

TRIUMPH OF THE ALTO.

Get screen and keep the flies Out
"From all envy, hatred and malicious good Lord, deliver us," slowly continued the minister.
"From all envy, hatred and malicious congregation."
It was a day of triumph for the soprano of the choir.
All the city folk who were passing the door of the choir, saw that the congregation, and the alto, her deadly enemy, had such a cold that she could not sit upon a note.
So she soared aloft in highest notes the alto sang, while the unfortunate alto sat upon the back bench in the choir loft, consumed with envy that even her damp tears could not quench.
"Glorry be evermore!" drowned the bass of the choir.
"Glorry be evermore!" shrieked the tenor with fervor.
Then the soprano took it up, took up
the glad refrain, "Glorry be evermore!"
The glad refrain, "Glorry be evermore!"
was sung, and he held it firmly.

took it up and played with it among the lower notes. Snatched it again from the deeps and ran up the vocal scale with it in her teeth, throwing it out above the heads of the enraptured congregation and catching it again before it could strike bottom, as she swept up the scale and over the measures in triumphant joy. It was a day of triumph for her indeed.

Again she took up the fervid cry, "Glory be forevermore!" Striking the lowest note in her compass, she gloriously rolled up the chromatic scale with the psalm of victory—up—up—up—with her back to the back, her straining eyes half closed, her mouth round and open with the full crescendo of the pouring flood. Her head was thrown back higher, till the air vibrated in mison and the souls of the listeners lost themselves in ecstasy. Up—up—up—

Then suddenly, without warning: "Yeuch—yeuch!" Chow—chow—neh—chow—chow—chicken!"

Her head fell, her choking gasp, a thin, reedy wush, a horrible, eye-staring gurgle—she turned black in the face and fell backward into the arms of the waiter, the great curtain in front of the loft.

The minister glared wildly from his place, hanging over the puppet's edge.

"What a terrible accident!" cried one man to leap upon the few seats and strain into the unknown horror with bewilderment.

The Press representative dashed onto the side door on a dead run for the telephone office to wire in the death of a Chinese actress.

When from the deathly stillness which hung over the fatal loft came a distant whisper that stung the farthest ear hissing:

"Ah—B—! Swallowed it, did she? Swallowed! I told her once that if she would time she'd have to get a screen door to keep the flies out! Why don't some one chunk her in the back once or twice?"

It was the alto's voice.

"From envy, hatred and malice, good Lord, deliver us!"—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

People Who Did Not Kill.

The inhabitants of the Canary islands, the Guanches, were, it is supposed, but the mountain shepherds of a submerged world.

Guanches were; they rarely were gentle, and when the Spaniards fell into their hands they did not kill them, but sent them to tend sheep in the mountains. So some were brought in this State, and when the Spaniards first landed they came and fed out of their hands.

To kill an animal degraded a man; the brutal and uneducated criminal and assistant, and lived apart, he and his associates being supported by the state. No woman was allowed to approach the shamblers, and in place of a rooster was kept a dog, which was to be killed and could be embroiled until he had publicly declared that he had not been guilty of killing any animal, not even a goat.

Robbery was almost unknown among them.—H. Louis Starbuck.

St. Helena Star Sayings.

Quize a number of cigar stores about town leave a small box with nicksel cigars lying exposed on the showcase. When a customer wants a nicksel cigar the box and takes out a cigar, lights it and leaves the store without disturbing the clerk or proprietor. Sometimes he sees nobody. It is noticeable, however, that none of the imported stock that sell for fifteen cents straight up to a dollar is left lying about subject to the honesty of the customer. Perhaps the dealers have come to the conclusion that the man who would have the courage to smoke a five cent cigar may be relied upon as always able and willing to pay for it whether watched or not.—New York Herald.

Three sons of the great author of "Pickwick" are still living. Charles Dickens, his father's namesake, is editor of All the Year Round, and is known to American audiences for his readings from his father's works. Alfred Tennyson Dickens is a merchant in Melbourne, and the youngest member of the family, Edward Bulwer Lytton Dickens, is a sheep farmer and a new member of the New South Wales parliament. —Exchange.

family compels him to provide for them (as well as he can) not only while he lives, but while they live. He has given this word for it—and he follows up his promise by the bond of a good life insurance company. The one assures them protection—by himself while living; but insurance when he is gone. The word "is good" and the bond "is good, but the word and the bond together are better."

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Notes of News About Town, Gathered by the "Advertiser" Reporters.

—Married Nov. 25th, near Quantico, Md., by Rev. J. M. Mitchell, Nicholas Moore and Jennie Reddish, both of this county.

—Mr. Ernest Moore, son of Mr. Wm. R. Moore, is now with Mr. Lacy Thorpe in the clothing business on Main street.

—Prof. Auerbach of New York has organized a dancing class here. Ladies and children will be taught afternoon and after school hours.

—Mr. Thomas G. Harold, the Kingston artist, is dead. Mr. Frank G. Harold, who for several years occupied the Salisbury green house, is a son of the deceased gentleman.

