JAPANESE VICTORIOUS.

Continue Vigorous Campaign and Drive Russians From Liaoyang, Where They Were Strongly Entrenched. Russian Army In Retreat.

The Russian army has been driven from its strong defenses and splendid position at Liaoyang, and the victorious Japanese have taken the walled city, with its immense stores.

General Kuropatkin having his left flank turned by General Kuroki and his center and right beaten and driven back by General Oku, found himself compelled to evacuate Liaoyang and cross the Taitee river to the north with his whole army.

Dispatches from Mukden state that railway service is interrupted, which leads to the supposition that the railroad has been cut by Kuroki, and the roads are well nigh impassable.

In this situation, it is believed by some that General Kuropatkin will be forced to fight and cannot escape to the northward while others think the Russian leader will be able to retreat fighting to Mukden or beyond, following the tactics he has employed so often before.

But in either case he must lose terribly, provided the Japanese are able to pursue him with their usual vigor, unless of course, he is still able to defeat the armies of the Mikado, which are striking him on every hand. The Taitee river is a considerable stream, flowing westward and crossing the Liaoyang plain just outside the northern wall of the town.

For General Kuropatkin to have left the forts with rifle pits, intrenchments and barbed wire entanglements, of Liaoyang, not mention the immense stores said to be stored there, shows that he considered himself in deadly danger.

The fight at Port Arthur seems to have been temporarily suspended.

Schools Opened Sept. 1st.

The white schools throughout the county opened on Thursday much earlier than heretofore.

The Schools in Salisbury will be continued in the High School Buildings, Orient and the room over the store on Division Street until the new High School Building is completed.

The average daily attendance of the white schools of Salisbury for the Fall of 1903, was as follows:

J. Walter Huntington, 42; Virgil F.
Ward, 35; F. Grant Goslee, 43; Stella
W. Dorman, 21; Alice Toadvine, 30; Beulah White, 35; Margaret Anderson, 41; Daisy M. Bell, 33; Annie Bennett, 30; Mildred Dougherty, 34;
Nettie Holloway, 34; Ada L. Scott, 40;
Elizabeth W. Woodcock, 36; Mary
Cooper Smith, 34; L. Cora Gillis, 44.

BACKACHE AND DIZZINESS.

Most of the Afflictions Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of Pelvic Organs.

MRS. M. BRICKER.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headaches, palms in the face, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month.
I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M.
Bricker.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that discharges peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ.
What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs.
Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

SPECIAL FAIR DAYS.

Events of Worldwide Importance Crowd
One Another on the Season's Programme—Many Congresses and Conventions to Meet.

Each of the remaining days of the World's Fair season has a programme filled with special events that offer additional attractions for late visitors.
National and state governments, municipalities, secret societies, trade organizations and college fraternities have arranged to participate in the special days allotted to them, and thousands of persons will be drawn to the World's Fair upon these occasions.

Welsh Bros.' Big Circus.

A Huge Carnival of Amusement.
The children no doubt will be greatly delighted to learn that the Great Welsh Bros.' Shows which appear at Cambridge present as a special feature a coterie of twelve first class and up-to-date clowns, who have been surnamed by the press agent of the show
as the "Earth's Sovereign Fools."

They present a veritable sunburst of genuine, boisterous fun, ridiculous pantomime and laughable mimicry.
These fun-makers destroy care, make life a pleasure, and the heavy-laden light-hearted. This is only one of the many diversions of this amusement; the other features are all of a surprisingly original character. A balloon ascension and parachute jump is one of the free attractions promised on the day of performance. At Cambridge, Friday, September 9th., Matinee at 2 and night at 8 o'clock.

Resolutions of Respect Offered By The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Church, Salisbury.

Whereas by the dispensation of our Heavenly Father, our beloved President has been taken from us, we wish to place on record our esteem and appreciation of her labor among us;
Therefore,

Resolved, That we part with Mrs.
Howard, the wife of our worthy and faithful Rector, with profound regret.

Resolved: That we extend to our Rector and his family our heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be recorded in our Minutes, a copy sent to the "Salisbury Advertiser," the "Wicomico News," and
"The Courier" and the "Eastern Churchman" for publication, and also a copy be sent to our Rector, the Rev.
David Howard.

Mrs. T. B. Moore,
Mrs. E. Riall White,
Miss Helen S. Fish, Committee.

ST. LOUIS FAIR

Farmers and Fruit Growers Throughout State Invited To Contribute Fair Exhibitions. Wanted To Show
The World On Maryland Day.

Every farmer trucker and fruit grower of Maryland should send something to the St. Louis Fair. Select a barrel or basket of potatoes, white or sweet, a basket of corn or tomatoes, a bundle of timothy, millet, clover, sorghum or cow peas, a crate,
basket or carrier of peaches, apples, pears or any other fine fruit you may have, put the name of the fruit or vegetable on the package with your name. The express will be paid from your Railroad Station by the Commissioners.

One of the principal features on Maryland Day, September 12th., will be the free distribution of fruit from Maryland soil. Maryland is second to no other state as to the quality of fruit. The best flavored peaches coming from the Eastern Shore. The high colored and well flavored apple coming from the Western Shore. The potato and corn crops of Maryland compare favorably to any other State.
Maryland grows about one fourth of the tomatoes for canning purposes of the United States.

Maryland is today the place for the home seeker, orchardist, farmer, mechanic, dairyman, stock-raiser, manufacturer, miner, and florist. Improve your conditions at home, invite others to come with us, be more liberal, and we will have a richer state with more good people.

Select fruit, only the choicest, wrap in paper, ship in six basket cases or covered baskets, securely packed, and send by express. Canned goods or corn in the ear, potatoes and other vegetables can come by freight not to be shipped later than September 5th.
Freight and express charges paid by the Commission.

Ship to Orlando Harrison, Berlin, Md., One of the Commissioners.

Salisbury Still Winning With Exception Of Monday. Some Pretty Exhibitions
Of Expert Ball Playing.

Saturday, Cambridge 3, Easton 1.
Monday, Cambridge 11, Salisbury 3.
Tuesday, Salisbury 7, Easton 5.
Wednesday, Salisbury 3, Cambridge 0.

Thursday, Cambridge 6, Easton 1.
Standing of Clubs.

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Cambridge	11	6	.647
Salisbury	9	10	.479
Easton	8	11	.421

The Cambridge Club still leads at the close of the week's games by a large percentage, and Salisbury has no chances to let fall if the winning team is to hail from this city. Interest has been well maintained and the attendance has been large.

An event of much import in the local base ball world was the change of umpires. Edmund Scott, of Seaford, has succeeded Cox to this undesirable position. From his appearance he should be able to uphold his decisions, which he renders in a loud decisive voice.

Salisbury 7, Easton 5.

Up to the eighth inning it looked like Salisbury was beaten, score being 3 to 2 against her. Then Sherwood, Easton's pitcher, looked worried. He led off with a base on balls to Orbin.
Gladfellow tripled and Hoover hit a long fly to right field, giving Salisbury two runs. On Easton's half two more runs were made giving her the lead again. Not until the ninth was the game won, Carroll receiving a base on balls. Ball sacrificing and McCabe sending out a hard two bagger.

Salisbury 3, Cambridge 0.

Wednesday seemed a specially set day for Salisbury to even up for Monday's defeat and they did it to the satisfaction of all interested that way to the discipline of 3-0. The home team put up an errorless game, while the visitors only went three to the bad. Salisbury's new pitcher, Ziegler was in the box and made a favorable impression. Doughty Duncan, of Cambridge also did good steady work.

EASTERN SHORE POLITICAL CONDITIONS.

That the good old Eastern Shore of which, probably more of praise and eulogy has been spoken and written than any other section of our America, should have come to its present political pass is deplorable. Of all the men who are able and worthy to serve the constituency of some nine counties hard it seems to find one who is "moderately qualified" sufficiently to be nominated in the First Congressional District. That this far famed favored section should have arrived at this pass is a shocking fact to those who pause to think. It is surprising in retrospect, to see how quickly conditions have altered. Although aware that time leaves a glamour and halo over the past we have not to go back to the Colonial period to find an epoch when things were different, and more, we believe, in the harmony of nature, when the virtue, culture and intellectual attainments of the man exceeded his breadth and depth of pocket. It is up to the Democratic party to nominate a man in real stature at its re-assembling in First District Convention, Wednesday, September 14. There are on the Eastern Shore, as we have previously said, plenty of the right sort of men, as of old, who can still be elected easily if the Democrats will put their shoulders to the task and resolve to win by might of right, which knows no conqueror.

Those who earnestly deprecate the present situation will, no doubt, feel hopeful that in another election by the virtual repeal of the 15th Amendment it will be possible to select candidates more in accord with their idea of political representation, and eliminate a condition of politics largely made possible by the enfranchisement of the "white man's burden."

MENACE TO THE CONSTITUTION.

It becomes desirable to call attention to the fact that the people in whom all power resides, have seen fit, through the medium of the Constitution to limit the governmental power conferred and to say to departments created by it: "Thus far shalt thou go and no farther." To secure the ends sought the people have by the Constitution separated and distributed among the three departments of government—the executive, legislative and judicial—certain powers and it is the duty of those administering each department so to act as to preserve, rather than destroy, the potency of the co-ordinate branches of the government and thus secure the exercise of all the powers conferred by the people.

Thomas Jefferson, in a letter to William C. Jarvis, touching the perpetuity of our institutions, written many years after he had retired to private life said: "If the three powers of our government maintain their mutual independence of each other, it may last long, but not so if either can assume the authority of the other." It must be confessed that in the course of our history executives have employed powers not belonging to them; statutes have been passed that were expressly forbidden by the Constitution, and statutes have been set aside as unconstitutional when it was difficult to point out the provisions said to be offended against in their enactment; all this has been done with a good purpose, no doubt, but in disregard, nevertheless, of the fact that ours is a government of laws, not of men, deriving its "just powers from the consent of the governed." If we would have our government continue during the ages to come, for the benefit of those who shall succeed us, we must ever be on our guard against the danger of usurpation of that authority which resided in the whole people.—From Judge Alton B. Parker's address of acceptance—August 10th., 1904.

BRIGHT DAYS AHEAD.

Everything is looking brighter, from the view point of the national capital, for democratic success.

The troubles in New York State have been satisfactorily settled and about every man there who ever called himself a democrat has his coat off and is working for democratic success.

West Virginia is better organized than it has been in twelve years. Maryland is solid for democracy. The republicans of New England are badly scared, and the chances are excellent for the democrats to carry Rhode Island and Connecticut and add several Congressmen to democracy's string in Massachusetts. We will cut down the republican majorities in Vermont and Maine in the September elections in those states, which have a great moral effect.

There are splendid reports from Indiana and Wisconsin, Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Washington and California. There never was such a hopeful feeling manifested by leading democrats who visit the national capital since the campaign of 1892.

FIRST DISTRICT DEMOCRATS TO RE-ASSEMBLE, SEPTEMBER 14.

Mr. Henry R. Lewis, chairman of Ocean City Democratic Convention has returned from St. Louis, and after consultation with the delegates to the convention and others has decided to reconvene at Ocean City on Wednesday, September 14. Chairman Lewis said that assurances have been given from all the party leaders on the Eastern Shore that they will support the ticket and he believes that with a united Democracy the Democratic candidates will carry the First district.

School Thoughts.

"School has begun.
So come every one,
Come with smiling faces;
How happy are we
Our teachers to see
In old accustomed places.
So may September ring with hundreds of glad voices as "school opens" after vacation's pleasures end and bring teachers and pupils back to work and study. "There is cheer and hope in the fact that 16,000,000 of the children of our land were in our schools last year, and this means a generation of thinking capacity, says an educational writer, and he adds: "Brain me." A celebrated painter was once asked what he mixed his paints with? He replied: "With brains." And education opens wide its doors to "brains and grit." From the by-ways and high ways it "gathers the children in" and bids them sow thoughts that are seed that grow forever. The inevitable law of whatever a farmer sows that must he reap is true of early learning. Cultivate the young mind in its morning, feed it well, not "cram it," and the reaping will tell later on. The mind fresh and vigorous and quick to retain, will reap, if there is persistent adherence to patient study, gained "line upon line, precept upon precept." It has been said that the "boy is index to the man," and this trite saying needs no proof, and a writer further adds: "A boy's characteristics will show themselves in the man" and the success or failure of the man hinges on the knowledge of the boy. "He may be a superb scholar, a capital teacher and yet a miserable failure as a merchant. It is better to be a first class blacksmith playing the anvil chorus with a sledge hammer than a dull teacher vainly pounding theology out of a church pulpit." Again he says: "It is better to be an intelligent wood-sawyer than an ignorant briefless lawyer. A successful grocer must be a good taster or he will be sold himself." So mental training is necessary to success and the schools must develop, unfold and train "young ideas how to shoot" to attain life's highest and best mark. Wendell Phillips wrote: "The best education in the world is that got by struggling for a living," and this is verified by Abraham Lincoln the Sixteenth President of United States, who said: "My father moved from Kentucky to Indiana when I was in my eighth year. There were some schools, but no qualifications were required of the teachers beyond reading, writing and ciphering to the rule of 8." Think of this ye teachers, who tremble at present examinations. But, brains tell and writing is so hard but school will find it out, and the A. B. C. buds of a "kentucky skunk" can unfold and develop into the full rose in the Hopkins University of Baltimore where students seeking an education broad and liberal can find it.

A La Carte Dining Car Service On The Pennsylvania Railroad.

To still further accommodate its patrons, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has established the a la carte system of dining car service for breakfast and luncheon on several of its most popular trains.

A la carte breakfast is served on the Federal Express leaving Philadelphia at 6.35 A. M. daily for Washington, and on the Cleveland and Cincinnati Express leaving New York at 8.25 P. M. daily for Pittsburgh.

A la carte luncheon is served on trains leaving Philadelphia for New York at 11.00 A. M. weekdays, 12.35 P. M. Sundays only, and 1.00 P. M. week days; on train leaving Pittsburgh for Philadelphia at 12.01 P. M. daily, and on the coach section of train leaving New York at 1.55 P. M. daily for Pittsburgh and the West.

A la carte breakfast and lunch on are served on the Manhattan Limited leaving Pittsburgh at 3.35 A. M. daily for New York.

All dinners on Pennsylvania Railroad dining cars, and all other meals, except those mentioned above, are table d'hôte.

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who gets them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently. It has cost Dr. Pierce $25,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for. This book of 1008 pages is sent free on receipt of 21 one cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

REQUEST TO Electric Light PATRONS.

We are now in the midst of making the great improvements at our plant, which will necessitate running the water from our lake, and we ask the patrons of the Company to aid us during the next five weeks, by making an economical use of lights. To this end we would respectfully ask all patrons to turn off all lights which are not a necessity, and to be kind enough to turn off all lights at or before midnight, except the all night lamps which are actually paid for. As we have only our engine power left for service during these repairs, it will be to the benefit of all patrons as well as the Company, if you will kindly aid us in this request. When our repairs are completed, we will be fitted up to take care of our patrons better than ever in the history of the Company.

He Is A Well-Known Business Man And Lives In a Town Near Salisbury.

He used to be a trifle wild, but a few days ago he married a sweet little woman, settled down and also settled up. A short while ago his wife went to Chicago on a visit and owing to his health being a little undermined by too close application to business, he concluded that while she was in Chicago he would go up into Northern Wisconsin for a hunting and fishing trip and stop on his way back and bring his wife home. He wrote two letters from Wisconsin. One to his wife; a few sections of it read: "Dear wife:—I am having a great time up here. Game is plentiful. I never saw such large game in my life, some of it we get very heavy steaks out of. Fishing is good, too. Suckers are particularly thick. Some sucker bites every hour." The other letter he wrote to his partner. It read in part: "Dear John:—I guess I will quit business and go playing poker. Talk about game, well you can get any old game you want up here. They play up to the limit and you can't get the stakes too heavy to suit 'em. It's a good place to hunt for suckers, you can get a bite every time you throw out your bait. I send you enclosed one blue chip. I've got enough of them to use for buttons, etc. He directed two envelopes carefully, put the two letters in the envelopes, sealed them and, well you can imagine how his wife's brain was puzzled by reading the letter that was intended for John, and how John laughed when he read the letter intended for his wife. It's so easy to get mixed. Then a few days later John got a telegram which read, "Broke, send me four hundred dollars by express." John's partner sent it and put in the blue chip. You never want to take any chances unless you can afford to lose. You take chances when you buy any Clothes, Hats, Shirts, Collars, Cuffs and Suspenders without looking at James Thoroughgood's Hat and Furnishing Goods Store or Lacy Thoroughgood's Clothing, Hat and Gent's Furnishing Goods Store. That's no joke. If you can afford to lose, that's all right, but if you can't, if you need your money in your business, you have no business to spend your money until you know what you can get for it, and you'll never know until the Thoroughgood's show you.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Of First Congressional District Of Maryland. Constitutionalism And Conservatism Against Radical And Arbitrary Republicanism.

The platform reported adopted by the Congressional Nominating Convention of the First District of Maryland is as follows:

"The Democracy of the First Congressional district, in convention assembled, declared:

"That we endorse the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention, which assembled at St. Louis on July 6. We congratulate the stalwart and representative Democrats of that body for the masterful leadership, the broad party spirit and the splendid patriotism which characterized and directed the proceedings of that historic convention, and we pledge its nominees, Judge Alton B. Parker and Hon. Henry G. Davis, the zealous efforts and the unremitting and enthusiastic support of the great rank and file of the Democracy of the Eastern Shore.

"We join with all classes of people throughout our common country in especial rejoicing because of the exalted characters of our candidates for President and Vice-President, but we especially congratulate all those lovers of sound Democratic principles as taught and expounded by Jefferson and Madison. The nominee of the great Democratic party for the high office of President of the United States is of ideal Presidential quality and peculiarly fitted by reason of temperament and training for leadership in the impending battle for constitutional government. We believe that, all other issues aside, success will follow our standards, victory perch upon our banners because the great body of intelligent American electors before casting their ballots will make proper contrast of the strenuous egotism and dangerous and meddlesome restlessness of President Roosevelt with the attractive personality of that cool, sympathetic and well-informed jurist, that liberty-loving and self-poised statesman and Democrat, Alton B. Parker. We desire to emphasize the fact that we believe the personal characteristics of the Republican and Democratic candidates best serve to illustrate to the voters of the country the best meaning of the contest in which we are now engaged; that the lives of the two men are books in which the people may read that the great struggle of the campaign of 1904 is to be one in which the mighty hosts of conservative and constitutional Democracy are arrayed on the one side and the dangerous and forbidding forces of radical and arbitrary Republicanism on the other. The Republican party under the leadership of President Roosevelt would, if it could, win the affections of the American people for a political gospel not taught by the fathers of the Republic—the gospel of force. The same and temperate Alton B. Parker would remind us that force is not the equivalent of right and that the will of a President is not the equivalent of law. We invite the people to choose between constitutional government, based upon law, under an incomparable American Democrat and statesman, and absolutism, usurpation and disregard of law as typified by the present occupant of the White House. The Republican party of this district in convention assembled formally indorsed all the policies of President Theodore Roosevelt, peculiar to and inaugurated by himself.

"Under the administration of Grover Cleveland and William McKinley the race problem had been left to the people of the several States for settlement, but President Roosevelt inaugurated a new policy peculiar to himself. This policy consists among other things, in depriving the white people of certain communities of the South of their postal facilities for the furtherance of a peculiar negro policy. It involves the selection of negroes to high and important Federal offices over the protests of the white citizens of the communities interested and of their representatives in Congress. It involves the selection of a negro as collector of customs for a great commercial city of the South, as well as the selection of another negro as the President's confidential adviser in making appointments to office and in determining all matters of public policy affecting the welfare of one of the greatest States of the South, and against such a policy, though peculiar to President Roosevelt and indorsed by the Republicans of this district, we solemnly protest. We call the attention of our people to the fact that less than 12 months have passed since the Democrats of this State in convention assembled declared that the destinies of the people of Maryland should be controlled by the white people of the State.

"That upon this issue of white supremacy not only in the state, but in nearly all the counties thereof, we won a splendid victory; that this victory was won in spite of the teachings, the example and the executive influence of the present President of the United States. The white people of Maryland do not forget that fact, and neither must they forget that in President Roosevelt they have a candidate for President who precipitated anew the race issue in those States of the South where it had reached at least a partial settlement; that to cozen the negro vote in this State and in the States of the North he selected a Maryland negro to second his nomination for President; that he therefore gives evidence at least of his willingness to misuse the grave race problem for partisan ends, if not of his eager desire to show his lack of sympathy for the Maryland Democratic campaign slogan of 1904.

A Retraction.

In the May number of The Ladies Home Journal we published in the article entitled "The Patent Medicine Curse," an analysis of "Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription," in which that preparation was represented as containing, among other ingredients, tincture of digitalis, tincture of opium, and alcohol. Immediately upon publication of the number a suit for damages was instituted by the R. V. Pierce Medical Company, of Buffalo, New York, proprietors of the preparation in question, against the Curtis Publishing Company, based upon the claim that none of the three ingredients was contained in the medicine.

Upon the filing of the suit, we, of course, immediately looked into this particular analysis had been made, if made at all, full twenty-five years ago. We, thereupon, employed three leading chemists in different cities to make an analysis of the preparation from bottles bought in the open market. These analysis, one and all, now show to us that not a single one of the ingredients mentioned by us in the analysis quoted—that is, either digitalis, opium or alcohol—was contained in the bottles analyzed.

We then—the President of the Company and the writer—personally visited the R. V. Pierce Medical Company, of Buffalo, and were there convinced that the officers of the Company were absolutely truthful in their claim that not one of these injurious ingredients was contained in "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." Naturally, since the analysis we printed has been proved erroneous, the deductions made in connection with this preparation were unwarranted and unfounded.

Under these circumstances it is now perfectly plain to us that this magazine was unintentionally but nevertheless absolutely, misled in making the original statement, and we hereby of our own volition, make this unqualified acknowledgment of our mistake to the R. V. Pierce Medical Company and to our readers.

The mistake was honestly made, but it was a mistake.—From July Number "Ladies Home Journal."

Rebuilding. Work On New Mill, Warehouse and Office Underway—Plant Will Be Larger Than Before.

The E. S. Adkins Company have contracted for a new planing, sash and door mill to replace the one lately burned. The dimensions of the mill, which will be larger than the old one, are 62x106 feet, two stories high and the plans show a much better arrangement and a much stronger structure than the one burned. The contract calls for its completion and in running order by October 1st. The planing and other machinery for the first floor are now on their way from Philadelphia. The sash and door machinery now in Mill No. 2 will be installed in the new mill.

In addition to the building of this mill, E. S. Adkins Company will erect on the opposite side of the street a two story warehouse 56x100 feet, for the storage of sash and doors and other building material, which will be connected from the second story of each by an over head bridge. A trackway will be constructed so that the manufactured material can be carried on trucks from the factory direct to the warehouse. In this warehouse also will be the glazing room and painting department.

The new business office for the company will be erected on a piece of land leased from the B. C. & A. Railway Co., where the temporary office now stands. It will have a frontage of 20 feet, extending back 26 feet. In the rear of this will be a private office 12x12 feet. The style of architecture will be pleasing and both offices will be fitted up with handsome desks and cabinets. The entire building will be heated by steam, and is expected to have it complete before cold weather.

Wicomico Sunday School Convention.

