National Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT

Grover Cleveland.

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:

Adlai A. Stevenson,

OF ILLINOIS.

BRATTAN AND BROWN.

The Congressional Convention which closed at Easton last Wednesday evened its labors on Thursday and adjourned. The nominees are Hon. Robt.

F. Brattan of Somerset for the 53d congress and Hon. John B. Brown of Queen

Anne for the unexpired term.

From the beginning Dorchester and

Queen Anne stood by Wicomico, also three-fourths of the Talbot delegation.

This made a combination of fifteen—just half of the convention. The other half canning convention, Somerset, Worcester, and Dorchester, on the vote, led by Hon.

John Miles of Somerset and Mr. H. H.

Barroll of Kent, centered upon Hon. G.

M. Uphur of Worcester, after voting for local candidates about one hundred times, and first centering upon Mr. Miles.

The Somerset delegation was composed of one half of Mr. Brattan's friends for the short term, and a half for H. H. Dashiell for the long term. The deadlock was finally broken by the Towson forces joining with the Brattan portion of Somerset delegation and making Brattan for the long term and Brown of Queen Anne for the short term. This was a compromise to the opponents of Mr. Towson, including the other half of the Somerset delegation. The whole Somerset delegation, however, fell in line and supported the nominees.

It is currently reported that the state leaders, including Mr. Gorman himself, were exercising their influence in behalf of Hon. G. M. Uphur of Worcester; if so, they have certainly exhibited their impotence in the district, for there are no more independent and decisive men in the district than Mr. Brattan and Mr.

Brown.

They are unquestionably two of the ablest men in the district. Mr. Brattan is too well known to our people to need any praise from us. He belongs to no faction politically, but is a Simon pure party man and always fights with the best element of the party and inside the party lines.

Mr. Brown is state Senator from Queen

Anne county, a well known ballist reformer of the Eastern Shore, and with Governor Jackson, was last spring a strong advocate of Cleveland's nomination over a machine man.

The ticket is certainly a Cleveland ticket, at the same time it will cement

the district and give us a handsome majority.

Wicomico went there to fight for her honored son, Mr. Towson. Nothing would have given her so much pleasure

as seeing him nominated, but as it could not, it seems in the nature of things, be done we rejoice that things had the happy termination they did.

The plume did not fall on Wicomico's side of the fence, it is true, but she has the pleasure of knowing she shook it from the tree.

—The State Central Committee met in Baltimore last Thursday and filled the vacancies on the electoral ticket.

Hon. John Lee Carroll was chosen in place of P. L. Wicks. Alonzo L. Miles was selected to fill the vacancy caused

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Our county public schools opened for the ensuing scholastic year last Monday.

Each year our schools open with a larger attendance than the previous year.

Only a few years ago the district schools

did not fill up till after the Christmas holidays and then the country lads and ladies were started in to take a three months' course in "Reading, Riting and Arithmetic," when the rigors of winter helping parents take out a livelihood.

Happily this condition of things is fast changing. Parents, recognizing the value of education and our public school system as a means to that end, are sending their boys and girls from beginning to close to the scholastic year. Even those families whose poverty deprives them of most of the good things of life are beginning, by dint of starvation

economy, to avail their children of the blessings of an education, in which the only expense is the purchase of text books. And these the people hope will in the near future be furnished by the State.

In Salisbury the corps of teachers is as follows: High school, Prof. Thomas H.

Williams, Grammar school, Miss Anna

R. Fulton; Male Higher Intermediate,

Mr. Harry Wallis; Female Higher Intermediate, Miss Nannie Byrd; Male Lower

Intermediate, Miss Stella Dorman; Female Lower Intermediate, Miss Eliza

Fish; Male Primary, Mrs. Maggie A.

Cooper; Female Primary, Miss Jennie

Waller; California school, Miss May V.

Turner. Prof. Williams has in his department forty pupils—ten seniors and thirty juniors. In Miss Fulton's school there are fifty-one. Miss Byrd has fifty

Miss Dorman has fifty-four; Miss Fish, forty; Mrs. Cooper, twenty-three; and Miss Wallis, sixty-five.

On account of lack of room in the High School Building the department where the late Conrad Jordan resided,

where Nannie Byrd's department is occupying the parish building on Gay street.

Owing to illness Miss Nannie Fulton was unable to resume her place as preceptress of the Grammar school. Miss

Daisy Bell is filling her place temporarily. Miss Fulton's condition is much improved, however, and her friends confidently hope that she will soon be at her accustomed place.

County Commissioners.

At their session Tuesday Mr. Parsons, of the board of commissioners, reported that he had received the bridge built by Charles W. Lynch, on Poplar Neck road.

Mr. Gordy reported that he had received the ferry boat at Upper Ferry, the same having been built according to specifications; also that he had contracted with

Hurbert M. Bounds to repair Upper Ferry wharf at $125 per day.

Charles W. Gillis of this district was granted pension of $1.50 from October

1st, to B. L. Gillis & Son. Nelson

White, of 3rd district, was granted pension of $1.00 per month from October 1st, to George D. Insley.

Petition of John W. Dashiell, John

R. Peters, W. J. Station and others for road in 7th district, filed.

Allen Phebus was given order on collector in 3rd collection district for bringing furnished amount $6.21, same having been left in office by mistake.

Mr. Gordy of the board was appointed a committee of one to meet Mr. Byrd of the Somerset county board at Eden on Wednesday, October 5th, to consider the opening of a new road to extend into each county.

Designation of Levin F. Heath constable in 3rd district, accepted.

Mr. Insley was authorized to put underdrain across the county road

at Public landing on Wetpinn

Creek, in 3rd district. B. Dashiell,

Stephen W. Doby and Henry D. Powell

were appointed examiners on road peti-

MR. CLEVELAND'S LETTER.

He Discusses with His Usual Vigor the Tariff and Force Bill.

Mr. Cleveland has written his letter of acceptance of the democratic nomination for the presidency. The letter is short and to the point. The Tariff and the Force bill are the principal subjects considered.

