GREAT LIBERTY LOAN MEETINGS IN WICOMICO

LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCES—WILL BE OVER-SUBSCRIBED

Wicomico County went "over the top" in great style at the large and enthusiastic meeting held at the Arcade Theatre on Thursday night—a meeting that has never been excelled in this County for its large attendance and patriotic spirit.

This meeting was presided over by W. W. Gunby, chairman of the County's Committee of the War and Council of Defense. Senator Wm. P. Jackson, chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee of this County was unavoidably absent. He, however, sent his greeting and a message announcing a subscription of $25,000 for the firm and $10,000 for himself.

Mr. Gunby in his opening address called attention to the great work of the women of this County had contributed not only to this but to every other cause which has arisen in connection with war work. As a result of their work he announced that subscriptions of $58,000 to the Third Liberty Loan issue had been obtained through their workers.

Congressman Venables of Mississippi was the main speaker of the evening and gave an address, which for eloquence and convincing logic was a masterpiece. Mr. Venables portrayed the causes which led up to the War and showed the German nation, its leaders and its people, to be what they are—a nation believing in the right of conquest, the right of a strong nation to enforce its will upon a smaller and weaker one, their belief in the righteousness of a war if necessary to accomplish their ends.

He traced their forty years of persecuting this pernicious doctrine in the minds of the people, and make the Germans masters of the world by the force of arms.

Then he spoke of the beginning of the war and how Germany, in its belief that war was not a thing to be waged along humanitarian lines, but with one object only—victory, had disregarded every principle of International law, and the agreed upon methods of conducting a war, so that neutrals and non-combatants would suffer as little as possible. He showed how America had stood outrage after outrage. How its rights had been trampled upon, its citizens, men, women, children and little babes sent to the bottom of the sea without warning and without a chance of escape.

His four entry into the war, he wanted war, but he wanted to fight or submit once to the will of the victor and let him destroy American citizens, kill American men, women and children whenever and wherever he pleased.

He wound up his address with an eloquent appeal to the people to stand by their country in this time of need, and show that they were worthy of freedom and liberty. Congressman Venables is a very gifted man and held his audience in close attention from the beginning to the end of his address.

Congressman Jesse D. Price of this city, following Mr. Venables, but as it was getting late and the important matter of selling the bonds was yet to be done, he did not attempt to make a set address but confined himself to an earnest appeal to the people to support their native land, to buy the Liberty Bonds and do their part willingly and freely in each and every cause which was necessary to the successful waging of this war.

The "Liberty Bond Girls," an attractive enough bevy of young girls to put any thing across them came out and sang several war songs. They were applauded to the echo.

Miss Shryock took charge of the singing calling upon the people for subscriptions. The people showed that they were in earnest and not there for amusement. They stuck to their seats and remained standing in the hall, while the "Liberty Loan Girls," Red Cross Girls Workers, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and others went among them with subscription blanks.

An incredibly short time a subscription of $112,500 was announced. This, it was then announced, put Wicomico well "over the top." Her full quota subscribed for.

This meeting was the climax of a week of intense work all over the County, in which many organizations of both men and women had been busy.

Meetings had been held in every town and in each of these large audiences were received. Quantico, Hebron, Allen, Mardela, Delmar, and in fact all the towns made excellent use of the success of the meeting to the local Liberty Loan.

LICENSING TIME IS NEAR

Individual Notices Will Not Be Mailed This Year.

We again remind firms and corporations doing business in Wicomico County requiring a license, that they must take out license on or before May 1, under penalty of fine. Heretofore it has been customary for the Clerk of the Court to mail out individual notices of licensing time, but this custom will not prevail this year, owing to changes in the license law. All persons requiring license are now required to fill out, under oath, an application blank, either before the Clerk or a duly authorized officer to administer oaths, before the license can be issued. These blanks can be obtained at the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

Next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, April 23rd, Rev. A. N. Ward, D. D., will preach a special sermon at the Bethesda M. P. Church, to Newton Lodge No. 56, I. O. O. F. This Lodge is one of the largest organizations in our city, and the Odd Fellows is the largest Fraternal Organization in the world. This sermon will be in honor of the 99th Anniversary of the order, as it was founded in Baltimore, April 26, 1819.

H. W. Ruark of the Sal'by Bldg. and Loan & Banking Assn., together with the other cashiers and bank officials were in the work from the beginning to the end.

In a series of meetings in the Liberty Loan cause held the first of the week the following towns notably contributed as follows: Quantico, $6,000; White Haven, $4,600; Fruitland, $7,200.

Court House Meetings. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights open air meetings were held on the Court House lawn, under the auspices of the Womens Committee, headed by Miss Maria Ellegood, for the purpose of aiding the Liberty Loan sales.

The band gave its services, the Electric Light Company furnished the light, and others helped. The streets were roped off by the Police so as to protect the meetings from the annoyance of the traffic.

Mr. Gibson, Mr. Eglee, Mr. Bomberger, and many local speakers aided in the work.

The primary grades of Camden school on Wednesday evening carried flags and sang patriotic songs. Miss Dorothy Fields, attired as a Daughter of Liberty, sang: "Your Country and My Country." Masters James Truitt and James Freeny sang "Over There." The Girl Scouts were present at these meetings and collected funds for the Belgian Relief. They collected at these and at the big meeting in the Arcade enough to buy more than one Liberty Bond.

Miss Maria Ellegood made a very effective speech on the close of these meetings Wednesday evening, and expressed the thanks of the committee for the help and assistance that had been given them, in the meetings, and expressed the committee's appreciation to all those who had assisted.

Wicomico is "over the top" but is not going to stop. She wants and is going to show the Kaiser that the people here are in the war until we win it, and that we will give all of our money and of our men as long as they be needed.

CONGRESSMAN PRICE SHOULD BE RETURNED

Experienced Men Needed In Congress No Time To Try Experiments.

Some of the Newspaper writers have been busy themselves about political conditions in the First Congressional District, and have trotted out several gentlemen as possible candidates for Congress. It is more than probably that the gentlemen whose names have been used in this connection have never had the slightest idea of being a candidate. As a matter of fact the people are not in any humor to play any kind of politics until this war has been decided.

What they want and are going to insist upon are men who will go to Congress not so much as their party representative as to do their part in helping to win the war.

