HON. ELI H. JACKSON, of Wisconsin County.

FOR COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY:
COL. L. VICTOR BAUGHMAN,
of Frederick County.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL:
HON. WM. PINKNEY WHYTE,

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

The Democratic Conservative Voters of Wisconsin County are hereby requested and notified to meet at the usual Voting Places in Primary Convention, in their respective Districts.

Saturday, August 27, 1887,

at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., to select Three Delegates from each District to attend the County Convention, to be held in the Court House at Salisbury on Tuesday, August 30, 1887, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a Candidate for the State Senate, Three Candidates for House of Delegates and a County Ticket.

In Districts where there are contests the Executive Committee of the Districts where such contests are, shall appoint the Usual Number of Judges and Clerks for the Primaries, the Polls to be Opened at 2 o'clock and Close at 5 o'clock, P. M.

E. E. JACKSON,
THOS. W. H. WHITE,
WILLIAM L. LAWS,
State Central Committee.

Our new town hall seems to be the right man for the position. He proves himself an active man by calling out the people soon after his induction in office, to work on the streets in order that they may be put in a first class condition.

Always alive to the demands of its patrons for news on the question of the day, the Salisbury Sun has sent its well known Washington correspondent, Mr. F. A. Richardson, abroad to study the Irish question. Several letters from this writer have already appeared in the Sun, and they are marked by a keen insight into the troubles that are now exercising Ireland and Irishmen. The series will furnish interesting reading.

Since last week we have heard a great deal of talk among the citizens of the town concerning the need of better telegraphic facilities here. We hope the talk will be continued until the Western Union is firmly convinced that we need an office in the centre of Salisbury. There is no doubt but what we should have it, but we will have to make the great company believe that we are in need of such an office before we can expect any assurance of getting it.

The Democratic voters of Wisconsin County, are again called upon to meet at their respective voting places and exercise their franchise as citizens, in the selection of nominees for our county ticket, to be voted for at the coming election.

Every Democrat in the county should feel sufficiently interested to go to the polls and assist in sending good men to the Convention. The work and responsibility begins here: If we send to the Convention men of good judgment, and unprejudiced; men who are willing to surrender personal feelings and personal interest for the good of the party and the State; then it will be well. When this is done, our obligations at the primaries will end, and not until then. The delegates thus selected will have upon them the responsibility of making out a ticket of men both competent, and acceptable to the party. To do this, they must select honest, able and conservative men—men whose attention, any faction, or interest in the party can claim.

It will be their duty to select men representing no special interest, but representing the people. On this subject will be found several very pointed and sensible letters in this week's issue of the Advertiser. They are worth reading.

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippa, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the best remedy. Every bottle has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of two years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 50 years experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous: the Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Dr. L. D. Collier's Drug Store.

Miss Margaret Maude, sister of the late Gen. G. C. Maude, died at Washington, Wednesday, in her 90th year.

THE NEWS IN GENERAL.

The Latest News Items Gathered from the various Daily Papers.

Marion Hall, of Oil City, Pa., who made $2,000,000 out of 6,000 acres of oil land, is financially embarrassed, and his property will be sold at auction on August 22.

An invitation was sent by the Agricultural Society at Macon, Ga., to President and Mrs. Cleveland, and the cabinet to attend the fair to be held at Macon, beginning October 24.

The Marine Hospital bureau is informed that small-pox and yellow fever are raging in Havana, Cuba. During July there were 104 deaths from yellow fever and 112 from small-pox.

A statement prepared at the interior department office, that from January 16th, 1886, to July 1st, 1887, there were 296 civil service appointments made in that department, exclusive of 27 transfers and one reinstatement.

Invitations continue to pour in upon the President, and almost the entire time of one of the clerks at the White House is occupied in scheduling and recording them. He has been invited to visit almost every city in the west and south-west, including San Francisco, New Orleans and Galveston.

The shoe factories of Monroe & Co., and Copley & Co., at Woburn, N. H., were burned Wednesday, with a loss of $25,000. The total loss is placed at $25,000; insurance small. The Eagle Flour Mills, Memphis, Tenn., were burned. Loss $30,000; insurance $15,000.

A dispatch from Ottawa, Ont., says that since the vigorous enforcement of the treaty, American vessels, according to advice to the fisheries department, are returning home empty handed, while Canadian boats are making big hauls. The mackerel catch along the American coast has proved a failure.

Workmen digging a trench of the Edison Electric Light Company along Boylston street, Boston, have uncovered the graves and vaults which extend from the burial ground on the common under the rail to Boylston street. The trench is scattered with parts of human skeletons. Some of the bones have been hung on the fence of the common.

