State Teachers College, Frostburg, Maryland, September 25, 1951 Vol. 4; No. 1

President Welcomes New Students

Miss Lillian Compton, President

On behalf of the faculty, the staff, and student body, I extend to Freshmen and new students a hearty welcome to the Campus of State Teachers College, Frostburg.

After a week of hazing, I am sure the Sophomores have made you a happy, well adjusted group. When they have completed their training program you will probably begin to plan a heartier welcome for next year's Freshmen. How much fun you could have with a very large Freshman class! I suggest a slogan, "Every student bring a new student!"

Your college career lies ahead of you, a career which you are planning and directing. Set for yourself high standards and worthy goals and give your best efforts to attain them. We want to help you succeed. Again, heartiest welcome.

Assembly Schedule

Dr. Howard Briggs has announced the schedule for the general assemblies for the year 1951-52. There are several outstanding persons to speak, such as Elizabeth Frost Reed and Claudia de Lys.

The assemblies will be held at 10:00 on the following dates:

- Oct. 1—Freshman Assembly
- Oct. 15—Dr. E. M. Steckel, Lecturer on Music
- Oct. 31—The Barter Theatre of Virginia, presenting "The Merchant of Venice" (2:00)
- Nov. 5—Elizabeth Frost Reed, Lecturer on "Jane Austen"
- Nov. 19—Thanksgiving Assembly
- Dec. 3—Athletic Awards
- Jan. 7—The Holbrooks (Hal and Ruby), Dance Team
- Feb. 4—Edwin Durlacher, Lecturer on and Demonstrator of Square Dancing or Alpha Psi Omega
- Feb. 18—Fraternity and Sorority
- March 3—Dr. R. C. "Scotty" Young, Lecturer on his life and politics
- March 17—Claudia de Lys, Lecturer on "What's Your Superstition?"
- April 21—Miss Cornelia Stabler, Dramatic Artist
- May 5—Dr. Howard's Literature Class
- May 26—Senior Assembly

Majority of Graduates Teach in Allegany Co.

Dr. Howard has completed a partial list of the jobs held by the June graduates of 1951.

Bill Kildow—7th grade at Towson Jr. High School.

Bertha Creek Kallmeyer—1st grade at Chase, Md.

Paul Stickly—awaiting recall into the service.

Rosemary Weimer—3rd grade, Columbia St. in Cumberland.

Veronica Wenner—3rd grade, Penn Ave. in Cumberland.

Bill Sonnenburg—7th grade, Richard Montgomery School, Rockville.

Ralph Koontz—8th grade at Fort Hill High, Cumberland.

Dot Wilson—3rd grade, Beall Elementary.

Joe Byrnes—7th grade, Penn Ave.

Curt Gilpin—7th and 8th grades, Fort Hill High.

Ralph Collins—8th grade at Fort Hill.

Wanda Shobe DeHart—4th grade, Cottage City Elementary School.

Roland Stemple—7th grade, Eastern Jr. High, Silver Spring.

Jin Duckworth—Bladensburg Elementary School, 6th grade.

Elloleen Lipscomb—7th grade, Westminster High, Westminster.

Paul Williams—6th grade, Forest Grove School.

John Frank—7th grade, Kensington Jr. High School.

What Freshman Girls Like Best About State

Shirley Greene—everything concerning mathematics.

Janet Maddrix—dorm life.

Helen Benson—hazing week.

Eleanor Whetsell—English.

Anne Riggleman—friendliness of everyone.

Patsy Bohn—campus life.

Janet Strawser—wonderful hospitality.

Jean Kreissig—homelife atmosphere.

Leatrice Shrock—friendship of all the kids.

Carol Conrad—food.

Wilda Winterberg—the meeting in Room 209 each evening.

Phyllis Campbell—attitude of sophomores during hazing week.

Barbara Henry—beautiful campus.

Thelma France—the faculty members.

Mary Sowers—friendliness and generous hospitality of faculty.

Beverly Merriman—dorm mates.

Eleanor Smith—other freshmen.

Clover Jean Clopper—congenial spirit.

