FALLING PRICES.

on Prices.

Mr. Editor:—I do not know of any better authority for the general fall of the prices of farm products than the farmers themselves. They do not need to be told that their "hard unchanging facts of nature" and do not need to be told by those who are bent on destroying one half of their basic money that they are

"frugal" men. Their own judgment of the government's attempt at fiat money has been supplanted by one of argument.

Furthermore farmers are their own champions. As original free coinage men they do not have to be championed

by any leader of the gold bug stripe.

They know that the "Jefferson name" would never appear with his consent in a news paper article aimed at the very people of whose interest he was most jealous.

The very idea of Thomas Jefferson sanctioning a movement for fastening

the gold standard on the farmers

under cover of "sound money" is preposterous. No man in all our history stands higher than Thos. Jefferson as friend of the people and the defender of the sacred money of the constitution, both gold and silver.

Every farmer knows, and even the writer of the article "Panic for Farmers to Consider" should know, that it is not the exception but the rule itself that applies to the fall of prices. The general fall of prices extending over two decades has never been controverted. This has taken place with the steady decline of prices.

It is a coincidence. Local prices are source of affluence. A great thought.

Total failures in some localities where the commodity is largely grown, war and numerous other things with which every farmer is conversant.

Prices even vary in different localities

All these causes the gold men have sought out to explain away what every producer knows to be the general trend of prices. Every slight symptom of recovery but emphasizes the steady and unremitting dissolution of their business.

Not only so but this dissolution of commodity will show a close sympathy with the demoralized state as witness the slight recovery succeeding 1878 and 1880

This was done not by any addition to

ARA DAVIS AGAIN IN WICOMICO.

His arrest by Sheriff Johnson and imprisonment.

The most unpleasant duty which Sheriff Jas. E. Johnson has been called upon to perform since he became "clothed in a little bit of authority" was the arrest last Wednesday of the notorious ARA Davis.

Davis has been the most desperate man who ever claimed Wicomico as the place of his nativity. He has been confined in the county jail repeatedly, served time in the Maryland penitentiary, and several months ago was adjudged insane and sent to Montevue hospital, at the expense of this county, for treatment.

Last week he escaped from this hospital and at once returned to this county. Sheriff Johnson, accompanied by Deputy Henry Jones, last Wednesday visited the home of Mr. Peter Duncan, a farmer residing near Powellville, who is Davis's uncle, where he found Davis at work, barefoot, with Mr. Duncan's fodder hands.

The officers approached quietly and he Davis hand-cuffed almost before he was aware of their presence. He then made some resistance, but the sheriff succeeded in getting his prisoner to Salisbury where he is now confined in the county jail awaiting the officials of Montevue who will come for him and return him to that institution.

Davis's record is well known in this native county, and in Baltimore, as well as in other parts of the state. In his career as a desperado he has shot several men and been a terror to his neighbors and a menace to the peace of the community.

One of his escapades here recalled was the writing of a threatening letter some years ago to George Jackson and Cashier John H. White of the Salisbury National Bank, making requisitions upon them for large sums of money. Warden Wyler, of the penitentiary, had unlimited trouble with him during his incarceration there.

Death of Mr. John Cooper.

Mr. John Cooper died Wednesday last week at his home, Columbia, Del., near Sharptown at an advanced age. His remains were interred on his farm Friday morning.

Mr. Cooper had been an intense sufferer at times for the last 20 years. He leaves a widow and several grown sons and daughters. Mr. Samuel J. Cooper, the leading merchant of Sharptown, this county, and a prominent republican party man, is a son. The late M. F. Cooper of Delmar was also a son of the deceased.

Mr. Cooper was a life long Methodist Protestant and was a man of true piety.

—William Jennings Bryan the Democratic candidate will be in Baltimore during September. The date has not yet been fixed for his visit, probably it will be about the 20th.

—The stores of Messrs. S. Uman & Bro., M. Mank, J. Bergen, and B. Mank will be closed from 6 p. m. Monday, Sept. 7th to 6 p. m. Tuesday Sept. 8th, on account of Hebrew holiday.

—Mr. Jay Williams and family left Salisbury last Wednesday for Nyack, N. Y. to visit his sister the widow of the late Jas. M. Williams. They will also take a trip on the Hudson, and stop at Niagara on the return.

—John Kelly, proprietor of Kelly's hotel, Baltimore, has bought Congress Hall, Ocean City. He contemplates large improvements, and next season the hotel will be opened and become a strong bidder for popular patronage.

—Next Tuesday, September 8th, the B. & O. A. railway company will change time table, which will give only one train a day for Baltimore. That train leaves Salisbury for Baltimore, at 7:50 a. m., and returning, leave Baltimore at 4:30 p. m.

—Mr. John W. Winbrow of Parsonsburg moved this week with his family to Leonardtown, St. Mary's county, Md. Mr. Winbrow has gone to St. Mary's to work a tract of timber which he and Messrs. E. H. E. W. and E. Persons recently purchased across the bay.

—The Cape Charles Fair has been going on this week, nearly one hundred persons attended Tuesday from Salisbury. The principal attraction seems to have been the game of ball between the Salisbury's and the Franklin club of Virginia.

—Col. R. S. Cheves of Tennessee, will speak at the following Prohibition Mass meetings: Tuesday, Monday Sept. 14th; Sharptown, Tuesday, Sept. 15th; Marlboro, Wednesday, Sept. 16th; Hebron, Thursday, Sept. 17th; Salisbury, Friday Sept. 18th; Powellville, Saturday Sept. 19th; De Mar, Saturday night Sept. 19th.

—Communion service at Methodist Protestant church, Sunday morning. A short sermon on "The Boundless Love of Christ." To the evening the pastor will take for his subject "A Disobedient Prophet." Preaching at Mt. Hermon at 3 p. m. A full attendance of all members is requested.

—The Salisbury ball team beat the Franklin aggregation at the Cape Charles Fair Wednesday in a score of 6 to 2, and on Thursday the Salisbury team beat their opponents of the day before on the same grounds in a score of 16 to 5. Salisbury played the Smyrna, Mount, and won in a score of 6 to 3.

—The service of Mr. R. M. Batts who has been book keeper in the Comptroller's office for twenty four years has been dispensed with, and he has been succeeded by Mr. Harry J. Hopkins of Talbot county, promoted from a lower position in the office. Mr. Hopkins was appointed to a clerkship in the office under J. Frank Turner in 1884, and has been in the office ever since. He is the only Democrat left in the Comptroller's office.

—W. J. Holloway advertises in this issue, Worcester's Dictionaries. These are the most eminent scholars, authors, educators of America, and have been published by the leading newspapers of England and America. It is said that Worcester's has always been the Dictionary of the scholar. Worcester's school dictionaries are recommended by the School Board of this county for use in the public schools.

—A picnic was given in a grove near a town in New Jersey last week to which all persons by the name of Smith were invited. Over 800 persons claiming that name attended and a delightful time was passed in unrivalling family history. A similar call issued in any part of the country, would bring together a large crowd. One of the features of the New Jersey meeting was to start a boom for some man of the "Smith" name for the presidency. It is a numerous and powerful family, and their united backing would be a potent aid in the presidential contest.—Cambridge Chronicle.

TYASKIN'S GROWTH.

Specialist Showing Made by Assessment.

