State Sponsors Campus Day Event

Artist To Model Person in Audience

On Monday, November 2, at 10:00 a. m. in the college auditorium, Mme. Suzanne Silvercrucy will present her lecture-demonstration entitled "Life, Art, and Sculpture."

Dr. Howard Briggs, chairman of the Assembly and Talent Committee, has released the following advance publicity on Mme. Silvercrucy:

She has pursued a number of careers, including writing, music, social work, and acting, but is known mainly for her work as a sculptor.

Among her noted works are busts of the Dionne quintuplets, Herbert Hoover, and Katherine Hepburn.

Mme. Silvercrucy holds degrees from Yale and Temple Universities, and is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts of Great Britain.

It has been said that she is the only sculptor who models a portrait bust of a member of her audience while speaking.

Subjects of past performances have been: "Your Life is in Your Own Hands," "The Pursuit of Happiness," and "What It Means to Be an American."

Plan Dogpatch Dance

"Li'l Abner" will once again come to the campus of Frostburg State Teachers in the form of the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance to be held Saturday, October 31, at the American Legion Home. The "Aristocrats" will play for the dance.

Maureen Manley has been appointed general chairman and Ellen Ann Morgan obtained the hall.

Publicity is being handled by Maureen Manley, Ellen Morgan and Nancy Tenant. Bob Martin engaged the orchestra.

Tickets are $1.00 a couple and all persons attending the dance should dress as characters from the Li'l Abner comic strip. According to tradition, girls will ask the boys to the dance.

Dr. Roger LeFevre, advisor to the day students, and Dr. and Mrs. Howard L. Briggs will be the official chaperones.

'Give Us Time To Sing' To Be Feature Of Parents' Night

Parents' night will be held on November 5 for both parents and friends of the freshmen. A varied program has been planned with the Maryland Singers scheduled to sing several selections from Romberg's "The New Moon."

One highlight of the evening will be the one act play, "Give Us Time To Sing," by David Hanig. This play, which has an all freshmen cast, is a "comedy of the gentle people." Its satiric intent is plain to all. Raymond Parker is portraying Gershwin Goddard, a shoemaker; Joseph Steen is acting the part of Coffee Gonov, a number bookie and jack of all talents. Fancy Johnston, a hooper, is being played by Thomas Buser. Dolores Fahey is taking the part of a bakery store owner; and Mary Maher is portraying Sandy Lee, a perfume demonstrator.

Directing the performance is Miss Edith Humphrey of the English Department who will be assisted by the following student associate directors: Margaret Larimore, a senior; Charles Briggs, a sophomore, and Joe Tom Butler, a senior. All are members of the student dramatic club, Little Theatre.

Following the program the friends and parents of the freshmen will be guests in the college dining hall where refreshments will be served. At this time the faculty will meet the freshmen parents. President Compton, Dean Diehl, and Miss Irene Kirkeby, freshman advisor, will form the receiving Frostburg State Teachers College welcomes high school seniors and their faculty advisors from all over the state today. Annual Campus Day activities under the sponsorship of Student Congress will begin at 9 a. m. when all visitors will assemble in Old Main prior to registration in the Dining Hall.

From 10 a. m. to 11:30 guides from the Future Teachers of America club on campus will conduct small groups on tours of the buildings and grounds, and will make short visits with their groups to classes in session. During this time there will also be available recreational facilities consisting of television and ping-pong in the Varsity Shop and shuffleboard and badminton in the gymnasium.

Conference Held At State By Supervisors

D. Patterson Gives Main Address To Members

One of the first three regional conferences of Maryland general and special supervisors was held October 19-21 at Frostburg State Teachers College.

The conference began with a coffee hour in the dining hall. This was followed by greetings from our president, Miss Lillian Compton. Mr. James E. Spitznas, Director of Instruction of Maryland State Department of Education, presented problems involved in supervision.

"Teamwork in Supervision" was an address given by Mr. Don S. Patterson, Chief Supervisor of Elementary Schools, Office and Welfare. Observation guides and schedules of visits were presented. Observation teams were organized and an explanation of the county's organization and program was given.

An observing supervisory program was put to work on the second day, with the different teams visiting area schools.

The conference was concluded with a general session consisting of a panel discussing, "Ways Supervisors Can Best Help Promote Teacher Growth." The high points from the various groups were presented by a recorder from each group.

An evaluation of Maryland schools and the next steps to be taken summed up the conference.

The second conference will be held at Towson State Teachers College October 28-30, and the third at Salisbury State Teachers College November 4-6.

