LAW AND ORDER SOCIETY FORMED AT MEETING SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Plans For Campaign To Be Made
At Meeting Next Sabbath AT "Y"

CITY CHURCHES UNITED BEHIND THE MOVEMENT

Volstead Violations, Slot Machine Operation And "Open Shop" On Sundays Special Targets—Oliver Cordrey Elected President And W. F. Messick Executive Chairman

All Salisbury churches have joined in a crusade against vice in this city and to bring about a rigid enforcement of the prohibition law and the local Sunday "blue laws". The keynote of the campaign was sounded at a meeting held at the Young Men's Christian Association Building last Sunday afternoon.

Walter S. Sheppard acted as temporary chairman of the meeting, at which were present about 60 men. All city churches had been asked to send representatives so that an organization might be formed. The election of officers was as follows: Oliver Cordrey, president; W. F. Messick, secretary; Harry C. Adkins, treasurer. On Tuesday evening the Executive Committee met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and the chairman was empowered to appoint two committees of three men each, one to arrange for a big mass-meeting some time in the near future and the other to select a name for the organization and to draw up by-laws, both to be presented at another meeting to be held in the "Y" next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. To this meeting all church people of the city are invited.

Although the purpose of forming such an organization and its aim was explained last Sunday no definite program was outlined. This will be done the coming Sunday. It is said that the first steps will be to insist upon the carrying out of the law by present officials and that, failing in this, other steps will be taken.

The Executive Committee appointed by president Cordrey is composed of two members from each church with W. F. Messick as chairman.

FILM STORY TOLD ON SCREEN AT ARCADE

Big And Interesting Picture, Showing Every Step In Making Here
November 5th and 6th

The Arcade Theatre announces that the big Eastman film, "A Trip Through Filmland" will appear on its program November 5-6, is of special interest to movie fans.

The film story introduces every step in the process of film making from the cotton fields and the silver from the refineries, to the tiny strips of ribbon on which the picture itself is shown. The theme of the picture is of direct interest to every movie fan whose knowledge of the motion picture world has hitherto been more or less confined to stunts and producers. With the names and habits of these he is tolerably familiar, but comparatively little has been told of the way the film itself, without which movies could not exist, is made.

The picture seeks to remedy this defect in popular knowledge by showing how the cotton is made into the film base, how the silver is mixed with the potassium bromide and gelatin to form the light sensitive emulsion with which the film is coated; how the coating is done, the sheets of film slit into strips of standard width, perforated, reeled and packed ready for the producer's studio, and the taking of the fan's favorite star. The industrial aspects of the picture are relieved by delightful comedy drawings from the pen of that clever film cartoonist, Paul M. Felton which makes the picture as entertaining as it is instructive.

PRACTICE SESSIONS FOR THE LIONS CLUB SHOOT UNCOVER A HOST OF CRACK SHOTS

No Sporting Event Here In Recent Years Has Caused Manifestation Of More Genuine Enthusiasm—Uncle Sam's Mail Forces Enter Team In Tourney

No sporting event in recent years around Salisbury has created so much genuine interest as has the Lions Club Shoot which comes off at the Fair Grounds on December 1st. In the barbershops, stores, on the streets—everywhere speculation is rife as to probable winner of the handsome silver trophy now on exhibition in THE NEWS window.

Another team has entered the lists this week, W. C. Taylor, of the post-office force, making application to C. W. Whelan, president of the Lions Club, to enter an outfit to represent that branch of the government service. Indications are that this team will prove a strong contender for honors as a number of crack shots are on the postoffice payroll.

In practice periods several uncanny marksmen have been uncovered and E. Wilson Booth and Clarence W. Whelan of the Lions Club as well as Elsie Bridgell, of the Fire Department have made ten "bulls" out of

ISAAC ULMAN LONG A MERCHANT HERE DIES

His Remains Carried To Baltimore For Interment—Survived By Widow, Brother And Six Children

Mr. Isaac Uрман, one of the most prominent business men in this community since the fire of 1887 when he came to this city to live, died at his home on East Church street on Thursday morning, October 25th, after an illness of more than a year.

Mr. Uрман was born in Cadiz, Ohio on October 29th, 1850, but came to this city as a very young man to associate himself in business with his brother, the late Simon Uрман. They built the Opera House on Main street and the store adjoining it, where they engaged actively in the growing interests of Salisbury for half a century. Mr. Uрман was one of the most highly respected citizens of the town and had made many warm friends here, his principles and ideals were of the highest. Mr. Uрман was of the Jewish faith but a willing supporter of all charitable organizations and social beneficiaries about him.

Mr. Uрман is survived by his widow, who before her marriage just fifty years ago was Miss Lena Long, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and by six children, who are: Isaac, Joseph and Charles Uрман, of this city and Bernard and David Uрман, of Baltimore, and Miss Sadie and Miss Helen Uрман of this city. One brother survives him, who is Mr. Henry Uрман, of Fredericksburg, Va.

Mr. Uрман's body was carried to Baltimore for burial in the Obed Cemetery there.

December 1st Date Selected For Shoot

Tournament Will Be Open Air Affair Staged At Fair Grounds—Inter-City Rifle Meet Talked

December 1st, instead of Thanksgiving Day, has been selected for the rifle tournament under the auspices of the Lions Club and the place will be the Salisbury Fair Grounds. Twelve targets are to be put up and enthusiasm is running high as the thirteen teams practice weekly at the Army range.

Talk is now going the rounds about asking other towns to join a triangular circuit after the local shoot and it is likely the team to represent Salisbury will be picked from those making the best individual marks.

LLOYD GEORGE HEARD HERE BY MEANS OF RADIO

Salisbury radio fans are keeping in touch daily with the outside world and what is going on thru the medium of the radio. Wednesday evening the instruments in a number of local homes were "tuned in" so that the address of Lloyd George, former English Premier, who is on a tour of this country was plainly heard and enjoyed.

REAL "GOLD" FOUND IN WICOMICO TUBER

The "Eastern Shore" of Maryland, far famed for its products par excellence which cause the outside world to take notice again comes into the limelight. Recently in Talbot County was found a canine whose appetite was such that it started making a collection of precious jewels and money and had to undergo an operation that the owner might have his belongings restored.

This week Wicomico comes to the forefront with an unusual potato in that it is not only gold skinned but gold rimmed as well. While digging "treasures" on the farm of J. William Freemy, near Leonard's Mill last week, one was found grown thru a plain gold-band ring and wedged so tightly it was impossible to liberate it. It is thought that some woman years ago while working in the field lost the ring and that continuous plowing up of the ground caused it to be brought near the surface.

METHODISTS LONG APART UNITE SUNDAY

First Occurrence Of Kind In Salisbury For Period Some Sixty Years

ASBURY MEMBERSHIP AT TRINITY SERVICE

The Rev. H. P. Fox Adjourns Own Morning Worship To Pay Tribute To The Rev. J. B. Peters Who Leaves This Week For Louisiana Conference

The finest tribute ever paid to a departing minister in the history of church-going in Salisbury was last Sunday morning accorded the Rev. John Brandon Peters, who leaves this city the latter part of the week to take up the work of his new appointment in the Louisiana Conference after having served Trinity M. E. Church South for the past two years.

Just prior to the starting of the morning worship, the entire Asbury M. E. congregation from just across the street, led by its minister, the Rev. Hamilton P. Fox, entered the building to worship with the Trinity people.

In addition to being a distinct compliment to the popularity of the outgoing pastor, the act is looked upon by the people of all denominations as one of the most magnanimous, on the part of pastor and people, ever shown here or elsewhere and one which might be used to decided advantage by those arguing for the unification of the two branches of Methodism torn asunder as a result of the stirring days of '61-'65.

Combined with the splendid outpouring of the Rev. Mr. Peter's own constituency present to pay their last compliments to the man who had so faithfully served them, the visitor-filled both auditorium and sabbath school rooms so that many were compelled to stand.

In addition to the regular sermon, the pastor thanked his members for their steadfast loyalty and co-operation during his progress. Rev. Mr. Fox, conceived the idea of the united worship, and he and the Rev. H. P. Clarke, Presiding Elder of the Eastern Shore District the past year who goes to Washington Street Church, Petersburg, had part in the service.

On account of an operation to his throat recently undergone, Rev. Mr. Peters did not hold any evening service.

LOCAL WOMAN'S DEATH COMES AS GREAT SHOCK

Mrs. W. E. Howard Had Been Ill But Very Short Time—Was On Visit To Crisfield

Mrs. William E. Howard died early Tuesday morning, October 30th, at the Crisfield Hospital, where she was taken about two weeks ago having been ill while visiting relatives in that city.

Mrs. Howard was born November 13th, 1869, in Palmyra, N. J., and was before her marriage, Miss Eunice Wooster, the daughter of Charles and Mary Wooster, of that town. She was a graduate of the State Normal in West Chester, Pa., and following the completion of her studies there she studied medicine in New York City.

She was married to Mr. William E. Howard on April 27th, 1896. In 1903 the family moved to Salisbury where Mrs. Howard was soon recognized as a woman of unusual worth.

She was a member of the Asbury M. E. Church and served for many years as secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. She was an active worker in the Ladies' Aid of that church and also connected with the local W.C.T.U. All matters of public interest were close to Mrs. Howard.

As a wife and mother she represented the highest type of womanhood. From her store of brain power, natural unselfishness and education she bestowed upon those about her a living example of all that is finest and best in life.

The funeral was held at her late home on Camden Avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Dr. Hamilton P. Fox conducted the services.

Mrs. Howard is survived by her husband, Mr. William E. Howard, of this city, by two sons, Mr. Charles W. Howard, of Philadelphia and Mr. William Howard, a senior at the University of Delaware. She leaves a brother, Mr. William Wooster, of Crisfield and a sister, Mrs. Samuel Costen, of Hampton, Va.

ATTENTION BOY SCOUTS
All scouts in Salisbury are asked to report to Bethesda M. P. Church immediately after school Wednesday to assist delegates at the Sunday School Conference. Scout Executive Bradford will be on hand to assign the boys to their work.

STOREKEEPER IS ARRESTED MONDAY EVE

George Jones, East Church St., Charged With Selling Liquor

HEARING IS SET FOR NOVEMBER 12th

Other Arrests Are Of Minor Importance And Are For Violations Of The Auto And Traffic Laws—Woman Takes Officers Command To Stop As A Joke

Several arrests were made during the week just passed by state, city and county officers for violations of various laws. George Jones, a storekeeper on East Church street, was arrested Monday afternoon by Sheriff J. H. Farhart and Acting Chief of Police George Williams on a warrant charging him with the sale of intoxicating beverages.

He was carried before Magistrate T. Rodney Jones and was represented by Hooper S. Miles. The justice, because the defense was not ready for a preliminary hearing, released the prisoner under a $500 bond for his appearance on November 9th.

On Saturday last, Miss Rose Dorsey of Westover in coming on Main St., from Division swung to the left of the guide post with her car and almost collided with another car. Officer Williams called to the woman to stop and as he did so she "stepped on the gas" and with a merry wave of the hand called out "ta, ta". On Monday the woman again came to Salisbury and on this occasion left minus $100 which was the fine and cost for violating the traffic ordinance.

Arrests made by State Police during the past week include: Lester Bounds, Fruitland, driving at a speed greater than reasonable and proper $5 and costs; Edward Paszawski, passing vehicle when way ahead, was cited $5 and costs; W. L. Varr, Wilmington, Del., two violations of motorcycle laws $2 and costs in each case; B. F. Harris, driving team with out lights on vehicle, $5 and costs; Hartzel Shockley, reckless driving and striking pedestrian, $5 and costs. All of the auto cases were tried before Magistrate W. S. Powell.

MANY GET LICENSES AS GUNNING SEASON NEARS

State Permits Exceed Those Of 1922 While County Licenses Near The 500 Mark

Although the real gunning season of Wicomico county has not opened as yet, when the quail, rabbit and wild turkey may be shot, the number of county licenses taken out since September has almost reached the 500 mark. All indications point toward active interest in the sport of Wicomico countians in hunting this year. The county licenses fall a little short as totaled against those of last year, but the state licenses are exceeding the 1922 record.

Statistics show that the state licenses up to October 29th, 1923 amounted to 70 while the 1922 books have already listed 110. County licenses of 1922 of the same period were 484 and this year 483 have been applied for.

The open game season for yellow legs, black breasted and golden plover begins on August 16th and doves, rail birds and reed birds and quail may be shot after September 1st. The real season, however, that for which the Eastern Shoreman waits eagerly opens November 19th. It is then that the sportsman finds keenest enjoyment in his search for part of his game. That most delicate of all game, the pheasant, woodcock, rabbit and wild turkey and ducks are also much sought.

Secures Apparatus To Safeguard Employees

New Machine Of Citizens Gas Co. Supplies Fresh Air And Keeps Out Poisonous Fumes

To prevent a recurrence of the happening several weeks ago when five of its employees were overcome by gas fumes while working around a gas main on the new hotel property, Citizens Gas and Light Co., has added to its equipment an apparatus designed to keep fresh air supplied to an operator while he is working below the surface.

The equipment is of the most modern type and consists of a large trunk containing a bellows, 50 feet of hose and a gas mask, all compactly put up and made for use. The apparatus is constructed so as to be capable of being strapped about the waist without inconvenience and not only provides fresh air but shuts out the poisonous fumes as well. The machine is put into operation by a second person by the simple turning of a crank on the side of the trunk.

NO MORE RAINY DAYS

All members of the Wicomico Woman's Club are requested to turn in their "rainy day" bags at the next meeting, November 6th. The Club House Finance Committee has decided to inaugurate a new calendar on which there will be no rainy days.

LOCAL POSTMAN HAS COVERED DISTANCE ESTIMATED 30 TIMES ACROSS CONTINENT

J. K. Hayman Rounds Out 20 Years Of Service December 1st—Day Marks Like Tenure As Asst. Postmaster H. W. Owens And 23 Years On Duty For Miss Day

December 1st, 1923 is a day which will be an important day in the lives of several of the people in the Salisbury Postoffice. On that day two of the employees will have rounded out twenty years of continuous service in the same capacity while a third will have served the public for an unbroken period of 28 years.

H. Winter Owens, who has been the real guiding head of the government forces in charge of handling mail here and who has seen a number of both Democratic and Republican postmasters come and go during his tenure of office, was appointed to his present position as Assistant Postmaster December 1st, 1903 after serving successively as clerk, carrier and clerk again. In point of actual government service, Mr. Owens is dean of the local office and carrier forces having received his original appointment July 1, 1895.

Polls Throughout County Open From 6.00 A. M. To 7.00 P. M.

BOTH PARTIES WAGING VIGOROUS CAMPAIGNS

Fight In County Will Center About State Senatorship—Women Expected To Play Conspicuous Part In Outcome—Election Returns To Be Furnished BY THE NEWS

This year's political campaign has entered the "home stretch" stage this week and efforts of the part of both Democrats and Republicans are being redoubled in an attempt to make an impression on those voters in whose minds lingers any question of doubt as to this or that candidate.

The Democrats, as is their usual custom, have carried their campaign into every corner of Wicomico County and leaders of the majority party are sanguine of the successful outcome for their ticket in its entirety.

The Republican forces, on the other hand, have no reason for the remotest hope of electing even a majority of their ticket in view of the preponderant affiliated majority of various opponents. They are, however, conducting their campaign in a forceful, quiet manner and are confidently expecting to spring some surprises when the ballots are counted.

Both parties have unusually strong tickets in the field and the voter has no cause for the complaints sometimes aired that there are not candidates on the ticket of sufficient calibre as to warrant his going to the polls.

Leaders in both parties are looking forward to Wicomico County giving Hon. William S. Gordy, Jr., State Comptroller and candidate for reelection on the Democratic ticket an unprecedented majority in this county.

Alexander Armstrong, Republican candidate for Governor and his running mate have visited the county and met the voters in various districts and made bids for their support. Governor Albert C. Ritchie and his cohorts on the Democratic side will visit Salisbury and address the big mass-meeting.

Opinion Is That Wheel Composed Of Cambridge, Salisbury, Laurel And Seaford Would Further Sport Immensely—Locals Will Have Many "Vets" Of Last Season

With preparations for the Church Basketball League underway, attention of "Y" officials is now being turned toward the proposition of putting a first class basketball quint on the floor to represent that institution this year in inter-city contests.

Last year the "Y" five won the Eastern Shore of Maryland Championship and it is hoped to repeat the performance this season. Several of last year's players have signified their desire to again sport the colors of the local aggregation and a good quintet seems to be in the offing.

Some talk is going the rounds this week about organizing a four club league with the Salisbury Y. M. C. A., Cambridge, Laurel and Seaford as members.

"Bill" Duffy will coach the "Y" team this year and fill one of the important positions. "Swede" Larmore has stated that he will again be on the scene as has "Dick" Porter. These men need no introduction to local sport lovers. In addition to these men other members of last year's team available include: "Bill" Downing, Lee Benson and E. Sheldon Jones. It is said that H. K. Smith, Jr. who was not able to play last season because of an injured knee, will be out for the team. Smith formerly played on the fast Randolph Macon College team. There are also several other players who look like promising timber.

As is doubtful if the "Y" auditorium can accommodate anything like the number of fans who will want to witness the games this year and efforts will be made, it is said, to get the Army if the attendance justifies.

Wicomico Voters To Register Choice

meeting in the Arcade next Saturday night when the Democratic campaign will reach its climax, although two meetings out in the county are carded for Monday, Election eve.

An apathetic view in regard to both gubernatorial candidates is held by many people in this section because of the expressed views on certain moral issues principally as regards the 18th Amendment. This is expected to cut their vote to some extent.

Who will be Wicomico's Senator at Annapolis this winter is the most universally asked question herabouts. Many regard Senator Disharoon's record in the upper house such as would justify his being returned for another term while there is also a strong sentiment ever-increasing that in E. Dale Adkins, a progressive and stout-hearted young business man and agriculturist, the electorate has an opportunity to send to Annapolis a most worthy representative of all elements of the county's citizenry. Here will be the real fight, many aver.

In F. Grant Goslee, many see the making of a dauntless, capable and conscientious prosecuting officer and he will be the recipient of many votes from those who attribute certain evils existing today partly to the State's Attorneys office. Curtis W. Long, Democratic candidate aspiring to a third term in that office is citing his record as an argumentative proof that he should be accorded another term.

Both parties have men of outstanding personalities they are offering for the other offices to be filled, men whose ability is unquestioned and their integrity and courage unchallenged and surprises may be sprung as a result.

The women of the county are not in any wise organized for political purposes and are not doing much talking about in public. Many have indicated however, that they are not in sympathy with the morality of some of the number and will cast their ballots for those who may be expected to exert the best influence looking to the protection of the home and the future generations. The female vote is expected to play a prominent part in the election.

Polls throughout the county will be open at 6 A. M. next Tuesday and close at 7 P. M. The counting of the ballots will be slow and it will likely be late at night before the returns commence to filter in.

The News, as has been its previous custom, will give out the results as

Lloyd George and "Pal" See America

Postman Has Covered Distance 30 Times Across Continent

bearing great joy to the recipient. Not always have the missives borne glad tidings but sometimes have apprized the addressee of misfortune to friends or loved ones. On these occasions, Mr. Hayman is always sympathetic and his optimism and bright outlook on life have oftentimes alleviated pain and grief on the part of others.

Mr. Hayman, in addition to walking his route twice a day, has found time to do much other work. He is decidedly of a mechanical bent and among his other performances is that of building the modern home where he now resides.

It is conservatively estimated that this popular postman in his career of serving the public has traversed a distance of something like 91,200 miles or nearly 16 round trips on foot across the United States.

An evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Hayman is held may be readily seen on Christmas eve when he returns to the office after serving his route with his mailbag nearly as full of presents for himself as the load he carries out for those on his route.

What is true of Mr. Hayman on the Camden Route is likewise applicable to A. Sidney Johnson who serves Newtown and the East Salisbury sections. Mr. Johnson has been on the job longer, he having served since March 24, 1903 and has "covered the route" for almost 21 years. Mr. Johnson, before donning the gray garb of the postman, for several years followed the water.

Honors for length of service on the rural routes goes to John T. Green. Mr. Green was appointed on April 3, 1899. Although none of the employees are entitled to a pension Mr. Green is the closest under the present ruling which requires an employee to have served 30 years and be 65 years of age. He as faithfully served Rural Route No. 2, which covers a portion of the countryside just northwest of Salisbury.

The News congratulates these people upon their long service to the public and wishes them many years of health, happiness and prosperity.

Law And Order Society Formed At Meeting Sunday

This committee will be the active body thru which the work will be attempted. The clergy of Salisbury is solidly back of the movement.

The committee follows: Presbyterian Church, Louis Morgan, F. Leonard Waller, Division Street Baptist, John C. Lane, W. P. Calloway; Bethesda Methodist Protestant, Oscar L. Morris, Walter S. Sheppard; Ashbury Methodist Episcopal, E. Virgil Beers; James J. Scott; Trinity M. E., South; E. E. Jones, John T. Colbourne; Grace Methodist Episcopal, S. D. Lewis, John G. Howie; St. Andrew's M. E., South, George Kersey, H. S. Hastings.

Two representatives from each of the other churches will be selected this week to serve with the committee. In addition to funds inherited from other organizations which in former years attempted the work, the treasury of the new league will be boosted by voluntary contributions.

Violations of the Volstead act, operation of slot machines in public places in the city and the "open shop" of some stores on Sunday came in for a severe condemnation from the members of the organization at the meeting Sunday.

MILLER-BRADLEY

An unusually attractive wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bradley in Hebron, Md., October 20th, at 2:30 P. M. when their daughter, Emma Louise, was united in marriage to Mr. B. E. Miller, of Baltimore, Md., by the Rev. Hungerford, of the M. P. Church. The groom was attended by Mr. M. D. Flachette, brother-in-law of the bride and the bride was attended by her sister Mrs. M. D. Flachette, of Washington, D. C., little Morris Bounda, Jr., nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

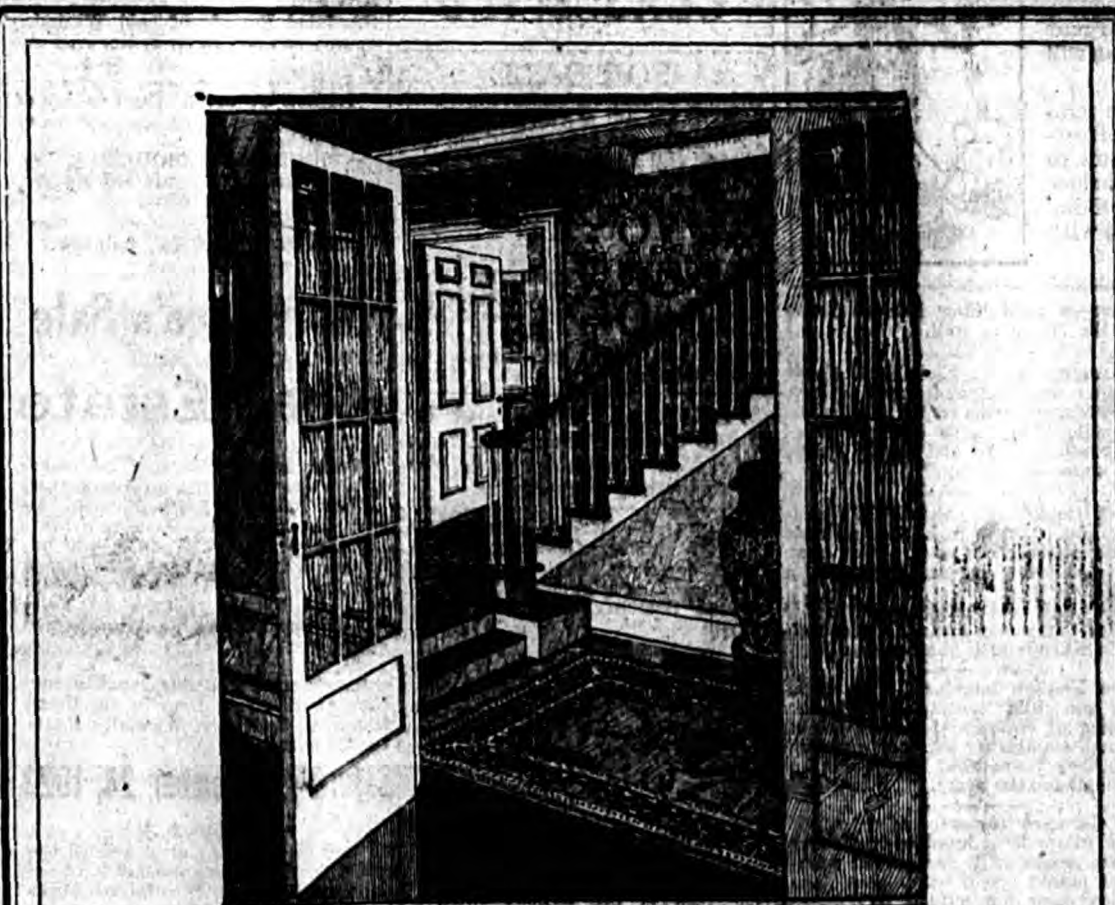

The Lohengrin march was played by a cousin of the bride, Miss Clara Bradley. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and fall flowers, pink and white, being the main color. Members and a few personal friends of the immediate families were present. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents.

The bride wore a dark blue suit with hat and gloves to match. A reception was held from 3 to 10:30. They left amid a copious shower of rice and good wishes of all, on the midnight train from Salisbury to Niagara Falls.

The bride is a popular and efficient nurse and made many friends in her profession. Mr. Miller is an employee of the B. & O. R. R. in Baltimore City. They will be at home after October 30, at 104 Augusta Ave., Baltimore, Maryland.

STOP THIS PETTY THIEVERY

Salisbury for sometime has been in the midst of an epidemic of petty thievery and the auto owner seems to be the principal target. A few years back it was no uncommon thing to hear of a car being stolen. Cases of this kind locally are now almost extinct since the State Police have established a sub-station here.

Activities of the thieves now are directed more to accessories that cannot be so easily traced, as can the machines themselves. Motometers, lap robes, spare tires and other incidentals are being dismantled from machines standing idle on the streets at night and the principal avenue of operations seems to be East Main St.

Regardless of how vigilant a police officer may be this problem is one he can solve only by the aid of car owners themselves and those persons who are approached by some young boy or older man and offered articles for purchase at a fabulously low price. Should at once report to the police that fact.

Any person who sees that he is being offered something at an unusually low price and by someone he knows is not a licensed dealer to distribute wares of that type and then purchases the article is equally guilty in the eyes of the law as is the person who does the stealing. The seller is guilty of larceny, the buyer of receiving stolen goods. Hence the latter when approached can materially aid in solving this problem.

The taking of motometers seems to be the most prevalent practice now in vogue. Police officers state that they frequently run down clues concerning these accessories and recover them but they then are at the end of their rope due to the fact that there are no identification marks or distinguishing features by which they may be restored to their proper owners. It is requested that every person having a motometer on his or her car, if it is not fastened on, place somewhere thereupon some mark by which his ownership may be recognized. The same is true of anything which it is found necessary to leave around a car standing unattended at night.

There are also numbers of young boys running about the streets at night, begging pennies and nickels from persons entering public places, blocking passages and otherwise annoying the public in general. It is this type that much of the present stealing is attributed to.

These boys, because of parental neglect, poor early training and environment, are fast becoming wards of society. They are sometimes apprehended by the police for petty offenses. Warnings and reproofs mean nothing to this type of lad and officials before whom they are brought can do Salisbury a tremendous amount of good by placing them beyond their present temptations in an atmosphere that will make them grow up men capable of taking their places in the world with decent, self-respecting persons.

GIVE NATURAL LAW A CHANCE

So many persons keep themselves so busy looking for something to improve, something to criticize, something in our system of government with which to find fault that they fail to note the tendency of the country towards growth and improvement. During the war our iron and steel industries were suddenly called to take care of the stupendous production necessary and incident to that gigantic undertaking. When the war ended it was thought the industries would be left high and dry, or at least find themselves in a position to take care of the country's demands for several decades. The fact is, however, that iron and steel production for this year have been practically at capacity, and this has been so in many other industries which have been surpassing war time production. It has well been said that any one who is a bear on America will soon be behind in the procession. Our industries have become so diversified that they support each other and seem jointly to hoist themselves even by their own bootstraps.

No longer does America depend on the outside world for economic support and capital. The tables have been turned. Capital is supplied, not borrowed by us, thus opening up foreign markets that for years have been a closed book. The only seeming problem now to restore a genuine prosperity is the adjustment of farm prices which have been woefully low and made doubly valueless because of the increased prices of commodities. This is a situation to which the best of our economists may with profit address serious attention.

Actually the economic low will take care of the situation, if it be permitted to operate. Industrial growth means the growth of industrial population if this is not prohibited, and increased population spells increased consumption. The demand for labor in the mills and factories will soon cease to drain the farms once farm prices begin to pick up.

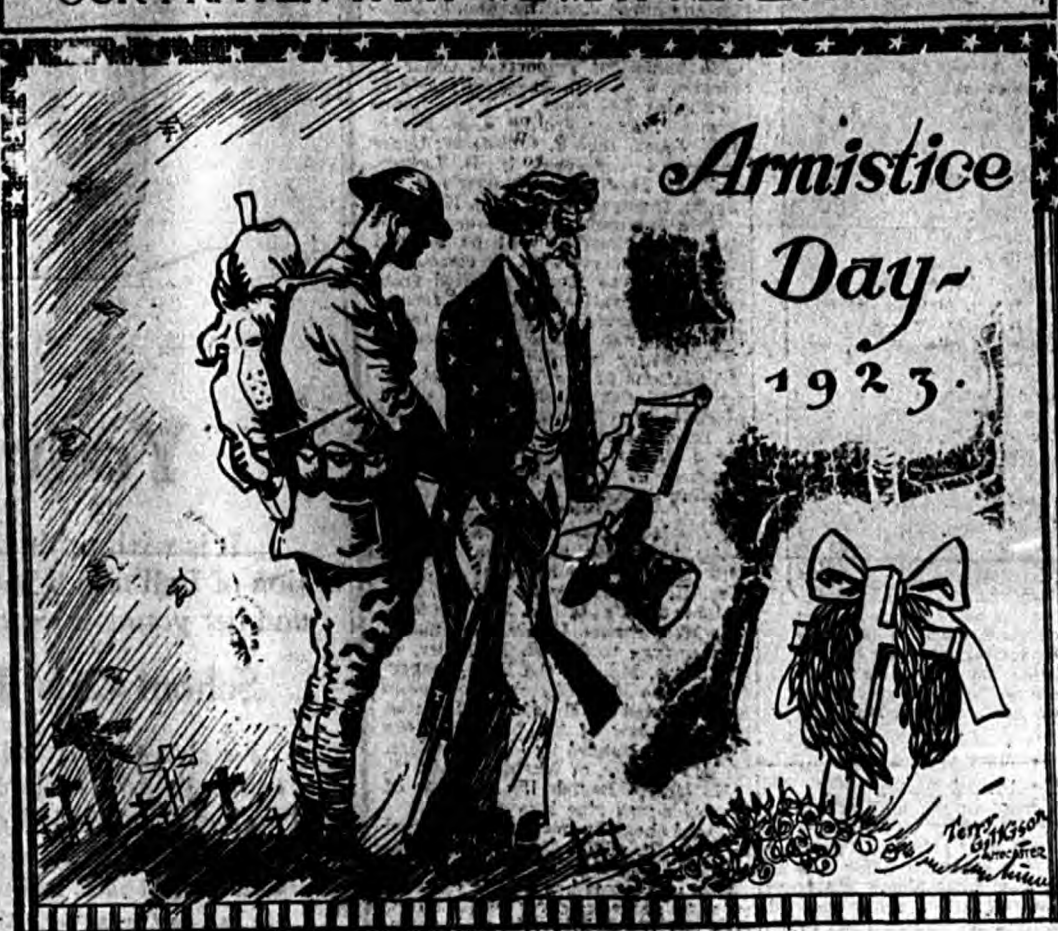

Bankers are disposed to the belief that special legislation will not help the farmer. We are inclined to agree with this theory. At best it will prove a palliative. Special legislation, as a fact, has no place in America. Unfortunately it is from special legislation that the farmer is suffering—a created condition that insures the welfare of many well-watered railroads against all industries, not to speak of the people. The farmer can well afford to let economic law work itself out if the politicians will permit it to operate. As it is, however, there is clear discrimination against the man who feeds the nation.

Dollar wheat and twenty-five dollars a day for plasterers find separate places in the news. They incite a little more thought, however, when they are linked together.

We may suggest that the United States Reclamation Service devote its thought to reclaiming for us a little of the liberty left to us by the fathers?

erican girls. Let this belief take root and good-bye to the demon rum.

Our girls should be careful to differentiate in judging of the flatterer and the chap who extends a compliment. A compliment is simply an agreeable expression of the truth.

A blame haphazard method in transacting our affairs, will add insistence and momentum to our cares. . . . An overplus of carelessness in 'tending' to our tricks, will leave the monthly balance in a mighty ticklish fix.

It isn't so much of silence as it is of common sense—that concludes a man is lazy when he's negligent in front of urgent calls, is to visualize the brambles that will prod him as he falls.

There's merit in precision as the run-in-mate of pluck, and the shortest-sighted vision is the kind that trusts to luck. . . . We've got to have the plodder with the mortar on his pants, for buildin' ain't a pastime that can stop to fool with chance.

This Week

WOMAN AND A WATER DROP.
COUNTING FORD CHICKENS.
STARVING CHILDREN.
THE SHAH DIDN'T CARE.

COUNTY CLERK NIENDORF of Michigan issues with each marriage license "Ten Rules to Insure Happy Married Life." Here is a sample:
"Keep up the courtship period. Go 50-50 on the money and 50-50 on the love. Don't live with relatives, or keep boarders. Don't be a tightwad."

Such rules mean little. Every man knows that one drop of salt water, patiently studied, will tell you all about the Pacific Ocean, which is simply a collection of so many drops.

Marriages would last longer if men realized that each woman is to all women what a drop of salt water is to the ocean. Study, analyze, interest yourself in the woman that the Lord has assigned to you. One is enough, and has within her, if you will look for it, everything that you would find in ten thousand.

Democrats, counting chickens even before the eggs are laid, say that Ford, running independently, will take so many farmers from the Republican party as to make Democratic victory certain.

Democrats forget that Ford's chief plank will tell of the wonderful things to be done for the South, at Muscle Shoals.

Ford would draw farmers from the Republican party, but he might also break up the solid South, elect himself, and leave Messrs. Coolidge and McAdoo wondering what happened.

Cotton prices are strong. October cotton passed 30 on Wednesday, December went above 29 yesterday. Manufacturer would do well to buy their raw supplies now. Cotton will be higher—a good thing for the South and the North as well.

Investigation in New York shows children underfed, underdressed. Their parents need money to pay high rents. Landlords say, quite truly, "It isn't our business. We are taxed; wages and materials are up."

But it ought to be the CITY'S business, and it ought to be the business of the entire white race, to see that young children are fed and have a chance.

The undernourished children of Europe today may mean Asiatics ruling in Europe fifty years hence.

The English interfered with child labor and child stunting, forbade the starving of children that they might be small enough for chimney cleaning when the found that they grew up too small for the army.

In Germany the price of a loaf of bread jumps four hundred and forty million marks in a day. That number of marks would have been one hundred and ten million marks before the war. No telling what will happen to men, when their money goes as crazy as that.

Even Nature seems to be fighting against miserable men. In South Africa, a deadly drought and scorching wind storms have dried up the water supply, while locusts, in swarms, have destroyed green plants. It is feared that all cattle will die.

War, disease, earthquakes, droughts, money panics, tidal waves, and worst of all, human beings and nations intent only on robbing and killing each other.

Certain philosophers have thought that among planets there might be some very sick, as there are sick individuals among human beings. This must be one of the sickest planets.

The Poles and the Turks have signed a treaty of "perpetual peace" and the document was probably signed on both sides without a smile.

It's a good treaty for the present, however, for with Russia getting stronger and wanting Poland on one side, the Dardanelles and the door into the Mediterranean on another, Poles and Turks will hang together or take their chances separately.

ferently attended the race between an American horse and the British Derby winner last week. Many very likely laid their first bet on a horse race because of excellent advertising the international contest had.

If you failed to see the race comfort yourself with this thought: An automobile can be bought for less than $500 that could run both of those horses and half a dozen others to death in a forenoon.

THE TURKEY, THE FARMER AND THANKSGIVING

As Thanksgiving time approaches the farmer begins to give considerable attention to his turkeys and to wonder by what amount these turkeys will increase the net proceeds of the farm. We have no statistics available as to the number or value of the turkeys shipped last year, however, the raising of turkeys is becoming more important each year. Ordinarily they range over the farm and are raised at a comparatively low cost and usually at Thanksgiving and Christmas time they bring good prices. However, in order to obtain the best prices the farmer should give careful thought to their marketing and should know particularly how to fatten them and when, where and how to market them.

As in the case with all farm products, turkeys well fattened and of good quality present a much better appearance than thin, scrawny turkeys, and find a much greater demand at a higher price. Also inasmuch as turkeys are sold by weight, the heavier the turkey the larger the amount received, consequently the breeding stock should be carefully selected. In fattening turkeys it has been found that range fattening is much more satisfactory than penning the turkeys up for that purpose. When placed in a pen they will probably eat well for a few days but after that time they are likely to eat little and lose weight. Ordinarily the fattening process begins about a month before the turkeys are to be marketed. This is accomplished by proceeding gradually to feed the turkeys on corn in the morning, and again in the evening in a short time before they go to roost. The amount of corn should be gradually increased until the turkeys are getting all they can eat. It is not advisable to feed new corn too heavy until after the turkeys have become accustomed to it. On farms where acorns or small nuts are available the turkeys will often fatten with very little corn feeding.

When the turkeys are in suitable condition and of good size, it is usually best to market them for the Thanksgiving period. However, if they are small and not in good condition at that time, they should be held until Christmas. Except under unusual conditions where the turkeys are very late, all turkeys should be marketed not later than Christmas as ordinarily turkeys sold later than Christmas will not bring as much as those sold for the Thanksgiving or Christmas market. The best place to market turkeys is, of course, where the best returns can be obtained.

Raisers should inform themselves of the prevailing prices at the different cities. This will enable them to decide which market is the best. Also the raisers should keep in touch directly with buyers in both local and distant markets so that they may know just what prices they will pay. Turkeys may be marketed either alive or dressed. If they are shipped alive, the crate should be high enough to allow the turkeys to stand up. A coop about 3 feet long and 2 feet wide, and 20 inches high will accommodate five or six turkeys, but should not be overcrowded in the crate. When turkeys are shipped dressed they should be thoroughly chilled before putting into the package, usually a barrel is used for shipping dressed turkeys and it is also taken to ship them under ice. This is done by placing a layer of cracked ice and so on. A piece of burlap is a layer of turkeys, and another of ice and so on. A piece of burlap is usually used for putting over the top of the barrel to hold the ice in place. All turkeys should arrive in market at least four or five days before the holiday, and in most cases earlier than that. Turkeys shipped late often reach an over-stocked market and are sold at declining prices.

REID'S GROVE

This little town on the B. & A. Railroad first station west of Vienna is located in a very fertile section of Rochester County and when the State Road is finished from Rhodesdale to Vienna it will pass through or near this town and will be of much advantage in many ways.

There are two stores, public school and an M. E. Church here. The church is a part of the Vienna charge. The pastor is the Rev. Alfred Scarborough and is very popular and doing good work. Sunday last was Rally Day and the speakers were W. D. Grayson and L. E. Cooper of Sharptown and Rev. John Rosser of Federalburg. Rev. Rosser was born in Wales, near where Lloyd George was born, but came to this country with his father when a boy. His father, Benjamin Rosser was an iron smith of international repute. He made the anchor and tackle of the "Great Eastern" and beside being a smith he was also a Wesleyan Methodist minister and built the first church of that denomination in this country in the city of Philadelphia.

About two weeks ago the Manship school building was burned and so strong was the impression that it was set on fire that a Baltimore detective was employed and made a very close examination, but so far no arrest have been made. This was one of the early school buildings in the county and was near Indian town, for centuries the home of the Nanticoke Indians.

Reid's Grove was named for the family of Reid's for many years very prominent in that community. "Buss" Reid, as he is familiarly called lives in retirement here, though active and very public spirited. This is also the home of H. Clay Howeth, a veteran of the Civil War and having passed the eightieth mile post in the journey of life and is quite feeble.

One of the rising young men of the place is Hamlin Reid, Sunday School superintendent and an active church worker. Mrs. Effie Murphy is the organist.

If Your Light Bill Runs Higher This Month

—remember that daylight hours are growing shorter and shorter. You'll naturally use more electric light from now on.

Last summer you only glanced at the paper for a few minutes after supper. Too hot to stay indoors and read! Nowadays you read all evening, perhaps. At least you're around in the house.

The early morning hours are darker, too. If you rise early, you need light to shave by. All Winter you'll eat breakfast by electric light.

These added hours of service naturally show some increase in your bill.

Even so, electric light is cheap and abundant. You can burn twenty big 50-Watt lamps for a full hour and only consume one kilowatt of electricity.

STOCKHOLDERS IN DOLLINGS HEAR REPORT

Meeting Here Friday Afternoon Addressed By Members Of Protective Committee

RAYS OF HOPE SEEN
FOR THE INVESTORS

100% Cooperation Asked In Way Of Giving Proxies For Stock Held Locally So That Necessary Steps For Protection Stockholders May Be Taken—50 Cts. Per Share Refunded

George W. Woolford, Cambridge and W. D. Corddry, Snow Hill, members of the Dollings Protective Committee for Maryland and Delaware, addressed a gathering of about 50 stockholders of that company, now in the hands of receivers, on the progress which their committee had made since its formation, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms here Friday afternoon.

The two gentlemen, who have recently returned from Columbus, Ohio, where they made diligent inquiry into the exact status of the firms, which with their subsidiaries number altogether 34 companies and involve stock sales of approximately $80,000,000, are extremely optimistic as to salvaging a goodly portion of the investments in this section if the proper cooperation from the shareholders can be secured.

The D. L. Dollings Company, those present were told, has been reorganized. The old Board of directors has resigned and a new directorate elected of which Mr. Woolford is a member. Although the company is not out of the hands of receivers, the new directors have the assurance of the court the receivership will be lifted. The new directors will represent the preferred stockholders.

The International Note & Mortgage Company, the speakers declared, was the key to the whole situation as to whether much or little is realized on any of the stock. This company, said Mr. Corddry, has sold preferred stock and had issued the money to industries financed by the Dollings Company. If this money can be collected the opinion was expressed that the I. N. & M. would pay dollar for dollar to the holders of its preferred stock.

On the other hand should these subsidiaries, many of whom are at present making money, be forced into receivership because of impaired credit and its consequent embarrassment and their stock liquidated, the I. N. & M. would be practically worthless and some of the other stocks would be worth only a small proportion of their original value.

Thus preservation of the structure in its entirety is essential if the most is to be gotten out of the collapse by the stockholder, it was pointed out. It is to fight receiverships where deemed unjust and to build up the stocks and thus form for them a marketable value that the committee is functioning.

It was stated that this committee, which is working hand in hand with that in Ohio, was the only agency thru which any substantial progress could be made and that should these committees fail in their endeavors, practically all the companies would collapse as a result.

Mr. Corddry predicted the reorganization of the International Note & Mortgage Company with five directors from the west and four from the east. Mr. Woolford interjected that it was more than likely that Mr. Corddry would be made a director of the reorganized company.

In order to carry out their plans the committee is asking that proxies be executed at the banking houses where shareholders transact business giving the committee power of attorney. The nearer 100% stock which the committee controls naturally gives it additional power and prestige with which to fight for the rights of shareholders and to break down barriers now standing in the way.

Mr. Woolford stated that it was not so much the deposit of money with the proxies that his committee was seeking but the power of attorney or the privilege to vote the stock. Originally it was asked that $1 be deposited with each $100 share of stock but it was announced at the meeting that only $2.50 would be required and the banks were requested to return the other 97 cents to those who had deposited the full amount. One-half of this amount goes to the Ohio Committee to fight the battles of stockholders in western concerns, of which there are many in this community.

Only two eastern subsidiaries, the McCambridge Company and American Bronze Company, the speakers said were in receivers' hands. The Phoenix Iron Works, Crane Ice Cream, American Cone & Pretzel, Commercial Truck and Commercial Truck Service, they averred could probably work out their own salvation if allowed to do so. Some of these companies, they pointed out, as making big money even after the failure of the Dollings Companies.

Messrs. Woolford and Corddry need no introduction to the people of the Eastern Shore. They are bankers of note and outstanding men in their own communities and are giving liberally of their time at sacrifices to their personal business relations without one cent of remuneration. Both left after the meeting for Easton to lay before the people of Talbot County their plans and bespeak their cooperation.

MISS MEME BROCKWAY

SEVERAL HUNDRED AT BETHESDA PERFORMANCE

"The Church Fair," Friday Evening.
Affords Merriment And Is Well Produced Musical Comedy

"The Church Fair," the musical comedy staged by members of Bethesda M. P. Church, in the basement of that edifice on Friday evening was well patronized, there being between four and five hundred people present. The cast of characters numbered about twenty and the program was largely made up of vocal numbers. A male quartette: Messrs. W. A. Sheppard, Harry C. Adkins, Reese Wimbrow and Milton Pope, sang a number of ludicrous and catchy songs.

A number of direct "hits" on local personages throught the performance kept the audience convulsed with laughter. Messdames Charles Wilkins and Reese Wimbrow, the former as a gypsy clairvoyant and the latter as a Japanese maiden, appropriately gowned rendered numbers in keeping with the races they represented. Arthur Ward, garbed as a typical rustic "Johnny," was the "scream" of the evening and got off much of his characteristic wit and humor.

Much other local talent of not had parts in the rendition and acquitted themselves with great credit as amateur performers.

RADIO SETS GROW IN NUMBER AS "FANS" HERE BECOME ENTHUSED

In Period Of 21 Months More Than 50 Receiving Stations Have Been Set Up In Homes And Business Houses In Salisbury And Vicinity

While the popularity of radio broadcasting may be said to date back to the winter of 1921, and the expansion has been remarkable considering the vast number of transmitting stations now "on the air" for the entertainment of millions, amateur radio has been advancing steadily although less rapidly ever since 1912.

Radio was introduced in Salisbury shortly after its popularity became so general throughout the country. In February, 1922, Mr. Thomas A. Cole, manager of the Electric Development Company, brought the first set to this city and it attracted no little attention. Radio "bugs" at once became quite numerous and the sale of instruments started. The pioneer, in the installation of a set in this vicinity was Herman G. Benedict, who resides on the River Road near Salisbury. Mr. Benedict started with a small, unpretentious set but has since been so fascinated by his acquisition that he has purchased a larger instrument.

There are now something like 50 receiving sets in and around Salisbury and they are constantly growing in popular favor. There are a number in Delmar, several in Sharptown and others scattered here and there in Wicomico County.

Among those in Salisbury and vicinity who are radio "fans" and have sets, ranging in cost from $55 to $200, are: H. G. Benedict, Marion Chatham, J. E. Little, Norman Connolly, Ercell Wimbrow, Dr. R. A. Burman, Hooper S. Miles, Benjamin Quillen, Graham Sun, E. A. Liara, Luther Ingalls, George Gerlach, Lynn Wooten, Harry I. O'Neil, Geo. D. Bunting, Mrs. Clara Davis, Wm. B. Tilghman, Collins Lank, J. Waller Williams, S. J. White, Nevins W. Todd, Joseph Bissell, Earl Williams, W. J. Downing, Jr., Mgr. Roberts, of the local National Biscuit Company Branch, Pine Bluff Sanatorium, Capt. James S. Russell, O. Ray Carver, Walter J. Brewington, E. S. McBrierty, Reginald Huston, Dr. D. B. Potter and Jake Billet. In one home in Salisbury are to be found two radio sets, Harry Warren, Parsons Street, having a set for himself and another for his young son to experiment with. Local fans and their friends have been "tuned in" with stations as far west as Los Angeles, California; north with Toronto, Canada and south as far as Havana, Cuba.

During the World Series games a few weeks back, many local people and friends sat back in their cozy drawing rooms at home and listened to the great New York newspaperman call off play and play the six games in the Metropolis.

Beside baseball scores and other sports dope, other features over the radio include: financial and commercial market reports, Naval observatory time signals, weather reports, children's bedtime stories, musical programs, educational programs, sermons, addresses and many other features.

COUNTY CHURCHES ASKED TO OBSERVE GREAT WORLD COURT WEEK PROGRAM

County Churches Asked to observe 2-12
In addition, there will be discussions in many colleges and universities. In a statement to the churches regarding the observance of the week the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill says:

"When the armistice was signed November 11, 1918, the entire world was thrilled with joy. The hopes of millions of men and women ran high for a peace that would be permanent, bringing justice and opportunity for all.

"Few realized, however, the difficulty of making a peace or how fierce the nationalistic passions had become and how diametrically opposed were the policies and desires of the many nations and peoples, new and old, great and small.

"Five weary years have passed since the armistice. It has become clear to most that the final establishment of permanent peace between the nations will not come at a bound. Come it will, but only through long and patient processes of national and international education, through willingness of nations to make concessions one to another, through desire for helpful international cooperation, and through the creating by constructive statesmanship of the instruments and agencies of a world-peace system.

"During these five years, at least two important steps have been taken toward this goal, in which the United States has participated, one the Washington Conference on Limitation of Armaments, the other the Permanent Court of International Justice.

"At the Washington Conference agreements were reached by the principal powers to limit for a period of years their respective naval building programs. Already many hundreds of millions of dollars have been saved to the people of the nation and have been diverted to useful and constructive purposes. But of more importance than the money saved is the removal of misunderstanding, the quieting of fears, and the development of a spirit of mutual confidence between the powers bordering on the Pacific.

"By the establishment of the Permanent Court of International Justice January, 1922, many nations have taken a significant step forward toward the substitution of justice through law for injustice through the violence of war. For the full success, however, of this World Court, it is imperative that all the principal nations should be its active supporters. America's presence as a member of the court is particularly important, if not indeed essential. The court will not abolish war, said President Harding at Salt Lake City, but it is the longest and most practicable step in that direction taken thus far in the history of the world. Membership in the World Court does not commit any nation participating in its decisions to the slightest foreign entanglement or to any possible future wars.

"At the coming sessions of Congress the Senate will have to decide whether or not the United States shall accept that proposition and become one of the supporting member-nations of the Court. On that decision will depend to a large degree the future relations of the United States to the other nations of the world. Shall the United States stand for a world order in which international justice shall be based on law and reason? Or for a world-order in which, as hitherto, each sovereign nation shall be largely a law unto itself? The question of American membership in the Court is in no sense a partisan issue."

LEGION CONVENTION TO BE COLORFUL ONE

The fifth annual convention of the American Legion, to be held in San Francisco Oct. 15 to 19, gives promise of being the most colorful gathering ever seen in any city. Garbed in many hued costumes, arrayed with decorations representing the various delegations, the huge number of legion visitors will present a kaleidoscopic appearance in the picturesque western city.

"O. D." of the army will present the great number of...

is to be at anchor near the convention city is expected to lead plenty of blue to the occasion. The horizon blue caps of the "Forty and Eight" will be seen in large numbers, to recall the comradeship at the polls of the over-crowded day.

A Mexican delegation will appear in the complete charro costume of that nation; some will wear Hawaiian leis and costumes of the islands; the Texas delegation will be seen in blue and white, with the "everglades" hats; and others of other attractive and bizarre dresses will lend a sprightly tone to the events of the five days.

The bands and drum corps play an important part in the color scheme. Novel and striking uniforms count toward final judgment in the contest and this has inspired many novelties. The regiment of the Alpine chasseur; flashing steel helmets of drum corps; the somber Lincoln green of the marine, make a multi-colored sight attractive to every visitor.

But not least will be the decorations of the various department delegations. Minnesota, with their huge "Gopher" plaques; Pennsylvania's Keystone; the sunflower of Kansas; the blue overcoat of Nebraska; the Indian head dress of the Oklahoma; and the many colored hats, caps and clothes of other delegates with most unusual novelties will never be forgotten. One southern delegation has promised to come with top-hats and canes, and Iowa would be delighted if the "tall corn" was forgotten in this listing.

What the sons of the Golden West have in mind is somewhat of a secret but they promise not to be out of the fun when it starts, and may be depended on for the novel.

Bradstreet's Weekly Dist. Trade Report

Seasonal merchandise is moving steadily and in satisfactory volume. Department stores and large retailers are carrying big stocks and are looking forward to a good holiday business. Industry for the most part is active and labor is well employed at good wages. The cotton goods market is strong and jobbers of dry goods, notions, underwear and hosiery are doing a good business. Woollens are firm, silks remain high while trade in apparel lines is in excess of what it was a year ago. Collections if anything are better, especially in the south, although remittances generally have not sufficiently improved to be classed as good. Building activity has increased and there is a better demand for building lumber with other construction materials very firm. Box lumber, however, continues to have very little sale. Coal has been increased and shipments of anthracite coal have much improved. The soft coal industry continues quiet with demand poor and prices off. Iron and steel requirements are somewhat less and stocks are rather plentiful. The oil industry is much depressed and prices if anything are lower. Lined oil is down to 98 cents per gallon but is firm at that quotation. Turpentine has declined 2½ cents per gallon being quoted at $1.02 per gallon at Baltimore and 96 cents at Savannah. Cylinder stocks, lubricating oils and viscous products are also firm with demand fair. Non-volatile oils are a drug on the market and gasoline is down to 19 cents a gallon. The whole sale with 21 cents a gallon and the average price. Local stock trading is only of moderate volume with price trend downward. Bonds, however, are fairly active with increased sales.

reported. Money is fairly plentiful with supply in excess of demand and interest rates still 5½ to 6%. Wheat receipts of cattle are light and prices are steady on desirable young stock. For lambs and sheep there is a fair demand but for live pigs the market is easier, stock on hand being more than ample for trade needs. Only best grades of butter have a firm market, but for fresh eggs there is good demand with receipts small. Hides and tallow are very dull. Flour is much quieter but for best grades of wheat there continues fair inquiry with present offerings on the open market. Meeting with ready sale. There is little or no export demand for corn while the domestic market is in fair condition. Oats and rye continue quiet while good hay prices are well sustained.

ANOTHER SALISBURY CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Salisbury Folks.

Just another report of a case in Salisbury. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Salisbury by Doan's Kidney Pills. I W. B. Bann, 123 Fooks Street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for many years and consider them a household remedy. At times I had attacks of kidney trouble and I suffered severely from backaches. There was a dull, constant ache in the small of my back especially mornings. I was lame and tired and at times I could hardly straighten. Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at White & Leonard's Drug Store never failed to help me when I was troubled in this way. They soon relieved the backaches and put my kidneys in good shape. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills."

Sir Thomas Don't Want to Box With Dempsey

Romance in business was perhaps never better illustrated than in the career of Sir Thomas Lipton, who recently had conferred upon him the freedom of the city of Glasgow, Scotland, the town where as a boy he first worked for 30 cents a week. Now on one of his big plantations on the island of Ceylon he employs more than 4,000 people. The last time Glasgow conferred such honor was to an English Royal Princess. A Lipton yacht will sail over an American course again in 1925. Sir Thomas' fifth attempt to lift the cup since 1903. When asked recently by Jack Dempsey to box with him for a special movie, Sir Thomas smilingly declined, saying: "I would rather play with sailboats."

"The Trellis"

Ellen Douglass

Synopsis Of Preceding Chapters.

Brought north to the home of her aunt, by the will of her grandfather, Winfred Carroll, age eleven, is to be separated from her widowed mother until she is eighteen, with the choice of inheriting a fortune or going back to her old home at the end of that time. When she has been at "Dawn-hill" a week she meets a friend of her aunt, Mrs. Duncan, also her two aunts, Steven and Heath. The former she admires very much.

Florence Kaler had built her little home of Spanish architecture at the edge of the town long before that type of house had become popular in America. Returning from a trip abroad, after the death of her parents, her heart had been heavy with grief and another yet harder to endure. The planning of this small place of her own had meant everything, just then, in a life beginning to unfold for others. Here she had surrounded herself with the things she liked best, quietude, books, flowers, and friends who came and went informally. To them she was the center of the circle, the pivot upon which their round of days revolved. She heard their heartaches and their happinesses, alike, as they brought their pulsing problems for her advice. Silently and carefully she listened to them, and somehow she always managed to understand.

Today, with the spring sunlight sprinkling the room, and the firelight from the grate casting conflicting shadows across her desk, she sat half wrapped in dreams, looking wistfully beyond the vista of the windows, her pen motionless over the half-written sheet of paper.

It was thus that Winnie found her when she came rushing in without ceremony late in the afternoon.

"Florence," she said, frowning herself against the woman. "May I stay here with you? Ellen is talking with the gardener next door."

Florence smiled down at the child as she helped her to remove her coat. The little name Winnie had bestowed upon her touched her, even after a year's frequent use of it.

"What is the matter, Winnie?" she asked as she observed the anxiety in the little face raised to her own. "Sit down, dear, and tell me about it."

"You will understand, won't you, Florence?" Winnie had grown in the year she had been north. She seemed like a small woman as she settled herself demurely in a big chair. "It's this way, Florence. I don't want to stay up here. I want to go home again, and be with my mother. Aunt Lila thinks I have forgotten her, but I never could, and it hurts to have to hear the things she says."

"What sort of things?"

"Aunt Lila told Miss Brent that I had done very well considering my lack of early training. It isn't fair to talk that way about my mother."

"You will have to overlook that, Winnie. You must remember that your Aunt Lila has never seen your mother. Judgments of that sort do not count."

"But, Florence, it makes me feel so badly for her to keep spreading all the worst of everything before people who only believe what she tells them. And then she is always wanting me to do such silly things."

"What are silly things, for instance?"

"To lead the march at dancing class with Roddy Van Ventler. I hate him and I don't want to lead the march anyway. I'd rather be in the procession."

"Your Aunt Lila is deeply interested in you, Winnie. If she does not think as you do about things you must take into consideration that she is a grown woman with much experience while you are only a girl of twelve. It isn't your place to deride her opinions."

"No, but you don't feel that way about it all, Florence. If I don't agree with you in the beginning you always make me see that it is wise to do as you say. With Aunt Lila it is just do it or die right there."

"Unfortunately, Winnie," Florence Kaler said, "you are overrating your own judgment. I believe you will realize the absurdity of this stand when you stop to think about it. By your grandfather's will you are to live with your Aunt Lila until you are eighteen, and during this period she stands as your guardian. And while you may not agree with her in everything it is not becoming of you to object to her requests. Your Aunt Lila is devoted to you and your Uncle Paul loves you dearly. You must try not to be sensitive about any reference to your life before you came here. That will take a certain amount of courage, but you can acquire it, I know."

"I'll do my best, Florence, but please tell me something about my mother. I am always thinking of her but it seems a long, long time."

"A year is a terrific space of life at your age, isn't it?" Florence kissed the child as she turned the talk from dangerous channels, "and when I tell you that I am going away soon, to be gone almost that long I begin to wonder what changes I shall find when I return."

Winnie sprang up, real alarm creeping into her eyes. "When are you going, Florence?" she asked. "Don't say."

Florence opened the drawer of her desk and taking out a photograph looked at it with a longing look.

an iron fence, with a great dog at his heels. Glancing at the promise of a strong maturity in the smiling boyish face, Winnie exclaimed:

"He looks a bit like you, Flo dear. Who is he?"

"Robert Kaler, my nephew," she answered. "He lives in London, with his mother and I am going over to see them, next month."

"Will you take me, Flo dear? Oh, please do! I don't want you to leave me."

"I wish I could take you, Winnie," Florence meant it, too. An ironical flicker passed across her lovely mouth, as she thought of the plans for her journey, and the person who would accompany her.

"Aunt Lila would let me go, I am sure," Winnie persisted, "and if lessons had to be done we could take old Miss Brent along with us."

But Florence shook her head. "Quite impossible, Winnie. Almost everything you wish for is yours but you can't have this."

As the child stood up Florence Kaler reflected upon the remarkable change in her. She had absorbed, quite naturally, the atmosphere into which she had been plunged. There was nothing about her to suggest the frightened little creature who had stood on the station platform in tears twelve months ago.

Winnie turned to speak, but the sound of voices in the hall silenced her. A quick curve of pleasure moved her sensitive mouth.

"I think it is Steven," she said, shyly. "I told him yesterday at dancing class that I would be here."

Steven came often to see her when he has no idea of meeting her. Winnie felt it her duty to quell the rising tide of egotism. Many rapid thoughts and conjectures of the child's ultimate development passed before her mind as she rose to greet the two boys who came into the room.

"How are you Steven? And Heath?" she asked, shaking hands with each of them. Steven, tall and striving for dignity, did not look at Winnie as he sat down. Heath timidly followed his brother and settled himself beside Florence. Trying to appear unconscious of the presence of each other the three young people riveted their attention upon Florence, who in spite of her secret amusement, soon established them in a flow of common conversation chatter. The arrival of orangeade and wafers dispelled the last flicker of constraint among them and started Steven and Winnie to hysterical laughter at some nonsensical reminiscence.

RICH ANN RICHTOUS

Riches are not an evil within themselves. There is no inherent wickedness in money. It is the love of money that is the root of all kinds of evil. When one sets his heart on money, he then becomes a menace to himself and to the world. When he determines that his whole mind shall be absorbed in the thought of being rich, then he becomes dishonest. When he trusts in riches, then it becomes impossible for him to enter the gates of heaven.

Jesus Christ never condemned riches. He condemned the worship of riches. He condemned covetousness. He condemned the misuse of riches, the unfaithful steward, the man who exploited his own talents to rob God. It is just as true today as it was when

Then think of the improvements represented by that finest of all Goodyear's, the new Goodyear Cord. Despite this, prices are 37% lower now than in 1920, and 30% lower than in 1914. GOOD YEAR

Christ uttered it. "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven." That means it is easier for the impossible to take place than it is for a man who trusts in riches, who makes riches his kingdom, who makes wealth his god, to enter the kingdom of heaven.

Christ really taught that heaven was a condition in which a Christian might find himself, and in which he might faithfully serve God and attain the highest rank in Christian character. Christ regarded riches as a hindrance. A man's wealth must be administered, not for his own sake and pleasure, but for the glory of God and the benefit of humanity. In the teachings of Christ, every talent is to be used in the Master's service. When Christ said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth," He put the emphasis on "yourselfes." Lay not up for yourselves, but lay up as an honest, industrious steward treasures for God and for God's cause.

Riches can be gotten righteously. No one can really get rich any other way.

You need Balance for Full Power and ALL the other gasoline qualities

A GASOLINE has to be balanced to give you the full, rounded performance that you're entitled to.

"Standard," the balanced gasoline, gives you full, ample power because it had just the correct proportion of high-boiling constituents ("fractions", as the refinery men call them). Too much of them would make your motor hard to start and slow to accelerate. Too little would lower your power and mileage and you'd have to use a rich, wasteful mixture to get satisfactory results.

"Standard" has the right percentage of these high-boiling fractions. And it has the correct percentage of low and intermediate fractions for instant starting and snappy pick-ups. Over fifty years of experience are built into every gallon you buy. Try it out this Fall—see for yourself.

URGE RAISING HOGS OF THE BACON TYPE

Expert Cites British Market For Product Of Particular Flavor—Average American Can Raise Stock—Declares European Trade Could Be Obtained

Whether the American farmer can produce a bacon which will appeal to the particular taste of the English consumer and thus enable this country to reap the fat pay now being paid in England for bacon comes from Danish, Swedish and Irish farms, recently has been the subject of considerable discussion in the nation's capital. Taking part in the discussions have been representatives of farm organizations. No definite plan whereby this can be accomplished has been found, but progress is reported.

While huge amounts of bacon are taken by the United Kingdom from the United States each year, the preference of the English consumer is for Danish, Irish and Swedish bacon. This is because that market prefers a lean, hard type of bacon with a mild cure, and America produces, with every economic warrant, a large production of only a small percentage of which runs to the bacon type.

Pork and its various products constitute the English appetite, it is America's exports. Bacon, hams and lard are the most important export products and the United Kingdom is the greatest single outlet. Great Britain's average imports from this country, over a period of many years, have exceeded 300,000,000 pounds of bacon, 125,000,000 pounds of ham and more than 300,000,000 pounds of lard.

With American bacon being discriminated against because it does not satisfy the English appetite, it is being sold much below the price paid for the preferred grade from European countries. The price is sufficient to encourage all phases of the live-stock industry to give the question complete attention, with the hope that it will be possible to reflect more of the English trade in the direction of the American producer.

"There are a few areas in the United States where no doubt it would be good farm practice and sound business generally to specialize to a reasonable extent in the production of bacon-type pigs for export," was the opinion expressed by an official of the United States Department of Agriculture. This department for years has been giving attention to the breeding problem involved in this question and has been assisting in the gradual building up of a small bacon-type hog.

If the American farmer is to be encouraged to produce English bacon it is quite evident that it will call for special attention and increases in the cost of production. On this point the Department of Agriculture official said: "Only when the producer receives his proper share of the higher price that the right kind of a bacon pig brings in the export market will he be encouraged to produce that type."

Packers have expressed a desire to cooperate in any plan which would result in the production of acceptable export bacon. There is no question that they would be glad to pay a premium for pigs that would cure out properly. The thing to be done, however, is to produce the kind of bacon the English consumer wants and not what we would like to have him accept. If this country is going to get any great amount of bacon business in England, with prices comparable to those paid European producers, we must supply a lean, hard-fat type, mildly cured.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture, who have been studying bacon rights abroad, say the English product can be produced without any great changes in feeding methods. It will take an 180 to 190 pound pig of the Yorkshire or Tamworth type to give satisfactory results, instead of the lard hog weighing well over 200 pounds, as is produced today.

Government officials are of the opinion that such progress could be made within two or three years, in case some definite program is outlined whereby farmers will give attention to the proper selection of type and see that the pigs are in the proper condition at the desired weight. This could be done without radical changes in feeding standards, although an excess of corn gives gains too rapidly. Instead of excessive corn feeding, barley or some of the dairy feeds could be substituted with satisfactory results.

With the live-stock industry in this country evidently giving effective attention to the question of export bacon, it is pointed out by observers that Canada already has made much progress. Besides producing the proper type, Canadian producers are watching their feeding methods and accomplishing a great deal in the matter of grading. Pigs of the required weight and type are sorted at the market where they sell for a premium. —Baltimore Sun.

THE SWEET POTATO

Also disinfect the frame work of the beds before using them the second year. This may be done with the lime-sulphur solution that is used on fruit trees and elsewhere on the farm. If it is not convenient to use live steam to sterilize the old soil one may use a copper sulphate solution applied with a sprinkling can. The soil must get a thorough soaking so that all organisms may get a dose of the mixture. Many growers use top soil from the woods for the main layer of soil and then place from one to two inches of builders sand on top of this. After the potatoes are bedded another layer of sand is put on to cover the seed.

As mentioned previously a small or medium sized potato is preferred for seed. These are bedded whole but large potatoes should be cut in half lengthwise before beddng. The potatoes are bedded by hand care being taken that they do not touch each other and they are pushed down firmly into the soil. Before the seed is bedded it is examined carefully and any potatoes showing signs of disease or other undesirable features are thrown out. The seed is then disinfected in a solution of formaldehyde and water or corrosive sublimate and water. The latter is very poisonous and should be used with care so that no animal or human being can get access to it.

The corrosive sublimate solution is made by dissolving one pound of the material, preferably in powder form, in eight gallons of water. Use only a wooden or enameled vessel for making this solution. The potatoes are soaked, immersed in this solution and left for from 5 to 8 minutes, then they may be washed off with clean water and bedded or may be bedded directly from the solution. This disinfection will destroy any disease germs or organisms that may be on the outside of the potato but of course has no effect on internal organisms.

After the potatoes are bedded they are covered with about one inch of sand or soil and given a thorough watering. This first watering will probably suffice for two or three days and subsequent waterings should be given just often enough to prevent the soil from becoming dry. Layers of hay, straw, canvas, cheese cloth, glass cloth and glass are used as coverings for the beds.

