MET AT OCEAN CITY.

Annual Session of the Maryland State Teachers' Association Held This Week.

Examiner H. Crawford Bounds, the teachers of the Salisbury High School and of the county generally attended the Annual convention of the Maryland State Teachers' Association, which convened at Ocean City last Monday evening. During their stay at the seashore the teachers made the Atlantic Hotel their headquarters.

The first session was held at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Atlantic Casino when the address of welcome was delivered by William J. Holloway, of this city. The reply was made by F. C. Galbreath, of Belair. Following this came the report of the committee on school legislation, administration and supervision, read by Mr. M. Bates Stephens, state superintendent of education. The first session closed with a general discussion and an address by the president, Mr. F. Eugene Wathen.

The remainder of the sessions were occupied by reports of the committees on various subjects and with addresses by some of the most prominent educators of the state. The Association adjourned with Wednesday evening's session.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Joseph Blair, of Sparrows Point; first vice-president, Dr. Thomas Fell; second vice president, Miss Richmond, Baltimore; recording secretary, A. G. Harley, Comus; corresponding secretary, Miss Gertrude Johnson, Frostburg; treasurer, John McCahan, Baltimore; executive committee, H. Crawford Bounds, Salisbury; J. N. Wicks, Baltimore; Prof. William McDaniel, Westminster; Dr. A. E. Sudler, Sudlersville; Miss Annie E. Johnson, Elliott City.

The main feature of Tuesday's proceedings was an address by Prof. Van Sickle, Superintendent of public schools of Baltimore. His theme was "Some Characteristics of a Good School." The address among other helpful hints contained the following:

"A good school will train its pupils to habits of self reliance. Some part of each pupil's time will each day be spent in work not under the immediate direction of the teacher. The teacher will not be too much in evidence; she will rather be the one described by the boy in these terms: "She gives you a word and expects in return a house and lot."

The noisy talking teacher who, by her flow of eloquence, stifles thought, instead of provoking it, is too often adjudged by the unthinking the abler teacher of the two. The latter makes more impression upon the casual observer, because she makes more noise. The teacher is most useful when she is seemingly least needed. The little boy who couldn't do his problems and didn't see why he needed to learn, because when he was a man he would be a teacher and make his scholars do 'em hit upon a great educational principle.

A quiet school is not necessarily a good school. There is a sort of school-room stillness that savors of the stillness of death.

A good teacher will utilize all of the activities of the school for educational ends. A too rigid supervision of the pupil's every moment makes him a dependent being and opposes the very purpose for which school exists. We want order, but we also want personal responsibility. The good school will study to place responsibility upon the pupil, not only for the conduct, but for the proper use of his time. A good school ought to teach the management of time, and it ought to teach it well. The management of time and the self-government involved in it take rank ahead of knowledge acquired. There should be a gradual increase of freedom and responsibility as we go up in the grades. When the pupil leaves school we expect him to prove himself an intelligent, rational being, self-active, self-controlled. He will not suddenly, upon graduation from the high school, exhibit these qualities, if he has all along through his school life been so hedged around by restrictions that the responsibility for his conduct has rested upon others.

A Good Yield of Wheat.

Mr. A. A. Robinson, a prosperous farmer of Delmar district, who owns and operates the old Williams homestead farm, has just threshed his wheat crop. The yield indicates that unpromising conditions in the winter and spring were overcome before the grain making stage of the plant was reached. From nine acres of land he harvested 264 bushels of nice plump wheat—29 bushels to the acre. We should like to hear of other yields as good.

CONTEST IS OVER.

Mr. Humphreys is Appointed Postmaster and His Appointment is Confirmed—Mr. Adkins' Progressive Administration.

Mr. Marion A. Humphreys of this city has been appointed postmaster by President Roosevelt and his appointment has been confirmed by the Senate.

Mr. Humphreys stated on Thursday that he now expected to take charge of the office about July 13th. He further stated that he had not as yet definitely settled as to his assistant.

The new postmaster is one of Salisbury's progressive young business men. For several years he has been associated with Jackson Bros., Co., where he has gained a valuable business education. We feel sure that in the future management of the office the public may expect a continuation of the progressive spirit that has dominated it since the retiring postmaster, Mr. E. S. Adkins, took charge.

Mr. Adkins will retire with the best wishes and thanks of the patrons of the office, for the high standing it has attained during his administration. His assistant, Mr. L. B. Price, deserves much favorable mention for his attention to duty and his constant endeavor to accommodate and please the public. There is a movement on foot to secure for Mr. Price a position in the Baltimore Postoffice. Congressman Jackson has indicated a willingness to lend his influence in that direction.

STATE COMMITTEE MEETS WEDNESDAY.

Harmony Among All Factions Predicted.

Chairman Murray Vandiver was in Baltimore Tuesday and issued a call for the meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee at 1 o'clock Wednesday, July 9, at the Eutaw House. Mr. Vandiver said that at present he could not say whether or not the committee would go beyond setting the date for the primaries in the counties and fixing the representation in the convention of the various city wards in the Fifth and Second Congressional districts. Representation for the various precincts of the Eighteenth ward, which is divided between the Third, Fourth and Fifth districts, will also be apportioned.

Senator Gorman was at the Hotel Remont during the afternoon, where he conferred with Mr. Vandiver and Mr. John P. Poe. Several others called during the afternoon, and it was stated later that there is every probability of the party in the city getting together before the fall campaign is really on.

A conference of the factional leaders in the city, including Mr. J. Frank Morrison, John J. Mahon, Mayor Hayes and others, it is said, will likely be held just prior to the meeting of the State Central Committee. Mr. Gorman, it is stated, is heartily in favor of harmony, and is using his influence to bring it about. He also deplores the apathy existing in the Democratic ranks concerning the Congressional campaign this fall, and is particularly anxious to see at least three Democrats sent to Congress from Maryland. Democratic headquarters will be open for business as soon as the meeting of the committee is over. The rooms at the Eutaw House have been retained since last fall.

Taxes Must Be Paid.

At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, last Tuesday, an order was passed instructing the County Treasurer to notify all tax collectors prior to 1897 that they must settle with the county within the next thirty days.

The treasurer was also instructed to notify all tax collectors for the years 1897, 1898 and 1899 that they would be required to make settlement with the county within the next sixty days.

George P. Bennett was granted a pension of $2.00 per month, order to George T. Kennerly.

The Board will meet again next Tuesday.

Wheat Harvest in Dorchester.

It is probably the first time in a generation that laborers have gone into the harvest field with their coats on, but this has been a common sight in Dorchester this year. For two weeks the weather has been too cool for shirt sleeves.

So far as heard from the wheat that has been threshed turned out very well. The straw is short, but the heads are large and well filled, and the yield is fully up to the average. The grain is large and plump. The price in the Baltimore market is all the way from 70 to 80 cents, a little better than last year.—Cambridge Chronicle.

MORE HOMES WANTED.

Mess. N. T. Fitch, R. Frank Williams and Others Making Arrangements to Supply Them.

The constantly increasing demand for dwelling houses of all classes in Salisbury and the scarcity of the supply presents a condition which demands the attention of the business men of the community. Contractors, mechanics and day laborers are unable to keep up with the demand for their services.

The situation is this: The town of Salisbury is offering more employment right along than can be done by the local workmen. Families of laboring people from elsewhere cannot supply the deficiency because there are no vacant dwelling places available. There is probably not procurable a single vacant house inside the corporation. Some enterprising citizens, however, have just recently taken steps whereby more homes will soon be ready. Among them are Mr. N. T. Fitch, whose announcement appears in the advertising columns of this issue; and Mr. R. Frank Williams. Each of these gentlemen has made contracts for a number of new houses to be erected on divisions contiguous to Camden Avenue. Mr. Fitch's houses will be within five minutes' walk of the shirt factory which is clamoring for more help. The management of the factory reports that they always have places for good workers. At present they are in need of one hundred additional helpers.

It is almost impossible for a property owner to get a pavement mended or a roof patched up. At least two Division street house owners will confirm this statement. They have the bricks on the spot, and the busy mason promises to do the work in September. He has suggested that they get another to do the work, but the other fellow is equally busy.

Mess. Fitch, F. A. Grier and others have plans for the building of nice houses in different parts of the city, but when they will begin and when finish is a question to which the scarcity of workmen forbids an answer.

Mr. Grier has just received a deed from Mr. Fitch for two lots on the Camden boulevard on which he expects to erect a nice modern house to rent at about $200 per year. He could rent it now several times over.

The Board of trade held a meeting last Monday night, discussed the situation, and resolved to give its moral support to any movement which had for its object the meeting of the situation.

Dryden the Mas.

A special dispatch to the Baltimore American says:

"The President has settled the matter of an appointment of a sub-treasurer for Baltimore. As stated in these dispatches, he will appoint Mr. A. Lincoln Dryden to that place tomorrow before he leaves for Pittsburg.

The President announced his decision this (Wednesday) morning to Congressmen Jackson and Mudd when they called on him at the White House. At the same time he told Mr. Mudd that his investigation of Mr. Adrian Posey had not resulted satisfactorily. He declared that charges had been made against Mr. Posey which prevented his appointment. "But," added the President, "I will say most emphatically that the charges were not made by Senator McComas, but they are such as to make me decide that I cannot appoint Mr. Posey."

Dennis—Kennerly.

Mr. Edward Dennis, son of Mr. Robt. J. Dennis and Miss Fannie Kennerly, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Geo. W. Kennerly, of this city, were married at the home of the bride's parents in South Salisbury at half after six o'clock Thursday morning. Rev. S. J. Smith officiated at the marriage ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis left on the early train for a trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. They will, on their return, make their home in Virginia. The bride received many handsome and useful presents.

ROGER PHILLIPS DEAD.

Nearly Eighty-Six Years Old. Peculiar Sort of Will.

Mr. Roger Phillips, one of the oldest residents of lower Sussex, died last Friday night at his home near Columbia, Delaware, aged 86 years less a few months. His body was buried Sunday in the family burial grounds on the farm where he died.

Mr. Phillips married during his lifetime three times. His children are, by his first wife, Mrs. Tabitha Bradley, of Hebron, this county, and Mrs. Margaret Phippin, of Portville, Delaware; and by his second wife, Mrs. Isaac James Kennerly, of Mardela Springs. The third wife, who is still living, had no children.

The last years of Mr. Phillips' life were those of a feeble and childish old man. He had a weakness for making wills. The last one, which is the successor of a half dozen or more preceding ones, was executed May 11th, 1901, in which he names the late Thomas B. Taylor as his executor, without bond. The witnesses to the document are Messrs. Isaac J. Wright, Wm. H. Beach and Thos. R. Bounds, all of Mardela Springs, Md. It is at present in the hands of Mr. Jay Williams, who as executor of Mr. Taylor's estate, becomes Mr. Taylor's successor as executor of Mr. Phillips' which comprises a badly worn farm of two hundred acres, well set, however, in fine pine timber; some shares of stock in the Grange Hall at Mardela Springs and other personal property including some money on deposit in the Salisbury banks.

Mr. Williams expects to take the will to Georgetown, Saturday for probate. It is a rather peculiar document. To each of the three daughters is bequeathed $100 to be paid over within twelve months. The widow is left $100 to be paid within eighteen months; also bed, bedstead and bed furniture. Mrs. Severn C. Bradley, a granddaughter, is left a bed, bedstead and bed furniture. Mr. Wm. Roger Bradley is bequeathed a shot gun. The farm is left to the widow her lifetime without restriction as to the use or disposal of the timber. At her death it is to go to the daughters, if living, and if dead to their surviving children.

The executor is directed to sell all of the remaining personal property, and after all debts, including burial expenses, are paid, to pay the remainder over to the widow.

Will Camp at Queenstown.

Adj. Gen. John S. Saunders has determined to send the First Regiment into camp at Queenstown, says the Baltimore Herald. The site has been selected and the orders instructing the command to encamp are expected out within the next few days. Early in the summer it was rumored that the First would go into camp, but as time went on and nothing was done it became generally accepted that no encampment would be held. On Wednesday Sergt. John T. Marshall, General Saunders' aide-de camp, went to Queenstown and chose the camp ground. The site of the First's proposed camp is further from the water than the scene of last year's brigade camp ground and much better suited. The land is higher and more easily drained. The plot selected contains about 45 acres and will be remembered by those who were at the camp last year as the parade ground. The encampment will be one of the most economical in the history of the National Guard, for its estimated cost is only $6000. All the tent floors, piping and other similar supplies used last year are now at Queenstown. Water for the camp will be piped from the same well that supplied the camp the year before. This well is 300 feet deep and the water was analyzed last year by the brigade surgeons and found satisfactory. The First Regiment consists of nine companies, averaging about 50 men each. These companies are scattered in towns throughout the state and they never get together at the biennial encampment. For this reason it was decided to send the First into camp. Company I, of Salisbury, belongs to the First Regiment and will be present when the roll is called.

PEACH CULTURE.

An interesting History of the Development of This Delicious Fruit by the Foremost Man in the Business.

My own planting has at least kept pace with the rest, so that now 50,000 trees in Connecticut alone represent the outgrowth of the "crazy" scheme of twenty five years ago. Rocks, hills and semi abandoned brush pastures have been purchased; woods, rocks, and stumps have been cleared away at an expense often exceeding five and even ten times the cost of the land itself; yet the new industry has paid all the bills and left me a cash reward far greater than my limited education and abilities would probably have commanded in any other business or profession.

The old corn field is now a part of my farm; peach trees by the thousand cover the hills, and in the peach harvest, when seventy-five to one hundred happy Italians are joyfully singing as they gather the fruit, I do not feel so lonely as I did once on that same old hill.

Since 1896 those who followed me in to peach culture have crowded me hard in the markets, and with production steadily increasing and prices declining the net returns per bushel in 1901 were a fraction less than ninety cents, against $2.18 in 1887. But consumers are reaping the benefits and everybody seems happy.

Having once by personal contact and association established a name and reputation for my peaches among the most critical consumers, I have since 1889 entrusted their distribution to commission men in the various cities. I insisted upon these agents visiting the orchard several times each year, so as to be in full touch and sympathy with all the work of production and preparation for market, and thus be in position to place the fruit intelligently before consumers.

An electric car line from Hartford having been built along our street in 1895, with a siding right at the farm, I determined to get rid of the long wagon haul by night to the city; and by special contract with the railway people three cars were arranged to hold the peach baskets. These cars were loaded through the day and early evening. In the early morning a motor car would haul the loaded cars to the city, where, along the business streets, just before the tracks were required for passenger service, fruit would be unloaded and stacked up in front of the leading stores. My son, who would look after the loading, would also check it out, and see that the empty cars were back on the home siding before a new day's work had begun on the farm. So far as I can learn, this was the first farm in America to make use of electric cars in transporting its daily products direct from the farm to the city markets.

The service has been maintained ever since; fruit travels in better order and at less cost than on wagons. The new style market wagon has always attracted much attention. In the season of 1901 peaches from the Hale orchard at Seymour, Conn., were transported by electricity to Bridgeport, fifteen miles away, and the time is not far distant when electric car lines are to be an important factor in prompt distribution of perishable farm products all through the thickly settled sections of the country.

In 1890 I was glad to accept the invitation of the Director of the Eleventh Census to make some special investigations of the horticultural interests of America. After traveling more than 50,000 miles and visiting every horticultural section of America my "peach fever" was greatly stimulated, for I had found an ideal peach region in Southwestern Georgia on the line of the Central of Georgia Railroad, not far from the old Andersonville prison ground.

Near Fort Valley, in Houston County, is a broad and level plateau, elevated nearly five hundred feet above sea level, with a rich brown sandy loam soil, underlaid with red clay. I found old native peach trees fruiting nearly every year, and the location seemed the most southerly limit of our country where the best strain of peaches can be perfected.

Land was cheap, and good negro labor abundant. A few planters had made quite a start in orcharding, and I could see that here that the large and late peaches of the North could be ripened and got into market ahead of the small and inferior early varieties of the Middle States. About one hundred acres was the limit of my ambition and my bank account, but when I found that the best plantation in all that region was for sale at a moderate price, and that its thousand acres would only be sold in one tract, I promptly took an option on it, thinking I could interest people in the North, sell it out in blocks and keep for myself the one hundred or so acres I wanted. But no one had faith in the enterprise, even though I offered the land at cost.

borrowed the money, bought the whole tract, and undertook to organize a stock company to equip and run it. Failing at first in this endeavor, I found a horticultural friend in the West, who wanted to try the Southern climate, and who agreed to invest $20,000, take one half interest and superintend the enterprise. I went ahead at once and contracted for 125,000 trees and a car load of farm machinery and supplies. Just at this time another peach crop on the Connecticut farm furnished the money to pay for the Southern land, and things seemed to be coming my way when the promised Western partner, unable to realize the expected cash, dropped out of the enterprise. Trees and machinery had been shipped and must be paid for, while to connect them with the farm and keep things going would take much money. I did not want such a vast orchard, but it was too late to turn back; wherefore I explained the situation to my banker, that it was "money or bust!" He agreed to advance the $15,000 necessary to start the enterprise, with a caution not to exceed the amount and call for more.

Taking from the Connecticut farm a few laborers skilled in orchard work, I reached Georgia in early November, 1891, only to find the plantation house burned. It took us three weeks to erect a barn, and with the mules on the ground floor, we made our quarters in the loft, and a jolly winter was spent. A surveyor was employed to locate a central avenue through the place, and the whole was plotted out in blocks 500x1,000 feet.

Trees are cultivated more easily if in proper alignment; so after the field was plotted, I set the surveyor running lines for the rows of trees. He had not been working long when one of the old plantation darkies came, hat in hand, and said: "Cap'n I dun reckon it cost a right smart o' money to do it dat way. Lulu and I can do it a heap sight quicker and I reckon about as well as dat ar man wid de machine." On inquiry, I found Lulu was his old gray mule. I had my doubts, but at his earnest pleading consented that he should make a trial way down on a corner block, where it would not show much. Old Henry cut three long straight poles from the woods; then some tufts of cotton were tied around the tops of the poles to make them white and more easily seen at a distance. The poles were just the length of the distance wanted between the rows; so a standard of measure was always at hand. Placing one pole perfectly upright on the corner of a block, where the first row was to stand, Lulu was headed for the further end of the field, keeping the poles always in sight midway between her long upright ears; so that Henry had a "sight" that made his aim true. I overlooked operations until the third row was finished, and then rushed off to stop the surveyor and turn the whole job over to Lulu. The work was absolutely perfect, and now with more than 250,000 trees in what I am often told is the best arranged orchard in America, I give due credit to the darkey and the mule for the orderly way in which the trees are planted.

Preacher's Dream Came True.

The Rev. B. F. Campbell, pastor of Second M. E. Church, Dover, had a dream on Monday night of last week, which seems to have been a foreshadowing of the events of the week, although the minister declares he has never been a believer in dreams. Mr. Campbell dreamed that he stood between two coffins and preached a funeral sermon to a sorrowing congregation. One of the caskets was placed in front of him and the other back.

He told his dream to some friends and was well thought about it. That afternoon, Mrs. John Waller, a prominent member of Second Church, was burned to death and the funeral took place on Saturday. Another funeral was held in the church on the same day. The remains of Blanchard Smith, of Wilmington, but a former well known Dover man, were brought there for interment. The Wilmington man's funeral was held first, and while Mr. Campbell preached that sermon, the body of Mrs. Waller rested in her home, which is situated back of the church, so that the minister really stood between two coffins.—Ex.

Strangled to Death.

George Heindol, Jr., aged 1 year, of Blackbird hundred, near Smyrna, was strangled to death Monday morning. The child was alone in the house while his mother went to pick berries. Before leaving the house, it is said, she tied the child in a chair with a towel so it would not fall. After she had been in the field about 15 minutes she sent an older child back to the house to see if the baby was all right. When the older child went to the house she found that the baby had slipped down in the chair. She raised it up in a sitting position and called her mother. When her mother got to the child she found it was dead. It had got its head between the chair and towel and had strangled to death.

PLANTING AN APPLE ORCHARD.

Questions Answered by a Director of the Maryland Farmer's Institute.

Q.—In planting a commercial orchard of 1,000 apple trees, what variety should be used?
A.—In Maryland, I would have half of them or five hundred trees, the York Imperial. This is the best commercial apple for this section of the country. Although I do not like the quality of Ben Davis, I think I would plant at least two hundred trees of it. Stayman is an excellent variety, and I would have one hundred trees of this kind. It is a seedling from Winesap, and as good in every respect as that old standard; the tree is much better than that of Winesap, and the fruit is larger. I would plant one hundred Grimes, which is the choicest in quality of all winter apples, although it is not a late keeper. It is becoming quite popular in the market. Rome Beauty makes an excellent apple for this section, and one hundred trees of it will complete the list.

Minor Crop Conditions.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Maryland and Delaware Section, week ending Tuesday July 1st, says: Gardens and all sorts of truck growth have done well during the week. Tomatoes already transplanted have been greatly helped by the rains, and truckers are largely increasing their acreage in many localities; the low temperatures prevent a marked degree of growth. Cabbage is doing well, and early varieties are nearly matured in places. Table corn is growing nicely, and is now coming into use in Anne Arundel. In some localities the long drouth cut down the early potatoes, but over much of the section the crop withstood its extreme effects and now begins to give good returns; the late potatoes are generally promising. The weather has been too cool for sweet potatoes, melons and cantaloupes, which will not do well while low temperatures prevail. Grapes are reported fine in quality in the southeast, with no mildew on the bunches. Currants gave short yields, and are now over. Strawberries continue in Garrett County, where it is reported that they are unusually good. Blackberries promise well, and are of fine size, but too much rain will hurt the outlook. Raspberries are now yielding well. The mountains of Garrett are reported to hold a full crop of huckleberries.

Francis S. Kleindierst, 46 years old, a native of Rockville, was drowned while attempting to cross Mill creek, near Ligonier, in Western Pennsylvania. He was a hotel keeper at the place mentioned, and leaves a widow and four children.

THE REPUBLICAN RECORD.

The arraignment of the Republican administration by the Democratic members of Congress, at their caucus held in Washington last week, is a very strong one and one that will do much to show to the country the true position of the Republican party on the subject of Trusts.

The failure to pass some measure at this session to give business aid to Cuba is not only a breach of party faith but is a violation of National honor. Well may the leaders of the Republican party approach with fear and trembling the elections this Fall and if they shall meet with defeat, which now seems probable, the resolutions of the Democratic caucus tell the story plainly. They read as follows:

(1) That we condemn the Republican majority in Congress for their failure to pass a measure providing reciprocity with Cuba. The bill which passed the House of Representatives was heartily supported by the Democratic minority after the protection to the Sugar Trust had been removed by the solid Democratic vote, aided by a small minority of the Republican members. As it passed the House, the bill carried relief to Cuba, reduced the price of sugar to American consumers and struck a heavy blow at the notorious and obnoxious Sugar Trust. The refusal of the Republican Senators to consider this measure, unless the protection to the Sugar Trust should be restored, gives evidence that the President and Republican party in Congress are willing to refuse relief to Cuba and totally ignore American consumers rather than abandon their alliance with the Trusts. The failure of all reciprocity legislation with Cuba rests upon the Republican administration, which is willing to reduce the duty on the raw sugar of our producers, but unwilling to destroy the sugar monopoly.

(2) That the Republican majority in Congress is dominated and controlled by the Trusts and monopolies which have the great industries of our country in their grasp is shown by its action in passing an anti-Trust bill through the House of Representatives in the Fifty-sixth Congress, in the closing hours of the session, the Senate refusing to consider the same, as a subterfuge to tide over the election of 1900. That bill has been abandoned, and they have ever since refused and do now refuse and fail to bring in any measure to suppress the Trusts or to report favorably any of the numerous anti-Trust bills introduced by Democratic members during this Congress.

(3) That we favor the immediate passage of a measure to amend the present Anti-Trust Law so as to more fully protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and also a measure to reduce the duties on all articles and commodities manufactured and controlled or produced in the United States by a Trust or Trusts, so as to destroy any illegal combinations, and to reduce the rate of duty on any article or commodity manufactured in the United States, and sold in a foreign country more cheaply than in the United States.

(4) We oppose the adjournment of Congress until the measures mentioned above have been enacted into law.

—Mr. Oscar Funnell has sold his one half interest in the Snow Hill Messenger to Mr. Corrie White, a brother of Mr. S. King White. The price paid, it is understood, approaches $5000. The Messenger has long been regarded as a money earner, and these figures would seem to confirm the impression. Mr. Vincent, who has been associated with Mr. Funnell in the past, retains his interest in the paper. Mr. White is a former teacher in Worcester County. He is an agreeable young gentleman, with the capacity to keep the Messenger in prosperous circumstances.

"HEROES IN HOMESPUN."

Henry Waterson's Beautiful Sentiments.

The Tippecanoe Battlefield Association held its annual exercises in the Tabernacle at the battleground, Lafayette, Indiana on the 15th of June. There were special trains on several railroads and an immense crowd attended.

Graves of the men who fell at the battle of Tippecanoe were beautifully decorated.

Col. Henry Waterson, editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, was the orator of the day, his subject being "Heroes in Homespun." Mr. Waterson was accompanied to the battleground by a committee of 50 prominent men.

In the course of his speech Col. Waterson said,

"Upon the loose cobblestones of what was but a huddle of small provinces, each claiming for itself a squalid sovereignty and held together by a rope of sand, rises proudly, grandly, securely, a nation built on the firm foundations of an indissoluble compact of States, cemented forever by the blood of a patriotic, brave, homogeneous people—a world power.

Ours is a Government resting on public opinion. Each man is his own master. He can blame nobody but himself if he goes astray. But the same fact will receive different interpretations from differing minds. We group ourselves in parties; and, as with watches, each believes his own. Thus the ship of state is blown hither and yon by the trade winds of public opinion. Yet somehow it has sailed triumphant; the struggle for freedom, the struggle for union, the foreign war, the domestic war, the disputed succession, these it has survived; until, at last, it has to face the most serious peril of all in that excess of grandeur and power which crowns a century of marvelous achievement:

We have become a nation of merchant princes. Money is so abundant that men are giving it away in sums of startling magnitude. It seems so easy to get that men are on system putting it in the way of a kind of redistribution back to the sources whence it originally came. Shall we see the day when it will no longer corrupt? If familiarity breeds contempt we surely shall.

Life is a lottery with more prizes than blanks. But in a land where there are no titles or patents of nobility money is bound to serve as the standard of measurement; and precisely as constitutional government, political and religious freedom were uppermost in the minds and hearts of the pioneers who sleep here, is the acquisition of wealth uppermost in the minds and hearts of their sons and grandsons. In other words, as I have elsewhere put it, the idiosyncrasy of the nineteenth century was liberty; the idiosyncrasy of the twentieth century is markets.

The problem before us, therefore, involves the adjustment of these two, the reconciliation of capital and labor, of morality and dollars, the concurrent expansion of the principles of the Constitution and the requirements of commerce.

The mute inhabitants of these swelling mounds could they speak would tell us that it were little worth the toil and travail endured by them, if, overflowing with prosperity, bustling with pride, we should forget the lesson and dissipate the heritage, repeating under the pretentious nomenclature of democracy the dismal story of Greece and Rome. It can never be. We live in the twentieth, not in the first of the centuries.

Though human nature be ever the same, the tale is told by human environment, by mortal conditions, and we shall rather go forward than backward; the Constitution in one hand, the Bible in the other hand, the flag overhead, carrying to all lands and all people the message alike of civilization and religion, the Ark and the Covenant of American freedom along with the word of God."

The Bell Flower Waltzes.

Mr. Hugh H. Trader, a former Salisburian who spent his school days in our midst but now resides in Baltimore, has recently composed "The Bell Flower Waltzes" which have created much favorable comment by the city press. Mr. Trader is a son of Mr. Jos. Trader of Wicomico.

The Baltimore American says: "Messrs. George Willig & Co. have published "The Bell Flower Waltzes," composed by Mr. Hugh H. Trader, a young Baltimorean. The composition is dedicated to Mr. Maurice Ellingsworth. It is most rhythmical throughout, and while demanding no marked technical ability to perform, it abounds in phrases of considerable beauty, and will be popular among the players of a wide range of skill. The Messrs. Willig are notable for the encouragement of the firm to local composers whose work display merit."

The Telegram has the following: "The Bell Flower Waltzes is the title of a four movement waltz, composed by Mr. Hugh H. Trader of this city, and published by Geo. Willig & Co. There are pretty, but not difficult melodies in the composition, and the Bell Flower promises to become popular as a concert, as well as a dance measure. This is Mr. Trader's maiden effort and the reception accorded his work is very encouraging. Prof. Farson has orchestrated the waltz for his band."

It Had to Be Done.

The following story is told by Mr. James Barnes in an article on "A Hundred Years at West Point" in The Outlook as an illustration of the West Point idea of obedience and discipline: During the war a young officer once reported to a volunteer brigade commander that he had orders from division headquarters to take a battery that held the top of a sweeping slope on the front of the Confederate line, the shells from which were playing havoc with the Union infantry that were deploying through a wooded ravine.

"What!" exclaimed the volunteer brigadier; "are you going to try to take those guns with cavalry? Impossible! You can't do it."
"Oh, yes, I can sir," was the reply; "I've got the orders in my pocket." This West Pointer did not doubt in the least what he was going to do, nor his capacity, and, strange to say, he did it, for, advancing at a charge suddenly from the wood across the open ground, he took the battery in the flank before they could change effectually the position of the guns, and he brought them back with him.

Refreshments were served at 11:15 and after two more dances the party broke up just before midnight after a very pleasant evening. Music was furnished by the Independent Orchestra.—Cambridge Chronicle.

—Corn reached 78 cents in the Chicago market, Tuesday, while the highest quotation for wheat was 77¢. Thus, for once, corn was higher than wheat. It is predicted that it will advance to $1, as the market is in a frenzy of speculation, and the upward tendency is aided by fears that this year's crop of corn may suffer largely from adverse weather conditions.

—The steamer Cambridge, of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway, which went ashore 50 feet from the wharf at Claiborne Sunday afternoon arrived in Baltimore at 2:30 o'clock the next afternoon and left on her regular schedule shortly after 4 o'clock, she having been floated at 9:15 Monday evening. No damage was done to the vessel. Mr. Wm. T. Johnson, of Salisbury, was among the passengers on the steamer when she went ashore.

—The Bar Association of Maryland met at the Atlantic Hotel, Ocean City, Wednesday morning and was largely attended. Nearly all parts of the State were represented in the membership. Hon. John S. Wirt of Elkton presided and delivered a polished address on the subject of Roger B. Taney and his career as an exemplar for the rising generation of the bar. Judge Holland and a number of the Salisbury lawyers attended the meeting.

