Expansion For Prestige?

If the college curriculum were expanded would the college benefit and do the students want such a program?

We trust that in the very near future members of the Maryland State Board of Trustees will decide whether or not FSTC will be authorized to offer secondary education, a liberal arts degree, and a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing.

How would the college benefit if the Board votes in favor of these? First of all, it will rise in prestige since it will then be enabled to offer kindergarten, elementary, and secondary education; a liberal arts education, and a B. S. degree in nursing, as well as the Master's degree in education. Secondly, the number of applications for admission will increase, since the field of study offered by the college will be broadened.

In addition to the increased number of applications, students planning to transfer to other colleges would also remain here. When asked their reason for transferring, the majority of these students replied either "I want a liberal arts education" or "I want to teach in high school."

Therefore if the new program were introduced meeting the needs of high school graduates, more teachers would go into teacher training in order to help fill the state of Maryland's demand for 4500 new teachers each year.

Among the five state teachers colleges, Frostburg is in a unique position. It is the only college located in this area of the state and is the only chance that many people in this area have for getting a college education.

On the other hand, those teachers colleges located on the Eastern shore or in the Baltimore area do not face the same problem. There are at least three or four liberal arts colleges located in the former vicinity and ten or fifteen in the latter, thus satisfying the needs for such education. Frostburg should therefore offer a broader field of study in order to meet the requirements of a wider range of students.

This probably answers the question: Do the students want it? But if we are for it, we must prove it and this can only be done by backing the issue in every way possible!

When Spring Springs In Bloom
Winsome Gals Ponder Groom

This is the time of year the professors dread, the jeweler welcomes, the drive-ins give fanfare to, and the students have waited for all winter. It is Spring! Spring—the magic charm that lightly turns a young man's fancy to thoughts of sports cars and baseball season is here. Spring, the mystic charm that starts a young lass debating and conjecturing how to turn the young man's fancy from baseball and care to her!

Mother Nature has promised to enforce completely the feminine cause. She provides budding trees, babbling brooks, soft, gentle showers, blue skies, fluffy clouds, and a robin here and there for adornment.

To further aid the young lady, Spring is filled with a mysterious intoxicating substance producing the effect commonly referred to as "daydreaming." This effect is found to be particularly noticeable on the male. When under this spell, the male exhibits a "far away" look.

Since the beginning of time Mother Nature has plotted with women on how to let a boy chase a girl until she catches him.

Eve was the first to bait the "tendertrap," and Adam liked the idea so well that people have been falling in love ever since. Generations of Mothers have handed down the formula for husband hunting to generations of daring daughters. The original scheme still works.

When spring has sprung and flowers are ris', don't wonder where the birdies is! Whatever you do, listen closely when you and your favorite date are out, men, she may be humming "It's so nice to have a man around the house!"

Unusual Discovery Stirs
Student Concern, Fear

Don't look now—you're radioactive!

A startling announcement was made in Mr. Turner's physical science class. While demonstrating the operation of the geiger counter, the instructor made the comment that we are constantly being bombarded by cosmic radiations.

To illustrate the same, he plugged the clever little machine in, and amazingly a red light accompanied by a menacing "buzz" revealed that radioactive particles were penetrating the glass tube.

Now perhaps this doesn't worry you (some people never worry about anything) but it has me concerned.

Why at this very moment little invisible cosmic rays are penetrating me, this paper, this pen, ... this ...

Summer Study

Faculty Members Receive Scholarships;
To Do Graduate Work In East, West

Whoever started the rumor that college graduation is the end of the line was out of his mind. In many fields, and especially in teaching, the bachelor's degree is only the beginning. (For every freshman this may be an oppressive revelation!)

Two of our faculty members, Miss Margaret Hamilton and Miss Dorothy Stone White, will be spending this summer pursuing their areas of interest.

Miss Hamilton has been selected as a participant in the National Science Foundation for college teachers of arithmetic. For eight weeks, from June 20 to August 13, she will be studying at the University of Wisconsin.

