

State-To-Date

State Teachers College, Frostburg, Maryland, November 7, 1951

Vol. 4; No. 4

Parents To See Student Activities

Left to right: Patsy Bohn, Bruce Ambrose, Mary Kay Logsdon, Beverly Merriman, Leo Stakem and James Hicks.

Singers, Players Share Program for Parents

The Little Theatre group and the Maryland Singers are sharing the Parents' Night spotlight on Friday, November 9.

"Utter Relaxation," a one-act play by Bert Griscom, is being directed by Miss Edith E. Humphrey assisted by the freshman director, Helen Benson. The plot of the play revolves around the adventures of Bruce Ambrose, as William Edmundson, who is advised by his wife, Mary Kay Logsdon, to remain in his bed all day—as a result, "Utter Relaxation."

Others in the cast are Patsy Bohn as Ella the maid; Beverly Merriman as Emma Froswick; Leo Stakem as Arthur Clement, Wilbur's employer; and James Hicks as Joe McGrath, the telephone repairman.

The Maryland Singers, directed by Dr. Maurice Matteson, will present a varied program. Featured soloists on the program will be James Hager, tenor; June Gilford, soprano; and William Neff, tenor. Savino's "The Land I Love" and Romberg's "Your Land and My Land" are to be played by Robert Ambrose, trumpet soloist.

Among the selections to be given by the singers are the "Gloria Patri" by Palestrina; "Vale of Tuoni" by

Continued on Page Six

Students See Barter Group

The echoes of the ovation still resounding from the rafters in the auditorium are evidence enough of the superb performance of the "Merchant of Venice" written by William Shakespeare and given by the Barter Theatre of Virginia on October 31.

The play, staged by Margaret Perry, starred such actors as Woodrow Romoff as Shylock; Patricia O'Connell as Portia; Clayton Corzatte as Bassanio; and John Holland as Gratiano.

Others in the two act play were Hugh Mosher, Done Knell, Clayton Corzatte, Dinah Farr, David Massey, Bernadette Nance, Francis Weaver, Frank Lowe, Eric Halbig, Lauren Farr, Reneta Strauss, Michael Lewis, George Spelvin and Francis Weaver.

Robert Porterfield, founder and producer of the Barter Theatre, who has had successful careers in New York, Hollywood, and in Virginia, sends this group on a national tour.

The home of the Barter is Abingdon, Virginia, where next summer it presents a Barter Theatre's Summer Stock Season, Barter Theatre Drama Festival, and a Virginia Highlands Festival of Arts, Crafts, and Antiques.

State Elects Petry, Hamilton To Posts

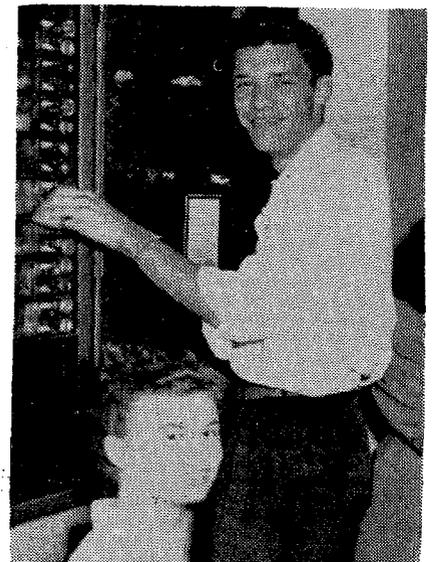

At the recent convention of the Maryland State Teachers Association in Baltimore, two members of the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College were elected to offices. Named to the posts were Miss Margaret E. Hamilton and Miss Arline G. Petry.

Miss Hamilton, instructor of mathematics, was elected chairman of the mathematics section of M. S. T. A., which is affiliated with the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Miss Hamilton had previously served two years as secretary of the organization and two years as vice chairman.

Miss Petry, director of teacher education at Frostburg State, has served in recent years as one of the four state consultants for F. T. A., and will continue to assist the Future Teachers of America in his capacity. She was also recently appointed to the curriculum committee of the Maryland Junior College Association, which held its meeting concurrently with the state teachers convention.

Other members and administrators of Frostburg State Teachers College,

Continued on Page Four

Thomas Downes and Patsy Bohn

Around The Campus

By Lbs.