A great many failures in getting sprouts is due to ignorance or carelessness in managing the beds after the seed is bedded. Heat, air and moisture must be supplied in the correct amounts or the sprouts will not be vigorous. At first the temperature may, and should, be 80 to 85 degrees Fahrenheit but should soon drop to about 70 degrees and remain there until the young sprouts appear. High temperatures will result in weak, spindling sprouts even if they are not cooked in the bed. Sudden changes in temperature must be avoided. Ventilation should be given, but care must be taken that the beds or plants are not chilled.

Watch the ventilation of the bed as well as the watering as these are two vital points in the success or failure of the beds. Do not tilt the sash on the side of the prevailing wind when the wind is strong on that side. The beds are ventilated or sash tilted according to the temperature both inside and outside the bed. Heat may leave the bed ten to twelve days before time for setting out the plants and the water supply cut down so as to make strong stock plants.

In drawing the sprouts the potato is held down with one hand and the sprouts are pulled with the thumb forefinger, usually of the other hand. Keep the roots of the sprouts together and separate any clusters so that it will be easier to transplant. The sprouts may be placed in baskets and kept covered until ready to set out in the field. Some growers puddle the plants or roots by dipping them in muddy water so that the roots may not dry out so rapidly. The transplanting or puddling is used to set out the plants should be in readiness before the sprouts are pulled. Delay in getting the sprouts into the ground after pulling has resulted in replanting which takes time, plants and labor.

The land has been plowed early so that it has had time to settle and the rows have been marked off from 2 1/2 to 4 feet apart. Some growers cross mark but this is not the usual practice and does not seem very practical. The rows may be run out with a one horse plow or marker and fertilizer applied in the row and rows then run up or covered up. Level culture is the customary practice in most sweet potato sections although the listing of sweet is not a thing of the past. In some sections the plants are set out on a bed in which the rows are laid off about four feet apart with an ordinary horse plow. Just after the first plowing and disking. Then a furrow is run on both sides bedding out the row. After this the bed is harrowed down to a level about one to two inches above the level of the field.

The space between rows and plants varies with the soil, variety and cultural methods. Varieties such as the Up River, Hayman, Porto Rican, etc., should be allowed more space than for Big Stem Jerseys on account of their large vine growth. The Up Rivers set a large number of tubers and if not allowed sufficient space the tubers will be small and unmarketable. The distance between plants varies from 12 to 24 inches while the rows may range from 24 to 40 inches apart. A happy medium seems to be from 30 to 36 inches between rows and 15 to 22 inches between plants in the rows. The usual method of setting allows practically 10,000 plants to the acre.

Many methods are used in the setting of plants in the field from the back breaking hand method to the transplanter. When only a few plants are grown hand setting is naturally the most practical. The Gloucester County, New Jersey growers have become so proficient in the use of "wooden tongs and puncher" that they can set from 15,000 to 20,000 plants in a day without bending their back. Several methods are open to the person who has a few plants to set but for a large acreage the use of a transplanting machine is almost necessary.

It is a general practice to water the plants as they are being set or immediately afterwards. Transplanting machines are provided with an automatic device for this purpose. Hand set plants may be watered by any practical and efficient method that the planter may devise or that is available.

Sweet potato sprouts are almost never "topped" before setting out as are some vegetable plants. But one instance occurred on the Eastern Shore in 1921 when many plants were topped or cut back when transplanted.

The cold weather lasted well into the spring and the plants got too large in many cases before the weather warmed up enough to set them in the open. For this reason many growers cut the tops back and in very few cases did this do any harm to the plants or resulting crop.

The question of fertilizing is very important and yet no general recommendation can be given that will apply in all sweet potato sections. Sweet potatoes can be grown on a very poor soil without any form of fertilizer but needless to say this is not the approved method. A commercial fertilizer unbalanced with nitrogen, or ammonia, is very apt to produce excessive vine growth with few or small tubers. Green manures, or cover crops, are advisable in sections where they can be plowed under early in the spring. There are growers on the eastern shore who have grown sweets on the same piece of land for ten to fifteen years by the use of lime, plaster as a green manure to grow the crop on the same piece of land successively when any disease appears but the yields are larger in most every case the second year than they are the first year. A general rotation in this section of the Eastern Shore is sweet potatoes followed by rye sown the same fall to be turned under green for another crop of sweets. The second crop of sweet potatoes is followed by can-taloupes, cucumbers or some other crop.

Manure, well rotted, is very often used either spread broadcast or put in the drill or hill. The old method of putting the manure in hills or drills is being supplanted by the newer and better method of spreading the manure broadcast. When manure is used it is usually applied at the rate of from 10 to 12 tons per acre. (Continued Next Week)

Concrete Improvements Pay Dollars and Cents Profits

Every dollar put into Concrete Improvements comes back multiplied many times. Concrete Improvements pay for themselves in labor and feed saved, in enlarged yield from land and stock, and in greater satisfaction and service. Concrete is the farmer's safer, stronger and most practical construction material. Its first cost is low when all its advantages are fairly weighed; upkeep cost is practically nothing. Build with Concrete—it costs no more but gives greater value.

Any farmer can make Concrete Improvements himself which, if done by outside help, would cost many times the small amount he will spend for materials. Any Security Cement dealer will give you information and furnish Free Blue Prints.

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSES TERRORS

For Women Who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would go black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes in regard to my case."—Mrs. JOHN STRUSS, 26 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine. Many times the state in their letters they will respond to the women who write them. It is an offer dictated by sympathy and a desire to help others.

Merchants Use Decorative Art Skillfully In Displays

Salisbury Stores Creditably Reflect 20th Century Methods Of Show-Room Handiwork Inviting Passers-by To Bargain Counters Within—Good Window Dresser, Asset

The lure of shop windows! To the feminine part of creation, at any event, the magic of a charming array, placed at just that particular point of vantage behind plate glass is strangely appealing. No woman can ever quite resist one glance at the store window decorations, in passing, no matter how foreign her thoughts may be to the subject on display. One look, oftentimes, and she is conquered. A second look, amounts hesitation and then she trips in to inquire more fully as to the price of the article she admires. After that it is ten to one in the merchant's favor, for if the purchase is not made then it comes a little later, and his well planned arrangements has, baited the game.

Time was when the merchant heaped his windows with a conglomeration of goods, packed in so close together that it required the careful observation of the entire lot to dissect and rightly catalogue them all. The mental picture, once carried away, was a hazy one, a general aggregation in which the exhibit was spoiled and cheapened leaving nothing to be particularly remembered.

Now the art of window decorating has become a matter of profession, almost, and is the standard by which the public may judge the establishment within. Certainly it is a matter for careful consideration and much thought. And many things have to be carried in mind to the best results. The hazard of overcrowding is first recognized and the need for an appropriate and artistic setting is secondly studied. Of course, different kinds of stores hold to different rulings in this matter. A hardware merchant could not successfully follow the example of a Women's Specialty Shop, nor a drug store profit by the window plans of a music house. It is generally conceded, however, that it is best to show few things and emphasize them on an appropriate background.

The clever merchant frequently changes his window decorations, observing the demands and needs of the seasons and holiday celebrations. The more original and daring his exposition the closer the attention of the public will ensue.

The Salisbury stores have unusually attractive windows, this year, which well illustrates the progressive and up to date business activities of the city, not only in the variety of the articles represented but, also, in the individual means of showing them.

Among the windows noticed in a recent walk thru the downtown section were the following:

Mitchell and Gouge—Oil heaters.
American Style Shop—Women's coats and perfume.
Collins Jewelry Store—Cut glass and silver bowls.
Sloitz—Shoes chiefly in evidence.

Tibbets—A basket of flowers forming the center about which coats and dresses are arranged with a few shoes.

Harper and Taylor, Jewelers—A window of Holmes and Edward, flat silver.

White & Leonard Drug Store—A window of Hallowe'en brightness.
Fisher, Jewelers—Silver pieces, with a touch of color in small bits of glass ware.

Harold Fitch—A camera display.
L. D. Collier Drug Co.—A window of boxed candy.
Nock Brothers—A display of handsome coats with gray suede shoes.

Kennery & Mitchell—Men's hats, caps, and shoes. For women, a window of sport coats and fancy hosiery.
Homer White—An array of stylish shoes, in various designs.

Benjamin—Hallowe'en coloring brightness a showing of women's hand-some gowns.
Rubenstein—Winter blankets and sweaters are the key note of the window.

Lankford—A line of rifles, ranging in size behind a row of shells.
Watson's Smoke House—Pipes of all kinds pinned about wheels.

Nathans—Autumn background of corn stalks and leaves with a cabinet Victrola and Victor records.
E. S. Gas & Electric Co.—A tiny body delighting in the mornings ablutions before a Westinghouse electric heater.

Army and Navy—A general display of many useful things.
E. T. Law—Tobacco in cans.

The Smart Shop—Dainty baby bonnets with some accessories of that age wedged in.

Leeds & Twilley—Johnson and Pen ar hats with a showing of new bags and pocket books.

L. W. Gamby Co.—Electric appliances, also stoves of several kinds.

Marie T. Heckroth, Millinery Store—Gags, Phigps & Hart hats, with a few dainty flowers.

Economy Store—Shoes, and materials of cloth and cretonne predominance.

Gordons—Sweaters and shoes.
Dashiell Music House—Beautiful mahogany piano, Coblé make.

Uman's—A splendid showing of all the types of light luggage, suit cases, over night sack, and hat boxes.

"Legislature of 1924 Should Be the Legislature of the Farmer," Says Governor Ritchie

Stand of the Governor Has Back of It Pledge of Democratic Party

Speaking at the convention of The Maryland Agricultural Society, Maryland Farm Bureau Federation at Frederick last January, Governor Ritchie said:

"The Legislature of 1924 should be the Legislature of the farmer. It must be the farmer's turn now. It is his right to look to the Legislature of 1924 to give him whatever legislation his needs and interests require; and it is his right to look to the State Government to place nothing ahead of helping him to solve his problems."

PROGRAM BEING FORMULATED

Later at a meeting in Annapolis of representatives of agricultural societies, the suggestion was made that a committee be appointed by Governor Ritchie to study the agricultural situation throughout the State and draw up a program for its betterment. This committee was named. It is now appointed a sub-committee to which all suggestions are referred. That committee is now doing its work. Its program will soon be completed.

Mindful of the fact that such a program was being evolved, the Democratic party in its platform made this pledge to the agricultural interests of Maryland:

"We pledge our party to the continuance and proper extension of the State's agricultural activities in all branches, and when the non-partisan Agricultural Commission appointed by the Governor recommends its program for the development of agriculture in Maryland, we will give all the aid we can consistent with the public good, to put that program into effect."

LEGISLATION WILL BE NECESSARY

Every farmer knows too well how complicated are the problems that beset him—how sensitive his interests are to the ever changing order in the industrial and commercial world. He must be prepared to meet each situation as it arises. Organization would seem to be the first step. Without it such a thing as concerted and successful action is out of the question. When the committee on agriculture makes its report, legislation will be recommended—certainly such legislation as may be necessary to give the organizing farmers of Maryland the aid they need in making their organization effective.

The Democratic platform pledges all the aid it can give. Governor Ritchie declares that the farmers' interests shall come first in the Legislature of 1924. The Governor says:

"And it is his (the farmer's) right to look to the State Government to place nothing ahead of helping him to solve his problems."

BIG POPULAR VOTE ACCORDED COMPTROLLER WHO CARRIES WICOMICO BY APPROXIMATELY 2,200 MAJORITY—ARMSTRONG BEATS RITCHIE HERE

Governor Albert C. Ritchie, Democrat, yesterday was re-elected by an estimated plurality of 45,000 over Alexander Armstrong, Republican.

Governor Ritchie carried with him to victory the balance of the Democratic State ticket—William S. Gordy, Jr., for Comptroller of the Treasury; Thomas H. Robinson, for Attorney General, and James A. Young for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Dispatches from Baltimore City at noon Wednesday gave Ritchie an actual plurality of 41,000 in Baltimore City and an estimated plurality of 4,000 in the counties, a total of 45,000 over his opponent.

Governor Ritchie carried Allegany County, the first time in its history that the western section has returned ahead a Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Wicomico county upset traditions just the reverse from its western shore rival and gave Armstrong an estimated majority of 200. William S. Gordy, Jr., went over strong in his native soil with a majority of approximately 2,200 with 15 districts heard from.

With Nanticoke still out, 15 districts of this county gave Ritchie 3,687 to Armstrong's 3,693 and the reports from Nanticoke indicate a majority there in favor of the latter.

For the same districts, Coleman, republican candidate for Attorney General polled 2,797 against Robinson, democratic, 3,394. For Clerk of Court of Appeals, Brewer, republican counted 2,570 votes against Young, democratic, 2,570.

Early reports from Somerset County, long considered a republican stronghold, indicated a turn in favor of the democrats with Lankford, leading for State's Attorney over Creston Beauchamp.

Returns at a late hour indicated that the Democrats had carried five of the six legislative districts in Baltimore city. This probably assures Democratic control of the Legislature and the reelection of John M. Dennis as State Treasurer. The city district that seemed assured to the Republicans was the Fourth, which includes the big negro section.

The entire Democratic city ticket appeared to be elected on the face of incomplete returns. Judge Eli Frank appeared to have defeated Horton S. Smith, Republican, by the largest majority given any candidate in the city. O'Connor appears as victor for State's Attorney.

Governor Ritchie, after the results of the election had been made known to him late last night gave out the following statement: "The returns point to a wonderful Democratic victory. It is a victory for decency and sincerity in campaign methods, and an expression of confidence in administration which has given it the best of the people." (Continued on Page Two)

Outdoor Range To Be Built By Lions Club

Rifle Team Members Anxious To Commence Outdoor Practice To Study Atmospheric Conditions

Members of the Lions Club, with what voluntary assistance they can secure outside, will construct at the Fair Grounds the early part of next week the outdoor rifle range to be used for the shoot. The targets will be at a distance of 75 feet.

Those in charge are anxious to get the outdoor range in shape for practice as they realize that conditions will be encountered in shooting in the open that are not prevalent inside.

ANNIVERSARY OF ARMISTICE SUNDAY NEXT

Five Years Ago Next Sabbath Fighting in World War Ceased

PATRIOTIC SERMONS IN SEVERAL CHURCHES

No Exercises Planned For Monday Although Day Has Been Proclaimed A Holiday By Governor Ritchie—Not Yet Known Whether Banks Will Close

Five years ago today the world witnessed a memorable day in the history of Salisbury as well as other cities throughout the world. November 11, 1918, Armistice Day, the sun came over the horizon with unexampled new brightness and the world breathed a heavy sigh of relief. The war was over! Humanity was saved! A new future loomed up in bold relief!

Next Sunday, the fifth anniversary of that never-to-be-forgotten occasion the thoughts of people in general will revert to those fearless men and women who made possible that great victory and especially those who "gave the last full measure of devotion."

In several of the churches of the city ministers will deliver special Armistice Day sermons while in the others reference to the matter will be made by the pastors. At Asbury M. E. Church, Dr. Hamilton P. Fox, at the evening service will preach a special Armistice Day sermon, the text of which will be "The Armistice of the War." The clergyman will discuss the question as to whether or not we have reached the results of the war as we should and also touch upon the relationship of Christianity to World Peace.

An appropriate sermon for Armistice Day will be preached by Dr. R. L. Shipley at Bethesda M. P. Church in the evening. Dr. J. P. Gayle, new minister at Trinity, will touch upon the event at the morning worship. National hymns will be sung in some of the churches.

Inasmuch as Armistice Day, November 11th, occurs on Sunday this year, Governor Albert C. Ritchie, in accordance with a joint resolution passed by the legislature in 1920, has issued a proclamation declaring that Monday, November 12, shall be observed as a legal holiday throughout the state. The Governor, in his official proclamation, has urged upon the citizens to give thanks to God for the many benefactions they have received. The next November holiday will be Thanksgiving Day, which falls on Thursday, November 29th. Whether or not the same will be closed on Monday, at the time of going to press, was not known.

WICOMICO'S NEW SENATOR

Elijah Dale Adkins, who was selected to represent Wicomico County in the Senate at Annapolis in the election Tuesday will have the distinction of being the first member of that party ever accorded that honor.

He was born at Whaleyville, Md. on August 13, 1883, his parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Stanton Adkins. After attending the public schools of this county, he entered the lumber business and soon became an expert in that line and became associated with his father here.

Mr. Adkins has been no small factor in the building of that business from its small nucleus to its present standing as the greatest lumber plant in the State of Maryland, with an extensive plant here and branches elsewhere in Maryland and Virginia.

He is vice-president and general manager of the company and is regarded as a progressive young business man. He is an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, a 32nd degree Mason, Knight Templar, Shriner and Elk. He is also president of the Wicomico Farmers Association, Inc.

A member of the State Central Committee for years he at one time was candidate for Clerk of the Court but was defeated by the late E. A. Towbin. He has always been a moving spirit in Republican ranks in Wicomico County. In religious belief, Mr. Adkins is a Methodist Protestant.

Mardela High, winner of the elimination soccer contest among second grade teams in Wicomico County and Wicomico High, winner in the first group, played the first of a series of three games for the county championship at Mardela on Tuesday afternoon.

From the start of the game it was apparent that the home looters, due to their lack of weight and experience did not have a look in with the Wicomico High eleven.

The final score was 8-0 in favor of Wicomico High. Wilkinson led the team in scoring. The game teams will clash Friday at Gordy Park.

Last Friday, the local lads won from Delmar High in a hard fought game at Hebron 2-0. Ed Davis, L. McBrierty, W. Imley and Capt. Moore starred for Wicomico while Nichols played best for the losers.

SOLID DELEGATION OF DEMOCRATS RETURNS TO HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Although Yielding Much Ground To Republicans Thru Defeat Of Disharoon And Long, Wicomico's Majority Party Still Retains Grip On Other County Offices

TICKETS ARE SPLIT THROUGHOUT COUNTY

VOTE IS LIGHT DUE TO INCLEMENT WEATHER WHICH KEPT MANY WOMEN AWAY FROM POLLS BUT INTEREST IN ELECTION RUNS HIGH

Sweeping aside an affiliated majority of nearly 2300, the Republican party in Wicomico county achieved its greatest victory in the annals of partisan politics at the polls on Tuesday and elected to office its candidates for two of the posts regarded as essential to a political stronghold in the county; State Senator and States Attorney.

Never since Wicomico became a separate unit, formed from the soils of old Somerset and Worcester in 1867, has the minority party been able to return one of its number winner for either of the important places and anticipated groups were to be seen about the streets all day Wednesday discussing how it all came about.

Although the day was rainy and according to traditions foretold, as in previous years, a Democratic landslide, the results dispelled the theory this time.

Old heads at the game of politics aver that never in their days of observance about the polls did they witness such a wholesale slashing of tickets. This did not seem to be especially directed at any one particular candidate but toward several in this county.

The losing of two of the most important offices in the county came to the Democrats like a bolt out of a clear sky as right up to the counting of the ballots, leaders looked for their slate in its entirety to be returned a winner.

Returns commenced to come in to the NEWS office about 2:45 A. M. Wednesday, when Camden and Dennis were reported. From then on until afternoon interest was at fever heat as hundreds congregated about the display window to scan eagerly the balloting as fast as they were posted.

Not until after noon on Wednesday was the election of E. Dale Adkins to the State Senate ascertained. His plurality in Nanticoke District more than offsetting the 135 lead which Senator Disharoon, present incumbent, maintained up until that juncture.

Wicomico will be represented by a solid delegation in the lower branch of the Legislature by Messrs. Marion N. Nelson, A. Lee Politt, Dem., Thomas H. Truitt, Dem., A. Everett Williams, Dem., Harry Dennis, Dem., County Treasurer F. Grant Goslee, Rep., States Attorney Webster English, Dem., G. W. F. Imley, Dem., E. E. Rye, Dem., County Commissioners Warren L. Baker, Dem., H. Thos. Farlow, Dem., E. U. O'Connell, Dem., O'Connell's Court Peter S. Shackley, Dem., County Surveyor Murray Phillips, Dem., Sheriff.

Harry Dennis, democratic candidate again proved his mettle as a vote earner and was high man on the entire county ticket, being returned an easy winner over his opponent, Edmund Humphreys.

The greatest surprise was sprung in connection with the office of States Attorney. Curtis W. Long, for the best eight years the county's prosecuting official was cut badly through the districts and a big majority was rolled up by his opponent who carried: Warren Creek, Quantico, Trappe, Pittsburg, Trappe, Salisbury, Nanticoke, Sharptown, Hebron and Fruitland—all save five. Goslee polled heaviest in Salisbury District where his majority was 141. Long was able to carry his home district (Continued on Page 2.)

BIG BOOM FOR APPLES SEEN ON PENINSULA

Storage in Transit Rate, Fostered by Local Chamber, in Effect

MEANS SAVING IN THE TRANSPORTATION RATE

Additional Facilities For Storing Fruit Here Foreseen.—The effort of Chamber At Present in Securing Of Proper Schedule For Perishable Shipments From This Territory

In April of the present year, W. T. Gardner, Traffic Manager of the Baltimore-Wicomico Chamber of Commerce and G. Hale Harrison, of Hagerstown Nurseries, Berlin, took up with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the question of having put into effect a storage in transit rate on apples shipped from the Delmarva Peninsula.

This week the Chamber has received official notification that their requests have been granted and same put into effect November 2nd. This is looked upon as one of the biggest booms for the apple industry in this part of the country.

Henceforth growers were compelled to ship their crops each season as the fruit ripened regardless of the market straight to the intended destination unless they were willing to pay a local rate from the orchards to the storage plants and another local rate from the storage plants to the consignees. Under the late ruling, the storage is taken care of by a thru rate plus the storage charges.

To the carriers this should mean an increased tonnage and to the local companies located at other points additional revenue in the seasons where business will grow to such an extent that additional storage facilities will have to be provided for in the near future. There are at present stored in the houses of the two local companies here alone something like 30 cars of apples.

Increased storage facilities in Salisbury would naturally lead to the shipping of additional commodities to be stored here such as seed potatoes which are used in large volumes throughout the Peninsula.

On last Friday, the Pennsylvania Company sent several officials from Philadelphia to confer with local railroad men and Messrs. Gardner and Harrison about putting the new arrangement into effect at once.

Mr. Gardner, with other Peninsula interests, will take up soon the express schedule of perishable produce from this section to northern cities.

It is said that although local representatives of carriers and the express company use every effort to expedite movement of this nature of commodities, it is somewhere delayed in transit and does not reach destinations in time for the markets. This, it is alleged, has resulted in enormous losses to this territory.

Conferences have been arranged at Philadelphia and New York between shippers, produce men, express and railroad officials to determine just what time shipments should arrive and also arrange a satisfactory delivery service.

It is likely that after these meetings, express and railroad officials will put into effect a schedule from the Peninsula which will meet the situation as they have shown an evident desire to co-operate to the fullest measure.

TOWNS ON SHORE MOTOR LINES TO BE LISTED

American Highway Educational Bureau Arranges To Include Them On All Schedules

The development of highway transportation facilities on the Eastern Shore is to be aided henceforth by the American Highway Educational Bureau of Washington, D. C., an organization to advance the construction and use of public highways.

Arrangements were completed last week whereby towns and villages located on the East Shore Transit Line, Inc., and points served by other Motor Bus routes, are to appear in all regular highway passenger schedules for the State of Maryland.

The issuance of highway time tables it appears, has been brought about by the growth of passenger traffic on public highways since the introduction of the Motor Bus. In Maryland at the present time, there are more than fifty highway passenger routes operating under public service regulation. It is estimated that these lines are already carrying nearly two million passengers a year. It is for the purpose of aiding in the further development of the only form of transportation which the people really own and control, that the publication of highway time tables has been launched.

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE NUMBER SALES LISTED

Much Property, In Various Parts Of County, To Be Disposed Of In Next Three Weeks

Auction sale and public sale announcements are featured in almost every publication of county papers at this season of the year. It seems that the number being held in Wicomico county this year is unusually large. Among those scheduled to be held during the next three weeks are: the sale of the Arcade Cigar Store owned by John H. Tomlinson, S. Franklyn Woodcock will conduct the sale, a sale of three tracts of land in Parsons Election District by Mr. N. J. Adkins and the heirs of J. M. Adkins; a sale of farm land and timber land by W. P. Gov. Ritchie Re-Elected As Democrats Wins

And yet the thing that I feel above all else tonight is ever so much more personal. It is a feeling of the greatest, the most genuine gratitude, to the men and the women who have so freely shown their confidence in me and in my associates.

I cannot begin to say how grateful I am. I have no words that are adequate. The only thing I can say to the people of Maryland who have conferred on me the greatest honor any Marylander has ever received, is this: That, very humbly, very solemnly and very firmly, I promise that I will give the best that is in me in trying to be faithful to their trust.

to succeed themselves on the county board. Mr. Ker is the first representative Delmar has had on the Board of County Commissioners in the history of the county.

The entire democratic trio for Judges of the Orphans Court, Messrs. Baker, Farlow and Oliphant were returned winners as was Peter S. Shockley for Surveyor.

Although early returns indicated that James Chatham, republican candidate for the sheriff, would capture that office, later reports showed that he was steadily losing ground and Phillips was returned an easy victor. A fairly heavy vote was gotten out in Salisbury proper where 65 to 70% of the electorate cast ballots. In the rural section the outpouring at the polls was slightly less. The drizzle throughout the day kept a number of women away from the voting places.

Here are the New Remington Game Loads

THE next time you go out hunting, stop at your dealer's and ask him for a box of Remington Game Loads for the particular kind of game you are after.

The name of the game is right on the box.

You'll note that the weight of the powder is not marked on the box.

It isn't shown because Remington Game Loads are not loaded to specified weight.

The box of shells, you get is loaded to give a uniform velocity, pattern and penetration.

Remington Arms Company, Inc., New York City
Established 1816

Remington tests showed that powder varies batch by batch—even the same kind and weight. A given weight of the same kind of powder doesn't always give the same results. So in Game Loads Remington adjusts the amount of powder to give exactly the right shooting quality for the specific game. Powder varies—Remington Game Loads do not.

Take just one box of Remington Game Loads out and use them. Notice how they shoot in your gun.

And remember this: If you go back to the store next week or next month—or go to any store in a different town—and get another box of the same kind of Remington Game Load, the shells will perform exactly the same.

CONGRESS SHOULD ACT PROMPTLY ON NEW IMMIGRATION BILL

We Get Limited Quantity of Workers With No Thought To Quality Under Emergency Act. Also Impose Hardships Upon Poor Who Cannot Afford To Gamble With Quota Rule

NOTE: Last week, the night of October 31, Ellis Island at New York was jammed with thousands of immigrants awaiting entrance to the United States. Dozens of big ocean liners were racing to port carrying 20,000 more—all gambling their life savings that they would be in time to be admitted under the November quota allowed their respective countries under our Immigration Law. U. S. Commissioner Curran estimated that at least a dozen national quotas would be exhausted within an hour after midnight, November 1st. He expressed anxiety over the situation, saying: "The situation we face is by far the worst Ellis Island has ever known. The best we can do is to examine 2,000 a day. Several staff men have broken down under the night and day work. Thousands of immigrants will be too late and must be sent back, their money spent in a fruitless gamble for homes here."—Editor.

Written Specially for THE WICOMICO NEWS

By Dirk P. DeYoung

The present immigration law, which expires June 30th, 1924, is only an emergency measure hurriedly jammed through Congress shortly after the close of the world war. It was introduced at a time when the national feeling against hyphenates ran high, and was railroaded through in a period when unemployment was alarmingly general throughout the United States. When the measure comes up in the next Congress, however, as it must, clearer judgment is likely to prevail, first, because the passions of war have died out to a large extent, and, secondly, because the supply of labor is now not abundant and a saner influence from larger interests will now make itself felt.

This emergency immigration law is a piece of blanket legislation which limits the annual immigration into the United States to three percent of certain nationals on a basis of like nationals already residing in this country in 1910. Moreover, it fixes these quotas so that any given nation can only send twenty percent of its annual allowance in any one month of a fiscal year.

Finally the worst part of it is that there is no way of ascertaining the state of the various quotas until the European immigrants are dumped at Ellis Island. In its practical workings the law serves principally as a numbering machine, operating in New York, whereas it should be in Europe, at the source, to eliminate the unjust and unnecessary expense and hardship on the immigrants. The other fundamental objection to the present measure is that we are not selecting our immigrants now at all on a basis of quality. Quantity is the rigorous method of letting down the bars to foreigners under our emergency immigration law.

The result of all of this has been confusion here, confusion abroad, irritation, diplomatic friction, loss of money to immigrants, and a gathering ill-feeling which can have but one end—trouble—trouble in large doses internally and internationally. Moreover, the net residue of immigrants admitted, authorities state, is much inferior to the class which came before the quota law went into effect. Many former American residents, of excellent quality, temporarily sojourning in Europe before the law went into effect and their children born here, are also shut out under this three percent limitation clause.

The United States wants the right class of immigrants. We must have them for the farms and the factories. Under this quota law, in which the standing entries cannot be determined until the immigrant ships arrive in New York, none except gamblers would risk their savings on such a slim chance. It is a question of numbers largely, and first come at Ellis Island, first served.

When Congress takes up the matter of a new immigration bill in the next session, it should provide for qualitative selection, instead of quantitative quotas, while the process of selection should be carried on in Europe, by immigration experts of the Department of Labor, attached to the American consulates over there. There is absolutely no need of foreigners coming all the way across the Atlantic to determine their chances of entrance at Ellis Island.

We should follow a precedent already established in the enforcement of the Chinese Exclusion Act, under which Chinese of a certain class, permitted to enter the United States in spite of that law, may determine their qualifications for such entrance before they cross the Pacific.

Shall we not, therefore, treat our own cousins in Europe as well as we do the people of the Far East?

REAL HOME LIFE CAUSE OF MARRIAGES

Apartment Life Seen As Small Factor In State Of Maryland's Rate Of Weddings. It Is Shown

Maryland leads all the states in marriage rate because of the strong instinct of her citizens to home life. This statement of the reason for Maryland's supremacy in the matter of weddings was given today by James Y. Claypoole, Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, where Baltimore's marriage licenses are issued.

Mr. Claypoole said that, in his opinion, the marriage rate is directly traceable to the number of families who live in their own homes. It has been a tradition in Maryland, and particularly in Baltimore, he said, that a large majority of persons were raised in families who own their own dwellings, and this urge of home life, implanted in early youth, has its result on the number of marriages.

Mr. Claypoole further observed: "Until recently the people of this city hardly knew what an apartment was. They were raised in homes—real homes—and from their youth have the idea of owning a home of their own some day. In other words, their early home influences cause them to make the family history repeat itself, with the result that marriages are almost at a maximum. This is true of the whole State."

Mr. Claypoole's comment was the result of figures made public by the United States Census Bureau, showing that Maryland led all other States in marriage rate last year, with a proportion of 1539 marriages for every 100,000 of population. The number of marriages in Baltimore this year promises to top the figures of last year, Mr. Claypoole showed from figures compiled in his office. For the 12 months from December 1, 1921, to November 31, 1922, the fiscal year of the office, the Marriage License Bureau issued 7356 licenses to wed. For the 10 months ended September 30 last, Mr. Claypoole's figures show 6595, which in 10 months last year.

CHILD TRAINING AT HOME

HOW TO BE A FATHER

By Lydia Lion Roberts

One of the best careers in the world is to be a father. It gives solid satisfaction and peace in level-headed, fine-spirited sons, and clear-eyed, womanly daughters.

"Dad doesn't seem like a parent," said a boy in his teens, "he seems more like a chum or a friend." Long years of learning how to be a father led to that remark, which showed that the time and effort spent were already bringing results.

This particular father began when his children were under two years of age. He spent very little money on the children, but he spent a lot of himself. He devoted hours of his Saturdays and Sundays to playing with the children, reading to them, listening to them, and talking with them. He did not do so much "for" them. He did much "with" them. It was not, "Let daddy make a house for you," or "Let daddy fix it for you," instead he thought it wiser to say, "You build a house with daddy," or "you fix it with daddy," and so the children learned the fun and pleasure of doing things with daddy.

He did not talk to them, but with them, as one man to another, as one friend to another, and the little ones gained dignity and understanding unconsciously. He treated the children as intelligent companions, and they became so.

He never was too busy to explain, to answer their questions, to help with their problems, to solve their childish puzzles. If mother could not answer, she advised, "Be sure and ask daddy and he will tell you."

When the children began to take their share of the work and responsibility of the home, it was with daddy they did many of their little tasks. Before they were five years old this father had begun to say, "Come." He seldom said, "Go." It was not "You go and do this," or "You go there." He said, "Come on and help me clean up the table," or "Come and help mother do these dishes," and "Come and clean up the yard with me." The children responded at once, for work with dad was half play and it was great to be trusted with responsibility by a man.

"Tell dad," became a watchword. The struggles and triumphs, the losses and gains, were told him at the end of the day or week. He showed his interest every morning at breakfast and every night at dinner by questions and conversation about their activities, until it was natural that no matter what happened, "Let's tell dad," came spontaneously, and equally natural became the desire to have only the best things to tell.

This father was jolly and played like a chum, yet there were certain times laid down. None of this dad's playmates could be mean, or cheat, or tell untruths, or shirk a duty. Each child must obey promptly, work cheerfully, act manfully. Each child must respect, obey and work for mother, who dad said was the Queen of the home.

Mother helped this dad learn how to be a father, co-operated with him, helped him understand the little folks by talking over with him the children's daily experiences and joined in with his plans. She planned with the children how to surprise or please dad, and showed in every way what a fine thing it was to have a real father.

It takes thought and effort to be a father, for like all careers, it is made up of great desire, hard work and ideas, and the marks of success in this career are not counted in money.

but in flesh and blood, brain and heart, in the greatest asset the world possesses—the father's children.

REV. ROSCOE JONES AN ORDAINED CLERIC

Former Wicomico Man Is Doing A Great Religious Work In Cape Charles

Members of Centenary Methodist Church are jubilant as a result of the return of their pastor, Rev. Roscoe Jones and are enthusiastically entering into a campaign to greatly enlarge the size of their membership and congregation during the coming year. Rev. Jones is believed by many to be one of the most able ministers and pastors in the Eastern Shore District and during his two years of service here, has increased the membership of Centenary Church by 20 per cent and the Sunday School 50 per cent. Beginning at once, Rev. Jones will inaugurate a series of Sunday evening sermons on timely topics, three of which will be on "Smiles" and members declared that anyone after hearing him three times will be drawn in the church.

Before coming to Cape Charles Rev. Jones was a member of the Maryland Legislature from Wicomico County in 1908 and again in 1914 and has the distinction of first introducing the first local option bill in 1908 before that body. He was ordained in the ministry at the meeting of the last conference, held in Richmond last week.—Eastern Shore News.

FARM POLICIES

Poultry management practices, advocated by extension workers to increase economically the quality and quantity of poultry products, were adopted in 1922 on over 255,000 farms, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Here's Proof That Advertising Pays

Famous Wrigley Building in Chicago Being Double in Size

The part of the Wrigley Building erected two years ago has filled such a want that the north section, nearly double the floor area of the south section, is being added.

This north section, nearly completed, occupies the entire block, immediately across North Water Street, fronting on Michigan Avenue and reaching to the height of the main part of the first structure, with a connecting bridge. The space in the new section is already nearly all taken by high-class firms in advance of the completion of the building.

Here is a concrete (as well as a steel and glass) proof of the saying that "advertising pays." In these magnificent buildings Mr. Wrigley has erected an impressive testimonial to this great truth. They loom large and beautiful. They typify the achievements of the man who built them. They stand as a monument over the activity of the Nation's second city—inspiring—dominating—massive—bearing unanswerable testimony to the POWER OF ADVERTISING.

A GOOD NAME THE BEST ASSET—A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold.
—Proverbs 22:2.

THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE

Now that the people of Wicomico County along with those living in other parts of the State have expressed their will at the polls as to who should represent them in the State and county offices, it remains for the successful candidates in this election to enter upon their duties in public office, mindful of the tremendous responsibilities imposed upon them by the voters and ready to dedicate themselves to the tasks ahead with a conscientiousness that will not betray the trust and confidence of those whom they have been chosen to represent.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie has been selected to succeed himself and it is to be hoped that he will continue his administration as Executive of Maryland along the same progressive lines as in the past. Along with Governor Ritchie goes the name of State Comptroller William S. Gordy, Jr., whose record in office and individual popularity won for him a huge majority in his re-election. Thomas H. Robinson and James A. Young are the new Democrats to be placed in the offices of Attorney General and Clerk of the Court of Appeals, respectively. They are both capable and worthy men and the electorate of Maryland may well expect a successful tenure of office from each.

In Wicomico County, E. Dale Adkins has emerged victor as State Senator in a very close contest with the present incumbent, Senator Charles E. Disharoon, and for the first time in the history of this county the banner of the Republican party has been carried to the front. Another Republican candidate, F. Grant Goslee, for States Attorney, was carried to victory along with Mr. Adkins. The remainder of the ticket rang true to the traditional Democratic majorities.

The News wishes to extend congratulations to the victorious candidates. To the losers there goes the honor of glory in defeat in a close contest that was free from personal attacks and waged in a most creditable manner. In this county the 1923 election has proved one of the most exciting in years and the actual results were secured only after the last vote had been counted. In this election politics in Wicomico county were elevated to a most satisfying high degree. The people of the county have made their choice on the basis of qualification for office rather than party affiliation. It is to be assumed that in every instance the "best man" has won. Now that the will of the people has been expressed, the responsibility of government shifts to the politician himself. There is every reason to believe that those from Wicomico county will live up to their obligations and trusts in a most commendable manner.

I've loaned a dime, full many a time, and I've frequently had 'em stolen . . . but I've never quit, and I'll do my bit, to keep the ball a-rollin'. . . I shove the coin in the smilin' morn, and I think it's the proper caper. I couldn't refuse to read the news, so I buy the mornin' paper.

The dullest beat that I ever meet—it really does surprise one—the paper's late—right up to date, but this bird never buys one. . . He snoops the sheet from somebody's feet, or sponges it from his neighbor—I'd kick his pants, if I had the chance—but I hate to waste the labor!

The moral is, get down to biz, don't be a fight-wad slacker, it's bad enough to stall out a bluff and beg a chaw of tobacco! I like to lend a book to a friend—it's a cordial and friendly caper—but I fervently hate the one-eyed skate, that's too stingy to buy a paper!

LET WHEAT GROWERS GET TOGETHER

Senator Arthur Capper, than whom the farmer has no better friend, has hope that in the coming session of Congress at least one or two practical steps will be taken to bring about a better situation for agriculture. More than likely the Senator's line of reasoning will prove correct. Some of the big industries have been hard hit by the check in agricultural buying power. For instance the makers of farm machinery have seen their business decline, and when the interests of big business are affected one may reasonably expect inquiry into the cause and definite effort to bring some measure of relief.

Legislation, of course, never can overcome economic law, nor can Congress cure all the ills of the farmer, but it can aid in wiping out the differential between 80 cents wheat and ten cents a loaf for bread. Even the most callous of capitalists realizes that this situation cannot continue.

Fundamentally, of course, the cure of this ill will come when the grain growers realize the necessity of wiping out the hundred and one middlemen who gobble up three-fourths of the pie. Eventually they must get down to real commodity marketing through some non-profit government agency.

"Perhaps," says Senator Capper, "this will be a revival of the U. S. Grain Corporation, or an extension of the work of the Bureau of Markets, or it may mean the building of a new federal marketing agency." This is getting down to bed rock. If something of this sort be undertaken by the government, plus a drastic revision of the transportation act, including repeal of the so-called guarantee and recapture clause, the International Harvester Company may find its business improving, and this will make a stronger appeal in some quarters of Washington than the thought that such legislative changes will aid the men who feed the nation.

It must be remembered, however, if any move is to be made in the way of co-operative marketing it will have to come from the large wheat growers themselves. No one more than the members of the farm bloc realizes this to be the fact. There is danger in the belief that Congress can be a cure-all. Perhaps the best cure will be the education of the east. If the east once realizes how crippling the farmer affects the life of the Harlem flat dweller our agricultural population, which means a seventy billion dollar industry employing one-third of American man power, would receive more consideration.

Every large merchant in New York made a thorough test of his advertising during the pressman's strike. They got out circulars by the million, they produced their own advertisements and obtained widespread distribution. When the strike was broken they swarmed back into the newspaper columns with larger space than they ever had used. The strike was more beneficial to the newspaper proprietors than they realized. It demonstrated the selling power of newspaper advertising.

Local taxes are the best of all investments. Every dollar spent adds more than a dollar to the value of the home—when it is spent thoughtfully.

MONSIEUR'S ARITHMETIC BAD.

TREN AND WOLVES.
THE DOCTOR MILL.

Monsieur Loucheur, ablest financial mind in France, tells Americans, "You must put out of your minds all idea of getting the money that France owes you. Payment is impossible. Consider the stupendous sum France owes you."

The amount that France owes us is a little over four billion dollars.

Loucheur may be right, payment may be impossible.

But this puzzles you. Poincare, consenting to a conference, says there must be any suggestion of cutting down the amount he thinks Germany should pay. That amount is thirty billions.

If France can't pay "the stupendous sum" of four billions, how can Germany pay more than seven times as much? Will the world conference answer that question?

Ordinary arithmetic won't answer.

Cotton sold off a little, but it is still above 30, and if you want it you might as well buy it now. It is going to be a scarce commodity.

Fortunately, the cotton growers will get a somewhat better price, not because they deserve it, as they do, but because the crop will be small.

Only twenty-one Americans reported incomes of one million dollars or more.

In 1920 seventy reported incomes of a million. The solitary incomes of five millions represents five per cent of one hundred million dollars. Several Americans would laugh if you offered them a hundred million for everything they own. This doesn't mean illegal or criminal evasion of income tax. The laws are drawn so that they reach small men, doctors, lawyers, moderate sized business men. They don't reach the really great fortunes. Everybody knows that several great fortunes, Henry Ford's, John D. Rockefeller's, and two or three others are worth many times one hundred million dollars. But the money is in corporations. The owners of the corporations do not draw the money out. They reinvest it, a good thing, when it is reinvested in labor giving enterprises, not so good when invested in bonds that pay no tax whatever.

Chickens lay more eggs when you light the coop at night, prolonging the period of eating. Everybody knows that. Now it is shown that prolonging the day by electric light will make plants increase their growth.

It seems we are getting poorer, especially the richest among us. Only one man in the United States this year pays a tax on income of five million dollars. The Government doesn't tell who that one is. Income tax reports are kept secret. The tax that a man pays on a small home is public property.

If the election of anybody for president would hurt your business or your feelings, "Lloyd's" of England will insure you against that election. One concern paid down $38,000 and Lloyd's agreed to pay $400,000 in case of Ford's election—issuing a policy which is a good way of disguising a bet.

The question is: Can Ford, by any chance, stampede the Democratic convention? Political leaders believe that if Ford had a regular nomination it would be impossible to beat him. If the Democrats believe it earnestly in 1924, and if Ford had somebody that could produce a "Cross of Gold" speech for him, stampeding the convention might not be difficult. What politicians want, first of all, is to win.

Last week Communists were marching on Berlin to upset the Republican government.

In this blessed country, at about the same time, the public was learning of a tobacco combination amounting to two hundred and fifty millions of dollars, combining big interests, simplifying business—all excellent, provided the public keeps track of what is done.

Over in Europe they are tearing things to pieces. Here we are building up. Happy we.

With a loaf of bread in Germany costing five million marks—which would have been $1,250,000,000 in the old days—the intellectual Allies are beginning to set aside all question of reparations. They are wondering whether they can hold Germany together and prevent the appearance of another and worse "Russia."

The learned Harvard Professor Shaler in his book on the mob declares that even a gathering of clergymen by certain influences could be turned into a murderous lynching mob. Our animal ancestors are still alive in the brains that we inherit from them.

The St. Louis Star renders great service to the country in its exposure of a medical diploma mill, turning loose upon the country an army of ignorant, dangerous men equipped with "diplomas" authorizing them to practise medicine and destroy life.

Medical men who have been content to sit on State Boards, confining their activities to attacks on other schools of healing, never finding time to investigate their own house and put it in order, ought also to be interested in the work that the St. Louis Star has done for them.

The month of November again is here.
To us the saddest of the year.
For it was a cold winter day that our dear Marie passed away,
Gone but not forgotten.

Marie dear why did you leave us,
Was not to express how your parting grieves us.
As the good Lord deemed it best,
So do we and all the rest.

Dear Marie, you'll die no more,
We're preparing to meet you on that happy golden shore,
Oft and oft our hearts do wander,

THAT SALISBURY IS THE SHORE METROPOLIS IS APPARENT EVEN TO 14 YEAR OLD CYCLIST

Youthful Washington, On Trip Thru Shore, Writes Of Experiences—Passed Through Salisbury On Labor Day Enroute For Ocean City With Two Companions

The following is an account of the observations of Thomas Leonard Millhous, a 14 year old boy, who with two friends made a trip on bicycle from his home, Washington, D. C., down the Peninsula to Ocean City. The journey is well written up and he has chosen as the theme of his story "The Eighth Heaven". The trip covered a period of four days, an account of the first two is published below.

"When we left Washington, at four thirty P. M., we had in sight a great trip. Because the trip we actually took is small in comparison, I shall deny you that laugh. But details of our tardiness will suffice to shake your ribs. As I was saying, when we left Washington at four thirty, we were already an hour late of our scheduled time for departure.

"At five fifty of the clock we were in Upper Marlboro, which, as you know, is the seat of Prince Georges County. Of course, the town still lay in the fond embrace of Maryland, so we did not leave long. We stopped at the memorial fountain for a drink. Have I ever told you of this fountain? It is a stone affair of some eight feet in height, and is about two feet by four feet at the base. On the front is, or I should rather say the front is covered by, a large bronze tablet. Upon this tablet appears a fitting tribute to the boys of the county who gave the "last full measure of Devotion" in the World War. It stands in front of the court house—a rambling old brick building that stands within a large square of grassy ground. This is the main point of interest in old Marlboro town. But we had little time to spare, so we were soon on our way. A few minutes later we crossed the Patuxent. This is where our first trouble began. It took us fully two hours and a half to negotiate fifteen miles of gravel road.

"We arrived at South River at about nine. The water was in accord with the day—quiet and gentle and sapphire. Here we passed Edgewater, a small town consisting of a few cottages, a general store and postoffice, and a few larger houses, picturesquely situated along the shore of South River and the main road. A few miles to Parole, and we were almost immediately upon the main highway, Salisbury, the little capital of a great State—Annapolis.

"My entrance into Annapolis was far from glorious, for just as we stopped at the west end of the town to gain an idea, from a large State Roads Commission sign, of our bearings—bang! I lost my balance and fell from my wheel.

"From the looks of things, this is the way that I imagine Annapolis was built; first there were a few houses along a roadside; then an enterprising young Episcopalian minister had a large brick church built; and next some one deserted a circle about the church, and the town finally was built—on the church and circle—"Church Circle" as the natives call it. Maybe I am wrong—the process may have been reversed; at any rate, that is nothing to do with our trip.

"We found St. Mary's, and while we had to wait a whole hour for Mass, we found it impossible to stay after the sermon—a long winded one—on account of the ferry, which left a few minutes later.

"Now it may occur to some of our readers that forty-three miles is a mere short ride. It is—under certain circumstances. But when one has had only three hours sleep, it is not so short, especially when it is ahead of my tale. The ferry takes an hour and a quarter for the run from Annapolis to Claiborne. During that hour and a quarter we had nothing to do but sit. So we sat. It was hardly a wonder, therefore, that when we disembarked at Claiborne, we were so thoroughly stiff that it took us all afternoon to get limbered up!

"The first few miles of the road on the Eastern Shore is shell. The whole trio agrees that it can never sing the praises of shell road too much. It is better, even than concrete.

"We passed thru many small towns including Claiborne, Royal Oak, Kenton, and St. Michaels. Our next stop was EASTON—the seat of a great County. A branch of the Potomac River, Baltimore and Washington Railroad crosses the lines of the Baltimore Chesapeake and Atlantic at Easton. Division Street, upon which the court house is located, is a very wide thoroughfare of asphalt and runs the length of the town. Court House Square is located at the intersection of Division and Goldsborough and Division and Dover Streets. Easton is the first road center one encounters on the Eastern Shore. From Easton you may go to Federalsburg, Denton, Salisbury, Cambridge, Oxford, Elkton, Wilmington and almost any other town on the Delaware-Maryland Peninsula. Easton is an important center for a large grain-growing and tomato-canning region, since it is connected with Baltimore and Philadelphia by steam lines and excellent roads. It is the seat of a separate Episcopal diocese and has its own Bishop.

"We left Easton at four-thirty. On the road we met a boy bound for his aunt's house, along the roadside, and when we asked for a drink, we not only got it but a watermelon besides. With watermelon lying heavily on our stomachs, and sleep heavy on our eyes, we found it hard to ride much farther. So we pitched camp in the woods, about two miles from Preston, in lower Caroline county.

"On Labor Day we arose at four thirty A. M., having gone to sleep at seven fifteen the preceding evening. Much rested, and, to our surprise, not in the least stiff, we were soon on the road again. We had gone seventy-four miles on the first day of our adventure. And when we pulled into Hurler at six o'clock, our cyclometers registered eighty-five. At Hurler we had a breakfast of milk and rolls.

"We had bought food in Sharptown a thriving little town lying along the Nantuxet River, and about six miles west of Salisbury. We ate our lunch, and then the cyclometers were turned into the road. The first road center we encountered was Salisbury, and it was well on the way to Ocean City.

"The following is an account of the observations of Thomas Leonard Millhous, a 14 year old boy, who with two friends made a trip on bicycle from his home, Washington, D. C., down the Peninsula to Ocean City. The journey is well written up and he has chosen as the theme of his story "The Eighth Heaven". The trip covered a period of four days, an account of the first two is published below.

NEEDLEWORK COLLECTION VERY LARGE

Over 1,000 Articles Secured By Local Guild And Distributed Where Deemed Most Needed—Colored People Want To Help In This Most Worthy Cause.

This year's collection of garments by the Needlework Guild totaled 1046 articles, and although 67 less in number than last year, the assortment represents a better variety of size and warmth than ever received here before. There were many requests by the donors that the garments be sent to the Pine Bluff Sanatorium, as there is no public health nurse at present to handle the collection, as has been the custom in former years. Accordingly the directors voted a much larger contribution to the Sanatorium than usual, consisting of 349 articles of household linen and warm garments. This donation will be sufficient to make all the patients comfortable during the winter. The Peninsula General Hospital was also voted a contribution of 223 articles of household linen. The Children's Home in Easton was sent 40 garments. The remaining goods were kept for local use through the town and county. It is hoped that a Red Cross Nurse will be engaged who can use her judgment in the distribution.

At the annual business meeting on Friday afternoon, October 26th, at the Nurses Home, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. Robert A. Boyle, President; Mrs. Grant Sexton, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. D. B. Potter, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Robert Leatherbury, 3rd Vice-President; Mrs. Ralph H. Grier, Secretary; Mrs. D. Laird Todd, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. A. T. Grier, Treasurer. These officers and the following directors: Mrs. Henry S. Wallis, Mrs. S. M. Ellis, Mrs. Fred P. Adkins, constitute the Executive Committee. Any one wishing to become a director during the year may join the present list which has forty names.

Next year the Guild plans to have a tea with a speaker from the National Office. An enlargement seems also probable in the way of a Junior Guild and as a request has come from the colored people of the town for a chance to help those of their race who are patients in the Hospital, a colored department will be added.

The object of the Guild is not primarily for home use but to equip more fully the hospitals and institutions with household linen and garments for outgoing patients where needed.

GOING STRONG AFTER THE PEACH BORER

Very satisfactory results have been obtained in the control of the peach borer in the Southern States by the application of paradichlorobenzene, states the United States Department of Agriculture. Interest in the use of this material has increased widely. From present indications it looks as though 500,000 pounds of paradichlorobenzene will be used around peach trees in the Southeast this year for the control of the peach borer. Most of this amount will be used in Georgia.

where a large percentage of the commercial peach growers apply the chemical. Last season about 250,000 pounds were used in the same area. Experiments to date indicate that it is safe to use the chemical, three-fourths to 1 ounce per tree, on trees 3 years of age and over. Heretofore recommendations have been limited to trees 5 years of age and over.

Exhibits Of Fruit And Vegetables
As Well As Commercial Display
Will Be In First Regiment Armory
W. Lee Allen, Of Salisbury, Present President Of Society.

The Peninsula Horticultural Society will hold its annual meetings in Salisbury, November 20, 21, and 22, 1923. An exceptionally strong program has been arranged. It is one which no fruit grower or truck grower can afford to miss. The meetings will be held in the Court House. The exhibits, which will consist of a large display of apples, vegetables, potatoes, etc., as well as a full line of commercial exhibits, will be held in the State Armory.

The program will include an address by Mr. Aaron Sapiro, a man of national reputation for aiding farmers in getting results by co-operative marketing. Mr. H. W. Collingwood, editor of the Rural New Yorker, is also on the program. Mr. Collingwood is also nationally known as a friend of the farmer. Another address which should be of especial interest to the farmers of this section is that of Dr. T. C. Johnson, of Norfolk, Va. He will discuss the spraying and dusting of vegetable crops. It is felt by many that the dusting of cantaloupes and other vine crops is a matter which no progressive truck grower can afford to overlook. Dr. Johnson will bring up-to-date information on this important question.

Copies of the full program and premium list as well as other information concerning the meeting can be had by writing to W. Lee Allen, Salisbury, Md., president of the Society. —'Sir Sid' In Cast

Salisbury theatre-goers will soon have the opportunity of seeing several popular local artists before the footlights in a light musical comedy sketch that has been presented successfully in nearby small towns. Dale Wimbrow has rehearsed his original skit called "The Song Shop" which was the big hit of the Moose Minstrels last year and together with Sidney Yates of Arcade fame and Vaughan Butler has worked out an attractive evening's entertainment. This trio is aided nicely in the presentation of "The Song Shop" by Miss Kathryn Butler and Miss Madge Wimbrow. Clever songs written by Mr. Wimbrow are sung in good style by these artists with the comedy parts well taken care of by Dale Wimbrow and "Sir Sid".

The Song Shop was presented in Berlin Tuesday night before a large audience that generally applauded the performance.

CHIEF DISHARON BURIED ON SUNDAY

Police Head Had Served Salisbury Efficiently For Past Twenty Years
—Native Of County

Funeral services over the body of Woodland C. Disharon, for two decades Chief of Police in Salisbury and regarded as a highly capable and fearless guardian of the law, were held from his late home, Mitchell St., on Sunday afternoon and were conducted by the Rev. R. F. Gayle, pastor of Trinity Church of which he was a member.

Chief Disharon died at his home shortly after noon on Friday following a lingering illness of several months. Mr. Disharon was born in Quantico District about 60 years ago and came to this city with his parents when a mere youth.

After attending the public schools,
he for a while followed the water.
Later he became a clerk for the late Sewell Evans and following this, shipping clerk for B. L. Gillis & Son.
After several years with the last named firm he became a member of the police force and since the time of his appointment has been its chief.

He is survived by his widow, who prior to her marriage was Miss En-ma Florence Turner; three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Adkins, of Norfolk, Va.;
Mrs. Barton Mumford, and Miss Nettie Disharon, of Salisbury; three sons: Mr. Ernest Disharon, of Phoebus, Va.; and Messrs. Walter and James Disharon, of this city; one sister, Mrs. E. W. Windsor, two half-sisters, Mrs. Chas. Watson and Mrs.
Jos. Malone, and two half-brothers,

WICOMICO RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS ON 19TH

Miss Frances Price Named Chairman Of Campaign Forces By President
Wicomico Chapter

Wicomico County's Red Cross drive for roll call members as a part of the national drive will open on the 19th and with Miss Frances Price, of Salisbury, name as the chairman of the campaign, indications are that this county will "go over the top" and surpass last year's roll call subscribers of 1128.

Miss Price is fast organizing her forces all over the county for a short and intensive drive and when the operating gun is fired on Monday the 19th, everything will be in readiness for the signing up of roll call members. Inasmuch as only 50 cents of each membership payment goes to national headquarters of the Red Cross with the major portion of the remaining sum to be turned over to the United Charities in this county for the support of a Public Health Nurse, indication are that the drive will meet with a whole-hearted response from the public.

The local chapter of the American Red Cross has been an active one since the termination of the great World War and has done remarkable work in the supervision of a county health nurse. In addition it was one of the few county organizations that filled its quota for relief funds for the stricken Japanese nation after the recent catastrophe in the East. Officials of the local Red Cross are very optimistic over the outcome of the drive and point to the worthy causes which the money solicited will go to as a strong argument in gaining many new roll call members this year.

BRINGING THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO CITY

For 10 Days, Local Packing Company
Has Done From $600 To $1100 Shipping Business—Products Go To Every Principal City In The Country—Bivalves Scarce

This will be the best oyster season ever experienced in this section if predictions of those who have been engaged in the business for many seasons come true. Since dredging was started a couple months ago, bivalves of a very high grade have been brought up from the waters around Nanticoke, Bivalve, Mt. Vernon and other sections where beds exist.

Mr. J. A. Bailey, a member of the firm of Bailey and Newton which operates the large packing house of the Camden Bridge here, who has had 15 years experience in the seafood business in Salisbury and down the river, states that the prices prevalent at the present time are higher than any like period in previous years.

From $2.00 to $2.25 per gallon f. o. b.
Salisbury is the present prevailing price while last year oysters sold for $1.50 to $1.75 at this season which was considered a very high figure.
Shell stock is bringing around $1.25 per bushel. For several years this season are unprecedented in the history of the industry.

The Salisbury Packing Company, for the past ten days has shipped from $600 to $1100 worth of oysters daily.
These bivalves, packed in Salisbury, unknown to the greater part of our population, are shipped to every principal city in the United States and as far north as the Canadian border.

There is an ever growing demand for oysters from Wicomico and adjacent counties, it is said. This is due to the mail, to the new individual gallon containers now used which does away with the shipping in bulk with the ice put right in with them resulting often in the tearing up of the oyster.

Help this year is very scarce. Many of the tongers and dredgers have gone to work in the large industrial centers while shuckers are also hard to obtain. The oysters themselves this year are scarce which is responsible to a large extent for the peak in prices.

ments were made and date fixed for endar. The date is Friday, November 16th and the banquet will be held in the Y. M. C. A. gym at 6:15 o'clock.

Mr. G. William Phillips was appointed as chairman of the Program Committee, and Mr. Oscar Morris and H.
C. Johnson for the committee on supper arrangements. Mr. Phillips will secure a speaker of national repute to address the gathering, and in addition will have several interesting numbers from local fathers and sons.
The registration books will open this coming Monday, November 11th, at the Y.M.C.A. and any son who can produce a father or any father who can produce a son will be accorded the privilege of reserving a place at the festival board. As the registrations will necessarily be limited to about 225 persons, it is expected that there will be a lively signing up of those interested. A small supper fee will be made to help pay for the good things the ladies will prepare.

Registration of fathers and sons is being pushed through the Churches of the city and every church will have its quota of fathers and sons who will enjoy this splendid occasion. A boy or his "dad" does not have to be a member of any church, nor the Y.M.
C. A. to sign up. It is a community affair, planned for all fathers and all sons.

"DAY BY DAY" CLUBHOUSE FUND OF WOMAN'S CLUB IS INCREASED

Over $500 Now On Hand Thru Efforts Of Members—"Calendar Club" Plan, Adopted For Coming Year, Unique And Interesting As Money-Raiser

Every day, week, month, season, holiday and year means a contribution to the coffers of the Wicomico Woman's Club in which is being stored away the fund which, when it assumes sufficient proportions, is to be used for the building of a commodious and modern home for that bustling organization.

And these various units are multiplying rapidly. "Time and Tide Wait for No Man" is the oft quoted saying but time can be pushed to good advantage and Miss Maria Ellegood, chairman of the Finance Committee for the Club House Fund, has worked out a scheme which, with the assistance of her co-workers, she is working to advantage.

The plan is a novel one whereby the calendar is brought into play. Each member of the club is asked to become some unit which goes to make up the year and by the designation is measured the sum which the individual contributes.

Miss Ellegood, herself, becomes the year and gives $10 to the fund. Twelve women, one representing each month, have agreed to act as months and each gives $5. These months are: January, Mrs. W. S. Gordy, Jr.; February, Mrs. Frederick L. Smith; March, Mrs. W. M. Cooper; April, Mrs. R. D. Grier, Sr.; May, Mrs. Harry Harcum; June, Mrs. T. E. Marlindale; July, Mrs. W. S. Sheppard; August, Miss Irma Graham; September, Mrs. Charles T. Fisher; October, Miss Nancy Gordy; November, Mrs. F. P. Adkins; December, Mrs. H. S. Todd.

In addition to their $5 contribution each month secures four weeks which give $2.50 each. In turn, each week finds seven days to give $1 each.

Spring, summer, fall and winter, as well as the various holidays, will be assessed $5 each. The months and weeks will probably be members of the club while the days, seasons and holidays will in all likelihood be procured from without the ranks. Messrs. Walter B. Miller and John D. Williams have each assumed the role of a holiday. Anyone, whether a club member or not who would like to help along this project may do so by communicating with Miss Ellegood or one of the weeks.

Those in charge of this scheme, which is the official means decided upon for the making of money this year, figure upon making from $500 to $1,000 for the fund by this means. Other ways being employed are, taking orders for Christmas cards and for a book of Bible stories.

The "Rainy Day" bags, in use last year, have been discontinued. These receptacles, into which a contribution was dropped each time a sprinkle descended, netted the clubhouse fund $143.25. The luncheon served to the Eastern Shore Federation last fall swelled the total by $170.50 and the highly successful "Trip Around the World" this spring augmented the sum by $175.00.

This gives the fund something over $500, including any money raised under these new plans. A rally of all those taking part in the Calendar Club will be held in the "Y" on December 18th.

Something like a year ago when a vote was taken on whether or not the Woman's Club should make arrangements to secure a home of its own the general sentiment seemed to be in favor of the plan although there were quite a number who did not feel that the project could be successfully financed and preferred having the money in sight before taking steps in regard to building same.

The entire membership then went to work with a vim and the fund has grown rapidly as several unique innovations here have been brought into play.

The women, encouraged by their start are very optimistic as to the outlook for their home and deem an appreciative of the assistance rendered

Minnesotan to Court of St. James

The sailing of former Senator Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota by President Coolidge, to replace George Harvey as American Ambassador to England, has stirred the progressives in Republican ranks. They say it is a "lame duck" appointment and is leading to foreign entanglements. Above is a most recent picture of Mr. Kellogg and wife.

$11,285,363 BUDGET FOR THREE YEARS

Funds Are Expected To Be Derived Mainly From Auto And Gasoline Taxes

The State Roads Commission will ask Governor Ritchie to authorize a budget for a total of $11,285,363.90 for maintenance and reconstruction for the years of 1925, 1926 and 1927.

The Commission, which met recently made up the three-year state, basing the estimates on increases in maintenance and reconstruction requirements and on the expected gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration returns for the three years.

Owing to the fact that the estimates had to extend over a longer period than is usually required in budget making, the figures were prepared with difficulty. To add to this complexity they were prepared for a period one year in advance of the year of 1924.

Only estimates for receipts and expenditures were available for making computations on the activities of the 1924 fiscal year, which has already begun.

The budget estimates call for the following program:

1925	$3,396,061.00
1926	3,759,887.76
1927	4,129,834.54
Total	$11,285,363.90

The increase in the maintenance and reconstruction needs amounts to about 10 per cent a year, according to Director of Public Works John N. Mackall. During the year of 1923 the commission spent a total of $1,955,915.58 on these items. The previous year of 1922 the Commission spent $1,574,661.03, and in 1921 it spent $1,000,000 in round figures. Director Mackall estimates that about $2,400,000 will be required for the items in 1924.

The activities which this appropriation covers are resurfacing, oiling roads, general maintenance of the department, surface maintenance, snow removal, road signs and widening of 14-foot roads.

The funds for meeting these proposed items are derived mainly from motor vehicle registration and the gasoline tax. Automobile registration for 1923 netted $3,381,753.73. This, of course, did not include the gasoline tax.

Out of this fund comes the amount necessary to maintain the Motor Vehicle Commissioner's Department, the Traffic Court and the city's share of the funds. Director Mackall estimates the increase from this source and the gasoline tax, which takes up a part of motor vehicle registration last year, as follows:

Twenty per cent in 1924, 12 per cent in 1926 and 10 per cent in 1927.

Bradstreet's Weekly
Dist. Trade Report

Industrial activity with wholesale and jobbing trade and collections showed material improvement during October in comparison with a year ago, but business at retail although good will probably show a decrease due largely to unseasonable weather. The most notable feature of the month was improved conditions in the south reflected by increased jobbers' sales of general merchandise. Values are very firm and the price trend is upward, while the cotton goods market continues very active. In dry goods, notions and kindred lines advance sales of spring merchandise have been quite satisfactory and much in excess of 1922. Shoe jobbers have not been very active especially for a month but during the past week improvement is noted and a good business is expected for the balance of the year. A more spirited demand is reported for men's clothing and furnishings while men's and women's jobbers' business is very active. The paper trade is quiet with price advances reported of about 5 per cent in comparison with a year ago. Furniture manufacturers say the outlook is bright except for uncertainty as to raw material prices. There has been a fair canning season and a good tomato pack. Wholesale grocers are doing a large volume of business with prices firm and competition very keen. Drugs and chemicals are moving steadily with volume of business and prices about the same as a month ago. Luxury trades have been quiet and local theatre managers are complaining of poor attendance. Building operations show some increase, real estate continues very active and rents high. Living costs are no lower and food prices continue especially sugar which is retailing at 10 cents per pound. The tone of the general wheat market is steeper but there is a special life to domestic demand for flour while export business has fallen off. Oats, rye and straw continue quiet but for good grades of hay there is fair demand. The live stock market is generally quiet and hides and tallow are dull. There is little or no business pending on the open market in wool with no stocks of any consequence coming in now. For favorite species of fish there is fair demand while oysters are in ample supply for present trade needs.

THRIFT

The lesson all the mercantile business houses and trades are trying to teach in Salisbury these days is one of THRIFT and financial security.

In other words, that the way to thrift is in the saving of that which is already yours—may be by a sound investment to offset natural depreciation.

There is no other institution that can serve you better in the community in which you live than YOUR BANK. It will help you save and if consulted will help you protect your savings.

The Tie That Binds

THE UNITED STATES is a nation of far reaching relationships. Urged onward by new opportunities in a land of boundless resources, families have separated more than in any other land. Few men live where their fathers or grandfathers lived. Domestic ties stretch between communities widely scattered.

Commerce and industry, too, have the same spread of interests.

Though the nation is a federation of states, their boundaries form no barriers to trade. In business and social life, as well as in government, the nation has become a great community.

Hence there is a natural demand for telephone service that has no narrower boundaries than those of the country itself. Such a nation-wide service can be given only through an organization having a uniform policy by means of which all its distant activities can be joined together.

The Bell System provides such a service to meet the needs of a united people.

SHARPTOWN

Captain E. G. Bennett of the Schooner George W. Truitt, reached New York on Friday of last week. He was in that north-east gale and much fear was entertained of the safety of the crew, but in coming up the coast from a southern port the north-easter was too strong to buck and the captain turned his vessel with the wind and was blown about one hundred and twenty miles back toward the starting point. Here he anchored and repaired some parts of the rudder gear and then when the storm subsided he resumed his course toward New York arriving there on Friday. Mrs. Bennett left on Saturday to join her husband in New York and remain several days. Railroads The Promoters of Progress

The Hall Mark

of Service

The Heralds of Prosperity

Did it ever occur to you how necessary the Pennsylvania Railroad System and other railroads are to your well being?

How essential to the convenience and comfort of yourself and family?

Did you ever stop to think of what the railroads have done to facilitate your business prosperity or enhance the development and growth of your community, in its relations to other sections of the country?

Did it ever occur to you, that every dollar expended in the purchase of transportation is an interest-paying investment, yielding abundant returns in better railroad service, greater prosperity, growth, and development of every interest?

As the irrigation of the ground makes fruitful the soil, so the success of the railroads radiates progress and prosperity.

What Your Co-operation Means

Railroads cannot expand alone. They require your help. Your co-operation, your friendly attitude to attain the aims they have in view—to achieve the best results for the people—the highest type of transportation service.

