MR. W. B. TILGHMAN.

Resigns As President of The S. B. & L. B. Association. Dr. Stemons Succeeds Him.

The last meeting for the fiscal year of the Salisbury Building Loan and Banking Association, was held by the directors Friday evening. The matter of Mr. W. B. Tilghman's resignation was fully discussed and with great regret was finally accepted.

Then came the question of a successor. Several names were considered, among them being Mr. Alex. D. Toadvine, Mr. W. B. Tilghman, Jr., and Mr. Harry L. Brownington. The latter was elected to succeed Mr. Tilghman on the board of directors. Dr. F. M. Stemons, the vice president, was elected president, and Mr. L. W. Gandy was elected vice-president.

The retirement of Mr. Tilghman made but the third change in the board of directors since the organization of the Association, twenty years ago. Death has removed two of the directors, Messrs. A. G. Toadvine and E. L. Waller, who were among the leading spirits in the organization of the Association. To Mr. Tilghman was due, perhaps, more than to any other, the inception and working out of the plan of the Association, and he has devoted a great deal of his time and labor to the furtherance of the interests of the Association which has grown to be one of the greatest financial institutions on the Eastern Shore. Not only does the association do a legitimate loan business on real estate, but it has a safe and conservative banking department which is growing all the time. These two departments are kept separate, and both are handled in an up-to-date business manner.

Miss Nelson Entertains.

EASTON VICTORIOUS.

Salisbury Goes Down In Defeat In The Third Of Polo Games At The Rink Thursday Evening.

In the third of the series of polo games between Salisbury and Easton, played at the skating rink Thursday night the local team was easily defeated by the visitors.

The Talbot Countians proved more than a match for the home team in every point of the game. The home players claim that this is due to the fact that they have been roller skating only about sixty days, while the Eastonians have been in constant practice for nearly two years.

The game was played in three 15 minute "halves" and notwithstanding the final score the contest was lively from start to finish. The feature of the game being an earned goal by Holloway for Salisbury and the fast playing of Dimpfel for the opponents.

Easton piled up three goals in the first half and Salisbury retired with a zero to their credit. In the second half each side scored after a lively tussle and the third half resulted in three goals by the visitors and Salisbury succeeded in adding two goals to their score, making the final score 7 to 3 in favor of Easton. Owing to three fouls by Easton one goal being deducted for this over stepping of the rules the final score was 6 to 3, with Easton as the victors.

The line up was as follows:

Salisbury	Easton
Ullman	Goal tender
Toadvine	Half back
Williams	Center
Holloway	First rush
Grier	Second rush
	Dimpfel

Goals were made for Salisbury by Williams two, and Holloway. The game was refereed by Dr. Potter and Messrs W. S. Gordy, Jr. and M. Dawson were time keepers.

Aged Woman Fatally Burned In Cambridge.

Mrs. Emily Jones was so severely burned Thursday afternoon that her injuries are expected to prove fatal. The exact cause of the accident is unknown, as Mrs. Jones was alone in the kitchen of her home at the time. Her daughter, Miss Anna Jones, who lives with her, had gone to another part of the house for a moment and returned to the room, to find her mother's clothes in flames. Mrs. Jones was suffering from severe burns, both external and internal. It is said that her lungs are burned, and because of this and her age, 82 years, recovery is despaired of.

THE EASTER GLORIES

In Millinery And Something Of The Cost In America. The Tariff At Fault.

The glories of the Easter season are fast approaching, and the wonderful creations of the milliners' art will be with us for further exhibition. The cost is great, but in most cases necessary to keep patrons and maids in good humor for that great consummation of their hopes for distinguished appearance.

It is interesting at this season to think over the prodigious sum expended by the American people in this line. Over $300,000,000 in expended every year by our wives and daughters for millinery manufactured in this country, besides the millions for what is imported.

The tariff tax on such articles of adornment increases the price of millinery, more than 50 per cent, on the average, for the manufacturers are protected by the tariff tax which is collected on imported millinery, so that they can add to the price of the home product about what the imported articles have to pay at the Custom House.

Every woman therefore is interested in the tariff question, for through the protection it gives the American manufacturer the cost of hats and bonnets are increased quite 50 per cent. If the present tariff rates on millinery were reduced to 20 per cent, the women of the country would save nearly one third of what they now pay for such articles, whether imported or made in this country, for the price of the American manufactured goods would have to decline to meet the reduced cost of the imported articles.

It would be tedious to give the tariff rates on hats and bonnets, or the many articles all that go into the hats and bonnets that are made up in this country, but the tariff's tax runs 50 to 70 per cent, of the cost of the articles in the country from which they are imported, so that if a hat cost $10 in Paris, the tariff tax on it is from $5 to $7 and as the cost is often much greater than this therefore the tariff tax is so much greater in proportion.

The protectionists tell us that we must be willing to pay this import duty to protect our manufacturers from foreign competition and to protect American labor in being paid higher wages than the foreign laborer gets. The Democrats claim that to reduce the tariff to a reasonable rate would still give the American laborer all the protection he needs, while at the same time producing enough revenue from Customs duties to run the government.

Under such a Democratic system the trusts and combines that control so many articles of necessity would have to reduce the price they charge and the present high cost of living would be greatly reduced.

Nearly everything we consume, or wear, is protected by high tariff rate, and whether we buy imported articles, on which the government has collected the duty or similar home manufactured articles, on which the trust, combines, or protected manufacturer has collected the tax, by adding the tariff rate to their part, there is no escape from the high prices which the tariff causes and the American consumer has to pay the bills.

RINK AT CRISFIELD.

Mr. Showell Arranges To Open An Auditorium In That City.

Mr. J. D. Showell, proprietor of the skating rink, on Friday rented a large building in Crisfield, and in a short time will open a skating rink in that town. The floor space in the building is larger than that of the Salisbury rink and Mr. Showell will have maple flooring put down at once. This makes the fourth rink on the Peninsula there being one at Easton, Salisbury and Quantock, Va.

Distribution of School Tax Opposed By Superintendents.

County Superintendent Bounds returned Thursday from Annapolis where he attended a conference between the various County Superintendents and the officials of the Comptroller's office relative to the distribution of the June school tax.

The chief matter in dispute was the manner of deducting the sum of $160,000 from the state school fund to cover the amount paid for free text books. It had been the intention to withdraw the amount from the appropriation to the county schools which will be paid in June next. This is very much opposed by the Superintendents, as the withdrawal of that amount from the county schools at that time will necessitate the closing of many of the schools in many of the counties before the regular time.

The Comptroller stated that he would be glad to meet the wishes of the Superintendents if the course was legal, and the matter would be referred to the Attorney General. It is the contention of the County Superintendents that the amount due for free school books should be paid from the amount that accrues from the state school tax between the June apportionment and the 1st of August, which is the close of the school year.

ULMAN—BARKER.

Miss Hannah Ulman Becomes Bride Of Mr. Albert L. Barker Tuesday Morning. Many Out Of Town Guests.

Miss Hannah Ulman, daughter of Mrs. Caroline Ulman and the late Simon Ulman, was married at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning to Mr. Albert L. Barker of Bridgeton, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Adolph Guttmacher of the Madison Avenue Temple, Baltimore, at the home of the bride's mother on E. Church Street. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Harry Ulman, of Wilkesbarre, Pa. Her sister, Miss Sarah Ulman, was maid of honor. Mr. Marx Ulman, of New York, was best man. Mendelssohn's wedding march and "O Promise Me" were played by Mr. Eben Whitaker, of Bridgeton.

The bride's gown was an imported robe of embroidered mousseline. The maid of honor wore a handsome dress of mousseline de soie. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lily-of-the-valley. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

A wedding breakfast was served immediately after the ceremony by Caterer Phillips of the Peninsula Hotel. The table decorations were jonquills and daisies. The color scheme in the parlor was red and green, a profusion of American beauty roses being used in the decorations. The bride received many handsome presents of cut glass, silver, china, linen, bric-a-brac and money. The happy couple left on the 1.55 express for a trip to Washington and Atlantic City.

The out-of-town guests present at the wedding were: Mrs. Joseph S. Coons, Mrs. Louis Schloess, Mr. Millard Long, Mr. Cosmar Long and Mr. Harry Ulman of Wilkesbarre, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ulman, Miss Hattie Ulman, Mr. David S. Ulman, Mr. Joseph L. Ulman, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Ulman, of Baltimore, Mr. Henry Selwars and Mr. Mark Selwars of New York; Mr. Albert Ulman, of Oll City, Pa.; Miss Josephine H. Moore, Miss Effie C. Moore, Mr. C. W. Peace and Mr. Eben Whitaker, of Bridgeton, N. J.

The bride is one of Salisbury's most popular young ladies. She is connected with the Board of Lady Managers of the Peninsula General Hospital and with the Board of Directors of the Home for the Aged. She has always taken an active interest in charitable work and her services will be missed on these boards.

The occasion also being the birthday of the bride's mother, Mrs. Caroline Ulman, there was a general reunion of the Ulman families and connections Monday evening at the home of the bride's mother, where a splendid collation was served.

WATER TOWER BURNS.

Large Crowd Witnesses Blaze Of Supply Tank At The Oaks.

Shortly after two o'clock yesterday afternoon it was discovered that the water tank at the "Oaks" the residence of Ex. Gov. Jackson was on fire and an alarm was turned in. The department responded promptly and after a stream had been played on the burning tower for a few minutes the flames were quenched. It is not known just how the fire started, but it is thought that sparks from a B. C. and A. engine may have been responsible. A large crowd gathered at the scene of the fire and there was much comment as it is quite an unusual thing to see a tank filled with water, fifty feet in the air in a blaze.

Shirt Factory At Easton Burned.

The overall and shirt factory operated by Grover C. Cooper was destroyed by fire at an early hour Thursday morning. This factory gave employment to about 25 or 30 women and men. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an overheated stove in the second story of the building. The machinery belonged to Mrs. Cooper and was worth about $2,500. The buildings were owned by Robert L. Kemp, while the stock of goods, which was nearly totally destroyed, was owned by D. Jones Son, of New York.

"Standard" Marine Engine

Was the first gasoline engine to cross the Atlantic under its own power and did it in mid-winter.

Was the first to be installed in a coasting schooner. The four-master "Northland" has a 500 H. P. "STANDARD" and has doubled her number of trips made when under sail alone.

Has been adopted by U. S. Government for the boats of the Life Saving Service, by the Russian Government for their submarine and other torpedo boats, and the Government of Santo Domingo for their coast guard vessels.

In every direction and in all kinds of service "STANDARD" has been a leader and has established a record of performances and achievements which others are struggling to follow.

"STANDARD" costs no more than any other high-grade engine, and is guaranteed to develop 25 per cent more power than catalogue rating.

BLUE-BLOODED ANCESTRY

Theories as to Origin of
the Arabian Horse

HAS IMPROVED STOCK

In England Their Influence Has Resulted in the Modern British Thoroughbred—Introduced in Russia in the Reign of Peter the Great.

Robert Sewall, a well known artist and horse fancier who has made a study of the subject, says that the ancient breed of so-called Arabians to which most of the improved modern racers own many of their best qualities is in imminent danger of becoming extinct. For hundreds of years the horse breeders of all nations have been drawing on Arabia for stallions and mares to improve the common stock and this constant drain on a country having comparatively few horses in proportion to its population has, it is said, lowered the standard besides depleting the numbers.

In England the influence of the Arab has resulted in the modern British thoroughbred, whose superiority as a racehorse is now acknowledged throughout the world. Though recent researches have exploded the famous dictum of Admiral Rous that "the British racehorse is a pure Eastern exotic, whose pedigree can be traced 2,000 years, the true son of Arabia Deserta, without a drop of English blood in his veins," it cannot be denied that the Oriental horses imported into England for racing purposes at least as early as the time of Henry VIII. (1509) and probably during the crusades were the dominating element in the formation of the thoroughbred type, which in turn, has been an important factor in building up the breed of American trotting horses.

In Russia Arab blood was introduced in the imperial stud as early as the time of Peter the Great (1682), and from its use have come the present day breed of Orloff trotters, which excel the American in purity of action and in uniformity of type, if not in speed, and the Russian breed of carriage horses.

In France, Germany and other countries of Continental Europe, Eastern blood has been engrafted on the horse stock to an extent as great as in England and Russia, while Spain, Hungary and Austria, which were overrun in the middle ages by the followers of Mohammed, acquired thousands of horses of Oriental ancestry by these invasions. The gray Arabs have left their mark on the horses of France, where the trappy, active, rapid walking Percheron draughts inherit the color as well as other characteristics of their remote Arabian ancestors. It is a common occurrence to see Percheron horses in New York that weigh upward of 1,500 pounds, with the clean cut heads, wide throats, sharp pointed ears and beautiful, mild eyes characteristic of the true Arab.

The type of horse that is commonly called Arabian has been found in different ages in various countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea, notably in Turkey, Asia Minor, Arabia, Egypt, the Barbary States and Spain. From time immemorial a very recent period horse historians were agreed that Arabia was the original habitat of this superior breed which refined the horse stock of the world.

The long accepted belief was based chiefly if not wholly on the traditions and legends of the Arabs themselves, who assumed to trace the pedigrees of their fine horses straight back without taint of foreign blood to five famous mares owned by Sheikh Salmaan, who was fourth in descent from Ismael, son of Abraham, and who lived about 3,500 years ago.

These five famous mares belonged to Mohammed until a few years ago, when Major Roger D. Upton, an English traveller in Arabia, taught the world their true history. It is an old story that in order to select mares worthy of becoming the dams of the best horses the Prophet shut up a herd in plain sight of water and kept them there until they were almost famished with thirst. Then they were released at once, and when rushing headlong to the water the war trumpet was sounded as a test of obedience and discipline. Only five out of the herd obeyed the signal and turned, in spite of their suffering, to line up in battle array. These alone were chosen to perpetuate the breed, and they became known as "the Prophet's mares."

From the earliest dawning of history until the Middle Ages the horses most renowned for purposes of war, religion and display seem to have been white or gray. Of this color were all those chosen for dedication to the gods of Persia, Scythia, Rome and Greece. White horses were always demanded as tribute, and white horses always drew the chariots of the kings. They figured prominently in triumphal marches as a sign of pomp, luxury and pride.

Postoffice Telephone System.
The English postoffice telephone system now publishes every Monday in the daily papers a list of the new subscribers added during the previous week. This adds to supplemental directories, which are published much more frequently than is the case here.

British Dividend Paying.
In paying dividends on Government stocks the British Government takes no account of fractions of a penny. In this way it makes about $7,500 a year out of the investors in public funds.

Amputation Service in Vienna.
Twenty-five years ago a Voluntary Street Amputation Association was formed in Vienna. That year its services were required 3,000 times; last year nearly 20,000 times.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes that a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes a book and on each bottle of his medicine, what his medicines are made of and verifies by analysis. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cure nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, apoplexy, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs. A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

WOMAN'S LITTLE WAY.

Servitor settled back comfortably in his chair and lit the after-dinner cigar to which he had limited himself in deference to his wife's fears that he was injuring his health by excessive smoking.

"Oh!" he exclaimed suddenly. "What do you think? Willington has backed out of that little stag party at Renford's. His wife wouldn't let him go. Wouldn't that give you a nervous chill? Adeline, if I had a wife like that I'd be tempted to take a club to her. I don't suppose he dares open up his mouth around the house without raising his hand to ask permission."

"How would you like to have it said that your husband stood in terror of you, little woman?" he asked jocularly.

"I wouldn't like it at all," replied Mrs. Servitor, promptly. "I believe in a man doing what he pleases as long as he doesn't misconduct himself. I'm not an advanced woman like Mrs. Willington, you know."

"No, you're not, by George!" said her husband, admiringly.

"Besides, I know you wouldn't stand dictation," laughed the lady.

"Well, I guess not," said Servitor. "What kind of a party is this, Edward?" asked Mrs. Servitor, preoccupied as she threaded a needle.

"Oh, just men, you know."

"Are they nice?"

"It depends on what you call nice. It isn't like a pink tea."

"I suppose you will all smoke like chimneys and play cards. Well, of course, you will go if you want to."

"Why, certainly."

"You needn't be cross about it, Edward. I'm not cross."

"I don't see any reason why you should be."

"I might not like it, though. I wouldn't wonder a bit if they played cards for money—and that's gambling."

You don't blame me for not wanting my husband to be a gambler. That wouldn't be reasonable, would it, dear?"

"Why, Adeline! Suppose it was a penny ante—enough to give an interest to the game?"

"The principle is the same. But, of course, my narrow views wouldn't stand in the way of your having a good time."

"Oh, thunder!"

"Now you are losing your temper. Well, we won't say anything more about it. You've made up your mind that you'll go whether I like it or not or whether it's right or wrong. I wouldn't say a word for the world to displease you. You know I wouldn't, Edward. I don't like to have you cross."

"But, my dear!"

"No, we won't say anything more about it. And then you'll be tempted to say more than is good for you. I know you won't break your promise to me, but—"

"What promise?"

"About smoking more than one cigar in an evening."

"Adeline, I just said I'd try it for awhile and see how it went."

"Then you intend to. Oh, Edward!"

"Nonsense. You aren't talking reasonably, my dear. You just don't want me to go."

"No, I want you to go. If you prefer the society of a set or horrid card-playing men to your wife's I ought not to complain. I ought to be glad."

"Why, Adeline, my dear!"

"No, I'm not. You know I'm not. You said—don't love me."

"Of course, I do. You know perfectly well I do."

Mrs. Servitor put aside her husband's caressing hand and dried her eyes. Then she said: "This is very foolish of me, Edward. I ought to be ashamed of myself, and I am, too. Of course, you must go, dear. You know I would never oppose you in anything. We've been married over a year now and, of course, I ought not to expect that you wouldn't get just a little tired of a silly girl in all that time."

"Dearest," said Servitor, "how can you say such absurd things? Tired of you?"

"I suppose if I had made out little home attractive."

"You've made it a little paradise."

"And of course you miss all your old bachelor habits."

"Miss nothing I know when I'm well off."

"Then why," demanded Mrs. Servitor, "are you so crazy to go to this horrid stag party?"

"I'm not crazy about it. I don't care a thing about it. I don't know that I'd go if I hadn't promised—at least I half promised."

"Then you won't go? Oh, good!"

"Not if you don't want me to, dearest."

"Oh, but I don't want you to stay at home just because you know I'd be hurt if you went. I want you to do exactly as you please. You'd better go, perhaps, dear."

"Well, I don't want to," said Servitor. "I want to stay and spend the evening with you, and that settles it."—Chicago News.

The Passing Of The Abalone.

Each man takes down a steel bar or chisel, with which he pries off the shell fish clinging by suction to the rocks.

The Japs usually depend on each dive resulting in from two to three shells with the meat. The deep sea man, of course, does better than this, bringing them up by the sackful. It used to be a poor voyage that did not bring back abalones by the ton. They are so easily taken; the means of defense is so poor that the fisherman can clean sweep on every coast they attack.

The vicinity of San Pedro has long since been stripped. The abalones of the Santa Barbara Islands are now said to be practically gone. The colony on the far side of Catalina Island has nothing but little shells left, according to the abalone fishers.

The meat brings the fishermen about $200 to the ton; the shells about $50 a ton for the unpurified article. The pearls frequently found in the flesh of the abalone bring varying amounts.

One of the white men connected in a business way with the Japs asserts that it is not uncommon for the fisherman of the co-operative village to divide from $1,000 to $3,000 a month among them. They have all become rich—for Japs—at the trade.

Although there is a brisk demand for abalone meat on this coast, most of the meat is shipped directly to China, where it is regarded as a great delicacy.

If the Japs could not sell their shells as fast as they get them to American curio men, it is said that the German button manufacturers are eager to get them. Even at that the shells have artistic possibilities that have not yet been realized.

The Japs claim that there is no profit in the business unless the abalones are taken in large quantities. For this reason—because there aren't large quantities left—they are about to give up their lease on the premises and quit. —Pacific Fisherman.

Pearl Fishing In Our Inland Waters.

Although pearls have been gathered from the fresh water mussels of his country as far back as the time of the aborigines, yet the hunt for them did not become systematic and general until shortly after the middle of the last century. Since then nearly every stream east of the Rockies has been prospected in the search for these valuable parasites of the pearl mussels.

One of the finest pearls ever secured in the fresh waters of the United States was found in Notch Brook, near Paterson, New Jersey, in 1857. It weighed ninety-three grains. Subsequently it became known as the Queen Pearl, and was sold to the Empress Eugenie of France for twenty-five hundred dollars. Owing to the great increase in the value of pearls of recent years, it is now worth more than five times that amount. Shortly thereafter probably the largest pearl ever found in these waters was taken in the same brook. In shape it was round, and weighed over four hundred grains; but unfortunately the pearl was ruined by the crude method of boiling then employed to open the shells.

During the pearl excitement near Waynesville, Ohio, in 1876, a few extra good pearls were found. One, button shaped on the back, weighing thirty-eight grains, was the gem of the collection. In the early '80's a sky blue pearl which was found in Caney Fork, Tennessee, was sold for nine hundred and fifty dollars, and subsequently brought thirty-three hundred in London.

During the summer of 1889 a quantity of magnificently colored pearls were found in the creeks and rivers of Wisconsin. One of these pearls sold for over five hundred dollars, and some among them were equal to any ever found for beauty and coloring.

The year 1897 saw the pearling craze break out in Arkansas. A deep pink pearl of forty grains weight was found in the mud of one stream by a woman; while a farmer's boy obtained a pink pearl of thirty-one grains in Black River and sold it for thirty-five dollars, the purchaser selling it in St. Louis a little later for five hundred dollars.

In 1898 a fisherman searched the head waters of the Mytic River in Connecticut, and, after a few weeks' work, gathered a number of pearls, one of which he sold for five hundred dollars and two for four hundred dollars each.

The best price ever received by a finder for an American fresh water pearl was ten thousand dollars for one from Tennessee. Two others from the same State brought six hundred and fifty and one thousand dollars each. A Wisconsin pearl sold for eight thousand dollars, while two, Florida pearls of sixty-eight and fifty-eight grains brought eight hundred and fifty and six hundred dollars respectively.

Several months ago there was offered for sale by a gem dealer of New York a perfect pearl, white and rounded, weighing sixty-eight grains, which he valued at fifteen thousand dollars. This pearl was found last summer near the Wisconsin bank of the Mississippi River, and was sold by the finder, who evidently hadn't the slightest idea of its value, for seventy-five cents. Another pearl found about the same time was recently offered for sale to New York jewelers for five thousand dollars. The latter is a pink, pearl shaped pearl and weighs ninety-nine grains.

A few years ago a fisherman became so agitated on finding a pearl the size of a pigeon's egg in a mussel that he dropped it into the water and it was never recovered.

Many odd shaped pearls are found. One was found in his country that strikingly resembled the best of Michigan. In a few instances small fishes, crabs, and insects which entered the shell have been imprisoned and covered eventually with nacre, thus making pearls of them, at the same time retaining the animal's shape. —Phila. Press.

Pennsy Pensions Are Reduced.