It is impossible to conduct any big enterprise successfully without giving to it a head, and after doing that to give to this head the whole hearted support of the entire working force of the enterprise.

The people in this country have chosen President Wilson to be their head and leader, and it will be through him and his administration that we must win this war. It is now our duty to follow and help him all we can. We can do this with an easy conscience for in him we have one of the greatest patriots, this country has ever produced. We have more over in him a man whose ability and force are recognized the world over. Fortunately indeed have the American people been in having a man of his type at the head of affairs during this the most critical period of our national life.

Now what we want in Congress is men who will not stoop to play politics but who will bend their every effort to back up the President in this war.

It is but natural that men of the same party as the President will be less liable to try the political game to the detriment of their country's interest than will one who is looking for political advantage by and through another party's failure. He may be patriotic enough to help rather than hinder, but the incentive to hinder is there.

Those members of Congress who have been in their seats ever since this war started are more familiar with both what has been done and what is yet to be done, in order to win, than anyone else who has not had the same advantages, can possibly be.

They are better prepared to deal with the measures which must come before them than would new and untried men, even if they be equally sincere in their efforts to help all they could.

Congressman Price has been in his seat from the beginning of this strife, he saw the wedge which was sure in the end to result in open warfare between Germany and this country, driven in farther and farther until the open break came. He took part and a very creditable part in the early war measures and has kept in close touch with the situation ever since. He has given the President and his measures his whole support. Congressman Price is recognized as having unusual capacity for public affairs, and his ability along this line has never been questioned by even his political enemies. He has given continued proof of his ability since his election to Congress and in the time he has served in that branch has proven himself a capable and public spirited Representative. In that body where no man can raise to a place of influence unless he has merit, Congressman Price has made himself an enviable reputation, and is to-day in a better position to serve his constituents than ever before.

There can be reason for trying out a new man or risking an experiment at any time when one has at hand, old tried and seasoned material, which has been tested out and proven trustworthy. At this serious crisis in the affairs of our country such a policy would be worse than foolish.

If Congressman Price will serve, there should be no opposition to him in the primaries, and but little in the election. The people of this country will be fortunate indeed if they can get their old and tried man to serve them in Congress throughout the duration of this war at least. The only exceptions to be made to this in the case of those who have proven themselves disloyal or incompetent, who should be kicked out and kept out.

The winning of this war is the first necessity of this country and until it is won, everything else must take a subsidiary and comparatively unimportant place.

Let us hope that both parties in the coming Congressional election will remember this and be careful how they plant seeds of unrest and dissatisfaction, which may grow up into trouble.

COMPANY I BOY IS KILLED

In Accident At Anniston—The Third From County.

News reached here on Wednesday that private Olan Carey, Company I, 115th U. S. Infantry, was killed while serving on guard duty at Anniston, Ala., where his regiment is stationed. The particulars relating to the accident are unknown.

Private Carey was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Euphrates Carey of this County, and is the first member of Co. I to lose his life during this war.

The deceased was one of our young patriots, being but 18 or 19 years of age. He was a graduate of the Wicomico High School in last year's class, and joined Company I about that time. He was a member of the Asbury M. E. Church.

The body is on its way home under the escort of Corporal Stanley Malone. It will be carried to the home of his parents on Isabella St.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Euphrates Carey, the deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. Emory Disharoon, this city, and two brothers, Messrs. Pearl and Euphrates Carey, both of Kingston, N. Y.

This is the third known to have lost their life during the present war from Wicomico County. The first being Herbert Renshaw, who was washed overboard while serving on one of the boats; F. M. Dick, who died from pneumonia in France, and Olan Carey as stated above. These are among Wicomico's honored ones and head the "roll of honor" list.

Mr. Wade H. Bedsworth of Wetipquin, brought in a subscription of some $3,000 for Liberty Bonds from his neighborhood yesterday.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Received By Salisbury Relatives Tells Experiences.

The following account is an extract from letter received this week from Corp. Sam Adkins of the 20th Engineers, who has been in France about six months. He, with a small party of friends, were granted a leave of a week for a little vacation to the famous French resort Aix Les Bains. This town compares either with Atlantic City or the Florida resorts in that it is a winter as well as a summer outing place, only not so large. The government has taken over the hotels in Aix Les Bains and will accommodate 2500 men and the soldiers get transportation free, also hotel bills are paid so that the only expenses are those that are incident to traveling around and enjoying the resort. This town is situated in the Southeastern part of France, near the border of Switzerland, and is right in the Nests.

Dear sister:

This is our fifth day at Aix Les Bains and as usual we have had a little rain, right now it is pattering pretty hard. We went down close to Italy yesterday. Saw Mount Blanc in all its grandeur and it is sure a beautiful sight.

On the way we passed several towns and had a glimpse of all of them. The prettiest one is Chambery and I am sending you a book of views so that the family can see just what the country around here is like.

The trip took about six hours and as we had good cars, we covered quite a bit of territory. The roads here are wonderful and I suppose are several thousand years old. Most of them are built on the side of the Mount and below them there is an abyss that seems almost bottomless.

I took several pictures on the trip, and if they are good will send some home.

This is a very prosperous part of France, and is especially beautiful in summer.

If the weather is good to-morrow I hope to go up Mount Revard which is right back of the town. There is a narrow gauge railway running and it makes one trip every day.

There are twelve of us staying in the "Cottage", most of them being from a Hospital unit. It is more like home than any place I have seen since I've been across.

MISS RUTH HOLLOWAY

Miss Ruth Holloway, formerly of Salisbury, died at the Garretton Hospital last Wednesday night, after an operation following a five week's illness. She had been in training for two years and would have graduated in another year. She is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

The funeral services were held in the Old School Baptist Church at 8 o'clock Friday afternoon, Elder Francis officiating. A large number of friends gathered to pay their last respects to her memory. Interment was made in Parsons Cemetery.

Republicans, but now we are all in normal times we may be Democrats in party, that of loyal patriotic citizens. No issues can part us for there is but one issue now—the win-

QUANTICO HOLDS BANNER MEETING

Forty Nine Out Of Fifty Subscribe To Third Liberty Loan Bonds.