The Wicomico County Sunday School Convention will be held at Mardela Springs on the 6th., and 7th., of October. An interesting program is being arranged. Each school in the county will be invited to send two delegates. One of the interesting features of the program will be an exhibit of Sunday School Appliances. These conventions are very important and profitable in awakening interest in Sunday School work and emphasizing the vital importance of the religious education and training of the child.

CLERK BOARD OF HEALTH

Of Jacksonville, Fla., Endorses Peruna.

C. D. Taylor, Clerk of the City Board of Health of Jacksonville, Fla., has occupied that position for the last ten years. In a recent letter to the Peruna Drug Co., he expresses his approval of their famous catarrh remedy Peruna in the following words: "The health of the poor of a large city is always a question of vital interest not only to the city officials but to every citizen. It has been a source of much satisfaction to me to find that so large a number of working people in moderate circumstances have accepted Peruna as their family medicine. It has cured a large number of cases especially of catarrh of the head, lungs and stomach and building up the general health it cannot fail but prove a help and blessing to any community where it is generally adopted and used. I have found it an honest reliable remedy and am pleased to endorse it."—C. D. Taylor, Clerk, Board of Health.

BASEBALL THIS WEEK

Easton and Cambridge Disbanded. Salisbury Management Challenges Any Amateur Team in the State. Plays in Crisfield To-day. Cambridge, 13; Easton, 5.

Cambridge defeated Easton last Saturday in one of the worst played games of the season. Errors and bad plays abounded on both sides. Two home runs were made off of Maddox of the Easton club.

Scores by innings.
Cambridge 0 4 3 0 2 0 x x—13
Easton 0 0 0 1 2 2 0 x x—5

Cambridge, 1; Salisbury, 0.
One of the closest and most exciting games of base ball that has been played on the Cambridge grounds this season was that which took place Monday afternoon. Salisbury was shut out and Cambridge scored one run.

In the third inning things looked very squally for Cambridge, as there were three men on bases with no one out, but Loos struck out the next two men who came to bat and the third flew out to Brodie.

In the second half of the fifth, Berry the first man up for Cambridge, got hit and was sacrificed to second by Fauth. He took third on Savage's single and scored when the catcher threw to catch him off third.

Scores by innings:
Salisbury 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0r 4th 2e

Salisbury took the game Wednesday with Cambridge at the rate of 6 to 1. Collier umpired the game and gave perfect satisfaction. The fielding of Orbin and Carroll was good and double plays were made by Carroll, Hoover and Sherwood, and Orbin and Sherwood. Brown pitched an excellent game for the locals.

Scores:
Salisbury 2 0 0 3 1 0 0 x—0r 11th 1e

Baseball Notes.

The management have challenged any team of the State in her class to seven games of baseball. Three games are to be played here, three on the grounds of the accepting team and the other at some mutually agreeable place. $200 will be forfeited in case Salisbury fails to do as she promises. This should furnish the lovers of the national game with fine sport. No one as yet has the backbone to accept the challenge.

Manager Jump of the Easton finds at the end of the season a deficit of something near $300.

An arrangement had been effected with Cambridge, after Easton gave up the ghost, which would give Salisbury two games each week; but Cambridge also showed the white feathers and played quits after the game here last Wednesday.

Salisbury management is trying to arrange games for the coming two weeks, but the action of Easton and Cambridge has given us such a reputation that it is hard to find clubs that are willing to compete with us.

We go to Crisfield to-day and expect to bring the game home.

County Commissioners In Session.

The County Commissioners, in session Tuesday, contracted with A. M. Bonds to build two ferry boats—one for White Haven and one for Wetpquin ferry—for the sum of $250.00. The Board appointed Jacob Adkins and Henry D. Powell a commission to examine and lay out a new road in Dennis district, leading from the public road opposite the residence of Elisha W. Parsons, John S. Parker, L. Lee Laws and others to intersect the county road leading from Powellville to Wango at School No. 1, Sixth District. The Commissioners decided to make their annual visit to the Alma House on Tuesday September 13. Board adjourned to meet Tuesday, 20th., inst.

PICTORIAL PUZZLE.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH THE PICTURE?

MR. SIMON ULMAN

Stricken With Paralysis Early Monday Morning. He Was One Of The Best Known Business Men Of Salisbury. Funeral In Baltimore Wednesday.

Mr. Simon Ulman, aged 62 years, a retired merchant of this city, died early at his home, Monday morning here. He is survived by eight children, as follows: Misses Hannah and Sarah Ulman, of Salisbury; Harry Ulman, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Dr. Ferdinand Ulman, of Baltimore; Albert Ulman, of Oil City, Pa.; Leon and Frank Ulman, of Salisbury. His widow also survives him.

Mr. Ulman and his brother, Isaac, married two of the daughters of the late Simon Long, the largest clothing merchant in Wilkesbarre. The following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Lena Elliott of Pueblo, Col.; Miss Mattie Ulman and Nathan Ulman, of Baltimore; Henry Ulman, of Fredericksburg, Va., and Isaac Ulman, of Salisbury. He was the oldest of the children.

This was the second stroke of paralysis that he has recently experienced. The first occurred several months ago and he was thought to be slowly recovering. In the death of Mr. Ulman Salisbury has lost a good citizen. He was identified with the business interests of Salisbury for many years and contributed largely to the building up of the town. He was a progressive citizen, and was one of the most charitable men in our midst. From his home was dispensed a charity that brought cheer to many poor homes in this community, and both he and his family were ever ready to relieve distress where they knew it existed. Mr. Ulman counted his friends by the hundreds, and there is genuine sorrow at his demise.

Mr. Ulman was born at Myersdale, Pa., November 3, 1842, where he was engaged in the clothing business for several years. He came to Salisbury, May 1, 1868.

Deceased was a prominent Mason, being a member of Wicomico Lodge and Chesapeake Chapter. He was treasurer of Wicomico Lodge for many years. He was a director of the Salisbury National Bank at the time of his death, and was a stockholder in this city. He was a member of Solon Conclave Improved Order Heptasophs, carrying a benefit certificate for $5,000. Mr. Ulman leaves a comfortable estate to his family.

A short service by the family was held at the home of the deceased Wednesday morning. Wicomico Lodge and Chesapeake R. A. Chapter furnished six of their members as pall bearers to accompany the remains to Baltimore. They were Messrs. W. H. McConkey, William M. Day, Frederick A. Grier, R. Lee Waller, Joseph Wilson and Mr. Nardin. The body was met at the boat by Rabbi Guttmacher, of the Madison Avenue Temple, who conducted the services at the grave. He was buried with full Masonic honors and a large number of relatives were present from Pittsboro and Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Call Of Democratic Convention.

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Democratic Congressional Convention of the First Maryland District, at its session at Ocean City, Maryland, on the 10th., day of August last, I hereby call said convention to re-convene at Ocean City at 12 o'clock, on Wednesday, September 14, instant.

Delegates and other Democrats interested in the work of said convention will please take notice of the time and place of the meeting of the same, and arrange to attend its session. Delegates are especially urged to attend. Henry R. Lewis, Chairman.
Denton, Sept. 7, 1904.

Imhoff—Nelson.

Miss Bertie J. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson, and Mr. Frederick R. Imhoff, of New York were quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson at noon last Saturday. Rev. C. A. Hill, D. D., pastor of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of relatives of the bride and groom, who were unattended. The wedding march was played by Miss Sallie Towdine.

The bride was dressed in a traveling suit of purple broadcloth and carried a bouquet of roses. The house was beautifully decorated with carnations, palms and ferns and the ceremony was performed under a festoon of smiles.

A reception was held immediately after the marriage. No invitations had been sent out and the relatives of both families alone were present. The bride and groom took the afternoon express for New York, where they will reside.

Rowe—McBriety.

Miss Mary Long McBriety, daughter of Mrs. Florence McBriety, and Mr. Henry C. Rowe, both of Salisbury were quietly married at the home of the bride's mother on William Street at high noon last Thursday. Rev. Thomas N. Potts, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. Miss Cora Mitchell and Mr. Raymond K. Truitt were the only attendants. The bride wore a traveling suit of pongee.

The couple left on the afternoon express for a ten days trip to Niagara, Buffalo and New York, after which they will reside on Park Avenue.

Both of the contracting parties are popular here, where the bride is known as one of its handsomest belles.

Large Machine Warehouse On Camden Street For L. W. Gunby Co.

Work on the new machine shop and warehouse of the L. W. Gunby Company has been started and will be rapidly pushed forward to completion. The improvements will consist of the erection of a two-story brick machine shop 36x55 feet, an annex 29x36 feet, and a machinery warehouse 50x90 feet. Entrance to the machine shop will be as at present on Camden street. The warehouse will front on South Division St.

The new machine shop will be supplied with two kinds of motive power—gasoline and steam. During the cold months steam will drive the machinery and heat the building; in summer the gasoline engine will furnish the power. The equipment of the new machine shop is to be increased by the addition of several large lathes and planers and other machines needed in the business.

Important Change In Schedule.

Taking effect September 18th., 1904, the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company will change their schedule, putting in effect their Fall and Winter schedule. See time tables.

FASHIONS AT NEWPORT.

Yachting Suits: Materials; Shoes: Hats: Evening Dresses: Lawn And Embroidered Yokes: Dutch Collars: New Jewels.

As this beautiful city by the sea is the strong hold of the yachtsman, it naturally comes about that the costumes of his fair visitors is an important matter, and if poetry can be evolved from flannel or serge, it certainly exists at Newport. The yachting suit that pleases the Newport beauty is plainly made, skirts do not touch the deck, a half-tight medium length jacket with no trimming beyond stylish metallic buttons on front and sleeves. A cotton and linen material in white or various blue shades, white or blue serge, plain white or twilled flannel, meet the present requirements of this fashionable place. Fancy striped flannel, trimmed with a solid color is always attractive.

A Few Etos

are still worn and sometimes elaborately trimmed by silk embroidery or white silk facings, dotted with black buttons and black braid straps, these however are in a small minority. Shoes for yachting or tennis astonish one at a first glance, so thick and heavy are they. Of white buckskin or canvas, with such rubber soles that they would seem to defy the elements. Yachting hats are unusually large, and it is now quite the style to bend the brim at the front a little over the forehead, a tilt which is usually becoming. Black facings give contrast to these light straws, and one handsome ostrich feather with a light silk draping imparts the requisite dash. Duck hats, stitched throughout and trimmed with white silk are also seen on yachting parties, the yachting cap however, has been almost entirely laid aside.

White Spangled Nets

have by no means passed out of style, a combination of two laces however meets with high approval by leaders of fashion. This fancy was illustrated at a recent entertainment where the hostess wore a costume of Parisian blue net, with lace appliques in a chrysanthemum pattern with trailing vines, which had been sent up for the occasion by Lord & Taylor of New York City. The lace aprons, appliques, were put on irregularly over the skirt which was of such a soft shade that no glaring contrast ensued. The corsage was a pointed bodice of chiffon folds over which the lace appliques were laid plain. From the shoulders drooped three wide pointed lace tabs, with the trailing vine pattern over close fitting elbow sleeves of shirred net. Pale blue satin slippers with white chrysanthemums on the instep, completed this beautiful costume.

Pretty Accessories

are very sheer yokes or capes, having insertions in points or loops of Valenciennes lace, oftentimes edged by a lace trimmed ruffle. The raged by this lace is unprecedented. Entire yokes are composed of narrow Val edging one row just overlapping the other and so skillfully put together that the yoke lies perfectly flat, not a crinkle, not a pucker. Other handsome yokes worn here are of the new open eyelet embroidery. A very pretty one was composed of seventeen gores, of course narrowing to the neck, each gore showing a spray of eyelet embroidery. The Dutch or round collar is in favor because new. Hand embroidery, is a frequent ornamentation, and frills prevent stiffness. A colored ribbon is drawn under the collar and tied at the front.

The Leaders Of Society

wear much jewelry this season, largely however of semi-precious stones in colors. Peridot, a light green stone and tourmaline in all colors are special favorites. Oriental corals and necklaces were never before in such demand, the latter becoming almost a necessity in view of the preference given to smaller square, low round or parrot necks. Egyptian chains, amethyst roses, or collars formed of the thickest of gold beads containing an Oriental design carried out by means of larger colored jewels, the collar being edged at both sides by seed pearls, are among the richest jewelry of the season.

"If" "But" "Can't"

These are the three great trouble words—hold-back words—of the English language; and they're small words at that.

"If" is the word of the doubter; "But" is the word of the waverer; "Can't" is the word of the weak or the sluggish.

So most of us identify and recognize the three words, yet there's a way to use them by which they may become comfort words, profit words.

We're going to deal with "If"—"But"—"Can't" in the next three issues of this paper. You will be interested, we are sure, in learning how these words may be used—properly used—in a way that cannot fail to benefit the users.

BERLIN.

Mr. Emory E. Bell, who had a slight sunstroke last Saturday afternoon and a partial attack of paralysis Sunday morning, we are glad to report is much improved.

Mr. Henry A. Godfrey left this week for Baltimore on a business visit.

Mr. Ned Duer, of Stockton, was a visitor of Baltimore this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols, of Philadelphia, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furbush.

Miss Bertie Bellis, who has had a most delightful visit and who has been a two weeks guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Hammond on Main Street, to her many friends' regret, was compelled to take her departure and return to her home in Philadelphia Monday.

Miss Bessie Hanley joined her friend, Miss Maud Bower, at Newark, and also was one of the guests of Miss Edna and Julia Jones on the bay for several days returning Monday.

Miss Maud Bagott has been a guest of Ocean City for a short stay, greeting old friends, enjoying the salt air and briny bath; but more pressing engagements compelled a return to Washington City on the afternoon train Monday.

Miss Ethel Fish accompanied a party of Washington friends and was a registered guest at the Neptune Villa last week. Miss Fish was delighted with her Ocean City visit and was very loth to leave its many attractions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartlett and daughter, Enlaia, who have been in Saratoga for several weeks, are home again.

Miss Lizzie Tilghman and May Gibbs left this week for the World's Fair, St. Louis.

Dr. James C. Dirickson, Mrs. Sue Tyler, and Mrs. Harry Purnell expect to make a start for the World's Fair next Monday. Mrs. Purnell will also pay her sister, Mrs. McNeely, in Petersburg, Ill., a visit, returning later.

Mrs. Edward Brooks and children, accompanied by her sister, Miss Gay Harrington, are visiting friends in Annapolis.

Mr. Thomas F. Dirickson and family, who have been living in New York, have moved near Berlin and will spend the balance of the year at Newport with Mr. Harry Purnell's family.

Mrs. Frank Porter and Miss Sallie Porter are making friends in Ridgely a visit. Mr. Porter made his return from the same point Monday.

Miss Hoffman and Miss Harmonson, chaperoned by Mrs. William Holloway, spent the afternoon at Ocean City Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pratt have been guests at the Atlantic this week. Master William, their little son, held his second birthday whilst here Tuesday.

Miss Margy Dale, who at one time in days past was a familiar figure on our streets and who is now living in Chico, California is a visitor at the Dilworths.

Miss Nannie Purnell, of Snow Hill, is visiting her aunt at Burley.

Master John Whaley paid Bishopville a business visit Wednesday.

Miss Ellen M. Marshall left Wednesday for a visit to relatives in Snow Hill.

Snow Hill is packed with school marmas this week preparing and fully equipping themselves for the coming term's duties.

The remains of Mrs. Geo. Taylor, who died in Salisbury, were taken to Snow Hill for interment Wednesday on the noon train.

Miss Ella Johnson, of Frederick, Miss Dorothy Fox, Roma Spauldings and Adlene Hammond, of Washington, who have been spending the summer at Ocean City, were entertained by Miss Harriett Dirickson for Tea Tuesday evening, returning on the late train that night.

Dr. Z. P. Henry paid Baltimore a business visit this week.

Miss Bertie Purnell has been a guest for several days this week of Miss Margaretta Farrell in Queponco.

Miss Margaret Purnell, a sister, was also a guest of Miss Margaret Jacobs, near Showells.

The friends of Miss Emma Bowen are delighted to once more have the opportunity of giving her a hearty welcome. Miss Bowen's home is in Philadelphia, but at the present she is a guest of Mrs. George Edward Henry, on Main Street.

Miss Adlene Hammond and Miss Harriett Dirickson seemed to very much enjoy their horse back ride to Ocean City last Monday.

The game of hearts Tuesday evening at Ingleside was exceedingly spirited and pleasant. Miss Doran proved herself the prize winner and most gracefully wore the honors.

Mr. James Haskins, who has been making Baltimore an extended visit, made his return accompanied by his brother, Clarence Haskins, who will make his father's family a visit.

Capt. John Dirickson is spending a week with his family on Main Street.

Mr. W. R. Purnell has purchased his brother, George's interest in the firm of W. R. Purnell & Bro.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin B. Taylor, Mr.

and Mrs. William R. Purnell, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartlett, Mrs. Sinker of Mo., Miss Marie Pitts, and Mr. Samuel Quillen, Jr., under the most favorable auspices, enjoyed a delightful outing Wednesday of this week. They drove to Haze's Landing and were there met by Capt. Bartlett and his new and comfortable launch, taking pleasure in steaming the party out of the creek and the different rocks for fishing, also to the beach for bathing and gathering of shells.

At high noon lunch baskets were very much in evidence, which proved to be one of the attractive features, and those who have ever experienced such a trip can picture the result. Since their return no one has complained of any decided glut in the fish market, nevertheless, the undertaking was voted a perfect success and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss Adlene Hammond entertained a number of young friends Wednesday evening at cards, each being the principal feature of the entertainment, in honor of Miss Ella Johnson, of Frederick, Md., who has been spending the summer at Ocean City. Refreshments were served later. Among the guests invited were Miss Hoffman, of Morristown, N. J., and Miss Dorman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., ladies who are visiting friends in Berlin. The parlor and dining room were both handsomely decorated with palms, greens and flowers, creating an effect that one with the eye of an artist could easily appreciate. Miss Hammond gracefully acquitted herself and had cause to feel gratified to give her friends such a delightful evening.

Among the new developments that are constantly taking place in our midst will soon be the Berlin Hardware Co., Messrs. Alfred F. Powell and Robert J. Massey, having this week formed a combination, purchased the stock and good will of Roger B. Adams on Pitts Street. They are both wide awake and up to date merchants and we predict for the new firm a successful business future.

Only Did His Duty As He Saw It.

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Charles Berlin's Co. for Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well known merchant and poet master at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not be without it for anything. Very often, to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery). You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." For sale by All Druggists.

Letter To D. C. Holloway & Co.

Dear Sir: D-v-o-e is worth $4 or $5 a gallon, put on: how much is another paint worth?

Depends on how many gallons you've got to put on, to be equal to one of D-v-o-e.

Mr. J. J. Shiffeld, Pa., painted two houses one coat, five years ago, lead and oil, took 40 gallons.

Last summer bought 40 gallons Devco for same house; had 10 gallons left.

Mr. N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., owns two houses exactly alike; painted one with Devco; took 6 gallons. The other with some other; took 18 gallons.

What'd you give for those off paints? Bear in mind, you've got to pay for the painting.

Yours truly

To the Patrons of Wicomico Public Schools

We have done our best to provide for the children of this county competent teachers and comfortable buildings and it is our earnest desire that all parents see that their children, so far as it is possible, enter school during its opening days and attend regularly throughout the school year, since no teacher can secure satisfactory results in the school room when the pupils are irregular in attendance.

Every absence means a serious loss to the student. This is especially true of primary pupils, who are often allowed to remain away from school on the most trivial excuses. Our schools are for your boys and girls—make all the use of them you possibly can by sending your child every day.

If your child is 6 years old before next January 1st, you are permitted and urged to have him registered at the opening of Fall Term, September 1st.

H. Crawford Bounds,
County Superintendent.

Successful Men

In every walk of life are the men who buy the best goods, do the best work, and build up their reputation on the rock of good work and a fair profit. Unfortunately in this day of keen competition, many people are apt to forget that a man who has built up a reputation for good work and honesty of purpose is entitled to a higher price for his work than the man who has no reputation at stake. I have 25 years reputation at stake.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE.

Chestertown Md.

One hundred and twenty-third session begins Sept. 21, 1904.

During the past year many changes and improvements have been introduced, all looking to the intellectual and physical welfare of the students. The curriculum has been revised and extended; the Faculty increased; buildings heated by new steam plant, students quarters remodeled, and a new administration building begun. The College offers three courses of study—

Classical, Latin-Scientific and Scientific.

each leading to the Bachelor's Degree. The elective system introduced in the new curriculum, enables each student to select those branches he especially needs.

Two sub freshmen classes are maintained for the benefit of those who desire a thorough preparation for college.

The Normal Department is now recognized by the state as a part of the public system of education, and stands on the same footing as the other Normal Schools of the state.

Announcement of Washington College
Here students may pursue their work in a highly moral, community, and beautiful and healthful surroundings under careful supervision of health and habits, in comfortable quarters at very low rates.

Take off Your Hats To St. Louis.

Take off your hat to St. Louis. She's holding a world's fair that will make you forget the Chicago one. It's a corker, also an uncorker, signs of it can be seen. Why, the Mayor's name is WELLS and he was not elected on a water platform. The hotels are full, also a few of the citizens. Stores have been remodeled, houses are all rented. St. Louis merchants are having real clearing-out sales like they do in other cities and towns and the dirt makes you think Salisbury is a clean place to live in, but you make another think coming and over and above all. Well, I begin to think that my two stores in Salisbury are the only stores that have new fall hats after seeing the Philadelphia, St. Louis and Chicago hat windows. Have you seen the New Fall Hats at James Thoroughgood's Store? They're beauts but they are no better than Lacy Thoroughgood has in his store. Our particular pride lies in the values we give at $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3 and Stetson's at $3.50. Nobody sells better hats than we do. We sell the "cal Brand, the Knox-All, the Gotham, Young Bros., the John B. Stetson's. Lacy Thoroughgood and James Thoroughgood have a clean stock of hats and our business methods are clean and our sales are now so large that we clean out enough hats in one week to fill an ordinary hat store.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Notice is hereby given that at the last session of the Maryland Legislature a bill was passed creating a new Election District from parts of Salisbury and Nutter's Election Districts, and to be known as Camden District, No. 18. The following are the boundaries of said District:

Beginning at the south east end of the cap sill of the flood gates of Humphreys mill pond to a point on the south side thereof in a straight line with the east line of the farm devised by Humphreys Humphreys to Dr. Eugene W. Humphreys; thence to said line and with the same to the Schumaker Road; thence extending in a straight line to the Snow Hill road; thence in a straight line to a point on the north side of the road leading from Tony Tank to the Snow Hill road and distance 800 yards from its intersection with the road from Salisbury to Fooks Mills; thence by and with said road to the north side of the flume way of Fooks' grist mill; thence westward by and with Clear Run Branch and Tony Tank Mill Pond and Creek to the intersection of the said Creek with the Wicomico River; to the south branch thereof; thence by and with the south branch thereof to the place of beginning.

We hereby give notice, that acting under authority of said Act, we have transferred the names of 11 voters, as near as possible, from the books of Salisbury and Nutter's Election District, whose place of residence at the last election was within what is now Camden Election District, and have had the same published in handbill form and posted in each of the districts. Any omissions or errors can be corrected by the parties applying to their respective registration offices at the first or second day of registration in September or in October. A map showing the surveyed lines can be seen at the registration office in District 14 at their sittings.

DECIDE YOURSELF.

