In his congratulatory letters to the students, Dr. Baker exclaimed that he was "much encouraged by the quality and quantity of this group." ## 305 Freshmen On Campus

The largest Freshman class to date, 305 students, has arrived on campus. But none of these Freshmen are new to the campus; their orientation program began in July when each student stayed overnight, pre-registered and took part of the Freshmen Tests.

Upperclassmen counsellors moved into the residence halls Saturday, August 30, and participated in an all-day workshop. Some of their duties were to meet the Freshmen and their parents, help the newcomers become acquainted with procedures and assist activities during Orientation Week.

Orientation Week

This year's Freshmen Symposium will be a discussion of the two books The True Believer and The Ordeal of Change by Eric Hoffer.

Monday night the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Dance and Bar-B-Que in honor of the class of 1973 on the terrace of Memorial Student Union.

First Weekend

"Open House", Friday, September 5 is an invitation to the Freshmen and transfer students to meet the members of the campus publications, service organizations and interest clubs. The upperclassmen are eager to talk to the new students about their organizations and to encourage them to join.

To alleviate the problems of scheduling the Freshmen Tests the second day after arriving, a new plan was devised. Part of the tests were completed in July. The remainder of the tests, Science and Social Studies, will be given Saturday, September 6, after the Freshmen have been settled on campus for a few days.

From 9 p.m. until midnight on Saturday the Student Life Committee has planned an All-Campus Dance.

Freshmen Follies is the annual spoof of how the Freshmen view their first week of college life. The Freshmen will perform their skits and songs to a full house of upperclassmen Sunday, September 7.

Future Plans

After the first few weeks of classes and acquaintances the Class of 1973 will elect their class officers and representatives and draft their class constitution.

A new Women's Residence Hall Constitution uniting the three women's halls under a single representative set of officers and major programs will be voted upon in the fall. Freshmen resident women will have a vote and a voice in the polishing of this constitution and its resulting committees and activities.

President Smith Greet Largest Student Body

"August 31 has always been a quiet day at Salisbury State College; however, we expect there to be few quiet places on the campus then the new students begin to arrive on Sunday, August 31, this year. We are now, of course, embarked on our new calendar which requires to begin school in August but, on the positive side, will permit both faculty and students to go home for a Christmas vacation secure in the knowledge that final exams have been completed.

We have grown this year; there are more faculty members and many more students. Also, our summer school enrolled 426 the first term and 309 in the second. Indeed, the campus has not been quiet and never deserted since Commencement in June. Some campus improvements have been made and other projects are proceeding slowly and painfully through the negotiation stages.

This will be my second year at Salisbury State College and I am finding there is much to be done. Again, I look forward to students and faculty members sharing the planning and implementation of projects to be undertaken this year. I am sure all upperclassmen will join me in welcoming the largest freshman class in our history. I am confident that at Commencement on May 10, 1970, each of us can look back and be somewhat satisfied and proud of the year's accomplishments."

Walter D. Smith
President

Summer Activity Increases

When commencement ended on the afternoon of June 1, Salisbury State College did not close its doors and quietly slumber in the summer heat. The College, instead, began an active series of workshops and other programs as well as preparing for the September session.

Continuing in the development of closer college-city relations, SSC hosted a number of professional from June 16 to June 20, was the Plant Supervisors Workshop. Sponsored by the Association of School Business Officials of Maryland and the District of Columbia and the Maryland State Department of Education, fifty representatives from school maintenance staffs based their four-day training program at the College, while classes and demonstrations for participants were held at Wicomico Junior High School. Approximately one month later, 125 high school counselors held a workshop, the largest of the summer, in the Music Arts Center; this workshop was sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Education. Some 60 members of the Maryland State Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association attended an Advanced Cosmetology Workshop on our campus. This study program included classes conducted in hygiene (by Dr. Alethea H. Whitney), in speech (by Mr. Rodney M. Wilson), and in business management (by Mr. A. L. Fleming). On July 23 the college hosted the Delmarva Peninsula Land Use Seminar. At this conference some 250 businessmen, financial leaders, and officials studied the goals of their sponsor, the Delmarva Industrial Development Association, which was formed to implement a program of balanced economy for the peninsula.

