State-To-Date Staff To Attend Convention

Planning to attend the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention next week at Columbia University are ten Frostburg students representing the college newspaper staff.

Dr. Lucile Clay, advisor to State-to-Date, will accompany the group and act as moderator of the panel discussion scheduled for the opening session.

Members of State-to-Date attending the teachers college division of newspaper staffs will be Carolina Agnolutto and Marianne Hoelzer, co-editors-in-chief; Laurel Bachetti and Elizabeth Ann Maher, co-feature-editors; Catherine Joyce, co-news-editor; Harold Schriver, sports editor; Robert Long, photographer; Jean Stottlemeyer, headline editor, and Edward Root and Sally Sullivan, reporters.

The theme chosen for the March 17-19 convention is "News Appeal of the Campus Paper." Dr. Clay and Carolina were members of the director advisory and executive boards which planned for the convention. Four panels have been organized for the general meetings. Heading these panels are Everett Jose of Bridgewater, Massachusetts, whose panel will discuss "The Paper As a Functional Unit"; Carolina Agnolutto, Frostburg, "Layout and Heads"; Bonelyn Lugg, Mansfield, Pennsylvania, "Features"; and Robert Long, Frostburg, "Photography." Marianne Hoelzer and Laurel Bachetti will serve as members on the "Functional Unit" and "Feature" panels respectively.

Banquet at Waldorf-Astoria

In addition to the panels, various discussion groups and speeches by prominent journalists, the convention will be highlighted by a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on Saturday afternoon. There will also be a judging of the quality of the college newspapers submitted. All papers receive from the Association a rating of Medalist, the highest honor presented to a newspaper, first, second, or third places. College newspaper make-up will be criticized by Dr. Earl Robacker, White Plains High School, New York, at the Friday morning, March 18, meeting.

Presiding over the 1960 CSPA Teachers College Division is Patricia Carey, Millersville State Teachers College, Millersville, Pennsylvania. Nominees for the 1960-61 presidency are Carolina Agnolutto, Frostburg; Bonelyn Lugg, Mansfield, Pennsylvania; and Philip Bishop, Lyndon, Vermont.

The Frostburg delegation will travel to New York via the Greyhound Bus lines, leaving the college early Wednesday morning and returning on Sunday.

AAUW Group Awards Honors

That Bessie Lee Bailey and Lois Sweitzer have been awarded honor scholarships by the scholarship committee of the Frostburg-George's Creek, Maryland Branch of the American Association of University Women has been announced by Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson, Fellowship-Scholarship Chairman.

Bessie and Lois were awarded the honor scholarships from the recommendations made by the faculty of State Teachers College for their outstanding records at the college in scholarship, leadership, and personality.

The scholarships were presented to the recipients in Lowndes Hall by the Branch president, Mrs. H. Reford Aldridge. The awardees are also invited to attend the Anniversary Luncheon of Frostburg-George's Creek Maryland Branch AAUW on Saturday, May 14.

Bessie Lee Bailey, sophomore, of Prince George's County, has been on the Dean's List for three semesters. She is now serving as vice president of the sophomore class, president of Frost Hall House Council, member of Phi Omicron Delta, and reporter for State-to-Date.

Lois Sweitzer of Frostburg, a junior, has been on the Dean's List for five semesters. She is now serving as president of the Day Student Association, junior class representative to Student Congress and Vice Delta of Phi Omicron Delta.

'Carmen' Highlights Trip To Pittsburgh

Members of the Spanish and French Clubs will travel to Pittsburgh on March 12 to attend a performance of the opera, Carmen.

The students will spend the daylight hours sight-seeing on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. Tours will be taken of the campus and the Cathedral of Learning.

The opera will be performed at the Syrian Mosque.

Miss Irene Kirkeby, advisor to the French Club, Miss Pauline Hobbs of the English Department, and Mr. James Daly, advisor to the Spanish Club, will accompany the students.

At their meeting on February 23, Spanish Club members elected officers. Those chosen were Evelyn Walder, president; Barbara Krumpke, vice president; Rosita Lazara, secretary, and Susan Glover, treasurer.

Enrollment Increases; Frostburg Gains Forty

Of the forty new students registering in February, thirty-three enrolled in the field of Teacher Education, according to Lillian M. Wellner, Registrar in Charge of Admissions.

New Freshmen from Allegany County include Nancy Diaz, Patricia Ewing, John Goss, Kenneth Lowery, Russell McGaughey, William Clauson, Nancy Walkley, Edward P. Finn, James R. Chappell, James A. Davis, Winifred M. Davis, Maria A. Fedele, Norma Ferman, William Foote, Lucile Kraus, David Leasure, Frances Taylor, and Donna Williams.

