SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1877.

This paper has double circulation of any paper on the lower Peninsula.

A Praise and Promise meeting will be held in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Association at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Let all attend.

Select the best Pure Paints, 14 lbs. to the gallon. Please call and examine sample board.

L. W. GUNBY, Agt.

See in our advertising columns several Trustee Sales. Persons in want of real estate can purchase bargains.

We learn from the True Marylander that "Gray Eagle" (Jail) in Somerton is fast filling up. This hard Winter is telling on the people.

Cannon has a full line of White Shirts both laundried and unlaundried, which it will pay any one to examine before buying.

We learn from the Worcester papers that Snow Hill does not want a fire engine. Keret. If you do have one, you will have to have some fire to try how the thing works.

Admirers of the fine arts should visit Munson's studio, opposite the post office and examine his fine paintings, which are for sale at extremely low prices.

The way to have something to do, is to keep doing something. Never wait for luck or good fortune, but start right out after it, drag it up by the horns if it has any, if not, try the ears.

W. A. & S. A. Graham are selling unfinished shirts, made of the best Wamsutta Muslin, with Richardson Linen Bosom, at the extremely low price of $1.25 apiece.

Capt. Thomas Inley White, formerly of the fast sailing sloop Superior, has rented the Wicomico House, and opened a boarding house, where he is willing to take a number of regular boarders.

The mills are all running on full time, and things are assuming a more lively appearance, in view of the near approach of an honest Democratic Administration.

J. H. Trader, at Brohawn's old stand is selling Dry Goods, Groceries, Notions, &c., at bottom prices. Don't forget to give him a call, and price his wares before making purchases.

The mild weather of the past few days has put farmers to work, and a lively business is going on, in manure hauling, &c. Pea and potato planting will be the next business in order.

Corn is beginning to come in town in large quantities at 50 cents per bushel. Wicomico has on hand a large crop of corn, which our farmers would do well to feed to their hogs at present prices, as it would pay best.

Persons desiring to have the remains of relatives or friends properly removed to the Cemetery, can do so by calling on

SAMUEL T. BUSH.

I found Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to be a most effectual remedy, and feel sure that the most stubborn cough and cold will yield to its healing influence.—Frank S. Price, New Orleans, August 6, 1875.

Mr. Ferry (cousin to the man who wanted to count the votes) is in town getting subscriptions to Gray's Atlas, which will be an excellent work when completed, price $16.00. Mr. Ferry is quite a gentleman, and full of live yankee notions.

St. MARY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH—Sermon Sunday, Feb. 4th, 1877. High Mass, with Sermon at 10.15. A. M. Vespers, Lecture and Benediction, at 7. P. M.

Rsv. Edw. Ign. TAYLOR.

Paster.

On our way up town we were attracted by a gentleman on the side walk who had just purchased a pair of new boots and hat at the cheap store of C. M. Brewington, No. 40 Main St., Salisbury, where there are plenty more of the same, going cheap for cash. Now is the time to buy cheap.

Though nice weather has been the rule this week, it will not last always, and the best place to get a shield from the elements is at W. A. & S. A. Graham's whose stock of umbrellas cannot be surpassed.

Vendees of eye glasses and other novelties have been parambulating our streets for some time past, and those who pay license to sell such articles, investigated them before the Magistrates to see if they were so equipped, finding they were not, it was adjudged that they had best stop.

An idle person is not content to do nothing himself, but he often plagues those who are at work, much to the annoyance of employers and business men generally. "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with the might," is a Proverb very appropriate to some employees who are afraid of doing too much.

For 11 cent Sugar go to Trader Bros.

Prof. Gregory, the old rebel, held forth in the Court Room on Wednesday night, and although the house was not as full as usual on such occasions, yet his audience enjoyed his side-splitting hits hugely, and should Gregory ever come this way again, he will be sure of a good house. He is an original genius and performs his pieces well. He is a side-splitter.

Wadsworth, Martines and Longman's Pure Paints. 1 gallon will cover 230 square feet of wood, surface TWO COATS. L. W. GUNBY, Agt.

The revival now in progress, at the M. E. Church in this place, has been attended with great success. Quite a number of persons have professed religion, and others are ardently seeking. The services have been interesting, and large congregations have gathered each evening, so much so, that many have been unable to get seats in the church.

PHONOGRAPHIC PENCIL.—We have received a sample of the Phonographic pencil, manufactured by the American Lead Pencil Co., No. 93 to 99, Nassau St., New York, and we have given the pencil a fair trial, and pronounce, it is a number one pencil, and can recommend it to those who use this indispensable implement, as the best pencil we have yet used.

Scarf Pins and Sleeve Buttons of every style and variety at W. A. & S. A. Graham's, who are also disposing of their immense stock of winter clothing at cost, to make room for spring goods.

Miss Maggie Irving, daughter of Rev. Dr. John H. Dashill, was married to Mr. Joseph F. Birch, of Georgetown, D. C., at the city of Washington on Tuesday evening, 26th ult., Dr. J. H. Dashill, the bride's father, officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. R. L. Dashill, and Missionary Secretary of the M. E. Church. The happy couple left for New York the same evening for a bridal trip of a few days.

We agree to repaint any building with English White Lead if our paints do not prove perfectly satisfactory.

