Circle.

PROSPECTUS
For Publishing in the City of Baltimore a Weekly Paper under the title of
THE
WEEKLY BALTIMORE REPUBLICAN.

At the solicitation of several of our friends
in this city, and applications of others
from the different counties of the state, we
have concluded on issuing a weekly edition
of our paper, on or before the first of February next, or as much sooner as a sufficient number of subscribers shall be obtained, to warrant the undertaking.

It is deemed unnecessary to enter into a long
detail of our political opinions, as they are well known to our friends throughout the state, and as it is usual to make some pledges on commencing a new publication, we will merely
state, that as we have always been strictly Republican, so shall we continue, in despite
of the machinations of wily politicians who
have exerted every energy to break us down;
and so long as the principles of the present
National Administration continue to receive
the support of the people—the yeomanry of the land, we shall continue their trusty sentinel on the watch-tower of freedom, and warn-
them of every encroachment on their liberty, by ambitious and aspiring demagogues.

We are not disposed to enlarge the characters or conduct of men in this prospectus,
but make these few remarks that our friends
may know that our principles are unchangeable, and that we shall never desert them in
the time of need—when the cause of our common country calls every man to action.

It is unnecessary to extend a prospectus
of a Newspaper, as every citizen is acquainted with its utility in diffusing intelligence
on all subjects of a local or foreign nature,
and the influence placed within their power,
to be exerted over the public mind, if properly conducted, by giving the general principles upon which our liberal institutions are founded, or in correcting those
errata thereto, by exposing their objects,
and holding up to view the individual who
may be disposed, either from a personal distinction or private interest, to sport with the rights of his country, or trifle with the inalienable rights of FREEMEN.

It will, no doubt, be conceded on all hands,
that the result of the late election in this
state, was owing in a great measure, to the want of a more general dissemination of information among the people. Our opponents
had every advantage in this respect.—
More than two thirds of the papers in this state, and in this city, two of them open
and two others, while professing neutrality, were evidently hostile to the principles of the Administration, were arrayed against us. Still we battled with them,
and if we were not victorious, it was owing
to the want of a more general circulation
of information among the people, than to the want of energy on our part. With these few remarks, we shall submit our sheet to the
good sense and liberality of the public, hoping that they will see the necessity of encouraging us in our undertaking, as well for the interests of the party generally, as for ourselves.

TERMS.
THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN will be printed
in the same size sheet as our daily and country edition, and will contain most of the reading matter which may appear in those papers
at the course of the week. Good paper and its type will be used, and every improvement
in its mechanical arrangement shall be adopted of which the encouragement we shall receive will admit. It will be issued every Saturday morning, at the low price of Two Dollars per annum if paid in advance, Two Dollars and Fifty Cents at the expiration of six months, or Three Dollars if not paid till the end of the year. These terms must be strictly adhered to.

Editors with whom we exchange in this and
the adjacent states, will confer a favour by sending this prospectus a few gratuitous insertions in their papers, and by sending a copy containing it, marked, they will thereby inter themselves to a free exchange for one
copy and those friends to whom we send it,
will please procure as many subscribers as practicable, and return their names to this office about the time the publication is to be commenced.

Post Masters and others, who will exert themselves in procuring subscribers, and forward the amount of their subscriptions, will be entitled to a deduction of fifteen per cent on a copy of the paper for one year for their trouble. They will also forward their names
immediately, in order that we may place them
among our list of Agents. Address, postage paid.

S. & J. N. HARKER,
South Gay-street, opposite the Exchange.

NOTICE.
ALL persons are cautioned against hunting
wild geese or gun, or in any manner trespassing on that part of the Platte Farm, formerly belonging to R. J. Crabbe Esq.

estate is in all respects highly valuable and desirable, being well adapted to both farming and planting purposes. There is a considerable quantity of first rate meadow land belonging to the estate. The purchaser will not be entitled to the grain crop now growing on the ground, to secure and remove which, free ingress and egress to the persons entitled to the same will be reserved.

TERMS OF SALE: The purchaser will be required to pay $3000 within thirty days from the day of sale, and on making such payment he shall be entitled to the possession of the property. The residue of the purchase money to be paid in three equal annual instalments. The purchaser will be required to give bonds with satisfactory security to the Trustees, for payment of the several instalments
with interest thereon from the day of sale.

The creditors of Thomas Snowden, Jr. are requested to exhibit their claims to the Trustees, on or before the day of sale.

TH. S. ALEXANDER, Trustee.

TH. DUCKETT, Trustee.

The Intelligencer, and Globe at Washington, Chronicle and Republican at Baltimore, and Gazette at Annapolis, will insert the above
until sale and send their bills to the Trustees.

Mr. Pratt, chairman of the committee on internal improvements, to which was referred the bill reported by Mr. Duval, entitled, a further additional supplement to a supplementary act, entitled, an act to incorporate the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company, delivered the following

REPORT:

The committee on internal improvements, to which was referred the bill, entitled, a further additional supplement to a supplementary act, entitled, an act to incorporate the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report, that in the opinion of the committee, the bill should not receive the favorable action of the house.

First, Because, in the opinion of your committee, the provisions of this bill would violate the chartered privileges of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company—and

Secondly, Because the provisions of the bill would tend to endanger the safety of travellers upon the said road.

Which was read the first and second time by special order.

Mr. Ely then offered, as a substitute for said report, the following:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the act, entitled, a supplementary act to an act, entitled, an act to incorporate the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company, passed at December session, 1833, ch. 163, be and the same is hereby repealed.

On the question being put, will the house adopt the substitute—it was Determined in the negative.

From the National Intelligencer of Yesterday VOTE UPON THE FRENCH QUESTION IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Adams modified his first Resolution so as to read as follows:

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this House, the Treaty with France of the 4th of July, 1831, should be maintained, and its execution insisted upon.

The question was then taken on agreeing to the first resolution of Mr. Adams, modified as above, and decided by Yeas and Nays. Yeas, Two Hundred and Ten; Nays, None. So it was Resolved UNANIMOUSLY, That, in the opinion of this House, the Treaty with France, of the Fourth of July, 1831, should be maintained, and its execution insisted upon.

The announcement of this vote from the Chair was received with a loud and spontaneous burst of applause, which broke at once from the galleries, and was re-echoed from the floor, making the walls and dome of the chamber to resound with joy, while mutual congratulations passed in all directions.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,

ANNAPOLES, March 3d, 1835.

Resolved by the Governor and Council, That the thanks of the Executive be presented to Captain Henry Hobbs for the prompt tender of his services as Commander of the Guard ordered into service by the Executive under the resolution of the General Assembly, passed the 17th ultimo, for the protection of the public property, and for the efficient discharge of the duties of his appointment.

PRESENTATION OF SWORDS.

Thursday last, the 26th inst. was the time appointed by Governor Thomas, for the delivery of the Swords which the Legislature of Maryland directed to be prepared and presented to Col. (now General) Towson, of the U. S. Army, and Captain GALLAGHER, of the U. S. Navy, as a testimony of the high sense entertained by their native state, of their efficient services and gallant conduct during the late war with Great Britain. Those officers reached this city during the afternoon. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, a large number of persons, consisting of members of the Legislature, Executive and Judicial Departments, officers of the Army and Navy, visitors and citizens, assembled in the Senate Chamber, the scene of the most memorable of ceremonies, the recollection of which may well be associated with the present. A discharge of artillery announced that the ceremony had commenced. Governor Thomas first addressing General Towson, observed:—

General:—It has become my welcome duty to tender to you the deeply felt acknowledgments of your native state, for the lustre shed upon her character by your distinguished military services during the late war with Great Britain.

Never was a country more gallantly or more nobly served, than was the American Republic during that trying conflict, by the son of Maryland, whose station in battle came to be familiarly designated as "Towson's Light House;" and while I recollect with sentiments of mingled pride and pleasure, that there was scarcely an action upon our northern frontier during that war, in which your courage and conduct were not alike eminently honourable to yourself and advantageous to your country, I can but feel the highest gratification in presenting to you, in behalf of the Legislature and the people of Maryland, this appropriate testimonial of their high estimate of these services, and of their affection for the patriot who rendered them.

Receive this sword, which I am well assured will, in your hands, ever gleam brightly in the cause of liberty, and be to the soldiers a freedom, and index to victory.

To which General Towson replied:—

I feel most sensibly my inability to convey to your Excellency, in suitable terms, the high sense I entertain of the distinguished honour conferred on me in the presentation of this sword.

I entered the army at the commencement of the late war, without experience or military information, but with a determination to devote all my energies to qualify myself, to the extent of my capacity, for the profession I had adopted.

My company was one of the first ordered to Canada, under the command of that distinguished officer, now Major General Scott. From the proportion of military bears to other troops, it must frequently happen in small armies that a single company will form a distinct and complete command; and as the gallant spirits who were my superiors in the corps, aspired to more important duty, they seldom objected to my command being detached to join any other body of troops that required artillery. This will account for the opportunities afforded it to participate in several of the important events on the Niagara frontier.

Under such circumstances, I did not expect, although it was the first wish of my heart that my humble services would attract the attention much less be considered worthy of this distinguished mark of the approbation of my native State; and I beg your Excellency to receive as the representative of the Legislature, on this occasion, and accept for yourself, the assurance of my unceasing gratitude and high respect.

The Governor then addressing CAPTAIN GALLAGHER, said:—

Captain:—I discharge with pleasure the official duty of making known to you the high sense entertained by your native state, of the gallantry displayed by you, in the late war with England, in winning renown for your country, and sustaining on the ocean the character and honor of the "Star spangled Banner"—America has ample cause to be proud of her naval heroes—in this pride, Maryland can claim her full share; and as one of her sons who have nobly won for themselves, in that service, wreaths of imperishable glory, she this day distinguishes Captain Gallagher.

In the service of the republic air, your course "Is o'er the mountain wave" "Your home is on the deep"

Take with you this sword, which I now present you by command of the land of your birth, in token of her gratitude and affection—you will never draw it without cause, and we are already assured by the achievements its devices commemorate, that when drawn, you can never sheath it without honor.

To which the Captain replied:—

Your Excellency I receive with profound respect and gratitude, the sword you have now presented me, on behalf of my native state.

This mark of approbation of my conduct during the late war with Great Britain, by the Legislature of Maryland, for whatever subordinate merit I may be supposed to have earned in the events to which this occasion refers, I am rewarded beyond all price, and beyond all pretensions, by this high compliment, while it impresses me with the deepest emotions, it will serve as an additional incentive, to a continuance in the faithful discharge of my duty to our common country, and that it shall only be used, whenever it may become necessary to draw it in the defence of that country.

For the very flattering manner in which your excellency has been pleased to carry into effect the wishes of the Legislature, I beg you, sir, to accept my warmest acknowledgments.

From the Baltimore Chronicle of February 26.
FINE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

Between ten and eleven o'clock last night, the large stable of the Western Hotel, fronting on Saratoga-street and extending in the rear of the hotel and a number of stores on Howard street, was consumed by fire—and we regret to learn that a fireman named William Macklin, was killed by the falling of one of the walls, and several others much hurt. The head of Mr. Macklin was most horribly mangled. Great fears were entertained for the safety of the property on Howard-street, but the flames were happily extinguished by the active exertions of the firemen without further injury than the destruction of the stable and sheds. We have not learned how the fire originated.

Since the above was in type, we learn that another fireman named John Thomas had his leg broken; several others are known to be seriously injured, and fears are entertained that some are still buried in the ruins.

Latest Account.—Just as our paper was going to press, we were informed by a medical gentleman, that he had seen and examined four bodies, in all of which life was totally extinct. The three others were named William McNulty, Michael Moran, and Stewart Downs, the latter of whom has left a wife and five children to deplore his untimely end.

From the same of February 27.
THE FUNERAL.

The deceased fireman will be buried to-day with all the marks of affectionate respect that can be paid to them by their brother firemen and fellow citizens.

A meeting was called yesterday morning at the Mayor's Office, of all the fire companies of our city, to take such order as the occasion demanded. JESSE HUNT, Esq. was called to the Chair, and F. S. LARRO, Esq. was appointed Secretary, when the following resolutions were unanimously passed.

Resolved, That the respective Companies assemble at the City Hall, and be ready to proceed with the funeral at 10 o'clock, A. M. precisely, 27th inst.

Resolved, That the Hon. Jesse Hunt, act as Chief Marshal, with power to appoint such Deputies as he may think proper.

Resolved, That each Company appoint a Marshal for their respective Company.

Resolved, That the members of the respective Companies be requested to attend with badges and wear trape on the left arm.

Resolved, That the Companies having flags be requested to have them hoisted half-mast high, and those Companies having bells, be requested to toll them during the procession.

Resolved, That the funeral procession be held on this evening at 7 o'clock, and that the Companies be requested to assemble at the City Hall at 6 o'clock.

