

'67 Homecoming Theme Pays Homage To 'Mickey Mouse's Dad,' Walt Disney

A tribute to a California dream man, a Texas threesome plus a host of activities will highlight the 1967 Homecoming weekend.

The theme this year—"A Tribute to Walt Disney" pays homage to the man who from 1932 to 1966 thrilled both young and old with his many animated cartoons, full-length films and "Disneyland". During his lifetime Disney, who wanted to be an artist but "It was an ambition I never achieved", amassed 423 honors and awards, including 29 Academy Awards and four Emmys.

The Pozo-Seco Singers compose the Texas threesome and will open the activities tomorrow night when they will perform in Compton Auditorium at 8:15. In touring the country's top nightclubs and concert stages, the trio has displayed a variety of material, ranging from a unique reading of "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'" to tunes penned by Bob Dylan.

Following the group's performance will be a band dance in Gunter Hall.

On Saturday morning an informal coffee hour will be held in the snack shop where Alumni are to pick up their tickets for the evening dance.

The traditional parade will begin at 10:30 on the west end of Main Street. Parade Marshall for the '67 event is Magistrate T. William Preston.

Opening the sporting scene for the day will be a soccer game against Fairmont State College at 11 p.m. The Bobcat football team will swing into action at 2 p.m. at Beall High Stadium when they tangle with the Eagles of Bridgewater College of Virginia.

Following the grid clash, President Morey will hold an open house for Faculty and Alumni at his residence, 79 West Main Street.

The event-filled dances will begin at 9 p.m. with the Gunter Hall gathering, open to FSC students, featuring the "Washington-By-Pass" group. The off campus dance, being held at the Cumberland Armory and open to Alumni, will feature the "Stardusters."

Master of Ceremonies for the entire weekend will be Don Hutchinson, Class of '67 President.

Hell No — We Won't Go!

"Hell no, we won't go!" and "Let's get out" will be two of the slogans used in the mass demonstration in Washington, D.C., protesting United States intervention in Viet-Nam. This Saturday, October 21, forty to one hundred thousand people are expected to participate in the marches and sit-in at the Pentagon.

The National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Viet-Nam, a confederation of 100 moderate to radical peace groups has organized the demonstration on three levels. There will be two marches, one from the Lincoln Memorial and another from the Washington Monument, starting around 11 a.m., both converging on the Pentagon; a mass rally; and the sit-in. The Committee has applied for permits for the march and rally, but those in the sit-in will be practicing civil disobedience.

The avowed purpose of the sit-in is to "sit down inside the Pentagon and stop it from working," according to Dave Dellinger, the Mobilization's national chairman. The demonstrators hope to "force them to step over our bodies." They have said that the sit-in will be non-violent and that they will not resist police who attempt to remove them.

Meetings have been held this week with representatives of the District of Columbia to work out the details of the demonstration.

Saturday will be the culmination of anti-war activities which have taken place this week. Across the country men of draft age have announced their resistance to the war by returning draft cards to their boards. Another group "Conscious Resisters", composed of women and men past draft age have presented anti-draft cards in support of the draft resisters.

A petition with 30,000 signatures (not Negotiations Now!) will be presented to the Government demanding the release of three soldiers who refused to go to Viet-Nam.

Students from Frostburg State College will be participating in Saturday's demonstration. Anyone interested in joining this group should contact the State-To-Date office today or tomorrow.

Preferences?

The newly formed Artists Series Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Merikay Bryan, has $1,500 with which to secure interesting lecturers for the following year. It is the desire of the Committee that the student body be given an opportunity to state their preferences as to who they would like to hear and see at F.S.C.

Some possibilities already mentioned are: General James Gavin, who is a possible presidential candidate; Arthur Slessinger, an outspoken critic on American policies in Viet Nam; Charles Collingwood, well known T.V. commentator; Thurgood Marshall, Justice of the Supreme Court; and Art Buchwald, leading American journalist. Suggestions must be turned into the Student Activities Office before October 30th. This is your opportunity to take part in the advancement of the Artist Series Program

Little Theater Plans Drama

Little Theatre will present The Importance of Being Earnest, on October 26, 27, and 28, at 8:15 p.m., in Compton Auditorium. Admission will be: students, 75c; adults, $1.50.