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed By Salisbury Testimony.
Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read the statement of Salisbury citizens

And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:

Wm. M. Gordy, carpenter, residing corner of Ann and E. Church Streets says: "I have had backache for several years, was sore in the morning when I got up, and if I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and caused my back to ache severely. I have been so bad that I could scarcely step down from one step to another, and when I arose from a chair, I could not straighten for sometime. I was having considerable pain in my back at the time I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and I got a box at White & Leonard's drug store. They acted directly on my kidneys and soon stopped the attack from which I was suffering. My son also took some of the pills and received good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts a box. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

Mr. Z. P. Zapp, while gunning a few days ago on his place near Marlottville, killed a large eagle which measured 7 feet 8 inches from tip to tip across the wings. This bird had been in the neighborhood for quite a while and caused much damage among fowls, young lambs and pigs.

The Stomach Is The Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, cleanses and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Sold by All Drug gists.

A thief has been busy among the thrashing rigs near Kennedyville during the past few days, stealing pairs from thrashers which are hard to replace and putting monkey wrenches and iron bars in unthrashed wheat.

A Boy's Wild Ride For Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 18 miles to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from a throat, but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove it a matchless merit for all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all drug stores.

Dr. Frank W. Smith, of Fairlee, was taken to the Maryland General Hospital last Wednesday for treatment for injuries received by the kick of a horse several weeks ago.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, of Salisbury, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicine gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel complaint. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

The town commissioners of Galena have ordered a number of 2,000 c. n. d. power lamps, which will be placed in convenient places in the streets.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by All Druggists.

From injuries received during a quarrel at Havre de Grace, Hugh Gibson, aged 88, died at the home of his brother, in that town.

From 148 To 92 Pounds.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fennir, of Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it has a tendency to close, and hearing is impaired. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed, or forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

In Praise Of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera And Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose I was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." ## DARING AND HARDY.

Yet Newfoundland Fisher Folk Are Guileless as Children.

Newfoundland is famous for its dogs, its fogs and its fishermen. The latter being the greatest in the world. Other countries have recognized fishing centers, like Gloucester in New England, Grimsby in Great Britain and St. Malo in France. But Newfoundland is one vast fishery depot, the haven of the argosies from all the neighboring seas. It is a region unique, with a people still more so. Larger in area than New York state, its population is less than Jersey City—a scant 220,000 persons distributed round a coast line 6,000 miles in extent, with scarcely a house visible for miles of the sea when all obtain a livelihood.

But the sturdy, stubborn fisher folk took root, increased and multiplied slowly, it is true, because the sea and the dog took dreadful toll of them, but none the less, owing to the hardy stock of which they were. Successive generations followed the breeding of their forebears, and there was bred a people who for sheer daring and absolute endurance have no equal in the world today.

"Why haven't we got our wharf money yet?" demanded a grizzled codfisherman of the inspector in a fishing hamlet three years ago, when the annual grant for the repair of the public wharf was in some manner delayed.

"I don't know," responded the officer. Then, in joke, "I suppose the queen hasn't sent it out."

"Oh, well," commented the grizzled fisherman, taking this seriously. "We can't be too hard on her. Maybe she had a bad fishery herself."

This represents their ideas of the outside world. They are as simple as children and as guileless. Many have never seen a horse or a cow. The railroad and the trolley car are beyond their comprehension. A visit to St. John's is an event in the lives of all, and a merchant's automobile from the capital visiting an outpost twenty miles away caused a panic among the inhabitants. The world's great cities are regarded as only so many fishing villages of larger growth.

An American tourist was asked last year if they caught fish in New York with squid or caplin bait, while an Englishman who announced himself as from Liverpool was rendered speechless by the query: "Where you ever in Gloucester, sir?" I've got a cousin there fishing with Sol Jacobs." During the late war it was commonly thought in the smaller settlements that the Boers would attack St. John's, while union with Canada was rejected owing to the "argument" that the Canadians "would use Newfoundland children as 'gun wads' for their cannon."—Outing.

Rice as a Health Food.

Considerable attention has been directed toward rice as a health food since the fighting qualities of the Japanese are being so widely discussed. It has always been commonly believed that rice lacks the ingredients that help make muscle for the human body. However, the most important article of diet of the Japanese is rice, and we have recently if not before had occasion to particularly note the physical strength of these small people of Japan. The Philadelphia Vegetarian society has lately been paying special attention to this subject and has made investigations through Professor S. A. Knapp, who has a simple explanation of this supposed inconsistency. Rice, as it is eaten in America, is not a muscle making food simply because in American mills the outer husk and bran of the rice kernel are removed by polishing, and thus is removed that part of the rice which contains the protein and is the most nutritious.

In Japan the outside coating of the rice kernel is retained, and hence great strength of muscle is developed in the Japanese.—Exchange.

Another Use For a Hairpin.

Civilization would be unthinkable without the hairpin, but until day before yesterday I had no notion of the ultimate possibilities of the article. It was in the drawing room of a restaurant much frequented by women, and two pretty young women came in together.

"I'm going to smoke a cigarette," said one, quite as if smoking were the usual thing among young gentlemen. "I always smoke after luncheon."

She produced a dainty cigarette case and selected a cigarette. "Mercy!" said the other girl. "Do take off those new white gloves. You'll get a dreadful stain on them."

"No, I won't," said the first girl. "You just watch me smoke."

She took an ordinary thin wire hairpin from somewhere in her back hair and put a cigarette between its two arms.

"There," she said. "I never stain my fingers. Hairpins make the best cigarette holders in the world, and I don't see how men ever get along without them."—Washington Post.

English Music Sellers.

London Truth relates that certain country music sellers found half hours of their valuable time wasted by young women who turned over sheets of music (and perhaps tried them over on a piano), only to purchase a single song, the profit upon which was only 2 or 3 pence, and recognizing that women justly desire an opportunity of trying over a piece before they buy it, they resolved to make a small charge for the accommodation they afforded. One leading provincial music dealer makes a charge of a shilling an hour for the use of his piano and music. The woman may in that time try over as many songs and pianoforte pieces as she likes, and if her purchase is not a certain amount the shilling an hour fee is either reduced or entirely remitted.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strain law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjust this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at all druggists.

PHILIPPINES AT WORLD'S FAIR

Complete Exhibition of Island People and Industries Covers Forty-seven Acres and is Independent of Larger Show.

Not even in the heart of Manila city could there be found forty-seven acres of Philippine territory as interesting as that amount of space covered by the islands' display at the World's Fair. Here is an exposition within an exposition, a little wheel that revolves independently of the larger one encompassing it.

Scores of buildings are filled with exhibits, native life is depicted by as many different villages as there are tribes on the islands, military drills are given by Philippine troops, and concerts are rendered by native bands. For its amusement features the Philippine exposition has the humorous Igor-

rote, who dines on dog meat, and visitors are entertained by Visayan actors and actresses. Nothing is lacking to make the show complete.

The Administration building is a replica of the government offices in Manila, while the Art and Education building reproduces in miniature the cathedral within the walled city, even the melted tints of age being faithfully rendered. A section of the ancient but still serviceable town wall has been reconstructed to serve the double purpose of a gateway to the show and a museum of arms and war relics. The other main edifices are types of Filipino homes, being built of undressed timber, bamboo and rattan, with thatched roofs and broad verandas.

Then there are the tribal villages nestled under the trees, some of the houses perched high up among the boughs, others on piles above the waters of the Arrowhead lake, all of them actual dwellings fashioned of native materials by native workmanship and illustrating the manners, customs and pursuits of their occupants. Here are women weaving a coarse cloth on a rude hand loom, others making baskets, others tending irrigated fields of rice. One group of men are in village council, trying an offender according to their tribal laws; others are slowly moving in a circular dance to the thump of tomtoms and the clang of brass gongs; others, again, are smelting iron by the aid of a primitive but most ingenious bellows, the constituent parts of which are a bamboo tube and an air-tight cup of feathers working therein like the piston of a syringe. And these are but a few of an almost endless variety of life pictures.

The ethnological problem is a somewhat complicated one; but, although there are no fewer than sixteen races represented among the village dwellers, the accents and the constabulary, each race speaking its own dialect and following its own customs, all may be roughly classified into four groups—the true aboriginals or non-Malays, the pagan Malays, the Christian Malays and the Mohammedan Malays.

The first are the dwarf Negritos, with dark skins and woolly heads, wearers of scanty raiment, proficient in the use of the bow and poisoned arrow, a race of nomads and forest dwellers, pagans pure and simple. They live in their own stockaded village.

Next to them are the Igorrotes, whose origin is traced back to the first wave of Malay invasion. Here, again, we have scanty clothing, amounting almost to nudity, but copper colored skins, long wavy tresses, pleasant featured faces and fine physiques, even though the stature be small. Among these pagan Malays are the head hunters and the dog eaters. They are savages, yet have their code of laws and a knowledge of several primitive industries.

The Christian Malays, produced by the second wave of invasion, are represented by the Visayans, a tall and handsome race, dressing well, living in pretty homes, skilled in weaving, dyeing, basket making, hat making, wood carving and other handicrafts, musicians of no mean merit, the one group of natives who came early and thoroughly under the influence of the early Spanish settlers.

Very different are the Moros, who swept into the islands from the Malay peninsula last of all, bringing with them their Mohammedan religion, also the knowledge of gunpowder acquired with the Koran from the Arabs—fanatics like their teachers, pirates, blood-thirsty, treacherous and vindictive fellows, ever at war among themselves and with the whole outside world. Despite their ferocity they are a clever race, dress handsomely, have their suits and their slaves and are expert seamen, while long continued pillage on the high seas has surrounded them with many of the luxuries and conveniences of western civilization.

The buildings of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries show all the varied natural products, also the extremely primitive processes as yet in vogue, while in the Women's building we are introduced to a number of native manufactures, including the beautiful fabricated from the coco, banana and pineapple fibers. This information is collated in the Building of Commerce, where a unique and most effective method of exhibiting is followed. In one hall are samples of all the articles produced for export, among which Manila fiber, of course, holds the chief place of prominence, while in a second hall are all the manufactures from every country that are imported and find a ready market among the populace. Thus the business man gets a dual lesson. He sees what he can profitably take from the islands, and also what he may profitably send to them. When it is added that a large number of representative Filipinos have been brought over to visit the Exposition and study American business methods and manufactures, it will be recognized that great benefit both to the islands and to the world at large must result from this work of mutual enlightenment.

CONCERTS BY MASSES BANDS

Prizes Aggregating $30,000 to Be Distributed at the World's Fair.

Never were musical events in America planned upon such an elaborate scale as those of the World's Fair. A series of concerts will be given by competing bands in contest for prizes offered by the World's Fair. These contests will take place in Festival Hall, Sept. 12 to 17.

Nine cash prizes, aggregating $40,000, are offered for the successful bands. The prizes are divided so as to give to the organization scoring the highest number of points $25,000; $2,500 will be given to the band scoring the second highest number of points and $1,500 to the one getting the third highest number.

The above division is made for bands in Class A, which consist of twenty members. In the B class $10,000 will be given in prizes—first, $4,500; second, $3,500; third, $2,000.

Class C, which includes bands of thirty-five members, will enjoy the division of $12,750. For the organization scoring the highest number of points a prize of $6,000 has been named. The second prize is $4,000 and the third $2,750.

Bands employed by the Exposition are not permitted to contest. All players must be bona fide members, and each musician must have been enrolled at least three months prior to the date of the contest. Each band must send to the bureau the name of its members and a nominal entrance fee.

Festival Hall concerts by masses bands will be given at 7:30 each day during the contest, in which all contesting bands will take part under the direction of a distinguished conductor. All bands entering must agree to play one concert in addition to the competing concert and masses concerts.

A separate programme has been prepared by the Bureau of Music for each class, and each band will play through the full programme of its class. The numbers in all three programmes are by eminent composers and are chosen with the view of bringing out the qualities of the bands performing them. The list of composers includes Wagner, Gounod, Offenbach, Verdi, Saint-Saens, Bizet, Strauss and Leoncavallo.

WEATHER AT WORLD'S FAIR.

Cool Nights and Delightful Indian Summer to Be Expected at St. Louis.

Usually the warmest month of the year, July proved to be one of the most pleasant of the World's Fair season, the average temperature being 67 degrees, a record lower than that made by either Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati or Chicago. The weather bureau records show that the temperatures in St. Louis during July were just between the extremes recorded at New Orleans and St. Paul, cities located at great variance.

August in St. Louis is a month of cool nights, and September and October are the most delightful months of the year. It is that period known as Indian summer, when the foliage and birds linger to challenge the coming winter. Nowhere on the American continent is there a spot more delightful than the World's Fair city, a garden of blooming flowers and spraying fountains.

St. Louis, like all cities, experienced several hot days during July, but her highest temperature recorded was 93 degrees against 94 degrees registered by the thermometer at Chicago. On the same day the mercury rose to 96 degrees in Philadelphia, and scores of heat prostrations were reported from New York and Boston.

The relative humidity shows St. Louis to be about normal. Assuming absolutely no moisture in the atmosphere to be zero and absolute wetness to be 100, the relative humidities for July, taken from the records of more than twenty years, Boston shows 70.6, New York 72.2, Philadelphia 68.6, Cincinnati 64.6, Chicago 66.9 and St. Louis 66.3. The same degree of heat in two places, with different degrees of humidity, would cause it to seem the hotter at the point of greater density.

St. Louis may therefore rightly claim to be a summer resort this summer, positively one of the most comfortable and delightful places on the map.

To Appreciate Insurance

It is not necessary to have a fire. The mere sense of protection and security is well worth the cost of the premium. Insurance is now practically considered as necessary to the well ordered man of thrift, as the roof which covers his house. We issue policies in the best companies at the lowest rates. If without insurance or you want more write or see us at once.

IN TIMES OF WAR

Company I, Of The First Maryland Volunteers, Have Exciting Time And Lots Of Hard Work—With Honors, At Manassas.

Company I, of the First Maryland Volunteers, who have been participating in the war maneuvers at Manassas, Va., has returned home. Capt. L. P. Coulbourn gave out the following interview in regard to the trip and the work of the company from Salisbury:

"Company I, of Salisbury, joined the First Regiment of the Maryland National Guard at Union Station, Baltimore, on the afternoon of September 3rd. The regiment with horses, baggage, commissary supplies, etc., was loaded upon a special train which left the station at 3.30 o'clock for Manassas Camp No. 2, near Thoroughfare, Va.

"The regiment reached its destination about dusk and bivouacked for the night. The following day camp was made and thoroughly policed. The site was a level piece of ground near the railroad about the center of the vast territory covered by the 15,000 troops of Camp Number 2. About 14 miles to the East, North East, was Camp Number 1, the camp of the 'Blues,' near Manassas. In the rear of the 'Brown's' camp was the famous 'Thoroughfare Gap' through which the Confederates unfortunately were led to the support of General Beauregard at the first battle of Bull Run.

"The first problem to be solved by the 'Browns' was one of defence. Our regiment was attached to the third brigade of the 'Browns' under command of General Fred Grant. We took the field at 2.30 a. m., September 6, and throughout that day supported General Grant's center. Through some unfortunate circumstance Company I took the field without breakfast; but it can be truthfully said that the men of the company displayed their customary cheerfulness in the face of hardships second only to those of real war.

"The night of September 6 the regiment bivouacked under shelter tents, but was ordered out shortly after midnight. Company I, attached to the First Battalion was on the firing line until the first problem was finished with a victory for General Grant's 'Brown's.' The work of Company I cannot be too highly praised. The Elkon company and my men would have captured an entire battalion of 'Blues' had an umpire been present. "The tired soldiers returned to camp. By this time many were weary and foot sore. But when they were ordered to assume the offensive against General Grant's 'Blues' the next day, they obeyed with cheerfulness and courage worthy of regulars. The hardships of the second expedition were much greater than those of the first. But although the men suffered excessively from fatigue, no serious sickness resulted.

"On the morning of the ninth the men crossed a stream almost up to their necks. As is well known, the second engagement resulted in a complete triumph for the 'Browns.' They pushed forward to the camp of the enemy and captured it. Every 'Brownie' is rejoicing, and no one more than General Grant. The citizens of that part of Virginia are jubilant, seeing in the triumph of the 'Browns' a repetition of the victory in the first battle of Bull Run.

"I have nothing but praise for every man in the company. The men behaved like veterans, and their unques-

SMITH FOR CONGRESS.

Hon. Thomas A. Smith, Of Caroline, Chosen At Ocean City Wednesday To Be The Standard Bearer Of First District Democrats, The Proceedings.

Col. Thomas A. Smith, of Caroline county, former State Labor Statistician and former State Senator, was selected as Democratic candidate for Congress by the First Congressional District Convention, which reassembled at Ocean City Wednesday.

The best of good feeling prevailed and confidence is expressed that the district will go Democratic.

Chairman Lewis, after reciting the facts of ex-Gov. Elihu E. Jackson's nomination at the first meeting of the convention and his declination, said the sole purpose in reconvening the convention was to name another candidate.

Rev. John J. Monaghan, Bishop of Wilmington, opened the convention with prayer.

The roll of counties was called by Secretary George W. Wilson.

Caroline county was the first called. Mr. Harvey L. Cooper in an eloquent address, placed Hon. Thomas A. Smith in nomination. He declared that Caroline county was always willing to sacrifice herself for the good of the party, but this time she felt that she was entitled to the nomination and should receive the unanimous support of the other delegations. He spoke of the high qualifications of Mr. Smith for the office of Congressman, and promised that with him as the candidate the district will be redeemed from republican rule.

When Somerset was called Mr. H. L. D. Standford said: "Somerset has no candidate of her own and has no favor to ask of this convention, except that it discharge its duty by naming the strongest man that can be found."

Speaking for Talbot county, Mr. George W. Wilson said: "We came here prepared to present the name of a man who, while not a candidate was willing to accept the nomination and who we believe could win. A majority of the convention appears to prefer someone else, and Talbot county, acquiescing in the will of the majority, promises to cast its 1,800 Democratic votes for Parker and Davis and for Thomas A. Smith." (Applause.)

Mr. George Biddle, of Kent county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Smith and on motion of Mr. Edward McMaster, of Worcester county, he was nominated by acclamation.

Before this action was announced Mr. Standford declared that the Democracy of Somerset county would be found this fall with its shoulders to the wheel and would give a good account of itself on the day of the election. "We are," he said, "gaining in Democratic sentiment in Somerset and last fall we were the banner Democratic county below the Choptank."

A Monument To The Memory Of The Author Of "Dixie".

A movement is on foot to erect a monument to the memory of the author of "Dixie," Daniel Decatur Emmett, in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, the city of his birth and death. Upon the occasion of the death of Mr. Emmett, which occurred recently, the Mayor of Mt. Vernon, at the request of the lodge of Elks of that city, who had charge of the funeral, appointed a committee of prominent citizens to act as a memorial commission to solicit and receive subscriptions to the fund for the monument. Those desiring to subscribe to the fund should send remittances to the Secretary of the commission, Mr. J. D. Smoots, at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, who will make acknowledgment of the same.

HURRICANE VIOLENCE

Strikes The Eastern Coast Following Rain Storm, Thursday Morning. Considerable Small Damage Around Salisbury. 8 Drowned In Delaware, Elsewhere.

Salisbury was visited Wednesday night and early Thursday morning by one of the severest rain and wind storms that it has ever experienced. The wind, began to blow from the West shortly before 2 o'clock a. m., and in a little while was blowing about sixty miles an hour. Heavy timbers eighteen feet long that were lying on top of the electric plant, which is being rebuilt, were nowhere to be found in the morning. Trees were uprooted and broken and sheet iron awnings were torn down. The machinery in the electric light plant was damaged and the main fuses where the lines enter the plant were burnt out.

The electric, telegraph and telephone wires and poles were torn down and Salisbury was without telegraphic or telephonic communication with the outside world with the exception of one telephone line to Vienna. A pile driver at the railway was blown up high on the opposite side of the river and the tide Thursday morning was about even with the wharves at Main Street and overflowed the banks farther up the river.

Great damage was done in the country to the fall crops and shade trees. The late corn was blown down and peaches, pears and apples were scattered over the ground.

Eight Drowned In Delaware River.

During the storm the tug Israel W. Durham, of Philadelphia, was sunk in the Delaware river, off the mouth of Christian creek, and eight persons aboard her were drowned.

A barge that was in tow of the tug is ashore on the New Jersey side of the river.

The men drowned included five of the tug's crew and three men employed by the American Dredging Company.

Of ten men aboard the Durham but two were saved.

Around The Chesapeake.

For nearly ten hours the bay was swept by a rain and wind storm that for a time raged more fiercely than any other storm in the memory of many of the Chesapeake mariners. The storm seemed to be more severe farther down the bay than at its head. It reached its greatest intensity between the hours of one and two o'clock Thursday morning, and was more noticeable about the mouth of the capes. No large accidents to steamers or shipping have been reported yet.

In Baltimore the storm is said to have been the worst of its kind for 33 years.

Preparing For Another Fall Rummage Sale.

The Board of Lady Managers of the Hospital, encouraged by the success of the rummage sale given last fall, propose to hold another one this season, about the latter part of October.

The members of the board will be greatly indebted to the housekeepers of the town if at their semi-annual house-cleaning, they will remember the sale, and lay aside such things as they are willing to give the ladies to be used for this purpose.

Donations of any articles of clothing, household furniture, or kitchen utensils, no matter how worthless they may seem, will be acceptable.

Birthday Party.

Quite a large number of the young people from town were invited out in the country Monday evening to be present at the birthday party given by Miss Carrie Briddell at her home a short distance from town. The early part of the evening was pleasantly passed away in various games and music. Miss Anderson of Cape Charles and Miss Briddell from Princess Anne were the leading musicians both being quite accomplished in that art.

At half past ten all were invited to the dining room for refreshments after which adieus were said and all returned home assuring Miss Briddell that they had spent a most delightful evening.

Miss Mary Ayres, whilst on her way to Philadelphia, last Saturday in raising a car window accidentally dropped her purse near Showells containing quite a sum of money. The train was stopped and run back for some distance, but failed to make a find. Through the kindness of the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad a guard was placed on the supposed route and requested to use every endeavor to recover and restore to the loser, which was accomplished early Sunday morning, both a relief and satisfaction to the whole family. The contents of purse were nearly $200.

MARRIED MEN LOSE

Two Hours Of Amusement Furnished On Baseball Diamond By Single And Married Men Of Salisbury. Large Score And Few Innings.

The '04 base ball management of Salisbury realized several helpful dollars, and the spectators much fun at the expense of rusty ball players on the regular grounds in South Salisbury Tuesday afternoon. The game was between married and single men of the town, the latter scoring heavier and winning by 17 to 12. The day was a hot one and five innings were thought enough by the original lineup although the full nine were played by new occasions. The features of the game were the number of laughs furnished the spectators by the inevitable playing of the old timers, who scored a point at every opportunity.

Worcester And Somerset Couple United At Peninsula Hotel.

The parlor of the Peninsula Hotel at this place was the scene of a pretty though quiet wedding Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock when Mr. Peter J. Hudson, a prosperous merchant of Kingston, Somerset county and Miss Mattie L. Jones, one of Worcester's fair school teachers, were united in wedlock by Rev. David Howard, rector of the St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church of this place. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly attired in white organdy and carried brides' roses. The happy couple left on the afternoon express for a tour to Baltimore and the World's Fair.

Adkins—Messick Marriage Takes Place In Baltimore.

Miss Orala L. Messick, daughter of Mr. Wesley H. Messick, of Salisbury, Md., and Mr. C. H. Adkins also of Salisbury, Md., were married Thursday at the parsonage of Fayette Street Methodist Episcopal Church by the pastor, Rev. John W. R. Sumalt.