Since the drive started to sell the Third Liberty Loan Bonds, there have been a great many meetings held in Wicomico County, many of which have been enthusiastic and resulted in a sale of a considerable number of bonds. The hold held at Quantico, however takes precedence over all the others—not because of the large number of bonds sold, but because of the big percentage of takers among those attending the meeting. In the audience, which was addressed by Hon. W. B. Miller and other speakers, there were fifty present. During the meeting forty nine of these subscribed to one or more Liberty Bonds. A total subscription of $6,000 was raised. As far as we have heard or read this holds the record not only for Wicomico County, but we doubt very much whether it has ever been beaten at any similar meeting in the country.

The audience was not composed of people of immense wealth but those coming from an agricultural section. What they may have lacked in large means they more than made up in patriotism. The buying of these bonds and paying for them will mean personal sacrifices on the part of many.

If the other communities of this county come anywhere near measuring up to this, then there will be no doubt but what Wicomico will go "over the top" in great style not only in this but every other call which may be made upon her.

Thought It Was The Yankees. Disregarding all that had happened, the cruiser went up to the Mole and landed a large party of bluejackets and marines. The German defenders conceived the idea that their assailants were Americans, and, according to some of the survivors, this cry was heard: "It's the Americans! It's the Yankees!"

Some of the Germans bolted en masse from the nearest batteries, leaving their guns to the British. The guns were destroyed one by one, while others in the landing party dealt with the sheds and munition stores with flame-throwers.

Apparently under cover of this operation, continues the account sent by the Daily Chronicle's correspondent, the concrete-laden cruisers with which it was intended to block the channels made their way through the harbor, accompanied, as far as can be ascertained, by only one submarine.

As they approached the entrance they anchored, swung around on the cables, and, according to the testimony of one of the observers, were sunk within 23 minutes.

General Crowder said the ruling would apply to the entire 800,000, and he would write Mr. Price a letter later, explaining in detail the new regulation. General Crowder will also see that all local boards have the correct interpretation of the order.

"As a result of my conference with General Crowder," Representative Price said today, "I am beginning to feel that the War Department officials are realizing the importance of keeping intact the food-producing forces in the country. General Crowder stated that he is opposed to any legislation exempting farmers or any other class. He said if Congress exempts one class it will be called upon to exempt other classes until the War Department is only left the rag-tail element out of which to create an army."

"General Crowder told me that physical disabilities probably would reduce the number of men Class A-1 available for military purposes, to about 1,500,000. He is confident that he will be able to get an army of 800,000 from this number without taking many farmers and farm laborers. He also stated that he believes the order placing all agricultural labor at the bottom of the class will have the effect of exempting the bulk of them from the next draft army."

Representative Price, who is urging legislation in Congress for the exemption of bona fide farmers and farm laborers from the draft as long as they work on the farms, talked with General Crowder for more than an hour and went over the entire problem of preserving agricultural labor and keeping it in the fields. The Maryland Congressman called primarily to ascertain whether or not the War Department's scheme of placing farmers at the bottom of the list in Class A-1 applied to the entire next draft army of 800,000 or only to the 80,000 men who are now being called into service. Many local boards, Mr. Price said, were under the impression that the ruling only affected the first 80,000 men.

General Crowder said the ruling would apply to the entire 800,000, and he would write Mr. Price a letter later, explaining in detail the new regulation. General Crowder will also see that all local boards have the correct interpretation of the order.

GERMAN SUBMARINE BASES ARE INVADED

By English Naval Forces—Concrete Ships Sunk In Harbor Channel, And Other Severe Damage.

Not only was the mouth of the Zeebrugge canal at Zeebrugge blocked, but British sailors and marines who participated in the raid on the German submarine bases, the first of this week, believe that they destroyed every gun on the Mole, demolished the sheds throughout its entire length and blew up large stores of munitions contained in the sheds, according to stories given by the survivors to the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at a Kentish port.

Every Battery Opened Up. Until they were within a half mile of the harbor of Zeebrugge, no ships in the attacking force had picked up the light on the Mole. The attacking ship, which started for the Mole followed by muttered calls of "Good luck!" from the ships' companies of the escorting fleet outside the harbor, had scarcely got within sight of the light when it was discovered by the Germans. Star shells instantly pierced the thick haze, showing up the cruiser as clearly as though it had been daylight.

In one second it seemed as if every battery in the neighborhood had concentrated its fire on the cruiser. How she was able to get ahead none of those watching her understood. Great 17-inch shells and others of smaller caliber flew around her like hail. She was apparently hit by some of the smaller ones, but she plugged ahead and was seen to turn the corner of the Mole and gain the inside of the harbor. The German fire apparently was deflected from her vital parts by the intervening structure of the mole, and most of the damage done was above the water line.

Thought It Was The Yankees. Disregarding all that had happened, the cruiser went up to the Mole and landed a large party of bluejackets and marines. "A Tenfold Hell."

The narrator describes the combined noise of the German gunfire and the explosions on the Mole as a "tenfold hell." He added: "We were only 400 or 500 yards away from the point of the Mole, but were afraid to fire a shot least we reveal our exact whereabouts to the enemy. Apparently he nearly judged it, for

ANNUAL ANNIVERSARY SALE

J.E. Shockley Co's.
ANNIVERSARY SALE
APRIL 20th to 27th

Commencing Saturday, April 20, and Closing Saturday, April 27.

AS PROMISED our friends and customers, we will have this sale, even though this annual event is six weeks late this year, owing to the fact we were unable to get the SPECIAL MERCHANDISE which was contracted for at low figures, embargoes and slow deliveries being the cause for the lateness of this sale. This event is of intense interest, and is always looked for each season by thousands of shoppers. Our buyers prepared for this annual event through the New York market during the dull months, when merchandise of all character are usually at their lowest; and especially so this season, as we can safely say that these goods are from 15 to 20 per cent higher now than when they were contracted for.

J. E. SHOCKLEY COMPANY

SALISBURY ADVERTISER
 PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT SALISBURY, WICOMICO CO., MD.
 (Office Opposite Court House)

THE SALISBURY ADVERTISER COMPANY

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE—ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM

Entered at the Postoffice at Salisbury, Maryland, as Second-class matter.

Obituary or in memoriam notices cost 5 cents per line, each insertion. Resolutions of respect from various lodges or other organizations cost 5 cents per line, each insertion.

