Saturday, May 31, 1873.

The miserable appearance of the ADVERTISER this week is due entirely to the fact that the last lot of paper sent us by the manufacturers is exceedingly sorry. So our friends will please excuse us for this and the next issue, after which we will have excellent paper, and the ADVERTISER will assume its usual appearance.

THE BALTIMORE GAZETTE has been changed to a quarto, and otherwise improved. It has always been one of the very best edited papers in the country, and is now in a fair way to rival the best New York dailies. Indeed it will compare very favorably with them now. We are glad to notice this evidence of prosperity upon the part of our staunch old Democratic exchange, and sincerely wish its proprietors may go on from one success to another until they make the Gazette, as it deserves to be, the paper par excellence for the Democratic Conservative masses of the Middle and Southern States.

THE TIDES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY AND ITS TRIBUTARIES.—This subject is one of far greater importance than many persons imagine. The average rise and fall of the tides is about four feet. Spring tides rise about five feet and six inches above a dead low water. It is ebb tide at Cape Henry when the moon rises or sets, it is always high tide at York Spit, and Cherry-stone Inlet, at that time or within twenty minutes of it. It is always low tide at Hooper Strake at the same time rising or setting of the moon. High tide at Sandy Point at the moon rising or setting, and low water at Chesapeake City fifteen minutes before the moon rises or sets. The flood tide runs at a given point on the Chesapeake bay five hours and fifty-six minutes. The ebb tide runs at the same place about seven hours, and the slack tide is of about twenty-five minutes duration, near the head of tide-water however, where there is little current setting out, the flood tide runs longer than the ebb. In the Wicomico, five miles from Salisbury the flood tide runs nine minutes longer on an average than the ebb tide.

There are always two ebb tides and two flood tides moving in the Chesapeake Bay at the same time, and sometimes three of one or the other. The same flood tide runs from the capes to the head of tide-water in every tributary of the bay. But no ebb tide runs further than sixty miles at the same time.

A fast sailing vessel entering the Chesapeake Bay at the beginning of flood tide with a strong fair wind, will carry with her the same tide to Baltimore.

A vessel beating up the Bay with a head wind will carry the flood tide nine hours. If she is a good sailer, while one beating down the bay will carry the ebb about four hours and a half if she is a good sailer, the faster she works down the bay the shorter time she will have fair tide. While going up the bay it is reversed.

A vessel going down the bay with a fair wind from Baltimore will generally meet three flood tides, and sometimes four. But if she is a good sailer with a fair wind she can go all the way up on one flood tide, and not encounter a single head tide from the capes to Baltimore.

THE PERILS OF THE RAIL.
A "run off" occurred at Pretyman's Switch on the Delaware R. R. about 2 1/2 miles below Farmington, last night, which was probably the most disastrous to the rolling stock of the Company of any which have yet happened. Singularly to relate, no lives were lost, but the escape is as remarkable as gratifying to the friends of the men whose lives were in jeopardy.

The accident was purely the result of carelessness, but no blame attaches to the Switchmen. The engine, a baggage smoking locomotive, was on the track, and during the day the sawyer had been engaged in wheeling some articles to the other side of the road, lying down a board across the track as a roadway for his barrow. When he quit work at night, he forgot to remove the board, and when the train came thundering along, it struck the board and was thrown from the track with the result as stated below.

The train to which this accident happened was the 6:25 P. M. passenger south consisting of three cars—a baggage smoking locomotive car—and being a little behind time was running at a higher rate of speed than usual, making from 20 to 35 miles per hour. The board was not observed in the darkness of the night until the train was almost upon it, and consequently the speed could not be checked in the least.

The locomotive was thrown upon one side of the track, and entirely stripped of its outer covering and the cab. It is a total wreck, pronounced by an experienced railroad man to be the worst one he ever saw. The tender turned a complete somersault, and landed close to the locomotive. The baggage car broke loose from the trucks and was turned bottom upwards on the other side of the track, while the rest of the train continued on its way. The other car on down the track, but was soon thrown off. The forward truck of the smoking car was broken off and ran back under it, the front platform crushed and the end of the car partially stayed in. The rear car was alone left standing undisturbed on the track and unharmed.

The engineer, William Pyle, and the fireman, Wm. Waterman, were both in the cab and were swept away by it, miraculously escaping with their lives. Mr. Pyle was pretty badly hurt, but it is thought not dangerously, but a bone in his wrist is also broken. His foot was caught under the tender, which held him so firmly that he had to be dug out. Mr. Waterman escaped with slight bruises. They both came up on the morning train to-day, which arrived on time, an engine having been detached from a freight train for this purpose. The baggage master and a brakeman were riding in the baggage car when it upset, but they were not hurt beyond a few bruises.

A wrecking train went down to the scene of the disaster, last night, and so much of the rolling stock as can be got ready will be brought up this afternoon.

A BRAKEMAN KILLED BY THE W. & W. RAILROAD.

Evans Barben, a brakeman on a freight train, on the Wilmington & Reading Railroad, was killed yesterday morning. The train was near Chadd's Ford about 9:15, when this brakeman was passing along the train, and while crossing a time car, covered with canvas, his foot slipped and he fell to the track. Sixteen cars passed over him, cutting off his legs one arm, and breaking his skull. He lived but a few moments, barely having time to speak to his brother, who was the conductor of the train, telling him he knew he would have to die. Deceased was a resident of Oxford, and the line of the P. & B. Central, and was considered one of the most efficient and careful brakemen on the road.—Wilmington Commercial, 28th inst.