Messrs. Brewington and Wilson, general assessors for Wicomico county, completed their work in Tyaskin district, last Saturday. Tyaskin is one of the most thickly settled sections of the county, and the work of assessment required four weeks of the time allowed the assessors.

The results are most gratifying. The increase in the taxable basis a little over $100,000 compared with the basis of assessment for 1876, which was $451,394. The new basis will be a little more than $550,000. This handsome increase comes largely from real estate and improvements.

The land in Tyaskin district has with in the last few years been divided into lots and become distributed among a very much greater portion of the population than was the case in years past. The present holders are thrifty oyster planters and oyster catchers, each of whom owns his lot, improved by a neat dwelling.

This condition has become so general that the whole lower part of the district, between the Nanantoke and Wicomico rivers, now stands covered with the comfortable homes of the natives. This explains the very satisfactory increase in the taxable basis of the district.

The assessors began work last Monday in Quantico district, which is the fourth district visited by the assessment officials.

FARMER AND BUCKNER.

Sound Money Democratic Candidates for President and Vice President.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—John M. Palmer, of Illinois, and Simon Bolivar Buckner, of Kentucky, two white-haired veterans of the war, rival commanders of the Blue and Gray, were nominated today by the National Democratic Convention for President and Vice-President on a brief but emphatic platform, which repudiates the doctrines enunciated by the Chicago convention; indorses President Cleveland and his administration in glowing terms; declares for the gold standard; tariff for revenue only; liberal shipping laws; currency reform; civil service and economy in public expenditures.

The spirit that animated the convention was contained in this declaration of the platform.

"The Democratic party has survived many defeats, but it could not survive a victory won in behalf of the doctrine and policy proclaimed in its name at Chicago." And so, in the language of Mr. Hammond, of Louisiana, this convention placed in the hands of other nominees, their banner, and bade them fling it forth "skyward and seaward, high and wide."

Death of Geo. C. Twilley.

Mr. George C. Twilley, of Twilley, Md. died at his home, last Saturday afternoon at five o'clock, after a violent hemorrhage, aged 52 years.

About three months ago, Mr. Twilley, while talking with friends at his store, was first stricken with a hemorrhage, and since then he has been struggling against their weakening effect.

More than twenty years ago, the deceased went from Sharptown, to the vicinity of Bishopville, where he taught in a public school for two years. After which he married Miss Sarah Levenia West, who with six children, survives him.

He engaged in general merchandises at the place now known as Twilley, in which neighborhood he has accumulated quite an amount of real estate and milling property.

The funeral services conducted by Rev. Nutters, were held in the Bethel M. E. church, near his late residence, last Monday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of friends.

Among his relatives from a distance present were: Mr. E. W. Twilley and family, Mrs. M. Ellis and Miss Annie Ellis, of Laurel; Messrs. T. J. and J. R. Twilley, Dr. L. L. Twilley, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Marshall, Capt. and Mrs. J. L. Smith and Miss Dollie Twilley, of Sharptown.

Gorton's Minstrels.

The announcement that Gorton's Minstrels will be at the Talbot Fair has been received with much delight by the public. To those who have had the opportunity of witnessing the delightful performances of this company no word of commendation is necessary. For the information of others we will state that they are received with the greatest enthusiasm by the best people all over the country, in crowded halls, evidencing that Gorton's Minstrels rank among the highest of the first class musical and minstrel entertainments wherever they have been. Their fame is world wide, and their performances consist of the Grand Old Band Concert of 20 splendid Gold instruments; Solo by 3 soloists of note; plantation melodies and dog pastimes; cornet solos; musical comedians, Benham and Byrne; Grotesque comedians, acrobats and dancers; Nellie, premier soloist, etc., etc.

All visitors to the Fair have the benefit of this delightful entertainment between the hours of the races, without extra cost.

Not Enough Money.

The Wicomico School Board will very shortly issue circulars to the teachers and patrons of the public schools, setting forth the fact that the $3,879.80 appropriation by the State, for the purchase of free text books will be inadequate, and requesting the parents of those children whose text books are good, or at all fit for use, to continue the use of them until they have been advanced in grade, and then to permit the books to be turned over to the class advanced to the one just left by the promoted pupil.

This arrangement would in a large measure remove the existing embarrassment of the Board, and relieve the State of a considerable additional expense.

J. Selby Goslee Dead.

Mr. J. Selby Goslee died Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Waller, in Salisbury district, between Spring Hill and Delmar. Mr. Goslee was 75 years old. He leaves eleven children, viz: John W. Goslee, Mrs. Jennie Waller, Mrs. Emily Freney, Sydney Goslee, Mrs. Julia Ellis, Mrs. Ellen Woodford, Thomas Goslee, Mrs. Ruth Woodford, Mrs. Edna Goslee, Mrs. Lottie Dykes and Mrs. Ella Killian.

His funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the home. The remains were afterward interred in the family burial grounds, where his wife was laid to rest a few years ago.

Messrs. J. L. Love, Mrs. H. G. Good, Messrs. J. L. Love, Mrs. H. G. Good, Messrs. J. L. Love, Mrs. H. G. Good.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they are addressed.

The Sunday School Convention at Hebron.

As already published, the Sunday School Convention at Hebron will begin Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

The Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway Company will furnish tickets at half rate, one fare for the round trip from any point between Ocean City and Clayborne. The trains from Salisbury run so as to give persons the opportunity to attend all the Saturday services. The convention is needed in Wicomico and will aid in bringing the denominations closer together, besides the breaking greater interests in the religious instruction and training of children, and in instructing teachers in the Sunday school in methods of teaching and management.

Delegates will enjoy the hospitality of the citizens of Hebron. It is hoped all the schools have attended to the matter of electing or appointing delegates. Each train will be met by members of the committee and delegates called for. Pastors and superintendents are delegates by virtue of their offices.

The programme is a most attractive one. Rev. B. E. Johnson, of Salisbury, will talk on "Teachers and Teaching." Rev. J. M. Yingling, of Sharptown, on "Needs of the Hour," and State Organizer Nock, on "Interdenominational Work." State Organizer Nock was in the office on Tuesday, and expressed the hope that this convention would be the beginning of more aggressive Sunday school work throughout the county.

Sparks and Allen's Circus is Coming.

On Friday, September 11th, Sparks & Allen's Circus will exhibit in Salisbury, giving two performances at the usual hours. Judging from the hearty encomiums bestowed upon this exhibition by our exchanges, wherever they have exhibited, Sparks & Allen will give an entertainment which will be a real treat to all. Besides over thirty acts given by artistic celebrities of well known reputation, the programme includes startling specialties by the Intrepid Edmond Family of five male and female artists, and the wonderful serialists, the Sisters Austin.

The school of trained animals accompanying the circus are said to be away in advance of anything ever seen in a circus ring.

The admission is only 25c for adults and 10c for children, and a free balloon ascension and thrilling parachute jump (though frequently advertised) will positively be given by Sparks & Allen from the show ground twice daily at 1 and 7 p. m. Wm. DeBoe, the noted aeronaut, being specially engaged to make the ascension. This feature of course is free to everybody.

Hollanders to Come.

G. J. Westervelt and H. De Boer, the advance guard of a body of colonists, who will come from the West to settle in Caroline county, this state, went to the latter place last Saturday afternoon from Missouri and the vicinity of Lebanon.