The box office in Compton will be open October 23, 24, and 25, from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m., and from 4:00 until 5 p.m. On October 26, the box office will be opened from 11:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Patrons may also purchase or reserve tickets for the evening of their choice from 7:00 p.m. until curtain time.

FSC Hosts Seniors

Tomorrow the campus of FSC will be overrun by a horde of high school seniors from all over the state. Registration for the potential college students will be held from 9:00 to 9:30 in Compton Lobby. A general assembly conducted by David Creek and Brenda Jones will take place from 9:30 to 10:45 in the auditorium.

At this time, a welcome will be extended by Vaughn Crowl, Dr. Alice R. Manicur, a member of Physical Education department, and President John H. Morey, respectively. A panel discussion entitled "It's What's Happening" will follow with Mr. David Sanford, Director of Admissions, as moderator. The panel, including Frank Florentine, Steve Printz, and Patricia Upp, will answer questions from three high school seniors.

From 10:45 to 11:30, the students will tour the campus while counselors and parents will have a coffee hour and discussion in the Library Lecture Room.

Miss Dorothy Stone White will present a scene from The Importance of Being Earnest at 11:30. Lunch will take place from 12:30 to 1:15 followed by entertainment by the Music Department. Charles I. Sager will direct the Notables and Madrigal singers, followed by a Jazz Ensemble conducted by Mr. Christopher Gallaher.

"Just a typical American . . ." students are those flocking to the Coffee House. Pictured above are some of the guitarists who provide the entertainment, or inspiration, for a lively evening. Story on page 3. (Photograph by Bud Downing)

Pictures Scheduled

Ed Pritts, editor of the 1968 Nemacolin, has scheduled the shooting of the 1968 Nemacolin class pictures. They will be taken from October 30 through November 10 in the Nemacolin office, Gunter No. 3.

Mr. Pritts also stated that a sitting fee of $1.00 will be charged this year of all students, since the Senate found it necessary to cut the budget. Students may sign up and pay their fees from now until October 28. If representation among the classes is not sufficient, underclass pictures will be excluded from this year's annual and only seniors will appear. If this is necessary all money will be refunded.

Editorial Comment

To Kill the Dove...

Some people feel that an admirable solution to the dilemma of Viet-Nam is to turn it into a parking lot. Stephen Decatur, of course, solved all problems of conscience when he said, "My country, right or wrong, my country."

We must not question our government's policies. Patriotic nationalism demands that we support our leaders in all things. We must destroy the enemy wherever he is. Stop the dissenters. Does not the idealistic end for which we strive justify our means no matter how savage?

We are fighting to save ignorant people from making a terrible mistake. The Vietnamese don't know what they are doing. It is our responsibility to show them that they are better dead than red. A Frostburg alumnus recently wrote from Vietnam that "these silly people are trying to kill us red-blooded American youth." Don't they know that we are going to save them, even if it means killing every last one of them?

The demonstrators for peace this Saturday want us to admit that we made a terrible mistake when we sent 18,000 American boys to their deaths in Viet-Nam. How could we bear it? They are trying to force the government to seek peace, but the war should be prosecuted regardless of the costs.

We can't let these ungrateful people frighten us. Fight! Kill! It's the only way to make the world safe for Democracy. So what if a boy writes to his parents that he just threw a grenade that tore apart an infant, two children, and their mother because their hut had been indiscriminately designated as an offensive position. So what if our planes bombing Haiphong have destroyed hospitals, rice fields, a ferry station, and a third of the residential district. It is imperative that we continue to drop delayed action bombs to paralyze the lives of the people. After all, we can't tell the enemy from the people. The enemy is the people. If we burn the skin off children with napalm, it means fewer enemies in the future. The war will continue.

If the President says we must escalate then so we must. Let us now bow our heads in Prayer...