GREAT NATIONAL WORK. AMERICAN MAGAZINE

THE process which has attended the publication of the best Magazines from the English Press, has led to preparation for issuing a periodical more particularly adapted to the wants and tastes of the American public. While it will be the object of the proprietors to make the work strictly what its title indicates, it will, nevertheless, contain all articles of interest to its patrons which appear in foreign Magazines.

Extensive preparations have been entered into, both with artists and authors, to furnish from all parts of the Union, drawings and illustrations of every subject of interest, which the publishers confidently believe will enable them to issue a work honourable to its title, and acceptable to the American People.

The first number of the American Magazine, illustrated with upwards of twenty splendid engravings, will appear on or before the first of September, and be continued monthly, containing between forty and fifty imperial octavo pages, and be furnished at the low price of two dollars per annum. It will comprise—

Portraits and Biographical Sketches of distinguished Americans; Views of Public Buildings, Monuments and Improvements; Landscape Scenery; the boundless variety and beauty of which, in this country, will form an increasing source of instruction and gratification; Engravings and descriptions of the character, habits &c. of Beasts, Birds, Fishes and Insects, together with every subject connected with the Geography, History, Natural and Artificial resources of the country, illustrated to a familiar and popular manner.

FREEMAN HUNT, Agent of the Boston Hewitt Company 47 Court st. Boston, July 17.

Editors throughout the United States who will give the above Prospectus a few insertions in their respective papers, shall be entitled to one year's subscription to the same.

WALDIE'S CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

BUBBLES FROM THE BRUNNENS OF NASSAU.

A description of the fashionable watering places in Germany, by an old man, will form the commencement of the fourth volume of Waldie's Library.

This will be followed, at an early day, by the Memoirs of Henry Massey de la Tuile, who was confined for thirty-five years in the different State Prisons in France, now first translated into English.

The works published in the current volume, now on the point of completion, are the following:—

Kreitzner, or the German's Tale, a novel, by the author of Canterbury Tales.
Memoirs of Sir James Campbell, of Ardkinglass, written by himself; a very piquant book, containing anecdotes of most of the distinguished individuals of the last sixty years.
Good Sir Walter; a tale by the author of Family Portraits.

The Broken Heart; a dramatic sketch, from the Italian.
Rome in the Nineteenth Century; in a series of letters written during a residence in that city, by a Lady.

The Deaf and Dumb Page; a Tale.
Anecdotes of the Court of Louis XIV.; by the Duke of St. Simon.

The Black Watch; an Historical Novel, by the author of the Domino's Legions &c. &c. One of the best novels, say the London Magazines, of the present day.

Tudor's new book of Travels in Mexico and Cuba.

Allan Cunningham's Biographical and Critical History of Literature for the last fifty years.

Helen, a Novel, by Maria Edgeworth.

Journal of a West India Proprietor, kept during a residence in the Island of Jamaica, by the late Matthew G. Lewis, Esq. M. P. author of the Monk, &c.

The Curate's Tale, or Practical Joking; from a new work entitled Nights of the Round Table.

The Three Westminster boys, or Cowper, Lord Chancellor Thurlow, and Warren Hastings, contrasted; from the same.

A Narrative of the Shipwreck of the Antelope at Pelew, in 1783, and a brief but accurate account of Prince Le Boe.

All the above cost in the "Library" but $2 50!

Office No. 207 Chesnut street, below 7th. Subscriptions to Waldie's Select Circulating Library which is published every week, at $3 per annum, thankfully received by ADAM WALDIE, Philadelphia.

Subscriptions for the above valuable work received at this office.

THE SACRED CLASSICS.

THE SACRED CLASSICS, OR, CABINET LIBRARY OF DIVINITY.

With an original introductory essay by the author. Edited by RICHARD CATTENMOLE, B. D. and the Rev. HENRY STEBBING, M. A.

The following is the Advertisement of the London Publishers:

UNIFORM IN SIZE WITH DR. LARDNER'S CYCLOPEDIA, THE SUNDAY LIBRARY, &c.

PRICED ONLY THREE SHILLINGS AND SIXPENCE. On the 1st of January, 1834, will be published Vol. I. of a Series of the Standard Theological Works of England, under the general title of

THE SACRED CLASSICS, OR, CABINET LIBRARY OF DIVINITY: With an original Introductory Essay to each Author.

EDITED BY THE REV. RICH'D. CATTENMOLE, B. D. AND

THE REV. HENRY STEBBING, M. A.

NO other country is so rich as England in Sacred Literature. Her greatest Poets and Philosophers have shared with her Divines, in setting forth and establishing the truths of Revelation; while her Divines have been distinguished alike by the copiousness and the depth of their learning.

The soundness of character thus given to the standard Theology of England has, through a variety of circumstances, been happily preserved from degenerating into the harshness of scholasticism; and thus the whole series of our "Sacred Classics," is a well of truth and consolation, as open to the general reader as to the most learned student.

It is intended to comprise in this collection, the best works of all the most celebrated writers, whose labours have been devoted to the elucidation and practical enforcement of the principles of revealed truth, whether in their application to the immortal interests of individuals, or to the order and well being of society. Treatises on the Doctrine, Morality, and Evidences of Christianity, which have received the permanent stamp of general approbation; select Sermons of the most eminent Divines; the most interesting specimens of Religious Biography; and the choicest examples of Devotional and Sacred Poetry, will succeed each other in the order which may be judged most conducive to the benefit and gratification of the reader.

To the productions of each author, or to each separate production, as the case may seem to require, will be prefixed an Introductory Essay, pointing out their characteristic excellencies; and, in some instances, comprehending a biographical sketch of the Author, with remarks on the state of religion in his times.

It is the desire of the Proprietors, in undertaking "THE SACRED CLASSICS," to present the collection to the public at such a price, that he who purchases at present the cheapest of ephemeral publications, may, for the same money, possess himself of works which cannot fail to afford him guidance and support in the highest exercises of his faculties, and under every vicissitude of life.

The work will be handsomely printed in Foolscap 8vo. on good paper, cold-pressed, neatly bound in Morocco Cloth, lettered; and published (in Volumes of about 400 pages each) on the first day of every month.

Price, Three Shillings and Sixpence: Forming the cheapest series of works ever offered to the public.

Jeremy Taylor, Bates, Boyle, Baxter, Owen, Cudworth, Thomas A. Kempis, Burnet, Howe, Butler, Wilson, Bunyan, Fenelon, Doddridge, South, Bulk, Hammond, Barrow, Tillotson, Sherlock, Jortin, Farinon, Horsley, Hale, Stillingfleet, Porteus, Locke, Leighton, Cave, Chillingworth, Hall, Jewel, Jackson, Flavel, Charnock, Wesley, Skelton, Watts, Lowth, Romaine, Waterland, Whichcote, Bledsoe, Pearson, Ken, Newton, Stanhope, Whilby, Hammond, Burkiitt, Herbert, Doune, Merriam, &c. &c.

Vol. I. (to be published on the 1st of January,) will contain

THE LIBERTY OF PROPHECYING, by Jeremy Taylor—with an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. Richard Cattenmole, B. D.

Vol. II. (to be published on the 1st of February,) will contain

CAVE'S LIVES OF THE APOSTLES—with Notes, and an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. Henry Stebbing, M. A.

Vol. III. (to be published on the 1st of March,) will contain

BATES'S SPIRITUAL PERFECTION, UNFOLDED AND ENFORCED—with an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. John Pye Smith, B. D.

LONDON: John Hatchard and Son; Piccadilly; Whittaker & Co. Ave Maria Lane; Simpkin & Marshall, Stationers' Court; D. A. Talboys, Oxford; J. & J. Deighton, Cambridge; Oliver & Boyd, Edinburgh; and J. Cumming, Dublin.

And to be had of every Bookseller throughout the Kingdom. Match 4th, 1834.

The English copy will cost, in England, a bout ten dollars. We propose to issue the American edition, under the superintendence of a learned American clergyman, in weekly numbers, on a single sheet of superfine paper, giving ninety-six large 12mo. pages, to be folded and stitched, and covered with strong envelope paper, at the rate of five dollars per annum.

PROPOSALS

TO REPUBLISH THE LONDON, EDINBURGH, FOREIGN AND WESTMINSTER QUARTERLY REVIEWS, FOR $6 PER ANNUM.

THE above Journals are already so well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits.

The well sustained reputation of the LONDON QUARTERLY, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the old order of things, but as the witty and most entertaining of Reviews, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific.

The EDINBURGH, celebrated for the vigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, conducted by some of the principal literary men of the modern Athens, in an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reform party.

The FOREIGN QUARTERLY occupies a neutral ground in Politics, and is devoted to continental literature.

The WESTMINSTER is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Radical, and the mouth piece of Benthamism. It represents the principles of a party already numerous in England, and fast increasing in the United States.

The numbers will be put to press immediately after they shall be received from Europe, and will contain the entire matter of the above works; making four annual volumes of upwards of six hundred pages.

They will be executed in a good style, and be printed in a shape but little differing from that of the European editions.

The price will be $8 per annum, payable three months after the delivery of the first number. The English copies cannot be had for less than $30. Of the three at present republished, two of them alone cost $10.

Any individual procuring four subscribers, and remitting $30 on the receipt of the first Number, will be allowed an additional copy.

Subscription papers to be returned, and all communications to be addressed, post paid, to Theodore Foster, Albany, N. Y.

COMPANION TO WALDIE'S LIBRARY.

The cheapest reprint from English Periodicals ever offered to the public.

BEFORE the Select Circulating Library had been long in existence, it was discovered that there was still something wanting—that many occurrences in the literary world must pass unknown, as regarded our agency, without an extension of the plan. To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Journal of Belles Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprietor to give that gratuitously as an evidence of his acknowledgments.

More extended experience has shown other desiderata which the "Companion" is intended to supply. While reading for the "Library" a large mass of material accumulates on the hands of the editor, of an interesting, entertaining, and instructive description, such as would properly come under the designation of Magaziniana, interspersed with the Reviews from the English Quarterlies. To publish every thing of this nature which we deem desirable would encroach too much on the columns of the "Library" designed for books, and yet to pass them by is constantly a subject of regret.

To concentrate, therefore, the publication of Books entire, Reviews, lists of new works, the choicest contributions to Magazines, &c. &c. &c. the "Companion to Waldie's Library" will be offered to the patronage of the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such an acquaintance with the literature of the age may be cultivated as to leave little further to be desired. Being all published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do. The short interval of two weeks between the publication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies and quarterlies.

The following plan is respectfully submitted.

1. The "COMPANION" will contain the earliest possible reprints of the best matter in the British periodicals.

2. It will be issued every fortnight, and the form will be the same as that of the Library—each number containing sixteen pages—thus, every six months, giving thirteen numbers, which can be bound with the Library at little or no more expense, and making a better sized volume; and to those who do not take the Library (itself, a volume

NOTICE

THE proprietor of the "Select Circulating Library," fully aware from experience of the advantages to the public of the rapid diffusion of cheap and select literature, has been induced to add the important feature to the work, and of course leaves it optional with the present subscribers and others to take it or not.

It is confidently believed, that, with the attention on the part of the Editor, who has already at hand the material for such a work, all the really valuable matter of the English literary and amusing publications may be comprised in this form at a rate of subscription and postage, so trifling as scarcely to be felt. It will form the cheapest reprint of reviews and magazines ever attempted in any country; a comparison with others it were needless here to enter upon, the "Library" itself being the best test by which to judge of the difference between an octavo and a quarto page. It will be the study of the Editor to embody a record of the day, adapted to the wants of this country, which can have no competitor for value or cheapness; how far he is likely to do this he must leave at present to the decision of his readers.

Clubs of five individuals, who subscribe to the "Library" and "Companion" both, will obtain the two for six dollars, the postage (a very important consideration) to the most distant post office, on the two, will be one dollar and ninety-five cents, divided into seventy eight payments, and half that sum for 100 miles or a less distance from Philadelphia, while the same matter, in the usual American reprints of reviews and magazines in octavo form would be eighteen dollars, and the postage as three to one. We make this assertion advisedly.

Subscriptions to the "Companion," will be taken either with or without the "Library."

The proprietor trusts that his punctuality and exactness in executing his part of the contract in the publication of the "Library," will be considered a sufficient guarantee of the completion of his proposed undertaking.

PROSPECTUS
of Publishing in the City of Baltimore a Weekly Paper under the title of
WEEKLY BALTIMORE REPUBLICAN.

The solicitation of several of our friends in this city, and applications of others from the different counties of the state, were concluded on issuing a weekly edition of our paper, on or before the first of February next, or as much sooner as a sufficient number of subscribers shall be obtained, to warrant the undertaking.

It is deemed unnecessary to enter into a long detail of our political opinions, as they are well known to our friends throughout the state, and as it is usual to make some pledges on assuming a new publication, we will merely state, that as we have always been strictly republican, so shall we continue, in despite of the machinations of wily politicians, who are exerted every energy to break us down, and as long as the principles of the present Administration continue to receive the support of the people—the yeomanry of the land, we shall continue their friends, and on the watch-words of freedom, and warn of every encroachment on their liberties, by ambitious and aspiring demagogues.