Math Club Elects Herring

As the college once again opened its doors, the mathematics club began its many activities under the efficient advisor, Mr. Rissler, and the leadership of the following officers:

President—George Herring

Vice-President—Irene Michael

Secretary—Mary Lizer

Treasurer—Nina Lohr

Social Representative—Dorothy Kuhn

Anyone who is interested in the mathematical field is welcome to attend the meetings which are held in the evenings.

By now, everyone has probably noticed the plates containing a picture of State Teachers' College. The sale of these plates is sponsored by the club and they are now being sold in the Varsity Shop for two dollars.

The object of the club is to build interest in mathematics and conduct projects useful in illustrating mathematics.

Freshmen Reminisce Navy Announcement

In case you saw anyone looking a bit conspicuous during the week of Sept. 17-21, you would have been correct in identifying such a person as a freshman. Hazing week, which started promptly at 7:30 on Monday morning, brought many ludicrous and droll sights to the State Teachers College Campus.

Every day the freshmen took a severe punishment by wearing an F, written in lipstick on their foreheads, and the traditional Plebe cap of gold and black. They also had to know all State's songs and cheers and had to be familiar with all material contained in the Handbook.

For further identification, all freshmen wore a pasteboard sign which contained name, school, hometown, and nickname.

The freshmen took on an air of hobos by carrying laundry bags containing shoe polish, matches, kleenex and a comb.

The boys looked very feminine when they wore earrings each day. The girls had to wear clothes pins and they looked very cunning indeed. On Monday the girls appeared with ten pigtailed; the boys wore trouser legs above the knees and black hose. The males certainly looked very sweet!

But this was only the first day. On Tuesday, the girls wore their dresses backwards and inside out, while the boys wore their shirts backwards and inside out with their ties in the back.

Wednesday, the girls wore straight hair, and it wasn't because of damp weather, either. This was just another day during hazing week. Not to be outdone by the opposite sex, the boys wore a curler in the front of their hair and a hair net on the rest of their head.

One high heel and one flat shoe with an anklet with the high heel, and hose with the flat shoe were worn by the females on Thursday. And of all things, the boys wore their hair parted in the middle! Their footwear consisted of one dress shoe and one bedroom slipper.

The girls really turned feminine on Friday when they wore a dressy dress, lots of jewelry and make-up, and a big bow on the back of their heads, plus stockings and loafers. The boys likewise wore a girl's dress with a big bow in the hair.

On Friday, all sufferings were brought to an end when the freshmen were taken to a kangaroo court. All troubles were taken care of by those "nasty" sophomores.

Of course next year the present freshmen will be looking forward to their part of the "fun."

The Navy announced recently that the sixth nation-wide competitive examination for its College Training Program has been scheduled for December 8, 1951, and will be open to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory on the basis of its high school population. Those who are successful in passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations; then, if they are found in all respects qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial Selection Committees composed of prominent citizens and naval officers. The Navy expects to enter about 2,000 students into the program commencing with the fall term of college, 1952.

The students selected by these competitive examinations will be assigned to the 52 Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps units which are located in various universities and colleges in the United States. If accepted by the college, they will be appointed Midshipmen, U. S. N. R., and will have their tuition, books, and normal fees paid for by the Government. In addition they will receive pay at the rate of $50.00 a month for the four-year period. Upon graduation they may be commissioned as officers in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or transfer to the Reserve and, depending upon the needs of the Service, return to civilian life.

At the scene of an automobile accident, the two drivers were arguing, but not on the usual lines. The lady, who was obviously at fault, admitted it; but the man kept insisting he was to blame. "Why," he concluded, "I saw you pass before I left home this morning, I knew you were out with the car, so it was my fault for being out at all!"

Bargain?

When her beautiful bargain blouse split on the first evening, our cook, Lizzie, was surprised. "Lemme tell you somthin'" she said, "You don't git nothin' for nothin' but nothin'!"

Rocky Road Easy Path?

With the memory of registration and hazing week still clamoring for a prominent place in their minds, the Freshmen are finally launching on the first serious mile of their journey toward graduation.

Although the way will be rocky and the road will be long, someday the Freshmen will look back on this period of their lives and recall pleasant experiences, both in and out of class. Memories of Math class and English class as well as of meetings of various clubs will serve as milestones on the journey.