Those from Garrett County include David A. Durst, Patricia McKenzie, and Joseph Weeks. Thomas Howie and Joe Mack Schubert come from Prince George's County. Joann E. Divel from Washington County and Doris Ours from West Virginia complete this list.

Others re-entering and transfer students include Carol Chaney Adams, Ellen Arnone, James Mellon, William Cessna, Clyde McCurdy, James Williams, Donald Turley, William O'Hara, Hugh Friend, George Juhn, Harrietta Longnecker and George Stiles.

Special students include Edith Brinegar and Stanley Thomas.

Dan Moore To Lecture On 'Spy Warfare Today'

"Spy Warfare Today" is the title of the speech to be presented by Mr. Dan T. Moore, counter-intelligence officer, on Wednesday, March 16, at 8:15 p. m. in Compton Hall Auditorium.

In his lecture Mr. Moore draws on his experiences as head of counter-intelligence operations in Cairo, Egypt.

During World War II, Mr. Moore served as Executive Assistant to the Chief of X-2 Counter Intelligence in Washington, and later as Chief Liaison Officer between X-2, OSS, FBI and State Department. In 1944 he headed a mission to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

As regional administrator of the securities and exchange commission for Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, he headed the clean-up of security and other frauds in that area from 1937 to 1943. He was later appointed as chief of the counter-intelligence in the Middle East. He was educated at Yale.

Underwood To Talk To Yearbook Group

Dr. Samuel Underwood, advisor to the Nemacolin staff, will address a group of advisors at the yearbook division of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference, on Friday, March 18, at Columbia University, New York City.

Entitled "The Role of the Yearbook Advisor," the speech Dr. Underwood will present emphasizes the responsibility of the advisor in seeing that the publication is a success from several points of view.

Dr. Underwood states that the responsibility of selecting editors should be the privilege of the advisor only, not of the student body, for he believes that too often student body elections are little more than popularity contests with little consideration given to the real qualifications of the candidate for the duty. He suggests that a form or application be filled out by interested students stating qualifications and experience for a particular position.

Delegates Travel To New York

Three students and one faculty advisor from Frostburg State Teachers College are to attend the Eastern Association of Professional Schools for Teachers thirty-fifth annual conference at the Hotel New Yorker, New York City, on March 24, 25 and 26.

Donald Murphy, senior, is the official Eastern States Delegate from FSTC; Robert Ray Ogden, junior, is the alternate. Kerry L. Highsmith, freshman, will attend as delegate from Student Congress. Mr. John Dunn will be the faculty delegate.

The conference, which will be attended by approximately one thousand faculty and students from the New England and middle states, will begin on Thursday with registration. Following registration guided tours will be conducted.

In the evening students and faculty members will be greeted at the Loeb Student Center, New York University, by Dr. Judith E. Krane of the New York University faculty. The welcoming address will be given by Dean Alonzo G. Grace, from the School of Education, New York University.

Dr. Lawrence G. Derthick, United States Commissioner of Education and Welfare, will address the luncheon meeting on Friday. The keynote speaker on Friday morning will be Dr. Francis H. Horn, president of the University of Rhode Island.

The speaker at the closing session on Saturday will be Dr. T. M. Stinnett, Director, Teacher Education and Professional Standards of the N. E. A. Students from the Foreign Students Center, N. Y. University, will furnish the entertainment on Saturday.

This Is Our Point Of View

We on the staff of State-to-Date are confronted each time we prepare an issue of the paper with the criticism that the views of the students are not expressed. There are two opposing viewpoints on this statement: the first is that we should print nothing that hints of a complaint, and second is that we should print acid "gripes" about everything. Obviously neither course is advisable or possible and a satisfactory middle road does exist. This, then, is the viewpoint of the staff.

It was once stated by Disraeli, Queen Victoria's advisor, that "It is easier to criticize than to correct." This is so very true of each and every teachers college, liberal arts college, and university in the world. There has never been an institution of higher learning where feelings of discontent have not existed about the administration, food, housing, dating customs, etc. We on the staff feel that criticism alone will not accomplish an iota of improvement unless that criticism is intelligent, constructive, and timely.

On a campus as small as ours, what good is the information that it is snowing when we are in the midst of a blizzard? What is needed is a thoughtful solution as to how to melt the snow. This may seem slightly ridiculous, but so are many of the criticisms when they are not accompanied by proposed solutions.

Our goal in State-to-Date is to inform, entertain, and interest our student body with news and ideas concerning our campus. Can you see our viewpoint? When problems arise that should be brought before the public, we would be happy to print a signed letter to the editor, but the staff will not present pages filled with gossip, scandal, gripes, and complaints.

