

lavish hand of public patronage has crowned their efforts with an ample reward; and may we not say, that some have basked in the genial influence of Royal favor, and shared largely in the distributions of Court emoluments.

We have been prompted to make these remarks from a view of some portrait paintings, executed by our friend and citizen, Mr. E. S. Hopkins, (who for his information in his art has never trod soil beyond the jurisdiction of the town commissioners,) which for their accurate delineation of features and correct conception of shading we think are not surpassed by many of the itinerant performers of far-fetched pretensions, and although we do not assume the prerogative of a connoisseur on this subject, yet we think they lose nothing by a comparison with those executed by Mr. Mynars.

We should be gratified to see this effort of native Genius meet with its deserved encouragement, let the public examine the specimens now exhibited in the artist's room, lay aside the prejudices against domestic genius, and that species of self abasement which strikes at the root of every incentive to action, and yet in these modern days exclaims, can any good thing come out of Nazareth, and we think that encouragement will be given, and is there not a latent desire in the breast of every man and woman, who have acted well their part in life, to transmit to their posterity and friends, some token of remembrance, and what token more appropriate than the Fac Simile of real life in whose lineaments may be traced the anxious solicitude or affectionate smile of Parental kindness, and which will wrest from oblivion the expiring reminiscences of by gone days.

DIED.
In this county on the 6th inst. Miss Margaret Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Benjamin Henry, Jr. in the fifteenth year of her age. Like the rose whose leaves just began to expand in the morning of its glory but is cut down and withereth yet the wintry blasts of death will not the buds of virtue.

Released from all her cares and woes,
She rests in sweet and calm repose, Sickness, trouble, pain nor care Can never have an entrance there.
No chilling blasts, no scorching sun,
No clouds do there obscure her noon
But resplendent rays of light divine, Forever and forever shine.

RATCLIFFE.

A beautiful bay with black legs, mane and tail, five years old this spring and 16 hands in height, will stand at Easton this season on Tuesdays, the residue of the week at the stable of the subscriber. He will be let to mares on the following terms, viz:—eight dollars the Spring's chance, 12 to ensure and 4 the single leap, in each case 50 cents to the groom. As to bone, figure and action, it is believed this horse is excelled by none in the county; the public however, will judge for themselves upon these points. Ratcliffe was sired by Mr. Randolph's fine horse Rinaldo, his dam by Wm. R. Stewart's Messenger (who obtained the prize at the Eastern Cattle Show.) he by the celebrated horse imported Messenger. Ratcliffe's grand dam was a thorough bred mare raised by John Edmondson, Esq. (see certificate below.) Thus it appears that he is descended from the finest blood in this country. Sir Archy on the part of his sire, and imported Messenger on the side of his dam.

Talbot county, April 13th 1833.

CERTIFICATE.

I certify that the bay mare sold by me to Henry Hollyday, Esq. was sired by Cockfighter (raised by Gen. Stewart, of Charles county, and afterwards sold to Col. Edward Lloyd,) her dam by Venitia, her grand dam by Figure raised by Benjamin Ogilvie of the city of Annapolis, from the imported Figure, her great grand dam by Paquet, imported before the Revolution.

JOHN EDMONDSON.

The stock of horses on the dam side from which this mare was descended, was more highly prized and valued by my Father than any other from which he had ever bred, both for their speed and invincible spirit. J. E.

OFFICE OF THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE, April 3rd 1833. PROPOSALS TO THE PUBLIC for the sale and leasing of Building Lots, Sites for Manufactories, and locations possessing commercial facilities suited to the various purposes of trade and commerce.

THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE, having made the necessary improvements on their extensive premises preparatory, and particularly respective to commercial operations and suitable for the accommodation of settlers of various classes and professions, and completed their arrangements, are now ready to receive applications for purchasing or leasing any part of their premises. It is therefore proper in this stage of their progress to promulgate their plans and publish their intentions.

The Canton Company of Baltimore make their proposals to the enterprising of all classes and professions. Their recent purchases of land connects their premises with the improvements on Fleet-street and have effected a continuity of location, and an identity of interest with the wharves and warehouses at Fell's Point. It is therefore not presumed too much to anticipate a full co-operation of all the enterprising citizens in the eastern part of Baltimore, in extending the Rail Road eastwardly from its present termination in Preside street, to the Company's premises during the present season. The distance is short—the facilities of construction of the Rail-road track are such as will require only a small expenditure, and divided amongst property holders who will be directly benefited by the measure, would not be felt.

The Canton Company have made arrangements for constructing, and will immediately commence, several Ship Yards at Cedar Point for the accommodation of some of the most enterprising Ship Builders of Baltimore. The Company will shortly have completed extensive accommodations for Lumber Establishments at Harris Creek. They have also made arrangements for a large supply of Bricks, in addition to those furnished from their own Brick-yard.

Also, have arrangements in progress for securing supplies of Lumber for building. Enterprising Carpenters and Bricklayers who have a small capital to invest, will meet with encouraging overtures to build on the Company's premises, the Company furnishing Lots, Bricks and Lumber, at satisfactory prices, and on terms which will be mutually advantageous to the contracting parties.

The land graded for building and business purposes the past year on Cedar Point, the west side of Harris Creek, and west of Patterson's wharf, contiguous to Fell's Point, amounts to about 500,000 superficial feet. As these locations and the contiguous deep water, are indispensable to the increase of the population, trade and commerce of Baltimore, the enterprising and discerning, especially of the rising generation, cannot fail to appreciate their value, and it is hoped will avail themselves of the liberal conditions and chances of profit which will reward the first participants in this growing enterprise. The Canton Company, therefore, in order to encourage the industrious and enterprising, and to meet with becoming liberality the overtures of purchasers, have designated TWO HUNDRED VALUABLE LOTS, advantageously situated in reference to the improvements already made, and to the general facilities for active business, and will sell them by public auction on WEDNESDAY the 15th day of May next, to the highest bidder, without reserve, the sale to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M. on the premises.

The Company confidently expect, that the completion of the measures now in progress to furnish the requisite facilities for an active business on the premises, will form a nucleus, which will possess the elements of a healthy prosperity—furnish a satisfactory guarantee of a constant progression in all the various pursuits and professions which constitute a prosperous commercial, manufacturing, and trading community, from which as a common centre will diverge the means of a future and rapid increase.

It may be questioned whether the cities in ancient story, which rose from small beginnings to wealth and magnificence, before mankind were skilled in naval architecture and commerce, possessed the elements of prosperity equal to the favored city of Baltimore, and especially to that part of Baltimore known as the premises of the Canton Company. With a confidence of success in their undertaking, growing out of a knowledge of the unquestionable value of their location for extensive commercial operations, The Canton Company of Baltimore invite the attention of enterprising men throughout the United States to an investigation into the merit of their enterprise, in the full belief, that approbation of the undertaking will, in all cases where circumstances shall favor the measures, result in a profitable co-operation. Per order,

HENRY FITZ, Secretary.

Application for any of said two hundred lots at private sale, will receive prompt attention.

THE Advertiser takes this method of informing the sick and afflicted of every grade, that he has opened an Infirmary, upon botanical principles, in which they can receive medical attendance and board upon reasonable terms, to suit the circumstances or times of the patients, or if they prefer it they will be attended at their places of residence. This Infirmary is founded entirely on botanic principles to the exclusion of Minerals and the Shedding of blood.

He is also prepared to administer the cold, warm, tepid, hot, vapour, shower and Medicinal Baths. To those who are past the meridian of life, says Dr. Darwin, "and have dry skins and begin to be enervated, the warm bath for half an hour twice a week I believe to be eminently serviceable in retarding the advances of age." Acting upon this principle, this learned physician relates that when Dr. Franklin was in England, he recommended the latter to use a warm bath twice a week; a practice which he afterwards continued till his death. He will at all times keep on hand a regular supply of Thompsonian Botanic Medicine, for sale by

MARYLAND ECLIPSE.

THE thorough bred horse Maryland Eclipse, will be let to mares this spring, at the stands of Centreville and Easton, at the sum of twenty dollars the season, fifteen dollars the single leap, twenty five dollars to insure with foal, and fifty cents to the groom.

The single leap, payable before the mare goes to the horse, the season at its close, and the insurance as soon as it is ascertained the mare is in foal. If the mare be sold, the person putting her to the horse will be held liable for the amount of insurance.

The season will commence on the first day of April next at Centreville, where the horse will remain during that week, and on Monday following at Easton, and remain there also a week, and then alternately at Centreville and Easton, a week at each place during the season, which will close on the first of July.

ECLIPSE is a dark chestnut sorrel, near 16 hands high, nine years old this Spring, and possesses great strength & beauty; his colts are remarkably large and fine, and those upon the turf give evidence of great speed, as yet however, few have been trained, the oldest of his colts, being only three years old last season. One of his colts bred by the proprietor and sold to a gentleman in N. York, was trained and tried last season, and proved to be a successful rider, running her mile in one minute and fifty seconds, both heats, and beating four others, with great ease. Eclipse was trained for the first time, and ran in the Spring of 1830 (being the two preceding years on the stand as a stallion) in the State of New Jersey, a mile and repeat, and won with great ease, beating three other horses; he was afterwards carried to Poughkeepsie, and entered against the celebrated race horse Sir Level, and although beaten, yet it is said, this race was run in as short, if not a shorter time, with the same weight, than was ever run in the United States, the first heat was run in 3 minutes 57 seconds, and the second heat in 3 minutes 46 seconds, two miles and repeat. Sir Level after this race, was taken to New York, and matched against Mr. Johnson's celebrated race mare Arietta, (which had a short time before beaten Ariel two miles, in a match for $5000) Sir Level distanced Arietta the second heat in 3 minutes 48 seconds, thereby proving that Eclipse was a better racer than Arietta. After the race at Poughkeepsie, Eclipse was turned out and trained in the fall following, and gave greater promise of speed, than on his first trial, but in his exercises received an injury in one of his sinews, and was withdrawn from the turf without further trial. Subjoined is the Certificate of the gentleman who trained him, and voluntarily tendered.