Navigation of the Yellow-stone.
CHICAGO, May 27.—Major George A. Smith, of General Sheridan's staff, has just returned from a trip up to the Yellowstone, and reports complete success in establishing the fact of the navigability of that stream from its mouth to Powder river.

The exploration was determined on some time ago for military reasons, and General Sheridan directed Major Forsyth to attempt the navigation of the river with a steamboat of the largest size used on the waters of the Upper Missouri.

The steamboat Key West was selected, and after embarking a sufficient number of troops for self-defense, she started on the 9th inst. The boat drew twenty-five inches of water, and carried an escort and crew of one hundred and sixty. The usual spring rise had not yet occurred in the Yellowstone, and the water was lower than it had been for some years past.

Without the slightest difficulty the steamer passed over the first thirty-five miles, finding ample depth of water in the channel, until she reached Stanley's Shoshone, where there was only twenty inches of water.

The shoal, however, was only about forty feet in width, and by using the proper appliances the steamer worked through.

She found difficulty in passing over the rapids, and stopped at Key West Falls, 2 1/2 miles from Powder river.

These falls are the most difficult of any, but by the removal of two small rocks, with about six square feet of surface about thirty inches thick, which lie immediately in the middle of the channel of the river, it will be navigable from sixty to eighty miles further.

Upon the crest of all the rapids the water was from four and a half to eight feet deep. The distance ascended was 235 miles, and the time from Fort Buford to Powder river was six and a half days. The descent was made in five days.

The Yellowstone is full of small islands, well wooded along the banks, and the bottom is generally gravel, consequently the banks do not wash away as they do the Upper Missouri. The valley is from two to twelve miles wide, and much of the soil is susceptible of cultivation.

GREAT BRITAIN.
FIRE AND BAD LOSS OF LIFE.
LONDON, May 27.—A fire, attended with a lamentable loss of life, occurred this morning in Berkley Square. Six persons were unable to escape from the burning building, and perished. Six others were injured by falling walls. No water was available, and the flames spread with great rapidity.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.
In the House of Commons to-day the usual motion was offered to adjourn on the 5th of June—Derby Day. Mr. Thomas Hughes protested against the practice and denounced as a public humiliation such action of Parliament in deference to what was called the national sport. He believed the example was injurious to the highest degree to public morals. He hoped the Government would extend the operation of the betting house act to Scotland where English sportsmen were still able to evade the law.

"The English papers were filled with betting advertisements, purporting to emanate from Scotland. The police there were working against this gross scandal, which was daily increasing, because the local law sanctioned it.

After further debate, in the course of which the Government promised to extend the act to Scotland, the motion to adjourn on the 5th proximo was carried.

ARRIVAL OF BIDEWELL, THE BANK FORGER.
The West India mail steamer Moselle, which arrived to-day, brought from Havana the bank forger, Austin Bidwell, who has reached London, and has been conveyed to Newgate. Another hearing of the forgery case will be had at Guildhall to-morrow, when Bidwell will appear.

CONSTERNATION AMONG THE ALDERMEN—SUICIDE.
Philadelphia, May 27.—John B. Gallagher, an Alderman of this city, was today convicted of extorting illegal fees, and was fined one hundred dollars and sentenced to imprisonment for nine months. This sentence carries consternation to other Aldermen of this city.

George Link, of the firm of Link & Closs, drain pipe manufacturers, while crossing the river at Camden to this city, got out of his carriage, jumped overboard, and was drowned. His mind was temporarily deranged. He leaves a large fortune.

ITALY.
THE POPE'S PRAYERS FOR FRANCE—RELIGIOUS CORPORATIONS ABOLISHED—THE FUNERAL OF MANZONI.
Rome, May 27.—The Pope, in a speech yesterday, declared that he had ever prayed for France, but that he would now pray with greater confidence. The election of Marshal MacMahon was a guarantee of order and justice to civilization, which was menaced on all sides.

The Chamber of Deputies has finally passed the bill for the abolition of religious corporations.

Parliament has adjourned as a mark of respect for the memory of the late Count Manzoni.

The royal princes and members of both Houses have gone to Florence to attend the poet's funeral. The ceremonies will be of the most imposing character.

FRANCE.
Marshall McMahon has been elected President of France, to the great consternation of the Republicans.

POLICY OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT.
London, May 27.—A special dispatch from Paris to the London Times says the new French Government has resolved to adopt a free-trade policy, and also to reduce the military expenditures. It is stated in the same dispatch that ex-President Thiers will resume his literary labors.

The News has a special dispatch from Berlin conveying the idea that it is the prevalent opinion in the German capital that President McMahon will prove the counterpart of General Monck, the restorer of the House of Stuart to the English throne, and that his election heralds the Legitimist restoration in France.

THE WRECKED ATLANTIC—THE PASSENGERS AND THE CARGO.
New York, May 27.—A Halifax dispatch states that the wreckers from the hull of the Atlantic report that a large quantity of the cargo is still in the vessel, and the sides of the vessel having fallen in on the cargo, makes its rescue very difficult. The blowing out of the sides of the vessel by powder mangled many bodies beyond all possible recognition, and the divers say heads, arms, legs and feet are strewn on the bottom in all directions. The bodies found require most careful handling or they will drop in pieces. The portion of the cargo rescued and sold at Halifax brings good prices.

THE WAR UPON THE APACHES.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Company A, of the First Cavalry, which was sent from Prescott by General Crook, on the first of April, to co-operate with the troops engaged against the Apache Mojave Indians, found a band of savages at the head of Drake Creek on the sixth, and fought them.

In the action five Indians were killed, and all their provisions and blankets captured. Immediately after the fight, the command received orders from General Schofield to proceed to the Modoc country.