We are not disposed to eulogize the characters or conduct of men in this prospectus; we make these few remarks that our friends know that our principles are unchangeable, and that we shall never desert them in time of need—when the cause of our common country calls every man to action.

It is unnecessary to extend a prospectus of a Newspaper, as every citizen is acquainted with their utility in diffusing intelligence, all subjects of a local or foreign nature; the influence placed within their power, be exerted over the public mind, if properly conducted, by giving the general spring those principles upon which our liberal institutions are founded, or in correcting those errors, thereby, by exposing their objects, and holding up to view the individual who may be disposed, either from a personal disposition or private interest, to sport with the liberties of his country, or trifle with the inalienable rights of FREEDOM.

It will, no doubt, be conceded on all hands, that the result of the late election in this state, was owing in a great measure, to the want of a more general dissemination of information among the people. Our opponents had every advantage in this respect—more than two thirds of the papers in this state, and in this city, two of them open and owned enemies, and two others, while professing neutrality, were evidently hostile to the principles of the Administration, were arrayed against us. Still we battled with them, and if we were not victorious, it was owing to the want of a more general circulation of information among the people, than the want of energy on our part. With these few remarks, we shall submit our sheet to the audience and liberality of the public, hoping that they will see the necessity of encouraging us in our undertaking, as well for the interests of the party generally, as for ourselves.

TERMS.
The WEEKLY REPUBLICAN will be printed on the same size sheet as our daily and country edition, and will contain most of the reading matter which may appear in those papers during the course of the week. Good paper, and a fine type will be used, and every improvement in its mechanical arrangement shall be adopted, of which the encouragement we shall receive will admit. It will be issued every Saturday morning, at the low price of Two Dollars per annum, if paid in advance, Two Dollars and Fifty Cents at the expiration of six months, or Three Dollars if not paid till the end of the year. These terms must be strictly adhered to.

Editors with whom we exchange in this and adjacent states, will confer a favour by giving this prospectus a few gratuitous insertions in their papers; and by sending a copy containing it, marked, they will thereby enable themselves to a free exchange for one year, and those friends to whom we send it, will please procure as many subscribers as practicable, and return their names to this office, about the time the publication is to be commenced.

PROSPECTUS.
The Subscriber proposes to publish, in Upper Marlboro', Prince George's county, Maryland, a weekly journal, to be called

THE BULLETIN.
In undertaking to supply this acknowledged desideratum to the popular and intelligent district in which the subscriber has the fortune to reside, his hope of ultimate success finds not its origin in sanguineness of temperament, but proceeds from the evident advantages of its location. Published in the metropolis of a large and wealthy county, situated equidistant from the State and National capitals, facilities of an early communication, of whatever may interest its patrons, are particularly afforded to the Editor; and though he may not hope to present to his friends much foreign information through the medium of his columns, not derivable from other journals, it is still certain that intelligence of a local nature, interesting to all, and important to many, and otherwise unobtainable, will by this means be communicated. It will also offer to those whose means are inadequate to the expense of the larger journals, at least a synoptical view of all the important information they contain; and he trusts that those of literary taste may sometimes find in its columns, articles not unworthy of the employment of their leisure. As the plan of every publication which is to find its success in popular support, must first be exposed before public patronage can be expected, the Editor would here mark the outline of his designs with the full knowledge that it will constitute an ordeal, by which to determine both its merit and the fidelity of its prosecution.

The Editor proposes to adapt his paper to the wishes of those by whom he is immediately surrounded, and among whom he must naturally find a majority of his patrons: he knows them to be intelligent and inquiring;—the Literary department, shall, therefore, be assiduously regarded, and the most approved domestic and foreign periodicals resorted to for belles lettres notices. He knows them to be patriotic, and that they feel a deep interest in the welfare of our common country. To gratify this sentiment to the extent of his ability, his columns shall afford whatever intelligence of a political character may be calculated to interest them. No man, with the faculty of thought, is at this crisis neutral in reference to the party distinctions now prevailing in this country, and the Editor does not wish to disguise his political sentiments—they are in opposition to the measures of the present Administration. But having neither the temper nor the motive of a partisan, his comments upon party movements shall be characterized by frankness of argument, not violence or abuse—and as it never has been his practice, so shall it never become his habit to deal in political invective or party violence. He will cheerfully lend the aid of his columns to communications from all parties—receiving to himself the privilege of rejecting such as are objectionable for personal allusion or indecorous language. In addition to the advantages of appropriate political and literary selections, he trusts also to tempt into exercise whatever of native talent may surround him, and with such aids he may not presumptuously hope to render his paper useful and interesting. He asks not the patronage of his friends longer than his efforts merit and repay it, as he wishes not to owe that favour to personal feelings, which would be devoted to his editorial labors.

The BULLETIN will be published on Thursday in each week. Terms of subscription $3 per annum.

LEGISLATURE OF MARYLAND.
House of Delegates.

Wednesday, March 4th, 1835.

Mr. Pratt presented a petition of sundry citizens of Washington county, praying the passage of an act giving to Judge Thomas Buchanan a per diem compensation in certain cases.

Mr. Carter presented a petition of John A. Sangston, of Caroline county, praying that a law may pass to compel certain persons to assist in cutting a ditch therein named, and for other purposes.

Mr. Worthington presented a petition of sundry citizens of Prince George's county, praying that a law may be passed, directing the levy court of said county, to furnish fuel for the offices of register of wills and the clerk of said county.

Mr. Sothoron presented a petition of Mary Floyd, of St. Mary's county, praying to be divorced from her husband Joseph Floyd, Jr.

Mr. Pratt presented the proceedings of a numerous and respectable meeting of landholders and other citizens of Prince George's county, held at Upper Marlborough, on the subject of a Real Estate Bank.

Also presented two petitions of sundry citizens of said county, praying the establishment of a Real Estate Bank.

Which was read the first and second time by special order, and concurred in.

Mr. Cottman, chairman of the committee on education, delivered the following

REPORT:
The committee on education have examined the reports of Colleges and Academies referred to them, and respectfully report—

That the following colleges and academies, viz: St. John's college, Frederick college, Washington college, Cambridge, Buckingham, Allegany, Salisbury, Charlotte Hall, West Nottingham, Belle Air, St. John's Literary Institution, Franklin Union, Garrison Forest, St. James, Prince Frederick town, Washington, New Market, Exton, Hagertown, Rockville, Lower Marlboro', Elkton, and Manchester academies; and the justices of the orphan court for Prince George's county, and the commissioners of the school fund for Dorchester, Allegany, and Calvert counties, have reported under an act of assembly, passed at December session, 1823, ch. 141, and in compliance with resolution 81, of December session, 1832. The trustees of Abingdon academy, receiving $300, have not reported according to law, and, in the opinion of your committee, have forfeited under Rs. 81, December session, 1832, ten per centum of their donations.

The act of 1823, ch. 141, under which schools, academies, and colleges report, requires:

1st. That each school, academy, or college, that receives a donation in money from the State, shall afford tuition in all the branches taught; and shall furnish the necessary school books, free of any charge, to one poor child for every $100.

2d. That the trustees of each school, academy, or college, shall select the number to be educated from the poor children, having regard to the pecuniary situation of the persons so selected—and 3dly. That the trustees of each school, academy, or college, that receives a donation, shall make an annual return of the number of poor children educated in their respective schools.

This act fixes no limit for the return, but Res. 81 of 1832, requires the reports to be made on or before the month of February, or forfeit ten per centum of the annual donation of the year in which any academy may so fail.

Your committee beg leave to state, that many of the returns are not in conformity with the act of 1823, for they neither report whether they furnish books to the poor students nor whether their gratuitous students have been taken from the poor, and many fail to educate the required number of poor children.

The committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH S. COTTMAN, Chairman.

on divorce, reported a bill to divorce Mary Ann Rouch, of the city of Baltimore.
The house then adjourned.

Thursday, March 6th, 1835.

The Speaker laid before the house, a communication from the Clerk of Baltimore County Court, enclosing the petition of John Brown, together with the answer, commission, testimony, and all other the proceedings had under an application for a divorce.

Mr. Cushing presented a memorial of Sarah Norris, administratrix of William Norris, Jr., praying the passage of an act to enable her to lease certain real estate.

Mr. Cushing also presented a memorial of William and Thomas Adair, William Dawson, & Co, Hugh Boyle, and others, merchants, ship owners and masters of vessels, praying a modification of the Passenger law.

And, Mr. Jones of Somerset, chairman of the committee on grievances and courts, of justice, reported a bill to provide a uniform mode of appointment of the justices of the levy courts, of the several counties in this state.

The bill reported by Mr. Merrick, to provide more effectually for the levy and collection of the tax imposed for the purpose of colonizing the free people of colour in this state, by the act, relating to the people of colour in this state, passed at December session 1831, chapter 291, was taken up for consideration.

The said bill was then read the second time, amended, and passed.

The bill reported by Mr. Merrick, to provide for the erection of a bridge over the head waters of the Wicomico river, at or near Allen's Fresh, in Charles county, was taken up for consideration, read the second time and passed.

Baltimore county, in Letters to Anne Arundel county, passed at December session 1829, chap. 155.

Also, the bill, to authorize the trustees of P. any creek Presbyterian church in Frederick county, to demand and receive the harvest there, in mentioned for the use of said church.

Also, a supplement to the act, for regulating and inspecting weights and measures used in this state.

Also, the bill supplementary to an act to incorporate the Savings Institution of Essexburg.

Also, the bill for the benefit of John E. Brown of Cecil county.

Also, the bill for the relief of John D. Ward, severally endorsed, will pass, and severally ordered to be engrossed.

Also, the resolutions in favour of Margaret Davis, Elizabeth Downing, Charles Smith.

Also, the resolution authorizing the Librarian to receive congressional documents &c.

Also, the resolution authorizing the Librarian to transmit copies of the laws to the clerk and register of wills of Worcester county.

Also, the resolution requiring the Librarian to transmit copies of the laws of this state, to the clerk and register of wills of Somerset county, severally endorsed, "assented to," and severally ordered to be engrossed.

And delivered a bill originated in and passed by the senate, entitled, a further supplement to an act, entitled, an act for the relief of creditors and to prevent frauds and deceptions occasioned by secret sales, mortgages, and gifts of goods and chattels.

The house then proceeded to consider the third order of the day, being the bill reported by Mr. Brengle, entitled, an act for the division of Baltimore and Frederick counties, and for the erecting a new one by the name of Carroll, and to alter and change the constitution of this State, so far as may be necessary to effect the same.

Mr. Devecmon moved to postpone said bill.

Mr. Ely moved to postpone said bill, and make it the order of the day for Tuesday next.

Resolved in the affirmative.

Mr. Jones, of Somerset, chairman of the committee on grievances and courts of justice, delivered the following

REPORT:
The committee on grievances and courts of justice, to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of Anne Arundel county, praying that the fees of constables may be increased, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report, that they deem it inexpedient that the prayer of the petitioners should be granted, and beg to be discharged from the further consideration of the petition aforesaid.

Respectfully submitted,
I. D. JONES, Chairman.

Which was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

On motion,
The house then adjourned.

FRIDAY, March 6th, 1835.

The Speaker laid before the house a report from the trustees of the Abingdon Academy, in Harford county.

count of Prince George's county, to cause a petition to be laid off for the purpose of a road in Montgomery county.

And, Mr. Harding reported a bill, relating to a road in Montgomery county.

The bill reported by Mr. Kirby, entitled, an act to alter the constitution of this State, as to the time and manner of electing the senate and the mode of filling up the vacancies in that body, was taken up for consideration, and passed.

The house then resumed the consideration of the leave asked for by Mr. Scott, to bring in a bill to call a convention and revise the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

On the question being put, will the house grant the leave, it was determined in the negative.

The bill reported by Mr. Burchenal, to authorize the building a bridge over Choptank river, was taken up for consideration, read the second time, passed, and sent to the senate.

Mr. Beckett submitted the following message, which was read, assented to, and sent to the senate:

Gentlemen of the senate:

We propose with your concurrence, to close the present session of the General Assembly, by final adjournment, on Saturday, the 14th of the present month.

The bill reported by Mr. Jones, of Somerset, chairman of the committee on grievances and courts of justice, entitled, an act relating to the trial of cases of appeals from judgements of justices of the peace in the County Courts of the fourth judicial district.

The bill reported by Mr. Hughes, entitled, a further supplement to an act, to authorize and empower the levy court of Charles county, to assess and levy a sum of money on the assessable property thereof, for the purpose of building a gaol in said county.

The bill reported by Mr. Williams, for the benefit of Joseph Hutchinson, sheriff of Worcester county.

The bill reported by Mr. Carter, entitled, a further supplement to an act, for the regulation and improvement of the village of Denton, and for other purposes.

TOWN MEETING.

Agreeably to the call of the Mayor of the city.

Mr. McMahon presented the following resolutions which were adopted by the greatest unanimity.