The graduate work will include a course in the theory of arithmetic, topics in algebra and seminars in arithmetic.

Miss Hamilton will be attending one of the seven institutes that are scheduled this summer to recognize the importance of the college teacher in the development of scientific manpower.

Last summer she attended the National Science Foundation Math Institute at Reed College in Portland, Oregon.

Our Miss Dorothy Stone White will be seeing New England this summer while she studies at the Faculty Summer school in Theology and Religion at Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Division of College Work and the Council of the Episcopal Church. The summer schools are designed for Episcopal faculty and administrators who desire opportunity to enhance their knowledge of the faith by spending these weeks, from July 25 to August 26, studying with the outstanding scholars of the Episcopal Church.

Miss White's topic for study will be "Christian Faith as Expressed in Great Religious Dramas." She will have access to the library facilities of Harvard University and of the Cambridge Episcopal Theological Seminary.

She was notified by the Reverend Jones B. Shannon, Executive Director of the Church Society for College Work, Mount Saint Albans, Washington, D. C., that the Committee in Selections had awarded her with a fellowship to attend the summer school. The fellowship will include her tuition, room and board, book and travel expenses.

Miss White is a member of Trinity Episcopal Church, Morgantown, W. Va., and is the co-advisor to the Canterbury Association of Episcopal students.

Dear Agatha

By Judy Fisher

Because we are a red-blooded, all-American campus, with red-blooded, all-American students, we need a public service feature to help our all-American students with their pathetic love problems.

Dear Agatha,

I am passionately in love with a fellow on campus. Every day I go to the Varsity Shop in hopes of seeing him. He, however, refuses to notice me—what do you suggest?

Signed, Unnoticed

Dear Unnoticed,

You certainly are.

Dear Agatha,

My roommate is an extremely light sleeper. She even wakes up when I drop a bobbie pin before my 8:00 classes, and she doesn't have any classes until 11:00. What ever can I do?

Signed, Noisy

Dear Noisy,

Go to your 8:00 class with your hair up.

Dear Aggie,

I write to two fellows and I can't decide between them. One is a no-good bum who drinks, but I'm nuts about him. The other fellow is sweet and kind and has no bad faults. What should I do?

Signed, Crazy mixed up kid

Dear Crazy,

Don't give up the nut.

Dear Miss Agatha,

I am 6 ft. 2 in., weight 97 lbs., have one green eye and one blue eye, and sparse hair. The girls never accept my offers for dates, can you help me?

Signed, Shorty

Dear Shorty,

Put some fun in your life—try dancing.

Dear Agatha,

I am bowlegged, knock-kneed, pigeon-toed, cross-eyed, and on the whole, a real mess. I have my eye on the handsomest fellow on campus. What can I do to get him to ask me out?

Signed, Lovesick

Dear Lovesick,

Nothing!

Junior Students Plan New Seal For Rings

As the college continues to grow steadily, the desire to make our college more distinctive arises.