—Master Marion Humphreys received a gun shot wound in the leg last Saturday while out hunting with some friends. The wound is not considered serious and the patient has been going about this week.

—Thomas Thompson, who is now in the Kent county jail, will be hanged January 25th for the murder of "Bully" David of Salisbury. The death warrant was signed by Gov. Jackson Wednesday last week.

—Mr. Enoch Pratt was elected last Monday, president of the Maryland Automobile Company, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Howard E. Knicker.

—Mr. J. J. Morris has sold his property in Division St. adjoining the rectory property, to Mr. Randolph Humphreys. Mr. Humphreys will build upon the lot a handsome residence, the occupancy of himself and family. The price paid was $3,000.

—Mr. Wm. T. Wilson of Barren Creek, Md., will sell all his personal property with a view to removing to the lumbering of North Carolina, about the middle of January. The sale will take place Tuesday, December 15th, at his farm near Barren Creek Springs.

—Mr. Granville B. Rider, fish commissioner for the Eastern Shore, is a candidate for reappointment. The people generally would like to see him reappointed, as by his work he has shown a very intelligent acquaintance with the aquatic propagation of the Chesapeake Bay.

—The English Comedy Co. appeared last Monday at the Opera House Monday evening in "The Stoops to Conquer." The house was large; besides it was a literary and technically, Wilfred Brice, as Tony Lumpkin, was mirthworking, and Miss Martha Ford, as Kate Hardcastle, was rather pleasing in her acting as amateur. Altogether, the play fell somewhat flat upon audience.

—The Rich Neck farm, including the N. Beck Hotel property, situated in the hundred district, Talbot county, was sold by the E. & E. R. E. R. was sold at public Wednesday by J. Beth Hopkins a mortgage to his father, the late James S. Hopkins, given by the late James S. Hopkins, the recent owners of the property. The purchasers were Gen. J. C. Smith, J. Frank Turner, Robert F. Turner and E. H. Roe. The price at the time was $9,000 subject to a prior lien of $5,000.

—Hog-killing has been one of the occupations of the husbandmen for the last week. Many people in town also have been doing so. The heaviest weight yet recorded was that of a ten month old pig belonging to Mr. John L. Godfrey. It was of Jersey Red and Chester breed, Mr. S. E. Gordy at Oyster Creek farm, when dressed, weighed 360 lbs. Mr. L. Bradley of the Hotel Orient three porkers, which he will slaughter next week, the aggregate of which will probably be over 1,200 lbs.

—Fifty prominent anti-Harrison republicans of Indiana met at Indianapolis Saturday and resolved to endeavor to secure the election of a Blaine delegation from that State to the Republican National Convention. It was recommended that Mr. Blaine would accept if nominated.

"Houses and Homes."

Last Saturday was a fatal day with "house" flesh. Previous to that date, Mr. Charles Walter had a high-bred horse which had come into his possession in exchange for a suit of harness and other considerations, and of which he was quite proud. Not having particular need for him just at the time, Mr. Walter let a friend have the use of his treasure a few days. When the gentleman had accommodated him finished the work for which he borrowed the horse to do, he mounted his colored man upon the steed and sent him home. That was last Saturday afternoon. At half-past three, the colored man cantered past the Advertiser office. Just twelve seconds thereafter he stood by the corpse of the noble steed, whose spirit had taken its flight to horse heaven, bridle in hand and the most astonished driver you ever saw.

Almost simultaneously a scene was being enacted near Mr. I. H. White's lively stable. Your young friend Dan Quinn and his partner Ben Hanks, having acquired a love for horse flesh, effected a deal with Mr. White some time ago, giving Mr. White a double-barreled gun and a card for an equine which would cost $80.00 in the city. When the boy laid their prize they found that she was constitutionally opposed to duty, which position she invariably manifested by lying down whenever urged to work. Possessed of this fault, your friends soon disposed of her and she changed hands almost every day. Saturday a "house" man from the country dealt for her, and after morning gave her the work. Following the old trick she lay down on the ground. The new owner, a driver of the saddle, and picking up a small club, he dealt the banes a blow across the top of the head.

She very promptly turned her top up to the dealer.

A Snow and a Baptism.

Probably the severest winter that peninsula people have experienced for several years began yesterday night and continued through Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. About mid-night Saturday snow began to fall in fine, thick flakes, and continued to fall through the day Sunday, until, by nightfall, earth's frozen drapery was four inches snow deep. Monday morning was clear and bright with the thermometer standing considerably below the freezing point. Many gentlemen of town availed themselves of the opportunity to take a sleigh-ride and a merry lark could be heard on our streets at any hour in the day. Despite the frigid atmosphere and snow on Sunday, Elder Durand of the O. S. Baptist church held services and baptized one penitent. The faithful one was Miss J. Morris, daughter of Mr. Wm. R. Morris of this county. The immersion took place in Lake Humphreys at ten o'clock a. m., at a time when the storm was at its worst.