They visited this section some time ago as a result of a correspondence with the State Bureau of Immigration, and after visiting Caroline county, decided to locate there. They will soon be followed by about 50 families of Hollanders from the same section, and it is expected that the colony will be further increased by the addition of 100 families from Iowa and Wisconsin. Others may come from Holland.

The site selected by the colonists is on the Choptank river. The newcomers have tired of the West by reason of the high freight charges exacted by railroad companies for hauling their products to market.

Prohibition Convention.

The county convention of the Prohibition party met in the Graham building last Tuesday, September 1st, to choose delegates to the 1st district congressional convention, which meets in Easton, September 8th, and also to arrange for dates and places where Col. B. S. Cheves, of Kentucky, will speak.

The convention organized by calling Mr. J. J. Fooks, of Pittsville, to the chair and the selection of Mr. A. V. Thorogood, of Salisbury, as secretary.

The delegates elected to the Eastern convention are: A. B. Armstrong, Rev. B. S. Johnson, E. S. D. Insley, J. J. Fooks, L. L. Davis, T. Price, G. W. Messick, W. J. Johnson, Dr. H. E. Johnson, W. J. Downing, Rev. L. F. Warner, S. F. Downing, B. P. Graveson.

Notes.

The Holy Eucharist will be offered, (D. V.), in St. Philip's Chapel, Quantico, on Sunday morning, next—September 6th, at 10 o'clock.

There will be evening prayer, and a sermon on the afternoon of the same day—at 8 o'clock—in St. Paul's Church, Spring Hill. There will also be Evening Prayer, with a sermon, that night, at 8 o'clock, in the Hotel, at Marcella Springs.

Franklin B. Adkins, Rector of Spring Hill Parish.

NOTICE.

I WANT every man and woman in the United States to know that I have a new and improved method of hair cutting, and one that will save you money, and one that will be worth your while.

Beautiful eyes grow dim and dim as the years pass and away. Beautiful, wavy hair forms a crown. Love fairness with every day. But she will be queen and bath charms in every hair.

Who wears youth's crown—beautiful hair.

Preserve Your Hair

and you preserve your youth. A woman is as old as she looks," says the world. No woman looks as old as she is if her hair has preserved its normal beauty. You can keep hair from falling out, restoring the normal color, or restore the normal color to gray or faded hair, by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Up-to-Date Base Ball

Base Ball Up-to-Date?

Decidedly the greatest attraction at the Cape Charles, Virginia, Fair was the ball game between Salisbury and the Franklin, Va. clubs. The latter club had come across the bay with a bad case of "faded legs" and needed a cure. It was in heroic doses that they had a cure. Before the game they had nothing but aches and pains, but after the game they were as good as new.

Mr. Winfield J. Robertson and Miss Rosa E. Phillips, daughter of Mr. W. R. Phillips, of Tyaskin district, will be married September 16th at Messick's M. E. Church. The ceremony will be performed at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Estelle Trout of Snow Hill lost her gold watch last week while returning home from a visit to Miss Edna Gillie of this city. The watch was lost somewhere between "Six mile house" and Snow Hill. A reward is offered for its return to the owner.

Elder A. B. Francis has three appointments for September: At St. Paul's, Saturday and Sunday, 12th, and 13th; at St. Paul's, Monday night, 14th; at St. Paul's, 10 a. m.; Salisbury, 10th, 2:30 p. m.; at St. Paul's, 17th, 2:30 p. m.; Little Creek, Saturday and Sunday, 19th and 20th, 10 a. m., each day; Delmar, Sunday night, 20th, 7 p. m.

The opening of the new public school house at Delmar will be celebrated by the citizens of the town in an appropriate manner, on the evening of September 17th. Speaking, and music by the Salisbury concert band will be the features of the occasion. The J. O. U. A. M. of Delmar are at the bottom of the scheme, and will manage the entertainment.

The base ball season for Salisbury will close next Tuesday with a benefit game to be played on the Salisbury grounds. The game will be Salisbury vs. a picked nine from Dover and Smyrna. The proceeds will be presented to the Salisbury nine.

—We wish to explain what appears to be a mistake in the "Old Men's Column" of a recent issue of the Advertiser, and replied to by "B" in an article "Falling Prices," in last week's edition. The writer in the gold column is accused of copying without credit from the Baltimore Sun. In justice to the writer, we wish to state that the article was submitted to the editor of the Sun and should have been credited thereto by the editor.

—Miss Ada Brewington, daughter of Mr. W. M. L. Brewington, entertained a small party of her school mates and friends last Wednesday evening. Those of the party were Misses Miriam Powell, Ruby Dorman, Amy Brewington, Helen Leonard, Edna Owens, Pauline Collier, Mabel Waller and Messrs. Everett Jackson, William Richardson, James Thompson, James Leonard, Walter Brewington, Oscar Evans, Clairvaux Waller and John Siemens.

—Dr. Charles H. Medders, eye, ear and throat specialist of Baltimore will visit our city the 1st and 3d Thursdays of each month. The doctor is visiting physician on the eye and ear to Baltimore City Hospital, and late resident physician of the Freshwater Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital. His office is with Dr. L. S. Bell and his next visit will be the 17th. The doctor has charity cards for those not able to pay, which can be had from local physicians.

—The authorities of Montevue Hospital, from which Ada Davis escaped a few weeks ago, came to Salisbury and took him to the hospital Friday. The Advertiser was in error last week when it stated that he had about several men in his care. His mental condition however, which at intervals took a desperate turn, made him an object of terror to his neighbors, and a source of much grief and anxiety to a good Christian mother whose pious life has been made unhappy by the phibic mental affliction of her unfortunate son.

Bones Killed by Lightning. During the electrical storm last Sunday morning two bones were killed in the stable of Mr. H. L. Pollitt of Rock-awalking. The animals belonged to Mr. J. Masse Robert and Mr. Alpheus Rencher of Tyaskin district.

Some of the young people of the above named gentlemen were on a visit at Mr. Pollitt's home when the accident occurred. The bones were tied in the stable. A walnut tree, which stood near the stable and the field entered the stable with the result as stated. Their loss was not known until after their return, when young Messrs. Robert and Rencher went to gear the horses for a drive, and found them dead.

Mr. Pollitt's horses were also in the stable, but none of them were hurt. Miss Carrie Rencher and Ada Pollitt, who were both near an open window in the house, witnessed a severe shock when the lightning struck the tree. It was nearly an hour before they recovered.

Change of Time Table. By the recent change of time-table of the Baltimore and Annapolis R. R. Co., the following schedule is now in effect:

Going West, the Baltimore Express leaves Salisbury, daily except Sunday, 7:50 a. m., arriving in Baltimore 1:20 p. m. Accommodation, leaves Salisbury 2:30 p. m., arriving in Baltimore 5:45 p. m. Mixed train, leaves Salisbury 1:15 p. m., arriving in Baltimore 5:20 p. m.

Eastbound, accommodation, arrives at Salisbury from Clayborne 10:52 a. m. Express, arrives from Baltimore, 10:10 p. m., except on Saturday, when it arrives at 8:40 p. m. Mixed train arrives 12:30 p. m.

The steamer Cambridge leaves Baltimore at 4:30 p. m., except Saturday, when its time of departure is 3:30 p. m.

On account of the rainy weather, the Wisconsin County Sunday School convention held at Hebron, last Saturday and Sunday, was not so largely attended as had been anticipated.