Of the tariff he says, in part:

A QUESTION OF MORALS.

The struggle for unearned advantage

at the doors of the government tramples

on the rights of those who patiently rely upon assurances of American equality.

Every governmental concession to disadvantaged favorites invites corruption in political affairs by encouraging the expenditure of money to debauch suffrage in support of a policy directly favorable to private and selfish gain. This in the end must stifle patriotism and weaken popular confidence in the rectitude of republican institutions.

Though the subject of tariff legislation involves a question of markets, it also involves a question of morals. We cannot with impunity permit injustice to join the spirit of right and equity, which is the life of our republic, and we shall fail to reach our national destiny if greed and selfishness lead the way.

TAXATION MUST BE EQUALIZED.

Recognizing these truths, the national democracy will seek by the application of just and sound principles to equalize the burden of taxation, and to prevent from the government any support; to promote among our countrymen a closer community of interests cemented by patriotism and national pride, and to point out a fair field where prosperous and disfavored American enterprise may grow and thrive in the wholesome atmosphere of American industry, ingenuity and integrity.

Tariff reform is still our purpose.

Though we oppose the theory that tariff laws may be passed having for their object the granting of discriminating and unfair governmental aid to private ventures, we wage no exterminating war against any American interests. We believe a readjustment can be accomplished in accordance with the principles we propose without disfigurement or demoralization. We believe that the advantages of freer material should be accorded to our manufacturers, and we contemplate a fair and careful distribution of necessary tariff burdens rather than the precipitation of free trade.

We advocate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws.

We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellows-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests, and we know they cannot be frightened by the spectre of impossible free trade.

THE FORCE BILL.

The administration and management of our government depends upon popular will. Federal power is the instrument that will not its master. Therefore the attempt of the opponents of democracy

to interfere with and control the suffrage

of the States through federal agencies develops a design, which no explanation

can mitigate, to reverse the fundamental and safe relations between the people and their government. Such an attempt

ESTABLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.

An Arctic Heroine.
Lieutenant R. E. Peary is the Arctic hero of the hour, but his brave, self-sacrificing wife, who accompanied him, must not be forgotten. She shared all his hardships and passed the winter at a point hundreds of miles higher north than had ever been visited by a woman. Her wonderful endurance surprised every member of the party. She went across ice and through the blinding snows as steadily as the best of them. While her husband made inland excursions she remained in camp for long days at a time with a single attendant. The Helpline recently found her in this camp healthy and cheerful. The experience of a year in the far North had told nothing upon her, and she said she had nothing to regret for a venture which no woman had heretofore braved, and which only noble devotion had dictated. Mrs. Peary shared the dangers with her husband; she should also share the glory.

The Testimonials.
Published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla are not extravagant, are not "written up," nor are they from its employees. They are facts, and prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses absolute merit and is worthy the full confidence of the people.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and effect, but do not cause pain or grip. Be sure to get Hood's.

Food that Beautifies.
The green lettuce is in shape, from the long, curling leaves to the crisp, little watercress, is a constant beautifier, and more than this, regularly eaten, it quiets your nerves and gives you a pleasant sleep. But if you flood it with vinegar and powder it with sugar you have simply made yourself a dish that will have no effect upon you whatever, unless it should be by the force of the vinegar to break the enamel of your teeth.

A View of the World's Fair Buildings.
In the form of a large sized lithograph, in eight colors, with key to same, can be had by sending your address with twenty cents in postage stamps, to Geo. H. Heaford, G. P. A., Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R.R., Chicago, Ill. As the supply is limited, applications must be made early. Should the supply become exhausted the postage stamps will be returned to applicant.

An Explanation.
Her Mother—I imagined I heard something very like a kiss while you were in the dark corner of the piazza with Mr. Gettner last evening.

For Over Fifty Years.
Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, cures the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

Went by Rail.
"When did John Smithson leave town?" asked the stranger.
"Last week," replied the native.
"Did he set out on foot?"
"No. He went by rail."
"What are you talking about. This town hasn't any railroad."
"Of course not. 'Puzze a fence rail," said Washington Star.

The latest of sovereign spoons is one copyrighted by a Washington woman and representing the Cleveland family. On the top of the handle is an oval medallion containing the portrait of the ex-President, surrounded by a wreath of laurels, and below it a medallion like that of Mrs. Cleveland. The shaft of the handle is decorated in imitation of a double scepter, and in the bowl is a picture of little Ruth Cleveland leaning back against a big blue pillow and shaking a rattle in her right hand.

Rheumatism cured in 2 days.
"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cured in 2 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits, 75 cents. Sold by L. K. Truitt & Son, Druggist, Salisbury, Md.

"Even the grip has its good points," said pretty Mrs. Jones. "It's apt to make a charming widow of one."
"Well, it'll never make a charming widow of you," said her grumpy husband; "I'd cut my throat before I'd let it do that."

The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The reputation of the firm guarantees excellence and uniformity in the medicine, and the world's experience for nearly half a century has fully demonstrated its value.

"What is Jennie yelling about?"
"She is in her room all alone with a mouse."

"Money on us!" She was in the parlor all alone with a young man last night and I never heard her say a word.

Wanamaker's.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26, 1892.

The prettiest and most stylish Dresses shown in Paris this season—up to the second week in September—were the Footman, the Postilion, the Bolero, the Toreador, the Graton and the Marlowe.

American women who saw all that Paris dress artists had developed almost invariably chose from these. Of course at prices that to many would seem fabulously high.

In our ready-made dress parlor you can see exact copies of each of these graceful and elegant costumes, and at prices that represent scarcely more than the mere cost of making the originals.

Beautiful dresses at $12, $14 and upwards. Almost every one, with distinct individuality, and all of the newest and latest.

Many of the high novelties in dress goods are wool and silk, but not all. A mass of silks, every one absolutely new, will be found at the counter that carries the all-wool novelties.

Velour Russe has captured Wool; there is a line of eight colorings in trout speckles.

