Vol. 27, No. 10

Frostburg State College, Frostburg, Maryland

November 10, 1975

October 31 and November 1, Frostburg State Speech and Theatre Department hosted the AIC speech tournament. Several schools participated in the tournament including Ohio State, Bloomsburg and Shippensburg. Among the speech categories which the contestants competed in were Dramatic Duo, Impromptu speaking, and Afterdinner speaking. Awards were presented Saturday evening by Ms. Anne Williams, an instructor in the Speech department.

Pre-registration Materials to be Distributed

Pre-registration materials for the 1976 spring semester at Frostburg State College will be distributed in the dormitories for resident hall students and at the Office of the Registrar for continuing full-time and part-time off campus students on Monday, November 17, according to Mr. Thomas A. Bilger, Registrar of the College.

Continuing students who do not submit course request cards by the November 26 deadline will not be permitted to register until January 9, the first day of classes. This registration will be conducted at the Registrar's Office.

Students who are undecided about returning for the spring semester should pre-register but notify the Registrar's Office as soon as possible after a withdrawal decision has been made. Students who fail to withdraw properly will have an unofficial withdrawal notice on their records.

Complete and incomplete schedules will be distributed on Wednesday, January 7, in Compton Gym after I.D. validation. Students who pre-register but fail to pick up their schedules this date will not be permitted to complete registration until Friday, January 9, at the Registrar's Office.

Students for whom spring 1976 will be their second semester of attendance at Frostburg State College must have their adviser's signature on the course request card before it can be accepted by the Registrar's Office.

Planetarium Presents '2001'

The Frostburg State College Planetarium will present a new program entitled "2001 Revisited" during the month of November. This program will be presented each Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. throughout November.

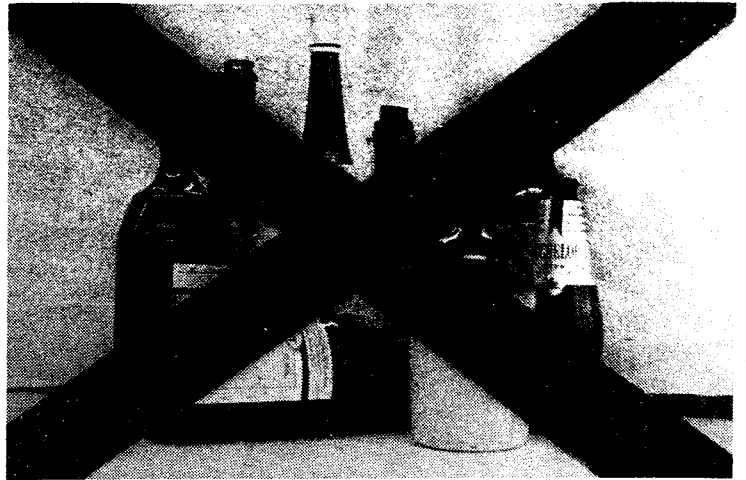

"2001 Revisited" retells through the use of special effects and a narrative, the enigmatic story by Arthur Clarke and Stanley Kubrick. The story begins with the discovery by a primitive ape-people of a large uplifted stone slab four million years ago in the African veldt. There man learns the use of tools and weapons. The scene then shifts to the 21st century where man's tools and weapons have advanced to nuclear bombs and interplanetary spacecraft.

Another slab is found, this time on the moon.

The most recent attempt of the CCB Coffee House to obtain a temporary liquor license ended in failure on Wednesday, November 6, according to Mr. George Richardson, CCB Coffeehouse Committee chairman who called the act "purely political."

"I wanted to test the viability of operating a beer and light wine bar in this building (the Lane Center). The coffeehouse provided a good atmosphere for such a test," Richardson commented. He began pursuit of this test by securing the approval of the coffeehouse staff, the building staff, and the College Center Board.

The subsequent proposal, signed by Mr. Richardson, Food Service Director Richard Macedonia and Lane Center Director Ronald Faust, was submitted to the Alcohol Policy Committee under the auspices of Mr. John Lowe, assistant to the vice-president of student affairs at FSC. The proposal included provisions for a bar serving beer and light wines to be operated by Saga Food Services, Inc., and for this facility to be well-policed and restricted to the confines of the Lane Center snack bar, all during the coffeehouse activities planned for November 14 and 15.

Shortly thereafter, an application for a license was filed with the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board of Allegany County. Because of Saga Foods' status as a profit-oriented corporation, the application was filed in the name of the CCB Coffeehouse, with the understanding that Saga Foods would still operate the bar. Also, in accordance with regulations, ten percent of the proceeds would go to the Lane Center, with the balance going to Saga. This application was then signed by Mr. Macedonia, administrative adviser; Dr. James Cotton, faculty advisor; and Mr. Richardson.

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board held its hearing on the application on the morning of November

5. The Board refused repeatedly to hear the case prepared by the CCB. According to those who were directly involved, the Board saw this event not as a fresh effort by an organization which had never before sought a license, but a continuation of the College's attempts to obtain one.

"We met all the legal requirements," said Richardson. "We had three signatures, and we had the permission of the building's proprietor."

The reasons for the rejection of the application given by the Board were 1) the application did not bear the signature of the president of the College and 2) the Board was afraid of the complaints it might receive from local bars. As one of the Board members remarked, "It's time you learned that you're going to have to do this thing by our rules."