L. W. GUNBY, Agt.

Persons having real estate for sale, and desire to advertise the same, can do so on reasonable terms on application to the SENTINEL PUBLISHING CO., who will issue their monthly Sentinel daily next month, which will be devoted to the advertisement of the real estate for sale in this and adjoining counties. The rates of advertising will be one fourth of the Advertiser's rates for a year, three and six months in proportion. See our rates at head of another column. Those who desire to advertise in the first number will do well to send on their descriptions at once, as they may get a more prominent place in the paper.

Dr. S. P. Dennis, assisted by Dr. Slomons, Humphreys and Truitt, removed the right breast of Caroline Jackson, cold'd., for cancer last Tuesday. The patient is doing well. We are glad to say that, while our town is somewhat distinguished for eminence in the Medical and surgical profession. We regard Dr. S. P. Dennis second to none upon this shore in surgical skill. The Doctor has spent much time and money in the pursuit of knowledge in this particular branch of the practice, and we are glad to say that we believe it has been well laid out, inasmuch as it takes a lifetime in country practice to become an adept in surgery. ## To Farmers.

February and March is the season to get out your manures, composts, &c., have them dropped in heaps near the place where you intend to use them, handling improves them. Peas, potatoes, onions, and some other vegetables may be planted during the good weather of the coming weeks. Let all fence work be done at once, so that no delay will be occasioned when Spring fully opens, that the plow, the cart, the hoe, and cultivator may do their work effectively. The pigs, calves, lambs, chickens, &c., must be attended to. Don't neglect any part of your stock. Sow oats and clover for your horses and cows, it will come in at a time when it will be needed. Be up and doing. See that old plows, harrows, cultivators, hoes, &c., are all in place, and in good order. When the robin sings the plow jig, don't have everything to look up, but be ready to march to the music when the fish worms perforate the ground at night, you may be sure that seed time is at hand, and although sleep is sweet of a Spring morning, remember that you must be up and going. "In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thy hand," is the injunction of Holy Writ, and its mild commands are worth following, for as much as many of the most beautiful parables are addressed to husbandmen and those engaged in agriculture. In fact we could do better than observe the injunctions of the Scriptures, so far as the same relate to husbandry, both in a temporal and spiritual point of view. Sow good seed, in well broken soil, and see that it falls not upon the rocks, nor in the thorny hedges, where the birds of the air may devour it. Hunt the lost sheep which stray from the fold—bring them in in due season. Cast your nets in the creeks, rivers and seas, that you may find food for the workmen and get the wherewithal to pay taxes.

The Presidential muddle still drags its length along, and that, without much prospect of a conclusion approximating any nearer an honest count than would have been reached by the two houses of Congress without the assistance of the commission, which has always been to us, a matter of doubt as to its constitutionality, yet, as the matter had gone wrong so far, it was almost the only way out of the difficulty, inasmuch as it was necessary to give the frauds committed by the returning boards a slight imitation of legality. The Democratic party lost its chance by submitting its case to cowardly men. What was necessary at the start, was (when it was ascertained that Tilden had a majority of both the people, and of the electors, outside of the fraudulent action of the returning boards,) for the Democracy throughout the land to proclaim their intentions, we should have had no swindling returns, Tilden would have been inaugurated peacefully. But the frauds have been made respectable by our own consideration, which we have paid those thieves in the management of them. But our cowardly wisecracks say the country would have been ruined if we had had another war. We say first, there would not have been war. The Republicans hold the bonds, and the day the first gun was fired, the bonds would have gone down fifty per cent. What care we have the poor land, and the Radicals have the bonds. They got them for shoddy contracts and subsidies, as well as ruling in favor of corporations. &c. But what are bonds compared with our liberties? But enough at present. We shall at a future time give the law side of this case in which our judgment might have been pursued by the Democracy and have landed them more securely, than the last subterfuge is likely to do. But again that commission was the only thing we could accept now, as we had lost everything else by our pusillanimity—we have no more to say. We regret that it is not in our power to present our readers with a better phase to day, but we must confess it looks gloomy.

DEATH OF A JOURNALIST.—We regret to have to announce the death of our venerable friend, and brother journalist, Hon. Geo. W. Wilson, editor and publisher of the Marlboro' Gazette, and at the time of his death President of the Maryland Editorial Association. Mr. Wilson was the senior of all the country editors of the State, was for many years Judge of the Orphan's Court of Prince George's County, served in both branches of the State Legislature, and was an active, influential, and reliable, upright citizen. We have been on what we consider intimate terms with Judge Wilson since 1870. We first met in the old Senate Chamber in the beginning of the session of January, 1870. We found him, like his predecessor in that body, Mr. Lee, an excellent, and an upright man, always at his post, and on the right side of most questions. We shall always hold him in great remembrance, as one of the upright men of Maryland. Would that we had plenty such men as Judge Wilson, as he was always called.

Aour three months since we noticed our delinquent subscribers that if their bills were not paid by the first of January their names would be dropped and their bills sent out for collection. Thus far we have not dropped scarcely any names nor sent out many bills for collection. Some, however, who are greatly in arrears, have notified us to stop their paper, without sending the stamps due. The hard times were upon us, and the contest over the election was not settled, hence, we have indulged the people much longer than we should have done. But, we say just here, that forbearance will eventually cease to be a virtue, and we shall have to attend to our interest in self-defense.