Another variety is a rough stuf of hirsute style that properly made for the proper figure will give distinctive results. There are run-arounds in wool and worsted of sorts and sorts. Prices vary from 75c to $3.50, and the Wool Novelties alone are enough to bewilder one.

Women's Capes.
Paris has said the word. Capes are the proper cape for these coolish Autumn days. We had the hint as soon as the idea developed on the banks of the Seine. We've had every new thought as soon as it took tangible form there. Result, every Cape elegance and excellence that has made talk in the world of fashion is here, straight from Paris, ready for you—and that, too, before the Paris people themselves know how the cape wind is setting.

Footman Capes, Coachman Capes, Upright Capes, Muslin Capes, Hussy Capes, Housewife Capes, Isabella Capes.

And other pretty novel shapes. The Footman Capes (Triple) start at $6.

Sheets and Pillow Cases.
Actually better than home work.

You'll say it if you look closely. In the ones for least money you'll see fine careful stitching and every raw seam felled. In the higher quality the work is as pleasingly painstaking.

Operatives become wonderfully skillful where such great quantities of goods are turned out. They do the work better and as quick. Improved quality and money saved is what it means for you.

That's the labor side. Do you doubt that materials bought by car loads at a clip cut away under even our retail prices?

These things working together make such prices possible.

Unbleached Canton Flannel at 5c.
Only a little while back you would have paid 12 1/2c for no better here. Doubtful if you find its equal about town at less than 12 1/2c today. Good substantial back, face like lamb's wool for softness and fleeciness. Width 29 inches.

Men's Fall Overcoats.
Astounding what a trifling difference in cut and get-up makes one overcoat a model of style and another a monument of slouchiness. Getting just the right goods, built into Overcoats in just the right way, is the secret of the elegant garment we are showing. The know-how must start with the looms; no let-up till the tailor's finishing touch leaves the stamp of perfection.

The Electropile has been in use for four years, and is well known in some sections of the United States, but there are many doctors who have not heard of it, and some who have heard of it and seen something of its power, but have not seen it in action. Who had a Novel Remedy.
The six girls were chums and met yesterday afternoon at the house of a friend. Things went on smoothly enough for half an hour, when suddenly Miss Laura, an artificial splinter of eighteen, jumped up, clapped her hands and began hopping about the room on one foot.

"Well!" said the mother, "what's the matter?"
"Well!" ejaculated the girl.
"Well!" broke in mamma.
"Well!" said grandma.
But Miss Laura said not a word and kept on hopping.

"Miss Laura," said the strong minded aunt, "I am positively shocked."
"So am I," said Laura, whooping it up. "She is hysterical!" broke in mamma, beginning to sob.
"Feels like electricity," shrieked Laura, making the tenth circuit.
"She is suffering with hysteria!" rejoined the aunt, making a move toward the door.
"Not at all!" said Laura between hops.
"What is it then, dear?" responded the frightened mother.
"Well, for the land's sake, speak!" broke in the girls, some in their tears.
"I will tell you!" said the girl, hopping like mad.
"Yes, dear!"
"My foot!"

What Stranger Proof
Is needed of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla than the hundreds of letters continually coming in telling of marvellous cures it has effected after all other remedies had failed? Truly, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar curative power unknown to other medicines.

Hood's Pills cure Constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal. They are the best family cathartic.

A Mysterious Mirage.
Many stories have been written about mirages and delusions, but none have been more interesting and curious than that of the Siletty City mirage, which makes its appearance near the Pacific glacier, in Alaska. The discovery of this wonderful mirage was made by the Indians, who would tell of the city which was built in the clouds. The mirage can be seen in the early part of June from 5 to 6 p. m. It rises from the side of the Pacific glacier. It first appears as a heavy mist, and soon becomes clearer, and one can distinctly see the spectre city, well-defined streets and trees, tall spires, huge and old-fashioned buildings, which appear to be the side of the glacier or cathedrals. It is a city which would seem to contain at least 50,000 or 60,000 inhabitants. As yet, no one has been able to identify it, although several have claimed to recognize the place. There is no city like it in Alaska nor anywhere else in the world for thousands of miles—Chicago Herald.

Delaware gets the Flat Iron.
The Oxford (Pa.) Press says: "Delaware is to have the flat iron. This is a piece of good news. The joint commission of the states of Pennsylvania and Delaware have decided the boundary question which has been at issue for many years and given to the Delaware State the little town of land containing 700 acres, running down from the Pennsylvania line to the Delaware line."

For Over Fifty Years
Mrs. Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup has been used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

"Strawberry—Do you notice that the cashier in our restaurant has on a new gown every day?"
"Singular—Yes. But I am not surprised at it."
"Why not?"
"She's the wife of the head waiter."

"When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only safe remedy, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time."

"You are a sailor, you say?" inquired the lawyer.
"Yes, sir."
"How long have you been a sailor?"
"Always," said the witness, proudly.
"I've been on water ever since I've been on earth."

Rheumatism cured in a day. "Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cured in 1 to 2 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits, 75 cents. Sold by R. T. Knitt & Son, Druggists, Salisbury, Md.

Customer in barber's chair—"Why do you barbers always stuff a towel around a man's neck until it almost chokes him?"
Barber—"That's to press on the arteries, so the cuts won't bleed so much."

"Well, Helen, what do you do to Tommy to make him do that?"
"Nothing, I only put some sand in his mouth."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Wanamakers.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8, 1892.

Maybe it's the oddity of the idea, maybe it's the jaunty prettiness of the style, very likely it's both, but for some reason the suspender dress is the one that just now is making the most friends among the girls of 4 to 14 years.

Russian Peasant Dresses and variations of the moujik thought are also in the front rank of favor. Besides these styles dozens more sparkling with brightness and fitness—

Dress of wool Tulle, full skirt with bodice, cuffs and collar of velvet, handsome gimp trimmings, blue, brown, garnet, sizes 4 to 14 years, $2.75 to $5.25.

