. It is a hearty plant and is easily grown." A recent report issued by the Pennsylvania State Agricultural College in part says: "The supply of native Ginseng root is continually diminishing, and the price per pound is correspondingly increasing, while the constant demand for the drug in China stands as a guarantee of a steady market for Ginseng in the future." The market for our cultivated root will exist as long as the Chinese exist." Consul-General W. A. Rublee, of Hong Kong, says, in the U. S. Consular report: "The sale of Ginseng root grown in America is very large here, and the demand is so great that much more could be disposed of advantageously. The root is as indispensable to the 400,000,000 Chinese as is their rice." Ginseng is a staple on the market the same as corn, wheat and cotton. The present market price varies from $5 to $8 per pound, according to quality, while the cost of production does not exceed $1.50. There is room in an ordinary garden to grow several hundred dollars worth each year. The plant is hardy and thrives in all parts of the United States and Canada, except in the arid regions. We are successful growers and can show you how to make money growing Ginseng. You can get a good start in the business for a small outlay, and soon have a comfortable income. We have several thousand choice roots for sale for fall delivery. The planting season begins in August and continues until the ground is frozen. Write us today for further particulars. Only once in the history of the local Weather Bureau was this record equaled and that was in August, 1870, when, according to the statistics at the weather office, it rained almost continuously for 14 days. This record has never been equaled in August or any other month in the annals of the Baltimore Weather Bureau. There were 6 clear days, 14 cloudy and 11 partly cloudy days and 13 rainy days.

A "Dry" Man. A dry man will always be found whenever you find a man inside of one of Lacy Thoroughgood's new Fall and Winter Rain Coats. He can't help but be dry. A rain coat is an insurance against hard times. No man who wears a good rain coat ever gets hard up—at least he never has to soak his clothes—and if he owns an umbrella he can always put that up if he gets caught. Lacy Thoroughgood sells good rain coats that won't leak—they make you the finest kind of an overcoat. The best ones made are out extra long and extremely loose, are made of all kinds of beautiful cloth. Think of it! You can buy one for $12.50; that's different from $25. Thoroughgood's best sellers are $16.50, but they are worth $80 in some stores; anyway they get it. Have you investigated Thoroughgood's new Fall and Winter Overcoats? We haven't a poor overcoat in our store. Our best ones are $18 and $20, our next best ones are $16.50 and $16, next $15, next $12.50 next $10, next $8.50. You can't tell the difference between the $8.50 and the $10.00. Lacy Thoroughgood can, though, and he'll give them to you straight. He always sells goods right, and the people find every statement a fact. The men folk are cordially invited to come and see our new Rain Coats and Overcoats, to see the new Clothes for fall, to try them on, pose in front of the glass, tell which you like and which you don't like. There are thousands of people who trade here, not only because they pay for what they get, but they get what they pay for. You pay for a rain coat that won't leak and you'll get it, for an overcoat that won't fade and you'll get it, and you'll get it at the right price.

CONWAY'S RESOLUTION

Conway was in trouble. The telegram on his desk was the disquieting cause. It is nothing unusual for a telegram to bring bad news, but Conway's countenance told of perplexity rather than distress.

"I suppose I'm stupid," she said, "but I really can't think who you are. I'm sure you aren't Pearl." This was a little laugh.

Conway did not know it well enough. He eagerly clutched the card she held out to him. Then he started, for the name "Miss Pearl Conway" was so like his own that in an instant the mystery of the telegram flashed upon him.

CONWAY'S RESOLUTION

Conway was in trouble. The telegram on his desk was the disquieting cause. It is nothing unusual for a telegram to bring bad news, but Conway's countenance told of perplexity rather than distress.

When at length the train pulled in there seemed a discouraging preponderance of elderly women and waitresses, accompanied by their families.

Marie seemed glad to see him, but at the same time her face wore a puzzled expression.

"I suppose I'm stupid," she said, "but I really can't think who you are. I'm sure you aren't Pearl." This was a little laugh.

Marie clutched on. "You know I didn't telegraph till this morning, and then I didn't know anything about Pearl's downtown address, except that she was employed somewhere in the Monodock building."

It was a crucial moment. "Where shall I have it sent, please?" asked Conway.

"Why, to Pearl's, of course. Here's the address, though I suppose you know it well enough," with an arch look.

Conway departed much cast down. "I shall never see her again, of course," he said. "Yet she's killing me pretty. If I met her on the street I should want to run. I might have explained if it hadn't seemed so ridiculous to tell her that I imagined that I had known her somewhere and forgotten her."

Our farmers seem to be living easy these fall days with fodder mostly saved, clover looking fine, plenty of apples and a good prospect for a big crop of sweet potatoes.

Our public school opens Monday. We heartily wish the school and teacher much success for their labor the coming school term.

Gilbert and Company's new Stave Mill, near Columbia will begin manufacturing staves Monday. The Company will employ from seven to ten men which means much to the laboring class in this community.

As canning season for tomatoes is near a close our canners can estimate the crop very close. They say yet there is only one half crop in this locality. They expected if the crop was good, to pack fifteen thousand cases of goods, but under the existing conditions will not get half that amount.

We are glad to welcome home again Miss Laura Knowles, who has been in the Hospital in Salisbury undergoing an operation for appendicitis. She says she feels perfectly well again and after gaining some strength will be able to resume her former duties.

In the south corner of Delaware stands a boundary stone, which marks the line between the Diamond State and its sister State Maryland. Some time ago your correspondent was riding along the county road nearest the stone. There the team was stopped and over he bounded to once stand on the stone which probably was planted there with no little difficulty among the wilds. While standing there facing the East the wide Atlantic Ocean which the line strikes. Facing North one would think of it striking the southern boundary of Pennsylvania, which is famous as the Mason and Dixon line. Thoughts are too numerous to write while in a position like this, so we will be content and leave the rest to be figured out by our Psychology readers.

FRUITLAND.

Rev. W. W. White will preach on tomorrow (Sunday) as follows: Siloam, 10.30 a. m. St. Luke's, 3 p. m. Fruitland, 7.45 p. m.

TO IMPROVE THE BEACH

Property At Ocean City. The New Improvement Company Meets Approval Of Residents. Planning A Large Resort.

The announcement of the sale of the John F. Waggaman interests on Sinepuxent Beach, which included the Atlantic and Seaside Hotels, Casino, electric light plant and upward of 4,500 platted lots gives great satisfaction to the permanent residents here, who, without exception, express themselves very much encouraged with the present outlook.

Numerous improvements to cottages and the smaller hotels are in contemplation and in several instances active work has commenced. This change of ownership of so large a part of the town will act as a stimulant, which has been very much needed.

Ocean City is as much in need of outside influences as it is in need of outside capital; therefore, it is hoped and expected that the active men of the new company will not hesitate to assert themselves. This is in no sense intended to reflect upon the permanent population, for as a class the men, and women too, are "whole souled" and willing to be taught. They will follow competent leaders.

Views Of Mayor And Councilmen.

Mayor Liddiam is very enthusiastic over the matter of the purchase. He says: "While regretting to part with the active help of Mr. Waggaman, for whom I have much sincere regard, yet I am delighted to hear of the organization of the Ocean City Development Company. From what I can learn of the men composing the company I am sure we will all soon realize the benefits of the change. We have long wanted such a movement. Speaking for myself only, although I believe I express the sentiment of every resident of Ocean City, it will be my utmost endeavor to help make the company just what its name implies."

Councilman Cropper is very expressive in his delight. "You ask me if I am pleased?" he said. "Well, don't I look like it?" Councilman Powell said: "Mr. Waggaman and I have long been friends, and I am really sorry that we will not see so much of him hereafter, but at the same time, I am glad a change of ownership has been made and that a company has been organized to take the property. I have heard of Mr. Woodland, the president of the company, and I hope I will soon know him intimately, for I am told he means to push right ahead in this enterprise. You can depend upon my hearty support, for I know we will all profit by the success of the company."

Local Association.

An "Ocean City Citizens' Association" is about to be organized and weekly meetings will be held throughout the winter, when, among other things, plans will be formulated for advancing the general welfare of Ocean City. A committee probably will wait on the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia, with a view to having them become more interested in the development of Ocean City. There is also some talk of an effort being made to get the annual report of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen for next year. Experienced oarsmen have declared Sinepuxent bay to be one of the finest waters for rowing and sailing in America.

