F.S.C. Remains Fully Accredited By Middle States Association

Frostburg State College continues to remain fully accredited by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the Middle States Association. The visiting team of the Middle States Association visited the Frostburg campus during the week of December 11th, and after a thorough investigation, recommended that "progress shown to date merits reaffirmation of Middle States accreditation for Frostburg State College."

Albert E. Meder, Chairman of the Commission, stated in a letter to President John H. Morey that, "It is indeed a pleasure to tell you that, following its review of the report prepared by the Evaluation Committee, the Commission has voted to commend the college on its substantial progress and to continue its accreditation for the time being." The letter further stated that the "Commission would like to have you report to it on or about March 1, 1968 on the further progress that has been made with respect to the library, the graduate program and the items specifically listed on pages 30-31 of the Report."

The above mentioned report cited the need for an increase in the faculty salary scales, inclusion of funds each year for distinguished visiting professors, and a "severe elimination" of graduate level courses unless additional support and resultant evidence of quality are forthcoming, as a few of the areas in which major action should be taken.

The visiting team cited a list of ten major strengths of the college which were observed by the team during its visit. "The growing feeling of trust and confidence in a relatively new administration," the potential strengths of some of the younger members of the faculty, the individual initiative of certain departments such as the Chemistry and Biology, and "the fact that the student newspaper really enjoys freedom of the press and is not censored by the administration," were a few of the strengths listed by the team.

Thus the college's accreditation continues uninterrupted and in full force and the college will submit a progress report to the Middle States Association during the spring of 1968. Anyone wishing to see a copy of the visiting team's evaluation report of Frostburg State College should check with the Library.

Music Dept. to Present Lecture-Concert Today

Today, February 9, the Frostburg State College Department of Music will present a lecture and a concert of piano music by two visiting faculty members of New York State University at New Paltz, New York. This concert is a part of a mutual faculty exchange agreement between the New York State University College and Frostburg State College.

Mr. Robert Mumper, pianist, is Assistant Professor of Music at State University College at New Paltz. The twenty-eight year old musician has appeared frequently as soloist with orchestras, on radio and television, and in solo recitals. His teachers have included Sidney Foster at Indiana University, Irwin Freundlich at the Juilliard School of Music, and George Haddad at Ohio State University. Mr. Mumper's program will include works of Chopin and "Montage - Demontage" by Dr. Pone.

Dr. Gundaris Pone was educated in Europe and the United States, receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1962. He is the author of two published compositional theories and has been the winner of three faculty awards in composition and theory from the Research Foundation of New York State University. Dr. Pone made his New York debut as composer-conductor in 1965 at Carnegie Recital Hall. He is Associate Professor of Music at New Paltz.

The lecture, during which Dr. Pone will explain the compositional techniques used in his work, will be held in Compton Auditorium at 3:10 p.m. and the concert will be at 8:15 p.m., also in Compton Auditorium. Both events are open to the public.

Dean and Prof. Hitchens Speak Tonight in Pullen

A symposium on "Democracy as a Way of Life and a Faith for Living," will be held at Frostburg State College today, February 9, at 7:30 p.m., in the Pullen Auditorium. This program is another in the series of Community Forums on Philosophy in Life which have been organized for the community by Frostburg State College.

Participating in the symposium will be: Dean Nelson P. Guild, who will speak on "Political Democracy in America"; Dr. Grossman, whose topic will be "Democracy as a Faith"; and Professor David L. Hitchens, who will speak on "The American Dream in American History." Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Van Newkirk, president of the Frostburg

Chapter of the League of Women Voters, will chair the meeting. The public is invited to attend and audience participation is encouraged.

On March 1 the Community Forum will present a program in honor of Samuel Agnon, the Nobel Prize winner for literature in 1966. On March 16 Dr. Grossman will address the Community Forum and on April 6 the college will be privileged to present Dr. Albert Mollegen of the Virginia Theological Seminary. Details of these meetings will be announced later.

Dr. Reiffel, Director of Apollo Program States Tragedy Will Not Be The Last One

Dr. Leonard Reiffel, Deputy Director for Sciences of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Apollo Program Office, visited Frostburg State College February 1st. Dr. Reiffel stated that there will "no doubt be some delay" to the Apollo program after the tragedy that occurred to three of our nation's Apollo astronauts on January 27th. He further stated that "things like this tragedy will always happen and it will surely not be the last."