A prohibition meeting was held at Mount Park, Wilkesboro, Pa., Tuesday. It required 40 cars to carry the crowd to the ground. Speeches were made by M. J. Fleming, editor of the New York Voice; Mrs. Clara A. Hoffman, of St. Louis, and ex-Governor St. John. The latter said the Republican party and the Church of Christ were charged with the responsibility of the liquor traffic.

Several hundred bottles of ale were seized by a Canadian revenue inspector while being put on the United States war ship Richmond, at Halifax, Wednesday. The ale was furnished by a city victualer who had no license. The officers of the Richmond are involved in no trouble, but the dealer will be fined. The incident created some amusement in view of the relations between the United States and Canada.

When John Slade & Co., of New York, made an assignment to Walter S. Warren on July 5 the assignee was directed to furnish a bond for $500,000. This he did not care to do, and Wednesday Alfred C. Chapin was substituted. Alfred Sully and H. K. Thurber became his sureties. Mr. Warren makes affidavit that the firm's liabilities are $849,000; nominal assets, $1,200,000; actual assets, $300,000.

Senator Wilson, whose opinion is valued perhaps as highly as that of any man in Maryland, has the following to say for our State ticket:
"Senator Jackson, who leads the ticket, has been well known to me for years. He is a man of strong natural parts, which his diversified experiences in life have developed into a vigorous common sense, great business capacity, an intimate knowledge of men and things, and a resulting administrative capacity of no ordinary degree. He is a wise man, full of energy and action, honest, fearless and independent. We often hear it said that government should be conducted on business principles, and there is much truth in the saying. Then, here is a man who will, as I believe, honestly and faithfully adopt this system of administration. There is just such a man, in many of the most important respects, in the United States Senate, Phillett Sawyer, of Wisconsin, who commanded as much respect and influence during a long service in the popular house of Congress as any man in that body, and who can now carry a measure through the Senate where more pretensions men might try in vain. Like Mr. Jackson, he is a man of the people, and like him also an extensive lumber merchant, in which capacity his comprehensive views and far-sightedness have enabled him to amass a large fortune. The abilities of these men have won wealth, and have also placed them in the front rank of their fellow-citizens. It is well enough for the people to be occasionally reminded that merit may win high positions, though not decked with the trappings which collegiate or professional honors may bestow."

Wm. Pinkney Whyte needs no eulogist. An able Governor, an eloquent and influential Senator, and a first-class mayor of a great city, he has commended himself to his fellow-citizens as very few men have had either the ability or opportunity to do. With a strong intellect, energized by no common learning, and success in his profession, he will fall short of none of the great Marylanders who have filled the high positions of attorney-general.

The nomination of Col. Baughman is a most fitting one, and I am glad that so competent a man will accept the place of comptroller. Young, vigorous, full of talent and promise, and having just given abundant evidence of his administrative ability, the office of comptroller is one wherein his talents can and will be illustrated. His bold and self-reliant character as a public man makes every citizen a great admirer. Whilst he has no common sense as to those with whom he fraternizes within the party, he is ever independent enough to openly condemn what he does not approve, and to pursue that course which his judgment tells him to be right both with respect to men and measures. Such a man deserves and will doubtless attain to a brilliant future."

With respect to the convention, the declaration of principle, the Senator expressed himself as in full accord except upon the tariff resolution, which he regards as too weak and uncertain for the times. "If," he says, "our party is for protecting special interests by prohibition war duties, let us say so. If we are in favor of lightening the burdens of the people by a nearer approach to revenue tariff, why should we be afraid to say so? If we approve of Randallism within the party, it would be mainly to no declare. If we condemn it, as beyond question an immense majority does, it is not a weak and dangerous policy to speak with an uncertain sound."

The old-time Calicoes. Heavy, strong, tough, hard-twisted threads. Firmness in the weave, substance in the feel, satisfaction in the wear. Like the degenerate, flimsy, slimsy Calicoes of to-day in little but name. We've three kinds—

Century Cloth
Strong Cloth
Old-time Gallico

Better than any Calicoes your mothers or grandmothers had. Neater in the printing, prettier in the pattern, just as honest in the cotton. They're the first of the Fall stuffs to be opened. A Market street window-full of them. 10 cents.

12 1/2 cent Sateens. Sure enough Sateens. The sheen and the printing are there. The little cost comes from coarseness. And yet the 12 1/2 cent Sateens are surprisingly fine.

Black Sanglier. Like canvas, but softer and closer. For seaside or mountain wear—damp air doesn't hurt it. 41 in., 25 cents from 45. A little finer and heavier, 31c.