The people of Hebron gave the visitors a warm welcome and entertained them most hospitably. The convention adjourned Sunday night to meet next year at Hebron.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of Mr. A. W. Leland, of this city for President; Mr. E. E. Parsons of Pileville, for Secretary; Mr. J. A. Phillips, of Hebron, for treasurer, and Messrs. Jas. E. Ellegood, Wm. E. Sheppard and J. C. Larmore, executive committee.

From all accounts Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a Godsend to the afflicted. There is no advertisement about this, we feel just like saying it—The Democratic, Carrollton, Ky. For sale by R. K. Travis & Son, Salisbury, Md.

Base Ball Up-to-Date?

Decidedly the greatest attraction at the Cape Charles, Virginia, Fair was the ball game between Salisbury and the Franklin, Va. clubs. The latter club had come across the bay with a bad case of "faded legs" and needed a cure. It was in heroic doses that they had a cure. Before the game they had nothing but aches and pains, but after the game they were as good as new.

Mr. Winfield J. Robertson and Miss Rosa E. Phillips, daughter of Mr. W. R. Phillips, of Tyaskin district, will be married September 16th at Messick's M. E. Church. The ceremony will be performed at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Estelle Trout of Snow Hill lost her gold watch last week while returning home from a visit to Miss Edna Gillie of this city. The watch was lost somewhere between "Six mile house" and Snow Hill. A reward is offered for its return to the owner.

Elder A. B. Francis has three appointments for September: At St. Paul's, Saturday and Sunday, 12th, and 13th; at St. Paul's, Monday night, 14th; at St. Paul's, 10 a. m.; Salisbury, 10th, 2:30 p. m.; at St. Paul's, 17th, 2:30 p. m.; Little Creek, Saturday and Sunday, 19th and 20th, 10 a. m., each day; Delmar, Sunday night, 20th, 7 p. m.

The opening of the new public school house at Delmar will be celebrated by the citizens of the town in an appropriate manner, on the evening of September 17th. Speaking, and music by the Salisbury concert band will be the features of the occasion. The J. O. U. A. M. of Delmar are at the bottom of the scheme, and will manage the entertainment.

The base ball season for Salisbury will close next Tuesday with a benefit game to be played on the Salisbury grounds. The game will be Salisbury vs. a picked nine from Dover and Smyrna. The proceeds will be presented to the Salisbury nine.

—We wish to explain what appears to be a mistake in the "Old Men's Column" of a recent issue of the Advertiser, and replied to by "B" in an article "Falling Prices," in last week's edition. The writer in the gold column is accused of copying without credit from the Baltimore Sun. In justice to the writer, we wish to state that the article was submitted to the editor of the Sun and should have been credited thereto by the editor.

—Miss Ada Brewington, daughter of Mr. W. M. L. Brewington, entertained a small party of her school mates and friends last Wednesday evening. Those of the party were Misses Miriam Powell, Ruby Dorman, Amy Brewington, Helen Leonard, Edna Owens, Pauline Collier, Mabel Waller and Messrs. Everett Jackson, William Richardson, James Thompson, James Leonard, Walter Brewington, Oscar Evans, Clairvaux Waller and John Siemens.

—Dr. Charles H. Medders, eye, ear and throat specialist of Baltimore will visit our city the 1st and 3d Thursdays of each month. The doctor is visiting physician on the eye and ear to Baltimore City Hospital, and late resident physician of the Freshwater Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital. His office is with Dr. L. S. Bell and his next visit will be the 17th. The doctor has charity cards for those not able to pay, which can be had from local physicians.

—The authorities of Montevue Hospital, from which Ada Davis escaped a few weeks ago, came to Salisbury and took him to the hospital Friday. The Advertiser was in error last week when it stated that he had about several men in his care. His mental condition however, which at intervals took a desperate turn, made him an object of terror to his neighbors, and a source of much grief and anxiety to a good Christian mother whose pious life has been made unhappy by the phibic mental affliction of her unfortunate son.

Bones Killed by Lightning. During the electrical storm last Sunday morning two bones were killed in the stable of Mr. H. L. Pollitt of Rock-awalking. The animals belonged to Mr. J. Masse Robert and Mr. Alpheus Rencher of Tyaskin district.

Some of the young people of the above named gentlemen were on a visit at Mr. Pollitt's home when the accident occurred. The bones were tied in the stable. A walnut tree, which stood near the stable and the field entered the stable with the result as stated. Their loss was not known until after their return, when young Messrs. Robert and Rencher went to gear the horses for a drive, and found them dead.

Mr. Pollitt's horses were also in the stable, but none of them were hurt. Miss Carrie Rencher and Ada Pollitt, who were both near an open window in the house, witnessed a severe shock when the lightning struck the tree. It was nearly an hour before they recovered.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of Mr. A. W. Leland, of this city for President; Mr. E. E. Parsons of Pileville, for Secretary; Mr. J. A. Phillips, of Hebron, for treasurer, and Messrs. Jas. E. Ellegood, Wm. E. Sheppard and J. C. Larmore, executive committee.

News on the list were the waiters at the restaurants who had handed this copy of The Dragon Claw to the guests, street car conductor in whose car a stranger had rode, the parson, an cop who had sold eyeglasses to a married man and so helped him to read a wicked article, the family of the victim of the latter who had carried the latter of infamies three days before made it possible for him to return his work and break the law as he had done. Fifty-seven men who had read an article to their wives was quite a respectable addition to the list, and in natural order followed 31 wives who, in malicious giggling, had heard the news thus read.

Finally the parents of the editor were elected for bringing such a monster to the world and the editor's brother-in-law having exercised a better influence over him.

This brother, however, was released. He was deaf, dumb and blind.

The victory came. The inhabitants of the beleaguered city were on the streets, crowded the streets and cried as they passed: "Muharr! Muharr!" It was announced that those whom they had been about to execute in their own house would be properly punished. The heroic inspector the prison, saw an old woman sitting in each cell and a wicket door leading into the adjoining workshop worked without a hitch, and the hydraulic galleys depicted the highest expectations of the prisoners. He had a whole lot of wholehearted confidence, and, delighted with Chi Fung Lang's sagacity, he treated him the second person to feather his nest when the time came.

"But tell me, tiger, of the lawbreak, is this cell empty? One more would be made very little difference."

Stagnant Money Lenders in Paris.

On a Frenchman's point of view, the money market in Paris is not so much a bank clerk is put down as in the employ of Bismarck, unless known to have any other occupation. But among the money lenders distinct professions are those and their names and imposing appearance to enterprises which could easily be in the line of their business. They are on the lookout for a rapid hand return. For example, the money lending agencies. Notwithstanding the fact that the money market is X tried to persuade her it was a trifling instrument, but she said: "No, Lord. Look at those poor people of poor Hindoos, it killed last year," exclaimed he, "that wasn't your mother? Preserving Flowers.

 There is a fad for preserving flowers may do so by dipping them in melted paraffin. The mixture is only warm enough to remain liquid, and the flowers by the steam, which is given off, are kept free from all external moisture, dip them in the paraffin, and then a quick turn to remove the excess, and place them in a glass jar. The coating becomes firm.

Forty Instead of Heaven.

