and toilet before entering the dining room. But above all things never try to make an impression, for you are bound to do that anyhow, either for good or otherwise. However quiet we move around, some one always sees and knows that we are about. We would say more, but time and space will not permit us.

"Fence or no fence" is the topic to be discussed on Saturday, the 8th inst. We hope the farmers will take an interest in the subject and turn out in force, as an expression of opinion on that subject might serve to direct the action of our members of the Legislature. We are in favor of a law requiring everybody to fence up their stock, yet we would not have the law to go into effect until the first day of April, 1877, in order that farmers might have time to prepare for the event. The present debate among will last a year or so without much repair, and the farmers would have time to new clover, timothy, etc., and prepare their meadow and pasture land for their stock, and also to increase the quantity and improve the quality of the same, which would allow the keeping of stock longer. A man would have the right to fence his own meadow, and if he does now, he still may do so, and then appreciate the value of his land, because that portion not fenced would be of mere value than at present, for it would then be free from the intrusion of the stock of the public, and grass could then be produced on parts of such land where the timber had been removed. And should the farmer desire to clear up any of his timbered land, he will find it easier to do so by keeping off the stock of the public, for if the grass is let grow among the bushes and briars, they may be burned together in spring, but if the cattle are allowed to graze on the ground they will eat out the grass and let the bushes and trees grow, and you will have no trouble to burn up the coarsest timbales. All these and a thousand other advantages would ensue from the habit of keeping up stock, to say nothing about the most important of all other advantages, that of raising a large amount of manure, without which farming is a poor business indeed, and by the use of which a profuse manner every farm can grow rich, and they will have it in abundance until they keep up their stock and raise grass, and the sooner they learn this the better it will be for the community.

The Baltimore Weekly Sun came out last week in double sheet and in clear type inclosing one of the most useful annual calendars, giving, among other useful information, the mean time at all principal points in the world when it is noon at Washington D. C., rates of postage domestic and foreign, weights and measures, with a vast deal of miscellaneous information. The calendar itself is worth half the paper costs, while one of the best weeklies in the world can be had by sending one dollar and fifty cents for the Baltimore Weekly Sun for one year.

The Baltimore American, in keeping with its annual custom, has sent out another of its excellent calendars, showing a fine picture of the new American building, with a vast amount of valuable information, such as the rates of postage both foreign and domestic, rules for calculating interest, a table showing the population of the principal cities of the United States, and their distance from Baltimore, with a directory of the city of Baltimore, table of weights and measures, &c., &c. Altogether it is a useful and valuable sheet.

The Baltimore Gazette is greatly improved under its new management, and we may now have a vigorous Democratic paper in that city.

CHRISTMAS came on Sunday in 1870. It will not occur again until 1881. The 4th day of July came on Sunday in 1875, and will occur again in 1880.

The Legislature of Maryland will meet on Wednesday next, the 5th instant.

THE PHENOMENAL JOURNAL AND LIFE ILLUSTRATED for January, 1876, comes out in a clear and beautiful form, and crowded with fresh, crisp, thoughtful, entertaining, and instructive matter. Among its special features and those deserving particular mention are:

"American Women Journalists," a group consisting of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, "Grace Greenwood," "Jeanie Jones" Mrs. Clemon Ames and Miss Louise C. Moulton, with their portraits; "About Superstitions," which reviews the abominable religious superstitions of the world.

"Reason and Religion," which discusses the relation of these two so-called antagonistic elements, and declares their natural harmony in man; "Soul and Soul," an essay abounding with excellent suggestions on the subject of agricultural pursuits; "Death in Life," a fine poem on the late Vice-President Wilson; a portrait and a life sketch of the great man; "The Evolutionary View of Man," an article on the distinguished author of "Editorial and other Essays," well-filled.

The Phenomenal Journal is well worthy of the attention given it by the American public, and should be universally popular. The January number will be welcome to all its subscribers at 20 cents, or $3 a year. S. L. Wilson Co., Publishers, 737 Broadway, New York.

[From the Boston Gazette.]

Among the largest, the oldest and most populous towns on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, is Salisbury. In this town the traveller sees much that is old-fashioned and singular.

It is much behind the times, in respects, there is no doubt, but it has many evidences of vital and business capacity is equally plain. The visitor will find a half dozen odes of welcome played on the shrill whistles of five different steam mills. These mills perform a vast amount of work, employ many hands and export great quantities of lumber, designed for various purposes.

On the main street you will find several enterprising business houses, that would do credit to your own modern and beautiful town. These houses do both a wholesale and retail business and their merchandise is sent to every part of the lower peninsula.

It doubtless has more churches than any other town on the Shore, and they represent the faith or polity of no less than eight different denominations. A few of them are healthy and prosperous, and wield an influence that does much to elevate the moral and religious character of the community. Several of them seem to be meandering through a sickly minority to their final place of interment.

The social character of Salisbury is unlike any other town on the Shore. You meet with less of that hereditary pride, that is the bane and curse of some portions of the Peninsula. The standing of a man, depends upon his own moral and intellectual character. No boasting of pride, no hereditary prestige, no family connection that a man may possess, does much to elevate him, if his moral character is low, or his intellectual attainment is limited. A man is no less a man because he labors, nor is he esteemed any more a man, because he can live without it. And in this I see the "promise and potency" of its future development and progress.

But there are also drawbacks: with all its natural, social and business advantages, it has not yet risen to the dignity of local option. Seven liquor houses, two of which retail and wholesale, and the balance mere drinking houses and tipping shops. To make these houses more fascinating, billiard tables and other alluring appliances are used, to attract the artless young men, and drown them in degradation and shame. The social character of the people makes these houses the more dangerous, inasmuch as it gives opportunity to all to meet together and enjoy a social evening. Nine churches, seven liquor shops, and in their warrens the rum shops stand a fair chance for victory. Salisbury will never rise to its true dignity until it banishes from its midst the poison that seeps its life and power, by destroying its bone and sinew, the young man.

Yours,

TRAVELLER.

Remember This.

Now is the time of the year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, Coughs, Colds, and fatal results of predisposition to Consumption and other Throat and Lung Diseases. Boesch's German Syrup has been used in this neighborhood for the past two or three years without a single failure to cure. If you have not used this medicine yourself, go to your Druggist, Dr. L. D. Collier, and ask him of its wonderful success among his customers. Two doses will relieve the worst case. If you have no faith in any medicine, just buy a Sample Bottle of Boesch's German Syrup for 10 cents and try it, regular size bottle 75 cents. Don't neglect a cough to save 75 cents.

SALISBURY ADVERTISER.

DR. L. S. BELL, - EDITOR.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1876.

This paper has double the circulation of any paper on the lower Peninsula.

Don't spend one cent for clothing until you have been to the Carrollton One Price Clothing House, 171 West Baltimore St., Baltimore, Md. 250 Pairs made to order in best manner for $5 and $6—choice of 100 styles. Send for samples, prices and rules for self-measurement. Address as above.

A wet week of weather.

Monday last was a rainy day with the mercury at 63°.

LEAP YEAR.—Proposition cards, for girls intending matrimony.

The lumber piles increase foot by foot on the wharves.

Dominos are now a favorite pastime with the good people.

If you want pure P. R. Molasses, go to Gordy Bros.

Wild ducks, owing we presume to the exceeding mild weather are very scarce.

The schooners Ridie, Thos. B. Taylor, Rock and Gen. Humphreys are at the foot of Main St.

Many of the lumber mills throughout this section are running on half time or shut down for the winter.

If you want cheap Furniture, go to A. G. Toadvine's, No. 29 Main St.