Dr. Reiffel stated that, despite this great tragedy, he felt it would still be possible to reach the moon by 1970. He stated that at present the Apollo project employs 250,000 men and is expected to employ close to 400,000 men at its height. The Apollo project, according to Reiffel, is by far "the most extensive undertaking of mankind."

A basic aim of the project is to develop a transportation system in space, and it is through the development of such a system that we have made many great improvements and discoveries in areas such as weather research, communications, electronics, and radio astronomy, stated Dr. Reiffel.

Dr. Reiffel further stated that our nation was forced to develop micro-miniature modules because our nation did not at first have rockets capable of delivering large and heavy payloads. We therefore concentrated on reducing the weight and size of our electronic equipment to such an extent that a completely new science of micro-technology was born. Our nation is now able, according to Reiffel, to place two and three duplicate circuits in a rocket to do the same job and thus the reliability of our rockets has been greatly increased.

Half of Frosh On Probation

Over fifty percent of the Freshman class were placed on academic probation for the coming semester. Two-hundred and seventy-three freshmen out of a possible five hundred and twenty-four in the freshman class received less than a 2.0 for the first semester.

Fifty-five students were dropped for "poor scholarship."

While forty-four students were removed from probationary status, fifty-two upperclassmen were placed on probation and twenty-seven upperclassmen were continued on probation.

Under the new policy passed by the Board of Trustees for the Maryland State Colleges, students in the Teacher Education program who did not receive a 2.0 or better were required to pay the tuition for the coming semester.

Editorial Comment

A Rededication by the Student Association

It has been stated recently that this newspaper has been far too critical of the collective membership of the Student Association this year. It is quite possible that some of our criticism of the Executive Council and the Student Senate has been harsh, but at the time, it was felt that they deserved such criticism; nonetheless, it should in all fairness be pointed out by this newspaper that there are some areas in which the Student Association deserve some compliments. It was not long ago, the spring and fall of 1964, that this college faced an upheaval equal to anything that has occurred at Berkeley. It is surprising indeed that the Student Association of that period was able to continue as a functioning governmental body, in the face of the enormous pressures that were exerted upon it from all sides. Thus we feel that the present Student Association, under the able leadership of John Catau, should be commended for their ability and success in obtaining the stabilization and fairly efficient operation of our Student Association this year. However, we feel that it must be pointed out that, regardless of the success that the Student Association has had this year in stabilizing its activities and avoiding any large conflicts, stabilization is, by itself, not an end. It must rather be a means by which many other worthwhile goals are obtained. The Preamble of our S. A. Constitution states as one of its goals the following, "to provide an effective means of self-government through definition of our rights and obligations as set forth in agreement with the faculty and administration of the college. . ." We therefore make an urgent plea to the individual and collective membership of both the student body and specifically the officers and members of the Student Government that we rededicate ourselves to the basic principles of student government. Let us start anew this semester by re-doubling our efforts to insure the basic principles and goals for which previous student bodies here and across the nation have strived so hard. To the student body we ask that a greater effort be made in academics so that our student government will not be dealt damaging blows such as occurred this semester when seven class officers missed their point score and a similar situation occurred in the Student Senate. We would also hope that we will soon see final reports issued by all of the committees appointed earlier in the year in both the Senate and the Student Union. Correspondingly we would like to see action taken on the recommendations cited in these reports. We would like to see a determined effort made to eliminate much of the "red-tape" that exists within the administrative set-up for our Student Government. We ask that the student body extend a helping hand to our Student Government by becoming more interested and involved in the operations of the Association. We would like to see a large turnout for the upcoming Student Association assembly that will be held in the near future. We would like to see a great deal of interest expressed in the all-college elections that will be held early in the spring. In summary, we would like to see this semester become one of the finest in the history of our Association. A great deal of work and cooperation is still needed but we feel that it can be obtained if we honestly rededicate ourselves to the principles of student freedom and responsibility.