Whereas the House of Delegates in the General Assembly of Maryland, have passed a law providing for the general completion of the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal to Cumberland, and the completion of the Baltimore and Annapolis Rail Road to York, in Pennsylvania, on terms highly beneficial to the State, and also because the said bill would be a very advantageous one to the people of Maryland, and whereas the meeting of the day is a celebration of those improvements as being necessary to the prosperity of this city and the State, and also because the said bill would provide an ample fund without taxation for the support of public schools throughout this State, and for universal education of those who will conduct our destinies and upon whose intelligence the welfare and safety of the State must ever depend.

—Do it therefore

Resolved, That a Committee, consisting of twenty-four persons be appointed by the Clerk to proceed to Annapolis, and respectfully communicate to the Senate of Maryland, the sense and lively hope of the meeting of their Honourable Body may approve and pass the aforesaid Bill.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the General Assembly of Maryland, and to the Editors of the newspapers published in this State, and that this meeting adjourn, to re-assemble upon notice given by the Chairman, after the General Assembly shall have definitely acted on said Bill.

The meeting was addressed for upwards of an hour by John V. L. McMahon, Esq. in strains of the most rich and fervid eloquence, abounding with the most convincing arguments.

After the adoption of the Resolutions, thanks of the meeting were unanimously voted to Mr. McMahon for the signal part he had taken on the occasion.

The Chairman asked and obtained the designation of the Delegation to proceed to Annapolis.

The meeting then adjourned to meet upon the call of the Chairman, after the Legislature have acted definitely upon the important Bill.

THE LAST ACT.

The Intelligence given the following scene of the concluding scene in which the sacrificed all the appropriations for fortifications even those in a state of progress for some time to defeat the measure of the House, proposed for the contingency of hostile invasions of the part of France. The Intelligence is the narrative down to the appointment of a Committee of Conference, and then says:

"No communication coming from the Senate, and it being already past 11 o'clock, the Senate, fearing for the fate of this bill, desirous of pressing its great importance to the attention of the House, sent them the following message:

"Resolved, That a message be sent to the Honourable the House of Representatives, respectfully to remind the House of the appointment of the Committee of Conference, appointed on disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the House to the amendment of the Senate, to the bill respecting the fortifications of the United States.

"When this message was read in the House we learn (for we were not present) that the Chairman of the Committee of Conference (Mr. Cambreleng) said he had not taken, or did not take, the responsibility of presenting a report of the two Committees, on account of lateness of the hour, or the thinness of the House—or for both reasons—adding, that he was himself against the Report. Then Mr. Lewis, the next named on the committee, made a report of the concurrence of the committees. The subject was thus again before the House; and, as to what then ensued, we next hear or two, as we did not see it, we do not venture to describe it from hearsay.

learn, however, that the Senate, having until a good while longer, in hopes of hearing from the House, and not hearing, sent still another message, informing the House, that the Senate, had no further business before them. No answer coming to this message, the House, after waiting a considerable time longer, hearing nothing from the bill, finally adjourned—and the bill, therefore, is utterly lost.

"It being already past 11 o'clock" (says Intelligence) when the committee reported the House. This is the artificial mode of action adopted by the editor to screen the conduct of Messrs. Clay, Calhoun, Webster, &c. struck out the appropriation for the public defence, and hoped to make the House adjourn rather than risk the responsibility of losing ordinary appropriations for fortifications to grow.

"It being past 11 o'clock!" It was past eleven o'clock when the committee reported, and every member of the House had done of his own watch to prove it for past one o'clock, and the House had no constitutional existence. The Senate refused to pass the bill when in its hands; and when it was possible for the House to re-consider the subject or even to vote upon it before the time of adjournment of the members expired. The public remark a curious instance of what the bill calls fact, but what honest men would call a still shorter term, in the expression attributed to Mr. Cambreleng. He is made to declare

AMERICAN MAGAZINE

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE, published by the American Magazine Company, New York, N.Y.

The success which has attended the publication of the first number of the American Magazine, has led to the preparation for issuing a periodical more particularly adapted to the wants and tastes of the American public. While it will be the object of the proprietors to make the work strictly what its title indicates, it will, nevertheless, contain all articles of interest to its patrons which appear in foreign magazines.

Extensive preparations have been entered into, both with artists and authors, to furnish from all parts of the Union, drawings and illustrations of every subject of interest, which the publishers confidently believe will enable them to issue a work honorable to its title, and acceptable to the American people.

The first number of the American Magazine, illustrated with upwards of twenty splendid engravings, will appear on or before the first of September, and be continued monthly, containing between forty and fifty imperial octavo pages, and be furnished at the low price of two dollars per annum. It will comprise—

Portraits and Biographical Sketches of distinguished Americans; Views of Public Buildings, Monuments and Improvements; Landscapes; Scenery; the boundaries, variety and beauty of which, in this country, will form an interesting source of instruction and gratification; Engravings and descriptions of the character, habits &c. of Beasts, Birds, Fishes and Insects, together with every subject connected with the Geography, History, Natural and Artificial resources of the country, illustrated in a familiar and popular manner.

HUBBLES FROM THE BRUNNENS OF NASSAU.

A description of the fashionable watering places in Germany, by an old man, will form the commencement of the fourth volume of Waldie's Library.

This will be followed, at an early day, by the Memoirs of Henry Masade la Tude, who was confined for thirty-five years in the different State Prisons in France, now first translated into English.

The works published in the current volume, now on the point of completion, are the following:—

Kreutzer, or the German's Tale, a novel, by the author of Canterbury Tales.

Memoirs of Sir James Campbell, of Ardkinglass, written by himself: a very piquant book, containing anecdotes of most of the distinguished individuals of the last sixty years.

Good Sir Walter; a tale by the author of Family Portraits.

The Broken Heart; a dramatic sketch, from the Italian.

Rome in the Nineteenth Century; in a series of letters written during a residence in that city, by a Lady.

The Deaf and Dumb Page; a Tale.

Anecdotes of the Court of Louis the XIV. by the Duke of St. Simon.

The Black Watch; an Historical Novel, by the author of the Donnie's Legacy; &c. &c.

One of the best novels, say the London Magazines, of the present day.

Tudor's new book of Travels in Mexico and Cuba.

Helen, a Novel, by Maria Edgeworth.

Journal of a West India Proprietor, kept during a residence in the Island of Jamaica, by the late Matthew G. Lewis, Esq. M. P. author of the Monk, &c.

The Curate's Tale, or Practical Joking; from a new work entitled Nights of the Round Table.

The Three Westminster boys, or Cowper, Lord Chancellor Thurlow, and Warren Hastings, contrasted; from the same.

A Narrative of the Shipwreck of the Antelope at Pelaw, in 1783, and a brief but accurate account of Prince Le Bon.

All the above cost in the "Library" but $2 50.11

Office No. 207 Chesnut street, below 7th. Subscriptions to Waldie's Select Circulating Library which is published every week, at $5 per annum, thankfully received by

With an original introductory essay to each author. Edited by RICHARD COTTERMOLE, B. D. and the Rev. HENRY STEBBING, M. A.

The following is the Advertisement of the London Publisher.

UNIFORM IN SIZE WITH DR. LARDNER'S CYCLOPEDIA, THE SUNDAY LIBRARY, &c.

PRICE ONLY THREE SHILLINGS AND SIXPENCE. On the 1st of January, 1854, will be published Vol. I. of a Series of the Standard Theological Works of England, under the general title of

THE SACRED CLASSICS.

OR, CABINET LIBRARY OF DIVINITY. With an original Introductory Essay to each Author.

EDITED BY THE REV. RICH'D. COTTERMOLE, B. D. AND THE REV. HENRY STEBBING, M. A.

TO OTHER COUNTRY IS SO RICH AS ENGLAND IN Sacred Literature. Her greatest Poets and Philosophers have shared with her Divines, in setting forth and establishing the truths of Revelation; while her Divines have been distinguished alike by the copiousness and the depth of their learning.

The soundness of character thus given to the standard Theology of England has, through a variety of circumstances, been happily prevented from degenerating into the harshness of scholasticism; and thus the whole series of our "Sacred Classics," is a well of truth and consolation, as open to the general reader as to the most learned student.

It is intended to comprise in this collection, the best works of all the most celebrated writers, whose labours have been devoted to the elucidation and practical enforcement of the principles of revealed truth, whether in their application to the immortal interests of individuals, or to the order and well being of society. Treatises on the Doctrines, Morality, and Evidences of Christianity, which have received the permanent stamp of general approbation; select Sermons of the most eminent Divines; the most interesting specimens of Religious Biography; and the choicest examples of Devotional and Sacred Poetry, will succeed each other in the order which may be judged most conducive to the benefit and gratification of the reader.

To the productions of each author, or to each separate production, as the case may seem to require, will be prefixed an Introductory Essay, pointing out their characteristic excellencies; and, in some instances, comprehending a biographical sketch of the Author, with remarks on the state of religion in his times.

It is the desire of the Proprietors, in undertaking "THE CABINET LIBRARY OF DIVINITY," to present the collection to the public at such a price, that he who purchases at present the cheapest of ephemeral publications, may, for the same money, possess himself of works which cannot fail to afford him guidance and support in the highest exercises of his faculties, and under every vicissitude of life.

The work will be handsomely printed in Foolscap 8 vo. on good paper, cold-pressed, neatly bound in Morocco Cloth, lettered; and published (in Volumes of about 400 pages each) on the first day of every month.

Price, Three Shillings and Sixpence; Forming the cheapest series of works ever offered to the public.

Jeremy Taylor, Bates, Boyle, Baxter, Owen, Cudworth, Thomas A. Kempis, Burnet, Howe, Butler, Wilson, Bunyan, Feagleson, Doddridge, South, Bull, Hammond, Barrow, Tillotson, Sherlock, Jortin, Farinon, Horsley, Hale, Stillingfleet, Porteus, Locke, Lathlow, Cave, Chillingworth, Hall, Jewel, Jackson, Flavel, Charnock, Wesley, Skelton, Watts, Law, Romaine, Waterland, Whicote, Balguy, Pearson, Ken, Newton, Stanhope, Whitby, Hammond, Burki, Herbert, Doune, Merrick, &c. &c.

Vol. I. (to be published on the 1st of January) will contain

THE LIBERTY OF PROPHECYING, by Jeremy Taylor—with an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. Richard Cottermole, B. D.

Vol. II. (to be published on the 1st of February) will contain

CAVE'S LIVES OF THE APOSTLES—with Notes, and an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. Henry Stebbing, M. A.

Vol. III. (to be published on the 1st of March) will contain

BATES'S SPIRITUAL PERFECTION, UNFOLDED AND ENFORCED—with an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. John Pye Smith, D. D.

LONDON: John Hatchard and Son; Piccadilly: Whitaker & Co. Ave Maria Lane; Simpkin & Marshall, Stationers' Court; D. A. Talboys, Oxford; J. & L. Broughton; Cambridge: Oliver & Boyd; Edinburgh; and J. Cumming, Dublin.

And to be had of every Bookseller throughout the Kingdom. March 4th, 1854.

The English copy will cost, in England, about ten dollars. We propose to issue the American edition, under the superintendence of a learned American clergyman, in weekly numbers, on a single sheet of superfine paper, giving ninety-six large 12mo. pages, to be folded and stitched, and covered with strong envelope paper, at the rate of five dollars per annum.

PROSPECTUS

LONDON: DUBLIN: BIRMINGHAM: WESTMINSTER. QUARTERLY REVIEWS. FOR 1854.

THE above Journals are already, as well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits.

The well established reputation of the LONDON QUARTERLY, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the old order of things, but as the wildest and most entertaining of Reviews, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific.

The Edinburgh, celebrated for the vigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, conducted by some of the principal literary men of the modern Athens, is an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reform party.

The FRANKLIN QUARTERLY occupies a neutral ground in Politics, and is devoted to continental literature.

The WESTMINSTER is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Radicals, and the mouth piece of Benthamism. It represents the principles of a party already numerous in England, and fast increasing in the United States.

The numbers will be put in press immediately after they shall be received from Europe, and will contain the entire matter of the above works; making four annual volumes of upwards of six hundred pages.

They will be executed in as good style, and be printed in a shape but little differing from that of the European editions.

The price will be $8 per annum, payable three months after the delivery of the first number. The English copies cannot be had for less than $50. Of the three at present republished, two of them alone cost $10.

Any individual procuring four subscribers, and remitting $30 on the receipt of the first Number, will be allowed an additional copy.

* Subscriptions papers to be returned, and all communications to be addressed, post paid, to Theodore Foster, Albany, N. Y.

COMPANION TO WALDIE'S LIBRARY.

The cheapest reprint from English Periodicals ever offered to the public.

BEFORE it is Select Circulating Library had been long in existence, it was discovered that there was still something wanting—that many occurrences in the literary world must pass unknown, as regarded our agency, without an extension of the plan.

To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Journal of Belles Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprietor to give that gratuitously as an evidence of his acknowledgments.