Without your co-operation, progress is checked and the best efforts of the railroads come to naught.

SPOTS ABOUT SALISBURY CATCH THE EYE ON ACCOUNT OF THEIR AUTUMN SPLENDOR

Tony Tank, Fairfield, Spring Hill Church, Leonard's Mill And Others Vie With Each Other For Scenic Effect Most Most Pleasing In Appearance

The autumn leaves are hung in an unmistakable array of hue and pattern about the town of Salisbury. Tinged with the salt air of the sea and made lucid by the clear sunshine of early November the woodlands stand like a gateway to a fairyland of splendor, hinting at unknown beauties beyond the horizon.

It is hard to decide just what spot is most gorgeous, or where one wishes to linger the longest in admiration.
The oasis of color occur along the roadways, catching the eye with their magnificent weaving of tint and shade.
There is Tony Tank Mill, where the coloring of the foliage is reflected in the surface of the quiet pond, or the flamingly crested trees of "Fairfield" or where the residence of this fall touches again the old Spring Hill Church, perhaps, never more wonderfully than now. At Leonard's Mill the rural scene is made over, dressed in the seasons royal clothes and a patch of trees, hemming a field beyond Loretta Station, seems to hold an extra amount of embellishment.

The first tree to turn a brilliant red, in autumn, is the black gum.
Then next the maple, and strangely, sometimes they become yellow like elongated buttercups while others are reddish brown. The sweet gum is a maroon red, and the hickory another tree of gold. The oak turns first red and then a reddish brown. The various vines, forming an important part of the picture, are converted also.
The hated poison ivy being one of the richest of these. The sumac, formerly used in tanning leather, is lovely, too, and the bamboo vine and sassafras are its equal.

The autumn coloring has been particularly beautiful this year. The first frosts were slight, not enough to cause the trees to drop their leaves, but just sufficient to bring out the tones.

The chemistry of autumn had never been wholly understood. It is known that the change to the vivid leaf shades is due to a decomposition of the chlorophyll, or the green pigment of vegetation, by some peculiar formation into the xanthophyll, or yellowish coloring matter, which causes the brilliant guise of the groves and trees. Exactly how the formation occurs has never been well determined.
It seems that sly Dame Nature can keep some secrets of her own, and true to her sex reserves the artifice of her paint box for her private use.

BIOLOGICAL SURVEY AIDS MISSOURI WOLF CAMPAIGN

Throughout many sections of Missouri wolves are more of a menace this year than they have been at any time within the past 4 years. So troublesome have they become to livestock and poultry that the State board of agriculture has found it necessary to devote a special appropriation of $15,000 to fighting them. The Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture was asked to assist, and a cooperative agreement has been completed under which part of the expense of wolf trappers is borne by Federal funds and part by State funds. A Biological Survey representative has been appointed predatory animal inspector to act as joint agent, to select trappers, plan and direct their work, and to receive requests from counties needing assistance.

"Missouri wolf No. 1" was killed near Rolla, in Phelps County, early in September, and since then wolves have been trapped in other counties.

ADVERTISING PAYS APPLE COOPERATIVES.

Twenty-six farmers' business organizations handling boxed apples sold more than 6,000,000 boxes of apples of the 1922 crop, valued at approximately $8,000,000, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sixteen of the associations advertise their products, the advertising assessment ranging from one-half cent a box to 4 cents a box.

Some of the larger appropriations for advertising the 1922 crop are $35,000, $30,000, $22,700, and $7,200.
In the last 10 years more than $750,- 000 has been spent to advertise one well-known brand of apples alone.
Pooling seems to be another of the secrets of success of the apple cooperatives, the department says. Of the 26 organizations reporting to the department, 24 associations pool the returns for similar varieties and similar grades. The pools are for periods ranging from two months to a year.

A two hundred bushel crop of sweet potatoes according to the chemists will require for the tubers alone about 30 pounds of nitrogen, 10 pounds of phosphoric acid and 45 bushels per acre it is clearly seen that the tubers alone will need about a ton of a 3-1-5 fertilizer. When clover precedes the sweet potato crop the amount of nitrogen in the fertilizer mixture may be less than where no clover is grown in the rotation just before the sweet potato crop.

"The average application of fertilizer for sweet potatoes in Georgia will run from 250 to 500 pounds per acre.
A sweet potato fertilizer should run two to three per cent nitrogen, five to seven per cent phosphoric acid and eight to ten per cent potash."

"Under New Jersey conditions the most economical results are probably obtained by using 1200 pounds per acre of a 3-8-5 fertilizers."

In Arkansas many growers use 500 to 800 pounds per acre of a 3-6-10 mixture. Many New Jersey growers before potash got scarce and high priced, used a 3-7-12 formula or a 4-8-12 mixture with good results.
Alabama's experimental work, on several different farms and soil types, shows that 500 to 600 pounds per acre of a 2-4-3 fertilizer will supply all the plant food needed for the average crop of sweet potatoes.

Sweet potato growers in Maryland and Virginia find good results with 1000 to 1500 pounds per acre of a 2-8-10 mixture especially when clover appears in the rotation. Some growers prefer a 3-8-5 formula or 4-8-4 but on the lighter soils a larger proportion of potash seems to give better results. Many growers are convinced that the keeping qualities of the potatoes are weakened or lessened when a fertilizer with a high potash is used.

No definite experiment or work has ever proved this fact but in some sections nine out of every ten growers are convinced in their own mind at least that this fact is true.

The fertilizer should be applied some time before the plants are set.
Injury to plants is very often caused by the soluble salts in the fertilizer, especially kainit, manure salts, etc., when applied in large amounts. The fertilizer may be applied broadcast or in the drill or hill. Many growers break the land in the fall and apply the manure, if any is used, at this time. About ten days before the plants are to be set the rows are marked off, split open, fertilizer applied and rows run up. A one row fertilizer distributor is very often used as well as several other methods.

It is necessary, at times, with certain rotations and with soil poor in organic matter to apply manure. If manure is applied it should be well rotted or applied early enough so that it may be well worked into the soil before the plants are set. Some growers prefer to apply the manure to the the preceding crop while others get it onto, or into, the ground in the winter or very early spring.

Much experimental work has been carried on in respect to broadcasting the manure as compared to applying it in the hill or drill. Work in Illinois at the end of five years showed a yield of 9 bushels more per acre where manure was applied in the furrow but this increased yield removed 184 pounds of plant food from the soil to 162 pounds for the smaller yield.
In Maryland, on the Eastern Shore, 10 tons of manure applied broadcast produced 275 bushels per acre while only 250 bushels resulted when 20 tons of manure was applied in the hill. Another case where 6 tons of manure was used supplemented with 300 pounds of acid phosphate produced 280-5-8 bushels of potatoes per acre while 12 tons of manure yielded 422 bushels.

MOths BOTHERSOME

The most serious outbreak of the cotton leafworm that has occurred for several years is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture
this year throughout the Cotton Belt.
Northern flights of the moths brought them into New England and the Lake region during the first half of September, where the moths damaged fruit, especially peaches, by feeding.
In Massachusetts the moths were reported so thick that they covered show windows, automobile wind shields, life lights, and in Rhode Island they were similarly noted.

NEW ZEALAND BUTTER RATES VERY HIGH

Two thousand four hundred tons of butter, with an average grade of 93.98 points, is the record of the New Zealand Cooperative Dairy Co. for the year ended March 31, 1923, according to a consular report to the United States Department of Agriculture.
During six months in the height of the season all butter made was graded superfine, with the exception of 63 boxes which were graded first class.
The top score was 94.46. The high quality is due to scientific production methods by farmers, an educational campaign conducted by the company's instructors, and the practice of a rigid system of grading.

CROMAR READY FINISHED OAK FLOORING

Substantiality—

—that's an awfully long word, but you know what it means—substantial, solid, genuine, fine. And hardwood floors express just that. A room is transformed—completely—when a hardwood floor is laid right over the "warpy" softwood boards.
Since CROMAR was invented you refloor a room a day—actually.
And the cost? Less per room than with ordinary hardwood floors.

It's because CROMAR is filled, varnished and waxed at the factory. No hand-finishing after the laying—no days and days of waiting for scraping, finishing, drying.

There are so many other advantages in CROMAR—won't you get in touch with your Retail Lumber Dealer today? And write us for complete information—we'll mail it at once.

The Crooks-Dittmar Company
Williamsport, Pa.

We recommend and sell CROMAR Ready Finished Oak Flooring—because—
It beautifies the home. It adds property value. And, it is more quickly, conveniently and economically installed than other hardwood floors.
Let us send samples and manufacturer's descriptive booklets of the only ready finished hardwood flooring made.

HALLOWE'EN OBSERVANCE COMES OFF WITH BUT LITTLE DISORDER

Although Thousands in Center Of City Have Gála Time Peacefully Celebrating, Negro Is Shot at "Famous" Willard Auditorium—Co. "I" And "Y" Affair, Features

Hallowe'en in Salisbury last Wednesday night was marked with the usual good order prevalent, now for several years. Although several thousand masked revelers paraded the streets, the crowds were orderly and no disorders in the form of rowdiness were reported to the police.

As early as five o'clock in the afternoon, Main street from Division to Dock, was roped off and no vehicles allowed to come into that space. This section was entirely given over to the merry-makers and was the scene, from seven o'clock until eleven, of one of the gayest street carnivals ever witnessed here.

Indeed the hilarity reminded one of the famous Mardi Gras at New Orleans as confetti was dashed promiscuously thru the atmosphere and the masked members vied with one another to draw from the crowds lining the sidewalks approval of their ludicrous antics and capers.

From the tiny tot to the grown-up of many summers, the crowd was made up. Ghosts, "Ku Kluxes", "Cullud Gents", Indians, clowns and other makeups were represented and one masquerader actually attempted costuming as the late "Isiah Reed".

At the evening procession, many wended their way to the First Regiment Armory. Here the Dance Committee, headed by Milton Holden, put on for that outfit amidst the background of a most alluring Hallowe'en setting with its characteristic complement of autumn leaves, foder stalks, pumpkins, etc. one of the most enjoyable dances of many seasons.

Music for this affair was furnished by the "Golden Gate Syncopaters", a jazz orchestra which has made a decided hit in this section. About 85 couples tripped the light fantastic toe. Several persons, picked at random from the onlookers, adjudged Miss Hilda Holden as being the best costumed and Mr. Harris Riggins as second best. Each was presented with boxes of candy. Mr. Riggins was made up as a egypt and Miss Holden as a Colonial maiden.

At the Y.M.C.A. where invitation was by card, an entertainment was staged for the members and their friends. This consisted of health drills and games, class mat work by both boys and girls, fancy wand drill by the Young Ladies Class, Demonstration of apparatus uses with Miss Rosella Todd leading the girls in spring board work. G. W. Duffy, Physical Work Director, the boys in horse work and Morris Cantwell, the horizontal bar work.

After some specials by the gym team, building of pyramids and the showing of a one-reel comedy, the masqueraders paraded around the floor to be reviewed in competition for the prizes offered. The judges were: Dr. Charles T. Fisher, Arthur Everett Williams and Miss Laura Wallis.

For the prettiest individual costumes, Miss Mildred Fisher, gowning as a Egyptian Princess, won first prize, a silver Everharp pencil; George Tilghman, as "Robin Hood", took second place. Claude C. Dorman and Edward Davis, as the Sheik and his wife, were each presented a box of candy as the best looking couple. Ernest Hillman drew a box of candy as the most comically attired character, he being dressed as a typical "cullud dude". After this part of the entertainment, doughnuts, pretzels and sweet cider were served.

Private parties, in various homes of Salisbury, also took place during the evening. At Wicomico High School, members of the Senior Class or some evidently close friends thereof, climbed upon the roof of that building and in bold, white figures painted "24".

The only blot on the evening's record happened at the "renowned" Willard Auditorium when a negro by the name of Walter Robbins, of near Fruitland, was shot in the ankle. Police have not yet caught the person who did the shooting. Robbins was not badly hurt.

Teams In Wheel Contest For Supremacy On Saturday Evening

Ministers and congregations in each of the six churches represented in the Church Basketball League which opens its season tonight (Thursday) in the "Y" gym are enthusiastically behind their teams and a large attendance is expected when the referee starts the first game at 8 o'clock between Wicomico Presbyterian and Trinity M. E. South.

The present Thursday will have a full evening's entertainment for upon completion of the first set, Asbury meets Bethesda on the same floor. All four of these contests have been usually good material and hard fights are looked for in both engagements.
Intense interest and keen rivalry has developed between the teams. This has been engendered by the offering of the silver loving cup by The News to the winning quintet. Decided benefit is expected to accrue to each of the churches as well as the Y.M.C.A. from this innovation as in order to play on one of the teams, a man must attend Sunday School at least 75 per cent of the Sundays and also hold membership in the "Y". There is no age limit for the players. Games will take place on Thursdays and Saturday nights.

The tentative lineups for the opening games are as follows: TRINITY urday evening at 8 o'clock.

CHILD CLINIC FOR HOSPITAL TO OPEN JANUARY 1, 1924, HOPE OF OFFICIALS

Will Be Designed Along Preventive As Well As Corrective Lines And Should Prove Aid In Combating Infant Mortality—Social Worker Desired

Final plans are being made for the opening of a Child's Clinic at the Peninsula General Hospital. It is hoped that arrangements can be completed during the next few weeks, so that all the new babies born there in 1924 may receive the continuous benefit of hospital care.

Since the Maternity Ward was opened in January 1923, 63 babies have been born at the Hospital. Many of them leave the clean fragrance of the little cradle in which they were first placed and surrender the intelligent attention with which their earliest days were filled to go into homes where there is no regard for personal sanitation or the formation of proper daily habits.

The Clinic is to be established along preventive as well as corrective lines. The professional men and women at its head will stand ready to help the mother ward off approaching troubles and as willingly assist in combating them after they arrive.
The Clinic headquarters are probably to be located in a part of the Childrens Ward, where the young children and babies brought for observation and professional advice can be given faction have been heard since the election concerning the showing of Hon. William S. Gordy, a native son of Wicomico, at his largest majority accorded either of the candidates on the state ticket. Governor Bitchle's majority was 41,122 while Mr. Gordy carried the state by 52,218. Mr. Gordy did not lose but 4 counties in Maryland and one by the narrow margin of 4 votes. He carried every Eastern Shore county in his phenomenal run.

CELEBRATE THEIR 33RD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen, Spring Surprise Upon Their Guests On Monday Evening This Week

On Monday evening of this week,
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen, of near town, invited some thirty people over to their home for the evening. After all the guests had arrived, a surprise was sprung on the assemblage when, following the putting on the Victrola
the record "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet", the popular couple slowly descended the stairs attired in dress of yesterday, made courtesy bows to their guests and proudly announced their 33rd wedding anniversary.

After being roundly congratulated by their guests, various games, bridge dominoes, etc., were arranged for.
At a late hour refreshments were served and the visitors departed after one of the most enjoyable and unique social functions many had ever attended. An unusual feature of the affair was that Mr. Allen wore a neck-tie made from a portion of Mrs.
Allen's wedding gown of 1890.

PLANNING A BAND OF 40 INSTRUMENTS

Meeting Called For Wednesday Evening In Chamber Of Commerce Rooms
EXPERT CONDUCTOR
HAS BEEN ENGAGED

Civic And Fraternal Bodies Are Being Asked To Help Maintain Musical Outfit Which Will Be Credit To City—$3,000 Per Year Estimated Budget

Realizing that every wide-awake, progressive community has a first-class band, and feeling assured that Salisbury would be greatly benefited by such, prime movers in such a project here have this week secured the services of Prof. W. H. Gibbons, a competent, capable and experienced band director.

A meeting was scheduled for Wednesday evening, November 14th, at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of calling together members of the present musical outfit and those vitally interested in the project for the purpose of organizing and taking such steps as are necessary to insure Salisbury a high class musical organization.

The following organizations will be asked to help support the proposed band: Wicomico Women's Club, Moore Lodge, Elks Lodge, Odd Fellows Lodge, Lions Club, Rotary Club, and American Legion.
It is estimated that an annual budget of something like $3,000 will be required to support such an organization as is proposed. The tentative plans call for a 40 piece band which would give 12 or more, free concerts each year. The plan would be to ultimately turn the outfit over to the city and have it run as a municipal band if provisions could be made for its maintenance.

Prof. Gibbons, it is understood, will open a studio in Salisbury for the teaching of music. He is said to be in touch with several first-class musicians, in various occupations who would come to Salisbury if they can obtain suitable positions in the local lines.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK THRUOUT THE COUNTY

Wicomico Schools To Observe November 18-24 With Special Programs

PARENTS URGED TO VISIT CLASSROOMS

Where There Exist Parent-Teachers Associations, These Are Requested To Meet During Period—All Communities Will Observe Time As Conditions Warrant

Educational Week will be observed throughout America from November 18th to 24th. The national idea is to stimulate the public generally, with an interest and understanding of the organization and working system of the schools. Although there is a program prepared by the National Committee each community and State will emphasize the matters thought most important in that locality and mould the plans for the week accordingly.

In Wicomico county two things will be regarded as particularly important. In the first place the parents are urged to visit the schools while in session and to see how the classes are conducted and what the children are doing for their work. The second matter considered in the request that all Parent-Teachers Associations meet during Educational Week. In schools where no association exists it is hoped that one will be formed.

The teachers in the county whether in High Schools or in a one-room district school are asked to select three of the suggestions prepared in the National leaflet and to work them out in their class. This of course will bring a varied assortment of entertainments, drills, plays, posters, parents, essays, speeches and parades as represented by the different type of school and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Phelps, of Phillipsburg, Pennsylvania, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Todd Park Street.

NUMBER 13 PROVES A HOODOO TO CHATHAM

James Chatham, defeated Republican candidate for sheriff in the election last Tuesday, has just cause, it seems, if he is superstitiously inclined to attribute his defeat to being "jinxed."
"Jim" was the 13th voter to cast a ballot in Camden District which is No. 13, and the results show that he carried the precinct by just 13 votes.

Leave Machine Of Delmar Citizen On William Street Near Spot From Which It Was Taken Sunday

A car which was stolen from in front of the residence of W. B. Miller on Sunday evening last was restored to the owner, J. J. Dean, Delmar, on Tuesday afternoon by the police.

The car was found parked on William street near the spot from which it was taken, a resident of that neighborhood having seen two boys abandon the machine about 7 P. M., Monday.

lead, it is believed, to the arrest of the two boys very shortly.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE MAKING GOOD WITH "Y"

W. B. Covington, Now In Florence,
S. C., Has Tenth Largest Of All Railroad Assns. In America

The Florence Daily Times, Florence,
S. C., in a recent issue has the following to say regarding the work of the railroad Y.M.C.A. in that city. The General Secretary is W. B. Covington, for several years a resident of Salisbury where he was a member of the office force of E. S. Adkins & Co.
He was also former Commander of Wicomico Post, No. 64, American Legion here.

"The local city-railroad membership went over last night with colors flying and a total of 1,254 members, making it the second largest in South Carolina and tenth largest of all railroad associations in America. It has proved a fine spirit of co-operation and just what can be accomplished by the Florence people when they band themselves together. Secretary Covington states this morning that there are no words which he could use to express his gratitude for the fine support given the cause."

7:30 P. M., in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. At that time a member

State Police Warning Many Local Autoists

Minor Infractions Of Law Drawing Reprimands Upon First Offenses—
Markers And Headlights Lead

A number of warnings have been given by the State Police to local people recently concerning technical violations of the motor vehicle law, especially as regards obscure tags, muddy markers, illegal lenses, no glare in headlights, etc.
The News wishes to call citizens attention to these matters which may easily be rectified without much expense to auto owners, but which, if persistently carried on, will mean a penalty to the violators.

Several From Here To See Gridiron Contest

St. Johns And Western Maryland
Elvons Meet In Maryland Capital
Next Saturday Afternoon

On Saturday next Western Maryland College will meet Saint John's College in what promises to be one of the best games of the Maryland collegiate football season. The game will be played on Saint John's field expected that it will attract a large percentage of the Eastern Shore alumni of these two schools. Among those who expect to go from Salisbury are: Miss Minnie Adkins, Messrs. Harry and Samuel Adkins,

R. Edwin Whitmore and Alfred T.
Truitt.

Interest in collegiate football has increased by leaps and bounds within the last few years and each Saturday games now scheduled in Maryland are witnessed by scores of Eastern Shore enthusiasts. This is especially true of the games played in Baltimore and Chesertown.

Street Window

The regular monthly meeting of Wicomico Post, No. 64, American Legion, was held in the rooms on Friday evening last with a representative gathering present. The most important business taken up was the selection of officers for the ensuing year, the balloting for which resulted as follows:

Post Commander, Alfred T. Truitt;
Adjutant, R. S. Noor; Treasurer,
Howard H. Kuerst; Chaplain,
Dr. Henry F. Elmore; Sergeant at Arms, M. W. Bounds; Historian, the Commander, Adjutant and Treasurer.

Plans were discussed extensively for a membership drive and the following committee was appointed: A.
T. Grier, M. W. Bounds and V. T.
Gray. A committee meeting was scheduled for Wednesday night to map out plans for the securing of new members.

A progressive year's work for the post is looked for under the regime of the new commander, who up until several months ago served efficiently as Adjutant for the State of Maryland and is consequently well versed in the workings of the organization.
After the business session, the

Heavy Thunderstorm Here Monday Morning

Electrical Disturbances This Late In The Fall Extremely Rare In This Part Of The Country

Salisbury was visited by what was perhaps the heaviest November thunder storm in fifty years on Monday morning between nine and ten o'clock.
Following a regular deluge of rain the storm, which was severe, lasted the greater part of an hour.

According to some of the older residents of the city nothing like this has been known here before, at this season.

WICOMICO NIMRODS OUT IN FORCE SATURDAY AS "OPEN SEASON" IS IDEALLY USHERED IN Several Report Good Bags And Huntersmen Are Looking Forward To Season Of Great Sport—1525 Eligible To Pursue Game In County This Year

"Open season" for the principal game hunted in Wicomico county came in on Saturday morning last and hundreds of gunners, with their firearms oiled and polished after an enforced idleness of several months, wended their way ere day to the fields and forests in this territory where partridges and rabbits abound in order to get first cracks at the game.
Although some returned almost empty handed, several reported bag limits on opening day. The day dawned ideally clear, frosty and with just the chill to the atmosphere to make tramping across hill and vale a pleasure.

Licenses issued at the office of Clerk of the Court, J. Clayton Kelly here this year exceed those of 1922.
Those made out up until 11 A. M. on Saturday were: county 1218, resident state 193 and non-resident 14.
Among Salisbury gunners out to get a "first crack" at the game were:
Willis C. Taylor, Emory L. Leonard, Curtis W. Long, Benjamin A. Johnson, S. Franklin Woodcock, Guy Long, T. Ray Disharoon, Ernest Wan-dar, J. Walter Breckington, D. J.
Ward, Austin Moore, L. C. Niblett,
R. Fulton Walker and others.

The old hunting instinct may be dormant the rest of the year, but there is something in these crisp, cool days that forces it wide-awake. A killing puts it, sportsman hear the red gods call.

Short Pulpit Talks Sunday Will Usher In Annual Mem- bership Appeal

DISTRICT WORKERS ARE SELECTED BY CHAIRMAN

Salisbury And County Will Be Canvassed Thoroughly During Intensive Drive That Promises To Eclipse
Last Year's Total Of $1,112—American People Answer National Call

Everything is in readiness for the Red Cross Roll Call drive in Wicomico county and the drive will get under way on next Sunday with the ministers in the various pulpits throughout the city and county firing the opening gun in what promises to be one of the most intensive campaigns in local circles. Miss Frances Price, chairman of the Red Cross financial appeal, has about completed her organization plans and the workers in the many districts have been selected and given the word to go ahead with the enrolling of Red Cross members during the week of November 18th to 24th.

Last year the annual roll call drive netted the neat sum of $1,112 and it is the purpose and ambition of the workers this year to eclipse this record and return to the coffers of the treasury a much larger sum. The officials of the local chapter are very optimistic at this time and predict that the response of the people will be greater than ever before. Miss Price is zealously engaged in her preliminary work and has named a corps of assistants whom she expects to take a hand in the drive with unflin-ing effort and with a spirit of accomplishment that cannot be denied.

All over the nation today, forces of the American Red Cross are energetically engaged in the annual membership drive and success is being met with on every hand because the people everywhere are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement, recognizing as they do the full significance of the worthy cause to which they are being asked to subscribe. Though the drive is a national one, not all of the funds secured go to national headquarters but the local divisions of the women volunteers remain in the local community to be used as the home office deems best. Only fifty cents of each membership subscription is forwarded to national headquarters and in this county a goodly sum of the entire amount raised in the present drive

PROTECTION IS SOUGHT FOR GAME THIS WINTER

Deputy Warden Bedworth Asked To Call On Farmers In Wicomico To Provide Shelter And Feed

Special efforts to preserve game have been undertaken by the game division of the State Conservation Department. A circular letter was received this week by Deputy Game Warden, Wade H. Bedworth, advising him to call all farmers in regard to the matter of game preservation from E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden.

In his letter Mr. LeCompte asked the warden to request farmers "to establish somewhere on their property a cover, built of cornstalks or other material, which will suffice as a good resting and feeding place for game" during the winter months.
"If they will agree to scatter feed for the game during the crucial periods throughout the winter months," the letter says, "the State game division will be only too glad to reimburse them."

The season for partridge (quail), pheasant, woodcock, rabbit and quail key and squirrel began Saturday. It will close January 1, 1924.

SHO' LEAGUE MOGULS MEET IN SALISBURY

Matters Of Vast Import To Baseball's Future On Peninsula Coming Up

MAKEUP OF WHEEL THE FIRST CONSIDERATION

Selection Of President, Salary Limit, Safeguard, Protection Of Clubs In Case Of Withdrawals And Other Matters Must Be Threshed Out—Easton Men Invited

When the Shore League moguls convene in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, this city, this afternoon (Thursday) at 3 o'clock, matters of vital importance to the future of the circuit are to be taken up.

First and foremost will be the matter of the makeup of the wheel the coming season. It is rumored that one of the six clubs which finished the season is to drop out. If this happens it is more than likely that Easton, if she so desires, will be asked to come into the ranks of organized baseball.

Another matter will be the selection of a guiding head for the coming season. President Thawley, it is said, does not care for the post another season although he will have back of him some enthusiastic support if he allows his name to be used.

W. B. Miller, vice-president, it is said will be strongly urged to accept the presidency this year as there are those who recognize that by his able and businesslike administration the first season, organized baseball obtained a firm foothold in this section. Mr. Miller, it is rumored, does not desire the place and will reject proffered support on his behalf.

Another man being prominently mentioned for the place is William M. Hope, league director who represents Dover. There are those who say that Mr. Hope is to be found presidential timber of marked capability.

A matter of the most vital import is that of getting a ruling thru which will protect remaining clubs financially in event of a recurrence of an affair like the Milford episode of this season. It is likely that the posting of a forfeit to safeguard interests of clubs which stick will be agreed upon.

Another matter which must be firmly insisted upon by those running baseball on a class D basis is the strict enforcement of the ruling pertaining to salary limits. Those experienced in baseball of the calibre played down here assert that nothing will run a small league on the rocks quicker than allowing any laxity on the part of those supposed to enforce its provision. Neither fear nor favor should be allowed to swerve an official in prosecuting a matter of this kind to the limit.

The league director from each of the six clubs: Cambridge, Salisbury, Crisfield, Parkside, Laurel and Dover, with four of his associates, as well as the delegation invited over from Easton, will be guests of vice-president Walter B. Miller, at dinner in the Blue Bird Tea Room at 6 P. M.

CONDUCTOR LOSES LEG AS RESULT ACCIDENT

Steve Quillen, Ocean City, Falls From Roof Of Cars At Mardela On Thursday Last

Stephen J. Quillen, a freight conductor, on the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway, well known in this city, was seriously hurt shortly before noon on Thursday last when he fell from a westbound freight at Mardela Springs, this county.

While stepping across the space between two cars, Quillen lost his balance and fell to the ground. The train was proceeding onto a sidetrack to allow the passage of an eastbound passenger train when the accident happened and the conductor was not missed for several minutes. When his disappearance was noted, other trainmen instituted a search but failed to discover his whereabouts, and the trainmaster's office here was notified.

Shortly after this Rev. A. H. Green and M. E. Hansen reported to the station agent at Mardela that they had seen a man fall from the top of a train of cars. The train crew proceeded to the spot designated and found Quillen lying alongside the track with both legs broken.

He was rushed to the Peninsula General Hospital here by Marion Nelson, where it was found that a bone in his right leg had protruded thru the skin to such an extent that to save probability of blood poisoning, the member would have to be amputated just above the ankle. The operation was performed by Dr. J. McF. Dick.

Quillen's home is in Ocean City. He is one of the oldest trainmen in the service of the company. John Sinclair, Claiborne, another member of the same crew is also confined in the hospital here recovering from an injury sustained to his foot in the yards here recently.

Illustrated Lecture On National Parks
By C. D. Williamson, Department Of The Interior, Proves Both Entertaining And Instructive—Music By Two Quartettes

The annual Ladies Night of the Rotary Club took place last Thursday evening in the social hall of Bethesda
M. P. Church. There were about 150 present which include the wives and friends of the Rotarians.

A feature of the evening was an illustrated lecture on "Some of my Impressions of some of the National Parks", by Dr. C. D. Williamson, of Los Angeles, California. Dr. Wil-lamson is a special lecturer for the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior in co-operation with the Western Photographic Bureau of California.

Some friendly competition indulged in afforded those present high grade musical numbers. A quartette of Rotarians, Messrs. F. P. Adkins, W. A.
Sheppard, A. E. Williams and C. M.
Freeman, vied with four "Rotary Anns", Messdames E. D. Gries, E.
Homer White, F. P. Adkins and O. E.
Wilkins, for the honors. Duly appointed judges designated the ladies winners.

The scream of the evening, however was the introduction of Princes Ham-asragya, a celebrated crystal gazer, the role being assumed by "Dave" Dallas. Rotarian Carl Paynter took the part of the spirit.

Some of the skits on those present were as follows:

MEDIUM—I see the form of Graham Gumbly. He seems to be in trouble, what is the matter?

SPIRIT—He is in agony.

M—Why is he in great agony?

S—He is NASHING his teeth and DODGING around because he can't aFORD a car.

M—Dr. Dick, Frank Hill and Parson Boyle, what are they doing together?

S—Why they are the devil's three helpers.

M—Who is that big fellow?

S—That's Dave Dallas.

M—What is he running for?

S—He cheated that last bunch in a land deal.

M—(sniffs) What's that?

S—Billy Tighman.

M—What is the matter with this Walter Sheppard?

S—It looks as though he was getting religion. I saw him at Asbury Church last Sunday.

M—Who is that Everett Williams is talking to?

S—Oscar Morris—he is getting some pointers on how to grow a mustache.

M—Who is that fellow with "luxu-Purnell?

S—Ned Mitchell.

M—What are they doing together?

S—It's a "hair-raising" affair.

A sumptuous supper was served those present by the ladies of the church.

VOTE MADE THURSDAY

Senator-Elect Adkins Gains 4 Making His Majority 41 While A. E. Wil-lams' Vote Is Increased By 100

The Board of Election Supervisors for Wicomico County, sitting as a Board of Canvassers on Thursday last in the Court House, went over the figures submitted from the 18 voting districts in the county in connection with Tuesday's general election.

The nominees were not at all changed although several discrepancies were discovered in the unofficial returns. By the checking up, E. Dale Adkins, Senator-elect, gains four votes, there having been 3934 people who voted for him instead of 3930 as first reported. This makes his majority 41 over Senator Diaharon.

The greatest error found was in the vote of A. E. Williams, for the Legislature. His vote was reported unofficially as 3618 which should have been 3718.

THE PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America.

A proclamation:

The American people from their earliest days, have observed the wise custom of acknowledging each year the bounty with which Divine Providence has favored them. In the beginning, this acknowledgement was a voluntary return of thanks by the community for the fruitfulness of the harvest. Though our mode of life has greatly changed, this custom has always survived.

It has made Thanksgiving Day not only one of the oldest but one of the most characteristic observances of our country. On that day, in home and church, in family and in public gatherings, the whole nation has for generations paid the tribute due from grateful hearts for blessings bestowed.

To center our thought in this way upon the favor which we have been shown has been altogether wise and desirable. It has given opportunity justly to balance the good and the evil which we have experienced. In that we have never failed to find reasons for being grateful to God for a generous preponderance of the good.
Even in the least propitious times, a broad contemplation of our whole position has never failed to disclose overwhelming reasons for thankfulness.

Thus viewing our situation, we have found warrant for a more hopeful and confident attitude toward the future.

In this current year, we now approach the time which has been accepted by custom as most fitting for the calm survey of our estate, and the return of thanks. We shall the more keenly realize our good fortune, if we will, in deep sincerity, give to it due thought and more specially, if we will compare it with that of any other community in the world.

The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them. One was the death of our beloved President Harding, which has been mourned wherever there is a realization of the worth-of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less capacious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country. A little later came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan.
This called forth from the people of the United States a demonstration of deep and human feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidences of our international friendship which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulses of the country.

By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refined.
We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remember the privations others have suffered, and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser, and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must have in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people.
We have been a most blessed people.
We ought to be a most thankful people.

Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby fix and designate Thursday, the Twenty-ninth Day of November, as Thanksgiving Day, and recommend its general observance throughout the land.

It is urged that the people gather in their homes and their usual places of worship, give expression to their gratitude for the benefits and blessings that a gracious Providence has bestowed upon them, and seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed
the great seal of the United States.

Done in the city of Washington, this 6th day of November, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States, the One Hundred and Forty-eighth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS:—Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.—1 Chronicles 16:29.

TEACH YOUTH TODAY.

We live in an age of tremendous activities. Science is bringing many changes in both work and recreation. It is exposing the fallacies in old economic arrangements and forcing new adjustments. The old order is changing. We used to drive five miles for pleasure; now the automobile invites us to go fifty. We speed up. Our streets were laid out amply wide to accommodate the horse and carriage. They are proving too narrow since the gasoline engine made its advent. We have not only sped up, but we have missed up some of the arrangements that are not easily changed. These conditions we accept, subconsciously comprehending the changes, but not consciously analyzing them and reasoning our way to corrections.

The strenuous life may be lived without departing from the simple life. It is possible to meet the complexities of changing orders without losing the appetite for and the rationalizing influence of simple living. But because too few of us find the way to do these things in the face of these amazing changes, we become bewildered by the innovations and yield to these changes without attempt to force these changes to yield to us.

In these new changes youth finds interests. These interests too often lead the youth away from home. We allow the morals of American youth to be torn down. Joy rides are but part of the expression of that unrest that grows out of an eagerness for new found distractions, letting them be masters of us rather than us masters of them.

The spirit of adventure is stimulated by a lighter and more prolific literature that exhibits itself on all our periodicals. These make alluring to the untutored youth the pawnshop's exhibit of firearms.

A disrespect for law creeps in. Because a majority of our States have decreed that sobriety makes for better credits, more savings accounts, better industry, healthier bodies and happier homes, we find the constitution of the United States made the subject of jest by those who insist that "personal liberty" is worth more than any common denominator of good.

Foreigners and shallow-minded jesters who have no conception of communism and no respect for America crack cheap jokes about our country and her laws. Instead of hooting them off the stage, for some strange reason we let them get away with this stuff with a good-natured grin when any other nationality, none of them so perfect as our own, would jump to its feet in protest and call for the arrest of the defamer.

Who takes the pains to eradicate the harm these poor jibes perpetuate? Too often it is left for our fine over-worked and under-paid school teachers and our volunteer Boy Scout executives to foster the holy flame of patriotism in the youthful breast.

Who among us are explaining to our youth the fundamental and unique freedom of America which stands today a towering and unimpeachable ideal toward which we steadily progress?

America is full of parlor bolsheviks and crooked-thinking astigmatic cranks who can see nothing but the ills of the country and lean to the mental processes of the undigested mass of inhabitants to whom America in her generosity has given sanctuary.

We have our faults: bad laws that should be repealed, corrective legislation that should be enacted, but because of this no true American will condemn the whole nor plead for and praise the greatest bandit government the world has ever known, while scoffing and sneering at this country which, with all its faults, is the best and the most generous government man has yet made. Were this not so, why have so many millions of foreign birth of their own free will and wish, and without invitation and encouragement, come to harbor here?

This is a land to be bettered; it is a land to be protected, and the surest protection is to teach the youth to love our flag, to respect our laws and to live nobly within the law, aspiring ever to give us better laws.

HOW TO BUILD UP OUR TOWN

Building a community is everybody's job. The home owner, the landlord, the merchant, the housewife, the minister, the doctor, the school principal, the governing board, the civic societies, the policemen, the firemen—in fact, everyone with a distinct home interest must play his part. The local newspaper is the point of contact through which these various elements must function and express themselves. The home town publication is a mirror of the life of the community, inspiring, suggesting, helping and usually sacrificing a great deal to the general work of upbuilding. It is the concentrated reflection of the home town interest, as opposed to activities in its midst, whose sole aim is to take the home town dollar out of town and attach it to the bank account of some foreign corporation.

The appeal of the foreign corporation for the home town dollar is usually an appeal to cupidity camouflaged as safe and economical buying. For the most part it is made in secret—direct by mail—the circular, the booklet, the disguised mimeographed letter systematically prepared by expert mail salesmen, with the usual "follow ups" destined to extract and carry away to the distant bank account the money of the unthinking. The very secrecy of the appeal is its own condemnation.

It is amazing to note how slow is the average newspaper reader to appreciate the value of frank and open newspaper advertising. Not only in this way is the housewife enabled to learn what the market has to offer, but in the frank open advertisement lies an absolute security from exploitation. Newspaper advertising is the housewife's weekly insurance. The day has passed when the advertiser dare be dishonest. The statements in an advertisement are shouted from the rooftops. They are too easily checked up. They become the guarantee of service and of honest dealing. The direct-by-mail appeal is like the secret whisper passed from ear to ear but without any general publicity that insures complete honesty of statement. As a rule, its underlying principle is sinister. To supplement and become a part of any well-organized campaign it has its value, but standing alone it should arouse suspicion rather than confidence.

ABLE BRITISH STATESMEN.

What makes the United States prosperous? Answer: High wages. Citroen, the greatest French manufacturer of automobiles, says everybody in France ought to have his own automobile. The trouble is: "In America the workman, saving one day's pay per week, can buy an automobile with the money at the end of a year. In France it would take a Frenchman's ENTIRE SALARY for two years."

If you want a good crop, put water and fertilizer on the land. If you want a prosperous country, put good wages in the pockets of those that work.

It all comes back to the big people ten dollars for one.

If you are a radio enthusiast, and understand such things, you will be interested in the latest announcement. A message, receiving its only impulse on this side of the ocean, made the trip of 9,000 miles to Warsaw and back twenty times, a total distance of 360,000 miles. That is almost twice as far as light and electricity travel in one second. It amazes us now. We see it, and work it, and know nothing about it. Some day we'll send messages to outside suns, ending with "please answer," knowing that at 186,000 miles a second the answer will not be back in time for our grand children to read it.

Eugene V. Debs says prison didn't frighten him. Right now he would "hang for an idea." That's noble once in a while, although you must first be sure that your idea is sound. For one man hanged for a good idea, ten thousand have been hanged for ideas thoroughly bad.

If you have a sound idea, don't hang for it. Publish it, repeat it, persuade others to accept it. Voltaire opposed torture of witnesses, breaking every miserable judge in one famous case, after a fight of many years. He defied Frederick the Great and greater powers, and finally died peacefully in his bed, nearly eighty-five years old, rich in money, adored by the people that drew his carriage through the streets. He showed the right way to deal with an idea. That was better than poor John Brown of Harpers Ferry, never living to see anything accomplished.

It takes one kind of ability to "hang" for an idea, and it takes a higher kind to convert or hang those that oppose the idea when it is right.

McAdoo lets it be known that he is in the race for President. Of course he is, being the most conspicuous Democratic candidate.

Hiram Johnson will be in the ring also. This is a free for all, and Hiram Johnson probably can get more votes in Presidential primaries than any other Republican. Albert Lasker will work for Johnson as he did for Harding. He's a first class dynamo.

One of Mr. Ford's secretaries says he wouldn't accept the nomination for the Presidency. But it isn't Liebold, the real secretary, and probably doesn't mean much.

Mr. Ford has his days for Presidential running and his days for forgetting all about it. If the nomination should come on the right day he 3147 would probably take it. Meanwhile he's starting a plant near Philadelphia, to cost twenty or thirty millions and hire a few thousand men at high wages. That's not bad politics.

Bonar Law lies in Westminster Abbey. American tourists fifty years from now will look at his grave and ask: "Who in heaven's name was that?" as they pass on to the place where Pitt and his father, Chatham, lie in the same grave.

Bonar Law's family is pleased. That's what the burial was for.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving memory of my dear husband, Franklin P. Adams, who died two years ago, November 11th 1921.

The month of November again is here, the saddest to me of all the year. But his memory is as dear today, as on the day he passed away. Dear grandfather when we cross the river.

And when we reach the other shore, There we will see and know each other And praise our saviour evermore. By his wife and grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving memory of my dear son, Private Paul C. Howard, who died at Camp Meade, five years ago, November 16th, 1918.

Peaceful may you rest dear Paul. I love to breathe your name, In life I loved you dearly, In death I do the same.

I can see your dear face before me, And still feel your warm hands in mine, The last sweet look you gave me Still lingers in my mind. His loving Mother.

IN MEMORIAM
ROBERTS—In sad and loving remembrance of our dear father, Isaac Williams Roberts, who departed this life one year ago today, November 15th, 1922.

Again the month of November is here, To us the saddest of the year, For one year ago today our dear father suddenly passed away.

Things have altered since you left us dear father, Though on earth you are no more, In memory you are with us As you always were before.

There at the old homestead your graves are dear to us, Over which no willows weep, But underneath the grassy sod, Our dear father and mother sleep.

The roses that are the fairest, The one's most cherished and loved, Are the one's God wants for his garden. So he transplanted our father above. Devoted sons

Harry, Ruthford, Pope.

OFFICIALS OF CHAMBER HERE ON PROGRAM

President Morris and Secretary Freeman Will Have Prominent Parts In Threshing Out Of Farmers' Problems At Frederick Meeting On 28th And 29th

To afford a forum for a free discussion of the problems of farmers, the Western Maryland Chamber of Commerce of which Col. D. John Markey of Frederick is President has called a meeting of business men, farmers and members of the State Legislature and State Senate. This meeting will be held at Frederick on Monday and Tuesday, November 26th and 27th.

By having present the business men, the farmers and the legislators, the Chamber feels that an understanding may be reached and that those points upon which suitable legislation may be planned, will be brought before the meeting.

On Monday there will be a discussion of Civic organizations, followed by a talk by Governor Albert C. Ritchie at the evening session. During the day various committees will be in session forming resolutions to be placed before the assemblies.

Tuesday's session, at which Mr. Omar L. Morris, President of the Salisbury Chamber, is expected to preside, will be given over entirely to the adoption or rejection of the proposed resolutions. The committees will be advised by Mr. Gray Silver, head of the National Farm Bureau and by Dr. T. B. Symons of the University of Maryland.

Mr. Charles M. Freeman, Secretary of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce, will attend the meeting and has been assigned as a subject for a short talk "Who should be members of Civic organizations and Chambers of Commerce."

Proposals to be made by Salisbury's Chamber of Commerce will no doubt be prepared at the meeting to be held in the organizations rooms on Thursday, November 15th, at 8.00 P. M. To this meeting have been invited the State Senator, E. Dale Adkins, and the complete list of representatives in the lower house: Messrs. Marion N. Nelson, A. Everett Williams, Thomas H. Truitt and A. Lee Pollitt. The Senator and all Representatives have been requested to attend the meeting in Frederick.

Health Officials At Delmar Mass Meeting

Prospecta Said To Be Bright For Securing Enactment Measure For Town At Coming Legislature

City Councils of both Maryland and Delaware Divisions of Delmar are reported to have attended a mass meeting held at Delmar on Monday night at which time plans for a city sewer system were discussed.

Prominent among the advisers were Abel Wolman, Chief Engineer of the Maryland State Board of Health, A. E. Goodrich and Wallace M. Spring, Division engineer and resident engineer respectively. Mr. Spring, commenting upon the meeting stated:

"The outlook for the installation of a complete sewer system in Delmar, in the immediate future is very bright. In addition to the sentiment expressed at the meeting on Monday night we have talked with a number of influential citizens and we believe that the coming session of the Legislature will provide the Enactment bill which is necessary."

A hasty review of the water and sewer systems in Salisbury was also made by the Board of Health engineers during their visit to the Eastern Shore.

women of the auxiliary served punch and cake to those present.

Concurrently with the Legion meeting the Women's Auxiliary held their session. One of the matters taken up was the building of the membership in such a manner as to form a truly representative and influential organization. A campaign to be started in the latter days of this month, was agreed upon.

The function of the Legion's Auxiliary is that of helpfulness, helping the Post and helping the community in many Legion Posts it is the Auxiliary which conducts the social and entertainment activities. It is also the Auxiliary which does a great amount of the visitation and welfare work which is required of the organization in other parts of the country, particularly in those sections near the larger government hospitals.

All those who are wives, sisters or mothers of men who died in the service during the late war and the wives and mothers and sisters of members of the American Legion are eligible to membership in the Women's Auxiliary.

The local unit has requested that all those who have relics of any war in which this country has been engaged loan these relics for a few days that they may be used in arranging an attractive exhibit as is possible in one of the Main street store windows. These relics will of course include flags, rifles, ammunition, pistols uniforms, in fact almost any article to which is attached any history relating to wars. The Auxiliary promises that any article loaned to it will be taken care of. Mrs. Robert D. Grier is the unit's president.

drawn the "crahn" of Shore League batteries and much interest will center in the outcome of that team's activities. Brown, of Laurel, is listed as going to Fort Smith.

Salisbury's treasury will be enriched by $1000 as a result of the drawing, the draft price being $500 upon each player. Prior to the draft season, several inquiries from clubs Class AA down to Class C, were received. It is understood that one of the clubs in the International League is dickering for the services of Phifer, local pitcher-outfielder and hitter of unusual ability.

All 12 minor leagues drafted 16 players from circuits of lower classification.

great deal toward lessening the infant mortality. And, what is perhaps equally as important, it can aid in the correction of physical disabilities by taking them early enough to effect a partial if not an entire cure.

In China the physician is paid to keep his client well and when sickness overtakes him the physician's salary is immediately stopped. The idea, on the whole, is an excellent one and much benefit would be gained if the people of Wicomico county adopted somewhat the same sentiment and used the Hospital as a health center rather than a place of last resort in illness.

Wicomico Nimrods Out In Force On Saturday

or four-footed dwellers in the woods or fields, everybody's going hunting. And—Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling? No "fly in the ointment" as earlier in the year! No swarms of black flies or mosquitoes or even gnats to disturb your peace or take the edge off your pleasure.

Ask men why they go hunting! They'll give you many reasons. Some—prosperous business or professional men, probably—will tell you that there's no better preparation for the winter's work than some time spent in the open matching their quickness and wits against those of the game they're hunting. They'll say there's no pep-producer that can compare with the clear air of a brisk Fall day redolent with the tang of the forest or the salt of the bay—that hunting's a real efficiency measure. To bring home a good bag, a man must be on the alert!

Others will declare that now the country and the woods are at the height of their beauty. Many of the trees are still gorgeous in their russet, scarlet and gold panoply of autumn foliage. The landscape on every side presents a panorama in which they delight.

Still others prize most highly—the never-to-be-forgotten thrill of hunting—a pleasure of more material kind; appetizing dishes that are fit for a king; venison, roast duck, quail on toast, stuffed goose, broiled partridge or grouse, rabbit or squirrel pot-pie—yum-yum!

There are most as many reasons given for going hunting as there are hunters, but all agree on one thing; not to go hunting in November is to miss a barrel of fun, to pass up a big part of the joy of life. For a sportsman can enjoy no happier time than a clear, snappy November day tramping the fields behind a pair of good dogs in quest of quail—unless it be going gunning through the brush for grouse or rabbit or the swamp for snipe—especially Jack snipe with that perplexing "cork screw flight," that so often saves them for another day's sport—or waiting in the blind for geese or duck are wary and flying high.

Wildfowl are flying South—and testing the marksmanship of the most experienced gunners. "Br'er Rabbit's" trail leads to real sport. Bob Whites, grouse and their families are apt to whir up from your feet most anywhere out of town. Game is plentiful. Sportsmen's supplies are in great demand, according to local merchants. We have seen many new ideas in the way of sportsmen's equipment. Specially noteworthy—so several sportsmen we have interviewed recently—are the shotgun shells that are the latest work in specialization and standardization. They are loaded—we are told—to a predetermined standard of pattern, penetration and velocity that makes 'em sure to pull down the game.

Ford Four-Door Sedan

$685 b.e., fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price.

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.

WITH SOCCER HONORS OF COUNTY IN GRASP W. H. S. TRAINS HARDER

Now Preparing For Inter-County Competition—Local Backfield Powerful But Line Lacks Punch—Moore, Davis, Price And Other Veterans Show Up Well

By virtue of its win over Mardela High by the decisive score of 8-0 at Soccer here Friday, Wicomico High wins the county championship. With this honor tucked away, Coach Unger is daily pointing his aggregation for the inter-county contests which start soon.

During the course of the county games, the coach was able to pick out the weak spots and upon these is now being concentrated most of the energy.

The weakness at present time, according to those who have followed the eleven this fall, is in the line which does not seem to be able to get down to working with the necessary machine-like precision, although it contains some good material. The backfield, on the other hand, is a bulwark of strength and this, with its able guardian of the goal, is Wicomico's forte.

On the offensive Capt. Moore and W. Insley are showing up exceedingly well. The former has been a member of the team for the past three years, is a good dribbler, fast, and is a peppy leader. Insley, out for soccer the first time this year, has made good with a vengeance, is always in the game fighting and is an especially dependable man on the offensive. Thomas Parker and Wilkinson, all new men, are lacking in experience which usually comes only after a season on the squad although all are putting forth every effort to make good.

Davis and Benson, half backs, are both stars at the game and veterans on the eleven. The former is fast and is a heady and consistent player. His boots in the county contests this year have been placed with uncanny accuracy and have been accountable for many of the scores chalked up by his team mates. Benson is an all-around athlete of unusual ability, uses rare judgment and is a tower of strength being an unusually good dribbler and accurate kicker. McBrierty is a new man but is learning fast. Although light he is an unceasing fighter and always in the game.

Price and Townsend, fullbacks, are veterans of last year's squad. Both rangy, heavy set lads they prove a terror to opposing teams attempting to score. Both are long-distance booters of no mean ability.

Fields, the diminutive guardian of Wicomico's sacred territory has not been called upon much this season to show his mettle. Last year he was ranked by experts as one of the best, if not the leading goal keeper in the state high schools.

Wicomico High also has some promising subs. Following is a list of the twelve players who will be awarded medals by the Public Athletic League of Maryland for winning the county title: Moore, Thomas, Insley, Davis, Price, Fields, Parker, Townsend, McBrierty, Ruark, Benson, Wilkinson.

In 7 county games the local eleven has scored 26 goals against its opponents. The team has won 5, lost 1 and tied 1. Wilkinson with seven goals kicked leads the team while Insley has tallied 6 times. Insley is given the major credit, he having been responsible for the team's tying Sharptown and beating Delmar. He scored in 5 of the 7 games while no other player has scored in more than two. All of Wilkinson's shots were made in the last two games with Mardela, both of which were won by W. H. S. 8-0.

DELMAR WOMAN SAVES HER HUSBAND'S LIFE

Forces Door And Rescues C. A. Shockley Said To Have Attempted Death By Asphyxiation

Chester A. Shockley, an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is reported to have attempted to take his life at his home in Delmar, Sunday morning, by inhaling gas.

Shockley had not been working for several weeks and seemed despondent and in poor health. During the morning his wife missed him and thought she detected the odor of escaping gas. She tried the bathroom door and found it locked. With the assistance of a neighbor an entrance was forced and she found her husband lying unconscious on the floor. A physician was called and the man was soon restored to consciousness. He will recover.

MEMBERS OF HOSPITAL STAFF IN MEETING

Dr. S. Norris Pilchard Resigns As Secretary And Is Succeeded By Dr. H. A. Barnes

The members of the Hospital Staff of the Peninsula General Hospital, met on Monday evening, November 5th, to again discuss the measures necessary to standardize the hospital and place it among the accredited institutions of the State. According to the scale set by the Medical College of Surgeons an accredited hospital is required to hold regular meetings of the staff and to keep a written history of each and every patient coming under its care. These records are filed and kept for reference in case it is necessary for the person to return to that or any other hospital, where by merely looking into the files a correct account of the former treatment received may be found.

Dr. S. Norris Pilchard resigned as secretary of the staff and Dr. H. A. Barnes was elected in his place. Dr. J. McFadden Dick is chairman of the Board.

GARDNER REPRESENTS VIRGINIA SHIPPERS

Local Traffic Man Represented Eastern Shore At Richmond Meeting Last Wednesday

Governor Trinkle of the State of Virginia through the Corporation Commission at Richmond, Va., called a meeting of the shippers throughout the State on October 31st, 1923, at Richmond, Va., to take up the question of rates from Virginia to North Carolina and other southern territory at which time Mr. W. T. Gardner was authorized by the Eastern Shore of Virginia Produce Exchange to be present and also was designated to represent the other shippers of the Eastern Shore.

Governor Trinkle and Alexander Forward, Chairman of the Virginia

Corporation commission outlined to the shippers that the State of Virginia had always enjoyed a separate and distinct rate adjustment to and from the Virginia cities as well as other points within the State. On interstate traffic it seems however that the carriers now are trying to throw this State into what is known as the South Eastern rate territory. If that can be one it would mean a heavy increase in the rates. The Virginia State Corporation Commission has made a thorough study of the rate situation and arrived at the conclusion that any change in the present rate structure would be unreasonable and not justified. Therefore, they have agreed to prepare and file with the Interstate Commerce Commission their case and use their office as well as the General Council to prosecute the case provided ed the shippers will agree to furnish the data and appear at Washington, D. C., and submit the facts and give testimony.

There was present 150 to 200 business representatives throughout the State and they were unanimous in their opinion that this fight should be made and that all shippers would assist in every way possible in restoring the old rate adjustment, which covers the entire State of Virginia and will, of course, affect the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Maryland, which will be taken care of by Mr. Gardner.

BEAUTY TALKS I'll say it does By MAGNETIC MABLE

The Ladies' Harpooners Society of our church is giving a doughnut dinner to be followed by a beauty contest in which most of the girls of our town are entered. My sisters say I haven't got a Chinaman's chance as I have ingrowing eyes, but I think she is jealous and fears rivalry. If I had sister Annie's face and sister Maggie's figure I'd be twice as good looking as either of them.

I read advertisements every day that say beauty secrets will be revealed for 6c. Do you think it possible to become beautiful for 6c? Are cancelled stamps accepted?

Cassandra.
Dear Cassandra:
Certainly! And as proof, read the following testimonial from just such an embryonic beauty as yourself.

"I've tried every way to be lovely. Lots of dames have no trouble at all: And, although I was born with a face like a plate,

I won't let them push me to the wall. I'll buy all the Sunday editions I see. An', accordin' to them, it's quite plain That you've only to buy something sealed in a pot.

The most ravishing beauty to gain.

"There's a contest for beauty I'm going in for; I've got as much chance, I am sure. As Perry Joyce Hopkins, or any one else. If I buy the right stuff at the store. They've got a soft paste for a flat-chested dame.

If you've too much chest they'll make it shrink; If your face is too red, Antipink makes it white; If too white, Antipale makes it pink.

THE BLIND MAY "SEE" BY SOUND

Machine Has Been Invented Which Will Enable The Sightless To Read By Ear—Photophone And Optophone To Play Important Parts In Future

This year, for the first time, the meetings of the British Association are being supplemented by a scientific exhibition, which was formally opened in the Central Technical School, Liverpool, recently, by Prof. Sir Charles Sherrington, president of the Royal Society, and retiring president of the association. It is open to the public as well as to members of the association, says the Manchester Guardian, in describing the affair, and, although almost entirely of a technical character, contains much that will interest folk of all ages who venture to immerse themselves more or less in the shallows of scientific recreation. Users of the microscope, for example, will be attracted to the results of some of the researches of the microscopical department of the Lancashire and Cheshire Coal Research Association, which is just now concerning itself with methods of determining the value of utilization of coal seams, the ingredients of inflammable dust and the initial cause of spontaneous combustion, close followers of the weather prophets are afforded an insight into the way in which weather forecasts are daily made in the meteorological office in London; and even those enthusiasts who know all that is to be known about "wireless" may have their eyelids stretched a little by one or two pieces of apparatus—notably, Prof. A. O. Rankine's invention, which he has named the photophone.

The photophone, in fact threatens to claim, with one other instrument, an inordinate share of the attention of all kinds of visitors to the exhibition. With its aid the spoken word and musical and other sounds are carried from one point to another by means of a beam of light instead of by the electric waves of the wireless telephone. The beam may be either from an ordinary electric lamp or projected by a mirror from direct rays of the sun. In passing through the transmitter the sound vibrations modulate the intensity of the beam, and these fluctuations, through the medium of the selenium cell, battery and telephone of the receiver, are re-transformed into the sounds which produced them.

For the purpose of his demonstrations Professor Rankine has installed his transmitter in the St. George's Hall, and the receiver, to which a "loud speaker" is attached, in one of the rooms of the exhibition some hundreds of yards away. The invention is one of the many wonders of wartime research and was intended for use by the Admiralty. Its advantage over ordinary wireless in naval encounters would be that even if he possessed a similar instrument an enemy could only intercept message by getting within the narrow sphere of the beam of light, when, of course, the transmitter would take a rest.

The other instrument referred to may ultimately prove a great boon to mankind. The optophone, which, we are told, was invented by Dr. E. E. Fournier d'Albe, of London, and has been modified and developed by Messrs. Barr and Stroud, Ltd., of Glasgow, enables the blind to read books, newspapers and all other ordinary printed matter. Here also, the remarkable properties of selenium are brought into play. In the optophone a selenium bridge is exposed to successions of sets of light pulsations which vary according to the forms of the letters they pass over, and in the telephone receiver the letters are indicated by the characteristic musical notes and pulses of a sound alphabet, which, we are assured, can be readily learned.

Sir Charles Sherrington, in opening the exhibition, said that one thought which would appeal to most of the visitors was that it eminently exemplified the saying of historians that man was a tool-using animal and the complexity and refinement to which tools had been brought in the service of natural science.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

The Christian spirit with its transforming power must be breathed into the business life of the country by Christian men. Jesus Christ must be given a place in the chambers of commerce. Men in business must be made conscious of His sovereign right to enter and impact the business life of the country. He is not indifferent to our business woes, our personal problems or our social sorrows. He is not so far away that He has neither interest nor influence. He is living, He is the aggressive power working for righteousness in the life of every Christian business man. He demands personal righteousness—the righteousness of personality, of character and of conduct.

It is impossible to build a commercial organization on a permanent foundation without Jesus Christ. The time has come for business men to recognize the fact that they must glorify God in the making of money and the transaction of the common affairs of life must be acts of worship performed with an eye single to the glory of God.

The chamber of commerce is not the temple of mammon. It should be the seat of operations of Christian men who fear God and whose acts will square with His standard of righteousness. Under these conditions trade will become holy commerce, receiving the benedictions of God.

Men have been trying to run business under the dictation of politics, by the rule of Congress, rather than by the dictation of the Holy Ghost and by the rule of conscience, enlightened by Jesus Christ. We need more conscience and less Congress; we need more Christ and less mammon in business.

The spiritual powers have developed America, not the material forces. Mammon worship leads to death. Christ gives life, and progress and happiness.

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Salisbury women.

Mrs. William E. Wells, 410 Martin Street, Salisbury, says: "I was feeling badly for some time before using Doan's Kidney Pills. I was in a weak condition and everything I did was a burden to me. Rheumatic pains shot through my shoulders causing me a great deal of pain. My head ached nearly all the time and I had constant dizzy spells. I tried different remedies but got no relief until I took Doan's Kidney Pills. After using one box of Doan's I was much better and they entirely relieved the trouble. I have had no return of it and gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."—Advt.

GIVE THIS A THOUGHT

Americans would do well to pause and reflect on the importance of a recent news announcement having to do with the program of the American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is president.

This organization, which is a merger of the American Child Hygiene Association and the Child Health Organization of America, purposes to conduct a health education campaign throughout this country, in an effort to lessen the unnecessary waste of infant lives and to rebuild undernourished bodies. The statistics accompanying the announcement are startling. Two hundred thousand babies die in infancy each year and 20,000 mothers die from causes connected with childbirth. In addition we are told that millions of our school children suffer from more or less serious defects ranging from dental troubles to malnutrition and heart disease. And the added comment is made that at least half of the deaths could be prevented and virtually all of the undernourishment could be eradicated.

In taking over the presidency of the amalgamated associations Mr. Hoover brings to it the vast administrative experience his own organization—the American Relief Administration—has acquired during the years of its service to suffering children in Europe. What beneficial effect this combination of forces will have on our own boys and girls can not even be imagined, but it is a certainty that the next generation will profit immensely thereby. The Association deserves the loyal support of every American in its now work.

The Tie That Binds

THE UNITED STATES is a nation of far reaching relationships. Urged onward by new opportunities in a land of boundless resources, families have separated more than in any other land. Few men live where their fathers or grandfathers lived. Domestic ties stretch between communities widely scattered.

Commerce and industry, too, have the same spread of interests.

Though the nation is a federation of states, their boundaries form no barriers to trade. In business and social life, as well as in government, the nation has become a great community.

Hence there is a natural demand for telephone service that has no narrower boundaries than those of the country itself. Such a nation-wide service can be given only through an organization having a uniform policy by means of which all its distant activities can be joined together.

The Bell System provides such a service to meet the needs of a united people.

Synopsis Of Preceding Chapters.

Brought north to the home of her aunt, by the will of her grandfather, Winfred Carroll, age eleven, is to be separated from her widowed mother until she is eighteen, with the choice of inheriting a fortune or going back to her old home at the end of that time. When she has been at "Dawn-hill" a week she meets a friend of her aunt, Mrs. Duncan, also her two sons, Steven and Heath. The former she admires very much. At the home of Florence Kaler, a year later, Winnie meets the two boys.

PART II

The October rain came down in a fine drizzle and the first fall of leaves lay like stars flattened out on the wet pavement. Behind the wall of pine trees the dull sky looked wheezy, and resembled the parched skin of an old man addicted to coughing. Winnie, from the front steps of Florence Kaler's little house, stood gazing up at the leaden heavens.

Florence from the doorway held out a rain coat. "Put this on, dear," she said, "It will keep you dry, at any rate, until you get home."

"Oh! I shall be perfectly all right," Winnie slapped the shining leather of her riding boots with her crop. "I don't mind the rain and this habit is weather proof."

Florence came forward, insistent, and placed the coat about the girl's shoulders. "You must take it, Winnie," she urged, "If you will leave in this downpour."

"Fodder, you treat me like a baby and I am an adolescent," Winnie retorted. "It never hurts me." Nevertheless Winnie allowed the coat to remain about her and even slipped her arms thru its sleeves. Florence's eyes rested upon her in open admiration as she flung back her head with its short crop of tawny colored hair curling around the oval of her face and contrasting with the dark, finely arched brows above the brown eyes.

"I am going to meet Amy Leigh at Mrs. Duncan's. She has asked us to come in for tea. You know the boys are coming home over the next week end and she wants to plan some parties for them."

"It doesn't seem possible that you children are almost grown," Florence mused. "It was only yesterday that you all came to my house and drank orangeade. I am glad to hear that the Duncan boys are to be here when Robert arrives. Of course, he is older than they are, but I believe he will like them."

"He couldn't help it," said Winnie, "every one does, and Mrs. Duncan, too, is a dear. I wonder what Robert will say about us. I am crazy to see him. He seems a sort of relation—or something—being your nephew."

"I want to see him, myself. It has been four years since I left London. His mother had just died, you remember, and Robert was in his first year at Oxford. I did long to bring him home with me but his grandmother clung to him and as she was all alone, after the death of her daughter, Robert would not leave her."

"Now that she is dead, Flossie, and he is thru college do you suppose he will live in America?"

"I do not know, Robert has inherited a considerable estate from his grandmother, Lester and I imagine all his interests are centered in England. He has promised to remain with me, however, until the spring."

"I can hardly wait to see him. If he good looking?"

"He was sixteen but I can't say any more." Florence came out to the steps. "Is that Amy Leigh cantering down the road in that wild fashion?"

Winnie turned to survey the figure of horse and rider headed through the rain. The horse was a small sorrel and the girl sat as if moulded in the saddle, her flashing eyes twinkling and her red hair caught up in a band of ribbon. In answer to Winnie's full throated call she pulled into the drive and wheeled about in front of the house.

"Greetings! Miss Kaler and Winnie," she cried, "Isn't this a great old day? I simply love to ride with the rain splashing all over my face."

"You girls worry me," Florence Kaler said, but there was an intonation in the words that made both of them smile up at her, warmly.

"Are you dressed properly, Amy Leigh?"

"Now if ever," replied the girl, "I am practically covered, Miss Kaler, and quite dry and happy."

"Then scurry along and get into shelter at Mrs. Duncan's. Don't stay out of doors."

Winnie flung her arms about Florence Kaler and kissed her. "I am coming back tomorrow," she whispered.

Before the girls had gone a quarter of a mile the rain had ceased and a dull light broke behind the clouds banked in the west. The horses hoofs beat down a regular rhythm upon the macadam road and the wind swept across their faces.

"Isn't this great?" Winnie sang out, "I could ride all day. Its early, too, and Mrs. Duncan won't be expecting us for a while any way, shall we ride to the river?"

"I am ready," and Amy Leigh gave her horse an extra tap as they shot forward, neck to neck.

The road led straight out from the town through the sparsely bordered woodland, now tinted with the faint stains of autumn, russet, red, yellow and brown. A little tea house, flaunting a painted sign, attracted their attention as they passed.

"Shall we stop a moment?" Amy

Leigh asked, "It will be ages before we get back to Mrs. Duncan's, and I could eat a sandwich now and later, too."

Winnie thought the suggestion a notable one as she had often had tea with Mrs. Duncan and knew her usual refreshments did not satisfy their greedy young appetites. So, leaving their horses tied to the porch railing, with a careless disregard for the arrival of possible automobiles, they proceeded to carry out the idea of having tea, there. It was almost an adventure for Winnie, who traveled as a rule under the most strict chaperonage, and she found herself enjoying the importance of being out alone. To her the simplicity of the small room, with its green painted furniture and heavy pottery, was far lovelier than any of the majestic hotels to which Mrs. Grampers frequently took her. She slipped the rain coat over the back of her chair and leaned forward to survey Amy Leigh across the table.

"We have the place all to ourselves," Amy Leigh said, "not even a waitress to take our order. We haven't any time to loose either, because we must be back at Mrs. Duncan's at a quarter to five, for she would never forgive us if we failed to come. Whistle, sing or make some kind of a noise, Winnie, to let these people here know they have guests."

"Suppose I laugh?" Winnie's clear chuckle rose alarmingly high in the silence about them. The effect was immediate, for a girl came forward from some unknown quarter to take their order. She assured them it would be filled within ten minutes, but it was nearer twenty when she served them the tray of sandwiches and gingerale. They spent about ten minutes more in consuming the refreshments and were startled when they looked at their watches and discovered how late it had become. Neither of them were allowed to roam about the country unattended and they each felt the responsibility of this abused liberty and the ultimate outcome of the broken engagement.

"Where is that girl who waited on us, now?" Amy Leigh protested, jumping up from her chair and searching the room with her quick glance. "We must pay our bill and run. Laugh or do something, Winnie, to call her forth again. She seems to have vanished, completely."

"You go look for her, Amy Leigh, while I keep guard, here," Winnie dictated, "She apparently has her sitting station behind that door."