Mr. Adkins said he and Miss Messick arrived in Baltimore Thursday a week ago and that Miss Messick has been stopping at the home of her uncle, Mr. Leon H. Messick, and that he made his home with his mother, Mrs. Ida E. Adkins, 407 Courtland street. He said Miss Messick's father knew of their intentions when they left Salisbury, but they had not informed Mr. Messick of the marriage up until a late hour Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Adkins will reside in Baltimore.

—Mrs. Richard Bradley entertained last Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Dawson and Miss Linsdale, of Wilmington. Dancing and games were indulged in until refreshments were served in the dining room. ## PHILIPPINES AT WORLD'S FAIR

Complete Exhibition of Island People and Industries Covers Forty-seven Acres and is Independent of Larger Show.

Not even in the heart of Manila city could there be found forty-seven acres of Philippine territory as interesting as that amount of space covered by the island display at the World's Fair. Here is an exposition within an exposition, a little wheel that revolves independently of the larger one encompassing it.

Scores of buildings are filled with exhibits, native life is depicted by as many different villages as there are tribes on the islands, military drills are given by Philippine troops, and concerts are rendered by native bands. For its amusement features the Philippine exposition has the humorous Igor-

rote, who dines on dog meat, and visitors are entertained by Visayan actors and actresses. Nothing is lacking to make the show complete.

The Administration building is a replica of the government offices in Manila, while the Art and Education building reproduces in miniature the cathedral within the walled city, even the mellowed tints of age being faithfully rendered. A section of the ancient but still serviceable town wall has been reconstructed to serve the double purpose of a gateway to the show and a museum of arms and war relics. The other main edifices are types of Philippine homes, being built of undressed timber, bamboo and rattan, with thatched roofs and broad verandas.

Then there are the tribal villages nestled under the trees, some of the houses perched high up among the boughs, others on piles above the waters of the Arrowhead lake, all of them actual dwellings fashioned of native materials by active workmanship and illustrating the manners, customs and pursuits of their occupants. Here are women weaving a coarse cloth on a rude hand loom, others making baskets, others tending irrigated fields of rice. One group of men are in village council, trying an offender according to their tribal laws; others are slowly moving in a circular dance to the thump of tom-toms and the clang of brass gongs; others, again, are smelting iron by the aid of a primitive but most ingenious bellows, the constituent parts of which are a bamboo tube and an airtight mop of feathers working therein like the piston of a syringe. And these are but a few of an almost endless variety of life pictures.

The ethnological problem is a somewhat complicated one; but, although there are no fewer than sixteen races represented among the village dwellers, the scouts and the constabulary, each race speaking its own dialect and following its own customs, all may be roughly classified into four groups—the true aboriginals or non-Malays, the pagan Malays, the Christian Malays and the Mohammedan Malays.

The first are the dwarf Negritos, with dark skins and woolly heads, wearers of scanty raiment, proficient in the use of the bow and poisoned arrow, a race of nomads and forest dwellers, pagans pure and simple. They live in their own stockaded villages.

Next to them are the Igorotes, whose origin is traced back to the first wave of Malay invasion. Here, again, we have scanty clothing, amounting almost to nudity, but copper colored skins, long wavy tresses, pleasant featured faces and fine physiques, even though the stature be small. Among these pagan Malays are the head hunters and the dog eaters. They are savages, yet have their code of laws and a knowledge of several primitive industries.

The Christian Malays, produced by the second wave of invasion, are represented by the Visayans, a tall and handsome race, dressing well, living in pretty homes, skilled in weaving, dyeing, basket making, hat making, wood carving and other handicrafts, musicians of no mean merit, the one group visit natives with caution and thoroughly under the influence of the early Spanish settlers.

Very different are the Moros, who swept into the islands from the Malay peninsula last of all, bringing with them their Mohammedan religion, also a knowledge of gunpowder acquired with the Koran from the Arabs—fanatics like their teachers, pirates, blood-thirsty, treacherous and vindictive fellows, ever at war among themselves and with the whole outside world. Despite their ferocity they are a clever race, dress handsomely, have their servants and their slaves and are expert seamen, while long continued pillage on the high seas has surrounded them with many of the luxuries and conveniences of western civilization.

The buildings of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries show all the varied natural products, also the extremely primitive processes as yet in vogue, while the Women's building we are introduced to a number of native manufactures, including the beautiful fabricated and fine banana and pineapple fibers. This information is collated in the Building of Commerce, where a unique and most effective method of exhibiting is followed. In one hall are samples of all the articles produced for export, among which manila fiber, of course, holds the chief place of prominence, while in a second hall are all the manufactures from every country that are imported and find a ready business man gets a dual lesson. He sees what he can profitably take from the islands, and also what he may profitably send to them. When it is added that a large number of representative Filipinos have been brought over to visit the Exposition and study American business methods and manufactures, it will be recognized that great benefit both to the islands and to the world at large must result from this work of mutual enlightenment.

CONCERTS BY MASSES BANDS

Prizes Aggregating $30,000 to Be Distributed at the World's Fair.

Never were musical events in America planned upon such an elaborate scale as those of the World's Fair. A series of concerts will be given by competing bands in contest for prizes offered by the World's Fair. These contests will take place in Festival Hall, Sept. 12 to 17.

Nine cash prizes, aggregating $30,000, are offered for the successful bands. The prizes are divided so as to give to the organization scoring the highest number of points $3,250; $2,500 will be given to the band scoring the second highest number of points and $1,500 to the one getting the third highest number.

The above division is made for bands in Class A, which consist of twenty members. In the B class $10,000 will be given in prizes—first, $4,500; second, $3,500; third, $2,000.

Class C, which includes bands of thirty-five members, will enjoy the division of $12,750. For the organization scoring the highest number of points a prize of $6,000 has been named. The second prize is $4,000 and the third $2,750.

Bands employed by the Exposition are not permitted to contest. All players must be bona fide members, and each musician must have been enrolled at least three months prior to the date of the contest. Each band must send to the bureau the name of its members and a nominal entrance fee.

WEATHER AT WORLD'S FAIR.

Cool Nights and Delightful Indian Summer to Be Expected at St. Louis.

Usually the warmest month of the year, July proved to be one of the most pleasant of the World's Fair season, the average temperature being 67 degrees, a record lower than that made by either Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati or Chicago. The weather bureau records show that the temperatures in St. Louis during July were just between the extremes recorded at New Orleans and St. Paul, cities located at great distances.

August in St. Louis is a month of cool nights, and September and October are the most delightful months of the year. It is that period known as Indian summer, when the foliage and birds linger to challenge the coming winter. Nowhere on the American continent is there a spot more delightful than the World's Fair city, a garden of blooming flowers and spraying fountains.

St. Louis, like all cities, experienced several hot days during July, but her highest temperature recorded was 93 degrees against 94 degrees registered by the thermometer at Chicago. On the same day the mercury rose to 90 degrees in Philadelphia, and scores of heat prostrations were reported from New York and Boston.

The relative humidity shows St. Louis to be about normal. Assuming absolute no moisture in the atmosphere to be zero and absolute wetness to be 100, the relative humidities for July taken from the records of more than twenty years, Boston shows 70.6, New York 72.2, Philadelphia 68.6, Cincinnati 64.6, Chicago 60.9 and St. Louis 66.3. The same degree of heat in two places, with different degrees of humidity, would cause it to seem the hotter at the point of greater density.

St. Louis may therefore rightly claim to be a summer resort this summer, positively one of the most comfortable and delightful places on the map.

IN TIMES OF WAR

Company I. Of The First Maryland Volunteers, Have Exciting Time And Lots Of Hard Work—With Honors, At Manassas.

Company I. of the First Maryland Volunteers, who have been participating in the war maneuvers at Manassas, Va., has returned home. Capt. L. P. Coulbourn gave out the following interview in regard to the trip and the work of the company from Salisbury:

"Company I. of Salisbury, joined the First Regiment of the Maryland National Guard at Union Station, Baltimore, on the afternoon of September 3rd. The regiment with horses, baggage, commissary supplies, etc., was loaded upon a special train which left the station at 3.30 o'clock for Manassas Camp No. 2, near Thoroughfare, Va.

"The regiment reached its destination about dusk and bivouacked for the night. The following day camp was made and thoroughly polished. The site was a level piece of ground near the railroad about the center of the vast territory covered by the 15,000 troops of Camp Number 2. About 14 miles to the East, North East, was Camp Number 1, the camp of the 'Blues,' near Manassas. In the rear of the 'Brown's' camp was the famous 'Thoroughfare Gap' through which the Confederates unfortunately were led to the support of General Beauregard at the first battle of Bull Run.

"The first problem to be solved by the 'Brown's' was one of defence. Our regiment was attached to the third brigade of the 'Brown's' under command of General Fred Grant. We took the field at 2.30 a. m., September 6, and throughout that day supported General Bell's center. Through some unfortunate circumstance Company I took the field without breakfast; but it can be truthfully said that the men of the company displayed their customary cheerfulness in the face of hardships second only to those of real war.

"The night of September 6 the regiment bivouacked under shelter tents, but was ordered out shortly after midnight. Company I, attached to the First battalion was on the firing line until the first problem was finished with a victory for General Bell's 'Brown's'. The work of Company I cannot be too highly praised. The Elkton company and my men would have captured an entire battalion of 'Blues' had an umpire been present. The tired soldiers returned to camp. By this time many were weary and foot sore. But when they were ordered to assume the offensive against General Grant's 'Blues' the next day, they obeyed with cheerfulness and courage worthy of regulars. The hardships of the second expedition were much greater than those of the first. But although the men suffered excessively from fatigue, no serious sickness resulted.

"On the morning of the ninth the men crossed a stream almost up to their necks. As is well known, the second engagement resulted in a complete triumph for the 'Brown's'. They pushed forward to the camp of the enemy and captured it. Every 'Brownie' is rejoicing, and no one more than General Bell. The citizens of that part of Virginia are jubilant, seeing in the triumph of the 'Brown's' a repetition of the victory in the first battle of Bull Run.

"I have nothing but praise for every man in the company. The men behaved like veterans, and their unquestioned merits were recognized in the camp. The military training of First Sergeant A. W. Woodcock, who joined the company this summer made it possible for him to be of special service to me and to the company."

Capt. Coulbourn, the commanding officer of Company I, is the senior officer of the battalion. His record at the Maryland National Guard Headquarters is perhaps higher than that of any captain at present in the service. One of the men in speaking of him said, "Capt. Coulbourn was constantly with his men. It was his fine example that kept us in line."

SMITH FOR CONGRESS.

Hon. Thomas A., Of Caroline, Chosen At Ocean City Wednesday To Be The Standard Bearer Of First District Democrats, The Proceedings.

Col. Thomas A. Smith, of Caroline county, former State Labor Statistician and former State Senator, was selected as Democratic candidate for Congress by the First Congressional District Convention, which reassembled at Ocean City Wednesday.

The best of good feeling prevails and confidence is expressed that the district will go Democratic.

Chairman Lewis, after reciting the facts of ex-Gov. Elihu E. Jackson's nomination at the first meeting of the convention and his declining, said the sole purpose in reconvening the convention was to name another candidate.

Rev. John J. Monaghan, Bishop of Wilmington, opened the convention with prayer.

The roll of counties was called by Secretary George W. Wilson.

Caroline county was the first called. Mr. Harvey L. Cooper in an eloquent address, placed Hon. Thomas A. Smith in nomination. He declared that Caroline county was always willing to sacrifice herself for the good of the party, but this time she felt that she was entitled to the nomination and should receive the unanimous support of the other delegations. He spoke of the high qualifications of Mr. Smith for the office of Congressman, and promised that with him as the candidate the district will be redeemed from republican rule.

When Somerset was called Mr. H. L. D. Standford said: "Somerset has no candidate of her own and has no favor to ask of this convention, except that it discharge its duty by naming the strongest man that can be found."

Speaking for Talbot county, Mr. George W. Wilson said: "We came here prepared to present the name of a man who, while not a candidate was willing to accept the nomination and who we believe could win. A majority of the convention appears to prefer someone else, and Talbot county, acquiescing in the will of the majority, promises to cast its 1,800 Democratic votes for Parker and Davis and for Thomas A. Smith." (Applause.)

Mr. George Biddle, of Kent county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Smith and on motion of Mr. Edward McMaster, of Worcester county, he was nominated by acclamation.

Before this action was announced Mr. Standford declared that the Democracy of Somerset county would be found this fall with its shoulders to the wheel and would give a good account of itself on the day of the election.

"We are," he said, "gaining in Democratic sentiment in Somerset and last fall we were the banner Democratic county below the Choptank."

A Monument To The Memory Of The Author Of "Dixie"

A movement is on foot to erect a monument to the memory of the author of "Dixie," Daniel Decatur Emmett, in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, the city of his birth and death. Upon the occasion of the death of Mr. Emmett, which occurred recently, the Mayor of Mt. Vernon, at the request of the lodge of Elks of that city, who had charge of the funeral, appointed a committee of prominent citizens to act as a memorial commission to solicit and receive subscriptions to the fund for the monument. Those desiring to subscribe to the fund should send remittances to the Secretary of the commission, Mr. J. D. Smoots, at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, who will make acknowledgment of the same.

HURRICANE VIOLENCE

Salisbury was visited Wednesday night and early Thursday morning by one of the severest rain and wind storms that it has ever experienced. The wind, began to blow from the West shortly before 2 o'clock a. m., and in a little while was blowing about sixty miles an hour. Heavy timbers eighteen feet long that were lying on top of the electric plant, which is being rebuilt, were nowhere to be found in the morning. Trees were uprooted and broken and sheet iron awnings were torn down. The machinery in the electric light plant was damaged and the main fuses where the lines enter the plant were burnt out.

The electric, telegraph and telephone wires and poles were torn down and Salisbury was without telegraphic or telephonic communication with the outside world with the exception of one telephone line to Vienna. A pile driver at the railway was blown up high on the opposite side of the river and the tide Thursday morning was about even with the wharves at Main Street and overflowed the banks farther up the river.

Great damage was done in the country to the fall crops and shade trees. The late corn was blown down and peaches, pears and apples were scattered over the ground.

Eight Drowned In Delaware River.

During the storm the tug Israel W. Durham, of Philadelphia, was sunk in the Delaware river, off the mouth of Christian creek, and eight persons aboard her were drowned.

A barge that was in tow of the tug is ashore on the New Jersey side of the river.

The men drowned included five of the tug's crew and three men employed by the American Dredging Company.

Of ten men aboard the Durham but two were saved.

Around The Chesapeake.

For nearly ten hours the bay was swept by a rain and wind storm that for a time raged more fiercely than any other storm in the memory of many of the Chesapeake mariners. The storm seemed to be more severe farther down the bay than at its head. It reached its greatest intensity between the hours of one and two o'clock Thursday morning, and was more noticeable about the mouth of the capes. No large accidents to steamers or shipping have been reported yet.

In Baltimore the storm is said to have been the worst of its kind for 33 years.

Preparing For Another Fall Rummage Sale.

The Board of Lady Managers of the Hospital, encouraged by the success of the rummage sale given last fall, propose to hold another one this season, about the latter part of October.

The members of the board will be greatly indebted to the housekeepers of the town if at their semi-annual house-cleaning, they will remember the sale, and lay aside such things as they are willing to give the ladies to be used for this purpose.

Donations of any articles of clothing, household furniture, or kitchen utensils, no matter how worthless they may seem, will be acceptable.

Birthday Party.

Quite a large number of the young people from town were invited out in the country Monday evening to be present at the birthday party given by Miss Carrie Briddell at her home a short distance from town. The early part of the evening was pleasantly passed away in various games and music. Miss Anderson of Cape Charles and Miss Briddell from Princess Anne were the leading musicians both being quite accomplished in that art.

At half past ten all were invited to the dining room for refreshments after which adieu was said and all returned home assuring Miss Briddell that they had spent a most delightful evening.

Miss Mary Ayres, whilst on her way to Philadelphia, last Saturday in raising a car window accidentally dropped her purse near Showells containing quite a sum of money. The train was stopped and run back for some distance, but failed to make a find. Through the kindness of the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad a guard was placed on the supposed route and requested to use every endeavor to recover and restore to the loser, which was accomplished early Sunday morning, both a relief and satisfaction to the whole family. The contents of purse were nearly $200.

—For Rent—To gentlemen, one furnished second story front bed room with bath. Desirable location. Inquire at Advertiser office.

MARRIED MEN LOSE

Two Hours Of Amusement Furnished On Baseball Diamond By Single And Married Men Of Salisbury. Large Score And Few Innings.

The '04 base ball management of Salisbury realized several helpful dollars, and the spectators much fun at the expense of rusty ball players on the regular grounds in South Salisbury Tuesday afternoon. The game was between married and single men of the town, the latter scoring heavier and winning by 17 to 12. The day was a hot one and five innings were thought enough by the original lineup although the full nine were played by new occasions. The features of the game were the number of laughs furnished the spectators by the inevitable playing of the old timers, who scored a point at every opportunity.

Worcester And Somerset Couple

United At Peninsula Hotel.

The parlor of the Peninsula Hotel at this place was the scene of a pretty though quiet wedding Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock when Mr. Peter J. Hudson, a prosperous merchant of Kingston, Somerset county and Miss Mattie L. Jones, one of Worcester's fair school teachers, were united in wedlock by Rev. David Howard, rector of the St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church of this place. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white organza and carried brides' roses. The happy couple left on the afternoon express for a tour to Baltimore and the World's Fair.

Adkins—Messick Marriage Takes Place In Baltimore.

Miss Ora L. Messick, daughter of Mr. Wesley H. Messick, of Salisbury, Md., and Mr. C. H. Adkins also of Salisbury, Md., were married Thursday at the parsonage of Fayette Street Methodist Episcopal Church by the pastor, Rev. John W. R. Sumalt.

Mr. Adkins said he and Miss Messick arrived in Baltimore Thursday a week ago and that Miss Messick has been stopping at the home of her uncle, Mr. Leon H. Messick, and that he made his home with his mother, Mrs. Ida E. Adkins, 407 Courtland street. He said Miss Messick's father knew of their intentions when they left Salisbury, but they had not informed Mr. Messick of the marriage up until a late hour Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Adkins will reside in Baltimore.

—Mrs. Richard Bradley entertained

last Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Dawson and Miss Linsdale, of Wilmington. Dancing and games were indulged in until refreshments were served in the dining room. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White, Misses Grace Linsdale, Annie Dashiell, Pauline Collier, Louise Perry, Gladys Moore, Ida Jones, Mildred Dougherty, Nanette Dougherty, Daisy Bell, Nellie Fish, Mayme Parsons, Messrs. Huston Enark, Arthur Phillips, William Phillips, Homer White, Samuel Douglass, John A. Humphreys, Edgar Laws, George White, Arthur Richardson, and Walter Huntington.

Miss May Jarvis, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Kendall Taylor, for several weeks this summer and who has largely contributed to the pleasure of numerous friends, bade us a final adieu and returned to her home in Philadelphia Monday afternoon.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Notice is hereby given that at the last session of the Maryland Legislature a bill was passed creating a new Election District from parts of Salisbury and Nutter's Election District, and to be known as Camden District, No. 13. The following are the boundaries of said District:

Beginning at the south east end of the cap all of the flood gates of Hum phreys mill pond to a point on the south side thereof in a straight line with the east line of the farm devised by Humphrey Humphreys to Dr. Eugene W. Humphreys; thence to said line and with the same to the Schumaker Road; thence extending in a straight line to the Snow Hill road; thence in a straight line to a point on the north side of the road leading from Tony Tank to the Snow Hill road and distance 800 yards from its intersection with the road from Salisbury to Fooks Mill; thence by and with said road to the north side of the same; thence by Fooks' grist mill; thence westward by and with Clear Run Branch and Tony Tank Mill Pond and Creek to the intersection of the said Creek with the Wicomico River; to the south branch thereof; thence by and with the south branch thereof to the place of beginning.

We hereby give notice, that acting under authority of said Act, we have transferred the names of all voters, as far as possible, from the books of Salisbury and Nutter's Election District, whose place of residence at the last election was within what is now Camden Election District, and have had the same published in handbill form and posted in each of the districts. Any omissions or errors can be corrected by the parties applying to their respective registration offices at the first or second day of registration, September or in October. A map showing the surveyed lines can be seen at the registration office in District 13 at their sittings.

We have done our best to provide for the children of this county competent teachers and comfortable buildings and it is our earnest desire that all parents see that their children, so far as it is possible, enter school during its opening days and attend regularly throughout the school year, since no teacher can secure satisfactory results in the school room when the pupils are irregular in attendance.

Every absence means a serious loss to the student. This is especially true of primary pupils, who are not allowed to remain away from school on the most trivial excuses. Our schools are for your boys and girls—make all the use of them you possibly can by sending your child every day.

We have done our best to provide for the children of this county competent teachers and comfortable buildings and it is our earnest desire that all parents see that their children, so far as it is possible, enter school during its opening days and attend regularly throughout the school year, since no teacher can secure satisfactory results in the school room when the pupils are irregular in attendance.

Every absence means a serious loss to the student. This is especially true of primary pupils, who are not allowed to remain away from school on the most trivial excuses. Our schools are for your boys and girls—make all the use of them you possibly can by sending your child every day.

If your child is 6 years old before next January 1st, you are permitted and urged to have him registered at the opening of Fall Term, September 1st.

H. Crawford Boudens,

DECIDE YOURSELF.

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed By Salisbury Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read Salisbury endorsement. Read the statement of Salisbury citizens.

And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it:

Wm. M. Gordy, carpenter, residing corner of Ann and E. Church Streets says: "I have had backache for several years, was sore in the morning when I got up, and if I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and caused my back to ache severely. I have been so bad that I could scarcely step down from one step to another, and when I arose from a chair, I could not straighten 'or sometime. I was having considerable pain in my back at the time I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and I got a box at White & Leonard's drug store. They acted directly on my kidneys and soon stopped the attack from which I was suffering. My son also took some of the pills and received good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts a box. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

The Stomach Is The Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, changes and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Sold by All Druggists.

A Boy's Wild Ride For Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for his life, 18 miles to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from a time; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvellous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove it a matchless remedy for all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all druggists.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens. Ever since Dr. King's New Discovery was given him, he has been able to get up and move about. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvellous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove it a matchless remedy for all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all druggists.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by All Druggists.

What's In A Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases. DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by All Druggists.

A Power For Good.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel I, blue mass or any other pill I ever took and at the same time the effect was pleasant. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill. Sold by all druggists."

Has Sold A Pile Of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for more than twenty years and it has given entire satisfaction. I have sold a pile of it and can recommend it highly. Joseph McElhinney, Linton, Iowa. You will find this remedy a good friend when troubled with a cough or cold. It always affords quick relief and is pleasant to take. For sale by All Druggists.

Several families have sent as many as three or four students to Goldey College.

STRANGE WAR CUSTOM.

The Magical Belt That is Made by the Women of Japan.

Of all strange warlike customs perhaps none is more curious than one that might be noticed on any crowded street of Tokyo or Kobe just at the present time. With the regular army in the field and increasing levies made from time to time on the reserves, every third woman is a sweethart, or wife of some soldier or other, whose hopes are ever for the safety of the boy far away or the one who is so soon to take the field.

To give these hopes substance the Japanese woman takes it upon herself to furnish the departing soldier with a magical belt, whose power is great enough to deflect the best directed Russian bullet. For material she purchases a yard or two of yellow or blue cloth, ordinary weaves, a small brush and a bottle of ink. Then carefully a thousand little black dots are made on the cloth with great accuracy as to number, for the efficacy of the belt depends upon its having exactly a thousand dots regularly arranged.