Some construction prevails among the old pensioners of the P. B. & W. railroad because of a circular letter just issued by the company. The letter sets forth that hereafter each man is to have his pension money reduced in proportion to the amount he receives each month. All the old pensioners are affected by the new order. One of the oldest of these men when he received his last check found it reduced by two dollars and accompanied by the explanation. No explanation for this action on the part of the railroad company was given, and the pensioners think it is rather queer the company should advance the wages of the employees and at the same time reduce the pension of the old and faithful men who have worked for the company the best years of their lives. The pensioners, however, can see no redress, and are of the opinion that they will have to submit to the new order.

Sufferers who say they have tried everything without benefit are the people we are looking for. We want them to know from glad experience that Ely's Cream Balm will cure Cold in the Head, Hay Fever, and the most advanced and obstinate forms of Nasal Catarrh. This remedy acts directly on the inflamed sensitive membrane. Obviating swelling and healing. One trial will convince you of its healing power. Price, 50c. Sold by all druggists.

The Greatest Problem of Life.

There are more young men in the penitentiaries in this country learning trades than there are out of them learning trades. The principal cause of this is that we are educating our young men for idle gentlemen—trying to make doctors, lawyers, preachers and clerks out of material that is needed for blacksmiths, carpenters, merchants, farmers and other honest "hewers of wood and drawers of water." It is a mistake and a big one, to teach boys and girls to believe that labor is disgraceful, and that to do nothing for a living is more becoming to society. Hang such society. It is rotten to the core and is ruining our country today and there are sons and daughters who are now being educated to play "the leading lady" and "walking gentleman" in the great drama of life, who will light out for the poor house or the penitentiary before the curtain drops on the last sad act of the play to which they have been educated by their too indulgent parents.

A Fault of the Parent.

While the modern system of school work may be deficient in some respects and no doubt the tendency is to take on more work and too many branches of study for pupils to master thoroughly in the time the average boy or girl is allowed for schooling, yet there is a fault in the parents which is persistently left out of account in the argument of the critic. The pupils, in the high grades are allowed to spend the nights during the week in various amusements which distract their mind from school work and the loss of sleep incapacitates them for good work during school hours.

—Mrs. Rorer's lecture in Gimbel Brothers, Philadelphia, pure food store was on "Fish Cookery." She said:

"The ratio of water in fish, flesh and fowl is about the same; but the nitrogenous elements and fat differ greatly. The flesh in fish is not held together so firmly as in meat, and therefore must be more carefully handled in the cooking. The white fish, dense as they are, are more easily digested than the pink fish. The first are free from fat. The second has the fat distributed through the flesh. In other words, they are oily fish, and the cooking of fat hinders their digestion. Small fish are, no doubt, more palatable, fried; but more wholesome broiled, planked or baked. Large fish are best broiled, planked or baked.

—Oyster Salad.—Wash the oysters, throw them into a kettle and cook them over the fire until the gills curl. Make a French dressing from equal quantities of oil and vinegar; season with salt and a little red pepper; add the oysters, and to each 25 add one-half pint of finely-sliced celery. Turn this into a dish; garnish with lettuce, dust with capers and serve.

—Plunked Sirloin Steak with Oysters.—Have an extra sirloin neatly trimmed, put it on the broiler; broil five minutes on one side, turn and broil five minutes on the other. Make the board very hot while the steak is broiling. Put the steak on, garnish the board quickly with washed potatoes and put it under the broiler. Turn the steak once. Dust it with salt and pepper and rub it with butter. Cover the top with broiled oysters; run it again under the broiler until the oysters are cooked. Serve. —Mrs. Rorer.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bed to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which, unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

keeps the feminine organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

BLUE-BLOODED ANCESTRY

HAS IMPROVED STOCK

In England Their Influence Has Resulted in the Modern British Thoroughbred—Introduced in Russia in the Reign of Peter the Great.

Robert Sewell, a well known artist and horse fancier who has made a study of the subject, says that the ancient breed of so-called Arabians to which most of the improved modern racers own many of their best qualities is in imminent danger of becoming extinct. For hundreds of years the horse breeders of all nations have been drawing on Arabia for stallions and mares to improve the common stock and this constant drain on a country having comparatively few horses in proportion to its population has, it is said, lowered the standard besides depleting the numbers.

In England the influence of the Arab has resulted in the modern British Thoroughbred, whose superiority as a racehorse is now acknowledged throughout the world. Though recent researches have exploded the famous story of Admiral Rous that "the British racehorse is a pure Barbary exotic, whose pedigree can be traced 2,000 years, the true son of Arabia Deserta, without a drop of English blood in his veins," it cannot be denied that the Oriental horses imported into England for racing purposes at least as early as the time of Henry VIII. (1509) and probably during the crusades were the dominating element in the formation of the Thoroughbred type, which in turn has been an important factor in building up the breed of American trotting horses.

In Russia Arab blood was introduced in the Imperial stud as early as the time of Peter the Great (1682), and from its use have come the present day breed of Orloff trotters, which excel the American in purity of action and in uniformity of type. If not in speed, and the Russian breed of carriage horses.

In France, Germany and other countries of Continental Europe, Eastern blood has been engrafted on the horse stock to an extent as great as in England and Russia, while Spain, Hungary and Austria, which were overrun in the middle ages by the followers of Mohammed, acquired thousands of horses of Oriental ancestry by these invasions. The gray Araba have left their mark on the horses of France, where the trappy, active, rapid walking Percheron draughts inherit the color as well as other characteristics of their remote Arabian ancestors. It is a common occurrence to see Percheron horses in New York that weigh upward of 1,500 pounds, with the clean cut heads, wide throats, sharp pointed ears and beautiful, mild eyes characteristic of the true Arab.

The type of horse that is commonly called Arabian has been found in different ages in various countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea, notably in Turkey, Asia Minor, Arabia, Egypt, the Barbary States and Spain. From time immemorial until a very recent period historians were agreed that Arabia was the original habitat of this superior breed which refined the horse stock of the world.

The long accepted belief was based chiefly if not wholly on the traditions and legends of the Arabs themselves, who assumed to trace the pedigrees of their fine horses straight back without taint of foreign blood to five famous mares owned by Sheik Salaman, who was fourth in descent from Ismael, son of Abraham, and who lived about 3,500 years ago.

These five famous mares belonged to Mohammed until a few years ago, when Major Roger D. Upton, an English traveler in Arabia, taught the world their true history. It is an old story that in order to select mares worthy of becoming the dams of the best horses the Prophet shut up a herd in plain sight of water and kept them there until they were almost famished with thirst. Then they were all released at once, and when rushing headlong to the water the war trumpet was sounded as a test of obedience and discipline. Only five out of the herd obeyed the signal and turned, in spite of their suffering, to line up in battle array. These alone were chosen to perpetuate the breed, and they became known as "the Prophet's mares."

From the earliest dawn of history until the Middle Ages the horses most renowned for purposes of war, religion and display seem to have been white or gray. Of this color have all those chosen for dedication to the gods of Persia, Scythia, Rome and Greece. White horses were always demanded as tribute, and white horses always drew the chariots of the kings. They figured prominently in triumphal marches as a sign of pomp, luxury and pride.

Postoffice Telephone System. The English postoffice telephone system now publishes every Monday in the daily papers a list of the new subscribers added during the previous week. This adds to supplemental directories, which are published much more frequently than in the case here.

British Dividend Paying. In paying dividends on Government stocks the British Government takes no account of fractions of a penny. In this way it makes about $7,500 a year out of the investors in public funds.

Ambulance Service in Vienna. Twenty-five years ago a Voluntary Street Ambulance Association was formed in Vienna. That year its services were required 2,000 times. Last year nearly 50,000 times.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, and on each bottle wraps, what his medicines are made of and verifies by analysis. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pains or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanying, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and curer of nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and of all distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs. A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of a host of ailments, and request for a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. From the leading authorities, to Dr. E. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

WOMAN'S LITTLE WAY.

Servant settled back comfortably in his chair and lit the after-dinner cigar to which he had limited himself in deference to his wife's fears that he was injuring his health by excessive smoking. "Oh!" he exclaimed suddenly. "What do you think? Willington has backed out of that little stag party at Renford's. His wife wouldn't let him go. Wouldn't that give you a nervous chill? Adeline, if I had a wife like that I'd be tempted to take a club to her. I don't suppose she dares open up his mouth around the house without raising his hand to ask permission."

"How would you like to have it said that your husband stood in terror of you, little woman?" he asked jocularly.

"I wouldn't like it at all," replied Mrs. Sarrentor, promptly. "I believe in a man doing what he pleases as long as he doesn't misconduct himself. I'm not an advanced woman like Mrs. Willington, you know."

"No, you're not, by George!" said her husband, admiringly.

"Besides, I know you wouldn't stand dictation," laughed the lady.

"Well, I guess not," said Sarrentor.

"What kind of a party is this, Edward?" asked Mrs. Sarrentor, presently, as she threaded a needle.

"Oh, just men, you know."

"Are they nice?"

"It depends on what you call nice. I don't like a pink tea."

"I suppose you will all smoke like chimneys and play cards. Well, of course, you will go if you want to."

"Why, certainly."

"You needn't be cross about it, Edward. I'm not cross."

"I don't see any reason why you should be."

"I might not like it, though. I wouldn't wonder a bit if they played cards for money—and that's gambling."

You don't blame me for not wanting my husband to be a gambler. That wouldn't be reasonable, would it, dear?"

"Why, Adeline! Suppose it was a penny ante—enough to give an interest to the game?"

"The principle is the same. But, of course, my narrow views wouldn't stand in the way of your having a good time."

"Oh, thunder!"

"Now you are losing your temper. Well, we won't say anything more about it. You've made up your mind that you'll go whether I like it or not or whether it's right or wrong. I wouldn't say a word for the world to displease you. You know I wouldn't, Edward. I don't like to have you cross."

"But, my dear!"

"No, we won't say anything more about it. And then you'll be tempted to gamble more than is good for you. I know you won't break your promise to me, but—"

"What promise?"

"About smoking more than one cigar in an evening."

"Adeline, I just said I'd try it for awhile and see how it went."

"Then you intend to. Oh, Edward!"

"Nonsense. You aren't talking reasonably, my dear. You just don't want me to go."

"No, I want you to go. If you prefer the society of a set or horrid card-playing men to your wife's I ought not to complain. I ought to be glad."

"Why, Adeline, my dear!"

"Of course, I do. You know perfectly well I do."

Mrs. Sarrentor put aside her husband's caressing hand and dried her eyes. Then she said: "This is very foolish of me, Edward. I ought to be ashamed of myself, and I am, too. Of course, you must go, dear. You know I would never oppose you in anything. We've been married over a year now and, of course, I ought not to expect that you wouldn't get just a little tired of a silly girl in all that time."

"Dearest," said Sarrentor, "how can you say such absurd things? 'Tired of you!'"

"I suppose if I had made out little home attractive—"

"You've made it a little paradise."

"And of course you miss all your old bachelor habits."

"Miss nothing I know when I'm well off."

"Then why," demanded Mrs. Sarrentor, "are you so crazy to go to this horrid stag party?"

"I'm not crazy about it. I don't care a thing about it. I don't know that I'd go if I hadn't promised—at least I half promised."

"Then you won't go? Oh, good!"

"Not if you don't want me to, dearest."

"Oh, but I don't want you to stay at home just because you know I'd be hurt if you went. I want you to do exactly as your please. You'd better go, perhaps, dear."

"Well, I don't want to," said Sarrentor. "I want to stay and spend the evening with you, and that settles it."—Chicago News.

LARGE PRODUCTION—AND CONSUMPTION OF SUGAR IN THE UNITED STATES.

The average citizen of the United States seems to have consumed one-half his own weight in sugar in the year just ended. Figures compiled by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor show that the quantity of sugar brought into the United States in 1906, plus that produced at home, minus the quantity exported, amounts to nearly 6½ billion pounds, and if we divide into this enormous total the number of people in the United States we get an average consumption of 70 pounds per capita. The cost of this 6½ billion pounds of sugar to the consumer must have been over 900 million dollars, since the average wholesale price in the New York market of refined sugar has been, for the year, 4½ cents per pound; and when to this are added the cost of transportation to the consumer and the profit of the retailer it is quite apparent that the cost to the consumer must have been more than 900 million dollars during the year just ended. One-fifth of this enormous total of 6½ billion pounds of sugar was produced at home, another one-fifth was brought from our own islands, and the remaining three-fifths from foreign countries, these statements being of course in round terms. The actual quantity of sugar imported from foreign countries, including the Philippines, during the year, as shown by the reports of the Bureau of Statistics, just completed, was 3,864,665,000 pounds; the quantity brought from Hawaii and Porto Rico was 1,281,384,946 pounds; the quantity produced in the United States is estimated for the year at 1,304,000,000 pounds, and the quantity exported was 25,731,407 pounds. Of the 3,864,665,061 pounds imported from foreign countries, 2,683,893,033 pounds was from Cuba; 425,372,363 pounds from the Dutch East Indies; 303,430,123 pounds from Germany; 163,496,319 pounds from the West Indies, exclusive of Cuba and Porto Rico; 173,627,104 pounds from South America, and 36,228,929 pounds from the Philippine Islands. The quantity contributed by our island was, from Hawaii, 852,468,967 pounds, from Porto Rico, 428,918,079 pounds; and from the Philippines, 36,228,929 pounds, the latter figure, however, being included in the imports from foreign countries.

Dispute Ends in Shooting Affray.

There was considerable excitement at Blivale last Monday caused by the shooting of Willis T. Insley by his brother George Insley. It is alleged that the trouble was caused by a disagreement between Willis Insley and his wife, who had left her home and gone to the residence of George Insley. According to reports Willis Insley drove to his brother's home and after a dispute with George, fired at him with a revolver. George then procured a shot gun and fired at his brother, the shot taking effect in the face.

OLD RARE COINS.

Bring High Prices At Public Sale. Some Of The Dates And Values.

Old and rare United States coins with a face value of $555.87 sold for $1453.84 at an auction held in Philadelphia Thursday. Gold eagles with a face value of $50, brought $130.50, and half eagle face value, $120, $226.60. Thirty three $3 gold pieces sold for $170.35, 55 gold dollars brought $180.65, and 104 silver coins of the same denomination brought $312.35. The highest price according to their face value, were realized by 107 copper cents, which sold for nearly 40 times their value or $41.12.

A silver dollar minted in 1794 brought $95, the highest price paid for any single coin at the sale. The next highest priced dollar was minted in 1858. It was a brilliant proof and sold for $30.

The "Liberty seated" dollar of 1838, showing the eagle flying amid stars, sold for $8.50; one of 1795 brought $4.85; 1799, $3.50; 1798, $4.50; 1798, $3.50; 1873, from the Carson City Mint, $3.75; 1855, $3.80; 1796, with both large and small letters, $3.30 each; 1797, $3.10; 1795, $2.75. Although there was a silver dollar for every year from 1794 to the present day, after the prices down to 1904, after the prices to $2.50 or lower, the trade dollar of 1873 only bringing 65 cents.

There was some lively rivalry when the half dollars were sold. A perfect specimen of 1797, which sold two years ago for $40, was knocked down to Mr. Chapman for $45. The half dollar of 1794 sold for $3.50, while those minted in the years 1801 1802 and 1803 catalogue as very rare, sold for only $2 each.

As compared with the larger coins, the gold half eagles all sold at a high premium. The best prices obtained were for 1828, at $2.5; 1795-1799, $14 each, and 1814, $10.

Death of Mrs. Jno. Griffith.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or had effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and effects following use of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policy-holders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By F. E. Davison, Resident Vt.

MUNICIPAL SIGNS.

March 3, '07—(Gen. 18:10-33.)

The great cities of the earth are underground. Some of the municipalities which once made nations tremble are known only by their names. Into that graveyard of dead cities Babylon went, and Nineveh, and Jericho, and Tyre and Sidon, and Pompeii and Herculaneum, and Lisbon and Valparaiso and San Francisco. Some of them went by fire, some of them by earthquake, some of them by volcanic eruption, all of them blotted out in whole or in part when the clock of destiny struck.

But among all the catastrophes which the centuries have recorded none have been more terrible, more overwhelming, more complete than that of the cities of the plain, of which Sodom and Gomorrah were conspicuous. The story of the degradation of those cities cannot be told. Human ears would not endure it.

And one day when the earth could endure the incubus no longer, fire from below clasped hands with fire from above, and transformed the place into a seething furnace, stenchful with sulphur, choking with vapor, in which the inhabitants were cremated by the act of God. It was first hurled into ruin, then incinerated by fire, then disinfected with sulphur, then sown with salt, then buried under the waters of the Dead Sea, which still roll fathoms deep over the spot where the drowned city stood. Abraham interceded for the place, but when he found that among all the thousands of Sodom there were not ten men who were righteous in it, his faith broke down and he made his petition no more.

And yet, if you had been in Sodom the day before the catastrophe and asked to be shown the evidence of its prosperity and perpetuity you could have found abundant answer. Corner lots were quoted at their full value, the day before. Wealthy citizens dwelt in peace in gorgeous palaces, the day before.

There was no premonition of coming doom, the day before. Pleasure festered business, the marts of trade and the halls of mirth were filled with eager throngs, the day before. But in forty-eight hours every palace was gone, every obscene temple was blotted out, every voice was hushed in Sodom, while out on the barren hillsides three Hebrew fugitives cowered; all that was left of Sodom—saved, so as by fire.

And there are many close students and observers of affairs who frankly state their conviction that the iniquity of Sodom was no worse than the iniquity of modern cities. In fact they think we are greater sinners because we know more, and use our wits to invent wickedness they never dreamed of. We have ten plagues where those ancient sinners had only one. The plague of drunkenness, the plague of gambling, the plague of lies, the plague of infidelity, the plague of crime, the plague of wars between capital and labor, the plague of licentiousness, the plague of demagogues, the plague of vagabondage. Plagues worse than the plagues of Egypt have swooped down upon our modern cities.

Every now and then society is startled with the crashing down into ruin of an apparently beautiful character, a bank cashier turns up missing, with the hard-earned savings of the poor in his possession, or two families in high life "swap partners" through the rapid transit of the divorce court, the children of the several matrimonial revolutions scarcely daring to address the temporary head of the house, lest they should fall in proper designation. It has become so common a custom to steal that we have lifted it to a fine art in this country and given it a new name. We call it graft, and graft is not put in the same category with a low down thief. We send the common burglar to jail and the grafter to the Legislature. If a man steals a loaf of bread we give him the limit of the law, but if he breaks a bank we palliate the offense, upon the surrender of a portion of the plunder.

The tendency of the age is toward the cities. The simple life of the country is well enough to talk about, but most people prefer the society of human beings to the solitude of the farm. We would rather live half a century in the city than 100 years in merely existing in the country. So we crowd into human bee hives and ant hills. We breathe foul air, and keep late hours, and form evil companionships, and deteriorate body and soul. Not that all the bad people live in cities and all the saints in the country. There are farmers who get as drunk on hard cider as their city cousins on champagne. There is more vice in the city because there are more people there, and more people means more temptations, more allurements, more concealments, more freedom from responsibility. Many a man who is honest at home in the country, swings around the circle when he gets where nobody knows him. Municipal sin has always been the demerit of the philanthropist, and the staggering problem of the ages. Lot in Sodom vexed his righteous soul with the deeds of its inhabitants, but we do not read that his influence amounted to anything.

"THERE'S A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM!"

Not the mere temporary relief that the old "remedies" gave, not the little help that the doctor's prescriptions give; but ABSOLUTE AND COMPLETE CURE. That is what Rheumacide does. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood. It is an internal disease and requires a strong and vigorous internal remedy that will cleanse the blood of all its germs and yet act through such natural methods that it builds up the entire system.

CURED AFTER 16 YEARS.

Baltimore, Dec. 10th.
For 16 years I have suffered terribly with Rheumatism. I was treated by leading physicians but got no relief. Long since I despaired of ever being well again. But bearing of RHEUMACIDE, I decided to give it a trial. I have taken two bottles, and, thanks to this wonderful medicine, I now feel that I have gotten a "new lease on life." Every vestige of the disease has been driven from my system.

"Well, old man, you're back again, I see. Fishing any good?"

"Yes, if the man at the rod is good. I had a strange experience one day though."

"What was it?"

"Why, you see, Brown was up there at the same time I was and we usually went out together. There was a channel on one side of the lake not far from the hotel, where we could walk along on good ground and fish without the boats all happened to be out."

"One morning, after we had been there about two weeks, Brown's hair got to looking rather shaggy, and he thought of going to town to have it trimmed. But the day turned out fine for fishing, so he gave it up. We then started in on the channel."

"We fished for awhile without much success. Then Brown made a cast well into the weeds and got hung up on a lily-pod. He had a small line, which had been used considerably, and when he jerked it parted about five feet from the end."

"The first thing I knew he had slipped off his clothes and plunged in. He swam across till he found a footing and disengaged the hook. It was too far to throw the hook to me and he required both hands open to swim."

"He never was much of a swimmer—and he couldn't be sure of holding his teeth together if he held it in his mouth on account of his habit of spitting out water at every stroke."

"What'd he do?"

"He tied it around his neck and let it hang down behind. About half-way over the spoon began to turn and he got a strike from a whopping big pickerel."

"Must have choked him, didn't it?"

"I should say it did. But the fish gave a dart, and I thought we should lose him and Brown, too, but they finally came to the surface—Brown spluttering at a great rate."

"Soon the fish began to strike at Brown's hair. At the time I couldn't see the reason for it, but later I came to understand. Instead of trying to drown poor Brown it was trying to save his life. I never knew a pickerel to act that way before. Now, you take a bass or a muskellunge and it might take the place of a Newfoundland dog as a life-saver. I know old Hodgkins used to keep a tame muskellunge to take care of the children when they were in bathing; but I never knew a pickerel to—never."

"Pretty soon I noticed him towing Brown by his wet hair out into the channel. Then he began racing up and striking again. Every time he nipped a mouthful of hair his lower lip escaped the neck below it. You can imagine Brown's dilemma, with his efforts to swim and fighting off that fish at the same time."

"I should say so."

"Well, when he landed he had as pretty a round out on his hair as you ever saw—sort of a football cut, you understand, with his neck nicely shaved."

"That was all, was it? No shampoo or anything?"

"No, just the hair cut and neck shave. I noticed the pickerel eying Brown's head rather suspiciously, but so far as I observed he had not made a beginning upon it."—Chicago News.

Fish Artificially Hatched.

One no longer speaks of hatching thousands of young fish by artificial means, but of millions and hundreds of millions. The number of eggs, fry, fingerlings and adult fish distributed by the United States bureau of fisheries in 1902 aggregated 1,500,000. It is certain that the shad, whitefish, lake trout and pike perch fisheries, each of vast importance, have not only been saved from utter extinction, but that they have been maintained chiefly through artificial propagation. That these fisheries are industries today, valued at nearly $2,000,000 annually, is due entirely to artificial propagation.

There is much, meanwhile, that is picturesque and quaint, and something, too, that is amusing from a certain incongruity in such ceremonies as that which took place in Buckingham Palace recently. But such things are not without their element of political importance. The personal factor counts for much in an empire such as ours—whereas so many of the component parts are oriental or barbaric. And because the Great White King was gracious to the Alaka, the material prosperity of part of the West African possessions of the crown may be sensibly increased.—London Chronicle.