The latest reports from Arizona indicate that there will be danger of another general Indian war should the First Cavalry be withdrawn from that Territory.

SPAIN.
CUBAN AFFAIRS—THE PUBLIC DEBT.
Madrid, May 27.—Captain General Deltain has been officially notified to carry into effect the order of March 24, directing the emancipation of ten thousand slaves.

The Council of Ministers has postponed consideration of the electoral law for Cuba.

There is reason to believe the Government has resolved on measures which will considerably reduce the interest on the public debt.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION.
BOSTON, May 27.—The fourth annual gathering of the New England Woman Suffrage Association in Fremont Temple, attracted less attention in point of numbers than usual. The speakers include many veterans in the cause, who show no diminution in earnestness and hope of ultimate triumph. The Massachusetts Legislature is vigorously denounced for its recent vote giving woman suffrage advocates "leave to withdraw."

A GREAT INDIAN COUNCIL.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Four thousand Indians have assembled at New Westminster from all parts of British Columbia, under pretext of holding a Council. Dr. Powell, Superintendent of Indian Affairs in that region, will meet the Indians to-morrow, to hear their grievances.

GLANCING back on the eventful years, since the close of our great internecine war, freighted with proscription, persecution, corruption, fraud, unblushing tyranny and judicial murder, with a faint hope of catching a gleam of good from the almost chaotic mass of important events which dance phantasmagorically before the mind's eye, it is truly refreshing to see at least one ray of light glinting in the murky darkness. It is also comforting to know that this gleam came from one of the greatest lights of the Republican party, Salmon P. Chase, who has finished his earthly career and gone down to the grave covered with the highest honors of the Judiciary. His heart was in the right place though he acted with the Republican party, and it affords us pleasure to give place to his noble sentiments in reference to the proscription and vindictive feelings entertained by Republicans towards the people of the South. His letter, in reply to one who took him to task for expressing sentiments of forgiveness and fraternity with the Confederates, is like a glimpse of the sun through a rift in the storm cloud lighting up a summer sea. Mr. Chase said: "It is that true patriotism requires that the close of great civil war should be marked not by proscription or disfranchisement, but by manifestations of sincere good will, especially from the successful to the unsuccessful, and by generous recognition of whatever was really brave and earnest and noble in those who fought on the failing side. I have no sympathy with a spirit which refuses to strew flowers upon the graves of the dead soldiers who fought against the side I took; and I am glad to know there was no such spirit among those who joined in decorating the graves of the soldiers of the Union who lie buried at Magnolia Cemetery. The Magnolia lavishes its perfumes freely, the pleasant air breathes as softly, and the warm sun shines as brightly over Confederate as over Union graves. In the letter which has incensed your censor I sought to put into the hearts of my countrymen something of the divine charity taught by the tree, the air and the sun, as well as by the precepts of our Saviour. I believe it has done some good, and I believe it will do more."

Railroad Enterprise.
The enterprise of building a railroad from Newmarket, Md., to Cherrystone, Va., has now assumed such proportions as to give rise to a belief that it will certainly succeed. According to the latest authentic advice the company is to be organized about the last of May with a capital stock, subscribed by Pennsylvanians, of $100,000, one tenth of which will be paid in immediately so that the work can be commenced at once if deemed advisable. An election will soon be held in Accomac and Northampton counties to decide whether or not the people will allow the company an untrammelled right of way from the Maryland line to Cherrystone. This being decided affirmatively, it is presumed that work will be commenced at an early day.
We trust this enterprise will succeed, and that it may not be long ere the iron horse shall blow the whistle at Cape Charles.

Polygamy.
Massachusetts, the cradle of laws and customs, is again on the rampage. Read the following from the N. Y. Tribune, and then blush for shame:
"It is almost incredible, but it is seriously stated that one hundred and sixty-two women of Lowell, Mass., have petitioned the Legislature to make polygamy legal. The petitioners, however, would have the taking of a second wife dependent upon the consent of the first—a very wise proviso, if any such foolish and wicked statute is to be enacted, inasmuch as the consent of the first wife would, in a majority of cases, be impossible to obtain. But Governor Andrew's "forty thousand anxious and aimless women" still remain in Massachusetts; and the question what is to be done with them is as far from being answered as ever—one of the problems which it is pleasant to think that time at least must solve."

