VOL. 30, NO. 1

FROSTBURG STATE COLLEGE, FROSTBURG, MARYLAND

SEPTEMBER 13, 1978

Students welcomed to crowded campus

I have been asked by a number of people, including representatives of State-To-Date, to address several matters which appear to concern a number of students at the beginning of the academic year.

First of all, I want to extend my warm welcome to new and returning students. I look to the academic year just begun as an opportunity for all of us to turn our attention to the real accomplishments and promise of Frostburg State. In the recent past, we have spent an inordinate amount of time and verbiage--and I am among the chief offenders--in dwelling on the problems we have, whether those problems deal with budgets, bureaucracy, athletics, weather, food, or whatever. Let us accept certain problems as facts of life, and let us work on those problems as positively and constructively as we can. But above all, let us recognize the good things that happen at Frostburg State College, and the good people who make those things happen. We have a lot going for us, and we should not forget it.

As for the issues under current discussion, the first one which has been mentioned to me is the "overcrowding" problem. Actually, the problem of overcrowding this fall is much less than appears to the superficial observer. As of Sept. 7, we had 1977 students living in residence halls on the campus. We have increased bed capacity over last year by 82 beds. We should not confuse increased capacity with overcrowding. Actually, of all the dormitory rooms on this campus, only 18 have more occupants than they were originally intended to have. Those 18 rooms, all of which are double rooms containing 3 people at the moment, are in Allen Hall, Cumberland Hall, Deihl Hall, Gray Hall, and Sowers Hall. The other six residence halls are occupied at normal levels, allowing for the fact that Frost Hall's capacity has been increased by 16 beds during the period of renovation.

There are 20 students currently living in temporary quarters, awaiting assignment to permanent quarters. Three are located in the conference room and craft center of Annapolis Hall and 17 are located in basement study rooms and the conference room of Cumberland Hall. It is the College's intention to convert both of those facilities to permanent bed space as soon as resources and time schedules permit, just as other facilities in several residence halls have already been converted according to the plan announced last Feb. 20.

Why overcrowd at all? First, every public institution in the State has a particular enrollment objective established in advance, and it is each institution's obligation to come as close to that objective as possible. College budgets are built up on those enrollment projections, and woe betide the institution which falls seriously short of its projection when budget time comes up the following year. Frostburg's projection for this year is 3,261 fte (full-time equivalents, not bodies), and it looks as though we will come very close to achieving that projection.

Secondly, no college (except by dumb luck) comes out exactly at its projected fall enrollment, however hard it might try. We know that every year a certain number of students who were admitted and planned to come simply fail to show up. We also know that some students who do come will leave shortly after the beginning of the semester; we have lost probably a half dozen since school opened. When all of this movement shakes down after a few weeks, we end up with a reasonably stable enrollment figure for the remainder of the fall semester, and then start a new ball game for second semester enrollment. At this point in time, we are experiencing no more overcrowding than was originally intended, and in fact it is somewhat less than we might have expected. When you recognize that one-tenth of one percent of our residence hall students are living in an overcrowded situation this fall, I think you can also recognize that the overcrowding situation is not as serious as some might have thought.

The second issue which has been mentioned to me is the matter of our op-

ARA Criticized

In response to the numerous questions that arose with the establishment of our new food service on campus, an open meeting was held between students and ARA managers on September 5. Topics of discussion were long lines, quality of food content, frequency of hamburgers and hotdogs, availability of dishes and silverware, lack of ice, hiring of student employees, the presence of a second's line, and overall organization. Many suggestions were given by students and were acknowledged by the ARA management. Mr. Moore, Food Production Manager, Mr. Shuman, Overall Food Service Director, and Mr. Zubrod, Director of Auxiliary Services, answered questions during the hour and a half meeting.

The problem of long lines was attributed to students unfamiliarity with the beginning of school. ARA expects the lines to even out within a short time.

Questions were raised as to the quality content of the food served. ARA purchases USDA Choice or Fancy meats. The ground beef contains no soy and in 80% lean, 20% fat. Hamburgers and Hotdogs are a daily item due to country-wide surveys as to what students want to eat.