Mexico's Golden Age in Sight.

The work of President Diaz is not done; the country still requires his guiding hand and his paternal care. Fortunately, he is in sound health and able to give his country the benefit of his ripened experience. He has brought as his gift to Mexico a perfect internal peace. Time has justified his acts and his policies. His fellow countrymen approve his works and are grateful to him for the great and palpable benefits he has conferred upon them. Fortunately, indeed, is a nation that has at its command matured wisdom and the patriotic devotion in its ruler.—Mexican Herald.

They Claim Wilmington Site.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 25.—Asserting themselves to be descendants of Baron Springer of Sweden, and heirs to an $800,000, estate in Delaware including the site of the city of Wilmington, Mrs. Belle Jones and Mrs. W. C. Moore today announced that they would at once send attorneys to Wilmington, Del., to investigate the case with a view to obtaining their share of the estate.

In order to make a deficit in the State's expenses, Representative Bagges (Rep.) of Smyrna, today introduced a bill in the House providing for a State loan of $350,000.

The State now faces a shortage of $14,000, the annual receipts being that much less than the expenditures.

It is also proposed to severely tax railroad and other corporations generally in Delaware. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company now pays $78,800 in taxes to the State. This may be increased one third. A two cent passenger rate will also be enacted.

MINISTER TELLS THE TRUTH.

Personal Experience Of Aged And Well Beloved Preacher.

No other man in the community is so well beloved or whose words have such weight as the minister, who has devoted his life to the service of mankind. In Maryland one of the most noted Methodist ministers in the State suffered severely with rheumatism. He found no relief until a friend recommended Rheumacide. He was so delighted with the results that for the benefit of other sufferers, as a duty to mankind, he tells his experience in the following letter:

"Reisterstown, Md., February 27th. 'I was taken with Inflammatory Rheumatism in my left hand and foot in the beginning of this winter and suffered greatly. A gentleman in Baltimore who had tried Rheumacide for Rheumatism recommended it to me. I secured three bottles and took it in smaller doses than prescribed, and am now entirely cured. Can use both hand and foot without the least inconvenience. 'Yours respectfully, 'J. R. Wheeler, Pastor, Reisterstown M. E. Church.' Your druggist sells and recommends Rheumacide.

Bankers At Exposition.

The executive committee of the Maryland Bankers' Association met at the Mechanics Bank yesterday to arrange for this year's convention. It was decided to hold the meeting at Jamestown about June 18, 19 and 20. The dates, however, were not definitely fixed and may be changed later if they do not meet the convenience of the majority of the members. The association will have its headquarters at the Hotel Chamberlain at Old Point Comfort. Here most of its business sessions will be held, though it is not unlikely that one or more sessions may be held in the Maryland Building on the Exposition grounds, if suitable arrangements can be made.

MARYLAND FARMS.

Fifteen farms at a sacrifice. Building on all. Plenty of wood and timber to suit or them. Good water, fine climate, two railroads, good schools and churches. Near the ocean, abundance of water products. Ideal for horticulture. Harrison's trees are a sample of what they will produce. Climate modified by ocean and bay. Come and look, all we ask. Farms of 150 to 1,000 acres. Six thousand acres at an average of $10 to $25 per acre. The Eastern Shore of Maryland, because of its position, is becoming the garden of the Northern and Eastern cities; so these prices are only temporary.

Why go to the wilds and spend your life making a farm and a home, when for less money, in a better climate and nearer the markets, you can immediately have what you want? Yours truly,

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP-- RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

La Grippe Is Epidemic Catarrh.

THIS disease now known as 'grip' need to be called 'influenza.' It very closely resembles a cold, but is more tenacious in its hold upon the system and produces more profound disturbances.

Grip is in reality epidemic catarrh. When it once begins it spreads over the country very rapidly.

People do not catch the grip from each other, but each one catches it from the atmosphere.

"Most Effective Medicine Ever Tried for La Grippe."
Robt. L. Madison, A. M., Principal of Yellowree High School, Palmyra, N. O., chairman of the Jackson County Board of Education.

He is a writer of occasional verse and has contributed to a number of leading papers and magazines—religious, educational and secular.

In speaking of Peruna, Mr. Madison says:
"I am hardly ever without Peruna in my home. It is the most effective medicine that I have ever tried for La Grippe."

He also cured my wife of nasal catarrh. Her condition at one time was such that she could not at night breathe through her nostrils.

"In consequence, an inflamed condition of the throat was brought about, getting worse and worse and yielding to no remedy until Peruna was tried."

Healthy Mucous Membranes.
Those who are fortunate enough to have perfectly healthy mucous membranes ordinarily do not catch the grip. The mucous membranes lining the nose, throat and lungs, when in a normal state, are an efficient barrier against the invasion of grip.

After the grip has once been acquired, Dr. Hartman recommends the use of Peruna in teaspoonful doses every hour during the acute stage, after which the directions on the bottle should be followed.

Experience has shown that the people who use Peruna as a remedy for grip generally recover sooner and are less liable to the distressing and long-continued after-effects of the grip.

TENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

Work Of Peninsula General Hospital In Detail. 491 Patients Treated—221 Operations Performed. Excellent Work Of Lady Board Of Managers.

The tenth annual report of the Superintendent of the Peninsula General Hospital, shows a marked increase in the number of patients treated and operations performed over any previous year. As there were 149 patients admitted and only 31 deaths the medical staff of this institution is to be complimented on its efficiency. Patients were admitted from the following sections:

Wicomico County	48
Worcester County	76
Dorchester County	7
Somerset County	78
Caroline County	4
Talbot County	5
Baltimore City	5
Michigan	1
Virginia	30
Delaware	38
North Carolina	1

Of the 491 patients admitted, 384 were white and 107 colored. The deaths numbered 31. In addition to the cases treated at the Hospital, 123 cases were treated outside the institution.

The unprecedented number of 54 cases of appendicitis were treated during the year, an operation being required in each case. In 18 of these cases peritonitis had set in, and in several others there were other dangerous complications, but out of the 34 operations there were but 9 deaths, and in each of these the patients had to be brought long distances and the operations were delayed too long. Fifty two typhoid fever patients were treated at the Hospital last year without a single death.

The operations required numbered 22 many of them very difficult. In addition to the 54 cases of appendicitis there were 5 operations for cancer of the breast, 1 each for amputation of leg, leg and arm, foot, arm, hand fingers, and thumb. Operations for removal of tumors were: 3 from thigh, 1 from abdominal wall, 1 from arm, 1 from groin. One ovarian cyst removed, weighed 31 pounds.

Report Of The Officers.
President Wm. P. Jackson, of the Board of Directors, said: "During the past summer we were taxed to our

DEATH OF MRS. F. TODD.

Funeral Held Thursday And Was Largely Attended.

Mrs. S. Fannie Todd, who had been suffering for several months from an attack of stomach trouble, succumbed to the disease at an early hour Tuesday morning at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Frank O. Todd, on North Division Street. Mrs. Todd was the widow of Dr. George W. Todd a prominent physician of Salisbury who died 23 years ago.

She was the daughter of the late James Hooper, who was a prominent lawyer in Philadelphia, and afterwards settled in Salisbury, where he died. Mrs. Todd was born in Philadelphia on June 30, 1839, but the greater part of her life was spent in Salisbury. She was a woman of fine literary attainments. She was an active member of the Wicomico Presbyterian Church, and took great interest in its affairs. Her husband was an Elder in this church until his death.

The funeral services were conducted Thursday from the Wicomico Presbyterian Church of which the deceased was a member, by Rev. W. T. M. Heale. The pall bearers were Harry S. Todd, Samuel S. Smyth, Charles I. Wallis, Dr. F. M. Elemons, Thos. Seabrook and W. S. Gordy, Sr.

Two Cent Rate Would Not Bankrupt Road.

Traffic Manager R. B. Cooke of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railway, Friday admitted to the State Corporation Commission that despite the fact that the amount of stock had been increased 35 per cent, it was paying 10 per cent dividend annually, and made twice as much per mile on passenger traffic as any road in the country. He had to admit that he did not think a flat two-cent passenger rate would bankrupt the road.

"Now is the time for it," he said, "and the road can easily stand the reduction. We have been very fortunate. Our road is level and our expenses are low. I think the rate should be reduced."

At the conclusion of the morning's session the whole two-cent proceeding was closed. No other roads will appear, though the Baltimore and Ohio and the Norfolk and Southern will send papers to supplement their answers already filed.

WOODMEN BANQUETED.

Members Assemble At Peninsula Hotel And Partake Of Sumptuous Repast. State Deputy Edw. F. Burns Makes Impressive Address.

The local members of the Modern Woodmen of America gave a largely attended banquet in the dining room of the Peninsula Hotel Thursday evening. The banquet was assembled around the festive board at about nine o'clock, there being covers laid for forty members. Only one vacant chair was left after the "neighbors" were seated—that of Consul of the local camp, J. Alfred Bradley, who was unable to attend on account of ill health. It was intended that Mr. Bradley should act as toast master but on account of his inability to attend, this honor was bestowed upon Mr. E. D. Grier, who ably officiated in this capacity.

During the evening, toasts were responded to by the following: Clerk, L. Atwood Bennett; "Our Local Camp," District Deputy W. L. Plummer; "The Future of Our Camp," Prof. M. T. Skinner; "The Banquet," Rev. W. T. M. Heale; "The Fraternal Organizations of Our Town and Their Influence," G. H. Weisbach; "Our Town," Leonard H. Higgins; "The Committee," State Deputy Edw. F. Burns; "The Modern Woodmen of America."

Mr. Burns, in an elegant manner, gave a concise but thorough history of the "Woodmen," from the time of its conception, commenting upon the marvelous growth of the society and the feeling of good fellowship manifested by the members throughout the entire country. While the order is not old in number of years, its records show that there are at present 320,000 members and Mr. Burns proudly stated that 140,000 members were initiated during the year 1906. This was more than were accepted by any insurance company or fraternal organization. Mr. Burns stated that the Modern Woodmen was the largest fraternal insurance society in existence.

The local camp was organized on July 7th, 1900, with 26 charter members, and since then has gradually increased to a membership of 55, there being only one death, that of Frank Gunby.

Mr. W. L. Plummer came to Salisbury about a year ago in the interest of the order and much of the increase has been due to his untiring efforts. The banquet table was profusely decorated with ferns and carnations and the following menu was served by Caterer Phillips.

Cherrystone Oysters, Half Shell	Pickles	Celery
Olives	Maryland Squeak
Roast Turkey, Chestnut Filling	Cranberry Sauce
Beef Croquettes	French Peas
Chicken Salad
Fancy Loaf	Fancy Cakes
Coffee	Cigars

Many compliments were extended to Mr. Phillips and to the committee who arranged the banquet. They were: L. A. Bennett, Dr. DeAlton Parker and Leonard H. Higgins. Those present were: Rev. Wilson T. M. Beale, Leonard H. Higgins, J. W. Brittingham, F. A. Disharoon, J. T. Elliott, W. E. Downing, Franklin K. Cooper, Edwin F. Burns, W. L. Plummer, J. A. Jones, I. E. Jones, Kingman A. Handy, W. T. Dashiell, M. T. Skinner, O. E. Reed, B. E. Perry, I. J. Hearn, J. Kerwin Hayman, E. A. Hearn, Claude Powell, George S. Johnson, Dr. George W. Todd, Dr. D. B. Foster, F. M. Mitchell, A. F. Malone, Raymond K. Truitt, Mark Cooper, L. Atwood Bennett, Geo. H. Weisbach, E. O. Fulton, Morris A. Walton, F. L. Smith, Graham Gunby, W. S. Gordy, Jr., Robert D. Grier and Harry Disharoon.

Post Office Employees' Salary Will Be Increased.

The Postoffice Appropriation Bill, as it will finally become a law, will make a generous increase in the salaries of the carriers in the first and second class offices. Salisbury being a second class office the clerks and city carriers will share in the increase, as will the rural free delivery carriers.

In this office there are now five clerks receiving from $600 to $900 per annum. Their pay will be increased to $700 and $1000. Four city delivery carriers now receiving $550 will be increased to $1000.

The bill does not specify the second class offices at which the salaries of the assistant postmasters will be increased, but it is certain that a number of the Maryland offices will be included when the promotions are made next July, among them the Salisbury office.

The salary of the rural letter carriers is increased so that the maximum salary is $900, carriers who have served one year are entitled to 10 days' leave of "furlough" with pay. This will affect 576 carriers from the Salisbury office who are now receiving from $400 to $800.

DELAWARE CHILD LOST.

Disappearance Enveloped in Mystery. Three Hundred Men Searching High And Low. Eagles' Nests Searched.

Three hundred farmers and hay men, under the direction of State Detective Hawkins and Attorney General Richards, continue the search for 4 year old Horace Marvin, the son of Dr. Horace N. Marvin, the wealthy cattle raiser, who vanished in the most sudden and mysterious manner on Monday morning last while playing at a hay stack on the Marvin estate at Kitts Hammock on the Delaware bay shore, not far from Dover.

The searchers divided themselves into bands and armed with clubs and guns scattered over a wide area of the dreary and lonely expanse of marsh, meadow and forest. Through the blinding snow storm the men tramped in every direction, searching the thickets, the streams, all of which were frozen over, and every field of salt marsh and bog.

Some of the searchers thought an eagle might have carried the little boy away. Many large eagles frequent the dense woods in the vicinity of Kitts Hammock as well as big fish-hawks and kingfishers. Only an eagle could possibly have lifted a weight as great as that of the child. These birds of prey have often been known to carry off young lambs in the meadows near the forest.

After beating the woods for hours only two nests were found, both at the very top of tall oak trees. The searchers climbed the trees, but found not a vestige of anything in the nests. The idea that eagles had stolen the Marvin child was consequently abandoned. None of the farmers had seen any eagles anywhere around for months.

Theory Of Kidnapping.

Dr. Marvin moved to his new home on Saturday. It was while the family was working in the house setting things to rights that the boy, who was playing around a haystack nearby disappeared. Kidnapping in Delaware is a capital crime.

The attention of the police is said to be turning toward a community called Mayhorns Ditch, on the Delaware Bay shore, about five miles above Kitts Hammock. It consists of fishermen's huts and is the haunt of oyster men who tie up their boats there at periods when the ice prevents them from dredging.

During their periods of idleness, the oyster men, a rough class at best and whose income is never large, are often reduced to desperate straits. That some of these men had a hand in the disappearance of little Horace Marvin is a theory entertained by many residents of Dover.

At the time Dr. Marvin was negotiating for the purchase of his farm, it was common talk that he was a wealthy man. Some reports made him out a millionaire. These words, reaching in exaggerated form, the ears of some of the oystermen are believed to have excited their cupidity. It would have been an easy thing for two or three men to have traversed the few miles of marsh land between Mayhorns ditch and the Marvin place and have lain in wait for an opportunity to seize one of the

A HERITAGE AWAITING

The Lawful Heirs Of A Former Resident Of This Peninsula.

Hartford, Conn., March 6, 1907. The Advertiser, Salisbury, Md.

Gentlemen:—Some years prior to the outbreak of the Civil War, there resided in the eastern section of Maryland, one Captain Erasmus Burton, who had in his service a colored boy whose first name was Spencer. About 1860 or possibly earlier Captain Burton moved to Frederica, Del., taking the boy with him. When the war commenced Spencer ran away and enlisted in the U. S. Army under the name of Spencer Berdan, but before his enlistment he was known as Spencer Borden and it is possible that he may have been known as Spencer Burton. We are very uncertain as to what his correct surname was. Spencer died some years ago leaving a small estate to which his heirs are entitled, and he is supposed to have been born in the eastern section of Maryland, possibly where Captain Burton resided when he went to live with him. We would like to have you publish this letter in the hope that it will come to the notice of his relatives or someone who can give us information concerning them. All communications should be sent to the undersigned without delay.

Yours truly,
John J. Dwyer,
3 State Street,
Hartford, Conn.

Death of Perry H. Waller.

Mr. Perry H. Waller, of Barren Creek district, who had been suffering from a complication of diseases for several years, died Wednesday morning. He was about 83 years old. He moved to this county from Delaware many years ago and engaged in farming, which he followed all his life. He leaves one son, Mr. J. T. Waller, and one daughter, Miss Rachel Waller. His wife died about two years ago. In politics Mr. Waller was a thorough Republican and seldom missed voting his party's ticket.

physician's children. Should the missing boy now be imprisoned in the cabin of one of the oyster puffers the crew may wait until the ice permits them to sail to a safe distance before making a demand for ransom.

Reward Offered By Legislature.

The Delaware Legislature Thursday appropriated $3000 to aid in locating the missing son, Horace, four years old, of Dr. H. N. Marvin, who recently moved here from Sioux City, Iowa, and who mysteriously disappeared from the Marvin farm on Monday morning last while at play in a haystack on the farm. Not a dissenting vote was cast in either Senate or House.

The rumor that the boy's father had offered $30,000 reward was denied by the father Thursday.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Met Tuesday And Had Busy Session. Messrs. Clyde And Presgrave Object To Stationary Bridge Over Tony Tank Creek. Pensions Granted.

The board agreed to give Mr. E. M. Walton the old county road bed for and in consideration of the new road bed which has just been built for county in Parsons District, the county also excepts the part that lies between the school house lot and the road just completed.

The board accepted the proposition of Mr. J. C. Phillips to permit the county to change and straighten the road leading by and through his farm in Parsons District, he to grant the county the land and the county to build the road.

Pensions granted: Geo. W. Carter and wife, $1 each for 8 months, order to S. E. Hayman; Samuel Gale $1 per month, order to L. L. Gordy; Mary Parsons $1.50 per month; John Brown $1.50 per month, order to I. W. Perdue.

A committee, headed by Mr. Alonzo Williams, was before the board and asked the Commissioners to aid in the near future in repairing the county road leading from Salisbury to Quantico. The Commissioners promised to give aid as soon as they could, but that the season is too far advanced now to secure a sufficient quantity of shells to do the work. The committee stated that it would be impossible to get the road in shape for shelling this spring, but hoped to be able to do so in the fall.

The board agreed to furnish 10,000 bushels of shells for repairing the road from Tyeah to Salisbury, the citizens of Tyeah to pay all over 3 cents per bushel and haul and spread same on the road. Ten car loads of shells were voted to repair the road at Mardela, provided shells can be delivered in time for the farmers to haul and spread same.

Isaac Wimbro was appointed road supervisor in Quantico District, vice W. T. Fletcher, resigned.

The board took up the Tony Tank bridge matter. Mr. F. Leonard Waller, representing Messrs. Presgrave and Clyde, was before the board and presented an objection from his clients to the building of a stationary bridge across the creek. The matter was laid over for final action at the next meeting.

The Commissioners will meet March 26, 27, 28 for the purpose of making transfers of real and personal property preparatory to the next levy.

Prominent Educators Visit Salisbury.

Prof. M. E. Bates Stephens, State Superintendent of Education, was a visitor in Salisbury Tuesday on his regular tour of inspection of the work in the different schools.

Mr. E. M. Noble, Superintendent of Schools for Caroline County, arrived in this city Thursday and visited the schools comparing the work accomplished with that of Caroline County. Mr. Noble will address the Principals' Club which meets this afternoon at the High School building.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cannot be excelled at curing cold and cough. Price 35 cents.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. Charlotte Bussell Carey entered into rest February 26th 1907, at the home of her son Mr. Wm. T. Carey near Fruitland Md. at the age of seventy four years. Mrs. Carey had been in failing health for five years, but until the last ten days of her life was able to mingle with the family the greater part of the time. Then she was taken to her room. "An eastern chamber fronting the sunrise, and the name of that chamber was peace." Her life was a peaceful life. She never had a contented or unpleasant word with any one during her long life. Her life was a complete life, full of goodness and leaving a path of light behind. It was a solid, true, strong, unassuming and sincere life. The noble and sincere devotion of this life as a neighbor and friend is an example for all. She was always ready to go to those who were sick or in sorrow, and with willing hands and cheering words do all in her power to relieve his or her distress. As a mother, her devotion knew no bounds. A friend writing of her said,

"What a beautiful sunny day to lay to rest one whose whole life had been to scatter cheer and brightness. As I remember her she always saw the bright side, and laughed away the clouds, yet ever living under the loss of the companionship of her husband."

In 1883 Mrs. Carey was married to Mr. Hardy Carey, and in 1888 he died leaving her with seven children to raise. One was an infant in her arms, who as she grew to womanhood, gave to her mother a love that was akin to worship. As the mother's years became fewer this love, if possible, became heavenly.

Mrs. Carey raised her children with great gentleness and kindness to honor and obey her. She raised them to be honorable, christian men and women. What a rich heritage!

Mrs. Carey united with the Union Methodist Protestant Church in her fifteenth year. She never faltered in her faith nor in her attendance to church until ill health prevented. Her funeral was held in this church. The Rev. Mr. White spoke from the words "For whither thou goest, I will go, and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people and thy God my God." Ruth 1, 16. The Rev. Mr. White of the M. E. Church, and the Rev. Hooper McGrath spoke of her beautiful christian life, and words of comfort to the bereaved children.

She was laid to rest by the side of her husband on the farm where she went as a bride to live and where she lived amid her joy and sorrow until two months before her death.

I think her life may be summed up in these few lines her daily longings, and her hope of eternal life.

"Oh to be more like Jesus
More of his likeness bear;
E'en tho' the world forsake Him
I, His burden would share.
After the pain and sorrow
There shall be sweet release.
Then to abide, close to His side, Ever to dwell in peace."

The children are Anthony J. Carey and Ephraim Carey, of Salisbury; Mrs. Joseph Hearn, Mrs. Peter Livingston and William T. Carey, of Fruitland; Mrs. William Vincent and L. Penn Carey, of Capron, Va.

Mix This At Home.

The following simple home-made mixture is said to readily relieve and overcome any form of Rheumatism by forcing the kidneys to filter from the blood and system all the uric acid and poisonous waste matter, relieving at once such symptoms as backache, weak kidneys and bladder and blood diseases.

Try it, as it doesn't cost much to make, and is said to be absolutely harmless to the stomach. Get the following harmless ingredients from any good pharmacy: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

This simple mixture is said to give prompt relief, and there are very few cases of Rheumatism and Kidney trouble will fail to cure permanently. These are all harmless, everyday drugs and your druggist should keep them in the prescription department. If not, have him order them from the wholesale drug houses for you rather than fail to use this, if you are afflicted.

—The season of fish is here. Shad are high yet, of course, since it is still so cold. There are various ways of cooking fish of the inexpensive sort to make them choicer. Almost every family has shad for Friday's dinner, because the supply is greatest and freshest then. A good way is to bake the fish with a highly seasoned stuffing. If it is boiled, then make a white sauce with hard boiled eggs added, in it, or some capers, or sliced cucumber pickles.

Nasal Catarrh, an inflammation of the delicate membrane lining the passages, is not cured by any mixture taken into the stomach. Don't waste time on them. Take Ely's Cream Balm through the nostrils, so that the fevered, swollen tissues are reached at once. Never mind how long you have suffered nor how often you have been disappointed, we know Ely's Cream Balm will cure you as it has cured others by the thousand. All druggists, 50 cents. Mailed by Ely Bros., 24 Warren Street, New York.