This done, a needle and long skein of white thread is taken and our Japanese sweethart goes out on the street. The first woman she meets is asked to take a stitch through one of the black dots, wish well for the soldier boy, cut off the thread and tie the ends together tightly, and so on with the second woman and the third or fourth or one thousand. No woman must take more than one stitch or the charm of the belt will fall, and no woman must be asked twice. Men are also barred from this magical belt making, even though the completion of the thousand stitches means many a weary mile of walking and many a night spent in the sun when the day is warm.

When the thousand wishes have been safely sewed into the belt it is treasured most sacredly until the last moment before the departure for the front. At that moment the soldier receives it from the hands of the woman he loves best—or is supposed to love best—ties it securely around his waist and is off. Behind him, in Kobe or Tokyo, the sister or sweethart or wife hopes for his safe return and meanwhile the stitches in maybe a thousand and other belts of yellow cotton, each with its thousand black dots carefully linked in regular order, that the charm may not be spoiled.—New York Times.

The Literary Instinct.

There are two things the literary artist craves—praise and money. Of the latter it is interesting to speak, because the matter of money making is changing the whole course of literature, and a few great fortunes made have beckoned all sorts of stragglers, halt and crippled, into the field. A review of the fortunes made by Hall Caine and Marie Corelli it is wholesome to reflect upon the $25 that Milton got for "Paradise Lost." Shelley never made anything out of his poetry; Browning for twenty years and upward paid to get his work printed; the greatest of English novelists earns his livelihood by reading for publishers, and, although we have no data, it would be safe to guess that Mr. Stevenson could not support himself by his poetry. To sum up, in Stevenson's words again, "What you may decently expect if you have some talent and much industry is such an income as a clerk will earn with a tenth or perhaps a twentieth of your nervous output."—Harper's Weekly.

A New Sunshine Recorder.

The new Dawson-Lauder sunshine recorder consists of a drum on which silver chloride paper is fastened under a film of celluloid. An outer cover is rotated by clockwork in twenty-four hours, and a narrow slit is thus directed to the sun. A hood protects the slit from diffused light and allows an error of about half an hour in the clock before sunlight is cut off from the slit. The drum with the sensitive paper turns along the axis of the celluloid, so that the record of a number of days is obtained, one below the other. The chloride of silver makes possible a standard of intensity of sunshine which can be reproduced. The same size of paper is employed at all seasons, and the instrument can be used in polar as well as temperate latitudes.—London Globe.

Golf Balls and Cables.

The use of gutta percha for submarine cables and golf balls makes constant drains on the supply of this material, and substitutes are being constantly sought after. In constructing a cable the gutta percha is employed to insulate the conducting wire from the exterior metal sheath, and though later rubber has been employed for this purpose on some shorter lines, yet for long ocean lines the gutta percha is considered essential. Recently the Gutta Telegraph department has made a thorough test of some cables into whose construction an artificial gutta percha enters. This material is the invention of Adolf Gentzsch of Vienna and is a mixture of India rubber and a palm wax whose melting point is the same as that of the rubber. The electrical properties of the compound are equal to those of the gutta percha, and the specifications of the contract with the German government were more than satisfied in actual tests. The cost of the artificial gutta percha cables is about 35 per cent less than the ordinary cable.—Harper's Weekly.

A Model Town.

University Place, a few miles east of Lincoln, is the only town in Nebraska where tobacco is not sold. Not only are liquor, billiard tables, dance halls, saloons, and every other form of "questionable" amusement barred from this town, but now the cigar store and the cigarette counter have been added to the prohibited list.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjust this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 35c at all druggists.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

In Praise Of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." ### CHAPTER XI.

YOU would better spread a little more canvas, Mr. Seymour. I think we shall do better under the topgallant sails. We have no time to lose."

"Aye, aye, sir," replied the young executive officer, and then, lifting the trumpet to his lips, he called out with a powerful voice: "Lay aloft and loose the topgallant sails! Man the topgal-lant sheets and balyards!"

The crew, both watches being on deck, were busy with the various duties rendered necessary by the departure of a ship upon a long cruise, and were occupied here and there with the different details of work to be done when a ship gets under way. Some of them, their tasks accomplished for the moment, were standing on the forecastle or peering through the gun-ports, gazing at the city, with the tall spire of Christ church and the more substantial elevation of the building even then beginning to be known as Independence hall rising in the background beyond the shipping and over the other buildings which they were so rapidly leaving. In an instant the quiet deck became a scene of quick activity, as the men left their tasks and sprang to their appointed stations.
The long coils of rope were thrown upon the deck and seized by the groups of seamen detailed for the purpose, while the rigging shook under the quick steps of the alert topmen springing up the ratlines, swarming over the tops and laying out on the yards, without a thought of the giddy elevation in their intense rivalry each to be first.

"The main royal also, Mr. Seymour," continued the captain. "I think she will bear it. 'Tis a new and good stick."

"Aye, aye, sir. Main topgallant yard there."

"Sir?"

"Aloft, one of you, and loose the royal as well."

"Aye, aye, sir."

After a few moments of quick work the officers of the various masts indicated their readiness for the next order by saying in rapid succession:

"All ready, the fore, sir."

"All ready the main, sir."

"All ready the mizzen, sir."

"Haul, ho! Now, and all together."

I want those Frenchmen there to see how smartly we can do this," said the captain in reply, addressing Seymour in a tone perfectly audible over the ship.

"Let fall! Lay in! Sheet home!"
Hoist away! "Tend the braces there!"

Amid the creaking of blocks, the straining of cordage and the lusty heaving of the men, with the shrill pipes of the boatswain and his mate for an accompaniment, the sheets were hauled home on the yards, the yards rose on their respective masts, and the light sails, the braces being hauled tied, belled out in the strong breeze, adding materially to the speed of the ship.

"Lay down from aloft!" cried the lieutenant when all was over.

"Aye, that will do," remarked the captain. "We go better already. I am most anxious to get clear of the capes before nightfall. Call the men aft and request the officers to come up to the quarter deck. I wish to speak to them."

"Aye, aye, sir. Mr. Wilton," said the young officer, turning to a young mid-shipman standing on the lee side of the deck, "step below and ask the officers there and those forward to come on deck. Bently," he called to the boatswain, "call all hands aft."

"Aye, aye, sir."

Again the shrill whistling of the pipes was heard, followed by the deep tones of Bently, which rolled and tumbled along the decks of the ship in the usual long drawn, monotonous cry which could be heard above the roar of the wind or the rush of the water or the straining of the timbers, from the trunk to the keelson. "All hands lay aft, to the quarter deck."

The captain, standing upon the poop deck, was not at first glance a particularly imposing figure. He was small in stature, scarcely five and a half feet high at best, with his natural height diminished, as is often the case with sailors, by a slight bending of the back and stooping of the shoulders;
yet he possessed a well knit, vigorous and not ungraceful figure, whose careless pose and the ease with which he maintained his position with his hands clasped behind his back, in spite of the rather heavy roll and pitch of the ship in the very strong breeze, indicated long familiarity with the sea.

The officers, gathered in a little knot on the lee side of the quarter deck, several midshipmen among them, were worthy of the crew and the commander.

"Men," said the captain, in a clear, firm voice, removing his cocked hat from his thick black hair, tied in a cue and entirely devoid of powder, as he looked down at them from the break of the poop with his piercing black eyes, "we are bound for English waters."

"Hurrah! Hurrah!" cried many voices from the crew impetuously.

"We will show the new flag for the first time on the high seas," he continued, visibly pleased, and pointing proudly to the stars and stripes, which his own hand had first hoisted, fluttering gayly out at the peak. "And I trust we may strike a blow or two which will cause it, and us, to be long remembered. While you are under my orders I shall expect from you prompt, unquestioned compliance with my commands, or those of my officers, and a ready submission to the hard discipline of a ship of war, to which most of you, I suspect, are unfamiliar, unless you have learned it in that bitter school, a British ship. You will learn, however, while principles of equality are very well in civil life they have no place in the naval service. Subordi-

"We are bound for English waters."

nation is the word here; this is not a trading vessel, but a ship of war, and I intend to be implicitly obeyed," he
severely at them. "Nevertheless," he added, somewhat relaxing his set features, "although we are not a peaceful merchantman, yet I expect and intend to do a little trading with the ships of the enemy, and in any prizes which we may capture you know you will all have a just, nay, a liberal, share. It must not be lost sight of, however, that the first business of this ship, as of every other ship of war of our country, is to fight the ships of the enemy of equal, or of not too great, force. Should we find such a one, as is most likely, in the English channel, we must remember that the honor and glory of our flag are above prize money."

"Three cheers for Captain John Paul Jones!" cried one of the seamen, leaping on a gun and waving his hat. They were given with a mighty rush from nearly two hundred lusty throats, the ship being heavily overmanned for future emergencies.

"That will do, men," said the captain, smiling darkly. "Remember that a willing crew makes a happy cruise."

Mr. Seymour, having the boatswain pipe all hands to grog, then set your watches. Mr. Talbot," he added, turning to the young officer in the familiar buff and blue of the Continental army, who stood by his side, an interested spectator to all that had occurred,
"will you do me the honor of taking a glass of wine with me in the cabin?"

"I should be glad if you would join us also," Mr. Seymour, after the watch has been called, and you can leave the deck. Let Mr. Wallingford have the watch; he is familiar with the bay."

Tell him to take in the royal and the fore and mizzen topgallant sails if it blows heavily," he continued, after a pause, and then, bowing, he left the deck.

Pronunciations That Signified.

Senator Stone of Missouri once made a famous remark to the effect that the only way to "carve" a watermelon is to "bust 'er." He said, however, in a recent interview that every state has its own peculiar way of doing things and, among others, its own style of pronouncing words. "It is related,"
said the senator to a Des Moines Times reporter, "that, when the first tide of New England settlers began to drift to Kansas, Missourians tied a cow's tail to the crosspiece of the Missouri river. If the emigrant said 'cow' he was permitted to cross, but if he pronounced it 'keow' he was told to return to the east, because the natives were satisfied he was an evil minded abolitionist. The Kansas people evened up by tying a bear on their side of the river, and if the emigrant said 'bear' he was given the right hand of fellowship, but if he pronounced it
'bar' he was given an hour to get back to Missouri, because he was an advocate of slavery."

Korean Women and the Gospel.

Two pictures significant of the changes wrought among women in Korea through the preaching of the gospel are given in the Scottish Missionary Record. In the year 1890 Messrs. Moffett and Lee first undertook to preach to Korean women in Pyeongyang. Mrs. Lee came with four young women and sat behind a curtain which divided the church from a little adjoining room. Other women in dirty clothes would keep talking and walking about. Mr. Moffett, as he preached, would clap his hands and say, "Keep quiet while I talk to you," and the elders would call out "Shut up!" Six years after, in 1902, Mr.
Moffett spoke in the great new church of Pingyang to 900 women, of whom 550 sat on the raised seats next the platform. Six hundred unkept, dirty women six years ago; now 600 Christians!—Exchange.

Solar Eclipse.

A total eclipse of the sun will occur on Sept. 19. The line of totality lies wholly in the Pacific ocean. The only land over which the shadow will fall when the sun is at a sufficient altitude for useful observation is contained in the Marshall Islands, in latitude north 8 degrees and 172 degrees east longitude. The duration of totality there will be three minutes eighteen seconds.
The duration of totality in longitude
184 degrees 23 minutes west, latitude 3 degrees 40 minutes south, will be six minutes twenty-four seconds. Fandings Island, where the Pacific cables land, and Palmyra Island are near the line of totality. A partial eclipse will be visible at Honolulu.

FIRST AMERICAN COINS.

Copper Half Cents Were Issued From the Mint in 1793.

The treasurer of the United States on May 9, 1803, released two half cent pieces. This is the first time in the history of the country that any such coins have been presented for redemption. It is more than a century since the first half cent piece was coined, and it is nearly fifty years since the government discontinued minting
them.

Possibly not one person in a thousand now living in the United States ever saw a half cent piece.

The last annual report of the director of the mint, page 52, shows that 7,895,222 of these coins, representing $39,476.11, were issued. For almost half a century each annual report of the treasury department has included them among the "outstanding" obligations of the government.

The half cent piece was the coin of the smallest denomination ever made by this country. It enjoys the distinction also of being the first coin issued and also the first whose denomination was discontinued. The United States mint was established in 1792, and copper half cents and cents were issued in 1793. Half the total number of half cents issued were coined previous to 1810, after which year their coinage, with few exceptions, was limited.
None was coined for circulation from 1812 to 1823, nor from 1836 to 1848.
Finally, in 1857, their coinage, with that of the big copper cent, was discontinued. On account of their limited issue in the last years of their coinage they practically had disappeared from the channels of trade.

The needs of adopting the half cent
as the lowest value computing factor for a coin were made in the early days of the republic. Colonial half cents and British farthings of the same commercial value were then in circulation and many articles were priced and sold in half cents. With the progress of the nation values rose and the needs for a half cent disappeared, and their use following the first decade of the century was almost entirely confined to multiples of trade.

While all other discontinued types and denominations of United States coin have found oblivion, the half cent is the only one of which the treasury reports do not record some portion of the issue redeemed. This singular and unexplained fact has been one of frequent comment and inquiry from mint and treasury officials.

Large quantities of half cents are to be found in the stocks of coin dealers. The most common dates are sold at a good premium and the extremely rare ones are worth their weight in gold.

Ferran Zarbe of St. Louis was the man who sent the two half cent pieces to Washington for redemption. He now prizes highly the little voucher calling for "one cent" which was sent to him with that amount of current coin in exchange for the two half cent pieces he had forwarded.—Gateway Magazine.

The more natural diet is more palatable, invigorating and strengthening to body and mind—right to the

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, to come regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it.
Yours very truly, Mrs. ROSA ADAMS, 819 12th St., Louisville, Ky."

Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility, and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified indorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female cures.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. This is nearly a year ago. I always keep a bottle on hand, and take a few doses every week, for I find that it tones up the system and keeps me feeling strong, and I never have that tired out feeling any more.
I certainly think that every woman ought to try this grand medicine, for it would prove its worth. Yours very truly, Miss ELIZABETH DANFORTH, 808 De Soto St., Memphis, Tenn."

Thomas W. H. White Mangled By A Car While Asleep.

Thomas W. H. White, 32 years old, of son Capt. Sidney White, was found dead Monday morning on the tracks of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railroad about 100 feet from Fulton Station, which is on a spur running off from the main track to the center of the town.

White had been drinking it is said, and the supposition is that he lay under one of the cars on the switch and went to sleep. It was the last car on the track and when the engine came to pull the car out it was not noticed that White was under it. The brake rod probably caught him across the knees and rolled him on the ties breaking his neck and back and badly bruising his right shoulder.

It was almost an hour afterward that the body was found by Jake Gordy, a colored driver. A jury of inquest with Capt. William Brewington foreman, gave a verdict of accidental death.

Letter To Chas. L. Wallis.

Dear Sir: Let's talk it right out before folks; there's nothing to hide in your business or ours; if there is, we'd better hide ourselves.

We are in trade to make money; so are you. We make it by saving our customer's money; so do you. Our object, in trade, is to save your customer's wood from rotting and iron and steel and tin from rusting; yours the same.

We work for thousands of property owners, for a few. We can do some things that you can't do; We have the facilities. You can do some things that we can't; you are there. Let us work together; be faithful to one another. We can serve our customers better by working together and being faithful to one other.

Your dollar, put into our paint, will paint more feet than in any other way; and the paint will last longer. This saves you money, and saves your customer's money. That's all there is in our whole business. Yours truly,

Gasoline Boat Burned.

On Friday night of last week a gasoline boat belonging to Henry Riggan of Seaford caught fire in the Nanticoke river, one mile below Seaford and burned to the water edge. Capt. Riggan and son were the only persons on board and as soon as the gasoline ignited the Capt. pointed the boat toward the shore and he and his son leaped overboard to save themselves from the explosion which they expected to take place every moment after the ignition. They both escaped with only slight injuries. The boat was the largest of its kind on the Nanticoke being sixty feet long thirty horse power and a capacity of fifty tons. The boat was nearly new having been launched only a few months ago.

Work on the new Peninsula General Hospital is now being rushed and it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy sometime about the first of November, or possibly the middle of October. A meeting of the Board of directors was held last Monday when some of the plans for the formal opening of the hospital were gone over.

"The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of scripture, but it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. No one can be well balanced in mind and body whose blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pure life unless the blood is pure. Foul blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the blood is pure, body and brain are alike healthy and life becomes a daily happiness.

Free—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advertiser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expenses of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper cover, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 608 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

At a meeting of the City Council last Monday night plans for repaving the streets were discussed. A committee composed of Dr. F. M. Slemmons, Messrs. Irving Powell and A. J. Benjamin was appointed to call on the property holders of Main, Division and Dock and present the question and find the views of the people in regard to the matter.

—R. Frank Williams, Real Estate Broker, reports the sale of the following city and country property this week. The farm situated about 3 1/2 miles from Salisbury on the Parsonsburg road, and adjoining the farm owned by Mr. Milton Parker, and belonging to Mr. L. Gordon Hooper to Mr. H. Frank Powell of Salisbury. Consideration $5000. Mr. Powell expects to improve the farm by building a residence and sufficient out-buildings preparatory to his own occupancy. The vacant lot on Smith Street, Salisbury, belonging to Mr. Allison Johnson to Edw. D. Mitchell. Price $250.00. Mr. Williams has also sold his own vacant lot situated on Delaware Street which was purchased by Mr. William F. Riggan, of Worcester county, Md. This lot was originally a part of the Robert Dryden property. Consideration $150.00.

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I was a great sufferer for six years and doctored all the time with a number of physicians but did not receive any benefit," writes Mrs. George Soglen, of 64 Bond Street, Saginaw (South), Michigan. "I had given up all hope of ever getting better. I thought I would write to you. When I received your letter telling me what to do I commenced to take your 'Favorite Prescription' and follow your advice. I have taken ten bottles in all, also five vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' Am now regular, after having missed two years and suffered with pain in the head and back. I was so nervous, could not eat or sleep. Now I can thank you for my recovery."

Don't hesitate to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., if you want good medical advice from a qualified physician as to your personal good health. Such letters are always answered free of charge and confidentially. A medicine which has outlasted all others for women in the third of a century and being recommended by all those who have used it, is a good remedy to try. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is purely vegetable and does not contain a particle of alcohol to destroy the blood currents and weaken the system. Do not permit the dealer to insist your intelligence by suggesting some other compound which he recommends as "just as good," because he makes it himself.

TAKE WINE OF CARDUI AT HOME

Are you a sufferer?

Wouldn't you prefer to treat yourself—AT HOME?

Nearly 1,500,000 women have bought Wine of Cardui from their druggists and have cured themselves at home, of such troubles as periodical, bearing down and ovarian pains, leucorrhea, nervousness, dizziness, nausea and constipation, caused by female weakness. These are not easy cases. Wine of Cardui cures when the doctor can't.

Wine of Cardui does not irritate the organs. There is no pain in the treatment. It is a soothing tonic of healing herbs, free from strong and drastic drugs. It is successful because it cures in a natural way.

Wine of Cardui can be bought from your druggist at $1.00 a bottle and you can begin this treatment today. Will you try it?

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, putting it up against the heart. This interference with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kable, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state of health for months and it cured me."

Kodol Digests What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure.

Bottles only, $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 11.—In this sermon the preacher considers some of the besetting sins of modern society and warns Christians against yielding to their allurements. The text is Isaiah xli, 11, "Watchman, what of the night?"

Have you an active imagination? If so, you do not need to go to Palestine, the land in which the ancient prophet wrote, for an illustration of the words of my text. There are watchmen everywhere—men who at night, while others sleep, are on guard protecting property and by their vigilance felling the plans of thieves and conspirators who prowl around in the darkness.

I was deeply impressed with this duty of the watchman by a spectacle I witnessed some years ago in the British capital. It was that of the ancient ceremony, still observed, of mounting guard at the old Tower of London. This tower, as you may know, is not really a tower, but a collection of buildings covering an area of thirteen acres. They are surrounded by a strong and high wall in which there are four gates, called respectively the Iron gate, the Water gate, the Cannon gate and the Lion's gate. Within these walls some of the ancient kings held their courts and passed the nights in wild orgies and licentious dissipations. It was the place also where some of them defended themselves behind the barred gates against domestic enemies, as well as foreign foes. Here also many of the insurrectionists were incarcerated and put to death. The execution axes which to-day hang upon the museum walls were wetted with the blood of many victims. Upon the blood stained block, which is still kept as a gruesome reminder of the awful past, many bodies were decapitated. The frightened eyes that looked up at the rising sun for the last time from that block did not all belong to the masculine sex. There poor Lady Jane Grey died as well as the handsome Earl of Leicester, and Lord Kilmarlock and Balmerino and Lovat.

But I am digressing from my subject. I want not to drive you here longer among these historic stones merely to see a few crown jewels and regalia, which are guarded in the jewel house. I would not have you linger longer among the breastplates and helmets and battleaxes and pikes and spears and casting nets of chivalric times which are now on exhibition side by side with the guns and bayonets and swords and cannon of the modern British soldiers. But I would hasten you out into the open square, where the shrill files are calling and the rolling of the drums tells us the guards are forming to take their places by and in these watchtowers, just as the watchmen did away back in the time of William the Conqueror and during the reigns of the Plantagenet kings.

Soldiers on Guard. "Stand back, stand back," cry the officials to the sightseers. "You must keep off the parade ground and give the soldiers room." A field officer in gold lace and clanking sword comes out of his quarters and takes his position on the right of the ground. "Fall in, fall in," cry the corporals to their men. The different squads are quickly formed into one line. The sergeants report to the adjutant; the adjutant reports to the commandant of the Tower. The evening orders are now read. The bandmaster lifts his signal. The musicians pass down in front of the line and wheel back to their places. Tattoo is sounded. The flag is lowered. The sunset gun's guttural voice is heard. Then the soldiers march to their respective posts, and through the night, as on every night for well-nigh 800 years, over every tower and at all the gates a soldier is stationed as a military watchman to keep vigil until the day breaks.

It is merely formal routine duty that the British sentinel on the Tower now has to perform, but in former times there was need of all his vigilance. From his watchtower he might see the approach of a foreign foe, or in some part of the great slumbering city spread out on all sides below him he might witness the outbreak of insurrection. We can imagine how anxious in those quiet times might be the tone of the officer of the guard, who, visiting him, would ask, "Watchman, what of the night?" That means: "How goes the night? What is the news? Tell me what you have seen. What are the prospects ahead?"

This is the symbol of the watchman. It is thus that the ancient prophet reveals himself as observing the signs of the times. The people cry to him, "What have you seen?" And he answers them not only by describing the spectacles he has witnessed, but warning them of the judgment impending over them. It is so that every minister of the present day is commissioned. It is his duty to observe the habits and customs of his time and warn the sinner of the evil of his way. If the question is how anxious in those quiet times might be the tone of the officer of the guard, who, visiting him, would ask, "Watchman, what of the night?" That means: "How goes the night? What is the news? Tell me what you have seen. What are the prospects ahead?"

"But, watchman," some one asks, "are these all the sights and sounds of death that you see and hear?" Alas, alas, no. For, while one crowd is passing through the hallways and ascending the stairs of the immortal towers, and another crowd is staggering slowly on with flushed cheeks, hurrying toward the bar behind which liquor is sold, which in the end will prove as fatal as the poisonous hemlock quaffed by a Greek philosopher, I see still another multitude of death seekers. These pass me not in rags or with slow and leaden steps. They are dressed for the ballroom and the low dance halls. They move in regular step, with the tramp, tramp, tramp of many soldiers, but with the sliding and graceful step of the waltz, the two-step, the polka and dances which we should not and will not mention.