The construction of the "New York and Philadelphia New Line," was undertaken in the belief that an urgent necessity existed for additional facilities of communication between the two most populous cities on the continent, containing in the aggregate over two millions of people.

Utilizing as it does, portions of two well-known and important lines of railway, nearly one-half of the through distance between New York and Philadelphia was already covered by road ways. The hard times were upon us, and the contest over the election was not settled, hence, we have indulged the people much longer than we should have done. But, we say just here, that forbearance will eventually cease to be a virtue, and we shall have to attend to our interest in self

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1877.

This paper has double the circulation of any paper on the lower Peninsula.

Large quantities of black perch are now being caught in Elliott's Bay.

The protracted meeting still goes on, with unsatisfied success.

There is some talk of starting up the railway at Shad Point again.

The action of Justice Dashiel should be a salutary warning to would-be scine robbers.

The spire on the M. E. Church, South, is being renovated and made water tight.

A practical remedy for hard times is being tested by W. A. & S. A. Graham, who are offering Ready-made Clothing at extremely low prices.

For pure seeds and plants go to Henry A. Drexel, Philadelphia. Send for catalogue and price list. It is time to look after the field and market garden.

Our rules prevent us from publishing any communication not accompanied by the name of the author, and for that reason "Fair Play's" article does not appear in our columns.

Be on time. For prevention is better than cure. All Coughs and Colds and such afflictions of the throat and lungs as lead to consumption are cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The first day of Lent, commonly called Ash Wednesday, falls this year on the 14th of February—next Wednesday. There will be service on that day in St. Peter's church of this place at 10 o'clock.

The new map of Salisbury is now ready for distribution. Printed on common paper sells for 25 cents. Persons desiring a copy by mail can get it on receipt of 25 cents. Send in your orders at once to this office.

Don't forget the lecture at the Court House on Monday evening next by the Rev. F. T. Tagg, for the benefit of the Circulating Library, on the subject of "Manhood." A full attendance is earnestly desired.

The Fireside is a welcome visitor to the board of our exchanges every Saturday morning. It is published at No. 21 N. Calvert street, Baltimore, and is a neat 16 column paper, thoroughly alive to the duties of the hour.

Even in the dull times Mr. James Cannon keeps a very large stock of Clothing and Shoes, so that the people do not have to choose from a small stock, because it is late in the season. He does not allow his stock to get low, but is constantly buying.

Navigation, which has been scaled so long, was resumed last week, and much activity is observable along the wharves. Corn is pouring into our market in large quantities, and selling at 50 cents cash, by weight or measure. The corn being of good quality, it weighs well.

We have received a copy of the Cottage Home, published at Woodberry, Md., by the Home Publishing Company. It is a neat, well-executed 16 column monthly, devoted to rural life and domestic economy, and is a good advertising medium.

The subject for debate on next Wednesday night by the Salisbury Lyceum is "Resolved, That the usury laws should be repealed." Affirmative, S. A. Graham and E. S. Toadwin; negative, G. W. M. Cooper and J. A. Graham. The debates are all free for any one to attend who desire to do so.

In another column will be found the advertisement of D. C. McGraw, Seedsmen and Florist, Binghamton, N. Y. Mr. M. is well known throughout the country as a safe, reliable man to deal with. Those who desire to purchase anything in his line need not fear, he will certainly send the article wanted. Send for catalogue of prices, etc.

Sheriff Dorman's new dwelling will soon be completed, which will add another comfortable domicile to that part of Church street and be an ornament to the town.

INVOLUNTARY BATH.—On Tuesday last Ernest Brittingham and Samuel Wright agreed to take a wheelbarrow ride. They likewise, agreed with the master to stick to the machine under any and all circumstances. They were gently wheeled down the hill back of the jail and into the mill pond.

ERRATUM.—In our last issue we said that the Comptroller had instructed our Board of Commissioners that they could use the late assessment books in striking the levy for 1877. On further investigation into the said letter of the Comptroller we find it was not quite so broad in its application, but only said the books will be the basis of the levy for 1877. We gave the item last week as we resolved it, not regarding it as a matter of much importance, only as a convenience to those who were compelled to make changes in their property.

Do not fail to go to W. A. & S. A. Graham's and examine their well-assorted stock of bosom studs, scarf pins and sleeve buttons of new, novel and pleasing designs, which cannot fail to please every one who appreciates the beautiful.

The new county jail will soon be completed—the roof has been put on this week. It will be a substantial structure when completed, unless the winter frosts have injured the mortar. The design is a perfect model, and is the prettiest house in the country, being finished with pressed brick walls on all sides.

The "handsomest man in town" is now desperately in love with the fast arrival. He swears by all that is good, bad, and indifferent that he will stick to her through thick and thin, and, judging from the sample of swearing he indulged in on Thursday last at the intersection of High and Mill streets, we think that he is in earnest.

Our Town Fathers are still improving our streets. Division from Church to Main street and Camden Avenue have received a good coat of shell this week. We hope the road leading to the fair grounds may receive their favor, and the street leading out through California on the Quantico road should receive early attention.

