POETRY.

A THOUGHT. BY FATHER BYAN.

The summer rose the sun has flushed With crimson glory may be sweet— 'Tis sweeter when its leaves are crushed Beneath the wind and tempest's feet.

The rose that waves upon its tree In life, sheds perfume all around— More sweet the perfume floats to me Of roses trampled on the ground.

The waving rose with every breath Scents, carelessly, the summer air— The wounded rose bleeds forth in death A sweetness far more rich and rare.

It is a truth beyond our ken, And yet a truth that all may read— It is with roses as with men: The sweetest hearts are these that bleed.

The flower which Bethlehem saw bloom Out of a heart all full of grace, Gave never forth its full perfume Until the cross became its vase.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE.

Pursuant to a call of the State Executive Committee, the Delegates from the several election districts met in State Convention in the Representative Hall, Dover, on Thursday 27th inst. In the absence of the Chairman, the Convention was called to order by James L. Smith, Esq., member of the Executive Committee, and on his motion Sewell C. Biggs, Esq., was elected temporary chairman, and on motion of William H. Sarde, Esq., James L. Walcott, Esq., was elected temporary secretary.

The seats provided for the delegates having been occupied by spectators, on motion it was resolved that the floor be cleared and that the delegates be seated at the call of the roll. This proceeding caused much confusion, but it was finally carried out.

There being a contest for seats in the delegations from Appoquinimink and Seaford Hundreds, on motion of Dr. M. G. Lofland, a Committee on Credentials, consisting of five delegates from each county was appointed, as follows:

New Castle County—George G. Kerr, A. H. Silver, James Nicholson, W. L. Bright, T. J. Baldwin.

Kent County—Joseph Burchenal, John S. Jester, C. J. Harrington, Robert J. Reynolds, John Van Gaslin.

Sussex County—J. W. Causey, Joseph P. Marvel, J. M. Houston, C. F. Ralston, Noble T. Conaway.

On motion of John J. Torer, a Committee on Permanent Organization, consisting of five delegates from each county, was appointed, as follows:

New Castle County—John J. Torer, John R. Rodney, B. F. Frame, G. Watkins, Charles H. McWhorton.

Kent County—M. G. Lofland, J. L. Walcott, Wm. Goodwin, C. J. Harrington, Joseph Booth.

Sussex County—Robert Lambden, N. W. Hickman, C. C. Stockley, Thomas E. Records, W. H. Wheatley.

On motion of Dr. Edward Worrell, the rules of the House of Representatives of this State were adopted as the rules of this Convention.

On motion, C. P. Johnson was appointed temporary secretary in place of Mr. Walcott, on committee.

On motion of W. F. Townsend, a Committee on Resolutions, consisting of five from each county, was appointed, as follows:

New Castle County—Ignatius C. Grubb, George Gray, J. W. Coohar, W. R. Lynn, W. McMinamin.

G. Vandegrift, was appointed to conduct Dr. Worrell to the chair. The President briefly addressed the convention, returning thanks for the honor conferred, and alluding in warm and complimentary terms to the past history and present attitude of the Democratic party.

The Committee on Credentials reported that Major W. Allen, Michael Coulbourn, Jacob Bounds and Hugh Martin were regularly elected delegates from Seaford hundred, and that J. W. Vandegrift, William Nailor, Coleen Ferguson, F. T. Perry and S. H. Roberts were entitled to seats from Appoquinimink hundred.

The report of the committee, so far as it related to Seaford Hundred, was adopted, but a wild and excited debate sprang up on the consideration of the part of the report relating to Appoquinimink Hundred. After a statement of the case before the committee, it was finally agreed to admit the delegates from North Appoquinimink, viz: Samuel Townsend and Cyrus Tatman, and three delegates of the above named from the Southern district.

On motion of W. F. Townsend, it was resolved to proceed to the nomination of a candidate for Governor.

On motion, George Gray, W. F. Townsend and C. J. Harrington were appointed tellers.

William Dean stated that he had been appointed to cast the vote of the New Castle county delegation for John P. Cochran.

Objection being made to such a mode of proceeding, and much confusion and disorder ensuing, Mr. Dean nominated John P. Cochran as the choice of New Castle county.

Joseph Burchenal nominated John W. Hall as the choice of Kent county.

William Bright, of New Castle county, was also placed in nomination.

A ballot was taken, the delegates voting as their names were called by the Secretary, the result of which was announced as follows:

For John P. Cochran, 83 votes. "John W. Hall, 77 " "Wm. Bright, 1 "

On motion, the nomination of Mr. Cochran was made unanimous. The announcement of the result was the occasion of much rejoicing and congratulation.

It was then, on motion, resolved to proceed to the nomination of a candidate for Congress.

Mr. Grubb, on the part of New Castle county, announced that the county did not desire the nominee for Congress.

W. F. Townsend, for the Sussex delegation, stated that Sussex county did not claim the nominee, and promised seven hundred majority for the nominees of New Castle and Kent Counties.

James Williams, of Kent county, Charles B. Lore, of New Castle county, and John H. Paynter, of Sussex county, and George Gray, of New Castle county, were placed in nomination. John O'Byrne, of New Castle county, was also named, but that gentleman immediately declined, saying that he did not want the Democratic party to carry any dead weight in the race this fall.

Upon a ballot being had it appeared that James Williams received 86 votes. Charles B. Lore received 43 votes. John H. Paynter received 7 votes. James L. Wolcott received 4 votes. George Gray received - 2 votes.

Whereupon, on motion, the nomination of Mr. Williams was made unanimous.

On motion of Mr. Dean, a committee, consisting of three from each county, was appointed to notify the candidates of their nomination, as follows, viz:

New Castle County—William Dean, George Gray, J. C. Grubb.

Kent County—Robert Denny, Joseph Burchenal, J. L. Wolcott, Sussex County—W. F. Townsend, C. C. Stockley, Robert G. Ellegood.

On motion of Mr. Dean, the Chair was requested to appoint a State Executive Committee, consisting of three members from each county, which was announced as follows: Sussex county—Robert G. Ellegood, C. H. Richards, Joseph Lafort.

New Castle county—John O'Byrne, James T. Hayes, Gassaway Watkins.

Kent county—Robert J. Reynolds, J. Frank Denny, J. Alexander Fulton.

The Committee on Resolutions, through their Chairman, I. C. Grubb, Esq., reported the following:

1. Resolved, That the Democratic party of the State of Delaware, in convention met, renew their ancient and broken allegiance to the constitution of this State and the general government, and point with pride and satisfaction to the just, honest, economical and equitable administration of the affairs of the State of Delaware under Democratic rule, whereby safety of property and person has been maintained and the financial and political credit of the State sustained on equality with the best governed and most favored of her sister States.

2. Resolved, That the welfare of all classes of our population, the rich and the poor, the white and the black, in the future as the past, can and will be best conserved by a continuance of that strict obedience to constitutional limitations upon official power, that respect for established law, that absence of class legislation, that due regard for the rights of the community as a whole, which have characterized the administration of government by the Democratic party, and which form the chief guarantees of a free and stable government.

3. Resolved, That the continuous example of utter and flagrant disregard of the most sacred and essential rights of local self-government by President Grant and his associates, as established in the wanton invasion overthrow of the lawful government of the State of Louisiana, and the retention in office and personal favor shown the guilty officials through whose actions, aided by the army of the United States, this gross outrage was perpetrated, fills us with indignation and alarm, and that against it all we utter our solemn protest.

4. Resolved, That the course of Radical administration has brought great sorrow and loss to our people and shame and discredit to the name of republican government, by the encouragement shown to the delegation of public robbers from the State of South Carolina and the rudeness exhibited to her most meritorious and suffering citizens,—by the retention in office, all over the country, of men notoriously dishonest, corrupt and unworthy,—by allowing the lowest, most virulent and unworthy partisanship to control appointments to the highest offices,—by a refusal to punish dishonesty in office when exposed,—by issuing and maintaining an unconstitutional currency without intrinsic value, the fluctuations of which are the constant profit of speculators at the cost of the laboring classes, and which demoralizes and unsettles commerce in all its branches.

5. Resolved, That the lamentable condition of the States of South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana continue to excite our kindred and strongest sympathies for the men of our race who, by the lawless exercise of armed federal power are placed and kept under the galling rule of ignorance and crime, and we fervently hope that an awakening sense of the whole people of the Union may soon relieve these evils of Radicalism and negro government.

