FSU's Lane Center Earns LEED Gold Certification for Sustainability Efforts

FSU's renovated Lane University Center has been awarded LEED® Gold certification established by the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) and verified by the Green Building Certification Institute (GBCI). LEED is the nation's preeminent program for the design, construction and operation of high-performance green buildings.

"Obtaining LEED Gold status for the Lane Center renovation is very rewarding," said John Brewer, FSU's assistant director of facilities, who helped spearhead the certification efforts. "At Frostburg State University, we always try to be a regional leader in everything we do. It is no different when dealing with facilities. Having a LEED Gold building on our campus shows that we are leaders committed to the fight against climate change."

"This is an important milestone in FSU's ongoing sustainability efforts and our commitment to creating a more sustainable campus," said President Jonathan Gibraltar. "I'm very grateful to FSU for seeing this process from start to finish by working with USGBC and GBCI."

FSU's Lane Center achieved LEED certification for energy use, lighting, water and material use as well as incorporating a variety of other sustainable strategies into its redesign. A number of green design and construction features were incorporated to positively impact the project itself and the broader community. These features include:

- A white reflective roof that doesn't absorb heat, reducing the building temperatures in the summer months and reducing the use of air conditioning
- Native plants and shrubs, which require less water and do not require an irrigation system

- Low-flow toilets and faucets, to reduce water use
- Low VOC (volatile organic compound) materials such as paint, adhesives and sealants, which reduce harmful emissions
- Energy-efficient heating, cooling and lighting systems and green cleaning products and equipment

By using less energy and water, LEED-certified buildings save money for families, businesses and taxpayers; reduce greenhouse gas emissions; and contribute to a healthier environment for residents, workers and the larger community.

"With each new LEED-certified building, we get one step closer to USGBC's vision of a sustainable built environment within a generation," said Rick Fedrizzi, president, CEO and founding chair of the U.S. Green Building Council. "As the newest member of the LEED family of green buildings, Frostburg State University's Lane Center is an important addition to the growing strength of the green building movement."

FSU Named Military Friendly for Second Straight Year

Victory Media, Inc., which provides publications for military personnel transitioning into civilian life, has recognized FSU for the second straight year as a Military Friendly School. The 2013 Military Friendly Schools list honors the top 15 percent of colleges, universities and trade schools that are doing the most to embrace America's military service members, veterans and spouses as students and ensure their success on campus.

"Inclusion on the 2013 list of Military Friendly Schools shows Frostburg State University's commitment to providing a supportive environment for military students," said Sean Collins, director for G.I. Jobs and vice president at Victory Media.

"I am very pleased that Victory Media has recognized FSU as a Military Friendly School. Our service members deserve no less," said President Jonathan Gibraltar. "I can only hope that we can show our gratitude to our service members by doing everything we can to facilitate their participation in the educational process. It is our honor to serve them."

In May, Gibraltar was invited to testify on behalf of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) and FSU before the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs' Subcommittee on Economic Opportunity in May, as the subcommittee was reviewing President Obama's Executive Order on Veterans Education, designed to improve delivery of higher education opportunities to veterans and providing them with better consumer protection.

"Frostburg State University and other AASCU institutions are eager to continue meeting the needs of our military members and veterans as well as their families," Gibraltar told the subcommittee.

The Military Friendly Schools media and website, found at www.militaryfriendlyschools.com, feature the list, interactive tools and search functionality to help military students find the best school to suit their unique needs and preferences. The 1,739 colleges, universities and trade schools on this year's list exhibit leading practices in the recruitment and retention of students with military experience.

Service members and veterans can also virtually meet individual student veterans from the various schools on the site to learn more about personal school decisions and the transition from the military to an academic environment. FSU's featured veteran this year is Bernie McCarty, Jr., an elementary education major with a concentration in middle school social studies, who spent four years in the Marines as an aviation armament repair technician. You can read his profile at this link: <http://tinyurl.com/McCarty-Frostburg>.

Theatre

CES Presents 'Titanic The Musical'

FSU's Cultural Events Series will present two spellbinding performances of "Titanic The Musical" on Sunday, Sept. 30, at 3 and 7:30 p.m. in the PAC Drama Theatre.