R. T., of Deals Island, complains of irregularities on the mail route between Deal's Island and Quantico. He states that a letter containing three dollars, mailed at the former place, directed to Mr. B. E. M., Quantico, has not yet been received. He adds there must be something wrong. It seems so, better see P. O. order, or registered letter next time, Doctor.

THE BRADLEY PROMISE.—It is said the recent invention of Rev. R. D. Bradley, of Cambridge, who spoke of the parish, Dr. Fulton, who spoke of the movement necessary to enable the clergy to do the work specially committed to them more efficiently and successfully.

These services, together with those on Wednesday and Thursday mornings, were well attended, and the good people of Spring Hill parish were both pleased and profited by them. The music, too, was excellent, and much of the pleasure of the meetings was due to this cause. Much credit is due to the organist, Miss Crane, for the taste and skill displayed in her special department. W. F.

diately into glory. The reward of heaven can only come after the resurrection of the body and the final judgment. The state proper for a disembodied spirit must differ materially from that proper for a creature possessed both of body and soul. This state is Paradise as distinguished from heaven, and the condition in it is one of rest and repose rather than one of active enjoyment. The last speaker was the Rev. Dr. Williamson, of Snow Hill, who spoke of the reward of Heaven.

On Thursday night the Bishop opened by an able and interesting address on Religion in America, contrasting its present with its past of a century ago. He began with the encouraging features of the subject—showing the great increase in numbers and material resources, and the great energy and activity that in a century has filled this, whole land with churches, schools and universities, has carried the gospel into the remotest parts of our own vast territory and sent it even to the distant heathen. He then passed to the dark side of the subject, and on this dwelt more at large. He noted that the personal character of religion had very greatly deteriorated from what it was a century ago—that it has become spasmodic, irregular, sensational; that there was great disintegration in the Church, and much spiritual power was lost by these interminable divisions, and that finally there had been a grievous lapse from the orthodoxy that had characterized the religion of our country a century ago, many who still call themselves Christians having repudiated all or nearly all the doctrines that are distinctively Christian.

He was followed by the Rev. Dr. Barber, of Cambridge, who gave a very interesting account of the parochial system of our church, showing how, if properly carried out, it promotes the cause of Christ among us, and how, if not faithfully carried out by laymen as well as clergy, it may be hindrance and embarrassment.

The last speaker was the Rector of the parish, Dr. Fulton, who spoke of the 17th inst. in the Court Room at 2 o'clock, P. M. It is desired that the stockholders should be present, as the reports of the Directors for last year will be read, and acted upon. There will be addresses delivered on subjects of interest to the members. A full meeting is earnestly requested.

The public debate will be on Wednesday night, 28th inst., when the question will be, Resolved, "That the Execution of Charles 1st. was justifiable politically." Affirmative, C. F. Holland and E. R. Rider, Esqrs., Negative, J. A. Parsons, Esq., and Rev. Dr. Fulton. The public are invited to attend.

Ready-made Clothing is now being sold very cheap, and the place to buy is at W. A. & S. A. Graham's. An examination of the articles and prices will convince any one that here is the place to buy clothing.

The next regular lecture of the course being delivered for the benefit of the Circulating Library will be delivered on Monday night, the 26th inst., by Rev. Dr. Wm. Fulton, subject, "The House of Stuart." A full attendance is anticipated and earnestly desired as the subject is an interesting one, and the lecturer well qualified to do it justice.

We have received a copy of the Commercial Gazette, published at 164
Greenwich St., New York, by Merrill & Co., a paper devoted to commercial and financial matters, the drama, and especially to the produce trade. Our people will find this paper a useful medium through which to get information as to the standing and reliability of commission men.

Mr. James Cannon now has fine, hand-sewed, French Calf Boots made to order by the best shoemakers. He also has a full assortment of calf boots of city and eastern make, both stitched and pegged.

That part of Salisbury known as Newtown will be improved in a short time
by the erection of two new dwellings.
Col. Wm. J. Leonard is now preparing his lumber for a spacious dwelling on his lot next to the Presbyterian parsonage,
while the other side of the street, Mr.
James Cannon's lot, is to be improved by a new parsonage or manse for the Southern Methodist minister. These will be handsome improvements to that section of the town, and work will be commenced as soon as the Spring opens.

Practical watchmakers are very scarce, while on the other hand ignorant pretenders are numerous,
and persons should be very careful and know the capability of a workman before they confide their watches and other delicate work in his hands. A. W. Woodcock, at No 36 Main street is a practical, first class watchmaker, and work given to him will be faithfully done. Call and see his well-selected assortment of Jewelry Watches and Clocks, which he is selling at extremely low prices.

Just received at W. A. & S. A.
Graham's Clothing Store an immense assortment of unfinished shirts, made of the best Wamsutter muslin, with the finest linen posoms, which they are selling at only $1.25 piece or $7.00 per half dozen. Decidedly the cheapest shirt in the market.

Mr. D. B. Farlow, the watchmaker of our town, while preaching in a Baptist Church in the country last Sunday, in the course of his remarks paid a compliment to the good people of Salisbury. He said they were a charitable people.
They had offered to give money to build an old fashioned Baptist Meeting House for the exclusive use of the poor of the town. We hope the project may be carried out, as we have a good field within our corporate limits for an active missionary without sending our money away
where we can't tell what is done with it.
Brother Farlow is willing to devote a large share of his time to the good work.