The absence of dishes and silverware due to peak serving times is due, on a large extent, to student stealing. Annually, $20,000 worth of dishes and silverware is stolen. Only approximately $900 worth return to Chesapeake Hall at the end of the year. The cafeteria begins each year with an on hand service for 5000 people. But, at present 2050 students have meal tickets.

Since the beginning of the school year, the lack of ice has been apparent. New ice machines are on order and are expected to arrive within six weeks. All new machines must be purchased through the state which accounts for the delay of purchase and delivery.

Several current student employees were concerned about the possible hiring of local high school students. Mr. Zubrod assured them that no high school students would be hired for food service jobs during fall and spring semester. Occasionally though, it is necessary during Christmas, Spring, and Summer breaks due to functions that occur on campus.

The ARA management stated that if a student wants a second serving, they should go to the second line. However, if none is available than they should go to the side of the serving table.

Many suggestions and criticisms were made as to the organization in the dish room, serving line, and dining room jobs. ARA recognized problems that exist and stated that they are working to improve them.

In addition, the Food Service Committee is now reorganizing and will be in operation within a few weeks. Students are invited to attend meetings or give suggestions to either members of the committee or to the managers.

Other managers are Marc Levitt, Dining Services Manager and Rick Higgins, Food Service Manager of the Lane College Center.

Million Dollar Grant

U.S. Department of Interior has recently awarded State General Services Administration 1,007,000 dollars to fill underground mines that were abandoned over forty years ago. The mine shafts run under six buildings on campus including Lane Center, Chesapeake, Dunkle, Fine Arts, Annapolis and Cumberland Halls.

State General Services

Administration has been concerned for some time about the possibility of the weight of these buildings collapsing the old mines. If a mine should collapse it could result in a shift in the surface which in turn could cause structural damage to a building.

Maryland Bureau of Mines will be working along with State General Services injecting grout (a mixture of fly ash and cement) into the area where mines seams exist under buildings. It is anticipated that a contract to begin work will be awarded with the next few weeks.

Letter to the Editor

When we came back to school many of us had a hard time believing that our scenic little campus was now a scenic overcrowded campus. With almost all of our dorm study rooms now unavailable because of their adaptation to rooms, not only are new study areas wanted; they are a necessity.

Last semester the Library Committee (the body that recommends library policy) unanimously passed four resolutions brought to it by the Student Association (based on responses to a survey by over 1/2 of all on-campus students). One of these resolutions was an extension of the library hours until midnight on the nights when it had been open only until 10:30. F.S.C. students are really in a bind when it comes to studying.

It is my belief that it is the responsibility of F.S.C. to provide clean, quiet and comfortable places to study. The library is the logical place. The College Administration has seen to it that we are overcrowded (meaning lack of study and recreation facilities in dorms). Now I hope that they can numb the growth pains that we are experiencing at Frostburg State College.

erating budget. Last year, as we all know, was a very difficult one. Partially because of unprecedented budgetary constraints and partially because of the coal strike, many of us made serious sacrifices. We ended the fiscal year on June 30 in the black, and I would be remiss if I did not indicate here how deeply grateful I am to the students, faculty and staff who graciously made those sacrifices for the College's sake.

The new fiscal year is also going to be a difficult one. We shall be called upon, I am sure, to make some sacrifices again between now and next May, and--once again--the College will manage its resources as carefully as it possibly can in order not to waste a dime if we can help it.

Looking down the road to fiscal 1980 (beginning next July 1), I think that some of our public claims of budgetary inadequacy may be starting to pay off. Although not much happened this past spring by way of budgetary relief for the current year, I see some very encouraging signs (even though it is very early) that a number of our needs will be given the recognition they deserve in the fiscal 1980 budget. I

"I can't live in this laundry room another night!!!!!"