Physical Exercise.
The effect of proper physical exercise on the development of mental power in consonance with a corresponding development of physical power is either unknown to or not appreciated by the average American people. For many years it has been the custom to decried and exclaim against any amusement involving an exercise of the muscles as not only useless but pernicious, involving a waste of time and a neglect of business and other duties. Often now we come across some family, cradled and coddled, with youthful fancies or remembrances clinging to them in their old age or possessing any sympathy for youth or youthful pleasures, quiveringly complaining of the profligacy of young men for indulging in a game of ball or walking for exercise. Such croaking is, fortunately, being paid by unheeded by the "clearest thinkers" of our community, and the lessons of experience and science applied. Horace, the Roman poet, over eighteen hundred years ago expressed in the apothegm, sana mens in sano corpore—a healthy mind in a healthy body—the present opinion on this subject and this truth were drawn from the illustrations afforded by his countrymen. The Greeks and Romans were probably the most intelligent people that have flourished on the face of the globe, yet not only were they victors in the realms of letters and science, but were also physical conquerors, each having subdued the world. Some of the grandest passages in the Iliad and Odyssey are in celebration and praise of the feats of strength performed by the Greek and Trojan heroes. The Olympian Games were festivals for the exhibition not only of muscular power but also of the productions of the mind. Many of the poets, orators and philosophers that have rendered Greece so celebrated often contended for the prizes given to the victorious athletes, and in many cases bore them off. The Romans boasted of their powerful physique, and athletic sports were embodied in their religious ceremonies. Caesar, Cicero and other literary Romans were as proud of their bodily strength as of their wonderful genius. It is a physical impossibility for a soul confined in a weak, nervous and powerless body to exert its capacities and accomplish any great work. To achieve distinction by mental occupations, energy and application and concentration are requisite, and these qualifications can only be obtained by proper attention to the bodily wants and preserving it in a healthy condition, and this condition can be obtained only by a proper diet and exercise. The old saying "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is exemplified in the case of individuals who devote all their time to reading, leading a recluse and hermit life; in their cases they gradually, with the decay of their physical strength, lose all energy for work, becoming mere nonentities in the sphere of action. Just as surely as too much physical labor unites the mind for mental pursuits, so too much mental labor unites the body for physical endurance. A mean between the two extremes is the happy desideratum for which mankind should contend. A cultivation of both will help each the other to labor and attain. In the colleges, academies and schools of the country, gymnasiums and other proper means for physical development have been introduced and it is a noted fact that those who rank high in their studies are proficient gymnasts. The physique of the Americans is poor, and the present inclination to bodily and outdoor sports and exercises should be approved of and encouraged.

The Polar.
DEATH OF CAPTAIN HALL.
THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION A FAILURE.
Intelligence reached Washington on the 10th instant that the Arctic Expedition has turned out to be a failure. The English sailing ship Walrus arrived at Newfoundland on the 9th instant and reported that the steamer Tigress sprung up on the ice at Grady Harbor, Labrador, on the 30th of April last, fifteen of the crew and five of the Esquimaux of the steamer Polaris, of the Arctic Expedition.
On the 8th of October, 1871, in latitude 81 degrees 38 minutes, longitude 61 degrees 44 minutes, Captain Hall died of apoplexy and was buried on shore, where they erected a wooden cross to mark his grave. Just before his death he had returned from a northern sledge expedition, in which he had attained a latitude of 82 degrees 19 minutes. He seemed in his usual health, and had called the crew into the cabin to encourage them with hopes of future rewards and stimulate them to renewed exertion, when he was suddenly struck down and expired, to the great grief of those around.

CORRESPONDENCE.
FORKTOWN, May 13, 1873.
Meers Editors:
The long wished for warm weather has come at last imparting its influences to the vegetables and making them grow wonderfully. Nature indeed presents a cheerful look, the plants seem to vie with each other in putting forth leaves and blossoms; after the strawberries the peas look the best.
A cow, belonging to a gentleman residing near here, wandered off from home a few miles and died in travail. An observant and inquisitive neighbor skinned the carcass and sold the hide to the tanner paying a friend, who was cognizant of the circumstance, the sum of 50 cents to keep silent. How's that for high?
The quantity of fish caught at our landings is insufficient to supply the great demand, and it is feared the season will close rather unfavorably to the success of the seine owners.
The late rains have deluged the earth with so much water that the low ground farmers are yet unable to plant their corn.
The Sunday School at Zion is said to be in a flourishing condition.
There will not be any service in the M. E. Church here next Sabbath in consequence of a quarterly meeting which is to be held at Rockaway on the same day.
Good spring chickens are very scarce. The prospect for a fine crop of whortleberries is very promising.

DEATH OF JAS. L. ORR.—Hon. Jas. L. Orr, of South Carolina, U.S. Ambassador to Russia, died at St. Petersburg, on the 6th inst. He received his appointment from the President in December last, and has been abroad scarcely a month before his death. He was 51 years of age, having been born at Claytonville, S. C. May 12th, 1822. He was educated at the University of Virginia, and admitted to the bar in 1843. In 1844 he was elected to the Legislature, and was re-elected in 1845. He was elected to Congress in 1848, and served in that body till 1857, in the 35th Congress he was elected speaker of the House. He was a member of the S. C. secession convention and voted for the immediate secession of the State. He was also one of the three commissioners sent to Washington, to negotiate for the surrender of the forts in the Charleston Harbor, from 1862 to 1864 he was a member of the Confederate Senate.

In 1865 he was elected Governor of S. C. over Wade Hampton, Democrat, and has since co-operated with the Republican party. He was a member of the Philadelphia convention which nominated Gen. Grant for a second Term.

It is proposed to hold a Sunday School Convention in Salisbury on the 6th and 7th of next June. Eminent Sunday School men will be present to conduct the convention, and no doubt the occasion will be rendered one of pleasure and profit to all interested in the Sunday School work. All persons of every Christian denomination are invited to participate in the convention, and it is to be hoped that our people will heartily cooperate with the strangers who will come among us for the furtherance of so noble a cause. The convention will be held under the auspices of the Maryland Sunday School Union. See advertisement in another column.

The Modocs.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Advice from Yreka state that Captain Bernard, of the First Cavalry, has been ordered to proceed to Camp Bidwell with his troops and command of that post, relieving Lieutenant Winters of the First Cavalry, who will join his troops in the field with all the available mounted men from Camp Bidwell. Winters, after a good Indian fight while he was stationed at Tucson, Arizona, and at Camp Bowie, A. S. Dyar, Indian agent of the Klamath Agency in Oregon has made application to the military authorities at Fort Klamath, in that State, for a detachment of troops to be stationed at that place for the protection of families of employees, and Government property. Whether he fears an outbreak of the Klamath Indians or a raid of the Modocs on the reservation is not stated.

