Drama Recital To Open Season

The 1960-61 season of programs in the Artists' Series at State Teachers College will open Thursday evening, September 29, at 8:15 p. m. in Compton Hall Auditorium with the appearance of Hugh Miller, Senior Director of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London.

Mr. Miller's drama recital, entitled "Bare Boards and a Passion," will include readings ranging from Greek tragedy to modern comedy. Some of the authors and writings represented in his repertoire are Sophocles' "The Antigone"; Shakespeare's "Hamlet," "Romeo and Juliet"; "Richard II"; Dickens' "Vagabonds and Parasites" (Character Sketches); Don Marquis' "The Dark Hours"; and Sacha Guitry's "Don't Listen, Ladies."

The eminent actor and director will meet with the class in Technical Theatre, taught by Miss Dorothy Stone White, at twelve o'clock, and with Mr. Charles I. Sager's choral group, the Maryland Singers, at 1:00 p. m.

Members of the Artists Series' Committee will have Mr. Miller as their luncheon guest, while the English Department will entertain the distinguished actor-director at dinner that evening.

Mr. Miller's art is notable for its variety of style, wide range of characterization and technical accomplishment. Among his important assignments are included the direction of "Out of the Whirlwind," the Coronation play in Westminster Abbey in 1953, a new production of "Peter Pan" at the Scala Theatre, "The Private Secretary" at the Arts Theatre, and a series of revivals at the Vanbrugh Theatre.

As editor of George G. Harrap and Co., London, Mr. Miller edits regular collections of plays and drama books for youth study.

Artist, Writer To Speak Here

One of the creators of the adventures of the nearsighted Mr. Magoo, Don Freeman, will appear on Thursday, October 6, at 8:15 in Compton Auditorium under the auspices of the assembly committee headed by Mr. Charles I. Sager.

Mr. Freeman's program, entitled "Sketchbook Revue," features impressions of Hollywood and Broadway, the story of the development of children's picture books and a demonstration which combines music with speed drawings.

Don Freeman is the author of fifteen books and has illustrated more than fifty stories for many writers including William Saroyan, Brooks Atkinson, and James Thurber. One of his own books, Pet of the Met, is considered a modern classic and "received the Outstanding Children's Book of the Year" award, presented by the Herald-Tribune.

He has worked in Hollywood at UPA Animated Cartoons Studio and helped to create a story for the adventures of nearsighted Mr. Magoo. Mr. Freeman also wrote a satire on army life from a GI's point of view, "It Shouldn't Happen to a Dog," which was written during World War II.

A native of California, Don Freeman spent four years in St. Louis, Missouri, and then went to New York to study art. At the Art Students League, he worked under John Sloan and Harry Wickey. He has done some serious art work and several art museums have his lithographs in their permanent collections.

Mr. Freeman's latest book is Fly High, Fly Low, and other books that he has illustrated are The Human Comedy, My Name Is Aram, Once Around the Sun, and The White Deer. The life story of Don Freeman is told in Come One, Come All!

Dr. R. Bowen Hardesty Writes Open Letter To New Students

It is a genuine pleasure to welcome you to Frostburg State Teachers College. Both faculty and administration wish for you success and a rewarding experience in your pursuit of higher education.

Although the student body is constantly growing and has doubled in the last five years, every effort is made to individualize instruction. It is hoped that each of you will maintain constant contact with your counselor who will endeavor to give you guidance toward the goal of success.

I am also calling to your attention the appointment of a Dean of Students, Dr. Alice R. Manicur of Indiana University, who is responsible for student personnel services at our college. For many matters for which students formerly contacted the Dean of Instruction and President, you now have available the services of the Dean of Students. You are encouraged to go directly to the Dean of Students who will counsel you in your problems or refer you to the appropriate office where you can get assistance. Working with the Dean of Students are the Social Director-Counselor to Women, Counselor to Men, Doctor, Nurse, and Faculty Guidance Committee. Housing and food services, plus a number of other services, are administered by the Dean of Students.