What Mr. Woodland Says.

Mr. John Woodland, president of the Ocean City Development Company, made a hurried visit to Ocean City on Thursday. He says it is the purpose of his company to soon inaugurate, in co-operation with the Mayor and Council and owners of property there, a development plan which contemplates many radical and desirable improvements. "It will be my effort," he said, "to stimulate all owners of property to build and further improve their holdings, and I will heartily join in any move calculated to not only help further popularize the ocean front of the State as a health and pleasure resort, but also as a section for safe and profitable investment. Few localities in my judgement, present a better opportunity, and I am candid enough to admit that it is but recently that I came to such a realization. The natural advantages for development are manifest and far surpass, so far as I can learn, any other point along the entire Atlantic. All that appears to me lacking for rapid development is intelligent and aggressive effort. It will be my personal aim, as will be the case with everyone interested with me in this company, to hasten the substantial growth of Ocean City and

Ayer's Hair Vigor Sometimes the hair is not properly nourished. It suffers for food, starves. Then it falls out, turns prematurely gray. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair food. It feeds, nourishes. The hair stops falling, grows long and heavy, and all dandruff disappears. My hair was coming out terribly. I was almost bald to the roots. I got Ayer's Hair Vigor promptly stopped the falling, and also restored the natural color. Mrs. E. G. W. Ward, Lansing, N. J. READ A BOTTLE. ALL DRUGGISTS. For Poor Hair

TO FIGHT OIL TRUST.

Kansas United in Great Fight to Save the Industry.
Topeka.—It has been proposed that an organization which shall unite all the forces in Kansas in favor of a plan for state control of the industry through the establishment of state-owned storage tanks, pipelines, and pipe line shall be created. It is estimated that $10,000,000 will be required and it is held that State bonus for this amount can easily be floated.

Another plan is to form a company with $50,000,000 capital, and so organized that the Standard will be forever excluded from a voice in its management. This company is to construct and own all gas wells, pipe lines, storage tanks, refineries, pumping plants, telegraph and telephone lines, gas plants, vessels and everything required in the conduct of its business, including docks, wharves and even railroad lines. There will be $20,000,000 preferred and $30,000,000 common stock.

The first work of the new concern will be to provide storage tankage for its shareholders, and thus enable all plants to keep going continuously. To take care of five to six millions barrels of oil will require an outlay of approximately $1,000,000. The tanks will be begun immediately upon the organization of the company and completed as rapidly as possible.

Then comes a system of local pipe lines and a big pipe line from the suburbs of Kansas City on the north to Muskogee, I. T., on the South to get the oil to the tank farms. After this come the ambitious features of the programme. The building of a pipe line to Fort Arthur, Texas; the construction of wharves and docks at that place, and refineries at other places, and the shipping of oil to markets.

This would mean 500 miles of pipe line in Kansas, 500 miles in the Indian Territory and 1,200 miles in Texas—a total of 2,700 miles. At an average cost of $7,000 a mile, and this is above the average cost, the pipe line investment would approximate $19,000,000. The pumping stations would cost another $1,000,000. The docks and terminal facilities at Fort Arthur would cost perhaps $2,000,000 more. Three or four or five refineries would bring the total to $18,000,000, or possibly $20,000,000. According to the plan there would be left in the treasury as working capital from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 in stock to be sold at such times as necessary.

Medicine Man's Private Car.
St. Louis, Mo.—A private car just built by a Western shop is one of the most wheel palaces ever made. It is the property of a medicine showman who has acquired wealth by retelling nostrums with the aid of a variety show.

The forward end of the car is fitted with a caldron, in which is compounded the "nature's herb restorer." Back of this is a sleeping room for the patient and next this the "doctor's" office and bedroom. In addition to a double seat berth there is a desk and a cabinet for holding remedies. The rear of the car is a saloon and waiting room for patients, ending in an observation platform.

The exterior is in olive green and only a gilt legend, where the name of the road would ordinarily be put gives a hint of the purpose to which the car is devoted.

The laboratory will be partly occupied by a large tent in summer and early fall which is set up in some central locality in a town. Here each afternoon and evening vaudeville specialties are presented for a free admission fee, three before and two after the lecture by the "doctor." The remedies are of the simplest sort.

Big Farm for State Convicts
Jackson, Miss.—Gov. Vardaman and Commissioners Brady and McNair have returned from the Sunflower Plantation, where they investigated conditions there with a view of determining whether it would be wise to put all the convicts on this farm.

It seems probable that at the next meeting of the Board an order will be passed to concentrate all the convicts on this plantation. If the order is passed it will mean that the State will rent no more land, but will take the convicts from the rented places and put them on the new farm.

There are now on the new farm half the prison population of the State, or six hundred men, and there are six thousand acres of land under cultivation. There are still about eight thousand acres of land on the place un-cleared.

The concentration of most of the convicts on one plantation, owned and operated by the State, has been sought for years by those who have interested themselves in prison reform in this State.

New Discovery of Kelp.
Tacoma, Wash.—William D. Crane, a New York scientist, has completed an examination of the kelp found in Noah Bay, inside Cape Flattery. He believes it can be successfully utilized as a basis for the manufacture of iodine. Crane has gone to Japan, but will return next summer to finish his experiments. He will also investigate the fossil beds in Georgia Straits which seem to him to possess important commercial possibilities.

For many years iodine has been manufactured from kelp found on the coast of Scotland. Kelp is plentiful in many parts of the world, but as a rule its quality is too poor to warrant its use for iodine.

An analysis of the Puget Sound kelp made at the University of Washington shows that iodine can be made from the local product, though it is not as strong in iodine as the kelp gathered on the Scottish coast.

Down on the Farm.
"Yes, stranger," said the farmer, with his hat on his head, "this is a first-class summer resort."
"Indeed!" exclaimed the city arrival, rather doubtfully. "Have you a string orchestra at meals?"
"Wa-al, no, stranger; but we have string beans."

Fateful Letters.
He popped, and then said he:
"Oh, let your answer be,
Not letters two, but three."
"Just as you please," said she;
"My answer's 'N-I-E'."—Phila. Press.

WHAT JEAN SAW. Jean is 20 and pretty, but her ideas about what is and is not proper are just as positive as they could be if she were 40 and plain. She came home from Mackinac last week without a sign of a chaperon or escort of any kind. The first morning out she buttoned her brown jacket, pinned her brown cap to her brown curls and started for a brisk walk on deck. Twenty times around the boat was her programme and her path carried her past crowds of people snuggled in chairs with their feet on the rounds of other chairs, chatting, reading, dreaming. She saw them all in the mass lamenting their general indolence in a strictly impersonal fashion until, the first time round, she came on two persons sitting near the stern of the boat, who caught her attention in a different way. They were in a retired nook on the sunny side, aloof from every one else but equally aloof from each other as far as companionship went. The girl—an attractive little figure in dark blue, with a roseleaf complexion under a white corduroy cap—had placed her chair so that its back was emphatically turned to the man, who was to all appearances an intruder in her cozy corner. The wretch that he was sat there with his cap pulled over his eyes, a book held upside down in his hands and his impertinent gaze fixed on the pink ear and fluffy back hair of the girl who was trying to ignore him. All this Jean saw in one quick glance as she hurried past and it made her blood boil. She decided not to stop at once, however. The following pictures this couple made for her horrified contemplation as she came upon them time after time in her rounds of the deck: 1. Girl intent on studying a peering barge. Man intent on studying girl. 2. Man picking up comb that has slipped from the girl's back hair. Girl receiving it coldly, blind to his smile and lifted cap. 3. Man leaning forward to gaze with laughing appeal into girl's face. Girl flushing indignantly, twisting away and fairly hunching her shoulder, in disdain of his attention. 4. Man suddenly thrusting his book right side up now—under girl's eyes, while his finger marks a certain passage. Girl glancing down at it involuntarily and the next instant scornfully looking the other way. 5. Man, with mischievous insolence, moving his chair so that it directly faces girl. Girl haughtily changing the position of hers so that its back is toward the man once more. 6. Girl gathering up her belongings as if to go. Man catching her by the hand. Girl lingering. "Oh, I ought to stop it!" thought Jean, as she marched on. 7. Girl seated again, though with reluctant manner, not resting. 8. Man with girl's hand in his. Girl with eyes downcast. Man murmuring something earnest and continuous. Jean had not been around the boat twenty times, but after she passed that last tableau she felt that in the interests of propriety something must be done. If that young girl didn't know enough to behave by herself some one would have to help her! Jean was tingling with the reformer's courage as she neared the couple on the tenth round. She came up behind them as noisily as she could. She stopped and tapped the railing with her toe; she coughed. They were deaf and blind. The shameless man had an arm around the unspeakable girl and the next minute—yes, he actually kissed her! And she let him! Jean stood paralyzed. Before she had come to her senses voices sounded behind her. Two young women were approaching, making noise enough for six. Yet that oblivious man's arm never even changed its place. To Jean's amazement, one of the liveliest girls stopped up and tapped him on the shoulder. "Excuse the interruption, Mr. Vandermode," she said, mischievously, "but I want to introduce my friend to your wife. Miss Atkinson, Mrs. Vandermode." Vandermode jumped up. Mrs. Vandermode, released, straightened her white corduroy cap and bowed serenely. Vandermode placed chairs for the newcomers. Then Jean heard him remark laughingly: "We're not often so sentimental as you found us, Miss Atkinson, but I've just had an awful time making up with my wife. She got angry with me about two hours ago because I insisted on coming into the stateroom and starting a frolic with the baby just when she had almost asleep. I thought for awhile she'd never speak to me again."