A Pastor Surprised.

A correspondent at Quantico writes us as follows: Just before eight o'clock last Saturday night a large delegation from the Rockwalking M. E. Church, (organized as a surprise party) invaded the parsonage at Quantico. The surprise was a success but as the invaders came not to tear down but to build up, the pastor was not surprised. They were given free entrance. They came "bringing gifts" of groceries, vegetables, canned goods, chickens, beef, etc., not forgetting corn for the parson's horse. A family more of pleasant conversation a good brother went out to a moment, coming in he deposited a package in the preacher's lap. Then another good brother in a next speech announced that the package was a suit of clothes presented in token of their esteem. The parson responded in a few words expressive of his thanks and after a prayer by the pastor the visitors departed to their homes.

The Photos of Comrades.

The Harrisburg, Pa., Telegram of a recent date says: "The members of the famous Purnell cavalry of company A are exchanging photos of every living member of the company, and thereby make a handsome album." The record to those living after their battle is ended here below. Of this company Wm. Thos. Akin, M. D. of Chicago is the president, having been re-elected for the second term. The move of this has been suggested by Joseph Russell and E. Collet, both members of the company and highly complimented by all of the boys. Mr. Chas. A. Engle, of the company, is a member of the company. Mr. Russell is a resident of Salisbury, and should any of his surviving comrades live in these parts he would be pleased to have a personal interview with them and exchange photos.

Uncle Sam's Letters.

The following is a list of letters received in the Salisbury (Md.) Post-office Saturday, Dec. 5, 1891: Ladies List—Miss Alice Brewington, Mrs. Jane Hughes, Mrs. Clementine Parsons, Mrs. Esther Hayman. Gent's List—Walter Smith. Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.

Rollie Moore, Postmaster.

—Mr. W. J. Brittingham's horse, attached to a delivery wagon, started to run Friday evening, while standing at his butcher shop on Dock street, and it did not stop till it was far out on the road leading from Salisbury to Delmar. The course it took in its wild run was up Main and Division streets by the country. When it reached the residence of Mr. Harvey Elzer at the corner it turned in, and, making a circle of the larnyard, came out and continued down the road past Mr. J. O. Phillips' farm. When the frightened creature was finally caught no thing had been damaged.

—Married Nov. 25th, at Ebenezer M. E. Church, by Rev. J. M. Mitchell, Geo. A. Phillips and Mary E. Waller, both of this county.

—Married, Nov. 26th at the M. P. parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Arnett, Mr. M. Harper and Miss Mary Elliott, both of Salisbury.

The term of Attorney-General Whyte will expire on December 12th, on which day Mr. John P. Poe, recently elected to the office, will enter upon the discharge of the duties of attorney-general. Mr. Poe will qualify before the Governor. The attorney-general is not required to bond.

Maryland State Farmers' Association.

The Maryland State Farmers' Association, of which Mr. Edward Sikes is now president, was organized in eighteen hundred and eighty six, with a view to the united action of the farmers of the State, for the advancement of the interests of Agriculture throughout the State. Its plan of organization provides for an annual convention, in the city of Baltimore, on the second Wednesday of January in each year, for the discussion and consideration of all questions touching the welfare of agriculture. This convention is to be composed of delegates from each Farmers' Association, Farmers' Club, or Agricultural Association in the State. In addition to delegates from such organizations, the farmers of each county are authorized to hold voluntary meetings and choose as their representatives in such conventions, as many delegates as the county has representatives in the General Assembly of the State.

The annual meetings thus far held since its formation have been composed of earnest and intelligent farmers; and by comparison of views, and discussions of topics, the association has thus been successful in doing much for the promotion of the agricultural interests of the State.

The outlook for the future of agriculture encourages the expectation of improvements and advancement. The impression which has existed for some years, and it is now all the more to be desired that the annual meeting in January next shall be largely attended, and by representatives from every section of the State, with a view to legislative action by the entire farming class to secure proper and effective legislation in favor of the coming General Assembly.

It is proposed for the Convention sit for a period of at least three days, its proceedings beginning with the annual Address of the President, on the first day, an Address by Hon. the Secretary of Agriculture, on the second day, and further addresses on Fruit Culture, Stock Raising, Commercial Fertilizers and other subjects by competent speakers on the third day. The convention will further consider the subject of legislation to secure the improvement of our public roads; a new Assessment law, and an equitable system of taxation, adapted to promote the Agricultural interests of the State, as well as other matters of interest generally to farmers.

The Association earnestly appeals to the Farmers, Planters and Fruit Growers of Maryland to send such interest in the subject as will bring together a large number of farmers in this Convention in January. They hope that every Club and Association will send its delegates; and that steps will be taken promptly in each county to secure a general meeting of the farmers of such county to select representatives, as proposed. It is suggested that a few farmers in each county issue a call for such a meeting at a given time and place for this purpose.

It is believed that if this Convention can agree with some unanimity upon desirable legislative action in aid of the interest of agriculture, the now arduous spirit of expectant confidence in the incoming legislature to consider favorably and enact as laws what may be presented as the means of advancing and promoting the most important of the State's industries.