The soaring two-act musical, which won five Tony Awards, including Best Musical, follows the ill-fated journey of the great ship's passengers, officers and crew as they meet their fate in the icy waters of the North Atlantic. The engagement at FSU commemorates the 100th anniversary of the ship's tragic demise.

As part of CES' Inspiring Audiences program, two free events will precede the public performance. First, local school teacher Kristy Athey will share the significance of the Titanic in her own family's history and discuss her participation in the centennial cruise that paid tribute to passengers of the "unsinkable" ship. The discussion will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 7 p.m. in Lane 111. Immediately following Athey's presentation, audiences will have a chance to watch another retelling of the Titanic tragedy when James Cameron's Oscar-winning film, "Titanic," will be presented in 3D. The movie will be shown again on Friday, Sept. 28, at 8 p.m., also in Lane 111.

For info, contact the CES box office at x3137 or visit CES' webpage at ces.frostburg.edu.

FSU Presents One-Act Play Festival

The top three winners of the 2012 national One-Act Playwriting Competition will debut their brand new plays as part of the third annual One-Act Play Festival presented by FSU's Center for Creative Writing. The Festival, which will showcase three never-before-seen one-act plays, will take place Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29, at 7:30 p.m. each night at the Palace Theater on Main Street in Frostburg. Doors open at 7 p.m. A discussion with the playwrights will follow the show.

The first-place play is "Delicious," by Roger Strauss of Moretown, Vt. In "Delicious," Adam, Eve, Snake and God come back to deconstruct and reconstruct the classic myth that got us all to where we are today. Strauss has written several plays that are contest winners, including "Caring," which won the new play contest of the Tennessee Theatre Company in Knoxville in 2005, and "The Lessons of History," which was awarded Honorable Mention at the FirstStageLA One-Act Play Contest in 2006. Strauss is also a founding member of the Vermont Playwrights Circle.

Lawrence Joseph's "The Color in the Bathroom," a play in which partners Martin and Louis discuss colors, relationships, Vegas, Aunt Polly and more, won second place. Joseph is a long-time actor who moved from the Denver area to Fort Worth, Texas. The third-place winner, "The Next Move," about an elderly couple who uncover some disturbing things while bickering their way through a Sunday afternoon, is by New Yorker William Fowkes. Fowkes is an award-winning playwright and published fiction writer.

Tickets for the One-Act Play Festival are $10 for the general public and $5 for students. They can be purchased from the Allegany Arts Council in Cumberland, as well as Main Street Books and the FSU Center for Creative Writing in Frostburg. For info, call x4340 or go to www.frostburg.edu/cwcenter.

Presentations

Reading by Sports Writer Tim Wendel

FSU and the Frostburg Center for Creative Writing will host writer and social commentator Tim Wendel at the Lyric Theatre in downtown Frostburg on Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 7:30 p.m. A reception and book signing will follow the reading, which is free and open to the public.

Wendel is the author of nine books – novels and narrative nonfiction. His latest, "Summer of '68: The Season When Baseball, and America, Changed Forever," has been praised by critics and fellow writers alike.

His previous book, "High Heat: The Secret History of the Fastball and the Improbable Search for the Fastest Pitcher of All Time," was an Editor's Selection by The New York Times Book Review. His writing has appeared in Esquire, GQ, The New York Times, The Washington Post, National Geographic Traveler, Huffington Post and USA Today, where he is on the op-ed page's board of contributors.

Wendel teaches fiction and nonfiction at Johns Hopkins University, where he received the 2009 Award for Teaching Excellence and the Professional Achievement Award in 2004 and 2010.

For info on the reading, contact the Center for Creative Writing at x4340 or cwcenter@frostburg.edu, or go to www.frostburg.edu/cwcenter. More info about the writer can be obtained from his website: www.timwendel.com.

Science and the Law

FSU's Department of Chemistry will host two presentations by Dr. MaryAnne Armstrong, a patent lawyer and scientist, on Thursday, Sept. 27. Both talks should appeal to students and faculty with interests in science and/or the law and legal studies.

At 4 p.m. in Compton 358, she will give a talk titled "Alternative Careers in Science and Engineering." At 6 p.m. in Compton 224, she will discuss her experiences working at the intersection of scientific research and intellectual property law in a presentation titled "Intellectual Property Considerations in Research."

