my life is a color wheel
ever changing ...
always spinning ...
never ending.

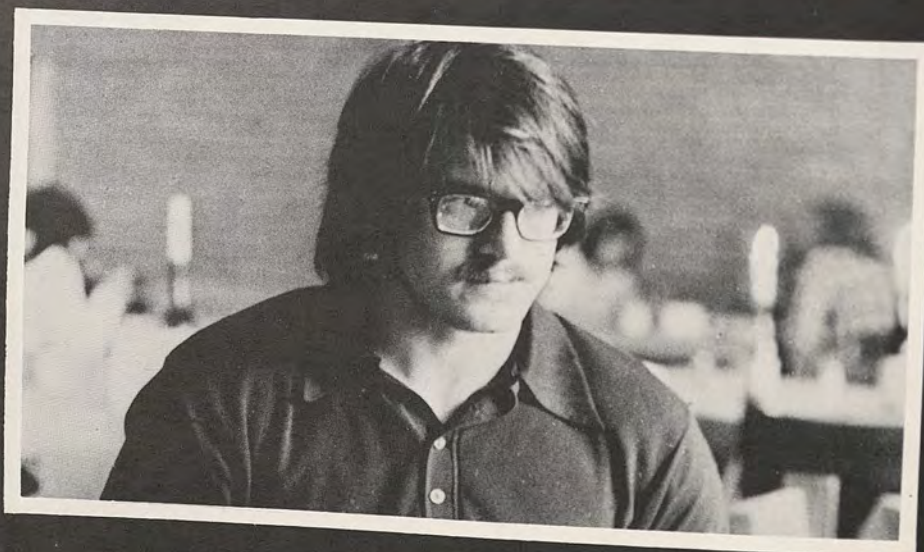

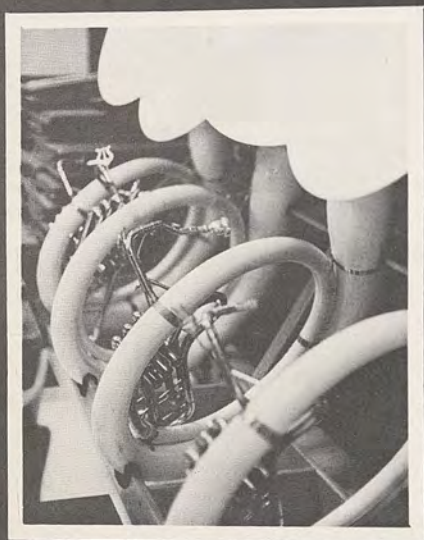

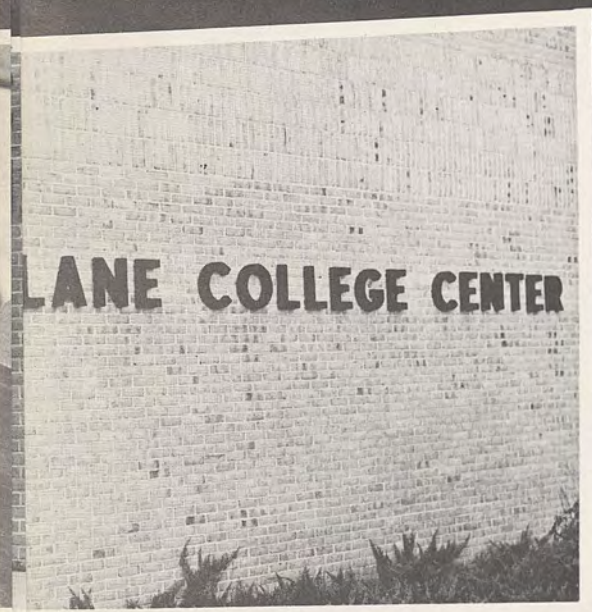

it is tinted,
it is shaded
it is highlighted,

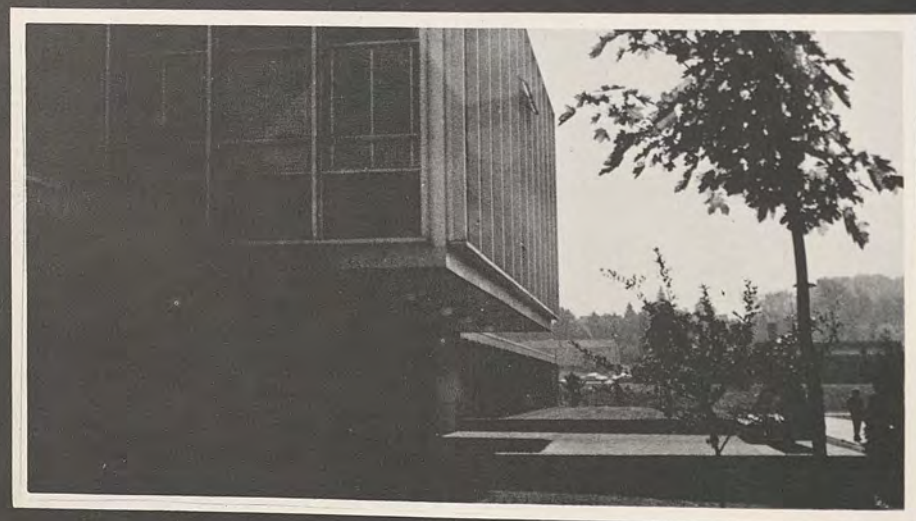

it is subtle,