Every year the portals of Frostburg State Teachers College witness the coming of new members and the going of old members. Those leaving are taking their place in the "profession" and those coming are attempting to maintain the standards set up by the alumni.

The staff of "State-To-Date" as well as the upper classmen feel that the incoming Freshmen will bring additional credit to the school system at Frostburg.

Good luck, Freshmen!

And I Quote

Every upperclassman is well acquainted with the oft quoted sayings of our esteemed faculty; however our "frosh" and new students are probably not so well versed. This column is intended as a hangnail sketch of the quotes of our professors.

Miss Langhans, "It has possibilities."

Miss Humphrey, "I'm singular—in more ways than one."

Dr. Hamrick, "Ya gotta dig fer it."

Mrs. Ainslie, "Where is student government?" (Note—This is usually whispered over the house phone about an hour after lights-out.)

Mr. Diehl, "And what did Archibald Geikie say . . ."

Miss Wellner, "Now beople."

Mr. Taylor, "Shall we say—"

Dr. Howard, "That's folklore."

Dr. Briggs, "Oops, pardon me" (when he trips over the wastebasket or backs into a chair).

Do-Ci-Do Elects Officers

The Do-Ci-Do club held the first meeting of the year on Tuesday, September 18. The officers of the club were elected at that time.

Those elected were Mary Virginia Weibrecht, president and Emily Popp, secretary-treasurer.

The club plans to go to Avilton in the near future to squaredance.

Mrs. Charles L. Kopp

Mrs. Kopp, although new to the college teaching program, taught second grade in the College Laboratory School last year. Previous to this she had taught in the Allegany County Elementary Schools, at the University of Maryland during summer sessions, and had been a Supervisor of Elementary Education in Allegany County.

She received her B. S. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Mrs. Kopp, in answer to the question of what are the advantages of a small college, replied, "The great values of a small college are in the area of relationships: student-student and teacher-student. Early in his college life the student has a sense of belonging, for he knows and is known by the people he works with in a friendly way. This in itself is an important factor in the maturing of the student."

Dr. Furbay Speaks

"Global Minds for a Global World" was the subject of a lecture by John Harvey Furbay at a general assembly on Friday, September 14.

Dr. Furbay, noted explorer, educator, lecturer, and author, told the students of his travels and studies, stressing the importance of understanding other peoples, their history, and their culture. Dr. Furbay received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Yale University.

Dr. Furbay's career has been one of variety and interest. He has studied both in the United States and abroad and has held posts with the U. S. Office of Education, at the United Nations meeting in San Francisco and at the World Conference of U. N. E. S. C. O. His hobby is that of exploding superstitions and fallacies by revealing the results of his findings in a newspaper which he edits. In addition he has published several books on sociology, natural history, and folklore.

Director of Trans-World Airlines' Global Air World Education and member of the Royal Geographic Society and the Royal Anthropological Institute, Dr. Furbay is not a stranger to Frostburg State Teachers College, having spoken here several years ago.

The Seniors Work

This semester thirty-three of our Seniors are putting to practical use the knowledge they have gathered during the past three years at State.

Lab School Elementary: Pat Benna and Margie Robinson, first grade; Ann Povish and Ruth Smith, Second grade; Ruth Farrell and Ella Fern Richardson, third grade; Mary Ellen Slite and Dorothy Burrell, fourth grade; Charlotte Barringer and Harry Diehl, fifth grade; Margaret Michael and Gwen Turnbull, sixth grade.

Barton Elementary: Mrs. Josephine Frase.

Center Street Elementary: Dorothy Watne and Gertrude Weaver, second grade.

Beall Elementary: Darlene Brain and Rebecca Manual, fifth grade.

Barton Junior High: Bill Buser, John Frost, Bill Leonard and Jack Kalbaugh.

Cresaptown Junior High: Don Burgess and Jim Jones.

Beall High: John Biggs and Don Lewis.

Fort Hill: Audrey Baker, Gerald Conway, Maxine Conrad and Jack Snyder.

Allegany High: John Woods, Ella Jean Love, Charles Bowman and Robert Thomas.

Lead Balloons

"Readers Digest" offered these—

To be read, and laughed at. With the hope that they would please, Knowing they will not fall flat.

A movie starlet was being rushed by a not-so-young male star. "Don't you understand?" he urged, "I want to marry you. I want you to be the mother of my children."