The high school counselors attending will meet with Mr. VanNewkirk, the college guidance counselor, and with Miss Arline Petry, director of student teaching, in the faculty living room in the Residence Hall in the morning.

Program of Events

From 11:15 to 1:30 luncheon will be served in the Dining Hall.

At 1:30 the following program will be presented in the college auditorium:

Message of Welcome—Pres. Lillian Compton; "The Gloria" (Mozart)—Maryland Singers; "Program of Instruction at F. S. T. C."—Joe T. Butler; "Resident Life at F. S. T. C."—Pat Halloran; The Goober Grabbler (Matten)—Maryland Singers.

"Sports Activities"—Ronald Chapman; "Club Activities"—Lucy Kriechbaum; Selection from "The New Moon" (Romberg)—Maryland Singers; Master of Ceremonies—Dale Swecker.

The Maryland Singers, a chorus of ninety-six voices, will be under the direction of Dr. Maurice Matteson, head of the Music Department.

Of the students making the short talks, Miss Halloran and Mr. Butler are seniors; Mr. Chapman is a junior; and Miss Kriechbaum and Mr. Swecker are sophomores.

108 Schools Invited

Until this year students from only four counties of the state, namely, Allegany, Garrett, Washington, and Frederick, have been invited to Campus Day. This year, however, invitations were sent to 108 high school throughout the state.

Members of Student Congress are sponsoring the event and have planned the day's program. William Kirk, a junior, is acting as general chairman. Secretary of the Congress is Lois Neilson, a junior; and chairman in charge of the committee on selection of speakers is Robetta Wilson, a senior.

Directors: Margo Larimore, Charles Briggs, Joe Tom Butler, Miss Edith Humphrey. Actors and actresses: Thomas Buser, Joseph Steen, Jack Carter, Mary Maher, Dolores Fahey.

line. Dr. Alice Schuster of the History Department; Mrs. Alfred Taylor, supervising teacher in the Laboratory

School; Miss Pauline Hobbs, social director; and Mrs. Robert Elderdice will pour.

Allow Us To Repeat . . .

President Lillian Compton has untiringly devoted her years in office to the betterment of Frostburg State Teachers' College. Her aims have been high and she has accomplished them. However, she is never too busy to listen to the student's most trivial problems. Here is a true example of a woman who has consecrated her life to the service of others.

President Compton deserves, as much as any other individual, to have a building on this campus named in her honor. Why not give her this honor now?

Since she was responsible for obtaining our Gymnasium-Auditorium, it is logical that this building should bear her name. The name, LILLIAN C. COMPTON HALL, would make a fitting new addition to the campus.

Thus the appreciation and affection of the college for good deeds rendered would manifest itself in a definite form.

Let's Avoid Haphazard Study

Whew! The first triad is now in the past! We can all say that safely now, but can we say that we did our best and got off to a good start this semester by putting our best foot forward? Some warnings were sent home to our parents of D or F grades. We know what this means, or do we actually know what it signifies to get a triad warning?

If we think about this sincerely, we begin to realize that this is more than a signal that our grades are not up to average. It is a sign that students are failing — not in the sense of a letter grade, but in the way that means the most, that we are not getting from the course what the essentials are — essentials that will be a great boon to us when we get into the field of teaching.

Our college curriculum is planned by people who know what we will need when we teach. If we think about each course seriously and try to realize how it fits into the curriculum, we will concentrate on each subject more and try to get all we can from its presentation instead of the minimum. If we would each strive to do this wholeheartedly, we would all surely be C students or above. I say this because anyone who enters a teachers' college definitely has ability; it is just that some of us are letting up on the amount of effort we put out.

If we could all see the general purpose of our courses and "strain our brain" (they say exercise is good for it, believe it or not) we would look at college in a different way, and when the second six-weeks period is terminated, the administration will have no warnings to compile and send home.

Cooperation Benefits College

In 1901 when State Normal School began functioning, nine freshmen were enrolled. There were limited courses, few instructors, and fewer facilities. This was but a simple beginning for the college. The college has grown considerably since that time. The atmosphere existing on campus during recent years has attracted superior students from many counties, both to the Teacher Education program and to the Junior College.

This year we have a modern college, a faculty of superior instructors, and many up-to-date facilities. We become more aware every day of the advances our college is making with the hum of machinery to be heard all over campus. Our campus will continue to grow, not only materially, but spiritually if we each as individuals contribute our utmost to the morale and development of the college.

Our freshman class of this year is the largest yet, but surely it will not be the largest ever! The students at State now have proved themselves alert, interested persons who are willing to push their campus organizations. By giving intellect, talent, time, and much hard work they are contributing greatly to the high standard of this college.