The various Sunday Schools have given their scholars a festival during the week.

For cheap sugars call at Gordy Bros.

Our place is full of little odds and the young gentlemen are pleased to be sold by them.

FOR SALE.—Three new iron Safes, Miller's and Marvin's make. Inquire at this office.

A force of Salisbury carpenters have been at work at Ocean City for the past few days.

If you want a good barrel of flour go to Gordy Bros.

The Salisbury Circulating Library will be open on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 4 to 5 o'clock. D. Edwin Fooks, Esq., Librarian.

Don't forget the meeting of the Agricultural and Mechanical Association next Saturday, 8th inst. A full attendance is desired.

A. G. Toadvine has just received, from the city a large lot of new furniture, which he is selling cheap for cash.

The young men's sociable came off on Monday night. Owing to the illness of correspondent Kitty Clyde, we cannot give further particulars.

Gordy Bros. are retailing cheese at 15 per lb.

Sam Gordy wants to see the rooster his chicken cannot whip. Can't some of our country friends accommodate him?

Muskating is pretty sport on moonlight nights. "Jim" says it is a heap better than rambling which spony lovers are apt to talk about.

If you want good furniture cheap for cash, go to A. G. Toadvine's. He buys for cash and sells for cash, and that is the reason he sells so cheap.

Master Fred White fell from a persimmon tree and hurt himself quite badly on Monday morning last.
Fortunately no bones were broken.

Parlor or Church Organs furnished at the lowest figures and on short notice, warranted to please. Apply at this office.

The intermediate term of the Circuit Court for Wicomico county convenes next Monday the 3rd inst. As there is a short docket it is to be supposed that Court will not last more than one or two days.

The Centennial year was ushered in by the firing of heavy cannon at the foot of Main street at exactly twelve o'clock last night. You bet we are patriotic if we are not Philadelphians.

For confectionery, notions and grocery stores, go to C. L. Vincent, the depot.

J. P. Owens & Co. are at the same place, and have a full line of good things of every description to be found in a first-class family grocery store. Call and see them.

The case of Capt. T. W. H. White vs. Steamer George Leary, was argued in the U. S. District Court on Thursday last, but we have not heard the result at the time of going to press.

An old Baltimore negro who had emigrated to Liberia years ago, ordered a quantity of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup a short time ago, stating that although coughs and colds were not frequent in Africa, he would not like to be without it in his family.

Mr. William Moore and son have moved their carpenter's shop from the corner of Division and High sts. to the old store-house of M. A. Parsons, Esq., over the Iron Bridge. The Messrs. Moore are cheeche workers, and any one desiring work in their line, can do no better than to call on them.

If you desire to purchase good furniture, well made and at low figures, go to the Enterprise Manufacturing Company's store, No. 220 and 222 Market st., Wilmington, Del., where the best assortment can be found.

On Christmas eve the Good Templars of this town held their annual festival. The room had been tastefully decorated with evergreens by the lady members for the occasion, and everything passed off pleasantly and delightfully, all expressing themselves as being perfectly satisfied with the arrangements made for their enjoyment.

Dr. Wm. Darmon will be in Salisbury again on the 17th of January next, and will remain until the morning of the 19th instant. Hereafter he will not visit this place more than once in three months.

Tobacco—Just received from one of the largest factories in Virginia a large invoice of the celebrated Danville Tobacco. Saving the commission merchant's profit, the city jobber's profit and the traveling agent's profit, we are enabled to offer great inducements to both wholesale and retail buyers. We name in part the following brands: Marlboro 4 oz. or twist, Magnolia 4 oz. twist, Golden Charm 3 oz. twist, and People's Choice 10 oz. &c. Humphreys & Tilghman, Salisbury, Md.

NOTICE.—All claims due the estate of Dr. G. W. Todd, dec'd, unless paid on or before the 1st day of January, 1876, will positively be placed in the hands of an officer for collection. No further notice will be given. S. FANNIE TODD, Executrix of G. W. Todd, dec'd.

Get up a Club.

Any person who will send us 16 names with $10 for ten copies of the SALISBURY ADVERTISER one year we will present them with a picture of the Centennial buildings or any one of them. Any person sending us five names with $5 for 5 copies we will give them their choice of eleven beautiful colored pictures, or a copy of the paper one year to gether up of club.

The undersigned has for sale a large number of organs, comprising the Burdett, Estey, Pott's, Beatty, Eolian, Osburn, &c.

L. MALONE.

Christmas passed off quietly, with the exception of a few little incidents of minor importance. A large supply of fire-crackers and whiskey were consumed, and it is hard to tell which was the greater disturber of the public peace. As it rained nearly every day no fire occurred from the squibs, while if it had been dry great damage would have been apprehended. It is to be hoped that the toy dealers and others will not bring any more fire-crackers to our town in the future.

We call the attention of laundrymen and washer women to a very fine article of bleaching, manufactured by John T. Hastings, of this country. Mr. Hastings will furnish merchants with his bleaching put up in bottles of various sizes to suit customers, or he will send it by mail in small bottles at ten cents each. Address John T. Hastings, Salisbury, Md.

Christmas was celebrated as usual at St. Peter's E. E. Church (Dr. Fulton's) by the usual services. The Dr. read the scriptural account of the birth of the Savior, with the other lessons suitable to the occasion, with his usual force and distinctness, and in a very impressive manner. The choir did its best, and discoursed some excellent music. Among other pieces the Te Deum was well rendered, while Miss Crane's magic touch at the organ was plainly perceptible, even to an unskilled ear in the art of music. The church was tastefully dressed and decorated for the occasion. A large congregation were in attendance, considering the early hour for one to attend on divine worship.

FOR SALE.—Fifteen building Lots, four Houses and lots in Town, and 10,000 acres of land in the country. Apply to L. MALONE.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—A lady residing in that section of the town known as California, on Tuesday last took two bottles of laudanum with the avowed intention of killing herself.

Fortunately the foolish act was discovered in time and proper antidotes used to annul the effect of the poison. Her husband, a rather worthless kind of a fellow, left her a few days ago with the avowed intention never to return again, and this is said to be the cause which impelled her to do the act.

The worst feature of the case was that he took with him all the money his wife had, about eight dollars, earned by waiting upon a sick lady. He has been absent several months, and returned last week without any money, leaving her to pay her rent and to get along the best she can. Our advice to her would be to let him go in peace, and feel glad at getting rid of such bad rubbish.

The Directors of the E. S. R. R. held a meeting at the Peninsular House in Salisbury yesterday, for the purpose of ratifying a supplemental contract with the P. W. & B. R. R. Co. A full attendance of all the members was had.

As is our usual custom we this week give the changes of residence of our Salisbury folks.

Beginning on Main Street.—Mr. James White goes to his house in California, and Mr. L. P. Humphreys takes the house vacated by Mr. White. Mr. Levin W. Dorman discontinues housekeeping and will board at Mr. Humphreys'. Mr. Dashill takes the house vacated by Mr. R. H. Adkins, who goes in the house on Church Street with Dr. S. P. Dennis. Mr. T. Williams will occupy the house formerly kept by Mr. L. W. Dorman. Mr. Spencer McAlister has moved his store downtown and will reside in the house just beyond Mr. F. C. Todd's. Mr. J. E. Elligood goes to the house recently occupied by Captain Thos. Goslee, who goes to Mrs. Dusharoon's house in Camden. Mr. L. Nock goes to the Trader house, and Mrs. Matilda Slomons will live in the house vacated by him. Mr. A. F. Trader goes to the new cottage on Mt. Pleasant. Mr. William Collins will occupy R. B. Smith's late residence. Baillif Taylor will live at the corner of Main St. and California Avenue.