Amy Leigh shrugged her shoulders but she turned to obey. It was then that Winnie saw the sheet of note paper resting on the floor by her chair, where it had evidently dropped from the pocket of the rain coat. Her own name flashed out at her compelling her to closer observation. As she stooped to pick it up her eyes, unconsciously, took in the few lines written upon it. She stood there, with rigid intensity, her fingers closing upon the paper tightly and a puzzled frown creeping across her forehead.

"Dear Florence; (the note began) Everything in Italy is as charming and beautiful as you promised. I wish you could be here too, to enjoy these gorgeous days. Do write me something of Winnie. It seems a long time since I have heard of her. Affectionately, D. S. R."

Who in the world could be writing to Florence Kaler of her? Winnie pondered over this. She had never known anyone with those initials. The paper was of the finest quality and embossed at the top with a small blue crest. The writing was irregular but distinctive. As Amy Leigh came back with the waitress Winnie slid the letter into her coat pocket.

"I do hope Mrs. Duncan isn't going to be provoked with us," she said, as they went out together into the gathering twilight.

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back always ached, so I could not go about my housework, and I had other troubles from weakness. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it and it has done wonders for me. I keep house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. HELEN SEVICK, 2711 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years this same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

Mrs. Sevick is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

A Bath a Day

For six hundred years the Romans used no medicine but the bath. Is that strange? It shouldn't be. The secret is very simple. You see the Romans bathed daily. And people who take a bath a day rarely, if ever, need medicine.

A bath a day keeps the pores of the skin open. This makes it easy for the skin to breathe. Skin-breathing sanitizes the body. Then, too, a bath a day stimulates—exercises—lubricates, you might say—all your internal organs. This stimulation keeps them working as they should.

When the organs are working properly, they are healthy. Healthy organs make a healthy body. And a body that is healthy does not need medicine.

But that isn't all. A healthy body is a builder of beauty, energy, efficiency and happiness.

If you would know the joy of health and beauty—start the bath a day habit. And there is no better time to start than in this month of June.

All you need to make the start is a little will power and a good bathroom. You supply the one, and we will supply the other. Start a bath a day today, keep it up, and the money you have been paying for medicine will pay for a bathroom several times over.

The 1924 Model
Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car
$995

The unprecedented popularity of the Studebaker Light-Six can be traced to the fact that it represents a degree of automobile value that the public has sought for years.

It is built complete in the great Studebaker factories.

By manufacturing complete motors, transmissions, axles, frames, bodies, tops, castings, forgings, and stampings, parts-makers' profits are eliminated from costs, and one profit only is included in Studebaker prices.

Pointed Paragraphs Of Farm Life In Wicomico County

(Personal notes by County Agent Cobb, Miss Florence Mason, Home Demonstration Agent, and Other Eminent Qualified Writers on Local Rural Life.)

Agriculture is the Most Noble Occupation of Mankind—Washington

POULTRY IS NEEDED ON EVERY FARM

So Says Zella Wigent, Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Company—Investment Small, Labor Cost Low and Feed Cheap

Every farmer should raise poultry. Practically every farmer does but many of us do not give poultry raising the attention we should.

Poultry raising nets an annual return in the United States of more than half a billion dollars.

Only a very small part of this vast sum is produced by the commercial poultrymen of the country. Ninety per cent of it is earned by the little, often neglected, flocks on the farms of the country.

Farm poultry is profitable because the investment is small, the cost of the labor needed to take care of them is low, feed is cheap, the chickens utilize the waste products of the farm and destroy weeds and insects.

While poultry are always profitable on a farm, they can be made more profitable if they are given a reasonable amount of care and attention.

The average farm hen produces sixty eggs a year. She should produce 120. Profit depends on surplus production. It takes a certain number of eggs to pay for her board and keep. After that every egg she lays is profit.

Good housing and proper feeding will increase your profit. The housing need not be expensive; it only needs to be comfortable.

A hen will not lay eggs unless she is comfortable and has a reasonable variety of feed.

Handle and market your eggs right. Market the kind of eggs you would want to buy if you were buying them for your table. Have convenient nesting places so the hens will not lay in the grass and woods. Keep the nests clean, gather the eggs daily, keep them in a cool, dry place and market them twice a week.

Improve your flock. Cull out the poor stuff; build up a good flock and eventually keep one breed only.

A good hen house can be built at very little cost. It should not be cold, dark and damp, but it can be made out of any material, just so it is light, clean, cheerful and comfortable.

The poultry house should be close to the other buildings and easy to clean. A low house is hard to work in; a high house is hard to keep clean. Have plenty of light in the house—sunlight is a good germ destroyer.

Leave all or a part of the south side open to keep the house dry and well ventilated. Allow no drafts. Keep the house clean and free from vermin.

If you want winter eggs, duplicate spring conditions. Variety is important in the winter ration. Eggs can not be produced unless the feed contains the material from which eggs are made. An egg is about 10 per cent fat, 15 per cent protein, 74 per cent water and 1 per cent ash, chiefly lime.

Grain, especially corn, furnishes the heat and fat making foods; mill feeds with milk or beef scrap, furnish the protein. Some green food is necessary in the winter time.

Give the hens all the water they will drink; in the winter time warm it if possible. Furnish grit to grind the feed and if possible oyster shell for making the egg shell and charcoal as a aid to digestion.

WICOMICO BULL AN OUTSTANDING FEATURE AT NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW IN NEW YORK

"Upland's Conqueror" Raised By Frank Adkins Now The Property Of Empire State Dairyman, Comes Nigh Being Grand Champion—Owner Has Refused $10,000 Offer

Those persons who attended the National Dairy Show at Syracuse, N. Y., recently are convinced that the possibility of dairying in Wicomico County is as good, if not better, than many of the dairy sections of the north, and if the farmers of the Delmarva Peninsula would avail themselves of the opportunity they now have of developing this industry, this section in the future will rank second to none.

Experts at the show state that although they had seen a good many Guernsey rings, it would likely be sometime before another exhibition of animals on a par with those exhibited there would be exhibited.

"Upland's Conqueror", from Emma Farm, J. C. Penney, New

York, was too well blended an individual for the judges to overlook in the aged bull class. This class was one of the best in years and attracted much interest. This Guernsey bull was raised by Frank Adkins, near Salisbury and was sold at the Timonium Show last year for $4,000. The present owner recently, it is said, refused $10,000 for him.

In all 188 Guernseys were on exhibition at the show. While it was not the largest exhibit it is one which will linger long in the memories of those attending. Size, or lack of size, kept Upland's Conqueror from being grand champion. There were several other outstanding individuals at the dairy show that were raised on the Delmarva Peninsula.

Results have varied as might be expected but the consensus of opinion among growers is that broadcasting the manure is the best method. Arkansas sums up results in these words "it is best to apply manure broadcast but many farmers consider this method too expensive". The United States Department of Agriculture advises that with "level culture or on poor land apply manure broadcast."

Sweet potatoes prefer a neutral or slightly acid soil. Too much lime is said to cause a more rapid spread of the disease known as scurf, soil stain, freckles, etc. Very careful work has been done along the limiting of sweet potatoes on the eastern shore and in practically every case the largest yield and cleanest potatoes were produced on land that was either or slightly acid. By slightly acid is meant a soil that needs but 500 lbs. of burned lime to neutralize the acidity. The amount of lime to apply depends somewhat to local conditions but an application of from 1000 to 2000 pounds once in a three or four years rotation, per acre, should give good results. Especially is this true when growers are using green manures to any extent as the rotting of these crops develop an acid condition. Perhaps the largest yield in the eastern shore section, in 1921, was on land that had received 10 tons of manure in 1920 applied to the crop of that year plus 500 pounds of hydrated oyster shell lime and 1500 lbs. of a 2-8-10 fertilizer mixture.

The methods of cultivating the sweet potato crop is not much different from those of any ordinary farm or garden crop. The first cultivation should be given soon after the plants are set in the field and this should be followed by shallow and frequent cultivations perhaps every week or ten days. The ordinary walking cultivator is the implement most used for this purpose although riding cultivators with a vine turner and weeder are becoming very popular. The vine turner attachment on the walking cultivator which lifts up the vines while the cultivator teeth stir the soil close to the plants. When the vines get rank it is very often necessary to turn them into alternate middles. The vines may be thrown back in each alternate row and the cleared middles cultivated. Then the vines can be placed back in the middles just cultivated and the other middles cultivated. The crop is laid by or receives its final cultivation when the vines get so large that they seriously interfere with cultivation. Grass and weeds that appear after the crop is laid by are removed by hand.

Harvesting may begin any time after the potatoes are mature but often in the case of high prices it may be wise to harvest before maturity, thus securing the high prices although not getting as large a yield as might be expected if they had not been harvested until they were mature. An immature potato is very hard to cure and keep and never reaches its highest quality. Some growers judge maturity by the yellowing of the leaves and a great many others break a potato and observe the surface of the broken parts. If this surface turns white and dries up in a few minutes after the potato is broken the crop should be ready to harvest.

Sweet potatoes are sensitive to frost and should be dug before a heavy frost occurs if possible. It has been generally accepted opinion that if the vines have been killed from frost and it is impossible to dig the crop at once that the vines should be cut away from the potatoes and loose soil be thrown over the rows. The vines are cut away so that the frozen sap may not pass down into the tubers thus tending to cause decay a short time after harvesting. But careful experiments carried out along this line recently have tended to dispel this idea of danger from frosted vines as in several cases no harm resulted from leaving the vines attached even after they had been killed by a heavy frost.

The implements used in digging sweet potatoes varies somewhat with the section and the acreage. These implements range from the spading fork, used on small areas, to the regular sweet potato digger. The ideal sweet potato digger has not been designed as yet and in fact no machine can be recommended that is satisfactory in every case.

In Georgia we find that "the usual method of digging sweet potatoes is to bar off the rows with a 'Bull tongue' or twister plow, just as cotton or corn is customarily barred off when it has gotten 'into the grass'. In this manner the vines are wrapped together in the middles. Then by the use of a 'middle buster' the potatoes are brought to the surface."

A PLAY CORNER IN THE RURAL SCHOOL

How to find profitable occupation for the youngest children between recitation periods is one of the problems of the teacher in the small rural school. Young children soon tire of the busy work material because it does not furnish a real play motive.

This problem has been solved in part by some teachers by setting apart a corner of the room, and, with the help of the older children, equipping it for play purposes. The corner should be screened off so that the children will play freely and not distract the attention of the older ones. It should have seats, a low table, and a set of shelves, all of which can be made by the older children. Its chief value will be to stimulate the children to make toys of their own. With a little help they can make picture books, dolls, doll clothing and furniture, and many other things. Empty spools and boxes, old magazines, seed and flower catalogs, paper napkins, clothes pins, can be used. They will also need paper for folding and cutting, scissors, crayons and paste. Such a play corner gives children just entering school the idea that school is a happy place not a dreary one. For carrying out such projects as those suggested the teacher will find help in a bulletin, "A Kindergarten-First Grade Curriculum" issued by the U. S. Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C. Other help will be found in the circular, "How Kindergarten Makes Americans"—Both will be sent free of charge on request.

Concrete Improvements on the Hog Farm

bring definite returns in healthier, larger hogs; in more pork with less feed, and in greater profits from hog raising. Wallowing pools, feeding floors, drinking troughs, hog houses and such improvements of hard, clean, sanitary concrete do not absorb filth and harbor disease germs. The cost of concrete construction is small when the many advantages are fairly considered. Upkeep cost is practically nothing. Satisfaction and service are greater than with any other building material.

Any farmer can make concrete improvements himself which, if done by outside help, would cost many times the small amount he will spend for materials. Any Security Cement dealer will give you information and furnish Free Blue Prints showing how to build best at least cost.

RECENT STORM AT OCEAN CITY RECALLS TO MANY RAGINGS OF SEA IN YEAR 1865

Concerning That Period, When Resort Was Almost Desolate Island, Story Is Told Of Woman Who Was Washed To Safety Seven Miles Away On Featherbed

Ocean City, located on Sinepuxunt beach, the most easterly shore line of the State of Maryland, has been the scene of a recent visit by a storm that sent the waters of the Atlantic rushing over the board walk, through the city causing some uneasiness and some loss of property. It was soon seen that there was no occasion for alarm and normal conditions were soon resumed. The damage to property was light and no ocean craft were damaged in that section.

The worst storm on record that ever visited this shore was in 1865 when the schooner "Northern" was lost and the entire crew drowned three of whom were from Sharptown, George Rider, father of I. H. Rider, George Knowles, father of W. H. Knowles and a single man Algy Russell. Their bodies washed ashore on Hog Island, south of Ocean City and were buried there. Pieces of vessel also floated ashore on the island.

At that time there were two families living on North Beach, about ten miles south of Ocean City, there were however a number of small houses used for fishermen, but had been vacated. One of the houses was occupied by Captain Samuel Merrick and family, the other by Mrs. Clara Fodders, who was the only person saved from a wrecked vessel, just a few years before. During the night Capt. Merrick was aroused by the water rolling against his house and jumped from his bed to find water knee deep on the floor. He started for the home of Mrs. Fodders to bring her to his home, but found it impossible to reach the house through nearby. He returned and went up stairs, expecting every moment that his house would topple over, but the tide subsided. When the shades of night vanished and a new day dawned upon the beach he saw just in the rear of his chicken house a three mast schooner, high and dry on the sand and the crew walking the deck observing the surroundings. Much of the hull of that ship may be seen to this day. She was never floated, but moved occasionally by the shifting sands of the beach. The only sign of life at the home of Mrs. Fodders was a rooster perched high on a limb of an aspen tree crowing as if to announce the break of day. The house had been moved several feet, lodging against a fence.

Early next morning Dr. Farrow who lived several miles south, saw a white object in the distance on the beach and started at once to make an investigation. On arriving near he found Mrs. Fodders on a large feather-bed and a pet pig with her. She had drifted on that bed seven miles and landed amid the reeds and rushes of the marsh. The Doctor took her home in a small sail boat and she told him of her escape from the approaching flood. As soon as she saw the approaching danger she put her feather bed out and took her pig and allowed herself to drift with the rushing waves—she could do nothing more and was thus saved from a watery grave, on the shore of Rattle Snake Island, now known as Box Iron.

This is the same storm in which Anthony Handone swam from a sea-going barge at Henlopen to notify the coast guards that the barge was in a sinking condition. He delivered the message and started back to the barge, but his strength failed him and he was drowned. His body floated ashore on North Beach. He was nineteen years old and has ever been remembered for his bravery. He was from Italy.

STANDARD IS SET FOR MARYLAND FERTILIZER

Adopted After Meeting Of Officials And Dealers And Is Designed For Economy

Representatives of practically all the fertilizer companies doing business in the State met at College Park with officials of the College and Experiment Station, last week, to discuss with them the station's policy regarding fertilizers and to promulgate a program of joint action in connection with it.

This meeting was one of a series of similar meetings which are being held in all sections of the country in connection with the national campaign for greater efficiency and economy in the manufacture and distribution of fertilizers.

Agronomists and manufacturers have agreed that in the best interests of the farmers, fertilizers containing 14 per cent or less of actual plant food should be withdrawn from the market as rapidly as the consumer demand can be directed to the higher analysis.

The reason is that more concentrated fertilizers permit of economies in manufacturing, bags, handling, transportation and distribution sufficient to effect material savings in case of a substantial tonnage.

The list selected by the Maryland Experiment Station is as follows:

- 7-4-5—Early potatoes and truck crops.
- 6-4-4—Tobacco.
- 6-5-5—Tomatoes and other truck crops.
- 4-4-4—Tomatoes, truck crops, grains on poor soil.
- 5-10-5—Late potatoes, tomatoes, sweet potatoes.
- 3-3-3—Sweet potatoes.
- 3-12-4—Grains: general crops on light loams and sandy soils.
- 2-12-4—Grains on loams and heavier Piedmont and limestone soils.

Outspoken Admiration for New Nash Four Door Coupe

Outspoken admiration has been expressed by those who have seen the new Nash Four Door Coupe which typifies Nash ingenuity in the creation of original body types. Shipments of thirteen models comprising the new Nash line have been going forward now for several weeks and the cars are on display at dealer points throughout the country. Advancements and improvements both in engineering and equipment have been embodied in these new models with no advance in price.

6-12-6—Legumes: heavily manured grass land.
6-10-4—Soybeans, cowpeas; other legumes.
4-12-0—Grain on fertile Piedmont soils.
10-8-0—Top dressings: tobacco plant bed.

Director H. J. Patterson and Dr. A. G. McCall explained the experiment station's interest in the fertilizer business by stating that the station's job is to find out as much as it can regarding the fertilizer needs of Maryland farmers, to help them to get what they need and to obtain the cooperation of fertilizer men in supplying those needs.

CHILD TRAINING AT HOME HOW CHILDREN LEARN BASE OF MANNER

A mother remarked the other day in the course of a conversation on child discipline, "I don't see why it is that my children always act worse when we have guests than at any other time. I'm sure it isn't because they haven't been instructed how to behave."

Now this mother was perfectly sincere in her remarks, yet her own phrasing contains the secret of her distress over her children's behavior. Would a child learn to play the piano by being instructed if he didn't practice playing every day? Yet that mother was expecting just as improbable a performance in behavior. She was stressing the old idea of "company manners," and expecting the children to put on culture just as they put on clothes for the dinner party. And because they didn't she was deeply grieved and disappointed.

The reason why children of this type act worse when there are guests than they do ordinarily is because of strain and nervous tension. In the mother's anxiety to have affairs move smoothly she has held out threats as to what will happen if all the last minute "Don'ts" aren't observed, and the result has been to create an unnatural condition that is confusing and disastrous to polite and courteous behavior. But aside from the mother's embarrassment over slips of etiquette and behavior, this idea of "putting on manners" is very unwise training to act on artificial motives and lose sight of the genuine and vital character traits that are worth while and lasting.

Just the idea of alluding to the various articles of table appointment as "company silver" and "guest linen" and so on, through all the china and glassware, suggests to the child a feeling of stiffness and an atmosphere formal and conventional, though he does not analyze it in just those terms.

Why not use the good dishes and linen and silverware occasionally for just the home folks? Then daughter Lois will not cause a panic when there are guests by piping up "O, goody, we have the fruit in the best hand-painted bowl." If the little ones become accustomed every day to what is good enough for guests, a great deal of strain for both parents and children is bound to be eliminated.

Right in line with this follows the fact that the place to start preparing the child in "company manners" is the first day he sits in his high chair to eat a meal. There is no need for a tot even this age to throw his spoon and cracker on the floor continually, or to upset his broth or porridge. He may as well learn right then not to stand up in his chair, not to put his face down in his plate and not to scream for what he can't have. This much at least can then be omitted from the "instructions" when the Browns come over to dine a few years later.

When mother is alone and playing with the babies she can teach them much by pretending visitors. They may come in and call on her and advance and take her hand. It will be come natural in a very short time. A mother who includes good manners and polite behavior in the everyday home life, will never have reason to force courtesy upon her children.

NOTHING takes the place of an Easy Chair in the home. It is the article of furniture that the man looks at with affectionate eyes. An Overstuffed Chair with loose cushion and spring seat by the fire these cold evenings will make you forget the worries of the day and give you the relaxation you so much need.

It is not a bit too soon to start making selections for Christmas. Come in and have it set aside.

City Officials Gratiified That Exigency Is Recognized By State And Both Bodies Will Coordinate Efforts Toward Securing From Legislature Enactment Necessary Bill

Salisbury, in its fight for better water and sewerage conditions, will have an able and willing ally in the State Board of Health, it was learned this week following a visit to this city recently of Abel Wolman, engineer, of that State Board.

The matter of inadequacy of the system now in effect here was brought to the attention of the state authorities last spring and since that time various phases of the matter have at different times been laid before them. In discussing the matter, Mr. Wolman said: "Salisbury, with a population of 10,000, needs both a water supply and a sewerage system. To that end a bond issue of from $800,000 to $1,000,000 is necessary."

To facilitate emergency construction work for water supply, sewerage and drainage, Mr. Wolman is preparing a bill which he hopes will be offered at the next Legislature. The proposed bill empowers a county or municipality to issue bonds up to 6% of the taxable basis of a community without special authority of the Legislature or the necessity of a referendum.

Under the provisions of the bill the County Commissioners of any county or the Mayor and Council of any municipality are authorized to issue the bonds. Provision is made for the purchase of existing plants or for making contracts for water supply or sewerage disposal with other municipalities. In commenting on the above bill Mayor Kennerly said: "I am heartily in sympathy with the movement as outlined by Mr. Wolman. The amount spoken of is adequate either for taking over the present water plant and making repairs or for putting in a new system in its entirety. It is an imposition to the general public to burden it with a water or sewerage system not in keeping with the progress of the community and we, the Mayor and Council, will do everything in our power to give Salisbury what it needs along this line."

"We shall have drawn a bill giving the Mayor and Council the authority to appoint what will be known as a Public Improvement Commission, composed of three or five representative citizens, who will be empowered to spend money for water, sewerage, monuments, public parks and other matters pertaining to the advancement of Salisbury and its interests."

"It is imperative to get an enabling act thru the next session of the Legislature and our bill will be framed before the commencement of that session and introduced immediately by Senator Adkins. Unless this can be gotten thru the next Legislature nothing could be done until after the session of 1927."

MUNICIPAL WAREHOUSE FOR SALISBURY SOON

Various Sites Are Discussed At Meeting Monday Night And Committee Is Out This Week On Project

A lengthy discussion in regard to the purchase of a piece of ground for the erection thereupon of a municipal warehouse was indulged in at the regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council on Monday night.

Several sites have been offered among which are pieces of land belonging to Mrs. M. A. Humphreys and Mrs. Mack Douglas on Mill street, one owned by E. W. Windsor on Willow street and the old ice company property at the corner of Water and Commerce streets.

It is said that the last named property possesses several features of advantage over the others and the officials, as a body, will inspect same and again take the matter up next Monday night.

A warehouse is proposed which will not only take the horses and other equipment from the congested quarters at the City Hall but where machinery, materials and other city property may be stored. It was pointed out Monday night that if a place of this character is available much street material might be purchased at seasons when it could be bought to best advantage and stored whereas at present this material can only be bought as the need is imminent. This should prove a saving to the taxpayers of several hundred dollars a year it was argued.

SEVENTH ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL CALL IS ON IN EARNEST THE PRESENT WEEK

Every Employee Of 15 Local Business Houses Enrolled As Members First Two Days—Chairman Graham Gunby Appeals For Loyal Support To Roll Call Workers

The 7th Annual Red Cross Roll Call drive in Wicomico county is on in earnest this week. The response, according to Miss Frances Price, Roll Call Chairman, is encouraging to the workers who are enthusiastically endeavoring to surpass the mark of 1922 when $112 was raised for the work. One reason advanced for the liberality on the part of the citizenry toward the Red Cross is that results of their donations are visible right here at home due to the fact that 80 cents out of each dollar stays right in the county for local work.

At the time of going to press around $500 had been raised and none of the rural district chairmen had been heard from. The organization in the outlying districts is somewhat the same as last year when such gratifying results were obtained.

An endeavor is being made to obtain as many 100% contributing business houses and offices as can be secured. Up to the time of going to press the following were the "Honor Roll"—that is every member had been secured as a member of the Red Cross this time.

OLDEST RESIDENT OF COUNTY DIES SUNDAY

Mrs. Melissa Hopkins, Home For Aged, Would Have Been 99 Next Monday—Born At Westport

Mrs. Melissa Webster Hopkins, the oldest resident of the county, died at the Home for the Aged in this city, Sunday, on the eve of her 99th birthday.

Mrs. Hopkins was born at Westport on November 28th, 1824. Her husband was the first lampmaker of Salisbury. For a number of years Mrs. Hopkins kept a small restaurant by the Main street bridge where her pies and ginger cakes were eagerly sought after. When the Home for the Aged was opened here in 1903 she was among the first to enter it and has been one of the most dearly beloved of its inhabitants. Since 1885 she has been a member of the Division Street Baptist Church, and as long as she was able she took an active part in church work. Her influence has been far reaching and from a girlhood devoted to Christian living she kept the highest ideals and aspirations until the end. Her appreciation of her friends and what they did for her was always gratefully expressed to them. Her character was one of gentle faith and loveliness.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, at the Division Street Baptist Church. The Rev. H. L. Parkinson, former pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. O. N. Marshall, present pastor officiated. The interment was made in Parsons Cemetery.

"THE SONG SHOP" AT ARCADE MONDAY NEXT

Show Featuring "Sir Sid", Dale Wimbrow Et Al. Has Made Hit In Number Shore Towns

"The Song Shop" a comedy musical skit in two acts, all of the characters in which are well and favorably known in amateur and professional theatricals in this section where they are residents, will show at the Arcade Theatre next Monday evening, November 26th at 8.15 p. m.

This troupe has shown at Ocean City, Berlin, Pocomoke City, Chincoteague, Vio the Princess Anne and other places and has been enthusiastically received. The dialogue and songs with the exception of three popular numbers were written by Messrs. Wimbrow and Yates. In speaking of the show, the Marylander and Herald of the last named town last week said of that sweet comedy troupe, "There would have been a packed house to witness the snappy show, entitled 'The Song Shop' last Monday. The people who did brave the elements, however, were more than repaid in view of the fact that they witnessed one of the best shows seen in Princess Anne for some time."

"Dale Wimbrow and 'Sir Sid' work hard and their comedy efforts resulted in howls of laughter from the audience. Dale Wimbrow is well known to many local people and his pleasing voice and masterful playing of the little instrument, the ukulele, did much towards putting the show across."

DIRECT LEVY PROPOSED FOR SCHOOL NEEDS

Plan Suggested At Chamber Meeting Thursday Would Cover Period Years

HOUSING PROBLEM IS LENGTHLY DISCUSSED

Opinion Is That If East And West Sides Of County Are Taken Care Of, No Trouble Will Be Anticipated In Securing Support For Structures Here

Providing adequate buildings in which to house the school children of Wicomico was the paramount issue discussed at the Chamber of Commerce meeting on Thursday evening. At the previous meeting this had been made the order of the evening.

W. B. Miller, of the Board of Education, brought the matter to the attention of those present. In a clear, concise and comprehensive manner he laid before the assemblage the needs of the public school system as he saw them after years of study of the situation and explained the efforts which the board had put forth in an endeavor to meet them.

Messrs. James A. and William Davis, of Pittsville, joined in the discussion and gave their impressions of what was needed in the way of facilities on the east side of the county.

Theodore Hearn, president of the Board of County Commissioners, told of the part which his board had played in trying to meet school exigencies. Hon. W. S. Gordy, Jr., State Comptroller, laid before those present ways and means, as he saw them, of financing such projects. Mr. Gordy asserted that the County Commissioners could take care of building needs of the county somewhat on the installment plan—that is one unit at a time. This, he argued, would complete the work without a financial burden on anyone. This would naturally have to be done by direct levy on the part of the County Commissioners.

It was proposed that the Commissioners be urged to provide for the high schools on the east and west sides of the county first and leave the high school for Salisbury an after consideration. It was suggested that this would do away with the old heard objection that Salisbury people were interested only in their own high school. The theory was advanced that after the county units were taken care of they would be only too glad to get wholehearted back of Salisbury and its school needs.

It appears evident to those present that what was needed was new high schools on the east and west sides of the county as well as a new high school for Salisbury. A committee headed by James A. Davis, was named to keep this matter alive.

A number of other gentlemen took part in the discussion during the evening and it is evident that the meeting will prove a constructive step in solving the perplexing school problem.

JOSEPH I. ULMAN DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

Popular Citizen Taken Ill On Street Monday Afternoon And Medical Assistance Is In Vain

Joseph I. Ulman, a well known citizen of this city, died suddenly of heart trouble at his home on Church St., at 5.30 P. M., Monday afternoon, November 19th.

Mr. Ulman was returning from his store on South Division street, into which he had just moved, when he became ill. He was taken to the Division and Main street and called a taxi to take him home. When he arrived at the house he was much worse and although Dr. C. R. Truitt, who lives in the same block, was summoned immediately, Mr. Ulman died about ten minutes after entering the house.

Mr. Ulman was the eldest son of the late Isaac Ulman, who died less than a month ago. He was born July 14th, 1874, in the same home in which he died. MARDELA HIGH SCHOOL

The high school faculty at Mar-de-la Springs still holds literary exercises every Wednesday morning and these entertainments seem to grow in interest and the parents and friends enjoy the occasions and are in perfect accord with the arrangement. It was the privilege of the writer to be the speaker on last Wednesday morning and there were several features in the work of education that appealed to the writer. One number by the school pianist and a very interesting program of songs and recitations preceded the address. The order of decorum was excellent and perfect harmony existed between the faculty and the student body.

In the lower hall near the entrance is a bulletin board and the high school pupils are requested to place something on the board of interest in art and literature, then follows written sketches of board features and small prizes are awarded. This is interesting and profitable as a feature of educational work. It takes the place of a school paper and is attended with no expense.

In the primary room we noticed a novel play house, simple and yet interesting. This is used on rainy days or during any inclement weather to amuse the boys and girls instead of being outside. The house is collapsible and occupies but a small place. On election day a perfect system of voting was installed as a matter of training. Pupils from the third grade up were given the privilege of voting. Judges and clerks kept the records. About one hundred votes were cast. Enough sample ballots were secured for the election. The voting was highly enjoyed, boys and girls having the political preferences were instructed how to express them on the ballots.

Miss Florence Mason, of Salisbury, spends one day every two weeks teaching a class of girls the art of dress-making, millinery and other like things along the line of domestic science.

The three lady teachers have Blanch as a part of their names. There are two Bennetts in the faculty. There are one hundred and fifty pupils in the school and thirty-eight of them are in the high school department. The school and faculty seem to be in perfect accord and are all progressive in their ambitions and in this they have the cooperation and assistance of the community. The school life and community life are bound together for one common end and something is being done. The literary committee of the Parent-Teachers Assn. has purchased for the use of the school the International Encyclopedia of twenty-four volumes. Two hundred volumes of miscellaneous books have been added to the library. The school and community now have a campaign on to secure funds to put down concrete walks and from present indication the money will be available in early spring to do the work.

The writer was present as a pupil when the new school building was opened in the town. Prior to that date the school house, a one room building was located outside the town limits and there many of the older people of the community got their education. In fact young men and women walked miles to get a smattering of an education at that school, in that period of the country's history when schools were sparsely located and when much travel and exposure were necessary to get a little learning.

At the time of opening the new two story building, near the site of the present commodious one, the late Train A. Bounds was the local member of the school board and the late George W. M. Cooper, examiner, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Albert Acworth, a lawyer and a Princeton graduate, was the principal and Miss Esther Phillips assistant. This was the beginning of a new era of education in Barren Creek district and it has told for great good upon the town and community and is today holding its own in educational work and sending out boys and girls who are an honor to the town and to the school.

Edward L. Hearn's Address Praised By Poincare

Edward L. Hearn, of New York, European Commissioner of the Knights of Columbus, has been accorded distinguished praise by Europe's busiest man, Prime Minister Poincare of France. On his way to home recently Mr. Hearn stopped off at Strasbourg to speak before the Agricultural Congress. His address was so masterful that it received wide circulation and in turn brought forth an autographed letter from M. Poincare, praising and thanking him for the nation—the government and himself.

of the fact that educational value of an exhibit counts forty per cent. of the total. As Mr. Harris had a very attractive display and one which contained exhibits in baskets, barrels, boxes and plates, thus teaching the various ways of preparing fruits for market, the prize was given to him. Mrs. Walter B. Harris of Worton won the blue ribbon in the vegetable display.

Local winners included the W. F. Allen Company and George H. Benedict, the florist. Mr. Benedict's exhibit was a basket of chrysanthemums. Second prize in the fruit display went to F. H. Bancroft, of Wyoming, Delaware.

Ernest Laws, S. S. Feldman and Lee Fields from what will be known as the Boosters Club. It is expected that these representatives will appear before the meeting of their organizations and explain the enterprise with a view to enlisting financial support.

Prof. W. H. Gibbons assumed active leadership of the band on Friday night and all reports are to the effect that the members of the band are entirely pleased with his leadership. Prof. Gibbons has expressed the hope that all competent musicians will attend the rehearsals of the Band temporarily planned for Monday and Wednesday evenings of each week. He is anxious that new talent be enlisted.

The interest and approval evidenced by the public and the liberal subscriptions already recorded forecast that this community will soon afford a band second to none in Maryland. A number of musicians from Delmar attended the rehearsal on Friday and expressed a willingness to give every possible assistance to the Community enterprise.

HAVE YOU ANSWERED THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL?

It oft times happens that an editorial writer is called upon to assist in advancing some drive or campaign for funds with which he is not sympathetic and about which he writes with reluctance. There is, however, one season of the year and one subject to be written upon when editorial writing is a pleasure, a privilege and a duty.

It is the season of the Annual Roll Call of The American Red Cross. That organization is worthy of the support of every individual who has knowledge of it. The Red Cross is expected by the Government and by citizens to maintain an efficient organization in peace time as well as in seasons of war. There are periods when a smoothly conducted organization of this nature is absolutely necessary that lives may be saved and general suffering alleviated. The Red Cross is the organization created to fill this need. It is a signal of the growth and development of civilization and humanity.

The Red Cross is the channel into which are directed the calls for assistance in time of fire, famine, poverty, epidemic and flood. When war breaks and the Army Nurse Corps needs assistance it is the Red Cross which renders the first aid. It is always ready to answer a call.

One phase of the peace time work of the organization may be shown by a true example. A veteran of the World War came to Fort McHenry, recently, broken in health, suffering tuberculosis presumably resulting from exposure in the training camps and the subsequent events in the muddy trenches of France. He had married soon after his discharge in 1919. In his home there were a dependent mother, a wife and a little daughter. He was a laborer. His family had saved little.

Upon admission to the hospital he told his story to the Red Cross representative. He had tried to work. He had "carried on" as long as was humanly possible. The nurse called at the soldier's home and found his statements correct. Arrangements were immediately made for relief and care of the family.

The task of establishing the fact that his disability was a result of his service was then started. Establishing a claim for compensation from the Veterans' Bureau almost four years after the boy's discharge was a task. It was necessary to secure affidavits from fellow comrades, from his commanding officers and from some doctor who had examined him within three years after discharge and had definitely pronounced his disability—tuberculosis.

Eventually all of these statements were secured and a rating of temporary total disability was given the case. His adjustment check approximated $1,000. Within six weeks after the check was received that soldier was a corpse. The disease had won but the Red Cross had done its work and the little family had something upon which they might live.

Dozens of similar cases can be sighted, cases of disabled men from our own county who have been aided by the Red Cross in securing justice are on record. Relief of suffering Japanese following the recent quake was advanced by the Red Cross. Clinics are being established as a result of its efforts. Cleanliness, helpfulness and helpfulness are within its category.

Surely the slogan that a heart and a dollar are all that are needed to help can not be improved upon. Surely we must admit the necessity of just such an organization and the fact that its work is good. Surely when we recognize the necessity and the fact that its work is good we will test our hearts and find the dollar, or more, that will help to do our part toward the maintenance of the AMERICAN RED CROSS which so industriously and so nobly represents the highest ideals of the grandest nation of the world.—America.

SUPPORT THE BAND

Salisbury needs a first-class band. No member or friend of the organization known as "The Old Salisbury Band" will take that statement as a reflection upon the activities of that organization. It has done wonderfully well when the support it has received is taken into consideration. Its members and friends are almost entirely united in an effort to secure for Salisbury the band which is needed. The members of the old band, augmented by a large delegation from Delmar are regularly attending the rehearsals of the Band. Delmar is surely to be complimented upon the fine spirit of co-operation its musicians are showing.

Temporary officers and a temporary Executive Committee for the Salisbury Community Band have been elected and have in turn selected a Finance Committee to provide the funds to support the organization. Subscriptions distributed equally over six months are requested.

The promotion of the enterprise will depend largely upon the organizations now existing in Salisbury. The Finance Committee is composed of one representative, each, from the organizations that have expressed a willingness to assist. These representatives are expected to enlist the moral and financial support of their fellow-members.

Many organizations give as a reason for their existence the fact that they are Community Assets. Those organizations which class themselves as Community Assets now have an opportunity to prove their right to that claim by bringing into existence what cannot be disputed as a Community Asset—The Salisbury Community Band.

The request may not come to you through your organization. You may miss the meeting at which this subject is brought up. It may not be a personal request. The call is sounded generally and if you are sincerely interested you will find some member of the Finance Committee and give him your co-operation.

You can buy a wonderful apple in New York Fifth Avenue shop for twenty-five cents.

AT 3:30 P.M. THANKSGIVING DAY

A SONG FOR THANKSGIVING

Sweet land of Liberty, how fitting is this hour of thanksgiving for all the blessings we enjoy. How inspiring is the vision of your bounty under government based upon equality and temperate consideration of human rights. There is something deeper in the day than selfishly to review those betterments that personally have blessed us through the year. Rather should our thanks go forth to Him for planting in American hearts those principles of government which ensure our happiness and contentment.

We will be poor indeed if we offer only formal lip service of appreciation yet fail firmly to resolve to protect to the last ounce of our power our sacred heritage of freedom. Yes, at this Thanksgiving time, let each throat shout in clarion tones: "From every mountainside let freedom ring," and with that glorious song of inspiration let each man gird his loins to resist the insidious attacks that constantly wage war to undermine the principles of our constitution.

Our thanks for bounteous crops will be as tinkling cymbals if each of us is not a constant watchman at the tower ready to sound the alarm when sinister interests seek to undermine the tiller of the soil. Our praise for our prosperity will be but as babble if we do not resist the insidious and grasping flank assaults on equal opportunity.

Americans will give their greatest thanks in action. Let us express our thanks in intelligent interest in the management of our country. The government is not a thing apart. It is not a private enterprise. It does not belong to officials elected or appointed. It is the expression of the people's will. As founded it is the only successful system of government in the world. Let us give thanks a thousandfold for its existence, but let this thanks be buttressed by a determination to protect it—Sweet Land of Liberty.

RICHARD LLOYD JONES SAYS
Be A Leader

What a man does to help or harm himself is of little concern to the world, but what he does to help or harm the many is of much concern.

Edward Everett Hale told us that many a "fathead" has gained a reputation for being "safe" simply because he didn't have brains enough to play anything else but "safe." To illustrate, he tells of a man he knew who acquired a local reputation for virtue among the thoughtless because he was always telling how careful he was to protect his own body from alcoholic or other harms. Among the same people he established a reputation for wisdom because in the legislative chambers where he held a seat he confined his public utterances to two speeches, one, "There has been so much said and so well said that I can add nothing"; the other, "I quite agree with the gentleman on the other side of the house."

Very broad, liberal and convincing, this chap! Put negative goodness on the scale that weighs virtue and you will find the index finger on the dial has not left zero. The virtue that weighs has force, passion, fire, resolution, determination, GO. Virtue is measured by one's eagerness to save not alone himself but others, not to keep himself alone in the channel of the stream but to bring the driftwood of the edges into the current as well.

The makers of progress are they who try to help others progress. A mediocre mind can say, "Me too." A weak mind can say, "I don't." It takes a great man to hold a great idea and to lift it up that all may see it.

Progress is not affected by the derelict but by the driver in whose heart is found the passion not for one man's preservation but for all men's, not for advantage, but for justice; who is not concerned about what the world may think of him but about what he thinks of the world, who is eager to do for others rather than have others do for him.

According to figures recently made public every man, woman and child in the United States, over ten years of age, gainfully employed, chips in $94.00 a year to defray the expense of running the government.

Charles M. Schwab declares ninety percent of his misfortunes have come from his kindness to others. It is pleasing to note that millionaires have at least something in common with newspaper publishers.

Isreal Zangwill told New York's National Arts Club that it cost him $10 to get into America. Also he said Americans have little honor. Also he said Americans have little honor, less sense of justice and dignity and absolutely no sense of humor. Then speaking of the admission fee again, he said he had had his money's worth.

This Week

DON'T KILL THE MOUSE.
IF OXEN DID IT.
RELIGIOUS POWER LASTS.
ARMY HAPPY—KING SAFE.

Mr. Zangwill telling Americans that their "pep" is lost motion, that they are undignified, unjust, lack shame, etc., will be useful to the wise and annoying only to the foolish. It doesn't matter what Mr. Zangwill is—there are any truth in what he says!

If a humble mouse crawled from a sewer, looked at you with his long quivering nose and said, "You are a shameless creature and don't know anything," you should not try to kill that mouse.

You should ask yourself, "Is there truth in what the mouse says? If so, how can I correct my fault?"

The bad feature of Mr. Zangwill's talk is the harm it may do to his co-religionists among those already prejudiced. It cannot hurt him, for he will soon be back, safe in England, where they will approve quite generally his views on America.

But his inaccurate belittling of the Ku Klux Klan may cause trouble to better Jews than Zangwill. And his ridiculing of Christian Science does not come with good grace from one belonging to a race that has so long complained (and justly) of religious prejudice.

However, at his worst, Mr. Zangwill is to be thanked. The United States and its people have a thousand defects, many that Mr. Zangwill could not see or understand. To make us think about them is to render a service.

Correspondents report that Indiana is controlled politically by the Ku Klux Klan, with that control already strong in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, now spreading into Ohio and other States.

Everything depends on how control is acquired. If, through the ballot box, no one may complain. Vox populi, suprema lex esto holds good whether you like the vox of the moment or not.

In a Wild West exhibition a dozen cows are turned into the arena; "wild cows" they are called. Cowboys with lassos and empty beer bottles are turned loose with the cows. They lassoo them, throw them down, sit on them, and the cowboy that first manages to fill his beer bottle with milk, no matter how, as the cow pants and struggles receives a special reward.

To many civilized beings that seems all right.

What should we say about a collection of oxen if they gave a similar exhibition, only turning nursing human mothers into the arena instead of cows. We might criticize them severely for lack of delicate feeling.

Religion is still powerful in national affairs. In Germany it plays a greater part than Socialism, bolshevism, or capitalism. The Wittelsbach, royal Catholic family of Bavaria who furnished Kings to Germany long before the Protestant Hohenzollerns were known, are again rivals of those Hohenzollerns for the rule of Germany, when she shall become too weak to rule herself.

Stressmann, managing the German republic, allows the Hohenzollern Crown Prince to return from Holland, that his royal Protestant influence might offset the revolutionary royal Catholic influence of the Wittelsbachs in Bavaria. To let one royal religion fight another is his plan.

Frank Falos, a crippled laborer, takes his four young children to the State Workmen's Compensation Bureau and says, "You feed them, I can't."

Ten thousand voices will cry, "What, you can't feed them? You must feed them. It's your duty." To that everybody says, "Amen." Yet the crippled father would get no reward except a quiet conscience, for feeding these children, whereas the community in general would get the value of their work.

Parents are working for the nation and supremely wise Providence makes them eager to do it, glad to sacrifice themselves for the coming generation.

Mussolini increases the pay of soldiers so that they are as well paid as civilian workers. That's an echo of old Rome. They took good care of soldiers in those ancient days that Mussolini admires and would bring back.

A contented army means a "safe" dictator.

The old plan was to give land to the old soldiers and whatever they could take to the young ones. Good pay probably will do as well.

Poem by Uncle John

Thanksgivin' Day is here at hand, with joys that all may understand; I take it, that our folks will share the friendly feelin' everywhere; that each and every heart an' mind holds Peace—Good will for all mankind. . . . I can't help thinkin' that's the way to celebrate Thanksgivin' Day.

I'll say—so far as I'm concerned, from what I feel, and what I've learned—the soul that's grateful in its way, should render thanks most every day. Our blessing's come so thick and fast—each new one richer than the last—It seems we ain't got time to pray, for, Life's one long Thanksgivin' Day!

The Spirit born at Plymouth Rock, shrinks not from fear or tempest-shock; We consecrate our good right hand to God, and Home, and Native Land! From heart within to God o'erhead, we're thankful for our daily bread! Be-hold the stuffed an' basted turk. . . . Roll up yer sleeves—an' go to work!

THOUSANDS OF TURKEYS READY FOR THE MARKET IN WICOMICO AS HOLIDAY NEARS

Farmers Of County Should Reap Modest Harvest From Sale Of This Most Delectable Bird For Thanksgiving Consumption—Quantity Shipment Commence Next Week

As Thanksgiving time approaches, Wicomico farmers begin to give considerable attention to their turkeys and to wonder by what amount these turkeys will increase the net proceeds of the farm. There are no statistics available as to the number or value of the turkeys shipped last year, however, the raising of turkeys is becoming more important each year. Ordinarily they range over the farm and are raised at a comparatively low cost and usually at Thanksgiving and Christmas time they bring good prices.

As in the case with all farm products, turkeys well fattened and of good quality present a much better appearance than thin, scrawny turkeys, and find a much greater demand at a higher price. Also, inasmuch as turkeys are sold by weight, the heavier the turkey the larger the amount received, consequently the breeding stock should be carefully selected. In fattening turkeys it has been found that range fattening is much more satisfactory than penning the turkeys up for that purpose. When placed in a pen they will probably eat well for a few days but after that time they are likely to eat little and lose weight. Ordinarily the fattening process begins about a month before the turkeys are to be marketed. This is accomplished by proceeding gradually to feed the turkeys on corn in the morning, and again in the evening a short time before they go to roost. The amount of corn should be gradually increased until the turkeys are getting all they can eat. It is not advisable to feed new corn too heavy until after the turkeys have become accustomed to it. On farms where acorns or small nuts are available the turkeys will often fatten with very little corn feeding.

When the turkeys are in suitable condition and of good size it is usually best to market them for the Thanksgiving period. However, if they are small and not in good condition at that time they should be held until Christmas. Except under unusual conditions where turkeys are very fat, all turkeys should be marketed not later than Christmas as ordinarily turkeys sold later than Christmas will not bring as much as those sold for the Thanksgiving or Christmas market. The best place to market turkeys is, of course, where the best returns can be obtained.

Raisers should inform themselves of the prevailing prices at the different cities. This will enable them to decide which market is the best. Also the raisers should keep in touch directly with buyers in both local and distant markets so that they may know just what prices they will pay.

Turkeys may be marketed either alive or dressed. If they are shipped alive, the crate should be high enough to allow the turkeys to stand up. A coop about 3 feet long and 2 feet wide and 20 inches high will accommodate five or six turkeys, but they should not be overcrowded in the crate. When turkeys are shipped dressed they should be thoroughly chilled before putting into the package, usually a barrel is used for shipping dressed turkeys and it is also safer to ship them under ice. This is done by placing a layer of cracked ice, a layer of turkeys and another of ice and so on. A piece of burlap is usually used for putting over the top of the barrel to hold the ice in place.

PLAYING HEALTH GAME

A new national game that promises to take its place with baseball in the bid for popularity has been originated and introduced in the schools of this country. It is called "The Game of Health" and one of the advantages it offers is that anybody can play it, even the cripple.

The game is being organized by the American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is president, and which is a union of the American Child Hygiene Association with the Child Health Organization of America. Its object is to build up the bodily strength of the boys and girls of America and prepare them for useful lives as leaders of the new generation.

Dry text books on hygiene and lengthy lectures by learned men and women have failed to impress the doctrine of health upon the youth of the land. Their attention could not be held by such methods of instruction and it was distinctly up to those who would safeguard them to devise a more attractive system of teaching. Hence, the "Health Game", which in no way minimizes the importance of sound information, but arouses interest in new and effective ways.

For example, the average small boy would be unimpressed if he were told he should drink milk because of its nutritive qualities, but just let him see that it is making the puny child of the school fatter and rosier and may make him into a husky and perhaps full back on his college eleven or even as great a ball player as Babe Ruth and the chances are that he will become a milk addict.

Surely this is a game worth while, when we consider that millions of American school children through playing it may gain in vigor to the nation's benefit.

FUTURE OF THE RACE

Considerable interest has been aroused throughout the country by the recent announcement that Herbert Hoover has accepted the presidency of the American Child Health Association, and that the support of the great organization of mercy, the American Relief Administration, which for the past eight years has been ministering to the stricken peoples of Europe, will be behind this new body.

The Association is a merger of the American Child Hygiene Association and the Child Health Organization of America, two agencies which have done splendid work among the children of America over a period of years, and their possibilities of this new grouping, with the added strength of men like Hoover and his associates, are unlimited.

The importance of this work can not be disputed. A nation has no more valuable asset than its children, and any movement designed to improve their health and thus make them into better men and women is a decided step forward.

The experiment will be watched with interest by all Americans, and particularly the fathers and mothers of the country, who will want to take a most active part in it.

Bradstreet's Weekly Dist. Trade Report

Domestic consumption is increasing and holiday buying is somewhat more in evidence. Distributive trade, especially among the larger stores continues good though effected to some extent in the past week on account of the holiday. Wholesale and jobbing sales of general merchandise are reported as quite satisfactory while collections except at retail are still classed as good. The various lines of manufacture especially clothing are active with values generally strong. Bituminous coal, copper and oil continue to have unsettled markets but improvement is noted in the demand for iron and steel. Sheet metal and tin plate sales are of better than fair volume and there is some talk among tin can manufacturers of increased prices for next year. Wholesale grocers report a steady volume of business with competition very keen. All canned goods have a very firm market with demand good due largely to the cleaning up of old stocks early in the season. Lined oil is quoted at 93 cents per gallon a drop of five cents during the past few days. Turpentine has also gone off from 1.02 to .97 cents per gallon. Mineral oils are without much change but cylinder stocks are reported to be a little easier. Viscous oils are a trifle higher while another cut in gasoline has brought the retail price down to 19 cents per gallon. Live stock is very quiet while there is only moderate demand for the poultry. Wool quotations on the open market are largely nominal. The butter market continues firm and the consumptive demand for fresh eggs is much curtailed on account of high prices. Daily receipts of fish are kept closely cleaned up while for oysters there is better demand due to colder weather. Present supply of green fruits and vegetable is ample for trade needs. There is somewhat more activity in grains but flour is attracting little attention. A broadening market for corn is not expected until the new crop movement assumes reasonable proportions. Receipts of new corn have been very light while old stocks are practically exhausted. A considerable quantity of big baled Canadian hay is being pressed for sale on this market with demand limited. Money is rather plentiful for legitimate business needs. Call 5% to 6, time 5% to 6 and discounts 6%.

Review Of Latest Works Of Fiction

LAZY LAUGHTER

By Woodward Boyd, 295 pp. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons.

Laziness and its companion vice, day-dreaming, are so common that any one desiring to study them need not go far afield for subjects, but it is a rare thing for one not addicted to these vices to consider them with anything like the sympathy and understanding that Woodward Boyd displays in her novel, "Lazy Laughter." One might suspect from this that the author herself is inclined to be lazy, but her novel is the best evidence in the world that she has ever had such a tendency she has bravely overcome it. A lazy person might think of writing a novel, might even begin to write one, but to carry the work to completion requires sustained effort quite beyond the powers of an ypidotent day-dreamer.

Dagmar Hollowell, the chief character in "Lazy Laughter," comes honestly by her laziness. Her grandfather, Charles Montgomery, the founder of the family fortune, had built his magnificent new house close to the street so that he would have only a few steps to walk from his carriage to his door. That such a man should have been able to accumulate fortune which he had inherited, was due to luck rather than to industry. After his death, his fortune was soon dissipated, but his laziness remained in the family. One daughter, Ethella, early adopted the role of family invalid in order to have a good excuse for avoiding all forms of exertion. The other, Margaret, married and bore two children, Dagmar and Herbie, and it is with the fortunes of these two, and more particularly of Dagmar, that the story is chiefly concerned.

In picturing Dagmar Hollowell, Mrs. Boyd has managed subtly to convey the impression that the girl possesses unusual qualities of heart and mind which might, were she but able to rouse herself from her lethargy, make some of her ambitious day-dreams come true. Dagmar dreams of a career, but she cannot spur herself to work for it. Her stage ambitions lead her no further than to dance at a charity entertainment, where she wins the plaudits of her friends and predictions of future success. Her next essay is into journalism. Through family influence she secures a job as society reporter for a daily newspaper, but the managing editor finds her more ornamental than useful. Her last feeble attempt to find a career takes her to Chicago, where she is employed in the office of the School Lovers' League, an organization devoted to the betterment of educational facilities. Here also her aversion to early rising and her genuine talent for shirking soon become apparent to her employers, and she is politely requested to resign.

In her love life, too, Dagmar's laziness and self-indulgence stand in the way of her happiness. She is in love with a young man who is poor, but ambitious and energetic. She feels that she could only steel herself to endure poverty for a few years until he makes his way in the world. But poverty means work and doing without the luxuries of life, and there is a rich man, many years her senior, who also wants to marry her. Dagmar does not love him, but she does love the easy life he offers. And yet, when Dagmar chooses the easier way, one feels that it is not entirely through selfishness. She wants to provide for her mother and her worthless brother, Herbie, and she feels, too, that she would only be a drag on Pal Bennett if she married him. Or is it that she deceives herself in assigning an honorable motive for a dishonorable act? One can never know.

The characters in "Lazy Laughter" are unusually well drawn. Not only Dagmar, but her mother, her Aunt Ethella, her brother Herbie, Martin Plunkitt and his sister Martha, and others, possess distinct individualities, although the two last mentioned are perhaps slightly caricatured. Pal Bennett, on the other hand, is rather vaguely sketched in. One does not visualize him so clearly as one does the others. But, then, he is a far less important figure than would appear from his position in the plot. On the whole "Lazy Laughter" is a very creditable piece of work and a distinct advantage on Mrs. Boyd's earlier novel, "The Love Legend."

CHILD TRAINING AT HOME

THE MAKING AND FILLING OF A TERRARIUM

By Emma B. Doshley

And Nature, the old nurse, took The child upon her knee, Saying, "Here is a story book Thy Father has written for thee." The possession of a terrarium is ever a source of delight, because of the different plants and berries which appeal to the eye; and also because of the bugs and other creatures which show active life.

To make a terrarium, first of all, a berry crate with a cover is needed. Saw or cut out the middle slats from near the corners on the four sides, leaving the top and bottom slats for support. If the slats run up and down, saw them from the top slat to the bottom slat. Cover the top and two short sides on the inside with wire screen. Use glass in the front and back, the entire length of the crate, to provide light and heat; also to make it possible to observe readily what is inside.

Paint the crate and wire screen dark green to harmonize with the plants inside; and set the crate in a low window or upon a pedestal stand, low enough to allow the children of the family to observe the growth of the plants from day to day. On the bottom of the terrarium, place a pan about three or four inches deep, and the length of the crate, or have a shallow pan made. To a depth of three inches fill the pan with soil preferably from the woods. Then you are ready to select the plants you find most pleasing. As a lover of nature and the woods, I prefer to have plants from the woods. The partridge or squaw-berry vines with their bright red berries may be gathered at any time in the fall and will last all winter. Wintergreen roots and berries usually grow near the partridge-berry vines and are attractive. Ferns are always pretty and keep green until Christmas. Select small plants of a hardy nature. The rock ferns or small woods ferns are best.

If you can find a pitcher plant in the swamps, it will add greatly to the beauty of your terrarium. The wild flowers, hepatica, blood-root, jack-in-the-pulpit, and trilliums, if planted in the fall, will blossom in the spring. In addition to plants in the terrarium, cocoons on their twigs can be suspended from the cover. These cocoons may be found on lilac bushes and grape-vines, or in trees. Great will be the delight of the little folks when in the following spring, beautiful moths or butterflies come out of the cocoons.

If you can find some snails living in their shells, in a dam place, put them in the terrarium also and let them wander among the plants. At times the snails will hide away and then re-appear when you least expect them. Children always enjoy watching snails. And the chirping of the cricket gives much pleasure to some people. With the grasshopper, the crickets may be housed for the winter, affording additional entertainment to the children.

Filled with these flowers, vines and insects, your terrarium will prove an interesting feature during the long winter hours.

In the spring an entire change of plants can be made, or the box filled with wandering jew. This vine grows luxuriantly and is very ornamental. Fortunately are the children, mothers and teachers, who are so placed that Nature's story book is close at hand; for Nature, the old nurse, is loving and bountiful, and will re-write many a page in her wondrous book, the terrarium.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING

Calendar Plan, Up To Present, Has Netted Clubhouse Fund Sum Of $112.00 Raised Thus Far

The Wicomico Woman's Club met at the Y.M.C.A. Building Tuesday afternoon, November 20th. The program for the afternoon was given over chiefly to the further discussion and building up of the calendar, since the special feature of the meeting, which was to be an address by an out of town woman, did not materialize.

Miss Maria Ellegood gave a detailed report of the calendar system, up to date, and announced that the whole of the calendar system would be placed upon the corner stone of the club house when it is built. At present the calendar has brought $112.00 into the treasury. The winter season has been filled by Miss Letitia Houston, and two holidays have been taken by Mr. Graham Gunby and Mr. Gram Gunby, Jr. It is thought that when the calendar is completed the amount secured by it will be about one thousand dollars.

The Club expects to raise another thousand dollars this year by the sale of Christmas cards, the possible staging of a local talent show and various other means. The fund in the bank at this time is $528.64.

One new member, Mrs. Charles E. Hearne, was elected to the Club. Miss Mildred Matthews tendered her resignation due to her work out of the city.

DADS & SONS CONGREGATE AT THE "Y"

160 In Attendance At Third Annual Banquet On Friday Evening Last

PROGRAM OF EVENING IS GREATLY ENJOYED

Committee From City Churches Co-operate With Y. M. C. A. Officials In Making Event Successful—Turkey Dinner Is Served By Woman's Auxiliary Of Red Triangle

Closer companionship between "dad and son" was the keynote of the Third Annual Father and Son Banquet held in the "Y" on Friday evening last under the auspices of that organization and the churches of Salisbury.

About 80 fathers and a like number of sons gathered about the festive board and partook of the sumptuous turkey dinner served under the direction of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. with Mrs. R. D. Grier, as chairman.

After the invocation by the Rev. R. F. Gayle and the serving of the dinner, the program opened with a rendition by the Bethesda Male Quartette. Messrs. Edgar Laws, H. C. Adkins, W. A. Sheppard and F. P. Adkins. This popular musical outfit was compelled to give an encore so vigorous and persistent was the applause which greeted the initial number.

Fred P. Adkins, toastmaster, then introduced the Rev. H. P. Kroman, who spoke on "The Ideal Son." Mrs. Howard S. Clark was at her best in the vocal number which followed and she also was roundly applauded and responded with an encore number.

Fulton Fields, a high school student gave his impression of "The Ideal Father" ending with an appropriate poem on the subject. W. A. Sheppard, after a baritone solo, very pleasingly and effectively rendered, sang "A young boy's prayer," a humorous selection which was especially well received. Dr. H. P. Fox, had as his theme: "Is the Young Man Safe?"

Dr. Fox stated that he never knew a boy who was inherently bad. He stated it to be his opinion that if a few cardinal principles, which he outlined, were adhered to the lad of today would be capable of overcoming any obstacles which might be hurled in his pathway.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of: J. Walter Brewington, Asbury Church; David Dallas, St. Peter's P. E.; Ralph H. Grier, Wicomico Presbyterian; Seward E. Little, Division Street Baptist; Oscar L. Morris, Bethesda M. P. and G. William Phillips, Trinity M. E. South.

SALARY LIMIT OF SHO' LEAGUE CLUBS FIXED AT $1850 A MONTH

Six Towns To Compose Circuit—Season Shortened To 80 Games—Election Of Officers And Other Important Matters Deferred Until January 3rd Meeting

As predicted several weeks ago in the columns of this paper, the Eastern Shore League will continue for another year and will become a six-town circuit. This decision was made at a meeting of the Directors of the league held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last Thursday afternoon.

Salisbury, Dover, Cambridge, Crisfield, Parkley and possibly Laurel will be the towns represented. After assurances had been received from the various representatives sufficient to guarantee the existence of the league for 1924, questions relative to putting the organization on a paying and firm basis were brought up.

The season was shortened. Last year the clubs played 84 games while in 1924, four less will take place. By this plan each of the teams make the swing around the circuit eight times bringing the season to a close at this year on Labor Day. The opening date will be fixed by the schedule committee which as appointed by President Thawley is: G. W. Gillespie, chairman, Parkley; R. Fulton Waller, Salisbury; and Dr. A. S. Williams, Laurel.

It was the consensus of opinion that the salary limit should be lowered and it was finally decided to make the monthly salary limit $1,850 including the salary of the manager regardless of whether the pilot be a bench or playing official.

To protect the remaining clubs in case of the withdrawal of a club or clubs before the termination of the playing season, it was decided to have each management post a forfeit of $500 with the league treasurer. This amount must be put up at the meeting set for January 3, 1924.

Each player signing a contract with the clubs of the Eastern Shore League next year will be held to an iron-clad agreement in the form of an affidavit, that compensation, either directly or indirectly, will not be received by him other than the amount stated in the contract, during the period the player is in the possession of the club under that contract. Violations to this agreement will carry a suspension by the Eastern Shore League for two years.

The officers and prominent supporters of each club will enter into a covenant which will make possible the rigid enforcement of this agreement. Another affidavit will be required of the player which will be a record of his previous rating in organized baseball.

The treasury of the league showed a balance of upward of $1,000, according to the report of R. H. Matthews, treasurer. The report also showed that the total paid attendance in the circuit the past season was approximately $121,400.

Easton was not officially represented at the meeting but a letter was read from prominent sportsmen of that town stating that should a vacancy occur, the town should like a hearing of an application for a berth. The resignation of President M. B. Thawley was placed before the meeting but action was not taken, the matter being left for decision at the next meeting. Other league officials will be elected at that time.

About 40 representatives attended the session. In the evening there were the guests of vice-president W. B. Miller at dinner at the Blue Bird Tea Room.

LAUREL BALL CLUB GOES ON THE MARKET

Official notice of the offering for sale of the Laurel (Del.) club, of the Eastern Shore League has been sent out. The offer suggests a purchase either of the franchise, with the ball-park equipment and the entire list of players who are reserved with the intention of continuing the club in the league, or offering the players themselves, either as a lot or singly.

The letter is signed by W. F. Deputy, president of the Laurel club, who says the director find it impossible for them to continue supporting and directing the club and who are offering it to individuals who, they think, might be practically interested. For the sum of $3,750, he says, the club offers three pitchers, one catcher, a first baseman, a second baseman, a shortstop, a third baseman, one outfielder and one utility man—this price including a franchise, soft-drink privileges and signboard space. He adds that the Laurel club led the Eastern Shore League until the close of the 1923 season.

Notre Dame Judge Daniel F. By reason of the pernicious 'unit rule'—and its more pernicious twin brother, the 'two-third majority rule,' Boss Murphy will be able to select for the people of the United States the next Presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket. WICOMICO HIGH SOCCERITES NOW CHAMPS BOTH WICOMICO AND SOMERSET COUNTIES

Take Crisfield Into Camp Thursday At Pocomoke City By Decisive Score Of 3-0—Entire Team Plays Best Game Of Season With Several "Recruits" Starring

By E. W. MERRICK,
Special Representative of The News
Flashing its best form of the present season, the Wicomico High School soccer eleven emerged victorious in the first inter-county contest for the championship of the Eastern Shore at Pocomoke City last Thursday by the score of 3-0.

Coach Unger's charges, pitted against a team from without the confines of their native county for the first time this season put up an article of the old english game which astounded the lads from Crisfield who had previously captured the Somerset county title with but little difficulty. From the first whistle every man was on his toes and played determinedly through.

At the outset it appeared as if the eleven were evenly matched and the ball saw-sawed back and forth from one end of the field to the other. Toher booted one which carried off one of the Crisfield players foot for another tally.

Inaley chalked up the third counter for Salisbury's representatives and contributed the stellar individual play of the afternoon when he dribbled the ball down the field for some 50 yards and shot a lightning like kick by Evan's head. Of Wicomico's new men, McBrierty, Inaley and Wilkinson showed up especially well. Ruark showed a marked improvement over his previous playing.

Crisfield really threatened to score only twice. On each of these occasions, Fields frustrated their efforts once with a stop which looked impossible.

L. Quinn, B. Quinn and N. Sterling were the shining lights of the team which met defeat.

Next Friday, November 23, the champions of Worcester county will be met at Princess Anne and an immense crowd of loyal rooters are expected to follow the team to the Somerset town.

Henry Ford Has No Private Office, But Usually Will Go Out To Meet Anybody

Working His Farm Holds Most Interest For Famous Detroit, Who Last Summer Went About Doing His Neighbors' Threshing

William Griffin, Vice-President Of American Press Association, Visits Mr. Ford And In An Exclusive Story To The Wicomico News Presents An Original Pen Picture Of The Most Interesting Man In The U. S. Today.

Written Specially For THE WICOMICO NEWS
By WILLIAM GRIFFIN
Vice-President, American Press Association (Through Autocaster Service)

"I have no office, but I will meet you at the office of the Dearborn Independent at five o'clock."

These were the words which were conveyed to me through a Detroit, Michigan telephone exchange—a very short message, which outside of the making of an appointment meant very little under ordinary circumstances, except that the man on the other end of the line was Henry Ford. That, of course, makes it different and the circumstance is no longer ordinary. A casual observer might wonder just a bit how much longer Mister Ford would have to stay around Detroit before he could have an office exclusively his own. Another item of interest in that message was that he made the appointment in the office of the Dearborn Independent, which is a newspaper of the city.

Interest in the field of Journalism was perhaps greater than I had imagined. Last but not least in my previous to five o'clock conjectures was "how come" Henry Ford going out to meet anybody—any place—any time?

Thus a Detroit friend of mine, a little later, I found that I had learned that on the previous day Charley Chaplin had been in Detroit. Henry Ford came into the city and met him at his hotel.

"I came all the way in from my farm to meet you," said Mr. Ford rather jokingly to Chaplin. "A very great honor indeed," replied Mr. Chaplin, "but permit me to suggest that I came all the way from Los Angeles to meet you."

An interesting bit of pleasant conversation between two men who have contributed substantially to the country's budget of humor—screen comedy and Ford jokes, lacking only George Ade to complete a triangular trust; but beyond that there was the carrying out by Mr. Ford of his personal policies. He is not only easily accessible to his friends but is always ready to omit ceremony and himself extend his courtesies. There is nothing up-stage about Henry Ford.

Ford and Advertising. A certain United States Senator spoke to a large group of advertising men in Atlantic City, quite recently. I heard him make the statement: "There are two classes of advertisers—those who pay for space, and Henry Ford."

With this statement, I take issue, for Henry Ford is both. I do not say that he does not realize a great amount of personal publicity which may properly come under the classification of free advertising, for he does. During the past three months, only one man has been so widely chronicled, and that man is President Coolidge. As a matter of fact, during the last month, more has been written about Henry Ford in American publications, than anyone else, not even harrasing the President or our illustrious visitor David Lloyd George. The answer is that here is a personality so widely known that his utterance on any subject constitutes news.

Last February, I read in the Wall Street Journal that Henry Ford was the richest man in the world, and mention was made in that story that he was an automobile manufacturer, and Ford Cars were talked about. This was about the time a statement of the business of the Ford Motor Car Company was filed in the State House at Boston, Massachusetts, which broadcasted the fact that two men owned the full hundred percent of the stock of that company—Henry Ford and Edsel Ford. This story also talked about Ford cars. Lately I have read that there are a number of Ford plants in the process of construction in various parts of the United States; and that next year his car is going to have a streamline body. No denying, the business of Henry Ford was being advertised.

But, I also have noted an announcement that during the coming year, Henry Ford has made arrangements to spend some seven million dollars to advertise his business. So, I say the Senator is wrong on both counts.

Personality of Ford. Speaking of Henry Ford—the man—the personality, interested in many things, separate and apart from his business—that is something entirely different. Here it is that curiosity, admiration, or hero worship as you may call it, comes in for its full inning in the minds of more people than are reached by any other individual in America. Henry Ford is easily our most interesting personality.

Not so long ago the name of Ford meant one thing only—the man who built an automobile which a farmer could buy with the same amount of money ordinarily necessary to the purchase of a team of horses.

Today at the mention of his name there are a number of words crop up, among which I find these: Muscle Shoals—Six dollar a day minimum wages—Farmers—Ford for President.

Promptly five o'clock at the Dearborn Independent Henry Ford arrived. I visited with him for two hours and again on the following morning for another two hours. He is the easiest man to talk with I have ever met. He is natural. He talks without reservations and when he makes a statement, it has a ring that is true. Above all, there is unmistakable fearlessness in his kindly face; and his keen blue eyes radiate a strong sincerity of purpose.