Your attention is called to THE PATHFINDER which has been carefully planned by Student Congress. You will find it is a publication most helpful throughout the year.

Best wishes for a very successful academic year!

Cordially yours,

R. Bowen Hardesty
President

Lab School Facilities To Confer At Towson

The third meeting on laboratory school utilization, sponsored by the State Department of Education, will be held at Towson State Teachers College on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

Attending from here will be Mrs. Grace S. Kopp, Director of Elementary Teaching Practice; Mr. Charles Stansberry; Mr. Robert G. Shadick, principal of the Pullen Laboratory school, and the instructors from the Pullen School.

The two-day workshop will follow the dedication of Towson's new Lida Lee Laboratory School on September 29.

Tri-State Concerts To Feature Dancers

Membership in the Tri-State Community Concert Association is still open to new students and faculty members of State Teachers College, according to Miss Dorothy Stone White. Miss White, who is a member of the local Community Concert's Board of Directors, is chairman of the College membership committee.

The first concert on October 6, entitled "Ballet Espanol," with performers direct from Madrid, will feature Xi Menez-Vargas and company of 14 dancers, flamenco si singers, and guitarists. Walter Terry of the New York Herald Tribune wrote of their concert, "A stunning program of Spanish Dance."

The five concerts included in the 1960-61 season, with presentation dates, are as follows: October 6, Ballet Espanol; November 1, Donald Gramm, bass-baritone; January 10, Vienna Choir Boys; February 1, Gold and Fizzdale; March 9, the Rudie-Sinfonietta.

Drama Frat To Appear On TV

The Kappa Xi Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, will again produce a fifteen minute program over the Washington County Closed Circuit Educational Television of Hagerstown, on Tuesday, October 4, at 12:30 p. m.

Miss Catherine Beachley, Supervisor of Guidance and Research for the Board of Education of Washington County, extended the invitation last spring to Miss Dorothy Stone White, Director of Drama. Alpha Psi Omega has previously produced two such telecasts: "Around the Clock at Frostburg" in 1957, and "Academic Highlights at Frostburg State" in 1958. The studio did not televise such a program in 1959.

The Frostburg fraternity will be the only State Teachers College represented this fall, according to Miss Beachley. The program is a facet of the Washington County's "College Days" series whose purpose is to acquaint college bound students with Maryland's programs in higher education.

Kappa Xi's theme, "State College's Growing Tree" will feature a mobile designed by John Clark and Sandra Cadarette of the Technical Theatre Class. Suspended from the mobile will be various designs illustrative of the College's growth since 1958.

The scenic artists are using various colored gelatines, a stage lighting medium, for the representative items depicting development, such as short French words, fencing foils, football, dollar signs, spotlights, masks of comedy and tragedy, palette and brush, fraternity insignia, and musical notes.

The action of the show will revolve around this set piece which will give emphasis to the explanation by the cast. The entire script is being written by Alpha Psi Omega members under the supervision of Susanne Ebersole, president; John Shuhart, vice president; Louise Downton, secretary; and Donald Turley, treasurer.

TV PERFORMERS—Louise Downton, Don Turley, Marvin Vann, Sue Eversole, Charles Meese.

Progress Dictates Changes

This college is now undergoing a period of tremendous growth. The administration, recognizing this growth, is in the process of readjusting to many changes. Be assured that your student government has also undertaken this task.

On this campus as on other campuses, some authority is delegated to the student government by the administration. The administration's position, therefore, is a delicate one because, regardless of the responsibility accepted by the student leaders, the administration is still held accountable in the eyes of the public.

It should be noted that the administration here has been very cooperative when considering requests made by the student government that are supported by factual evidence. It is important to remember that a successful relationship with the administration can and must be achieved without the sacrifice of any independence the student government may have.

There are several logical and valid reasons for the existence on any campus of a student government. The goals of the Student Congress of the Student Government are in general: (1) to rid the faculty and administration of the time consuming tasks that could be accomplished by students, (2) to improve campus morale, (3) to recognize the obvious fact that college is a cooperative enterprise and that the students are a part of the college with a valuable and necessary contribution to make to the effective functioning of the institution.