From Cabinet to Senate. The U. S. Senate has among its members five former Cabinet officers. They are Senators Teller of Colorado, who was Secretary of the Interior under President Arthur; Alger, Secretary of War under President McKinley; Proctor, Secretary of War under President Harrison, Elkins, who was Secretary of War under President Harrison, and Knox, Attorney General under President Roosevelt. A Designing Rascal. An English thief was treated the other day whose method was to induce little boys to take off their shoes in order to run a race, and leave him in charge of the shoes. When they returned, breathless, he and the shoes were gone. Cultivating Chestnut Trees. Contrary to the general belief that chestnuts will not grow on limestone land, the author states that Japanese chestnuts are successful wherever the soil is limestone. The Japanese variety is advised for market purposes. The trees should be set about 25 feet apart, and when 7 or 8 years of age should produce about a bushel of nuts per tree. The trees should be planted on ground that can be cultivated in order to better control insect pests.—J. W. Kerr.

White Carrots as Fodder. J. H. Mahon in Agricultural Report says: In an experiment reported, 4 cows were kept on natural pasture for a period of 8 days, after which they were fed a daily allowance of about 35 lbs. of carrots per head for a second period of 8 days, following which they were fed almost exclusively on carrots (60 to 75 lbs. per head daily) for a third period of 8 days. As an additional ration to natural pasturage, the carrots increased the yield of milk, but when the cows were fed almost exclusively on carrots and deprived of pasturage, the yield was diminished. Ripening Cream. No part of the buttermaking is of more importance than the ripening of the cream. In winter it is frequently attended with considerable difficulty, as few farm houses are provided with conveniences for maintaining even temperature, says Hoard's Dairyman. Where there are several fresh cows in the herd cream ripens better, with less danger of introducing harmful bacteria. Fresh buttermilk in such cases usually furnishes a starter sufficient for all practical purposes. Save out a couple of quarts each time and stir this thoroughly the cream twenty-four hours before churning. Building Up the Dairy Herd. From the first crop of calves from common cows retain the heifers from the best cows or, better still, keep all the heifers, says Holstein-Friesian Register. When these heifers are fifteen to eighteen months old breed them to their sire. Inbreeding to this extent may be safely followed under any circumstances. When these heifers drop their calves give them special care. Remember that you will be disappointed if the majority of them do not develop into better cows than their dams. Milk of Well Fed Cows. Examinations were made of the milk produced by 99 cows in 11 different dairies. The results obtained by the author do not indicate that cows fed best during the winter give the richest milk, but rather that they give an even and regular flow of milk of a more uniform fat content than is the case with cows fed poorly during the winter months.—F. W. Wolf. Considered Clever. "Johnny Jones is awful clever. He always finds ants in the ice cream at picnics." "I don't see anything clever in that." "Yes; he says they are in there and no one else will eat it. Then he has all for himself."

Long String. Ernie—"Mable captured a foreign nobleman at the beach and is going to marry him." Eve—"You don't say. Has he anything in his own name?" Ernie—"About forty-four letters. He's a Russian duke."

TAYLOR'S BUTTER MAKING. Inexpensive Means of Separating Rapidly Fatty Portion of Sweet Cream. The watery portion is absorbed by heavy sheets of blotting paper supported upon absorbent material like Turkish toweling, says Committee of Franklin Inst. The watery constituents pass readily through the blotting paper and are taken up by the absorbent pads, while the fatty portion forms a layer on the surface and may be removed, and salted and worked like ordinary churned butter. It is stated that patents have been granted in the United States, Canada, England, France, and Germany for this process. The committee reports that an analysis of this fatty layer showed 79.49 per cent of fat and 2.55 per cent of casein, and that the fatty layer is very palatable when fresh, but does not keep well unless salted and worked. An analysis of the salted and worked butter showed 82.95 per cent of fat and 1.15 per cent of casein. Congestion of Udders. In free-milking cows it is not uncommon for the beginning of the lactation period. If all the milk is not removed, the udder will become inflamed. When this occurs the gland will secrete but little milk and this is the cause of many caked and swollen udders. The treatment is mainly preventive. When a calf does not take all the mother's milk, the udder should be emptied by milking at least once a day until the calf is two weeks old. When the cows can not be handled, relieving the udder by milking can not be practiced. A common custom in this country is to put two calves with one cow. In simple inflammation of the udder, rubbing the inflamed parts with camphorated ointment is all the treatment necessary. New Method of Making Butter. Instead of using water for washing butter, the author used separator skim milk which had been twice pasteurized. Salted and unsalted samples prepared in this manner contained, respectively, 11.35 and 13.14 per cent of water, the former containing only 1-5 as many bacteria. The author considers that the results are sufficiently interesting to warrant his calling the attention of butter makers who have a poor water supply to this simple method of overcoming the difficulty, and states that the experiments are being repeated at the British Dairy Institute.—J. J. Lloyd. Foaming of Milk in Skimmer. The results of experiments made by the author show that foaming of the milk is caused mainly by small amounts of casein dissolved by the lactic acid and by the milk sugar in the milk. Between 20 and 50 degrees C., at least, foaming increases with increasing temperatures. Milk containing similar amounts of total solids, milk sugar, and nitrogenous substances may give different amounts of foam in separating, according to the interval that has elapsed since milking and the care with which the milk has been handled.—F. W. Wolf.

White Carrots as Fodder. J. H. Mahon in Agricultural Report says: In an experiment reported, 4 cows were kept on natural pasture for a period of 8 days, after which they were fed a daily allowance of about 35 lbs. of carrots per head for a second period of 8 days, following which they were fed almost exclusively on carrots (60 to 75 lbs. per head daily) for a third period of 8 days. As an additional ration to natural pasturage, the carrots increased the yield of milk, but when the cows were fed almost exclusively on carrots and deprived of pasturage, the yield was diminished. Ripening Cream. No part of the buttermaking is of more importance than the ripening of the cream. In winter it is frequently attended with considerable difficulty, as few farm houses are provided with conveniences for maintaining even temperature, says Hoard's Dairyman. Where there are several fresh cows in the herd cream ripens better, with less danger of introducing harmful bacteria. Fresh buttermilk in such cases usually furnishes a starter sufficient for all practical purposes. Save out a couple of quarts each time and stir this thoroughly the cream twenty-four hours before churning. Building Up the Dairy Herd. From the first crop of calves from common cows retain the heifers from the best cows or, better still, keep all the heifers, says Holstein-Friesian Register. When these heifers are fifteen to eighteen months old breed them to their sire. Inbreeding to this extent may be safely followed under any circumstances. When these heifers drop their calves give them special care. Remember that you will be disappointed if the majority of them do not develop into better cows than their dams. Milk of Well Fed Cows. Examinations were made of the milk produced by 99 cows in 11 different dairies. The results obtained by the author do not indicate that cows fed best during the winter give the richest milk, but rather that they give an even and regular flow of milk of a more uniform fat content than is the case with cows fed poorly during the winter months.—F. W. Wolf. Considered Clever. "Johnny Jones is awful clever. He always finds ants in the ice cream at picnics." "I don't see anything clever in that." "Yes; he says they are in there and no one else will eat it. Then he has all for himself."

