

Faculty To Complete Work On Curriculum At Towson

The faculty and administration will leave for Baltimore Wednesday, October 12, to attend the Five College Conference at Towson on Wednesday and Thursday. On October 14 and 15 the instructors will participate in the Ninety-Third Annual Convention of the Maryland State Teachers Association in Baltimore.

The meeting of the five State Teachers Colleges will be directed by Dr. Harold Reese, Supervisor of Teacher and Higher Education. A brief talk entitled "The Challenge" will be presented by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, State Superintendent of Schools.

Following Dr. Pullen's talk will be a discussion of general education requirements. The personnel from the five colleges will be divided into ten groups for this discussion. Dr. Lucile N. Clay, chairman of the English Department at Frostburg, and Dr. Ward Cole, of the Music Department, will serve as chairmen of two of the discussion groups.

On Thursday, October 13, summary reports of the discussion held the previous evening will be held followed by a meeting of Dr. Reese and the Deans of Instruction with the chairmen of the Majors-Minors groups. Meetings by departments for a discussion of requirements for majors and minors will ensue. A complete report in its final form will be given to Dr. Reese at the end of the discussion.

Speaking at the MSTA Convention on its first day will be Dr. Wernher Von Braun, director of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Huntsville, Alabama. His address is entitled "Why Must We Conquer Space?" Dr. Von Braun, a native of Germany, came to the U. S. in 1945.

Noted author, editor, and radio commentator, Emily Kimbrough, will speak at the Thursday evening dinner meeting in the Lord Baltimore Hotel ballroom. Miss Kimbrough's most noteworthy book, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," was written in collaboration with Cornelia Otis Skinner.

Friday's address, entitled "I Return to Russia as an American," will be given by Nila Magidoff, author and lecturer, who once lived in Russia, was exiled to Siberia, and two years ago returned to Russia to compare living conditions there now with those of ten years before.

Dr. Neil H. Swanson, editorial writer and columnist of the Baltimore News-Post and Sunday American, will lecture on "Leadership for Leaders—A Critical Look at Teachers" at the concluding session of the state convention on Saturday morning. Dr. Swanson, the recipient of the School Bell Award for his comments on education in the News-Post, is the author of nine books, seven of which are best-sellers.

The All-Maryland High School Band and Orchestra and the Hyattsville Junior High School Chorus will present a variety of musical selections for each session of the convention. Guest conductors will be Fred Marzan, Band Director of Morehead State College, Morehead, Kentucky, and Marvin Rabin, of Boston.

Nine Student Editors To Attend Convention

Nine members of the Nemacolin staff and Dr. Samuel Underwood, advisor, are to attend the twenty-sixth annual Critique and Contest for yearbooks of the CSPA on October 13-16 in New York.

"A Dynamic Editor at Work" is the title of the speech to be given by Judy Wilson. Judy is the executive editor of Nemacolin for the second year. For the third year, Bill Brown, business manager, will speak on "Practical Tips for Business Management of Yearbooks." Bill received a letter of commendation from the State Auditor for his last year's work.

Dr. Samuel Underwood, who has been an active member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for fifteen years, will deliver a speech entitled "The Work of the Yearbook Advisor."

Throughout the country over 1500 representatives of colleges will take part in this 26th annual event. An additional clinic will be held where the yearbooks will be analyzed and the ratings will be announced on October 14.

Chairmen Plan Campus Days

Campus Day for Maryland high school students will be held on October 21 and 22, according to Judy Ritchey and Lois Sweitzer, general co-chairmen.

Allegany, Frederick, Garrett, and Washington county students will visit the college on Friday, October 21, while those from Carroll, Charles, Montgomery, Prince Georges, and St. Mary's counties will participate in Saturday's activities.

Student Congress has planned a program for both days, including classroom visitations, campus tours, and an assembly. A play entitled "Noah" will be presented by the Little Theatre and Alpha Psi Omega dramatic groups.