Henry Ford has no more interest in running for the office of the President of the United States than he has an ambition to become a boot-black in Detroit's leading hotel. This is my personal opinion as a result of twice meeting with him and discussing everything else but politics. I carried away the very definite impression that he has several interests which have infinitely more attraction than politics. Then, too, Mrs. Ford has decreed that there shall be no politicians in the family.

Talks of Muscle Shoals. On the subject of Muscle Shoals, he was extremely alive. He seemed to have had and still was in possession of a deep interest in the government's disposition of this property.

"The Muscle Shoals Plant should always remain in American hands. But, anyone who will take the trouble to investigate, will find that the Gorges Power Plant, recently sold by the War Department to the Alabama Power Company, is not in the hands of American capital. The money behind this company is British. There lies the danger of selling this property piecemeal. This great nitrate plant can be turned into a munition factory on five days notice, and it is practical to do so, providing it is kept intact. I agreed in proposed contract with the government to keep it as a unit, in order that it might be readily transferred should the emergency require."

Henry Ford has a habit which transcends the commonly accepted meaning of the word, to the degree that his hobby is almost a passion with him. In the pursuit of his life business activity, this hobby has percolated thru his program in such a way that it is almost his principal business. That hobby is farming.

It was on a farm that Henry Ford was born. Starting as a farmer boy, he remains a farmer today with six thousand acres of the best farm land in the State of Michigan. His purpose in building an automobile was to make it so reasonable that the farmer could afford a car. Having done this, he turned his attention to making a tractor which could do the wholesale labor of the horse in the fields, and today the farmer is numerous who turns over twelve furrows with a Ford tractor where he plowed one before. When he saw for the first time the Muscle Shoals Nitrate fields, he envisioned another great advancement in the interest of the farmer, in the manufacture of fertilizer on a tremendous scale. From those nitrate beds he saw the retooling of thousands of worn-out farms. His six thousand acre Dearborn farm is today conducted as an agricultural laboratory, a farming experimental station. He sees things thru the eyes of the farmer always.

As I walked about this farm, I saw all kinds of experiments in progress. There were horses, cows, pedigreed stocks of all kinds, deer, and in fact nearly every kind of animal which is of use to the farmer in any section of the United States. "Even weeds," said Ford, "they are the farmer's very good friend if plowed under at the right time of year."

With no possibility of overlooking it, there was a threshing machine. I found that it was Mr. Ford's own private article of farm machinery, and not an ornamental farm piece either. He knew all about it, how to operate it, and in fact no later than last summer had indulged himself in its most practical use. A good many of the neighbors were farmer boys' friends of Henry Ford, and for them he made a farm to farm tour with his outfit and took a very keen delight in doing their threshing for them.

"I am against the concentration of population in the large cities," said Mr. Ford as the conversation veered around to the discussion of some of the small towns. "It is economically unsound. I am for the back to the farm movement and the upbuilding of the small community."

City boys make good farmers, but farming will not continue to be a full time job. That is why country boys leave the farm now—they want more of the business of life, such as is found in the cities. Well, the experience is good for them, and together they will revolutionize farming. The movement away from the farm is natural enough. Farming will be a seasonal job before long and the farmer will have additional interests.

As a Town Builder.

At the time we were headed in the direction of a small town—Northville by name, quite near Dearborn. I had a premonition that this little town must be the scene of another laboratory, for in looking upon these varied activities, I had observed the outstanding trait in Henry Ford—namely—he makes a practical demonstration of every problem. I recalled that he met a recent financial requirement of some hundred million dollars by raising it without the aid of Wall Street Bankers. He needed a lower railroad rate on raw materials and he accomplished this by buying the railroad. There was trouble in the coal fields, so he purchased some mines. There was possibility of internal friction in his company, so he and his son Edsel purchased every share of stock in the company. He may not be so interested in keeping track of some of the figures of past history like Benedict Arnold for instance, but for meeting every day problems in a practical way, he has a record of past performances which is wonderful.

Northville was a town of approximately 12,000 people.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney trouble and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Salisbury woman says:

Mrs. Gordon Hurley, 414 E. Isabella St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy I ever used for kidney complaint and I never miss an opportunity to recommend them. My kidneys were weak and if I overworked or took cold it settled on them, causing such severe backaches I could hardly keep going. Mornings, especially, I felt dull and languid and when I stooped or went up or down stairs I had blinding dizzy spells and almost toppled over. The action of my kidneys was irregular and my sight was affected. Doan's Kidney Pills from White & Leonard's Drug Store soon rid me of all this trouble. The backaches left and I felt fine." 60c at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

The Receiver Off the Hook

When a telephone user fails to replace the receiver on the hook a serious interruption to the service results. In such cases incoming calls cannot be completed, and the operator is compelled to report the line "out of order."

On party lines, if the receiver is not replaced at any one of the stations, not only is that telephone affected, but none of the other telephones on the line can either make or receive calls. Thus an entire line is put out of service, until the receiver of one telephone is replaced.

Sometimes the receiver is accidentally permitted to rest upon a book, or some object which prevents the hook from coming all the way down. When this occurs it produces the same effect as if the receiver were not replaced.

In cases of this sort a repair man must be sent to inspect the telephone. Some little time must therefore elapse before the receiver is replaced, and during this interval calls of great importance may be lost to the subscriber.

Synopsis Of Preceding Chapters.

Brought north to the home of her aunt, by the will of her grandfather, Winfred Carroll, age eleven, is to be separated from her widowed mother until she is eighteen, with the choice of inheriting a fortune or going back to her old home at the end of that time. When she has been at "Dawn-hill" a week she meets a friend of her aunt, Mrs. Duncan, also her two sons, Steven and Heath. The former she admires very much. At the home of Florence Kaler, a year later, Winnie meets the two boys. Shortly afterward Florence spends a year in London with her nephew.

When Winnie is 17 she finds a note written to Florence from Italy and signed with initials, D. S. R., which are strange to her. The note inquires for Winnie.

Albert had brought the big car to the door and as he sat hunched patiently behind the wheel his keen old eyes twinkled at the laughter of the young people grouped upon the terrace. Just so had he waited, with his horses, for their parents twenty years before. He loved every one of these children, as he would always call them, with a deepening tug at his faithful heart strings, remembering the things of long ago when Winfred Carroll had been his favorite and Florence Kaler, perhaps, next in his estimation. He had hoped some day to serve them both under one roof and he had never been able to quite hide the pride he felt in the lady of his young masters choice. As he watched Winfred Carroll's daughter, today, he sighed, unaware of it himself, but thus voicing the regret he could not help but feel in the ways of a Providence who worked life out in such unfathomable ways.

Winnie in a coat of brown with a rolling fur collar and a smart little hat, which pressed jauntily down on her bright head, was half down the steps calling impatiently to Amy Leigh, who appeared reluctant to break up the assemblage. Heath, not much taller than Winnie, herself, stood leaning quietly at Amy's side, as she laughed with Steven and Roddy VanVestler.

"We must go, Amy," Winnie said, and she seemed perturbed. "Florence expects us in to meet Robert at four." "You can take Robert," Amy Leigh called back, "I prefer American cars every time."

"Come on, Steve," Heath put in, his voice uniformly level and toneless, unless one caught the strength of will behind its words. "It has been fifteen minutes since we left the house."

"I don't want to hurry you off," Winnie continued, "and I'd love to have all of you come back and dance here afterward but I feel we must keep the engagement at a reasonable time."

"Who made the darn old engagement, any way?" Steven inquired, "Who wants to go talk about cricket to an English duffer?" Amy Leigh tossed her red head. She was strangely alluring in her soft wrap of apple green with a tinge of the same haunting shade. She knew it, too, as the light in her big eyes proclaimed. She was old and wise for eighteen years. She glanced at the two boys beside her.

"Stop anyway, Albert," Amy Leigh ordered, "You don't mind do you, Winnie? I have always wanted to see the rhyolite George Eliot wrote about."

"We can stay a few minutes," Winnie conceded, "but I hardly think these are like George Eliot's rhyolites." In the hazy light of the fall afternoon the fire was smouldering in preparation for the evening meal. About the loaded wagons a number of gayly dressed women were clustered, and they nodded their heads together as the big car came to a standstill near them. A gypsy girl of about twenty, with a sharp brown face and luminous big eyes came to the side of the automobile. Her coarse black hair hung to her shoulders like a cloak. She wore a bright ribbon around her throat and many rings on her small thin hands.

"I tell your fortune?" she asked and her smile enfolded them all cranking to rest on Winnie who shrank from her penetrating gaze. "Sure tell us all," Steven said, carelessly, reaching in his pocket for money. "You go first, Amy Leigh."

The gypsy drew Amy off to the shelter of a tree and took her hand. Her voice came to the others low pitched and monotonous. "Winnie shivered as she felt the sharp eyes of the other gypsies upon her. She tried to hide herself in the seat between Steven and Roddy. Something about these people disturbed her, unaccountably. She was uncomfortable and yet vaguely exhilarated as if forgotten fancies were striving to be recalled."

When the gypsy girl beckoned to her she obeyed her as simply as a child and put her delicate white hand in the hard brown palm of the fortune teller, wondering why she trembled as she did so.

"I see many things for you, lady," the voice began in sing song with eyes roving from the bright hair to the fine little slippers, "You have change of fortune like the tide's of the sea. Much come to you, love and heartache and adventure, too. You understand what I mean? Men love you, not too well, I see you here, this you do remember, and I see you again sometime before the world shuts over me." She looked up at Winnie, her eyes like liquid globes of flame. She curled her fingers about the bracelet on Winnie's arm, a charming bangle of platinum set with small diamonds. "You give me this and you be lucky, she whispered, "someday I give it back to you."

"But this was a present, I couldn't give it to any one." "You not give it to me and had luck will ride beside you. If you be lucky and have success let me have what is on your arm," slowly the girl drew the bracelet over Winnie's hand, "you say one word and I see your head will fall. Like this nothing but good can come to you. When love come, to your heart I will give you back this charm. Goodbye! Remember I see you again, when that time come."

Winnie joined the others with the repugnant sensation that she had been the victim of witchcraft. "What did she tell you?" Amy Leigh asked, as the car was turned toward Florence Kaler's house. "I am to marry when I am twenty-one. When are you?"

Winnie shook her head. "She didn't tell me, perhaps I am never to be married at all." Her arm without the bracelet felt strangely bare. "That is a rotten fortune, Winnie, not to be married," Steven said. "If you are not married, Winnie, it won't be my fault," Roddy meant to speak in an undertone but everyone in the car heard him. Winnie looked up in amusement but something in the expression of Heath's eyes froze the laughter on her lips. New thoughts that had never come to her before were dimly shaping themselves in her mind as they drove along the sunlit road.

side down. We have become accustomed to its present position. Therefore, when we say "turning the world upside down" we are talking about the effect that Christianity is going to have upon present conditions. If Christians were living as true, earnest stewards ought to live they would be counted fanatical and dangerous, just as Paul and Silas were so considered. If ministers were preaching the pure, old-time religious gospel, they would bring on antagonisms, produce social earthquakes and arouse the violence of the mob. The Jews said of Paul and Silas, "These men have turned the world upside down."

MRS. COFFMAN
ILL SEVEN YEARS

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sidell, Ill.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, most unbearable, and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help, and the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never so busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to speed the good Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

A Bath a Day

For six hundred years the Romans used no medicine but the bath. Is that strange? It shouldn't be. The secret is very simple. You see the Romans bathed daily. And people who take a bath a day rarely, if ever, need medicine.

A bath a day keeps the pores of the skin open. This makes it easy for the skin to breathe. Skin breathing sanitizes the body.

Then, too, a bath a day stimulates—exercises—lubricates, they might say—all your internal organs. This stimulation keeps them working as they should.

When the organs are working properly, they are healthy. Healthy organs make a healthy body. And a body that is healthy does not need medicine.

But that isn't all. A healthy body is a builder of beauty, energy, efficiency and happiness.

If you would know the joy of health and beauty start the bath a day habit. And there is no better time to start than in this month of June.

All you need to make the start is a little will power and a good bathroom. You supply the one and we will supply the other. Start a bath a day today, keep it up, and the money you have been paying for medicine will pay for a bathroom several times over.

CROMAR
OAK FLOORING

Start with one room this year

Take, for instance, your dining room—or your living room. Certainly you would enjoy the charm of the bright, lustrous hardwood floor. No one could your guests fail to sense the air of immaculate trimness it lends the entire room.

To install a CROMAR Hardwood Floor right over the worn, softwood in that room will take just one day. And, though a better floor, it will cost you less than the ordinary hardwood floor. CROMAR is filled, varnished and waxed by patented machines at the factory—that's the reason. Finished before it's laid. That eliminates all expensive and less efficient scraping, polishing and hand-finishing, and saves days and days of waiting.

There are many other advantages—the easy cleaning, for example. You ought to know them all. Get in touch with your Retail Lumber Dealer and write us for complete literature.

Henry Ford Has No Private Office, But Will Meet Anyone

imately a population of a thousand people. It has today doubled in its number of citizens and the reason is due to another Henry Ford's practical ideas. He constructed a dam across the River Rouge which divides his little community and thereby gave to Northville a power plant. He built a factory for the manufacture of automobile parts. The water power is more than sufficient for the operation of this factory; but the number of importance is that three hundred and twenty-five people are on the pay roll. The transformation taken place is that of a slow farming community to a thriving industrial center where real estate has boomed, and the whole town and adjacent country has taken on new life, with many people moving from Detroit, twenty miles away, to newly built homes in Northville.

Within a very short distance is another town, Plymouth, where the same transformation has taken place. There, I talked with one of the women working in the factory, and from her I learned something of her own individual problems. A little more than a year ago her husband had died and left her with two small children. She had resorted to the taking in of washing to take care of her family and was able to earn ten to fifteen dollars a week. Now she is making six dollars a day, the minimum wage which Mr. Ford pays the people who work for him.

Back to the office of the Dearborn Independent I inquired of the young lady telephone operator the size of her pay envelope, thinking that perhaps here might be an exception, but I found that it was six a day and that she was highly satisfied. In fact everybody about Ford seemed to be satisfied. "Six a Day" is a great antidote for labor troubles. Speaking of strikes around the Ford works—there isn't any such animal. As a conclusive evidence in support of this contention, the first five men who started to work for Henry Ford are still on the job. One of these men is Chemical Engineer Wandersee. He has been satisfied with his work for twenty years.

No Racial Labor Lines

It was with no little trepidation that I approached the subject of "Jews," knowing that a couple of gentlemen from New York, Messrs. Untermyer and Bernstein, have been out gunning for Mr. Ford with their heavy artillery. Mr. Untermyer and Mr. Bernstein apparently feel that their race has been so damaged that they are personally entitled to some of Mr. Ford's bank balance, due to certain articles which have appeared in the Dearborn Independent. I buy my copy of the Independent at the corner of Broadway and Forty-second St., New York City, where most of those who walk keep away from the said vendor like he had the small pox, so I observed to Mr. Ford that probably his circulation in New York was not very big.

"On the contrary," he came right back. "The number of copies of the Dearborn Independent in circulation in New York City is unusually large. I am told that at certain homes it is delivered at the back door."

"I told Mr. Ford that the feature I like about the Dearborn Independent was that the staff very apparently when speaking of things Jewish, never had anything to hide. They called a spade a spade and if the party in mind was of Jewish persuasion, he was called by name."

"By the way," I continued to Mr. Ford, "I don't suppose you have any Jews working for you on the staff of the Dearborn Independent."

"Yes, we have, right here on the Dearborn Independent."

"But, of course, you can't have any on the pay roll at your Highland Park Plant."

"Five thousand," he continued. No more questions were asked on the subject, as I believe there is nothing else to be said. If there is any persecution going on or if there is any crucifying being done, it seems to me that the commitment is on Henry Ford. I know now what Israel

Zangwill meant when he said, "I understand Henry Ford, he is all right," or words to that effect. The largest employer of Jewish labor in America should be all right.

"What's all the shootin' for?"

"Anyway, there isn't any 'shootin' going on around Henry Ford. If you are looking for excitement, stay away from him. All the hurry, turbulence, fluster, and fuss is going on somewhere else."

Henry Ford takes things very steadily.

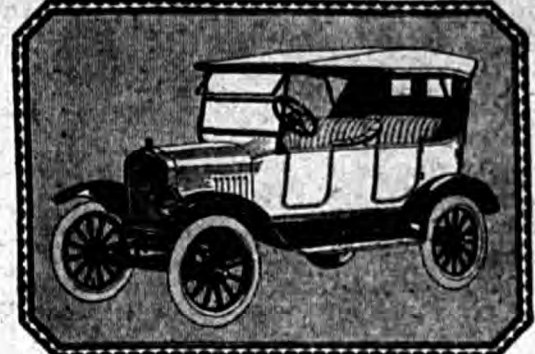

Elbert Hubbard used to run over for a visit with his friend Henry when he wished for a rest. He always brought along a baseball in his pocket—and Elbert and Henry played "catch." That Henry played five hundred millions of dollars and the answer still is the original Henry Ford.

STORING OF POTATOES IN OUTDOOR PITS

To Protect From Cold And Heat They Should Be Covered With Alternate Layers Of Straw Or Hay And Soil—Advice By Expert On Subject Is Given

By Edgar W. Cooley

Agricultural Extension Department International Harvester Company

Potatoes may be stored in pits, out of doors, successfully if the pits are provided with good drainage and ventilation and the potatoes are given such covering as will protect them from external heat and cold.

For such a pit a well-drained site, or one which can be easily drained, is the first essential. In depth the excavation may be anywhere from practically nothing to two or more feet, but it is generally best not to excavate more than six inches. The pit should be long and narrow. The size to a certain extent, must depend upon the quantity of potatoes to be stored, but too large a quantity should never be stored in one pit.

In preparing the pit a light layer of straw should be placed on the floor to keep the potatoes from coming in direct contact with the soil, and some provision should be made for ventilation to permit the evaporation of such moisture as may rise from the potatoes.

The potatoes should be piled in a ridge, in the shape of an inverted V. This will expose a greater area of the pile to the circulation of air and will shed rain much better.

To protect the potatoes from cold and heat, they should be covered with alternate layers of straw or hay and soil.

The first layer should be straw or hay; the second should be just sufficient soil to prevent injury to the potatoes by light or frost. This will quickly cool off the potatoes and free them from the moisture resulting from the sweating process. As the temperature lowers, more hay or soil should be added.

The two layers of straw and two of soil will be sufficient protection except where the temperature drops to 20 degrees below zero, or lower, when an extra layer of each will be necessary. When pressed down, each layer of straw should be about six inches thick and the top layer of soil may be from six to eight inches deep, according to the amount of rain or snow that may be expected during the period the potatoes are to remain in storage.

Excellent ventilation may be furnished by a wooden flue. The lower end of the flue should extend nearly to the bottom of the pit and the upper end should project above the top layer of soil. The flue should have a wooden cap to keep out the rain and snow, but it should be so constructed that, during extremely cold weather it can be closed tightly.

While potatoes stored in such a pit are not readily accessible during winter, they will keep in almost perfect condition until spring, if careful attention is given to the proper construction and protection of the pit.

It is very common to find the vines cut before the potatoes are turned out. The vines are cut with a vine cutter attached to the fore part of the plow or are cut with a vine cutter run as a separate tool. After the vines are cut the tubers are turned out with an ordinary plow with a short mould board. Special plows are used in digging sweet potatoes with a sharp rolling coulters attached to the beam for cutting the vines. They may or may not have iron rods attached to the mouldboard and projecting upward and backward.

Several methods are used in plowing out the sweets and many of these are somewhat objectionable as in many cases it is the general practice to throw the potatoes from three to four rows together into one row thus bruising them more or less. In some cases two rows are thrown together with the plow and in other cases three or even four rows are thus thrown together. With a walking plow the popular method is to plow straight across the field on one row and back on the next row then skip a row and repeat. The skips are turned out after the potatoes from the other rows have been picked up. This method is subject to modifications and the skips may come more seldom or it may be changed in several other different ways.

Harvesting should be done on a clear day so that the tubers may dry out as rapidly as possible. It is desirable that the soil be on the dry side at digging time if possible the potato should remain out over night or be exposed to the sun for any length of time.

After the potatoes are turned out they are scratched out from the soil and allowed to dry. They are then picked up and hauled to the storage house to be stored or to the shipping station if to be sold from the field. If to be shipped from the field they are usually sorted, graded and packed into hampers, or shipping packages in the field but may be carried to the storage house in baskets, hampers, or any other handy package. The potatoes are graded at least roughly even when to be placed in the storage house and culls and strings used to feed the hog or for some other purpose.

Inasmuch as handling sweet potatoes hurts their keeping qualities many growers grade and pack into hampers in the field and then place the hampers in the storage house. When these hampers are held for any length of time before being sold or shipped it is necessary to repack before shipping. Sweet potatoes stored in hampers or crates keep much better as a rule than when stored in bulk in bins as they get a better circulation of air and cure better. Storage rots and other diseases do not spread so rapidly or as far when the potatoes are stored in hampers or some similar package.

The seed potatoes which should have been hill selected before harvesting are almost always stored in small containers such as hampers, crates, etc. As grading is very often done at digging time it may be well to discuss grading at this time. There does not seem to be any uniform system of grading that is practiced universally for we find different systems, or methods, followed in different sections. A suggestion has been made by many growers that sweet potatoes be graded into Primes, Choices, Jumbo and strings. These are familiar terms to every sweet potato grower and as soon as these different grades are defined the grower will know what constitutes each grade.

The United States Department of Agriculture through its Bureau of Markets has drawn up suggested grading rules which have been adopted in part at least by many growers and organizations.

The storage house should be thoroughly cleared of all rubbish and refuse and disinfected before placing the potatoes. The walls, floors, bins and all other wood work may be disinfected with copper sulphate, otherwise known as bluestone. A solution made up of one ounce of bluestone to twenty-five gallons of water and used as a spray. Flowers of sulphur may be burned in the house which will kill the disease germs present if this is done thoroughly. Insects and other living things may be killed by fumigating with hydrocyanic acid gas but this is a deadly poison it must be handled with care and only by those who are familiar with its use.

The house itself should be well constructed so that the potatoes may have an ideal, or as nearly ideal as possible storage conditions. There are probably four very important factors in the proper storing or keeping of sweet potatoes. These are heat, moisture, ventilation and circulation of air. At digging time the sweet potato is covered with an excess amount of water and the curing process must drive off this excess moisture. Experimental data shows that the moisture given off in the first three months of storage will average about twelve per cent of the weight of the potatoes. The first month about seven per cent is given off, the second month about four per cent, while only one to two per cent is given off during the third month. The removal of this moisture is accomplished by heat and ventilation and if this moisture is not removed under proper conditions much loss will arise from rots. This moisture must be carried out of the house quickly and thoroughly by means of heat and ventilation. Curing takes from seven to ten days or even longer and during this period the temperature should be maintained around 85 degrees Fahrenheit. During this curing period the potatoes go through a sweat and heat and ventilation is necessary to remove the moisture given off during this sweating period as otherwise it would tend to hasten the development of rots and diseases. After the curing period the temperature may be allowed to drop to 55 degrees and should be kept at about this point for the remainder of the time that the potatoes are in storage.

If chemists are correct in their analysis the sweet potato becomes sweeter while in storage. At digging time the sugar content of a sweet potato is between one and two per cent. This amount increases until it reaches practically six per cent in January and February when it starts to decrease again.

A sweet potato store house must protect the potatoes from freezing or even chilling which in most sections means a well constructed house with some form of artificial heat. Many patented houses are on the market but experience thus far has shown that the so-called "government" house is practical and efficient. There are four essentials in the keeping of sweet potatoes (1) mature stock, (2) careful handling, (3) temperature around 85 degrees Fahrenheit with thorough ventilation for first ten days or two weeks so that the tubers may be well dried and cured properly and (4) a uniform temperature of about 55 degrees during the remainder of the time that the potatoes are in storage.

Wooden storage houses are the most popular because of their cheapness and ease of maintaining a dry atmosphere inside the house. However houses are constructed of brick, hollow tile, stone, cement, etc. When houses, other than wood are built it is the custom to board up the inside to prevent the moisture collecting on the side walls which might happen if the walls were left of brick, stone or cement.

The houses are usually raised somewhat above the level of the ground so that there may be a circulation of air under the house. The first floor should be about the level of the wagon bed thus insuring ease in handling the potatoes both coming in and going out. The foundation or support may be a solid wall or pillars.

Plans of any sized house may be obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture free of any charge and the following was taken from Farmers Bulletin No. 970.

The principle of constructing storage houses of various sizes are very much the same therefore only one the 12 by 16 foot house will be described. For this small storage house, having a capacity of 400 to 500 bushels, build three rows of pillars, one row under each side and one row under the center of the house. Grids 6 x 10 inches in size are placed on the pillars and on these 3 x 8 inch joists, spaced 12 inches apart from center to center. The walls of the storage house are made by setting 2 x 4 inch studs on the grids every 2 feet and nailing them to the sleepers. On the outside of the studs 1 x 6 inch boards are nailed diagonally to brace the walls. Over these a layer of heavy building paper is tacked and matched siding then put on. A layer of 1 x 6 inch boards is nailed on the inside of the studding, then a layer of building paper and over this matched boards.

In the lower south the first layer of boards on the inside of the studding may be omitted so far as the control of temperature is concerned but in regions of high humidity (near the seacoast) it is deemed advisable to use four layers of boards, two on the inside and two on the outside of the frame as suggested above. The tighter the walls the less difficulty will be encountered in controlling both temperature and moisture. Two 2 x 4 inch pieces should be placed on top of the studding for cave plates to which the rafters are nailed. The floor is made by laying 1 x 6 inch sheathing over the joists, then a layer of heavy building paper and over this 1 x 4 inch tongue-and-groove flooring. The rafters should be cut to fit over the plates at the lower end and to fit snugly against the ridge pole at the upper end. On the outside of the rafters put a layer of 1 x 6 inch sheathing, then a layer of building paper, then another layer of 1 x 6 inch sheathing and over this the roofing material. On the inside of the rafters nail a layer of 1 x 6 inch sheathing, then a layer of heavy building paper and over this a layer of tongue-and-groove ceiling. If desired joists may be placed across the building on top of the cave plates and the sheathing paper and tongue-and-groove flooring nailed to the under side of them instead of to the rafters. These joists if securely nailed to the plate will serve for tying the sides of the building together as well as for carrying the insulated ceiling. In a large house this method of ceiling is very satisfactory as it gives loft space above the storage room and requires less ceiling material.

The sides of the building should be tied together to prevent spreading. This can be done by nailing 2 x 4 inch pieces to the plates or to the lower ends of the rafters. It would be an advantage to have these pieces over the bin supports.

The space between the walls should be left open as any material used to keep out the cold will absorb moisture. Many storage houses have been built with sawdust, shavings or similar material between the walls but this practice should never be followed. Sawdust will take up moisture and when once wet will never dry out. This moisture will keep the house damp and cause the walls to rot. The air space is a good insulator if the walls are made tight and they will be tight if the plans given are followed.

Thorough ventilation is necessary in a storage house. This is provided by means of windows, doors and ventilators in the floor and through the roof. The bottom of the windows should be within 18 inches or 2 feet of the floor. The windows and doors must be made so as to close tightly to keep out the cold. All windows should be made to open from the outside as the bins will interfere with opening them from the inside. Where glass windows are used outside shutters are put on and these should be well padded. Some of the windows should be made of glass so as admit light without letting in cold air it is necessary to have light when working in the house and in cold weather the house should not be kept open. All the openings must be made so that they can be closed quickly and tightly whenever necessary. The ventilators in the roof should extend through the ceiling so as to carry out the warm air as soon as it rises. Ventilators 8 x 10 or 10 x 10 inches are very satisfactory. These should be provided with a roof to keep out rain and at the bottom end with a tight fitting shutter which can be closed in cold weather. The ventilators in the floor may be holes 12 x 12 inches but they should be provided with wire netting screens and tight fitting covers that they may be closed when necessary.

The arrangement of the interior of the house depends somewhat on the methods of storage used. Some growers store the potatoes in boxes, crates, baskets or hampers while others store in bins. The smaller are to be preferred to bins where it is practicable to use them because they eliminate considerable handling and reduce the amount of decay. Many growers store in the hampers that are to be used for marketing the potatoes. This is a satisfactory plan as it requires no outlay of money for storage receptacles and the packages for shipping must be provided for in any event if the crop is to be marketed.

Mother's Quick-Cooking Oats

Your grocer now has two styles of Mother's Oats—Mother's Quick-Cooking Oats and regular Mother's Oats, the kind you've always known. For a hot breakfast quick, ask for Mother's Quick-Cooking Oats. Cooks in half the time of coffee—scarcely longer than simple toasted bread.

Same plump oats as regular Mother's Oats. But cut before flaking, rolled very thin and partly cooked—smaller flakes that cook faster, that's the only difference. All that rare Mother's flavor. All the joy of hot breakfasts without bother or delay.

Nathaniel P. Dashiell, Plaintiff, vs. Sarah Mitchell, et al., Defendants.
No. 3060 Chancery.
In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, November Term, 1923.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of the real estate of which one Charles A. Mitchell, late of Wicomico County and State of Maryland, died, seized and possessed, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the payment of a debt owing to Nathaniel P. Dashiell by the said Charles A. Mitchell in his lifetime, and for the payment of all other debts owing by the said deceased.

The bill states that Charles A. Mitchell was, in his lifetime, indebted unto Nathaniel P. Dashiell in the sum of Twenty-Three Dollars and Ninety Seven Cents ($23.97), and that being so indebted, the said Charles A. Mitchell died on or about March 9, 1922, intestate, leaving the following persons as his heirs at law: Sarah Mitchell, his widow, Burley Kenney, a daughter, and Orville Pryor, a daughter, who has married Enoch Pryor, all of whom are of full age, and all of whom, except the said Enoch Pryor, are residents of the State of Delaware, and that the whereabouts of the said Enoch Pryor are unknown; that the said Charles A. Mitchell left no personal estate of value, but that he did own at the time of his death real estate in Quantico Election District of said Wicomico County, located on the West side of and binding upon the county road leading from Quantico to Revastock Mills, adjoining the land of the heirs of Mary A.ounds and the lands of others, containing twelve acres of land, more or less; and that the said Nathaniel P. Dashiell and others are entitled to have their said claims paid out of the said real estate.

It is, therefore, this Fourteenth day of November, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-three, ordered by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some weekly newspaper published in said Wicomico County once in each of four successive weeks before the 22nd day of December, next, give notice to the said Sarah Mitchell, Burley Kenney, Samuel Kenney, and Enoch Pryor, non-resident defendants, of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the eighth day of January, next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

INTEREST GRIPPING TILTS MARK INITIAL GAMES IN THE CHURCH BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Large Crowd Sees Presbyterians And Methodists Triumph In Opening Games Last Thursday Night—Games May Be Played In Armory To Accommodate Crowds

STANDING OF CLUBS

	W	L	Pct

Presbyterian	1	0	1000
St. Peters	1	0	1000
Bethesda	1	1	500

Trinity	0	2	000

The Church Basketball League got off to an auspicious start on Thursday evening last in the Y.M.C.A. gym with a double-header which was witnessed by a crowd which taxed the capacity of the auditorium.

Both games were thrillers. The first contest was won by the score of 38-29 by the Presbyterian five over Trinity's outfit while the nightcap went to Asbury, their opponents being Bethesda. The score of the latter set was 36-28.

In both contests the fives were pretty evenly matched. The Trinity quintet, although lacking in experience, looks to have the timber for a good team while the Presbyterian lads appear to have a well balanced five which should improve with more playing. The Presbyterians got the jump on their adversaries in the first half which ended 17-9. In the final period there was but a single points difference between the two. Morgan, Hurley and Jones played especially well for the victors.

The Asbury-Bethesda engagement was more of a battle of experience, practically all of the participants being seasoned players. The first round was a nip and tuck affair with both teams see-sawing back and forth for the lead. The period ended with a score of 16-14 with Asbury on the long end. The score continued to be a deadlock until almost the termination of the contest when Asbury caged several goals in quick succession and carried off the honors. The teamwork of both quints was of high order with Duffy starring for the winners.

Enthusiasm is running high and the attendance from now on is expected to increase materially. There is much sentiment being expressed in favor of playing games in the Armory if arrangements to that effect can be made.

Field goals:—Waller (3), Jones (8), Ruark, Chatham, Hurley (2), Davis (5), Dryden (3), Morgan (6). Foul goals:—Waller, Jones, Townsend, Hurley (4), Davis, Morgan. Time of halves 20 minutes. Referee, Duffy.

KNOW WHY YOUR HEAD ACHES?

Sick headaches is not a disease but only an indication that you have allowed your bowels to become clogged up—constipated.

It tells you that you are bilious—that your blood is impure, your kidneys are not working right and that worse may follow if you don't look out.

There's a way to stop headaches—get rid of the cause. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has been successfully used for correcting stomach and liver troubles for nearly three quarters of a century and is still doing it.

You owe it to yourself to try Thacher's. If the first bottle does not give satisfaction your money will be refunded. You can get it in Salisbury at L. D. Collier's Drug Co.—Adv.

PRINCETON HAS NEW PLAN

Princeton University initiates a plan of upper class study of which great things are hoped. Juniors and seniors are to pursue only four courses instead of five, two of which shall be in the department of study which the student elects; and in that elected field students must also carry out original study and research. This would appear, superficially at least, to restrict the opportunity of the lazy student to select easy and unrelated courses from all corners of the curriculum. But more than this, in the words of President Hibben, it may "inspire all Princeton students with the ambition to think for themselves, train them in the habit of seeking the reasons for their convictions at the source of knowledge, enable them to see far because they see true." In other words, the Princeton plans seem to be based on the assumption that students can be found who want to learn not only "what" but "why"; who are concerned not solely with the gathering of enough facts to permit them to graduate, but also with the possibility that they can understand in some measure what is happening in the world and why it is taking place.

Motion picture producers and exhibitors must rise early these days to slip anything over on the million and one movie fans scattered throughout the States. In fact, so intense has become their interest and so keen their powers of observation that little passes by without being caught by their eagle eyes.

It is so warm and loyal in its support as those followers who feel a personal interest in the project involved and take every feature and development as much to heart as if they themselves had invested their own capital in it. For, in reality, this personal interest and the resulting bond of sympathy constitute a kind of capital—perhaps, after all, the best kind of capital to invest.

And this sort of personal interest in the movies may be said to react to the advantage of both the movie fans and the film magnates, for, while the latter may count upon the support of the fans, the fans' keen scrutiny, in turn, serves as a urge to the movie people to put forth their best efforts and aim to do better and bigger things.

The typical movie fan feels particularly disappointed whenever they detect shoddy methods or petty subterfuge in the movie game. Unfortunately, every now and then some guileless producer or exhibitor will seek to "put one over" on the public, and often, as in other lines of business, they fancy they have succeeded in getting away with it.

But generally the movie fan, ever on the lookout for a new discovery or thrill, stumbles upon these gags, and woe betide the unlucky perpetrator of the deed! Quite often, indeed, the movie fan will detect these bits of deception before the so-called professional reviewer comes upon them, and they manage to raise almost as big a "how-does-it" over the matter as the critics.

Chance perusal of the special department set aside for the fans' view in a popular movie monthly revealed the fact that already the movie goers are up in arms over a new outrage—that of trotting forth an old photograph, retitling it and showing it as though it were a brand-new offering. One of the fans gives vent as follows: "How many ardent movie fans have been tricked into seeing an old picture which they were led to believe was new? This happens when a newly risen star makes a big success and the public starts shouting for more of that star's work. Some companies don't care if the picture is five or seven years old, or whether the story is bad or not—if it is one in which the new favorite appeared in a few scenes, the production is rehearsed for the sake of cashing in on the star's name.

"No matter with how many new art titles the reissue is dolled up, or how many scenes are rearranged, it is almost sure to be a disappointment.

"So many old pictures are being shown nowadays that the public has to shop wisely and carefully for its entertainment.

"From my point of view, the thing that is wrong is for the theater manager, who knows that the film is a reissue, to try to make his patrons think it is a new subject. This is breaking faith with his patrons.

"When the Rodolph Valentino craze came into full blast, companies started to dust off their ancient films in which Valentino had a small part. These same products were often put out as new products, and in some cases Valentino was announced as star.

"By the way, a lot of these are excellent pictures and quite worth while seeing. But people should not be misled into thinking that they are new."

It seems plausible that perhaps a certain type of exhibitor might resort to such devices to inveigle his patrons into his theater to view film plays of former days—we recall the days of the aforementioned "Valentino craze," when certain old films, carefully "dusted," were brought forth for display at some of the smaller Lexington

Street houses. But one rather felt that the large theaters would not go in for such tactics.

Therefore, deciding to make a little test case, we conducted a personal investigation regarding a film entitled, "She Loves and Lies," shown last week at the Parkway Theater. We were quite elated to find that the large Sunday newspaper advertisement mentioned the film as a "revival," even though "revival" was printed in small type.

But—alas!—we went over to the theater itself and on half dozen or more posters displayed outside there was nary a glimmer about its being a "revival." Norman Talmadge and Conway Tearle, the stars, were played up in large letters, and so there was doubtless no room for details.

All of which may be a case in point. —Baltimore Sun.

COOKING HINTS

Keep different size embroidery hoops in the kitchen to put hot pies and kettles on. They do not slide and allow the air to get in under. The quickest and most satisfactory way to chop potatoes for the hash-browned variety is with an empty baking-powder can. When the cake sticks, turn it gently upside down and place a damp cloth over the botto mof the pan. It will then come out easily. Paste small gummed-paper stickers over the hole in the bottom of the china salt-shaker. This saves time and patience in finding corks to fit or in digging out ones pushed inside. If you have mislaid your apple-corer, try a clothes-pin.—From The Designer Magazine.

DAILY EVENING PAPER TO START IN SALISBURY MONDAY

Directors Of News Publishing Company
Answer Outstanding Need Of Community And Section With "The Evening Times"

Offspring Of "The Wicomico News" Will Be Eight Page Sheet
Served By Associated Press Full Leased Wire—Will Feature Up-To-The-Minute Local Happenings And Peninsula Items Of Interest—People Welcome Announcement—Weekly Continues

Daily paper for Salisbury! This announcement is calculated to deeply interest every individual in Wicomico county and the news will be gladly received over the entire Peninsula for Salisbury has come to be recognized as the natural leader of all the towns in this territory because it is felt that her future and development is inseparably linked with that of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and the Delmarva Peninsula.

A thriving, prosperous little city strategically located in the center of a fertile agricultural territory and a rich trading area, Salisbury for a long time has been in need of a daily paper to give it that pulsation and throb of life requisite of what might be styled a "real city". There are many busy little townships in this land of ours that give evidence of city life and yet the one criterion of their standing in the eyes of the outside world is their representative newspapers. County weeklies are great institutions and play a large part in the development of their communities but their field is limited and whenever a city passes a certain point in its material growth and its citizens, energetic and far-seeing, become awake to the possibilities ahead, then the time is ripe for the advent of a daily paper.

Visitors to Salisbury are visibly surprised when informed that the city is without a daily paper. National advertising agencies are constantly inquiring if there is a daily paper in the town. And finally the question has been uppermost in the minds of the people of Salisbury and Wicomico County for some time. Together with the need of a modern hotel, the need of a daily paper has for some time been recognized as a question of vast importance.

After a careful survey of all existing conditions and after consulting experienced men in the field of journalism, the officials of the News Publishing Company have finally decided to fill for the people of Salisbury and surrounding sections what today appears to be their greatest want. The directors of the company were moved to these decisions primarily by the desire to serve their community.

Therefore, on next Monday evening, Salisbury's new daily paper, "The Evening Times" will make its appearance on the streets of Salisbury, into the homes of the residents and into the various districts of the county. It will indeed be a big day for Salisbury and one that will probably go down into the history of this prosperous little city as an epoch-making event. The Evening Times will first start out into the local field and then as its popularity increases and it gains in strength, the paper will expand into the other counties on the Peninsula with visions of some day becoming the representative newspaper of all the people in this great territory. But there is one thing alone that is going to make for the success or failure of the paper and that is the support of the people. The time will soon come when the advertisers in this section will realize the vast benefits to be derived from advertising in a daily paper and so The Evening Times may be reasonably sure of a whole-hearted backing on the part of the merchants and other business interests. It is however to the reading public in general that The News Publishing Company must make its appeal in order that a new publication might be assured a permanent home. The editorial staff promises a live, wholesome, interesting newspaper, patterned as far as it is possible after a metropolitan daily. A full leased wire has been secured from the Associated Press the greatest and most reliable newsgathering organization in the country.

However, it will be the purpose of Salisbury's new daily to make it essentially a home-town paper with all the local happenings reported in quick and concise style. Special feature pages for the local readers will be run each day. The Evening Times will be out on the streets about four o'clock in the afternoon and in the homes by five o'clock. Deliveries will be made to nearby towns by arrangement with the various bus lines. Monday is the day set for the initial issue and it is up to the people of Salisbury and Wicomico County to support the News Publishing Company in its latest enterprise.

MARKED DECREASE IN HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Figures Are Said To Reflect Fact That Health Conditions Are Improved
—Death Rate Only 4%

A noticeable decrease is noted in the number of patients registered at the Peninsula General Hospital during the month of November as compared with the previous five months since the opening of the new hospital wing in June of this year. Up to November the average number of patients have run from sixty to seventy a day, while for this month they have been only about forty-eight a day. This speaks well for community health conditions.

Until the reconstruction of the building practically all the cases were operative ones, but now they average fifty percent while the remaining patients are medical and obstetrical. During the past year the death rate has been 6%, but the morbid and accident cases bring the real total down to 4% which is a wonderful record for any institution of this sort.

Several changes have been in the Church Basketball League during the past week. The circuit has been changed from a six club one to a four team wheel with the dropping of Trinity and Grace as independent teams. The material from these churches will be divided among the other churches.

Asbury and St. Peter's are now tied for first place with two games won each and Wicomico Presbyterian and Bethesda have each divided their two.

All games after this week will be played in the First Regiment Armory on Friday and a good turn out of the public is expected to attend as four crack teams will now battle for the silver loving cup offered by THE NEWS.

John H. Tomlinson, for the past several years president of the Salisbury Ice Company and a member of the board of directors of that company since 1904, has resigned his position from both offices due to his desire to devote his time to other business interests and at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors last Wednesday was succeeded in the executive capacity by former Congressman Jesse D. Price and the vacancy on the Board was filled by the election of Paul E. Watson.

Mr. Price, who was organizer of the parent firm—the Crystal Ice Co., in 1900, prior to his election as head of the corporation held the important posts of Treasurer and General Manager, which he still retains. He is one of the best known men in Wicomico County due to his active career in commercial, civic and political affairs.

Mr. Watson is one of the city's young and progressive business men. He is proprietor of Watson's Smoke House, Main street, and a manufacturer of high grade cigars.

TRI-COUNTY BANKERS IN ANNUAL MEETING

28 Banks Represented At Princess Anne Meeting On Tuesday Afternoon—75 Are Present

The Tri-County Bankers Association met at Princess Anne on Tuesday, November 27th. Twenty-eight banks, from the three counties, Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester, were represented in an attendance of about seventy-five persons. The meeting was called at 3:30 P. M., following which a banquet was served, the guests being entertained by a pre-arranged program.

The officers retiring this year are: vice-president, Calvin B. Taylor, of Berlin; secretary, Arthur B. West, of Salisbury; and treasurer, Aden Davis of Marion Station. The late Henry W. Rusak served as president until his death in August.

SALISBURY FIREMEN CALLED TO SEAFORD

Blaze In Commercial Zone Of Delaware Town Does Damage Of $60,000 Tuesday Morning

The Salisbury Fire Department saw service at Seaford, Delaware, early Tuesday morning. Although the blaze was under control when the local men arrived they relieved the Delaware firemen who had fought the blaze most courageously.

Five business places in the commercial district, corner High and Arch, were destroyed with an approximate loss of $60,000. The victims were: The A. & P. Store, Richardson's Restaurant, Stewart's Clothing Store, Hatten's Barber Shop and an apartment house occupied by four families.

Assisting the home department in addition to the Salisbury company were those from Laurel and Bridgeville.

LOYAL MOOSE ARE PLANNING HOME OF OWN

Have Opened Campaign Headquarters On Main St. And Started Ball Rolling

BIG BAZAAR ON FOR DECEMBER 11th-15th

Every Loyal Moose Is Backing Project And Gala Event Is Anticipated With Professional Entertainers In Addition To Usual Run Of Amusements On Program

Salisbury Lodge, No. 715, Loyal Order of Moose, is planning to build a home in Salisbury that will be a big asset to the community and a credit to the lodge.

To raise funds for this project, every Loyal Moose in Salisbury and Delmar is putting his shoulder to the wheel and things are humming along that line. The campaign was opened with the establishment of headquarters in the old Fitch store room on Main street.

Donation cards have been distributed to the various members and a novel feature introduced with them. Each time a person punches one of these cards they receive a free ticket of admittance to the stupendous Entertainment, Bazaar and Frolic to be held by the Lodge as a further part of its program. In addition to this an opportunity is afforded of securing one of four prizes. These awards are on display at headquarters here and at the office of J. F. Thornton, Jr. in Delmar.

The gala event spoken of above will be held in the First Regiment Armory every night—December 11th-15th and will include the usual features of a bazaar, booths, music, dancing, etc., as well as vaudeville acts by professionals. A meeting to perfect details will be held in the Lodge rooms Friday night.

The Loyal, united and co-operative effort of members of the fraternity assures success to the venture. It is figured that several thousand dollars can be raised by these features and thus give a good foundation to the Moose Home Campaign Fund.

$500 TURNED IN FROM THE RECENT DRIVE

That Amount Has Been Received By Miss Price, Chairman, Of Roll Call

AGGREGATE WILL BE LOWER THAN IN 1922

Many County And City Red Cross Workers Are Yet To Be Heard From, However, And Amount Will Be Boosted Considerably By Their Reports

Over $500 had been turned in to Miss Frances Price, chairman of the 1923 Roll Call for the Red Cross which came to a close on Saturday evening, at the time of going to press. A number of the workers, both in Salisbury and the county, were at that time not heard from.

The enthusiasm this year in contributing to this cause has not been as pronounced as in former Roll Calls and the figures will not reach the height of last year's endeavors when $1112 was secured.

Miss Price and her co-workers have labored hard and efficiently and are deserving of the hearty thanks of the community. In the Rockwalkin neighborhood a most excellent showing was made, the report of Miss Winifred Adkins revealing the fact that every home in that section had 100% members in the Red Cross for 1923.

Among other workers who exceeded their own quota of 1922 were Mrs. A. H. Silverman in Camden, who went "over the top" by $18, and Mrs. John Downing, working a part of Newtown, who exceeded in results her last year's efforts.

Other 100% business houses reported since last week's issue were: W. M. Cooper's office, Wilkins Store, Joe's Store, Pete's Store, R. D. Grier and Sons and Dallas & Neck.

"THE SONG SHOP" WINS APPLAUSE OF AUDIENCE

Cast Scores Big Hit In Dale Wimbrow's Skit—Local Comedy Pair Entertaining

"The Song Shop" presented by Dale Wimbrow and Sir Sidney Yates at the Arcade Theatre drew a crowd that filled every seat at the popular playhouse on Monday night. The audience appeared highly entertained by the performance of these local favorites who were assisted by Miss Madge Wimbrow, Miss Kathryn Butler and Mr. Vaughan Butler.

The skit was above the usual class of home talent show and at times gave evidence of real artists doing their bit of song and comedy before the footlights. The two young ladies in the cast filled out the bill creditably although their lines at times were spoken so low that persons sitting in the last rows could not hear them.

Vaughan Butler proved that he has a voice of unusual quality and he scored a big hit with his songs. However the bulk of the work fell upon Sir Sid, as the English comedian, and Dale Wimbrow, who wrote the skit and composed the music. "Flirting" was an outstanding feature of the musical numbers. The team of Wimbrow and Yates is destined to be heard from in the near future as headliners in "Big time" vaudeville. With a little polishing this pair should be able to put across their act in any style.

95 YEARS A RESIDENT OF THIS COUNTY

Mrs. Jane Mills, New York Ave., Celebrates Birthday
Saturday Last

'S NOW THE OLDEST WICOMICO RESIDENT

Is An Ardent Devotee Of Motoring And On Sunday Last Made Distance Of Almost 75 Miles—Has Never Invoked Aid Of Spectacles—Has 65 Descendants

Mrs. Jane Mills, the oldest resident of Wicomico County, celebrated her ninety fifth birthday Saturday, November 24th. She was born in 1828, near Dickinson's Cross Roads, which is now called Pittsville, but was then merely a store and dwelling house. Her husband, who died in 1888, was Samuel Mills, also of this locality.

Mrs. Mills is still very active and enjoys motoring and walking and does a very large household chore. She is a devoted member of the Asbury M. E. Church and usually attends two services there on Sunday. During the past several years her health has improved and she has gained in weight. She does not wear glasses. Her interest in life is very keen and she has always been a pleasure to the children with whom she has lived, since the death of her husband.

Mrs. Mills attributes her long life to the fact that she has lived a great deal in the open air but something might be said for the fact that she has a sunny and happy disposition and has never worried about the things that can not be helped. The day following her ninety fifth birthday she motored to Berlin, Snow Hill, Pocomoke City, Princess Anne and back to Salisbury.

Mrs. Mills lived to see five generations. She has five children, who are, Mr. George Mills, of Rockford, Delaware; Mrs. George Carver, of Berlin; Mrs. Frank Argue, of New York City; Mrs. Euphrates Carey, and Mrs. John H. White, of this city. She has, also, nineteen grandchildren, forty great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

MOST SUCCESSFUL WAS HORTICULTURAL MEET

Addresses Elevating, Attendance Unprecedented And Exhibits Unsurpassed—New President Named

C. W. Smith, of Bridgeville, Del., succeeded W. Lee Allen, of this city, as president of the Peninsula Horticultural Society, which closed a most successful three-day session here last Thursday. His associate officers are: following, vice-president, Dr. E. G. Cover, Earton; Wesley Webb, Dover, Del., secretary and treasurer. The meeting next fall will be held in Bridgeville, it being the custom to thus honor the head of the organization.

The addresses at the meetings were most instructive and interesting, the attendance at each session being from all angles the affair was a decided success, not a little credit for which goes to the retiring president who worked untiringly on the project. The best exhibit of Peninsula products yet held was the display in the First Regiment Armory in conjunction with the meeting of the Society.

MANY PREPARING FOR GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

Salisburyans Will Curtail Menus And Difference In Cost Will Go To Near East Relief Sufferers

From the pulpits of the city churches last Sunday an appeal was made to the congregations by the various pastors to observe an International Golden Rule Dinner Sunday, on the second of December.

The idea is to use the same menu on this date at the Sunday dinner that is approved and provided for approximately 50,000 of the children in Near East Relief orphanages and to drop the difference into the collection plate next Sunday.

The second of December is the first Sunday after Thanksgiving, when Americans everywhere will have brought home to them with striking force the good fortune of America. Many in Salisbury are preparing to thus aid the unfortunate thru the Near East Relief.

ELKS TO HONOR DEAD ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

F. W. C. Webb Will Deliver Memorial Address To Lodge Next Sunday Afternoon—Services Private

According to directions from headquarters, which state that every Elks Lodge must hold a memorial service the first Sunday in December, the annual ceremonies will be conducted by the local Elks this year at 3:00 P. M. in the Elks Home. It is a matter for each lodge to decide whether the rituals shall be public or private. It has been the custom in Salisbury, for the past few years to have those services within the lodge and of a private nature, and this will be the form used in 1923.

The memorial service will be held for Mr. Harry Rusak, who died in August of this year. The address will be made by Mr. Fred W. C. Webb, of this city.

The supper room was tastefully decorated with berry holly and American flags.

The ladies accepted the invitation and were conveyed to and from the "Y" at the expense of the class, and were also given complimentary tickets. ASK WHAT YE WILL:—If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you—John 15:7.

SALISBURY TO THE OUTSIDE WORLD

A city's growth is not always told in terms of clearing house balances, building permits, population or school attendance. It is not always reflected in census reports, nor can any material standard tell the tale. It is true that such things are convenient yardsticks whereby material growth can be partially measured.

It is the spirit of the people who live in a city rather than any of the purely mundane badges of growth that make its present and its future, even as the faith and hope, the sacrifices and the constructive genius of those who lived in the past have wrought for those who came after them the things they have today.

Gauged by material standards, Salisbury has had a phenomenally rapid rise to commanding position in commercial, industrial and civic affairs on the Delmarva Peninsula. She has developed from a small township of two decades ago to a thriving metropolis far larger than the dreams of her founders foresaw.

Guided by the spirit of her people, the city has no reason to fear the future. The best of the old Salisbury has been engrafted upon the new structure of civic and material greatness that is rising on every hand. There is truly a new, or rather a reawakened, spirit of civic consciousness premeating every walk of life and the expression of it is everywhere to be seen.

Salisbury has entered upon a new era in more senses than one during the past few years. Her material growth has been remarkable. For the spirit of the Salisbury of today is but the faith and courage of its people in the city and its future, which, translated into brick and stone, spells material progress.

But it is something more than that, too. It is the incentive to do, to achieve; to get out of old ruts and build for the future the fairer and more satisfying community in which to live, that, acting under the power of its own initiative, shall utilize the wonderful advantages that have been showered upon it by nature, and availing itself of the development already wrought by active and courageous men, and shall become a small city with an individuality all its own and with institutions and industries best adapted to the needs of the people.

Salisbury has wrought well for itself in many directions. She has taken the leadership among the towns on the Peninsula, first, by reason of her ideal location, and second, because her citizens proved aggressive and far-sighted in their activities. And yet, though she has proved a leader and is acknowledged so, Salisbury has ever been fair and square in her relations with her neighbors. Selfishness has never played a major part in her efforts to forge ahead and there are several instances on record where Salisbury has lent a lifting hand to a nearby community or township to help it along the road to success.

The Salisbury-Wicomico Chamber of Commerce has perhaps done more for the business interests on the Peninsula than any other single organization. Today, the Traffic Department of that body is saving thousands and thousands of dollars to shippers all over the Peninsula by forcing the carriers to arrive at equitable traffic rates. The Rotary Club here last year held a free clinic for crippled children living not only in Wicomico county but Worcester and Somerset.

And so we see numerous examples of the worthy part our city is taking in the development of the Eastern Shore and the other counties on the Peninsula. Progressive in every sense of the word, Salisbury is today making noticeable strides forward to a complete realization of the dreams of her own populace that some day the Eastern Shore will boast of the second largest city in Maryland.

Just now the fathers of the city are deep in contemplation of a new million dollar water and sewer system, action on the question is expected when the next legislature meets at Annapolis. Next July, the city will be the proud possessor of a beautiful modern fire-proof hotel something that the citizens have been waiting for for a long time and it was through a community effort that the project was made possible. And in the Fall of 1924, on the outskirts of the city will stand the Eastern Shore State Normal School, a testimonial to the rise of education in these parts of the State.

The trucking industry, described elsewhere in this edition, is the financial backbone of this section and fine results are being obtained by the farmers in the productivity of the soil. Strawberries, cucumbers, sweet potatoes and cantaloupes are proving real bonanzas to the growers and financial reports are showing a marked increase in cash sales for 1923 as compared to 1922. Excellent roads are also a big factor in the development of Salisbury for they tap all the rich trading area that lies around Salisbury in every direction.

And so, rich in tradition, in material development, in achievement—in opportunities for the future, Salisbury is busy planning to continue the march of progress. Her people's faith in the future, she asks the outside world to share and she backs her claim with a record of achievement which is told in the pages of this National Publicity Edition of her home paper, which has labored week in and week out for over 30 years to aid the development of the city.

To manufacturers and business men who desire the advantages that geographical, transportation, labor and other factors of the most favorable character can bring, Salisbury throws open her gates; to the worthy man who is seeking a home in a desirable and wholesome community, we extend to him our sincere welcome and pledge him warm hospitality.

It is, after all, however, the people who make a city, and if those who come to Salisbury with the idea of locating here will meet our citizens and absorb the spirit that animates them, we have no doubt of their verdict, and this we say with due modesty. The Wicomico News is proud of its city and of the splendid men and women who are its chief asset. It invites those people living nearby and those living far away to become better acquainted with this truly American city of homes and neighborliness, of commercial advancement, of solid achievement and of golden opportunity.

MESSICK ICE CORPORATION FAST GROWING

Phenomenal Has Been Strides Made By Three Year Old Concern In Industrial Realm Of The Delmarva Peninsula—Horn Ice Cream In Constant Demand

Any doubt which may have lingered in the mind of the skeptic as to whether there was a need in Salisbury for two ice plants has long since been dispelled with the organization three years ago of the Messick Ice Company, which since 1920 has operated in South Salisbury.

Equipped with the most modern, electrically driven machinery and the latest thing in storage facilities and further than that supervised by a man whose thirteen years of experience in a like line of business, the enterprise could hardly be expected to do differently than just what it has, and that was to prove an outstanding success.

The Messick plant has the capacity for a daily output of 33 tons and a storage capacity of 3,100 tons. Carload shipments go forward to all parts of the Peninsula and refrigerator service is furnished to both Swift & Company and the Horn Ice Cream Company here.

In brief first class service backed up by the personnel of the men who go to make up the Board of Directors of the Messick Ice Company has placed that concern, yet in its infancy, among the leading plants on the Shore.

No small amount of credit goes to W. F. Messick, treasurer and general manager. Mr. Messick is a citizen of prime worth whom the community regards most highly. His principal fraternal affiliation is with the Masons. He is a consistent member of Trinity M. E. Church South, member of its official board and treasurer. Mr. Messick served one term as City Councilman and is a native of the county which accounts for much of his civic pride.

Since June of the present year, Mr. Messick has also been at the head of the Horn Ice Cream Company here and has built up the business to such an extent that 70,000 gallons have been distributed from this branch thus far in 1923.

Refrigerator trucks of this concern transport the company's products up into Delaware and other surrounding territory. An extensive service is also maintained between Salisbury and Ocean City in the summer time.

TREATMENT OF DR. THACHER QUICKLY ENDS CONSTIPATION

Test Cases Here Yield To New Vegetable Tonic; Gives Quick Relief.

Why do harsh laxatives pain and gripe you? Why do they often leave you more constipated than ever when the drug effect wears off?

It is because so many contain drugs that force, flush and injure the delicate intestines. And in order to tone and strengthen the bowels so that they move naturally, without the treacherous aid of these drugs, Dr. H. S. Thacher, the celebrated stomach specialist, perfected a purely vegetable tonic that is gentle in action, delicious to take and has brought lasting relief to countless numbers of men, women and children.

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is more than an overnight relief for constipation. It will cleanse your whole system, strengthen your digestion, tone your liver and bowels, clear up your complexion and send healthier blood coursing through your veins. The cost is only a trifle, and it is sold with the understanding that your money will be promptly returned if for any reason it fails to bring complete satisfaction and relief. Wholesale Grocery Firm W. E. Sheppard & Co. Here Has Reached
Over Twenty Two Decades

The development of Salisbury as a wholesale and jobbing center during the past quarter-century has been most rapid, and one of the greatest contributing factors to this accomplishment has been the firm of W. E. Sheppard & Company, wholesale grocery, located on Main Street here. This business had its origin some twenty years ago, under the style of W. E. Sheppard & Company. However, in 1902 it was succeeded by the W. E. Sheppard & Company. The business has occupied the same location during its entire history, and the trade has increased to such an extent that the present home occupies two floors and basement of large dimensions, as well as a large warehouse of two floors and basement in the rear of the main building.

The success of this enterprise rests vitally on the character and ability of the men behind it. From its inception, the business has enjoyed a successful record of ever-increasing volume of business and prosperity, up to today it ranks second to no other wholesale concern on the Eastern Shore. The concern employs a staff of twelve, including three traveling salesmen who cover a large area of territory including the entire Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia, and giving also up into Delaware.

Any commercial establishment can be judged to a great extent by the nature and quality of the products handled, and in this particular the firm of W. E. Sheppard & Co., occupies a merited place in the list of those most creditable enterprises which are helping to build Salisbury, and by which the city can be rightly judged. On their floors can be found products of the highest note and reputation, embracing practically every known article that a wholesale grocer might be expected to have. Notable among their stocks in their own brand of high grade patent flour, "Sheppard's Best," which by its high quality and merit, has become almost universally in demand here in this immediate section. They are also sole distributors for Lepton's teas and other products, as well as enjoying a large food business. The firm's foremost policy is Service and Progressiveness, and that they are ably living up to these policies is verified by the enviable record of success that they are today enjoying. They hold membership in the National Wholesale Grocers Association and are prominent generally in wholesale circles. The firm also holds membership in the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. W. E. Sheppard is president of the corporation; W. A. Sheppard is vice president and W. S. Sheppard is secretary and treasurer. Mr. W. E. Sheppard is a native of Wicomico County and is recognized as one of the leading business men and citizens. His experience in the wholesale business covers a period of some thirty years. Mr. Sheppard was a member of the State Legislature in 1884, at which time he put in some most constructive work in behalf of his town and county. He is now president of the board of Election Supervisors. He holds membership in the M. P. Church, and is chairman of the board of Stewards and a Trustee. Mr. Sheppard is also an Odd Fellow.

BENJAMIN & GRAHAM CO.

Products Shipped To North And Distributed To Local Trade—Established 15 Years

The Benjamin & Graham Company, Inc., manufacturers of crates, baskets, standard fruit packages, and box shooks, represents one of the largest enterprises of its kind in this section of Maryland. The firm name has made itself known widely throughout the north and other sections of the country.

These manufacturers, whose mills are located at Fruitland, have been in business for fifteen years. The business is capitalized at $30,000, and amounts to $100,000 in trade annually. A. F. Benjamin is president and treasurer.

The company maintains at its factory the highest developed equipment for this work. It has a saw mill in Somerset county, at present, operated by E. F. Disharoon, for Disharoon and Benjamin. The mills are located at Fruitland, and have a large payroll.

In addition to manufacturing shipping crates and packages this company deals in box shooks and building materials, which constitutes a big factor in the business. The firm is well known throughout the territory in which it operates.

This old established business has done a great deal toward making the marketing processes of the farmers in its locality, as well as in the North, easier and more profitable. The company's products shipped to other parts of the United States have been pronounced among the best of their kind used in the packing trade.

Mr. A. F. Benjamin, head of the business, is a well known citizen, a member of the Red Men, and a church man. The development of this business has represented the outlay of a great deal of sound business judgment, meeting a need that has become a very important one in latter day business. The business in which this company is engaged has done a great deal toward revolutionizing the distribution of the products of farm and orchard.

The members of this firm are broad gauged business men, ready at all times to give their assistance in any movement designed to promote the moral or material welfare of their fellow citizens.

The Benjamin & Graham Company is the pioneer in this section for the manufacturing of the square pint baskets. This type is regarded as indispensable in the marketing of raspberries and fruits of that nature which are scarce and consequently high priced and their sale would be cut greatly if they were retailed in quart quantities. One of their specialties is the quart berry basket of which they put out from three to four million per year. The firm was also the first to make this as well as the other size my machinery. Several crate manufacturers are supplied quart containers by the Benjamin & Graham Company.

TWIGG & SHERIDAN

Salisbury's Leading Painters; Sign, Automobile And House; Auto Tops And Curtains Made And Repaired. An Institution For Service Unsurpassed In All This Section.

A review of Salisbury's past and its present, and the progress it has made during these years, would not be complete without due mention of one institution that has justly contributed its part to the upbuilding of the community and at the same time made wonderful strides for itself.

Appearance count for much in this age, and be it said here that, in addition to all their other function, the firm of Twigg & Sheridan are truly helping to keep Salisbury looking clean and neat, with a first class painting service.

This firm, which is composed of Mr. H. H. Twigg and R. B. Sheridan, was formed in 1914 and up until Christmas, 1919, was located on Dock Street. Prior to the consolidation, Mr. Twigg operated a similar business of Fitzwater Street and Mr. Sheridan was located on Lake Street.

At Christmas, 1919, they moved into their new handsome business home, which they own, and which is located on Circle Avenue. Here they are housed in a building of modern brick construction and containing nearly 16,000 square feet of floor space.

Part of the structure, the front, has two stories while the rear is of one story construction. Today the home of Twigg & Sheridan is without equal in appearance, appointments and facilities, anywhere on the entire Eastern Shore, and easily vies with any like establishment anywhere in the larger Metropolitan centers. This is a great contributing factor to their success for they are superbly situated to turn out the very highest grade work.

The ultimate success of this concern during the last nine years occasions no surprise to those who are acquainted with the pilots of it. Although far from being old men, both Messrs. Twigg and Sheridan are truly veterans in their line, insofar as experience and service is concerned, Mr. Twigg, who is a native of Salisbury, has had twenty-five years experience in the business, having served his trade in Baltimore and Washington, coming back here from the latter city twelve years ago.

Mr. Twigg, aside from his commercial activities is one of Salisbury's leading and most public-spirited citizens. He holds membership in Trinity M. E. Church South, of which he is a Steward. Mr. Sheridan is a native of Springfield, Mo., but has been identified with Salisbury for the past ten years, and since coming here, has proven to be one of the city's most progressive and foremost citizens. The firm is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce, and is always found ready to lend of their time and means to further any worthy movement for the general welfare and advancement of their community.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. E. E. Shockley, 507 Tighman St., Salisbury, says: "I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I have used them at different times for kidney complaint and they have never failed to help me. I had backache so badly I was almost helpless. There was a constant dull ache through my back and sides and I had such a soreness across my kidneys that every move I made caused dreadful pain. I had headaches and nervous, dizzy spells. My feet and ankles swelled at times, too. I used Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at White & Leonard's Drug Store and they soon relieved the backache and headaches and the swelling left. I feel better in every way."

THRIFT

The lesson all the mercantile business houses and trades are trying to teach in Salisbury these days is one of THRIFT and financial security.

In other words, that the way to thrift is in the saving of that which is already yours—may be by a sound investment to offset natural depreciation.

There is no other institution that can serve you better in the community in which you live than YOUR BANK. It will help you save and if consulted will help you protect your savings.

The Receiver Off the Hook

When a telephone user fails to replace the receiver on the hook a serious interruption to the service results. In such cases incoming calls cannot be completed, and the operator is compelled to report the line "out of order."

On party lines, if the receiver is not replaced at any one of the stations, not only is that telephone affected, but none of the other telephones on the line can either make or receive calls. Thus an entire line is put out of service, until the receiver of one telephone is replaced.

Sometimes the receiver is accidentally permitted to rest upon a book, or some object which prevents the hook from coming all the way down. When this occurs it produces the same effect as if the receiver were not replaced.

In cases of this sort a repair man must be sent to inspect the telephone. Some little time must therefore elapse before the receiver is replaced, and during this interval calls of great importance may be lost to the subscriber.

As far back as we can trace the human race, we have found that there has always been a medium of exchange—some form of money.

And always there have been savers and spenders. The savers had the largest, highest and driest caves, and the fairest and strongest of the women. The spenders were the failures in the pre-glacial period, just as they are today.

SPLENDID SANCTUARIES MAINTAIN HIGH MORAL TONE IN SALISBURY

Twelve White Devotional Temples And Several Colored Churches Responsible For Active Church Attendance On Part Of City's Residents—Marked Friendly Spirit Prevalent

Salisbury has long been known as a city of churches; twelve white devotional temples are set apart for worship within Salisbury's boundaries in addition to several colored structures, and the membership is large. The Methodist denomination leads with three churches. Those professing that denomination worship at Ashbury, Grace and Stentley. The opposite wing of that faith, Southern Methodist, is represented by two edifices; Trinity and St. Andrews. Both Baptist sects are included in the church-goers here. One worships at the Division Street Church and the other at the Old School Baptist building on East Church St. Other denominations here attend the following houses of worship: St. Francis de Sales Catholic, Bethesda Methodist Protestant, Wicomico Presbyterian, St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal, Holiness and Seven Day Adventist. By far the greater proportion of the city's populace are church attenders. Many of the church edifices here are super-imposing structures. Bethesda Church, at the corner of North Division and William, dedicated something like a year ago is the newest. It is of stone construction and the last thing in "the church beautiful." Other stone buildings are: Trinity M. E. South and Ashbury M. E. Architecture of brick which catches the eye are Wicomico Presbyterian, St. Peter's P. E. and Church Street Baptist. The other buildings are of frame construction, highly creditable to their adherents. The Salisbury community relies largely on the resident clergy for assistance in the local projects, and ever finds the ministers ready to respond. During the activities of the World War, the church leaders, sustained by their congregations, played no mean part in the successful efforts to put Salisbury "Over the Top." In every worthy community enterprise the churches of Salisbury are found ready to "do their bit." Essentially the religious life of Salisbury is a weekday as well as a Sabbath religion, and there is no putting away of the Sunday spirit when the Monday morning dawns. The spirit of the churches in a pronounced degree exemplifies the full meaning of the word "friendly." It matters not to what denomination the newcomer belongs. Here in Salisbury he will find his church, and niche and his work awaiting him.

out a word he seated himself at the piano and let his clever, restless hands fall to the keys. The sudden hush, that greeted the exquisite expression of the symphony, held for the several minutes. Heath played. He sat with his eyes straight ahead while the notes rose like the melted throats of a hundred nightingales, clear and deep and tenderly plaintive. It was of his own composition, of his present mood, and rested upon the listeners like the cool touch of the sea, white with foam, vibrating toward them and from them in the magic of sound.