Colt's Neck, New Jersey, Nov. 30, 1830.

I certify that for the last thirty years and upwards, I have been in the yearly practice of training race horses, and have had in my possession, some of the reputed best horses in the country; for the last year I have had Maryland Eclipse, with others under training exercise, and give it as my opinion that for any distance I have tried him, which was never more than two miles, he is the fastest horse I have ever trained.

(Signed)

JOSEPH K. VAN MATER.

The original Certificate of his performance at Poughkeepsie (where he ran), from the Secretary of the Club, and of Mr. Van Mater, are in the possession of the proprietor and can be seen upon application.

of Delegates, I request that the following acts be passed at the next General Assembly, viz:

1. A supplement to the act, entitled, an act relating to the People of Colour, in this State, passed at December session 1831, chapter 281.

2. A further additional supplement to the act of December session 1837, ch. 117, entitled, an act to regulate the Issuing of Licences to Traders, Keepers of Ordinaries and others.

3. An act to repeal an act, entitled, an act to abolish imprisonment for debt on certain judgments rendered by Justices of the Peace, passed at December session 1830, ch. 155.

4. An act supplemental to an act, to abolish imprisonment for debt on certain judgments, rendered by Justices of the Peace, passed at December session 1830 ch. 155.

5. A further additional supplement to the act entitled, an act to establish Pilots, and regulate their fees.

6. An additional supplement to the act, entitled, an act relating to the People of Color in this State, passed at December session 1831, ch. 281.

THOS. CULBRETH, CLK.

of the Council.

AN ACT.

A supplement to an act, entitled, an act relating to the people of color in this State, passed at December session eighteen hundred and thirty one, chapter two hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That whenever the Board of Managers appointed under the act to which this is a supplement, shall inform the people of any county, of the refusal to remove any person or persons therein mentioned, and is a supplement, or by any of the supplements to said act heretofore passed.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That by the licence to trade, mentioned in this act, shall be understood all or any of the licenses to authorize sales required to be taken out or issued under the acts of Assembly, to which this act is a supplement. That all presentments or indictments, which charge an offence substantially in the terms of the first section of this act, shall be deemed and taken to be sufficiently well pleaded in law, to warrant a conviction and judgment; and that all competent matters tending

to excuse a party presented or indicted from

any obligation to take out a license under the existing laws, or from the penalty hereby created, may be given in evidence under an indictment so framed, and shall avail as a defence to

or a justification of the matters charged according to their legal effect, under the whole system.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That all sales, made in the ordinary course of trade by the partner, wife, agent, or servant of the party presented or indicted, shall be deemed to be made by such party, and given in evidence as his act and that the words, "goods, wares and merchandize" as used in the first section of this act, shall include spirituous and fermented liquors.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the seventh and ninth sections of the act of eighteen hundred and twenty seven, chapter one hundred and seventy seven, shall be repealed; except the proviso or ninth section.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That the County courts, and Baltimore City Court, shall have jurisdiction of the offences created by this act,

as in other cases.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That nothing herein contained, shall be construed to require persons to take out a license for the sale of cider or Small Beer, made by the persons offering to vend the same, or be construed to prohibit the distiller of spirituous liquors, from selling without license in quantities less than a quart, the spirits distilled by the seller.

AN ACT.

Supplemental to an act, passed at December session eighteen hundred and thirty two, entitled, an act to repeal an act entitled, an act to abolish imprisonment for debt on certain judgments rendered by Justices of the Peace, passed at December session, eighteen hundred and thirty, chapter one hundred and fifty five.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That in all cases where a dispute or controversy shall or may hereafter take place between the master of any

coasting vessel and a regularly licensed pilot,

the said parties may and shall have the right

and privilege to take the case before a single

Justice of the Peace, for a hearing and settlement of said dispute or controversy in the same manner, and with the same privileges as they would have on a case of common debt, before a Justice of the Peace in the State.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That so much of the act, entitled, an "act to establish pilots and regulate their fees," and of the several supplements thereto, as are inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be, and the same are hereby repealed.

JAMES THOMAS.

AN ACT.

An additional supplement to the act, entitled,

an act relating to the People of Colour in this

State, passed at December session, eighteen hundred and thirty one, chapter two hundred and eighty one.

WHEREAS, it appears that no certain time is

by the said original act, limited for the payment of the annual tax, directed to be levied

by the eighth section thereof—

Therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General

Assembly of Maryland, That unless the tax by

the said original act, directed to be levied for the year eighteen hundred and thirty two, shall be paid into the Treasury, or before the first of July next, the collectors thereof shall be chargeable with and pay from that time, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the like tax levied or to be levied for the current year, shall be to be hereafter levied for any future year, shall be paid into the Treasury, on or before the first of January next thereafter, and that upon so much as shall not have been then so

paid, interest shall be charged and paid as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That in case the Justices of the Peace, or Commissioners, of any one or more of the counties of this State shall have failed to levy the portion of tax authorized to be levied thereon by the act to which this is a supplement, then and in that case it shall be the duty of the said Justices or

Commissioners, to levy the same with the addition of interest for the year in arrears, at their next meeting for levying the County Levy, or

City tax.

disturb to their estate in Maryland,

any Slave or Slaves and their increase,

being slaves for life, which belonged to the

said person or persons, and which said slaves

resided either in that part of the district aforesaid, or in Maryland, antecedent to the passage of this act; and that it shall be lawful for any resident of Maryland who has removed, or hereafter remove to the district for a limited period, to carry with him, her, or them, any slave or slaves, which he, she, or they may think proper, and to bring the same back into the State of Maryland at pleasure: Provided, that any slave or slaves introduced into this

State, contrary to the provisions of this section, and of colour of authority derived from this section, shall be forfeited in conformity with the provisions of the fourth section of the act to which this is a supplement.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That when any citizen of this State, who may be the owner of land in an adjoining State in which he or she has been in the habit or may be desirous of

working with the labour of Slaves owned by

such citizen, he or she shall be permitted to bring into this State such slave or slaves whenever he or her convenience may require; provided such slaves shall have resided in and been removed by such citizen from this State.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That any citizen of this State, who shall leave it for a limited time in the service of the Government of the United States, or of this State, may bring with him on his return, any slaves, being free, who he may have taken a way, and that in case of his decease, it shall be lawful for his legal representatives to re-introduce them into this State; provided the name, age, and sex of every such slave be recorded previously to removal, in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of the County in which such citizen may be, together with a declaration of the reasons for departing, and of

the purpose of returning: And Provided also,

that a similar record shall be made, within three days after the return of any such slave.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the clerks of the respective county courts, to keep a list of slaves or other persons brought into this State, in conform with the provisions of this act, to be recorded, and it shall be lawful for them to receive from the person or persons presenting the same, the fee of one dollar for each slave or other person so introduced, and to retain the same for the use of the court.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal

any part of the act to which this is a supplement, or of any other law, unless utterly inconsistent with it.

And be it enacted, That in all cases where the wife or husband of the male or female owner of any slave, or of any part thereof, shall be deceased, and the same shall be owned in this State by any person, he or she shall be deemed to be the owner of such slave, and shall be deemed to be the owner of such slave, and state, and as if the case made in the bill or

—And my soul aches,
To know, when the two authorities are up, Neither supreme, how soon confusion—May enter 'twixt the gap of both, and take The one by the other.

Messrs. Editors:—I have heard a great deal said upon the late proceedings of Congress, and particularly upon the passage of Mr. Clay's Tariff bill. Many believe this latter piece of legislation to be a masterly stroke of policy, although I have observed that those who unite in applauding it, are by no means agreed upon its exact nature and intention. Some regard it as a dignified concession, others consider it a dexterous manoeuvre while an elderly gentleman of my acquaintance who has been an attentive reader of the newspapers for the last twenty years, tells me seriously that he does not know what to make of it. For myself, without seeking to penetrate into the motives and designs of those who took the lead in this business, I am mainly solicitous to know what good and sufficient reason there was for the passage of any Tariff Bill whatever, under circumstances such as those that attended the late deliberations of Congress. After much revolving of the subject, I have fallen upon two suppositions, by way of accounting for that extraordinary proceeding, one or the other of which, I am persuaded, must be the true one. If there be any secret reason which is preceptible only to a politician's eye, and is too refined to be apprehended by an ordinary mind, I, who am an ordinary man, looking at the subject with the light of common sense, ought not to be blamed for not finding it out. My two suppositions may be stated thus: first, either those gentlemen in Congress who favoured the above-mentioned bill, were friendly to Mr. Calhoun's doctrine of State Rights; or secondly, they were driven by the menaces and violence of South Carolina to act contrary to their sense of duty and propriety. If the first be true then the whole matter will be plain enough; for if the Government shall appear to be only a compact between sovereign States, I can very easily see the propriety of making sacrifices and concessions to preserve the union which authority cannot maintain. But as the human mind is not often induced in so short a time to abandon long cherished opinions for the sake of taking up new ones, especially when those new ones are to the last degree inconsistent and absurd, I must first believe that the last mentioned supposition is the true one. For if it be not true, I would like that any one give me, upon any other ground, an adequate reason for a proceeding which every body will allow to be extraordinary in the extreme. I know that some will here mention the recommendation of the President in his message, and of the Secretary of the Treasury in his report. But this goes a very little way in satisfying me. The President recommended several other things in his message, and I can see no reason why every other object of national legislation should be put aside, to make way for this, especially when it had received so large a share of attention at the preceding session. Nor has the recommendation of the President, usually, such a wonderful influence, as that which we have seen operating from some quarter, in this business. He advised a modification of the Tariff in his first message & continued to repeat the advice: each one succeeding, yet every body knows that no modification was made until the last year. Besides, the President recommended a reduction solely upon the supposition that an excess of revenue would arise under the system of duties last established. Now I maintain that no one can calculate with any certainty, what will be the amount of revenue under a system of duties which has never been tried. For if the quantity of importations depends very much upon the rate of duties, as all will grant, with what certainty can the importations of a preceding year, under one system of imports be taken as a rule to estimate what will be the importations of a subsequent year, under a system materially different? And as the demand for many articles increases, to a certain degree, in proportion as those articles are made more accessible, and decreases in like manner according as the difficulties in the way of procuring them are multiplied, it is apparent that a reduction of duties upon such articles, by facilitating their introduction, and encouraging their consumption, might actually increase the revenue; while, on the other hand, a raising of the impost, by checking the importation, might in the same proportion diminish the receipts of the treasury. Thus it would appear that a Tariff system should not only be tried but that its operations should be watched with attention, and that experiments should from time to time be made with care, before any modification of it be made for the purpose of limiting to a given sum the amount of revenue to be derived from it.