The people about Portville, a little village near Laurel, are almost convulsed over a joke that is a sad reality to an elderly lady of that town. Mrs. Amanda Warren, a slightly eccentric lady, was introduced to the Association faith by a sailor, who thought her belief in his teachings a good joke, and became so firmly enamored of the theory that she gave away all her little earthly possessions and prepared to ascend to heaven last Wednesday. Being disappointed in expectations, she is now in an almost destitute condition, owing to the fact that most of those who profited by her eccentric benevolence refuse to return her gifts. Her friends talk of procuring the sailor who misled her imagination.

At the last meeting of the School Board the following free scholarships were awarded: Western Maryland College, Mr. T. Morrison Dicky, of Tyskiss district; State Normal School, Miss Nettie L. Towdine, of Tyskiss district; Miss Agnes Gills of Hebron, Miss Alice G. Downing of Sharpstown. Mr. Walter C. Robinson of Sharpstown. Mr. Walter C. Downing of Sharpstown.

DR. FULTON'S GOOD FORTUNE.

Dr. John S. Fulton, Secretary State Board of Health.

The Baltimore Evening News of Thursday says: Dr. John S. Fulton of 6 West Bond street was today elected secretary and executive officer of the State Board of Health, to succeed Dr. James A. Stuart, who resigned last week. Others named for the post were Dr. Albert E. Haged, John R. Uhlir, and Wm. B. Canfield. The appointment goes into effect the second Thursday in October.

Dr. Fulton and all those mentioned for the office were strongly indignant and all the applicants had friends on the Board, but in the second ballot Dr. Fulton was unanimously elected.

The new appointee is a young man having graduated from the University of Maryland in 1881, and during the last year he has been associated with the institution in an official capacity. Pensions asking for an appointment came from all parts of the State, and one of the strongest from physicians on the Eastern Shore, where Dr. Fulton at one time resided and practiced, has profession. One of the petitions said that Dr. Fulton "has the confidence and esteem of our people; he is an energetic, industrious, progressive man, and in the line of his profession, is thoroughly honest, and a gentleman of high standing and integrity. While, politically, Dr. Fulton has heretofore been a Democrat, he has never been aggressive nor a ringmaster, but always for good government, and he will be good for the State and the people and will be active in behalf of the effort exerted by many good government Democrats for its success."

Dr. Fulton also had endorsements from 29 members of the last House of Delegates, including both Democrats and Republicans. Some of the endorsements were: Dr. W. T. Howard, L. M. Tidy of Baltimore, Dr. John H. Hammond of Worcester county, and Messrs. H. L. D. Stanford, Levin L. Waters of Princess Anne, Samuel A. Graham of Salisbury, and W. Sidney Wilson of Worcester county.

Salisbury people will be especially gratified with Dr. Fulton's advancement which besides the honor and the wide field for scientific investigation, carries with it a salary of $1800 and travelling expenses. Dr. Fulton went to Baltimore to his post two years ago. He had been practicing his profession here prior to his going to the city. Mrs. Fulton is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Adeline White of this city.

Ex-Governor Jackson has always been a strong supporter of Dr. Fulton.

WALTER L. HAINES' MANAGER.

The Most Complete Zoological Collection on Earth.

A circus, no matter if it was the Walter L. Haines' and grandest of all the world's shows, would not be complete without a menagerie, and no one knew this better than Col. Haines, when he opened a million dollars' worth of the jungle and forests of five continents for beasts rare and ferocious, strange and beautiful, to people his vast menagerie, which is connected with his monster 3 ring circus, New Wild West and Roman Hippodrome. Will be seen at Salisbury, on October 1, 1896.

Captain Haines and his men are filled with every strange and awful beast known to the Zoographer. Chief among the amphibians, carnivorous, bi-horned, spili-horned mammals is the terrible Borealopos. There are elephants, camels, dromedaries, deer, bears, lions, tigers, leopards, giraffes, serpents, reptiles and in a word birds and beasts of every kind. There is also, in a very attractive part of the menagerie, the entire little baby hippopotamus imaginable and four little baby lions; and in the unique department, amidst many marvels—too many to name in detail—a giant camel, the tallest animal alive. There is also the longest maned and tailed horse on all the green earth, with a mane five times as long as any other known horse's, and a tall in like manner. One hour is given before each performance in which all can see the animals and hear them lectured upon and for this object the doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. and the performance commences at 2 and 8 p. m.

The Bureau of Industrial Statistics,

"As a result of a partial investigation into the condition of labor, we find that much difficulty is sometimes experienced by the unemployed in their endeavors to secure employment, and, believing that a medium whereby the employer and employee could be brought in contact would be of great value to the industrial interests of the State, we have arranged for the introduction of an employment feature in conjunction with the Bureau, and have communicated with the employers of labor throughout the State, outlining our plans and conditions and soliciting their cooperation in the same.

Our purpose is to conduct this movement without cost to anyone, and every effort will be directed toward making it a success, and as a great number of unemployed are to be benefited, we ask that you give us your assistance, by announcing through your columns the introduction of this system, in order that all persons concerned, or likely to be interested, will be made aware of our endeavor in this direction.

Domestic help, of course is not included in the above. All communications

NO HOPE FOR NEW YORK.
Democratic Leaders Admit that Mr. Bryan
Will be Elected.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The admission by the New York Journal this morning that the complications in the political situation in New York will result in the certain loss of the State to the democracy has added to the consternation which Mr. Thacher's letter occasioned at democratic headquarters here. The feeling is that New York is hopelessly lost to Bryan and Sewall, and that the only question remaining is as to the size of the republican majority.

Senator Faulkner refused tonight to discuss the situation, and said that the management of the State campaign is in the hands of the State committee. As already pointed out in these dispatches, the democratic managers have never claimed New York with any serious idea that these claims would be realized.
They intimate, however, that something may yet happen which will straighten out the complications and give the democrats a fighting chance for the State ticket.

There is great bitterness at the headquarters of the different silver parties here over what they term the treachery of John Boyd Thacher, the democratic nominee for the governorship of New York, and the opinion prevails that Mr.
Thacher should at once be removed as the head of the New York State ticket.
It is conceded, however, that the managers of the Bryan and Sewall campaign have no right to interfere in the matter in any way, and unless their advice is asked it will hardly be offered.

The action of the State committee is awaited with anxiety because, in spite of the declarations of the managers here that Mr. Thacher's attitude can have no effect upon the chances of the national ticket outside of the State of New York, it is nevertheless admitted that to have a State campaign conducted upon lines opposed to those of the national campaign would furnish the republicans with a powerful argument in every section of the country.

MR. BRYAN

IN BALTIMORE.

Two Speeches Last Saturday in the Monumental City to Enthusiastic Audiences.

Mr. Bryan, the Chicago [nominee for President, made two speeches in Baltimore last Saturday. In his Music Hall speech he was greeted with a storm of
applause.

"It gratifies me much to be permitted to address so magnificent an audience in this great commercial city. It grati-fies me much to know that here there is manifested so deep an interest in the issues of this campaign. I desire to thank the commercial men of this badge which they have presented, not so much because of the badge as because it indicates that the commercial men realize that they cannot sell goods unless the people are able to buy goods."

"There are two ideas which are meeting in this city. One is the idea that all you have to do is to have confidence and that you will feel as well as if you had eaten a hearty meal. [Laughter and applause.] And the other is to be furnished a hearty meal and then have the pleasant recollection of having eaten it.
[Laughter and applause.]

"Our opponents tell you that if you just have confidence, all will be well.
We tell you that when you furnish the basis upon which confidence can rest then, and not until then will there be confidence in this country. [Applause.]