A VALUABLE CEMENT.—Van Stan's Strewn or London Cement is the most valuable article of the kind ever invented.
For mending broken Glass, China,
Porcelain, Ceramics, etc., is invaluable and never fails to do the work well, and in such a manner that the article cannot again be broken in the same place. Mr. F. A. Smith is agent for this indispensable household requisite, and has rapidly called it at the lowest price of 25cts. a bottle. Call at the Drugstore and procure a bottle, or write to me, and I will send it to you free of postage. Full directions for use accompany each bottle.
No family should be without the London Cement.

Mr. James Cannon has the largest stock of Gent's fine Gaiters that he ever had at this season of the year. His handsome "Empress Button Boot" is the neatest and strongest shoe in the market.

In the Lyceum on last Wednesday night, the subject of debate was as follows:
Resolved, "That the Ursury ought to be abolished." The affirmative was maintained by Col. S. A.
Graham and L. Malone, Esqr., while the negative was well argued by J. A.
Graham and Geo. W. M. Cooper, Esqrs. The question was decided in the affirmative. The debators are free and public. The next comes off on next Monday night. Subject: Resolved,
"That Women are greater Slaves to Fashion than Men." The debators are affirmative. G. W. M. Cooper and E. S.
Toadvin, Esqrs., negative, L. Malone
and J. E. Ellegood, Esqrs.

STEAM MILL BURNED.—On Monday night last about 7 o'clock, Mr. A. J.
Wood's steam mill, about one mile from town was discovered to be on fire, and before assistance could reach the scene
the whole structure was in flames.

The mill was being worked by A. C.
Smith & Co., who owned the attachments, lathing machine, &c. Mr. W.
Wood's loss is estimated at $1,000, no insurance, his policy in F. C. Todd's agency having expired some months ago. Messrs. A. C. Smith & Co., had a policy of $400, in the Western Assurance Co. of Toronto, Canada, on the attachments, &c., which covers their loss.

The lack of independence in readers and authors also operates against manhood.

The third Lecture of a course now being delivered in this town for the benefit of the Circulating Library, came off at the Court House, on Monday evening. This Lecture was delivered by Rev. F. T. Tagg, subject, "Manhood." At a quarter to eight o'clock, Col. S. A. Graham introduced
Mr. Tagg, who commenced as follows:

The ambition of the sculptor was to present the perfect proportions of physical manhood. The true end of man is to develop these virtues and excellencies of character which will bring all his forces and faculties into harmonious operation, and inspire him to right action for the love of it.

There are those whose actions are based upon a love of praise, but this introduces a false standard of character, and presents a wrong aspect of life. Men come to esteem things by the power of procuring praise, and not by the power of building up a true manhood. Love of praise leads easily to falsehood, to boasting each other that they may be praised.

Finally a true man must be allied to truth both as opposed to error and to falsehood, and possess the desire of maintaining it under all circumstances, such a man will be on top amid the greatest convulsions of human life.

His Honor, Judge Irving, came up yesterday and drew the juries for the March term of the Circuit Court, which commences on the fourth Monday in March. Below is the list:

THE FARMER'S COLUMN, AN ADDRESS TO THE SICK.

Keeping Poultry on Large Scale.

When one begins to entertain thoughts of poultry on a large scale, and pictures in his imagination a large fowl house, with 1000 birds crowded at night in long rows close together, only waiting for the morning to see their nests, lay eggs and crackle, all healthy bright and productive, he is in dangerous ground. He must not use the rule of three in this wise. It is better to have a small, snug, warm house, receiving odd bits of meat, potato, fat, besides regular feed of grain, will produce $20 profit in a year, how much will 400 hens produce in a large house? This problem has been wrought out, believed in, as the unerring result of mathematics but in the end, other expensive experiments, produced almost uniformly disappointment and loss. But how can a man keep 400 hens profitably? I answer: Just as 20 men keep 20 hens each in a village each man keeping a few separately, each flock of fowls having a snug, warm place in Winter, and a variety of food odds and ends, such as every household keeping establishment furnishes.

If 400 hens are kept together in one building the result is sterility, egg-eating, feather-eating, and the prevalence of some fatal type of disease, a roup of cholera. This has been the general experience of those who have made the experiment. If a man wishes to keep 400 hens let him make a "hen village." Build it on dry soil, placing the buildings eight rods apart, have them tight but not necessarily expensive, treat each family of fowls just as any man who is successful treats his small flock, giving them the same feed of grain, flesh, fish, fat, vegetables and shells. - Rural Home

Signs of a Prosperous Farmer.

When you see his barn larger than his house it shows that he will have large profits and small afflictions.

When you see him driving his work horses for his work driving him, it shows that he will never be driven from good resolutions, and that he will certainly work his way to prosperity.

When you always see in his wood-bouse a sufficiency for three months or more, it shows that he will be a more than thirty-day wonder, in farming operations, and that he is not sleeping in his house after a drunken frolic.

When he has a house separate from the main building, purposely for ashes and an iron or tin vessel to transport them, it shows that he never build his dwelling to be a funeral pile for his family, and perhaps himself.

