

BERLIN ADVANCE

VOL. XVII. NO. XXV.

BERLIN WORCESTER COUNTY MD. FRIDAY JUNE 18 1920.

$1.00 PER YEAR

PRANK E. KONETZKA, HARDING AND COOLIDGE Licensed Broker and General Auctioneer.

Real Estate, Fruit and Produce, Route Collected, Property Looked
After, both town and country.
Also carry in stock in season, a General Chemical Co's. Spray Materials.

RESIDENCE AND BUSINESS PLACE, Commerce Street, BERLIN, MARYLAND.

DR. C. P. CULLEN, DENTIST.

BERLIN, MARYLAND.
Located on Fifth Street,
Office of the late Dr. J. W. Pitts.

DR. R. O. HIGGINS DENTIST

Successor to

DR. E. W. SMITH

Offices 228 West Main Street
SALISBURY, - MARYLAND.
Gas Administered. Teeth Straightened.
X-RAYS TELEPHONE 744.

DR. O. H. MASON, DENTIST.

BERLIN, - MARYLAND.
SPECIALIST IN EXTRACTING.
OFFICE HOURS: 9-12 P.M. OPPOSITE HIGH SCHOOL.

WM. J. PITTS SURVEYOR.

BERLIN, - MD.

Calvin B. Taylor, Attorney and Counselor at Law,

Berlin, Md.

JOHN W. STATON, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

SNOW HILL, MD.
At Berlin office every Saturday afternoon.

FRANKLIN UPSHUR LAWYER

BERLIN

ARA P. BOWEN, MAGISTRATE.

Berlin, Md., Office: Konetzka Building.

WILLIAM G. KERBIN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

SNOW HILL, MD.
Agent for THE NATIONAL SURETY CO.
All kinds of bonds furnished.
In Berlin Office every Saturday afternoon.
TELEPHONE 92. Residence 110

Chas. H. Clark, Contractor and Builder.

Estimates Furnished for All Classes of Carpenter Work.

DR. W. H. BOTZ, Veterinary Surgeon....

Ocean City, Maryland, Seaside Hotel.

DR. PURNELL, DENTIST.

50 YEARS PRACTICE.

The only member of the International Dental Congress on Eastern Shore of Maryland.
PHONE 700.

Exchange and Savings Bank of Berlin.

Our Savings Department pays 3 per cent. interest on deposits.

We invite you to open an account.

JOHN D. HENRY, CASHIER.
C. W. KRAS, ASST. CASHIER.

His Seventy-Seventh Year.
Gladstone, a merchant of Kilauea has the reputation of being the greatest heart hunter in Kilauea. He is eighty-five years old and has just killed his seventy-seventh bear.

WIN IN HARD BATTLE

Contest at Chicago Will Be Chronicles as One of Most Memorable in Republican Party's History.

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.
For President—Warren G. Harding of Ohio.

For Vice President—Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts.

Convention Hall, Chicago. — The nomination for President was made on the tenth ballot. The vote on that ballot for the men who had been the leading candidates was: Harding, 6474; Wood, 1574; Lowden, 12; Johnson, 804.

After it is all over, that is the news
it took five strenuous days to produce.
That is all the great mass of the public will remember. But for those who had a part in the contest it will be an experience to be remembered for a lifetime, and the convention of 1920 will go down in the history of the Republican organization as one of the hardest waged battles of the party's existence. It was a battle of which the audience saw but little that was spectacular—a show that did not measure up to the expectations of the thousands who had begged and fought for admission and who had jammed themselves into the great building session after session, sweating and roasting and always anticipating something worth while.

Public Mixed Real Fight.
The public did not see the real fight,
as they were not admitted to the council rooms where the differences of contesting candidates were ironed out or where the varying opinions of different factions were being reconciled so that a platform that could fit all elements might be produced. The unusual condition of the times had produced a wide range of ideas. Men differed radically on important points upon which the party must go to the public as a unit if it is to have a chance of being successful in November, and it was an easy task to find the common ground upon which all were willing to stand. Every day of the five days of the contest, the party leaders of some faction, and these leaders were often at odds with each other, had new efforts might be made to satisfy opposing elements.

Greatest Stumbling Block.
It was the League of Nations plank that proved the greatest stumbling block. The irreconcilability of the separate, led by Senator Johnson, would not listen to anything that saved of an indorsement of the League of Nations, with or without reservation. Another element, led by Nicholas Murray Butler of New York, insisted upon indorsement of the League with the Lodge reservations, and on Wednesday morning it seemed that nothing could prevent a split on this plank.

It was at this time that the political genius, Elihu Root, was called upon.
The cables carried the troubles of the contestants to Europe, where Root is assisting in the organization of an international court, and the cables brought back a solution that satisfied Senator Johnson and his followers and which the others were willing to accept in the interests of party harmony.
There was difficulty again over the labor plank, and again compromise was resorted to to prevent a split. Much the same thing was true of the plank on Mexico and a plank on Ireland. In the end the Irish were developed entirely, as nothing the leaders were willing to do was satisfactory to that element, which was demanding a strong resolution acknowledging the freedom of the Irish "Republic."

For hours the Resolutions Committee, headed by Senator Watson of Indiana, fought back and forth. Appointed at the session of Tuesday, it was expected to report at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, and the Coliseum was packed to capacity at that hour.
A few other formalities were completed and adjournment taken to 11 o'clock of Thursday. Again the crowd came back. The convention convened, Cardinal Gibbons offered an invocation, and the convention adjourned to 4 o'clock. With a never ending interest the crowd was again back at 4 o'clock, only to wait for two long, swea-tering hours for the fight on the platform which they were anticipating, but which did not materialize. The fight had all been made behind the closed doors of the council rooms, and with the exception of the presentation of a minority report by a member of the committee from Wisconsin, to which no particular attention was paid, there was no evidence that there had ever been a disagreement, and the platform was adopted with less than half a dozen dissenting votes.

Much Oratory on Tap.
Friday gave promise of being a red letter day for the audience, and the fight for the coveted bill of beautifully covered—crimson waxed hot and heavy. At 9:30 in the morning, when the session opened, every seat was filled, every aisle was jammed with an expectant multitude. It was to be a day of oratory, and it was. The first order of business was the call of the states for the naming of candidates for the nomination for the presidency.
Arizona yielded to Kansas, and Governor Allen took the platform to name General Wood. The audience heard what Governor Allen had to say and the speech of Congressman Hodenberg on behalf of Governor Lowden.

When Judge Wheeler of California started to present the name of Senator Johnson, the audience had had enough

Republican Nominees for President and Vice President

WARREN G. HARDING.

of oratory. The distinguished Californian referred to the League of Nations plank as Senator Johnson's plank, and both delegates and the audience objected. It referred to the campaign funds of other candidates, and there was a roar of disapproval. He fought back, and the audience and the delegates fought with him. From that time to the close of the long seven hours and more of nominating speeches the orators might quite as well have said nothing, as the audience heard nothing of what they said. Despite the efforts of Chairman Lodge the convention continued until the last orator had named the last of the eleven candidates whose names were placed before the convention.

Magic of Roosevelt's Name.

A feature of the nominating and seconding speeches was introduced by Mrs. Robinson of New York, a sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt. In seconding the nomination of General Wood she referred to him as a friend of her brother, and from that point on practically every candidate was referred to as a friend and heir of the deceased President.

One of the Features of the Convention

One of the features of the convention was the election of delegates to the national committee. The delegates were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national
committee were elected by the delegates
to the convention. The delegates to the
national committee were elected by the
delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were
elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the delegates to
the convention. The delegates to the national committee were elected by the de-
legates to the convention. The delegates
to the national committee were elected
by the delegates to the convention. The
delegates to the national committee
were elected by the delegates to the convention. The delegates to the national committee

BERLIN ADVANCE

J. W. Tucker, Proprietor,
Editor and Manager.

Entered every Friday morning, Entered as second-class matter, January 23rd, 1904 at the post office at Berlin, Maryland,
under the act of Congress of
Mar. 3rd, 1879.

Advertising rates made known on application.

BERLIN, MD., JUNE 18, 1920.

Money can be sent by P. O. Money Order, Express Money Order, Check, or New York Draft.

INDEPENDENT REFORM.

New Headlight Law.

Surely everyone who has done any amount of night driving in the State during the past year or so, appreciates the fact that a radical change is necessary in the law in so far as it applies to automobile headlights. The tremendous number of machines which use our highways at night has made the use of strong and powerful headlights seem necessary to the majority of motorists. The average person thinks that if he has a sufficient amount of light to get along with at a moderate rate of speed, he is not doing his duty; he feels that he must secure bulbs that will make the light shine at least half a mile down the road, so that other people can see him coming. It was to meet this tendency that the headlight law was amended so as to provide that no bulb of greater than thirty-two candle-power could be used. Even with a bulb of this size, unless the headlights were bent well forward, it was impossible to avoid a glare when a plain lens was used. Consequently, the last Legislature, realizing the dangerous conditions resulting from the use of high candle-power bulbs and plain lenses, made it unlawful for any automobile to be used or owned in this State on which there was not some kind of an approved headlight lens. While this provision will undoubtedly cause some inconvenience on the part of motorists owning cars in this State.

manufacturers of motor vehicles to install approved lighting devices at the various factories. A series of tests shows conclusively that a better light for driving purposes can be secured from certain makes of lenses, properly adjusted, with a bulb of medium candle-power, without inconvenience to other users of the road, and with greater safety to the driver of the car, than will result from the use of a high candle-power bulb behind lenses improperly adjusted or with no means of preventing glare.

A tabulation of accident reports in this office shows that there has been a decided decrease in the number of deaths from reckless driving and as a result of collisions in the past year. On the contrary, the number of deaths and accidents occurring at night as a direct result of glaring headlights shows an increase. Many accidents, resulting in injury, have been caused by the operator of a car running off the road or striking an obstacle or person on the road for the reason that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. The evidence invariably, in cases of accidents happening at night, is that the approaching car had such bright lights that the operator of the car involved in the accident was temporarily blinded.

Investigation usually discloses the fact that the approaching car was equipped with clear lenses.

I trust that the motoring public will give this office all possible co-operation in order to remedy these conditions, and while the enforcement of the new headlight law may result in some inconvenience due to its drastic provisions, I believe the betterment of conditions in the near future will more than repay for any inconvenience that is now caused. The officers at my command have been instructed as to the construction and proper focusing of lights, and where an attempt has been made to provide approved lenses and have properly focused, the officers of the Department will be only too glad to co-operate by making suggestions as to corrections which may be necessary to bring the light within the legal requirements. I shall endeavor to accomplish results by a campaign of education, rather than by a series of arrests, provided the motorist on his part displays a willingness to provide the proper lenses and bulbs.

E. Austin Baughman, Commissioner.

Poultry Demonstrations.

The poultry demonstrations held last week at the homes of Mrs. Chas. S. Cheever, at Pocomoke, Mrs. Robert Davis, at Box Iron, and Mrs. Hiram Post, near Berlin, were well attended.

Miss Stephenson and Miss Walter demonstrated the use of the steam pressure cooker in the canning of poultry meat. They also illustrated in a practical way how eggs are preserved in water glass. The preserving material was prepared in a stone crock, into which the eggs were packed. The practice of packing eggs in water glass at the time when eggs are selling at low prices is most economical and should be encouraged.

With the pressure cooker, meals, including poultry, may be canned as demonstrated in about one-third the time required without the use of this labor-saving device, and with the certainty that the canned product will not spoil.

Mr. Rickey, of the Extension Service, illustrated several methods of killing fowls for market and home use. He showed how a fowl may be killed and bled by severing the vertebrae in the neck and rupturing the blood vessels leading to the brain without the escaping of blood from the body.