6. Resolved, That we denounce the wild, cruel and reckless measure called the Civil Rights Bill as grossly violative of the letter and spirit of the Federal and State Constitutions, and only calculated to sow new seeds of discord between the States and the people. That is an undignified attempt to enforce social equality between negroes and white people, and to encourage, if not compel, an intermingling of those races whose essential differences have been marked and established by Almighty God.

7. Resolved, That the course of Hon. James E. Lofland, as a Representative in Congress of this State, in relation to the Civil Rights Bill, has been in defiance of the intelligence and decency of the entire community and deserves and will receive the scorn and opposition of any right thinking inhabitant of Delaware.

8. Resolved, That the act passed at the last session of Congress, enlarging the jurisdiction of the federal courts of the District of Columbia, is a base attempt to muzzle the public press and to shield the corrupt and unscrupulous officers of the government from just criticism.

9. Resolved, That we contemplate with just pride the national reputation and commanding rank and influence won for our State in the Senate of the United States, and that we hereby extend our grateful thanks to our faithful Senators, Hon. Thomas F. Bayard and Hon. Eli Saulsbury, for their constant opposition to the infamous Civil Rights Bill, and every other pernicious and tyrannical radical measure, and for their manly defence of constitutional government, the freedom of the press, the cause of the oppressed, and the rights and honor of their race, nation and State.

10. Resolved, That we cordially invite all honest citizens to unite with us in the election of the worthy candidates whom we this day present for their suffrages, believing that good private and public character are inseparable, and that just, economical and honest rule can only be expected from those whose private lives have given such assurance.

On motion, the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

On motion, the convention then adjourned sine die.

The attendance upon the Convention was the largest that we have ever known, including about 1500 citizens of Wilmington and New Castle county, who arrived, on a special train of fifteen cars, about 10 o'clock, A. M. They were accompanied by the Wilmington City Cornet Band and the New Castle and Middletown Cornet Bands, which furnished music for the procession as it marched into town and for the Convention and attendants during the day. The announcement of the nomination of Mr. Cochran to the crowd about the State House was received with great manifestation of enthusiasm, citizens of New Castle county, in particular, appearing delighted with the result. Mr. Williams' nomination, which was almost unanimously made before a ballot was taken in the Convention, was also received with great favor.

THE POWER OF CHILDREN. A man was leaning, much intoxicated, against a tree; some little children coming from school saw him there, and at once said to each other, "What shall we do for him?" Presently, said one, "Oh! I'll tell you, let's sing him a temperance song."

And so they did; collecting around him, they sang— "Away the bowl, away the bowl," and so on in beautiful tunes. The poor fellow enjoyed the singing, and when they had finished that song he said, "Sing again, little girls, sing again."

"We will," they said, "if you will sign the temperance pledge." "No, no; we are not at a temperance meeting; there are no pledges here."

"I have a pledge," cried one; and "I have a pencil," cried the other.— Holding up the pledge and pencil, they besought him to sign it. "No, no, I won't sign it now. Sing for me."

So they sang again— "The drink that's in the drunkard's bowl, Is not the drink for me." "Oh, do sing that again," said he, as he wiped the tears from his eyes. "No, no more," said they, "unless you'll sign the pledge; sign, and we will sing for you."

He pleaded for the singing, but they were firm, and declared they would go away if he would not sign. "But," said the poor fellow, striving to find an excuse, "there's no table here, how can I write without a table?"

At this a modest, quiet, pretty little creature with her fingers on her lips, came and said, "Yes, you can spread the pledge on the crown of your hat, and I will hold it for you."

Off came the hat, and the child held it, and the pledge was signed, and the little ones burst out with— "Oh, water for me, bright water for me, Give wine to the tremulous debauchee."

I heard that man in Worcester Town Hall, with uplifted hands and quivering lips say, "I thank God for the sympathy of those children. I shall thank God to all eternity that He sent those little children as messengers of mercy to me."—John B. Gough.

COULD NOT DO JUSTICE.—It was noted on one occasion, that just as a farmer in Clearfield county reached the top of a steep hill, the tail-board of his cart gave way and the load of apples he was hauling home went rolling with marvellous rapidity into the stream at the foot of that hill. Apples were scarce that year, and these were the choice lot for winter eating. That farmer—who was noted as the champion swearer of the country—uttered not one profane word as he mumbledly gazed on that empty vehicle and those scattering apples. When asked, "George, why don't you swear?" George calmly observed, "Swearing can't do justice on this occasion!"

This brief chronicle was written by the editor of the Philadelphia Ledger: "Lowe!—Saturday. Two little boys and a pistol. Now, only one little boy and a pistol."

CHINESE DOMESTICITIES.

A writer on the Chinese in the Fremontian says: "They have a large screen before the doorway, which gives privacy sufficient for their need. The window shades are closed either by a sort of jealousy or secret pretensions with which we envelope these proceedings in Europe. Human nature, they argue, has to sleep, and here is the way upon which it stretches itself. Why conceal it? It also wants to eat, and it satisfies its appetite, no matter how many eyes are gazing. Tell a Chinese cook you are hungry, and he will immediately fetch his fire, his cooking utensils, his provisions, and, cook under your very nose. He has no idea of concealing his operations in some far-back region. He squats down anywhere, makes a fire or is anything—a basin, dish, pan, or pot—there is no limit to his invention. He will cook in the middle of the street, or in the center of his guests in a restaurant. Upon one occasion, when on board a junk, I observed a man cooking his own and his neighbor's food together in a tub, and an earthen jar containing the charcoal. Wonderful creatures they are, these despised Chinese, with a defiance of finger and ingenuity of patience unsurpassed by any nation under the sun."

THE USES OF WALKING. Walking, for young and active people, is by far the best exercise; sitting is good for the elderly, middle-aged, and invalid. The abuse of these exercises consists in taking them when the system is exhausted more or less by previous fasting or by mental labor. Some persons injudiciously attempt a long walk before breakfast. Others will get up early to work three hours at some abstruse mental toil. The effect in both instances is the same; it subtracts from the power of exertion in the after part of the day. A short saunter or some light reading before this meal is the best indulgence of the kind; otherwise the waste occasioned by labor must be supplied by nourishment, and the breakfast will necessarily become a heavy meal, and the whole morning's comfort sacrificed by a weight at the chest, from imperfect digestion of food. These observations apply especially to elderly persons, who are prone to fatter themselves into the persuasion that they can use their mental or bodily powers in age as in youth.

A GAMBLING DODGE.

A Persian medical man was sent for the other day to see a patient, who was in bed. Having prescribed, he promised to call on the following evening. He did so, and in the sick man's room found several other persons sitting at a table playing cards, as they said to amuse their invalid friend. The table was covered with gold.

"I am much better this evening, doctor," said the protracted sick man, and after some few other remarks, added: "You have a lucky countenance, doctor; I wish you would play a few games for me."

"With all my heart," replied the doctor, and on the patient giving him ten Napoleons he seated himself at the table, and in a short time won one hundred Napoleons, which he handed over to his patient, saying that he had several times thought of proposing to the halves him.

"Nothing would have given me greater pleasure," said the other, "but what is deferred is not lost; do me the pleasure to come at the same hour to-morrow evening, and you shall meet the same party."

The doctor did so, and for two or three successive nights, and after being allowed at first to win, was ultimately a loser of 25,000. On the fourth night he returned hoping to retrieve his losses, when he found the bird flown, the apartment having only been taken for a week.

FAITH.

It is said that one day when Bonaparte was reviewing some troops, the bridle of his horse slipped from his hand and the horse galloped off. A common soldier ran, and laying hold of the bridle, brought back the horse to the Emperor's hand when he said to the man: "Well done, captain."

"Of what regiment are you?" inquired the soldier. "Of the guards," answered Napoleon, pleased with his instantaneous belief in his word.

The Emperor rode off; the soldier threw down his musket, and though he had no epaulettes on his shoulders, no sword by his side nor any other mark of advancement, he ran and joined the staff of commanding officers.

They laughed at him, and said: "What have you done here?" "I am captain of the guards," he replied.

They were amazed, but he said: "The Emperor has said so, and therefore I am."

In like manner, through the word of God: "He that believeth hath everlasting life," is not confirmed by the opinion of the believer; he ought to take the word of God as true, because he believeth, and thus honor him as a God of truth, and rejoice with joy unspeakable.

But perhaps it would be the very best thing that could be done to make a "change," import a teacher and admit Mr. "Dan" as a student for it is believed that there is yet room for big improvement on said "Dan." By the way, he writes: "An M. E. Church," to say nothing of other mistakes in his epistle. Yours truly, ZEEK.

POETRY.

