Fifty-One Children Given Free Examinations in Four Days.

RED CROSS NURSE ASSISTS IN WORK

People Able To Provide Own Transportation Depend On Her To Carry Their Children Free, For Free Treatment. Clinic Is Intended For Those Unable To Pay.

During days that the city's dental clinic has been in session, 51 of the school children of the county have visited Dr. Charles Smith, in charge of the work, and have had their teeth examined. Of the 51 examined, many have had work done at the expense of the clinic.

The clinic opened on Thursday, July 8. On that day, Miss Margaret Laws, Red Cross nurse for Wicomico county, took her automobile into the service and hauled 30 children to the office of Dr. Smith. The 30 were examined and the teeth of three were treated; and the entire 30 returned to their homes in Miss Laws' car. On July 15, the second day of the clinic, Miss Laws again, with her car, conveyed 16 children to Dr. Smith, and the teeth of six of these were given free treatment. Miss Laws again hauled these children to their homes.

By July 22, the third day of the clinic, people seemed to have acquired the habit of expecting Miss Laws to act as a public chauffeur, with services free, in the matter of taking their children to the free dental clinic. Twenty made application for her services free and those of the free clinic. An examination of the list showed that all but five of the applicants were well able to provide their own transportation to and from the clinic and to pay for any dental work they might require. As the result, all but five of the 20 were eliminated and of the five, only two reported to Dr. Smith for examinations.

On July 29, the clinic's fourth day, Miss Laws again failed to use her time, her car and her energies for the free transportation of the children to the free clinic and only three appeared there for examinations.

According to reports received, there seems to have developed among many parents of school children in this county, a desire to take advantage of the free services of the clinic, whether or not they are able to pay for such services. The people also seem to have come to depend upon Miss Laws to act as a dispenser of free taxi service in the clinic work, and in many cases, it is said, the parents who expect this free service are perfectly able to, themselves, convey their children to and from the dentist's office.

Because of the apparent desire of the people to take unfair advantage of a service which is intended to be free, and generously given to those who are unable to pay, all applicants for the services of the clinic hereafter, will be referred to the clinic's advisory board for investigation. This board consists of Walter B. Miller, William M. Cooper and Miss Margaret Laws.

The clinic will be in session for the benefit of the school children of the county, each Thursday in August from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Children appearing there on these days will be given the personal and careful attention of Dr. Smith, but Miss Laws will not be called upon to act as a chauffeur and guardian for the children in the future.

The services of the clinic are free to deserving people. The examinations made by Dr. Smith are free to all the children of the county, but free work by the dentist is intended only for those who are unable to pay for those services. There will be a very strict adherence to this ruling in the future.

NEW ICE CONCERN TO BE ORGANIZED

Daily Capacity of 30 Tons and Storage Accommodation For 2,800 Tons of Ice, Is Planned.

Salisbury is to have a new ice manufacturing concern within the next few months.

This concern will probably be known as the W. F. Messick Ice Co. Its capitalization will be $100,000, of which $50,000 is to be issued. W. F. Messick will probably be the general manager and treasurer of the new company. He is said to be one of its heaviest individual stockholders. The complete organization of the company will be effected tonight. The directorate will consist of seven of Salisbury's business and professional men.

The concern is said to have purchased from Huston Bros. Co., lumber dealers, a lot in South Salisbury for which it is said to have paid $7,000. On this lot it will erect its ice manufacturing and storage plants.

It is said that the capacity of the manufacturing plant will be 30 tons of ice daily and that the storage plants will be designed to accommodate 2,800 tons. The manufacturing plant will have a ground area of 2,000 sq. ft., it will be of steel and galvanized iron construction. The two storage plants, of wood construction, will have a total ground area of 3,600 sq. ft. It is expected that the new buildings will be completed, machinery installed, and the plant in operation by January 1. Hastings & Parsons will have charge of the construction work.

The new concern intends to operate a city and rural delivery system and to supply ice to both large and small consumers.

The building formerly used by Huston Bros. Co. as an office will be renovated and used for office purposes by the ice concern. The two railroad sidings on the property formerly used by Huston Bros. Co. in their lumber business will be made use of by the new concern.

POST OFFICE TO ENLARGE QUARTERS

Will Occupy Portion of Basement in Masonic Temple. Improvements There Are Now Being Made.

The trustees of the Salisbury Masonic temple are having extensive improvements made to the part of that building which is occupied as the local postoffice. These improvements were started several days ago and will probably be completed within ten days.

They consist of a partition being placed in the cellar, dividing it into two parts, the larger portion of which will be used by the postoffice. A stairway is being constructed in the rear of the postoffice quarters to connect the first floor with the part of the basement to be occupied by the postoffice and shelves, desks and other equipment will be placed there in due time.

The basement quarters will be used principally for storage purposes for materials, dead letter office, surplus mail and to accommodate rural mail carriers. The extent to which the postoffice will use the basement has not yet been determined.

RESIGNS POSITION. WILL RAISE CHICKENS

W. Raymond Ruark, for the last seven years general superintendent of the Citizens Gas company of this city, has tendered his resignation to that company and ceased his connection with it on Saturday. Mr. Ruark expects to devote his time to the large chicken farm which he has at his home on New York avenue.

Thieves Take Jewels Worth $5,000 From Safe Of Dentist

Dr. J. W. Purnell Discovers Loss of Jewelry and Money on Sunday Morning. Crime Committed While Family is Away and Only the Dentist Is At Home, Sick. Police Have No Clues To Work on, Monday.

BIG DIAMOND STUD IN THE LOT.

The biggest jewel robbery which has occurred in Salisbury in many years, was perpetrated at the dental office of Dr. J. W. Purnell, next to the Bell building on Main street, when diamonds and jewelry valued at from $4,000 to $5,000 were mysteriously removed from the safe in the dentist's office. With the jewelry there was also taken a sum of money, but Dr. Purnell is unable to give the exact amount.

The theft was discovered on Sunday morning and was immediately reported to the police. It was said at police headquarters on Monday afternoon that no clues to the identity of the thief had presented themselves.

On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Purnell and her two daughters left the city for a visit. Before they left the safe was examined and its contents found to be intact. Dr. Purnell says that the safe proper was never locked, but the compartment in which the jewelry was kept was always locked and the only key to it was carried all ways on his person.

The day after Mrs. Purnell and her daughters had left the city Dr. Purnell went to the safe and found the money which had previously been kept there, gone. He thought nothing of this, because he supposed his wife had taken the money with her. He did not look in the jewel compartment.

On Friday, the dentist says, he found the safe locked, and though it was contrary to custom for it to be locked, when he opened it, he did not bother to look in the jewel compartment.

On Sunday, preparing to attend church, Dr. Purnell went to the safe to get some jewelry to wear.

He found that the jewelry compartment had been rifled and all of its contents removed. He immediately notified the police of his loss. The following are the stolen articles of jewelry reported by Dr. Purnell:

Solid gold Swiss watch, with initials J. W. P. on one side and the picture of Mrs. Purnell burned in the crystal; solid gold double chain with locket, the latter having a lion's head and diamond on one side and the initials J. W. P. on the other; California pearl stick pin surrounded by nine small diamonds; diamond shirt stud, 1 1/4 karats; diamond tear drop stick pin, two diamonds; several unset opals and an unknown sum of money.

The Purnell family lives on the second floor of the three story brick building next to the Western Union office on Main street. The safe was kept in the dentist's office. The family lives back of the office.

Dr. Purnell, according to his story, was ill while his family was absent from the city and he left the apartment but once or twice during that time. The key to the jewel compartment was always on his person and he still has it in his possession. While it is the only key to the compartment known to exist, the compartment was opened, apparently with a key, since the lock shows no sign of having been forced.

A colored woman employed by the Purnell family denies all knowledge of the theft. Dr. Purnell says he is a very light sleeper and he thinks he would have heard anyone who might have attempted to rob the safe while he was asleep.

The whole thing appears to be a mystery. The dentist is sure that the robbery was committed by some person very familiar with the safe, its locks, its contents and the habits of himself and his family.

Police headquarters on Monday afternoon said nothing had been done regarding the robbery.

FIVE RECRUITS IN A FEW DAYS

Five accepted recruits and two rejected because of physical disabilities is the record of the local naval recruiting station with offices in the Building & Loan building. The recruits were signed up since July 24, one on that day, another on the 26th, another on the 31st and two on August 2. Clarence Cohee, Harvey Poore, Albert Sharrett, V. V. Baker and C. Lee Hudson are the names of the recruits and they come from all parts of the Eastern Shore.

If you want a place to rest while you are waiting to go home, come to the Red Cross rest room and nursery. It is cool, comfortable and inviting and all visitors are welcome.

COUNCIL GRANTS BUILDING PERMITS

The City Council meeting on Monday night resulted in two building permits being issued and that constitutes the business transacted. The permits granted were to: L. T. Shockley for the addition of a kitchen to dwelling on north side of William street; L. O. O. F. band for band stand and small building in Central park. The application of W. D. Winston (colored) to erect a pavilion on the west side of Delmar street was laid over until the next meeting of the council. The application of Alexander Wingate to build a workshop on the north side of Isabella street, near Byrd's Switch, was temporarily held up and Councilman Hitch was instructed to investigate.

Mayor Kennerly Speaks

The mayor of Salisbury extends a most hearty welcome to all visitors of our city during Fair week. It is the purpose of the mayor to do his best in making this particular time one to be given for merriment and pleasure.

Salisbury has always been noted for its genial hospitality to help entertain its visitors. I will ask the hearty co-operation of all citizens to assist me in every way to make Fair week an unprecedented one, by exerting every conceivable effort to give to our visitors during their stay a joyous welcome. I ask this as a special favor, so that the good name of our city be maintained.

It is my purpose to have extra officers, deputies to keep down disorders such as drunkenness, unnecessary gathering of men that at times make unpleasant remarks about ladies when passing. I propose to see that both of these unnecessary evils are discontinued as much as possible.

I will ask that our merchants on Main street decorate their buildings with flags and bunting at that time that we may give an impression that is most noteworthy.

Commencing on Tuesday of Fair week, West Main street will be a one way thoroughfare to Fair grounds. Those returning will do so by Fitzwater to Main or by way of Isabella street. I believe this will help materially in relieving congestion of traffic as well as relieving accidents. It has been predicted that Salisbury expects to have a larger amount of visitors this year than ever before.

Our street commissioner, Mr. Sirman, has greatly improved Fitzwater street and also the streets in front of the Fair grounds which will enable all vehicles to pass over without trouble. I must congratulate Mr. Sirman on this work as it is most creditable.

Thanking in advance the good people of our community for assisting me in making Salisbury Fair of 1926 the best ever, I am respectfully,

Your Public Servant,
W. ARTHUR KENNERLY, Mayor.

BIG GAME PROMISED FOR SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The Salisbury baseball team will travel to White Haven on Saturday and at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon play the Dry Docks of that place. The Dry Docks say they have strengthened each one of the weak spots in their team and promise to give the Salisbury Cubs the game of their lives; in fact they insist that if Salisbury is in good form, the game will be the fastest ever played on the Eastern Shore. Each and every one of the Salisbury fans is urged to attend the game and by their presence to encourage the local players.

INSTANTLY KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Mrs. W. B. Spiva, of Princess Anne, is Dead. Her Husband is Fatally Hurt on Monday.

William B. Spiva, cashier of the Bank of Somerset in Princess Anne, and president of the bank of Deals Island is so seriously injured that he cannot recover and Mrs. Spiva is dead. Mr. Spiva is a patient at the Eastern hospital.

Mr. Spiva and his wife were driving their Cadillac touring car from Princess Anne to Atlantic City on Monday, where they were to spend their vacation. At Wye Mills, six miles from Eastern, a Ford touring car carrying five passengers, approached the Spiva car and from a cross road, the Ford, which was being driven at a furious rate, struck the Cadillac a full broadside and the bigger car turned turtle.

Mrs. Spiva was instantly killed. Mr. Spiva was unconscious when released from beneath his wrecked machine and had not recovered consciousness on Tuesday morning. He was taken to the Eastern hospital where it was said late on Monday night that he will not recover. He sustained a fractured skull, a fractured collar bone and internal injuries.

Mr. Spiva has been the cashier of the Bank of Somerset in Princess Anne for the last 25 years. He was one of the founders of the Deals Island bank and has been its president for a decade.

Mrs. Spiva was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon, of Princess Anne. She and her husband have their residence in that place.

Word of the accident reached Princess Anne and Salisbury on Monday afternoon at about 6 o'clock, about two hours after the tragedy.

It is said that the Spiva car is a wreck, but that the Ford car which struck the Cadillac was practically undamaged while its five occupants escaped with but slight cuts and bruises. The identity of the Ford car party has not been ascertained.

BIG NEW GARAGE NOW PROMISED

Weldon Fooks, Late Owner of The Shoreman, Will Build on E. Church and Broad Streets.

According to latest reports, Salisbury is to have another mammoth garage next spring. Weldon Fooks, late owner of the Shoreman garage, will be its proprietor.

The garage will be constructed on East Church street and will have an entrance on Broad street opposite Cantwell's store, about two blocks from Division street. It is understood that the floor space of the new garage will be as large as that of any similar building in this city.

Mr. Fooks has the agency for the Hudson and Essex cars and his new automobile home will be their headquarters for the lower Eastern Shore.

At present Mr. Fooks is doing business at the place formerly occupied by the Gates Half Sole Tire Co., on South Division street, and will make his headquarters there until his new building is completed.

"CUKES" RUN SLOW AS SEASON AGES

The cucumber season for this county is about over. After five weeks of the busiest season for several years, the farmers are bringing in their last loads to the auction block and prices are again climbing because of the late season scarcity of the staple. From 45c to 50c is now the lowest price paid for cukes and 70c or 75c is the top of the market. The stock continues to be good. Two thousand hampers is the average number that pass through the block daily.

Local Boy Is Drowned On Saturday

George William Reddish Drowns While Swimming in Annapolis Harbor.

WAS STUDENT AT PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Supposed To Have Been Stricken With Cramp. Companion Made Attempt At Rescue and Was Nearly Drowned Too. Life Extinct When Body Was Finally Located. Burial Here Tuesday.

George William Reddish, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Reddish, of Salisbury, a graduate of Wicomico High school, class of 1919, was drowned on Saturday afternoon at about 3 o'clock in Annapolis harbor while bathing with three other boys. Each of the boys was a student at the Wertz Naval Preparatory school in Annapolis. The body was brought to Salisbury and funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon at the Reddish home, four miles south of this city. Elder J. C. Mellott, of the Old Side Baptist church, conducted the services. Burial was made in the family burying ground.

According to the story of the tragedy told here, Reddish and his three fellow students went into the water after having eaten a hearty dinner. Two of the lads were good swimmers and swam out some distance into deep water, Reddish and the other boy remaining near shore.

A small boy with a rowboat passed nearby where Reddish and his companion were swimming in the shallow water and the two lads boarded the boat and rowed into deep water, some distance from where the other two lads were swimming.

Reddish, although not a good swimmer thought that by remaining near the boat he would be safe. He dived into the water. His companion remained in the boat. Reddish sank beneath the surface; and when he appeared he was lying prone on the water face downward in a cramped position paddling feebly. His companion, whose name is unknown, went into the water to the rescue. When he reached the drowning boy, Reddish grabbed his throat with a death grasp. Both lads immediately sank.

Breaking Reddish's hold on him, the lad swam frantically for the boat, boarding it. For some unknown reason, probably because of fright, he paddled to shore instead of remaining to still further help Reddish. The two other lads were too far away to render assistance. Reaching the shore the boy telephoned to the Naval Academy and help was immediately sent.

It took the rescuing party nearly an hour to find the body of the drowned boy which, because of the swift current had been carried some distance away from the spot where the drowning took place. The body was finally located floating under water and life was extinct. It is believed that Reddish was stricken with cramp the instant that he dived into deep water.

Reddish was probably the most popular boy in Wicomico county. The beautiful floral tributes sent him from High school students, class of 1919, class of 1920, boy and girl friends, were silent witnesses of his high standing in the community.

He expected to enter the Naval Academy in September and was taking a short preparatory course in Annapolis.

Reddish was the best all-around athlete the Wicomico High school has produced in recent years and was conceded to be the best soccer player in the state.

His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reddish, three sisters, Miss May Reddish, Mrs. Horace Mitchell and Miss Louise Reddish, and two brothers, John and Alfred, survive him.

VACATION SCHOOL CLOSES ITS SEASONS

Six Weeks Summer Course for Kiddies Closes on Saturday. After Successful Season.

One hundred and fifty-six pieces of work is the result of the Daily Vacation Bible school conducted by Rev. H. L. Parkinson at the Division Street Baptist church. The school was conducted for six weeks and was closed on Friday. Forty children were members of the school of which 25 were Baptists, 10 Methodists and five Methodist Protestants. There were 28 girls belong to the school and 14 boys.

The curriculum of the school was exceptionally varied, over 17 pieces of work being finished by the older pupils while 30 articles were made by the members of the Kindergarten department. This was accomplished in the industrial classes while 14 memory Bible verses were learned by each of the pupils, and three hymns.

The daily program of the school consisted of singing, exercises, Bible stories, memory verses, games, industrial work, salute to flag, America, and children's benediction.

The character of the industrial work covered dollies, embroidered cards, picture frames, colored baskets, and fancy boxes for the girls, while wood working by the boys consisted of baskets, wooden horses, cows, match scratchers, bears, book racks, large boxes, elephants and other articles. The kindergarten work was also very successful, the little tots completing over 30 articles for their own use.

The principal, Rev. H. L. Parkinson, and the assistant principal, Miss Margaret Dove, are very enthusiastic over the success of the Bible school and expect to conduct another next summer.

This is the first attempt that Salisbury has ever made to have such a school and those behind the movement deserve credit for making this city that much more up-to-date. Bible vacation schools are conducted in all the large cities and have very beneficial effect on the average child of school age.

Correction.

An error occurred in THE NEWS last week when it stated that Victor Doodly had returned to Salisbury to spend the summer. The name should have been G. Victor Taylor.

When you come to town on Saturday leave your children at the Red Cross rest room and nursery with Miss Laws, the public health nurse. She will take good care of them and you can shop in peace.

After a hearty meal, take Doan's Reguloids and assist your stomach, liver and bowels. Reguloids are a mild laxative. 30c at all stores. Adv.

CANTALOUPE BRING GRATIFYING PRICES

Ripe Fruit Finds Ready Sale—Green "Loupes" Do Not Bring Such Good Money At Auction Block.

Wicomico county's cantaloupe crop of this season has begun to move. Steadily, day by day, since Thursday when the first "loupes" were bought at the auction block, the sales have been increasing and the prices have remained good. The increase in sales and shipments is shown by the fact that on Thursday 150 carriers were bought at the block and on Monday the sales up to 2 o'clock, were 3,500.

The advantage to the grower of picking and shipping ripe cantaloupes instead of under ripe fruit, can be seen in the following figures which represent the prices at which the different grades of fruit have sold.

Thursday—150 crates; ripe, $3.35 to $4.25; green $1.80 to $2.10.

Friday—200 crates; ripe, $3.10 to $3.95; green, $2.10 to $2.40.

Saturday—500 crates; ripe, $3.25 to $3.90; green, $2.00 to $2.50.

Monday—3,500 crates; ripe, $3.70 to $5.45; green, $2.50 to $2.75.

Monday's prices for ripe fruit were the highest point touched in the four days' transactions. It is the belief of many growers that prices for prime, ripe fruit will be even higher before the end of the week. Under ripe fruit is not meeting with a ready sale and the prices paid for this inferior grade are far below those which the ripened fruit is bringing.

The cantaloupe season is this county has just begun. Within another ten days it will not be surprising if the sales here are ten times those of the highest day of the season to date.

LOCAL RECRUITING STATION TO CLOSE

Sergeant Jones To Close Activities Here on August 25. City Gives Nation 20 Recruits.

The Salisbury branch of the Baltimore Recruiting district will close on Saturday, August 25.

This is the information received here on Thursday by Sergeant Jones who is in charge of the local station.

The station has been open here since October 15 and during that time 20 recruits have been signed up by Sergeant Jones and his assistants.

Salisbury has had for sometime the only recruiting station for the army on the Shore and after the 25th of this month all men desiring to join the army must either go to Baltimore or Wilmington to enlist.

Sergeant Jones has always had one assistant in Salisbury and during the special drive made in January and February there were five men here to assist in the recruiting work.

Upon leaving here, Sergeant Jones will take a month's furlough and then be assigned to the Hagerstown Recruiting station. He calls all ex-servicemen's attention to the fact that the Victory medals are ready for distribution.

A final drive for men to serve in France and Germany with the Army of Occupation is being made and for July 14,000 men in the United States have already enlisted. Enlistment can be made in this city.

On a recent trip to New York we found several manufacturers who were very anxious to unload their remaining stocks of these Summer Dresses and we bought them at an unusually low price. We are going to put them out on sale commencing Saturday morning, August 7th, at the unusual price of $7.50. These dresses were made to sell for $12.50, $15.00 and $18.00.

We figure this a wonderful opportunity for our patrons to replenish their Summer Wardrobe at a very low cost.

We also made another unusual purchase of Sample Georgette Blouses which we will put on sale at the same time at $1.95.

We can conscientiously say that this is the best value of Georgette Blouses which we have been able to offer for many a day. There is not one in the lot that was made to sell for less than $7.50.

Always at Your Service

When Physician meant "Physic Dispenser"

In Shakespeare's time if you were sick and went to a doctor, he did one of two things. He either drew blood from your veins or "physicked" you.

Physicians no longer practice bleeding. And the leaders of the profession are equally opposed to the indiscriminate use of laxatives and cathartic drugs. In fact, the habitual use of laxatives is now known to be one of the most fruitful causes of constipation.

Physicians of the highest standing prescribe Nujol because it relieves constipation without any bad after-effects and without forming a habit.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel movements at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

GET THE HIGH DOLLAR.

The following taken from a California newspaper, should prove of real interest to the farmers of this county each one of whom is anxious to receive the highest possible dollar for his farm products and at the same time perpetuate the demand from the city markets for his several crops.

The tricks of the packing trade—every citizen of these United States who has had any experience with the purchase of apples or strawberries, the former by the barrel and the latter by the crate, is familiar with the camouflage by which the good fruit covers the mediocre. Often the only good fruit is to be found at the top while that underneath is spoiled and worthless.

By means of the trick known as "stovepipe" loading, it is possible to fill the center of a barrel with any kind of culls or near rubbish, while excellent fruit is packed at the sides and on top, where a curious buyer was likely to make an inspection. The principle of "let the buyer beware" formerly was constantly brought forward to justify this shady practice.

However, under modern conditions, with the increasing demand for reliable goods, the large rewards of trade proved more likely to go to the honest packer than to the trickster. The California orange growers were first to discover the advantage of honesty in packing on a wholesale scale. They made it impossible for an orange grower individually to pack his oranges for fear he would let individual interest outrun the general good of the growers. So they hired experts to do the packing, accountable to the association as a whole.

To control packing plants the growers hauled their unsorted oranges and accepted the verdict of the experts as to classification and market fitness. Thus disappeared from the market the sweated orange which had been artificially ripened before its time, and the sour, unripe orange from the center of the box, covered by the good fruit at the top.

Other districts with less courage in packing practices gradually lost the market as purchasers practiced the principle of "let the buyer beware," by going to dealers they could rely on. What California did with oranges, Oregon has done with apples.

Now comes California with the marvel of the 1920 egg market. This marvel is that with the longest freight haul, California eggs command the highest prices and are the most eagerly sought. The reason is that discriminating buyers have found every egg reliable. Other sections have packed a percentage of "ripe ones" in working off spoiled goods.

By thus capturing a distant market, California has put the East, the South and the Middle West on their guard, for an abundance of supply will soon find sellers fighting for a market instead of pushing buyers aside as now.

California has shown to the other states that honesty is the best policy, whether it be in the packing or any other industry.

It is a fact that the poor grading of potatoes, apples, berries, sweet potatoes, cucumbers, cantaloupes or any other crop shipped to the city markets will very quickly lower the price of all of the similar commodities shipped to those markets. Dealers who once buy a poorly assorted lot of a certain produce will be apt to remember from what section of the country that poor shipment came and be wary of stuff shipped to him from that point, ever afterward.

California, according to the newspaper quoted above, seems to have overcome all possibility of shipping poorly graded lots of oranges, one of its chief fruit crops.

It appears that what California has done with oranges, Maryland or any one of its counties could do with its shipments to city markets, and it is just possible that in time to come, some similar steps will be taken by which Wicomico county growers will be assured of getting the highest possible dollar for their fruits and vegetables and all danger of damaging the good name of Wicomico county trucks and fruits may be eliminated.

There is not a farmer in Maryland who will admit that his home state is less advanced than California, and it will be difficult to find a Maryland farmer who will not admit that California has a wonderful system by which it grades and ships and holds the markets of the world for its agricultural crops—yet it is a fact that Maryland has not adopted the California system up to this date.

A discussion of the practicability of applying the California grading, packing and shipping system to home grown crops might result in benefit to this entire section.

BATTER UP!

Salisbury is alive these days with baseball interest. This is as it should be.

The town or city in the good old U. S. A. which has no baseball team and which is not interested in baseball, is no town at all. It isn't even truly American, for baseball is our great national game.

Salisbury is evincing an interest in the game which is almost without parallel in the city's history. This was truly manifested here on Friday when 1,500 or more fans witnessed the game between the local team and the White Haven players—and they saw Salisbury win in a well played contest.

Nor is Salisbury the only Eastern Shore community which is interested in the national game this year. There are 16 towns on the Eastern Shore of Delaware and Maryland which have good baseball teams. These are Seaford, Laurel, Delmar, Salisbury, Ocean City, Berlin, Newark, Cambridge, White Haven, Harlock, Mardela, Fruitland, Chestertown, Centerville, Mardela, Fruitland, Chestertown, Centerville, Easton and Pocomoke—the latter place is just organizing a team.

With 16 baseball teams on the Eastern Shore, there appears to be no reason why there should not be organized an Eastern Shore league. In fact there is material for two leagues and if two were organized, the winning team of each could play a series of games for the Eastern Shore pennant each season.

A good baseball team is a wonderful advertisement for any community. A team which plays good, clean ball is talked about a section of the country which has a number of teams organized to play competitive games causes good natured and sportsmanlike rivalry between the communities represented by the teams and such rivalry must of necessity cause each community to endeavor to be better, in every way than its neighbor.

A baseball game brings many visitors to the place where the contest takes place. Visitors are always good for a community.

They spend money, and if they are pleased, they go away and by their talk, help to advertise that community.

Those men who have made a good baseball team possible for Salisbury this season have done a big thing for the city. They are deserving of thanks and credit.

Now it is to be hoped they will combine with the promoters of the sport in other Eastern Shore places and succeed in an effort to give the Shore at least one baseball league.

MILK BOTTLE SHORTAGE.

The container shortage which is making itself apparent in all parts of the country is being felt in Salisbury.

Particularly is this true of milk bottles and the local milk dealers are facing a serious problem unless relief is soon given.

In the meantime they ask their customers to be very careful not to break bottles and to be equally careful in having the bottles returned promptly.

The milk bottle shortage is said to be due to congested railroad conditions and to lack of production on the part of the bottle manufacturers. In addition to the shortage of bottles, those which can be bought, and these are only available in very small quantities, are sold to the dealers at prices which are almost prohibitive.

It is contrary to the health laws of the state for a milk dealer to deliver milk to a customer in an open or unsealed container—hence the use of the tin pail or the ordinary kitchen pitcher is prohibited.

There have been strikes in many of the glass bottle factories of the country. The men have refused to work unless paid wages well above the normal earnings of the bottle factory worker. The railroads, because of strikes, freight congestion and car shortage have been unable to provide the bottle factories with the sand and other commodities which are required by those factories, with the result that the factories are not producing and the railroads are unable to haul those few bottles which are produced.

The situation is not yet acute in this section, but it is fast approaching a crucial stage. In the larger cities of the country, many milk dealers have been forced to discontinue business because of bottle shortage and the health laws which prohibit the use of anything but a sealed glass receptacle.

If a serious situation is to be avoided in this city, the housewives will have to fully co-operate with the milk dealers in avoiding breakage of bottles and in seeing to it that bottles are not allowed to accumulate in their homes, but are returned promptly each day to the dealer.

If this is done, the present local supply of bottles can be kept in constant use until the nation-wide bottle shortage is relieved.

MAKE FOUNTAINS SAFE.

The attention of The News has been called to what some of Salisbury's people call the unsanitary condition of the public drinking fountains—the one located on Water near Division and the other, which can hardly be called a fountain, which is located on Main near Dock street.

The Water street fountain, quite an ornate affair, was the gift to the city of the W.C.T.U. Properly cared for, it would be a boon to many people, but uncared for as it is, it is not patronized by people who have any regard for the hygienic things of life.

The waste pipes are frequently clogged and the water allowed to flow over the street. The drinking troughs for horses and dogs carry an accumulation of rust, which while it may not injure the animals which drink at the fountain, gives the impression that the fountain is not appreciated by the city.

A drinking fountain is a wonderful benefit to the people of a community if it is properly kept—but when a fountain is not properly cared for, it becomes a menace to the health of the community and a public eye sore.

The "fountain" on Main near Dock street, is not a fountain at all, but a pipe which sticks above the sidewalk a couple of feet and from which there flows a constant stream of water. There is no provision made for carrying away the water and the gutter performs that function. In cold weather the water freezes and becomes a menace to traffic at that point. From the pipe through which the water gushes, is fastened by a chain, a tin cup from which the general and unwary public may drink. Disease germs may be placed in the cup by any unclean drinker, and the next drinker may have the pleasure of contracting the disease of his predecessor at the public drinking cup.

Some thoughtful person has placed a wooden water bucket under the "fountain's" stream to catch the flow of water. Since the fluid is constantly flowing, the bucket becomes filled and overflows its capacity many times each day. The condition of the street and sidewalk at that point is not at all pleasant at such times.

Doubtless the Water street and the Main street public drinking places are patronized by many people who do not think of the dangers they are braving. Doubtless the city officials have never given these public drinking places a thought. This must be the case or the conditions which exist would have been corrected.

It may now be reasoned that each of these places will be made clean and comfortable places at which to drink, that they will be made beauty spots instead of eye sores and that some steps will be taken to guard the health of the people who patronize them.

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR.

Of course it isn't a pleasant thing to return from the theater to your automobile, or from the house of a friend to your automobile and find attached to the machine, a tag placed there by a state traffic officer who desires your early appearance before a local magistrate who will probably fine you for some violation of the state's automobile laws.

No one can truthfully say that such an experience will cause his heart to leap for joy. On the other hand almost any one who has had the experience will say that it causes the pulse to slacken and the temper to rise—but almost any man will agree that the watchfulness of the state police, throughout the state, is necessary to the enforcement of the law which is designed to protect the lives, limbs and properties of Maryland's people.

And when you get right down to actual cases, there isn't often a real reason why the law should be violated in any particular.

Every man who owns a car or drives one is, or should be, fully familiar with the provisions of the law, and knowing those provisions should seek to comply with them. In most cases, violations of the law are not caused by any real attempt to violate the law, but through a careless attitude toward its provisions—and carelessness has caused many an accident, many a permanent injury and the loss of many a life.

It may be true that the state policemen make mistakes.

The are but human and all human beings make mistakes; but the man who is charged with the enforcement of the law has the right, as he has the right in every court, to be represented by counsel who will protect him against mistakes and miscarriages of justice, and the magistrate who hears his case is sworn to deal justly both with the accused and the accused. The courts are just. If the justice of the courts is to be denied, the entire fabric of our republic will be destroyed. This is true of the small town magistrate's court as it is of the United States Supreme court.

The law must be enforced. It was written and passed by the men whom the people nominated for legislative office and whom they, by their votes, sent to represent them in the legislature.

The men who wrote and passed the automobile laws were the representatives of the entire people of Maryland. It can safely be assumed, therefore, that when they enacted the present automobile laws, they did so as representing the people and the safety of their lives and properties.

It isn't much of a task to comply with the provisions of the automobile laws. A little care and watchfulness will do the trick and eliminate all possibility of the "road cop" requiring your presence in court.

It is true, that to be taken into court because of some technical violation of the law is not a pleasant sensation—but if technical violations are passed by without notice by the men sworn to notice them, how long will it be before those same men are allowing more serious violations to pass? And when this is done, driving without proper licenses and other major violations are the common thing? And when this has come to pass, whose life will be safe and whose limbs will be immune from injuries?

It's just as easy to comply with a law as it is to evade a law and oftentimes much easier—for the way of the transgressor is always hard.

TIMONIUM FAIR OPENS AUGUST 31

Directors Guarantee Public a Wonderful Agricultural Cattle and Poultry Exhibit. Entries Close Soon.

Timonium fair, which opens its historic gates August 31, for the 42nd time, is to be the biggest display of prize stock, farm and garden products, farm machinery and household and domestic products that Maryland has ever seen. This is guaranteed by the officers and directors who, in the last three years, have given the state its greatest fair.

There will be seven big departments this year, the total awards for the best entries in each of which aggregate $11,917.50, exclusive of many special awards by associations. The awards will be divided as follows:

Department A (cattle), $1,800; Department B (draft horses), $1,150.00; Dept. D (Swine), $2,033.50; Depts. E and G (farm, garden and dairy products), $612.50; Dept. H (household, art and flower show), $1,185; Dept. I (poultry), $550; Dept. J (horse show and farm teams) $925.

The greatest care has again been exercised in appointing judges nationally known for their ability and integrity. They are to be announced later.

Maryland mothers who wish to take their children to Timonium fair will find that the problem of caring for small children at fairs has been solved and that a nursery will be there where babies and kiddies may be safely left in the care of competent nurses and kindergarten teachers.

Granville H. Hibbert, J. Walton Bolger and F. Howard Price, widely known throughout Maryland as breeders of fine cattle, are the spirited leaders in that department. F. D. Hooper is superintendent of the horse show.

Frank A. Cook, of the department of farm machinery, is the only exhibitor who will be in charge of the display of farm and garden products.

Mrs. Carvill D. Benson will supervise the household department, assisted by Mrs. Albert S. Cook, Mrs. David McIntosh, Mrs. Henry West and Miss Katherine E. Braithwaite.

The Poultry department will get special attention this year and R. J. Wahlen and Frank G. Rieger will have charge of it.

Timonium fair is at Timonium, Md., on the York turnpike and the Northern Central railroad. Splendid automobile roads lead to the turnpike and crowds of automobilists are expected to make the trip from all parts of the state. Parking arrangements are ample for the fair district. Last year, several additional acres were used for parking automobiles.

COMRADES AS BOYS PARTNERS AS MEN

Taylor Brothers, of This City, Have a Remarkable Record As Brothers, As School and College Mates.

As little boys, they entered the primary grades of one of the local public schools; as lads, they were in the same classes of the grammar schools; as youths, they were graduated in the same class from the Wicomico High school. As young men they studied law together at the University of Virginia and later they were graduated in the same class from the University of Maryland.

All of this is true of two brothers, Seth P. and Rex A. Taylor, sons of J. Ike Taylor, who lives on the Anderson road, just outside of this city.

These two sons of Wicomico county, not alone, passed through primary, grammar, High school and college together, but they were admitted to the practice of law in this state by the Maryland State Bar association at the same time, on June 25. They will begin the practice of their profession about September 1, and are planning now to make their start in Salisbury as business partners.

They were graduated from Wicomico High school in 1914, took the preliminary course at University of Virginia in 1915, 1916 and 1917, and were graduated from the University of Maryland in 1918. They are now partners in the law firm of Taylor & Taylor, located in Salisbury.

WHAT BASEBALL MEANS TO SALISBURY. (By a Citizen.)

It is generally conceded that a good baseball team is recognized as being one of the best ways to advertise a town. During the baseball season thousands of visitors will come to Salisbury from all sections of the Eastern Shore, including Maryland, the lower part of Delaware, and Accomac and Northampton counties, Virginia. They don't only attend the baseball game, but they bring business to the city.

In addition to the amount of business brought to Salisbury on these various occasions, you ever stop to think that Salisbury, considering its geographical location, population and wealth, with the proper co-operation and support, could attract 10 Salisbury during the baseball season at least 10,000 visitors? Merely to bring out very clearly the fact that a good baseball team is to the interest of our town, we will assume that each visitor spends, while in Salisbury, $1.00, and this is putting it at a minimum sum.

In addition to this, each and every person who comes to Salisbury to attend the games will return to their respective localities and talk about the great baseball game seen in Salisbury, and every time the word "Salisbury" is spoken means big advertising for our city. The games are talked about in the stores, in the home and on the street, and everybody is speaking of Salisbury's great baseball club and beautiful athletic grounds.

Consequently, the people get to thinking about Salisbury. The next thing we know the ones that haven't been coming to Salisbury are on their way. So, the amount of money spent while in the town is only one of the minor considerations in comparison with the tremendous amount of benefit which the town derives from supporting a good baseball team, it opens up an immense field of possible service wherein cordiality and community spirit must flourish.

Every citizen of Salisbury wants to see the city grow and is willing at all times to make some sacrifice of his time, means and convenience to advance the common welfare.

SHOREMAN GARAGE HAS NEW OWNERS

J. Y. Gunby and H. C. Fooks Are Remodeling the Big Building for Ford Cars and Accessories.

The Shoreman garage, at the corner of South Division street and Circle avenue, is now the property of the Riverdale Motor Car Co., who look to it as one of their main points of business in Maryland. It was formerly owned by W. C. Fook.

BRIDGING A CHASM

By STANLEY WARNER

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

"Silas Manton has sent me word that he would like to have a talk with you about that wood lot you have squabbled about for the last five years."

Thus Alex Brown, local attorney, to his client, Hugh Briston. The latter, gruff, beard bristling, wrathful of voice and manner was not at all responsive to the suggestion.

"Does, eh?" he snorted. "Then he is either weakening on his grandstand or has something up his sleeve. In either case I won't run after him. Let him come to me if he has any proposition to make."

"Manton is quite as stubborn as yourself," explained the attorney. "Here you have litigated, never speaking to one another, since you had your first quarrel. You've got to give in some, Briston. It's for your own interests."

"I won't," asseverated his client stanchly. "I wouldn't step on his ground for a fortune. He has penned me in so I couldn't get out my chopping. He has spoiled two good sales."

"Well, Manton wants to tender a proposition to adjust matters amicably."

"Then he can come and see me. I won't go and see him, that is sure."

Lawyer Brown looked nonplused. His mission boded failure. He did not wish to lose a liberal fee, and besides that he wished to see two old-time cronies and later enemies get back to first principles like rational human beings.

Again, he had been approached only the day previous by the manly, stalwart son of Hugh Briston. The lawyer had always liked the bright cheery lad, Sidney, who had come to early manhood with everybody's friend and well wisher, and especially Eunice Manton.

"We'll take it for granted that we like one another, Mr. Brown," Sidney had said in his clear, open way, "and you may do me a great favor. I understand that there is some chance of father and Mr. Manton getting together on the subject of their lawsuits. It means a lot to me if they do, and to Eunice also," added Sidney, a slight flush coming to his cheeks.

"You needn't say anything, Sidney," replied Brown. "How you have kept your attentions to pretty Eunice from the knowledge of her father and your own I shall not inquire, but I shall now do double duty in trying to heal the breach between two fire eaters."

And now, recalling his promise to Sidney, the lawyer observed to the father: "Well, I suppose you won't object Manton half way?"

"What do you mean by 'half way,'" growled Briston suspiciously. "I wouldn't cross his threshold for a fortune, and I'm sure he hates every stick and stone about my place."

"Oh, well, I may be able to think out some method by which you two stubborn old men may meet, without either of you feeling that you have lowered your dignity, or given in."

It was two days later when Lawyer Brown called upon Hugh Briston. "Well," he remarked briskly, "I've settled it. Manton is agreeable to the half way proposition."

"Huh! accommodating ain't he?" snuffed Briston derisively.

"There's the old foot bridge crossing the river that winds in at the rear of your respective holdings. He'll be there at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. Now then, be sensible and human. Your principal source of anxiety is the wood lot thoroughfare. His is the new road. Give in if he does; shake hands, be friends and bury the hatchet."

"He'll make the first advances," pronounced Briston. "If he don't, you're wasting our time."

The old bridge spanned a creek grown into river volume during recent spring rains, and on account of a new structure nearer the main traversed road and especially since the feud between Manton and Briston, it had fallen into disuse. At precisely nine o'clock the next morning Silas Manton advanced from his own land and carelessly lounged against the railing at the center of the decayed structure. Briston approached from his side. As he stepped upon the planking the weakened timbers creaked. Both were heavy men. With a crash the whole rotten structure gave way. Amid snapping timbers the two bulky enemies went down into mild stream.

"I can't swim," yelled Manton thoroughly frightened as the eddying current began to bear him down stream. "No more can I," announced Briston. "I guess we're a zone. Here, grab the end of the plank I'm holding onto. Hi there, oh Sidney! Get us out!"

For Sidney suddenly emerged into view from a near shore thicket without his father even suspecting that he had purposely stationed himself there to watch the bridge negotiations.

"You first," spoke the polite Sidney, and sprang into the water and towed Manton ashore. "Now then, take it easy," he added to his father, performing the same operation for him.

"Say, Briston," spluttered Manton, "I reckon we're a pair of fools. Suppose we'd drowned! That wood lot nuisance—have it your way."

"And about the road strip," said Briston. "I'll sign up for the right-of-way. Hey, Sidney!"

But Sidney was gone, on wings of fleetness, to seek out anxious, suspenseful Eunice and report that the family feud was settled at last.

CEDARS TO HAVE ANOTHER BIG TIME

Place of Meeting of Several Forests From Other Places.

The Easternsho' Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, located in this city, are planning another big affair to take place at Ocean City on September 2. On this occasion another class of 150 to 200 saplings will ride the goat and the festivities will take place in the Casino theater, on the boardwalk.

The Baltimore Forest of Cedars, the Evergreen forest from Milford, Del., and the Brandywine forest from Wilmington, will be present about 200 strong and the ceremonies will be as auspicious as those which instituted the forest here on July 17.

The cedars will leave Union station by special train on the B. C. & A. at 5:30 p. m., and the return to Salisbury will begin at 11:30 o'clock from Ocean City, also by special train.

The Easternsho' forest which was started here with the largest class of candidates in the history of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon (183) has made the Army its permanent headquarters and will meet there once a month. In October the monthly meeting of the Cedars will be devoted to a ladies' night, and dancing and a banquet will fill the program. An orchestra will furnish music during the evening.

The forest also bids fair to give Salisbury and vicinity another band. Work has been started on this project and already eight Cedars from Delmar have offered their services and five from this city have done the same. It is understood that an attempt is being made to have Tall Cedar Kenney assume the directorship of the Easternsho' forest band. Special inducements are being made to influence Cedars to join the band and it is earnestly hoped that the band is successfully organized, not only for the standing it would give Masonry here, but also for the benefit of the city.

The keynote of the Cedars of Lebanon is fraternity by means of closer friendship.

DEMANDS INTEREST ON OVERDUE PREMIUMS

State Commissioner Keating's New Ruling Effects Many Policy Holders and Insurance Agents.

Doubtless there are hundreds of people who will be affected by the recent ruling of State Insurance Commissioner Keating, which provides that holders of insurance policies who do not pay their premiums on the dates due, will be legally bound to pay interest on the amount of those premiums at a legal rate.

This ruling also provides that the insurance company, broker, agent or solicitor who does not charge interest on all deferred payments of insurance premiums will be liable to a charge of rebating and will be amenable to criminal prosecution under the anti-rebate law.

The text of Commissioner Keating's ruling is as follows:

"It is ruled that in all cases, the legal rate of interest must be charged on all deferred premium payments, or notes accepted in payment of premiums, from the date when the policy is made effective, with an allowance only for such brief period of time as may be customarily and generally granted for the collection of insurance premiums, not to exceed 60 days, otherwise the transaction will be considered rebating and render both the assured and the company, broker, agent or solicitor entering into the agreement, amenable to the anti-rebate law."

"BILLY" HART AGAIN AT HIS BEST

Features in "Sand" at The Arcade and Delights the Fans This Week.

Vaudeville Good too.

"Sand," with William S. Hart as the star of the picture was the attraction at the Arcade on Monday and Tuesday and as usual "Bill" and his companion horse, "Boss," delighted the fans with the manner in which they worked out a mass of difficulties and enabled art to renege him. In the good graces of his fellowtownsfolk and with "Boss" for his variable girl. The picture was well up to standard of Hart photoplays.

The vaudeville presented the latter half of the week is steadily becoming more popular with Salisbury theatergoers. The last bill presented three well balanced acts, Maurice and Hora with their novelty musical numbers Elliott and West with their songs and dances, and Wilson and Dunbar, in a comedy sketch all pleased their audiences and won merited praise.

RECORD CROWD AT FREE BAND CONCERT

Biggest Crowd of Season on Friday Night. Two New Attractions To Be Added This Week.

Fifteen hundred people attended the free band concert at Central park in this city last Friday night and an even bigger attendance is expected tomorrow night when the program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

The wheel of fortune and the ball game which have recently been installed for the entertainment of the people, were well patronized and the stocks of ice cream, soft drinks and candies were again unequal to the demand.

An effort is being made by the management of the Salisbury I. O. O. F. band, which is giving the concerts free of all cost to the city and without any financial aid from the business interests, to have an ocean wave and a merry-go-round set in position for operation for tomorrow night. If this is accomplished, these will add two very attractive amusements to the park.

The band management is willing to put on two or more concerts each week during the remainder of the summer and early fall if its effort is given any financial encouragement by the city's business people. The band has undertaken the band concert work this season with the unselfish purpose of aiding the city. So far its expenses have been far greater than its receipts from the concerts and the side issues.

It is the belief of the band management that when the attention of the business men and the city officials is called to this fact, they will give the band the financial aid to which it is entitled in the great work it is now doing for Salisbury.

LOCAL MAN IS WED IN ALABAMA

Herbert G. Shadburn and Miss Willie DuBose Are Now a Bride and Groom. Marriage a Surprise.

A wedding this week, that came as a surprise to friends of the contracting parties, was that of Miss Willie DuBose, daughter of Mr. George DuBose, of Salisbury. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierson Cosby and was performed by Dr. Davison of the First Baptist church, the ring service being used. The only attendants were Miss Birdie Markowski and Truly Kinney, who preceded the bride and groom into the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by B. F. Faegan. Miss DuBose and Mr. Shadburn entered the room together and the ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of ferns, palms and cut flowers. The bride wore a navy blue tulle-trimmed suit and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Shadburn left immediately for Baltimore and will live at their beautiful country home near this city. Mrs. Shadburn has been for some years a valued employee at Tepper Bros. Mercantile Co., in Selma, Ala., and she has many friends in that city who wish her much happiness. Mr. Shadburn lives on a large farm near Salisbury, of which he is manager and owner. Only relatives and intimate friends attended the wedding. The wedding took place in Selma, Ala.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Lavinia E. Bradford vs. Charles Baker. No. 2761 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland. In Equity.

The object of the bill filed in the above entitled cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of a tract of land situate in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, of which Silas D. Baker died seized and possessed, and a division of the proceeds arising from such sale amongst the parties as their interest may appear.

The bill alleges in substance that in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen, Silas D. Baker died intestate, being seized and possessed of a tract of land in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, which he obtained by purchase from Ebenezer G. Davis and containing about three and three-fourths 3 3/4 acres. And the said Silas D. Baker left as his heirs at law Mary E. Baker, his wife, who has since died, and Lavinia E. Bradford, a daughter, and the defendant, Charles Baker, an infant son who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon ordered this 3d day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in Equity, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in each issue for four successive weeks before the 31st day of August, 1920, give notice to the said non-resident defendant, Charles Baker, of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September next, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

A Tonic For Women

"I was hardly able to do any work," said Miss Esther Dell, one of the Cedars of Lebanon, located in this city, are planning another big affair to take place at Ocean City on September 2. On this occasion another class of 150 to 200 saplings will ride the goat and the festivities will take place in the Casino theater, on the boardwalk.

The Baltimore Forest of Cedars, the Evergreen forest from Milford, Del., and the Brandywine forest from Wilmington, will be present about 200 strong and the ceremonies will be as auspicious as those which instituted the forest here on July 17.

The cedars will leave Union station by special train on the B. C. & A. at 5:30 p. m., and the return to Salisbury will begin at 11:30 o'clock from Ocean City, also by special train.

The Eastern Shore forest which was started here with the largest class of candidates in the history of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon (183) has made the Armory its permanent headquarters and will meet there once a month. In October the monthly meeting of the Cedars will be devoted to a ladies' night, and dancing and a banquet will fill the program. An orchestra will furnish music during the evening.

The forest also bids fair to give Salisbury and vicinity another band. Work has been started on this project and already eight Cedars from Delmar have offered their services and five from this city have done the same. It is understood that an attempt is being made to have Tall Cedar Kenney assume the directorship of the Eastern Shore forest band. Special inducements are being made to influence Cedars to join the band and it is earnestly hoped that the band is successfully organized, not only for the standing it would give Masonry here, but also for the benefit of the city.

The Cedars are conducting a vigorous campaign for members here and only master Masons can become members of the forest.

The keynote of the Cedars of Lebanon is fraternity by means of closer friendship.

Use of Salads In Hot Weather Will Save Many of Kitchen's Discomforts

Many Women Make Mistake of Serving Hot Solid Foods in Summer Time, Thereby Endangering the Family's Digestion and Causing Themselves Much Physical Fatigue.

SALADS EASY TO PREPARE.

Esther Dell.

The warm days of this summer, like the warm days of every summer, have been a terrible drag upon the housewife who does her own cooking. The ever present problem of getting something "good to eat" is especially irksome in summer time when one just dreads the heat and smell of the kitchen.

It is every woman's ambition to give her family tasty meals; but frequently, many women make the mistake of thinking tasty meals consist of the same kinds of food in winter as in summer.

This is a mistake.

The man who likes a big bowl of steaming vegetable soup in cold December is very apt to have no taste or soup on a hot, sultry July day. Likewise the man who enjoys a cold salad in July would prefer his boiled cabbage and corned beef in winter.

There are many women who make the mistake of boiling and stewing themselves, as well as the food they re-prepare in the summer time, just as they boil and stew the food in winter. They make themselves miserable and they do not please their families by their efforts.

There is no use of our wearing ourselves out in a labor, the result of which is not pleasing to those for whom we labor. It would be better policy for us to arrange our dinner and supper each day in accordance with the temperature which largely governs the tastes and tempers of our families.

For instance, there were a few cool days last week when a roast of beef would have been a very appropriate central figure for a dinner menu; but there were a few days previous to those cool days when an iced cooled salad would have been much more appropriate, much more tasty and certainly much more healthful.

Salads are very easily prepared. The most of them require little if any cooking. This means a saving of fuel, a saving of heat in the kitchen and the saving of the physical strength and the temper of the housewife.

Salads are always palatable and are always very tasty. They can be made from almost anything. Cold boiled potatoes with a little onion and a little salad dressing makes a very pleasant dish for a warm night supper. Cold scraps of meat left over from the Sunday dinner may be made up into good salad by the addition of a little pepper and salt, a little onion, a little bit of bread cut into dice, buttered and baked brown in a quick oven.

Cold fish, left over from a previous meal, may be prepared into salad by the addition of seasoning, onion, a little oil or mustard and a sprig or two of parsley.

Fruits, uncooked, may be used in salads as well as nuts. Canned lobster, canned shrimp, canned corned beef, canned salmon, canned sardines and a hundred and one other kinds of canned goods can be made up with little effort into tempting summer time dishes that will be in great demand by the adult as well as the juvenile members of the family.

She is indeed a foolish woman who faces a hot kitchen and perspires in a hot kitchen over the preparation of heavy foods for her family in the summer season. It is so easy to prepare the food and so easily digested. Cold foods which are so palatable in the hot days of summer when the body is so hot and the stomach is so full.

If we would eat cold food in the summer time, we would be as comfortable as we are in the winter time. Heavy food is so hard to digest in the summer time. They make heat. The more heat there is in our bodies, the harder it is for us to resist the summer temperatures.

The cooler we keep our blood the more easily we will resist the hot weather.

The preparation of cold foods for summer consumption works a twofold benefit. It is more healthy for those who eat the food and it saves the woman who prepares the meals, the trials and tribulations of the hot, steamy, smelly kitchen.

Salads and cold meats and cool drinks are summer time foods.

Fat meats, hot dishes and hot drinks are winter time foods.

The preparation of the heavy, rich foods is a trial very often to the housewife, even in the winter time, but it is a task almost beyond endurance in the summer season.

If the members of the entire family will remember that to eat light, cool foods in summer, means to save themselves much suffering from the heat and the improvement of their health, as well as a boon and comfort to the woman who prepares the meals in charge, they will be acting wisely and well.

Many a woman, at the end of the summer is worn and fagged because of the heated and steamy kitchen in the hot sultry weather. This can be avoided by the use of a little judgment in the matter of planning the meals for the summer days.

PRETTY WEDDING IN LAUREL, THURSDAY

Miss Reba Prettyman Becomes Bride of J. Ohm Small. Will Live in New Brunswick, N. J.

On Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Miss Reba Louise Prettyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Prettyman, was married at the home of her parents on Oak street, to J. Ohm Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fossenden H. Small, both of Laurel, Del. The bride party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march, rendered by Miss Minnie Robinson. Previous to their entrance a solo, "O, Promise Me," was sung by Harvey M. Phillips, an uncle of the bride, and a well known baritone soloist.

The bride, who was attired in a beautiful costume of white silk net over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and roses, was attended by her cousin, Miss Isabella Callaway, whose gown was of pink silk organza with hat to match. Mr. Small was attended by Stanley G. Wilson, of Basking Ridge, N. J.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter A. Hearn, of Newark, Md., after which a luncheon was served by the mother of the bride, followed by a reception to the bride party. The flower girl was Mrs. Ida Elizabeth Robinson, who was dressed in white organza and carried pink flowers. The home was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being pink. The officiating minister and the groom's best man were roommates of the groom when the three were attending in Kings College a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Small left in the afternoon by automobile and will spend their honeymoon at Atlantic City, N. J. They will be at home after the month of August in New Brunswick, N. J. Mr. Small is connected with the Harnett & Co. Co., as a traveling salesman, and will be in Salisbury, N. D., in the near future.

Heavenly Father, I will pay my debts as I come due. Just, thank you very much. It does hurt a little.

Don't let me see you are very plucky. Just let me see the toothache. It's Mrs. Brown. She'll be here in a minute."

LITTLE CITIZENS IN THE HOME

By William A. Blair, LL.D.

Our orators, editors and self-appointed patriots dwell at length upon the wonderful opportunities, privileges and benefits which we enjoy in our great Democracy. Rights and privileges are on every tongue; but far too little is said about duties and responsibilities which must always be commensurate with rights. The old Spartan idea that the child belongs to the state and that the state was entitled to something from him might well have some consideration today.

A father recently told me that he was educating his two boys, one to become a lawyer and the other a preacher. In other words he was training his boys for good citizenship. One boy was to be a good citizen practicing law, the other was to be a good citizen, preaching.

The home is a little democracy, the school a larger one, the world a still greater. The small child should be taught to be a good citizen in the home, later in the school and when he is graduated out into the world he will naturally continue right activity.

"Men are but children of a larger growth." In the home the child should have certain regular tasks to perform and should be taught that he must attend to them conscientiously. The care of pets, plants, flowers and of younger children, the responsibility of performing certain household duties develops strength of character.

Possession teaches generosity, for without possessions of his own, how can the child learn to share and appreciate the difference between "mine and thine?" If his property, his rights, his little treasures are respected he will soon see why he should regard and respect the rights of others.

Possession entails responsibility for the care and use of property. The small boy who leaves his picture book outdoors over night and discovers in the morning that it has been stolen or rain-soaked realizes that the misfortune is his own fault. If he is rough with his toys and breaks them he must learn to be more careful. If he doesn't feed his pet rabbit, it dies, if he fails to care for his garden, the flowers are soon choked with weeds.

In training the child, his opinions should be respected and parents should take time and have patience to show him wherein he is right or wrong. He certainly cannot always have his own way, now nor in the future; therefore, he must learn to obey before he is fit to command, and careful, constant training is needed to produce this result. Children should be chums with their parents, and should also have the companionship of other children and learn to "get along" without difficulties or quarrels; adaptability is essential to happiness.

We must begin with our children and teach them personal, home, school community and national responsibility at a very early age, and show by object lessons that every violation of rules or laws, every case of malicious destruction of property, every manifestation of vandalism, all exhibitions of temper, impudence and insolence, all forms of disrespect for persons, places, property, positions, or sacred things bring trouble and punishment.

From the training of the home good citizens should be graduated into the schools, from the schools to the colleges, and from the colleges to citizenship and service of our country.

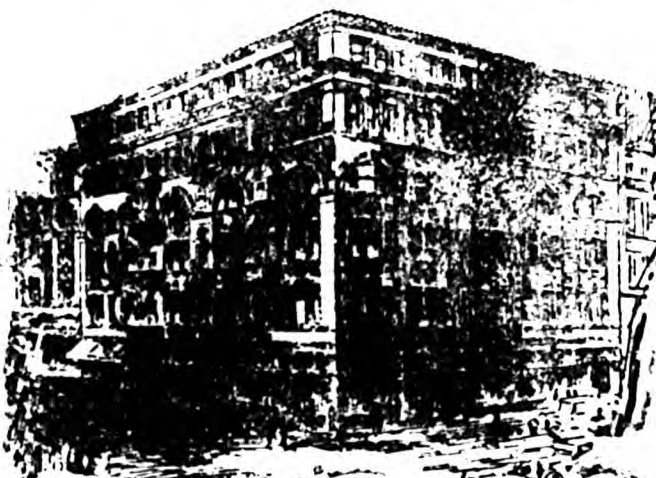

OLD HOME PRIZE INCREASED ENDOWMENTS

The endowments of ten of the Old Home prizes in Somerset and Worcester counties, Maryland, and Accomac and Northampton counties, Virginia, have lately been increased to $200 in Liberty bonds. The income from which is used to buy the beautiful, standard gold medal awarded each year to the winners of these prizes. The chief purpose of the prize is to instill a proper public spirit in the young people, thus causing them to become more interested in and loyal to their old home sections, and also to teach them the benefits of endowments, useful as above and in so many other ways. This prize founded on the Eastern Shore in 1908 is now about to be used in other states.

THE VOGUE SHOP SERVICE MEANS PROPER CLEANING

The clothing problem means a lot of worry these days. People have less money to spend for clothes and they get less clothes for their money. Three years ago you could buy three suits for what you now pay for one. Yet, listen! how seldom is it that you actually wear out your old clothes? Do you call a garment worn out when it begins to look shabby because it's faded or soiled? If you could put the original color back into the fabric or take out the soil marks you would have several years more good use of the article. That's just what the VOGUE SHOP is doing. Helping you to fight the H. C. L. by making your old clothes look like new. Proper cleaning of wearing apparel at regular intervals is the most intelligent economy one can practice. Remember our work is cleaning, pressing, and dyeing and we can give you the very best service obtainable in these lines. We have special machinery to take care of your Palm Beach and Cool Cloth suits. Look through your summer wardrobe and call 1124. We will be glad to help and serve you.

PIPP IS ONE OF LEADING FIRST BASEMEN

Wallie Pipp Reaching for a Wide Throw.

When Wallie Pipp, first baseman of the Yankees, really cares to extend himself, he can come close to reaching into the pitcher's box. He is a bad man on hot shots down the line, for he usually spoils the perfectly good intentions of the batter.

BROWNS MAKE TRIPLE PLAY IN UNIQUE WAY

History Will Have to Be Raked Over to Find Its Equal.

Feat Is Usually Made on Hot Limer or on Capture of Fly Ball—This One Was Started on Sharply-Hit Grounder.

A triple play on a grounder may not be a new record, but history will have to be considerably raked over to find its equal. This play was made by the Browns in the last game of the series last fall between St. Louis and the Red Sox at Fenway park.

Triple plays of any sort are rare in major league baseball. Once or twice in a decade somebody makes an unassisted triple play and thus edges into baseball's hall of fame. But when these plays do occur they are started by the catch of a fly ball, usually a hot liner.

Here is how the Browns retired the Red Sox; Boston filled the bases with nobody out and Herbert Pennock came to bat with a fine chance to send in some runs. He is a left-hand batter and a fairly fast man. He hit a sharp bouncer that Austin speared on the first bound near third base. Jimmy stepped on the bag for the first out, and whipped the ball to Gedeon at second. So far, the play was not extraordinary. But Gedeon got rid of the ball as if it burned him and his throw to first beat Pennock a couple of steps. Quite naturally the Boston runner that had been on third base when the ball was hit crossed the plate while his teammates were being cut down wholesale. But this run didn't count.

exponents of the shift. Fitz won the heavyweight championship from Corbett 23 years ago with a left shift to the body. Ketchell won most of his battles with a shift but he usually delivered his blows for the jaw.

ANSON MADE RECORDS

There are two major-league records which have stood for a long number of years and give evidence of remaining on the books for several more. Both were made by A. C. Anson, former manager, captain and first baseman of the Chicago Nationals. Anson played 22 straight years with the Chicago team, the longest period of time that any player has ever been with the same club in a playing capacity, and he also managed the team for 19 years, another record.

Ty Cobb Entering Fourteenth Year in Baseball Is as Fit and Determined as Ever.

The name, Ty Cobb, needs no introduction to any public. For years it has been a name to conjure with, both for the boy in the street and the worshipful fan wailing in the crowd and heat of the bleachers. Ever since his introduction to baseball in 1906 this man has been hailed as the "wizard of the diamond," and the record of his base stealing feats and all around work on the diamond testifies to the fitness of the title.

He is now entering his fourteenth year of baseball as fit and determined as ever to uphold his remarkable record, despite the limited gibes of the envious and unsportsmanlike rooters that have been directed toward him in the past.

VICTORY REFUSED BY BOXER

Young Cohen of Boston, Protests Decision in His Favor by Buenos Aires Referee.

The unusual circumstance of a boxer declared the winner of a bout protesting against the decision in his favor was witnessed at Buenos Aires recently at the close of a ten-round session between young Cohen of Boston, billed as featherweight champion of the American Athletic Club, and Julio Perez, featherweight champion of Argentina. The referee at first gave the decision to young Cohen, but upon the latter's protest that he was not entitled to a victory, the official declared the bout a draw and cheers from the Argentinian audience.

WRITES OF HIS TRIP

He and Mrs. Brewington Are Vacationing at Asbury Park, N. J., and Getting Much Needed Rest.
Asbury Park, N. J., July 31.

The Wicomico News:

This splendid summer resort is now at flood tide so far as the crowds are concerned, and there is something interesting going on every hour of the day.

The writer, in company with several other Eastern Shoremen and Baltimoreans, arrived here a few days ago for a stay of two weeks and found very comfortable quarters at "The Kenilworth," which is very beautifully situated on the border of Fletcher lake and overlooks the beautiful Founders' park. Sitting on the front porch the guests can look to the eastward and have an unbroken view of the ocean only two blocks away, while directly in front beautiful pleasure boats are plying up and down the lake. I had a splendid view of the yacht race (the deciding race) last Tuesday from one of the big piers which put out hundreds of feet into the ocean. Thousands of people jammed these piers and with strong glasses watched the Resolute outstrip the Shamrock IV and thus keep in America the cup we captured in 1852 from Great Britain. Although Sir Thomas Lipton failed to carry home with him this much-coveted trophy, we must take off our hats to him, for he is a game sport. Some of these days Sir Thomas will slip over here in a yacht which will carry back the cup we won nearly 70 years ago.

Visitors at Asbury Park and Ocean Grove are enjoying the most delightful weather this week. The mercury has not registered higher than 72 degrees in a week and several mornings were as low down as 60 degrees. Such delightful weather is affording opportunities for the enjoyment of tours throughout the coast and through the magnificent boulevard and country roads of this section.

I have had the pleasure of covering several of these trips by automobile which are wonderfully interesting. The first one taken was the Atlantic Highland tour. This trip takes you over the seven-bridge road to Oceanic through Locust Point, Stony Chapel, Atlantic Highlands proper, over the Ocean Boulevard winding through and up the hills, the most picturesque and fascinating in New Jersey, where you can view Coney Island on a clear day. Then we pass the twin searchlights of Navesink Highlands (said to be the strongest in the United States). Along this drive you may view Sandy Hook Government Military fortifications and the only entrance to New York harbor. This boulevard drive is a new one and recently opened to the public.

The next day our party toured to Lakewood, where there are so many beautiful homes of millionaires, among them being that of George Gould, known as Georgian Court. This trip took in through Bradley Beach, Avon, across Shark River to a shady nook on the Court House Belmar, through Como (named after green, discussing the cost of living Lake Como, Italy), on through Spring Lake, viewing the Marquis Martin Civil war and comparing them with Maloney estate, resembling very much the White House, but positively not patterned after same. Next viewing the new Essex and Sussex hotel, the New Monmouth hotel, and St. Catharine's chapel (dedicated by Marquis Martin Maloney). Leaving Spring ed the high water mark of $1.50 a day. Sugar also soared to the 25c a pound and old H. C. L. got in his work along all lines of commodities like he is doing now.

One especially well-informed member of the group began to make comparisons in whole and retail prices, and wages for the years 1860 to 1872, in which tendencies strikingly like those of the present day were revealed, showing finally a slump in prices which, economists and students of market conditions say, soon may be expected if history is to repeat itself.

He said: "There was a gradual rise during 1861 and 1862 and 1863, and at the end of the last year wholesale prices were at 150, retail prices at 140 and wages at 130. During the year came the sharpest rise and wholesale prices jumped to the 210 mark, reaching the peak in January, 1865. Meanwhile both retail prices and wages were taken a more gradual rise, the former standing at 165 in January and wages being at 150. The figure of 100 is taken as the basic level of all three in 1860.

In April, 1865, the war ended and there came a sudden drop in wholesale prices, which fell to 160 in July of that year and then rallied to 180 by the end of the year. Retail prices and wages continued a steady rise throughout the year, not being affected by the end of the war and reached the respective levels of 170 and 165 at the end of 1865.

In the year following the close of the war, 1866, there was a marked variation in the trend of the three. Wholesale prices fluctuated rather violently, but with a constant downward trend, and they continued this downward course with occasional sharp rallies for seven years following the war, scoring a net loss of from five to ten points a year, until in 1872, just prior to the great panic, they were at 130, or just 30 points above the pre-war figure.

"If history is repeating itself the man who denies himself useless luxuries and puts his money in government securities or in other standard investments will be on a sound financial basis when the present troublesome days are over."

While not a pessimist, the speaker predicted that troublous times are ahead and he uttered a warning to the group to prepare for their coming by laying up "something for a rainy day."

LIFE SAVERS HAVE

A VERY BUSY DAY

Saving the lives of 30 persons in various stages of helplessness in one day is the record of the American Red Cross Volunteer Life Saving corps at Galveston, Tex. During a recent airplane race, hundreds selected the cooling waters of the Gulf as the most advantageous place from which to watch the planes, despite the development of a strong cross current which made swimming dangerous for the inexperienced. Four Red Cross life savers were kept on duty throughout the day and until late at night.

What was that—the wind?
Wilson Brody started up from his cozy arm chair before a blazing fire in the grate and bent his ear toward the window past which the tempest was sweeping with vibrating force.

"It sounded like a shriek—a woman's scream," replied Eunice, his sister.

Brody hurried on hat and coat and hastened out into the yard. As he came fully out into the street he was startled to observe a girl in the refuge of a street lamp, her hand raised bewilderedly to her head, just arising from the sidewalk.

"Are you hurt? What is it?" he inquired solicitously, and caught her by the arm to steady her, noting a sweet, innocent face and gentle eyes, but just now filled with fear.

"A man!" gasped the girl breathlessly. "He pushed me and I fell. He tore my satchel from my hand."

"There it is!" exclaimed Brody, as he noticed ten feet away the object in question. It lay open, some of its contents being scattered on the sidewalk. Brody went to pick it up and the girl clung to the lamp post as he gathered up the articles.

"I must have been followed, I feared it half a mile back from here—but why?"

"There were valuables?" questioned Brody.

"No, only my few belongings and some papers. Oh, see, sir!" she cried in poignant alarm, as she groped among the contents of the bag. "They are gone!"

"If you will tell me where you live I will see you safely home," suggested Brody, kindly.

"I am a stranger here," replied the girl. "I came to seek my father. I located his office and explained to a man in charge. I told him who I was and about the papers I had to identify me. He said that Mr. Robert Farr—that is my father, was absent. I am almost sure that he followed me."

Brody was puzzled, for the girl's statements were unusual and strange. But he read the truth in those innocent, trusting eyes. Both sympathy and interest were aroused. Just then Eunice came to where they stood.

"What is it, brother?" she inquired and Brody repeating the explanation the girl had given, warm-hearted Eunice caught her arm and led the way to the house.

"Poor dear!" she murmured, "you must come in out of the storm." The girl was faint and drooping, but she revived magically as these good Samaritans placed her before the cheerful fire and Eunice brought her a steaming cup of tea.

"I am Myrtle Farr," she told them. "I have lived with an old aunt, an invalid in New Mexico since my mother died when I was an infant. My father was away in Alaska at the time and never returned to see me. Through all these years he has trusted me to Aunt Cella, sending each year enough money to provide for both of us until lately. When she was dying she told me to go to him. Her only clue as to his whereabouts was that she had heard that he owned considerable property in this city."

"And you found him?"

"No, I only located an office bearing his name on the door. Those I inquired of said he had been here for only a few weeks."

"You must remain with us until my brother looks into this matter," declared Eunice and after Myrtle Farr was comfortably installed in a spare room they discussed the singular event that had brought this stranger to their threshold.

"I have seen Robert Farr at his office," reported Brody to Myrtle two days later. "I told him of your claim. He absolutely denies having a daughter or of ever hearing of you before."

Myrtle Farr was fairly crushed at this declaration. She was insistent on seeing the man who disowned her and asked Brody to accompany her to the office he had just left.

"That is Robert Farr," spoke Brody as they nearly reached the building he had just before visited and he pointed out a man entering it.

There came into the eyes of his companion a glow of sudden revelation. "That the Robert Farr," she whispered, strangely agitated, "who says I am not his daughter? Oh, Mr. Brody! there is some mystery here, for that man is not my father. Aunt Cella had a picture of him he sent her two years ago, and this man does not in any way resemble him. I had it among my papers."

There was more than mystery. There was plotting and wickedness, as Wilson Brody ascertained after a week's time devoted to unraveling the identity of the pretended Robert Farr. Through diligent application to the case and detective co-operation he learned that the impostor and fellow conspirators had kidnapped the real Robert Farr, who lived in another place and the principal schemer had come to the city, intent on assuming his identity and claiming and selling his property.

A month passed and neither of his friends, Brody or Eunice, and the real Robert Farr, returned from their journey. Wilson Brody was a guest at the Farr home and the impostor of the name he had assumed was seen before.

And there, too, both recognized the father as a well-known member of the household, and fair Myrtle as the wife of Wilson Brody.

ROAD COP AND BIGGEST LIAR MEET

Catcher of Speed Fiends Meets His Equal on the Ocean City Road,
But Makes No Arrest.

The unhappy motorist is sometimes at his wits end when it comes to evading the traps set for him by the automobile commissioners. This is how one did it on the Ocean City road last Sunday.

A gentleman with his lady friend were speeding toward the ocean with the speedometer pointing to the 50-mile mark when a man in plain clothes stepped from a by-road and hailed the car. When this man had reached the spot where the car stopped he remarked how fine a car the driver had and inquired how fast it could go. The driver said that he had just been going 50 but if the gentleman would jump in he would see how fast the car could go.

The plain clothes man asked the driver if he knew who had stopped the car. Upon the man at the wheel replying in the negative, he showed his badge and said:

"I am a state roads cop, and you are arrested for speeding."

The man in the car quickly replied:

"Do you know who I am?"

The cop shook his head. The driver then answered:

"I am the biggest liar in the state of Maryland."

Road cop—"Drive on."

SAVED LUNCH MONEY FOR RED CROSS WORK

Jimmy Ohly, a 10-year-old Jap, of Seattle, Wash., was deeply impressed by the work of the American Red Cross for wounded soldiers. So impressed was he that he felt it his solemn duty to aid the cause. Getting money was difficult, but Jimmy found a way. Telling no one of his plan, he took the pennies that usually went for his school luncheon and dropped them in a box. When the box was filled, he turned it over to his teacher with instructions that it was to go to the American Red Cross. When questioned, he admitted he had gone without luncheon for a month in order to raise the money.

(Margaret Laws R. N.)

The public health nurse works in homes, in schools, in clinics. She should not be confused with "visiting nurse" or "district" nurse who is usually employed by a charitable organization to care for the sick poor to whom she is called by physician. She does the actual work of nursing, has only a few cases at a time and spends considerable time with each case. She does little else than bedside work.

In contrast with her duties the public health nurse does preventive work. She visits from house to house, talks with the people and decides who are in need of her. She seeks cases to whom she may offer her service, and those who need physicians. She observes home conditions and explains points in hygiene and sanitation which are practically unknown to a large proportion of the people. The personal work which she does in homes upon her own initiative, requires the greater part of her time.

Infant Welfare.

She learns where the sick babies are, and helps to make them well. She knows too, where the well babies are, while but 141 men asked that the so that she may visit them frequently and keep them well. Every year in the United States 100,000 babies die. These babies did not die of the measles, own accord. They were killed—killed by feeding them with dirty, uncooked cow's milk or some other improper food, killed by weakening them with heavy clothing and then exposing them to a sudden draft, killed by letting some one who was coming down with "a cold" fondle them and pass on to them the deadly germs of son disease. They were most of them those 100,000 killed by their mother or their grandmothers or their sister who loved them very much but did not know how babies ought to be cared for.

The proportion of young babies that will die, depends almost wholly on the amount their mothers know about infant care. In Russia, one baby in every four dies before completing the first year of life. The Russian mothers love their babies, but the "mother instinct" does not teach them to feed them only on mother's milk or clean, pasteurized cow's milk, and so they give those babies other foods and the babies are killed by summer diarrhea. In the United States about one baby in 10 dies before reaching its first birthday. That is better than the Russian record; but in New Zealand only one baby out of 20 dies in the first year of life. The New Zealand mothers are no more devoted than ours. They are no more highly educated, nor any wiser in most matters, but they have learned more about infant care.

One great object of Red Cross Public Health nursing is to teach American mothers how they too may keep their babies well.

School Nursing.

When the infant grows up and enters school, his physical health is still a matter of great concern. Defects of eyesight and hearing, decay of the teeth, tonsil and adenoid growths may develop and cause diseases, easily checked in time, but serious if permitted to run their course. It is the school physician who finds these defects; but once more it is the public nurse who follows the child into the home and sees that the needed hygiene care or medical treatment are actually secured.

When cases of communicable disease develop in the community, it is the public health nurse who goes into the home and sees that the necessary precautions are taken to prevent the spread of infection from one to another.

Maternity.

In one year in this country, 15,000 women, it is estimated, died from conditions caused by childbirth; about 7,000 of these died from child bed fever, a disease proved to be almost entirely preventable, and the remaining 8,000 from diseases now known to be to a great extent, preventable or curable. In 1913 childbirth caused more deaths among women 15 to 44 years old than any disease except tuberculosis.

The public health nurse will teach them the dangers connected with childbirth and the need of proper hygiene and skilled care in order to prevent them. Improvement will come about through a general realization of the necessity for better care at childbirth. If women demand better care, physicians will provide it; medical colleges will furnish better training in obstetrics and communities will realize the vital importance of com-

Stuck an old Swish In- er thick, dusted it raw, dry flour and placed the flour-cast, sand. It baked perfectly and the grains of sand that stuck to it brushed off without any trouble.

"Maybe some of you will even feel like tackling a clay bake oven. The Cave Scout has seen them do excellent work. Select a bank of clay as pure as you can find, the less sand or loam in it the better. Select a stake several feet long and peel off the bark. Drive this stake into the clay bank as deep as you expect the floor of the oven to be. Then on the down hill side from the stake, start digging into the bank. Dig back to the stake, keeping the opening as small as possible and forming an arch-like roof and a flat floor. Remove the stake and the hole it leaves will form the flue. If the clay is dry and shows a tendency to crumble, wet it slightly and plaster it smooth. When the excavation is completed build a small fire in the oven to harden the clay. If it cracks too badly plaster it again and again "fire" it.

"To bake in such an oven, build a fire inside it and keep it going for an hour and a half or two hours. Then rake out the coals and ashes, but in the biscuits or bread, and plug up the door and flue to keep the heat from escaping. The heat in the clay will be sufficient to bake biscuits, or gems, which do not require long baking."

Tri-County Affair at Queen Anne Will Attract Interest and Benefit All Peninsula Farmers.

The Tri-County Tractor demonstration which is to be held at Queen Anne, on the farm of Judge Clark, August 3rd, is expected to be the largest affair of the kind ever held in the state. Farmers are taking great interest in the plans as the field to be plowed is stiff soil covered with heavy old clover sod. They are expecting to see a real test, as only the best tractors and plows will do good work under such conditions. Rivalry is keen among the tractor dealers and manufacturers who are entering and each will do his best to outclass

KICKED AT HEN, IS NOW UNCONSCIOUS

Chickens Angered Laurel Man When They Stole His Pigeons' Corn. Falls When He Kicks at Hen.

Elmer D. James is confined to his home on West street, in Laurel, Del., the result of injuries sustained Sunday morning in a very unusual manner. He arose early, as is his custom, and went out into the yard to feed his pigeons and chickens. He had released two sitting hens from their nests, to feed them, and began to scatter grain to the pigeons.

The hens came up to where the birds were eating and began to peck them and to toss them aside. This angered Mr. James and he kicked at one of the hens, and missing it, both his feet went in the air. He landed on the back of his head, rendering him unconscious for several minutes, and is still suffering from effects of the shock.

A Few Facts

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co.,
Fruitland, Md.
Gentlemen:

Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results:

Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.

To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.

I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills.
Very truly yours,

EASTERN SHORE DELICACIES.

Eastern Shore people are revelling in home-grown luxuries, such as the succulent corn, butterbeans, cantaloupes, apples and peaches. The supply of peaches is rather limited, owing to the late, cold spring, and cantaloupes are not as yet very plentiful, but the supply will be adequate after next week.

POTATO PRICES CONTINUE TO DROP.

Potato prices have continued on the downward grade this week, the price on Thursday ranging from $5 to $5.25 per barrel. Shipments have been very light, and the demand is not equal to the supply. From 60 to 65 cars are being loaded each day by the Exchange. The Exchange has shipped nearly 7,000 cars so far this season and will have about 2,000 more.

The car situation has no doubt been the cause of the great slump for with a sufficient number of cars the Eastern Shore crop would have been marketed ere this. A recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce commission allows a car to go only to its home road. The car situation has been just as disastrous to the dealer as to the grower. Cars that usually take six days to get to Chicago have been taking this season from 15 to 25 days. This is a reflection on the efficiency of the railroad companies. It should be said to the credit of the officials of the Norfolk division of the Pennsylvania railroad that they have done everything in their power to cope with the situation. However, other railroads have not done their part, and are in a great degree responsible for the delay of the potatoes in transit. Unless there is an improvement in the situation the outlook for the sweet potato season looks serious. West of Pittsburgh the railroad officials have shown an absolute indifference to the situation. DIVORCES IN VIRGINIA SHOW LARGE INCREASE.

Divorces granted in Virginia are increasing at an alarming rate, according to the Bureau of Vital Statistics of Virginia. Within the past 18 months the divorce record in Richmond alone has increased more than 100 per cent.

Divorces secured last year in Richmond numbered 600, the bureau reports. Already this year nearly 400 divorce cases are pending, or have been decided in the three courts of the city which have jurisdiction over this class of litigation.

In the year 1918 divorces granted by courts in Richmond numbered 387, which advanced last year to 600, and the estimate by officials of the vital statistics of Richmond, Va., are that this year will show 900 divorces granted in the capital. Richmond leads every other city in the state in the number of divorces granted.

Figures for 1919 for the state are not available, but the record for 1918 shows that 2,924 divorces were granted by the courts.

In Richmond the cause given when decrees were sought varied greatly, but the most common claim was desertion, 283 claims of this character being filed. More women sought divorces than men, the figures showing that 216 wives sought release from their husbands, while but 141 men asked that the shackles be removed.

While divorces in Richmond increased, marriages did also, according to the record. During 1918 there were 2,351 marriages in Richmond, and last year 2,584. At the end of the first six months of 1920, on July 1, the licenses numbered 6,034.

MR. BRYAN'S REFUSAL.

The many newspapers which have been wet in the past and which have never helped in any way to bring about either state or national prohibition seem to enjoy throwing jibes at Mr. Bryan because he refused the nomination offered him by the Prohibition party. We have not been able to follow Mr. Bryan in all of his theories and suggested remedies for our national ills, nor have we endorsed all his deeds while in office about two years. But in our judgment, Mr. Bryan is square on the prohibition question. For more than fifteen years he has by voice and pen used his talents and time and cash to push along the temperance cause. He has been wise enough to use his strength in places where it would count, in local and state fights. Not until this year has he ever made any serious attempt to have his party take a position on the question in its national convention. While no dry plank was written into the platforms of either of the big parties, it is worth while to remember that this was a great factor in keeping down the wet sentiment and vote at the San Francisco convention.

In declining to accept the nomination for the presidency on the Prohibition ticket, we think he showed real political sagacity. His refusal cannot be interpreted as showing inconsistency on his part. He is acquainted with the history of the Prohibition party and knows that it has always been a weak and inefficient instrument for getting desirable results. In all of its history the facts show that the Prohibition party has never been able to carry a single state in a national election. In 1884 it put forward its first candidate for the presidency. Out of nearly 10,000,000 votes polled that year it received only 157,809. In 1906 when the greater part of the United States had been won over for the temperance cause through other agencies, out of a total vote of more than 18,000,000 cast that year, the Prohibition candidate, Mr. Hanly, received 220,506, which was more than 43,000 less than the party polled in 1892 when the candidate received 264,133, the largest vote ever polled by the adherents of the party. Be it remembered that in all this time the principle of prohibition was gaining and growing steadily, state after state adopting it. But it was done through the Democratic and Republican parties as the most efficient instruments.

Mr. Bryan is wise enough to know that he can use his powers to greater advantage by helping to elect congressmen and senators in the different states who will reflect the dry sentiment in Congress. Congress is the place where the modification will be made if it is ever attempted.

While he is greatly disappointed over the outcome of the San Francisco convention, nevertheless Mr. Bryan says: "I am not willing to sever my connection with the Democratic party, which has so signally honored me in years past. I have not decided yet how I shall vote this fall, but what ever I may feel it my duty to do in this campaign, I expect to continue as a member of the Democratic party and serve my country through it."—Accomack News.

THE BIG THING.

Old Bill straightened up and gazed into the blue,

An aeroplane was flying in all its glory,

Bill's thoughts flew too—he later was to rue

That he hadn't kept his thoughts down in his dory.

Bill was lobster fishing and he had caught a lot—

A wrestling, fighting, biting bunch they were.

The champion of this lot fought clean through his prison pot,

While old Bill continued gazing in the air.

"My! what a big one," said Bill Junior in the bow,

Said Bill senior, "It's the biggest ever yet."

Admiration o'er his brow, young Bill gazed on the row,

While the champion crawled from out his prison wet.

Now this fighting lobster bold was as angry as could be

And before the smaller Bill could sound alarm,

Its claws were grimly set and a second later met

In the muscles of the bigger Bill's bare arm.

'Twas a big big lobster and a big big bite

'Twas by far the biggest yell Bill ever gave

And the big big shock made the little dory rock,

Spilling lobsters, pots and both Bills in the wave.

The aeroplane soared by and into the distance flew

Till it soon was but a little tiny speck

While the lobster hunters bo'd, the young one and the old,

Were the center of one beautiful big wreck.

They bounded around, they splashed and kicked about

Till eventually they climbed into their dory.

They should not have fallen out, if that there is no doubt,

But let Bill point out the moral of the story.

"Waal," says old Bill, his moustache showing,

"No more you'll get me falling in the sea,

The biggest thing I'm viewing, is the work that I am doing,

It matters not how little it may be." —Frank Rogeny in Boys' Life.

Big-Boy Plans a Surprise.

The sun was shining over the old garden and Little-Girl and tiny, green Elf Man were going through the brown gate with the yellow slats that led to the home of Boy-on-the-Other-Side-of-the-Fence. Kuti-pi walked ahead with her tail held erect like a banner.

"It is a beautiful day," said the small green Elf, "and just the time to make that cold frame that Big-Boy was telling us about. I hope he hasn't the toothache or the earache."

"Oh, Elf Man," said Little-Girl, "Why do you think of all those terrible things? Did you ever have the toothache?"

The Elf Man thought that he never had had the toothache, but he had had the heartache, he said, because once a lady elf had sent back a necklace of tiny green seeds that he had given her. It was a beautiful necklace, said the Elf Man, strung on a fine grass blade. And he thought heartache was a very terrible thing to have.

"Oh, but toothache is much worse than heartache," said Little-Girl. "Oh, ever and ever so much worse. It jumps. And if you ever have toothache, Elf Man, go directly to the dentist because you must save your teeth to chew your food. Your teeth are your garden tools. They prepare the soil for your growth. And you should eat plenty of fresh vegetables instead of many sweet things. Sweet things make your teeth ache, but nice fresh vegetables do not."

This was a long speech for Little-Girl, but as a true soldier of the United States School Garden Army she felt that she must pass on the good word.

The little Elf Man laughed and opened wide his morning glory mouth. There were pink gums and a pink-pointed tongue but no teeth.

"You see," he explained, "fairies people do not need teeth. We live on dew and nectar of flowers."

"Well, anyway, Elf Man, if you ever do grow teeth," said Little-Girl, "be sure to keep them well-brushed if you want to be well and happy."

Just then came a clear call—"He-ho-ho! He-o-o-o!"

"He-ho, yourself," said the Elf Man. "You are just two minutes, four seconds, and one-quarter of a second late."

"But we are here now," said Big-Boy as he and Hobtain came and sat beside Little-Girl. The Garden Manual Lady had come up and was standing looking lovingly at the two children, Big-Boy and Little-Girl. She expected a great deal from these small soldiers and she was very proud of them. Of course, Little-Girl could not do as much as Big-Boy, but she was learning garden secrets every day. She loved the wide out doors and she knew a very great deal for a little maid of seven years.

Madame Garden Manual closed her book covers with a snap, and everyone jumped. That is, everyone except the Elf Man. Fairies are never surprised.

"Now to work," said Madame Garden Manual, when she had laughed with the children at the sudden start she gave them.

"Big-Boy, show us the cold frame you have made and tell us how you are going to put it together."

"Oh, have you already made the frame?" asked Little-Girl, reproachfully, "and you didn't tell me about it?"

"No," said Big-Boy. "It is a surprise. You see, I had some sawing and hammering to do, so I thought I had better get it done before I showed you my work," and Big-Boy ran away, but soon came back, carrying a square box without any bottom. Hobtain trotted proudly beside his young master, carrying the hammer in his mouth.

"Now, how did you make that?" asked the Elf Man, as he swung up on a red Prince's feather that grew close by.

"I took a board one inch thick and 12 inches wide," explained Big-Boy. "From this I sawed three pieces, one two inches shorter than the length of the glass sash. From another board six inches wide I sawed one piece two inches shorter than the glass cover."

"Do you cover it with glass, where is your cover?" asked Little-Girl. It was rather puzzling to her but "men persons" always know about making things with nails and hammers. Even Daddy Dear was never too busy to put up shelves for Mummy.

"Why, down in the cellar I found a splendid cover," said Big-Boy, beaming with pride. "It was an old window sash with only one pane missing. Dan, our helper, said he would put in the pane if I would get him some putty. He is very cunning. So he fixed the pane for me, and I have a cover at no extra expense. You see, I already have my seed bed over there where it is protected from the North Wind."

Wind would blight your tiny plants. He is not a very mild-mannered man," said the Little Green Elf.

"And the ground is well-drained," Big-Boy explained. "And I have worked in well-rotted manure. On top of the frame I am going to fasten the window sash with hinges. I shall put the hinged end to the north so that the glass cover may be lifted on warm days and the little plants given an airing. This evening must be toward the south."

Big-Boy was very proud that he could tell so much about a cold-frame, but he was not foolishly proud. No, indeed, he was happy to be one of the workers and producers of food.

He hoped to get many fine vegetables from the little plants that would live in their glass nursery. "Now," he explained, "you must bury the ends of the wider boards until the soil is on a level with the 6-inch piece of board. The cold-frame is now 12 inches at the north end, and 6 inches at the south end. So it has a down hill look, but it is all right. When you want to air the baby plants put a wedge of wood under the glass frame to raise it."

"Now I am going to bank all around the frame with loose earth to make it snug and warm."

"Well, well, if the little plants have not a snug cradle just like little Earth Children," said the little Elf Man.

"Why, the are Earth Children—they spring right out of the earth," answered Big-Boy.

"True enough, true enough," nodded the Elf Man, "but I meant babies like you and Little-Girl were once upon a time."

"I never was a baby," answered Big-Boy, without thinking.

Then, of course, everyone laughed again.

CHILDREN HAVE THEIR OWN HOSPITAL

A hospital of "their very own" has been established by the members of the American Junior Red Cross in Spokane, Wash. Quarters were provided by the school board in one of the special buildings centrally located, where a school physician, nurses, head-quarters and a dental clinic already were in operation. Finding that the work of the school medical authorities did not reach into those where circumstances did not permit, a large attention to ready cases, the children undertook the establishment of a Children's Hospital, where, however, the other surgical cases could be treated free of charge or at a very small cost. The apartment was furnished by the children, a nurse engaged and a surgeon provided, under contract with the school board.

The All-Steel Twin City Threshers 22-42, 28-48, 36-60

"Just as good as last year Dad"

THE farmer who bought a Twin City 12-20 last year is sure of one thing—that it will do just as good work this year.

So much surplus power, surplus strength and surplus toughness are built into this tractor, that a year's hard service leaves hardly a trace.

In fact, Twin City engineers built the 12-20 to outlast any farmer's expectation. Nothing that would make it last longer has been left out.

Think of the extra years of service and constant dependability assured by such features as these:

Sixteen valve-in-head kerosene engine means perfect fuel combustion and great power; removable cylinder head and cylinder walls mean simplicity in making adjustments; counterbalanced crankshaft means reduced vibration and long life; transmission is mounted on Hyatt roller bearings and drives direct on both forward speeds; gears drop forged, steel cut and case hardened, running in a dust-proof bath of oil.

Write us today for the full details of this remarkable tractor. Also ask about all-steel Twin City Threshers.

A FAMILIAR ROLE

By ALVAH J. GARTH

Seeing a person stumped, but having no desire to help him in any way, is a common experience. It is a feeling of helplessness and sympathy that the well-meaning person feels. The person who is stumped is usually a stranger, and the person who is helping him is usually a friend.

"I am a weak, hungry, homeless man," came the latter words, convincing in their expression, and the generous heart of Barth went to his pocket. Then he gave a great start.

"Arden Hyslop," he exclaimed, and aside from surprise palpable gladness was in tone and face.

The other drew back as if humiliated by the recognition. "It is Mr. Barth?" he uttered faintly, peering closely. "I used to know you once."

"Know me now?" ordered Barth in bluff, hearty tones, and he linked his arm in a spontaneous friendly fashion within that of the other. "Down on your luck? I've been through that many a time since you and I met, ten years ago. I have an hour to spare. A restaurant, first! Don't talk, eat."

Barth's manner was irresistible. He fairly forced Hyslop along with him. He showed no embarrassment in ushering his unkempt companion into a fashionable restaurant. He spoke to him as though they were close familiar friends, he ordered a princely meal. Then as it was finished he took out his pocket book and selected from it half a dozen bank notes.

"Hyslop," he said, "I wish you to go and make yourself presentable and report at my office at the Grand theater at four o'clock this afternoon. Will you do it?" and the other bowed his head mutely in assent. His heart was too full for words.

"Our old acquaintanceship is all right," pursued Barth, "but aside from that business is business. By a strange circumstance one actor with the principal role in our play was taken ill this morning. I was on my way to find a substitute when I met you. Was ever such luck! For if I remember right you made a great hit in that drama, 'The Wanderer,' years ago. You must be familiar with the text."

"I will come," promised Hyslop. "Only I fear you will be disappointed in me."

Arden Hyslop looked a new man when he appeared at the theater that afternoon. Well fed, well dressed now, sober, grateful to generous-hearted Barth, a flush of hope and ambition had come to him. For five years he had sunk lower and lower after his habits of dissipation had separated him from his wife who, like himself, belonged to the histrionic profession. He had not heard from her or their little child since their parting.

Barth greeted the resuscitated actor cheerily, and with satisfaction as he noticed his clean shaved face and now neatly fitting attire. He handed him the manuscript of the play with the words:

"Just to remind you of the cues and the general run of the piece, you must remember the old lines pretty well. You will have good support, a lady who has made her mark in the role of 'Margaret.'"

"Who is she?" inquired Barth casually.

"Your wife."

It was a true dramatic climax. The manager watched its effect upon Hyslop with curiosity and interest. "Entrance? oh, never!" gasped Hyslop, recalling. "Why, man! do you not know that we have been separated for years, that I dragged her down to poverty and then cruelly deserted her? By this time doubtlessly she has been married, covered the tie that bound us as man and wife."

"You mistake," Barth informed him. "Your wife is not a woman to forget the man she once loved."

"And little Aileen?"

"Takes the child's part in the play. Man, if you are in earnest in your professed desire to heal the past, don't refuse this opportunity!"

Mrs. Hyslop was not made aware of the identity of the substitute actor by Barth, and it was only after the play had begun that she began to suspect, and then knew to a certainty that it was her husband who shared with her the two leading characters in the drama. She paled, she trembled, but, actress-like, she went through the ordeal, immersed in doing justice to her role.

It was in the final act, however, when "The Wanderer" returned to his family after a long separation, that she broke down. In the play the husband and father stands in upon his beloved child and reveals himself and together they weep with joy over his return.

The little one did not recognize him, but Arden Hyslop played the prodigal father with a fervor and pathos that had the whole audience spellbound. His gestures, his well-timed tears, the order of his very song, permeated every line he spoke. As the curtain fell, tears of joy and shame fairly shook the edifice. And, be it said, father, mother, child were compelled to appear to receive the emotional homage of the audience.

PROPER TENTS FOR CAMPERS

"Not really the first thing we think of in planning the outfit is the tent," writes Frederick K. Vreeland in an article on "Camping the Buckskin Way" in Boy's Life. "One can get along on short trips without a tent, throwing up a windbreak when it blows hard, or building a lean-to, using the tarpaulin for a roof if it rains, and you should learn how to do these things when you have to in emergencies. But in the long run it generally pays to take a tent."

"When I say a tent, I don't mean a house. One day in the 'wilds of Canada' I ran across an outfit in a wall tent almost as big as a flat for light housekeeping. We sized them up at once as duffers and dubbed them the 'circus tent outfit.' When we saw them aloft in a canoe piled high with all kinds of junk, we knew that our judgment was correct."

"All you really need in the way of a tent is a shelter big enough to keep your bed dry at night when it rains. One doesn't live in a tent in camp. He lives outdoors, and goes into the tent only when necessary. All the tent you really need can be rolled up into a very small bundle. A little 'pup' tent is good enough for short trips, but my favorite is the lean-to shelter with open front."

"The simplest kind of shelter is the ordinary 'baker' tent, 'so-called because it has the shape of the reflecting oven in which we bake our camp bread—and it works in very much the same way. It is the finest thing you can imagine for cold weather. Pitched with its back to the wind with a good fire built close in front, the sloping roof reflects the heat and you can take off your gloves and coat even with the thermometer well below zero. In the summer time it is delightfully airy. Of course if hot weather you don't pile the fire close enough to be uncomfortable."

"My favorite tent for light hiking is the little shelter. In principle it is like a baker tent, but it is pitched on a ridge pole or rope instead of a square frame. This makes it lighter because it uses less material, and makes it shed water better, since the slope is steeper and there is no broad roof to sag and hold a puddle. It is made of light but closely woven cotton goods, waterproofed with alum and sugar of lead. It weighs just four and a half pounds, and is big enough for three to sleep in on a pinch."

Has Never Seen Their Equal.
"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach trouble, biliousness and constipation off and on for the past ten years. I have never seen their equal yet. They strengthened my digestion, relieved me of headaches and had a mild pleasant action on my bowels. I take pleasure in recommending them," writes H. D. F. Farmer, Cridersville, Ohio.—Adv."

LOCALS LOSE TO SALISBURY'S FIREMEN

Delmar's Pitching Talent is Hit Hard By Visiting Players. Score, 13 to 9 on Tuesday.

The Salisbury Fire department baseball team won from the Delmar team in a hit and run game here on Tuesday, July 27th.

The game started with Tony Wilson on the mound for Delmar. Tony, however, was a little off color, and the visitors hammered him for four singles in the first inning, which netted them two runs.

When Delmar came to bat, Dixon, twirling for the Salisbury nine, struck out White and passed W. W. Hastings. Then Kenneth Ellis came up and swatted the pill for three bases, sending Hastings home with Delmar's tally for that inning.

The Salisbury bunch finished batting Wilson out of the box in the second and Ellegood was called in from left field to replace him. Wilson going to left field. The visitors succeeded in adding five more tallies to their side of the score in that inning.

During Delmar's second try at bat, Wilson was third man up with two out. He redeemed himself by slugging out a three base hit and romped home on a passed ball. And that ended the second inning.

Salisbury's third time up for batting practice netted them three more runs. Ellegood allowing them three passes and one hit, all of which were sorely trying to the enthusiasm of the home fans. The home players did not succeed in crossing the plate in this inning.

The third inning finished "Bug" and when the team took the field in the fourth it was seen that Landon was going to do the serving, though he had evidently not left home with any such intentions. From then on the spectators were treated to a regular ball game. During the balance of the game, Landon gave three passes, allowed one hit and hit one batter with a pitched ball, all of which allowed the visitors to chalk up three more runs, one each in the fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

To the accompaniment of much cheering and rooting, the home team made four runs in the fifth, six, seventh and eighth, making the final score 13 to 9 in favor of the visitors.

The lineup was as follows:
For Delmar: White, 3b; W. Hastings, c; K. Ellis, 2b; Truitt, rf; Pennell, 1b; Ellegood, lf; E. Hastings, cf; Wainwright, ss; Wilson, p; Landon, p.

For Salisbury: Dixon, p; Grier, 2b; Moore, 3b; G. Todd, c; Gray, ss; Sheridan, rf; N. Todd, lf; Hitchens, cf; Ingersoll, 1b.

The fifth, however, was full of excitement. The home fans, who were feeling jubilant over the one run lead and the playing of the team, were cast into gloom by the three runs the visitors scored in that inning. Joyner led off with a grounder to Hantwerker who fumbled it. Then Hantwerker made a bad throw to first, and Joyner went to second. Ames clouted out a single, advancing the runner to third, and on the next pitch, stole second.

Finley fied out to Truitt and Joyner scored. Ames advancing to third. James got first on an error and stole second. Then Townsend hit the ball and got first while the players were trying to keep Ames from scoring, which they did not do, however. James also advanced to third and Townsend stole second on the next pitch. Then James romped across the plate on a bad throw by Hantwerker. Tilghman struck out, and Moseley singled just over second, which Jacobs fielded and threw home just in time to get the runner at the plate. This was one of the prettiest plays of the game.

Delmar came to bat amidst deep and dismal gloom. But it was quickly lifted when Pennell led off with a single. Hastings fied out. Then Hoffmaster swatted out a single, putting "R. K." on second. Ames passed "Strawberry," filling the bases. Lowden punted the pill hard enough to send Pennell and Hoffmaster home, and White to third. Jacobs and Truitt were both thrown out at first. This left the score tied.

The sixth was quickly over. Rosten went out at first. Turlington got a single which either Lowden or White should have gotten, and went to second. Joyner fied out and Ames was thrown out at first. Hantwerker came to bat for Delmar and knocked a fly into leftfield, which Townsend dropped. The throw to the second pitcher fied out the runner, and Hantwerker was caught off second. Pennell then fied out to third.

Finley led off for the visitors in the seventh, and was thrown out at first. Lowden went to second on a single. Then Rosten went out at first. Turlington got a single which either Lowden or White should have gotten, and went to second. Joyner fied out and Ames was thrown out at first. Hantwerker came to bat for Delmar and knocked a fly into leftfield, which Townsend dropped. The throw to the second pitcher fied out the runner, and Hantwerker was caught off second. Pennell then fied out to third.

Finley led off for the visitors in the eighth, and was thrown out at first. Lowden went to second on a single. Then Rosten went out at first. Turlington got a single which either Lowden or White should have gotten, and went to second. Joyner fied out and Ames was thrown out at first. Hantwerker came to bat for Delmar and knocked a fly into leftfield, which Townsend dropped. The throw to the second pitcher fied out the runner, and Hantwerker was caught off second. Pennell then fied out to third.

The eighth opened with Moseley batting at the plate. Rosten was thrown out at first. Truitt singled and went to second on a passed ball. Turlington struck out. The huckleberry crop in lower Delaware is the largest for years, and those who have taken the time to go into the wood and gather them have found each day's work very profitable, for the berries have been selling at 25 cents the quart. More huckleberries have been shipped from Sussex county within the past week than for several years. In the celebrated Cypress Swamp, often referred to as the everglades of Delaware, farmers and their families have been busily engaged gathering them for the past two weeks. It is nothing unusual for a man to earn five dollars per day, while his children are able to pick enough to amount to $2 and $3 per day. For some of the families the crop will mean possibly $400.

Ken Ellis again pitched an excellent game, being at all times sure of himself. In Hastings he had a good catcher on whom he could depend. The rest of his support was good in spots, but the weak places were several and were taken advantage of nicely by the visitors. On the whole it was much the best game which Delmar has witnessed this season.

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM LOWER DELAWARE

Farmers in lower Delaware are busy digging their early crop of white potatoes, and from every section comes the report that the yield is the largest for many years. Most of the tubers are being shipped to New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chester and Wilmington, where they are bringing fancy prices. In some sections of this county, brokers are paying from $3.00 to $10.00 per barrel. A majority of the growers are replanting their fields for the second crop, when they propose to keep for winter use. On Friday and Saturday of last week, two trains passed over the D. M. & A. railroad through Georgetown, carrying 1,400 barrels of potatoes to the market. A third train, which carried 1,000 barrels, was sent to the market on Sunday.

Nock, who will begin renovating the building in the near future. Mr. Nock intends to make the place one of the most attractive stores and office buildings in Salisbury.

It is reported the money involved in the sales transaction was approximately $12,000. Mr. Nock took title of the building on March 1 of this year.

Even though the plans for the remodeling of the structure are not yet complete, one of the ground floor storerooms has already been leased by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., of Jersey City, N. J., cut rate cash grocers, who will operate a branch store here.

The tentative plans of the building when it is remodeled, provide for two storerooms on the ground floor with fronts on Division street and several modern office rooms on the upper floor. To the building will be added a collar of the same area as the building itself and in this will be installed an adequate heating plant.

The present structure will be practically demolished, only the rear and two side walls will remain standing. The present front will be replaced by ornamental plate glass for display purposes. The entire interior will be changed. The sloping floor will be removed, the stage eliminated and the space now occupied as a stage, made a part of the ground floor proper. The balcony will be removed and a second floor installed. Plans provide for all modern conveniences including electric lights, toilets, lavatories, etc. Entrance to the second floor will be made by a stairway opening from Division street in the center of the building. The stairway will be the division line between the two ground floor storerooms. Mr. Nock expects that the improvements will be completed by January 1.

The Liberty theater building was erected in 1909 for theatrical purposes. As an amusement house it never was a real success. As such, it has been operated under several different competent managements and during its career it has been known as the Auditorium, Coliseum and Liberty theaters.

As the Auditorium, under the management of John Green, vaudeville and burlesque performances were presented there and it was the only theater in the city.

Thought His Car Stolen From Garage

Wilmington Man Forgot Where He Left His Machine and Thought It Was Stolen. Police Aid Sought.

A peculiar case of forgetfulness occurred on Friday morning when H. G. Merrick, of 1801 Franklin street, Wilmington, Del., claimed that his Model 90 Overland had been stolen from Williams' garage on West Church street the night before. J. Waller Williams, the proprietor of the garage, firmly declared that no car answering the description given, had been left in his place, and as Mr. Merrick insisted the argument assumed a somewhat serious aspect.

The police were notified by Mr. Merrick of the theft of his car when shortly after it was learned that an Overland car of the same type had been found without an owner at the Shoreman garage. Upon inspection Mr. Merrick found that it was his car and then remembered that he had left his car in the Shoreman for storage instead of Williams' garage.

It seems to be a fact that, under the law, a garage owner is not responsible for loss by theft of any car stored in his place of business.

Council Issues Building Permits

They Include Permit To Remodel Liberty Theater Building on Division Street and Erect Pavilion.

The meeting of the City Council on Monday night found every member and the mayor present.

Five building permits were granted to applicants: W. B. Tilghman, for improvements to his home on Camden avenue; E. W. Dorman, to build a wood house adjoining his house on the south side of Vine street; W. S. Nock, to remodel the Liberty theater; Alexander Wingate, to build a workshop on the north side of Isabella street, and W. D. Winston (colored) to build a pavilion on Delaware street, with the restrictions that good order be maintained and nothing be done obnoxious to law abiding citizens. The mayor was granted power to appoint two colored policemen to enforce order.

The report of the assessment of new properties was ordered accepted and advertised by the council. Watson D. Mitchell, E. J. C. Parsons and G. Waller Phillips were the assessors.

ROTARIANS TO ENTERTAIN AUG. 19

Sixty Members of Baltimore Club Will Be Guests of Local Organization At a Banquet.

The Baltimore Rotary club is to be the guest of Salisbury Rotarians, on August 19th.