When he is well housed in summer, and his implements covered both in winter and summer, it plainly shows that he will have a good house over his head in the summer of early, and winter of old age, if you please.

When cattle are properly shielded and fed in winter, it evinces that he is acting according to Scripture, which says that a merciful man is merciful to his beast.

When he is often subscribing to a newspaper and paying in advance, it shows that he is speaking like a book respecting the latest improvements in Agriculture, and that he never gets his walking papers to the land of poverty.

Kindness to Animals.

Van Amburgh could handle his lions and tigers with impunity. No animal will fail to respond to kindness and uniform good treatment. And especially will the noble horse respect and confide in and faithfully serve a master who deals gently and kindly with him. We ourselves take a spirited Morgan which had been rudely handled by some entirely unmerciful through harsh treatment, and by appealing to her intelligence and respecting her needs, in three weeks' time made her entirely safe and reliable for wife and children, and all who would treat her kindly and handle her gently; and we have, after five years seen the same mare resume her old vicious habits when again under the control of one who was inclined to arbitrary or brutal treatment, and always appeal to the better nature of the horse, the mule, the ox, the cow, as well as the dog and other domestic animals, and they will never be vicious or unmanageable.

Newspaper. - The best plan I have ever practiced in saving seed corn is this: Have an empty barrel to hold the seed, and not a salt barrel as that will kill the seed, and during the winter as you are feeding, you can drop two or three sound ears into the barrel and when you take them; then, during April, as many days I resort and shell, always leaving the pigs the ill-shaped grain from both ends, and as a general rule have no replanting, and the crop comes up strong, and starts to grow before the seeds get up. - *Cor. ## The End is Not Yet.

It looks as if R. B. Hayes will be the next President. Poor fellow! he will be called "Returning Board" Hayes, Wells Hayes, &c., &c.

We are glad to see that there are some Republicans who have self-respect enough to acknowledge that they regret to see their party put in the position of one who is holding and concealing stolen goods, while the Sheriff, who appears to know where he is, is expected to come upon him every moment. One Republican told us in Philadelphia on Wednesday that he felt just so, that he knew Tilden was legally elected, and that an enormous fraud had been committed. So much was he disgusted that he would not vote on Tuesday for the candidate who was understood to have endorsed the returning board policy. We have conversed with some others who are of the same opinion, and there seems to be a little hope that there will be a returning sense of justice. We hope so.

But one thing we can say to our Democratic friends, which we rejoice to declare, is to their credit—they have made a great sacrifice for the public peace, that they trusted their opponents and were deceived. They deserved not culprita, but what of the deceivers? They are the guilty party, and upon their heads will the disgrace fall, and it will fall like a thunderbolt.

"The single good influence resulting from the act creating the commission is that the process of counting the vote and arriving at a result has been orderly and in pursuance of statute law, instead of turbulent, lawless and anarchical as it threatened at one time to be. If the Democrats in Congress, who are now sore under their disappointment, shall do anything as a party to induce factions opposition to the decisions of the commission they will make a dire mistake. The order and peace and exemption from factions proceeding expected from the constitution of the commission should be maintained in good faith, even though the majority of the commission have abdicated their duty."

As another apt illustration of the palpable perversion of the electoral bill by the majority of the commission, and the mockery of the people by its dry-bones decisions, the Washington Union puts the case briefly thus:

"Suppose the electoral bill, as submitted by the committee to the two Houses, had contained a clause to the following effect: 'Provided, That in the consideration of the said certificates or papers purporting to be certificates, no evidence shall be received by said commission alunde the papers opened by the President of the Senate, in the presence of the two Houses, for the purpose of showing that any other persons than those certified to by the Governor on and according to the determination and declaration of the board of State canvassers had been appointed electors, or that the persons so certified had not been appointed'—would such a bill have received the vote of a single Democrat in either House? Would any public man of either party, who had any regard for his reputation, have seriously proposed such a bill as the basis of an agreement between the two parties of the two Houses?"

Certificates as those given by Stearns and Kellogg did actually certify to the truth, and whether the electors named in those certificates were in truth and in law the electors who received majorities of the lawful votes of Florida and Louisiana. This is the majority of the commission have continuously refused to do, and taking their stand on bare technicalities, have abdicated the very jurisdiction and action they were brought into existence to exercise. Without the belief that they would exercise it, the commission could have had no existence. It was that belief that made the appointment of the commission a possibility, and caused its appointment to be hailed with welcome and confidence throughout the United States.

"This is said with profound regret. It is mortifying to be obliged to say in the columns of a journal which was among the foremost in siding to create the commission. We certainly understood that the commission was to inquire into the very truth and right of the disputed votes in Florida and Louisiana, and that the decision of the commission was to be given upon the merits after that inquiry, and not upon bald technicalities.

"This tribunal was from the outset trusted with the patriotic hopes and honored with the fullest confidence of three-fourths of the people of the United States, in the belief that the solemn circumstances attending the necessity and the act that brought it into being, would cause all its members (with possibly three exceptions) to rise above all party considerations for the sake of the public welfare. We were disappointed. The seven voted in a way to promote the great object for which the commission was created; the eight voted in a way to make the commission utterly useless for the principal purpose for which it has any reason for being in existence at all. The Senator, the judge, the presidential aspirant, the party that supposes the eyes of the American people can be closed to this vital aspect of the matter is making a signal and pernicious mistake. The American people know what is honorable, fair, manly and just; and their ultimate decisions always show that they not only know, but that they act upon their knowledge.