Today is a day which is dear to the hearts of all of us—Campus Day—the day many first visit the college and when their first impressions are formed. Let us welcome the visitors wholeheartedly. While the students are here on campus day, let's tell them about our warm feelings for our college and also show them around campus. We are all proud of it, so let's be honest and give our opinions as to what we like about our school.

In other words, let's introduce these students to our college and let them know what our program here at college is attempting to do. Tell these visiting students of our friendly close relationships existing on campus. This is one thing we are all conscious of and which most high school students, when thinking about a college, take into consideration.

We feel that the coming of students of a high calibre like those visiting today who are attracted to this college, of which we can be and are very proud, will be the determining factor as to how far our college progresses and grows through the years.

Dorm Doodles

By M. L. M.

"Eek! What's that creature? I'd better stop reading that science fiction. Oh, hi, you kids should yell out your name when you approach someone in a dimly lit hall." The preceding bit of dialogue took place many times when a Phi Omicron Delta pledge appeared. Their unorthodox costumes consisted of white dresses, purple crepe paper ribbons, minus lipstick on mouth but placed on the forehead. As a result of this initiation, the rooms of the sorority members improved tremendously.

Pledges were kept busy during the week with initiations, banquets and, shall we say, an exhibition tour of the town.

The supply of midnight oil was really exhausted last week and the call of Morpheus went unheeded. Reason—triad tests, of course.

A typical conversation ran something like this, "An amoeba is"—"8,000 miles in diameter" interrupted another. "Now, let's see, x+y(b) equals" "H2O," someone adds. By the way, I imagine the drugstores did a landslide business selling aspirin! It was a general consensus that those two days of vacation were well earned.

Speaking of vacations, here are some good tips on packing suitcases.

1. Take everything out of closet (including some of roommates').
2. Gracefully place heavy articles in bottom.
3. Fold other articles carefully on top.
4. Discover there isn't room for everything.
5. Take everything out.
6. Glance at clock.
7. Cram everything in.
8. Sit on lid and fasten it.
9. Start out.
10. Put everything in again. Call roommate to help sit on lid and lock it.
11. Find someone to carry it to the bus station.

They say it's darkest just before dawn, but according to the girls in the dorm, it's at one o'clock when they have a fire drill!

Since yours truly has a very bad case of brain pressure this column will probably not be up to par for this issue. What's brain pressure? Well, when the small amount of knowledge in the brain is drawn out by too many tests, an unequal pressure occurs in and out of the brain and an F is likely to result.

Feline Bobcat Receives Much Deserved Publicity

"Have you noticed him?" Yes, he is quite a permanent fixture here at State. If he isn't at his post beside the door of the kitchen, he can be found on the window sill of the living room. Perhaps he's a music lover and is listening to someone playing the piano?

Of course I'm speaking of our "Collegiate Cat." And of course I'm using the word "him" figuratively since there is no available data on the sex or age of the cat in question. However, I'm sure that it is a regular "Bobcat." Perhaps one of the psychology classes could give one of those tests to determine whether our cat is Robert or Roberta.

An that brings up another point. How about a mascot for our soccer and basketball teams? who would be better qualified.

After talking to the "Collegiate Cat" I discovered that all this publicity has not turned his head. He is still very purringly contented. He has only one thing to ask of the students of State. In his own word, "Please, kids, steer me away from that crazy Science Building. After all I have only nine lives."

You're A Big Wheel Around State's Campus

If you can understand Middle English, if you can find any object under the microscope, if you can get enough sleep, if you don't fall over yourself playing soccer, if freshmen ask your advice, if seniors know your name, if you can take field trips outside of Allegany County, if you can get the lead in the freshman play, if you can be master of ceremonies,

Spooks Haunt State Campus

"Spooky Saturday," alias Halloween, is sneaking right around the corner, and it isn't hard to guess what haunting plans certain people (?) have up their sleeves.

Bill Scott is going to put a hex on his ping pong ball to make sure he never loses the table. It seems Bill has been doing this for quite a while.

Pat Halloran has already started her spooking to see why all's not quiet in the dorm after "lights out." Pat is still trying to expose the little gremlin who has been ringing the bell at odd hours.

Doctor LeFevre is going to haunt out the guilty one who has been tinkering with the television set, and interfering with his favorite pastime—watching "Howdy Doody."

Monsieur Ronnie Rowan has been haunting French class ever since he transferred to teacher training. Each time the prop falls and lets the window drop with a bang, Miss Kirkeby's classes know the spirit of their dear former classmate is with them still. (Some things you just can't get away from.)