The Director of the Library, Mr. Zimmerman, has the power to keep the Library open longer. He has an obligation to the students here to act. We have been offered an alternative by the Library Staff of one study room open until midnight 5 days a week (which can accommodate about 30 people). This may be fine for the time being, however, when the 2,000 people on campus have exams and papers due the 2nd half of the semester this space will not be enough. All of the students (except 30) must, in essence, stop studying at 10:30. We need a place for these people to study. FSC's reputation as a highly regarded academic institution is waning, why are we furthering this erosion by denying clean, quiet and comfortable places for students to study in the late evening?

Upcoming Music Events

During the fall semester, many musical events, ranging from student recitals to large group performances, are scheduled. All programs are open to the public and admission is free.

This coming weekend, on Sunday September 17, Sara and James Pierce will present the Shubert Recital series I, at 3:15 p.m. in Pullen School Auditorium.

Enrollment increased to meet projection

by Jim Poppleton

Yes, what you have heard is true. There are a greater number of students living "on campus" than ever before. Housing was granted to 1990 students this year, compared to 1724 last year. Frost Hall, which was unoccupied last year, contains 96 of these additional students. The remaining 170 students have been placed in various buildings across campus.

In past years, students were denied housing if room deposits had already been received for all of the available dorms. This year, allowing for the vacancies expected to occur because of "no shows" and "drop outs", additional students were granted on-campus housing with the feeling that they would be re-assigned to these unoccupied rooms.

State-To-Date asked Mr. James Lund, Director of Residence Life, why there is such an increase in the "on campus" population, and, where these students are living.

"This year we took more (students) because last year the college did not quite attain what they wanted to as far as the number of full-time equivalent students, and we dropped below what our level is supposed to be."

"The other thing that happened last year - it happened particularly with women - we signed up all the places, then as soon as school started we found out that there were a lot of them who weren't coming who didn't bother to tell us..." "Second semester last year we had 40 vacancies for women. Well, that's half a dorm, and when enrollment drops that much in the dorms that starts hurting the budget as far as what our expected income was for that year. And then you start running the risk of increased room rates - and that hurts everybody." "So this year we started out, and we estimated, that if necessary we could house 150 people in just third person in double room situations. And that was counting all the rooms on campus where there were two freshmen living. We did n't assign a third person to any rooms where there was an upperclassman. Now we are down to less than 20 of those across the campus."

"Another place that's overcrowded that most people don't realize are R.A. rooms. The R.A.'s have had roommates except Cambridge, because they have single rooms - that's something we haven't done before." "Our experience in the past has been that after mid-semester time we haven't had any spaces overcrowded."

When we asked Mr. Lund about areas that had been converted into student rooms (over the summer) he replied:

"Mailrooms have been (converted) in the small halls. We put 3 people in those rooms. In the 5 halls on the hill we have 3 people in each room, for a total of 15 people." "We took 16 rooms in Cambridge Hall; study rooms, and converted them into single rooms."

Sowers Hall basement was converted in order to accommodate 3 more rooms. One of the rooms was previously the trash room, which has been changed into a single room. A new trash room is located across the hallway. The large rooms on the third floors of Annapolis Hall and other older halls on the hill now are occupied by 4 persons instead of three. Annapolis Hall has had its craftsroom and conference room converted into dormitory space.

Projected for the Fall of 1979, the west wing of Cumberland Hall basement will be remodeled to house 34 students.

Library Changes Policies

The Library has changed hours, centralized the place to get help, provided a study room for use after closing, increased fines, adjusted lost item charges, and installed a suggestion book for complaints and questions.

Hours of opening on Saturday and Sunday are later (1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m.) and closing will be at 10:00 p.m. Sunday - Thursday. Help in using books is available at a Reference desk in the center of Floor Three from 10:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m., Monday - Thursday; 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Friday; 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m., Saturday; and 2:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m., Sunday. New Library Handouts are being printed to help students learn about library collections and services.

The new Study Room (Library 210) will be open from 10:00 p.m. - 12:00 p.m., Sunday - Thursday; 5:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m., Friday; and 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. Saturday. Students who want to study after the library closes should use these thirty-two seats at tables and study carrels, as well as in a lounge arrangement. A campus-only telephone will be installed for student use. Campus Police will open and close the Study Room.