In Memoriam.

In memory of my dear husband, Ernest M. Adkins, who died one year ago today, March 8th, 1906.

Yes, you're gone but not forgotten, God has taken you before; And I'm sad as I sit thinking Of the days that are no more.

Then we used to plan the future, And the home nest we would make, When I think of those glad days, dear, Now it seems my heart would break.

You were always kind and thoughtful, To mother, children and to wife, Oh, it is so sad to think now, That we so soon should part in life.

You so young, loving and tender, With so much in life to come, Why were you called so early From earth, to your Heavenly Home.

God has wisdom in his movements Which we sometimes cannot see, But death has lost its sting, I know And the grave its victory.

And I know that you are waiting, With the angels on the shore, Till God calls me up to Heaven, Where at last we'll part no more.

By Wife and Friends.

Private Mailing Cards.

An order has been issued by the Postmaster-General providing new regulations governing the size, form and weight of private postcards entering the mails. Such post cards must be made of an unfolded piece of cardboard, not exceeding three and one-sixteenth by five and nine-sixteenth inches—no less than two and three-fourths inches.

They must in form and in quality and weight of paper be substantially like the Government post cards. They may be of any color, not interfering with a legible address and postmark. Very thin sheets of paper may be attached to them on condition that they completely adhere to the card. Cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinseel or other similar substances will not be accepted for mailing except when enclosed in envelopes.

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irrigations, Displacement, Pains in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other one medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of uncollected and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

THOMAS NELSON PAGE ON THE NEGRO QUESTION.

In the March McClure's there is a note worthy article on the Negro Question by Thomas Nelson Page. Under the title of "The Great American Question—The Special Plan of a Southerner," he deals with the subject in a distinguished manner, as the following extracts from his introduction show:

There are some things so well understood by those who know the negro, as to appear to them almost truisms. For example:

That the white race is superior to the negro race; not accidentally and because of superior training, but inherently and fundamentally.

That in certain things negroes differ widely among themselves: for example, in temper, character, training, manner, temperament. But that in certain respects, all, or nearly all negroes, have the same race characteristics: as Indian, Chinese, Caucasians, and other races have them.

That the negroes understand by "social equality," for the most part, nothing only: the right to stand with white women on precisely the same ground as that on which white men stand with them.

That there is a wide difference as to the point of view of the great body of the Northerners and the entire body of the Southerners as to the negro: in that, that Northerners suppose the cause of the negroes as a race, but dislike negroes individually, while Southerners do not dislike negroes individually, but oppose them as a race. And that this difference is due to conditions and not to basic principles.

There is another vital fact not generally known to Southerners: that one of the chief causes, if not the chief cause at present, of the feeling at the North in favor of the negro is the violence so often directed against negroes at the South. There is quite as much violence against them in some other parts of the country, in proportion to the colored population, as at the South; but for reasons not necessary to discuss here, this is not taken into account. The brunt of the century falls on the South, and the South on every account, but especially for known sake, ought to put a stop to its with intention, or else make it clear to the rest of the world why it is not done.

—George Owens, of Sharpsburg, Md., was first officer on the Great Northern liner which ran ashore last Sunday off Mojima Lighthouse, in Japanese waters. He was a farmer's boy and went to sea at the age of 16—just 8 years ago. He has sailed every opportunity for advancement. Last month he was made first officer. He seemed to have a premonition that the Dakota would be wrecked, as on February 17, the day the vessel sailed from Seattle, he wrote his sisters at Sharpsburg, telling them just where the wreck could be found if anything should happen during the long and perilous voyage.

PROMINENT EDUCATORS

Met at Easton and Discuss Methods to Increase Efficiency of High School.

A meeting of prominent educators from the different counties of the Eastern Shore was held last Friday in the Assembly Hall of the Eastern High School. The meeting was called to order by President Nichols of the Talbot county school board. After stating the object of the meeting the educators were shown through the high school building by Professor Handy, principal of the school. They viewed the work of the pupils in the different classes and all expressed themselves as highly pleased with the way the school was managed.

In the afternoon a conference of the visitors was held, and discussions took place as to the best and most practical way to create more interest in school work and to increase the efficiency of the high schools. At the evening session there were addresses by prominent educators from the various counties, among them being Superintendent Bonds and Prof. J. Walter Huntington, of Salisbury. A permanent organization was effected, to hold its next annual meeting in 1908, at Salisbury. Mr. Bonds was elected chairman of the executive committee, and Mr. Huntington president for 1908.

Wicomico county was represented by Mr. H. Crawford Bonds, county superintendent; Prof. J. Walter Huntington, principal of the Wicomico High School, and Miss Kate Van Cleave, teacher of manual training in the Wicomico High School.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

Given By Ladies' Mite Society At Parsonage Of Asbury M. E. Church.

A novel entertainment was given at the parsonage of Asbury M. E. Church Wednesday evening by the Ladies' Mite Society of the church. The affair was well attended and an admission of 35 cents was charged and in this manner about $21.00 was raised by the society.

The feature of the entertainment was a play in two acts entitled "Aunt Martha's Run." It was the production of an intensely humorous drama in which the strategy of the gentleman is paramount.

The following interesting program was rendered after which refreshments were served by the ladies of the society.

Instrumental Solo—Miss Margaret Woodcock.

Vocal Solo—Miss Wilese Woodcock.

Instrumental Duet—Miss Isabelle Curry, Miss Laura Rusk.

Vocal Solo—Mr. Raymond E. K. K.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. M. A. Humphreys.

Vocal Duet—Mrs. E. O. Talton and Miss Marie Ellegood.

Chorus.

Ladies' Quartet—Mrs. Fulton, Mrs. Marindale, Miss Walton and Miss Ellegood.

The Jackson-Smith Contest.

The Fifty ninth Congress adjourned Monday without either the House Committee or the House itself taking any action on the contested election case of ex-Representative W. H. Jackson against Representative Thomas A. Smith of the First Maryland district. Just before the adjournment of the last session the full committee, by resolution instructed a sub-committee to inspect the ballots cast in certain of the Eastern Shore voting districts in an effort to learn whether the ballots were mutilated in the interest of Mr. Jackson or Mr. Smith. This sub-committee, after working for a few days abruptly adjourned. Why they did not continue the investigation has never been satisfactorily explained. No report to the full committee was ever made, and in the absence of this the committee could not lay the case before the House.

"The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. No one can be well balanced in mind and body whose blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pure life unless the blood is pure. Foul blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the blood is pure, body and brain are alike healthy and life becomes a daily happiness.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone and a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, Dr. Pierce's prints on the bottle wrapper in plain English a full list of the ingredients. Therefore not a patent medicine, but a medicine of known composition.

Thirty-five gentlemen, representing nearly 1,800,000 commercial firms and individuals and more than 20 per cent of the annual freight tonnage of the United States, met in the Jefferson Hotel at Richmond, Va., Thursday morning to formulate plans for bringing about a general improvement in the freight movement condition. It is told by these gentlemen, who come from nearly every section of the country, that the inability of the railroads to make quick freight transportation is paralyzing the commercial interests of the United States. It is their purpose to revolutionize the entire freight situation in the country.

STREET COMMISSIONERS

Report Will Be Submitted At Next Council Meeting. Will Advocate Sewer Foot Sidewalk.

The Commissioners appointed by Mayor Harper to assess the benefits, damages, etc., on the improvement to be made on North Division street, met Monday morning and performed their duty. Their written report will be submitted to the Council at the next meeting.

The policy of the Commission is to be as lenient as possible with the owners where the city takes any of their property. There will be slight change in the lines from the residence of Mr. H. Lee Powell until the property of Mr. James L. Powell is reached when quite a piece of the property of Mr. Powell, the M. E. Parsonage, the property of the Margaret Parson estate, the old Birchhead property, Mrs. Thos. W. Seabrook and Mrs. Annie Morris, will be taken. In all these cases it is understood the Commission will recommend that the city stand the cost of laying new cement pavements in front of all the property. In other cases where there is only a slight change in the lines the Commission recommends that the city lay new brick pavements where there are now brick pavements, but to the proper line. There will be a new cement pavement recommended for a part of the property of Asbury M. E. Church which is taken, and also the property of Mr. John D. Williams, adjoining, where a strip of land will be taken to widen the street.

It is the intention of the Commission to recommend that a seven foot sidewalk be laid on both sides of Division street from the M. E. Church to the B. O. & A. Railway. This will necessitate the cutting down of all the trees now standing in the gutters, but no trees on private property will be touched.

ATLANTIC HOTEL CHANGE.

Mr. Wm. R. Rayne Purchases Business At Berlin From H. F. Harmonson Who Retires.

Among the recent important transfers of business on the eastern shore is that of the Atlantic Hotel, the property of Mr. H. F. Harmonson, of Berlin to Mr. William R. Rayne, of Ocean City, Md. Mr. Harmonson retains the building which it is stated has been leased to Mr. Rayne for a period of five years. The transfer of the fixtures furniture and bar, involved a consideration of $6500. This move on the part of Mr. Harmonson came as a surprise to his business associates and large circle of friends. The business was established about 50 years ago by Mr. Harmonson's grandfather, and was continued by his father, and subsequently because the property of Mr. Harmonson's who has successfully conducted the business for a number of years.

Many improvements have been made to the property during Mr. Harmonson's domain and the table set at this hotel has made the hotel famous among the traveling public. Mr. Harmonson retires from the hotel business to engage more extensively in live stock. He and his family have moved to the Dilworth House, which is the property of Mr. Harmonson, on the Ocean City Road. Mr. Rayne, the new proprietor has established a reputation as a hotel man, he having been engaged in the business at Ocean City for a number of years.

Advice of the largest coffee dealers in the world is always to buy the old-fashioned Arbuckle's ARIOSA Coffee in the sealed packages. Don't ask for a pound of Mocha and Java, or buy by the price, for Coffee fluctuates and you cannot get the same coffee for the same price all the time unless you pay too much for it. Most of the so-called Mocha and Java Coffee is simply masquerading, and is not nearly as good coffee for you as Arbuckle's ARIOSA, the blend of the Brazilian Coffees most suitable to the taste and health of American people. By the looks there is no difference between roasted Java and Brazilian Coffees; many people drink Brazilian but pay for Java. The principal difference is that Arbuckle's costs you less. It is a mistake to believe that a high price guarantees quality. When you buy Arbuckle's ARIOSA Coffee, you get a full one pound package of the leading Coffee of the world. Its sales for 37 years are greater than the combined sales of all the other packaged coffees. By giving better Coffee for the money, we have built up a business exceeding the combined businesses of the four next largest coffee firms in the whole world. If your dealer will not supply the genuine, write to ARBUCKLE BROS., New York City.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Book of Swamp-Root, pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policyholders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co. contain special and peculiar advantages which are not combined in the policies of any other company. Examine these advantages before placing your insurance. You owe it to your family to have the best.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By F. M. Davison. Railroad Ave.

BEAUTY OF HUMANITY.

March 10, '07. (Gen. 16.19-25.)

We live in an age of rapid transit, of revolutionary movements, of wonderful development. That day is counted lost which does not bring to us some new thing. The first thing we ask on opening our eyes in the morning is, What's the news? and unless there has been some prodigious excitement overnight, we are disappointed. We have an appetite for the sensational, and a multitude of servants cater to our depraved taste. We Americans especially, are ailed for our love of the spectacular and surprising and our abhorrence of slow coach methods. In other lands men take time to consider and decide afterwards. We decide first and consider afterwards. We have not so many moss-grown ruins of buildings as the Old World, but the country is strewn with ruined enterprises from one end to the other. We have little use for horses that cannot trot in two minutes and anticipate the hour when we shall all be able to fly. On the race course of life we do not propose to take anybody's dust. We are the avant couriers of all creation.

And yet we should be a more successful nation if we had more of the old-fashioned graces, and were not forever in a sweat about something. It may be beneficial to consider the career of one who lived a life of self-abnegation and repose centuries ago. Isaac, the son of Abraham, was such a character. If there ever was a man who lived a placid life, it was that man. There is no ripple on the surface of his career. From his birth to his death there were not incidents enough to make a headline in a modern newspaper. He was a commonplace man, an actor in no great public events, yielding instead of standing up for his rights, as meek as Moses. He was kicked and buffed about by Ishmael in his youth, yet he never struck back. He was led to an altar of sacrifice in his manhood, and he uttered no protest. Even his wife was forced to follow him by his father, and he took her for better or worse without cavil. He was robbed by the Philistines of the wells which his father had dug and he simply moved on to another place. He was deceived by his own children on his dying bed, yet he gave up his preferences without a murmur. And yet how much better it was for him, in his everyday experiences and posthumous fame, than as if he had fought for his rights, bravely squabbling with his neighbors, and every time he was humiliated, struck out whenever his corns were trod upon, and burst his pucker string in an effort to get even with his enemies.

It does not always follow that the man who makes the most noise in the world is the most useful. Brigadier-generals look nice on dress parade, but when it comes to a battle, the private soldier in dust-covered khaki does the business. The cork floats on the top of the wave and foolishly imagines it is directing the tide. It is possible to spread oneself out so thin as to be of no use anywhere. It does not follow that because one's name is in everybody's mouth that they have reached immortality. The weathercock on the cupola thinks it is the whole thing because it is conspicuous. It would not stay there long if it were not for the weather.

The tendency has ever been to scout the people who live the commonplace life. They are looked upon as having no ambition, no pluck, no desire to improve their condition. If a man smitten on one cheek does not turn the other, he is looked down upon as a weakling. He is lacking in grit, he has no spirit, he will let it pass. He is the butt of ridicule. It seems a pretty hard thing to do, to pull up stakes and move because you are crowded by your neighbors, yet it is not always the worst thing that can happen to a man to be compelled to move. In Isaac's case it proved to be a blessing in disguise. He kept his temper, which was good for his health, and he got the best of his oppressors. He proved in that early age that it is the meek and not the bullies who shall inherit the earth.

A humdrum, commonplace life, who does not know what that means. Three-fourths of those who read these words are living it. Nothing ever remarkable has happened to them, nothing ever will. They will move through their little routine of life, until it is finished without ever doing anything heroic. Yet these are the very lives that prove their worth. It is the hardest task in the world to live a life like that in an uncomplaining, patient way. Anybody could do remarkable things if the eyes of the world were on them, if it takes genuine manhood and womanhood to be faithful to duty when nobody sees. That life is not a failure which stands in its place and fulfills its mission. The locomotive goes snorting over the rails sixty miles an hour and all eyes are fastened upon it, but if it were not for the plain, rough, homely, wooden sleepers hidden in the ballast of the roadbed, holding fast to duty, that magnificent engine would go into the ditch. Some people are engines and some are sleepers, but both are essential and equally valuable for the work of the world.

CURES AFTER THE DOCTORS HAVE FAILED.

RHEUMACIDE has cured thousands of cases of Rheumatism after all the doctors and all other means had failed. Rheumacide cured John F. Eline and others, of Baltimore, after the famous specialists of Johns Hopkins Hospital, the greatest hospital in the world, had failed. Rheumacide cured Austin Persalle, of Salem, Va., and D. H. Oimstead, the Norfolk, Va., contractor, after they had spent large sums on other remedies and the doctors had given up hope. Rheumacide cured Mrs. Mary Weiborn, of High Point, N. C., of rheumatism she had endured for 20 years. Rheumacide cured W. R. Hughes, of Atkins, Va., after the most famous New York specialists failed. There is a reason why it cures: Rheumacide is the latest discovery of medical science, and while powerful enough to sweep all germs and poisons out of the blood, it operates by purely natural methods, does not injure the most delicate stomach, and builds up the entire system.

LOVE IN A SHOP WINDOW.

It was midsummer eve in the shop window. The black-haired gentleman in evening dress turned and looked for the first time at the blond lady who was pouring tea from a silver teapot, and showing her absolutely faultless fingers, adorned with brilliant gems, and set off by a fall of rich duchesse lace. She was an entrancing creature with completely blonded hair, flawless skin and white complexion, perfectly moulded form and features, and most admirable little feet in high-heeled slippers, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. As the clock struck twelve, she gave a bewitching toss to her exquisite coiffure, and drew her lovely mouth into an expression of enchanting archness.

"Is time you looked," she said, pointing divinely.

The dark gentleman stroked his elegant little mustache with an aristocratic gesture. He, too, was a masterpiece of surpassing beauty. His hair reflected the light in curls hardly less polished than his gentlemanly boots. His glossy shirt front was not less spotless than his broad and manly brow. The fit of his clothes was perfection, and the peep allowed at his handkerchief of finest linen suggested an irreproachable taste in perfume.

"Pardon me," he answered, with a tender glance. "It was unfortunate that my valet when he established his here. You know our constitutional peculiarities that make it impossible for us to turn our heads on ordinary occasions."

"Well," said the lady, displaying her pearls in a faultless smile, "you seem to be making up for it now."

"I would indeed be foolish did I not," he answered. "May I ask if this is your first season out?"

"Yes," she smiled, "and so I am timid about being stared at."

"Ah," he laughed, "that is an inconvenience to which one of your face and figure must accustom herself."

"True," she answered, "this lace gown and the hat came from Paris and are worth several thousand dollars. Next winter I am to play bridge, in velvet, with a set of emeralds. Don't you think this is an elegant window?" she added with a touch of girlish enthusiasm.

"Not," he answered with a blasé air: "not bad." They were having afternoon tea on a green awning under the spreading branches of an oak, with children playing in the foreground and a church in the distance.

"I rather prefer the window to myself," he continued. "I once spent some pleasant weeks in a beach scene with real sand and pebbles, and ladies in the surf. I was a military gentleman on another occasion in an automobile, and one winter I attended the most delightful collation."

"You have seen much," she sighed. "You are a man of the world."

"Ah, yes," he said. "My partner in the dance, shall I ever forget her?"

"What became of her?" asked the blond lady, rather anxiously, and she would have spilled the tea had there been any to spill.

"She succumbed to the heat," he answered—"the extreme delicacy of her constitution."

"Ah," sympathized the other, looking a little worried herself, for it was exceedingly hot, and she felt rather like melting. "It is a trying position, ours, constantly in the public eye."

"Yes," he answered, "models to the entire human race. There is nothing so perfect out of Bertha M. Clay's novels. It is hard to feel oneself so perfect—one little fault would be a comfort."

"Ah, me!" murmured the blond lady, rather anxiously, and she would have spilled the tea had there been any to spill.

"Then, affecting to be perfect, she was her clothes."

TENTH ANNUAL REPORT

to care for the sick and afflicted. In fact, we were unable at all times to admit all that applied to us, owing to lack of room. After giving the matter considerable thought, we decided that a Nurses' Home would relieve the situation, and I am pleased to report that the outlook is very favorable for the building of the Home during 1907. By far the larger number of our patients are those who are unable to contribute anything to the support of the Hospital, hence our financial requirements are necessarily increasing year by year. I consider that we should make a special effort to secure an Endowment Fund for the Hospital, and I sincerely trust that each and every member of our Board of Directors and also every one who may be interested in the work we are doing, will become thoroughly convinced of the importance of an Endowment Fund, and put forth their best efforts to start one even if for a small amount. I trust that in time we may see this fund grow to at least One Hundred Thousand Dollars, which, if invested at 5 per cent, would give us an income of Five Thousand Dollars per year.

The report of the Superintendent, Miss Wise is as follows: "It gives me pleasure to report the official year of the Hospital, ending December 1906, as the most successful in its history. The progress and improvement in all its departments has been steady. Its past history, its struggles to succeed in its labors, its present success in the treatment of diseases, has earned for it a high place in the minds of the medical profession, and the people of the Peninsula. Only those who are closely identified with the service of the Hospital can appreciate the labor involved or its ups and downs. To enable us to maintain the high position the Hospital has earned, and to do justice to the work which has made this position attainable we will have to increase the Nursing corps. It is gratifying to know that you will in the near future, build for us a Nurses' Home, enabling us to accept a larger number of Nurses into the school. We can then, more successfully, carry on the work of the Hospital and School and ultimately become a greater benefit to the public at large."

A long report of the work accomplished by the Board of Lady Managers was also submitted. This Board makes special mention of the generous donations sent by the members of the County Auxiliary of such things as have been most useful and acceptable in the line of fruits, vegetables and groceries, as well as some remittances of money. The interest felt in the Hospital by the general public is extremely gratifying to us as attested by the ready response and attendance of the town's people wherever the members of the Board have tried, in some special way, to increase their source of revenue. The generous donations sent to the Hospital during the past year show the growing and continued interest in the work. The Board of Lady Managers are given large supplies of linen, and furnished the Nurses dining room with curtains and rugs, and through their efforts the County Auxiliary Board has sent large donations of fruits and canned goods."

The treasurer's report shows disbursements for the year as follows: Housekeeping, $4,899.75; fuel, machinery, etc., $500.00; drugs and surgical supplies, $1,066.00; superintendent and nurses, $3,076.00; maintenance, $3,000.00; improvements, $3,500.00. The receipts included $7,500.00 from the state, $300.00 from Wisconsin county, $3,500.19 from patients, and $302.00 from operating room.

Mr. Linwood Bounds gave a party last Saturday night to a few of his friends. All report a good time.

Our boys were out for baseball practice last Saturday. Our sister towns will have to hustle or less be behind at the end of the season.

Mr. Perry H. Waller, an aged farmer living about two miles from here, died last Tuesday morning of old age. Mr. Waller never held any political office but was highly respected by all who knew him. He was one of the oldest citizens of this district, being eighty-two years old. He leaves a daughter and son to mourn their loss. His remains were laid to rest Thursday morning in the M. P. Church yard of Mardela. The service was conducted by Rev. E. P. Perry.

The Rev. Mr. Ivey, who has been assisting Rev. B. G. Parker in his meeting at Athol, returned home last week.

On account of sickness the president of the M. P. Conference did not preach here last Thursday night as was expected.

Letter to U. W. Folk.

Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir: A man fed his hens half meal and half sawdust: he thought they wouldn't know the difference. He concluded they did when the eggs hatched woodpeckers.

Another man painted his house with a paint that was made of half paint substitutes. He didn't know the difference—not till he paid the painter.

He had 30 gallons to pay for, 30 instead of 10. Got fooled $12.50 on the paint.

He had 30 days' wages to pay for, 30 instead of 10. Fooled $30 in wages. He got a poor job besides. He paid too much for his eggs, and they hatched woodpeckers. Yours truly,

F. W. Devos &amp; Co.

The Spring Opening at Hochschild Kohn &amp; Co's Baltimore.

We are sure our readers will welcome the return to our columns of the interesting announcements of Hochschild Kohn & Co. Baltimore's Best Store.

The announcement this week is of the Spring Opening—an event that invariably attracts the well dressing women of all Maryland, as well as numbers from the bordering states and from Washington.

If you intend to do your shopping away from home, there is more reason than ever for your going to Baltimore's Best Store this spring. The showing of new and fashionable merchandise is broader than at any previous season, quite as broad and as fine as in any store in New York, while the prices are very moderate.

Hochschild, Kohn & Co., have earned a reputation for the fairest kind of dealing with everybody, and we can assure every reader of this paper that trading with them will prove to be a pleasure in every way.

