WITH A CUP AND SAUCER.

I send my love a cup and saucer.
With purple violets round the rim.
Empty it is, but sweet thoughts fill it up.
And keep it like a treasure close to him.

Upon a saucer fashioned like a heart.
Of polished silver, dainty and neat.
Dear golden, smiling life's part.
How can I look upon it and forget?

The charm I drop upon the cup is such.
That every draft a tender thought will bring.
The crystal leaves will brighten at her touch.
That every drop will be a loving thing.

Dear picture, violet that never grows.
In sunny fields nor falls a summer shower.
The happy smile may perchance touch her lips.
There is a sadness in a painted flower.

But go, my gift, and as my life's day
May weary come or her fragrant life
And bring to her a smiling thought of me.
—Helen Partridge Barker.

"SPOKE IT'S SATAN."

It was only the ground on which the 100 boys of Dr. Keller's school displayed themselves. But besides the boys present there were at least 100 demons of ambition, envy, rivalry, pride,
and selfishness.

The doctor himself, in a new suit of tweed, was in the midst of their stalking along with them, searching eyes of his well turned on the discomfited evidences. However, even at once that we can save you money. As we pay the cash for our shoes, therefore we get the discount and give our customers the benefit of it. Do not forget the place.

A WORD TO ALL!

NOW IS YOUR TIME TO BUY
SHOES

CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE.

We have a large stock of shoes on hand,
of all styles and sizes, which we are going to sell. No matter what the sacrifice costs us, we are bound to sell. If you contemplate purchasing shoes, call and see us before buying elsewhere, and you will be convinced at once that we can save you money. As we
pay the cash for our shoes, therefore we
get the discount and give our customers the benefit of it. Do not forget the place.

USE OF A FLYING MACHINE.

What May Be Gained by the Perfection of the Invention.

What important purpose might it not serve? Man, long ago, and all who have studied the subject thoroughly agree that the speed of aerial locomotion is greatly in excess of that of any terrestrial locomotion.

From this follows an entire economic change in the direction of rendering immense tracts of comparatively worthless territory at distances of 50 to 60 miles from cities much more available.

There would also result the relegating of city property in large measure to business and storage purposes.

This would to a large extent accomplish what Henry George sighs for, but would do it by means which do not involve any wrong to the land owner by the wage earner.

With flying beings capable of carrying enough at night large quantities of explosives to the center of a city would become so destructive that it would be soon supplanted by arbitration as a matter of common sense and self preservation.

Arbitration once established, an international police system controlling nations as we do individuals, and enforcing the decrees of boards of arbitration, would be enormously assisted by this power of rapid and if necessary destructive patrolling.

Immense areas of country, now well nigh impenetrable, would be opened to usefulness. Large sources of wealth would thus be added to the world, and would result in the amelioration of the condition of the savages of such regions as central Africa.

We should have to give up selfish legislation and restriction upon the commerce of other nations, and be obliged to stand on a broader basis, being than that of a nation of some.

—Samuel Cabot in National Traveller.

The Final Spillage.

Arthur Quiller-Couch's story called "The Paper" contains the description of a poor old couple who give the last little entertainment to their friends before going into the workhouse. It seems to be the usual thing for Cornish folks, whose hospitality even under the most disadvantageous circumstances is proverbial. They like to make a splash before going under. "Miss Scantlebury did it better 'n' anybody I've heard tell of," say these gossips. "When she fell into reduced circumstances, she sold the eight day clock, that was the only thing of value she had left. Brown's Treasurick made it, with very curious brass dial, wherein be carved a full fledged pig that roared like a crane when you went down stairs from the hour struck. 'Twas worth walking a mile to see. Brown's grandson bought it off Miss Scantlebury for 3 guineas, he being proud of his grandfather's skill, as the old lady drove into Treasurick works behind a pair of grays till she proceeds. Over and above the carriage into which she had added the horses will white fairs give the rider a crown, large as my lord. Aye, and at the workhouse door she said to the fellow, said she: 'All my love I've longed to ride in a bridal chariot, an' though my only lover died of a decline when I was scarce 22 I've done it at last, said she, 'an' now heaven an' air can't undo it!'

The Advertising.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is always within the reach of the sick because it is true; because it is the sober, common sense of thinking, not because it is true, and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which, in the financial world would be accepted without a moment's hesitation.

Hood Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

So far no one has ever made the blunder of painting a Cupid to look as if he had any sense.

When Ponce-de-Leon sought to find the fountain of youth he lost youth, it may be that he had in mind to find that draught which seems to make a truth.

Out of the fable age old, for drinking it the old grow young; it is, indeed, a draught of gold.