More extended experience has shown other desiderata which the "Companion" is intended to supply. While reading for the "Library" a large mass of material accumulates on the hands of the editor, of an interesting, entertaining, and instructive description, such as would properly come under the designation of Magazinaria, interspersed with the Reviews from the English Quarterlies. To publish every thing of this nature which we deem desirable would encroach too much on the columns of the "Library" designed for books, and yet to pass them by is constantly a subject of regret.

To concentrate, therefore, the publication of Books entire, Reviews, lists of new works, the choicest contributions to Magazines, &c. &c. the "Companion to Waldie's Library" will be offered to the patronage of the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such an acquaintance with the literature of the age may be cultivated as to leave little further to be desired. Being all published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do.

The short interval of two weeks between the publication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies and quarterlies.

The following plan is respectfully submitted.

1. The "COMPANION" will contain the earliest possible reprints of the best matter in the British periodicals.

2. It will be issued every fortnight, and the form will be the same as that of the Library—each number containing sixteen pages—thus, every six months, giving thirteen numbers, which can be bound with the Library at little or no more expense, and making a better sized volume; and to those who do not take the Library itself, a volume every year of 416 quarto pages of the size of the present.

3. The price will be three dollars for a subscriber—five dollars for two—and clubs five and upwards will be supplied at two dollars each.

4. As the work will not be commenced, unless a sufficient patronage be obtained, no payment is required at present, only the name, sent free of postage. Those wishing to support the publication will be pleased therefore to announce their intention as early as possible, as it is intended to commence the work on the first of January next. On the issuing of the second number payment will be expected, as its appearance will convince a sufficiency of patronage.

The Maryland Gazette.

ANNAPOLES, THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1835.

NO. 10.

Printed and Published by
JOHN E. HOWARD,
Attorney at Law,
Annapolis, Maryland.
Office in West Street.

PROSPECTUS.
The publication in the City of Baltimore of a Weekly Paper under the title of
THE WEEKLY BALTIMORE REPUBLICAN.

The solicitation of several of our friends
in this city, and applications of others
from the different counties of the state, we
are concluded on issuing a weekly edition
of our paper, on or before the first of February
next, or as much sooner as a sufficient
number of subscribers shall be obtained, to
warrant the undertaking.

It is deemed unnecessary to enter into a long
detail of our political opinions, as they are well known to our friends throughout the state;
but as it is usual to make some pledges concerning a new publication, we will merely
state, that as we have always been strictly Republican, so shall we continue. In despite
of the machinations of wily politicians who
have exerted every energy to break us down;
and so long as the principles of the present
National Administration continue to receive
the support of the people—the yeomanry of
the land, we shall continue their trusty
watch-tower of freedom, and warn
them of every encroachment on their liberty by ambitious and aspiring demagogues.
We are not disposed to eulogize the characters or conduct of men in this prospectus,
but make these few remarks that our friends
may know that our principles are unchanged,
and that we shall never desert them in
the time of need—when the cause of our common country calls every man to action.

It is unnecessary to extend a prospectus
for a Newspaper, as every citizen is acquaint-
ed with its utility in diffusing intelligence
on all subjects of a local or foreign nature,
and the influence placed within their power,
to be exerted over the public mind, if properly conducted, by giving the general spring of those principles upon which our liberal institutions are founded, or in correcting those
errata thereto, by exposing their objects,
and holding up to view the individual who
may be disposed, either from a personal dislike or private interest, to sport with the liberties of his country, or trifle with the inalienable rights of FREEDOM.

It will, no doubt, be conceded on all hands,
that the result of the late election in this
state, was owing in a great measure, to the
want of a more general dissemination of information among the people. Our opponents
have had every advantage in this respect.—
More than two thirds of the papers in this state; and in this city, two of them open and served enemies, and two others, while professing neutrality, were evidently hostile to the principles of the Administration, were arranged against us. Still we battled with them all, and if we were not victorious, it was owing to the want of a more general circulation
of information among the people, than to the
want of energy on our part. With these few
remarks, we shall submit our sheet to the
good sense and liberality of the public, hoping that they will see the necessity of encouraging us in our undertaking, as well for the
interests of the party generally, as for our selves.

TERMS.
The WEEKLY REPUBLICAN will be printed
on the same size sheet as our daily and country edition, and will contain most of the reading matter which may appear in those papers
in the course of the week. Good paper and fair type will be used, and every improvement
in its mechanical arrangement shall be adopted of which the encouragement we shall receive will admit. It will be issued every Saturday morning, at the low price of Two Dollars per annum, if paid in advance, Two Dollars and Fifty Cents at the expiration of six months, or Three Dollars if not paid till the end of the year. These terms must be strictly adhered to.

Editors with whom we exchange in this and
the adjacent states, will confer a favour by inserting this prospectus in a few gratuitous insertions in their papers; and by sending a copy
containing it, marked, they will thereby enable themselves to a free exchange for one
copy and those friends to whom we send it,
will please procure as many subscribers as
practicable, and return their names to this office, before the time the publication is to be commenced.

Post Masters and others, who will exert
themselves in procuring subscribers, and forward the amount of their subscriptions, will
be entitled to a deduction of fifteen per cent
and a copy of the paper for one year for their trouble. They will also forward their names
immediately, in order that we may place them
among our list of Agents. Address, postago

PROSPECTUS.

The Subscriber proposes to publish, in Upper Marlboro', Prince George's county, Maryland, a weekly journal, to be called
THE BULLETIN.

In undertaking to supply this acknowledged desideratum to the populous and intelligent district in which the subscriber has the fortune to reside, his hope of ultimate success finds not its origin in sanguineous of temperament, but proceeds from the eminent advantages of its location. Published in the metropolis of a large and wealthy county, situated equidistant from the State and National capitals, facilities of an early communication of whatever may interest its patrons, are particularly afforded to the Editor; and though he may not hope to present to his friends most foreign information through the medium of his columns, not derivable from other Journals, it is still certain that intelligence of a local nature, interesting to all,
and important to many, and otherwise unattainable, will by this means be communicated.
It will also offer to those whose means are inadequate to the expense of the larger journals, at least a synoptical view of all the important information they contain; and he trusts that those of literary taste may sometimes find in its columns, articles not unworthy of the employment of their leisure. As the plan of every publication which is to find its success in popular support, must first be exposed before public patronage can be expected, the Editor would here mark the outline of his design, with the full knowledge that it will constitute an ordeal, by which, to determine both its merit and the fidelity of its prosecution.

The Editor proposes to adapt his paper to the wishes of those by whom he is immediately surrounded, and among whom he must naturally find a majority of his patrons: he knows them to be intelligent and inquiring.—The Literary department, shall, therefore, be assiduously regarded, and the most approved domestic and foreign periodicals resorted to for belated letters and notices. He knows them to be patriotic, and that they feel a deep interest in the welfare of our common country. To gratify this sentiment to the extent of his abilities, his columns shall afford whatever intelligence of a political character may be calculated to interest them. No man, with the faculty of thought, is at this crisis neutral in reference to the party distinctions now prevailing in this country, and the Editor does not wish to disguise his political sentiments—they are in opposition to the measures of the present Administration. But having neither the temper nor the motive of a partisan, his comments upon party movements shall be characterized by frankness of argument, not violence or abuse
—and as it never has been his practice, so shall it never become, his habit to deal in political invective or party violence. He will cheerfully lend the aid of his columns to communications from all parties—reserving to himself
the privilege of rejecting such as are objectionable for personal allusion or indecorous language. In addition to the advantages of appropriate political and literary selections, he trusts also to tempt into exercise whatever of native talent may surround him, and with such aids he may not presumptuously hope to render his paper useful and interesting. He asks not the patronage of his friends longer than his efforts merit and repay it, as he wishes not to owe that favour to personal feeling, which would be denied to his editorial labors.

The BULLETIN will be published on Thursday in each week. Terms of subscription $3 per annum.

Which were severally read the first and second time
by special order, and concurred in.

Mr. Rogers from the select committee delivered the following

REPORT.

The committee to whom was referred the memorial of sundry inhabitants of Anne Arundel county, praying for a repeal of the act for the valuation of the real and personal property in Anne Arundel county, passed at December session 1832, chap. 130, and for a modification of the laws in relation to out-pensioners; and for the passage of an act to authorize the sale of the poor-house of said county, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report:

That the act of 1832, chapter 130, provided for the assessment of all real and personal property liable to be assessed, at the full value thereof in ready money. The memorialists object that an assessment on this principle operates as a tax on industry and will prevent the improvement of lands, and they propose that a new assessment shall be ordered to be made upon the principles of the ancient law (as the memoralists suppose) whereby the best lands in the county were valued at six dollars an acre, the medium lands at four dollars an acre, and the worst lands at two dollars an acre. Your committee are unable to conceive of a rule of taxation
more unjust in principle or more oppressive in its operation than the rule which was superseded by the act of 1832. There is land in the county which would not sell for one dollar an acre in ready money. This land was formerly assessed at two dollars or twice its real value.
There is other land which would sell for more than thirty six dollars an acre. This land was formerly assessed at six dollars or at less than one sixth of its real value. It is evident therefore that the owner of the least productive land,
in proportion to the value of his estate, paid a tax twelve times greater than the tax paid by the owner of land of the best quality.

This disproportion was intended to be removed by the act of 1832, and it is believed that all property is now assessed at its fair value, and that the burden of taxation is borne in just proportion by all classes.

The memorialists do not complain of the operation of the act of 1832, in relation to the assessment of personal property. But your committee are unable to discover any difference between real and personal property in relation to the principles of assessment and taxation.
If the fruits of industry invested in land deserve to be exempted from taxation, it would seem that a like immunity should be extended to personal property acquired by the exercise of like industry. If a tax on land according to its actual value would operate to discourage industry,
and to suppress our natural desire of accumulating wealth, the like consequences ought to flow
from the imposition of a tax on the actual value of negroes or other personal property. The memorialists are not entirely consistent in applying their principle to all cases of real pro-

erty. If the owner of 100 acres of land should by industry and economy acquire a sum adequate to the purchase of an additional 100 acres, it is very clear that a tax levied on the land thus purchased would be a tax on industry. If the owner of the land which according to the ancient rule was assessed at two dollars an acre, should improve his estate, its valuation might have been increased to six dollars an acre; a tax on this improved value would be a tax on the industry and skill of the owner. Yet it is proposed that the memorialists do not desire any change in the law which would exempt
such new acquisitions and improvements from taxation. They ask only for a restoration of the ancient law so far as it is supposed to establish minimum and maximum prices of land.

Your committee have already remarked on the injustice and oppression of the ancient system of taxation with a minimum greatly exceeding the value of the unimproved lands,
and with a maximum far less than the value of lands of the best quality, and they propose no argument will be necessary to assure the legislature of the inexpediency of restoring that system.

Your committee are unable to devise a system
of taxation which will not in some instances operate as a tax on industry, and they have no difficulty in affirming that in general the fruits
of industry are legitimate subjects of taxation,
provided the assessment be reasonable in amount,
and be made to bear equally on all classes.
But they are relieved from the necessity of discussing abstract principles, by the plain and unequivocal expressions of the 13th article of the declaration of rights 'that every person'
ought to contribute his proportion of public taxes
for the support of government according to his actual worth in real or personal property.'
The provisions of the act of 1832, are in strict accordance with this declaration, and your committee believe that an assessment of taxes upon any other principle would be unconstitutional.
If the memorialists suppose, previous acts have authorized the valuation of property, according to any other rule, your committee would not be at liberty to regard them as precedents for imitation. But they are not inclined to think that the memorialists err, supposing that any other rule
has been established by an act of the General Assembly, and would rather attribute the inequalities which existed in former assessments
to the manner in which the acts authorizing those assessments were carried into execution.

The act of 1785 chapter 53, which is supposed to have given origin to the assessment,
with minimum and maximum values was passed to prevent the great inequality that had before taken place in the valuation of lands between the several counties of this state, owing doubtless to the want of a common board of commissioners or assessors clothed with power to establish a uniform rule or rate of valuation.
The second section of the act ascertains the average value of land by the acre in the several counties. The average in Anne Arundel county was fixed at 27 shillings or $3 60 an acre.
The 5th section directed the commissioners of the tax to ascertain the whole quantity or number of acres of land in their county, and to calculate the amount thereof at the average value
by the acre as ascertained by this act. They were then required to estimate each tract or parcel of land at its present actual worth in ready current money. Then to average the several tracts or parcels of land into classes according to the prices at which they were valued,
and after deducting the value of property
in the Towns from the amount of land in the county, they were directed to 'apportion the sum which remains of the amount of the lands
after such deduction upon the several tracts or parcels of land in the county' in such manner
that the whole lands in the county in just proportion according to their relative value, makes the sum which remains of the amount of the whole lands in the county after the deduction
before stated.