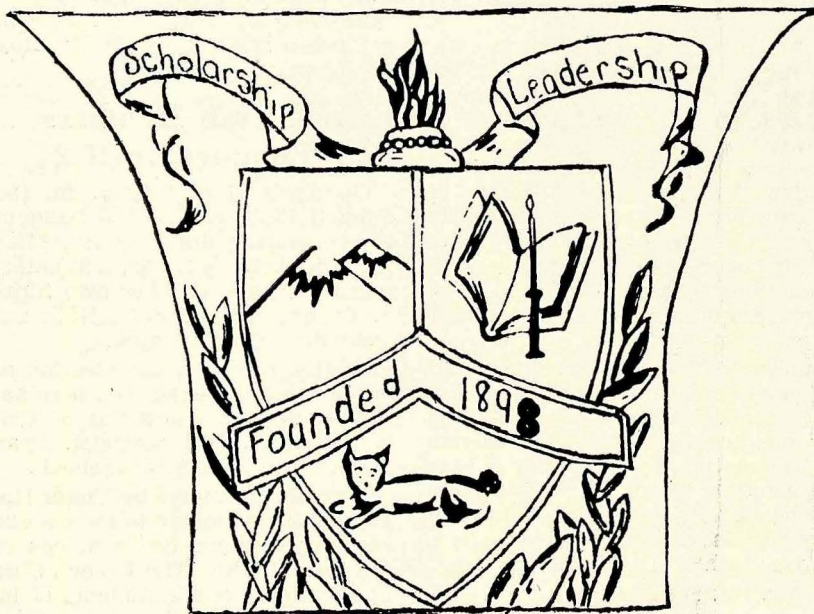

The junior class expressed such a desire at a recent class meeting. They realized that we had no official school seal, but instead were using the Maryland State seal.

It was suggested that the members of the junior class submit a number of various sketches of the school seal. By a class vote, Janet Beadle's drawing was chosen to be the official school seal.

Across the top of the seal are found the words "leadership" and "scholarship"—the foremost qualities which teachers should strive to attain. The mountains in the upper left-hand corner represent the location of the college amidst the Appalachian Mountains. Parallel to this in the upper right hand corner are the symbols for scholarship, the open book and the candle. The founding of the college was in 1898 as indicated in the center of the sketch. The reclining Bobcat, our school's mascot, is found at the bottom of the seal.

The seal was submitted to President Hardesty and approved as the official school seal. It has been proposed to be used on the school ring.

At the recent national convention of National Fraternity Incorporated held at the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, Michael Cunningham was elected national librarian. Mike, a senior, is the second student from Sigma Phi chapter to receive this honor.

Official delegates to the convention, held April 1 and 2, were Cunningham, senior delegate, and Tom Arnold, junior delegate. Accompanied by five Delta Kappans and two pledges, the delegates attended business meetings Friday and Saturday. Social functions were sponsored by the host chapter and the convention concluded with a dinner-dance Saturday evening.

One major topic of consideration before the assembly was that of incorporating seven new chapters into the national organization. A new slate of officers was elected with the majority coming from the Wisconsin area. Plans were made for next year's convention which will be held at Ithaca, New York.

Attending from State were Cunningham, Arnold, Ed Lester, Arch Webster, Tom Schlereth, Leo Canningelli, Dave Eyler, Joe Hay, and Tom Bollinger.

Collegiate 4-H Group To Host Homemakers

The Frostburg State Collegiate 4-H club will be hostess to the District Homemakers, Sunday, May 15. Included in the district are Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties.

Pat King, president, headed a committee that handled the writing of a constitution for the organization. It was assisted by the other officers: Grace Kiefer, vice president; Jean Ward, secretary; and Darlene Logue, treasurer. Assisting the committee were Nancy Marsteller, Allegany County 4-H agent, and Mrs. Kathleen Layman, faculty advisor.

The constitution has been submitted to Student Congress. If it is approved the campus organization will be recognized by the State 4-H office. They will then be eligible for benefits including state invitations, lectures, and other privileges.

Diamond Squad Meets Mount Union Team Here Today

Bobcat Team Faces Altoona On April 27

By Ed Root

State's baseball enthusiasts will have their first opportunity to give their diamond warriors the once-over when they face Mt. Union this afternoon. Game time is set for 2:00 p. m. on the Beall field.

Frostburg's next home game will be after the Easter holidays when Shepherd will furnish the competition on April 30. Between these games, on April 27, the Bobcats journey to Pennsylvania to tangle with Altoona Campus.

Mt. Union is a perennial powerhouse in baseball, meeting many of the top teams of the region. The game will undoubtedly be a valuable gauge in determining the caliber of ball to be expected from the Bobcats this season. Last year's game with the Mt. Union squad was postponed, due to the inclement weather.

The home team will see action against the glovemen of Mt. Union again this season when they come face-to-face in a billed double-header on May 14 in an away contest.

Altoona will be an innovation on the Bobcats' basepath schedule. Although home fans will not be able to see their boys in action against Altoona in this game, they will have the chance to cheer their diamond representatives against them on May 21 when Altoona comes to Frostburg.

