The Forensics team of FSC is busily preparing for a speech tournament on Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12. The speech team, coached by Miss Ann Williams and Mr. Mike Wallinger of the FSC Speech and Theater Department, is in the process of organizing a group of people to act as guides for the students attending the tournament, preparing a dinner dance for all the contestants Friday night, and seeing to all the details of running a competition between many colleges.

Miss Williams, director of Forensics at FSC, expects a large tournament, with possibly as many as 20 schools in attendance from as far away as Iowa. Over 110 contestants will compete in six speaking events. They are Oratory, Expository Speaking, Oral Interpretation of Poetry and Prose, Dramatic Duo, Humorous Speaking and Rhetorical Criticism.

If you are interested in becoming involved in forensics, either speaking

Student Wins National Title

Last week James Weber, a speech major here at Frostburg, received a national superior award at the Pi Kappa Delta National Competition.

Pi Kappa Delta is the honorary fraternity of those people working and studying in the field of public speaking and communication. This event was attended by over 120 schools from almost every state in the nation.

Mr. Weber received an award of participation with a superior degree in the field of speaking to entertain, or humorous speaking. This superior degree is the highest award given, and only two other people received similar awards in this event.

This is the second time that Mr. Weber, a junior, has received an award in humorous speaking. On the weekend of February 12, he traveled to Pennsylvania State University with the rest of the forensics team and received a second place trophy and a degree of excellence.

Mr. Weber, who also debates, will be traveling with the debate team to West Virginia Wesleyan on April 4, and then participate in Frostburg's own Allegheny Individual Events the weekend of April 11. He will also have the honor of representing Frostburg at the Individual Events National Championships at Niagara Falls the weekend of April 18.

TKE Participate in VITA Service

The time for taxes is here, and it is time to talk about the Internal Revenue Service's Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) which trains volunteers to help needy taxpayers free of charge to complete their tax returns fully and accurately. Last year, over 20,000 VITA volunteers assisted more than 790,000 people.

John R. Winger, an agent in the IRS's Cumberland office, wanted to institute VITA in Allegany County. He approached Dr. James F. DeCarlo, Jr., associate professor of management in Frostburg State College's Center for Management Development, for assistance. Professor DeCarlo in turn went to the

New Social Frat on Campus

Delta Phi Omega

The Delta Phi Omega social fraternity features numerous changes in the current fraternity ideas. A "non-hazing" concept is the basis for this new men's fraternity. It approaches pledging from a personalized project-service viewpoint. Each member will be able to maintain his own identity rather than be forced to conform to the "group". He will be encouraged, through pledging, to add to his own ideas.

One of the goals of Delta Phi Omega is to help each member feel a sense of friendship with the college and community as well as his brothers.

The newly elected officers are:

Greg Hoffman-President
Rich Walker-Vice President.

Art Herman-Secretary.
Kevin Kraft-Treasurer.

The remainder of the members are serving under the many committees which had to be formed. The fraternity wishes to invite anyone interested in these ideas to give us a call and we'll let you know when the next meeting is.

Call: 689-7855, Greg; or 689-7856, Rich.

Pledging will begin next semester.

Future plans are an induction banquet, formal initiation, and fund raising activities. Some of which include: beer busts, car washes, Casino night, rifle match & turkey shoot, band dance, movies at the Lane Center, and athletic tournaments.

Kieth Schlegel to Speak

In the second presentation of its 1974-1975 literary lecture series, Sigma Tau Delta English Honor Society is hosting Mr. Kieth Schlegel on Tuesday, April 8, 7:30 P.M. in room 335 of Tawes Hall. Mr. Schlegel will be speaking on science fiction in literature, and the goals of his lecture are to more accurately define the term "Science Fiction," to distinguish between it and fantasy literature, and to discuss the purposes of true science fiction.

Science fiction is a term which has been loosely applied during the last few decades, and it often has been used to describe a multitude of different approaches in literature. Mr. Schlegel will therefore begin by discussing the different definitions of science fiction proposed by distinguished writers such as Isaac Asimov and Robert Heinlen, and then try to generate an accurate and viable definition which can serve to distinguish between science fiction and fantasy writing.