If Mr. Sowers finds the chemistry lab in a slightly upset condition, he can be sure little Goblin Kotschenreuther was brewing a secret potion with all the "junk" there.

Has Dave Dunne been practicing the incantations for casting some magic spell, or is he still trying to discover an icing suitable for his delicious Imagination Cake?

Some little gremlin couldn't wait until Halloween to "un-tune" the piano in the Visual Education room.

Betty Tyree and Dick Cover will be out in "Spencer the Spook," sometimes referred to as a car, trying to scare up more ghostly ghosts from State.

So come on, the rest of you spooks, hop on your broomsticks, and get in the spirit, for there's a full moon predicted. (heh-heh!) Have a haunting good holiday, but don't be too hard on your instructors—remember, triad grades are coming out next.

Witches Wish Weird Will In Advance

That State will win all the rest of its soccer games.
That the "Frosh" play will be a great success.
That Dolores Fahey will find out Jim Hall's middle name.
That Gail Snyder will make up her mind about men.
That the W. R. A. volleyball tournament will be a bang-up success.
That Dr. Matteson's Music Lit. classes will go to Pittsburgh.
That every girl in the dorm will have a date every Saturday night.
That Nelle McCoy will be Miss America.
That Anne Leonard will admit that she is from Vale Summit.
That every freshman will make the Dean's list.
That every girl will have naturally curly hair.

That M. C. Maher will bleach her hair.
That every boy will get a '53 Cadillac for Christmas.
That Caroline Smith will start making a little time.
That we will have ham and eggs every morning for breakfast.
That Uncle Sam will send every gal's fellow home for Christmas.
That Bev. Merriman doesn't get gray over the paper.
That every girl in 205 will get her driver's license.
That the house council will operate a snack bar on the third floor.
That Betty McLaughlin won't lose her voice for Christmas eve.
That Bruce Ambrose will win the Academy Award for 1960.
That Phil Hamburg will be a second "Our Miss Brooks."
That there will be a 24 in. TV set in the Varsity Shop.

Reporter Gets Views On Famous Personalities Marx, Sousa, Beria, Herman, Stanwyck Named

Inquiring Reporter: What famous person, living or dead, would you like to meet and why?

Earl Shumaker—Karl Marx would be the one I would like to run into. Why? Because I would like to give him a punch in the nose, but good!

Elwood O'Hara—Make mine John Philip Sousa because I play in the band and Sousa is my favorite march king. In fact, he is the "Emperor of March."

Carolyn Harvey—I would love to meet Rise Stevens. She has a good personality and the qualities of a good opera singer.

Charles Smith—Walt Kelly, author and cartoonist who has originated "Pogo." He has given American humor a new meaning.

Marie Goldsworthy—You know, the only person that interests me at the moment is Lavrentia Beria. I'd love to know how he got out of Russia.

Joe Steen—Only one person, Babe

Herman. Being a Dodger fan, I recognize his great talent as he is the greatest of the great! After all, not every major leaguer gets hit in the head with a fly ball.

Mary Catherine Maher—Margaret Truman because she appears to be friendly and sincere and I would like to talk with her and ask her how it feels to live in the White House.

Bob Martin—Of course, Marilyn Monroe!!! I'd like to see the curves of her teeth; I'm studying to be a dentist.

Dolores Fahey—I wish to see Barbara Stanwyck. I'd like to learn what makes her such a wonderful actress.

Eugene Brown—Julius Caesar. I'd love to meet a man who can be stabbed twenty-three times and make a speech.

Joe Tom Butler—Dale Carnegie because I would like to meet him after reading his wonderful book, How to Win Friends and Influence People.

Margo Larimore—Cary Grant. But I can't think of a reason.

The Little Theatre of F. S. T. C. will hold a formal initiation of new members tonight at 7:00 p. m. in the Club Room. The club's officers and advisor will preside at this candlelight ceremony.

This initiation follows a brief informal one in which the new members were asked to read some selection from literature.

The twenty-five new members of Little Theatre are Edward Barnes, Robertine Boyle, Jean Budd, Tommy Buser, Marion Coontz, Donald Drury, Barbara Fisher, Dolores Fahey, Henry Gardner, Marie Goldsworthy, Janice Hall, Jim Hall, Ethel Houck, Janet Maddrix, Mary Catherine Maher, Bob Martin, Mary Frances Mertz, June Mowbray, Mary Kay Poland, Mary Eileen Powers, Thomas Rowen, Ruth Schade, Nancy Sitter, Gail Snyder, and Joseph Steen.