Long String. Ernie—"Mable captured a foreign nobleman at the beach and is going to marry him." Eve—"You don't say. Has he anything in his own name?" Ernie—"About forty-four letters. He's a Russian duke."

THINK OF IT!

This Pretty Matron Had Headache and Backache, and Her Condition Was Serious.

PE-RU-NA CURED.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that disease peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh. Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

WHITE MAN'S RULE.

Battle-Cry Of The Democrats. Great Enthusiasm At Convention.

The Democratic Convention met in Baltimore Thursday and adopted the Amendment as the sole issue in the coming campaign. Ringing addresses were made by ex-Governors Carroll and Jackson, Gen. John Gill, Dr. Joshua W. Hering, Messrs. Joshua W. Miles, A. S. Goldsborough and others.

It was one of the most harmonious and enthusiastic conventions that has been held for years and shows that the Democratic party is invited united and will make a strong effort to end once for all the negro question. Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson was nominated for Comptroller. The platform is a strong endorsement of Amendment.

Ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson Makes A Forceful Speech In Favor Of Amendment.

Ex-Gov. E. E. Jackson made a strong and forcible speech in favor of the amendment before the Democratic State Convention Thursday. The cheers and applause that greeted the Governor proved his popularity in his party to be as great, if not greater than ever. He is undoubtedly one of the strongest men in his party. The Ex-Gov. said in part:

"I want to say to you, gentlemen, with such emphasis that there may hereafter be no question about it, that I favor the adoption of the franchise amendment, not because Mr. Gorman is for it, nor because Governor Warfield is said to be against it, and without reference to what Senator Rayner's position may be; but I favor it because I am fully satisfied that its adoption will be for the best interests of all the people of the State, regardless of politics or of party."

"I do not regard it as a party question, but as a great public question, involving the welfare and the peace of our State and her people from a business and social standpoint. For this reason I regret that the Republican party is making it a party issue. This convention ought, in my judgment, to endorse the amendment, not because it may or it may not perpetuate the Democratic party in power, as some contend, but in the same spirit that it would endorse any other proposition having for its aim and object good government and the growth of the State."

"Equality Leads To Crime."

"Aside from these reasons of public policy, I do not hesitate to say that I favor the amendment because I firmly believe that there ought to be a distinction between the white man and the negro politically, as well as socially. Political equality of the races tends to encourage social equality, and social equality leads to disorder and crime. This has been the experience of every State in which the race question has been agitated and the result has been the adoption of a franchise amendment similar to the one now proposed in Maryland."

"I speak earnestly in this matter, not out of any feeling of prejudice against the negro race. I am, and always have been, a friend of the colored man. My political and personal conduct proves this fact."

"No Fear For A White Voter."

"It has been contended by some persons in opposition to the proposed amendment that it gives too much power to the registration officers and that its effect will be to disfranchise many white persons who should have the right to vote, because of their failure to explain the Constitution to the satisfaction of the registers. I have no fear of this. Every white man who is entitled to vote will be registered, because public sentiment will demand it. We may as well be candid about this matter and say what we mean, and that is, as I understand it, we propose in so far as we can within the limits of the Constitution to disfranchise the negro and preserve the right of the white man to vote. I wish it could be otherwise and that we could literally and in terms disfranchise the negro."

Fears Negro Invasion.

"In the next few years you people of Baltimore purpose to spend millions of dollars on the sewers and the improvement of your streets. Defeat this amendment and there will be thousands of colored people, whose right to vote has by constitutional enactment been taken away from them in Virginia and North Carolina, coming into Maryland and seeking employment."

"This large influx of negroes will operate seriously against the white laboring class. The contractors will buy the cheapest labor they can get and white people cannot compete with such labor as will be bought here from other States on account of the negro protection. Baltimore city, in both her social and commercial relations will be greatly injured by such an influx of negroes."

"I appeal to every white man in Maryland, Democrat and Republican, to lay aside party feeling and personal prejudice and vote for this amendment."

(We regret that we are unable to give this speech in full. A copy should be in the hands of every voter in the State.—Ed.)

Will Never Solve The Race Problem. You Have But To Follow To Its Logical End The Path Blazed Out By The Party For Proof Of This.

After all, there's something greater than being a republican or a democrat, and that is in being a MAN. We are not MEN, in the highest, noblest sense of the word, unless in forming our convictions we fling off the shackles with which partisan politics has enlaved us, and wrestle with the truth of the issue unhampered and free.

We take it that you have heard the so called Poe amendment roundly berated and branded as a base attempt to forever shackle Maryland. Oh, yes, it has been soundly rapped by reformers who greedily left the simple table of the altruism at the first chance to partake of political porridge, by street corner orators with police records, and by partisans who fight as a matter of habit.

But, if you are really interested in the solution of the race problem—and what Marylander isn't?—you might as well realize this fact once and for all: It will never be solved by the republican party. It will be democracy that you must look for salvation.

You have only to turn to history for proof of this and trace the path blazed out by the republican party, and follow it to its logical destination.

In the dark days of the civil war the party of emancipation put a market in the hands of the black-military power.

It inflamed him with a false conception of his own wrongs and sent him forth a moral firebrand.

In the reconstruction days it elevated him to a false position and taught him that the white was his footstool.

Of the awfulness of those days, of that dual reign of anarchy with political chicanery and black savagery on the throne, nothing need be said.

It all is yet vividly remembered by the south whose throat still bears the imprint of the fingers of her despoiler.

Blame not this on the ignorant black.

He was taught to believe that liberty was license by the party which today in Maryland asks you not to take away from it the tool which it has corrupted to its own use.

In the fifteenth amendment the political tricksters forced upon southern democracy "the most cunning and powerful instrument of oppression to ruin, debase and deprave a nation ever contrived."

It was devised for the suppression of the white vote of the south.

That it may accomplish that purpose today is the reason you are asked to vote against the amendment by the republican party.

It is essential that you study out what the republican party has given the negro in order to decide to which party you are willing to entrust the solution of the problem.

Review the deeds of the republican party. It has given the negro military power, elevated him to a false position which was not of his own seeking, incited him to look upon liberty as license, given him the ballot, when his own leader, Booker T. Washington, counsels him to leave the political arena to the white, given him public office, which it has the right to do, entertained him in the White House, which it also has the right to do. To follow this progression to its logical conclusion the next step would seem to be the removal of the miscegenation laws and the sanctioning of such marriages between white and black.

It is plain to see, that it is not the republican party that you must look for a solution of the race problem.

Your hope lies in democracy and the Poe amendment. Work and vote for it.

CONVENIENCE OF THE TELEPHONE.

Does Away With Unnecessary Labor And Places Merchant In Close Touch With His Patrons.

The first impulse of a man who has been successful in business is to put out the increment in an equally profitable investment. It is this same impulse that impels the business man to avail himself of every opportunity to bring more customers to his store; to spend large sums for for advertising; and to do everything in his power for the convenience of his patrons.

It is obvious therefore, that every firm or business house in Salisbury that is using a telephone for business purposes has, found that it offers a greater convenience to customers than any means they could be employed at the same cost. It also proves definitely that a telephone in a business house does away with unnecessary labor; that it places the merchant in immediate touch with his patrons; that it is a most powerful agent in producing new customers; and that it saves time in the transaction of business.

The local telephone company will install an American Bell Telephone in your place of business and serve you night and day for 365 days for twenty five dollars. A residence telephone with the same service costs fifteen dollars a year. Make your application today to the Contract Department, Diamond State Telephone Company, Salisbury, Md., and your instrument will be installed and connected for service before the beginning of a new month.

To a residence or farm house a telephone is an absolute necessity. To a business house on a business basis it is indispensable.

Christian Endeavor Convention At Mardela.