A fowl was dry picked, dissected and post mortem held while the effects of certain more or less common diseases on the intestinal organs were described in detail.

Mr. Rickey and Mr. Oswald explained the methods used in the culling of fowls for breeding and egg production, and those present took advantage of the opportunity to examine the fowls and pick out the layers and non-layers.

Suggestions were made regarding the construction and the remodeling of poultry houses, and directions were given for the feeding of fowls for the production of eggs.

The demonstrations in winter egg production carried on throughout this State during the past two years were called to the attention of the audience, and an invitation was extended to all interested parties to attend the next year's demonstrations.

ter egg production during the summer season.

Particulars concerning the demonstrations may be had upon application to the County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent.

It was gratifying to see the interest taken in these meetings by people of the communities in which they were held, and without doubt such demonstrations do much to help the poultry industry in the county.

Lemons.

Many persons may not know that the scent and flavor of lemon peel reside in minute cells, close to the surface of the fruit, and that by slicing it thin they will cut through these innumerable cells and thus obtain double the quantity of the essential oil that could be procured by anyone careless of this fact. The cells being cut through, it follows that a great part of the oil remains on the white of the lemon. This is easily abstracted by rubbing a lump of sugar over it.

Must Sleep or Die.

Quoth Sir Thomas Browne, "One-half our days we pass in the shadow of the earth and the brother of Death extracteth a third part of our lives." Why should we give so many hours to sleep? For the purpose, we suppose, of giving the body rest. But during the sleep no physical or mental function is entirely at rest. We do not know why we must sleep, we only know we must sleep or die.

Didn't Want to Miss Anything.

Monday a peddler came to our door and was demonstrating some of his wares to my mother. My mother bought a few articles from him and he started to put his suitcase in order. He finished and was just leaving when Joseph, who is four years old, rushed in and asked: "Oh, mamma, what did the man say while I wasn't here?"—Chicago American.

Cats a Source of Danger.

Cats are great carriers of disease germs, and scratches from their claws are sources of real danger, as those claws are generally coated with a mass of germs which may cause infection, and for these reasons alone should not be allowed to associate too intimately with young children whether the latter are asleep or awake.

Mice in Wren's Nest.

The wren carries a lot of material to the box or hole cavity in which the nest is constructed. If the box in which wrens are building is a foot square they will fill it full of material—straw and grass and hair and other of one kind or another. They do not use any mud, as the robins do.

No Accounting for Tastes.
The inhabitants of Cebu-China prefer rotten eggs to fresh ones.

The St. Martin's Community Club.

Although the St. Martin's Community Club is in its infancy, it is doubtful if older organizations could have had a more successful and enjoyable meeting than the one of last week when Prof. Rickey, of the State Extension Service, conducted a poultry demonstration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Post. The culling and marketing of poultry was the special feature of the afternoon, but Prof. Rickey kindly gave from his storehouse of knowledge many valuable suggestions on other branches of the business. Following this, Miss Stephenson and Miss Walters taught the preparation and canning of chicken, also the preservation of eggs, all of which was interesting and helpful.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments—delicious lemonade cake and ice cream—were served. It is to be regretted that all of the club members were not present, for aside from the poultry lessons learned, and the pleasant social features of the day, a visit to this ideal country home is an opportunity to be valued. A home so artistic and beautiful, both without and within, that it may stand as a model for us all. We certainly owe much to Mr. and Mrs. Post for the invitation.

A Member of the Club.

Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this preparation at hand ready for instant use when needed. Severe attacks of cough and cholera morbus often prove fatal before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy has attended the use of this remedy and the prompt cures which it has effected have made it a staple article of trade.

PITTSVILLE.

Miss Elsie Crew, of Baltimore, is spending some time with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. Clara Burroughs has returned from a visit to friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton are the happy parents of a baby girl, born June 11th. May her stay be long and happy.

Another happy family is that of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dukes, where a little son came the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dennis, of Berlin, visited his mother, Mrs. Lee Dennis, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Farlow and spent Saturday and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Daniel Farlow.

Miss Alice Freeny was the guest of Miss Pauline Moore, of Selbyville, Saturday and Sunday.

Lightning Strikes

In And Near Town.

Beginning with Friday evening of last week, we have had almost daily thundershowers, accompanied by high winds. The first shower was the most severe. The lightning struck on Butler Street the house of Lee Lynch, damaging it somewhat, but not injuring the family.

It struck in two places on the farm of Charles G. Lewis, near Herring Creek, burning up a fodder stack in the open field in sight of the family, leaving only the charred pole standing, and also struck a wild cherry tree.

A bolt struck a haystack of Robert Cropper's and burned it, and at O. M. Chandler's, (the Henry Godfrey place) just north of town, the point of attraction was in the midst of a large field of potatoes, a few hills being destroyed. The wind did considerable damage, blowing off their porch roof and woodhouse roof and uprooting trees.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured

WITH LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, CATARACT is a local disease, generally caused by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Dr. J. C. Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts directly on the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

J. C. CATARRH MEDICINE, P. O. Box 100, New York, N. Y.

Send a family pill for constipation.

OCEAN CITY.

Three important meetings are scheduled for us in the near future. The Peninsula Summer School for Sunday School Teachers will be held June 21-25. The noted Dr. Caley will be one of the lecturers, with stereopticon illustrations. A similar meeting two years ago was a success in all ways, and profitable and pleasant to those who took part in it.

The Maryland State Teachers' Association will be held here from June 25th to July 1st, inclusive. This is also bringing a great educational opportunity to us.

There will be a mass-meeting in the interest of the Interchurch Movement on July 8th at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Alexander Mitchell will deliver an illustrated lecture at that time, and tell us what this great movement hopes to accomplish.

The women suffragists are asking that the polls and windows of every town shall be provided at 12 o'clock on the day following the ratification by the 36th state of the 19th Amendment, to indicate how significant the history is. Many women will then find out that they are enfranchised, and the noise will be exciting to say the least. They also plan to conduct schools in every community to educate the new voters in the duties of citizenship.

A surprising find was made lately near the new inlet, the foundation of a house of a peculiar kind of brick with a black wall. It may have been a Roman building, as the site is and has been impossible within the memory of people now living. There are also stumps of cedar trees around it, indicating a grove in prehistoric days. This was uncovered by the heavy tides of the past few months.

Mr. C. E. Shute was here this week, in the interest of the Fenwick Island Development Company. He says the company is still negotiating the question of connecting Ocean City and Fenwick Island by a railway. This would mean development of the Fenwick Island.

Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton are the happy parents of a baby girl, born June 11th. May her stay be long and happy.

Another happy family is that of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dukes, where a little son came the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dennis, of Berlin, visited his mother, Mrs. Lee Dennis, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Farlow and spent Saturday and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Daniel Farlow.

Miss Alice Freeny was the guest of Miss Pauline Moore, of Selbyville, Saturday and Sunday.

Lightning Strikes

In And Near Town.

Beginning with Friday evening of last week, we have had almost daily thundershowers, accompanied by high winds. The first shower was the most severe. The lightning struck on Butler Street the house of Lee Lynch, damaging it somewhat, but not injuring the family.

It struck in two places on the farm of Charles G. Lewis, near Herring Creek, burning up a fodder stack in the open field in sight of the family, leaving only the charred pole standing, and also struck a wild cherry tree.

A bolt struck a haystack of Robert Cropper's and burned it, and at O. M. Chandler's, (the Henry Godfrey place) just north of town, the point of attraction was in the midst of a large field of potatoes, a few hills being destroyed. The wind did considerable damage, blowing off their porch roof and woodhouse roof and uprooting trees.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured

WITH LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, CATARACT is a local disease, generally caused by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Dr. J. C. Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts directly on the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

J. C. CATARRH MEDICINE, P. O. Box 100, New York, N. Y.

Send a family pill for constipation.

WHALEYVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis spent Sunday in Crisfield.

Mrs. Gordon Hastings and little daughter, from near Snow Hill, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Davis.

Mrs. Benton Powell visited in Hebron a few days this week.

Miss Myra and Mabel Powell spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quillen, of Berlin.

Mr. John Murrell and mother, of Washington, are spending some time with Mrs. Rosa Murrell.

Miss Margie Clark, of Mt. Pleasant, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Davis.

The Advance, cash or trade, 61.

Public Sale

Of Valuable

PERSONAL PROPERTY.

As executors of the late William E. Williams, deceased, we will sell at his late residence at Shovel, Maryland, to the highest bidder, on Saturday, June 26, 1920, commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m., the following personal property: 1 Horse and Buggy, 1 Farm Wagon, 1 Dearborn Wagon, 2 Cows, 2 Hogs, Plows, Harrows, Corn Planter, Harness, Chains, Bed, Gun, Revolver, and other Household Goods and Farming Implements.

TERMS:—All sums under ten dollars, cash; over that amount four months approved note or cash at option of purchaser.

62 ACRE FARM.

We will offer to the highest bidder immediately after sale of personal property the valuable farm where the said William E. Williams resided at the time of his death, being situated on road leading from Shovel to St. Martin's and within one-quarter of a mile from Shovel station, containing sixty-two acres, more or less, improved by two-story dwelling and necessary outbuildings. There are about thirty-five acres of wood land, a high state of cultivation, and a twenty-acre tract of well set in valuable timber.

TERMS OF SALE of Farm: One-third cash, one-third six months, one-third twelve months, the deferred payments to bear interest from January 1st, 1921.

Postponement given January 1st, 1921. Taxes paid for year 1920.

MARY E. WILLIAMS, L. N. JARMAN, Executors.

ATTENTION!

To the Citizens of the Town of Berlin:

For your convenience we have secured the services of Mr. H. E. Palmer as Collector of Taxes and Water and Light bills. He will be at the office of the Davis Ice and Coal Co. the first three days of every week. We ask your co-operation and prompt settlement for all bills due on Light and Water the first of each and every month.

Mayor & Council of Berlin.

Ice Cream, Fruits, Candy and Sodas.

THE Famous Supplee Ice Cream

is used at both our fountains.

O. P. SHARP & SONS,

Main Street, Berlin. Corner's Corner, Board Walk, Ocean City.

USE Smith's Hixpo, Dry Powder.

Bordo-Arsenate, kills insects and prevents blight.

USE IT ON

Potatoes, Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Squashes, Cabbages, Asparagus, Melons and all Vegetables, Fruit Trees, Berry Bushes, Flowers, House Plants, etc.

A Full Line of All Kinds of Feed & Seed.

AUTOMOBILE SUPPLIES.

Accessories, Tires and Tubes, Gas and Oil, Greases, Bicycle Tires, Hoes, Shovels, Hand Cultivators, etc.

ANTHONY H. PURNELL.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

March 3, 1920, the Ford Motor Co. advanced the price of Ford cars because of the increased cost of production. No specific announcement was deemed necessary at the time, but it has developed that misrepresentations and misquotations of these advanced prices have been and are being given out. So to safeguard the public against the evils of misrepresentation, we herewith give the present prices:

Runabout	$550	with dual electric starting and lighting system	$625
Touring Car	$575	with dual electric starting and lighting system	$650
Coupe	$750	with dual electric starting and lighting system and demountable rims	$850
Sedan	$875	with dual electric starting and lighting system and demountable rims	$975
Truck Chassis	with solid tires and clincher rims (With pneumatic tires and demountable rims $640)

These prices are all f. o. b. Dearborn.

Ford Motor Co. $500.00 f. o. b. Dearborn, Mich.

Any of the Dealers whose names are listed below, will be pleased to receive your order, pledging the assurance of the best possible promptness in delivery.

BERLIN HARDWARE CO., Berlin, Md. Authorized Sales and Service Dealers.

NEWARK GARAGE, Newark, Md. Service Dealers.