"OVER THE TOP"

We know the people of Wicomico County too well to have ever held any serious doubts about their doing their part in the Third Liberty Bonds, yet it is a pleasure to have the assurance that this has been done.

The Liberty Loan Committee is still busy tabulating and selling bonds, for there is to be no let up in the campaign until the time limit comes, to give out exact figures, but enough is known to tell that Wicomico will take her full quota.

Something like twelve hundred people subscribed to the last Liberty Bond issue, and it is estimated that this time more than two thousand have taken them, if indeed the actual number of subscribers does not greatly exceed even this number.

We should not forget in our satisfaction over the results of this campaign, that what has been accomplished would and could never have been done with out hard work on the part of somebody.

The Ladies have worked hard and faithfully in this great cause and their work has been through their organizations. They report subscriptions of over eighty thousand dollars, and the value of the educational work done at the same time is hard to estimate.

The Liberty Loan Committee of this County has been hard at work and have well and effectively managed the campaign. W. S. Gordy, cashier of the Salisbury National Bank, owing to the unavoidable absence of Chairman Wm. P. Jackson has done much towards making this loan campaign a success, so has Mr. H. W. Ruark, cashier of the Salisbury Building Loan & Bank Association, who has acted as Secretary of the Committee. Dr. S. A. Graham of Farmers & Merchants, Isaac L. Price of the Peo. Nat. Bank and other directors and officers of our various financial institutions have given effective work. It is impossible to enumerate all the heads and chairman of the various districts in the city and in the country, but reports show that they have all been busy and have done their full part in this great work. Among others who have given their time and help in the work, Hon. W. B. Miller deserves special mention.

Captain Shryock and Mr. Block of Baltimore City have been in the County during the campaign and have contributed much towards its success. They are both hard workers and effective speakers.

The farmers and granges came to the rescue of this cause this time in large numbers. The Salisbury Grange alone taking more than $7,000.

The Salisbury Advertiser congratulates the County upon the showing it has made, and congratulates each and every worker for the way in which they have handled the campaign. It shows that this county is behind the Government until the war is won, and that we have in our midst as patriotic and self-sacrificing men and women as can be found anywhere.

Let it not be forgotten that these bonds are taken out by people who will have to make sacrifices in order to pay for them, and not by bloated bondholders seeking an outlay for surplus capital.

GREAT IDEA FAILED TO WORK

Might Have Been All Right But for Unfortunate Happening Inventor Could Not Foresee.

The poets and others, mainly others, have sung of the virtues and blessings of sleep. No class of men guards sleep as carefully as the doctors.

Some one, with all the wise theories of advertising, decided to mail his little call for business to the medical men of Indianapolis. He spent a large sum getting up some real snappy stuff. He figured out all the psychology and personal appeal, with all of the big "T" stuff he could, and then some. He laid plans to reap a harvest. He did not.

His good money went to the printer. More went to Uncle Sam for stamps. This nice ad writer put a special delivery stamp on each of his letters.

Result: The doctors of Indianapolis were awakened about 1 a. m. to sign for a bunch of printed matter. Every doctor soon was to be tore up his booklet and with curses deposited the abandoned pieces in the waste paper basket.

It Is Not To Be Wondered At

—that during these times of military movements and wartime methods that our men's Clothing has taken on a military aspect.

Our tailoring is so correct in every detail that it stands to reason that the upto the minute snap and quickness is manifested in the garments that we show for Men's and Young Men's wear.

Then again, there are no finer cut garments than those cut on military lines, not too much, remember—but just that touch of military smartness.

We are showing the snappy lines this season—the young man please investigate for the latest.

Of course Dad comes in too to his own selection—just a mite more conservative maby or just as snappy as the youngsters on more conservative liens.

Then the youngster—the small chap in "knickers". We can fix him out too. We make a specialty of Boys' Clothing and we are sure that it will pay you to investigate.

WE ARE A BIT FUSSY ABOUT OUR NEW WASHABLE SATIN WAISTS

In fact, we think they should be more carefully made than any other kind, just because they must stand the rigors of the tub. Some new styles just arrived are very good-looking. The new collar effect is to be found on some of them, it comprises of a roll collar and the effect in front. These aWashable Waists are $6.00.

OUTFITTING THE LITTLEST FOLKS BECOMES A MATTER OF EASY ADAPTION WHEN ADVANTAGE IS TAKEN OF OUR SERVICE.

We have just received a new line of the new Scotch Plaid Dresses for the kiddies. They are trimmed in contrasting shades of plain materials.

Where Your Money Goes

WE are now building more naval and merchant ships than we have constructed in the last generation.

We are building a vast fleet of airplanes, and enormous supplies of artillery, motor trucks, machine guns, rifles and ammunition. We are feeding, clothing and training an army of a million men, and preparing for a million more. We have loaned billions of dollars to our allies to be spent in the United States.

From the shipyards of the Pacific to those of the Atlantic; on our farms and in our mines, mills and factories in every State in the Union; back of the firing lines in France, where men are training, camps are being erected and railroads built, billions upon billions are being expended for labor, for transportation, for materials and supplies of every description.

The mind can hardly conceive the sums of money required for our war preparations. Yet these expenditures are absolutely essential.

We must win the war quickly if possible; we must carry it on for years if necessary. We must do the job with American thoroughness, let the cost be what it may.

Remember, when you invest in your Liberty Bonds, that there is immediate, urgent, imperative need for every dollar you can spare.

Science Solves the Butter Problem with Butter Made from the White Meat of Cocoanuts

Just when the price of butter threatens to make it an unattainable luxury, science perfects TROCO, the new vegetable butter made from the white meat of the cocoanut.

It tastes exactly like the finest creamery butter and is even more wholesome and pure.

It is churned with fresh Pasteurized milk to give true butter flavor.

Because of old laws, made before this discovery, we are compelled to label this nut-made butter as oleomargarine.

But it contains no oleo oils—no hog or beef fat, nor any preservatives. TROCO is simply vegetable fats, churned with milk for the butter taste.

Yet this appetizing combination costs no more than does the best grades of oleomargarine.

TROCO

Can't Be Told From Butter

TROCO has all the good qualities of fine creamery butter. The only difference you will notice is the cost.

It is as nutritious as cream butter, and as easily digested. It possesses the fuel value needed for energy.

TROCO when served has butter's golden color, because we supply the same vegetable coloring used by all butter makers.