This was arranged on Thursday evening in the dining room of the Peninsula hotel at the bi-weekly luncheon of Salisbury representatives of Rotary, after President Marvin Evans had read a letter from the Baltimoreans requesting the Salisbury club to entertain 50 or 60 from the sister club. Definite plans for the entertainment of the Rotarians have not yet been made but a banquet either in this city or at the seashore is a certainty.

The result of the efforts of a committee from the club to have gates placed at the Westover crossing was read by Chairman Evans of the committee. The railroad agreed to have a stop signal placed there but refused to install gates because of the heavy expense involved.

Former Governor Goldsborough was to have been a speaker at the luncheon, but at the last minute telephoned his regrets. The former governor was to have spoken on Rotary.

AUTO LICENSES ARE DISTRIBUTED

Monday from 9 to 12 in the morning was the occasion of the visit of Deputy Commissioners Spicer and Chapman to this city in order to distribute drivers' licenses. There were 52 applicants of which nine were for chauffeur's licenses. The next visit of the special officer will be on Tuesday, the 24th of this month.

SALISBURY TO HAVE COLORED POLICEMEN?

Council Instructs Mayor To Name Two Colored Men To Wear City's Police Uniform and Badge.

Salisbury is to have two colored policemen—if the decision of the mayor and council reached at their meeting on Monday night is carried out.

If Mayor Kennerly appoints colored men as guardians of the peace of Salisbury, he will by this act, be responsible for another of those innovations for which his administration so far, has been famous.

Whether the mayor will make the appointments, when, and who his appointees will be, are questions as yet unanswered; but the fact remains that the City Council voted on Monday night to instruct the chief executive to make the appointments; and he was so instructed.

Of course it is supposed that the colored policemen, if they are appointed by the mayor, will serve in the colored sections of the city and among their own people. That seems to have been the intention of the council; for the decision to name colored men as members of the Salisbury police force was reached after a discussion which ended in the granting to W. D. Winston, a permit to erect a pavilion on Delaware street in the California section.

It is understood that the pavilion will be used by the colored people for picnics and outings and the permit for its erection was granted only after the council had voiced the opinion that the place of amusement should always be operated along lawful and peaceful lines.

It was with this understanding, and probably with the intention of having the place operated legally and peacefully, that the decision to appoint two colored policemen was reached. Since this is the case, it can be assumed that the two proposed colored police officers will be detailed to posts in that section of the city where the colored folks are to have their amusement pavilion.

JIMMY VALENTINE THE ARCADE HIT

Picture Story of Crook Who Made Good Finds Favor With City's Host of Movie Fans.

Nazimova, Pauline Frederic and Bert Lytell are three players who take rank in moviedom; and there are seldom found three players who take such varied subjects for their films.

Nazimova in her role of a child of the streets, dancer, and accomplished wife of a nobleman; Miss Frederic, in her part of an unfortunate working girl, then later as a society woman; and Bert, alias Jimmy Valentine, famous crook and ex-convict, alias Lee Randall, popular college Christian worker in his perfect characterization of all, each delighted packed houses on the nights of their appearances at the Arcade.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" was the first picture in which Lytell has appeared in this city and not only the way in which Bert portrays his character but also the natural manner, the originality of the characters, scenes, and story of the play pleased the theater patrons. The picture was one that kept the climax hidden until the last reel and brought into action every factor that would produce sympathy for a man trying to overcome a great weakness.

Of the three acts which composed the vaudeville offering for the week Lore and Payne in their original acrobatic stunts were the most popular.

CONGRESSMAN WILL SEND VALUABLE BOOKS

Congressman J. Charles Linthicum has a large number of 1919 agricultural year books on hand. He will be glad to send one to any party who would be interested in the book. Address him, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. Mr. Linthicum represents a city district, and consequently has very few calls for this book.

The Great Salisbury Fair.

Be sure to read the announcement, to be found elsewhere in this issue, of THE GREAT SALISBURY FAIR, to be held on August 24, 25, 26 and 27. Note what they have to say as to their racing, both light harness and running; free attractions, mentioning a few of the daring stunts to be performed by the airplane, and other attractions on their midway.

HOME FOR AGED ELECTS TRUSTEES

Graham Gunby and Charles Heed Succeed Deceased Members. F. P. Adkins Now Vice President.

Graham Gunby of Salisbury and Charles Heed of Philadelphia were elected members of the Salisbury Home for the Aged corporation on August 9, to succeed the late Marion V. Brewington and the late John B. Parsons. Graham Gunby was elected a member of the board of trustees to succeed Mr. Brewington, and Fred P. Adkins was elected vice president to succeed Mr. Brewington.

The board of trustees now consists of Walter B. Miller, Fred P. Adkins, William S. Gordy, Jr., Graham Gunby, F. W. C. Webb, Miss Laura Brenizer, Mrs. Belle Jones, Mrs. Irving S. Powell and Miss Jennie Taylor.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Salisbury Home for the Aged at the meeting held on August 9th:

"With most profound sorrow, the board of trustees of the Salisbury Home for the Aged marks the death of our late vice-president and associate, the Honorable Marion V. Brewington. Allied with our institution since its modest inception, none has contributed more tireless, sympathetic, or beneficial endeavors to create a goal we seek—atmosphere of comfort and happiness abundant in our home among those for whom it was created. In our councils his unfailing wisdom and his helpful advice we shall sorely miss; the home has lost an unselfish and faithful friend.

"Be it, therefore, resolved, that this tribute be spread on the minutes of the board of trustees and a copy thereof sent to Mrs. Brewington."

NEW FERRY LINE NOW IN OPERATION

Boats Connecting Eastern Shore and Baltimore Make 16 Trips a Day Between City and Rock Hall.

The Baltimore and Eastern Shore Ferry began operations this week. The new ferry will operate between Bay Shore and Rock Hall, thus spanning the Chesapeake at its narrowest point, being only nine miles from shore to shore. Passengers who board the ferry at Rock Hall will be at Charles and Fayette street, Baltimore, in one hour and a quarter.

Two ferry boats of large carrying capacity will operate on the route making 16 trips every day. The boats will be the City of Baltimore and the Eastern Shore and will be able to carry on each trip 28 trucks of the large army type, 500 passengers and 15 motorcycles.

For the convenience of passengers and as an incentive to induce them to go to Baltimore for purchases rather than Philadelphia, motorbus lines have been established on the Eastern Shore to run both up and down the Peninsula from Rock Hall. Regular schedules have been established and buses will meet every ferry arriving from Baltimore.

Large steel and concrete piers have been built at Bay Shore and Rock Hall for the accommodation of the boats and provision has been made for the docking of large tonnage on both sides of the piers.

It is understood that a bus line will run between Rock Hall and Ocean City.

FORMER RESIDENT WEDS IN BALTIMORE

Miss Louise Veasey Becomes Mrs. William Bauman At Her Sister's Home on Saturday Morning.

The marriage of Miss Louise Veasey, formerly of this city, more recently of Baltimore, and William Bauman, of New York, took place on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harry Parkhurst, 1410 Park avenue, Baltimore. The Rev. Kingman Handy, formerly a minister in this city, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white silk and carried a large bouquet of sweetheart roses and orange blossoms. The wedding took place in the parlor which was beautifully decorated with tall palms and roses.

A wedding luncheon was served the guests after which the bride and groom left for points in Michigan. They will be at home after November 15 at 6000 Broadway, New York, in which city the groom is in business.

Mrs. Bauman is the daughter of Mrs. William F. Veasey and is a graduate of the Wicomico High school. Her sister, Mrs. Marion Parkhurst, a member of Baltimore Board of Education, recently addressed the Alumni association of the High school. Her father, the late Captain W. F. Veasey, was in command of the steamer Virginia for many years and lived on Chestnut street in this city for some time.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS HERE ON SEPTEMBER 4

On September 4 the Salisbury Civil Service examiner will hold an examination for the position of clerk carrier in the Salisbury postoffice. The position commands a salary of $1,400 annually. Miss Ola Day is the civil service examiner in this city.

The old Clara school question, which has been a source of great agitation for the last two years, and which has engendered much bad feeling throughout the neighborhoods of White Haven and Clara, was again before the Board of Education on Monday morning.

Two conflicting delegations, each composed of about 30 prominent people, and each represented by counsel, were present. The hearing was held in the court room, the office of the Board of Education being inadequate to accommodate the crowd. F. L. Waller represented those favorable to a continuation of the present plan of consolidation of the White Haven and Clara schools, and F. W. C. Webb and T. H. Lewis, Jr., represented those opposed to the plan of consolidation. Several witnesses were examined on both sides.

Two years ago the Board of Education decided to close the Clara school and to transport the pupils from Clara to White Haven. The reasons for taking this action were that the attendance at the Clara school was falling dangerously near the point where the school would have to be closed, and that the White Haven attendance was also nearing the point where the ninth grade would be lost to the school. As the Clara school was a one-room school, teaching only seven grades, the Board of Education figured that with the entrance of the Clara scholars into the White Haven school, the attendance would be ample to maintain the two-room school at the latter point, teaching nine grades. By such an arrangement the board considered that the Clara pupils would have the advantages of better educational facilities.

The board arranged for a wagon to transport the Clara scholars to White Haven free of cost to the parents. After deciding upon the plan of consolidation the county superintendent was instructed to notify the parents affected by the change, that the Clara school would be closed, and asking the parents to co-operate with the board in making the plan successful, the board promising that after one year's trial, if the plan was not satisfactory, the board would again open the Clara school.

Then came a fight against consolidation on the part of the Clara people which grew in intensity from month to month, delegation after delegation came before the board, predicting failure of the plan because of impassable roads and inability of the wagon to make daily trips with any degree of regularity. The health of the pupils would, it was claimed, be jeopardized by riding twice each day a distance of three miles. Many more objections were urged, but the board, convinced that the plan of consolidation would be the proper thing and

More than 37,000 graduate nurses have been enrolled in the American Red Cross to date and its department of nursing is daily increasing this enrollment.

The department of nursing has been authorized to maintain an adequate reserve of nurses for the army and navy. It will continue to supply the needs of the United States Public Health service to which it has assigned more than 1,000 nurses in the last year.

It will assist in establishing proper nursing service in foreign countries where the American Red Cross has organized hospitals, dispensaries and schools for nurses. Courses in home hygiene and care of the sick have been started for thousands of women who have never received any education in this direction. Rural nursing which was in its infancy a short while ago has been put ahead at least a decade through the work of the department of nursing and local Red Cross chapters.

Public health nursing has been extended to the rural communities and the new feature of a health unit is of small towns and villages. Nearly a million of the University of Maryland, thousands of students have received their training in the kind of work.

The department of nursing is uniting with other organizations in a year's campaign in recruiting nurses. The for training schools in the department of nursing education and in showing communities their responsibilities in ward schools of nursing. It will endeavor to meet all these needs as well as to continue the enrollment of dietitians who will be utilized as instructors in home dietetics, in developing nutritional clinics, and in supplying dietitians for the United States Public Health service and the civilian hospitals.

The Nursing service will continue to offer to women and young girls the opportunity of securing instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick in every community in the country. This instruction has not only laid the foundation for public health but in some places has given impetus to the establishment of hospitals and community

Each exhibit will carry its own lesson in improved methods and to make the display more forceful specialists will be in charge of all the booths to explain any phases of the work not clearly understood by the visitors. BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN DORCHESTER CO.

Scott Willey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Willey, of Drawbridge, was seriously injured last Saturday night, about 11 o'clock while he was in Cambridge. In attempting to cross Race street, near Smith & Wall's store, he was struck and knocked down by an automobile, and before he could get up another car, coming in the opposite direction, ran over him.

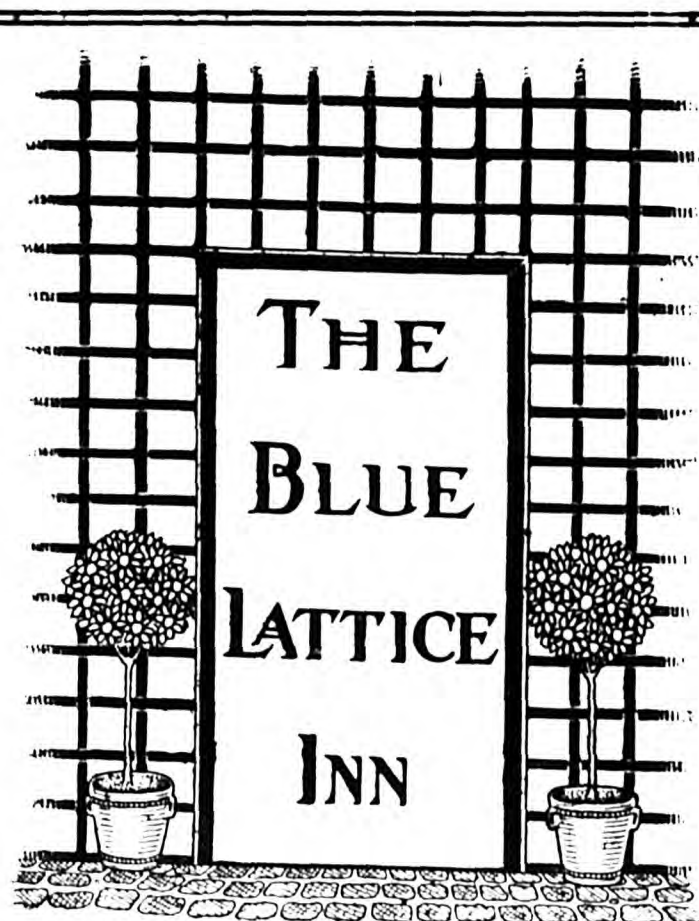

Harvey E. Warren, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Warren, of Haddon, the county, died at his home in this county, about 10 o'clock last night, of a disease which had been developing for some time.

The woman who was a wealthy thy farmer, of near Oak Grove, who died a few weeks ago, has been filed in the Orphans' Court of Dorchester county. A caveat to the will has been filed by Henry N. Wright, Ohio; Frank Wright, Federalburg; Mrs. Hattie, wife of Carey Tatum, Baltimore; and Mrs. Lida Elder, wife of E. H. Elder, Philadelphia, who are represented by T. Alan Goldsborough, of Kenton, and A. Stengle Marine, Cambridge. The caveat alleges that Mr. Wright did not sign the will, that he was not competent to make a will and that undue influence upon him was exercised. The case is before the Orphans' Court. The caveat, Miss May Wright, is represented by Frederick H. Fletcher. The will disposes of an estate estimated at more than $200,000.

Shuloh camp, the big camp meeting of this county, and probably the largest on the Eastern Shore, started last Friday and will close next Sunday night. For many years this camp ground has been the meeting place of thousands of persons from this and adjoining counties, this being particularly true since the state road was built. As is known to practically all of the country people it is situated on the state road leading from Salisbury to Cambridge, also the road connecting the Denton-Federalburg road from Harlock to the Salisbury-Cambridge road.

Salisbury's New Pitcher Toys With White Haven

Game on Saturday Ends With Salisbury Holding Big End of 5 to 0 Score. Earnshaw Delighted in Filling Bases With Tow Outs, and Then Fanning the Third Batter.

Old Sol was sufficiently vied by cooling clouds to prevent the hundreds of spectators at the White Haven-Salisbury baseball game at White Haven on Saturday afternoon from suffering because of the heat. As it was, the diamond was in perfect shape and the ball fairly danced under the impelling influence of brawn, muscle and hickory sticks.

But to get back to the game, Gordy and Davis served up the White Haven barrage while Earnshaw and Wright, representing Wicomico's metropolis, struck terror to the hearts of the shipbuilders with their clever manipulations of the horsehide sphere. During the game the six foot four heaver for Salisbury allowed only three hits and in no one of the nine sessions did he exert himself.

The first two innings passed with both nines playing safe. Men reached first and second on both sides but died waiting for assistance toward the home station.

In the third the real fireworks began when Hoffman singled to the left pasture. Loomis followed with a Texas leaguer. Three good whiffs at the ozone was Porter's best effort and Morris succeeded him at the stick, producing what ought to have been an easy out. The shortstop for White Haven, after gazing at the other runners, finally decided to throw to first, the heave eluding the first sacker by yards while Hoffman ambled home with Loomis tagging behind him. Wright grounded to the pitcher, who threw him out at first and Earnshaw brought the riversiders in to the dug-out with an easy offering to the key-stone baseman.

In the White Haven half of the third that team worked hard for a score. Kibler coaxed Earnshaw into giving him a complimentary pass to first but as Bounds, who was the next hitter to face the Upton smoke expert, produced a pop-fly which lovingly nestled in the glove of the pitcher, the latter easily caught Kibler off first. The pellet was caught near the foul line and on a strong protest by White Haven, the fly was adjudged foul by the ump and Kibler received a new life. The hot corner guardian for White Haven went to second on an error and continued to third on an out. The next hitter slammed one that had two bases written all over it, but McNiff, playing third, made a one handed pick-up and accented the play with a perfect throw to first which caught the runner by a hair. The play was sensational and the diminutive third sacker received much applause. The fourth session passed by without rippling the score.

The fifth resulted in a hit by Hoffman who was the first man up. Loomis achieved his hope of helping Hoffman around the paths by a pretty sacrifice but Porter was out, second to first, and Morris was retired via the strikeout route. The White Havenites in their turn were mowed down in order with the exception of a walk. Pruitt fled to Porter at short; Malone succumbed on his way to first because of the pitcher safely fielding his grounder; Williams strolled, but Earnshaw slipped the third strike over on the next swat-smith.

One run from solid hitting was garnered in the sixth by Earnshaw, who doubled along the rightfield foul line after Wright had been called out on strikes. Duffy came through in the pinch with a clean single between short and the half way station, Earnshaw scoring on the safety. McNiff tried hard to introduce the pill to the river but the centerfielder successfully captured it after a hard run.

Duffy was caught off second making the third out, although it seemed to the crowd that the pitcher had really committed a balk. The latter half of the sixth resulted in Bounds being killed off by an easy roller to the pitcher. Kibler ceased his exertions by the same process but J Bounds received a life on his bingle to the left garden. Davis hit the first pitched ball to deep center, Bounds pulling up at the third sack because of the wallop. Earnshaw then uncorked a little smoke, and head work and as a result, three pitched balls were enough to end the inning with White, the White Haven batsman, merely looking at the ball go by. With the death of White, White Haven lost its best opportunity to be saved from the ignominy of a shutout.

The lucky seventh also saw a strong chance for the queen city of Wicomico to register. Turner was out, third to first, but Hoffman pushed a Texas leaguer to left. Loomis pulled a long one to center but the gardener of that pasture made a fine catch holding Hoffman to first. Porter singled over the first baseman's head and Morris drew a pass good for one base only. Wright failed to produce with the bases loaded and the inning closed with his strikeout.

For White Haven, Pruitt was too tired to run so he struck out. Malone fled to the left field caretaker but Williams singled between the first and second sackers. Gordy whiffed, retiring the side.

Earnshaw opened the eighth with a strikeout. Duffy singled to the right field quarters. McNiff hit sharply to Bounds, who fielded the pellet perfectly, stepping on the midway sandbag forcing out Duffy and tossing McNiff out at first for a double play.

In the concluding part of the eighth Bounds exhilarated by the exhortations of the rooters led Robertson wasted a lot of

ing the sphere to center. It was carefully taken care is. Morris, playing second, visitors also robbed the river of a sure hit by completing a bare hand pickup with a difficult toss to the initial sack. J. Bounds connected with a difficult one and sent it to center where Bill Loomis safely collected it.

Two more tallies trekked over the rubber disk in our half of the ninth, when Turner rapped out a two-ply wallop. Hoffman perished on a high offering to center, but Loomis smacked a single to the same locality, giving Turner a safe ride home. Loomis continued to the second station on the throw. Porter sent a blisterer to the first base guardian whose throw to third in an attempt to cut off Loomis went wide by several feet. The Salisbury veteran brought in the final counter of the game while the hot corner caretaker was chasing the elusive spheroid. Porter went to the keystone bag on the throw but was held there while Morris was exterminated by the first sacker unassisted. Wright worked Gordy for a pass but Earnshaw was a victim of the Washington college hurler on strikes.

Davis opened the home team's half of the last session with a safety to the middle garden. White lifted the ball to right but Turner was waiting when the horsehide returned to earth. Pruitt forced Davis at second, McNiff making the play and Ringgold, pinch hitting for Malone, was given a life on an error by McNiff. Williams couldn't see the ball and three straight strikes ended the game with the scorekeeper's book reading 5 to 0.

Notwithstanding the complete defeat of White Haven, the game was interesting at all times. Several good plays interspersed with good pitching kept the fans backing either team on their toes.

Earnshaw, the Salisbury slab artist, endeared himself to the fans by his coolness and complete control in the box. At times the White Haven players, themselves, remarked that he pitched as if he were toying with them. The fact that he struck out the last man in the fifth, sixth, seventh and ninth innings with men always on the bases bears this out. Earnshaw also contributed several safeties to the Salisbury total.

Mule Finds An Affinity In Auto

Country Jinny Shows Fondness For C. W. Whealon's Dodge Car on Saturday Morning.

The popularity of automobiles was clearly demonstrated at 11.05 on Saturday morning when a mule attempted to board the Dodge car belonging to Charles Whealon on Division street in front of the Court House.

The mule, drawing a wagon with two negroes driving, was moving up Division street, near Main, when she suddenly refused to comply with the directions issued by her drivers and rearing on her hind feet, placed her two forward pedal extremities on the fender of the car. The mule finally moved forward and then succeeded in jamming the wagon's front wheels against the car, this time bending the mechanism used in raising the top of the machine. All efforts by several men to budge the animal failed and the car was ultimately moved forward to separate the affectionate quadruped from its newly acquired motor driven affinity.

HOT WEATHER HINTS.

Don't hurry and don't worry.
Walk on the shady side of the street.
Eat sufficiently of seasonable foods.
Sleep a plenty and keep up your appetite and you will find the heat will not be hurtful to you.
If some emergency has caused you to over-exert yourself, cool off gradually.
Don't sit in a draft when wet with perspiration.
Don't fret about the weather when the mercury flirts with the top of the bulb.
It takes heat to make the corn grow.
Don't leave stock or poultry all day without water. It is useless cruelty and costs you in dollars and cents in results from herds or hens.
A great deal of the farm work in the very hot periods can be done at night or in the early morning, saving both man and beast.
If required to work under a very hot sun a handkerchief wrung out in cold water frequently placed under your hat on top of the head will prove a great relief.
A lunch in the middle of the forenoon, accompanied by cold buttermilk, will make the workers in the field feel like brand-new men.
If you are a town man you are apt in hot weather to over-indulge in iced drinks.
Such drinks in moderation are not noticeably harmful to the person in normal health, but the tendency to over-indulge should be repressed.

B. I. S.

This means BUY IN SALISBURY.

It is a slogan which is being very generally adopted by the people of Salisbury who are interested in Salisbury.

There never was a time, perhaps, when people were so sorely tempted to do their buying away from their home city. There never was a time perhaps, when buying in Salisbury could be done so advantageously to the buyer.

Salisbury's merchants, collectively, are the city's greatest employers of local people.

Every year they dump into the pockets of their employees, and through these, to the pockets of other Salisbury merchants, property owners, professional men, etc., many thousands of dollars. It is their money which contributes very largely to the life of the city.

What does the out-of-town department store do for Salisbury? How much employment does it give that girl or that man you know here in Salisbury, who works in a Salisbury store?

Suppose that every one who lives in Salisbury failed to patronize this city's stores, how long do you suppose the Salisbury stores would be able to continue in business, and how long do you suppose they would be able to give employment to those who depend upon those stores now for their bread and butter?

The man who owns a house or a lot in Salisbury, who has a business of any kind in Salisbury or practices a profession here, owes it to himself and to his city to see that those who derive financial benefit from his earnings spend their money in Salisbury.

The reason? Every man who is in business here, no matter what that business is, gets a direct benefit from the taxes paid and the salaries paid by the owners of the local stores. If the stores should suddenly cease to do business, every business in the city would suffer materially.

Salisbury's merchants are among the city's most beneficial class of citizens. By doing business here, they help everyone else who does business here.

It is to the interest of every one, therefore, that the slogan, B. I. S., be adopted and practiced by every man, woman and child, who has his and her own and the city's interest at heart.

KEEPING CREDIT GOOD.

Credit men hold that the merchant asking for unusual favors in the way of extension may be counted as having been indiscreet or guilty of poor merchandising. There seems to be no reason why business should be conducted in any other than a businesslike manner at this time. There is no apparent reason why any merchant should ask for unusual credit if he has properly conducted his business and paid due regard to ordinary business rules.

The wise dealer always keeps his standing good by prompt payments, or by discounting his bills, and just now it is particularly to his advantage to have a reputation for being prompt pay. With business as good as it is, slow accounts, whether wholesale or retail, indicate to the credit grantor that there is something wrong with the individual; either he is extending too much credit, is slow in making collections, is expanding too rapidly or is tying up his liquid capital in fixed assets.

To some men the temptation to speculate, to invest largely in extending lines that seem to offer unusual profits is too strong to be resisted. Even the "little fellow," enjoying unusual prosperity, on account of the high cost of food stuffs, rents, and other articles, is disposed to tie them up in a fixed form, perhaps buying a house or a little farm. It might be wiser for him to resist, so that he can take advantage of the market or have them for quick action if he needs them.

Many a dealer has obtained a reputation for having a good business head by prompt and quick liquidation of obligations. His capital may have been less than that of a competitor doing twice the business, yet, because of his conscientious care of his payments and the slack methods of the competitor, he has a higher credit rating with the men from whom he buys.

The general opinion throughout the business world today is that there is no excuse for either sloppy methods or unusual credits. Business is soon enough to make it unnecessary to grant such credits if proper care is taken and the dealer has ordinary ability. Proper attention to this department will not only enhance the reputation of any firm, but will help the general business tone of the country and tend to keep up the high level of prosperity without endangering its continuance.

Inasmuch as the whole world is passing through a trying time of readjustment, and each man's welfare is bound up in that of his neighbor, it behooves everyone to do his part in keeping the business world healthy. And this matter of credit is one of the important ways in which each can help by asking no more than necessary and then cutting down the necessity as much as possible by wise foresight, careful buying, aggressive selling, and close collections.

IS THIS AN OPPORTUNITY?

A report which may be of benefit to those men of Salisbury who are anxious to help the city by finding a solution of its housing problem, reached THE NEWS office this week and is published in the hope that its accuracy may be ascertained and some steps taken to remedy a condition which is surely keeping away from Salisbury families of people who would move and live here, had they houses in which to live.

This report is to the effect that the DuPont Chemical Co., of Carney's Point, N. J., E. W. Wiggins, superintendent, has about 400 bungalows of six rooms and bath each, of which it is willing to dispose at a reasonable price. The report says these are Aladdin, ready-cut houses, which have never been set up. Their outside construction is of rubberoid and three inch stripping and the interior is of Beaver Board. The houses in question have latticed front and back porches and each is wired for electricity. It is said that these houses can be bought for about $500 each.

There is no question but that there is a great need for houses in Salisbury. There is no question but that these houses would be built but for the almost prohibitive cost of building material and labor. It is the opinion of those familiar with the building trades that these prices will not decrease for many years. Therefore it is almost safe to assume that Salisbury's need of houses will be continued for a long time, unless that need is eliminated by a too great weariness on the part of those who would rent houses here, to continue their efforts to find such houses.

The report of the Carney's Point houses reached THE NEWS office this week. It was given by a man who has worked for the DuPont concern in that place as a construction and sanitary engineer. He said the houses are attractive in design, of fairly good construction and well equipped for the accommodation of small families.

If there is truth in this report, and the houses are really available, wouldn't it be a wise thing for Salisbury's wide awake business men to acquire a few of the places and set them up attractively for the benefit of those people who would jump at a chance to rent or buy them?

At least it wouldn't cost but a two cent stamp to inquire into the matter.

THE AUTO'S PERFECT DAY.

With railroads so handicapped by car shortage that they are unable to transport freight from point to point, the automobile truck is having its own perfect day.

With freight rates increased and threatening still further increase, the auto truck is coming more and more generally into use.

With passenger train service none too good in any part of the country and rates greatly increased, more and more insistent is the demand for passenger automobiles.

When it is considered that after the initial cost of the automobile is taken care of, it costs but five cents a mile to operate a car and that from one to seven people can travel the same mile for the same five cents, the economy of travelling by machine can be readily recognized—and added to the economy is the advantage of going where and when you like and choosing your own travelling companions.

There was a day when an automobile was a luxury. That day is gone. Today a car of some kind is an almost absolute necessity to a great many people—and rich and poor own automobiles and Fords, according to their financial means.

A car is a necessity in business and in pleasure. Its business needs are many and varied. In social life it affords opportunity for whole families to travel together to the same place at the same time in close personal association with one another. Its low cost of operation affords people, even of very moderate means, clean and healthful recreation at a price within their power to pay.

That the automobile has been injurious to railroad traffic is indicated by statements recently published from the heads of some of the road's managements, in which they said traffic had decreased by reason of the automobile, demanding that they increase their rates or suffer financial loss.

The outlook for the automobile and motor truck is indeed bright. There is hardly a limit to the volume of business their manufacturers and dealers may do. Their scope of use is daily increasing and will continue to increase.

The last year was the heaviest in the history of the motor car business in this country. The manufacturing of the cars alone, being third in the list of American industries.

Just now local dealers are in the midst of the usual mid-summer slump. People are not buying cars or anything else; but wait until early fall and see the automobile and truck business jump—for the motor driven vehicle is just beginning to come into its own and the end of its day is decades ahead.

Miss Sallie Elzey has gone to Wilmington where she attended the wedding of Miss Mallie Phillips to Aldes Heinz which occurred yesterday. Miss Elzey will spend several days in Atlantic City before returning to Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shultz left this city on Saturday for Altoona, Pa., to spend sometime with relatives. Mr. Shultz will return to this city in two weeks but Mrs. Shultz will remain in Altoona until the middle of September.

Mrs. William Majors, of Philadelphia, who is connected with the Philadelphia Shirt Manufacturing Co., was the recent guest of friends in this city. Mrs. Majors signed a three year contract with the shirt company recently. She formerly lived in that city.

Rev. W. H. Davis, of Norfolk, Va., formerly pastor of the Trinity M. E. church South in this city, arrived on Friday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Grier, Jr. He returned the earlier part of this week, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Virginia Davis, who has been the guest of Miss Mamie Grier for two weeks.

Ten car loads of fine peaches were shipped by the Harrisons, of Berlin, last week and they expect to ship 100 more this season. Mr. Harrison says they have a splendid crop due to the spraying and caring for the trees, and this is the eighth successive year their orchards have produced fine crops.

Getting The Most Out Of Your Living Room--

Is chiefly a matter of furnishing it to the best advantage. If it is to be all deserving of its cause, the Living Room must have first, furniture that will stand living within every sense of the word.

It must be substantially built, to stand the wear and tear that constant use will give it.

It must be simple and unobtrusive in design so that one does not tire of it after years of usage.

It must emphasize the quality of comfort so that in its turn the room will look inviting and comfortable.

And then it must have artistic merit so that it is decoratively worth while.

Furniture that reaches this high standard is not easy to obtain even if one's means are ample; it is still more difficult if expenditures must be limited.

That is why our AUGUST SALE OF FURNITURE is so very worth while, providing as it does, living room furniture at a price which a modest income can afford.

THE REDUCTIONS ON LIVING ROOM FURNITURE MAKE FURNISHING OR ADDING TO THAT PARTICULAR ROOM WORTH WHILE DURING OUR AUGUST SALE OF FURNITURE.

WM. H. PARKER MAKES GENERAL TRUCKING PAY

By Ben Barber.

For a week he had been pointed out to me on the streets of Salisbury, a tall bronzed figure, little stooped despite his sixty summers—and strenuous ones many of them had been—as the man who had made good on fifty dollars less than nothing.

But back in 1891, as I learned when I met him, William H. Parker had something in his mind more valuable than dollars in his pocket. He had courage. He had confidence in himself and he spelled them both with capital letters.

His confidence and courage proved contagious. He had the faculty of making others believe in him even as he believed in himself. So when he finally decided that as a hand in a local sawmill the future held little for him and his growing family he persuaded a Salisbury business man to stake him to the purchase of a 72-acre tract a few miles out of town. It would take a long stretch of imagination to picture the present prosperous tract with its waving fields of rye, its blossoming cucumbers and cantaloupes and the attractively arranged farm home and outbuildings with the desolate stretch of pine woods of 1892.

But as Wicomico pine woods was not as costly then as today the whole tract totaled $1,825.00. Today, cleared of pine woods and in its present condition of fertility, it is worth approximately $15,000.00.

One of Parker's first crops was a two-acre field of corn, which yielded 20 bushels of nubbins. Last year the same field produced 100 bushels of good corn. Parker's experience is good proof of the statement that Wicomico sand will respond to right treatment. On the 25 acres of the original tract which he is farming now he will make from 20 to 30 bushels of rye and enough long feed to take care of 15 head of live stock. This same pine woods land or a part of the tract at least yields an average of 15,000 bushels of sweet potatoes, 200 crates of cantaloupes and 20 to 30 bushels of rye per acre.

The significant part of the above paragraph is this "enough long feed to take care of 15 head of live stock." This is far from the ordinary practice in a trucking region and may explain in part why Mr. Parker has made such a success in improving the pine woods he bought in 1892.

The popular rotation in this immediate section provides for but one grass hay or grain crop. Crimson clover enters in to the rotation to be cut for hay and the stubble turned under. Mr. Parker's rotation calls for six crops in four years of which three are grown for hay, grain or green manure to be turned under. The stubble from two of these crops plus the third crop, turned under green has supplied one of the necessary ingredients to improve sandy soil—humus.

Mr. Parker has divided his farm into four parts so that each piece of land has the same crop every four years—at least he has so divided that portion consisting of some 25 acres which he and one unmarried son continue to till, for where once stood 72 acres of land mostly woods and one farm dwelling there now stands three.

Realizing that humus is vital to sandy soil Mr. Parker has planned to take care of this need and at the same time provide enough long feed so that for the last ten years he has been able to raise enough long feed for 15 head. Rye is cut for grain after which a crop of cow peas is grown to be cut for hay—rye is then sown to be turned under green the following spring preceding sweet potatoes. Thus two crops of stubble and a crop of rye is turned under to supply humus. About 1,200 pounds of a 2-12-4 fertilizer is broadcasted per acre for the sweet potatoes which in addition to the green manure crop provides the wherewithal for 300 hampers of marketable sweets. Following sweet potato the land is prepared, coarse manure applied and in the spring, about a month before time to plant the seed, about 500 pounds of 3-8-5 fertilizer is applied for the cantaloupe crop. The cantaloupe is in turn followed by wheat and clover for hay which is in turn followed by corn. Rye is sown after corn and the rotation starts over again.

Last year a five-acre field produced 1,100 crates of cantaloupes and 200 hampers of cucumbers with gross sales amounting to $1,500.00. Expenses, however, were between $1,000 and $1,100 leaving a net profit ranging from $300 to $500 for the five acres.

A son has married and so has a daughter. Their farms adjoin Mr. Parker's farm—parts of the original 72 acres.

Many years ago was the indebtedness paid off and thus have 72 acres, mostly pine woods plus courage and confidence, both spelled with capital letters been made to support three families bringing a fair measure of prosperity to each.—Maryland Farmer.

MARION HARRIS
A BLUES DOCTOR

He Chases Away Dull Care and Sadness With His Columbia Re-Creations—Other August Hits.

The up-to-date cure for the "blues" seems to be the modern "blues" song. On this basis Marion Harris is one of the greatest doctors of today. This attractive little vaudeville artist has agreed to make records exclusively for Columbia. Her first four Columbia records to be taken as prescriptions for the "blues" are: "Left All Alone Again Blues," from The Night Boat, "Everybody But Me," "The St. Louis Blues," and "Homesickness Blues."

Al Johnson's song, "In sweet September," describes the loss of his heart. He sings on this Columbia record of the mischief and mandolin, flowers and fervor with which a smiling, beguiling maiden worked the charm. The song is coupled with Frank Crumit's "Early in the Morning (Down on the Farm)" with its unique "barnyard accompaniment."

"Somehow," the fox-trot in which Ted Lewis leads his famous Jazz and for Columbia records this month, is all his own in many ways. He not only composed the music and leads the band, but plays the saxophone in it as well. This selection is coupled with the medley fox-trot: "I Know Why," by Morrison's Jazz orchestra.

COUNTY NEWS

MARDELA SPRINGS.

This correspondent pleads not guilty to the charge that in the last communication an embarrassing mistake was made in the spelling of a name. The combination in which this mistake occurred made it very ridiculous. The type sometimes says things which the writer never said. But as we can not think of anyone else to blame for this mistake, let us blame the printer's devil.

Rev. E. E. Krause and wife, of Cordova, are now bunking it for a short vacation on their farm not far from Marдела. This is an ideal way of taking an outing. Every day they motor in town and chat with their many friends who are always glad to see them.

Rev. Irvin Owens, of the M. P. church, wife and two younger children spent a few days this past week at the Bivalve camp. Mr. Owens preached while there.

Rev. Conaway and wife, from Wye Mills, are spending a few days visiting friends and relatives in our town. Mr. Conaway was at one time pastor of the M. E. church here. His wife, before her marriage, was organist in the church.

Rev. G. W. Gorrell, of the Baptist church, is now away getting married. He marries Miss Gertrude Arnold, of Baltimore. The young people will spend their honeymoon in Boston, but we hope that they will not spend it all there. In case of marriage, we have found it best to have a little of the forenamed kind of moon all through married life.

Dr. B. G. Parker is supplying Rev. Mr. Gorrell's pulpits at Branch Hill and Hebron during his absence. Dr. Parker is now located in Marдела Springs, where he is doing some literary work, a little farming and supplying churches during the absence of pastors for a few Sundays.

Paul Bounds, of Philadelphia, but formerly of Marдела, is now with his family in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bounds, of our town.

Baseball seems to have the right of way in these parts. But a few weeks ago, a little sensation was started over the exchange of money in the paying of bets on the game. Of course this is against the law, as all ought to know, and should it be continued, it will mar the game for many of our good people who have said that they will not give their presence to games where open betting is indulged in.

Our boys in their game with the Laurel team last Saturday walloped them to the tune of 8 to 5. The Laurel boys were gentlemanly fellows and we hope they will come back again, so as we can beat them again. But if it should go otherwise, we will not sulk.

They played the Delmar team on Wednesday, on the Delmar grounds and beat them 5 to 1. We feel that something ought to be said about Ralph Bounds, our justly popular umpire, for many of these games. We believe he is as fair in his decisions as can be. He thoroughly understands all the ins and outs of baseball. He never favors his own team any more than he does the visiting teams. We can always feel assured that when he gives a decision, it is correct. He is big of bulk and just as big in his sense of right in the decisions he makes. The boys on all sides know better than to kick when Ralph says a thing is so and so.

The trucker, who is always "up-against-it," as he says, has been raking in the shekles for some days, as he pours in his canteloupes to the station. But it does look like the water-melons will really be scarce this season. But we should be careful not to blame this upon Providence.

Harry Bounds and wife are again in Marдела for a little stay. Harry is well known in these parts. Some box or other Marдела does seem to have quite a drawing power. For the boys who go away from us, are sure to come back again.

Mrs. May Venable and two sons, Byron and Conaway, have returned from their motor trip to Wilmington.

SUGAR PRICES.

ABOUT TO TUMBLE

Wilmington city housewives, who will soon be free to face with the season's coming and pressing, will welcome the news released in New York a few days ago that sugar prices are expected to come down within the next few weeks. An investigation of the sugar situation has disclosed the practical certainty of an early reduction, and a break in the market will extend from the refiner to the sugar bowl. Just how much less the housewife will be required to pay the refiners are unable to predict, but they admit the present price level cannot be maintained.

Kennery & Mitchell's Big Shirt Sale opens up today. $7.00, $7.50 and $8.00 shirts got at $5.29 and $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 shirts go at $2.79. One hundred dozen shirts in this sale, all Emery's and guaranteed perfect. This is the first big shirt sale since before the war.—Adv. 688.

The Great SALISBURY FAIR

Salisbury, Maryland

Aug. 24, 25, 26, 27, 1920

4—DAYS AND NIGHTS—4

The Fair Association has arranged for the biggest Fair ever held on this Peninsula. They have secured the services of one of the greatest aviators in America. He will carry passengers for sight-seeing over our town and surrounding country, also will give a wing-walking stunt daily as well as parachute drops. Just think of a man walking the wings of an Airplane thousands of feet in the air and then jumping from the machine and taking his life in his own hands, depending upon a parachute to save him from death. Remember, anyone wishing to go up in the Airplane and take the jump in a parachute will have the privilege to do so, and the Association offers a prize of $50.00 for the feat.

Races

The management will give the regular races for light-harness horses, and in addition have arranged for two Running Races each day of the genuine thoroughbred Running Horses. They will be the same class Running Races as the Baltimore race tracks give, and will be something new for this Peninsula. This will be the first opportunity for many of our citizens to see the Running Races which is considered to be the greatest sport in America.

Free Acts

There will be three troupes of acrobats, high trapeze performers as well as tumbling acts. The Tasmanian Troupe, consisting of seven people, principally girls, is included. This feature alone is well worth the price of admission each day. The Midway will contain at least ten (10) good shows with four (4) riding devices furnished by one of the greatest carnival shows in America, Ben Krause, Manager.

Already a number of farmers, housewives and stockraisers have made entries for exhibits, yet the Association is arranging to take care of more, and ask the public to send in their entries not later than Thursday, August 19th, at 6 o'clock, as the books will be closed at that time. Prizes have been increased on almost all exhibits for 1920.

LEGIONNAIRES TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Wicomico Post Elects Delegates To Attend Meeting in Cumberland Next Month. To Help Co. I.

Colonel A. W. W. Woodcock, A. T. Grier and Paul Phillips were elected delegates to the state convention of the American Legion to be held in Cumberland September 6 and 7, at the regular meeting of the local post in the First Regiment Armory, on Monday night. The alternates chosen were Wilson Booth, W. Cordrey, of Delmar, Vaughn Gray and Calvert L. Hatill. It is possible that the delegation may make the trip by motor, and it is hoped that all members who can do so will attend the convention.

The delegation was instructed to invite the convention to meet in Ocean City next year as the guests of Wicomico post. To prepare the convention for this invitation, Adjutant A. T. Grier was directed to write to each of the posts in the state, a letter urging acceptance of the invitation. The local post believes, and properly, that the next state gathering should be held in this section, and that Ocean City is the logical place for it.

After the reporting of 12 new members and the transaction of routine business, the post commander made a strong appeal to have the Legion support actively the recruiting of Company I. At present, Salisbury is at the end of the procession in this section, Centerville and Crisfield both having obtained enough recruits to establish their organizations. With the splendid army that the state has erected here, with the need of retaining the right to use that armory for civic purposes, with the necessity of having within the state some force on which the government can call in time of trouble, goes the obligation to recruit the local militia to full peace strength.

It is the publicly expressed purpose of the American Legion to foster 100 per cent Americanism, and to inculcate a spirit of mutual helpfulness and of genuine patriotism not only among its members but among those outside of the organization as well. Certainly no more marked way of demonstrating their practical patriotism could be thought of than for the world war veterans to make of Company I what it should be. Many members have expressed their intention of enlisting, and a number have already done so.

Service today in the national guard is vastly different from that before the war. The guard is on a higher plane than ever before; it has demonstrated its fighting ability; it has shown itself ready and able at all times to serve the nation; it has a wonderful record, splendid traditions. And perhaps no company can boast a record more worthy than that of the local organization.

It is hoped that the legionnaires will support the next drive for recruits with all their individual and organized strength; and that the citizens of the county will enter as enthusiastically into the campaign to bring Salisbury from the bottom of the list and place her where she rightfully belongs—at the top.

Pocomoke Pastor DIES AT PHOEBUS, VA.

Rev. W. O. Hurst, For Many Years Pastor of Salem Church, Goes To Eternal Rest Tuesday.

Rev. W. O. Hurst, of the Wilmington M. E. conference, died at Phoebus, Va., on Tuesday night last at 12 o'clock. Mr. Hurst had been ill for some weeks and his death was not altogether a surprise. Last week it was known that his life was in the balance and much anxiety was experienced by his many Pocomoke City friends.

For several years Mr. Hurst was pastor of Salem church, of this city, and was greatly beloved by that congregation as well as by the citizens of our town generally. During the recent war period he severed his connection with the church here to take up war work at Phoebus, Va., and since that time had been actively engaged in church work at that place. He was comparatively a young man and that he should be taken so early in life is a source of regret to his many friends. The grief-stricken widow has the sympathy of her numerous Pocomoke City friends.

Funeral services were held at Phoebus Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock and interment will be made at Centerville, Md., Saturday morning, August 7.—Worcester Democrat.

Action of Board To Consolidate Schools

result in great good to the pupils from an educational standpoint, arranged for a wagon to transport the pupils and obtained the services of a careful driver to look after the pupils. It was soon found, however, that the opposition to the scheme of consolidation was growing in intensity, culminating in the banding together of several families in the Clara neighborhood for the erection and maintenance of a private school at that point. This school has been conducted for nearly two years with a small attendance.

The hearing on Monday was to give those opposed to consolidation an opportunity to present any new evidence they might have to offer.

Many witnesses were examined and the testimony was overwhelmingly in favor of continuance of the plan of consolidation. It was proven that the wagon had made its trips daily, and on time, in all weather, that it had lost but one trip on account of weather conditions in two years; that the route covered by the wagon had shortened the distance formerly walked by pupils from their homes to the Clara school, and that from every standpoint the wisdom of the board in consolidating the two schools had been vindicated.

After the board had considered the testimony and heard the summing up of the lawyers, it was unanimously decided to continue the plan of consolidation and Commissioner Miller was authorized to render the opinion of "the court," which he did in his usual happy manner. He begged the people of Clara and White Haven to stop their bickerings and to come to the support of the Board of Education in making the White Haven school one of the best on the west side of the county, and promising that the board would add the ninth grade to the White Haven school as soon as all the conditions were complied with. Mr. Miller's remarks evidently found a lodgment in the hearts of some of the opposition to the consolidation, for several were heard to promise their co-operation the coming year.

Thus it is hoped, and believed, that this much-agitated question has been finally settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The passing of the Liberty theater building from the theatrical to mercantile field will give to that section of North Division street on which it is located, an improved and modern appearance and supply to the city in a small measure, its great need for bright and airy storehouses and business offices. It is believed that those merchants who locate in the renovated building cannot but succeed since they will find themselves situated in the very core of the city's business heart and on a thoroughfare which is traversed by thousands of people each day.

EASTERN SHORE COUNTIES LOSE IN POPULATION

The drift from the rural communities and farms to the big cities is to be found in Maryland as elsewhere, according to some figures on population of Maryland counties made public this week by the Census bureau. While practically every report on large cities in Maryland has shown an increase in population as compared with 1910, the five counties for which reports were made this week showed decreases.

The population of three counties on the eastern Shore were given as follows: Caroline, 18,652, as compared with 19,216 in 1910, or a decrease of 564; Dorchester, 27,895, as compared with 28,669 in 1910, or a decrease of 774; and Queen Anne's, 16,001, as compared with 16,839 in 1910, or a decrease of 838. Howard county showed a population of 16,826, as compared with 16,106 in 1910, or a decrease of 720, and St. Mary's a population of 16,117, as compared with 17,030 in 1910, or a decrease of 918.

Hebron Wins From Locals. On Tuesday

Entertaining Team Presents Many of Salisbury's Crack-a-Jack Players.

DELMAR LOST BECAUSE OF ERRORS

Duffy Worked the Sphere Against the Home Boys. He is Salisbury's Great White Pitching Hope. The Delmar Batters Found Him For Many Safe Hits. Score 5 to 3. Mardela Wins.

The home team went over to Hebron on Tuesday, August 3rd, to play the Hebron nine, but found on arrival that they would have to play the crack Salisbury team instead of Hebron. Charlie told Mr. Gordy that he should have let us know we were going to play his team, and the game could have been played on a good diamond instead of in a cornfield.

The spirits of the Delmar fans soared, though, in the very first inning. Tilghman got on, "Peg" sacrificed him to second, and he was caught at the plate trying to get in on Jacobs' single. Jacobs, however, succeeded in getting in on an error.

In the second Salisbury—er—that is, Hebron tied the score when Duffy got a run in much the same way that Jacobs got his. He got on, and a sacrifice, single and error let him across the plate. For the next two innings the game proceeded in the one-two-three—and sometimes four—style.

In the beginning of the fifth, "Sweat" led off by getting out at first. Then Tony singled, and Tilghman stepped gingerly to the plate in real Babe Ruth style, and—O Boy! Did she ride? You know it! When the dust had cleared away, it was found that Tilghman had chased Tony clean home, bringing in two runs.

Again the game settled down, Tony doing the best pitching, and receiving fine support. In the last half of the seventh, three of Hebron's own boys filled up the bases. That put Tony in a hole, but evidently did not worry him any, for he struck out the next two men. Then Wright came up, and knocked a fly out to right, and "Peg" caught it—and then dropped it. He sure must have felt nervous about coming up to the bench after that. The three men romped home, and Wright also succeeded in getting in later, scoring four runs for Hebron that inning.

The rest of the game was not at all interesting, and the score remained five to three in favor of Hebron.

Tony pitched a fine game, and received very good support. But that old jinx came up with an error that ordinarily would not have cost more than one run, if there had been less than two men out, and lost the game for us.

The lineups were as follows:

For Hebron—Morris, 2b; Wright, c; McNiff, 3b; Hoffman, ss; Duffy, 1b; Wilson, rf; Richards, cf; Phillips, lf; and Howard, p.

For Delmar—Tilghman, 3b; Hastings, rf; Jacobs, cf; Ellis, ss; Joynes, 8b; Lowe, 1b; Hoffmeister, lf; W. Hastings, c, and Wilson, p.

Mardela at Delmar.

The Mardela team came to Delmar and took a game from the home team on Wednesday, the score being five to one. Landon pitched a fairly good game, though allowing enough hits to "loose", without the poor support he received.

As usual the home team got the first run of the game, which was their only one. Woolfert, being first up in the third, got first on an error, stole second, and finished the circuit on two more errors.

In the beginning of the fifth, the visitors tied the score. The second man up, not on first, and was sent around in two hits.

During the rest of the game, the home team did not hit enough to amount to anything, the Mardela pitcher, Truitt, having them at his mercy at all times, and allowing them only two scattered hits during the whole game.

Lowe, the first visitor up in the sixth, got on first and second on errors. The second flier out, Brennan rounded, reaching first, and sending Lowe to third, then stole second. Then C. Bennett patted the pill for two bags, sending the other runners home

SUPPLIES GROCERY WITH SWEET CORN

E. W. Palmer, of Cherry Hill Poultry Farm, Has a Big Crop Which Buyers May Have.

On Friday morning E. W. Palmer proprietor of the Cherry Hill Poultry farm, delivered to the grocery store of Joe Mills 1,200 ears of sweet corn. Mr. Palmer contracted to deliver to Mr. Mills the product of a half acre of sugar corn, as it matured. As he has previously delivered two loads, though not as large, Mr. Mills has been well supplied with corn.

Mr. Palmer has another one and a half acres, which will begin to ripen in a week or so. He would also like to contract for that.

Machine Turns Over Two People Hurt

Mrs. Ira Hearn is in Crisfield Hospital As Result of Accident—Her Husband Also Injured.

J. Fred Stevens' sedan was badly wrecked, and two of the occupants injured, when the machine turned over just outside of Crisfield on Friday evening.

The party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ira F. Hearn, Miss Gertrude Gordy and Mr. Stevens, having spent the day at Crisfield on a fishing trip, had started home. On a sharp curve, just after they left Crisfield, the wheels on one side of the car slipped into a ditch, and the car toppled over.

Mr. Hearn and his wife were both pinned under the car, so that it had to be lifted off them. Mrs. Hearn sustained a broken arm and a severe cut on the scalp and was left at the Crisfield hospital. Mr. Hearn was badly cut in several places, while the other two were scarcely injured at all.

CANNERS TELL THEIR SIDE OF THE STORY

One of Them Puts Blame For Non-Operation of Canning Plants Up To the Farmers.

That the canners were done an injustice in the editorial, "Give The Farmers a Square Deal," which appeared in the Delmar Section last week, is the conviction of R. F. Elliott, manager of the Blue Hen Canning Co., of Delmar, and from what he says, it would appear that he is correct.

Mr. Elliott says he is satisfied that each farmer in this neighborhood was solicited by one of the canners here last spring for a contract for his tomatoes at 40c per basket, and that he, personally, made an effort to see each person who had contracted with the Blue Hen Co. last year, for that purpose. He also says that his company ran an advertisement in the Delmar paper for two months, previous to about the first of June, offering to contract with anyone, giving 40c for tomatoes delivered at the factory in Delmar.

It would appear to let all the canneries out of the charge of operating the situation to their own profit. That the farmers, who received or knew of this offer, are in a hole on their tomato crop this year, is their own fault, says Mr. Elliott, who also states that if the farmers want to get together and pack the tomatoes themselves, the Blue Hen Co. will lease them its factory for that purpose.

It looks like a case of the greed of the farmers being their ruin in this case, asserts Mr. Elliott, for during the two months that he was trying to get them to contract, not a single one would do so.