The Association also appeals to the local newspapers of the State for their aid in arousing the attention of the farmers of their respective sections to the great importance of such action as it is thus proposed to secure.

Dickens's Pet Daughter.

Pretty "Mamie" Dickens was already considered by those who knew Charles Dickens to be the favorite daughter. To none of his children, perhaps was Dickens more affectionately attached, and the "pet daughter" was much of her father under all circumstances. When even the dogs were chased out of the novelists' study, Mamie was allowed to stay. The daughter is now a full grown woman, living quietly just outside of London. For the first time since her father's death, Miss Dickens has been permitted to write of him whom she knew so well. During 1892 there will be published in The Ladies Home Journal, of Philadelphia, a series of articles by Miss Dickens under the title of "My Father as I Recall Him." Fortunately for the thousands who will read what she writes in this series, Miss Dickens has a retentive memory, and she made copious notes during her father's lifetime. She will tell in this series everything she remembers of her father; how he educated his children; his family life and his personal habits; how he wrote his famous books; his love of flowers and animals; how Christmas was spent in the Dickens household; how the novelist romped with his children; the famous people who came to the Dickens home; and his last years and closing days. No articles ever published have in this so much promise of telling the world things which it has never known of Dickens, and Miss Dickens's story of her father's life will be eagerly looked for in thousands of homes where the name of Dickens is like a household word.

An application for a special precept for an attachment for the property of the West-End Street Railway Company to the amount of $50,000, on the ground that the company is in danger of becoming insolvent, was made in the Supreme Court at Boston Tuesday, Judge Morton held the matter in abeyance.

Gov. Jackson and the U. S. Senate.

The appointment, by Governor Jackson, of a Congressman or brilliant man to fill the vacancy caused by the death of United States Senator Wilson, while quite a surprise to Mr. Gibson and the public, has been generally commended, and has been commented on throughout the State. Mr. Gibson is an able and popular man, and a close friend of Gov. Jackson, and as the Governor will be a candidate for the United States Senate, before the Legislature, the appointment of Mr. Gibson was both proper and the right thing to do.

Among the most important things the coming Legislature will have to do is the election of two United States Senators. Senator Gorman will undoubtedly be chosen as his own successor. There are several candidates spoken of from the Eastern Shore. Governor Jackson and the Hon. J. Walter Smith, of Worcester, are the more prominent, and it is thought the Governor has the inside track.

Through an exceptionally brilliant man, Governor Jackson has been an up-right and faithful Chief Executive. He adopts the same practical business methods in the conduct of State matters that he has been so successful in his private business.

It was through his familiarity with the State's investments in railroads and other public enterprises, that he was instrumental in saving to the State many thousands of dollars that would otherwise have been lost by default. Add to his earnest efforts and influence, the people of the State are indebted for the Constitutional amendments they have just ratified, which will equate (assure) the State's credit, and prevent logging and other waste by the taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

As we said before, Governor Jackson may not be as brilliant a man as some others, but the people of Maryland, who are a man of worth, public spirit and integrity of character, who, if elected United States Senator, will worthily fill the high position, and look after and guard the interests of the old Commonwealth of Maryland, faithfully and with strict fidelity, and, being imbued with a patriotic spirit of push and enterprise, he will give his influence and support to all measures that tend to promote the growth and prosperity of the country, and the equitable system of taxation, adapted to promote the Agricultural interests of the State, as well as other matters of interest generally to farmers.

The Legislature will do justice to the people and honor the State by electing Governor Jackson to the upper House of Congress—Honore de Grace Republic.

Life After Forty.

The best half of life is in front of the man of forty if he be anything of a man. The work he will do will be done with the hands of a master, and not of a novice. The trained intellect does not see "men as tree walking," but sees everything clearly and in just measure. The trained temper does not rush at work like a blind bull at a hay-stack, but advances with the calm and ordered pace of conscious power and deliberate determination. To no man is the world so new, and the features so fresh, as to him who has spent the early years of his manhood in striving to understand the deeper problems of science and life, and who has made some headway toward comprehending them.

To him the commonest things are rare and wonderful, both in the things and as parts of a beautiful and intelligent whole. Such a thing as staleness in life and its duties he cannot understand. Knowledge is always opening out before him in a wider expanse and more commanding heights. If he be a doctor, for example, that the fresh study of one of the organs of the human body yields a pleasure and an enlightenment which it never yielded before; he sees the wisdom of mille streams with new powers of comparison; he marks the relations that subvert between different organs with fresh comprehension and delight; he sees possibilities of development and restoration which never struck him in his earlier studies; the various parts of the body and the whole of the organism in relation to its powers, its functions and its environment, constitute a miracle, the wonderfulness of which knows no end. The pleasure of growing knowledge and increasing power in its peculiar field or work makes every year of his life happier and more hopeful than the last—Hospital.

LIFE IN GULF WEED.