Dress of jaunty wool plaids, full skirt with bodice and suspender, cuffs and collar of velvet, handsomely trimmed with silk and gimp, sizes 4 to 14 years, $3 to $5.50.

Russian Peasant Dress of several All-wool Ladies' Cloth, trimmed with gimp and pearl buttons, sizes 4 to 14 years, $2.50 to $5.

Dress of Wool Tulle in different shades, bodice belt skirt, plaid waist, suspenders, pearl buttons, sizes 4 to 14 years, $3 to $5.50.

Dress of all-wool Tulle full skirt with bodice belt, suspenders and buckles, French sleeves, silk spots, yoke and cuffs, navy blue, tan, sizes 4 to 14 years, $5.75 to $8.

Russian Peasant Dress of all wool Tulle, full skirt, Russian blouse and belt, handsomely trimmed with braid, French sleeves, navy blue, cardinal, gray, sizes 4 to 14 years, $6 to $8.50.

Two-piece Dresses—14, 16, 18-year size—are as varied and attractive.

Made Sheets, Pillows and Bolster Cases.

After all, it's no wonder that buying Muslin by the yard, and making these things by the ten thousand means money saved to the retail buyer.

A dozen other grades just as attractive—higher priced and lower priced.

There's luxury in long, wide, fine Damask Towels. Add knotted fringe, colored borders, and in many cases artistic open work at both ends—and almost smacks of extravagance you say? Not a bit of it. You are thinking of the has been. These Towels are 50c each—although some just like them were 65c here yesterday.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months. I have suffered intensely from bronchitis, followed by pneumonia. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvellous. A single dose relieved me of choking, and securing a good night's rest. I am now completely cured."—T. H. Williams, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

ALL FOR CLEVELAND.

The Principles of Democracy Daily Growing in the People's Favor Over All the Country.

A Great Rally at Salisbury, Tuesday, Oct. 25th, at which Hon. William Pinkney White, Hon. Geo. Colton, Hon. John R. Brown, Hon. Robert F. Brattan and other distinguished strangers will speak.

Democracy's pulse beats healthy and strong, and Democracy's respiration is free and normal. The rainbow of promise hovering in the eastern horizon is visible at the Golden Gate. Its harmonizing rays are seen from Gray Gables to the Gulf. Cleveland, the great exponent of Democracy, is likewise the great exponent of the people, therefore, Cleveland Democracy is the people's politics. Each day brings the tidings that some life-long republican has seen the error of his way and turned from the "wrath of come" States that have always gone republican now appear doubtful, while every democratic state is certain to go as heretofore, with the exception of West Virginia, which both democrats and republicans hope to carry. The republicans have boasted that it shall be theirs if money will buy it.

In the midst of all this wealth of prospect the democrats of Wisconsin are bestirring themselves and now announce a grand rally to be held at Uman's Opera House in Salisbury on Tuesday, October 25th, afternoon and evening. That incomparable orator, Hon. Wm. Pinkney White, will be present and make a speech. Hon. John B. Brown and Hon. Robert F. Brattan, our candidates for Congress, will also be here and discuss the issues of the campaign. Other speakers who have promised to come are Hon. George Colton, and Hon. George Maynard.

The occasion will be one of the most interesting, and ladies and gentlemen of town and country, irrespective of party affiliations will, no doubt, use the opportunity afforded them for enlightenment on the issues of the great contest now claiming the attention of all thoughtful people of the United States.

ILLINOIS LOOKS ENCOURAGING.

F. A. R. has written to the Balto. Sun from Chicago under date of October 11th, a most interesting political letter. A copy of it appears below:

Dear, slow but sure, has been gnawing at the vitals of the republican party of Illinois for the past ten or fifteen years. No longer obscured by the clouds of dishonest professions and broken promises, the blazing sun of truth and reason, gathering in force and intensity as the days roll on, is melting into nothingness the splendid majorities which for a generation justified the confidence of republicans in claiming this grand state as an impregnable fortress with an invincible garrison. Never before has the cry of help gone from this garrison; never before has it filtered in the proud consciousness of anticipated triumph, and in its power to easily repel the invader of the most gallant and the most desperate of its opponents. It is not the slightest stretch of the imagination to say that panic, woe and widespread, has seized upon the councils of this heretofore powerful and unconquerable stronghold, and no beleaguered fort could send up more fearful or earnest appeals for reinforcements prompt and heavy. Like the mills of the gods the minds of men grind slowly; but also like the mills of the gods they grind sure. It can be no instantaneous process to change the opinions and the convictions of men on any subject, and on politics least of all. But when once changed they are liable to remain fixed and immovable. This, of course, applies to honest, not pernicious convictions. In this steady process of change in men who are guided by principle which has been undermining the foundations of the republican party in this state. It is the dwindling of majorities year after year which has caused the alarm, and which has resulted in the determination to bring methods into this state heretofore unknown.

Honest public sentiment is undoubtedly on the side of the democratic candidates and the principles for which they are contending. Thousands of men who have been in the habit of supporting republican candidates have resolved no longer to do so. But few of these are influenced by corrupt motives. It is the accession of this class of men to the democratic party, and their constantly increasing number, which is wiping out republican preponderance, and which inevitably will, at a day not far distant, bring the State under democratic control. Will the day be in November next? Who can tell? Not before the day of election can it be discovered whether the "floaters," as our pious and incorruptible friend, Col. Dudley, designates them, can be enlisted under the republican banner, or whether they will come to the noble army which is fighting for popular rights and honest principles. Bear this in mind. Human nature is weak, and money will be scattered without stint. The men who have ruled this rich and populous State so long do not mean to let go if they can help it. They are struggling with the fierce energy and determination born of fear. With a lavish use of the potent sinews of political warfare, no scruples will deter them and no qualms of conscience stand in their way.

PROHIBITION MEETING.

In the large audience that completely filled the Court House last Friday night were many ladies. Col. R. S. Cheves, a Prohibition orator, from Kentucky, was the attraction. He was introduced by Mr. John H. Dulany, chairman of the meeting. The speech was preceded by a prayer led by Rev. Charles A. Hill, and prohibition songs by a Tyskian quartette.