"How he had can play," Robert Kaler exclaimed in the awkward pause that came when Heath left the piano to stride past them all out into the hall. "He probably doesn't even realize we were listening to him." Amy Leigh explained to the English boy, "When Heath becomes absorbed in anything he forgets the whole world. I am always amused when he pitches into the piano like this. It is generally when he is hurt, or angry or awfully keen on something."

"Let's dance. Miss Kaler won't mind." Steven came forward, his irritation at Heath's usurpation of the floor for such an interval of time plainly visible on his handsome face. "Somebody play."

"You, Steven." Winnie put her hand on his arm. Steven settled himself at the piano and Winnie stood beside him, her small face flushed. "Here goes!" and Steven broke into a rollicking bit of jazz which threw Rodney and Amy Leigh into each others arms in a swaying contortion of steps and turns.

"Don't forget, Steven," Winnie whispered, "that you are to come home for my birthday party."

"In December, isn't it, Win?" "Yes. The fourth."

"Well, there's lots of time to think about that, but mother said the other day we were to be here no matter what else happened."

"This birthday is most important for me, you know, Steve." Steven nodded, briskly, "Yes, sure, but there isn't much you can do is there, Win?" His fingers on the keys as he spoke gave a certain lightness to his words.

"No, I don't think there is. Grandfather must have been an awful dunce to fancy I had such a little bit of character."

"The Trellis"

—By—
Ellen Douglass

Synopsis Of Preceding Chapters.

Brought north to the home of her aunt, by the will of her grandfather, Winfred Carroll, age eleven, is to be separated from her widowed mother until she is eighteen, with the choice of inheriting a fortune or going back to her old home at the end of that time. When she has been at "Dawn-hill" a week she meets a friend of her aunt, Mrs. Duncan, also her two sons, Steven and Heath. The former she admires very much. At the home of Florence Kaler, a year later, Winnie meets the two boys. Shortly afterward Florence spends a year in London with her nephew.

When Winnie is 17 she finds a note written to Florence from Italy and signed with initials, D. S. R. which are strange to her. The note inquires for Winnie. Following a trip to a gypsy camp Winnie and her friends go to Florence's home to meet Robert Kaler, who is there on a visit from London.

It was seldom that Florence Kaler allowed herself the indulgence of becoming impatient, but as the five young people crowded into her drawing room a half hour late for their engagement she did feel inclined toward inquiring the reason for the delay. Her quiet exterior, however, bore no trace of displeasure as she presented Robert Kaler to the two girls, who suddenly became reserved with the shyness of youth, and to the three boys, who responded with slight more effort to his friendly hand clasp. It was one of the secrets of Florence's charm that she never forced a situation and after introducing her nephew she withdrew from the room, leaving him to grope among the guests for a conversational foothold.

Robert Kaler had found life simple enough to approach and conquer, and he turned a smiling face to the five pairs of serious eyes upon his own. "How jolly of Aunt Flo to ask you in," he remarked, "I have heard so much of each one of you. Of course, I should recognize Winnie any where. Aunt Flo brought dozens of her photographs over home four years ago."

"I have changed since then," Winnie spoke quickly, "Why I can't imagine any one detecting the slightest resemblance to those silly little baby things."

Robert Kaler laughed heartily. "You've changed a bit, I dare say, but your face isn't so awfully different, don't you know."

A Bath a Day

For six hundred years the Romans used no medicine but the bath. Is that strange? It shouldn't be. The secret is very simple. You see the Romans bathed daily. And people who take a bath a day rarely, if ever, need medicine.

A bath a day keeps the pores of the skin open. This makes it easy for the skin to breathe. Skin breathing sanitizes the body.

Then, too, a bath a day stimulates—exercises—lubricates, you might say—all your internal organs. This stimulation keeps them working as they should.

When the organs are working properly, they are healthy. Healthy organs make a healthy body. And a body that is healthy does not need medicine.

But that isn't all. A healthy body is a builder of beauty, energy, efficiency and happiness.

If you would know the joy of health and beauty start the bath a day habit. And there is no better time to start than in this month of June.

All you need to make the start is a little will power and a good bathroom. You supply the one and we will supply the other. Start a bath a day today, keep it up, and the money you have been paying for medicine will pay for a bathroom several times over.

PREVENTATIVE STEPS BRING CITY HEALTH

Co-operative Action Between City Of- ficials And State Health Authorities Responsible For Eradication Of Malaria Evil—Construction Work In Schools Is Being Accomplished

Improved health conditions in Salis- bury today are among the city's greatest assets. The city has from time to time been visited by epidem- ics of diverse sorts but these have proved but a stepping stone to im- proved preventative methods.

The most recent epidemic experi- enced here was one of Malaria. Due to the fact that the city was practi- cally surrounded by marshes the Anophe- les Mosquito found the section quite promising as a breeding place and, as a carrier of the Malaria germ, got in some very detrimental work with the result that Salisbary harbored by far the greater percentage of the state's Malaria two years ago.

The health authorities took cogni- zance of the heavy toll this was taking in the way of efficiency in business and the detrimental effect it was hav- ing on the health of the populace in general and started work.

The major portion of this eradica- tion of the mosquito has been done by the State Board of Health working in conjunction with the city govern- ment. Several means have been em- ployed; drainage and oiling being the principal ones. This has resulted in this year reducing the disease to a minimum and the almost complet- extermination of the insect liable there- for.

A climate which never reaches the extreme either way is an added bless- ing to the health of this section.

In addition to its natural advan- tages in the way of health, the city has nearly 20 physicians and sur- geons, several of whom rank among the best on the Peninsula. They co- operate with the health department with the result that the death rate in the city is greatly reduced from what it was a decade or two ago.

Instruction of children in the schools as to the preservation of health is aiding the improvement of conditions, and the coming generation will be better equipped to still further aid in this important undertaking.

The still further improvement of the sewerage and drainage system is one of the propositions to which city officials and civic bodies are now de- voting much time and study and a bill will be presented to the Legislature this winter to enable the city to issue bonds to give it a water and sewerage system sufficient to take care of the rapid growth of the place.

The maintenance by the state of the Pine Bluff Sanatorium, for tubercu- lar patients, just outside of the city is another evidence of the healthful atmosphere which surrounds Salis- bury. This institution has outgrown its capacity and right at present an- other large unit is in the course of construction.

Salisbary is a place small enough to be devoid of the obnoxious features attendant upon the large city, large enough to possess the attributes not to be found in the small town and con- sequently ideal as a place of residence for the young, middle-aged and ven- erable.

Health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of: a blessing that money cannot buy.

W. S. GORDY, JR., OFFERS RELIABLE INSURANCE

Represents Reputable Companies In Local Field And Has Large Clientele Listed On Books

In the insurance field, not only of Salisbary, but all over the Eastern Shore the agency of W. S. Gordy, Jr., is becoming more and more widely known as the years go by, and today it is recognized as one of the lead- ing and most progressive agencies to be found anywhere in this section of the State.

This business was established in 1886 by Mr. W. S. Gordy, Sr., who successfully operated it until his death in 1914, when Mr. W. S. Gordy, Jr., succeeded him in the business and has since most successfully conducted the business along the same efficient and sound principles as laid down by the elder Mr. Gordy.

Mr. Gordy maintains large and mod- ern offices in the Old News Building at the corner of Main and Division Streets, where nearly twenty of the largest, oldest and most reliable com- panies of the world are represented, covering fire, life, marine, automobile, plate glass, health and accident, and in fact, practically every known form of insurance may be purchased from Mr. Gordy, and with each policy issued by his offices, goes also a real con- scientious service that wins and holds the utmost confidence of the policy- holder. Leading among the companies which Mr. Gordy represents are: The Equitable Life Insurance Company; the Continental Company of New York; Commercial Union Assurance Company, of London; Fire Association of Philadelphia and the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York, and several others, whose policies have long since become recognized as the highest, safest and most beneficial.

The fact that this agency has for thirty-seven years, continued to have a hearty growth is the best evidence of the high plane upon which it has been run, using only the straight- forward methods and the most hono- rable treatment of its hundreds of patrons who have come to deeply ap- preciate the functions of this agency through actual dealings and benefit from it.

All companies permitted to engage in the business now are good and safe, for the laws of the states make this possible. However, there are some that issue insurance which carries, perhaps, more benefits than others, and it is right here that the agent comes in to perform his functions of service to his clients. An agency is generally judged and rated by the reliability and standing of the com- panies it represents, and insofar as this is concerned, then we have no fear of contradiction when we say that the agency of W. S. Gordy, Jr., occupies a pre-eminent place in in- surance circles. This statement will be vouched for by thousands who have used insurance issued by his offices.

Mr. Gordy is one of the best and most favorably known business men in all this section. His long service as the cashier of the "Old Reliable"

Salisbury National Bank" has brought him in high repute among the people of the entire Eastern Shore. In this post, as in his insurance activities, he is executing policies that easily make him one of the outstanding construc- tive factors in the life of this city and surrounding countryside. For years has Mr. Gordy been contributing of his time and means for the further- ance of those projects designed to build, and today finds him to be one of the city's greatest advocates of growth and progress.

TURNER BROTHERS BIG WHOLESALE GROCERS

Firm In 35,000 Feet Floor Space—Trade Versus Delmarva Penin- sula "Like The Dew"

In this "National Publicity" Edi- tion of The News, the prime purpose of which is to advertise Salisbary to the outside world, it is the aim of the compilers to review briefly those busi- ness institutions who have contribut- ed and are today contributing so much to put this city "on the map". In this connection, the wholesale and jobbing circles of any community do as much to advertise it as a retail shopping center as any other one thing.

Salisbary, in the past few years, has enjoyed a tremendous expansion in its wholesale business, and there is no one factor that has contributed as much to this as the establishment of Turner Brothers, Inc., wholesale grocers, and the largest concern of its kind on the Eastern Shore.

This business was established in 1905, and by virtue of the business ability of its pilots, the use of modern methods and the carrying of a large stock of only the very best products, it has enjoyed a most enviable re- cord of success ever since its incep- tion. The character of this concern and the high rank in which it is held in their territory is best seen by the high grade products that they carry, which include "Veribest" Flour, Ex- cellior Vinegar, AAAA Porto Rico Molasses, Chippewa Salt and Dwin- dell-Wright Company's Coffees, as well as practically every other high quality and well known brand of food products.

FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS OF SALISBURY AND WICOMICO COUNTY REFLECT WEALTH

Strength Of Four City And Six County Banks Indicates Prosperity
Of Section—Total Resources Nearly Six Million Dollars
—$134 Is Per Capita Deposit—Large Surplus

There is no better index to strength of a community, its prosperity and its outlook for future development than the character and standing of its banks.

In Salisbury and Wicomico County, there are ten banks, all of a progressive character, and managed by men who have the interests of their respective communities as well as their clients and depositors and the public in general deep at heart.

Four of the banks are located in Salisbury, two of them being national institutions. In the county districts there are banks located at: Fruitland, Hebron, Pittsville, Mardela, Nanticoke and Sharptown.

It is doubtful if any city or county in proportion to its population can show financial institutions as strong as these ten, and there is every reason to be proud of their strength and their policies.

Each has endeavored to install and promote a spirit of thrift among the people in their respective communities and conservatism in investments has been repeatedly urged and those of their clients who have followed the advice of these officials have been fortunate to hold on to their money. Just at present the banks of Salisbury are engaged in an active and extensive plan of educational advertising in a campaign against worthless stock buying and unscrupulous bond salesmen.

All of the banks operate savings departments and each pays good interest on the time deposits as well. The policies are as liberal as the principles of sound banking will permit and no worthy undertaking or ambitious individual has ever found the way blocked to successful enterprise by a lack of backing and support.

The combined capital stock of the banks in the city and county is $447,500 with the four banks of Salisbury totaling $350,000 of this sum. The loans and discounts are around four and a quarter million dollars with the aggregate loans and discounts of those in Salisbury amounting to nearly three and a half million dollars.

The total resources of the city and county banks reach the figure of $5,505,830.67 with Salisbury's four banks represented by $4,407,038.20 of that sum. Deposits in the Salisbury vaults amount to $2,882,748.70 and in the county safes $896,412.82 or a total of $3,779,161.52. To give an idea of the strength of Wicomico's banks one has but to glance at the figures showing the total surplus on hand of $445,000, a fraction less than the combined capital stock.

The figures stated above are all exclusive of the showing of the Sharptown branch of the Eastern Shore

Trust Company which has its statement included in that of the entire chain of banks under that name.

There is one bank in Wicomico County for practically 3,000 inhabitants and the average deposit is $134 per capita.

A FINANCIAL INSTITUTION FOR 21 YEARS

Farmers & Merchants Bank A Depository Where "Little Things Count Big"—Has Been One Of City's Prime Factors In Growth And Development

No review of the commercial, financial, mercantile and civic development of Salisbury and this section, would be complete without due reference to the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Salisbury, today, recognized as one of the strongest financial institutions in the State of Maryland.

Truly can it be said that The Farmers & Merchants Bank has enjoyed almost a quarter century on the Path of True Constructive Banking—a record of which any bank may well be proud. Its record accomplishments has been the means of promoting the welfare and expansion of Salisbury and the entire Wicomico County, as well as all the adjoining territory which it today so ably serves. In fact the bank has not only served well, but has exercised an influence which has maintained the financial equilibrium of this section, and has, in every way, demonstrated that conservatism and safe banking, coupled with efficient service and fair dealing and a good courteous public spirit are principles upon which it has attracted and held thousands of depositors and customers who look upon the bank and its officers for advice and guidance in the management of their financial affairs, as well as counsel in their business transactions.

The strength of The Farmers & Merchants Bank is clearly illustrated by the fact that with its capital of $100,000, its surplus of $100,000 and its undivided profits account of over $7,000, it is most ably prepared to take care of every need, both large and small. Today its deposits are well over the half million mark and its total resources reach almost the million mark.

The Farmers & Merchants Bank is housed in a modern and handsome home, located on Main Street. The value of its home and fixtures is now over $17,000. Every improvement is provided for the convenience of its hundreds of customers, and every means of safety is used as a protection to its customers. The bank is a member of The Federal Reserve System, The American Bankers Association, The Maryland Bankers Association and The Tri-County Bankers Association.

But "Behind the Bank are The Men"—and in this truth perhaps lies the greatest strength of The Farmers & Merchants Bank, for in its personnel of officers and directors are to be found this section's most representative citizens and business men of wide repute and invaluable worth.

Mr. Travers L. Ruark, the president is also president of the T. L. Ruark & Company, one of the largest wholesale grocery concerns on the entire Eastern Shore. Mr. Daniel J. Elliott is also widely known in manufacturing and other commercial circles. Mr. Elliott is at the head of D. J. Elliott & Sons, manufacturers of crates and baskets for truck. Dr. Samuel A. Graham is Cashier and Mr. Arthur B. West is assistant cashier. The directorate is composed of Judge Joseph L. Bailey, of the Circuit Court, Attorney James E. Ellegood, Mr. D. J. Elliott, Mr. L. W. Gunby, operator of possibly the largest hardware and machinery business on the Eastern Shore, Mr. Dean W. Perdue, automobile dealer, Mr. Samuel M. Quillen, Jr., of the Berlin Milling Company, Mr. Travers L. Ruark, president of the bank, Paul E. Watson, cigar manufacturer and S. Franklyn Woodcock, Real Estate dealer.

All of these officers and directors are men of wide business experience and ability, and in whose hands the financial matters of anyone are ultimately safe, and are citizens, all of whom are primarily interested in the expansion of their city and community which they are so well serving today.

Dr. Samuel A. Graham is a native of Salisbury. Dr. Graham has been identified with banking activities since 1884 and is possessed with a wide and thorough knowledge of its every fundamental. Dr. Graham was at one time connected with The First National Bank of Elizabeth City, North Carolina, was for seven years with the Salisbury National Bank and has since served in the capacity of cashier of The Farmers & Merchants Bank. Aside from his commercial activities Dr. Graham is one of Salisbury's most active citizens for the upbuilding of his community. He is president of The Lions Club, Salisbury's youngest constructive organization; is an active member of the Presbyterian Church and is prominent in fraternal circles. Dr. Graham believes primarily in service—"Service applied, rather than abused", and his career is truly symbolic of this belief, for he is, at all times, an advocate of every movement of a serviceable and constructive nature, and always found willing to render any service to further the best interests of his city and community.

A summary of The Farmers & Merchants Bank might well be expressed in the following words: "An institution standing for the best interests of this community and its people and their welfare and protection, and one whose pilots are at all times on the alert to serve and serve well."

BLUE BIRD BEAUTY SHOP

There was a time when milady had little else to occupy her time than ministering to her own beauty. In the leisurely past woman's chief function in life was to keep this beauty ever fresh.

Times have changed, however. Women's interests in life have broadened, and milady's time is consumed by more general participation in the affairs of the day. As result, she has less time to devote to the work of preserving her own beauty. The establishment of the modern beauty parlor, which ministers to her needs in efficient manner and quickly, solves her problem.

The Blue Bird Beauty Parlor of Salisbury meets this need in an effective manner. It is now operating under new management having been taken over from Miss Leola Bedell by Misses Cora Wimbrow and Helen Bradley July 1st of this year, and is now ministering to a large clientele in rooms 303-304 Adkins Building.

Shampooing, hair waves, scalp massage, facial massage, manicuring, children's hair bobbing, and the other functions of a well-ordered establishment of this character are performed expertly by the Blue Bird Beauty Parlor, and the women and children of Salisbury are patronizing it on a large scale.

DAIRY COW INVALUABLE TO FARMER

Brings In Money All The Year Around, Distributes Demand For Labor Over Entire Year And Is Source Of Health-Giving Milk As Well

The dairy cow is by far the most economical producer of human food.
The food produced by her is the most nourishing and helpful of all foods.
The farmer who has a few dairy cows, a few chickens and a garden will always have plenty of food for himself and family besides having a surplus of dairy and poultry products to sell at good prices.

For each 100 pounds of feed consumed the sheep produces only 2 1/2 pounds of edible food solids, a steer a trifle less than three pounds, a hen about five pounds, a hog about 5 1/2 pounds and the average dairy cow 18 pounds.

There are nearly 24 million dairy cows in the United States and the annual value of their product reaches the enormous figure of over one million dollars. Only the corn crop exceeds dairy products as a source of income to the farmers of the nation.
The dairy cow brings in money all the year round. She brings in cash at the end of each month in the form of a check from the creamery and gives an additional profit each year in the form of a calf. What the cow produces today is sold tomorrow. If she produces when the market price of feed is high, her cream is sold when the market price of cream is high. There is small chance of having to sell dairy products for less than it costs to produce them.

The dairy cow distributes the demand for labor over the entire year.
She increases the amount of pork production and decreases its cost by providing skim milk and buttermilk for feeding pigs. She furnishes a home market for hay, silage and other products easily grown on the farm.

From the grass of the pasture and the roughage of the field she creates the greatest product of the farm and puts back into the soil the fertility these things have taken from it.
The dairy cow has been called "the foster mother of the world," and no more fitting title could be bestowed upon her. Without milk children languish, adults decline, vitality of the human race runs low.

SHOULD HARVEST FEED CORN BEFORE A FREEZE

Farmers Are Given Expert Advice By P. C. Holden, Agr. Ext. Dept.
International Harvester Co.

While many farmers harvest and store their seed corn at the proper time and in the proper manner, the majority of us too often depend for seed corn upon the occasional good ears found during the husking season or select our seed from the crib in the spring.

But the most successful corn growers know that every ear of corn intended for planting should be harvested before the severe fall freezes and stored where it will dry out and keep dry.

Fresh seed corn costs the country millions of dollars every year. It means poor seed, a poor stand, reduced production.

We should go into our best fields before freezing weather sets in, and select well-matured ears from the most vigorous stalks. Six bushels of seed corn are sufficient to plant about 43 acres, but in order to provide for all ordinary emergencies, we should save 15 or 20 bushels for every 40 acres. This will enable us to plant only the best and strongest ears.

If we find our corn is well matured,
it would be wise to save enough seed for two years. Next year's corn may fail to mature and we will be hard pressed for seed corn the following year, unless we have some good corn left over from this year.

As soon as we have harvested our seed corn it should be husked and hung up in an attic or some upstairs room where the windows can be opened and the air can freely circulate around the corn.

One of the best methods is to tie the corn up with binding twine and suspend the strings from horizontal wires or from nails driven in the rafters. The strings should be hung in rows, four inches apart, each way.

NEW LEADER FOR FARMERS OF THIS STATE

Senator D. G. Harry, Harford County, Likely To Lead Moderate Campaign
In Next Assembly—Is Member Governor's Agricultural Commission
Which Will Issue Report Shortly

Those watching rural politics in Maryland and wondering whether there would be any farmers' movement in this State comparable to the aggressive ones in many Western States have been much interested in the election of State Senator D. G.
Harry of Harford County.

With his election it seems certain there will be a stronger farmer leadership in the Legislature than heretofore, but that the campaign of the farmers interests will be far less radical and more co-operative with industrial and commercial interests than in the West.

Senator Harry does not claim leadership, but his prominence and activity in the interests of farmers in the last few years have marked him for the position, according to those who have followed the matter closely, and most of the farmers' organizations look to him as their stronger representative in the Legislature.

The Senator is a member of Governor Ritchie's Agricultural Commission, which shortly will issue a report on the agricultural situation in Maryland, and will suggest legislation and extra legal measures to make it possible for the farmer to earn a better living. He was for several years president of the Maryland State Dairymen's Association, one of the largest agricultural organizations in Maryland, and former president of the Maryland State Agricultural Society.

He now is a member of the Grange of Harford County, vice-president of the Federal Farm Loan Bank of Baltimore and vice-president of the Intermediate Credit Bank.

While Senator Harry was elected on the Republican ticket, he declares the farmer legislation will be entirely non-partisan. He expects it will be supported by both Democrats and Republicans interested in the welfare of the agriculturist.

Senator Harry vehemently insists he is not radical, although admitting "progressive" tendencies. There is nothing spectacular in his make-up.
He believes the farmers' problems can be worked out better around the conference table, particularly when it comes to dealing with interests which at points oppose the farmers', than by oratory or drastic legislation.

Bushel boxes are used by growers made for the special purpose of storing sweet potatoes while others employ various types of used crates. In using any type of package it is necessary to provide means for ventilation. A false slatted floor is often made by nailing 1 x 4 or 1 x 6 inch boards to 2 x 4 inch scantling. An inch space should be left between the boards to allow for circulation of air. A little space should be left between the stacks of boxes, baskets, crates or hampers. Where these smaller containers are used, especially when the same package is employed for shipping the crop it is much easier to disinfect the house by spraying when bins are used. Another advantage in using them is that when decay sets in it usually spreads only to the potatoes in the single package whereas in the bin it might spread throughout the entire pile.

Bins are to be used the interior of the storage house should be arranged for convenience in handling the sweet potatoes. A passage way about 3 1/2 to 4 feet in width is usually left between the rows of bins, or between the wall and the bins in a house with only one row of bins. Sufficient open space must be left to allow access to the ventilators in the corners of the storage house.

The bins are made as follows: for the corner and middle supports 2 x 4 inch scantlings are set up, the lower end nailed to the floor and the upper to a cross piece used for tying the sides together. Over the supports 1 x 4 inch boards are nailed leaving a 1-inch space between them. The ends of the bins parallel with the outside wall of the house must be built first because there is not room to work between the bins and the outside wall.
In making the slat floor 2 x 4 inch scantlings are cut to go across the bin and placed on edge, one near each end and one in the center. To these 1 x 4 or 1 x 6 inch boards are tacked leaving a 1-inch space between them.
If left loose the slat floor racks can be taken out when the house is cleaned and disinfected during the summer.
The size of the bins will depend somewhat on the size and the arrangement of the house but it is not advisable to make them more than 5 feet wide, 6 to 8 feet deep and 10 to 12 feet long. There should be a 6 x 12 space between the walls and bins to allow a circulation of air. It is necessary to slat up both sides of the scantlings between the bins in order to leave an open space between the potatoes in the different bins. The construction here described allows a 4 inch space under the bins and outside walls.

The Ten Commandments Of Curing and Storing.
Clemson College—Bulletin 47.

1. Maintain a temperature of 80 to 85 degrees during the curing period

—ten to fourteen days.

2. Give thorough ventilation during the day but do not allow the temperature to fluctuate.

3. Close the floor ventilators at night if danger of frost.

4. In severe weather close all ventilators in floor and roof.

5. Examine the house during the curing period each noon and night.

6. When the curing period is over (the roots indicating sprouting or purple blue spot at the bud) gradually reduce the temperature by discontinuing the fire to 80 degrees.

7. Once each day, if weather conditions permit, open the ventilators and outside doors and windows but close them completely early each afternoon.

8. During wet weather if moisture forms on the glass of the interior door and window and the house appears damp, open the ventilators and keep a slow fire until all dampness has been driven out.

9. Have a regular time, preferably in the middle of the day, to remove potatoes from the house and do not return potatoes once removed.

10. Let one person be responsible for and entirely in charge of the house.

Diseases.
Eighty percent of the country's sweet potato crop is destroyed annually by fungus diseases according to what delegates told at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in session in St. Louis. The rotting can be held down to only two percent if proper precautions are followed.

In 1918 Georgia, alone, lost over 5,000,000 bushels of sweet potatoes from diseases that could have been prevented. "Delaware is losing annually from field and storage diseases of the sweet potato fully 120,000 bushels. The percentage of loss is probably just as large in the sweet potato districts of Maryland, Virginia and other states with large acreage."

Dr. L. L. Harter, a foremost authority of sweet potato diseases, tells us that "losses from these (storage rot) troubles are heavy in storage but may be reduced considerably by careful handling and by storing only sound potatoes in a suitable, thoroughly disinfected house in which proper temperature and humidity are maintained. It is likely that if sweet potatoes were handled with the same care and intelligence as apples little difficulty would be experienced in keeping them in storage."

It is generally understood that the rots do not usually attack the tubers unless there is some break in the skin of the potato where the disease spore may lodge and enter. A smooth unbroken potato without bruises, cuts or other abrasions is almost immune to diseases in storage. Careless handling at digging time causes bruises, cuts from the plow and other cuts which allow the entrance of disease germs.

Sweet potato diseases may be divided roughly into (1) field diseases and (2) storage diseases. But as there is practically no loss from diseases in the field and as most so-called field diseases are the results of storage rots and diseases it seems practicable to discuss them all under one head.

In speaking of the losses from field and storage diseases of sweet potatoes in Delaware, which is applicable to all other sweet potato states or section perhaps, Dr. Thomas F. Manna has the following to say in Bulletin
No. 127 of the Delaware Experiment Station. "The losses are accounted for as follows: (1) Reduction in crop yields through diseases carried to the fields on slips from the seed bed or from infection already in the field;
the yield being reduced from these factors fully 10 percent on an average. The various diseases which are active in causing this loss are Black Rot, Stem Rot or Vine Wilt, Soil Rot, also known as Pit or Fox. White Rot sometimes erroneously accounted for as fertilizer injury or supposedly improper setting of slips, Soft Rot and all other losses from disease prior to the roots being placed in storage. (2) The losses while in storage or subsequent thereto amount to on an average about 20 percent of the crop. This loss is not to be attributed to any one disease but rather there are several very active troubles.
The more important of these are soft rot, black rot, charcoal rot, scurf, dry rot and surface or sunken spot. Associated with the above rots are a number of secondary fungi which are contributing factors in hastening storage, result indirectly from improper practice, such for example, black rot in seed and seed bed, late digging injury resulting from chilling or freezing, rough handling during digging, carting and storing, improper construction of house, poor and irregular heating, bad ventilation, freezing in storage, etc. The sweet potato is a very perishable root and the many charges it undergoes in storage are not well understood.

SALISBURY RICHLY ENDOWED BY NATURE AS QUEEN CITY OF DELMARVIA PENINSULA

Looms Up As Logical Industrial Center Of Part Of Three Atlantic States

Presents The Startling Appearance Of A Thriving Metropolis Surrounded By Distinctive Agricultural Community—County Seat Of Wicomico County Is Beautiful Place Of Residence With Remarkable Progressive Spirit Displayed By Sons Of Tradition.

To the traveler who has visited the smaller cities of the country, either on business or pleasure bent, Salisbury comes as a most agreeable surprise. It is unlike any other city of its size anywhere. Nestling here in the garden spot of Maryland, one of the richest agricultural countries in the world, he discovers a miniature modern city, the industrial capital of a large part of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware. One would naturally expect to find the typical country town in such a location, surrounded as it is by a distinctively farming community, but the visitor is startled to see instead a twentieth century town, with vitrified brick-paved streets, cement sidewalks, business blocks that would not look out of place in the largest cities of the land, wholesale houses that underlie those in Philadelphia and Baltimore, with millions of dollars behind them; factories whose salesmen are on the road as far North as New York, as far West as Kansas and as far South as Texas.

He will find banking houses with capital larger than those of any other city of its size in the State, railway and steamship lines with splendid transportation facilities, unequalled by its rivals; a complete sewerage system, gas, water and electric light companies that furnish these utilities to the public cheaper than any of her sister cities; graded schools that are the envy and despair of her sister counties, a city government free from graft, and a hospitable, happy people, who work hard, are energetic and ambitious, believing in the destiny of their town and optimistic to a degree found in but few places.

And they are not from other places either like we find so often in the South, for nearly every business man in the city nearly everyone who has had most to do with the upbuilding of Salisbury, was born right here, or in Wicomico county. These are the men who have transformed Salisbury from a little cross-roads town with a small lumber mill and a few stores into a flourishing manufacturing center and the chief distributing point for large parts of the richest sections of three states. It is an achievement of which they ought to be proud, but they take it all as the day's work and keep right on doing it over again.

The young men of Salisbury stay at home, and this is one of the secrets of her prosperity. They do not, as in so many smaller places, emigrate as soon as they leave school, and some of the most prosperous business and professional men of the city are under thirty. In most towns of this size at least half of the men of affairs come from a distance, but this is not so here, for the people of Salisbury know, many of them by unpleasant experience, that there is no place like home. So it is that the city has an individuality all its own. Located on the Wicomico, in the heart of the Eastern Shore, near the famous Mason and Dixon Line it is half Northern and half Southern in its character, a delightful blending of the best that is in both great sections of the country. One never hears any talk of the Civil War, thank goodness, as in other places. One would never know such an epoch had ever been unless he opened the pages of his history. The great conflict did not touch Salisbury and there is nothing to commemorate it.

The people impress the traveler as being intensely modern; they live in the present, look forward eagerly to the future and let "the dead past bury its dead." There is little ancient history connected with this city, no mouldering ruins and tumble-down shanties, with yards overgrown with weeds and traditions to be treasured by the oldest inhabitants, and no "Washington's Headquarters." In place of these useless monuments are solid brick and stone blocks of business houses and miles of streets bordered with shade trees standing in front of hundreds of modern residences. Salisbury is a beautiful city as well as a business city and the two do not go hand in hand everywhere. When it is contrasted with the manufacturing towns of the same size in the North and West they are at a most decided disadvantage. Because the people are up-to-date and strictly business, it must not be inferred that they do not take time to enjoy the good things of life for you would make a grave mistake.

Salisbury is most emphatically a city of homes and beautiful homes. The people pride themselves upon this and each householder seems to have entered into a friendly rivalry as to who should possess the prettiest yard and garden and who should have the neatest house. Most of the houses are detached and surrounded with well-kept grounds. The fence has been to a great extent eliminated and this adds much to the appearance of the residence portion of the town.

There are flowers everywhere. Roses, honey-suckle, sweet-peas, balsam, zinnias and dahlias wait their perfume on the air as one strolls along the shaded streets. Here and there are old-fashioned gardens with snapdragon, sunflowers, sweet mignonette, verbena, hollyhocks, phlox and heliotrope in bloom, while the morning glory with its profusion of white, pink and purple blossoms climbs everywhere over the broad, cool verandas, where bright colored hammocks idly swing with their fair occupants.

The number and beauty of its homes is one of the first and most favorable impressions on the stranger. Even the colored population seem to have imbibed the spirit of progress and many of them own the little houses in which they live. Land is still cheap, though it is increasing in value every year and offers a splendid field for investment. There is plenty of room to grow and several subdivisions have been laid out in the beautiful suburbs that are being built upon. Nearly everyone owns their home and the building of one is made easy by the liberal terms of payment offered and the fact that located in the city are two flourishing building and loan associations that have done much toward making the city what it is today.

Salisbury is the natural metropolis of this rich section of country that only needs development to make it become one of the great manufacturing centers of the country, as it is already one of the great agricultural sections. Her most progressive citizens realize this and they have confidence in the faith that is in them. The great fire was an awakening from the lethargy that had come over them. Up to that time they had to a great extent been industrially asleep, but this catastrophe, a blessing in disguise, awakened and quickened their dormant faculties. For the first time they realized the possibilities that lay all around her and awoke to grasp them. Her location could not have been better, had it been selected by one who had the power to draw aside the veil and look into the future. She stands at the very gateway of this vast territory that has only just begun to be developed. It is not to be wondered at that her wholesale trade has grown with such remarkable rapidity. Closer to her customers by 221 miles than New York City, 103 miles from Wilmington, 131 miles than Philadelphia, 100 miles than Baltimore, and 125 miles than Norfolk, with splendid shipping facilities both by rail, boat and over excellent turnpikes, she can undersell them in every commodity demanded by the consumer. Her wholesale merchants no longer as of yore have to go to those of the larger cities for their goods, but get them from the same sources and at the same prices in carload lots. They buy direct from the manufacturer for cash, take advantage of every discount, and the retail merchant and the consumer get the benefit of their enterprise.

OFFICE FACILITIES FOUND IN SALISBURY ARE AMPLE

Commodious Spaces And Well-Appointed Accommodations Are Offered Professional Men And Business Concerns For Executive And Administrative Work.

Salisbury's office facilities are ample for all present purposes, and are being added to from time to time. Business of all kinds and classes may be accommodated here, and the range of choice runs from the smaller type of office in some of the older structures of the city to the spacious, well-lighted rooms in the large office buildings.

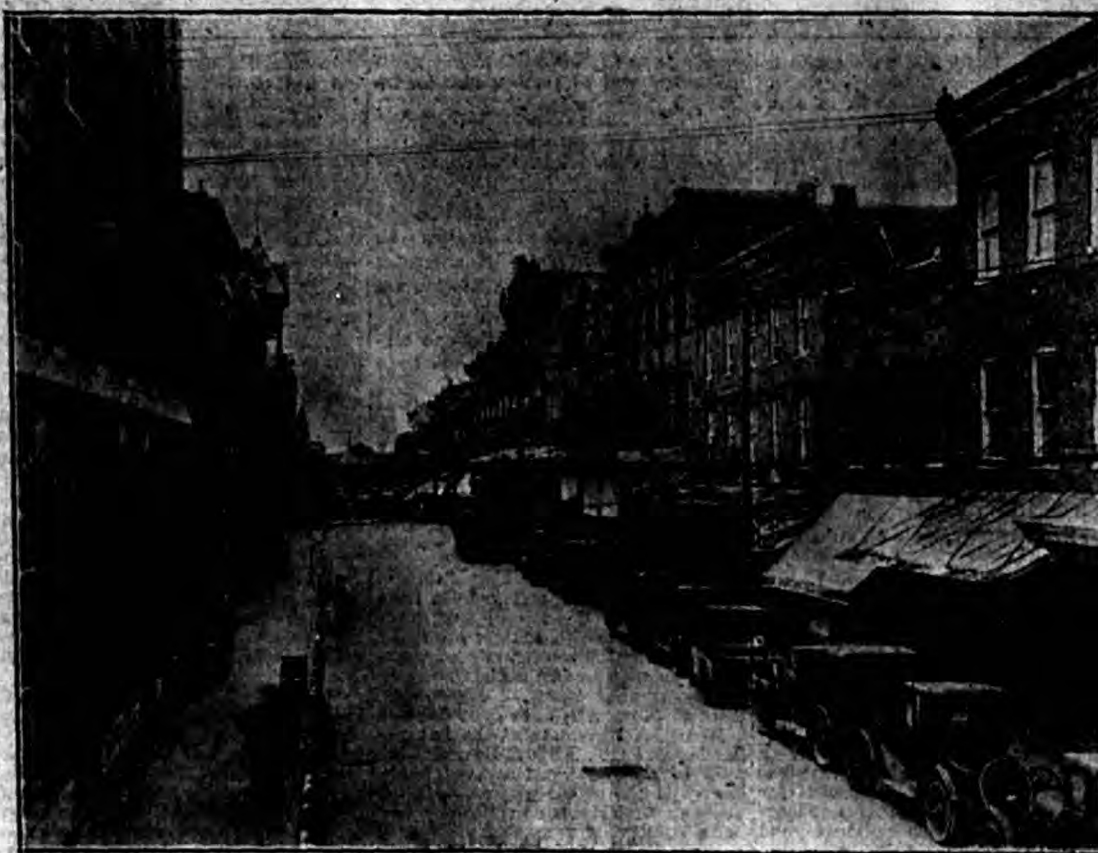

Most of the latter edifices are right in the heart of the business section and are office buildings of the most modern type. Certain businesses have grouped their offices in close proximity and there are found therefore whole floors given over to large concerns for executive and administrative work.

Among the larger office buildings stands the one occupied on the lower floor by the Central Bank, with elevator running up four stories. This structure is on the southwest corner of Main and Division Sts. and its attractiveness will be enhanced when the new Wicomico Hotel rises just opposite on Division St.

Directly across on Main St., is the News Building, one of the oldest of office buildings in the city, but which has been remodeled into a modern type of imposing appearance. On the third floor of it are the large offices

Atmosphere of Neighborliness Invites Home-seekers to City

Romance Of "The Old Homestead" Still Woven Delightfully Into Life Of Salisbury—Other Attractive Features Beckon To Prospective Resident Who Recognizes Value Of Settling In A Wholesome Community

By WM. M. COOPER

Next to that of "self preservation" the strongest urge in the lives of men is the instinctive desire to own a home. Many substitutes have been offered; socialism spread its pernicious propaganda and various sects have arisen with fantastic schemes for abolishing the family altar, but they have long since been forgotten and the home still survives. It is still the "bulwark of the Nation" and will so continue until time shall be no more. Nothing finer could be said of a "City of homes."

Sentiment plays its part in every phase of our lives and memory weaves a halo of romance about the "old homestead," yet the turbulent stream of humanity flows on and potential home-builders are asking the question "what superior or natural advantage has your town to offer?" It is the purpose of this article to answer that question and to show that Salisbury possesses many advantages peculiar to itself that make it indeed "the residential City."

Every locality can boast of some attractive features, every town enjoys to a greater or lesser degree certain natural advantages. Salisbury possesses in a large measure a maximum of attractive features that make it highly desirable as a home center. The climate is salubrious and no extremes of heat or cold mar the crisp air of the winter or the glorious sunshine of summer. Over roads that remind one of the "Applan way" an hour's ride brings you to the seashore where bathing, boating and fishing can be enjoyed to the heart's content.

Situated on the main line of the Pennsylvania, the larger cities of the North and South are within easy reach. It is essentially a church-going community and practically all of the larger denominations are represented. The religious and social life of the community is wholesome and edifying. In educational facilities Salisbury is well equipped to care for the boys and girls who throng the study of her commodious High School. A corps of competent and experienced teachers, carefully chosen with a view to the special requirements of each grade, provides for the children the very best educational advantages possible.

For playtime the Y.M.C.A. offers healthful and innocent sport and recreation for both boys and girls. The far reaching effect of the Christian influence thus thrown around the children cannot be measured in words. What is more in a city desirable than that it is a safe place in which to rear children. Salisbury is progressive and that spirit of progress is manifested in her educational institutions, in her zealous care for the manifold needs of the future generation.

Geographically, her location is unsurpassed. Transportation by water and rail offer adequate facilities to the merchant, farmer and manufacturer. The surrounding territory, rich in a wide variety of crops, guarantees her prosperity, and want within her bounds is a thing unknown. The climatic conditions make for rugged health and her agricultural resources provide a never failing income for him who is willing to work. Her shopping district is a miniature "great white way" and her stores display all that the seasons and latest and best in merchandise that can be procured. Possessing all the advantages of the large city it still maintains that spirit of community interest for which it is well known and justifiably proud. Good fellowship prevails and the stranger is made welcome within her gates.

A splendid appointed hospital with a strong medical staff, provides every facility for the care of the sick. Ground has been broken for a big normal school, second to none in the State. All of these advantages might be elaborated upon almost indefinitely but there is no need. The number of homes in process of construction are the strongest evidence of Salisbury's claim to being pre-eminently the "home city."

Her people are kind, altruistic and neighborly. Her varied industries provide employment for all, and for the home-seeker she offers exceptional opportunities.

These are the points that are noticed by every visitor that comes to the township on the banks of the Wicomico and which appeal to the stranger who is looking for a wholesome community in which to settle.

Progress Is Obtained Best By A Spirit of Enthusiasm and Cooperation.

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

R. D. GRIER & SONS BIG MACHINE WORKS

Operating Salisbury Machine Works, One Of Largest Industrial Enterprises On Entire Peninsula. Now Piloted By Messrs. Ralph H. Alex T. And Robert D. Grier, Jr.

Thirty-five years continuous service is a record of which any business institution may well be proud, and one of which but few can boast. Such a record is truly significant of real service that has merited and won the sincere confidence of a discriminating public.

In 1888 the late R. D. Grier established his machine works in Salisbury, on a comparatively small and modest scale, thus laying the foundation of what is now this city's, and in fact, the entire Eastern Shore's biggest and most substantial concerns of its kind.

Upon the death of Mr. R. D. Grier, the operation of the business passed into the hands of his three sons, Mr. Ralph H. Grier, President and Manager, Alex T. Grier, Vice President and Treasurer and Robert D. Grier, Jr., Secretary, who have since piloted the business on the same high business principles set down by their esteemed father, and who are, from year to year materially advancing the business to even higher planes.

The plant of The R. D. Grier & Sons Company today is one of the largest of its kind to be found anywhere in this section of the country, and is one of Salisbury's largest industries. An average of twenty-five persons are employed in the large plant located on Railroad Avenue East Church Street, where is carried on a general business of machinery and foundry operations. They make a specialty of engines, boilers, sawmills, steam pipes, belting, rollers, basket and barrel machinery, also inserted tooth saws, pulleys, shaftings and hangers, electric motors and supplies, all kinds of mill supplies, valves, fittings and general repairs.

The R. D. Grier & Sons Company is the only concern on the Shore that does electric welding of all kinds including car frames and trucks. They also do oxy-acetylene welding for the benefit of their patrons. They have a large 250 ton Hydraulic Press for putting on large truck tires, as well as a large and complete line of Goodyear solid and pneumatic tires which are carried in stock at all times. In addition to this the company does extensive business in furnishing and installing canning house machinery and makes a specialty of marine machine work and work on steam fishing craft, electric motors and supplies.

In this review of Salisbury and this section—their past growth and present prospects, there is no concern that is deserving of more mention and credit than is this institution, whose services have become indispensable in the daily life of this community, and in which we can see the most modern business ideas and principles. However, no business institution can be greater and stronger than the individual lives and characters of the men who are behind it, and in view of this it is no more than fitting and proper that we review the men behind this business.

Mr. Ralph H. Grier, the President and General Manager, is one of Salisbury's best and most favorably known business men, being identified with many prominent commercial and civic interests that figure in the life of the city. He is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, a director of the W. F. Messick Ice Company, R. Q. Evans & Son and the Reese-Wimberly Manufacturing Company. Mr. Grier is a business man of marked ability, and a citizen of prime worth, always an advocate of things that make for the progress and advancement of his community and ever ready to invest of his time and means to further any movement designed for this purpose. Mr. Alex T. Grier, Vice President and Treasurer of the Company, is a young man of marked business ability whose career has been crowned with enviable success. Mr. Grier is a veteran of the World War and saw more than a year's service overseas. He holds membership in the American Legion, in which he is prominent, is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club, is a Director of the Arcade Theatre Company and they are also active members of Wicomico Presbyterian Church, also highly prominent in Masonic Circles.

Mr. Robert D. Grier, Jr., like his brothers, holds many prominent commercial, civic connections here. Much more could be written of The R. D. Grier & Sons Company if space were to permit, but when we come to consider its true relation and importance to this community and its daily commercial life, true justice cannot be done on paper. In summary we can but point to its thirty-five successful years and its many accomplishments, as a monument to the high and big ideals of its late esteemed founder and sons who today are carrying on the enterprise to even greater heights of enviable success.

O. D. BRADLEY'S GARAGE

Does All Kinds Automobile Work By Expert Mechanics. Large Line Accessories, Gas And Oils Handled. O. D. Bradley Owner And Manager.

This is a far different day from that of the splendidly equipped carriage, with its high stepping horses, but it has been spanned in a space of time so brief, that one wonders how it was possible for the automobile industry to have developed its army of highly trained mechanics in so short a time.

However, it has not only been possible, but is a fact as one will quickly see by visiting the well appointed and well equipped garage of Mr. O. D. Bradley on West Main street, which does the most intricate work of any kind on automobiles, makes a specialty of Ford repairing and carries a large and complete line of all kinds of accessories including Ford parts. Mr. Bradley is located in one of the largest and most modern garage plants on the entire Peninsula, which he owns. He employs a large corps of high trained and skilled mechanics, all having thorough knowledge of the business and who are sure to render the most satisfactory service at prices that compel the favor and good will of the hundreds of patrons of this garage. Mr. Bradley also handles Texaco, Standard and American Oil Company's products and has free air and water for the convenience of his trade and the public in general.

Prior to building his building and moving on West Main street Mr. Bradley was for two years located on Lake street.

In all, his experience covers a period of eighteen years, each year a crowning success over the previous one. Since launching business for himself he has experienced a phenomenal record of achievement and success, and today his garage stands out as one of preeminence of anywhere on the Eastern Shore. Both he, and his employees are just as anxious to please their customers as their customers are to be pleased, and therein lies the secret of the success of this business. Every job must be turned out to give satisfaction and to be a credit to the business.

Mr. Bradley is one of Salisbury's most energetic young business men who has contributed largely to the commercial and civic growth of the community. He is always manifesting a keen interest in its welfare, and ever willing to co-operate in any move ment designed to further its best interests.

JOHN T. ELLIS & SON

Fifty Years Continuous Service As Manufacturers And Dealers In Marble And Granite Monuments; Oldest And Largest Institution On Entire Peninsula.

A half century of continuous service, in the same line and in the same location is truly a record of which anyone has a double right to be proud and one which is today possessed by but very few business houses or individuals. Not only is the owner of this record proud, but the city in which this business stands is proud of it, and today looks upon it as being one of its landmarks of the highest integrity.

Since the days of King Solomon workers in marble and granite have been assets in the life of any great undertaking, which in modern times means the building of a city commercially, as well as also being the agent supplying that token of highest esteem to those who have gone beyond. In both of these functions has the firm of John T. Ellis & Son, for the past fifty years, been serving Salisbury and the entire peninsula. This business was started in 1876 by Mr. John T. Ellis, who started his career in this line when he was only fourteen years of age. Even from the very time that he launched business for himself did Mr. Ellis enjoy a marked degree of patronage and support from the local public, and his business grew with each passing year. His extraordinary career, however, has not been without its difficulties and setbacks, for in 1886, right at a time when he was beginning to enjoy his greatest success, along came the big fire that almost wiped out the entire town, and in it Mr. Ellis lost everything that he had accumulated. However, being endowed with that determination that insures success, he did not quit, but immediately made another start, and since that time his has been an uninterrupted service that has become known and famed all over the peninsula. In 1900 Mr. Ellis was joined by his son, Mr. E. H. Ellis, and they together have built up one of the largest monumental businesses to be found anywhere in this section of the country. Their plant, on Camden street, is modern in every particular, and is housed in a large and modern building which they own.

Mr. Ellis handles only the very highest grade of marble, which comes from Vermont, and is known the world over for its excellency quality. Each year has brought for Mr. Ellis and his son a greater volume of business, due to the superior workmanship and prompt service that they give.

Their customers today are found all over the Eastern Shore as well as also over a wide area away from this immediate locality. Only recently did they design and ship a large and handsome monument to Ocean, Virginia, for the late Joseph Foster Belkows, one of Lancaster county's foremost citizens, business men and capitalists.

Mr. John T. Ellis not only holds the envied distinction of being one of the city's oldest and most respected business men, but for fifty years he has been one of its most influential citizens, watching with profound interest, every step of the community's progress and always found to be an active figure in its development. Today he is found to be equally as interested and willing to contribute of his time and means to further any worthy movement for the benefit of this community. Both he and his son are public-spirited citizens, who, by virtue of that citizenship and by virtue of their commercial activities, have played a most important part in the life of the city and this section, and it is a pleasure for The News to make this mention of them and their most creditable business, without which no review of Salisbury would be complete.

THE MORRIS BROS. CO.
DISTRIBUTES ITS PRODUCTS IN THREE STATES

Large Mill Work Establishment Has Built Up Big Trade In Its Fourteen Years In Salisbury

The Morris Brothers Company, manufacturers of building material of all kinds, went into business in Salisbury in 1909 and since that time its plant has grown to such proportions that it covers four acres, their traveling salesmen are putting its goods on the market in a steadily widening territory where its products have become a standard commodity.

A business that contributes to build up has something of permanence about it. Such an industry is the Morris Brothers Company, and innumerable homes and business establishments in Salisbury, other sections of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware are built of Morris materials, and stand as monuments to the Morris workmanship.

The Salisbury plant, established originally on the same location it occupies at present, consists of a saw mill, planing mill, and building material department. The timber used in the mill is obtained locally, while the building material comes from the South and East. Thirty-five employees are on the company's payroll, many of them expert mechanics who, have been in the company's employ for many years.

The company's salesmen cover Maryland, Delaware and Virginia and the company is the representative of the Weatherbest Stained Shingles, which have gained a wide popularity throughout the territory covered by this firm's business. Demand for these products at times have been so brisk and so urgent the company has been totally unable to fill orders without delay.

Acorn Brand (Oak) Flooring, and the H. B. Short Shingle are among the other specialties of this concern, all of which have the Morris Brothers Co. own guarantee as well as the guarantee of the manufacturers. Sash, doors, blinds, and other lines of building materials are handled in unlimited quantities by the company.

U. W. Morris is president of the concern, E. B. Morris is vice president and L. Merrill Morris is secretary and treasurer. All are well known in Salisbury and vicinity and are prominently identified with the business and civic life of the community. Mr. U. W. Morris is active in the business, is a native of Salisbury, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Methodist church. He was formerly with Adkins and manages the Salisbury business. Mr. R. E. Morris is also active in the business and like his brother, was with Adkins prior to opening the business in 1909. He is a Mason and a member of other fraternal orders, is a member of the Lions Club and the Methodist church. Mr. Merrill is a native of Salisbury, a Mason and a Presbyterian. All are public spirited citizens and broad-gauged business men, who have put into practice their broad vision and have made their business grow to very generous proportions. They are ready at all times to lend time and means to any movement designed to promote the moral or material welfare of their fellow citizens.

THE SMART SHOP

The old impression possessed by some few that "women have no place in business" is fastly giving way to the concrete proof that they do have a very important place there, which is all the time gaining ground, because statistics show that almost a hundred per cent of women who engage in business make a phenomenal success of it.

We have no better example of the truth of this than in the career of The Smart Shop, located on Main Street in Salisbury, and owned and managed by Miss Ida M. Lord. Miss Lord has been engaged in this business for eight years, and in addition to her place here, she also conducts a similar business at Ocean City, Maryland, in season. Miss Lord has just closed a most successful season at this famous summer resort.

Miss Lord's shop is beautifully appointed and equipped with modern fixtures. It has the distinction of being the only exclusive place of its kind here, and serves a long felt want in the community. The stocks of Art Goods, Yarns, Embroidery Work, Stamped Goods and Greeting Cards, is large and well kept, thus depicting the true merchandising genius of the manager and her assistants. Miss Lord has established a most enviable reputation for carrying only the highest grade of goods and selling them at moderate prices, and to this, can the most of her success be attributed.

DEVELOPMENT OF RIVER BIG FACTOR IN COMMERCIAL LIFE OF SALISBURY

Actual Expansion Of Facilities On Water Dates Back To 1906 And In Past Two Decades Bulkhead Frontage Has Increased Approximately 500 Per Cent—Vast Tonnage Received In Two Prongs Of River After Widening And Dredging By War Department—To Continue Work

By E. Sheldon Jones

For centuries waterways have played a very conspicuous part in the development of nations, states, cities and towns. Without navigable streams and adequate wharves, no community can prosper and expand commercially to any great extent.

Salisbury lays no claim to river-front scenic beauty and picturesque views and indeed her harbor in this respect must be put far into the background when contrasted with some of her sister towns right here on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Yet what it lacks in attractiveness to the eye is more than offset by the increment added to the prosperity of the people.

Delving into the archives of local history a bit one finds that something like 70 years ago, Salisbury was not even located on what could be rightfully termed a navigable stream of water. The old steamboat wharf was located at the "Cotton Patch," at the mouth of Tony Tank Creek, a mile's distance from Salisbury, and from this point merchants were compelled to have their incoming wares floated in to the town on barges which displaced but little water and which were propelled by man power in the form of negro slaves.

Indeed, although the river channel was in the meantime dug out so that smaller types of craft could enter the port at the foot of Main street, the history of Salisbury's harbor development virtually dates back to around 1906. In the past two decades, the town's bulkhead waterfront has grown from one-half mile in length to between two and one-half to three miles, or a total in excess of most of the towns on the Delmarva Peninsula.

It was during the incumbency of Charles E. Harper, thrice Mayor of Salisbury, that plans were laid looking to the expansion of the harbor facilities and the city's former chief executive is universally given the credit in this section for the bulk of the achievements which have been wrought since that time. Mr. Harper, besides being the prime mover in this project looking to a "Bigger Salisbury," has been an indefatigable worker from the very outset and today his pet hobby is the development of the Wicomico River to its utmost possibilities for the interest of the people whose holdings lie along its shores, and for the interest of his beloved native town. Mr. Harper has given unselfishly of his time and unstintingly of his money to this project.

Working hand in hand with Mr.

Harper since its founding several years ago is the progressive Salisbury-Wicomico Chamber of Commerce. This body has backed every river enterprise to the limit. These forces combined with certain political backing and the interest taken by the War Department in this section, have been able to bring about improvements which have resulted in bringing to Salisbury thousands upon thousands of dollars in additional revenue yearly.

In 1906, an appropriation was secured from Congress sufficient to dredge the north prong of the river from the Pivot Bridge to the Electric Light Plant. Prior to this, the stream was only penetrable something like 100 yards beyond the span. The channel was dredged to 9 feet at low water and from 150 to 200 feet wide with a turning basin at its extremity of 300 feet in width. This resulted in the reclamation of many acres of almost valueless land to owners whose property abutted on the stream and automatically set in motion the wheels of industry the turning of which has resulted in making Mill street today one of the thriving commercial centers in Salisbury, with its splendid wharfage facilities at the back door of the factories and yards and the spur of the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway at their portals.

Today a business turnover of approximately a million dollars is estimated on the Wicomico's East bank alone as a result of the opening up of this avenue of commerce. This unusual enhancement of property value was brought about by the expenditure of the ridiculously small sum on the part of the property owners of $4.24 per running foot, the charge for putting in the bulkheads the only feature exacted by the War Department.

When this project was finished, everyone here was immensely pleased but the question asked generally was: "Now that we have our fine wharfing how are the big vessels going to get up the narrow, shallow and crooked river?" This loomed up as the bugaboo.

The same forces again rushed into the breach and about 1910 a preliminary survey was allowed by the War Department. On top of this an appropriation was recommended to Congress for the digging out and widening of the river bed from its mouth to Salisbury. The proposal went thru and the money provided for by the United States Government. Everything was in readiness just before the World War began. This conflict stopped temporarily all work of this nature and it was not until 1922, that the project was reviewed to the extent of starting operations. In May 1922, work was started which when completed in January of the present year, gave a channel of nine feet in depth at low tide and a width of 100 feet at bottom of channel. Several of the sharper bends were also eliminated.

Those interested, although recognizing that a tremendous benefit accrues to Salisbury, realize that boats of the type which increased facilities here might attract can still not navigate the stream and a movement is on foot at present to get an appropriation from Congress sufficient to dredge the body of water to a channel depth of 12 feet and a width of 200 feet at the bottom of the course. This naturally could not be done under the provisions of an appropriation for the survey of 1910 but the best thing in sight to do was to make use of the money and trust to the future for further assistance. The proposition of securing buoys for the river is also being worked on and a committee was recently appointed by the Chamber of Commerce of which Mr. Harper is a member, to push along these matters.

Expansion of the Smith & Williams Shipyard facilities has made that plant capable of turning out a 250 ft. craft. This firm has been designated by the government as one of a number to take care of building and repairing government boats on the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries.

Until about 1908, navigability of the south prong ceased at Camden Bridge. During the year just previous to that, nature played a prank which, while robbing Salisbury of one of the most beautiful lakes in this section, made possible a development right in the heart of the commercial section undreamed of prior to that event.

The South Division Street dam gave way and in the course of a few hours, Lake Humphreys, where started the romance of many a since happily married couple, poured its waters into the Wicomico River and its existence ceased.

This drainage left a condition which rapidly developed into a health menace. A solution was looked around for and in 1908, a group of far-sighted, enterprising business men took over the property after incorporating themselves into what is known as the Salisbury Realty Co.

The debris was cleared up, the channel dug out and about 50 acres of valuable real estate reclaimed. As a result, today large vessels can proceed clear up the south prong to the tracks of the Norfolk Division of the

SALISBURY'S HARBOR SHELTERS MANY CRAFT

Pennsylvania Railroad and cargoes of commodities estimated at $200,000 annually pass thru the Camden Bridge to wharf property where formerly vessels could not penetrate.

A class of shipping has been attracted here in the last several months, which could never have been expected without the improvement to the river. Salisbury people know that even greater prospects are in store. The further development of the stream is being worked on diligently, in a business-like manner, with patience and with the belief that Congress and the War Department will recognize, as they have previously done, the pressing need of the things asked for and will act according to their best judgment as it has been found they have always done in the past.

SMITH & WILLIAMS CO. ONE OF BIGGEST BUSINESS ENTERPRISES IN COUNTY

Construction And Repair Of Vessels Has Been Made Big Industry By Salisbury Concern.

One of the most outstanding examples of the diversified industry which keeps Salisbury people in a prosperous condition when other sections complain of hard times is seen in the plant of Smith & Williams Company, builders and repairers of commercial and pleasure water craft. This is one of the most productive business enterprises in this section.

J. S. Smith is sole owner and manager of the plant. It was established in 1913 by Mr. Smith and Messrs. N. L. and A. L. Williams, the latter two remaining in the company until 1918, when Mr. Smith took full charge. He has operated and expanded the business alone since that time.

The plant of this company covers eleven acres. Recently a tract of eight acres was bought and a new 1,300-ton railway derrick was installed, along with other new machinery which provided for increased operations. Seventy-five people are employed in the plant under regular conditions.

Vessels up to 110 feet are built in this plant under cover, while vessels up to 250 feet are built outside. The machinery is constructed to haul anything on the docks up to 225 feet for repair or other purposes.

A foundry and machine shop is a part of the equipment of the plant, and every modern device for promoting the operations of the plant has been installed. The business is growing steadily month by month, and has already won for itself an enviable reputation in marine circles. The scope of its operations has broadened, and the work that it is getting is steadily increasing in size.

An indication of the character of the operations may be seen in some of the work done recently at the plant.

Built 100-foot freight boat for the Carv Trading Company, of New York, for operation in South America 68-foot cruiser for H. N. Diesel, of Philadelphia; 50-foot houseboat for H. N. Hartwell, Boston; now completing two 66-foot cutters for the United States Coast Guard Service. The government has recognized the value of the service of this plant, as have numerous yacht owners and commercial shippers.

Much of the woodwork going into the vessels represents timber grown locally. The flooring and ceiling of the ships comes from local materials, while large quantities of Georgia pine, direct from the Southern mills, are also used.

The Smith plant is one of which Salisbury is proud. Mr. Smith has put into his business not only a great deal of energy and thrift, but keen business judgment, which meant success. He is a public spirited citizen, ready at all times to lend time and means to any movement designed to promote the moral or material welfare of his fellow citizens.

Mr. Smith, a native of Salisbury, has been in the shipbuilding business all his life. He formerly was with the Salisbury Marine Construction Company, and when it went out of business was succeeded by the present company. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Knights of Pythias and a Mason. He is a member of the Methodist church and a generally active and well-known citizen, interested in all civic movements for the betterment of the city. His plant has been instrumental in bringing to Salisbury a large amount of business, for the general good of the city.

W. H. Smith is superintendent of the outside work of the plant. B. Goodfellow is superintendent of inside work and A. W. Hall, is office manager. All are highly experienced men in their respective lines of work. The staff of the plant is highly efficient, and the business is growing every day.

CONTRACTS FOR OVER MILLION DOLLARS IN CONSTRUCTION WORK HAVE BEEN LET

Recent Survey Discloses Big Building Boom Under Way In Salisbury With Eastern Shore State Normal School And Wicomico Hotel Erection Occupying Limelight.

Contracts representing an expenditure of over a million dollars have been let for buildings which are now under construction in Salisbury and suburbs, a survey conducted recently shows. This is considered the largest budget Salisbury has ever prepared for the building trades.

In this is considered the contract last week to the Consolidated Engineering Company for the Eastern Shore State Normal School, located just outside the corporate limits of the city, on Camden Avenue.

Buildings to be used for commercial purposes comprise a $341,950.00 investment. The largest item under this head is the five-story fire-proof hotel structure under construction at Main and Division Streets at a contract price of $245,000.

Two commercial garages are also listed. One, a two-story brick structure conceived as a West Church Street entrance to the High Street garage owned by Elmer C. Williams. The first floor will be used as office and garage for the Yellow Taxi Company and another division by an automobile accessory firm now located in Baltimore.

Another garage to cost between $5,000 and $6,000 is being built on West Main Street.

An addition to the city's retail business will be the early completion of the two-story brick building at Dock and Camden Streets, by I. L. Benjamin and Arthur E. Williams. This will be made into four divisions for as many stores, three having a frontage on Dock Street and one on Camden Street.

West Church Street has been further improved by the George E. Kennedy Co. building to be used by that company in the wholesale business. The structure is of hollow tile material and contains a floor space of 3,500 feet. It will be occupied by January first.

Another warehouse is being erected on West Railroad Avenue by Feldman Bros. Two stories in height, having a width of 40 feet and 100 feet in length. With an adjoining warehouse that firm will have a total floor space for warehouse purposes on this street of 17,720. Feldman Bros. also contemplate the raising of the building recently acquired on Main Street and the erection of a building on the site to cost from $100,000 to $125,000. This, however, is not included in the present survey.

Contract has been awarded Hastings and Parsons for the work upon a new administration building at the Eastern Shore Tuberculosis Sanatorium, formerly Pine Bluff. The amount to be expended for this purpose is approximately $70,000, and will greatly increase the capacity of the institution.

Members of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church have started work on a Parish House on St. Peter's Street. Contract was awarded Pusey and Morris Co. on a bid of $39,290.00.

Eleven dwelling houses are under construction representing a total cost of $31,800. These, for the most part, are of a type within the means of the average laborer.

Summarized, the expenditures upon buildings actually under construction and for which contracts have been awarded and work to begin within the next few days are: Commercial, $351,950; Institutions, $709,290; dwellings, $31,800; improvements to dwellings, $6,935. Total $1,099,575.00.

S. FRANKLYN WOODCOCK

Widely Known Realtor Who Has Contributed Largely To Growth And Expansion Of Salisbury And The Eastern Shore Section

In the expansion and development of a city and community, there is no factor nor agency that figures more largely than the Realtor, and a review of Salisbury's business institutions which have so largely contributed its growth, places S. Franklyn Woodcock, Realtor, in the topmost position of the list.

The main functions of Mr. Woodcock's offices, which are located in the Woodcock-Miles Bldg., on South Division Street, are the handling of real estate in general, although he makes a specialty of Auction Sales, especially covering the entire Eastern Shore and operating wherever else his services are desired. Starting on quite a modest scale, his business has enjoyed a phenomenal success, until today he has, by virtue of his large volume of business, a large corps of efficient and trained real estate men to assist him in the operation of the business. Mr. Woodcock's activities have figured largely in practically every project and undertaking of any consequence since he has been identified with Salisbury's commercial circles. A survey of the real estate industry of Salisbury reveals the fact that Mr. Woodcock now enjoys the distinction of being the leading and largest dealer here.

To the unacquainted this rapid success cannot well be understood, for Mr. Woodcock, himself, is yet well on the morning side of life. However, to those who have had opportunity to come in intimate touch with him and his offices, such an enviable record of success can readily be understood.

There are several essentials to the success of the Realtor, the prime one being the possession of the ultimate confidence of the people. This essential is Mr. Woodcock's chief asset. He has the people's confidence and good will, and it has been actual dealing with them that has won this for him. Indeed "Square Dealing" has been the secret of his success, and this statement will be verified by all who know of him and his activities. One feature of his operations, which has won for him a great amount of confidence is that every sale he makes is strictly a bona fide sale, especially does this apply to auctions, and property owners can place their property in his hands with the absolute as-urance that he will sell it right or not at all.

Much has Mr. Woodcock done for the development of his city and community, by virtue of his commercial offices. However, he thinks not of himself alone, and hence, his activities do not stop here. Mr. Woodcock is prominent in civic, church and fraternal circles as well, and in fact every phase of the life here that makes for the general welfare of the community. He holds membership in the M. E. Church, is an Elk and a member of the local Lion's Club. He is an enthusiastic member of the local Chamber of Commerce; is director in the Farmers & Merchants Bank and vice president of the Salisbury Ice Company.

MOTTO-COOPER AGENCY IS INSURANCE SERVICE

15 Years Existence Has Made It A Leader On The Eastern Shore Of Maryland

Some people have been taught by bitter experience to insure their property against loss by fire, while others are willing to learn the lesson by the experience of their neighbors. Many years have passed since the great Salisbury fire, but this disaster still remembered by the wiser ones, to whom it taught the invaluable lesson of the high value of insurance. Everyone insures now, but it is the wise man who goes to it that this insurance is placed by an experienced agent. It is only then that he can feel safe that his property is fully protected against loss.

Since the establishment of the agency of Wm. M. Cooper and Company fifteen years ago, they have placed insurance on some of the most valuable property in all this section. This company is composed of Mr. William M. Cooper and Miss Mary E. Hearn, whose offices are located in the Cooper Building on North Division Street.

The strength of any insurance agency does not lie so much in the number of companies represented, but in the strength and character of the companies that are represented. The Cooper Agency specializes in Fire and Employer's Liability Insurance, and represents four companies, namely: The National Liberty Insurance Company of America, which is one of the oldest fire insurance companies in the country; The London, The Fidelity-Phoenix and the Hampton Roads, Rhode Island-Union.

All these companies represent the very best and strongest with their services, which cover practically every form of insurance, the local agency is enabled to furnish an insurance service unsurpassed anywhere. That this is true is exemplified by the hundreds of satisfied clients that are on their books today.