Regardless of how trite it may be, remember the old English proverb saying that pulling down is easier than building up! Let's have more building up—more enthusiasm about our blessings and less moaning about things that are less than perfect. We are not alone!

L. B.

Our Heartiest Thanks To You

Congratulations and a sincere thank you to all those who helped in the fight for our new dorm—both to those here in Frostburg and to the members of the Legislature!

On the college campus thanks are in order for the Student Congress, Intra-Resident House Council, and those students who attended the meetings of the State Finance and Ways and Means Committees. Especially appreciated is the work of President Hardesty and Dean Diehl who underwent long hours of worry, strain, and hazardous traveling. Also here in Frostburg, the various men's service clubs of the town deserve a round of applause.

The student body also thanks Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, State Superintendent of Schools, as well as the members of the State Board of Education who foresaw and understood our condition, backing us on every issue.

Although this one battle has been won, we have no time to rest on our laurels. There are other tasks of equal importance to be undertaken.

A list of vitally needed improvements for Frostburg has been approved by the State Board of Education. It is hoped the next Legislature will appropriate funds for these improvements which include remodeling the old dining hall at $99,000; replacing the heat and water system in Allegany and Frost Hall, $25,000; purchasing of an incinerator, $9,500; buying the Frost property, $41,000; land for a new library, $69,000; plans for an addition to Garrett Hall, $2,500; and plans for the library, $6,000, as well as funds for an athletic field, $85,000.

Foremost in importance, however, is the obtaining of funds for a new men's and another new women's dormitory at $425,000 each. This is a vital necessity since, according to Miss Elisabeth Hitchins, Director of Admissions, there are not sufficient housing facilities for those students applying for this coming year.

Congratulations, students, for an important part of the struggle has been won but do not forget that there are other campaigns yet to be undertaken.

Ghost Steps Aside As TV Steals Scene

I just can't figure out this younger generation! Parents today don't tell their kids about the Bogey Man or ghosts; they use a new method called Psychology. Baby sitters, even the worn-out, angry, frustrated type, don't mention the delightfully horrible consequences we ghosts can cause.

Lately I've been looking for a good sound reason for the loss of power over man's emotions our ghost colony faces. I have arrived at the conclusion that that picture box in the homes is responsible.

Oh, it can get so irritating! Just the other night I was prepared for a really big scare. My victim was to be Charley Brown.

Well, I picked out my loudest clanking chains, my shrillest whistle, and perfected my most horrifying laughs and shrieks. When I arrived at Charley's house he was watching the picture box. There was a show of men shooting other men, and Charley was having a time.

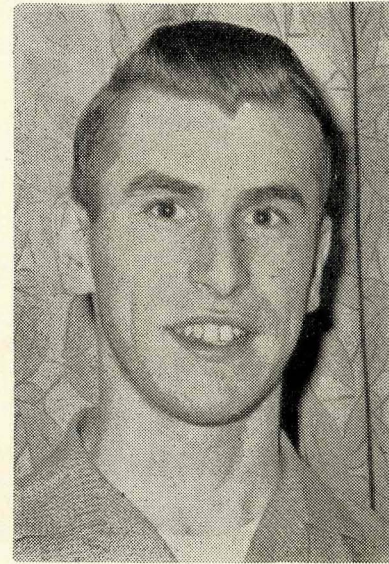

Carefully I made my way behind Charley, then I rattled my chains loudly. Charley just sat there. I used my horrible laugh and rattled the chains. Charley just sat there. This called for drastic action. I made myself visible and floated in front of Charley, rattling my chains and laughing. He never even looked up. I was so disgusted that I sat down on the couch beside him.

Well, I sat there watching the thing for an hour. Charley told me it was a television. As the next program was about to start, his parents returned. They had been to a P. T. A. meeting, or something. One look at me and both ran out the door screaming. "Now what got into them?" asked Charley. "Strange. Well, shh! The show is about to start."

Nice kid, that Charley. I do hope his parents come back!

☆ Hobby Highlights ☆

In our search for persons with unique hobbies, we found on campus Charles Burcaw, who uses his knowledge of science and photography in microscopic and astronomical photography.

Charles Burcaw

His interest in science originated in the seventh grade; at this time he began observing microscopic plants and animals. Later, he developed an interest in astronomical observations. This led to a new phase of his hobby, in which he began to take telescopic pictures of celestial bodies. This photography consisted of detailed shots of the moon, stars, and star clusters. After he had gained the necessary experience in astrophotography, he applied his knowledge of those principles to microphotography.