"But how many do you have?" she inquired.

The Old-Timer sat on the riverbank, obviously awaiting a nibble, though the fishing season had not officially opened. I stood behind him quietly for several minutes.

"You a game warden?" he finally inquired.

"Yep," I lied, figuring to scare him a little.

Apparently unruffled, the old man began to move the fishing pole vigorously from side to side. Finally he lifted the line out of the water.

"Just teaching him how to swim!" he explained, pointing to a minnow on the end of the line.

A quiz emcee asked a contestant to "name a great time saver."

"Love at first sight," she replied.

Class News

Sophomore News

Since Anthony Scinta transferred to George Washington University, Vaughn Dullabaun becomes president of the Sophomore class and Bob Hutcheson assumes the vice presidency to replace Dullabaun. The remaining officer are Roberta Wilson, secretary and Pat Halloran, treasurer.

Junior News

The Junior class will start this year with this line-up of officers: John Carter, president; Bill Williams, vice-president; Mary Elizabeth Kammauf, secretary; and Joseph Spearman, treasurer. Miss Kirkeby will again be the class advisor.

Of interest to all Juniors is the news that Chuck Sitter, former president of the class, will be at George Washington University this coming year. Good luck, Chuck!

All Juniors are urged this semester to join the Franklin Chapter of F. T. A. The club is hoping for one hundred per cent enrollment.

F. T. A. Elects Chambers

At the last regular meeting of the Future Teachers of America here at Frostburg State, the following officers were elected for the school year of 1951-52: Hayes Chambers, president; John Metzger, vice president; Ruth Farrell, secretary; Joseph Evans, treasurer; and Margaret Michaels, librarian.

On Saturday, September 15, 1951, a work shop for Maryland State F. T. A. was held at the M. S. T. A. building in Baltimore, Maryland. Hayes Chambers, who was on the State Program committee; John Metzger, on the Executive committee; David Lewis, on the Policy committee; and J. R. Lechlitter, on the Publicity and Membership committee, represented F. S. T. College of F. T. A.

The State F. T. A. will be represented with a display booth at the Armory in Baltimore, during the convention to be held sometime in October, 1951.

Scott I. R. C. President

The International Relations Club will have its first meeting on September 27, 1951. At that time the new officers will take over. Those elected are Harold Scott, president; Vaughn Dullabaun, vice president; and Thomas Moran, treasurer. The club has no secretary at the present time since Miss Pabor did not return this year.

The club invites all those who are interested in international affairs to come to its meetings.

Fashion Facts

September is here and that tan which was so hard to acquire is fading. Artificial bleaching methods such as lemon juice or a prepared mixture are apt to leave spotty results, so the best advice is to allow nature to take its course. Meanwhile, wear pretty pastels which flatter you while you're still in the yellow stage.

The knitted dress is the season's smoothest outfit for casual wear. A jersey blouse plus a velveteen skirt is the right combination for a movie and dancing date. For special occasions, a dress of velveteen or taffeta, or a combination of both will keep you looking well dressed. Campus and classroom wear remains the same as it has in the past—the faithful skirt and sweater. This fall, however, Charm magazine came up with this nifty idea: Wear a dark sweater with a white, long sleeved blouse, and leave the blouse unbuttoned from the neckline almost to the waistband of the skirt. Sounds like a good idea for a fad, gals, and an attractive one, too.

This season there is a dramatic role for color combinations. Glossy black is used as a foundation for touches of bold red, peacock blue, gold, or sparkling white. Gray, from its lightest to darkest shades has hit the fashion jackpot in everything from skirts to coats.

Jewelry has gone dramatic too, this fall. Bracelets are bulky and wide. A large jeweled pin which looks like a 29c bargain at Woolworth's is being featured on a dark sheath dress or pinned to a turned back cuff. Large heraldions and official looking coats of arms decorate bracelets, necklaces and belts.

The latest shoe style is a calf pump with a suede inset at the vamp. This shoe looks especially smart with tweed.

Know News Is Good News

In the few vacation months that have come to a close, many events have occurred that included our friends at Frostburg State Teachers College. Gossip can turn friends into enemies but "news unknown" can be vital to some inquiring people now attending State.