Four Veterans On Lineup

Always a terrific game on State's baseball card is the contest with Shepherd. Over the past two years State has dropped four games to the battling nine from West Virginia. The Rams are expected to field a veteran team in providing State with plenty of stiff competition.

Facing the Bobcats will be a lineup featuring four veterans and five newcomers. Four freshmen have earned starting roles for Coach Harold Cordts' lumber-swingers. Joe "Cookie" Nash, freshman first sacker, has shone in the clean-up spot. "Cookie's" bat has been an ever-dangerous threat. Jim Broadwater, third sacker, looks good at work in the field and his bat has been aiding the local run production.

Today's The Big One

WRA To Attend Sports Day; Unbeaten Sophs Lead League

The WRA has been invited to send representatives to West Virginia University for a Sports Day on Saturday, April 30. The sports will be golf, tennis, bowling, and swimming on a competitive basis. The girls will leave Friday, April 29, and spend the night in Morgantown and then register at nine o'clock Saturday morning.

Bobcat Track Team In Warm-up Meet

Frostburg was one of four teams who participated in a practice meet at the West Virginia University cinderpath on April 2.

Roy "Mugs" Sigler sparked in the point column for the Bobcats. "Mugs" chalked up a second in the one mile run and a third in the two mile run.

The Bobcats, riddled by the loss of veterans, showed up surprisingly well, especially in the running events. In addition to Sigler, three other runners earned points for the Bobcat cause in the initial showing of the year.

John Kreitzburg tallied a second in the hurdles in his return to the track squad after being out for a year. Ken DeHahn garnered second position in the 440 yard run and Jim Delaney copped a third in the gruelling 880 yard trek. Both DeHahn and Delaney are freshmen and the meet marked their first appearance in the Bobcat thinclads.

In the field events the Statemen were only able to place in the discus where Jim Cave tossed his way into a fourth place finish. Cave and Sigler are the only returning lettermen to the varsity this year.

A tentative date, May 7, has been set for a Volleyball Sports Day with Fairmont State and Salisbury State Teachers College, to be held on our campus, pending arrangements that can be made for that time.

Ten WRA girls, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Hilliard and Miss Janet Thomas, went to California State Teachers College, Pennsylvania, for a playday on Saturday, April 2. The theme of the day was Spring Flower Show. Each team was given the name of a flower.

The girls participated in basketball, volleyball, badminton, darts, games, shuffleboard, table tennis and swimming.

Four members of Frostburg's WRA were on the winning team for the day. They were awarded miniature mugs as a memento at a banquet held that evening. Members of the team were Edna Mae Leppo, Joan Gisriel, Delores Vetter, and Anna Mae Bishop.

The others who attended were Judy Wilson, Deanna Knepper, Barbara Carbaugh, Nancy Cooper, Sharon Heubeck, and Jackie Fullerton.

The intramural tournament is going into the final rounds. On April 13, the All-Star team will play the championship team. The All Star team will be comprised of girls from the other teams.

Harold's Herald

By Harold Schriver

Even though the many sports-minded fans and followers of Bobcat fortunes are looking forward to the emergence of Ole Sol and spring sports, nevertheless, the more skeptical followers have their eyes on the fall seasons of 1960 and 1961.

At the present you probably have no idea whatsoever as to what the fall sports schedules of 1960-61 have to do with this column, in the spring of 1960. It is hoped as you read this column that you will at least begin to think ahead somewhat to the fall and the possible advent of football.

You may think that the fall of 1961 seems a long way in the future, but those of us who have been associated with football from its birth on this campus know that it is approaching at an ever increasing speed.

Since the final implementation of football is not in our hands to decide, we must keep up our enthusiasm, even though defeat may sometimes seem inevitable.

We, as a student body, must renew our vows in the fight to obtain football, every so often, and we must let the proper officials know how we feel. This writer will welcome any such vows by means of letters or notes written and properly signed, to be used at a later date.