They have one rule in regard to purchases made from them, your money back if you're not perfectly satisfied. They do not make anybody feel that they are doing them a favor when they give back the money either.

If you go to Baltimore next week, you will find that the time has been well spent, for the surest way to get acquainted with the new styles is to go to Hochschild, Kohn & Co.'s.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

Largely Attended Meeting Last Evening. Many Prominent Association Workers in Convention. The Program.

The opening meeting of the first biennial conference of the Young Men's Christian Association of Delaware and the Peninsula was held last evening at Asbury M. E. Church. Rev. Hiram W. Kellogg, D. D., of Wilmington, made a pleasing address in which he gave a thorough outline of the good work being accomplished by the Association. The meeting was preceded by a song service, conducted by W. C. Montgumery, of Cumberland.

The morning and afternoon sessions today will be held at Wicomico Presbyterian Church, the first one of which will be a Bible study class at 8:30 conducted by Rev. Francis E. Smiley, D. D., of Denver.

In the afternoon Dr. Smiley will conduct another Bible Study at 2 o'clock, and he will be followed by sectional conferences on "Town and County Work" by Mr. W. R. Lunk of Washington, and "Student Work" by Mr. C. H. Nuttle, also of Washington. On Saturday evening the meeting will be held in the Assembly room of the Masonic Temple and will be addressed by Mr. Geo. F. Tibbitts, Inter-State Secretary, of Washington, who will deliver his extremely interesting lecture "The Association as a World Power" illustrated by 50 stereoscopic views.

On Sunday morning at 9:30 there will be devotional services conducted by Dr. Smiley in Asbury M. E. Church and at 11 o'clock the various speakers who will be in attendance at the conference will speak in the various churches of the town. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a mass meeting for men will be addressed by Dr. Smiley, in the Methodist Protestant Church. There will be a mass meeting for boys at 8 o'clock p. m. in the North Division Street Baptist Church addressed by Mr. Cameron Beck, upon the subject the "Great Divide".

In the evening the farewell meeting will be held in the Methodist Protestant Church at 8 o'clock and will be addressed by a number of prominent speakers.

"I Had a Cough That Friends Feared Would End My Life."

I Took Pe-ru-na And Am Well.

MRS. GRACE JANSON.

Mrs. Grace Janson, 1400 Madison street, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"Typhoid fever left me with a complication of diseases. I had a terrible pain in my left side and had a cough that all my friends feared would soon end my life."

"My doctor came to see me three times a week, but could do me no good. He could not account for the pain in my left side and could give me nothing to relieve me."

"About this time I began taking Peruna and before I had taken one bottle I had hopes of getting better. By the time I had taken the second bottle, my cough was entirely gone and I felt like a new being."

"I took just three bottles of Peruna and am entirely well and feel better than I have felt for years. I thank God and Dr. Hartman for my recovery."

Mrs. M. F. Jones, Burning Springs, Ky., writes:

"We have been using Peruna for some time and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the thousand and one ailments of humanity."

"No family should ever be without it, for it is an unfailing cure for colds, and it is an excellent remedy to prevent and relieve croup."

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CATCHING COLD.

In such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

By reason of their delicate structure the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise, therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible. Peruna has been found a most reliable remedy for catarrh of the lungs and catarrh of the throat, and it is the only remedy that will cure the cold in the very early stages.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Apostolic Holiness Church And Adjoining Residence Devoured in Flames in South Salisbury.

The edifice of the Apostolic Holiness Church, and the adjoining residence of Mr. George H. Jones were completely ruined by fire on Thursday night. The alarm was sounded shortly before eleven o'clock, and although the fire department responded promptly to the call, the church building was enveloped in flames and the residence of Mr. Jones was already in a blaze when the apparatus arrived.

Owing to the bad condition of the streets, the Department was compelled to make a circuitous route to the scene of the fire, causing a delay.

The church was completely destroyed, as a loss to the congregation of about $1100.00 with insurance of $900.00. The residence of Mr. Jones was badly damaged and was covered with insurance, all the furniture being saved. The origin of the fire which started in the church, is unknown, but as there was a wood fire in the stove at the time it is thought that it was caused by an overheated stove.

The Apostolic Holiness Church, commonly known as the Sanctified Church, was organized in this city about three years ago by Rev. H. P. Adams, and has at present about thirty-five members. The present pastor, G. L. Helsby, has had charge of the work here during the past year. Mr. Helsby states that the building will be replaced at an early date.

ANOTHER DRUG STORE.

Store Room Formerly Occupied By Dr. Truitt Leased For Pharmacy, To Open April 15th.

A deal was consummated yesterday by which the large store room on Main Street owned by Dr. Chas. K. Truitt, was leased to Mr. John M. Tolson of Ohiostown, who will open a retail drug store. The matter has been under consideration for some time and now that the lease has been signed, the work of installing fixtures will be started at once. Mr. Tolson expects to occupy the premises by the fifteenth of April.

MANY DAMAGE SUITS.

Entered On Docket For Trial During March Term Of Court. Suits Involving Heavy Damages Against Railroad Companies.

Among the civil suits which will come up before the March term of the Circuit Court is the case of J. Wesley Riggins, Jr., who has entered suit against the Mayor and Council of Salisbury for $2,000 damages. The narrative alleges that by reason of a large pool of water being allowed to stand in front of his premises on the Snow Hill road, he was stricken with typhoid fever and was confined to his room for seven weeks and was unable to perform any work for nearly four months. Plaintiff claims that his doctor's bill was $180.00, and that he lost his wages $45 a month, for about four months. The plaintiff is represented by E. H. Walton, the city by L. Atwood Bennett.

The suit of Miss Nannie B. Howeth vs. Zora H. Brinsfield, removed from Dorchester county, is docketed for trial again. This is a suit for slander and was tried at the September Term, but the plaintiff suffered non-pros because of lack of allegations in narr and proof. A new suit has been brought and new allegations set forth in narr. Goldsborough and Fletcher and Ellegood, Freney and Waller represent the plaintiff; John R. Pattison and Toadvine and Bell the defendant.

Other damage suits aggregating $25,000 are brought against the B. O. and A. Railway Company and the N. Y. P. and N. R. R. Company.

The suits involving the heaviest damages are those brought by M. T. Davis, B. T. Barker, A. B. Truitt, G. A. Shookley and T. M. Truitt, all of Pittsville, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The amount involved is estimated at $10,000 to $20,000. The plaintiffs, who are large strawberry shippers, claim that by reason of the failure of the railroad company to deliver the cars of berries in Boston, Providence and other New England points in time for the early markets they sustained great losses and to cover such losses they have brought suit.

Benjamin S. Pusey sues the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company for $250 damages for losses alleged to have been sustained by fire caused from sparks from locomotives.

Peter F. West, father of Charles H. West, sues the above railroad company for $10,000 for the death of his son. The narr alleges that the son was a passenger on a train from Ocean City, and when between the above named point and Whaleyville he was arrested by employees of the railroad and while in their charge was in some manner pushed from the moving train, sustaining injuries which resulted in his death.

Elridge James by his next friend Stephen H. Long, sues the company for damages alleged to have been sustained by falling from a moving train between Pocomoke City and Salisbury. The plaintiff claims that the cars were overcrowded and that for this reason he was compelled to ride on the platform of the car and was pushed off. He sues for $5,000.

Peculiar Will Case.

According to the latest developments in the case of the will of the late Edward F. Sayre, of N. J., it is thought that his brother and relatives will contest the will on the ground of undue influence.

Mr. Sayre, who came to this city about three months ago, suffering with cancer, at his death left all of his real and personal property to Mrs. Emma Booth, who nursed him during his illness.

His estate is valued at about $6000.00 and it is thought that his brother and relatives will contest the will. It is not known whether the executors will file the caveat in the state of New Jersey or in this country.

Attorney A. M. Jackson has retained by Mrs. Booth, and the executors are represented by counsel, New Jersey.

A Surprise Party.

A number of Miss Roy Pusey's friends gave her a very enjoyable surprise party last Thursday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Malone, Broad Street. Several very interesting games were indulged in during the evening, among them was a penny contest for which prizes were awarded to Miss Ada Ellingworth and Mr. Charles Ralph. Refreshments were served during the evening, consisting of ices, cake and bobwhites. Those present were: Misses Mollie Hughes, Katie Anderson, Cora Turner, Stella, Ada, and Rose Ellingworth, Lela Patrick, Daisy Britton, Ham, Messrs. Carl Brewington, Vanhaes Oallie, Ray Hearn, Charles Ralph, John Farlow, Cecil Patterson, Charlie Ward, Oracy Parker, Spencer Cooper, Carl Jones.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT.

Moving Pictures To Be Exhibited At The Skating Rink Tonight. Rink To Be Closed Three Days Each Week.

The entertainment at the skating rink tonight promises to be delightful in every feature. The management has secured Mr. E. O. Potter, who will exhibit his Life Moving Picture show. An excellent program has been arranged by Mr. Potter and in addition to the moving pictures, Miss Ruby Mills has been engaged and will sing two illustrated songs.

It has been announced by Mr. Showell, proprietor of the Rink, that beginning with next week, the rink will be open for skating only three days of each week. The regular sessions will be on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. This change is made on account of the coming warm weather, and it also enables Mr. Showell to conduct the rink in Crisfield three days each week.

Salisburyans have seemingly enjoyed roller skating and it was recently stated by a man who has visited skating rinks all over the country, that the people of Salisbury were by far the best skaters he had ever seen, notwithstanding the fact that the rink has only been open about three months.

Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church.

Reports made to the Fourth Quarterly Conference of this church, which was held on Wednesday evening, 13th and largely attended by the official members, indicate a very prosperous year.

The total of Benevolent contributions will amount to $1,017. The Ladies Mite Society has increased its membership and taken on new vigor.

The Senior Epworth League has organized a new Department for the systematic study of the Life of Christ. The Junior League now numbers 80 members having quadrupled its list. Mrs. Martindale is the Superintendent. The progress of the Sunday School is shown in the following figures: Officers and teachers, 34; scholars, 400; average attendance 180, conversions 40.

The Ushers Union has been reorganized and has doubled its membership of young men.

The pastor reported having made 987 pastoral visits.

A revival service here during January of marked interest resulted in 40 conversions.

The church has largely augmented its memberships during the year. Number of full members one year ago 351. Deceased 4.

Received this year by certificate 47. Received from probation into full membership 13.

Total additions, 106. Present number of full members, 359.

Present number of probationers, 46. Total 423.

This showing is no doubt very gratifying to Dr. Martindale and the congregation of this earnest church.

—At a recent meeting of the Stumpage Lumber Co., the original capital stock of $25,000, was increased to $50,000.

GOOD ROADS EXTENDING.

Highway Department Busy. Many Applications From Counties For State Aid—Farmers See Benefits of Improvement.

State Road Engineer W. W. Crosby says the prospects are that there will be more road-making in Maryland this spring and summer than ever before in the history of the State. Said he:

"When we first made the new roads on the Eastern Shore and in the various counties of the Western Shore, the farmers did not pay much attention to them. Any road is a good enough road for a farmer in the summer time. This winter however, the farmer began to see the difference, and just as soon as he realized what an advantage a real road was over a road he began to get busy petitioning the County Commissioners for more road repairs. This has caused more applications for State aid in building and repairing roads than ever before in the history of road-making."

There is but little work being done now under the supervision of the State Engineer on account of the condition of the roads. On the Eastern Shore some work is being done. A road is being built in Caroline county, near Denton, and another small stretch is being built in Dorchester county. Application has already been made for State Aid for roads in Worcester and Wicomico counties, and as conditions are ripe for a commencement of the work, Mr. Crosby expects that they will be started very shortly.

On the Western Shore there is little work being done just now, but some workmen are pottering around in Montgomery, Carroll and Baltimore counties. Mr. Crosby learns that there are many applications before the County Commissioners of a number of counties for roads, which petitions have not as yet been acted upon. County Commissioners have already put in claims for State aid, however that will insure more being started than ever before.

It is expected that work will be resumed shortly on the New Washington boulevard. The first stretch to be tackled will be about seven miles—between Waterloo, in Howard county and Laurel in Prince George's county. A crusher is now being erected near Waterloo, and upon its completion, of the roads have assumed proper shape, work will be started at once.

Mr. Crosby says that Baltimore county alone has applied for road repairs and road building that will total $90,000 this year. Just how much of this amount it will be possible to complete this year he cannot say at present.

Mr. Crosby will leave next week for Pittsburg, where he will attend the convention of road-builders, who will hold a three days session under the auspices of the American Road-Builders' Association. Most of the members are State and county road supervisors. Mr. Crosby has been asked to address the Convention on the work being done in Maryland for road improvement on the opening day, which is Tuesday of next week.

The Beautiful New Millinery Is Ready For You To See.

Search the city over, and you won't find Hats as handsome, nor prices as pleasing.

We've outdone New York—the statement is modest, and easily proved.

Why shouldn't every woman wear fine millinery? And why shouldn't she be able to get it at home?

And yet—until this store began, it wasn't possible to get a really fine hat in the city. Our older customers tell us they would be told: "We'll send to New York for you." Sometimes they waited, but quite as often they went to New York themselves.

It's all different now—and the beautiful new millinery for spring is ready for you to see and enjoy.

The Foremost Paris Milliners are Represented.

We'll not print their names—else you'd soon see the same names used as a mere matter of advertising. But the hats are here—and the names are in the hats, just as they were placed there by the famous artists of the French capital.

And yet—you may prefer a H. K. &amp; Co. hat to a Paris hat. And be wise in your preference.

The New Untrimmed Hats and Trimmings.

More attractive than ever, wider variety than ever.

The Pre-Eminence Of This Store In Matters Of Dress For Women.

This remarkable exhibition of Costumes, Suits, Coats and Skirts for Women is bound to arouse a deal of enthusiasm—there has never been a showing in this city to equal it. Yet it is simply an other illustration of the Hochschild, Kohn &amp; Co. position, and the results accomplished.

The assemblies is inspiring, fascinating and all sufficient. Here is the best work of the world's best designers and practical garment makers—a vast, exhaustive, satisfying stock, meeting the exact individual wish of every woman and girl. Everything good that has been brought forward by the season is simply represented.

You will find that our prices are very moderate—lower, in fact, than you can get equal garments for in the few stores that have equal garments.

A License To Marry.

An excellent story is told by Kate Douglas Wiggin, the popular writer. A negro servant, wishing to get married, asked his master to buy him a license in the neighboring town. The master being in haste, did not ask the name of the happy woman, but as he drove along he reflected on the many tender attentions that he had seen John lavish upon Euphemia Wilson, the cook, and concluding that there could be no mistake, had the license made out in her name.

"There's your license to marry Euphemia," he said to the servant that night. You're as good as married already, and you owe me only two dollars.

The darkey's face fell. "But, Mass Tom, Euphemia Wilson ain't de lady I've gwine to marry. Dat wan't nothin' mo'n a little flirtation." Georgiana Tompkins, the landlady, is the one I've gwine to marry. "O, well, John," said the master amused and irritated at the same time, "there's no great harm done. I'll get you another license tomorrow, but it will cost you two dollars more of course."

The next morning the darkey came out to the carriage as it was starting for town, and leaving confidentially over the wheel, said, "Mass Tom, you needn't git me no udder license. I'll use the one I've got. I've been 'inkin' in' it over in de night, an' to tell you de troof, Mass Tom, de conclusion o' my judgment is dat dar ain't two dollars worth o' difference between dem two ladies."

Liquor Question Again.

This as well as other sections of Delaware will soon be in the throes of another contest over the sale of liquor.

By a vote of 24 to 6, the House of Representatives has concurred in the bill providing for a special election on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of this year, on the question of whether the sale of manufacture of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, except for medicinal or sacramental purposes, shall be allowed by law in the State. The vote will be taken over the entire State but the result, it is expected, will apply to the four Local Option districts into which the State is divided by the Constitution—Washington city, rural New Castle county, Kent county and Sussex county. Thus, should the vote of the entire State be against the sale or manufacture of liquor, but the vote of one or more districts be in favor of it, the manufacture and sale of liquor would be permitted in those districts which voted affirmatively, and prohibited in the others. On the other hand, should the vote of the entire State be in favor of license, and the vote of one or more of liquor would be lawful only in those districts which voted to make it so. At least this is the contention of those who are responsible for the law. It may be that a decision of the courts will be necessary to determine this matter.

Letter to Kennedy and Mitchell.

Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sirs: It is a great thing for a merchant to have the exclusive sale, in his region of course, of anything wanted by everybody. There are two ways to treat such goods. One is: put the price up and make big profit. The other way is: be fair and make more. Devoe is the paint that takes least gallons and costs least money a house, a job, a year, a lifetime—no matter how you reckon your costs, except by the gallon—Devoe is the best caretaker and costs least money. Don't forget that the principal part of the cost of paint is putting it on. Less gallons, less cost. Don't forget that another principal part of economy is long wear; less gallons, less cost and long wear. It is a great thing to have the exclusive sale of popular goods, of goods that make friends, of goods that enrich both buyer and seller. Devoe is perhaps only ten per cent better than one or two others; but ten is a plenty—it's 200 or 300 better than many. There's many a merchant who hasn't found out his goods. It doesn't take a man long to find out that Devoe is the least money paint and why, no matter which side he is on.

Yours truly

F. W. DEVOE &amp; CO.

Motors On Land And Water.

Surprisingly rapid as have been the developments in the manufacture and use of automobiles in the United States, there are not wanting enthusiasts who predict that it will be closely imitated if not exceeded by the popularity of the modern "motor boat"—a term which is sufficiently elastic to comprehend many styles of craft from the low-priced skiff with a tiny gasoline engine up to the sumptuous and handsome vessels with ample cabin accommodations and the ability to make long cruises off-shore.

While plenty of the latter are turned out, advocates of the new form of open-air, sport assert that in one respect at least it possesses advantage which do not belong to automobiling. The price, even of a comparatively low-powered car which has room for four or more persons, remains high. For very much less than this sum people with a knack for mechanics and a taste for navigation in the streams, bays and lakes of the country can get boats which will afford space for a whole family.

It is not unlikely that there may be a basis of truth for the declaration that the next year or two will see a notable expansion in this form of sport and recreation. But there is also the rather important possibility that many individuals who have neither mechanical knowledge, the ability to keep their heads level in a quick emergency nor the capacity to swim for any considerable distance, will buy motor boats and step out joyously, with as many of their friends and relatives as they can take along.

This process will be pretty sure to result in an increased number of accidents on the water when the warm months come. In an automobile smash-up the victims are at any rate on solid land and usually not far from help. When motor-boats are wrecked or sunk through storms, collisions, explosions or other mishaps, those on board will be apt to find themselves in quite a different predicament. That is a sufficient reason why due precaution should be taken in their operation—but it is not a reason which is likely to have as much weight as it deserves with a good many youngsters who will doubtless experiment with them this summer.—Phila. Bulletin.

"Every living creature is more or less of a barometer," said the forecaster. You are a barometer, so am I, so is a tortoise, so is a duck, a frog, pig, small, a spider—"

He paused to take breath, then he resumed:

"The human barometer has been recognized for centuries. Don't you know the old saw?"

"A coming shower your shooting oars presage."

Old aches will throb, your hollow tooth will rage;

If you be wise then go not far to dine, You'll spend in coach-hire more than save in wine."

"Then there is Jenner's couplet:

"Hark how the chairs and tables creak,

Old Betty's joints rattle on the rack."

"Snails though in dry weather they stay hid till evening, come out if rain is at hand, and may be seen climbing up walls and tree-trunks, seeking a place where they may get the full benefits of the shower."

"The tortoise, before a rain, goes about actively, as it were on tiptoes."

"Spiders, usually solitary, assemble together on a wall or bank before a storm."

"Ducks quack and pigs snort when rain is due."

"Chickens roll in the dust before a storm."

"Camels foretell a storm by sniffing and roaring."

"Flies and other insects descend from their accustomed heights, flying low."

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY

MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case?

Because they have neglected themselves, so every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other one remedy. Such letters as the following

MARYLAND FARMS.

Fifteen farms at a sacrifice. Buildings on all. Plenty of wood and timber to support them. Good water, fine climate, two railroads, good schools and churches. Near the ocean, abundance of water products. Ideal for horticulture. Harrison's trees are a sample of what they will produce. Climate modified by ocean and bay. Come and look, is all we ask. Farms of 150 to 1,000 acres. Six thousand acres at an average of $10 to $25 per acre. The Eastern Shore of Maryland, because of its location, is becoming the garden of the Northern and Eastern cities; so the prices are only temporary.

Why go to the wilds and spend your life making a farm and a home, when for less money, in a better climate and nearer the markets, you can immediately have what you want? Yours

TRADE INCREASE.

Trade of the United States with its noncontiguous territories amounted to 181 million dollars in the calendar year 1906, against less than 100 millions in 1904. Of this total of 181 millions, 59 millions, speaking in round terms, was merchandise shipped to those territories and 72 millions merchandise received from them. In addition to this, there was received from Alaska over 18½ million dollars' worth of gold produced in that territory, and 6½ millions of foreign gold presumably chiefly from the British territory adjacent. Of the 59 million dollars' worth of merchandise sent to the noncontiguous territories, about 22 million dollars' worth went to Porto Rico, 17½ millions to Alaska, 12½ millions to Hawaii and millions to Philippine Islands. The shipments to Porto Rico have increased from 12 million dollars in 1904 to 22 millions in 1906; those to Alaska, from 11½ millions in 1904 to 17½ millions in 1906; those to Hawaii, from 11 millions in 1904 to 12½ millions in 1906 and those to the Philippine Islands from 5 millions in 1904 to a little over 7 millions in 1906.

The value of merchandise received from Hawaii has increased from 25½ million dollars in 1904 to 29 millions in 1906; from Porto Rico from 13 millions in 1904 to 20½ millions in 1906; from Alaska, from 10½ millions in 1904 to 12 millions in 1906; while the Philippine Islands show a slight reduction, the figures of 1904 being 10½ millions and those of 1906 a little over 10 millions in value.

FALL IN STOCKS.

It would seem from the recent developments on Wall Street that the confidence of the public in the stocks of the large corporations has at last been thoroughly shaken. It would appear from the investigations of some of these corporations during the past year, that the big financiers, (who are now on their knees to Pres. Roosevelt begging him to let them and their ill gotten gains alone and no farther seek to draw their short coming and dubious—to say the least—methods of accumulating same, from their dark abode in the history of past crimes) have only themselves and their methods to blame for this shaking of the public's confidence in their securities. Judging from the investigations that have been made, the managers of our railroad and other corporations have tried to find out down to a nicety just how much water the public would buy and having once ascertained this, they then proceeded to put it in, to the last drop. The unfortunate part of the matter is that the public hold this watered stock, and when an attempt is made to get at these promoters and corporations it can only be done at the sacrifice of the money paid out by the innocent public for these worthless or nearly so—stocks and securities. However hard it may fall on the innocent investor, the only way to re-establish public confidence in these corporations is the squeezing out to the last drop all the water in the stock.

place the capitalization at somewhere near the real intrinsic value. Whether or not the public was to any extent speculating in Wall Street when the "bottom" dropped out can not of course be definitely ascertained only by those who are interested in keeping the knowledge to themselves, but is generally believed to have been profitable to a great extent.

art of buying but this fine art of selling what you have not, is left to the past masters in the crooked science of finance—the eminently "respectable" financiers and their allies, the professional operators, who generally go under the name of brokers and members of the Stock Exchange. If any were caught in the recent fall perhaps a lesson will be taught and they will learn to fear Wall Street. Fire after their recent burning, although so many lessons of like kind have been given in the past that it would seem hopeless to think such will be the result. Well then, keep it up and you will find that in Wall Street and manipulating slot machines that the house will get it all if you only stick at it long enough.

