

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1792.

BRUGES, January 11.

FROM the steps at present taken in Austrian Flanders, and in Brabant, it seems clear, that if Leopold had not taken the most rigorous precautions against the seeds and the first appearance of rebellion, those two provinces would, by this time, have become prey to new troubles. The air itself seems infected with the spirit of insurrection, and no other than French principles are adopted. If the new constitution of France had not annihilated the nobility, which the Flemings and the Brabantines still adhere to, it had not attacked the dogmas of the Catholic religion to which they are yet ardently and zealously devoted, there is reason to think that the yoke of the house of Austria would have been shaken off for the second time, or that the richest of the inhabitants would have carried into France their fortunes and their industry. About a week ago some publications were circulated here, known to have been printed in France, exciting them to revolt, to quit the dominion of a prince who, it is said, has broke his word to them; with a promise that France will support them, particularly if they choose chiefs worthy of esteem and confidence.

PARTS, January 19.

It is now certain, that M. de Talleyrand, formerly Bishop of Autun, goes to the court of St. James's, charged with an important mission, the object of which is, to keep up and fortify the harmony existing between France and England.

Sugar is 2s. 4d. English, a pound in Paris—every thing that can be mentioned has increased one quarter in price with the last four months.

Jan. 22. The prisoners in the Hotel de la Force set free on the 20th, in the evening, to the four corners of the prison. The flames spread so rapidly, as to threaten with total destruction the whole of that and of the adjoining new buildings; but by the activity of the firemen, and of the national guards, who attended with some artillery, the fire was extinguished without the loss of lives, or the escape of the prisoners, who have been removed to the Faubourg St. Marceau. The report is, that a plot was laid to liberate all the prisoners, and let them loose on the public to plunder and destroy in hopes that, during the confusion, the king might escape, and the aristocrats regain their ascendancy.

The riots have not been confined to this place only, but three very capital sugar houses have been broke open and pillaged, and two more burnt to the ground. The mob insisted that the sugar should be sold at 20 sh; some was sold at that price, but much more was pillaged. The national guard has been under arms all this night, and it is feared that more mischief will ensue.

LONDON, January 26.

The affairs of the Low Countries become more and more embroiled every day. Several persons have lately been arrested on suspicion, by orders from government.

The king of Sweden, though forced to convoke the Diet, seems to entertain violent apprehensions of the consequences of such a measure. He has fixed the place of their meetings at a small village, Geite, on the pretext of avoiding the noise of the capital, but, in reality, to prevent any disturbances which might arise in a great city. He has ordered the police to be in readiness, and even there is a surmise, that troops are to be employed on the occasion, in order to oversee the proceedings of the diet. Such is the situation in which this doctored hero of a counter-revolution is with respect to his own subjects.

We here a subscription has been opened at Glasgow, to aid the French in carrying on the war against the emigrant princes, or any foreign power by whom they may be attacked. It is said that 1200l. have been already subscribed. We may venture to predict, that however respectable the list of the subscribers may be, a late Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow—the right honourable Edmund Burke, will not be among them.

Jan. 28. It is supposed that by the beginning of the ensuing year, the Sierra Leona company will have 20000 acres planted with sugar canes. The natives of the country are to be engaged to work for hire, and to the people who go out from hence tracts of land are to be assigned. Every man is to have twenty acres, if he has a wife, he is to have ten more, and for each child an additional five acres.

The confidential friends of more than one of the gentlemen in the India direction have taken up Imperial ships to bring sugar from India next season. They are not the only men who are determined to speculate in this article. A city alderman took a trip to Oland during the hull of the queen's birth day, and engaged 2,000 tonnage for the business.

In the manuscript addressed by the emperor to the alic council, he holds forth his authority as derived from God alone, the divine and indefeasible rights of kings, &c. This senseless jargon is now exploded in all free countries.

RUSSIA AND SWEDEN.

The treaty of mutual guarantee and defensive alliance lately concluded between the emperors of Russia and the king of Sweden, for the protection of their European dominions, is to continue for eight years.

Should he be attacked by any hostile power, the emperors engages to assist him, as soon as possible after the requisition, with 22,000 infantry and 3000 cavalry, to serve wherever he may have occasion for them. The troops to be ready in one, two, three, or at most four months, fully equipped with arms, provisions, &c. he is also to furnish eleven ships of the line and three frigates; the first mounting from 60 to 70, the latter 30 guns each.

The king, in his turn, engages to supply the emperors, when called upon, with 8000 foot, and 2000 horse, six ships of the line, and two frigates, carrying the same metal as those of the emperors.

Captain Sutherland, of the 34th regiment, son of the late Mr. Sutherland, who shot himself in the Green Park, the other day, attempted to put a period to his existence by stabbing himself with a sword. He is yet alive.

Jan. 30. We are informed that upwards of a thousand families in Birmingham, have left off the use of sugar, as a slow, but certain step towards the emancipation of the negro slaves.

A scene very distressing and melancholy took place in the King's Bench Prison on Thursday evening last. A young lady lately returned from the East-Indies, of the name of Cumming, had been induced to accompany some friends there, to visit a person confined, for debt, without further explanation of the object of their visit. On their arrival at the prison, she discovered that the unhappy person was her own father, captain Cumming, which had so immediate and fatal an effect upon her mind, as to throw her into strong fits, in which she continued till Saturday morning, when she expired.

The number of persons apprehended at Brussels, by order of the government, amounts to forty. They are charged with holding correspondence with the emigrants, and with contributing to secret enlisting of men for the ci-devant duke of Bethune-Charost. The emigrations from Austrian Flanders, and particularly from Brussels, are now said to be as numerous, in proportion to the extent of the country, as they ever were from France.

KINGSTON, (Jamaica) January 28.

By the last advices from Hispaniola we learn that official accounts are received there of a body of 18,000 men having sailed from France for that island. Fourteen ships of war, of what force we know not, are also said to be appointed to convoy them.

We are informed that the French negroes from the bay of Honduras are to be sent to Cape-François in the ship Recovery, under an escort of two men of war, and delivered to the governor and general assembly, at that place.

SALEM, (Massachusetts) March 13.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Jonathan Carnes, to a merchant in this town, dated at the Cape of Good-Hope, October 6, 1791.