Col. Cheves is an entertaining speaker and he held his audience for more than two hours. His style is somewhat similar to that of Sam Jones. Figuratively speaking, he went through the two great parties—the democratic and the republican—made and earnest plea for his own. The Col. Col. Cheves' attack on the democratic party led not to a stinging, however, for there was the comforting assurance, from the speaker's own lips that "Cleveland will be elected in November by an overwhelming majority." No gratifying reservation on the other hand, qualified the Col. Cheves' treatment of his republican friends. To their other misfortunes and shortcomings in the coming election. Quite a number of ladies listened to Col. Cheves Friday afternoon.

CLEVELAND AND CIVIL SERVICE.

Harper's Weekly says: One of the most creditable utterances in Mr. Cleveland's letter is that of the reform of the civil service. Machine politicians have long been predicting the decline of the civil service reform movement, and they may have seen a promising symptom of that decline in the shabby treatment of the reform cause received at the hands of the National Republican Convention as well as in President Harrison's manifesto. But if they have rejoiced at all, they have rejoiced too soon; for Cleveland gives renewed evidence not only of his grasp of the essence as well as of the importance of the reform, but also of his resolution if elected president, to live up to his faith. And it may well be assumed that his influence with Congress and his party will no doubt be much greater during his second term of office than it was during his first, that his efforts will be productive of much larger results than they have been before.

The business men's club of New York which favor the election of Mr. Cleveland have issued an address declaring the McKinley tariff a long step backward.

The democrats carried Chattanooga, Tenn., Tuesday by electing seven of the eight aldermen. The city has been republican for many years.

A Stormy Experience.

Rev. J. H. Brooks, rector of Christ church, returned Saturday evening from a summer's vacation trip on the continent. A decidedly novel and interesting experience was met with by him with other passengers of the Ethiopia on their return voyage, lasting for a period of 20 days. On Thursday, September 1, he left Glasgow, Scotland, for New York on the Steamship Ethiopia of the Anchor line. On Saturday the main shaft broke and four days passed before the shaft could be drilled and bolted; seven hours after these repairs were made the shaft again parted and two days later the shaft broke again after having been repaired. During the time of these breaks the ship was at the mercy of the waves, tossing and heaving and drifting toward the rocky Irish coast. Owing to the rough weather the entire ship load of passengers were violently sea sick and this in addition to the apparent certainty of being shipwrecked on the Irish coast added to the distress of mind of the passengers, officers and crew. After the second break was repaired the steamer's course was spoken and a quantity of beef and beer was obtained from her. Five days after the third break the shaft again parted, but was repaired in nine hours. On the tenth day the ice, furit and water gave out, but a supply of the fuel was secured by distilling sea water. The ship's last was supplied with sufficient quantity of salt meat, fish, biscuits and canned goods. Twenty days after leaving Glasgow, Scotland, the Ethiopia came into lower quarantine, New York. The condition of the passengers, 101 of them steamer, was so healthy that the ship was allowed to go to upper quarantine after a short delay. Here they were anchored within a few yards of the Nevada and but a short distance from the other cholera infected seas, and were told that they would be compelled to remain in quarantine for twenty days longer. This announcement had a decidedly ill effect on the condition of the passengers, who had stood up bravely throughout the fright and anxiety of probable shipwreck and sea sickness. The last passengers suffered the worst and were thrown into a state of nervous depression, pitiful to see. The dread of contagion from the nearby ships added to their horror and when the passengers were notified that in three days they would be released from quarantine the reaction was remarkable. During the three day's stay in quarantine the Anchor Line agents sent out their tug and kept the passengers supplied with plenty of potatoes and fruit. The baggage of the passengers was fumigated, and the ship was disinfected. Mr. Brooks went through the process. Rev. Mr. Brooks had no experience to relate in regard to the cholera and says that the nearest he was to any case of the disease was when he was in quarantine. The effect of the rough sea, sea sickness and long voyage had a salutary effect on the passengers and on the authority of the ship's surgeon it was one of the healthiest lot of passengers that had been brought to this country for years.—Oil City, (Pa.) Derrick.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A Diamond Wedding.

Seventy-five years ago Col. Napoleon B. French, of Princeton, Va., married Miss Jane Armstrong, daughter of Governor Armstrong, of North Carolina, and Friday night, which was the anniversary of the marriage day, he celebrated his diamond wedding. Col. French at one time was candidate for Governor of West Virginia, and within a few years of being elected. He is in his ninety-third year, hale and hearty, and in all probability will reach his one hundredth birthday. His wife is about ninety-five years of age.— Lynchburg Virginian.

Some fancy the charms of the lily-white maid,

Of ethereal form and languishing eye.

Who faints in the sunshine and droops in the shade,

And is always "just ready to die."

But give me the girl of the sunny face,

The blood in whose veins courses healthy and free,

With the vigor of youth in her movements of grace,

Oh, that is the maiden for me!

She is the girl to "die to" for life. The sickly, complaining woman may be an object of love and pity, but she ceases to be a "thing of beauty" when worn down by weakness and disease, subject to hysteria and a martyr to bearing-down pains. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sure cure for these distressing complaints, and will transform the feeble, drooping sufferer into a healthy, happy, blooming woman, guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it refunded.

Charles T. Yerkes, a Chicago capitalist interested in street railways, has ordered for the Chicago University a microscope 48 inches in diameter, 11 inches larger than the Lick telescope, at present the largest in the world.

Nearly half a century of uninterrupted success in the cure of cough, cold and indigestion has given to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, a reputation not possessed by any other similar remedy. It is a sovereign cure for all diseases of the throat and chest.

Mr. Chas. N. Houser.

Of Frederick, Md., suffered terribly for over ten years with rheumatism and running sores on his left leg. He wasted away, grew weak and pale, and was obliged to use a cane and crutch. Everything which could be thought of was done without good result, until he began taking which effected a perfect cure. Mr. Houser is now in the best of health. Full particulars of his case will be sent all who address C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Literary Notes.