A WAR PRAYER

by Mark Twain

O Lord our Father, our young patriots, idols of our hearts, go forth to battle — be Thou near them! With them, in spirit, we also go forth from the sweet peace of our beloved firesides to smite the foe. O Lord our God, help us to tear their soldiers to bloody shreds with our shells; help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to drown the thunder of the guns with the shrieks of their wounded, writhing in pain; help us to lay waste their humble homes with a hurricane of fire; help us to wring the hearts of their unoffending widows with unavailing grief; help us to turn them out roofless with their little children to wander unfriended the wastes of their desolated land in rags and hunger and thirst, sports of the sun flames of summer and the icy winds of winter, broken in spirit, worn with travail, imploring Thee for the refuge of the grave and denied it — for our sakes who adore Thee, Lord, blast their hopes, blight their lives, protract their bitter pilgrimage, make heavy their steps, water their way with their tears, stain the white snow with the blood of their wounded feet! We ask it, in the spirit of love, of Him Who is the Source of Love, and Who is the ever-faithful refuge and friend of all that are sore beset and seek His aid with humble and contrite hearts. Amen.

The King Was Naked

BY GILBERT R. JONES, JR.

"Have you heard the British demean their King and Queen?" cried Senator Dirksen, defending LBJ from his critics. "No, you do not demean the ruler."

The single most influential event to occur in our century took place in Russia fifty years ago next month. Conditions were extreme as the czar found himself presiding over the dissolution of his empire. His regime was corrupt and engaged in an unpopular war. The intelligentsia, the workers, the students and the peasantry were alienated from the spirit and the purposes of the Establishment. Stripped of respect and support, the government collapsed of its own weight.

In the latter part of the Nineteenth Century there was a movement on the part of the young intelligentsia "to the people." Intoxicated by the concept of popularist reform, the "narodniks" moved into the peasant communities. There they lived and worked to educate the people in social reform, and to wage a general "war on poverty." They soon became disillusioned as they found the Establishment squelching every avenue of genuine reform and found it impossible to overcome the apathy and fear of the people. This "movement" became the core of a bitter revolutionary group that developed a form of "peasant power"—the measured use of terror.

On January 22, 1905, a massive non-violent demonstration led by a priest was brutally put down by the czar's police, leaving the

"KEEP YOUR COOL"

Dear Editor:

We have just finished reading your editorial "God for $1,000" and are very much impressed with its candor. You have presented in a few words more than has been said in a week of class and snack-shop discussions.

We would like to commend the newspaper as a whole for the improvements that have been made this year in all the editorials and also in the addition of the column "Perspectives" by Gilbert Jones. We are glad to see the continuation of the column "A Critical Comment" by Ron Bonig.

Keep your cool.

POEM ON VOTING AGE

Dear Editor,

As a supporter of the rights of the eighteen year olds, I wrote the following poem:

"The 18 Men"

Leaders, don't rule as if they were cattle

They're the ones who fight in battle.

They FEEL FEEL but cannot spake

They kill kill for freedom's sake. A voice in government is their right.

They shoot the enemy in their sight.

Furthermore, the law is obsolete today, that forbids these men to have their say.

The 18 men their "cards" they carry grown to fight and some to marry.

With keys they unlock the road. They pay the tax and carry the load.

With mature minds they can see, so give them a CHOICE this is my plea.

Sincerely,

John E. Williams

FRIENDS OF THE COMMITTEE

Dear Sir:

I would like to voice an opinion concerning last week's issue of State-to-Date. The announcing of Who's Who was the biggest farce ever perpetrated against the students of Frostburg State College. Those students selected should not be referred to as Who's Who but WHO'S THAT! The award itself should be called the FRIENDS OF THE COMMITTEE AWARD. It seems the committee used membership in a social fraternity as the basis for selection. This committee could have chosen as many as twenty-six students, instead they chose eight. Who's Who should be discontinued at this college. When students with better qualifications are overlooked and committee members and freshmen guides chosen; something is wrong.

I SALUTE THE GOD WITHIN YOU

I salute the God within you. There is that of God within every man. There is a divine seed, a spark which is eternal. Everyman since creation has borne the hallmark of God. Everyman is granted the spirit to discern His Presence—to enter into It and to become one with It. Everyman has an age old birthright which is his to claim—the right to become a son of God and an heir to a kingdom.

I salute the God within you. God the Cosmic Force, the Alpha and the Omega. The Prime Mover, the Center of the Universe. God the Eternal Verity, the Ultimate Reality. To contain a portion, to be a reservoir of such magnificence overwhelms the imagination and to comprehend the nature of such indwelling exhausts the intellect.

I salute the God within you. The God who is Love. The Father who, in Love begot man, and in Love gave to everyman freedom and ultimate alternatives—to affirm the kinship, to grow in the light, to be released and raised up as co-workers in creation by the energizing power of Love; or to proclaim the ego's independence, to grope in the half light, to remain bound and to contend in the arena of self, ever guarding and watchful against loss.