The excitement taking place in the corridors of State last week can be explained. Gleaming minerals are being worn on third fingers, left hands. The bearers of these valued gems making known their engagements are: Phyllis Riggleman, John Gallion; Eileen Brinker, James Steele; Juanita Blank, John Lynch; Charlotte Northcraft, Fred Porter; JoAnn Rice, Col. Fredrick J. Maywald; Margaret Larimore, R. M. S. A. Robert E. Benet; Jeanette Gowans, William Yates;

Patricia Benna Leads Little Theatre Group

The final activity of the Little Theatre for the year 1950-51 was the swimming party and banquet held at the Country Club on May 31.

A summary of the year's activities shows the Little Theatre was active in the following things:

A one-act play, "Pot Luck," was presented on Parent's Night, October 27. This play had an all Freshman cast.

On December 13, twelve new members were received into the club at a formal initiation.

January 10, the Little Theatre was enlarged to include a new addition, "The Children's Theatre."

The first performance of the Children's Theatre was given on February 26. It was the one-act play, "King Cole's Court."

"Harvey" was presented as the spring production, April 5 and 6. A three-act play is usually the last undertaking of the Little Theatre.

Officers elected for the year 1951-52 are: President, Patricia Benna; vice-president, Vaughn Dullabaun; secretary, Patricia Halloran; and treasurer, Charles Slick.

The installation of officers took place at the Little Theatre banquet, May 31.

Goldsworthy Heads Art Club

The Art Club met recently in Miss Langhan's Art Room to formulate plans for the first semester projects.

Officers elected were: President, James Goldsworthy; secretary, Alice Rose; treasurer, Patricia Creek.

The purpose of this club is to help develop artistic abilities and hobbies. A large group can be very successful in sponsoring activities; can you help? Everyone is invited. Sign chart in Room 205 if you are interested.

Roberta (Robbie) Wilson, Donald Burkett; Jane Geis, William Rephann.

Matrimony has taken its toll at State also; Dawn Pabor, editor of "State-To-Date" last year, has sent out announcements of her marriage to James Robert Garham; the two are residing in Ohio. Best wishes go to Diane Sitter and Sgt. Henry P. Stites who were married August 18, in St. Patrick's Catholic Church; to Mary Murphy and Robert Shroyer who were married June 4 and now reside in St. Paul, Minnesota; to Bertha Creek and Carl Kallmyer; to Rose Ann Willison and Russell Hilleary; to Ruth Houch and William Rephann; to Agnes Wotring and Roland Stemple; to Wanda Shobe and Richard DeHart; and to Phyllis Davis and William Wagus

Education

Miss Leila Stevens

Miss Stevens, principal of the College Laboratory School, came to us from Georgia State Teachers College, Collegeboro, Ga. Before that, she taught at West Texas Teachers College, Canyon, Texas.

Miss Stevens, who also teaches courses in the college, received her A. B. from Iowa State Teachers College and her M. A. from the University of Chicago. She has all her work except her dissertation completed for her Ph. D. at the University of Wisconsin.

When asked what she thought were the advantages of a small college, Miss Stevens replied: "The small classes with consequent frequent opportunities for student participation, leadership, and group work; the closer contact with the instructors; and the use of more democratic procedures generally." She thought also that the opportunities for activity in extra-curricular activities are superior to those in a larger school where one must be "good" to qualify.

Dr. Schuster thinks that these are the advantages in attending a small college: "The smaller classes allow students and instructors to become better acquainted. There is usually an atmosphere that is conducive to study—less hurry, etc. Also the instructors can aid in encouraging good study habits because they know each individual and can observe the students' needs and advise accordingly."

Babcock Announces Soccer Team

Towson Heads Schedule

Coach Kenneth Babcock has announced that State's Black and Gold will open this year's season on October 3, with an away game at our traditional enemies stronghold, Towson.

The second game with Grove City at Grove City, Pa., scheduled for October 19 is as yet still pending. The remaining games scheduled are: Indiana at Indiana, Pa., on October 27; the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va., on November 3; and Slippery Rock at Slippery Rock, Pa., on November 9. Coach Babcock also announced that he is contacting Salisbury Teachers and American University, Washington, D. C., for games.