Cucumbers Dumped.

Because growers could not get enough out of them to pay for the carriers, thousands of baskets of cucumbers were dumped at Laurel last Thursday. It is estimated there are yet 40 carloads of cucumbers on vines around there that could be shipped if prices justified.

with two more tallies. Two more runs were scored in the seventh, making the final score, 5 to 1.

Line up for Mardela—R. Wilson, 1b; G. Wilson, c; Truitt, p; Lowe, cf; Wright, rf; Brennan, lf; C. Bennett, 2b; F. Bennett and Pusey, 3b, and English, ss.

For Delmar—Lowden, ss; E. Hastings, rf; Ellis, 2b; Truitt, 1b; Hoffmeister, lf; Lowe, cf; W. Hastings, c; Woolfert, 3b, and Landon, p.

PLENTY OF CARS FOR STATE CROPS

Delaware Road is Well Equipped To Take Care of Delaware Farmers' Crops This Season.

The prevalent shortage of freight cars is not affecting the farmers of southern Delaware who want to ship their maturing crops to Wilmington and other northern points. The Delaware division of the Pennsylvania system, which serves that section, has made ample provision to take care of the rush of produce expected to begin Thursday.

Leon Stein, supervising agent of the Delaware division, reports that the division has been giving 100 per cent service to the farmers south of Wilmington, and now has on hand 350 refrigerator cars mobilized, ready to move the cantaloupe and apple crops, which will come in within a few days. In addition, other refrigerator and ventilator cars are coming in to the division daily. The 350 cars already on hand are sufficient to handle fruit and vegetable freight for at least ten days.

The only shortage of refrigerator cars that the division has faced within the last few weeks was when the early apples were ready to move up from the Delmar section. This shortage was not serious, as it existed only two days, Mr. Stein says, and, as apples are not rated as perishable freight, first class, the apple growers suffered no loss.

For many weeks the Pennsylvania system has been making special efforts on alternate Sundays to get cars unloaded and returned to the road for use at needed points.

The peach crop has scarcely begun to move, but when the great influx comes, the latter part of this week, the Delaware division will be in a position to move it quickly.

RESERVE BANKS CUTTING DOWN H.C.L.

The action of the Federal Reserve banks in restricting extension of credit for unessentials and luxuries and in encouraging increased production of commodities most needed, has been distinctly beneficial, and has, it is believed, been a material influence in reducing the high cost of living far and wide. Although the application of the brakes seems to have had a jarring effect upon some nervous systems, and has occasioned unfounded fears of a money panic and commercial crisis, there are in our country abundant reasons for confidence and encouragement as to the future.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stephens, Miss Laura Elliott, Miss Eva Allen, Miss Margaret Melvi, Mrs. Hurley, James Phillips, Howard Russell and Burton Hurley are spending the week at Oak Orchard, Del.

DEMOCRATS EXPECT TO CARRY DELAWARE

They Bend Every Effort To Defeat Congressman Layton, of Georgetown, a Republican.

Democratic leaders in Washington are expecting Delaware will elect a Democrat to the United States House of Representatives in November, in place of Dr. Caleb R. Layton, of Georgetown, Republican, thereby doing its utmost to upset the Republican control of the House.

Reports reaching the Democratic National Congressional committee headquarters from Delaware are very encouraging, while the news that drifts into the Republican national headquarters is anything but optimistic.

As a result of the fight Dr. Layton led to prevent Governor Townsend being named as a delegate to the Republican National convention at Chicago, the Republican organization in Delaware is badly split, according to reports, and this situation will result either in the defeat of Layton for renomination or in the governor's friends knifing him at the polls in November, so as to permit his defeat by a Democrat.

The temporary breach between Senator Wolcott and Senator Saulsbury over the place on the Democratic National committee is rapidly healing, is the report, and the prospects for a harmonious nominating convention early in September are quite favorable. Who the nominee of the Democratic state convention will be appears difficult to predict. Efforts are being made, it is said, to bring two or three prominent Democrats out at the convention in addition to former Congressman Albert F. Polk, of Georgetown.

With the Republican machine in Delaware badly split, the election of a Democrat to the House of Representatives appears practically assured if the Democrats in the state will sacrifice their personal animosities for the next few months in the effort to elect a Democratic congressman and defeat Representative Layton, reports to the Democratic National Congressional committee assert.

Scarcity of Houses.

Although the census reports of Federal government show there has been a falling off in the population of Sussex county during the past ten years, there is a scarcity of houses in nearly every town in the county and in some of them many new buildings are being erected. The scarcity is said to be due to the fact that many of the farmers have made enough money within the past ten years to retire and they are moving into the towns to take the remainder of their lives in ease.

THOSE SLOT MACHINES.

Gambling is probably one of the most universal, though by no means the most vicious vices of mankind. Most all humans possess a certain instinct to gamble, and undoubtedly it does some harm at times. In any event, it has a tendency to make some men forget their better instincts. For this reason any person should guard against its dominating his character. A special effort should be made to keep it from becoming a too-commonplace thing in the lives of young people.

It is contended by some that all business is a pure gamble. That is not altogether true, however. Most business does contain a certain element of chance, yet there is usually something involved other than money. To gamble is to play for money in games of chance.

A few men will gather for a game of poker or craps. At first an air of general good-fellowship probably prevails. Then one will start winning, and he will begin talking a bit louder and to laugh in a strained, nervous way more frequently. Another will get to losing, and he will become grimly silent. The two examples will not fit all men, for the action of humans under a certain emotion will vary as human nature varies. The fact remains, however, that gambling is a hectic form of pleasure, which, in most men, brings into play unworthy passions. For this reason the gambling instinct should not be allowed to grow.

In several of our local places of business are to be found slot-machines in which a person can play a nickel, and, if he is lucky, the machine may pay him from two to 20 checks, each check being worth five cents in trade at that particular place. Mostly, of course, the machine keeps the nickel, and pays nothing. (They are supposed to give chewing-gum when no checks are paid.) They are simply mechanical devices, designed to keep a certain percentage of what goes through them.

This mild form of gambling, probably, does no harm to the morals of the men who indulge in it. If boys are allowed to play, however, or even to watch men doing so, there arises within them that inevitable desire to get something for nothing, which is always the dream of the real gambler. That, of course, is a potential harm to their future character as men. It will do only a very few of them at most any appreciable harm, but these few are worth taking care of. These slot-machines are against the laws of both states, and could be done away with by the authorities. It would not be right, however, to compel the removal of them from one side of the town, and leave them on the other. The best way would be for the merchants who run them to abolish them voluntarily.

There is another vile spot near our town, which surely needs cleaning up. That is a little woods, just west of the town, in Delaware, where it is said a crap game is held every Sunday, patronized indiscriminately by whites and negroes. The mere thought of this should bring a feeling of loathing to every gentle person. It is contended that the woods is not in the jurisdiction of the town authorities, and that the county should take care of it. The town authorities could, however, easily take care of it, if they would put a little effort.

Mayor And Council Are Killing Weeds

Town Officials Make Effort To Improve Streets and Roads.

INSTALL NEW KIND OF STREET LIGHTS

They Intend to Rigidly Inforce Several Very Important Town Ordinances and Ask Co-Operation of All The People. Would Prevent Auto Speeding and Bar "Bikes" on Sidewalks.

Now and then the residents of the Delaware side of the town are made aware that Mayor Thornington and the council are continually on the job, trying to better the home community in every way.

Last week an engineer from the State Highway department was in Delmar, and conferred with Mayor Thornington about putting aprons on the sides of the state road, at the State street end.

The work will be done in a short while.

The town councilmen have decided that certain points in the town need to be better lighted. They have been experimenting with some new types of globes, and have found one that appears to be satisfactory. Two are now in use, one at the end of State road on State street, and the other at State road and Jewel street. Several others will be distributed about in various parts of the town.

During the last month the council has been experimenting with a chemical, obtained from the railroad company, for killing the grass and weeds along the edge of the pavements and streets. No doubt a good many of the people have noticed that the grass along one or two of the streets has died, while on the other side of the pavement may be a plot of nice, healthy looking lawn, and have wondered what was the matter with the grass in the street—which proves that the chemical works. A quantity has been ordered and will be applied as soon as it arrives.

The council has decided that several of the ordinances of the town are going to be enforced in the future and call on all law-loving citizens to help enforce them by notifying the proper authorities when one is broken. The ordinances particularly alluded to, are the ones dealing with the speed limit for automobiles and the running of automobiles with open cutout, and the riding of bicycles on the pavements.

CHICKENS GIVEN LONG WORKING DAY

Delmar Poultry Raiser Uses Electricity To Increase His Egg Production. Plan Successful.

Following along the line of experiment suggested by New York poultry men for greater egg production, S. H. Whayland, of Delmar, has installed in his poultry plant electric lights by which his plant is artificially illuminated by city current, giving the birds a 15 hours working day throughout the year. The lights are turned on and off automatically by an electric time switch.

The system was put in operation on July 15 for the laying stock and will be used for the development of the pullets, September 10. Being the first lighted plant in the lower part of the state the experiment is creating widespread interest.

Mr. Whayland has a fine stock of single comb white leghorns, among them being an own son of Lady Eglington and five imported Barron birds with their descendants.

The plant is located on East State street and consists of six acres of land with modern buildings and equipment, embracing many of the newest ideas in chickendom. It is visited by numbers of chicken enthusiasts every year.

Jacob Wilson Baker died on Friday morning, August 11, at 1:30 a. m., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Levenia Holloway, with whom he had been living. He was 86 years old. Funeral and interment was at Portersville, Del., on Saturday afternoon.

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sour stomach, torpid liver and feverish colds," declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder. I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sickness it has saved us."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary O. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

CAN AND DRY CORN FOR WINTER

Because Corn is Supposed To Be Difficult To Keep is No Reason Why It Shouldn't Be Kept.

(Esther Dell.)

Corn is one of the most difficult vegetables to preserve for winter use—and because it is, I am going to deal with that subject for the benefit of News readers this week. I know there are many women who have difficulty in keeping corn through the winter and in these days of H. C. L. every can we can in summer saves us money in winter. I shall also treat briefly of a corn drying process with which I have had good success.

The exact method of canning it is this: Remove the husk and silk from young ears of corn and blanch (on the cob) for five minutes if the cob is small, and for eight or ten minutes for larger cobs; cold-dip quickly, score each row of kernels, and cut the corn from the cob. When cutting, hold the tip of the ear in the left hand and cut the outer part off, then scrape the pulp by pressing the back of the knife along the cob; this leaves the kernel husks on the cob.

Pack the corn at once into hot sterilized jars stood on a cloth wrung out of hot water, and fill to within one inch of the top, using a wooden spoon. Add ½ teaspoon of salt to a pint-size jar and 1 teaspoon of salt to a quart-size; fill with boiling water to overflowing and partially seal. Sterilize in your washboiler for 180 minutes (or three hours), making sure that the water is at least one inch over the top of the jar, and not beginning to count the time until the water boils again after the jar is placed in the canner. When the period of sterilization is over, completely seal and cool as quickly as possible. Invert to test for leakage, and store.

How to Dry Corn—Young, tender corn is almost as necessary to use for drying as for canning. Husk and silk it, then boil it on the cob for three to five minutes according to size—five for large ears. Cold dip quickly and cut the kernels from the cob as in canning it. Spread the corn in a thin layer to dry. Start the drying at 110 degrees Fahrenheit, gradually raising the temperature to 145 degrees Fahrenheit. Three and a half to four and a half hours will be necessary to dry it completely. Pour the dried product into bowls and stir several times a day for two or three days to insure a uniformly dried product. Store in fibre containers in a cool, dry, well-ventilated place.

If the housekeeper has no commercial dryer, she may improvise one by stretching cheesecloth tight over a wire frame, spreading the corn on this, and placing it in her oven, leaving the oven door slightly open, with a thermometer to guide her in regard to temperature. Corn dried in this way must be soaked for several hours (to restore the moisture) before being cooked to use for the table.

CONTROL OF THE CHILD THROUGH PLAY

By Frances A. Gray.

Parents seldom realize how often the child's imagination and the play instinct can be utilized in securing obedience.

Little Dick, age four, had been ill and was just recovering, so his mother was alarmed one cold winter day to discover that he had become thoroughly chilled and that his little hands were icy. In her effort to warm him up quickly she tried to induce him to drink some warm milk. But Dick, who had grown somewhat irritable of late, absolutely refused. He threw himself on the floor and screamed at the idea of drinking warm milk. To try to discipline a sick child and handle such a bit of temper was a real problem, and even more than securing obedience she was interested in getting him warm. Nothing but alternate commands and coaxing had occurred to her when Uncle came to the rescue. Dick had the profound interest in automobiles which even the tiny boy of this generation seems to have and his uncle took advantage of this fact to calm and interest him.

"Dick," he said, taking the cup of milk in one hand and Dickey's small cold hand in the other, "I want to try a new kind of gas in my automobile and see if it will go better."

Dick's screams ceased suddenly as his rage changed to interest. He allowed himself to be led into another room and seated on the couch close to a register. To be asked to drink the milk had a moment before filled him with unaccountable wrath, but if he was an automobile and was being given gasoline, that was entirely different, and he sipped the milk and listened with absorbed interest to Uncle's excited comments about the improvement in the running of the "car" on its new fuel.

Suddenly Uncle picked up a blanket and threw it across the small boy's knees. "Why, Dick," he said, "you ought to have a radiator cover for this sort of wealth! Your engine will be too cold to start." Not a murmur of protest followed, and a moment later Uncle exclaimed in pretended distress, "This battery is frozen. We'll have to thaw it out," and Dick obediently held out his cold fingers to the register until Uncle was satisfied that the "battery" was properly warmed.

Dick was an entirely appeased, interested and comfortable child at the end of a half hour of this appeal to his imagination, whereas the ordinary treatment—orders, entreaties, and perhaps even punishment would probably have left him exhausted from nervousness and tears.

Of course ordinarily parents should require prompt, direct obedience. But there are also many difficult situations such as the one described above when the use of tact and an introduction of the imaginative play element will work wonders and secure the result the mother desires with the least amount of wear and tear on both herself and the child.

MOTHER'S HOME CLUBS, SUCCESSFUL

They Enable Working Women To Care For Children, While Working Daily To Earn Their Support.

An experiment along practical sociological lines which has proved extremely successful is the Mothers' Co-operative Home club which was opened at 60 West 92nd street, New York, a short time ago.

The home club was founded for the purpose of providing a home where working mothers could live, in every sense, with their children.

The primary functions of this club are to enable working mothers who have been deserted, widowed or divorced, to live with their children, and at the same time to earn a livelihood, thereby removing from all the humiliating terrors of charity. The minimum rate for mother and child, for room and board, is $7 a week, with a reasonable charge for each additional child. The mother has her breakfast and evening meal with her family and assumes all responsibility when she is at home, thus enabling the children to have the benefit of the maternal love and care so necessary to the development of the future citizen.

During the day, while the mother is at work, the children are supervised by trained workers. In this way the mother is able to attend to her duties secure in the feeling that her children are well taken care of; and at the end of the day rejoins them amidst happy and cheerful surroundings.

The home club lessens the responsibility of the community by decreasing the number of children in the half orphan asylums, and increases the value of both mothers and children as good citizens, physically normal, mentally strong and morally clean.

That the plan is feasible has been demonstrated by the success of a similar club in Chicago. The happiness of both mothers and children who live in this Chicago mother's club has encouraged the committee on organization, comprised of New York men and women, to found a similar club here, where the need is so great.

Good Table Manners.

Good manners at table help to make things run smoothly and do not offend any one.

Where the table is set with care, the silver is arranged to keep the table looking neat during the entire meal. Do not disturb its order. It is usually arranged so that the spoon to be used first, the knife to be used first and the fork to be used first are the ones placed farthest from the plate. The ones to be used second are placed next and so on.

Let the hostess begin eating first, because she knows the plan of the meal. She should be served first, so that those who are embarrassed about what to do may follow her example.

When a waitress is serving the meal, do not stack your dishes nor those of your companions. Do not try to pass her things, unless she requests you to. Too much helpfulness confuses her. She does not like it.

Put your knife, fork and spoon on the plate so that it will not roll over or fall off. Place them parallel near the side of the plate so that the waitress may set other dishes on the plate as she wishes to do so.

Unfold your napkin on your lap so as to make no display of it.

The waitress is supposed to pass food to you at your left, so that you can easily take it from the dish with your right hand. Unless she asks you to take it at your right, wait for her to come to your left. You will be less awkward and less likely to spill something.

Health First.

Mr. Black picked up his baby boy and exclaimed with fatherly pride: "There, now, isn't he just the picture of his father?"

Mrs. Brown thought a minute and replied: "Yes, you're right, but you don't want to let that worry you so long as he's happy."

Said a Mouthful.

"Nothing that is false does anyone any good," thundered the orator.

"I've got false teeth," said a voice in the back, "and they do me a mighty lot of good."

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

Dear Readers:

Because a number of women have asked me to write for their benefit, articles on cooking, house-keeping, house decorating, care of babies and household economics, I will begin next week a series of articles of this kind.

If those who read my writings in THE NEWS will ask questions concerning any problem they may need assistance in solving, I will do my best to help them.

Next week I will begin a series of articles on summer cooking. I will give receipts for salads, light breads, cakes, etc., especially adapted to hot weather use.

From time to time I will give hints on the proper methods of laundering fine linens and other light summer fabrics—and I will also endeavor to talk a little bit about household economy and house furnishing and decorating.

I will write as briefly and pointedly as possible on each subject I attempt to handle.

The receipts for cooking which I will use, I have been gathering for some time from trusted and successful cooks and other authoritative sources. I suggest to my readers that they cut these from the paper and keep them for future if not for immediate use.

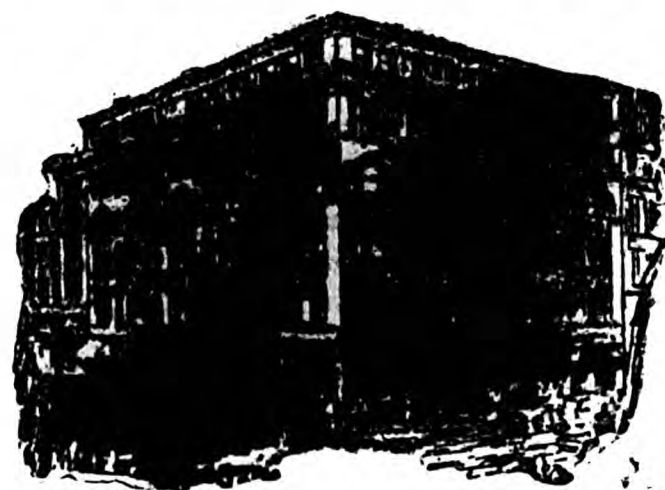

Many of the very best cook books have been made in just this way. And remember that I will attempt to answer any question, concerning any household topic, which is asked of me, providing the questioner signs her name to her communication and sends her questions to me at THE NEWS office.

In cases where I am unable to answer a question off hand, but will have to look up the information, the publication of the answer may be a little delayed, but it will surely be published as quickly as possible.

The names of my questioners will, of course, not be published. The preparation of the articles I have in mind to publish, beginning next week, has been underway for some time. They have involved a great deal of research work and a great deal of thought. If they please and help readers of THE NEWS I, too, shall be pleased and helped.

Yours truly,

ESTHER DELL.

THE VOGUE SHOP SERVICE MEANS PROPER CLEANING

The clothing problem means a lot of worry these days. People have less money to spend for clothes and they get less clothes for their money. Three years ago you could buy three suits for what you now pay for one. Yet, listen! how seldom is it that you actually wear out your old clothes? Do you call a garment worn out when it begins to look shabby because it's faded or soiled? If you could put the original color back into the fabric or take out the soil marks you would have several years more good use of the article. That's just what the VOGUE SHOP is doing. Helping you to fight the H. C. L. by making your old clothes look like new. Proper cleaning of wearing apparel at regular intervals is the most intelligent economy one can practice. Remember our work is cleaning, pressing, and dyeing and we can give you the very best service obtainable in these lines. ONE WHO SEES AND TELLS WHAT HE SEES

(Special to The News.)

Ocean Grove, N. J., August 2.

One must visit Ocean Grove to obtain an adequate conception of the place—of the vast crowd which come here for spiritual uplift and for pleasant recreation. There is but ONE Ocean Grove; columns might be written of the beauties of the place, but one must visit it to come into a full realization of its worth as a place where religion has the first and foremost position.

I am spending my second week here, where I have had the pleasure of meeting scores of friends from Maryland and elsewhere. Hotels and boarding houses are crowded to full capacity; the weather is ideal, and the board walks skirting the ocean front is one singing mass of moving humanity. There is an entire absence of drunkenness; there is no rowdiness and the thousands of visitors daily are enjoying the bracing atmosphere without molestation by the undesirable elements which frequent most seaside resorts. The moral atmosphere is all that could be desired.

What an inspiration and uplift came to the vast throngs yesterday which packed the great houses of worship on the camp ground! In Joseph F. Berry, dean of the college of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, faced an audience of more than 8,000 (and it was a rainy morning) as he delivered one of the most powerful sermons it has ever been my pleasure to listen to. Age has not dimmed the faculties of this great bishop. With a strong voice this man of God preached the gospel with a fervor that few younger men could do. For more than one hour the bishop held his vast audience spellbound by his matchless eloquence. Again in the afternoon, Bishop Berry addressed a crowd of several thousand in the North End pavilion.

Sunday night it was my pleasure to hear another bishop preach—Bishop Charles L. Mead, but recently elected to the bishopric by the general conference. Again more than 10,000 people crowded the vast auditorium, and they did not go away disappointed. Young and vigorous, with a voice which penetrated every nook and corner of the building, the bishop proclaimed the unsearchable riches of Christ. His eloquence was marvelous and he swayed the vast audience at will. It was a great day in Zion to the hosts who waited on the Lord!

In addition to the great sermon, there were rare musical treats, both morning and evening. The great organ, the largest in the world, hundreds of voices in the chorus, special soloists made up a musical program which could not be duplicated anywhere else. It is not alone of Sunday that great musical treats are given the visitors to Ocean Grove. Every morning in the tabernacle Sunshine services are held, when splendid singing and inspiring addresses are delivered. The Temple Singers, consisting of Marie Stoddart Gaylor, soprano; Helen Davis, contralto; Guilym Anwyl, tenor; Grant Odell, bass. This quartette of unusual voices offer the musical feature of this service. One hour of spiritual uplift every morning from 9 to 10 o'clock. Edwin Forrest Hann, leader. Then there are Bible study periods, at which Bishop Berry presides. Time would fail me to attempt to tell the NEWS reader of all that is going on daily at Ocean Grove to promote a higher religious life. One must be on the ground to fully appreciate what a great place Ocean Grove really is!

"Founders' Day" was observed last Saturday. Ocean Grove was founded in 1869 by a little band of earnest Christians which met on the beach front. Last Saturday this very spot was visited by several hundred praying men and women who celebrated the 51st anniversary of the founding of Ocean Grove with song and prayer. It was truly an impressive sight! When one thinks of the small beginning of this wonderful resort and the magnitude it has attained, he is led to exclaim that truly God was behind the movement to plant here on the Jersey coast a resort where the religious influence predominates. "There is only ONE Ocean Grove" is the unanimous expression of the visitors to this place!

A beautiful service in connection with "Founders' Day" is the reading of the names of friends of Ocean Grove who have died either in Ocean Grove or at their homes in other places during the year. The list begins July 28, 1919, and ends with July 18, 1920. The list read Saturday contained the names of 74 who had passed to the Great Beyond, but whose memories were kept green in this loving service.

There are many Baltimoreans and Eastern Shoremen here at present and one daily comes in contact with friends. The social life is indeed charming, but above all towers the religious life of the place; everything is subordinated to the religious program daily, during certain hours—but there is still left plenty of time for recreation and amusement.

Anyone who has once visited Ocean Grove wants to come again. What a pity it is that the thousands who have never visited this great resort cannot do so! H. L. B.

WORCESTER COUNTY NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

On Sunday last the automobile of William E. Timmons, of Wesley, collided with the buggy of Casey Jones, doing damage to the buggy and slightly injuring Mrs. Jones. The accident occurred near Newark.

Quite a number of people went to Public Landing Thursday, of last week, to witness the race between Captain George W. Truitt's boat "Harding" and the Edmund Johnson and Graham Corddry boat, "Cox." Captain Truitt, an old and experienced sailor knew some sailing tricks that enabled his boat to win by several minutes.

Frank Hastings, of Newark, was the victim of an unfortunate accident which resulted in the amputation of his leg, early Sunday morning. Hastings in company with Milton Parker, Lester Parker and Thomas Traders, were trying to start Mr. Traders' car by pushing it along the state road just north of Newark about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. While they were pushing the machine a car driven by "Bus" Hammond (colored) crashed into the Trader auto and caught Hastings between the two cars crushing his leg. The others were able to jump in time to avoid being hit. Medical attention was given by Dr. Lingo and Hastings was taken to the Salisbury hospital.

John D. White, one of Snow Hill's most highly respected citizens, died last Tuesday at the age of 81, after a lingering illness. For many years Mr. White was steward on the Baltimore-Snow Hill boats, and about 20 years ago married Miss Mary Lee Collins. He was an active member of the Bates M. P. church and possessed a large circle of friends who mourn his passing. Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. L. E. Poole and Rev. C. R. Strausburg. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery. The pall bearers were D. F. and E. H. Fooks, W. F. Johnson, W. J. Fowler, B. T. Truitt and G. M. Dryden.

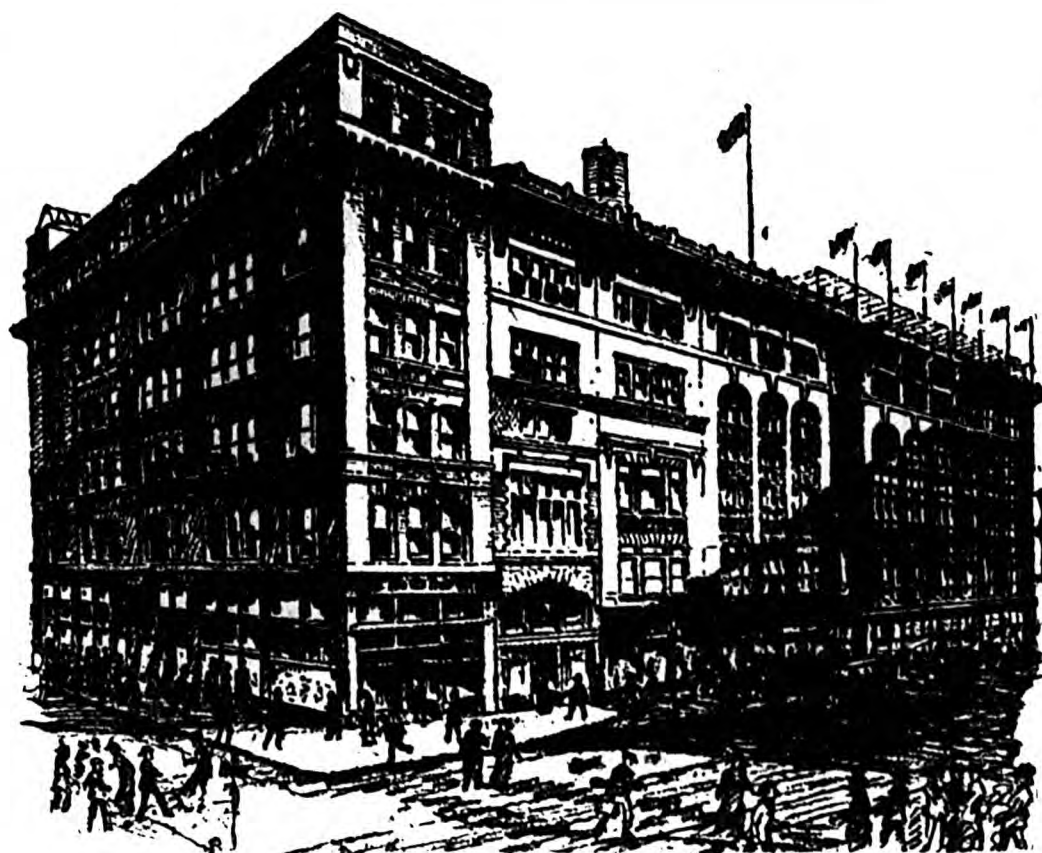

John S. Whaley has passed the Maryland State bar examinations, and has been admitted to the practice of law in this state. Mr. Whaley passed the rigid examinations with flying colors, standing second in a class of more than 50 candidates. This is a most creditable showing, since he completed the three years' course in two years, and this despite the fact that his first and second periods of study were interrupted by two years of service in the army. After leaving the Snow Hill High school, Mr. Whaley's preliminary training consisted of a year at Mercersburg academy, and a year at the Massachusetts School of Technology, Boston. Deciding then to take up law as a profession, he entered the University of Maryland, law department. After the completion of one year of study at the university, he was drafted in the army, and went with the first contingent of Worcester county men to Camp Meade. He went with his company to France and after his return in 1919, he re-entered the University of Maryland to complete his studies in law. By dint of close application and hard work he has successfully passed the state examinations, and, having reached his first goal, he will enter the field of jurisprudence to strive for further accomplishments and attainments. In the course of a few weeks he will return to Snow Hill, and will become associated with his uncle, John W. Station, in the practice of law at the Worcester bar.

COMES BACK TO LIVE IN SALISBURY

Fred Nash Stradwick, of Greensboro, N. C., arrived in Salisbury on Saturday to live in this city permanently. His wife, formerly Miss Mary Tilghman, of this city, and son, Fred, Nash, Jr., have been living here for sometime. Mr. Stradwick has acquired an interest in the Tilghman Lime & Supply Co., with offices at Fruitland and will serve as president and president of the concern.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

He Finds Only 30 Per Cent of City's People Have Proper Toilets and Sewer Connections.

For several months the Man About Town has been fighting flies and mosquitoes and it never occurred to him until a week ago to inquire just why this section of the Eastern Shore should be so fly and "skeeter" ridden—and now that he has learned the cause of the presence of the insects, he wonders how it can be that the section is not epidemic ridden too.

For the whole trouble is the lack of a proper sewer system.

It is a fact that a great many of the Eastern Shore towns and cities are not properly sewered. It is a fact that in many sections the same system, or lack of system, employed years ago when these now populous places were little country villages, is still employed.

Plenty of attention has been given to other things, but little or no attention has been paid to the all important matter of sewers. Streets have been paved and sidewalks have been laid; and these improvements have made the present problem of installing sewers a very expensive one, for to lay sewers now means the tearing up of the streets which were laid several years ago at a good and sufficient cost—and yet if the health of the people is to be permanently safeguarded, this should be done.

Just to get the matter down to concrete cases the Man About Town has made a casual, but more or less complete survey of the conditions which prevail in Salisbury.

Here are a few of the things he has found.

Salisbury has a population of approximately 10,000 people.

Approximately 1,218 of its families, or nearly 70 per cent of its people live in houses which have no sewer connections and which are not equipped with sanitary toilets. The people living in these houses are still using the long antiquated, fly and disease breeding outhouse. A majority of these outhouses are not equipped with vaults or pits. Matter deposited in them finds no underground receptacle.

If there is an average of five persons in each of the families using the fly and disease breeding outhouses, more than 6,000 people in this city are brought into direct contact with the disease germs bred in those places and these 6,000 people are daily circulating among the other people of the city, thereby menacing the entire population.

The city, according to the most authentic information available, has but 18 streets which are sewered. These are North Division street, Elizabeth, East Isabella, William, East and West Church, Park, Poplar, Walnut, Broad, take steps that will place every person in the city, from the poorest to the wealthiest, under the protection of the South Division, Newton, Trenchman and Dock streets and Maryland ave.

The Man About Town is of the opinion that the sewer system in Salisbury is about 15 years old.

There are approximately six miles of sewer system in Salisbury. The Man About Town has called attention to the fact that the sewer system is in a state of disrepair. Some of the pipe is broken and some of it is but a shell. There are two 18 inch Salisbury or any other Eastern Shore trunk lines which empty into the community but with the intention of permitting the local people to use for themselves by just what sanitary conditions they are surrounded.

The time will come, and the Man fact that some sections of the city are so low that it is impossible to lay sewer pipes to a grade sufficient to carry sewage to the river, may be and doubtless is, one of the reasons that the city's sewer system is not as complete as it might and should be.

I said "carry sewage to the river" and here there is presented another thought which should be considered by the people and the officials of Salisbury.

At this time the waste matter which comes from those portions of the city which are sewered, is dumped into the Wicomico river. This stream is under the control and jurisdiction of the government and the government regulations provide that the waters of no such stream shall be polluted by sewage or other similar matter. How long will it be before the government officials make an investigation of the river's water at this point? And when they do, what will be the result?

Doubtless they will insist upon a rigid enforcement of the law and will forbid the further dumping of sewage in the stream. When this is done what will the city do?

It will not be prepared or ready to install a sewage disposal plant; it will not have the money with which to install, equip and operate such a plant. How will the money for such a purpose be acquired?

Will it be raised by a bond issue? Bond issues are not popular. This was shown when the people of the county just recently showed that they would rather have inadequate schools and poorly trained school teachers than spend a little of their money—and by the way, it is a fact that there are 82 rural schools in this county which have no toilets excepting the old fashioned, disease and fly breeding outhouses the kind that were eliminated in progressive communities many years ago.

The conditions which prevail in Salisbury are not at all unique among the cities and towns of the Eastern Shore. A similar lack of care for sanitation and proper safeguards for health is to be found throughout the Delaware, Maryland and Virginia peninsula. With such woeful conditions prevailing, it seems a wonder that a disease epidemic has not been visited upon the community. It is a peculiar fact though, that typhoid cases are not especially numerous and that malarial fevers, while existing in some sections of the shore, are not at all abnormally frequent.

The question is, however, how long will this good, healthy condition continue? The Eastern Shore is fast growing in population. With each increase, the conditions become more dangerous. With the coming into existence of every new fly and every new mosquito, the health and the authentic information available, has been endangered. The Eastern Shore communities are looking for a way to protect themselves.

One way to protect the people is to put them under the protection of the government.

The Man About Town is of the opinion that the sewer system in Salisbury is about 15 years old.

The time will come, and the Man

About Town hopes it will come quickly, when the evil conditions now existing will be remedied. The longer the remedy is delayed, the greater the danger to the people and the more expensive the remedial treatment. It is the hope of the Man About Town that when the people know, actually, what dangers may surround them because of inadequate sewer systems, they may be willing to co-operate with the city officials to their utmost, in bringing about a sanitary condition which will raise Salisbury above all possible danger of disease epidemic caused by poor and unsafe sanitation.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

NEWS OF THE PEOPLE OF SOMERSET COUNTY

Mrs. Edward Lovett died at her home in Monie neighborhood last Tuesday night, aged 53 years. Mrs. Lovett was stricken with paralysis three years ago and had been in poor health since that time. On Monday night of last week she was again stricken with paralysis which was the cause of her death. Mr. and Mrs. Lovett came to Somerset county nine years ago from Fairbury, Ill., and purchased the "Waller farm" at Monie. She is survived by her husband and one son, Hugh Lovett, of Birmingham, Ala. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Hannah E. Moore, who resided with her, and one brother, J. E. Moore, of Princess Anne. Her remains were carried to Princess Anne Wednesday night and, accompanied by her husband, Edward Lovett, and brother, J. E. Moore, taken to her former home, Fairbury, where funeral services were held.

The remains of Mrs. Charles H. Packard, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William McAllen, at Cape Charles, Va., were brought to Princess Anne last Friday afternoon and interred in the Manokin Presbyterian church cemetery. Mrs. Packard was 79 years of age and was a former resident of this town. She is survived by the son, John Packard, of Crisfield, and one daughter, Mrs. William McAllen, of Cape Charles.

Charles M. Atkinson, who resided in Somerset county, near Deepmode City, dug from 3 1/2 acres of ground 280 barrels of round potatoes.

FARMERS REFUSE TO MAKE MILK TESTS

Rather than go through the examination of the cows in their herds for tests for tuberculosis, many milk dealers in lower Delaware have declared they will stop delivering milk to consumers and take their supply to the creameries. Already some of the dealers have stopped their routes and are sending milk to the Milton creamery, the nearest to Georgetown.

They claim that the creameries give them more money with less expense of delivery; but one or two have quietly admitted that the trouble is in the testing provision which the State Board of Health is determined to enforce. Farmers who own large herds have no real reason to complain except that they do not want officials interfering with their business, so they claim. Enough milk is going to Georgetown, from farmers who have complied with the request, to supply the town with milk. Other towns are not so fortunate and several of the smaller places are almost without milk.

BIG MOTORCADE TO BOOST GOOD ROADS

Sixty Cars and Trucks Travel 1,400 Miles Into Canada To Show Need of Good Highways.

The good roads movement has been given tremendous impetus in northern Ontario by the recently completed 1,400 mile tour of boosters held under the auspices of the Michigan Pike association.

Consisting of 60 cars and trucks carrying more than 200 motor enthusiasts, this motorcade—probably the largest ever assembled—traveled roads unknown to motor cars in order to stimulate construction of a highway that will enable motorists to travel through Ontario via Windsor, Toronto, North Bay and the Soo. It is hoped ultimately to bring about completion of the northern highway in Ontario to enable tourists to motor through the summer resort country, entering Canada either at the Soo or Windsor and travel in a circle described by going from the Soo to North Bay and Toronto.

Starting from Detroit with a total of 60 cars, including three kitchen trucks, motorized lighting plant and shower bath truck, the motorcade traveled for 15 days, meeting with an even more enthusiastic reception than on five previous trips that had resulted in boosting construction of modern roads. W. D. Edensburn, automobile editor of the Detroit News, was tour manager.

Over 90 road meetings were held on the tour, among the speakers being Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, Ontario; Hon. Albert Grigg, deputy minister of lands and forests; Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president Dominion Good Roads association; L. E. Allen, president Ontario Good Roads association; Horatio S. Earle, father of good roads in Michigan; Frank S. Rogers, Michigan State Highway commissioner, and Capt. W. S. Gilbreath, promoter and founder of the Dixie highway.

Among the features of the tour that attracted great attention were the Ford band of 87 pieces and the Goodyear truck that holds the coast-to-coast record of 14 days and which has traveled 120,000 miles since 1917.

NEW AUTO GUIDE BOOK IS ISSUED

Automobile Club of America Has 1926
Associated Tours Guide Ready for Immediate Distribution.

The Automobile Club of America announces that the 1926 edition of the Associated Tours guide which has become so popular with motorists throughout the country in past years, is now ready for distribution.

Thousands of motorists each year plan to take their vacation by motor with their families to some prominent resort. Some like the country and mountains, others, the seashore, and, with this in view, the Bureau of Tours of The Automobile Club of America has compiled the Associated Tours guide for the benefit of motorists in general.

The 1926 edition of the Associated Tours guide displays the same progressive improvement, both as to quality and quantity, of road maps and information and in attractive composition and design, that has been remarked each year since the guide was first published by The Automobile Club of America.

The tours shown in the 1926 Associated guide cover the entire eastern section of the United States and southern Canada, extending as far west as Chicago and from Montreal and Quebec to Florida, inclusive. This year, several additional tours are given, running through the most attractive sections of the country. Road maps, mileages, ferry schedules and other touring directions of interest to motorists are given. The tours have been rechecked this season by the chief roadman of The Automobile Club of America and the maps brought up to date by the club's map drafting department.

Motorists who have been using the guide for several years past, declare that it is the most comprehensive, clear and concise motoring publication obtainable.

Copies of the 1926 edition of the guide may be obtained at the Bureau of Tours of The Automobile Club of America, 247 West 54th street, New York.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success. It can always be depended upon to give prompt relief in cases of colic and cholera morbus. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Every family should keep this remedy at hand.—Adv.

MAKE BIG CATCH OF FISH FROM AIRSHIP

Party of Anglers Catch Four Large Barracuda and Many Smaller Fish
From Small Air Machine.

Isaac Walton, granddaddy of anglers, would be "up in the air" if he knew that fishing is now done from airships.

If he were the sportsman that tradition asserts, you couldn't keep him on the ground—he'd want the thrill.

For the first time in history, anglers recently went fishing from an airship. The trip was made in the Pony Blimp D-57 of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., and within half an hour the "Fishing Aeronauts" had caught four large barracuda and a string of smaller fish.

The idea was evolved by George Hockensmith, manager of the company's flying field, and P. K. Coe, manager of aeronautics for the California company. Starting early a few days ago in the 95 foot long ship probably the smallest practicable lighter-than-air craft ever built, they flew 12 miles from the company's Los Angeles aviation field to San Pedro harbor. Taking advantage of the better vision from the air, the anglers flew at a height of 40 feet until they saw a school of barracuda in 15 feet of water. Easily dropping to the surface and held aloft by a pontoon, the sportsmen unlimbered their rods and were soon hauling in their catch.

Encouraged by their success, Hockensmith and Coe started the Pony Blimp at a low speed and trolled in deeper water—with greater success.

The excitement of fishing from the air proved contagious and now Los Angeles sportsmen are rushing to engage the ship for similar trips. It is next planned to try the Satalina island fishing grounds—30 miles out in the Pacific.

Walton's greatest book, "The Compleat Angler," may have been a fishing idyll—but it is far from complete in describing thrills as known by the angler of today.

Compared with the excitement of angling from the air, Isaac knew a little about thrills as the ticket taker in a subway.

DELMAR SECTION.

Delmar Applies the White Wash Brush to Sister Town Team on Thursday and on Saturday.

Laurel played at Delmar on Thursday and their side of the score looked like a row of goose eggs. The home boys made one run in the third, two in the fourth, and one in the seventh, making a total of four to nothing. It was one of those games that make the home fans leave the grounds, not feeling that he would like a "kill a Chinaman," but smiling delightedly at the romping of the children, and laughing at the horseplay of his friends.

The game was delayed in starting, because Laurel did not have but seven players with them. They succeeded, however, in picking up two crack players on the grounds, and the game started.

Ken got in tight places a few times, but pitched himself out. Having excellent support, he did not have to work very hard. Only twice was there danger of the visitors scoring. In the second, Oliphant got on, and was advanced to third by the next batter. The next man flied out to Jacobs in deep center, and Oliphant started home as soon as the ball was caught. Jacobs made one of his fine throws, and caught Oliphant at the plate.

Again in the fifth, Ken got in a close place. Three hits were made, filling the bases. The next man punched, and the next grounded to Ken, and a double play was made at home and third.

The lineups were: For Delmar—Tilghman, 3b; Lowden, ss; Joynes, 2b; Truitt, 1b; Jacobs, cf; Hantwerker, rf; Hoffmeister, lf; Hastings, c, and Ellis, p.

For Laurel—Fowler, 3b; Quillen, lf; Pusey, c; Oliphant, p; Carmine, 1b; Hearn, ss; Knowles, cf; Libberowitz, 3b, and Holloway, rf.

The Federalburg game on Friday was stopped by J. Pluvius, who dropped tons of rain on the grounds. Fans who crowded into the grandstand were disappointed and drenched when the roof began to leak, and the men under the stand got their necks knicked by standing in unnatural positions. It is probably a good thing it rained, however, for the visitors got two runs in the first inning, and would likely have gotten more. Only three and a half innings were played.

The Delmar team played at Laurel on Saturday afternoon, and shut out the Laurel team with a score of 11 to 0. Hantwerker twirled for the home bunch and at all times had the opponents at his mercy, pitching a no-hit game. It looked like a bit once, though, when one of the Laurel men placed one in the centerfield. But that big-leaguer, Jacobs, fielded the ball, and nailed the runner at first. Three of the runs were made in the second, four in the sixth, and two each in the eighth and ninth. Lowden made a clean three-bagger in the eighth, and Hoffmeister a home run in the last inning. Only four times did the Laurels succeed in reaching first and three of those were walked by Hantwerker, or the umpire. One man died on second.

The team showed the results of having played together for sometime. It showed what they could do, if they could get a chance to practice every day for awhile. Then they could work like a team, and not like a collection of individual ball players. It also showed that it is being well managed by Monroe Pote.

An old fashioned home gathering took place on Sunday, August 1, at the home of Mrs. C. W. Hastings, near Salisbury. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings and children, of Kilmarnock, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Phillips and children, of Delmar; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hastings and children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hastings and children; Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Littleton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nichols and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols, Joseph Cannon and son, Woodrow, of Charity; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brittingham, Mr. and Mrs. George Brittingham and daughter, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Brittingham and daughter, Ruth, of Gumori, Del.; Mrs. Martha Windsor, of Laurel, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Pilat and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pusey and child, of near Laurel; Mrs. Annie Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Ninos Parsons and children, of Parsonsburg, and William Cannon, of Delmar.

FORMER POLICE CHIEF BREAKS JAIL

Dover Mob Threatened to Lynch John W. Baker, Formerly of Laurel and Dover, on Friday.

Dover was thrown into a state of excitement last Friday evening shortly after 6 o'clock, when an alarm was sent out from the county jail that John W. Baker, the former chief of police of Dover and Laurel, who was arrested Thursday morning on a charge of breaking and entering the office of S. C. W. Lord, had broken jail.

A mob of several hundred persons, armed with revolvers and shotguns, started in pursuit, and within an hour of his escape from the jail Baker was recaptured and back in an ironclad cell.

It was fortunate he was landed in a cell as soon as he was, as cries of "lynch him" were heard outside. He presented a pitiful appearance because of the rough handling he had received from the crowd. When it became known that he made his escape by pushing the sheriff's wife, Mrs. J. E. Cook, aside as she handed in the supper to the prisoners, the anger of the crowd increased, hence the attempt to lynch him.

Sheriff Cook had been away during the afternoon on official business and was returning when informed that Baker had made his escape. Mrs. Cook, wife of the sheriff, states she looked for Baker who had been allowed the privilege of the corridor, and on not seeing him asked one of the trustees where he was. Before the trustee could answer Baker appeared from the side of the cage and pulling at the door to break Mrs. Cook's hold on it, he brushed Mrs. Cook aside and made his escape.

On leaving the jail Baker ran toward the St. Jones river but a short distance from the jail, where he was captured within half an hour at the point of guns returned to the jail. Sheriff Cook asked Baker why he broke jail. He replied that he was almost crazy thinking of his wife and children, to which the sheriff replied that he should have thought of them sooner and before he had committed any offence against the law.

Deputy Attorney-General Satterfield has been notified by the Sussex county authorities that Baker is wanted in this county on two charges and that should he get bail here to hold him for a hearing in Sussex county.

Baker was given a hearing before Magistrate Wood and held on two additional charges, escaping jail and assault and battery on Mrs. Cook. He waived a hearing on both charges and was held in $1,000 bail on the escape charge and $500 on the assault and battery charge.

WOMEN VOTERS AND REGISTRATION DAYS

The dates for registration of new voters and of transferred voters in the several counties of Maryland will be: Tuesday, September 28; Tuesday, October 5, and Tuesday, October 12 (for revision only). If the Tennessee legislature, in special session on August 9, ratifies the woman's suffrage amendment, this action by Tennessee would be in ample time to permit the enrollment of women qualified to vote. The question has been raised whether Governor Ritchie would have to call the General Assembly in special session to amend the Maryland registration laws in order to qualify women to register and vote.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Liavinia E. Bradford vs. Charles Baker. No. 2761 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland. In Equity.

The object of the bill filed in the above entitled cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of a tract of land situated in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, of which Silas D. Baker died seized and possessed, and a division of the proceeds arising from such sale amongst the parties as their interest may appear.

The bill alleges in substance that in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen, Silas D. Baker died intestate, being seized and possessed of a tract of land in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, which he obtained by purchase from Ebenezer C. Davis and containing about three and three-fourth (3 3/4) acres. And the said Silas D. Baker left his heirs at law Mary E. Baker, his wife, who has since died, and Liavinia E. Bradford, a daughter, and the defendant, Charles Baker, a grandson, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon ordered this 3d day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in Equity, that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in each issue for four successive weeks before the 31st day of August, 1920, give notice to the said non-resident defendant, Charles Baker, of the object and substance of this Bill, warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September next, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

CAMBRIDGE WINS FROM LOCALS 4 TO 1

Fans and Players Peeped and Misted
Rain Adds to the Horrors of An Imperfect Day.

Although Salisbury out-hit and out-played Cambridge on the Cambridge diamond on Thursday, nevertheless the Chesapeake boys won by the safe margin of 4 to 1. Hopkins and Todd were the battery for Cambridge while Duffy and Wright started for Salisbury.

The game was ushered in by a drizzly rain with the stands partially filled with fans who had left their pep at their offices. The aforesaid pep however, regurgitated when the home players scored in the final half of the initial inning on a pass, stolen base, followed by a hit. Ruark crossed the rubber with the opening score of the game.

From the first until the fourth not a warrior reached third but in that fourth, which is fast becoming the lucky season for Salisbury, hitter Son Turner came through with a hefty bingle and scored on sacrifices, leveling the count. In the fifth, Turner again distinguished himself by leading the fans to the upper regions in the right hand corner of the field. He was the caretaker and batted down what had the appearance of a fly.

The sixth session drew up with Cambridge on top of the batting order waiting for a chance at "Duff." When the smoke of that fracas had finally disappeared, three runs had pierced the platter and the fans from the queen city of Dorchester were endangering their vocal organs hurling cheers at Flowers, E. Ruark and Wall who were the cause of such a barrage that undermined the Salisbury defense and caused the colors of Wicomico to be lowered.

Duffy was replaced in the sixth by Hoffman, who had previously been guarding the first way station. Hoffman, who is from Millville, N. J., could not such curves, and had such a change of pace that Cambridge scored no more. But Salisbury had forgotten the little art of hitting and the game ended.

Eighteen from the bat of Wicomico starters were the total safeties garnered off Hopkins, while one less than that number oozed from the bats of the home players.

The lineup:
Salisbury—Porter, ss; McNiff, 3b; Duffy, p; Wright, c; Hoffman, 1b; Turner, rf; Loomis, cf; Morris, 2b; Grey, lf.
Cambridge—Ruark, ss; Robinson, 3b; Flowers, p; E. Ruark, c; Wall, 1b; W. Robinson, rf; Todd, cf; King, 2b; Hopkins, lf.

RAIN STOPS BIG GAME HERE FRIDAY

Cape Charles Rung Up One Run Against Locals in Four and a Half Innings of Play.

Between the efforts of Jupe Pluvius, St. Swithin and the weather man, the game of baseball with Cape Charles and Salisbury as the principal characters was stopped because of rain after four and one-half innings of the fastest baseball seen in this city this season. The score at that time was 1 to 0 with Cape Charles claiming the first figure.

More than 700 fans had plodded out to the park in hopes that the heavens would withhold their threatened deluge until the game was over and when play was started it seemed that their wish might be gratified. When told the slab for the Virginia players and Earnshaw, a pitcher from Upton, Pa. had been delegated by Manager Prueg to twist the benders for Salisbury.

In the concluding half of the first inning Wilson strained his shoulder in delivering a curve and was forced to retire from the hurling post. Ames replaced Wilson and proved to be a formidable exponent of the spit ball.

However, the good heaving of Ames was eclipsed entirely by the work of Earnshaw, who, besides causing six batters to dream of home by the one-two-three whiffing process, also allowed only two safeties in five innings and made the only hit registered by the Salisbury team, a wallop good for two sacks, in the second inning.

Re-turn of the Cape Charles collection of bad players, who filled the dirtstop berth thrilled the stand with several sensational stops.

The lineup:
Salisbury: McNiff, 3b; Wright, c; Earnshaw, p; Duffy, lf; Turner, rf; Loomis, cf; Morris, 2b; Hoffman, 1b; Porter, ss.

Cape Charles: Townsend, lf; Tilghman, 2b; Moody, 1b; Eastern, ss.

Umpires—White and Richardson.

FIREMEN DEFEAT HEBRON THURSDAY

Dixon Manned the Rubber for S. F. D. and Held His Opponents To a Few Scattered Hits.

The Salisbury Fire department un-corked some good old hitting on Thursday and completely extinguished the Hebron baseball aggregation on their own grounds. The score was 4 to 3.

Dixon twirled for the Fire Fighters and pitched consistently throughout the game scattering the safeties of the Hebron hitter admirably.

Salisbury earned all her runs, two of which came in the ninth inning, pulling the game out of the fire when it hung at 3 to 2 against them.

Dove playing right field made the fielding feature of the game in the fifth inning when he made a one hand running catch of a liner.

The Firemen lineup: Todd, c; Hill, 1b; Grier, 2b; Grey, ss; Disharoon, 3b; Dixon, p; Parker, cf; Dove, rf; Neek, lf.

Nick Altrock of the Washington Nationals is in shape to play, but they don't need him in the lineup yet. The game looks funny enough as it is.

Joe Letter, the recruit outfielder, twice tried by the Cubs on spring training trips and found wanting, has been released to the Kansas City Blues.

A. J. Smith, catcher, and Peter Mun, 1st base, have been sold to the Atlanta club of the Western league by the Kansas City American as well as the Cubs.

A few of the baseball whizzes have been quoted as saying that Walter Johnson is the best pitcher in the game. It is a fact that he has not started as yet.