Signs have been distributed in the dorms, cafeteria and Lane Center announcing new library fines and lost book charges. The reason for the increase in fines is to promote the return of library materials. At present, 527 items are overdue and include students (206), faculty (277) and unidentifiable borrowers (44). The new fine and lost item charges will apply to all users of The Library.

Each item borrowed from the library has a date due stamped on the blue circulation card. This date allows between four to eight weeks to use most items. However, if the material borrowed is not returned by the end of the due date, the following fines are assessed:

- Item returned within 7 days of due date $3.00
- Item returned within 14 days of due date $5.00
- Item returned within 21 days of due date $10.00

Another change is the amount to be charged for replacement of lost items. If the borrower fails to return an item within the 21 days of the due date, during which time two notices have been mailed, then the library will consider the item lost. A replacement cost will be established and a processing fee will be added by the library for each lost item. The Business Office will send a bill for lost items and fines to the borrower and if this bill is not paid, the account may be referred to the State of Maryland's Attorney General for collection.

The Library will remove all records from the card catalog soon after the lost item accounts are sent to the Business Office. This will insure that students are not led to the shelves for items which are long overdue or lost. Also, all briefcases, purses, notebooks, etc. will be inspected at the exit gate to insure that all library materials have been properly charged to the patron. Occasional checks will be made to verify that the blue circulation cards in items being borrowed correspond to the card file in the circulation Department. Signs will be posted at the entrance and exit doors to inform library users that personal belongings will be inspected. If necessary, personal items may be left at the Circulation Desk before entering the turnstile and they will be returned after leaving the exit turnstile.

Finally, because these changes are important and student comments are needed to assess the results, a suggestion book has been placed next to the Reference Desk. Any comments, questions or complaints are welcome. The entries will be typed and answered monthly. The answers will be placed on the bulletin board on Floor 3 and in the suggestion book for all library users to read. Please help us provide the kind of service you need by using the suggestion book whenever you have something to say about The Library.

Bobcats lack poise not pride

Under a blazing sun that provided temperatures in the 80's, the F.S. Bobcats opened the 1978 football season last Saturday against the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets at spacious College Field on the campus of Waynesburg College, Penn. The Yellow Jackets who were ranked third in the Nation prior to this years NAIA Season probably won't retain their high ranking after their opening debacle with Frostburg. Although Waynesburg defeated the Bobcats 21-0, the Bobcats defence played exceptionally well against the run, forcing the Yellow Jackets to give up their previously omnipotent ground attack for a more successful aerial attack. However, Waynesburg's passing game would not have been so successful had it not been for several crucial Bobcat penalties.

The days scoring began after several exchanges of the ball. After two costly penalties against the Bobcat defense, and a nicely executed fake into the line, the Waynesburg quarterback swept around the left end for 16 yards and a 1st down on the Bobcats 1 yard line. Suddenly, the Bobcats found themselves with their backs against the wall. On first and goal Waynesburg endeavored a quarterback sneak that was stifled by the Bobcats interior goalline defense. On second and goal, the Waynesburg fullback tried a plunge up the middle, but was hastily denied property rights to the elusive endzone. The Bobcats' defense, which played most of the 1st quarter in weather perfectly suited for baseball, again dug in and on 3rd & goal refused the Yellow Jackets desires, but couldn't avoid being stung on the fourth and final attempt by the fullback Bill McKriely who landed in the endzone with the grace of a crashing 747.

The Bobcats received the ball on the ensuing kick-off but were forced by a strong defense who yielded only 82 points last season, 7 of those to Frostburg, to give up the ball. Waynesburg then marched adroitly to the Bobcat's 20 yrd. line only to cough up the ball and give Mike Reader his first fumble recovery of the year, with 5:02 minutes remaining in the first half.