"I arrived here, after a passage of 116 days, and found the place in such confusion as to render it difficult to transact business. The governor is sent to Europe—the fiscal has absconded—the company's property is all selling off—and the company is said to be bankrupt. The troops are all gone to Batavia and Ceylon. The king of Candia has rebelled against the Dutch."

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.

Extract of a letter from Amsterdam, dated November 29, 1791.

"The importation of all kinds of tea, from every foreign port, is prohibited here, under a heavy penalty, by a late regulation."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman, dated Mouth of Wheeling, March 10th, 1792.

"The Indians have paid a visit in our quarter, last Thursday night, about six miles from Wheeling, and took off seven horses, and one they killed with an arrow; they were pursued by a party, who finding themselves too inconsiderable for the Indians, were obliged to give over their pursuit, without any satisfaction."

Yesterday the Indian Warriors, lately arrived in this city, had an audience of the president of the United States.

Died, in this city, on Monday last, Mr. PETER JAQUETTE, one of the principal Sachems of the Oneida nation of Indians. This young chief was educated in France; he accompanied M. de la Fayette to that country on his return from the United States.

On Wednesday last his funeral was attended from Oeller's Hotel to the Presbyterian burying ground in Mulberry-street, where his remains were interred.

The corpse was preceded by detachments of the light-infantry of the city, with arms reversed—drums muffled—music playing a solemn dirge. The corpse was followed by six of the chiefs as mourners, succeeded by all the warriors now in this city—the reverend clergy of all denominations—the secretary of war, and the gentlemen of the war department—officers of the federal army, and of the militia—and a number of citizens.

The concourse assembled on this occasion, is supposed to have amounted to more than 10,000 persons. The following paragraphs are extracted from a late London paper:

At one of the late meetings of the duke of Orleans's creditors, when the prince entered the apartment in which they were assembled, he found them all standing up and uncovered. One of the tradesmen, however, a greater democrat than the others, and knowing himself to be superior in some respects to him who had called the meeting, thus constitutionally addressed his fellow sufferers—"Good folks, by the first Rights of Man, all mortals are born equal, why then should we stand with our hats off in presence of one who is not more than ourselves. For my part, I cannot think what we owe him, but am perfectly sensible of what he owes us, so let us sit down and be covered."

The adherents of the French princes, like the followers of the unfortunate house of Stuart, were encouraged to quit their country and ruin their fortunes, to promote the view of foreign powers; and, for the convenience of those very powers they are now driven from one place of refuge to another, and the rigours of winter, and through roads covered with snow, and almost impassable. Several hundred of Mirabeau's legion have returned to France with their arms, and such of their baggage, as they could carry with them.

Twelve post-chaises, loaded with emigrant Frenchmen, arrived yesterday in town, from Epston, where they have been for some time past, on their way to Germany.—But, unlike their sitting out in June last, they go now with the melancholy prospect of seeking for bread by the sword in the different armies of Europe, instead of returning to their own country.

The alarm of the emperor for the tranquillity of his hereditary states is still too considerable to allow him to think of foreign war, unless compelled to it. In Galicia, Styria, Tyrol, &c. the people every where talk of an equalization of taxes and a representation in the States of their respective provinces, where they do not already possess it. This is not the proper season for calling upon them to pay fresh taxes to settle the French constitution.

March 27. Yesterday arrived in this port, the ship Perseverance, from Bourdeaux, which place she left the 5th of January. By this vessel we learn, that at Bourdeaux all was confusion, and that assignats were 50 per cent. below par.

WINCHESTER, March 3.

Extract of a letter from Cumberland, in the territory South of the Ohio, to the Printer hereof dated October 1, 1791.

"I left Nashville on the 23d of last month. The day before I was at Mr. John Hague's cotton-manufactory—his carding machine is finished, and will card an hundred weight of cotton per day, with only the attendance of one hand. He has one spinning machine finished, which carries fifty spindles; and three others nearly ready to go, carrying in the whole two hundred spindles. Cotton will be plenty this fall; several planters in this country will make near 1000 weight each. I have made 600 weight on half an acre of land, but, upon a moderate calculation, an acre will produce 1000."

March 12. On Monday evening last arrived in this town, on their way from Philadelphia to the Cherokee nation, Mr. Leonard Shaw, agent, Mr. Carey, interpreter, six Cherokee chiefs, one squaw and a white woman, the latter in the capacity of wife to one of the chiefs.—We hear the nuptial rites took place in Philadelphia.

BALTIMORE, March 30.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman, at Fort Washington, to his friend in this town, dated February 11, 1792.

"General Wilkinson assumed his command at this place, since I wrote you last; and being the senior officer now in the country, has exerted himself in relieving the inhabitants from their distress and apprehensions. On the 25th ult. I had the honour of attending him, with 130 men, mounted volunteers, from the country northwest of the Ohio, to the place of the late unfortunate action.—The severity of the season made the tour very unpleasant to the men, and the fleet injuring the legs of our horses, retarded our march very considerably; however, by perseverance, we arrived on the last field, on the 31st.—Upwards of six hundred bodies, horribly mangled with tomahawks and scalping-knives, and by wild beasts, lay on the ground, and presented a spectacle too horrible for description. They were collected, and interred in the best manner circumstances would admit of; after which, we collected the tire and other irons of the waggon, which for that purpose were burnt; all which, with one field-piece mounted, and two good carriages, were brought into Fort Jefferson.—Is it not a reasonable conjecture, that the enemy left this piece, with the carriages, in proper condition, intending an attack, early in the spring, upon Fort Jefferson?—Other guns, we presume, are deposited in a creek near the scene of the late action; but as the waters were frozen, we did not attempt to discover them.—We returned in fourteen days, all well, and much pleased with our commander.—In truth, the patriotic conduct of general Wilkinson, his talents, and his activity, endeared him very much to the people of this country; and if the good and great St. Clair, whose indisposition and misfortune, in the last campaign, exposed him to unmerited censure, should be induced to resign, no gentleman could be appointed his successor, to command the army, who would be more acceptable than general Wilkinson.

"Feb. 14. A man just arrived from Fort Jefferson, with bad news.—The commanding-officer, captain Shaylor, two subaltern officers, the commissary, and two privates, have been killed and scalped, within half a mile of the fort.—The informant was of the party, and fortunately escaped.—We do not know whether the fort is yet invested or not. General Wilkinson will march to-morrow, with 250 men, to ascertain the fact, and act as the occasion may require.—This insult to Fort Jefferson, so soon after our excursion, and under all the feverities of the season, manifests their preparation for early action this spring.—In fact, they are enterprising, and dare the vengeance of the United States."