Homespun. For all the year-round wear. Good width, well made, medium weight. For service, not show. 12 1/2c.

Women's white, hemmed, all linen Handkerchiefs. Extra size. $1 a dozen. The $1.25 grade.

Roberts' Razor-steel Scissors have long been famous. By chance we have a lot that shall go for about half the maker's price—20 to 75 cents. A third of the usual store price.

Colored Cashmere Shawls. The wind-up of an importer's stock. All right except that the assortment of colors is short—drab, ecru, cardinal, blue, pink, and wine. That makes the price shrink nearly half. 75 cents to 2 dollars.

Plenty of creams in other lots—$1.25 to $3.

Books that amuse and instruct. Books for wet days or hot days—that make you forget either. Paper covered, best authors, 9 to 18 cents. As much more for the binding as you will.

Book News for August, with portrait of Lucy Lacombe. 5 cents, 50 cents a year. You are likely to save the 50 cents on the first book bought.

For the baby. Chambray Sun Hats, $1.50; made to sell for $2.50 and $3.
Muslin Caps, many styles; 20c. to $1—about third price.

If you want a Valise for more'n the name don't fool with the leather-ham things. We don't keep 'em. Our Valise for least is of canvas ($1.50) or split leather ($1.60), either 14 in. Grained leather, leather lined, brass trimmed, 14 to 24 in., $8 up. Any proper thing you want for hand-carriage, high price or low price.

New Black Silk Jersey Mitts; exceptional values. 25 and 37 1/2 cents.

We have just made some very fine Cambrie Night Shirts; crew-stitch braid trimming; $1. If there's anything of the kind nicer for hot-weather wear we've never seen it.

The Florence Lamp Stove. You'll wonder that so little a thing can do so much so well. Bakes, broils, boils and the like perfectly in a small way. Gives light at the same time, 50 cents; regular price 85.

HERE WE GO AGAIN!

No discouraging obstacles in our path to impede the progress of a live and snappy business. Business men wonder at our growing success and desiring popularity. We show no second-hand goods at high prices. We are Friends to the Public and Foes to High Priced Competition. Our constant aim is to benefit the people by constantly offering bargains. Buyers are always delighted and lookers surprised when they come to our store. Our stock of

Notions, Clothing and Furniture

This season is immense, and the variety of styles is as great as the forest of some pathless mountain. We have made a sacrifice too terrible to relate, but it must be told. In a great race for trade this season we will make the boldest. Adventure of Modern Times. That of retailing Clothing and Furniture on a jobbers profit. We are bound to have a greased lightning trade. Fine goods and low prices will do the work. We want every family in Wisconsin County, that thinks of buying Clothing and Furniture this Summer to come and see our new Nobby styles. They are Cheap in the Extreme. We show courtesy to all, whether they wish to buy or not. Offering inducements that will make your eyes snap. Don't be half-fazed by dealers who shout big things, and claim to show what they cannot produce. Let a merchant of this class know that you want a Carpet or a piece of Furniture, and he will bore you to death, and hang to you like a lean flea to a poor man's skin, and plead with you to come and support his big price concern. We show what we advertise. We mean what we say. We could give you a list of Bargains as long as the moral law, but space prevents. Our constant aim and goal is to gain and retain the confidence of our patrons. We are a Hard Team to Down! And want a repetition of what has been done only doubled up, and we are going to have it, for we are trained in the school of that instructive genius that marches over misfortune's rough road, and scorns the mention of impossibilities; they melt away when we make up our minds to perform a great undertaking. A cordial welcome to all.

FOR CONTROLLER OF THE TREASURY:

COL. L. VICTOR BAUGHMAN,

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

The Democratic Conservative Voters of Wicomico County are hereby requested and notified to meet at the usual Voting Places in Primary Convention, in their respective Districts.

Saturday, August 27, 1887,

at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., to select Three Delegates from each District to attend the County Convention, to be held in the Court House at Salisbury on

at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a Candidate for the State Senate, Three Candidates for House of Delegates and a County Ticket.

In Districts where there are contests the Executive Committee of the Districts where such contests are, shall present the Usual Number of Judges and Clerks for the Primaries, the Polls to be Opened at 2 o'clock and Close at 5 o'clock, P. M.

E. E. JACKSON,
THOS. W. H. WHITE,
WILLIAM L. LAWS,
State Central Committee.

The Pennsylvania Republicans, at their State convention last Tuesday, endorsed James G. Blaine for the presidency in 1888. They evidently intend to fight the next presidential campaign upon the same issues of 1884—and get defeated.

