Nemacolin, a Delaware Indian, was asked by Thomas Cresap, the first white settler in Western Maryland and founder of Cresaptown, to blaze a trail westward from Cumberland. This trail, known as "Nemacolin's Path," became U.S. Route 40, the first major road to connect the East and West. Frostburg State College was founded just off of this trail, and thus, the yearbook has assumed the Indian name.

Continuing to act as a guide for the Cresaps, Nemacolin became known to the white men as the great Pathfinder. On one of his hunting trips, Nemacolin and Dan Cresap separated. Searching for his hunting companion, Nemacolin found his friend badly injured from a fall on the rocky crags of a mountain. The site of this fall became known as "Dan's Rock," where now, many of Frostburg's students gather for a panoramic view of the Western Maryland countryside.

We, of Frostburg State College, now finding our own paths, offer this book in dedication to our ancestral trail blazer, Nemacolin.

FESTIVAL OF INDIA

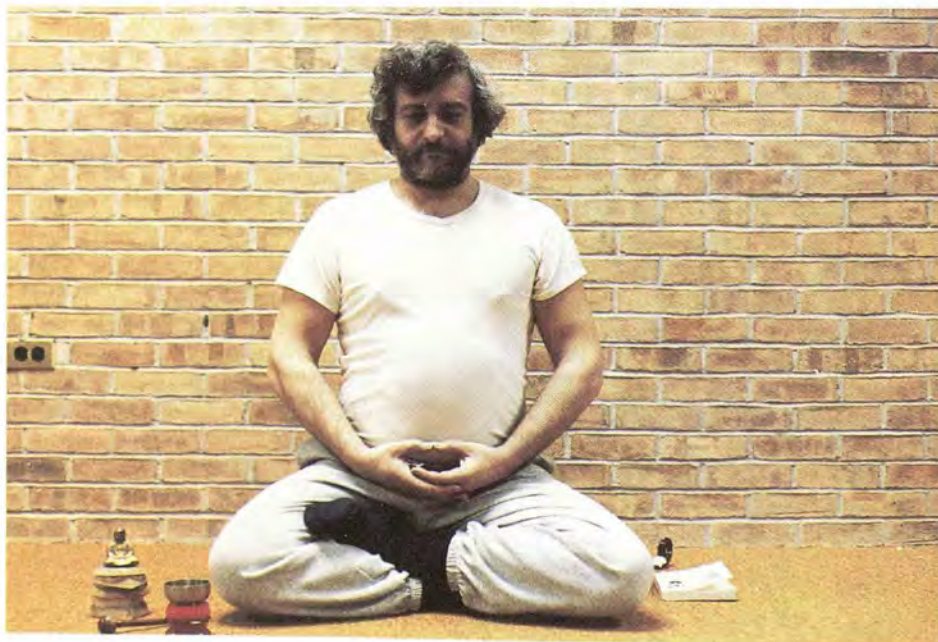

A Western Maryland Celebration

During the week October 13-19, 1985, Frostburg State College, under the direction of Dr. Paul R. LaChance, hosted the "Festival of India," Western Maryland's portion of the 1985-86 Year of Indo-American Cultural Exchange, initiated by Indira Gandhi on her visit to the United States in 1982.

The abundant riches, both spiritual and aesthetic, that India brought to Frostburg found powerful expression in art, poetry, music, dance, religion, history, politics, and other cultural dimensions. Among the talent featured at Frostburg's "Festival of India" were scholars such as B. N. Goswamy, Director of the Chandigarh Museum, Chandigarh, India; and musicians Kartik Shesadri, one of Ravi Shankar's best disciples, and Budhadeo Dasgupta, one of India's top two sarode players, accompanied by A. G. Bandopadhyay. Then, internationally recognized poet Robert Bly and dancer Neena Gulati combined their arts into a mystical whole, receiving a double standing ovation.

The Festival's grande finale featured Joel Thome's original musical composition "Satyavan: Dream Twilight," performed on elaborate art pieces called "sound-sculptures" which were accentuated by original paintings by Francoise Gilot, French artist and author of My Life With Picasso.

Frostburg State College was doubly honored in hosting these riches of India and sharing them with the college community and the people of Alleghany County.

"All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players . . ."
— Shakespeare

A young blind newlywed, a mysterious doll, three sinister men lurking about, and a prying little girl who lives upstairs combine to form the ingredients of a suspense drama guaranteed to keep you on the edge of your seat until the final curtain. The plot involves a young blind woman, newly married, left alone by her photographer husband for several days. This courageous and enterprising female finds the threatening forces of evil a challenge to her wits and guile in a terrifying peril of suspense.

This popular musical offers an evening of entertaining songs performed by the Dinettes of the Double Cupp Diner and the Pump boys from the gas station across the street. The songs are performed on guitars, pianos, bass, and, even kitchen utensils. As noted by the New York Times, these songs "gloss not only country, but also rockabilly, white Southern gospel and soft rock, and they extol such everyday pleasures as fishing, dancing, 'making love and watching color T.V.'" The Pump Boys charm the audience with such numbers as "Catfish", "The Night Dolly Parton Was Almost Mine", and "Mona", as the Dinettes sing and dance their way into the audience's heart. Frostburg State College was especially proud to present Pump Boys and Dinettes because Debra Monk, one of the authors and one of the cast members in the New York production, is a graduate of our theatre program.