For the MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THE State of Maryland thank the senate for their wise, unanimous, and disinterested choice of Richard Lowndes, Esquire, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of general Smallwood, and hope it will prove the amendments of the constitution, published for consideration by the late assembly, not only unnecessary, but improper.

the Butlers; her name is JEMIMA (commonly called Mina); she is of the middle stature, of a straight

HYDER ALLY,

NOW the property of the subscriber, is in high perfection, and stands this season at the seat of RICHARD CHEW, Esquire, to cover mares at two guineas each, payable the first day of September next, when it is expected the strictest punctuality will be observed.

HYDER ALLY is a beautiful gray, elegantly dappled, full fifteen hands three inches high, bony, lengthy, strong, and active, his strong resemblance to his sire, whose stock stands in high estimation both for the turf and saddle, will, it is presumed, entitle him to a preference, and his pedigree following will prove his blood equal to that of any horse in America.

He was got by the noted Arabian, his dam by Othello, his grand-dam (an imported mare from the duke of Hamilton's stud) by Spot, his great-grand-dam by Cartouch, his great-great-grand-dam by Old Traveller, his great-great-great-grand-dam by Sed-bury, his great-great-great-great-grand-dam by Chil-dars, out of a Barb mare.

Excellent pastures are provided for mares coming from afar at 2/6 per week, and every possible care taken of them, but accidents and escapes must be at the risk of their owners.

PETER EMMERSON,

Annapolis, January 1, 1792.

At a meeting of the VISITORS and GOVERNORS of ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE, in the state of Maryland, on Thursday the 10th of November last,

RESOLVED,
THAT this board, at the quarterly meeting in May next, proceed to elect a VICE-PRINCIPAL of St. John's College.

That it be the duty of the principal and vice-principal to teach some of the higher authors in Latin and Greek, certain parts of the mathematics, logic, and moral and natural philosophy; and that the departments of the said principal and vice-principal shall hereafter be ascertained with precision, on consideration of their mutual convenience and qualifications.

That the vice-principal shall be entitled to receive, for his services, a salary of three hundred and fifty pounds current money, rating dollars at 7/6 each, to be paid quarterly.

That persons desirous of, and qualified for, the office of vice-principal, be, by public advertisement, requested to make application to Mr. Charles Wallace, Mr. Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, and Mr. Alexander Contee Hanson, all of the city of Annapolis.

By order of the Board,

JOHN THOMAS, President.

N. B. The fundamental laws of St. John's college prohibit all preference on account of religious tenets or opinions.

As the appointment of a vice-principal is alone wanted to complete the plan of this rising seminary, the board will certainly proceed, at the time stated, to an election, provided a person qualified in their judgment, for this important office, can be procured. The personal attendance of the candidates, although not positively required, will be obviously proper.

It may be useful to remark, that the salaries of all the professors and teachers have hitherto been paid with entire punctuality, and that the funds of St.
John's college produce a certain annual income superior to all the appropriations which have been or probably will be made.

The Printers of news-papers throughout the United States are earnestly requested to insert the above resolve and remarks, and to repeat the publication as often as convenience will permit.

C A S E R T A, November 15.

ELANCHOLY accounts have been received here of the earthquakes in Calabria Ultra, which have been frequent and violent for six weeks past.

They do not seem to extend so far as in the year 1783, and their great force appears to have been at Monte Leone, Soriano, and Soriano, where most of the wooden barns have been overthrown, and many people wounded, but few lives have been lost.

These earthquakes are but slightly felt at Messina; and it has been remarked that since they began Mount Etna and Stromboli have been quiet, and smoked less than usual. Avillage, called Cafe Nove, near Fuligno, on the Loretto road, was nearly destroyed by an earthquake the 11th of October, and the houses for six miles round were damaged more or less, the people being obliged to live in the fields.

Mount Vesuvius, after having thrown out a thick smoke and ashes for several days, opened a new mouth on the side next to the mountain of Somma on Thursday last, and from thence a copious lava is running into the valley between the two mountains.

L O N D O N, January 31.

A few days ago, the speaker of the House of Commons in Ireland insisted that the gentlemen in the gallery should take off their hats, which they obstinately refused, they were all turned out.

The consequence was, that as the speaker was going home in his carriage, he was pelted by the mob, and the windows of his house were broken. It was with much difficulty that the mischief was prevented from going further.

Feb. 7. A fire maliciously occasioned at Brussels, is said to have consumed nearly one third of that city. This report came in a private letter by the way of France yesterday; for the confirmation and the particulars we must wait the Flanders mail.

Those of them, who are embodied in the military division, are to be found chiefly in the country of M. de Roum, and are thus stationed.

At Cappel, Renschen, Ooerkirch, Oppenan, and in a adjoining convent are 3,000. In the town-hall of Ooerkirch are 300 soldiers of the regiment of Ber-

M. Conde is lodged in the abbey, adjoining the church, from which he has expelled the Monks. He is with him about two hundred English hories. The Regiment of Requeti (late Mirabeau) is quartered in the houses of the peasants.

Requeti himself is at Renschen, but comes every day to Ooerkirch, to visit M. Conde. His wife and daughter, who were at Ooerkirch, are now at Friebourg. Two Imperial regiments, commanded by M. de Cobourg, are arrived, and four more are expected.

The dutchess of York retains the German habit of early rising, early dinners, and early retirement. She, however, her royal highness must give up, or enjoyments of society in town cannot be hers.

A butcher and a grocer of Burwash, in Suffex went to a quarrel near that town on Thursday morning last, and a quarrel between them with pistol, when the appearance of a constable prevented any further dispute to the trial by a duel!

A laudable example.—The lodge of Druids held at Windsor have lately relieved upwards of thirty poor families at that place with coals.

A ludicrous circumstance occurred at the hunt with Lord Derby's hounds on Saturday. Two much law being given to the deer, and the hunters, to the number of two hundred, having afterwards to pass through a narrow and dirty lane, where scarcely more than two could ride abreast. The deer and dogs were obliged to be seen no more that morning by the houndsman or any of the field.

