THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1789.

LONDON, February 18.

VERY day, nay, every hour, give us more and more favourable symptoms. Twelve days have passed without the smallest relapse; our good king is almost himself again.—His appetite is good; he sleeps well. His strength is so much returned that he can bear a walk of three hours.—He sees the queen and princesses every night for two hours. He is allowed to converse with his artists, with his gardeners, with his workmen. He once asked Dr. Willis some questions about politics—who humbly begged of his majesty not to talk, or even to suffer himself to think, on that subject at present. The king promised he would not.

The king's recovery is now, to all appearance, advancing very fast. He has regained his appetite, sleeps well, and walks undisturbed. His pulse is reduced to sixty-seven. Its usual rate, when he is in perfect health, is sixty-four. His conversation is rational. He is sensible of his situation, and perceives his own recovery. He sometimes enters upon particular subjects, and stops himself with saying, "I must not go on: My head will not do for these things yet; but it will soon." The day before yesterday his majesty commanded his astronomers to attend him in his observatory at Kew.—He compared his time-pieces of the sun, and computed how much each had lost or gained time, and went through this business as regularly and exactly as he had ever done in the most perfect health; so that we are not without sanguine hopes of seeing him soon resume the reins of government.

Feb. 20. His majesty lately in walking through the gardens at Kew, suddenly conceived a strong inclination to go up the pagoda. The attendants remonstrated against this desire, but his majesty persevered, and insisted upon having it gratified. An apprehension that his majesty might conceive some rash intentions, if suffered to go up, induced the attendants to exert their strength to prevent him; and when he found that he could not overcome them, he threw himself suddenly on the ground, declaring he would not quit that place. Fearing that the damp grass would be injurious to him, four of the attendants took him up, two holding his arms, and the others his legs, and carried him home.

NEW-YORK, April 25.

On Thursday about two o'clock, arrived in town, the most illustrious GEORGE WASHINGTON, president of the United States. His excellency slept at Woodbridge on Wednesday night, and on Thursday morning arrived at Mr. Boudinot's, where he breakfasted, along with the gentlemen composing the committee, appointed by congress, &c. &c.—About twelve o'clock he was conducted on board of the barge prepared for his reception, the beauty of which met with his highest approbation; he was rowed across the bay by thirteen skilful pilots, Thomas Randall, Esq; acting as cockswain. His excellency's barge was accompanied by a barge containing the heads of the great departments of the United States, viz. the honourable the board of treasury, the minister for foreign affairs, and the secretary at war.

There never perhaps was a scene in which universal pleasure appeared more than on his approaching the battery and Murray's wharf. The Spanish packet, which lay with her colours only displayed to salute him as he passed, on the firing of a gun, displayed, in a moment, every flag known in foreign nations. The ship North-Carolina, belonging to Arnold H. Dohman, Esq; was decorated in like manner, and all the vessels in the harbour had their flags flying. On the barge's passing the packet, the fired a salute of thirteen guns, which was returned by the same number from the battery. After which she advanced to the stairs erected and decorated at the bottom of Wall-street, for his excellency's reception. His landing without doubt, was beyond description; universal joy diffused itself through every order of the beholders; there was no contest in rank—the only thing which they tried to succeed, was, who could appear the most pleased. It was remarked of a venerable old gentleman nigh the place of landing, who, on the approach of the barge, expressed himself nearly as follows:—"I have beheld him when he commanded the American army; I saw him at the conclusion of the peace, retiring to his primeval habitation; and now I behold him returning to take the chair of presidency. I have not now another wish, but that he may die as he lived, THE BELOVED OF HIS COUNTRY."

These are the generous sentiments that filled the admiring throng, and diffused themselves in the breast of every lover of the favour of our land.

His excellency, on landing, was received and congratulated by his excellency the governor of this state, and the officers of the state and corporation, and the following procession was formed:—1st, colonel Lewis accompanied by two officers, and followed by the troop of dragoons, commanded by captain Stokes. The grenadiers headed by captain Scriba. Music. Infantry of the brigade, under the command of captain Swartwout and Stedford. Grenadiers under captain Har- fin. Colonel Bauman at the head of the artillery. Music. General Malcolm and aid. Officers of the militia. Committee of congress. The president, supported by governor Clinton. The president's suite. Officers of the state. Mayor and aldermen of New-York. The French and Spanish ambassadors in their carriages. The whole order followed by an amazing concourse of citizens.

The procession advanced through Queen-street to the house fitted up for the reception of his excellency, where it terminated. After which he was conducted, without form, to the house of governor Clinton, with whom his excellency dined. In the evening the houses of the citizens were brilliantly illuminated.

Yesterday the honourable the senate and house of representatives waited on his excellency the president to congratulate him on his safe arrival at the seat of government.

April 27. On Saturday the chamber of commerce met at the Coffee-house about half after eleven o'clock, in consequence of a special call from the president.—From the Coffee-house they proceeded in form to the house of his excellency the president of the United States, headed by John Broome, Theophylact Beach and John Murray, Esquires.

On their arrival at the president's they were conducted into the audience room, and upon his excellency's entering, Mr. Broome, the president of the chamber, addressed him to the following effect:—"That he had the honour, in the name of that corporation, to congratulate his excellency upon his safe arrival in this city, under the dignified character of president of the United States, and also to inform him, that the members of the chamber felt a singular pleasure in having a gentleman of his distinguished talents appointed to preside over the union; and further assured him, that it would be their uniform endeavour, by every constitutional exertion in their power, to render his excellency's administration prosperous and happy."

To which his excellency replied to the following effect:—

That he was greatly obliged to the gentlemen of the chamber for that mark of their politeness and respect, and that he should be happy at all times, as far as lay with him, to promote the interest of commerce.

After his excellency's reply, he was introduced by the president of the chamber to every member present.

On Thursday last arrived here the schooner Columbia, P. Freneau, master, in 8 days from Charleston. In this vessel came passenger Dr. King, lately from South-America, with a collection of natural curiosities, particularly a male and female Ourang-Outang, (or man of the woods) remarkable for its striking similarity to the human species. We hear the doctor intends, in a few days, to exhibit his collection in this city.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.

Extract of a letter from Havre-de-Grace, dated January 29, 1789, to a gentleman in Boston.

"Our worthy friend, THOMAS JEFFERSON, Esq; ambassador of the United States of America at the court of France, hath obtained from government to recal the prohibition on American whale and spermaceti oil, imported into France in American ships. Thus all sorts of foreign oils (the American only excepted) are prohibited—which surely is a very great favour granted by our government to the American fishery." [This letter confirms the account of a bounty on wheat and flour, as mentioned some time since.]

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in St. Croix, to his friend in this city, dated April 5.

"Times are very dull here. There has been no rain these six months past. The canes are burnt up, and stock dying for want of water. Three or four gallons of water command a most extravagant price."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES.

TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1789.

The house went into a committee of the whole on the state of the union.

Mr. Page in the chair.

A motion of Mr. Fitzsimons, to allow a drawback on goods re-shipped, was agreed to.

It was then proposed that a duty of — per tun be laid on all vessels built within the United States, and owned wholly by citizens thereof.

And after sundry remarks,

It was resolved, That all vessels built within the United States, and owned wholly by citizens thereof, and on all vessels foreign built, but owned by the citizens of the United States, a duty of six cents per tun should be laid.

The next paragraph in the original proposition was then read, to wit, on all vessels belonging wholly to the subjects of powers in alliance with the United States, or partly to the subjects of those powers and partly to citizens of the United States.

Mr. Goodhue proposed to fill the blank with sixty cents, which, according to a calculation he made on a ship of 200 tons, would amount to about five per cent. on the freight.

Mr. Boudinot proposed 30 cents.

Different gentlemen having spoken,

Mr. Goodhue withdrew his motion for 60 cents.

A question on 33½ cents was put and lost; and a question on 30 cents was then put and carried.

Some debate was had upon the paragraph respecting the duty on all vessels belonging to the subjects not in alliance with the United States, and the blank was filled up with 50 cents.

The committee then rose, and the chairman reported the following resolution:—

Resolved, As the opinion of this committee, that the following duties ought to be laid on goods, wares and merchandises, imported into the United States; to wit:—

	In cents.

On all wrought tin ware

Seven and a half per cent. ad valorem.

On every coach, chariot or other four wheel carriage, and on every chaise, solo or other two wheel carriage, fifteen per cent. ad valorem.

On all other articles, five per cent. on their value at the time and place of importation, except as follows: Tin in pigs, tin in plates, lead, pewter, brass, copper in plates, wool, dying woods and dying drugs (other than indigo) raw hides, beaver and all other furs, and deer skins.

That all the duties paid, or secured to be paid, upon goods imported, shall be returned or discharged upon such of the said goods as shall within — months be exported to any country without the limits of the United States, except so much as shall be necessary to defray the expence that may have accrued by the entry and safe keeping thereof.

That there ought moreover to be levied on all vessels entered or cleared in the United States, the duties following, to wit:

On all vessels built within the United States, and belonging wholly to citizens thereof, at the rate of six cents per tun.

On all vessels not built within the United States, but belonging wholly to citizens thereof, at the rate of six cents per tun.

On all vessels belonging wholly to the subjects of powers with whom the United States have formed treaties; or partly to the subjects of such powers and partly to citizens of the said states, at the rate of thirty cents per tun.

On all vessels belonging wholly or in part to subjects of other powers, at the rate of fifty cents per tun.

Provided, That no vessel built in the United States, and belonging to a citizen or citizens thereof, whilst employed in the coasting trade, or in the fisheries, shall pay tonnage more than once in any one year; nor shall any ship or vessel built within the United States pay tonnage on her first voyage.

The speaker resumed the chair, and the question on the report of the committee being postponed for farther consideration, the house adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1789.

Agreeably to the order of the day, the house went into a committee on the bill for prescribing the form and manner of taking the oath required by the sixth article of the constitution.

Some debate was had on this subject, which was supported by Mr. Lee, Mr. Madison, Mr. Sturges, Mr. White, Mr. Sherman, Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Burke, Mr. Silvester and Mr. Smith.

Having gone through and amended the same, the committee rose and reported; and the consideration of the report being postponed, the house adjourned.

RICHMOND, April 25.

Extra of a letter from a gentleman in Bermuda, to his friend in Norfolk, dated April 2.

"By captain Gilbert, the bearer of this, you will learn of our distress for want of all kinds of provisions. There has not been in the whole island, one bushel of corn for sale for 16 days past, captain George from Baltimore, brought in 17 days ago, 400 bushels of corn, which sold immediately at 6s. 8d. per bushel, he also brought in 360 barrels of flour, common and superfine, which sold at 8 and 9 dollars per barrel. No vessel has arrived here with provisions since captain George—and no vessel belonging to the island is expected to relieve us. A great number of poor people, have been for ten days past, obliged to live on the greens of the field. Governor Hamilton by advice of his council, has opened the port of Bermuda, to all foreign vessels whatever, for thirty days; to be computed from the 30th day of March, loaded with bread, corn or flour. He also allows, for three months, the importation of salted provisions from any foreign port whatever, in vessels belonging to these islands. It is said, that if any foreign vessel should come here after the time limited by proclamation they will be allowed to dispose of their cargo, if they can prove they set out with an intent to come here. If any vessels be ready to sail from Norfolk, with provisions, advise them to call at Bermuda.

FREDERICKSBURG, April 30.

A letter from London, received by a gentleman in this town dated March 4, says, "His majesty, almost unexpectedly, began to recover about the middle of last month, and has continued so to do ever since; so that on the 28th ult. his physicians pronounced him to be without complaint; and he is expected to meet parliament or address them to-morrow."

Another letter, dated March 7, says, "The king has put off the business of parliament to the 10th, when something respecting the regency may transpire, with other interesting matters to individuals."

Another of the same date says, "For three weeks past, the king's reason hath gradually returned, and at this time his sound judgment is restored, which has occasioned greater joy throughout the kingdom than any thing I ever remember. The physicians give it as their opinion, that this malady proceeded entirely from his drinking too great a quantity of Cheltenham water, which flew up into the brain, and in confirmation of this being the cause, we have two or three instances of gentlemen who drank this water last summer, that have been affected this winter in the very same manner, and who are now also recovered."