Well, here I am again. (You lucky people.)

For the past two weeks I've heard many people trying to guess who writes this wonderful column. But Dr. Gottwald McGinty has told me that no one has even come close. I must confess that some of my spies have been found guilty of helping me, so I had to release them. Well, now let's move on to some news.

It seems that the "Eligible Men List" is getting smaller due to the lovable nurses. Here are some of the names you can cross off the list: Lee Smith (Shirley Wolfe, that lucky gal, has taken him), Glen Lewis (Sally Pfeiffer, snagged him), Don Hunt (by Zona Arnold), and Jack Bryan (was roped in by Darlene Wright).

Poem of the Week

I once took a big English test,

I tried very hard, like the rest,

The one satisfaction

I got from this action

Was I flunked the English test
the best.

We're sorry but we can't seem to meet the demand for our autographed photographs yet, but we will try in the near future. (Just wait a while, Ringling Brothers will be sending their advertisements again.)

George Herring has a novel place for tacking his license plates. He fixes them underneath the motor so that the pedestrians will have something to read until the ambulance arrives. FLASH!! To all pedestrians — Joe Spearman has gotten driver's license, so please stay off the sidewalks.

John Ambrose saw a very funny incident while walking down Main Street. We don't believe it ourselves but he says he saw a baldheaded sailor with a Wave (ha ha ha—get it—sailor—Wave—ha ha) He also has another joke about a rope, but we'll skip it.

My spy in the Queen City, Dr. Zechariaha Zlobotny has told me some interesting news. Zechariaha found that Jim Hicks is trying to pull a fast one over on Lbs. For Jim has been seen going to a little gal's house and we think her name is Phyllis McKenzie.

Ralph Thuss is also getting his love in Cumberland. For Ralph has been seen with his "Valentine" in a little confectionery. Oh, yes, her name is Dolores.

The Top Ten Tunes

1. "I Wana Be Loved"—Tom Faherty
2. "My Blue Heaven"—The Century Club
3. "The Touch of Your Lips"—Hmm!
I like that.
4. "Too Many Kisses"—Will never hurt anybody.
5. "Night and Day"—Norma thinks of Tom.
6. "My Heart Cries For You"—Carol Conrad's heart cries for Bob McAlpine.
7. "I Am Loved"—Tom Downs is still trying to convince us that he has a fan club.
8. "Ain't Nobody's Business But My Own"—That's what Willie Ann says about her watching of Bill K.
9. "I Didn't Know What Time It Was"—Soccer players telling coach.
- 10 "Dream Awhile"—Of passing music.

And now that this awful thing is over with, we must escape through the back window as we are being mobbed by a fanatical group of Frosh. and Soph who want their names in the paper, and juniors and seniors who want theirs barred. See you in two weeks. (If I'm not six feet under.)

Lead Balloons

Girl and date are sitting in living room while her father reads newspaper; date whispers to her: "It's chilly tonight. Shall we go out on the porch where we can keep warm?"

Perfume Salesgirl: "If he's the sort who can resist this, honey, you wouldn't want him anyway."

A golfer, who had made a spectacularly bad shot and torn up a large piece of turf, took the sod in his hand and, looking wildly about, asked: "What shall I do with this?"

"If I were you," said the caddy. "I'd take it home to practice on."

Seniors Attend Campus Day

272 Come From Many High Schools in State

October 26 brought many prospective students to the campus of State Teachers College. Approximately 272 students representing Carroll, Allegany, Washington, and Garrett counties attended Campus Day.

Following registration, the students were conducted on tours of the dormitory, college, and campus. The students visited classes and observed class activities.

Lunch was served to the guests after which they assembled in the auditorium for an assembly. Hayes Chambers, president of Student Congress, greeted the visitors and then presented Miss Compton who also gave a welcoming address. The men's athletic director, Mr. Babcock, told the students about various loans that are made by the college.

"Utter Relaxation," a one act play having an all freshman cast, was then presented to our visitors.

As the afternoon's activities drew to a close our visitors departed, filled with many pleasant memories of the State Teachers College Campus Day.

Library Displays Italian Objects

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Briggs have lent to the college for display in the library showcase articles from Florence, Rome, and Venice which were collected during several trips abroad. The objects represent almost every type of Italian art and craft.