ARISTOPHANES' LYSISTRATA

FEB. 27, 28, MAR. 1
COMPTON AUD. 8:15 PM

Although this comedy was first produced in 411 B.C., it certainly can speak to the audience of today. According to John Gassner, "The play cavorts around the idea that men are simply overgrown boys and war is just a game for them, but that to women, deprived of their husbands and sons, it is intolerable. How the women of Athens and Sparta put a stop to the bellicose antics of their husbands is the uproarious theme of this essentially serious comedy." Lysistrata, an Athenian woman, organizes a secret conference at the stairs of the Palladium in which she has the women of Athens and Sparta swear to an oath that they will deny sexual favors to their husbands or lovers until the men agree to end the war. The women agree to her plan but, human nature, being what it is, the women have almost as much trouble as the men. But soon, the men, after a long, hard decision find that, although they hate to admit it, they can't live with women, nor can they live without them.

This touching and often funny play focuses on the growth of an English family during World War II. One of the daughters, Helen, a plain sort of girl with a limp, doubts that any man will ever find her of interest and her wry point of view propels the play into action. A New York Times critic observed that "by the time Helen finishes telling her story, she has had a long and passionate affair and — although she has loved and lost — she has been transformed by the attentions of a man who looked beyond her limp to the woman she could become."

Dr. Isidor Saslav

Dr. Isidor Saslav, an American violinist and Haydn scholar, performed an entertaining and enlightening lecture-demonstration on the Haydn string quartets . . . "a model of what such lectures should be: expertise of the scholar with the know-how of the performer and the entire lecture delivered with enthusiasm and in terms that made it enjoyable to a wide range of audience . . . delightful and educational." Dr. Saslav formed a quartet with local musicians (students and faculty) who performed during the enlightening and entertaining program.

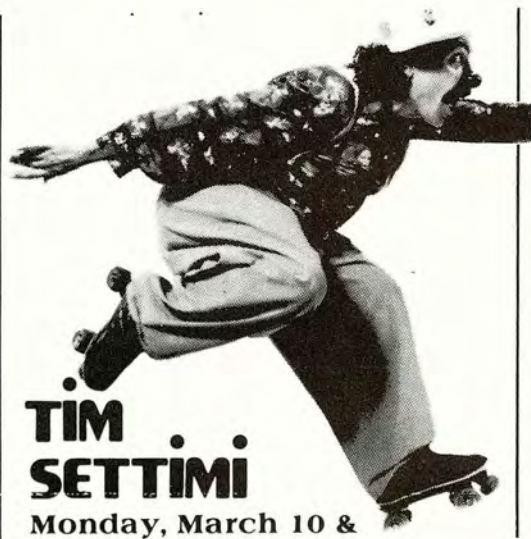

The Baltimore Consort

In residence at the magnificent Walter's Art Gallery, the Baltimore Consort offered an F.S.C. audience a brilliant selection of musical treasures from the Middle Ages, Renaissance and Baroque, who experienced the passion and virtuosity of one of the country's foremost early music ensembles and their superb array of guest artists.

TIM SETTİMİ

An extraordinary mixture of mime, musician, and comedian, Tim Settimi has a sensitivity and an innate style that has earned him the reputation of a star performer. He was voted Performing Artist and Novelty/Variety Artist of the Year by the National Association of Campus Activities. In addition to presenting his solo show in colleges and comedy clubs nationally, Tim Settimi has been featured in concert with such top recording artists as Joni Mitchell, Chicago, and REO Speedwagon, as well as with that wild and crazy guy, Steve Martin.

Tim Settimi — Under the Spotlight

Founded in 1976 by choreographer-dancer Zoe Sealy, the Minnesota Jazz Dance Company is committed to performing, demonstrating, and teaching a spectrum of jazz dance styles. The Company's unique trademark emanates from an eclectic blend of various art forms, ranging from ballet, modern, ballroom and vaudeville to the African influence of rhythmic propulsion. The dancers delighted F.S.C.'s audience with their love of jazz; its music, tempo, beat, and most of all, its explosive energy.

By the show displayed or the beauty made

The Student Government Association is composed of an elected board of executives and a House of Representatives whose main purpose is to provide the student body with an effective means of self-government, as well as to coordinate communications between the students, faculty, and administration. Annually, the Student Government allocates funds to the various student organizations on campus, as well as providing services for the student body in general. This year, the Student Government hosted a seminar to inform off-campus students of their leasing rights within the community. Among many of the other services provided by SGA, they financed the purchase of several electronic typewriters and computers, which are now in the library for student use. They also organized and arranged this year's Senior Week Activities which included: A Dance at the Cumberland Holiday Inn; The Who's hit movie "Tommy" at the Palace Theatre; and the Senior Picnic featuring "The Jello Boys."

*"Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was
A time of innocence,
A time of confidences.
Long ago, it must be,
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories,
They're all that's left you."*

Alma Mater

Our Alma Mater, Mother of Knowledge,
We sing of the glory, and thy honored name
Founded for learning, of minds that are yearning
We treasure, we treasure our years at Frostburg State.

Our Alma Mater, Guide us still nearer,
As striving for truth, we follow in thy light.
Grant us thy grace, that our minds may embrace
The wisdom, the wisdom ours here at Frostburg State.

"Everyone recognizes me in my book, and my book in me."
Montaigne