So far there might be mirth in this failure of sport, but a serious incident followed. Lord Derby's horse in passing some ruts, fell, and his lordship's collar bone was supposed to be broken in the fall. He was immediately removed to Croydon, and is there at present. The day, his lordship was to have presided at the Wing Club.

Calicut and Kendal have followed the example of some of the great towns in the north, by resolving to petition against the slave trade. At Kendal a very general subscription took place and a correspondence is on foot to invite other places to accede to the union.

The emperor has determined on the representation of the order of peasantry in Stiria, to permit them to send deputies to the assembly of the states of that country.

It is also come to a resolution, to bring the states of Brandenburg to reason; since they were not willing to comply with his majesty's lenity. The ultimatum has been sent by a courier to Brussels these five days, and if they do not immediately submit to the moderate propositions of the government, all the rigour of the law will be enforced to oblige them.

Mrs. Mathews, of South Moreton, Berks, lately received the following threatening letter:

"Mrs. Mathews.
"I rit this to let you now if you likes your husband to take great care of him for hears a man swears he will be damed if he donte shute him thru the boddy the first opportunity."—The usual rewards have been offered.

One Jeremiah Groves, a labouring man at Ballingdon, Essex, fell a victim yesterday se'nnight to the hydrophobia; he has been bit three months since, and having concluded, from going through a course of medicine, that no bad consequences would ensue was to have been married on that day, but was seized on the Friday before with every dreadful symptom of canine madness. He was bathed in a hoghead of oil, and every other method was used without effect.

In the great storm of Thursday se'nnight a vessel laden with indigo and hides, was wrecked off Lydd, in Kent, and only one of her crew, which consisted of eleven, was saved. The wreck, by the extraordinary swell of the tide, was in part born over the Full, a great bank of beach into Rumney Marsh. Only a small part of the indigo has yet been saved; but it is thought much more of it, together with the hides will be recovered, as soon as the inundation subsides.

His majesty has received a present from the emperor of Morocco, of four Barbary horses, and two hyenas, they are landed at Woolwich. The horses are placed in his majesty's stables at Piccadilly, the hyenas are sent to the tower.

The petition of the buckle makers to the prince of Wales, to request his royal highness to discard (and of course by his example to discourage) shoe-strings, brings to our recollection a petition of the peruke-makers to his present majesty, when he wore his hair, to encourage the art and mystery of peruke-making, by condescending to wear a wig.

Feb. 9. By letters from Gibraltar we learn, that the Spaniards are arming in all their ports with great vigour. The pretext is, an insult offered to the nation by the emperor of Morocco, who has hanged the representative of the king in the person of his envoy. We state it literally as communicated in a letter from a British officer.

Feb. 14. The Jamaica mail arrived yesterday, and brings dispatches to government, and the Kingston news-papers up to the 20th of December. By the latter we do not find that any commotions have yet taken place in that island, though there is still great reason to believe they are secretly fomented. Every step that prudence and precaution can devise has been taken; martial law was strictly put in force) and there was not the least apprehension for the safety of the island, in case any attempts should be made to disturb its tranquillity.

Extract of a letter from Brussels, February 8.

"The general talk is a war against France; it is certain the field equipments of our governor, prince Albert, are ready, and orders have been given to the commandant general to purchase 4000 baggage waggon horses, and to enrol 800 men to conduct the ammunition and grain; but people who pretend they know best, urge that peace between Austria and France will be preserved.—Si vis pacem parare bellum.

"A Mr. St. Clair, formerly adjutant-general to general Schenckfeld is just sent to prison, being accused of enrolling troops for the former count Bethun and his companions.

"A number of Swedish officers of distinction have arrived here within these few days."

Captain Cais of the 2d United States regiment, marched from this place, on Tuesday last, with a detachment of men for Fort Franklin—this detachment will augment that garrison to 120 men, and of which captain Cais is to take the command.

Captain Hughes with a fine company of men arrived here on Saturday last from the eastward.

We hear from Short creek, about six miles on this side Whelen, that a party of Indians had stolen six horses from that neighbourhood—they were pursued some distance but were not overtaken.

Extract of a letter from major George McCully, commandant of the six months militia, to captain Smith, of Washington, dated March 12, 1792.

"I wish you to consult with colonel Baird, the county lieutenant, and send a detachment or two of der careful sergeants, out to the most exposed parts of Washington country, to aid the spies in scouting, and covering the frontiers.—If you should not have rifles enough to arm such parties, apply to colonel Baird, perhaps he may have public arms and ammunition that you can receipt for, to be returned as soon as ours arrive. Should these men march out, please to give them special orders to observe a perfect silence when scouting; to be careful of their ammunition and insult none of the inhabitants, nor meddle with the smallest part of their property.—An habitual vigilance to guard against being surpris'd, ought to be early impressed on the minds of the men, as they have a subtle enemy to deal with, and ought never to be off their guard."

P H I L A D E L P H I A, April 2.

Extract of a letter from a French gentleman in Bourdeaux, to the Printer, dated January 5th, 1792.

"America, this day, believe me, is as happy a country as any in the globe, and much more desirous, from the tranquillity prevailing all over it. France is in a terrible situation, struggling, not for liberty, but to secure it. Her enemies are doing every thing to overiet the new constitution. The high and low nobility are all gone out of the kingdom—have embodied in an army, which stands on the frontiers of Germany, and intend forcing their way into the country, and overthrow the constitution; but we are decided to oppose them with all the perseverance possible, although it appears they are assisted by Russia, Sweden, Prussia, Sardinia, Spain, and the emperor; but it is expected when the armies of these despots are apprised that they are brought on to fight against free men, that are only defending their liberties, it is expected, that these very armies will turn their arms against these tyrants, who are pleased to expose their lives against generous free men, whose only wish is to abolish slavery, kings, and tyrants."

Extract of a letter from Havana, March 13.

"Yesterday a most extraordinary order was issued by the governor relative to all foreign vessels in port; the most of them are ordered away in six days, and the remainder in eight, so that no vessel can stay longer than that time in harbour. This your own judgment will tell you is the same as a prohibition to all strange vessels; and there is another circumstance that makes the order doubly hard, which is, that all foreigners who arrive must value themselves on a Spaniard, and all their business transacted by him and in his name. Such unexpected proceedings will certainly knock up this trade, and make the royal Cedula of no effect, as the steps now taken by government are as opposite to it, as they are to justice. It is really difficult to foresee what will be the result of them, I mean as to the vessels that are now in port; for after this news reached the continent I do not expect a single vessel will make her appearance here, at least till there is some alteration for the better that can be depended on."