At this point, the Bobcats displayed their sharp teeth. Starting Q.B. Ed Clutchum fired a pass to Harry Hawkins who made a spectacular, professional like, diving catch for a 42 yard pass completion that put the Bobcats in Waynesburg territory. However, the cats failed to come up with a desperately needed 1st down and after a tense & bold attempt at a first down were forced to turn the ball over to Waynesburg on their own 35 yard line. With 1:13 minutes left to play in the first half and 65 yards from paydirt, the Yellow Jackets, having been refused yardage on the ground all day, went to the air and forced a pass interference penalty against veteran defense back Mike Savoy. This placed the ball on the Bobcats 24 yrd. line and after two hand-offs to their fullback, Waynesburg hit the halftime locker room with a 14-0 advantage.

Having received the opening kickoff, the Bobcats opened the second half by kicking to Waynesburg. On the first play from scrimmage Dennis Garrett snagged a bomb and danced 67 yards to collect 7 additional points, thus, making the final score of 21-0.

At the start of the 4th quarter, Jr. Q.B. Mark Allen struck back with only 10:12 minutes left to play in the game by completing a pass to veteran wide receiver Mike Adams who leaped into the air between two Yellow Jacket defenders in order to haul down the pass that put the Bobcats deep into Yellow Jacket territory. Allen then proceeded to adroitly march his team to Waynesburg's 15 yard line before being penalized for intentional grounding. The drive ended when Allen, under pressure, threw the ball up for grabs and into the hands of a waiting Waynesburg defender.

Having lost to the Yellow Jackets last year 30-7 down at Fort Hill Stadium, the Bobcats certainly provided Waynesburg with tougher competition last Saturday. Next Saturday, down at Bobcat Stadium, the Bowie Bulldogs will visit the mountain top college to play a much improved Bobcat ball club.

Men's Track wins Triple Crown

Frostburg State's 1978 men's track team finished their best ever season by completing a Mason-Dixon Athletic Conference "Triple Crown" of championships. The undefeated Bobcats won the conference outdoor championships at Frostburg on May 5-6 and duplicated FSC victories in the conference cross country and indoor track meets. The FSC trackmen scored a conference record number of 153 1/2 points in the outdoor meet in the first year of Mason-Dixon competition. A week earlier, FSC's track team had won the NAIA District 18 meet with a record number of points.

Coaches Robert Lewis and Charles Hircock stated that the team's successes were due to many individual talents combined with exceptional depth in practically every event. A total of 75 college records was set during the season.

In the NAIA Outdoor Championships, which were held in Abilene, Texas, Carl Schueler and Tim Gavin won All-American honors for the second time in 1978. (Both had been selected to the NAIA Indoor All-American squad.) Schueler placed third in the 5,000 Meter Run. Matt Cline (1500 meter Run) and Mike Taylor (Triple Jump) were also finalists in the NAIA meet.

Soccer opens with Invitational

by Lynn Gottermeyer

Saturday, September 9th, was the opening of Frostburg's soccer season. It was also the first day of a weekend Invitational hosted by our Bobcats.

To start the season rolling, Frostburg's John Thomas, assisted by Bobcat Joe Lambert, scored to give FSC the edge over Catholic University, 1-0, at the end of the first half.

Twenty-five minutes into the second half, unassisted, Dennis Johnson scored to increase Frostburg's lead, 2-0. Eight minutes later Johnson, again unassisted, scored a second time to boost the Frostburg Bobcats into a comfortable 3-0 lead.

With about five minutes left to play, Catholic University's, Bill Kline, threatened the Bobcat three point lead. Saving his team from a Frostburg shut-out, Kline scored once with 3 minutes remaining and again with 2 minutes of play left in the game.

The game ended in a 3-2 victory for the Bobcats. It goes on record as Frostburg's first win. Defending the goal for the Bobcats - Byron Moore accumulated six saves.

Saturday, Sept. 16, Indiana University of Penn., home, 3:00 p.m.

Tuesday, Sept. 19, University of Pittsburgh/Johnstown, home, 3:00 p.m.
Saturday, Sept. 23, West Virginia Wesleyan, home, 1:00 p.m.

A second soccer game was played Saturday between FSC Alumni and St. Mary's was defeated by our Alumni, 3-2.