Charles county, April 14, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of captain JOHN JORDAN, late of Charles county, deceased, are desired to bring the same in to the subscriber legally authenticated, and all persons indebted to said estate are desired to make immediate payment, to

WHO has so repeatedly and so successfully figu-lified himself on the turf, and who is perhaps the handfomest and best bred Arabian on the continent, will cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation, about two miles from Upper-Marborough, for three pounds current money each. Pasturage for two shillings and six-pence per week, but no indemnity for accidents or escapes. He was got by the Ara-

ALL persons having claims against the estate of Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, late of this city, deceased, are requested to bring them in properly authenticated, and those indebted to the estate are most earnestly called on to make immediate payment to the subscriber, that he may be quickly enabled to discharge the claims against the estate. The very great indulgence which the debtors generally have experienced from the deceased, will, I hope, induce many to pay the proper attention to this advertisement; those who neglect may depend that suits will be instituted against them to November court, without respect to persons.

OBSERVING a number of debtors to the state, as well as other individuals, are often in want of some kind of certificates, and at a loss where to get them on proper terms for their money, and the holders of certificates when in want of cash for them, are likewise at a loss for a market, for want of some particular place to apply, where they could be on a certainty of getting an exchange on reasonable terms.

The subscriber being well acquainted with the different kind of certificates and their passing value, has induced him to offer his service to provide, and inform those that do or may want, that by lodging the needful he will supply them with certificates, or cash, at a short notice, on reasonable terms, on paying a moderate commission. There being a number, who have payments to make in certificates to the treasury, that live at a considerable distance, many of whom wish to make payments as they provide money for that purpose, are prevented for want of the certificates, and not being convenient to ride 50 or 100 miles to get them and make a small payment; those who are thus situated that wish to be provided with certificates, and have them placed to their credit, by forwarding the money at any time may depend on being furnished with certificates, and payment made to their orders, on as good terms as if they were present, by their

FRIENDSHIP,

A HANDSOME full bred horse, stands this season at the subscriber's plantation, in Prince-George's county, about seven miles from Bladenburg, and the same distance from Snowden's works, and will cover mares at six dollars each; he is a good sorrel, full fifteen hands high, with length and bone in proportion, and is six years old; he was bred by William Mitchel, Esquire, of Virginia, and was got by Apollo, the property of colonel Henry Lee, out of an imported full bred mare. Apollo was got by general Spotwood's noted Apollo. FRIENDSHIP has run two matches, and won both easy. Few horses in this state are equal to him in beauty and form. He covers at half price, owing to the scarcity of cash. 14
CHARLES DUVALL.

N. B. Thirty-five shillings will be received if the money be paid by the first day of September next.

The imported HORSE CARDINAL PUFF,

STANDS this season at Samuel Harrison, junior's plantation, near Herring-Bay, and will cover at three pounds a mare, and five shillings the groom; he is full sixteen hands high, is a sure foal-getter, and his stock very large and handsome. Good pasturage at two shillings and six-pence per week, and proper care taken of the mares.

N. B. Six dollars sent with the mares or paid by the first day of September next, will be taken in lieu of the above three pounds. 3w

FOR SALE,

By the subscriber, appointed trustee by the honourable the chancery court of Maryland,

THAT well known ferry at Rock-Hall, lately occupied by Mr. BASIL NOIEL. There is on the premises a good framed house, 36 feet square, four rooms on the lower floor, and three lodging rooms, with four fire places, with a passage through the house, and good dry cellar, with a partition therein; there is a good kitchen adjoining the dwelling house, by a very convenient summer room, that has two corner cupboards and seats around the same; the kitchen is lathed and plastered, with convenient rooms above stairs, finished for lodging waiters and gentlemen's servants.

There is a stable with a paved floor, and carriage house adjoining, a negro quarter, near house, a good corn house, hen house, blacksmith's shop, and a convenient warehouse, at the landing, with a pailed in garden, and a young peach orchard. There is a good well of water in the yard, and a spring within thirty yards of the house.

There is belonging to the above property 150 acres of land, half of which is cleared and under good fences, divided in fields, and two lots of six or eight acres each, adapted to clover or timothy. From its public situation it is well known to possess every advantage that can be expected from keeping a tavern and ferry across the bay to Annapolis and Baltimore-town; it is remarkably healthy; the waters abound with good rock fish, perch, crabs, oysters, and in their season, a quantity of wild fowl. The sale to be made on the premises by public auction, the 12th day of May, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter.

ROMULUS,

A BRIGHT bay, nearly sixteen hands high, remarkably strong, handsome and active, will stand this season at Mount Stewart, near South river church, and cover mares at three pounds, and five shillings to the groom. ROMULUS was got by Sweeper, his dam by the imported Ranger, his grand-dam by Ariel, his great-grand-dam by Othello, out of an imported mare. Good pasturage will be provided for mares at 3/9 per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. WHEAT, CORN, OATS or TOBACCO, will be taken instead of the cash at the present market prices. 2 w4

JOLLY ROGER,

WILL cover, from the 25th of April to the last of the season, at SQUIRREL NECK, on Rhode river, the seat of Mr. JAMES CARROLL, at two barrels of corn, to be brought with the mare, or three dollars cash. JOLLY ROGER is a fine shining black, full fifteen hands high, remarkably well and stout made, and is, perhaps, as good a draught horse as any in the state, his blood is between the DRAVY and TOM; his dam was a TOM, and his sire the noted horse STIRLING, bred by H. D. GOUVER, Esquire. Mares from ten miles and upwards distant will be pastured gratis, but entirely at the risk of the several proprietors, as the owner of the horse will be answerable for no escapes or accidents.

St. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THE visitors and governors of St. John's College, having, on the 10th of May, 1786, authorized Samuel Chase, Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, or any two of them, to appoint a person to collect the money, then or thereafter to be subscribed: we, the said Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, did accordingly, soon after, appoint Archibald Golder, of the city of Annapolis. Of this appointment the public was duly notified. The collector advertised times and places for his attendance in several counties. He attended agreeably to his notice, and moreover made personal application to many of the subscribers. But, although the stipulated period of payment have long since elapsed, not more than 1500l. out of 12,024l. have been paid.

We have this day renewed our agreement with the collector. Subscribers who have not yet paid their first third, are requested, without delay, to pay the same, and such further part, as they shall think proper, to the said Archibald Golder, or to Benjamin Harwood, treasurer. They will be called on, within a reasonable time, to make the second and third payments, the last of which was due on the 1st of June, 1787. All legal methods of compulsion would be as disagreeable to the visitors as disgraceful to subscribers. But it is the indispensable duty of trustees to adopt such modes of exacting payment, as shall be found necessary, or expedient.

The building of the college was projected, and begun on a plan, in some measure, proportioned to its nominal funds. For a considerable length of time, it has been suspended, for want of money. The gentlemen who subscribed liberally, and paid with punctuality, had a right to expect, in the course of four years, that the work would be complete, and the seminary beginning to flourish. They cannot but remember the generous patriotic ardor, with which the institution was commenced. They have sustained an injury from all those whose neglect or failure has retarded its progress, and, for their satisfaction, as well as for other purposes, a list of subscribers names, with the sums subscribed, and the sums paid, will probably be published as soon as conveniently may be, after the 12th day of May next.

At a meeting of the visitors and governors, on the 5th of July, 1786, the second Tuesdays in February, May, August and November, were appointed for their quarterly meetings. A sufficient number hath not, since that period, been convened, although extraordinary meetings have been requested, by public advertisement and personal solicitation. As the repeated disappointments of those who have repaired to Annapolis, at their own expence, for the sole purpose of meeting the visitors, may perhaps, without some particular notice, prevent their attendance, at the next regular stated meeting, we take the liberty of most earnestly entreating every gentleman, who has accepted the trust of a visitor and governor of St. John's College, to attend on the second Tuesday of May next. As the general court will be held on that day, we presume no time more convenient can be mentioned.

It is perhaps proper to inform the public, that the number of visitors cannot exceed twenty-four, that not less than nine can form the corporation; that it has never exceeded eleven; that by death it is reduced to ten; that not less than seven have authority to act; and that only two, at this time, reside at Annapolis. It is almost needless to add, that matters of the greatest importance await their consideration. It is much to be wished, that the number were completed or increased. Whether this object may not be attained, provided nine shall be convened, will be debated at their next meeting; and we hope that, if any gentleman be disposed to resign, he will at least bestow his endeavours, that the body may be first enabled to supply his place.

RAN away on Saturday the 11th instant, a NEGRO MAN, named NEHEMIAH, a very black fellow, down look, battle hammed, under six feet high, a great drunkard, and plays on the violin tolerably well; it is uncertain what cloaths he took with him, only a great coat of Bath coating, and of a dark gray colour; he rode off a small bay horse, with a sprig tail, with his two hind feet white up to the fetlock, and a star in his forehead. Whoever secures the said fellow, so that I get him again, shall be paid TEN DOLLARS, and for the horse only, five dollars. The above negro went off with a yellow man of Mr. Richard Darnall's, and it is suspected have made for Baltimore-town.

THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1789.

LIVERPOOL, March 2.

GENTLEMAN, who is just arrived from Ireland, informs us, there has been most severe gales of wind for more than a month past, and that at Cork, in the parlour of his house, near the Exchange, there was four feet water, and in some of the streets the water was seven feet deep.—A police brig drifted loose against the new bridge opposite the custom-house, and threw down two or three of the arches nor finished, and damaged it very much; fortunately the accident happened in the day time: it was from 8 o'clock, A. M. to 9 o'clock, P. M. before the waters fell.

A brig, captain Murphy, from Cork to Limerick, after being out 7 weeks, is got into Crookhaven:—the last flood star supported them for 14 days, was a dog and a cat.

A curious fact.—The mate of the Kitty, captain Huston, arrived here from Virginia, informs us, that on Saturday the 20th September 1788, being in lat. 35. 2. N. a passenger on board, having his watch in his pocket, went in the head, and lost it overboard; on the Friday following, being in lat. 26. 40. N. they caught three dolphins, the largest of which was 5 feet 4 inches long, 2 feet 6 inches round, and weighed 42 pounds; in the belly of which was found; to the astonishment of the whole ship's crew, the passenger's watch.—The distance run, per log, was 380 miles.

Sunday brought a very hard battle was fought in a field near Wrenham, between a watch-maker and a hair-dresser.—After twenty-five rounds, the main spring of Mr. Time-giver proved too strong for pocket-giver, who gave it up.

Coolly and steadily confuted
How feebly he felt the—dressing.

L'ORIENT, February 24th.

The port commerce from this port to the continent of the American states is now broken up, and in consequence the vessels built for that purpose are put up for sale.—Some American agents have purchased Le Courier d'Europe, Le Courier Americain, Le Diligence, and Le Postillon, all fine vessels of 16 guns each, and so exceedingly well qualified for fleets of war, that it is very extraordinary they should have been disposed of. The Swedes are the purchasers of the other six, which are still larger.

LONDON, March 5.

Nothing could possibly be more incommode to opposition, than the recovery of the king. A noble lord, supposing his appointment to the lieutenancy of Ireland certain, had bespoke all his liveries, which were uncommonly ornamented with lace. They were actually finished, and ready to be packed up. The new favourite's coach-maker indeed was left precipitate in his operations. A splendid carriage, lined with rose-coloured satin, was ordered, but counter-ordered before any progress in the work was made.

His majesty has already begun business by signing a number of commissions, and other official papers, which have been for some time only wanting that completion.

We hear that since his majesty's happy recovery, in that spirit of piety which has always marked his character, he has composed a form of prayer and thanksgiving for himself.