The settlers at Goose Lake, and in Surprise and John Day Valleys are greatly alarmed, apprehending an outbreak of several tribes of Pi Utes on reservations in Oregon.

The post commander at Camp Bidwell considers that post unsafe, as it is a defensible position.

Another Fatal Bridge Accident.

St. Louis, May 6.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday afternoon at a bridge being erected on the Lamine river, on the north-western extension of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, fourteen miles from Sedalia. The false work erected for facilitating the construction of the bridge went into the quicksand upon which it rested, carrying with it the bridge timbers and twelve workmen, and precipitating all into the river below. Wm. McAvoy, Peter Conner and Harry Funch were killed outright. Eight others were wounded, two of whom are not expected to recover. The bodies of the three killed were taken last night to Sedalia, where an inquest was held.

Serious and Thrilling Railroad Accident.

LOUISVILLE, May 6.—Advice from Princeton, Ind., last night, state that an excursion train left that place, on Saturday night, on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad, for Mount Carmel, Ill., carrying about seventy-five persons. In backing the train from Mount Carmel to Princeton a number of cows suddenly ran on the track, when the conductor, Henry T. Haynes, who was on the rear platform, promptly signalled the engine driver; but it was too late. The cars ran over the cows, and plunged down an embankment eight feet high, throwing the cars bottom upwards. The passengers were immediately in a terrible state of confusion and terror, and a number of them were seriously injured, some probably fatally. The conductor leaped into a ditch and escaped injury. He afterwards broke the glass in the doors and rescued the passengers.

Among the wounded are Miss Louisa West, of Princeton, injured in the head and had two ribs broken; Nathan Buckner, of Princeton, severely injured in the head, back and hips; E. R. Perney, collar-bone and right arm broken; Miss L. Dosselt, of Princeton, head and jaw seriously injured; Richard Ingle, of Cincinnati, foot badly hurt. Some thirty others were more or less injured.

THE OHIO LEGISLATURE—CENSURE OF THE LAST CONGRESS.

Among the resolutions was one adopted by 60 to 20:

Whereas, The action of the last Congress, in increasing the compensation of the members thereof, the President of the United States and other officers, was unnecessary, uncalled for, and distasteful to the people of Ohio, and it is believed of the whole Union, and its repeal earnestly demanded by the people; therefore,

Resolved, That the Senators and Representatives be requested to zealously use all honorable efforts to procure a repeal of said law, or so much of it as relates to such compensation, at the earliest practicable period.

The senate adopted a joint resolution raising the salary of the twelve amendments to the United States Constitution, submitted by the First Congress, in 1789, providing that no law varying the compensation of members of Congress shall take effect until an election for representatives shall have intervened. The vote stood 25 to 4.

THE LIBERAL CATHOLICS AND ULTRAMONTANES IN CANADA.

New York, May 3.—A letter from Montreal states that a bitter war is increasing in violence, is being waged between the Liberal Catholics and Ultramontanes of Canada. The former are under the lead of the Archbishop of Quebec, and the latter of the Jesuits and the Archbishop of Montreal. In the last election the Liberal Catholics polled twenty-eight and the representation of the Montreal coalition shrank from fifty to thirty-seven. Losing control of Parliament, the Jesuit party sought to subvert the authority of the Archbishop of Quebec, and destroy his influence, the hope thereby to regain power. The Archbishop visited Rome, and has just returned, bearing a reprimand for the Jesuits, which is likely still further to intensify the conflict, and may lead to expulsion of the Jesuits from Canada.

MEETING OF THE LEGISLATURE THE INAUGURATION PARADE.

Hartford (Conn.), May 7.—The Connecticut Legislature convened this forenoon, and perfected organization. In the Senate Hon. Allen Tenny was elected president pro tem. In the House Hon. W. W. Eaton was elected speaker. Both houses were occupied during the morning session with the usual preliminary business. Resolutions were passed declaring the election of Governor Ingersoll and other Democratic candidates for State officers.

The day is very fine, and the streets are crowded with people to witness the inauguration parade. The formal inauguration ceremonies in the Legislature will take place this afternoon when the Governor's inaugural message will be read.

PRESIDENT GRANT—HE MAKES A SPEECH.

Chicago, May 7.—At noon to-day President Grant, accompanied by Senator Logan, Mayor Medill, and a number of other gentlemen, visited the Board of Trade rooms, and was introduced to the merchants by the president of the board. He was greeted with a hearty round of cheers, and in response spoke as follows: Gentlemen of the Board of Trade: It affords me great pleasure to come back to see your city now after an absence of little more than a year, and to find it improved even beyond what it was before the great fire, which swept over it just one week after my last visit, and gentlemen, I am very glad to meet you representatives of this prosperity.

Republican Convention—Nominations for City Officers.

(Special Telegram to the Baltimore Gazette.)
CUMBERLAND (Md.), May 6.—The Republicans, in convention to-night, made the following nominations for city officers: Mayor, Charles F. Hettzell; Councilmen, L. R. Fechtig, J. T. Hall, J. P. Willard, John Wieble, J. A. Kolb and A. M. L. Bush.

TERRIBLY DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT TRENTON.

TRENTON (LA), May 6.—At 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in Moore's drug store, and spreading rapidly in all directions soon destroyed the entire business portion of the town, except the establishment of S. Hirsch and Pacard & Spino; total loss $300,000; insurance $150,000, mostly in New Orleans offices.

MALT LIQUORS PROHIBITED.

Boston, May 6.—The chief State constable has issued orders to his subordinates to enforce the new prohibitory law against the sale of strong beer and lager, which goes into effect to-day.

