These teams may choose to discuss either "Leadership Development for Student Affairs" or "Student-Faculty Collaboration in Classroom Learning." A typical day for those attending the program consists of work in small training groups, lectures and discussions, and applications of principles learned.

The 15th National Congress of the National Student Association will be held at Ohio State University, August 19-30. Attending from State will be Natalie Schwarz and Mike Todd.

The NSA is a non-partisan group which represents American college students. Its members come from approximately 400 colleges and universities in the United States.

Reflective Senior Bids 'Adieu'

That day's almost here! The one day that's more confusing than freshmen registration—senior GRADUATION! Are you really prepared to dress up in black and become the proud possessor of a B. S. or B. A.?

The neighborhood kids will idolize you, or humiliate you with a "Oh yeah!! You're a college grad, and you're supposed to know EVERYTHING." Not to mention the conversational merry-go-rounds you will ride with your sage elders. How will your "book larnin'" compare with their "experience"?

Speaking of your critics, what will be your reply to the interrogation about your educational philosophies? Mistakes will count; you can't make them up in summer school. The "Lay educationalists" (that is, the public in general) ALL know why Johnnie can't read. Are you ready to tell them that the author of that book was an expert on adult, not child education and that his arguments were not well founded?

Beware if you should take a stand high atop the mountain of theoretical education; you might lose your breath up there in the clouds. Education might be everybody's mountain, but be prepared to hike it.

Someone once said that a college education substitutes learned ignorance for natural ignorance. It is the same old story; know what you know, and above all have an inkling about what what you don't know.

Let's not end this story before it begins.

Four years—that's a mighty short time to become a goldfish. That's what teachers are, you know. We are pure gold because we cost the taxpayers so much money. Since we are worth money ($$) the public demands the pleasure of keeping its eye on us.

Well, fellow seniors, the final phase of a four-year countdown is at hand. We have all experienced some pretty great times, and some experiences that were less than great. How can we forget the "panty raid" of our sophomore year? We really rallied when the "Brothers Four" hummed and strummed, but we were slightly less enthusiastic about the more cultural programs. (Sometimes we didn't want our level of appreciation raised; we would rather have raised the roof!)

There has been frolic, frustration, progress and only one real emergency. Nothing serious, just something we ate!

Now, as the clock ticks away the last minutes before blast-off, we stand, together, on the graduation launch pad, ready to begin our individual careers.

We have made fine friends, in fact, the fellow students have been the most pleasant part of the "Grind." And who could forget the instructors who really helped us—Dr. Wilfred Black, Miss June Eastman, Mr. James Cotton, Mr. Don Emerson, Dr. Lucile Clay, and Miss Esther Doerr, and all the others?

Barring ALUMNI TESTING, some of us will never meet again; and yet we have each become a part of the other's college career!—Steve Bittner

Survey Reveals Ratio Problems

On a random survey of the official roster of F. S. T. C. we discovered the most interesting thing—of 111 names on one page, 32 names were male. Which proves, gentlemen, that there are approximately 2.8 girls for each and every one of you.

Now, if you are a member of the minority group (i.e. men) the entire aspect of the situation is quite promising. On the other hand, if you belong to the majority group, the prospects are dismal.

There are two plausible solutions to this entire situation. One: Women, this is up to you! Recruit more males for our campus to equalize the ratio. Or, two: Men, bring up your friends on the weekends; or three, completely annihilate all social relations on campus.

Two French Majors Plan Summer In France

Twistin' atop the Eiffel Tower may not be the most aesthetic ambition two folks could have visiting Paris, but Lynda Forbes and Francis Garlitz are determined. We don't know what our American Embassy will say about this, but we heartily extend our "felicitations!"

PARIS BOUND—Sitting pretty on footlocker (which has been to Paris) is Lynda Forbes, who will be accompanied by Francis Garlitz. (Photo by Ken Smith)

These French majors will receive four hours credit at the Sorbonne summer session sponsored by Temple University in Philadelphia.

They will sail from New York City aboard the Dutch liner Groote Beer June 23, and dock in Rotterdam, Holland, July 6. From Rotterdam they will continue to Paris where their classes will begin July 13.