B Series of Curious Animals Journey with the Gulf Stream's Current.

It is surprising what curious creatures live in gulf weed. Not the least extraordinary of these inhabitants of the floating algae which are borne on the current of the gulf stream is a little fish that makes its nest in the weeds. For its own protection from enemies, it is made ange colored with white spots, that one cannot detect the scaly animal without actually taking a handful of the vegetable stuff in which it seeks shelter and scrutinizing it. The fish builds its nest by binding together bunches of the green weed with long, sticky gelatinous strings. The eggs are laid in a cavity. Its very fins are finger shaped, counterfeiting the form of the weed fronds. They are more like hands than fins, and are actually employed for walking through the seaweed, rather than for swimming. The fish utilizes them also in putting together its nests.

ward along the Atlantic coast and around the great circuit that forms with an eddy the famous Sargasso sea of marine grasses, carries along with it an endless stream of life in connection with the gulf weed which floats upon it in "windrows." The weeds, of varied kinds, bring with them from the tropics treasures multifarious, conveyed by the mighty river of warm water through the midst of the colder ocean. Most of them when the cooler latitudes are reached, and thus it happens that the larvae of antucket and elsewhere in places to which the adult animals are unknown. They never live to grow up. The floating gulf weed is literally crowded with life. One cannot pick up a piece that does not carry many shrimps, prawns of different kinds as passengers. There are crabs, too, small and bigger, which mostly imitate the grasses in their coloring. Of smaller crustacea there are numerous species, such as the nae are crustacea, have undergone a "retrograde metamorphosis," it is termed, having been free swimmers in the early stage of their existence. They, too, take passage on the seaweed drifts and voyage to the land of nowhere, seeking their fortune. In the gulf weed also is an infinite number of mollusks, some with shells and others without any. Among the latter are the "sea slugs," resembling the garden slugs, devourers of plants, which are true mollusks also. Another mollusk that picked up among the gulf weeds

There are lots of curious marine worms among the gulf weed, such as the "sea centipedes," abundant in the West Indies, which have long detachable bristles that sting the hand like nettles when the animal is incautiously grasped. These worms hide in crevices of floating driftwood. The latter floats until destroyed by the boring of the shipgastropods, barnacles and nudibranchs. Small fishes follow the pieces of driftwood as they are carried along by the current, feeding upon both gastropods and barnacles, while many seabirds skim about depending for their meals upon the same small animals. There is a species of crayfish, too, found in the weed that makes a curious clicking noise with its claws. What most people call the "fruit" or "seed pods" of the gulf weed are simply inflated air vessels designed for the purpose of keeping these interesting vegetables trivios" weave around the air chambers a delicate lacework, which often remains in shape after the vegetable matter has decayed away and disappeared, thus forming exquisite filamentous capsules. However, these are only a few of the passengers that journey by the path of the gulf stream on rafts of drifting weeds.—New York Sun.

Cleaning Car Wheels.

Very efficient work is now being done in various departments by the use of the is to the cleaning of car wheels. The wheel, after being carefully soaked, is rolled into a small chamber, where it stands in a vertical position. The tread of the wheel stands on rollers, which are revolved by gears so that the wheel is slowly revolved without changing its position. A flue into which cinders are blown by a chute leading from a bin above sends a blast of air against the face of the wheel, which is then reversed.

The cinders used vary from the size of a grain of wheat to much larger and are so hard that they can be used several be imagined when one man can clean twenty wheels in three hours and a half, including the time consumed in rolling them to and from the machine, and the saving in labor is proportionately great. Chicago News.

Stilts as a Means of Locomotion.

In some parts of Malaysia the natives walk almost habitually on stilts. Nature and necessity have brought about this result, as excessive inundations of the sea often submerge the whole of the land in the country.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The fall term of examination will commence Saturday, the 19th inst., and continue till noon the following Tuesday.

The students will be permitted to visit the homes and enjoy the Christmas holidays. The attendance is double the average of the past ten years.

The president, the condition of the college has been thoroughly satisfactory for the year and is full of encouragement for the future. Considerable improvements have been made in the institution worthy of each student's appreciation; as twelve hundred ($1200) dollars worth of new apparatus of the most approved kind have been purchased and put into a room fitted up exclusively for them.

This is under Prof. W. H. Zimmerman's supervision and is supplied with apparatus to protect the delicate apparatus from the influences of the atmosphere.

The winter term will begin the 6th of January 1892. Only eleven weeks will be in each of the winter and spring terms.

A case is pending before the Court of Appeals involving the rights of the private stockholders in the State of Maryland. This is the first case of the kind in the history of the State.

The docket of January term of that court. The question arose from the claim that the stockholders make upon the State of Maryland. It is said, "the private stockholders and the State have equal rights in the college buildings and farm including about 280 acres; but the national appropriations are said to be donations to a State institution, not to a private corporation. It is said, however, upon which the private stockholders have no claim or over which they should exercise no control."

SENIOR TROOP'S MEMBER.