Faculty counselors from the high schools will accompany the students and will have the opportunity to meet and talk with students from their particular high school, the college faculty advisors, and members of the administrative staff.

Students heading the central committees are Ann Schwanebeck, housing; Ona Kile, seating; Janet Nelsen, invitations; Jane Wright, registration; Carol Hooper, programs, and Ann Childress, tours.

Serving on the planning committee are Helen Hoover, chairman, Dorothy Shaw, Joan Gisriel, Barbara Jackson, and Carol Miller.

IRC To Participate In Regional Meet

Members of the International Relations Club and Dr. Hazel Ramsey, advisor, are to attend a combined meeting of the Middle Atlantic Regional Association to be held in New York City on October 21 and 22.

Representing Frostburg at the conference will be Carolyn Baucum, Dorothy Wilson, Mary Madeilyn Smith, Lona Shaw and Steve Bittner. These students will participate in round table discussions centering around this year's theme for the conference, "U. S. Foreign Policy and South East Asia."

The two main speakers for the conference are Mr. Lionel Landry of the Foreign Policy Association World Affairs Center and the Honorable Florence P. Dwyer, member of Congress.

Mr. Lionel Landry, who has spent five years in Burma with the U. S. Information Agency, will speak Friday evening. Mrs. Dwyer will speak on "The Ugly American and How to Combat This Problem" and also concerning the American Foreign Service Academy.

The round table discussions will take place on Saturday morning. The groups, composed of students, will discuss the various aspects of the problem such as trade, cultural relations, mutual assistance, and what, if anything, should be done about our foreign policy.

A combined report of all the discussion groups will be presented to the whole session. A final report of the discussion groups will be sent to the State Department.

NEMACOLIN EDITORS: Going to New York are Doris Lewis, Dr. Samuel Underwood, Sally Layman, Judy Kuhn, Robert Funk, Becky Engel, and (seated) Judy Wilson.

Pittsburgh Symphony To Present Concert

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of William Steinburg, will give a concert on Tuesday, October 25, at 8:00 p. m. in the Fort Hill High School Auditorium, Cumberland.

All proceeds from this concert, sponsored by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, go to the local community service projects.

Madrigal Singers are selling tickets on campus. Proceeds will go for the Madrigals' Spring Tour and for their uniforms. Prices are $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. Tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats.

Instructor Exhibits Prints

Mr. John O. Schlump of the Art Department is holding a one-man graphic arts exhibition from October 2 to 22 at Cabill Art Center, Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio. The collection, which includes twenty-six relief prints with as many as fifteen colors on a print, was prepared by Mr. Schlump during the past five years.

The collection includes a series of prints called "The Cockfight" and one picture with three different prints entitled the "Creation of Light."

The "Creation of Light," composed of black, white, and gray, depicts the three stages in the Biblical description of the creation of light. The first picture is captioned, "... let there be light," the second, "And God made . . . the greater light to rule the day," and the third, "... the lesser light to rule the night."

This print was first displayed at the Fifth Annual Christian Art Show in Madison, Wisconsin, and next at the national exhibit in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. From there the print was sent to Europe to be displayed.

Materials used by Mr. Schlump to make the relief prints were wood, linoleum, lacquer, and oils.

In order to make a block print, the artist must first draw on the wood and then the parts which are used to make the design are carved out of the material. For each color in a composition, a different block print must be made. In Mr. Schlump's exhibition, it was sometimes necessary to make as many as fifteen blocks per print.

Former Exhibits

In the past, Mr. Schlump has held exhibits of his own at Michigan State University and at Wittenberg University. He has had entries in professional exhibits in Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Wisconsin. Mr. Schlump also did a series of illustrations in black and white for the national college magazine, Frontiers.

After earning his bachelor of science and bachelor of fine arts degrees at Wittenberg University and his master of arts at Michigan State University, Mr. Schlump became the art supervisor of Delta public schools in Ohio. Last year he became a member of this college faculty.