Are all dances bad? "Are all dances bad?" asks some young girl. "Is every one a dance of death? Are all our young people enemies of Christ and bad who ever visit dance halls?" This is a question which is often honestly and anxiously put to me by my young people. Well, my young friend, you have asked me a blunt question, and I will answer you in just the same way. First, I will say, and emphatically say, that I do not believe all young people who go to our dance halls are intentionally bad. I believe, yes, I know, some of them go there without one impure thought. They go for the pleasure of meeting other young people and of passing an evening in each other's company. In the next place I will emphatically state that I believe one of the most pernicious, one of the most awful causes of spiritual death in our cities today is the dance hall. And in support of my second statement I will say that in all the United States you cannot find one minister or layman noted for spiritual or evangelistic power who is not an enemy of the dance hall, through and through, out and out. They all, without an exception, believe that the dance hall is the deplorable of spiritual life; consequently they are, and always will be, out and out, through and through, enemies of this destroyer, this insidious foe of spiritual life.

As I spoke in reference to regular theater goers, I now speak in reference to the regular dance hall devotees. You never saw in all your life a person who was conspicuous for his love of the dance hall who was at the same time conspicuous for his devotion to the service of Jesus. The two loves do not exist in the same heart. They are altogether incompatible. In the spring of 1904 I attended one of the meetings of the "Amateur Committee" of the Methodist general conference. In that committee were a few who were trying to uphold the dance hall. One man, a leading lay member, rose and said, "I am going to abolish it entirely as an institution." Then this editorial goes into detail to denounce the trend of the modern theater which blunts the lives of its audiences by what they see as well as hear. Does any man in the face of such a powerful philippic declare that thousands and tens of thousands of men and women every year are not morally contaminated by the filthy streams of coarseness which plumb and actors and actresses pour over them in the theaters in the long winter nights? The streams of boiling lava and the showers of burning ashes which fell on Pompeii and Herculaneum on that terrible night in 79 A. D., overwhelming the pleasure seeking people, were not so much to be dreaded as this torrent of moral filth which is descending almost every night on the audiences in the theaters of our great cities and is bringing them to spiritual destruction.

What the Watchman Sees. But as a watchman I must not allow my eyes to follow only one class of people. While the theater audiences are moving through the streets to witness these distorted and often impossible plays, through the open doors of the saloons I can see the stages on which are being enacted scores and hundreds and thousands of tragedies in real life. Each one of these tragedies is as pathetic as that of a Hamlet, an Othello, a Merchant of Venice. Each one has more of pathos within it than could ever be found in the misery and woe of Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" or a Seton Thompson's "Autobiography of a Grizzly Bear." In these tragedies of real life enacted upon the stage of the saloon we do not always find the young men and women led as lambs to the slaughter. But we sometimes find them as wild tigers fighting for their lives when their fore feet have been caught in the street traps, or on stage at bay, for a little while holding off the bounds, yet like mad dogs at the sight of water, they become absolutely helpless at the sight and smell of ruin.

Oh, the tragedies of the saloons! As a watchman on God's watchtower who can ever refrain from sympathizing with them and shedding tears of deep sorrow for them? "Oh, no," exclaims some cynical man. "I have no sympathy for the drunkard. If a man wants to stop drinking he can stop. The only reason why the drunkards do not stop is because they do not want to stop." Ah, my cynical friend, you are wrong. I have no sympathy for that egotistic and self inflated young man who to be smart lads about a saloon and deliberately cultivates a taste for drink. But there are thousands of men who do not want to drink. They do not know how to stop drinking. They have never yet learned the grace of God which will save them if they would only let him save them. Aye, I go further than that. I believe there are thousands of drunkards tonight who would be willing to take an ax and with it cut off their right hands if they could only be freed from the curse of drink. They are fighting drink every day of their lives, but in their own strength they cannot stop. And so tonight as a watchman on God's tower I see thousands of the finest brained men and women going to destruction through the rapid, quick head toward the awful Niagara of delirium tremens. I hear them shouting and cursing and see them tumbling and fighting and resisting and yet yielding and going down and down and down. Through the lights coming from the open doors of the saloons I see these victims heading toward eternal death.

"But, watchman," some one asks, "are these all the sights and sounds of death that you see and hear?" Alas, alas, no. For, while one crowd is passing through the hallways and ascending the stairs of the immortal towers, and another crowd is staggering slowly on with flushed cheeks, hurrying toward the bar behind which liquor is sold, which in the end will prove as fatal as the poisonous hemlock quaffed by a Greek philosopher, I see still another multitude of death seekers. D., overwhelming the pleasure seeking people, were not so much to be dreaded as this torrent of moral filth which is descending almost every night on the audiences in the theaters of our great cities and is bringing them to spiritual destruction.

On the Downward Path. "Why is it that the Catholic church, which is so liberal upon many matters, is so strict against dancing?" was the question put by a Protestant minister to a Catholic priest some time ago. "Because," was the answer, "in the confessional we priests are able to trace the source of almost every sin. We have found out by the admission of ruined men and women that most of the immoralities of a great city or a country town can be traced directly to the dance hall." The dance hall is the beginning, not the end, of the downward path. Some good people—aye, many good and respectable people—dance. But it is the place where many good people are spiritually destroyed or spiritually depleted. It is the place where we have the spiritual "slaughter of the innocents." Therefore tonight as a Christian watchman it is my duty to warn you of the danger of entering it. Some there are who escape as by fire, but to all the ordeal is fierce and perilous. It is the place in which the enemy of souls finds his most numerous victims and exercises his most insidious power. You who pray, "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil," beware of entering the dance hall. Deane Brummel was the unwelcome king of the English dance hall. He was the Ward McAllister of his day. But that is all the history most people know about Deane Brummel. I will tell you his end. Deane Brummel died in the insane asylum of Le Bon Sauveur. Many young men and women who once wore a royal crown in a dance hall have lost like Deane Brummel, but to take off that crown and pass not only the end of their earthly but all of their eternal days in a spiritual Le Bon Sauveur, in a spiritual madhouse.

What of the Night? But standing in the watch tower tonight I see more than the gleaming lights of the evil resorts luring the victims to their fascinating but fatal haunts. I see dark shadows in the streets where no lights are. I see these dark shadows following the lurid and the "hold up" man and the murderer with his pistol and knife. I see the dark and tightly closed houses from which no ray of light is coming. These houses look deserted, but they are not deserted. They are outposts of perdition, silent, but haunted with outcasts and gamblers and conspirators who are flagrantly breaking the laws of the land. I see the low dives of a grimy city where gambling is common. I see also where the counterfeiter is silently doing his work in the stillness of the night. Night is a symbol of social calamity, sin and death. So we find that most of the lowest outcasts of society try to conceal their evil actions in the darkness of the night. It is the time when the devotees of sin hold their high carnival. It is when the death dealers are able to deliver their hardest blows with the least chance of detection. But with God the night is not only the emblem of calamity; it is also the harbinger of the day, for as Isaiah traveled forth into the darkness as a divine prophet he "saw the gleam of the sunrise coming over the eastern hills." Yes, he saw the time when righteousness would claim its disciples as well as the time when the enemies of God should be hurried away to their eternal incarceration. "What of the night, Isaiah?" What of the night? cries the officer of the guard. Then the prophetic watchman calls, "I see the morning cometh and also the night." That means: "I see the righteous triumph through God. I see also the enemies of God scattered in complete defeat." "What of the night? What of the night?" You call to me, I answer: "The morning cometh for the disciples of Jesus Christ. I see also the eternal night coming for those who will not yield themselves to Christ's love."

The night, the symbol of calamity? Oh, yes. But the night is also here the symbol of gospel triumph, for in the quiet of the night I see fathers and mothers and children gathered around the family altar for evening prayer. I see great audiences gathered in churches to learn of Christ and his love. I see Christian nurses and Salvation Army girls going forth through the dark alleys and through the still streets on their missions of mercy. I see ministers and Christian laymen kneeling beside the beds of the sick and the dying. I hear everywhere prayers and hymns arising for the salvation of all men and women and children. Everywhere arises the song of "Moses and the Lamb" as well as the songs of death and eternal despair. Oh, my friends, in the silence of this night, to which great army do you give your allegiance? Are your lips speaking words of prayer, or are they uttering words of blasphemy? Speak your words pleading for eternal salvation or indifference and careless words, sinful words, which are grieving the Holy Spirit of God? Will you not, with Christ's help, take Isaiah's night as the harbinger of an eternal day? Shall not the night of calamity and of earthly struggle and earthly sin for all of us be followed by the heavenly sunrise and the coming morning of perpetual joy and peace?

The Storm Past. That these words of my text can truly be changed into the lightness of an eternal and peaceful day was never more impressed upon me than some years ago when I was going around the world. As I found the opening description of this text not among Syrian hills, but among the "wilderness of rock" in the London metropolis, so I will find my closing scene not in Jerusalem, but upon the troubled waters of an angry Pacific. For days and weeks we had been tracing the quiet paths of the "struck" days. The ocean had heretofore been very kind to us. It was truly pacific in every way that its name suggested. But then, like some of our old friends, it changed. Its heart of kindness became a heart of hate. It seemed to have not the purpose to be loving, but only the desire to destroy. Day in and day out we battled with the tempest. "The worst storm I ever knew," said the captain. "Many good ships have been foundered in less stormy seas than this. The surface of the sea was a raging mob of demons. The wind, shrieking through our rigging, was like a chorus of lost souls yelling out in rage. After three days of storm I went to my berth and tried to sleep. Hour after hour we were wedged in our berths, unable to sleep. At last in the darkness I arose to dress and go upon deck. So soon did I step upon the floor that the heaving ship lurched across the stern, out through the door and clear across the deck. I picked myself up, bruised and stunned; then I looked about me. What was my surprise to find the storm over and the stars out. A sailor turned to me and said: 'Mate, it will soon be clear. We shall soon have a calm sea. The storm is past. See yonder star by the edge of the horizon. That is the morning star. The sun will soon be up.' Yes, as I stood there looking to the ship's ropes I knew the sea was growing calm. Soon quietly and peacefully the sun arose. The angry waves stopped their battering; the winds ceased to laugh and yell. That afternoon we sailed into the harbor. The morning had come for the end of the tempest. So at last for all those who love Christ the night is not the emblem of calamity, but of the morning. The morning with its heavenly daybreak—the morning, with its emblem of eternal peace. Will you not tonight, with Christ's help, take the night as the emblem of the day?

"TO YOUNG WOMEN:—I suffered for six years with dysmenorrhea (painful menstrual pain). I was in bed every month, as I knew it meant three or four days of intense pain. The doctor said this was due to an inflamed condition of the uterine appendages caused by repeated and neglected colds. If young girls only realized how dangerous it is to take cold at this critical time, much suffering would be spared them. Thank God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that was the only medicine which helped me any. Within three weeks after I started to take it, I noticed a marked improvement in my general health, and at the time of my next monthly period the pain had diminished considerably. I kept up the treatment, and was cured a month later. I am like another person now. I am in perfect health, my eyes are brighter, I have added 12 pounds to my weight, my color is good, and I feel light and happy."—Miss Agnes Miller, 27 Potomac Ave., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuine cannot be produced.

love. I see Christian nurses and Salvation Army girls going forth through the dark alleys and through the still streets on their missions of mercy. I see ministers and Christian laymen kneeling beside the beds of the sick and the dying. I hear everywhere prayers and hymns arising for the salvation of all men and women and children. Everywhere arises the song of "Moses and the Lamb" as well as the songs of death and eternal despair. Oh, my friends, in the silence of this night, to which great army do you give your allegiance? Are your lips speaking words of prayer, or are they uttering words of blasphemy? Speak your words pleading for eternal salvation or indifference and careless words, sinful words, which are grieving the Holy Spirit of God? Will you not, with Christ's help, take Isaiah's night as the harbinger of an eternal day? Shall not the night of calamity and of earthly struggle and earthly sin for all of us be followed by the heavenly sunrise and the coming morning of perpetual joy and peace?

The Storm Past. That these words of my text can truly be changed into the lightness of an eternal and peaceful day was never more impressed upon me than some years ago when I was going around the world. As I found the opening description of this text not among Syrian hills, but among the "wilderness of rock" in the London metropolis, so I will find my closing scene not in Jerusalem, but upon the troubled waters of an angry Pacific. We Prepay Freight Charges to all Points Within 125 Miles of Baltimore on all Purchases Amounting to $5.00 or More.

"IF"

"If" is most commonly the word of the doubter—and, too, the excuse of the shiftless.

"If you can prove it too me," says the one.

"If such-and-such had gone as I expected it too," says the other.

The Duke of Wellington saw a very different "if" before Waterloo, "If I can fight hard enough and long enough I can vanquish Napoleon." And Napoleon was vanquished.

General George Washington, after a repulse by the British, said to his troops: "If we can cross the Delaware to Trenton in the night, and surprise them sleeping, we can conquer them." And the British were conquered, a few after-steps leading to American independence.

Do you trade at Baltimore's Best Store?

There isn't a single "if" to prevent you."

There are many "ifs" that should impel you to trade here.

If you do, you will always get fashionable, reliable things, the kind that satisfy all the way along from the time they're bought until they naturally wear out.

If you do, you will save money, no store anywhere sells merchandise of equal merit as cheaply as we do.

If you do, and you should happen to feel that anything you have bought does not just suit your purpose, your money back without argument.

Baltimore's Best Store is always Baltimore's Best Store.

Mrs. Samuel N. Culver entertained a few friends on Wednesday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Elsie Moore, of Philadelphia. Among those present were Miss Heard of Harrington, Miss Galeher of Newport, Miss Lulu Barker, Miss Polly Culver, Miss Mary Lou Stemons, Miss Fannie Freeman, Mrs. Cora Marvel, Messrs. C. N. Jefferson, S. K. Stemons, Charles Truitt, Herman Elliott, Arthur German and M. H. Tilghman.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist Protestant church about one o'clock on Wednesday last the contracting parties being Mr. John Long of this town and Miss Mary Anna Parker of Salisbury. The wedding march was played by Miss Katie Melson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Z. H. Webster of the M. E. church. The happy couple took the south bound Norfolk express for a trip to North Carolina, the former home of the groom. They will reside in Delmar on Delaware Avenue.

Larry E. Gordy, the little son of Edward B. Gordy died of typhoid fever at the home of his grand father, John M. Gordy. Interment was made at the family burial ground, services being conducted by Elder W. W. Meredith.

The wind storm of Thursday morning was very severe at this point. Part of the roof was blown from W. D. Sirman's mill and the smoke stack was blown down. A building in course of erection on Chestnut Street was blown from its foundations and an electric light pole blown down on Fa+ Street.

Miss Stella Hitchens and Miss Helen Lowe are visiting friends in Baltimore.

Mrs. L. B. Lowe is in Philadelphia. Edward Palmer and family who have resided in Cape Charles for some years have returned to Delmar.

Beethoven And His Immortal Beloved.

In the October Delinquent is begun a series on "The Loves of Great Composers," by Gustav Kobbe, which promises to throw a great deal of light upon the lives and personalities of the great musicians. The story of Beethoven and his "Immortal Beloved," which is told in the first paper, is filled with interest, not only for music lovers but for every one who has a spark of sympathy for the romances of the heart, for great as was the genius of Beethoven, his heart was larger and his love for the Countess Therese Brunswick is one of the tenderest episodes in the lives of the great. His was an ennobling love, indeed, which heeding his own shortcomings, his deafness, the eccentricities of his genius, hesitated to risk the happiness of his beloved in its keeping. How the story leaked out into the world is also well worth a reading, and the illustrations are a valuable addition.

Mr. Charles Reed, one of our old residents, now of Port Norfolk, Va., was registered at the Atlantic Hotel Monday. At one time he was quiet a sufferer from rheumatism, but reports himself much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farrell also Miss Margaret closed their Queponco home Thursday. They will visit Atlantic City until the first of October, then locate themselves for the winter as usual, in New York.

Big Sweet Potato Crop.

The greatest sweet potato crop ever grown on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia is now being brought to market.

The steamer Eastern Shore, of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company, brought 3000 barrels of the sweet, neatly tubers from the Accomac and Northampton potato country this morning, and was forced to leave between 1600 and 2000 barrels on her wharves. The auxiliary steamer Maggie was sent down to bring to market what the Eastern Shore had left.

"The acreage this year is the greatest ever known in the Virginia potato section," said Supt. T. A. Joyner this morning, "and the quality is fine."

The heavy receipts have forced prices down to the low water mark of $1.25 a barrel. At the opening of the season prices ranged from $4 to $5 a barrel.

Superintendent Joyner said this morning that the shipments would continue, he thought, until Christmas. "It is the great staple in that section," he continued and carries thousands of dollars from this city to the shore each year."—Baltimore Herald.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Of First Congressional District of Maryland. Constitutionalism and Conservatism Against Radicalism and Anarchy.

The platform reported adopted by the Congressional Nominating Convention of the First District of Maryland is as follows: "The Democracy of the First Congressional district, in convention assembled, declared: "That we endorse the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention, which assembled at St. Louis on July 6. We congratulate the stalwart and representative Democrats of that body for the masterful leadership, the broad party spirit and the splendid patriotism which characterized and directed the proceedings of that historic convention, and we pledge its nominees, Judge Alton B. Parker and Hon. Henry G. Davis, the zealous efforts and the unremitting and enthusiastic support of the great rank and file of the Democracy of the Eastern Shore.

"We join with all classes of people throughout our common country in special rejoicing because of the exalted characters of our candidates for President and Vice-President, but we especially congratulate all those lovers of sound Democratic principals as taught and expounded by Jefferson and by Madison. The nominee of the great Democratic party for the high office of President of the United States is of ideal Presidential quality and peculiarly fitted by reason of temperament and training for leadership in the impending battle for constitutional government. We believe that, all other issues aside, success will follow our standards, victory perch upon our banners because the great body of intelligent American electors before casting their ballots will make proper contrast of the strenuous egotism and dangerous and meddlesome restlessness of President Roosevelt with the attractive personality of that cool, sympathetic and well-informed jurist, that liberty-loving and self-poised statesman and Democrat, Alton B. Parker. We desire to emphasize the fact that we believe the personal characteristics of the Republican and Democratic candidates best serve to illustrate to the voters of the country the best meaning of the contest in which we are now engaged; that the lives of the two men are books in which the people may read that the great struggle of the campaign of 1904 is to be one in which the mighty hosts of conservative and constitutional Democracy are arrayed on the one side and the dangerous and forbidding forces of radical and arbitrary Republicanism on the other. The Republican party under the leadership of President Roosevelt would, if it could, win the affections of the American people for a political gospel not taught by the fathers of the Republic—the gospel of force. The sane and temperate Alton B. Parker would remind us that force is not the equivalent of right and that the will of a President is not the equivalent of law. We invite the people to choose between constitutional government, based upon law, under an incomparable American Democrat and statesman, and absolutism, usurpation and disregard of law as typified by the present occupant of the White House. The Republican party of this district in convention assembled formally indorsed all the policies of President Theodore Roosevelt, peculiar to and inaugurated by himself.

"Under the administration of Grover Cleveland and William McKinley the race problem had been left to the people of the several States for settlement, but President Roosevelt inaugurated a new policy peculiar to himself. This policy consists among other things, in depriving the white people of certain communities of the South of their postal facilities for the furtherance of a peculiar negro policy. It involves the selection of negroes to high and important Federal offices over the protests of the white citizens of the communities interested and of their representatives in Congress. It involves the selection of a negro as collector of customs for a great commercial city of the South, as well as the selection of another negro as the President's confidential adviser in making appointments to office and in determining all matters of public policy affecting the welfare of one of the greatest States of the South, and against such a policy, though peculiar to President Roosevelt and indorsed by the Republicans of this district, we solemnly protest. We call the attention of our people to the fact that less than 12 months have passed since the Democrats of this State in convention assembled declared that the destinies of the people of Maryland should be controlled by the white people of the State.

"That upon this issue of white supremacy not only the State, but in nearly all the counties thereof, we won a splendid victory; that this victory was won in spite of the teachings, the example and the executive influence of the present President of the United States. The white people of Maryland do not forget that fact, and neither must they forget that in President Roosevelt they have a candidate for President who precipitated anew the race issue in those States of the South where it had reached at least a partial settlement; that to poison the negro vote in this State and in the States of the North he selected a Maryland negro to second his nomination for President; that he therefore gives evidence at least of his willingness to misuse the grave race problem for partisan ends, if not of his eager desire to show his lack of sympathy for the Maryland Democratic campaign slogan of 1904.

Red Star Trading Stamp Co. Closes Its Office Here.

The Red Star Trading Stamp Company whose main office is in Newark, N. J., and who have had a branch office in this town for the past six months, sent their representative, Mr. W. H. Miller, to Salisbury Wednesday with orders to close out their business here at once. No notice had been given of the intended change by the company to the merchants here who handled the stamps nor to the general public who hold so many unredeemed stamps. The company placed a small cardboard sign in the window of their establishment saying that they had decided to close out the business here and those who held any stamps could get them redeemed at the office in Wilmington. When asked for the reason of this action, Mr. Miller would say nothing but that he was acting under instructions from headquarters.

Ten of the merchants of the town had contracted with the stamp company and were paying $3.50 per thousand to the company for the stamps. One stamp was given with each ten cent purchase and the town and country is full of unredeemed stamps. When one or more whole books were full they were presented at the office where a premium was selected and the stamps redeemed.

When the ladies heard of the proposed closure, they hurried for their stamp books. Some lacked a few to complete a whole book while others had one book and were working to fill a second. These began to plan some way to finish out the required number to all the books. Buying and selling stamps occupied the remainder of the day with many of the ladies, while others disgusted with the whole business, gave away their entire stock of stamps. Rarely has anything so worked up the indignation of the public as this affair. The ladies enlisted the help of their husbands and all of Wednesday morning Mr. Miller, was busy answering questions and trying to pacify irate husbands.

The merchants also took a hand and declined to pay for the stamps now out. No written contract was made but the ten merchants testify to a strong verbal contract with no time limit.

Many thousands of stamps are in the rural communities as well as those in town for which the company has received their $3.50 per thousand and which have not been redeemed. This shows up on the books of the company as pure gain while it shows up in the pocket of the public as pure loss.

Finally such pressure was being brought to bear by the merchants and the general public that Mr. Miller announced Thursday morning that the place here would be held open for thirty days longer to allow those who had books to redeem them here. As the matter stood before the decision the people would not have any way of filling out the remainder of their books and would have had to have their stamps redeemed in Wilmington and paid the expressage from that point here.

PRESENT AND PAST.

The "Darky" Before The War, And The "Darky" of To-day.

Life like she chose written for the ADVERTISER.

Notwithstanding the long strides in the intellectual improvement of the colored people since the emancipation proclamation set them upon the national and political level of the whites, they are in many respects, just what they were when the stigma of slavery rested upon them.

Many of them retain all of their olden superstitions, and still believe in spells, and charms, and "conjuration." In their religious meetings many of them still give way to the wild excitement characteristic of their old-time devotions, working themselves up into a perfect frenzy, swaying their bodies to and fro in a sort of weird, but rhythmic accompaniment to their singing, which singing possesses a sonorous richness and plaintive melody peculiarly its own. I repeat, this weird, mental excitement with its peculiar bodily sympathy which characterizes their religious devotions seems inherent in the race.