A meeting of representative business men of Baltimore and other parts of Maryland was held Monday night in the City Hall, Baltimore, and the movement to have a fair properly represented at the Columbian Fair was given a good start. Mayor Latrobe presided, and Gov. Jackson and Gov.-elect Brown were present.

A resolution was adopted for the appointment of a board of promotion of fifty members, and also a resolution to petition the legislature to make an appropriation of not less than $100,000. Motions for the appointment of an executive committee and also a committee on space, were carried.

Major Latrobe, as chairman of the World's Fair meeting held in Baltimore last Monday night, has announced the following names as the members of the board of promotion having in view Maryland's representation at Chicago in 1893.

Hon. William A. Fisher, W. E. Getty, David Siebert, Pinkney J. Bennett, Edward Wootton, Charles E. Coffin, John Wilkins, John Hubner, John F. Dawson, William F. Heppner, E. Starkey, George E. Bond, Thos. H. Williams, George M. Upshur, Robert C. Davidson, James Hodges, Frank Frick, Blanchard Randall, Charles K. Lord, George C. Wilkins, Felix Agnus, Samuel Mandelbaum, John R. Bland, John C. Long, George A. Peary, Jacob M. Newman, John G. Rogers, Robert, Mos. Adrain, John F. Frank Talbot, John S. Wirt, John B. Brown, Edward Lloyd, John Walter Smith, Levin E. Walters, Lloyd L. Lewis, Ferdinand C. Latrobe, Ernest Knabe, Daniel E. Conklin, Wm. A. Marbury, Geo. W. Abell, Thos. J. Shryock, J. Frank Supple, Thomas DeFord, Herman S. Platt, Frederick Raine, W. T. Maister, J. H. Von der Horst, Alexander Buchhofer, James B. Brewster, Thos. J. Hayward, Harry P. Turner, W. T. Brigham, W. W. Johnson, J. O. Norris, J. G. Panghorn, H. Crawford Black, E. S. Gage, Lorraine Gill, L. L. Jackson, J. McK. White, B. N. Baker, W. S. Powell, Frank Hoon, John L. Thomas, Frank H. Hambleton, David Hutcher, John T. Ford, P. Stief, Francis P. Stevens, J. Thomas Schaff.

School Board Proceedings.

The school board was in session Tuesday with Messrs. Cannon & Laws present. Mr. Darby having tendered his resignation Dec. 1st. Minutes of last meeting were approved as recorded.

Final action was taken on report of Messrs. Laws, Twilley and West, committee to take into consideration the petition for new school district to be taken from districts No. 1, 2 and 6 of Pittsburgh district.

The report of the committee, as submitted to the board Oct. 6th, 1891, maintaining new district, was adopted, and Messrs. J. H. West, J. R. Farlow and Wm. Lynch were appointed trustees to act till May 1st, 1892.

This caused two vacancies in the board of trustees of school No. 2, which were filled by the appointment of Messrs. George T. Truitt and John H. Mahon.

The board declined to allow the Farmers' Alliance to hold meetings in the school houses of the county on the ground that it would invalidate the fire insurance policies held by it.

The Secretary was instructed to notify the trustees of school No. 1, Tysackin, that the school had run below the legal average for the past two terms and ascertain the cause if possible, that if this attendance is maintained the school would have to be closed.

Samuel W. Hamilton, principal of colored school at Nanticoke, was before the board with his report signed by the trustees. The trustees alleged that the teacher had not been regular in his attendance. The board agreed to accept the report provided he would make affidavit to it. This was agreed to do.

Accounts for fall term were audited and ordered paid on after Saturday 19th.

Adjusted subject to call.

THE COW LAW.

A Criedout oyster packer says of the cow law: It would be of more practical service, if all oysters below 3 1/2 inches were required to be thrown back on the beach where they were taken, than the law now in effect. It was his opinion that our Legislature, at its next session, ought to make a change in the present cow law. He says there are plenty of oysters now, but few select can be obtained; that the oysters that are thrown back upon the beach would be too small to be taken, this season, become the shucking stock of next season, and are not large enough for the trade, but if all below 3 1/2 inches were returned to their beds there would be more oysters the next season and the stock would be a great deal better.

Somerset Herald.

A writer to the Cambridge Democrat and News says: Please allow me space in your paper to make some remarks about the oyster cull law and give my views about it. Well, according to my judgment, and so far as I am experienced in the oyster business, I don't think the 2 1/2 inch cull law is of any use to us poor laboring class, because the present cull law is not a law, it is a suggestion. I will say that the oyster packers are nearly all that derive much benefit from the oyster traffic. It is impossible for us poor oystermen to make anything out of oyster traffic under the present cull law. We can't live by it. I am satisfied that Dorchester county is several thousand dollars worse off since the cull law went into operation. Ask my friend oysterman what he has realized by oyster traffic since the present cull law went into operation. I have not seen in operation. Said law has cut us off from all markets except the city of Baltimore. Some may say it has not cut us off from all markets but Baltimore, but tell you it has from the fact that we have not had any planting and then take them up and send them to the Baltimore market at about 20 or 25 cents per bushel. If it was not for the cull law? Now, does it benefit us oystermen any to throw our oysters under 2 1/2 inches and then wait 12 months and then take them up and send them to the Baltimore market at about 20 or 25 cents per bushel? We think not. Look at the

SATURDAY, DEC. 26, 1892.