Besides, the Public Land Bill which had been under discussion at the preceding session, and which every body supposed would become a law, contemplated the abstraction of nearly three millions of dollars from the national treasury. Certainly then it would not be the part of prudence to fall suddenly to work to lessen the national revenue, when provision was making for a reduction so considerable, and when it was absolutely unknown whether any surplus would remain.

I am inclined to think also, that the recommendation of the President is not sufficient to account for the sudden and most extraordinary amalgamation of adverse sentiments and of contending parties, which we have seen take place. For my own part, I do not recollect to have ever heard or read any thing similar to it, or in any manner to be compared with it. We here behold the citizen of the North and the citizen of the South, the supporter of the Tariff and advocate of free trade, the friends of the administration and the members of the opposition, politicians of the old school, politicians of the new school and politicians of no school, forgetting their animosities, and uniting upon a point from which but a few months before they were as distant as the poles. Men who are agreed in nothing else, agreed in urging this bill the usual forms of parliamentary proceedings were made to give place to more expeditious process, and so anxious to expedite its passage, that they chose to vote for it without understanding its meaning, rather than delay its progress by waiting to ascertain it.

Without stopping to consider the abominable doctrines of Nullification, which no one can deny have gained a signal triumph by the passage of this Bill, I would have every reflecting man ponder well upon the example which is here set to be imitated by the future Legislatures of this nation. I refer now to that fatal principle, which is here admitted, of abandoning the settled policy of the government for the sake of appeasing the fury of a party; as if the constitution expected not that its institutions should be revered, or had provided no means of silencing the clamours of the seditions except that of yielding to their demands. I think it may be laid down as a maxim that when a government comes to such a pass as to be swerved from its own sense of what is proper, by threats of violence from without, and it is perfectly indifferent whether those threats come from the leader of an army or the leader of a mob, from a foreign enemy or a domestic demagogue, such government has ceased to perform the offices for which governments are created, and is not far from being an object of contempt to its own-wishers, and of derision to the world. A departure from principles is not less to be reprehended in a State than in an individual, and the practice of doing evil that good may come, is equally dangerous in politics as it is wrong in morals. I cannot forbear observing that this short-sighted policy of surrendering important principles to get rid of temporary inconveniences, is the very kind of that which was pursued in the Roman administration, and which resulted in what was its necessary consequence, the destruction of that Republic. He who reads the history, of that people will see, that from the expulsion of Tarquin until the usurpation of Caesar, the whole domestic history of Rome comprises little else than the history of perpetual struggles between the different orders in the Government; the Plebeians on the one and striving to extend their powers, the Patricians on the other vainly endeavoring to preserve their authority.—The mob, in all these contentions, had but one way of gaining their point, which was to threaten secession, refuse to enlist, or in other words, nullify the laws, &c; and on each occasion the Patricians, for the sake of present peace, would grant their demands. Thus things went on until a balance of power in the Government was entirely destroyed, a feeble existence barely remained to the executive part of the administration, and a domina plebis the rule of a mob was substituted in the place of a wholesome authority.

The fathers of our country sought, no doubt to provide against the occurrence of similar commotions in this government, by granting to the people at the outset all that they could struggle for if withheld, and by making them the source of all power, left them no opponent to contend with.—One would suppose that this provision must effectually prevent those intestine divisions so fatal to republics; that the people being sovereign, with no odious distinction of orders to excite their envy, and with no rival power to alarm their fears, would have no inducement to derange a government which they themselves had created. And such would have been the case but for designing men. Those busy gentlemen, known by the name of demagogues, who must needs have something to work upon, finding nothing else to suit their purposes, have started up the captivating notions of State Rights. The attacks upon the powers of the Federal Government will no doubt be followed up with as much activity and violence as ever characterized the struggles of the contending powers in the Roman republic. Unless more firmness than we have seen displayed in the late encounter be brought to the aid of the Constitution, the issue of the contest may be foreseen without a prophet's eye. For this reason I cannot join with those who congratulate themselves upon the prospect of a period of rest from our disturbances, nor with a certain distinguished individual, who because he is growing old and has seen enough of trouble in his life is willing to purchase tranquillity at the price of principle, and to secure present repose at the risk of future commotion.

I take leave of the subject for the present having already covered more paper than I had intended, and said more than I may be convenient for me to insert at once.

To the Editor of the Easton Gazette
Mr. Editor:

There are some persons who entertain an impression, that Mr. Clay and Mr. Webster have become alienated from each other by the course of events which took place on the Compromise Bill. This is a great mistake—these gentlemen, to be sure, differed in relation to the most eligible course to be pursued at the time—both anxious to put a stop to the career of South Carolina—both anxious to reduce the income into the National Treasury by the safest and best means to the actual wants of the country—and both anxious to preserve the manufacturing interest which was in a great degree staked upon the nature and character of the impost duties. Mr. Clay thought he saw such a disposition in the South as rendered necessary the kind of Bill that he introduced—while Mr. Webster, unconscious of such alarming appearances in the Southern Sky, thought it safest to all interests concerned to do nothing more than to let the Law of the 14th July, 1832, go into operation, being itself a great diminution of the rate of Tariff as a concession to Southern feeling, as well as a reduction of revenue adapted to national wants, that its results might serve as the best criterion of the kind and degree of reduction that it would be further necessary to make.

That they were in opposition to each other in the discussion on Mr. Clay's bill is certainly no evidence of hostility. Mr. Webster's preference for another course being known, he assigned his reasons for that course & against the one suggested by Mr. Clay—but in this every thought and phrase with him was in harmony with strictest fidelity—the slightest severity never escaped from his lips. From the other hand, Mr. Clay did glance sarcasm at Mr. W. not unfrequently borrowing the expression of "new born zeal" from the debate; it was a way he has, for he knew that there is a species of greatness that defies all sarcasm and triumphs in all argument. The best friends may honestly differ on a public matter and be not the less friends—their integrity of views is not such the bond of friendship.

Mr. Clay, it is said, did not consult with Mr. Webster upon his compromise Bill, but he consulted with Mr. Calhoun. We cannot charge Mr. Clay with want of good faith exactly in this. From what had passed, he may have seen the views of Mr. Webster, for they were always undisguised—and he may have desired to know from Mr. Calhoun what was the least that would suffice as an apology for South Carolina to retire on. To suppose that Mr. Clay would abandon Mr. Webster to take up with Mr. Calhoun, is doing injustice to Mr. Clay—may more—it is stigmatizing Mr. Clay with ingratitude which we think his generous heart is incapable of—surely if ever friend was true, if ever man was faithful, Webster was that true and faithful man to Clay throughout the whole period that he was held up as a candidate for the Presidential chair.—Besides a thousand influences exerted by Mr. Webster in all quarters of the Country, his vigilance, and devotion, and forbearance in saying nothing of his guardianship over Mr. Clay's chivalrous excitability, throughout the whole of the unprecedented long session of Congress preceding the Presidential election was equally admirable and unexampled.—He was never known to be absent from the Senate Chamber one instant, during session of Senate, when Mr. Clay was out of the way—and seldom indeed when he was present. He forbore on all occasions to divide with Mr. Clay distinction in any great debate, leaving him to cull all the honors without aid, without partnership, without division—and had reason instead of passion decided the great contest, Webster's speech at Worcester alone would have made Mr. Clay President of the United States.

But even to go back—what event had such powerful influence to draw Mr. Clay into public life again as the memorable, triumphant stand made by Mr. Webster against Mr. Hayne in defence of Constitutional construction, and the comparative aids that the West had received from the South and the North East? Great and powerful as was that appeal to the sense and virtue of the country, was there a man within its borders who felt its effects more delightfully than Mr. Clay?—after all this then, to suppose him capable of designing, or even permitting an estrangement from such a noble, estimable, and all powerful friend as Mr. Webster would be to underrate Mr. Clay and to do injustice to his faithful and manly sentiments.