it is loud and brassy,
it is basic.

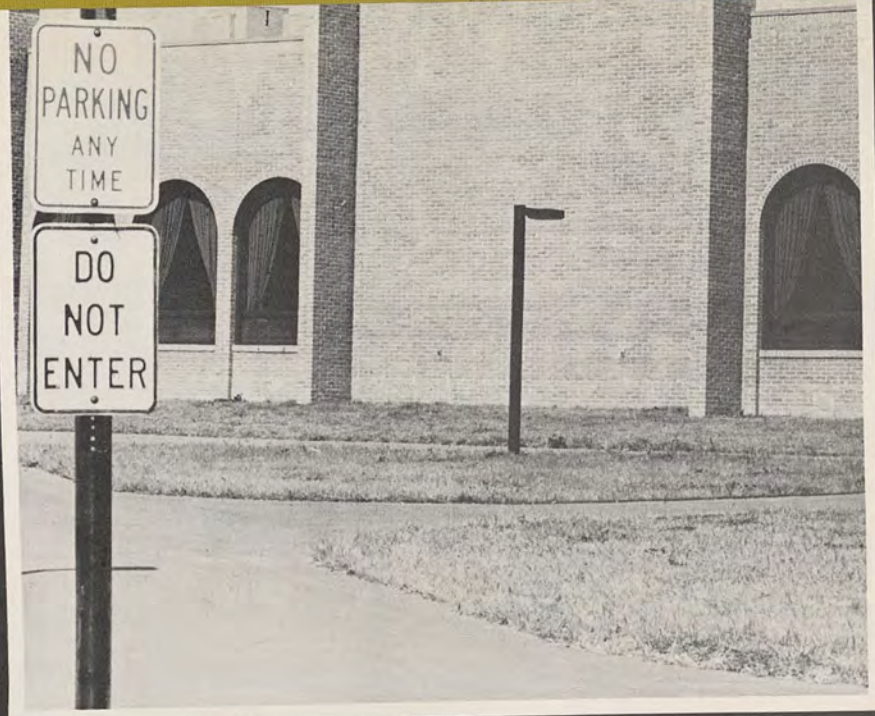

it revolves about my world
turning past faces, places,
and objects
which will become for me an everlasting memory.

as it turns, it passes through
the shades of my mind ...

shades of joy, of
melancholy,
of laughter, of
power,
of loneliness ...