LIFE. A child was playing 'mid the flowers, A merry little child; Wild bounding with triumphant health, How happily he smiled!

His kite was floating in the air, He let the kite string go, While he made for a butterfly That lit upon a rose.

His primer lay upon a bank, He hid it in the grass, That trout boy! He always was The tail-piece of this class.

He launched a boat, of paper made, Upon the troubled stream, And said it was a "clipper bill," And didn't go by steam.

That curly-headed boy consumed The golden hours of life, And now he's grown to be a man, Remembered by a wife— A modest wife, and children, too His wayward ways are ended, He has a broomstick o'er his head, His socks are never mended.

Ambition was the kite he raised, "Folly the butterfly;" His primer was the knowledge lost, His boat his destiny, The wrinkles of old age have come, He brinks 'neath care and pain, And thinks he'd be a wiser man If youth were his again.

ALONE WITH A MANIAC.

I am braced by many why I am prematurely gray, and I will relate the thrilling circumstance again, as I have done a hundred times before.

Hair has often turned gray in a night, but mine turned to silver threads in the broad sunlight of noon day, with a thousand upturned faces in wonder and horror at my helpless and fearful situation, all paralyzed by the sight, and none thinking or able to help me. Alone I suffered, and alone I triumphed, but added a half century to the locks that shaded my brow.

I was employed by a Lightning Rod Company, and was ordered to replace the old broken rod of St. Paul's Church in the city of Wilmington, with one of our new patent spirals. That night I told my room-mate of my detailed duty for the next day, and I noticed his strange keen eyes light up with some secret pleasure, but I thought nothing of it at the time.

What a strange creature he was! An Italian landscape painter, a man of middle age, who had seen some deep sorrows in life, but whose secret I never knew. I only guessed.

THE GAMBLER'S VICTIM.

Some years ago I was collecting agent for a mercantile house in New York, doing a large business in the south-west.

One of our best and largest customers resided in Memphis, and on him I intended to call ere completing my tour.

In accordance with a private arrangement between him and the firm in whose employ I was, a telegram had been sent him apprising him of my coming, as he always desired to be notified of that some days in advance, and then he invariably paid prompt, and in cash.

A response to the telegram had been received, and I was informed that our valuable customer was ready with his funds for payment.

He had, as I knew, peculiar ideas of business honesty, and having once promised any sum, would be the very last man to shirk or delay the fulfillment of the obligation.

So I journeyed on toward Memphis, confident of receiving from Mr. Lamoye the very handsome sum owing me from him.

At Cairo I took the boat for a passage down the Mississippi. To my surprise, one of the very first persons I saw on board was Mr. Lamoye himself, who was returning, he informed me, from a hurried trip to one of the upper-river towns. But he did not appear to be pleased to see me, I thought; for his manner in my presence was constrained and embarrassed.

All his old cordiality was gone. His face wore an anxious, distressed expression, and altogether he was entirely unlike his former genial and kindly self. I wondered what could have occurred to change him.

After the first hour of my meeting he avoided me as much as he could, and I fancied that a feeling of shame was aroused in him whenever we accidentally met. His face would flush, his eyes would not meet mine, and he appeared to be very unpleasantly agitated, though he endeavored to conceal the traces of his emotion.

The boat, I soon found, was infested with gamblers, as every Mississippi steamer in those days was.

They made no concealment of their character and calling. In the cabin and on deck groups gathered to witness their operations. Day and night their play went on.

As I approached one of the rings of interest in the cabin, after the lamps had been lighted, I saw to my astonishment, that Mr. Lamoye was engaged in the dangerous "amusement." I would not have believed it of him had not my eyes attested the fact. I had heard him, at other times, denounce gambling in the severest terms, and warn others never to be led into it. Yet there he was, shuffling the cards like an expert, and apparently deeply engrossed in the play.

He was excited, that was plain to be seen, and the intensity of his interest in the game both pained and alarmed me.

For a full hour I watched him, and those engaged with him, at the tables. Not once did he raise his eyes to see who was looking on.

He gave not the least attention to anything apart from the game; spoke not a word but in reference to it.

His face, I thought, brightened as the hours wore away. He had won repeatedly—almost invariably, in fact, though the stakes as yet were small. But though he continued to win for a time, I pitied him, as he sat there, and felt painfully concerned for him. I was sure those cold-faced, evil villains who were around him had marked him for their victim, and were only luring him on to utter destruction. But I dared not utter one warning word—it would have cost me my life.

At last the tide began to turn against Mr. Lamoye. He lost, and lost again. The sum was considerable, and I saw he was dismayed. The old uneasy look came back to his lately brightening countenance.

At the next game he won. For the first time now he made a remark not directly connected with the game:

"If I had twenty thousand dollars of my own, I would stop here," he said. Twenty thousand dollars of his own! Why he owns our firm that much, and had promised to pay it. Had he in some way lost and was he thus madly endeavoring to retrieve his broken fortune?—Twenty thousand dollars! I had supposed he was worth ten times that sum.

A cold, contemptuous smile, and some words that I could not catch, was the reply made to him by his opponent.

The play then went on—the stakes were doubled: Mr. Lamoye lost. His face grew white with fear, his hand trembled.

MORAL COURAGE IN DAILY LIFE.

"Moral Courage" was printed in large letters and put as the following items, and placed in a conspicuous place on the door of a very eminent merchant in New York, for constant reference, and furnished by him for publication:

Have the courage to discharge a debt while you have the money in your pocket.

Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much your eyes covet it.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a seedy coat, even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary that you should do so, and hold your tongue when it is prudent that you should do so.

THE HAPPIEST PERIOD.

Ever since the world began this has been a disputed question, and ever since the world began the majority of the people have generally misjudged. Thoroughly dissatisfied with any present time, we cast about for a golden age. We cannot find it in the future, as the cloud of uncertainty hangs on the horizon in that direction. We are compelled therefore to explore the past.

The immediate past, with its facts and disappointments, is too fresh in our memory to allow us to throw the required halo about it, and so we continue our journey until we get to the point where memory grows dim and the imagination works actively, and we call that the halcyon period of life. To say that childhood is the happiest period of life is to offer insult to providence. The child is a creature of untrained impulses, of undeveloped affections. His mind is like a grating in a well-ordered house. The coal is there, and the kindling wood is there, and the whole thing will break into a blaze when touched with a match. Now, before the match has touched it, it is a pleasant and more profitable sight than half a dozen lumps of conflagration coal enveloped in a royal blaze, and filling the room so full of light and heat that one forgets the wintry sleet without; childhood, with its sugar plums and its toys, will be inferior to manhood with his burning enthusiasm and its lofty ambitions.

A member of the Seginaw county bar, was recently in one of our thriving interior towns on professional business. In the office of the hotel he was accompanied by a very agreeable gentleman, evidently of the genus drummer, who wanted to know "where he was from." The legal gentleman, not relishing the stranger's familiarity, answered shortly, "From Detroit." The next question was, "For what house are you traveling?" "For my own." "You are! May I ask your name?" "You may." "Praise—enjoyable to the lawyer, embarrassing to the other." "Well (desperately) what is your name?" "James." "What line are you in?" "I don't understand you, sir." "What are you selling?" (impatiently.) "Baiting," (coolly.) The drummer saw his opportunity, and looking at the other from head to foot, he said slowly, "Well, you appear to carry a deuced small line of samples."

A Columbia clergyman, who, while preaching a sermon on Sunday evening, perceived a man and woman under the gallery in the act of kissing each other behind a hymn book, did not lose his temper. No, he remained calm. He beamed mildly at the offenders over his spectacles, and when the young man kissed her the fifteenth time, he merely broke his sermon short off in the middle of "thirdly," and offered a fervent prayer in behalf of "the young man in the pink necktie and the maiden in the blue bonnet and gray shawl, who were profaning the sanctuary by kissing one another in pew 78." And the congregation said "Amen." Then the woman pulled her veil down and the young man sat there and swore softly to himself. He does not go to church so much now as he did.

MORAL COURAGE IN DAILY LIFE.

"Moral Courage" was printed in large letters and put as the following items, and placed in a conspicuous place on the door of a very eminent merchant in New York, for constant reference, and furnished by him for publication:

Have the courage to discharge a debt while you have the money in your pocket.

Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much your eyes covet it.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a seedy coat, even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary that you should do so, and hold your tongue when it is prudent that you should do so.

Have the courage to own that you are poor, and thus disarm poverty of its sting.

Have the courage to tell a man why you refuse to credit him.

Have the courage to tell a man why you will not lend him your money.