DALE & BUTLER, Whaleyville, Md. Service Dealers.

SHOWELL GARAGE, Showell, Md.

NEW GOODS

— FOR —

Summer.

A wide range of popular and desirable materials. You may choose from Taffetas, Georgettes, Satins.

Rayon de Chine, and Silk Appliques.

In the cotton materials, there are

Organdies, Printed Voiles, Etc., Etc.

SELECT ONE OF OUR PRETTY GEORGETTE WAISTS.

The largest line of Nemo and W. B. Corsets, ever. GIVE US A CALL.

Burbage, Powell & Company.

The Big and Busy Store.

BERLIN, MARYLAND.

CHEVROLET.

Chevrolet Cars are multiplying so rapidly that it is being commented upon.

Go in any direction and the number of Chevrolet Cars one sees is quite convincing proof of increased popularity.

There are those who even say that the Chevrolet is the fastest growing car in the country.

Notice the increasing number you see on the road.

490 Roadster, $ 775.00
490 Touring, 795.00
490 Sedan, 845.00

F. O. E. FACTORY.

LESTER F. ADKINS, Dealer.

Chevrolet, Buick, Ford, Graham, Packard, and Trucks.

BERLIN, MARYLAND.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE ADVANCE

Bread Cast Upon The Waters.

(Continued from page 4.)

"Where have you been all these weeks?" inquired the girl. "I almost cried my eyes out waiting for you." The captain, endeavored, by wink and gesture, to acquaint the young lady of his misadventure.

"The shows you took me to," murmured the fair one, "and the pretty locket you gave me on my birthday. Remember?"

"Never saw you before," declared the skipper.

"Liar," growled Mr. Simpkins. The captain launched a suddenly conceived plan.

"Well, I don't know as I'll deny it any longer," he said. "I did know you, and I thought a heap of you. An' I was good to you. Captain Roberts is not a man to skimp money on the girl he likes."

He paused a moment for the fact of his identity to sink in, and after a study of the girl's quickly changing face, he gave an almost imperceptible nod toward Mr. Simpkins. For the first time the girl looked fairly at that gentleman, and then gave a little scream and would have fallen had not the captain, inwardly applauding her acting, caught her in his arms.

"What's the matter?" he inquired. "Fancy seeing him here," said the girl, "after all these years. I was so pleased to see you I hadn't noticed him before. You won't mind there being another captain—one who came before I met you?"

"Not at all," said the skipper heartily, "especially if it's this gentleman." "It is," said the fair one smiling wanly. "It was a few years ago. We met—and loved. Oh, Simpkins! Simpkins!"

"The girl's crazy!" cried the dismayed Mr. Simpkins. "Of course," put in the skipper, "that's your line. You married, too, an' to such a nice lady. I'm surprised an' shocked."

"He kept putting off the wedding day," muttered the girl. "Naturally," said the captain. "What do you mean by that?" asked Mr. Simpkins.

"Well, didn't you keep putting it off?" inquired the captain. "Oh, come on, Simpkins, an' confess, like I did. We've all been a little careless at one time or another. An' we'll think the better of you, I'm sure, if you admit it like a man."

"See here," said Mr. Simpkins, "this is all a lie. I never saw the girl before."

"Oh, well," answered the aggrieved skipper, "it's none of your business. It's all right. Only I thought if you admitted it we might be able to fix things so your wife wouldn't hear of it, that's all."

"I say it's a lie," reiterated Mr. Simpkins. "Lie or not," replied the captain, "your wife don't strike me as a woman that'll ask. She'll hear the story, an' then the normal logic of the thing, Mr. Simpkins considered narrowly."

"She'll want you to get the impression that I'm admitting this thing," he stammered, "but well on the whole, I think it would be best if my wife were not to be troubled. I'll see what I can do," said the skipper. "Nellie likes me, don't you, my dear?"

"Of course," said Nellie, sweetly. "An' you'd hate to see me lose my ship?"

"Oh, there's no danger of that, is there?" cried the girl. "Well, I don't know," said the skipper, "there was some talk of it at one time." He and the girl walked forward together in conference. "You overdid it a little, especially at first," he remarked.

"It was Henry's fault," she answered, "he told me the best-looking man, and of course I thought it was you."

The captain smothered a remark about the cook under a smile for his fair flatterer.

"I'd never done it," said the girl, "only me and Henry are engaged, and I couldn't see him lose his berth."

"You're a fine actress, an' you'll make cook a good wife," remarked the skipper, himself wondering where the connection was. "I wish you much happiness."

He returned to the excited Mr. Simpkins. "Good news, Simpkins," he said, "she's willing to let bygones be bygones. Though I must say you treated her shameful. Let this be a lesson to you."

"See here," said the regally purple Mr. Simpkins, "I'm not admitting that this is true. It's only a story."

The captain winked knowingly, and pointed to the departing girl, who was waving Mr. Simpkins a touching farewell. As the waterman's skiff drew away from the Mary Smith, the large and aggressive person of Mr. Simpkins appeared above deck.

"Elijah, who is that woman?" she inquired shrilly. "Elijah could only mutter, but the skipper stepped bravely forward.

"A young friend of mine," he said, "whose been payin' me a little visit." "My love," remarked Mrs. Simpkins, "I like these men less and less the more I see of them. I'm extremely glad we are to be rid of them at once."

Mr. Simpkins cleared his throat. He felt all eyes upon him. "There has been a slight change, Maria," he said, "I have decided to give the whole crew another trial."

"Nonsense," said the lady, sharply; "they're villains, every one. Get rid of them at once."

"Maria," returned Mr. Simpkins, making the stand of his life, "this is my ship. We are not at home now. Here I am going to run things to suit myself. A mutiny!"

"You're a fool, Elijah," snarled Mrs. Simpkins.

"Yes, maybe I am," agreed her husband meekly.

"I'm going back to London by rail."

this minute," she continued, "and so are you. Come below and help me pack."

As Mr. Simpkins hastened to obey, the captain handed him a small slip of paper.

"What's this?" the Mary Smith owner asked. "It's a bill of two pounds ten for food and clothing used by a fellow that didn't ship."

CUTTLEFISH FULL OF TRICKS

Denial of the Deep That Has Distinct Commercial Value—Is Adopted at Camouflage.

Under the skin of the back of the cuttlefish, or the squid, as this relative of the devilfish is also known, is a bone (its substitute for a skeleton), which affords to caged birds a suitable substance to sharpen their beaks upon. Oddly enough, no American species of squid furnishes a satisfactory cuttlebone. These bones come from China or from the Mediterranean.

Cuttlefish ground to powder is an important ingredient of dentifrices. The "ink" thrown out by the animal to cloud the water when trying to escape furnishes the "sepia" of commerce, being dried and pressed into cakes. It enters also into the composition of "India ink."

The cuttlefish has a beak of its own, parrotlike, sharp and powerful. It is remarkable to see these mollusks dashing right and left through a school of young mackerels, biting a triangular piece out of the neck of each fish and killing at every snap by severing the spinal cord. They are delightfully greedy creatures and will devour their own kind with avidity.

The mackerel, when grown, takes their turn at gobbling the cuttles. Indeed, all carnivorous animals that dwell in the sea feed largely upon squids. Even the whales devour them by myriads.

The chameleon, famous for changing its coat colors, is an amateur at camouflage compared with the squid, which automatically and instantly alters its hues as it passes over one kind of bottom or another, so as to match the background and obtain a relative invisibility.

Dropping to the sandy bottom, it assumes the color of sand. Among rocks it adopts the hue thereof. Swimming in the water after prey it is almost transparent.

The KITCHEN CABINET

The saying that "one man's food is another man's poison" is but another way of expressing the impossibility of fixing a rigid dietary for civilized man in his present condition, but it is possible to determine what elements in food and drink are likely to be injurious to some individuals or to all.

CAKE CRUMBS may be used with any kind of fruit, nuts or fresh or canned berries. Put a layer of the cake crumbs in the bottom of a buttered baking dish; then add small bits of butter, a grating of nutmeg or a sprinkling of cinnamon if flavor is needed, some of the fruit, and more crumbs until the dish is full. Bake until thoroughly heated through.

PLUM PUDDING CAKE—Take two cups of bread crumbs softened in one-quarter of a cup of milk. If the crumbs are very dry add more milk. To the softened crumbs add one well-beaten egg, one-fourth of a cup of molasses and sugar, one-fourth of a cup of stewed prunes, chopped, three-fourths of a cup of chopped raisins, two teaspoonsful of mixed spices, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, half of a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonsful of lemon juice and one-fourth of a cup of flour. Bake in a moderate oven forty-five minutes. Serve with:

Foamy Sauce—Cream one-fourth of a cup of butter, add three-fourths of a cup of brown sugar, a few drops of lemon juice, four table-spoonsful of cream and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Cream the butter, add the sugar slowly and beat very light, then add the other ingredients and place over boiling water, stirring until foamy.

Sponge Layer Pudding—Slice sponge or any plain butter cake in even slices; put together with preserves or jam of any kind in three or four layers. Pour over a hot fruit sauce and place in the oven to heat and absorb the sauce. Serve with a fruit sauce or sweetened cream.

Berry Whip—Fill a dish with slices of sponge cake. Sugar a quart of strawberries, wash lightly and pour over the cake. Beat three egg whites until stiff, add three table-spoonsful of powdered sugar and beat through the berries to color and flavor. Heap on the cake and serve with cream.

Nellie Maxwell
For Nausea.

The slight nausea that often accompanies an attack of indigestion is relieved by taking a half teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia.

Misunderstood.
"Haven't you forgotten something, sir?" Customer—"Great Scott, yes! My wife told me to water the plants while she was away!"

Willow Furniture.
When willow furniture will no longer become white when washed with salt water, it may be turned to a bronze color with bitumen.

His One Wish.
Mrs. Honey—"I can read you like a book, William." Mr. H.—"Then I wish you'd do more reading and less questioning."

Helpfulness Its Own Reward.
Never let yourself worry as to whether those you help will be sufficiently grateful. Think of helpfulness as its own great reward.

Daily Thought.
Not what has happened to myself today, but what has happened to others through me—that should be my thought.

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—100 cents that Mr. Hastings had. Joseph Millburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOW TO PREVENT FIRES ON FARMS

All Conflagrations, Except Those of Incendiary Origin, Can Be Avoided.

GOOD POINTS TO REMEMBER

Preventable Loss of Millions of Dollars Worth of Agricultural Wealth Annually in Various Sections of Country.

Millions of dollars worth of agricultural wealth is destroyed annually by fire in the United States. The United States department of agriculture, in emphasizing the fact that all fires, except those of incendiary origin, are preventable, summarizes the points which the farmer must keep in mind, as follows:

The Sort of Catastrophe Which Care Can Prevent.

All matters are a possible source of danger.

Smoking or striking matches in barns or stables should be prohibited.

Endangering Life.

Pouring gasoline or kerosene in a smoldering fire endangers life and property.

Open flame lights should not be used in a garage or other building containing a gasoline engine or stored gasoline.

Never test for gas leaks with a burning match.

Every open fire should be watched until it is out.

Fire attracts children; children cause many fires.

Metals Containers for Gases.

All oil cans should be kept in a metal container with a tight metal cover.

The fire hazard should be considered in locating new buildings.

Wooden buildings should be constructed with any chimney.

Remember that responsibility for fires rests on individuals.

Farmers' Bulletin "Fire Protection and Fire Fighting on the Farm," just released by the United States department of agriculture, will be sent to anyone addressing a request to the department at Washington, D. C.

UNLEDGERED INCOME IS BIG

Three Essentials, Food, Fuel and Shelter Do Not Appear on Farmer's Balance Sheet.