"I am thoroughly convinced," continued Richardson, "that this denial was purely a political one. The reasons given for the denial tend to prove that rather conclusively."

Halloween Party Is Big Success

Approximately 500 children and over 100 adults attended the Frostburg Jaycee's Halloween party which was held at the Frostburg Community Center on October 30. Featured at the party were games organized and led by the Delta Alpha Iota Sorority and the Alpha Delta Chi Fraternity from Frostburg State College; other highlights included old-time movies provided McKenna, and a mechanical man portrayed by Dave Gelman, a summer employee at the Wildlife Preserve near Largo, Maryland.

According to Mr. Gerald Groves, Director of the Recreation and Park Department of the city of Frostburg and an active member of the Frostburg Jaycees, the Halloween party was designed to compensate for "Trick or Treat" night, which has been banned from many towns and cities in this area and throughout the nation. From the large attendance on October 30 and from many favorable comments afterwards, the party was deemed a success, and it is planned to be annual event for future Halloweens.

Mr. Groves commented that, while the Jaycees provided the manpower for the party, the combined forces

Mr. Harry M. Caudill, a prominent author, presented a lecture on "Alternatives for Appalachia" on November 6 in Lane Center 142. The lecture centered on ways to make the people of Appalachia aware of the many possibilities for the region, geographically and economically. The lecture was well attended by students and faculty, and was sponsored cooperatively by the History Club, History Department, Geography Department and Student Artist and Lecture Series.

Letters to the Editor

Dear President Guild,

We are writing you concerning the conditions of the grounds surrounding Pullen School and the Communications Media Department. Due to recent construction, and the contractor's neglect for the safety and convenience of the students, Pullen School has no reasonable access on a good day, not to mention the mud bath created on rainy days. To avoid mud we must climb and descend the steep bank adjacent to the school. Many students and teachers have ruined shoes and clothing trying to pick their way through the mud.

If this seems an exaggerated appeal for action, we would invite any administrator to accompany us on a journey to Pullen School some rainy day. It is unnerving to consider the problems this will cause when snow comes to Frostburg.

We are not opposed to construction on this campus. We are concerned about the apparent neglect of the contractors and the administration for the safety of the same students this institution is proposing to serve.

Would it be asking too much for the contractors to provide a wooden walkway for students? At other schools, when construction is present, this seems to be the rule rather than the exception. If this is not possible, we would be interested in knowing what will be done or is being done to remedy the present situation.

A copy of this letter has been placed in the Student Association office, besides its publication in State-to-Date.

Dear Editor,

I share the opinion with many people on this campus that the Motor Vehicle Violations Appeal Board is a waste of time. I understand that an Appeals Board was exactly that, a group of people working within a prudent judicial system, that a person could meet with to attempt to find a workable solution to the legal problems. The Motor Vehicle Violations Appeal Board misses the mark by a mile.

At the beginning of this semester, my fiancée, who is a second semester senior, registered for on-campus parking--a car given to us by my father. The title of the car is in my father's name for insurance purposes. Her registering the car was done with his full knowledge and consent. I could not register the car because I am a sophomore and the parking regulations forbid my doing so. Since the car was given to us, it is, in the eyes of the owner, our car.

I work as a photographer for the Sports Information Department, paid through the Health and Physical Education Department. As part of my job, I was required to take individual and team pictures of the football team. I used the car to transport my camera equipment to and from the track where I was completing the assignment. I parked the car at the track entrance and, while working, received a ticket. I immediately went to Security and filled out an appeals form stating my reasons for parking at the entrance to the track.

A few weeks later, my fiancée and I were contacted by Cpl. Robertson of the Campus Police. He was sent to us to find out why I had filled out an appeals form for a car not registered in my name and why my fiancée had registered a car not belonging to her. We explained why I was using the car and that she was given permission to register the car by its owner. Cpl. Robertson gave us forms to fill out so we could explain the situation in writing.

On October 29, we were called, individually, before the Motor Vehicle Violations Appeal Board. When I entered Mr. Barmoy's office, one of the first things I was told was that my ticket appeal had been denied. This decision had been reached before I was given a chance to plead my case. An action such as this can only be taken by a system that has a total disregard for an ethical system of legal recourse. We then discussed why my fiancée had registered a car not belonging to her. I explained several times that this action was taken with the owner's knowledge and consent and that my father considers it our car.

After I was through, my fiancée went in and explained the situation. Before she was given a chance to plead her case, Mr. Barmoy informed her that her parking permit had been revoked. This, again, is an example of the type of justice we get--unethical, selfdefeating, and totally useless. If this is the general policy of the Appeals Board, I pose these questions to Mr. Barmoy: 1) Why appeal a ticket? 2) What is the purpose of the Board? 3) What is the purpose of the meetings? 4) How can the Appeals Board possibly reach such decisions with a total disregard for a proper judicial system?

I contacted Mr. Barmoy after I was informed of the decision and asked if a letter from the owner of the car, stating that registration of the car under my fiancée's name was done with his knowledge would change the decision? Mr. Barmoy replied no, stating that for a car to be registered for on-campus parking, it must be registered by the owner or a member of the owner's family. Except for a marriage license, she is a member of the family.