I salute you the god. You are the alpha and the omega, the beginning and the end. Your race began as a phenomenon without cause and without pur-

Clews' Views

IT OCCURS TO ME:

—That according to the Washington Post, this Saturday will be the day of the biggest anti-war rally in America's history. I think we should bomb the marchers.

—That it takes a sturdy, stalwart group of men to endure Carter Clews after humiliating defeat and return fighting every week. To FSC's football team, more than to any team I've ever seen, the words of Grantland Rice are applicable:

Carter Clews

When the Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He marks, not that you won or lost,

But how you played the game. These guys play the game of never-say-die, and they play it well!

—That this week's war marchers, and others of those who wish to accept defeat in Vietnam, might be interested in knowing that a fairly astute observer of international politics by the name of Churchill defined appeasement as, "Feeding all those around you to the crocodile in hopes that he'll eat you last."

—That I'm sure the administration would be appreciative if those former students coming up for Homecoming would stay away from Allen and Sowers. These two dorms house only freshmen who are being sheltered from the barbaric upper classmen, and I'm sure the administration would rather not have any alumni acting as negative influences.

—That those returning to the old Alma Mater this weekend will undoubtedly notice that the face of Frostburg State is changing considerably. The heart, however, is relatively the same and that's what's really important. Welcome home.

—That the race riots of this past summer have made many wonder which is more dangerous to America's freedom—a Viet Cong with a Russian rifle, or an American Negro with a pack of matches.

—That those who remember Vince will be happy to see this view he sent me by mail last week. "If the present trend continues and 'The Flying Nun' is a success, one wonders if the network will try to pull more ratings by doing 'Son of the Flying Nun' next year.

—That I wouldn't go so far as some in saying absolutely that "You can't buy happiness", but I will admit that its becoming more and more difficult what with the cost having gone up five cents a bottle.

—That with this year's Homecoming entertainment, we have seen proven once again the reliable saying, "Old entertainers never die, they just fade away to Frostburg."

—That the best thing about this time of the year is that flies get slower because of the cold weather, thus building up my ego by becoming easier to catch.

—That I remind those who are now preparing to celebrate Homecoming that you shouldn't drink while you're driving—if you hit a bump, it might spill all over you.

Coffee House Has Varied Entertainment

Satire and folk-singing highlighted last Friday evening's entertainment at the Coffee House.

"President Johnson has a new game," said Gil Masters, a transfer student from St. Mary's College, in his monologue. "It's called 'Beat the Press', or is it 'Truth or Consequences'?" . . . "Communists in the civil rights movement?" he continued. "Not only have they infiltrated the movement, they built the slums, trained the police, programmed the people, designed the riots, and did the fighting!" Then he zeroed in on FSC. "When I first came here I thought of joining a fraternity, but then I found I had my own sweatshirt."

A soft-spoken young man from Hagerstown, Bing Crosby, presented the crowd of sixty with the tragic love ballad "Barbara Allan." Singing - in - a - bunch, a campus group, proffered a repertoire of folk music.

(Continued from Page Two) pose. It continues an aimless biological force because it began. The cycle of birth and death answers its own chemical programming and you are allotted your seventy year reign. Gratify your senses. Extend your antennae. Extend them by whatever means possible, for they are the outposts of your realm. Glorify its capabilities. Take heed to your body for it is your kingdom. As you nurture it, as you exploit its desires and prostitute its needs, you enlarge your kingdom and increase your power. You become a greater god. Let your neighbor build his own kingdom. Pay no attention to him for there is no time. Your programming and his decree time your common enemy. You both must with unflagging zeal feed and indulge against that final programmed day when sense's last substance drips out. In that fraction, time overtakes and the kingdom passes away. God is truly dead.

God, man. There is an eternal dynamic in the relationship—God reaching into time compassionately and sacrificially to draw man to himself; and man, joined with his neighbor in a sacrament of service, committing heart, soul, mind and strength—his total being—allowing himself to be lifted beyond time to fellowship with God. Such is the evidence of God in time and such is the affirming Presence within himself, that man, so measured is enabled to serve in this life and to live at peace with the great "whys" of this world. Man so measured can with Job declare, I know that my Redeemer lives and that He shall stand at the last day upon the earth, and though my body is destroyed yet in my flesh I shall see God.