Lock-jaw Cured.

A case which has attracted considerable attention locally, is that of Master Herman Jones, son of Mr. George Archibald Jones, of South Salisbury. Several weeks ago his physicians, Drs Slemmons & Morris, discovered that he was suffering from lock jaw. The case was a very severe one, and required prompt and drastic treatment. The Doctors began the administration of Anti toxin, in large quantities, and kept it up until thirty bottles have been consumed in the treatment of the case. The patient is now convalescent, and gives every promise of ultimate recovery. This is a record making case, and a reward for the skill and diligence of the physicians.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

You may say I am safe from all of them and happy. You may not be as safe as you think for. The heat of summer causes organic matter to decay everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment one hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned and thrown out of order, sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. The proper thing to do is to use Truitt's Cholera Mixture, the only reliable, safe remedy because it cures diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cramp colic, etc.

Did You Ever Hear the Different Things on Your Desk Get Busy in the Morning? Didn't? That's Funny.

Just before you open your desk tomorrow lean down and listen. You'll hear something of this sort: GOOD MORNING, is the ink well? I'm real well this morning and how does the ink stand this morning? "A little sleepy; I RED" last night and had a cold bottle, I've got a good impression of last night says the "BLOTTER." Oh, you're always getting impressions backward, you are. "My, My! How my head aches. OH, you've got a headache, have you, Mr. Pin? What caused you to have a headache? "OH, I blowed my pin money at Ocean City on the fourth of July." I see the point, don't you Miss Pen? Yes, I do, Mr. Penholder. You two are always together, growls the lead pencil. "Rubberneck, why don't you let 'EM alone? they're stuck on each other: says the envelope. "Well, you're stuck on yourself: says the mullage" and that's worse, says the paper knife, and the rubber band will strike up and play. "Oh, Listen to the band, as you begin to open your desk. "Here comes the ruler, you'll hear the letterheads say as he pulls the Sheets up around himself. And then you grab your Pad of Paper and a Lead Pencil and sit down to work. Lacy Thoroughgood has said all he could about good clothing, about good Hats, good Shirts, good Collars and Cuffs, good Suspenders, good Hosiery, good everything to wear. Lacy Thoroughgood sold more clothing and hats in June than any two stores in town. Why not? Is there any other store in town that can and does give so good clothing and hats for the money? Is there any other store in town so careful about the kind of clothing it sells? Is there any other store where the variety is so big? Now Thoroughgood will sum it all up by asking you to come to his store when you want anything to wear, and you'll get good goods at reasonable prices. Do you see?

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, June 29.—Reversing the usual course, Rev. F. De Witt Talmage in this sermon, on the approaching national anniversary, takes a look forward. The text is Matthew xiii, 35, "The field is the world."

Every republic has a Fourth of July. It has an annual holiday, set apart for living over again the scenes of its struggle for independence.

The French republic's Fourth of July is celebrated on the 14th day of July. This is the anniversary when the grim fortress of a prison for state criminals was razed to the ground.

How the different religious denominations are able to work side by side in America for the scattering of the gospel seed may be illustrated by an incident in the life of George Whitefield.

America's second mission is emphatically the establishment of an international court of arbitration so that bloody wars in the future shall be an impossibility.

For Universal Peace. Now, my friends, what civilized nation on the face of the globe is better fitted to lead in the establishment of this supreme court of international arbitration than the American nation?

America's Greatest Mission. Emphatically the most important of all America's future missions is the spreading of the gospel until it shall "be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations."

Such a move to upset the "balance of European power" or to absorb new territory, and a Christian nation like the American which does not try to turn the sword into the plowshare...

And I would especially plead for the American nation to start forth and succor the helpless and weaker nations because God always blesses the individual as well as the mighty nation that is true to those who are weak.

Such a move to upset the "balance of European power" or to absorb new territory, and a Christian nation like the American which does not try to turn the sword into the plowshare...

Recognizing the fact that many people are looking forward to the time when war shall forever be abolished, an imaginative writer once described how that blessed condition was to be accomplished.

ASSAULTED IN SENATE

Mr. Bailey Made a Vicious Attack on Mr. Beveridge.

RESULT OF SHARP CONTROVERSY

Texas Senator Seized Beveridge By the Throat With Both Hands, and When Dragged Away By Onlookers Made a Threat About Killing.

Washington, July 1.—Senator Bailey, of Texas, assaulted Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, last night just after the senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the senate. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator.

The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge had said that Senator Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield, of the state department. In executive session Senator Beveridge, like other senators who spoke, lighted a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still sitting there when the senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charge me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

"I didn't intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow any one to say that I libel a man, and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you won't withdraw the words when I ask you I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of the time or leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge. The latter, in reply to Senator Bailey's last remark, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult you, and that I have nothing to retract."

As those words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique, and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Mr. Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against a desk and the desk was toppled over. Before the assault could go any further senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, seized Senator Bailey by one arm and Senator Spooner seized the other. The Texas senator is a powerful man, and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge, and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana senator's neckwear was ripped and torn away in the vigorous grasp of Senator Bailey. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, and Barney Layton, assistant doorkeeper, came quickly forward and assisted in pulling the Texas senator further away. Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free and lunging toward Senator Beveridge. As he was removed a little distance he was heard to utter something like a threat about killing.

ENCOURAGES CATTLE RAISING

President Palma Wants Cows and Bulls Admitted to Cuba Duty Free.

Havana, July 3.—President Palma has sent a project to congress for the encouragement of the horse and cattle industry in Cuba. The president's plan, among other things, provides for the admission, duty free, of Jersey, Devon, Hereford, Porto Rican, Argentine, Durham and Guernsey cows and bulls for breeding purposes. Stallions over one metre and 50 centimetres high are also to be admitted duty free.

In a preamble to President Palma's project Emilio Terry, the minister of agriculture, sets forth that at present 300,000 head of cattle, worth $9,000,000, are annually consumed in Cuba, and that the hides of these animals are worth $1,500,000. Under the proposed plan the duties are so arranged as to encourage the importation of lean cattle to be fattened in Cuba.

Corbett-Sullivan Fight Off.

St. Louis, July 3.—The board of police commissioners, who yesterday held a special meeting to consider the matter, decided that the prize fight scheduled for tonight at the West End Club, between Young Corbett and Sullivan, cannot be held, as it comes under the statutes prohibiting such exhibitions. President Haughton, of the West End Club, announced that he had posted a $1,000 forfeit to be given to Sullivan and Corbett in case the fight should not take place. The fight was declared off last night.

Two Miners Crushed to Death.

Richmond, Va., July 3.—A Louisiana, Va., special says: O. L. Brooks and Joseph Kingdon were crushed to death by a mass of slate weighing tons, that fell from the roof of a 65-foot level in the sulphur mines and caught the unfortunate men while they were at work. Kingdon was 22 years of age, unmarried, and a native of Louisiana; Brooks leaves a wife and five children, who reside in Spottsylvania county.

Spain Will Sign Commerce Treaty.

Madrid, July 3.—The minister of foreign affairs, the Duke of Almodovar, has been authorized to sign a treaty of commerce with the United States, which will then be sent to Washington for the approval of the senate.

QUANTICO

The Children's Day services of the M. P. Church will be held on next Sunday evening. The programme promises to be highly entertaining and very beneficial.

Blackberries are being shipped in small quantities from this vicinity. The prices received are fair.

Mr. Chas. Gillis, the popular ice-cream manufacturer of Quantico, has opened his ice cream parlors for the summer in the house formerly occupied as the post office. His cream is always of the highest order so he can deservedly solicit the patronage of former years.

The Misses Jennie and Florence Bounds and Blanche and Marie Tainter attended during the week the State Teacher's Association held at Ocean City.

Miss Rubie Crawford, a milliner from North Carolina, is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. A. J. Crawford, this town.

Miss Dora Jones is visiting relatives in Dorchester County.

Mrs. W. S. Disharoon who has been spending some time in Cambridge returned to her home in town Wednesday.

Mr. J. L. Langedale and Rev. O. L. Martin are on the sick list this week.

MORUAN NOT A POKER PLAYER.

On Contrary, Financier Says Harsh Things About The Game.

In next Saturday's issue of Harper's Weekly will appear the following anecdote:

"While idling upon the deck on an ocean steamship recently the attention of a group of voyagers, comprising several prominent Americans and two English baronets, was directed to the fact that no less than a dozen passengers were deeply engrossed in books relating to bridge whist. Whereupon the merits of that fascinating game were discussed. The most interesting point was reached when Sir Edward Colebrooke wondered whether it was quite patriotic for Americans to dialogue their famous national game. "Meaning draw poker?" ejaculated Mr. Morgan.

"That is not a game characteristic of the American people. It never was, it never will be. It is a bad game. It is based upon a lie. The man who has the greatest capacity for deceit wins. To become a strong player he studies to develop the most ignoble and most un-American faculty. The effect upon boys is to make them think deceit and bluff are smart and essential to success in work as well as in play. It is an iniquitous game and ought to be abolished. Nothing could be more foreign to American ideas. The man who labeled it our typical national game ought to be shot. I never heard it referred to by that term without wanting to shoot him."

William H. Harlan addressed the graduates at the commencement of Bel Air Academy and Graded School. Miss G. Ethel Archer led the young women of the class, while W. Worthington Hopkins was the highest honor man. A number of medals were awarded.

Dark Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a great many years, and although I am past eighty years of age, yet I have not a gray hair in my head."

Geo. Yellott, Towson, Md.

We mean all that rich, dark color your hair used to have. If it's gray now, no matter; for Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair. Sometimes it makes the hair grow very heavy and long; and it stops falling of the hair, too.

DEMOCRATIC LOVEFEAST.

All Factions Come Together at Meeting of State Central Committee in Baltimore—Harmony and Victory the Future Battle Cry.

One of the best attended and most harmonious meetings of the Democratic State Central Committee ever held took place at the Eutaw House Baltimore, on Wednesday of this week. The following is a summary of the work of the Committee:

WHAT DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE DID.

Fixed dates and places of Congressional district conventions as follows: First District—Ocean City, September 4.

Second District—Havre de Grace, August 28.

Third District—Manhattan Hall, Baltimore, September 11.

Fourth District—Russell Hall, Baltimore, September 11.

Fifth District—Cross Street Hall, Baltimore, September 11.

Sixth District—Cumberland, September 4.

The action of the peace conference in postponing primaries for party organization until the summer of 1903 was ratified.

The special committee of seven to take charge of the municipal campaign will be appointed the first week of January next.

The State Central Committee for Baltimore City will have charge of the Congressional campaign here this fall, and is also empowered to select auxiliary committees of three from each precinct as well as an executive from each ward, thus providing a party organization.

The Fifteenth and Sixteenth wards of Baltimore are allowed three votes in the Second District Congressional Convention, while the Twenty first, Twenty third and Twenty-fourth wards, and the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth precincts of the Eighteenth ward are allowed five votes altogether in the Fifth District Convention. The Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh precincts of this ward are given one vote in the Third District Convention, and the First, Second and Third precincts are given one vote in the Fourth District Convention.

The Baltimore Sun in describing the meeting says:

"The work of the Democratic State Central Committee, which met yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Eutaw House, is succinctly given in the above summary. Harmony prevailed and every element of the party was represented. A more liberal spirit than has been shown in recent years was exhibited in the resolutions, and by many present the belief was expressed that the party managers had at last seen the wisdom of throwing away their 'gun shoes' and are about to enter a campaign without these hitherto necessary articles.

The arrangements made for the coming campaign, as well as for the fight in the spring, seem to satisfy everyone, and there is seemingly nothing about them which will antagonize any element. In fact, one well-known Democrat who has not hitherto been friendly to the organization was heard to say after the meeting that henceforth in the Democratic party there would be nothing but 'straight politics' and that the new primary law had made impossible the sulking of any one leader with a following, on the plea that he had been robbed of his rights."

A large number of prominent Democrats from all over the State were on hand and predictions were made that four Democratic Congressmen would be elected from Maryland this Fall. Ex Governor Jackson, Senator M. V. Brewington and Mr. Jas. T. Truitt represented Wicomico at the meeting. Senator Brewington was the member from the First District on the Committee on resolutions.

From the talk of those present Mr. P. B. Hopper of Queen Anne's county seemed to be the favorite for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the First District.

Trains Man Injured.

Willard Hayman, an employe of the B. C. & A. railroad was seriously injured last Wednesday. While performing his duties on the afternoon Baltimore express he was knocked from the train at Ellwood by the pole on which the mail bag is thrown as the train passes, and seriously injured. He was taken to Eastern where he received surgical attention. Thursday he was brought to the Peninsula hospital. Two ribs were broken and other injuries sustained by the accident.

GOING ACROSS THE COUNTRY.

Mr. Jay Williams Accompanied by His Wife and Son, Will Start West Next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Williams and son, Master Everett, will leave Salisbury next Wednesday morning for a trip across the continent. They will go to Philadelphia, thence to Chicago via the Pennsylvania Railroad. From Chicago the party will continue westward over the Rock Island route. The points they will visit particularly are Denver and Colorado Springs, Colorado; Portland, Oregon; Tacoma, Washington; the Yellowstone Park and Salt Lake City. They will enjoy unlimited stop-off privileges. At Bozeman, Montana, Mr. Williams will tarry to transact business connected with the Daughters' will case, in which a number of Mr. Williams' eastern clients are interested. James Daughters, or "Jimmy Daria," as he was known in Montana, was a native of Sussex county, Del. He was a peculiar individual from childhood, with a propensity to roam. After drifting to many places, including a journey abroad, he found himself in the north-west, where at Bozeman, Montana, he froze to death in a hotel in the severe winter of 1899. The people there knew but little of him except that he was a strange old man whose miserly love of money impelled him to lead a miserable and abject career, denying himself the comforts and decencies of life that he might add a little more to that earthly treasure which we are told availeth not.

After the old man's death and burial, and just as the State of Montana was about to claim, in the absence of more rightful claimants, the estate of $18,000 which it was known the old man had accumulated at the expense of his physical needs and spiritual well-being, it became known that there survived legal heirs, all of whom resided in the East.

They came together and engaged Mr. Williams, as attorney, to secure to them the estate. With this object in view Mr. Williams went West in June, 1899 and established the claim of his clients. They are Mr. John Young, of Baltimore; Mr. Alonzo B. Daughters, of New York; Mr. Samuel J. Collins, of Easton; Mrs. Katharine Maddox, of Texas and Mr. Wm. E. Daughters. The business is not yet closed, and Mr. Williams will visit Bozeman while West to further matters for his clients. On the first trip Mr. Williams took his family, as he expects to do this time. On that trip he wrote a number of very interesting letters to the ADVERTISER, commenting upon the scenery, the people and the industries of the great West. Their publication afforded some pleasant reading to the paper's subscribers. Mr. Williams has agreed to write an occasional letter for publication incident to the forthcoming trip.

July Corn Reaches 90 Cents.

Shorts in July corn got another hard squeeze at Chicago when the price went up to 90 cents, Tuesday the highest price since 1898, when corn touched $1. Those still having corn on hand in this vicinity are watching the market closely. The cornered grain closed at 84 cents at Chicago Monday, and opening bids were 84-85 cents, with shorts doing all of the bidding. It closed at 87 cents.

By noon the shorts had taken 250,000 bushels, with an estimated profit of $60,000 to the manipulators who sold, as their line, estimated at 15,000,000 bushels, was bought between 81 and 85 cents. The pit showed no excitement, speculation among traders being on how long the Gates coterie would keep its grip on the cereal and how high corn would soar.

It is said that Mr. Gates has told his intimate friends that July corn will touch $1.25.

Sewer For Camden Avenue.

On Monday evening the City Council passed an ordinance conveying the authority to a number of gentlemen in Salisbury to lay a sewer, not less than twelve inches in diameter, along Camden Avenue from its southern boundary to the Wicomico River, with branch pipes on the intersecting streets and boulevards. The estimated cost of the new sewer is $3000 with shares at $50 each.

The Council retains the privilege to purchase the sewer at any time at price of construction with interest from the time of the laying of the pipes. It also has the right to drain the streets along the line by emptying the surplus water into the sewer.

That all who desire to subscribe for the shares of the new company may have ample opportunity, the books will be kept open until Monday, July 21st, at the office of Messrs. Graham and Fitch, Main Street.

COULBOURN--COLLINS.

Pretty Wedding At St. Peter's Church Wednesday.

Capt. Louis P. Coulbourn and Miss Nettie Fulton Collins, both of this city, were married at noon Wednesday in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church, Rev. A. J. Vanderbogart, former rector, officiating. While the friends of the happy couple were assembling Miss Edith Weisbach rendered a beautiful musical program on the organ.

The bride entered the church with her father, Mr. Isaac J. Collins who gave her away, and was met at the chancel rail by the groom and his best man, Mr. Earl Dahlzell. Miss Annie Kincaid of Havre-de Grace was maid of honor, while Miss Lulu Collins, the bride's sister, and Miss Pansy Ennis acted as bridesmaids. The ushers were Messrs. L. Atwood Bennett, H. Winter Owens, C. Lee Gillis and Daniel B. Cannon.

The bride's gown was white Paris lawn, shirred, and trimmed with maclean lace. She wore a long tulle veil caught in with lily of the valley and carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaids wore pretty white dresses with pink sashes and carried bridesmaid's roses. Miss Kincaid was also becomingly attired in a gown of white Paris lawn and carried a large bouquet of pink roses.

The groom wore a Prince Albert coat and light trousers, the best man and ushers, cutaway coats and light trousers.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the brides parents on South Division Street. Captain and Mrs. Coulbourn left on the two o'clock express for a trip to Atlantic City. They will reside on East Church Street, on their return to Salisbury.

Close Call for Mr. Laws.

Mr. James Laws narrowly escaped instant death last Monday. He drove to Salisbury that morning and returned to his home in Pittsville in the afternoon. In crossing the B. C. & A. railroad track at Walston's Switch, this side of Parsonsburg, his buggy was struck by the Baltimore express train and torn to pieces. Mr. Laws was thrown forward from the track, thus escaping a horrible death. The horse he was driving also escaped uninjured. The train was brought to a stand still and Mr. Laws taken on board and safely conveyed to his home. His injuries are considered slight.

A piece of woodland skirts the track at the point of the accident which accounts for the trainmen failing to see the horse and carriage until the train was almost upon them; and for the same reason Mr. Laws could not see the approaching train, and he did not hear it. For his fortunate escape thanksgivings and congratulations are in order.

Mr. Laws is the father of Messrs. J. R. T., John M., and Edgar, Laws of this city. He is a former commissioner of the county, and one of the most prominent citizens of Pittsburg district.

In Memoriam.

In sad but loving memory of my darling mother, whom God in his divine providence called unto Himself one year ago.

It is a small tribute, indeed, to one whose enthusiasm, devotion, and bright, beautiful and consecrated life are to me an unceasing inspiration.

Dearest mother thou hast left me, I thy loss most deeply feel. For the loving tie that bound us, Eventually had to yield.

You are not forgotten, 'mother, Nor ever will you be, For as long as life and sweet memory last, I will always remember thee.

Farwell, darling mother, thou art at rest And forever thou will be. You could not stay on earth with me, But I can go to thee.

BERTHA EUGLAKR PHILLIPS.

Baptists at Ocean City.

The second Reunion of Baptists of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, will occur at Ocean City Wednesday July 30th. Both B. C. & A. and N. Y. P. & N. railroads will run trains from Claiborne, Pocomoke, Crisfield, and intermediate stations.

A good programme consisting of echoes from the Providence Convention phases of the Young People's Work etc, by the best speakers we can get who have attended the Convention. At the Casino at Ocean City, at 2.30 p. m. The public is very cordially invited to join us in the excursion.

The Executive Committee of the B. Y. P. U. of Baltimore, are endeavoring to bring a large company from their city. D. M. Lennox.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Number of Things of More or Less Importance Considered Thursday Night.

The City Council held a meeting last Thursday night. A number of matters of more or less public interest came up for discussion.

The clerk was instructed to notify the manager of the Salisbury Heat, Light and Power Company that the Council finds, on personal observation, that many lights in different parts of the city, are permitted to remain off several nights in succession; that the quality of the lighting is not up to the standard, that the company is not performing its part of the contract, and the management is notified to remove these several causes for complaint.

The Council authorized a survey of the streets with a view of establishing a better grade and a uniform width of sidewalks throughout the town.

A twelve inch sewer will be run from William street west through the property of Mr. W. J. Downing to the river. This is deemed necessary. At present with each dashing, heavy rain a considerable body of water stands in the streets at the crossing of Division and William, overflowing the grounds of property owners in that vicinity. The ten inch sewer already there seems inadequate to carry off the volume.

Death of John B. Records.

Mr. John B. Records, who has been suffering for some time from consumption, died at his home on East Elizabeth Street Sunday evening about nine o'clock.

Mr. Records came to Salisbury when quite a young man from Sussex county, Del., and soon engaged in the grocery business near the N. Y. P. & N. Railway Station and continued to run the business very successfully until recently, when he was obliged to give up on account of failing health. He was only thirty-eight years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Records is survived by a widow, who is a daughter of the late Richard B. Smith, and three children, all boys. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the late home of the deceased by Rev. Chas. A. Hill, after which the remains were interred in Parsons Cemetery.

Mr. Records had his life insured for $1000. and leaves considerable property.

Mr. R. Frank Williams' Announcements.

Mr. R. Frank Williams makes two announcements in this issue. One is that he has taken the agency for a number of pianos of established reputation. A nice well toned instrument is a desirable possession in any refined home. Mr. Williams thinks he can gratify all tastes in the matter of a choice.

His other announcement is that he has started a real estate brokerage business, and will handle both town and country property on commission. In this connection he will do a general collection business. Find landlords for tenants and tenants for landlords, make contracts and collect rents.

This feature is a new one in Salisbury, and in our rapidly growing little city should prove mutually beneficial to all parties concerned.

Rev. L. A. Bennett's Illness.

A correspondent writing from Del mar, under date of July 8th, says:

The Rev. L. A. Bennett, pastor of the Delmar Methodist Protestant Church, who has been seriously ill for some time with a complication of diseases, is now suffering from smallpox. It is not known how he contracted small pox, as he had been confined to the house a long time before it was known that he had that disease.

Nathaniel Hitchens, aged 80 years, died Saturday night. He was a hotel proprietor for many years, but of late had devoted his time to market gardening. His wife and four sons survive him.

Struck By Lightning.

During a rather severe thunder storm last Saturday evening, the house on Camden Avenue occupied by Mr. Henry Adams was struck by lightning and considerably damaged. Pieces of weather boarding and bricks were carried as far as fifty feet from the house. Mrs. Adams, who was standing on the back porch with other members of the family, was struck by a bolt of lightning, which came through a window near which she was standing. She was not seriously hurt, however, and is now improving. Her leg, down which the lightning ran, had the appearance of having been scalded.

The damage to the house is estimated at about one hundred dollars.

PEACH CULTURE.

An interesting History of the Development of This Delicious Fruit by the Foremost Man in the Business.

The trees to be planted were small, and when the rows were all lined out, instead of following the usual custom of digging a deep hole two or more feet in diameter, placing the trees in position and filling in about the roots with earth, I sheared the roots so close that one thrust of a spade into the mellow cotton land made an opening large enough to receive them and a little tramping set them firmly in place. I planted the first trees with my own hands, and this novel plan of not digging any holes made it the cheapest job of planting on record.

While planting was going on carpenters were building a house; and the middle of March we were able to move out of the barn.

It would be four years at least before we could hope for any income from the orchard, and necessary expenses could not be less than $10,000 a year; wherefore I set about making side crops to earn a part of this. At the suggestion of a Western nurseryman, between four and five million plum cuttings were put out to grow "stocks" to sell other nurserymen to propagate upon, in place of the "stocks" they were annually importing from France.

Not having been able through the winter to secure a partner or hire an experienced horticulturist as superintendent, I returned North in the Spring, leaving a bright young man from the Connecticut farm in charge. I was able to report at the bank that the start had been made with some $8,000 less than the estimated cost.

For a corn crop, against the advice of neighboring planters, I broke up deeply with modern steel plows a field of eighty acres that had long been abandoned because so infested with "nut grass" that prevalent methods of culture in the South could not keep ahead of it. The corn field was planted in check rows, so as to be worked by teams in every direction, and by the aid of the best implements of culture, and "keeping everlastingly at it," a wonderful growth of corn was secured, coming to be a show field, visited daily by planters from far and near.

In the fall we had over 8,500 bushels of corn to sell at seventy-five cents per bushel to six-cent cotton farmers, who could not quite understand how the thing was done.

The sale of nursery stock in addition swelled the farm income that first year to nearly $8,000.

The winter following a stock company was organized, but only two outsiders could be induced to come in, one a merchant and the other a farmer. By taking my children's savings and those of all near relatives who had any money, enough capital was realized, supplemented with annual sales of nursery stock, to keep up operations for four years, when our first peaches were ready for the harvest. The erection of a huge packing shed for present and future needs, the purchase of more mules and wagons for transportation between packing house and railroad station three miles away, were the local preparation for the harvest.

Then, through commission men who had handled the Connecticut crops and knew my orchard methods, circular letters were sent out by the thousand to retailers and consumers of fancy fruit, telling them that two months ahead of the usual season we were to have large and luscious peaches in abundance. Advertisements in Southern papers brought in educated young men and women from Georgia and adjoining States to assist in the harvest and marketing. The new and fascinating industry had an attraction for these young people, most of whom had never worked for wages before. Hundreds of extra negroes were called in, and all camped on the place in their own covered wagons, tents, and newly constructed barracks.

Families from Florida who owned small places, in the idle season of midsummer made the trip of three hundred miles in covered wagons, camping along the way. And now as the orchard has increased, there annually comes to us from the truck and fruit farms of Florida, fifty to seventy-five people, who count as their only summer outing the two months spent in the Georgia peach harvest. A hotel or lodging house on the place now accommodates a little over two hundred, room and bed being free to those who are willing to conform to the simple rules of decency and good order. Meals are furnished at cost, which is about twelve cents, for an abundance of wholesome food in variety, and yet a majority of white people always prefer to bring their own cooks and provisions from home and rig up a little camp, while others form clubs, buy their provisions from the commissary on the place, and hire some old Auntie to cook for them at her cabin at twenty-five cents a week for each person and "de chillen take de leavins." Two negroes board one hundred or more of their own race; others club and cook together about their own camp fire, while many buy from the commissary what they eat from meal to meal. Of the more than seven hundred people on the place in the fruit season, all must be fed on the spot, and as a majority of the marriage without funds, rations must be advanced until pay day comes around.

With the blacks, constant care must be maintained to keep them from eating up their wages before they are earned. The boys and girls resort to all sorts of tricks to get double rations; George Washington Jones, after loading up as heavily as the office will allow, turns up later as "Wellington Smith" and gets another order, while Smith is away in the field at work.

The blacks dislike to work after noon on Saturday, and we have learned to adjust the year's work to this plan. In the fruit season, however, as it is necessary to crowd the work at all times, no one is hired who will not freely agree to work all day Saturday if wanted; and yet on Friday evening or Saturday morning three hundred and fifty out of four hundred darkies come up with some apparently good excuse to be let off for the afternoon. Sick wives, mothers, fathers, children, brothers and sisters dead or dying, are the usual Saturday morning troubles!

Letters and sometimes telegrams are brought in as evidence, and great tact and patience are required to select the one true story from the ninety and nine that have gone astray. I must confess that they are too smart for me, and I would often get fooled if my assistants were not more shrewd in detecting the shams.

One Saturday in July I came upon a boy of fifteen or sixteen crying as though his heart would break. In reply to my inquiry, I was told "Mother is dead and I want to go home!" Of course I said to him, Well, go and see the superintendent and he will give you an order on the office."

The boy moaned, "I dun see him, and he won't let me off till bell time." This seemed hard when one boy's work would count for so little among seven hundred; so I took him in the buggy and hurried back to the office, giving an order that he be paid off and let go at once; but I was politely told that "the superintendent's orders are that no one is to be paid till night." After I had insisted in rather strong language that I might possibly be a bigger man than even the superintendent, the lady assistant began a series of sharp questions, finally bringing out the date of "mother's" death as "de 26th ob last Feb'y!" I sneaked off, realizing that there were some phases of the peach business that I had better not meddle with.

Bridal couples, both black and white; ministers, lawyers, editors, artists, doctors, magazine writers, students, school teachers, and college professors; bright tramps who have been the world over; young people from the best plantation homes of the South; "Georgia crackers" and blacks of all degrees, make up the force of the farm in fruit season. The first crop of Georgia peaches was marketed in 1893 so successfully that the orchard was promptly enlarged, until now more than 225,000 peach and 40,000 plum trees can be seen from the outlook on top of the central packing shed, and it is a drive of nearly thirty miles to cover all the avenues in the orchard. A railroad track runs directly to the packing house. An evaporator capable of working up six hundred bushels of peaches a day utilizes any fruit not fit for shipment. Nursery trees by the hundred thousand, corn to feed the darkeys and mules on the place, and one hundred and fifty to two hundred acres of fancy cateloupes are the annual productions.

From the Saturday before Christmas to the Monday after New Year's is holiday time, after which the year's work begins. The trees are pruned to make them low headed, so that the fruit may be harvested without the use of step-ladders, and the resulting broad open top lets in sunlight and air, to add color and quality to the fruit. Then comes the spraying, for we do all that science and practice can suggest to check the ravages of insects and fungus pests, to the end that every specimen of fruit may be the best and most beautiful of its kind.

Gang plows, revolving harrows and other implements of orchard culture in connection with the best obtainable fertilizers, keep the more than 2,000 acres of orchard land soft, clean and mellow until the approach of the harvest season, when it is all seeded with invaluable "cow peas" which shade the ground through the heat of late summer and early fall while at the same time gathering the free nitrogen of the air to enrich the land for future crops.

To Get Union Central Dividends You Must Insure in the Union Central.

Dividends in Life Insurance regulate the cost of the insurance. The company that pays the largest dividends furnishes the cheapest insurance. The company that combines the lowest death rate, the lowest expense rate, and the highest interest rate, pays the largest dividends. The Union Central excels all companies in these points. Nearly 80 per cent of the assets of the Union Central are invested in first mortgage securities, which, during 1901, earned 6.05 per cent. The average interest rate for twenty years is 6.65 per cent. The one particular advantage of mortgage loans as an asset of an insurance company is their non-fluctuating quality—a Wall street broker is not needed to value them.

An Annual Dividend Policy is the only contract which gives you the full benefits. You know every year just how your investment stands, and your profits are placed to your credit or given to you in cash.