Persons visiting Philadelphia can find a pleasant home during their stay at the Girard House Hotel.—Take the 9th St. car at the Baltimore Depot, and get off at 9th & Chestnut Sts., you will be at the door of one of the best hotels in the country, and in a convenient place to visit the Centennial grounds.—Take the Walnut St. car, and return by the Chestnut St. car, which will take you right back to the door of the Hotel. You will find polite and attentive officers and servants. The proprietors are first class hotel keepers, and know how to make everybody comfortable.

CHRISTMAS '75, AND HOW WE SPENT IT.—Christmas really begins in the place the evening before, if persons may be allowed to judge by the noise then inaugurated. 'Tis then that, under the influence of too much tangible foot, the bump of destructiveness is highly developed and that non-interesting and senseless proceeding entitled "putting the town to rights" is enacted. Gates are taken from their hinges and sometime so effectually hidden that several days are required to find them, and at other times badly broken or rendered worthless.

The streets of the town are filled with all the loose barrels, boxes and other trumpery obtainable, and travelling is thereby rendered tedious and dangerous. Some more senseless being than the rest rolled the large log which lies near the waste gate on Senator Humphreys' dam, directly in the centre of the road and had any one with a horse and carriage attempted to pass over the dam after the log was thus placed the carriage and occupants must have inevitably been forced into the pond or precipitated down the steep bank. There is no fun in any such doing as this. It is intended to injure some one and should be regarded by all as a criminal act, and the utmost endeavor of the officers of the law should be used to bring the guilty parties to justice. The corporation lamp at the further end of the dam was broken to pieces, but we suppose, as no action was taken sometime ago when three or four of the lamps were broken, and circumstantial evidence pointed strongly to the probably guilty parties, that nothing will be done in this case. The Commissioners should offer a reward of ten dollars for information which would lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. Continued success leads to boldness and we shall not be at all surprised to wake up some morning and find the town lame. In fact we are not so very certain that it would not be an improvement anyhow, as the present system of lighting the place is a most wretched failure.

On Thursday evening Messrs. J. P. Owens & Co., had a Chinese lantern procession as an advertisement of their holiday goods. The thing was a novel one to a majority of the people and we have no doubt paid the firm handsomely.

Early Christmas morning those religiously inclined attended the Episcopal church. As is usual, the church was tastefully dressed. Shooting crackers were in great demand and the fusilade was kept up during the entire day. It is estimated that nearly one hundred dollars was thus thrown away. All the salesmen had provided egg-nog or apple-toddy as treat to their patrons who were not slow to indulge. After indulging to the capacity of their stomachs a few displayed their gentility and good manners by prowling around the streets, and blaspheming things in general. For all this extra trouble one fellow got a sound thrashing.

The day had some redeeming features however. Invitations to dinner and gifts were abundant. Rev. Mr. Smyth, the Presbyterian minister, coming in for a full share of the good things. Mr. Smyth is a faithful and able pastor and deserved all he got, and more.

All in all, we think that Christmas '75 will be looked back to in the years to come as a green spot in existence by a large majority of the participants.

YOU HAVE NO EXCUSE.

Have you any excuse for suffering with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff. It gives the head a cooling, soothing sensation of great comfort, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.

On and after to-day I can be found at my new office No. 16 Main street, two doors above my old office. Thanking my friends and the public generally for past favors I respectfully ask for a continuance, and my work in the past can be its own guarantee for its excellence in the future. Very Respectfully,

L. S. BELL,
Dental Surgeon.

Local Advertiser.

DR. L. S. BELL — EDITOR.

The County Commissioners were in session on Monday and Tuesday last and appointed Constables and road supervisors for the ensuing term, and also contracted with the SALISBURY ADVERTISER to do all the public printing for the county during the year 1876.

The January term of the Circuit Court was in session on Monday and Tuesday last, and transacted considerable routine business, and several cases were disposed of. James E. Ellegood, Esq., State's Attorney qualified and entered upon his duties. Their Honors, Judges Franklin and Irving.

FOR SALE.—Three new iron Safes, Miller's and Marvin's make. Inquire at this office.

Winter reappeared yesterday, but in a greatly modified form. Ice dealers begin to look blue. We think, however, that an abundant supply of the summer luxury can be obtained in less than month.

We have received the January number of the "World of Fashion," and it is worth the high price it has attained in the literary world. It is published by A. Burdett Smith. Send for specimen or subscribe at once.

LOCAL OPTION ON THE RAMPAGE.—The Messrs. Ulman have received 150 barrels of whisky this week, which they are selling rapidly. Suppose the people are laying in a supply for the future.

We have been requested by a number of citizens to announce that a temperance meeting will be held at the Court House, on Monday evening, 19th inst., at 7 o'clock. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Parlor or Church Organs furnished at the lowest figures and on short notice, warranted to please. Apply at this office.

Felines were boxing in the back yard, when Smith "wished he had an axe, he'd —" "Yes," interrupted his wife, "Twould be more convenient to borrow one whenever you have to split wood."

Don't forget the meeting of the Agricultural and Mechanical Association this afternoon. Go up and hear the "Fence or no fence" discussed. Messrs. Crawford, Holland and others will address the meeting.

The Cornet Band were out on Friday evening and serenaded Messrs. Fooks, Truitt and Wood and their better halves. The music was rendered in the artistic style for which the band is so justly celebrated throughout the peninsula.

For confectionery, notions and family groceries, go to C. L. Vincent, near the depot.

MESSRS. MOODY AND SANKEY.—Those who desire to hear them had better try to do so next week, as their present intentions are to leave Philadelphia at the end of the next week, about the 17th inst. Let those who desire to hear them make haste, or they may never have the opportunity to do so.

Adams Express Company have greatly reduced the tariff on money packages to all parts of the country. A schedule of which rates can be seen at their office here. We hope and believe that the rates on small packages of merchandise will be reduced in proportion.

We have been requested to call the attention of our town fathers to the condition of the county road leading out by Mr. H. Fooks' farm especially that part just beyond the railroad. This piece of road is just within the corporate limits of the town, and entirely under the control of the bailiff as the supervisor of the streets.

If you want good furniture cheap for cash, go to A. G. Toadwine's. He buys for cash and sells for cash, and that is the reason he sells so cheap.

The Beatty Piano, and the Beatty's Golden Tongue Organ, manufactured by Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, N. J., are highly endorsed by all who have tested them, as to the style of case, durability, and sweetness of tone. They are said to excel any other instruments in perfect construction. See his advertisement in another column.

The "Cally's" gave our friend Fooks a genuine old fashioned serenade on Thursday night. Owing to sickness several of the members were not present. Mr. Fooks responded to their repeated calls, and the soothing influence of a good cigar was never shown off to a better advantage. The crowd made that box look empty.

The Agricultural Society of Wicomico County has succeeded in getting a sufficient amount subscribed to entitle it to receive from the State five hundred dollars, in aid of the undertaking, in accordance with the act of assembly in such cases. We are glad to be able to announce the fact, as it augurs well for the future of our depressed farming operations.

Tobacco.—Just received from one of the largest factories in Virginia a large invoice of the celebrated Danville Tobacco. Saving the commission merchant's profit, the city jobber's profit and the traveling agent's profit, we are enabled to offer great inducements to both wholesale and retail buyers. We name in part the following brands: Marigold 4 oz. twist, Magnolia 4 oz. twist, Golden Charm 3 oz. twist, and People's Choice 10 oz., etc. Humphreys & Tilghman, Salisbury, Md.