I request Mr. Barmoy to respond to these questions as soon as possible. I also request that the Board review its decision. Because the decisions were made in violation of a proper and ethical judicial system that allows a person to testify in his own behalf BEFORE a decision is realized, I believe the verdict should be overturned.

Sincerely,
Steve E. Wilson

Dear Editor,

This letter is in response to a letter written in the last issue of State-to-Date concerning certain "JESUS FREAKS". It was said that this group of people was responsible for the near death of a student here at FSC. I personally feel it is about time for someone to speak out in retaliation against this group who use religion to set themselves apart and above the other students here on campus.

I come from a very devout Catholic family, attended a Catholic grade school and Junior High, and attended a small, private southern college run by the Baptist Church. I feel my up-bringing and education give me some knowledge on the subject of religion. I have always been taught and believed that every man's religion is to be cherished and to be held as sacred--no matter what faith or God he or she believes in. How and when people worship God is their business and only their business.

My point is that some people in IV truly feel that they above the other students here on campus. I want those who feel that way to remember the "Pharisees." They were the people in Christ's time who went out and preached the word of the Lord and gave great amounts of money to the church. They felt they were better than the lowly, common sinners and set themselves up as judges. The Pharisees were the ones who condemned and crucified Christ - Remember? So before anyone feels he has the right to judge anyone for any reason--take one look in the mirror. You may be surprised, but the only thing you'll see is the image of yourself--because you are only human, and that gives you no right to condemn or judge anyone for any reason. Just remember what Jesus said to a group of people when they were about to stone a harlot to death, "Let he who has never committed a sin cast the first stone."

Sincerely,
T.E. Keilholtz

Dear Editor,

Being a concerned interest group, we the women of the shop crew would like to bring to your attention a few deficiencies we have noticed at FSC.

The first of which is that off-campus students--especially seniors--have not received notification of mandatory meetings, year-book sales and pictures, newsletters and other campus activities. Most of the time we find out too late, or not at all. The old saying "Better late than never" does not pertain to these situations. In short, communications is definitely lacking. After giving 4 or 5 and some cases 6 years (because of this lack of communications) we feel at least we can be given the consideration to notify us of pertinent information concerning necessary announcements.

Secondly, because Frostburg is noted for its high academic standards, it is our contention that the Jerome Frampton Library should be made available to the students when they need it. By the time you leave the cafeteria after dinner, recover from that delicious experience, go to the library and try to find the materials you need, it is 10:30 and the library is closed. If the Lane Center can remain open until 11 o'clock during the week and 2 o'clock on weekends, then why can't the library at least match these hours?

Dear Editor,

Having just read Kevin Fitzgerald and Dale Phelps' article, I must heartily commend them a rating of excellence for a job well done. It's about time we heard from someone other than Doug Pranski, and who could be better than the zebra? There are no questions in my mind that vast improvements would be noticed with the zebra in office.

Dear Editor,

Mr. Fera's straightforward objective in the November 3 issue to my article is well taken. As I haven't been able to locate him (perhaps Nick Fera is a pen name) I will respond in print.

I hadn't space to clarify that there may well be some students who seek to be truly educated, instead of just getting a degree. If I didn't believe there were, why would I waste my time writing this series? I certainly do believe that there are students with enough common sense to respond reasonably in spite of continued exposure to selected facts. I agree that "in a free society, all opinions are heard. The sensible man will discern what is true and pursue that." Amen.

Mr. Fera courteously cautioned me against "imparting to the Educational Establishment any essence other than the accident of many students, faculty and administrators agreeing on certain issues."

This "agreeing on certain issues" (referring to the new social order, I assume) is no accident. The reason this "core of students, faculty and administrators" have "definite expectations for a new social order" is for the same reason that most Americans do. It is because "One World" propaganda is so widely disseminated by the mass media, magazines, textbooks, and other powerful Establishment agencies such as the Advertising Council of the CER and UNESCO.

This subject is to be treated in Part VI. Here is a brief preview from William Foster, National Chairman of CPUSA from 1933 to 1957:

"The studies will be revolutionized, being cleansed of religious, patriotic and other features of the bourgeois ideology. The students will be taught on the basis of Marxian dialectic materialism, and the general ethics of the New Socialist society. . .

"Our teachers must write new school textbooks, and rewrite history from the Marxian point of view."

Dear Editor,

It seems a shame that big-time professional cheaters have worked their way into the small college arena. But thanks to the inability of the State-to-Date staff to distinguish between an editorial and an advertisement, or between freedom and responsibility, I am finally writing to you. I guess I really wasn't aware of how my apathy, and the apathetic attitude of most of the students here could affect the College. After reading Doug Pranski's weekly apathy speeches I guess I was lulled even deeper into it. I was going to write to you after I saw the first advertisement for research papers. In fact I even spoke to a member of the State-to-Date staff about it, but I didn't write. I felt that even if the newspaper staff did not have any common sense, the students would, and hopefully would not order research papers from any company, or get one from anyone else for that matter. I always believed that research papers were part of the overall education of the student. Even though I hate them as much as anyone, if I turn one in, it's going to be mine. Anyway, now it seems that the newspaper has lost its advisor, because he is intelligent enough to realize the responsibility that the college newspaper must have to the College and its students. Now I feel bad that I did not write to you sooner.