As the new leaders prepare to take office, quite naturally they are anxious to do their best. Each leader is comforted, knowing that his constituency has expressed a vote of confidence in his abilities; and he is anxious to have certain goals achieved. However, as you read this today, how many of you have any real conception of the goals of Frostburg State Teachers College and are working consciously to make these goals a reality?

If you and I as students will acquaint ourselves with these goals and will strive consciously for their attainment, the task of Student Congress in achieving a more prominent role in college policy making will be greatly helped.

Science To Receive Emphasis

Recently, when the unprecedented progress of Soviet science became only too apparent to the free world, the educators and scientists of the nation realized that an ever increasing emphasis on the science curricula in our colleges and high schools is vital to the well-being and security of the United States.

In keeping with this, the Science Service, of Washington, D. C., has announced that the month of October will be designated as "National Science Youth Month" throughout the schools of the nation.

The Science Service states as the official purpose of National Science Youth Month, "to inspire and inform youth in our schools as to the opportunities, need, and qualifications of scientific and technological manpower."

The defense of our nation in this crucial period of our history involves keen competition with the Soviets on a technological basis. As a result, scientific training is rapidly becoming essential not only to the defense program, but also to the public at large, who must understand this program if it is to be effective.

The staff of the State-to-Date joins with the Science Service in emphasizing the science programs offered in the schools of the land. The defense of freedom in the United States depends upon the scientific knowledge and strength of its young people.

Dean, Social Director

Reporter Quizzes Staff Members On Backgrounds; Notes Experience, Hobbies, Travels, Sororities

You can't deny it, you can't ignore it, you can't run away from the fact: our college has gone through a minor metamorphosis during the summer.

The landscape has changed, the enrollment has increased, the curriculum has expanded, and some dusty old policies have been revamped.

Among the fifteen new members added to our administrative and faculty staffs are Dr. Alice R. Manicur and Miss Cleo Campbell, who are here to make some changes.

As our first Dean of Students, Dr. Manicur comes to us with a wealth of experience and training. She is a Virginian who obtained her B. S. in business administration at Berea College in Kentucky. While working on her M. S. and doctorate at Indiana University, she worked on the dean of student's staff.

Dean Manicur was active in student government work at Berea and Indiana, and it is reassuring to this writer to know that she sees the field from our side of the fence! She was elected into Pi Lambda Theta, an honorary education association, and is at this time a member of several professional organizations.

Her scarce spare time is spent following a multitude of interests. She likes sports—both as a spectator and as a participant—and enjoys traveling, reading and concerts.

Miss Cleo Campbell, a native of Baltimore, is our new social director. She is a graduate of Baylor University in Waco, Texas, where she majored in psychology and English. She journeyed back to the east and obtained her M. A. at Ohio State, where she worked in student personnel. Succumbing once again to the call of the west, she went to Colorado College where she was head resident and counselor. Here she lived in the dorm, counseled, studied, and worked!

Obviously, Miss Campbell likes to travel, but she also has made the time to try her hand at camping, skiing, and cooking. She admits that on her trips to Ohio State, she hurried through Frostburg and never noticed it! Now Miss Campbell, how could you help it?

Both Dean Manicur and Miss

Campbell are graduates of a special training program in personnel work.

Both are members of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, American Personnel Guidance Association, and American College Personnel Association. These professional associations have state and national meetings which keep them abreast of the newest developments.

Amusing Working Situations Spice Students' Summer Life

Many of the students on campus spent their well-earned June to August vacation in varied and unusual summer positions. Several "hard workers" found themselves in some very amusing situations.

Strange Balcony Scene Reveals Unusual Tidings

This article is a public service announcement for the misinformed Frostburg-ites. If we could have your attention, please!

The failure to complete Gunter Hall is not (we repeat Not) because of any rain, sleet, tidal waves or any structural difficulties.

We report to you now the real story behind the story.

The colonial balcony on Gunter Hall is in reality not colonial at all. But it seems that two night watchmen have witnessed an eerie glow reflecting from the second floor window.