Mr. Schlegel is an instructor of English at Frostburg, and he is currently pursuing his doctoral degree from West Virginia University while teaching a course in American Literature here. Mr. Schlegel has been interested in science fiction literature for several years, and was prepared to teach a course on the subject last summer. The course was not offered because of a small pre-registration enrollment. This lecture, therefore, will be a unique opportunity to learn about a genre which although as old as Jules Verne, has never really been satisfactorily defined. Sigma Tau Delta invites everyone to attend what we are sure will be an informative and provocative lecture.

Guest Editorial

by Don Fry

On March 12th, I testified before the House of Delegates Ways and Means Committee of the Maryland General Assembly in opposition to university professors' rights to collective bargaining. Collective bargaining is the formation of unions to negotiate one's contracts, interests etc. The idea of collective bargaining for university professors is becoming a controversial topic on campuses throughout the country. Professors feel that is their right to negotiate for better pay, better working conditions and related topics. However, an increasing number of students are afraid of its possible effects on them or their "say" in college governance.

Personally, I feel that collective bargaining for university professors will hurt students rather than benefit them. I base my opinion on the following:

1) Collective bargaining could hurt the quality of education. Unions are based on the philosophy of the employee giving up some of his power of decision-making for his job security. I believe this will hurt students because it will serve to protect a mediocre teacher.

2) Through collective bargaining the faculty will try to increase salaries, improve working conditions, and establish smaller class sizes. All of these will cause tuition and fees to increase because the state government has never properly funded higher education. I question whether the students should be asked to "foot the cost."

3) Almost anything that can be negotiated through collective bargaining will have an effect on students. I believe that students deserve a say also.

4) Collective bargaining organizations maintain a right to strike. Think of the effect a strike could have on students and the effective operation of a college.

Finally, I don't question the philosophy of collective bargaining for industries or businesses, but is that what we want our colleges to become--a group of businesses and industries--I certainly hope not.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir: In the spirit of brotherly good humor, I cannot resist some reaction to the February 19 Evening Sun story on the quest for university status by Towson and Morgan.

What, after all, is in a name? Frostburg State, alas, cannot be numbered among those institutions whose labels elicit automatic sensation of grace, dignity and world renown. For those who don't know the college, it's usually a funny name--like Slippery Rock, Harvey Mudd, Texas Southmost, or Umpqua. For those who know the college, it doesn't really matter much. Would Frostburg State University help? Would Harvey Mudd University, or Goucher University help? Would the mere use of the name "university" get Darmouth's graduates more or better jobs, its faculty a better name, its endowment a larger figure?

It has been my experience that the nomenclature of higher education is already hopelessly inconsistent as to institutional purpose, reputation and meaning. Some colleges offer doctorates, some universities do not. Prestige, like beauty, is in the eye of the beholder. Quality and strength are (or are not) in the institution. If that's what we're looking for in our titles, wishing and naming won't make it so. Predictably, we are known for what we do and for what we are--thank heaven!

What is Americanism?

by Andy Cosby

In conversations with students, I am often asked, "What are you FOR (as an alternative to the STATUS QUO)? This is a very good question which needs a detailed answer. In a word, my answer is "Americanism," but because the term is seldom understood, I usually respond with another question:

"Who gave you the right to personal freedoms, to free speech, to own property, etc.?" Think about it for a minute. Is it the government? Obviously not--if the government gives you freedoms it can take them away. Is it the Constitution that GIVES you these freedoms? No. The Constitution GUARANTEES them--it is not the source. Then what is the source?

The Declaration of Independence states that men are "endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights." This says two important things:

1. There is a God.
2. The rights of men come from God--and no government can take them away.

Stop for a minute and reflect on this. Freedom comes from God, not go-

Project Dino-Soar

by Arthur Greenberg

A really marvelous and intriguing news item appeared in print last week. It reported the finding of some parts of the fossil remains of three individuals of a previously unknown representative of the family of flying reptiles called pterodactyls (pronounced terro-dak-tils). Prior to this report, the largest pterodactyl identified had a wingspan of about twenty-seven feet. The newly discovered remains suggest an animal having a wingspan greater than fifty feet (about the size of a fighter-bomber).