"The single good influence resulting from the act creating the commission is that the process of counting the vote and arriving at a result has been orderly and in pursuance of statute law, instead of turbulent, lawless and anarchical as it threatened at one time to be. If the Democrats in Congress, who are now sore under their disappointment, shall do anything as a party to induce factions opposition to the decisions of the commission they will make a dire mistake. The order and peace and exemption from factions proceeding expected from the constitution of the commission should be maintained in good faith, even though the majority of the commission have abdicated their duty."

We do not believe the people of the United States are of this servile sort. We do not believe that they are prepared without a blow to part with their hard-earned, blood-stained possessions. Notice is now served on the citizens of Louisiana and South Carolina that they must care for themselves. How soon lamp posts will bear fruit in for them to say. To the people of the North and West notice is given that all the toil to which they are subjected that bondholders and monopolists may fatten upon, is repaid by no security for their rights, and that a shrinkage of values is now in order. If there is law for fraud there is reason for violence, and to that we make our last appeal."

They only have to leave home a few hours ride in winter to be convinced of the blessings of our climate. But I am here at the American Hotel, where I can hear the people barking for Stokley and Caven. Just now they do not know who is elected but it is pretty generally conceded that Stokley is the man. Well, I have no regret, as this is in keeping with the Caven organ's doctrine. Philadelphia is a Republican city and should elect a Republican mayor, and I think the Times is somewhat inconsistent when it advocated the election of Caven as an anti-Republican or anti-Stokley candidate. Now I hear it announced that Stokley is certainly elected, although the returns are not all in now at eight o'clock.

Business here is reported by the merchants at a dead stand-still since the great Returning Board so badly swindled the people of this country. Well, this is what I expected, and the end has not yet come. All I have to say is let the band play. No honest Republican, if there is such a curiosity, can rejoice at the work of the National Returning Board. Shame should dwell on the face of those of most respectable appearance. If the country can stand it so can old Maryland and especially the Eastern Shore.

Just now, I hear Democrats talking who say they did not vote at all today, and they say that the bulk of the old guard did not go to the polls, but the Republicans made up for this by repeating. It is said here to-night that the negroes voted two or three times apiece. They had a negro registered under every name from Kensington to Darby, including Laurel Hill and all the rest of the Cemeteries. Prolific, these fellows. I ween well if they can stand it and the Stokley music still plays.—Let the punkin roll!"

The Salisbury Lyceum debated the subject on Monday night, as follows: Resolved, "That Women are greater slaves to Fashion than Men." The subject was debated by Messrs. Toadwin who was indisposed.

E. B. DuVal, Esq., General Agent for Maryland of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Philadelphia, was here on the 21st inst. to settle a loss with Mrs. Mary Ann Bush, relic of the late Capt. Joseph C. Bush, his life having been insured in the above named company for her benefit. We are pleased to testify to the prompt settlement of the losses made by the "Penn," and for the benefit of the many policy holders on our shore, we copy from the Baltimore Enquirer (insurance paper) of February 3rd, 1877, the following:

The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, February 24, 1857, on the Mutual plan. It has at this time issued over 20,000 policies, and has accumulated assets now amounting to nearly 6,000,000 Dollars, after paying losses amounting to over 3,500,000 Dollars, and returning to its members surplus premiums or dividends amounting to 3,300,000 Dollars more.

All of its surplus premiums are returned to its members every year, and are applicable to reduce the premium or to increase the insurance after the first annual payment, thus furnishing Life Insurance at its lowest possible cost. All ordinary life policies issued by the "Penn," are non-forfeitable after the second annual payment, if application is made to the Company while the policy is in force; after the third annual payment a paid up policy will be issued, whether applied for or not, for such an amount as the value of the original policy will purchase at the then age of the insured.

The above facts and figures speak for themselves. They indicate judicious management, strict economy, care, and consideration for the insured. They show that the Company is not an experiment, but is established upon a firm basis and has ample securities to cover its risks.

The Company has been represented in Maryland many years by Mr. E. B. DuVal, General Agent, Rialto Building, Second Street, Baltimore.

We also call attention to the advertisement of "The American and German Benevolent Society" of Baltimore city. This society brings insurance within the range of everybody; provides for sickness and in the event of death for funeral expenses, while their policies are all placed in that reliable and responsible old company "The Penn Mutual" of Philadelphia. We see that Mr. E. B. DuVal has been selected as its President and General Manager. His long connection with the insurance business, and as General Agent of "The Penn Mutual" for the State, should be a guarantee of the success of this society.

Mr. DuVal will be down again in April to start a section of the American and German Benevolent Society when our mechanics and others can insure their health and lives by paying in small weekly instalments.

THE FARMER'S COLUMN.

Why Men Fall.