Have the courage to cut the most agreeable acquaintance you have when you are convinced that he lacks principle, a friend should bear with a friend's infirmities, but not with his vices.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE U. S.
ALLEN G. THURMAN, OF OHIO.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.
THOMAS F. BAYARD, OF DELAWARE.

The Convention which met at Cambridge on the 9th inst. to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress in the First District of Md., after casting 148 ineffectual ballots, adjourned to meet here on the 23rd inst. to finish their work. Several candidates were presented to the Convention, but none developed a sufficient degree of real strength to insure his nomination on the Convention reassembling, and we understand that there is a feeling among the delegates to take up a new man on the 23rd that will unite all discordant elements.

A PENINSULAR EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

In compliance with a desire generally expressed by many of the Peninsular journals, it has been determined upon by the Press Association of Salisbury, Md., to call a convention to be composed of the newspaper men, and those persons connected with the improvement and development and resources of the Delaware, Maryland and Virginia Peninsula, to meet in Salisbury on Tuesday, the 20th day of October next, for the purpose of taking in consideration a variety of subjects, prominent among which is the regulation of a scale of prices for publishing, &c. The improvement and development of the resources of this peninsula, to augment the means of transportation, and devise some more effectual means of inducing immigration to our shore, with such other subjects as may present themselves to the members.

It is hoped that each of the 42 newspapers of this section will send at least one representative, and if the editor or publisher cannot be present in person, that they may appoint some person in their stead, who is connected with some of the leading pursuits of our citizens, in order that an intelligent expression of general sentiment may be had upon all the leading topics of material progress among our people. Invitations will be extended to gentlemen of enterprise throughout the Peninsula, who are connected with railroads, steamboats, canals and general commercial, agricultural and mechanical pursuits, in order that a full, free and frank expression of opinion may be had on all subjects introduced to the convention. All subjects will be in order except those of a political or religious nature, both of which may be incidentally referred to for the purpose of entertainment, but it is to be hoped not for the purpose of provoking controversy. Rules, regulations, &c., will be provided, and further notice given.

The adjourned Congressional Convention will meet here on the 23rd inst. to finish the work they commenced at Cambridge. And it is to be hoped that they will look to the interests of the party and people. All that is wanting is a good man, with plenty of backbone and a fair share of brains, in whom there is no back down to the principles and practices of Democracy, and, without an honest man. He should be prudent, and temperate, and a fair debater. With such a one there will be nothing to fear; he can and will be elected, no matter what may be said in the beginning of the canvass, for it is well known that there is nothing in the teaching and practice of the Republican party to induce an increase in strength.

MARYLAND'S OCEAN SIDE.

The road of the Wicomico and Pocomoke Railroad extension to the Bay has been graded its entire length, a distance of seven miles, and about five miles of the track has been laid, and the balance is being laid at the rate of about a quarter of a mile a day. Gentlemen connected with the enterprise were in this city yesterday for the purpose of securing subscriptions for the new hotel to be erected at the terminus of the road for a summer resort. There is a beautiful beach and bathing in the surf of the Atlantic at this point equal to Cape May.—Balto. Gazette

A writer in Harper's Magazine describes a cotton mill near Queretaro, in Mexico, the yard of which is full of the daintiest flowers and fruits with statues and fountains, and he asks why Northern factories should not be thus embowered, at least so far as the climate would allow. There would certainly seem to be no good reason why the surroundings of the average New England factory should not be pleasant.

A woman was placed on trial in the "Chowee" (Pa.) court, last week, charged with disturbing a religious meeting by riotously eating peanut. The evidence for the prosecution was that, although she was repeatedly requested to desist she made a loud noise by her munching and crushed the shells with her hands, declaring in the process that she should eat peanuts whenever she wanted to. The woman was discharged.

THOU SHALT NOT STEAL.

AN OLD-FASHIONED GOSPEL GOOD FOR THE EARS OF MODERN OFFICE HOLDERS.

Sunday morning the Rev. William D. Mackey preached in White Clay Creek Church on the eighth commandment. He preached the same sermon in the same church early last spring, and the people were so much pleased with it that they requested him to repeat it. His text was Exodus xx, 15: "Thou shalt not steal."

It is very important, said the speaker, for the welfare of a community, that individuals be protected in the possession of their property. Wherever property is insecure, industry is discouraged. The right of individual possession is recognized by the law of God and is one of those foundation principles of morality against which no valid objections can be urged. The extensive frauds and defalcations which have taken place throughout the country during the past few years have caused great distrust and alarm, and it seems necessary that this subject should be discussed, and every means employed to elevate the tone of public morals. Let crimes be called by their true names. Let condemnation be uttered in distinct terms; and wherever opprobrium belongs, there let it be affixed.

The speaker defined the thief as one who takes property without the knowledge and consent of the owner, and the robber as one who takes the property of another by force. Passing by the plain violations of this commandment, he proposed to dwell upon shortcomings which are more common and which evidently are to be classed under this precept.

1. This commandment is broken by those who borrow and do not return. It may be a great convenience to procure from your neighbor, for a time, the use of his money or other property. He may be able to spare it without any loss to himself, and it may afford him great pleasure to accommodate you, but when failing to keep your promise, you retain his property, you are guilty of both lying and stealing, and you are giving your influence to render your neighbors more selfish, since your conduct tends to convince them that they cannot gratify their kind feelings towards others, without being imposed on and injured.

2. Those who buy and never pay are breakers of this commandment. Those who have good reason to believe that they will be able to meet their obligations and who afterwards encounter misfortunes which render this impossible, must be excepted from a sweeping condemnation, but those who are justly liable to the charge who have no intention of paying a debt when they incur it, or who do not make great effort to pay it. Proper views on this subject will cause great caution in regard to going in debt, and will promote industry in order that the means may be had to meet necessary expenditures. Buying in, in some cases, only another name for stealing. Notes for value received have been drawn intentionally in an illegal manner and afterwards that illegality has been pleaded in bar of judgment. There are cases where men seem to aim to build up a reputation for the very purpose of gaining an opportunity to defraud. Whilst aiming at this object they will be very punctual as to their obligations, sometimes paying the cash, at other times meeting a small debt promptly, until, believing they have established their credit, and that the person with whom they have been dealing would very reluctantly deny them a favor, they make as large a bill as they can safely venture to ask, and return no more. It is not surprising that persons thus treated should consider themselves defrauded, and should regard the man who is guilty of such transactions as no better than a thief. Many varieties of fraud, and even boasted examples of shrewdness, in a moral point of view, are no more justifiable than to pick a neighbor's pocket or creep in his back window and carry off his property. No resort to bankrupt laws can release a man from his moral obligation. Bankrupt laws are not wrong in principle; a Christian may keep a clear conscience and avail himself of their provisions. He who pays his debts merely because he can be compelled to pay them is not an honest man.

We should not rashly pledge ourselves for the payment of the debts of others, and thus expose ourselves and those dependent on us to the danger of being suddenly impoverished. When, however, security has been given, there is a moral as well as a legal responsibility. 3. The employer who unduly retains the hire of the laborer is a breaker of this commandment. Perhaps the man who has been working hard for you all day has a family to support, and can with great difficulty provide for them a scanty subsistence. If, when the evening comes, you disappoint him in his payment, you know not how heavy a heart you send him home to those who may be suffering and pining for what they expect him to bring on his return. The Mosaic law enjoined, "The wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until morning." The sun was not to go down upon it. A man with a compassionate heart and with a true sense of justice will pay both fully and promptly for work done.

4. Those who make a living off the community without conferring a benefit in return, are breakers of this commandment. Here the speaker alluded to various vocations which afford a livelihood to those who prosecute them, and are at the same time, a benefit to the community, and then treated of others which are an injury, which just in the degree in which they succeed indicate an evil state of society, which promotes idleness, beggar families, engender disease, multiply crime and ruin the bodies and the souls of their victims.

5. There is another class of persons who may be surprised to be placed under this condemnation: Those who refuse to do their share of the work or to defray their share of the expense in accomplishing an important enterprise, and yet are eagerly watching and anxiously waiting to see it done, and who rush in to secure their full share of the profits. This is ungenerous and unjust. It is appropriating to ourselves the results of other people's labor, and drawing for our use the proceeds of their capital. Does not that come under the Eighth Commandment?

6. This Commandment is also broken by those who depend upon the charity of others, when they might earn their own living. There may be a constrained hospitality, and the principles of the Gospel lead to it. It is good to give and receive kindness. It is good to extend a friendly greeting. It is good for heart to speak to heart. It is good to visit the table and fireside of your neighbors, and to welcome them in return to your house. Yet there may be occasions when the proverb comes in point: "Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbor's house, lest he may be weary of thee, and so hate thee." When hospitality is extended of necessity, and by those who are perhaps under such stress of poverty that they can ill afford it, it is good neither to the giver nor to the receiver.