For further argument in favor of the Union Central we refer you to the two letters which are herewith reproduced. One by Mr. B. H. Kroger, a banker and financier of Cincinnati, O., the other by Gen. J. S. Carr, banker and financier of Durham, N. C. Gen. Carr carries over a million dollars on his life.

Durham, N. C., Jan. 23rd, 1902.
 Mr. C. C. Hazell, General Agent,
 Union Central Life Ins. Co., of Cincinnati, Baltimore, Md.
 Dear Sir:—It gives us pleasure to state that the policies which we are carrying in your company, we believe to be among the best we have on our life, and we are carrying the rise of One Million Dollars. We now have in your Company $145,000.00 insurance, and it gives us great pleasure to testify to the fair treatment which we have received at the hands of your company, ever since we have been one of its insured.
 Yours truly,

ICEBERG BLACKBERRY.

A Handsome "White" Blackberry, Vigorous and Productive.
 The Rural New Yorker has given what it calls a fair representation of the Iceberg blackberry as fruited on its grounds. The density of the clusters, which are shown in the cut, indicate it to be very prolific.
 The Rural describes the berries as of good size and of a very attractive, translucent amber tint, so light as to justify the name of white. The flavor is not particularly pleasant, however, though it is the best of its type. There is some mawkish astringency even in well ripened specimens. One can imagine these handsome berries sought after for garnishing and decoration, but not for their table quality. They are firm and handle well, but a bruise is soon followed by a brownish discoloration which mars their transparency.

NEW "WHITE" BLACKBERRY ICEBERG.

 Iceberg is said to result from a cross of Lawton with the well known old Crystal White and is certainly an immense improvement on that variety in size and productiveness. Many white and light colored blackberries have been introduced from time to time, but none has been found valuable except as curiosities, though there seems to be a place for Iceberg. The canes are vigorous and came through the past severe winter without harm.

SAN JOSE SCALE.

Summer Treatment Briefly Stated by the South Carolina Station.
 The best time to treat trees for the San Jose is in the winter, when there is no foliage on the trees, but it is necessary to spray in the summer also when the scales are multiplying rapidly, and it is dangerous to let them go unchecked until the time for the winter treatment. Whenever trees are found in the summer with living scales spray them with a 10 per cent strength of kerosene in water. Trees that are so badly crusted over with the scales that they are already beginning to die should be burned. Very badly infested branches and twigs of otherwise vigorous trees should be cut off and burned. Preliminary to spraying the trees should be pruned back.

A good plan to follow would be to go through the orchard and examine every tree with a pocket lens or magnifying glass, marking with a paint or whitewash brush those with scales. The marked trees to be burned should be carefully removed a few inches below the soil and burned on the spot. The others should be sprayed with 10 per cent kerosene in water and carefully watched during the summer. A 15 per cent oil mixture is very often advised and when carefully applied can be used.

Spraying should be done on a bright, dry day, so that the oil will evaporate as quickly as possible. The oil evaporates most slowly on a moist, cloudy day, and the tree is more apt to be injured by some of the oil penetrating the bark. A thorough application is necessary, but the oil and water should never be put on so much that it runs down the trunk and collects about the base. It must be remembered, however, that every scale insect that is to be killed must be actually touched with the oil, and therefore every twig, branch and the trunk of the tree must be moistened, and this is best done with a mist-like spray. Spray the infested trees several times during the summer if necessary.—South Carolina Station.

Ornamental Solitaires.

Ornamental solitaires is an uncommon term used by the writer of an article on landscape gardening. It corresponds to "specimen trees." As Meacham's Monthly observes, this application of a word usually made to a single precious stone or gem seems rather appropriate for a perfectly formed solitary plant in a landscape setting and might well receive general adoption.

Stray Petals.

Avoid scattered effects on the lawn. Flowers and high colored foliage are most effective against a background of green foliage.

Gallardias are beautiful annuals and bloom freely through the summer and fall.

Salvia is easily grown and is a blaze of scarlet all summer.

A little bonemeal worked into the soil does the sweet peas good.

Cut the sweet peas regularly to prolong the flowering season.

A late planting of gladiolus—any time before July—will give flowers.

Sow mignonette for summer flowering toward the last of May.

SOLD STORAGE OF WEALTH

Wonderful Vault That Billionaires Use For Deposit of Securities.

Many persons who have been amazed during the past few days at the holdings of stock certificates that represent millions of dollars by some of the magnates of Wall street have more than once wondered where on earth the stacks of certificates are stored away over night. Some of the certificates are passed day after day in their business deals from owners to owners who have not strong underground vaults, nor do all firms on the street have vaults above the average kind, says a New York correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Be that as it may, from this time out the millions in bonds and certificates and other "street" valuables, as well as valuable owned elsewhere, in this city and other cities, are to be stored away in a safe in a deposit company on Broad street which has just been put in commission. It is the biggest safe in the world. In this safe are already deposited more securities than in any other one place in the world. Wealth untold is represented there by stocks and bonds, jewelry and silver plate. Here also repose the wills of many of the biggest millionaires in America.

So vast are the financial interests concerned in this safe that the board of directors in charge of it is made to represent every faction of the financial world. John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan, the Vanderbilts, the Rothschilds, the Harrimans, the Goulds and other large interests have personal representatives on the board. The door leading into the safe is a tremendous piece of mechanism. It is circular, eight feet in diameter and twenty-four inches thick. It weighs twenty-one tons. The hinges of this big door weigh 7,000 pounds. The door and vestibule weigh fifty tons, and yet so nicely is the door balanced on ball bearings that a baby might close it with the gentle pressure of its tiny finger. The safe is fifty-three feet long, thirty-eight feet wide and nine feet in height. The walls are four feet thick. The interior is fitted up with 2,000 boxes, but 3,000 more will be added as they are needed.

Formidable as the mechanical appliances for safety are, they are not depended on altogether. Day and night men guard the big door. They pace back and forth like soldiers on guard. Three times in the night a third watchman walks through the corridor to see that the sentinels are attending to their duty. If ever a burglar gets anything out of the safe, Wall street will go out of business.

The Condition of the Jews.

Their very religion—at once the cause and the compensation of their isolation—is lost to the Jews by the impossibility of reconciling its observances, especially the observance of the Sabbath, with the necessities of a fiercely competitive civilization. If observed, it tends not only to render the struggle for life still severer, but also to shut them out from many forms of industrial activity, and thus cramp the whole people by confining them to comparatively few occupations.

But, leaving on one side the people as a whole, the idea that the Jews succeed as individuals is equally illusory. As already stated, half the Jews of the world live in Russia, and according to the most recent statistics, the value of the average possessions of a Russian Jew is under $5. The average Roumanian Jew has not even $1. In Persia, Morocco, Algeria and the east generally there is nothing but a mass of swarming poverty, varied, as in Palestine, by perpetual mendicancy. In the sweatshops of London and New York the Jews, as a rule, are the victims.—Israel Zangwill in Success.

The Mockery of Life.

Dame Nature has a way of striking a balance. The law of compensation—the adding to for every taking away, the taking away for every gift—still remains a trick of fortune. John D. Rockefeller commands the services of hundreds of thousands of men. He has millions upon millions and the power to possess anything on earth which money can buy. Yet he must live on toast, not being able to digest a square meal, and all his millions cannot make even one hair grow where one hair grew before. He cannot smoke, though he could afford to pay $10,000 apiece for his cigars and could light them with thousand dollar bills. He can afford to pay fabulous prices for rare old wines, and he cannot drink a glass of beer. With the power to make the brightest things of the world glitter about him every night, he must go to bed at 10 o'clock. Worth a thousand millions, he cannot afford to eat a sausage. Life is full of irony.—New York Press.

Juvenile Men.

"You may think you know American women with advanced ideas and unconventional modes of living," says a publisher quoted by the Philadelphia Record, "but they are not to be compared with their English sisters. There is nothing so demure as an English girl before she is married, but matrimony somehow or other seems to change her whole nature, if one may judge from the way she breaks loose. During my last visit to England I was invited to dine with Mrs. Stannard, who writes novels under the nom de plume of John Strange Winter. When dessert was served, her two little boys, aged, I should say, about ten and eight, were permitted to come to the table. After eating all the sweets in sight the youngsters each drank a glass of benedictine and smoked a couple of Turkish cigarettes. Then their mother kissed them good night and sent them off to bed. It was all I could do to believe my senses."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

 Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A big landslide at Bear Run, on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, wrecked several freight cars, standing on a siding. Several hundred feet of the perpendicular mountain came down.

Poisoning The System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dulness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress.

Storms of great severity are reported from Howard, Carroll, Worcester and other sections. Howard had a cyclone somewhat resembling the destructive one of five years ago. Barns and out-buildings were demolished and other damage was done.

A Sustaining Diet.

There are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained; and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic—say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.

Joshua E. Lewis vs. Ida Lewis.
 No 1416 Chancery in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Md.

The object of this suit is that the said Joshua E. Lewis may procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the said Ida Lewis.
 The bill states that the said parties were married on the 17th day of December, 1898, and that they lived together until about May, 1898, since which time complainant has lived in Wicomico County, Maryland; that though the conduct of the complainant towards the defendant has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the defendant, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that the said separation and abandonment has continued uninterrupted for at least three years, is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, this 8th day of July, in the year nineteen hundred and two, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ordered that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in said Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of August nineteen hundred and two, give notice to the absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 1st day of September next, to show cause, if any she have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

VERY SOUND REASONING.

The following from the Westminster Advocate is worthy of careful reading as it contains much food for serious thought.

"At the last session of the Legislature a committee of the House of Delegates, on a resolution of Isaac Lobe Straus, was appointed to investigate the affairs of the State Normal School. Mr. Straus was made chairman and the committee, or at least Mr. Straus, has been actively and industriously investigating the business and educational affairs of the institution. The result of the investigation is embodied in a long report written by Mr. Straus. Of course everything was all wrong. Straus was only looking for faults and shortcomings, and was too intent upon discovering errors to observe any excellencies. He found none of the latter. It is quite probable the school is not up to date. It is quite probable it is not efficient, and is not progressive. It is also true the State Normal School should never have been instituted. It is quite an expensive affair, and to carry out the recommendations of the Straus Committee means expensive improvements to the buildings and an increase of salaries.

The Advocate has always held that the State has no more right to maintain a school for the education of teachers than it has to maintain schools of law, medicine, dentistry or pharmacy, or to maintain shops and factories to fit people to earn a living. There was no good reason for establishing and maintaining a school to educate persons for teachers. If the recommendations of the Committee are essential to the proper training of teachers, then the school should be abolished at once. If the money spent to maintain the Normal School and that donated to the Johns Hopkins University and colleges, academies and seminaries be devoted to the cause of public schools salaries could be paid to teachers that would command better teaching talent, and induce young men and women to prepare themselves for teachers, with a view of making teaching a life business.

It is a question to be considered whether or not a class of theorists are running to extremes in the matter of education. A committee of common sense, practical men to report upon this should be appointed by the next Legislature. Most boys who go through high schools and colleges want to lay aside the shovel and the hoe and the girls despise the washtub and the dishrag. Germane to this the Baltimore Sun says:

"One man who can run a farm intelligently or shoe a horse or build a house is worth more than a dozen whose only accomplishment is to spout Cicero without understanding him. Classical learning was once the only learning, but that day is long past. There are now many practical sciences and occupations better worth the attention of the average citizen. This is shown by the fact that a good stonemason, carpenter or glassblower gets better wages by the day or year than by many a teacher who teaches Latin."

President Roosevelt has brought much criticism upon himself by his efforts to suppress the freedom of speech or press and to dispute the right of the sovereign people to criticize the official acts and conduct of their public servants.

The sovereign people have not only the right to closely scrutinize the official acts of persons holding high public positions, but in such watchfulness they render a great aid towards good government. Close observation and public criticism tend largely to produce a faithful and honest administration of public affairs and act as a restraining influence against extravagance, negligence and dishonesty in public office. Mr. Roosevelt will soon find that his acts as President and those of his official family are open to the same public scrutiny and criticism as those of the smallest office holder in the land.

There is some point in the comment of Congressman Griggs, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, upon the President's attack on the trusts in his Pittsburgh speech. He claimed that the attack came rather late, now that Congress has adjourned, and inquired, why the President did not make his assault while Congress was in session.

The Independent Republicans of Pennsylvania propose to run a State ticket in opposition to the nominees of the Quay machine. This will make a three-cornered fight, and in such a contest Gov. Pattison should stand a good chance of election.

Unpleasant Experience of Yachting Party in Electric Storm.

We take the following from Thursday's Baltimore Herald.
"Charles C. Hazell, of 2228 Madison Avenue, who has just returned from a yachting excursion in the waters of the York river and the Chesapeake bay, tells of a singular and very unpleasant experience through which his party passed during an electric storm last Monday night. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marshall and son, of West Point, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Hazell, of Baltimore.

While their boat was anchored about 15 miles below West Point, at 9.30 P. M., a storm came upon them, in which there was much thunder and lightning. All of the party except Mr. Marshall and his three negro sailors were below. Mr. Marshall was on deck attending to taking in sail, arranging lights and establishing the night watches, when lightning struck the rigging. The force of the shock was so great that Mr. Marshall and his three sailors were thrown across the deck rendered senseless, remaining so for some minutes.

A lighted lantern in Mr. Hazell's hand was extinguished, as were all of the lights upon the boat. Everyone was greatly frightened, but no one was seriously hurt. The strange part of the whole affair was that not a mark was left upon any part of the boat, and no damage was done.

Mr. Hazell, in describing the affair, said: "If six cannons had been fired simultaneously on the deck there could have been no more noise, no greater concussion, and no more smoke than was caused by the lightning." He added that the whole of the vessel was filled with a dense smoke which had just the smell of smoke from gunpowder."

Officers Installed.

There was an installation of officers in Salisbury Lodge No. 55 K. of P., in the Castle Hall on Dock Street on Thursday evening July 3. The installation was conducted by Dept. Grand Chancellor E. A. Toadvine assisted by the following who acted as Grand Lodge officers under appointment from Dept. Toadvine. Vice Chancellor, Dr. E. W. Humphreys; Prelate, O. B. Cooper; M. at Arms, W. E. Birmingham.

The installed officers were: Chancellor Commander, Chas. E. Booth; Vice Chancellor, L. Atwood Bennett; Prelate, W. Arthur Kennedy; Master at Arms, H. Winter Owens; Master of Work, Geo. W. Bell; Inner Guard, Frank Johnson; Outer Guard, S. J. R. Holloway.
Chancellor Booth, who was re-elected to the executive chair of the lodge was presented a Past Chancellor's jewel properly inscribed, the presentation speech being made by L. Atwood Bennett.

These ceremonies were followed by a banquet at which the knights were made comfortable by ices, cakes, etc.
Salisbury Lodge is in a flourishing condition, having conferred the degree of knighthood upon about thirty candidates within the past six months.

Eczema

How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales!

Some people call it tetter, milk crust or salt rheum.
The suffering from it is sometimes intense; local applications are resorted to—they mitigate, but cannot cure.
It proceeds from humors inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

News is the truth concerning men, nations and things. That is, truth concerning them which is helpful, or pleasant, or useful, or necessary for a reader to know.

—The secret of success lies in judicious advertising.

—Don't forget that we have the best equipped job office in the county.

—St. Peter's P. E. Sunday School will give their annual excursion to Ocean City, Tuesday, July 29th.

—Mr. L. W. Gunby has received his new boat Juno. This is one of the noblest gasoline yachts that ever graced the waters of Wicomico River.

—Capt. Geo. W. Kennerly was recently appointed watchman at the South Salisbury crossing, and entered upon his new duties this week.

—Col. Lemuel Malone delivered his lecture, "Eminent Men and Women of the Peninsula," at Mardela Springs Friday evening, and will deliver the same at Sharptown this Saturday evening.

—Bishop Adams will be in Salisbury tomorrow, Sunday, and will hold services in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church both morning and evening at the usual hours, eleven and eight o'clock respectively.

—Masters Frank J. Adams, William Perry, Ralph Grier and others have fitted up a lawn tennis court adjoining Mr. Adams' residence on Division Street. This is healthful exercise and will afford the boys much pleasure.

—Messrs. Gordy and Disharoon lost a valuable mule this week. A man fell in a woods near Salisbury carelessly let a tree fall across the mule's back which resulted in injuries from which it died several days later.

—Parties desiring a good, safe investment for small sums of money with a high rate of interest write us for particulars. A resident solicitor wanted. Pennsylvania Improvement & Investment Co., 703 Baer Building, Reading, Penn.

—A party of the golf enthusiasts of Salisbury journeyed to Ocean City last Monday, and, after playing at the Country Club there, were generous in their praise of the Ocean City links. A tournament is to be arranged later between Salisbury and Ocean City.

—The vestry of St. Peter's P. E. Church of this city has extended a call to Rev. David Howard of Trappe, Talbot county. We understand that Mr. Howard's congregation are offering him every inducement to remain and that his acceptance of the call to St. Peter's is very doubtful.

—Mr. Woodland Phillips of Howard county, a former resident and teacher of this county, was in Salisbury last Saturday. He had been to Ocean City to attend the State Teachers Association. Mr. Phillips is secretary and examiner for Howard.

—Mr. Glen Perdue recently purchased of Mr. W. Jeff Stator his lot in Camden opposite the Fitch property. The lot has a frontage on Camden Ave. of 231 feet and is 528 feet deep. Mr. Jos. L. Bailey purchased the adjoining lot of Mr. W. A. Ennis.

—A carriage horse belonging to Mr. Charles J. Birchhead died last Sunday at John C. Lowe's boarding stable. It was found about 4 o'clock Sunday morning down in its stall, suffering apparently from some nervous trouble from which it could not be relieved. Mr. Birchhead had purchased the horse only a few days before.

—Mr. George C. Hill has purchased of Mr. O. J. Schneck the lot and building on Water Street known as the "Hotel Orient." Mr. Hill is to have possession of the property next June when he will move his undertaking business into it. A part of the lower floor has been used by the school board, for a few years, as school rooms for some of the primary grades of the Salisbury public schools.

—The County Commissioners spent the greater part of the official day last Tuesday discussing delinquent taxes and delinquent tax-collectors. They have arrived at the conclusion that all old tax accounts must be settled. The Board will be in session again Tuesday, July 29d. The Orphans Court will also be in session that day.

—Work on the Methodist Protestant Church improvements has begun. This week the workmen dug up in the church yard, near Mr. Levin R. Dorman's fence, a grave which must have been very old. There was nothing left of the remains except a few bones and the teeth and the bricks had almost crumbled. Mr. Dorman says he does not remember ever having seen a grave there.

—Mr. Thos. H. Mitchell commenced work this week on addition to the Salisbury Shirt Factory. It will be brick two stories high, and 88x136 feet. The first floor will be used as a cutting department and on the second floor about 100 more sewing machines will be installed. The space now occupied as cutting department will be occupied as a packing department. About 100 more persons will be employed when all the improvements are completed.

—There will be a festival at Royal Oak M. P. Church, Quantico circuit, Saturday, July 12, (today) Come and have a good time.

—The churches and Sunday Schools of Parsonsburg circuit will make an excursion to Ocean City on Wednesday, July 23rd.

—Help to swell the High School piano fund by patronizing the lawn fetes, Wednesday and Thursday, July 16 and 17.

—The members and friends of Mt. Pleasant M. P. Church near Athol, will hold a festival Saturday, July 19th. Should the weather be inclement that date, it will be held the following Tuesday.

—Mrs. Maggie Hill Jones, wife of Rev. Richard C. Jones and sister of Rev. C. A. Hill of this city, died in La Grange, Indiana, on Friday, June 28, of cancer of the liver. The remains were brought to Wilmington, Del., for interment.

—A London medical journal chronicles the successful grafting of a new set of eyelids on a man, who had been robbed of the originals by fire. The skin was taken from his thigh and the new lids are said to work with all the perfection of the natural ones.

—Mr. S. P. Woodcock and family entertained about twenty five of their friends at their farm two miles from Salisbury on the Fourth of July. The day was delightfully spent in games and fire works, luncheon was served on the lawn at two o'clock.

—Princess Anne has gone base ball mad. The club has so far won every game except one and the enthusiasm is at a high pitch. The team has the following yell which is a feature of the game.

Hipty-hop, Hipty hop,
Who's on top? who's on top?
Princess Anne, Princess Anne.

—A Baltimore woman was tricked into marrying another woman under the belief that the other one was a man. The curious part of the affair is that the deceived woman was a widow, and widows are generally supposed to recognize a woman from a man on sight. If woman can, therefore, blind even widows, what chance has a poor man against her wiles?

—Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Owens of Baltimore, formerly well-known residents of this county, accompanied by Mrs. Truman Watson, the wife of a wealthy land owner of Anne Arundel county, have been visiting Mrs. Emory Humphreys, near Hebron. Wednesday the entire party left for a week's sojourn at Ocean City whence they will go to Atlantic City for an indefinite period.

—The classes of the Salisbury High School will hold lawn parties on the Division Street lot opposite Asbury M. E. Church, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, July 16 and 17. The grounds will be electrically illuminated and the Fire Department band will furnish music. Proceeds to be added to the piano fund. All those who advocate music in the schools are urged to give all possible help to this cause. All the popular flavors of the best cream, ices, frozen fruits, cake, and fancy homemade candies will be on sale.

Death of Mrs. Mary E. Crisfield.
Mrs. Mary E. Crisfield, widow of Hon. John W. Crisfield, of Princess Anne, died at her residence, Edge Hill, on the suburbs of Princess Anne, Wednesday night at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Crisfield had been an invalid for several years, and at the time of her death was in her seventy-ninth year. She is survived by six children—Mrs. Samuel K. Dennis, of Beverly, Md.; Misses Mary and Louise Crisfield, of Princess Anne, Md.; Misses Ellen and Carrie Crisfield, of Portland, Maine, and Mr. John W. Crisfield, of Pittsburg, Pa. Judge Henry Page, of Princess Anne, and Mr. Arthur Crisfield, of Washington, are stepsons of the deceased. Mrs. Crisfield was a daughter of the late General Handy and a half sister of Mrs. William H. Gale, of Princess Anne.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

You may say I am safe from all of them and happy. You may not be as safe as you think for. The heat of summer causes organic matter to decay everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment one hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned and thrown out of order, sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. The proper thing to do is to use Truitt's Cholera Mixture, the only reliable, safe remedy because it cures diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cramp colic, etc.

Thoroughgood's Clothing Has Made a Hit This Season

Why has Thoroughgood's Clothing made such a hit this season? Because his Clothes are the best made by anybody and the best sold by anybody. Thoroughgood's Hats have made a hit this season. Why? Because they are the best Hats made in the world. Who are they made by? Jno. B. Stetson. Thoroughgood's Shirts have made a hit this season. What shirts are they? The Manhattan and Emery—the best in the world. Thoroughgood's Neckwear has made a hit this season. Who's is it? Fred Walton's—that's sufficient for Neckwear. Thoroughgood's Underwear for men has made a hit this season. Who's, did you say? It's made in France and called "Bon-Bon." Thoroughgood's Collars and Cuffs have made a hit this season. Did you say whose are they? Earl & Wilson's and the Arrow Brand, made by Cluett, Peabody & Co., Troy, N. Y. Just think of it—Cluett, Peabody & Co. employ more people manufacturing Arrow Brand Collars & Cuffs than the population of Salisbury, and Lacy Thoroughgood is the only man in Salisbury that sells the Arrow Brand. Who sells Sykes and Ab. Kirshbaum's boys' and children's Clothing? Why, Lacy Thoroughgood does. Why, they have the reputation of being the best boys' and children's Clothing house in New York. That's so. Why, people, competition can't touch Thoroughgood when it comes to good goods, cheap, that's a fact. But Thoroughgood bought too many of these goods this season and is now compelled to sell them for what he can get. Now's your chance to buy the best goods made for a cheap price, Lacy Thoroughgood is anxious to sell goods for men and boys to wear. Within the next four weeks it must occur to you that the splendid bargains that Lacy Thoroughgood will turn loose will be remarkable. Prepare for the campmeetings. If you want Clothing or Hats. If you want Shirts, Collars or Cuffs. If you want Hats or if you want anything to wear. Come It is an old axiom that has almost become a proverb in this community "That if you want to buy good goods, go to Thoroughgoods."

Eat and Run.

There isn't a man who would be seen running through the street munching a piece of pie. Why not? Because it would mean dyspepsia and stomach trouble? Not at all; but because it wouldn't look well. As a matter of fact many a business man snatches a lunch in such a hurry that he might as well take it on the run. That is one reason for the prevailing "stomach trouble" among men of business.

There is a certain remedy for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The worst cases of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach have been cured by this medicine. It cures where all other means have failed to cure.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carnes, Esq., of Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't know how to say more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, and how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. Am now glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They stimulate the sluggish liver, and cleanse the system of impurities. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, July 6.—An inspiring and picturesque view of the Christian life of service and self denial is presented by Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage in this discourse on the text Psalm cxvii, 6, "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Almost every home is adorned with companion pictures. If upon one side of the room there is hung a crucifixion scene, upon the other side of the room we want a picture of "The First Easter Morn." If upon one side we see the wayward boy gathering all together and taking his journey into a far country, upon the other side we want to see the returning prodigal being welcomed home by a forgiving father. If upon one side of the room we hang a picture of the twilight, upon the other side we want to see the picture of the dawn. If John Hevenden paints "The Breaking of the Home Ties," he feels that his life would be incomplete unless he also paints "The Bringing Home of the Bride." John Milton's "Paradise Regained" is a natural outgrowth of his "Paradise Lost." Dante's "Heaven" is a natural sequence to his "Purgatory" and his "Hell."

So this morning the sermon which I preach from the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Psalm of David is a companion sermon to the one recently delivered upon the text, "He that soweth to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption." It has a companion text chosen on account of its vivid contrast. The text is selected to prove that the Christian sower has a right to expect his gospel harvest fields to be stacked high with golden sheaves of many blessings, to expect his seed to bring forth some thirty, some sixty and some a hundred fold. It is the picture of a Christian worker garnering the sheaves of his Christ love. It is the symbol of reward, the symbol of glorified hope and joy. It is the sweeter text because in it we hear the triumphant songs of heaven instead of the bitter sobs of despair.

A precious sheaf, garnered by the Christian sower and reaper, is the joyful realization that by his personal acts he has been made the human means in the divine hands through which immortal souls have been saved by Christ. There is a natural desire in almost every human heart to help those who are in trouble and who cannot help themselves.

The Desire to Help Others.
If the lookout sights a shipwrecked vessel, the captain does not have to compel unwilling sailors to lower the lifeboat and pull away to save the perishing. No. All that the mate has to do is to call for volunteers, and, though the sailors may feel the waves are having their worst fit of temper, they will lower the lifeboat and pull away until the last man is taken from the doomed ship. When the little band of English men, women and children were imprisoned, during the Indian mutiny, in the residency of Lucknow, Havelock, with his few regiments, had to fight his way through a hundred thousand men. He had to march a thousand miles through a country swarming with cutthroats, and when the English soldiers' courage and strength showed signs of wavering Havelock roused them with this simple sentence: "Men, would you dare stop or turn back when helpless women and children are dying and must be saved?" There is in almost every man's heart a desire to help those who cannot help themselves. The same kind of a desire that drove Henry M. Stanley into the dark continent to rescue David Livingstone and Emin Pasha. The same kind of a desire which made Commander Schley turn his ships' prow northward to rescue the arctic explorer Greely and his companions. It is the same kind of desire which inspired the United States government to declare war against Spain in behalf of suffering and bleeding Cuba.

Now, as joy is nothing more or less than the pleasant emotion produced in the heart by the gratification of any desire, as we have shown in reference to the physical man, that the desire to help those who are helpless is implanted in almost every heart, what greater joy could come to the Christian reaper than the realization that he has been made instrumental in the saving of a soul? What earthly joy can be compared to the holy exultation that comes to us when we realize that by prayers and pleadings we have been able to bring a sinner face to face with Christ? What greater joy than to realize that our humble efforts have been blessed to the saving of a soul which will live on and on through the coming ages, and on and on through eternities, and on until at last the lights of the stars shall be snuffed out and time shall be no longer? Only the other day I read of a man who, at great personal risk to himself, was lowered by a rope from the top of a twelve story building in order to rescue a little kitten which had fallen into one of the rain gutters. If a man could find joy in risking his life to save a kitten from starvation, surely there must be infinite joy to the Christian heart when he realizes that not one, but many, immortal souls have been won to Christ and to eternal safety and happiness through his efforts, which God has so richly blessed.

So, on account of this transcendent joy, we find that soul saving has become a passion with some men. Just as the mechanic's wife, who has a little back yard, digs and plants and hoes and hovers over her gardens because she loves flowers and never tires of her beds filled with pansies and sweet peas and geraniums and narcissus and nasturtiums, so the true Christian loves men and women in order to win them to Christ. The city missionary goes down into the back alley for this one purpose. He climbs the dark tenement. There he finds a drunken husband and father, and as the city missionary looks upon that loathsome, filthy mass of human corruption he says to himself: "If I can only plant the gospel seed in that man's heart, it may save him. Yes, by the help of God, it will save him." And, as the mechanic's wife cares for her flowers, so that missionary cares for that soul diseased by sin. He prays with the sinner; he reads the Bible to him. After awhile the man confesses Christ and signs the temperance pledge. Then the city missionary helps this man, who was once enslaved by sin, to find work. Then he sees him bring his wages home. He sees him buy shoes for his children's feet and food for the table. Then he sees those children sent to the day schools and gathered into the Sunday schools. Then after awhile the city missionary sees the father, with his wife and children, all standing before the mercy seat and joining the church, and as the missionary's eyes fill with tears he says, "He is saved!" By the power of the Holy Spirit not only one soul, but a whole family of immortal souls, are saved. Ah, there is no joy on earth like the rapturous joy of soul saving! It is one of the most precious sheaves ever garnered by the Christian worker. My brother, if you have not this passion for saving souls you have not yet been blessed with the holiest joy of which the human heart can conceive.

Another precious sheaf that is garnered by the Christian reaper is the gratitude of those whose immortal souls he has been able, by the power of the Holy Spirit, to win to Christ. No true Christian has a right to swerve one inch from the path of rectitude in order to win the approbation of his fellow men. He should be willing to do his full duty under all conditions. No matter what obstacles may confront him, he should be willing to draw the plumb line of principle and go straight ahead whether he is praised or blamed, loved or hated, honored or despised.