I salute you the God.
I salute the God within you.
There is a profound difference.

(Continued from Page Two) streets of St. Petersburg flowing with blood. At this point the people were carrying not red flags but icons and pictures of the czar. They were singing not the "Internationale" but religious and patriotic songs. This "Bloody Sunday" more than any other event served to disenchant the people with their "little father," the czar.

There followed a general political fragmentation and disintegration. Labor strikes became increasingly widespread and damaging. Moderate opposition was gradually replaced by extremists with easy answers and catchy slogans. The tension mounted, and pressure on the wobbling regime increased.

At about this time the czar involved Russia in a long, unsuccessful, and costly war, which drained the country of its wealth, its youth, and its vision. Increasingly the soldiers—the last bastion of imperial power—became cynical of the government; mass defections and mutinies increased.

The czar was unable to perceive the extent of the unrest and the divisions within the country. He was unable to sense the degree of opposition to the war. He was unwilling to effect sufficient reform and unable to contain the growing revolt. When it became apparent to all that "the King was naked," the czar's destiny was sealed. The Russians did not stop with demeaning their ruler. They destroyed him.

Peace Corps Slates Language Test Today

A special session of the Peace Corps Modern Language Aptitude Test will be offered to students of Frostburg State College who are interested in beginning service within a year. The non-competitive test is scheduled for today at 8:00 p.m. in Room 102 of Allegany Hall.

Peace Corps applications must be completed before taking the test and should be presented at the time of the test. Application seem to have been written by a college student.

"The most peaceful historical period was the middle ages with its code of chivalry and lack of savagery." Oh yeah? Lack of savagery indeed. Try Ferdinand of Spain for his savage treatment of Moors (and Spaniards). As for peaceful—the church had to intervene to protect peasants, merchants and church property (God's Truce) and again to give the peasants a chance to get out of their doors to go to church on Sundays and Holy Days. (God's Peace).

"The great world powers are the antagonists in a game of senseless brutality and mass-murder, dedicated to preserving the balance of power in Asia." Is it only Viet Nam for which we are fighting? If we give the Communists South Viet Nam (remember we gave them North Viet Nam to create Peace?) they will go on to take Thailand, Cambodia, India, et cetera and more onward until the whole landmass of Asia and Europe is theirs. If we create peace it will only be to the benefit of our enemies. True our men are tortured, but this leaves them (at least) with a positive conviction for the war and the right course in which it was undertaken. Let me quote from a letter of a loved one who will not return: "I can think of no better way to serve God and Country than in giving all I can to stop the communist aggression in the Far East. A lot of Americans have made the supreme sacrifice to

TEACHING

Recruiters from the school systems of Carroll and Prince George's Counties will be on campus next week to discuss teaching opportunities in their respective jurisdictions.

Joseph Shilling will represent Carroll County on Wednesday, October 25. He will be in the Gunter Foyer from 10:00 to 4:30.

Mrs. Florence Spicknall and Howard Skidmore will be here Friday, October 27, from 10:00 to 4:30 to meet students interested in Prince George's County.

"This is an excellent opportunity for students to become informed about the teaching alternatives available to them," said Mr. John Dunn in making the announcement.

MUSIC PROGRAM

A program of recorded music will be presented in the lecture room and the small conference room on the first floor in the library next Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m.

Robert J. Myers and the staff of the Frampton Library will cooperate with music appreciation instructors, James Pierce and Thomas Yeager, in planning the selections. Students in their classes may make the required weekly reports on the pieces played, but the program will not be limited to those particular students. Anyone interested is urged to attend. Suggestions and requests for pieces will be welcomed by either instructor.

As for the Vietnamese, mayhap they don't know the evils of Communism—they are ignorant, not stupid, and we must help them. They, too, are citizens of the Free World and we, being powerful and wealthy, must help them retain this citizenship and teach them how precious it is.

A Critical Comment

Welcome to Homecoming: This writer would like to extend a cordial welcome to all the alumni returning for the Frostburg State College Homecoming. Surely you will find a few things have changed since last year, but the college has decided to keep a few of the old traditions alive. The football team, as usual, will try their very best and lose again, because it is traditional at Homecoming. This gives all the upperclassmen and alumni a reason to get bombed out of their minds. If by a miracle we win, everybody will get bombed to celebrate! In any case this writer wishes everyone a great drunk and a mild hangover.