But it is asked, how is it, that Mr. Webster is on the side of the administration? does not that seem strange? I ask, in what instance? By what do you judge? The reply is, Mr. Webster sustains the constitutional doctrines set forth by the administration against South Carolina, and advocates the Revenue collection Bill, known as the enforcing act. Is this your evidence that Mr. Webster is on the side of the administration? If it is, you have quite as much evidence that Mr. Clay is on the side of administration, because he has introduced and advocated a bill to do away all protection and to reduce duties to a mere revenue system, in exact accordance with the views of the Executive authentically expressed in the Congressional Messages.

But let us understand matters plainly. Is it meant by saying, that Mr. Webster is on the side of administration, that he has changed sides, changed his ground, or changed any opinions or principles? If this is meant, it is a gross error and gross perversion of the fact. If on the question of South Carolina Nullification there is any similarity of opinions and views between Mr. Webster and the administration, it must be obvious to any one, at all informed upon the matter, that Mr. Webster had made his full exposition of his view of constitutional doctrines in relation to Nullification nearly two years ago in the contest with Mr. Hayne before the administration had expressed theirs—and if there is any similarity between them, and that similarity is evidence of change, it is plain that the administration have taken Mr. Webster's ground not that he has gone over to theirs.

Mr. Calhoun avers, that Mr. Webster is the exclusive author of his interpretation of the constitution, declaring that no such construction had ever been given to it before.—Mr. Webster made his exposure of the constitution in January 1830—General Jackson's proclamation against the Nullifiers came out about 10th December, 1831 almost two years after—and General Jackson's message to Congress on the same subject appeared in January 1832, quite two years after. If in these two last papers, uttered about two years after, similar constitutional grounds were taken against the nullifiers to those put forth by Mr. Webster, is that to be called the going over to the administration by Mr. Webster—or is it not rather proof of the consistency of his views?—Is it not the approved doctrine of Mr. Webster? Let the world decide.

But Mr. Webster made a speech on the Revenue Collection Bill, which bill had been asked for by the President—therefore it looked as if he was on the side of the administration. Let us see how that was. The doctrine of nullification had been blown into the air by Mr. Webster in 1830 when General Hayne was its champion. During the late session of Congress Mr. Calhoun resigned his station as Vice President and his partisans sent him to the Senate as their champion of nullification, as the "Goliath" of the party. It was some considerable time after Mr. Calhoun took his seat before Mr. Webster said a word in relation to the great question. This silence was produced by two considerations—viz. Knowing the defeat Gen. Hayne had experienced, and at whose hands, a sense of decorum toward the new champion long restrained him—2dly. It was but courteous as well as becoming in Mr. Webster, as he had won a victory on this subject, to wait to give other men in the Senate who were great in the nation's eyes and who thought with him, an opportunity to gather laurels by the conquest of the mighty "champion." But after long waiting, and none seeming inclined to enter the lists—after seeing from the public prints from all parts of the country that Daniel Webster was looked up to by the Nation to meet the Ajax of Nullification—and when scarcely time remained to go through the conflict, Mr. Webster did offer himself as ready to "try conclusions" with the Senator of South Carolina, and did meet him and triumph over him with signal success—to use the language of a bystander, tossing the doctrine and the advocate from Rock to Rock—from point to point, until it was shattered and scattered into unintelligible chaos.—I cost him no trouble, for it was reason against delusion—it was history against fable. In doing this did Mr. Webster express one sentiment that looked like approbation of, or favour towards the administration? On the contrary, did he not avowedly so shape the course of his argument as to avoid every semblance of the sort? It being upon the discussion of the Revenue collection Bill that Mr. Calhoun made his speech, of course it was upon the same bill that Mr. Webster made his reply. But Mr. Webster, instead of discussing the merits of the Bill, confined his reply to Mr. Calhoun's resolutions which constituted the foundation and essence of Mr. Calhoun's speech—nor did he even touch that branch of the resolutions which immediately bore upon the character of the Bill and the President's Proclamation, but adhered exclusively to all the other branches of the Resolutions which set forth the "Carolina Doctrine" of nullification, secession and disunion. These he exposed, he proved "clearer than light" to be futile, untenable and inadmissible—these he showed to be hostile to the constitution in every sense and feature, revolutionary under every aspect, destructive in every possible practical operation. If in this unequalled defence of the constitution of the country,—of the true construction of the union of the States—if in this lofty exertion to save the rights and liberties of the nation and to guard the peace and harmony and prosperity of the People, the administration found aid and sanction for the course they had taken towards the nullifiers of South Carolina, it was a mere result in coincidence with what every portion of the people of these United States experienced in having the principles of their Government so expounded and the nature of their Union so explained, as to excite every doubt and defy all rational contradiction.

The world have assigned to Mr. Webster the loftiest pinnacle of fame—it would be wanting, cruel injustice to the great and noble qualities of Mr. Clay to suppose that an estrangement existed between them.

These are two men that the nation should cherish and be proud of. They rose from poverty by the force of mind alone, and now stand foremost in the highest rank of Great men in the world.—These are the happy illustrations of the beneficence of our system of Government—these are the brilliant gems of Republican institutions—these are the rich fruits of a national Constitution and union.

EASTON GAZETTE

EASTON, (Md.)

Saturday Morning, April 20.

A press of Advertisements and other matter, last week, prevented our announcing the highly important intelligence of the arrival of the Slow and Easy western mail, through the great exertions of the Contractor, in due time. We wish we could communicate the intelligence of her arrival in due time last evening, or at any time before this paper went to press—but the contractor appears fearful of losing the name by performing two regular trips in succession.

It would have made many of our readers shake their sides with laughter, had they heard, as we did, a description of a passage, in the Slow and Easy line, from this place to Baltimore, by some of our town folks who wished to see the world—in quick time. The description commenced with their comfortable ride from Easton to the Slow and Easy leaky mail boat, Martin Van Buren—fine qualities of the horses—the landing—the great convenience in getting on board the mail boat—splendid accommodations and sumptuous fare provided for passengers—hour of arrival in Baltimore—appearance of passengers on their arrival—their delight that it was near midnight & their woe because condition would be seen but by few, save the watchmen—one of the passengers observed, "it was really, take it all in all, one of the most comfortable conveyances he had ever seen or heard of, and that he had travelled a good deal in his time." We understand the curiosity of the party was fully satisfied and that it will be some time before they again try the Slow and Easy, but when they do, we are determined to provide themselves with oil-cloth great coats, and lay in rations sufficient for two or three days at least.

From the Cambridge Chronicle of Saturday last.
Having received no papers this week, except by the mail, we are unable to-day to present the reader with any late intelligence from abroad.

The editors of the Baltimore journals who favor us with an exchange, would lay us under additional obligations by forwarding their papers through the medium of the Steam-boat.

The New-Orleans Commercial Bulletin, contains a cut, representing a Terropin draining the mail. The editor, in speaking of the irregularity of the mail says there are now four or five mails due at that place.

A procession of the Order of Independent Odd Fellows will take place at Cambridge on the 26th inst. the Anniversary of the Order in America. The Brethren in good standing are respectfully invited to attend.

The Cambridge Chronicle of Saturday last, announces John N. Steele as a Candidate to represent that district in the next House of Representatives of the United States.

From the Baltimore Patriot, April 18.
The Fire at Cumberland.—We copy the following very interesting letter from a gentleman, who was an eye-witness to the conflagration, to his friend in this city. It has been placed in our hands, and we publish it, with the view of calling attention to the calamity which has overtaken our fellow citizens of Cumberland. Seventy-two families have been, in a moment as it were, rendered destitute and homeless. In such a case it is not to be doubted that the citizens of Baltimore will manifest their accustomed liberality, and sympathy, by taking early measures for extending relief to the sufferers by this trying visitation. The propriety of the Mayor calling a town meeting on this subject, has been suggested; and to this suggestion we will add another, in the well known and approved saying, never more applicable than in this instance.—He gives twice, who gives quickly.

CUMBERLAND, April 15, 1833.
When I arrived here yesterday morning, Cumberland was a fair town to look upon—now it is in ashes. Two thirds of the town, comprising four fifths of its property was destroyed in the lapse of a few hours. There is but one store and but one tavern left in the place. The efforts of the inhabitants to suppress the flames, were as usual in country towns confused and ill-directed. They made no impression whatever upon the fire. Indeed it was impossible that they should. The street was narrow; a fresh wind prevailed, and in a few minutes after the fire commenced, the houses on both sides of the street, were enveloped in flames. Under circumstances so appalling, all hopes of arresting the fire were soon abandoned, and each individual endeavored to save his own effects. Store goods, beds, furniture, books, and papers, were carried into the street as fast as safety, but the march of destruction was so rapid, and the heat in the street so intense, that all this property was burnt before the eyes of its owners.

We received yesterday, the following extra, which gives the particulars as to the great loss and sufferings, by the fire at Cumberland. Extract of a letter to the Editor of the Torch Light, dated CUMBERLAND, April 15.
We are in the most depressing situation—about 75 houses, comprising the heart of our cabinet maker's shop, three doors north of the Civilian printing office. Many citizens are left without more than their clothing or books. The Civilian printing office, all except the account books—all the stores but one, are burnt down, the one remaining is Bruce and Beall's. Mr. Shriver's large three story tavern, Mr. Fechtig's tavern are also burnt, also the Bankhouse. The fire commenced about 10 o'clock yesterday, and the wind being high at the time, the flames soon spread, leaving very few time sufficient to save the moveable effects. Nothing now remains but parts of walls and chimneys where once the principal part of the town stood. The Advocate office is also burnt, saving only the east iron press, (which is much injured) and a very few type, no perfect font.

The value of the property destroyed is $262,000.