DEATH OF CHASE.

Chief Justice Chase died at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the residence of his daughter in New York City. Judge Chase arrived at New York from Washington on Saturday in good health and spirits. Paralysis caused his death.

NEW ENGLAND MILL OPERATIVES.

While the trades of New York and other cities are demanding eight hours as a day's work, the mill operatives of philanthropic New England would be very glad to get ten hours. The movement in favor of such a reduction is about to commence in Rhode Island. There are many advantages to be obtained by this. Rhode Island is a small, compact State. The necessary consultations can be easily obtained, and the combinations formed. The majority of the manufacturing wealth of the State is controlled by two or three large firms, of which the Spragues are the most prominent, and a bitter rivalry exists between them. Each is suspicious of the other, and the strikers, if they manage well, will be able, in all probability, to play off one firm against another. The "Ten-Hour League" of New England, which controls this movement, is said to be quite powerful, having now about thirty thousand members. They have organized in self-defense. New England grinds her helpless children very heavily. It is work, work, work, from sunrise until after weary sunset, with her factory hands. Little children and delicate girls—the weak as well as the strong—have to do their day's labor to the last of the long hours—often from five or six in the morning to seven, eight and nine at night, with brief intervals for rest. These men and women and children sickened and die under such slow torture, of course. But the crowded population supplies new recruits for death. And so the manufacturing industries, owned by grasping proprietors, money-making, shrewd, hard, and often inhuman in their want of charity and fellow-feeling for their poor dependents, reap the harvest of lives year after year; healthy men, who struggle long, but give way at last; robust women, who are choked with the delicate filaments of cotton or wool which float off from the machines; children whose young hearts know nothing but care and burden too heavy to be borne, and who waste away and die prematurely, that their employers may reap the benefit of their cheap labor, and grow rich. The slaves of the South, in the worst days of slavery, did not work like these mill operatives of Massachusetts or Rhode Island, and they were nursed when sick and personally cared for a hundred times better. Here is what the Rhode Island operatives demand, and to us their requirements seem reasonable enough. They want to commence work at half-past six in the morning. That certainly is fair. Very few laborers get to their work that early. They ask forty five minutes for dinner. Again fair enough. The machinery is to be stopped at six in the afternoon. There is a further proviso which, probably, will not be acceded to without modification, and that is, that work on Saturday shall cease about one o'clock. According to a despatch this morning, a strike to obtain these terms commences to-day.—Bullo. Gazette, May 1st.

Hon. James Brooks.

HIS DEATH YESTERDAY IN WASHINGTON
—SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Hon. James Brooks, member of Congress from New York, died at his residence, in this city, to-night, at 8:30, in the presence of his family. He recognized those around him to the very last moment. He had long been in feeble health from, as he himself frequently said, the effects of fever which he contracted in Asia. Deceased was in his 63d year. His death created profound sorrow in all circles of the community.

SKETCH OF MR. BROOKS.

The Hon. James Brooks, of New York, whose death is announced above, was one of the most popular as well as prominent members of the House of Representatives from the Democratic side. We find in the Congressional record the following brief sketch of his life:
"James Brooks, of New York, was born at Portland, Maine, November 10, 1810; graduated at Waterville College, Maine; studied law; was admitted to the bar; became connected with the press as the first of the Washington correspondents, then as editor, and afterward as among the first of foreign correspondents for American newspapers; was a member of the State Legislature of Maine in 1839;

considerable injury has been the result. In some portions of the city the young plants are badly blighted, many of them being entirely destroyed, while in others there is no perceptible injury. On the truck farms in this vicinity, as a general thing, the cucumbers, squashes and beans are cut down, while the pea vines have been very materially damaged. Mr. George Z. French, of Excelsior, thinks that he has been injured to the extent of fully $2,000. He had begun shipping peas last week, but this frost will put him back now fully a week.

From all along the line of the W. & W., the W. C. & R., and the W. C. & A. railroads, we hear doleful accounts. The more tender of the plants are ruined. The cotton and corn are cut down to the ground, and serious fears are entertained that the peach crop has been destroyed, but this latter it will take some days to fully determine. The damage to Goldsboro' truckers alone is estimated at some $25,000 or $30,000, and those near Newbern are said to have also suffered severely.

We doubt if the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" can furnish a parallel to this cold snap so late in the season. At this time last year the truckers were doing a fine business, and every train that sped northward carried off large consignments of early garden produce to the northern markets. But this year it is different, and instead of money coming in, it is simply so much money going out, a dead loss to those who calculated on a heavy spring crop.

DEFAULTING DEPUTY COLLECTOR.—It is understood that Mr. Nichols, Deputy Collector of United States Revenue for the First Collection District of Maryland, is a defaulter to the Government in a considerable sum, although the exact amount has not yet been ascertained. Alex. T. Tutton, Esq., Supervisor of Internal Revenue, arrived in the city yesterday and made a partial examination of the books in the office of Collector McIntire. He discovered that in the lists for January and February of the present year over $600 of the amount collected had not been accounted for. No other lists were examined, but it is supposed that the defalcation has been going on for some time. Collector McIntire had the utmost confidence in Nichols, and he was greatly surprised to find that he had been deceiving him. Nichols immediately resigned, and is supposed to have gone to his home in Elkton. Collector McIntire is believed to be entirely innocent of any complicity in the dishonest transaction, and had no knowledge thereof. He will doubtless make good to the Government whatever amount may be in arrears.—Balt. American, 26th inst.