The king continues well! Anxious again to view his subjects, he would have perhaps come down to the house on Monday next. But better counsel was prevailed. The crowds, which joyfully would naturally have brought together from all quarters, in or out of London, might have been so immense, and their joy upon the occasion so eager, that such a scene would perhaps be too much for the first feelings of the father of a people! He has yielded therefore to counsel, upon this occasion. The first appearance of his majesty will be at the Levee. On Tuesday the lord chancellor will open parliament with a speech from the king. Mr. Pitt has had another audience. The bishop of Worcester also, Sir Joseph Banks, lord and lady Harcourt, and lady Pembroke, as well as all the princesses, have been admitted.

NEW YORK, May 1, 1789.

YESTERDAY took place, according to the resolution of the two houses of congress, a ceremony of the introduction of his excellency GEORGE WASHINGTON to the presidency of the United States.

The scene was extremely solemn and impressive; we imagine the public cannot be more satisfactorily informed than by an unembellished recital of the events, and a simple picture of the figures which composed it.

At nine o'clock, A. M. the clergy of different denominations assembled their congregations in their respective places of worship, and offered up prayers for the safety of the president.

About twelve o'clock the procession moved from the house of the president in Cherry-street, through Dock-street and Broad-street, to Federal Hall, in the following order:—

Colonel Lewis, supported by two officers,
Captain Stakes, with the troop of horse,
Artillery.

Major Van Horne,
Grenadiers, under captain Harbin,
German grenadiers, under captain Scriba,

Major Bicker,
The infantry of the brigade,
Major Chrysler,

The Sheriff,
The committee of the senate,
The PRESIDENT and suit,

The committee of the representatives,
The honourable Mr. Jay, general Knox, Chancellor Livingston, and several other gentlemen of distinction.

Then followed a multitude of citizens.

When they came within a short distance of the Hall, the troops formed a line on both sides of the way, and his excellency passing through the ranks, was conducted into the building, and in the senate chamber introduced to both houses of congress. Immediately afterwards, accompanied by the two houses, he went into the gallery fronting Broad-street, where, in the presence of an immense concourse of citizens, he took the oath prescribed by the constitution, which was administered to him by the honourable R. R. Livingston, Esq; chancellor of the state of New-York.

Immediately after he had taken the oath, the chancellor proclaimed him president of the United States.—Was answered by the discharge of 23 guns, and by loud repeated shouts; on this the president bowed to the people, and the air again rang with their acclamations. His excellency with the two houses then retired to the senate chamber, where he made the following

SPEECH:—

Beloved citizens of the senate, and of the house of representatives.

Among the vicissitudes incident to life, no event could have filled me with greater anxiety than that of which the notification was transmitted by your order, and received on the 14th day of the present month.—On the one hand, I was surprised by my country, whose voice I can never hear but with veneration and love, from a sentiment which I had chosen with the fondest predilection, and in my flattering hopes, with an immutable decision, as the asylum of my declining years; a retreat which was rendered every day more necessary as well as more dear to me, by the addition of habit to inclination, and of frequent interruptions in my health to the gradual waste committed on it by time.—On the other hand, the magnitude and difficulty of the trust to which the voice of my country called me, being sufficient to awaken in the wisest and most experienced of her citizens, a distrustful scrutiny into his qualifications, could not but overwhelm with despondence, one who inheriting inferior endowments from nature, and unpractised in the duties of civil administration, ought to be peculiarly conscious of his own deficiencies. In this conflict of emotions, all I dare ascribe to, is that it has been my faithful study to collect my duty from a just appreciation of every circumstance by which it might be affected. All I dare hope is, that if in executing this task, I have been too much swayed by a grateful remembrance of former instances, or by an affectionate sensibility to this transcendent proof of the confidence of my fellow-citizens, and have thence too little consulted my incapacity as well as diffidence, for the weighty and untiring cares before me, my error will be palliated by the motives which misled me, and its consequences be judged by my country, with some share of the partiality in which they originated.

Such being the impression under which I have, in obedience to the public summons, repaired to the present station; it would be peculiarly improper to omit in this first official act my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe—who presides in the councils of nations—and whose providential aids can supply every human defect—that His benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States, a government instituted by themselves for these essential purposes; and may enable every instrument employed in its administration to execute with success the functions allotted to his charge. In rendering this homage to the Great Author of every public and private good, I assure myself that it expresses your sentiments not less than my own; nor those of my fellow-citizens at large, less than either. No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of men, more than the people of the United States.—Every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation, seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency. And in the important revolution just accomplished in the system of their united government, the tranquil deliberations, and voluntary consent of so many distinct communities, from which the event has resulted, cannot be compared with the means by which most governments have been established, without some return of pious gratitude; along with an humble anticipation of the future blessings which the past seemed to prelude. These reflections arising out of the present crisis, have forced themselves too strongly on my mind to be suppressed. You will join with me, I trust, in thinking, that there are none under the influence of which, the proceedings of a new and free government can more auspiciously commence.

By the articles establishing the executive department, it is made the duty of the president—"to recommend to your consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient." The circumstances under which I now meet you, will acquit me from entering into that subject, further than to refer to the great constitutional charter under which you are assembled, and which, in defining your powers, designates the objects to which your attention is to be given.—It will be more consistent with those circumstances, and far more congenial with the feelings which actuate me, to substitute, in place of a recommendation of particular measures, the tribute that is due to the talents, the rectitude and the patriotism which adorn the characters selected to devise and adopt them. In those honorable qualifications, I behold the surest pledges, that as on one side no local prejudices or attachments—no separate views, nor party animosities, will misdirect the comprehensive and equal eye which ought to watch over this great assemblage of communities and interests; so, on another, that the foundations of our national policy will be laid in the pure and immutable principles of private morality; and the pre-eminence of free government, be exemplified by all the attributes which can win the affections of its citizens, and command the respect of the world. I dwell on this prospect with every satisfaction which an ardent love for my country can inspire. Since there is no truth more thoroughly established, than that there exists in the economy and course of nature, an indissoluble union between virtue and happiness; between duty and advantage, between the genuine maxims of an honest and magnanimous policy, and the solid rewards of public prosperity and felicity. Since we ought to be no less persuaded that the propitious smiles of Heaven, can never be expected on a nation that disregards the eternal rules of order and right, which Heaven itself has ordained. And since the preservation of the sacred fire of liberty, and the destiny of the republican model of government, are justly considered as deposited, perhaps as finally staked on the experiment entrusted to the hands of the American people.

Besides the ordinary objects committed to your care, it will remain with your judgment to decide, how far an exercise of the occasional power delegated by the fifth article of the constitution, is rendered expedient at the present juncture by the nature of objections which have been urged against the system, or by the degree of inquietude which has given birth to them.

Instead of undertaking particular recommendations on this subject, in which I could be guided by no lights derived from official opportunities, I shall again give way to my entire confidence in your discernment and pursuit of the public good.

For I assure myself that whilst you carefully avoid every alteration which might endanger the benefits of an united and effective government, or which ought to await the future lesson of experience; a reverence for the characteristic rights of freemen, and a regard for the public harmony, will sufficiently influence your deliberations on the question, how far the former can be more impregnably fortified, or the latter be safely and advantageously promoted.

To the preceding observations I have one to add, which will be most properly addressed to the house of representatives. It concerns myself, and will therefore be as brief as possible.

When I was first honoured with a call into the service of my country, then on the eve of an arduous struggle for its liberties, the light in which I contemplated my duty required that I should renounce every pecuniary compensation. From this resolution I have in no instance departed. And being still under the impressions which produced it, I must decline as inapplicable to myself, any share in the personal emoluments, which may be indispensably included in a permanent provision for the executive department; and must accordingly pray, that the pecuniary estimates for the station in which I am placed may, during my continuance in it, be limited to such actual expenditures as the public good may be thought to require.

Having thus imparted to you my sentiments, as they have been awakened by the occasion which brings us together; I shall take my present leave; but not without resorting once more to the benign Parent of the human race, in humble supplication, that since he has been pleased to favour the American people with opportunities for deliberating in perfect tranquillity and dispositions for deciding with unparalled unanimity on a form of government, for the security of their union, and the advancement of their happiness; so His Divine blessing may be equally conspicuous in the enlarged views, the temperate consultations, and the wise measures, on which the success of this government must depend.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

His excellency, accompanied by the vice-president, the speaker of the house of representatives, and both houses of congress, then went to St. Paul's chapel, where divine service was performed by the right reverend Dr. Provoit, bishop of the Episcopal church in this state, and chaplain to congress.

The religious solemnity being ended, the president was escorted to his house, and the citizens retired to their homes.

In the evening was exhibited, under the direction of colonel Bauman, a very ingenious and splendid show of fire-works, the various kinds of which, want of time will not permit us to particularise. Betwixt the fort and the Bowling-Green stood conspicuous, a superb and brilliant transparent painting, in the centre of which was the portrait of the president, represented under the emblem of fortitude; on his right hand justice, representing the senate of the United States, and on his left wisdom, representing the house of representatives. The arms of the United States, and several figures and decorations were painted with great taste and judgment, in the front of the structure. The count de Moutier's house was elegantly illuminated, and a variety of transparent paintings were exhibited. His excellency Don Diego de Gardoqui's house also displayed a great assemblage of beautiful figures, executed in the most masterly and striking manner, and which attracted considerable attention from the vast multitude of citizens assembled to view the various scenes of the evening.

In this sketch of the proceedings of the day, we ought not to omit that Mr. Dohrman's ship, the North-Carolina, was handsomely dressed, and at sunset she discharged thirteen cannon in honour of the day, and in the evening was brilliantly illuminated.

Nor ought we to be unmindful of the truly beautiful and sumptuous scenery that was displayed in the front of the theatre.

The ceremony of this memorable day completed the organization of the federal body.—Every honest man must feel a singular felicity in contemplating this day—good government, the best of blessings, now commences under favourable auspices.—We beg leave to congratulate our readers on the great event.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.

The following method of raising COTTON is given by a person who resided in the West-Indies, also in South-Carolina, and has tried the same in this state, where it came to perfection—a sample of which is now in his possession.

Take the middle of April, if the spring be forward, for preparing the soil, which is done by hoe-plowing, or laying the ground in small ridges, or potatoe hills, which prevents the soil throwing out a crop of weeds, and gives double vigour to the powers of vegetation. The latter end of April, or the beginning of May, when the frost is fully out of the ground, are thought to be the properest season to plant the seeds, when the rains have penetrated the earth; there is every chance of succeeding in getting the plants so strong as to resist the dry weather.

Put the seed in a tub over night, and pour thereon warm water, stirring them about; the good will sink, and the false seed will swim on top, which throw away. Plant them at 3 feet apart, 5 or 6 seeds in a hole, in a straight line; the lines to be about 8 feet apart; when so close, the trees are better protected from dry weather, the ground being sheltered by their branches.

When the plants arrive to 14 or 16 inches high, they are then to be topped; a dry day must be chosen for the purpose, and about one inch of the upper part of the plant is lopped off, as well as the principal branches. This operation produces a number of branches to grow from the principal stem, and spreads the tree, without permitting it to run into high wood. At this time it ought to be hilled up, and a strong moulding given, in order to secure it in an upright situation when the rains come. It will be then necessary to top all the trees that have grown above 3 or 4 feet high, and reduce them all to an equal height, permitting the branches to spread horizontally, to enjoy that situation uninjured. Cotton should never be permitted to rise higher than 4 or 5 feet, as the pods in their green state form a great weight, and break down if they are too tall, by every breeze of wind.

When the season for gathering the cotton arrives, the whole attention ought to be in gathering it—take none but what is fully open and dry, never intrude on the half opened pods; the wool should hang loose, in a state of separation from the pods; when so gathered, it saves a great deal of labour in whipping it, which is very tedious, and injures the seed: the wool should be laid under cover, to dry the seed. When brought to the gin, it should be exposed to the sun; for the drier it is, the easier it will pass through the gin.—Cotton grows on midling good ground.

N. B. When the caterpillars attack the cotton in the early part of the year, they may be permitted to fly off unmolested; but if they come when the tree begins to bloom, they must be destroyed, or they will spoil the crop: if the land is clear, simply shaking them off the tree will be sufficient, as the ants will then devour them; but if the ground be full of weeds, they must be killed as you take them. A crop of early Indian corn may be planted between the cotton, when it is established, and may be gathered in before the corn.