The sheer incongruousness of this creature and the location of the fossil find (Texas--where else?), suggest to me a theory for its appearance on this planet. I submit that the three pterodactyls were, in fact, the only prototypes of this model ever created. Their design (and geographic location) have all the aspects of a prehistoric aerospace boondoggle. In the first place, today's scientific community still cannot explain how the smaller (!), earlier known pterodactyls actually travelled through the air or even launched themselves. Nevertheless, in spite of these early difficulties in design and the lack of perfection in the simpler species, plans for the larger, modified model proceeded according to schedule. One can just imagine the name of this ambitious project to design flying reptiles, make them larger and capable of carrying greater payloads: DINO-SOAR, as well as the sales pitch: "...a sight of dinosore eyes. ... will replace obsolescent birds", etc. The paleontologists

Square Dance for Senior Citizens

Anne Leslie Eammelli and Joseph Tyser, students participating in the Sociology Department's Field Instruction Course, helped plan and organize a square dance for senior citizens on March 7, 1975 at the Frostburg Community Center where they are assigned for their internship.

They made personal contacts with senior citizens, assessed their interests and planned the activity for them. There was much enthusiasm on the part of the senior citizens and about fifty-five attended the dance. Leslie and Joe were able to get the support of a group of square dancers from Frostburg State College, under the direction of Kenny Farris, to conduct the dance. This group provided the calling of the dance, music and participated in dancing with the senior citizens. Everyone had much fun. Plans are being considered to hold the square dancing on a monthly basis.

Senior citizens who had birthdays within the last five months were recognized by having flowers pinned on them by Leslie and other representatives of the Frostburg Community Center. Also, a birthday cake was served along with other refreshments.

On March 19, 1975 Leslie accompanied the senior citizens on a Willets Bus Tour of the Pennsylvania Maple Festival, in Meyersdale, Pennsylvania, for a "Senior Citizens Day".

2 P.M. with a concert scheduled at Williamsport High School.

The spring concert tour is a series of concerts that the band presents during the spring semester. The band will finish its 1975 spring concert series with a concert scheduled for Compton Auditorium on the FSC campus at 3:15 p.m. on Sunday, April 27. The public is invited to attend any of the spring concert programs and there is no admission charge.

Field Instruction Course

The Field Instruction Course was initiated by the Sociology Department, under the direction of Harry J. Bunch, to provide students with an opportunity to be introduced to the world of work, learn about the purpose, structure and functions of various social service agencies in the community, become aware of problems and basic human needs and to develop some beginning skills in the areas of interviewing, recording, establishing professional relationships, reporting, collection of data, use of supervision and consultation, understanding and practice of confidentiality and accountability as these relate to problem solving in agency operations.

There are twelve students in the Field Instruction Course who are placed in community agencies for their field experiences. Hilda Adams and Ted Grey are placed with the Boys' Forestry Camps. Hilda is doing her internship at Green Ridge Forestry Camp and Ted is assigned to the Lonaconing Forestry Camp. Both Hilda and Ted are very interested in the Positive Peer Influence approach, based on William Glasser's Reality Therapy, used at the Boys Forestry Camps as a rehabilitative tool. Linda Deal, Ginger Hopkins, Michael Hnley and Jim Papania are placed with the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Juvenile Probation Department, working under the supervision of probation officers. Sharon Hoffman is assigned to the Salvation Army where she is involved in group work activities with both senior citizens and young individuals of the community. Lynn Perry is serving as an assistant to the Director of O'Neal Half-way House, a service for alcoholics, for her field experience. She assists with group sessions and has been involved in

Bookstore

What would you do if one of your books was stolen? Would you buy another book and just forget that it happened?

The Bookstore Committee urges anyone who has had a book stolen from them to report it to the Bookstore--either to one of the employees or to Mr. Biggs. The employees will then watch for your book during the period when the bookstore buys back books from students. But unless you report it, the Bookstore has no way of knowing whether or not they are receiving stolen books.

In order to possibly avoid any hassles, we urge every student to mark your textbooks in such a manner that they could be easily identified in case of a question of ownership.

If you happen to find your stolen book on a shelf in the Bookstore the only way

Stolen Book Policy

you can obtain your book is to pay the bookstore what it paid for the book. This may sound unfair, but this is the Bookstore's policy. From this point you have two options: 1) to forget about the whole incident and take the loss, or 2) to refer the person who signed the receipt for your book. Stolen books can be traced to the seller through a copy of the receipt which must be signed when the transaction takes place. The school I.D. number is also written on the receipt.

If you decide to make a referral, the Bookstore will provide you with the name of the person, and will also be present at the subsequent trial (with the receipt) to testify in your behalf.