In microphotography Charles has recently completed the comparison between leukemia and normal blood types. At the present time he is experimenting on hemophilic comparisons.

He is now engaged in designing a bi-objective telescope in which two beams of light converge onto one eyepiece.

This versatile freshman is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, and is concentrating in science and music.

Latest Campus Game; Lassies Burn Candles

It has come to the attention of several lonely lassies here at State that other lovely lassies are playing the dangerous game of "Candle Burning." Now to avoid confusion, let it be stated that we are referring to that activity of having more than one boy friend (i. e. burning the candle at both ends.)

There are several solutions to the successful winning of this game, if one is adventuresome enough to attempt them. The first is to stealthily keep the two suitors safely separated. This is difficult. The second is to "blow out one of the ends of the candle."

Let's face it, the only ones who really object to this game, are the players on the bench. Anyone for some sour grapes?

Have Roommate, Will Swap

All right—everybody up—it's time for that seventh inning stretch in dorm life! Now that you have had that—or should I say those roommates for seven lo-n-g months—what do you think of them?

Let's look over these past months. Remember the time when you were just about ready for that afternoon nap when all of a sudden in comes your roomie (the loud one) and says jungle time and she puts on Yma Sumac for your torture? Maybe you wish she would join Miss Sumac in the wilds of the Brazilian jungle . . . and then there was the time shortly after Christmas when you decided to wear your topaz cashmere sweater for the first time (the one you worked all those hours in Murphy's to buy) and in comes your dearest roomie (the one who loves topaz) adorned to the hilt, on her way to a hop wearing your cashmere . . . "You don't mind if I wear this sweater I found in the closet, do you?" "Grr . . . no, oh of course not."

And of course there was the time you decided that you were, well, gaining a little extra poundage and you decided to cut down on the calorie gorging for a few days—so what happened?—You guessed it! In comes your slim roomie (the one with the tape-worm) loaded down with goodies for a picnic marathon right there in front of your all too empty, echoing, digestive cavity.

And doesn't this just warm your heart? You were all ready for your big date—that extra special one. You were dressed and ready to go . . . you bent over to brush the lint off your suede shoe—and in comes your roomie (the one who thrives on carbonated drinks) and spills her latest investment (a "be sociable"—you-know-what) all over your shiny golden locks. Coagulating—isn't it?

But, let's be honest. Those roommates do mean a lot to you, don't they? Remember all those good and generous things they have done for you. Now think about it . . . you are ready to start the game called dorm life over again next fall with the same team for all nine innings, aren't you?

Sizzling Social Life Stunts Study Habit

With my diploma in my hand, I entered Frostburg State, My eager mind was in a whirl, No challenge was too great.

My thirst for knowledge was so strong, I read each book in sight. All through the day I studied hard, And on into the night.

Then one day before a test, I took a look around, And to my wonder I now saw My schedule was not sound.

It's true I studied night and day, Thus could my conscience rest, But what about my social life? At that I flunked the test.

My mind was set, I had a plan, It simply had to work, I knew I couldn't fail at this, Or else I'd go berserk.

So to the shop I went one day, And much to my delight, I saw so many people there, That I went back that night.

Before too long I found that I No longer worked at all, But, rather, I was shocked to find My marks began to fall.

Just why should I waste my good time? When I was having fun. I did my classwork quickly now And studied on the run.

A time for work, a time for play, Is what my father said. But he forgot to tell me why, So now I play instead.

Winter Snow Stays; Sing, O Poet, Sing!

" . . . if winter comes, can spring be far behind?" I often wonder if Percy Shelley was thinking of Frostburg, Maryland, when he was inspired to write this lyrical line of poetry. Because when winter hits this college town, it really hits!

The snow I had longed for in November and December had finally decided to make its appearance in late January. Nature could have planned this whole winter a trifle more carefully.

Not until the snow was piled nearly to my second story window, did I really begin to lose faith in the fact that spring had to come eventually. As I stumbled through the refrozen drifts of tired snow, I realized that the madly swirling stuff was here to stay.

March presented herself to Frostburg with little hope for the advent of spring. But, today I witnessed a spectacle that made me forget the days, nights, and week-ends of being snowed in at college.

Daintily stepping on the remaining crust of snow, a robin ventured onto it, and with this brief journey made her debut in Frostburg. Surely, if a robin comes, can spring be far behind?

Kappa Xi Cast To Present Pygmalion Tomorrow Evening

Pygmalion, the George Bernard Shaw classic, will be presented tomorrow evening, March 10, at 8:15 o'clock, in Compton Hall Auditorium under the auspices of Kappa Xi Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, national Honorary Dramatics Fraternity.