Extract of a letter from Lisbon, to a merchant in this city, dated 6th March, 1789.

"A fleet consisting of an 80 gun ship, 2 frigates, 2 brigs and 1 cutter, under the command of commodore Jose de Mello, are under orders for sailing; they are to cruise on our coast and block up the gut of Gibraltar. This will protect the navigation of those nations which have thought it degrading their dignity to purchase the friendship of such banditti."

RICHMOND, May 7.

By an express just arrived from the county lieutenant of Monongalia to the honourable executive of this state, we are informed, "that on the 23d ult. two parties of Indians attacked nearly at the same time two families on Dunker creek, about twenty or twenty-five miles from Morgan's-town, and killed one man out of one, and the man, his wife, and two children, which was the whole of the other family. The alarm given to the inhabitants of that part of the country by this murder, hath become very serious, and unless some speedy assistance is given, it is the opinion that Monongalia river (which runs through Morgan's-town) will be the frontier in a short time."

PUBLIC SALE of the following valuable real estates.

To be SOLD, in virtue of a decree from the honourable the chancery court of Maryland, on Monday the 22d day of June next, at the auction room in Baltimore-town, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon,

3 BURTON WHETCROFT, Coroner of Anne-Arundel county.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of
Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, late of this city, deceased, are requested to bring them in properly authenticated, and those indebted to the estate are most earnestly called on to make immediate payment to the subscriber, that he may be quickly enabled to discharge
the claims against the estate. The very great indulgence which the debtors generally have experienced
from the deceased, will, I hope, induce many to pay the proper attention to this advertisement; those who neglect may depend that suits will be instituted against them to November court, without respect to persons.

five acres, one other TRACT of LAND called WIL-KINSON'S THRONE, containing four hundred and fifteen acres, part of one other TRACT of LAND called THOMPSON'S CHANCE, containing fifty-five acres and one third of an acre, the life estate of the said Hanson in one other TRACT of LAND called THOMPSON'S CHANCE, containing two hundred and seventy-eight acres; and the reversion of the said Hanson in part of one other TRACT of LAND called HARWOOD, containing fifty acres, to satisfy unto the state of Maryland a certain debt, damages, cost and charges, in the said writ mentioned.
The sale to be for ready money only. The sale to Notice is hereby given that, in pursuance of a decree of the high court of chancery, bearing date the 6th day of April, 1789, will be EXPOSED to SALE, on Friday the 12th of June, at 12 o'clock, on the premises, at vendue, to the highest bidder,

A TRACT or parcel of LAND called KEMP'S
FREEHOLD, containing, by estimation, about 225 acres, lying in Calvert county, and now in the tenure and occupation of the subscriber. One half of the purchase money to be paid on the day of sale;
good security to be given for the payment of the other half, to be paid in twelve months; with interest thereon, according to the above mentioned decree. Possession will be delivered immediately, or the subscriber will pay rent for the use of the land this year, at the option of the purchaser.

2 FRANCIS HOLT.

N. B. If it should rain on the day of sale above mentioned, the sale will be postponed to the next day.

St. Mary's county, April 29, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of TOWNSHEND EDEN, Esquire, late of the county aforesaid, deceased, are hereby requested to take notice, that we have appointed Tuesday 16th of June next to meet the creditors at Chaptico, in Saint-Mary's county, for the purpose of making a just dividend of the estate in our hands, and we request, if there remain any claims not exhibited to us, that the same may be delivered to us before that day, or they will be excluded the intended distribution. Walter Stone will attend at Chaptico on Monday the 15th June, to receive any communications the creditors may wish to make.

VENETIAN,

WILL stand for MARES this season at FRANKIS TOLSON, Esquire's plantation, in Prince George's county, 5 miles from the ferry opposite Alexandria, at five guineas each mare, and a dollar the groom, or three guineas each mare, and three and ninepence to the groom, if paid by the first of August, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. Good grass for mares at half a dollar per week. Venetian is a fine bay, fifteen hands and an half high, with length and bone in proportion; he was bred by Sir James Pennymann, Bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennison Shaffoe Snip, sire of Godolphin, Gnawpolt, Dacey and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox; Doge was got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dyer's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian. Venetian, at five years old, won the king's plate at Newcastle, and the fifty pounds for all ages, the same week, beating Mr. Fenwick's famous mare Spider Bruther, and several others, fifteen days after he won the king's plate at Carlisle, beating Lord Surry's famous horse Bon-Mot, and run second to High Flyer at York.

ROMULUS,

A BRIGHT bay, nearly sixteen hands high, remarkably strong, handsome and active, will stand this season at Mount Stewart, near South river church, and cover mares at three pounds, and five shillings to the groom. ROMULUS was got by Sweeper, his dam by the imported Ranger, his grand-dam by Ariel, his great-grand-dam by Odiello, but of an imported mare. Good pasturage will be provided for mares at 1/6 per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. WHEAT, CORN, OATS or TOBACCO, will be taken instead of the cash at the present market prices.

Charles county, April 6, 1789.

AL persons having any claims against the estate of JOHN EDEN, senior, Esquire, late of St. Mary's county, deceased, are hereby requested to exhibit the same, that they may be paid; suits will be commenced against all persons indebted to the estate whether on protested bills of exchange, bond, note, open account or otherwise, neglecting and withholding payment, after six weeks notice in the Baltimore and Annapolis papers.

WALTER STONE, Admr. de bonis non, of JOHN EDEN, Esq.

NORTHERN ECLIPSE,

WILL stand for mares this season at London-town, near Annapolis, at two guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom, the money to be sent with the mares. Pasturage for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. This horse is a chestnut, fifteen hands and an inch high, not handsome, but he has some of the best English running blood in his veins, with bone and action.

JOHN CRAGGS,

NORTHERN ECLIPSE was got by Oddy's famous Eclipse, and out of Ameryllis. Ameryllis was got by Adolphus, son of Regulus, and out of Lodge's roan mare, which was got by Partnor (the first and most famous stallion then in England) her dam by Baboon, which was got by Badger, the grand-dam by old Traveller, which was sire to the duke of Cleveland's Dainty Davy, which won successively five gold cups at Richmond, in Yorkshire, her great-grand-dam by Snake, then the most capital stallion of his day. This is a true pedigree, as witnesses my hand.

RAN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 13th of March, 1789; his dress is an off-shirt, and cotton waist-coat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; he is an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off; it is thought he is gone off with his overcoat, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Pearce's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.

The beautiful HORSE

ROEBUCK,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to insert his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK's stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle; I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six-pence per week; and great care will be taken of them; but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents.

WILLIAM M. WILKINSON.

Charles county, March 26, 1789.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow. He had on a green jacket and overalls, off-white shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths. He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any goal, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

For SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick end and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon, an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber and situation, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at five per cent. per annum. PROPOSALS,

For Printing by Subscription,

ISAAC COLLINS,

IN TRENTON,

T H E

HOLY BIBLE,

CONTAINING

The Old and New Testament,

WITH THE

Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS.

I. This work, to be contained in one large volume Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as one thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at the same time, be both seasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting, but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gaillard and Edmund Prior, New York; by Joseph Cruikshank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Paton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions; and that the several printers of newspapers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the State of New Jersey. Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

due to the occasion. It is already applauded by the universal joy which welcomes you to your station, and we cannot doubt that it will be rewarded with all the satisfaction, with which an ardent love for your fellow-citizens must review successful efforts to promote their happiness.

This anticipation is not justified merely by the past experience of your signal services. It is particularly suggested by the pious impressions under which you commence your administration, and the enlightened maxims by which you mean to conduct it. We feel with you the strongest obligations to adorn the invisible hand which has led the American people through so many difficulties, to cherish a conscious responsibility for the delivery of republican liberty, and to seek the only sure means of preserving and recommending the precious deposit in a system of legislation, founded on the principles of an honest policy, and directed by the spirit of a diffused patriotism.

The question arising out of the fifth article of the constitution, will receive all the attention demanded by its importance, and will, we trust, be decided under the influence of all the considerations to which you allude.

In forming the pecuniary provisions for the executive department, we shall not lose sight of a wish resulting from motives which give it a peculiar claim to our regard.—Your resolution, in a moment critical to the liberties of your country, to renounce all personal emolument, was among the many prefaces of your patriotic services, which have been amply fulfilled; and your scrupulous adherence now to the law then imposed on yourself, cannot fail to demonstrate the purity, which it increases the lustre of a character, which has so many titles to admiration.

Such are the sentiments which we have thought fit to address to you: They flow from our own hearts, and we verily believe, that among the millions we represent, there is not a virtuous citizen whose heart will disown them.

All that remains is, that we join in your fervent supplication for the blessings of Heaven on our country; and that we add our own for the choicest of those blessings on the most beloved of her citizens.

To which his excellency was pleased to make the following reply:

GENTLEMEN,

YOUR very affectionate address produces emotions which I know not how to express. I feel that my past endeavours in the service of my country are far overpaid by its goodness: and I fear much that my future ones may not fulfil your kind anticipation. All that I can promise is, that they will be invariably directed by an honest and an ardent zeal.—Of this resource my heart assures me. For all beyond, I rely on the wisdom and patriotism of those with whom I am to co-operate, and a continuance of the blessings of Heaven on our beloved country.

G. WASHINGTON.

After this, the president retiring, the members of the house returned to their seats.

A motion which was laid on the table the 4th inst. respecting a request to the president, that he would procure an estimate of exports and imports, entries and clearances, from the several States in the union, for 12 months previous to the fourth of March last, was taken up, and after sundry amendments, one of which was, appointing a committee to attend to the business, the motion was adopted.

The order of the day was then called for, and the house went into a committee of the whole, when the second reading of the bill ascertaining the rates of impost was attended to.

Dr. Tucker proposed, that the duty on distilled spirits, Jamaica proof, should be reduced to six cents per gallon—this brought on a debate which lasted till the house adjourned.

SATURDAY, MAY 9.

The bill for the collection of the impost was read a second time and ordered to be referred to a committee of the whole.

The house then went into a committee on the impost bill.

Mr. Page in the chair.

A proposition was made to lower the whole of the enumerated articles about one fifth; arguments were advanced in support of this measure by Mr. Ames, Mr. Gerry and Mr. Boudinot, they feared they were laid too high for collection, and that they would defeat the object of revenue which gentlemen had in view.

Mr. Fitzsimons, Mr. Madison and Mr. Sherman, were for the duties remaining as fixed by the committee and by the house, the subject had already been discussed three times and nothing new was now offered to induce a change of sentiments, they did not think the duties were too high, nothing if compared to what other nations paid, at best whether they were so or not was matter of opinion, but even these high duties it was to be feared, would prove insufficient for the public wants.

The morning was spent in this discussion, when at length upon repeated calls for the question it was put, and the committee divided, 19 for reducing the duties and 26 against it.

PITTSBURGH, April 18.

Extract of a letter from Kentucky, dated March 2.

"A general and uninterrupted trade has taken place between the inhabitants of this country and those of the Spanish settlements at New-Orleans; several boats, loaded with goods, to a very considerable amount, have arrived here—and in return, they took large quantities of tobacco, beef, corn, &c. and that, from every appearance, this traffic was likely to be continued and carried on with the greatest alacrity, which cannot fail proving of the most infinite mutual advantage.

April 25. A report being circulated the beginning of this week, that the Indians had killed a white man who was working at captain James O'Hara's saw mill, about one mile from this town, on the opposite side of the Allegany river, it is with singular pleasure we can contradict it, and assure the public that no circumstance whatever has happened, that could give the least ground for such a propagation.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.