Served on your table, without explanation, no one can tell the difference.

Goes Farther In Cooking

TROCO, used in cooking, gives the same results as butter, except that it goes farther. Cooks should remember this and reduce the amount.

It makes such cake as has not been known since butter soared in price.

It allows the old-fashioned "rich cooking" that builds up the family health.

Your Dealer Can Supply TROCO

If your dealer doesn't already keep TROCO, ask him to get it for you. Tell him you must have this new-day successor to butter.

Insist until he secures a supply. For TROCO solves one of the biggest problems presented by our high food prices—

—The problem of serving appetizing, wholesome butter at a moderate cost.

NOTICE: Under the law, all butter substitutes must be branded Oleomargarine. That law was passed before TROCO was invented. So the TROCO package is branded "Oleomargarine." Though there is no oleo in it. All butter substitutes must pay an extra tax if colored. So the color for TROCO comes in a capsule. Add it yourself, as you do with Oleomargarine.

THREE POTATOES EACH DAY

Spuds Are Plentiful And Food Administrator Baetjer Urges Their Use As War Food.

Baltimore.—There is one article of food of which Herbert Hoover begs good Americans to eat more than ever—that is the potato. Last year's record crop, plus transportation tie-ups, plus delay in marketing, has left available now a surplus of many million bushels of spuds which must be consumed in the next two months or else go to waste. We don't need to save potatoes, but we simply must save the national eagerness to plant potatoes. The surest way to insure a bumper crop this year is to provide a home market for the 1917 surplus. Three good-sized potatoes a day eaten by each American will take care of that surplus and put us in shape to handle the next crop of about the cheapest and most palatable food to be had. Every Marylander is therefore urged by the State Administration to be a patriot as well as an ordinary patriot. Start with them baked for breakfast and wind up the day with them all dolled up according to one of the two scores delicious recipes which are recommended by the War Food Bureau, Lexington Building, Baltimore.

NO MAGIC IN WAR WORK.

"I have no cut and dried scheme whereby a magic wand can be waved and the production of food increased fifty per cent.," declares Hon. Chas. A. Dunning of the Canada Food Board. "The only way we can bring that about is for everyone to do a little here, a little there and with everybody in the country helping."

A private donation of $25,000 to the Maryland Food Administration has been made to boost along the good cause in this State and it is being used as a prize fund for amateur and professional Soldiers of the Soil, and half of each county's portion goes for work in War Gardens, which grow sweet corn, potatoes, tomatoes, turnips, cabbage, onions and beans.

In each county there are ten prizes for gardens under and over one-half acre. The Contest Department, 700 Equitable Building, Baltimore, is waiting to file your entry or send you further details.

OUT WHEAT OUT ENTIRELY.

Somewhere in the U. S. A.—This community claims to be the first to have given its pledge to Herbert Hoover to abstain absolutely from wheat products until the next harvest is garnered. The rest of the nation is now following suit and every day brings a list of similar pledges to the Federal Food Administrator. The best hotels and restaurants throughout the country have voluntarily made promises to keep wheat breads and wheat pastries off their bills-of-fare. And though other places may dispute our title, we claim to have set in motion a wheat avalanche which is going to overwhelm Prussianism.

Wheat is no more wholesome than other grains. Even if it were, we would gladly make the sacrifice necessary to supply with wheat our army and our allies who are too busy to spend time in further experiments with substitutes. We have lots of time and they must have lots of wheat.

WAR WON'T END FOOD CRISIS.

London.—Notice has been served to the women folk of all Colonial troops that by remaining in England they have taken the chance of not getting home till eighteen months after the declaration of peace. It will take that long to demobilize the armies now in France. After that, tens of thousands of men will be kept busy putting France, England, and Italy back into something like normal shape. So for the next two years, even if speedy victory is ours, there will be a vast population dependent for food upon foreign supplies. Most of this must come from the United States and Canada. So whether the news from the front be good or bad this country and its allies confidently look to the American farmer not to slacken production one whit but to ward off a state of affairs which could be worse than war itself.

COLCANNON.

(Official Recipe.)

Mix one cup of mashed potatoes and one cup of chopped greens to a smooth paste; add a tablespoon of fat, salt, and paprika to taste; place in baking pan, cover with mashed potatoes, brown in the oven and serve very hot.

WAR PORTIONS.

Don't worry about wheatless days and wheatless meals. Take the total abstinence pledge and cut it out altogether as thousands of patriotic Marylanders have already done.

If you live in a boarding house, why not beg or borrow a vacant lot and get up a team to dig up a garden instead of "smoking up sties." That would help you, help the landlady, and help win the war.

"Gout and rheumatism and old age are disappearing right and left among people who used to eat and drink too much," declared a speaker at a recent medical convention in London.

Your Bond May Bring Him Home in Safety

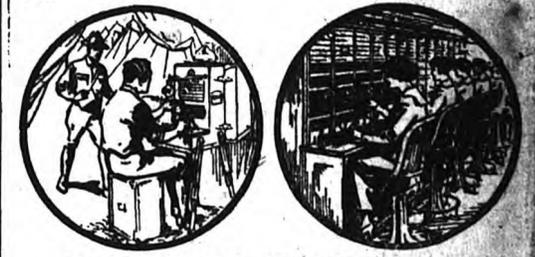

The supreme tragedies of war are not enacted on the battlefield, but in the home.

Above the shouts of command and encouragement, the roar and shock of the great guns, and all the swelling tumult of battle which bear the husband and father to a hero's grave and a martyr's glory, there rise the weeping of the bereaved wife and the cries of little children deprived of a father's love and care.

American fathers are now on the battlefronts of France. Many must fall; how many depends upon us who remain safely at home.

A single Liberty Bond will help to save a soldier's life, your soldier's life, and bring him home in safety to those who hold his life far more precious than their own.

Five Hundred Thousand American Soldiers in France

We dare not delay the VICTORY now. American lives are at stake, our own safety, the safety of the whole world. If we are not to prolong the slaughter and the suffering, if we are not to risk defeat or an inconclusive peace, we must act quickly; we must put forth our every effort now.

The army is doing its part. Five hundred thousand American soldiers are in France today. There will be more tomorrow. And more the day after. We are going to send an army large enough so that when we strike, with our Allies, we can drive the German hordes back across the Rhine—so that we can win the VICTORY that will make American freedom safe, and establish peace and lasting peace.