In the art field, Mr. Schlump's major interests are graphic arts and oil painting. This past summer he taught the local A. A. U. W. oil painting class.

Plans are under way to display Mr. Schlump's graphic arts relief printing exhibition here at Frostburg.

UN Requires Strengthening

It was inevitable in the scheme of world history that, just as smaller political units banded together in larger, more unified bodies for protection, so have modern nations joined in a federation for protection from the most crucial threat faced by the twentieth century—from the threat of full-scale atomic war. This federation is the organization which we know as the United Nations.

Undoubtedly the United Nations represents the most decisive move toward lasting peace mankind has made thus far. Yet in almost every session the ineffectiveness of the U. N. becomes apparent even to the casual observer. It is obvious that an underlying weakness is rendering the United Nations almost impotent.

Since the inception of the United Nations structure, critics of this organization have compared it with its forerunner, the League of Nations. It is often observed that the lack of enforcement power which was the principal factor in the League's downfall may mean the downfall of the United Nations. Unfortunately, several cases seem to have corroborated this view.

What is the reason for this lack of power? It is the refusal of the individual nations to relinquish at least a token amount of their sovereignty to the United Nations as a whole. One of the examples of this is the passage by the Congress of the Connally Act. This act made the International Court of Justice's decisions regarding the United States subject to review and subsequent possible repudiation by the United States Congress. Legislation such as this, which has been enacted throughout the nations of the world, hinders the U. N. as an effective instrument of peace.

The solution? Each nation of the world must realize the need for the United Nations. This organization must wield far greater power than any individual nation. The United Nations can, if allowed to develop to its fullest capacity, provide a world of peace and order through multilateral negotiation.

Poetry Forms Invisible Ties

Because so much can be gained from reading poetry of all types, October 15 has been set aside for the celebration of "World Poetry Day." The purpose of the observance has been stated thus: "To unite the nations of the world by the invisible ties of poetry, thereby creating a deeper universal understanding."

All poets from Homer and Vergil down through Milton, Omar Khayyam, Southey, Dickinson, and Frost, have reflected the temper of the ages in which they lived. They have written of the great, eventful things of life.

They have written of joy and of sorrow, of wealth and of poverty, of peace and of war. They have written of love, despair, truth, virtue, kindness.

To read poetry is to learn of mankind, to feel what many people feel and have felt.

New experiences broaden your outlook on life and make you a sympathetic, understanding individual. Only through sympathy and understanding can the people of the world, can the nations of the world, be united.

New Plan For Trimester

We have noted that some colleges are using the "Trimester" plan, which divides the academic calendar into three major parts: September to mid-December; January to mid-April; mid-April to July. This would give one month of holiday to everyone in August.

The main arguments in favor of this program include:

1. Fuller utilization of the buildings.
2. Acceleration of study for students.
3. Possible lower annual operational costs.

The disadvantages include:

1. Difficulties arising from the school's not being on the same calendar as other colleges.
2. Curtailment of conferences and short courses offered in the summer.
3. Less vacation time.

Three Join Lab School Staff

Happy children's songs, bright colored bulletin boards, and shining floors all combine to make our new Pullen school one of the most pleasant places to visit.

Miss Lucile Graves

Mr. Leigerton McNulty, Jr.

Miss Esther Harris

The staff of the school has been changed this year by the addition of two new teachers and a librarian.

Miss Lucile Adams Graves replaces Mrs. Emma R. Young in the kindergarten. Miss Esther J. Harris, sixth grade teacher, takes the place vacated by Mrs. Kathleen B. Layman. The new librarian, Mr. Leigerton E. McNulty, Jr., replaces Miss Edra Bogle.

A native of Rochester, New York, Miss Harris received her degree from Genese State Teachers College. She also did graduate work on Temple University, Philadelphia, and at Columbia University Teachers College. Miss Harris has had previous teaching experience throughout New York State. Teaching at the campus laboratory school is her first experience teaching outside a public school system.