PLAYERS PAY FOR GRUB

Prior to 1882 the players were assessed 40 cents a day for board while on the road and that came pretty close to paying for the food they got. Imagine a big leaguer of today digging into his pocket-book for the cost of the meals he consumes today—about a dollar and a half for a little ham and eggs in the morning and two or three dollars for a piece of beef at the dinner session! Why, a bowl of noodle soup costs 25 cents now.

Enjoy the Cave Man's Health

A convenient rock was the early cave man's only weapon of offense or defense.

Later on he learned the use of a hatchet. His descendants, in turn, found the spear even more useful; and the bow and arrow, catapult and bell-mouthed blunderbuss followed in turn—each a little more effective than the others.

Similarly, in medical science there has been a steady and sure development from the early days of blood-letting and "physicking". Castor oil, pills, laxative waters, salts, etc., were once the only method of treating constipation. Today Nujol is taking their place.

These others irritated the intestines and caused unnatural action. A result of their use was frequently disabled bowels—chronic constipation. The modern physician finds the Nujol method the safe and efficient means of treating this ailment.

Nujol works on a entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel movements at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Little Girl, Big Boy, And the Garden Elf

Jack Frost and the Glass Cradle.

When Big-Boy, without once stopping to think, said he had never been a baby, everyone laughed. Big-Boy never a baby! What a joke!

"Indeed, you were," said Madame Garden Manual softly. "You were a tiny, helpless creature, and had to be shielded just as the plant babies from cold and wind and Jack Frost's bite. But with care you have grown to be a big, husky boy and a fine soldier in the United States School Garden Army. And this is a fine glass cradle you have made for the plant babies. What seeds have you to plant in your cold frame?"

"I have lettuce to begin with. When the little plants come up they will stay in the nice warm bed until they are transplanted, when the ground is warm enough to set them out. Do you like lettuce, Madame Garden Manual?"

"Indeed, I do, and I recommend it to all my friends. It is one of the most re-fresh-ing and useful foods, as well as one of the most beautiful. It is a Green Food and green foods are necessary for children. How pretty a dish of salad looks on a hot day, and then, too, we use it to make other vegetables and salads attractive. Lettuce is a rich vegetable, too. It is rich in min-er-al salts.

"But it must be washed very, very carefully, indeed, because so much earth is attached and imp insects and other unpleasant things may hide in its leaves. Each leaf should be washed in the hand under running water. All uncooked vegetables must be given a bath before eating.

"Hot water is the enemy of all things that remain on vegetables when they are plucked, and Hot Water is so powerful that he is able to fight all the enemies, so cooked vegetables need only enough washing to get them clean. Dear me, I fear I am preaching a sermon, and Jack-in-the-Pulpit will not like that." And Madame Garden Manual looked round the small circle, but they were so interested and so proud of Big-Boy's cold-frame that she was re-as-sured.

"What I want to know," said Ku-ti-pi, the big black cat, "is this—am I a soldier of the School Garden Army?"

Bobtail, the best dog friend of Big-Boy, stood up, shut one eye, and looked the big black cat over from whiskers to tail-tip.

"Bow-wow-wow! I thought you looked like a witch-cat. Bow-wow-wow, and now I am sure of it since you speak real people's language."

"Why, you are talking yourself, Bob-tail! What do you know about that?" cried Big-Boy.

"Ah, that is easy when you have a fairy for a friend and companion. I can wish them to talk and my magic jacket falls right over their dumbness and lets out speech," announced the little green Elf Man.

"Oh, is there speech always right there?" asked Little-Girl who was surprised to hear Ku-ti-pi speak.

"Yes, speech is there all the time right behind their eyes. Can't you see it when they want to tell you something very bad indeed? Can't you read it in their eyes? You must always be kind to dumb animals because their speech is hidden away, and they can only make their wants known by looking at you. Now, don't forget!" and the little Elf Man nodded his head at Big-Boy and Little-Girl, and looked so solemn that everyone laughed.

"I love to hear that sound," said Madame Garden Manual. "What is so sweet as laughter. Beautiful clear laughter that is full of sunshine and dew fall and blue skies and white dawns."

"Oh, just like the wood fire," asked Little-Girl, who remembered the story of the tree.

"Yes," said Madame Garden Manual softly, "just like a wood fire."

"I want both of you to remember all you have read in Madame Garden Manual's book, because I am a book person myself and so I am interested in book folk."

"You—a book person? We thought you were a garden 'prite'!" Both Little-Girl and Big-Boy were over come with surprise.

"I am a garden sprite, but I am also a book elf. Now I will disclose my secret. I am the little Elf Man whose picture you may see any day in the charming book called 'Proper Diet for School Children.' That is a beautiful illustrated book sent out by the United States Bureau of Education, and I am sure your teacher has a copy."

"Of course," said the little Elf Man. "I think I am much handsomer than the picture in the book, and I think the artist made me appear somewhat fat, whereas I really am possessed of a most elegant figure."

Big-Boy looked at the Elf Man as though he had seen him for the first time.

"Oh, oh," he said, "you are the book Elf. I've seen his picture, and there in the picture was Bobtail drinking milk from a bowl. Why you and Bobtail are shown on the very first page of the book that the Bureau of Education sends out."

"Yes," said the Elf Man, as he swung around on one foot.

"But I am not in the book. I am a bigger boy than the boy in the picture," said Big-Boy, proudly. (He was all of twelve years old, you remember.)

"Well, you have grown some, I will admit that," said the Elf Man, "but you have grown so large and strong because your mother gave you the food that the book advises. And Little-Girl is in the book."

"And where am I?" me-ow-ed Ku-ti-pi. "I am left out, and I want to know right now if I am a School Garden Soldier."

"Indeed you are and all your relatives. You catch the mice that eat the grain. You belong to a very ancient and honorable race," soothed Madame Garden Manual.

"And you are in the Diet Book even if you don't show," said the little Green Elf Man. "Perhaps you are hiding behind a milk bottle, or maybe you are chasing mice. At any rate you are there even if you are not seen, which is a con-so-lation. Now I am very much interested in the proper diet for children," and the Elf Man began to sing—

"Coffee and tea you had better let be, Sausage and food so greasy. Bread and milk that is sweet, And baked apples to eat.

Will make your life pleasant and easy. Vegetables fresh, and crispy and fine Put on your table whenever you dine. Fruits that are rosy and mellow and sweet Should be on the platter whenever you eat."

"Well, I must be going," said the little Elf, "I'll see you again," and he swung from bush to tree until he had found his home in the old-fashioned garden that surrounded the low white house where Little-Girl lived with Ku-ti-pi.

"I am glad you can talk, Ku-ti-pi," said Little-Girl, "and I am glad you can catch mice."

Yes, the big black cat could talk. She said, "Me-ow"—"Me-ow." Things she wanted to tell Little-Girl with the language behind her eyes. Perhaps sometime she will try to tell the story of the field mice.—By Cecilia Reynolds Robertson.

CARRIES CAR UNDER ARM IN TRAFFIC RUSH

Western Movie Star Gives Traffic Police the Laugh When He Uses His Road Mosquito.

Tony Moreno, popular Pacific coast cinema star, has found a way of getting around new Los Angeles traffic regulations that prevent cars from turning to the left, and the parking of vehicles on down town streets during business hours. Moreno had his big limousine checked by the traffic cop and immediately proceeded to design and have built one of the smallest, speediest and most unique motor vehicles in existence.

Moreno calls it his "lifeboat." His friends call it the "Moreno Mosquito." It's a single passenger car with small sized auto speedster body, has a twin cylinder motorcycle engine, 14-inch wheel rims and is driven on Goodyear airplane tires. It's so light Tony can pick it up and carry it under his arm. It has a speed of 85 miles an hour.

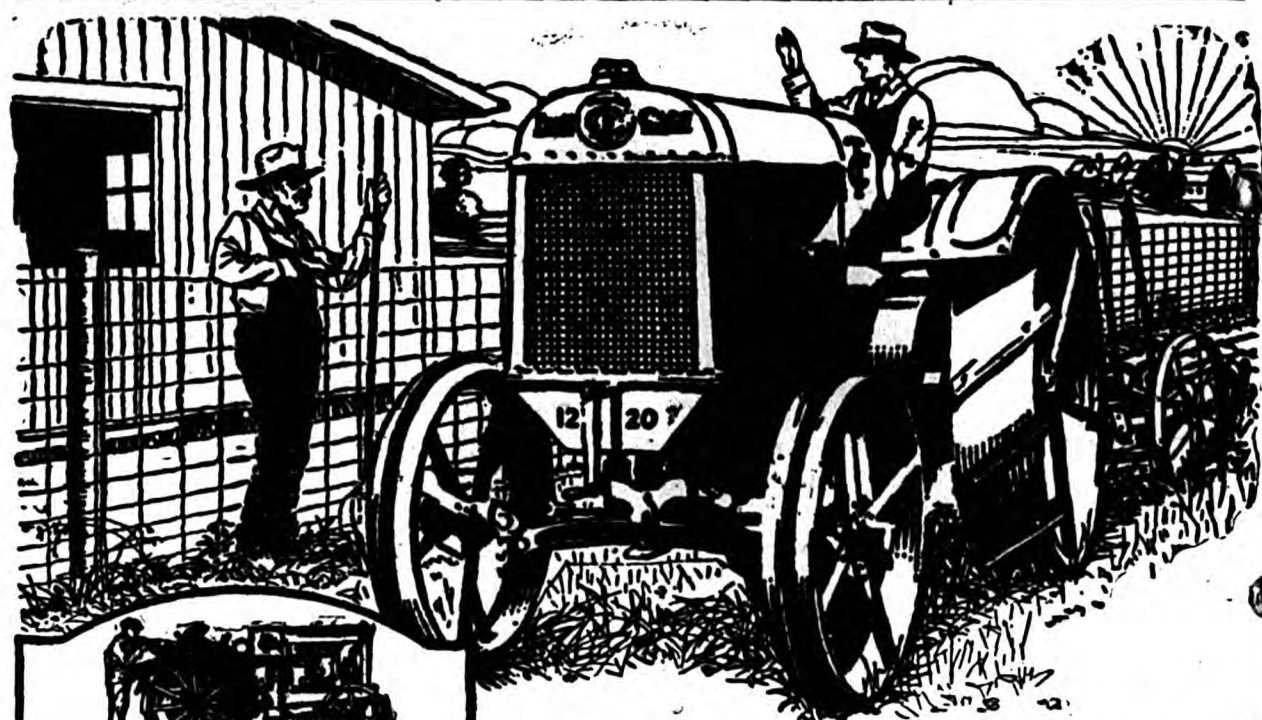

Recently a pedestrian traffic in Los Angeles was blocked when Moreno alighted from the "lifeboat," picked it up and carried it across the sidewalk and calmly proceeded to park it in a barber shop window while he got a shave, giving the irate traffic cop a merry "ha ha" as he entered the barber shop.

Cured of Stomach Trouble and Constipation.

Rachel Graham, of Beaver Dam, Ohio, was sick for two years with stomach trouble and constipation, and had no relief until she used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. "My stomach is so comfortable now," she says, "that I prepared a bottle of them at our drug store to try. A few days treatment convinced me that they were just what I needed. I continued their use for several weeks and they cured me." A—C.

"Just as good as last year, Dad"

THE farmer who bought a Twin City 12-20 last year is sure of one thing—that it will do just as good work this year.

So much surplus power, surplus strength and surplus toughness are built into this tractor, that a year's hard service leaves hardly a trace.

In fact, Twin City engineers built the 12-20 to outlast any farmer's expectation. Nothing that would make it last longer has been left out.

Think of the extra years of service and constant dependability assured by such features as these:

Sixteen valve-in-head kerosene engine means perfect fuel combustion and great power; removable cylinder head and cylinder walls mean simplicity in making adjustments; counterbalanced crankshaft means reduced vibration and long life; transmission is mounted on Hyatt roller bearings and drives direct on both forward speeds; gears drop forged, steel cut and case hardened, running in a dust-proof bath of oil.

Write us today for the full details of this remarkable tractor. Also ask about all-steel Twin City Thrashers.

CHAFFY CHAT BY A CHATTER

Talks About Inheritance Tax, Rail Situation and Other Interesting Local Current Topics.

The State Tax commission has several deputies at work in the counties examining the records of the Orphans' Court pertaining to estates and the collateral inheritance tax on same. Some very large estates are in the hands of the Orphans' courts in many counties and large amounts are due the state for collateral inheritances. The state tax commission is, therefore, looking out for the state's share of the money due. The deputy has not yet visited Wicomico county, but its dollars to doughnuts that when he checks up the records in "Bud" Dashell's office he will find everything O. K. and that state will receive every penny due from collateral inheritances. The deputy from the state tax commission is making exact calculations of every estate administered upon in the past two years.

The cheering (?) news comes to us that the western meat packers are predicting higher meat prices very soon. The average family will, therefore, have to buy lower-priced cuts or else cut down in the quantity of meats consumed. The reason given for the predicted higher meat price is that the production is four hundred millions pounds lower than at this time last year. Government figures at 69 principal stockyards show 2,500,000 fewer animals slaughtered this year than last year up to July 1, which means a decrease of 400,000,000 pounds of meat packed. The decrease, which at this rate would amount to 1,000,000,000 pounds by the end of the year. The decrease in slaughter indicates that, as a result of these losses, some producers have cut down their herds and may restrict production.

Pennsylvania railroad officials announced Wednesday that due to the necessity of curtailment of operating expenses, between 11,000 and 12,000 shopmen and clerks in the Eastern region will be laid off. No trainmen will be effected, it was announced. The Eastern region, in which the present surplus exists, embraces the territory served by the Pennsylvania system lines east of Altoona, Pa., south of New York and north of Washington and Norfolk, and includes four grand divisions of the system. The N. Y. P. & N. and Delaware divisions are effected and it is expected that many shopmen and clerks will soon be without jobs.

With the present excessive price of farm labor and the constant demands for increases, has led to comparisons by several papers as to the wage of farm laborers and clerks in the stores. This is the way the Star-Democrat, of Easton puts it:

Does the Talbot county farm laborer realize just what he is getting now? From the scarcity of such labor here it would seem that he does not. The Star-Democrat has heard of so many complaints of the scarcity of labor on the farms that this week an effort was made to calculate just what the present prices mean to the farm laborer. The first person to be approached was Senator Geo. L. Bartlett. He had evidently made a study of the question.

"The average Talbot county laborer on the farm receives more than the average clerk in the stores of Easton," said the senator. "This may seem to be an exaggeration," continued he, "but it is true from my own experience.

"As I figure it, the laborer gets more than $1,300 a year, and practically three months he has but little to do, but is paid just the same as when he is very busy."

"What are your figures?" he was asked by the Star-Democrat man.

"Well, it figures out about like this," said he, taking a memorandum from his pocket:

Wages for 12 months at $25 per month $300.00
Meat per month, 25 pounds at 20 cents 60.00
Flour per month, 75 lbs. 72.00
1 gallon milk per day, at 40 cents 146.00
10 cords of wood, at $10. 100.00
House, per month, $5. 60.00
Keep of horse at $1 per day; hay, 50c; corn 50c. 365.00
Raising chickens they want (out of corn house) 50.00
Raising two hogs out of corn house 100.00
All the garden they want out of farmer's time 50.00

"This makes a total of $1,303," said Senator Bartlett, "and I can not say off-hand that no kind of labor is better paid than that on the farm."

These figures were submitted to eleven other prominent farmers and in every instance they were pronounced correct, but in some cases the items were too low.

COMMUNICATED.

Mr. Editor:

I have read with much interest column after column in your readable paper outlining various propositions with the idea in view of making Salisbury a better and bigger city. Many articles have come to my notice in your effort to increase the business of Salisbury and attract people to your city. Recently you have covered the many benefits that the city would receive from a baseball team, from a public park and while all of these meet with my hearty approval, I have been led to wonder why you have not seen one which is all to appearant and which MUST be remedied if Salisbury is to grow and prosper.

What I refer to is the housing situation. How can you expect the city to grow, the large business enterprises to come and succeed, the business of the city to grow and the city in general to be on the increase both in business and population, when you cannot supply the demand for houses in which the people are to live?

I have talked this matter over at different times with different people and invariably the reply comes that it would be impossible at the present time, with the high prices of labor and materials to erect homes that would net an income of over three per cent to the builders.

This statement may be true, and no doubt is, but still I am too dense to see how Salisbury can continue to grow unless something is done to improve this situation and provide homes for the workmen of your city.

Recently I have read in many papers of similar conditions in many other communities the United States over, and have been impressed with the way some of the places, some no larger and certainly no more prosperous than Salisbury, have started out to meet the condition.

In many Pennsylvania towns of a similar size of Salisbury, what is known as housing corporations have been organized, some to the amount of over $100,000, which has as its purpose the erection of homes to house its people. The plan works alone this line. The housing corporation builds the homes, and sells them to the workmen of the city, demanding 10 per cent down and moderate monthly payments and in need for homes, but are at the same time helping their cities to grow, and helping to make their working people happy and more contented and more apt to make the city their permanent place of residence.

Some such scheme is certainly badly needed at the present time in Salisbury. It is practically impossible to find a house to rent, and even if you do, after long weeks of search and possibly through influence of friends, secure one, the rent is almost prohibitive for an ordinary workingman.

Salisbury needs homes. People certainly cannot come to your city unless you can supply them with a place to live. There are many people today who are working in Salisbury who want to stay here, but cannot find homes in which to live. No doubt there are many more who have already been forced to leave here and locate elsewhere because of this condition. And there are still many more who would be glad to make your progressive city their home if it were possible.

Surely Salisbury, with its wide-awake business men, its progressive business houses and industries, will not tolerate a condition that has and will continue to drive away those who are anxious to make Salisbury their home. Surely the far-sighted business ability of its citizens will assert itself and some plan will be devised to give relief from this unbearable condition.

Salisbury needs homes and homes she must have if she expects to hold her position as the leading city of the Eastern Shore.

A SUFFERER.

Fight Is On For Command Of The Oyster Patrol Boat

W. F. Roberts, W. F. Evans and Ernest Taylor, All Democrats, Are Pulling Their Wires For the Appointment. Party's State Central Committee Which Recommends the Appointee, Is Divided Between the Three Applicants.

DISHARON WILL FAVOR MOST POPULAR MAN

NANTICOKE, Aug. 15.—The same old fight for the command of the oyster police boat in this section which has been coming up every two years for the past 20 years or more, is again on and a spirited fight is being waged by the three aspirants—W. F. Roberts, W. F. Evans and Ernest Taylor. Each of these gentlemen has good backing in the two lower districts and each is claiming he will win out.

It has been the custom usually for the aspirants to secure lengthy petitions from residents of the two lower districts and then these petitions are submitted to the Democratic State Central committee and their choice is usually endorsed by the state senator. This is not always the case, however, for in the past there have been occasions where the endorsement of the State Central committee has not pleased the state senator and the latter has secured the appointment of a man of his own choice.

In the present fight it is current rumor that the State Central committee is very much divided on the question of endorsement; it is rumored that Wade H. Bedsworth and Daniel B. Cannon, of the committee, are favorable to Ernest Taylor, who is a brother of Emerson J. Taylor, and Ira D. Turner, of the committee, is favorable to W. F. Evans. It is also current gossip that ex-Senator J. D. Price and "Bob" Walter are moving Heaven and earth to secure the appointment of Evans.

The matter came up before the State Central committee in Salisbury today, and each aspirant had his friends with him. Each one presented as strong a case as possible, but what the outcome will be is a problem.

Senator Disharoon, who was importuned by the aspirants and their friends, is understood to have said that he will endorse the man who had the backing of the most prominent Democrats of the two lower districts. It was the opinion of several who were in Salisbury on Friday that in the end, Senator Disharoon will be favorable to Taylor.

It also cropped out in Salisbury on Friday that "Bob" Walter is an aspirant for another good position—general oyster inspector for the four lower counties. Mr. Walter was a former commander of the police schooner Nellie Jackson for several years.

The present three-cornered fight for the command is growing very warm between the Democratic factions.

ENTERTAINS AT A THEATER PARTY

After the guests had enjoyed the picture, "Remodeling a Husband," a private luncheon was served them at the Lantern Tea Room.

Misses Amy Bennett, Lucille Horsey, Doris Jones, Iris Catlin, Allice Wheatley, Lucy White and Bessie Booth were Miss Bounds' guests for the evening.

PEOPLE SHOULD HELP BAND CONCERTS ALONG

Contributions May Be Left At The News Office and All Amounts Received Will Be Published.

Salisbury's weekly band concerts are drawing great hosts of people. More than 1,500 people made up the audience at Central park on Friday night, and the indications are for an even bigger crowd tomorrow night.

Not alone does the I. O. O. F. band of Salisbury present a very attractive musical program each week, but the band organization is attempting to give the city a much needed amusement park.

That the effort is meeting with public approval is indicated by the crowds which assemble at the park each week, and by the great numbers of people from nearby places who come here to enjoy the music and the attractions.

So far, though, the open air concert season is fast drawing to a close, not a contribution to help defray the cost of the concerts, the improvements made at the park, or the cost of attractions installed and operated there has been received. The band has, still, is carrying the entire cost, though the entire city is the beneficiary of its efforts.

A number of people have expressed a willingness to help the band meet its expenses but so far no contributions have been made.

Maybe this is because no concerted effort has been made to obtain financial help for the band.

Now, those who want to make contributions may leave their money and their names at THE WICOMICO NEWS office, and the amounts and the names of the donors will be published. The money will be immediately turned over to the band organization.

Practical Patriotism Displayed by Local Men

Former Service Men, Many of Whom Saw Service in World War, and Now Very Busy in Business, Have Organized a Committee in Order To Recruit Co. I U. S. Infantry, 1st Division, 28th Infantry Brigade, 7th Army Corps, U. S. Army, to Do Their Parts Too.

For two or three months recruiting the new Company I has been languishing. The overseas men have had a feeling that they had done their part and were not called upon to return to the colors. The men who had not been in the service at all for some reason have not yet felt the call or the obligation of service. There has been almost complete indifference among employers. People generally have been engrossed with their own business and pleasure. They have not realized the importance of filling up the company which guarded the Mexican border and fought the Germans in France.

These conditions have been frankly and positively discouraging to Captain Russell and his officers. In a county with perhaps 5,000 men of military age, 65 could not be found to join Company I. In two or three months of effort only 19 could be enlisted.

Then some of the "old guard" decided that something must be done. A little group of them met in the office of Lieutenant Colonel Woodcock on Friday night. They looked the situation squarely in the face. Something had to be done. They talked a little but acted a great deal. They decided to enlist themselves. First to sign his name to enlist as a private was Alexander T. Grier, formerly lieutenant in the A. E. F., who won more honors in two years of service (Continued on Page 8.)

COLORED POLICE TO HAVE NO POWER

Mayor Kennerly Says They Will Act Only on Colored Picnic Grounds and Then Only as "Specials."

The impression given by local newspapers last week that the city is to have colored policemen, and that imposition was based purely and simply upon the official minutes of the City Council meeting, has caused a deal of comment among the city's people. Some of the comment, in fact the greater part of it has been unfavorable to the alleged proposed naming of colored men to serve as policemen and much of it has been aimed directly at Mayor Kennerly. As a matter of fact, it was the City Council which authorized the appointment of the colored policemen, and, according to Mayor Kennerly, the idea was not his.

In order to get what seems to be a false impression from the minds of the people, however, Mayor Kennerly in an interview with a NEWS man this week told what he says are facts concerning the matter and asked that they be in turn presented to the people at large.

The mayor says that the colored men will not be appointed for several months since the erection of the pavilion at which they are to serve has not been started.

He says too, that these men will be named as "special" policemen and will be detailed to duty at the proposed colored pavilion. They will not be empowered, he says, to act as policemen outside of the colored pavilion grounds.

They will not be permitted to escort persons whom they may arrest at the pavilion grounds, off those premises, but will be required to hold all such persons in custody until a member of the city's regular police force can reach the place to make the arrest.

Public Schools Open For Fall Term September 2nd.

General Conference of All Teachers Scheduled at the Wicomico High School Building For the Day Previous. A Few of Rural Schools Still Without Teachers. Sharptown High School Has No Principal. Schools Are Improved.

COLORED SCHOOLS TO OPEN OCT. 4

The Board of Education for Wicomico county and County Superintendent Bennett are very busy making preparations for the opening of the white public schools of the county on Thursday, September 2. Repairs are being made to several buildings and others have been repainted. While the board has not been able to make as many improvements as contemplated, owing to lack of funds, the school properties will, by the time the fall term opens, present their best appearance of several years.

County Superintendent Bennett has sent out notices to teachers that there will be a general meeting of the white teachers of the county in the Salisbury High school on Wednesday, September 1. This meeting will be in the nature of a general conference on school matters and it is believed the teachers will be better prepared to enter upon their work next day. Superintendent Bennett, ever alive to the progress of the schools, will no doubt have something interesting to say to the teachers. It is expected that every white teacher will be in attendance.

The date for the opening of the colored schools of the county has been set for October 4th, and the superintendent expects to arrange for a general conference of the colored school teachers to be held in Salisbury on October 3rd.

The county superintendent has closed contracts with teachers to fill all but six or eight places, these being Cherrywalk, Riley's, Johnson's, Green Branch, principal of Sharptown High school and one assistant at the Delmar High school. The teachers in all the city schools have been appointed, but it is possible that there may be some changes before the doors are thrown open on the second of next month. Owing to the reported scarcity of capable teachers for next year, the board congratulates Superintendent Bennett for having been so successful in securing a full corps of instructors.

The school authorities are rushing work on the addition to East Salisbury Primary school, hoping to have it completed by the date for the opening of the fall term, but it is doubtful if it can be done. In any event, it will not interfere with the opening of the school. Two rooms, each 29x24 feet, are being added. These will afford seating capacity for 75 to 85 more pupils than at present, and will relieve the unfortunate situation which existed in that school last year. It was expected that the improvements to this building could be made for about $5,000, and the county commissioners levied $4,000 for the purpose, but it is now evident that the cost will exceed the first estimate of $5,000.

REST AWHILE.

The WICOMICO NEWS will have a very attractive booth at the Salisbury Fair next week. You are invited to make this booth your headquarters at the Fair Grounds. Go there and rest. Go there and meet your friends. Go there and receive a useful souvenir—and while you are there, be sure to renew your NEWS subscription.

Education Board Has Scholarships

These May Be Had By Qualifying Applicants From Wicomico County. Some Are Very Valuable.

The Board of Education has at its disposal several scholarships which it is hoped the young men and women of the county will accept.

The vacancies are: Tilghman scholarship in Randolph-Macon college, Ashland, Va., for males only; one in Blue Ridge college, New Windsor, Md., male or female, full four years' course; one in Charlotte Hall, for men; one in Maryland institute, Baltimore, for men or women, four years' course.

There are several vacancies in the State Normal school, with free tuition and board, with assurance of a good position in the teaching profession after graduation. County Superintendent Bennett is very anxious to fill these vacancies and will gladly give any information to applicants.

HOLD TWO YOUTHS FOR FIRE THEFT

Marion Nickelson and Ralph Tingle Must Stand Trial on Burglary Charge Before Grand Jury.

Marion Nickelson and Ralph Tingle, Salisbury youths, will be tried in the next term of the Circuit court, before the grand jury, each on a charge of burglary. The young men were arrested a few days ago and are now enjoying their liberty after furnishing bonds to the amount of $200 after they waived a preliminary hearing before Judge Jones, this week.

Nickelson and Tingle are accused by Resident Engineer Burroughs of the State Roads commission with breaking into the local garage of the State Roads commission and stealing two automobile tires valued at $170. The theft occurred a month or more ago. One of the tires has been recovered and its former possession traced to the two alleged thieves.

Nickelson's story is that one night while driving Tingle's car, the lights went out of commission and fearing to drive the machine through the city without lights, he parked it in a vacant lot near the electric light plant and walked into town to get some one to repair the lights. When he returned he found two tires in the rear part of the machine.

He says he supposed some friends of Tingle's had placed the tires in the machine during his absence from the car. He repaired the lights himself and drove the machine to Tingle's garage. No one ever claimed the tires, he said.

After about two weeks Tingle took one of the tires to J. Waller Williams' garage and offered it in exchange for a tire that would fit his own car. Mr. Williams refused to make the exchange but took the number of his license and the number of the tire. A few days afterward, State Road Engineer Burroughs caused the arrest of both Nickelson and Tingle on a charge of theft.

Mr. Burroughs said that a NEWS man on Tuesday that he would willingly fail to prosecute the youths whom he is convinced stole the tires were the tires his personal property. They are the property of the State Roads commission, however, and he is only a detective.

Mr. Burroughs said that the State Roads commission broke into the garage and stole the tires "went through two tires and accomplished the theft. One of the tires was broken and the other was unfurnished with a key, he said.

TRUCK CRASHES INTO CAR WEDNESDAYS

Hardware Truck at Main and Division Streets. Mr. Shockley Hurt.

J. E. Shockley's three passenger Studebaker car was partially wrecked and Mr. Shockley himself more or less severely injured and shaken up when his car was struck by an Oldsmobile truck, the property of the Mitchell & Goslee Hardware Co., driven by E. H. Murray, at the corner of Main and Division streets at 6:45 o'clock on Wednesday night.

The entire left side of Mr. Shockley's car was battered to pieces, the rear mud fender being torn off, the running board demolished, the left rear tire cut in several places by the sharp fender, and the side of the car mashed in, especially the door which could not be opened until part of the mechanism had been straightened. Mr. Shockley was alone in the car and was seated on the side which was struck by the truck. He was severely bruised especially on the left arm and was not able to be at his desk the following two days because of the injuries.

Mr. Shockley was driving from Main into North Division street at a very slow speed and the Oldsmobile truck was going down Division toward Main street. Mr. Shockley tried to stop his car and allow the other to pass in front of him. E. H. Murray, the driver of the truck, thought Mr. Shockley would turn into North Division so he swerved the truck toward Main street. As a result, the Oldsmobile struck the Studebaker standing still and before the driver could bring the larger car to a stop, it had dragged Mr. Shockley's automobile to the curbing on the corner occupied by the Salisbury Building & Loan association and one wheel was on the sidewalk.

A big and excited crowd immediately surrounded the two machines and the assistance of several men was necessary before they could be separated, part of the front springs of the truck having become fastened in the rear fender of the Studebaker.

The truck was filled with picnickers from Mount Vernon who had spent the day at Ocean City and were returning to their homes.

No one was held by the policeman who appeared on the scene immediately after the mishap occurred.

NEW HOTEL BIDS OPENED ON TUESDAY

Low Estimate is $209,000. Directors Meet Again To Go Over Proposals All of Which Seem High.

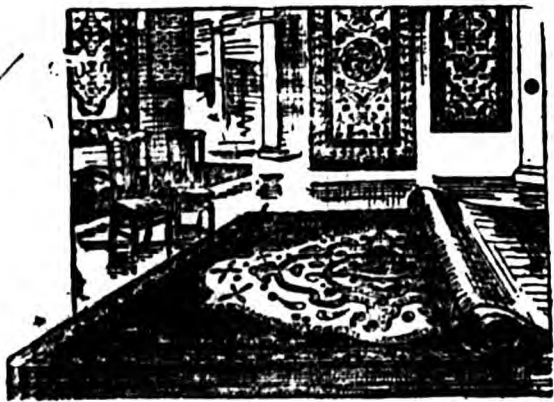

Bids on the construction of the proposed new Shoreman hotel building were opened on Tuesday night. The three lowest bids were $210,000, $209,435 and $209,385. Each of the other several bids were higher.

The figures do not cover the cost of heating, lighting, plumbing or furnishing the building. The directors met again on Wednesday afternoon for a further consideration of the several bids, each one of which is considerably higher than the original estimate of the construction cost.

Demand 35 Cents For Their Tomatoes

Wicomico Growers' Association Fix the Price on Saturday For This Week. Meet Again August 21.

A largely attended meeting of the Wicomico Tomato Growers' association was held in the court house Saturday afternoon to discuss the tomato situation in this county. Reports from all sections were to the effect that a very large acreage of tomatoes is being grown, and that, at prices offered by the canners the growers are facing heavy losses.

It was unanimously voted not to sell tomatoes to the canneries during the present week for less than 35c a basket. It was decided to hold another meeting next Saturday at which time the question of continuing the 35c rate or lowering it, will be considered.

Several growers expressed the opinion that the cost of growing and marketing the tomatoes will be from 40 to 50 cents per basket.

THOSE COLORED POLICEMEN.

The agitation alleged to have been created by the authorization of the mayor by the city council to appoint two colored policemen seems to have been a case of Much Ado About Nothing.

The appointment of the two proposed colored policemen, according to President Messick of the city council, entails no expense upon the city since the men are to serve without pay. They will not be regular policemen, according to Mr. Messick, and will not wear a police badge or uniform.

They will have no power outside of keeping order and making arrests, if necessary, at the colored amusement pavilion in the California section, a permit for the erection of which was issued by the city council last week.

Mr. Messick sought the opinion of City Attorney Bailey, he said, in fixing the police powers of these men, and was informed that the colored policemen would have no such power outside of that particular section of the city in which they are appointed to serve.

The instruction to the mayor to appoint the colored men, Mr. Messick said, came upon the explanation of the colored people applying for the pavilion license, that they would guarantee to keep order at the place, that they would ask no assistance from the city's regular police force providing that two of their own race were appointed for the purpose. The owners of the promoters of the pavilion, Mr. Messick said, would be under an iron clad guarantee to the city to keep the place decently and orderly, the guarantee to be drawn by City Attorney Bailey.

The opinion of many people that a policeman, no matter what his color, even though he be appointed to specially detailed post or duty, would be empowered to make arrests or quell trouble in any portion of the city in which he might find cases demanding his attention, according to Mr. Messick, who said he was acting on the advice of the city attorney, seems to have been in error. This opinion, according to Mr. Messick, holds that they have no real police powers anywhere but on their specially detailed posts, which will be in the California section where the proposed amusement pavilion for the colored people is to be erected and operated.

Just how these colored appointees to the police force as "specials" are to enforce peace and order on their posts, unless they wear some insignia of their office and authority, is a question which people are today asking—but doubtless the mayor and city council have also given this phase of the situation some consideration.

It would seem that without some visible insignia of office, these men will be little more than watchmen whose efforts to preserve law and order on their posts may be resented by persons unfamiliar with their rank and power—and it would seem that the minute the city pins a police badge upon the breasts of these men, they become members of the regular police force with all the authority of the regular policeman. It would seem too, that the fact of these men serving as policemen, whether as specials or regulars, without compensation from the city, does not relieve the city from responsibility for their acts since they are serving under official appointment by the mayor of the city, appointment officially authorized by the city council in one of its regular official sessions.

However, whether the power of the proposed two colored policemen be great or little, whether their power may be exercised only in the California section or all sections of the city, is a matter of little note, since it is the duty of every citizen, whether white or colored, to do all in his power to preserve the peace and quiet of the community, by his personal acts.

It is probable that the colored pavilion will give well deserved recreation to many of the colored people of Salisbury and vicinity and that there will be no cause whatever for the interference of any policemen, whether they be men appointed for special duty, or men who are members of the city's regular police force.

The colored people of Salisbury are a law abiding people, and it is not likely that their amusements and recreations will require any kind of police supervision.

HOW DO THEY DO IT?

Recent figures given out by the Internal Revenue department show that approximately 103,000,000 persons are living on $2,000 a year or less, according to an analysis of income tax returns today. The population of the United States is unofficially estimated at slightly more than 105,000,000. The remaining 2,000,000 persons paid the bulk of $5,410,284,874 in federal income, excess profits and miscellaneous taxes collected by the federal government for the fiscal year ending June 30, as announced today.

This smaller group is estimated to include about 20,000 persons in the millionaire class, or those with incomes of $50,000 a year or more. This figure is used because it represents five per cent on $1,000,000. Approximately 4,000,000 tax returns were filed for the year, according to an estimate by C. B. Hurry, assistant commissioner of internal revenue. They indicate that the average salary in the United States is far below $2,000 a year.

THREE BILLION BUSHEL CORN CROP.

If the estimates of the Department of Agriculture concerning this year's corn yield are verified, this country will this year harvest a three billion bushel crop, for the third time in the history of the country.

Inasmuch as August is the critical month for the crop in the great corn belt of the middle west, it is uncertain whether the promise of a crop almost equal to the enormous ones of 1912 and 1917 will be fulfilled. Improvement was reported during July in the important corn states with the exception of Illinois, and as a result a crop forecast of 224,000,000 bushels larger than that predicted July 1 was issued.

Spring wheat was adversely affected during July, principally by rust, and the production forecast of the crop was reduced 29,000,000 bushels from a month ago or to a total of 262,000,000 bushels. The preliminary estimate of winter wheat production was 15,000,000 bushels larger than forecast in July, making the combined crop of winter and spring wheat only 14,000,000 bushels smaller than estimated a month ago. The total of 795,000,000 bushels was predicted in today's report.

Production of crops was forecast by the department from their condition on August 1 as follows: Winter wheat, 533,000,000; spring wheat, 262,000,000; all wheat, 795,000,000; corn, 3,003,000,000; rice, 77,000,000; buckwheat, 14,000,000; white potatoes, 402,000,000; sweet potatoes, 101,000,000; tobacco, 1,544,000,000 pounds; flax, 14,300,000.

Rice, 52,000,000; hay (tame), 88,600,000 tons; hay (wild), 18,000,000 tons; sugar beets, 8,900,000 tons; apples, (total), 213,000,000 bushels; peaches, 45,500,000; peanuts, 38,700,000; kafirs, 325,000,000.

LESSONS FOR RECKLESS AUTOISTS.

A New York judge has recently given a decision which should prove a salutary lesson to all reckless autoists and should be approved by every other judge in this country. The New York judge, in denying the motion for a new trial in behalf of some defendants under sentence of imprisonment for reckless automobile driving, gave some convincing reasons why the public must be protected against the peril arising from men who defy the traffic laws and are a danger to the community. He declared, in denying a new trial:

"Nothing should be done to discourage the fullest use of the automobiles for pleasure and for business purposes, but nothing should be left undone to compel a proper respect for an adherence to the laws, and one who violates them and causes serious injury must recognize that he is but in degree, no different from the ordinary criminal who menaces life, health and property."

"The laws are very considerate of motorists and municipalities and states vie with each other in offering them the best roads and all modern conveniences to add to their comfort, their pleasure and their financial advantage. The speed maniac, the inebriate and the incompetent have no right upon the highways, while those who do use automobiles should be taught to know that every advantage may be gained and nothing lost by a compliance with the laws."

"The laws are reasonable and rational, and so must the people be. We can never avoid accidents altogether, but it is our duty to conduct ourselves so they will be minimized."

These same admonitions may be made applicable to Salisbury and Wicomico county in general, as well as to New York, for while the ordinary dangers arising from the use of the automobile are fewer here than in the more crowded cities, the peril of the reckless driver is just as great here as anywhere, and the menace must be treated here with the same disciplinary punishment as it is elsewhere.

LET'S ALL DO IT.

Just as an attractive and aggressive window display is the index to the progressive business methods of the merchant, so are clean street the index to the progress and activity of the city or town.

The merchants who fails to clean his windows and make in them attractive displays of his wares is pretty sure to be doing business in a back number sort of way. He is pretty sure to be a backslider from the paths of success and progress.

So with the city which has dirty streets. The city which has streets littered with papers and other refuse matter, whether it is blown there by the winds or thrown there by careless people, is pretty sure to give the impression of lacking progress and activity.

The streets of a city are the arteries by which people from other places enter the place. They give the stranger his first impressions. If they are dirty, he naturally gets the idea that the whole city is dirty. If they are clean and well kept, he quite as naturally gets the impression that the place is one in which the people take a progressive and an aggressive pride.

Clean and well kept streets are a city's best advertisement. Salisbury's streets as a general thing are kept fairly clean; still in some sections the thoroughfares are sometimes pretty well littered with papers and other refuse matter.

The result is not sightly. A wrong impression is given. Salisbury is not a dirty or a poorly kept city.

It is among the best kept communities on the Eastern Shore; and those little pieces of paper which lie scattered about some of the streets some of the time, are bearers of false witness against the fair name and reputation of the place.

The way to counter the affects of false testimony is by discrediting the witness.

The way to discredit the impression given by the paper and waste matter blown about the streets, is to eliminate the paper and waste matter.

A man and a cart with a broom and a shovel going the rounds of the business section every day would probably help in the elimination process. The cost would not be great. The benefit, if the work is well done, would be great.

Salisbury people should do all in their power to see that their city makes a good impression on the stranger. The stranger well and favorably impressed is liable to come again. The stranger who gets a bad opinion of the place on his first visit is liable to stay away and to keep others away by the unfavorable comments he will give utterance to among his fellows.

Keep the streets clean would be a good slogan for Salisbury to adopt and carry out.

Let's all do it.

We Consider the August Sale of Furniture A SUCCESS

"I have walked all over Baltimore in search of just this style of bed room furniture, and found it too, but—the price was just $650.00 as compared to this one at $315.00."

This remark was passed in our store the other day and the bed room suite was sold to the customer making the remark. Another similar remark was passed in our office by a customer who had returned from Philadelphia, after first looking over our prices. He came back from Philadelphia empty handed and bought here, making a trip to our office to inform us that the things that he had bought here were about 40% under a certain leading Philadelphia merchant.

More and more folks are realizing every day that it pays to shop at this store—and that furniture can be bought during this August Sale at very low prices as compared with the larger city stores.

Here are two people who have experienced a saving by buying at this store and there are many others.

You may be refurnishing your home this Autumn—you may be replacing a piece or so and then again you may be just starting out to make a home and need to furnish entirely as is the case with many recent newlyweds. If you are contemplating furniture at any time soon, now is the time to buy it or make arrangements to have it stored until you have the actual need of it, while the August Sale of Furniture is on.

HOOSIER

Two Million Women Have Voted for the "HOOSIER"

Two million American women have recognized Hoosier superiority and have installed this woman emancipator in their homes.

These same two million women have helped to make the Hoosier a better kitchen cabinet. For twenty-one years they have given us the benefit of their experience with it.

Literally thousands of suggested improvements have been offered by Hoosier users. All of them have been tried out in actual use. It is safe to say that every suggestion that has ever been made concerning kitchen cabinet construction has been actually tried by us.

The best are now embodied in the Hoosier. The rest—no matter how alluring they may have seemed on paper—failed under the test of actual use.

There is no place in the Hoosier for anything that does not actually lessen the time a woman must spend in her kitchen—and lighten her work while there.

Visit our store—sit in front of a Hoosier Cabinet—and let us explain its many advantages to you.

The Great SALISBURY FAIR

Salisbury, Maryland

Aug. 24, 25, 26, 27, 1920

4—DAYS AND NIGHTS—4

The Fair Association has arranged for the biggest Fair ever held on this Peninsula. They have secured the services of one of the greatest aviators in America. He will carry passengers for sight-seeing over our town and surrounding country, also will give a wing-walking stunt daily as well as parachute drops. Just think of a man walking the wings of an Airplane thousands of feet in the air and then jumping from the machine and taking his life in his own hands, depending upon a parachute to save him from death. Remember, anyone wishing to go up in the Airplane and take the jump in a parachute will have the privilege to do so, and the Association offers a prize of $50.00 for the feat.

Races

The management will give the regular races for light-harness horses, and in addition have arranged for two Running Races each day of the genuine thoroughbred Running Horses. They will be the same class Running Races as the Baltimore race tracks give, and will be something new for this Peninsula. This will be the first opportunity for many of our citizens to see the Running Races which is considered to be the greatest sport in America.

Free Acts

There will be three troupes of acrobats, high trapeze performers as well as tumbling acts. The Tasmanian Troupe, consisting of seven people, principally girls, is included. This feature alone is well worth the price of admission each day. The Midway will contain at least ten (10) good shows with four (4) riding devices furnished by one of the greatest carnival shows in America, Ben Krause, Manager.

Already a number of farmers, housewives and stockraisers have made entries for exhibits, yet the Association is arranging to take care of more, and ask the public to send in their entries not later than Thursday, August 19th, at 6 o'clock, as the books will be closed at that time. Prizes have been increased on almost all exhibits for 1920.

Errors and Grouch Beat Delmar Team

Six Inning Contest With Federalsburg on Tuesday—
Score 5 to 1.

RAIN PREVENTED A DEEPER BURIAL

On Wednesday Delmar Players Suffered With Grouch and Left It To Ken Ellis To Deaft the Entire Cape
Charles Outfit. Score 7 to 2. The Fans Found the Game a Painful Ordeal.

The Delmar team went over to Federalsburg on Tuesday, August 10th, and lost a six inning game to the crack organization of that town. Rain stopped the game at the end of the sixth with the score five to one. The game was started under lowering skies, and had to be halted once on account of a shower.

The contest was full of errors from the start, the players of each side making their full share. Several times during the first four innings the Federalburg team had good chances to score, but luck seemed to be working for the Delmar boys. The locals had about as many chances, but didn't seem better able to take advantage of them. In the fifth, however, Lady Luck quit rooting for us, and the opponents romped home with three tallies. Only six men faced Ken Ellis in that inning, only one hit was made, and only four men reached first, yet three runs were made. Again in the sixth the Federalburg players succeeded in crossing the plate, bringing in two more tallies.

Tilghman made the only run for the locals, and that happened in the sixth with two men down.

Everybody seemed to have an off day. Even Ellis did not work as good as usual, and made one or two errors.
Can't expect a man to be up to top notch all the time, though.

Lineups: For Delmar—Joynes, 2b;
Lowden, ss; Pennuall, 1b; Tilghman,
9b; Hastings, c; Hantwerker, cf;
Hoffmeister, lf; Ellis, p; Lowe, rf.
For Federalburg—Marvil, ss;
Bradley, rf; Hill, 1b; Jones, 2b;
Motz, lf; Wagner, 3b; Melvin, cf;
Noble, c; Hummer, p.

Cape Charles, 7; Delmar, 2.

Cape Charles played here on Friday, and as usual won the game, the score being seven to two. All the home boys seemed to be suffering with grouch, or were overworked, or otherwise not up to par, and the game was rather painful to the fans.

Tilghman of Cape Charles was the second man up, and made a hit, and the next man advanced him to second.
Then Rosten came up, and swatted a two bagger, sending Tilghman home. Rosten also succeeded in reaching home before the inning was over.

Strawberry led off for Delmar with a hit, and stole second. Lowden followed with another hit, sending White to third. White succeeded in getting home on Fowler's sacrifice. Lowden nearly got a run, but didn't—he was called out at the plate on a close decision.

In the fourth the visitors made another run. Ames, second man up, grounded to White and got on because of White's bad throw to first.
He then went to second on a passed ball. Another Ames followed with a hit, sending the first Ames to third.
He reached home on a couple of errors.

friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The bride's gown was of white

American Stores Co. Will Occupy Store To Be Vacated By Hearn &
Co. Next Month.

F. E. Lynch has rented the store now occupied by Hearn & Co. to the American Stores Company. The latter company will occupy the property sometime during the month of September—that is, just as soon as they can remodel it to their needs.

It will be remembered that this company kept a store in Delmar about four years ago, in the property owned by Mrs. Levania Elliott. Mr.
Lynch says that he understands the company will remain here for a long time, according to present indications.

Hearn & Co. Will Move September 1
To Handsome New Store on Rail-

Frequenters of Railroad avenue noticed about the middle of last week that the board front had been removed from the store, which Hearn &
Co. have been having altered, revealing an up-to-date store front. The show windows are the best in the town. Doda Hearn, head of the concern, says that he expects to get in the new store about the first of September. The company expects to have one of the most up-to-date stores, and one of the most comprehensive lines of gents furnishings on the Eastern Shore.

The company will stock its new store with entirely new merchandise. This is arriving daily. The present stock is being offered to early buyers at prices away below those asked in other similar stores—but the reduction prices will only be in effect for a short time longer.

Rainy Weather Bad for Farmers

Cantaloupes Unable to Properly Ripen
Are Shipped Green and Drop in Prices Is Natural Result.

The copious rains of the last week have done the cantaloupes quite a bit of harm. They have not ripened as they would have done in good weather, and few of them were really fit to pull. Many of the farmers did pull quantities, though, not wanting to wait, for fear they would not receive the best prices for all their fruit. As a result the markets were flooded with green fruit, and the bottom dropped out of the price the last of the week.
Friday they were selling for from 50 to 95 cents a carrier.

Several of the farmers refused to sell at the market prices and carted their fruit back to their farms to rot.
It is believed the market will improve just as soon as the shipment of unripe fruit is discontinued.

Mules Run Away Driver Is Hurt

Levi Taylor is Injured When Thrown From Wagon By Frightened Team
On Tuesday Morning, Aug. 10.

Tuesday morning, August 10th,
Levi Taylor, a prominent farmer living in the Columbia neighborhood, was hurt when his team of mules ran away.

Mr. Taylor was bringing a load of cantaloupes to Delmar. While crossing the railroad at the Mill crossing, his mules became frightened at a locomotive, and bolted. Mr. Taylor was thrown to the ground, and struck by the wagon. G. L. Long happened to be at Elliott's mill at the time, and brought Mr. Taylor in to the office of Dr. Ellegood, where he received treatment.

Miss Mildred Canfield, of Utica, N.
Y., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack West.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

The mayor and town council of the Delaware side of the town have decided to enforce some of the ordinances which have lain dormant on the town's statute books for some time.
There has been special stress laid on three statutes, which are to be more rigorously enforced. One is the statute dealing with the speed of automobiles. Another deals with the driving of a car with the exhaust of the engine unfiltered, or the cut-out open. A third prohibits the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks.

A good many of our citizens have felt for a long time that these ordinances should be enforced, and many have wondered if the town even boasted an official, whose duty it was to stop these annoyances. To see automobile after automobile racing down the street with unfiltered engine roaring, must indeed seem strange to visitors.

The speed limit for motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the town is ten miles an hour. A strict enforcement of this law would be as senseless as is the present disregard of it. The annoyance which it would cause to motor drivers, would be nearly as great as the annoyance—and sometimes danger—which we now have to put up with. To be compelled to drive through town at all times at a speed of ten miles an hour, or less, would be very trying to one's nerves.

The idea, though, is to compel drivers to have their cars under control at all times and as many corners as one has to pass, and as many little children as play on some of the streets, a person has no right to be driving promiscuously about the town at a speed of 30 to 40 miles an hour. You never know when some one is coming around one of those corners, or at what time one of those kids will take a notion to cross the street. A car should be driven with special care where there is any traffic, or any children playing along the street. The most annoying result of speeding is felt by a person sitting on the porch. If it happens to be dusty, and an automobile passes at a fast clip, the resultant dust-cloud is awful, especially if it is along one of these cinder streets.

Those habitual and persistent users of cut-outs should receive short shift. If there was any reason for using the cut-out, it would make a difference. The only use the thing has is to enable one to know if his engine is working well. It has to be kept open for only a few explosions to find this out, however. Most of these fellows not only want to continually hear how their engine is working, but insist that everyone else know what a fine motor they have. They don't seem to realize that the rest of us don't care if she's hitting on all twelve or not. The noise of the cut-out breaks in on your conversation and thoughts in the daytime, and off your rest at night, and the dust they kick up is just another offense to the nose.
Goodness knows that our nose comes into contact with enough unpleasantness, without having to stand for something that is unnecessary.

The bicycle ordinance is another one which should be enforced with a little discrimination. (They say the law cannot discriminate. Those who enforce it can, however.) The bicycle is an important adjunct to the business equipment of a few of our men, and one which it would be a hardship for them to do without. Two such cases, are the mail carriers and the railroad callers. Most of the time in summer the streets are all right to ride on, and bicycles should be compelled to use them. There are times, however, in the winter, when it would be almost impossible to ride a bicycle down the street. Then it would not be out of the way to allow the necessary bicycles to use the pavement, with the understanding, of course, that they at all times respect the right-of-way of pedestrians.

Those carloads of fish, which the yardmaster sometimes forgets to have moved out of town, gets some of us to wondering if some of our pet rats have eaten something, which did not agree with them, or to looking around for the old cat-which disappeared the other day.

Drain Clogs And Street Is Submerged

Railroad Avenue Resembled An Italian Gondola Thoroughfare After The Heavy Rain of Thursday.

During the heavy rain storm on Thursday evening, the drain on Railroad avenue became stopped up, and the street was nearly flooded, the water rising in some places to a height of two feet or more. S. N.
Culver, thinking that this might have happened, went to his store about 10 o'clock and found that the water had crept inside, and covered the floor.
He immediately got busy and cleared the water out, so that no damage was done.

Pedestrian traffic on the street was impossible to persons who were careful of their footwear and business was at a standstill until the flood subsided.
A corps of public spirited business men and their employees worked for more than an hour, after the drain was opened, with brooms and scoop shovels in an effort to clear the sidewalk of the water accumulated there.

FIREMEN CAPTURE SCALPS OF LOCALS

Game So Painful Fans Didn't Want To See Its Finish. Score 8 to 5 on Monday.

The Salisbury Fire department team came to Delmar on Monday and took a game away from the local boys.
The score was eight to five. The game was so loosely played that it was said to be painful to the fans.
Numbers of them could be seen trailing disconsolately back to town at any time after the game was well over.