Armstrong is a patent attorney and partner at Birch, Stewart, Kolasch & Birch, LLP, in Falls Church, Va., and has been practicing intellectual property law since 1995, particularly in the fields of pharmaceutical chemistry, biotechnology, immunology, assay and drug screening systems, polymer chemistry, medical devices and plant patents. She has experience in the prosecution of patent applications in foreign countries and before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. She counsels large and small clients with regard to infringement, validity and patentability issues, licensing issues and collaborative research agreements. Armstrong serves as the chair-elect of the Chemistry and the Law Division of the American Chemical Society and has spoken extensively around the world regarding intellectual property matters.

For info, contact Dr. Benjamin Norris at bnorris@frostburg.edu or x4157.

Seminar on Estate Planning

Five local charitable foundations – the Allegany College of Maryland Foundation, the Community Trust Foundation, the FSU Foundation, the Garrett College Foundation and the Western Maryland Health System Foundation – have joined forces with ACM Professional Development to present "Traps and Pitfalls in Estate Planning" Thursday, Oct. 4, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Cumberland Country Club.

This course will assist the professional in understanding the most common pitfalls, errors and mistakes made by clients and professionals in the estate-planning process. Topics will include the need to properly coordinate the efforts of different advisors, how to distinguish and understand life and death planning issues as well as tax and non-tax planning issues, the proper use and funding of trusts, mistakes made in the disposition of assets, how to understand the special issues of the single taxpayer and same sex couples, mistakes made in planning for beneficiaries with special needs, the proper choice of fiduciaries and how to understand what needs to be in place beyond the legal documents (properly advising the living from “the grave”).

The instructor is Arthur Werner, J.D., M.S. (Taxation), a shareholder in the law firm of Werner & Rocca, P.C., whose areas of expertise include business, tax, financial and estate planning. In addition, he is an adjunct professor of taxation in the Master of Science in Taxation program at Philadelphia University. Werner has presented more than 500 seminars to certified public accountants and financial planners over the past decade.

The cost of the course is $40. To register or for info, contact Rebecca L. Ruppert, director of Professional Development, at 301-784-5338 or ruppert@allegany.edu.

This course is coordinated by the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants. Eight continuing professional education (CPE) credits will be offered through MACPA, and Contact Completion Hour Certificates will be offered through the Allegany College of Maryland Center for Continuing Education. CPE credit and completion hour certificates will also be awarded to residents of West Virginia and Pennsylvania. This course is being submitted to the Maryland Insurance Administration for credit, as well as to the CFP (Certified Financial Planner) Board of Standards Inc. for eight hours.

Fall Philosophical Forum Discussion

The Philosophy Department will present a panel discussion titled “Economic Justice in America’s Election Year” on Tuesday, Oct. 16, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Lane Atkinson Room (232). Dr. Michael Mathias, an associate professor in the Philosophy Department, will serve as the panel moderator. The following four panelists will contribute their views, drawing on their respective disciplines.

- Dr. John Neral, a professor in the Economics Department: “The Elephant (and Donkey) in the Room: Property Rights and Rent-Seeking”
- Dr. Suzanne McCoskey, an assistant professor in the Economics Department: “Main Street Versus Wall Street: Who’s in Charge Here?”
- Dr. John O’Rorke, a professor in the Department of Political Science: “The Consequences of the Growing Economic Divide on U.S. Political and Social Stability”
- Dr. Jean-Marie Makang, chair of the Philosophy Department and an associate professor, “The Eradication of Poverty in 21st-Century America: A Moral Imperative”

After the brief presentations, the audience will be invited to interact with the panelists.

For info, contact Makang at x3089 or jmakang@frostburg.edu.

AL Fall Seminar Series

Dr. Nicolas Zegre, West Virginia University, will present “Characterizing the Hydrologic Response of a Mountaintop-Mined Watershed to Changing Land Use and Climate: Implications of Scale” on Thursday, Oct. 4, at 3:30 p.m. in AL Room 109. For info, go to www.umces.edu/al/seminar/schedule.

Visual Arts

Portraits of Maryland Traditions

Join photographer Edwin Remsberg as he discusses his work documenting traditional artists for the Maryland Traditions Program of the Maryland State Arts Council. This collection of images reveals the unique flavor of Maryland and its distinctive community traditions. Remsberg, a Maryland photographer and Maryland Traditions collaborator since 2008, has captured these rituals in this series of portraits of men and women performing their individual practices.