Susan Ebersole captured the role of Eliza Doolittle in this new form of dramatic presentation to the campus. The fraternity, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Stone White, advisor to Alpha Psi Omega, will read the play. Harold Vance will portray the professor of phonetics, Mr. Henry Higgins. The girl's father, Mr. Doolittle, will be played by Ira Riley.

Other members of the cast are Elaine Smith, playing the role of Mrs. Higgins; John Ewald as Colonel Pickering, assistant to Mr. Higgins; Louise Downton as Mrs. Pearce; Judith Ritchey as Mrs. Eynsford Hill; Sherron Bailone as the daughter of Mrs. Eynsford Hill; John Shuhart as Freddy Eynsford; Sandra Cadarette as the parlor maid, and Marvin Vann as the bystander. Edward Lester will be both Nepommuck, a famous linguist, and the sarcastic bystander. Camille Robinson will introduce the cast and give program notes.

Class Project Merits National Award, Medal

The United States history classes of Miss Mary Murray were recipients of a Freedom's Foundation award made recently, according to a spokesman for the Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The classes were awarded the $100 Thomas Jefferson award and the George Washington Honor Medal.

The project of the classes was a scrapbook containing essays, cartoons, graphs, and pictures of various problems of America today and lists of American traditions.

A series of charts on the Bill of Rights, with each amendment depicted, was also included.

BSU Plans Focus Week; Missionaries To Speak

The Frostburg Baptist Student Union is preparing its participation in a "Focus Week" program March 14 to 18. Missionary speakers selected by the State Baptist Student Union will visit the campus on Thursday, March 17, to discuss a series of topics dealing with Love, Courtship, and Inter-marriage.

During the entire week, visits will be made to every campus in the state. Jack Densmore, publicity chairman, will post a notice as to the time and place of the event which is open to the entire student body. This team of four Missionaries will include Rev. Duvall.

News Briefs

Phi Omicron Delta Sorority will sponsor a program entitled "Highlights in Show Business" on March 24 at 2:00 p. m. in Compton Auditorium. This 45-minute extravaganza will portray high spots from the days of the Minstrel Show, the Charleston, the Red Hot Mama's, and Rock 'n' Roll. A total of ten acts is planned.

Darleen Van Roon is the overall chairman of the show. Assisting her are Sally Traver, Sandy Cadarette, and Carol Lannon.

Pledging for Phi Omicron Delta starts March 14 and runs through March 18. Sue Lepley and Dorothy Doolan are the pledge captains. Edith Baumgardner, Sandre Twigg and Ann Schwanebeck are helping in planning the activities for the week.

New officers of Delta Kappa national fraternity were elected at a recent meeting. Taking over the duties of president will be Tom Arnold.

Members elected to office include: William Brown, vice president; Geoff Whitmore, recording secretary; David Eyler, corresponding secretary; William Cessna, treasurer; William Henline, alumni secretary; Mike Fabbri, chaplain and sergeant-at-arms, and James Shertzer, librarian.

A fortieth anniversary party will be held in Buffalo, New York, March 25 and 26. Delegates representing Sigma Phi will be Tom Arnold and Bob Brannon.

In the regular meeting of the Wesley Club on Wednesday, March 16, the group will listen to a record, "Liturgical Jazz." The group will then discuss the record and formulate an opinion on whether they feel modern music should be made a part of the church.

At the meeting held March 2, Mr. William Stewart spoke on modern architecture in the church.

Mr. R. Thomas Hutcheson and Reverend Robert Current are advisors.

On Monday, March 7, the Do-Ci-Do sponsored a roller skating party at the Moon-Glo Roller Rink in Cumberland from 7 to 10:30 p. m.

Helen Cummings, general chairman, was assisted by Harriett Ripperinger, transportation; Ann Schwanebeck, tickets; and Carol Lockstein, publicity. Advisors are Miss Dorothy Hilliard and Miss June Eastman.

Chemistry 204 Class attended the Pittsburgh Conference on Analytical Chemistry and Applied Spectroscopy, according to Miss Janice M. Griewahn of the Science Department. The conference was held on March 1 in the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, Pittsburgh.

SEA Plans Events To Entertain MAF

Most of the work of the Student Education Association centers around the forthcoming MAFTA convention which will be held on our campus April 29 and 30.

On February 27, Mr. Hosack, Larry McLean, Martha DeBerry, and Marjorie Lewis attended an MAFTA Program committee meeting in Baltimore. The program for the spring convention was decided upon. Mr. John Allison and Dr. Wayne Hill, principal of Beall High School, will be the guest speakers.