Lectures at the Sorbonne will be supplemented by tours of Paris, attendance at the Grand Opera, the Comedie Francaise, visits to Versailles, Malmaison, St. Denis, Fontainebleau, Barbizon, and St. Germain. Both students plan weekend visits to Mont St. Michel and the Chateau Country.

Lynda will reside at the Foyer Internationale, and Francis at the Circle Concordia, both of which are in the Latin Quarter. (This should prove to be a "learning experience" in itself.)

Following the summer term at the Sorbonne, Lynda plans to go to London for a few days and to Oban, Scotland, to visit some of her clan.

Visits Riviera

Francis will then travel due South for the Riviera and a visit to Alsace-Lorraine.

An interesting aspect of this summer is that almost the entire student body had a part in making the trip possible. The French Club sponsored a "Twistin' Time" to help raise money to send them off.

Sailing On the River Makes Trio Shiver

It may have rained from weekend, but there were several people on campus who got just a little bit wetter than anybody else did that weekend.

The thing of it is, four present students at State (Harold Miles, Betty Cullers, Larry McLean, and Betsy Elliott) and one graduate of Frostburg State (Marianne Hoelzer) went boating on the Cacapon River near Paw Paw, West Virginia, that fatal weekend.

There were two rowboats; they rushed headlong toward the roaring rapids; what could they do?

Well, at least it can be said that Harold tried to prevent the impending disaster. With quick thinking, as the boat hurtled toward the rushing water and threatened to annihilate all on board (Harold, Betty and Betsy), the male of the group vainly attempted to stop their progress by dragging his foot to stop the boat.

However, things don't always turn out the way we plan them. Harold's efforts were in vain and the poor rowboat capsized, thoroughly dunking its occupants.

The female members of the party got a bit wet, but Harold came out much the worse for his heroism. The thankless Cacapon River made off with one of his shoes. And that red crew neck sweater turned a perfectly good white shirt, pink! To top the whole maddening incident off, did you know that when gotten wet, neckties will shrink and nearly choke the wearer!!

Racing Rooters Were Huddled, Cuddled, Cool

Have you ever been on a picnic from 9:00 in the morning until 5:00 in the afternoon? Of course you have, but was it cold, like about 45 degrees? As many of us know, this is the way it was at the Cumberland Sports car races on that fateful Sunday, May 13.

Nobody came prepared for the weird weather. Bermudas and straw hats looked just a little out of place, as the cold wind whipped around the 100 foot hill where many Frostburg students were huddled.

Instead of sitting on blankets, most people were wrapped up in them. There wasn't much use for coolers as nothing had much chance to get warm. In spite of the ironical weather, everybody made the best of it and had a good time. Let's look at the optimistic side!

Television Madness Stimulates Editor To Compose 'Spoofisms'

By Judy Fisher

Another in the series of articles on the wonders of television is now to be included in the last issue of State-To-Date for this year, and we ask you, "Ain't cha lucky?"

(Credit where credit is due—thanks to Mr. Thomas Hutcheson and Vernon H. Kurtz of the Saturday Evening Post. The names in the following article have been changed to protect the guilty.)

Next time you watch a TV show, observe how often times it is necessary to compress a great deal of information into a few short lines; for example:

"Who is it on the phone, Hazel?"

"You know, the president of Frostburg State Teachers College, R. Bowen Hardesty."

"Well, well! Imagine seeing you—my roommate Betty, from Baltimore City, Maryland."

"Herman, I want to have a little talk with you about Mr. Wilfred Snitzel."

"You mean the instructor whose course, Scuba Diving 509 1/4, I am failing?"

"Mabel! Mabel Purvis! You old junior at Frostburg State Teachers College you!"

"Agnes Grimph! You old graduate student from Frostburg State Teachers College three years ago!"

"You and I, Griswald, are the only two people on campus who know what we are having for dinner—pork chops, potatoes, green beans, lettuce, and coffee, tea, or milk."

"Not only that, Peter Finch-smith, but we're also the only two who know that dinner is being served early tonight."

"Wilfred Smith, I certainly wish I could get a date with Matilda Glump."

"You mean, Frank Fims, the past Homecoming Queen, and the newly-elected president of the biggest organization on campus."

"Gladys! Gladys Frueworthy! Whom I haven't seen since yesterday at 10:00 a. m. after our Looming class. Wherever did you buy that dress?"