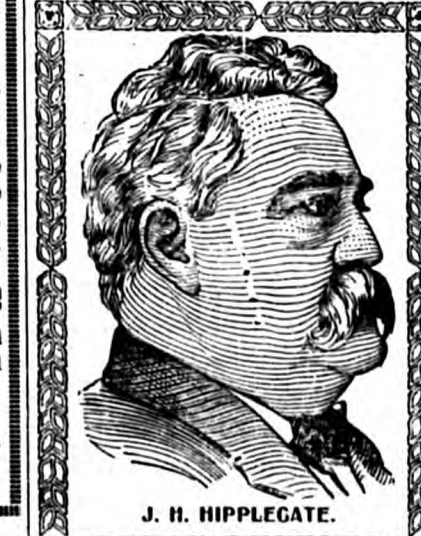

A few years ago we had occasion to call in a colored woman to help in some extra work, who, having a baby, found it necessary to bring an older child to "nurse" the pickaninny.

Hearing this dusky five-year-old singing to the pickaninny, and being charmed with the melody and weird melody of strange, pathetic words, asked her to teach it to me, which she at once proceeded to do with the greatest gravity and exactness swaying her little body to and fro, with an occasional squat toward the floor that was irresistibly comical.

But she would have no nonsense out of me; and any deviation in the tune, or misreading of words was immediately halted by emphatic shakings of the head; and when I kept melody and words straight, she would lift her little dusky hand in a gesture of approval that a Handel or Mendelssohn could not have excelled in gracefulness, or graciousness. She was an exacting teacher; and when she "let up" on me I knew both melody and words to perfection. I often watched the little thing singing, and swaying, and squatting in perfect time with the melody. Surely these peculiarities were born in that dusky little being, though her mother did apostrophize her as a "mean little nigger!"

Superintendent Public Works

"Peruna is an Excellent Medicine"

J. H. HIPPELGATE.

J. H. Hippelgate, Supt. of Public Works, of Lexington, Ky., writes: "I find that Peruna is an excellent medicine especially for catarrhal affections and all diseases leading to consumption, bronchial troubles or stomach troubles. It also acts as a preventative and keeps the system in a healthy condition so that it easily throws off disease. It is an excellent tonic and a great appetizer and as a large number of those who have been using it speak very highly of its curative powers, I am satisfied that my opinion of it is correct, and that it is deserving of high praise."

—J. H. Hippelgate.

Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by hearsay and thousands know it by experience. Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a national curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Peruna cures catarrh in all phases and stages. There is no remedy that can be substituted.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address: Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

DO YOU WISH CASH FOR YOUR FARM?

I will pay you cash for your farm or get you a purchaser. Write me at once a description of your farm and price. There is some one under the sun who will buy your farm and I can find them sure. Yours Truly

DR. J. LEE WOODCOCK, 405 Camden Avenue,
Salisbury, Md.

Going into a neighbor's house one day I found, flat on the porch floor, a typical negro woman who was regaling the lady of the house with minute details of a long and mysterious sickness which was finally declared to be the result of "spells" put upon her by another "devil" of a nigger. Her account of the finding of divers uncanny things "little devils" she called them (down the wall was graphic in the extreme, and her desire for vengeance was dire, and her will more than good to "conjure" that "devil of a nigger" in return.

My paternal grandfather was a large slave-owner, who, however, willed his dackies to his children with the stipulation that they should be freed at the age of twenty-eight years so, by the time I put in an appearance on this mundane sphere, there were not many slaves in my father's possession. But I well remember some of them, and marvelous were the tales we smaller children heard, second, and third hand, of "ole massa and ole missie" and the tales of "gosses" and "conjur charms," and "witches and black cats," nightly told to the older children made them afraid to poke their noses out of doors after dark.

I also remember something of the camp-meetings held in the woods near my father's by the white folks; when the darkies would come for miles and miles in "kivered wagons" and "wain kyarts" and all sorts of queer vehicles and group said "wagons" and "kyarts" around back of the white folks tents. And the "hosses" and oxes and mules that were brought, begging my father that they might be put in the "pasture." Oh! they were divers and diverse! And the bowing and scraping owners were so full of delighted "reminiscences" of "ole Massa Valentine and ole Missie Hanner." And they were so glad to see "Marso Lit," and Marso Lit's children. So the "pasture" was full of grazing animals and "Marso Lit's" apule and "wainmyns" were sampled with all a darky's enjoyment of such things with many a "tank yo Marso Lit!" And white folks "tenting on the old camp ground" slept not at all Saturday night because of the singing and shouting of the darkies in the rear of the preacher's stand.

That was, oh! long ago, "befo' the war!" Now, the colored folks have camp-meetings of their very own, one held in sight of my window, a short time ago, called up these "reminiscences" of the past, and thoughts of the present, as I listened to the singing mellowed by distance, and saw winding along the roads, white-covered wagons that reminded me of the "kivered wagons" and "kyarts" of yore.

Their singing had all the richness and weird pathetic melody of that of the plantation quarters, and here was much of the wild excitement accompanied by the old-time swaying and stamping. True some of the "City koons," as the "conjur'd" one scornfully called them, had much of dignity; and the preacher and his wife are cultured and refined, yet, there is very much of the negro, still. Socially they seem divided into two classes now, as of yore.

In the olden times the house servants held themselves disdainfully above the "no count quarters niggers," and the quarters "niggers" scornfully resented the airs of the "house niggers."

To-day the "City darkies" air their airs with a royal air when they shed the light of their countenance upon the scenes of their youth; they walk with their heads very high in the air and see not their humbler brothers and sisters, the low "no count" "ornary niggers" that loaf around poky country towns, and the poky country town "niggers" shoot out their lips in superb scorn when talking of the "City koons." Verily there is lots of human nature in the negro be he "City koon," or only "ornary nigger" of some poky country town.

There is one strange thing, let me add, about the negro, to wit, oftentimes in sport, oftentimes in anger, they will call each other flat out "nigger." But every mother's pickaninny of them will take the same word as a mortal affront from a white person. Long "befo' the war" they resented that name, when applied to them by a white person.

Mother used to quote an old aunty who bitterly resented the appellation, (which was given her by an "ornary, po-white-trash-chile" with a great deal of outraged dignity; declaring "we is not niggers, we is cullud persons!" And so mote they be!

Amanda Elizabeth Dennis.

FALL TERM OF COURT

To Begin September Session Next Monday.
A Large Docket To Be Disposed Of.
Some Of The Cases.

The September term of the Circuit Court of Wicomico County will convene next Monday. There are several removed cases on the docket and the term promises to be a busy one. The docket contains 51 trials, 7 appeals, 19 criminal appearances and 6 criminal continuances.

Among the Wicomico county cases which promise to be tedious, is the suit of Sallie M. Parker and the heirs of the late John H. Parker against Joseph J. Adkins. This is a dispute over ownership of land.

One case removed from Dorchester County is the suit of Dr. John W. Stevens vs. the County Commissioners. The Doctor alleged small-pox patients on Elliott's Island and rendered a bill which the County Commissioners thought was excessive and they refused to pay it. Suit is brought for $1000, and there are forty witnesses summoned in the case.

Five cases are brought from Worcester County. They are Charles W. Hennen vs. the Mayor and City Council of Snow Hill. Suit for damages alleged to have been received by being thrown from his carriage by reason of a hole in the street, into which the wheels of his carriage fell. The plaintiff claims $1000 damages. Benjamin S. Jones vs. Assyria Jones; suit for slander. Assyria Jones vs. Benjamin S. Jones; suit on bond. Assyria Jones vs. Benjamin S. Jones; suit on account. A. J. Taylor vs. Benjamin S. Jones; suit on account.

Fall Races At Franklin's Driving Park.

Over 8000 people representing Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, are expected in Berlin to view the annual fall races at Franklin's Driving Park Thursday October 6th. Last year was a record breaker in attendance and financial returns, the management realizing better than in any previous year. A number of fast horses have been secured and the engagement of some popular and favored trotters will largely enhance the interest of the sportsmen.

The races are scheduled to start at one o'clock sharp.
First race, 3 minute class, purse $40. First horse $25, second $10, third $5, fourth $4.
Second race, 2.40 class Purse, $60. First horse, $30, second, $15, third, $8, fourth, $6.
Third race. Free for all. Purse, $80. First horse, $40, second, $20, third, $12, fourth, $8.

Franklin's track where the Berlin races are to be held Thursday October 6th is in prime condition. It is fifty feet wide and one of the finest curved tracks on the Peninsula. $80 in purses. Admission 25 cents, grand stand 10 cents. T. T. Savage, Secretary and treasurer, Berlin, Md.

Wicomico County Sunday School Convention.

The Wicomico County Sunday School Convention will be held at Mardela Springs October 6th, and 7th. Thursday and Friday, beginning on the evening of the 6th, and closing on the evening of the 7th. State Supt. Geo. H. Nock will be accompanied by Rev. Alan Presley Wilson of Baltimore. Addresses will not only be made by these gentlemen, but by others in this county. There will be three Conferences held on Friday, the 7th. Pastors, Superintendents and Teachers' Conferences. A live, enthusiastic and helpful convention is anticipated.

Each school is entitled to two delegates, who will be entertained in the home of the town. A very interesting feature of the convention will be an exhibit of Sunday School Appliances.

EARLY WINTER DAYS

And Premature Frost Over Maryland.
Growing Vegetables And Corn Injured.
Below Freezing Point In Northern States.

The cold wave which struck Salisbury Wednesday night was unseasonably frigid and yesterday overcast were in demand and fires and steam heat were voted very comfortable. Frost was reported yesterday from various sections of the State. In the city few thermometers showed early rises a lower temperature than 40 degrees, which was the lowest official record at 6 a. m., but in low places out in the counties it was much colder.

Telegraphic reports from the North and Northwest indicate real winter weather, a dispatch from Saratoga, New York, stating that the temperature fell to 20 degrees above zero at that place.

While it is yet too early to tell accurately the exact extent of the damage done to growing vegetables by the unseasonably cool weather, it is known by those who have been in the trucking districts that some injury has been done. Sugar corn is said to have been most affected by the cold wave, and it is expected that prices on these lines will go higher.

The past two nights have been very cool, and the farmers can tell by the appearance of the corn and the tomatoes that the produce has been affected. Fortunately, however, thus far fruit has not been seriously injured by the cold weather.

Great Achievements Of Virginia Farmers Exchange.

The Eastern Shore of Virginia Produce Exchange, with its central office at Onley, Va., handled 30,000 barrels more of Irish potatoes than last year and sold 700 car loads of sweet potatoes during the month of August. It did a business of $1,500,000 last year, but to September 1, 1904 had exceeded the volume of business of 1903, to the same date by $250,000.

The exchange is composed of about 2500 aggressive Virginia farmers. Its principal aim is to secure a proper distribution of the produce of its members and to secure new markets. Purchasers have been found in Dakota, Denver, Col.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Montreal, Quebec and Toronto, Canada; Portland, Me.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Paul, Minn.; Lincoln and Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City and other distant sections.

The advantages of well-selected distributing points have been shown during past seasons, and this year when the Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia markets were glutted, Irish potatoes selling at $1.50 to $1.75 a barrel through the Exchange, the same grade of stock was being sold $2.75 a barrel in Chicago and other Western cities. Eastern markets were flat because of an overstock from nearby territory. The exchange, which annually spends $10,000 in telegrams in seeking the most advantageous markets for the particular crop to be sold, found clear markets and ready buyers at good prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Salathiel Haines held a reception on last Thursday afternoon in honor of their son, Clarence and wife who was Miss Marjorie Cooper, of Wicomico County, Md. The beautiful Haines home was nicely decorated, and as fifty invited guests arrived they were ushered into the most pleasant surroundings. A fine musical program was rendered and was in charge of the Misses Ella and Florence Johnson, of Loveland. A four course dinner was served and the entire afternoon was one of continuous pleasure. The young married couple of course were the center of attraction. —Blanchester (Ohio) Star-Republican.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Materials For Tailor Suits: Rival Fabrics:
Fall Outdoor Garments: Hats For General Wear: High Class Millinery: From The American Metropolis.

Materials which were heretofore supposed to belong exclusively to men's attire have been appropriated by ladies for their first tailor suits, and certain it is that other wool fabrics shrink into insignificance, beside the demand for mannish effects. Soft mixtures of sombre shades are still the basis of these goods, but stripes, in visible plaids and checks, and broken diagonals appear in an increased variety. Suits of this character are usually made in a severe style. Skirts plain at the top with plaits lower down, or without any plaits, and cut all in one, and a short tight jacket, double or single breasted, 'tis the ordinary model.

Those Beautiful Fabrics

brodecloth and velvet, are this season in strong rivalry, with the odds in favor of brodecloth, by reason of its adaptability to varied purposes, and its multiplicity of colors and shades. Brodecloth will be worn morning, noon and night, while velvet is, so to speak, a full dress affair of limited extent as color. Shaded effects add to its range of color especially in millinery. Velveteens are unusually handsome, many showing a soft chiffon finish with a sheen and lustre which causes them to be mistaken for the genuine silk velvet.

The Stylish Outdoor Garment

is a long redingote, single or double breasted; an independent covering or a suit coat. Home dress-making is often successful, but the redingote defies any cut and fit but that of the expert tailor; being really suitable only to a tall, graceful woman, as well as the skill required in making, will probably prevent its general adoption. Other styles, much less trying, are a half-tight double breasted coat in two lengths, two short jackets which bear a resemblance to the Eton or Norfolk of former days, but now so touched up by the artful designer, that they may be classed among novelties.

Street Illustration.

This stylish costume, supplied by the Modes, Fashion and Pattern Co. of this city, is of grey and black tweed in a broken plaid, elaborately trimmed with fancy silk braid, and large wheels of the same. The Eton is simply adjusted with shoulder and under arm seams. Broad braid finishes the lower and front edges of the Eton and also trims the wrist bands. A fancy braided design is used for foot trimmings, and large wheels of silk braid is introduced into the points. Five gores in the skirt are fitted smoothly around the waist and hips without darts.

Hats Intended For General Utility Wear

present strong contrasts, some are very fanciful, while others are severity itself. Shapes vary quite as much as materials and flat crowns belong to the round shapes, which are not a few. The boat hat admits of such pretty chenille trimming on the brim and fits so comfortably on the pompadour roll, that in these respects it rivals the turban. Hats of considerable size, turning up at one side, and the large sailor, are in good demand, also hats with huge pompons at one side, or those made by quills throughout. Combinations of felt braid in two colors, bring about plaided effects, which are considered very stylish.

Nothing Equals The Prestige

of the high crowned or Directoire hat, coming in silk velvet, felt, smooth or long nap beaver, often with a contrasting crown, as for example a high shirred silk crown of two shades of copper on a black felt, or a shirred silk crown on a white beaver. Broad ostrich tips are the principal trimming, apparently held in place by a large buckle. The low crowned hat has not disappeared, but is relegated to a second position. Lucy Carter.

"BUT"

"But" is the word of the waverer—the one who thinks there may be a finer fruit across the hedge, or a little farther along the way, and passes by the best—even the good—to where the inferior is, after which there is nothing.

"But"—used as it generally is—keeps out new ways of doing things, stifles ambition, brings narrowness of mind and petty methods of living.

Use the word this way, and see how it will help you—

But there is no store so good as Hochschild, Kohn & Co.'s, and I will be unwise to go anywhere else.

But I can't buy such pretty, fashionable things at any other store as I can get at Hochschild, Kohn & Co.'s. The other stores don't have them.

Dear Sir,—There are these five ways of badness in pain:

- (1) Stuffed out with chaff, or some thing like that;
- (2) Barytes, better than chalk, but no covering to it, nobody knows it's there;
- (3) Benzine in the oil, or water, or other such stuff;
- (4) Too thin—too much liquid, what ever it is, for the solid;
- (5) Short measure;

Now will you buy by the price per "gallon"?

Between the ages of fifteen and forty-five the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed! Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost! Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, the brightness from the eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon then to woman is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulceration, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigor and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

THE DEMOCRATS AND FARMERS.

When the Democrats have been in power they have always legislated in the interest of the farmers. The Democrats have only had the opportunity in eight years out of the past forty years to pass legislation, but during that time they enacted three most important laws to aid the agricultural interests. The first of these three laws that was passed was in Cleveland's administration first, creating the department of Agriculture, which the farmers had long been promised, but the republicans had failed to perform. Before the department was created there had been a Bureau of Agriculture which under republican control had deteriorated into a vehicle for the distribution of garden seeds. When the democrats came into power Mr. Coleman of St. Louis, a practical agriculturist, was appointed head of the bureau, and under his energetic management, nearly all of the important improvements that now prevail were inaugurated. The democratic Congress in 1886 passed a law establishing the experimental stations, and Mr. Coleman at once interested the agricultural colleges in carrying them on to the great advantages of the students and the farmers. All the work was mapped out under a democratic administration that has led to the improvement of the breeding and feeding of stock, the destruction of noxious weeds and protection of plant life from insects. But besides creating the Agricultural department and experimental Stations a democratic Congress passed the first appropriation for a free Rural Delivery to the farmers in 1894, though it was not until the fiscal year 1896-97 that the first routes were established. In that year the democratic Postmaster General, Mr. Wilson, ordered 84 routes established, and from that time to this the growth has gone on apace, the Democrats always favoring it.

In a letter from Postmaster General Payne to Congressman Livingstone, which is included in a speech of Hon. Charles R. Thomas of North Carolina see pages 3057. Congressman Record of the First session of Fifty-eight Congress (he acknowledged that Postmaster General Wilson ordered the establishing of the first 84 rural free delivery routes and this very important, as the Republicans have been claiming the inception and establishing of this service to the farmers. The Republicans have also claimed they created the Department of Agriculture and the Experimental Stations, but like many other claims of the partisans of that party they have been shown to be entirely foreign to the facts. The Democratic party can be relied on in the future, as in the past, to legislate in the interest of the farmers who create the wealth upon which nearly the whole prosperity of the United States depends.

TURNING OF THE TIDE.

Political managers at Democratic Congressional headquarters, Washington, are closely in touch with conditions in Maryland and West Virginia and have no doubt that Parker will carry them both. Republicans, weakened and disgusted by their showy quarrel in West Virginia, show signs of surrender, Congressman Dayton, despairing of re-election, is about ready to withdraw from the Congressional race and President Roosevelt talks of appointing him U. S. District judge in place of Judge J. Jackson who is retiring at the age of eighty-six. The withdrawal of Dayton is delayed by the fact that he is the strongest candidate the Republicans can name for the House.

In Maryland our affairs look even brighter than in West Virginia. We are pretty sure to carry the state by 10,000 and elect four perhaps five of the six Congressmen.

Democrats who have gloomy thoughts about election prospects succeed in painting a magnificent rainbow in the following fashion: The gain in the Republican vote of Maine over that of 1900 is 5 per cent and the gain in the Democratic vote is 24 per cent. Now the Democratic vote of New York for President, in 1900 was 693,738 and the Republican vote for President for the same year in that state, was 804,859. Add 5 per cent to this Republican vote, and we get 845,000 as the probable Republican vote this year. Add 24 per cent to the Democratic vote of 1900, and it gives us 860,228 as the Democratic vote there this year. This is a Democratic majority in New York state of 15,000. Similarly in New Jersey, where the vote of Republicans and Democrats for President in 1900 was respectively, 178,010 and 164,808 apply the Maine per centages of gain and, presto, change there is a Democratic majority of 28,000! By similarly adding the Maine percentage of gain in the West, Parker will carry Nebraska by 13,000 and Indiana by 34,000. This shows how far the situation is from being hopeless.

—Frank Dorman, colored, was committed to jail in Princess Anne Wednesday charged with burning an unoccupied dwelling and also with setting fire to valuable buildings on the Westover farm of Frederick Boldt, of Chestertown, Pa. The fire marshal had the case fully investigated and wrote were sworn out for the accused. The prisoner was formerly employed by Mr. Boldt, but was discharged.

—The Virginia experienced rough weather up the bay during the recent storm. The boat tossed and rolled about on the waves like a piece of cork until Capt. Veasey ran into Patuxent river for harbor. While making the harbor a flag staff was blown out and a few dishes were broken in the pantry, but very little water washed over the decks. She was delayed about six hours.

—Henry J. Handy of Tyaskin was brought to Salisbury yesterday afternoon charged with murdering his wife. It is said that she was sitting up top on the farm of Morris Willing when he walked up and asked her a few questions and he leveled his shot gun and shot her in the neck. He immediately gave himself up to Squire Denton at Tyaskin. They are colored people.

—Miss Emma C. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Williams, and Mr. O. Ray Carver were quietly married last Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by Rev. Dr. Thomas N. Potts. A few of the friends and relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Carver will remain in town for the present, but will shortly leave for Virginia, where Mr. Carver will engage in the lumber business.

—The Church Herald has made its appearance at Delmar, Del. It is a monthly and the subscription price is 25 cents a year. Rev. E. S. Fooks is the editor. The editor says the paper will endeavor to deal with such matters that are of vital interest to the Methodist Protestant Church, and will also give the news of the other churches. The first issue is a bright and new sheet and is in the form of a four column, four page folio.

—The Salisbury District Epworth League Convention will be held in the Stevenson M. E. Church, Berlin, on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25th and 26th. The first session will be opened by the District President, Rev. Jas. W. Colson, on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. There will be two very able speakers for the evening entertainments in the persons of Rev. A. S. Mowbray, D. D., of Wilmington, and Rev. Don Colt, D. D., of Baltimore.

—Passenger train No. 80 ran into freight extra No. 26 at Bloxom, Va., last Thursday evening about 8:00. Engineer S. J. Brown and Fireman Donaway of the passenger train were killed and Engineer John Clark of the freight train was hurt. And as the passenger train came along the brakeman threw the switch and the passenger train collided against the freight. The brakeman was arrested and carried to Cape Charles.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 18.—In the nature and habits of the birds the preacher finds a simile of the entrance into the church of a large accession of converts. The text is Isaiah ix. 8, "Who are these that fly as a cloud and as the doves to their windows?"

An axiom is a self-evident fact. "It is," the lexicographers say, "a proposition whose truth is so obvious at first sight that no process of reasoning or demonstration can make it plainer."

It is a golden truth, coined in the "mint house of maxims" with the raised features of the Goddess of Truth stamped upon its side, even as the English shilling bears the profile of King Edward, an American silver dollar the outstretched wings of an eagle, as the Roman penny once bore the superposition and image of Caesar and a Grecian coin the features of Alexander the Great. It is an aphorism, an apothegm. It is as Hippocrates once said, "A succinct saying comprehending a complete statement." It is one of the many terse sentences of Benjamin Franklin which are found in "Poor Richard's Almanac." No sooner do we sent free in paper covers on receipt of one cent stamps to pay of mailing only. For it stamps the cloth-bound volume be sent, 1008 pages. It was formerly sold for $1.50 per copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The truth of an axiom can be put to a practical test. Sometimes, however, men do not take the trouble to test it, but give credence to statements apparently contradicting it. Instead of applying the test of experience. Some years ago the French savants were asked to explain how it was that a pair of water containing a dead fish weighed more than one of the same size containing a live fish. Dissertation after dissertation was written upon the subject. At last one common sense scientist, whose brain had not been educated to the verge of imbecility, saw that the question was a misleading one. "A dead fish and a living fish ought to weigh the same," said he. "The truth is axiomatic." He put a live fish into a pair of water and weighed it. He killed the fish and put the dead body back into the same water and weighed it again. The water containing the dead fish and that containing the live fish of course weighed the same. All the ingenuity expended in writing the dissertations had been wasted. The writers had been trying to find reasons for a phenomenon that did not exist.