Miss Graves may discover Frostburg winters somewhat different from the winters in her native Martinsville, Virginia. She was graduated from Madison College in Harrisonburg, Virginia, the turkey capital of the world. All Miss Graves' previous teaching has been in that state. Some of her more recent positions were in Covington and Danville, Virginia. Miss Graves, too, has never before taught outside the public school system. Miss Graves has as her hobbies cooking and sewing.

Mr. McNulty, the new librarian, is also from a neighboring state, Pennsylvania. A native of Carlisle, he graduated from Gettysburg College. Mr. McNulty also engaged in graduate work at Columbia University. Before coming to Frostburg Mr. McNulty was associated with the Free Library of Philadelphia. He stated that among his many interests were automobiles and music, both popular and classic. Mr. McNulty may have to join a polar bear club to continue participating in his favorite sport—swimming.

High Fashion Demands Dazzling Look For Fall

Bright colors are giving vivacity and sparkle to the look on campus this fall. Many-hued stripes and prints are being seen in everything from sheaths to shetland sweaters.

Bandstand, straight, or pleated—the skirts are shorter than ever.

Shaggy and bulky knit sweaters in every color from loden to lavender, bronze to black, are destined to be tops in fashion again this year.

Queen Anne's heels, loafers, and a whole new line of pointy-toed shoes are stealing the scene in footwear.

The boys, too, are holding their own in Scandinavian ski sweaters, subtle-hued cord trousers, and shoes of textured leathers.

For girls and boys, the ever-popular trench coat is the perfect top for any campus outfit.

Co-ed Finds Waiting Exasperating Ordeal

"Well, Here I am! Now, where are my pictures? What? I have to sign my name at the bottom of that mean old long list, and sit down?"

But have class in seven minutes. . . All right, but I don't think it very nice of you. Is this chair taken? Thanks, I will. Say, How long have you been here? Since yesterday! Oh, you forgot to bring your serial code number and they are still looking for your proofs?

Isn't it fun to look over proofs, and try and pick out the most true to life, glamorous pose? They just called your name—don't take too long to ponder 'cause I have a class in five minutes.

Hi there . . . You're new at the college aren't you? We did? Go steady last year? What's your name again? Oh, I remember, you are the steady that I ate breakfast with. I never remember anything that happens before lunch!

I just love having my picture taken. That photographer was so clever. He took all of my pictures with my back to the camera. Yes, my back does have character.

I can't decide whether to order blue eyes or brown eyes. How charming of you to notice . . . yes one eye is blue and the other brown . . . but I like them to match on pictures. Just a pet peeve of mine, I guess.

There's my name, oh boy! And there's the bell. (gloom)

Nature Hike Proves Exciting Experience

I got up early that Saturday morning. I was so excited! I was going on a hike.

Hastily I dressed. With this year's figure in last year's slacks, I decided I had better take some safety pins with me just in case a seam would give way. But my school shirt was large enough.

In fact, it was a trifle too large. At that moment I couldn't forget the boy who sold me the shirt. I clearly remember him saying, "It will shrink—take a large." Well, he didn't realize that the shirt wouldn't shrink that much.

So, with the shirt nearly to my knees, and hanging four inches beyond my hands, I consoled myself with the idea that I had gotten a bargain after all. Not many girls have skirts and gloves attached to their shirts. Not for three dollars anyhow.

This hike was to be a nature hike. So, of course I needed a camera with its tripod, a tree book, a flower book, a general plant book, an animal book, a mineral book, and a first aid kit.

I joined the group of other outdoor lovers, and we were off for a carefree day in the mountains. I tramped across open fields, trudged up winding mountain paths, rolled down one rocky mountain path, landing in a trickling stream at the bottom.

Throughout the day I collected souvenirs—slag, coal, slag, weeds and more slag.

Before coming home, all of our hikers decided to stop and eat our sandwiches. All of us were hot and so tired.