It is to be noted that all games scheduled so far are away games. This is due, says Coach Babcock, to lack of a satisfactory field at the present time. There is still a great deal of work to be done on the new athletic field. Coach stated that he doubted if the new field would be in shape during the entirety of our present fall and spring term.

Mr. Babcock says that he has been fortunate in the number of veterans from last year's squad that have returned. These are Jack Kalbaugh, Ray Ralston, Dave Lewis, Sam Layman, Don Lewis, Vaughn Dullabaun, Harold Scott, and Ed Shook, all linemen. Returning fullbacks are Rock Layman, Bill Pugh, and Jim Jones. Bob Thomas returns as a fullback after a year away from State. Bill Leonard is the only returning goalie.

New men out this year include Ralph Dyer and Jim Hicks, goalies; Bill Kirk, Jack Cline, John Ambrose, Bob Stanton, Jack Barham, Ronald Chapman, Jim Burns, Jim Adams and Jack Elliot as linemen and fullbacks. These new men will fill positions left by Bill Best, Roy Pepper, Bill Kildow, Bill Sonnenburg, and John Frank, graduates.

land, Md.; Fort Hill High School, Cumberland, Md.; and Central High School, Lonaconing, Md.

Miss Hamilton, when questioned concerning the advantages of a small college, replied, "At a small college, there is greater opportunity for faculty, students, and personnel to learn to know each other, and in knowing each other, to help each other."

Here I am again, by popular demand (Ralph Thuss asked me), so I guess you'll have to bear with me another year.

At this writing, the students at State may not be able to see our famed soccer team in action. Only four games are scheduled thus far with a possible fifth, and they are all away from home. Our opponents this year are Towson, Indiana, Virginia, and Slippery Rock. The "probable" game is with Grove City.

Sports Shorts: Who's going to win the American League baseball title this year? It's really a ding dong battle down to the wire with Cleveland, New York and Boston all straining at the leash. . . . Beall High's football fans are wondering "wot happened" when they were shellacked by Allegany. We wonder too. . . . Bill Kirk from Barton and Bob Stanton of Oakland are two newcomers who may help Coach Babcock have a few less coaching headaches.

Those gorgeous dolls (our sweet coeds) are all working hard practicing for their volleyball tournament. Some of their games last year were well played and if any slick chick is missing out on all this fun she had better join up fast.

Today's Bouquet goes to all the Freshmen who have taken all the punishments of Hazing Week like true sports. Congratulations to all of you who are still alive. T'all next time S. L. (short for so long!)

W. R. A.

Come one!! Come all!! "Frosh" women, as you all know, you have paid your activity fee, so why not join W. R. A. and get the benefit of your money?

W. R. A. sponsors many women's sports. Among these are volleyball, basketball, and bowling. Top notch performers in these sports may earn a letter.

Starting the new school year off, W. R. A. is playing volleyball. The practices will be held on Monday and Wednesday at 3:00 until a regular schedule is set up for each class. Watch the bulletin board for regular W. R. A. meetings.

Mr. Elderdice . . .

he received his A. B. degree from Western Maryland College and his M. A. from Brown University.

On a questionnaire filled in by him, Mr. Elderdice said, "I firmly believe that at a small college the student can learn as much about the particular fields in which the college specializes as he can in a large one. The student may indeed learn more at the small college, where the diversions are fewer, the sense of purpose stronger, and the relationships—with classmate and with teacher—closer and more interesting."

"A large university offers a wider variety of courses and of extracurricular activities than a small college. It also has a larger library than a small college. However, a student does not take all the courses offered, should not attempt to join all the clubs on campus, and frequently reads only the books and periodicals that are assigned.

"Whether he learns more, academically, or not at the small college, the student there feels a greater sense of belonging and develops a feeling of loyalty and love for the school that lasts into later years."

Rhode Island; Naval Reserve Midshipmen's Training School, Northwestern University, Chicago, Illinois; Muhlenburg College, Allentown, Pennsylvania; and Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

When asked what he thought were the advantages of a small college, Dr. Reese listed the following items: (1) more personal and more intimate relationships between the students in the college; (2) more friendly faculty-student relationships; (3) the administration remains more closely attuned to the problems of education; and (4) the entire faculty is more cooperative in every way.
