She also previously held the positions of Professor of English and Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at that institution. Dr. Gira has held leadership positions in numerous national and state professional associations including the American Association of University Administrators (President, 1988-90); Federation of State Humanities Councils (Board of Directors, 1991-present); Maryland Humanities Council (Chair, 1989-91) and Maryland Association of Higher Education (President, 1986-87). She earned a B.S. from California State College (PA), an M.Ed. and a Master's in Liberal Arts from Johns Hopkins University, and a Ph.D. in Literature from the American University. She has published numerous articles on Shakespeare, Renaissance art and literature, and issues in higher education. She is currently completing a bibliographic and critical study of Shakespeare's Henry IV.

Ms. Edith (Edie) Butler, a non-traditional student, graduates with highest honors today with a major in political science and a minor in business administration. She has maintained an overall GPA of 4.0. A member of Pi Sigma Alpha, the National Political Science Honor Society, she received an A.A. degree in business administration from Garrett Community College where she was the recipient of the Charles Briner Memorial Scholarship, the Business Administration departmental honors, and the graduation award for the highest GPA. She hopes to attend West Virginia University School of Law. She resides in Grantsville with her husband, Tim, and their sons Danny, age 14, and David, age 11.

Dr. Harold Delaney served as Interim President of Frostburg State University from February through August 1991. Dr. Delaney successfully served Morgan State College (now University) for 21 years as Professor of Chemistry and Dean of the College. He subsequently served in a number of prominent positions with State University of New York (SUNY), and with the University of North Carolina System. He was president of Manhattanville College, and Associate Director of the Educational Equity Group, National Institute of Education. He became Executive Vice President of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) in 1977, and was honored with emeritus status in 1987. He was Special Assistant to the Chancellor of the University of Maryland System before accepting the Interim President's position at Chicago State University in 1989. He holds one of the first two doctorates awarded by Howard University (Chemistry, 1958) and maintains memberships in numerous societies and organizations. ## ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia is a visible reminder that the process of intellectual pursuits has historic and honorable antecedents. The dignity of scholarship in the past remains vital in the present. Academic costumes consist of gowns, hoods and caps.

Originally, academic gowns were an adaptation of priestly toga. They took on brilliant symbolic colors in the medieval universities — for example, purple for doctors of law, green for doctors of medicine, blue for doctors of philosophy. Sober colors were predominant during the Reformation. Gowns did not come into general use in North American universities until late in the last century. Then the brilliant medieval colors were revived. Emerging from black silk gowns increasingly are the color of the college or university which has granted the degree. The doctor's gown has wide lapels of velvet, its sleeves are wide and bell-shaped and there are three velvet sleeve chevrons.

The colorful hoods designate the degree of the wearer, the subject in which the degree is held, and the institution which awarded the degree. The colors of the velvet bands on each hood and robe represent the scholar's field of learning while the official colors of the school awarding the degree are always shown in the lining of the hood.

THE MACE

In the Middle Ages, the mace was a weapon used against armored warriors. It evolved through the years into an ornamental staff which served as a symbol of the authority of the ruler. Colleges and universities have adopted the mace as a decorative staff or baton which is carried by the grand marshal of the institution in all formal academic processions. The mace is also displayed at other significant events.

The Frostburg State University mace was crafted from mountain walnut which was milled in nearby Flintstone, Maryland in 1945. The grain pattern of the quarter-sawn wood was enhanced by laminating side sections to a central shaft which was then turned, point-to-point, on a wood lathe. To obtain a high-gloss finish, ten coats of trewax were applied while the mace was turned at high speed on the lathe. The fine detail work around the medallions and the final coating of wax were done by hand.

The design of the Frostburg State University mace is based upon the recorder, a woodwind musical instrument. Two die-struck replicas of the University seal are affixed to the top.

The mace was designed and crafted in 1986 by Dustin Davis of the Frostburg State University Department of Visual Arts.

ALMA MATER

Our Alma Mater, Mother of Knowledge,
We sing of thy glory, and thy honored name.
Founded for learning, of minds that are yearning
We treasure, we treasure our years at Frostburg State.

Our Alma Mater, guide us still nearer,
As striving for truth, we follow in thy light.
Grant us thy grace, that our minds may embrace
The wisdom, the wisdom ours here at Frostburg State.

Lyrics by Class of 1966

Music by Thomas Green, Phi Mu Alpha