Book News (Phila.) is up to date every month with all that is known of the new books, their critical value, their prices, and their authors, and forerunners coming events in the book world—unimpaired almost at this season. The kindy contentment of Col. R. M. Johnson, is presented in the frontispiece plates: portrait, the same that preface the Appleton edition of the "Dukeborough Tales." A sketch abridged from the Century estimates the value of his work, and tells of his early life in the "Cracker" region of Georgia. A portrait of "Margaret Siddons," the widow of the late D. Lett, publisher, also appears in this issue.

To Prevent the Grip.

Or any other similar epidemic, the blood and the whole system should be kept in healthy condition. If you feel worn out or have "that tired feeling" in the morning, do not be guilty of neglect. Give immediate attention to yourself. Take Food's Sarsaparilla to give strength, purify the blood and prevent disease.

Food's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, constipation.

Pharm on Ouse.

The old gentleman has come down from the farm to his son deliver an oration at the closing exercises of the academy, and that he was proud of the boy's efforts was most apparent, but with the pride was mingled a doubt which he could not conceal.

What's the matter, father?

"The young fellow when they were alone, didn't you like my oration?"

"A great deal, my boy," said the father, "but I never heard anything finer, but I couldn't quite understand one thing in it, and that is what bothers me."

"What was that?"

"Why, that part where you talked out into the blue and piled pile of words on horseback. What in the dickens does that mean?"

Sharing a house with bees.

In a farmhouse between Marcellus and Watkinsville there is a curiosity. Between the plastering and the siding of the house, at one joint, there is a vacant space, which for the past three seasons has been utilized for living purposes by a colony of bees. The colony has grown to such an extent that on a warm summer day it is sometimes noisy to drive horses in the yard near them. The family living in the house expect to make repairs in the fall, and they estimate that they will harvest 200 pounds of honey from their novel hive.

She Don't Indulge.

They were enjoying a moonlight walk in the Park. His was a nature strongly tinged with romance. Her nature leaned decidedly toward the practical side of life.

This isn't positively enchanting?

"I'm not sure," said the young man. "I can now do so all of the beauties that nature has so lavishly bestowed upon this lovely retreat."

"Yes, but George, I don't drink," replied the young lady prosaically.

Gastronomic Item.

"We are going to have pie for dinner," said Bobby to the minister.

"Indeed?" laughed the clergyman, amused at the little boy's artlessness; "and what kind of pie, Bobby?"

"It's a new kind. Ma was talking this morning about bringing you to dinner so often, and said he didn't care what she thought, and she said she'd make him eat humble pie before the day was over, and I suppose we're going to have it for dinner."

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

Madam was recounting that her husband was ill the night before and had to send for a doctor at 3 o'clock in the morning.

"But I thought you had a doctor in the house—your oldest son," said a neighbor.

"True, but we only let him doctor the servant."

"Katie," he said, timidly, "I have allowed myself to be so much of a gentleman as to something more than a friend."

"George," she answered, softly, with half-veiled face, "you—you are away off."

And George understood. He came nearer—San Francisco Illustrated World.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease.

The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying, and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

Temperance Worker—and what caused your downfall, my good man?

Horrible Example!—This was stage realism, mind. I was acting the drunk and in a temperance play, and the manager insisted on my using real Whiskey, mum.

Rheumatism cured in a day.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cured in 1 to 2 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits, 75 cents. Sold by R. K. Truitt & Son, Druggist, Salisbury, Md.

"Don't you know, Cholly, that Miss Prude is the most modest girl I ever saw?"

"Why so?"

"Because she actually doesn't like to go up the companionway. She says it embarrasses her to see a stare."

THE SONG OF PEACE.

A song is sung in the air.

And I would drink it in.

With the scent of the roses rich and rare.

But now the battle din

Rings in my ears and deafens me.

I cannot hear the strain.

Upon notes of the world, its melody.

Throbs like a bitter pain.

But now and then, as in despair

I seek to read the words.

Comes a burst of harmony on the air

To which my heart responds.

And then the echo of the strain

A moment seems to cease.

Through the wondrous harmony the

way.

That moment brings me peace.

And then I pray my soul

To be a part of peace.

Through the war's roar I fall to sleep.

Or riches of the heart.

And then the echo of the strain

A moment seems to cease.

Through the wondrous harmony the

way.

That moment brings me peace.

And then I pray my soul

To be a part of peace.

Through the war's roar I fall to

Or riches of the heart.

LIVING ON AIR.

The Remarkable Survival of Three

Emigrant Miners in Bohemia.

The teaching of experience as illustrated by several instances of prolonged starvation, though it may afford some idea of human endurance in this particular

under special conditions, has yet provided no certain criterion of the force of man's resistance to the fatal resistance possessed by the average man when suddenly deprived of every form of sustenance. The measure of this force may nevertheless be gauged with approximate correctness from the history of recurrent instances of prolonged and accidental starvation. As an example, the following is a remarkable

even in this category:

It is the narrative of three Bohemian miners, who, after being entombed by a fall of sand in the pit where they were working, were finally rescued alive,

though of course in an utterly prostrate condition, after having been buried for the period of their lives burial air was pumped down to them by bore holes.

On this they may be said to have lived,

without food and without air.

The total want of the latter is what makes their survival so remarkable. But for this essential the longer fasts of professional fasting men would have been quite impossible.

We can have no difficulty in understanding generally why this holds true.

As to the matter of food, it is not water constitute by far the greater constituent of every tissue, but that without it the proper circulation of the blood and nutrition of the body would be impossible.

In endeavoring to trace the rationale of a life persisting, as in the case of the buried miners, in spite of the absence of every natural condition, we must notice one or two significant points. In the first place, their condition was that of rest, their functional metabolism being proportionally less active, their waste of energy diminished and their consumption of carbonic acid not so likely to overcharge

the surrounding atmosphere. Further, we may take it for granted that the physique had no small share in the conservation of vital energy.