Extract of a letter from London.

"There is now a talk of the East-India Company's raising sugars in their settlements to import to this kingdom. The dean of Gloucester said, many years ago, "Be it, I say, never to be forgotten (at least for the sake of self-interest, if not for better motives) that in the course of years, perhaps in a little more than half a century, not only Great-Britain and Ireland, but also all Europe, may be supplied (if they please) with sugars and all the products of the warmer climates, without slavery, without colonies, without governments and placemen, without fees and perquisites, without forts and guarda costas, without contracts, and without jobs."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman South-west of the river Ohio, to his friend in this city, dated Jonesborough, 5th March, 1792.

"I have the melancholy news to impart to you, that I have just received a letter from my father, in Cumberland, which informs me, that on the 15th of January, the Indians assassinated three of my brothers, and one brother-in-law. I understand, they had been to Kentucky, and was returning home by water, and coming up Cumberland, they sent to my father for provisions, and about the time the messenger was expected back, they discovered a canoe lying at shore, in which they imagined were white people coming to their relief. One of my brothers hailed them (being late in the evening) and they answered "friends," in English. They then rowed on until they came within about three rods of the shore, and discovered them to be Indians, were obliged to defend themselves as well as they could. The enemy fired in upon them, killed my brother-in-law and the captain the first fire. It was not long after, when they killed my brothers. But the few now left, kept up so strong a fire, that they saved the boat from being taken. There is in all probability a greater appearance of a hot war in Cumberland this summer, than ever yet has been. My cousin is at this time in the Cherokee nation, and does not know any thing of the catastrophe that has happened in our family; and I dread the consequence of his being so much in their power."

April 5. Lieutenant Turner, who was captured by the Indians in the late engagement under general St. Clair, is, we hear, arrived in town. Being closely pursued in the engagement by two Indians, and seeing death inevitable if he attempted further to fly or resist, he turned about and offered his hand. The Indians, not only spared his life, but protected it from the vindictive madness of their companions. After the en-agement they thought of conveying him to the scene where the savages were revelling over their spoils; but first, one of them took the precaution of paying a visit to the camp of the victors, and seeing them much intoxicated took him to the tents of their particular tribe. Thence he was sent to Detroit, where a private English gentleman paid his ransom, released him and took his note for the amount.

He says that about 1500 Indians were in the engagement.

Extra2 of a letter from London, February 10.

"Mr. Herschell has discovered that Saturn has two rings, separated by an interval of 996 leagues, through which he clearly perceived the sky. He has measured the outer diameter of the ring, and found it to be 30,710 leagues. He has also found, that the fifth satellite of Saturn turns on its axis in 79 days, 7 hours, 47 minutes, which is the term of its revolution; so that it always presents the same face to that planet.—Mr. de la Lande observes, that, if there be no mistake in the figures above mentioned, the diameter of the ring is greater by ten seconds than has hitherto been observed:—a very extraordinary difference.

HYDER ALLY,

NOW the property of the subscriber, is in high perfection, and stands this season at the seat of RICHARD CHEW, Esquire, to cover mares at two guineas each, payable the first day of September next, when it is expected the strictest punctuality will be observed.

HYDER ALLY is a beautiful gray, elegantly dappled, full fifteen hands three inches high, bony, lengthy, strong, and active, his strong resemblance to his sire, whose stock stands in high estimation both for the turf and saddle, will, it is presumed, entitle him to a preference, and his pedigree following will prove his blood equal to that of any horse in America.

He was got by the noted Arabian, his dam by Othello, his grand-dam (an imported mare from the duke of Hamilton's stud) by Spot, his great-grand-dam by Cartouch, his great-great-grand-dam by Old Traveller, his great-great-great-grand-dam by Sedbury, his great-great-great-great-grand-dam by Childers, out of a Barb mare.

Excellent pastures are provided for mares coming from afar at 2/6 per week, and every possible care taken of them, but accidents and escapes must be at the risk of their owners.

3 PETER EMMERSON.

Annapolis, January 1, 1792.

At a meeting of the VISITORS and GOVERNORS of St. JOHN'S COLLEGE, in the State of Maryland, on Thursday the 10th of November last,

RESOLVED,

THAT this board, at the quarterly meeting in May next, proceed to elect a VICE-PRINCIPAL of St. John's College.

That it be the duty of the principal and vice-principal to teach some of the higher authors in Latin and Greek, certain parts of the mathematics, logic, and moral and natural philosophy; and that the departments of the said principal and vice-principal shall hereafter be ascertained with precision, on consideration of their mutual convenience and qualifications.

That the vice-principal shall be entitled to receive, for his services, a salary of three hundred and fifty pounds current money, rating dollars at 7/6 each, to be paid quarterly.

That persons desirous of, and qualified for, the office of vice-principal, be, by public advertisement, requested to make application to Mr. Charles Wallace, Mr. Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, and Mr. Alexander Contee Hanson, all of the city of Annapolis.

By order of the Board,

JOHN THOMAS, President.

N. B. The fundamental laws of St. John's college prohibit all preference on account of religious tenets or opinions.

As the appointment of a vice-principal is alone wanted to complete the plan of this rising seminary, the board will certainly proceed, at the time stated, to an election, provided a person qualified, in their judgment, for this important office, can be procured. The personal attendance of the candidates, although not positively required, will be obviously proper.

It may be useful to remark, that the salaries of all the professors and teachers have hitherto been paid with entire punctuality, and that the funds of St. John's college produce a certain annual income superior to all the appropriations which have been or probably will be made.

The Printers of news-papers throughout the United States are earnestly requested to insert the above resolve and remarks, and to repeat the publication as often as convenience will permit.

A SNUFF-BOX.

His royal highness the prince of Wales, the patron of ingenuity and taste, was about two years since the purchaser of a snuff-box thus ornamented and contrived.

It was a double box opening on both sides, with rims of gold. On one side, a splendid medallion appeared in the centre, round which was a row of large pearls. When this side of the box was placed upwards upon the table, the medallion upon a very slight pressure opened, and an artificial goldfinch, executed in gold and coloured, so as to have a very near resemblance to nature, sprung up.