From Venice, there is a beautiful, brightly colored, beaded evening bag; an iridescent glass dish; and a hand-made real lace handkerchief. A pastel colored picture of Mother Mary, a matching Mosaic necklace and bracelet, and a copy of an antique head are the exhibitions from Rome.

Florence presents many works of art. Four elaborately carved pieces of silver, a tiny oval engraved metal box, a beautifully carved cameo, several pieces of engraved leatherwork, and an unusual piece of white pottery are included.

During a recent visit to New York, Mrs. Briggs purchased a small model of the actual donkey cart given to General Marshall by the grateful Italian people. This example of Sicilian art completes the display.

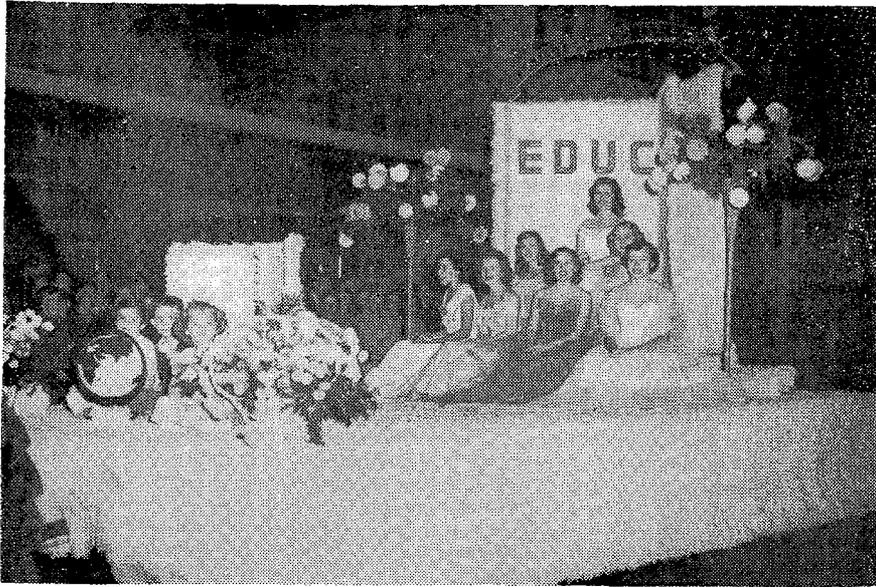

I. R. C. Holds Dinner Meeting

The International Relations Club met Thursday, October 25, at Happy Hills Farm for a dinner meeting. Dr. Alice Schuster, history professor at the college, was guest speaker. Dr. Schuster told the club about a tour she took of the United Nations Assembly.

The next regular meeting of the I. R. C. will be held Thursday, November 8, 1951. Everyone is invited to attend the meetings.

The topic for discussion will be "Atomic Power and Atomic Warfare." After the members of the panel present their views, the topic will be open for discussion.

State Float Wins Parade First Prize

Children, left to right: Cornelia Loar, Byron Schulten and Rebecca Bowser. Row 1: Carol Conrad, Diane Wilson, Dorothy Brown and Juanita Blank. Row 2: Margaret Robinson and Ann Povish. Ruth Farrell, queen.

Seniors Elect Ruth Farrell Float Queen

Frostburg State Teachers College floral float took first place honors and a prize of $50 in the annual Halloween Mummies' parade held in Frostburg, October 26.

Miss Ruth Farrell, queen of the occasion, was accompanied on the float by a very bevy of beauties. Miss Farrell, Miss Ann Povish, and Miss Margaret Robinson represented the senior class. Miss Dorothy Brown and Miss Juanita Blank represented the juniors; Diane Wilson and Carol Conrad represented the sophomores and the freshmen respectively.

The theme of the float was education. Children from the second grade, Sandra Green, Kenneth Comer and Christine Kreiling, rode near the front of the float beside a miniature globe, when it was in Cumberland; in Frostburg Rebecca Bowser, Cornelia Loar; and Byron Schulten were on it. The float was decorated with green, white, and yellow crepe paper.

Miss Farrell, the queen, is a cheerleader and is now practice teaching in the elementary laboratory school.