The farmer, unlike most men in other lines of work, has two kinds of income, one his regular cash income, the other an income that is almost never measured in dollars and cents.

Food, fuel, and shelter are three essentials of life that go to make up the part of the farmer's balance sheet. These are the things that lend safety and stability to farm life that enable the farmer to live over bad years and hard times that would be ruinous if he had to pay cash for everything that he gets.

In the case of the man on the small farm, this unledgered income is often of as great importance to the farm family as the cash income, say farm management specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

THRIFTY CONDITION OF SOWS

Animals Should Not Be Forced to Get Along on Little or Nothing and Raise Big Litters.

What sows demand is to be kept in strong, thrifty condition as a result of good feed and management if they are going to produce uniformly large litters from year to year. Although they will take care of themselves about the best of any animal on the farm, if given the chance, they should not be forced to get along on little or nothing and at the same time be expected to raise large litters.

CLEAN BEDDING IS HELPFUL

Fifty Floor in Hen House Always Solids Eggs Because Fowls Carry Dirt into Nests.

Clean bedding on the floor of a henhouse helps to keep the eggs clean in the nest. A fifty floor always holds the nests because the hens carry the dirt into the nests when laying and get it on the eggs.

Helpfulness Its Own Reward.

Never let yourself worry as to whether those you help will be sufficiently grateful. Think of helpfulness as its own great reward.

FAITH

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."—Psa. 23:1.

Those who are so anxious about the future as to be unhappy in the present, may learn a lesson from a poor colored woman. Her name was Nancy, and she earned a modest living by washing. She was, however, always happy. One day one of those anxious Christians who were constantly "taking thought" about the morrow, said to her: "Ah, Nancy, it's well enough to be happy now; but I should think your thoughts of the future would sober you. Suppose, for instance, that you should be taken sick and unable to work; or suppose your present employers should move away, and no one else should give you anything to do; or suppose—" "Stop!" cried Nancy. "I never suppose. De Lord is my Shepherd, and I know I shall not want. And, honey," she added to her gloomy friend, "it is all down 'supposes' as is makin' you miserable. You ought give dem all up, an' 'jes' put in de Lord."—Selected.

Why That Headache? When you know the cause of a disease a cure may often be effected. This is particularly true of headaches. Headache often results from constipation, or a disordered condition of the stomach, which may be corrected by taking a dose or two of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it. These tablets are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

True Giving.

God has given us all that we have, and if we remember this, gratitude for these gifts should make us willing to give to Him whenever we have the opportunity.

One day a gentleman gave a little boy a gold dollar. "Now you must keep that," said the gentleman.

"Oh, no," said the boy, "I shall have it first. Maybe I shall keep my half."

"Your half?" said the gentleman, "why, it's all yours."

"No," answered the child, with an earnest shake of the head; "no, it's not all mine. I always go halves with God. Half I shall keep, and half I shall give to Him."

"God owns the world; He does not need it," said the gentleman; "the gold and the silver, and the cattle on a thousand hills belong to Him."

The little boy looked puzzled for a moment. He had never thought of this. Presently he said: "Anyhow, He goes to the bank."

That was the right thing. This little boy felt grateful to God for all the good things He had given him, and it was the gratitude he felt that made him desire to go halves with God.

But then, Jesus gave Himself to die for us, and gratitude for this should make it easy for us to learn the lesson of giving.—The Beautiful Tree of Life.

"When Jesus was a boy at home, in Nazareth, we are told that He was subject to His parents. We cannot imagine that in His childhood Jesus ever disobeyed His mother, or did anything which gave her an instant's pain. Perhaps we do not often think of Him as having been a boy who played with others, learned lessons, came and went on the streets as His companions did, and on the Sabbath attended the Synagogue and behaved reverently there. Let us try to imitate the boy Jesus in what we do and say."

Whatever may be the extent of inherited tendency, responsibility relates to our volition.—Hill.

We grow like what we contemplate. Let us, therefore, contemplate the true, the beautiful and the good.—Selected.

Renewed Testimony.

No one in Berlin who suffers backache, headache, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Berlin man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Berlin resident can doubt.

S. J. Hastings, Bay St., Berlin, says: "I have had Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions when my kidneys have been sluggish and when backache and other kidney troubles had appeared. This medicine has never failed to do me good. Doan's are the first thing we use in our family in case of kidney trouble."

ALWAYS GETS GOOD RESULTS.
Over four years later Mr. Hastings said: "I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally for backache. They certainly do stop it, taking the soreness and pain away quickly."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—100 cents that Mr. Hastings had. Joseph Millburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

JAMES J. ROSS, PRESIDENT. WM. DENNEY, Sec'y and Treas.

THE KENT COUNTY MUTUAL INSURANCE CO.,

DOVER, DELAWARE. Insures Property Against Fire and Lightning. Business Conducted on the Mutual System. Has returned to its policy-holders in dividends and surrendered policies over $700,000.00.

Present membership over nine thousand, with over $13,000,000.00 Insurance in force.

W. L. HOLLOWAY, Agt., Berlin, Md. E. FONTAINE, Agt., Pocomoke City, Md. JOHN E. McCABE, Agt., Bishop, Md.

EAGLE "MIKADO"

PENCIL No. 174

Regular Length, 7 inches. For Sale at your Dealer. Conceded to be the Finest Pencil made for general use.

EAGLE PENCIL COMPANY, NEW YORK

L & M SEMI-PASTE PAINTS

MAKES BEST PAINT—WEARS LONGEST

Cost to you $3.66 a Gallon when made ready to use.

Use a gallon out of every you buy, and if not the best paint made, return the balance and get all your money back.

Sold by Dealers LONGMAN & MARTINEZ, Washers, N. Y.

Cleaning And Pressing.

L. Jones, the Specialist, cleaner and presser; scouring and dyeing. First-class bootblack work called for and delivered. Shop next door to Post Office, Main Street, Berlin, Md.

LEXINGTON Minute Man Six.

Day-Elder, Moline, Worm Drive Truck. Universal Tractor.

Our line of cars, trucks and tractors can't be beaten. And the deals we have been making are very satisfactory to our customers. Our representative will be pleased to give a demonstration upon request. We carry a full line of used cars. Get in touch with us and you will be surprised at the bargains we have.

Bring your batteries here to be charged. We are equipped to give expert service. General repairing a specialty. Give us a trial and get acquainted with the service which is pleasing so many.

THE SHOWELL GARAGE,

ROBBY BROS., Proprietors.

SHOWN, MARYLAND.

Near-by Subscriptions, $1.00. Those over 300 miles, $1.50 per year in advance.

ONLY A CENT AND A HALF A YEAR!

THE VALUE of the property used in furnishing telephone service in Maryland, outside of Baltimore City, is $7,745,000.

AT THE PRESENT TIME our operations, outside of Baltimore City, show A Loss of $127,400 per Annum.

THE RATES the Company is asking would increase its net revenues by $226,700 per annum, outside of Baltimore, and would turn the loss into A Net Earning of $99,336 per Annum.

THIS IS ONLY 1.28 per cent. on the value of the property.

IN OTHER WORDS, we are asking that our dollars invested in the counties of Maryland be allowed to earn less than a cent and one-half a year. Your dollars deposited in a savings bank would earn four cents in the same period.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND POTOMAC TELEPHONE COMPANY

Bread Cast Upon the Waters

Captain of the Good Ship Mary Smith Maneuvers to Hold His Post, as Well as That of Mates Who Were About to Be Discharged by Victimized Owner

(Copyright by the Adams Newspaper Service, New York)

By EARL DERR BIGGERS.

The captain of the Mary Smith, engaged in a hasty search for an extra seaman, paused hopefully beside a time-worn veteran in the barroom of the harbor front.

"Buddy," he inquired.

The ancient mariner seized his half-empty glass firmly. "Quits," he said decidedly.

"Doing what?" asked the captain.

"Retiring," replied the veteran, "restin' from a long an' adventuresome life by land an' sea. In many far ports I've been, an' many queer experiences I've had."

"How about another berth?" pursued the skipper.

"Not for love or money," said the retired seaman; "me an' the ocean wave has parted company for good."

"But I'd make it worth your while," insisted the captain.

"You'd have to make it worth more than my while, wotever that is," returned the other discouragingly; "me an' the river don't speak as we pass by."

The exasperated captain was tempted to remark that the other looked the part of a stranger to water, but remembering the paucity of sailormen, choked down his resentment.

"See here," he said, "I'm Captain Roberts of the Mary Smith. I've got to meet the new owner of my boat at Greenport this evening, an' we're goin' to sail at noon. Before we start, I want another A. B. aboard. I've looked all morning," he paused, and decided that it would be unwise to mention his failure to encounter a single available seaman—"all morning," he repeated, "an' you're the most experienced sailor I've come across."

"Ay, ay," interposed the flattered one; "in many ports I've been—"

"The work is easy," the skipper hurried on, "an' you'll find me a kind master. I don't look a hard one, do I?"

"I'd hate to say wot you look," replied the other. Then observing the captain's pained face, he added hastily: "My eyesight's very poor. Anyhow, looks don't count. The coolest skipper I ever sailed under wore pretty red neckties. An' as for the easy work, that's wot they all say. I suppose there's a red plush carpet for me to smoke my pipe in, an' a vas-back duck for breakfast every morning."

"I'm not here to talk nonsense," said the captain.

"You ought to stop here," said the sailor's life, "the other returned, 'for that's the worst nonsense I've heard. No, sir, I'm here, an' the river's there, an' here an' there we stay.'"

"I like you, Dobbs," said the captain, "simulating a kindness he by no means felt. 'I want you aboard the Mary Smith. Ain't there nothin' I can say will make you consider it?'"

"Nothing," said Mr. Dobbs firmly; "an' even if I did consider it—mind you I ain't sayin' I will—I couldn't think o' goin' among decent sailormen in these clothes. They're an insult to the calling. That's the sorrow of my retired life—that I couldn't retire in good clothes."

"Don't let that worry you," the captain assured him, "we ain't particular about them things aboard the Mary Smith. If any made fun o' your clothes, I'd brain them."

"You're a kind skipper," Mr. Dobbs returned, "an' it's your kind makes you say that. But I wouldn't be a disgrace to the Mary Smith, not for worlds."

Captain Roberts looked at the clock, then across the deserted barroom through the door that opened into a deserted street.

"What would you say," he asked, "if I offered to buy you a new suit if you come aboard. And take it out o' your pay later," he added, in a tone inaudible to Mr. Dobbs.

"I'd say you ain't a skipper—you're a fairy," Mr. Dobbs said, "an' I don't believe in fairies, so I'd 'ave to say you was drunk. It'd be 'ard, but I'd 'ave to say it."

"I'm in earnest," the captain insisted; "brand new togs, it ain't every day such a offer is made."

"It ain't every day you meet a sailorman like me," returned the redoubtable Dobbs, "in many far ports—"

"Will new clothes bring you aboard the Mary Smith?" the skipper broke in, "or won't they? I want to know now."

Mr. Dobbs thought deeply. At length he spoke.

"They would," he said, "if I had the strength to walk to the quay. But I ain't. Not a bit o' breakfast 'ave I 'ad, except two glasses o' beer."

The captain engaged in some rapid mental arithmetic in which Mr. Dobbs' first month's pay figured to a considerable extent.

"I'll add a breakfast, then," he conceded at last.

"I could almost be suspicious of a man so good as you," Mr. Dobbs declared, "you don't seem human—more like an angel. An' I always was suspicious of angels."

The captain led the way to the dining room, where Mr. Dobbs consumed an unusual breakfast, his wandering tastes being occasionally, as he explained, by his visits to many far ports. While the skipper was paying a bill that sent the cold chills up and down his back, Mr. Dobbs suggested one more drink. "A toast to the river wot I'm goin' back to," he announced; "wot I'm being led back to by an angel."