The bird picked its wings, hopped round the little circle allotted it, and, for about two minutes, chirped the few notes making the morning song of the goldfinch. It then passed into a delightful air of Haydn's, and gave it so well, that the notes might have been listened to for their sound, as well as for the curiosity of their production. So ended its performance and its appearance.

A thousand guineas was the reward given by the prince to the mechanist of this admirable snuff-box.

Feb. 9. According to the preliminary articles of the treaty signed at Jassy on the 19th ult. between Russia and the Porte, "the empress of Russia keeps all the territory between the Bag and the Dniester, conformable to the convention signed at Galatz, the 12th of August, 1791. She restores to the Porte Wallachia, which is to be governed in the same manner it was before the declaration of war."

"The Port cedes to Russia a certain district of country on the side of Caucasus."

"The prisoners taken in the war, of what nation soever, are to be liberated without ransom."

"The navigation of the Dniester is to be free for all nations."

"Russia renounces the demand of 12,000,000 of piasters for damage during the war; and the Russian emperors are to evacuate all the Turkish territories by the end of May."

They write from St. Maloes, that great inundations have lately happened in that neighbourhood; that the waters had in several places covered the ridge that separates the two seas, and having washed away part of the dyke that leads to the St. Severn, in a great measure overflowed the Morais, to the great surprise and terror of the inhabitants.

HALIFAX, February 14.

By the post we have received Quebec papers to the 15th of December, which contain the following paragraphs:

On Tuesday evening, a quarter before eight o'clock, a considerable shock of an earthquake, accompanied by a subterraneous noise, was felt in this city and neighbourhood, the accounts of its duration are various, but is generally reported to have been about a minute, and conjectured to have come on from the north, and to have off in a south or south-west direction.

No earthquakes have been felt at Quebec since those of the 2d and 12th of January, which were more violent than the present—however we understand that shocks are frequently felt at St. Paul's Bay, les Ebolesmes and Malbay, where the soil every where indicates the qualities common to most volcanic countries.

Extract of a letter dated Quebec, December 15, 1791.

"Since I had the pleasure of writing to you, governor Simcoe has arrived, and is to remain at Quebec during the winter. I am told it is his intention to settle somewhere in that extensive country which is bounded by Lake Erie to the south, the north by the Grand river, to the west by Lake Huron, and to the east by Niagara; and he is to build a city there, to be called London. A large corps of men are to be employed in cutting roads; and he is to have artificers from England for the execution of all public buildings."

It gives me pleasure to observe that governor Simcoe and his lady set a laudable example by constantly attending church in this place; as does also his royal highness the prince; and by his command, every officer in the garrison.—The winter set in so early that two ships are detained here, and have lost their passage."

BOSTON, March 15.

Port-au-Prince exhibits a scene of unparalleled distress—the negroes have got many strong holds in the mountains—and continue to treat the white inhabitants with the greatest severity when in their power—we have an account of one man in particular that was so unfortunate as to fall a victim to them; he was active in the execution of some of the blacks, at the commencement of the disturbances in that place; they set a mark on him, and by stratagem made him their prisoner—immediately he was lashed to a pole, and raised into the air about seventeen feet, where he continued without meat or drink for twelve hours, exposed to the scorching sun. He was then taken down, and confined in a loathsome cell, without the comforts of life, and none to yield the least succour or relief. Occasioned by his being lashed with the cords to the pole, his hands became useless, he was unable to feed himself with what these wretches allowed him, and had no other way than to lay on his face and eat his scanty pittance; this he did for some days, till at length being exhausted and finding nothing but trouble, with the increase of his days—his heart sunk beneath the burden and he fell asleep. Who can read this and not drop a tear!

NEW-YORK, April 6.

[TRULY WONDERFUL.]

From a PORTSMOUTH (N. H.) PAPER.

It is a fact, that a gentleman of this town has now in his possession a tame duck, which was hatched on the third of April last—the morning on which the eclipse took place, and resembled a luminous ring—and what is very extraordinary, which none account for, is, that every egg this duck has laid, bears the resemblance of the eclipse to perfection; it appears on the large end of the egg, and the moon looks to be about two thirds off the sun, and forms a beautiful semicircle.—The place of the moon is of a blueish cast, and that of the sun a much lighter colour.

[And what is most singular (we are informed from another quarter) this duck is such a professed star-gazer, that it's expected it will be able to calculate the next eclipse.]

PITTSBURGH, March 31.

Authentic information received from Fort Franklin says, the Senecas have killed a Delaware Indian at that garrison, whom they suspected as being a spy.

Captain Cals arrived at Fort Franklin on Sunday last, the 25th instant, with the detachment of troops under his command.

The rangers on the frontiers of Ohio county have given information to colonel Biggs and captain McMahon of their discovering an Indian trail on the north fork of Still Water, on the 21st instant, and late that evening heard a gun near McIntire's fork of Crofs creek, where they supposed the Indians had encamped.

Major McCully has dispatched captain Paul, with a full company of men to cover the frontiers of Washington county; ensign Murphy has marched with a detachment of 28 men to scout on the frontiers of Westmoreland county, and take possession of Reed's station up the Allegany, and a party from captain Smith's company to scout on Beaver creek towards the Salt Licks.—Arrangements have been made by major McCully to take some advantageous post on the frontiers, but cannot put them into effect for want of the camp equipage, which has not yet arrived from Philadelphia, and at present cannot be procured in this country.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.

Yesterday arrived in this port the barque Neptune, captain Earle, from Calcutta, which she left the 26th of November, at which time lord Cornwallis had marched from Bangalore, preparatory to the re-commencement of his operations against Seringapatam, the capital of Tippoo's dominions.—A ship that had been some time ready to sail for England, was detained to carry home his lordship's dispatches, which it was supposed would contain an account of the event of the expedition.

The fine new ship President Washington, built in the state of Rhode Island, was sold at Calcutta, in November last, for 120,000 sicca rupees, or 15,000l. sterling.

The following message was delivered to the house of representatives on Thursday last.

UNITED STATES, April 5th, 1792.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I have maturely considered the act passed by the two houses, entitled, "An act for an apportionment of representatives among the several states, according to the first enumeration," and I return it to your house, wherein it originated, with the following objections:

First—The constitution has prescribed that representatives shall be apportioned among the several states, according to their respective numbers; and there is no according to their respective numbers, applied to the one proportion or divisor which, applied to the respective numbers of the states, will yield the number and allotment of representatives proposed by the bill.