But when a Christian worker can sow the good seed and not only gather for Christ a harvest of immortal souls, but gather also the gratitude and love of those whom he has been able, by the power of the Holy Ghost, to lead to salvation, the reward of that love is very sweet. It is as sweet as the attention which Mr. D. L. Moody used to shower upon a little old woman, popularly called Mother Cook, whose prayers were the means of giving to Mr. Moody a spirit filled life—a little old woman whom perhaps you have never heard of, yet a woman whom the whole Christian world ought to love on account of the work she has done. It is as sweet as the affection which a Sunday school scholar gives to his teacher because that teacher has led him to Christ. It is as sweet as the look of gratitude which the dying man turns upon one who has pointed him to the cross and to divine pardon. It is as sweet as the affection which a child showers upon a mother's life, an affection which is developed not alone from the temporal care which she devotes to the child, but also from the spiritual care, whereby she has been able to put her child's hand into the hand of a loving Christ.

The Heart Like a Gem.
Like the sensitive opal when it comes into contact with the living hand, the heart of the believer is made to glow when it feels the warm love and gratitude of those whom it has led into the spiritual newness of life. The story is told that a celebrated New York jeweler purchased in Europe a magnificent collection of gems. When he returned home, he arranged these stones in a cabinet and invited some of his closest friends to inspect them. When his friends entered the room, he pointed to the cabinet and said: "These, gentlemen, is the richest collection of gems, I believe, in all this land. There is nothing like it in value anywhere." The friends were in raptures over the sight. In the cabinet were pearls and amethysts and diamonds and rare stones of all sorts. It seemed as though the richest treasures of the noted peacock throne of India, which was worth $90,000,000, had been selected for this collection. But in the midst of all these beautiful jewels was one which looked like an unshiny pebble. "Why do you place such a dull, hideous looking, pebble-like stone as that among those costly gems?" asked one of the visitors. The host answered not a word. He unlocked the cabinet, took out the pebble-like stone and held it in the palm of his closed hand. Just as the guests were about to leave, the host said: "Let me show you the richest and rarest stone of all my treasures." He opened his hand, and there upon the palm was a stone which glowed like a live coal. It was such a brilliant stone that every guest uttered an exclamation of surprise. "Where did you get it?" they cried. "We have never seen the like of it before." "That stone is the rarest I have," answered the jeweler. "That is the unshiny pebble you saw a few moments ago in the cabinet. That is a sensitive opal, which has been warmed into what looks like a live coal by the heat of my blood."

The true Christian sower ought to be ready to sow the good seed under all conditions, no matter whether he is praised or blamed, honored or despised, but when he does begin to gather his harvests he will not only reap the sheaf of joy which comes from the realization that he has won some soul, but he will also reap the gratitude and the love of those whom he has brought to Christ through his instrumentality. This love and gratitude will transform the jewel of his heart into a glowing gem, aflame with life, which shall glow like the richest jewel that ever flashed in the crown of a king.

The Sheaf of Contentment.
Another precious sheaf which is garnered by the Christian reaper is the sheaf of contentment, the willingness to live happily in that field of life in which he has been placed by God. If a man does not mingle with the poor and the troubled, the sick and the suffering, he never fully realizes how good and kind and loving God has been to him. If a man does not visit the sickroom and try to carry there comfort and good cheer to the wan invalid, he never fully appreciates the blessings of health unless perhaps he himself has been carried into a hospital. Then, while recovering from a serious sickness, he has seen intense sufferings and agonies such as may be witnessed in almost every ward of a large hospital. If a man has never entered a home where diphtheria has played havoc with the nursery or where consumption has made the young mother cough her life away, he never fully appreciates the blessings of having his children and wife by his side. If a man has not tried to carry the gospel to the outcasts and the vile, he has never yet realized the blessing of being born in a Christian cradle and surrounded by a Christian childhood. Ah, the Christian sower who scatters the good seed upon the troubled sea of restless humanity, while he may be carrying a blessing to others he is also planting in his own heart the seeds of gratitude to God and of contentment with his own sphere of life.

My brother, you are unhappy. Will you let me end your despondency? Well, then, go first and buy a few flowers at the nearest florist's. "Oh," you answer, "I cannot afford to buy any flowers." Yes, you can, my brother. You can buy all the flowers I want for the money you would spend upon cigars during the next week. Then I want you to go with me for a pastoral call into the young man's room who broke down physically and who is going to die. Do you know what is the matter with him? He broke down from overwork. His life's desire was to enter the Christian ministry. He used to clerk during the day and send most of his money home to help support his father's family. Then he used to study at night. His clothing was very poor, his food was poor, and yet if you will go into that sickroom and carry those flowers you will find tears of joy coming into his grateful eyes; you will hear him say that, though the greatest ambition of his life was to preach the gospel, yet God knows best! Then he will plead with you to take his place. My brother, you had a father to send you through college; you had kind friends to help; you have everything for which to be thankful to God, yet the greatest lesson of contentment you will ever learn is when you cast those few flowers into the grateful fountain of that dying boy's tears.

My sister, you are fretting on account of the children. You say it keeps your needle going night and day to put dresses upon the girls. You complain that the boys never seem to care whether or no they wear holes in the knees of their stockings and pants. Sister, I want you to make up a lunch basket, filled with delicacies. I will lead you to a home where a young mother has just lost her baby. That baby was an idiot. He had water upon the brain. Yet, as you go into the sickroom of the weak mother, you will hear her say: "Oh, Mr. Talmage, I did love him so much! The doctors said he never would be bright. But he was all I had. I did love my baby so much!" And after you have gone there with me you will stop your complaining and faultfinding and return to your home and love your little ones as you have never loved them before. Yes, one of the most precious sheaves the gospel reaper ever gathers is the sheaf of contentment, the sheaf of gratitude to God for his many, many blessings.

Plant Uplifting Seeds.
Another precious sheaf which is garnered by the Christian sower is the joyful realization that the results of his seed planting will never die as long as the world lasts. As we have before said, one seed properly planted will produce many seeds. Those seeds which are produced by the one seed in turn will produce many other seeds. And these in their turn will produce many seeds more. So a Christian's earthly influence does not cease at the grave, but will multiply for good as long as the world lasts. It will go on increasing until the seas have been licked up and the mountains and the valleys have been cremated in the last conflagration.

Dr. Louis A. Banks tells how Rev. Dr. Valpy wrote four simple lines for his confession of faith. They went thus:
In peace let me resign my breath
And thy salvation see;
My sins deserve eternal death,
But Jesus died for me.
Dr. Valpy gave a copy of those lines to Dr. Marsh, the rector of Beckenham, who had them placed over his study desk. The Earl of Roden was visiting Dr. Marsh one day and asked him for a copy. A short time after this General Taylor, a hero of Waterloo, was visiting the Earl of Roden and he took a copy of those lines and was by him led to Christ. General Taylor in turn gave a copy of those lines to a soldier-friend of his, and he also was converted. Thus the good seed which Dr. Valpy sowed many years ago has kept on through generation after generation, multiplying for good a hundredfold.

And today perhaps by my repeating those lines some one here may be converted by them.

My father once told of a chain of influence more wonderful to hear even than the story of Dr. Valpy as showing the results of gospel seed planting. He started with a poor woman giving a simple gospel tract to a passerby. That tract brought this young man to Christ. This young man wrote a book. That book was blessed of the Holy Spirit and brought thousands upon thousands into the kingdom, among others Richard Baxter, who wrote "Saints' Rest." That book in turn brought thousands upon thousands into the kingdom of God. Among other converts were this man, that man and the other man who in turn all wrote books which had blessed results. So there was developed a harvest of thousands of souls, all the direct results of one simple seed planting, the result of one poor unknown woman giving a gospel tract to a young man who was passing by. So the results of the good seed which the gospel sower sows will never die as long as this old world lasts.

The Eternal Harvest Home.
But the most precious sheaf garnered by the Christian sower and reaper is the joyful realization that all the harvests which result from all the different Christian plantings shall be gathered at last into the granaries of heaven. It matters not how many immortal men and women and children may be saved, nor whether they are rich or poor, black or white, Jew or gentile, Protestant or Catholic, they shall all find room for themselves in heaven. All who will accept Christ and throw themselves upon his pardon and love can come. The sower of the gospel seed might hesitate to cast the bread of life upon the troubled sea of sin if he thought the gospel invitation was to be in any way circumscribed. But it is not. The invitation is so wide that it takes in all who are ready to be cleansed of sin. The invitation is so wide that the welcome comes from every direction. "The Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say come. And whosoever will let him take the water of life freely." That surely is a broad enough invitation for all.

And what a harvest home that will be when all the gospel sheaves shall be gathered into the granaries of heaven! The rejoicing will be everywhere. Some of us have seen the noted picture of the painter Seifert, called "The Harvesters' Return." We have seen there the joyful looks upon the faces of the men and the women who have been working in the fields. Perhaps we ourselves have lived in the country. We have shared in the joy of the laborers when the last sheaf of wheat has been taken to the thrashing floors, but the joy of the earthly harvest home is as nothing compared to the heavenly joy when all the gospel sheaves shall be gathered into the heavenly granaries. Fathers and mothers and children, they will all be there. Brothers and sisters, they shall be there. Husbands and wives, friends and loved ones, they shall be there. From the north, the east, the south and the west of the heavenly lands will be heard the cry: "Harvest home, harvest home, harvest home! This is the eternal harvest home!"

But to his toll he goes,
His seed with weeping leaves,
But he shall come at twilight's close
And bring his golden sheaves.
Now, as the gospel sower who casts his bread upon the waters shall reap such glorious harvests, shall we not redouble our energies and plant as many good seeds as we can for Christ? Shall we not do as much good as we can in the few years that remain for us? Shall we not thank God that he has given to us an opportunity to work and to live for him? Shall we not find our joy and reward in sowing and in scattering our gospel seed over the field of sin, in scattering our good deeds over the great troubled sea of humanity?

To show what rewards can come from casting the seeds abroad the story is told that in the far east a father lay dying. He called to his bedside his five boys and told them that he had nothing to leave them but his farm, but that in the fields of that farm was buried a very rich treasure, and if they wanted to become rich they should go and dig the fields until they found it. So after the father was buried the five boys took their spades and picks and plows and went to work. They dug the fields up far and near; they dug them very deep; they dug them over and over again, but they could not find the treasure. As they had dug the fields so deep, the boys decided to plant them. Then, when the harvests came and were gathered and sold and the money filled the family treasury, the boys began to think. They said to themselves, "Perhaps, after all, the rich treasure which our father had promised us has been dug up by our spades and plows." Their treasure came not in the gold quarried from a dark mine, but in the minted gold of a wheat sheaf. So Christ, like the dying father, bids us find our gospel treasures by casting the good seed into the ground, by scattering it upon the sea of sinful humanity. Then we shall reap the golden harvests which shall be garnered in the granaries of heaven.

Would that we all might be willing to go forth to this gospel planting! Would that we all might get our hearts in touch with Christ, so that we might consecrate our lives for the mighty work of spreading the gospel and for gathering in a harvest of never dying souls! This is no idle hope I offer to you. The sacred word emphatically says that, if any Christian sower goeth forth bearing precious seed he shall come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him at the earthly and heavenly harvest home.

Your Hair

"Two years ago my hair was falling out badly. I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and soon my hair stopped coming out." Miss Minnie Hoover, Paris, Ill.

Perhaps your mother had thin hair, but that is no reason why you must go through life with half-starved hair. If you want long, thick hair, feed it with Ayer's Hair Vigor, and make it rich, dark, and heavy.

25¢ a bottle. All druggists. If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

ONE THIRD OFF !! For 30 Days Only

At E. Lachman's Bargain Store, 218 Main Street.

We have sold more clothing this season than we expected. The reason is because we gave better goods for less money than any other store in Salisbury. We are new dealers in Salisbury, but our trade grows every day. People will always find out at last.

It is late in the season. We don't care to keep stock over until next season (as other stores do to sell you a little cheaper.) We need the cash. We will give you a chance for only 80 days at one third off the regular price. They must go at any price.

Men's suits in fine black and blue worsted, fancy and plain, we have sold for $12, other stores sold at $15, our price now is only $8.00.

Men's fine cheviot and cassimers, all colors, regular price, $7.00, our price now is only $4.65.

Young men's suits, finest goods, and made to sell for $4.50, our price now only $3.00.

Come to see our line of Boys Clothing we will sell at the lowest prices.

Come one! Come all! Examine our goods. Camp meeting starts up soon. Come to see us. We will dress you for a little money.

We also have a big line of hats, shoes & Gents furnishing which we will sell now at the lowest prices.

LOCAL Correspondence

NEWS FROM ALL SECTIONS OF WICOMICO SENT IN BY THE ADVERTISER'S REPRESENTATIVES.

SHARPTOWN

L. T. Cooper is confined to his bed this week with an attack of malarial fever.

Capt. I. J. Gravenor of Camden, N. J. has been visiting his daughters, Mrs. Fred Bounds and Mrs. Wilber Taylor, this week. He was a former resident of this town but has not been here for ten years.

Mr. I. J. Phillips of Camden, N. J. visited relatives and friends in town last week.

Ned R. Bounds spent several days last week in Washington, D. C. and Alexandria, Va.

Miss Lizzie M. Twiford, a former teacher of this county, but recently a teacher in Cooperstown, N. Y. is visiting her relatives and many friends in this town. She is accompanied by Miss Minnie Fowler, daughter of Mrs. Charles F. Fowler of Cooperstown, a sister of Miss Twiford.

Hamilton Smiley, colored, died this week in the rural district in Sandomingo at the age of 102. He was a slave in the family of John W. Taylor.

The Fourth passed off very quietly here. A match game of baseball was played between Sharptown and Gales-town which resulted in favor of Sharptown. The most interesting feature of the day was the gasoline yacht race between the two yachts, Worcester and W. H. Whiting. The race was on Sharptown wharf to Twifords wharf and from there to Truitts and from there back to Sharptown.

Levi L. Brown, colored, died near here last month of consumption aged about 85 years. He was for several years a teacher in this county, having by his own effort, acquired a fair education. About four months ago his wife, who was the daughter of Rev. Timothy Kane, lost her reason and was sent to Spring Grove Asylum and still remains there, but little improved. Two small children survive.

Mrs. William J. Phillips and children of Camden are visiting relatives and friends here.

W. D. Gravenor & Bro. have just completed a very pretty sign board for W. T. Darby to be placed on his wharf at Riverton.

L. T. Cooper, School Commissioner attended the State Teachers Association at Ocean City last week.

The privileges of the Union M. P. Campmeeting to be held near here August 8 were sold two weeks ago. John S. Cooper paid $72.50 for confectionery and Thomas H. Bennett $10 for horse pound. The boarding tent privileges have not yet been sold at either camp here.

QUANTICO

There will be no preaching service in Quantico next Sunday during the entire day. The pulpit of the M. E. Church will be vacant Sunday evening because the pastor, Rev. O. L. Martin, is obliged to attend the Children's Day service at Wetipquin M. E. Church on the same evening.

Mr. Geo. A. Bounds is making improvement to his already comfortable residence at the end of Main Street in the shape of a handsome porch, which extends around the house.

"The Fourth" passed very quietly in Quantico, there being no unusual demonstration. A game of ball being the only monotony breaker of the patriotic occasion. A few of our town's people spent the day at Ocean City.

Miss Daisy Boston who has been located in Virginia as milliner for Armstrong and Cator returned to her home in town Wednesday.

The Children's Day services at the M. P. Church on Sunday evening were of excellent quality and well-attended. Miss Myrtle Gordy directed the musical part of the programme.

Miss Annie Roberts of New York is visiting her mother, Mrs. Irving Kennerly this town.

The Misses Mae and Lucy Humphreys and Nellie Brady and Mr. Edmund Humphreys were entertained Sunday evening at supper at the home of Miss Mabel Bailey, this town.

Miss Nannie Taylor spent a few days of this week at the home of the Misses Brewington in Whayland.

BIVALVE

Mrs. C. G. Messick who has been sick for the past two weeks we are very glad to report is much improved at this writing.

We are very sorry to report Mrs. Adeline Dunn very ill. She left Monday last for Salisbury where she expects to undergo treatment at the Peninsula General Hospital.

The celebration given by the Order of United American Mechanics at the Odd Fellows grove Friday last proved to be quite a success, the attendance being one of the largest ever seen in this place. The speaking was very good and appropriate for the occasion. Music was most beautifully rendered by the Bivalve Cornet Band.

Miss Julia North of Baltimore is spending the summer with friends at this place.

Mr. C. G. Messick who spent Monday in Baltimore securing lumber for his long shaft business for the coming season, returned home Tuesday on the steamer Maggie.

The firm of Geo. D. Insley & Son have started up their crab industry. The firm expects to do larger business than in the past years. This is one of the most enterprising concerns of its kind in the country and gives employment to several hundred people.

Miss Mae Messick and Miss Effie Wilson of White Haven spent the Fourth at Bivalve.

Mr. E. M. Efford spent Saturday last at White Haven.

COLUMBIA

Miss Helen Phillips entertained at her home last Saturday evening quite a number of her many friends. Those present were Misses Radie Bradley and Hattie Bradley, of this place and Frona Bailey, Clara and Ethel Bradley of Sharptown, Messrs. Carl Bennett, Earl Cooper, Edward Donoho, W. J. Waller, Joseph Morris and Jack Phillips.

Mr. L. T. Cooper was in Georgetown on Wednesday.

After threshing wheat for several days we can say that a fair crop was realized.

As the Fourth is past our thoughts seem to be of camp meeting next, and we wish to say to our young men folks to be on the watch or some dude will have his best girl then he will realize that—The melancholy days have come The saddest of the year.

Misses Sallie and Crystal Horsey of near Laurel spent Sunday with Mrs. Frank Hitch.

Owing to the rainy weather last Sunday evening the programme that was prepared for Children's day service at Mt. Hermon was not rendered. The affair will be next Sunday evening and bids fair to be successful

These tickets will be good for return passage until September 10, inclusive, when executed by Joint Agent at destination and payment of 50 cents made for this service. Apply to Ticket Agents for additional information. 7-27

John B. Twiford.
On Thursday morning of last week John B. Twiford died at his residence in town at the age of 70 years, after a lingering illness of many months. He leaves an aged widow, his third wife, and several children by his first and second wives only, namely: James Twiford of the far West, Mrs. Louisa Higgins wife of Capt. J. R. Higgins of this town, Mrs. Cinda Phillips wife of I. J. Phillips of Camden, N. J., Mrs. Amanda Dennis wife of Algy Dennis, near Delmar. He also leaves two brothers, A. W. Twiford of near town and M. W. Twiford of Seaford, and one sister Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson of this town. He was a good substantial citizen, a faithful friend, stood high in the community in which he lived. He was one of the oldest members of the L. O. O. F. having joined the lodge more than fifty years ago. He was regular in his attendance and faithful in his fraternal obligations. He was buried with the honors of the order. His remains were taken to the M. E. church on Friday morning where funeral services were held by the Rev. E. H. Miller assisted by Rev. J. H. Johnson. A very affecting scene at the close of the service was that his invalid widow was rolled by the side of the coffin in an invalid's chair where she took the last look upon all that was mortal, of her faithful husband, with whom she had lived thirty three years. From the church the remains were taken to the family burying-ground on the Twiford place south-west of the town, accompanied by many Odd Fellows, relatives and friends.

He was a member of the M. E. Church for more than fifty years.

SALISBURY WINS CLOSE GAME.

Defeats Princess Anne in An Exciting Contest—Hearn and Dixon Both Pitch Good Ball.

The Salisbury and Princess Anne base ball clubs crossed bats at the new ball grounds in South Salisbury on Thursday afternoon. The crowd present was not as large as was expected but the three hundred faithful rooters were treated to a close and exciting contest. The game was decidedly on the "scrappy" order, quite a little vigorous kicking being indulged in.

Princess Anne went first to the bat and scored one run, putting the visitors in high glee. The home team in its half went the Somerset boys two better and before the inning was over had piled up three runs. The score stood three to one for several innings when Princess Anne came to the bat and succeeded in getting a man around the bases. Salisbury in her half, not to be out done, duplicated the feat. The score remained four to two until the visitors again came to the front and succeeded in tying it. It was at this stage of the game, in Salisbury's half, that the game came near being stopped owing to a rank decision by Dr. Norflett, the visiting umpire. Ulman, the first man up made a clean two bagger down third base line. The ball was fair by at least three feet but the Doctor said "foul" and then there was a mighty kick. After some ten minutes wrangling the home boys accepted the inevitable and again went to bat and proceeded to connect with Dixon's delivery in a very lively fashion. Before the inning was over two runs had been scored and the game clinched. The final score was 7 to 4.

With the exception noted above both umpires gave general satisfaction, Collier as usual being absolutely fair and impartial. The catching of Marine and the batting of Harmon for Salisbury and the short stop work of Lanford for Princess Anne were the features of the game.

It is hoped that an extended series can be arranged between the two clubs as the teams are very evenly matched. A number of gentlemen from Princess Anne accompanied their team to Salisbury.

GIRL WANDERS FROM HOME.

She Tells N. Y. Police She Is Stella Morris of Salisbury, Md.

New York, July 15.—New York and its sights described to a girl, who said she was Stella Morris, 16 years old, of Salisbury, Md., proved so attractive that she left her home yesterday morning early and came to this city.

In the afternoon Policeman Dorsey saw the girl wandering aimlessly along Amsterdam avenue near One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street. When he questioned her she said she lived in New York and had lost her way. Upon being further questioned, she said she had runaway from home in Salisbury to see the sights.

At the police station it was found that the girl had $20.40. She was detained for the night.

The police telegraphed to her parents to come for her.

A Novel Window Display.

In the large window of Ulman Son's furniture store is an advertising display of the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa. Sample textbooks, drawings, charts, models, drawing instruments, testimonials, etc., tell the story of these wonderful schools. Over 440,000 ambitious men and women have enrolled as students, about twenty being in this city. Everyone should read the card in the window "A Statement of Facts" as it gives one an idea of the immense work being done by this institution.

Mr. G. Somers White, Special Agent, and W. L. Haldy, local representative, are in charge and will cheerfully furnish catalogues or other information to any who may be interested.

Salisbury Versus Snow Hill.

A game of Ball has been arranged for next Tuesday in Salisbury at the new ball grounds. Snow Hill will be here with a strong team and our boys will have a hard struggle to win the game. Let everybody turn out to cheer the boys on to victory. The ladies are especially invited. Ample room will be reserved for their use in the grand stand.

HALF CROP PEACHES.

Mr. I. N. Mills' Annual Figures For The Fruit And Berry Crops On The Peninsula.

Reviewing the peach, pear and berry crops for the present year, former Superintendent Isaac N. Mills of the Delaware railroad says:

"There will be about one-half a crop of peaches, which means well for the growers. When there are too many peaches, the fruit becomes a glut on the markets, and poor prices are realized. Many are also allowed to rot on the trees, it not paying to ship them. With half a crop, there is not much danger of the above facts prevailing.

"All danger of June drop, &c., is past, and peaches now growing will surely ripen, unless something unforeseen at the present time occurs.

"Pears are growing in large quantities. Many of the fruit growers who tore up their peach orchards some years ago on account of the yellows are now successfully growing pears instead, and many of them are also planting new peach orchards, some of which will bear fruit this year for the first time.

"The Delaware railroad is carrying more berries this year than was ever known before. Most of them are of a superior quality, and are being shipped in refrigerator cars. They are hauled to the city markets looking as if just picked off the bushes. Good prices are being realized.

"Taken all in all, this year will be a banner year for many of the fruit growers of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland."

The figures received by Mr. Mills from the Delaware railroad and the branch roads show that there will be shipped over the different lines a crop of 2,351,460 baskets of peaches and 363,345 baskets of pears.

The two crops are divided as follows by the railroads of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland:

Peach estimate—Delaware railroad, 1,012,800 baskets; Queen Anne's & Kent 233,925; Delaware & Chesapeake, 886,915; Baltimore & Delaware Bay, 184,100; Cambridge & Seaford, 94,550; Delaware Maryland & Virginia (upper), 881,875; Delaware, Maryland & Virginia (lower) 57,295.

Pear estimate—Delaware Railroad, 173,425 baskets; Queen Anne's & Kent 43,125; Delaware & Chesapeake, 22,880; Baltimore and Delaware Bay, 95,800; Cambridge & Seaford, 3,974; Delaware, Maryland & Virginia (upper), 22,835; Delaware, Maryland & Virginia (lower), 1,785.

On the Wicomico.

Launch parties on the Wicomico river are becoming very popular, there being a number of gasoline launches owned here now. The warm evenings and beautiful moon light nights of the past week have proved very enticing to lovers of this pastime and a number of parties have enjoyed a run on Wicomico placid waters.

Mr. L. W. Gunby gave a fishing party, Thursday to a number of friends in his launch, Juno.

The Messrs Laws, Geo. R. Collier, W. E. Dorman and others made a trip to Patrick's Landing this week and served lunch on the river bank. The party spent a most delightful evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Toadvine gave a dinner party at White Haven Thursday to a number of their friends. This trip was also made in one of the gasoline launches.

Mr. Wade T. Porter also gave a launch party to a number of ladies and gentlemen last Monday evening.

Five O'clock Tea.

Mrs. E. E. Jackson and Miss Nellie Jackson entertained a large number of the society people of Salisbury last Tuesday afternoon at the Oaks, in honor of Mrs. N. H. Rider of Alabama, who is their guest. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Rider were assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. D. Toadvine. Those who assisted in entertaining their friends were, Mrs. Margaret Rider, Mrs. A. J. Vandergort, Miss Nellie Jackson, Mrs. Irving Blount, Miss Emma Powell, Miss Letitia Houston, Miss Nellie Fish and Miss Carrie Fish.

The dining room where the guests repaired during the afternoon was very tastefully decorated with large bowls of cut flowers and red shaded candelabra. About fifty called during the afternoon.

Notice!!!

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

One for the Colored Pupils of Salisbury to be started in September.

Other Schools in the County May Follow.

The School Board, at a session on Wednesday decided to open, in September, an Industrial School for the colored pupils of Salisbury, which may spread in a measure, in a few years to other sections of the county. The State provides a fund for Manual Training schools for the white pupils and an Industrial school for the colored pupils. Many counties in the State have instituted the Manual training departments and the results of last session were highly gratifying and it now looks as if Manual training is to be an established feature of our school work.

Last year Alleghany county made the experiment of a colored industrial school and the year's work gave evidence of much success. While the success is not as great as that attained by the whites, in one year's experimental work, yet it has been very encouraging and indicates that work along this line will prove of great benefit to the colored race.

In this county it is hoped to accomplish much for the colored pupils. To be sure progress will be likely slow, for a while, but it is certainly an advanced step and should be very encouraging to the colored people.

A colored teacher will be employed, who has had special collegiate as well as manual training education. There is a wide field in the industrial world for the colored youths of our county and they can be made more acceptable employees by training for the work and if this training is begun in childhood, far greater attainments can be made and there is always a demand for trained help in skilled work. This is one way of increasing the usefulness of the colored people in the community.

The training for industrial pursuits, and the general course of instruction in domestic economy in the new department should certainly result in much good.

FORMER SALISBURIAN DEAD.

Mr. L. Dix Warren Died At His Home At Onancock, Va.

The Salisbury friends of his family learned with sorrow of the death, this week, of Mr. L. Dix Warren at his home in Onancock, Va. He had been in declining health some months. A widow, who was Miss Emma Morris, a daughter of the late Warren Morris, of this county, and four daughters and two sons survive him. Mr. Warren's father was an elder in the Missionary Baptist Church and a member of a prominent Virginia family. When the war broke out between the North and the South Mr. Warren, then an ardent youth, filled with a patriotic love for his country, but bound by a still tenderer affection for that part of his country called the "South," because he was in it and of it and because he believed it to be right, took up arms in the South's defense and was with Lee when that great leader surrendered to Grant at Appomattox.

After the war was over Mr. Warren came to Salisbury and was for a time a business partner of the late A. G. Toadvine in the mercantile business. Later he returned to his native state, settling at Onancock where he was engaged in insurance at the time of his death. His wife and daughters are intimate personal friends of several prominent families of Salisbury.

Our "Boys in Green."

Washington, July 16.—The "boys in blue" will soon be but a memory.

The United States Army, from general to the lowest grade of enlisted man, must be newly uniformed by January 1, 1903, in accordance with regulations prescribed today by a general board, which makes important changes in the color and cut of the clothes worn by the service since the early years of its organization.

The famous dark blue is to be displayed in service dress for all officers and men by an olive green woolen suit, with hat to match and leggings nearly approaching that color. Olive green is not regarded as a pretty color for soldiers by the board, but it is claimed to be one of the best for concealing their presence at long distances. The cadet gray of the West Pointers was found to turn a dark black at a distance of 1,100 yards, and to be easily seen at greater distances. Red was not a good color, and olive green, the least aesthetic of all colors tried by the board, was adopted as the standard color of the soldier when he is in the field.

MORTGAGE BURNING IN SUSSEX.

Big And Profitable Berry Crops Put Sussex Farmers High Up.

The 1902 season for blackberries and raspberries closed in Sussex county last week, and it is estimated that the growers made at least twice the amount of money out of blackberries this season that they did the previous year. On the Fourth of July a delegation of growers met at Sand Hill camp ground and after spreading their table ate a big dinner together, after which they prepared for a mortgage burning which consisted of thirty two mortgages; these farmers made enough money this year out of their strawberry crop to lift most all their mortgages. That which was lacking was finished out of the black and raspberry crops.

The peach season is about on. The fruit is very fine this year and it is expected to bring good prices, as did the berry crop. There are a few white potatoes moving, but farmers are reluctant to dig on account of desiring to clean up with the black and raspberries, which will last a few days longer. It is estimated that about 800 cars of white potatoes will be shipped from Bridgeville. John T. Vandenberg has about fifty cars, and Layton & Owens will have nearly one hundred; Ellingsworth & Co. will have about one hundred, and several more commission men here expect a large quantity.

Bridgeville is known as all the fruit points as the largest fruit station in the United States, and surely this season has been the best paying year ever known. It would be hard to estimate how much the farmers would have made had there been a full crop of all kinds of fruit this year, however, they are all satisfied. The acreage next year will probably be double that of the present. The apple crop is the largest for many years, although this is the apple year for Delaware.

A Model Garden.

The writer's inherent love of Agriculture and Floriculture was much gratified a few evenings ago while walking through a well kept garden in this progressive town of ours. This garden was large, and the whole gamut of the vegetable kingdom runs through its boundaries, every available space being filled with Nature's products in a high state of cultivation.

Fruits also here abound, first and best are the peaches, trees heavy with the weight of luscious fruit, red and tempting, only waiting its transit from tree to hand, thence to mouth. Grape vines run almost the length of the garden with large, perfect clusters, showing absolute freedom from the ravages of insects.