The king of Sweden has published an ordinance, ordering four fast days to be held during the present year. (The critical situation of affairs has induced his majesty to judge it necessary. It concludes with the following words, deferring of being handed down to posterity, for the dignity of sentiment, and patriotic worth:

"May a pure and sincere affection for our country, strengthen those ties of friendship, which bind us to you and you with one another! fleeting is this short, terrestrial and laborious life; and with it vanishes that inequality of rank, which Providence has placed between you and us. May we then be enabled to render an account to our common Judge, without reproaches to lay to our own charge, we, for the commands that we have given, and the obedience we have required, on our part; you, on the manner in which you have shown your obedience."

Extract of a letter from a reputable house in Lisbon, to their friend in this city, dated March 24, 1789.

"The Portuguese squadron is on the eve of sailing for their station in the Straits, to keep the Algerines in, so that your flag may come very safe to Portugal and Spain, without the Straits; the risk is thought to be little of here, that we can get it wrote at one if not at one half per cent. Please to have this information put in your public papers, to spread through the United States, to act against the false advertisements in the European papers, to intimidate adventurers, and raise the premium of insurance."

The BOTTLE GREEN, it is said, will be for a while the colour of the national dress of the United States. It was worn by our beloved president on the day of his inauguration. It accords with the present state of our country, just coming out of a wilderness condition, but exhibiting at the same time, marks of life, vigour and beauty, and promising a plentiful harvest of national prosperity.

A malt-house and brewery are now erecting in this city, by Messrs. Samuel Morris and son, which will be 104 feet in front, and 90 in depth. This noble building, devoted to one of the most useful manufactures, proves in the clearest manner the increased consumption of malt liquors, and fully justifies the duty about to be imposed upon spirits by the congress of the United States.

In the house of representatives of the United States on Tuesday last, Mr. Benson, from the committee appointed to consider and report, whether any or what style or titles should be given to the president and vice-president, reported, that it would be improper to give any other than those mentioned in the constitution.—This report the house accepted.

We hear the State of Connecticut are about presenting every member of the new congress with cloth sufficient for a suit of cloaths; and that it is to be the manufacture of that state, and of one colour.

May 13. A gentleman, who has lately visited the country between the Delaware and the Susquehanna, has calculated that there are SUGAR MAPLE TREES enough in the state of Pennsylvania to make as much sugar as could be consumed in the United States. This maple sugar has been examined in Philadelphia, and yields leaves equal in quality to that which is made from the juice of the West-India sugar cane. To free-men, its sweetness ought to be enhanced by the reflection, that it is not stained with the sweat and blood of negro slaves.

Extract of a letter from Madras, dated September 28.

"Since writing the foregoing, I have to inform you, that hostilities are once more commenced between the English and Tippoo Saib, (the late Hyder Ally's son) who, from the time of the English first settling upon the coast, to this day, has been their most inveterate enemy, having always declared them the ravagers of the country. He is allowed to be the greatest military genius of the east, and commands the greatest army of any of the eastern princes. During the late Carnatic war, the English had every thing to fear from so formidable an enemy—Hyder himself could command an army of 200,000 men, while his son, at the head of a numerous army, over-run the whole Carnatic, and burst like a torrent upon their enemies, taking some of the most capital places. The great pains which Hyder always took to train his son up to avenge his country's wrongs, does him honour. That prince has always declared his predilection for the French. Since our arrival, a detachment has been sent to the northward, to reinforce the English in that quarter. A battle since has taken place, and two battalions of the company's troops have been entirely cut off: the English have, however, some advantage on their side, as they have taken two of Tippoo Saib's forts."

WINCHESTER, May 13.

Extract of a letter from Morgan-town, to the Printer hereof, dated May 4, 1789.

"The Indians have lately paid us a visit—about 15 miles from this place, a few days ago, they killed two men, a woman and two children. In another part of the country they stole some horses and carried off a man, but being pursued the horses were retaken.—The horses were laden with articles they had plundered the inhabitants of, Indian match coats, &c. &c. all of which fell into the hands of the pursuers.—A skirmish took place between the savages and those who followed them,—no body killed on either side."

Mr. GARDETTE, DENTIST.

RESPECTFULLY informs the public, that he is at present at Annapolis, where he means to remain a few weeks; he has taken lodgings at Mr. G. MANN'S. His dentifice, carefully put up in pewer pots, may be had, with directions, at the bar; and in future at the post-office in Baltimore.—Price 7/6. Annapolis, May 18, 1789.

By virtue of a writ of sequestration from Washington county court, to me directed, will be SOLD, by PUBLIC SALE, on the premises, on Monday the 15th of June next,

A TRACT OF LAND called PART of the R.R. SURVEY on WELL DONE, lying and being in the county aforesaid, within about six miles of the town of Sharpsburgh, containing one hundred and twenty-three acres, more or less, with convenient buildings and other necessary improvements thereon; and taken in execution as the property of Andrew Brantner, at the suit of Nicholas Sheffer.

DANIEL STULL, Sheriff, Washington county, May 9, 1789.

To be SOLD, on the 9th day of June, at the late plantation of GEORGE SNELL, deceased, SIX valuable SLAVES, one a good carpenter and wheelwright, a waggon almost new, a timber carriage, some leather, and other things too tedious to mention; short credit will be given with good security. A NEGRO MAN, named CHARLES, committed to my custody as a runaway, on the 6th of January last. The said negro to be sold for the purpose of discharging his prison fees.

JOHN BROOKE, Sheriff, DR. FREDERICK RAPP,

From STRASBURG, Late from PHILADELPHIA.

RESPECTFULLY informs the public, that he now resides in this city, and presents himself to the service of all who may please to employ him as DOCTOR OF PHYSIC, SURGERY and MID WIFERY. As he has by long experience (being more than twenty years in the army) become well acquainted with the practice part of the different branches, as well as the theory, he hopes to be a useful member of community. As the doctor has effected many cures of the cancer, and is particularly well acquainted with that disease, and has credentials for his superior abilities in curing all cancers, whether internal or external, he hopes to be of service to all who may make application to him for his prescriptions.

N. B. There is now, in this city, some on whom he has been successful enough to effect a cure, though thought beyond all hope. The doctor has medicine for practice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that we, the commissioners appointed to build a court house, prison and prison yard, at the Head of Elk, in Cecil county, intend to petition the general assembly at their next session, for a further sum of money to be levied on the inhabitants of said county, to enable us to finish and complete said court house, prison and prison yard.

PUBLIC SALE of the following valuable real estates.

To be SOLD, in virtue of a decree from the honourable the chancery court of Maryland, on Monday the 22d day of June next, at the auction room in Baltimore-town, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon,

ALL the real estate of WILLIAM NEILL, deceased, consisting of the following TRACTS of LAND and LOTS of GROUND, &c. &c.

All that TRACT of LAND called Privilege or Worthington's Island, containing two hundred and fifty acres of land, more or less; all that TRACT of LAND called Watkins' Neck, containing forty-nine acres and an half of land, more or less; all that TRACT of LAND called Bagford's Fortune, containing seventy-five acres and one quarter of land, more or less. The above three tracts of land are situate on the Bay, in Pasapico Neck, about fifteen miles from Baltimore-town, and lie contiguous to each other, and are remarkably valuable for the great quantity of grass which they produce; all that TRACT of LAND called Industry, about one and an half miles distant from the former three tracts, containing one hundred and forty-two acres of land, more or less; on this last-ter tract is erected a dwelling-house and sundry other buildings, particularly a large and spacious brick barn;

all that TRACT of LAND called Brown's Farm, containing two hundred and seventy-nine acres, more or less, near James Gittings, Esquire's, in Baltimore county; on this valuable farm there are a great variety of fruit, and a large quantity of meadow now in grass, and it is well adapted to raising wheat, Indian-corn, &c. &c. the buildings on it are commodious and valuable; all that extensive LOT of GROUND, situate on the east side of Jones's Falls, on which is erected a brick dwelling-house; the said lot is enclosed, and is in high culture as a garden; it is lots No. 26 and 27, according to the plot of Baltimore-town;

and also one moiety and half part of two other LOTS or PARCELS of GROUND, distinguished on said plot by the numbers 28 and 29; all that valuable WATER LOT on Fell's-Point, being part of lots
No. 53 and 54, as described on the plot of Fell's-Point; on this lot there are a valuable warehouse, a wooden dwelling-house, and a brick dwelling-house, and also a wharf and sundry other improvements, erected; also all that LOT of GROUND, described on the plot of Baltimore-town by the No. 68, situate on the Head of the Basin, whereon are erected a valuable brick warehouse and wharf.

The whole of the above property will be set up separately, and sold to the highest bidder.—The purchaser or purchasers to give bond with approved security on interest, payable at one year, eighteen months, and two years, one third at each payment. Plots of the lots will be exhibited at the day of sale, and a more particular enumeration of the terms of sale, by premises, at vendue, to the highest bidder,

A TRACT or parcel of LAND called KEMP's
FREEHOLD, containing, by estimation, about 225 acres, lying in Calvert county, and now in the tenure and occupation of the subscriber. One half of the purchase money to be paid on the day of sale;
good security to be given for the payment of the other half, to be paid in twelve months, with interest thereon, according to the above mentioned decree. Possession will be delivered immediately, or the subscriber will pay rent for the use of the land this year, at the option
of the purchaser.

FRANCIS HOLT.
N. B. If it should rain on the day of sale above mentioned, the sale will be postponed to the next day.

St. Mary's county, April 29, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of TOWNSHEND EDEN, Esquire, late of the county aforesaid, deceased, are hereby requested to take notice, that we have appointed Tuesday 16th of June
next to meet the creditors at Chaptico, in Saint-Mary's county, for the purpose of making a just dividend of the estate in our hands, and we request, if there remain
any claims not exhibited to us, that the same may be delivered to us before that day, or they will be excluded the intended distribution. Walter Stone will attend at Chaptico on Monday the 15th June, to receive any communications the creditors may wish to make.

EXPOSE to PUBLIC SALE, on the premises, on Monday the 27th of July next, if fair, if not the next fair day,

A PART of that very valuable TRACT of LAND called Worton Manor, in Kent county, delightfully situated on the Chesapeake Bay; the soil of this land can be exceeded by none, being well adapted to every species of grain, tobacco and grass; and what renders it still more valuable is the immense quantity of fine timber growing on it of every kind, a good navigation, and well situated for a variety of markets.—
It will be laid off into small and convenient lots, and sold on a credit of three years, by annual instalments.
Good and approved securities will be required.

PROPOSALS, For Printing by Subscription, BY ISAAC COLLINS, IN TRENTON, THE HOLY BIBLE,

CONTAINING
The Old and New Testament;
WITH THE
Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:
I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, with, at this time, be both reasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Gaine and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Cruikshank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Paton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions: and that the several printers of newspapers in the union, will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern,
Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

Test. SAMUEL HARVEY HOWARD,
Reg. Cur. Can.

AN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 1st of March, 1789; his dress is an of nabrig shirt, and cotton waist-coat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; has an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off: it is thought he is gone off with his master, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Pearce's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.

The beautiful HORSE ROEBUCK,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to infer his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK's stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle, I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six pence per week, and great care will be taken of them; but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents. 8v

WILLIAM M. WILKINSON.
Charles county, March 26, 1789.

VENETIAN,

WILL stand for MARES this season at FRANKIS TOLSON, Esquire's plantation, in Prince-George's county, 5 miles from the ferry opposite Alexandria, at five guineas each mare, and a dollar the groom, or three guineas each mare, and three and nine-pence to the groom, if paid by the first of August, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. Good grass for mares at half a dollar per week. Venetian is a fine bay fifteen hands and an half high, with length and bone in proportion; he was bred by Sir James Pennycuik, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennifort Shaftoe Snap, sire of Goldfinder, Gnapwort, Dacey and other good runners, his grand-dam by old Fox; Doge was got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dyer's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arabian. Venetian, at five years old, won the king's plate at Newcastle, and the fifty pounds for all ages, the same week, beating Mr. Benwick's famous mare Spider Basher, and several others, fifteen days after he won the king's plate at Carlisle, beating Lord Surry's famous horse Bow-Mor, and run second to High Flyer at York.

Signed JOHN KIRKTON, Venetian's Jockey.
THOMAS COATES, the Trainer.
Thirsk, November 26, 1787.