Outrage and Murder.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.), April 29.—A girl named Lizzie Ness was brutally outraged and murdered yesterday forenoon, in a grove near Salisbury, 14 miles from here. Her skull was fractured in two places, and her hair matted with blood. Two tramping painters, named Polie and Hyndeman, who claimed to have worked recently in Cumberland, Md., were arrested here to-day, charged with the murder. The girl was fourteen years old, an adopted daughter of Mrs. Christian Kline, residing near Salisbury, and is said to have a father living in Ohio.

The prisoners will have a hearing on Friday.

Particulars of the Riot at O'Brien's Circus.

The Wilmington (Del.) Gazette, of Tuesday evening, gives the following details of the riot at O'Brien's circus in that city, of which the main facts have already been stated. It says:
"Long before 7 o'clock, last evening, the ticket wagon of O'Brien's circus was besieged by a clamorous crowd, all eager to obtain tickets of admission. The rush continued until after 8 o'clock, when the wagon was closed, the large tent by this time being filled with over seven thousand people. The performance commenced, but was soon interrupted by a large number of ruffianly boys and young men, who crowded into the ring in such a manner as to seriously interfere with the actions of the performers. Although there were many around the ropes, all requests for them to step back were met with insulting responses, and the performers, retreating to their dressing-room, despairing of being allowed to continue their performance.

The ruffians then stepped beyond the bounds of all order and respect, and, yelling like demons, rushed toward the dressing-room. The scene which followed beggars description. Women shrieked, cried, men shouted and a general panic ensued. The failure of the circus company to provide sufficient police support then had its effect, in allowing the riotous crowd to act as they pleased. Some rushed into the side-tents, while others commenced breaking the seats and cutting the canvas and tent poles. One racial, from the outside, raised the canvas and fired a pistol under it, which only served to heighten the general panic. Many persons were trampled and bruised; but none fortunately were seriously injured. Special Officer Bacon, while striving to restore order, was set upon by a mob, and knocked down and trampled. Finally, the rioters rushed outside, and seizing the tent wagon hurried it down Lombard, and dumped it into the Christina. The cook wagon was served likewise, and the force of fire directed at the ticket wagon was rushed up Fourth street to Poplar, where several policemen captured it from the crowd, and turned it into the gutter. The crowd made determined efforts to retake it, and hurled volleys of stones, until the officers drew their pistols, when they desisted. For a long time the mob continued to linger in the vicinity, but as the officers were vigilant, further depredations were prevented. Three of the rioters were arrested and confined in the cells.

During the mele several officers struck with stones, and one of them was knocked down with a black-jack. The circus men kept out of the way and escaped injury. The ticket wagon was somewhat scratched and broken, as were also the other wagons which were fished out of the creek about three o'clock this morning.

The affair was a most disgraceful one, and was simply an exhibition of that riotous spirit, for which the "Old Churchmen" who were foremost in the row, are notorious. The circus officials were anxious to do all in their power, to preserve order, but after the start, all efforts to restore peace were promptly overruled.

The Frost in the South.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Journal of Sunday, tells the story of the disastrous effects of the cold spring weather in that locality:
"A very heavy frost whitened the ground in this city and section yesterday morning, and from all that we can learn a very went to New York in 1838, and established the New York Express, of which he has been chief editor and proprietor; was a member of the Legislature of the State of New York in 1849; was a member of the Constitutional Convention of New York, in 1867; was elected to the Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, and Thirty-sixth Congresses, and was re-elected to the Forty-second Congress, as a Democrat, receiving 12,845 votes against 5,497 votes for Geo. Wilkes, Republican, and 4,243 for J. Wadsworth, Independent."

During the various terms of his service in Congress Mr. Brooks showed himself to be a ready debater, and was not without his attention to business. He held position on several important committees, and was noted for the ability with which he discharged the arduous duties imposed. As an editor and writer Mr. Brooks was universally known in this country, and the series of letters published in the New York Express some years ago, describing his travels abroad, won him well-deserved reputation. During the last session of Congress Mr. Brooks was one of the members implicated in the Credit Mobilier charges. For some time past, his health has been in a most precarious condition, from the effects of a disease whose precise nature baffled the skill of the most accomplished physicians to define. Recently he made a visit to Norfolk, Va., hoping that the climatic change would effect some permanent benefit, but experienced no relief whatever, and finally succumbed to the fatal malady.

The Modoc War.

ANOTHER DESPERATE FIGHT.

On the 26th ultimo a party of 61 Modoc Indians surprised a detachment of troops in the lava beds and, after a desperate encounter completely defeated them. Sixteen soldiers were killed and eight wounded. The Modocs are armed with Spencer carbines and breech-loading muskets. In more than one instance a Modoc has been known to have two or more Spencer rifles, enabling him to keep up a rapid fire from his natural or artificial breastwork of rock.

The surface of the ground occupied by the Indians in many places is torn up by volcanic action which form crevices, and these are adaptable for purposes of hiding, or for points of defence. In several instances soldiers knowing nothing of the topography, have come unawares on such fissures, and before they could escape, were confronted by the wily Indian, with rifle leveled, and finger on trigger. Death, or at least a dangerous wound, is the result. Too often the cowardly redskins escape by so many paths known only to themselves.

In this mode of warfare the Indians have all the advantages, and, though few in number, manage to oppose a formidable front whenever opportunity offers, being certain of a safe retreat should they be compelled to fall back. The officers in command are doing all they can to exterminate the Modocs, but it is difficult to prevent when the troops will be able to get a chance to pluck them in a general engagement. In the meantime we may expect to hear of the occasional slaughter of our soldiers by these Indians.

The officers and men engaged in the encounter mentioned above behaved with commendable gallantry and sold their lives as dearly as possible.