Even though I have never met Dr. LaChance, I would like to commend him on his decision to resign as the State-to-Date advisor. However, I have an alternative plan to correct the problems at the paper. I suggest that Dr. LaChance be reinstated as the advisor and that all of the idiots who feel that "freedom of the press" means ignoring the college newspaper's responsibility resign.

How can the staff of the State-to-Date feel that it is fulfilling an obligation to the public and the students by advertising unethical approaches to education? If students here are to follow the State-to-Date's lead in academic prostitution, in the name of freedom, then the quality of graduates from this institution will be poor and its degree will not be worth the paper that it is printed on.

The State-to-Date has a responsibility to this College and its students to give the facts and responsible opinions. I sincerely hope that it never loses its freedom to report accurately. It is for reasons such as not having the intelligence to realize the responsibilities to the institution and its students, and forgetting that it is a publication of an educational institution that college newspapers lose their freedom. I hope that the staff of the State-to-Date will get their heads out of the clouds and reconsider their position. I support Dr. LaChance's position 100%.

Thank you,

John E. Gaegler

Dear Editor,

After having written five columns for State-to-Date under the auspices of Notes for Conversation, we would like to rest our brains for a week and just stop and clarify our reasons for writing the column. We have written on the Health Center, on student apathy of Delta Alpha Iota and Alpha Delta Chi were to be credited with making the event the success that it was. Their enthusiasm, he said, as evidenced by the sisters even wearing costumes for the occasion, was the key factor in contributing to the youths' enjoyment of the evening.

Treats were distributed to all the youth participating in the games and Pepsi Cola was also available, at no charge, to all persons attending. Consolidated Orchids provided the apples, and the Frostburg Jaycees with the assistance of the Mayor and the City Council and discounts given by local and lack of responsibility, on the Counseling Center, interviewed Aerial Conjunction, and last week examined alcoholism on campus. Those who have taken the time to read the articles have had varied reactions but generally students are getting the impression that we mainly know how to knock rather than praise. While this may be true, we wish fellow students would stop and examine more closely the campus that surrounds them. Having done so, students may see that there are many problems of which the root cause is the student himself. If students would become more involved, then maybe we'll have something to praise! We hope that through a mixture of humor, sarcasm and fact that students will awaken from their slumber.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to you to ask if it would be possible to get an ad put in the college newspaper. My name is Jack D. Reliford, #131-411, and my address is P.O. Box 69, London, Ohio. I am interested in making friends by correspondence, and I don't have any family or friends here in Ohio, and I get pretty lonely and I like to cares to write me, and this will be highly appreciated.

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank those responsible for the visit of Donald Ray to our campus. I know that the Concert Choir enjoyed his all too brief stay.

I also would like to thank our great instructor for this semester--Mr. Robert Allen--for putting us together for the concert that we presented. I, for one, am sad to see him go and do hope that some day soon the music department will find room for a man of this caliber.

Sincerely yours, businessmen, supplied the candy. Other groups contributing to the affair were the Frostburg Street and Water Departments, Community Center employees, Frostburg Lions Club, Frostburg Firemen and other interested persons in the community.

A Christmas party is currently being planned for the youth of Frostburg, and information on this event will be available within the next few weeks.

The Frostburg Jaycees encourage any interested male student to become a member of their organization; further information is available through Mr. James Stevenson, Cataloger for Special Materials at Frampton Library.

MFL Announces Play Productions

The Department of Modern Foreign Languages is pleased to announce their annual play productions on November 17 and 18 at seven p.m. in Pullen Auditorium.

On the program this year the Russian students will be presenting a one-act farce by Anton Chekov, "The Boor;" the play concerns an aggressive man seeking to collect an old debt from a beautiful "grieving" widow. The importance of the money is uppermost in his mind until the wit and charm of the lady overcome him.

The Spanish production this year is "Manana de sol" (Sunny morning) by Joaquin and Serafin Alvarez Quintero; this short play deals with the chance meeting of an elderly man and women who were former lovers, and their reactions to this renewed encounter. This play will be presented, for the first time on campus, as a bilingual production (English and Spanish).

Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

TKE Elects New Officers

On Sunday, October 26, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Chi chapter installed its new officers for the next term. Mark Jacobsen was elected President, a position which he held last semester. Other officers are: Jack Treiber (Vice-President), Mark Goleb (Secretary), Gary Hogue (Treasurer), Jeff Orlando (Pledge Trainer), Dave Dilegge (Chaplain), Dave Kreutzinger (Social Chairman), Chip Brand (Historian), Bill Duke (House Steward), and Andy Johansen (Rush Chairman). The new administration begins its term immediately and have begun to work on their objectives of increased campus and community involvement and activities.

On October 31, the TKE's and guests enjoyed the hospitality of our faculty advisor, Wayne Frohring, at his Halloween party. The following night, everyone got together again for a bonfire and beer party on the mountain. Plans for parties in the near future include the annual Christmas party on December 6. TKE also has plans to be more active in Public Service. On Saturday, October 25, six fraters collected almost $100 for the United Way. The fraternity plans to help with the Allegany County Homecoming Parade on Saturday, November 8.