ROMULUS,

A BRIGHT bay, nearly sixteen hands high, remarkably strong, handsome and active, will stand this season at Mount Stewart, near South river church, and cover mares at three pounds, and five shillings to the groom. ROMULUS was got by Sweeper, his dam by the imported Ranger, his grand-dam by Arich, his great-grand-dam by Orhelo, out of an imported mare. Good pasturage will be provided for mares at 3/6 per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. WHEAT, CORN, OATS or TOBACCO, will be taken instead of the cash at the present market prices.

W4 4X
Charles county, April 6, 1789.

ALL persons having any claims against the estate of JOHN EDEN, senior, Esquire, late of St. Mary's county, deceased, are hereby requested to exhibit the same, that they may be paid; suits will be commenced against all persons indebted to the estate whether on protested bills of exchange, bond, note, open account or otherwise, neglecting and withholding payment, after six weeks notice in the Baltimore and Annapolis papers.

WALTER STONE, Admr. de bonis non, of JOHN EDEN, senior, Esquire.

NORTHERN ECLIPSE,

WILL stand for mares this season at London-town, near Annapolis, at two guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom; the money to be sent with the mares. Pasturage for mares at half a dollar per week, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. This horse is a chestnut, fifteen hands and an inch high, neck handsome, but he has some of the best English running blood in his veins, with bone and action.

JOHN CRAGGS.
NORTHERN ECLIPSE was got by O'Kelly's famous Eclipse, and out of Ameryllis. Ameryllis was got by Adolphus, son of Regulus, and out of Lodge's roan mare, which was got by Partner (the first and most famous stallion then in England); her dam by Baboon, which was got by Badger, her grand-dam by old Traveller, which was sire to the duke of Cleveland's Dainty Davy, which won successively five gold cups, at Richmond, in Yorkshire, her great-grand-dam by Snake, then the most capital stallion of his day. This is a true pedigree, as witness my hand.

W. NEWBURN, the Breeder,
Cleveland, Yorkshire.

FRIENDSHIP,

A HANDSOME full bred horse, stands this season at the subscriber's plantation, in Prince-George's county, about seven miles from Bladenburg, and the same distance from Snowden's works, and will cover mares at six dollars each; he is a good bred, full fifteen hands high, with length and bone in proportion, and is six years old; he was bred by William Mitchell, Esquire, of Virginia, and was got by Apollo, the property of Colonel Henry Lee, out of an imported full bred mare. Apollo was got by general Spotswoods noted Apollo. FRIENDSHIP has run two matches, and won both easy. Few horses in this state are equal to him in beauty and form. He covers at half price, owing to the scarcity of cash.

CHARLES DUVAL.
N. B. Thirty-five shillings will be received if the money be paid by the first day of September next.

Charles county, April 14, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of JOHN JORDAN, late of Charles county, deceased, are desired to bring the same in to the subscriber legally authenticated, and all persons indebted to said estate are desired to make immediate payment, to

JOHN THOMAS, Administrator.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

AN away from the subscriber, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide; he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of nabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths. He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any goal, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

PHILIP R. FENDALL
Alexandria, Sept. 30, 1788.

For SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick ends and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon, an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber, and situation, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at five per cent. per annum. Apply to

JAMES RINGGOLD.

A VENDUE STORE.

Proceedings of Congress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES.

MONDAY, MAY 11, 1789.

MESSAGE from the senate purporting, that they had appointed a committee to join with such committee as the house may appoint, to confer upon the subject of a title which may be proper to give to the president of the United States, was

Upon which Mr. Parker moved, that a resolution should be adopted to this effect—That the house could not concur with the senate, having already decided upon the subject unanimously.

Mr. Page supported the motion; he was fully of opinion, that by the constitution the house had neither a right to suggest or propose any thing upon the subject:—He considered it as anti-republican, and apprehended great evils would result from the measure, should congress take any steps in it: He conceived that the real honour and dignity of the government did not consist in or depend upon titles, and that he had had his feelings hurt, when he heard gentlemen address the members of that house by the style of "The honourable member." He thought that the house had already fully and explicitly declared its sentiments, in the report of a former committee, and was sorry to have the subject again introduced.

Mr. Tucker was in sentiment with Mr. Page, but observed further, that he had always been opposed to the appointment of any committee in the first of the business; and was equally averse from taking it up now: the constitution was expressly against any titles whatever: the introduction of them would bring us back to monarchy, and would justify what had been said upon the constitution by its enemies. What could be the design of the senate? Did general Washington wish for a title? Did he fight for this? By no means. Real dignity consists not in these distinctions: titles bring equipage, etiquette, parade, &c. to support these liberty must be sacrificed; and from sustaining the character of independent freemen, we shall degenerate into servility; we shall no longer be men; we shall degrade into apes; a balance of imitation. Mr. Tucker concluded by wishing the subject might be dismissed.

Mr. Turnbull moved for a committee to inquire into the difference which appeared in the votes of the two houses, upon the report of the joint committee upon this subject, as now held out in the message from the senate.

Mr. Burk was opposed to any further proceeding in the business, except it was to express their entire disapprobation; and to that purpose he proposed a resolution against the introduction of any title, more especially all imitation of European styles or titles, whether given to emperors, kings, princes, or any other dignitaries whatever.

Mr. Madison was in opinion with the gentlemen opposed to a title; he was not, however, for summary proceedings with the message of the senate; he urged the propriety of a decent and respectful attention to it upon a variety of principles, and then observed, that he could not see the use or advantage of adopting titles, that it was evident that they did not confer power or influence; many of the poorest and most insignificant states had assumed the most pompous and high sounding titles; what greater or more lofty title could be assumed than that of "High Mightinesses?" A style almost bordering upon impiety; what real advantages had been derived from it? Had even fancied the idea? Titles he considered as unconstitutional and contrary to the general sentiments of the people. Should it be determined to adopt them, we must either borrow or create; old ones we should find inapplicable, and they would be considered as servile imitations, and new ones, he feared, would be absurd and ridiculous. The true dignity of a republican government, he considered as independent of titles; he hoped that gentlemen would not discover any warmth upon the occasion; had no doubt but the same unanimity would now be shown as before upon this question, and he was therefore in favour of a committee of conference.

Mr. White was opposed to the appointment of a committee of conference, and supposed it best to put a period to any further discussion, by informing the senate, that the house had already determined on the question, by unanimously adopting the report of the joint committee upon this subject.

Mr. Sherman supposed there would be an impropriety in appointing a committee, unless the house should first rescind their former vote; he thought that to make the journals appear consistent, this was a previous question.

Mr. Jackson observed, that although he was as much opposed to titles and distinctions as any gentleman whatever, he thought however that there was a propriety in appointing a committee of conference, that the result being known, might prevent the publication of ridiculous and absurd contradictions and titles in the news-papers, which had a tendency to bring the government into contempt.

Mr. Madison thought that Mr. Sherman's ideas were not just; he supposed that a committee might be appointed with as much propriety in the present case as in any other, and assigned a variety of reasons to prove, that the subject was open to discussion, and that every dictate of policy and sound judgment pointed out the expediency of paying all possible respect and attention to the communications of the senate.

Mr. Seney expressed his mind fully in opposition to a committee, as he considered the measure fruitless, and occasioned a loss of time—wished that Mr. Parker's motion might be adopted, and an end put to the business.

Mr. Clymer was opposed to the conferring of titles; observed, that the most potent nations assumed the most pompous addresses—that they were not indicative of power and influence was evident from facts, for when the kings of England had only the title of highness, their prerogative was much greater than it had been since under that of most sacred majesty. He differed, however, from gentlemen, who supposed that the people were averse to distinctions. It was evident, he said, from a variety of facts, that they had a powerful predilection for them, and this propensity he thought should be counteracted and checked.

Mr. Page observed, that titles naturally led to honours and distinctions not founded always on merit, until in time the supreme executive comes to be considered as the fountain of honour. Inducing a train of consequences derogatory to the dignity of a freeman.

Mr. Lee moved that the previous question should be taken in words to the following effect—Whether the house would now proceed to consider the subject of the message from the senate? This passed in the affirmative.

A variety of motions were then introduced, and the one from Mr. Turnbull was adopted to the following effect—That a committee be appointed to confer with a committee of the senate, upon the difference which appears in the votes of the two houses, upon the evidence in report of the joint committee, upon the question respecting titles, the vote of the senate, appointing a committee to take up the same subject upon quite opposite principles.

This motion being adopted, Mr. Madison, Mr. Turnbull, Mr. Page, Mr. Sherman and Mr. Benson, were appointed.

The house then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, when the impost bill was taken up, Mr. Gerry proposed that six cents on molasses should be struck out, and two inserted—This produced a debate, in which Mr. Ames and Mr. Madison were the principal speakers, but the house adjourned without coming to a vote upon the proposition.

TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1789.

IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The impost bill was taken up, and the debate upon the duty of six cents on molasses was resumed.

Speeches upon this occasion were similar to those which had been made upon the previous discussion of the subject; many of the former ideas in favour of a reduction of the duty were amplified, and substitution of an excise on rum and other spirits distilled in the country was contended for—on this side of the question the speakers were, Messrs. Ames, Gerry and Goodhue, their observations were closed by a proposition to strike out six cents, and leave a blank for the sum to be annexed—The speakers on the other side were, Messrs. Madison, Fitzsimons and Sherman—This part of the question had equal justice done to it, and the vote on the above proposition being taken, it passed in the affirmative.

It was then moved, that the blank should be filled with five cents; this, after some further debate, passed in the affirmative, by a vote of twenty-five to twenty-three.

A message from the senate was at this stage of the business announced, when the committee rose. The purport of this message was, that the senate concurred with the house in the appointment of a committee, to confer with a committee of the senate upon the disagreeing votes of the two houses on the report of a joint committee, upon the subject of titles proper to be annexed to the president and vice-president. The speaker having left the chair, the house, in committee of the whole, continued the consideration of the impost bill, when the several articles, from molasses to tea inclusive, were read and accepted in committee. In the bill hyfon tea was substituted in lieu of superior green tea.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1789.

Mr. Thatcher presented a petition from the inhabitants of Portland, in the state of Massachusetts, complaining of the high duty on molasses.

The house then went into a committee on the revenue bill.

China, earthen and stone ware, looking glasses and brushes, were added to the list of enumerated articles under a duty of seven and an half per cent. and saltpetre was exempted from duty.

Mr. Parker moved to insert in the bill a clause, having a tax of ten dollars on every slave imported into the United States.

On this motion some debate ensued. The gentlemen from South-Carolina and Georgia opposed it, on the ground of its being partial—They contended that it would fall heavily and oppressively on those states, particularly on Georgia, and would be too odious to be endured—it would operate as a direct tax, which was impolitic at this time—Others who were in favour of the tax contended, that there was an impropriety in introducing such a clause in this bill, because it is foreign to the true nature of the bill. It was mixing humane beings with goods, wares and merchandises, in an improper manner—They thought it would be a proper subject for a distinct bill.

The motion was supported upon general principles—It was said, that it was the prevailing expectation that some measure should be entered into by the general government against the slave trade—That the constitution itself was calculated upon this idea—and that unless such a measure was taken, it would be supposed, that instead of discouraging it was meant tacitly to countenance this disgraceful traffic—On the ground of policy, as well as humanity, it was contended, that the duty ought to be imposed, and that it would tend to the real advantage of those very states who most strongly opposed it—Their national policy was deeply concerned in the abolition of slavery—The practice was pernicious in a political and moral view, and tended exceedingly to diminish their relative strength and importance.

Mr. Parker at length, however, withdrew his motion, in order to introduce a separate bill for the purpose of laying this tax.

THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1789.

The house went into a committee on the revenue bill.

Mr. Smith (Maryland) made a motion, which was seconded by Mr. Parker, to allow a discount from the duties imposed upon goods imported in American ships. [This occasioned considerable debate.] The motion was carried by 30 against 16, and the question on the rate of the discount was carried in favour of ten per cent.