The Long Island Inquirer states that Mr. Wirt, the late Attorney General of the United States, has purchased a tract of land in Florida, on which he proposes to cultivate the sugar cane under the superintendence of Lieut. Goldsborough, his son-in-law. No slaves are to be employed, but the labor is to be performed by several hundred German emigrants, who have been engaged to proceed thither.

FROM HAVANA.—Capt. Chamberlin, of the brig Franklin, in ten days from Havana, reports that when he sailed, the cholera had a good deal abated. The deaths were supposed to be about one hundred and fifty a day. The official reports for the city and suburbs, made the whole number of deaths by cholera, fourteen thousand six hundred and sixty-four. [N. Y. American.]

The Circular of the Young Men's Bible Society of Baltimore, and the proceedings of the Young Men's Temperance Society of Caroline county, were received too late for this day's paper—they will appear in our next.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

THE fall bred horse Shannon, a dark sorrel, being in fine stand condition, will stand in Easton every Tuesday during the season, at the residence of his time at the subscriber's stable on the following terms, viz: Six dollars the spring's chance; 12 dollars to insure a mare with foal, three dollars the single leap and twenty five cents in each case to the groom.

JAMES BARTLETT.

Talbot co. March 16, 1833.
CERTIFICATE.
I hereby certify that Shannon was got by the imported horse Eagle and was raised by Thomas T. Lowry, and sold by said Lowry to Mr. Cato Moore of Charlestown, Virginia, and by C. Moore to Thomas R. Hammond of the same town, and the dam of this horse was got by the imported horse Bedford, and that she was full blooded and raised by S. G. Fauntleroy of King and Queen county, Virginia. Any further information that may be wanted can be obtained by application to Mr. Lowry or to Thos. R. Hammond.

JOHN M. GAYLE.

We hereby certify that Shannon is a pure foal getter and has produced no filly colts as any horse that has stood in this county for the last twelve or fifteen years.

RATCLIFFE.

A beautiful bay with black legs, mane and tail, five years old this spring and 16 hands in height, will stand at Easton this season on Tuesdays, the residue of the week at the stable of the subscriber. He will be let to mares on the following terms, viz—eight dollars the Spring's chance, 12 to ensure and 4 the single leap, in each case 50 cents to the groom. As to bone, figure and action, it is believed this horse is excelled by none in the county; the public however, will judge for themselves upon these points. Ratcliffe was sired by Mr. Randolph's fine horse Rinaldo, who obtained the prize at the Easton Cattle Show; he by the celebrated horse imported Messenger. Ratcliffe's grand dam was a thorough bred mare raised by John Edmondson, Esq. (see certificate below.) Thus it appears that he is descended from the finest blood in this country. Sir Archy on the part of his sire, and imported Messenger on the side of his dam.

Talbot county, April 13th 1833.
CERTIFICATE.
I certify that the bay mare sold by me to Henry Hollyday, Esq. was sired by Cockfight (or named by Gen. Stewart, of Charles county, and afterwards sold to Col. Edward Lloyd.) her dam by Venitian, her grand dam by Figure raised by Benjamin Ogde of the city of Annapolis, from the imported Figure, her great grand dam by Paelet, imported before the Revolution.

JOHN EDMONDSON.

THE stock of horses on the dam side from which this mare was descended, was more highly prized and valued by my Father than any other from which he had ever bred, both for their speed and invincible spirit. J. E.

OFFICE OF THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE.

PROPOSALS TO THE PUBLIC for the sale and leasing of Building Lots, Sites for Manufactories, and locations possessing commercial facilities suited to the various purposes of trade and commerce.

THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE, having made the necessary improvements on their extensive premises preparatory, and particularly respective to commercial operations and suitable for the accommodation of settlers of various classes and professions, and completed their arrangements, are now ready to receive applications for purchasing or leasing any part of their premises. It is therefore proper in this stage of their progress to promulgate their plans and publish their intentions.

The Canton Company of Baltimore make their proposals to the enterprising of all classes and professions. Their recent purchases of land connects their premises with the improvements on Fleet-st.; and have effected a contiguous location, and an identity of interest with the wharves and warehouses at Fell's Point. It is therefore not presumed too much to anticipate a full co-operation of all the enterprising citizens in the eastern part of Baltimore, in extending the Rail Road eastward from its present termination in President street, to the Company's premises during the present season. The distance is short—the facilities of construction of the Rail-road track are such as will require only a small expenditure, and divided amongst property holders who will be directly benefited by the measure, would not be felt.

The Canton Company have made arrangements for constructing, and will immediately commence, several Ship Yards at Fell's Point for the accommodation of some of the most enterprising Ship Builders of the City. The Company will shortly have completed extensive accommodations for Lumber Establishment at Harris' Creek. They have also made arrangements for a large supply of Bricks, in addition to those furnished from their own Brick-yard.

Also, have arrangements in progress for securing supplies of Lumber for building. Enterprising Carpenters and Bricklayers who have a small capital to invest, will meet with encouraging overtures to build on the Company's premises, the Company furnishing Lots, Bricks and Lumber, at satisfactory prices, and on terms which will be mutually advantageous to the contracting parties.

The land graded for building and business purposes the past year, on Cedar Point, the west side of Harris' Creek, and west of Patterson's wharf, contiguous to Fell's Point, amounts to about 500,000 superficial feet. As these locations and the contiguous deep water, are indispensable to the increase of the population, trade and commerce of Baltimore, the enterprising and discerning, especially of the rising generation, cannot fail to appreciate their value, and it is hoped will avail themselves of the liberal conditions and chances of profit which will reward the first participants in this growing enterprise. The Canton Company, therefore, in order to encourage the industrious and enterprising, and to meet with becoming liberality the overtures of purchasers, have designated TWO HUNDRED VALUABLE LOTS, advantageously situated in reference to the improvements already made, and to the general facilities for active business, and will sell them by public auction on WEDNESDAY the 15th day of May next, to the highest bidder, without reserve, the sale to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M. on the premises.

The Company confidently expect, that the completion of the measures now in progress to furnish the requisite facilities for an active business on the premises, will form a nucleus, which will possess the elements of a healthy prosperity—furnish a satisfactory guarantee of a constant progression in all the various callings and professions which constitute a prosperous commercial, manufacturing, and trading community; from which as a common centre, will diverge the means of a future and rapid increase.

It may be questioned whether the cities in ancient story, which rose from small beginnings to wealth and magnificence, before mankind were skilled in naval architecture and commerce, possessed the elements of prosperity equal to the favoured city of Baltimore, and especially to that part of Baltimore known as the premises of the Canton Company. With a confidence of success in their undertaking, growing out of a knowledge of the unquestionable value of their location for extensive commercial operations, The Canton Company of Baltimore invite the attention of enterprising men throughout the United States to an investigation into the merit of their enterprise, in the full belief, that approbation of the undertaking will, in all cases where circumstances shall favor the measures, result in a profitable co-operation. Per order,

Application for any of said two hundred lots at private sale, will receive prompt attention.

THE Gazette, Eastern Herald, and Examiner, Fredericktown, will copy the above once a week to five successive weeks, mark cost, and charge the Baltimore Chronicle Office.

In Testimony that the foregoing is truly copied from the minutes of proceedings of the Orphans' Court of the County aforesaid, I have hereto set my hand and the seal of my office affixed this ninth day of April Anno Domini eighteen hundred and thirty three.

WM A FORD, Reg'r.

of Wills for Caroline county.

IN COMPLIANCE TO THE ABOVE ORDER,

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

That the subscriber of Caroline county hath obtained from the Orphans' court of Caroline county in Maryland letters of administration on the personal estate of James Sharp, late of Caroline county deceased, all persons having claims against the said deceased's estate are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the proper vouchers thereof to the subscriber on or before the twenty seventh day of October next or they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of the said estate.

Given under my hand this ninth day of April Anno Domini eighteen hundred and thirty three.

MARYLAND ECLIPSE.

THE thorough bred horse Maryland Eclipse, will be let to mares this spring, at the stands of Centerville and Easton, at the sum of twenty dollars the season, fifteen dollars the single leap, twenty five dollars to insure with foal, and fifty cents to the groom. The single leap, payable before the mare goes to the horse, the season at its close, and the insurance as soon as it is ascertained the mare is in foal. If the mare be sold, the person putting her to the horse will be held liable for the amount of insurance. The season will commence on the first day of April next at Centerville, where the horse will remain during that week, and on Monday following at Easton, and remain there also a week, and then alternate at Centerville and Easton, a week at each place during the season, which will close on the first of July.

ECLIPSE is a dark chestnut sorrel, near 16 hands high, nine years old this Spring, and possesses great strength & beauty; his colts are remarkably large and fine, and those upon the turf give evidence of great speed, as yet however, few have been trained, the oldest of his colts, being only three years old last season—One of his colts bred by the proprietor and sold to a gentleman in N. York, was trained and tried last season, and proved to be a successful racer, running her mile in one minute and fifty one seconds, both heats, and beating four others, with great ease. Eclipse was trained for the first time, and ran in the Spring of 1830 (being the two preceding years on the stand as a stallion) in the State of New Jersey, a mile and repeat, and won with great ease, beating three other horses; he was afterwards carried to Poughkeepsie, and entered against the celebrated race horse Sir Lovel, and although beaten, yet it is said, this race was run in as short, if not a shorter time, with the same weight, than was ever run in the United States, the first heat was run in 3 minutes 57 seconds, and the second heat in 3 minutes 46 seconds, two miles and repeat. Sir Lovel after this race, was taken to New York, and matched against Mr. Johnson's celebrated race mare Arietta, (which had a short time before beaten Ariel two miles, in a match for $5000) Sir Lovel distanced Arietta the second heat in 3 minutes 48 seconds, thereby proving that Eclipse was a better racer than Arietta. After the race at Poughkeepsie, Eclipse was turned out and trained in the fall following, and gave greater promise of speed, than on his first trial, but in his exercises received an injury in one of his sinews, and was withdrawn from the turf without further trial. Subjoined is the Certificate of the gentleman who trained him, and voluntarily tendered.