"I come as the nominee of the campaign of three parties who believe in the restoration of the money of the constitution, [applause.] as the nominee of three parties who believe that the money of the constitution is an honest money—honest enough for any man. [Applause.]

"A PLATFORM THAT MEANS SOMETHING."

"The democratic party at Chicago adopted a platform which means something, my friends."

"A Voice—'Right you are.'"

"There is no ambiguity about that platform and there is no doubt as to the position of the candidates who stand on that platform. [Applause.]

"Our platform has alienated some; it must needs be that any platform which covers several questions will alienate some, but, for my friends, I want to suggest this for your consideration—that the Chicago convention, composed of delegates nominated by the democratic party, is the only authority that can determine what is democracy in this country.
[Applause.]

TREATMENT OF DEMOCRATS.

"Some have left the democratic party because of the action of the Chicago convention. We cannot by any court proceeds restrain them from leaving the democratic party, but we can shut the door so that when they get out they cannot get back again. [Applause, loud continued.]

"We have no means by which we can keep people from leaving our house, but we can say that when a son leaves the house of his father and when he comes back, after having been fed with the boys, [laughter], we can decide whether we will let the fatted calf for him or make him saw wood for a long while [applause and laughter] before he gets out into the dining room. [laughter and applause.] and I want to warn the democrats who leave the democratic party now, and if they go they must go expecting to be put to work feeling like the enemy's party. [applause.] because this is a campaign in which we have arrayed upon one side all of those people whose highest ambition is to eat the bread of other people earned in the sweat of their brow. [Applause.]

"WILL FIGHT TO THE END."

"We have commenced a warfare which may end, or it may not, but it does not end until it ends until it does end in success. [Applause.]

"They say that this is a crazy and that it will soon blow over. My friends, they have been burying the silver cause for twenty years and it is the liveliest corpse that they ever attempted to put under ground. [Applause.] They have tried to ridicule us out of existence and have failed. They have tried to intimidate the silver question out of existence and have failed, and now they are trying to phase the silver question out of existence. [Applause.] and they will fail. [Applause.]

"No question is settled until it is settled right. [Applause.] Neither fraud nor intimidation nor corruption ever settled a question right. [Applause.]
They tell us that the trouble is agitation that if we could just stop agitation, all would be well. Bless their souls, when all is well agitation will stop of itself.
[Applause.]

WHY THE PEOPLE COMPLAIN.

"They find fault because people complain. Why don't they take away the cause of complaint and then the complaint will stop. [Applause.] The complain because conditions are hard for those who have to toil, those whose brain and muscle convert the material resources of the country into wealth, and then they complain at our complaint instead of complaining at the conditions which cause our complaint. [Applause.]

"They seem to have the idea that is said to have prevailed in olden times, that it was not wrong to steal, but that it was a crime to be caught stealing.
[Laughter and applause.]

"We denounce the gold standard as wrong, and the gold dollar under a gold standard is a robber going out to devour
[Applause.]

MONEY A CREATURE OF LAW.

"My friends, you can have whatever kind of money you want. Money is a creature of law, and those who make the laws can have whatever kind of money they want. They can take a dollar that is as good as dead as they want it.
If your dollar is not dead enough, no, reduce the amount of money and make it dearer. If it is not dear enough, then reduce it more and make it dearer still.
You can do it all, you have got to do it. It is the money maker's duty and right to make money dear. [Applause.]

A Voice: "That's right."

"THE GOLD DOLLAR—A CHILD OF GREED."

"The gold standard makes money
dear, and dear money means cheap property. [Applause.] The gold standard means that the dollar shall eat more and more of all other things from year to year. [Applause.] It means that the dollar shall be as appetite and stomach and devour without limit. [Applause.]
It means that this gold dollar, the child of greed, will never be satisfied, because its hunger increases as it feeds. [Applause.]

"If we are going to have the gold standard, if we are going to have this kind of a dollar that will rest on devouring more and more of all kinds of property, then, my friends, I insist that we change our diet and shall so stamp that dollar that it will say to the pauper that it is. Let us take away from it the emblem which is like a horse, and let us put on one side of that gold coin the image of a horse and on the other side
'Give, give, give,' and on the other side put the picture of an open purse, and above it write 'If aye, not; it is enough.' [Applause.]

"And then, my friends, as you handle that gold dollar you can read a biographical sketch every time you look at it.
Those two pictures will represent it as it is, as our opponents want it to be. [Applause.]

CUP OF SORROW NOT TO BE DRINKEN.

"Do you think that we have reached the end of the gold standard? There is no end. Do you think that we have drained the cup of sorrow to its dregs?
No, my friends, you cannot set a limit to financial depression and hard times.
Why? Because if the influence which are at work here are able to drive silver out of use as a standard money, those same influences will be turned toward other nations, and if they can succeed here, what reason have we to believe that they will fail when directed against other nations? And every nation that grows to the gold standard makes the dollar dearer still, and as the dollar rises in value you must sacrifice more of all the products of toil to get hold of it, and as you sacrifice more and more of the products of toil you will find that your debts will increase as your ability to pay you debts decrease, and in the long run the capitalist class will devour all the property and crack the lash over all the rest of the land. They say that I am exaggerating. No, my friends, I am not exaggerating. No language can exaggerate the evils of the gold standard."

CARLETON QUOTED.

"John G. Carlisle, in 1878, said that this struggle could not cease and ought not to cease until the industrial masses were fully and finally emancipated from the heartless domination of the syndicates, stock exchanges and combinations of money in this country and in Europe.
[Applause.]

"Have the industrial masses been fully and finally emancipated?"
Cries of "No, no." [Applause.]

"Ah, no, my friends; that heartless domination is more heartless today than ever before in the history of the human race. [Applause.] Never before have all the great money centres and all the great money centers so combined for an attack upon the people of the world.
[Applause.]

ONLY NATION THAT CAN FIGHT.

"We are fighting a battle upon the hilltop, and all the nations of the world are watching to see on which side victory will be. [Applause.] This is the only nation that can make the fight.
Other nations are powerless. [Applause.]

"Do the masses of England want a gold standard? They have never declared for it. Who wants the gold standard? Those who rule by right divine, and those greater rulers who stand behind the thrones and rule through the deba of the nations of the world. [Applause.]

"If our gold-standard friends in this country think that it is necessary for this nation to employ a foreign banking syndicate to take care of the United States when we have but a small nation at all, I ask you how the nations of Europe with their great standing armies and their great national debts, are going to escape from the clutches of the moneychangers of those nations? [Applause.]

A RAP FOR MARK HANNA.

A Voice—"Give old Mark Hanna a rap there while you are at it."

"I think that I can safely leave him to the tender mercies of my countrymen."

"I noticed in a paper the other day that the distinguished gentleman whose name seems to be upon the tongue of one of my auditors gave an interview, in which he said that the silver question had flamed upon the country like lightning out of a clear sky. It may be consented to know that the effect will be much the same as it usually is when the lightning hits what it strikes at. [Laughter and applause.]

"HEART AGAINST POCKETBOOK."