Advanced College Workshops

Two workshops were also held as advanced college courses. Problems in American Economic Life (Economic's 412) applied the principles of economics to the teaching of that subject in elementary and secondary schools. Local business and labor leaders, bankers, and government officials served as guest lecturers to the 29 students. Education 598, Intergroup Relations in the School, was offered to 30 classroom teachers for graduate credit. These teachers were assisted in handling the problems that result from recently increasing integration in public schools. Mr. A. L. Fleming secured several guest lecturers, including Gwinn Owens of the editorial staff of Baltimore WJZ-TV and Dr. Roth Laws, who is Director of Intergroup Relations Program for Delaware and consultant for Connecticut and the U.S. Office of Education.

Throughout the summer, SSC continued its policy of open invitation to college activities and facilities. The Wicomico County Recreation Commission continued to instruct local youth in tennis on our courts while joggers tortured themselves on our track and the local adult softball league utilized our baseball field.

The summer program of cultural events, which was also popular in the city, was very active during the summer. Mrs. Francis Fleming was able to provide a series of art exhibits and films as well as local folk singers, the Chamber

SGA Officers For '69-'70

The announcement of SGA appointments will soon be made. Officers for the 1969-1970 year are president Joe Decerbo, a senior; vice-president Ron Bartyczak, a senior; secretary Jeanne Stewart, a senior; and treasurer Gary Eskridge, a junior.

Representatives-at-large elected last spring are seniors Becky Golt, Jeff Owens and Tom Smith; juniors Peg Collins, George Messmore and Susan Tull; and sophomore Mike Holloway.

Class representatives will be announced after the Freshmen election.

Convocation To Be Held

Classes will be interrupted Wednesday, September 3 at 11:00 a.m. so that students may attend the Fall College Convocation in Holloway Hall Auditorium. Starting his second year as President of the College, Dr. Walter D. Smith will be the principle speaker.

Representatives from the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges, presidents of the state colleges, and state education leaders will be guests of the college.

SGA President Decerbo Stresses Participation

The atmosphere at Salisbury State is rapidly changing. It is important to realize that this change is indicative of the feelings of students all over the country. If we are going to be asked to solve the to share the responsibilities of today. Our greatest responsibility lies in becoming involved. This is how we can improve things.

This campus has a relatively new President, one who realizes the needs of students as much as those of the faculty and administration. We are not being faced with people who are unwilling to listen. We have the power to accomplish many things. We must guard against the tendency to excuse the charge of lack of power for what is, in reality, lack of initiative.

The year is shaping up to be a good one. Committees are working to provide as many activities as possible this year. People will always go home on weekends, but we would like them to leave with a feeling that they will miss something. We are pushing for greater student involvement in planning for both college curriculums and activities. This year will be good as long as you take part in it. The opportunities are there. Make it a great one!

Joe Decerbo

Resident Supervisors Named

Two Residence Supervisor vacancies have been filled for this Fall. Mrs. D. John Markey replaces Mrs. Margaret Mallery who has retired from her duties in Nanticoke Hall, a women's residence hall. Mrs. Markey lives in Newcomb, Talbot County and has served as residence supervisor at Washington College in Chestertown, Maryland. Becky Golt, a senior from Elkton, will be Mrs. Markey's Residence Assistant.

Mrs. Charles Hobbs from Howard County is the Residence Supervisor in Wicomico Hall, a men's residence hall. Mrs. Hobbs has been a residence supervisor at Charlotte Hall Academy. Mrs. Isabelle Brittingham from Salisbury has returned as Residence Supervisor to Pokomoke Hall, the other men's hall. No residence assistants have been named.

Holloway and Manokin Halls, women's halls, have retained their Residence Supervisors. Mrs. Margaret Mason from Easton will remain in Holloway Hall. Her residence assistant was not named at this writing. Mrs. Evelyn Williams of Delmar will again live in Manokin Hall and Charlene Squires has been named Residence Assistant. Charlene, a junior, is from Galena and served as a residence assistant in Holloway Hall last year.