7. Gambling is a breach of this Commandment. It is injurious to society in many respects. It is a making haste to be rich. It gives those who engage in it a distaste for the ordinary and honest pursuits of life; they cannot endure the slow processes of daily toil. It plunges them into excitement, and, by blunting their moral sensibilities and withdrawing them from better influences, prepares them for the commission of flagrant and tragic crime.

There is more gambling than the majority of persons suppose. Here is the true explanation of many unexpected failures and defalcations. Lottery dealers could not pay so much for their privilege nor expend so much for the distribution of circulars if there were not many buyers of lottery tickets. On the very surface of the whole business there is evidence that it is conducted in a dishonest manner. He who addresses you the assurance—an assurance which at the same time he gives to hundreds of others—that on the purchase of a ticket you shall have a large prize in order for effect in your neighborhood, professes himself to be a knave and intimates that you are a fool. Gambling in the sale of jewelry and other articles has become very common. An illegitimate mode of conducting business should not be encouraged. We should know what we purchase and be willing to pay a just and reasonable profit to the seller. Churches ought to be careful to do no wrong in this respect. Whoever the church itself does wrong, it loses the power of restraining the world. As surely as there is a righteous Governor of the universe, neither corporations, communities nor individuals need expect any permanent benefit from wrong doing. A celebrated editor of the country wrote, some years ago, to this effect: "It is a sad day in the life of any young man when he first entertains the purpose of making money in any other way than by honestly working for it."

After enumerating in a cursory manner many other violations of this commandment the speaker dwelt upon the motives which should cause obedience to it, and closed by saying that if there be any whom these considerations will not reach, there is a lower motive, so fish indeed, but of great power and not to be condemned unless it stand alone. "Honesty is the best policy." Integrity will have its reward. A very important element in success is the reputation that your truth and honesty are firm as a rock, and the only sure way of having this reputation is to deserve it.

The gorilla at the Cincinnati Exposition writes to the Small Talk: "I hear that a good many people in this town are making disparaging remarks about me because I haven't got on any clothes. This is the first time I've ever met with such treatment, and to a person of my frail, sensitive peculiarities, it crushes like a pile driver. I wish that I were dead. If you publish this, send me four copies of the paper containing it."

The granite soldier who is to surmount the national monument at the battlefield of Antietam has been completed, and is claimed to be the largest figure in sculpture out of Egypt. He weighs over thirty tons, and is twenty-one and a half feet high. The gun he holds is eighteen feet long, and his shoe three feet in length. The face is smooth-shaven, except a heavy moustache, and is that of a resolute man.

A MEDICINE CHEST IN MINIATURE.

Mishler's Herb Bitters is not a beverage, but a strictly medicinal preparation, one thoroughly adapted to the wants of the general public than any other in the market. Unlike all other so-called Remedies, it is prepared under the direct personal supervision of an eminent Physician, S. H. Hartman, M. D., the senior proprietor is a regular graduate of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, and a practicing physician of large experience and extensive practice. In such hands the public may be reassured that Mishler's Herb Bitters is compounded in strict accordance with correct Pharmaceutical principles, and that none but the choicest ingredients enter into its composition.

Its immense sale alone is conclusive proof that it possesses merit of a high order. Merely students, bankers, clergymen, lawyers, clerks, and all engaged in sedentary occupations, experience its wonderful effects in relieving the depression caused by severe mental labor, while the mechanic, farmer and laborer find their bodily vigor restored like magic by its use. At this season of the year, when DIARRHOEA, COLIC, DYSPEPSIA and kindred disorders, caused by eating unripe fruits, immoderate indulgence in cold drinks, etc., are prevalent, a certain, speedy and effectual remedy will be found in Mishler's Herb Bitters. The depressing feeling of languor or Debility, incident to the "heated term" is at once removed, the energies restored, and new life and vigor imparted to the prostrated system by its use.

IS DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT AND AFFECTIONS OF THE KIDNEYS invariably works like a charm. It is not a drastic purgative nor a stimulant, violent in its operation; but it is simply a natural remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature. It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its duty regularly and without interruption.

It is the unerring certainty of desired results attendant on its use, coupled with the fact that it is prepared by a physician of eminence in his profession, that has rendered Mishler's Herb Bitters so popular, and as familiar as a household word. THOUSANDS OF MEN all over the land have found it to be the safest and best remedy for use in their families; they not only give it with perfect safety to even the youngest child, but when used with caution find it the safest means of ensuring their own health and freedom from the weary aches and pains incident to their sex. Perfectly harmless, it is just the remedy needed by them to enable nature to perform her functions naturally, regularly and without inconvenience. NO LADY should be without it if she would possess the clear complexion and cheerful spirits inseparable from sound health. It is sold by all Druggists and General Dealers; is neatly put up in square Glass Bottles, enclosed in a yellow wrapper. It is not sold on Draught, being strictly a medicinal preparation, and as such is endorsed by many of the most eminent physicians of the country. Aug. 8-4m.

ORIGINAL TO A FRIEND BY L. A. Like the sun with its bright robe, My love it reaches for you As far as the sun in the west. With its beauty and brightness, (For all the land does it shine, So will my love and lightness, For thee ever be inclined. With its beauty and brightness, It does shine from the west, 'Tis for thine eyes, all my feelings My love glows in my breast. With its beauty and brightness, It will shine from the east, And with my love and lightness, 'Tis for your honor and peace. And that the beautiful rays of the sun, To all who have eyes can see, Will know it when its race is run, Yet there's the peace for you and me. There's peace for you and every one Who will and wish to be, Yet there's the peace for you and me, That we may never see.

There are still a great many persons indebted to this paper on our subscription books. We hope they will remember our repeated requests, relieve us from our embarrassment at once and oblige the publisher.

Noble McCauslin, of Princess Anne for being drunk and disorderly was on Thursday placed in the lock-up and unletted in the sum of three dollars and thirty five cents. Noble's absence would be appreciated here.

As the birding season approaches our farmers should take measures to prevent city bunners from coming on their premises and killing birds for profit. In fact we hold that no man should shoot birds for market in this section of the country. They are entirely too scarce to be killed off for such a purpose.

The Campmeetings have about all come to a close, and we are not yet able to tell the extent of the benefits derived from them, but suppose that the lively stable men, have been among the gainers by their prevalence. The preachers are looking well.

The Wicomico & Pocomoke R. R. extension is progressing finely, the workmen who are laying the track have in sight the white sails of the ocean birds yesterday, and by next week they will reach the edge of the briny waters of the sea. Good luck to them!

ORPHANS COURT.—Order nisi passed in case of Henry T. Toadvine executor of Elijah Toadvine Estate.

Letters of administration granted on estate of Mordcaid Holloway to Joshua J. Holloway and administrators bond approved.

Cyrus T. W. Williams was selected to fill the scholarship at Washington College awarded Wicomico Co., under act of last Legislature. There were six applicants. The court meets September 15.

We were called upon in our sanctum on Thursday by our friend McGarrigle, formerly of the Baltimore American, but now connected with the P. O. Department. Mr. Mc. is an accomplished newspaper man, and an affable gentleman, one who is sure to make friends wherever he goes.

Dr. W. Darmon, of Philadelphia, has been here for several days practicing his profession. The Dr., it seems, has made a great many astonishing cures. He left on Tuesday the 8th inst., and means to return on the 26th inst., when he will remain about five or six days at Tracy's Hotel, where he can be consulted by those who are suffering with any of the "maladies incident to human life."

A NEW ARTICLE IN THE MANUFACTURE OF SOAP.—A lady of our town the other day, who was about to commence making soap, requested her better half to step down town and get her some concentrated lye. "Not worth while," replied her lord, "you have a number of newspapers containing the Beecher-Tilton scandal, just put them in; there is 'lie' enough in them to make your soap."

John Webb, who really seems to be ill at ease if he is not beating some woman, was arrested by bailiff Taylor on the charge of beating Martha Ellis, ("Jimmie's girl") on Wednesday night. John was taken to the lock-up and remained until Friday morning, when Justice Maddux imposed a fine of one dollar and costs. The lye discussion during the trial between Caroline Hasting and Webb's counsel was a source of much amusement to the crowd in attendance.

Sweet potatoes are selling in our market at 80 cents per bushel. This is a good price for potatoes, for they can be raised in our lands at 30 cents a bushel at a profit. So long as corn is less than a dollar, three bushels of sweet potatoes can be grown at less expense than one of corn.