The float was preceded by Robert Gray and Ronald Ruffo carrying a large banner reading, "Frostburg State Teachers College." Immediately behind the banner came John Lynch, George Herring, and Harold Scott, all members of the Armed Forces Reserves, and Leroy Duffy, a veteran. Two of these men carried the flag of Maryland and that of the United

State Celebrates Jane Austen Festival

On Tuesday evening, November 6, the second day of the Jane Austen Festival, a series of madrigals were presented under the directorship of Dr. Matteson. These madrigals, short love lyrics, were in vogue during the sixteenth century. Students participating included: Darlene Brain, Joan Poole, Charlotte Barringer, Dorothy Brown, Harry Diehl, William Neff, Vaughn Dullabaum, Frederic Eichorn.

The program was composed of "Summer is A Coming In," "Minstrel's Song," "It Was a Lover and His Lass," "Come Let Us to the Bagpipe Sound," "Comely Swan," "Young Maidens," "Cuckoo," and "Strike It Up, Tabor."

Under the direction of Miss Lillian M. Wellner, physical education instructor at the college, several juniors presented typical English Country Folk-Dances on the second day program of the Jane Austen Festival.

One group, composed of Rebecca Lohr, Nellie Fulk, Ruth Rahn, Doris Harvey, Carolyn Browning, Emily Popp, Lois Mackay, Anna Nelson, Lois Wentling, Mildred Reagan, Mary Elizabeth Kammauf, and Ann Wilson, gave "Gathering Peascods," "Black Nag," and "Ruffy Tufty."

"The English Sword Dance" and "The Stick Dance" were given by Dolores Gillard, Jo Ann Fisher, Norma Hicks, Juanita Blank, Betty Jane Clingerman, and Anna Madden.

State Personalities Write

An article entitled "The Blue Hen's Chickens," by Herbert Halbert, in the American Speech magazine for October, 1951, quotes Dr. Dorothy Howard, head of our English Department.

A reprint of an abstract of a Doctor's Dissertation has arrived in the library. Dr. Alice K. Schuster, a member of our history department chose "Nicholas P. Trist; Peace Mission to

Continued on Page Six

Continued on Page Five

Miss Lillian C. Compton

Class News

Freshman News

After being in college for two months, the freshmen are rapidly finding their place in all phases of this new life.

Ronald Chapman, president of the freshman class, recently called a meeting for the purpose of planning activities for the ensuing year. First on the agenda is a banquet which is to be held in December.

Sophomore News

Best of luck to the newly formed sophomore soccer and football teams! We heard that there's a lot of good athletic material in our class, so why not prove it? Let's go, fellows!

We're also proud of another member of our class—Betty Ann Hanna. Betty Ann is the newly elected president of the Student Christian Association. The president, Alice Meconi, Mary Virginia Wiebrecht, Susan Richmond, and Neva Geary, members of the S. C. A. cabinet, attended a Christian camp last weekend.

The girls in our class are having quite a team in volley ball. So far they've had a winning streak. Next year let's have a larger turnout.

As for the gossip of our class: Nevy Geary and Al Snelson are sure hitting the steady path; Mac has a date with Harvey; Neil Grayson is giving Mary Manley quite a rush. Could the gleam in Dotty's eye have anything to do with Bill being home over the weekend? Lastly, we heard that Nancy Murphy and Joe Tom Butler had a wonderful time together at the I. R. C. banquet. This could turn into a beautiful friendship.

Well, we have to get back to our psychology, so be good and until next issue—I remain your second year reporter.

Freshman Secrets

Ann Riggleman—cute kid . . . good voice . . . interested in Queen Anne, Md. . . Dorm student . . . dates Al . . . from Allegany . . . nutty . . . personality plus.

Bruce Ambrose—short . . . John's brother . . . crazy . . . sings well . . . likes to dance . . . from Fort Hill.

State Elects Petry . . .

Continued from Page One

who attended the convention, were Miss Lillian C. Compton, president; Ivan C. Diehl, dean of instruction; William C. VanNewkirk; Dr. Alice K. Schuster; Dr. Harold Reese, Walter J. Rissler; Miss Betty Roemmelmeyer; Miss Rosann Langhans; and Miss Edith Humphrey.