They returned the next evening seeking a solution. And it's here! We have the solution in the vault of the First National Bank.

Incredulous as it sounds, we have an actual tape recording of these immortal words wafting on the breeze—

"Romeo, Romeo, wouldst thou to me impart—thine completed history time chart?"

Such was the case of Elva Harsh who worked as a teller in a Hagerstown bank. Due to an oversight on the part of her supervisors, no one told Elva about that little black button beside her cash drawer. The most startling thing occurred when she experimented with it. The burglar alarm sounded!!

Several students worked as camp counselors, but Betsy Elliot may not resume counselling next season since she discovered that snake in her bed.

Kay Roach spent one of the most unusual summers. Kay was selected Allegany County Farm Queen, runner-up in the Miss Fairgo contest; and placed fifth in Maryland at the State Farm Queen Contest at Timonium.

Sherry Bailone found herself working under conditions of severe stress at a Hot Shoppe in Baltimore. The decor was a bit confused—cowboys and eagles decorated a wormwood wall, trains adorned the curtains, Chinese flowers somehow managed to get into the picture, as did both colonial and ultra-modern lights.

Freshman Writes Fascinating Letter

8775775 Pigeonhole
Simpleton Hall
State Creatures College
Freezeburg, Maryland

Dear Ma,

Greetings from the mountains! And I do mean mountains! I have not seen a level strip of land up here. I think even the floor in my dorm room slants.

My three roommates and I are finally getting settled in our cubby hole. We're a trifle cramped, but we must remember that this is the age of togetherness. And up here, how can we forget?

We're so cramped, in fact, that every time we open a closet an avalanche falls on us. An avalanche of clothes isn't too bad, but, Ma, one of the girls up here has golf clubs which she stuffs into the closet, and when they fall on us, we feel rather beaten down. In fact, we are.

We are a little short on drawer space, too. So, I'm keeping many of my things in my suitcase which I keep under the bed. bottomless from pushing it back and forth.

We've been trying to make our room look homey, without spending too much money, of course. So far we have put feedbags at the windows, hung witchdoctors from the ceiling, placed footprints across the wall, and put Agatha's salamander on the window sill.

Registration is finally over and am I glad of that! We played the funniest games at registration. One game was called "Wait, Wait, Wait!" The game became so popular that we've been playing it ever since.

Oh, Ma, remember you said that I'd get fat up here? Well, you are wrong. When we entered college we were told that we wouldn't gain weight on the meals up here. But the strangest thing is happening—my feet are growing. Do you think that all of the food settles in my feet?

I must close for now, Ma. The golf clubs just fell on Effy, and I think she's out cold. So long, and write soon.

National Fraternity Honors Don Turley

Don Turley was appointed chairman of the Ritual Committee at the national convention of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity held in Kansas City, Missouri, Aug. 24-27.

Don is chaplain of Frostburg's Beta Pi chapter of the national fraternity and was Maryland's only delegate to the convention. As chairman of the Ritual Committee, it was his duty to review any amendments to the constitution or by-laws of Sigma Tau Gamma.

While at this convention, Don journeyed with other delegates to Central Missouri University to participate in the dedication of a chapel in honor of the first chapter of the fraternity established in 1920 on that campus.

At the regular meeting of the Beta Pi chapter held in Frostburg on September 21, Don presented a report of his trip and disclosed several ideas and suggestions discussed at the convention.

Frostburg's chapter became affiliated with the national group on May 21, 1960. At this time Alpha Tau Alpha, a local fraternity, received membership in the Sigma Tau Gamma national fraternity and became known as the Beta Pi Chapter.

Librarian Announces New Borrowing Plan

According to Mr. John Zimmerman, librarian, a new system for borrowing books has been adopted here.

Under the new system all students remain permanently registered, and the same library card, issued at the time of registration, will be used all the years the student is enrolled.

The library card with its metal plate is inserted into a book charger machine, furnished by the Gaylord Library Supply Company, for a stamping the student's number and date on the book card.