Messrs. William E. Brewington and Robert D. Ellegood have purchased the entire stock, fixtures and good will of Mr. L. A. Parsons, the baker and confectioner at the head of Main Street. They will take charge early next week. As both are industrious, energetic young men, we hope that they may be eminently successful in their new business.

Bobby can now help Jim build that double house.

REGISTRATION.—The registrars for the registration of voters in Salisbury and Parsons district, report the following as the number registered and erased in their respective districts on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday: Salisbury District.—Three registered and five erased from the list of voters of the district, because of removal.

In Parsons' district there were sixteen registered and six names stricken from the lists.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—A certificate of admittance was given to the son of Michael Brady to the Maryland Ear and Eye Institute. Cannon Wainwright was granted admittance to the Alma House.

The Commissioners were busily engaged in hearing testimony and argument in case of Elisha Holloway and others vs. John Hancock, Et. Al. A case of caveat to return of commissioners in petition for Tax Ditch in District No. 5. The Commissioners reserved their decision.

The Commissioners will meet again September 22nd, 1874.

APPOINTEE TO WASHINGTON COLLEGE.—Mr. C. T. W. Williams, son of John Williams, of Parsons' District, received the appointment to the Scholarship at Washington College, due Wicomico Co. on last Tuesday. Mr. W. is a young man of good abilities, and fair advancement, and we have no doubt that he will strive his best to deserve the appointment by hard study and quick progress. This is a good appointment, yet we think such things should be given to those who have no means of obtaining an education.

Elizabeth Niblett, a woman of considerable local fame on Wednesday last contributed to the amusement of our town by taking a pistol shot at Maggie Kelly, her rival in the affection of Mr. Jealousy was the cause. The case was up before Justice Dashiell on Thursday morning, when the fact was developed, that no doubt influenced by some one Maggie had conveniently absented herself. There being no one to prosecute the case was dismissed. It will in all probability come up before the Grand Jury.

The success which so immediately attended the agitation of the Express delivery encourages us to mention an object which ought before this time to have been attended to. We refer to the completion of the Presbyterian church on Broad street. This fine brick structure, with its ivy-clad walls and neatly kept yard lacks only the completion of its steeple, and some minor repairs to make it one of the most beautiful as well as commodious houses of worship on the Peninsula. We are convinced that it only needs a start given to the matter to have this work efficiently accomplished. Every improvement of this kind adds to the beauty, prosperity and growth of the town. A word to the wise is sufficient.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE U. S. ALLEN C. THURMAN, OF OHIO.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. THOMAS F. BAYARD, OF DELAWARE.

The adjourned Democratic Convention meets here on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Court House.

Grant has made another blunder. Had he let his stupidity operate as it generally does, matters in Louisiana would have worked out their own solution.

The apprehension on all hands that the Kellogg usurpation in Louisiana—with all its oppressive wrongs and material ruin to the State—having once been recognized and thus vitiated by the federal administration, would again be lifted up on its ignominious overthrow by an apparently unanimous people be neutralized by some equivalent action.

There is no need of haste, and least of all of rashness, in the New Orleans matter. The situation would settle itself were it not interloped with. Peace has been restored in New Orleans, the best feeling apparently prevails between the citizens and the federal troops stationed in the city.

has the military to do but stand still? The waters which have overflowed the political levee have returned to their right channels and quietly subsided.

THE PHILADELPHIA EXILE. We learn that the managers of the 1876 Centennial deny with emphasis that the editor of the Philadelphia Press has gone abroad as their mendicant agent.

Our own impression, fortified by authentic intelligence, has always been that the motives of Mr. Forney's trip were of a different nature. It is perfectly understood in Philadelphia that he has at last been lured to the altar of the Ring, and that his trip abroad is anything but a voluntary one.

Mr. Forney's trip to Europe was necessary for his health (though outwardly we learn he never seemed better), and upon that point he went, agreeing to remain abroad till the election this fall is over, and that in the mean time his papers should be as if he were in the control of the Ring.

SLEEPING WITH HIS EQUAL. A certain hotel, not a thousand miles from Fayetteville, recently had for its guest a snub-nosed looking Puritan from the butt end of Massachusetts, who took great pains to ingratiate himself with the colored people, and instill into their minds the odious doctrines of negro equality.

There is no need of haste, and least of all of rashness, in the New Orleans matter. The situation would settle itself were it not interloped with. Peace has been restored in New Orleans, the best feeling apparently prevails between the citizens and the federal troops stationed in the city.

Jo's eyes twinkled like stars, and he quickly responded: "Dat's a bargain, Marce Jim!" That night the neck and unsuspecting white friend of the man of Han was just crawling into bed when Jo slid into the room, humming: "John Brown's body am a smouldering in du'us," and commenced shodding his clothes without further ceremony.

THE HORRIBLE DISCIPLINE. The terrified disciple of Sumner gave a yell that would have made a Plute Jolitan's hair curl, tore himself from Jo's perspiring, but fond embrace, leaped from the bed, broke for the door with the candid appendage of his shirt floating like a summer cloud behind him, and fell into the arms of the landlord, who, attended by a few friends, was enjoying the whole scene as only a decent white man could.

Local Advertiser.

Saturday, September 19, 1874.

This paper has the largest circulation of any paper in Salisbury.

Who's going to the circus to-day. Our citizens generally are complaining of bad colds.

Chestnuts will be the next thing to cook after by the boys.

Several of our citizens want to go up in that Balloon to-day.

The oyster season has commenced in earnest.

Mr. L. W. Gundy will soon go in to the cigar making business.

To-day go to the circus. To-morrow, the church. Don't forget this.

Oysters are scarcer here now than they were in the summer.

We have eaten the large peach presented by Mr. A. H. Lord, and it was as delicious as it was large.

General Humphreys has had the foot way across the falls put in splendid condition.

Capt. Thomas I. White and family are rustling at Smith's Mills, enjoying the sea-breeze off the mill pond.

The full proceedings of next Wednesday's Convention will appear in our next issue.

R. D. Abdal had orders for three children's coffins, on Wednesday last, that were of the same size.

Our merchants are complaining of the dull times. Some have had to discharge their clerks.

Now is the season for the insidious rail bird, and they are nearly as scarce as money. We have not been on the marsh yet.

Salisbury is said to be the highest priced market on the Peninsula. We can vouch for the poor quality of the meat as a general thing.

Mr. Samuel T. Williams has been spending a few days in his native town. He looks as if Golden Hill agreed with him.

Rev. E. Schaffer will baptize at Westpittin Sunday Sept. 20th. Divine service at 10 o'clock. A. M. Baptism between 12 and 1 P. M.

We advise our citizens if they want to see a pretty sight to watch out for the Grand Procession of the Chicago Exposition this morning.

Captain Cathol, our fighting editor, is ready to accommodate all who believe their rights infringed by any local allusion. Now show your hand circus.

The tumbling dam was a pretty sight on Thursday evening last. The heavy rain of Wednesday making a good head in the Pond.

We hardly think the corporation ordinance in regard to horses on the public streets should be too rigorously enforced.

As our workmen sometimes need a little rest and relaxation, we are forced to curtail our usual amount of reading matter in order to give them time to see the circus.

Uncle Huey Smith says that he'll be continually snuffed if small boys have not got to keep out of the chairs around the Peninsula House. Uncle Huey is mighty level-headed.

The Republican Congressional Convention for this District which met at Easton last Wednesday, failed to nominate and adjourned until Tuesday, September, 29.

Benjamin is now busy supplying our citizens with their winter fuel. Speaking from experience, we can recommend his coal to give entire satisfaction. Now is the time to buy.

Go to Cannon's for CHEAP CLOTHING and SHOES. He has a new and large stock just received; has but one price to all (the only just system) and sells for cash—therefore is enabled to sell for very small profit.

Main street bridge is in a rather shaky condition, and the attention of the County Commissioners is earnestly called to the fact. The iron arches need staying badly and should be attended to at once.

The condition of many of our street lamps is simply miserable. We suggest that they be either fixed up, or else that there be lanterns hung on each post to prevent pedestrians from running against them the next dark night.

Brewington & Ellagood having purchased the entire stock of Mr. Levin A. Parsons will in the future carry on the same business—Coke and Confectionery—at the old stand. The patronage so liberally bestowed on Mr. Parsons will, we are sure be given to the new firm.