Church's Power Not Waning.
Hundreds of men are busy doing the same thing in trying to find the reasons for the phenomenon stated by shallow observers, that the church of Jesus Christ is losing its power over men. Long lists of reasons for this waning influence are cited, whereas the writers have only to open their eyes to discover that the church of Jesus Christ is not losing its power over men. The church of God was never so powerful as it is today. More strong men and strong women are bowing before its altars than ever before. More are the church's teachings respected by statesmen and in the homes and daily lives of our citizens than ever before. I have not time to go into argument to prove this assertion. I would not today do so if I had the time. Why? Because it is a self-evident fact that the church of the Lord Jesus Christ is the most vital and essential influence in the world today. It is a self-evident statement. All intelligent people who have looked boldly and impartially at the facts are ready to concede that the assertion is true.

But though the church of the Lord Jesus Christ is growing more and more powerful day by day, yet we believe that still greater triumphs are before it in the future. The victories already won are small compared with those which are yet to be won, when nations shall be born in a day. Josiah Strong recently wrote a book entitled "The Next Great Awakening." I am not going to find my theme in the latest book of the famous author of "Our Country." I am going to look through the inspired spectacles of a prophet who lived nearly 3,000 years ago. Isaiah took the picture of the doves flying to their home coots in great clouds as the symbol of the church of the future gathering in its members. So I shall try to show that the "coming awakening of the church" is not only going to be a worldwide evangelistic movement, but also that the conquest of the world for Christ may be near—yes, very near—at hand.

Men of Living Faith.
The figure is expressive not only of numbers, but of spiritual qualities. The church of the future is not to have a padded roll. It is not to be composed of a lot of members who, as the five foolish virgins of Christ's parable, lounged around and slept and had no oil for their spiritual lamps. It is not to be composed of men and women who occupy their church pews only on Sunday and then when the benediction of the sermon is given turn and shut their eyes and say: "Good-bye, by religion, I must go home now. You just stay here for a week, and next Sunday morning I will come back and see you and put you on the back for an hour again while the choir sings and the pastor prays." But in that church which Isaiah saw in prophecy not only shall there be multitudes of worshippers, but all these multitudes shall be consecrated worshippers. These many worshippers shall be men of living faith, to whom the presence of God is an abiding reality, influencing them wherever they go and in every moment of their lives. As Dr. Josiah Strong wrote in his opening chapter: "The supreme need of the world is a real God, not a great perhaps, but the great I am; not a God of yesterday or tomorrow, but of today; not an absentee God, but one who is precisely here; not a Sunday God, but an everyday God. Such shall be the spiritual quality of the multitudes of worshippers seen by Isaiah in the symbol of the flying doves."

The symbol of the dove is also significant on account of the habits and disposition of the bird. It is used as a simile for gentleness and affection. The dove always will be recognized from among all feathered tribes as the most exception of birds. Alfred Tennyson, poet laureate of England, in a beautiful rhythmic masterpiece once enunciated the doctrine that multitudes can make an object despised when it should be admired. Said he:
Once in a golden hour I cast to earth a seed.
Up there came a flower—the people said.
To and fro they went through my garden bower
And, muttering discontent, cursed me and my flower.

Then it grew so tall it wore a crown of
And thieves from o'er the wall stole the seed by night.
Sowed it far and wide by every town and tower.
Till all the people cried, "Splendid is the flower."

Read my little fable; he that runs may read.
Most can raise the flowers now, for all have got the seed.
And some are pretty enough, and some are poor indeed.
And now again the people call it but a weed.

But though "black-eyed Susans" or the "golden spore" or the "blue-eyed violets" on account of their great multitudes may be called a common flower—a weed—the dove, in spite of her multitudes, has never been called a common bird. The dove always has been and always will be the symbol of purity, gentleness and love. This symbol was recognized in heathen times. Because the dove signified purity Venus had this bird as her emblem. Ben Stanley in relating his oriental travels writes thus about the ruins of Aescalon: "The temple erected to the Syrian Venus is destroyed, but the sacred doves—sacred by innumerable legends of the spot and celebrated there even as late as Eusebius—still fill with their cooings the luxuriant gardens which grow in the shady hollows within the ruined walls."

A Flight of Doves.
The selection of the figure of a flight of doves is significant. It is used for other things, a suggestion of immense multitudes. But few people realize the marvelous numbers and propagating powers of the doves of olden times. Biber, the ornithologist, estimated that if a common pair of domesticated pigeons hatched nine times a year—number of hatchlings is not extraordinary for an average pair of these birds—and if these pigeons laid two eggs at one time, and all the fledglings which were hatched should live and hatch in turn, that single pair of pigeons would produce in four years nearly fifteen thousand descendants. The fecundity of the dove is about as great as the reproductive powers of the English sparrow or the Australian rabbit. The most graphic description ever written of the innumerable multitudes of the doves was penned by Alexander Wilson, the naturalist. Statements made by this Scottish-American traveler were endorsed by John Audubon. Among the ornithological authorities there can be no letter indorsement than this: "Mr. Wilson wrote that down in Kentucky, in place which migrating doves used to visit annually, their multitudes were so great that they literally destroyed whole forest regions. In this tract about which he wrote the branches of every tree were filled with dove nests, wherever a nest could be built. In many trees over one hundred nests had been constructed. Above the trees the multitudes of the pigeons' wings were so great that their flapping wings sounded like the boomings of a tornado. So great was the noise of their flapping wings that the horses of the farmers in that region often became unmanageable and could not be driven. Near Frankfort, Ky., Alexander Wilson saw a flock of migrating doves. The naturalist estimated that this single flock was two hundred and forty miles long and had an enrollment of at least 2,250,000,000 birds."

Isaiah describing the consecrated worshippers flocking to the millennial church could not have chosen a more expressive figure. "These that fly as a cloud and as doves to their windows." The readers of his time would realize by what countless throngs of men he saw in prophetic vision hastening into the kingdom of God. Migrating doves of old were so many in numbers that Alexander Wilson said their moving wings often formed a curtain able to shut out the light of the sun and changed midnoon into the twilight of evening. The church of God is now great in membership, but church members do not look forward in holy ecstasy to the time when the thousands who are worshipping Christ now shall be changed into the millions? Do you not long for the millennial day when Christ's disciples shall flock through the church's doors in innumerable multitudes "as the doves fly to their windows?"

Men of Living Faith.
The swiftness of the dove's flight is one of the greatest inspirations to me of all of Isaiah's vision. Why the swiftness? Because I know that we can come to Christ now. Oh, my brother, it takes a swift wing for you in an instant of time to cross over all that far country of sin which separates you from God's dovecot. The distance from Arizona to New York or from St. Sebastian, Spain, to Venice, where doves have flown, is not far. To me, O man, did you not start forth on your journey of sin ten, twenty, forty years ago? Why, let me recount the years. You have not seen a communion table since your mother died. You have not made one earnest prayer for ten years. If I was today to count over the list of your intimate friends I would find them without exception to be men and women who have not been in the past and are not now living Christian lives. Oh, my brother, your poor sick heart, you have a long distance to come back to God. But you can come by divine grace. You can come now. You can come as quickly as the new converts of the church which Isaiah saw in vision came to the mercy seat. You can come with a superlative swiftness. You can come with the lightning velocity of a flying dove.

Come to Christ Now.
The swiftness of the dove's flight is one of the greatest inspirations to me of all of Isaiah's vision. Why the swiftness? Because I know that we can come to Christ now. Oh, my brother, it takes a swift wing for you in an instant of time to cross over all that far country of sin which separates you from God's dovecot. The distance from Arizona to New York or from St. Sebastian, Spain, to Venice, where doves have flown, is not far. To me, O man, did you not start forth on your journey of sin ten, twenty, forty years ago? Why, let me recount the years. You have not seen a communion table since your mother died. You have not made one earnest prayer for ten years. If I was today to count over the list of your intimate friends I would find them without exception to be men and women who have not been in the past and are not now living Christian lives. Oh, my brother, your poor sick heart, you have a long distance to come back to God. But you can come by divine grace. You can come now. You can come as quickly as the new converts of the church which Isaiah saw in vision came to the mercy seat. You can come with a superlative swiftness. You can come with the lightning velocity of a flying dove.

But why talk about Isaiah's church of the future? Why caption this sermon with the title, "The Coming Awakening?" When Isaiah saw this migrating dove and used it as an emblem was he alluding only to a future church? I think not. I think as the Hebrew prophet was standing there on the mountain of inspiration looking off on what was to come he kept saying to himself: "This is it. It is possible for this vision of God's church to be materialized now." Is not God willing to bring this benediction to present men if the members of the children of God will today co-operate with the Holy Spirit? Yes, he can, he will, was the prophet's thought. I know this the thought today running through many a Christian's mind. God can and God will make the prophetic vision of Isaiah come true now. If we, the church members, will only truly yield ourselves and consecrate our minds and hearts to Christ's will. O man, O woman, the greatest enemy of Jesus Christ today is not the infidel and scoffer outside of the church. It is the man and the woman inside the church who do not co-operate with Jesus in his purpose to save the world for Christ through the agency of his church. It is we ourselves who hinder the church and the most insignificant can become mighty for God, for, as Joshua hath said: "One man of you shall chase a thousand, for the Lord your God he is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you."

Take good heed, therefore, unto yourselves that ye love the Lord your God." St. Mark's of Venice.
The symbol of the dove which Isaiah uses to describe the church could not be better illustrated than by the spectacle in the great square of Venice, which is flanked on the one side by the famous Cathedral of St. Mark. With but few exceptions I have seen all the great cathedrals of the world. I have seen some as white as that of St. Peter's, whose walls, even though they may be hundreds of years old, seem to be as white as the whitest of alabaster. I have seen some dark as an African's skin, others red as an Indian's. I have seen some cathedrals which impressed me by their gigantic size. The higher I climbed on the roof of Milan's greatest structure the more my awe and bewilderment. I have seen some that were perfect poems in stone. But, take it all in all, though it cost not nearly as much as some others, the most impressive cathedral I ever saw was St. Mark's of Venice.

Like unto natural scenery, St. Mark's is the Yellowstone park, not the Yosemite or the Gothenburg pass, among the cathedrals. It impressed me not with its size so much as its exquisite coloring, its roof, its walls, its arcades all blended as the colors of a rainbow frozen in stone. The tops of its lofty columns were not hideous with grimy garretes. They were chased into a flower garden, which grew at your feet or with their leaves hung down from above. These different flower gardens were so perfectly chiseled that it seemed as if the winds, sweeping up from the Venetian canals were gently swaying them as the rosebushes bend under the touch of a summer breeze in your father's garden.

Over the front doorway were the four massive bronze horses which Napoleon carried away to Paris after his conquest in Italy, but which the overthrow of the Bonaparte dynasty restored to their places. With arched neck and shaggy limbs like creatures of life they seemed just ready for a battlefield charge or a run over the hills after the bounds or a gentle enmesh by mistress or chivalric knight. There, within those walls, the chance and auditorium blend in such perfect harmony that when I stood before the altar's picture of the dying Christ I felt for the first time in a European cathedral that I was in the presence of God and in the place of prayer.

God's Feathered Loved Ones.
But, though I saw many places in the Venetian cathedral that entranced me, after all, my greatest lesson learned there was outside the cathedral walls, and not within. I learned that lesson there not from the cold stones of a building, but from the warm hearts of living doves. There, from behind the towers and from within the recesses down from the roof and the four great bronze horses, from pillars and vestibules, the doves gathered around you by the hundreds. They came as fearlessly to my side as my little children might come. They perched on my shoulder, on my hat. They fluttered over my head. They crowded by the hundreds at my feet to eat of the food I had ready for them. As they fluttered about me I said to myself, "Would that God's sinful children might be gathered about these church doors as I see my God's little feathered loved ones." When I spoke these words involuntarily I started. I said to myself, "Why will not God's sinful children thus come to God's sanctuary? Did not Isaiah in vision see them coming? Shall they not come? Will they not come now if the Christian church members feed them with the 'bread of life,' as I am feeding these birds with little crumbs? Yes, they will. They will, if we Christian church members only live right and offer to the outside suffering world the right kind of divine sustenance. Will not you and I, O church members, by our examples and welcome and gospel food, make Isaiah's vision a possibility now? Will not you and I, as followers of Christ, beckon the sinners to him, and they will come as doves come to their windows." (Copyright, 1904, by Louis Klopach.)

Take good heed, therefore, unto yourselves that ye love the Lord your God." St. Mark's of Venice.
The symbol of the dove which Isaiah uses to describe the church could not be better illustrated than by the spectacle in the great square of Venice, which is flanked on the one side by the famous Cathedral of St. Mark. With but few exceptions I have seen all the great cathedrals of the world. I have seen some as white as that of St. Peter's, whose walls, even though they may be hundreds of years old, seem to be as white as the whitest of alabaster. I have seen some dark as an African's skin, others red as an Indian's. I have seen some cathedrals which impressed me by their gigantic size. The higher I climbed on the roof of Milan's greatest structure the more my awe and bewilderment. I have seen some that were perfect poems in stone. But, take it all in all, though it cost not nearly as much as some others, the most impressive cathedral I ever saw was St. Mark's of Venice.

IN SELECTING A COLLEGE THESE ARE THE VITAL POINTS:
1. HEALTHFULNESS.
Western Maryland College, at Westminster, Md., is feet above the sea; mild climate; pure air; pure water; perfect drainage.
Has new and substantial buildings. Steam Heat. Electric Light. Furnishes good food; comfortable rooms. Baths. Gymnasium. Athletic Field.
2. SAFE AND REFINED SURROUNDINGS.
Founded 37 years ago by Christian men, Western Maryland College has always striven for Christian ends in education.
Models its discipline after the home, giving its students oversight and protection.
Believes that character is formed by habits and habits by system, and so provides its students with a schedule that leaves no hour of the day unaccounted for.
Receives both sexes for the benefit of both, believing this also to be the ideal of the home; but separates the sexes in classroom and limits social intercourse.

3. MODERN METHODS AND EQUIPMENT.
Western Maryland College came into the modern educational ideas.
Led the way in that form of co-education recently adopted by the University of Chicago—co-equal, but not co-educational education for men and women.
First College in Maryland to employ a Director of Physical Culture, and to build a Gymnasium.
Laboratories have grown until a separate building is necessary for them.
Faculty represents best Universities.

4. LOW RATES.
Western Maryland College will give you board furnished room, light, heat, laundry and tuition in its College at $300 for the full year of 38 weeks.
Ask our Students, or write to REV. T. H. LEWIS, D.D., President.

Mules and Horses.
Finest Western stock—blocky and built for work. Years of experience enable us to select right and true as can be, and the very best, at prices that permit you to deal with us. Choice horses for sale or exchange.

To the Patrons of

Wicomico Public Schools

We have done our best to provide for the children of this county competent teachers and comfortable buildings and it is our earnest desire that all parents see that their children, so far as it is possible, enter school during its opening days and attend regularly throughout the school year, since no teacher can secure satisfactory results in the school room when the pupils are irregular in attendance.

Every absence means a serious loss to the student. This is especially true of primary pupils, who are often allowed to remain away from school on the most trivial excuses. Our schools are for your boys and girls—make all the use of them you possibly can by sending your child every day.

If your child is 6 years old before next January 1st, you are permitted and urged to have him registered at the opening of Fall Term, September 1st.

H. Crawford Bounds,

County Superintendent.

Don't take our word for it.

Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read the statement of Salisbury citizens.

And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:

Wm. M. Gordy, carpenter, residing corner of Ann and E. Church Streets says: "I have had backache for several years, was sore in the morning when I got up, and if I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and caused my back to ache severely. I have been so bad that I could scarcely step down from one step to another, and when I arose from a chair, I could not straighten for some time. I was having considerable pain in my back at the time I noticed

Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and I got a box at White & Leonard's drug store. They acted directly on my kidneys and soon stopped the attack from which I was suffering. My son also took some of the pills and received good results."

The Stomach Is The Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man,

because it cannot transform the food

he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down

at all drug stores.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such,

in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Ver-saillies, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors

nor medicine gave him relief. At length

he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Beat on earth for Liver and kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel complaint. Only 50c.

Guaranteed by all druggists.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense,

only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo.

E. Wright of New London, New York.

exposition given the prominence and space to the subject of agriculture.

August and September are ostensibly the farmer's months at the Exposition,

for it is at this season that the agriculture exhibits are the freshest and best.

Products of the new crops are pouring into the booths from every state in the Union, and additions are constantly being made to the gorgeous display.

Headquarters for visiting farmers may be found in every state section of the great Agriculture Palace, but for their special convenience there has just been completed a Grange House, situated in the south end of the building.

It is equipped with a reception room,

ladies' retiring rooms and check rooms,

where parcels may be left free of charge. Here will be kept a list of moderate priced rooms to aid visiting farmers and their families in procuring accommodations.

The largest building on the grounds is the Palace of Agriculture, covering twenty acres, while the Palace of Horticulture near by covers about a third as much space. These two immense structures are filled with exhibits of the farm, garden and orchard of the most extensive and elaborate character, every state in the Union and most of the principal countries of the world being represented.

Agriculture is given more prominence than any other department at the Exposition, the paramount importance of this great industry having been fully appreciated from the very beginning of the World's Fair movement.

About seventy acres of ground are covered by the agriculture and horticulture department at the Fair, large outdoor spaces being devoted to this industry. Outside there are growing crops, trees and flowers, an instructive and safe farm maintained by the United

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Of First Congressional District of Maryland. Constitutionalism and Conservatism Against Radical and Arbitrary Republicanism.

The platform reported adopted by the Congressional Nominating Convention of the First District of Maryland is as follows:

"The Democracy of the First Congressional District, in convention assembled, declared:

"That we endorse the platform adopted by the National Democratic Convention, which assembled at St. Louis on July 6. We congratulate the stalwart and representative Democrats of that body for the masterful leadership, the broad party spirit and the splendid patriotism which characterized and directed the proceedings of that historic convention, and we pledge its nominees, Judge Alton B. Parker and Hon. Henry G. Davis, the zealous efforts and the unremitting and enthusiastic support of the great rank and file of the Democracy of the Eastern Shore.

"We join with all classes of people throughout our common country in special rejoicing because of the exalted characters of our candidates for President and Vice-President, but we especially congratulate all those lovers of sound Democratic principles as taught and expounded by Jefferson and by Madison. The nominee of the great Democratic party for the high office of President of the United States is of ideal Presidential quality and peculiarly fitted by reason of temperament and training for leadership in the impending battle for constitutional government. We believe that, all other issues aside, success will follow our standards, victory perch upon our banners because the great body of intelligent American electors before casting their ballots will make proper contrast of the strenuous egotism and dangerous and meddlesome restlessness of President Roosevelt with the attractive personality of that cool, sympathetic and well-informed jurist, that liberty-loving and self-poised statesman and Democrat, Alton B. Parker.

We desire to emphasize the fact that we believe the personal characteristics of the Republican and Democratic candidates best serve to illustrate to the voters of the country the best meaning of the contest in which we are now engaged; that the lives of the two men are books in which the people may read that the great struggle of the campaign of 1904 is to be one in which the mighty hosts of conservative and constitutional Democracy are arrayed on the one side and the dangerous and forbidding forces of radical and arbitrary Republicanism on the other. The Republican party under the leadership of President Roosevelt would, if it could, win the affections of the American people for a political gospel not taught by the fathers of the Republic—the gospel of force. The sane and temperate Alton B. Parker would remind us that force is not the equivalent of right and that the will of a President is not the equivalent of law. We invite the people to choose between constitutional government, based upon law, under an incomparable American Democrat and statesman, and absolutism, usurpation and disregard of law as typified by the present occupant of the White House. The Republican party of this district in convention assembled formally indorsed all the policies of President Theodore Roosevelt, peculiar to and inaugurated by himself.

"Under the administration of Grover Cleveland and William McKinley the race problem had been left to the people of the several States to settle, but President Roosevelt inaugurated a new policy peculiar to himself. This policy consists among other things, in depriving the white people of certain communities of the South of their postal facilities for the furtherance of a peculiar negro policy. It involves the selection of negroes to high and important Federal offices over the protests of the white citizens of the communities interested and of their representatives in Congress. It involves the selection of a negro as collector of customs for a great commercial city of the South, as well as the selection of another negro as the President's confidential adviser in making appointments to office and in determining all matters of public policy affecting the welfare of one of the greatest States of the South, and against such a policy, though peculiar to President Roosevelt and indorsed by the Republicans of this district, we solemnly protest. We call the attention of our people to the fact that less than 12 months have passed since the Democrats of this State in convention assembled declared that the destinies of the people of Maryland should be controlled by the white people of the State.

"That upon this issue of white supremacy not only in the state, but in nearly all the counties thereof, we won a splendid victory; that this victory was won in spite of the teachings, the example and the executive influence of the present President of the United States. The white people of Maryland do not forget that fact, and neither must they forget that in President Roosevelt they have a candidate for President who precipitated anew the race issue in those States of the South where it had reached at least a partial settlement; that to cozen the negro vote in this State and in the States of the North he selected a Maryland negro to second his nomination for President; that he therefore gives evidence at least of his willingness to misuse the grave race problem for partisan ends, if not of his eager desire to show his lack of sympathy for the Maryland Democratic campaign slogan of 1908.

85 YEARS OLD

Male And Active, Clement M. Wright Entertains His Children, Grand Children And Great-Grand Children. Sixty Invited Guests.

Mr. Clement M. Wright, living at Horn Town, in Barren Creek district celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday on Monday of this week at his home in good old country style. The home where Mr. Wright has resided for many years has been a delightful visiting place for two generations and on Monday the family re-union brought together to do honor to the aged father and grand father was a happy, cheerful company. Mr. Wright was unusually cheerful. Dinner was served at 2 o'clock to sixty persons, men, women and children. Mr. Wright seemed to enjoy the occasion and expressed himself as feeling much younger than for some time. He was the recipient of a great many presents of things he could use and enjoy. Mr. Wright's brother, Beauchamp A. Wright and his sister, Mrs. Samuel Phillips and his two sons, Isaac J. and W. W. Wright and his daughter, Mrs. James E. Bacon were the special guests. Mr. Wright's wife died several years ago and two grand daughters have taken care of him with great care and attention. Mr. Wright had two daughters and one son who died some years ago. Mr. Wright is one of the substantial members of that community and has been permitted to see many of his friends and companions pass from life and he has been spared to reach the ripe age of eighty-five years. There were his three children, twenty-eight grand children and five great grand children. The following persons were present: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Beauchamp A. Wright and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac J. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bacon, Mrs. W. P. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bacon, Captain and Mrs. Oscar T. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Phillips, Mrs. C. E. Twilley and the other grand children and great grand children. They all expressed themselves as having a happy re-union and with many happy expressions following each other and many thanks to the host and hostesses for such a good time departed.—Sharptown Herald.

Results From Advertiser.

The editor of this paper is gratified to learn in a recent letter from the proprietors, the Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md., that the new scientific remedy for Rheumatism—"Rheumacide"—has more than doubled its sales the past year.

The strong testimonials we have published from time to time show the thousands of stubborn cases cured by this remedy—and these together with liberal advertising in such papers as the Salisbury Advertiser has made "Rheumacide" a favorite household remedy in this section.

If you have an article of real merit big advertising always brings big returns.