But the whole nation must take part. Armies in France are looking to us to furnish them greater abundance, the ordnance, the munitions, the supplies, make their VICTORY possible. We must not fail them.

The Third Liberty Loan is our share in the winning of this war. Upon it depends the safety and success of five hundred thousand American soldiers in France.

ROBERTA'S HEART

By JACK LAWTON.

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

Roberta's heart was broken. At least, that is what she told herself, as she sat reading for the seventh time, Harold Lathrop's letter. To have an engagement ended because of some jealous misunderstanding, would not have been half so bad, but to be told in cold blood that the adored one had ceased to care, this was sorrow and humiliation complete.

"We'd better call it off," was the succinct expression of Harold, "all you care about is the convenience of riding around in my car, sometimes you scarcely look at me, and anyway there's a girl"—That was the better part of it—another girl.

Critically "Bobbie" examined her own piquant face in the mirror. What she saw there could not have been discouraging, for dimples flashed out to mock at the tears in her eyes.

"It," she soliloquized, "I could only make him sorry." Then in sudden inspiration she jumped to her feet.

"The very thing," she murmured, and began a search for a last Sunday's paper. Yes, there it was, the picture of a society girl in company with the handsome aviator who had taken her aloft in his machine. Perhaps if Bobbie could find that airman and persuade him to announce her name as his next daring passenger, Harold Lathrop might realize that a broken heart can drive a girl to reckless lengths.

It was not at all difficult to find the aviator, but more difficult to win him to her purpose. Though deferential to a degree, the broad-shouldered man of nerve, was stubbornly insistent upon having the consent of Roberta's father before taking her up in his flight through the air. And this consent Roberta knew to be beyond the possibility. Courtship in his refusal Mr. Corvay, took time to show the girl the workings of the great machine, escorting her thereafter through the yards. But Bobbie was not convinced of failure. Indeed, now that she had seen the strong face of the flyer, had sensed the calm power of his personality, fear departed from the planned adventure, leaving a new and delightful anticipation. She must go. How wonderful to be sailing on through the clouds, high above the turmoil of the city, steadily like a flying bird, and with that firm hand upon the wheel!

Again Bobbie sought the man as he lingered about the airplane. His upward glance at her appearance was rarely not one of amaze.

"Oh! please," begged the girl, in brief eloquence.

For one moment Covertly hesitated, and was lost.

For many days Bobbie went about with the appearance of a guilty child enjoying some hidden sugar plum, but her name as an air passenger, did not appear in the paper. It was only in the silence of the night that she had time to remember her broken heart.

Upon one of the occasions, in the seclusion of her room, she drew toward her pen and paper. To what purpose was the long flight through the air, if Harold knew not of its being. She must tell him and warn him also of the proposed longer trip; she was still to take. Then no doubt, in remorse he would come back, to beg her for his sake, to risk no more the life that had been to him so precious. But, anyway, as Bobbie paused, the pathetic plop-plop failed to bring the usual tears. Instead her transient thoughts flew before her to the yards where the airplane lay, and to that serious browned face which never seemed to tire of its study.

What was it he had said last evening of going to aid his country? And how valuable would his service be? That steady thinking mind, his bravery! Bobbie sighed as she penned the note.

"Dear Harold:

"Tomorrow afternoon I am taking a dangerous flight in an airplane over West End Park. I accept your decree that our rather hasty engagement should end. Enclosed find ring—Roberta."

And when she had sealed the letter and the ring, with praiseworthy interest for the possessor of a broken heart, Bobbie tried on her aviation cap. Early upon the following afternoon Mr. Harold Lathrop presented himself at his peculiar sweetheart's home. When Roberta's mother learned the cause of the lover's return, her anxiety was greater than her accusations.

"The poor desperate child," she moaned, "we must find her at once. West End Park, did you say? Take me in your car immediately, Harold. Oh, that we may be in time."

Two very white-faced people hastened across the broad stretch of lead landing to the water's edge. No ascent had been made that day, an officer informed them. Mr. Covertly was expected to return shortly, would they wait?

So, in the car close to the roadway, mother and father waited. Soon they were rewarded and relieved by the sight of a small approaching car. At the side of a man's uniformed figure sat Bobbie laughing and glowing.

"Why, mother," she greeted, "Why, mother—and Harold!"

Roberta's mother was at her side in an instant. "Promise me, dear," she whispered, "that you will not take this foolish trip."

And Bobbie blazed her, "I won't," she said, "Mr. Covertly and I were mar-

Let There Be Light

The men in charge of the work for the blind in Maryland, realize the full measure of the responsibility that has been placed upon them. In every sense of the word, they are their brothers' keeper, provided those brothers are blind. From the watch towers on well organized institutions, points the searchlight to survey every corner of the city and state. The blind children and youth are sent to the Maryland School for the Blind, at Overlea, that splendid plant, that needs but to be seen to be appreciated. The adults, including those educated at the School, who have reached maturity, and the many, sightless through accident and disease, are admitted in the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, corner Fayette and Paca streets, Baltimore, to the full limit of its capacity.

Furthermore, those who for various reasons, cannot go to the Workshop, are followed to their homes, and carefully instructed. Miss Virginia Kelly, the Home Teacher, with experienced eyes, makes a careful survey of the needs and possibilities of the blind in their homes, and as far as is practical, adapts the instruction to fit the need. Whenever it can be done, a man, losing his sight in adult life, is encouraged to continue in the business in which he has previously qualified. Every possible help is given him, to this desirable end. Every effort is made not to put a square peg in a round hole; and all that kindness and experience can suggest to encourage and stimulate the disheartened, is done promptly. The results are wonderful. The work done at home, by the blind, may be sent to the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, and sold free of any charge. Some of the finest tatting, most perfect knitting, etc., are obtained from his source. In every case, the blind are taught to read, not only for the pleasure it gives, but also, because reading with the finger quickens the sense of touch invariably, so that increased dexterity results in every vocation open to the blind.

Will you not, as opportunity offers, help this big movement, the success of which seems assured? We aim to make the light shine in all the dark places, that those who have long sat in the shadow may rejoice. Any subscription sent to the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, Fayette and Paca streets, Baltimore, Md., will be gratefully received and acknowledged.