Here are pears turning from green to gold. Along its walks run the hop vine, tansy, mint and thyme, and other herbs which make up a perfect kitchen garden. Flowers bud and blossom here; tall and stately lilacs; humble and sweet in their shady bed are lillies of the valley, while gorgeous sunflowers rear their bright heads above all save the high heads of corn in the field beyond.

This garden in its entirety is clean, the walks perfectly so, save where some trailing flower has escaped its bounds and run almost under foot. All this the writer saw in a model garden on Camden Avenue, and this garden is the especial care and credit of its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Dashiell.

Baltimore Ball Club Sold.

The Baltimore Base Ball Club was sold on Wednesday to Mr. Andrew Freedman, owner of the New York National League team. The players who have brought base ball glory to Baltimore will be no more seen in the Monumental City. Such stars of the diamond as McGraw, Kelley, McGinnity, Seymour and Robinson will re-enter the National League, and the prospects for good base ball in Baltimore for sometime to come are very slim. It is said another club will be placed there by the American League but the present indications are that it will be a second class team to fill out the balance of the season and that at the end of the season, Base Ball will temporarily disappear in Baltimore by its being dropped from the League.

WAITE ATTEMPTS MURDER.

Tries To Kill Deputy Sheriff Otwell—Thirteen Negroes Required To Get Him To His Cell.

William Waite, the crazy negro who caused a commotion among the colored people of Smyrna by his peculiar actions here, and who also stole a bicycle from Rev. Ellis of Kenton, later being arrested for attempting to kill a farmer near Laurel got on one of his tantrums in Georgetown jail, Friday morning where he is held upon a charge of murdering Mrs. Iida Collins near Laurel. Waite started in to clear out the whole jail. He began his operations early Friday morning by tying up an old handkerchief full of chips and telling his fellow prisoners that he had packed his grip and was ready to say good-bye now, as he had decided to leave the jail for good.

When one of the prisoners by the name of Cook, told him that he could not get out Waite became enraged and struck Cook a terrific blow, dazing him. Other prisoners got hold of Waite and forced him into the iron clad cell, at the same time sending for the sheriff. The sheriff being absent, his deputy, J. Bayard Otwell, was soon on the scene. Otwell told Waite that he would have to lock him up, but Waite refused to be locked up, and informed the deputy that he was not going to a cell then, or at any time. Otwell fearing trouble went out into the jail yard in order to remove the axe with which the prisoners had been cutting wood. As he was stooping to pick up the axe, Waite, who is a powerful negro, grabbed him from behind, without any warning, and made an attempt to jab him with a sharp stick of wood which he had picked up nearby.

Just at this instance, Clerk of the Peace James H. Wright appeared at the jail door, and realizing the danger in which the deputy was placed, rushed into the jail yard and with the assistance of James Baker, the warden, and the other prisoners, from whom Waite had escaped, but who had now come up, succeeded in breaking Waite's grip and freeing Otwell. Before this could be done, however, the other negro prisoners found it necessary to deal a quick succession of fist blows, which seemed to have about the same effect on Waite as they would have had on a rubber man.

PLACED IN A CELL.

Finally, by the sheer force of numbers, Waite was thrown to the ground and a pair of hand cuffs were snapped on him. Even thus handicapped, it required thirteen burly negroes to get him to his cell. By this time Waite was as bloody as a butchered hog. He will not be given the liberty of the jail yard any more. Deputy Sheriff Otwell considers himself very lucky to have escaped from his perilous position with life and limb. There is no doubt but what the negro would have killed Otwell had help not come just when it did. It was learned from the jail authorities that Waite is subject to the homicidal spell, and when he is in one of these he seems to have a burning desire to kill anybody and everybody that crosses his path.

Waite is a desperate character and while in Denton jail nearly killed one of the wardens. He is a stepson of Clayton Franklin, of Smyrna, and the Pinkerton detectives claim to have a confession from Waite that he killed Mrs. Collins, but it was proved that he was in Smyrna the day of the Laurel murder. If this man is released from jail after the next term of the Sussex Court he should be sent to Farnhurst at once.—Smyrna Call.

Tomato Pest.

A tomato grower being troubled last season by small flying insects becoming very numerous on his vines just after they were transplanted, asked what they were and what he could do to prevent its workings. The editor of Field and Farm says:

"This is evidently the flea-beetle, which attacks the young plants as soon as they are set and does much damage. Mix two quarts of air slaked lime and sift evenly over the plants, or spray with arsenite at the rate of one pound in 100 gallons of water. Air-slaked lime alone will do if applied often. If blight attacks the foliage, the plants should be sprayed with Bordeaux mixture."

"The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. No one can be well balanced in mind and body whose blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pure life unless the blood is pure. Foul blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the blood is pure, body and brain are alike healthy and life becomes a daily happiness.

Free—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sharptown Campmeeting.

The Sharptown Campmeeting to be held under the auspices of the M. E. Church will be open on Friday of this week. This is a beautiful grove on the suburbs of town, is easily accessible from every point. Roads intersect it on every side, but one, and a line of travel from the town is good. It is within a short distance of the steamboat wharves, and with several steamers on the river and the many gasoline yachts at nearly every landing it is expected that hundreds of people will attend the camp. Everything points to a large attendance. Neither labor or money have been spared to make the ground beautiful, comfortable and attractive.

A large auditorium has been built that will seat comfortably hundreds of people. Everything will be done for the highest comfort of man and beast, and everybody should avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting this historic camp ground.

Several pumps have been driven and the supply of good healthy water will be in abundance.

There are between forty and fifty cottages, all built in uniform breadth and height with shingle roofs, with a view of permanency. They have been handsomely finished with molding and fancy trimmings and many of them tastefully painted.

Below is a list of ministers who have been invited to be present:

Revs. A. W. Lightbourne, J. S. Willis, P. H. Rawlins, A. W. Goodhand, F. Cochran, J. L. Johnson, H. C. Turner, L. H. Willis, H. I. Johnson, A. W. Mather, T. E. Martindale, T. E. Terry, J. G. Foenoch, C. A. Hill, W. R. McFarland, Rev. Mr. Holt, Rev. Mr. Atkinson; Rev. Mr. Webster. Rev. E. H. Miller, the pastor has entire charge.

The following is a list of the families who will tent in the beautiful grove.

John Henry, James H. Morris, Geo. R. Fletcher, I. J. Phillips, Wm. J. Fletcher, E. R. Bennett, Samuel J. Fletcher, J. R. W. Higgins, W. S. Owens, I. H. Rider, W. B. Jones, Thos. L. Windsor, W. B. Robinson, E. H. Miller, Markee, W. J. Gravenor, C. J. Gravenor, B. P. Gravenor, John W. Robinson, E. Grant Bennett, M. A. Elzey, W. H. Knowles, Henry W. Phillips, George Gootee, Job W. Twiford, Arnold Elzey, James E. Twilley, James F. Marine, John R. Elzey, H. G. Elzey, J. W. Walker, Mrs. Annie Knowles, Adams & Bennett, John H. Bennett, William M. Cooper, Joseph T. Bailey, and two tents for the accommodation of the boarding tent guests.

Hacks will be run to and from town for the accommodation of the people. Able ministerial talent and every comfortable convenience necessary to make it a place of great pleasure and edification, will likely make the attendance large.

Services Satisfactory.

Profs. Charles H. LeFevre and D'Arcy P. Barnett have been re-elected Principal and Vice Principal of Cambridge High School. The services of both these gentlemen have been perfectly satisfactory to the trustees and their reelection to their respective positions was by the unanimous vote of all who took part in the election.—Cambridge Chronicle.

To Get Union Central Dividends You Must Insure in the Union Central.

Dividends in Life Insurance regulate the cost of the insurance. The company that pays the largest dividends furnishes the cheapest insurance. The company that combines the lowest death rate, the lowest expense rate, and the highest interest rate, pays the largest dividends. The Union Central excels all companies in these points. Nearly 80 per cent of the assets of the Union Central are invested in first mortgage securities, which, during 1901, earned 6.05 per cent. The average interest rate for twenty years is 6.65 per cent. The one particular advantage of mortgage loans as an asset of an insurance company is their non-fluctuating quality—a Wall street broker is not needed to value them.

An Annual Dividend Policy is the only contract which gives you the full benefits. You know every year just how your investment stands, and your profits are placed to your credit or given to you in cash.

For further argument in favor of the Union Central we refer you to the two letters which are herewith reproduced. One by Mr. B. H. Kroger, a banker and financier of Cincinnati, O., the other by Gen. J. S. Carr, banker and financier of Durham, N. C. Gen. Carr carries over a million dollars on his life.

SHEEP HUSBANDRY

F. B. Hartman, writing in Wool Markets and Sheep on "The Care of the Lamb From Birth to Weaning Time," says in part:

Much indeed could be written on this hackneyed but always important and interesting subject, but I will be as brief as possible without evading the most essential points. My aim is to have my eyes in the best possible condition at the time of weaning. By best condition I do not mean that they shall be in a fat state nor do I mean that they shall be poor, but just between and between. When in this condition, if the ewes have been properly mated, we have an assurance of a good, strong increase. If possible, just as soon as the lamb is dropped, I separate mother and lamb from the balance of the flock until I am sure the lamb has gained strength enough to hold his own in the flock. I take care of them at this stage and see that no fifth graders and that the lamb gets started properly. As soon as the lamb shows that he is desirous to eat something, which will be in a few days, I prepare a creep of some description and begin to feed them by themselves. You will have only to give them a few lessons as to the way of entering their lunch-room, for they are apt scholars and learn rapidly. The bill of fare in the way of grain consists of oats, oilmeal or whatever in this line of feed is most convenient. I give the little fellows just what they will eat up clean. I feed twice a day, morning and evening. I like to have a rape patch for the youngsters and their dams as soon as is possible in the spring. I wish to say that feed given to ewes will not prove detrimental to the lamb. I never like to be stingy with succulent rations, and it is prudent to have a variety of such. As to castrating and docking, I will say little, as most every one has a good way of his own, but I will say castrate as early as possible after the lamb has gained strength. Dip the ewes and lambs in early spring. It will not do them any great injustice to dip them again in the fall. A little condition powder fed occasionally will prove beneficial, but this should not be fed to excess. Constant care, regular feeding and cleanliness are my rule of management.

Sheep Men Buying Greyhounds.
 The sheep men of the west, who have suffered serious loss for many years from the depredations of the coyotes, think they have discovered a means for their extermination. Greyhounds alone of all the dogs in creation are fleet enough of foot to run down the cowardly little pests and at the same time have enough grit to give them battle. Sheep men about the country are paying big prices for blooded dogs, and if friendless coyote is on a run for a life. For years the ranchers and plainmen have been skeptical of the stamina and fighting qualities of the greyhound in a finish fight with a coyote, but that idea is now entirely eradicated.

Profits Despite Costly Feed.
 Wool Markets, and Sheep says: We know of bunches of sheep which have netted their feeders all the way from $1 to $1.50 per head, and the grain fed cost nearly an average of 50 cents per bushel. These lambs, however, were good, thrifty stock and were brought to the yards in fine, sappy condition from rape, alfalfa or other cheap fattening forage. It takes a careful and experienced feeder to feed all costly grain and still show encouraging margins.

Sheep Should Be Kept Quiet.
 To get the best results sheep should never be frightened nor disturbed any more than necessary. It is well when the animals are young to handle them so they will become accustomed to the attendant and not be frightened when he approaches. Dogs and strangers should be kept out of the feeding pens.

A Fine Youngster.
 The fine Shropshire lamb shown in the illustration was bred by William Furry & Son, Greenfield, Ind. The lamb weighed 165 pounds at nine months.

Teaching the Lamb to Suck.
 Let the ewe lick her lamb and if she refuses wipe it dry and cover it with a wad of cloth till it gains strength enough to suck. If the lamb is too weak to stand after an hour or two, hold it up with one hand under its breast and with the other work the teat into its mouth and draw a little milk to give it a taste. If this cannot be managed successfully, lay the ewe gently on her side, having an assistant to hold her while you milk a little into the lamb's mouth and induce it if possible to suck.

Eternal Vigilance.
 At this season of the year the shepherd should be prepared to lose some sleep in caring for the flock. He should see the sheep before retiring for the night, and if there are indications of an increase before morning he should visit the fold again and again till the little stranger is safely started in life.

WANT BETTER ROADS

THE AGITATION FOR GOOD HIGHWAYS IN THE SOUTH.

Road Associations Organized and Conventions Held—The Jefferson Memorial Highway—Hanna and Governor Montague on Good Roads.

If the people of the southern states do not have good roads in the near future and plenty of them, it won't be their fault. They are doing everything in their power to secure better highways, and the matter has been taken up by some of their most prominent men, including General Fitz-Hugh Lee. During the past winter county good roads associations have been formed, conventions held and thousands interested in the work of the trains touring the south giving lessons in good road building.

The recent convention held at Charlottesville, Va., was significant as evidencing the rapidly growing recognition of the good roads movement throughout the country. The convention marked the end of the tour of the Southern railway "good roads train," which left Washington last October carrying roadbuilding machinery and road experts and made official stops at many points. The train carried many carloads of ponderous roadmaking machinery. A single one of these machines, just by way of illustration, is able to move 2,400 cubic feet of earth in a day. The train covered some 5,000 miles, congregated over 50,000 people and constructed about thirty-four miles of sample road.

Men of national reputation spoke at the convention, addressing an audience of 2,000 or 3,000 people throughout the greater part of three days, and a road to be known when it is completed as the Jefferson Memorial road, running from Charlottesville about three miles to Monticello, the home and tomb of Thomas Jefferson, was begun.

This highway will extend directly eastward from Charlottesville, a distance of three miles, to Monticello. Eventually the promoters of the enterprise hope to extend it an additional mile westward from the city to the University of Virginia, thus connecting Jefferson's home with the great educational institution which he founded. This latter part of the project, however, is for the future, money to pay for it being as yet lacking. The road is to be of macadam, the finest material of the kind obtainable, and will be seventeen feet wide. In the gorges it will be re-enforced by a retaining wall; elsewhere there will be a "shoulder" and ditch on either side. General Fitz-Hugh Lee is president of the association which has this enterprise in hand, and the University of Virginia is backing it earnestly. The money on hand is not sufficient as yet, and subscriptions are solicited from admirers of Thomas Jefferson wherever they may be found.

In his speech at the Charlottesville convention Senator Hanna said:

"The question of good roads is a very practical one. The general subject of transportation is one of the most important that have ever engaged the attention of mankind and has been especially important in this country. The farmers and manufacturers and all other producers are compelled to find a market for their surplus products, and when the market is found they must have some way of transporting their products to it. It is not surprising, therefore, that the focus of our all absorbing attention has been transportation and how to cheapen it. In this absorption we have overlooked the question of home transportation. It is a good sign to see the American people going back over the ground of their advancement to pick up the missing links. This question of good roads means much to the people of Virginia and the south generally, and the time you are giving to its study is time most excellently well spent.

"Though the matter of good roads may seem small, it demonstrates that the people of the south are awakening to their own interests, and the thing to do is to begin where you can do something, and then do it. If it is a question of roads, build them, and build them the best you can."

Governor Montague in his speech before the convention said:

"No matter how rapidly our civilization may grow and develop, it can never take on any form that will relieve itself of the necessity of public highways. The first remedy is to have intelligent design and superintendence. We should have a road commission and an engineer. Then get the material. There are different ways to do this. Money can be raised by the county. The state aid plan, such as is followed by New Jersey, is another way. By this plan the legislature authorizes the state to duplicate any amount for good roads which any county may raise. But the state insists upon the superintendence of the disbursement. That is very proper under such conditions."

Roads and Railways in India.

When it is considered that in India alone, where roads were unknown when the British government assumed control, there are now 150,000 miles of road, of which over 30,000 are "metalled," that the railways in the British colonies now aggregate 63,549 miles against 33,000 in 1885, a growth in fifteen years exceeding the distance around the earth; that the irrigation canals and other works of India are 36,000 miles in extent, and the area irrigated by all methods exceeds 30,000,000 acres, and that although they have cost about 400,000,000 rupees, the value of a single year's crop in the irrigated district above that which it could produce in years of drought is more than the entire cost of the canals; the importance of these public works will be apparent.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A big landslide at Bear Run, on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, wrecked several freight cars, standing on a siding. Several hundred feet of the perpendicular mountain came down.

Poisoning The System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dizziness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress.

A Sustaining Diet.

There are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained; and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic,—say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.

Joshua E. Lewis vs. Ida Lewis.
 No 1418 Chancery in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Md.

The object of this suit is that the said Joshua E. Lewis may procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the said Ida Lewis.
 The bill states that the said parties were married on the 17th day of December, 1893, and that they lived together until about May, 1898, since which time complainant has lived in Wicomico County, Maryland; that though the conduct of the complainant towards the defendant has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the defendant, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that the said separation and abandonment has continued uninterrupted for at least three years, is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, this 8th day of July, in the year nineteen hundred and two, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ordered that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in said Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of August nineteen hundred and two, give notice to the absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 1st day of September next, to show cause, if any she have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS FOR THE COLORED.

The State of Maryland has adopted a very liberal as well as practical policy for the education and uplifting of the colored race.

What the negro has always needed since his emancipation has been and still is such a training in the domestic arts and sciences as will fit him to make an honest living in an honest business.

Attempting to elevate the race by engraving upon it a "polite" education is ridiculous. Only a few individuals, comparatively, have the mental calibre to grasp the wherefore of finely spun academic theories, and too often these few reach their superior intellectual gain at a corresponding moral loss. It is the exception when they do not degenerate into the sorriest specimens of their race. The little bit of "book knowledge" imparted in the customary way generally is worse than useless, because the young negro acquiring it gets the false notion that he is thenceforth too good to hew wood and draw water.

Having spurned his natural vocations, and finding no field for the employment of the talents (?) developed by his "superior education" he soon becomes a street loafer and a public nuisance.

Therefore, the policy of the State, recently adopted, to introduce industrial schools in Baltimore City and the counties, for the instruction of the young colored people in the industrial sciences and the art of domestic economy must meet with the endorsement of all thoughtful citizens.

At a recent meeting of the Wicomico School Board it was decided to start such a school in Salisbury. A colored teacher, trained in the work, will be employed to instruct, and every encouragement will be offered the colored boys and girls to acquire a practical knowledge of domestic employment. The demand for intelligent farm hands, gardeners, cooks, house keepers, seamstresses and kindred laborers was never greater. The employment is healthful, and wages for skilled help is constantly increasing.

If this movement is the ultimate means of producing a class of useful citizens, skilled in domestic economy, the money it costs the State will be well spent.

McCOMAS AND MUDD.

The flat has gone forth that Congressman Mudd is to be politically exterminated. His district, it is said, is to be invaded, and he will be made to feel the heavy hand of McComas and reform. We have no particular admiration for Mudd, and, from a Democratic standpoint would be glad to have him eliminated from political life. But the idea, sought to be disseminated by hybrid newspapers like The Baltimore News that McComas is one whit better than Mudd, is the very acme of impudence. As a matter of fact, its six of one and a half dozen of the other. Both are in politics for these polls. If there were no spoils there would be no McComas nor Mudd. In one respect, however, Mudd is preferable to McComas. Mudd makes no pretense to political virtue, while McComas adds to his other faults the sin of hypocrisy.—Crisfield Times.

"COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE".

It is stated that Senator McComas is desirous of returning to Federal Judiciary at some point. "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" of the Maryland Legislature of 1902. The Senator wishes to "take time by the forelock."

STILL HAS HOPE.

Crisfield will get there yet. Last week it was an automobile and this week a motor cycle, appeared on our streets. Trolley cars next.—Crisfield Times.

TO BUILD NEW STEAMER.

B. C. & A. Planning Another Boat For Next Summer.

The Baltimore Evening News in a recent issue, said:
The large fleet of steamers of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway will have another handsome addition besides the one now under construction at the Harlan & Hollingsworth yard, at Wilmington, Del. Plans are being prepared for a fine new excursion steamer to run on the route between Baltimore and Claiborne. These plans will be completed in about a month, and contract will then be let. The new steamer will be about 300 feet long, and have capacity for 1500 passengers. It will, in point of speed, aim to excel the fastest boat in the harbor, and will be planned to travel between 18 and 20 knots and hour.

The plans are not wholly complete, the new boat will have three decks. A unique feature will be a dining-room on the hurricane deck to seat 150 people. The main deck will include the social hall and ladies' parlor, and the saloon deck will have several staterooms and general lounging space. It is estimated that the new steamer will cost, complete and furnished ready for service, approximately $140,000. It is to be finished in time for the excursion season of next summer. The new boat built at Wilmington is expected to be in service next month.

Swine Questions.
Cottonseed meal should only be fed to swine in very small quantities. It is difficult to make a permanent pasture for swine; probably the best would be alfalfa clover. The best feed for brood sows is raw flat turnips with one quart of wheat middlings mixed up in water in winter, and a clover pasture supplemented with a rye pasture in spring, oats and peas or cow peas in summer and a field of rape in fall. The natural food of the swine is a vegetable ration and the only food they get in wild state. The nearer we get to nature's method, the greater success we will have. The common troubles such as small farrows, weak offspring, pig eating and insufficient amount of milk for the young come from lack of exercise, foul quarters and a highly carbonaceous diet.

The Cow Pea.
The cow pea as a land improver and fodder plant, stands without an equal, and its growing popularity is wonderful. In the South its merits have for many years been understood and appreciated, but very recently it has been introduced in all parts of the country, east west, and north, with entire satisfaction and a high degree of profit to the farmers.

In Wicomico county this year's acreage is double, at least, that of any previous year, being limited only by the stock of seed available. Farmers here have only begun to realize the possibilities of the plant as an important aid to successful agriculture.

An ordinance has been introduced in the Cumberland Council to create the office of town fire marshal, with an assistant in each fire district. It will probably be favorably acted upon. The salary of the chief of police has been increased to $85 a month, lieutenant to $52.50, and patrolmen and lamp trimmer to $50.

Harry C. Keefer, a retired merchant of Westminster, attempted suicide. He cut his throat and wrists with a pocket knife, and took a big dose of laudanum. A doctor sewed up the wounds and removed the drug, but his condition is uncertain.

Richard and George Matthews, negroes, are in jail at Ellicott City, charged with assaulting and cutting two white men, Edward Cheney and Richard Reesley. The attack was an outcome of the bad blood existing between the races on the Howard county side of the river, near Ellicott City.

Fire near Clear Spring, Washington county, on Monday night, destroyed Franz's furniture factory, causing a loss of $4000. Aid was telephoned for from Clear Spring, but the fire had gained too much headway to be successfully combated.

News is the truth concerning men, not one and things. That is, truth concerning them which is helpful, or pleasant, or useful, or necessary for a reader to know.

—A festival will be held at Bethel Church near Walston's Station this afternoon and evening, July 19th.

—An effort will be made to have a "five cent" bus run to and from all base camps in Salisbury from now on.

—Mr. N. H. White of Parsonburg, while wrestling Thursday had his right leg broken near the ankle. Drs. Todd & Dick set the broken limb.

—The M. E. Church of Eden will hold their annual picnic on the afternoon and evening of July 28th. A box auction will be held.

—The members of the Committee on the Tony Tank bridge are requested to meet at Shad Point, Tuesday afternoon about three o'clock.

—All persons interested in Green Hill Camp are requested to meet at 1 p. m. next Monday afternoon for the purpose of clearing off the grove.

—The Annual Excursion to Ocean City of the M. P. Sunday School will be run August 19th. Do not forget the date.

—Rev. N. C. Clough, of Western Maryland College, will preach in Quantic M. P. Church, Sunday evening, July 29th. Rev. Fred. J. Phillips, pastor.

—Mr. F. Leonard Wailes attended the funeral of Mrs. Colton, relict of the late George Colton, who died several days ago at her home in Baltimore.

—Harry Dieharoon, an employe at Mitchell's factory, had two fingers cut off by a machine which he was operating. Drs. Slemmons & Morris dressed the wounds.

—Last Monday evening Miss Alice Gunby gave a very pleasant launch party in her father's new launch, "Muno" in honor of her guests, the Misses Miller of Baltimore.

—Rev. David Howard, who has been extended a call to St. Peter's P. E. Church of this city will hold service in that church tomorrow (Sunday) both morning and evening.

—Mr. L. Atwood Bennett has purchased a building lot on Elizabeth Street from Mr. Jonathan Waller, and expects to build a commodious and modern home for himself and family.

—The Sunday School of Trinity M. E. Church, South, will run their annual excursion to Ocean City on Friday, July 25. This will be the first Sunday School excursion of the season to be run from Salisbury.

—The ladies of the Allen Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will hold a lawn party on Tuesday evening, July 22nd at the home of Mr. John W. Jones, Allen, Md. Ice cream and home made candies for sale. Everybody invited. Committee.

—Mr. John L. Tilghman formerly one of Wicomico's most successful school teachers, and who recently graduated from Goldy's College, Wilmington, Del., has accepted a position as book-keeper and stenographer for the Evening Journal, a well known daily paper of that city.

—Mr. Dean W. Perdue has bought from Mr. Walter B. Miller the fast trotting horse "George." Mr. Perdue is a great admirer of fine horseflesh, and likes speed enough to keep up with the boys. For these reasons he is entirely happy for the first time since he parted with "Ned Dennis" several months ago.

—On account of the rebuilding of the Methodist Protestant Church, preaching services will be conducted in the lecture room next Sunday. The pastor will preach at night upon "Three nights in the life of Jesus." Cordial invitation to all.

—Are you troubled with your eyes? If so, call on Dr. J. Kent Morris, who offers his services to the public every Saturday, at his office, 230 Camden Avenue, Salisbury, Md. Hours 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Eyes examined free of charge.

—William Morris, an old colored man, who was a slave of Mr. Thos. C. Morris' father, died at his home on the Middleneck road, last week, aged 86 years and some months. His wife, who was a slave of the late Col. Wm. J. Leonard, still lives at 77 years.

—Mr. James E. Ellegood and Mr. L. W. Gunby returned last Friday night from a most delightful trip in the West. They were gone about three weeks and visited many interesting points including: Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Manitou, Pike's Peak, Garden of the Gods, and others.

—School Board held an all day's session Wednesday. Miss Cora Mitchell was given free scholarship to Maryland Institute for promotion of the Mechanical Art. Miss Katie Anderson was given free scholarship to State Normal School. The Board decided to open an Industrial Department in the colored school in Salisbury and the Secretary was authorized to employ a suitable man to take charge of the work.

—Hearn's milk wagon was struck by a four mule team Friday afternoon, on Division Street, causing a break down and a runaway, with a consequent spilling of milk.

—The New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad Co. will run an excursion to Norfolk and Old Point Comfort, Sunday July 20th. Round trip fare from Salisbury is $1.50. The train will leave Salisbury 5.40 a. m.

—In France, when a funeral passes, every man raises his hat to salute it. The deceased person may have been a child, a pauper, a beggar; it is no matter the cortege is saluted by every man, whether he be prince, millionaire or mendicant. It is a good and lovely custom.

—Ulman Sons have inaugurated their first anniversary sale, which will continue until Saturday July 26. During this period they are giving 10 per cent reduction on all goods in their line. Some rare inducements are offered in furniture and all house-furnishing goods.

—Messrs. R. E. Powell & Co., have inaugurated their annual mid summer sale, announcement of which will be found on the eighth page of this issue. The firm say this will be one of the greatest sales they have ever had. For the past three years the July and January sales of this store have attracted large numbers of buyers from all over the shore.

—Master Baard Morris, eleven year old son of Mr. Polk Morris of near Delmar, was kicked in the face by a pony Thursday at the home of his grandfather Mr. Baard Perdue, near here, when he has been visiting several weeks. Dr. Geo. W. Todd dressed the wound and was obliged to take several stitches across the face. The child was playing with the pony when the accident occurred.

—Master Herman Jones, whose recovery from a bad case of lock-jaw has been previously spoken of in this paper, is able to go about, and he shows only slight evidence of the effects of the dreadful malady. He called at the ADVERTISER office last Monday. His countenance beamed with pleasure at his recovery and consequent freedom. His physicians, Drs. Slemmons & Morris, achieved a distinct victory over a very untractable disease, in the conquering of which thirty bottles of anti toxin were consumed.

—The sons and daughters of Dr. and Mrs. H. Laird Todd and their families, met in a family reunion last Monday at Dr. Todd's home on Park Avenue. There were, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Todd and five children, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Todd and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Todd and three children, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Smyth and two children and Dr. and Mrs. Selover. After dinner had been served photographer Hitchens took a picture of the group on the lawn.

—A very unusual accident occurred at Messrs. E. S. Adkins & Co's mill last Monday. The main driving belt slipped from the pulley on the engine and caught in the governor. The engine sprung forward, the force being so great that it was twisted from the bed. The supply pipe from the boiler to the engine blew off and caused the engine to stop, which was running at a rate of probably three times its regular speed. Fortunately everybody escaped injury. The plant was shut down two days until the damage could be repaired.

George H. Phillips, the Chicago speculator, is quoted as making the following prediction as to the price of wheat: "I look to see wheat average 80 cents per bushel for the next ten months, and I should not be surprised to see the speculative interest so great in wheat this fall as to put December or May option to 90 cents. The very fact that corn and oats are so high makes wheat unusually cheap at ruling prices. I base this opinion on a prospective shortage of over 100,000,000 bushels of wheat based on last year's average. There is not a surplus of wheat in any country today."

No Summer Bowel Troubles

You may say I am safe from all of them and happy. You may not be as safe as you think for. The heat of summer causes organic matter to decay everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment one hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned and thrown out of order, sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. The proper thing to do is to use Truitt's Cholera Mixture, the only reliable, safe remedy because it cures diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cramp colic, etc.

UNCLE SAM'S GOING TO MOVE THE POSTOFFICE.

The people of Salisbury will certainly expect Uncle Sam to have a removal sale—they'll expect to see some great "whopping" signs up on the Graham building like this: "Great Removal Sale." It is easier to move money than postal cards. Rather than move our immense stock of postal cards to the new building we will cut the prices wide and sell them 3 for 5 cents. All our Spring styles of postage stamps to be slaughtered regardless of cost—98 genuine 1 cent stamps for 99 cents; 49 2 cents for 99 cents. Cancelled stamps at half price. All our money orders to be sold at any price. Tons of newspapers at cost. All letters that are unclaimed by Saturday night will be put on center tables and sold at 49 cents for your choice, excepting those in robin's egg blue envelopes with violet perfume on them, which will be sold for $9.98 each. Salisbury people will expect this sale, and what will they get? Uncle Sam will move the postoffice and never say a word, just pack up his postal cards and postage stamps and move and never offer a bargain to anyone. It tough. Why, there are people, especially, women in Salisbury who have been saving up money with which to lay in a supply of postal cards, and Uncle Sam will upset all their plans. There's one thing about it though, Uncle Sam has got a cinch. If you want to do any trading in his line you've got to buy of him and he can't have to cut prices. With Lacy Thoroughgood its different. Whie Lacy Thoroughgood is like Uncle Sam in one way, and that is nobody in the United States can or will do better by you than he will, still Thoroughgood wants to keep below the other fellows, and that's the one particular reason why you can buy Men's Suits worth $15.00 for $12.50—Men's $12.50 Suits for $10.00—Men's $10.00 Suits for $8.50. Why Lacy Thoroughgood is selling Men's Suits worth $8.50 for $5.00. Thoroughgood is selling Boy's and Children's Suits regardless of cost. Overstocked? Yes, Thoroughgood has got too many Shirts again this season, but they must sell at the present reduced prices, $1.50, $1.25 and $1.00 Shirts for 99 cents. Thoroughgood ain't going to move his store, but he is going to move his stock. Come help him move.