I certify, that for the last thirty years and upwards, I have been in the yearly practice of training race horses, and have had in my possession, some of the reputed best horses in the country; for the last year I have had Maryland Eclipse, with others under training exercise, and give it as my opinion that for any distance I have tried him, which was never more than two miles, he is the fastest horse I have ever trained.

(Signed)
JOSEPH K. VAN MATER.

The original Certificate of his performance at Poughkeepsie (where he ran), from the Secretary of the Club, and of Mr. Van Mater, are in the possession of the proprietor and can be seen upon application.

PEDIGREE.

MARYLAND ECLIPSE was got by the justly celebrated race horse "American Eclipse," formerly the property of Mr. Varnant of New York dam of Maryland Eclipse, the "Lady of the Lake," she by Mr. Badger's Hickory out of the "Maid of the Oaks;" Hickory was got by the imported horse "Whip," the dam of Hickory, "Dido" by the imported "Duroc," his grand dam by "Wildair," who was got by the old imported horse "Fearnought," out of the imported mare "Kitty Fisher," Fearnought by the Golofin Arabian, his great grand dam by the imported horse Clockfast, his great grand dam, was the dam of the celebrated horse Bucephalus and Lady Teazel. ## THE THOROUGH BRED RACE HORSE MEDLEY,

THE property of Col. W. R. Johnson and John C. Craig, Esq. (nine years old next spring) will stand at the Central Course, near Baltimore, at $30 cash—the season, payable 1st of August next, when it will expire—$75 to insure, payable as soon as the fact is ascertained, or she is parted with; $1 cash to the groom for each. Excellent and extensive pastures, and mares fed if required at a moderate price; every necessary attention will be paid to prevent accidents or escapes, but no liability for either.

JAMES M. SELDEN.

Baltimore, Feb. 23, 1833.

PEDIGREE.

MEDLEY's sire was Sir Hal, the best son of the imported Sir Harry, by Sir Peter Teale—Hal's dam by the imported Saltram, by Eclipse; his grandam by the imported Medley, by Gimcrack; his g. g. dam by Young Aristotle, by imported Aristotle; Medley's dam was old Reality, by Sir Archy, and his favorite daughter, she was the best full bred mare of her day, and is now I think the best broeder; his grand dam Marmaduke Johnson's old Medley mare, (the best racer in her time, and was never beaten,) who was more productive to her owner as a blood mare, and produced more runners and more winners, than any other mare in America, was by the imported horse Medley, his g. g. dam by the imported Centinel out of Poling Williams, the greatest racer in her time; she by the imported Jans and her g. g. dam by the imported horse Spanker.

It will thus be seen from his pedigree, that he has more Medley blood than any stallion known, which in my opinion is the best blood. The blood and distinguished performances of Sir Hal, his sire of Reality, his dam of Slender and Bonnets O'Blue; only produce besides Medley, and his own successful performances in the north and south, one, two, three and four mile heats; the high expectation of his colts, their promise, size, beauty and general appearance being such as to make them sell at the highest prices; his oldest and the only one of that age, 2 years old last spring, (being got before he made a season,) sold for $1,500—several year olds of his get have sold at from $400 to $800, and many I know could not be bought for $1000. All these facts must prove him a most desirable stallion, independently of his himself having commanded $10,000, or rather $5000 for one half of him, which sum would not now buy any stallion.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That no person shall expose for sale, or sell any goods, wares, or merchandise, with a view to profit in the way of trade, unless he or she shall first obtain a license to trade, and any person herein offending, shall be liable to indictment; and upon conviction, be adjudged to pay a sum not less than ten dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, for each and every offence; the whole of which penalty shall, upon its being collected, be paid over by the Sheriff collecting the same, to such persons as the Grand Jury shall name upon their presentment, as the informer, who shall received as a competent witness; and when the informer is named, such penalty shall be paid into the public Treasury, as in other cases: Provided, however, that nothing in this act contained, shall be construed to require any person or persons or body corporate, to have a license for selling or dealing in any goods, wares and merchandise, in respect of which a license not made necessary by the act to which this is a supplement, or by any of the supplements

to said act heretofore passed.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That by the license to trade, mentioned in this act, shall be understood all or any of the licenses to authorize sales required to be taken out or issued under the acts of Assembly, to which this act is a supplement. That all presentments or indictments, which charge an offence substantially in the terms of the first section of this act, shall be deemed and taken to be sufficiently well pleaded in law, to warrant a conviction and judgment; and that all competent matters tending
any obligation to take out a license under the
existing laws, or from the penalty hereby created, may be given in evidence under an indictment so framed, and shall avail as a defence to
or a justification of, the matters charged according to their legal effect, under the whole system.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That all sales, made in the ordinary course of trade by the co-partner, wife, agent, or servant of the party presented or indicted, shall be deemed to be made by such party, and given in evidence as his act
and that the words, "goods, wares and merchandize" as used in the first section of this act, shall include spirituous and fermented liquors.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the seventh
and ninth sections of the act of eighteen hundred and twenty seven, chapter one hundred and seventeen, shall be repealed; except the proviso or ninth section.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That the County courts, and Baltimore City Court, shall have
jurisdiction of the offences created by this act,
as in other cases.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That nothing herein contained, shall be construed to require persons to take out a license for the sale of oil or Small Beer, made by the persons offering to vend the same, or be construed to prohibit the distiller of spirituous liquors, from selling without license in quantities less than a quart, the spirits distilled by the seller.

AN ACT.

A further additional supplement to the act, entitled "an act to establish Pilots, and regulate their fees."

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this act, all vessels of the burden of one hundred and thirty tons and under engaged in the coasting trade, shall not be obliged to take a pilot or pay half pilotage from the port of Baltimore, to the capes, in Virginia, except the master or owner of any vessel may choose to employ a pilot to conduct his or their vessel to sea.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That in all cases where a dispute or controversy shall or may
hereafter take place between the master of any
coasting vessel and a regularly licensed pilot,
the said parties may and shall have the right
and privilege to take the case before a single Justice of the Peace, for a hearing and settlement of said dispute or controversy in the same
would have on a case of common debt, before
a Justice of the Peace in the State.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That so much of the act, entitled, "an act to establish pilots and regulate their fees," and of the several supplements thereto, as are inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be, and the same are hereby repealed.

AN ACT.

An additional supplement to the act, entitled,
an act relating to the People of Colour in this
and eighty one.

WHEREAS, it appears that no certain time is
by the said original act, limited for the payment of the annual tax, directed to be levied
by the eighth section thereof:

Therefore,
SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That unless the tax by
the said original act, directed to be levied for
the year eighteen hundred and thirty two, shall be paid into the Treasury, on or before the first of July next, the collectors thereof shall be
chargeable with and pay from that time, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the
like tax levied or to be levied for the current year, and to be hereafter levied for any future year, shall be paid into the Treasury, on or before the first of January next thereafter, and that
paid, interest shall be charged and paid as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That in case the Justices of the Levy Court, or commissioners of any one or more of the counties of this State shall have failed to levy the portion of tax authorized to be levied thereon by the act to
which this is a supplement, then and in that
case it shall be the duty of the said Justices or Commissioners, to levy the same with the addition of interest for the year in arrear, at their next meeting for levying the County Levy, or City tax.

AN ACT.

A supplement to an act, entitled, an act relating to free Negroes and Slaves, passed at December session, eighteen hundred and thirty one, chapter three hundred and twenty three.

WHEREAS, The introduction of Slaves into this State, except in a few specified cases, has been and ought to be prohibited: And whereas, a wise and consistent policy demands that special acts of Legislation on that subject should be avoided; and that all cases of hardship, justly entitled to relief, be embraced under some general principles, in a single law, Therefore:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That nothing in any former act shall be construed to prohibit any person from again bringing into this State any Slave for life, who shall have been or may hereafter be taken from this State and hired or lent to service in any adjoining State or District for a limited time: Provided, that no such slave shall be introduced into this State by any person, other than an actual inhabitant of this State, who shall also be the owner of such slave, both at the time of hiring or lending aforesaid and of bringing back the said slave, or in case of death of the original owner by his heirs executors, administrators or legatees.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any person or persons, who may have previously to the passage of this act, purchased land in this State, with the bona fide intention of residing thereon, or acquired by inheritance or otherwise real estate, in this State, and intending to reside thereon, to introduce into the State any slave owned by them, at the passage of the act to which this is a supplement Provided, a list of said slaves, specifying their ages, names, and sex, be left for record with the clerk of the County Court of the county into which they are so removed, within thirty days thereafter, together with the affidavit of the owner or owners that the conditions required by this section have been truly complied with, and that they are not introduced for sale, and are slaves for life.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any person or persons residing in that part of the District of Columbia, ceded by the State of Maryland, to the United States, and holding real estate in Maryland to bring from their residence in the said part of the district to their estate in Maryland,

any Slave or Slaves and their increase,
being slaves for life, which belonged to the
resided either in that part of the district aforesaid or in Maryland, antecedent to the passage of the act; and that it shall be lawful for any resident of Maryland who has removed, or may hereafter remove to the district for a limited
period to carry with him, her, or them, any
think proper, and to bring the same back into
the State of Maryland at pleasure: Provided, that no slave or slaves introduced into this State, contrary to the provisions of this section, and by colour of authority derived from this section, shall be forfeited in conformity with the provisions of the fourth section of the act to which this is a supplement.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That when any
land in an adjoining State in which he or she
working with the labour of Slaves owned by
such citizen, he or she shall be permitted to bring into this State such slave or slaves whenever it may be convenient to him or her; provided, that no slave shall have resided in and been removed from such citizen from this State.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That any citizen
of this State, who shall leave it for a limited
time in the service of the Government of the United States, or of this State, may bring back with him on his return, any slaves, being his slaves for life, that he may have taken away from him in case of his decease, it shall be lawful for his legal representatives to reintroduce them into this State; provided the name, age and sex of every such slave be re-
the clerk of the County Court of the County
in which such citizen may be, together with a declaration of the reasons for departing, and of
the purpose of returning: And Provided also,
that a similar record shall be made, within thirty days after the return of any such slave.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, that it shall be the duty of the clerks of the respective counties, whenever any list of slaves or other paper shall be left with them for record, in conformance with the provisions of this act, to record the same; and it shall be lawful for them to receive therefor from the person or persons presenting the said list or other paper, the same fees they would be entitled to in other like cases.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That nothing
herein contained shall be construed to repeal
any part of the act to which this is a supplement, or of the law, unless utterly inconsistent with it.