"Why, Thelma Thyme! My best friend in the whole wide world! I bought this lovely creation of purple and green at the Wonder Fashion Store in Sioux City, Iowa."

"So you've finally finished reading this article."

"You mean the one in State-To-Date?"

Joint Committee Makes Plans To Enroll Foreign Student

The Foreign Student Committee of the International Relations Club and Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity reports having sent personal letters to several individuals and organizations to gain information about getting a foreign student on campus.

This committee with the advice of faculty and administration would like to get a woman from India whose field is teacher education.

The Maryland State Board of Education has waived the requirement of U. S. citizenship for such a student and has consented that she be classified merely out-of-state. In order for this woman and the students here to gain mutual benefits from each other's culture, she will live in a dormitory on campus.

This woman will not be attending on a scholarship from the college, the IRC or Sigma Tau Gamma. She is responsible for providing her own tuition, as well as room and board. Some civic and student organizations have suggested aid, if necessary.

Four members of the International Relations Club were invited to present a panel on the topic, "United States Evolving Policy Toward Africa," at the American Association of University Women State Convention at Aberdeen, Maryland, on Saturday, April 28.

Those attending the convention were Sheila Sanders, Baltimore; Eileen Jackman, Baltimore; Roseann Weber, Cumberland; Dennis Moore, Beltsville, and Dr. Hazel G. Ramsay, IRC advisor.

"Africa" was the general topic of the convention. After a keynote address by Dr. Dorothy Robbins, Associate in International Relations at AAUW Headquarters, several panels were presented on aspects of the general topic.

Hamner Announces Homecoming Plans

Joyce Hamner, new president of the Student Union committee, recently announced that Homecoming Weekend for 1962 will be held the weekend of October 5 and 6.

"Below the Mason-Dixon" will be the theme for next year's parade and dance. Clubs have been notified of the theme and are currently planning for their floats.

Alumni registration, under the direction of Nancy Sipes, will begin with a coffee hour on Saturday, October 6, from 9 to 12. Graduating seniors are urged to make plans for the coming event.

Committee chairmen for the program include Earleen Stewart, dance; Lynn Zeller, parade; and Janice Hortor, Friday night's activities.

All clubs should notify the Student Union of their committee representative to the Union.

Other new officers on the committee include Chris Landenberg, vice president; Mimi Pearce, corresponding secretary; Sherry Phillips, recording secretary, and Bill Buttrill, treasurer.

Dabrowski Narrates Farewell Assembly

Today the senior class will present their annual farewell assembly in Compton Auditorium at 2:10 p. m., according to Ann Schwanebeck, general chairman.

The central theme revolves around a letter written to Russian students reviewing experiences of the Class of '62 since their entry at State four years ago. Jack Dabrowski will act as narrator.

Among the scenes depicted in the program are registration, dormitory life, the library and seminar.

Also featured are Darleen Van Roon singing "Whatever Lola Wants" and Rosa Moberly singing "With a Song in My Heart." Carol Bean, pianist, will accompany both girls. The "Frosty Belles" will present a dance routine.

Other chairmen for this assembly are Pat Wenner, Harold Vance, Barbara Tompkins, Carolina Agnolutto, Dot Strawsburg, and Bill and Wayne Bruchey.

Miss Irene Kirkeby is advisor to the class.

Student Congress Accepts E. Weiner's Dance Study Survey

At the final meeting of the Student Congress on Monday, May 14, in the Student Congress office, the first order of business was the acceptance of the dance study survey, conducted by Elliot Weiner. This committee, formed on the recommendation of President Hardesty, did an extensive study on the possibilities of on-campus and off-campus dances.

Their findings were summarized by the following statements: (1) In the face of rising enrollment every possible effort should be made to develop and expand the use of all campus facilities, but to encourage maximum student participation by utilizing the resources of the community when crowded conditions prevail.

(2) That in the area of college policy development, in social activities as well as in other areas, representation of student viewpoints are essential in policy deliberation, and to communicate final policy decisions to the student body.

(3) That Student Government should participate in the scheduling of an academic, social, cultural and athletic calendaring and that this calendar be published at the beginning of each semester.