That Gold Spoon.

There are some men who seem to be favorites of fortune. They are industrious, cheerful workers, full of overflowing of the energy of splendid health, and success seems fairly to drop into their hands. It is of such as these that the less hardy and less successful man says enviously, "That fellow was born with a gold spoon in his mouth."

splendid health, the endowment of a healthy mother.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives the mother health to give her child. It cures nervousness, nausea and sleeplessness. It makes the body comfortable and the mind content. It gives physical vigor and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

"I will endeavor to tell you of the many benefits I have derived from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. B. E. Robertson, of Medicine Lodge, Barber Co., Kan. "In the fall of 1899 I was expecting to become a mother and suffered terribly with pains in the back of head; in fact I ached all over. Suffered with awful bearing-down pains; I was threatened with weeks with mishap. A lady friend told me to use Dr. Pierce's medicine. She had taken them and felt like a new woman. I began using the Favorite Prescription and took four bottles before my baby came and two afterwards. I suffered almost death with my other two children, but hardly realized that I was sick when this baby was born and she weighed twelve and one-quarter pounds. She is now eleven months old and has never known an hour's sickness; at present she weighs thirty-seven pounds. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

THE DRAUGHT'S BLACK-DRAUGHT THE ORIGINAL LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. The Draught's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs, preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by The Draught's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than The Draught's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor. Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901. I have used The Draught's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and all complaints. Rev. A. G. LEWIS.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, July 13.—From the example of martyrs and great sufferers in the cause of Christ Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage draws lessons of encouragement and fortitude for afflicted members of Christ's church; text, Philippians iv, 22, "All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Caesar's household."

Pope Leo XIII. was one day giving an audience to some foreigners. Turning to a gentleman present, he asked, "How long have you been in our city?" "Three days," was the answer. "Then," said the pope, "you have been here long enough to practically know all about Rome." He asked another gentleman, "How long have you been in Rome?" "Three months," was the answer. "Then," said the pope, "you have been here long enough to know that you have just begun to see Rome." He asked a third gentleman the same question. "I have been here three long years," was the answer. "Then," said the pope, "you have been here long enough to know that, though a man may live in Rome a hundred years, he can never live long enough to fully appreciate Rome." The longer one lives under the shadow of the Coliseum the more he realizes how much of history, of conquests and defeats, of culture and ignorance, of purity and vice, of justice and injustice, clusters about the seven hills of the Eternal City.

But, though the most marvelous achievements and the most startling happenings may be panoramized in that one word, "Rome," yet without doubt to the Christian student the most absorbing and intense of all Roman eras is that which includes the history of Nero's reign. Then the persecutions against the early Christians became the most virulent, inhuman and fatal. Then the brutalities and mercilessness of the fendish monster, Nero, out-Heroded even bloody Herod. Then the lowest dungeons of the inferno were filled with pandemoniums of satanic joy. "For then," wrote the historian, "the Christians were covered by the skins of wild beasts and torn to pieces by the dogs. Then they were crucified. Then they were smeared with pitch and combustible materials and burned in the imperial gardens at night. Then at last from a horror stricken nation there arose pity for the condemned, since they were not put to death for the public good, but to gratify the cruelty of one man." Yet Paul wrote about this time that, in spite of all these persecutions and martyrdoms, there still remained in Rome men and women who were true to the Christian faith. In the darkest days of the history of the early church there were Christians ready to testify for Jesus Christ, though they wore the uniforms of the Roman emperor and though, on account of that testimony, they knew they had to die.

The Salutations of the Saints. Now, to you who are sitting before me today with the pale face of an invalid I bring the salutations of the saints who have lived in the Caesarian palaces of physical infirmity. I would tell you to do something for God in spite of your bodily pain, as blind John Milton did; as Bella Cooke, who has been bedridden for over forty years, is doing; as Paul did, who was "in bodily presence weak." Your very physical sufferings ought to bring you closer to Christ. Your very sicknesses ought to make you the more anxious to do something for the Saviour now that your time on earth may be short. They ought to make you as anxious to do something for Christ as was the dying president of Union college, who, when his physician told him he had but one hour on earth to live, said, "Then place me upon my knees, that I may spend that hour in prayer with God, pleading for the salvation of sinful souls!" Would that today, in the presence of these saints who have lived in the modern Caesar's palaces of physical torture, we might all consecrate our frail as well as our well bodies to the service of the Lord Jesus Christ!

I would encourage those Christians also, who are trying to maintain their Christian integrity in spite of an evil past. By this statement I mean those Christians whose past sins have been heralded over the world, even as Cain's sin was known by the black mark which had been stamped upon the murderer's brow. If it is hard for a young girl to be good and pure and true when she is living in a Christian home and has practically never been out of her mother's care, how much harder must it be for a young girl to be good and true and pure when she has had her feet cut and lacerated by treading the crooked and stony pathway of sin and has had her fair name blackened by the condemnations of a dissolute life! If it is difficult for a young man to hold an honorable position in society when his record is clean and good, how much more difficult must it be for a man to attain an honorable life when he has served out his time in a felon's cell, or has had his hair cropped by the convict's shears and his clothes striped with the marks of the penitentiary! If it is difficult for a Christian to live right whose nearest neighbors can find nothing but good to say of him and his past, how much more difficult must it be for a man to live a good life who has been a drunkard, a libertine, a thief, a social outcast! Would you, O Christian merchant, today be willing to have reformed ex-convicts as occupants of your office? Would you, O mother, allow reformed servants in your home whose past lives have been dissolute?

"No," in all probability you would both answer in an un-Christian way: "I do not bear such people any ill will, but I would prefer not to have them around my person. They might steal or perhaps they might lead my children astray, and were such among my help I would dismiss them at once."

Some time ago I stood in the store of a personal friend. While there a gentleman who was a member of the Chicago detective force entered to buy some goods. This officer sharply looked at one of the clerks. Then he came over to the merchant's side and said: "Mr. So-and-so, that clerk is an ex-convict. He served a term in Joliet penitentiary. You had better keep an eye upon him." Although that ex-convict was a good clerk and had been in the employ of my friend for nearly two years, he was immediately discharged. When I spoke up in his favor and begged that he be retained and given a chance to live a good life, my friend answered: "No, Mr. Talmage; that man is able to steal every year thousands of dollars without my knowing it. I cannot run the risk." So the poor clerk was driven out of that store and perhaps driven into a future of crime.

Slaking an Evil Past. But though it is so difficult for a man to lead a Christian life who has had an evil past, yet if there are any such here today I bring to you the salutations of the saints in Caesar's palace. I want to encourage you with the fact that, just as some of the greatest of moral heroes have been physical weaklings, so some of the greatest of Christian heroes have been those who have sinned even worse than you have sinned. Harry Monroe, who for years has run the Pacific Garden mission of Chicago and who has been instrumental in saving thousands of souls, was what? A college graduate? A member of a Christian church and a Christian home? No. He was a converted gambler. Jerry McAuley of New York, who did so much for the slums of New York, was a drunkard and a prize-fighter. John Newton was once vilely dissolute and depraved, though in after life he wrote the noted hymn:

I saw One hanging on a tree In agony and blood, Who fixed his languid eyes on me As near the cross I stood.

Sure never till my latest breath Can I forget that look; It seemed to charge me with his death, Though ne'er a word he spoke.

John Newton said that when he first saw Christ hanging there upon the cross he himself was wallowing in the lowest depths of sin. John Bunyan the dreamer was John Bunyan the blasphemer. John Summerfield the saint, about whom we have already spoken, was John Summerfield the depraved. Saul the chief of sinners became Paul the martyred saint. Oh, my brother, if the grace of God could come into such sinful lives and recreate and sustain them, surely the grace of God is sufficient to recreate and sustain us, no matter how black may have been our dissolute past.

And I bring to you who have an evil past this message from the saints in Caesar's palace, because the man who has been loathsome vile, is the man who has an especial mission to save souls for Jesus Christ. You know as no one else knows how awful is the power of temptation. You know as no one else knows how difficult it is for one who has been a social outcast to try to live again among respectable social surroundings. You can speak as Mary Magdalene could speak. You can plead as St. Della could plead, who was once the noted Blue Bird, the fiend of the New York slums. Although St. Della had such an evil past, yet her life, under the power of the Holy Ghost, became so pure and sweet and influential that the rich and the poor, the pure and the depraved alike, the old as well as the young, sobbed over her casket. You can speak from the heart, as John B. Gough spoke to the drunkards, because you yourself have seen the phenomena of delirium tremens moving themselves right in the cup until at last they would bite like a serpent and sting like an adder. Struggling Christians, you who have had an evil past, you can plead for Christ in the highways and the hedges of sin as the saints who had an evil past could speak in Caesar's palace. Those saints today are now placing their hands of holy ordination upon your head that you may go forth and save your sinful fellow men.

Encouragement For the Unfortunate. I would also encourage today those Christians who are compelled by force of circumstances to live and work with evil associates. Perhaps the young man who is standing behind the same counter with you in the store is an infidel; perhaps some of your classmates at school or in college are out and out scoffers against the word of God; perhaps your own father and brothers are unbelievers and every day your faith in Jesus Christ is made an object of ridicule; perhaps, what is the worst of all, you find that you are married to a man who never neglects an opportunity to ridicule your Bible. You have found out also that your husband is having a pernicious and spiritually destroying influence over your children. What are you going to do—leave these evil associates? Sometimes such a course is possible; sometimes it is not. It is evidently not possible for the ancient saints to have left Caesar's palace, else they would have done so. It is most natural to suppose that those saints would have instantly fled from the Roman capital during the time of Nero's persecution if they could have run away with honor and self respect. But in all probability most of those saints said to themselves something like this: "No; I cannot, I will not, go! It would be cowardly for me to desert my Lord and Master. I will stay here and keep on testifying for Christ, if need be, until my body is burned at the stake or eaten by the wild beasts in one of the arenas. And stay in Rome these saints did, and die a martyr's death most of them also did. So it may be your Christian duty to keep on living for Christ and testifying of his love in a place of persecution and among companions who make Christ an object of daily ridicule, as did the persecuted young Roman officer whose epitaph can still be read in one of the Roman cemeteries in these words: "He lived long enough to shed his blood for Christ."

Now, I want you, my Christian friends, who are experiencing these daily persecutions, to fully realize that not one drop of blood which fell from the Christian martyrs of Caesar's ancient palace was ever shed in vain. From those persecutions the great influence of the church of Jesus Christ was started. From those persecutions were lighted the gospel torches which are today shedding their glorious rays all round the world. From those persecutions came not so much Paul's death and the death of the saints in Caesar's palace as the eternal life of millions upon millions of immortal souls. So if you, O persecuted Christian, only keep true to the gospel faith in the difficult places where you are stationed you may not only win your father and mother and husband and children for God, but you may win thousands upon thousands of immortal souls for Christ—beings whose names you have never read and whose glowing faces perhaps you shall never see until you look upon them among the redeemed before the great white throne.

Familiar Faces in Caesar's Palace. So, I repeat, this glorious text brings the salutations of the saints in Caesar's palace to the rich and the poor, the high and the low, the old and the young alike. It brings its salutations to the rich and the great men. There were many great men and women in Caesar's household who were without doubt members of the household of faith. Nero's household, intellectually and financially, was the noted court of its day. And some of the saints in Caesar's palace must have been numbered among the princes and princesses of the realm and among the great commanders of the Roman legion, the cabinet officials and the members of the privy council. So we find today, among the great and the famous of the earth, there have been saints in Caesar's palace. Witness William McKinley, shot down by an assassin's bullet, calmly turning his face toward his invalid wife, saying, "God's will, not ours, be done." Witness Stonewall Jackson, leaving his army hat outside of his tent as a sign that he did not wish to be interrupted because he was then on his knees to God in prayer. Witness Neal Dow and Frederick Robertson and William E. Gladstone and Thomas Chalmers and John Knox and a whole army of earthly saints of whom the world was not worthy. These are some of the famous modern saints who have already won immortal fame by laying down their lives for Christ.

But I also find that in Nero's ancient palace there were slaves as well as rich nobles. There were menials who had to perform the most humble services, as well as generals who commanded Nero's armies or prime ministers who decided the international policies or financial ministers who levied the taxes. There were the cooks and the chambermaids. There were the porters and the gardeners and the messengers, the private guards and the negro servants, as well as the white servants. There were the scullions, as well as the ladies in waiting, who stood by the empress' side, and the saints in Caesar's palace were in all probability found in the kitchen as well as in the parlor, in the servant's livery as well as in the courtier's uniform. All of which proves that God is ready to honor the man of one talent, if he is a saint, just as much as he honors the man of ten talents who makes spiritual use of his genius.

My hearers, no matter what our walk of life may be, will you today be a saint of God and throw yourself upon the pardon and the mercy of Christ? Will you here and now dedicate your life to the Saviour even if that dedication means the shedding of your life's blood? Will you be willing to suffer for Christ as well as to have the pleasure and the joys that come from the Christian life? Are you ready to shoulder for Christ the heavy burden. Are you ready, for him, to have the feet ache, the hands ache, the back ache, the head ache and the heart ache?

I would plead with you to be willing to make these sacrifices for Christ, as did the saints in Caesar's palaces, because it is on account of their sacrifices that Jesus is going to reward you in another place which he has built for you, not in Rome, but upon the golden boulevard of heaven. It is only a step from the palace of persecution into the palace of reward. It is only a step from Caesar's throne when the saint of God is condemned to earthly death by the power of sin to the throne of God, where the redeemed saint is given everlasting life. It is only a step from the Roman arena, where the ancient saints were torn to pieces by the wild beasts, into the green pastures by the side of the still waters, where the glorified saints shall forever dwell with the Lamb. It is only a step—a short step. Are you ready to live for Christ in a place where we may ultimately take that step, although to take it we shall pass through the fires of earthly persecution? It is such a short step for the saints of God from the palaces of Nero to the palaces which Christ has prepared for his own that it does seem as though the palaces of persecution are but the vestibules of the palaces of reward. May God help each one of us to be true to his faith while we dwell for a little while on earth in one of Caesar's earthly palaces!

Long Hair

"About a year ago my hair was coming out very fast, so I bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stopped the falling and made my hair grow very rapidly, until now it is 45 inches in length."—Mrs. A. Boydston, Atchison, Kans.

There's another hunger than that of the stomach. Hair hunger, for instance. Hungry hair needs food, needs hair vigor—Ayer's. This is why we say that Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color, and makes the hair grow long and heavy. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

A slick stranger, representing himself as an agent of the textile works of John Moyer & Son, Oxford, Pa., swindled several persons in North East last week. The fraud was exposed when the man refused to accept a check for a small sum.

"I Stood in a Draught" with my coat off and caught this wretched cold," says the sufferer. He need not pay a heavy penalty if he follow his act of folly with an act of wisdom. Soak the feet in hot water with a few teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in it. Take a teaspoonful of Painkiller in hot sweetened water at bed time and be thankful for so simple and speedy a way to break up a cold. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

"I Never Knew Painkiller to Fail" before, what can the matter be? Where is the bottle? There, I thought so; it is not Perry Davis' Painkiller at all, but something the druggist must have made himself and I did not notice it; I have used Painkiller for years for diarrhoea, cramps and stomach aches and it never failed!

The young men from other sections of the county who, as heretofore announced, visit Quantico on the Sab bath only, were all on hand Sunday afternoon nor did they leave until long after the evening shadows had fallen.

PITTSVILLE

While her mother was out getting some wood last Monday afternoon little Florence Davis, aged seven years, thought she would iron some handkerchiefs but as the iron was not as hot as she wanted them she got the oil can and as she was pouring the oil on the fire the oil in the can caught fire and exploded setting her afire and several things in the room. Her sister May hearing the noise caused by the explosion ran into the room and tried to extinguish the fire on her sister, but Florence ran out to her mother who succeeded in putting the fire out but not until little Florence was almost gone and the mother badly burned. The fire in the house was extinguished before it did much damage. Dr. Freney was summoned and dressed the burns. Tuesday morning about seven o'clock she fell asleep never to wake in this world again. Little Florence was a bright cheery little girl and will be much missed. Interment was made in M. P. cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Accidents seem to be very common in this vicinity for the past few weeks. Mr. James Laws who very narrowly escaped death one day last week while crossing the railroad near Waltons, is improving. Dr. G. W. Freney was thrown out of his carriage some days ago while visiting some of his patients but was not seriously hurt. Mr. Joshua Parsons while trying to cross the track just ahead of the engine would probably have been crushed but for the timely aid of some men standing near.

Carpenters are busy this week building the canning house of Mr. W. S. Phillips.

Miss Rebecca Shockley is visiting relatives in Philadelphia this week.

Mr. W. W. Brattan and family left Wednesday for Ocean City where they will spend the summer.

Miss Sarah Bailey of Wango was the guest of her cousin, Miss Virgie Parsons last week.

Miss Ary Wells, who has been in Philadelphia for treatment for some weeks returned home last Wednesday.

The excursion to Ocean City, for the M. E. Church will be next Wednesday July 23rd.

Misses Audrey and Irma Wimbrow are spending the week at Ocean City.

Mrs. Martha Staton and son, Mr. Henry Staton, are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

The M. P. excursion to Ocean City last Tuesday was largely attended but as the weather was rather cool for bathing, think will have to have another later in the season.

Mrs. Julia Nelson who has been sick for some time past, does not seem to improve much.

WEST.

Rain is very much needed in this section at the present time. It having been quite a while since we have had even a refreshing shower.

The regular meeting of the trustees of our school was held on Thursday last at the school house, several applications were handed in by those desiring to teach the coming year, and as but one teacher is needed all application were given careful consideration and Miss Etie Fooks daughter of Mr. John Fooks of West was unanimously elected as teacher for the coming year.

Mrs. Martha E. Cain and Miss Mary K. Cain, mother and sister of Rev. Frank S. Cain returned to their home near Warren, Baltimore county, last week.

Mr. Daniel A. Stabler who spent a few days at the parsonage returned to his home last week.

Rev. O. D. Melvin Ex-president of Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, was a visitor in our village last week.

We are extremely sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Cain, wife of our pastor Rev. Frank S. Cain. She has been quite ill since Thursday of last week, with but a slight change for the better up to this time (Wednesday). She is attended by Dr. M. W. Goldsborough of Princess Anne. We sincerely hope she may soon be up again as her kind genial manner has won a place in our hearts that only she can fill.

The Misses Anderson were guests at the home of Mr. Wesley Pusey on Sunday last.

Misses Maggie and Nellie Disha roon of Salisbury who have been spending sometime with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hayman have returned home.

BIVALVE.

Bivalve camp meeting will begin July 18th. We expect this to be the largest camp meeting ever held at Bivalve. We understand that the steamer Tivoli and other steamers will make excursions at this place on Sunday the 20th. They have secured some of the ablest ministers of the M. P. Conference. Rev. F. T. Little, D. D. will preach on the twenty fourth. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Jas. Inley, quarter master on the steamer Tivoli is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. Nettie Downing.

Mrs. Guy Larmore has accepted a position as clerk with the firm of Geo. D. Inley & Son.

Several young men of this place spent Sunday at Mt. Vernon.

Some of our young ladies and gentlemen had a most pleasant sailing party down the Nanticoke. They went as far as Deals Island and returned about 3 a. m.

Capt. Jas. P. Inley left Sunday on steamer Maggie for Baltimore where he expects to spend a few days.

Mr. John E. Inley and family of St. Marys county who has been spending the past week with his brother, Mr. E. Harrison Inley returned home Monday last.

Capt. Elmer Messick of Western Maryland is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

ATHOL

Miss Daisy Hurley entertained a large number of her friends last Saturday evening. Those present were, Misses Carrie and Katie Evans, Roxie and Eva Riggin, Sadie Taylor; Messrs. Lloyd Watson, Howard Hutton, William Hurley, Frank Hutton, Thomas Elliott, and Edward Bennett. Miss Katie Evans entertained the company with instrumental music and a solo was sung by Mr. Thomas Elliott. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

THREE PERSONS DROWNED.

Two Young Men of the County and One Stranger, Victims.

Three persons drowned in the unusual local record for the week.

Last Sunday John Johnson, the eighteen year old son of Mr. John E. Johnson, a prominent farmer of Nutters district, lost his life in Parker's Mill-pond. The same morning Harrison McGrath, of Fruitland, fourteen years old, was drowned in Tony Tank. Wednesday morning of this week a man about 55 years old, unknown here, walked off the platform of a car attached to the Norfolk express, and falling into Lake Humphreys was drowned. All the bodies were recovered.

The accidental and untimely death of young Mr. Johnson has brought deep sorrow to his parents and many friends. He had been to church in the morning and after leaving a young lady, whom he had escorted home, he started for his own home. Reaching Parker's pond he observed on the opposite shore Mr. John Godfrey's son, who is a neighbor, in a small skiff. Calling to young Godfrey, the latter paddled across the pond and took Mr. Johnson aboard, and started back to the other side. When some distance from either shore the boat filled, and the two young men, abandoning the boat, leaped into the water and struck out for the nearer shore, which young Godfrey reached with ease and in safety. Although familiar with the water and a good swimmer, young Johnson sank. Before he could be rescued life was extinct. It is supposed that cramp seized his muscles and rendered self-preservation impossible. His remains were interred Monday afternoon.

The drowning of the other boy occurred differently. He and some companions visited Tony Tank in the morning. It is said that while the others were gathering wild black-berries near the railroad bridge, McGrath went into the water. Not rejoining his companions they started to find him. His clothes were found near the water. A searching party afterward located the body and took it ashore. It was taken to the home of Mrs. Mary Johnson with whom the boy had lived. The remains were interred Tuesday afternoon.

A jury of inquest, composed of Mr. H. L. Brewington, foreman, Messrs. F. Leonard Waller, Gamaliel Downing, John S. Bosman, Lee Godfrey, James Crouch, John Nelson, Elmer E. Bradley, B. Frank Kennerly, R. Lee Waller, R. Wesley Hearn and L. A. Parsons, rendered a verdict of accidental drowning in the case of the stranger whose body was taken from Lake Humphreys Wednesday morning.

The theory is that the man was very much under the influence of liquor, and stepping out on the platform of the car in which he was riding, lost his balance and fell over the bridge into the water. It may be that he was unconscious from contact with the bridge, it being certain that he struck the bridge in the fall as one thigh bone was broken when the body was taken from the water.

The man was about 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighed 175 pounds perhaps. His right arm was off below the elbow. He was dressed in a dark suit, white shirt, white collar and black bow. On the lapel of his coat was a red badge with the letters H. P. T. S. In his coat pocket was an empty half pint flask, upon which was the name of Adam Baum & Son, liquor dealers, of Philadelphia. An examination of the effects in his vest and trousers pockets disclosed an old silver watch which had stopped at 8:41 o'clock, $7 in paper money, four nickels, a ticket from Philadelphia to Old Point Comfort, and a furlough issued to Alexander Campbell, Co. D. 95th Penn. Infantry, dated April 28, 1902. This furlough had marked on the back "Pension $30."

From these papers it is inferred that the unfortunate man was an inmate of the Soldier's Home at Hampton, Va., and was returning from a visit to Philadelphia.

CHANGE IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Interior of Building to Be Altered—Piano Fund Growing.

The School Board Monday authorized a change in the arrangement of the High School building and seating of classes which will be a decided improvement. The school has always labored under the disadvantage of having no assembly hall. Principal Holloway appeared before the Board and suggested that a part of the partition between the two upper class-rooms on the north side be removed, leaving a space nine by eight feet, and folding or sliding doors be put in. The Board authorized the Principal to have the work done.

It is proposed to have a second partition made in one of the rooms six inches from the present partition and about half the length of the room so as to provide a pocket which will cover the track, wheels, etc., and into which the doors will slide. In these two rooms the entire High School department, consisting of the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grades, which this year will probably occupy the second floor exclusively, may assemble for opening exercises and such other general work for which it is desirable or necessary that all the classes meet together. The County Teachers' Institute may also be held in these rooms, thus providing more convenient accommodations than have heretofore been possible.

The Board appropriated $25 for the High School piano fund and an equal amount for the laboratory fund. Mr. Holloway will go to Baltimore next week to purchase the piano, if by that time the necessary amount shall have been raised.

The River Road.

About forty business men of Salisbury and Trappe district met at Shad Point last Tuesday to consider the proposition to bridge Tony Tank Creek and extend the road down the river. Capt. T. W. H. White acted as chairman and Mr. R. Frank Williams as secretary of the meeting.

The proposition is to have the county make a forty foot shell road from Camden along the line of the old river road to the creek, bridge the creek and extend the road along the river into Trappe district, thus bringing a large territory closer to Salisbury.

Those present at the meeting unanimously endorsed the proposition, and it was agreed that the committee should appear before the County Commissioners at their next meeting, August 5th to urge the matter.

Those present at the meeting last Tuesday were L. E. Williams, L. W. Gunby, A. A. Gillis, W. J. Downing, Rev. Dr. A. E. Holloway, C. R. Disharoon, R. Frank Williams, W. Henry Brewington, E. Denson, T. W. H. White, Robt. J. Chatham, A. L. Brewington, Saml. P. Jenkins, Chas. D. Williams, J. K. L. Malone, Gabriel Banks, James W. Williams, G. D. Washburn, W. H. H. Cooper, Hubert Bounds, John W. Lawrence, Granville Banks, B. P. Levering, B. E. Harcum, H. W. Denson, Fred Williams, Levin Carey, Elijah Townsend, Eddie Smith, Elmer Townsend.

Last Sunday's Storm.

A heavy rain fell in Salisbury and the southern part of the county last Sunday afternoon. The water fell in clouds and sheets, and in a very few minutes the lower places in the streets were converted into small ponds. Accompanying the rain were thunder and lightning and a high wind.

The only damage done was to a few already decaying and weak trees in different sections of the city. Street Commissioner Kennerly came from under cover and, with a force of men, soon had the streets clear of obstructions. It is supposed that the disturbance was the tail end of the destructive storm which visited Baltimore on that day.

During the week now closing copious showers have fallen, and vegetation is in a flourishing condition.

One of the heaviest rains of the season fell between 12 and 1 o'clock today, Friday. Portions of the streets were flooded and for a time traffic was at a standstill.

The Alfalfa Crop in Kent County.

Chestertown, Md., July 18.—President Sylvester, of the Maryland Agricultural College, has been in Kent this week investigating alfalfa. Hundreds of acres of this grass are being planted and it is a most remarkable feed. Jos. R. Uellton planted five acres and has cut it twice. The first time he got 16 large wagon loads and the second time 15 extra big loads. He will be able to cut the grass twice more. The feed from this grass is a boon to farmers, as a ton of it is equal to a ton of bran.

SYNEPUXENT SEEKS ENTRANCE.

Another Telephone Line Between Salisbury and Berlin to be Built if Franchise is Granted.

The Synepuxent Telephone Company of Berlin, Md., have applied to the County Commissioners for a franchise to erect telephone lines throughout the county. The Commissioners have held the matter under consideration until a delegation of the stock holders can appear before them and state more fully their object in securing a franchise and what inducements they can offer in the way of service and low rates.

The Synepuxent Company is located in Berlin with Mr. Oliver D. Collins as President and Mr. L. L. Dirickson Jr., as Treasurer and General Manager.

In an interview with a reporter of the ADVERTISER, Mr. Dirickson said, "If we are granted a franchise we will run an independent line from Berlin to Salisbury. This is our primary object and it is to keep the two points in close communication that we are seeking an entrance into Wicomico. Unless this is done it looks as if telephone intercourse will practically cease, as the Synepuxent has all the phones in Berlin and the citizens have refused to substitute phones of any other company for them. The Diamond State people have tried and utterly failed to get in the town. Of course they will have a Central phone but this will be of little use without connecting phones throughout the town."

It is thought that a delegation will shortly appear before the Commissioners and make plain their intended plans.

The business relations between Salisbury, Berlin and Ocean City are so close that it would be a serious inconvenience to have any interruption in the telephone service. For this reason it is to be hoped a thorough and impartial hearing will be granted the new company.

ANOTHER PEST FOR TOMATOES.

Has Visited the Fields in South Jersey and Is Known as the "Tomato Aphid."

Our farmers can congratulate themselves that the "tomato aphid" has not struck Maryland yet. New Jersey has a new pest to contend with and tomato growers are distressed over the appearance of what threatens to destroy their crops. The tips of the plant are covered with large sized insects and among these is appearing a large slender slug. The insect is what is known as the "tomato aphid," which lives on the juices of the plant, and the slug is a larva and a voracious feeder upon the aphid only. This larva is friendly and calls for protection. The perfect insect wages a no less relentless warfare and is possessed of an insatiable appetite.

Mr. Allen's Wheel Found.

Four weeks ago tonight, while Mr. W. F. Allen was sitting in the office of the Wicomico Building & Loan Association, his wheel was taken from the curb stone. Diligent search was made for it but it could not be located. Mr. Allen instructed Policeman Elliott to take up the case and clear away the mystery. A clue was obtained and followed up, with the result that a young colored man whose name is Joe Truitt, of Ward Cross Roads, Delaware, was this week arrested on the charge of stealing the wheel. He confessed to the theft, saying that he took the wheel from the place where Mr. Allen had left it. He is now in the Salisbury jail awaiting a trial.

Policeman Elliott has returned the wheel to Mr. Allen after some difficulties for the negro had traded it for a watch, and the man with whom he traded had again exchanged the wheel for something else. Before Mr. Elliott could get it there had to be an all around swapping back of property.

Salisbury Continues Winning.