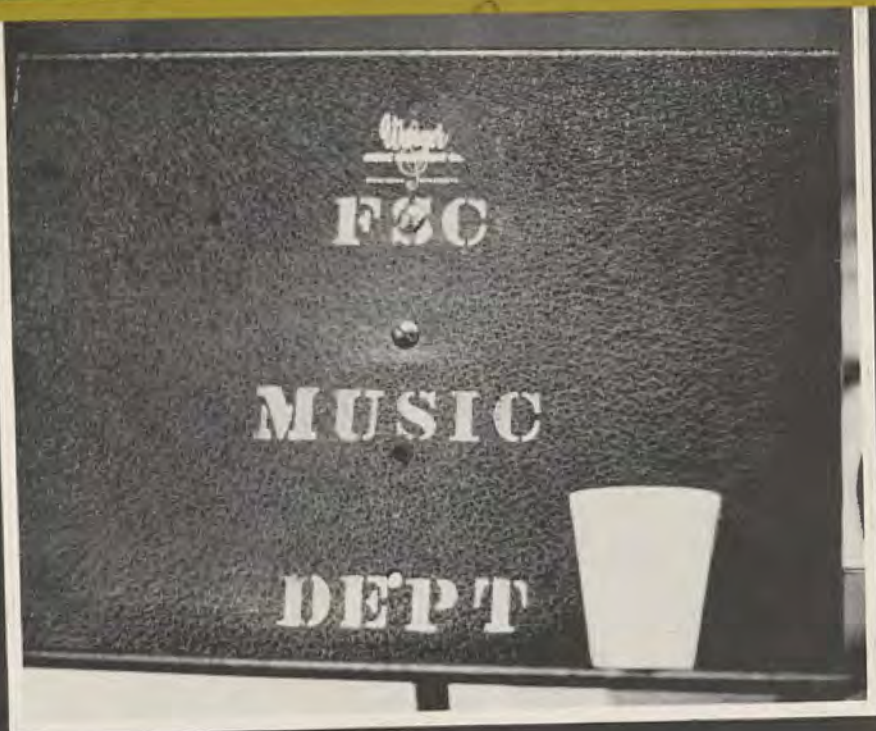

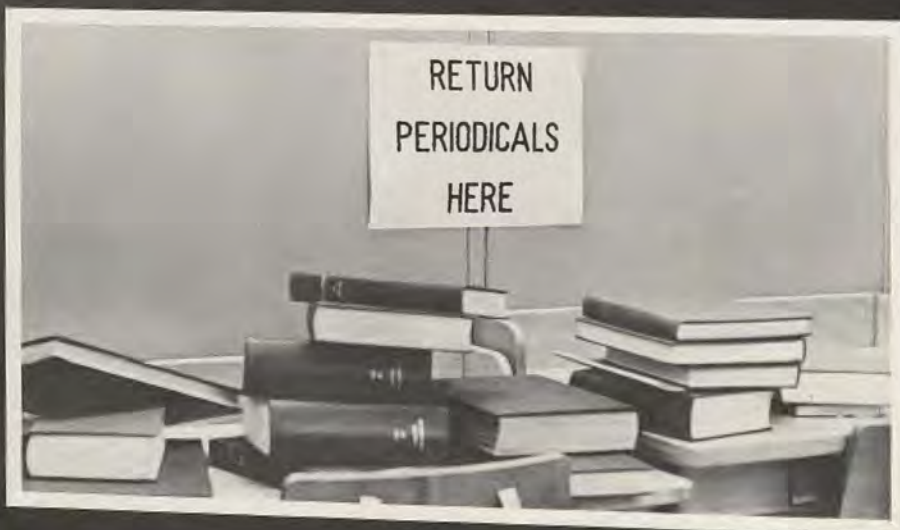

it whirls about me
blending together my moments of
solitude
and action.

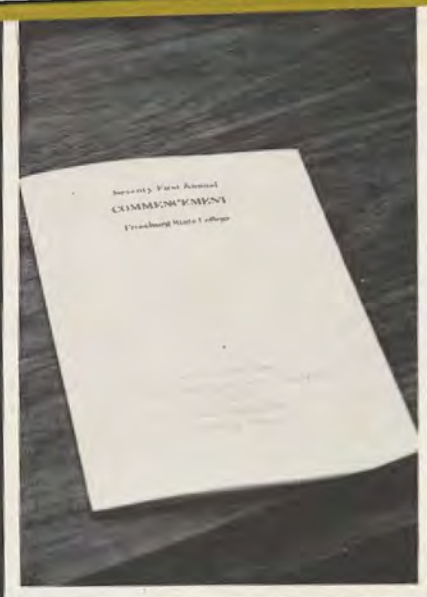

it finds me resting,
working,
playing,
thinking,
living.