Student Association representatives voted to remodel the present office. Improvements will include a new chair, three desks, a new door and an electric typewriter. Notebooks will also be purchased for all Student Association officers and delegates.

A committee, under the chairmanship of Pat Ballentine, presented the third point proposal for major and minor offices. After some discussion, this proposal was referred back to committee for changes in allotted points.

Marvin Vann, outgoing president of the Student Association, next presented recognition pins to the 1961-62 officers and representatives of Student Congress. A gift was also presented to Dean Manicur, Student Association advisor.

Adcock's Angle

By Charlie Adcock

During the course of a year there are many moments in the sports world that leave lasting memories in the mind of the viewer. Here are a few that stick in the mind of this writer for the past year at State:

Who will ever forget the last-minute Howard goal that spelled defeat for the Bobcats on Homecoming Day in a fiercely contested soccer contest?

Who, among the fans that witnessed the home Shenandoah basketball game, will forget George Lauder's last second goal which gave the 'Cats a 71-69 victory?

For those who ventured to Shepherd, who will forget the excitement of awaiting the first football kickoff in the history of the school?

Who can forget the two overtime victories that gave State the championship of the Bowie Tournament?

Sports Situation Superlative; State's Swatters Successful

That the caliber of athlete coming to State has improved beyond what was expected in the last three years is exhibited this year in the fact that just one varsity sport is experiencing a losing season, that being tennis.

'Cats Set Records; Trounce Catonsville

Bobcat Tracksters steamrolled Catonsville Community College on the Beall High track Saturday, May 12, by a score of 101-20. Dave Soppa, Roy Sigler and Mike Todd led in the triumph with two victories each.

Dave Soppa scored victories in the shot with a put of 38 ft. and the discus with a toss of 103 ft. 10 inches. Mike Todd conquered his specialties, the mile and two-mile, with little effort. Roy Sigler captured the half-mile, and set a new school record of 0.53 in the 440. In the low hurdles, Charley Robinson set a new record of 26.3 for the 220 yard event. Richard Clingan got first in the high hurdles and second in the lows.

Krohm, the pole vaulter for Catonsville, a two-year school, was the only man to get a first for his team. Simms of Catonsville had six points for high man on the Catonsville squad. Catonsville was shut out in the 440, 100, 120 yard high hurdles, 880, 220, and shot put.

Three records have been surpassed by Bobcat trackmen. Ray Morgan holds the shot record with a toss of 41 ft. 7 7/8 inches. Roy "Muggs" Sigler holds the new record in the 440, and Charley Robinson in the low hurdles holds the new mark.

Linksmen Even Log

The Bobcat linksmen evened their record at five wins, five losses by winning two of three matches in a triangular meet at the Maplehurst Country Club on May 11. The 'Cats defeated Davis-Elkins, 9 1/2 to 5 1/2 and Hagerstown Junior College, 11 1/2 to 3 1/2, while losing to California, (Pa.) Teachers 10 to 5.

Four players tied for low medal honors with 71's. They were Sigler and Connolly of State, Zapone of California and Weagley of Hagerstown.

Frostburg's tennis team finally broke into the scoring column this year, but the effort was not enough, as the Bobcats went down to defeat 7-2, at the hands of Davis-Elkins. Ralph White, playing in the number six slot for State, was the key man in the 'Cats wins. He won his own singles match and then teamed up with Sammy James for the team's first doubles win of the year.

State's golfers closed out their season in a match against Thiel College and Slippery Rock. The tennis team likewise ended its season by invading Pennsylvania to oppose Slippery Rock.

Rooting Section

By Eddie Root

Having been associated for four years with athletics at Frostburg, I cannot but marvel at how rapidly the time has gone by and how sturdily the sports program has grown.

I have seen many good athletes and have witnessed many spintangling contests in my sojourn at State. With the graduation ceremonies so near, my close connection with the sports pulse on campus is about to come to an abrupt finale.

The many friendships of four years are about to be broken, but never forgotten. In this, my last column for State-to-Date, I wish to comment on the deeds of our athletes in order that they may be recorded forever in the printer's ink of your newspaper.