It is the duty of every democrat of the county to attend the primaries next Saturday, August 27th, and assist in sending good men to the county convention which meets the following Tuesday to nominate a legislative and county ticket. If good men are sent to the convention a strong and representative ticket will be placed before the people of the county.

There seems to be no end to railroad accidents. Last week we read of the horrible disaster at Chatsworth, Illinois, by which over one hundred were killed and about three hundred wounded. On Wednesday of this week an accident occurred near home—on the Baltimore & Ohio road near Washington, D. C. The following is a short account of it:

The St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati express, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, due from the West at Washington city at 6:20 o'clock Wednesday morning, was completely wrecked on the north branch of the "Y," about a mile distant from the company's depot. The engineer was fatally injured, and died within two hours after the accident. The fireman was seriously hurt, as was also a messenger in signal tower. Both are in a critical condition. Three passengers were seriously wounded, and seventeen were slightly hurt. The train consisted of locomotive 806, two baggage cars, one mail car, one freight car, two sleepers and two coaches. Fifty-five passengers were on board at the time. The casualty resulted from the failure of the air-brake to work as the train was descending the grade into Washington and it jumped the track just as it entered the beginning of the "Y." The financial loss is estimated at $50,000.

Such disasters will continue to occur until the railroads think less of economizing, and more of the safety of their passengers.

Mr. Jackson's letter of acceptance is before the people, and of all comments we have seen none are more satisfactory than the Baltimore American's, the republican organ of the State. While it is free from everything like gush, it is exceedingly complimentary. It is a clear synopsis of the letter. The following is an extract from it:

"Mr. Jackson's letter accepting the Democratic nomination for governor of this State is a remarkable clear and simple statement of his views upon what are likely to be the most interesting features of the campaign, and a satisfactory collocation of promises to be fulfilled in the event of his election. Some of his sentences are epigrammatic, and have about them the Cleveland ring, which, elicited the popular ear just prior and at the late inauguration in 1885, as, for instance, 'that which lies at the foundation of all rights is free and fair election,' 'annual registration in Baltimore city is desirable and necessary for protection against fraudulent voting,' 'business methods which I have been trained will be the rule of my administration,' 'I shall feel it my duty to execute existing laws strictly and faithfully on business principles,' and 'in the exercise of the appointing power I will be controlled only by the public good, and not by party or personal considerations.' These things have all been said before by candidates for office, but seldom so clearly and with such an evident air of sincerity. We are, therefore, willing to trust Mr. Jackson the merit of saying what he thinks, and saying it well, and intending to fulfill his promises; but will he, if elected, be able to impress his convictions upon those who really nominated him on, in each of these points? The people of Baltimore and the State at large are painfully interested in the answers to these questions.

Mr. Jackson, unlike the ring organs in this city, recognizes unequivocally the deplorable political crimes which have befallen Baltimore to such unspeakable criticism at home and abroad, and have very distinctly hints at the source of many of them when he states that in his appointments he will be controlled by influences that tend to maintain the purity of the ballot box. Very much of the same kind of the same kind of the people of Maryland has been due directly to the wretched appointments made by Democratic governors, which the latter have refused to revise after their worthlessness and criminality have been brought home to them by proofs as strong as Holy Writ. If we are to infer anything from the parts of Mr. Jackson's letter put together he does not propose to pursue such an opprobrious course.

Washington College Looking Up.

Recent developments relative to Washington College are significant of a brighter future for that time-honored institution. This college is known and valued by the people of Maryland, and especially of the peninsula, not only for its wealth of years, but for the many honored names that have graced its roll of students, and whose success in business life testify its practical work. For some years, however, the claims of the college have not been as fully appreciated as it deserved, but fortunately for its future the governors of the institution have awakened to this fact and seem disposed to apply the needed remedies.

A thorough reorganization of the faculty has taken place, and the college will open its next session with an infusion of new blood calculated to revolutionize the staid ways of the old institution. Prof. Thos. N. Williams, the new principal, is not only a thorough scholar and polished christian gentleman, but he has energy and push requisite for successful management; possessing administrative wisdom and zeal, his efforts will grasp every section of territory within the reach of this school's influence and make known its claims for support.

Washington College is most advantageously located. For healthfulness and beauty it is unsurpassed. The buildings are of brick, large and convenient, standing upon an eminence overlooking Chesapeake Bay and a wide sweep of country as beautiful as the eye could wish to gaze upon. Chester river is almost under its shadow, and a magnificent college campus—ten acres in extent—affords the students ample space for sports and healthful exercise.