'To Act — You Must Act'

Woodrow Romoff, whose exceedingly fine performance of Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice" convinced his audience that Shakespeare still lives, told his interviewer, "Acting can not be taught. If you have actor aspirations you must act. Any one, if he wants to act, can act."

Mr. Romoff, a New Yorker, born, bred, and educated, has been with the Barter Theatre for five years. He studied for two years at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York under Martha Graham and Sandord Meisner. Since that time he has appeared in many network television shows, including the C. B. S. prize-winning "Studio One."

When interviewed, Mr. Romoff said that his depiction of Shylock is that of a very unhappy old man who wants justice and revenge—not that of a Jew being discriminated against.

"I have never seen a performance of "The Merchant of Venice," he said, "and therefore have not had the opportunity of following in the footsteps of previous actor's interpretations. However, I have been told that my portrayal follows in the tradition."

When asked whether he thought that state theatres similar to that of the Barter Theatre in Virginia would spread to other states, he replied, "To have, eventually, a professional acting group like the Barter Theatre in each of the forty-eight states is one of the aspirations of Robert Porterfield, the founder and producer of America's oldest and largest professional theatrical company."

"Since there are almost no opportunities for new and untried actors or actresses in New York, due to the concentration of the profession there," he continued, "I believe that these large numbers of theatrical people who have the ability, but cannot find jobs in New York, should be given a chance elsewhere in the United States. If there were professional theatrical groups such as the Barter Theatre in many of our large cities—Cleveland, Chicago, Atlanta, Cincinnati, for example—or in every state, actors and actresses could find employment and every community would benefit."

Mr. Romoff was interested in the fact that F. S. T. C. has a Little Theatre. He feels that a Little Theatre is of great value to any college, for all teachers should have most of the attributes of a good actor or actress.

He commended our progressiveness in bringing a professional troupe to our own campus so that the students could have the opportunity of learning many "tricks of the trade." He maintained also that the professionals can often get new ideas from watching amateurs perform. "Everyone learns—give and take."

Some Of Us

Seated left to right, Mrs. Lucile N. Clay, advisor; Mary E. Straw, editor; and Dorothy Shertzler, circulation manager. Standing, left to right, Sam Li-Santi, sports columnist; Helen Benson, girls sports reporter; Mary Elizabeth Kammauf, social reporter; Shirley Greene, news reporter; Clover Jean Clopper, news reporter; Beverly Merriman, news reporter; Mary Sowers, typist, and Thomas Furlow, sports editor.

State-To-Date Staff Survives Deadlines

Drop in any Monday evening, room 103, first floor, Old Main, and you can see the staff of State-to-Date striving to meet deadlines, make headlines, type articles, or place articles on the dummy.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Lucile N. Clay, the paper goes to press every other week. Mrs. Clay, who was doing graduate work at the University of Kentucky last year, returned to teach English as well as to act as advisor to State-to-Date.

The chair of editorship vacated by Dawn Pabor was taken over by Mary Straw, last year's co-editor. Emily Popp, last year's business manager, is now make-up editor.

Mary is assisted by Betty Jane Clingerman, feature editor; Dorothy Schertzler, circulation manager; Thomas Furlow, sports editor; Patricia Hollaran, business manager; Joseph Evans, photographer; and Sam Li-Santi, sports columnist.

Any newspaper would be inadequate without news reporters. This year we have many new freshmen who promise to render valuable service to State-to-Date.

The news reporters are: Beverly Merriman, Clover Jean Clopper, Gladys Wensel, Helen Benson, Shirley Greene, Leo Stakem, Mary Elizabeth Kammauf, Jean McCoy, George Herring, Phyllis Riggleman, Patricia Creek, Jack Lechliter and Beverly Bennett.

The typists without whom we could not manage, are: Gwen Turnbull, Patricia Hollaran, Mary Sowers, Mildred Reagan, and Phyllis Riggleman.

Former Students In Service

These are your former classmates. They are now serving your country. They would appreciate it very much if you would write them a letter. Our list is incomplete—please give the editor additional names.

Harry R. Thomas ETSN 9905430
Naval Communication Facility
Navy No. 214, Box 40
% Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y.