The main objective of this convention will be the election of state officers for 1960-61. Three Frostburg students are on the nomination slate. Larry McLean, a sophomore, is running for president. He now holds the post of S. E. A. vice president.

Beatrice Baer, a sophomore, has been nominated for MAFTA Treasurer.

Martha DeBerry, a freshman, is running for the office of member-at-large of the executive committee. Martha belongs to the Literary Circle and Xi Xi Fraternity.

The last MAFTA executive committee meeting will be held March 19 in Baltimore. Mr. James Hosack, Grace Keifer, and Marjorie Lewis will attend.

Track Squad To Open Cinder Season At WVU April 2

Pot State, Shepherd To Appear At Beall In Triangular Meet

Bobcat track hopefuls have been working out under the careful eye of Coach Kenneth Babcock for the past several weeks.

Coach Babcock, with an eye pointed to the season's opener at Morgantown, West Virginia, has been putting the boys through vigorous exercises in hopes that they will be ready for outdoor work when Ole Sol finally begins to beam on the cinderpath.

Babcock has reported that the Bobcats have received an invitation to participate in a warm-up meet at West Virginia University with various other college teams.

New Teams

Four new teams will be met by the State thinclads during the season. Those new teams appearing on the schedule are Geneva College of Geneva, Pennsylvania; William and Mary College, of Williamsburg, Va.; Shepherd College, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., and Potomac State College, of Keyser, West Virginia.

Only one home meet is scheduled, that being at the Beall High field on May 14. This meet will be a triangular affair pitting Frostburg against the Shepherd Rams and the Potomac State Catamounts. Shepherd and Potomac State will be entering the track and field sport in varsity competition for the first time this year. Coach Babcock related that he would like to see the triangular meet of these aforementioned schools become an annual affair, paralleling the homecoming soccer game.

Beall High's field, the only workable track in the immediate area, has been chosen as the site for the home meets. The May 14 meet is the first home track meet in at least four years and affords the student body a chance to finally see the cindermen in action.

Veterans Return

Veterans returning to the cinder wars include Roy "Muggs" Sigler, John Kreitzburg, and Jim Cave. Sigler, holder of the school record for the two mile run, will again be running the long distance races, namely the mile and two miles. "Muggs" established the mark of 10 minutes, 34 seconds for the two mile run while competing at Fairmont State. He then equalled his time in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' district meet at Montclair, New Jersey.

Jim Cave is State's only returning veteran in the weight division of the cinder sport. Jim has been working diligently in the shot put and discus and should give a good accounting of himself.

Shippensburg State College will offer the opposition for the Bobcats' first meet after the warm-up at Morgantown. The Pennsylvanians, always a perennial powerhouse, will be met April 7 on the Pennsy track.

On Apr. 12 the charges of Coach Babcock will journey to Fairmont, West Virginia, for a triangular meet against host Fairmont and Davis and Elkins College. Another triangular meet will take place on April 27 when State will run against Slippery Rock State College and Geneva College at Slippery Rock.

Washington, D. C., will be the next site for the cindermen to take part in another triangular meet. American University and William and Mary College will furnish the opposition on April 30.