Through the Dusty Keyhole A FIRST LOOK

Beside the "Welcome" letters of the deans and presidents, we editors would like to say "Hello" to each student. In an unconventional editorial manner let us introduce you to our ideas and staff.

To report the news truthfully, accurately and fully is every editor's guideline. We want to report as many names and the activities of many organizations as possible so that we may help combat student apathy and give credit to the many behind-the-scenes students. We want to help educate the student body by keeping them informed about academic, cultural, and political activities on campus. We invite any student or organization to voice their opinions by either writing a letter to us or by personally discussing the problem with us or our staff so that we may help answer their questions. We also ask any organization that is promoting an activity or project to inform us so that we may give them the coverage that they deserve.

Since April, when we accepted the duties of editors, we have calculated budgets, visited printers, cleaned our office, and sought our new staff. We are proud to announce them. Woody Rush, a sophomore from Westminster, has accepted the position as news editor. Woody will help us follow the activities of the organizations and the announcements from the President's and Deans' offices. Covering the unusual and entertaining side of campus life will be Terry Krenseavage, our feature editor. Terry is a sophomore from Baltimore and her wide range of interests will help give us a broad coverage. Since the middle of July our Business and Advertising Manager, Ed Baker, has been contracting ads. A junior from Salisbury, Ed will handle all of our financial matters. Valerie Webster, a senior from Salisbury, and Roger Mason, a sophomore from Pocomoke, have agreed to be our sports editors. Once again, Mrs. Francis Fleming is our faculty advisor. We feel confident that we have chosen an enthusiastic and able staff.

Naturally, we have run into several problems. The staff lacks a photographer and we "beg and implore" any camera-bugs to contact any member of our staff so that we can set up a new photography system.

We wish each of you a good year at SSC and hope to meet all of the new students either in our classes or on our news beats.

M. C. & G. W.

An Editorial Interview

During an interview last July, Dean Stewart casually mentioned that the three women's residence halls filled their rooming lists since June 3 and that there is a sizable waiting list. Even more surprising was the fact that the two men's halls will be filled for the first time.

Those of us who have been students at SSC for several years can remember when this campus was minus two dormitories, a three-story classroom building and various parking lots. Four new majors since 1968 are Chemistry, Physical Education, Spanish, and Psychology. And in turn, a larger list of majors brings a larger student enrollment and causes a larger faculty and administration.

Through scholarships, G.I. Bills, summer jobs, and higher family incomes, more students and their families can afford the costs of education. Dean Stewart mentioned that there were less dismissals than previous years so that more students are able to stay in college longer. The rise of Baltimore and Washington area junior colleges and the first class of graduates from Chesapeake College, a junior college on the Eastern Shore along U.S. Route 50, have brought a considerable number of transfers to Salisbury.

Three Appointed to Administration

Dean of the College
Dr. John W. Baker

Assistant Dean of Students
Richard Yobst

Library Director
James Thrash

Dr. Walter D. Smith, President of Salisbury State College has announced the appointment of three new members to the administration of the College. They are Dr. John William Baker, Richard Miles Yobst, and James Thrash.

Dr. Baker succeeds James F. Glenn as Dean of the College. Prior to assuming this duty, he served as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and professor of music at Winthrop College in South Carolina. His educational credits include a bachelor of science degree in music from Temple University, where he graduated cum laude, a masters' degree from Temple, and a doctorate in music from Florida State University. Dr. Baker, who has given yearly clarinet recitals since 1948, has had his compositions performed by Brevard Symphony, Tallahassee Symphony, Columbia Festival Orchestra, and numerous chamber groups. He has been active in the Southern Association of Academic Deans, is a member of the Southeastern Composers League and Phi Kappa Phi, and is past president of the AAUP.