But to save yourself some trouble in the future mark your books in some unique manner and be especially careful where you leave them unattended.

Student Special Services -on the Move

During the last two weeks the Student Special Services of Frostburg State College has been presenting a variety of opportunities for the benefit of its participants and the general college population. On March 15th the SSS members went on a field trip to Pittsburgh, and on March 20th the students sponsored a dance.

The field trip was packed with activities appealing to a variety of tastes. The bus left Frostburg at 9:00 on Saturday morning, and its first stop was Schenley Park where the students ate lunch.

Next they proceeded to the Oakland area where they toured the Carnegie Museum and the University of Pittsburgh Cathedral of Learning. From there the tour proceeded to Allegheny Center for a show at the Planetarium and a tour of exhibits. After supper the students wound up the day with a drive around Pittsburgh and an ice hockey game at the Civic Arena, where they saw the Penguins annihilate the Washington Caps 12-1 (a scoring record for the Penguins).

The dance held on March 20th was for the purpose of giving the SSS students an opportunity to sponsor an activity for the whole college. The dance featured "Cottonwood" and all who attended enjoyed themselves.

Student Special Services will be sponsoring one more field trip this semester, scheduled for April 19th. The group will be going to the Charles Town-Harper's Ferry area; details will be announced soon.

"The Contrast"

Speech and Theatre and Royall Tyler's The Contrast in Compton Auditorium, April 17, 18, and 19, at 8:15 pm. The production will be directed by Dr. Jack W. Vrieze, head of Speech and Theatre department.

The late 18th century comedy is the first American drama professionally produced which establishes the Yankee character--good hearted, bumbling Jonathan, who is portrayed by Mike Switalski, a veteran in theatre at Frostburg. Most recently, Mike played the role of Myron in Awake and Sing!

The role of Dimple is played by Norris Sandridge, also a veteran who brought to life Throttlebottom in Of Thee I Sing. Manly is played by Steve Vaughn, who played in Awake and Sing! and Of Thee I Sing. Jerry Hawkins, also of Of Thee I Sing, plays the role of VanRough. Mark Yost, who played in Appleseed, Roundabout Theatre production, and Of Thee I Sing, plays the role of Jessamy, Dimple's servant.

Veteran Paula Simonson plays the role of Charlotte. Newcomers Cindy Wright and Kathy Derry play Letitia and Maria, respectively. Veteran Debbie Henderson portrays Jenny.

Maids are played by Pam Meyers, Teresa Sadler, Nanette Savard, Jeannie Collacott, and the waiters are played by Mark Rolston and Fred Phelps.

Reservations may be made by calling 689-4145 or 689-4146. A reservation desk will be set up in Lane Center beginning April 14 from 10 am until 2 pm to accommodate students on campus.

It's Puzzle Time

Are you a whiz at math? Can you solve "simple" math problems? If you can, then try your hand at the problems below which are submitted by the FSC Math Club.

Q: If in your dresser drawer there are 10 blue socks and 16 grey socks, and you reach into it in the dark, how many socks must you take out to be sure of getting a pair that match?
Q: In the days before inflation, two women were selling apples in a marketplace. One sold her apples at 3 for a penny and the other at 2 for a penny. One day when both were called away, they left their stock in charge of a friend. To simplify her reckoning the friend amalgamated the stocks--there were 30 apples of each quality--and sold them all at 5 for two pence. Thus she took in 24 pence. When the women returned, the one who had turned over 30 apples for 3-for-a-penny quality demanded her due 10 pence. The other not unreasonably asked for 15 pence. The sum actually realized was a penny short. Where did it go?

Answers to the previous questions are:

1. By trial and error, the solution can be found to be $1.19; 3 quarters, 4 dimes, and 4 pennies.

2. Both  $4r^2$  (area) and  $\frac{4}{3}r^3$  (volume) must lie between 1000 and 9999. From the first condition,  $50 < r < 15$  and from the second  $20 < r < 9$ . Thus  $r$  lies between 16 and 19, inclusively. But for  $\frac{4}{3}r^3$  to be an integer,  $r$  must be divisible by 3. Therefore,  $r=18$ , area =  $1296\pi$ , volume =  $7776\pi$ .

Answers for this week's questions should be submitted to the Math Club, Box 49, Lane Center. Correct answers to the problems along with names of those people who submit correct answers will appear in a future edition of this paper.