On Saturday, October 24, several representatives of Little Theatre attended the Workshop held by State Thespians at Fort Hill High School. Accompanying Miss Humphrey to this meeting were Jim Hall, Jean Browning and Eileen Millar.

This group demonstrated the correct way to put on makeup. They also showed the Thespians how to transform a children's story into a play, using last year's production of "Hansel and Gretel" as an example.

Western Md. College Honors Bill Harvey

The following article about Bill Harvey, a former student here at State, recently appeared in the Gold Bug, the campus newspaper at Western Maryland College. This article will be of interest to his former classmates, the present senior class.

Many people in this area will remember Bill for his outstanding performances with the Maryland Singers. For those who didn't know—Bill's sister Carolyn is a member of this year's freshman class.

"Just one year ago, this graduate from the Junior College at Frostburg State Teachers unpacked his bags for the first time at Western Maryland College. Though he received the top scholastic honors in his graduating class, he wasn't willing to rest on any laurels of the past. With his feet under a new desk, he attained a record in his first year here, which enabled him to become an Argonaut. This new year has found Bill as president of this organization.

"Since Bill is a Philosophy-Religion major, it is no wonder that we find him a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha.

"By the way, do you need a good bass? Well, the boys in Ward Hall can speak up for our 'Hill Topper.' Or perhaps you are interested in acting. Do you remember the debonair Duke Orsino in the College Players' presentation of 'Twelfth Night,' or did you see Bill in 'Good-bye, My Fancy'?"

"Bill knows what a difference Christ can make in a person's life—just as this difference came to his own. He chose to enter the ministry a few years ago, and while here on campus has given unstintingly of his efforts to the Methodist Student Movement and the Wesleyans. The responsibility of the vice presidency of the Student Christian Association is his also."

S. C. A. Members Plan To Attend Jewish Service In Pittsburgh, Nov. 1

Members of the Student Christian Association will motor to Pittsburgh on November 1 to attend services at a Jewish Synagogue. Making plans for this trip are Fay Rhodes and Ruth Collier.

The Student Christian Association met recently in the Club Room with Clover Clopper presiding. Representatives from our college who attended Camp Michaux gave reports regarding the recent conference. The conferees included four sophomores, Elinor Sines, Annette Delamater, Margaret Kershner, and Barbara Tedrick.

Dr. Laura Harney, who recently joined the library staff, was guest speaker at the October S. C. A. meeting. She discussed the various religions she encountered in her world travels after which an informal discussion was held.

New A. T. A. Members To Be Guests Of Honor At Coming Banquet

Alpha Tau Alpha fraternity tentatively completed plans at their regular meeting, October 19, for a banquet to honor the organization's new members. Although the exact date of the banquet is indefinite, it will be an event of the near future at Anton's Restaurant on Big Savage Mountain. Lieutenant Edwin Lilya, county police investigator, has been invited to speak. He presents police work in a manner that is both informative and interesting.

Also being considered is a trip to a nearby city to see a professional or college football game.

New members initiated at the last meeting are: Charles Thompson, James Cain, William Frankenberg, Dave Phillips, and Charles Smith.

The rites of initiation were conducted by Grand Senior Don William Brake, Deputy Grand Senior Don John Kelly, Grand Recorder Harold Harrison, Deputy Grand Recorder James Hilaire, Grand Chaplain Frederick Eichhorn, Grand Treasurer Francis Harris, and Grand Tyler Edward Shuck. Refreshments followed the business meeting.

Kappa Pi News Release

The following is reprinted from the Sketch Pad of Kappa Pi, the news bulletin of the National Art Fraternity.

"State Teachers College, Frostburg, Maryland, is another college with a petitioning group at art students for a Kappa Pi chapter. Miss Rosann P. Langhans will be the sponsor, and Joe Tom Butler has been the liaison officer. Maryland will be another state added to our illustrious fraternity."

Tribute Paid To Library Assistants

Perhaps the freshmen have noticed all the students in the library who seem to be able to tell you a lot about finding material. For the benefit of those bewildered freshmen these are library assistants who are trained by Miss Helen Hough, head librarian.

If you have a big assignment due and you just can't find the magazine article, maybe one of the assistants can help you and if they can't, they will find someone who can.

These people are of great help to the librarians, too. They can take charge of the desk to stamp books and to check reserve books in and out. They card books and shelve them. Some of these students have special jobs like cleaning the typewriter or helping to mend books. Some of them can put new cards in the card catalogue.

Those of the assistants most interested in elementary education are given the opportunity to work with the laboratory students in the library of the Lab. School. While they work there they do much the same duties as in the college library.