Some of our friends have responded to our call for the cash for their subscriptions, yet a great number have not yet come to time. We shall be glad to hear from several hundred of them right away. We have a number of bills to pay and it takes money to do it. Please help us out.

Dr. Bell, the dentist, has removed his office two doors nearer Division Street, and directly opposite Dr. Collier's Drug Store. The room he is in now is much more suitable to his business, and all needing anything in the dental line would consult their best interests by calling on him.

"Quad's Odds" is the quaint title of a book recently written and published by M. Quad, the Detroit "Free Press Man." The book is written in free and easy style, and is brim full of clever jokes and anecdotes, which will make one laugh in spite of his or her gravity. The book is for sale by A. Manson, Esq., of this place and if any one wants to laugh all they have got to do is to get this book and read anywhere in it.

Dr. Wm. Darmon will be in Salisbury again on the 17th of January next, and will remain until the morning of the 19th. Hereafter he will not visit this place more than once in three months.

At a meeting of Newton Lodge, No. 56, I. O. O. F., on Wednesday last, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

I. E. PARSONS, N. G.; John Robinson, V. G.; P. W. Bradley, R. S.; Dr. W. T. Smith, P. S. M. E. Hastings, Treas.; E. L. Williams, Chaplain; R. D. Alford, Representative to Grand Lodge; L. Malone, E. L. Williams and R. K. Truitt, Trustees. The Lodge is in a sound condition, and shows signs of prosperity.

The undersigned has for sale a large number of organs, comprising the Burdett, Estey, Plotter's, Beatty, Julian, Osborne, &c.

L. MALONE.

The "Salisbury House" is warmed by steam on the first floor, and in all its apartments is first class. Not to be outdone by any person or body of persons on this peninsula, a Tycoon dealer in the ardent has put a fancy tree box railing around his stove. John says that it has to be seen to be appreciated.

FOR SALE.—Fifteen building Lots, four Houses and lots in Town, and 10,000 acres of land in the country.

Apply to L. MALONE.

LOVE IN TYASKIN. Sitting up with your girl is a pleasant pastime, as most of us know, but that it acts differently on different people the following facts will show:

A Tyaskin sport visited his girl a short time since and had a splendid time until he got thirsty. Being well acquainted with the premises and not wishing to put the lady to any trouble he took himself to an adjacent room for some water. He readily found the bucket, but could not come up with the dipper. He was too dry to mine matters, so he put the bucket to his mouth and took a hearty drink. The water tasted strangely and on examining attentively, the victim of misplaced confidence found that he had taken a drink from the slop bucket. Tablau.

We call the attention of laundry men and washer women to a very fine article of blueing, manufactured by John T. Hastings, of this county. Mr. Hastings will furnish merchants with his blueing put up in bottles of various sizes to suit customers, or he will send it by mail in small bottles at ten cents each. Address John T. Hastings, Salisbury, Md.

Get up a Club.

Any person who will send us 10 names with $10 for ten copies of the SALISBURY ADVERTISER one year we will present them with a picture of the Centennial buildings or any one of them. Any person sending us five names with $5 for 5 copies we will give them their choice of eleven beautiful colored pictures, or a copy of the paper one year to gether up of club.

After the transaction of some chancery business Court adjourned at 12 o'clock on Tuesday till the 4th Monday in March.

STANDING AFFAIR AT THE ALMS HOUSE.—On Tuesday last Jasper Dashiel aged 84, got up early in the morning and made a rousing fit in one of the rooms of the almshouse. Shortly afterward John Carnish a blind and festive youth of 80 came in, and as the weather was very warm for the season, proceeded to demolish Dashiel's fire, and save the country expense.

Jasper became enraged and playfully poked John under the left shoulder blade with an old knife which was lying near.

Jasper became enraged and playfully poked John think I missed Miss Whiting sorely, for a few days after her departure and Kate's advent. We walked, we sat, we drove, we talked together. Fred occupied all the spare moments, and, few as they were, he seemed very hopeful; for Fred was always hopeful about all things, though he never succeeded in anything. He had paid his undivided attention to three young ladies, at different times, and been certain of success, and each time failed. He was not cast down, however; but was looking confidently forward to his union with Captain Kate.

"You have helped me a great deal, Ben," he would say, "and I thank you heartily for your kind words. When I am settled, consider my home yours."

"Certainly," I would respond, "I will Fred."

So three weeks slipped by, and in two more I should depart. Our flirtation continued unabated. Kate was bewildered, and I sometimes trembled for my own safety. Once, when standing near by to her, my lips somehow came in contact with hers and I had never felt quite safe since that day. "Kissing provoketh love," I said, "and I will avoid that hereafter."

So I did, and we sailed, and rode, and flirted deliciously through the remaining two weeks, and one morning I arose with the uncomfortable feeling upon me that it had all come to an end, and I was to leave on the forenoon train. I also arose with another knowledge—that I was very much in love with Captain Kate; yes, decidedly, irrevocably in love. I had an odd feeling, too, that it was just what Captain Kate intended, and I determined to keep my secret locked up in my breast. So I complimented her, in the old mock way, through the morning, and was conscious that under all her gayety there was lurking disappointment. And then I served myself for it and went to the arbor to say farewell.

"With my most heartfelt thanks for the pleasant flirtation you have kindly indulged me in, and hoping you all happiness in the future, I will say good-bye."

"And who will I dress for now, and who will pay me pretty compliments, and admire me?"

"Fred will serve as a substitute, won't he?" I asked; but she shook her head, gravely.

"Thanks for the compliment," I laughed. "And now may the Fates provide for you until you return to town."

So I left her with a greater pain in my heart than I ever had before; a pain that grew deeper and deeper every step I took, till at the foot of the hill it became unendurable, and I turned about and walked defiantly back to the arbor. Captain Kate's face was in her hands, and tears were falling upon her dress.

"Kate," I said softly, "what is the matter?"

She started violently, and then laughed through her tears.

"I hurt my finger with a thorn, and it made me cry."

"Let me extract the thorn," I said putting my arm about her waist. "And I came back to tell you that I was tired of 'make believe' love, and wanted to play love in earnest; will you?"

"What I suppose I could—on—

"Only what, Kate?"

"Why, about the grand flirtation!"

"We will end in a grand wedding," I said.

"I guess that will be a good idea," Kate answered from my shoulder.

I said good bye again, and went to see Fred.

"By the way, Ben," he said, "now you are going, I think I shall propose to Kate and settle matters."

"I wouldn't, Fred," said I; "for she is going to marry me!"

"It was rather abrupt," but Fred got over it, and his uncle really came from India and gave him a handsome fortune, and he married my pretty sister and is very happy.

Why is it no crime to pick a chromo man's pocket? Because he has pictures.

Was your wife like dynamite? Because she's apt to blow you up if harshly handled.

Trying to do business without advertising is like winking at a pretty girl in the dark; you may know what you are doing, but nobody else does.

Farm Work for January.
On this, the beginning of the new year, let us have a plain talk, and pardon us, if in our suggestions, we seem to infringe upon your former delinquencies. We trust that the present year will bring to each one and each household, where we pay monthly visits, health, peace, and the abundance of fruits of terra-culture with fair remunerative prices for the products of labor.

To secure these, there must be economy, steady labor, energy, and the most unflagging industry, directed and governed by wisdom and sound discretion. The last—head-work—most important of all, can only be obtained by a careful study of some practical book or periodical on the agriculture of the present times, as well as by careful observation of the modes of culture that others have pursued, when they have succeeded in making crops of any particular sort.