Mr. Dobbs' first pay again suffered in the mind of the angel as the toast was drunk. Outside the harbor front Captain Roberts sought to lead the steps of his errand companion toward a second-hand clothes shop of all. An' this Dobbs was the only excuse for a sailor I could find in town."

"Then them," said the mate, "it was terrible reckless. I wouldn't a done it. I'd 'ave advised against it. I wish you'd 'ad my cooler 'ad there to advise you."

The captain's manner, which had been one of deep dejection, underwent a sudden change. He smiled genially, and shook the mate on the back.

"No, you wouldn't a done it," he sneered; "an' it's just as well you wouldn't. You'd have come out the loser. It takes—well, it takes a bit o' cleverness to pull these things through. Fortune favors the brave an' dastard, an' everything they try comes out all right in the end."

The mate followed the direction of the superior's glance, and discovered three sailormen bundling a very unwilling gentleman into the waterman's skiff.

"That was all put on—my sadness," explained the skipper; "of course I knew all the time I was coming out on top."

He walked the deck in the excess of his joy. The skiff soon covered the distance between the ship and the schooner, and an undignified and knocking captive came on board, assisted by strong arms and willing hearts.

He was small and bearded, with a curiously expressive partially destroyed by the combined effect of a torn collar, dusty clothes, and a face purple with rage.

When Captain Roberts got a good look at the new-comer, his hope sank and his anger rose.

"Who is this man?" he demanded of the crew.

One of the men stepped forward, the pride of the capture shining in his face.

"Why 'e's the feller wot stole your clothes and wittles, to be sure," he said, "an' a mighty 'ard customer 'e is. Wa—"

"Shut up, you idiot," roared the skipper; "this ain't the man. I don't know who he is. I never saw him before."

The crew stood dumbfounded.

"Well, it ain't our fault," said the spokesman at last; "it's the 46—s'picion you 'ave us like it was made fer im. A small man, wactin' whiskers, 'co's very comely indeed, an' 'as a blue suit, nearly new."

The other men shook their heads, whereupon the unwilling guest found his breath sufficiently to speak in gurgling puffs.

"I've seen a few outrages in my time," he managed to say, "but this beats the list. An' I've seen people suffer, but if their suffering wasn't pleasure compared to what you're goin' through, I'll—"

"Calm yourself, sir," said the captain soothingly. "I'm sure it's a great disappointment to me that you ain't the right thief, as it is to you. I apologize most humbly."

"The right thief," roared the captive; "I'm infatigable, secondly, I'll—"

"It's a mistake," said the captain, "an' I'm sure you'll be satisfied with the result."

"I'm not," said the man, "I know I'm not. I'm here now. Nobody could be more than that."

"You'll suffer," began the injured man.

"I ain't sufferin'," Captain Roberts interrupted, "more than words can say. When I saw you dragged aboard—"

"I will waste no more words," said the stranger; "give me your name an' the name of this vessel."

"Captain Roberts of the Mary Smith," said the gentleman, promptly. The captain staggered weakly to the rail, and grasped it for support.

"I suppose I'd noticed it," he murmured, "if I hadn't been so mad. Dragged aboard my own ship by a man of ruffian and cutthroat masquerading as his crew. Hauled over the rail, used as a mop for his deck—"

"Mr. Simpkins!" cried the horrified skipper.

"Eljah Simpkins of London," continued the enraged owner, "come on from Greenport in time to learn the awful truth. Maybe I 'ave discovered it at a small cost, after all. What a few rumpled clothes and broken bones compared to finding out your boat is manned by pirates! But you'll pay for it, you can bet on that. We'll sail for Greenport at once, and I'll ship your heads awin. You all go, from captain to cabin boy. I'm convinced there's not an ounce o' good in one o' you. I'll go ashore now and get my luggage and—my wife. She's traveling with me for her health. We'll wait your cabin, captain."

"Pleased, I'm sure," said the unhappy skipper.

Amid an awed silence, the mighty Simpkins lowered himself into the waterman's skiff, casting many black looks behind. After his departure the crew continued to stand with open mouths, and the mate smoked aggressively, and the captain announced that something must be done.

"That's easy to say," the mate sneered.

"And hard to do," assented the gloomy skipper.

It was late in the afternoon when Mr. Simpkins returned, accompanied by a massive lady who taxed the waterman's skiff to the limit, and the gentleness of whose elevation to the deck of the Mary Smith inspired in a passing stranger the suggestion of a derelict. An unexpectedly meek and humble Mr. Simpkins followed her, weighed down beneath a mountain of luggage.

"Eljah," said Mrs. Simpkins, well ahead, "the deck is very dirty."

"It shall be washed, my dear," Mr. Simpkins assured her, with an uncertain glance toward the skipper.

"It needs a coat of paint, too," continued the critical Mrs. Simpkins; "be sure and see to it the moment we reach Greenport."

"Without delay, my love," assented her lord and master.

"I believe the boat smells," went on Mrs. Simpkins, sniffing.

"Perhaps it does," said the owner, "but it shall be thoroughly overhauled the instant the new crew takes charge." He glanced meaningfully at the

Harrisons' Nurseries,

(J. G. Harrison and Sons)

LARGEST GROWERS OF

FRUIT TREES

IN THE WORLD.

HARRISONS' ORNAMENTALS.

Shade Trees, Evergreens, Flowering Shrubs, Hedge Plants, Vines, Roses and Peonies for improving home grounds.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE FREE.

Harrisons' Nurseries.

NURSERYMEN.

ORCHARDISTS.

BERLIN, MARYLAND.

HARRISONS' SMALL FRUITS.

Grapes, Strawberries, Blackberries, Raspberries, Dewberries, Currants, Gooseberries.

It Pays To Hang Out A Shingle.

LET ME PAINT and LETTER That Shingle

AT A VERY REASONABLE RATE.

SAFEGUARD Your trunk, suit case and hand bag, by having your INITIALS painted thereon. In most cases you do not order anything before in need, "strange though true" you should order sign work before. So order now. Soliciting your patronage.

DEAN FASSETT, Sign Writer, FLOWER STREET, BERLIN, MARYLAND.

Mr. Simpkins pushed her husband back the companion-way, and after a silence-compelling look in the skipper's direction, followed.

Late that evening the skipper and the mate sat smoking by the rail, while Mr. Simpkins walked excitedly up and down the deck.

"This is my boat," he announced, "and I'm going to be master here. I'm running things. Tomorrow you all go. I wouldn't have you aboard for millions. I'll run things to suit myself."

"Eljah," came a voice from the companion-way.

"Yes, my dear," said Mr. Simpkins.

"It's time you were in bed," continued the voice.

"Yes, Maria," agreed Mr. Simpkins, and disappeared below.

"Something must be done," announced the skipper tentatively.

"So you've said a hundred times," remarked the mate.

"This is too good a berth to lose," went on the captain, "we'd all suffer by giving it up."

"So we would," assented the mate.

"We smoked in silence for a time, then the captain broke into uncontrollable laughter.

"I've thought of a joke," he said. "I want the cook to hear it. He likes a good joke. Go on, call him, George."

The mate obeyed, presently returning with the astonished cook.

"You know a good many young ladies in Greenport, cook," said the skipper.

"A fry," replied the cook modestly.

"A fry," said the captain, "and nice ones, too, I hear. I just thought of a good joke, as I was telling the mate. Of course it never could happen, an' I can't imagine how it occurred to me. It's a mystery—a mystery, but a good joke. You know Simpkins is a pillar of a church an' you know the sort of wife he's got. I was thinkin'—it's too funny for words—how amusin' it would be if tomorrow, mornin', at Greenport a young lady come aboard—"

"One of the young ladies you know, for instance, cook—"

"Simpkins was a—"

"Wild to see him again, an' all that, you know. We all like Simpkins pretty well, even if he is goin' to kick us out, an' if his wife wasn't round we'd do all in our power to quiet the girl."

Mr. Simpkins appeared for this meal in no happy mood. He complained of the night noises on the river, and threatened awful things to anyone who disturbed his wife's early morning sleep. The captain, delicate suggestion that he enjoy to the utmost the brief respite from that lady's endearing care, he received with the scorn he deserved.

"Well, never mind, probably he'll come back," returned the skipper, with unexpected cheerfulness; "an' we've better all help with the breakfast."

"Good-night, sir," answered the smiling captain.

The captain nudged the mate, and the mate nudged the captain. In unison they knocked their pipes against the rail, and arm in arm marched to their enforced bunks forward.

The skipper awakened to the pleasant news that the cook had disappeared. "Went ashore early," was the refrain of the sleepy sailor men at the wheel.

"Well, never mind, probably he'll come back," returned the skipper, with unexpected cheerfulness; "an' we've better all help with the breakfast."

"Good-night, sir," answered the smiling captain.

The captain nudged the mate, and the mate nudged the captain. In unison they knocked their pipes against the rail, and arm in arm marched to their enforced bunks forward.

J. W. Burbage Sr. Furnishing Undertaker and Embalmer

Full Line of CASKETS and ROBES.

MANUFACTURER OF High-Grade Monuments and Tombstones at Reasonable Prices.

DEALER IN IRON FENCE.

All business will receive our personal attention.

BERLIN MD.

Ewing Bowen Undertakers and Embalmers.

We are carrying to suit the trade, a full line of Caskets and Robes. We are also dealers in Flowers and Funeral designs.

All business will receive prompt attention day or night.

BUSINESS LOCATED AT FLOWER ST. BERLIN, MD.

Fresh Fish RECEIVED DAILY.

S. B. MUMFORD, Berlin, Maryland

Notice! Read!!

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR

Pine, Oak, or Gum

Logs in the Round

Bring along whatever you have and get your money.

The Adkins Co., Building Material, BERLIN, MARYLAND.

BERLIN ADVANCE.

BERLIN, MD., JUNE 25, 1920

THE ADVANCE for second-class postage is charged at 5 cents per copy. Subscribers now.

Anniversary "In Memoriam" will be charged at 5 cents per copy. All verses of poetry in connection with death notices and obituaries will be charged for at the rate of 5 cents per line.

Locals.

Truck For Sale—A. H. Purnell. Lens, Mirrors at A. E. Purnell's. See J. M. Bratten for all kinds of shoes.

Corn For Sale—At Golden Quarter Farm.

Head light glasses guaranteed to comply with the law. Henry Bros.

For Sale—1,000 bushels ashes at 6 cts. bu. Berlin Veneer Works.

Two cars hay now rolling. Special price at car door. J. M. Bratten.

The Sunday School column will be found on our last page this week.

Tomato plants for sale—Stone and Great. Baltimore. E. M. Holland.

For Sale, Cheap—Chevrolet auto in good condition. Henry E. Onley.

Cow peas, clover seed, millet, sorghum and buckwheat. J. M. Bratten.

Miss C. Dillworth returned last Saturday from a visit in Bridgeville, Del.

Wanted—white seed potatoes. State price. W. E. Gantt, Berlin, Maryland.

For Sale—Farm, 81 acres, near Libertytown. New house and barn. Steve Toth.

The community meeting was not held last Friday evening, because of the storm.

For Sale Cheap—Oak Cabinet Mantel, two cypress screen doors. E. H. Benson.

Place your order for Standard Binder Twine at once with the Berlin Hardware Co.

Mrs. F. W. Bishop has returned from a visit to her brother, John Dillworth, at Newark.

Clarence Hanley and family visited his sister, Mrs. William Ellis, of Franklin City, Sunday.

Sweet potato sprouts in any quantity. Charles E. Hudson or Herman Rider, Berlin, Md.

Buy your wall paper of me. Samples can be seen at my home. Mrs. John Burdage, Jr.