The Sunday Schedule opened with a consolation game between the two Saturday losses. St. Mary's and Catholic University competed for a win in the weekend Invitational. Catholic U. came out on top, 2-1, over St. Mary opponents.

The final Sunday game was played by the FSC Varsity team and the FSC Alumni team. It proved a close 1-0 battle between the old and the new. Assisted by Brian Crossman, Alumni's Jay Hegerman scored the only, but winning goal against the varsity squad. Again defending the Bobcat cage, Byron Moore had 8 goal saves.

The game with Alumni does not count as a seasonal loss, so soccer statistics stand at one win, no losses after one week of play

Schueler competes Internationally

Carl Schueler, FSC's premier race-walker and five time All-American in track, represented the United States in international competition during the past spring and summer. In April, Schueler raced in Mexico City and several other Mexican cities; and he competed in six races in Sweden during a 17-day trip in June and July. He qualified for the Swedish competitions as a result of his performance in the National AAU Senior Track Championships, which were held at the University of California at Los Angeles in early June. His travels were sponsored by the U.S. Olympic Committee. His most recent performance was a sixth place finish in the National AAU 50-kilometer championship, which was held in Detroit on September 10. In that 31-mile event, he was the third American to finish.

room of the Physical Education Complex starting September 14, 1978. The course offering, taught by Dr. La Chance of the English Department, is sponsored by Allegany Community College's Continuing Education Program, and is meant to serve both members of the college community and the community at large. Since the course is athletic rather than meditative, students should refrain from eating for 90 minutes before class and should wear leotards and tights or loose clothing.

Early registration (held last Wednesday, Sept. 6) signed up 24 persons closing out the Tuesday night classes held at A.C.C., and further registrations on Thursday, Sept. 7th took in 13 more yoga students, partially filling the Frostburg Campus Thursday night classes. Although it may seem that Frostburg's own students and faculty should have priority in registration, the principle of "first come/first serve" must prevail because the program is a cooperative, intercollegiate one, and because registrants are coming from as far away as Hagerstown and even State Line, Pennsylvania. Registration, then, will remain open the first two classes (Sept 14th and 21st) until all available space is filled. The registration fee for this non-credit course is $15 for the entire semester and is payable to A.C.C.

Lewis named Coach of the Year

Dr. Robert Lewis, head track and cross country coach at FSC, was named "Coach of the Year" for NAIA District 18 and Area 8 (Northeastern and Mid-Atlantic U.S.) His selection was a result of the votes of coaches from other colleges and universities. Lewis stated that the award is first and foremost a reflection of the performances of the many fine trackmen in the FSC athletic program. He said that the real winners of the recognition were the athletes themselves. He also gave a great amount of credit to Dr. Charles Hircok, assistant track coach, who co-ordinates the fall track training program and the recruiting process while he (Lewis) is coaching the cross country team.

Time Management offered

A Time Management mini-course will be held on Thurs, Sept. 14 at 7:00 p.m. in the Library Conference Room.

The general meeting of SSS will be held on Wed., Sept. 13 at 8:00 p.m. in Lane Center 201. The agenda includes selection of student Advisory Board and introduction of staff members, announcements of fall cultural enrichment activities. Refreshments will be served.

David Toma to appear tonight

"Human Decency" will be the topic of David Toma, an extraordinary police detective who eschews violence and believes in innate human goodness, when he speaks at Frostburg State College on Wednesday, Sept. 13.

The program, beginning at 8:00 p.m. at the Lane Center, is the first of eight public events to be sponsored this year by the College's Student Artist and Lecture Series Committee.

A man with thousands of arrests and a ninety-eight percent conviction record, Toma works mostly on the street in Newark, New Jersey, where he pioneered the role of the decoy cop. He has been called the Great Impersonator and the Man with a Thousand Faces in the press. Newsweek, Time, and scores of other magazines have written about him. He had the unique distinction of having his own television series, Toma, named after him, a network series in which Toma himself acted.

Despite the scores of dangerous exploits in which he has been involved, Toma doubts that he could kill anyone. In the thousands of talks he has given across the country he has stressed that violence is unnecessary.