After Homecoming is all over everybody remarks on how well it was run, and then they forget about it. Many thanks (and a little help) ahead of time for the things the Homecoming committees are doing will go a lot further than belated well wishes. Remember when you read the list of committees on the Homecoming program that these were the people that made Homecoming a success like everyone was sure it would be, no matter what happened on the football field.

Happy partying to the Greeks! They deserve it because rumors are that float competition this year will be even keener than it was last year. TKE won for the last four years and that is one tradition that a few other fraternities are going to try to change.

A Special for Freshmen: It has been noted by many upperclassmen that the Freshmen are always the ones who gripe the most about having nothing to do, and do the least to improve the situation. This has been true of many classes in the past. Frostburg is not D.C. or Baltimore and it may not have all the entertainment or cultural facilities in the world, but contrary to popular opinion it is possible to find something to do in Frostburg. If the only thing a student thinks about on a weekend is going home, he or she has missed half of the education that this college offers. Part of a college education is finding something to do on your own and meeting new people to do it with, and that just doesn't mean a new date each weekend. If there is one thing that you find in Frostburg that you don't find in most Metropolitan areas, it is friendly people. Ministers, citizens, merchants, all of these people are friendly and willing to help you as much as they can. Just get stuck on a lonely road at night some time or have a problem. Also a surprise to some new students is the fact that at a small college students and instructors can become good friends outside the classroom, and dropping by an instructors house for a cup of coffee or a beer is not as rare an occurrence as some students may think. Most of all, attend the dances, films, and other entertainment put on by the college and think of a few things you can do for yourself without having to be catered to.

Spotting Sports

By Frank Florentine

One Associated Press story of Frostburg's clash with Waynesburg termed the contest a "mismatch." And the score would prove this true. In fact last year's score — 58-0 — would say the same thing.

But let's not badger the team because of the loss. Now the Bobcats will start playing teams in their own class. And as the games pass will the gridders be getting school support?

There are basically three reasons why school spirit seems frozen on our 'Frostyburg' campus. First is the undeniable fact that State To Date through the past year has given the football squad unfavorable publicity. This situation is in the process of being changed. However I must point out that only five people voiced an objection to the headline in the first issue.

This brings up the second point. You — THE STUDENTS — are not giving your total support to the team. If you attend the game — great! But if you cheer when you attend the game — then you're really showing some spirit!! There has only been one home game this season, but of the remaining four clashes two are home tests. The Bridgewater game this Saturday is Homecoming so everyone will naturally be there. But will you be cheering? Even if the Bobcats fall behind? FSC tangles with Glassboro State College at Beall Stadium on November 4 in the last home game for '67. Why not come — and cheer?

Finally, a major freeze on school spirit stems from the Student Association. Why hasn't there been one pep rally this year? And why didn't the SA ask if any student would be interested in taking a bus ride to Shepherdstown to watch the Bobcats play? And why not try to employ some of the "gimmicks" which the big universities use? Small footballs could be tossed around to at least get the crowd yelling. And why not get a mascot out-fitted to roam the stands and sidelines? And why not give the girl cheerleaders a helping hand with some male 'rabble-rousers'? All these just might add zest to the game and life to school spirit.

Before closing there are two more groups I would like to mention. One is the Alumni and the other is the football team.

To the Alumni I ask, "Isn't there one in the many hundreds of you who could organize an Alumni Association?" Perhaps from you could stem the financial aid necessary to grant one or more scholarships to an upcoming athlete. West Virginia University gives some support to the team by selling cigarette lighters with schedules on one side to the grads. Consider the Alumni Association while you are in town and remember it when you get back home.

To the football team I congratulate you. You certainly have come a long way since the opener with Elizabeth City. You were simply outclassed against Waynesburg. However, the upcoming games you can win and here's hoping we finish with a .500 record.

To all the students remember one thing: If you don't support the team, football may not be at Frostburg too much longer!!

JV Matches Scheduled For FSC Grapplers

The grapplers of Coach Neil Hattlestad will open their '67 season December 8 when they travel to Pennsylvania to meet California State College at 7:30.