With sticky mouth, slag filled clothes, and heavy feet I dragged my tired body home. And exhausted after a long day's hike, I overcame my fatigue that night by "cutting-the-rug" at the dorm party.

Pert Girls Answer Reporter's Sad Quiz

A reporter for State to Date Has jobs of tremendous magnitude To write what readers appreciate, With a cheerful, peppy attitude. Given assignments on Friday night

He's filled with boundless energy, Onto bustling campus he bursts And interviews industriously. A fearless writer never falters, So he questions Jane Ann Walters. "Tell me co-ed, do you think, The United States is on the brink?"

Her response he could not top, She pondered and asked, "Of what?"

He hurried at a fast clip clop To seat of culture—Varsity Shop. Around red tables in fine array, Sat campus belles, on display. In the midst sat Marsha Barclay, Over the noise and din he spoke: "Tell me, Miss, your speculation On the fate of United Nations." With an alluring smile she said, "They insist on demonstrations!" What could be the cause or reason?

Are these gals prone to teasin'? A reporter for State to Date Wants news that all appreciate.

News Briefs

Sixteen Art Club members went on a sketching party Monday, September 26, to Casselman's Bridge this side of Grantsville on Rt. 40.

Present were Janet Beadle, Carolyn Brooks, Sue Clover, Carolyn Burgan, Jean Noel, Bob Funk, Serena Krach, and Bob Lewis. Also attending were Mary Clare McNamée, Olivia Pittinger, Sally Poehelman, Bill Sturtz, Doris Wilder, Josie Saum, Mary Lee Callis, and their advisor, Mr. John Schlump.

At a recent meeting of the Do-Ci-Do Club new officers were elected. They include president, Harriet Rippenburger, vice president, Sammy Hoffer and treasurer, Linda La Grange. The offices of secretary, Mary June Wolfe and social director, Ann Schwanebeck remained unchanged.

The club is planning to sponsor an all-college roller skating party in the latter part of October.

The Bobcat Rod and Gun Club was organized last fall. Their main interest is in conservation projects in Western Maryland.

Under the supervision of Mr. Thomas Turner, the club advisor, and the officers John Hawkins, president; Don Nicholson, vice president; Alton Hoopengardner, secretary; and Ted Hebb, treasurer, the club has many activities planned for the coming year.

The club meets every other Thursday in Compton Gym Rhythm Room and is open to anyone interested, including girls.

The Literary Circle sponsored a trip to the Mountain Playhouse at Jennerstown, Pennsylvania, on Wednesday. The group saw a modern comedy, Separate Rooms. Donald Unger is president of the Literary Circle.

A musical group newly organized within the present group of Madrigal Singers made an appearance on a closed circuit television show, "Frostburg's Growing Tree" on Tuesday, October 4, in Hagerstown, Maryland.

The group on this occasion included Sally Traver and Eva Bourne, sopranos; Caarole Bean, Sue Ebersole, and Marsha Barclay, altos; Howard Lemmert and Charles I. Sager, tenors; and Ken Moreland and Eugene Kidwell, basses.

The group sang music from the literature of the Elizabethan period when it was customary to sing while seated about a table.

Student from the Literature for Youth class, and members of the Do Ci Do, made a trip to the Springs Festival in Spring, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, October 1.

The group first visited the Springs Museum. The festival grounds were the next attraction. There were many sections throughout the grounds depicting customs of the Mennonite and Amish people.

The students were accompanied by Dr. Dorothy Howard and her son, William Howard.

Outdoor Club Group To Visit C&O Canal

Outdoor Club members are planning a hike along the C and O Canal set for Saturday, October 22.

The group will leave the college at 8:30 a. m. They will journey to Oldtown to begin the hike which has become an annual project.

The trip is an all day affair and lunches for the hikers are provided by the college and the club.

At the September 29 meeting, Janice Glime, a third year member, showed slides from trips taken last year and nature slides of interest to the club. Refreshments of cider and pastries were served.