This new method provides for clearer records of circulation and it assures students that books can be borrowed only on one's own card. Mr. Zimmerman states that the system is also faster and more efficient since more charges can be made on a single book card.

If a library card is lost, the student is requested to report at once to the library to cancel the use of that particular number until the card is found. A fee will be charged for replacement of lost cards.

The library has also received another new piece of equipment, a microfilm reader, and the library has the New York Times from January 1, 1959, to date on microfilm.

Mr. Zimmerman requests that all students read the Pathfinder, pages 36 to 40, for the essential information on the use of the library and its facilities. In replacing books on the shelves, he also requests that students put the spine up or leave the book on the tables.

All pictures for Nemacolin will be taken in the auditorium of Allegany Hall, according to Judy Wilson, editor. No smoking will be allowed in this area.

MAFTA To Sponsor Leadership Institute

As president of the Maryland Association of Future Teachers, Larry McLean will preside over a leadership conference to be held October 7 and 8 at Mt. Airy Outdoor Camp in Bel Air.

The Conference is held for leaders and sponsors of F. T. A. and S. E. A. chapters throughout the state. There will be study groups of special interest and general meetings which are open to all representatives.

Marty DeBerry, member-at-large of the MAFTA executive committee, and Gene Lum, chairman of the program committee, will also represent Frostburg at the meeting.

The SEA is planning a membership drive which will be held the week of October 3-7. Anyone interested in joining the State and National Organization may do so by purchasing The Maryland Teacher and the NEA Journal. Regular meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesday of every month.

Freshmen To Select Officers For This Year

In the next few weeks, the freshmen will begin selecting their candidates for class officers. Nominations for Freshman Class president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and two representatives to the Student Congress will be made from the floor during the Freshman Assembly. The actual elections will take place tomorrow, September 29.

Dr. Samuel Underwood, English teacher and sponsor of Nemacolin, has been chosen to be the Advisor for the Class of 1964. He will be present at the Nominations Assembly and will work with the class officers during the coming year.

The officers chosen by the class must be able to keep a 2.0 scholastic average. If an officer drops below this grade-point score, the office will be declared vacant and a recall election held.

Three All-Southern Booters To Lead Bobcats Squad

Coach Greet Thirteen Vets On New Squad

Seven Players Form Nucleus For '60 Team

By Eddie Root

Soccer claims the sports spotlight as the Bobcats' 1960 edition prepares to participate in what is probably the stiffest schedule ever carded by State.

Experience is not lacking, with thirteen lettermen returning from last season's spectacularly successful squad. Apparently very solid on paper, Frostburg has only three regulars departed via graduation.

Anchoring the squad and providing a strong nucleus for Coach Ken Babcock's team this season will be three returning All-Southern Squad members.

Heading this parade will be a hard-kicking boy from Barton, who would just as soon kick a shin as the ball, provided the shin was in his way. Ronald "Butch" Young will play center-forward this year, after playing as inside-left last season. "Butch" impresses observers with his hustle and emphasis on team play.

Jim Kelly, who does an outstanding job at his halfback slot, is another All-Southern veteran. Jim's quiet and unassuming manner off the field belies his ability and explosive talents during a game.

Machine "Muggs"

More machine than man seems to sum up Roy "Muggs" Sigler's uncanny ability on the soccer field. "Muggs" never seems to let up, from the instant he sets foot on the field, until he heads for the locker room. "Muggs" is one of the best outside men fans can expect to see throughout the course of the season.

State's squad is not dependent entirely on their three All-Southern members. There are ten other letter winners from last year's team.

Returning outsiders include Art "Sookie" Scarpelli and Geoff Whitmore. In addition, Gerr Llewellyn can alternate between outside and halfback.

Giving strength to the forward line will be Jim Graham and John Garon. Both will see action at center forward, but will be also available for duty elsewhere.

Forward Line Solid

Rounding out the forward line will probably be Bill Henaghan and Don Amoruso at the inside slots. Backing up the forward wall will be a solid line of halfbacks featuring, in addition to Kelly, Adolf Doerk and Sam Holliday.