The opening match will also feature a Junior Varsity clash, the first of two this season. The other JV match is January 5 when FSC entertains Indiana State University of Pennsylvania.

Last season Frostburg's wrestling team posted a 9-7 record. This year ten matches are lined up along with one quadrangular meet.

Coach Hattlestad has stated that more candidates are needed for the JV squad. Practice has already begun but anyone interested should contact the mentor immediately.

Booters Notch Fifth Win Set Two Season Records

BY JOHN REUSCHLEIN

Bob Sutton reaches up and bats down a Shippensburg shot at the goal in Saturday's game here at FSC. The Bobcats tallied win number five in posting their third shutout, 2-0.

The Bobcat soccer team set two records and added two wins on their schedule by beating Grove City Wednesday, October 11, 4-1, and Shippensburg Saturday, 2-0. These victories set the booters season record at 5 and 3.

There was no scoring in the first quarter of Saturday's game, 1:48 gone in the second, Yaynesht Teferi looped in a goal off a head assist from Tom Gartell, to put the Cats out in front 1-0 for the first half. The second half showed no goal action until Gary Felgenhauer slammed in an 18-yard shot to secure a 2-0 lead with just six minutes to go, as they knotted their third straight victory.

Teferi's 11th goal broke John Horine's 1958 record for individual goals in a season. The team also broke the record for most goals in a season by rapping in their 27th score. The previous record had been 24, which was also set in 1958.

When the booters traveled to Grove City (Pa.) they made it a worthwhile trip as they brought home their fourth win of the season.

Grove City jumped to a 1-0 lead in the opening minutes of the first quarter, but Teferi readily knotted the score 1-1 with but 57 seconds to go in the same quarter, and he banged in another goal within the first five minutes of the second quarter. In the third quarter Tom Gartrell and Gary Felgenhauer added two more shots as the Cats won 4-1.

This Saturday the booters play Fairmont State at home, at 11:00 A.M.; let's have a homecoming crowd to support our team to a victory.

Hoopengardner covered most of the distance.

Highlighting the victors' ground gainers were Rich Piatnek and Bruce Thompson. Piatnek, who tallied three touchdowns, scrambled for 167 yards while Thompson, who notched one six-pointer, amassed 104 yards.

After the contest coach Neil Hattlestad commented that he was "glad the game was over. Now we will start meeting some ball clubs in our class."

And that's exactly what the Bobcats will start doing Saturday. Bridgewater College of Virginia, the Homecoming foe, is 1-2 for '67. The Southern school lost to W. Va. Technical Institute 41-13 and Hampden-Sydney College 42-7. However they did edge Gallaudet College 14-6.

After the Homecoming tussle the Bobcats take to the road again, meeting Gallaudet College at Gallaudet. Frostburg lost last year 18-14. After the Gallaudet Game the Bobcats will stage their final home game of the '67 season, squaring-off against Glassboro State College on November 4 in Beall Stadium. The final game of the season comes November 11 when FSC plays St. Paul's College away. Frostburg won last year 20-6.

FSC Adopts Motto: 'Keep Your Cool'

When a small team plays the NAIA Football Champion what would you expect? Well, Frostburg played the champs and the results had the scoreboard showing: Waynesburg 81 — Visitors 0!!

But have no fear. The best of the '67 grid season lies ahead. However, some mention of what Frostburg did do at Waynesburg last Saturday should be made.

The Bobcats had a dismal day in Pennsylvania, sustaining only one long drive midway through the second quarter. But from the opening kickoff the Yellowjackets held the upper hand, limiting FSC to less than 5 yards on the ground.

Saturday's scorching was the worst stinging the Yellowjackets have ever dealt a foe in the 71-years of history of the grid sport at the Pennsylvania school. The previous high was set back in 1923 when the Yellowjackets stomped St. Francis 65-0. In '66 FSC lost to Waynesburg 58-0.

The win kept three records intact for the NAIA champion. The victory was their 16th straight, their eighth consecutive home triumph and a sixth straight Homecoming decision. The Jackets also set a new school record in total offense, compiling 621 yards.

Frostburg's lone drive of the day began on its 19-yard line and ended on the Yellowjackets' 20. In fact, it was the only time that the Bobcats crossed the midfield stripe. A 35-yard pass play from quarterback Jim Chaney to Ron