These students are getting experience both in working with students and in acquiring knowledge of the library.

We should say, "A job well done," to: Elinor Sines, Dolores Ross, Dolores Fahey, Betty McLaughlin, Mary Lou Malcomb, Mary C. Maher, Ruth Collier, Robert Markwood, Eugene Brown, Robert Ambrose and Carolyn Smith.

Alumni Association Lists Addresses Of 1953-54 Officers

One thousand, nine hundred, and ninety-seven represents the total number of graduates since June, 1902. These grads form the ranks of what is known as the Alumni Association.

Last May 16 a business meeting and banquet was in the college dining room for the purpose of revising the club's constitution and for the election of officers for the coming school year.

The new officers are as follows: President—Edward Meconi, 827 Columbia Street, Cumberland; First Vice-President—William Kroll, 71 Washington Street, Frostburg; Second Vice-President—Alma Logsdon, 26 Depot Road, Frostburg.

Recording Secretary—Maxine Jackson, 322½ East Main Street, Frostburg; Corresponding Secretary—Kathryn Laughlin, 338 Mountain View Drive, Cumberland; Treasurer—Jack Snyder, Route 1, Box 212, Cumberland.

The new changes in the group's constitution govern such things as the Alumni Loan Fund and the committees. The Alumni Loan Fund will lend money only to juniors and seniors recommended by President Compton or Miss Hitchens.

The committees are as follows: Publicity Committee, Newsletter Committee, Ways and Means Committee, Nominating Committee, Auditing Committee, and Resolutions Committee.

The Alumni Association is at present attempting to get the correct addresses of all members. They are using a new plan, that of having the secretary of each class try to track down the correct addresses of members of his class.

Bobcats Beat Slippery Rock, 2-1

Kirk's Penalty Wins, Penn Teachers Lose First In Three Years

The Bobcats scored their biggest victory of the season with a 2 to 1 victory over Slippery Rock Teachers from Pennsylvania. It took two five minute over time periods to gain the much deserved victory that knocked the Pennsylvania team from the ranks of the unbeaten. Frostburg's defeat of Slippery Rock was their first loss in a three year period. Their last loss was to Oberlin College from Ohio.

The Pennsylvanians jumped off to a one to nothing lead late in the first quarter. Ball was the man who had the honor of scoring their only goal of the afternoon. Playing a very determined and smart brand of soccer, State took the play away from Slippery Rock, but was unable to score in the next two quarters.

With barely eight minutes left in the game, Ronnie Chapman tied up the game on a cross by wingman Donnie Bell. From that point on, State was the boss on the field. With the score tied at one all at the end of the regular time, the game was thrown into overtime. The first over time period was three minutes old when State got a penalty kick and a chance to take the lead. Bill Kirk proved to be the hero by driving the ball into the net for the game winning score. The shot was an excellent one that bounded into the corner of the net. The goalie didn't have a chance.

Jimmy Byrnes played a bangup game at center halfback, missing a few scoring chances by inches. His defensive play was superb, being his best of the season. Tom Kelly and Gerry Lancaster played excellent ball for the Bobcat's line while Moose Arnone was terrific in the goal with eighteen saves. His day was featured by a diving save in the third quarter that stopped a scoring chance for Slippery Rock. McGaffie, the home team's goalie, made nine saves.

W. R. A. Reports

The fall volleyball tournament started Wednesday, October 21, at 4:00. Games are being played "Double Round Robin" style; thus giving each team six games to play. The Senior game is held at 4:45, in order to give participating student teachers ample time to be prepared.

The first round was from Wednesday, October 21, to Monday, October 26, with teams playing as follows:

Wednesday, 4:00—Freshmen vs. Juniors; 4:45—Sophomores vs. Seniors.

Thursday, 4:00—Freshmen vs. Sophomores; 4:45—Juniors vs. Seniors.

Monday, 4:00—Juniors vs. Sophomores; 4:45—Freshmen vs. Seniors.

The University of Maryland announced an Athletic Federation of College Women Sports Day for October 24. Sports scheduled were relays, swimming or hockey and badminton. Frostburg could not participate in a competitive way in swimming or hockey and since transportation facilities were not available, the W. R. A. decided at its last meeting not to participate. The W. R. A. hopes to participate in the A. F. C. W. winter and spring Sports Days.

Salisbury Shuts Out State In Rough and Tumble Tilt

Frostburg was knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten by an aggressive and determined Salisbury eleven on the Towson field by the score of 2 to 0. With the first quarter being played on even terms, Salisbury bounced ahead to make a 2 to 0 lead at the end of the first half.