Mr. Cooper, the senior member of the firm is also Secretary of the Wicomico Building and Loan Association, which office he has held for twenty-nine years. Miss Hearn is assistant to Mr. Cooper in the Association's affairs. Possibly there are no two other citizens of the community who are engaged in a more constructive business than are Mr. Cooper and Miss Hearn, for executing the functions of their offices means assistance to the individual towards the envied goal of home-ownership, and after an ultra protection against loss by fire or other causes beyond human control.

WICOMICO BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION

Twenty-Nine Years Continuous Service In Building Salisbury And Wicomico County—A Main Factor In Local Development—Wm. M. Cooper Is Secretary And Miss Mary E. Hearn Is Assistant.

In the progress and development of every city, two of the most important agencies are the banks and Building and Loan Association. The first is the resource of the business man in all his dealings, and without its aid but few business men could carry on their enterprises. The Building and Loan Association is the great home builder, and without it thousands of people who are now the proud possessors of happy homes would still be rent payers. Many have often wondered why the banks and Building and Loan Associations should not be connected, as their interests are so closely bound together, but such a union is not necessary where the two agencies work in harmony and union with each other as they do in Salisbury.

It has been said that the Home is a bulwark of the nation—the basis of all its prosperity—then it is reasonable to think that the agency that builds homes is second in size and importance to no other factor in contributing to the development of community. Salisbury and Wicomico County are indeed fortunate in having within their bounds such strong institutions of this nature as they have. Conspicuous among these is The Wicomico Building & Loan Association, which was organized in 1894, and which, for twenty-nine years has been one of this section's most active factors in the growth of the community. The late James Cannon was the first president of the Association, and Mr. Wm. M. Cooper, who is now its secretary, has held that post since the inception of the business. Other promoters of the association were Hon. Jesse D. Price, who succeeded to the presidency upon the death of Mr. Cannon; The late Thomas Perry, and the late Messrs. Noah H. Rider and A. A. Gillis; Mr. J. Cleveland White and Mr. Wm. M. Cooper.

The present officers are: Hon. Jesse D. Price, President; Hon. Chas. E. Disharoon, Vice President; Mr. Wm. M. Cooper, Secretary; Miss Mary

E. Hearn, Assistant Secretary; and J. Cleveland White Treasurer, Mr. Disharoon and Mr. Charles J. Birchhead are the Auditors of the Association; Mr. Cooper and U. W. Dickerson are Examiners and Mr. Jay Williams is Attorney.

The Wicomico Building and Loan Association now has a capital of $108,900, and its membership numbers about 125. It confines its function to extend over Salisbury and Wicomico County. The tourist on the highways of the county is immediately impressed with the high character of the country homes to be seen, and a majority of these are the results of the two local building and loan associations, as well as the most of the homes in East and South Salisbury, Demar and Fruitland.

Mr. Cooper, the Secretary is one of the county's best known business men and citizens, holding many prominent commercial and civic connections. Being a native born son of Wicomico County, he has devoted his career to the interests of its development, and no man has contributed more toward it than he. Mr. Cooper is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and the firm of the Wm. Cooper Company, Insurance and holds large farming interests. Mr. Cooper is a prominent member of the Episcopal Church. Mr. Cooper is an advocate of progress and growth, and is ever ready to lend of his time and means in furthering any movements designed toward this end.

Assisting Mr. Cooper in the administration of the Association's affairs is Miss Mary E. Hearn, Assistant Secretary, who has served in this capacity for a number of years. Miss Hearn is also well and favorably known in local circles, and since she has identified herself with the business life of the city, she has disproven the old theory that "woman has no place in business", for her entire career has been crowned with a phenomenal success. Miss Hearn is also a member of the firm of Wm. Cooper & Company, Insurance Dealers and also hold official office as notary. Her exceptional business ability and her public-spiritedness makes her one of the city's most valued citizens.

HIS FATHER'S IDEA OF MARRIAGE

Having been carefully brought up, a young man wrote home to his father from a distant city, asking advice about marriage. He had left the parental nest early to seek his fortune, and now had found not only that but a girl to share it with. The answer came promptly:

Dear Son Charles: Marriage is a wonderful institution if you find the right mate. The best advice I can give you is to compare your girl to your mother, with whom I have been so ideally happy for the past thirty years. If she can even approximate your dear mother's home-making, housekeeping and always even temper, you are a lucky young man, and I give you my blessing and advise you to grab her at once. Your loving, Father.

P. S. Your mother has just left the room. Don't be a damn fool. Stay single—From Everybody's Magazine for October.

INSLEY & MITCHELL

Canned Goods Packers, Making Specialty Of Tomatoes And Potatoes; Mr. W. H. Insley is Manager.

Long has the Eastern Shore been noted for its fine truck and vegetable products, and especially its tomatoes and sweet potatoes, and it is safe to say that through this industry Salisbury and this section derives some of its most effective publicity. Standing pre-eminent in this industry is the firm of Insley & Mitchell, packers of canned goods making a specialty of tomatoes and sweet potatoes.

This firm was established in 1912 by Messrs. W. H. Insley and E. D. Mitchell, and since its very inception it has enjoyed an ever-increasing volume of business and success. Its large plant which is located on East Church street at the B. C. & A. Railway, employs some seventy people in season and has a season capacity of more than 22,000 cases of canned goods. These goods are marketed through jobbers and brokers, and the packers make a specialty of carload lots. Year by year these Eastern Shore products are becoming more and more popular, and their market today extends all over the world.

INSLEY BROTHERS HAVE BUILT LARGE BUSINESS

Writing Insurance Policies For Score Years Their Business Integrity Has Been Rewarded By Public

In the insurance field, not only locally, but covering a wide area, the firm of Insley Brothers, is becoming more and more widely known as a "live-wire" insurance house. This business came into being in 1904, being established at that time by Messrs. Wade H. and J. W. Insley. Mr. J. W. Insley remained in the business until 1910, when he withdrew and established a similar business in Baltimore, which connection he still holds in the firm of McComas Korsh & Insley Company.

The local house which is now under the sole management of Mr. Wade H. Insley handles all forms of insurance, including the Union Central Life of Cincinnati. The character and reliability of this house can be plainly seen by the strong companies which they represent, such as The Hanover Fire of New York, The Westchester of New York, Delaware Underwriters, The Agriculture, The Atlas Assurance Company of London, The Netherlands and The Alliance Company of Philadelphia.

Another feature of their business is the representation of the Maryland Casualty Company, which embraces about eight different branches of insurance, and in which most any form of insurance may be secured. Messrs. Insley Brothers are district managers for the Union Central Life of Cincinnati, covering all of the Eastern Shore. The firm has in its employ Miss Jessie E. Jones, bookkeeper, and Office Manager, who has held that position for the past nine years, and is proving an invaluable asset in the conduct of the business. The firm is a member of the Association of Fire Insurance Agents of Salisbury.

RICHARDSON BROTHERS COMPANY PROGRESSIVE

One Of City's Old Established Plumbing And Heating Firms And Does Widespread Business

Scientists have noted that one of the greatest steps in the development of civilization of the world was taken when plumbing first began to be practiced by man. When the world began to be sanitary, for the first time, began to emerge from the benighted age in which it had been content to enjoy a state of lethargy for centuries. Today there is no factor contributing more towards the modern civilization and progress than does the modern plumbing and heating establishment.

Salisbury and this section has, for years, been indeed fortunate in having at its command such institutions, conspicuous among which is the organization of Richardson Bros. Company, which for the past twelve years has been contributing most largely to the upbuilding of this community, by rendering a plumbing and heating service unsurpassed by any and equalled by but few.

This business had its origin in 1905, and was reorganized and launched on a larger scale in 1911; since which time it has enjoyed a phenomenal record of growth. It occupies large quarters on East Church street where it maintains its repair shops and sales and show rooms, which are equal to any to be found anywhere. Mr. Richardson's operations in this field cover all the territory from Wilmington to Cape Charles, running North and South, and from Ocean City to Claborn on the East and West, and an average of eight expert mechanics are required to carry on the large contracts that are constantly awarded this firm.

A great attest to the high integrity of this concern and its efficient work can well be seen by some of the large and important contracts that have been awarded it in the past, some of which are completed and some under way. Among these completed ones is the heating work in the M. P. Church in this city; the plumbing in the new hotel at Claiborne; a large apartment house in Dover, Del.; and the Camden Avenue residences here of Lloyd Watson, Dr. H. S. Wallis, Arthur Holloway, Marion Turner and Mrs. May Truitt. Mr. Richardson is also now at work on the Glen Stewart country estate in Talbot county and has recently completed a similar contract on the D. K. Albright estate in St. Mary's county. Last year the company installed the new water mains and hydrants in the new water system in Selbyville, Del. Mr. Richardson specializes in Vapor Vacuum heating system and carries also the American Radiator Company's line of goods. One of his more recent and important contracts locally was that of the Pine Bluff Sanatorium. The heating system in the New Cinno building here was installed by him also.

The Richardson Bros. Company can be well termed "The Four Brothers", Mr. A. P. Richardson, the head of the concern has associated with him his three brothers, Messrs. Paul J., Elmore E. and L. Roger Richardson, as well as other expert mechanics. Miss Elva M. Messick, who is in charge of the office, has been with the company for nearly four years and today is one of its foremost assets. Mr. Paul J. Richardson is General Superintendent. Mr. A. P. Richardson is a master plumber of high note and reputation. He holds membership in the Maryland State Plumbers Association, which also automatically carries membership in the National Association of Master Plumbers. He was a delegate to the national convention at New Orleans in 1921 and also at Detroit in 1922. Mr. Richardson is an enthusiastic member of the local Chamber of Commerce; holds membership in the M. E. Church and the Knights of Pythias. He is recognized as a leader in his field, and as one of this city's foremost and most progressive citizens. Much has he contributed to the upbuilding of this community and today, he is found at all times ready and willing to cooperate in any movement designed to further the best interests of this city and its surrounding territory.

Many of the local contracts that he has completed are reproduced in this issue. They stand for themselves and as monuments to the genius and honest service of the contractor, who cites as his best advertisement the work that his organization is capable of doing. No review of Salisbury and vicinity, its past accomplishments and growth would be complete without due mention and credit to the firm of "The Four Brothers"—The Plumbing and Heating Institution "With a Conscience."

SALISBURY COAL CO. WATCHES BUSINESS GROW EXTENSIVELY

New Concern Helping To Meet Fuel And Building Needs Of Wicomico People

The Salisbury Coal Company, dealers in coal and wood among other things, stands between Salisbury and the hundred and one difficulties involved in keeping the country's coal supplies moving to the consumer. This firm has built up a big business through efficient methods of dealing with its clientele.

In addition to supplying a large trade with fuel, this company does a big business in the distribution of building supplies, holding the agency for a number of the best known standard lines of building materials. They distribute Johns-Manville Roofings and waterproof materials, Lehigh Cement, Security Cement, and other important elements in the building industry. The company employs six men, and operates two large trucks for the delivery of the products it distributes.

The firm was established January 1, 1923, with Fitzhugh L. Insley as active manager, Wade H. Insley and Bayard W. Cooper, the latter of the R. E. Powell Company, are the other members of the firm. Mr. F. L. Insley, the manager, is a native of Salisbury, but was in Virginia for about sixteen years, with the Cape Charles Bank and other concerns from which he gained a large measure of experience and is transmitting it now to his own business. He is a member of the Baptist Church, and well known throughout the city.

MITCHELL & GOSLEE HARDWARE COMPANY

Firm Established Nine Years Ago Has Been Active In Local Mercantile And Commercial Field

This firm was established some nine years ago, has been one of the leaders in the mercantile field in Salisbury and has been active in promoting commercial relations between the city and the wide territory of which it is the center.

Included in their large stocks is all kinds of shelf and heavy hardware, specialties and builders' hardware, and they maintain a large department where efficient and prompt repair work is done on automobile radiators.

Mitchell & Goslee Hardware Company employs a corps of twelve efficient salesmen and mechanics, all of whom are highly trained in all the fundamentals of the business, and possess an air of courtesy that makes trading here highly a pleasure, and the company itself stands back of every article that leaves the store. The home of Mitchell & Goslee, which they own, is a large two-story brick building on Dock Street, containing more than twelve thousand square feet of floor space. It is modern in every particular and every facility and equipment is provided to conduct the business upon the highest principles of service. Notable among their large stocks are the Neponset Roofing, whose quality is best vouched for by the fact that this is the roofing preferred and used generally by the United States Government. They also carry Majestic ranges, Davis and Woods Paints, and are local dealers of the celebrated Homer Pipeless Furnaces.

But a business organization is somewhat similar to a chain—no stronger than its weakest link, which proves after all that it is always the men behind the wheel of business that makes it an institution. In the case of Mitchell & Goslee Hardware Company, the business is indeed fortunate in not having any "weak" links, but instead, it is manned by men, well known and liked. Men who are rich in business experience and who are highly capable of rendering the maximum service to their customers. The executive officers of the business are Mr. E. D. Mitchell, of the firm of Kennerly & Mitchell, president; Mr. C. B. Mitchell, active vice-president; Mr. Carl Goslee, Manager and Mr. E. E. Twilley, secretary and Treasurer.

Keeping Pace With The Needs Of A Growing City

SALISBURY FIRE DEPARTMENT IS MOST EFFICIENT ORGANIZATION

City Points With Pride To Volunteer Company That Is Completely Motorized And Boasts Latest Equipment—Surprisingly Low Per Capita Loss From Fire

Every Salisbury points with pride to the local fire fighting aggregation. A purely volunteer outfit, the fraternal feeling or "esprit de corps" within the ranks is of the highest. It is one of the city's exclusive groups—that is in respect to membership. In order to have one's name inscribed on the roster, a man must first make his application in duly recognized form, must be voted upon by the membership and finally must serve a term of probation.

The "smoke eaters" last year answered a total of 65 alarms and gave succor to many sister towns in this state and Delaware. 54 of the calls came from Salisbury proper and the apparatus was in operation for a total of 70 hours which means that each member of the department gave 1 1-3 hours per week of his time gratis to the city.

The property loss in Salisbury in 1922 has been placed at $25,573 or the surprisingly low per capita penalty of just a fraction over $3.00. This is an amazingly small per capita loss especially when it is taken into consideration that many cities with paid departments are unable to retard progress of blazes to any greater degree than do local firemen. For the year ending December 1, 1922, Wilmington, nearest city to Salisbury, had a per capita loss of $4.48, the period being its first year with a paid department.

The fire department is completely motorized and its equipment is as fine as is to be found in any town in the country the size of this. 2 American-La France pumping engines, a chemical and hose wagon and an aerial truck, are housed in the City Hall. The apparatus is kept in A-1 shape and the firemen, by their regular drills and years of experience are able to handle it with facility and dispatch.

Promptness in responding to an alarm has been very noticeable, especially in recent years and only about two months ago a new record was set up when two pieces of apparatus were on the scene of a blaze nearly a half mile distant from the fire house just two minutes after the first tap of the gong.

The department, which is 51 years old, was organized on August 25, 1872 although volunteers had fought fires here since before the Civil War. There are at present around 50 active members, each of whom vies with the remaining number for a record in answering the most alarms. F. A. Grier, Jr., is the present chief of the fire department.

UP TO DATE EQUIPMENT IN CITY HAND LAUNDRY

Modern Steam Plant Is Operated By Mayor Kennerly Who Does A Big Business

The City Hand Laundry, managed by Mayor W. A. Kennerly, occupies a large and most modern plant on Camden Street, and is the largest steam laundry plant anywhere in this section of the state. The operation of the plant is managed by a large corps of thoroughly skilled employees, all of whom take pride in their work and exert their every effort to uphold the long standing reputation for the best of work, which Mr. Kennerly has built up long ago.

Laundry work, in all its various forms, is done here, including wet wash and rough dry work, ironing and complete laundering. The plant is one of the most comfortable and attractive to be found anywhere and this one feature has its dominant effect in the securing and keeping of high class help to carry on the business which good service has helped to build up. Just so has Mr. Kennerly enlarged the scope of operations since the inauguration of the business two decades ago, that today, he not only takes care of the greater portion of the local city laundry work, but has agencies scattered practically all over the Eastern Shore.

In his local service he maintains a most prompt and efficient delivery service, which does both collecting and delivering. Mr. Kennerly is one of the city's most progressive business men and citizens, ever on the alert to add to his already modern and up-to-date facilities, in order that his hundreds of customers may get the benefit of the very latest improved and most efficient laundry service. That he is successfully pursuing such policies of progressiveness will be vouched for by hundreds of housekeepers, in whose homes the name of The City Hand Laundry is symbolic of the very highest grade of Laundry service.

Mr. Kennerly, who has guided the destinies of this creditable business institution for the past twenty years, is one of the best known and highly favored citizens to be found anywhere on the Eastern Shore. His past civic life has been one of a steady toll and effort for the upbuilding of his home town, and his accomplishments have been many and have had a forceful effect upon the life here, as will be seen on every hand. Too, he is one of the city's most appreciated citizens, and to this, there is no greater attest than the honor his people conferred upon him in 1920 when they, by electing him Mayor of the city, chose him to pilot the destinies of this municipality. In a commercial way he has made good. As a city official he has made good, for under his administration great has been the progress of the community. His first term in this office was marked with such a degree of success that Mr. Kennerly had no difficulty in being re-elected for the second term, upon which he is now in his first year.

That he is progressive and ever ready and willing to put forth every possible cooperation for the advancement of his city needs not to be repeated here, for it was just such principles as those, together with his past achievements, that placed him in the high position he now holds.

"WHISTLE" EXTENSIVELY MANUFACTURED IN CITY

Bottling Company Bearing That Name Has Done Much To Quench Thirst Of Three Counties

Thirsty? Just Whistle! That is a slogan that has become instilled into hundreds of people in this local territory who have become acquainted with that famous drink, "Whistle." It is not the oldest of the bottle drinks, but rather is one of the youngest. However, it does not take long for quality and merit to become recognized and rewarded, and hence, the growth of this drink in popularity has been rapid and most phenomenal.

"Whistle" is bottled and distributed in this territory by the Whistle Bottling Company, which succeeded the Peninsula Bottling Company in 1920. Its plant is located on Railroad Avenue, in close proximity to the Terminal Station, and is most modernly equipped to turn out the most sanitary products, such as this company is noted for.

So great has the growth in the distribution of their products been that now they are using five large trucks to serve the hundreds of dealers of Whistle and their other products, which cover a territory of the three counties of Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester.

The Whistle Bottling Company is composed of Messrs. Lewis Morgan, president; M. L. Mitchell, vice-president and General Manager and W. E. Morgan, secretary and treasurer. All these gentlemen are representative of the city's best business ability and citizenship, and are prime factors in the growth and progress of the commercial and civic interests of the city. Mr. Lewis Morgan is one of the city's oldest and best known plumbers. Mr. Mitchell, who is a native of Delaware, and is thoroughly acquainted with its every fundamental, and it is because of this that much of the credit for the success of the Whistle Bottling Company can be attributed.

LEWIS MORGAN

Development of the science of heating and plumbing in recent years has gone forward at a rate which could not be conceived of twenty-five years ago, and day by day it is making further strides along comprehensive lines. The business of Lewis Morgan, Salisbury's oldest Plumber and Heating Contractor, is an evidence of this progress, which is said to have been one of the most vital factors in developing the civilization of the world.

This business, whose home office is located at 202 East Church street, and which employs an average of twelve men and covers a wide range of activities, was launched by Mr. Morgan in 1907. It is now the largest plumbing and heating establishment south of Wilmington, Del. Today its home on East Church street is the scene of a modern plant and sales rooms, which we are reproducing in this issue. Mr. Morgan specializes in new work and repair work, and handles the Pierce, Butler & Pierce Company's line of heating apparatus. No job is too small to have his best attention and none too large but that he can comfortably take care of it with the highest degree of satisfaction. Mr. Morgan is a member of the National Master Plumbers' Association and the Maryland State Plumbers' Association.

The high integrity of this institution and the expert work it does can best be judged by some of the large contracts that Mr. Morgan has completed and some that he has in the way, chiefly among which is the plumbing and heating work of Salisbury's new $350,000 hotel. This contract alone approximates $40,000. He also installed the plumbing work in the new M. P. church of this city; has completed a $12,000 contract for the large Hargis Store at Pocomoke City and is now doing work on two other stores there, as well as also on a church in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Mr. Morgan also installed the plumbing and heating in the new and modern residence of Mr. W. H. Jackson and is completing work of the high school building at Houston, Del. Many of these structures mentioned herein are reproduced in the rotogravure section of this issue, and Mr. Morgan's work in them stands today as a monument to the high genius and expert service that he and his organization is rendering today.

Associated with Mr. Morgan in the operation of the business is his son, Mr. W. E. Morgan, who is a recent graduate of Carnegie School of Technology. Mr. Morgan is assistant manager of the business. Mr. Charles Nichols is superintendent of outside construction. The office is in charge of Misses Kitty Morgan and Myra Williams.

Mr. Morgan, whose photograph appears elsewhere in this issue, needs no introduction to local people, for he has spent practically his entire career among them rendering an invaluable service towards progress and development. Mr. Morgan is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce, the local Rotary Club; is director in the Farmers & Planters Company and in the Salisbury Baking Company. He is president of the Whistle Bottling Company.

ARCADE SHOE REPAIR COMPANY IN NEAT SHOP

Manager Shapiro Conducts Well-Appointed Business With Prices That Attract Many Patrons

This shop is located in one of the most convenient places in town—in the Arcade Theatre building, right in the heart of the retail and shopping section of the city. It is by far one of the neatest and best appointed establishments in the city, equipped with modern electrical machinery, and every other known convenience that enables Mr. Shapiro to render the best of service and give the highest degree of satisfaction, and this has been his motto ever since he took hold of the business.

"Old Shoes Made Equal To New" is the slogan of this shop, and that he is able to do that will be vouched for by the hundreds of customers of the shop. In addition to the shoe department, Mr. Shapiro operates also a hair cleaning and blocking department in which he does a heavy volume of business, and the front of his place is used for the shoe shine parlor, where the very best of shines may be obtained for the pre-war price of a nickel. Mr. Shapiro has five employees and maintains an expert delivery service. Another feature of the business that Mr. Shapiro has inaugurated is his mail-order department, whereby shoes may be sent in by mail, repaired and returned the same way, and the customer is credited with postage both ways. Patrons of the shop can also send their shoes in on the several bus lines that run into the city, and may receive them the same way. Prior to coming to Salisbury, Mr. Shapiro was engaged in the same kind of business in Philadelphia, and has had long experience in the business.

BUFFALO CONFECTIONERY AND ICE CREAM PARLOR

Salisbury's Newest Addition To Its Business Circles. Owned And Managed By Mr. E. Kalives.

A review of Salisbury and its modern growth and development reveals the fact that within its borders it has some of the most modern business institutions that can be found anywhere. In the making of a city, it takes many and various kinds of business, and the present day modern confectionery and soda parlor is no exception to this rule. Rather than that, such a place is regarded today as a necessity where only a short while ago it would have been looked upon as a luxury.

Salisbury is indeed glad to welcome in its midst Mr. E. Kalives who, in establishing here the Buffalo Confectionery and Ice Cream Parlor, has given to the city its most modern and up-to-date place of this kind. His place at 217 Main street (in the store formerly occupied by the Harry Morris Shoe Company) is one of the most modern and beautiful to be found anywhere. It is handsomely equipped with the most up-to-date furniture and furnishings and sanitation is the paramount idea here.

Mr. Kalives specializes in the making of his own candies, which include practically every kind that the human appetite could demand. His place is also proving most popular by reason of the tasty luncheons that are served there daily. In addition to this, the large fountain in the front of the place is a veritable mecca for those who are in search for the very best in ice cream, sundaes and all kinds of sundae, which are served by a large corps of efficient and courteous employees which adds greatly to the pleasure of patronizing this place.

Since the opening of this place on September 15th, Mr. Kalives has enjoyed a large and ever increasing volume of trade. Service is the watchword with him and that he is truly living up to it can be proven by a visit to his place.

Mr. Kalives is a native of Baltimore, where he now has a similar establishment at 3928 Eastern Avenue in the Monumental City. However, Mr. Kalives has great faith in Salisbury, and when he established his business here, he chose to become one of Salisbury's citizens. Hence, he placed the management of his Baltimore place in other hands and moved to this city and assumed management of his local place. Since identifying himself with the life of the community he has proven to be one of the city's most efficient business men and valuable citizens. Mr. Kalives, though young in years, is a veteran caterer, and has enjoyed eight years successful experience in the business. He is a veteran of the World War and a live, wide awake, public spirited citizen, always willing to lend a helping hand and co-operate in any movement for the best interest of his adopted place of residence. Salisbury welcomes him and Mrs. Kalives in their midst and is also truly proud of the most creditable institution which they have built up here and so successfully operating.

LOW RATES MAKING THE YELLOW TAXI POPULAR

Business Conducted By Young Blood, A Thriving One And Steadily Gaining In Patronage

This company, which succeeded the City Taxi Company in February of this year, is composed of Messrs. S. H. Dove and J. Wm. Windsor, all of whom are well known business men of high calibre. The Yellow Taxi Company has its offices on West Church St. and a call to 46, any time during well as a general inspection given them at very short intervals. Courtesy is also another dominating feature of this company, both on the part of the managers and the drivers, and just so great is the reliability of the operations of the cars that even disabled people and children unattended may be in all safety and comfort.

The Yellow Taxi Company also maintains very low rates, and in this its patrons are indeed fortunate. These low rates are generally made possible by the volume of patronage accorded the company, and in keeping with their most progressive and liberal policies, the owners and managers of the Yellow Taxi Company have pledged to the people of Salisbury a scale of fares consistent with rendering good service, and this they are most ably fulfilling. In fact, to compare local taxi fares with those of some other cities, both smaller and larger than Salisbury, would prompt one to honestly believe that the Yellow Taxi Company "makes walking expensive."

THE "D" TAXI SERVICE

One of the greatest problems that confronts any growing city, and especially one without trolley service, is its transportation problems, and the advantages it offers in this respect go a long way in impressing the visitor.

Salisbury is indeed fortunate in being the home of the "D" Taxi Service, operated by Mr. W. J. Dryden, who is daily rendering a prompt and most appreciated service in this business. Mr. Dryden is also owner and manager of large sales and feed stables on Camden street here, known as the Camden Street Stables, and engages in board, livery, feed and exchange of high grade horses.

The "D" Taxi Service operates six large comfortable cars—four Buicks and two Cadillacs. Their drivers are well experienced and careful. Every modern precaution is taken by this company in order to render the most safe service, and their twenty years experience in the business is proving a great asset to them in fulfilling their purpose.

Mr. Dryden, who is the pioneer in the horse sales business, also sells gas and oils at his place on Camden street, and washes cars. Mr. Dryden is one of the city's foremost and most prominent business men and citizens, having various prominent commercial and civic connections. He is to be commended for the excellent service that he is rendering the local traveling public, who have long since come to regard the "D" Taxi Service as an institution of which any city might well be proud.

Every garage owner knows the meaning of the expression "an accessory to wealth."

ELECTRIC SHOE REPAIR CO.

This business, which was established two years ago, is operated by L. J. Anderson and R. B. Long, two of the city's most enterprising and respected colored men, who, by their ability in the shoe repairing business, and their qualities as good citizens, have built up for themselves a reputation of which any firm can be justly proud.

Their shop which is in the rear of the Linnett Building, is modernly equipped with electric machinery and other facilities to insure the very best work and the most prompt service. In their local deliveries they use a large Ford truck, and work is called for and delivered promptly. Both Anderson and Long are active in the business, always on the job to see that nothing less than the very best of service is rendered the many customers that have established a preference for their work. Four highly trained employees are always on hand to assist in the operation of the business.

SALISBURY GOVERNED BY MAYOR & COUNCIL

Original Charter Though Amended From Time To Time Remains Groundwork Of City Government

Salisbury's civic government consists of a Mayor and City Council. The laws governing the city are contained in the Charter granted by the General Assembly, and the ordinances passed by the City Council.

The Mayor, the official head of the city, is selected at large as are likewise the five members of the City Council. These are presided over by an elected officer, the President of the City Council. W. Arthur Kennerly is the present Mayor, Ernest L. White, president of the City Council and the other members of that body are: Wade H. Insley, Ernest B. Hitch, Ernest T. Lucas and Sherman Waller, all representative men of the city.

The original charter under which the government of Salisbury is conducted has been amended and revised at intervals but remains substantially the groundwork of the system of city government.

CITY POLICE FORCE MINIMIZES ARRESTS

Officers Of The Law Here Confronted With Few Trouble-Makers—Negro Element Reasonably Quiet

Salisbury, in addition to protection from a first class fire department, is well guarded by an excellent police force. The force now consists of five regular officers. This is augmented at busy periods by special traffic men. In addition, sub-station "E", of the Maryland State Police, is located here, hence the city may at any time in the day or night call upon either state or city officers. The county sheriff also has his office in the Court House and helps to preserve law and order in Salisbury as well as in the rest of Wicomico County.

Since Salisbury is essentially a law-abiding city, there is an absence of "crime wave" and the police department is able to give the best service possible in all directions. Traffic has grown by leaps and bounds in the past few years and the task of controlling it along the city highways is one of the problems now confronting the city.

Arrests in Salisbury are comparatively few when the population of the city is taken into consideration. The colored population is segregated, is of the law abiding type in the main, while the naturally to be expected few who sometimes would like to overstep the bounds, are kept in check by those of broader vision. The foreign element, as a rule trouble makers in the large cities, is a negligible quantity here and those who have settled in Salisbury are of a peaceful, law-abiding nature.

These, coupled with the vigilance of the police force, are some of the reasons why Salisbury bears the enviable reputation of being a city, to a large measure free from labor and other disputes.

DISHAROON COMPANY BIG LUMBER DEALERS

Largest Manufacturers of Lumber, Box-shooks, Crates And Veneer Packages In This Section Of Country. Twenty-Two Years Of Continuous Service, Has Made It Dominant In Its Line

Nothing better indicates the progress and growth of a city than the work done by its manufacturing plants, especially those who feed the other chief enterprises. Salisbury is the center of a great agricultural and trucking section, and is the hub of those enterprises that feed this large and growing industry. Salisbury, too, is the center of a large lumber area and industry, which naturally makes it the logical home of these establishments that make possible the progress of the trucking industry on the Eastern Shore.

When Mr. C. R. Disharoon, with his son, Mr. W. R. Disharoon became actually engaged in the business of the Salisbury Crates and Barrel Company in 1907, they started a business, that has not only been one of the largest feeders to the trucking industry of the Peninsula, but they began building an institution, the success of which has stamped its pilots as the greatest assets that this city and community have today.

The local plant of the C. R. Disharoon Company is one of Salisbury's largest industrial enterprises, covering six acres and employing 130 men. The Company also maintains saw mills at Hallwood, Va., Snow Hill, Md., White Haven, Md., and one near this city in the Spring Hill neighborhood, and contracts with other mills to cut their timber. These mills, which are used to saw the rough lumber, are feeders to the Salisbury Plant where the finished products come out. The local plant is highly modern in every particular, equipped with the very latest machinery used in turning out the great volume of Box Shooks, Crates and Veneered Packages. Two large trucks are used in the local delivery and their shipping department, and their products go for miles around, while the box shooks are distributed practically all over the country, through the company's own sales department.

The company is composed of: Hon. C. R. Disharoon, President, Walter R. Disharoon, Vice President and Treasurer, J. G. Melson, Secretary, and Plant Manager, Mr. Robert F. Holt is manager of the Box Shooks department on the second floor of the plant, and Mr. Roger W. Disharoon, who is nephew to Mr. C. R. Disharoon, is office manager, and is ably assisted in this capacity by Mrs. G. R. Bailey.

The process of manufacture of these products is indeed interesting to the layman, and although the pilots of the big industry are always busily engaged, they are endowed with that degree of courtesy that makes it always a pleasure to welcome and entertain a visitor on a tour of inspection of their plant.

It is impossible to portray the true magnitude and importance of this major plant in such a brief sketch as this necessarily is. However, the greatest proof of the great importance of this industry, and the great effect it is having on the development of the Eastern Shore as a trucking section, is best seen by the progress that is being made along these lines.

Mr. C. R. Disharoon was a native of Snow Hill, and prior to launching his present business, was, for a number of years, identified with the mercantile business at Pocomoke, and later associated himself with the E. S. Adkins Company, which connection he held for a long while.

Mr. Disharoon is President and Director in The Peoples National Bank; is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club, and holds membership in the Presbyterian Church, and a teacher of one of the Sunday School classes there. Possibly the greatest attest of his popularity, and one depicting the high favor and appreciation in which he is held, was the one conferred upon him by his people when they elected him to represent them in the last State Legislature, as Senator, and as a further attest, the people again voted him candidate in the primary held on September 10th, of this year.

Mr. Walter R. Disharoon is no less an active figure in this community. He holds membership in the Rotary Club, and the Chamber of Commerce, as well as being prominently connected in many other large commercial and civic activities.

HANNAMAN-BURROUGHS WELL-KNOWN ENGINEERS

Local Construction Company Has Recently Completed Several Large Highway Projects

The business of building roads, in this age of the motor car and rapid transit, generally, is a highly specialized business, in which ability counts for a very great deal. The Hannaman-Burroughs Company, contracting engineers, have established a record in road building of which they have reason to be proud.

They deal in State highway construction work exclusively, and have just completed several large road-building projects. They have built the road from Pocomoke to Stockton, 4 1/2 miles; from Salisbury to Delmar, 3 miles; and from Marion to Tull's Corner, 1 1/2 miles. At present they are at work on 2 miles of road from Princess Anne to Deal's Island, and 1 mile from one end of the town of Dagsboro, Delaware, to the other. They also have a contract to begin work on 1 1/2 miles of road from Snow Hill to Salisbury.

Though this business was established only about nine months ago, on January 1, 1923, its accomplishments have been unusually extensive, and it has built up an organization regarded as one of the most competent in the state. They employ 150 people, operate 20 trucks and 30 teams and maintain a large amount of equipment of the latest and most modern character.

D. A. Hannaman is president and treasurer of the firm, and P. E. Burroughs is vice-president and secretary. Both are highly experienced men in the business in which they are engaged, and are known throughout the State for their several abilities as road builders.

Mr. Hannaman, who is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and a Rotarian, was a contractor in Salisbury for two years prior to becoming connected in the present company. He is well known in the city and has always been identified with all public movements of a constructive character.

Mr. Burroughs was with the State Roads Commission for thirteen years as district engineer, and knows the road building business from the bottom up. He resigned his post with the State to become associated with Mr. Hannaman. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club, and is well known in all parts of the state.

These gentlemen are broad-gauged, broad-visioned business men and public spirited citizens. They are ready at all times to lend their time and means to any movement designed to promote the moral or material welfare of their community.

WATSON SMOKE HOUSE POPULAR IN SALISBURY

Veritable Mecca For Smokers—Paul Watson Manufacturer High-Grade Cigars

Salisbury has a manufacturer and dealer that is succeeding and has been since 1894, more than a quarter century, and that manufacturer is no other than Mr. Paul E. Watson, manufacturer of the El Mardo (eight cent) cigar and many other high grade hand-made brands. Since he has been making the El Mardo, he has come in high repute by virtue of the qualities of this cigar, and the price of it which has become most popular, as there are but very few makes of hand-made cigars on the market today selling for the extremely low price of eight cents.

Mr. Watson in addition to his large manufacturing interests also operates the "Smoke House on Main street, carrying a large and complete stock of all kinds of cigars, cigarettes, tobaccos, and in fact all smokers' supplies. Mr. Watson has successfully conducted this business since 1896 and is the possessor of nearly thirty years of continuous service. Associated with him in the retail end of the business is his brother, Mr. C. F. Watson. "The Smoke House," which is Salisbury's only exclusive store of its kind here, is a mecca for all those who appreciate the very best in smokes and supplies, and they know that they can get it here.

The career of Mr. Watson since he came to Salisbury from the Eastern Shore of Virginia some thirty years ago has been marked with great achievement and success that are most phenomenal, and of which any business man might well be proud. Prior to entering his present field, Mr. Watson was identified with mercantile interests here. When he was eighteen he launched out into his present business, and by strict application to business, by the use of the most progressive business methods, and by the fairest of dealings, he has built up an institution here that is well and favorably known all over the peninsula, and one which the city has a just right to be proud.

PENINSULA ICE CREAM COMPANY OPENS MARKET TO LOCAL DAIRYING INTERESTS

Manufacturers Of "Holly Brand" Ice Cream Are Also Dealers In Pasteurized Milk And High Grade Butter—Quality And Service Big Factor In Distribution

Sanitary precautions and Pure Food are two of the most important requirements in connection with the operations of any business which caters to supplying the public with things for human consumption, and The Peninsula Ice Cream Company, Inc., has, during the period of less than six months of its existence, made its reputation by meeting these requirements, and have won the great favor of Salisbury people, who today are proud to point to this institution as a home industry, composed of home people, whose sole purpose it is to supply the discriminating public with the very best in ice creams, pasteurized milk and high grade creamery butter.

Not only does this favor apply to local people, but also to the many thousands of people of the Peninsula, with whom "a test has established a preference" for "Peninsula" products. They have, all in one accord, evinced this pride by extending to this concern a measure of co-operation in the way of support and patronage which has given it promise of becoming one of the largest plants of its kind in this section of the country.

The Peninsula Ice Cream Company, Inc., was organized in October of last year, and began actual operations on April 21st of this year. Its chief promoters were the late Henry W. Ruark, William P. Ward of the Farmers & Planters Company and Mr. C. M. Freeman, Secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Ruark served as president of the company until his death in August, at which time he was succeeded in this office by Mr. E. Dale Adkins, of E. S. Adkins & Company. Mr. Adkins together with Mr. Ward as Vice President and Mr. Freeman, Secretary and Treasurer, compose the executive personnel of the concern.

This company is engaged in the manufacture of ice cream, and the distribution of pasteurized milk and high grade butter. Although less than six months old, "Holly Brand" of ice cream needs no introduction in Salisbury and the surrounding territory, where, by virtue of its purity and excellent flavor and high quality, it has won the favor of the public. Just so much is this true that it had not been on the market long before it was most noticeably supplanting foreign products, and today, it is indeed hard to find very many dispensaries of ice creams but that one will find "Holly Brand" at the top of the menu. "Holly Brand" is recognized today as the same of perfection in ice creams, and invariably a smile of satisfaction follows the spoon.

In no less favor are the other products of the company held. The Peninsula Ice Cream Company is one of the only three concerns on the entire Eastern Shore that pasteurizes the milk that the sell, and by reason of this highly protective process, "Peninsula" milk is today a household word in the majority of local homes. The company maintains a complete and prompt delivery service in this department, as well as also in the ice cream department. One feature of this service that is to be highly appreciated by the local public is that they will deliver, daily and Sunday, to the local homes any quantity of cream, from a half gallon up, and their milk deliveries are made also on a seven-day-a-week schedule. In the tremendous daily traffic in Salisbury there is no more noticeable vehicular sight than that of the Peninsula Ice Cream Company's trucks, in charge of Mr. M. L. ("Eusty") Heath, who has merited the reputation of "delivering on time".

The Quality of "Holly Brand" products is entirely beyond dispute, and this, in itself, brings to mind another feature of this business that is worthy of the highest commendation and without which that quality, upon which the business is so fastly gaining a most enviable reputation, could never have existed, and that is the modern and highly sanitary conditions existing in the company's plant on East Church Street. Housed in a large modern building, equipped with more than $30,000 dollars worth of the most modern machinery, this plant has been pronounced as one of the most up-to-date and sanitary to be found anywhere. Cleanliness is paramount in this plant which, by reason of the local interest that has entered into its success, has become one of the show-places of the city. Fifteen employees who are skillfully trained in the business compose the operative staff.

On the first day this plant operated eighty-seven gallons of cream were produced and sold. Since that first day they have manufactured more than 50,000 gallons of cream, all of which has found a ready market, and each of the passing days sees an increase in the demand. The plant has a capacity of sixty gallons of cream an hour, and every kind of both bulk and block cream is produced. The plant today is recognized as one of the largest anywhere in this entire section and its trade covers the entire peninsula. In its local business five large trucks are used in the ice cream department and one in the milk delivery. The sales end of the business is supervised by Mr. O. C. Heath, Sales Manager, who also acts in the capacity as traveling representative for the company, covering the entire Peninsula.

CANDY KITCHEN MOST POPULAR WITH PEOPLE

Ice Cream, Soda And Candy Parlor Together With Restaurant Make Attractive Place

In every city and community there is always one place to which everyone points as the mecca for the very best to eat and drink, and in Salisbury such a place is that of the Salisbury Candy Kitchen, located on Main street in the very heart of the business and shopping district.

This business was established eight years ago, but on August 20th of this year, it was purchased and management was assumed by Messrs. John Mouton and George Monolakes, two of the best experienced caterers to be found anywhere.

The Salisbury Candy Kitchen is one of the most beautiful, most modern and most popular eating places in the city. Its dining room has a capacity of ninety people, and the very height of a restaurant service is to be had here. The foods are the best the market affords, and are well cooked and served amid home atmosphere, which makes the guest desire to make that place his or her regular dining place. In the front of the place is the Ice Cream, Soda and Candy Parlors, which are the leading and most beautiful of any in the city. They make their own candies, which insures their freshness and deliciousness. A large soda fountain is there also, from which the best of cold and hot drinks are served.

Service is the keynote in this place.

and during the few weeks that Messrs. Mouton and Monolakes have been here, they have won high favor from the large number of patrons who visit their place daily.

SALISBURY RESTAURANT

Food Is Cooked In Home Style And Served In Atmosphere Of Domestic Surroundings

Nothing is of more importance in the life and progress of a city than its dining places, and in this respect Salisbury is indeed fortunate. A community is always more or less judged by the accommodations afforded by such places. In the Salisbury Restaurant, located on Main Street, Salisbury has one of its foremost eating places, where dining is a pleasure. It is here that one can get the very best foods that the market affords, cooked in that old home style and served amid a home-like atmosphere and with a courtesy that is an irresistible invitation to come back again. Such is the reason why Mr. E. S. Davis, the proprietor, is making such an enviable record of success at the business here.

Mr. Davis opened this business on May 6th, 1918, and although his beginning was on a small and modest scale, it did not take long for his service to become recognized and appreciated by those in search of such a dining place, and his efforts to please the public have been highly rewarded with growth and progress.

Mr. Davis has eight efficient and courteous employees, who are adding much to the success of the business.

"A Salisbury Institution"

SALISBURY ICE COMPANY HAS LARGE OUTPUT

For Nearly Quarter of Century Has Been Supplying Salisbury and Eastern Shore With Pure Crystal Ice—Extensive Refrigerator Service in Summer Is Handled

Sanitary precautions and pure food are two of the most important requirements in connection with the operation of any business whose functions are to supply the public with things for human consumption, and the Salisbury Ice Company has made its reputation by meeting these requirements.

Established in 1900, by Jesse D. Price, the Salisbury Ice Company, then the Crystal Ice Co., began business on a comparatively small scale. But products of merit plus honest service soon began to win for them great recognition and response from the public, and the company has expanded and developed its business until today it is one of the largest enterprises of its kind in the state, and has become one of the greatest single factors in the development of Salisbury.

The daily capacity of its ice plant is 105 tons and it has a storage capacity of 16,000 tons. The Salisbury Ice Company employs an average of fifty people and operates 12 large trucks and wagons in its local deliveries and outgoing shipments. It also makes a specialty of carload shipments that cover a large territory.

At the death of Mr. W. H. Jackson, the presidency of the company was assumed by Mr. W. P. Jackson, who later withdrew from the company, due to the pressure of other business interests, and was succeeded by Mr. J. H. Tomlinson, who still holds that office. The other officers and directors of the company are: S. Franklin Woodcock, vice president; Wm. M. Cooper, secretary; Mark Cooper, Assistant Secretary and Mr. Jesse D. Price, treasurer and general manager.

No group of men has contributed more to the development of Salisbury than these gentlemen through the expansion of the activities of the company. They have displayed vision and foresight and have made this enterprise one of outstanding importance, and a most valuable asset to every phase of this community's life. They are progressive and public-spirited, and both individually and collectively are always found ready and willing to give of their time and means in support of any cause designed to build up the community and to promote the moral and material welfare of its citizens.

Hon. Jesse D. Price, the General Manager, is perhaps, one of the best known men of Wicomico County, by virtue of his most active career in commercial, civic and political affairs. For three terms he served with signal ability in the State Senate, the latter two terms holding the office of president of that body, and was a member of the 63rd, 64th and 65th Congress. He was also, for four years County Treasurer of Wicomico, at present he is State Tax Commissioner. His present commercial connections include being president of the Wicomico Building & Loan Association and vice president of the Peoples National Bank. He is a most enthusiastic member of Trinity M. E. Church, South, and is also prominent in fraternal circles, holding membership in the Moose, Red Men, and K. of P. Mr. Price is a native of White Haven, but at a very young age, came to Salisbury and entered its commercial and public life. His first business venture was the establishment of a retail shoe business on the corner where the drug store of White & Leonard now stands. He later entered the Feed and Ice business and the next change was his joining with the late W. H. Jackson in establishing the present Salisbury Ice Company.

Thus, such a busy career as Mr. Price has been one of the largest contributing factors in the steady growth and expansion of this city. He has, by no means, confined his efforts to one particular line, nor has he used them for any selfish purposes. He appreciates the fact that community building ultimately results in individual growth. Hence he has always put his city's interest in the forefront.

SALISBURY BAKING CO. SERVES THE PUBLIC

Large Territory Covered By Local Bakery That Puts Quality Into Its Products

No other business institution comes quite so close home, perhaps, to the rich man and poor man alike as does the bakery business. And it is a business which must necessarily attain a high degree of proficiency if it is to gain the confidence of its people. Quality is the watchword of the bakery if today, and if the quality of its products is ever in doubt, it will not long survive.

The Salisbury Baking Company makes the quality of its goods the prime consideration. This fact, no doubt, has been responsible more than any other condition for the steady growth of this business it has now reached the point where it serves the whole Peninsula and is taking on from day to day still greater business.

The largest plant on the Eastern Shore has been built up by this concern, which is headed by G. Wm. Phillips, president, Mrs. M. A. Thorpe, good, treasurer; and L. Atwood Bennett, secretary. Mr. Phillips and Mr. Bennett, with Mr. Lewis Morgan, are on the board of directors.

Mr. Phillips is active in the business, while Mrs. Thorpe's good assumes some of the responsibility for its operation. Mr. Bennett is the attorney for the company. The Salisbury plant employs 35 people and eight delivery routes are operated out of the city. Another plant at Onley, Va., known as the Virginia Baking Co., established in August of last year, operates three routes, and still other branches are said to be in prospect as business continues to grow. This bakery manufactures its own brands of commodities. "Peerless Bread," "Mother Libbie's Bread," "Snowflake Bread" and "Banquet Rolls" are among its staples, though it is known, also, for other commodities which fall into the general line of bakery products.

The equipment of this plant is modern in every sense of the word, and the plant is operated with the fullest of equipment for providing for one hundred per cent sanitation in every way. The officers of this company pay particular attention to this feature of the business, which is essentially of first consideration where foodstuffs are concerned.

BLUE BIRD TEA ROOM ATTRACTIVE DINING HALL

Salisbury's Most Modern and Popular Eating Place Conducted By Misses Dorothy and Beulah White

The antique argument that "women have no place in business" has in the past few years, so fastidiously ground that, today, it is practically extinct. "Where there's a will, there's a way" is especially true among the fairer sex, who are daily proving that their success in the commercial world is nothing unusual.

If, on August 17, 1922, there were the skeptics who doubted the outcome of the Blue Bird Tea Room, they have long since had occasion, in the form of actual proof, for their skepticism to be dispelled, and to concede to the two proprietresses of this famous dining establishment the victory of success.

The launching of this business in the Williams Building on August 17, last year, was on a small and modest scale. Thirty-five patrons paid the place a visit on that opening day. However, genuine service never goes unrewarded and it did not take long for the service of the Blue Bird Tea Room to become known and appreciated and rewarded with a steadily increasing volume of patronage coming from a large and discriminating clientele. So much was this true that the Misses White soon found need for more space, and upon the completion of the new Cinn Building on South Division street on August first of this year, they removed their business to this building, where they now use the entire second and third floors.

On the second floor are the dining and club rooms, with a capacity of one hundred and fifty guests. Their dining rooms are the most beautiful, the most modern and sanitary of any in this entire Peninsula. The color scheme of blue is carried out in all the furniture and furnishings of the place. However, the Misses White appreciate the fact that, while beauty and environment go a long way towards meeting the requirements of a discriminating public, they also appreciate the fact that such qualities alone will not suffice. Pure foods, well cooked and served in a home-like atmosphere are the paramount essentials in the successful operation of a business of this nature, and it is upon the basis of these qualities that the Blue Bird Tea Room is so fastidiously coming the mecca of those in search of the best foods and service to be had. It is daily embedding itself in the minds and appreciation of the public and today it is recognized as the leading and most modern and popular dining place on the Eastern Shore.

Misses Dorothy and Beulah White, owners and managers of the business, pay special attention to private diners and to meet this demand they maintain private dining and convention rooms. These convention rooms are used weekly by the local Rotary and Lions Clubs in their weekly luncheons and business meetings. The Blue Bird Tea Room is also a popular place for church and other gatherings and parties.

Peninsula Ice Cream Co., Opens Market To Dairying Interests

Other department heads of the business, to whom a major portion of the credit for the success of the enterprise can be attributed are: Mr. R. M. Brown, Plant Manager, a native of New Jersey, who came here from Morrisville, New York where he had been engaged in a similar business. Mr. Brown is versed in all the fundamentals of the business and has had eight years experience at it. The selection of him to fill the important position that he does is an asset in the business and depicts the expert judgment of the officials of the company. Mr. O. C. Heath, Sales Manager, is a native of Princess Anne and is well and favorably known all over the peninsula, where for twenty-one years he was identified with the Cohn-Bock Milling Company. Mr. J. E. Harvey former office secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. is office manager and general bookkeeper. Other members of the personnel are M. L. Heath, who is in charge of deliveries, D. J. Ennis, Shipping Clerk, O. H. Wilson, supervision of sales and deliveries of milk department and G. H. Wells in charge of the icing delivery. Mr. J. J. Rayne is their distributor at Ocean City, whose volume of business in their products can be seen by the fact that during the past five weeks he has handled more than 30,000 quarts of their milk.

When we come to review the past, short but successful career of this enterprise there is no occasion for wonder when we consider the character of its officers and working staff, all of whom are representative of the very highest type of business men and citizens of prime worth. To this there is no greater attest than by virtue of the functions of their business, which are two-fold.

The Peninsula Ice Cream Company is not only an organization where high quality dairy products are manufactured and furnished the consumer, but it is one of this section's greatest contributing factors in the development of some of its leading and most important lines of business, chiefly among which is the dairy farming. This concern offers three channels through which the farmers products can be disposed of—namely, through ice cream, pasteurized milk and creamery butter. Today it is using all of the raw products that are being produced here, which are far short of the total demands of their plant and which necessitates their buying away from home. The purchasing of these foreign products will, of course, be steadily curtailed as the local production increases. Such a market as they offer should be great inducement for the dairy-farmer to increase his production and capitalize upon the advantage of a home market. Much more could be said of the short history of this fastly growing institution. However, in summary we would justly term it one of Salisbury's and the Eastern Shore's most creditable enterprises, which is serving and filling a long felt want in the community. An industry piloted and manned by citizens of invaluable worth, of whom this community is justly proud. If we are to take the past half year as a criterion by which to judge we can have no hesitancy in predicting the ultimate success and usefulness of the Peninsula Ice Cream Company, Inc.

STAR SHIRT FACTORY BOASTS MODERN PLANT

Over Sixty Operators Employed By Large Manufacturing Concern Managed By H. A. Hawkins

Manufacturing in Salisbury has, in the past few years, assumed great proportions, and the products that are made here, serve to a great degree in giving this city some of its best and most effective publicity. Occupying a prominent place in the list of industries here, is the plant of the Star Shirt Manufacturing Company, located on Camden street, and now under the management of Mr. Harold A. Hawkins, a young man well known in local commercial circles. This plant, which has seventy five machines and nearly as many operators, is a branch of the main plant at Baltimore. It has been located here for the past eight years, and for three years it has been in its present location. The writer, who has been privileged to visit all the plants in Salisbury, has not seen a more modern plant than that of the Star Shirt Manufacturing Company. Well ventilated and having every facility to enhance the pleasantness and comfort of its operatives, it is truly one that merits the commendation of the industrial world and the public in general.

Star shirts have long since become recognized as leaders in their particular class and today their distribution is of a national scope. The local plant has a weekly capacity of 350 dozen, which are marketed through the Baltimore office.

Mr. Hawkins, the local manager is a native of Salisbury and was for a long while identified with the Jackson-Gutman Company, prior to assuming the office which he now holds. Mr. Hawkins, though a comparatively young man, is well versed in all the fundamentals of the business, and under his supervision, the Star factory here is making rapid strides. Mr. Hawkins has associated with him in the administration of the plant Mr. Thomas Stewart as plant superintendent and Miss Annalee Hillman, bookkeeper and office manager, both are invaluable assets to the operation of the business.

Today, the merchant who carries Star shirts in his stock has a commodity that is sure to please both the discriminating and conservative buyer, and one that will build for him a volume of good will.

PRESSING CLOTHES 21 YEARS GRAY'S RECORD

He And Two Sons Conduct Business Which Enjoys Utmost Confidence Of The General Public

Twenty-one years continuous service—and in the same location—is a record worthy of great praise, for it is truly one that is symbolic of the highest degree of service and the possession of the owner of the utmost confidence of the public.

For twenty-one years Mr. Gray has been operating Salisbury's largest and oldest dry-cleaning and dyeing establishment, and for that same length of time has been serving the public in a way that has meant for him an ever increasing volume of business and good will. He makes a specialty of French Dry Cleaning and Scouring of ladies and men's suits, as well as also altering and repairing. His place on the second floor at 132 Main street is modernly equipped to insure the very best and most prompt work, and he maintains a prompt and convenient delivery service. Mr. Gray has for a long while been local representative of the Victory Cleaning and Dye Works at Chester, Pa. Associated with Mr. Gray in the business are his sons, Messrs. Vaughn T. and George E. Gray, both of whom are veterans of the World War, and have been identified with their father's business since their release from national service.

Mr. Gray himself has a record of thirty-six years experience in the business, and when we come to review his past successful career, then we have no cause to wonder at the enviable record he is making here in Salisbury. Mr. Gray, who entered the business when only fifteen years of age possesses knowledge of every phase and fundamental of the business. He served for many years with Schloss Brothers in Baltimore.

DRY CLEANING PLANT GETS OUT GOOD WORK

City's Largest and Most Extensive Dye and Cleaning Works Operated by Powell & Lowe

"Knowing How" counts for lots in these days of keen competition, and the firm or individuals of a firm who are lacking in this quality cannot ever hope to combat the competition of those who do know how.

To fully appreciate the true meaning of those two words, one has but to go to the establishment of the Salisbury Dry Cleaning & Dye Works, located on the second floor of the building at the corner of North Division and Church streets, now being operated by Messrs. G. M. Powell and G. W. Lowe, two of the city's best and most favorably known young men.

The Salisbury Dry Cleaning & Dye Works has been in existence for about three years, being formerly operated by Powell & Yates. However, Mr. Lowe succeeded Mr. Yates in the business in August of this year and the business has been operated since by him and Mr. Powell.

In addition to the modern Hoffman Presser that they have in use, their place is modernly equipped to take care of the large volume of business and which is increasing daily. Messrs. Powell and Lowe do all of their work in their own shop, including the French Dry Cleaning and Dyeing, none of which leaves the city to be done. They specialize in ladies work, and the most delicate garments may be entrusted to their care with the full assurance that they will be renovated without the least injury to the garment. The establishment maintains a prompt delivery and collecting service, which adds greatly to the general efficient service that they are rendering in their line.

But it all reverts to the quality of "knowing how". Both Mr. Powell and Mr. Lowe have had experience in the business and are well versed in every fundamental of it. They have long since adopted the policy of giving entire satisfaction to their customers and this has been recognized to the extent that today they are known and patronized by hundreds of people who know and appreciate such a service as they are rendering. And it is a service too, that is attended by that degree of courtesy that will win and hold patronage.

J. RAYMOND FIELDS

Exclusive Local Dealer in Men's High Grade Tailored Suits and Overcoats; Show Rooms in Hotel

Although but about one year old the business of J. Raymond Fields is today recognized as the largest and leading one of its kind here. Mr. Fields, who maintains show rooms and offices on the first floor of the Peninsula Hotel Building, can rightfully be termed as a "dealer in good economic appearance", for he is the exclusive representative of four of the country's largest and best known tailoring concerns, namely, Ed. V. Price, of Chicago; The Hopkins Tailoring Company of Baltimore; The Monumental Tailoring Company, of Baltimore, thus he is enabled to show an offering of high grade clothes, unequalled anywhere else in this entire section of the state.

There are many reasons why Mr. Fields, who launched this business October 1st, 1922, has succeeded. First he is possessed of a thorough knowledge of every angle of the business, having been educated in it through the school of experience, covering fifteen years; second, upon deciding to open such a business he realized the importance of the lines represented, and hence chose four lines that have a national dominance in style, quality and prices. Next, Mr. Fields, by experience, knows exactly what it takes to secure and keep satisfied customers in these lines, and in this he has been most successful due to his honest and square dealings with the public.

Mr. Fields, during his twelve months service in this line has built up a large clientele of satisfied customers, as well as also having imbedded himself in the high confidence of the public, and if we are to judge the future career of this business by the past short period of its existence, then it is highly safe to predict for it a long and continued successful period of existence and real service to the community.

Mr. Fields is a native of this city. He will be well and favorably known by virtue of his fifteen years service with the former Thoroughgood Company. He holds membership in the Lions Club, of which he is one of the directors, is an Elk, Red Man and Moose.

CALE AN ELECTRICAL ENGINEER HIGH TYPE

His Firm—Electric Development Company—Has Done Much To Promote Science In Brief Time

A thorough technical knowledge of the profession, as well as practical experience is a combination that cannot be had in an electrical contractor, and in this fact lies the secret of the success of the Electric Development Company, owned and operated by Mr. Thomas A. Cale, and specializing in electrical wiring and construction. Mr. Cale, combines his special training with several years actual experience, having started in this field eighteen years ago, being connected with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Cumberland, Md. Mr. Cale established his present business in Salisbury in February, 1922, on East Main street, and in February of this year he moved into his present location on South Division street. Here he has quarters and sales rooms that compare favorably with any anywhere on the Peninsula, and without equal in Salisbury. Mr. Cale is an electrical engineer of marked ability and as a result, he is enjoying an ever-increasing volume of contracting business here and in this vicinity.

In his electrical merchandise department he makes a specialty of the Hoover Electric suction sweeper; A. B. C. Electric washing machines, Universal irons, grills and heaters, all kind of electric fixtures, Western Electric Farm Lighting Plants, on which he has built a large trade. Another department of Mr. Cale's that is daily growing in popularity and trade is the Radio department. He is sales agent and maintains service on the higher grades of radio. Another secret of the success of his business, no doubt, lies in the careful selection of skilled employees, and today Mr. Cale has an organization second to none other anywhere. Mr. Cale is clearly demonstrating her qualities in the commercial field by her efficient management of the office and sales rooms of the business.

SALISBURY POSSESSES ONLY Y. M. C. A. ON PENINSULA AND DERIVES GREAT BENEFITS

Local Christian Institution Is Distinct Community Asset Maintaining Wholesome Activities For Boys And Girls, Men And Women Of City—Gym Popular In Winter

The Y. M. C. A. is distinctly a community asset. It offers to the youth of Salisbury an opportunity to claim their inalienable right of an all-round development: physically, morally, mentally and socially, thru participation in its activities, surrounded by a wholesome environment, under Christian leadership and training. The Y. M. C. A. is primarily a Christian institution working with the youth of the city, through the Churches, in a definite program, looking toward the highest type of character development and the ultimate goal of Christian Citizenship. Its vision is that of a community ultimately to be developed on earth, wherein all men live together in the spirit of brotherhood, their association with each other being individually guided by a spirit of loving service. It seeks to give to each of its members security from the many preventable things which now threaten lives, and is working toward the maximum development of the personality of each of its members by providing them the fullest possible range of opportunity, and the development in each of the capacity and desire to make the most of opportunities afforded.

The program of the local Y. M. C. A. includes work for boys and girls, men and women. It is varied in character, productive of better health in method, and interesting in conduct. Health drills, corrective calisthenics with music, light apparatus work, basketball, baseball, volley ball and other games from the background of work in the Physical Department. Fellowship suppers, socials, moving pictures, etc., constitute the major portion of the Social and Entertainment features of the "Y" program. Educational movies, a library of some 200 selected books, a public reading room containing some 60 or 70 leading periodicals and newspapers, health talks, clean living campaigns, etc., provide an avenue of approach for the educational work. Bible study classes, Teacher Training groups, Religious talks by leading Christian laymen, Gospel Team activities and personal interviews provide the foundation for a definitely religious appeal.

As a community center, the Y. M. C. A. ranks first. Various civic and church organizations, committees, public affairs assemblies, etc., unite in making the "Y" a downtown headquarters for all their meetings. As a very large number of these groups are made up of members and contributors to the work of the Association, no charge is made for these gatherings and the "Y" thus serves the purpose of a meeting place for all phases of Community life. Such organizations as the Woman's Club, W. T. U., Men's Bible Classes of various Churches, Rotary, Ministerial Alliance, Business Men's Committees, Welfare Agencies, etc., have availed themselves of this privilege.

The Y. M. C. A. is a "home away from home" for the young men who leave their boyhood homes and go out in life searching for new worlds to conquer. It maintains a dormitory for men, where they find all the conveniences of a modern home at a cost that is reasonable. They have an opportunity to develop their hobbies, such as Camera Clubs, Radio Stations, Musical Clubs, etc. Rates range from $3.00 to $4.00 per week.

A new service department has been added to the local "Y" work, and one that will meet with the hearty approval and support of the visitors in the city from all the surrounding country, as soon as the officials at the "Y" can get the information concerning their plan to those it is intended to reach, namely: a headquarters for all visitors from the surrounding country who make Salisbury their shopping center. It is hoped to have whole families who will make it their "city home" when on their various shopping trips.

Provision has been made for checking of parcels, receiving and relaying telephone calls or personal messages, use of tables for lunches, wash room facilities, rest room for ladies and gentlemen, reading room and writing room accommodations for all who desire to use them. In fact it is hoped that it will soon become a country wide slogan "I'll meet you at the Salisbury 'Y'."

This service has been extended to all visitors free of charge, and is the outcome of a survey of conditions made by the General Secretary of the "Y" who found the need imperative for such a help, because of the crowded conditions of the streets and stores on shopping days of the week. Mothers with children, and men waiting to meet friends and business acquaintances, will alike find this more restful and enjoyable than the long tramping of the streets until the time for the departure of the train or the arrival of the bus or belated wife or husband. Do your shopping, check your packages at the "Y" and meet your friends any day that you are in Salisbury.

The 1934 Community Summer Camp under the auspices of the Salisbury Y. M. C. A. will minister to the needs of every boy and girl in this and other communities who want to avail themselves of this opportunity to enjoy the great out-of-doors under Christian leadership and environment. Participating as they will in every form of open air life, and at a cost that will be nominal, this phase of the "Y" work will attract large numbers of the youth of the Eastern Shore. It will be necessary for every boy and girl to have the signature of their pastor, or the pastor of the church where they attend Sunday School, before accepted for camp and where the occasional boy or girl is not a regular attendant of any church school, the signature of any neighboring pastor who will vouch for their conduct will be accepted. Separate camps will be conducted and both boys and girls will be grouped according to age and the splendid camp equipment will be at the disposal of any church group, under the supervision of their own chosen leaders, directed by the Y. M. C. A. It will solve that summer vacation problem for many an anxious parent and provide a summer outing for those who cannot afford to summer at the beach or in the mountains.

MARDELA FIRM BOASTS VARIETY OF INTERESTS

Waller & Bailey Are Manufacturers Of Fruit And Vegetable Carriers And Also Large Packers

The Waller & Bailey Company has become recognized in this section as one of the leading manufacturers of crates and other carriers, as well as packers of the first importance.

This company manufactures crates, baskets and carriers, employing forty men and women for this purpose. They are dealers in shingles and all kinds of building materials and have an extensive trade in this particular.

Then, the Waller & Bailey Company are extensive packers of canned goods, employing from 75 to 100 persons, mostly women, in this feature of the business. The canning of sweet potatoes and tomatoes during the canning season is a big part of the business and the daily production is one of the largest in this section. These products are shipped to the North and Middle West, very largely.

This company has been established in Maryland as a manufacturing concern for 10 years. The plant has a capacity for manufacturing from 800 to 1,000 crates a day and manufactures baskets and carriers to meet the demands of the trade. The firm is also the agent for the Home Underwriters Insurance Company, of New York, and is able through this medium to give its patrons still another advantage in service.

J. T. Waller, retired, is one of the founders of the company. G. P. Waller is general manager and owner of the plant. He is a Mason and an Elk. He is widely known in the vicinity of Maryland Springs.

The business of this company has grown steadily in the ten years in which it has operated and its products have been given a wide distribution. It has done its part toward eliminating many of the difficulties of distribution with which farmers in the past have been faced in disposing of the products of their farms and orchards. Prospects are this company will be compelled to expand its facilities in order to accommodate the growing trade. The business of the company is conducted along progressive lines, and has become a big asset to the community. Mr. Waller is a business man of wide reputation, and is always ready to lend of his time, and means to any movement designed to promote the moral or material welfare of the community. The late Stephen T. Bailey was one of the organizers of the concern and through his efforts a great deal of the success of the business is due. Mr. Bailey was one of the leading younger business men of the community and the firm has greatly missed his services.

PINKETT & HARDY

Notable among the large list of creditable colored business of the town is the firm of Pinkett & Hardy Company, composed of E. M. Pinkett, H. W. Hardy and Smith Wall, three of the most enterprising young colored business men to be found anywhere. This concern is located on West Main street, where it was established October 1, 1926, and since that time has been enjoying a large and ever increasing volume of business and success. Their plant there is one of the best equipped and most modern to be found anywhere, and though there may be others larger, there is none that has any better facilities for turning out high class work and prompt service than does the firm of Pinkett & Hardy Company. They make a specialty of dry cleaning and of ladies work. Ladies who have the very delicate of garments can send them to Pinkett & Hardy Company with the full assurance that they will be cleaned without the slightest injury to them. In their pressing department they use the Prosperity presses, one of the latest and most improved presses on the market.

Three employees are used to carry on the large volume of business that good service has built up for them. They also maintain an efficient and prompt delivery service, collecting and delivering work in the city.

However, they maintain other departments that have won for them, perhaps, their greatest amount of praise and commendation. Both Pinkett and Hardy are expert tailors of more than ten years experience, and today they have a large business in their tailoring department, where their hand-tailor suits and overcoats to order, the entire job being done in the plant. In addition to this, they represent several large tailoring concerns, including the Custom line of Tailoring and the Detmer Woolen line.

C. T. LAYFIELD

It was in 1905 that Mr. Layfield, who, having unlimited faith in Salisbury and its future, ventured to launch out into its commercial circles and opened such a business here. His start was on quite a small and modest scale and his road was not paved with roses. Although that has been only eighteen years ago, even then it was that people did not appreciate the importance of such a service institution and hence, in addition to cleaning and pressing clothes, Mr. Layfield, in his program of growth and expansion, of necessity had to do lots of "missionary" work.

But will power and determination have never known defeat, and the "steeper the grade" the more power did he put into force. Steady was his growth, both in volume of business and in favor of the public. Today, Mr. Layfield, we are safe in saying, occupies a most enviable position "at the top of the hill" of live and prospering commercial institution hereabouts.

Mr. Layfield operates a highly modern plant, using the Hoffman presser and all other modern equipment that insures the very best of work and the most prompt service. The functions of this establishment are the cleaning, pressing and repairing of ladies' and men's suits and overcoats, dry cleaning and the sale of high grade tailored suits and overcoats, from the house of Fowler & Company of Baltimore. Four courteous and efficient employees compose the personnel that are assisting Mr. Layfield in furthering the already high reputation he enjoys in his field and he maintains one of the best and most prompt delivery services to be found anywhere.