The failure of the circus company to provide sufficient police support then had its effect, in allowing the riotous crowd to act as they pleased. Some rushed into the side-tents, while others commenced breaking the seats and cutting the canvas and tent poles. One racial, from the outside, raised the canvas and fired a pistol under it, which only served to heighten the general panic. Many persons were trampled and bruised; but none fortunately were seriously injured. Special Officer Bacon, while striving to restore order, was set upon by a mob, and knocked down and trampled. Finally, the rioters rushed outside, and seizing the tent wagon hurried it down Lombard, and dumped it into the Christina. The cook wagon was served likewise, and the force of fire directed at the ticket wagon was rushed up Fourth street to Poplar, where several policemen captured it from the crowd, and turned it into the gutter. The crowd made determined efforts to retake it, and hurled volleys of stones, until the officers drew their pistols, when they desisted. For a long time the mob continued to linger in the vicinity, but as the officers were vigilant, further depredations were prevented. Three of the rioters were arrested and confined in the cells.

During the mele several officers struck with stones, and one of them was knocked down with a black-jack. The circus men kept out of the way and escaped injury. The ticket wagon was somewhat scratched and broken, as were also the other wagons which were fished out of the creek about three o'clock this morning.

The affair was a most disgraceful one, and was simply an exhibition of that riotous spirit, for which the "Old Churchmen" who were foremost in the row, are notorious. The circus officials were anxious to do all in their power, to preserve order, but after the start, all efforts to restore peace were promptly overruled.

The Frost in the South.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Journal of Sunday, tells the story of the disastrous effects of the cold spring weather in that locality:
"A very heavy frost whitened the ground in this city and section yesterday morning, and from all that we can learn a very considerable injury has been the result. In some portions of the city the young plants are badly blighted, many of them being entirely destroyed, while in others there is no perceptible injury. On the truck farms in this vicinity, as a general thing, the cucumbers, squashes and beans are cut down, while the pea vines have been very materially damaged. Mr. George Z. French, of Excelsior, thinks that he has been injured to the extent of fully $2,000. He had begun shipping peas last week, but this frost will put him back now fully a week.

From all along the line of the W. & W., the W. C. & R., and the W. C. & A. railroads, we hear doleful accounts. The more tender of the plants are ruined. The cotton and corn are cut down to the ground, and serious fears are entertained that the peach crop has been destroyed, but this latter it will take some days to fully determine. The damage to Goldsboro' truckers alone is estimated at some $25,000 or $30,000, and those near Newbern are said to have also suffered severely.

We doubt if the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" can furnish a parallel to this cold snap so late in the season. At this time last year the truckers were doing a fine business, and every train that sped northward carried off large consignments of early garden produce to the northern markets. But this year it is different, and instead of money coming in, it is simply so much money going out, a dead loss to those who calculated on a heavy spring crop.

DEFAULTING DEPUTY COLLECTOR.—It is understood that Mr. Nichols, Deputy Collector of United States Revenue for the First Collection District of Maryland, is a defaulter to the Government in a considerable sum, although the exact amount has not yet been ascertained. Alex. T. Tutton, Esq., Supervisor of Internal Revenue, arrived in the city yesterday and made a partial examination of the books in the office of Collector McIntire. He discovered that in the lists for January and February of the present year over $600 of the amount collected had not been accounted for. No other lists were examined, but it is supposed that the defalcation has been going on for some time. Collector McIntire had the utmost confidence in Nichols, and he was greatly surprised to find that he had been deceiving him. Nichols immediately resigned, and is supposed to have gone to his home in Elkton. Collector McIntire is believed to be entirely innocent of any complicity in the dishonest transaction, and had no knowledge thereof. He will doubtless make good to the Government whatever amount may be in arrears.—Balt. American, 26th inst.

Outrage and Murder.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.), April 29.—A girl named Lizzie Ness was brutally outraged and murdered yesterday forenoon, in a grove near Salisbury, 14 miles from here. Her skull was fractured in two places, and her hair matted with blood. Two tramping painters, named Polie and Hyndeman, who claimed to have worked recently in Cumberland, Md., were arrested here to-day, charged with the murder. The girl was fourteen years old, an adopted daughter of Mrs. Christian Kline, residing near Salisbury, and is said to have a father living in Ohio.

The prisoners will have a hearing on Friday.

Particulars of the Riot at O'Brien's Circus.

The Wilmington (Del.) Gazette, of Tuesday evening, gives the following details of the riot at O'Brien's circus in that city, of which the main facts have already been stated. It says:
"Long before 7 o'clock, last evening, the ticket wagon of O'Brien's circus was besieged by a clamorous crowd, all eager to obtain tickets of admission. The rush continued until after 8 o'clock, when the wagon was closed, the large tent by this time being filled with over seven thousand people. The performance commenced, but was soon interrupted by a large number of ruffianly boys and young men, who crowded into the ring in such a manner as to seriously interfere with the actions of the performers. Although there were many around the ropes, all requests for them to step back were met with insulting responses, and the performers, retreating to their dressing-room, despairing of being allowed to continue their performance.

The ruffians then stepped beyond the bounds of all order and respect, and, yelling like demons, rushed toward the dressing-room. The scene which followed beggars description. Women shrieked, cried, men shouted and a general panic ensued. The failure of the circus company to provide sufficient police support then had its effect, in allowing the riotous crowd to act as they pleased. Some rushed into the side-tents, while others commenced breaking the seats and cutting the canvas and tent poles. One racial, from the outside, raised the canvas and fired a pistol under it, which only served to heighten the general panic.