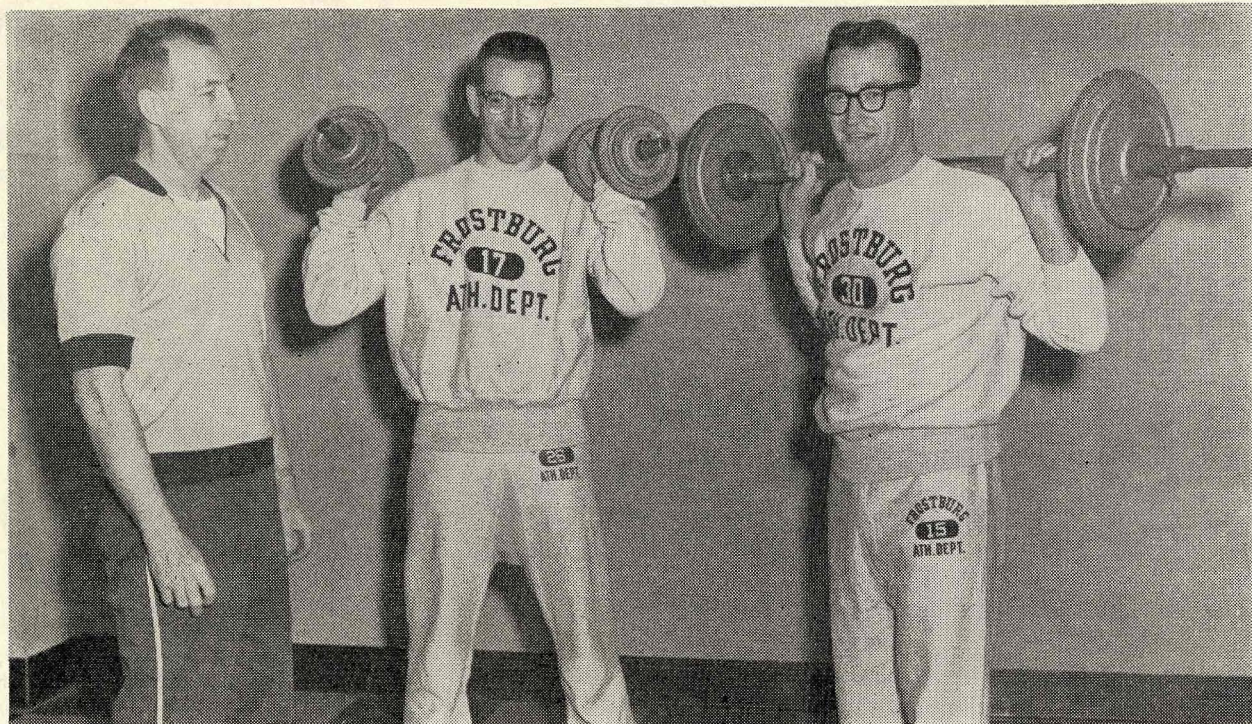

The journeyman track squad will meet Towson State Teachers College in a dual meet at Towson on May 6. Towson was victorious in a dual meet last year by a narrow margin of 61-60, scoring most of their points in the field events.

Try For Record

Another record for the squad to shoot for is the high jumping mark of 6 ft. 2 inches set last year by Bill Chappell in the Towson meet.

Other members working out with some previous high school experience are Sam Holliday, John Garon, Kenny DeHahn, Fulton Davis, Kerry Highsmith, and Bob Hesterburg.

Awaiting The Sunshine

As can be readily seen by the picture above track practice to this date has been confined to the indoors. In the usual order above are Coach Ken Babcock, surveying with a skeptical eye the rigorous weight lifting exercises of returning veterans "Muggs" Sigler and Jim Cave. Sigler will again appear in the distance runs and Cave in the field events. (Photo by Bob Long)

Harold's Herald

By Harold Schriver

A final vote on implementation of football in the curriculum at State will not be taken until the State Board of Education meets on this campus June 6.

Voting in last week's football opinion poll was overwhelmingly in favor of the addition of the gridiron sport to the athletic program of Western Maryland's only college.

A final check of all ballots cast proved by a majority of 8 to 1 that we, at least, know what we want. If this total does not impress the committee of our desired actions, then nothing will. A total of 529 ballots were cast and of these 88 per cent, or 465, voted in favor of the implementation. Of the total enrollment, 71 per cent were willing to express an opinion and 88 per cent of these, which is by far a great majority, voted "yes."

This opinion poll was brought about by the appearance of an assistant to the State Board of Education's being on campus for a "football meeting." It was the belief of this representative that not enough students were in favor of football in the last poll.

Out of every 8 persons voting this time, 7 favored the grid sport. This was far better than the 1-3 in the last opinion poll.

Here is one aspect of football probably many of you have overlooked. The implementation of football would set State for a curriculum degree in secondary school training for boys matriculating here.

This representative from Baltimore County presented facts that Towson would probably have better facilities and better positioning for football than would State. It was brought to his attention that the ratio of boys at State to those at Towson was higher.

The overall educational, not athletic scope, was the main topic of discussion.

The representative did not believe that the co-ordination of such groups as the band, majorettes, cheerleaders, program sellers, etc. was educational in scope.

When and if football ever comes to Frostburg, we will have an obligation to the other State Teachers Colleges since we will serve as the ice breakers.

Football should in no way, shape, or form overshadow any of the already established varsity sports on campus. This writer agrees with this opinion 100 per cent.

Just a word of caution—if we must vote again, vote 100 per cent for, and never let your enthusiasm die.

Lauder Leads Team Scoring; Young Second

By Ed Root

George Lauder led State's 1959-60 basketball squad in both total points scored and game average. George tallied 208 points in thirteen games for a 16.0 average against four-year college competition.

George amassed his total by bombing the nets for a sizzling .362 percentage from the floor on 80 net-ticklers out of 221 attempts. George also added 48 points from the charity stripe.

Runner-up to George in both total points and game average was Ronald "Butch" Young. "Butch" played fourteen games and garnered a total of 184 points for a 13.01 average. Connecting for a nifty .385 percentage on 80 goals for 208 tries, "Butch" was the team's most accurate shot among players with 40 or more attempts.