—We wish you a rosy Christmas and a New Year free from indignation.

—President Harrison has appointed Steve Elkins of West Virginia, Secretary of War; and Secretary of War, who was elected United States Senator from Vermont, to fill the unexpired term of Geo. F. Edmunds.

Mr. Elkins will be remembered, is the political prodigy that conducted Mr. Blaine's campaign in 1884, and won for the latter a signal defeat over Cleveland. The knowing ones say that the appointment of Mr. Elkins means the retiring of Mr. Blaine from the campaign of 1892, as Mr. Elkins could not have been induced to pledge his support to Mr. Harrison had there been a possibility that his friend Blaine would have been in the field.

—With this issue we close our editorial labors for 1892. We wish our patrons a merry Christmas. We hope the year of 1891 has not been spent by them in vain. We are all reminded of the fact that it is the closing of another cycle in our lives. Nothing so forcibly reminds us of the closing cycle as the annual chipping off of a section of our lives. We live through the years, intent upon the supposed purposes of our lives, following our daily vocation, adding to the debit and credit side of life's account, not thinking of closing the account; but the making out of the balance sheet at the close of the year, always reminds us of the final closing of the account. But then, we are always generous at Christmas. It is then that the best impulses of our nature assert themselves. We want to do something to make those around us happy—first those nearest and dearest to us, then those more distant. The child looks forward to the occasion as one of receiving gifts, the parent as one of giving; while the gray-haired sire delights in telling the stories of his youth and how as a boy he rose at early morn and rolled on the "big log" and made the Christmas fire, and how the neighbors gathered around the fire and told the stories of their youth. These reminiscences he holds as sacred as the veteran's rusty sword that has gone through many a conflict, and he recalls them with the same delight that the veteran shows the rusty sword to his posterity.

Our whole duty however does not end here. Let us remember why we commemorate the day, why the Christian church makes it the greatest of all festive days.

Every Christian body in the land is expected to meet at its accustomed place for divine worship on this occasion. It has not done its duty so long as it fails to do this. Every church in the land claiming to be a Christian church should be open on this occasion—the Nativity of Christ. Every place of business should be closed.

Let us be thankful for the blessings of the year. Let us show our thankfulness by closing our places of business and attending divine service.

Senator Sherman's Petition.
It is stated with a good deal of positiveness that after all Senator Sherman's re-election is uncertain. The Legislature just elected is claimed by the Foraker men. From time to time members who have been non-committal come out for the ex-Governor to the surprise of the Shermandites. The cause of Senator Sherman's trouble is said to be the fact that Ohio is richer than any other State in politicians who fancy they are fit for any office that pays a salary. The Senatorship, and they think Senator Sherman ought to be retired to give younger men a chance. Ex-Governor Foraker is a young man of this sort. Many Ohioans do not like Mr. Sherman's financial record. These play into the ex-Governor's hand. But the Senator is very skillful at the game of politics.

Catsarrh Can't Be Cured.
With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catsarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to treat the internal remedies. Marriage of Louise Lee Bayard.
Wilmington, Del., Dec. 21.—At 10 o'clock this morning Louise Lee Bayard, daughter of Mrs. Thos. W. Bayard, ex-Secretary of State, was married at her father's home, Delaware Place, to Dr. Frank Agell, a professor of Cornell University. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jesse Higgins, of Baltimore. Owing to the death of Count Levenhaupt, brother-in-law to the bride, there were but few guests at the wedding.

The ceremony took place in the large hall of the mansion and was conducted according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The groom's best man was Professor Hammond, of Cornell University. The bride wore a white liberty satin dress, emerald green and black and white, and long sleeves, the only ornaments being orange blossoms.

The couple will take a short trip to New York and then return to this city for a few days. They will live at 11th St., N.Y.

Among those present were Gen. and Mrs. Park, Prof. and Mrs. Vallentyne, Dr. and Mrs. Kindeberger, Mr. and Mrs. Overbury, Hon. Wm. of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Warren, H. M. Clark, Jr., Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Henry, Geo. Andrews, Dr. and Mrs. S. Wier Mitchell, Mrs. Wm. Platt, and Mrs. Verner, Mrs. Miss Shober, Miss Price, Miss Morse, Philadelphia; Miss Sydney Price, Snowden Marshall, Miss Milligan, Baltimore; Mrs. Benoni Lockwood, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Platt, N.Y.; parents of the groom; Richard Aldrich, Mrs. Cogswell, New York; Mrs. and Miss Collins, Geneva, N.Y.; Mr. William du Pont, Mrs. Alfred I. du Pont, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont, Col. and Mrs. H. A. du Pont, Louis du Pont, Samuel Bancroft, Jr., Miss Hickman, Miss Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. F. Scott, Harriet Scott, Dr. and Mrs. J. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bird, Wm. S. Hule, J. P. R. Polk, Judge L. E. Wales, Judge L. C. Grubb, Bishop and Mrs. Coleman, the Rev. Martin B. Dunlap, Wilmington. A wedding breakfast and reception followed the ceremony and the bride and groom received the congratulations of the guests. The presents were many and costly.