Apology by Editor

I would like to take this short space to apologize for an extension of editorial opinion on to the front page of State-To-Date in the issue of January 12th. Due to my concern over the issue involved, I interjected personal opinion into an article on recent actions taken by the Executive Council which should never have appeared on the first page. Sincerely, John Stewart, Editor.

Letters to the Editor

JUDICIAL BOARD HEAD MAKES REPLY TO LETTER

Dear Sir:

I was much disturbed and disappointed to read Mr. Mike Jacques' observation on what he believed "Lax Discipline for Fraternities". Mr. Jacques has cited the composition of discipline groups on this campus as "dominated by fraternities" and has drawn the assumption that "fraternity members receive a much more lenient punishment than independents". I think perhaps Mr. Jacques should get his feet a bit more wet before he draws such assumptions as he apparently has generalized. Any judicial system, from that of the highest courts of the nation to high school student courts ideally attempts to deal with each case before it from a totally objective and unbiased approach. It is unfortunate, however, that such is not only always the result. Perhaps such has been the instance on our campus in given situations, but I think it is an unfair assumption on Mr. Jacques' part to attribute this only to fraternities; more important, Mr. Jacques has inferred that such is the situation on the Judicial Board.

Let us analyze Mr. Jacques' argument and point out the weakness and fallacy contained within it. The Judicial Board is composed of two representatives from each class plus two representatives each from the boarding and day students. During the last academic year less than a majority of the voting members of the Board have been affiliated with social Greek organizations. "Dominant" must then mean, according to Mr. Jacques' statement, that less than a majority of the Judicial Board exerts a determining or guiding influence. How then can Mr. Jacques condemn such persuasive verbal action. Mr. Jacques states further that "anyone other than a fraternity member would have little chance of receiving such an indulgent punishment" as was accorded a Greek affiliated individual for entering a Girls' dormitory. The Constitution of the Student Association forbids my mentioning the names of individuals involved in disciplinary cases that have arisen in the past, but with the exception of students who were suspended for stealing final exams, this was at least equal to the most severe penalty dispensed by the Judicial Board. Mr. Jacques makes a good point when he states "had it not been for an interested student, the case probably would not have been reviewed" by the Judicial Board for violations of the penalty upon the individual in question. This responsibility, however, rests with every student of this institution. It is not, never has been, and never will be the responsibility of the Judicial Board to act as a policeman. The grapevine seems to transmit effectively the names of individuals involved in disciplinary actions of the Board, and the penalties are published for all to read in the minutes of the Executive Council meetings. The responsibility of enforcing these penalties falls equally upon each student of this institution. If Mr. Jacques saw a violation of a penalty imposed upon an individual by the Judicial Board, why did he not report the violation himself? I can only assume that he shares the apathy he has wrongly projected upon the Judicial Board as an organization, and upon myself as an individual. It sounds as if the pot is calling the kettle black, when the kettle is actually aluminum.

If memory serves me correctly, I cannot remember Mr. Jacques ever being present at an Executive Council meeting, or ever having approached me with regard to the function of the Judicial Board, or ever questioning in person a unilateral decision made by myself with respect to student government. Yet, Mr. Jacques has at least hinted I haven't helped "both you and your school." Criticism should be expected when one assumes a position that makes responsibility to seventeen

I sincerely believe the Judicial Board has performed its job with distinction during the past year. It should be pointed out that the case to which Mr. Jacques has made reference was reviewed by the Judicial Board; the penalty was doubled when the Board was satisfied that the original restriction it had imposed had been violated. This action was taken, Mr. Jacques, before your article appeared in State-To-Date.

FSC Debate Team Ends Semester With Victories

Frostburg's first intercollegiate debate team concluded its first semester competition with commendable rankings. On January 13-14, four novice debaters from the Frostburg squad registered for competition in the East Stroudsburg State College Forensics Tournament. Debating against 13 schools from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Maryland, the team's final record placed Frostburg in a four-way tie for second place. Elizabethtown, Bucknell, and Dickinson tied with three wins and one loss for both affirmative and negative teams.