Much depends in such cases on the amount of nitrogenous matter stored up for the most part in the muscular tissue, and available for destructive changes.

We may safely assume that the amount of stored nitrogen was not small, and men was not meager. It is mainly, no doubt, to this circumstance that we must attribute not only the fact of their survival, but also the rapidity with which the prospect of their convalescence and ultimate recovery—London Lancet.

An interesting question is before congress and the American Bar association arising out of the unfortunate case of the Italian in New Orleans.

The relations between this country and

Italy were strained nearly to the point of rupture by the case of the Italian government, who had arrested the subject, and had refused to release him until the Italian government had been satisfied with the result of the trial. The Italian government, who had arrested the subject, and had refused to release him until the Italian government had been satisfied with the result of the trial.

SEWAGE OF LONDON.

IT IS TAKEN OUT TO SEA AND SCAT-TERED OVER THE WAVES.

Results of a Modern System of Disposal of the Great City's Sewage—The Western Daily News from the Emment-Clean Ship.

"Oh, how unpleasant! The idea of going to sea with sewage!" On the contrary, you know nothing of it. The fact is that the sewage ship is broad and clean, the deck covered with a smooth and comfortable floor, and

the breeze blowing the sunlight

brilliantly on the polished surface of the river, and you scarce can realize that this steamer is carrying a thousand tons of London sewage out to sea. Yet the fact is that the sewage ship is not a "mud barge" of the county council, which takes out the precipitated sludge from the Barrow dock, but a modern steamship, built for the purpose of carrying out the sewage of London to sea. It is a powerful twin screw steamship, worked by two sets of triple expansion engines, and fitted with large funnels, kept covered with a

smooth and comfortable floor, and

brilliantly on the polished surface of the river, and you scarce can realize

will enliven the occasion by national airs and a great outpouring of Wisconsin Democracy is expected.

The Protestant Episcopal convention which is now in session in Baltimore has completed the work of revising the Book of Common Prayer, and the hymnal. The work of revising the prayer book was begun fifteen years ago, and proceeded with very caution, and conservatively. The changes adopted can only be detected after very close scrutiny.

Last Monday was the sixth anniversary of New Salisbury. The new city is six years old; a healthy robust, vigorous child, no surplus growth as was predicted by our neighbors; no evidence of unnatural growth from unhealthy stimulus. A healthy well-developed robust child, well grown for its age and ample muscular development from activity.

Our wholesale merchants are shipping their wares to every point on the peninsula south of the Nanticoke, and some are extending their trade above the Nanticoke. No less than eleven houses of the town have been doubled in these six

NEW YORK TICKETS.

Thomas F. Gilroy, the Democratic candidate for Mayor.

New York, Oct. 18.—The nomination of the mayor and other officials on the Tammany ticket is one of the final steps in the national as well as the local campaign. There is a pregnant political lesson in the fact that until the Tammany committee of thirty met this afternoon not a single man outside Richard Croker and his nominees was to be elected. The election of the Tammany ticket is hardly questionable. There is no effective organized opposition to its success, and it is conceded that the republican nominations against it are mere matters of form and for revenue only.

The choice of Mr. Gilroy for mayor was indeed a Tammany surprise. His name had hardly been mentioned up to the opening of the convention. He has been an office-holder for the past twenty-eight years, and is the grand sachem of the Tammany. Croker and the next member of the "Big Four" after Croker, and chairman of the committee on organization of Tammany Hall. He is a machine man, pure and simple, believing in nothing in politics but the rule of spoils. This nomination is probably due to a fear on the part of his associates to trust the powers that the next mayor will have to any one outside the tried inner circle. Personally he has a clean record and has shown himself a man of force and executive ability. He was born in Ireland in 1840, and came here when six years old.

He was educated in the local public schools and began life as a printer, but drifted into politics. He is popular in organization, and just as obnoxious to the people who do not like the Tammany methods of politics.

Ex-Congressman Edwin Einstein, his republican opponent, is a well-known German Hebrew, who will draw some votes from these elements, but is not a man to make any impression on the solid Tammany lines. He has no chance of success.

The whole Tammany ticket is made up of present office-holders, and there is considerable dissatisfaction at the close of the convention. It is another example of the political selfishness on the rule of give to our own men and let the national ticket take care of itself.

John Quinn, nominated by the County Democracy, is the ex-Congressman. It is a feeble splinter on the part of the rest of the once powerful organization to delude people into the idea that they are yet alive. Tammany has nothing to fear from either of the opposing tickets. They are structurally of the weakest caliber.

The Virginia Democracy tonight endorsed the regular Tammany Hall city and county ticket.

Poisoned by Scrofula

Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease localizes itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissue; there is a period of latent life when the whole body consists of white tissue, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all trace of the disease and gives to the vital fluid the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept any substitute.

A Kiss.
A young member of Salisbury society has furnished the ADVERTISER with the following realism:

Soft arms clinging about me,
And eyes speaking love to mine;
Parted lips to part no more,
In an ecstasy sublime.

Two hearts throbbing with emotion,
Bodies trembling with bliss;
Souls full of love's devotion,
Find expression in a kiss.

—REYNOLD O'BRIEN.

OF SOMERSET.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

The present campaign has developed many singular and unique features.

The attitude of the republican party

just now is peculiar and not at all environmental, whatever may be the result.

It will be remembered that the party started out by thrusting the chairmanship of the National Committee at a half dozen before it could make the appointment stick, and Mr. Harrison was finally compelled to ask one of his appointees to take it, and resign his position as a federal office holder.

The campaign was finally opened under the leadership of Mr. Carter, since then no less than seven ex cabinet officers of the republican party have come forward and declared their intention of supporting Mr. Cleveland, as follows:

Wayne McVeagh, Attorney-General

under Garfield.

Walter G. Gresham, Postmaster-General and Secretary of the Treasury under

Arthur.

Carl Schurz, Secretary of the Interior

under Hayes.