Say Mr. Man, So Long As You Must Wear Clothes Why Not Wear

You like to look your best; good quality material and good workmanship is a paying investment. "Top Notch" quality garments is our "Long Suit", and we can convince you that good goods are the cheapest in the long run.

SALISBURY IS "HUB OF THE WHEEL" IN LARGE AND RICH TRADING TERRITORY

Adequate Transportation Facilities Give This City Full Commanding Position

Pennsylvania Main Line Between Philadelphia And Norfolk Intersects Here With B. C. & A. Railway Crossing Shore—River Boats And Extensive Motor Bus Lines Link Up Other Points To Great Advantage For Commercial Expansion.

By W. T. GARDNER,
Traffic Manager, Salisbury-Wicomico
Chamber of Commerce.

Salisbury, Queen City of the Delmarvia Peninsula, is located on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, running north and south between Philadelphia and Norfolk, Va. This line makes direct connection for the south at Norfolk and at Philadelphia for points north, east and west.

The city is also located on the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway which runs east and west between Ocean City and Calhorne, Md. Thence a ferry to Baltimore where connections are made with three trunk lines, the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and Western Maryland Railroad for all points east, west, north and south.

Salisbury is also located at the head of navigation on the Wicomico River where the business section is served by two water line services between local river points, the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Company and the Wicomico Line which operates the "Victor Lynch".

Motor bus service between the city and Calhorne is furnished by the Shore Transit Line Inc. There it connects with the Calhorne-Annapolis Ferry for Annapolis and Washington, National Capitol, as well as Baltimore.

Gasoline propelled busses also operate to Berlin, Sharptown, Allen, Fruitland and other points in this section as well as to points in the State of Delaware.

Unexcelled state roads lead into the city from principal sections of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, thus making Salisbury the logical shopping center of the Peninsula as it is possible to make the trip here and back in a single day from any section within a radius of something like a hundred miles.

A Union passenger station is conveniently located at the junction of the two railroad lines, here the traveler gets his first impression of Salisbury as a bustling, thriving place. The station, which was built several years ago, at the time of its erection was considered a very decided credit to a town the size of Salisbury and such a structure was secure only after a hard fight by the citizenry here for a building commensurate with the city's growth and progress.

Freight is accepted and delivered from two freight stations both being located contiguous to the city's commercial district. The wharves of the boat lines are both located right in the heart of the mercantile section and easy of access to all the wholesale houses of Main Street. Side tracks are provided for industrial concerns.

An auction block and produce yards are located on the B. C. & A. tracks near the junction of the F. R. R. Here are afforded excellent facilities for the handling of perishable commodities. Carriers give next morning delivery at Baltimore and Philadelphia on this sort of matter and second morning delivery at New York City and Buffalo while perishable products reach Boston, Mass. and Pittsburgh markets the third day out from Salisbury.

Two of the most modernly equipped ice plants to be found in the eastern part of the country, fitted out with the most modern appliances, storage facilities and with abundant icing platforms, are and re-ice perishes at this point.

A resume of the whole situation reveals the fact that due to geographical location in the heart of the Peninsula, water lines, state roads, motor and bus lines, railroad facilities and other advantages, Salisbury is able to command a large trade area.

WICOMICO CROSS CHAPTER VERY ACTIVE

One of the most active organizations in Wicomico County since the cessation of the great World War has been the Wicomico Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The securing of a County Nurse was one of the first steps and a capable nurse assumed charge of the public health work in this county. Much constructive work was accomplished in this program.

In addition the Red Cross here has each year done over the top in the Roll Call Drive and recently Wicomico County was the only county on the shore that responded fully to the appeal for funds to aid Japan.

HIGH SCHOOLS HERE LEADERS IN ATTENDANCE

Wicomico County Ranks First In Ratio Of Attendance In Advanced Grades To Those Enrolled In All Grades In White Schools—Parents And Teachers Co-operate.

By JAMES M. BENNETT, Superintendent of Schools.

Behind every notable achievement in the nation's history there has been men or women of outstanding character and personalities and never has there been ways and means discovered of greater importance in moulding these attributes than education.

In the past few decades, Salisbury and Wicomico County have progressed wonderfully along commercial, social and religious lines, consequently the present public school officials feel a just pride in the contributions which their predecessors have made to this advancement and are striving valiantly to give the county an administration concerning which historians of the future will feel no hesitancy about recording.

The present school officials are doing everything in their power to give the children of Wicomico County a public school education. In fact, we are doing still more. We are attempting to mould the character and ambition of the youth of today that we may inculcate in that child an ambition not only to finish high school but to continue in a higher institution of learning.

As to just how far we are succeeding in keeping children in the schools is revealed by a perusal of some of the records in recent years. In 1922, the enrollment in high schools in the state gave Wicomico first place in the ratio of attendance in white high schools to attendance in all white schools. This shows that the parents of Wicomico County are fully aware of the advantages of high school education.

An especially large number of the graduates of high schools are entering normal schools or colleges. Agricultural schools are now attracting many of students from Wicomico County.

Keeping pace with other counties of the state in the way of increases in enrollment in the approved high schools, the records show that in 1912 there were 296 pupils entered in the approved county high schools while in October of the present year there were 886 names inscribed.

That pupils are required to attend school as prescribed by law is evinced by the fact that the last annual report of the State Department of Education of Maryland shows that in percent of enrollment in attendance, Wicomico County ranks third for white high schools; third for colored schools. Wicomico, in Charles E. Tighman, has a live wire attendance officer who conscientiously enforces, although with discretion, this mandate of the state.

That children are in the hands of capable and well qualified instructors is manifest. Wicomico County is making rapid strides in the professional preparation of teachers. Teachers holding third grade certificates will not be employed after the close of the present school year. Of all the new elementary teachers employed for the school year 1923-1924 only two had preparation less than Normal School graduation, and one of these was a teacher who had had several years' experience. In a few years every white child in Wicomico County will be taught by a teacher whose preparation is equivalent to or greater than Normal School graduation.

36% of the teachers in Wicomico County were enrolled in summer schools in the summer of 1922.

In Wicomico County, parents in various sections are working hand in hand thru the medium of Parent-Teachers Associations. There are many of these organizations in the county and more are being formed each successive year.

That pupils are acquiring the knowledge disseminated by their pedagogues (Continued on Page 28)

Salisbury's Retail District Reflects Progress Of City As Shopping Center

Large Modern Stores With Varied Stocks Attract Thousands Of Shoppers From All Over Peninsula—Mercantile Life Of City Has Been Built Up On Honest Principles

The commercial importance of a city is almost always judged by the appearance of its retail stores.

An array of stores that stand out prominently in appearance and in the quality of the goods they carry cannot help but reflect on the prosperity of a community, and most of all it means business.

Salisbury, very fortunately for the city itself and its own people, possesses a retail store district that is without a superior on the Peninsula and which has few peers in any city its size or many times larger in the entire country.

Most of the larger stores have been built up from small beginnings; they have served the people faithfully and honestly for many generations, and in return the patronage they have won has been reflected in their expansion and in the growth and development of the city itself.

There are reasons for this: Salisbury has modern stores; they are stores whose stock are selected with a particular view of meeting the demands of its shoppers, and in every line the predominating spirit is to give satisfaction.

The policies on which these stores have been operated have been conducive to pleasant relations with its customers. Honest merchandise at honest prices, and a square deal for all is the main slogan of practically every progressive store in Salisbury with the result that the people have shown their appreciation of the manner in which these mercantile establishments have been conducted.

And it is not only the Main Street merchants who have made Salisbury's reputation, but those of other thoroughfares, which have been built up on the same principles, and a visitor to the city is at once impressed by the atmosphere of cordiality, service, and a desire to give satisfaction in every way.

Salisbury owes much to these men, many of whom have fought their way to the top by the prompt adoption of modern mercantile methods, and by the contributing in every way possible to the upbuilding of the city. Their liberality, their splendid ideas, their vision and foresight stand out as a monument to the kind of men who are making a Greater Salisbury, and when they surrender the reins to the younger generation, they will have left a heritage of which the city may be justly and profoundly proud.

LIONS CLUB AIDS IN COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

Has Helped Build Up And Maintain Local Company, National Guard Promoting Rifle Match

The Lions Club made its debut in Salisbury last May and since then has taken a prominent part in community and civic affairs. The Lions Club as individuals and as an organization are for progress and improvement both in Salisbury and its vicinity. The first work taken up by the Lions as an organization was an endeavor to arouse interest in Company "I" and to obtain recruits for our National Guard Unit. The Club through its committee were successful in their endeavors and in order to sustain the interest aroused have offered a silver trophy to be shot for in competition of Company "I". Numerous organizations have responded to this call for rifle competition and much interest is being shown in the result and it is

Pioneer Indian Trails To Mouth Of Wicomico Waters Now Great Highway System

From Every Direction Modern Hard-Surfaced Roads Converge Into Salisbury—Value Of Maryland's Far-Famed Improved Road System Strikingly Exemplified By Traffic Movement In And Out This Central Point On Delmarvia Peninsula.

By Alfred T. Truitt

Picture, first the territory now included in Wicomico county as it was at the time of its early settlement by the English. You will see a myriad of trails leading from every angle of the county down to the waters edge where the Indians launched their canoes into the Wicomico to visit their neighbors, to fish, to make war upon other tribes or whatever the immediate need of travel by water route may have been. A number of these trails now mark the lines of present roads in Wicomico county.

Picture now the numerous inlets and outlets to Salisbury as we see them today. The myriad of trails has been replaced by permanent road construction. Salisbury still remains the natural center for these roads. Highway building in this county under the immediate supervision of the Board of county commissioners and the State Roads Commission is progressing and continues to do much to open this territory and make it easily accessible from all points of the state.

There was a time, and within the not distant past, when to make a passage by auto to Salisbury was a dangerous undertaking. The roads were muddy and impassable, or dusty full of holes and rough. This difficulty of passage hampered all districts of the county. Farmers were unable to properly transport delicate and perishable produce to market. Merchants were unable to economically haul their wares to their stores. But the ambitious schedule has brought about a change.

From every direction modern, hard-surfaced roads are leading out into every section of the hinterland. With the tremendous increase in the number of automobiles in use each year, modern highways have contributed their part to the commercial development of the county. With every season on the number of farmers using trucks for delivery is increasing many depending entirely upon this method of marketing.

Approximately ten years ago this schedule was started with the construction of the road leading east from Salisbury to Ocean City. This road passes through Walston, Parsonsburg, Havre de Grace, Wicomico, Easton, and Berlin. Numerous cross roads lead into it making it the main artery for a great section. Popularity of Ocean City as a resort has spread, tens of thousands of automobiles travel over the road each summer taking vacationists and tourists to what is claimed to be the best bathing beach on the Atlantic Coast.

Southward from Salisbury leads a road through Fruitland, Allen, Loretta and Princess Anne. Three miles below Princess Anne the road branches, one branch leading through Costen and Pocomoke and another passing through Westover and Marion Station, terminating in Crisfield. The major portion of this road is of concrete construction.

Westward leads a road through Hebron, Mardela, Riverton and Sharp believed that each organization entering a team for the cup will be benefited as a result of their efforts to be victorious in the coming shoot. The motto of the Lions is "Liberty, Intelligence and Nation's Safety" and the local Club is living up to the slogan. During the summer the Club, through donation of machines, was of assistance to our boys in supplying transportation to Camp Fairlie. The Club also sent some worthy boys who were not financially able to meet the cost of this camp. Following the training of our coming generation the local Lions are very much interested in the Boy Scout movement and in our local Y.M.C.A. The Club is composed of 27 representative men of the community, one man being selected from each business and profession. The list of members and officers follows:

Clarence W. Wheaton, president; Dr. S. A. Graham, vice-president; Wm. H. Jackson, Jr., 2nd vice-president; John K. Gunby, 3rd vice-president; J. B. Williams, treasurer; W. Denwood Mitchell, secretary; Dr. S. N. Pilchard, M. A. Derr, James E. Humphreys, Thomas A. Cale, Robert E. Morris, Joseph Y. Gunby, G. Roland Taylor, J. Ray Fields, Joseph Chatham, E. W. Townsend, Jr., S. Franklin Woodcock, J. J. Scott, E. Wilson Booth, Walter Holloway, W. J. Downing, Jr., Dr. R. O. Higgins, Harry I. Oswald, William Feldman, William F. Ward, 2nd, L. Eugene Todd.

town and thence through Dorchester and Caroline counties to Calhorne, the terminal of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway and of the Calhorne-Annapolis Ferry. This road connects with a concrete road, Easton which leads northward thru the Eastern Shore counties to Elkton and Havre de Grace.

It is the boast of the Marylanders that a tourist may "take to the road" at Ocean City, on the Atlantic Ocean and the eastern terminus of the State road system and traverse the entire state to the mountains of Western Maryland and never leave a concrete or stone road. Maryland is ranked next to California as having the second best system of improved roads in entire country.

The question of national defense also enters into the building of permanent roads for every important seaport should not be dependent upon the railroads alone. Permanent roads as a part of a National defense program are not new. Caesar, during his Gallic wars, started a campaign for such roads in Italy that they still remain—a monument to their builders.

And so, taking all things into consideration, the building of roads into Salisbury is a vital movement and this city will feel the effects in many ways, just as she is already feeling the effects of those roads.

The streets of the city itself have been improved as a direct result of the building of roads through Wicomico county. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent in completing program. With the benefits to the city, to the rural districts and to the tourists it appears that a united hand will demand its completion as rapidly as funds may be made available.

CASH SALES IN CITY RANK 4TH HIGH IN STATE

Salisbury Tops Frederick, Western Shore Rival, In Amount Of Business Conducted—City Is Also Accorded Unusual Rating On Report Made For Entire Country

Cash sales in Salisbury ranks this city fourth in Maryland in the amount of business conducted. According to Babson's sales forecast of business throughout the country, Baltimore ranks first in the state, Hagerstown second, Cumberland third, Salisbury fourth and Frederick fifth.

By cash sales is meant purchases in the city with either money or checks, but does not include negotiable notes, mortgages or any other form of legal paper in exchange for any article. Checks drawn upon a bank by another banking institution is also excluded.

During the month of August, cash sales in Salisbury totaled $5,593,576, an increase of 1,975,000 over the same month last year. Frederick, Salisbury's western shore rival city, transacted less than one-half the business reported from this city with a cash sales report of $1,611,000.

Cash sales in Salisbury for the first eight months in 1922 and 1923 follow:

Month	1922	1923
January	$2,255,551	$2,729,576
February	2,784,046	2,973,197
March	2,383,726	2,851,334
April	2,145,625	2,841,584
May	2,612,654	2,823,545
June	2,700,520	2,812,464
July	2,581,974	2,975,667
August	2,730,425	2,851,278
September	2,611,223	2,894,327
October	2,780,435	2,851,276

Only for the month of March has the sales in Salisbury totaled less than two and a half million dollars, since January first of this year. In this respect, Salisbury compares well with any city in the United States containing a population near its own. In fact, on a comparative scale, this city is excelled by very few cities in the country. Babson's report shows:

In a survey and forecast of the business outlook for this fall, Babson selects 320 cities throughout the country which are recommended as the most fruitful from a sales and advertising point of view. This list includes Salisbury.

FARMERS & PLANTERS COMPANY HANDLES ALL PRODUCTS FOR NEEDS OF FARMERS

Concern is One Of Largest Commercial Establishments On Peninsula—Manufacturers Fish And Bone Fertilizers And Deals In High Grade Farm Implements, Coal, Lime, Etc.

There is no class of business today on the Eastern Shore of more importance than that whose functions are in conjunction with the great agricultural interests of the community, and for this reason does Salisbury and this county have one of their best assets in the establishment of the Farmers and Planters Company, manufacturers of high grade fish and bone fertilizers, and dealers in farm implements, coal, seeds, feeds and lime. Having all the prestige that only years of straight-forward and fair dealing can confer, yet thoroughly modern in its methods, this concern, now and for years past the leading one of like character in this section, still retains the position it earned when it was organized in 1912, at that time succeeding the firm of similar name conducted by Mr. Glen Perkins.

The Farmers & Planters Company, whose home is located on West Main Street, are manufacturers of the famous "Truckers Fish Special" fertilizer, and their trade extends all over the Peninsula. They are also dealers in such high grade farm machinery and implements as the John Deere, Deere & Gibbs Plow Co., American Sowing Machine Co., and International Harvester Co. lines, as well as also handling coal, lime, feeds and seeds. Noted for its freedom from dirt, the coal handled by this concern is always in great demand by both commercial and domestic institutions locally. And it has equally good trade on all the many other lines that they handle.

No review of Salisbury and this county, their past achievements and present prestige, would be complete without due mention of this, one of their largest and most creditable service institutions, which has been built on the basis of high quality, nominal prices and courteous and fair treatment to all alike.

However, the past success and future prospects of this concern occasion no degree of wonder when we come to review the ability and commendable genius represented in the men who are piloting the business. Mr. D. J. Ward, the president, W. F. Allen, vice president, and W. P. Ward, treasurer, are all truly veterans in the commercial, industrial and civic interests of their community, and ever on the alert to cooperate in any possible way to further any movement designed for this purpose.

CONSTRUCTION COMPANY IS BUILDING UP SHORE

Consolidated Engineering Corporation Doing Work On Salisbury Hotel And Normal School

In reviewing the past history and development of any section, it becomes evident that standing conspicuous in the list of contributing factors are always found the construction and engineering concerns. Particularly is this true of the Eastern Shore.

A review of this immediate section here reveals the fact that playing no small part in the constructive growth of this community is the Consolidated Construction Company, of Baltimore, the personnel of which has been actively engaged in the construction and engineering business for more than a quarter of a century.

The Consolidated Engineering Company occupy large offices in the Calvert Building and employ an average of 500 men, with a payroll of a million dollars annually for labor alone. In addition to their construction and engineering business, they maintain the largest appraisal office in the south, during the existence of which they have appraised several hundred million dollars worth of property covering many states.

In operations of this company are country-wide, and their name, in building circles, is truly symbolic of the apex of perfection in construction and engineering work. This is evinced by the fact that they have, during their 25 years of operations, completed contracts for every branch of the city government. To date, their operations have reached the 50 million dollar mark and they complete every year between three and seven million dollars worth of work. They have operated in every state east of the Mississippi River, except in the New England states.

The Consolidated Engineering Company, which now has a capital of $300,000, was organized July 1, 1911 and was incorporated in September of that year. The executive staff is composed of George F. Zouck, President; Charles A. Cummins, Vice-President and General Manager; Clarence E. Elderkin, Secretary and Treasurer; John A. Stalford, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer and Alfred E. Hartman, Chief Engineer. The business personnel is composed of Messrs. Charles A. Cummins, John A. Stalford, Alfred E. Hartman, John T. Francis, Herman Berger, Newell Cox, Harry Ward and J. Frank O'Connor.

All these gentlemen are representatives of the height of efficiency in building and engineering circles. The functions of their respective capacities are not confined to construction of buildings alone, but they are each at all times, found ready to serve in any way possible the various communities in which they operate.

The Consolidated Engineering Company are now engaged in the building of Salisbury's New Hotel, which is a long step forward in the program of progress now being executed in this section.

POPULAR PLAYHOUSE IS ARCADE THEATRE

Features High Class Screen Productions—Vaudeville And Road Productions—Lee Insley, Manager

Just as true as the statement "Youth must be served" is the saying that "Youth must be amused and Older people should be." Imagine for once a city the size of Salisbury lacking that phase of social life—that of amusement. Just so great have the strides of this industry grown until today it is considered so much as a luxury as it is an absolute necessity in the life of any community, for it takes it all to make a community.

In view of these truths, a survey and review of Salisbury's commercial and social life would be most incomplete without due representation of its largest and leading amusement house, the Arcade Theatre, located in the heart of town, on Main street.

The building that houses this show-house is one of the most modern to be found anywhere on the peninsula. The theatre itself is modern in every particular and nothing has been overlooked to insure the ultimate comfort and entertainment of its patrons, which are numbered by the hundreds not only in Salisbury, but for miles around. The Arcade came into existence some nine years ago, and has yearly grown in popularity and good will. For the past ten years the theatre has been under the management of Mr. Lee Insley, whose experience in the theatrical business has added much to the success of the Arcade.

The Arcade Theatre has one main floor, a balcony and a gallery, with a combined seating capacity of 1,500. It specializes in first run screen productions, featuring Paramount and First National pictures. Another feature of the policy of this house is their regular weekly vaudeville productions, which are looked for by the latter half of every week. In addition to this the Arcade affords local theatre-goers the very best in all road productions in season. Augmenting the attractions at this playhouse is the large pipe organ and piano, which furnish the musical phase of the program and which have won high commendation from the patrons of the theatre.

Mr. Insley is a native of Bethel, Del., and is a son of the late Senator Insley of Delaware. Mr. Insley is fully equipped with a wide and varied experience in the theatrical business.

THIS FIRM PIONEERS AS FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Holloway & Company Have Seen Nearly Forty Years Continuous Service In This Territory

In comparison to all the eternity of the past and all the eternity of the future, life is but a fleeting thing of a fugitive moment, bright for a brief instant and then, like the flickering of a candle's flame, gone forever.

Surrounded by the unknown mystery of the ages, the thing called death is a subject to which everyone must give serious consideration, for no one knows the time at which they, or their loved ones will be called to cross that line that divides the finite from the infinite.

All, therefore, should be, in some measure, prepared for it, should know into whose hands and care they wish to put their final disposition. Even in life we are in the midst of death. A beautiful funeral expresses deep devotion and to make it appropriately beautiful it must be properly arranged. And herein can we see the necessity and importance in the choice of the director of the last rites to our dead.

In thinking of this one subject, the thoughts of most people in Salisbury and community will turn towards the organization of Holloway & Company, Salisbury's pioneer funeral directors and embalmers, who for thirty-eight years have served the people of this community and who are known to have a service that is unexcelled for its quietness, dignity, simplicity, sympathy and regard for every wish of the families they serve. This veteran establishment is conducted by Mr. S. J. R. Holloway and his son, Mr. Walter R. Holloway, both of whom are advocates and practice the golden rule that "We, ourselves, are better served by serving others best." Many have been the occasions when they officiated in the final disposition of honored and distinguished citizens of this community.

Holloway & Company maintain a modern establishment at 620 East Church street. That practice makes perfect is evinced by the wonder record that this company has made. The elder Mr. Holloway started in this business in 1884 at Bishopville, this state. He later conducted a similar business at Fowellsville and came to Salisbury in 1900, opening business in the same building he now occupies although it was at that time located on the site of the corner of East Church and Railroad Avenue, where the American Express Company's offices now are. At the time of removing to the building across Church St., Mr. Holloway made extensive improvements to it and now has one of the most modern undertaking establishments to be found anywhere. Every method of modern service, including a motor hearse, is employed by this concern and their embalming service has been duly credited as being the best in this section of the country.

The embalming is in direct charge of Mr. Walter Holloway, who during his almost life long career at the profession has made a phenomenal reputation for himself. Family records do not divulge the exact causes for the son to follow in the footsteps of his esteemed father in the profession, further than the supposition that it was inherited. Be that as it may, he always manifested a keen interest in the profession, and when but a small tot, he was a regular participant in the rites officiated over by his father. Even before he reached his teen age, Mr. Holloway served in his father's embalming department and his knowledge and skill of the profession has only increased with the passing years until he has reached the enviable pinnacle of success and renown. Mr. Holloway, though yet a young man, is one of the city's most progressive citizens and business men. He is prominent in the Lions Club of this city, as well as in many other commercial and civic organizations, including the Red Men.

Mr. S. J. R. Holloway needs no introduction in this section, where he is most well and favorably known. Mr. Holloway's father was on the first board of County Commissioners when Wicomico was organized and was an English descent.

Mr. Holloway is most prominent in his profession. He is now Third Vice President of the Maryland State Funeral Directors Association. Mr. Holloway is one of this city's most honorable and popular citizens, possessing a keen interest in the welfare of his community and ever ready to respond, with cooperation, to any call designated to further the best interests of Salisbury and Wicomico Co.

SHIELDS KEEPS FINE SEED AND FEED STORE

Former Manager Of Tomato Growers' Association Has In Stock Great Variety Of Feeds

This business had its origin seven years ago as the Tomato Growers' Association, and remained as such until two years ago, when Mr. Shields, who had managed the association's affairs for the five years, purchased the interests of the stockholders and launched the present business under his own name.

The sales rooms of Mr. Shields are stocked with a large variety of field and garden seeds and feed of all kinds, notable among his stocks is the Cornell brand of stock and poultry feeds, and this, together with his other stocks, he receives fresh every week, in five ton lots, thus assuring his many customers of the very purest and freshest of feeds and seeds.

Mr. Shields' watchword is "Service" and he is leaving nothing undone to afford his large list of customers the very best of it. Recently Mr. Shields returned from the West, where he spent four weeks conferring with growers and dealers of seeds, and now he is in a better position than ever to serve his clients in the very highest grade of seeds and feeds. This is just one of the many business methods that Mr. Shields uses in order to prove a valuable institution to the farmers of this section, as well as to gardeners also. And it is just this kind of service that is winning for him a most enviable volume of business and good will. This store counts its customers by the hundred, and for every customer, it has also a friend, for they know that "What Shields says it is,—it is."

FITCH IS THE PIONEER LOCAL OPTOMETRIST

Optician Has Had 33 Years Successful Service And Grinds Lenses In Own Laboratories On Main St.

The eye today is recognized as one of the most delicate, yet one of the most important of all the senses, and great care should be used in the selection of the one who is to treat them, for it is highly essential that no changes be taken. Thirty-three years of successful practice in optometry is surely ample proof that the practitioner is highly competent to insure the utmost successful results with the greatest degree of safety. Such is the record of Mr. Harold N. Fitch, Salisbury's pioneer Optometrist and Optician, whose offices and parlors are located on Main Street, where he has been for the past twenty years. Recently Mr. Fitch moved into larger and handsomer quarters two doors below his old stand.

Mr. Fitch, who is a native of Chicago, has been in Salisbury for thirty-three years. He is a graduate optometrist with several post-graduate degrees. Mr. Fitch makes a specialty of grinding his own lenses, which insures the patient of the utmost service, and also makes a specialty of prescription work. His offices on Main Street contain his laboratory, his work rooms and sales rooms, and parlors for the testing of eyes, all cheerfully furnished and reflecting an atmosphere of repose which results pleasantly upon the person suffering from eye trouble and its attendant ills.

Mr. Fitch is a member of the Maryland State Optical Association and is registered in the State Board of Optometry. Recently he added to his sales department the Ansco line of kodaks and supplies, and this together with his large stocks of optical goods and supplies makes his sales rooms the most attractive and modern of any to be found anywhere.

BIRTHPLACE OF FAMOUS NAVAL HERO NEAR BERLIN IS HARRISON NURSERY LANDMARK

Ground Where Commodore Stephen Decatur Tramped In Boyhood Days Now Marked By World-Famed Fruit Tree Industry
That Has Attracted Attention To This Section

All human progress has come because man was created a weak and needy creature, and he has, through thousands of years, been at work turning his liabilities of weakness and need into assets of courage, brains and ingenuity. Some writers have defined man as a tool-using animal, and so he is. He lacked the strength, so he invented tools; he lacked speed and means of carrying heavy burdens, so he domesticated the horse and other animals and invented power vehicles and trained them to work for him. In all history we find that man has made the greatest progress where he has been forced to use his head in overcoming obstacles.

"There is a time, which taken at its tide, will lead to fortune" is a saying the truth of which is visualized almost daily by study of human beings and their acts of labor and progress. Nearly forty years ago one of Worcester County's prominent sons, in the course of his natural experiment, was confronted with commercial obstacles. The necessity of their being met and conquered imposed upon him the duty of using his own mental faculty. It was then that the late and esteemed J. G. Harrison and his son, Orlando Harrison, planted the seeds that have since grown to be the world's largest and most famed nursery and orchards.

Associating with him his two sons, Senator Orlando Harrison and George A. Harrison, and father and sons began the growing of fruits and trees on a small and modest scale. However, strict attention to business, and making good in every promise made, were assets in the business that soon effected its steady and phenomenal growth and expansion.

Upon the death of the elderly Mr. Harrison in 1915, the management of the business was assumed by Senator Orlando Harrison, assisted by his brother, Geo. A. Harrison and his two sons, Messrs. G. Hale and Henry L. Harrison. Since the death of Geo. A. Harrison on December 18th 1922, the business is now managed by Orlando Harrison, his four sons, G. Hale Harrison, Henry L. Harrison, Orlando Harrison, Jr., John L. Harrison and his two nephews, Jos. G. Harrison and Burdette Harrison.

To grasp the magnitude and importance of this business in its true sense, or to attempt to portray it in type, is indeed a most difficult task, for nothing less than a personal visit to this, "the world's largest nursery and orchard" would suffice or do it justice.

Hundreds of cars of peaches, apples, and other fruits are grown in amazing quantities, and within a radius of many miles around, there are more strawberries raised and packed than in any other section of the country. Nature, itself, has been kind and lavish with soil and climatic conditions most favorable to fruit production.

The development of the fruit industry to a great extent has been fostered by Harrison's Nurseries as it is also this great enterprise that has placed on the map, Berlin, Worcester County and the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Today Harrison's Nurseries not only can be termed the world's largest fruit growers, but they are also this section's greatest single commercial institution and largest advertising factor.

Great and rapid strides of progress have been made in the business, both under its original and present management. However, due to the great system of organization employed in the business, the members of the firm have at all times found time to contribute their support and attention to things that make for a greater civic community. The Messrs. Harrison have all been, and are, prominent in public affairs of the Eastern Shore, and aside from their commercial more favorably known by virtue of their deep interest in their community and their activities, and oftentimes their initiative steps, in matters of a civic nature.

Hon. Orlando Harrison was elected to the State Senate in 1914 and served in that high and important post for four years, during which time through his initiative and efforts many important bills affecting the welfare of his district and county were enacted into law. So favorable was his record during the first term of office that he was the people's choice in the next election and took his seat for another term and again a third term. Senator Harrison is a man of broad vision and keen business judgment. He is progressive and ever interested in things that make for development, and to this end he is always found to readily contribute of his time and means.

Not unlike his Senator brother, Mr. Geo. A. Harrison was one of the best and most prominently known men on the Peninsula, holding many prominent commercial and civic connections which mark him as one of the largest contributing figures in the past and present progress and development of the Eastern Shore.

Messrs. G. Hale and Henry L. Harrison are young men of marked business ability who are contributing largely to the phenomenal success of the business as well as the other sons and nephews of which their father is the head. Like their father and uncle and following in the footsteps of their grandfather, they manifest a deep interest in the welfare of their home community and the Eastern Shore and are truly civic, as well as commercial, assets to this section.

In summary, we would point to this major nursery enterprise, not as a mere place where fruits are grown and sold for a price, but as an institution the largest of its kind in the world—the Eastern Shore's greatest single commercial enterprise and largest advertising factor, being operated by man representative of the very highest citizenship.

SAMUEL P. WOODCOCK

Salisbury's Oldest Realtor, And The Pioneer Of Entire Peninsula Launched In The Business In 1890, Since Which Time Has Been Dominant Figure In The Development Of Salisbury And Vicinity.

In reviewing Salisbury's past progress and development, and that of this entire section, we find, at the very top of the list of constructive citizens, the name of Samuel P. Woodcock, pioneer realtor, who for more than a quarter of a century has been the leading and most prominent figure in the task of advertising and building up of a greater Salisbury. His contributions to this growth have been unequalled, and today this city of more than ten thousand souls stands in the place of a village of a few years ago—a monument to the fruitful and most prominent career of this veteran real estate dealer.

Mr. Woodcock knows Salisbury. It was here that he saw the first light of day, and where, in his early youth he learned the watchmaking trade under his father, the late esteemed A. W. Woodcock. Due to the utter confinement of this trade, Mr. Woodcock sought a more of a out-door vocation. The farm called him and he responded, but soon after he identified himself with a large wholesale house in the capacity of traveling salesman, covering seventeen states, from Florida to Minnesota. It was during these travels that Mr. Woodcock was thoroughly "sold" on the truth that there was but one Eastern Shore and but one Salisbury, and he ceased then to be a further "Knight of the Grip"—and hence, came home to "sell" Salisbury and this section to the outside world. For twenty-eight years has he successfully done this.

Mr. Woodcock, whose modern offices are located in the Central Bank Building on Main street, is one of the city's most public-spirited citizens. That he has long been one is proven by the long and useful career that he has had here. No man is better acquainted with this section than he, and none is better known than he is. His extensive knowledge of this section is always open and free to those who would know more of it, and there is no better nor more complete source from which to obtain it than through him. His courteous personality and treatment of both prospects and others is such that makes him one of the most popular figures in the city. Mr. Woodcock holds membership in the local Chamber of Commerce and in the M. E. Church, as well as many other prominent commercial and civic connections. With the passing years he is always found ready and willing to join hands with other agencies, by investing of his time and means in any movement designed to effect the continued growth and development of this, the community in which he has lived and served so well.

Mr. Woodcock makes a specialty now of small farms as well as city property and in late years he has been the leading auction sale conductor in this section. At the present he is developing "Highland", a suburban property of two hundred and fifty lots which is destined to become Salisbury's greatest residential development of the future.

In this "Fall Trade and National Publicity" Edition of The Wicomico News, no institution nor individual is deserving of more mention and credit than does that constructive institution of Samuel P. Woodcock.

SALISBURY MOTOR CO. LARGE AUTO DEALERS

Handle Buick, Cadillac And Chevrolet Cars For Wide Territory—Maintain Modern Service Station

Salisbury, in the past few years, has become the chief automotive center of the entire Peninsula, and the development in this line has been phenomenal, until today it can boast of some of the largest and modern motor institutions as can be found in even the larger metropolitan centers.

Conspicuous among the local motor houses is the Salisbury Motor Company, local dealers of Buicks, Cadillacs and Chevrolets, and due to the superior values that are found in these cars, together with the valued services rendered by the Salisbury Motor Company, these makes have come into great prominence during the period that this company has been handling them.

The Salisbury Motor Company was organized and incorporated in August, 1921, and though not more than two years old, it has enjoyed a most enviable record of achievement and success. This concern uses the entire first floor of the new and modern L. O. O. P. Temple, located on East Main Street, a space of nearly 10,000 feet, and its show and sales rooms are the largest, best appointed and most beautiful of any to be found on the Eastern Shore. Every detail of the interior is truly in keeping with the high values that are shown and sold on their floors. The repair and parts department are housed in the building adjoining the main building, and are in charge of Mr. E. A. Lewis, secretary of the company. The repair service is limited to work on the makes of cars they handle, thus insuring their many customers the very height of good service on their cars.

Every single part of the car, too, is carried in stock, thereby adding to the already good service for which this institution has become noted. Six thoroughly experienced mechanics are employed to look after the needs of their customers and these are only a third of the eighteen people who are employed by the concern. In the accessories department are to be found such well known products as Goodyear, Ajax, Goodrich and United States tires, while on the front of the building is located their filling stations dispensing Texas, Standard and Amoco gas and oils.

In the sales department are six salesmen, whose long experience in the motor world fits them exceedingly well for the service that they are rendering both the public and their employers. The Salisbury Motor Company controls the Buick sales in Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset Counties, and on the Cadillac, nine Eastern Shore Counties of Maryland and two counties in Virginia. They are now showing the new 1924 models which, in the Buick line, consist of fourteen different styles.

The past success of this company, and its present prestige as a great contributing factor to the growth and development of this section is due to the man who are behind it, together with the high quality that they are selling.

Capt. John Hagan, president, is one of the county's best known business men and public spirited citizens, holding many prominent commercial and civic connections, including large interests in the fish business at Ocean City, Md. Mr. D. J. Ward is vice president, Mr. E. A. Lewis is secretary and Mr. Charles L. Powell is Treasurer. All these gentlemen are men of prime worth and are most active figures in the city's business and civic life. Mr. Powell, treasurer is a native of Princess Anne, and prior to assuming his present official duties, was identified with The Farmers & Planters Company. He is also prominent in church and fraternal circles.

So, when you say either "Buick, Cadillac or Chevrolet" in Salisbury, you cause a slight pause in the conversation for, as the waiter termed it, you have said "de very best"—and in company the sells them here is found one of the most creditable of business institutions.

MICIOTTO LARGE DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRUIT

For Ten Years Has Handled Many Different Varieties Of Foreign And Domestic Fruit

A record that anyone has a right to be proud has been made in local commercial circles by Mr. P. G. Micciotto, wholesale and retail dealer in all kinds of foreign and domestic fruits, and no review of Salisbury would be complete without due mention of him and his business as being a high credit to the mercantile life of the city.

Mr. Micciotto, who is a native of Italy, has been in this country for sixteen years. It was his foreign faith in this section here that brought him to locate in Salisbury, and he has been identified with the life of the city for the past sixteen years, during which time he has contributed largely to its progress and growth.

Mr. Micciotto's store is located at 302 Main Street, where he keeps at all times, a large variety of both foreign and domestic fruits. Nine years has Mr. Micciotto been in this business here, and in the same location, which is a testament of the high grade of merchandise he carries and the truly appreciated service which he gives with each and every transaction. Even from the very first of the business has he enjoyed a large trade, coming from a large area on the Eastern Shore. Just so has his business grown that he now uses a corps of three employees regularly and more than that number on Saturdays when his trade is larger and demands it. Mr. Micciotto's store is modern in every respect, and he and all his employees have an air of courtesy about them that has won for him a wide circle of patrons and friends. If we are to take the past as a standard by which to judge the future, then it is safe to predict for Mr. Micciotto a long and most successful career.

Since identifying himself with the life of Salisbury, Mr. Micciotto has made a most valuable citizen. He is most liberal in his contributions towards the progress and development of his adopted city, and always willing to co-operate in any movement towards this end. On account of the creditable business that he has built up here and on account of his true type of patriotism, this large edition would be most incomplete without a true representation of him and his business in it.

LOCAL BRICK COMPANY IS PROGRESSIVE FIRM

Plant Has Daily Capacity Of 60,000 Bricks—Has Secured Large Order For New Hotel

Figuring largely in the past and present growth and development of Salisbury and this community is the Peninsula Brick Company, which has attained enviable position on the sole basis of the quality of its products, being new and modern machinery, thus giving the plant a daily capacity of 60,000 bricks.

The plant of the Peninsula Brick Company, which is located on the Pennsylvania and B. C. & A. Railroad, covers 60 acres. Recent improvements have been made to their plant, including the installation of new and modern machinery, thus giving the plant a daily capacity of 60,000 bricks.

During the years of existence of this concern, it has enjoyed a steady growth in volume of business and the general good will of the public. "Peninsula Brick" are recognized as being the best quality bricks manufactured anywhere on the Eastern Shore.

However, when reviewing the past successful career of this enterprise, there is no occasion for wonder when we review the man-power of the institution. Mr. Glen Perdue is President and General Manager; H. S. Bradshaw, Jr. Vice-President; L. Atwood Bennett, prominent local attorney, is Treasurer; J. Asbury Holloway, Secretary and Hugh McMichael, Superintendent. These gentlemen are all well versed along business lines and their careers each have been marked with signal ability and enviable success. The business, which has a capital of $50,000, is piloted by Mr. Perdue and Mr. McMichael. Both are endowed with all the fundamentals of the business, have acquired their expert knowledge of it through long years of practical experience.

The Peninsula Brick Company secured the order for the brick to be used in the new hotel now under construction and this in itself, is evidence of the high quality of their products.

SMALL SAW MILL PURCHASED IN 1861 WAS BEGINNING OF ADKINS LUMBER INDUSTRY

Development Since That Time Has Been Steady And Notable Until Today Finds The Slogan "Everything Needed For Building" Broadcasted Over Entire Peninsula

A way back in 1861, when one of Wicomico County's sons set out in the lumber industry, if there were the skeptical and doubtful, they have long since been given just cause to repent and concede that man the victory. With a capital of initiative and determination, rather than so much in dollars and cents, this man launched into a business, the development of which today is this entire section's greatest constructive factor.

Beginning Was Small And Modest When Stanton Adkins launched into this business in 1861 when he purchased a small saw mill at Powellville, it was indeed a small and modest beginning. Modern machinery and methods of operations were unknown then, and progress was slow and on a put small. Not even was the circular saw used in Stanton Adkins' day, and in its stead was the old fashioned "up and down" saw. This mill was run by water power and two thousand feet of lumber was considered a big day's work. Upon the death of this pioneer ten years after he purchased this mill, active management of the business was assumed by his son, Elijah Stanton Adkins, who in 1883 replaced the original equipment with a modern steam-circular-saw mill.

Has Kept Pace With Times In 1892 a complete new plant was completed on the present site of the business, in East Salisbury, near the Union Station, and the business removed from Powellville here. By virtue of the growth and development of other lines of business and the increase in local population, all of which came about as the community made rapid strides forward. And therefore, new and larger demands were created and taxed the facilities of the pioneer lumber company, and to each of these demands did they respond with enlarged facilities and the addition of the newest and most modern machinery devised in order to efficiently serve a community which was fast developing.

"Adkins-Salisbury" Of Today There was no invention or development in the lumber business that was not added or made use of to increase production, lower costs, render better service and give bigger values to the buyers of building materials. And this progressive policy is still one of the paramount features of the "Adkins-Salisbury". Mr. E. S. Adkins remained active in the business until his death a few years ago, when the guidance of the business was assumed by Messrs. F. P. Adkins, president; E. D. Adkins, vice president and general manager; H. C. Adkins, secretary and treasurer and S. F. M. Adkins, assistant general manager. These gentlemen today are all retaining their respective official capacities in the business.

Plant Volume and Service Unequalled To fully describe the magnitude and influential relations of the E. S. Adkins & Company today, would be indeed a large and difficult task, further than to say that it is one of Wicomico County's largest commercial organizations and, without doubt, is also a large and valuable contributing factor toward the present development of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and also the seaboard counties of Delaware and Virginia.

The plant of the E. S. Adkins & Company, which covers several acres, is located in close proximity to the Union Station, which adds greatly to the conveniences of out-of-town buyers who come here by rail. Within a minute after they alight from the train they can be in the office or in the plant of the company. Altogether the company has a shed and warehouse capacity of 120,000 feet of floor space. They also have several hundred feet of wharfage on the Wicomico River and more than a half mile of railroad tracks.

Complete Transportation Service The large volume of business that is done by them necessitates the most modern and the fastest means of hauling, and to facilitate this necessary phase of the business they operate large schooners and motor boats, which ply the waters of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries in bringing the rough lumber from their various mills in North Carolina and Virginia, and in also delivering the finished product to their customers. Recently added is the "Henrietta Frances", a large power boat which they built especially for this trade and put in use in the spring of this year. Their local and nearby transportation is carried on by a fleet of six large motor trucks, and these together with their waterways facilities and rail movement gives them a complete transportation service.

Mr. Parker, Superintendent The local plant of the company is served and operated by more than two hundred and fifty employees, and its payroll is one of the largest on the entire Peninsula. The local plant is under the supervision of Mr. L. Thos. Parker, one of Wicomico County's best and most favorably known citizens, who served in the State Legislature in 1921.

"Everything Needed For Building" Such is the correct title in describing "Adkins-Salisbury" Products and Service. In addition to the general line of all kinds of building material carried, the also specialize in box shooks, and are Eastern Shore distributors for the well known line of Curtis Woodwork. A feature of their service which makes it complete, and stand out without equal locally is their special Architectural Department under the supervision of Mr. W. Twilley Malone who is an architect of high repute and is a large contributing factor to the success of the business.

Have Other Plants In Operation In addition to the various saw mills of the company, which are fed by timber from North Carolina and Virginia, the company also operates plants as follows: The Adkins Company at Berlin; The Adkins-Boulton Company at Hurluck; Lyons & Gibson Company at Huntingtown and a branch of the home plant at Chestertown.

The Third Generation

At the death of Mr. E. S. Adkins, the responsibilities of this major enterprise fell upon the shoulders of his sons, the present officials of the company, who are executing the policies of their ancestors and carrying the institution on to even greater heights of successful service.

Mr. F. P. Adkins, the president is one of Salisbury's most active business men and citizens, and possesses the distinction of being the "father" of a large number of projects here which have made for the building of the city. Upon him rests a responsibility of large proportions, in his own immediate business, but all this has never deterred him from responding to, and oftentimes taking the initiative in, any movement that is designed to further the best interests and growth of Salisbury and this section of the Peninsula. Mr. Adkins holds many prominent commercial and civic connections here, included in which are: Presidency of the News Publishing Company; Director of the Peoples Bank; Director of the Peninsula General Hospital, Salisbury Home for the Aged, the Maryland-Virginia Joint Stock Land Bank at Baltimore; Member and former president of the Salisbury-Wicomico Chamber of Commerce; Member of the Rotary Club and Trustee of Western Maryland College at Westminster, Md. Mr. Adkins is also prominent in fraternal circles. In the Masonic Order he holds every degree and has the marked distinction of holding the K. C. C. H. degree, which is taken from the thirty-second degree and is honorary. Mr. Adkins is also president of the Wicomico Hotel Corporation, and is largely responsible for the present construction of Salisbury's modern $350,000 hotel.

Mr. E. Dale Adkins, vice president and general manager, is also an officer of the Salisbury Building & Loan Association, director of the Eastern Shore Can Company at Hurluck, Md. Also holds directorship in the Central Bank; is president of the Peninsula Ice Cream Company, and vice chairman of the Republican State Senate Committee. He is also the Senator-elect from Wicomico County. Mr. Adkins holds membership in the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club and is prominent Mason and Shriner, Elk and Moose.

Mr. Harry C. Adkins, Secretary and Treasurer is also Purchasing Agent for the company, and is a young man with marked ability and whose career has been crowned with phenomenal success. Messrs. S. F. Adkins, Asst. General Manager, and Mr. Geo. P. Chandler, General Sales Manager, are both, likewise, large contributing factors in the major operations of the business. All these gentlemen are men of keen vision and marked ability, all possessed with a deep public spirit, all being advocates of progress and development, and ever ready to invest of their time and means to further any cause which has such motives as its purpose.

HILL & JOHNSON ARE MODEL FUNERAL FIRM

Varied And Complete Service Rendered By These Directors Long Established In Community

Almost half a century continuous service—an average life-time for most people—is truly a record of which any institution catering to the personal needs of humanity may well be proud, and which but few can claim. Behind such a record lies a story of high integrity and above all else—service.

A survey of Salisbury and Wicomico county brings to light the fact that within their borders stand today many institutions that are wide and favorably known by virtue of a justly merited record of service and it is the purpose of the editors to attribute credit where credit is due.

However, this brief review of this county's oldest Undertaking Institution is not intended to introduce them nor their service to the reader, for they need no introduction to the local public, but rather, we write of them by reason of the fact that this institution is the pioneer in its profession in this county and the high favor in which they today are held is truly a monument to the man who forty-seven years ago, joined hands with Salisbury by beginning to render a most necessary, efficient and appreciated service and whose name today is a symbol of human sympathy in practically every household in this entire section.

It was in March 1877 that Mr. Geo. C. Hill began his career in the profession of funeral director. If we are to judge by the success of this career we would say that he adopted the principles of "Conscientious and Sympathetic Service". However, this career has not been without its obstacles; in the great fire of 1886 Mr. Hill's business home was burned. This did not deter him from his avowed purpose to render his community superior service—and he resumed business to his present business home on Water street, a large and modern structure, comfortably and modernly equipped to care for every demand that might arise in the profession.

In 1915 Mr. Charles E. Johnson, who has been associated with Mr. Hill for seventeen years, entered partnership with him, as did also Mr. Hill's son, Mr. Franklin B. Hill, thus forming the firm of Hill and Johnson Company. Three years ago the elderly Mr. Hill, after forty-four years continuous service, retired from active service in the business, but still holds the office of president of the business. Mr. Johnson is vice-president and

Mr. Franklin B. Hill is secretary and treasurer.

The Hill and Johnson Company employ every modern means and agency to insure the best of service. Three motor hearses are among their equipment to serve the public. There is probably no profession that requires the volume of expert knowledge, efficiency and sympathetic patience as does that of a funeral director. The conditions under which they serve make this all the more true. This fact is highly appreciated by this company who have long since demonstrated their ability to serve in a way that insures the largest measure of satisfaction.

The success of this institution and the present high esteem in which it is held, occasions no degree of wonder when we review the lives and characters of the men who compose the organization. It is evident that when the principles of foundation are sound and correct—as the founder of this institution made them—its success is assured. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Franklin B. Hill, are well and favorably known as broad minded and progressive citizens whose prime interest and purpose is to co-operate in any movement designed to advance the interests of their city and community. They are enthusiastic members of the local Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Hill holds membership in the local Rotary Club.

In keeping with the long standing policy of this firm, to keep abreast with the times, and meet and fill the growing demands of modern service, the Hill & Johnson Company are now completing extensive improvements to their funeral home on Water street. These improvements include the building and equipping of a modern parlour, slumber room and a new and modern preparation room, finished in tiling and is, no doubt, without equal anywhere on the entire Peninsula and second to no other in the entire country.

In their show rooms is kept at all times a large stock of caskets, burial vaults and supplies of all kinds, including burial robes, etc. All of this coupled with their use of the very latest of all modern equipment and their experience, which totals more than 100 years, makes the Hill and Johnson Company rank at the head of the list of modern and efficient funeral directors. Included in their equipment is a lowering device, which adds greatly to the beauty and simplicity of the service. This device is placed over the grave and is operated by a foot spring, which automatically lowers the casket in the grave during the entire length of the service.

RUSSELL P. WHITE

All Kinds Watch And Jewelry Repairing, Watch Making, Also Complete Line Jewelry

Although there are other stores in Salisbury that are older and, perhaps larger, there are none here that are growing more rapidly than that of Mr. Russell P. White, located in the Bell Building, on Main street.

Mr. White has been identified with local business circles but little more than twelve months, during which time he has built up a most enviable reputation as watchmaker and repairer of fine watches and jewelry. Mr. White began his career in this line with the G. M. Fisher Jewelry Company. After a period with them he entered the Lancaster School of Watchmaking at Lancaster, Pa. Upon returning to Salisbury, he opened a business on Church street, where he enjoyed a large volume of business. He later joined Mr. Preston Burbage, forming the firm of Burbage & White and they opened up in the Bell Building. This partnership was dissolved on September 4th, when Mr. Burbage entered the employ of the G. M. Fisher Company, and since that time Mr. White has been operating the business under his own name. He has recently greatly enlarged his stocks and they now represent one of the best lines of watches and jewelry to be found anywhere on the Eastern Shore.

All his goods are nationally advertised makes of the very highest quality and reputation, and he makes a specialty of watch-making and repairing. By virtue of the tediousness of the work itself, it is highly important to entrust watches and jewelry to a mechanic who thoroughly understands the business, and no doubt, this is why Mr. White is daily winning prestige in this particular field of endeavor.

FINE PUBLIC SERVICE GIVEN BY EASTERN SHORE GAS & ELECTRIC

Largest Utility Company On Shore Has Progressed Along With Communities Served—Employs 125 People And Has Monthly
Pay Roll Of Over $15,000—C. O. Culver, General Manager

A review of Salisbury and the Eastern Shore for the past several years, and a survey of its present resources, and advantages, reveals facts of development that even a good many of the local residents are unaware of. Practically every phase of industry has been marked with a great stride of progress and development, and all have had a combined effect to make the Eastern Shore famous the country over, and Salisbury to stand out prominent as the chief shopping center and the metropolis of the Shore.

Many things, too, have figured greatly in this development, and in this list stand out, probably above all others, the part that The Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company has played in this era of progress. No other agency or factor has contributed as much toward this end as has this large organization that generates and distributes electric current to thirty live progressive towns on the Peninsula.

This institution had its origin in 1915. Prior to that time this section was served by five different companies. However, during that year the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company was formed and these five companies were merged into it. Not only has this large concern rendered an invaluable service in the growth of this community, but it has had its educational functions as well, teaching the masses the great advantages in electricity over any other means of power, light or heat that is available today. That this teaching has had its rightful effect is verified by the fact that today the number of customers using electricity in some form is about four times what it was in 1915. Not alone does this indicate the helpful part that this company has played in the commercial and industrial growth of the community, but it also indicates unprecedented growth for the company itself.

The main plant of the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company is located at Laurel, Del., while it also has a gas plant at Cambridge, Md. One hundred and eighty miles of high tension transmission wires are used to distribute the generated current over the Eastern Shore of Delaware and Maryland, and the entire plant and equipment and facilities of the company are valued at more than two and a half million dollars, which is the largest local enterprise that Salisbury has. The main offices of the company are located in Salisbury, where they use part of the first floor, part of the second floor and all of the third floor of the Old News Building, situated at Division and Main Streets.

In addition to the production and distribution of current, the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company does contract wiring and installation of fixtures, and this department of their enjoys the largest portion of the local business. Their merchandise sales department, too, is another big feature with the company. Their sales rooms, which are located on Main Street, near Division, are well stocked with modern electrical appliances, including vacuum cleaners, electric washing machines, electric irons, electric fans, bulbs etc., and in fact everything to be found in any modern electrical equipment establishment and a good many other items that cannot be found elsewhere.

However, it is always the men who make an institution, and no enterprise can be any stronger than those who are behind it, and especially those who are charged with its active supervision. By virtue of this fact, the phenomenal growth and progress of this company is not out of the ordinary, when we come to review the character of its administrative personnel.

Mr. C. O. Culver, General Manager, though yet a comparatively young man, is a veteran of the electrical world, having been in the business since 1905. Mr. Culver started with his present company some seven years ago, in the accounting department, but he has since then advanced to the position of General Manager. He is a native of Delaware, and his untiring efforts to make this organization truly a "service institution", has been the key to the company's growth and expansion. Mr. Culver is a native of Delaware. Since identifying himself with Salisbury's commercial and civic life, he has proven one of its most progressive and public-spirited citizens. Realizing that growth can come only by concerted efforts and cooperation, Mr. Culver has been a great factor in the general development of Salisbury and the Eastern Shore. Today he and the company whose interests he is so successfully guiding, are always found to take the initiative in all matters and movements that tend toward advancement and development.

Associated with Mr. Culver in the administration of the company's affairs are Mr. O. G. Martino, Business Manager; Mr. H. I. Oswalt, Superintendent of operations; H. W. Connor, Manager of the local sales department and E. A. Mitchell, Auditor. These gentlemen are all well experienced in their respective capacities, and are representative of the city's best business ability and citizenship.

In addition to the local organization, the company is operated under the management of Day and Zimmermann, of Philadelphia. Mr. F. W. Woodcock, Manager of Public Utility Department of Day and Zimmermann, was formerly General Manager of this company, from 1916 to 1920 and it showed great growth at that time.

Much more could be written of Salisbury's largest commercial enterprise if space permitted. However, to portray it in its right light and relation to the life of this section, we would summarize it, not as merely a commercial enterprise where a commodity is exchanged for price, but rather, as an institution, furnishing to Salisbury and the twenty-nine other towns on the Eastern Shore, a commodity, the most essential to its growth and expansion, and giving with this commodity, a service, the best, and truly symbolic of the high character of these individuals who compose The Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company.

gives seems evident from scores made in achievement tests given in the white elementary schools recently. These indicate that the pupils have gained from one to two years in addition to the normal rate of progress since 1921.

These tests also show that many schools have reached or exceeded the standard set for the subjects in which the children were tested. Some of the schools are one or two months below the standard but these will be brought to standard before the close of the present school year. In these tests the children of the larger schools rank higher than the children in the one teacher schools when the teachers in the larger schools and in the smaller schools have the same qualifications and supervision.

One teacher schools are being closed each year and transportation is provided for the children to consolidated schools. Wicomico County will always have some one-teacher schools but the gradual elimination of them brings the county each year nearer its goal of equal opportunity for every child in the county. Nine school buses are this year being used to transport school children to the larger schools. $267,986.36 was spent on the public schools during the school year 1922-1923. Of this amount $191,007.73 was spent for instructional services. There is $69.02 back of every child enrolled in the way of school property.

FISHER COMPANY IS LEADER IN JEWELRY

Oldest, Largest, Most Modern Business Of Kind Here In Hands Of
J. A. Kuhn, Expert In Line

Salisbury, the metropolis of the Eastern Shore, has within her borders some of the most modern retail establishments to be found anywhere, and which will easily vie with any of the larger metropolitan shops. In every town and city and every community there are to be found always leaders in every line. In Salisbury it is the G. M. Fisher Jewelry Company in the jewelry line. This business was founded many years ago by the late A. W. Woodcock, who later sold it to Mr. G. M. Fisher. Mr. Fisher remained in active charge of the business until May 1st of this year, when he sold the business to Mr. J. A. Kuhn, and went to Roanoke, Va., to take active charge of The Fisher Supply House in that city.

The home of the G. M. Fisher Jewelry Company is located on Main St., and presents one of the most pleasing appearances of any retail house on the entire Shore. It occupies large quarters, and its fixtures and equipment are modern and second to none other on the Eastern Shore. It would be indeed difficult to describe the stocks as carried by this concern; further than to say that they embrace every item that can be found in any modern jewelry establishment, and if the shopper cannot find it at Fisher's, it will be indeed hard to find it anywhere. However, notable among their large stocks are the Hallmark line of jewelry and silverware, community silver, Holmes & Edwards, Rogers Silverware, and Goldsmiths, and a large and comprehensive stock of cut glass, rings, etc. In fact this store and its stock is the largest of any on the Eastern Shore, and one characteristic of the establishment which has won for it a large volume of trade and good will is the fact that here all classes of purchasers can be well satisfied, from the most conservative to the most discriminating and it is here that the small and large purchasers are treated with the same degree of attentive courtesy.

The watch making and repairing department is another feature at the Fisher store that receives first hand attention and this department enjoys the largest patronage of any on the Peninsula. Stone setting is also another specialty with the store. The personnel of the organization, which is truly representative of the highest degree of ability, is composed of Mr. J. A. Kuhn, owner, manager, watchmaker and engraver; Mr. Preston W. Burbage, watchmaker and engraver; Mr. Gus C. Kuhn, jeweler and engraver; Mrs. Hannah M. Kuhn, assistant manager, buyer and bookkeeper.

The record of success of the G. M. Fisher Jewelry Company, and especially its present record is truly phenomenal, but occasions no degree of wonder nor surprise when we come to review the high calibre of the people who are now piloting this business on toward even greater heights of enviable success. Mr. Kuhn, who is a native of Gallipolis, Ohio, though yet quite a young man, can rightfully be termed a veteran, insofar as his knowledge of the business is concerned. His experience covers a period of fourteen years. For the past three and a half years he has been in Salisbury, and was identified with Mr. Fisher prior to purchasing the business in May. Previous to that time he was in business in Gallipolis, Ohio. Mr. Kuhn is a veteran of the World War and saw one year's service overseas. Mr. Kuhn is not only a merchant and business man of high type, but a citizen of prime worth. Since coming to Salisbury he not only has built up one of the city's most creditable retail establishments, but has been instrumental in many of its civic movements for the general advancement of its every interest. He is a keen interest in Salisbury and he is found at all times to be ready and willing to co-operate in any movement to further its best interests. In his business Salisbury has an institution of which it is justly proud.

A. B. BOULDEN

Optometrist "Of High Repute Who Through Excellent Service Daily Increases Clientele

Of all the facilities or senses psychologists have proven that the sight represents eighty-five per cent of the total value of the human body. The larger part of our pleasure and happiness, the larger part of our knowledge comes through the eyes. The most delicate part of the human organism, the hardest worked and the most important to our well-being and pleasure, no other part of the human body is subjected to so much abuse as the eye. By these facts can we see the high importance of an expert optometrist and his offices in the daily routine of life.

The science of eye treatment today, and the fitting of glasses has grown to large and important proportions and it is the successful application and practice of this science that has built up for A. B. Boulden, local optometrist, a most enviable reputation locally in the four years that he has been located in Salisbury.

Dr. Boulden's offices and laboratory located at the corner of Main and Division streets are the most modern and best equipped in this state. This fact has been vouched for by officials of the Maryland Association of Optometrists and a visit to his offices will quickly verify the statement to the individual.

Dr. Boulden is a graduate of Pennsylvania College of Optics and Ophthalmology, leaving there in 1912. Since that time he has practiced in Havre de Grace and Hagerstown, Md., and for two years was official examiner for the Grand Trunk Railway, a post requiring the highest of skill and one that reflects greatly upon the high position that Mr. Boulden occupies in the profession. Mr. Boulden holds a certificate from the American Ophthalmic Clinic, which he secured in 1915. He also holds membership in the Maryland Association of Optometrists and in the American Optometric Association.

Since coming to Salisbury four years ago, Dr. Boulden has done much to further the profession locally and place it upon a higher plane. His efforts along this line have been amply rewarded too, for today he enjoys the patronage of a clientele that covers the territory of a hundred mile radius and for each customer he has, he has a satisfied friend and a great convert to, and advocate of "Boulden Service". Aside from his extensive professional achievements here, he has been far from being idle in a civic way, but has identified himself with practically every agency and movement that tended toward the progress and development of his adopted city. He is possessed with a deep civic pride and realizes thoroughly that community growth can come only by concerted effort and the best of co-operation. Hence, in him does Salisbury have one of its most valuable citizens, who is always willing to contribute of his time and means to further any cause for the advancement of commercial and civic welfare.

What Is Wrong With This Sentence?

"Oh, yes," said the man of the house, smiling joyously, "I am glad to see winter coming again. I just LOVE to shovel snow."

There Is No Town Like Our Home Town

Always speak a good word for Salisbury to all strangers with whom you come in contact. Tell them of the opportunities afforded them. Be a BOOSTER and not a KNOCKER and by so doing you will prove an asset to the community. This is an age in which to do things of great moment; and no city and community has any room for a chronic kicker who can never see anything good in his city. No loyal citizen will attempt to belittle his city in the estimation of strangers. He who resorts to such is a detriment to any community and the sooner he is gotten rid of the better it will be for the city.

SALISBURY NATIONAL BANK HAS BEEN BIG FACTOR IN DEVELOPING THIS COMMUNITY

Wicomico County's Oldest Financial Institution Was Established In 1884—Both President And Cashier Are Prominent Figures In City And State Affairs

In the history of development of every city and community there stand out pre-eminently those certain institutions, which are, without question, the leading factors in bringing that city or community up to its present status of prosperity and substantiality, and which are likewise vitally essential in paving the way for even greater things in the future.

One of the prime factors to be taken into consideration by a prospective business man or investor, before settling in a community is that community's banking facilities. In this respect Salisbury has a just right to boast, for within her borders stand some of the strongest banking institutions to be found anywhere in the state of Maryland.

Standing pre-eminently among these is the Salisbury National Bank, Wicomico's oldest financial institution. This bank was chartered and began business in 1884, and with increase in age, so also has it increased in prestige and good will, by virtue of the valuable service it has rendered to its community and the citizenship hereabouts. Through prosperity and adversity alike it has served well and always been true to the high trust placed in it and its corps of officers.

The Salisbury National Bank is housed in its own home—a most modern and handsome structure located on Main street. Every facility and equipment is provided to insure the convenience and the safety of the many hundred customers who transact business there. The interior banking rooms offer a most pleasing appearance, being furnished in mahogany and bronze.

The growth and success of this institution has been indeed most rapid, until today, it is not only the oldest in the county, but one of the largest in all this section of the state. It now has a capital of $100,000 and surplus and profits of $305,000. It is depository for the U. S. Government, the State of Maryland, the county of Wicomico and the city of Salisbury. In addition to its functions of general banking, it also maintains a savings department upon which 3% interest is paid to depositors; has safe deposit boxes for rent and operates a Trust and Foreign department. All of these features make it stand out without equal in point of general service to its customers and the public in general.

Throughout its history it has been noted for its conservatism, yet its policies are as liberal as the principles of sound banking will permit. Practically every progressive move that this city has initiated during the past has been fostered and supported by either this bank as an institution or by some of its many strong officers and directors.

But, after all, a bank like any other business enterprise, can be no stronger than the man behind it, for it is the personnel who make the institution. When we come to realize the truth of this statement we can better see wherein lies the importance and strength of the Salisbury National Bank, for its corps of officers and directors is truly representative of Salisbury's and Wicomico county's best business brains and citizenship.

Mr. Wm. P. Jackson, its president, is one of the city's foremost business men and widely known citizens. Mr. Jackson was formerly in the U. S. Senate and is now Republican National Committeeman from the State of Maryland. He is one of the city's most active business men, being president of Jackson Bros. Lumber Company and also president of the Jackson & Guttman Company, manufacturers of the famous "Salisbury" shirts, as well as also being identified with many other of the community's leading commercial enterprises.

Mr. Jay Williams, vice-president of the bank is one of the city's and county's most prominent attorneys. The other officers of the bank are: Mr. Wm. S. Gordy, Jr., Cashier; E. C. Fulton, assistant cashier; Howard H. Rusk, assistant cashier. Its board of directors is composed of Messrs. Wm. P. Jackson, Jay Williams, M. A. Humphreys, P. H. Doody, Graham Gunby, Dr. J. McFadden Dick, W. B. Miller, W. B. Tighman, Jr., and A. W. W. Woodcock.

The News, in its desire to attribute credit where credit is due, would refer to Mr. Wm. S. Gordy, Jr., Cashier for it is to him that a major portion of the credit for the active operation of the bank's affairs is rightfully due. Mr. Gordy is too well known locally to need a further introduction for many have been the years that he has served his city and community and served it well. Mr. Gordy is endowed with a wide banking experience, and that he is possessed with every essential fundamental of safe and sound banking is clearly demonstrated in the enviable record of success he has made in the piloting of his institution to become one of the outstanding financial institutions of the state. Mr. Gordy is not only a banker of first rank, but one of the city's and county's citizens of prime worth, always manifesting a deep interest in the welfare and growth of his community, and always found willing and ready to cooperate in any way possible to further any worthy movement that goes for development and prosperity.

Much more could be written of Wicomico county's oldest bank, the causes and the effect, if time and space would permit. However, in a summary of it we would term it "More than a mere place where money is exchanged, but an institution that is a true advocate of growth; a protection to its people, and a monument to the untiring efforts of those who

POPULAR LANDMARK IS THE PENINSULA HOTEL

Pleasing Personnel In Charge Of Hostelry That Has Been In Existence Nearly Half Century

The present location of the Peninsula has been the site of a hotel for more than a hundred years. The Peninsula Hotel itself has been in existence for almost half a century. However about 1890 it was burned down and the present building erected. Since that time many renovations have taken place, and today, the building and its accommodations and facilities vie easily with any anywhere.

The hotel contains four floors, and about seventy five rooms. Many of these have hot and cold running water as well as many private and connecting baths. The hotel is operated on the European plan, and the Peninsula Restaurant is far famed for its excellent cuisine, prompt and courteous service and moderate prices. Another secret to the success of the management of this hostelry, no doubt, lies in the careful selection of the corps of employees, which now number about twenty, all of whom are skilled in their line and render a service marked with ability and courtesy.

The Peninsula Hotel, Salisbury's largest and leading hostelry, is furnished throughout with the most modern and comfortable furnishings, and no item is overlooked that goes toward the comfort and entertainment of the guests. It is a veritable "home away from home", and to this can the majority of the traveling public testify. Special attention is given the commercial and tourist trade.

Mr. Phillips is assisted in the operation of the hotel by Mr. George Sullivan, day clerk and Mr. Emory Shockley, night clerk. Mr. Sullivan is a native of Salisbury, and has served in its police department, and for a long while was identified with E. S. Adkins Company. By virtue of his experience in hotel work, and his pleasing personality, Mr. Sullivan has made many friends among the traveling public during his connection with the Peninsula. Mr. Sullivan is a veteran of the World War and was overseas for twelve months.

Mr. Phillips, under whose management the hotel has been operated for the past nineteen years is a native of Laurel, Del. His hotel experience dates back twenty-seven years ago, when he first began with The Peninsula as a clerk, which position he filled for six years. He then went to Chincoteague, Va., where he operated a hotel for two years. Mr. Phillips is one of Salisbury's leading and most progressive business men and citizens.

He is an active member of the local Chamber of Commerce, as well as also being prominently identified with many other commercial and civic enterprises. Another attest to his popularity was demonstrated last year when he was appointed Postmaster of the Salisbury office, assuming charge on October 16th, and under his postmastership, this office is showing most creditable advances and increases in volume.