Will our subscribers please bear in mind that the Devil's pay in our office, and there can be no peace here unless he and his co-workers are compensated for their labors at the end of each week. How can we meet all our engagements unless we are paid by these for whom we work? Come now, friends, remember the newspaper man has not yet been paid—let this be attended to at once, and you can sleep better when the Devil is at rest, at least our devil will not disturb you then.

We understand that Messrs. Humphreys and Tilghman, intend to open a coal yard in town, and to erect a set of large scales to weigh teams and carts. This is a much needed enterprise, and when one gets a cart load of coal he knows what he is getting. They intend to sell large tons, of 2,240 lbs to the ton.

Mr. M. C. Jones, who left this place a few weeks ago intending to make Texas his future home, has left that State in utter disgust, and is expected home to-day. Mr. Jones reports business as fearfully dull, in fact nothing doing, and lots of fellows who want to do it. Mosquitoes also paid him too much attention.

The attention of the traveling public is called to the change in the time of the trains leaving this depot. On and after Monday September 21st, trains on the Wisconsin & Potomac railroad will leave Snow Hill at 6:45 A. M.; Berlin at 8 A. M.—arriving at Salisbury at 10:15. Returning will leave Salisbury at 3 P. M.

Don't fail to go to Howell's Circus to-day, if you wish to be amused and want to see the elephant. This is in all probability the only circus that will visit us this year, and it is spoken of by the peninsular press as a very fine one. In addition to the many attractions, a grand balloon ascension in the afternoon will be a novelty to many. For full particulars see the small bills.

Mr. A. H. Lord, of Upper Trappe, Md., left at his office on Thursday a peach of the late Somerset variety, weighing nine ounces and measuring 10 inches in circumference. This is one of the finest peaches we have seen for a number of years, and we doubt if we ever had a larger one. Mr. Lord is an amateur farmer and fruit grower.

Salisbury was visited with a perfect deluge of rain Tuesday night, and Wednesday. It came down in torrents. All the mill ponds are overflowing but we have as yet heard of no damage being done. It is feared, however, that a great deal of fodder which was not stacked will be much injured. The rain came too late to do the crop of latter corn much good.

We see from the True Marylander that the Somerset and Worcester R. R. is soon to be sold out at Sheriff's Sale. We regret that this should be the case at any time, and especially at present, but we hope it will fall into the hands of some corporation that will eventually control all the Peninsular railroads so that we may have the advantages always derived from a union of railroads.

The Laurel Agricultural Fair, of Sussex County, Del., will be held on the fair grounds about a mile from Laurel, on the 7th and 8th days of October next. This being the first annual fair held under the auspices of this society it is to be hoped that it may be an entire success. We are disposed to think it will be the beginning of a series of fairs which will stimulate neighbors to a more thorough system of farming than has been heretofore practiced among us.

Mr. E. M. Bruce has removed his stock of Pianos, Estey Cottage Organs, &c., from 18 North 7th street to 1303 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, where he has associated with him Mr. M. C. Stafford, and the style of the firm will hereafter be E. M. BRUCE & CO., 1303 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, where the best of musical instruments can be had of a reliable and safe firm. We take great pleasure in recommending this firm to our people as entirely reliable. They will sell just what they represent and warrant the article. Give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. See advertisement in another column.

"Mos. Quito, Esq., and family are off on an extended visit to the home of their ancestors, Joy go with them."—I ader.

A gentleman, named Amos Quito, visited R. S. Cohn's steam mill last Friday and interfered with one of the employees when an altercation occurred in the mill, and the stranger got caught between to clap boards and crushed to death instantly. We think it is the same gentleman who left Oriskany. He leaves a large family.—True Marylander.

A few of his family, or several of his cousins paid a visit to Salisbury last week. Some say they came up by rail, others think they came by water. We were in South Camden the other evening, and found a large circle holding a concert. We suppose they were descendants of Amos Quito, and his brothers and sisters, as they all said "cousin" when they saluted you.

We believe that Salisbury never was so infested by mosquitoes before, in fact we were never annoyed by them before during the eight years we have resided here.

NO QUININE, ANSEWIC OR POISONS.

This is strong language, as Physicians and Chemists have for years tried to compound a preparation that would entirely cure Fever and Ague without the use of strong medicine such as Quinine, Arsenic and other poisons injurious to the system. There is no case of Fever and Ague, Intermittent or Bilious, that would not be cured by this remedy. It is a powerful purgative, and it purifies the Blood, Liver, Spleen, and all secretory organs so effectively that Chills will not return during the season, even when persons have had them for years.

Geo. H. Bright, pure and angelic for Earth, hot spirit fled, and now dear little Mary forms one of the many sweet choristers who in Heaven warble of God's goodness.

Eighty years old, and a lady to the last! That was something to be proud of. What though paralysis had robbed her of all use of those faintly shivered feet—what though the grand house she had entered as a bride was narrowed down to this one room in a second rate building, where two other families also set up their family altars—she was a lady still, and she could boast that she boasted that she had never degraded herself to common-place toil.

"Mrs. means are limited," said old Mrs. Brighton, with the lofty air of a duchess; "but the pension of my son, the colonel—who, as you probably may remember, was killed on the Florida frontier—is sufficient to maintain myself and my two daughters—and we are ladies."

Minnie Brighton presently came on a AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters is a pure vegetable preparation, made chiefly of the native herbs found in the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of WALKER'S Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Restorer and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of WALKER'S Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Constipation or indigestion, the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Cathartic, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sialagogue, Counter Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim WALKER'S BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bowels are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout the entire country, during the Summer and Autumn, and rendered so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, operating with powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the cause of disease, and the bowels are loosed, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with WALKER'S Bitters. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fortified.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulder, Congestion of the Head, Neuralgia, Stomach Troubles, Cramp, Spasms, Dropsy, Dropsy of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the Side, Dropsy, and all other ailments, are cured by the use of WALKER'S Bitters. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Mining and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and others, are especially liable to these diseases, are especially liable to these diseases, are especially liable to these diseases.

For Skin Diseases. Eruptions, Pimples, Scald-head, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scabies, Discolorations of the Skin, and all other eruptions of the skin, are cured by the use of WALKER'S Bitters.

For Female Complaints. In young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is perceptible, and when it is found, your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

For Rheumatism. In young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is perceptible, and when it is found, your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

GROWING OLD.

Since there is a season when the youthful must cease to be young and the beautiful to excite admiration, to learn to grow old gracefully, is perhaps one of the rarest and most beautiful arts that can be taught to women.

EXERCISE OF THE MIND.

The exercise of the mind is one of the most improving employments of the understanding. To apply the principles of good sense to composition and discourse—to examine what is beautiful and why it is so—to employ yourself in distinguishing accurately between the specious and the solid, between affected and natural ornament, must certainly improve us not a little in the most valuable part of all philosophy, the philosophy of human nature.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE U. S.: ALLEN G. THURMAN, OF OHIO. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: THOMAS F. BAYARD, OF DELAWARE.

FOR CONGRESS: THE FIRST DISTRICT OF MARYLAND. Hon. PHILIP F. THOMAS, OF TALBOT COUNTY.

The nomination of Gov. Thomas gives great satisfaction to the party, and we believe will unite more firmly the discordant elements in the lower counties than any other candidate could have done.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

SEAPORT, Sept. 17th, 1874. MESSRS. EDITORS:—I see in the Advertiser of the 6th inst., that "Zeek" gives your correspondent "Dan" in issue of the 22nd ult, a bit or two which he richly deserves.

"Dan" also tells us that the schools are open by saying that the "two worthy gentlemen who are at present teaching," (Aug. 19th, the date of "Dan's" letter), which is another blarney falsehood—there has been no public or private school taught here since the first of last June.

PHILIP FRANCIS THOMAS. The Hon. Phillip Francis Thomas, of Talbot county, was yesterday nominated for Congress by the Democratic, Conservative Convention of the First District.

Philip Francis Thomas was born in Talbot county, Maryland, September 12, 1810; was educated at Dickinson College; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1831; in 1836 he was a member of the State Constitutional Convention; in 1838 was elected to the State Legislature; was a representative in Congress from 1839 to 1841, and was subsequently Judge of the Land Office Court of the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONVENTION. The adjourned Democratic Convention assembled here on Wednesday last at 4 o'clock, P. M. Dr. Noble in the chair, with Dr. Hepburn and General Humphreys Vice Presidents, and Messrs. Haldaway and Townsend, Secretaries. On the first ballot Mr. Keating, of Queen Anne's, received 7 votes; Mr. Thomas, of Talbot, 4 votes; Mr. Fields, of Caroline, 7 votes; Mr. Sullivan, of Dorchester, 4 votes, and Mr. Dennis, of Somerset, 4 votes, which continued, with slight variations, till the 17th ballot, when the convention adjourned to 7 o'clock, when the balloting proceeded for a short time without any perceptible change. At length Mr. Page withdrew the name of Mr. Dennis, and cast the vote of Somerset for Gov. Thomas, who, on the 80th ballot, received 14 votes, and was declared the nominee of the convention. On motion of Dr. Gale his nomination was made unanimous. Dr. Hardcastle, Mr. Page and Dr. Hayward were appointed a committee to inform Gov. Thomas of his nomination. Amid great enthusiasm, Messrs. Gibson, Page, Temple and Downs addressed the convention eulogistic of the candidate, after which a vote of thanks to the officers of the convention was adopted, and the convention adjourned.