Jacob Dolson Cox, Secretary of the Interior under Grant.

Benjamin B. Brewster, Attorney General under Arthur.

Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury under Lincoln and Arthur.

Daniel McKendree Key, Postmaster-

General under Hayes.

Added to this list is Judge Cooley who is probably the ablest constitutional lawyer in the country and one of the strongest men in Michigan. These men assert that the public party has pushed the principle of protection beyond the bounds of logic and that they are no longer follow. And now comes forward fifty eight out of the fifty-nine professors of Harvard college, proclaiming their views upon the house-top. These views, they say, compromise to support Cleveland. Think of it! The faculty of Harvard College, the propaganda for Boston and Massachusetts, with practical unanimity condemning the principles of the republican party, and proclaiming democracy upon the house-top.

What is the effect of all this? Col.

McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, who has been on New York, says the republicans have practically abandoned all hope of carrying Indiana, and that New York will go for Cleveland by fifty thousand majority. If Col. McClure is correct, that these states must be carried. Whether they must or not the ninth of November will tell.

One need not be surprised at any result in this contest, except a decided majority for Harrison. That cannot be from the very nature of the case. There is a general revolt throughout the West and North-west against the present condition of things; this every one knows,

whether it will amount to such a revolt

as was registered in 1890, no one knows.

We know this, that the republican party has the same issue to fight in 1892 that it had in 1890 in Wisconsin, Iowa,

Nebraska and Kansas. Whether the result will be the same, the election alone will have to decide.

In Nebraska the democrats have withdrawn their electoral ticket and have agreed to support the third party candidate. This, it is said, will insure anti-

Harrison electors, which will seal Mr.

Harrison's fate certainly; for Cleveland will carry New York. The democrats

there are thoroughly aroused, and thoroughly united. Their forces are com-pet, determined and have the necessary ammunition of war. The increased registration in democratic quarters shows that democrats are interested. If the election was held today Cleveland would be elected.

Death of Mrs. Harrison.

In the presence of death political antagonisms are forgotten, and men and women of every party and every creed

will unite today in heartfelt sympathy with the president and his family in the sorrow which has come upon them.

They will think of him not so much as the chief executive of the nation as a fellow mortal whose heart has been broken down by the weight of earthly bereavements—the loss of a loving and loyal wife. Every husband who knows how to estimate at its real value the devotion of a true woman's heart will feel for Mr. Harrison in his hour of deep distress. All that is best in human nature is developed by that highest and holiest

of earthly ties, and when after long years of mutual affection and self-sacrifice, the bond is broken by death, he never so genially, and the survivor, worn and weary with the conflicts of life, stands bereft at the parting of the ways, there is a pathos in his loneliness and desolation strong for words, too sacred for intrusion. Mrs. Harrison was in every way worthy of the love of her husband and the respect of her country. A genuine American in her practical sense, her strong individuality, she never lost her self-possession or simplicity of character

amid the social conventionalities and display of the position in which she was placed by her husband's elevation to the presidency. She discharged her duties to society faithfully and unselfishly, but she never usurped in her heart the place of those domestic virtues which are a woman's brightest jewels. Her loss adds another to the list. Her loss adds another to the afflictions that have fallen upon the families of members of the present administration at Washington. Ex-Secretary Blaine has suffered the loss of two of his sons. Secretary Tracy's wife was burned to death in man's Secretary's house in Washington. The evening of the day when the emerald of the White House itself and

Col. A. K. McClure, editor Philadelphia

Times, under date of 24th in a letter to his paper sums up the situation in the following terse and comprehensive language:

"Two short weeks remain of the great national campaign of 1892 and these days have well determined how they shall make their final assault. It is an open secret here in republican circles, or rather hardly a secret at all, that the republican managers have given up any utterly hopeless hopes. From the day that Graham made his annoncement against Harrison, the state has been anchored in the Cleveland column, and the president's own state will be spared the shame of a repudiation of the debauchery of 1888 simply because money cannot carry it. In this state the republicans are making a most desperate and somewhat hopeful battle. They are not confident of success, but they have a remote chance of winning the electoral vote. Believing that success would secure Harrison's re-election, extensive efforts will be made from now until election day to carry New York, but even while thus giving the almost entire resources to carry the Empire State, the Harrison leaders feel that the odds are largely against them, and that they must look outside of both New York and Indiana to assure success.

They have figured closely on the electoral vote, and assuming that Harrison will carry all the states he carried in 1888, with the exception of New York,

Indiana and Nevada, which could, with the aid of the six new states and by carrying nine of the electors in Michigan and the electoral votes of Connecticut

Delaware and West Virginia, give Har-risson a bare majority of the electoral college. This is skirting on fearfully thin ice, but they don't do it from choice. It is the last chance of saving republican power. Grasping at these remote possibilities as a drowning man would grasp at a straw, there will be the most bewildering efforts of debauchery in connection with the election. Delaware and West Virginia have been foredoomed in Delaware where the republican federal supervisors boldly arrested democratic registration officers on Saturday last. All the money that can be used to debase voters will be expended in Connecticut, Delaware and West Virginia from now until election day. It is possible that they may carry one or even two of them, but it is hardly within the range of possibility that they can carry all of them. They carefully prospected New Jersey and at one time were hopeful of success there, but they have given up New Jersey on the electoral ticket, as the republican leaders themselves say, that the state cannot be taken from Cleveland. They believe that a hopeful fight might be made for governor in that state, but the national managers care nothing for a governor if the electoral vote is beyond reach. Besides there is little prospect for a United States Senator in New Jersey

as the holding over senators are largely democratic.

Such is the situation as it appears today in this centre of political direction.

The democrats understand the situation precisely as the republicans do, and they are fully prepared for the desperate attempts that are to be made upon Connecticut, Delaware and West Virginia; but while the republicans are assaulting these states, the democratic leaders understand that the republicans are much more likely to lose some of the Harrison states of 1888, outside of Nevada, which seems to be conceded to Weaver, than