SPRING MODES

In New York. Skirts: Short And Long; Tucks A Popular Trimming; Spring Jackets; Long Coats; New Millinery.

The search for novelties is almost hopeless in any department of fashion and slight differences in cut or trimmings, constitute the sole variety now in sight. Walking skirts will be somewhat longer, as the short skirt has been carried to such an extreme that a reaction must ensue. First-class dressmakers insist that plaits around the hips must be fitted with exceeding nicety, which is an argument against ready-made skirts. Some prominent modistes are using the center plaits at back and front, which improves "the hang" and gives additional sweep to the lower edge. The incoming of skirt braid is quite probable, with the advent of the longer skirt.

Trimmings.

Simple tucks are seen on the larger proportion of new voiles, with perhaps a narrow fancy braid on the upper one, or an embroidered band in self-colors. Silk ruffles, so scant that they seem to be folds, are effective in pale hued wools, the silk exactly matching the stripe in color. A belt and sleeve facings in unison are a matter of course. Braiding, not flat, appears on any and all garments and a special advantage of this garniture is, that it can be done at home. Alternate bands of braiding on the dress material and any heavy lace, preferably Irish point or its imitation, is an elegant trimming for a voile suit jacket. Flat bands of Persian embroidery in varied widths are in high esteem, giving character to pale hued costumes or to white cashmere or broadcloth evening wraps. The lace appliques, with or without the addition of colored silk flowers, shown by James McCreery Co., are a revelation and range from narrow bands to those at least a foot wide.

Spring Jackets.

The independent jacket shows no special novelty. Varieties of the poncy coat and the Eton are uppermost. A smart Spring jacket has military frogs across the front, an ornamental which always imparts a certain dashing air. A pretty bolero jacket is cut all in one, the sleeves very full and falling to the elbow in graceful ripples. "All over" lace, or braided material is suitable for this jacket—a style especially becoming to slender figures. Another smart jacket is trimmed with double loops of large cord covered with silk, four loops being placed together, two on each side of double cord, passing over the shoulders and ending above the belt line at back and front. Straps hold the fullness in position just below the cord trimming giving a tight-fitting effect.

Drooping Brims Popular in Spring Millinery. Consequently the mushroom shape is foremost, and trimmed with a profusion of white or purple lilacs, with a single large crimson rose and abundant foliage by way of contrast; the result is fascinating. White chip is most in demand for these flowered hats, a stitched fold finishing the edge. Small toques and turbans are less expensive and more practical, and are trimmed with roses and ribbons. Shot taffeta ribbon in upright loops around a crown, or in a cluster at the left side, give a chic effect to both large or small hats. Cherries or red currants combined with crimson velvet evince the favor shown to crimson. Lucy Carter, Field Syndicate, Station W.

THE HAPPY SPRING TIME

On Its Way To The Hearts And Homes Of Men And Womenkind.

The year is young,
For the March winds blow,
And the flowers to blossom start.
In sheltered corners of the garden one may find the brave little snow-drop and the gay crocus hobnobbing with each other, telling us of the approach of spring, and one who has no snowdrops and crocuses of his own turns covetous eyes upon those of his neighbor.

For this is the season of the year when all men, however exalted or modest their estate, hear "the call of the soil" and want flowers, foliage and vines of their own.
To the person who owns large, rolling lawns and spacious gardens the question of what to plant is not a puzzling one, for he may have a bit of everything; but when there is only a two by four patch in the back yard, and perhaps a wee scrap of sod at the front door, one has to be very careful that the result of one's gardening propensities does not resemble a highly decorated Christmas tree.

Where space is limited the flower-lover can make no mistake in the use of vines to beautify his home. In fact, in many instances they are a positive necessity. Take for instance, the porch with a southern exposure. To make it habitable, and all porches should be out-of-door sitting rooms in summer, it has to be shielded from the sun's rays, which shine here the most of the day, and what more appropriate shelter could be chosen than a strong-growing climber? Moreover, the appearance of all houses of a cottage character is improved by the judicious use of vines about them. Perhaps there is an unsightly wall which spoils the whole effect of the garden. A quick growing vine planted at the foot of it will quickly turn it into a thing of beauty. Then there is the old tree, which of itself is hideous, but which you may have sentimental reasons for wishing to remain where it is. Plant about its roots the wisteria vine, and in a few years you will have, in its blooming season, a sight that your friends will come from afar to see.

In selecting vines the location should be considered first of all. For an arbor or summer house, the rapidly growing vine known as Dutchman's pipe, christi-ochia lipo, will prove very desirable, but the texture of the leaf is too coarse to be effective on porches. For this purpose nothing is better suited than the different varieties of clematis.
Roses, which were once in high favor for porches, are gradually being displaced by less heavy vines. The reason of this is not because of the dense shade which they make, but because of the numerous insects which infest them. These have to be fought with paris green and other poisons, and this one cannot use very well on the porch. Then, too, the foliage is not particularly ornamental, and there are few climbing roses which are constant bloomers.

But roses will always remain the best beloved of all flowers, and the climbing varieties are generally seen somewhere about the premises. They are particularly beautiful on arbors, and pergolas and the different varieties of ramblers make the early summer days in the garden chaotic in their beauty.

WARMING ARBUCKLE'S SLIGHTLY

MAKES THE GRINDING EASY

If you want to drink real coffee, buy a sealed package of Arbuckle's ARIOSA and grind it in your own kitchen as you want to use it. Roasted coffee loses its strength and flavor if exposed to the air, and even its identity as coffee after grinding. Loose coffee sold out of a bag, bin or tin is usually dusty and soiled by handling. Don't take it!

Conforms with all requirements of the National Pure Food Law, Government No. 2591, Enacted at Washington.

WHY SO WEAK.

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life

Away. Salisbury People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, disappears, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well.

J. E. Nelson, the well known famer, living on Main Street, one and a half miles north of Orinfield, says: "I have had kidney trouble for nearly twenty years, but of late it was more severe than formerly. I was troubled with backache, especially if I bent over for any length of time and then tried to straighten again. I also experienced a great deal of trouble with the kidney secretions which was annoying to say the least. I often had to get out of bed at night and frequently suffered a burning sensation in making passages. My son went down town one day and knowing of my condition got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I took a dose of them that night and continued to use them and it was but a short time before I noticed a change for the better. As a result of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I repose in them the greatest confidence

FOWELLVILLE.

From the weather we have had since Feb. 2nd, the old people here have concluded the ground hog saw his shadow the 2nd. However, we all must submit to the inevitable and trust in the Lord.

Our old friend, Jno. W. Kelly is much elated over his recent purchase of a large tract of timber land. He has a new saw mill and in a few days he expects to begin to realize the hope of his expectations.

We are glad to report our esteemed friend Mr. K. V. White much improved.

Mr. Beschamp Smith our miller will leave in a few days for a position in Snow Hill. He has our best wishes.

Mr. John H. Powell has purchased the property where Mr. Beschamp Smith now resides and will move his family as soon as Mr. Smith vacates.

Rev. Gray has married two more couples this week. Mr. William T. Littleton to Miss Annie May Davis, both of Mt. Pleasant and Mr. Henry Griffith to Miss Lillie Davis which is sixteen couples this conference year. The young people have certainly concluded to get married.

Pastor Gray rejoices because his salary is in sight and Conference collections are so near up. He desires to thank all of his parishioners for the uniform courtesy and kindness shown him. Especially does he feel grateful to Dr. Holland for curing the sick on the charge so he has not had a funeral among any of his patients. This is the first doctor he says, he has known for 23 years of his pastorate that has not lost a patient on the charge. Nothing succeeds like success, and if the doctor keeps up this fine record, I guess people will know who to send for when they get sick. His skill in medicine, courteous manner and, good sense, has endeared him to all who know him.

Rev. Gray preaches his last sermon for this conference year this Sabbath at St. John's, 10.30 a. m.; Friendship 2.30 p. m.; Wango, 7.30 p. m. A full attendance is desired. He will leave for conference Tuesday morning the 9th inst. He has had a unanimous invitation to return to this charge for another year.

Rev. Mr. Stockdale has had two flattering invitations to become pastor of certain churches in the M. P. Conference. His many friends here wish for him the highest amount of success wherever his lot may be. His 25 years of aggressive work here makes him eagerly sought by churches remote.

Miss Maggie Barbage has returned home from a visit to friends in Farmington.

Gray will leave town for Farmington at 10.30 a. m.

SHARPTOWN.

Floyd Green of Green's Opera Troupe was a caller on Al Rayno this week.

Miss Bertie Phillips, of Bethel, Del., was the guest of Miss Mattie Henry last week.

Miss Iva Bennett entertained a number of friends at her home on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Bertie Phillips of Bethel.

The schooner Hargrave arrived on Wednesday with a cargo of 16,000 bushels of shells to be used on the county road leading from Sharptown to Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Broday, Misses Lyda and Bertie Cault attended the singing concert in Seaford, Del., Monday evening given by the Green family of Philadelphia. This family have a fine musical talent and the many who availed themselves of the opportunity of being present were highly entertained.

The Railway is a scene of much activity this week.

The gasoline oyster boat being built for Capt. Walter Allmond of Allmondville, Va., was launched on Wednesday. Her dimensions are 70 feet keel, 20 feet beam, 14 feet depth of hold and will have three 25 horse power engines. She was named in honor of the builder, T. J. Sauerhoff and christened by Mr. Sauerhoff's son Harry.

The keel is laid and the work is progressing on the 1600 ton barge which is being built for the P. Dority & Co., of Baltimore.

The 550 ton Harbor Litter which is building for C. W. Crane & Co., of New York is nearly complete.

The Steamer Virginia owned by the Morris Fisher & Co., of Reedsville, Va. is undergoing repairs.

The Sharptown Base Ball Club have organized for the coming season and are open for challenges from teams of all the neighboring towns. Oland C. Phillips, Manager.

APPENDICITIS MAY BE RESULT

Of Sympathy. Strange Series Of Cases Inspires Odd Theory In Rochester.

Medical authorities and hospital boards here are wondering if there is not some mysterious but yet unfathomed infectious sympathy which produces appendicitis through over contact with those suffering from the disease. This state of mind is inspired by a remarkable series of attacks brought to light here.

Dr. Frederick Zimmer, chief surgeon in the City Hospital, spent Saturday afternoon operating on several critical cases, then went home to dine with his wife and daughter. Immediately after dinner, Miss Stella Zimmer, a handsome girl of about 16, suddenly became very ill. Her father was amazed to find that she was suffering from appendicitis, and to verify his diagnosis called in two special colleagues on the hospital board.

Miss Zimmer was taken at once to the hospital and operated on. The operation was performed about 9 o'clock. Before the dawn had fairly broken Dr. Zimmer was urgently called back to attend one of the nurses who had assisted him at his daughter's operation. While he was operating on that nurse he got word he would have to hurry and perform a similar operation on the other nurse, also suddenly stricken.

OUR STATE FISHERIES.

Showing How Maryland Stands in This Line.

The report on the fisheries of Maryland in Document No. 609 of the Department of Commerce and Labor, just issued, covers chiefly the year 1904. It shows that Maryland has 30,054 fishermen and 10,288 shoremen engaged in the fishing industry, as against 23,308 fishermen and 5,665 shoremen engaged in the fisheries of Virginia. Delaware has 1,495 fishermen and 4,040 shoremen in the industry, while Pennsylvania has 830 fishermen and 992 shoremen. As respects capital invested in the industry, Maryland has $5,983,465; Virginia, $4,614,894; Delaware, $69,905; Pennsylvania, $2,097,715. Virginia has increased her investment by $981,890 and Delaware by $12,798, but Maryland and Pennsylvania have since 1901 decreased their investments in fisheries. Maryland's product was valued at $3,536,060, Virginia's at $5,584,854, Delaware's at $239,660, Pennsylvania's at $167,499. In 1897 Maryland held the first place among the Middle Atlantic States in the value of its fisheries, but the decline of the oyster industry has now brought the State down to the fourth place. Since 1901 there has been a decline of 5,923 in the number of men engaged in the Maryland fishing industry, "mainly," says the report, "because of the decline of the oyster fishery and the consequent reduction of force in the oyster shucking and canning houses." The catch was 81,138,896 pounds, the decline since 1901 being 3 per cent in quantity and 11 per cent in value. There has been some increase in the catch of crabs and menhaden, but the greatest decreases have been in oysters and shad. Of the men afloat, 4,390 were on vessels fishing, 1,367 were aboard vessels engaged in transportation and 14,997 were employed in shore and boat fisheries. Market oysters from natural rock were worth $2,098,992, from private beds $301,650. Shad gave a value of $159,772; alewives, $128,000; catfish, $18,381; menhaden, $90,189; eels, $199,00; smelt, haddock, $28,297; striped bass, $72,207; hardhead, $105,999; soft crabs, $159,551; turtles, $456; terrapin, $2,718. Somerset county has the largest fishery product in point of value, the output consisting chiefly of oysters and crabs. Dorchester, however, catches more oysters than does Somerset. Talbot ranks first in the hard-crab industry, the crabs being picked from their shells and shipped in buckets. Worcester has a considerable oyster plant industry. Baltimore county and Baltimore city together have 6,448 men in the fishing business; Somerset, 5,996; Dorchester, 4,987; Talbot, 2,878; Anne Arundel, 2,331; St. Mary's, 1,419; Wicomico, 1,135; Calvert, 1,068. The statistics of Maryland's fishing industry indicate that the oyster planting law recently passed was much needed to maintain an industry which was rapidly declining.

Millinery in Salisbury This Week. See-ers

Out-vie Themselves in Looking At ### Pretty Things.

R. E. Powell & Co.

Indoors and outdoors, throngs of the faithful believers in fair and airy things, creations of fashion and beauty have been witnesses of the probably the most replete exposition of millinery ever brought to Salisbury. Great throngs were attracted to the large Department store of R. E. Powell & Co., the great attraction being the Spring Opening of Millinery, Dress Goods, Trimmings, Fancy Novelties and etc.

The store was elaborately decorated for the occasion, the color effect being lavender and green.

The Millinery parlor was divided off from the main part of the store by arches under each of which was suspended a basket of flowers. Under the arches were also suspended a great many small incandescent lights of green, red and white, the entire effect being one of great beauty.

In the dress goods department plaid seems to predominate although a great many plain soft materials were used. Among the pretty hats shown were an all white hat, wrapped in white mulline, top very high on side, with two shades of lilacs and large loops of soft white silk ribbon on band with a bunch of lilacs.

A medium sized hat, made perfectly plain of white chiffon, with binding of Pann velvet, cream applique on top of brim and on top of the crown, trimmed with three bunches of Buff roses arranged around the crown, a large bow of soft reeds green ribbon in back of the crown, small Buff roses with green ribbon bows underneath and on the hair.

An all black hat, straight brim with bands made of horsehair braid and chiffon folds, one black plume on top and one underneath with a bunch of black daisies on top, black silk bows underneath with a handsome jet ornament.

The windows were given especial attention and four very attractive ones were displayed. One window was given over to the Millinery art, another to Dress goods, another to white goods and lace, and the fourth to the display of Gents Furnishings.

The entire display of this firm was far ahead of any they have ever made and the business during the Opening days was beyond their expectation.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor's Opening display attracted great crowds during the days, and the large number of patterns hats were very much admired and many were sold.

A large yellow lace hat trimmed in plumes and roses and ribbon velvet, bent in puff fashion all the same shade, was very attractive.

A mushroom in the burnt straw, with yellow and brown roses and brown maline with brown satin facings. Another hat was the Mand Maller in the unfinished leghorn, trimmed in black ribbon velvet and American beauty roses and black maline. The feature of the hats this season is the decided all around droop and the large draped crown. All dark straw hats with much trimming will be the spring fad.

At Lowenthal's.

Lowenthal's Millinery Department was as usual the center of attraction. The latest model seemed to be on the mushroom and drooping effect giving the wearer a quaint and bewitching appearance.

One of the nobby hats shown was an unfinished leghorn, drooping effect, with the entire crown covered with lilacs and roses. Another beautiful French model was a Malise colored mushroom with two long plumes of the same color, finished off with roses and maline.

A child's hat of light blue with small buds and narrow velvet ribbon of various shades attracted a great deal of attention.

In the dress goods and silk departments, tau and brown colors seem to lead with trimmings to match, and fancy nets of the deep ecru with lace to match are among the novelties.

Birkhead—Shockey Co.

Were congratulated on every side on their large display of most attractive lines of up to date dress materials, latest spring trimmings, and fancy novelties, of this season's fashionable kinds. The ladies moved from one counter to another and not only purchased, but had words of praise for each article shown them, saying, "How reasonable!" and "such pretty styles!" Is it not proof itself that they have given the market a thorough search and gotten the pick of the manufacturers' line? They want to thank their friends who called to see them this day and they do not hesitate to say that they can find the most desirable goods that suit all sizes and purposes at this store.

SOME STATE POLITICS.

Interesting Gossip About Those in Maryland Public Life—The Judicial Bench

First District.

Much interest on the part of the Bar in the First Judicial Circuit is being manifested in the possible future changes in the personnel of that Bench. That circuit includes Worcester, Wicomico, Somerset and Dorchester counties. Judges Page, Holland and Lloyd constitute the present Bench. Circumstances are such that it will not be long before certain additions will be made. There are some of the Bench whose terms have nearly expired and who because of age or physical infirmities, are not likely to seek re-election. That opens up the possibility of an almost entirely new Bench. The present judges are all capable lawyers; and it is consequently admitted that the First Circuit has been particularly lucky. Judge Page is of sufficient distinction to claim for himself a State, rather than a mere circuit reputation. Judge Lloyd was Governor of Maryland, as successor to Governor McLane, at the time the latter was appointed ambassador to France. Judge Holland has long been on the Bench and is known by all lawyers of the State as being a more than worthy wearer of the ermine. No one of the three is a young man, however; nor is the health of any one of them of the very best order. Continuance on the Bench, therefore, would probably prove more irksome than welcome to them at this time. Hence, the suspicion that the next judicial election is liable to witness an absolutely fresh ticket. Hence, also, the quiet, judicial gossip heard now and then in the various counties of the circuit. There are three judgeships and four counties. One county, as a consequence, must go without a representative. At present Somerset, Wicomico and Dorchester are the counties having a judge. It is more than likely that Worcester is omitted from the present Bench, she will make a strenuous claim for a place in the next one. It is reported, however, that all four of the counties are training aspirants for the fight. Messrs. John R. Pattison and Laird Henry, of Dorchester, are among the "mentioned" of that county, while Mr. James Ellegood, of Wicomico, is said to be the preference in Salisbury. Mr. Stanford, of the firm of Miles & Stanford, in Somerset, is also suggested and so is Mr. Harry Waters, the present State's Attorney. Worcester likewise has her favorites.—Maryland Telegram.

Alleged Thieves Caught—Delmar In Darkness.

As the result of an attempt to steal copper wire from the Laurel-Seaford Electric Light Company, Delmar was put in complete darkness last Sunday night. After the discovery was made word of the theft was at once sent out and the local authorities found a clue which led to the arrest of five young men on whom were found pliers and other linemen's tools. Upon investigation it was found they had secured about 60 pounds of metal. At a hearing before Justice Tye, of Delmar, they gave their names as Harry Brannan, Charles Carter, Francis Golden, John H. Dickman, all of Wilmington and Charles E. Smith, of Soranton, Pa. They were committed to Georgetown, Del., jail to await the action of the grand jury. Sheriff Bradley and Deputy Waller, of this place went up to identify the prisoners, thinking they might recognize among them parties who had been committing like depredations lower down the Peninsula but did not succeed.

Arrested On Serious Charge.

Rayfield Graham, colored, who has been wanted by the authorities for the past three years was brought to Salisbury Tuesday morning by Constable P. C. Deane and put in jail. The negro structure was in overhauling him, but had to call in help to get the handcuffs on. He continued to struggle even after the "nippers" were on but only succeeded in lacerating his own wrists. Deputy Waller has been looking for Graham for quite a while there being two writs out for him. The charges against him are one for attempted rape and one for carrying concealed weapons. Graham is a very vicious looking negro.

BANK IN NEW YORK

Mr. M. Frank Dennis, Brother Of Mrs. V. Perry, Of Salisbury, For President.

$200,000 Capital, $40,000 Surplus.

Formal announcement was made Tuesday that the European-American National Bank of New York would be opened on April 15 at Day and Greenwich streets. The capital is to be $200,000 and the surplus $40,000.

In speaking of the purpose of the new institution the announcement says:

The interest that brought about the merger of the ranks in the produce district are regarded unfavorably by a large number of the depositors in the banks composing the merger. The stockholders of the European American National Bank of New York are nearly all business men located in the district, having no interests that conflict with the trade, and the new bank will be free to render wholly disinterested service to its depositors and friends.

The directors are George F. Drew, general contractor; M. F. Dennis, of Dennis & Herring, Lyman McCarty, assistant general passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; J. W. Melick of J. W. Melick & Co., Oscar Newfang of the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, William Grant Brown of the law firm of Cantwell Brown, Charles S. Lee, general passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad; F. P. Marsh, S. F. B. Morse, president of the Trinity Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company; Albert J. Simmons, general eastern passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, as Frank Zotti, private banker.

The officers are M. F. Dennis, president; Frank Zotti, vice-president, and Oscar Newfang, cashier.

M. Frank Dennis who is spoken of as President of the institution is the brother of Mrs. Vandalia Perry, of this city.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, liver complaint, torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, nature or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their results, as bronchitis, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not too good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hays, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finner, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, D. of Medicine, of Prof. Edwin M. Ripe, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others, all of whom are eminent in their several schools of practice.

"The Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through the world that has been so highly and so long recommended by so many of the best possible guaranties of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used as a solvent. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients, mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FARM AND GARDEN

PRUNING TREES AT SETTING.

Severe Pruning Before Setting Out Has Given Best Results.

Some interesting information relative to the different methods of pruning peach trees at time of setting are given in bulletin on "Suggestions on the Renewal of the Peach Industry," says the Prairie Farmer. Prof. Warren points out that all pruning before setting can be done most rapidly before the trees are set in the ground. The trees may be pruned, have borers removed and be dipped in lime, sulphur and salt and then headed in again to set for time of planting.

In order to see what effect this system of pruning might have on the growth of trees, it is reported that eighty Mountain Rose trees were divided into four lots. Different methods of pruning were as follows:

Lot one were pruned to whips.

Lot two were pruned so that about five stubs were left, each about one inch long so that there was one bud on each side branch.

Lot three were pruned so that five stubs were left, each stub being about three inches long.