Sec. 8. And be it enacted, That in all cases where the wife or husband of the male or female united in wedlock with any slave, held and owned in this State by any citizen thereof, shall be a slave owned & possessed by an inhabitant of any adjoining State, District or Territory, it shall and may be lawful for the owner aforesaid of such wife or husband, or person united in wedlock, to purchase, import, and bring into this State, from such adjoining State, District or Territory, the said wife, husband or person: Provided, the solemnization of the marriage ceremony between such slaves, according to the form of some one of the churches or religious communities of this State, and by a minister of such church or religious community be proved by the affidavit in writing of the person so purchasing such slave, or by the affidavit of some other credible white person, and left to be recorded with the clerk of the county court of the county into which such slave shall be introduced, within thirty days from the day on which such slave shall have been brought in this State: And Provided also, such marriage ceremony shall have been performed before the passage of the act aforesaid passed at December session 1831, chapter 323.

AN ACT.

A supplement to the act, entitled, an act to define and enlarge the power of Courts of Equity.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for the register of the court of chancery, to permit any person or persons to take out of the chancery office any papers filed in said office, unless by virtue of a general order of the chancellor or an order or requisition of the court of appeals.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That the said register be, and he is hereby required, at the request and oath of any of the parties in a proceeding in chancery, to record any bill, petition, answer or other pleading, and any paper whatsoever filed therein or returned with any testimony in the course of such proceedings and a copy from the record of the writing so recorded, shall, in case of the loss of said writing, have the same effect in said proceeding as the said writing, Provided, the said writing be not an instrument or the copy of an instrument which by virtue of any act or acts of assembly shall have been otherwise recorded.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That where a defendant of full age in any case in the court of chancery, or in any county court as court of equity, shall upon two successive subpoenas be returned non est, it shall be lawful for said court to order publication of the substance of the bill or petition against such defendant, as if a non resident of this state, and to proceed against such defendant in the same manner and to every effect, as if he were not a resident of this state, and as if the case made in the bill or petition were within any of the acts of assembly made and provided, in respect of absent or non resident defendants: Provided however, That each of said subpoenas be delivered to the sheriff or other officer for service thereof at least twenty days before the first day of the term to which said subpoena shall be returnable.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the provisions of the act passed at November session, of the year eighteen hundred and four, chapter one hundred and seven, be, and the same are hereby extended to all cases that shall be instituted in the court of chancery or any county court as a court of equity, for or in any wise relating to the sale, partition, or conveyance, of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or in any manner concerning lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any interest or benefit, in or of or from the same.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That hereafter in all cases in the court of chancery, or any county court as a court of equity, all objection to the competency of witnesses and the admissibility of evidence, and to the sufficiency of the averments of the bill or petition, shall be made by exceptions filed in the cause, and no point relating to the competency of witnesses or the admissibility of evidence, or sufficiency of the averments of the bill or petition shall be raised in such cases in the court of appeals, or noticed or determined, or acted upon by the court of appeals, unless it shall plainly appear in the record, that such point had been raised by exceptions as aforesaid in said court of chancery or county court, and in all cases in the court of chancery or any county court, as a court of equity, it shall be the duty of the said courts to file their opinions for or in respect of any final decree or decretal order, whenever such decree or order shall have passed upon argument oral or in writing, on part of any of the parties in such cases.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That if upon or after the hearing or consideration of any appeal from any decree or order of the court of chancery, or of a county court as a court of equity, it shall appear or be shown to the court of appeals that the substantial merits of the cause will not be determined by the reversing or the affirming of such decree or order, or that the purposes of justice will be advanced by permitting further proceedings in the cause, either through amendment of any of the pleadings, or the inroduction of further evidence, or otherwise, then the said court of appeals, instead of passing a final decree or order as is now used, shall order the said cause to be remanded to the court from whose decision the appeal was taken; and thereupon such further proceedings shall there be had by amendment of pleadings or further testimony to be taken or otherwise, as shall be necessary for determining the cause upon its merits, and as if no appeal had been taken in the cause, and the decree or order appealed from, had not been passed, save only that the order or decree passed by the court of appeals, shall be conclusive as to the points finally decided thereby; and it shall be the duty of the court of appeals, in its order remanding the cause as aforesaid, to express the reasons for the remanding as aforesaid, and also to determine and declare the opinion of said court of appeals on all points which may have been made before the said court of appeals or which may be presented by the record; and it is hereby declared to be the duty of the court of appeals, in all cases of appeal from decrees or orders of the court of chancery, or of a county court as a court of equity, to file the opinion of said court of appeals, for or in respect of its determination of said cases, when such determination shall be had upon argument oral or in writing, on part of any of the parties in such cases.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That where any infant, feme covert, shall in any respect of her dower, united with her husband in conveyance or lease executed, and acknowledged in form for passing feme covert's real estate, or any lands, tenements or hereditaments, and the court of chancery or any county court as a court of equity shall as concerns such feme covert dower, deem such conveyance or lease equitable, expedient, or proper, the said court, on application by any of the parties interested and on proper parties, defendants being made, may according to the rules of equity, proceed to adjudge and decree that such conveyance or lease be confirmed and made and declared valid from the time of execution of the same to every effect, intent, and purpose, as if the feme covert at the said execution were of the full age of twenty one years.

Sec. 8. And be it enacted, That the bond required to be given by the second section of the act passed at November session of the year seventeen hundred and eighty five, chapter seventy-two, entitled, "An act, for enlarging the power of the High Court of Chancery," in cases where a foreclosure of any mortgage or sale of any land, shall be applied for in which any infant shall be interested, may be given to and in the name of the State of Maryland as obligee and the form of such bond and the security therein shall be such as the chancellor, or county court, or any of the judges thereof, as the case may be, shall approve or prescribe;
and every infant who, at the time of the decree for the sale or foreclosure of the mortgage of any land, or of any estate or interest therein, shall have any right or claim to any part or share of any such land, estate or interest, and all persons claiming under any such infant, shall be entitled to institute and prosecute in the name of the state, for the use and at the cost of such person or persons, an action or actions at law on such bond, or proceed by bill or other proper name or names against the principal and sureties in such bond or any of them, and recover thereon for any breach of the condition of such bond as fully, beneficially and effectually, as if such bond had been given to and in the name of the infant within three years after he or she shall have attained the age of twenty one years, or in case of the death of such infant, by his or her legal representative within one year after such death.

Sec. 9. And be it enacted, That in every case in the court of chancery or in any of the county courts as courts of equity in this state, where the defendants, or any of them shall be infants residing out of this state, in any other of the United States; on the prayer or petition of the complainant, a commission may be issued without any other process to any two persons, in the discretion of the chancellor, or any judge of the equity court, as commissioners authorising them or either of them to appoint a guardian to answer for such infant or infants, and take the answer of such guardian; and the chancellor or court of equity may prescribe the mode and evidence of authenticating the execution of such commission; and the answer of every infant so taken in any case, when returned to the court issuing the commission, shall be as effectual as if taken under a commission duly executed within the jurisdiction of such court.

Sec. 10. And be it enacted, That in all cases in the court of chancery or a county court as a court of equity, the court shall tax as part of the costs of the case, a reasonable compensation and allowance to any commissioner or commissioners for taking the answer or answers of any infant or infants in said cases.

AWFUL CALAMITY

CUMBERLAND, April 15, 1833.
At a meeting at the Court House, in Cumberland, composed of the citizens of the town, the Court, Bar and Jurors, assembled on the 15th April, for the purpose of instituting an enquiry into the extent of the calamity occasioned by the late destructive fire, and of devising means for the relief of the sufferers, the following proceedings were had:—

Upon motion of Wm. Price, Esq., the Honorable John Buchanan, Chief Justice of Maryland, was appointed Chairman, who in a feeling and appropriate address explained the object of the meeting. Upon motion of John Hoyer, Esq., Wm. Price was appointed Secretary. Upon motion of Bene S. Pigman, the chair appointed the following committee, to enquire into the extent of the calamity occasioned by the late fire, together with the number and description of the sufferers, and report thereon to the meeting, viz: John McHenry, Thomas J. McKaig, A. W. McDonald, Wm. Price, B. S. Pigman, David Shriver, Geo. Hebb, Dr. Samuel P. Smith, John Hoyer, Dr. John M. Lawrence, Dr. James Smith, David Lynn, Robert Swann, and Richard Beall, who having retired for the purpose, afterwards returned and submitted the following report.