With the second quarter only six minutes old, Dryden booted through the first Salisbury score on a cross by Rebstock. Then with just a few minutes left in the half Salisbury got a penalty shot. Younger scored the penalty shot and Salisbury was never headed after that.

Jim Byrnes, State's center halfback, played his usual fine defensive game, as did Buddy Poland, fullback. Offensively Bill Kirk and Tom Kelly sparked State's attack, but a tough Salisbury defense proved the better. It wasn't until the last quarter of the game that Frostburg started to take the play from Salisbury but it all proved to be too late in the contest to cause any harm.

Best for the Eastern Shore Teachers was Younger, a chubby redhead, who was all over the field and who did all the corner kicking.

Ayers, Salisbury goalie, made six saves while "Moose" Arnone made twelve for the Bobcats. The lineups:

Frostburg	Pos.	Salisbury
Arnone	G	Ayers
Fatkin	RB	Lawson
Poland	LB	Knicley
Bob Kirk	RH	Shockley
Byrnes	CH	Hall
Wilson	LH	Navartil
Bell	OR	Rebstock
Bill Kirk	IR	Marth
Shuck	CF	Beachamp
Layman	IL	Younger
Cline	OL	Eley

Substitutes: Frostburg—Kelly, E. Thompson, LaPorta, C. Thompson, Chapman, Smith, Dullabaun. Salisbury—Shaheen, Stevenson, Dryden, Wheatly, Lees, Horner, Brotes, Curless.

Bobcats Score Third Win At St. Mary's

The Bobcats extended their winning ways with a 2 to 1 victory over Mount St. Mary's from Emmitsburg, Maryland. It was the third victory for Coach Babcock's booters in five contests. The loss was St. Mary's first, this being their only game played thus far.

Ronnie Chapman opened the scoring in the second quarter with a smashing drive that came from across by Charlie Thompson. In the third quarter St. Mary's knotted the count on a goal that was punched through by Cevallus. With the fourth quarter hardly underway, State got a penalty kick. Ed. Thompson stepped up to position and drove the ball past the goalie for the game winning goal.

Jim Byrnes was best for State on defense as was Bud Poland and John Fatkin. Jack Cline and Tom Kelly were the students for the scoring line. In general, State's whole team played very excellent and smart soccer. Moose Arnone made four saves for State while Motero, St. Mary's goalie, made fifteen. The lineups:

Frostburg	Pos.	Mt. St. Mary's
Arnone	G	Notero
Fatkin	RB	Kernan
Poland	LB	Oechsling
Bob Kirk	RH	Kerr
Byrnes	CH	Cahill
Wilson	LH	Joy
Lancaster	OR	Beattie
Bill Kirk	IR	Fleming
Kelly	CF	Sohonyay
LaPorta	IL	Horan
Cline	OL	Baden

Substitutes: Mt. St. Mary's—Dumphy, Lotous, Boyle, Cevallus, Donigimios. Frostburg—Dullabaun, Shuck, Bell, Smith, Chapman, C. Thompson, Layman, E. Thompson.

In a previous column a statement was made concerning school spirit and how, even though it is hard to define, you can feel it when you walk onto some campuses.

Our men had an opportunity to experience such a thing on Friday, October 16, at Slippery Rock. There is a spirit of friendliness that is evident immediately. As you walk across their campus, students, faculty, and college employees stop and greet you. They go out of their way to make you feel at home.

Underlying this friendliness is also the evidence of their pride in their school and their loyalty to it. The students take a great pride in their campus and the facilities they have.

They can be particularly proud of the building they call "The Hut." This is a student center built for student recreation. It contains a large lounging room, with fireplace, nicely furnished. There is a separate but very complete snack bar. In the building they also have bowling alleys, and billiard tables. It is under the supervision of a full time employee and run by the student government. The cleanliness of the building was another expression of their pride.

Slippery Rock teams are always hard to beat even when their material is weak. Members of each team play harder because they know the student body is interested and will back them 100% whether they win or lose. The result, of course, is that every man on a squad gives that little extra effort to show his appreciation of student and faculty interest.

In spite of these factors, that are apt to bring about extra pressure to win, their teams are fine sportsmen. As an example, our team took a heart-breaking victory from them on Friday. The game was a very hard, very well played one, by both teams and because only the first game they have lost since 1951. Yet, at the end of the game the Slippery Rock made a point of congratulating the various members of our team and myself. Many faculty members came to me personally to commend our team and the sportsmanship of our boys. In other words here is a school, though they do not lose often in soccer, still knows how to both win and lose graciously.