Mr. Yobst replaces Dean George Vollenk, who has become Director of Information and Public Service. Mr. Yobst received his bachelor of science degree from Western Maryland College and his masters' degree in education from George Washington University. He has been physical education instructor at Roger B. Taney Junior High School

Record Enrollment Announced

S.S.C. had a record total enrollment of 735 in its summer school program. In Session I, 229 graduate students and 197 undergraduates were registered and, in Session II, 128 graduate students and 181 undergraduates were enrolled.

Dean Joseph Bachman, director of the summer sessions, explained this increase in students by pointing out that the course offerings in 1969 exceeded those in 1968 by some 50 per cent. He also mentioned that a larger number of Eastern Shore teachers had enrolled for graduate study this year.

In looking ahead to future summers, Dr. Smith said, "It is probable that we will see a much larger number of high school graduates moving immediately to the campus after high school graduation. Starting their college careers in June rather than September seems quite reasonable because the same courses are offered, the same professors teach them, and the pressures of beginning college are generally fewer in the summer. Students are finding they can attend summer schools, as well as the regular academic year, finish college in three years, and take a job a year early. College costs are actually reduced. Year-round operation of our

Letters From the Deans

Dr. John D. Baker

I should like to take this opportunity to extend my greetings to the students of Salisbury State College and to the keen anticipation with which I assume responsibility for its academic program. The faculty and students I have met this summer have reassured me that I have had the good fortune to join an undergraduate college of the right size, in the right place, and with the right people for a bright and exciting future.

I would like to assure you that my primary concern is that each of you receive the best education for you and my second concern is that this be achieved with as much excitement and pleasure as possible.

Having been a college teacher for 15 years, a full-time college student as recently as six years ago, and the father of both a college freshman and sophomore this past year, I trust that I will bring to SSC not only a concern for your well-being but the understanding necessary to properly serve your needs.

Institutions (of higher education) now appears more reasonable when air-conditioned buildings make serious study more possible."

Dean of Students
Orem E. Robinson, Jr.

I am happy to welcome you to Salisbury State College in the hope that the career you begin today will be challenging, rewarding, and enjoyable.

Many of the problems confronting you at this time may seem insoluble, but let me assure you that you stand where hundreds have stood before, and it should be heartening to know that most of them have successfully dealt with the problems of adjustment to the academic community, and have gone on to complete their undergraduate work in what most come to consider all too short a time.

Your preconceptions about the college will, in many instances, turn out to be misconceptions and some of you will at the outset feel lost in the crowd. The strangeness will be short-lived, and in a few days you will be a veteran member of the college community, familiar with it, comfortable in it, and, we hope, fond of it.

If you need assistance, I urge you to seek it. You will probably be surprised to find how easy it is to come by - just for the asking. The competition will be tough, and the work will be hard, but I trust that you will come to know that the compensations are commensurately great.

SLC Committee Announces Plans

by Robert W. Jones,
SLC Chairman

In years past the Student Life Committee has been, as it states in the constitution, a co-ordinating committee. It co-ordinated the year's activities of other organizations and helped finance some of them. It also presented the customary Christmas Dance, Spring Formal, and four class dances.

This year, however, we of the new SLC intend to change and add to the original tasks in order to become a more active committee. This means we plan to do more on our own and not count on the other organizations to fill the calendar. One of the changes which will be immediately noticeable is the enlarged and improved movie calendar - thanks to Joan Claytor, for arranging it. Another change is the addition of the Concert Series. This year it consists of three concerts at a ten dollar per person season ticket. Next year the series will hopefully contain more concerts.

Additions and changes to come about during the year include transferring the responsibility of the four class dances to the Student Union Board to allow the SLC to give more attention to its own activities, the establishment of a coffee house on campus for a weekend happening place, and the addition of many on-the-spot activities such as a bicycle race for organizations, (followed by a picnic on the beach celebrating the victors).

In short, the SLC hopes to make this year more enjoyable and fun and give you your money's worth.

Men's Sports

by Roger Mason

Welcome, freshman sports fans! Ordinarily, this section would be filled with game reports, pictures, interviews, and forecasts for coming games. However, since the paper goes to press too early to present actual predictions for the year, this issue will be devoted to taking a very brief look at the men's sports at SSC.