The newly organized base ball team from Snow Hill came to Salisbury on Tuesday and started a series of games with the home club. The game itself was too one sided to be very interesting and the four hundred spectators grew weary of the contest before the nine innings were finished. The score at the end was Salisbury 18, Snow Hill 0. For the home team Schuler's play at third was brilliant and he showed much improvement over last year. Harmon in Left and Ulman in Right also deserve mention for very pretty running catches. Richardson at second marked his re entry into the game by playing without an error. For Snow Hill Aydelotte pitched a good game but had miserable support and finally gave way to Colons in the seventh. The Snow Hill club has just been organized and will no doubt play a much stronger game as the season advances. The players all behaved in a very quiet and gentlemanly manner.

OATS JUMP TO 70 CENTS.

Corner in Chicago Hits Price Only One Cent Under Panic Figures of Long Ago.

Chicago, July 24.—July oats and the cash article of standard grades today advanced to 70 cents, only 1 cent under the panic prices of 1867 and 1874, and in excess of the present price of July corn.

July oats opened unchanged at 67 cents, but owing to the scarcity of supplies it needed only the purchase of 20,000 bushels wanted by shorts to send the price up to the figure mentioned.

The situation in July oats is termed a natural corner, although one influential trader, Mayor Patten of Evanston, is long a considerable percentage of the stuff which has been sold.

The situation was brought about chiefly by the weather. Traders habitually bearish sold heavily short on prospects of a good crop, but receipts for some time, owing to the bad weather, have been coming in crib lots, with the percentage of contract very small.

A plan was set in motion to bring a train load of oats from California to relieve the plight of the short interests, but the scheme was abandoned, as it was found that it would be impossible to work the c-rail through to elevators before August 1.

A Giant Has Fallen.

During one of the severe electrical storms which have passed over the county this month, lightning descended upon the magnificent old white oak at the south end of Spring Hill lane and almost annihilated it. Only a splintered, shivered and bare trunk remains to mark the spot where has stood perhaps two centuries a grand tree which was a familiar object to several generations of forefathers and under whose spreading boughs both man and beast were wont to pause for shelter and refreshment.

Indeed it is probable the Nanticoke Indians, who are supposed to have built the beautiful mound, in the same neighborhood, known as "Spring Hill," knew and prized this giant of the forest. It is certain that in more recent days the young farmers of lower Sussex and this county who resorted to Spring Hill lane for their horse races and sprinting contests used the tree as a judges' stand, and many an exciting ride has been witnessed from its friendly and hospitable boughs. If this tree had possessed the power of speech a most interesting page of local history could here be recorded. As it is it can be said that a mighty giant has fallen.

What To Wear in Traveling.

It is a fact worth knowing that the keynote of the perfect costume is its suitability. Especially is this true of traveling, for there comfort goes hand in hand with charm. The more appropriate the costume, the more enjoyable the journey and the more fascinating the traveler. The sense of being just right enhances beauty, brightens conversation and tends to drive off fatigue; therefore, what to wear traveling becomes a question of special significance to the woman who is contemplating a short trip or a long one during vacation time. Her clothes should be comfortable—thoroughly so—as well as appropriate and smart in effect. Materials which are dust-proof and light in weight should invariably be chosen for the traveling gown. Hats should be cool and simply trimmed, and heavy shoes and thick gloves should always be left at home.

The silk traveling-gown is all the vogue this season. It is made of the unfinished taffeta, which is soft rather than crisp, and as it neither wrinkles nor spots it is sure to prove serviceable. Light-weight English tweed will wear well and not show the dust, and for a long journey is highly to be recommended, while for the day excursion or the short trip linen crash, Panama Java stamine or pongee are all appropriate materials.—July Woman's Home Companion.

Special Trains to Hebron Camp.

Hair Falls

"I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop my hair from falling. One-half a bottle cured me."
J. C. Baxter, Braidwood, Ill.

Ayer's Hair Vigor is certainly the most economical preparation of its kind on the market. A little of it goes a long way. It doesn't take much of it to stop falling of the hair, make the hair grow, and restore color to gray hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

ONE THIRD OFF!! For 30 Days Only

At E. Lachman's

FASHIONS AT SARATOGA.

A White Summer; Inartistic Outlines; Lace Coats And Jackets; Individual Gowns.

One of the most salient features in dress, is the great predominance of white. Pure white for morning, is usually in pique or canvas and ivory white in thin wool fabrics. This it is, perhaps which has brought about a general preference for skirts to match in color, the independent waists of the season, or for entire dresses, rather than the contrast of a black skirt bringing into relief, the gay or delicately toned waist. The latter it is true, still is seen, but to a very limited extent, compared with the former. Thus with rather heavy morning skirts of pique and other substantial materials, are seen the lightest possible waists, many showing lace insertions between sheer white goods.

UNDER THE TREES.

therefore or flitting back and forth to springs, appear white clothed figures all presenting much the same swathed outlines, but with great differences in detail, especially as to waists, where the ingenuity of many brains, have contrived varieties inexpressible. Fortunately, the extremely inartistic and ungraceful bagging front with upper portion compressed and lower hanging like a pudding bag, is not obligatory and now and then may be seen some women having a womanly form, who refuses thus to disfigure herself and adheres to the natural order of things. But of course these baggy waists are a refuge to the thin and they being by all odds the majority, still carry the day.

LACE COATS

are among the smartest articles of dress seen at Saratoga. They appear in different sizes from jackets worn as a finish to the dress, to long examples or perhaps short, with lengthened ends in front, tails at the back, being also a feature. A short lace jacket as a completion to a gown, is much in favor and the kinds of lace used, vary from thin to heavy. Loose three quarter lace sacques, some finished with chiffon ruffles, are noticeable in the morning hours or on drives and for evening or afternoon, coquettish little garments fall to the waist or below the hips and for these too, plaited ruffles of chiffon are fashionable. A touch of Empire styles is sometimes given by a scarf around the bust or a velvet or rich silk band may be fastened by large buttons. Some handsome coats are made in batiste embroidered and it may be well to note that all lace coats have thin linings usually mousseline or very thin taffeta silk.

HIP YOKES

are extremely fashionable and a stylish gown worn by a visitor from the West, whose elegant figure, and hair of Titian red and beautiful face, attracts much attention, appeared for a drive, wearing a dress of ecru pongee with box plaited skirt, the plait flowing loose at the bottom; cluster tucked waist with embroidered white net yoke finished by a white satin band embroidered in black silk, the prelude to black and white cord and tassel ornaments; tucked bishop sleeves, with cuffs to match yoke; crushed white satin belt. Gowns showing flat plaits all around, are the more acceptable, because exceptional and when flowing loose at the bottom, produces a more natural flare than the circular flounce.

CREPE DE CHINE

composes some of the most elegant gowns noticeable, and an example worn by a belle from Philadelphia, is in pale rose color; the scalloped tunic is embroidered in self color and draped over a plaited flounce of the material. The blouse waist is adorned with lace bands and opens over a tucked chiffon yoke; bell sleeves have lace finished cuffs with embroidered frills.

NOTES AND NOTIONS.

The Tale of Ammi Innitt by Josh Wink

Now, behold, there was a man whose name was Ammi Innitt.

And he was the son of Iszy Innitt, who was the son of Wozzy Innitt, who was descended from the patriarch, Gettin Innitt.

And Ammi Innitt made conversation with himself, saying:

"Lo, the summer is come and the warm wave is here, and the voice of the soft crab dealer is heard in the land;

"Yet am I still wearing the raiment wherewith I decked myself withal when it was yet winter.

"Yes, verily, I seem as one who is more fitted to gambol about the Christmas trees than to bask in the shadow of the linden.

"Now, therefore, must I get a move upon myself and array myself in garments bright and fair to see.

"That I may shine as a summer man."

And he went unto them that sell glad raiment for mankind.

And told them that he would fain garb himself even unto the limit, for he was a larlapalooza, as the common speech hath it.

And he gat himself shoes that were cut low in the ankle and high in the price, and that sat upon his feet in such wise that they looked like unto pumpkin seeds fastened against darning needles.

He put upon his feet also hosiery, the which was red and blue and green.

With open-work between the stripes and fligree work up and down thereupon.

For trousers he procured them that are made of crash, that there might be harmony between them and the sound of his horse.

And he spent many shekels for a shirtwaist, that was tucked about the bosom and ruffled about the shoulders;

And the color thereof was as a dying sunset upon which had been hurled many rad eggs.

About his alabaster neck he twined a stock that was voluminous and noisy, And resembled a prayer rug.

Then for a hat to go upon his head he sought them that deal in panamas.

And when the dealer had told him that they who make the panama hat do work the braid under the water.

And how that they who make the imitation panama do imitate the working of the imitation braid under imitation water.

He took forth his purse and spent all that he had for an imitation panama.

Then was he a joy unto the sight and a gladness unto the eye.

And the people marveled greatly at him, saying one to another:

"Lo, but look upon Ammi Innitt, the son of Iszy Innitt, the son of Wozzy Innitt, the son of Gettin Innitt.

"Is he not also the brother of Putme Innitt, and the cousin of Mostly Innitt?"

"And is he not a gladsome spectacle?"

But there came a time when Ammi Innitt was upon the street and the rain descended and the floods came and beat upon his raiment.

And the imitation panama became as an imitation haystack.

And the crash trousers shrank within themselves unto the diameter of a belt, and choked him mightily.

And many other things happened unto him.

For all them that had hailed him with joyful speeches now kidded the life of him.

And he went unto the habitation and hid himself, that he might wait until the time of the winter came again.

How, many there be that are of the tribe of Innitt.

Today they are cheered unto the echo and a few feet beyond.

And tomorrow they are given the hoarse hoot and the merry ha ha.

For such is life.

It is not so, even as it is written here on in perspiration and much strong language toward the weatherman.

—JOSH WINK.

Advertising Truths.

The man who advertises is the man who gets the dough.

A business that isn't worth advertising isn't worth wasting time over.

You never know how much your business can amount to until you advertise and find out.

The public has a short memory. That's the reason that a business to continue profitable must be advertised continuously.

No big business has ever been built up with a publicity given it by judicious advertising, and in this era of advertising it is more than ever important that a business expecting success should be liberally advertised.

After advertising has built a flourishing business the work of the ad. writer is by no means at an end. It remains for him to keep the business in a prosperous condition with the co operation of the other departments.—St. Louis Ad. Writer.

The thirteenth annual reunion of the Reformed Church of Maryland, the District of Columbia, Southern Pennsylvania and the Virginia began at Fox Mar yesterday. Fully 6000 persons attended the opening exercises, big excursions being run from all points.

The strike of carpenters at Cumberland has grown, there being now 98 men out, virtually ending building operations, pending an adjustment of the trouble. The men demand a nine hour day, with eight hours on Saturday. Both sides express a determination to hold out.

Glenn Ohler, an 11-year old tailor's boy of Hagerstown, nearly lost his life while gratifying his passion for inhaling the fumes of gasoline. He was found unconscious, with his head immersed in the fluid, and doctors worked over him for some time before he was brought back to consciousness.

James McCreedy (colored) caused considerable excitement in Cambridge on Saturday night. He was chased through the streets by a mob after beating his wife. Five shots fired by a town policeman all went wild, but the negro was caught and jailed after an exhilarating hunt.

Mrs. Bussard and a friend were hurt at the Harmony Grove Crossing, on the Northern Central railroad by their horses taking fright at a train. A special train with doctors was run out from Frederick, and the injured ladies' wounds were dressed.

General Saunders, Captain Becker and others were at Belair on Saturday making preliminary arrangements for the encampment of the First Regiment at that place. They were much pleased with the site. Great local interest is taken in the coming encampment, which begins on August 2.

The citizens of Chestertown have raised the amount required to make up the $2,500 purchase money for additions to right of way needed to give access to the Pennsylvania Railroad for a station in the business center of the town.

Legal steps have been taken by representatives of the United States Coast Survey to recover several of the missing Mason and Dixon's line stones, which have been found in the possession of private parties, who refuse to give them up.

Work was begun last Monday on the foundation for the new North East Methodist Episcopal Church, the young men of the congregation having combined to tear down the old structure. It is estimated that over $500 has thus been saved.

The Commissioners of Kent County think the state's attorney has been making too much money out of his office and have cut down his fees about one half. His salary last year amounted to $21,100 48.

There is no prospect for the building of the Frederick and Baltimore electric line this summer on account of the scarcity of rails, and it is likely that the franchise will be extended by the Frederick authorities.

BORDEAUX MIXTURE.

A Formula Safely Used For Brown Rot of Peaches and Plums.

Many different formulas for making bordeaux mixture have been recommended, but it must be remembered that the foliage of the peach is more sensitive than that of other fruits, and serious damage will result if the solution is too strong.

We have used three pounds copper sulphate and six pounds of lime to forty-five gallons of water, but find some damage was done to the foliage of all the varieties to which it was applied, with the exception of Chinese Cling, Chinese Free and General Lee. These three varieties showed no bad effects, while slight injury was noticeable on the foliage of forty-seven varieties.

Where two and a half pounds of copper sulphate was used no injurious effects were noticeable, and the disease was held in check as well as where the stronger formula was used.

Our best results have been obtained where the first application was from bordeaux mixture made from the following formula: Six pounds copper sulphate, six pounds lime and forty-five gallons water. The applications that followed were made with bordeaux that contained two and a half pounds copper sulphate, five pounds lime and forty-five gallons water.

Place two and a half pounds of copper sulphate in a cloth sack and suspend in a wooden vessel containing twenty-five gallons of water, so that the copper sulphate will be covered with the water, and it will dissolve in about three or four hours.

Slake five pounds of quicklime in a small quantity of water, care being taken that a good smooth paste is made and is free from dirt and lumps. When the lime is slaked, add enough water to make twenty gallons.

When the copper sulphate has dissolved and the lime paste has been diluted to twenty gallons, the two are poured slowly together and mixed thoroughly by stirring for several minutes. —Professor Newman, South Carolina.

New Roses.

Some confusion exists in regard to the new hybrid tea rose shown as Helen Gould at the recent rose show in New York. It is claimed by some to be the same as the rose already known as Baldwin. However this may be, the rose is exciting considerable attention and comment. It is said to be excellent

THE NEW ROSE BALDWIN OR HELEN GOULD. For both out of door and greenhouse forcing. A cut of this rose is reproduced from American Gardening.

All those who succeed with Golden Gate will want Ivory. It is an ideal forcing rose and will doubtless secure a place for itself alongside of the Bride, which is saying a great deal. It is very prolific and of good constitution, and the quantity of flowers produced will commend it. Its sparsity of foliage is held against it by some, but the same objection holds against Golden Gate.

Setting a Vine.

Many think it is only a small matter to "stick out a vine," and it can be done at any odd time and in any sort of a way, and here is where the greatest number of failures occur. If the same vine with the same care (or lack of it) had been set in the field or along the fence, it would have been more apt to grow. The side of a wall is the place of all others that is not already prepared to receive a plant that is to climb, and this is emphatically true with new walls where the material, instead of being earth, is a mixture of mortar and brick, ashes, lath and plaster—in short, the refuse of the building yet not subdued by time and enriched by the overgrowth of grass. Remove all such rubbish by the bushel and in its place supply a mixture of rich soil and good manure. Into this favorable soil place the well rooted vine as carefully as one would set a young orchard or vineyard plant. The plant is peculiarly exposed and needs a guard placed around it, or it will get pulled up, trodden down or otherwise destroyed. Water is occasionally needed, and the stems sometimes require aid in getting hold of the wall, if ivy, or a support must be provided. The vine is still small, weak and tender.

Does It Pay to Grade Strawberries? We try to put our best pickers on the good fruit, using little carriers carrying four to six quarts, but for ordinary berries it doesn't pay you to grade them. Where they run uneven and you have some very large and some very small ones it pays to sort them; but, considering the low prices we get for berries, it does not pay to spend too much time on them.—A New Jersey Fruit Grower.

THE CARE OF ROADS

IMPORTANCE OF SELECTING A GOOD HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER.

He Should Devote His Entire Time to the Work and Know All About Roadbuilding—Wide Tires Preserve Highways.

W. Pierpont White, secretary of the Onondaga county (N. Y.) League For Good Roads, in speaking before the Utica chamber of commerce recently about roadbuilding said:

"In roadbuilding the main object is to get the greatest length of the best road for the least money. The best road will have the location which will give the best drainage and the easiest grades and will serve the most traffic. The best road will have the design and construction which will give a perfectly drained bed of dry earth supporting a smooth and water tight surface. This will enable it to shed water with least delay, to endure frost with least change, to carry traffic with least wear, to carry heaviest loads with least effort, to carry light loads speedily and with least jolt. The best location and design of a road can only be made after a thorough survey and careful location by a civil engineer who has had experience in designing and building roads.

"The man who has charge of the roads in a town is called the highway commissioner. What kind of a man should we have as highway commissioner? We want a man who is free to give his entire time to the care of the roads from one end of the year to the other. Each town has upward of sixty miles of highway to be taken care of. The New York Central railroad in the care of its four tracks between Albany and Utica, a distance of ninety-five miles, has a civil engineer and 35 section bosses in charge of 280 to 350 men in the summer and 175 to 210 men in the winter, all constantly at work keeping the roadbed free from water and the ditches open. The proposition which a highway commissioner must meet in the care of the roads of his town is exactly the same proposition that a railroad has to meet in the care of its roadbed.

"The highway commissioner must be a man who can start in the spring of the year with a plow, opening the ditches on each side of the road. This in a town of sixty miles of highways gives him a furrow 120 miles long to be opened at the melting of the snow in order to take the water away from the surface of the road. This work must be followed as soon as the earth is dry enough to handle by his team and the road scraper. The road should be made wide enough for two teams to pass easily and crowned to a sufficient height to throw the water easily to the ditches. Too high a crown produces ruts when the road is used. Too low a crown holds the water in the center of the road. The most satisfactory crown calls for a rise of six inches in the center of an eighteen foot road. This will throw the water fast enough to keep the road from getting soft and does not expose the road to rutting.

"The sluices in each town should be numbered and a record kept of them and the dates when repairs are made on them. Wooden sluices should be done away with and iron sluices or tile sluices put in their place. The continued renewal of wooden sluices is a constant expense to the town, whereas the introduction of tile or iron sluices would soon provide the town with permanent sluicing, and very little expense would be incurred from year to year in their maintenance. The highway commissioner must see to it that the loose stones are removed from the highways at least once in thirty days, and a prudent man does it oftener.

"The highway commissioner should be an active, energetic man, capable of engaging and discharging men in his employ, capable of handling teams in the use of the road machines, capable of building a ditch so that he won't try to run water up hill, capable of figuring on masonry for culverts, capable of handling any small contract and able to lay out his work from year to year so that the roads can be constantly improved through the operation of a systematic plan of development. When you have a good highway commissioner, never let him out of office.

"It is worse than useless to create expensive and valuable highways to have them only cut to pieces by the use of narrow tires as now used for the hauling of heavy loads in this state. When you have got a good thing, it costs you money, and you must take care of it and change your methods to help maintain it. Wide tires are of the greatest value in preserving ordinary dirt roads. A state wide tire law should be passed, simple in its requirements, positive in its enforcement, and going into operation two years from this date in order to permit every wagon user to have ample time to adapt his wagon tires to the new law in the interest of road maintenance."

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Jonas Jones, who in slavery times was owned by the late George Austen, of Baltimore county, and who served the Austen family faithfully after emancipation, died at Atlantic City, N. J., a few days ago, at the remarkable age of 103 years. He was a man of the utmost reliability, and the members of the family thought a great deal of him. When no longer able to perform any work he was cared for by them, and one member of the family said that he had a decent interment. Such faithful service for long years is a man's memory should be held in high esteem. Jones was well known to many people in the central section of Baltimore county, and no doubt they will be glad to learn that he was well cared for up to the time of his death.

The Best Linctant for Strains.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of every family. This is not intended as a free pull for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by Dr. R. K. Truitt & Son.

A. N. Arbaugh of Woodberry, Md., is wanted at Westminster on the peculiar charge of stealing a crop of rice from his own land. He owns a few acres in Carroll county, but had neglected to pay the taxes upon the land, so Collector Stricklin planted rice upon it, from the sale of which he intended to pay the taxes. The crop was harvested, but when Stricklin sought to haul it away it had disappeared, and there was a notice posted ordering him not to trespass. Arbaugh will be arrested for the larceny of the rice.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dizziness and melancholia at first, then unightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress.

Henry J. Helfrich of Sinclairville, Allegany county, has located his wife, who disappeared recently with her little daughter, in Pittsburgh, whither she had followed the carnival company which recently exhibited in Cumberland. The woman refused to return to her husband, who is in comfortable circumstances, but he will not ask a divorce.

Mother Always Keeps It Handy.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains and general ill health due primarily to indigestion," says L. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now, at the age of seventy-six, eats anything she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has her bottle of Kodol handy." Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is sound your health will be good. Kodol rests the stomach and strengthens the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic.

The Deer Creek Farmers' Club on Saturday held a meeting at Mr. James Lee's residence near Churchville. Oyster protection and legislation was the order of the evening, and resolutions were adopted demanding action by the next Legislature for the protection of the oyster from extinction. The Club proposes to urge upon the State League of Farmers' Clubs and Grangers a "campaign of education" on this subject.

Between the ages of fifteen and forty five, the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed! Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost. Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, the brightness from the eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon then to woman, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulceration, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigorous and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The above portrait is that of Countess Mogelstud, of Chicago, Ill., whose gratitude for the benefit received from the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine prompted her to make this statement:

"It affords me great pleasure to add my testimony to the very excellent merits of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Although I am past 80 years of age I find it soothes the tired brain, quiets the irritated nerves and insures restful sleep. I never feel contented without a bottle of it in the house." Order of Publication

Joshua E. Lewis vs. Ida Lewis. No 1416 Chancery in the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, Md.

The object of this suit is that the said Joshua E. Lewis may procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the said Ida Lewis.

The bill states that the said parties were married on the 17th day of December, 1893, and that they lived together until about May, 1898, since which time complainant has lived in Wicomico County, Maryland; that though the conduct of the complainant towards the defendant has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the defendant, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted complainant, and declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that the said separation and abandonment has continued uninterrupted for at least three years, is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, this 8th day of July, in the year nineteen hundred and two, by the Circuit Court for Wicomico County, in Equity, ordered that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in said Wicomico County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of August nineteen hundred and two, give notice to the absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 1st day of September next, to show cause, if any she have, why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

—President Roosevelt talked hot stuff at the trusts and then went off to dinner at the palace of Henry C. Frick, one of the trustees of the trusts.—Atlanta Constitution.

—The republicans are taking great credit to themselves because of the President's decision in the case of General Jacob H. Smith, whom Mr. Roosevelt has ordered to be immediately retired. In so doing, however, they seem to lose sight of the fact that had it not been for the publicity given to the facts connected with the Waller massacre and the Smith orders, by the democratic members of the Senate, General Smith would never have been court-martialed nor would the attention of the President ever have been called to his conduct. In reality, the action of the President is a vindication of those democrats whom the republicans have been charging with maligning the army. If the exposure of such conduct as that of which General Smith and Major Waller were guilty, constitutes an attack on the army, then the democrats were guilty of such an attack, but if, as the President maintains, their conduct was "a disgrace to the army," then, the democrats who endeavored to secure their removal were the real friends of the army, rather than those republicans who attempted primarily to conceal, and subsequently to defend their acts.

THE WONDERS OF ADVERTISING.

The Salisbury ADVERTISER is a country newspaper published every Saturday. Its advertising columns are well patronized by the local merchants and business men because it is to them a good investment.

The paper being a local weekly of course it is supposed to cater to a local patronage only. Some recent facts, however, prove that as an advertising medium it has a wider and more extended sphere.

Recently Mr. Frank Powell of the firm of Brittingham & Powell, of this city, inserted the following notice in the Salisbury papers.

"TEN DOLLARS REWARD"

for the return of my setter dog answering to the name of "Doc." Has black head with white stripe down nose, black spot on rump and small black spots all over white ground, $10 to the man who returns him to me.

H. FRANK POWELL,
 Brittingham & Powell.

The dog was a highly prized possession and his owner had almost given up hope of his recovery. This week Mr. Powell called at the office and proudly announced that his dog had been located at Bridgeville, Del., as a result of the notice in this paper.

More remarkable still was the experience of Mr. W. F. Allen who had one more type-writer than he needed. Thinking that somebody in the community would want the machine if it was known that such a one was for sale, he inserted a "For Sale" ad. in the ADVERTISER, and it was advertised in no other medium. In due time inquiries began to come in. Among them was one from a town in Massachusetts.

This astonished even the publishers for while they remembered that several copies of the paper are mailed weekly to the Bean State, they never dreamed that a Yankee would pay attention to the advertising matter, much less open negotiations for the purchase of an article advertised in its columns.

Moral: What a good advertisement inserted in a good medium will do, is a wonder!

Smash-Up At Easton.

Easton, Md., July 24.—The grandstand on the Easton ball grounds collapsed today in the midst of an exciting game of ball between the Easton and Oxford teams. The stand was full of people, and a number were bruised considerably, but all escaped without broken limbs.

As Brother Haddaway Sees It.
 An Industrial School for colored children, whatever that may mean, is to be started in Salisbury. The fact gives the Salisbury Advertiser an opportunity to brag about the Salisbury plant, and to rhapsodically, almost hysterically, recommend this means to "elevate the race." We are surprised at the Salisbury Advertiser and its usual level head. The policy of the State is to have negro "industrial schools" for the instruction of young colored people in the industrial arts and sciences and the art of domestic economy. This last attempt to coddle the negro is destined to be the most lamentable failure of them all; and, if carried into effect it will largely increase the army of street loafers.

Does not the Advertiser know that every kitchen, every cornfield, every stable, every brick building to be erected is an industrial school run practically by farmers, housewives, bricklayers, stable proprietors, &c? But the young negroes as a mass will not attend such industrial schools as these, because they have to work there.

They will leave the fields, and the kitchens, even those who have been at work and are learning practically how to do things to attend the State's theoretical industrial schools. Such a school for the negroes as is described for Salisbury is a positive curse in any community. The good people of Salisbury should rise up in protest against it.

Does the School Board of Wicomico propose to have these negroes taught trades whereby their cheap and unskilled labor will be brought into competition with white carpenters, masons, plasterers, painters, &c? If not, what is the object of all this expenditure of money?

What Maryland wants for the negroes is not industrial schools, but a good apprenticeship law. Apprentice the negro boys and girls to white people, and they will be taught something; above all, they will be taught to work and to work hard. Industrial schools will never accomplish this. They will make lazy children out of those who have some spark of industry in them.—Easton Ledger.

News to the truth concerning men, nations and things. That is, truth concerning them which is helpful, or pleasant, or useful, or necessary for a reader to know.

The annual Sunday School excursion of the Methodist Protestant Church will be run Tuesday, August 19.

Quite a number of persons from Salisbury attended the camp meeting at Bivalve Sunday.

Read the advertisement of the Maryland Agricultural College in this issue of the ADVERTISER.

Next Tuesday, July 29, is the date of the excursion of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Sunday School to Ocean City.

The Mite Society of Trinity M. E. Church South will hold a lawn party Tuesday evening, July 29, on the vacant lot on Division Street.

Master Vaughn Richardson is now the happy possessor of a very pretty pony. Master Vaughn says he has named his pony Lola and is open for a deal with "some of des orsmen."

Prices in the cities for tomatoes are so low that a number of the growers in the county are urging the canning houses to begin operation so as to give them a market for their produce.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run an excursion to Atlantic City on August 5, 12, and 26, respectively. The round trip fare from Delmar will be $2.50. The train will leave Delmar at 4.20 A. M.

Zion M. E. Church, Fruitland charge will hold a festival on July 30th, if weather is favorable, if not on following day. There will be a spread supper, come one and all have a good time.

Thomas C. Horsey of Laurel is being earnestly urged by Little Creek hundred for the Democratic nomination for Representative in Congress from Delaware.

Messrs Wm. S. Phillips and W. F. A. Humphreys are erecting a cannery at Parsonsburg, where they expect to put up a quantity of tomatoes. The farmers of the community are growing a considerable acreage for the factory.

Asbury M. E. Sunday School will go on its annual excursion to Ocean City Wednesday August 6. Ample accommodations will be made not only for the members of the church and school but their friends as well.

In our advertising columns will be found the advertisement of Washington College, Chestertown. This is one of the oldest and best educational institutions in the state and has rapidly pushed to the front in the past few years.

St. Elmo Todd, of the B. C. & A. Railway Co., has been appointed Captain of the steamer Tred Avon, of the Claiborne route. Mr. Todd has been in the Company's service ever since the construction of the Baltimore and Eastern Shore Railroad.

At last Tuesday's meeting of the County Commissioners, Dr. Todd was given instructions to have the fountain in front of Court House Square again put in good running condition. The fountain is a great convenience to numbers of people who will be glad to see the repairs made.

Mr. J. C. Kelly brought to the ADVERTISER office this week a white potato of peculiar growth. The main tuber was about five and a half inches long, and about it from different points had grown four other smaller ones at right angles with the parent root.

A letter from our old friend Harry Phillips, proprietor of the Atlantic hotel, Chincoteague Island, conveys the information that the annual pony penning on Assateague Island will this year be held on August 19th., and on Chincoteague Island on August 20th. Harry expects a large party of his Salisbury friends present on this occasion.

A rural mail carrier in Indiana has invested a year's salary in the purchase of an automobile, believing that it will not only ensure good service but will prove more economical in the end than the purchase and care of a horse. If his experiment justifies his estimate, the use of automobiles in the rural mail service will doubtless become general.

An exchange says: Just about this time of the year city folks suddenly recall their "dear" relations in the country and employ every subterfuge, from a remote hint to an assumed standing invitation to escape the sweltering city. Some of these same people would tremble at the thought of their rustic cousins visiting them in the city.

Arrangements have been made for a race next Thursday afternoon at the grounds of the Country Club. A. S. Ferdue's "Raymond Bell," W. B. Miller's "Winniewood," and Wm. M. Day's "James S." will be the contestants in the first race and R. Lee Waller's "Peter Jackson" and David Ward's "Lady Godfrey" in the second.

Ex-Judge of the Orphans' Court, King V. White, of Powellville, was in Salisbury last Tuesday. Like a good many of the other thoughtful and most progressive citizens of the county, Mr. White is beginning to realize the great blessings the people would derive from good roads. He thinks the county should adopt a progressive policy in the matter of road improvement.

School Examiner Bounds has engaged Mr. W. P. Todd of Lexington, Va., as principal of the Salisbury Colored Grammar School. The efforts of the new Principal will be more particularly directed to the Industrial Department of the School. Mr. Todd comes very highly recommended and it is thought he is well qualified for the work he is to undertake.