Lot four were pruned so that one-third of the top of each tree was removed by cutting the tips of the twigs off. By this method the heads were left most as they were when they came from the nursery.

Lot five, as shown in the illustration, was left unpruned.

The results of the test as reported by Professor Warren shows that the severe pruning proved to be the most successful. It was found that of the twenty trees pruned to whips, eighteen were found to make good growth on June 1, while two were making a fair growth.

Lot two, which were pruned to one inch tops had seventeen making good growth on June 1, and three making fair growth.

In lot three, which were pruned to three inch stubs, on June 1, it was found that eighteen were making good growth with two reported fair.

In the lot where one-third of the top was left it was found that on June 1 only eleven were making good growth, six were making fair growth, two were reported making very poor growth and one was found to be dead.

It is concluded from this experience that pretty severe pruning is necessary to the trees before setting out in order to insure good growth. It is not found that the trees were injured by being headed after pruning, waiting suitable time for planting.

Dwarf Apple Trees.

Dwarf apple trees have never been very popular in this country, though they have been now and then bought by the men putting them on the market. The reason why they have not been more popular are chiefly that they are not long lived and frequently are not great bearers.

There is a place however for the dwarf apple tree and that is principally on the farm where the standard varieties have but just been set out and will not come into bearing for many years. A few dwarf trees should give good satisfaction, as they should come into bearing some years before the others.—Exchange.

One Hundred Thousand Dollars

Horses, Mules, Buggies,

Wagons and Harness

To be Sold by

J. T. TAYLOR, Jr.,

IN THE YEAR 1907.

Last year my sales amounted to about Seventy Thousand Dollars—this year I have bought larger than ever, and I guarantee to sell you a Horse, Mule, Buggy, Wagon, Harness, or anything in my line, at a less price than you can buy anywhere in the United States.

I received a carload of Horses and Mules ten days ago and I will have another carload in next week—I get fresh stock in every two weeks, have no one to displace my customers—only one profit, and that is small. "Quick sales and small profits" has built my business to be the largest of the kind in the State of Maryland.

Wren's Buggies

Best in the world for the money—any boy can buy one High in Quality—Low in Price. I am shipping over 300 Wren Buggies this month to dealers all over the Eastern Shore.

THE TARIFF DID IT.

President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, hits the nail on its head when he calls attention to the absurdity of the present outcry of some persons against excessive wealth—the direct effect of the Dingley tariff—saying that they favor the high tariff itself. The present high tariff has no other object but to make certain industries exceptionally profitable. By its very nature a protective tariff fosters monopolies, and monopolies may be expected to produce multimillionaires. The tariff is an artificial and statutory means of accumulating money in certain hands. When it has been found to work badly and produce glaring inequalities of wealth the obvious remedy, as Mr. Wilson shows, is to reform the tariff, not to keep up the cause of evil and seek roundabout methods of counteracting it. The way to reform is to reform. The unwillingness of the President and his party to face tariff reform must ultimately compel the people to turn elsewhere for relief. It is not wise statesmanship to resort to unconstitutional methods of reducing existing tendencies to excessive accumulation of wealth in certain hands when it is plainly only necessary to lower the tariff rates to an equitable average. If the friends of protection will not do this, they are losing sight of patriotism as well as justice.—Baltimore Sun.

PROGRESS.

The year of 1907 is yet young and its possibilities are just beginning to unfold with the advent of a fine and good weather, while the first three months have not been so severely cold, yet the weather has been of such character as to make progress impossible, only as we may have used this period for the contemplation and perfection of our plans. These periods of enforced idleness are sometimes the forerunners of our greatest periods of activity and let us hope this will be the case in the present instance, particularly in reference to our Municipal Party improvement.

It is the time for action and we City Fathers are showing considerable energy in pushing the street improvements.

Suggestions to Growers.

The most important suggestions to growers with a view to overcoming present unfavorable conditions are thus summarized for the consideration of peach growers in Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey for the first year:

Select a well drained field, one that has also good air drainage, higher than the surrounding land if possible.

If possible have the field some distance from orchards.

Lime the soil before planting, unless sure that it is not needed.

Buy good thrifty trees of a nurseryman who is not only honest, but intelligent—one who knows the diseases of the peach, so that he will not be propagating diseased trees.

Remove the borers, if there are any. Prune to a whip, or nearly so.

Dip in lime, sulphur and salt before setting.

Plant far enough apart so that it will be easy to drive through when spraying.

Fertilize well and plant corn or other tillage crops between the trees.

Prune in June, so as to start the formation of the heads.

Remove the borers in the fall. Spray the next spring.

To Keep Up The Orchard.

The suggestions for subsequent years are as follows:

Prune every year, doing some heading as well as thinning out.

Spray thoroughly every spring before the buds swell.

Till every year, beginning early in the season and stopping early.

Fertilize liberally with phosphoric acid and potash, particularly with potash. If barnyard manure is used also apply muriate of potash.

Remove the borers every fall and again in the spring.

After having given this good care, promptly remove all sick trees.

Thin the fruit when necessary.

Grade the fruit carefully. Put up the first quality in a package that differs from that used for the poorer grades.

If the peach orchards are neglected in order to care for the corn crop the profits must be expected to come from the corn.

Whereas, Our beloved pastor, Rev. E. P. Perry, having, after mature and prayerful deliberation, deemed it wise to sever his pastoral relations with this circuit, and having tendered his resignation to take effect April 1, 1907.

That we fully appreciate his services during his four year's pastorate here. That through his untiring energy and loyalty to his chosen work, much good has been accomplished on this charge. Great improvements have been made on church property. Finances increased, and many souls brought into the Kingdom of God, and many necessities have been made to the church.

And be it Resolved, That our best wishes shall follow him and our prayers shall ever be that the Lord may bless and keep him, and lead him into fields of greater usefulness. That he may ever continue the good work until the Blessed Master shall say, "Enough—Come up higher".

Arbuckle's ARIOSA was the first roasted packaged coffee, packaged for the consumer's protection and the purity of each berry sealed after the roasting with fresh eggs and sugar to keep the goodness in and make the coffee settle clear and quickly.

Talk about "roasted fresh daily," the way to get a cup of coffee that tastes like coffee, with all the delicious flavor and aroma intact, is to buy Arbuckle's ARIOSA and grind it as you want to use it. Warning: it is a little delicate the flavor and that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, endorse and recommend in the strongest terms, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, liver complaint, torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their results, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases, except consumption, accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal Root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson, Med. College; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D. of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Souder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. ## The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By F. E. Davidson, Resident Vt.

ALCOHOLIC ANARCHISM.

March 24, '07—(Isaiah 28:7-13.)

Drunkennes is a world wide vice. Ever since fruit ripened and grapes and apples grew and fermented the nations have indulged in strong drink. Noah was a preacher of righteousness, but in a world where there was at least no lack of water he got drunk upon wine. And the whole human race has come staggering and reeling down the ages, inoblation having introduced another deluge of alcohol.

The Bible is dramatic with the story of the evil effects of drunkenness as seen in the history of individuals, tribes and nations, and it thunders its warnings against the use of strong drink. So universal has this plague become that multitudes of children are born with an appetite for liquor that they inherit from a drunken ancestor. They are nursed on a black bottle. Their first step out of the cradle is toward the dram shop. They take to alcohol as other children do to milk. They are born drunkards. A great army of men and women is marching on in all lands who have had bequeathed to them by generations of ancestors, evil habits, their appetites, destroyed reputation, signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of the harp of hell.

Society punishes such people with pains and penalties, because it is impossible for them to do what those who have not had their inheritance are able to do, avoid the temptation to drink. Other men can totally abstain, or drink with moderation all through life and never become intoxicated. But one taste of alcohol to these victims of hereditary appetite is like a spark in a powder magazine. There is no power on earth to prevent its blowing up. They will drink though they are assured they will die in five minutes. Though the cup be beaded with the tears of wife and children, though the froth of everlasting anguish floats on the brim, they will drink. They will drink to their wife's shame, to their children's rage, to their barren homes, to their wind-swept, bramble-covered graves to disgust of the world, and eternal oblivion.

What does the ordinary person know of appetite like this? Absolutely nothing. Therefore we hurl epithets at drunkards, and throw them into vile places of detention not fit for swine to inhabit in many cases, and drag them before police judges and sentence them to jail for days and weeks and months, and license establishments in every city and town to cater to that appetite and fatten on the depravity which burns in the breasts of these unfortunates. Instead of making it hard for these victims of ancestral sin to do wrong and easy for them to do right, we build for them a toboggan chute to hell and lubricate the way to expedite their passage. Society gets nervous if there is a stagnant pool of water in the neighborhood, but breeds a few mosquitoes, but deliberately permits alcoholic cesspools, steaming with miasma, polluting the air with a malarial pestilence, and poisoning whole generations of human beings with a worse than Egyptian plague.

We hear a great deal in these days about the enemies of the laboring man. Labor is vociferously crying out against oppression from one source or another, and some of it is wise and some is foolish. But when did labor organizations pass resolutions against the workingman's worst enemy—strong drink? In nine cases out of ten when great calamities befall—rum is at the bottom of it. The mind is clouded, the eyes are blurred, the hand trembles and a disaster follows that shocks the nation. What is the reason that so many men live in cheerless homes, and are obliged to wear shoddy, and their wives never have but one dress, and their children go barefooted and ragged? Look in the saloon keepers' till and you will see your answer. Rum will have to be paid, the grocer, the baker, the clothier must take what is left.

Rum is the anarchist of the centuries, and it has boycotted the body and soul of American labor. It annually swindles industry out of a large per cent. of its wages. It halts the mechanic and the operative on his way to work in the morning, during the noon intermission, and on his return to his cheerless home at night. And in the evening the dram shop is all aglitter with radiance, vocal with music, seductive with companionship, "the poor man's club." It is indeed "club," pounding out his money his character, his reputation, his life. If the money which has gone across the saloon keeper's bar in the last fifty years had been properly used by the toilers of this country, every workingman could have had a house, and every house could have had a garden, and every garden could have been filled with fruits and flowers, every workingman's wife and sons and daughters could have been well clothed, well-fed, well-schooled, and not only the necessities, but the luxuries of life could have been theirs. If the workingmen of the country will proclaim a strike against their old and inveterate enemy—rum, within the next twenty years prosperity will come to this country such as the nation has never known.

Three Men And a Letter.

By Jewett Brown.

It was Fate which brought these three young men together and Fate which made them friends; one was John Lane from New York, and one was Paul Clyne from Boston, and the third was Harry Chase of Maine. Each of the three was interested in engineering and dam building and the irrigation of the Western plains, so as their work threw them together, they learned to know each other well.

Each was engaged, but no further than that did they tell one another. For the sake of a girl each had left his home and was working for fortune and fame. It was Fate which sent a jolly party of tourists in an automobile to view the grand possibilities of their work, and it was Fate which caused a crumpled letter to be thrown aside with the waste papers where they had eaten their lunch, and, hours after they were gone, it was Fate again which whirled the letter on a brisk Western breeze right into the face of Harry Chase and caused him to see his name starting from the dainty sheet, and in the writing which he knew.

He read it. Who would not? After awhile he conquered the chagrin, rage and disappointment which had possessed him in turn, and his two friends, when with his two friends, he said quietly that he had a choice bit of literature which he thought might interest them.

"Go ahead," said John Lane, "but make it short. I have a letter which must be written to-night, and so has Clyne."

"This will help you write it," remarked Harry, and he read aloud: "My Dear May—And so you are going on a tour up in the irrigation country. Don't I wish I was going with you instead of staying here in Springfield. I have lots to tell you of this glorious summer which has just ended. I became engaged three times, think of it! and each one of the three, is, or expects to be, a civil engineer, and they are somewhere in the irrigation country. I have not heard from either within three weeks, as I told them not to write until I was settled down for the winter. Would it not be a joke if they should meet? Of course they do not know each other, and I was too wise to tell either one of the others. Now, the first one is John Lane, from New York. He loves me distractedly. I met him when I was in the city last winter, and last June I met him again, and when he proposed I thought I had better accept him as I might not get another better offer."

"Very kind," commented Lane, but his face was white.

"Hold on," said Harry, "you wait till you hear the rest. Now for number two. 'Mamma took me to Newport in June and we were there for two months, and whom should I meet but Paul Clyne of Boston. He is a regular swell and is related to lots of other swells, so I said 'yes' when he proposed; for really he would be a much richer match than John Lane, and he is so devoted and gave me lovely auto rides and all that sort of thing, you know. I planned to skip John Lane after awhile and hold on to Paul, but—" who is immensely rich and very distinguished. Mamma says it is my duty to marry as well as I can, so if he proposes, and the indications are that he will, I shall accept him. It will be easy to get rid of the others, for I shall tell them my parents object, and they will. But isn't it funny that all four should have the same calling or profession? I believe certain girls attract certain men, don't you? For there is in my sister, every one of her admirers was a lawyer and all of yours seem to be lawyers.

"Now write me a long letter and tell me all about your affairs. I hate to get married, for then I can't have so much fun in flirtations, but I suppose I shall have to before long. I feel almost sorry for the three, for they professed such love, but of course they will get over it. When next I write I shall probably be able to tell you of my new engagement."

"Lovingly."

"Minnie Morse."

The three young men shook hands and a silent congratulation.

"The fair May undoubtedly lost her letter," remarked John Lane. "It is a blessed thing she did so. I know Mr. Jones to whom she refers, and I vote that this letter be sent to him without comment."

"And we second it," said the others.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take whatever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company. The policyholder uses the premiums or to help pay insurance. The policies of the

WHY SO WEAK.

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away. Salisbury People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well.

J. K. Nelson, the well known farmer, living on Martins road, one and a half miles north of Orisfield, says: "I have had kidney trouble for nearly twenty years, but of late it was more severe than formerly. I was troubled with backache, especially if I bent over for any length of time and then tried to straighten again. I also experienced a great deal of trouble with the kidney secretions which was annoying to say the least. I often had to get out of bed at night and frequently suffered a burning sensation in making passages. My son went down town one day and knowing of my condition got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I took a dose of them that night and continued to use them and it was but a short time before I noticed a change for the better. As a result of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I repose in them the greatest confidence otherwise I could never be induced to recommend them."

Plenty more proof like this from Salisbury people. Call at White & Leonard's Drug Store and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Marketing Live Fish.

A Swiss concern has patented an ingenious device for transporting live fish, which promises commercial value, as well as scientific interest to inland colleges desiring to obtain specimens of marine life for classroom and laboratory work. The device consists of a tank of water with a cylinder of oxygen attached. The most delicate fish can be packed in great quantities and will keep alive for thirty six hours, and it is expected that the time will be lengthened. Shellfish and oysters could be packed like sardines in a box. The device is automatic and requires no care during transportation. Large quantities of live fish are now being sent from Switzerland to other parts of Europe by the inventors. This firm receives seventy three cents a pound for live brook trout delivered in Vienna while the dead ones bring only twenty seven cents a pound.

MINSTER TELLS THE TRUTH.

Personal Experience Of Aged And Well Beloved Preacher.

No other man in the community is so well beloved or whose words have such weight as the minister, who has devoted his life to the service of man, kind. In Maryland one of the most noted Methodist ministers in the State suffered severely with rheumatism. He found no relief until a friend recommended Rheumaloid. He was so delighted with the results that for the benefit of other sufferers, as a duty to mankind, he tells his experience in the following letter: "Relisterstown, Md., February 27th. 'I was taken with Inflammatory Rheumatism in my left hand and foot in the beginning of this winter and suffered greatly. A gentleman in Baltimore who had tried Rheumaloid for Rheumatism recommended it to me. I secured three bottles and took it in smaller doses than prescribed, and am now entirely cured. Can use both hand and foot without the least inconvenience. 'Yours respectfully, W. R. Whelan, Pastor, Relisterstown M. E. Church. Your druggist sells and recommends Rheumaloid.

—The outlook for canned goods is not very encouraging when the increased price of producing the finished product is considered. Growers are demanding and receiving more money; soldier, acid and labor are all going to be higher, and unless the packer receives substantial increase over last year, he will be in a hole. The future market is not very active, and other sides seem to be willing to await developments. —Queenstown News.

Proof Of Merit.

The proof of the merits of a plaster in the cures it effects and the voluntary testimonials of those who have used Alcock's Plasters during the past sixty years, is unimpeachable evidence of their superiority and should convince the most sceptical. Self-praise is no recommendation, but certificates from those who have used them are.

Alcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters and have never been equalled by those who have sought to trade upon their reputation by making plasters with holes in them. Avoid substitutes as you would counterfeit money.

—A new shade in the popular color brown, has been termed 'couque de roush,' and is said to be the hue of the adolescent cockroach, or domestic water bug. Other colors recommended are champagne, disk, orange and old gold.

TO A SEA-WEED.

Picked up after a storm. (Translated from Schiller.)

Exotic! from the soil no tiller ploughs, Save the rude surge; fresh strippling from a grove

Above whose tops the wild sea-monsters rove; Have not the genti harbor'd in thy boughs,

Thou filmy piece of wonder! have not those Who still the tempest, for thy rescue strove,

And stranded thee thus far, the might to prove Of spirits that the caves of ocean house?

Who that beholds thee thus, nor with dismay Recalls thee struggling thro' the storm's dark hour!

—Charles Houston Goudiss.

—Animals attend a church service in Fern. Pigs, goats, cattle and poultry are brought by their owners to be blessed on All Souls' Day, and the church is turned into a domestic menagerie. The seats are removed, and the animals can trot about or lie down where they will. After the ceremony the livestock is formally handed over to monks, who receive little other payment for their services. —New York Tribune.

This Is Worth Saving.

The following simple home made mixture is said to relieve any form of Rheumatism or backache, also cleanse and strengthen the Kidneys and Bladder, overcoming all urinary disorders, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

A well known authority states that these ingredients are mainly of vegetable extraction and harmless to use, and can be obtained at small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. Those who think they have kidney trouble, or suffer with lame back or weak bladder or Rheumatism, should give this prescription a trial, as no harm can possibly follow its use and it is said to do wonders for some people.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Purgatives are then resorted to, but the blood is not purified. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

Made by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of HAIR VIGOR, ANKER-PAIN EXPELLER, and other medicines.

WHAYLAND.

Rev. Ernest W. Simms will preach at Siloam Sunday morning, 10.30.

Miss Annie Riffin was the guest of Miss Bertie Simms on Saturday and Sunday.

Farmers are very busy at this season.

Letter To Treasurer J. D. Price.

Salisbury, Md.

Dear Sir: We asked City Drug Co., Crystal Springs, Miss., to sell Devco. They wanted to know, of their own knowledge, how it compared with another paint they knew all about—it was sold right there, and considered good.

They painted the house of W. B. McClinney two coats on purpose to test the two paints against one another; one coat Devco, 4 gallons; the other coat that other paint, 10 gallons. Difference $30; $7 for paint, $13 for labor.

That other paint is made in New Orleans; is pure; is considered an excellent paint, and has a good deal of local goodwill.

But the standard of paint has been low all through the southwest. That paint is thin; it is, you see, six tenths of a paint. Devco saves $20 over it on half a small job.

It is a case of local best compared with actual best. Yours truly,

F. W. DEVCO & CO.

P. S.—L. W. Gunby Co., sells our paint.

"Standard" Marine Engine

Was the first gasoline engine to cross the Atlantic under its own power and did it in mid-winter.

Was the first to be installed in a coasting schooner. The four-master "Northland" has a 500 H. P. "STANDARD" and has doubled her number of trips made when under sail alone.

Has been adopted by U. S. Government for the boats of the Life Saving Service, by the Russian Government for their submarine and other torpedo boats, and the Government of Santo Domingo for their coast guard vessels.

In every direction and in all kinds of service "STANDARD" has been a leader and has established a record of performances and achievements which others are struggling to follow.

"STANDARD" costs no more than any other high-grade engine, and is guaranteed to develop 25 per cent more power than catalogue rating.

CHILDREN ON THE STAGE

Large Numbers Employed in Spectacular Shows.

HAVE SPECIAL AGENCY

Phase of the Popular Taste That Has Been Manifesting Itself in the Last Few Years—Not Many of the Children Afterward Become Professional Actors.

"Ben-Hur," some ten years ago, with fifty children, and "The Sorrows of Satan," with fifty or sixty, were about the first plays to employ children in large numbers, says the New York Sun.

With the steady increase has come an agency devoted to the booking of children alone. It is run by a woman, a kind-faced motherly woman, who has children of her own and looks after her charges carefully.

Very few of them are children of actors and actresses who are playing, although a few belong to players who for one reason or another have left the stage. Most of them are the children of very poor people who really need the money.

Among the 100 children for a Shakespeare play are five from one family, in which the father is dead.
Their salaries combined will keep the family in comfort, and the work is not hard. It is very seldom that a play keeps the children on until the last act. They are usually at home and in bed before the play is over; and there is practically no labor in the performance.

These extra children never travel when a big production of this kind goes on the road—the agent goes ahead and gathers extra children in each city. Her method is to go to the principals of schools, tell them what she wants and invite them to send to her any strong, healthy children who are able to take part in the performance outside of school hours without injury, and who need the money. She always gets five or six times as many as she needs, and at the first rehearsal sifts them out. In New York she sometimes goes to amateur entertainments, school exercises and the like, looking for good material.

A hundred extra children in a bunch is about as pretty a sight as can be imagined, for they are always chosen for their grace and beauty. They never seem to get their heads turned, nor to develop stage fever. In fact, they take the rehearsals as the English are said to take their pleasures.
The necessary discipline is naturally irksome to children, and they must keep still, both as to tongue and feet.

Children are far more easy to train than adult extras. They are more pliable, far less self-conscious.
The manager's only object is to get them simply to be themselves on the stage, when they are sure to make a hit. Very few of these extra children remain upon the stage.

Extra children receive $5 a week.
When they are capable of taking parts they get $25 or $35 a week or more.
Children in parts have increased as much as in the chorus in recent years, and those charming infants in "Peter Pan," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "The Prince Chap" and other productions are fresh in the public mind.

Five of the children in the "Cabbage patch" were from one family and all had been extras. The mother of one of the "Cabbage Patch" children was employed to travel with the production for the purpose of caring for the children. The youngsters finished the season healthy and happy, and without a day's illness.

The five children in "Peter Pan" had none of them been extras. All started with parts. The two little girls in "The Prince Chap" were coached for their parts by the children's booking agent.

It is a curious thing that a child actor always does well. There are no stunts among them. But the charming children of the stage are seldom heard of afterward. The exquisite naturalness which makes them delightful all disappears as they leave the realm of childhood, and they have to learn all over again how to be a grown up actor.

Spelling of "Asparagus."

No word illustrates the changeable fashions of the English language more curiously than "asparagus." No one could call it "sparrow-grass" nowadays, says a London exchange, unless he did not mind being thought an ignoramus or a tiresomely funny man.
Yet all through the eighteenth century, that was quite the regular way of referring to the delicacy, even in elegant society. A dictionary of 1791 says that "sparrow-grass" is now so general that "asparagus" has an air of stiffness and pedantry. "Sparrowgrass" had been the usual English form of the sixteenth century, but in the seventeenth century the original Greek and Latin spelling "asparagus" was revived. "Figs" varies between "sparrow-grass" "asparagus" and "asparagus." No doubt the eighteenth century's relapse was the last, and the "a" is back for good now.