Second—The constitution has also provided, that the number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand; which restriction is, by the context, and by fair and obvious construction, to be applied to the separate and respective numbers of the states; and the bill has allotted to eight of the states more than one for thirty thousand.

G. WASHINGTON.

In consequence of the above message, it became necessary to take the sense of the house on the subject.

—Notwithstanding the negative of the president, if two thirds of each house agree to the bill, it becomes a law.—However, on putting the question yesterday in the house of representatives, the yeas and nays were, For the bill 28.

Against it 33.

The bill was accordingly lost.

The statue of doctor Franklin, lately sent for by William Bingham, Esquire, by him presented to the Library Company of Philadelphia, and intended to ornament the principal front of their new building in Fifth-street, is arrived from Italy via New-York.

The figure is erect, one arm resting on a pile of books, and the right hand holding a sceptre reversed, an emblem of Franklin's ANTI MONARCHICAL principles. The left hand holds a scroll. The figure is clad in a Roman toga, and is admirably wrought out of solid block of pure white marble. The likeness is well preserved,—the head being a copy of the famous Houdon's bust. It is the first piece of sculpture of the size ever seen in America, truly worthy the examination of the connoisseur. The marble is remarkable for its size and its purity, and was brought 100 miles to the neighbourhood of Rome, where the statue was executed by an eminent artist.—It is wished by many that the directors of the Library will give it shelter within their spacious hall, rather than expose it to the weather. Out of doors it will be liable to accident, within it may remain a perpetual monument to the memory of the illustrious founder of the institution, and a memento of the generosity of the liberal donor.

Of the MESSEAGO CHIEF.

By a person from Montreal, who left that place in February, we have the following account and description of the Messéago chief, who commanded the enemy in the fatal action of the 4th of November. He was at Montreal for the purpose of stirring up the several tribes of Indians in Canada, many of whom had readily joined him on an expedition against the spring. The Cagnawagas had taken the lead, and had sent deputies to Quebec, to Johnston, &c. who had returned before our informant left Montreal, with an account that they had agreed to join them. Two days after our informant left it was the time appointed for a convention of the Indians at Johnston, when they were to determine on the number of warriors that could be spared from each tribe. A gentleman in high office promised our informant that if he would remain one week in Montreal he would give him an account of their meeting, and of their whole proceedings—but his business prevented it. The Cagnawagas had applied to governor Johnston, superintendent of Indian affairs, for his sanction on entering into a war. He declared he had no authority over them—they must act their own pleasure. But his advice was, that they should not meddle in the business.

The Messéago chief is a person six feet high—about 45 years of age, of a very sour and morose countenance, and apparently very crafty and subtle. His dress was Indian hose and moccasins, a blue petticoat that came half way down his thighs—an European waistcoat and surtout; his head was bound with an Indian cap that hung half way down his back, and almost entirely filled with plain silver broaches to the number of more than two hundred—he had two earrings to each ear, the upper part of each was formed of three silver medals about the size of a dollar—the lower part was formed of quarters of dollars, and fell more than twelve inches from his ears—one from each ear over his breast—the other over his back—he had three very large nose jewels of silver that were curiously painted. The account he gave of the action, was, that they killed 1400 of the whites, with the loss of nine only of their party, one of whom killed himself by accident—Our informant is full in the opinion that the British have not in any instance encouraged the savages—but that the refugees are very bitter against the United States. He was frequently in company with the Messéago and other chiefs at the house of a gentleman who was a linguist to the savages, and from him derived this information.

The disagreement between the general legislative assembly of St. Domingo, and the executive commissioners, sent by the king, with pacific views, is one great cause of the long continuance of disturbances in that unfortunate island.

The friends of liberty and good order expected much from the general assembly, organized on the principles and in the manner pointed out by the French national assembly, their hopes, however, were less sanguine, when they saw that the members of the former assembly, to whom great share of the misfortune of St. Domingo are attributed, by their influence had obtained seats in the new assembly. Their hopes totally vanished, when they beheld those from whom they expected efforts to restore good order, overpowered by numbers of a different stamp, and gradually LIVERPOOL, February 25.

ATELY died at Fordinbridge, Hants, Mary Watts, a poor old woman, whose lethargic habit of body had for three years been very extraordinary, and had lately so considerably increased, that she would sleep a week, a fortnight, and sometimes a month or more at a time, which she considered but as a day. Her son, a weaver, with whom she lived, was accustomed to watch her very attentively, and his usual method of awaking her from her torpor, was by putting food into her mouth. When awake, she would partake of a small aliment, chiefly liquid, and quickly fall into the same state again. Many efforts were often in vain made to rouse her. She awoke about three hours before her death, and continued awake, apparently in good health and spirits, till the moment of her dissolution.

It is a fact, not generally known, that Tippoo's chiefstains are accompanied by birds who chaunt their glorious actions on the day of battle—in the action before Seringapatam, one of our artillery officers aimed his piece at a bird, in hopes of spoiling his tune, but the tonnetier escaped unhurt to sing of after times—the bird killed a horse near him, whose rider, after having him by his side for some time as if dead, very coolly took up the saddle, and walked off with it upon his head.

BIRMINGHAM, Monday, February 13.

Many of the inhabitants have been much alarmed for some days past for fear of another riot, for the workmen in several branches have turned-out, in order to raise their wages, and have assembled in various parts of the town.

Tuesday, Feb. 14. Information hath been just given the peace officers, that an attempt will be made this evening, by the men who have turned out to raise their wages, to destroy the brass-house.

Every precaution is taken to prevent a riot, and the doors are ordered to keep within their quarters, and to be ready at a moment's notice.

Wednesday, Feb. 15. It does not appear that any attempt was made last night to break the peace. The men are not yet returned to their work; but the terror of the military will certainly prevent them from becoming riotous, and necessity must soon compel them to return to their business.

One million three hundred thousand of three per cent. consols are now standing in the names of the lands of the regency of Hanover.

SALEM, April 3.