What is Americanism?

vernment. A recognition like this had never happened before at the start of a nation! The founding fathers said government is a SERVANT, not a MASTER. If we look back over history, we see that freedom has been a very uncommon commodity. The vast majority of people who have walked the earth have lived a life amounting to slavery. What freedoms that did exist were granted by some ruler, king or governmental body such as the Roman Senate. Those who have enjoyed some amount of freedom have found out (and history is very clear on this) that if any government can GIVE you freedoms, it can take them away--AND IT WILL!

This can't happen in our country if we understand and preserve the wisdom expounded by the founding fathers--that rights come from God and governments are formed to protect those rights.

AMERICANISM, then, does have a definition. It starts off with GOD as the source of our rights and freedoms. It proceeds to LIMITATION of government as the essence of freedom and FREELY ACCEPTED MORAL RE-STRAINT as a guide to individuals.

Can this appreciation of AMERICANISM be taught in public schools today? I'm afraid the answer is no. Because of a Supreme Court decision, teaching God's existence is no longer possible. Any teacher who affirms God's existence can be reprimanded, disciplined or not invited back. A teacher may present the concept of God as a possibility, but he must also present the other side.

How can you teach Americanism without teaching about God? You can't. The enemies of this nation launched massive efforts in the sixties to "discredit the American founding fathers...belittle all forms of American culture...eliminate any phase of religious expression from schools, etc."

We who have enjoyed more freedom than any other society in history owe it to ourselves and our children to preserve, protect and strengthen AMERICANISM.

If you believe Government gave you your rights, you will not speak out too long or too loud when it takes them away.

House Report

The fifth regular meeting of Frostburg State College's Student Association House of Representatives was held on Thursday evening March 20, 1975 at 8:00 P.M. Vice-president Steve Fox called the meeting to order.

In his presidential report, Doug Pranski reported on Senior Week. He announced that it would be 2 1/2 days long, from May 7 to May 9. A notice will be sent to seniors which will request them to suggest at least three ideas for the week and will also request them to supply forwarding addresses for the future. Seniors have also been requested to nominate alumni officers; this election will be held in mid-April.

Don Anderson gave the treasurer's report for treasurer Debbie Jennings; he reported a balance of $10,831.01 in the general fund and a balance of $3,629.35 in the contingency fund.

Director of State Affairs Don Fry informed the representatives that he had been in Annapolis when the Collective Bargaining Bill was presented to the Ways and Means Committee and that he had spoken against the bill. Fry said it appears that the bill will not be passed. Fry, also reported that a bill allowing students to be on the Board of Trustees for all state colleges is soon to be introduced in the Maryland legislature.

It was then announced that C.C.B. will present a spring concert on April 19 in which Roy Buchanon will appear; Harry Traynum from Cumberland may open the concert.

Steve Fox, in his vice-presidential report, informed the S.A. members that the results of the poll recently taken on Bittersweet was favorable and that consequently the freeze on its funds had been lifted. During old business, the representatives voted to remove $176.94 from Bittersweet to be returned to the S.A. contingency fund, leaving the publication with a balance of $150.00 for operating expenses.

There being no further old business, new business followed. The Hillel Charter was approved and can now be funded by the House. The S.A. members then voted to allocate $20 to the Math Club for a speaker. Discussion on the Budget Policy Constitutional Amendment (Section B, Number 4) followed; the S.A. secretary will send a copy of the Budgetary Allocation Policy to persons absent from the meeting. A motion was then made to fund a Black Student Alliance band dance. After much discussion, the motion was put to a vote and was defeated.

The meeting was then adjourned. The next Student Association House members will be held Thursday evening, April 10, at 8:00 in Room 202 of the Lane College Center. All interested students are invited to attend.

who made the find even imply an early concern for fuel economy. They note that the long neck of the creature perhaps endowed it with the ability to "probe a dinosaur carcass." This would have allowed it to tap a virtually inexhaustible fuel supply.
The disjointed appearance of the fossil remains of one of the Texas pterodactyls suggests that it may have been snatched from the air during an uncontrolled power dive, and crinkled up like a paper plane in an attempt to probe the carcass of a not-yet-dead dinosaur. The other two pterodactyl prototypes probably disintegrated in a midair collision and thus all of their fossil remains may never be found.

