Welcome Parents

Parents' Weekend Sept. 28-30

Friday at 7 p.m.

'The Storm is Passing Over' Reception Friday

"The Storm is Passing Over," an exhibit celebrating the musical life of Maryland's African American Community from Emancipation to Civil Rights, will be presented in FSU's Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery through Wednesday, Oct. 3.

A public reception will be held Friday, Sept. 28, from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

One of the most endangered resources in Maryland are materials documenting the musical history of the African-American community. Peabody Institute Archivist Elizabeth Schaaf has been interviewing musicians and their families, collecting oral histories, precious photographs, and other cherished memorabilia and has put together this dramatic exhibition of photographs, vintage recordings and documents.

"The Storm is Passing Over" shows much of the wealth of material that has been gathered together at Peabody. It is hoped that this exhibition will demonstrate the importance of continuing the search for lost materials and encourage the preservation of what we have.

Friday at 8 p.m.

After obtaining a bachelor's degree in music from Oklahoma City University in 1986, he embarked on a full-time career performing, arranging, publishing, recording, distributing and marketing his music internationally.

'Testament: A Life of Jesus' to be Presented

Noted actor and author Norman Dietz will present his one-man show, "Testament: A Life of Jesus," on Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lane University Center's Alice R. Manicur Assembly Hall.

Calling his presentation "a testament for the 21st century," Dietz interweaves verses from the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John to create a compelling portrait of Jesus as a man of action who struggled against the religious and political establishment of his era. Dietz uses language that is contemporary and colloquial, yet true to the elegant, poetic cadences of the King James Version of the Bible. His goal is to present what he calls "a tale of understandable human emotion and political conflict...[that] celebrates the impenetrable mystery of human existence."

"Norman Dietz has achieved some notable results, " says The New York Times. "Colorful and religiously vibrant work."

Sponsored by FSU's United Campus Ministries, Catholic Campus Ministry and Baptist Student Ministry, "Testament" is free and open to the public. For more information, call Larry Neumark at x7490.

Next in Film Series: 'Who the Hell is Juliet?'

FSU's 2001-2002 International Film Series continues with "Who the Hell is Juliet" on Tuesday, Oct. 2 at 7 p.m. in Lane University Center room 201. The series is sponsored by Center Stage and the Department of Student & Community Involvement.

This Mexican film by cinematographer Carlos Macovich flickers between documentary and fiction as it explores the life of Juliet Ortega, a young "jinetera" (prostitute) from Havana he met while shooting a video starring model Fabiola Quiroz. After discovering that the two women shared a longing for an absent father, Macovich embarks on a cinematic quest contrasting Fabiola's glamorous life as a beauty icon with Juliet's matter-offact use of prostitution as a means of survival. The film features an impressionistic style reflecting the emotional turmoil within his characters, with brief scenes set in Cuba, Mexico, New York, New Jersey and Los Angeles.

In Spanish with English subtitles, "Who the Hell is Juliet?" runs for about 90 minutes, and is free and open to the public. For information, contact the Lane University Center Information Desk at x4411.