I desire to call attention again through the columns of this paper of the Christian Endeavor and Convention to be held at Mardela in the Mardela Methodist Protestant Church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 4th, 5th, and 6th, commencing the evening of the 4th at 7.15 o'clock with a grand Christian Endeavor Mass Meeting, consisting of short addresses on popular endeavor subjects and also music. The programme of the Institute will begin on Thursday morning, October 5th at 9 o'clock at which time we hope to have a great number of delegates and friends present. A special feature of Friday's programme will be the Junior Rally on Friday at 4.15 p. m. to 5.15 p. m.

A special train will be run from Salisbury to Mardela for the purpose of taking all the Junior Endeavors from Salisbury and also Hebron to Mardela for this rally, when they will be met by the Societies of Mardela and Riverton. We trust that the parents will let their children attend this rally; a sufficient number of adults will accompany the children on the train to insure safety to all of them. Train leaves Salisbury at 3.10 p. m., Friday. Hebron at 3.40 p. m. and return leaving Mardela at 5.45 p. m., arriving in Salisbury about 6.15, having all the children home early. Do not forget the round trip fare from Salisbury to Mardela for the Convention will be 45 cents; from Hebron to Mardela 25 cents round trip. But all the children who attend the Junior Rally will be given tickets for the special train and it will be free to every Junior Endeavor. There will be splendid music for the entire Institute and Convention, which will be furnished by the musical talent of Salisbury under the efficient leadership of Prof. Dashiield. Entertainment will be free to all attending the Institute and we not only extend a cordial invitation and welcome to all who can attend to do so but we urge upon every one to come and enjoy this grand spiritual feast with us. Again we say welcome to all and Come.

A "Dry" Man.

A dry man will always be found whenever you find a man inside of one of Lacy Thoroughgood's new Fall and Winter Rain Coats. He can't help but be dry. A rain coat is an insurance against hard times. No man who wears a good rain coat ever gets hard up—at least he never has to soak his clothes—and if he owns an umbrella he can always put that up if he gets caught. Lacy Thoroughgood sells good rain coats that won't leak—they make you the finest kind of an overcoat. The best ones made are cut extra long and extremely loose, are made of all kinds of beautiful cloth. Think of it! You can buy one for $12.50; that's different from $25. Thoroughgood's best sellers are $16.50 and $20, our next best ones are $16.50 and $18, next $15, next $12.50, next $10, next $8.50. You can't tell the difference between the $8.50 and the $10.00. Lacy Thoroughgood can, though, and he'll give them to you straight. He always sells goods right, and the people find every statement a fact. The men folk are cordially invited to come and see our new Rain Coats and Over coats, to see the new Clothes for fall, to try them on, pose in front of the glass, till which you like and which you don't like. There are thousands of people who trade here, not only because they pay for what they get, but they get what they pay for. You pay for a rain coat that won't leak and you'll get it, for an overcoat that won't fade and you'll get it, and you'll get it at the right price.

HAIR NOT SO MUCH WAVED.

Coffure Most Becoming is Most Fashionable Nowadays. The day of the exaggerated pompadour is past, for which blessing heaven be praised! One sees the monstrosity occasionally, but never upon a really modish woman. She may wear a pompadour, but it is soft, unaggressive and natural. Each season a hue and cry is raised concerning the triumph of the low coffure and the banishment of the high forms of hair dressing, and each year the high coffure survives the attack and holds its own. As a matter of fact, the low coffure has been steadily gaining favor during several seasons past, and it is to be more popular than ever, but it is not universally becoming, and women who know that it does not suit them very sensibly ignore it and go on dressing their hair at the particular angle at which it best conforms to the lines of their profiles and faces. A woman should study her features carefully, decide at what angle her coffure is most becoming, and adopt those lines. If she has chosen correctly that mode of hairdressing will be more chic for her than any other. The high coffure, with the soft pompadour of which we have spoken and with a French twist back in which a handsome comb is set lengthwise, found great favor last season and keeps it. It is unquestionably an improvement upon the very high coffure to which the back and side hair is dragged straight upward, lying close to the head. The hair waves back softly to the twist, giving a much better and more becoming side head effect. For some heads hair dressed upon the crown of the head, neither very high nor actually low, is the artistic coffure, but one is likely to find some difficulty with hats if one wears her hair at this line. With the new forward tilted hats the mode is quite feasible, and for that reason may find more followers. For the low coffure the hair is usually divided in the back into three parts and the two side divisions are rolled backward behind the ears somewhat in the fashion of two French twists, while the central part forms the loose coil or braid which fills the space between the two rolls and droops low upon the neck. The roll gives becoming gloss behind

A primitive broom and a shovel are the street cleaner's weapons. One shudders at the savage way the man pounds the sweepings down into the panniers threatening to annihilate the diminutive beast. low coffure for which the hair is drawn smoothly from brow to nape. The front hair for this low coffure may either be drawn back in a full soft pompadour or be parted and brushed aside until it meets the rolls. The latter is more practical for the woman with little hair, for the coil, and even the rolls if necessary, may be supplemented by false hair, but a rat is seldom successful in a pompadour arranged in combination with a low coil or braid. As a rule, scanty hair can be arranged more successfully high than low, but in either case if false hair is absolutely required it should be of the best quality and making, and the adjustment of it should be studied until it becomes an art. One or two curls falling at the side of a low coil are fancied by some women, and if becoming have a certain quaintness in harmony with the old time notes appearing in many of our newest fashions. The coronet or coronal coffure has its rise in London, but is being tentatively accepted elsewhere and is very becoming to some women. It bears a relation to the Dutch braids of earlier years, but stands up more bravely at the top of the head, in coronet fashion, and really demands long, thick hair or the aid of false hair.—New York Sun.

ALGIERS A CITY OF LIGHT

Is Built Upright Facing the Sea Front, BELIES "DARKEST AFRICA"

Houses Built Against a Mountain Rising Out of the Mediterranean Sea— Picturesque Combination of Rich Coloring of Houses, Trees and Shrubbery.

One who has penetrated this continent no farther than Algiers cannot possibly understand why it was ever called "Darkest Africa." It is more brilliant than the City of Light itself and is exceptionally beautiful as viewed from the harbor. It is an upright city (its merchants are not all built to correspond), occupying the face of a precipitous hill or mountain. It rises straight from the blue Mediterranean. Some of the houses actually have no backs, tall houses at that. They have fronts and sides, the hill forming a ready-made back. Therefore, sea-front rooms are available all the way from the boulevard to the very top of the equilateral triangle at the summit of which is the kasbah, or ancient fortress of the Dey.

Such picturesqueness! The sapphire sea, the great group of cucco buildings, mostly of cream color, the mass of rich greenery at the top and the softly blue sky above. With these are blended colors that come out more clearly with every step. Some of the buildings are a delicate pink, some oyster-gray and many are ornamented with richly tinted tiles. These are of many sorts. There are the great buildings along one side of the water-front boulevard, palatial hotels far up the hills, fascinating villas behind high walls hidden among blossoms and trees, picturesque mosques and the quaint windowless houses of the old town. These square houses forever fascinating perhaps because it amounts to taking one's life in one's hand to explore them and the old quarter generally. The natives, as seen here, are certainly a murderous, dirty, diseased-looking lot, and it's a wonder that those of us who exist in terror of germs at home ever live through these explorations. No sunshine penetrates into many of the houses, which consist of one dark, damp room with one opening, and no other door or window. Such a house fronts on a street so narrow and steep as to forbid a visit in a carriage, and from it diverge other streets which are but dark, narrow steep flights of stone that twist and turn most bewilderingly. In these one may see public scribers, workers in wood and basketry, but more idlers and players with dirty cards. Beggars, often horribly deformed, are at every turn. They follow one persistently, old men smiling in a way to haunt one and children hissing constantly, "Merci, madam, merci!" The fact that they receive not a single coin has nothing to do with their long-repeated thanks. An occasional glimpse of the beautiful sea from these squalid haunts makes it all the more lovely by contrast.

Dog Travels 70 Miles to Old Home. A remarkable instance of a dog's love of home is reported from Cromlogh, Dunblane, Perthshire. A collie dog was given to Mr. Hunter of Herriehall, Berwickshire, by his brother-in-law, a Glasgow merchant, who was sent by train to the borderland. The animal worked among the sheep for two days and then suddenly disappeared. It afterward turned up at its old home, having done the seventy mile journey in forty hours.—London Telegraph.