TKE would also like to welcome into the bond and congratulate the first new members to be initiated into the bond since our adoption of the Open Rush policy. They are: Joe Moretz, Dave Catron, Gene Buzzeo and Jack Burke. Our Open Rush policy is one by which a man who has received a bid may begin pledging at any time and prove himself not by being submitted to hazing or degradation but by working within the fraternity. This system is designed to enhance true friendship, which is the real objective of fraternalism.

On Wednesday night, November 12, there will be a TKE Information Night in Lane Center Multi Use Room at 7:30 p.m. All interested men are invited to attend. Any questions? Andy Johansen (ext. 7726) or Mark Jacobsen (689-5082) will be happy to answer them.

Student Recitals to be Presented

On November 14, 1975 at 8:15 p.m. in Pullen Auditorium, Mr. Robert Harmon, who holds the distinction of being one of the oldest students to enroll for a Music Education degree, will present his Senior Recital. Some of the selections will include Vivaldi's "Allegro" from Sonata No. 3 and an unaccompanied Tuba Suite by Walter S. Hartley. Mr. Harmon will be accompanied by Betty Sue Kitchen on piano and assisted by a Brass Quintet which will play two selections. Mr. Dave Williams, faculty at Frostburg State, will participate in a tuba duet entitled "Two Concert Duets for Tuba" by Vladislav Blazhevich.

Miss Sandy Swann, soprano, will present a junior recital on November 16, in Pullen Auditorium at 3:15 p.m. A junior at Frostburg State College, Miss Swann is a voice student of Mr. Charles I. Sager, associate professor of music, and is majoring in music education.

Music on the program includes songs by Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, and Puccini. Also included are by American composers Powell Weaver, William Schuman, and Charles T. Griffes.

Miss Swann will be assisted by Stephen Hull, baritone, who will sing several groups of songs and join with Miss Swann to do the celebrated duet, "Dite Ala Giovine" from the opera "La Traviata." Accompanist for the program will be Carole Lemmert, instructor in the music department.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Housing Notice

Students presently living in the Residence Halls who desire to move off-campus second semester must notify the Residence Life Office in writing on or before December 1, 1975. Any contract not cancelled by then will be valid if the individual is returning to FSC as a student in the Spring Semester. The Housing Contract may not be cancelled after this date under any circumstances until the end of the academic year or at the time of withdrawal from the college.

Modern Political Conspiracy?

by Andy Cosby

"Centralization of credit in the hands of the State, by means of a national bank with State capital and an exclusive monopoly."

-The Communist Manifesto In the U.S., it was inevitable that the international banking dynasties would attempt to establish the same kind of private monopoly over the money system that they had achieved in England, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland. The same strategy would be used--make it look like a government operation, but keep the control in private hands.

John D. Rockefeller had purchased the Chase Bank, and his brother William bought the National City Bank of N.Y. The Rockefeller Chase was later merged with the Warburg's Manhattan to form the Chase-Manhattan, perhaps the most powerful financial combine in the world today. Conspiring with the Morgan banking dynasty, they spent untold millions to promote legislation that would give them a private franchise over this nation's money system.

To sell this scheme to the voters, the monopolists created the propaganda line that the proposed banking law would somehow work against the monopolies. Politicians cried "Banking Reform" and "Down with Wall Street." Then the financial tycoons publicly pretended to oppose the legislation, all the while financing it behind the scenes.

On December 22, 1913, the Federal Reserve Act was passed. The Federal Reserve System (FRS) came to be, and total control over the nation's money fell into private hands. The FRS solely is responsible for creating money in the U.S. The Department of the Treasury prints only what the FRS tells it to print. The far greater amount of checkbook money is also determined by this group. Yet it is not a government agency, and is entirely beyond the reach of the American voter.

This Time You Can Help

Eddie Spataro, 10-years-old, suffered extensive electrical burns when he touched a utility pole guy wire on October 6th. He is now in critical condition at Baltimore City Hospital with severe burns over one-fifth of his body. Eddie's left hand has been amputated and he has undergone seven operations and many more to come. October 24th, Eddie had surgery to close a hole on the left side of his head just over the ear. That same week, a second hole was discovered in the boy's badly burnt left arm. Eddie Spataro now lays suffering each day at Baltimore City Hospital.

Richard Spataro, a furloughed Celanese worker, has great financial burdens because of the tragic accident. Mr. Spataro is Eddie's only parent, his mother died three years ago. Eddie has a 6-year old brother. This unfortunate family is in need of our help. We want the students of Frostburg State College to be aware of this pitiful situation. At this time a Burn Fund for Eddie Spataro is being organized here at the college. From talking to people, we have knowledge that organizations here at the college are looking for worthy causes to support. Well, here is the chance to help a family with great financial burdens. A small donation can help a great deal and is very much appreciated. Anyone interested in helping or wants to give a donation please contact: Patsy Kopper, 689-6772 or The Director of Lane Center, Mr. Fautz at 689-4300.

Part V

By law, the seven members of the FRS Board are appointed by the President for a term of 14 years. Despite the incredible length of these appointments, they are supposed to create the illusion that the people, acting through their elected leaders, have some say in the nation's monetary policies. But every president since the beginning of the FRS has appointed only those men who were acceptable to the big banking dynasties. There have been no exceptions.