The committee having gone through the bill, rose and reported, and the house ordered the same to be engrossed for a third reading to-morrow.

Mr. Madison from the committee appointed to confer with a committee from the senate on the disagreeing votes of the two houses, on the subject of titles, reported, that the committee of the senate would, for the present, address the president under the same style and title as the house of representatives had given him.

LONDON, March 4.

THE following advice was received officially on Monday night, from Bruxelles. The public may rely on its authenticity.

Orders have been issued by the government of Bruxelles to the chevalier de Celles, high sheriff of that place, and one of the principal magistrates, to prepare instantly barracks for French troops, which may be expected daily. He is at the same time nominated commissary of the barracks.

The dispatch likewise adds, that another body of French forces is expected to march into Flanders, and that they will possess themselves of the garrisons of Ostend and Nieuport.

This will be done with the consent of the emperor.

Extract of a letter from Temeswar, January 13.

"We hear that the grand vizier departed from Constantinople for Neffa, the 12th of December, but is detained by the cold at Adrianople. Above half the Turks quartered in the villages of Wallachia and Servia, have perished during this severe winter.

"In the barracks of the fortress of Belgrade, where they ought to be sheltered from the rigour of the season, near 6000 men have died.—The commanders of the troops in the Bannat, Transylvania and Moldavia, are ordered to prepare for marching when the weather will permit them."

March 5. Some things philosophy is altogether unable to explain. In this number we may class the following: A gentleman of Austin-frisers, with his wife, children and servants, have been attacked with a most violent diarrhoea, which they attributed to something they had eaten or drank; but this could not be the case, as their friends who went to see them, though they eat and drank nothing, were affected in the same manner. It is said that all who have entered the house, to the amount of 150, have felt a similar effect.

March 6. The king of Prussia has just laid fresh shackles on the liberty of the press, which nearly amount to a total prohibition of printing any political news. The emperor is going to do the same in Flanders.

The sultan Tippoo Saib is making immense preparations for war, and is supposed to have formed a regular plan, in concert with France, to annihilate the British power in the East-Indies; for which purpose he has greatly augmented his forces in every part of his extensive dominions, and provided enormous magazines of military stores and provisions. The Carnatic will, in all probability, be the seat of war; and general Campbell, when the accounts left India, was preparing an encampment of 10,000 Europeans, and a much greater number of natives, to be in readiness to repel the expected mischief whenever it may appear.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, March 3.

"The triple alliance between Holland, Great-Britain and Prussia, is now in great forwardness, and will probably be completed in a few weeks. A courier of this day, brought news to Mr. Gomm, the British secretary and Charge d'Affaires, of the king his sovereign's complete recovery. That event will be celebrated in Holland with great joy, particularly at the Orange palace."

Extract of a letter from Trieste, February 20.

"We learn from Bosnia, that a Capigi Bachi is arrived there from Constantinople, with a firman of the grand signior's, for cutting off the heads of four Turkish commandants, who delivered up their posts to the Austrians, without first making a proper defence. The Porte having the greatest interest in defending Bosnia, they have already sent two thousand Albanians thither, which are to be followed by ten thousand more, to oppose the progress of the Germans."

At Constantinople, we understand, that there has been an insurrection, which lasted three days. The populace, enraged at the ill success of their arms, wished to make a sacrifice of the captain pacha and grand vizier.

It is thought that Dr. Willis will not retire from town, as it is expected there may be great occasion for his abilities towards the relief of several of the members of opposition, whose heads are not strong enough to bear the shock caused by a late recovery.

March 17. We are informed that his majesty has suggested the propriety of passing a regency bill, before the close of the session of parliament; wherein the names of the queen and some of the cabinet will be inserted, to prevent that confusion which must otherwise occur, should it ever please the Almighty to afflict this country with a return of his majesty's disorder.

We understand the vacant blue ribbon is given by his majesty to Mr. Pitt.

The resignation of the marquis of Buckingham is daily expected, when lord Westmoreland succeeds him as lord-lieutenant of Ireland.

The preparations in Prussia proceeded with great alacrity. The emperor is unwilling to step forward and give a positive answer to the demands of the Polish diet, until she is become mistress of Bender, and the emperor is in possession of Belgrade. Every advice seems to assure us, that she is playing a very deep game.

The Russians are sending large sums of money to Constantinople, which they have found by past experience to be the most certain way of securing a favourable peace with the Turkish ministry.

The Spanish, Prussian and other foreign ambassadors, who had the honour of an audience with his majesty on Wednesday last, speak in the most confirmed manner of his majesty's happy recovery.—He took up the subject matter of their last audiences with the clearest recollection, and discussed foreign affairs with such precision and familiarity as if he had not the interruption from illness.

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen, March 3.

"An attempt has been made here to burn the Russian fleet by an incendiary, one captain O'Brien, from Ostend, whose ship lay amongst them, fast in the ice, it had been planned to set on fire, that a general conflagration might ensue.—Providentially it had been discovered in time; for, if it had succeeded, half the town would have been blown up by the large quantity of gun-powder on board the Russian men of war. He has been bribed by a Swedish emissary, and was to have received a reward of 4000l. sterling. O'Brien is arrested, and is to take his trial; but the villain who planned this horrid plot has unfortunately escaped."

PITTSBURGH, (Pennsylvania) May 2.

It is with singular concern we announce to the public, that on Saturday the 25th ult. a party of Indians murdered, on the head waters of Dunkard creek, in Washington county, five persons, one man by the name of Joseph Cambridge, and his wife, also a man named William Thomas, and two children. It is unnecessary to make any comment on the impropriety of wasting time and money in holding treaties with the savages, as long experience has shewn us the utility of such measures; we have now only to trust to the exertions and energy of our new government, and flatter ourselves such effective plans will be adopted, as to extirpate this country of such savage neighbours. The following deposition will shew the truth of the above.

Washington county, ff.

Personally came before me, Henry Vanmatre, one of the justices of the peace for the state of Pennsylvania, and county aforesaid, Abisalom Vanmatre, and Gabriel Bakins, and being duly sworn on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, depose and faith, that they helped to bury five people on Dunkard creek, on Saturday the 25th of this inst. April, killed by the Indians, and three of them scalped; the names were William Thomas and Joseph Cambridge and his wife, the others children, and further say not.

ABISALOM VANMATRE,
GABRIEL BAKINS.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 29th day of April, 1789.

HENRY VANMATRE

By a gentleman who arrived here a few days ago from Sandusky, we are informed, that news was brought there before he left it, of five parties of Indians, of different tribes, preparing to go to war; it is said they intend for the frontiers of Kentucky and the Ohio, to watch for boats coming down that river. This information we hope will shew the necessity to those going down the river, of being well prepared, as much danger is undoubtedly to be apprehended.

We are also informed, that captain Brant is using his influence to rouse the Indians against us, and to dissuade them from paying any attention to their agreement at the late treaty.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.

Extract of a letter from London, dated March 9.

"The friends of your country are very anxious to know the operations of your federal system, in order to be able to oppose the general opinion that prevails, of your people being impatient under good government, and unwilling to be controlled by legislative authority."

"The election of general Washington to the presidential chair, and the expected choice of Mr. Adams as vice-president, will have an auspicious tendency. Europe, as well as America, concur in the praises due to that great and good man, and are well convinced, that nothing which can degrade your national character, or diminish your national consequence, will ever meet with his assent."

"Mr. Adams by being employed in the diplomatic line in England and Holland, must have had the best opportunities of making observations on the politics of Europe, as well as on the internal system of policy and public credit which have aggrandized these nations, and rendered them so conspicuous for their resources. Such knowledge must be of eminent service to you in your arrangements of finance."

"I am happy to observe, that our opinions on the subject of the United States, are already essentially changed—they are no longer treated with that supercilious contempt, which their former insufficiency of government, and disunion of sentiments, gave too much reason to justify."

"Your situations and resources entitle you to hold a high rank amongst the powers of the world. If your government is well administered, you will soon feel your consequence."

From a late London paper.

The funeral of admiral Greig, which was made by order of the empress of Russia, at her expense, was very solemn and magnificent, some days before it took place, the body of the deceased was exposed on a state bed in the hall of the admiralty, which was hung with black, and lighted with silver lustres, having the doors ornamented with white crape. The body lay on an arch of three steps, under a canopy of white crape.—On the last step, at the foot of the bed, there was an urn placed, covered with black, with silver anchors and streamers on it, and letters of the same metal, as follows:—S. G. NAT. d. 30 Nov. 1735, OBIT. d. 15 Oct. 1788. And at the head there was an escutcheon, with the titles of the deceased. The body was dressed in the admiral's grand uniform, having a crown of laurel on its head. The coffin placed on six massy silver feet, was covered with black velvet, lined with white satin, and handles, fringes and galons, all made of silver. The pillows for his head and for the state bed were of white satin, trimmed with rich blond lace. On each side of the bed were three tabourets (stools) covered with white satin, richly trimmed with fringe and tufts of gold. On these stools were placed the admiral's staff, and the five different orders of knighthood which had been conferred upon him.—(The enamel of one of the points of the cross of St. George had been carried away, and the point bent by a ball he received in the fight in the Archipelago, with the Turks last war.) On twelve stands covered with black, and ornamented with white crape and flowers, were placed twelve large silver candlesticks, with funeral wax-tapers. The three flags of the deceased were hung at the head of the bed; two officers of the state major, and six captains of the marine, who were alternately relieved, attended at the sides of the bed, and two lieutenants guarded the door of the hall, and sub-officers from thence quite to the door of the court; also a number of private centinels.

On the day of interment, the company assembled at noon, and just before the corpse moved, lieutenant-colonel baron Van Den Phalen made an admirable speech in honour of the deceased. After this was finished the procession began to move, which was announced by the firing of a cannon, which was answered immediately from the ramparts and from the squadron, and continued every minute during the whole ceremony. Part of the troops under the command of lieutenant-general Kochius lined the street, from the admiralty to the cathedral. The train was opened by a body of Schwartzhaupt's cavalry, with their standards lowered, and preceded by solemn music, under the command of captain Ilig; then followed a company of the empress's grenadiers, with their arms and colours lowered; after them the public school of the town, with their preceptor, then the clergy, and after a herald; next went general Lehman, of the marine artillery, with his two marshals; then the six stools, with the admiral's staff and the ensigns of the five different orders, carried by 18 officers of the state-major, taken from the different corps, who had served under the admiral. The three flags carried by three officers of the fleet, followed by the urn, carried by two more.

Then the body on a funeral bier drawn by six horses covered with black cloth, and led by six bombards, on the side of whom went the domestics of the deceased in mourning. Twelve captains of ships followed with their cockswains as porters. At the back of the funeral bier followed major-general Wrangle, governor of this town, the flag and other officers of the fleet—two and two—all the officers of government according to their rank—the noblesse and the citizens. Two marshals with their staves, and a company of infantry, with arms lowered and drums covered with mourning, closed the procession. In the above order they marched to the cathedral, the bells of all the churches tolling, and the singers chanting a solemn dirge. On their arrival at the cathedral, which was lighted up by a prodigious number of lamps, the body was placed before the altar, with the orders and flag in the same manner as when it lay in state; after which the first preacher pronounced a funeral oration. The body was then put into the tomb, and all the troops and the cannons of the ramparts and fleet immediately fired a triple discharge.

Every officer that attended had a gold ring given to him, with the admiral's name and day of his death thereon.

We hear from New-Providencet, that as several vessels, belonging to the Bahama islands, were lately wrecking near Henesaga, they were taken by a Spanish guarda costa schooner of 8 guns and 45 men, commanded by one L'Degora, and carried to the Havana, and that in consequence thereof, the governor of the Bahamas immediately commissioned a ship, mounting 8 guns and 45 men, commanded by ——— Hunter, the government pilot, and sent in quest of the guarda costa.

ANNAPOLIS, May 28.

On the 15th instant, agreeably to the constitution, the senate of the United States was elected. The classes were determined by lot, and are as follows, viz.

First class—For two years.