It is beginning to look as though Delmar is never going to have a regular ball team again. Many of us take pleasure in calling to mind the good old days when Delmar had a regular ball team that would come up to any of them down this way. There are said to be some, though, to whom such recollections are painful. It is felt that we have the material for a ball team if they could just get together and play. They need lots of practice, though, and most of them cannot afford to take the time necessary for that. Maybe its better further on.

HOME WEDDING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Winifred Bostwick Becomes Bride of Herman Davis at the Home of Mrs. Arthur Halls.

Miss Winifred Bostwick, daughter of Mrs. Annie Bostwick, of Ponomo, and Herman Davis, of Delmar, were married here on Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Arthur Halls, the Rev. E. H. Jones was the officiating clergyman.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette and hat to match. Her flowers were bride's roses. The ceremony was attended by many friends of the contracting parties. After their honeymoon they will reside on North Second street in Delmar.

FORD TURNS OVER SUNDAY AFTERNOON

While driving his Ford car toward Salisbury on Sunday afternoon, E. H.
Parsons, of Laurel, turned it over on the Middle Neck curve, badly damaging the top, and smashing the windshield.

The friends of C. W. Jones were sorry to hear that he had suffered a relapse the latter part of last week.
There is always a special bit of sympathy for the man who has to suffer from applying himself too assiduously to his work.

Delmar Wins Some of Field Meet Events

Delaware Division Men Have Annual Affair in Clayton on Saturday.

LOCALS FINISH WELL IN THE TUG-O-WAR

Delmar Entrants Managed By R. C.
Sturgis. Railroad Company Stages Meet Without Cost To Its Employees. Delmar Lost Baseball Game To Clayton, Score 3 to 2.
Loss Credited to Lowden.

The Delaware Division annual field meet was held at Clayton on Saturday. Several men from the local shops went up in charge of R. C. Sturgis, and participated in some of the events.

The tug-o-war team was composed of four men, H. T. West, B. L. Marvil, A. H. Marvil and J. E. Gordy. They were first matched against the Clayton shop team, and beat them. Then they went against the experienced Wilmington team and were beaten, which left them second place in the event.

The 100 yard dash was the next participated in by the local boys. It was won by Jeffries, of Clayton, an all-around athlete of much experience.
Thomas Parker, of the local team, finished second.

The running broad jump was also won by Jeffries, of Clayton, J. E.
Powell, of Delmar, getting third place.
The local relay team, consisting of J.
E. Powell, M. H. Cordray, Thomas
Parker and Byard Culver, won second place in the mile relay race.

The day was closed by a baseball game between Delmar and Clayton.
The score was three to two in favor of Clayton. Lowden is blamed for losing the game. It is said that he let in three runs in the first inning.
The locals failed to take advantage of several breaks during the game, which would almost surely have given them the game. The two runs credited to the home team were made in the last inning.

Hantwerker pitched for Delmar and did excellent work, striking out 17 men. The lineups were:

For Delmar—White, 3b; Lowden, ss; Ellis, rf; Oliphant, 2b; Hastings, 1b; Hancock, cf; Hoffmeister, lf;
Hantwerker, p; Tobin, c.

For Clayton—Sparklin, lf; Qneal, 1b; Hoffecker, rf; Jacobs, cf; Northup, ss; Patterson, c; Covington, 2b; Holt,
3b; Hummel, p.

The railroad company paid all the expenses of the meet. All the participants were fed in camp cars, which were furnished especially for that purpose. The company has lately been offering every encouragement to the men of all divisions to engage in athletics, their idea being to work up a spirit of sporting rivalry between the men of the various divisions and terminals, and thereby infusing into them a better spirit of loyalty to the company.

AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY ASKS FOR SQUARE DEAL

Nothing could be more alien to the rightful purposes of the Federal Reserve Act or in sharper conflict with business wisdom and fair-play than a singling out of the automotive industry for drastic restrictions of credit. For the sake of the principle involved, as well as the vast practical interests at stake, it is greatly to be hoped that the federal reserve board will in no wise countenance, much less recommend, any policy to this effect. A rumor is abroad, however, that the regional banks have received suggestions, if not explicit instructions, to cut automotive credits to the bone and marrow, leaving the development, indeed the very life, of this great province of industry and commerce helplessly crippled. That responsible heads of the nation's financial affairs should take such a position is almost unthinkable; certainly, it could find no support, but only condemnation, from the discerning rank and file.

The only conceivable justification for refusing needful credits to this or to any other sound and legitimate business, as long as funds therefor are available, would be to protect the essential against the non-essential and to check the extravagance which breeds inflation and dangerous instability. But assuredly no competent judge would assign motor vehicles and machines to that category. The most casual observer knows that motor trucks are as essential as railway cars, and that tractors are as functionally important as plow horses or farm wagons in the country's productive life. Nor is it measurably different with the passenger car, that indispensable means of modern travel and communication. Theoretically, of course, the doctor could revert to the dozing Dobbin or his ancestors, the commercial traveler to the dirge of the country "hack" and the farmer, who now saves priceless hours and gains all manner of advantages by his automobile, could go back to the Accadian jog or ox-cart or mule. Theoretically, we say; but in fact the automobile and its kindred machines were suddenly whisked out of our daily life and labor, what an aching hollowiness there would be! What gaps in business and social currents! What failures to function and connect!

Years ago—a very grand sire's past, it seems, though really but a score or so of summers—the automobile was regarded as a luxury for the few. Today it is a necessity for multitudes, a source of livelihood for two million American workers, the foremost promoter of good roads, the banisher of solitude and loneliness from unnumbered farmsteads, the bringer of rural health and freedom to families once pent in cities, the foundation of the world's largest second industry. There is scarce a field of the country's productive interests that does not profit, one way or another, from the manufacture and sale of automotive machines. Particularly generous is the south's share of these benefits. For, as a writer in the Memphis News-Scimitar points out, even if there were not an automotive factory, assembling plant or sales agency in the south, still the automobile manufacturer would be one of her best patrons. For example:

"The cushions in the cars are padded with cotton. A good portion of the leather comes from the south; more of it would be used if more cattle were produced here. The wheels and bodies are manufactured from the choicest hard woods in the south. Automobile tops are made of cotton and cloth and a patented preparation, some of the ingredients of which are produced in the south. The upholstery, mats and carpets are made principally from cotton. The tires alone require more than three-quarters of a million bales of cotton annually. The gasoline that provides the motive power comes from the southern wells. The chassis of the automobile is made of steel, and the largest mills in the country are located in our neighboring state of Alabama."

It is pertinent to add that some of the substantial and promising of automobile manufacturing plants, as well as numerous agencies and assembling quarters, are established in the south, and that Atlanta is the center of the great industry for this region.

To hamstring the credit sinews of a business with which the common interests are thus vitally bound up, merely because persons here and there are extravagant in buying automobiles, would be as unwise and unfair as to stop the grinding of grain because certain foolish damascene squander their pin money on cream tarts, or gluttons now and then gorge themselves on hot cakes. Let the prodigals be rebuked as severely as common sense and public conscience can apply the rod; but let not the rights of a great prosperity-breeding industry be trampled down in the process.

By GEORGE ELMER COBB

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

"It's now or never, girl. The train goes inside of ten minutes. It's come or good-bye. Now Rachel, decide and be quick about it."

"Oh, Jake! I love you dearly, but the baby here? Let me run home with it and leave it with mistress."

"I've said my say. It would delay me six hours to miss this train."

"But I can't leave the baby as if it was a piece of luggage!"

"Yes, you can. But the baby on the park bench beside that innocent faced young fellow yonder. Ask him to mind it for a few minutes. I'll scribble Miss Dole's address on a card. Slip it into the baby's clothing. When you don't come back he will find it."

"But what will they think of my abandoning the little dear in this cruel way?"

"Save your sentiment for me, if you've got any to spare."

"And my two week's wages?"

"I've got plenty of money. Don't fret on that score."

Thus Rachel Mine and Jacob Datter, the former the average nurse girl, the latter a young man who had worked as a barber when he worked at all. His flashy ways had fascinated the comely maid, he had courted her briefly, but persistently, and now with the prospect in view of a new and better situation in another city he put the question plump of immediate marriage.

The young man they had indicated suggested an easy, accommodating person of a kindly nature. Alvin Stanley was not much experienced in worldly ways. He was reasonably fortunate as to means and position. When the artful Rachel placed the sleeping babe on the bench beside him and said: "Please mind the child for a few moments, will you?" Stanley readily replied: "Certainly, Miss," and beamed down at the serene face of the infant.

He treated his involuntary charge as dutifully and carefully as though it were a precious piece of fragile bric-a-brac, as at the end of five minutes it awoke. It first stared at him steadily, then its little mouth was wreathed with a scrupulous smile, and then as he cooed to it and dangled his watch before its dazzled eyes it consented to remain quiet for a few minutes. It was when it began to whimper that Stanley grew alarmed. He picked it up and moved it to and fro in his arms, and as its complaints grew loud he became decidedly concerned.

"I don't see what keeps its mother or, nurse, or whoever she is," he soliloquized unthinkingly, but in vain he strained his gaze in the direction the nurse had gone, for he gained no further sight of her, and never would. The baby grew more and more demonstrative as the minutes wore on. Stanley took to walking with it, which somewhat soothed its hunger, and impatience. An hour went by. The babe began to make a violent outcry. People passing him staring, others indignant.

"I can't stand this!" declared Stanley. "But what am I ever going to do?" Then he turned cold all over as he recalled newspaper stories he had read where children had been abandoned to the mercy of confiding strangers. Stanley waited another half an hour. Then he formed a decision. "I'll take it home," he resolved. "Mrs. Morse will know how to care for it and tell me what to do."

Mrs. Morse had been a rock of refuge ever since his mother had died. For 30 years a favorite family servant he had retained her in service at the old home, and bailing a taxi he was soon relieved of the strain of the occasion.

She was a motherly, warm-hearted creature and the idea of a baby in the house seemed to brighten up the old soul magically. She heard Stanley's story.

"I don't see what you can do but advertise, or something like," she observed.

"Maybe—maybe we could keep the little cherub?" timidly suggested Stanley, enwrapped as the infant, its wants attended, clasped his big finger curiously in its little hand.

It was an hour later when Mrs. Morse appeared from the impromptu nursery established, quite excited: "I found this card in the little one's clothing," she reported. "It reads: 'Take the child to Miss Martha Dole, 910 Waverly place.'"

Instantly it was a second taxi and in half an hour Stanley found himself ringing the door bell of the place indicated. A servant came to the door, looked pale and agitated.

"Does a little child belong here?" began Stanley stammeringly.

"Oh, Miss Dole, quick! quick! Here's word about the missing little one," and a young lady with traces of tears in her eyes hurried to the spot. Her rare loveliness made Stanley embarrassed, but he managed to tell his story. Miss Dole insisted that they go at once for the child, which belonged to her sister who had left her in charge of the infant, while she went on a visit to mother.

In a few minutes the child and the nurse who had brought the story, found their way to the home of the missing little one. Stanley was told that the baby was safe and sound, and that the nurse was a very good one.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Talks About Farm Operations of This Season and Finds Cucumber Growers Lost Money on the Crop.

That farm operations are at high-water mark in Wicomico county is evident to the person who travels in any section of the county. There is an unusually large acreage in corn and the crop, which has been "laid by" in most sections, is looking fine, indicating an increased yield over former years. The grass crops have been harvested and most barns are full of fine feed for the winter. The cucumber crop has been harvested, but the crop has proven a very unprofitable one to those who grew cucumbers this year. A very prominent farmer remarked to The Man About Town this week that he did not believe a single grower of "cukes" in this county would realize enough to pay for manure bill this season. The crop was large and the quality up to standard, but prices ruled exceedingly low all season. There at this time thousands of bushels of choice "cukes" on the vines which will not pay for the hampers and picking. It is likely that another season will see a greatly decreased acreage in the "cukes" in Wicomico county. Now the farmers are up to the necks in the cantaloupe crop. Thousands of carriers are being shipped daily and prices are fairly remunerative. This week will witness the harvesting of the bulk of this crop. Next will come the watermelon crop, and it is said there is a large acreage than for several years. It is predicted that the melons will bring good prices this season, as the demand seems to be above normal.

The next crop to be gathered will be the tomato crop. This is one of the uncertain crops this season, as canners are afraid to enter into packing because of the uncertainty of securing cans in which to pack the fruit. Prices are likely to rule low on tomatoes this season, and as there is a large acreage and excellent prospects for a good yield, the failure of many packing houses to open this season and the low prices offered will, it is believed, cause the growers to lose much money on this crop also. I am glad to say, judging from information picked up during the past few days, that there are more encouraging reports coming to the packers of Wicomico as to the can situation. The news is to the effect that arrangements have been made with the car-service section for a continuance of the preferential order covering car supply for transporting tin cans to all points. Orders were also issued giving preference to full car supply for the transportation of tin plate from the mills in West Virginia and Pennsylvania. This is encouraging to the packers as well as the farmers, for during the past month all efforts to secure tin containers proved very unsatisfactory. Can makers were willing to take orders, but could not guarantee deliveries owing to the shortage of cars available for this purpose. Both the Interstate Commerce commission and the Federal Trade commission are working to give the canning industry priority both in the matter of transportation and in the matter of credits.

One thing that has stood in the way of success this year has been the slow delivery of tin plate for canning purposes. Also sugar has been scarce and hard to get up to the present time, and bank credit has been curtailed at a time when it was most needed.

These hardships, together with the dull market for last year's pack, have not been entirely surmounted by the local packers, who hope for the best in the near future. With the prospects of good crops and now the promise of preference by the railroads in moving cans, it is thought that a successful canning season may yet be had by the Eastern Shore packers. Without a good packing season the high cost of living will rise and a large quantity of fruit and vegetables will be wasted.

MAN ABOUT TOWN.

OCEAN GROVE AS A RELIGIOUS CENTER

Favorable Impressions Upon a Salisbury Who Visited

The Place.

Ocean Grove, N. J., August 10. Having in my previous letters spoken more of the beauties of this place as a summer resort, and of the beautiful drives of the surrounding country, I will trespass upon the time of THE NEWS' many readers to relate a few facts regarding the religious environment of the place.

A little more than 50 years ago the Ocean Grove Campmeeting association was organized by a few devoutly religious men and women who had determined to establish on the New Jersey coast a resort where the religious influence predominated. And with this one object in view Ocean Grove was born.

The peculiar advantage of the location and the attractions of the social and religious life which were instituted here drew many to the place, and soon a Christian summer city, the forerunner of many such resorts on lake and ocean, sprang into being. The first investment of $50 for 14 acres of as pure white sand as the coast afforded, soon grew to 230 acres, costing about $40,000 and now assessed (with improvements) at about $4,600,000.

This is the place where the great preachers of America declare Christian truth on the Lord's day; where the most powerful organ on our continent is heard; where child life is loved and encouraged and taught the things of God; where for three months in the summer there gathers the greatest Christian democracy of the world.

Recent figures have been prepared which show that each season more than 250,000 people avail themselves of the pleasure of visiting Ocean Grove. Hundreds stay all summer and thousands spend from two to four weeks at the Grove.

Some Interesting Figures.

The following figures, which are official, show the number of persons attending the religious services at Ocean Grove during any prosperous summer:

At the Auditorium, two services every Sunday, 10,000 people each Sunday for 13 Sundays, $130,000.

Seven days of camp meeting, 10,000 daily, 70,000.

Bible class, 12 Sundays, in same building, 14,000.

Junior meeting daily, Thornley chapel, 64 services, 10,560.

Young People's Temple, daily, 72 services during season, 64,800.

Holiness meeting daily, James' Tabernacle, 72 services, 14,400.

Twilight meetings daily, James' Tabernacle, 72 services, 11,450.

Intermediate Sunday school, Young People's Temple (Sundays) 10 services, 4,000.

Primary Sunday school, James' Tabernacle (Sundays), 10 services, 2,750.

Surf meeting foot of Ocean Parkway, 12 meetings, 6,800.

North End Pavilion meeting, 12 meetings, 8,400.

South End Pavilion meeting, 12 meetings, 2,400.

Miscellaneous gatherings during summer, 12,300.

It will be seen from the above careful statement that more than a third of a million people attend the religious services of the Grove during the season. The influence of the meetings is incalculable. It is in the hearts of these people that Ocean Grove is firmly fixed and their support is pledged to the utmost of their ability.

Ocean Grove has great recreational features, but its outstanding and permanent attraction with which is coupled a divine magnetism is its pure and intense Christianity.

The Great Summer Church.

The worship and work which are crowded into about 12 weeks at Ocean Grove during the summer, when daily considered, assume very large proportions. People come to this Mecca of Methodism from all over our country and from all over the world to get rest and change, to meet their friends, and worship Almighty God.

It is pleasing to recall that there are great summer institutions of a Christian character scattered throughout our country, such as Chautauqua, Northfield, Winona Lake, Martha's Vineyard, Pitman, Ocean City, Round Lake and other kindred places. Ocean Grove, however, ranks among these as primus inter pares in one particular. It stands for the highest form of Christian experience and character.

From the beginning its motto has been "Holiness to the Lord," and it has preached holiness and defended a complete Christian life during all its history.

The Closing Scenes.

After the several weeks spent in religious services and recreation comes the closing services, which are a feature of the camp. The last service is held on Sunday before Labor day, the camp closing on Labor day—and in this closing service thousands of people take part. Old friends part for a year, many go never to return to Ocean Grove, and thousands of eyes are wet with tears at the parting.

On Monday morning, September 5, (Labor day) thousands will gather in the vast Auditorium, where will be sung, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the marching hosts will walk around Jerusalem.

Thus will end another summer at Ocean Grove, leaving pleasant memories of the season and a longing desire for next year's return. H. L. B.

Cured of Stomach Trouble and Constipation.

Rachel Cribley of Beaver Dam, Ohio, was sick for two years with stomach trouble and constipation, taking one medicine after another with only temporary relief. A few days treatment convinced me that they were just what I needed. I continued their use for several weeks and they cured me."—Adv.

VETERAN IS OPPOSED TO SHORTER CONTEST

Coach Jim Rice Believes Four Miles Better Test.

Reduction in Length of Collegiate Race Would Eliminate All Opportunity for Strategy and Brain Work by the Coxswain.

One of those who are opposed to shortening the annual collegiate race on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie is Jim Rice, rowing coach of Columbia university. He believes four miles is a better test for the colleges and is not so exhausting to the men.

Rice is opposed to the reduction in the length of the varsity race, despite the unanimous verdict of the stewards at their meeting for the shorter contest. The Columbia coach for many years led the opposition to this move, and still maintains that it will not result in less physical strain on the oarsmen. He contends that the tendency of all crews will be to hit a high stroke from the first gun and maintain the clip throughout the race. There will be none of the old strategy and no opportunity for brain work by either the coxswain or stroke.

To prove his point that a fast three-mile race will be more wearing than the four-mile distance, Rice cites the case of Columbia and Cornell several years ago, when, after each crew had "cooked" the other by a continuous spurt, Syracuse came to the fore and carried off first honors. Under the three-mile conditions, says Rice, every crew will be "cooked" and at the end of the race will be more exhausted and worn than in the longer distance. A longer, instead of a shorter, training period will be necessary in his opinion.

The only beneficial result he sees will be the likelihood of more crews entering the annual classic. Wisconsin, which three years ago notified the stewards that it would enter a crew in a three-mile distance only, is expected to take part in the 1920 regatta, and Rice looks also for entries from the Pacific coast, which formerly sent one and, sometimes, two representatives.

SUSSEX COUNTY NEWS IN BRIEF

Slaughter Neck camp is in progress and large crowds are attending. Tindall's camp will close Sunday night after being in progress ten days.

The 63-acre farm belonging to the estate of the late Lewis A. Reddish, about three miles from Delmar, was sold at public auction Saturday, Earl Reddish being the purchaser, at $3,600.

The lima bean crop in lower Delaware is going to be cut 50 per cent unless something is done to kill what is believed to be a flea or fly which is playing havoc with the crop.

Professor John L. Loope, of the agriculture department of the Milford High school, has reconsidered his tendered resignation, at request of the school board, and has signed a contract to teach for another year.

The condition of Robert H. Gordy, of Seaford, who was seriously injured July 15, at the Gordy & Son ice cream plant, became so bad last week that physicians of the Salisbury hospital, where he is a patient, had to amputate his leg.

Plans have been completed by the residents of Ocean View for the homecoming celebration which will be held Wednesday of next week. Thursday following "Big Thursday" will be observed at Oak Orchard and will attract hundreds if the weather is favorable.

In order to accommodate the people from Maryland and the northern part of this state, who desire to motor to Rehoboth beach, county authorities are making repairs to the detour routes which have been necessary to establish because of the construction of a concrete road between Georgetown and Harbeson.

Effecting an entrance to the store of N. W. Prettyman, Stockley, Sunday night, thieves carried away a quantity of provisions and a sum of money which had been left in the cash drawer. Authorities are working on the case, but so far no evidence has been obtained.

The rivers and lakes adjacent to Seaford are affording great sport now in bass fishing and several parties from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore are making arrangements to come here and spend a few days bass fishing. Local fishermen are experiencing much luck and catching large bushes of fine bass every time they go out.

Unless coal dealers in lower Delaware make better progress within the next three months than they have for the past six months in obtaining a supply for the trade, the result will be a coal famine. Nearly every dealer reports it is impossible at this time to fill their bins for the trade. Coal dealers are booking orders, but can give no promise of delivery. The anxiety over the fuel situation has resulted in many persons placing orders for wood with the farmers.

Mrs. Lettie G. Willbank, of Georgetown, will observe her 93rd anniversary on Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David E. Johnson, on the Public Square, that city. Until a few weeks ago, when she became indisposed, each Sunday, when weather conditions were favorable, she walked unattended to Wesley M. E. church, a distance of several blocks, and her mind is so clear that she has always been able to memorize the pastor's text.

A species of rust flea has attacked the lima beans of Milford section, and is making serious inroads upon the vines. The crop at first gave every evidence of being a banner one this year, but the infliction has seriously affected the growth of the vines. The first attack of the flea pests leaves the leaves in a wilted and curled condition; this is followed by numerous holes of a rusty appearance in the leaves and the pods do not fill out. No remedy has, as yet, been secured.

William H. Chipman, a prominent retired business man of North Laurel, died about 1.15 o'clock Sunday morning, of acute indigestion. He seemed to be enjoying his usual good health Saturday, and in the evening he attended a lawn fete held by the primary department of Centenary M. E. church and partook of some ice cream and cake, returning home about 10 o'clock. In half an hour Dr. E. H. F. Farlow was summoned and while he found the patient suffering pain he did not think he was in any great danger. Mr. Chipman steadily grew worse, however, until his death ensued. Mr. Chipman's wife died about four years ago under almost identical circumstances, being also taken with acute indigestion on her return to her home after spending the evening in town, dying before morning.

The Federal government operates six Coast Guard stations on the Delaware coast, between the Breakwaters and Fenwick light. Every foot of 37 nautical miles of coast is patrolled at night. Sixty officers and men do the work, their salaries and expenses reaching $12,000 monthly. One man out of ten at each station takes his turn in the lookout, scanning the sea for distress signals; at night, in four-hour relays, he patrols the beach, equipped with signal rockets. Each station is equipped with self-bailing, self-righting lifeboats, driven by gas engine; they are provided with mortars to shoot a line to stranded vessels on which to bring passengers ashore in breeches buoys.

In the sixth, the home boys made their other run. Jacobs got on, went to second on a passed ball, stole third, and came in on an error.

Up to the eighth, Ken pitched fine ball. In that inning, however, seeing that he could not do it all by himself, he eased up a little, and Cape Charles added four more runs to the score. Tilghman was first man up, and popped one out to leftfield, which Hoffmeister almost got. He went to second on a wild pitch. Moseley followed with a hit, and stole second, and Ken filled the bases when he hit Reatin with a pitched ball. Then Ames came up, and did what all ball players dream of doing, made a two-base hit with the bases full, sending in three runs. He got home with the final run on a hit by Fineley.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This is unquestionably one of the most successful medicines in use for bowel complaints. A few doses of it will cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea. It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success. It can always be depended upon to give prompt relief in cases of colic and cholera morbus. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Every family should keep this remedy at hand.—Adv.*

MOTORS, 1,263 MILES TO VISIT OLD HOME

Rev. E. S. Fooks and Family Drive Here From Muncie, Ind., and Visit With Old Friends.

Rev. Ernest S. Fooks, wife and three children are spending a few days with relatives and friends in Salisbury and vicinity, after an automobile trip of 1,263 miles.

Rev. Fooks is pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church of Muncie, Ind., a church which has a membership of more than 500 and worshipping in a $75,000 edifice.

He is a native of Wicomico county, having been born at Jones' Mills, in Nutters district. After attending the schools of this county he entered the M. P. seminary at Westminster, where he completed his theological course and entered the ministry of the Maryland Annual conference.

He served churches at Delmar, Mardela and Bivalve, in Wicomico county, with much success. After a ministerial career of 20 years in the Maryland conference he was transferred to the Pittsburgh conference where his fields were enlarged, and his many friends in Wicomico are proud of his success. Rev. Fooks is not only a talented minister, but is noted for his success in raising funds for the erection of new churches and the liquidating of old debts on churches.

Mr. Fooks and party expect to spend the most of August visiting in Wicomico and other Eastern Shore counties and will then motor back to Muncie, Ind.

Editorial Comments of Live Local Subjects

NOW CONGRESSMEN WANT MORE PAY.

The high cost of living having struck within every household and every branch of business, has invaded the halls of Congress, and here, too, there is a movement to raise the pay of these servants of the people. And as the congressmen are able to make their own wage scale, it will no doubt be done without a strike at the source of legislative inactivity.

The content that $7,500 a year is not enough to live on, especially when from three to five thousand dollars must be spent every two years for campaign expenses. While the salary at present is not a large sum these days, there is an impression that more than a majority of the men in the House and Senate are overpaid at the present rate of compensation. If the pay of more than two-thirds of the present members was based on their real value to the country, or on what their services are worth in any of the other vocations any one who went above $2,500 in an appraisal would be above the mark.

PRICES HAVE SOARED 136 PER CENT.

Detailed statistics on the tremendous increase in the cost of living from December, 1914, to June, 1920, showing increases of from 110 to 136 per cent in every article of necessity, were made public Thursday by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor.

The articles considered as necessities in the compilation of costs are food, male and female clothing, housing, fuel and light, furniture and furnishings and miscellaneous. Cities selected as representative of the various sections are New York, Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore, Boston, Norfolk, Philadelphia, Seattle, Denver and Scranton, Pa.

The total average increase in New York during the five years and six months ending June 30 of this year, was 119.2, with an increase from 103.31 to 119.2, or over 16 per cent in the first six months of 1920. Total average increase of individual articles during the five and a half years are as follows: Food, 105.3; male clothing, 220.8; female clothing, 258.8; housing, 32.4; fuel and light, 60.1; furniture and furnishings, 205.1, and miscellaneous, 111.9.

Detroit shows the largest increase of any city. The total average increase there was 136 per cent, with male clothing leading all other items. Male clothing in Detroit jumped from 203.53 per cent increase in December, 1919, to 235.1 per cent in June, 1920, as compared with an increase of from 163.16 in December, 1919, to 186.1 in June, 1920, for female clothing.

SAID A WISE OLD OWL.

A wise old owl sat in an oak,
The more he heard, the less he spoke;
The less he spoke, the more he heard,
Why can you be like that wise old bird?

Behold, my brethren, the political candidates, politicians, and the press generally, are setting up loud lamentations, heavily scented with crocodile tears, setting forth the injustices to which the husbandmen of the country, yea, those who toil the soil and milketh the kine have been subjected for so these many years.

Behold, man was made with two eyes, two ears, and one mouth, which interpreted meaneth that thou shalt hear and see twice as much as thou speakest. This is the time for speechlessness, but not for thoughtlessness, therefore, be wise in thy consideration of the man who vaunteth much his party and his particular candidate. Forget that thou hast a party, but do not forget that thou hast a country. Dwell long and conscientiously upon those things that will bring to thee and to thy children, and to thy children's children that which will delight thy souls and contribute unto their happiness, and then thou shalt do thy duty to thyself as well as to thy neighbor and thy country.

So Sayeth The Wise Old Owl!

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Levin E. Bradford vs. Charles Baker. No. 2761 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, In Equity.

The object of the bill filed in the above entitled cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of a tract of land situated in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, of which Silas D. Baker died seized and possessed, and a division of the proceeds arising from such sale amongst the parties as their interest may appear.

The bill alleges in substance that in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen, Silas D. Baker died intestate, being seized and possessed of a tract of land in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, which he obtained by purchase from Ebenezer G. Davis and containing about three and three-fourths 8 1/4 acres. And the said Silas D. Baker left as his heirs at law Mary E. Baker, his wife, who has since died, and Lavinia E. Bradford, a daughter, and the defendant, Charles Baker, grandson, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon ordered this 2d day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in Equity, that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in each issue for four successive weeks before the 31st day of August, 1920, give notice to the said non-resident defendant, Charles Baker, of the object and substance of this Bill, warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September next, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

A Few Facts

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co.,
Fruitland, Md.

Gentlemen:—
Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results:

Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.

To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.

I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) G. R. COBB,
County Agent Wicomico County.

The quantities of lime which are ordinarily applied to land—per acre—in the various forms, are as follows:

Hydrated Shell Lime----- 1,000 lbs.

Hydrated Stone Lime----- 1,500 lbs.

Raw Shell Lime----- 2,000 lbs.

CROSSES COUNTRY IN SEVEN DAYS

"Cannonball" Baker Hurries Across the U. S. in Half Day Less Than His Former Low Record.

"We win. Baker arrived Los Angeles at 11:16:14 a. m. August 4th. Elapsed time 6 days, 17 hours, 33 minutes, 14 seconds. Knocks 18 hours, 18 minutes, 46 seconds off of New York-Los Angeles record of 7 days, 11 hours, 52 minutes. Three cheers! Unprecedented weather from Dodge City."

"Harry W. Anderson."

The above telegram flashed over the wires thrilled the motor industry and thousands of motorists to the bones.

It announced completion of the most sensation race against time ever conducted, during which the new York-Los Angeles record was smashed to smithereens.

New York to Los Angeles is less than seven days!

From coast to coast through mud, fog and cloudburst, over mountain defiles and across desert roads, heavy with sand, in less than a week!

Nearly a full day clipped from a record of three years' standing and every known feat of long distance driving eclipsed in one gruelling, heart-breaking dash!

That, in brief, is the story of the record completed Tuesday by a Templar motor car and "Cannonball" Baker, holder of the previous record.

"Cannonball" Baker holds more automobile and motorcycle records than any other driver, started the automobile world six weeks ago when he announced he would make a transcontinental dash from New York to Los Angeles, in an effort to lower his own record of seven and one-half days, established several years ago.

Additional color was given the announcement when U. S. Army headquarters announced that the race against time would be linked up with a general recruiting campaign to interest young men in the automobile schools of the army.

Baker Starts.

Wednesday, July 28th, Baker announced his readiness to start. Impressive farewell ceremonies conducted by army officers were arranged at once. The car was christened "The Army Recruit."

At 8:40 that evening Col. W. B. Atkinson, recruiting officer in charge of the New York district, handed Baker a dispatch for Col. William A. Shunk, in charge of the Los Angeles district. With the command "Go," Baker and the Templar were off in an effort to smash the standing record by at least one day.

Through Two Mountain Ranges.

While originally a recruiting venture, Baker's effort to lower his own record quickly assumed the nature of a national sporting event.

The first night he crossed the two eastern mountain ranges, passing through 107 miles of fog and covering 52 miles in detours. Nineteen hours, 55 minutes after leaving New York, Baker arrived in Indianapolis, Ind., averaging better than 41 miles per hour from New York.

Here he made his first stop for food and rest.

It was Baker's intention never to stop only for gasoline and food, and to sleep only in event of his motor or equipment needing repairs.

"The darned thing won't break, so I'll have to sleep anyway," Baker said, on stepping from the Templar at Indianapolis. Sixty seconds later he was asleep.

From Indianapolis, Baker crossed the broad stretches of Illinois and Kansas prairie. He touched a corner of Missouri and then climbed into the picturesque regions of Colorado.

Eighty-three miles east of La Junta, Baker ran into a cloud-burst. On into La Junta and for 93 miles west he combatted cloudbursts and axle deep adobe mud.

From Colorado he dropped into New Mexico, flashed across the deserts of Arizona, broke through the mountain passes around San Bernardino and quickly consumed the final lap into Los Angeles.

"Cannonball" Baker has completed the most gruelling test of stamina and endurance that any man, motor or equipment were ever put to. We are mighty happy that he chose a Templar, said President M. F. Bramley, of The Templar Motors company.

Baker relied upon Templar and Firestone cord tires for his transcontinental run because six weeks before with the same combination he knocked six hours, 10 minutes off the New York-Chicago record, negotiating the distance in 26 hours, 50 minutes.

Great Army Reception.

No other hero has ever been given a more enthusiastic reception than the one accorded Baker by U. S. Army men of Los Angeles. On his arrival he was picked up by an escort of 50 army trucks and automobiles, the Camp Kearney army band and escorted through the streets of the city.

"It was confident that Templar and Baker could break the seven and one-half day record under normal conditions," said Harry W. Anderson, general sales manager of The Templar Motors company, who had direct charge of the run for the motor car company. "But it is a revelation how any car could withstand such terrific punishment and yet set such a sweeping time record."

BATTLE ROYAL AT MOTORCYCLE RACE

Gene Walker, of Birmingham, Ala., Wins in Spectacular Contest in Akron, O. Wonderful Riding.

Nearly 8,000 wild-eyed motorcycle fans saw a battle royal staged recently at Akron, O., when Gene Walker, Don Marks and Shrimp Burns, dare-devils of the track, gave one of the most spectacular exhibitions of riding seen this year.

Walker, the Birmingham, Ala., boy who has traveled 125 miles an hour on two wheels, took the honors by flashing across the finish first in the one and two mile national championship events, and in the five mile professional.

Marks managed to score in the 10 mile professional events, by driving his Goodyear-shod Indian a machine length in front in one of the hottest contests ever waged at the Fountain park half mile track. During this race the lead changed nine times, each rider in turn going to the front. However, Marks had something in reserve at the finish and got the checkered flag.

In the one mile national championship, Walker broke the old track record of 1.08 by hurling his Goodyear-equipped Indian across the line in 1.06. In this race Marks fell from his mount, but was uninjured and pluckily resumed riding in the two mile event.

Burns ran third in all three events, but was always a close contender.

In the two five mile side car events, F. H. Dreyer had everything his own way, winning easily from Jiggs Price, the Mansfield boy who has recently entered the game. Price was always in the win and with more experience will figure in future contests.

Plans Big Paint Exhibit at Fair

Capt. L. P. Coulbourne Will Show His New Paint Discovery and Give Away Life Sized Samples.

Captain L. P. Coulbourne, of this city, who recently discovered a formula for the manufacture of paint which he guarantees to be absolutely waterproof and to hold fast, has begun the manufacture of his product on a large scale and expects to have a big exhibit at the Salisbury Fair next week. Mr. Coulbourne is making his paints in all colors at his factory at the corner of Locust and South Division streets. His paint is especially adapted for automobiles, vessels, and as dressing for all kinds of leather, and imitation leather goods, mohair material and as a furniture polish.

At the fair, Captain Coulbourne will give chances to everyone who calls at his booth on a prize of two gallons of Captain Coulbourne's "Hold Fast" house or vessel paint. In every 50 pint can of his auto waterproof dressing there will be a meal check which entitles the owner to a $2.50 gold coin.

Hog Cholera Warning.

Hog cholera is present on the following premises near Salisbury: B. T. Hearn, Salisbury, Route 2, (near fair grounds); James Lewis, Salisbury, Route 4 (Williams street extended); George H. Parson, Salisbury, Route 4 (Snow Hill road). Every effort should be made to confine these cases to premises on which they now exist. Neighboring farmers should have their hogs vaccinated at once as the serum will prevent cholera in well hogs. Keep away from places where sick hogs are reported. Tie up your dog and keep people away from your hogs. Use a good disinfectant around the hog pens. Promptly bury or burn any animals that die on your place. Notify the county agent promptly of any suspected case of hog cholera.

Little Girl, Big Boy, And the Garden Elf

Little-Girl and the Rain Babies.

"Oh, dear, it is raining," said Little-Girl, as she sat up in her downy white bed with the blue coverlet on which little maids were dancing along the border.

Little-Girl sighed. She had intended to go over to see Big-Boy-on-the-Other-Side-of-the-Fence. Big-Boy had told her that he would transplant tomatoes that day. And now the Rain Babies were pitty-patting against her window-pane at a great rate. They were very cheerful little rain-drops. They made a merry tinkling sound as if they were whispering to one another, and then they would break out in a perfect gale of laughter, and laugh and laugh until they were washed away in a flood of rollicking tears. Little-Girl lay back among her pillows. It was very warm and cosy in the little blue and white bed. Soon, lulled by the tinkle of the rain on the pane, she drifted off into a last minute nap. And then—

"Now," said the Dictionary Man, "we are going to plant a most wonderful flower—a wonder-ful flower. Hold the stem, Madame Garden Manual, while Big-Boy shovels the earth."

Little-Girl thought it was all very strange, for she was standing in the middle of a small hole in the ground, and the little Elf Man was swinging on a moss rose bud that was just about to open into pink and beautiful bloom. Bobtail was running around in circles, and Madame Garden Manual was holding open her rustling leaves, and saying in a tiny, high voice—"This is the way, press the earth down firm—you will find directions in my valuable apes—press the earth down firm." And Little-Girl felt a weight on her feet, and thought how strange it was that she was to be planted as a flower in her own garden. It seemed that the earth was being pressed closer and closer until she made a great effort to throw it off, and there she was in her own little bed, and her own black cat, Kuti-Pi, was walking over her feet at the foot of the bed, which, of course, accounted for the pressure that she thought was the earth.

She wasn't being planted as a flower at all—it was all a dream and Mumsey Dear came into the room and kissed her and said—"All the wee creatures of the garden were up long ago, and the flowers are having a frolic with the Rain Babies, and Brother Wind is abroad, and, Oh, the greedy little flowers and plants have drunk their fill of sweet water until they are unable to stand up straight. Tho' it is a rainy morning, there is a yellow shine over the garden, and I shouldn't be surprised if old Father Sun is not waiting close by to pop out as soon as Brother Wind has blown the Rain Fairies back to the sky. Mumsey said that once, when she was a little girl, she had lived in a southern city—I wonder if it was New Orleans—and there was a marvelous garden, surrounding her home. She said she thought there was an Elf Man who lived in a trumpet flower, and a pixie down in the well, and a little gnome under the rose bush, and the Jessamine Fairy was the Queen of the Garden and had fireflies to light up her palace at night. Some day, Mumsey said, she would take Little-Girl to visit this old, old garden in the southern town.—By Cecilia Reynolds Robertson.

ONE WHO SEES AND TELLS WHAT HE SEES

Recent census figures given out show that the Eastern Shore of Maryland has lost very considerably in population during the past ten years. This is, indeed, a lamentable fact. This highly favored section, so often referred to as "God's Country," should by all means have shown an increase in population had not conditions, brought about by the war, the excessive wages paid by the city industries, lured so many from the rural sections. The demand for workers in the industries is blamed for the decrease of men left to till the farms. The head of the Extension Service of Maryland Agricultural college regards it as unlikely that the men thus drawn from the country will ever return to farm work. He contends "it is not very common for people to move back to the country after they get a taste of city life and city conveniences." Dr. Symons, who is quoted above, naturally concludes, as do all persons considering the "away from the farm" movement, that the farm must be made more attractive, interesting and profitable if we would stop this exodus. The only way to make the farm interesting and attractive is to lighten the burden of constant, uninterrupted work upon the farm, a burden that is so crushing and unceasing as to make all other kinds of manual toil seem preferable. Then, too, the wages offered by the factory or the roadbuilders must be met, for people will not work at cropping and dairying for less than they can earn at other and less irksome tasks.

The camp meeting season on the Peninsula is in full blast. Thousands of people are "tenting" on the old camp ground" and tens of thousands are visiting the grounds daily, especially on Sundays. Camp meeting season is a time of the year to which lower Delawareans and residents of the Eastern Shore look forward with much interest, a season for the "city cousins" to come down for a week's vacation to get a "sniff of the good old Delmarva Peninsula air" and get their faces and arms tanned. For the young girls of the rural sections the camp meetings serve as places to display finery, and weeks before the opening dates they keep dressmakers in their localities busy making the togs that they propose to wear during the 10 days in the grove. The following camps are being held this season: Bivalve, Wicomico county; Camden, near Dover, and Holiness camp, in Penticostal Grove, near Denton, began two weeks ago; Tindal's camp, between Georgetown and Seaford; Concord, on the Calvert circuit, and Shiloh, under the direction of the Maryland Annual conference. Other noted camps in the Delmarva Peninsula are Sharptown, Siloam, Leslie, Melson's Salem, Bethel, Carey, Elwood, Wheatley, Waltersville, Hebron, Parsonsburg, Woodland, Dorchester, Maryland, Willards, Beckwith, Penticostal, Fenwick Island, Harmony and Furman's Grove.

Thousands of people from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chester and Wilmington come down during the progress of the camps to attend the meetings held in these famous tented spots of lower Delaware and the Eastern Shore.

New Love Song and Irish Ballad

Frank Crumit, Charles Harrison, the Happy Six and Prince's Orchestra Are New Columbia Successes.

Frank Crumit sings a pretty love song for Columbia records this month. Its title is "Marion (You'll Soon Be Marryin' Me)," and it's a safe bet that most any Marion would, if she could hear this appealing artist sing it. This selection is coupled with Charles Harrison's real Irish ballad, "Pretty Kitty Kelly."

"Dance-O-Mania" is not a disease, but a fox-trot played by The Happy Six, calculated to promote the desire for dancing until it really becomes a mania. On the other side of this record the Louisiana Five Jazz orchestra tra plays the fox-trot "Blow and Easy," introducing "I'm Sorry I Ain't Got It You Could Have It If I Had It Blues."

"Tripoli" is a medley waltz played by Prince's orchestra and introducing "Let the Rest of the World Go By." The same orchestra plays on the other side of this record the waltz "Romance," introducing "There'll Come a Day."

Has Never Seen Their Equal.

TWENTY-ONE TEMPLE STREET

By VICTOR REDCLIFFE

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

"I have decided to take the room on the first floor," announced Abel Marsh to the landlady of 21 Temple street.

Shrewd, precise Mrs. Rachael Ford smiled, as was always an indulgent phase of business policy with her, but shook her head with an equally businesslike suggestion of regret.

"I am very sorry," she spoke, "but an hour after you were here this morning and told me you could not afford the apartment."

"But I have changed my mind!" piped the feeble old man querulously. "It is too late, sir. A Miss Wadleigh has engaged the room. There she is now," and Abel Marsh turned to observe a young lady passing down the hall, but hesitating at the open doorway as if wishing to speak with the landlady, but not desiring to intrude.

The crotchety, self-centered old man regarded her with a scowl, as though she had crossed his path purposely and had done him some deadly injury.

But to this Miss Wadleigh was impervious. She had noticed the thin, weakened old man painfully limping into the house as though every step was painful, she had overheard the conversation between himself and the landlady. She advanced a step into the room uninvited, as the old man said:

"Then I'll have to take the room upstairs, I suppose. How I'll ever get up three flights with my lameness and pain, I don't know, but I've got to have a roof to shelter me. It's cheaper, too, and that is a consideration, with me."

"Can I speak to you for a moment, Mrs. Ford," ventured Inez Wadleigh, and she drew back into the hallway and in a low tone conveyed a message to the landlady that caused the latter to stare at her in wonderment. Then further conversation, and Inez went on, while Mrs. Ford returned to the presence of the old man.

"Mr. Marsh," she said, "you can have this room after all. Miss Wadleigh, the young lady who had taken it, most kindly agrees to occupy the upper one instead, so you may be nearer to the street and more comfortable."

"What's that?" challenged Marsh, with a token of suspicion in his tone. "Of course, she wants a bonus for the exchange?"

"Oh, no," dissented Mrs. Ford. "She wouldn't think of such a thing. She is just a thoughtful, kind-hearted girl, who lost her father recently. You make her think of him, she says, and your age and feebleness appeal to her. It is settled, then?"

"You mean to tell me that there's a mortal in the world who would sacrifice their own selfish wellbeing for an old hawk like me, without having some ulterior designs in view?" demanded Abel Marsh.

"There seems to be a lovely young lady in this instance, just human enough and gentle and piteous enough to do so," declared Mrs. Ford, with a touch of deep emotion in her face.

Abel Marsh became a mystery to the people in the house after that.

Inez was the only person in the house to whom he paid any particular courtesy or attention. Brusque, unsocial as he was with others, his furrowed face would soften when he met or spoke to her. She did stenographic work in a business office and also some piece typewriting work at home evenings.

One evening in the common parlor Abel Marsh asked Inez to copy some legal documents for him, to which she agreed. He was not at all liberal in pay for her labor, but Inez excused his penuriousness as a characteristic of a warped and afflicted invalid.

The next morning he knocked at the door of her room to hand her some other work. Inez noticed as his glance swept the apartment that it rested upon a framed picture, the only one belonging to her in the room. It was that of her fiancé, Gordon Bridges. She flushed as her visitor bestowed upon her a quizzical look.

"A fine looking young man," observed Abel Marsh, with an unusual twinkle in his eye. "A relative?"

"No," replied Inez in an embarrassed way. "I am engaged to him."

"Oh, I see," nodded Marsh. "But he does not come often to see you?"

"He lives in another city," explained Inez.

"You quite interest me," said the old man. "You do seem to have him fully worthy of you for you are a kind-hearted, thoughtful girl. Not many of such nowadays," and he departed with a certain smile and a certain expression upon his face that some what puzzled Inez.

"A letter to you," said Abel Marsh the next day, handing some printed cards to Inez.

Half an hour later, as Inez placed the papers at the side of her typewriter to transcribe them, they seemed to blurt, to dance, to overcome her. The first one began:

"My Dear Son: I have stolen a march on you and have seen the young lady you so steadily insist is the only one you can ever love. Keep on loving her, for a girl so considerate and self-sacrificing cannot help but be a worthy wife. She knows me as Abel Marsh. Enlighten her as to my real identity and let the wedding bells ring, with my full approval."

And the letter was signed "Abel Bridges" and was addressed "to Gordon Bridges," and Inez comprehended that her future was in safe, loving hands.

Silents Have a Cheering Squad

Ever hear of a deaf-mute cheering squad?

One has been organized to root for the fast football team composed of "silents" from the colony of deaf-mutes at The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

James Trainor himself a "silent," has been elected cheer leader.

The seeming paradox of a deaf-mute cheering squad is explained by the fact that the "silents" are able to make sounds, although they cannot form intelligible words.

Trainor's job is to keep the cheers in unison—although each "silent" uses his individual idea as to what sort of vocal encouragement he shall give.

The effect is quite as weird as the famous southern "Rebel yell"—and is amplified by the wildly waving, speech forming hands and fingers of the "silent" rooters.

Talk of Candidates of Two Great Parties

on him to provide.

"Our country must reconstruct itself. The prodigal wastefulness, in private life and public administration, must either cease or there will be danger of a severe economic reaction. We must have less of government interference in business and more reliance of the people on themselves. Our great war debts must be met, but by a system of taxation that rests evenly on the broad shoulders of the great public."

"The times are troubled. People are in a ferment. Unrest prevails at home. Discord is prevalent abroad. No man and no party ought to be rash enough to promise the performance of plans for long in advance. It is a time when all must feel their way from day to day. But this is no excuse for failure to do our best."

"There will be no doubt, there will be hesitation, there may be local disorders, but the heart of America is sound. Her people as a whole understand and believe in her institutions with a faith and a loyalty never surpassed by the people of any other country."

"The decision in this election will turn not on any attitude toward world politics but on the attitude toward the home. The wives and mothers of the land, directly or indirectly, are going to exert a mighty influence on the result of this campaign. They believe in patriotism and common sense. Ultimately they will make their choice, and they will make it according to the Republican standard, not in response to the inquiry, 'Will it pay?' but in response to that other inquiry, which searches the soul of the universe, 'Is it right?'"

ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK IN WESTERN STATES

WALSTON PUPILS SENT TO OTHER SCHOOL

Only One Room Structure and Board of Education Decides Two Teachers Would Be Unable To Work There Successfully at the Same Time. Contract To Transport Children is Given.

The modern school building at Walston's, erected a few years ago and thought to be large enough to serve that section for many years to come will before the school year of 1927 opens, have to be enlarged by the addition of another room.

At least this was the statement of the Board of Trustees of Walston's school, made to the Board of Education on Monday. King Workman, spokesman for the trustees, said the enrollment this fall will not be less than 50 to 55, and the average attendance would likely be around 40 to 45 in the seven grades taught in this school. It was shown that the work of teaching so many children in seven grades was too much for one teacher to handle, and the trustees asked for the employment of an assistant teacher. From a professional standpoint the board did not think it advisable to employ two teachers to work in the same room, and suggested that in order to reduce the crowded condition of Walston's school, the board would transport the pupils of the sixth and seventh grades, numbering about 14, to Parsonsburg school, which is a two room building with ample room to accommodate them.

This arrangement was finally agreed to by the trustees for the next school year, after which the county commissioners will be asked by the patrons of Walston's school to appropriate money with which to erect an additional room. A contract was entered into with King Workman to transport the pupils from Walston's to Parsonsburg and back daily for the price of $1.50 a day.

WICOMICO NEWS BOOTH VERY POPULAR PLACE

Nothing but favorable comment concerning the Wicomico News booth at the Salisbury fair has been heard. The News booth is among the prettiest and most attractive at the fair. This is the opinion of the thousands who have visited all of the many other booths. Its decorative color scheme is orange and black and its display placards are for the most part, black lettering on white board. The News in presenting such a handsome display at the Salisbury fair, is again indicating its progressive methods. Visitors at the fair are invited to make The News booth their headquarters and to inquire there for the handsome and useful souvenirs being distributed.

ROBBED OF $600 WHILE HE SLEEPS

B. J. McCullough Reports Theft of His Roll on Monday Night. Sheriff Larmore on Robber's Trail.

According to reports received this week from Sheriff Larmore and States Attorney Long, B. J. McCullough, of Baltimore, an automobile salesman, was robbed of $600 while he slept in a room at the Peninsula hotel on Monday night.

According to the report alleged to have been made to the state's attorney by McCullough, because of overcrowded conditions at the hotel he was unable to get a room to himself. He could have had single sleeping accommodations in one of the hotel's halls but fearing that his money might be stolen if he slept in such an exposed place, he agreed to share a room with another of the hotel guests. This man is supposed to have come from New York and it has been impossible to ascertain the name under which he registered.

McCullough missed his money on Tuesday morning when he arose to dress. His bedfellow of the night before had vanished. He describes the man as being a fountain pen salesman carrying his wares in a black handbag. It is said that he was seen at Hebron at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Sheriff Larmore immediately drove to Hebron and found that the bird had flown. A warrant has been issued for his arrest and is in the hands of Sheriff Larmore for service. On Wednesday McCullough was still in Salisbury awaiting the outcome of the sheriff's activities.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.

In its every edition, THE WICOMICO NEWS publishes from 40 to 50 columns of live and interesting news and special features.

This is something for NEWS readers to remember when their subscriptions expire, and they begin to think about renewing their subscriptions.

Sugar Now Selling For About 20 Cents

Housewives Can Get All They Want If They Get It Quickly. Price Won't Drop Lower.

According to the statement made by one of Salisbury's prominent wholesalers, local housewives can procure sugar at prices ranging around 20 cents from now on. Sugar is wholesaled at 18½ cents a pound beginning yesterday.

As this time of the year is the period of the heaviest consumption it is not thought that the price of sugar will drop any lower and it is likely that the housewife who delays purchasing sugar for household and also preserving purposes will be disappointed.

With sugar now retailing at about 20 cents, a drop of practically five cents per pound has taken place, as a few months ago the price of sugar per pound hung around the 30 cent mark more than the 25.

MAY DELAY NEWS OF COUNCIL MEETINGS

City Fathers on Monday Decide Not To Release Report of Meetings Until Minutes Are Reviewed.

Throughout the years gone by and up until this week, it has been possible for THE NEWS to tell its readers of the business transacted by the mayor and city council at their Monday night meetings in THE NEWS on Thursday of the same week.

The city officials on Monday night decided that the minutes of a meeting of the city fathers are not to be given the papers for publication until they have been approved at the next subsequent meeting of the mayor and council. This would seem to mean that NEWS readers will not be given the news of the official acts of their city fathers until nearly two weeks after such actions are taken.

However, THE NEWS, always progressive and up-to-date, will send a representative to each of the weekly meetings of the mayor and council to report in the paper of that same week the doings of the city officials. In this manner, NEWS readers will not be bound to wait nearly two weeks before learning what business the city's legislative body has transacted. Since it is not to be assumed that press representatives will be excluded from the meetings of the city officials, the people of the city will get the news of the council proceedings just as early as in the weeks before Monday's decision was made.