Alice Brode and Emma Clark represented Frostburg on the negative side of the national debate topic for the year: Resolved: that the U.S. should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments. The negative team was successful against Harrisburg Community, Kutztown, and St. John Fisher, a loss against Geneseo. This was the first time that Miss Brode and Miss Clark worked as a team in intercollegiate debating. Both have been with the squad regularly this past semester.

Bill Durst and Royce Chaney upheld the affirmative side of the debate topic. Their victories were over East Stroudsburg, Dutchess Community, and Bucknell; their loss going to Elizabethtown. Durst and Chaney debated as a team at the Towson Debate Tournament earlier this past semester.

All four debaters entered the two rounds of extemporaneous speaking competition. Having one-half hour to prepare a 5-7 minute speech, the debaters drew such topics as "What should be the attitude of the courts towards evidence obtained by illegal eavesdropping?" and "Are the changes at West Point good?"

Having placed for 4th, 3rd, and 2nd positions in the five tournaments attended first semester, the debate squad is planning to aim high at its second semester tournaments in Marietta, New England, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, and Cumberland Valley. A debate on television is also scheduled for the spring semester.

One credit per semester is now given to students working with the debate squad and representing Frostburg in intercollegiate competition. Interested students are welcome to join the novices second semester.

Students enjoy talking at Newman Center

Newman House Open to All

The Newman Center is a well furnished house on Maple St. that is open to all students for studying, discussions, dancing or just having a good time. Though the Newman Center is of Catholic origin, it is non-denominational, and students of all faiths are welcome. The house was organized for the students with the help of students as a place for them to go. There are five rooms furnished with couches and chairs, a stereo, a phone, and a kitchen for anyone who wants to use it. The Center is a place where students can get to know themselves and each other better.

The house is run by the students; it is the students who are the essence of the Newman Center, not just the Catholic students but all students. God is there but not as an overseer. He is where the students find him. The Newman Center members are trying to give and get as much out of life as possible. There is a two dollar fee for joining but it is not required for coming to the Center. The money is used to do whatever the students want to do.

The important things to remember are: 1) It is not a church; 2) you don't have to be Catholic and; 3) you don't have to be a Club member. Just come and enjoy yourself.

The following is a partial list of items which have been lost by students during the last semester; they are located in Dean Manicur's office and it is very important that they be claimed as soon as possible. The situation has gotten so serious that the Dean has not been able to enter her office for the last two weeks and she is pleading that these items must be removed! ## A Critical Comment

WHO GIVES A DAMN . . .

IF people in this world are beginning to believe the doctrine that "God is Dead"? HE does.

IF the young men of this country are being sent to far-off lands to be killed and butchered by a ruthless and uncivilized enemy, while Daddy L.B.J. sits in his padded chair and gives orders to spare North Vietnamese cities from destruction: destruction that could bring a quicker end to the war and save lives? The voters do! . . .

IF minority groups in the U.S. are still discriminated against even though the government has passed laws to protect them? The men of a local fraternity at Lafayette college in Pennsylvania do! Until last year they were affiliated with the national Sigma Chi — then they wanted to initiate a Hawaiian student and were told not to. They broke away from the national and turned into a local fraternity . . .

IF the Indians of the U.S. are still denied their rights and privileges and have no one to turn to except a few missionaries? Pete Schlichting does. He and his wife, both in the early twenties, are working among the Indians in Alaska now . . .

IF young Negro children have no place to play, or a poor man is kept in jail while a rich man goes free on bail, or a poor old southern gentleman doesn't know what the government can do to help him in his poverty? VISTA and its volunteers do . . .

IF old paintings of the masters were about to be ruined and lost to our culture forever? Many European students did this past year . . .

IF China is using her youth to stir up a civil war and rebellion that could cause a purge killing thousands and thousands of ideologically naive peasants? Mao does. They're doing his dirty work for him . . .

IF crime rates are on the increase, if the cost of living is going up, the draft hangs over the head of all college students, if Academic Freedom is stifled on some campuses, if narcotics and drug peddlers are making millions upon millions each year . . .

DO YOU CARE! You had better; they're changing the world in which you have to live! Wake up — and be scared!

Kurt Wolfe hits for 2 points.