For the purpose of stating the practical effect
of an assessment in strict accordance with the principles of this act, we may assume that Anne Arundel county contains the quantity of 100,000 acres of land, the amount of which at the average value established by the act would be $360,000. Let it be assumed that the average actual worth in ready money of all the several tracts or parcels of land in the county is $1,440,000 or four times their legal value. In order to apportion the amount of the value upon the several tracts or parcels of land in the county, it is clear that each tract should be assessed at one fourth of its actual value. The lands worth one dollar an acre in ready money should be assessed at 25 cents; land worth thirty six dollars an acre in ready money should be assessed at nine dollars. It is therefore submitted that if the act of 1832, chapter 130
should be repealed, and if a new assessment should be ordered to be made pursuant to the provisions of the acts of 1785, chap. 53, and 1812 chap. 191, as prayed, the object of the memorialists would not be gratified. The aggregate value of the several parcels of land in the county might be reduced, but their relative values would remain unaltered. No possible advantage could be gained by a new assessment,
unless it should become necessary to levy a general tax for the benefit of the state.

The memorialists have also prayed for the creation of a board of commissioners with ample power to hear appeals of persons aggrieved by the revaluation of the assessments. Your committee believe that existing laws confer on the commissioners of the county, all the powers necessary to ensure a just and equal assessment, and that the present board of commissioners possess in an eminent degree all these qualities which are required for the correct discharge of their powers. In one case of an appeal it has been surmised that from accidental circumstances complete justice may not have been done to the parties. But it is competent for the commissioners to correct their error, if any has been committed. It is understood that a new appeal or revision will be allowed, and that the parties will be permitted to adduce testimony in the manner suggested by their counsel.

Your committee are of the opinion that present system of aiding indigent persons by pensions, ought to be continued. It ought to be preferred to the plan of collecting the poor into one great public establishment, as it is less expensive, and conduces more to the comfort of the objects of public bounty.

Your committee are of the opinion that it is inexpedient to sell the present poor house, with a view to the purchase of another. If the county was about to establish a poor house, and the question was as to its location, your committee might be induced to adopt the suggestions of the memorialists. But the present location of the poor house is eligible, and any change would increase rather than diminish the charges of the county. They are therefore of opinion that no legislation is necessary in reference to the subjects committed to them, and beg to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Cottman, chairman of the committee on education, delivered the following

REPORT:

The committee on education, to which was referred the report of the trustees of the University of Maryland, have given the subject that respectful consideration which it merits, and beg leave to report that they consider the annual payment into the treasury by the faculty of physics of $1500, as oppressive and onerous, that in a considerable degree, must operate to reduce the promotion of medical science, and thus the 1st section of the act of 1831, ch. 89, imposing that burden upon the faculty, ought to be repealed. Having expressed their opinion, they ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject, and recommend its reference to the committee on ways and means.

JOSEPH S. COTTMAN, Ch'n.

Mr. Pratt reported a bill to accept the provisions of an act of Congress, entitled, an act for the continuation and repair of the Cumberland Road, in the states of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois.

On motion of Mr. McMahon, the house took up for consideration the bill reported by Mr. Pratt, entitled, an act to accept of the provisions of an act of Congress, entitled, an act for the continuation and repair of the Cumberland Road.

The said bill was then read the second time by special order, passed, and sent to the senate.

On motion,

The house then adjourned.

SATURDAY, March 14, 1835.

The speaker announced the following message as having been received from the Senate, by the clerk thereof:

The bill, entitled, a further additional supplement to an act relating to the people of color, in this State, passed at December session, 1831, ch. 281;

Also, the bill, for the benefit of Lydia Evert, George Bruce, Isaac Bruce and David Bruce, of Frederick county;

Also, the bill, to alter and amend the lines dividing the fifth and sixth election districts, in Anne Arundel county;

Also, the bill, authorizing the commissioners of Washington county, to erect a stone bridge across the Antietam Creek, where the road from Sharpsburg to the Man-

ple Swamp crosses said creek, severally endorsed, 'will pass,' and ordered to be engrossed;

Also, the bill, to authorize Paines's Williams to bring into this state certain slaves therein mentioned, endorsed, 'will not pass';

Also, the bill, for the benefit of Richard Webb and Samuel Burrell, free persons of colour of Dorchester and Talbot counties, endorsed, 'will pass with the proposed amendments,' which amendments were severally read the first and second time by special order, severally assented to, and the bill ordered to be engrossed;

Also, the resolution in favour of the troops called out to quell certain riots;

Also, the resolution in favour of John C. Dirickson; And, the resolution in favour of Isaac Swartzwelder, James Shoaff, Ignatius P. Lytle, and others, severally endorsed, 'assented to,' ordered to be engrossed;

Also, the resolution requesting the Governor to procure and present a sword to Captain Edmund P. Kennedy, endorsed, 'unanimously assented to,' ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Turner, of Calvert, presented a petition of John Tucker of the state of Kentucky, a revolutionary soldier, praying to be placed on the pension roll of this state;

And, Mr. Harding presented a memorial of Elizabeth Davis, of Montgomery county, widow of Thomas Davis, praying for an act to authorize the removal of issues now pending in Montgomery County Court;

On motion of Mr. Pratt, the house resumed the consideration of the bill, reported by him, entitled, an act to incorporate the Real Estate Bank of the State of Maryland.

The said bill was then read the second time as amended.

Mr. Sotheron called for the previous question, which being demanded by a majority of the members present, the said previous question was put, viz:

Shall the main question be now put?—and it was Resolved in affirmative.

The question was then put,—shall the bill pass? Determined in the negative.

The house then proceeded to consider the second order of the day, being the bill reported by Mr. Brongle, entitled an act for the division of Baltimore and Frederick counties, and for the erecting a new one by the name of Carroll, and to alter and change the constitution of this State so far as may be necessary to effect the same.

The said bill was then read the second time.

Mr. Devermon called for the previous question, which being demanded by a majority of the members present, the said previous question was put, viz:

Shall the main question be now put?—and it was Resolved in affirmative.

The question was then put, shall the bill pass? Determined in the negative.

The house then adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES.

The Frederick Citizen announces Dr. JOHN O. WHARTON, of Washington county, and DAVID SCHLEY and FRANCIS THOMAS, Esqrs. of Frederick, as candidates for Congress in the upper District. WILLIAM SCHLEY, Esq. of Frederick, is also announced in the Cumberland and C. & P. District.

Major JAMES M. COALE, and WILLIAM COST JOHNSON, Esqrs. are announced as candidates for the District composed of Montgomery, and parts of Frederick county.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITIES OF BALTIMORE AND ANNAPOLES AND ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY.

By a recent act of Assembly, the two Congressional Districts to which you belong have been united, and you will be called upon next October, (and probably sooner) to choose two representatives to the 24th Congress. I offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages at the next election, and I beg leave to say a few words in explanation of my offering myself in this old-fashioned manner.

It has been attempted here for some years past to present candidates for Congress exclusively through the medium of "party nomination;" but this practice has not yet (thanks to the good sense of the people) become settled, and I am inclined to think it is becoming and will soon be as odious as it is anti-republican. This bringing out of candidates "by nomination" (as it is called) is in fact nothing more than a man's bringing himself out by getting a few friends to name and endorse him as the nominee of a party, and I cannot see why the good old Maryland custom of a candidate directly offering and openly sustaining himself should be abandoned.

Being a native of Annapolis, I flatter myself I am not unknown in Anne Arundel, (though I have never been a candidate in that county) and if it shall be my good fortune to be trusted as one of the Representatives of the true double District, it will also be my pride to show that the interests of my native county are faithfully attended to in like manner as those of the citizens of Baltimore, among whom I live, and to whom I am already indebted for high manifestations of confidence and kindness.

GEORGE H. STEUART.

Baltimore, 12th March, 1835.

No election for Printer took place in the House of Representatives at the late session, they having left to their successors that privilege.

The "Maine Press" contains a Report of a case of breach of promise of marriage which was recently tried. The Jury returned a verdict of $1,500 for the plaintiff. The following Epistle was introduced by the Lady as evidence against her faithless "Knight."

STATE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

The 4th annual meeting of the Maryland State Temperance Society, was held in the hall of the House of Delegates on the evening of Friday the 13th instant. Isaac D. Jones Esq. one of the delegates to the General Assembly from Somerset county, was called to the chair and in the absence of the secretary of the society, Dr. John Ridout of Annapolis, was appointed to act in that capacity. The meeting was commenced with prayer by the Rev. N. J. Watkins, chaplain of the society, after which the fourth annual report of the Executive Committee, and the Treasurer's report were read and adopted. Reports were handed in by the delegates of several of the auxiliary societies.

On motion by the Rev. Mr. McElhinney, of Annapolis, the following resolution was adopted.

Resolved, that this meeting do entertain the liveliest sentiments of gratitude towards the author of all good, for the signal success with which He has pleased to crown the labours of the Temperance Society; and that they humbly trust He will graciously continue to bless its efforts, in the noble cause of annihilating the pernicious and degrading vice of drunkenness.

On motion by Mr. Stewart of Montgomery it was

Resolved, that in the opinion of this meeting the license law of the state of Maryland, vending spirits, was originally intended as a correction of public morals, but in being perverted to a source of revenue, it not only licenses vice, but by setting a price upon intoxicating fluids, tends to debauch, demoralize and impoverish the people.

On motion by the Rev. N. J. Watkins, it was

Resolved, that the diffusion of the principles of the Temperance Reformation, has a tendency to advance the cause of religion.

On motion of Mr. McMahon, of Allegany,

was

Resolved, that as past experience has abundantly proved that the use of ardent spirits is wholly unnecessary to labouring men, it is earnestly recommended, to all the farmers and mechanics, to abstain from the use of the same.

Resolved, That the members of the Society, be and are directed to exert every effort to induce the use of ardent spirits, and to make that reform.

Resolved, that the members of the Society, be and are directed to exert every effort to induce the use of ardent spirits, and to make that reform.

...At a meeting of many of the friends of the ...Administration, in the court-house, Leo-
...town, St. Mary's county, Maryland, on the ...day, HENRY G. S. KEY, Esq. was called ...to the Chair, and E. J. C. MILLARD was ap...pointed Secretary.
...The meeting being called to order by the chair-
...man, he proceeded by a few pertinent remarks,
...to state the object of their assemblage, which on
...behalf of the friends of the Administration, Dr. James W. Roach, Dr. Walter H.
...Robert, Robert Sewell, John K. Thompson,
...and John Greenwell, were appointed a commit...tee to present such resolutions as would express
...the sense and object of the meeting, who hav...ing retired, in a short time made the following
...report:
...Resolved, in the present position of the po...litical parties opposed to the recharter of the
...of the United States, and in favor of the ...Administration of the General Government, it
...is deemed that unanimity should be had on the ...subject of the election of a successor to the pre-
...sent Chief Magistrate, and it having been pro...posed by our political friends in various sections
...of the Union to hold a Convention at Baltimore
...on the 20th of May next, for the purpose of se...lecting suitable candidates at the approaching
...election for President and Vice President.—
...Therefore,
...Resolved, That the chairman appoint five dele...gates to represent the Jackson Republican par...ty of this county in that convention, and that
...the chairman be and he is hereby appointed one
...of the delegation.
...Resolved, That this meeting have undiminish-
...ing confidence in the present Chief Magistrate,
...and approve the enlightened and patriotic mea...sures of his administration.
...Resolved, That whatever may be the prefer-
...ence of the delegates appointed at this meeting
...any particular individuals, yet, on failure to ...obtain acquiescence in such nomination as will
...most likely to secure unanimity to the par...ty, and secure such successors as will afford a
...guarantee for the administration of the Go...vernment on the same principles as have char...acterized the administration of our present firm
...and enlightened Chief Magistrate.
...Which being read, were adopted by the meet-
...ing, the chairman appointed Dr. James W. Roach,
...John Thompson, Robert Sewell, John K.
...Thompson and John A. Clarke, delegates to the ...convention.
...On motion,
...Resolved, That the proceedings of this meet-
...ing be read by the chairman and secretary
...published in the Globe, city of Washington.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.
An was expected, this State, which elects by general ticket, has chosen five Jackson Representatives to the 24th Congress. They are as follows: Samuel Cushman, Henshaw M. Bean, Franklin Pierce, Joseph Weeks, and Robert Burns. Messrs. Cushman and Weeks are new members. William Badger (Jackson) has been re-elected to the office of Governor.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.
A fire broke out on Saturday night, about nine o'clock, in a small brick house, in Apple alley between Fleet and Albion streets, F. P. occupied by Messrs. Wm. and Robert Cornthwaite, hatters, as a work shop. By the prompt and energetic exertion of the firemen, the fire was confined to the house in which it originated, the back building of which was nearly destroyed. Shortly, however, as was the time that the conflagration lasted, it proved long enough for the destruction of human life.
The upper story of the back building was tenanted by Old Heger, a singing memory, who, as she was in the habit of traversing the streets at all hours, was supposed to be out at the time; but, shocking to relate, on entering the house after the flames were extinguished, the body of the old woman was discovered, bearing marks of the ravages of the destructive element; and on examination
it was found to be totally extinct.