Lt. Billy C. Menges
M. Battery, 4th Battalion, 10th Marine
Camp Lejeune, North Carolina

Pfc. James M. German 1069150
Weapons Company, 1st Bn., 5th Marine
First Marine Division, FMF
% FPO, San Francisco, California

Pfc. Donald Burkett AF13373516
604 A. C. & W. Sqd.
A. P. O. 207, % Postmaster
New York, New York

Cpl. John F. Nickel US52025582
Company A 116 ECB
APO 301, % Postmaster
San Francisco, California

Pfc. Arthur S. Freno AF13411622
3595th Training Group (cc)
Nellis Air Force Base
Las Vegas, Nevada

Pvt. Arthur F. Larkin US52094120
Co. E, 53rd Airborne Infantry Regt.
101st Airborne Division
Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky

Pfc. Drummond Orr
502 North Walnut Street
Elizabethtown, Kentucky
John A. Harden AF13373525
Det. B1090 Ph. U. S. A. F. 5 S. R. G.
Box 5500, Sandia Base
Albuquerque, New Mexico

H-A John L. Pierce
Hospital Appr. Hqc.
U. S. Naval Hospital
Portsmouth, Virginia
Jack B. Martin ADAA4265450
OR Dept. Division No. 1 NAS
Norfolk, Virginia

Pfc. Meshach I. Browning AF13411447
330 Student Sqd., Box 41
Scott Air Force Base, Illinois
Donald L. DeVore RDSN
USS Cogswell, DD651
Naval Base, Charleston, S. C.

State Float Wins . . .

Continued from Page Three
States; the others acted as color guards.

President Compton came next, riding in an open Cadillac, and she was followed by a car with several nurses who are seniors at Memorial Hospital. These were Jane Frazier, Mary Kincaid, Betty Likens, Ethel Dawson, and Sare Berkey.

Two of the students from State, Thomas Furlow and Bruce Ambrose, were dressed as Chinese dancers.

Betty Hanna Heads S. C. A.

Student Christian Association held its first meeting of the year last Monday. The program for the year was submitted and accepted by the group. The group's activities for the year include the presentation of the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies. In January they plan to start Bible study under the direction of Mrs. Ainslie, Dr. Ramsey, and several visiting ministers.

Reports were given to the group by Susan Richmond, Betty Ann Hanna, Neva Geary, Alice Miconi, Lois Mackey, and Mary Virginia Weibrecht about the conference which they attended at Camp Michaux in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, on October 18.

The association extends an invitation to all members of student body to join this group.

State Defeats Indiana Team

State's Bobcats won their second victory on Saturday, October 27, when they defeated Indiana, 6-2.

Indiana scored first on a goal by Howard. State came back with two goals by Sam Layman and Ray Ralston. Then, at the beginning of the second quarter, Ray Ralston converted a penalty kick into another tally. Next Howard, of Indiana, scored a penalty kick and the score stood 3-2 at the half. Within 20 seconds after State received the kick-off in the third quarter, Sam Layman scored a goal for State.

Harold Scott scored the next goal on a high bouncing ball over the Indiana goalie's head. The last scored was a penalty converted by Bill Pugh. Indiana threatened several times in the third period, but otherwise the game went in State's favor.

Coach Babcock has stated that the Indiana game was the best team game in several years. He also said that if the team continued playing such ball, they will certainly win the last two games of the season.

The lineups are:

State	Pos.	Indiana
Leonard	G	Niker
Pugh	RF	Edward
Smith	LF	Cory
Byrnes	RH	Behers
Layman, W.	CH	Calley
Thomas	LH	Cover
Scott	RW	Kinkead
Layman, S.	IR	Baughman
Ralston	CF	Howard
Lewis, Dave	IL	Cina
Lewis, Don	LW	Gaspar

Substitutes: Indiana, Hunter, Thomas, Rosenburg, Perhosky, Knarr, Creps, Buchanan, Cugini, Peach, Fargo and Miller. For Frostburg: Jones, Stanton, Dullabaum, Chapman, Shuck and Dyer.

Miss Humphrey Commended

Miss Edith Humphrey, whom we understand is the person to be given the credit for bringing the Barter group to our school, certainly deserves a vote of thanks from the student body.

A program which is gradually beginning to provide for the finer arts is developing at State. Lecturers, musicians, and players are being imported to our school and are benefitting the students and community as well.

Maybe we can have more Barter Theatre performances in the near future.