By Don Forrester and Charles Lamb

Last Saturday night the Bobcats of Frostburg State College hosted the Green Terrors of Western Maryland College in Compton Gymnasium before a capacity crowd of 1000. Many of the fans came to see Larry Suder, the former shooting star of Valley High School in Lonaconing, and Ralph Wilson, who played his high school basketball at Mount Savage.

The Bobcats turned in their best effort to date against the cagers from Western Maryland, but were nevertheless forced to accept their seventh loss in ten games. Frostburg led only three times in the game, all in the first half, but managed to stay in the game by employing variations of the full court press.

The leading scorer for the Bobcats was captain Kurt Wolfe who garnished 23 points. Al Moraz was the only other Bobcat to score in double figures; he netted 19 points.

Western Maryland received outstanding performances from Larry Suder, Mike Baker and Joe Smothers. They scored 22, 20, and 13 points respectively. The Terrors also dominated the defensive boards with the likes of Mike Kroe, Joe Smothers and Larry Suder.

In winning 83-74, the Green Terrors proved to be more effective both from the floor (they made 33 of 69 attempted field goals) and from the charity stripe (they converted 17 of 26 free throws). Frostburg was Western Maryland's equal from the floor (making 30 of 68 field goal attempts) but were pathetic from the free throw line, converting only 14 of 32 attempts.

Halftime score: Western Maryland

Bobkitten Hoedown

By Rae Ann Haugh

To date the Woman's Varsity Basketball team, better known as the Bobkittens, has played two games. The girls' opener with Elizabethtown on January 6 was lost by a score of 43 to 26. High scorers were Jo Ann Holland with 10 points and Colleen Barry with 7 points. Linda Farver, the freshman class' "Jolly Green Giant", pulled in 7 rebounds.

The Junior Varsity was a little more successful against their Elizabethtown foe. In a thrilling overtime game, the J.V. won 33-29. Gail Locke was high scorer with 12 points; Elaine House and Susan Leslie helped ice the victory with 7 points apiece. The leading rebounder for the junior Bobkittens was Sandy Wood with 7.

In the J. V. game the score at half time was 9-17 Elizabethtown. The Bobkittens stormed back to tie the score 27-27 at the end of the regular playing period. The determined "Kittens" then irked out an exciting 33-29 victory in the three minute overtime period.

The second game for the Varsity Bobkittens was against the alumnae on January 14 in Compton Gymnasium. The varsity led the alumnae all the way and garnished a satisfying 33-25 victory. High scorers for the "visiting" alumnae were Pat Morgan with 8 points and Karen Dyer with 7 points. However, their performance was offset by an outstanding effort from freshman Sue Blocker who tallied 16 points for the Bobkittens. Other noteworthy efforts were turned in by Jo Ann Holland, who scored 6 points and Linda Young, who pulled in 9 rebounds.

During half time ceremonies, a new "crowd pleasing addition" was introduced. It was called the "Bobkitten Hoedown" by Miss Sharon Irwin, and it featured Linda Farver. It consisted of a number of drills done to music.

The next game for the Bobkittens is on February 10 at Gridgewater College and they will come home the following day to play Fairmont State at 2 p.m.

Majors List Record 469 Night Tilts

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The National League will play a record 469 night games during the 1967 baseball season and players will travel a record 333,500 miles, according to the official schedule released Saturday by League President Warren C. Giles.

The 1967 season, which officially opens April 10 with Los Angeles at Cincinnati, will have an increase of seven night games over the previous high of 462 in 1966. The Houston Astros have a league-high 63 night home games this season while the Philadelphia Phillies will play 62 home night contests.

Aside from the Cubs who have no lights to facilitate night baseball, only the Mets and Giants will play less than 50 night games at home this season. San Francisco, which does not lend itself to night games because of the cold air blowing in off the bay, has scheduled only 23 contests under the lights while New York will play only 44 night games.

Travel Increase

Atlanta and Los Angeles both are scheduled for 59 night games, St. Louis for 58, Pittsburgh for 51 and Cincinnati for 50.

A decrease in the number of back-to-back home and away series between two clubs has brought about an increase in travel mileage this year.

In the past season a team would play a three-game set against a rival club at home, then travel to the same opponent's park for three more games before meeting another team. This system proved very unpopular with the fans, however, since certain teams who met each other six or seven straight times in May might not meet again until August.