Lauder Again

In foul shooting, it was again the names of Lauder and Young as the leaders. George not only led State in free throw percentage but also brought additional honor to Frostburg by leading the nation's small colleges in foul shooting accuracy. George dumped in 48 handout points in a mere 52 attempts for a phenomenal .923 percentage. "Butch" fired a .706 percentage on 24 markers in 34 tosses from the free throw line which is still exceptional.

Ronald "Hank" Winner and Ronald Mann were next in line pointwise and average wise. "Hank" chalked up 170 points in fifteen games on 66 for 179 from the floor for a .369 clicking percentage and 38 for 61 from the free throw line for a .623 percentage. "Hank's" fifteen game average stands at 11.33 points per game. Ronnie averaged 10.0 points per game for ten games. Flipping in 39 goals out of 133 tries for a .294 percentage and 22 for 43 at the foul line for a .512 average, Ronnie compiled a total of 100 points.

Individual Efforts

Young and Lauder tied for most points scored in one game by each chalking up 28 points against Salem College. "Butch" scored the most field goals in a single game by tallying eleven for 20 also against Salem. Gerald Llewellyn scored the most free throws in one game by making eight for nine against Waynesburg College.

As a team, Frostburg scored an even 1000 points in fifteen games against four-year college competition for a 66.67 team average per game, the opposition managed to score 1251 points for a 83.4 game average.

Golden Hawks, Bums Leading Intramurals

After the final seasonal games of the 1959-60 Intramural Basketball League, Al George of the Bums emerged as the leading scorer of both leagues and Harland Carlson, freshman, of the undefeated Golden Hawks took second place and was top scorer in the Monday Night League.

George racked up 109 points in six contests to lead the pack. The tall, lanky Carlson hit with 87 counters in five games. Next to Al in the Thursday Night League was Joe "Cookie" Nash of the Gunners. In a tie for third were two of George's team mates, Tom Swauger and Darwin Robinson, the height of the team. In fifth spot was Dr. Harold Cordts, of the Wildcats.

Trailing Carlson in second spot was John Mills of the Yandsomes. In third place was Ken Metz of the Firehouse Five. Don McIntyre of the Animals was close behind with John Hawkins of the Firehouse Five in fifth.

Title Rounds

In the championship rounds of play, the Bums and the Golden Hawks remain to be unbeaten. The Bums rolled over the Animals, 49-38, and edged out the Gunners in a real thriller, 45-43. The high-flying Hawks trampled the Eckhart Miners, 53-35, and barely won over the Clodhoppers, 45-39.

The Gunners, Clodhoppers, Firehouse Five, and the Eckhart Miners are in the second position of the playoffs with a 1-1 record. The Gunners beat the Firehouse Five 45-43, and lost 45-43 to the Bums. The Clodhoppers beat the Yandsomes, 53-34, and lost to the Golden Hawks, 39-45. The Firehouse Five put out the fire of the Animals, 69-46, with Ken Metz scoring 30, and they lost to the Gunners in a thriller, 45-43.

Animals Eliminated

The Eckhart Miners lost to the Golden Hawks, 35-53, and they edged out the Yandsomes in a double overtime game, 41-33. The Yandsomes lost to the Clodhoppers, 34-53, and went down to defeat against the Eckhart Miners, 36-41. The Animals, who tied for the first place spot in the Monday night regular season, couldn't find the winning combination, and were eliminated by the Bums, 38-49, and by the Firehouse Five, 46-69.

The championship game will be played tomorrow night on a full court.

Five Teams Enter Golf Squad Schedule

Frostburg's 1960 golf squad will face five opponents this year, according to Coach Kenneth Babcock.

Returning as the lone veteran for the team will be Roy "Muggs" Sigler. "Muggs" was the bright spot for an otherwise mediocre team last season as he went through the entire season without losing a match and garnered all but two of the points compiled by the Bobcats' links representatives.

Coach Babcock stated that he is depending on the current crop of freshmen hopefuls to bolster the squad. The freshmen include Jim Graham with two years' experience in the Washington, D. C. area; Fulton Katz, who has also played in the D. C. area; Bill Groves, who does his playing at the Maplehurst Club in Frostburg; Steve Broadwater, also a Maplehurst player, and Jack Ewald from the Cumberland Country Club.

The season will open on April 7 with the putter-swingers taking on Shippensburg College from Pennsylvania. Following this match, the squad will tangle with California college on April 19. The highlight of the season will be the four team match on April 29, at Fairmont, West Virginia, when Frostburg faces Fairmont, California, and West Virginia Wesleyan.