Dr. Franklin Lane and Dr. Waldron Skinner of the Science Department are advisors to the club. Dr. Jack Snyder has agreed to help whenever needed. Ona Kile is president this year with Jackie Calhoun as vice president, Becky Nail as treasurer, Janice Glime as secretary and Helen Cummings as historian.

Fraternity To Sponsor Smoker, Pledge Week

Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity will hold a smoker October 20 for all college men interested in joining, states Pledge Marshal James Smith. Bids will be posted by Miss Campbell, social director, one week later.

The actual pledging period begins on November 7 and continues for four weeks.

All students must have a point score of at least 2.0. First semester freshmen or transfer students are not eligible to pledge this semester.

Assisting Jim on the pledging activities committee are Donald Turley, Harold Vance, Gene Zumpano, Fred Schultz and John Nussner.

Included in future activities will be the selling of mums for the Homecoming game and dance. Pre-sale orders will start Oct. 10.

Upperclassmen May Work Toward Fulbright Grants

Juniors on this campus should begin now to work towards obtaining a Fulbright scholarship for study abroad after they graduate, according to Dr. William Van Newkirk, Fulbright advisor here.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, State Superintendent, Maryland State Department of Education, is chairman of the State Fulbright Committee, and he has urged all teacher college students to give serious consideration to these opportunities for study abroad.

Since applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad, juniors should begin to develop plans of proposed study so that they may be ready to apply in October, 1961.

Recipients of Fulbright awards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and roundtrip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U. S. Department of State.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U. S. Citizenship at time of application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1961; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic record are also expected. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

The Institute of International Education, founded in 1919, seeks to foster international understanding.

Band Selects Majorettes For Coming Season

Buttrill Will Serve As Freshman Prexy

William Buttrill from Annapolis High is the new president of the freshman class, as reported by chairman Louise Downton of the Election Committee of Student Congress. The vice president is Robert Kamauff from Beall High, the secretary is Cathy Froelich from Annapolis High, and the treasurer is William Ogle from Middleton High.

Two representatives to Student Congress were also elected on Wednesday, October 5. They are Mike Todd from Suitland High, and Patricia Lavelle from Hagerstown High.

Nominees were allowed to make five minute speeches during the freshman class assembly. Immediately following the assembly, voting took place in the Orientation classes.

Pennsy Team Makes Debut At Frostburg

By Eddie Root

Traditional rival, Grove City, will make its initial appearance on the Bobcats' home grounds on Saturday, October 22, at 2:00 p. m.

Grove City will make the journey from Pennsylvania with a large thirty-five man squad. According to Coach Dan Leviton, Grove City will have the fastest squad in the school's history and will also have outstanding representation from their freshman class.

Seven lettermen will form the nucleus of the Pennsy school's squad, with Pete Buttner, All-American from Bremen, Connecticut, being the standout player. Frostburg's Coach Kenneth Babcock has stated that Buttner is undoubtedly one of the best soccer players in the United States.

Grove City was dealt a severe blow when letterman goalie, Hank Macler, of Elmira, New York, received an injury which might possibly keep him out of action for this game.

Graduation slightly dented the Grove City line-up with last season's top scorer, Chris Takoudes, of Binghamton, New York, and sensational halfback Andy Fiorentino, of Bridgeville, Pennsylvania, having departed via the sheepskin route.

Grove City Formidable Foe

As might be expected from past scores, the Grove City contest looms as a major stumbling block on the Bobcats' schedule. The series is all even now with both teams having won one, lost one, and tied on three occasions.

One of the series' most interesting highlights occurred in the 1954 contest at Grove City. The Pennsy team was undefeated when the touring Bobcats stopped by for a game. Frostburg completely humiliated the "destiny bound" team by scoring a 4-0 triumph.

In preparation for Grove City's game and other contests that follow on the soccer schedule, Coach Babcock has anticipated making several changes. These changes move Jim Kelly up to the front line along with frontline newcomer "Sapp" Truly. In spring play Adolf Doerk, Dick Hesterberg, and Jerry Llewellyn have given Coach Babcock a good, steady halfback line.