The fall semester means soccer at S.S.C. Coach Ben Maggs has consistently coached a winning team at Salisbury State. The 1968 team was no exception, capturing the Delaware Valley Conference Championship the first year that S.S.C. was in the conference. Mr. Maggs expects another fine season in 1969, with about 60% of the team composed of returning lettermen. There are also a number of promising freshman prospects.

Some of the more industrious S.S.C. athletes can be seen throughout the year stumbling sleepily out of their dorms before daybreak to practice rowing (or swimming in) the Wicomico River. The varsity crew team was started two years ago as a dorm project. The team is coached by Frank Schipperney, originally from Holland, and has competed in several important meets throughout the East Coast. The team has fared quite well for the length of time which it has been together.

S.S.C. basketball is under the direction of Coach Deane Deshon. While Salisbury has never had a really outstanding basketball team, last year's team was one of the best quintets to ever take the floor. The '68-'69 team carried a number of outstanding freshmen on its roster. Since the majority of the team will be returning this year, it is expected to be the best year of college basketball ever experienced at S.S.C.

Spring brings the opening of the baseball, track & field, and tennis season. The baseball team is coached by Mr. Deshon, and plays a varied schedule, meeting teams from as far away as New York and the New England States. Last year's team was strong and, with many returning lettermen, should be as good or better this year.

The track & field team was coached by Coach "Goldy" Tyler, on leave of absence for 1969-'70. Last year the fledgling track team gained the respect of everyone by defeating several established teams and making an excellent showing in a number of meets. Most of the team will be returning this year.

Last year was the first year for the tennis team, coached by Mr. Maggs. While little was known about the tennis team around S.S.C., the spirit was high on the team and more should be heard from them this coming year.

This has been a very brief, perhaps even incomplete, look at Salisbury State sports. However, as each season draws near, I will have a look at the previous season as well as the impending schedule.

If anyone is interested in writing some articles on men's sports, please contact the Holly Leaf staff. We need all the help we can get.

WAA Announcements

by Valerie Webster

WAA Meeting

September 3 is the date set for the first meeting of the Women's Athletic Association. This meeting is to be a planning session for the organization's annual fall retreat. The retreat this year is scheduled to be at the Wye Institute on September 5 - 7.

The purpose of the fall retreat is to plan for the coming year. Projects, rule changes, and selection of WAA board members are several of the many topics that will be covered.

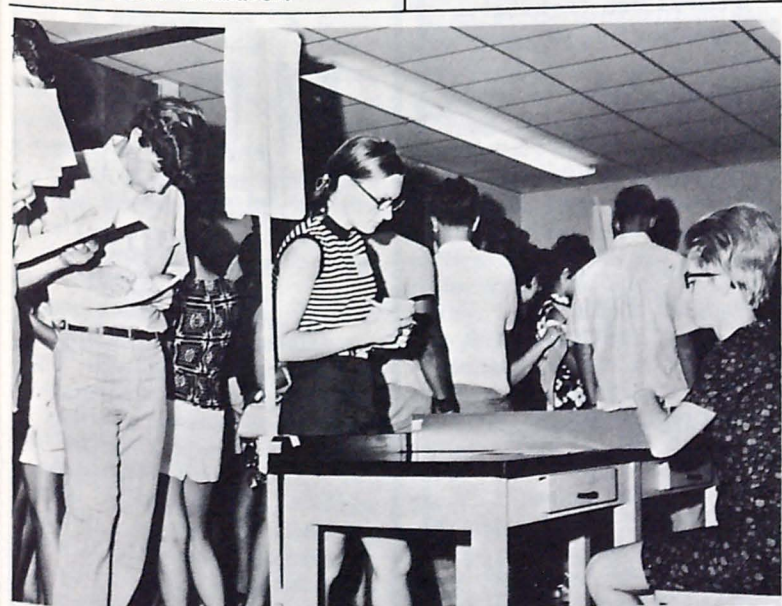

The new executive board elected last spring will be presiding over these planning sessions. The new president of Salisbury's WAA is Debbie Murray, a junior. Backing Debbie as vice-president is Sue Robble, also a junior. Secretary this year will be junior Regina Wolfgang and senior Margaret Bush will be the new treasurer.