Hats and Caps at city prices. Go to Wood & Co. Call before they are gone.

Apples are selling at 75 cents per bushel in Salisbury. This is the highest price we ever knew them to bring at this season of the year. We believe that our farmers would do well to plant more apple trees.

Braxton, B. M.

The man who saw the ghost the other evening at the tumbler dam, is still living and doing well. He does not believe that ghosts are dangerous, nor that they will attempt to collect any bills. And he says who ever heard of any one having a bill against a ghost? No one.

Those signs to designate the names of the streets are now being placed in position. If a little more taste was displayed in fixing them up in proper places and at a proper height, they would be much more attractive.—They should only be placed at the corners of the streets, and should be about nine feet high.

Overcoats, Sack Coats and Chesterfields at astonishing low prices will be found at Wood & Co.'s. Very few left, so call and get a bargain.

Last Tuesday Josephine Hilman, daughter of Captain Thomas Hilman, while playing in the attic of Mr. H. S. Brewington's new residence, accidentally stepped from a rafter to the latting; of course her foot went through, and she would have fallen to the next floor, save for the good use she placed her hands to. We are glad to know, that she is not seriously injured.

CHANGE OF TIME.—The train will leave Salisbury on and after the 28th inst., one hour sooner than formerly going North. We have not yet received a copy of the correct time table of the E. S. R. R. and only received that of the Del. R. R. in time to correct it on the inside of the paper, see time table on 2nd page. The mail will close here at 10 A. M. This is an important matter to our people, and they should bear it in mind, as it is an unpleasant thing to be left.

POSTPONEMENT.—The Peninsular Editorial convention, which was advertised to take place on the 20th day of October, has, upon consultation with the editors from different parts of the Peninsular, and at their request, been postponed to Wednesday, the 18th day of November next, of which further notice will be given.

Dr. W. Dorman will return to Salisbury to-day and remain till Thursday, October 1st. All persons who are afflicted can have an opportunity to consult him at room 16, at the Peninsular House, free of charge.—Prices moderate—within the reach of all. The Dr. took charge of some patients on his last visit, who are greatly benefited.

SPECIAL.—We call the attention of our readers to Dr. Wm. Dorman's notice, in which he announces that he will again, for the second time, visit Salisbury and vicinity, on Saturday, September 26th, and remain only until Thursday, October 1st. Those who desire his counsel would do well to call early, as his stay will be short. His general success as a physician in hopeless cases of chronic diseases has been so great that a rash to his office may be expected, therefore let those who wish to consult him come early, that sufficient time may be left him to form a correct diagnosis of their ailments. Remember the Dr. has taken Room No. 16, at the Peninsular House—up stairs. Examinations and consultations are free, and his charges moderate, and within the reach of all. The Dr. will tell you your disease without asking questions. For particulars see large bills.

RASH VOWS.—I never will, no, never as long as I live do so again, nor shall any one see me unless such and such things are abandoned," was the pathetic exclamation that burst from the lips of a friend of ours not long since, while under some deep grief, the cause of which we did not know. Moved deeply by a countenance extremely sad, and words of pathos that must touch every human heart. We endeavored to console the party and told how seldom rash promises were kept, but with a face more sorrowful still, and language, if possible, more touching, we were informed that "it was not a rash vow, and it would be kept." But how changeable is life! That vow has been broken and that countenance, then a picture of despair, now beams with winning smiles.

Seeing the party again we inquired about that resolution that was to be so faithfully adhered to, and received the reply that "he had promised to be better broken than kept." "Ah! did we not tell you so," we said. "Oh, yes," was the rejoinder, "but it was never more forcibly impressed upon our mind as last Sunday at Sabbath School, when for our lesson we had the promise made by Herod, to give the daughter of his brother's wife, whatever she would ask. That promise was fulfilled, but (and turning to us a face, every lineament of which beamed with piety) how much better it would have been if that promise had been broken."

There may be some force in this, but how much better would it be if rash vows were never made. We suppose if not made that the pleasure arising from breaking them would be lost, and in this case we know that the latter more than compensated for the sorrow which caused this vow. Now this party has three other converts to such views, they form a happy quartette, each afraid to see any one outside of their congregation, afraid to tell the bill of fare at their last "love feast."

"May they live long and prosper."

Walker's California Vinegar Bitters
 Doct. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a pure vegetable preparation, made chiefly of the native herbs found on the low ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains in California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of WALKER'S BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Tonic and Invigorant of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of WALKER'S BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Tonic as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

APPLETON'S
AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA.
 New Revised Edition.
 Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, and illustrated with Seven Thousand Engravings and Maps.

The work originally published under the title of The New American Cyclopaedia was completed in 1863, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States, and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of our literature, and science, have induced the publishers to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled The American Cyclopaedia.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the progress of science, and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of policy, and which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily been ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important events, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their permanent and authentic history.

In preparing the present edition for the press the publishers have the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the latest possible dates, and to furnish an accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every fresh invention in literature, and of the new inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress of political and historical events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, in fact, a new Cyclopaedia, with the same plan and scope as its predecessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvements in its composition as have been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They consist of all the most important and remarkable features of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopaedia, and worthy of its high character.

This work is sold to Subscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be completed in sixteen large octavo volumes, each containing about 800 pages, illustrated with fine engravings and numerous colored Lithographic Maps.

A VERY DESIRABLE FARM FOR SALE.
 Beautifully located on the Banks of the Pocomoke River.

This farm will be sold at a Bargain!—
 For a small Farm it is one of the most desirable on the banks of the Pocomoke; it is situated within a quarter of a mile of its junction with the Chesapeake Bay, and contains between
 60 AND 70 ACRES.
 One half cleared and the balance is well set in young Pine and Oak Timber.
 Upon the premises is a Dwelling House with five rooms and a good dry Cellar, and under it 40 by 20 ft. Barn, a Stable with three stalls, Corn House, Carriage House and kitchen. This farm is desirable farming land adapted to the growth of Corn, Wheat, Oats and "trucking." On this farm Apples are grown abundantly, which always commands a high price in Baltimore market, with which there is steamboat connection twice a week; also with Crisfield, Onancock, Newtown and Snow Hill. Steamers land within 200 yards of the house. The neighborhood is healthy, the people kind and hospitable.
 Mills, Stores, Churches and school houses convenient. Also, a well of excellent water near the door.
 Oysters grow within two miles of the farm. Fish in abundance at all seasons of the year; Trout are caught at the very door in Summer; Shad in the Spring and Rock and Perch in the Winter. It is also one of the best locations on the river for a Marine Railway, and no enterprise pays so well, as nearly all Oyster boats find it necessary to repair after the close of the "dredging" season, and their number is legion.
 Those wishing to purchase can address or apply in person to LEWELLYN E. MALONE,
 721 Chestnut Street,
 Philadelphia.
 Or, J. S. REVILLE,

 may desire.

A Certain Cure For DYSPEPSIA, LIVER, COLIC,
PLAINT, JAUNDICE, BILIOUS-

ORRHOIDAL COSTIVENESS.

WHAT is Life without the enjoyment of health? If you are afflicted with Dyspepsia, or its kindred diseases, you could not enjoy life. Dyspepsia is a prevalent disease in the United States, brought about by our habits and irregular diet. The Materia Medica has been exhausted to find a remedy, and the skill of the most learned Physicians has failed to objectify.
 Notwithstanding this, dyspepsia is not a fatal disease, and ESPEY'S DYSPEPSIN is a Certain Cure for Dyspepsia and the many complaints incident thereto. It has been believed the public a sufficient length of time to fully test its merits, and in every instance where it has been used according to directions, it has resulted in giving relief and effecting a cure. With each bottle is a Circular describing the symptoms of the disease named, and a full and complete description of the medicine. Give it a fair trial, and assured you will be benefited.