Harold's Herald

By Harold Schriver

Conspicuous by their absence is the lack of goals scored by the Bobcat soccer team in its first two encounters for the 1960 season.

Also conspicuous, but this time by its presence, is the number of goals scored against the team in games with Pitt and Lock Haven. The total of eight counters registered by these two teams exceeds the total number allowed by the defense-minded squad of 1959.

At least one half of these goals have been of the "fluke" nature. Three of the points racked up by Lock Haven and one by Pitt were enough to make someone start talking to himself. Of course it takes a little luck and a lot of skill to win games, but in the latest encounter of the Cats, these ingredients were reversed—a lot of luck and a little skill.

In plain, simple words, Pitt just outclassed State's team in hanging the initial defeat on the soccer ledger. The passwork and defense of the Panthers were symbolic of the highly ranked team they are.

This lack of scoring (two goals in two games) brings to mind some of the records that are still within reach of the Bobcat booters: those records are (1) the most goals scored by one player in a single game, (2) the most goals scored by a player in a season, and (3) the most goals scored by a team in one game.

The first two mentioned records are held by erstwhile State star and three time All-Southern player, John Horine.

Horine's record of four goals in one game was set in the 1958 Homecoming Game as he booted in all the points in a 4-0 white-washing of Lynchburg College. In this same season, the hard hitting lefty also connected for a total of 11 goals, a record that still stands.

Having scored the only goals registered to date, Butch Young seems to be the only likely prospect to have a chance at equalling or breaking either one of these records. Pound-for-pound, you can't find a better ball player than Butch; so here's hoping he gets a real shot at both records.

As the paper goes to press, Butch still has seven games at his disposal for purposes of record breaking. Good luck, Butch.

Young Scores; Bobcats Lose

On Saturday, September 24, the Frostburg Bobcats opened their soccer season with the highly rated Panthers of Pitt University. Pitt journeyed to the Mountain City to test their talents against the home booters, and carried away a 3-1 victory.

The Panthers scored the first goal of the day early in the first quarter, but the Bobcats fought back to tie the score with a tally in the same period. Roy "Muggs" Sigler, the Cats' right wing, dribbled the ball down his side of the field, and, with the accuracy of a sharpshooter, crossed the ball to "Butch" Young in front of Pitt's goal.

The shot off of Sigler's foot came so hard and fast that Young didn't have time to use his head to think, but use his head he did. With a lunge forward "Butch" headed the ball straight into Pitt's goal to rustle the nets for the Bobcats' only tally of the day.

The visiting Panthers added two more goals to defeat the Bobcats, 3-1.

The next game found the Bobcats taking the road to do battle against Lock Haven State. This game found the luckless "Cats" on the bottom end of the score with Lock Haven booting home five goals to State's one. The Bobcat goal came off of the foot of "Butch" Young, who was assisted on the score by Art Scarpelli, the left wing.

Intramural Football Paced By Scotties; Three Lead Scoring

Five teams comprise the intramural touch football league for the 1960 season. Following the regular season's completion, a single elimination tournament will be held, the winners to receive medals.

As would be expected from the relatively high scores of the games, there are several players battling it out for the leading scorer's spot. Outstanding among the leaders are John McClelland of the Scotties, Bob Brannon of the SK's, and Ronnie Mann of the Mau Mau's.

Currently leading the pack are the Scotties, paced by the strong arm passing of "Corky" Conolly.

State Cagers In 21 Games; 12 Home Tilts

By Charles Adcock

Basketball practice for the coming season will begin on October 17, according to Coach Ron Van Ryswyk. Dr. Van Ryswyk will have three weeks to work with the squad before the soccer players report for practice.

The opening game will be played against Coppin State Teachers College, at Coppin, on December 3, instead of with previously scheduled Shepherd College.