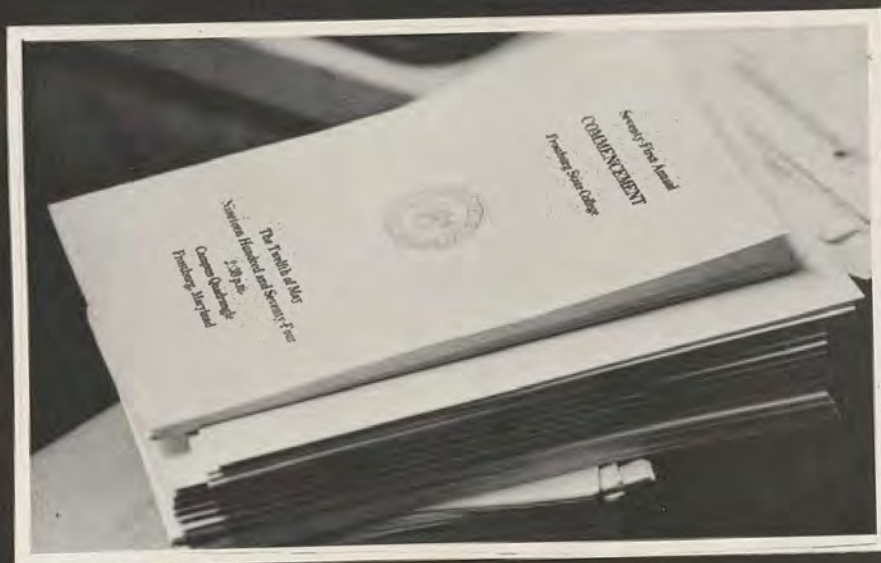

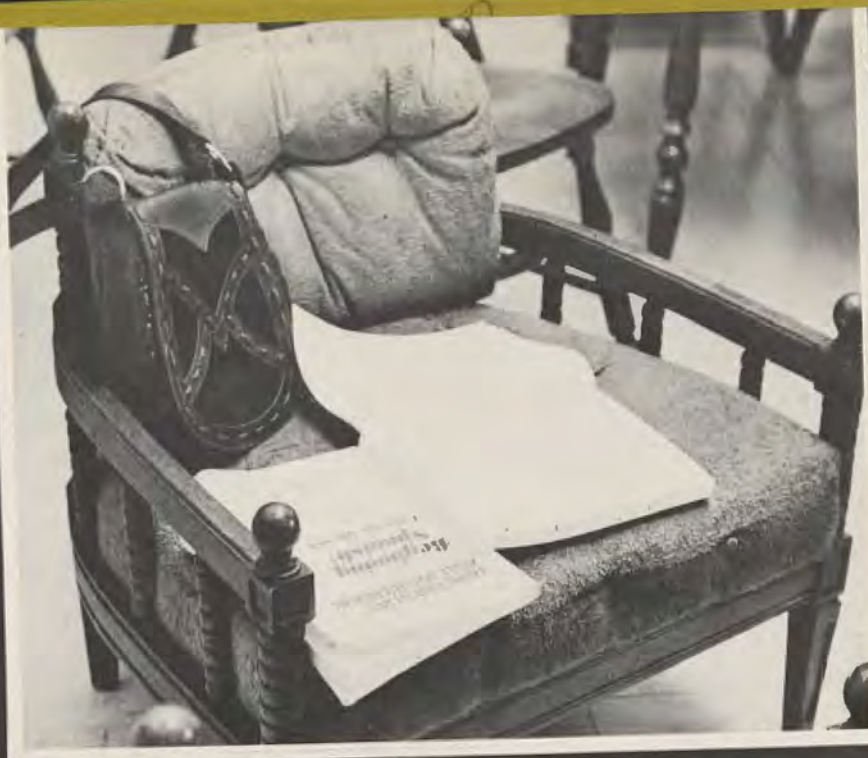

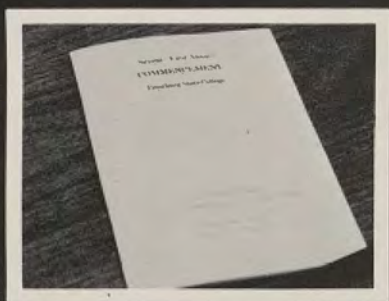

in time, it will slow down
its pace
as it passes over the changes
in my life
which are most important to me.