"This money question is a business question. Our opponents try to rid it of sentiment, but there is not much business that is devoid of sentiment. The man who toils all day is engaged in business. [Applause.] Why? For the benefit of those whom he loves better than his life.
[Applause.] He accumulates property.
He lays away for the rainy day. Why?
I say that when a man accumulates and saves you call it a matter of business.
and yet, my friends, it is that around which his hope and interest cling, because after he has done with it he expects that those of his flesh and blood shall enjoy it. Take from him this sentiment and there is nothing left. [Applause.] And when our friends tell us that they are running a sentimental campaign, we tell them that they are simply placing the human heart of the masses against the pocketbooks of the few. [Applause.]

POETRY AND FINANCE.

"Some one has said that you cannot write a poem in favor of the financial policy of the present administration. Why?
Because there is nothing in it to appeal to the sentiments or the hearts of the people. [Applause.]

"We might offer a large reward for a poem that would portray in beautiful language the advantage of having a syndicate run the government of the United States. [Applause.] Suppose some of you try to do how much enthusiasm
you can stir up with a poem of that kind.
[Laughter and applause.]

"You can sing of liberty, you can sing of freedom, you can sing of happiness, you can sing of love, but no man can sing of the government of a policy that batters away the welfare of seventy millions of people to a syndicate. [Applause.]

"If you want the present financial policy continued you have a chance to see that condition of things by voting
the republican ticket."

IF FOREIGN NATIONS INSIST.

"The republican platform proposes to continue the same promise from which the people have suffered. The republican platform declared for the gold standard, and when they declare for that they mean for all that that comprehends and includes. They declare that the gold standard shall be maintained, not for a year, or four years, or ten years, but forever, if foreign nations insist upon our doing it. [Applause.] The word used is 'Until.' Until is a long word my friends. [Laughter.] Until has no limit upon its application. They simply say that the destinies of the people of this nation are to be submitted to the decision of foreign powers; powers which cannot be reached by our ballots and cannot be touched by our petitions.
That is what it means. [Applause.]

"WAIT, WAIT, WAIT!"

"If the republican party had declared that while the metalism was good, that there ought to be some change made in the ratio, or some safeguards thrown about coinage, we might have met them in open debate and discuss before the people the advantages or necessities which they suggested, but when they mention no conditions when they propose no relief, when they suggest no change, but simply say to those whose distress has risen in one great wall, when they say to those 'wait, wait, wait,' they ought to know that the people have now waited until the hearts of the people are so sick to wait any longer." [Applause loud continued.]

A Voice—"Give it to them again that way."

TARIFF BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT.

"When we say that the money question is the paramount issue, our opposents keep trying to blot the tariff question into the open. Why? Not settle the tariff question by international agreement? [Laughter and applause.]

"In several campaigns where we have been advocating reductions in the tariff, our opponents have insisted that 'we were acting in the interest of foreign nations. If they want to find out who has the support of foreign nations this year, let them read the papers that come from abroad. [Applause.] If they want to know what the foreigner fear-most, a tariff policy or an independent policy, let them read the foreign papers.
[Applause.]

"Our campaign is exciting a good deal of interest in the old world just now.
[Laughter.] Just as long as the two great parties adopted ambiguous plank on the money question and then nominated candidates, both of whom were in the language of the Wall Street financier, 'good men, good men.' [Applause and laughter.] these campaigns over here were more insignificant matters; but this year it is different. [laughter.] aye, very different. And now their papers are watching and they are sending their over here to watch. I had the pleasure of meeting one the other day, a mono-metallist, who wanted to attend a meeting, and I was glad to have him, and I invited him to come out and see the people who thought this nation was big enough to attend to its own business.
[Applause.]

"Why, my friends, this nation has occupied a kneeling posture for so long that they hardly recognize it now that it stands up and looks them in the face.
[Applause.]

"NO MORE BOND BEFORE ELECTION."

"I have had occasion to remark that when they thought the silver crisis did not amount to much, they have just been out to the gold and issue bonds, then draw out the gold and issue more bonds and keep it up as long as there was a good market for bonds. Gold went abroad and it was sold to one thing and another. But the Chicago convention then adopted a platform which said that the gold and issue bonds, then draw

ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.
Mrs. Ellen Travers Found Dead At Her Home On Park Street.
The death of Mrs. Ellen Travers, last Sunday at her home on Park Street, was a peculiarly sad and unexpected one to her friends. She was 78 years old, and during the day she had been unusually bright, and when her daughter, Mrs. Fannie Hearn left her for a short time after supper, to visit a neighbor, Mrs. Travers was sitting comfortably in the room.
On Mrs. Hearn's return a half hour later, she found her mother lying dead outside the back door. Dr. Geo. W. Todd was called and after an examination, concluded that the deceased must have fractured the base of her skull.
Her funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The interment was in Parsons cemetery.
Mrs. Travers was the daughter of the late Edward Fowler, of Spring Hill, and was born at the old Fowler place. She was the widow of the late Mitchell Wallace Travers, of Salisbury. The deceased lady was 78 years old, and leaves one child, Mrs. Fannie Hearn.
Mrs. H. L. Todd of this city, and Dr. Fowler of Laurel, Del., were sister and brother of the deceased.
An Old Land Mark.
The Baptist church on Division street is one of the old landmarks of Salisbury. When first erected it was the Presbyterian place of worship. It stood near the old depot. It was afterwards moved nearer the center of the town and was sold to the Baptists. Since it has been in their possession it has been used at various times by the Episcopalians, Southern Methodists, and Methodists, when they were rendered homeless by fire. The Episcopalians were given the use of the building after the first great fire; and the M. E. congregation were received within its hospitable walls after the great fire of October, 1888.
After passing unharmed through so many dangers, it is dying of old age. The condition of the roof and ceiling especially have rendered it no longer fit for a place of worship. It is even unsafe.
The membership, though it has increased considerably of late, is still small, but with considerable courage they have determined to erect a house, which, while economical, will be an ornament to the neighborhood. They are unable however to finish it at once unless they receive assistance.
Those who have enjoyed the hospitality of these people in times past, have now an opportunity to help them in their time of need. Those who are interested in the general welfare of the town or in the improvement of this particular neighborhood would do wisely in helping this worthy object.
September Term of Court.
A case of considerable importance before the court, which convenes next week is the suit instituted by Col. Wm. J. Leonard against R. M. & W. T. Johnson, owners of the Wicomico Falls Mills, for damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of raising the mill dam and backing the water upon the lands of the plaintiff, on south side of the pond. It is not definitely settled whether this case will be ready for trial at this term.
The case of John Gordy, colored, removed from Worcester county, will be tried at this term. Gordy is charged with the murder of Elizabeth Timmons, whose mangled body was found on the tracks of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway, near Berlin, on Friday morning, May 1st. It is charged that Gordy beat her to death with a club and then placed the body on the railroad tracks, where it was found by the crew of a train bound for Ocean City.
The long list of indictments found by the March Term grand jury against persons for selling cigars and liquor on Sunday, and for selling liquor to minors, etc. will come up for a hearing, and are expected to consume considerable time.
A Marriage at Westport.
Westport, Md., Sept. 19, 1896.—One of the most beautiful marriage ceremonies ever performed in Mesquite's M. E. Church, occurred on the 16th, inst., at 2:30 o'clock. The contracting parties were Miss Rosa E. Phillips, eldest daughter of Wm. B. Phillips of this place, and Mr. Winfield Robertson, a prominent merchant of White Haven, and a son of the late George H. Robertson. The house was filled to its utmost capacity and the couples, Messrs. Oscar Robertson and Wood Wingate were kept well employed seating the many invited friends who had come to witness the performance. Miss Minnie L. Phillips, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Wirt Robertson acted as best man. The bride was attired in a most brilliant costume and carried a large and handsome bouquet of roses. The groom was attired in long cutaway suit. The wedding march (from Lohengrin) was ably played by Miss Ada Pollitt of Rockaway. After the ceremony was performed the happy couple were hastily driven to White Haven, where they embarked on steamer Tivoli, enroute for Washington, D. C. They contemplate extending their visit about five days, afterwards will return and make their future home at White Haven. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents. Rev. Mr. Hackman of Quantico, performed the ceremony.