Technically, the stock of the FRS is held by 12 National Banks that make it up. These, in turn, are owned primarily (and controlled exclusively) by the banking dynasties that worked so hard to bring that system into being.

When the Federal Government goes into debt, it borrows money from the FRS. Just to pay interest on the $450 billion debt, Joe Taxpayer is forced to contribute over $20 billion every year--and that is interest on money created out of nothing!

At national convention time, 20 billion can determine far more politics than placards and shouting. And the pressures brought to bear on a candidate seeking public office, pressures to make sure that, if elected, the new President will make the "correct" appointments (not only to the FRB, but also to the government agencies, the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, and Ambassadorial posts) are tremendous.

This is why, though through the years administrations change, party labels change, but major policies do not.

An interesting question presents itself--Why was the fifth point in the Communist Manifesto (like the second) arranged and implemented in the U.S. by supercapitalists?

Coffeehouse Puts On 'Extravaganza'

CCB Coffee House will present an extravaganza of entertainment on Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15. The show, which begins at 8:00 p.m., will, as usual, be held in the Lane Center Snack Bar and is free.

Headliners for the nights will include Tom Wetteran from Ellicott City, Md. and Frostburg students Mike Hemphill and Melissa Leff. The balance of the bill will be filled by Ted Onulak, Cheryl Weiss, Tim Rose, and David Gelman, "The Mechanical Man."

This event will culminate the fall season for Coffee House, one of the most successful in this activity's two year history.

The Concert Choir performed last week on Sunday, Nov. 2 and Monday, Nov. 3. They performed a program of secular and sacred music, composed by Mozart, Seiber, Bruchner and Stanford.

The first half of the program was conducted by the choir's director, Robert Allen and the second half was conducted by a guest conductor, Donald Ray, who is currently an instructor from Saint Mary's College in England.

Presenting ADX

During previous issues of this paper, various articles have appeared which were "slanted" toward the task of promoting fraternities on campus. This article is different from those in that it is a statement of fact.

Of the three major fraternities on this campus, the least known is Alpha Delta Chi. This fraternity is not interested in attempting degradation of other fraternities, or in the build-up of its own image. Alpha Delta Chi (ADX) is not interested in being the largest known, or the largest fraternity on campus. It is concerned with what should be the ultimate goal of a fraternity--that of brotherhood.

Through the ADX pledging period and the rigorous, yet meaningful informal, the fraternity attempts to achieve this goal. The public knows little of the ADX pledging system, or of the degree of success achieved by the fraternity in striving for true brotherhood.

In addition, the degree of difficulty of the ADX pledging system is known only to the Brothers and pledges of the fraternity. A solid curtain of secrecy is drawn about Alpha Delta Chi's pledge meetings, the sacred informal, and of course, the secrets themselves. The fraternity is not interested in the public knowing its systems and secrets. Alpha Delta Chi is concerned with the success of its methods in its striving for the goal of true brotherhood.

Those within ADX know the meaning of brotherhood through the success of the pledging system, and are interested in exercising that success for the benefit of both the Frostburg community and FSC. Examples of this interest abound: ADX has cleaned and painted community playgrounds, painted the Frostburg community pool, conducted many annual productions for charity with the fraternity's sister sorority--Theta Delta Pi.

Alpha Delta Chi's most recent benefit to the community was in giving assistance to the children of Frostburg's Halloween Party in making the holiday a happy one, even though trick-or-treat had been outlawed in the Frostburg area in view of the safety of the children.

ADX has aided the FSC campus in many ways. It has created markers to aid new students in finding the FSC campus, conducted various formalized forms of entertainment for FSC students, extended its hand to help new students to the FSC campus, and more. Presently, ADX is planning several new and interesting activities for the FSC campus.

In addition, ADX is now meeting with the Mayor of Frostburg to determine the fraternity's next community project.

At this time, Alpha Delta Chi wishes to recognize nine new Brothers of the fraternity: Dave Bentley, Kyle Crawford, Frank Crooks, Ed Rosenburg, Jerry Shaw, Steve Smith, Fred Speece, Bob Whelp and Rick Woods.

Our congratulations and best wishes to these men and their lives as brothers of Alpha Delta Chi.

Something New: Phi Sigma Chi

Phi Sigma Chi is a newly chartered women's social service sorority on campus. The sorority is dedicated to serving the college in general and intercollegiate teams and intramural programs in particular. This social service sorority is open to any regularly enrolled women at Frostburg State College of whom are at least a second semester freshman with a grade point average of at least a 2.0. Besides service, our purpose is to strengthen character, promote leadership and stress the importance of the social aspects of college life.

FSC Orchestra Celebrates Bicentennial

The Frostburg State College Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Yeager, on Sunday, November 9, will present a concert of American music to celebrate our nation's bicentennial.

The feature presentation will be the famous ballad suite by Aaron Copland, "Billy the Kid," depicting several incidents in the life of the legendary character. The presentation will also include "Romanza" by Jack Kilpatrick, "Natchez on the Hill" by John Powell, "Hymn and Fuguing Tune No. 3" by Henry Cowell and "John Jacob Niles Suite" by Weldon Hart. Miss Deboah Barley, oboist, will be featured in a solo with the string section of the orchestra.