The work for the Blind requires Cash and contributions can be mailed direct to The Workshop for the Blind, 501 West Fayette Street, Baltimore, Md.

The Maryland Workshop for the Blind stands for the betterment of the condition of those deprived of sight, along all lines. It aims to make this unfortunate class self-reliant, self-respecting and as far as possible, self-supporting; to help them to help themselves through work, and above all, set to pauperize them. At the corner of Fayette and Paca streets, Baltimore, Maryland, may be found this excellent institution. Here daily, like self-respecting citizens of the world, some one hundred and fifty blind men and women, who toil cheerfully and efficiently. Many of them are from the counties. To all are given equal opportunities, and the same handicap during instruction.

Here too, may be found competent and willing instructors, for the most part blind, who having mastered the difficulties which beset the blind, by example and precept, help others to overcome. Chair-making, broom-making, hammock-making, piano tuning, weaving, basketry, and switch-board operating are some of the crafts taught.

We have one hundred men on our waiting list. To these will be added those, blinded in battle, who will come to us from "over there." The Government has decided to make Baltimore, the first station, and to send soldiers, after convalescence, to well-established, existing institutions.

Much may be said of the aptitude, infinite patience, and efficiency, of the blind.

Many of these men are heroes, who play their quiet part well in these epoch making days. For them, no blare of trumpets, nor the lure of the battlefield, but, as surely, will they receive their "cross of war," their meed of praise, "good and faithful soldier, well done."

Visitors are assured of a cordial welcome. One visit to the well-lighted plant serves to convince the surprised patron of the excellence of the craftsmanship of the trained blind. Chairs are perfectly caned; no better brooms are manufactured anywhere; the same may be claimed for other finished products of their deft fingers. "All work guaranteed" is true in fact as well as in theory. The customer who first comes from motives of sympathy, soon patronizes the institution for its marked efficiency.

The work for the Blind requires Cash and contributions can be mailed direct to The Workshop for the Blind, 501 West Fayette Street, Baltimore, Md.

After I had passed our barbed wire and gotten into No Man's Land a Tommy about fifteen feet to my right front turned around and looking in my direction, put his hand to his mouth and yelled something which I could not make out on account of the noise from the bursting shells. Then he coughed, stumbled, pitched forward and lay still. His body seemed to float to the rear of me. I could hear sharp cracks in the air about me. These were the

THRIFT PATCH PRIZES TO BOOST FOOD CROPS

Prizes to the amount of $25,000 are to be distributed among both the professional and amateur farmers of this State who are able to show this year the greatest increase in food production. While Maryland is not one of the great wheat-growing States, crops of other foods will, to a great extent, meet our needs at home, and thus ease the burden of the wheat growers who must supply our army and our allies abroad. Patriotic donations to the Maryland Food Administration have provided the wherewithal for these rewards. Owing to the vacation from his arduous duties which Administrator Baetjer's doctors have compelled him to take, the complete details are not yet available for publication, but they will very shortly appear in the papers. They will have an interest for every man, woman and child who can handle a hoe.

The hope of the donors of the prize fund is to stir up war gardeners to still greater actions. There will be prizes for the best farm or home gardens of less than half an acre, and another set of prizes for farm gardens of over that size.

In the towns the thrift-plot scheme has long passed out of the joke stage and is doing a lot to tide over the food crisis which the war has brought about. In the country, another joke is about to end its days as a laugh producer—that which says a man must go to the city to get the good things the farmer grows. In the past a lot of time, effort and money have been spent by the farmer in buying from town foodstuffs which he might well grow at home. The chicken and egg industry as a by-product of the Maryland farms has put a deal of money into the purse of the farmer's wife. The development of this plan for patriot-patches as another by-product will not only put more money in that purse, but will also save a deal besides, in providing the farm-table with food at little cost for which many dollars are now being spent.

The whole scheme is to mobilize the food-producing potentialities of this State so as to get the biggest and best results. Everybody who can work a thrift-patch is urged to line up on the mark now and be ready to "beat the barrier" the minute the papers declare the competition open. The winners will have Uncle Sam's Liberty Bonds, or some such reward for their extra efforts and outstanding skill. The other entrants—there can be no losers—should get as much satisfaction out of the sure knowledge that they have rendered patriotic service that is vitally essential toward winning the war.

A SALISBURY MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

His Testimony Will Interest Every Salisbury Reader.

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Salisbury papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Salisbury people that will not be easily shaken.

W. A. Kennerly, Prop. City Hand Laundry, E. Camden St., Salisbury, says: "I was troubled by lame back, caused by stooping a great deal. The pains I had were sharp and severe and always caught me in the small of my back when I tried to straighten after bending over. The kidney secretions were scanty and highly colored and contained sediment. After I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at White & Leonard's Drug Store I was cured. There is nothing too good for me to say about Doan's Kidney Pills and I recommend them to every kidney sufferer."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kennerly had. Koster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Blind Who Battle

Go as soon as possible, if you have not already been there, to the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, Fayette and Paca streets, Baltimore, Maryland, and see 150 blind persons at work. There are insurmountable miles between you and them, go in spirit. Solomon asked for wisdom, and God added all necessary, subordinate things. These men ask for work, that life may be bearable. Once inside, you will realize that work makes the heart glad. Said a citizen, to a blind man, during a recent visit, "you are too cheerful to gain much sympathy."

Many blind come, and go alone to the workshop, having acquired easy confidence in their ability to do and dare. A Superintendent of a similar institution in the North, remarked, as he watched the men file out at the close of a well spent day, "your men walk with 'heads up' like self-respecting citizens."

Visitors are impressed with the integrity of the place; such slogans as "all work guaranteed," "keep up to the standard," "nothing sold not up to the standard" are current phrases, backed by conscientious officials. So much for the place that transmits despair into courage and energy.

Others quickly comment on the happy atmosphere of the institution. The spirit of friendliness is infectious. Come and meet the sightless manager of the Workshop, a man who has worked for many years, side by side, and heart to heart, with the blind. He is a man of unimpeachable integrity, inspiring confidence at once; one, who always lends a sympathetic ear to the unfortunate blind, and as surely finds a remedy.