This year's team will feature a small, but veteran squad. Last year's rebounding problems have been aggravated by the loss of star rebounder Leon Brumback, who has used up his college athletic eligibility. Also missing from this year's squad is Ronald Mann, who last semester experienced scholastic difficulties.

Coach Van Ryswyk will have to call on the freshman class for some rebounding help for 6 feet 3 inch George Lauder, 6 feet 2 inch Hank Winner, and 6 feet 2 inch John McClelland and Geoff Whitmore.

Other veterans from last year's campaign include Ronald Young, Roy Sigler, Gerry Llewellyn, Sam Holliday, Johnny Nussear, Mike McLuckie and Lynn Kerns. Coming up from the JV ranks will be Jerrie Boccuto, Bob Brannon, Dan Williams, Glenn Davis, and Tom Carter.

Freshman Class Candidates

Candidates from the freshman class include Bill Brooks and Don Kline, Frederick; Carl Shipley, Gaithersburg; Mickey Scaletta La Salle; Jack Patterson, Anne Arundel; Bob Grove, Bruce; and Bill Garlitz, Valley.

Another newcomer is "Corky" Connolly, sophomore transfer student from Presbyterian Junior College in Maxton, North Carolina. Returning to State for possible basketball stardom are Ed "Sapp" Truly and Jim Thompson.

For the first time in State's basketball history, Coppin State Teachers College of Baltimore will face the Bobcats. Missing from this year's schedule, however, will be Fairmont STC, defeated in a 77-76 thriller last year by the Bobcats, and West Liberty State.

Dr. Van Ryswyk is optimistic and hopes to assemble one of the best defensive teams in the area.

Edna Mae's Angle

The volleyball tournament is well under way. All the girls have participated in two practices and now the actual round robin tournament is beginning. Officials for the volleyball games are girls of W. R. A. They are required to take a volleyball test before they are eligible to officiate.

The girls officiating are Kay Branch, Deanna Knepper, Judy Bryan, Sally Logwood, Dottie Doonan, Judy Romine, Sherri Cameron, Charlotte Couzens, Annete Weimer, Judy Wilson, and Barbara Carbaugh.

There are hockey practices at 6:00 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The goal of these practices is to form two teams for future team participation against other schools. The girls are looking forward to the new women's field which is now under construction. The W. R. A. is going to replace the old hockey equipment.

Have you seen girls on campus with sun-burned faces? They are the twenty-two girls who had a perfectly wonderful day, October 1, on a trip to Fairmont Clinic under the direction of Pittsburgh University. While there, W. R. A. made contacts with Davis and Elkins, and Fairmont for hockey games later in October. The crowd felt that it was one of the most worthwhile things that the Women's Recreation Association has been able to participate in for a long time.

The float committee, under the direction of Barbara Tompkins, is busily working on plans for W. R. A's future float in the Homecoming Parade.

Six New Members Bolster Cheering Squad

Five freshmen and one junior were selected as new Cheerleaders for the 60-61 year.

They were chosen by Dr. Ron Van-Ryswyk, football coach; Miss Carol Cleveland, Woman's Physical Education instructor; Jean Ward, President of W. R. A.; Jim Kelly, President of M. A. C.; Butch Young, varsity soccer player; Chris Ditto and Kathy Gordon, varsity cheerleaders. They were judged on their preparation, smile, balance, appearance, technique, enthusiasm, and coordination.

For the first time in the history of this college, we have male cheerleaders. Three boys—two freshmen, Lindsay Fisher, Middletown, and Bill Buttrill, Annapolis, and one junior, Larry McLean, Gaithersburg, have been added to the team. Also three freshman girls, Pat Lavelle, South Hagerstown; Vickie Green, North Carroll, and Loretta Frush, Northwestern of Hyattsville, are newcomers.

Returning from last year's squad are Captain Chris Ditto, South Hagerstown; Kathy Gordon, Northwestern of Hyattsville; Ann Childress, Oxon Hill; Ginny Killen Allegany of Cumberland; and Mary Alexander, Sykesville.