The concert is scheduled for 3:15 in room 132 of the Fine Arts Building and the public is invited to attend.

Kidnap the King

An unshaven Monday drearily becomes Tuesday
As my parched lips crave your moist touch.

"Kidnap the King," my heart hints,
Would not the king's ransom bring us together?...

"Or what about the queen..."
Wouldn't they pay dearly
To get their Lady back safely.

I could swipe the loot...

You'd be here by sundown...

We'd be home-free....Wouldn't We?

Alas, no,

This clever scheme would never succeed
For the king is too heavily guarded, and The Queen sleeps past noon, (And every one knows)

You can't kidnap a queen in the afternoon.

Even a borderless shadow is a welcome guest
As my patient heart awaits your arrival.

"Magic potions," whispers my conjuring heart,

Would not the price of bottled love bring us closer together?...

"Or what about fortune telling..."
Wouldn't they pay dearly
To own a glimpse of their futures.

I could swipe the loot...

You'd be here by sundown...

We'd be home-free....Wouldn't We?

Alas, no,

This get rich scheme wouldn't prove profitable
For the world doesn't believe in magic, and Fortune tellers are gypsies, (and everyone knows)

You can never trust a gypsy.

The clock ticks with anticipation

As my entire being quakes with desire.

"Soul for sale," is an entertaining thought,

Would not Lucifer's salary bring Us closer together?...

"Or what about Gabriel..."

Wouldn't ole Gabe pay dearly
To let me watch those gates for him.

I could swipe the loot...

You'd be here by sundown...

We'd be home-free....Wouldn't We?

Alas, no,

This demonic divinity would never prosper
For Lucifer has a fiery temper, and Gabriel works for the Lord, (and every one knows)

How tough it is to get hired by the Lord

African Masks Displayed at ACC

An exhibition entitled "A Face for a Spirit: Ritual Masks of Black Africa" opened at the Allegany Community College Art Gallery, Tuesday, November 4, and continues until December 1, according to Mr. Jerry L. Post, ACC associate professor of art. The exhibition is organized by The Baltimore Museum of Art and made possible by a grant from the Maryland Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington.

Selected by Dr. Glenn A. Long, Curator-in-charge of African art at the Baltimore Museum of Art, the exhibition includes 11 examples of spirit faces from sub-Saharan Africa. Adjoining the masks and head-dresses are photographs of the "spirits" in their containers as they appear in traditional African life.

In addition to the showing, a museum lecture on the exhibit will be presented Tuesday, November 11, at 2 p.m. in the gallery.

The ACC Art Gallery is open Monday through Thursdays from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. and Fridays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Craft Fairs

Coming in '76

There will be two craft fairs coming up in 1976, both held in Maryland. The Frederick Craft Fair will be June 3-6, at the Frederick Fairground, Frederick, Maryland. On September 23-26, the National Craft Fair will be held at the Montgomery County Fairground, Gaithersburg, Maryland.

The Frederick Craft Fair and the National Craft Fair will be large, high-quality fairs at which the public will have the opportunity to see and buy the works of close to 1000 of the best professional craftspeople in the United States. Last year's Frederick Craft Fair featured the work of silversmiths, weavers, potters, woodworkers, leathersmiths, stained-glassmakers, glassblowers, quilters, photographers, candlemakers, luthiers, basketmakers, and many other craftspeople from 37 states, and was attended by over 50,000 people. In addition to crafts, both fairs will offer music and good food. These fairs will be among the largest ever held in the country. Price of admission to each fair is $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12. The fairs will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Further information on these fairs may be obtained by writing to: Noel Clark, Director, Gapland, Maryland 21736.

The directing class in Speech and Theatre presented their final One Acts November 6 and 7 in Pullen Auditorium. The plays were directed by Karen Moore, Steve Vaughan, Bob Bands, Tim Rose, Steve Wilson, Dottie Crisp, Verna Hahn and Patsy Brett. This is the second set of plays, all comedies, to be presented; earlier in the semester they presented a series of dramatic plays. The scene pictured above is from "The Celebration" by Chekov which was directed by Steve Vaughan.

Football Comments

by George Millholland

"The quality of mercy is not strained" is the beginning of a speech by Portia in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," written hundreds of years ago. However, to the 1975 Bobcat football team, headed by Coach Mike Davis, that segment may do well to describe their feelings.

The problem of losing football games because of "stupid mistakes" is ever present. The three games that stick in one's mind which could fall under this category would be those against Juniata, Waynesburg, and Westminster.

In the game against Juniata, the Bobcats were penalized for "dead ball fouls." In particular, there were two incidents where a Frostburg player hit a man on the track after he had been forced out of bounds and the play blown dead. Also, two FSC fumbles aided the Indians to begin what proved to be scoring drives.

Although the Westminster game was a "run-away," (55-0) Coach Davis remarked that the team "made them tougher than they looked." The Bobcats were fumbling without being hit. Also, a number of interceptions thrown by substitute quarterbacks did not aid the Frostburg cause. Incidentally, Joe Corbin, who has been the starting quarterback since the third game of the season, was in the hospital and did not make the trip. Davis remarked that the Corbin absence had a great effect on the offensive performance, especially in timing of handoffs.