Therefore, then, I say fond adieu to: ROY "Muggs" SIGLER, all-American, possibly the best all around athlete ever to graduate from Frostburg. May he have as much success in his future endeavors;

CHARLEY ROBINSON, who has as yet made only a medium splash in State's athletic pond. With his ability the splash cannot fail to grow;

RONNIE MANN, "Jose," who excelled at any sport he ever attempted. His carefree attitude and friendship will be missed, but his future coaching exploits may be followed via the newspaper media;

GEORGE LAUDER, "Bear" outstanding in soccer, basketball, and baseball. He is like having another coach in the game and will be looked to for team leadership even more next year;

HANK WINNER, the other half of the "Creek Combination," strong basketball rebounder, leading baseball hitter and plays soccer as well.

COACH KENNETH BABCOCK, dean of Frostburg mentors. Staunch supporter of his players. His annually successful soccer squads are bringing sports fame to Frostburg;

RAY MORGAN, "Animal," his record breaking heaves in the shot put as a freshman give a lift to track hopes for the next three years;

JACK PATTERSON, all around track man who can play football and basketball. His record-trying leap of 6 ft. 2 in. in the high jump will provide a mark for future tracksters to shoot for;

GEOFF WHITMORE, rated by many of his soccer opponents as the best goalie they played against this year. One of the original blazer winners;

RITA BENSON and GERRY SMITH, tennis players extraordinary. They are responsible for the majority of the young varsity sports success;

KENNY POLING, gridiron great who has done a tremendous job of football-playing before Uncle Sam beckoned. State fans eagerly await his return;

JACK GILMORE, "Skin," another gridiron stalwart. His rugged line play on the field and humorous antics on campus will long be remembered;

ED SHOUP, making his presence felt in both track and football. He will undoubtedly be accorded a niche in State's young football history;

MIKE TODD, impressed this school with his feats in running the mile and two mile this year. A possible threat to Sigler's three year old two mile record;

GERRY LLEWELLYN, deceptive soccerite. Many an opposing player will testify to the uncanny, deceptive ability of Gerry while performing his duties on the field;

JOHN NUSSEAR, one of the greatest defensive catchers that this school has ever seen. His bat has established him as a hitter to be reckoned with this year;

ADOLPH DOERK, the white-haired German who has a habit of making the soccer field the scene of sparkling defensive plays and well placed offensive kicks;

GEORGE "Corky" CONNOLLY, outstanding in golf and basketball. Plays a steady, cool game regardless of the sport, and he is capable of playing them all;

JIM THOMPSON, "The Big Red," hulking rebounder for the Bobcat basketballers. His finesse is questionable, but the results he produces are terrific;

BILL HENAGHAN, has been a big aid to the scoring punch of the forward line of the Bobcat soccer squad. Not the flashy player, but the consistent one;

DICK HESTERBERG, "Deek," strong as an ox and twice as determined on the soccer field. Expected to play a big role in State's soccer fortunes next year.

PRESIDENT R. BOWEN HARDESTY, for his efforts in furthering the athletic department, facilities, and program of this college, and for bringing football to this school;

THE CHEERLEADERS, deserving of vast applause and appreciation for their attempts to instill life into lethargic spectators.

THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT, in doing so much with their limited resources. Their budget could readily do with a great increase in keeping with the growth of this college.

BADMINTON ACTION — Above is an action shot of the WRA ladder badminton tournament. Awaiting the birdie is Pam Gardiner, in the foreground. Sandy Johnson, who has returned the shot, and Mary Ellen Cunningham, her partner, view the action. Tournament winners were Jane Schwanabeck and Karen Crowley.

Jane Schwanabeck and Karen Crowley won the badminton ladder tournament. In the round-robin elimination Jane and Karen "out-smashed" the other finalists, Joan Esworthy and Norma Matthews, and Betty Powell and Judy Pullman.

At the Annual Awards Banquet held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club, eighty-four girls received awards. Minor awards were given to 23 girls who had participated in at least 8 activities. Blazers were awarded to 13 juniors and seniors.

Mont Chateau, West Virginia, provided the facilities for the evaluation-leadership conference held May 19 for the executive board and newly elected officers. At the conference plans were approved for a WRA Handbook. Patty Balentine, who deserves most of the credit for the handbook, stated that the book will serve to stimulate interest in WRA among incoming freshmen and to enlighten current students on the aims of the organization.