For Sale—Champion Potato Digger in good working order. Edgar Rayne, near Ocean City.

For Sale—8-room house in good order. 1 1/2 acre lot, suitable out-buildings. S. J. Hastings.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Methodist Church Sunday morning.

The County Woman's Club has applied for membership as a branch of the State Tuberculosis Association.

For Sale—50 bu. prime seed Hoosier Potatoes, at the Griffin Farm on stone road near Ocean City. J. H. Parker.

Frank Bartlett, Howard and Roland Purnell enjoyed a trip to Montreal and other points of interest last week and this.

Three unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping on second floor, with use of bath. Possession July 1st. Mrs. Drake, West Street.

For Sale—Pair computing scales. Will weigh up to 20 lbs., and figure at same time. Will sell cheap. W. E. Boston Company.

For Sale—A nice young mule, sound and good worker, three farm wagons. Will sell at a bargain. E. R. Downing, Berlin, Md.

William K. Rayne, of Baltimore, spent part of last week in Berlin with his mother and sister. He is now at Ocean City for the season.

Mrs. Victor W. Lee and daughter, Faith, of Massachusetts, are spending some time with Mrs. Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lee.

A carload of wire nails, wire fencing and mine prop wire, which has been so badly needed, has been received by the Berlin Hardware Co.

Buy your tire at Henry's Garage and get a tube free. Come in and look at the Harvey Shock Absorber. If you want your Ford to ride easy, buy a Harvey.

Potato barrels at 85 cents. J. M. Bratten.

W. Bolon Powell, a well-known citizen of Snow Hill, died at his home, Saturday, of Bright's disease. Funeral at 2 p. m. at Snow Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Donaway and Clayton, Jr., of Sharon Hill, Pa., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Donaway, near town.

The church of Synepuxent will hold a festival in the school yard, Saturday evening, June 26th. Everybody is invited. Come out and have a good time.

The E. A. Strout Farm Agency, through its local representative, F. T. Sinclair, reports the sale of the J. W. Perry farm, near Friendship, to C. F. Vaden, of Raleigh, N. C.

The Preserving Plant finished its season's work and closed Thursday. It was the shortest season of any, but about 1,100 barrels were put up instead of the 1,000 barrels which were expected.

Joseph Hollins is announcing to his patrons and friends that he is in a position to save them money and he will treat them right. Come in and become convinced by giving him a trial before you buy.

Mrs. John Benson and four children, of Highland Park, Ill., and Miss Virginia Handy, who teaches in the National Cathedral School, Washington, are spending the summer with their mother, at Anchoka.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hastings and two children, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rayne and Miss Grace Dennis, from near Berlin, visited Mr. Hastings' sister, Mrs. James C. Dennis, of Federalsburg, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Grise and Miss Florence Milbourn left early this week for a few weeks of visiting with relatives and friends, going first to Selbyville, before locating in their new home, which they hope to find in Pocomoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Powell motored from Philadelphia last week to spend his vacation with his mother, Mrs. J. Annie Powell. William Bratten accompanied them, remaining until Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Ann Bratten.

O. P. Sharp & Sons have installed a soda fountain in their place this week. You will see, also, by their advertisement that they have taken over the ice cream and soda fountain business connected with the Conner Restaurant, at Ocean City.

Children's Day services at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening, were greatly enjoyed, and notwithstanding the thunder shower there were only two or three children missing from the program. There was a large congregation and a gratifying collection.

The Children's Day exercises of the Buckingham Sunday School, last Sunday morning, were exceptionally fine. In addition to the songs and recitations, a rose drill was very prettily performed by a number of little girls, trained by Mrs. John C. Mumford, of New York, who is spending the summer here. The Children's Day offering was a large one.

The Eastern District Baptist Association, comprising churches of the Eastern Shore and a few of Baltimore's largest churches will meet in Division Street Baptist Church, Rev. H. Lloyd Parkinson, Pastor, in Salisbury, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 23rd and 24th. There will be morning, afternoon, and evening sessions, at 9:30, 2:30, and 7:30. Helpful, inspiring, educational. Plan to attend the Association.

Buckingham Presbyterian Church.

J. Russell Verbycke, Minister.

9:30 a. m. Bible School, Calvin B. Taylor, Superintendent.

10:30 a. m. Divine Worship and sermon to the Improved Order of Red Men.

7:15 p. m. Christian Endeavor. Topic, "Honesty In Word and Deed." Led by Ernestine Golden, 8 p. m. Evening Service.

Tuesday, 8 p. m. Service. All are cordially invited to these services.

For Sale—One new vacuum cup tire, 32x33, one run only a few miles; one 33x4 tire nearly new; one 33x4 tire well worn; 21 clinchers. Two inner tubes, 32x33; one 33x4 in good condition. Advance.

Capt. W. J. Dennis.

Captain Washington Irving Dennis, well known in Berlin and a member of the Buckingham Church, died Wednesday evening about nine o'clock, at the home of his niece, Mrs. Hillary Hudson, near St. Martin's. He was stricken with paralysis eight years ago, since which time he had been practically helpless, and had been faithfully nursed by his only remaining sister, Miss Amanda Dennis. Her strength being unequal to the task, as he gradually neared the River's brink, they moved to their niece's home. Capt. Dennis had lived in or near Berlin for twenty years, but his earlier life was spent around Powellville and Whifton. He was a sailor by trade. Funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Hudson at 3:30 this afternoon, the Rev. J. Russell Verbycke officiating.

Robert D. Grier, one of Salisbury's best-known business men, was killed last Tuesday afternoon, when his automobile collided with the passenger train on the Crisfield branch of the N. Y., P. & N. R. R. at Westover. He was returning home from Crisfield and the approach to the crossing was hidden from view. Both Grier and the engineer applied their brakes, but too late.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Robert D. Grier, one of Salisbury's best-known business men, was killed last Tuesday afternoon, when his automobile collided with the passenger train on the Crisfield branch of the N. Y., P. & N. R. R. at Westover. He was returning home from Crisfield and the approach to the crossing was hidden from view. Both Grier and the engineer applied their brakes, but too late.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Funeral services were held at his late home Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Boyle, and burial service at Parsons Cemetery, in charge of the Knights Templar. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter, and one brother, F. A. Grier, of Salisbury, and other brothers and sisters in Milford, Del., his boyhood home.

Over Half Million Individual Deposits.

Resources $650,000.00.

A welcome awaits those wishing to start a bank account or those contemplating a change in their banking connections at

CALVIN B. TAYLOR BANKING COMPANY,

BERLIN, MD.

Baptist Recognition Service

Next Tuesday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock, in the Woman's Club Rooms, a service will be held recognizing the First Baptist Church, which was organized here last Tuesday evening. Rev. W. H. Baylor, D. D., pastor of the State Mission Board, will preach the sermon and welcome the church on behalf of the denomination.

Rev. Kingman A. Handy, Educational Director, will also be present. Delegations from Pocomoke City, Girdlestone, Good Will, Both Eden and Spence Churches will attend and bring greetings from their respective churches.

Greeting from the Delaware Baptists will be extended by Rev. T. C. Davis, of Milford, Del.

A special musical program will be rendered by a visiting choir from the churches represented.

At this service the new church will meet delegates to attend the District Association at Salisbury on June 23-24. All services for the present will be held in the Woman's Club Rooms. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to worship with them.

R. F. Erwin Regarding His Trouble.

"A year ago last winter I had an attack of indigestion followed by biliousness and constipation. Being Chamberlain's Tablets highly recommended for stomach troubles, I bought a bottle of them and they helped me right away," writes R. F. Erwin, Jr., Ind. If you have any trouble with your digestion give these tablets a trial. They will do you good.

Newspaper Changes Hands At Denton.

E. D. C. Hegeman, former editor of the Maryland Tribune, has bought the American Union, a weekly newspaper published at Denton, Caroline County, Maryland, and will assume charge July 1st.

The first watermelons of the season arrived in Baltimore on Monday from Georgia. While small, they were apparently of good quality, and sold from $1 to $1.50.

To Exchange.

I have a 40-acre tract of new land, only two miles to county seat of Bunnell, Flagler County, Florida, to exchange for a farm near Berlin, Md. Good reason for trading. This 40-acre tract is clear and free of all claims. Best offer will be accepted. It is in a grand county and a good location. Also 4 building lots in Dupont, Florida, to go with this 40-acre tract.

Edward Titworth, 71 South St., Jersey City, N. J.

Public Auction

OF POCOMOKE FAIR PRIVILEGES.....

The right of selling certain kinds of merchandise on the grounds of The Pocomoke Fair Association during its 1920 Fair, Aug. 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th, 1920, will be offered at public auction, in front of the Ford House in Pocomoke City, Md., on Friday, June 25th, 1920,

at 3 o'clock, p. m.

The following privileges will be offered for sale:

Programs

Cigars and Tobacco

WOOLEN TRUST CASE FAILS

Profiteering Indictment Against American Company and William M. Wood Dismissed.

APPEAL TO BE TAKEN.

Accused of Increasing Prices 300 Per Cent and Paying Enormous Salaries—Lever Act Removed Cloth From List of Necessaries.

New York—Federal Judge Mack directed the dismissal of the indictment against the American Woollen Company and William M. Wood, president of the company, charged with profiteering under the Lever act. The indictment had been returned on charges showing that in 1919 Mr. Wood had received $513,482.88 in commissions charged to manufacturing and selling expenses and that he also had received "harmless salaries" from both companies. The company was charged with having increased prices more than 300 per cent.

The order for dismissal was based on an amendment to the Lever act which included "wearing apparel" among the things which came under the ban against profiteering. The court held that if this amendment had not been made the indictment might have been sound, but by specifically naming "wearing apparel" the amendment had nullified the indictment.

It later was announced that the government would appeal.

Judge Mack said the substantial question involved was whether a piece of cloth was a necessary within section 4 of the Lever act, on which the indictment was based, or whether it was wearing apparel as defined in the amendment made on October 22, 1919.

After stating that section 4 must be read in connection with section 1, he said the prohibition applied only to those necessities defined as such in section 1. Then the opinion reads: "Wearing apparel is a necessary. If section 4 had forbidden unreasonable rates as to any necessities, wearing apparel, clearly a necessary in the general sense of the word, would have been embraced therein even before the amendment of 1919. The amendment, therefore, would have been unnecessary. Congress did not so consider it, and, therefore, by the amendment of 1919 expressly included it in the class of necessities that were to become subject to the prohibition of the act."

"Either the word necessary, as used in section 4, is free from any limitation by reason of the definition in section 1, in which case, even before the amendment of 1919, it would have included wearing apparel or it is to be limited to those articles expressly stated in section 1 as necessities. In this act called necessary, it is practically conceded, and if it were not conceded it must be held, especially in view of the amendment of 1919, that any necessities as used in section 4 does not include necessities."

Coming to the question of cloth as differentiated from clothing, the opinion says: "Concededly bolts of cloth are not in and of themselves wearing apparel. Interpreted in the light of reason, wearing apparel must be held to include the material used to make up a garment. In other words, that the legislative intent to secure reasonable prices in the distribution of wearing apparel cannot possibly or perhaps reasonably be carried out unless the limitations imposed upon the distribution of the made-up garment are extended to the materials out of which they are made."

But the opinion continued: "I can find in the act no intent thus to control distribution of all or indeed any of the ingredients that enter into wearing apparel. Apt words to indicate such an intent were readily available."

Charles E. Hughes represented the defendants and the government was represented by Special Assistants Frederick Bisgood and Herbert O. Smyth. Attorney General Palmer also appeared in the proceedings.

Charles E. Hughes contended that woolen cloth, which is the company's product, is not wearing apparel as

BRITISH AT TELFAH

Tribesman Massacre Officers, Officials and Townsmen.