Cost of the World's Railroads. Some interesting statistics bearing on the railroads of the world are brought together in a German publication, the Archiv für Eisenbahnwesen. According to its figures as reproduced by the Railroad Gazette, the world's railroad mileage is 520,995 miles, representing an investment of $34,984,342,000.

In comparing the railroad mileage of the Old World and of the new, it is found that the latter has 278,046 miles against 242,909 for the former.

Pretty Separate Waist.

Many charming developments of the popular separate blouse are constantly appearing, and our model is particularly chic. It is lavender mesaline with a deeper shade of violet for collar and girde, the former edged with a tiny ruffle of silk and bordering the fronts to waist line. The vest is made of shirred net, matching the mesaline in color. The sleeves are most attractive. A large puff forms the top part and a tucked cuff at elbow is finished with a small ruffle of silk and a double flounce of fine white lace.

How to Be Interesting.

We all want to be interesting. We want friends to come to us and enjoy our society, and we want one at least to find us so full of interest that he will feel he can never leave our side again. But how are we to engender ourselves in the magic cloak of fascination?

To be interesting is to adjust one's self to the thoughts and minds of other people. It is to be broad of heart and big of brain. It is to acknowledge our own mistakes and not to think that the other person is always in the wrong. It is to give freely of our sympathy, to love humanly, and to appreciate the great world in which we live. It is to possess freedom, to bravely think fine thoughts, to realize that all is possible to one who wills, and to live a life of constant endeavor toward the good and the beautiful.

It is much easier for a woman to confide in the average man than in the average woman. She knows that the man will respect her confidences and keep them to himself. He is strong, has more experience of the world and can help the woman who needs advice. There is every reason why women should not trust their delicate constitutions in the hands of unskilled persons. It requires a thorough medical education to appreciate and understand the womanly organism. When a woman has ill and pains that she cannot bear—when life seems dark for every woman she should confide her troubles to a physician of standing in the community, or one who has a national reputation. Certainly it would not be the part of wisdom to confide in an ignorant person without medical education simply because she was a woman. There is every reason why she should write to some great specialist, one who has made the diseases of women a specialty for a third of a century, like Dr. E. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. All his correspondence is held sacredly confidential, and he gives his advice free and without charge. So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhoea, that after curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $50 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc. If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.

How to Find Out.

You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.

DR. B. B. BURMAN Testifies After Four Years.

Dr. B. Burman of Carlisle, Pa., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." Two Sizes, 50c and 100c.

H. W. Mumford, formerly printer of the Salisbury Advertiser, residing at 227 Newton Street, says: "If I was not perfectly satisfied that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon I never could be induced to recommend the remedy. I have the best of reasons for considering them unequalled. On account of kidney complaint and pains in my back I have often been so bad I could hardly move from a chair and ever now and then I was compelled to lay off for a day or two. During this last winter I was unable to do any work for three months. One doctor in Baltimore told me I had an incurable case of kidney complaint. I, of course, became very much alarmed about my condition and kept on trying this, that and the other remedy and was only through reading a very convincing statement in the newspaper that induced me to go to White & Leonard's Drug Store for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I took according to directions. My opinion of this remedy and it has been amply proven since it came to my notice is that for backache or kidney trouble in any form Doan's Kidney Pills are without a peer. I am better now than I have been at any time during the past three years.

Renewing Old Pewter. Old and neglected pewter often has its surface badly oxidized or corroded. The removal of this incrustation must be gradual and patient. To do this, first prepare a bath of soda crystals or borax as hot as the hands will bear, place the pewter in it, and scrub with a hard nail brush and plenty of soap. Afterwards, dry and polish the surface with metal polish and petroleum until a surface begins to appear. Wash well in soap and warm water, and bring up the final polish with whitening and water.

COST OF BUILDING A DRESS.

Dressmakers' Profits Less Than Some People Think.

"There are a few things about the 1905 gown that some people don't know," remarked, with some asperity, a New York dressmaker who has clothed more than one generation of women of the smart set and whose clientele includes the newly rich and the professional woman able and willing to pay extravagantly for the latest thing in a gown. "One of these is that the materials which now go into a dress, a creation, represent about twice as much money as the materials used in a gown of the same class, say, forty or fifty years ago."

"When I first went into business we made gowns, now we build them. The complexity of the modern creation is amazing, especially of the soft crepe, oblongly cut, pattern which excites my horror almost in the light of the uniform when they learn that it cost $250 or $300, maybe."

"Five or six layers of material are nothing for those unassuming creations—a foundation of silk, over that a layer of satin, then one of net, covered in turn with ruffles of the same fabric, which serve as a support to a Graping of chiffon or crepe de chine, embellished in turn with embroideries of silk and paillettes or with entre deux of the finest laces."

"This is only one style. There are countless varieties of the clinging, diaphanous model, but they are all alike in two particulars—first, that an unbelievable number of yards of material can be packed away on one foundation and that expert workmanship is necessary to get the best results."

"There is never a plethora in the market of experienced dressmakers' hands. Generally speaking, if a young woman who has worked for a dressmaker is idle it is because she is thoroughly incompetent."

"But in spite of the bigger wages they can earn at dressmaking, many of the girls I know have left this and other establishments to take up stenography or typewriting, and even to go into stores at much less wages. Sewing is monotonous work and confining, and there is no chance in a dressmaker's workshop of meeting the other sex."

"When it comes to fitters there has been even more of a jump up in their wages. In the old days, for example, $25 a week was good pay for a first class fitter, who, as a rule, was also willing to plan her waist trimming and seldom asked for a yearly contract. It is not like that now."

"A yearly contract is insisted upon in these days, and I am glad enough to make one with a good fitter—one who is pleasing to my customers. So is any first class dressmaker, and the fitters know it. They know also that they can ask and get anywhere from $50 to $75 a week and draw their wages in full season as well as busy season."

"I pay my fitter $60 a week the year around to do cutting and fitting only. She has nothing to do with the designing and trimming."

"Another big item of expense I do not have to contend with when I first started making dresses was a costly importation of French gowns and two trips to Europe. Nowadays, if I had not some imported models to show, I might just as well go out of business, for the rich New York woman will be satisfied with nothing else."

"She may refuse to buy imported models, but she insists upon seeing some all the same."

"Any one who will take the trouble to stop and figure out the problem will find—by taking into consideration the expert help at greatly increased wages required to make an up-to-date gown, the fact that the 1905 gown represents about double the work as well as double the material of some of the old time models and the increased cost of maintaining an establishment that will attract the advanced class of women that dressmakers' profits are today scarcely as large as they were a half century ago—certainly no larger."—New York Sun.

TAUGHT HIM A LESSON.

In the Future He Will Not Interfere With Callers.
A story is being circulated about Miss Myra Kelly, whose clever sketches of Hebrew child life have attracted much attention lately. She was busy writing one day, when word was brought her that some one wished to see her. As she did not wish to be interrupted at that particular moment, she sent down a somewhat peremptory message—said, in fact, that she would come when she was ready. The visitor departed, and her father, who had heard the answer, Miss Kelly had given, decided to teach her a lesson. He told her when she finally appeared that the caller was from the publisher, who had wished her to collaborate with—(naming a well known author,) but that on receiving her reply he had left without further remark.

Miss Kelly, much disturbed, decided that she must go around to her publishers at once and explain the matter. On her return she remarked that they had known nothing about the affair, and added that she hoped the next time her father wished to reprimand her he would adopt some different method. Kelly repented of his action and decided to set things right by seeing the publishers himself.
So he called the next day and made a labored explanation of the event. The editor listened attentively and then remarked:
"Well, Mr. Kelly, I greatly appreciate your explanation, but, as a matter of fact, your daughter did not call yesterday."
Miss Kelly had paid Mr. Kelly in his own coin.

INEXHAUSTIBLE.

She—I feel sorry for Mr. Peck; his wife is always giving him a piece of her mind.
He—At that rate he must have great presents of mind.

A Slight Difference.