Bobcats Tie Grove City 2-2

On Friday, October 19, State's Bobcats tied Grove City, Pa., 2-2 in one of the most unusual games that State has played. Within the space of the first two minutes of the game, goals were scored by Bob Thomas and Ray Ralston. Grove City scored their first goal in the last part of the first period. The tying goal was scored by Grove City in the last second of play, according to McFald, the official for the game.

The lineup:

Grove City	Pos.	Frostburg
Irwin	G	Dyer
Grose	RF	Pugh
Willman	LF	Stanton
Barron	RH	Byrnes
Slemmers	CH	Layman, W.
Frank	LH	Thomas
Abernathy	RW	Scott
Fountain	IR	Kirk
Emerson	CF	Ralston
Yezerinac	IL	Lewis, Dave

Substitute s—Grove City: Barres, Klenk, Ulrich, Corbin, Ladener, Ferguson. State: Jones, Shuck, Layman, S., Dullabaum.

Sophs Leading Girls

Volley ball is now the game of the season. The games between the classes are now being played. The Sophomores are in the lead, having played four games and having lost none.

The Freshmen have won only one game; this was the game with the nurses. Maybe next year they will 'get on the ball' and win some more. Here's hoping, kids!

The Junior "A" team has played four games and won three. The game lost was played with the Sophomores. The Junior "B" girls have played four games and lost two; their losses were with the Sophomores and the Junior "A" teams.

The Seniors, after scraping up a team of practice teachers and students, have done very well. They have won two out of three; their loss also was with, guess who?—the Sophomores.

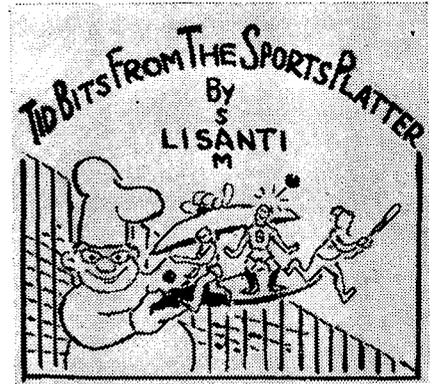

Everyone has enjoyed watching the games as well as the teams have enjoyed playing them. We will all be impatiently waiting for the outcome of the tournament.

State Personalities . . .

Continued from Page Three

Mexico, April 17, 1847, to February 2, 1848" as her topic.

An article, "Selecting Plays for Production," by Mrs. Ruth Stokesberry appears in the November, 1951, issue of the English Journal.

The staff of State-to-Date is really sorry to hear about Roy Pepper's hospitalization. Roy was one of our greatest athletes and a friend of all the kids in college and we join his host of friends in wishing him a very speedy recovery.

Did you see the Freshmen wallop the Sophs in the Boys' Soccer Loop? If you didn't, you sure missed a swell game. "Flash" Faherty really suffered a couple war scars, but all to no avail, as his team was eliminated. Tough luck, Sophs—you still have a couple years left to get revenge.

Sport Shorts

Rock Layman is in a dilemma. He says that when the soccer team is in Pennsylvania, we are "Yankees." Can you help him out, Mr. Taylor? . . . Wasn't that Fort Hill and Hagerstown game a WOW! Poor old Mel Henry just can't get a winner . . . How would you like to see a cross-country track team represent the college? With all our natural surroundings, we should be able to turn out quite a few stars, don't you think?

Today's bouquet goes to Harold "Hot" Scott, State's all around athlete. His two field goals up to date have now placed him among the leading scorers of the team.

Till next time, S. L.

Parents To See . . .

Continued from Page One

Sibelius; "Song of Life" by Liszt. "The Desert Song" by Romberg.

"Melody in F" by Rubenstein will be played by Mary Lee Pence, clarinetist, accompanied by Mary Sowers.

A Mexican folk song and an old English air, "Chiapanecas" and "When Love is Kind," respectively, are to be sung by the whole chorus with June Gilford doing the soloist work.

Mary Alma Winters, Pianist, will play "Eccossaise" by Beethoven.

James Hager, while singing "You Are Love," will be accompanied by Dorothea Lee Raines on the piano.

The program will end with the Maryland Singers and audience combined singing the college song. Carol Conrad will be the accompanist.