The committee appointed, to ascertain the calamity by which the town has been visited, together with the number and description of the sufferers, have in the execution of the melancholy duty assigned them; ascertained the following particulars for the information of the meeting.

It is ascertained that the entire business portion of Cumberland has been destroyed. All the taverns, all the stores in the place, but one are now in ashes, about thirty flourishing mechanics all in prosperous business, have been reduced to ruin, and their families left without a shelter to cover them. The three physicians of the town have lost nearly all their property and medicines. It is believed that two thirds of the inhabitants are houseless.

The value of the property destroyed and the descriptions of citizens to whom it belonged the committee have estimated and classed as follows,

7 Merchants, whose loss in real and personal property and goods, is estimated at 94,000 3 Physicians 12,000
3 Hotels, including the loss of the owners, 50,000 30 mechanics, (real and personal property, stock, &c.) 71,000 Citizens not included in the above description, 31,000 Citizens not residing in the town 14,000

Total loss, $262,000 Upon motion of Mr. Pigman, a Committee was appointed to draft an address to the people of the United States, inviting their aid in behalf of the Cumberland sufferers. Upon motion of Mr. Pigman, it was

Resolved, That the Chairman of said Committee, be the Chairman of said Committee. The following gentlemen compose the Committee: Hon. John Buchanan, Hon. Abraham Shriver, Hon. Thomas Buchanan, A. W. McDonald, John McHenry, Wm. Price, James Dixon, Frederick A. Schley, and John King, Esqs.

Upon motion the following gentlemen, residents of Cumberland, who are not sufferers by the fire, were appointed a Committee, to receive donations, distribute them and of correspondence, namely: John Hoyer, Thomas J. McKaig, Richard Bell, Rev. L. H. Johns, William McMahon and James P. Carleton.

Upon motion of Thomas J. McKaig, Esq. it was unanimously Resolved, That the thanks of the meeting were due to the Hon. John Buchanan, for the dignified and able manner in which he presided over its deliberations.

Upon motion of Mr. John M. Buchanan, it was Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the Chairman and Secretary, and published.

JOHN BUCHANAN, Chairman.
WM. PRICE, Sec'y.

OFFICE OF THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE.

PROPOSALS TO THE PUBLIC for the sale and leasing of Building Lots, Sites for Manufactories, and locations possessing commercial facilities suited to the various purposes of trade and commerce.
THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE, having made the necessary improvements on their extensive premises preparatory, and particularly respective to commercial operations and suitable for the accommodation of settlers of various classes and professions, and completed their arrangements, are now ready to receive applications for purchasing or leasing any part of their premises. It is therefore proper in this stage of their progress to promulgate their plans and publish their intentions.

The Canton Company of Baltimore make their proposals to the enterprising of all classes and professions. Their recent purchases of land connects their premises with the improvements on Fleet-st; and have effected a contiguous location, and an identity of interest with the wharves and warehouses at Fell's Point. It is therefore not presumed too much to anticipate a full co-operation of all the enterprising citizens in the eastern part of Baltimore, in extending the Rail Road eastwardly from its present termination in Preside street, to the Company's premises during the present season. The distance is short—the facilities of construction of the Rail road and track are such as will require only a small expenditure, and directed amongst property holders who will be directly benefited by the measure, would not be felt.

The Canton Company have made arrangements for constructing, and will immediately commence, several Ship Yards at Cedar Point for the accommodation of some of the most enterprising Ship Builders of Baltimore. The Company will shortly have completed extensive accommodations for Lumber Establishments at Harris Creek. They have also made arrangements for a large supply of Bricks, in addition to those furnished from their own Brick-yard.

Also, have arrangements in progress for securing supplies of Lumber for building. Employing Carpenters and Bricklayers who have a small capital to invest, will meet with encouraging overtures to build on the Company's premises, the Company furnishing Lots, Bricks and Lumber, at satisfactory prices, and on terms which will be mutually advantageous to the contracting parties.

The land graded for building and business purposes the past year, on Cedar Point, the west side of Harris Creek, and west of Patterson's wharf, contiguous to Fell's Point, amounts to about 500,000 superficial feet. As these locations and the contiguous deep water, are indispensable to the increase of the population, trade and commerce of Baltimore, the enterprising and discerning, especially of the rising generation, cannot fail to appreciate their value, and it is hoped will avail themselves of the liberal conditions and chances of profit which will reward the first participants in this growing enterprise. The Canton Company, therefore, in order to encourage the industrious and enterprising, and to meet with becoming liberality the overtures of purchasers, have designated TWO HUNDRED VALUABLE LOTS, advantageously situated in reference to the improvements already made, and to the general facilities for active business, and will sell them by public auction on WEDNESDAY the 15th day of May next, to the highest bidder, without reserve, the sale to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M. on the premises.

The Company confidently expect, that the completion of the measures now in progress to furnish the requisite facilities for an active business on the premises, will form a nucleus, which will possess the elements of a healthy prosperity—furnish a satisfactory guarantee of a constant progression which constitutes prosperous commercial, manufacturing, and trading community; from which as a common centre, will diverge the means of a future and rapid increase.

It may be questioned whether the cities in ancient story, which rose from small beginnings to wealth and magnificence, before mankind were skilled in naval architecture and commerce, possessed the elements of prosperity equal to that of Baltimore known as the premises of the Canton Company. With a confidence of success in their undertaking, growing out of a knowledge of the unquestionable value of their location for extensive commercial operations, The Canton Company of Baltimore invite the attention of enterprising men throughout the United States to an investigation into the merit of their enterprise, in the full belief, that approbation of the undertaking will, in all cases where circumstances shall favor the measures, result in a profitable co-operation. Per order,

Application for any of said two hundred lots at private sale, will receive prompt attention.
April 13
The Gazette, Easton; Herald, and Examiner, Fredericktown, will copy the above once a week for five successive weeks, mark cost, and charge the Baltimore Chronicle Office.

SPRING FASHIONS.

Millinery and Mantua Making.

Mrs. Ridgway,

RETURNS her grateful acknowledgments, to the ladies of Talbot and the adjacent counties, but more particularly to those of Easton, for the very liberal encouragement she has received from them since she commenced the above business in Easton, and takes pleasure in announcing to them her return from Baltimore to the Millinery and Mantua Making, which she is disposed to sell on the most accommodating terms for cash.

She would also state, that having received a polite invitation from Mrs. Fenby (one of the most fashionable Milliners in Baltimore) immediately on her return from Philadelphia, to view her assortment of spring fashions; that she availed herself thereof, and obtained all her most fashionable patterns. She also visited Mrs. Broadbent at her elegant fashionable store and viewed her new patterns, and will receive by next packet a pattern bonnet of the latest fashion. She therefore respectfully invites her customers, and the ladies generally to call and view them, at her new stand on Washington Street, a few doors below Dover.

NEW GOODS.

THE Subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that he still carries on the Baking Business in its various branches at the old stand where he is ready to supply his customers with all the articles in his line on accommodating terms.

He would likewise notify them that he has just returned from Baltimore with a fresh assortment of GROCERIES, CONFECTIONARIES, FRUITS, NUTS, TOYS AND FANCY ARTICLES, which, added to his former stock makes his variety complete; and having selected them with great care and attention, he confidently offers them to his friends, on terms which he hopes will be thought reasonable.

He has also just received and is now opening a beautiful and excellent assortment of BOOKS, religious, entertaining and useful, among which are:

- Family Bibles, $ Bucks' Theological Polyglot pocket do. $ Dictionary, Polyglot Testaments, $ Rollins' Ancient History, Common Prayer, $ ry, Methodist Hymns, $ Josephus, Protestant do. $ Cook's Voyages, Methodist Protestant do. $ History of England, Evidences of Christianity, $ Life of Girard, Watson's Apology, $ Book, Watson's Wesley, $ Young Ladies' Own Methodist Discipline, $ Book, Methodist Protestant do. $ Paradise Lost, do. $ Night Thoughts, Benson's Fletcher, $ Course of Time, $ Vicar of Wakefield.

A quantity of School Books and Toy Books. Also a variety of Blank Books & Stationery.

The Subscriber feels grateful to his friends for the patronage they have afforded him, and while he is anxious to deserve being a continuation of their favor.

ANOTHER THOMPSONIAN OR BOTANIC PRACTITIONER.

Prove all things and hold fast that which is good.

THE AMERICAN Frenly Botanic Infirmary.

THE Advertiser takes this method of informing the sick and afflicted of every grade, that he has opened an Infirmary, upon botanical principles, in which they can receive medical attendance and board upon reasonable terms, to suit the circumstances or times of the patients, or if they prefer it they will be attended at their places of residence. This Infirmary is founded entirely on botanic principles to the exclusion of Minerals and the Shedding of blood.

He is also prepared to administer the cold, warm, tepid, hot, vapour, shower and Medicated Baths. "To those who are past the meridian of life," says Dr. Darwin, "and have dry skins and begin to be emaciated, the warm bath for half an hour twice a week, I believe to be eminently serviceable in retarding the advances of age." Acting upon this principle, this learned physician relates that when Dr. Franklin was in England, he recommended the latter to use a warm bath twice a week; a practice which he afterwards continued till his death. He will at all times keep on hand a regular supply of Thompsonian Botanic Medicine. He has on hand a quantity of the best African Cayenne Pepper and Cloves, for medical and family use. Also, Dr. Thompson's family Rights, Dr. Robinson's Lectures and Dr. W. Beach's American Practice of Medicine, for sale by