LONDON.—Two British officers, all the government officials and a number of townspeople were killed in an attack by Shanmar tribesmen on Telfah, near Mosul, Asiatic Turkey, according to Baghdad advices coming by way of Bombay. The government building was seized in the attack, which was made on June 4. A punitive column is reported to have been sent from Mosul.

FAMOUS CRIMES RING AGAIN

Bells of St. Clements, in Old London, Appeal to Children, as in the Olden Days.

"Oranges and Lemons" rang out on the old bells of St. Clements on the last day of March on an evening as fine as any during the finest winter London has ever known. The bells rang, but few heard them, prevented by the roar of the Strand traffic. It was the first time the old nursery rhyme had been rung out from the steeple for a very long while. Some hundreds of school children, who had been invited to attend the church, filed out at the close in small processions, piloted across the streams of traffic by the London policemen. Every child carried an orange or a lemon, a gift which made up to them for the fat tones in which the voices of the old bells reached their ears. Down the streets with the historic names running from the Strand to the Thames, St. Clements made was more audible, the sound carrying over the noise and roar, and into the offices where anybody, with a turn of mind for antiquity, has but to throw open his window to hear the sound of a bell cast in the year of the Spanish armada.

Unnecessary to Graft Skin.

When much skin is destroyed in burns, a common resort is skin graft, applied either in small isolated patches to grow gradually over the surface, or in pieces up to two or three inches square to cover a large portion or all of the wound. At a recent medical meeting, Dr. E. G. Beck of Chicago called attention to a process of culture by which skin may be made to grow without grafting, even over large surfaces. As the wound heals the granulations at the edge of the spreading fresh skin place an elevated barrier in its way and if these granulations are removed as often as every 24 hours the patient's own skin is given a chance and may be watched spreading over the entire surface. A protective covering of paraffin often promotes the replacement of skin without grafting.

In the same manner that coral is formed from certain minute sea-anemones who flourish in the South Pacific, so certain iron ores are obtained from particular microscopic organisms.

That is the latest scientific discovery which promises interesting developments.

It has been proved that these germs not only aid in the decomposition of rocks and in the formation of chalk and limestone, but play an active part in the forming of iron-ore deposits.

Laboratory cultures have been made of bacteria which deposit iron compounds both in surface waters and in underground waters hundreds of feet under ground, and the hard crusts and silty masses that choke up water-supply pipes have been found to be composed of millions of these "iron bacteria."

Nothing Green in Death Valley.

The natural vegetation of Death valley is scant and stunted. There is not a green thing that grows there naturally. The thorny mesquite trees are of a yellowish-green tinge, so, too, are the greasewood, while the sagebrush is either a yellowish gray or the color of ashes. A little round grass called the desert apple grows in some of the canyons. It turns yellow when ripe and has a thin meat within that is exceedingly bitter. The cactus that grows beyond the valley in abundance is rare here. In short, the vegetation of Death valley is terribly scant, even in comparison with the Mojave desert.

BRIEFS BY CABLE, WIRE, WIRELESS

Great Events That Are Changing the World's Destiny Told in Paragraphs.

ITEMS TO INTEREST ALL

Short Chronicle of Past Occurrences Throughout the Union and Old Colonies—News From Europe That Will Interest.

WASHINGTON

That natural gas supplies are rapidly diminishing, causing a serious situation, was asserted by Dr. Frederick G. Cottrell, director of the Bureau of Mines, before a conference of representatives of states interested in the problem.

That the land boom which swept Iowa during the summer of 1919 forced prices of farm lands in that state up to levels which were not justified, is stated in a report just completed by the Department of Agriculture. The report is based on investigations conducted in co-operation with the Iowa State College. The investigation covered sixty Iowa counties.

The highest interest rate yet paid on treasury certificates of indebtedness is provided for in an issue of $400,000,000, or thereabouts, announced by Secretary of the Treasury, Houston. The certificates are offered in two series, one extending for six months and bearing interest at five and three fourths per cent and the other for one year and drawing six per cent interest.

Every move made and every word uttered in the Republican National Convention, in session in Chicago, was echoed in the White House by means of special telegraph and telephone wires, and in addition minute bulletins were telegraphed in over a direct wire by a news association.

The United States Chamber of Commerce submitted to a referendum vote of more than 1,200 industrial and commercial organizations, twelve principles of industrial relations, drafted by the chamber's board of directors.

NATION'S BUSINESS

United Airplane and Motor Corporation, claiming three-fourths of the entire American output announced it would virtually abandon manufacturing of commercial airplanes because of lack of orders from British planes.

Judge Mack in a decision filed in the Federal District Court, sustained the demurrer filed by Charles E. Hughes to the indictment charging the American Woollen Company of New York and Massachusetts, and its president Wood, with violating the Lever act. Cloth is not wearing apparel, ruled Judge Mack.

The food control section of the Lever act, which makes it an offense for a merchant to charge unreasonable prices, was held to be unconstitutional by U. S. District Court Judge Thompson, in Philadelphia.

Attorney General Palmer, received indirect assurance from the Erie Railroad that the eight-day law for tugs and barges would be accepted.

Representatives of shippers cross-examined carriers' witnesses in the rate hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, with the intent, apparently, of laying the foundation for argument that the basis on which the railroads estimated their need for increased revenue for the next two years cannot be entirely justified.

The United States government does not intend to recognize a claim against Germany for war damages amounting to about $750,000,000. That fact was obtained from the state department.

GENERAL

A declaration in favor of ratification of the treaty of Versailles will be the main plank in the Democratic platform.

Judge Julius M. Mayer, in the United States District Court, signed an order directing the discharge of Benjamin K. Odell and George G. Holt as receivers for the Aetna Explosive Company, Inc., and directed the return of the property to the stockholders.

Four persons were killed and more than a score injured in a windstorm which swept through northern Minnesota and parts of Iowa, Wisconsin and North Dakota.

Federal Judge Chatfield, in Brooklyn, announced that hereafter all persons convicted of violating the prohibition law would receive jail sentences.

The country home at East Hampton, N. Y., of Enrico Caruso, tenor, was burglarized and jewels valued at $300,000 were stolen, the police reported. The stolen jewels included a diamond necklace valued at $75,000.

Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, strongest union in the steel industry, may be forced out of the American Federation of Labor if plans of the A. F. of L. steel organizing committee forces a showdown.

James A. Edgerton, federal prohibition director for New Jersey, announced his office was fully organized and asked public co-operation in enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment.

Warning to be on the lookout for Grover C. Bergdoll, from Philadelphia, was flashed to officers all over Texas by federal officials after they received a report that a man answering Bergdoll's description passed Denison, Texas.

Ten million dollars was raised by the University of Rochester, for the founding of a new school of medicine and dentistry.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. F. B. STEWART, D. D., Teacher of English in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR JUNE 20

THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD.

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 1. GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.—Ps. 23. DEVOTIONAL READING.—Isaiah 40: 3-5. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—John 10: 1-10. PRIMARY TOPIC—How God takes care of us. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Shepherd Psalm. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Trusting God for Everything. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Divine Shepherd.

This is a lesson so simple that a child of tender years can understand. The teacher's work will be mainly to point out the richness of the thought, not to explain difficulties. The position of the Psalm determines its value. It is preceded by the Psalm of the Cross. Only those who are under the power of the cross can claim its promises. There are no great promises to those who have not seen Christ on the cross.

The relationship of the Lord to his children is set forth in this Psalm as: 1. The Divine Shepherd (vv. 1-4). The teacher should thoroughly familiarize himself with the life and nature of a shepherd. As our shepherd, 1. He feeds his sheep (v. 1, 2). The "green pastures" are for nourishment. The Lord always provides food for his own sheep, both temporal and spiritual. He gives us our daily bread, but our highest and best food is Christ, the Bread sent down from heaven for our souls (John 6:58), of which if we eat we shall live forever.

2. He gives rest (v. 2). He not only gives food, but he makes his sheep lie down. When the sheep have been satisfied with food they lie down to rest. Our finite natures require rest—we cannot go on forever, so the Divine Shepherd has arranged resting places on the way, two of which are night and the Sabbath. How sweet they both are to the Child of God! Sometimes he makes us to take enforced rest. It is most comforting to know that when he makes us lie down it is in the green pastures, not on the dusty road or the rocky mountain side. Our shepherd sometimes leads us over steep and rocky roads, but this is in order that we may reach the spots of green pasture.

3. He keeps his sheep (v. 3). He restores our souls. The rest by the still water results in the restoration of bodily and spiritual strength. In the time of quiet he restores our souls, and he leads us by the paths of righteousness, that is, in the performance of duty for him. We have been saved not merely for our pleasure, but that we might do his good pleasure, that is, his work. We are saved to serve.

4. He leads his sheep in times of danger (v. 4). He goes with his own through danger and death. There is no night so dark or so stormy but what we can see the voice of the Divine Shepherd saying, "Be not afraid, I am I." May we have ears to hear!

5. He comforts his sheep in sorrow (v. 4). The rod was used by the shepherd to count his sheep. Passing under the shepherd's rod was the sign of ownership. Such acknowledgment would greatly comfort, even though the rod was the instrument which caused the sorrow. The consciousness that it was laid on by the loving shepherd's hand would turn the rod which smote to a staff to lean upon.

6. The Divine Host (vv. 5, 6). 1. He spreads a table in the sight of our enemies (v. 5). Though dangers are on every hand, the enemies plotting and scheming, the mighty shepherd provides a feast for his own in their sight. We can sit down to that feast with the assurance that no one can disturb us.

2. He anoints our heads with oil (v. 6). Oil is a symbol of joy. There should be no and faces among Christ's own.

3. Goodness and mercy perpetually follow (v. 6). These are God's two angels which encircle round about those that fear him. They hold back the enemies from overtaking us; we can feast at God's banquet table. Even when the days seem dark and sorrows come thick and fast, God's goodness and mercy still follow.

4. Eternally dwelling with God (v. 6). They shall no more go out from his presence. He who hath begun a good work in us shall complete it unto the day of redemption. May every one take this Psalm for himself and make Christ his own personal shepherd!

Three Orders of Beings. We have among mankind in general three orders of beings; the lowest, sordid and selfish, which neither sees nor feels. The second, noble and sympathetic, but which sees and feels without concluding and acting. The third and highest, which loses sight in reason and feeling in work. For one who is blinded to the work of God by profound abstraction or lofty purpose, tens of thousands have their eyes opened by vulgar selfishness, and their intelligence crushed by impious carelessness.—Ruskin.

AID FOR EX-SERVICE MEN.

Appropriations Secured Through Legislation. Total $198,000,000. Indianapolis.—An appropriation of $14,000,000 for hospitalization of disabled, discharged former service persons and $120,000,000 for vocational training for untrained veterans of the recent war have been obtained from Congress to date through the efforts of the American Legion, as ordered by a report received at national headquarters here. The report was made by Thomas W. Miller.

Fishing Boat 800 Miles Long. The famous fishing grounds of Newfoundland, the Grand banks, are 800 miles long and about 200 wide, with a bottom of shifting sand.

Guidance That Must Be Heeded. Men are inexcusable if they do not perceive that which their judgment tells them is the most laudable.—Joseph Addison.

GASOLINE TURNS THE EARTH

Motorboats Are Replacing Gondolas in Venice, and Even the Windmills in Holland Disappear.

LESSON FOR JUNE 20

THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD.

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 1. GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.—Ps. 23. DEVOTIONAL READING.—Isaiah 40: 3-5. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—John 10: 1-10. PRIMARY TOPIC—How God takes care of us. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Shepherd Psalm. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Trusting God for Everything. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Divine Shepherd.