Cosmic Capers

By Dr. Bob Doyle, FSC Planetarium
September 11-17

The moon is getting fatter each night and will put on a special display this weekend - the Harvest Moon. The moon is rising only 40 minutes later each night so it will loom round and full in the early evening for about a week -

food news for farmers and lovers on long strolls. On the other side of the world in China, this full moon marks the mid-Autumn festival - a time when the man in the moon ties couples with invisible threads and the people eat mooncakes.

Venus is still featured as the evening 'star' low in the southwest as it gets dark. If you're not careful, you'll mistake it for a plane with its lights on coming in for a landing.

"Autumn Star Game," a zany UFO love story is now being presented at the Frostburg State College Planetarium each Tuesday night at 7:30 P.M. and each Sunday at 2:30 P.M. Free to general public.

Test Dates

Students completing teacher preparation programs and advanced degree candidates in specific fields may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of three different test dates in 1978-79. Educational Testing Service, the non-profit, educational organization that administers this testing program, said today that the tests will be given November 11, 1979, and July 21, 1979, at test centers throughout the United States.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are considered by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and used by several states for the credentialling of teachers of licensing of advanced candidates. Some colleges require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

On each full day of testing, registrants may take the Common Examinations, which measure their professional preparation and general educational background, and/or an Area Examination that measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective registrants should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, their colleges, or appropriate educational association for advice about which examinations to take and when to take them.

The Bulletin of Information contains a list of test centers and general information about the examinations, as well as a registration form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08541.

Home Vision Safety

On the average, one American becomes blind every 11 minutes. Eye injuries are one major threat to vision, even though accidental vision damage is nearly always preventable. Forty-one percent of eye injuries occur at home. You can keep yourself and your family out of these statistics if you will follow a few simple precautions.

1. Keep strong cleaning agents and chemicals out of the reach of children, and follow product instructions for safety.
2. Use safety goggles when working with do-it-yourself power tools and lawn mowers, and when ap-

- plying strong garden sprays.
3. Be sure you have adequate lighting for the job you are doing.

4. Get a free booklet about eye safety from your state Prevention of Blindness Society or the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, N.Y., N.Y. 10016.

Candid Campus

What is your reaction to the lines waiting to get into the cafeteria?

Judy Jefferson, Junior - "I don't really feel that the long lines in the cafeteria are the cafeteria's fault because the college should not have accepted more people than it's capable of handling."

Mickey Stephens, Sophomore - "It's a pain! And once it gets cold, you're going to be standing out here in the snow. There shouldn't be a wait, you should be able to walk right in."

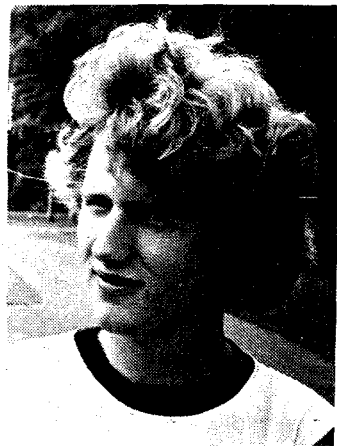

Tammy Holtzman, Junior - "I think the long lines are a disadvantage for people especially at lunch and breakfast. If you only have a half hour and you have to wait in line, you're just going to go ahead to class without eating breakfast. In a way that's going to be a waste for a lot of people and an inconvenience. The same thing is true for supper."

Jim Proctor, Senior - "I don't like them very much. I think that if the food service management would start managing, then they'd get people through quicker. I think that one of the problems is the fact that there's 500 more students than last semester, and I blame the college for that. The college is trying too hard to grow for the sake of growth than dealing with what's already here. They're cramming too much in, in the effort to prove to the State that we have enough students to fill another dormitory. And there's no need for it!"

Beth Draper, Sophomore - "I think they're awful; you don't even want to go in there and eat sometimes. I just thought it was because it was the beginning of the year."

Eric Phillips, Junior - "I haven't really had to experience them because since I'm a Junior, I know which are the good times to come. Also, I go in the other door and I haven't really had any trouble with the long lines."