HOOCH HOUND PAYS THE CITY $15

Frank Gravenor is today minus $15 and costs as the result of his being hauled before City Magistrate Jones by Policeman Furnis on the charge of being drunk and disorderly on Monday. Gravenor seemed considerably sobered after Judge Jones had dished up the sentence and he departed from the City Hall.

NEW RAIL RATES EFFECTIVE TODAY

The 20 per cent increase in steam railway fares, which was recently announced, went into effect Friday in most cases, but in some localities will not be effective until August 26. The difference in the date is due to various conditions which make a simultaneous change impossible. Under the new rates the tickets will increase in price 20 cents on the dollar.

Falls From Roof, Dies on Tuesday

Charles W. Farlow Succumbs To Injuries at Local Hospital.

WAS AT WORK ON SCHOOL BUILDING

Staging Gives Way Beneath His Weight and Though He Clings Desperately to Slippery Roof, He Falls, Sustaining Mortal Injuries. Survived by Widow and Three Children. Funeral Thursday at 3 O'clock.

Charles W. Farlow, 46, a carpenter, whose home is on Fitzwater street, this city, died at 8.05 o'clock at the local hospital on Tuesday night as the result of injuries sustained when he fell from the roof of the East Salisbury school building at about 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Farlow was a musician of some note and was well known in this section. He was buried in Parsons cemetery at 3 o'clock today, Thursday.

According to reports of the accident, staging used at the school building which is undergoing repairs had been loosened to permit the hauling of heavy window frames to one of the upper floors. The men had been warned not to use the staging until it had been made safe. It is supposed that Farlow thought the staging had been fastened, for he resumed the work of shingling the roof.

While standing on the staging sawing a shingle, the insecure staging gave way beneath Farlow's weight and fell from beneath him. Farlow clung desperately to the roof but the rain soaked shingles were too slippery for him to retain his grip. He fell, striking the staging before reaching the ground. He was unconscious when help reached him. He was taken immediately to the Peninsula general hospital where it was found that his injuries consisted of seven fractured ribs and a punctured lung. There was no hope for his recovery. He died at 8.05 o'clock. Mrs. Farlow and his three children, Catharine, Charles and Phillip were summoned to his bedside. They were with him when life became extinct.

Farlow was a member of the local lodge, Jr. O. U. A. M. and an attendant at St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Beside his wife and children, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Harvey Parker, of this city, and a brother, Jesse Farlow, of Dover, Del.

Growers Association Met on Saturday and Reduced Figure To Lowest Possible Minimum.

The Tomato Growers' association of Wicomico county which held a meeting on Saturday, August 14, and fixed a price of 35 cents a basket for tomatoes sold the canneries, held another meeting on Saturday, the 21st, and reduced the price to 25 cents a basket, but pledged themselves not to deliver tomatoes at a penny lower.

Petitions are being circulated among growers all over the county for signatures pledging themselves to plow under their patches rather than accept less than 25 cents a basket for tomatoes.

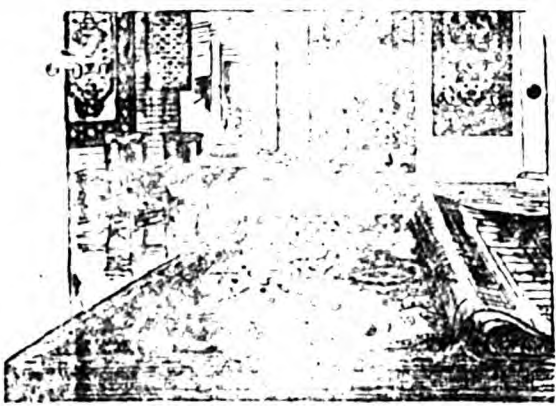

TRIPLE JAM ON MAIN STREET MONDAY

A Chevrolet runabout, a two ton Acazon truck and a Ford touring car furnished a triple jam on Main street at Division about 4.44 on Monday afternoon. All three machines were proceeding toward Division street when the Chevrolet which was in the lead, suddenly stopped dead. The truck, owned by the Homestead Dairy farms was too close to stop and before it was brought to a standstill had collided with the Chevrolet slightly bending its rear fender. Behind the Acazon, the Ford car brought up the rear and although it stopped with a jerk, it struck the truck and the whole front part of the Ford was moved back an inch or more. The runabout ceased functioning and all the water in it was deposited on the street. The three motors proceeded on their own power.

TRANSPORTATION IS COUNTY'S BIG NEED

Motor Truck Can Be Used Successfully in Short Hauls and Relieve Embarrassment of Railroads.

The situation of transportation is at the bottom of the most serious of America's industrial troubles today, and from what ever angle you tackle the problem you will soon come back to that fact," says R. E. Chamberlain, truck sales manager of the Packard Motor Car Co.

"America has every reason for a sound and healthy industrial activity, and nothing could do more to restore this than the provision of adequate transportation facilities.

"What financial men, and even many of us in the motor transportation line, need to realize, is that the most immediate and practical method of relieving the freight car shortage is the use of motor trucks for short haul freight. The railroads have big plans under way for increasing their equipment, but it will take years of time and hundreds of millions to bring this to a point where it can meet the country's needs. In the meantime the truck can provide a tremendous relief.

"Today grain is unmarketed in the western elevators, coal is awaiting shipment from a thousand mines, factories are shutting down or running on part time because of lack of supplies. Figures show that the short haul freight car shortage has increased 28 per cent in the last three weeks, and that conditions are likely to grow worse rather than better. Of course the trucks cannot haul coal and grain thousands or even hundreds of miles, but they can relieve the thousands of cars which are now tied up in terminals and on sidings with the short-haul L. C. L. freight.

"In addition to the release of freight cars for long haul work, there is the fact that short-haul freight can be handled more economically by truck than by train. C. A. Morse, of the Railroad administration, has stated that the branch lines which feed the trunk lines seldom pay expenses, and that it would be a decided advantage if this traffic could be brought in by trucks. R. C. Wright, general traffic manager of the Pennsylvania, says that there is small profit for the roads in hauling freight up to 40 miles and he advocates the wider use of trucks within that limit. "The railroad men realize this situation. And at a time like this, when every effort is being made to get the country back on its feet, it is a pity that the transportation problem is not being solved more quickly and completely. It is a pity that the transportation problem is not being solved more quickly and completely. It is a pity that the transportation problem is not being solved more quickly and completely.

MARDELA SPRINGS.

What is there in a name? We people living in Mardele feel much aggrieved when we see any writing about our lovely town with the word Springs left off. The name Mardele is a pretty combination, but it is much prettier when the name is not marred and both words given. It may save printers' ink to leave off the word springs, but as the name of our town is Mardele Springs, we want the whole name given.

Your correspondent, "One Who Sees" should consult an optometrist at once as his vision is sadly defective when he sees Sharptown camp meeting listed with other peninsular camps. Sharptown camp meeting was abandoned some years ago. Again this sight seeing correspondent is looking through the wrong glasses when he sees thousands of people "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," as referring to the beautiful tented grove of this peninsula. The poet who penned these sad lines had no reference to those happy, cheerful campers. The chorus of that sad but beautiful song is as follows:

"Many are the hearts that are weary tonight,
Wishing for the war to cease,
Many are hearts looking for the right.

To see the dawn of peace."

Spiva, cashier of the Bank of Somerset of Princess Anne, whose skull was fractured two weeks ago in an automobile collision near Wye Mills, and who has been in the Easton hospital since, has been taken to Baltimore for an examination at Johns Hopkins hospital. Since the accident Mr. Spiva has shown considerable physical improvement, but he has never recovered complete consciousness and can not recall anything of the incident in which his wife, Mrs. Margaret Dixon Spiva, was instantly killed.

AMERICANS ABROAD IN RED CROSS WORK

United States Citizens Far Away Enthusiastic Members of the "Fourteenth" Division.

Among the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the American Red Cross are those citizens of the United States who live outside the continental boundaries of their country—sons and daughters of the Stars and Stripes residing at the four corners of the earth.

These people compose the Insular and Foreign Division of the parent organization, generally known as the "Fourteenth" Division, which has jurisdiction of all territory outside the country proper; that is, Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Guam, and even the island of Yap, which came under our flag as a result of the world war. For the year 1920 this division reported 80,808 paid up members.

The main object of this division is to give our citizens everywhere the opportunity to participate in the work of the organization which stands for the best national ideals. Americans in far places intensely loyal and patriotic, treasure their membership in the Red Cross as the outward expression of their citizenship. It is another tie to the homeland and to each other. These are chapters of this division in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, Ecuador, England, France, Germany, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Manchuria, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Siberia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela and Virgin Islands.

During the war these scattered members of the Red Cross contributed millions in money, and millions of dollars' worth of necessary articles for the men in service, and sent many doctors and nurses to France. At the same time they carried on an excellent Home Service in their respective communities for the families of those who had gone to war, and in some regions gave large sums of money and immeasurable personal service to the relief of disaster and disease victims.

The division is now establishing service clubs in foreign ports for the benefit of sailors in the American Merchant Marine, making plans to aid Americans in trouble in foreign lands and completing arrangements for giving immediate adequate relief in case of disaster.

It is the Fourteenth Division's part in the great Peace Time program of the American Red Cross.

RED CROSS ASSISTS DISABLED VETERANS

The American Red Cross is carrying on a most important service for the disabled war veterans receiving treatment in Federal Hospitals. Public Health hospitals and those being trained through agencies of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Each of the Public Health Service Hospitals Red Cross workers devote their time to the general welfare of the service men from the day they enter the receiving ward until they are discharged. After the soldier's discharge the Red Cross continues its friendly service through the Home Service Section in his own community.

The Red Cross maintains a convalescent home at all of the hospitals, where patients can amuse themselves after they are well enough to be up and around. Parties and picture shows in the wards are also furnished, with occasional excursions when convalescence comes.

Great service has been rendered by the Red Cross in mental cases in identifying those who have appeared in state hospitals for the insane, and helping them secure compensation due from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

In the Federal Board's various district offices the Red Cross worker, acting with the Home Service Section, makes necessary loans to the men, arranges suitable living conditions, helps collect evidence and supply facts to the Board, assists in "appealing cases" and settles various personal difficulties for the men. The workers also follow up and aid all men who discontinue training.

The Red Cross agents find men "lost" to the Board, help clear up delayed cases and aid the college counselors in their friendly work with the men. Many Red Cross chapters have set up recreation facilities, and in some instances living clubs, so these victims of war may have attractive surroundings and the fun which must go with effective school work.

To the American Red Cross Institute for the Blind near Baltimore, Md., more than half of all the Americans blinded in the World War have come for training. The Institute, through the Red Cross, has conducted an extensive physical survey to determine the extent of the problem. As a result it is possible to plan a more effective program to meet the blind, civil and economic needs of the respective communities.

The American Red Cross has been successful in raising funds for the Spanish Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies for the purpose of fighting malaria.

FIRST AID TRAINING TO MEN AND WOMEN

American Red Cross Is Teaching
Hundreds of Thousands Life-Saving Methods.

The purpose of instruction in First Aid to the injured offered by the American Red Cross is to train men and women to administer First Aid treatment promptly and intelligently when emergencies demand it. First Aid treatment is not intended to take the place of a physician's service. A surgeon should always be summoned as a precautionary measure where there is an injury of any consequence, but when one cannot be secured a few minutes' delay may mean a fatality. In such a case a person trained in First Aid is invaluable not only to the individual, but through him to the community in which he lives.

There is perhaps no way of ascertaining the number of deaths or serious disabilities which result from lack of proper safeguards or prompt emergency treatment. It is safe to assert that many thousands daily. There can be no doubt that the application of First Aid methods to each case would greatly lighten the country's load of suffering and death.

The instruction in First Aid training and information has already proved a far-reaching and beneficial influence in the prevention of accidents on railroads, in homes and in great industrial concerns.

The benefit of a widespread knowledge of First Aid in the event of a great disaster, such as a train wreck, an explosion, an earthquake, etc., is obvious. Laymen who have had First Aid training can render efficient assistance. Many lives may depend upon such emergency care.

Red Cross First Aid work includes (1) the formation and conduct, through Red Cross chapters, of classes for instruction in accident prevention and First Aid to the injured among men and women in all communities and in every industry; (2) the introduction of courses of instruction in high schools and colleges.

The Red Cross is prepared to supply First Aid books and equipment at reasonable prices.

Every person in this country able to do so should, in his own interest, receive Red Cross First Aid instruction. Information about the course and instruction classes may be had at the nearest chapter headquarters.

RED CROSS EXTENDS RELIEF TO POLAND

More than $5,000,000 has been spent by the American Red Cross in aiding the stricken people of Poland. The organization has nursed the sick, fed the starving, clothed the naked, sheltered the homeless, schooled the children and cared for the orphans there. It has conducted a relentless fight against typhus, cholera and other terrible diseases. So today millions of men and women in that resurrected nation speak in grateful appreciation of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

Nearly 200 American Red Cross workers are now engaged in relief activities in Poland. Four large relief bases are in operation and eleven mobile units are in the field. During the last twelve months this organization was largely instrumental in the establishment of a relief program for the Polish people. Last winter and early spring over 1,000,000 Polish people were helped. The organization has been successful in obtaining permanent relief.

But for American Red Cross aid of floods of Poland, Poland would have perished of disease, exposure or starvation the last eighteen months. And the work there must be kept up for another year.

PRETTY WEDDING NEAR EDEN, MONDAY

Miss Minnie Elvora Pollitt Becomes Bride of Rufus Omar Jones. Will Live in Washington, D. C.

On Monday evening, August 16, at 8:30 a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah W. Pollitt, near Eden, when their daughter, Minnie Elvora, was married to Rufus Omar Jones, of White Haven, by Rev. John W. Wooten, of Fruitland.

The bride wore an attractive white satin gown trimmed with tulle and a white tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a bunch of bride's roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Valberg Gulliksen, of San Francisco. She wore a beautiful pink georgette gown trimmed with pink satin and carried a bunch of pink roses. The best man was Herman Murrell, a cousin of the groom. Miss Jane Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Banks, of Salisbury, was flower girl while the ring bearer was Master George Brumbley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brumbley, of Gainesville, Florida. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Jesse M. Pollitt, of Allen, sang "Until." Miss Ethel Malone, of Washington, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. More than 50 relatives and close friends of the bride and groom were present and witnessed the ceremony which was held under a large arch on the lawn. After the reception a wedding collection was served in the dining room which had been especially decorated for the occasion. The couple left later in the evening for a brief honeymoon in the mountains of Virginia and will be at their new home, 750 Rock Creek, church road, Washington, D. C., after September 1. Mr. Jones is a successful dealer in lumber and building materials in Washington.

Alexander T. Aikman.

The subject of the following tribute was born near Salisbury about 76 years ago. Was admitted to the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church on February 2, 1877, and died Friday, August 20, 1920.

It is a great thing to be well born. To have lived nobly and when dead to be quietly put away, by the hands of those who love us, in the grave. To have made and kept friends in life's greatest achievement. Measured by this rule some have failed miserably and others are rich above measure. Death is a great revealer. It turns out some lights and turns on some others. The light of intelligence goes out from the eye, the light of cheer from the face, the glad note that thrilled in the voice is hushed forever. It turns on the light of publicity and concentrates the attention of men upon the character and record of him who is gone. Some men who were thought to be saints are found to be sinners; some who were thought to be rich are found to be poor, and the good that some men do is never discovered until after the undertaker is through with them. Yes, dying is serious business in more ways than one.

So far as it is a matter of record no one ever accused Alexander T. Aikman of being perfect. Indeed he was not, and no one was more sensible of this than he. Perfect people are few and far between. In an active ministry of more than 17 years I have only known one man who claimed to be perfect—and God forbid that I should ever know another. He was the most

As a young man of 31 years of age he was deeply convicted of sin. His conversion was the most real fact in his whole life. He trusted then only in the mercy of a loving Redeemer and among his last words was a confession of trust in the Saviour of the years. He was certainly faithful to the church. Loved God's book and had a very surprising knowledge of the Scriptures.

In the dark days of the Civil war when some neighbor who was "caught in the draft" for family reasons could not go, Alex Aikman volunteered to go in his stead. This proves that he was a man of more than ordinary stuff. Bergdollizing is not at all a new game.

He is gone. Already he has met Sarah Jane and Wesley and the others.

He was the last of his family. The line closed in him.

Funeral services were held at his late residence on Poplar Hill avenue on Sunday afternoon. The writer was assisted by the Rev. J. W. Hardesty.

Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Higgins left for Boston, Mass., on Saturday where Dr. Higgins is now attending the annual convention of the National Dental association. Mrs. Higgins will visit friends in New York en route.

Last year we held our first August Fur Sale. It proved such a success that we decided to make it an annual event. Our August Fur Sale will start Tuesday, August 24th, and will end Tuesday, August 31st. It may be a little early to think of furs in August, but it is never too early to consider values in furs such as we have planned for our August Sale.

All the new modes are here, from the indispensable little neck piece of mink, fisher or marten for immediate wear to the fur coat of Hudson Seal, squirrel, Martin or Coney for winter wear. The quality and price are guaranteed. If you contemplate getting a fur piece this year, may it be a scarf, stole, neck piece, cape or coat, it will be to your advantage to attend this sale. If you are not it will be worth your time to see these beautiful furs displayed.

During this sale we will have on display advance Fall models of Suits, Coats, Dresses and Millinery. We will be pleased to have you call.

TO CLOSE RURAL SCHOOLS.

The Board of Education of Talbot county is seeking a means of transporting children from the rural districts to towns and villages where they can attend the larger schools. Last year several country schools were closed and the pupils taken to the nearest town schools.

This scheme worked well and saves the county money. This year if the plans of the School Board can be carried out a few more of the rural schools will be closed and the pupils transported. School children at Bellevue will be taken to Royal Oak; Trappe Station to Oxford; Bar Neck to Tilghman; Baileys Neck to Easton, and Skipton and Wye Landing to Wye Mills.

Progressive communities everywhere are falling into line on the school consolidation question, and it will not be many years before the one-room rural school will be a thing of the past, and the pupils will be enjoying the better equipped city schools and the higher grades taught. It may be slow in coming because of the opposition of parents, but it is bound to come.

WELCOME STRANGERS.

"Salisbury has more genuine accommodation, and good will and courtesy and helpfulness than any Maryland town that I have ever been in. I don't know why this is true, but IT IS true."

"The ticket agent in the Salisbury office of the N. Y. P. & N. R. R. recently went to more trouble for my accommodation than I would have gone to myself. All of your people are the same."

The above is a part of a letter received from a native and resident of Virginia, at THE NEWS office a few days ago.

It is one of the highest tributes to Salisbury's people that has ever come unsolicited to the attention of the publishers or the editors of this paper.

It tells its own story—and the story of Salisbury's success as a city.

It proves that a little courtesy shown to visitors goes a long way in the direction of making friends for ourselves and for our home city.

Of course it wouldn't be well for the people of Salisbury to suppose from this man's letter that they have accomplished all there is to accomplish by making friends for Salisbury by the courtesy-accommodation route.

There is still much to be done.

Visitors are arriving in Salisbury every day. Each one of these visitors, favorably impressed, is a great advertisement for the city.

Each one dissatisfied, is a heavy liability. The Virginian who so highly commends Salisbury is only one of thousands of Salisbury visitors. How do the others feel about this city?

Has each one of the others been treated as kindly and as courteously as this man was treated?

Do we as Salisburyans do our best to bid every visitor welcome and make his stay here pleasant?

Remember that we as residents of Salisbury have Salisbury's interests at heart; because in Salisbury's interests are our own personal interests. As the city grows, so only can our own business and social interests grow.

Therefore, in doing our individual share to advertise our city by the favorable impression we make on visiting strangers, we are not working alone in the interest of the city, but in the interest of ourselves as well.

VISITING ROTARIANS.

The visit of the Baltimore Rotarians to this city last Friday, as the guests of the members of the Salisbury Rotary club, was the forging of another link in the chain which binds Salisbury to Baltimore in the spirit of co-operation.

The visitors, many of whom were visitors in Salisbury for the first time, were shown all of the points of interest in and about this city. Several expressed surprise and delight when they learned of the progressive spirit of the Salisbury people. They seemed to have had no idea that the Eastern Shore could justly boast of such a large or thriving community as this city.

By the visit and entertainment of the Baltimore Rotarians, each one of whom is numbered near the top of the list of the big city's most progressive and public spirited men, Salisbury was given a big boost—and the local Rotary club has taken a long step in the direction of definitely fixing Salisbury in its proper place in the sun.

Salisbury's best advertisement, aside from its own progressive activity, is its entertainment of visitors from other places; especially visitors from the larger business and industrial centers. This city has a great many points of advantage which are not known by enough people in other places. Just as soon as these advantages and possibilities are made known, just so soon will Salisbury be the better and more favorably advertised throughout the country.

It is the policy of a great many cities to entertain conventions and mass meetings of state and nation wide organizations. These places like to be called "convention cities," and their public spirited citizens rightfully believe that by properly entertaining visitors en masse, they are spreading the good name and the good will of their city broadcast.

There is no better advertising than hospitality and a favorable first impression.

The Salisbury Rotary club members are to be commended for the very successful effort they made last week to introduce to their brother Rotarians from Baltimore, the advantages and the possibilities of Salisbury.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE AT LAST!

Tennessee is the thirty-sixth state to ratify the Woman's Suffrage amendment to the constitution of the United States. The senate of that state ratified the amendment on Friday, August 13, by a vote of 25 to 4 and the House ratified on Wednesday of last week by a vote of 49 to 47.

In order that the women of the nation should have voting power equal to that of the men of the country after congress enacted the constitutional amendment, it was necessary that it should be ratified by 36 states' legislatures. For nearly two years since congress enacted the amendment, pro-suffragists have worked hard to accomplish the ratification by the required number of states, and the anti-suffragists have fought just as hard to prevent the necessary ratifications.

Delaware very recently was made the scene of a battle between the pros and the antis and the pros lost by a narrow margin. Then the pros pinned their hopes on Tennessee and won.

The fact that Tennessee, a genuine southern state, has ratified the amendment and given to the women of the entire country the right to vote is significant of the fact that the suffrage issue was not one of political or territorial significance. The enfranchisement of women in this country was first endorsed by the Republican party. It was thought then to be a genuine Republican issue. Later, in fact very recently, President Wilson, a Democrat, not alone endorsed the woman suffrage movement, but used his every effort to have the constitutional amendment ratified by the states.

The fact that such a hide bound Republican state as Connecticut refused to ratify the suffrage amendment and that Tennessee, an equally staunch and true Democratic stronghold, ratified it, is again significant of the fact, it would seem, that the movement was not prompted by politics. The fact that the enfranchisement of women was endorsed and advocated by both the Republican and Democratic parties is another indication that neither of those parties may lay claim to having been responsible for the greatest forward movement this country has taken since the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776.

Just how the elections in November will be affected by the woman vote of the country is a question. Political sages are trying to solve the problem. It is probable that the women will not flock to either of the great parties as a unit but that they will be divided between the two, probably in much the same proportion as the men of the country are divided.

The women of the Democratic sections of the country, having been born in the cradle of Democracy and raised amid its advocates, will doubtless vote the Democratic ticket—and it is just as reasonable to suppose that the women of the Republican sections, having imbibed Republican doctrines since childhood, will vote the Republican ticket.

Nor is it unreasonable to suppose that the women of the nation, and they have intelligent minds, having watched the methods of politics and politicians heretofore, may have grown disgusted with the whole thing and after awhile, now that they are voters, make an attempt to inaugurate a new party and new political methods. Whether they will be able to improve on the present methods or not, only time will tell.

Anticipating the ratification of the suffrage amendment by the required 36 states, Attorney General Armstrong of this state has given an opinion in which he says that all women of the country 21 years old or more will be entitled to vote at the elections next November.

Of course they must register as voters before they will be able to vote; and the registration of all the voters of this county and city will begin on September 21.

It is estimated that Tennessee by its ratification of the suffrage amendment has given the voting franchise to 27,000,000 women of voting age and qualifications in this country.

Whether or not political conditions in this country will be improved by the women's vote, remains to be seen. It would seem that the admission of woman to politics would have a refining influence; but whether it does or doesn't, the enfranchisement of women, given after a long struggle of more than 70 years for its attainment, is proof absolute that in a majority of the states of the Union, women are not regarded as inferior to men and that a majority of the states are willing that the mothers of the country should be given a place equal to that occupied by men in the governmental affairs by which their lives and actions are so completely controlled.

HEAVY LOSERS.

The farmers of Wicomico county, far from having the successful season they anticipated, have in a majority of instances met with substantial losses.

With cantaloupes selling for 60 cents a carrier, approximately a half of which is consumed by the cost of the package itself, there is little profit left to the grower. If he gets 60 cents a carrier for his melons and pays 50 cents of that for the carrier, he has left 10 cents with which to pay for his work, his help, his seed, his fertilizer, etc. At such a price the farmer loses materially on every carrier he hauls and a newspaper from a Pennsylvania town announced this week that cantaloupes were selling there at retail at 20 cents each.

Growers of tomatoes, however, appear to be the heaviest losers. To date, very few of the canneries are operating. Acre after acre of good land in this county is planted in tomatoes, a fruit which once ripened, demands immediate picking and sale—and as there is little or no sale for tomatoes this season, thousands of bushels in this county alone are hanging and rotting on the vines.

What the loss to the county in dollars and cents will mean, can never be even roughly estimated—but it is a fact that the farmers are the losers in the aggregate, of at least $100,000, in this county alone.

Pity though it is that such vast quantities of food stuffs should go to waste, there seems to be no remedy for the condition. It is probable that next winter, even though millions of tomatoes are allowed to rot on the vines this summer, canned tomatoes can be bought only at prices similar to those charged for them during the last few years.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Joseph G. Adkins who died August 27, 1919.

One year has passed and still we miss thee.
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they little know the sorrow
That within our hearts conceived

We have not forgotten you,
Nor ever will you be
For as long as life and men are last,
We will remember thee

Our hearts are sad and lonely now
Our grief too deep to tell
But time will come to us soon
When we may meet with thee again

It was hard to part from one we love
But God alone knows best
And the thought that fills our aching hearts
Is to know he has gone to rest

Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low,
Thou no more will join our number,
Thou no more will ever know

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled,
And with joy in heaven to greet thee,
Where no farewell tears are shed

Your Future Will Take Care of Itself

If you take a course at Beacom's. Beacom graduates are sure of employment and sure of advancement. They are making good in all parts of the world.

A considerable number of Salisbury business men and women are graduates of Beacom's Salisbury School. They are also to be found in splendid positions in other cities. One young woman is in New York with a big corporation receiving the highest salary paid their women employees, and they employ thousands of them. Another young woman who received a salary of $9 a week when she finished her course at Beacom's is now getting a salary of $200 a month. A young man graduate is in South America with a big copper company at a handsome salary. Another young man is now a stockholder and official of a large manufacturing company with whom he started at a salary of less than $10 a week, upon completing his course at Beacom's. These are just a few of the many splendid records made by graduates of Beacom's Salisbury School. All of our graduates are now starting at double $9 or $10 a week, but the important factor is that they are so trained that they are capable of and secure rapid advancement.

What we have done for hundreds of others we can do for you. Give us the chance. Send for catalog.

RAINY WEATHER RUINS CANTALOUPE

The farmers are experiencing great difficulty in marketing their cantaloupes and other crops that are ripe at this time, because of the rainy weather. On Tuesday of this week the farmers who hauled their product to the auction block were so few that the block shut down early in the morning and did not again resume business that day. On Wednesday buying was resumed at prices ranging from 50 to 90 cents per carrier depending on the quality of the loupes. With continued rain the remaining cantaloupes will be in such a water-soaked condition that they will not properly keep until they reach the city and thousands will be lost to the farmers. Cantaloupes are not the only crop which is suffering severely from the ill-weather.

Fall Gingham Week

During Fall Gingham new patterns of Gingham will be shown for Autumn and Winter wear. Each year Gingham is becoming more and more popular as an all-the-year 'round material.

School children are being dressed in Gingham instead of the heavier woolen materials and many mothers say that they are practicing economy in so doing. School houses are very much better heated than formerly and children do not need as heavy clothes as formerly. Then again by using dark patterns which are slow to show soil Gingham is just as attractive as heavier materials.

Gingham, being a close woven material, is warmer than most other cotton goods.

POCOMOKE LOSES GREAT EDUCATOR

High School Principal George A. Fontaine Resigns Position in Cumberland, Md., to Return to Salisbury, Md., in September.

George A. Fontaine, of Pocomoke, Md., the former principal of the Pocomoke High School, is about to leave one of the most prominent and efficient educators. Mr. Fontaine will assume the principalship of the Cumberland High School early in September. The Cumberland school is rated as the largest high school in the state, outside of Baltimore.

Mr. Fontaine has been at the head of the Summer Training School for Teachers at Ocean City for several successive seasons. During the season just ended he was director of the Teachers' Training school in Frostburg. It was while he was in Frostburg that his work was observed and he was offered the Cumberland position. He accepted the offer ten days ago and sent his resignation as principal of the Pocomoke High School to the Worcester County Board of Education. This resignation was accepted with deep regret by the county board, which fully realized, however, its financial inability to compete successfully with the offer made to Mr. Fontaine by the school board of Allegheny county.

Mr. Fontaine was graduated from St. John's college in Annapolis with his A. B. degree in 1902 and after a post graduate course won his M. A. in 1908. With the exception of two years, when he was headmaster of a boys' private school in Warrenton, Va., he has been connected with the Pocomoke High School since 1903. In that year and in 1904 he was vice principal of the school under Professor H. J. Handy and later became the principal of the school.

Under his administration, the Pocomoke school was so improved as to be admitted to the first group of accredited high schools of the state and its many graduates have reflected credit upon themselves, their school and Mr. Fontaine by their creditable work in colleges and in many of the big universities of the country.

Who will succeed Mr. Fontaine as principal of the Pocomoke High School has not yet been announced, but it is certain that whoever is chosen as his successor, will find that he has set a pace for efficiency and progress that it will be difficult to improve upon.

Mr. Fontaine will be sorely missed in the life of Pocomoke. During his long career, he has been a most efficient and capable educator. He has been a most efficient and capable educator. He has been a most efficient and capable educator.

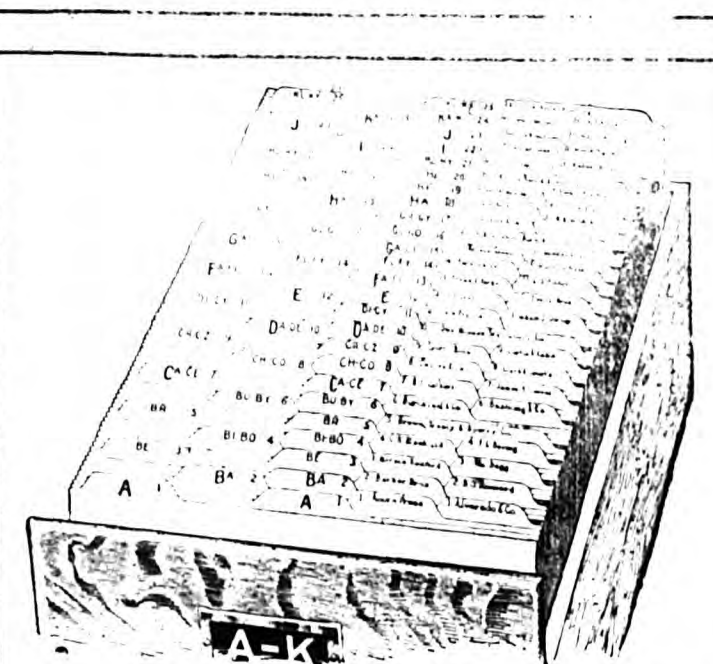

Mr. Fontaine has not alone been a success as a school man in Pocomoke, but he has been a power in the interest of good government and clean politics throughout Worcester county. The people of Cumberland are to be congratulated upon their ability to acquire his services as the head of their high school.

CARS MUST BE TITLED THIS MONTH

Wicomico county automobilists, who do not have certificates from the state commissioner of motor vehicles on September 1, showing that the cars have been titled, will not be permitted to operate their cars. The fact that they have applied for registration will make no difference, if they have not received a legal certificate from the commissioner; and, according to an announcement issued by Commissioner Baughman this week, many motorists will be required to lose the use of their cars until they receive certificates, because it will be a physical impossibility for the clerical staff of his office to issue the permits applied for during the last few days of the month.

Lost All His Prize Seed Corn. "Some time ago sent away for some pedigreed seed corn. Put it in a gunny sack and hung it on a rope suspended from roof. The Index is the Heart of the File.

You may have the best article file made; the cabinet work may be perfection, the finish superb, and the drawers may respond to the slightest touch, but if your letters are not properly indexed, you might as well have used a soap box.

Efficiency and good results depend on your selection of a good system of filing and finding letters—only partially on the cabinet itself. Like a beautiful automobile with a poor motor, a file with a poor index can not give good results.

The speed you get from your Filing Department determines to a large extent the speed of your whole office organization, and especially does it affect the efficiency and output of your high priced department heads.

Waiting for correspondence is worse than waiting for a train. You fuss and fume and soon your enthusiasm and concentration, which count for the most in a good day's work, are gone.

Phone No. 50 and ask us to explain the Ideal Index.

Only an average of about two cars per day has been reported, when next week's shipments are expected to begin moving faster.

The price at $7.00 seems move steady and it is thought that this price will hold firm for a more definite period.

Irish potato shipments are still heavy, the price being from $3.00 to $4.00. Many farmers are holding stock for bigger prices, which they are looking for after the heaviest shipping season is past. The car shortage has vastly improved.

The Exchange sales so far this season have amounted to more than $16,000,000.

Maryland Sends Representative to Orient on Baptist Missionary Ship

The Empress of Japan, Canadian Pacific liner, on which practically 100 Southern Baptist missionaries sailed from Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 17, for China and Japan. Maryland was represented in the group by Rev. Robert Lord Dunsun, of Baltimore, a young pastor who will take up educational work in South China, and whose picture is shown above.

When approximately one hundred Southern Baptist missionaries sailed on the Canadian Pacific liner, the Empress of Japan, from Vancouver, British Columbia, Tuesday, August 17, for fields in the Orient, they formed the largest group of evangelists of the Christian religion that has ever been sent to foreign fields at a single time by a single denomination since the beginning of Christian missions.

The majority of the appointees of the Foreign Mission Board are new workers, recently come from the various educational institutions of the South where they have spent years in preparation for the duties they are about to assume in other lands.

Appointment and sending forward of so large a number of workers at a single time was made possible by the larger proceeds for missions from the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, from which $29,000,000 will be realized for foreign missions during the five years covered by the campaign. Not all of this fund will be used in employing new workers, though approximately 500 additional men and women will be sent out during the five years. Other sums will go to providing more church buildings, schools and hospitals, homes for the missionaries and improvements of that character, including publishing houses for turning out the Bible and other religious literature. Many improvements will be made in missionary institutions already in operation on the foreign field.

Missionary Operations Enlarged. In the new appointments of the Foreign Mission Board, and a new record was established when sixty-six were named by it this summer, are a testimony of World Program Is Planned. Ten foreign fields are occupied by Southern Baptists today in Africa, Asia, Europe, South America and Mexico. The work in all these fields will be strengthened and enlarged as a result of the larger funds made available for foreign missions through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. New fields have been opened in Europe and the Near East and a million dollars has been appropriated for launching an intensive work in Russia. The number of doors of opportunity are opened there. The Board is greatly strengthening its work in Palestine and Egypt, and is giving the people of the East a new vision of the world which will be the result of the work of Jesus Christ.

Christian doctors, nurses, teachers, scientists and women workers, and one expert in farming and stock raising. These will supplement the work of the evangelists in that they will seek to relieve bodily suffering, teach the boys and girls, pave the way for more efficient homes by interesting mothers in sanitary housekeeping, and by their good work create in the minds of the people a favorable attitude toward the Christian religion. The instructor in agriculture and stock raising will undertake to reach many Chinese farmers with better methods of production and thus prove that the Christian missionary is the farmer's friend. The majority of the missionaries were born on the farm.

While the majority of the new appointees are going to China and Japan, others will sail in September for work in Africa, Brazil, Argentina and Chile. The work in all these fields will be strengthened and enlarged as a result of the larger funds made available for foreign missions through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. New fields have been opened in Europe and the Near East and a million dollars has been appropriated for launching an intensive work in Russia. The number of doors of opportunity are opened there. The Board is greatly strengthening its work in Palestine and Egypt, and is giving the people of the East a new vision of the world which will be the result of the work of Jesus Christ.

DRIVE STARTED FOR HOSPITAL FUNDS

Experienced Campaigner Here To Lead in Work of Raising $200,000 For Erection of Addition.

For the last 22 years the Peninsula General hospital of Salisbury has been a veritable life-saving station for the sick and injured of the Eastern Shore from the lower Delaware counties to Cape Charles. The pages of its service log are replete with wonderful instances of lives snatched by it from the angry undertow of disease and injury, and won back to health, friends and usefulness, and to thousands of homes in this tri-state peninsula, this hospital has been an angel of healing.

During the year ended September 30, 1919, a total of 1,210 persons were cared for by Peninsula General hospital, 1,062 of these being residents of peninsula. Of these, 367 were from Wicomico county, 178 from Worcester county, 95 from Somerset county, 166 from Delaware, 242 from Virginia, and 14 from other peninsula counties. For the same period 272 of the patients were treated free, and 395 others paid only part of the cost of the service they received.

Two sentences from the last report of the superintendent of the hospital reveal a startling serious situation which must be a matter of grave concern to every citizen interested in the life and health of these communities. The two sentences from Miss Wise's report are these:

"We are, and have been taxed to our utmost capacity, necessitating the almost daily refusal of patients, and causing an ever-increasing waiting list for admission. The building and its equipment are entirely inadequate for the needs of the community and for the furtherance of the service which should be rendered."

When it is remembered that an up-to-date hospital service normally requires one bed to each 1,000 of the population, it is seen at once, the gravity of the superintendent's words, for the Peninsula General hospital has but 55 beds with which it is attempting to meet the need of a population approximating 150,000.

With a profound conviction that the people of these Peninsula counties with their intelligence and resources, and as big hearted and sympathetic as the people of any other section of the country, will support a plan to enable the hospital to provide a more adequate service for the sick and injured, has decided to ask the public for funds to erect and equip a new building for the hospital.

Tentative plans for such a new building have been prepared for the board by Spencer E. Sisco, of Owens & Sisco, architects, Baltimore. It is estimated that the contemplated new building will cost over $200,000. To provide the funds necessary for such a new building the directors have decided to come before the public through a campaign similar to those which have been so successful with hundreds of hospitals and other institutions throughout the country, and have won signal success in connection with the various war service activities. The board has engaged an experienced campaign organizer in the person of Calvin G. Fencil, who in 1913 managed the campaign which made possible the present home of the Emergency hospital, Easton, and whose success in many other campaigns inspires confidence that this effort for Peninsula General hospital will have capable leadership. One of the first steps in the campaign will be the organization of a Citizens' committee composed of the most representative and influential personality throughout the territory served by the hospital, to sponsor the campaign. Hundreds of earnest men and women throughout this area will be asked to give some voluntary service as solicitors in the campaign, and through such workers the appeal for the hospital will be brought personally to all who are able to help. Mr. Fencil expects that the preliminary work will require six or seven weeks, and that the actual drive for funds can be launched about the third week of October. Earnest men and women throughout the territory the hospital serves who are interested that Peninsula hospital may adequately care for the sick and injured, and who will give some time and service in this campaign, are urged to send their name and address to W. S. Gordy, Jr., treasurer Peninsula General hospital, Salisbury, Md.

PUBLIC DANCE

FORMER RESIDENT IS A SUICIDE

John C. Lowe, Despondent, Shoots and Kills Himself on Thursday at His Home in Wilmington, Del.

John C. Lowe, a resident of Salisbury until two years ago, when he moved to Wilmington, committed suicide by shooting at his home in that city on Thursday night. The body was brought here for burial on Saturday. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. T. Herson and interment was made in Parson's cemetery. The deceased was a brother of James E. Lowe, of this city.

Mr. Lowe was a sufferer with Bright's disease for several years. Within the last four months, according to reports, his condition had grown rapidly worse and he had but a few months to live. Despondent because of his poor health and the impossibility of recovery, the sick man took his own life.

It is said here that Mr. Lowe was in the habit of leaving his bed to smoke late every night. It is also said that Mrs. Lowe usually rose with him and talked with him at such times. According to reports, on Thursday night she did not arise with her husband, but continued to sleep after he had risen. Awakening suddenly, the reports say, she missed her husband and called to him. Receiving no answer she went in search of him and found him in another room with the gas turned very low, and sitting in a huddled posture. He failed to respond to her when she spoke and she became frightened and called other members of the household, who discovered the dead man's tragic deed. It is said that his right hand still held the revolver with which he shot himself in the temple, when his body was discovered.

The deceased, who was 54 years old, is survived by his widow, three children, Franklin, Sadie and William, all of Wilmington, and two brothers, Emory C., of Wilmington, and James E. Lowe, of Salisbury.

The deceased was born at Lowe's Cross roads in Delaware and lived in Salisbury practically all his life until about two years ago when he moved with his family to Wilmington. When in this city he worked with his brother, James E. Lowe, in the livery business, on Dock street.

Will Discontinue Royal Oak School

Board of Education So Decides on Monday When it Transacts a Batch of Routine Business.

The Board of Education was in session on Monday and transacted considerable routine business.

The question of closing or continuing Royal Oak school next year came up for settlement. This school's attendance has been dwindling for several years until the enrollment is now but seven to nine, a figure which compels the board to close the school. The few pupils will be divided between the Quantico and Wicomico schools.

The board awarded the vacant scholarship in Charlotte Hall academy to Levin Gale Messick, a grandson of the late Register of Wills, Levin J. Gale.

The matter of tuition to be paid by non-resident pupils attending the schools of Wicomico county was considered and the prices fixed. For the Sharptown High school it was shown that last year the cost per capita for educating the pupils was about $65.00 and the price paid by non-resident pupils was about $47.00. Next year the board will demand $65.00 for high school pupils and $35.00 for elementary pupils attending the schools of Wicomico from adjoining counties.

EX-SERVICE MEN GET SCHOLARSHIPS

Seven of Salisbury's former service men have been awarded Interstate Y. M. C. A. scholarships. They are: James S. Russell, electrical engineering; C. G. Truitt, shorter electrical engineering; Allison J. Parsons, bookkeeping and business; W. E. Tilghman, accounting; G. Roger Bailey, accounting. The county allotment was $743 of which $740 has been applied for. The average value of each scholarship is $82.

STRAWBERRIES ARE IN MARKET AGAIN

Second growth strawberries are being picked here and are bringing the highest prices ever paid for strawberries in this section, retailing at 30 cents a quart. Second growth strawberries, which only a few years ago were a rarity, are now picked quite frequently and they invariably bring a high price. They are much sweeter than the first growth, but they will not hold up for any length of time and thus are not fit for shipping.

COMES HOME AFTER 32 YEARS ABSENCE

News Reporter Happens on Former Resident Who Finds City Much Changed. He is Byrd Parsons.

Sauntering down North Division street one afternoon last week a News reporter observed a portly, fine-looking man standing at the corner of North Division and Broad streets surveying the Y. M. C. A. building and the two massive stone churches. The stranger seemed to be uncertain as to his location and as the reporter passed he was accosted by the stranger as follows:

"Can you show me where is East Church street?"

The reporter told the stranger that he was just one block too far north and pointed in the direction. The stranger thanked the reporter and then a brisk conversation sprang up between the two.

"Oh, yes," remarked the stranger, "I know where I am now, for when a mere boy I used to play on East Church street, but it is not the old Church street it was in those days. The dirty muddy street has given place to a brick street with cement sidewalks, and brick structures have replaced the old one story and a half houses. The same conditions exist on Division, Main and Camden streets, and I tell you I was two or three days getting my bearings. The improvements in Salisbury since I left here 32 years ago have been marvelous, and I don't wonder at your people being proud of your little city."

While the stranger was thus praising Salisbury, the reporter was working his brain in an effort to recall the name of the stranger, when suddenly it dawned upon him that the man was Byrd Parsons, of Elizabeth City, N. C., a prominent business man of that section whom the reporter knew when a young man. Mr. Parsons recalled the names of several boys he knew when he resided in Salisbury, but most of them are asleep in Parson's cemetery. Inquiring if "Arthur Kennerly was still alive," the reporter told him that he is the very much alive mayor of the city. This information seemed to please Mr. Parsons and after shaking hands with the reporter, made a bee line to the City Hall Lunnery, where he found the mayor, and enjoyed an hour or more rehearsing scenes in their boyhood days.

Mr. Parsons, accompanied by his wife, motored to Salisbury from Elizabeth City and spent several days at the Peninsula hotel.

Mr. Parsons was born near Parsonsburg, where he spent his younger days, before coming to Salisbury. He is now owner and manager of large storage warehouses in Elizabeth City, N. C.

BAD WEATHER HANDICAPS FAIR

Tuesday's Rain and Wednesday's Low-lying Skies Keep People From Attending Biggest Fair on Shore.

Handicapped by bad weather, the Great Salisbury fair suffered a severe setback on Tuesday, its opening day. Wednesday dawned with fairer skies but still damp and cold. The attendance both days was meagre in comparison with other years.

This year the prophecy of the Fair association came true, in that the midway would be bigger and better, that the exhibit hall would be better filled with better things, and that the running races as an added inducement would prove a great success. Were it not for the poor weather Salisbury would have been the Mecca of the Eastern Shore this week and the greatest success in the history of the association would have been the result.

Barney Oldfield, one of the best attractions the fair had to offer this year, was called to California on Monday by the death of his mother in Los Angeles. Barney was to have given an exhibition automobile race in his Mormon car on Tuesday.

Among the Wicomico county exhibits the agricultural takes first place. Never before has such a big collection of farm products been shown at the fair and never before has so many of the exhibits been more than usually good. The educational building is also crowded with interesting articles from the hands of the county's school children.

Barring bad weather for today and tomorrow the fair should recover from its handicap and attract the largest crowds of all fairs.

It is understood that the management is considering running the fair over until Saturday.

AMERICAN RED CROSS TO GIVE RURAL HELP

Program for Public Health and Community Welfare Is Now Well Under Way.

Rural communities and towns of less than 5,000 population benefit in a very large part by the public health and community welfare work of the American Red Cross. Almost all of the 3,600 Red Cross chapters have some rural sections in their territory. Therefore the Red Cross Rural Service.

Briefly, the purpose of Rural Service is to assist people to get out of the home health, wealth and happiness. In this purpose public health instruction and general education progress of both children and adults play a big part.

Rural life is found to be one of the poorest in the world. There is lack of sufficient play time for the children and so on all life for the adults. Phases, pastimes, debating clubs, baseball leagues, community singing and other social events which bring the people of surrounding communities together have been organized and carried on under the guidance of Red Cross rural workers to great advantage. In many instances solving recreational problems and getting people together proves to be the awakening of the community to other conditions which may be improved by united action.

As a result of community organization, townships in which there had been neither plans nor interest in community progress have been organized to work together with the united purpose of bringing their community up to the most enlightened standards. Lecture and musical entertainment courses have been started as a result of community meetings, as well as circulating libraries, Red Cross schools of instruction in Home Nursing, Care of the Sick and First Aid. In the larger towns the need for restrooms and public comfort stations is being met. Playgrounds for the children have been established and recreational activities worked out for the year.

In order that there may be concerted effort in carrying on the programs of the various welfare agencies in the rural districts, Red Cross Rural Service helps the organizations already on the ground. The main object of the service is to lend a hand everywhere and take the lead only where necessary.

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. Like The Squirrel The Housewife Must Prepare For Winter Needs

Some Recipes For "Something Different" in Preserves, Jams and Jellies Are Offered For Those Women Who Really Cater To Their Families' Tastes. Each Recipe Offered is Practical and Economical.

PREPARED BY EXPERTS

(Esther Dell.)

The housewife is not unlike the thrifty squirrel.

Like that little animal, which gathers its supply of winter foods in the summer and fall and tucks it away for winter use, so the housewife, if she is a real housewife, prepares in summer many of the things which are to supply her family breakfast, dinner and supper table with delicacies during the winter season.

The matter of decision is one that troubles a great many housekeepers, however. In mid-summer there are so many good things produced on the vines, trees and bushes that it is difficult to decide just which ones of the many temptations it is best to yield to.

The tastes of the individual members of the family must be considered, as well as the original cost of the foodstuff to be laid away in summer for winter use. Then again the cost of preserving the foodstuff is a big item, which in the days of high living costs, demands particular attention.

It is with all of these things in mind that I am this week making a few suggestions which I believe may help the housewife. We all want "something different" if we can get it. We have grown tired of the old fashioned canned peaches, the toothsome preserved pears and the ever popular jam and preserves. If we can have these and in addition a few delicacies that are "really different," we have done a great thing for those who will be called upon to feed next winter.

It is with the idea of our having this "something different" that I am making my suggestions this week.

CONCORDIA BARLE DUE is delicious. Use any amount of currants you desire. Weigh one on-half to three-fourths as much sugar as currants. Wash the currants carefully and place in a pan with enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. Bring to the boil; then add one-half of the sugar. Boil 10 minutes, add the rest of the sugar, and boil half an hour. Pour into clean, hot, sterilized pint or half-pint jars. Allow to set thoroughly and cover with paraffin. This bar-le-due with cream cheese is unequalled when served with lettuce or endive salad. I usually make two, three or more lots of it, adding half a dozen cloves and half a teaspoonful of cinnamon to some or boiling with it a gauge bag of mixed spices and three or four tablespoonfuls of vinegar, making SPICED BARLE DUE.

CHERRY and PINEAPPLE MARMALADE produces a new and fine combination. Measure out four quarts of pitted cherries. Shred a medium-sized pineapple. Weigh the fruit together and allow an equal amount of sugar. Boil the fruit and sugar together for three quarters of an hour after it has reached the boiling point. Allow the marmalade to set in the sun for a day, covered with cheesecloth. Then pour into glasses and seal with paraffin.

WATERMELON MARBLES furnishes one of the prettiest of preserves and, although a canned product, are so rich and different from ordinary canned fruit that they may be included among jams. In making them use the firm but pink part of the melon cut into little balls with a potato scoop. Soak these overnight in weak alum water, allowing one ounce of alum to a gallon of water. Pour off the water in the morning. Weigh the fruit and allow three-fourths as much sugar as fruit, one thinly sliced lemon, with the slices quartered, to each pound of fruit, and one ounce of ginger root to every three pounds of fruit. Bring to a boil slowly and add more water if there is not enough sirup to cover the fruit. Cook until clear; if there is too much sirup, remove the fruit and boil down the sirup until richer. Return the fruit, bring to a boil, and can in pint jars.

RASPBERRY JELLY has a delicious flavor. Cut up apples, after washing them. Do not pare or core. Just cover with cold water, bring to a boil, and cook until apples are very tender and can be mashed easily. Drain through a jelly bag. To the apple juice add any amount of raspberry juice as a flavor. Measure the juice, then boil hard 20 minutes, skimming often. Allow three-fourths measure of sugar to the original measure of juice. Heat the sugar slightly in the even and add to the juice after it has been boiled for 20 minutes. Boil five minutes longer, or until it gellies.

MINT JELLY is necessary to a complete pantry. Cut up the apples, first washing and removing the blossom end. Do not pare or core. Cover with cold water and boil to a mush. Drain through a jelly bag and allow to stand overnight. Next morning measure the juice and add one rose geranium leaf to each quart of juice, a sprig of mint, and a sprig of lemon balm. Allow three-fourths measure of sugar to the original measure of juice. Heat the sugar slightly in the even and add to the juice after it has been boiled 20 minutes. Boil five minutes longer after the sugar has been added, or until it gellies. Add a bit of green coloring. Pour into sterilized glasses and allow to set thoroughly before covering with paraffin.

QUICK BLACKBERRY JAM, measure one quart of blackberries. Place MORE MORE in a pan with about one-fourth cupful of water, boil until the berries are soft, then add sugar to taste and a grating of orange peel well broken about 15 minutes, and thicken until of the consistency of real jam with one tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little cold water. Boil two or three minutes more. This jam will not keep long, but is delicious for immediate use. Serve with breakfast cereals with cream.

RHUBARB CONSERVE is made as follows and is delicious: Combine three cupfuls of chopped rhubarb, one large pineapple also chopped, the juice and rind of one lemon and one orange, and five cupfuls of sugar. Place in a kettle and simmer gently for one hour, then pour into sterilized glasses and allow to set thoroughly before pouring on the paraffin.

GRAPE NUGGETS are a tasty jam to serve with meats. When wild grapes are fully grown but green and crisp, halve and seed them. Weigh all three-fourths as much sugar, and boil 35 minutes. Then pour into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin. The product should jelly, but the little half spheres should be plainly apparent.

I ask my readers to bear in mind that all of the recipes given here are not of my own making. I have sought out among the best and highest authorities to find recipes which may be readily applied to this section—that is, I have tried to suggest possible things.

Many recipes given for publication are not adapted to the fruits and vegetables grown in that particular section of the country where they are published and for this reason are practically valueless to many of their readers.