Tristram Dalton,	George Read,
Oliver Ellsworth,	Charles Carroll,
Jonathan Elmer,	William Grayson,
William Maclay,

Second class—For four years.

Paine Wingate,	Richard Henry Lee,
Caleb Strong,	Pierce Butler,
William Patterson,	William Few,
Richard Basset,

Third class—For six years.

John Langdon,	John Henry,
William S. Johnson,	Ralph Izard,
Robert Morris,	James Guin,

The mode adopted on this occasion was as follows: A committee of the senate was chosen to divide the whole number into three classes.—Three lots marked No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3, were put into a box—a member from each class was appointed to draw one of the lots—and the lot drawn determined the rotation of the class to which such number belonged.

Charles county, May 13, 1789.

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias to me directed, from Charles county court, will be SOLD, on Saturday the 6th day of June next, on the premises, for ready merchantable fresh inspected crop tobacco,

A LOT of LAND in Charles-town, commonly called Port-Tobacco, with the improvements thereon, and on which Mr. Mathew Blair now lives, taken in execution and to be sold to satisfy a debt due from Rachel Forry, late of Charles county, deceased, to Patrick Maguire.

THOMAS A. DYSON, Sheriff.

NEGROES FOR SALE.

By virtue of a deed of trust from Mr. GAVIN H. SMITH, to us, the subscribers, will be SOLD, at VENDUE, at the dwelling of said Smith, on Thursday the 11th day of June next, if fair, if not the next fair day,

A PARCEL of VALUABLE NEGROES, consisting of women, fells, boys and girls. A credit will be given with proper security, which will be made known on the day of sale.

W. ALLEIN,
J. WILKINSON, Trustees.
Calvert county, April 20, 1789.

St. Mary's county, May 4, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of Mr. JOHN SOMERVELL, late of St. Mary's county, deceased, are requested to bring them in legally proved, and those who are indebted to the said estate are desired to make immediate payment. The subscriber hopes strict attention will be paid to this notice, as he does not intend remaining in the state longer than the present year.

GEORGE CLARKE SOMERVELL, Exr.

THERE is at the plantation of WILLIAM HERRON, lying near major Henry Ridgely's mill, in the upper part of Anne-Arundel county, taken up as a stray, a bright bay MARE, fourteen and an half hands high, has a star in her forehead, and snip on her nose, four white feet, no perceivable brand, appears to be nine or ten years old, she trots and gallops, and has been used to the draught. The owner may have her again on proving property and paying charge.

PROPOSALS,
For Printing by Subscription,
BY
ISAAC COLLINS,
IN TRENTON,
THE
HOLY BIBLE, CONTAINING
The Old and New Testament;
WITH THE
Apocrypha and Marginal Notes.

CONDITIONS:
I. This work, to be contained in one large volume, Quarto, of nine hundred and eighty-four pages, will be reprinted page for page with the Oxford edition, on a beautiful new type, and good paper. An index will be added; and also the Scripture measures, weights and coins.

II. The price to subscribers, for the volume, well bound, four Spanish dollars; one dollar to be paid at the time of subscribing, the remainder on delivery of the book.

III. The work to be put to press as soon as three thousand copies shall be subscribed for, and to be finished without delay.

The Editor has been encouraged, by a number of respectable characters, to offer the above proposals to the public, under a conviction that a handsome American edition of the Bible, in Quarto, will, at this time, be both reasonable and acceptable, as no part of the money will go out of the country.

This consideration, it is hoped, will be an inducement to subscribe, and of course promote the more frequent reading of this most invaluable book in private families. He therefore wishes to attract the attention, and obtain the countenance of people of all denominations; not doubting but that, in the execution of the work, he will be able to give ample satisfaction, both as to its accuracy and neatness.

Subscriptions will be received by Hugh Guine and Edmund Prior, New-York; by Joseph Crank and William Young, Philadelphia; by Townsend and Patton, Baltimore; and by the editor in Trenton.

It is requested, that the leading characters of all the different denominations of Christians in the United States, who may feel disposed to promote this undertaking, will, as early as may be, grant their assistance in procuring subscriptions—and that the several printers of news-papers in the union will be pleased to insert the above proposals in their papers.

To all whom it may concern.

Mr. Isaac Collins has, for many years last past, been, and still is, printer to the state of New-Jersey: Having by this means had the more frequent opportunities to see his work, I have had abundant proof of the accuracy and correctness of his publications, as well as of his remarkable attention to business.

WIL. LIVINGSTON.

Trenton, 11th September, 1788.

Kent-Island, January 28, 1789.

LOST,

FROM Broad Creek, which it is supposed was carried off by the ice, the wind being then at north-east, on Monday morning, the 26th instant, a SCOW, nearly new, about twenty feet long, and eight or nine feet wide, her sides are gum. From the wind being at north-east, it is imagined she drifted down towards Talley's or Thomas's Point. FOUR DOLLARS REWARD will be given for bringing her to Broad Creek, Kent-Island, or TWO DOLLARS if delivered at Annapolis, in care of Mr. John Sands, jun.

JAMES O'BRYON.

To be LEASED,

SEVERAL LOTS of GROUND in this city, on the Church circle, and the streets called Tabernacle-street, opposite Mr. James Ringgold's, and Lawyer's-street, opposite Mr. John Callahan's. The terms may be known by applying to the subscriber.

JAMES STEUART.

April 17, 789.

ON the application of the trustees of ROBERT CRAIG, the 1st day of January next is limited and appointed by the chancellor for the creditors of the said Robert Craig, to bring in and declare their respective claims to the said trustees, that the same may be on that day liquidated and adjusted; due notice thereof to be published in Mr. Green's and Mr. Goddard's news-papers.

Test. SAMUEL HARVEY HOWARD,
Reg. Cur. Ciu.

May 15, 1789.

THERE is at the dwelling plantation of the reverend Mr. ADDISON, in Prince-George's county, two stray STEERS, about four years old, marked with a crop, a slit and an under-bit, in the right ear, and a hole in the left, appraised to five pounds. The owner may have them by proving his property and paying charges.

C. THOMPSON, Overseer.

FRIENDSHIP,

A HANDSOME full bred horse, stands this season at the subscriber's plantation, in Prince-George's county, about seven miles from Bladenburg, and the same distance from Snowden's works, and will cover mares at six dollars each; he is a good sorrel, full fifteen hands high, with length and bone in proportion, and is six years old; he was bred by William Mitchell, Esquire, of Virginia, and was got by Apollo, the property of colonel Henry Lee, out of an imported full bred mare. Apollo was got by general Spotswood's noted Apollo. FRIENDSHIP has run two matches, and won both easy. Few horses in this state are equal to him in beauty and form. He covers at half price, owing to the scarcity of cash.

CHARLES DUVALL.

N. B. Thirty-five shillings will be received if the money be paid by the first day of September next.

Charles county, April 14, 1789.

ALL persons having claims against the estate of captain JOHN JORDAN, late of Charles county, deceased, are desired to bring the same in to the subscriber legally authenticated, and all persons indebted to said estate are desired to make immediate payment, to

JOHN THOMAS, Administrator.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber's quarter in Loudon county, early in last month, a negro man named GEORGE, he is about 20 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, his nostrils are remarkably wide, he sometimes complains of a wart on the bottom of one of his feet, which makes him a little lame; he is a likely sensible fellow: He had on a green jacket and overalls, of nabrig shirt, an old hat, shoes and stockings, and took with him a Dutch blanket, a blue broad cloth coat and breeches, a blue jacket without sleeves, and sundry other cloaths—He has been seen near this town since he ran away. Whoever will apprehend the aforesaid negro, and deliver him to the subscriber, or secure him in any goal, so that he may be got again, shall receive the above reward, and if taken out of this state and brought home, all charges paid.

PHILIP R. FENDALL

Alexandria, Sept. 30, 1788.

Annapolis, February 18, 1789.

For SALE,

A PLANTATION, on the north side of Severn river, containing about 400 acres, under good fencing, bounding on the river Severn, about five miles distant from Annapolis, with a very good framed dwelling house, with brick ends and cellar, and very convenient out houses thereon, an orchard of excellent young fruit trees.

A description of the soil, wood, timber and situation, are thought unnecessary, as no person would purchase who would not examine the premises. This property will be sold for any state or continental securities, good assigned bonds, or six years credit on bond with security, upon the regular payment of interest at five per cent. per annum. Apply to

JAMES RINGGOLD.

A VENUE STORE.

IN the house formerly occupied by the late Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, the subscriber to sell by auction (on a low commission) takes in STORE and HOUSEHOLD GOODS of every description. As the situation of the house is in every respect calculated for the business, which, together with his utmost exertions to render every satisfaction on his part, by his punctuality, secrecy, and that dispatch which circumstances will admit of, he hopes to merit the approbation of a discerning public.

Who are their's,
Much devoted to please,
MICHAEL SHANNON.

N. B. The days of sale will be on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and goods taken in at any time.

Annapolis, May 4, 1789.

THERE is at the plantation of NEHEMIAH MOXLY, living near Crow's mill, in Anne-Arundel county, taken up as a stray, a dark bay HORSE, about eight years old, trots and gallops, shod all round, has a small star in his forehead, not branded, about fifteen hands high, rather low in flesh, and appears to have been soundered. The owner may have him again on proving property and paying charges.

Six Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber yesterday morning, a negro man named NED, about five feet four or five inches high, and about thirty years of age; had on and took with him a white yarn jacket, one crocus shirt, one of nabrig ditto, an old pair of corduroy breeches, patched behind with a piece of country made white cloth, a pair of white yarn stockings, old shoes, and an old wool hat. Whoever takes up and secures said negro, in any goal, so that I get him again, shall have the above reward, and all reasonable charges, if brought home, paid by DANIEL SMITH, jun.

N. B. All masters of vessels and others are forewarned from harbouring or carrying off said negro, as they will answer it at their peril.

Montgomery county, May 7, 1789.

RAN away from the subscriber, a young NEGRO MAN, called DAVY, on the 15th of March, 1789; his dress is an of nabrig shirt, and cotton waist-coat and breeches; it is probable he will change his dress as he has other cloaths; he is an artful, deceiving fellow, about 5 feet 3 or 4 inches high, and stole a large sum of money two or three days before he went off; it is thought he is gone off with his overseer, ROBERT JACKSON, who is gone away with Joshua Pearce's wife. Whoever takes up and secures the said negro, shall be entitled to EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.

ELIZABETH RAWLINGS.

The beautiful HORSE ROEBUCK,

WILL cover mares this season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at the low price of five pounds currency per mare, and one dollar to the groom, but if the money is paid when the mare is taken away, three pounds, and one dollar to the groom, will be taken in lieu of the five pounds. It is useless to insert his pedigree as it is well known, but it may be seen at his stable. ROEBUCK's stock is remarkable, both for the turf and saddle, I believe equal to any in the state. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, at two and six-pence per week, and great care will be taken of them; but I will not be answerable for escapes or accidents. Sw

WILLIAM M. WILKINSON.

Charles county, March 26, 1789.

VENETIAN,

WILL stand for MARES this season at FRANCIS TOLSON, Esquire's plantation, in Prince-George's county, 5 miles from the ferry opposite Alexandria, at five guineas each mare, and a dollar to the groom, or three guineas each mare, and three and nine-pence to the groom, if paid by the first of August, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes. Good grass for mares at half a dollar per week. Venetian is a fine bay, fifteen hands and an half high, with length and bone in proportion; he was bred by Sir James Pennycuik, bart. of Yorkshire, and got by Doge, his dam by Jennison Shaftoe Snap, fire of Gelding, Gnaupost, Dasey and other good runners, his granddam by old Fox; Doge was got by Regulus, son of the Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dyer's Dimple, which was got by Leed's Arab, an. Venetian, at five years old, won the king's plate at Newcastle, and the fifty pounds for all ages, the same week, beating Mr. Fenwick's famous mare Spider Brusher, and several others, fifteen days after he won the king's plate at Carlisle, beating lord Surry's famous horse Bon-Mot, and run second to High Flyer at York.

Signed JOHN KIRKTON, Venetian's Jockey.