There are few of our citizens who have not seen, and probably not one who has not heard of the subject of this notice. What her age was, we are unable to say, indeed, we are of opinion that it would be an impossibility to discover the truth on this point; but, we believe we are not in error in stating that it exceeded one hundred years. The remembrance of Old Heger is associated with the earliest recollections of many "whose heads are already blossomed for the grave," as an old, decrepit being, wandering daily through the streets of our city, chanting an unintelligible strain—the sport of the mischievous boys and the terror of refractory children. Some, indeed, accorded to her the reputation of a witch, while many who professed to be sceptical on this head, would have hesitated to make an enemy of her; but to those possessed of minds superior to the influence of idle superstition, her age and helplessness rendered her an object of pity, and afforded them a fit subject for the exercise of that true virtue, charity—by which she was enabled to live, and for which she was principally indebted to the gentle sex, who are ever foremost in that path to which the open hand of Christian Benevolence points the way.
So lived and so died Old Heger; and while we acknowledge that few could have been better spared, we may also add few would be more missed.—Balt. Chronicle.

FOREIGN.
VERY LATE AND IMPORTANT
FROM FRANCE.
The packet ship Rhone, Captain Rockett, arrived at New York on Friday from Havre, whence she sailed on the 11th of February.
By this arrival the Editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received Paris papers to the 9th inclusive.

THE TREATY—MR. CLAY'S REPORT.
The Report of Mr. Clay, from the Committee of Foreign Relations of the Senate, on the question with France, first reached Paris by the way of England; and the arrival of the Francis I.
conveying the unanimous vote of the Senate sanctioning the report, was most opportune, and produced at once the happiest influence in favor of the bill of indemnity. This vote was regarded as a palpable censure upon the clarity of the Message relative to France. The general aspect of the question was immediately changed. To quote the language of the Congress's correspondent, "neither war, nor outraged dignity, nor danger to our commercial relations, is longer thought of. Attention is entirely directed towards the fair amount of the claims." On the 31st of January, Mr. Rigny proposed that the Chambers should proceed to consider the project of the law on Monday, the 2d of February.—But Thursday, the 5th, was ultimately fixed for the preliminary discussion. It was accordingly taken up on the last mentioned day,
and referred to a committee consisting of one
from each of the three Bureaux.

It is stated that six of this committee are decidedly in favour of the law. It is the duty of this committee to examine the whole case, and make a circumstantial report—a duty upon the discharge of which they entered on the 6th. A Paris journal of the 7th, gives the following account of the first days proceeding in the Bureaux.

The question of the American indemnity has been examined in the Bureaux, or standing Committee of the Chamber of Deputies. The investigation commenced with an inquiry into the motives which induced Ministers to allow the President of the United States to suppose that the concurrence of the French Chambers was unnecessary to the fulfilment of the treaty.
The interval which had elapsed between the exchange and ratification of the treaty and its presentation of the Chamber was next made the subject of severe comment, inasmuch as General Jackson, who, in consequence of the promise made to him, confidently reckoned upon the adoption of the bill, had conceived himself authorized to draw upon the French Government.

"In several of the bureaux Ministers were taxed with having furnished incomplete and mutilated documents
and with having kept back the correspondence which took place between the United States and the French Government previously to 1831. It was also alleged that the measure documents which had been presented to the Chamber contained no memoir or other papers from the American agents, clearly establishing the origin of the claims and producing evidence of their amount. In reply to these charges Ministers urged the impossibility of printing the immense mass of documents that referred to the liquidation of the accounts, adding that if required, they should be communicated to the Members of the Commission. The Ministerial Deputies insisted on the impolicy of alienating from France so old and firm an ally as America. Almost all the Commissioners named in the bureaux pronounced themselves in favour of the grant though from different motives.

The correspondent of the Courier, says—"on the

PROSPECTUS
For Publishing in the City of Baltimore, a Weekly Paper under the title of
WEEKLY BALTIMORE REPUBLICAN.

The solicitation of several of our friends
in this city, and applications of others
from the different counties of the state, we
have concluded on issuing a weekly edition
of our paper, on or before the first of February
next, or as much sooner as a sufficient
number of subscribers shall be obtained, to
warrant the undertaking.

It is deemed unnecessary to enter into a long
detail of our political opinions, as they are well
known to our friends throughout the state;
but as it is usual to make some pledges on commencing a new publication, we will merely
state, that as we have always been strictly Republican, so shall we continue, in despite
of the machinations of wily politicians who
have exerted every energy to break us down;
and as long as the principles of the present
National Administration continue to receive
the support of the people—the yeomanry of
the land, we shall continue their trusty
watch-dog on the watch-tower of freedom, and warn them of every encroachment on their liberties,
by ambitious and aspiring demagogues.

We are not disposed to eulogize the characters or conduct of men in this prospectus,
but make these few remarks that our friends
may know that our principles are unchangeable,
and that we shall never desert them in
the time of need—when the cause of our common country calls every man to action.

It is unnecessary to extend a prospectus
for a Newspaper, as every citizen is acquainted with their utility in diffusing intelligence
in all subjects of a local or foreign nature;
and the influence placed within their power,
to be exerted over the public mind, if properly conducted, by giving the general spring
to those principles upon which our liberal institutions are founded, or in correcting those erroneous theories, by exposing their objects, and bringing up to view the individual who
may be disposed, either from a personal dis-
affection or private interest, to sport with the
liberties of his country, or trifle with the inalienable rights of FREEMEN.

It will, no doubt, be conceded on all hands,
that the result of the late election in this
state, was owing in a great measure, to the
want of a more general dissemination of information among the people. Our opponents
have had every advantage in this respect.—
More than two thirds of the papers in this
state and in this city, two of them open and avowed enemies, and two others, while pro-
fessing neutrality, were evidently hostile to the principles of the Administration, were appeared against us. Still we battled with them
and if we were not victorious, it was owing
to the want of a more general circulation
of information among the people, than to the
want of energy on our part. With these few
remarks, we shall submit our sheet to the
good sense and liberality of the public, hoping that they will see the necessity of encouraging us in our undertaking, as well for the interests of the party generally, as for our adversaries.

TERMS.
THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN will be printed
of the same size sheet as our daily and country edition, and will contain most of the reading matter which may appear in those papers
of the course of the week. Good paper and fine type will be used, and every improvement
in the mechanical arrangement shall be adopted, of which the encouragement we shall receive will admit. It will be issued every Saturday morning, at the low price of Two Dollars per annum, if paid in advance, Two Dollars and Fifty Cents at the expiration of six months, or Three Dollars if not paid till the end of the year. These terms must be strictly adhered to.

Editors with whom we exchange in this and
the adjacent states, will confer a favour by sending their prospectuses a few gratuitous insertions in their papers; and by sending a copy
of themselves to a free exchange for one year and those friends to whom we send it,
may please procure as many subscribers as they can, and return their names to this office, about the time the publication is to be
commenced.

For Masters and others, who will exert themselves in procuring subscribers, and forward the amount of their subscriptions, will
be entitled to a deduction of fifteen per cent
from the price of the paper for one year for their trouble. They will also forward their names
immediately, in order that we may place them
among our list of Agents. Address, postage
paid, to J. H. HARKER,
No. 11, Gay Street, opposite the Exchange.

ANNAPOLIS.
Thursday, March 26, 1836.

ANNUAL REPORT.
TO THE FEMALE ORPHAN SOCIETY OF THE CITY OF ANNAPOLIS.

Your Managers in the discharge of their official duty, proceed to render you a brief account of their proceedings for the past year, in doing which they would commence with assuring you, that in every thing they have done in the discharge of their trust, they have acted with a conscientious regard to the interests of the Institution over which they were called to preside. Since the last annual meeting, little has transpired connected with the Society, that would be interesting in the detail, yet sufficient to show that the expectations which we cherished at the commencement of our course have been fully realized by the increasing prosperity of the Institution. During the past year two of the pupils have been removed from the Asylum into other situations, which situations were carefully selected by your Managers as affording security that their instruction and comfort would be provided for in the future. The places thus vacated have been filled by others whose complete destitution called loudly for the aid of this Society, and whose claims had been previously submitted to the Board. Children reared in the Asylum are sought after as soon as they arrive at an age to be useful, and destitute objects are generally found waiting for admission into the Asylum, before we are in a situation to receive them. The children now under our care are docile and obedient, interesting and apparently happy, and the Matron continues to discharge her duty with a fidelity that merits praise. The Annual Fair was held in January, and the sum arising therefrom has more than equalled the receipts of former years. Ministers of the Gospel of different denominations were among the visitors at our exhibition, thus kindly giving the sanction of their presence to a mode of raising money, which we have found alone capable of enabling us to proceed in our work, and which we have always contended could not involve any necessary evil, and therefore would not permit the abuse of a thing to drive us from its legitimate use. An account of the receipts and expenditures of the Society will be found by reference to the Treasurer's report.

On this our Seventh Anniversary, it will not, we think, be amiss to take a retrospective view of this Society, marked as its progress has been by the superintending care of a kind Providence. Annapolis a few years since, could point to no refuge for the houseless, hopeless orphan, within its precincts, not because its inhabitants wanted energy or benevolence, but merely because it had not been thought of. Some few who had seen and admired such institutions in other cities entered into a compact to endeavour to establish one here. They entered upon the experiment, but they ventured not in their own strength: Their appeal to the sympathies of others was heard and answered, and the event has proved that they did not labour in vain. A Father of the Fatherless is God in his holy habitation, and to his guidance and protection we are indebted for all that has been achieved; and while we acknowledge with gratitude the kind co-operation of all who have united with us, yet we feel that to Him is our prosperity owing, and to Him are our praises due. Several of those who were managers at the formation of this Society, are managers still; the interest they at first felt has increased, not diminished, and therefore they are not tired in the work. Few, if any, have left our ranks, unless by removal from the city, or from some family obligation with which the duty of Manager interfered. One only has been removed by death, and that one is still remembered with affection as a pioneer in every good work. Your Managers congratulate you on the growing prosperity of the Institution and the increasing interest with which it appears to be regarded—not however with a view to cause a relaxation of effort but to stimulate you to fresh exertion. It is perseverance only to which final success is promised—while any thing remains to be accomplished, there can be no cessation of effort, without endangering the safety of the cause. We trust that the proceedings of this day, and the collection that is to follow it, will prove to us that the friends of this charity are increasing in number and strength and that the Treasury of the Orphan will continue to be supplied by liberal hands.

THE LEGISLATURE OF THIS STATE adjourned on Sunday morning last, having passed 337 Laws and 101 Resolutions. A list of the former we have commenced on the first page of this paper.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITIES OF BALTIMORE AND ANNAPOLIS AND ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY.

By a recent act of Assembly, the two Congressional Districts to which you belong have been united, and you will be called upon next October, (and probably sooner) to choose two representatives to the 24th Congress. I offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages at the next election, and I beg leave to say a few words in explanation of my offering myself in this old-fashioned manner.

It has been attempted here for some years past to present candidates for Congress exclusively through the medium of "party nominations" but this practice has not yet (thanks to the good sense of the people) become settled, and I am inclined to think it is becoming and will soon be as odious as it is anti-republican. This bringing out of candidates "by nomination" (as it is called) is in fact nothing more than a man's bringing himself out by getting a few friends to name and endorse him as the nominee of a party, and I cannot see why the good old Maryland custom of a candidate directly offering and openly sustaining himself should be abandoned. Being a native of Annapolis, I desire myself I am not unknown to Anne Arundel, (though I have never been a candidate in that county) and if it shall be my good fortune to be elected as one of the Representatives of the new double District, it will also be my pride to show that the interests of my native county are faithfully attended to in like manner as those of the citizens of Baltimore, among whom I live, and to whom I am already indebted for high manifestations of confidence and kindness.

GEORGE H. STEUART.

The Legislature of New Jersey adjourned on the 12th inst. The Newark Advertiser says:—"The Quaker bill—the bill to violate the compact of the Society of Friends, and distribute its property—was lost, through the firmness of a small majority in Council, and nothing definitive was done in relation to the Rail Road controversy.

Among the most important of the public acts are—

The bill suppressing bank notes under $5, which prohibits notes of $1 after July 1, 1835, of $2 after January 1, 1836, and all others under $5, after July 1, 1836.

That providing for a Geological and Mineralogical survey of the State.
A bill abolishing public executions.
That repealing the laws against horse racing.
An act to prevent the burning of fire crackers.

The Legislature of Louisiana have passed a resolution "appointing a joint committee to enquire into the expediency of repealing all laws licensing Gambling; and making the same a high penal offence, punishable by not less than 20 years labour in the State Prison, or such other punishment as said committee may see proper to inflict."

LEGISLATION EXTRAORDINARY.

Missouri Legislature, January 1.—The Speaker laid before the House a communication from His Excellency the Governor, inviting the members to take a glass of wine with him at three o'clock—whereupon the house adjourned.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND.