Surpassing all by potent and true. The draught meant is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, of course. It is a most potent rejuvenator of the weakened and debilitated system. It drives out all poison, all impurities, restores blood, and makes the old and worn out feel young and vigorous. Ponce-de-Leon didn't discover it, but Dr. Pierce did, and he rightly named it when he called it "Golden Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, indigestion and headache. All dealers.

"At least I can go down with colors flying," said the calumny when his foot slipped.

Black Dress Goods.

Thousands of women think of them daily. Some perform—mourning. Others as a matter of fancy. Black Dress Goods and Wanamaker's are twin thoughts in every Philadelphia woman's mind.

And rightly so. The Critic says that an equal array of Black Dress Goods cannot be found in all the land, and the Critic thinks he knows. We think he does.

The details that follows are full of interest. The first list contains Priestley's Eudora, which we introduced to this market a few days since. Forty-four sorts of Plain Silk-and-Wool.

Black Eudora, 5 sorts, $1.25 to $2.50.
Black Henrietta, 5 sorts, $1.00 to $3.00.
Black Crepe Cloth, 5 sorts, $1.25 to $3.00.
Black Melrose, 5 sorts, $1.25 to $2.50.
Black Clarette, 5 sorts, $1.00 to $2.00.

The second list is like unto it and contains eighty-two sorts of

The third list covers a beautiful collection of All-silk

Grenadines and Crepe de Chines. Many of the Jacquard and Twivel Embroideries upon these fabrics are exquisitely beautiful and very rich. The variety is great, and ranges from little dots of buds and simple zig-zag lines to deep flounce decorations, almost exactly like needle-work and large leaf and flower designs.

Black All-Silk Grenadines.

Embroidered Figures, 9 sorts, $1.00 to $4.00.
Striped, 4 sorts, $1.00 to $4.00.

The fourth list—Crepons. The modif is Crepe. The variations are the Franks improvement on the Mongols theme. You can neither muss nor crumple them. They are muscled artistically in making

In these days what is an advertisement without a bargain? Lupin furnishes the fifth list, rich with cheapness. You can buy yourself rich with them if you buy enough.

We closed all the balance in the agent's hands. The great Lupin firm will carry no more stocks on this side the Atlantic. Hence your chance in iron-frame Grenadines. May be you know them as Barge Hernaw. And you know how strong, beautiful, comfortable, elegant they are. But you never knew cheapness like the following:

Nankens.

There was a time when the Summer costume of a dandy was incorrect if it lacked Nankens, which were simply trousers of Nankens. The dudes and duduets of today have not emulated their ancestors and Nankens is among the derelicts. That explains this discussion.

To this generation Nankens is an unknown textile. There fun in the ignorance. People that have seen the lot in a window go to the Silks, to the Woolen Dress Goods, to the Paris Novelties, to the White Goods, to the Linens, in vain endeavors to find the Nankens. Some assert it to be others Cotton—and the last are right.

They are Cotton, of Chinese make take their name from the city of Nankin; are of a buff color—said to be natural. They are hand spun and woven, in pieces that vary from 6 1/2 to 6 3/4 yards. The import cost is over 80 cents a piece, or price is a piece. These durable stuffs are ready for Women's and Children's wear. Dresses, Waists, Suits—at a price that is merely nominal.

Thirty-five Cents

Dandy exclusiveness in the past. Popular economy in the present. Bravo Chinaman! Bravo Nankens!

Canton Cloth.

Fresh patterns each season have made hosts of friends for Canton Cloth. Nor Chinese. The neighboring nation of the Pacific Ocean and Asia have so much control of the store to-day that you might almost think only Oriental goods are for sale here. Canton only in name. 10c. Never before less than 12 1/2c.

MINOT LEDGE LIGHTHOUSE.

The Historic Storm Which Wiped the Original Structure Out of Existence.

The lighthouse on Minot's ledge stands within the shadow of a tragedy. It is the second structure erected upon the ledge. The first lighthouse, the lives it held were claimed by the sea. Begun in 1847 and completed in November, 1851, it was overwhelmed in the tragic storm of 1852. The structure was the most tragic event in the history of our lighthouse establishment. The structure was a fine building, lower superior upon wrought iron piles strengthened by braces. The piles penetrated five feet into the rock. On the rocks, 34 1/2 feet above the rock, the keeper and his family lived. The lighthouse was a platform for the storage of bulky articles and had fastened to the lantern deck, 67 feet above the rock, a 3 1/2 inch heavy iron chain, which was anchored to a seven ton granite block. Along this heavy article were hoisted up to the platform and there landed. The structure was a fine building, lower superior upon wrought iron piles strengthened by braces.