Extension of Railroad.
MIDDLETOWN, Md., Dec. 24.—For several days past Mr. George H. Corry, civil engineer for the West Virginia Central and Maryland, has been in this vicinity taking observations preparatory to the running of a survey for the extension of the railroad to Baltimore. The line is already surveyed to Hagerstown, and it is the intention of the company to touch "Bonahorn", Middletown, and Frederick, thus passing through a rich and thickly settled country without railroad communication. Mr. Corry says that the road can easily cross Catoctin Mountain by way of Light's Gap, and that the crossing of this mountain, west of here, will be more difficult.

War and Law.
The trouble which has been finally disabled by the Monitor, made during her first unquested triumph at the destruction of the frigate Congress. The fight had continued for some time, the Merrimack was so fortunate as to take such a position relative to her enemy that the destruction of the Congress became only a question of moments.

Her commander was slain, she had been repeatedly set on fire, and her decks were covered with dead and dying. She was accordingly run ashore, and there hoisted the white flag.

General Mansfield had ordered two troops to take possession and remove the prisoners, but these were driven back by a sharp firing from the shore.

General Mansfield had deployed the Twentieth Indiana to attack the beach, behind a sand ridge, and two guns were in position to prevent the enemy's making away with his prize.

Captain Reed, who was a good lawyer and a soldier, raised a question of military law.

"Since the ship has surrendered," said he, "has not the enemy the right to take possession of her?"

Then General Mansfield uttered one of the shortest and most conclusive opinions on record.

"I know the old ship has surrendered," said he, "but we haven't."

That settled it. Unable to take possession of the ship, the Merrimack opened upon her with incendiary fire and then withdrew. The remnant of the Union crew was brought on shore, and that night, when the fire had reached a magazine, the Congress blew up. That lightning decision had at least saved her from being blown up.

Water Marks of the Early Paper Makers.
The first water mark on record was the coat of arms of a town. The early water marks were in the shape of a star, and the first water mark on record was the coat of arms of a town. The early water marks were in the shape of a star, and the first water mark on record was the coat of arms of a town.

For all that, certain of these emblems were used by different makers, and even in different countries, with slight variations—"bristles," as they are called in heraldic nomenclature. It is not accidental, but intentional. The letter "P" was used by numerous makers, is a simple one, and the letter is a simple one, and the letter is a simple one.

Another use of the water mark is a more recent one. The principal signs of "paper water" have been handed down to us, and the whole of these have suggested to the printer the idea of the smallest sheet to the largest, they are as follows: Bell, pot, oak (a three franc piece), crown, shell, grape, large grape, large grape and great water. The size "Jenny" was indicated by the letter "J," the rest by their emblems. In the fourteenth century the printer used the members of each trade guild were compelled to mark their merchandise with the seal of their guild.—Paper Record.

REMOVAL.
Our usual custom, we have no news sheet next week. It will be taken up in moving. We shall vacate after this week the building being erected for the printer, and a law office for Walter Humphrey, Esq. on the East side of Main street, opposite Main, where we are glad to see our patrons and friends, as usual. We shall have it very comfortable at our new place, and ample for our business. Of course we must be the usual promise of all "oral" papers, on such occasions, that we expect to get out the best county paper published in the state. We can only say that if we break this promise we make our patrons another just as good.

OUR NEW GOODS.
Although the line of Ladies' Wraps we sold last winter won for us a reputation that we are proud of, we are now pleased to be able to say to our LADY CUSTOMERS that we have a much Prettier Assortment, and better still, ladies, you will not believe how cheap they are until you call and see for yourself, for if we were to tell you the kind of A WRAP that we could sell and at the price we are selling for, you would think us exaggerating, so we insist that you call and see our line before it is broken.

About One Person in Ten
DOES NOT TRADE WITH US.
WE'RE AFTER THAT PERSON.
About one person in ten does not know that the other nine of his fellow men have come to the conclusion that it is always safest to trade with Fowler & Timmons. WE'RE AFTER THAT PERSON.
About one person in ten does not know that his neighbors are saving money on every deal because they trade with Fowler & Timmons. WE'RE AFTER THAT PERSON.
About one person in ten can't be expected to know that we are headquarters for Dry Goods, Notions, Millinery, Wall Paper, Curtains, Gent's Furnishing Goods, etc., because they have not entered our store. WE'RE AFTER THAT PERSON.
With a big stock, with big bargains, with low prices, with fair dealing, and we are YOU.
FOWLER & TIMMONS.