On Sunday last, captain Henry Rust, of the brig Columbia, arrived here from Bourdeaux, in 45 days passage from the land. While he was at that place, there was much talk of a meditated attack on France by the empire, and of Spain, it was however very doubtful whether it ever would take place. The government in the mean time was taking measures to render the nation formidable: the army was recruiting with diligence—and the minister of Marine had been called on for a state of the navy, and to inform what space of time 40 sail of the line could be made ready for sea. In this state of suspense between peace and war, their paper money had depreciated 40 per cent. specie was disappearing—and commerce languishing; many vessels were laid up, and multitudes of seamen destitute of employment. These evils however were expected to work off as the government matured, and acquired energy.

Captain Rust heard nothing of any troops being sent to the West-Indies.

The Indians only scalped the woman.

The same account says, that a house occupied two or three days before by one Samuel McCulloch, opposite the mouth of Poffom creek, thirty miles below this place, was burnt by the Indians. We have reason to believe, from discoveries made by our spies, that this will not be the only mischief our frontier inhabitants will feel."

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.

Letters from England mention, that besides the Sierra Leona Company, another is forming for effecting a settlement in a district of country called Bullam, on the river Gambia, in Africa. All free negroes that choose it are to be sent thither at the expense of the company, with the means of procuring a livelihood. If these attempts, and others which are projecting should succeed, the gradual civilization of Africa may be hoped for, which will eventually put an end to the slave trade.

The following message, and the papers accompanying it, were read in the house of representatives on Friday last.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I have thought it proper to lay before you a communication of the 11th instant, from the minister plenipotentiary of Great-Britain, to the secretary of state, relative to the commerce of the two countries, together with their explanatory correspondence, and the secretary of state's letter to me on the subj. &c.

G. WASHINGTON.

April 13, 1792.

Philadelphia, 13th April, 1792.

SIR,

I have the honour to lay before you a communication from Mr. Hammond, minister plenipotentiary of his Britannic majesty, covering a clause of a statute of that country, relative to its commerce with this, and notifying a determination to carry it into execution henceforward. Conceiving that the determination announced could not be really meant as extensively as the words import, I asked and received an explanation from the minister, as expressed in the letter and answer herein enclosed: and on consideration of all circumstances, I cannot but concur in the opinion expressed by him, that his sole object is to exclude foreign vessels from the islands of Jersey and Guernsey. The want of proportion between the motives expressed and the measure, its magnitude and consequences, total silence as to the proclamation on which the intercourse between the two countries has hitherto hung, and of tween the two countries it would be a revocation, which in this broad sense it would be a revocation, and the recent manifestations of the disposition of that government to concur with this in mutual offices of friendship and good will, support his construction. The minister moreover assured me verbally that he would immediately write to his court for an explanation, and in the mean time is of opinion that the usual intercourse of commerce between the two countries (Jersey and Guernsey excepted) need not be suspended.

I have the honour to be, with sentiments of the most profound respect and attachment, Sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

The President of the United States.

Philadelphia, 11th April, 1792.

SIR,

I have received by a circular dispatch from my court, directions to inform this government, that considerable inconveniences having arisen from the importation of tobacco in foreign vessels into the ports of his majesty's dominions, contrary to the act of the 12th Charles 2d. chap. 18, sect. 3, (commonly called the navigation act) it has been determined in future to strictly enforce this clause, of which I take the liberty of enclosing to you a copy; and I have the honour to be, with perfect esteem and respect,

Sir, Your most obedient humble servant,

(Signed)

GEO. HAMMOND.

12 Car. 2. Chap. 18. Sect. 3.

AND it is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That no goods or commodities whatsoever, of the growth, production, or manufacture of Africa, Asia or America, or of any part thereof which are described or laid down in the usual maps or charts of those places, be imported into England, Ireland, or Wales, islands of Guernsey and Jersey, or town of Berwick upon Tweed, in any other ship or ships, vessel or vessels, whatsoever, but in such as do truly and without fraud, belong only to the people of England or Ireland, dominion of Wales, or town of Berwick upon Tweed, or of the lands, islands, plantations or territories in Asia, Africa or America, to his majesty belonging, as the proprietors and right owners thereof, and whereof the matter and three-fourths at least of the mariners are English, under the penalty of the forfeiture of all such goods and commodities, and of the ship or vessel in which they were imported, with all her guns, tackle, furniture, ammunition and apparel, one moiety to his majesty, his heirs and successors, and the other moiety to him or them who shall seize, inform, or sue for the same, in any court of record, by bill, information, plaint, or other action, wherein no effoine, protection, or wager of law shall be allowed.

Philadelphia, April 12th, 1792.

SIR,

I am this moment favoured with the letter you did me the honour of writing yesterday, covering the extract of a British statute forbidding the admission of foreign vessels into any ports of the British dominions with goods or commodities of the growth, production, or manufacture of America. The effect of this appears to me so extensive, as to induce a doubt whether I understand rightly the determination to enforce it, which you notify, and to oblige me to ask of you whether we are to consider it as so far a revocation of the proclamation of your government, regulating the commerce between the two countries, and that henceforth no article of the growth, production or manufacture of the United States are to be received in the ports of Great-Britain or Ireland, in vessels belonging to the citizens of the United States?

I have the honour to be, with sentiments of the most perfect esteem and respect, Sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

(Signed)

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

The Minister Plenipotentiary of Great-Britain.

Philadelphia, April 12, 1792.

SIR,

In answer to your letter of this day, I have the honour of observing, that I have no other instructions upon the subject of my communication, than such as are contained in the circular dispatch, of which I stated the purport in my letter dated yesterday. I have however, no difficulty in assuring you that the result of my personal conviction is, that the determination of his majesty's government to enforce the clause of the act of navigation (a copy of which I transmitted to you) with respect to the importation of commodities in foreign vessels, has originated in consequence of the many frauds that have taken place in the importation of tobacco into his majesty's dominions, in foreign vessels, and is not intended to militate against the proclamation, or order of the king in council, regulating the commercial intercourse between Great-Britain and the United States, which I have every reason to believe still exists in full force, as I have not had the most distant intimation of its being revoked.

I have the honour to be, with the most perfect esteem and consideration, Sir, your most obedient humble servant,

(Signed)

GEORGE HAMMOND.

Extra of a letter from Pittsburg, to a gentleman in this city, dated the 7th of April.

"The enclosed paper, contains all the late news in this quarter, except a recent affair near Wheeling; on Sunday last the Indians took a woman and two boys prisoners, but being closely pursued they killed and scalped them (as they supposed) but one of the boys has so far recovered as to come into the settlement since. And is thought may be restored, though his throat is badly cut with a knife."