Let us urge not to rely upon your memory for what you desire to do during the year, but be sure to have only a book for farm accounts, &c., but have in that book pages devoted to memorandums, or a separate book for the purpose, to be often referred to. Make your various experiments, and carefully note results. Upon limited scales, let your experiments be made as to the various crops and modes of culture, the different fertilizers that are on the market, cosses of certain breeds of animals as compared with pure breeds, poultry of different kinds, cooked vs. raw food, soiling vs. pasturing, and on any or many of the subjects that are now being discussed by enlightened agriculturists in this and other countries. Be careful to note all the facts and deduce your conclusion for yourself, yet take care to give the benefit of your experimental investigation to the farmers through the columns of the Maryland Farmer, or other widely circulated journal, that it may call forth the experience of others, under perhaps different circumstances. By such a course, on the part of many farmers, great good will result to the entire community at large.

Let me remind you that you should cultivate no more land than you can heavily manure, or have the means to do strongly with some approved fertilizer, no matter whether your land be rich or poor.

Cultivate no more than you are sure you can work thoroughly and keep from weeds at the proper times, which is all times.

Labor too dear to spread yourselves, as of yore, in vaunting that you work so many acres more than your neighbor. The time has come when the true boast of a man, is how much more he produces of the same crop, per acre, than his neighbor, and how much more a man at the same wages clears, by your superior management and your determined will to make through superior cultivation and liberality in manures.

If it is not something for a farmer to boast that he can with one man and a span of horses, make on 20 acres, 2000 bushels of corn, with an outlay of manure, that really increases the value of the land more than the cost of the fertilizers; when his next neighbor had two men and four horses that worked hard on 60 acres, and make only 1,500 bushels?

We would call your attention to those awful animals the hog and sheep. The present price of pork is ruinous to the farmer and the laboring man, and it can be raised so easily and made to pay so well, if the pigs are well managed, upon almost the offal and waste of the farm. The non-production of pork, enough for home consumption, in Maryland, is a crying shame.

Again, the easiest managed and most docile animal on the farm, that really yields more in proportion to its size, and its benefits to the land in fertilizing and cleaning it by close grazing, is the sheep, admitted by all to be most profitable and indispensable; yet, because of dogs and rogues, farmers are deterred from breeding and keeping them. Where is your manhood, that you submit quietly to this dictation on the part of the owners of worthless curs, or vicious dogs or lazy thieves? Be not deterred, we say, breed sheep of the best sorts, and use powder and lead for the two-legged, and strychnine in plenty, for the four-legged rogues and murderers. There is no law forbidding your defending your sheep fold with a cord of bacon seasoned, and guns for marauding sheep stealers. A little determination and vigilance on the part of all who feel an interest in sheep breeding will soon, by concert of action, put an end to all this trouble about dogs and rogues. He who really values his dog will soon learn to keep him at home, where any dog, really valuable, is to be found, except when in company with his owner.—The Maryland Farmer.

OCCASIONAL.

Letter from Quantico.

QUANTICO, January 2nd, 1876.

Editor Advertiser:

The election is over and the State and county officers have received their commissions and qualified, and it is generally conceded that they are a tolerable fair sample, considering the material the people had to choose from, and as the Legislature will convene in a few days, I would like to know if we are to have a law to protect sheep from all kinds of plunderers and prowlers, or are things to continue as they are until there is not a sheep left in the county? Two years ago petition after petition from almost every district in the county, signed by responsible and respectable citizens of both political parties were sent to Annapolis, and treated by the members from this county with silent contempt—hope that such will not be the case this session.

Are we to have the privilege of voting on local option or not. Many are of the opinion that the friends of local option are a majority or not, but whether they are a majority or not, they are at least a respectable minority, and being a respectable minority are entitled to a hearing. This is all they ask. That all they demand, and may believe that the friends of local option should and ought to have a hearing.

But there is another subject that I would like to call your attention to.

How many citizens of that part of the county taken from Worcester are aware that there are two ferries on Wicomico river.

In years gone by there was a necessity for two, but at present there is no necessity but for one, for the citizens living to the north of the ferry will in a few years be as great strangers in Princess Anne as they are at this time in Cambridge or Snow Hill, and it is a well-known fact that the keeper of the Upper Ferry and his tenants made more use of the ferry than all the rest of the people in Wicomico county put together, and at the Lower Ferry, as well as at the Upper Ferry, the yawl boat is used five or six times a week.

The following persons were appointed road supervisors in Barron Creek District: Levin W. Wright, Zora B. Marine, Josiah S. Taylor, Noah B. Wright, Alex. M. Robertson, Constable in Sharpstown; John F. Reddish, Constable in Nutters' District, in the place of Wm. Twilley.

The old Ferry Boat will be sold on Feb. 5th, at the Iron Bridge by Mr. Williams.

Panzer accounts and pensions were the order of the day.

QUALIFYING.—The following officers qualified for their positions by taking the oath and subscribing their names in the Test Book in the Clerk's office, as required by the Constitution:

Supervisors of the Road.—Covington, Wilson, Barron Creek District; James H. Mitchell, Pittsburgh District; Wm. M. Gordy, in Parsons District; Mitchell Lloyd and W. R. Ellis in Salisbury District; G. W. Cathell in Nutters' District; Albert Huntington in Trappe District.

Constables.—Daniel W. Dennis, in Pittsburgh District; Theo. T. Bailey, in Barron Creek District; John W. Wingate, in Trappe District.

BAILIFF IN JERSEY.—We do not mean that State of which the inhabitants are called foreigners, but that highly respectable and delightful portion of our town, which has in the past few years become the favorite resort of many of our young men, and some of our staid married folks, has been honored by our Town Fathers with a bailiff, in the person of Geo. W. Farlow, to keep the unruly visitors of the demi-monde of that section in order. This is a good step, but on which the Commissioners had no right to take, in our humble opinion. The better way and the one by which to break up the evil would not worry, but let things shape themselves. All will be right in the end.

Now recommendations freighted with praise and entire satisfaction, are constantly being tendered to D. F. Beatty, Esq., proprietor and manufacturer of instruments of rare merit, known as the Beatty Piano, and Beatty's Golden Tongue Organs—Advertisement elsewhere.

A friend wants Captain to deny certain reports circulated by Madame Rumor, but the Captain is too gallant to contradict a lady, so our bashful friend must not worry, but let things shape themselves. All will be right in the end.

"Heavy frost May 20th," is written over the door of a room occupied by a couple of our young men. Our reporter was told that it referred to the commencement of Z.—'s girl's "cool treatment of him," and that it was dangerous to allude to the above date in his presence.

On the morning of the 18th, J. B. Perdue, G. W. Leonard, J. H. Gordy and a few more lovers of sport captured a fine red fox. The hounds started him near Clayton Phipps', and after an exciting chase of an hour and three-quarters, brought him to grief near the steam mill of Milton A. Parsons.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION!—A Temperance Convention will be held in Salisbury, on Thursday, February 3rd, for the counties of Somerset, Worcester and Wicomico. The undersigned were appointed a committee to notify the friends of temperance in Wicomico County to send two delegates from each Election District, each Church and each local temperance organization in said county. Convention will assemble on 2 P. M. on appointed speakers for the occasion to be furnished by the State Temperance Alliance. The PENSIONS.—The pension business has grown to such an extent that it has become a nuisance. The County is at the expense of a poor house and farm for very little benefit, there being three persons in the same. The commissioners had better sell out or do a way with the greater portion of the pension business.