Modern Dance

The Modern Dance Club will begin a membership drive early this year. The club, which has grown considerably since its initiation, hopes to gain a greater enrollment so that it may increase its participation in campus activities.

The club is headed at this time by Valerie Webster, senior director; Dottie Smith, junior director; and Jeanne Stewart, WAA representative. The co-sponsors of the Modern Dancers are Miss Delores Miller and Miss Mariuna Morrison.

Anyone interested in the club is encouraged to see a member about joining. Of course, this does not exclude the male segment of the campus; they would be a welcome addition to the club!

Expanded Summer Orientation Held

The class of 1973 has been met with a new Orientation program this year, one that is more informative and entertaining. During July 20 - 21 and 27 - 28, the Freshmen class, divided into two groups of about 150, spent a night in the residence halls.

On the two Sundays the students arrived and registered for four hours. They were treated to a tour of the campus led by upperclassmen and patterned after the SSC Day tours. In the Lecture Room of Devilbliss Science Hall the students met Dr. Walter D. Smith, President of the College; Dr. John Baker, Dean of the College; Mr. Orem E. Robinson, Jr., Dean of Students; and the assisting deans Miss Audrey Stewart and Mr. Richard N. Yobst. Also present were the presidents of the SGA, Joe Decerbo, and the WAA, Debbie Murray. Entertainment that evening was a Sing-In in Nanticoke Hall conducted by Junior Doris Holmead, a campus-known folk singer. Monday morning the students took part of their Freshmen Tests.

Upperclassmen who assisted were sophomores Rick Falck, Mona Hayden, Lynn Highfill, Peggy Hoyle, Sandra Pank and Woody Rush; juniors Ed Baker, Steve Baker, Bill Owens and Mary Sparks; and senior Tom Smith.

Compared to past Orientation programs, the new summer program allows the Freshmen to become acquainted with the campus grounds, administration and procedures before the onrush of upperclassmen arrive. Freshmen Tests, divided and taken in July and September, are not as tiresome as they are when taken during one entire day. The assistance of local and summer school students alleviates the problem of some counselors having to travel from the Western Shore for a whole week. And one of the best experiences for the incoming Freshmen is to try-out dormitory life for two days.

Deans Stewart & Yobst Welcome Students

Associate Dean of Students
Audrey Stewart

It is a real pleasure to welcome you to Salisbury State College. You will find that SSC, like any college, is made up of people and it is important to realize that we are all people interested in helping you to achieve the goals of intellectual maturity, to discover new ideas, and to meet new people.

We certainly hope that you are looking forward to a new environment that is challenging, sometimes difficult, but always exciting. We can offer you an environment in which you can grow, realizing that it is at your own rate that you will take advantage of this opportunity. I am especially looking forward to meeting you.

"WE-CARE" Tours Campus

About 270 WE-CARE teenagers visited the campus July 25. Sampling college life, the local high-school students observed a summer school history class taught by Dr. Winifred G. Helmes and an education class taught by Mr. Russell I. Smith. The remainder of the day consisted of lunch in the dining hall, a meeting with Dr. John Baker, Dean of the College, and Miss Audrey Stewart, Associate Dean of Students and a tour of the campus.

WE-CARE is a student employment and enrichment program supported by federal funds.

Chorus Prepares For New Year

Senior Shirley Gross was elected president of the College Chorus last May. Other officers are vice-president Susan Hayes, a sophomore; secretary-treasurer Nancy White, a sophomore; and librarians Barbara Cecil and Meryl Covey, both seniors.

Under the direction of Dr. Jesse Fleming and Mr. Ray Zeigler, the Chorus entertained Women's Club, Lions, and Rotary programs, performed Christmas and Spring Concerts, and appeared at Bacculareate and The Community Christmas Sing at the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center last year.