Death of Beach Priest.
Mr. Beach Priest, founder of the great public library which bears his name, died a few minutes before 9 o'clock Friday night at his country home, "Tivoli," on Woodbourne ave., near Goran-town, in the eighty-ninth year of his age. His last birthday occurred September 10. Mr. Priest had been ill about two months with kidney trouble.
His death removes one of the most interesting of Baltimoreans. Active always with but few days of sickness until the last fatal illness came, Mr. Priest was to be seen every day on the business streets in his daily round. He had a bit of sage advice for this one who asked it and a library or library remark for each of his thousands of friends.
He started his business in Baltimore sixty-five years ago with a capital of $150. This was on January 1, 1831, and Mr. Priest was then a young man of twenty, having been born at North Middleborough, Plymouth county, Mass., September 10, 1806. His little capital had been accumulated as a clerk in Boston, where he had obtained a position when he graduated from an academy at Bridgewater, at the age of fifteen. He had a small beginning but accumulated millions which he dispensed with a liberal hand.
On August 1, 1830, Mr. Priest was married. His wife survives him. They had no children. On Saturday, August 1, of this year, the fifty-seventh anniversary of this marriage was observed by Mr. and Mrs. Priest in a quiet manner on account of Mr. Priest's illness.
Mr. Priest leaves a brother and sister. His brother is Mr. Isaac Priest, president of the Atlantic National Bank, of Boston. He is eighty-three years of age. His sister is Mrs. Susanah K. Toboy, of Westport, Md., who is eighty-four years of age. Mrs. Priest has four sons and one daughter, and Mrs. Toboy two sons.
Mr. Priest's business in Baltimore was at first that of a commission hardware merchant and later a wholesale dealer in iron. For some years he was in business for himself, but later he took his cousin, Martin Keith, into the firm. This partnership lasted for about ten years, at the end of which time Mr. Priest took a younger brother into business with him, the style of the firm being E. Pratt & Brother. This brother was Mr. David Pratt. The firm name is still to be read on the weather-vane at the sign over the doorway of the warehouse at 23 and 25 South Church street. After the death of his brother, his brother-in-law, the late Henry James, became associated with him. The business is now carried on by a son of Mr. James, Mr. Henry Pratt James.
Sharpshooters.
A rousing temperance speaking was held here last week. Col. Cheves, of Tennessee, was the orator of the occasion. The cornet band furnished music. Marie, the seven months-old child of Capt. F. C. Robinson, died last week. After funeral service by Rev. J. M. Yingling on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, the remains were taken to Thursday to Baltimore for interment.
An oyster was opened this week here, and instead of containing an oyster, a fish about three inches long was encased in the shell. The fish was undoubtedly alive in the shell, which was enclosed as perfect oysters are. The fish was of a peculiar species, such as was not known here.
A. W. Robinson and Wm. S. Marshall, visited Dover on Monday last, and heard Mr. Bryan speak. They seem well pleased, not only with the man, but with what he said.
The Methodist Protestant society netted about twenty dollars at the social of Saturday night last.
Miss Lizzie M. Twiford left here on Monday, to resume school duties at Allen. She spent her vacation in Cooperstown, N. Y., and much of the time sunbathing at the lake. The inspiration of that poetic city, and the exhilarating breezes of the lakes will no doubt give additional interest to her in the work of education, which she so much loves.
School opened here on Monday, with Prof. Samuel J. Douglas, of Salisbury, principal, Mrs. Sallie Clash and Miss Gertrude Bennett, assistants. Twiford's Hall is being used for the lower division of the school, that is the third department, organized last season.
The Bryan and Sewall Club has arranged to have Wm. E. Stewart of Easton, here on Thursday evening of next week, to address the club and public generally.

FALL ANNOUNCEMENT!
HAVING A MATTER of the utmost importance to lay before you, we hope you will give our words the same careful attention that you would doubtless grant us if we were able to call upon you for a little personal chat over this matter of importance—this matter that concerns you directly—this matter that you should think about and decide upon according to your best judgment. We refer to the purchase of goods in our line that will be necessary to your comfort and happiness during the coming fall and winter. The changing seasons bring to everybody certain wants which cannot be ignored, and it only remains for each individual to decide where they can best and most economically supply themselves with these necessities. Knowing that you want good quality, knowing that you want something late in style, and knowing that, most of all, you want the benefit of the lowest prices you can possibly find, we earnestly urge you to see Our Brand New Fall and Winter Stock.
We want you to investigate our goods and prices because of an unwavering faith in our ability to show you the best inducements of the season, which will result in sales for us and satisfaction for you.

CORN! CORN! CORN!
While you can listen to the corn-stalk, you can't hear it, and although it has ears it can't hear you. While some corn reaches a height of several feet, our particular corn, on our foot, has been known to raise a storm. Corn can be "eaten in the ear," a most peculiar feat. It can also be eaten "canned." Pop corn is a favorite among girls of 39 summers because it "pops" so nicely. Corn, when it is out gets "shocked." When the extract of corn gets into a man he cuts up, and the neighbors get "shocked." Thoroughgood sometimes "acknowledges the corn." He did last week. He sold so many new Fall Hats that the sizes got broken up and he couldn't fit every body's head that came last Saturday for a hat. But how about it now, 20 new cases came since—all styles. One thing Thoroughgood will never have to do is to "acknowledge the corn" on prices. People do say that his Hats are the prettiest Hats in town. Well they ought to be—they are the best in town, I know. You don't have to spend much money for a hat unless you want to. Prices range as follows: 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50. They're in sizes to fit boys, men and children. Young man! We're after you.

Millinery
Dress Goods
Fancy Articles
ON WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY,
Sept. 30, Oct. 1
Our Millinery Department this season will be under the supervision of Miss Mamie J. Hitch, assisted by our artistic and popular trimmer, Miss Josephine Moore of Philadelphia. Miss Moore made a great hit here last season, and is more thoroughly equipped than ever to please, having been with the largest openings this month in the great stores of the North.
We extend a cordial invitation to all our friends and the public generally to visit our store on Opening Days and make an inspection of the beautiful things we have provided for our Fall trade. Our store is always up to date, but we have this season surpassed all previous records.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Fifty Years Ago.
This is the cradle in which there grew that thing on which the world has based a remedy that would make life more comfortable for the afflicted that need such a remedy.
It is a fact that the Sarsaparilla was first made in this country by Dr. J. C. Ayer, some 50 years ago.
It was in the infancy half a century ago. To-day it doth "bestride the narrow world like a colossus." What is the secret of its power? Its cure! The number of those who have followed it from the beginning of the century, they are still behind it. Wearing the only medal granted to successful remedies in the World's Fair of 1893, it points proudly to its record. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record.