State looms formidable at the fullback positions. George Lauder, Hank Winner, and Tom Swauger will offer an exceptionally able array of defensive talent.

Frostburg lost heavily at goalie with Jim Lupis making his exit last January. The vacancy will probably be filled by either Mike Stone, a freshman from Suitland, or Lenny Kerns.

Ed "Sapp" Truly returns after a year's absence. "Sap" will be remembered by upperclassmen as a two-time letter winner.

Giant Killers

Dr. R. Van Ryswyk, Syracuse Graduate, Heads State Teams

Dr. Ron Van Ryswyk, the newest addition to the Physical Education Department, has a fine background to aid Frostburg State in basketball and football.

Dr. Ron Van Ryswyk

Dr. Van Ryswyk hails from Pleasantville, Iowa, where he attended high school. After graduation he enrolled in Missouri State University and graduated with a B. S. in Physical Education. After that, he went into the high school coaching ranks, coaching football, track, and baseball.

In 1956, he returned to Missouri State and earned his Master's Degree. While there, he helped coach the State football team. In the fall of 1957, he enrolled in the University of Syracuse and graduated with the doctorate in Education of Physical Education.

In an interview Dr. Van Ryswyk said, "I am 95 per cent confident of spring training in football which will begin the last week of March and last through April. I would be anxious to have many of the athletes on campus come by and introduce themselves, not only the varsity men who have established themselves, but also freshmen and others interested in playing football and basketball.

"As I look at the football schedule, I don't believe we will lose because we are a first year outfit. The feeling of confidence is here with the athletes and the student body that we will do all right. This attitude off winning is important because we will win some ball players from other schools who will want to play for a winning team. I refuse to accept the fact that we will have a losing season."

Bobcats Face Stiff Schedule; Opposition Ranks Nationally

By Ronnie Mann

Frostburg's Bobcats open their 1960 soccer season with the University of Pittsburgh on Saturday, September 24, on the home field. According to Coach Kenneth Babcock it is always hard to say that the new season will be the toughest schedule ever; however, this season looms as just that for the Bobcats. The following is a brief run down of the Frostburg schedule: Sept. 24—University of Pittsburgh; Pitt has a veteran squad which will mean stiff competition with an All-American goalie. The Pittsburgh paper said that Pitt has a very good chance of going undefeated, even though they play the defending National Champion, St. Louis.

Intramural Football Has Four Elevens

As Autumn comes around again, so does one of America's biggest pastimes—football. Boys on campus have gotten into the spirit of the season, in forming an intramural touch football league.

There will be four teams in the league this year. Listed below are the teams and rosters:

"The Scotties"—Wayne Bruche, manager; Bill Bruche, Joe Lovell, Cerky Connolly, John Nuss, John McClelland, Bob Wiles, Harold Vance, and Tom Dubel.

"Mau Mau's"—Jim Cave, manager; Ken Poling, Ronnie Mann, Dick Bittner, John Kylus, Glen Davis, "Tank" Schultze, Paul Nolan, Fred Wartzack, Bob Wilson, and Jack Gilmore.

"Mountaineers"—Ralph Nelson, manager; Butch Welles, Marvin Vann, Jim Shertzer, Jim Delaney, Don Williams, Dan Moreland, Tom Van, Jim Rephan, Larry Shumaker, and Mike McLuckie.

The officiating will be done by the P. E. class 304. There will be two officials per game. The home team will furnish the timekeeper. The games will be played every Monday and Wednesday starting at 6:00 p. m. beginning the 21st of September. Two twenty-five minute periods constitute a complete game.

The Angels, last year's winners, are just about the same team as this year's Mau-Mau's.

For the first time in the history of the intramural football league, a fraternity will enter its own team. The boys at Delta Kappa have gotten together their own team, known as the DK's.

The Mountaineers are a team returning from last year's gridiron season.

There have been some new faces inserted into the line-up. The Scotties are a new team this year. But with its line-up it seems they will be well represented in the league.