Basketball Finishes Season

The Frostburg State College basketball team won three of their last four games to finish the season with a 12-15 record. The maturity of two freshmen and the outstanding play of Ray "Buster" Nelson made the victories possible. The Bobcats defeated Geneva 77-76 behind Buster's 19 points and 21 rebounds.

The cagers placed five men in double figures, including Frazier Nelson with 13, and Terry Delaney with 10. Frazier 6'5" freshman from I.C. Norcom in Portsmouth Virginia and Delaney is a 6'3" freshman from Frostburg, Maryland. The improvement of these two players could spell trouble for future Bobcat opponents.

Frostburg's next game found them pitted against the number 12 ranked team in the country, Edinboro State. The Bobcats played a fine game but lost a heart-breaker in double overtime 93-91. Mitch Stoller, from Montgomery Blair in Silver Spring, played one of his finest games with 25 points and 7 assists. Mitch fouled out at the end of regulation play and his presence was sorely missed down the stretch.

Bob Ridder, a 6'1" guard from Deep Creek Lake, Maryland; and Billy Sayles, a 6'4" forward from Fredericksburg, Virginia, took up the slack in Mitch's absence.

The Bobcats next encounter was also against a five ball team. The cagers traveled to Johnstown to play the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown. UPJ had previously defeated Frostburg in Compton Gym. The final ledger showed a tremendous 84-81 victory for the Bobcats! The Bobcats placed all five starters in double figures paced by Bob Ridder's 23 points and Ray Nelson's 22 points. The Nelson Brothers, Ray and Frazier, also controlled the backboards against the taller opposition. Mitch Stoller played a fine floor game for Frostburg.

The last game of the year found only nine players available against Bowie State. Wayne Simonsen was still nursing an ankle injury and Mitch Stoller was out with the flu. However, the Bobcats were determined to sweep the season series from Bowie and did just that.

The arrival of 6'2" Leroy Scott will greatly aid the Bobcats next season. Scott was a highly recruited high school player who transferred to Frostburg from Morgan State.

The maturity of this year's team became evident as the Bobcats won three of their last four games making the big plays to win the close games.

Sophomore Wayne Simonsen was given post season honors by being elected to Honorable Mention Status on the All District Team.

Bobcat Track

The FSC track team concluded its indoor season at the East Stroudsburg State Invitational with exceptional performances in the middle and long distance events. Coach Bob Lewis took only five runners to the meet, yet those few Bobcats managed to produce enough points to place Frostburg State sixth in a field of 18 teams from four states.

Freshmen Matt Cline and Mike Harper took second and fifth in the mile run with times of 4:22.0 and 4:26.1, respectively. Soph Chip Brand placed second in the 880 in 1:58.0; he missed victory by mere inches as a Villanova runner outleaped him at the finish. Senior Stan Fletcher came through with the finest race of his career in the 2-mile run. His second place time of 9:22.9 is an improvement of more than 10 seconds over his previous best.

The highlight of the meet for FSC was the 2-mile relay team, which won a very close competition against Seton Hall. Mike Harper, Tom Rogers, and Matt Cline ran strong relay legs and gave the baton to Chip Brand in third place, yet close to the leaders. Brand wasted no time in taking the lead and maintained his position throughout the race. FSC's winning time was 8:02.2.

All of the top Bobcat times were FSC indoor records, bringing to 17 the total number of Bobcat records established during the indoor campaign. Four other marks have been tied.

Other spring track results are:

March 22: FSC 85, Salisbury State 60.

March 27: FSC 106, Washington and Lee 39.

March 27: FSC 124, Shepherd 21.

Bobcat Record at 4-5

by George Milholland

On Saturday, March 22nd, Frostburg's baseball Bobcats opened at home against Waynesburg College. The game looked to be all Waynesburg's until the Bobcat seventh. Going into that inning, FSC was behind by a score of 12-1. Four walks, a hit batsman and a 2-run triple were the ingredients which sparked Frostburg to a seven run inning. When the final out of the inning was made, the tying run was on deck. The winning pitcher for Waynesburg was Weaver and the losing pitcher for FSC was Dave Lew.

The Bobcats then began a scheduled five-day, nine game road trip to Baltimore and surrounding areas. The first double-header was rained out at Towson on March 24th. On Tuesday, the Bobcats played one game of a scheduled twin bill at the University of Maryland/Baltimore Campus. For Frostburg, 19 runs were scored with the aid of 13 hits. For UMBC, 6 runs were scored with 12 hits. The winning pitcher was Mark Richmond.