Even though our constant fight may suffer major or minor setbacks on the hard road to implementation, we should never get depressed or downhearted. When the odds are against you, that's when you should fight hardest—that's now.

If football is to become a part of our overall curriculum it will not only add to the sports aspect of college life, but to the educational institution as well. You must know that we must accept certain principles before football will become a part of us and our overall education.

We hold these principles to be self-evident: that should football gain status on the campus of Frostburg State Teachers College, the following principles will then become effective: (1) above everything else scholastic attainment will continue to be emphasized; that football players should maintain the same scholastic standards as other students currently enrolled and should meet the same eligibility requirements.

Football players will be subjected to the same scholastic treatment that all other sports participants abide by.

(2) Football will not be over-emphasized; the desire to win at football will never be allowed to subordinate good sportsmanship. When football becomes a business and the desire-to-win-at-any-cost-attitude takes over the campus, then football no longer remains a sport.

(3) The campus facilities will be open to football on an equal basis with the other sports.

When we as students are willing to accept the above mentioned principles in relation to football implementation, then we will appreciate football all the more.

It is the sincere belief of this writer that we are ready to accept these principles and many others that will accommodate football.

Fans, our fight isn't yet. In the recent poll we voted a vast majority of 8-1 in favor of football, but there seems to be some lack of enthusiasm that was engendered away back last September. Let's never give up in our fight!

Baseball Team Is Victorious In First Game

The right arm of State's Carl Donald hurled the Bobcats to victory in their initial outing against Hagerstown Junior College, Saturday, April 2, in the Hub City. State mustered three big innings to top Hagerstown, 10-5.

Coach Harold Cordts' diamond nine, backed by a 2-6 record last year, started with a big second inning as four Bobcats trotted over home plate. Several well placed hits proved to be the spark for the statemen.

Donald, hurling the entire nine stanzas, saw nine men go under swinging while issuing only four walks.

Hub tosser, "Ace" Baker, showing considerable lack of control, allowed three of his total of thirteen free rides in the second inning. Two of these came home on a single by Gene Zumpano, a former Beall High athlete. Donald supported his own cause by cracking a two-bagger and scoring a pair of Bobcats.

Frostburg continued to score by adding a single marker in the third stanza, then coming back for two more in the top of the sixth, and clinching the victory with three tallies in the ninth.

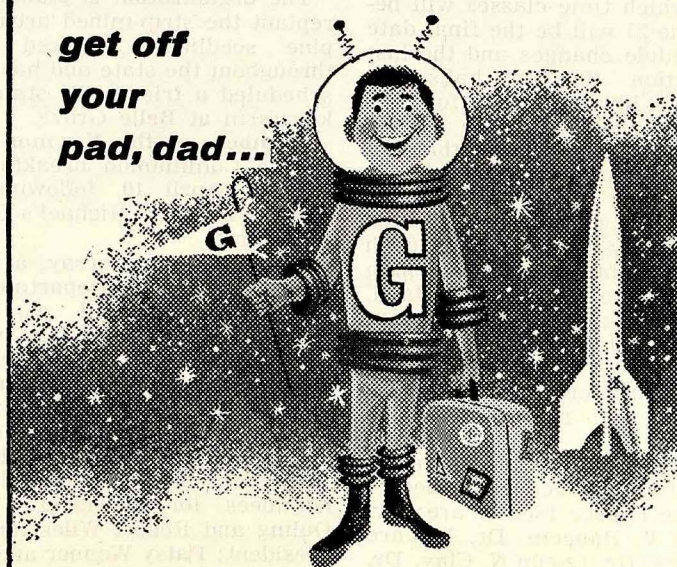

The Hub City stickmen broke the scoring column in the bottom of the sixth by belting in four runs. A single tally in the last inning ended the scoring with the scoreboard reading 10-5.

Jim Broadwater, "Cookie" Nash, and Gene Zumpano each bagged three hits and Donald followed with a pair. Ronnie Mann, Terry Rizer, and Paul Nolan rounded out State's hit list with a single base knock apiece.