FARMERS' MEETING.—The farmers' meeting on last Saturday was well attended. The meeting was addressed by Dr. Masters and Joshua Johnson, Esq., who made things pretty warm for each other, and but what personal has got to do with the fence law we cannot conceive. C. F. Holland, H. N. Crawford, and others also addressed the meeting.

Haffoke's Central Hotel, Holiday street, opposite New City Hall, Baltimore. Having leased the property on Holiday St., opposite New City Hall, now known as the Central Hotel, the undersigned respectfully informs the public, that this Hotel is now open for the reception of boarders, and for the accommodation of the travelling community. It has been thoroughly furnished: the bedding, carpets, and furniture being entirely new. The great advantage of the Central Hotel, to the guests in that it is in the heart of the city, convenient to all the business districts, easy of access by Street Cars, and in close communication with the various Rail Road and Steamboat lines. This Hotel is kept on the European plan. The Restaurant department is supplied with the best the market affords, and meals furnished at all hours at reasonable rates. Charles Haffoke, Proprietor.

The undersigned would inform the public that he is prepared to take orders for all kinds of ornamental painting, Egyptian, Brocata, Galway Green, Spanish, Plymouth Black, Lisbon, Sienna, Black and Gold, Lazuli and Malachite painted as natural as marble itself. Graining executed in fine style. Will paint chairs and repair furniture very cheap. Respectfully,

W. J. AIKMAN.

UNDER THE ROAD LAW.—A case of interest to the people of this County was decided at last Court. It was a case in which James Phipps was warned in to work on the road but refused to work or pay the compensation required by the act of 1874. The Supervisor caused Phipps to be sued before a Justice, who rendered a judgment against him from which he appealed. On trial before the Court the judgment was affirmed and Phipps ordered to be committed to jail for ten days, or until he should pay the said judgment and costs. When any one is warned to work on the roads he will find it to his advantage to go or hire a substitute.

COMMISSIONERS OFFICES.—The sale of the Upper Ferry to Levin C. Bailey for the ensuing year at $400.00 was reported by Mr. Williams.

Geo. W. Leonard, Geo. B. Perry and Sam'l E. Foskey, were appointed examiners of the road leading from Geo. Walker to Salisbury.

The following persons were appointed road supervisors in Barron Creek District: Levin W. Wright, Zora B. Marine, Josiah S. Taylor, Noah B. Wright, Alex. M. Robertson, Constable in Sharpstown; John F. Reddish, Constable in Nutters' District, in the place of Wm. Twilley.

On motion it was carried that in addition to the two delegates from each church, each election district and each Temperance organization in Wicomico county be requested to send two delegates to the convention. The report was adopted.

On motion the chair appointed Dr. Wm. Smith and Messrs. J. Cannon and Messrs. F. C. Todd a committee to make arrangements for the holding of the Convention, and to issue the invitation to the churches, districts and temperance organizations of this county to send two delegates to said Convention.

On motion the chair appointed Dr. Wm. Smith and Messrs. J. Cannon and Messrs. F. C. Todd a committee to make arrangements for the holding of the Convention, and to issue the invitation to the churches, districts and temperance organizations of this county to send two delegates to said Convention.

Qualifying.—The following officers qualified for their positions by taking the oath and subscribing their names in the Test Book in the Clerk's office, as required by the Constitution:

Supervisors of the Road.—Covington, Wilson, Barron Creek District; James H. Mitchell, Pittsburgh District; Wm. M. Gordy, in Parsons District; Mitchell Lloyd and W. R. Ellis in Salisbury District; G. W. Cathell in Nutters' District; Albert Huntington in Trappe District.

Constables.—Daniel W. Dennis, in Pittsburgh District; Theo. T. Bailey, in Barron Creek District; John W. Wingate, in Trappe District.

BAILIFF IN JERSEY.—We do not mean that State of which the inhabitants are called foreigners, but that highly respectable and delightful portion of our town, which has in the past few years become the favorite resort of many of our young men, and some of our staid married folks, has been honored by our Town Fathers with a bailiff, in the person of Geo. W. Farlow, to keep the unruly visitors of the demi-monde of that section in order. This is a good step, but on which the Commissioners had no right to take, in our humble opinion. The better way and the one by which to break up the evil would not worry, but let things shape themselves. All will be right in the end.

NOW recommendations freighted with praise and entire satisfaction, are constantly being tendered to D. F. Beatty, Esq., proprietor and manufacturer of instruments of rare merit, known as the Beatty Piano, and Beatty's Golden Tongue Organs—Advertisement elsewhere.

A friend wants Captain to deny certain reports circulated by Madame Rumor, but the Captain is too gallant to contradict a lady, so our bashful friend must not worry, but let things shape themselves. All will be right in the end.

"Heavy frost May 20th," is written over the door of a room occupied by a couple of our young men. Our reporter was told that it referred to the commencement of Z.—'s girl's "cool treatment of him," and that it was dangerous to allude to the above date in his presence.

Dr. G. Paul Jones assisted by Drs. Hale and R. W. Dashiell amputated the arm of Alfred Miles, (col.) on the 14th inst.

L. D. Overton, Esq., (who some years ago carried on the oyster establishment at Williams Point Wicomico Co.) died suddenly on the morning of the 13th inst., at his residence in Hungry Neck.

Mrs. Jno. T. Harris, of St. Michaels, came near losing her life by the upsetting of a coal oil lamp recently.

Two children of Bill Kinman at Stumpstown, were burned to death by the burning of the house while their parents were away.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Joseph Anderson, a brakeman on the Md. and Del. Rail Road, was killed at Goldsborough on the 13th, while coupling a car.

Fayville, Northampton Co., Eastern Virginia, has a 115 year old colored damsel.

The money of the Nanticoke Loan Association of Seaford, Del., sold recently $200 at 27 and $500 at 30 per cent. premium. We pity the borrowers.

The store house occupied by William Moore, at Seaford, was burned to the ground.

At a recent pigeon match at Middleburg, Del., between A. E. Muxlow and W. D. Clayton, one bird was killed out of ten.

Henry Clayton, B. T. Biggs, B. Gibbs, John A. Reynolds, James Culverton, E. C. Fenimore, M. E. Walker, J. B. Cazier and Joseph Biggs, were re-elected Directors of the Citizens National Bank of Middleburg, on the 11th inst. Henry Clayton was elected President.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION!—A Temperance Convention will be held in Salisbury, on Thursday, February 3rd, for the counties of Somerset, Worcester and Wicomico. The undersigned were appointed a committee to notify the friends of temperance in Wicomico County to send two delegates from each Election District, each Church and each local temperance organization in said county. Convention will assemble on 2 P. M. on appointed speakers for the occasion to be furnished by the State Temperance Alliance. The purpose of the convention is to secure harmony of action on the part of the Temperance elements of these counties. It is important that the friends of Temperance throughout the county be fully represented.

THE WEEKLY SUN.

1776. NEW YORK. 1876.

Eighteen hundred and seventy-six is the Centennial Year. It is the year in which an Opposition House of Representatives, the first since the year of 1789, was elected. It is the year of the twenty-third election of a President of the United States. All of these events are sure to be of great interest and importance to the two latter. All of them, and everything connected with them will be fully and freely reported and exposed to the public.

The Opposition House of Representatives, taking up the little inquiry opened years ago by THE SUN, is sternly and diligently investigating the conduct of the late General Grant, his administration; and will, it is to be hoped, lay the foundation of a new and better period in our national history. Of course, THE SUN will give full and accurate accounts, furnishing its readers with early and trustworthy information upon these subjects.