The exhibit will be on display in the Frostburg Science Discovery Center through the month of September. The Discovery Center, located on the first floor of Compton, is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. or by appointment. It also houses a $3 million taxidermy collection, with animals from all parts of the globe.

To schedule a visit, contact Nicholas Wilson at 443-504-8853 or ndwilson@frostburg.edu.

‘La Bella Vita’

“La Bella Vita,” the Kappa Pi Community Art Show, is open to all community artists. Artists can drop off work from Oct. 1 through 5, from 1 to 4 p.m. in Fine Arts 128.

The entry fee is $4 per work of art (limit four entries per artist). Work must be ready to hang with secure wire.

The closing reception and awards ceremony will be held on Saturday, Oct. 13, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Saville Gallery, 9 N. Centre St., Cumberland. The juror will be local professional artist John Alderton.

Artwork not taken back on Oct. 13 should be picked up in Fine Arts 128 by Oct. 16 at 6 p.m.

The event is sponsored by Kappa Pi and the Allegany Arts Council.

For info, contact the Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

‘Invisible City’ at Roper Gallery

The first exhibition of the fall 2012 semester in FSU’s Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery is by photographer and video artist

Jenee Mateer, a show titled “Invisible City: An Installation.” The show will run through Wednesday, Sept. 26.

Through her art, Mateer explores the issues of desire, identity, gender and the complexity of language. Her work includes straight representational photographs, as well as pieces created through a process of layering of original photographs and appropriated images. Mateer teaches photography and digital media at Towson University in Baltimore.

For info, go to www.mateer-cromwell-art.com.

The Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery has free admission and is open to the public Sunday through Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. For info, contact the FSU Department of Visual Arts at x4797.

Music

Gold to Perform Junior Clarinet Recital

FSU student Amanda Gold will present her junior clarinet recital on Saturday, Sept. 29, at 8 p.m. in PAC Pealer Recital Hall. She will be accompanied by Dr. Jay DeWire on piano and Robert O’Neal on marimba. The recital is free and open to the public. Gold will perform selections by Carl Maria von Weber, Robert E. Kreutz and Francis Poulenc.

For info, contact the Department of Music at x4109.

MCTA Presents the Bumper Jacksons

Wielding washboards and clarinets, the Bumper Jacksons will roll into Frostburg via bicycle on Thursday, Sept. 27, playing at Mountain City

Traditional Arts at 7:30 p.m. The concert will be a part of the duo’s first C&O Canal and Great Allegheny bicycle tour. (Donations are appreciated!)

The Bumper Jacksons’ traditional jazz and pre-war country repertoire paint America’s story from New Orleans’ brothels to Appalachian hollers. Unafraid to scrap together new sounds from a junkyard of forgotten 78s, the Bumper Jacksons boldly and elegantly balance paying homage to the traditions while fashioning their own unique style.

For info, call 301- 687-8040, email mountaincitytradarts@gmail.com or look for MCTA on Facebook. For info on the Bumper Jacksons, go to www.bumperjacksons.com or www.facebook.com/bumperjacksons.

Take Note Community Dialogue Series to Continue

The Frostburg community is invited to participate in the continuation of the Sustaining Campus and Community Dialogue Series in Frostburg.

This project supports existing collaborative efforts and promotes healthy relationships between campus and community, as well as a peaceful, non-violent culture in the Mountain City. Conflict resolution experts Drs. Frank Dukes and Marvin Johnson will continue their work with the community throughout the ongoing series, which is being funded by the Maryland Judiciary's Mediation and Conflict Resolution Office through 2014. The events will be planned and advertised by semester, and online and on-air coverage of the events will help document the experience of working together.

You are invited to participate in this dialogue series in one or more of the following ways:

- As a formal public partner to be included in promotion of the series. A commitment of time and energy is all that is asked, as well as access to your network of colleagues or members.