The ceremonies attending a high-class Brahmin wedding last week, and are the most complicated in existence.

British Dividend Paying.

In paying dividends on Government stocks the British Government takes no account of fractions of a penny. In this way it makes about $7,500 a year out of the investors in public funds.

Ambulance Service in Vienna.

Twenty-five years ago a voluntary Street Ambulance Association was formed in Vienna. That year its services were required 3,000 times, and it cost only $5,000.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The maiden is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its firmness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

WHEN THE BEE GETS A-BUZZING.

Now that spring is here we have cause to hope that many of the ailments which afflict poor humanity during the period of storms and blizzards will be a thing of the past; but each season, as it rolls around in the cycle of time seems to bring conditions peculiar unto itself. During the winter months we are accustomed to look for, and if called upon, to endure coughs, colds and cod-liver-oil. During the spring, chicken-pox, measles, mumps and the latest styles in spring candidates, and this is when the Bee begins to buzz, for it should be known that the buzzing of a peculiar kind of Bee called the Political Bee is supposed to produce about this time of year what is known as "Candidate's" fever, but as it progresses and becomes more pronounced, friends of the patient learn to all its confidential, owing to frequent bursts of confidence manifested by one who is thus afflicted.

The first named diseases (measles and mumps), and we might add, spring fever, and that "tired feeling" are well known and properly classified by the medical profession and can be treated by the general practitioner but the symptoms produced by the "Bussing" of the Bee are of such peculiar character and manifestation, and its effects are so varied on different individuals that the general practitioner as a rule does not care to handle these cases, particularly if there has been a bite, for while the buzzing produces very alarming symptoms the bite, is something serious indeed. There has been already one or two reports from persons who though they had heard this buzzing but as yet no one has developed any symptoms of a very pronounced type owing probably to the fact that the cases in question have not had sufficient time to develop. But we need not expect to escape quite an epidemic of this well known disease as we fear many have exposed themselves thoughtlessly while attending Court and being compelled to be about the Court House where the germs of this peculiar disease are supposed to originate and its atmosphere to be particularly favorable to their propagation. This however is denied by some, but be this as it may, several well known cases have been traced back to this source.

For the benefit of those who may be compelled to come in contact with persons who have become inoculated, we will say that one of the most pronounced symptoms is a highly developed sense of patriotism, an entire willingness to sacrifice self and serve his country or his state in almost any capacity, although there is generally a strongly defined expression for some particular place with a tendency to expatriate upon their peculiar fitness for such service, although this fitness may not at all times and in fact very frequently is not apparent to those he is trying to convince. But the more obstinate one is in becoming convinced, the more violent will this symptom appear. It is best not to argue with one afflicted in this way but take the patient, gently by the hand and gently lead him to a specialist in this case and there leave him for treatment. Specialists who have had charge of these cases say that "mental suggestions" or the "mind cure" is the most effective method of treating persons thus afflicted. This treatment is to be used only on those who can develop, no Pull, for Pull is recognized as a very important factor.

When a patient develop plenty of "Pull and carry" he has not much need of treatment but can generally take care of himself and be assured of a front seat in the band wagon. But if on the other hand he is without these factors use the mind cure on him, suggest to him that he is laboring under a delusion and lead him to other things by promising him your undivided attention at another date or suggest to him that he contribute largely to a fund known as the "Bee fund". In most cases this is very effective and can be used very much so by making the sum contributed particularly large. This sum is known to cure some very

Valuable Pine Timber

PUBLIC SALE

SUITABLE FOR

Lumber, Mine Props, Piling, etc.

By virtue of competent authority the undersigned will sell at public auction to the highest bidder all the following tracts of valuable timber at Berlin, Maryland, on Thursday, April 18, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m., in front of the Atlantic Hotel.

The timber is all of good size, conveniently located on or near railroad and can be operated to great advantage.

ABOUT 22 ACRES OF THICK SET PINE.

FIRST, all the pine timber purchased of Robert J. Showell on his farm known as the forest farm in St. Martins district, Worcester County, where Orlando Hastings now resides as tenant.

Said timber being located north of Carey's ditch and is cut off from the balance of the timber land by a line running straight from a large stump with cut off butt by it, near a large bridge, to the corner of Iaham's field, where the road running in front of his residence enters the woods as a western line.

Said timber to be cut down to ten inches across the stump on a level with the ground. Laps and slabs reserved.

Privilege granted to enter upon said land and remove said timber for a period of two years from Oct. 25th, 1906, the date of purchase.

The above mentioned timber is located about two miles from Bishop's station, and is desirable for lumber or mine props, estimated to cut about 500,000 feet.

ABOUT 650,000 FEET—MOSTLY PINE.

SECOND, all the timber consisting chiefly of pine purchased of H. F. Harmonson on his farm, bought of Mrs. Elizabeth Henry, and known as the Stephen Brevard tract, and bounded on the north by the land of Uriah Mumford, on the East by the county road leading from Campbell town to St. Martins on the South-west by the lands of John Baker, Isaac Beauchamp and John M. Ryan, and on the west by the lands of James Williams.

Said timber to be cut ten inches and over across the stump on the level of the ground, privilege granted to enter upon said land and remove said timber for a period of three years from October 20, 1906, also privilege for the usual saw mill right.

Privilege of sufficient car stakes for loading the timber.

The above mentioned timber is located about two miles from St. Martins station on the B. O. & A. R. R., or Showell's station or Bishop's station, on the D. M. & V. R. R. About one hundred and fifteen acres of timbered land.

Said timber to be cut ten inches and over across the stump on a level with the ground. Laps and slabs reserved.

The above mentioned timber is located about a mile from Friendship Station on one and a half miles from siding put in for the White Lumber Co., on the land belonging to Robert J. Showell.

THIRD, all the pine timber purchased of J. A. Mumford, on her tract of land, bought of Charles and Ella Richardson, and bounded on the north by the county road leading from Jenkins neck to Berlin, on the east by the county road leading from Trautman's store to Hatters store, on the south by Albert Wyatt's land, and on the west by the land of Henry Coulbourn.

Privilege granted for some uprights for loading mine props also privilege to enter upon said land for a period of two years and six months from October 20, 1906, for the purpose of cutting and removing said timber.

Said timber to be cut ten inches and over at the stump on a level with the ground. Laps and slabs reserved.

ABOUT THIRTY ACRES WELL SET IN NICE TIMBER.

FOURTH, all the pine timber purchased of S. T. Pruitt, on his tract of land, known as Collins security, Hopkins point and Eagle point, and bounded on the north and east, by Crippens Branch, and Louis Dillworth's property, on the south by the Sidney Davis land, and on the west and northwest by a private road leading from a county road from Pruitt's store to Hatter's store over Crippens Branch.

Said timber to be cut ten inches and over at the stump on a level with the ground.

Privilege granted for uprights or stays in loading mine props excepting white oaks, also privilege to enter upon said land for the purpose of cutting and removing said timber, for a period of three years, from October 20, 1906.

The above mentioned timber is located about one and a half miles from Friendship Station or about one mile from the siding of the White Lumber Co., on the land of Robert J. Showell.

TRACT OF AROUND 18 ACRES NEAR BERLIN.

FIFTH, all the pine timber purchased of Bassett Brittingham on his tract of land, on the southeast side of his farm purchased of Robert J. Showell, and bounded on the north and east by the open fields of the said farm, on the east by J. G. Harrison's & Sons land and on the south by the woodland of Robert J. Showell.

Said land being where William Johnson now resides as tenant, said timber to be cut down to ten inches across the stump on a level with the ground. Laps and slabs reserved.

Privilege granted to enter upon said land for the purpose of removing said timber for a period of two years from October 25, 1906.

The above mentioned timber is located about one and one quarter miles from Berlin or about one and one quarter miles from the siding of the White Lumber Co., on the land of Robert Showell.

ABOUT 3-4 MILLION FEET NEAR SNOW HILL.

SIXTH, all the pine timber purchased of Joseph J. Godfrey, on his farm, known as the Colonel Parker farm, in Goddard's district, Worcester County, the same being all the pine timber on said farm, ten inches and over across the stump on a level with the ground except what is known as the twenty six acre meadow, located in the river swamp consisting of small pine stumps.

Privilege granted to enter upon said land for the purpose of removing said timber for a period of three years from the date of December 1906.

The usual sawmill privileges granted, also for uprights.

The above mentioned timber is located about two miles from Wesley station on the D. M. & V. R. R.

SEVENTH, all the pine timber on the farm of Robert J. Showell near Berlin, where L. A. Mitchell now resides as tenant and between the fields of Edward Mitchell and Bassett Brittingham.

Said all the pine timber on the tract of land purchased of the heirs of Mrs. Annie M. Traut, timber on both tracts down to ten inches, measurement to be from bark to bark and on a level with the ground. Laps and slabs reserved.

Usual saw mill privileges granted and two years time to enter upon land and remove timber from October 11, 1906.

This is the best tract of timber in this section for either lumber or mine props. The Pennsylvania Railroad runs directly through it with a recently erected siding alongside the timber. The B. O. & A. R. R. is only about half a mile away.

—Mr. Potter who is running the moving picture show in the Truitt store room which has proved quite an attraction for the past week promises his patrons something new for Saturday and Monday nights. He will on this date exhibit for the first time the famous Thaw trial.

—We are glad to note that the new Electric Bill signal installed by the B. O. and A. R. R., is now in operation. This should prove a great benefit to persons passing out that way as the track is charged from the depot to the Railroad Bridge and the Ball continues to ring as long as train is on this space.

—The Adams Carnival Company will give a special matinee this afternoon at 2.30 for children, who will be admitted for ten cents each at Ulman's Opera House, where the performance will be given. Admission for adults 30 cents. A box of candy will be given away to each member of the audience. See the one real good show.

—Mr. William M. Day, one of our most successful lumber men, will leave for the south the early part of next week. Mr. Day expects to be away for some time as he has interests in several locations in the South. He expects to extend his trip to Cuba on business in connection with his lumber interests.

—Rev. C. S. Sprigg, of Smyrna, Del., comes to Salisbury as the successor of Rev. J. H. Blake, who for the past two years has been pastor of John Wesley M. E. Church. At a recent session of the Delaware Conference, Rev. Blake was appointed to Ridgely, Caroline County.

—Appropriate services were held in the churches of Salisbury Sunday last, this being Palm Sunday, the beginning of Holy week, which will be observed in many churches to commemorate the crucifixion. After Holy week comes Easter, with its joyful celebration of the resurrection which ends the period of Lent.

—There will be a meeting of the King's Daughters, April 2nd, 4 o'clock p. m. at the home of the President, Mrs. Chas. Harper. At the last meeting Mrs. L. D. Collier resigned after many years of faithful service as President. Mrs. Goston Gueloe was elected secretary at the last meeting. The organization is doing a good work in this community and ought to be encouraged.

—By unanimous vote of the Wilmington M. E. Conference Thursday, Asbury Church, Wilmington was selected as the place for holding the Conference session in 1908. Presiding Elder Mowbray extended the invitation on behalf of the City of Wilmington and Rev. H. A. G. Westerfield extended the invitation on behalf of Asbury Church. No other nominations were made.

—Considerable improvement has been made in the appearance of the Court House yard this week under the supervision of Street Commissioner Serman, who has removed all the refuse bricks and made a thorough cleaning up. Mr. W. A. Crew has about completed the putting down of the new cement pavement and after the yard is filled up to the proper level will present quite a handsome appearance.

—We understand that several of the property owners along Division Street are favorable to using Bitulithic and will at once impress the City Council. The cost is a trifle more than brick and it is claimed to be a noiseless pavement which is something in its favor.

—Mr. J. Merrick Horn, representing the Standard Bitulithic Company, of New York was in Salisbury again the past week in reference to getting a bid for the paving of Division Street. Mr. Horn says he is willing to go into competition with any class of paving, the people of Salisbury want, and tells sure that he can demonstrate that his Bitulithic pavement is the one best suited, to Salisbury. He had a sample of his pavement and it certainly looks like it ought to be a wearing pavement.

PROF. ADAMS IN SALISBURY.

With Carnival Of Novelties Attracting Good Audiences. A Show That's Meeting With High Praise.

Prof. H. D. Adams who is showing for three nights this week with Saturday Matinee in Ulman's Opera House comes to our town very highly recommended by the press and letters of commendation received from places he has shown his exhibitions given here. Those present were very much pleased with the performance. The musical program rendered by the celebrated Greens family was particularly good. We understand this is the first season this family have ever appeared on the road and this speaks well for Prof. Adams' tact and fine business judgement in thus being able to secure such talent. The Prof. himself is quite a wonder in his special line of magic and mystery and introduces some very novel and interesting features. The show is a clean one and well worth seeing.

—The annual inspection of Company I, Maryland National Guard was held at the Armory Thursday evening by Captain Wm. Barrie U. S. Army. Captain Barrie was accompanied by Col. E. E. Woodside of Annapolis, Md.

—Mr. Potter who is running the moving picture show in the Truitt store room which has proved quite an attraction for the past week promises his patrons something new for Saturday and Monday nights. He will on this date exhibit for the first time the famous Thaw trial.

Often The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

What Does It Mean

to let Dividends "accumulate" on a Life Insurance Policy? In many companies it means nothing more than an agreement on the part of the policy-holder, to do without dividends for fifteen or twenty years, and then take what ever dividend the company will be willing to give. Dividends are declared every year in the Mutual Benefit, and the policy-holders use them either to help pay premiums or to buy increased insurance. The policies of the

By F. E. Davison, Resident Vt.

AN EASTER MESSAGE.

March 31, '07—(1 Cor. 15: 12-31.)

The trembling question of the patriarch Job is the universal question. If a man die shall he live again? He saw what we all see that everybody dies. Whatever may have been the original intention, it is certain that at present the thread of life is brittle. Man, who started out with a thousand years to his credit on the book of life, has used up his earthly capital, until now a century old individual is a curiosity. The average of human life is less than forty years. The vast majority of those who are born are exterminated by Herod-like diseases that hover about every cradle. We no sooner begin to breathe than we begin to gasp, and groan, and weep and struggle and exert ourselves to keep the little life we have. Sleep, the twin brother of death, takes possession of us, overcomes us, carries us away into the unconscious realm in spite of ourselves and holds us there a large portion of our time. The sentence of death has been pronounced upon us all, and our end is already appointed.

And what is true of man is true of everything else on the planet. Decay and destruction on all around we see. The leaves fade, the grass withers, the tree falls, the rock crumbles, the flowers droop, the mountain sinks, the island disappears, the city vanishes, the harvest is garnered. The energies of all mankind are occupied in opposing the wastes, restoring the materials, arresting decay, buttressing the ruins, straightening out the deformities, painting over the weather-beaten places, putting up the cracks, guarding against disaster. It takes us all the time to keep house and make this old earth presentable.

Accustomed as we are to defeat and failure and decay and apparent annihilation, it is no wonder that we grow skeptical about a life beyond, where human beings live, and the inhabitants never say, I am sick. And yet, the evidence is overwhelming that such a life exists, and that multitudes of those whom we have known and loved already inhabit that beatific country. Shakespeare, in the presence of the bugbear death, described it as "the bourns from which no traveler returns." But Shakespeare and Paul the Apostle, are two. Jesus Christ went down into the realm of death, and He returned. He has lived again. He has walked among us, talking with them, ate with them, been touched by them, been seen by 500 at a time, and this for forty days, no transient visitor, no ghost, no disembodied spirit, but a human being having flesh and bones as we have. So certain are the New Testament writers of the fact of the resurrection that they have convinced the world of the truth of their assertion. And countless millions are marching forward to the gates of death in the blissful and sustaining assurance that those gates swing inward on their hinges and the other side is eternal blessedness.

"There the sun never sets And the leaves never fade In the beautiful city of gold." It is easy enough to solve a puzzle after some one else has shown us how. It is easy enough to believe in a western world after Columbus has braved the unknown perils of the mysterious ocean and brought back the evidence of its existence in his ship and in his hands. Doubt and unbelief vanish when the stubborn juror Thomas stands in the presence of one he knows and hears the voice. "I am he that liveth, and was dead, handle me, and see that it is I, myself." Thomas has been bombarded for ages on account of his slow-wit and unreasonable doubt; but he made assurance doubly sure for all the rest of us. The resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is the bridge across the chasm over which every human being may now walk in perfect safety.

This is the lesson of Easter. No matter what it meant to the heathen world; this is what it means now. "Life from the dead is in that word—'Tis Immortality."

Now we know that this world is only the suburb of the metropolis of the universe. And as all roads lead to Rome, so all roads lead to the capital of the universe. We need not then be discouraged and disheartened over unfinished work and unmet goals. If it is things to be done we shall have the chance to complete it. They who have spent their earthly lives struggling to realize their ideals, and have never been able to reach the goal of their ambition, in a fair land, and under clearer skies and surrounded by the most favorable circumstances shall have their chance. Instead of weeping over empty chairs, we should rejoice over mansions inhabited. Instead of dwelling upon the last sickness, we should meditate upon the liberation of captives, a human being for the first time in his history finding himself delivered of every blemish, every defect, every handicap of spirit, soul and body. Leave the empty grave clothes in the sepulcher. Christ is not there. He has no need of earthly covering. He is Risen. The tomb stones of the cemetery are but the stepping stones by which we mount to the upper story of our father's house.

"THERE'S A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM!"

Not the mere temporary relief that the old "remedies" gave, not the little help that the doctor's prescriptions give; but ABSOLUTE AND COMPLETE CURE. That is what Rheumacide does. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood. It is an internal disease and requires a strong and vigorous internal remedy that will cleanse the blood of all its germs and yet act through such natural methods that it builds up the entire system.

CURED AFTER 16 YEARS.

Baltimore, Dec. 10th. For 16 years I have suffered terribly with Rheumatism. I was treated by leading physicians but got no relief. Long since I despaired of ever being well again. But hearing of RHEUMACIDE, I decided to give it a trial. I have taken two bottles, and, thanks to this wonderful medicine, I now feel that I have gotten a "new lease on life." Every vestige of the disease has been driven from my system. MRS. LAURA D. GARDNER, 1301 James St., Baltimore.

Selecting the Gift.

She had married for money—he for a perfect jewel to fit in the golden setting Fate had bestowed upon him. Both had found what they sought.

If with that bargain a terrible woe went too, a loneliness and heart-sob that could not be swallowed, Marcia never mentioned it, even to her dearest friend. The head set upon its queenly throat never forgot its polite nod dignity that should attend upon his—no, their—millions. Stuart was tall, distinguished and reserved. His 50 years of the world had not been spent in vain; now that he had dreamed his dreams and was awake, he appreciated her as a reality that any man might be proud of.

Despite the difference in their ages, society called it a perfect match and declared the gem surpassed the setting.

At first Marcia accepted her husband's courtesies with haughty indifference, but soon found him as unapproachable as herself.

Only once did she see a different mood. It was after her first large dinner party and the strain had been unbearable. She had fainted, and one of the servants found her lying at the foot of the hall stairs in a heap. In regaining consciousness she heard a voice full of exquisite tenderness murmur:

"Poor little one," and languidly opening her eyes she beheld her husband's face bending over her.

For a moment there came a little catch in her throat—the color fluttered up to her white forehead—but he had turned instantly and addressed her maid:

"Carlton, your mistress is herself again. It was only a faint. Have James and Gilroy assist Mrs. Stuart to her room." Then to Marcia: "I shall be in the library for awhile, Marcia, and at your service, should

He resented her indifference.

You please to call upon me. I trust you will have a good night's rest."

It was Marcia's 21st birthday. Their country house was full of guests, but their congratulations and empty compliments had wearied her, and after the last good-night echoed through the halls she slipped a wrap over her white gown and stole into her garden.

Down the shadowy path she stole like a white wreath, in and out reached the big iron gates almost a mile from the house. If the world could have seen her it would have said the picture was artfully planned for effect.

The network of black etched against the moonlight formed a startling background for the figure in white. The red-gold head drooped wearily and one little hand clasped as tight as a bird's talon.

This thought came to the man who had just emerged from the shadows, and he paused irresolutely. What a child she was after all. The pride had gone from the shining head; there was a droop to the haughty mouth that the world and Marcia's husband had never seen.

The millionaire's fingers suddenly closed over the Tiffany box in his hand and he nervously broke off a Jacqueminot from a nearby bush. Marcia heard the snapping of the stem and turned as her husband advanced.

"I had just driven up and saw you leaving the house," he explained, "so I followed. It brought you a little birthday remembrance."

The child's mouth changed to a woman's and the proud head regained its poise.

"That's very kind of you." The hand that gave the box was not quite steady. The lid opened—a single string of pearls lay revealed, perfectly matched and priceless.

"They are very beautiful," she said. Her eyes sought the rose in her husband's hand, then their gaze wandered to his face, and found a now, strange look written there. It sent a wave of color creeping over her cheeks, tinged even her brow with her slender white throat.

"Beautiful," she whispered, the words slipping from her unclasped lips to the ground. "But"—she reached out her hands to him, "I could rather have the rose."—Boston Post.

BIVALE.

Rev. J. L. Ward Has Resigned.

At the fourth quarterly conference of Whiteville Methodist Protestant Church held recently Rev. J. G. Ward, pastor, feeling that his duties called him to other fields of labor asked that his resignation be accepted. Brother Ward has served Walterville charge four years and has been a faithful and zealous worker in this part of the moral vineyard. Brother Ward and his companion have endeared themselves very much to the people of this community and many are the expressions of regret at having to terminate their pleasant relations. Brother Ward is a very efficient and fearless expounder of the word of God and a tireless worker in all church departments, and in recognition of the high esteem in which he is held a committee was appointed to draft resolutions touching on Bro. Ward's retirement.

Resolutions of Appreciation.

Whereas Brother J. L. Ward, after a pastorate of four years on this charge has deemed it best to sever his connections with us and engage in another field of labor.

And whereas it is of necessity that ties have bound us together in the past must now be severed.

Therefore be it resolved that we extend to Brother Ward our sincere thanks in return for the manner in which he has discharged his duty as a pastor and his untiring effort in behalf of the church.

Be it further resolved that an affinity exists which time cannot erase nor intervening space destroy and as pleasant memories of past associations crowd upon us we feel reluctant to part with his company.

Be it further resolved that Brother Ward has proven unto us a friend in need when we remember that he has performed the last rites over our dead, joined our youths and our maidens, in marriage and baptized our little ones, he has visited our sick, comforted us in trial and adversity, encouraged us when depressed and strengthened us when faint and with an inspiration of love he has pointed us to the Lamb of God.

Be it further resolved, that as we have been so accustomed to look upon him as a most faithful guide and counselor, and remembering the loving companionship in which our church labors have brought us, we feel most poignantly our loss and words fail to portray our feelings. We can only say that there shall ever be a warm place in our hearts for Brother Ward while our tenure of life exists and sometime in that great beyond we shall join hands again in the Church Triumphant.

Resolved further a copy of these resolutions be handed to Brother Ward and copy each be sent to the Methodist Protestant and our local papers for publication.