The twenty-third Presidential election, with the preparations for it will be memorable, decided, and interesting. It will be a contest of power and plunder, and still more as deciding who shall be the candidate of the party of Reform. The result will be the determining of all these subjects, those who read THE SUN will have the constant means of being thoroughly well informed.

THE WEEKLY SUN, eight pages with fifty-six broad columns is only $1.20 a year, postage prepaid. The paper is well printed, and can be had at any newsagent's office. Postmaster, address THE SUN, New York City.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1876.

Our people are somewhat agitated upon the subject of a fence law. We have always held that a stock law, which would require all persons to keep up their stock after a certain period of time would be the most certain means of improving both stock and lands which could be resorted to. As farmers would keep fewer cattle they would endeavor to procure better stock, and keep them better and thereby produce fine beef and more of it, better milk and more of it; as well as an abundance of good butter, while the manure produced would more than half pay for the food. It is said by those who oppose a stock law that farmers could not raise enough produce to feed their stock. This is nonsense, and the plea of ignorance or of laziness. One acre of the most ordinary land with a little manure upon it will produce enough food for one cow, provided it be mixed with the dish water, &c., which in many cases is thrown out upon the ground.

In order to do this, plant at the proper time four square perchers in carrots, the same quantity of ground in sugar beets, the same in sweet potatoes, the same in Irish potatoes, eight perchers in rutabagas, four in flat turnips, sixteen perchers in oats and clover, which should be cut and fed in the stall, while all the aforementioned roots should be cooked before feeding them; sow thirty-six perchers in corn for fodder, the remaining half acre will produce 25 bushels of corn and a small stack of fodder if properly tilled, and with the two stacks of corn fodder raised on that part which has been sown, a sufficient quantity will be raised to feed your cow far better than one-half of the best cows are fed in the country, and this cow upon this feed will produce more milk than three cows that ran out on the commons, and it will not take a boy half his time to hunt for her. It is a great mistake to let milch cows run at large.

Now, how about the hogs? We venture to say without fear of successful contradiction that the same quantity of food fed to hogs that are kept up in stys will produce more pork than it will fed to hogs allowed to go at large upon the commons, besides, the farmer who keeps his hogs on his premises may let them into his clover lot occasionally, but we have been told, and it has been our experience in noticing the fact, that it is best to cut clover and put it in the pen to the hogs, as they will do as well or better and not injure the growing crop, while the manure raised from six hogs, if properly composted, will be worth half or nearly all the food they will eat.

EX-GOVERNOR FRANCIS THOMAS, of Alleghany county, Md., was killed by the ears of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last week. He was 77 years old and quite deaf, which accounts for the accident. It is supposed that he stepped from one track to let a train pass when he was struck by another coming round a short curve.

The "Kennesaw Route Gazette" for January has been received. This month is published at Atlanta, Georgia, and is intended to show the best and quickest route to the southwest.

As many of our citizens seem somewhat concerned as to the effect of a Bill reported in the Senate by Mr. Humphreys, we give the Bill in full below. It reads as follows:

A BILL.

Entitled An Act to regulate the building of Mill Dams on streams where the public road crosses such stream, and the keeping of the same in repair, in Wicomico County.

Whereas, it has been doubted whether the public local laws of Somerset County and Worcester County regulating the building of mill dams on streams over which the public roads cross, are in force in Wicomico County since its erection out of the said Counties, therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That whenever any mill has been or may be built in Wicomico County upon any branch or stream where the public road crosses such branch or stream, the owner of any such mill shall within one month from the building of such mill, erect a causeway across the breast of such dam at least twelve feet wide, and shall keep the causeway and the bridge bridged, to the end that the road may be kept open to the public road shall be in a way affected injuriously thereto, and such owner shall be exempt from any summons to work on the public roads.

SECTION 2. And be it enacted, That if any such dam or bridge shall get out of repair and the owner on notice from the road supervisor or County Commissioners shall neglect for the space of sixty days to repair the same, the County Commissioners shall proceed to make such repairs and the owner shall be bound to pay the County Commissioners for such outlay on account thereof, and the same may be collected as taxes, unless the mill shall be abandoned with its privileges, in which case the owner shall be released.

SECTION 2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Sheep Farming.

Those who desire to have healthy sheep should make for them a pasture by clearing out the undergrowth, and fence to itself a piece of woodland. Have adjoining this wood or pasture about five acres of clover, upon which turn the sheep about one hour late in the afternoon of each day, but never in rainy or damp weather. Always keep them under cover at night. Give them salt twice a week, and in rainy weather give them pea hulls or some dry straw, and keep up till it clears off. Black-eyed peas are much better than corn for sheep. Some hominy mixed with bran and oats, will do them good in winter. They should never be put in a field of rank weeds in wet weather. A part of their woods pasture should be high piney land if convenient. Not more than fifty sheep should be kept in a ten acre field.

THE reformers at Annapolis will not have much to do, one would judge, from the manner the regular Democracy are going to matters, and it looks as if the past acts of that party who are now crying so loud for reform may be taken into consideration before the matter is suffered to rest. And it may be that some one else's ox may be gored before the freinds ends. All we have to say is that the so-called reformers have taken up the sword, and if some of them fulfil the prophecy by dying by it, it is none of our funeral. We say, "lay on, Macduff." Investigation is the order of the day. Let it come, we say, and "let no guilty escape," is our motto. We believe that the Democracy of Maryland can stand a thorough investigation. If they can't let them fall. The good old party wants none but honest men to administer its affairs, and if its present and past officers are not so, let the world know it. At least we shall believe them innocent until they are found guilty.

A Colored Clergyman Can Find No Resting-Place.

George Freeman, clerk in the Bingham House, was charged before United States Commissioner Smith yesterday morning with violating the provisions of the civil rights bill. Rev. Fields Cook a colored clergyman, pastor of the Third Baptist Church of Alexandria, Va., testified that he arrived in Philadelphia on Tuesday evening, and being unable to procure private lodgings made application for a room in the Bingham House at about 10 o'clock at night. The clerk, Mr. Freeman, informed him that the house was full. He then left, but returned in about half an hour and asked permission to sit down in a side room, which was granted him. He sat there until 4 o'clock the next morning, and during that time eighteen gentlemen registered their names in the book and were assigned apartments. A woman then came in to clean the room, and he then went into the office and sat there until 7 o'clock. He questioned Freeman in regard to his conduct, and was informed in answer to his question that he had been denied a room because he was a colored man. Freeman was held in $1,000 bail to answer, the proprietor of the Bingham House, Curtis Davis, becoming his surety. The penalty is suffered to rest. And it may be that some one else's ox may be gored before the friends ends. All we have to say is that the so-called reformers have taken up the sword, and if some of them fulfil the prophecy by dying by it, it is none of our funeral. We say, "lay on, Macduff." Investigation is the order of the day. Let it come, we say, and "let no guilty escape," is our motto. We believe that the Democracy of Maryland can stand a thorough investigation. If they can't let them fall. The good old party wants none but honest men to administer its affairs, and if its present and past officers are not so, let the world know it. At least we shall believe them innocent until they are found guilty.

Enigma.

Mr. Editor:—

Please find a place for this enigma, written by a little boy of Tyaskin, in your paper, and oblige one of your little readers.

My 1st is in gun but not in pistol.

My 2nd is in egg but not in bird.

My 3rd is in oak but not in pine.

My 4th is in rat but not in cat.

My 5th is in grave but not in heaven.

My 6th is in bread but not in flour.

My 7th is in cow but not in ox.

My 8th is in love but not in hate.

My 9th is in bottle but not in brandy.

My 10th is in lamp but not in oil.