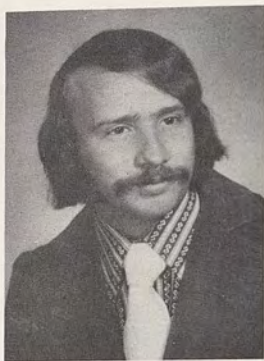

but still it keeps spinning
round and round
reflecting the past,
projecting the future . . .

there are red shades to my personality
they are the motivators
to succeed
to compete
to accomplish all goals
it is a struggle, sometimes hectic and usually exciting but the red shades of my personality are part of what makes me—just me.

life does not cease as the
last ray of light
extinguishes

or as
the final word is uttered.
love preserves that which we can no longer see
and precious memories linger
implanted in our hearts.

yes, we shall miss him
but we shall not
forget him.

blue silence
i hear the silence
that shade of quiet when I am
concentrating
relaxing
recalling or
performing.

the pace slows down but does not
come to a halt.

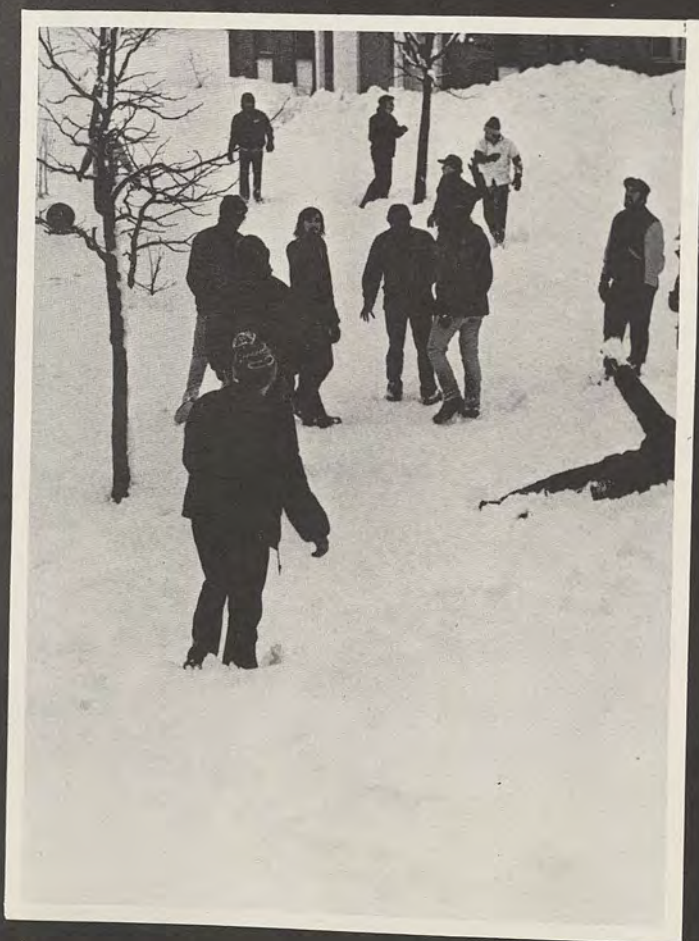

it's comforting,
a blue silence . . . not depressing
a wave of calm to reflect upon my achievements
and question my tomorrows.

and then there are the yellow days,
those times when i dress in my faded jeans,
a comfortable shirt,
and truck across campus in my tennis shoes.
i pass smiles, stares, and frowns yet, i have no complaints ...
it's just one of those yellow days.
they start with the melody of the alarm clock and end with thoughts of tomorrow.
the yellow days are the calm days
the lazy days
the everyday days
but actually the seeds of the future are sown during these basic yellow days of the year.