At a public commencement held in the Medical College on Wednesday, 18th inst. after an appropriate benediction by the Rev. Dr. Wynn, the degree of Doctor of Medicine was conferred on Nathaniel Williams, Esq. Vice Provost of the University, on the following gentlemen, who had been previously subjected to the necessary examinations and had complied with the other requisitions of the Institution:—

Samuel G. Baker, of Maryland.

The two last gentlemen were already graduates of the University of Pennsylvania, but underwent the necessary examinations to admit them to ad eundem privileges.
After the degrees were conferred, the graduates were ably and eloquently addressed by Professor Smith.
The ceremonies were witnessed by a numerous and respectable assemblage.

*This Gentleman received the Medal for the best Latin dissertation.

The New Orleans Bee gives, a list of the names of the persons who have obtained licences for the gambling houses in the city, the income from which in 1834, amount to 113,000 dollars, and the outline of a law which was presented to the Legislature of Louisiana for the suppression of gambling.

The following are some of the articles: That all persons engaged in any gambling house either as principal or accessory shall be subjected for the first offence to a fine, the second to fine and imprisonment. The person in whose house gambling is permitted will be considered as an accessory. It gives to every officer and private citizen the power of entering into any apartment in which he knows or believes that gambling is carried on, of seizing and arresting all persons present, the utensils, money and every thing that he may there find, and produce the whole before a justice of the peace, who must bind the owners over to the next court. The captors are competent witnesses, and shall have a right to all the property seized. This law also says that every person occupying a post of honor or trust, convicted of gambling, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall never after hold an office in the state.

A SCENE OF HORROR.

The Execution of Charles S. Boyington, for the murder of Nathaniel Frost, took place yesterday, pursuant to sentence, about two and a half miles from this city. A large crowd of spectators assembled to witness the dreadful spectacle. Two thirds of the male population of the city were on the ground; and many hundreds, we might almost say, some thousand, from the country.

The prisoner walked with a step as firm and unwavering, and a mien as erect and undaunted, as any one among the escort. Not a muscle seemed to shake, or a feature to be moved; and it was remarked that his foot kept time perfectly to the dirge that followed him.

The procession marched so slowly, as to be more than an hour reaching the place of execution; during all of which time Boyington seemed, by his deportment, more like the chief personage in a grand mourning procession for another than a condemned criminal, carried to a certain and ignominious death.

When the scaffold was reached, he was permitted as a matter of course, to address the multitude, and commenced the expected address. Its particular character we cannot speak of except by report, not having heard any portion of it, or seen it.

He was permitted to proceed, until the hour of four had nearly arrived. He was then informed of the necessity of closing, and directed to prepare for the final scene. The shroud and cap had not been put upon him, and this announcement appears to have been the first circumstance that awakened him to the reality of his fate. His whole soul seemed to be roused, and it had been up to that minute, covered and sunk at once into abject desperation.

A more sudden and fearful transition, according to all accounts, cannot well be imagined. When his abrupt and eager inquiries of the attending minister of religion—Is there no hope?—must I die? were answered solemnly in the negative, the dreadful certainty overwhelmed him. His nerves were apparently shattered; the blood forsook his cheeks, and despair was written in awful marks upon his ashy features. As a wild chance for the life which he coveted, now that death was so close to him, he dashed from the foot of the scaffold, in the frantic hope of escape among the crowd. This futile effort was easily defeated, and it is remarked as a proof of the universal detestation of the foul crime for which he suffered, that there was no movement of sympathy with his desperation among the crowd.

Having inquired of his counsel, after he was shrouded, whether, if he could keep the execution off till after four o'clock, he, the counsel, would interfere in his behalf, the reply simply admonished him that no such procrastination could take place.

Then ensued a scene of horror, which we may find no parallel heretofore in the execution of the laws. The hopeless agony of the criminal was displayed in obstinate resistance to the performance of the necessary duties of the agents of the law; and even when at last suspended from the fatal cord, his desperate struggle to break his way from the gallows, by grasping to his breast from the platform, and clutching at the rope. His agonized and thrilling shrieks between the rope and his throat, and then vomiting and struggling to the last, and the agonizing and agonizing cry, "God forgive me!" were heard by the eyes of his life were marked by a series of convulsions, a prostration of the body, and a convulsion of the arms and neck, which had signified him during the whole of the trial, and in the interval between condemnation and execution, up to that moment.

Such was the end of Charles S. Boyington, a dreadful end of a bloody tale. The horror of the punishment with which it closes, compares fitly, in tragic intensity of interest, with the terrible atrocity of the crime. The victim—a gentle and comely invalid, full by the hand of an assassin, that assassin his professed friend,—in an open thoroughfare, beneath the walls of the grave yard,—the busy hum of human voices warning him of the neighborhood of busy life, and the tones of the dead speaking to the murderer of the end of life,—the beginning of eternity.

OHIO AND MICHIGAN.

The ancient letter from Monroe, Michigan, reveals an unpleasant state of things in regard to the disputed boundary between that Territory and Ohio. We are not accurately informed as to the merits of the controversy, but at any rate we think the State of Ohio, assuming to be judge and jury in a case to which she is a party, has gone beyond the letter. However, we trust that the good sense of the governments and people of the two jurisdictions will not suffer the affair to proceed to extremities. It would be better that the disputed territory, after being relieved from its inhabitants, should be sunk to the bottom of the ocean.—N. Y. Jour. Com. Monroe, March 4, 1835.

Intelligence was received in town last evening from Washington, stating that the Appropriation Bill for $30,000 to construct a Ship Canal at the mouth of the River Raisin, had passed both Houses of Congress, and only required the signature of the President to become a law. This was cheering news indeed, to all interested in this place. Should that bill become a law, Monroe must be an important place, or at least, a powerful rival to Detroit ere long. Men who felt poor yesterday, own themselves rich today.

The inhabitants feel but one check to their prosperity, which is the unsettled state of the Southern boundary of the Territory adjoining Ohio. Much excitement is manifested by the populace both of the Territory and Ohio. The Legislature of Ohio have passed a law extending their jurisdiction over the disputed territory—in consequence of which, the acting Government of the Territory has issued prompt orders to the Brigadier General to enforce the laws of Michigan to the extent of his power, by calling to his aid the Militia, if deemed necessary.—Monroe is to be Head Quarters for all the Michigan forces. The Governor is in town to-day from Detroit also the General, who has been here for the last ten days, and who has the entire command of all the forces. It is hoped that the question will be amicably settled soon, otherwise an attempt at coercion, perhaps bloodshed, will be the consequence.—Decisive laws have been passed, both by Ohio and Michigan, touching the question, the validity of which, we fear, will be tested by arms.

It seems idle for Michigan to contend with Ohio in arms, yet Michigan appears determined to assert her rights, more from a sense of honor than from a pecuniary advantage, though the tract in dispute is and will be valuable to its possessors still. The thought by many that the whole affair will result in a temporary manner, in favour of Ohio, till the line can be defined by Congress or the Supreme Court of the United States.

Orders have gone forth, as you will see by an Extra of the Michigan Sentinel, published in this place, which we send by the mail, from the Commander-in-chief, requiring the examination of arms, ammunition, &c. at the several arsenals.

A speedy adjustment is indeed desirable to all concerned, as a tide of emigration is expected here, in this region, the coming season, who may be frustrated in their plans and leave the country, if made liable to be called out in the militia to fight the "Buckeyes" (as the people of Ohio are called) from time to time, for the paltry consideration of a strip of land which whether under the jurisdiction of Ohio or Michigan, cannot benefit them a farthing.

THE WHITEHEAD CORNELLS.

Up in the country there lived five families by the name of Cornell; and all being descended on one side from a common ancestor named Whitehead, had each called a son after him.—Whether his name was John, or Thomas, or James, it matters not; his five young namesakes merely retained the surname, and were called each, "Whitehead Cornell;" and it so happened, as a very remarkable coincidence that each of them had white hair—making them, in appearance as well as name, so many whiteheads.

A Frenchman came into the neighbourhood to teach a dancing school; and among the rest of his pupils appeared all the Whitehead Cornells. "Vat is your name?" said he to the first.

"Anan," replied the younger, not understanding the question.

"Anan vat?"

"Anan vat?"

"Oui—vat is your tozzor name?"

"My tozzor name?"

"I say, vat is you call after Anan? Vat is you tout name—you whole name?"

"C, now I understand you. My name is Whitehead Cornell."

"Vitehead Cornell! Very good—very apposite. I write him sur me live—on me book. Vitehead Cornell. Very well. Now, jeune homme—your name"—speaking to the next—

"Vat is your name?"

"Whitehead Cornell."

"Vat is your name?"

"Vat is your name?"

"Vat is your name?"

AT WASHINGTON, MARCH 4, 1835.
At meeting this, the President, who had been absent before, and a couple two days, was present, and in a rage. "Vat for you mean, said he, to insult me vid you don't mean—said he, you scoundrel, you scoundrel! Vat is your name, some trick, some trick on me?"

"It ain't no trick, sir."

"No trick, begar! You tell me all vat is no such thing. Model you make me believe dat one, two, three, five, four name all one name, Vitehead, vat I no hear it. I no let some scoundrel insult me, sometime never. No, no—you house vid your own, two, three, four Vitehead, no thank you, begar!"

"Yes, sir, but consider, now; we want to learn to dance."

"Learn to dance, eh! Sure, you can learn to dance never. You too much Vitehead, no Two, three, five, four, one Vitehead, never learn to dance, some of all never."

"It's very hard indeed, Sir."

"Very hard! Diable! You are, 'tis very hard to play you tam race—you trick like—on a sure. I no old bird to kash vid some shad. You no takey me vid you, two, three, five Vitehead, vat I no hear it?"

"This was all the Whitehead Cornells got out of the enraged Frenchman, who thus his honour and reputation were concerned to allow in his school a parcel of young rascals who had no more respect for his cloth than undertake, at the very outset of their play to play so gross a trick upon him."

PROPOSALS
FOR THE BALTIMORE GAZETTE, LONDON, EDINBURGH, YORK AND WESTMINSTER QUARTERLY REVIEWS, FOR THE YEAR 1835.

THE above journals are already well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits.

The well sustained reputation of the LONDON QUARTERLY, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the old order of things, but as the wildest and most entertaining of Reviews, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific.

The EDINBURGH, celebrated for the vigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, considered by some of the principal literary men of the modern times, as an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reform party.

The YORK QUARTERLY occupies a neutral ground in politics, and is devoted to continental literature.

The WESTMINSTER is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Radicals, and the mouth piece of Benthamism. It represents the principles of a party already numerous in England, and fast increasing in the United States.

The numbers will be put to press immediately after they shall be received from Europe, and will contain the entire matter of the above works making four annual volumes of upwards of six hundred pages.

They will be executed in a good style, and be printed in 8 shape, but little differing from that of the European editions.

The price will be 38 per annum, payable three months after the delivery of the first number. The English copies cannot be had for less than £3. Of the three at present republished, two of them alone cost $10.

Any individual procuring four subscribers, and remitting $30 on the receipt of the first Number, will be allowed an additional copy.

Subscription papers to be returned, and all communications to be addressed, post paid, to Theodore Foster, Albany, N. Y.

Oct. 16.

Subscriptions received at this office.

PROSPECTUS

FOR THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE.

THE Congressional Globe, which was commenced publishing at the last Session of Congress, will be continued through the present session. It will be published in a quarto form, at one dollar per copy, a week, on a double royal sheet, making four extra sheets. At the close of the session, an Index will be made for the 2d session, and sent to all the subscribers.

We shall pay to the reporters, preparing the reports that will be published in this paper, more than one hundred dollars per week, during the session. In publishing therefore, at one dollar for all the extra printed during the session, we may be said to afford the most important information at the cheapest price.

Editors with whom we exchange, will give this Prospectus a gratuitous insertion, and those friends to whom we may send will please procure subscribers.

TERMS.
1 copy during the session, $1.00
11 copies during the session, $10.00
Payment may be made by note payable at our risk. The notes of any paying Bank will be received.

No attention will be paid to any subscription unless the money accompany it.

Anne Arundel County, St. March 30, 1835.

On application to me the undersigned, of the Orphans Court, by petition writing of James Power, praying for the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, and a list of creditors, and a list of creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain, being annexed to his petition, and said James Power having satisfied me by a competent testimony that he has resided in the State of Maryland two years immediately preceding the time of his application, that he is in actual confinement, and has appointed a trustee for the creditors of his Power, it is therefore ordered and adjudged by me, that the said James Power be discharged from his confinement, and he, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette, once a week for three successive weeks, beginning on the fourth Monday of October next, give notice to his creditors to appear before the Anne Arundel County Court on the fourth Monday of October next, for the purpose of mentioning a trustee for their benefit, and said James Power then and there taking oath by the said acts prescribed, for doing of his property, and to show cause, if they have, why the said James Power should not have the benefit of the said act, and the provisions thereof, as prayed.