After I had made some inquiries about the highway of the old man working in the graveyard I climbed the fence and found that he had been erecting a headboard to his son. As there were three other headboards standing at three graves, all bearing the same name I was naturally curious.
"Yes, it's Reube and Jim and Tom and Pete, all my sons," he explained with a sigh.
"And what ailed them all to die so young?"
"Camp-meetin', sub."
"As how?"
"As they went to camp meetin' to fill up with religion and come home filled up with lead!"

A Useful Member.

The small son of a clergyman who was noted for his tiresome sermons overheard two friends of his father saying how dry they were, and how hard it was to keep awake during them. The following Sunday, while the minister was preaching, he was astounded to see his son throwing pebbles at the congregation from the gallery. The clergyman frowned angrily at him, when the boy piped out in a clear treble voice:
"It's all right, pop. You go on preaching; I'm keeping them awake."—Harper's Weekly.

The Judge and the Ass.

One day Curran, the famous Irish orator, was addressing the court, when the bray of an ass was heard outside, and the judge could not resist the temptation of saying: "One at a time, Mr. Curran, please." But the good ass gave Curran his chance. As the judge summed up the bray he heard again, and the great lawyer, jumping up from his seat, asked the judge, "Does not your lordship hear a remarkable echo in court?" —Birmingham (England) Post.

A LAND OF MANY LAWS

Germany Has an Abundance of Legal Restrictions.

DRUG STORES LIMITED

Government Regulates Number of Apothecaries—Strangers Have to Register at Police Station—Newspaper Slights to the Emperor Punishable by Fine and Imprisonment

A correspondent writing in the Chicago News says: The law keeps close track of everybody who comes into Germany. Strangers must be registered at the police station, at the latest within three days after their arrival in any place, so that if the police have occasion to want them, they will know where to look.

Wage earners are obliged to have reports, amounting to recommendations, which each of their employers must sign and which every new employer may, and generally does, ask for. This is a custom, excessively hard on both parties concerned.

The law requires that employers and employees give each other notice of a full month's time when either intends to discharge or to change his position, as the case may be. Hasty discharges must be paid for by the employer.

Everybody knows, of course, how extraordinarily careful people must be in speaking or writing about the emperor. An insult or derogation is punishable by a fine and imprisonment. Editors must be careful not to say anything that is impossible for them to be responsible under all and any circumstances, they not infrequently find themselves in trouble. And in order that the right person may be punished if there be any such occasion, all publications bear the name and address of the one responsible for the contents.

The railroads in Germany have been owned by the government since the years immediately following the Franco-Prussian war in 1870-1. At that time it was found difficult to transfer the troops and to prevent guard, such situation the government took over the management of trains, so that it could have every train at its disposal in case of war. It has succeeded wonderfully well in this undertaking.

The German government controls drug stores. I was a good deal shocked to learn this coming from a country where almost any man can settle down in peace in almost any business he may choose. Far different is it with German druggists, and far different has it been, too, for several centuries. The government decides the location of the drug store, and does it in this way: For every 10,000 people in each city there must be a drug store, and for every 4,000 people in the country. There is a similar kind of arrangement in regard to chimney sweeps, whose wages are paid them by the government out of a special tax fund. These particular drug laws apply only to Prussia. The other divisions of Germany—Bavaria, Wurtemberg, and so forth—have other, but similar, regulations.

The Prussian laws are exceedingly numerous and complicated. After the prospective druggist has passed his examination, he must obtain a concession from the government to open a place of business. There is a great variety of concessions, too. When a man has opened a new place he must keep his books in good order for inspection. After three years he is pledged to give over to the government a specified percentage of his profit, year by year, according to his concession. The government also fixes the maximum profit which a druggist can make on various goods.

But what are the objects and results of all this? The fundamental object is the security of the people, the secondary object, security for druggists. For the profession is not dissatisfied with all these laws and all this government. On the contrary, the United German Druggists' Association is very decidedly in favor of it. The business, which very easily becomes overcrowded, is kept in a normal condition. The Germans have observed in other countries that free competition in their own lines lowers prices. By restraining the freedom of druggists, the profession is made secure, because when there is only one drug store to 10,000 persons the owner is sure to be kept busy, and as he is protected in demanding profit—all his colleagues are doing the same as he—he is assured of a livelihood. But the public, generally at the mercy of the apothecary, is also benefited; fraud and exorbitant charges cannot be made. Every community, too, is sure of having a drug store.

Would Not Pay Twice.
A man recently, whose bans of marriage had been twice published, asked leave to substitute the name of another girl for the one which had been so far coupled with his own. He was, of course, told that this could not be done without withdrawing the first bans and payment of the fees a second time.

"Do you mean to say I should have to begin all over again?" he asked.
"Certainly," was the reply: "The bans must be published three times in the names of the persons who are actually to be married."

"As must I pay all over again if I have the other girl?"
"Yes," replied the clergyman.

"Well, I call that too bad," and then, after a few moments, "All right, I shall stick to the first girl; I'm not going to pay twice over for anybody."

He was married accordingly the following week.—Tit-Bits.

Fine Art of Smuggling.
The latest thing in smuggling comes from the Swiss frontier, where the art of bringing in contraband goods by automobiles has been developed into a fine art.

A party of finely dressed tourists, presumably a count and countess with a friend, has been crossing the frontier repeatedly.

The suspicions of the authorities were at last aroused. The automobile was stopped and searched and the pseudo count and countess were found to be notorious smugglers.

Their fine raiment as well as their automobile was simply loaded with all sorts of dutiable stuff. Investigations hereafter are likely to show that they were not over-

WORK OF THE HELLO GIRL

Recesses to Relieve Nervous Strain and Keep Operator in Good Humor.
With a metal clasp on their heads holding a receiver at the ear and a transmitter hung on their breasts supporting a speaking tube thence to the mouth, these young women are wired to listen and reply to the man who wishes a telephone number. The number goes into one ear and is repeated out of the mouth. The whole girl is electrified for that moment with the idea of tying these two distant speakers together.

All of the subscribers in each office are represented with a multiple of holes, or jacks, within reach of each operator. Stopped up with different colored stoppers are those lines not in use. Their various delinquencies can thus be seen at a glance. Black signifies that the number is not in use; blue, that it has been discontinued; white, changed numbers, and is marked with the new number; red means temporarily discontinued. The party lines are underscored with a strip of red, and the private branch exchange lines, with white. Thus the operator has under her eye a complete compendium of the nature of the lines subscribing to the central office to which she is connected.

The girls working these wires have charge. Those in charge of the trunk lines coming in from other cities do their work standing, according to the larger amount of space they have to get over.

A lengthy examination is gone through before the "situation wanted, female," is found possessed of all the physical and mental attributes necessary for the profession. One of the requirements is that she have a steady, reliable voice, guaranteed to undergo the nervous strain. Almost anybody knows what a woman's voice becomes under a nervous strain. In order to arrive at such possession of rights and obligations, she primarily undergoes a tutelage of three months. During this term the company pays her $3 a week for the privilege of teaching her the business of supplying telephone calls. As soon as she has learned and performed all the information in a consecutive way, her salary soars to $5. The first year of regular work brings in $8. The highest the regular force can make is $9. The senior operator draws $1 more than this, and the supervisor is paid $12. The chief operators and others in superior positions in the department make all the way up to $25 a week, according to their ability, general standing, length of association with the work or whatever relevant qualities they may happen to have. The night people are paid $1 a week more than those of the same ability by day.

The chief operator at her desk can connect her phone with any girl's work and hear the whole performance. In addition to this overseeing there is a department of listening, whose regular work it is to take on the wires of the operators and report their findings.

Then eyesight is looked into. There are finely printed numbers on the switchboard. Economy has to be had with space. The girl is not supposed to jump up or dart sideways in order to see the numerals wherever they be. Color blindness also enters into the test. The switchboard stoppers here and there being designated on their small round surfaces with different colored paints. About one woman in a hundred has been found unequal to this.

About one-fifth of the applicants get positions, and half of these fail, don't like the work or object to the hours. Of a hundred applicants about ten become steady operators, after the studentship of three months. This does not include the people who apply and are at once termed impossible, as old ladies or boys.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Simple Method Giving Excellent Results Unattended by Danger. A farmer who has been very successful in caponizing young cockerels, found a way to empty a fowl's crop without using a knife, and it was not attended with any fatality.