The scheduled double-header with Coppin State was also rained out. On Thursday, the 27th, FSC traveled to the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Virginia. In the first inning, W&M scored three runs which proved to be enough. Runs were also scored in the second and eighth innings. For FSC, only one run was scored and that was in the fifth inning. The final score was W&M 5, FSC 1.

For the final two games of the road trip, the Bobcats traveled to Washington, D.C. to play George Washington University. The opener was all GW's as their hitters belted Bobcat pitchers for 12 runs on 8 hits. To add further insult to injury, the GW pitcher threw a no-hitter after the first inning. In that inning, Gene Bridgett had FSC's only hit of the game. Fred Knubbe took the loss for Frostburg. The second game was won before George Washington came to bat in their half of the first inning. In their half of the inning, the Bobcats scored six runs thanks to four errors. The final score was FSC 8, GW 5. Mark Richmond was the winning pitcher.

On Monday, March 31, Frostburg returned home and promptly took a double-header from Davis and Elkins College. Al Poklemba starred in the first game as he contributed a home run, two triples and three runs batted in. Pok also scored four runs. John Perrault threw a 4-hitter for FSC. Pitcher George Strand had eleven strikeouts and Joe Lemon had a pinch hit grand slam home run in the fourth inning as the Bobcats won the night cap, 19-3.

Tuesday, April 1 proved to be a day of misfortune for the Bobcats. West Virginia University invaded Frostburg and took both ends of the double-header. After five innings of the opener, WVU had a lead of 4-0. In Frostburg's half of the sixth, however, Shawn Baker doubled, Al Poklemba singled and Craig Wengerd singled to knock in two runs. Jeff Rice topped off the FSC sixth with a two run homer to tie the game at 4-4. The game went into extra innings and WVU scored 4 runs in the eighth to win the contest. FSC came back in the bottom of the eighth; however, the rally came up short with the tying run at second base.

In the second game, the score was knotted at 2 runs apiece going into the seventh. WVU scored two runs on a single, triple and sacrifice fly and won the game. The losing pitcher for FSC was Bill Hunt.

The Bobcats' record currently stands at 4-5.

ACIT Luncheon Guests

The Alhambra Catholic Invitational Tournament (ACIT) was the luncheon guest of Frostburg State on March 20th. High school basketball teams from Roman Catholic in Philadelphia, St. John the Baptist in West Islip, New York, Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore, Mackin in D.C., and LaSalle of Philadelphia and their coaches attended.

The traditional luncheon which is in its eighth year began with a luncheon for the coaches only. Now expanded to include the team members, it gives high school players a chance to visit our college's campus and acquire information about what programs are offered here. In the words of President Guild, "It's a good opportunity for the kids from the city to see what it's like out here in the sticks."

Kevin Murphy, former Bobcat basketball star and leading scorer in the history of FSC, is a graduate of Serra Catholic in McKeesport, Pa., and played in the ACIT, and this year's team has Terry Delaney who also has ACIT experience. Coach Wolfe stated that out of 80 to 90 ball players, only ten to fifteen are "big time;" the luncheon exposes Frostburg to the rest of the guys.

Speaking briefly at the luncheon, Dr. Guild called to the attention of those attending the structure emerging from the ground next to the Lane Center

(the new Physical Education building). He stated that hopefully when the complex is completed that the ACIT games can be played here at Frostburg. Dr. Cordts, head of the Health and Phys Ed department explained what would be included in the building. The FSC Jazz Ensemble provided the luncheon's entertainment.

I was able to speak with two of the teams playing in the ACIT. Coach Larry Jordon from St. John's was impressed with the plans for the new phys ed complex and the low cost of tuition here at FSC for out-of-state students as compared to tuition within New York City. He also called to my attention that this is the first time the ACIT will see two female managers (St. John's has two girls traveling with the team).

Coach Mike Osborne from LaSalle said he enjoyed his visit to FSC. "Everyone is real friendly." LaSalle faced the defending champion Mackin in their first game on Thursday evening. They defeated them then defeated Cardinal Gibbons on Friday and played Roman Catholic in the final championship game on Saturday but lost. None of the players from either LaSalle or St. John's has selected the college they will attend.

FSC will look forward to welcoming the ACIT teams to the area again next year.