The instructor at the switchboard is a fine example of what a blind woman may do, and do cheerfully and speedily. Incidentally, be it observed, she can count money, by running her forefinger lightly over the number of the bill. She can distinguish dark colors from light, and even detect stripes, with the same unerring precision. "Don't ask us whether we can," she said, when a new line of work was suggested, "but lead us to it." Such is the splendid spirit of the Workshop.

The blind instructors in the chair-making department are men of note; men who have triumphed over difficulties, hitherto considered insurmountable, and having made themselves masters, by example and precept, help others to overcome.

We need to enlarge our plant, to receive the 100 men on the waiting list; to make provision for those who will probably come to us from "over there," blinded in battle. Baltimore is to be the first station.

We need MONEY; that is the moral of this optimistic tale. Any subscription sent to the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, Fayette and Paca streets, Baltimore, Md., will be thankfully received.

The work for the Blind requires cash and contributions can be mailed direct to The Workshop for the Blind, 601 West Fayette Street, Baltimore, Md.

Generous Response Third Liberty Loan

Counties Subscribing Quotas and Are Working Hard For Honor Flag

"Over There" Proves Big Help

Reports coming from all parts of the country to the National Liberty Loan Committee indicate that the country districts, with the towns and smaller communities are going to exceed all former efforts in their contributions to the Liberty Loan of the present issue.

That the counties of Maryland are not to fall behind those of other commonwealths is likewise indicated by the enthusiastic zeal with which their people have gone to work for the loan. They have an excellent example in the pledge of old Frederick that "we are going to send our dollars to back up our boys at the front." This message was conveyed to the Maryland Publicity Committee in Baltimore in a telegram a week ago, and since then Frederick has been diligently at work to fulfill its pledge.

It is not yet known how many Maryland communities have completed their entire quota of the loan and earned the Honor Flag, but it is known that the best licks are being hit by all of them in efforts to achieve this distinction. Montgomery, first county to report, has already subscribed its quota of $329,800.

On Saturday the reports to the National Committee showed that 700 communities throughout the country had won this honor, and the list was growing rapidly. Another feature in this connection is that almost invariably when a community reports it says:

"We have filled our quota, but have not relaxed our efforts. We will try to double the quota."

This is evidenced the spirit of the American people which has been whetted to the point of enthusiasm by the larger part that our people are now playing in the theatre of war.

There is another big outstanding feature of the present drive in the smaller as well as the larger communities, and that is the more determined and successful part being played by women in raising the loan that Uncle Sam has called for.

The Maryland Section of the Maryland League for National Defense on last Thursday subscribed $26,000. The various women's organizations of Baltimore are daily reporting large lists of subscriptions.

Mary Pickford, the movie actress, was at the "Over There" Cantorment at Baltimore last Monday, and when she had finished her little speech and made an appeal for funds the audience responded with subscriptions for $410,000 worth of bonds. And the best part of it was that these subscriptions were principally in small amounts, so that the number of subscribers was very large.

Down in Richmond on the opening day of the loan the women's committee sold $201,000 worth of bonds.

In the first two days of the loan the women of Delaware sold $80,000 worth of bonds.

In the town of Virden, Ill., on the first day of the loan the women went to work and carried the town over its quota entirely through their own efforts. That shows just what a live organization in a small community can do.

On April 6th the women of Houlston, Washington, sold $55,410 worth of bonds.

In New Braunfels, Texas, the women's committee reports that the full quota of $124,100 has been subscribed and they are still pushing on. This town subscribed only $7,150 to the first loan, and $29,000 to the second loan. There is no question that the country is awake.

And there is no question in the minds of the Maryland Committee that the communities of this state will measure up to the records of sister states.

The quotas apportioned to Baltimore City and the counties of Liberty Loan were officially announced yesterday afternoon by the Reserve Bank of the Fifth Regional District. Of the total of $38,482,200 apportioned to the State of Maryland, Baltimore City is called upon to subscribe to $28,463,900 or approximately three-fourths of the total amount leaving $10,028,300 for the counties. The following are the amounts each county is required to subscribe:

SAVE SUGAR.

When the sun begins to shine,
Tap a tree;
Don't sit idly by and whine,
Tap a tree;
Get the spiles and buckets out,
Clean the kettle with a shout,
Put old Sarcara to rout,
Tap a tree.

There is work for all to do,
Tap a tree;
Start the spring time out anew,
Tap a tree;
Laugh at yonder sugar line
Underneath the grocer's sign,
If that plight you would decline,
Tap a tree.

TWO LOAVES A WEEK.

One pound and a half of wheat flour per week is allowed by the new food ruling for each man, woman and child in the U. S. A.

Two loaves of Victory Bread—one of 16 ounces and the other of 12 ounces—can be bought by the housewife for each member of her household without exceeding the new limit.

BARLEY CRUST
(Official Recipe)

Two cups barley flour, one-third cup vegetable oil, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon baking powder.

Combine as for other pastry, adding enough water for a stiff dough.

Sunday, April 14 is one of the war's historic dates. On it the American people, endeavoring to cut their wheat consumption in half, reduced the amount of flour in their Victory Bread from 80 to 75 per cent.

THE LATEST HUN DODGE

If your tooth strikes on a little bit of crystallized sugar or a little grit in your food—especially bran bread, don't jump to the conclusion that you were almost a victim of a German plot. The latest propaganda of the Kaiser's diabolically clever agents is to throw a foolish scare into the people of this country in the matter of their food supply.

WAR PORTIONS

Three potatoes a day will help keep the Kaiser away.

What is needed "over there." Potatoes should be kept busy on home guard duty here, where they can serve in fifty ways.

Save Sugar—Six teaspoons per day is plenty for any person. If John D. Rockefeller lived in England all his wealth wouldn't buy him more than eight ounces a week.

There were 555 pearls in the missing package, of which the three largest weighed between 25 and 28 grains each. The others weighed from one to three grains each.

It is said that the pearls were sent by a Paris dealer to one here; that to avoid an extra rate the shipper did

Mrs. Sophie Bauer, 131 First Ave. North, Fairbault, Minnesota, writes:

"I cannot praise your wonderful medicine, Peruna, enough. It has done much for me during the past ten years and I keep it in the house continually. I was in such a condition that I could eat nothing but bread and milk, and even that was too heavy for me at times. Now, I can eat anything. I will recommend Peruna to all my friends."

Those who object to liquid medicines can procure Peruna Tablets.