My 11th is in tree but not in bush.

My 12th is in answer but not in question.

My whole is the name of a prominent member of our school board.

MICHELL'S GEOGRAPHY.—We were amused the other day on taking up a copy of this work and examining some parts of it, of which we were most familiar. The State of Delaware was described as having two railroads within its borders, the P. W. & B. and the New Castle and Frenchtown. Now this book says it was published in 1864. The Delaware railroad had been completed to the lower end of the State about ten years, and about one half of the New Castle and Frenchtown road had been taken up about twenty-five years, and the Junction & Baakwater and other branch roads have been built. While his history of the State of Maryland was quite in keeping with his description of the State of Delaware. The same old story told thirty years ago in the Geographies was strictly adhered to. Why do not the publishers, (Messrs. E. H. Butler & Co., of Phila.) get some school boy from Maryland to write up the history of the State for them instead of telling this same old story forever.

The Phrenological Journal and Life Illustrated for February, 1876, is worthy of the highest commendation from moral and intellectual points of view. Its matter—scientific, biographic, and miscellaneous—bears the stamp of a judicious selection adapting it to the comprehension of a numerous constituency. Its stories and sketches are particularly admirable. Among the subjects treated in the number are: Secretary Bristow; Rev. S. H. Platt, A. M., The Human Soul—its Origin, Nature, and Functions; Responsibility in Parentage; A Bad Beginning—Chapters I. and II.; Tobey Riddle (Wineimah), the Heroine of the Modoc War; Peacemaker Grange; Holloway Musings; Educational Progress Backward; Agricultural Hints; Miscellany, etc. Price, 30 cents for the number—which should be read in every family in the land;—for the year, $3. S. R. Wells & Co., New York.

AGENTS WANTED FOR LIBRARY OF

Poetry & Song

Being Choice Selections from the Best Poets, English, Scotch, Irish and American, by WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

If one had the complete works of all the poets, it would be a large library, costing from $500 to $1,000, he would not gain in a lifetime, perhaps, to comprehend their knowledge of the poets themselves their heat productions, the period during which they wrote, and the places honored by their birth, as from this elegant volume. The handsomest and cheapest subscription book ever published.

Price, 30 cents for the number—which should be read in every family in the land;—for the year, $3. S. R. Wells & Co., New York.

Letter from Fruitland.

The prostration of business appears universal throughout the Union. Much complaining on the part of people generally produces more excitement than there is any real cause for. In every character of business, from the humblest laborer to the highest position, and under every circumstance favorable or unfavorable, complaints are rife. Placed in any position man will grumble. Before the war wages were low, work scarce, and very frequently our produce brought small prices, grubbing was then the general character of the day. Then we were plunged into a fearful and expensive war. Wages run up goods of every class brought enormous prices, wood and lumber quadrupled in value greenbacks were in vast abundance, men made immense fortunes, but this did not stop the grubbling. After four years of war to let a train pass when he was struck by another coming round a short curve.

The "Kennesaw Route Gazette" for January has been received. This month is published at Atlanta, Georgia, and is intended to show the best and quickest route to the southwest.

As many of our citizens seem somewhat concerned as to the effect of a Bill reported in the Senate by Mr. Humphreys, we give the Bill in full below. It reads as follows:

A BILL.

Entitled An Act to regulate the building of Mill Dams on streams where the public road crosses such stream, and the keeping of the same in repair, in Wicomico County.

Whereas, it has been doubted whether the public local laws of Somerset County and Worcester County regulating the building of mill dams on streams over which the public roads cross, are in force in Wicomico County since its erection out of the said Counties, therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That whenever any mill has been or may be built in Wicomico County upon any branch or stream where the public road crosses such branch or stream, the owner of any such mill shall within one month from the building of such mill, erect a causeway across the breast of such dam at least twelve feet wide, and shall keep the causeway and the bridge bridged, to the end that the road may be kept open to the public road shall be in a way affected injuriously thereto, and such owner shall be exempt from any summons to work on the public roads.

SECTION 2. And be it enacted, That if any such dam or bridge shall get out of repair and the owner on notice from the road supervisor or County Commissioners shall neglect for the space of sixty days to repair the same, the County Commissioners shall proceed to make such repairs and the owner shall be bound to pay the County Commissioners for such outlay on account thereof, and the same may be collected as taxes, unless the mill shall be abandoned with its privileges, in which case the owner shall be released.

SECTION 2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

The Maltby House is one of the best conducted Hotels in the Monumental City, and not inferior to the best in the country. Mr. C. R. Hogan and his assistants are among the most polite, active and obliging officers, and always make one feel at home. The Maltby is convenient to steamboats, railroads, and the business parts of the city, and is a well conducted and well ordered house. Mr. H. has been engaged in renovating the Maltby for some time, and the house is now in complete order. Clean rooms, clean furniture and a well furnished table and bar. No one need complain of the fare at the Maltby.

Thursday night Bailiff Farlow made his first arrest for a violation of the corporation laws. A young man from California had met his sweetheart. The two had taken a promenade, and under the influence of too much tangle foot, were making night hideous by their blasphemy. Justice Truitt imposed a fine of fifty cents and costs on each of the principals, amounting in all to $3.20 which was promptly paid by a sympathizing gentleman from the rural districts. The lamentations of the girl at being placed in the lock-up, were amusing to behold. She avows a determination to go on the war path with a kettle of hot water after Billy.

WANTED.—About the first of March next, six first class Milch Cows. Any person having such for sale will please leave the information at this office before that time.

The Bull's Cough Syrup has been before the public for years, and is pronounced by thousands superior to all other articles for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza and all pulmonary Complaints.

The words "Golden Tongue" but poorly express the richness of tone which emanates from the interior of a beautiful organ case, upon which is inscribed the name Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, N. J. See other columns of this issue.

During our absence from home last week, a paragraph appeared in this department of the paper detailing the attack of Mr. Bounds on Rev. Walter Graham, near Quantico, Md. Had we been at home the article certainly would not have appeared. In justice to Mr. Graham and the lady in question, we will say that in the neighborhood where the principals reside, the alleged cause, for the assault is said to be wholly imaginary. Our columns are open however to either party who choose to write over their own signature, and a thorough ventilation of the whole affair will result only in good to the innocent.

Since writing the above we have received a letter from Mr. Graham in which he says:

"There is absolutely no foundation for the report, and to clear myself of the charge, I shall prosecute the case to the fullest extent of the law, and force the matter to the most scrupulous investigation." We feel certain that he will have nothing to lose by a full exposure of facts, and give him credit for his determination.

TESTIMONIALS

Waters' Pianos and Organs.

Waters' New Scale pianos have peculiar merit.—N. Y. Tribune.

The tone of the Waters' Piano is rich, melodic, and sustained. They possess great volume of sound and the continuation of sound or singing power is one of their marked features.—N. Y. Times.

Waters' Concerto Organ is so voiced as to have a tone like a full rich alto voice. It is especially human in its tone, powerful, yet sweet.—Rural New Yorker.

THE WEEKLY SUN.

1776. NEW YORK. 1876.

Eleven hundred and seventy-six is the centennial year. It is also the year in which an opportunity will be given to the people of the world, to be in power at Washington; and the year of the twenty third election of a President of the United States. The election will be of great interest and importance, especially the two latter; and all of them and everything connected with them will be fresh and freshly reported and explained in this paper.

The twenty-third President, elected with the popular vote, will be the man who will decide upon Grant's aspirations for a third term of power and plunder, and still more as deciding whether he will, or will not, be helped, by the friends of his party, in getting him re-elected.