It is my intention to talk about practical things, and by that I mean, things that it is possible and practical for NEWS readers to get and to do.

POETRY FOR THE GROWING CHILD

By Grace Hyde Triak.

Every normal child possesses an instinctive love of beauty. It is seen in the trembling eagerness of the babe to grasp in his tiny hands the daisy or daffodil. If, in his joy, he tears and destroys the fragile thing, it is only because of ignorance and inexperience and if wisely taught, he soon learns that destruction always brings, as its result, unhappiness and regret.

Later, as he begins to toddle about, the child will bring his mother bits of bright cloth or paper, pebbles or shells. If older eyes could see what the child beholds in these apparently insignificant things what wonders would be spread before them!

In the winter time, if the mother is wise and sympathetic, the child will show her his wonderful discovery of snow and frost crystals or the mystery of ice forming on a stream with the shadowy water slipping beneath it. To be able to see with the eyes of a child is indeed a privilege!

The poet Wordsworth has said "Heaven lies about us in our infancy." How is it we can lose it if we once possessed the secret of its ownership? How can we be enabled to hold, through all the years, the gift with which a wise and loving Father endowed us?

Much depends upon the mother and later upon the teachers of the child. If the inborn love of beauty is wisely fostered and cultivated and the field of observation continually expanded until the trees, the mountains, the sunsets, the clouds and the stars are loved as familiar companions a bulwark will gradually be built up against the disillusionments of life.

One way in which this may be done is to bring to the child's attention bits of verse and poetry in which are expressed sentiments akin to his own or which may arouse in him an interest and kindle his imagination. For example, this bit of verse by an unknown author will appeal to the imagination of a tiny child and be at the same time a splendid lesson.

A Grown up Flower.

Little Apple Blossom, when a baby small,
In a tiny cradle up posted out first of all.

Older grown she used to wear a snowy gown.

Trained with roses pale and pink, running up and down.

All her prettyinery she has laid away.

You will find her, if you hunt, in her workaday dress.

Making you an apple for next winter-time, I guess.

There are literally thousands of nature poems from the simple "Song of the Flower" to the profound "Brooks to such poems" of philosophy, insight and grandeur as Bryant's "Thanatopsis." Also this "Anticipation of Immortality" and Tennyson's "Flowers and a rammed Wall." If the child has a love the simpler things he will continue to love them as long as he lives and he will add to these, as he grows older, a host of others to carry the love of beauty through the years and to add to his courage and strength in life's battle.

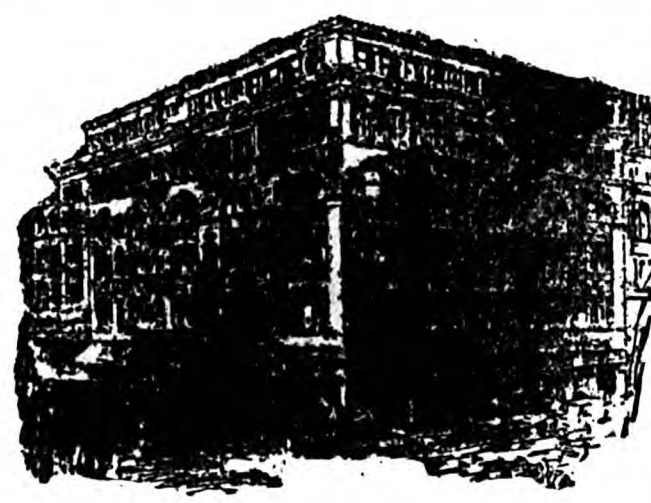

The following list of helpful books may be found in most public libraries. "Children's Treasury of Lyrical Poetry," "A Child's Garden of Verses," by Robert Louis Stevenson; "Children's First Book of Poetry."

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN DORCHESTER CO.

Cambridge is to have a new manufacturing plant, which will employ about 25 men. It is to be known as The Cambridge Mechanical Toy Co., and will be located at the Woolford & Smith factory on High street. The capital stock of this new company is $25,000, and it will manufacture patented mechanical toys. Upon good authority, it has been stated that the entire fall output has been sold up to January 1st, 1921.

Hundreds of baskets of tomatoes are now rotting in the fields in this county with the market around 20 and 25 cents. Very few tomatoes are moving at these prices, as most farmers say that it costs them 40 cents to grow and deliver tomatoes to a cannery. At this time it looks as though the crop will be short in this section. With rainfall every day recently and hot sun following, the vines are fast going to pieces.

The entire community was shocked with grief when the fact became known of the sudden death of Mrs. Frank H. Phillips of Cambridge, Saturday morning. About one o'clock Saturday morning Mrs. Phillips attempted to close her bedroom window when she lost her balance and fell to the ground. From the injuries she sustained she died about three hours thereafter.

THE VOGUE SHOP SERVICE MEANS PROPER CLEANING

The clothing problem means a lot of worry these days. People have less money to spend for clothes and they get less clothes for their money. Three years ago you could buy three suits for what you now pay for one. Yet, listen! how seldom is it that you actually wear out your old clothes? Do you call a garment worn out when it begins to look shabby because it's faded or soiled? If you could put the original color back into the fabric or take out the soil marks you would have several years more use of the article. That's just what the VOGUE SHOP is doing. Helping you to fight the H. C. L. by making your old clothes look like new. Proper cleaning of wearing apparel at regular intervals is the most intelligent economy one can practice. Remember our work is cleaning, pressing, and dyeing and we can give you the very best service obtainable in these lines. We have special machinery to take care of your Palm Beach and Cool Cloth suits. Look through your summer wardrobe and call 1124. We will be glad to help and serve you.

COMMUNICATED

Editor The News:

Let no one get the impression that the Clara school trouble has been solved and that the hearing before the School board last week has settled the whole matter and brought out a happy solution of the whole affair as was intimated in the article appearing in THE NEWS last week.

I would to God that such were the case for this school wrangle is tearing Trinity community to pieces. For men who claim to be good citizens stoop to the old political quagmire of bribery and pecuniary pressure to swell the forces to over come their opponents. Let me agree with all the fervor of my heart that any advantage so gained will prove a millstone about the necks of those who resort to such trickery, for truth with triumph and right shall prevail. Far be it from me to say anything to keep this old broil in motion, but we realize it is more than a one man job to bring about harmony and good will between the two factions at Clara and now that White Haven has openly entered the fight I fear there may be bitter feeling engendered between these two communities and it will take the energetic and united effort of the unselfish and loyal citizens of Clara and White Haven to stay the red hand that glories in the chaos.

It is as plain as the nose on your face that the School Board has created a situation at Clara in closing that school over which they have no control and after a two years' trial of trying to merge the two schools have absolutely failed in make it a success. I know the School Board is consolidating itself of the wisdom of this consolidation from the fact that the last hearing sustained their first judgment—but the fact that only a few of the children of Clara attended the school at White Haven proved to the contrary. About the only argument put forth to prove the operation successful is the mere fact that the school wagon succeeded in making the daily trips, but we can never call it a success until all of the children are attending the school at White Haven with at least the consent of a majority of the parents at Clara and the mere fact that this school wagon did succeed in carrying less than half of the children from Clara is no reason for anyone to believe our road conditions are improving.

Some one expressed surprise at the hearing before the board last week of no mention being made about this road over which this school wagon has travelled. Those roads have been such a long time with us that we venture to say they are abundantly able to speak for themselves, and I will wager a new hat that neither member of the school board can travel over this school route when the roads are at their best for a winter seige without the assistance of a willing pair of mules. If any should doubt this statement I would refer them to Mr. Bennett for further proof. I am sure he will uphold me in the statement. Now before we leave this road question let us bear in mind the fact that this school wagon did succeed in pulling over those bad roads for two years, why that is no great feat. Surely we who have lived down here in this quagmire of mud would be poor specimens of humanity had we not found a way to adapt ourselves to our surroundings. Man is wonderfully made, so we manage somehow to keep up locomotion though oft times at a very slow pace. Now the school wagon did succeed in pulling over the road. So did the old log cart with the ox team and they were about evenly matched in speed when the roads were bad. But don't make the mistake, dear reader, that I am offering any comparison with the famous yoke of steers that we heard of at the hearing before the Board of Education two years ago which was referred to with pride by the owner and justly so—they being so fleet of hoof and possessed with marvelous strength also. My how they did clip off the miles in making the trip over this school route.

The old Arab with his express of the desert, the camel, had nothing on these steers.

Now the writer is frank to admit our school commissioners are far more liberal and reasonable in their attitude toward the folks at Clara who are contending for their home school to be opened than they were two years ago. We all know at that time the school board practically cracked the whip of authority about the ears of the school patrons who opposed the consolidation and it looked at one time the courts would have to settle the matter, but for some reason the board got cold feet, threw up the sponge and as expressed to the writer by one of the commissioners, let the children grow up in ignorance if their parents are not interested. Now it is different.

Mr. Miller emphatically and earnestly made the statement in behalf of the board that the children would be carried comfortably if it required two wagons, and he further expressed the hope of being able to induce the county commissioners to build a road on this route. Well, I heartily say Amen, to this. But don't let us put the cart before the horse. We cannot afford to make the attempt to put 30 pupils in the present wagon which has less than 24 feet of seating capacity. Is it well to suggest that to be tried for one year? What is a child worth? Would any man experiment with the life and health of a child? God forbid.

Now is is no use to talk about this school matter. Something has got to be done. It is the doing that will solve the problem, not talk. There are concessions to be made on both sides. That will put us to doing something. Let the energetic exponent of consolidation at Clara stand shoulder to shoulder with the struggling few who are trying to keep the spiritual life at Clara alive. Cease to boycott the Divine institution in your own community, a conduct that will damn your own soul—and let me persuade you parents at Clara who are fighting for a home school, make the sacrifice, if such it be, in so doing you will win a crown. Let there be confidence in the Board of Education. Put them on their honor and then there will be harmony and peace for without it nothing can succeed. And when some of us drop out and pass over the Jordan we will expectantly look for your coming and greet you with the happy welcome, All Hail, All Hail.

J. R. ROBERTSON.

ODD FELLOWS WANT HOME IN MARYLAND

Grand Master Etchison Appeals To Salisbury Members To Do Part To Aid Aged and Orphans.

With Maryland, and particularly Baltimore, the birthplace of American Odd Fellowship, over a century ago, it seems only proper and fitting that there should be a home for the orphans and aged members in this state. Founded by Thomas Wibley, April 26, 1819, with but five members, the order now boasts of over 3,000,000 Odd Fellows in this country, with 35 orphans and aged homes in 40 jurisdictions, but none in the nation's birthplace, Maryland. An appeal has been sent out by Grand Master H. Dorsy Etchison, of Frederick, through Grand Secretary William A. Jones, of Baltimore, calling upon every lodge and member in Maryland to rally to the campaign for a fund of $100,000 for the erection of a home in this state. The letter says in part:

"Odd Fellowship, in its century of work, has responded to every appeal of national disaster and distress. Its heart has always beaten in sympathy with those who needed its aid and support, and its resources have always been at the command of the destitute.

"Therefore, what a wonderful work 24,000 Maryland Odd Fellows and Rebekahs can do if their hearts beat in accord with the principles of the order and for the cause of an Odd Fellows' home.

"We believe that, if every Odd Fellow answers this worthy appeal, the amount asked will be oversubscribed before the end of the year."

Salisbury Odd Fellows are intensely interested in this home proposition, and expect to be among the leaders in the matter of securing this fund, because it is for the whole state, and members of this community want a part in the undertaking which will provide a home for their orphans or their aged brothers.

Nursing Scholarships Given.

An appropriation of $4.00 to make available four additional scholarships for nurses taking a special course in public health nursing given by Kings College, London, has been made by the American Red Cross. Students taking this course will represent 14 member nations of the League of Red Cross societies and upon its completion will return to their native lands to instruct others in the profession, virtually unknown in many countries.

The Thanks of a Mother.

Because the American Red Cross was instrumental in putting her son discharged from the army, a New York mother, despite the impoverished condition of the family, borrowed money with which to make a gift to the organization that aided her. Shortly after the boy's return, the mother appeared at the Red Cross with $30 which she insisted upon being accepted. Investigation showed that she had borrowed the money. All but $1 for a membership was returned to her.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach trouble, biliousness and constipation off and on for the past ten year. I have never seen their equal yet. They strengthened my digestion, relieved me of headaches and had a mild pleasant action on my bowels. I take pleasure in recommending them," writes H. D. F. Parmenter, Cridersville, Ohio.—Adv.

SOME OBSERVATIONS OF THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Digging Among the Mouldy Records
Old Presbyterian Churches of Peninsula Reveals Interesting Facts.

Considerable research work among the Presbyterian churches of lower Delaware and portions of the Eastern Shore of Maryland by a lady who is now directing her attention to the old Presbyterian church at Lewis. She has already visited several other churches. She is compiling all obtainable data regarding the Presbyterian church. It is her purpose to put into book form historically the life of the church from its first entry into America. She has visited all the principal Presbyterian churches north and is making a tour of Delaware. At Lewis she claims to have had the oldest authentic records exhibited to her of any yet seen in other churches, those in the church of Rev. I. Mench Chambers. She has made excerpts from records shown her by Mr. Chambers, dating as far back as 1700. The pages crumple and fall apart as they are turned and loose particles are lost as dust in the air. She claims these records are priceless, and that the Historical Society of the Presbyterian church would pay well for them. She copied such passages as "I tried so and so today," signed by the minister in 1700. The book is a diary of every day's event to the present time. She claims that as Lewis was founded in 1623, there were no graveyards, nor streets, through which a body could be conveyed for burial, only trails existing, and that there are on plantations in lower Delaware tombstones of the sixteenth century covered with earth, where each family buried its dead in the family homestead. If unearthed they would make interesting reading. This woman will visit all the Presbyterian churches in Delaware after leaving Lewis. No one is finishing her work, but the lady spends several weeks a month gathering data, and at other times putting it into manuscript. She does not care to make known her name, as it is claimed by her that she is not given the same aid and accorded interviews when it is said her work is from a monetary standpoint, whereas it is simply a fad and the result of her labors will be put into book form for the church and public.

All research work will no doubt be continued to include the historic Presbyterian churches in Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester counties, for no history of Presbyterianism would be complete which did not embrace old Rockawalkin, Rehoboth and Makemie churches. Vast stories of historic events transpiring away back in the seventeen hundreds can be unearthed at these old churches—events which link the past with the present.

Annually use these tablets of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to build up blood, strength and endurance.

Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner says: "There are thousands whose bodies are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect health which carries defiance to disease simply because they are not awake to the condition of their blood. By allowing it to remain thin, pale and watery they are not giving the natural life forces of the body a chance to do their work. Iron is red blood food and in my experience I have found no better means for building the red blood corpuscles and helping to give increased power to the blood than organic iron—Nuxated Iron." Nuxated Iron comes in tablet form only and does not contain any ordinary metallic iron but only the finest quality of predigested organic iron which is easily assimilated by the blood.

DOINGS OF THE COMMERCE CHAMBER

Appointment by president of seven vice-presidents who also act as chairmen of the following committees: Publicity, merchants, manufacture, financial, civic improvement, transportation and agriculture.

Publicity committee—H. W. Carty, chairman, has held one meeting at which plans were discussed with reference to the big convention to be held in Salisbury November 9, 10, 11. The committee has already sent out 5,000 full page posters to every county farm agent who have been requested by this Chamber and by Dr. Thomas Symons to properly dispose of them at fairs, etc. The committee is planning and gathering together necessary information for a real publicity drive.

The Merchants' committee—L. L. Benjamin, chairman, has not yet had a meeting, but the chairman and secretary are working on plans for a drive to promote buying in Salisbury. This work will be taken up early in the fall. Acting along this line the Chamber has caused to be printed 1,000 posters to be distributed at the Salisbury fair.

Manufacturers' committee—Oscar L. Morris, chairman, has held one meeting at which plans were discussed looking toward the protecting of our cucumber crop by securing a pickle factory for Salisbury. Information is being secured along that line.

The Financial committee—L. L. Price, chairman, is working on the securing of necessary funds to pay the legitimate expense connected with the November convention.

The Civic Improvement committee—L. W. Ganby, chairman, has before it the proposition of securing state construction of pavement on West Main street and East Church street, as it is being done by the state in other cities.

Transportation committee—T. L. Ruark, chairman, has not had a meeting, but Mr. Ruark has given of his time and knowledge to several transportation problems, and this has been a decided help.

Agricultural committee—W. F. Allen, chairman, has had a number of meetings and has put into successful operation an auction block, which has handled the cucumber and cantaloupe sales. It has resulted in creating a continuous demand for Salisbury cucumbers from pleased purchasers. As late as August 12, cucumbers were shipped in car load lots. The cantaloupe market had an average of $2.00 for a longer period than any previous year.

The president, F. P. Adkins, has been present at the regular monthly meetings and attended all of the various committee meetings and consultations, a total of 10 meetings.

The rooms of the Chamber of Commerce have been used on eight occasions by various groups who had before them propositions looking toward the improvement of the financial, moral and social conditions of Salisbury.

The Chamber, through its secretary, has Answered 64 letters of inquiry.

Established the plan of investigating foreign advertising and soliciting. This already has resulted in four investigations and the departure from the city of five other parties who did not care to be investigated. Three more are now under investigation.

Assisted in circulating a petition for stores to be closed at five o'clock.

The housing and other numerous detail plans to take care of the 1,000 people here in November are being blocked out. This will be the largest undertaking Salisbury has yet had in a convention way.

Designs and prices have been secured for "Welcome to Salisbury" road signs. Applications for membership have been received from Orlando Harrison, of Berlin, and L. W. Insley, of Salisbury.

The treasurer, Henry Rusk, is devoting much of his valuable time to the receiving and disbursement of the Chamber funds. It is to be hoped that no unnecessary labor will be placed upon him by delay in the payment of membership dues.

Many members have returned the memorandum blanks with their suggestions as to the progress of work. It is hoped that every member will not fail to furnish the Chamber with their good suggestions as to what the Chamber should give its attention. These will be compiled and submitted to the Chamber at an early date. The work already accomplished; that which is now being planned and the information being gathered seems to justify the statement that the Chamber of Commerce of Salisbury is making progress. Its ultimate achievements rest upon the continuance of the fine co-operative spirit thus far displayed by every member.

BRIEF HAPPENINGS IN WORCESTER CO.

Charles Snyder was badly scalded last week at the flour mill owned by Thomas P. Selby, in Snow Hill. Mr. Snyder was walking along outside of the building and stepping back to let a cart pass he plunged his leg knee deep into an unprotected barrel of boiling water.

A remarkable thing occurred last Wednesday morning when the Whittcoat M. E. church, of Snow Hill, was struck by lightning twice within the space of a half hour. Both bolts struck exactly the same spot which certainly disproves the old adage that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place."

The State Roads commission has approved the recommendation of the County Commissioners that three Worcester county highways connecting with the state roads system be improved as lateral roads under the new system. The roads are DuPont Boulevard connection at Berlin, 3.6 miles; Snow Hill-Stockton, 2 miles; Pocomoke-Stockton, 2 miles.

Edward Minos Timmons died at his home in Berlin Thursday. He was about 75 years old. In his younger days he was a conductor on the Wicomico and Pocomoke railroad, and was one of the first railroad men to run between Snow Hill and Lewes.

On Thursday the racing at the Pocomoke fair was specially good, in the free-for-all pace, Lady Gramarye, owned by Chas. Mowbray, of Goshen, N. Y., broke the track racing record, in 2:09 1/2. The fourth heat of the same race was also the fastest heat ever raced on the Pocomoke track.

THREE TOMATOES WEIGH FOUR AND A HALF POUNDS

Dr. George Jarman read in THE NEWS last week of three tomatoes grown on Delight farm which weighed three and a half pounds, and he went there one better on Friday when he brought into THE NEWS office three tomatoes grown on his place near Allen, which weighed four and a half pounds. These are the biggest tomatoes seen in this section of the country in a long time. So far, Mrs. Shadburn, of Delight farm, and Dr. Jarman, of Allen, are the champion big tomato growers of Wicomico county.

knew nothing of telephones, watches, automobiles—the many aids to comfort with which science has gifted us.

Of course, new knowledge means the discarding of old methods. For instance, castor oil, pills, mineral waters, etc., were the best science had to offer until the advent of Nujol. They irritated and caused unnatural action, frequently ending by making constipation chronic.

Of recent years the Nujol method has been found by medical science to be the safe and effective means of treating constipation.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel movements at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 40 Broadway, New York for booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger".

in preparation for the sowing of wheat, which will take place in a short while. The wheat crop this year was such an enormous one, yielding in some cases more than 85 bushels per acre, and the price realized per bushel being in many cases nearly $3, the farmers have decided that wheat is worth growing after all.

The annual homecoming celebration of Ocean View, in the southern part of Sussex county, was observed Wednesday and Thursday. Hundreds of persons were in attendance for the celebration from different sections of lower Delaware, New York city, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington and other cities, who were former residents of that section.

Residents of lower Delaware observed "Big Thursday" at the different resorts. A crowd estimated to number between 2,000 and 3,000 were at Oak Orchard, on the Indian river, and the gathering was one of the largest in the history of the place. Large crowds went to Rehoboth, Broadkill, Slaughter and Lewes beaches for the day. The politicians flocked to Oak Orchard.

A dispatch from Milford says: "Last week, Garrett L. Hynson, a former member of the House of Representatives of the Delaware legislature, celebrated his 91st birthday anniversary. John L. Herring, Sr., is still hale and hearty and able to walk around quite briskly, although he is 94 years old. Mrs. Hester Ann MacCaulley Marshall, widow of Dr. William Marshall, is quite active at 90 years of age, and two of her best friends, Mrs. Margaret Aldred and Mrs. Elizabeth Williams are both over 90. Dr. George L. Reed, who died about a month ago, was quite active within a few days of his death, which occurred just after he had passed his 92d birthday. There are about a dozen persons here who have passed their 80th birthday, some by several years, and all are in fine health.

FARMERS SHOULD HAVE AID OF BRNKS and Experiment station, Delaware State college.

Deau McCue said many young men who have all the natural qualifications to become good farmers are kept from that field of endeavor because as young men, just starting in life, they have not the funds necessary to begin farming along lines that will lead to success. Of course as young men they may enter the employ of some other farmer already established in business, but you all know how much of an incentive wages paid to farmers' help is. These boys would become farmers and good farmers if they had the right kind of financial backing. They do not ask to be given anything. They haven't any security but their good names, their good intentions and their knowledge of farming. They ask for nothing but a loan—and being unable to obtain this, the country loses each and every year, many good men from its fields of agricultural endeavor.

AMERICAN WOMEN ENTITLED TO VOTE

Tennessee Ratifies Suffrage Amendment on Wednesday. Completes Required Number of States.

The Tennessee state legislature has ratified the suffrage amendment to the United States constitution at last, giving the voting franchise to 27,000,000 women of the country.

The House of Representatives in Nashville ratified the amendment on Wednesday by a vote of 49 to 47. The Senate had previously ratified it by a vote of 25 to 4.

As with all constitutional amendments, the suffrage measure, after its adoption by congress, had to be ratified by the legislatures of 36 states before it could become operative. Tennessee was the 36th state to ratify.

Opponents to the ratification succeeded in having recognized, a motion to table the measure. This was lost by a tie vote, 48 to 48.

A roll call on the adoption of the ratification resolution was then ordered and the vote was 49 in favor and 47 opposed.

The balconies in the House chamber were filled with suffragists and anti-suffragist workers.

As soon as the vote was announced, there was a great demonstration among the suffragists. They cheered and laughed and sang and clapped their hands and in every possible way demonstrated their joy because of the victory they had won.

The anti-suffragists, it is reported, left the Chamber amid gloom.

In North Carolina where the suffrage amendment has been fought for and against by the opposing factions, the state senate voted on Tuesday to lay the matter over until the next session. It was declared on Wednesday that great pressure was being brought to bear by both pro and anti-suffragist leaders to have the senate rescind that action and decide the issue this week.

Whether or not North Carolina acts favorably on the ratification measure will make no difference in the status of the amendment since Tennessee has already ratified.

The women of the country are now enfranchised voters.

All women of 21 years of age or older who qualify under the residence and other regulations applicable to male voters, will be entitled to register for voting at the next regular registration period, which will be on September 21.

MARYLAND'S FRUIT CROP UP TO PAR

Peaches and Apples Bring Good Prices Which Are Governed By Kind and Grades of Fruit.

The August 15th fruit crop report, as issued by S. B. Shaw, secretary of the Maryland horticultural society in co-operation with the Extension Service of the University of Maryland and the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, indicates that from present prospects the commercial crop of Maryland's apples will be 433,000 barrels. Indications point to 75 per cent of a crop as compared with the ten year average of 62 per cent. The only section of the state which has not shown an increase over the July 15th condition is District No. 6, comprising Queen Anne, Caroline, Talbot and Dorchester counties, where there appears to be a decrease of 13.3 per cent from last month's estimate.

From reports which have been received from individuals in different counties, York Imperials, Ben Davis and Grimes Golden seem to be leading in the point of production. In some few sections a small amount of injury has resulted from local hail storms, but in general prospects are excellent for a good crop.

There does not seem to be so much evidence of scab or other trouble this year as last. In most of the orchards, these troubles have been held pretty well in check by proper cultural methods.

The prospect for peaches is 70 per cent of a crop as compared with the ten year average of 62 per cent. This means that from present estimates there will be 857,000 bushels of peaches produced as a commercial crop. In some sections fruit has been damaged by brown rot and dry weather conditions, but in orchards which have been thoroughly sprayed and carefully cultivated crops are developing nicely.

There has been some considerable variation in the prices received in different sections and for different varieties. Some orchardists report that they have received an average of $3 per bushel for their early apples and that they have already sold their peach crop for from $3.50 to $4.50 per six basket carrier f. o. b. railroad station. In other sections, reports show that peaches have been bringing from $1.25 to $1.50 for 14 quart basket. Other sections indicate peaches have sold from $1.75 to $2.25 per bushel f. o. b. shipping point; depending upon the kind, condition and grade of fruit.

Reports from other sections of the country indicate that Maryland is not behind in prospects for this year's crop of fruit.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the family system tonic. Price $1.25. Adv.

NEWS OF THE PEOPLE OF SOMERSET COUNTY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Boek left Princess Anne Wednesday for the White Mountains. They will stop at The Alpine, in Bethlehem, New Hampshire, and will not return to Princess Anne until October 1st.

The Census bureau in a report issued last Thursday announced that the 1920 enumeration gave Somerset county a population of 24,602, which is a decrease of 1,853, or 7 per cent, from the 1910 figures.

The following real estate sales were made in this county last week: W. T. Pilchard, of Pocomoke City, sold 80 acres, east of Princess Anne, to Charles Rounds and Trigg Peterman for $8,800; Maurice Berre sold the farm known as the "Vernie Jones farm," on Wicomico creek, containing 170 acres, to Lewis Pusey for $11,500; Sidney Miller sold the 70 acres lying between the stone road and the railroad to Mace Smith for $15,000; J. E. Moore sold his home on Somerset Heights to William Kallmeyer for $5,000; John Muir home with two lots on Somerset Heights to Annie Linne, of Minnesota, for $2,500.

SALISBURY POPULATION IS 7,502, A GAIN OF 812

The population of Salisbury was made public on Tuesday by the Census bureau. This is given as 7,502, as against 6,690 in 1910 and 4,277 in 1900. The increase in the past 10 years was 812, or 12.1 per cent.

Population of the civil divisions of Somerset county also was made public, the total county population of 24,602 having been announced two weeks ago. The population of the two incorporated towns in the county was also given out. That for Crisfield is 4,116, as against 3,568 in 1910, and that for Princess Anne is 968, as against 1,006 in 1910.

Legion Remembers Nurse.

The Medina, Ohio, post of the American Legion has given an automobile to the American Red Cross public health nurse. This practical tribute to the nurse is a health gift to the entire countryside for it means more visits to the sick, more clinics and the promotion of additional public health projects.

Gives Scales to Schools.

The gift of 78 specially constructed scales to the public schools of Ramsey county, Minnesota, by the St. Paul members of the Junior Red Cross has proved of great value to the school nurses who weigh and measure the children at least twice a year in the interest of improved health. The scales, rather more costly than usual, have many novel features which greatly facilitate the work of the school nurse.

VACATION DAYS.

These are the days when all classes of workers are returning from or are arranging to take their vacations. People from the country are taking a little sojourn in the cities, and city dwellers are getting away to the country for their annual "much needed rest." The seashore and the mountains beckon, and the trout streams and breakers call for some one to enjoy them.

There is nothing like rest and recreation to give one a renewed capacity and appetite for work.

Every man owes it to himself, and every employer owes it to those under him to see that physical efficiency is safeguarded. As a personal asset abundant health is a luxury, as a business asset it is a necessity. As sleep daily "knits up the raveled sleeve of care," vacations annually repair the frayed nerves and strengthen the bodies tired from a year's work. Make your vacation a time of rest and recuperation. Find some new interests, see new places, and cultivate new friendships, as well as renew the old ones, during your vacation. Novelty is a mental tonic. The man who, like the Greeks of old, seeks ever something new, is in small danger of "going stale" in either mind or body.

If you must forfeit your plans for getting away, or happen to be one of the few men and many women to whom vacations come seldom, if ever; if the limits of your purse or time prevent your going far or seeing much during vacation days, you can find a very effective substitute for travel in reading. You can wander around the world by means of the printed page. You can visit strange lands and sail the waters of unknown seas. Such magazines as the National Geographic and Travel are fine additions to a home vacation outfit. The works of Joseph Conrad or Stevenson introduce the reader to fine adventurous characters, scholars, gentlemen and soldiers of fortune in fantastic lands with palm shadowed coasts. These are good vacation companions and fine fellows to know and cultivate at any time. You can take a very satisfactory vacation by this method, and never leave the comfortable hammock on your front porch.

THE VACATION PERIOD.

Never before, perhaps, in the history of this country have so many people taken advantage of vacations as are doing this summer. Reports from summer resorts, seashore, mountains, camps, etc., indicate that the army of vacationists is vastly larger than ever before in all the history of summer outings, and the fact that the summer holiday people are spending tremendous sums of money goes to establish the claim that Americans today are spend-thrifts. The greatest demand—and one that has exhausted the supply—is for hotel accommodations at rates which ten years ago would have been considered beyond even the limits of a Rockefeller. Fifty and a hundred dollars a day for two or three rooms is not considered as being even unreasonable, while a dinner under ten or fifteen dollars would be a very modest meal these days, even when there are no wines charged on the check.

Despite the excessive prices demanded everywhere, all the resorts are crowded, the hotels worthy of the name turning away applicants. The crowded condition is reported from one end of the country to the other, and notwithstanding the great increase in hotel accommodations, they cannot begin to meet the summer needs. Everybody seems to have plenty of money and are spending it lavishly for all kinds of trips and amusements.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Lavinia R. Bradford vs. Charles Baker. No. 2761 Chancery. In the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland. In Equity.

The object of the bill filed in the above entitled cause is to obtain a decree for the sale of a tract of land situate in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, of which Siles D. Baker died seized and possessed, and a division of the proceeds arising from such sale amongst the parties as their interest may appear.

The bill alleges in substance that in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen, Siles D. Baker died intestate, being seized and possessed of a tract of land in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, which he obtained by purchase from Ebenezer G. Davis and containing about three and three-fourths (3 3/4) acres. And the said Siles D. Baker left as his heirs at law Mary E. Baker, his wife, who has since died, and Lavinia R. Bradford, a daughter, and the defendant, Charles Baker, a grandson, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon ordered this 31st day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in Equity, that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Wicomico County and State of Maryland, in each issue for four successive weeks before the 31st day of August, 1920, give notice to the said non-resident defendant, Charles Baker, of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 15th day of September next, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

SUGAR HAS TAKEN A TUMBLE.

Sugar has taken a big drop in the large cities and we presume it will not be long before this section will feel the lower cost of refined sugars. Refined sugar dropped to the lowest price wholesale in many months when the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company offered through brokers, Thursday, the best grade of sugar at 17 cents a pound, less two per cent. for cash. Almost at the same time came the announcement from the largest sugar refining company in New York that the same wholesale price prevailed there. Although reticent to speak at length about the probable continued drop in the price of sugar, both sugar refinery officials and brokers declared optimistically that the "stone has not yet reached the bottom of the well."

Another material drop is prophesied within a few days, according to men who have intimate knowledge of the sugar situation. The prophesy, they claim, is based on the fact that for the past three weeks there have been many more sellers than buyers in the local sugar market.

Asked why this condition prevailed, one of the officials of the McCahan Sugar Refining company declared that it was the result of the tremendous importation of foreign sugar into the United States during the time prices were soaring in this country. No matter what theories are advanced, men prominent in the local sugar world are firm in their belief that sugar will steadily drop to normal.

In the grocery department of a large Philadelphia department store Thursday, crowds gathered around huge piles of sacked sugar which is being sold for 19 cents a pound. Unlimited quantities were sold to each purchaser with the understanding that the sugar was to be delivered to the home. This sale, which marks the beginning of a "new era" in the retail sugar trade, according to experts, will continue for several weeks.

TWELVE MILLION WAR ORPHANS.

Twelve million children in Europe lost one or both parents during the war, it is shown by compilations gathered by representatives of the American Red Cross in eighteen countries. Russia leads with four million such children, Germany follows with three million, and France has one million. Albania is last on the list with 17,000.

GOVERNMENTAL COST HIGH IN MARYLAND.

Although the census for 1910 showed Maryland ranking 29th in population, figures made public by the Census bureau showed that in 1919 only 17 states paid a greater amount of governmental costs. When the per capita cost of running the state is considered only 13 states paid at a higher rate than Maryland.

The figures show the total governmental cost in Maryland as $11,642,239 and the total governmental cost for each person in the state as $8.43. The cost of maintaining the general departments in the state was given as $9,242,321. In the total amounts expended for interest Maryland ranked fifth, with a total of $1,073,422. In the burden which the payment for interest put upon every person in the state, Maryland ranked second, with a total of 78 cents. New York alone exceeded this amount.

These are some of the outstanding comparisons as to the cost of government in Maryland. What population rank the state will have for the census of 1920 has not yet been made known, but it is not felt that it will better its 1910 position.

It is to be noted, however, that considerable of the cost of government in Maryland is attributed to maintenance and building of highways. In this particular the state ranks tenth.

Some of the comparisons of Maryland with other states follow:

Revenue from total taxes: State's lands twentieth with total of $10,880,979.

In taxes designated as tax on business; rank twelfth with total of $2,780,052.

In general property tax; ranks twentieth with total of $3,868,472.

In the excess of governmental cost over the total revenues and receipts; ranks sixth with total of $761,260. In the majority of the states there is no deficit as shown in Maryland, usually the total governmental cost payments being less than the total revenues and receipts.

In the per capita for total governmental cost, Maryland ranks fourteenth with total of $8.43. Analyzed, this total cost shows the state ranking second in cost to each person for interest paid on state debt and fourth in the amount the cost of government exceeded the total revenues and receipts for each person, the total being 55 cents.

GOVERNOR COX STANDS FOR PRESENT-DAY SPIRIT OF PROGRESSIVENESS

By GEORGE WHITE

Chairman Democratic National Committee

Governor Cox, Democratic candidate for the presidency, selected by the most representative convention ever held in the history of American institutions, stands for the present-day spirit of go-aheadness. He believes that the world is a moving, advancing, vitalized world, that it cannot be successfully turned back-ward. He doesn't believe that it needs a soporific; a sedative, maybe, but not a soporific.

Mr. Cox's record as governor of Ohio is a continuous record of advancement—of progress. His consideration of industrial questions has always been judicial, sympathetic and understandingly accurate. His decisions have been received with satisfaction by both capital and labor where controversies have arisen and where conflict seemed imminent. Ohio, great industrial state that she is, has had more than her share of industrial complications. Governor Cox has steered a steady course, and the record which he has made as chief executive of his native state is an indication of the record which he will make as Chief Magistrate should he be elected in November, as I confidently believe he will be.

What he has done as governor of Ohio, he will do in a greater way as President of the United States, where his opportunities will be vastly greater. He is far-seeing, a man of vision who is not visionary, a modern man who thinks in a modern way, and, more than that, acts as he thinks.

At every stage of his public career, abreast of the times, Governor Cox can take up the reins of government fully equipped to meet and master every important issue.

In his speech of acceptance the governor has sufficiently outlined his policies on vital questions. As the campaign progresses, he will elaborate the views expressed in his Dayton pronouncement accepting the nomination.

There will never be an occasion to doubt the governor's position on questions that arise. He hits from the shoulder and hits hard. When the country becomes more intimately acquainted with his views and more familiar with the splendid record of his accomplishments, it will harbor no suspicion that he is not progressive in every national meaning of that term.

FIFTY CENTS OR NOTHING, SAY FARMERS

The Peninsula Tomato Growers' association met Wednesday, August 11, at Harbuck. All the counties on the shore were represented. After much discussion, in regard to cost of production, it was unanimously decided that the farmers of the peninsula can not afford to grow tomatoes and sell them for less than 50c a basket. The association recommends to all farmers of this peninsula who grow tomatoes, to grade their tomatoes, and take only the best stock to the canneries, for which they should receive 50c a basket or plow them down.

HYDRATED LIME SHELL

ANALYSIS:
Ca. O. 60%
Mg. O. 1%

A Few Facts

Messrs. Tilghman Lime & Supply Co.,
Fruitland, Md.
Gentlemen:—

Regarding the soil testing campaign for acidity, or in other words whether lime was needed or not, I find the following results:

Of the 81 samples that this office has tested to date, 77 farms needed lime.

To date, the Maryland Agricultural College has tested 1,100 samples of soil, and found that 74% needed lime, and practically all of the samples showing no acidity came from fields that have been limed during the past two or three years.

I believe that the proper use of lime will correct many of our ills.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) G. R. COBB,
County Agent Wicomico County.

The quantities of lime which are ordinarily applied to land—per acre—in the various forms, are as follows:

Hydrated Shell Lime 1,000 lbs.
Hydrated Stone Lime 1,500 lbs.
Raw Shell Lime 2,000 lbs.

News Sport Writer Sends Account of Salisbury-Cambridge Game From His Vacation Tent.

It was exactly 3.45 o'clock on August 6, when Arbiter White called "play ball" and the second game of baseball between Salisbury and Cambridge was started. Earnshaw and Wright were the Wicomico strategians in the way of a battery while North and McAllister essayed to stop the Salisbury sluggers. A record crowd was in attendance.

The first inning passed with the men at the plate going down in one-two-three order for both teams. G. Ruark producing a pop fly as the Cambridge lead off man while Wall struck out and Robinson was thrown out at first. For Salisbury Morris fanned, Wright was thrown out by the shortstop and Earnshaw was thrown out without stepping from his tracks when the ball glanced from his stick rolling a few feet from the home station.

In the opening half of the second fracas, Flowers succumbed at the plate because three strikes wasn't enough. Ruark performed the same act with a little more alacrity but North postponed the close by rapping out a safety to the left field guardian. McAllister's liner was caught by Earnshaw. As for the home half of the second four hits, three walks, and two errors was sufficient to produce six runs for Salisbury and to drive North to the seclusion of the bench. Smith replaced North as the Cambridge hurling artist. Duffy led off the suicidal second and drew a pass from the unsuspecting heavier; Wright received the same desert and Hoffman placed a perfect bunt down the first base line advancing both runners. Loomis then came through with the first Wicomico hit of the game which was a Text's leaguer and two runs trickled over the rubber disk.

Turner hit sharply to the center pasture and Porter produced a tart line roller that eluded the catcher until the bases were full. McAllister threw to the hot corner in an effort to cut off Loomis but Henry missed cleanly and the Wicomico middle gardener scored easily. Morris as the next sweat-smith again placed the ball to the third sacker and another perfect miss resulted. Turner and the diminutive shortstop bringing in a brace of tallies. North then sought solace from the firing line and Smith manned the pitching peak. While the new heavier was cheerfully transporting Wright to first free of charge, Morris pilfered second. Earnshaw whiffed but uffy hit to right center when an Alphonso-Gaston act took place between the two fielders and the ball returned to earth without being touched. Morris tallied on the hit. McNiff closed the massacre with a strikeout.

The third went quickly. For the Chesapeake boys Lake fanned, Henry singled to right section, Ruark flied to short and Wall took three whacks at the atmosphere. For the metropolis of Wicomico Hoffman walked, Loomis hit to third who killed Hoffman at second; Loomis was out at third trying to pilfer the third sack and Turner was thrown out at first.

Earnshaw beat Robinson to first on the latter's grounder in the fourth but Flowers whaled out a long one to left reaching second on the hit. Ruark singled to the middle garden, but a good throw to the plate held Flowers at third. Earnshaw then tightened up and whiffed Smith and McAllister in order. In the home half Porter ballooned to center, Morris walked and stole second, Wright doubled, scoring Morris; Earnshaw sacrificed, but Duffy died at first on an offering to the shortstop.

In the fifth Lake ceased his exertions via popper to first. Henry played a perfect one pop fly wall to center and Ruark took a line shot to left. A grounder to the batter Henry was caught by the third sacker. Wright threw to the shortstop and Henry was thrown out at first. Ruark, on the double to left, at home scored in the meantime. Robinson fanned. For us McNiff's line to left. Wright was out, at first. Loomis hit safely, then threw second and could have scored easily if the Cambridge center-fielder had not made a unsatisfactory catch of Turner's wallop.

The sixth opened with Flowers going down, short to first, and Ruark was safe on an error by short. Smith was out at first but Ruark scored on a mis-throw. McAllister was killed off, catcher to the first baseman. Of the home players Porter fanned, Morris grounded to third and was out while Morris popped to third.

Eisenberg, pouncing for Lake opened the seventh and the 1st runner Henry went down, third to first, while Ruark received a safety on lack to first. Wall fanned.

Earnshaw doubled but Duffy fanned in the last of the seventh. McNiff hit to the pitcher who caught Earnshaw at third, Hoffman kicked the bucket on a grounder to the pey-stone sacker.

In the eighth Robinson produced a high one for the catcher, Flowers was out, third to first, while E. Ruark smoked a hot one at Porter, who fielded it perfectly. Smith fanned. Loomis croaked a pass to first and went to the second bag on a passed ball. Turner fanned but Porter sacrificed. W. Bounds, hitting for Morris, planted a safety in left, scoring Loomis. Bounds pilfered the middle way sand bag but Wright bunted foul on his third strike, retiring the side.

The final section opened with a sky rocket to center by McAllister. Eisenberg walked continuing to second on G. Ruark's sacrifice. Ruark was safe on a close play, but Eisenberg scored on a wide throw to the plate. Wall fanned.

A. Ruark's catch of Turner's offering was the fielding feature of the game.

ONE WHO SEES AND TELLS WHAT HE SEES

The United States Bureau of Fisheries is co-operating with the Maryland Conservation commission in an investigation of the oyster and fish propagation conditions. The survey which will take several days is being made in the motor vessel Dorchester, of the fleet of the commission. Capt. John Kennerly one of the Maryland inspectors, is directing the tour.

The great falling off in the supply of fish, crabs, oysters and terrapin from Maryland waters in bringing very forcibly to the attention of the National and state authorities the necessity of doing something to restock Maryland waters with the excellent seafoods which for years were very abundant in our waters. Certain it is, that unless something is done, and done speedily, our supply of fish, oysters and crabs will dwindle down to the point where all our sea foods will become luxuries which only the rich can enjoy. Let us hope that the National Bureau of Fisheries will be able to render the much-needed help to the Maryland Conservation commission.

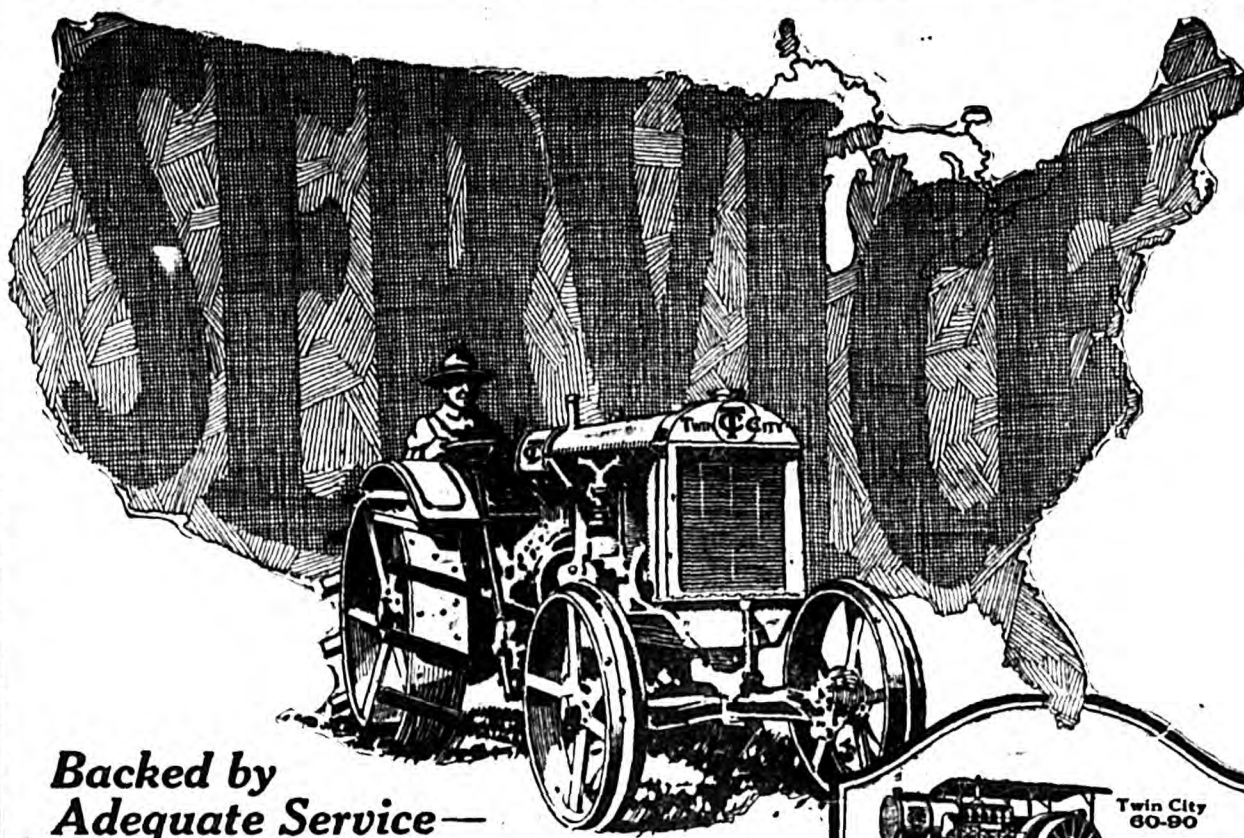

Advises from Washington say that the Department of Justice is starting out in a nation-wide of profiteers in coal. The dispatch from Washington says: "Active steps to limit the prices charged consumers for coal in various parts of the country will be begun shortly by the Department of Justice. Reports of the Federal Trade commission covering the costs of production and distribution of coal are being studied by experts of the department, it was stated, and data being compiled upon which to base instructions to district attorneys covering the prosecution of coal profiteering cases. No attempt will be made to fix a price on coal, it was said, as the Attorney General can act only under the Lever Act, but it was pointed out that by prosecution for violations of the law the price of coal can be kept within reasonable bounds." It does seem that the price charged for coal this fall—$14 a ton—is unreasonable and unwarranted and is bearing heavily on the consumers.

Local gunmen are looking forward to a good hunting season, as quail and rabbit are reported as more plentiful than usual. It should be remembered that the game laws require licenses, issued by the Clerk of the Circuit court before hunting is permitted. Gunners this season in addition to securing the regular license must also secure an arm tag, to be worn on the left arm while shooting. The number of the arm tag must correspond to that of the gunner's license which must be in the hunter's possession except landowners, their tenant or children may hunt on land owned or leased by them without a license. Guests of landowners and tenants, however, must first secure a license.

The hunting seasons for 1920-1921 are as follows: Partridge, Pheasant, Woodcock, Rabbit, Wild Turkey and Quail from September 1 to January 1. Rail Birds from September 1 to November 1. Red Birds from September 1 to October 30. Muskrat and Otter (state-wide), from January 1 to March 15. Muskrat and Otter can only be killed by trapping and gaging. Shooting in any manner positively prohibited under a penalty of $100.00.

It is unlawful to export any game, water fowl (excepted) out of this state. Licensed hunters may carry out one day's tag limit. It is unlawful to shoot wild fowl from any boat propelled by power or sail. Unlawful to shoot at night or on Sunday.

It is lawful to sell, offer for sale, purchase, or offer to purchase, Bob-white Quail (Partridge), Ring-necked Pheasant, Ruffed Grouse or Wild Ring-necked Pheasant here (female). This is done to permanently establish this game bird in our state.

BALTIMORE MAN HURT AT OCEAN CITY

Frank A. Furst, Falls From Hotel Porch and Is Rendered Unconscious. Dr. Dick Summoned.

Frank A. Furst, business man, financier and politician of Baltimore, was injured on Saturday in Ocean City when he fell from the porch of the Atlantic hotel. With Mr. Furst at the time of the accident was U. S. Senator John Walter Smith, with whom he was to inspect an inlet in Sinepuxent bay.

According to information received here Mr. Furst was walking down the five steps which lead from the hotel porch to the ground when he slipped and fell. He was unconscious when assistance reached him.

Senator Smith immediately made arrangements with the Atlantic hotel in Berlin to have the injured man removed to that place and he was taken there in an automobile. Twice during the seven mile drive he is said to have lapsed into unconsciousness.

Dr. Townsend, of Ocean City, was called to his side and rendered treatment. Long distance telephone calls were sent out by Senator Smith from Berlin to locate Dr. J. McFadden Dick of this city. Dr. Dick was finally located at his summer home in Somerset county and he hurried to Mr. Furst's bedside.

According to reports reaching this city Mr. Furst seemed to have suffered no injuries beyond a few scratches and bruises. It was reported at first that he had sustained internal injuries, but the physicians afterward, stated that this was not the case. It is believed that the intense heat so confused Mr. Furst that he fell, and that his nervous system was seriously shocked by the fall. Mr. Furst but recently recovered from an operation and serious illness and it is believed that these might have been the cause of his unconsciousness on Saturday.

When consciousness returned he appeared to be well and in good spirits. On the advice of Dr. Dick, Mr. Furst remained at the Berlin hotel for a few days before returning to his home and business in Baltimore.

JINX DAY PASSED WITHOUT MISHAP

People of City Must Have Had Their Fingers Crossed on Friday, August the 13th.

Friday was jinx day. In the first place it was Friday, and Friday is always a jinx day.

Then, in addition to being Friday, it was the 13th of the month, which made it doubly a jinx day—and still the people of Salisbury must have had their fingers crossed, because the day seems to have passed without more than usual mishap. In fact, the jinx seems to have been entirely off his job as far as this city's sporting circles were concerned, for the Salisbury baseball team tied a tin can to the strong Cambridge outfit, in a game played here, with a score of 7 to 3.

It was hot on Friday, the 13th, perhaps the hottest day of the season—at least it seemed to be, but for that matter the temperature for the few days previous had also taken on the complexion of the lower sulphurous regions.

The day passed without a shower—perhaps this was where the jinx got in his fine work, for a shower would have undoubtedly cleared away some of the humidity which made comfort an absent quantity and made living a little more enjoyable. It was the first day of the entire week that rain did not fall.

And so, Friday, the 13th, a day dreaded by superstitious folks, passed by without mishap; proving thereby that Fridays that come on the 13th of the month once in a while, are no more to be dreaded than any other day.

Wicomico County Gains In Population

Department of Commerce Reports County Has 28,114 People. Somerset County Shows Loss of 7%.

The population of Wicomico county, census of 1920, is 28,114. These figures are reported by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The population figures resulting from the 1920 enumeration, show an increase in the county's population of four and eight-tenths per cent over the population of 1910, when the total was 26,815.

The only other Maryland county shown in the Department of Commerce report is Somerset, where there has been a loss of seven per cent since 1910. In that county the 1920 population is given as 24,602, as against 26,455 for 1910.

No official figures of Salisbury's population have been received. It is expected that these will be released within a very short time. Local estimates fix the population of the city at somewhere in the neighborhood of 8,000.

Holy Land Meets Red Cross.

Children of the Holy Land are to learn something of the generosity of the boys and girls of America since the Junior Red Cross, the children's branch of the American Red Cross, has established relief work in Jerusalem. Twenty-five children have been taken under the wing of the Juniors of the United States and are being cared for in the Jerusalem orphanage. These children range in ages from six to 14 years and come from Bethlehem, Jericho, Nazareth and many points familiar in Biblical history.

What Is Life Insurance?

Life Insurance Is, In Reality, No More Nor Less Than:

1. A home for the family.
2. An education for the children.
3. A comfortable and carefree old age.
4. A stabilizer of business.
5. A savings fund that can be drawn on in case of emergency.

Picture a community where every family owned its own home and every child got an education—where every old person was financially independent and every business was on a sound and stable basis—and finally where everyone had a nest egg laid aside for emergencies, and you will have an idea of the kind of a community we are trying to make of Wicomico County.