- As an attendee at the strategic planning retreat to be held Sunday, Sept. 30, from 1 to 5 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. In the retreat, the group will narrow the seven topical areas of problem-solving identified in spring 2012 to form working coalition groups that can sustain contact through the dialogues to build partnerships and consolidate efforts in Frostburg.
- As a dialogue facilitator, willing to lead small group discussions about community concerns and coalition initiatives. Training will be provided on Monday, Oct. 1, with two session options: 11:30 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. in Lane 111 or 5 to 7:15 p.m. in the Lyric Theatre, 20 E. Main St.
- As a community member contributing to the open dialogue sessions on Monday, Oct. 8, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Lyric Theatre and Thursday, Nov. 1, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Frostburg Community Center at 23 S. Water St.

To be listed as a formal partner of this project or to confirm your attendance at the Sept. 30 retreat, contact Dr. Elesha Ruminski at elruminski@frostburg.edu or x4480.

SCSA General Meeting

The Student Communication Studies Association will host a general meeting on Monday, Sept. 24, at 5 p.m. in PAC 128.

Come learn about the various ways communication is important in everyday interactions and SCSA's upcoming events.

For info, contact Genesis Martinez, SCSA president, at ggmartinez0@frostburg.edu.

Flu Vaccination Clinic

Attention students, faculty and staff! The Brady Health Center will hold a walk-in flu vaccination clinic on Wednesday, Sept. 26, from 2 to 5 p.m. The cost for the flu shot is $20 payable by cash, check or Bobcat Express (no insurance billing, debit or credit cards).

If you are unable to attend the walk-in clinic, call the center at x4310 for an appointment.

If you are under 18, make an appointment at Brady for your flu shot. You will need to complete a parental consent form.

It's a Blackout Event!

The upcoming women's soccer game on Saturday, Sept. 29, against St. Mary's will be a Blackout athletic event. The game will begin at 2 p.m. in Bobcat Stadium.

Come out and support the Lady Bobcats in style by wearing as much black as possible to show your true school spirit!

Fill out a survey and get a free CHILL Choices T-shirt!

Prizes will be given to those fans showing the most school spirit and to the fan who dresses in the most black!

Flaunt Your Photography Skills

Attention all Instagram users! Don't miss the chance to share your photos with the world through FSU's new weekly feature, #InstaFrostburg!

Each Wednesday, a new Instagram theme will be announced on FSU's social media. Instagram users can take pictures associated with that theme and tag them with #instaFrostburg. The best ones selected will be featured on FSU's social media.

For info, email frostburgcomm@frostburg.edu.

Majors Fair 2012

The annual Majors Fair will be held Wednesday, Oct. 3, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Lane Manicur Hall. The Center for Advising and Career Services is looking for student organizations to represent their major/academic area and share interactive presentations with the campus. Look for information to be sent to your advisor or department.

For info, contact Amy Shimko at alshimko@frostburg.edu or x3132.

Fall 2012 Annual Diversity Retreat

FSU students interested in diversity issues will have the opportunity to participate in the 14th Annual Diversity Retreat scheduled from 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 12, through 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 14. Offered by the Black Student Alliance, the Diversity Center and the President's Advisory Council on Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, this year's theme is "Building Community: With the Courage to Be the Change." The retreat will include workshops and other related activities intended to promote student awareness and empowerment in diversity issues, coalition building and social justice.

Participants are challenged and empowered to explore their experiences and feelings about their own groups as well as the groups to which others belong. Skill training and action planning are included so the participants return to campus prepared to create and maintain a warm, welcoming environment at FSU.

Former participants are welcome; however, new students are encouraged to attend. This is an excellent opportunity to spend quality time with students from various identity groups to develop relationships and understandings that reach beneath the surface.

Applications are available at the Lane Information Desk and in the Diversity Center in Hitchins 126. Completed applications must be submitted before Sept. 28. Participation is limited and there is a selection process based on information provided in the application. Applicants are advised to submit a thoughtful response to the paragraph prompt. Those selected to participate will be required to complete additional forms to confirm their commitment to attend and participate.

For info, contact Robin Wynder at x4050.

Graduating in December?

The 141st commencement ceremony is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 2 p.m.

The Colleges of Business, Education and Liberal Arts and Sciences will present their graduates at a single ceremony in the Cordts PE Center. Tickets will be required for admission. The number of tickets allotted to each graduate will be determined later.

Check with the Registrar's Office to ensure that everything is in order for you to graduate and all your information in PAWS is correct.

If you'd like to order your cap and gown, graduation announcements, class rings or diploma frames, you can do so now through www.balfour.com.