This is a lesson so simple that a child of tender years can understand. The teacher's work will be mainly to point out the richness of the thought, not to explain difficulties. The position of the Psalm determines its value. It is preceded by the Psalm of the Cross. Only those who are under the power of the cross can claim its promises. There are no great promises to those who have not seen Christ on the cross.

The relationship of the Lord to his children is set forth in this Psalm as: 1. The Divine Shepherd (vv. 1-4). The teacher should thoroughly familiarize himself with the life and nature of a shepherd. As our shepherd, 1. He feeds his sheep (v. 1, 2). The "green pastures" are for nourishment. The Lord always provides food for his own sheep, both temporal and spiritual. He gives us our daily bread, but our highest and best food is Christ, the Bread sent down from heaven for our souls (John 6:58), of which if we eat we shall live forever.

2. He gives rest (v. 2). He not only gives food, but he makes his sheep lie down. When the sheep have been satisfied with food they lie down to rest. Our finite natures require rest—we cannot go on forever, so the Divine Shepherd has arranged resting places on the way, two of which are night and the Sabbath. How sweet they both are to the Child of God! Sometimes he makes us to take enforced rest. It is most comforting to know that when he makes us lie down it is in the green pastures, not on the dusty road or the rocky mountain side. Our shepherd sometimes leads us over steep and rocky roads, but this is in order that we may reach the spots of green pasture.

3. He keeps his sheep (v. 3). He restores our souls. The rest by the still water results in the restoration of bodily and spiritual strength. In the time of quiet he restores our souls, and he leads us by the paths of righteousness, that is, in the performance of duty for him. We have been saved not merely for our pleasure, but that we might do his good pleasure, that is, his work. We are saved to serve.

4. He leads his sheep in times of danger (v. 4). He goes with his own through danger and death. There is no night so dark or so stormy but what we can see the voice of the Divine Shepherd saying, "Be not afraid, I am I." May we have ears to hear!

5. He comforts his sheep in sorrow (v. 4). The rod was used by the shepherd to count his sheep. Passing under the shepherd's rod was the sign of ownership. Such acknowledgment would greatly comfort, even though the rod was the instrument which caused the sorrow. The consciousness that it was laid on by the loving shepherd's hand would turn the rod which smote to a staff to lean upon.

6. The Divine Host (vv. 5, 6). 1. He spreads a table in the sight of our enemies (v. 5). Though dangers are on every hand, the enemies plotting and scheming, the mighty shepherd provides a feast for his own in their sight. We can sit down to that feast with the assurance that no one can disturb us.

2. He anoints our heads with oil (v. 6). Oil is a symbol of joy. There should be no and faces among Christ's own.

3. Goodness and mercy perpetually follow (v. 6). These are God's two angels which encircle round about those that fear him. They hold back the enemies from overtaking us; we can feast at God's banquet table. Even when the days seem dark and sorrows come thick and fast, God's goodness and mercy still follow.

4. Eternally dwelling with God (v. 6). They shall no more go out from his presence. He who hath begun a good work in us shall complete it unto the day of redemption. May every one take this Psalm for himself and make Christ his own personal shepherd!

Three Orders of Beings. We have among mankind in general three orders of beings; the lowest, sordid and selfish, which neither sees nor feels. The second, noble and sympathetic, but which sees and feels without concluding and acting. The third and highest, which loses sight in reason and feeling in work. For one who is blinded to the work of God by profound abstraction or lofty purpose, tens of thousands have their eyes opened by vulgar selfishness, and their intelligence crushed by impious carelessness.—Ruskin.

AID FOR EX-SERVICE MEN.

Appropriations Secured Through Legislation. Total $198,000,000. Indianapolis.—An appropriation of $14,000,000 for hospitalization of disabled, discharged former service persons and $120,000,000 for vocational training for untrained veterans of the recent war have been obtained from Congress to date through the efforts of the American Legion, as ordered by a report received at national headquarters here. The report was made by Thomas W. Miller.

Fishing Boat 800 Miles Long. The famous fishing grounds of Newfoundland, the Grand banks, are 800 miles long and about 200 wide, with a bottom of shifting sand.

Guidance That Must Be Heeded. Men are inexcusable if they do not perceive that which their judgment tells them is the most laudable.—Joseph Addison.

PASHER W. WATSON & SON

Undertakers and Embalmers.....

LESSON FOR JUNE 20

THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD.

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 1. GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.—Ps. 23. DEVOTIONAL READING.—Isaiah 40: 3-5. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—John 10: 1-10. PRIMARY TOPIC—How God takes care of us. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Shepherd Psalm. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Trusting God for Everything. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Divine Shepherd.

This is a lesson so simple that a child of tender years can understand. The teacher's work will be mainly to point out the richness of the thought, not to explain difficulties. The position of the Psalm determines its value. It is preceded by the Psalm of the Cross. Only those who are under the power of the cross can claim its promises. There are no great promises to those who have not seen Christ on the cross.

The relationship of the Lord to his children is set forth in this Psalm as: 1. The Divine Shepherd (vv. 1-4). The teacher should thoroughly familiarize himself with the life and nature of a shepherd. As our shepherd, 1. He feeds his sheep (v. 1, 2). The "green pastures" are for nourishment. The Lord always provides food for his own sheep, both temporal and spiritual. He gives us our daily bread, but our highest and best food is Christ, the Bread sent down from heaven for our souls (John 6:58), of which if we eat we shall live forever.

2. He gives rest (v. 2). He not only gives food, but he makes his sheep lie down. When the sheep have been satisfied with food they lie down to rest. Our finite natures require rest—we cannot go on forever, so the Divine Shepherd has arranged resting places on the way, two of which are night and the Sabbath. How sweet they both are to the Child of God! Sometimes he makes us to take enforced rest. It is most comforting to know that when he makes us lie down it is in the green pastures, not on the dusty road or the rocky mountain side. Our shepherd sometimes leads us over steep and rocky roads, but this is in order that we may reach the spots of green pasture.

3. He keeps his sheep (v. 3). He restores our souls. The rest by the still water results in the restoration of bodily and spiritual strength. In the time of quiet he restores our souls, and he leads us by the paths of righteousness, that is, in the performance of duty for him. We have been saved not merely for our pleasure, but that we might do his good pleasure, that is, his work. We are saved to serve.

4. He leads his sheep in times of danger (v. 4). He goes with his own through danger and death. There is no night so dark or so stormy but what we can see the voice of the Divine Shepherd saying, "Be not afraid, I am I." May we have ears to hear!

5. He comforts his sheep in sorrow (v. 4). The rod was used by the shepherd to count his sheep. Passing under the shepherd's rod was the sign of ownership. Such acknowledgment would greatly comfort, even though the rod was the instrument which caused the sorrow. The consciousness that it was laid on by the loving shepherd's hand would turn the rod which smote to a staff to lean upon.

6. The Divine Host (vv. 5, 6). 1. He spreads a table in the sight of our enemies (v. 5). Though dangers are on every hand, the enemies plotting and scheming, the mighty shepherd provides a feast for his own in their sight. We can sit down to that feast with the assurance that no one can disturb us.

2. He anoints our heads with oil (v. 6). Oil is a symbol of joy. There should be no and faces among Christ's own.

3. Goodness and mercy perpetually follow (v. 6). These are God's two angels which encircle round about those that fear him. They hold back the enemies from overtaking us; we can feast at God's banquet table. Even when the days seem dark and sorrows come thick and fast, God's goodness and mercy still follow.

4. Eternally dwelling with God (v. 6). They shall no more go out from his presence. He who hath begun a good work in us shall complete it unto the day of redemption. May every one take this Psalm for himself and make Christ his own personal shepherd!

Three Orders of Beings. We have among mankind in general three orders of beings; the lowest, sordid and selfish, which neither sees nor feels. The second, noble and sympathetic, but which sees and feels without concluding and acting. The third and highest, which loses sight in reason and feeling in work. For one who is blinded to the work of God by profound abstraction or lofty purpose, tens of thousands have their eyes opened by vulgar selfishness, and their intelligence crushed by impious carelessness.—Ruskin.

AID FOR EX-SERVICE MEN.

Appropriations Secured Through Legislation. Total $198,000,000. Indianapolis.—An appropriation of $14,000,000 for hospitalization of disabled, discharged former service persons and $120,000,000 for vocational training for untrained veterans of the recent war have been obtained from Congress to date through the efforts of the American Legion, as ordered by a report received at national headquarters here. The report was made by Thomas W. Miller.

Fishing Boat 800 Miles Long. The famous fishing grounds of Newfoundland, the Grand banks, are 800 miles long and about 200 wide, with a bottom of shifting sand.

Guidance That Must Be Heeded. Men are inexcusable if they do not perceive that which their judgment tells them is the most laudable.—Joseph Addison.

W. J. ELLIS, Contractor and Builder

Estimates furnished on all classes of CARPENTER WORK.

THE INDIA WONDER BROOM

Guaranteed One Year Against Defects in Material and Workmanship, will Outwear Two or Three Ordinary Corn Brooms.

The India Wonder Broom lessens labor, does better work and saves you money. It is made from the wonderful Palmyra India Fibre, which resists wear, and will not decay or lose its usefulness through contact with water.

Soak your Wonder Broom in a pail of water now and then and it will keep its original shape.

Used exactly in the same manner as the old style broom. Acts, feels and sweeps like a corn broom, without that tired feeling. It lays to the floor and brings out the dirt, but Won't Kick Up the Dust. It is more gentle than a carpet sweeper or vacuum cleaner. It will not mar or scratch the finest surface.

PRICE $1.10 POSTPAID. Guaranteed To Be Satisfactory Or Money Refunded.

D. E. MCCARTHY, BERLIN, MARYLAND.

Airplane Burned.

Lieutenant Wendell K. Phillips and Mechanic Louis V. Paak, of the government proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md., had a serious experience, Monday, when after starting on a trip for Florida, their Curtiss airplane caught fire, 1,000 feet in the air from an overheated motor, cutting the gasoline vapor. They made a nose dive till 200 feet from the ground, then shut off the motor, and as the machine struck the earth they jumped clear, escaping unhurt. The men returned to Aberdeen, procured another plane and made the 75-mile trip to Boston in 34 minutes.

Deck paint for porch floors

Porch floors are exposed to rain, sleet, snow and extremes of heat and cold. It takes a mighty good paint to stand up under such conditions. More than that—it must be proof against the tread of many feet. We guarantee that will give you the longest wear on your porch floors. It's made for boat decks. Think of the wear and tear—salt water spray, tropical heat, zero weather, and the scraping and scratching of hundreds of heels.

DEVOE DECK PAINT

The Guaranteed

Devoe Deck Paint will not peel, chip or crack—even when it is scrubbed with hot water and soap. Made in many colors. Come in and get prices.

Berlin Hardware Company

PAINT DEVOE PAINT

MORE EGGS BETTER FOWLS

IF YOU WANT TO MAKE MONEY WITH POULTRY you must constantly fight disease and lice. Even the best-cared-for chickens, ducks, geese, etc., need an occasional invigorator and should always be kept free from lice and mites. Thousands of successful poultry raisers have found RAWLEIGH'S POULTRY POWDER worth its weight in gold. It is a tonic and regulator that helps keep fowls healthy and thrifty, thus warding off disease. Stimulates the appetite—makes the layers lay more eggs and assists in quick fattening of meat birds. It gets results.

RAWLEIGH'S ROUP POWDER Something that every poultry raiser should always keep on hand, for roup requires immediate treatment. Rawleigh's is considered the best Roup Remedy on the market. For Lice, use Rawleigh's Louse Powder. It's sure death to lice on fowls or live stock.

Look for me soon with a full stock of Rawleigh's Poultry and Veterinary Preparations, Spices, Flavors, Medicines, etc. Mail or phone orders promptly filled.