In this important matter of health we cannot too strongly recommend Washington College. Its location proclaims it to every beholder, and its past record speaks in louder voice. No college in the land can make a better showing in this respect.

The rates for tuition, board, etc., have been reduced to such an extent as to make the cost of a collegiate education here less than at any other first-class institution in Maryland or adjoining States. Hon. Jos. A. Wickes is president of the board of visitors and governors, and J. A. Pearce, Esq., is the secretary, while other members of the board include some of the best citizens of this section, and with one accord these gentlemen have determined to infuse new life in Washington College, and we doubt not that they will be successful.

The Delaware Peach Season.

Special to the Baltimore Sun from Wilmington, Delaware, says:

The Delaware Fruit Exchange is handling more of the fruit brought here. The late fruit is ripening prematurely and hence the season will be very short. The prices Monday and Tuesday were good, although the fruit is nothing to boast of. It sold from 50 cents to $1.25 a basket Tuesday morning, and several orchards have been sold, both of white and yellow fruit, at 75 cents a basket as the peaches were on the trees. This is considered a good bargain, in view of the quality of the fruit. The wet, rainy weather of the past month is what injured the quality of the peach, which is usually very soft, and not able to stand transportation as formerly. The present weather is capital, but it came too late to save the quality of the Delaware peach. One great cause of the fruit ripening prematurely is believed to be the yellow. Orchards that a year ago contained two or three sickly trees, whose leaves yellowed before it was time for it, this summer show the work of the blight all over. There are orchards in this neighborhood in which one-third of the trees are turning yellow already, and these trees will never bear again. Wyoming is having the experience which Dover had only a few years ago; Middletown, still further north, a few years before Dover, and Delaware City, north of Middletown, had a good many years ago.

The best Delaware fruit this year is said to be shipped at Georgetown, Sussex county, where peach-growing has just begun. The Exchange is handling the fruit at Georgetown, and good prices, running from 40 cents to $1.50 a basket, have been realized. Entire orchards have been sold from 75 to 85 cents a basket.

To the people of Wicomico county there is an important suggestion, in the above article. The peach belt is moving South.

The Delaware City, Middletown, and Dover regions that once supplied the bulk of marketable peaches for our northern markets, have been without a crop for several years, especially the first named. The orchards have been diseased that their owners have in many cases removed them and abandoned peach culture altogether. Sussex county, Delaware and Wicomico county, Md., are to be the peach belt of the future.

We have the soil and climate for it, and the peach will, in proper cultivation, flourish here. Let every farmer have a small orchard, well kept.

A Heavy Suit.

New Albany, Ind., is greatly excited over a suit filed to set aside the will of the late Washington C. Depauw, who died worth six million dollars. The plaintiff is Mrs. Sarah Ellen Melton, widow of J. A. Melton, of Salem, Indiana. Depauw had three wives. The plaintiff is his first and only child by his first wife. To Mrs. Melton he bequeathed two poor farms not worth $5,000 all told.

Death of Stephen McKinnis. Died, on Thursday, the 11th, at Woodland Delaware, of paralysis, Stephen McKinnis, aged seventy-five years. The remains were brought down by rail and buried in Fruitland M. E. Church yard, of which Church the deceased was formerly a consistent and worthy member. Mr. McKinnis was an experienced and first-class ship carpenter, and worked at the business until within a few years of his death. He was a good citizen, strictly honest in all his dealings, possessed a remarkably strong memory, and about the best of health. He was survived by two sons and two daughters and several grandchildren.

Too Positive. For some time past the families of the town living in the vicinity of the Court House have been greatly annoyed by the howling and barking of dogs. One gentleman living near by who owns a pair of fine beagles informed his neighbors that his dogs were not the guilty parties and to prove it last Monday he sent his dogs out in the country to a friend. That night nobody was disturbed by barking dogs.

We hope other parties in town will inform the action of our friend and send their dogs to the country also. Salisbury would be a great deal better off.

Improvements. We are very much gratified every day of the necessity of establishing a commercial telegraph station in the town of Salisbury. Instead of the service improving, it grows worse. Such an important message as the letter of acceptance from the nominee for Governor, which was sent over the wires, appeared in a fragmentary form.

There is no doubt that the telegraph company is responsible for the error, as the original copy was delivered the operator here from which to transmit the message and it appeared in the same incorrect form in all of the papers.

He had been suffering from some ailment, and about the time he was taken to bed he had some small matter about the place, telling his mother as he left that he would not be gone long. His father was not at home at the time, but returned in about half an hour after. He was found dead in his bed. He was a well-known and respected citizen of the town.