That there are circumstances and events that do occur to drag men to commercial ruin which are unavoidable, cannot be disputed; but a majority of individuals are responsible for their own failure, is equally true. Where one man is ridden down by the chipping of natural causes, a large number scuttle their own craft, and go under it a storm brought about by their own mismanagement and greed. The old fashioned advice given by careful and experienced men, to hasten slowly, is now heeded as it should be. Our innate greed for gain pushes beyond reason, and the candidate for commercial honor and a place in the business world, rather than grow slowly and surely to place, will hazard all on the cast of a die, and go to the wall. Many firms are seeking to do as much business on a capital of $10,000, as should be done with $50,000, and when the trial of hard times comes, they read the handwriting on the wall, are found wanting. This does not apply only to merchants and manufacturers, but will find a peg in nearly every farm house to hang on. Every farmer is seeking to own a larger farm than his neighbor. He will sow more acres of wheat, plant more corn, breed more stock—in a word, seeking in everything to outdo his competitor regardless of merit or final results. What might be called the politics of agriculture, as a study is not sufficiently understood by farmers, and the laws that are laid down to be obeyed are forgotten by too many.

What does it signify to plant fifty acres of corn and only raise as much as might be obtained from thirty acres when good seed is selected and the soil given care and attention? The interest on the remaining twenty acres would frequently put the thirty acres in condition to realize more than from the entire fifty cultivated in the usual way. The instances are not rare where thirty-some farmers are making more net profit from fifty acres tilled and economically managed than others are realizing from four times the quantity, and for no other reason than that the large farm is not half cultivated, and is more expensive in every way to own and manage. The man of business studies his trade; he watches the seasons and crops; knows where natural causes have prevented average success, and will naturally reduce the magnitude of trade and the standard of responsibility; does not try to sell fum in summer or straw goods in winter. There is a section in which experience teaches that certain qualities can be sold, and others where they cannot. All these things are the study of thoughtful, sagacious, successful men of business. Can much be said to the credit of the farmer? Year after year he will plant wheat, and each year realise only half a crop; if corn is his lot, by he will plant his acres only with corn, and mourn the fate that only yields him half a crop, never once thinking there are laws governing the science of agriculture that must be studied; that chemistry of the soil, the influence of the climate, and other natural causes, may defeat every effort made in the direction he is working.

The old story of the girl who put all her eggs in one basket when going to market, is repeated over and over again. She dropped the basket and her little fortune was gone. Had she divided and carried them in two separate quantities, half would have been saved for her. So with the farmer. If, instead of all wheat or corn, or any other one kind, he will divide his crops and plant some of each, there will never come a season when all fail.

Let the husbandman introduce a good breed of cattle and hogs, plant his cultivated acres with wheat, corn, oats, rye, etc., taking care to select good seed, study the average, and know by experience which is the most sure crop, and give most attention to that has rewarded most surely, and he will be approaching a standard of judgment and excellence in his calling that will gratify to himself, and improve his credit and standing.

Winter Care of Fowls.

Give a plentiful supply of nourishing stimulating food. If artificial heat is not obtainable, have such fitted in the poultry house so the sun heat may be utilized. It will pay. Fowls require heat; if you can give it externally you can save in the feed. If artificial heat is possible take care that you do not give too much, else your birds may think it is summer and throw off their winter clothes. A gentleman we knew of five or six years ago, built a natty little poultry house with all the approved modern conveniences, including a base-burning coal stove. "All went merrily as a marriage bell." Eggs were laid, chicks were hatched as nicely, with the thermometer below zero, as in the pleasant May days, until just before a certain show, when the birds began to shed their feathers, and show time found them raged as robins. A council of experts was called, but when in the course of their deliberations upon the best hen, the question arose whether she was of the Dark or Light Brahma persuasion, there not being feathers enough to decide, and the owner having no private mark, a discussion arose so personal that two of the parties are enemies to this day. The whole were at a loss for terms for a year, and the president, pro tem, left suddenly in the heat of the argument to apply snow to the back of his neck for hemorrhage, caused by biting hiscous prouberance against some one's fist.

THE AMERICAN SOCIALIST.

1877 ONEIDA, N. Y. $2.00

Many people in Europe and in this country are now studying and experimenting in preparatory forms for a new social life. The Co-operators of England number more than a million persons. These have their co-operative stores and shops in which they get food, clothing and other necessities of life, at very nearly the cost price, thereby saving in the aggregate enormous sums annually. The foremost thinks among these co-operators are beginning to advocate combined housekeeping in large homes, for the sake of the greater economies of living, the improved conditions of health, education, for rearing children, and the better associations which are thus to be had. In Germany a similar movement is progressing on an immense scale, while Russia is said to be "home-organized" with 500,000,000 in our own country the co-operative movement has got a strong foothold, and we hope, through many interested communistic experiments, new and old, which should be intelligently reported and carefully studied.

To wth report, and assist this evolution of the civilized world into an old and very defective social system, to a new one adapted to the present needs of mankind, and to discuss the principles which should govern the transition, is the function which the American Socialist has undertaken to perform. This is an eight-page paper, about the size of the Scientific American, and is published every Thursday at Oneida, N. Y. It gives a careful summary of news, interesting Correspondence, etc., etc.

Terms: One year, $2.00; Six months, $1.00; always in advance. One year to England, France, or Germany, post-paid, $3.00. The paper will be sent to Clergymen at half price. The second volume began January 1st, 1877. Address,