He simply brings a use he family fountain syringe, putting on the largest nozzle, inserts the nozzle in the left arm, inserts the nozzle, a little water will pass into the crop, and removing the nozzle, he kneads and presses the crop till some of the contents comes out by way of the throat. Inserting again the nozzle more water passes in the crop, and the operation is repeated and continued till the crop is empty and rinsed.

The man said that he treated 125 capons in this way within a period of about ten hours. He had fed them one morning a mess of shredded beets with meal stirred in. This would have been a cheap and digestible feed, but thinking to add some ginger to the mixture, he put in white hellebore instead, and the capons were actually poisoned. At the end of 24 hours some lay prone upon the ground, and he began work upon these first. Those last operated on had this poisoned food in their crops 36 hours. There was not a loss in the whole 125 fowls, all being ready for the next morning's feed.—Indiana Farmer.

Selecting Fowls for Hatching. There are few farmers that separate the breeding stock from the flock, but it is certainly best to do so if one is desirous of good results. It is now time to select the fowls from which you expect to furnish eggs for the early hatches. It should not be treated as a light matter for upon this point much of your success may depend. If you have fowls that have been sick or drooping during the fall and winter do not use them for it would certainly have a bad effect, even if they are well, seemingly. Do not neglect to feed foods rich in fat for these help to make the shell and furnish material in the egg to make the bones of the little downy birds. Meat and the various grains will supply flesh. Keep the drinking vessels well filled with warm water, which is the necessity for a large per cent of the sex is made up of water.

Provide nest-boxes with clean straw; change the contents often. It is said a nest that is clean and properly made is an inducement to laying hens and not only that but dirty eggs are spoiled by the left in the nest and allowed to chill during cold weather; they should be gathered at least three times a day. Keep in an even temperature until ready to set them, which time should not exceed four or five days.

Easily Constructed Coop. The common A-shaped coop is one of the most easily constructed and convenient forms in use. The one disadvantage connected with it is the difficulty of removing the feeding and drinking vessels for cleaning or of catching a bird in it without danger of some of the birds escaping. To obviate this, one of the slats may be made to slide, as shown in the figure.

The opening made by sliding this slat is sufficient to admit the hand and arm so that any part of the coop may be reached without leaving an avenue of escape unguarded.

Novel Farm Machinery. In Germany the farmers have utilized the bicycle to operate threshing machines and mills. The motive power is gasoline and a few cents worth supplies the farmer for a couple of days' running of the mill. The miller who stands by the motor cycle engine, has connected the same by a pulley with the grindstone, which was evidently first worked by a hand crank.

While the miller's man feeds the mill on one side his wife stands by and sweeps the threshed and freshly winnowed corn into the bin which is just below the level of the floor, at the rate and which it is evidently full.

The single mill must be a money-making investment, and it is certainly a labor saving device of a most modern method.

To Relieve Bowel Trouble. When the excrement secreted by the kidneys, which is normally pure white, appears yellow, though the droppings are solid and the bird appears perfectly healthy, look out for bowel trouble. A little extract of logwood, put into the drinking water, is excellent to correct any form of intestinal ailment.

Rheumatism in Fowls. If you find a fowl inclined to stand with joints hot and swollen, rheumatism has taken hold. Damp quarters are liable to bring on this disease, and it is not an easy one to cure. Here is where the ounce of prevention comes in most helpfully.

Only One Pair. "And do you mean to say, madam, that you and your husband never had any spats?" "My husband had a pair once, sir, but he gave 'em to the boy who sprinkled our grass."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Good Provider. "Is yo' husband a good provider, Viols?" "Oh, yes, he's a good provider; he have chickens three times a day, but mah goodness! hit keeps him out so late at night."—Judge.

CHESS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS Woman Champion Explains Its Efficiency. Fads and frills in the school course are outdone! Miss Rosa Bradford Jefferson, the latest advocate of an addition to the curriculum, would have every child taught to play chess as part of the education given it by the state.

But Miss Jefferson is no faddist. The gospel she preaches is one impressed by years of practice and result, for she is herself a "chess child," and it is from the height of her position as the champion woman chess player of the world that she is urging upon educators a list of reasons why chess should be an essential of a practical public school training.

All my family were chess players, and I suppose that in that direction came to me naturally. When I was six I already understood the game, and by the time I was eight I had defeated some of the leading experts of Mississippi.

"Except for the first few moves, I rely on no set method. Everything depends on my antagonist. There is no such thing as chance in chess. It is all a matter of calculation. It is to the mind what physical culture is to the body, what manual training is to the hands. It is a splendid mathematical discipline. It develops a reasoning mind. It inculcates accuracy, and sharpens observation to a point that makes it photographic. Memory becomes a series of pictures. The Germans are introducing it into their schools. Why should not we do likewise?"

"My knowledge of chess has made everything easier for me. It helped me in music to understand the principles of harmony. It is a help in arithmetic. It is a help in spelling. Just consider the intricacies of chess," continued the enthusiast. "The first move on either side can be made in twenty different ways, and the possible combinations after that are practically beyond computation. Success depends not upon luck, but upon brain. The attack, the defense and the capture are made before the eye of the enemy."—New York World.

Strange Foods. A Chinaman conducts in New York what is probably the queerest shop in the world. The sign on the door says: "Strange Foods—Exotics."

And here are sold estates from all parts of the world.

Chow-chow is one of the dealers' commodities. This is not the chow-chow that everybody eats, a cheap pickle; it is the real Chinese chow-chow, a compound of bruised vegetables, very odd and bitter in taste, and very costly—$1.50 a pint.

Ant-cakes are a small biscuit of a grayish color that cost $2.50 a piece. They are made of the dried and compressed bodies of African white ants. Men who live a while in Africa grow fond of ant-cakes, as they who live a while in Japan grow fond of Japanese raw fish.

The dealer sells, he says, about a hundred of these cakes every month.

Edible snails he sells in great quantities to French families. Filled with the green butter that gives them succulence—escargot butter—they cost ten cents a piece.

The man sells betel nut, which in the east is chewed like tobacco. A box of ground betel weighing a half pound costs a dollar. Half a teaspoonful of the powdered nut is wrapped in a leaf and chewed with a piece of lime. Though it darkens the enamel, it is said to preserve the teeth.

Genuine Russian caviar is one of the dealer's most costly commodities. A table-spoonful of it costs $2. Twice as much ordinary caviar can be bought elsewhere for a quarter, but those who have once tasted the real thing never again return to the substitute—sturgeon roe; for Russian caviar is as different from sturgeon roe as liver is from crow.

Teaches History with Dolls. A novel idea has been realized in Paris by M. Leo Claretie, who, besides being an eminent educationist, is an ardent advocate of rendering education attractive. His system of the history of France in dressed dolls is to be placed on public exhibits, as an object lesson in its capabilities. Even the prehistoric periods, whose life can only be known on the testimony of the rocks, are represented.

Within the pale of history every age is represented by its leading figures, as Gaul, pre-Roman, Roman and Frankish. Then come the Crusades, the English wars, the middle ages, the early modern period, and so on to the third republic.

Hay and Lincoln. As with Lincoln, so with Hay, the rough edges of untoward events and impertinent individuals were made smooth by a sense of humor and a parrying and ameliorating wit. The gifts were different but analogous. Likewise, while it may be said that Nicolai had something of Lincoln's gravity of mind and explicitness of statement, Hay had something of Lincoln's sentiment, brevity, balance of style and imaginative grasp, while both shared the mighty President's love of country and devotion to its service.—Century Magazine.

The "Coming Nation." Now the American immigration question in Canada has reached a climax. It takes only three years for an immigrant to earn a vote in Canada, and 75,000 former American voters will soon come into their Canadian suffrage. There are, in round numbers, 190,000 males more than 18 years of age in western Canada who formerly lived in the United States, 150,000 of whom are old enough to vote. There are now between 750,000 and 800,000 settlers, with a possible voting population of 240,000, a high percentage because many gentlemen without families are emigrating from Montana and Wyoming.

In eastern Canada thousands of people believe that this invasion means the ultimate annexation of western Canada by the United States. It is called "the coming nation."—World's Work.