I hope that we left as good an impression in winning as they did in losing. It also would be a wonderful thing to see on our campus this same loyalty and pride by both students and faculty. The men on our teams deserve it and will certainly appreciate it.

Sports Quiz

If you are sports minded you should be able to answer these simple questions.

1. What two conferences recently made an Orange Bowl pact?
2. What is Bill Veeck's new baseball occupation?
3. Who is the Hickok Award winner for September (pro-athlete of the month)?
4. How much did Baltimore pay the International League for relinquishing the Maryland territory?
5. What is the only unbeaten team in the National Football League?

In The Spotlight

By Bob Hutcheson

The Bobcats of State have gained a feather for Coach Babcock's baseball cap. I am referring to that win which was racked up by our soccer squad over the booters from Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania.

In case you haven't heard, this victory was the first State, or any other College eleven, had scored over the Keystone staters in three seasons.

This contest appeared to be a thriller all the way as the Babcockmen had to come from behind to tie the contest in the final quarter, and then go on to win in the first of two overtime periods.

Things look bright for the future since six of the starting eleven are members of this year's freshman class and only one is a member of this year's graduating class. In fact, only four seniors are playing on the squad this season.

Basketball's Just Around The Corner

Although it is only October and the leaves are just beginning to turn and fade, one is reminded that basketball is just around the corner.

This season the Statemen will play about 18 games and the season opens around December 9, and will run through the first of March.

If last year's team can combine with some of the newcomers with a minimum of friction, I will predict a highly successful campaign. It must be remembered that basketball was originally designed to be a team sport and success can be attained only if cooperation prevails.

One of the familiar faces will be missing this season when the Bobcats take to the "hardwoods." The hardworking Jim Hicks will be conspicuous by his absence as he is serving his tour of duty with Uncle Sam.

Indirect Sportlighting

Ronnie Chapman tallied his first goal in his three years in the Slippery Rock-Frostburg soccer contest . . . Ed Shuck and John Frank, a member of the State Alumni, are acting as referees in the area high school soccer league . . . In case you are interested, J. Suter Kegg, sports editor of the Cumberland Times and Sunday Times, has started a "Beat the Yankees Club." Anyone may join. The object of this club is one of interest to many—to figure out a way to "Beat the Yankees." If you are interested, send your name in to the Cumberland Times, addressed to Suter, and you will join the list of members . . . I understand Jack Barham is acting as director of the first drills in basketball for all persons who are not engaged in the soccer sport . . . By the way Mysteria U. still rolls on undefeated as it has for two seasons.

Featuring Sports

By DAVE

I shall be rooting for the revised Orioles next season even if they don't reach the first division because of their attitude toward the Yankees. After the opposition offered by Del Webb to the Baltimore franchise, the "birds" are wanting to put a little salt on the Yankee tail—part of my night prayers for four years.

If you're wondering why the Senators changed their attitude toward the eastern movement, it may be that the supposed offering of $350,000 to Clark Griffith by the Nats' present radio and television sponsor melted the opposition. The National Brewing Company offered the owner of the Washington club the high sum for an "o. k." vote, then they contacted the Orioles for air wave rights. Now the same organization sponsors both teams.

Now that everybody is talking about the Yankee brawler, "Bully Boy," we might note a bit of his past. His dad was a Portuguese, his mother an Italian. When they broke up, "Bully" was very young and started out on his own—an "other side of the tracks kid." After Stengel got the Oakland fans to admire Martin, he brought his protege, along with Jackie Jensen, to the Bombers in 1949.

By now, I'm sure that the New Yorkers are well pleased that their plans to trade him to Philly for Feris Fain fell through.

For all my fellow Pittsburgh rooters, the Bucs have signed their first negro player, Curt Roberts. According to his name, he should be a combination of Curt Simmons and Robin Roberts (happy day), except that he's an infelder. With Vernon Law returning from the majors, the Bucs pitching staff is to be greatly bolstered—Haney hopes. Recently Rickey said that it would be two years before the Pirates are pennant contenders; immediately, he was given the bird. That is, the club members gave him an owl for being the "wisest man in baseball."

Comments: WHOO! WHOO! WHOOO! I hope that the Bobcats' fans realize what a great soccer team is representing them between the goal posts this year. After their road victories, topped by the conquest of Slippery Rock, we all should look forward to seeing them play the University of Pittsburgh on November 30.

You'll all enjoy the hard, driving brand of soccer that they display; so come on gang, this Friday afternoon, let's be rooting the boys home in front. See you at the soccer game.