The Chorus invites any male or female voice to join their practice sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11:00. One half credit may be earned by registering for Chorus as a class. No experience is necessary. If schedules conflict with the practice times, contact either Dr. J. Fleming or Mr. Zeigler in the Music Arts Center facing Route 13.

Sophanes Stage
Summer Play

"The Lesson", a one-act play by Eugene Ionesco, was presented to the public by a group of summer-time college Players, July 13. Cast members included The Pupil, played by Sharon Leonard, a 1969 SSC graduate; The Teacher, enacted by Ike Feather; and The Maid, portrayed by Candy Motley. Helen Collins, a 1969 SSC graduate, directed the play and designed the set and symbolic make-up. "The Lesson", an example from the theater of the absurd, concerns the power of language abused in molding men's minds.

SUMMER CAMP

Afternoon sessions included tennis, swimming, softball, fencing, table tennis, soccer and square dance activities under the direction of Mr. Benn Maggs and Miss Mariuna Morrison. The student field trips took the 100 boys and girls to the Black Water Game Reserve, Ocean City, Assateague Island, Fort Delaware, Shad Landing and Wallops Island. Free time entertainment included a local teenage dance band, movies, picnics, concerts, poetry readings and a performance by the College Players.

Tuition for the four-week camp was $250. Students who applied for the camp were selected on their ability to comprehend advanced subjects.

College camp counsellors for the month were Margaret Bush, Pat Conway, Becky Golt and Paul Parks, all seniors.

Night Supervisor
Assumes Duties

Mrs. Dan Culver of Delmar has filled the position of Night Residence Supervisor since late June. On duty from 11:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m. in the General Office of Holloway Hall, Mrs. Culver will handle all emergencies and problems. Summer school housing and five filled residence halls during the Fall semester have caused a need for a more centralized method of security.

$7,000 Granted
For Program

A gift of $7,000 has been presented to Salisbury State College by the Dresser Foundation to finance a visiting professor program and to help support continuing education services offered by the college.

The grant was based on a proposal submitted by Mr. A.L. Fleming, economics professor, and Dr. Walter D. Smith, President of the College.

As a result of the grant, academic departments with developing programs will be able to invite a professor to the college for one to five days to derive consultive services and special lectures.

Concert Series
Initiated

The Student Life Committee sent questionnaires last spring concerning the possibilities of a Concert Series at SSC and the prices students were willing to pay. Because of the unanimous response of the students who returned the questionnaires, the SLC will present a Concert Series for the current year.

This year's Series will be composed of three concerts - October 3, 1969 with the group ORPHEUS, February 15, 1970 with the folk favorite TOM PAXTON, and a tentative engagement of the old soul group, THE DRIFTERS.

Two types of tickets will be on sale. During the first two weeks of school, only seasonal tickets will be on sale for the entire series at a cost of $10.00 per person. This is a cost of $3.33 per concert, comparing favorably with the price of tickets at a public concert. Tickets will also be on sale a week before and at the door of each concert for the price of $4.00 per person. As one can see, a savings can be made by subscribing to a seasonal ticket.

It is hoped by the SLC that this Series will be a success. The continuation of this project depends solely on this year's response to the concerts.

to the students have had their offices relocated. Mrs. Francis Fleming, who is advisor to both The Holly Leaf and the Cultural Affairs Committee, will occupy a room adjacent to the former library of Caruthers. Dr. Harry Hall has moved the Education Department office to the east wing of Holloway Hall. The offices of the Dean of the College have been established in Caruthers Hall, where the five members of the Business office also expect to move.

Physical changes on the campus also include plans to improve the rear court of Holloway Hall, construction of a 300-car capacity parking lot in the former playground of Caruthers, and air-conditioning in the Memorial Student Union Building. The Department of Public Improvements is considering such capital improvements as extension of Blackwell Library, a swimming pool, and a new gymnasium.

Sandwiched among these seminars, workshops, faculty changes, and exchange of office space, there was of course a summer school - all of which must make some SSC people glad that the "slow, peaceful summer" has come to an end.