Steve Ghent, a senior defensive tackle, was injured in the Westminster game while the score was 7-0. Davis remarked that the loss of Ghent for the remainder of the season, was felt in that game as well as it may be significant in the remaining games.

The most recent loss and possibly only second in frustration to the Madison game, came at the "feet" of West Virginia Tech on November 1. Frostburg dropped the game by a grand total of two feet.

One of those feet took its toll during the Bobcats' third possession. The ball was one foot away from the goal line and FSC had a first down. Four attempts later, Tech took over at just about the same spot, but going in the other direction.

The second foot was that of Ricky Boone, which kicked two field goals to account for the West Virginia winning margin of 6-0.

Although thus far the team has dropped eight games, four of which were shutouts by Shepherd, Bowie State, Westminster, and West Virginia Tech, and four games were run-aways by Shepherd, Bowie State, Towson, and Westminster, Frostburg has improved.

The pride of the ball club is really unbelievable. The numbers do not tell all. Some of the efforts in a "losing cause" do not end up in print. For example, in the game against Madison, the Bobcats never gave up and gave the undefeated Dukes a run for their money. Also, in the game against Towson, Frostburg came within striking distance to their opponents before they pulled away. Furthermore, even though West Virginia had a record much like that of the Bobcats when they played, the fact that FSC bounced back after the drastic 55-0 loss to Westminster, was definitely an act of their pride and ever-improving depth of maturity.

There is certainly no compensation one can offer anyone connected this year with Bobcat football. It is an unfortunate fact that Frostburg is losing a number of star seniors. It is also unfortunate, as far as Davis is concerned, that this kind of season happened in his first year as head coach.

"The quality of mercy is not strained..."

Hockey Team No. 1 in Tourney

by Charlotte Smith

Frostburg's varsity field hockey team finished first in the Baltimore College Tournament, held November 1 and 2, by posting a 6-0-2 tourney record. Meanwhile, the Bobkitten J.V. club closed the competition 3-0-5, to end in a second place tie with Essex Community College. In the process, FSC placed fifteen players on the twenty-six player All-State roster.

The Bobkittens ended their regular season only 5-5, dropping two of their last three games. These losses came at the hands of Slippery Rock, 3-0, and Towson State, 2-1. The team then defeated Wilson College by a 3-2 count as a final tune-up for the tournament.

In the Baltimore College Tournament, however, the FSC team put on a masterful display of skill and power in defeating Catonsville, Goucher, Mt. St. Mary's, Loyola, Hartford and Johns Hopkins. In addition, the Frostburg varsity tied Essex Community College and the FSC J.V.

The FSC J.V. team, entered in the tournament as Frostburg #2, defeated Mt. St. Mary's, Loyola and Hartford, while fighting to ties with Essex, Catonsville, Goucher, FSC varsity and Johns Hopkins.

Subsequent to the tournament, six Bobkittens were named to the AllState first team: Ellie Wilke, Jennifer Fauley, Bette DiFerdinando, Franny Flott, Debbie Henkle and Chris Hauk. Named to the second team were Lynda Isherwood, Tanya McCaw, Kathy Kelly, Cindy Welsh, Mary Alice Flynn and Cynthia Changuris. Alternates named from FSC were Renda Sellers and Lynn Grammer.

Again in 1975 the Bobkittens had a fine campaign, and congratulations for a fine effort are well-deserved.

Soccer Team Has Strong Finish

by Karla Keller

Frostburg's varsity soccer team closed its 1975 campaign by splitting the final two games, moving their season record to 7-6.

FSC faced its most physical competition against Loch Haven throughout the course of the second half. Late in the second half, however, LHS scored the game's only goal, to win by an 1-0 count. Nick Boyer, Fab Blaistri and Bob Langer were the Bobcat standouts on defense, while Ken Krieger dominated the ineffective offense. The loss cost Frostburg their bid for a playoff spot in District 18 competition for this year.

The Bobcats closed their season at home by defeating West Virginia University by a 2-0 score. Jerry DeBartolo scored the first goal within the first three minutes of the second half, and Bill Matthews scored later in the half on a pass from Mark Winters.

The WVU game was the last for five seniors: Jerry DeBartolo, Mark Ball, Bill Matthews, John Braun and team captain Henry Higgins.

Master of Science in Management (M.S. in Mgmt) degree program

This degree program is offered through the Center for Management Development on campus in Frostburg and in Hagerstown and Frederick.

The primary objective of this degree program is to provide individuals with the opportunity to develop the skills and competencies needed in managerial positions.

Graduate Assistantships

The assistantship carries a stipend of $2,000 for the academic year or two semesters, plus remission of tuition up to and including eleven semester hours of credit per semester, and most fees. Up to fifteen hours of service per week for two semesters is required.

Admission to the graduate degree program with regular standing is required for assistantship award consideration.

Due date for the completed application and all supporting documentation is: March 15, 1976.

For further information and application forms, write:

FROSTBURG STATE COLLEGE

Did you know that during the academic year of two semesters, any student who:

- (1) is classified as a senior
- (2) has a 2.5 cumulative average
- (3) has the approval of his/her advisor, may take up to a grand total of 7 graduate credits? Enrolled seniors who meet the criteria stated above will not be required to pay tuition for the graduate courses since the student will pay tuition and fees as an undergraduate.