There are 42 double-headers scheduled for this season, only two more than were listed on last year's schedule. The New York Mets will play nine double-headers at home this season including two-night affairs with Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Chicago. The Cubs and Reds are each slated for seven twin-bills at home.

Pennant In Mind

The Reds, who always open the season, will be kicking things off for the 93rd time at home and will be meeting Los Angeles for the initial time in their season's opener. Last year, Cincinnati had to open the campaign on the road for the first time in 53 years after rain forced postponement of its opening series with the Mets.

One thing the schedule-makers have tried to do is arrange things so the probable pennant contenders will be meeting each other in the final weeks of the season. Last year things worked out perfectly at San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Los Angeles were all facing one another in the last two weeks.

This year things are arranged about the same. The Pirates play 12 of their final 18 games against the Giants, Reds, Dodgers and Cardinals, while San Francisco meets the Pirates, Phillies, and Dodgers in 13 of its final 18 contests.

Matmen Win 36-3

By Rick Valentine

The Bobcat grapplers finished the first half of the season with a very impressive victory over Elizabeth City College. Frostburg got a win in every class except the 123-pound division. Keith Connor suffered a 3-1 loss in a hard fought match.

Captain Jim Rota gained a thrilling come from behind victory by a 9-5 decision. Gary Watson pinned his opponent. Mike Joy, a freshmen, got his first pin of the season in the 145 pound class. Jim Pfeiffer got his third pin of the season to put Frostburg ahead 18-3. Bob Cherry gained his first win of the season when he also pinned his opponent. Terry Diehl decided his opponent by a 5-2 score. Dane Barnhard won his sixth straight match by pinning his opponent. Terry Ward completed the massacre when he also won by a fall. Frostburg set a team record by getting six pins in a single match.

Frostburg faces a rough schedule the second half of the season. They meet St. Francis twice and Waynesburg once. Their first home match will be on Feb. 7 against St. Francis.

However, due to the Canadian project of Expo 67, an event similar to the World's Fair to be held in Montreal, the date of the Model United Nations has been postponed until September, 1967. Because of this extension, the club welcomes all who have expressed interest in the Model U.N. project to join us in our continuing preparations.

At this time, we are also preparing to send delegates to the Association of International Relations Clubs National Conference which will be held in March. The topic for this conference will be "The Myths and Realities of Foreign Policy in South East Asia."

Our next meeting will be held on February 9th at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty Dining Room. The topic to be presented and discussed will be "China's Threat to World Peace."

ALPHA XI DELTA

Several sisters are home for student teaching sometime in the semester. They are Sandy Bohrer, Genie Zorn Crawford, and Patti Johnson. Judy McGuire has left school to go on to a permanent job. Those seniors student teaching in Allegany County are Marilyn Schaar, Sandy Priebe, Carolyn Otremba, and Mary Hubbell.

Next week nominations for new officers will be posted and on February 22nd, elections will be held. In early April the new officers will take office after a training period.

The new FSC mugs are in and will be sold very soon during lunch hour in Gunter Foyer. There are both black with gold lettering and white with black lettering, both bearing the FSC seal. The price of each is $3.50.

It seems as if it will be a busy semester. Through this column, Alpha Xi hopes to keep informed those interested in its progress. Anyone having questions about the sorority activities is welcome to come to any member for information.

The beginning of a new semester means many things to Alpha Xi. First of all, following exams, many of the sisters and alumnae attended the weddings of Genie Zorn and Quincy Crawford, a graduate of FSC and TKE alumnus; and Sharon Wolf, alumna member, and Kenneth McCusker.

Just before the end of semester break, the chapter was notified that the alumnae of Gamma Psi chapter had organized and elected officers with the goals of continuing college friendships and assisting the college chapter. Their main activities will be helping with rush and having a social function for the graduating senior members of sorority. The alums also plan to attend part of the rush functions for the purpose of presenting a gift to the chapter. The members are very interested and excited about the alumnae activities.

Most important of all activities this semester will be women's Formal Rush Week. Preparations are well under way for all three parties and for the pledge period to follow. All sisters are anticipating a great rush and lots of fun entertaining the rushees.