For the past week a Sea Lion has been seen sporting in the waters of the Choptank. He was first seen by several crabbers off the mouth of Trappe river, and on Tuesday last was seen over in Rich Neck. Several crabbers were badly frightened by the Lion about daybreak Wednesday morning when he came up immediately in front of one boat and growled and snapped fiercely at a crab line. Where the Lion came from no one around here seems to know, as it is the first one ever seen in the Choptank.—Dorchester Era.

NOLLE PROS. FOR APPLGARATH.

Governor Smith Acts in Response to Numerous Petitions.

Governor Smith yesterday granted a nolle prosequi in the case of the State against Senator William F. Applgarth, of Dorchester county.

Some weeks ago, the grand jury at its recent session in Dorchester county found three indictments against Mr. Applgarth. One charged him with violating the Local Option law and the other two with embezzlement.

The announcement of the finding of the grand jury created much comment throughout the State, and especially on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where Mr. Applgarth is widely known. Immediately after returning the indictment a movement was started among his friends with a view to stopping further proceedings, and petitions and letters began to pour in on Governor Smith requesting him to nolle prosequi the indictments. Governor Smith reviewed the petitions and decided to act in the matter.

The Governor in explaining why he granted the nolle prosequi stated that it was recommended by the unanimous court—Judges Page, Holland and Lloyd. In addition to this a majority of the bar, the clergymen of the county, bankers, brokers, and in fact, people without distinction or party favored and urged such action.

A petition is being circulated among the members of the Baltimore bar asking the Governor to appoint Judge J. Upshur Dennis for the interim which ensues between the time when his term expires this fall and the date upon which his successor will be elected next year. The petition has been signed by almost every attorney in Baltimore, and will be presented to Governor Smith as soon as the canvass is complete. The 15 years for which Judge Dennis was elected end this fall, while the election of his successor will not occur until next year. This leaves a term of several months, for which the Governor will appoint a judge, ad interim.

The people of Sharp's Run have been enjoying their camp this week. The tents are said to be very fine and grounds beautiful and a great many of the town people away have come home to enjoy the camp. The attendance is reported not to have been as large as was expected. The camp ground is enclosed with a wire fence and an admission of five cents is charged, but this admits visitor two days. Ernest Roadvigne made a trip to the camp on Thursday. The attendance on Thursday was largest.

At a meeting of the School Board last Monday the applications of several trustees and representative men in several sections of the county for repairs, removals and improvements of school houses and some for new buildings were heard. Miss Beulah Messick's resignation of scholarship to State Normal School was accepted and Miss Frances L. Davis, daughter of E. G. Davis was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Sheriff Fooks reports that while on the farm of Mr. John M. Brown, recently, he observed that lightning had run a considerable distance down a wire fence. He said Mr. Brown told him that he believed lightning ran entirely around the fence which encloses a pasture and is perhaps a half mile in length. Some of the fence posts were torn up and others were set on fire.

Messrs. Glenmore and Albert Ellis have purchased the stock of goods and leased the store of Mr. T. E. Adkins, corner Division and Church Streets. Mr. Adkins will leave very shortly for Jersey City where he will engage in business. Mrs. Adkins, whose parents reside there, has been in Jersey City several weeks.

Lightning struck two houses in South Salisbury during today's, Friday's, storm. One house belongs to Mr. Isaac W. Ennis. Only slight damage was done. The other house is the one occupied by Mr. Jas. McAllister. Mrs. Cordry, who was visiting at the house was shocked.

The Rockwalking and Siloam base ball nines engaged in a contest upon the diamond on Saturday last. The score was standing 10-7 in favor of Siloam but on account of some trouble with the umpire the game was forfeited (9-0) to Rockwalking.

The Democratic primaries in Talbot County have been called for Saturday, August 2nd. It is thought that an instructed delegation will be sent to the Ocean City convention for the Hon. Jos. B. Seth for Congress.

Mr. W. A. Slaton, the Coca Cola man, was in town this week scattering Coca Cola tickets and good cheer broad cast. Mr. Slaton is a genial young gentleman and makes many friends wherever he goes.

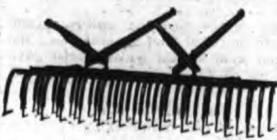

The junior nine of Salisbury played a corresponding team of Princess Anne on Wednesday in town. The game resulted in victory for Salisbury, the score being 16-6.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

You may say I am safe from all of them and happy. You may not be as safe as you think for. The heat of summer causes organic matter to decay everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment one hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned and thrown out of order, sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. The proper thing to do is to use Fruit's Cholera Mixture, the only reliable, safe remedy because it cures diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, cramp colic, etc.

How Can Lacy Thoroughgood Sell Clothing And Hats That Are So Much Better For The Money Than Anybody Else Can? He Can't Only He Does. That's It.

If another store should buy as much, buy as cheap and sell as much they could sell as good goods for the the money, but they don't. Two men walked into a one chair barber shop together. The barber didn't know either of them, but he soon got acquainted. He introduced himself to the first man and "SCRAPED" his acquaintance. What's the answer? After you figure that out you'll be prepared to answer the following Questions—How can Lacy Thoroughgood sell Clothing and Hats that are so much better for the money than anybody else can? He can't, only he does. This is a barberous joke. Now then laying all jokes aside, who do you think sells the best Clothing and Hats sold in Salisbury? Who do you think Sells the most Clothing and Hats sold in Salisbury? Lacy Thoroughgood does, THAT'S IT. Every mail brings Thoroughgood orders for Suits or Hats or Shirts or Collars or Cuffs or something to wear. One man wrote Thoroughgood from Princess Anne Yesterday inclosing $12.00 and says "Send me the best suit you can afford to send for the money. I bought a suit of clothes from you in 1899 and it's a pretty good looking suit yet, but it's too long in the tail. I'll leave it to your own judgment about the pattern—You know down here in Somerset we think Thoroughgood's goods are O. K.—Lacy Thoroughgood has hundreds of just such customers all over the country everywhere." Any day you see fit to pay Thoroughgood's Store a visit you'll find it patronized by people who appreciate good goods and fair treatment.

HOPELESS CASES.

When the doctor leaves and says the case is hopeless, what remains to be done? Nothing, if the doctor's word is final. Much, if you will listen to the statements of men and women who were once "hopeless cases" given up by doctors, and who were perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Nothing is more sure than that thousands of men and women with diseased lungs, obstinate coughs, hemorrhage, emaciation and night-sweats, have been restored to perfect health by the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery." Will it cure you?

It has cured in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred where it was given a fair and faithful trial. By that record you have only two chances in a hundred of failure and ninety-eight chances of being restored to perfect health. It is worth trying.

Abram Freer, Esq., of Rockbridge, Green Co., Ill., writes: "My wife had a severe attack of pleurisy and lung trouble; the doctors gave her up to die. She commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she began to improve from the first dose. By the time she had taken eight or ten bottles she was cured, and it was the cause of a large amount being sold here. I think the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is the best medicine in the world for lung trouble."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser containing over a thousand large pages is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. L. S. ADAMS. Of Galveston, Texas.

"Wine of Cardui is indeed a blessing to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and bearing-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of these ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? All druggists have $1.00 bottles. For any stomach, liver or bowel disorder, Theford's Black-Draught should be used.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, July 20.—There are a scent of the pines and an atmosphere of the country in this sermon by Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage from the text Mark vi, 31, "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest awhile."

A desert place! What does that mean? Is Christ bidding his disciples follow him over a great sea of sand? Does he want his companions to lose themselves among the endless dunes and live where neither beast nor bird nor fish nor insect can live? Does he desire them to be terror-stricken at the moanings of the simooms or to be smothered in one of those awful desert windstorms and be there as completely lost as the merciless ocean can swallow down a shipwrecked crew and leave no trace where the watery jaws have opened and shut? No. Christ is not here alluding to a Mesopotamian or a Persian or a Sahara desert of sand. Christ is practically saying to his disciples, who are physically and mentally worn out from too much work: "Come, let us go out into the country where we can be alone. Let us go among the hills where we shall be separated from these throngs of people who are continually following us to be physically healed and spiritually fed. Let us go off alone, where we shall hear only the rustling of the leaves and the singing of the birds and the rippling of the brooks. Let us hie away into nature's haunts, where we can see the deer playing in the valleys and where we can stumble through the wild vines growing at our feet. Let us go away to the place where the shepherd leads his flocks among the fresh green pasture lands."

Every human body needs the recuperation of physical rest. When Daniel Webster made his last visit to John Adams, the aged ex-president said: "I am as well as any man of nearly ninety years could expect to be. I find I am afflicted with an incurable disease called old age. My spirit is occupying a very shaky tenement, and, as far as I can make out, sir, the Landlord does not intend to make any more repairs." That statement of John Adams was figuratively right and yet literally wrong. The human body, which was once created out of dust, is being recreated up to the very brink of the grave. We eat and drink and rest in order to give nourishment and strength to the bones, the muscles and the flesh. And rest is just as essential for the physical recreation as are food and water and light.

Why a Rest is Needed. The purpose of this sermon is to show that every hardworking Christian, at least once a year, should go out into the country and take a vacation, a prayerful rest, the same as Jesus' disciples, who left their work to take a rest. It is every Christian's duty at least once a year to leave the home, the store, the factory and have a complete change of scene and food. When Phoebe Cary came to die, looking up at her physician, she said: "Doctor, you can do nothing for me. The reason I am dying is because for years I would never take a rest. Even when I went off into the country I always took my books and pen and worked." Thousands and tens of thousands of the best brains and hearts of the pulpit, the bar, the medical offices and of all the Christian departments of life have young killed themselves in their young manhood and womanhood because they would not obey Christ's command and take a rest.

Satan is a great strategist. He rarely attacks his enemies in the places where he thinks they are invulnerable. He is always trying new schemes and plans. When Satan finds a true Christian who is consecrated to God's service, he immediately calls together his demonic lieutenants and says: "That man must be stopped in his career of good works. Those lips of his must be closed. That hand must be made helpless. That pure heart must be struck by some poisonous arrow. That foot of his must be led along the stony path of sin." No vision of earth can arouse Satan into such a frenzied passion as the sight of a good man consecrating his years to good works. So Satan, when he sees a good man consecrating his life to good deeds, immediately dispatches his angels of temptation. First, Satan offers to that good man all the allurements of popular applause and worldly pleasures. The spirit of temptation does not come like a wrinkled old hag, with her bony hands changed into the shape of an eagle's claw, which can be used to kill as well as tear away the quivering flesh. But the spirit of temptation comes in the form of the evil spirit like that which the artist once painted. He drew the spirit of temptation as a beautiful angel. Her lips were wreathed in smiles. Her hair had hidden in it the brilliant colors of the setting sun. Her lap was full of flowers. Her couch was the rim of a cloud, while under the shadow of her flowing robes crouched the demonic form of death. So Satan tries to destroy the good man by adulation, by applause. By his very successes Satan tries to turn his humble heart of love into a vain heart of sin.

Then if Satan finds that worldly applause and the wine cup and the midnight carousal do not stop the career of the good man who has consecrated his life to good deeds he tries another mode. He says: "I will unkenel and unleash all the bloodhounds of persecution and misrepresentation and slander and turn them upon the good man's track. I will let this pack of demonic bloodhounds bury their white teeth in his limbs; I will let these bloodhounds leap upon him and try to tear out his heart. Ah, I have made many a good man on account of slander turn and curse God! Perhaps I can destroy this man in this way."

How Satan Kills by Overwork.

But after Satan has tried to destroy this good man by both popular applause and by the hounds of persecution and slander and has failed Satan has one way left. Satan says to himself: "I cannot make that man give up his God, but I can kill him with overwork. I can pile the Christian opportunities of usefulness upon that brilliant, consecrated, young gospel minister; I will keep him working during the day and during the night; I will keep him working during the winter and during the summer; I will give him a bigger church than he can attend to; I will have the editors write him to send articles for their papers; I will have the summer camp meetings steal away his vacation; I will start a revival in his church; I will sap every bit of physical strength he has; I will kill him by overwork, as I killed Kirke White, by offering him a Cambridge prize; I will kill him as I killed William Paley, at thirty-nine years of age the most brilliant Christian intellect of his day; I will kill him, as I have burned out the brain of many a genius, by overwork before that brain lived long enough to light an intellectual torch which would have cast its rays all round the world."

When Satan sees a wife and mother consecrating her life to the Master's service, he says: "I must stop her also. I must kill her by overwork if I cannot do it in any other way." So Satan tells that wife and mother that she must do all the work in the kitchen. She must look after her husband's interests in every way. He may be able to smoke his cigars and have a horse and go to the club, but she must be a good wife and keep every expense down. She must never leave home and take a vacation herself, although her husband can go off on a fishing every spring. The result is that Satan drives that woman on and on and on by overwork until he drives her into the grave. Then Satan laughs a mighty laugh of triumph. He now has full swing in that motherless and wifeless household. The sons and daughters of that mother are easily led off into sin. Why? At the critical time of their lives the mother's hand is not there to guide them. The husband and the father having lost his wife's ballast, becomes financially and spiritually wrecked. All those catastrophes come upon that dead woman's home because she would not let up in her work. She would not take a rest, a complete rest, away from home, which every hardworking Christian woman needs at least once a year.

Give the Brain a Rest.

I beg of you, hardworking Christian men and women, to take a summer vacation because a rested brain can do twice as much work in the same time as a tired one. Some two or three years after I entered the ministry my father wrote me a letter something like this: "Dear Frank, I hear you intend to stay in the city this summer and take no vacation. You say that you cannot afford the time. Great mistake. If you attempt to work all summer, you will have to pay a big price for disobeying nature's laws. Next winter the sermons which you write will be harder to produce and poorer because you have a tired brain. Get out of the city by all means. You owe this rest to your family, your church and your God. A sick or tired minister is of but little use in his study, in the prayer meeting or in his pulpit. I always find that when my brain is rested it does its quickest and best work." That is the kind of a letter which every sensible father will write to his son when he finds that the boy does not know the well known axiom that a rested brain and a rested body can do twice as much work as a tired physical organization.

Every physician will tell you that it is an economy in time for tired men and women to go off and take a vacation and rest. Yet it is a surprising fact how many truly good Christian people feel they cannot leave their home and church work even for a few weeks in a year. If they were rested, they could do much more work for Christ and do it much more easily. Indeed, the older I grow the more I believe that most good people need to take this advice. Most good people look tired. Go where you will, in the store or in the home, and the one great complaint that you hear every spring and summer is: "I am so tired, awfully tired. I am as tired when I get up in the morning as when I lie down to sleep at night." Why, most people in the springtime look as tired as that poor woman who came to me one day and said: "Mr. Talmage, don't talk to me about heaven. I do not want to go to heaven for a long time yet. I am so tired that when I come to die I want God to let me sleep in my grave for a thousand years. Then, after I have become thoroughly rested, I want to open my eyes and see heaven." My overworked Christian friend, if you want to do your best work for Christ next winter you must treat your body just as you would treat a tired, run-down, exhausted horse which has been worked all winter. You would take off his shoes and turn him out to grass. You must treat your body as a farmer treats a field which has been overworked in production. He lets it fallow for awhile. You should treat your body as nature treats the vegetation. It sends the colds of winter so that all the forces of the trees can lie dormant. As a Christian worker for next winter, when you will need now to do, what you need now to enable you to do your next winter's duty is not medicine, but rest—complete physical and mental rest; the same kind of rest which Christ gave to his disciples when he led them off into a desert place.

Go Into the Desert.

I beg of you, hardworking Christian men and women, to rest awhile because a summer vacation ought not to cost you financially very much. Christ did not tell his disciples to spend weeks and months in order to get up an expensive wardrobe so they could go to a fashionable hotel. He did not want them to go to a great watering place where they could drink and carouse and turn night into day and day into night. He did not desire that they should go to a place where they would have to be dressed up all the time. To some people the idea of taking a summer vacation is not to find rest, but dissipation. From the time they arrive at the fashionable summer resort they defy every physical law of health. And if after a few weeks of carousal they return to the city with the fatal germs of disease or invalidism planted in their vitals they have no one to blame but themselves. They will be just as much to blame for their coming sicknesses as my dissipated classmate was blamed by the professor. He asked for a sick leave. The professor looked at him a moment and said: "No, sir, I will not excuse you. You are young and strong. You have been disobeying the laws of nature, and you must suffer the consequences. You have no business to be sick." So these summer dissipators will find, much to their sorrow, that no man or woman ever found physical rest in a fashionable hotel by dancing until 1 or 2 in the morning. No man ever found health at the summer gaming table or in the hotel barrooms.

The fashionable watering places are very expensive places in which to live. But when Jesus bade his disciples to go into a desert place and rest awhile he commanded them to go into the quietude of the country. One can live very cheaply in the rural districts. It does not cost very much to go into the suburbs of the city and live for a little while next to nature's heart, to dwell in some quiet farmhouse far away from the great, busy world. It does not cost very much to associate for a little while with the cows and the sheep, to carry the lambs and feed the chickens, to toss the hay and to hunt the eggs. It does not cost very much to study God's thoughts in the leaves, to hear God's voice in the music of the winds. No somnambulism can so rest the tired brain as the quietude of the woods. That is where God wants us to rest. In the desert place means near to the great, throbbing heart of Mother Nature.

To prove that it will not cost very much to go out for a few days into the quietude of the country and rest awhile I would like to ask you a pertinent question. You have not had a vacation—that is, the kind of vacation Christ wants you to take—for a long while. How much did you spend in doctor's bills last year? "Well," you answer, "last winter was a hard winter for me. I seemed to be taking cold all the time. My throat was very weak, and each draft would affect it. One week I was in bed threatened with pneumonia; another time I had bronchitis. I was away from the store about ten days. My doctor's bills were very high. I have not paid them all up yet." I would like to ask you another pertinent question. What did your druggist bills amount to last winter? "Oh," you answer, "I was buying medicines all the time—medicines for my digestion, medicines for my cough, medicines for headaches, tablets for this and that and the other thing."

The Economy of a Vacation.

Now, my friends, you are ready, I think, to listen to rational advice. You know that one of the great medical tenets states that it is far better to prevent disease rather than cure the disease after it has come. Old Dr. Samuel D. Gross, the greatest surgical authority of his day, used to say to his students, "Gentlemen, any stupid butcher with a meat ax can chop off a leg, but it often takes a very great surgeon to save one." Any man can take medicine after he is sick, but it takes a wise man to look far enough ahead to keep his body in such physical trim that he will not get sick. And, my friends, would it not be far better for you as Christian workers to look ahead and spend the money which you might give to the doctors and the druggists in taking a summer vacation? Would it not be far more economical for you to spend some money in toning up your physical system by taking a rest? Then you can resist the ordinary diseases; then you will not have to be placed upon an invalid's bed until God says that your work is done; then you will save money by resting as well as the precious time which you can ill afford to lose from your next winter's work.

But the greatest of all advantages in going off into a desert place to rest awhile is that we can there come nearer to Christ than we have ever been before. In this age of work but few men have time to stop and think. Daily tasks become so absorbing that the second duty crowds itself upon you as soon as the first duty is done. The rushing electric cars whirl the husbands and fathers and brothers to the store. From morning until night the customers have to be seen. Then come the evening tasks. And, though "a man works from sun to sun, a woman's work is never done." But when the Christian goes off into the country to rest he can go off to pray in the same spirit with which Christ went. When he gets away from the store, the factory, the home, his rested mind will begin to clear. As he saunters out to lie down under the shadows of the trees with his Bible he will begin to realize how the goodness of God has followed him all the

Says of his life. He will begin to see in the quietude of the woods that even in his troubles the hand of God has been leading him, that all things work together for good for those who love the Lord. Then as he sits there in the woods upon the hillside with the brook gurgling by his side he will think that he is sitting at Christ's feet, just the same as the disciples of old used to do in the open air. Then he will hear a chirp. When he looks up, he will see a little bird swinging upon the tree branches over his head. He will turn and read from Matthew: "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. Fear ye not, therefore; ye are of more value than many sparrows." As the Christian wife walks through the fields and picks the daisies and clover tops and the goldenrod and the bright yellow buttercups she will remember the words Jesus spoke when he said that as he cared for the lilies of the fields so he would care for her. There is no place on earth where a man can get so close to God as with an open Bible in the quietude of the woods.

Never was I more impressed with this thought than some years ago when I visited a humble little country church nestled among the Berkshire hills. People have often asked me what was the most impressive religious service I ever attended. I have worshipped in the Metropolitan tabernacle of London and witnessed the marvelous power Charles H. Spurgeon had over his great audience. I have been at the feet of Joseph Parker, the mightiest one man religious force today in all England. I have heard Henry Ward Beecher and often Mr. Moody. I have heard nearly all of the great living preachers this side of the Atlantic and many from beyond the seas, but the most impressive religious service I ever attended was in that little white meeting house way up among the Berkshire hills. There were only about thirty-five people present. The little organ was not worth more than $10. The young girl who sat and played the hymns knew but little about music, but for three long hours before I entered that building I had been communing with God in the quietude of the hills. Alone with my Heavenly Father I saw the setting sun. Alone with my Heavenly Father, I had been living in memory over my past sinful life. Alone with my Heavenly Father, I was telling the Saviour about my troubles. And when I saw the little light of the meeting house I was beckoned in. Then the first prayer melted my heart until the whole room for me was filled with the Holy Spirit.

Take Christ Along.

Oh, my brother and sister, I want you to go out into the country not only to get a physical rest, but like the disciples of old, I want you to take Christ along. In the quietude of the woods, with your open Bible, I want you to keep open a receptive ear so that your Heavenly Father may talk to you, and by prayer I want you to talk to your Heavenly Father. If you will only do this, you will not only in the country draw nearer to your Heavenly Father, but you will find that Christ during all the long oncoming winter months will stay very close to you. I want you to get thoroughly acquainted with Christ. I want you to realize that he is the dearest, the tenderest, the kindest, the most forgiving and the most loving companion a pardoned sinner could ever have.

But there is one other advantage of a summer vacation about which I would speak a few words. That advantage is the desire which comes to all true Christian hearts to get back into the harness to do the work which God has given them to do after the summer vacation is ended. In the spring the tired schoolteacher is apt to complain. She says to herself: "Why did I ever become a public school teacher? Many of the mothers only send their children to me because they are too lazy to take care of the children themselves." But after the Christian schoolteacher has had a rest in the country with God she begins to realize her opportunities, and she says: "Oh, how good God is to me! Think of the opportunity of usefulness I have! Perhaps by the grace of God I shall not only influence these children, but also the sinful homes from which they come." After the minister has been off alone with Christ to rest awhile he longs to be back in his pulpit to preach again about the Christ whom he has so learned to love. The mother, the tired mother, after she has had her rest comes back with a happier heart, a sweeter smile and a gentler prayer. May God pity today the men and the women who are so physically exhausted that they think their religious opportunities for doing good are a perpetual burden. By the power of recreating rest may all Christian workers during the coming summer months have their spiritual eyes opened. May they rapturously see that the happiest duty on earth is the opportunity to serve the Lord Jesus Christ.

One morning the daughter of an English king was found dead, with her head pillowed near an open Bible and with her finger pointing to the word "rest." The word "rest" was found in Matthew xi, 28, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Whether she found the rest she longed for this side of the grave we cannot know, but with Christ in our hearts, if we accept his sweet invitation, we can find his rest here. May this summer vacation give to all Christian workers rest of heart and soul! May you not only have physical rest, but also spiritual rest! May it be the sweet rest with which Christ will sit you for the best work of our earthly life during the coming winter months! Then in the fall may it be God's will to bring the pastor and people of this church together again for his blessed service!

MILWAUKEE PEOPLE

Could Hardly Believe It. A Prominent Woman Saved From Death by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I suppose a large number of people who read of my remarkable cure will hardly believe it; had I not experienced it myself, I know that I should not.

MRS. SADIE E. KOCH.

"I suffered for months with troubles peculiar to women which gradually broke down my health and my very life. I was nearly insane with pain at times, and no human skill I consulted in Milwaukee could bring me relief. My attention was called to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; the first bottle brought relief, and the second bottle an absolute cure. I could not believe it myself, and felt sure it was only temporary, but blessed fact, I have now been well for a year, enjoy the best of health, and cannot in words express my gratitude. Sincerely yours, SADIE E. KOCH, 124 10th St., Milwaukee, Wis."—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over diseases of women.

Women should remember that they are privileged to consult Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., about their illness, entirely free.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How to Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage.

It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night.

The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

LOCAL Correspondence

QUANTICO.

Prof. Maurice, a lecturer of high repute both in this country and the countries beyond the Atlantic will deliver his noted lecture "Lost in London and Found at Last" at various places on Quantico Circuit of the M. P. Church as follows: July 30th., at Royal Oak; July 31st., Quantico; August 1st., Mt. Pleasant. The lecture will be well worth the patronage of everybody in these localities and the pastor of this circuit by whom Prof. Maurice has been induced to visit the county hopes that large crowds will greet this lecturer at the various points named.

Mr. Ray Disharoon one of Quantico's young and progressive farmers and Miss Stella Toadvine of near White Haven were married in Messick's M. E. Church on Wednesday evening by the pastor, Rev. O. L. Martin. The marriage was very quiet and only the immediate friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Disharoon will reside in the vicinity of White Haven. Your correspondent with the people of Quantico extend congratulations to them.

Preparations are being made for attendance of Hebron camp, at which service begins this Saturday.

Mr. Earl Evans and family of Baltimore are visiting Mr. Evans' uncle, Mr. A. W. Gordy this town.

The Misses Maude Collier and Lala Jones are visiting friends in Virginia.

Mrs. Geo. Waller Phillips of Salisbury spent a few days this week with Mrs. James M. Jones.

The Misses Blanche and Marie Taintor who have been visiting relatives in Somerset County returned to their home in town Tuesday.

The Misses Nellie Brady and Mattie Gordy spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mrs. Samuel Bailey near town.

The Misses Miller and Rowe of Westover were guests of Mrs. O. L. Martin at the M. E. Parsonage this week.

Dr. W. H. H. Dashiell has made some improvements in his drug store by extending it in length.

MARDELA SPRINGS.

A very pleasant family reunion was held at the home of Mr. Robert G. Robertson last Sunday. It was the first time in ten years that all the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson had met together under their parents' roof. On that day Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Robertson of Culman, Ala., Mr. Herman Robertson of Philadelphia, Mr. Harlan Robertson of Georgetown, S. C., Mr. Clarence Robertson of Salisbury, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wilson of Mardela were the guests of their parents. The reunion afforded much pleasure to both parents and children.

Mr. T. Langdale is busy constructing his canning plant and making arrangements for the tomato season. He expects to put up a considerable pack.

Vine crops are looking well and considerable quantities of cantaloupes are being shipped from here. Watermelons will begin to ripen in a few days. All that the farmers here ask is that prices for their crops may keep up. They have the stuff and it is the best of its kind.

Corn in the district is disappointing, the growth being much inferior to last year. The prospects for a heavy crop of pea hay are very flattering.

Our young folks are making their plans to attend the Hebron Camp, which begins today.

Perry & Cooper's factory will shut down today for a week.

Outlaw Tracy is Fine Fettle.

Tacoma, Wash., July 25—Harry Tracy, the outlaw, appeared at Miller's logging camp, four miles from Kansas, yesterday and ate dinner.

Tracy is not wounded, and looks fresh and rested. He is wearing a derby hat, but he had a slouch hat in his pocket. He still has his rifle and two revolvers, and has a good supply of ammunition.

Alphabet on a Pinhead.

William L. McLean, of Gloversville, N. Y., has engraved on the head of an ordinary brass pin the entire alphabet in script capital letters. The work was done with an ordinary engraving tool, with the aid of a powerful magnifying glass.

A few years ago Mr. McLean engraved the Lord's Prayer on a silver 5 cent piece.

If The Baby is Cutting Teeth.

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

ECONOMY ON THE FARM.

No Place in the World Where There is Greater Wastefulness.

The following article from Boyce's Monthly for June, on the lack of economy on the farm, is so full of truth that we give our readers the benefit of its sound common sense;

It is probable that there is no place in the world where there is greater wastefulness than on the farm. The proprietor of a manufacturing plant uses the utmost care to see that everything around his institution is carefully preserved; that the buildings are kept painted; that every piece of machinery is kept in perfect repair; every piece of waste material is saved and disposed of where it will bring the best price. This same policy is followed by the merchant, and nearly every class except the farmer.

In the fall, when he unhitches from a plow, instead of giving it a coat of grease to protect the polished parts, and of paint to protect the other iron or wood work, in many cases it is left in the field, or some corner, until it is covered with rust, and often until the next time he wishes to use it. This same careless method is applied to the mower, the harvester and the corn-planter. These machines, more delicate than those used in the manufacturing plants, are left to rust until they become useless. Then when they are needed again the owner finds that he must invest in new ones in order to do his work. Thousands and thousands of dollars are thus wasted yearly on the farm that must come out of the pockets of the farmers. This shiftless policy not only applies to the machinery but the buildings as well. A leak in the roof is neglected until it has let water in and destroyed the woodwork. Barn doors break with a rusted hinge, and are let go until the door comes off and becomes broken. Fences get out of repair and are allowed to go until it is too late to repair them. The house is left unpainted until the boards become so rotted that it is past repair. So it goes through the entire list and the heavy hand of poverty bears heavier each year upon the careless farmer until at last he fails and the dilapidated farm passes into the hands of someone else for half what it should be worth.

We are at a loss to account for this carelessness on the part of so many farmers. Whether they try to do so much that they are too weary all the time to attend to these minor matters or whether they have never been taught to realize the leaks that keep them down, it may be that both causes contribute to it. Whatever it is, it is time it was stopped.

If the farmer boys have never been taught the value of economy it is high time to begin the lessons. We have no sympathy with a man who complains of poverty when his yard is filled with rusty machinery and his fences are tumbling down. He could at least care for what he has. The profits on the farm are not like those of a gold mine. It is not a speculation. If a farmer gets rich it will be from the steady profits resulting from good management.

DOCTORS

say "Consumption can be cured." Nature alone won't do it. It needs help. Doctors say

"Scott's Emulsion is the best help." But you must continue its use even in hot weather.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York, 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

Do You Want $1000?

I will furnish you with a savings bank that can be opened only by me or by the company, for which you deposit one dollar as an evidence of good faith, which amount will be credited on your book. You then sign an application for insurance, and are examined by a physician. If you pass the examination a policy will be issued, on delivery of which you pay $2, and if you should die the policy will be paid; if you do not pass the $1 deposited will be returned. I call every three months at your home, open the bank in your presence, and enter the amount in your book. If your savings exceed the amount due by more than $20 you will be allowed 3 per cent on the excess.

Amount necessary to secure a 20-year payment life policy at 21 years of age on $1000 is less than 85c per week; at 30 years of age, less than 65c per week. A life policy for $500 at an age under 24, costs less than 8c a day.