Oct. 1—Lock Haven

Lock Haven has an All-American wing and is well experienced with much young talent. Lock Haven was the only team to defeat the Bobcats last year.

Oct. 7—Salisbury

Little is known about Salisbury, except that they have been a jinx team to the Bobcats. Frostburg usually has a superior team but a close game with Salisbury can always be counted on.

Oct. 15—Howard University

Howard expects the best team in their history. They have one All-American and three All-Southern ballplayers. They were ranked number seven in the nation last year and are much stronger this year.

Oct. 22—Grove City

Grove City has a veteran team which is always tough. They have an All-American center forward which according to Coach Babcock is one of the finest ballplayers he has ever seen.

Oct. 29—American University

American University had a 5-6-1 record in the Mason-Dixon Conference and finished seventh. Little is known of their roster, except that they had a young team and should be stronger this year.

Nov. 1—Slippery Rock

Slippery Rock has a good return of veterans, with an All-American left wing. They posted a record of 6-3 last season.

Nov. 3—Mt. St. Mary's

Although not regarded as an especially strong team, they do have an All-American halfback. They finished 9th in the Mason-Dixon Conference.

Nov. 5—Va. Military Institute

V. M. I. is not expected to be one of the toughest games on the schedule. They are improved over last year and are not to be taken too lightly.

Harold's Herald

—By Harold Schriver—

Soccer Coach Kenneth Babcock, with a hopeful eye towards a good season, which means meeting and beating some of the top ranked teams in the nation, has taken you fans into consideration in scheduling these games.

Coach Babcock must also have a hopeful eye pointed towards the sidelines where the fans should be.

No less than three of the four home games have been scheduled for Saturday afternoons.

It is commonly agreed that soccer is a relatively new sport for most students matriculating at State, but consider for one moment—how many of you attended your high school football games knowing nothing except the score when the game ended, or how many of you attended these same games merely because they were exciting, or more commonly, "a spectator's sport?" How many of you went to the same games just to see that certain player or players, or how often did you attend these games because there was nothing else to do; or only because there was intense rivalry involved, or how many of you attended these games in rain, sleet, or snow because of that hidden quality you sometimes lose when you enter college—that quality being the oft-cussed and discussed "school spirit?"

These so-called reasons may apply to you. If any of them do, all the more reason why you should plan to attend the home soccer games and give the team your moral and vocal support.

Soccer, as a sport, is more exciting than football, supplies more surprises for you to release your boundless energy and at the same time offers you a chance to instill in others that forgotten or unknown quality called school spirit.

Soccer as a spectator sport is easy for even the most unsports-minded person to follow but still keeps one's attention for the entire eighty-eight minutes of play.

Frostburg's 1960 edition of the soccer team could prove to be quite the giant killer as they face a mammoth schedule. However, with three All-Southern stars on the Bobcat roster and some vastly improved play by last year's also-rans, the team has acquired a sense of spirit and some real fights are being waged for the starting eleven berths.

Edna Mae's Angle

By Edna Mae Leppo

On Saturday, September 17, ten members and prospective members of the Women's Recreation Association went on a picnic to Pleasant Valley. Defying the forces of nature, they embarked on their journey in the rain. Advisors Miss Dorothy Hilliard and Miss Janet Thomas, along with the president Jean Ward, and other officers of the W. R. A. had planned a fun-filled day for the freshmen girls.

Due to the rain, many of the events planned had to be side-tracked. Even though they were somewhat handicapped in their resources, the picnic was still successful.

The girls began the day with a "scavenger hunt" over the entire picnic area, or so say the girls who are still rubbing their sore feet. They ate in true camping style. Packed lunches were brought as well as plenty of milk, apples, and other snacks.

W. R. A. volleyball tournament got under way Monday, September 19, in Compton Gym. Deanna Knepper is over-all chairman, assisted by Edna Mae Leppo. The teams participating are Les Cha Cha Chas, senior team; June Bugs, junior team; Frostnicks, Simpleton and Saints, sophomore teams; Bobkittens and Lucky 13's are the freshmen teams.
